Protect Silage
From Snow, Water

Protect silage in bunker silos from melting snow and rain or cattle may turn up their noses at it.

Water seeping down through the silage can cause it to spoil and the feed may get so bad that cattle won't eat it.

Water draining down through the silage is one of the biggest causes of poor silage, states Steve Dexter, farm crops scientist at Michigan State University. He suggests farmers use plastic covers or other rain-proof material to help protect the silage.

To help maintain silage quality from now on, Dexter lists the following tips:

Feed fast enough so that no part of the open end has time to mold or freeze. If self-feeding, help the cattle keep the surface smooth. A few minutes work here can save tons of silage.

Keep cattle off the top of the stack. Foot punches, paw holes or depressions, from lying down are ideal spots for water to collect and ruin silage.

Keep manure and trash cleaned up so that all water will drain from the bottom of the silo.

The horse was killed, Goodyear's plane was wrecked, and the pilot and his wife, Mary, 46, suffered cuts and bruises.

Reuben Lesser Family Home on Manchester Road Shown as Mystery Farm No. 48

Mystery Farm No. 48 was no mystery to many area residents who recognized it at once as the home of the Reuben Lesser family at 2433 Manchester road following its publication last Thursday as the 48th in the series of farm photos being published each week. Reuben Lesser and his wife, the former Esther Koengeter, have lived on the farm since the spring of 1925 when they rented it from the former owner. They bought the place in the fall of 1927. It has been their home the past 34 years. When they bought the farm it was 140 acres in size but in September of 1947, the Chrysler Corp. purchased all the land on the west side of the road. The company retained acreage needed for its proving ground property which adjoins the west end of the property and traded a part along Manchester road with John Brooks.

The Lessers' home farm now is 59 acres in size and their son, Reuben, Jr., operates it along with another farm the family owns on Old US-12 and additional farm land amounting in all to approximately 300 acres.

General farming is carried on by Reuben, Jr., on the 300 acres he works. On the home farm he raises registered Angus beef cattle. He was active in PFA work while he attended Chelsea High school and was a member of the parliamentary procedure team. He graduated in 1956. He had also been active in 4-H club work.

Reuben Lesser, Sr., in addition to his work on the farm through the years, has served in various capacities in township offices and at present is a trustee on the Sylvan Township Board. He has also been active with Chelsea's Community Fair Association. He served as its president two years ago and is now a member of the board of directors. He is associated with the German Farmers' Mutual and Hastings fire and windstorm insurance companies.

The family belongs to Zion Lutheran church at Rogers Corners.

Their daughter, Virginia, is the wife of Airman First-Class James Hall, a career man in the Air Force. He is now stationed in the Philippines and Mrs. Hall and their two daughters, Linda and Elaine, joined him there. They left the west coast by plane, Feb. 21. Linda, five years old, has started school there.

The Lesser property includes parts of two farms secured from the U. S. Government. Original ## Builders' Show . . .

This year's Builders' Show will be held April 1 through 5 at the University of Michigan's Yost Fieldhouse. An estimated 45,000 people are expected to visit the 154 booths featuring home building, furnishing and equipment items.

Another new addition to this year's program will be a talent show. Competition will be held on a giant portable stage in Yost Fieldhouse during the five days of the show, providing entertainment and an opportunity for local talent to compete for more than $450 worth of prizes.

An elaborate program of prizes will be given away again this year to visitors to the show. Each visitor will have the opportunity to estimate the number of nails and other types of hardware in a model house built of transparent plastic. Merchandise worth more than $1,500 is allotted for the five nights of the show.

The annual show is the largest Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored event in the country, and is in its third straight year at Yost Fieldhouse.

SOMEBODY SAW SOMETHING!

Lansing, Mich.—A Lansing police car sped through the pre-dawn darkness. Police had a report that a man was lurking outside a local residence.

Officers said the man stood motionless as they raced up to him. In fact, they added, he looked frozen stiff.

But how else would a snowman look?

REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON:

Alcorn Calls South Great Potential for Republicans

By Frank Myers and Richard Rhame
(Special to The Standard)

Washington, D. C.—National Chairman of the Republican National Committee Meade Alcorn says the South holds the greatest potential for the Republican party in the immediate years ahead. In an exclusive interview with this newspaper's reporter, Alcorn revealed the GOP is stepping up its "operation Dixie" to win over conservatives in the South.

Alcorn says the greatest recent advances made by the Republicans in the South have been registered in Florida, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Kentucky, and several other border states—in that order.

Alcorn, in calling the South the "single greatest potential" in reaching out to the Democrats in the House have been counting over 100 House seats as "in the bag" for two years. The Republican party is going out to fight for these seats, he said.

Following this line of argument, Alcorn believes the Republican party's goals are far closer to the goals of the average Dixie conservative than are the goals of the dominant wing in the Democratic party. He called the national Democratic organization a party of Butler, Reuther, Morse and Williams. Moreover, he added the National Democratic Committee Chairman, Paul Butler, has not visited the South nearly as much as he has in recent years.

He said he doubted whether Butler would be welcomed in many areas of the South—so hostile has been to the South's sentiments.

Alcorn says the Republican party's position in favor of decentralization of government, states' rights and living within means is more nearly in line with the philosophy of the average Southern voter than that of the leftwing faction in the Democratic party.

Alcorn's statement on the possible civil rights plank puts the pressure squarely on the Democrats, for he expressed the hope that the GOP plank would be "moderate and sympathetic." This year they have some fine young pitchers, though they didn't get much pitching return on Duke Maas from the Athletics until they swapped Martin to Cleveland in the recent Narleski-Maasi deal.

The hitters who will have to come through for the Tigers include Maxwell, Kaline, Kuenn and others. If Kaline doesn't have a good year, or if Maxwell does not improve, the Tigers can't growl much at the plate. Kuenn had a great year in 1958 and should again having moved to the pasture.

Bunning and Hoof must come through if the Tigers' pitching is to be great. Frank Lary and Paul Foytack are expected to be right, but Hoof especially is unpredictable. Bunning should also win more consistently. The Tigers may find another starter among their youngsters, who have been working hard at Lakeland in recent weeks.

The optimism at Lakeland is based on the belief that the Tigers' poor start in 1959 was due to a bad gamble on Jim Hogan, that the Tigers were short on relief pitching, which they now might have, and that the team will hit. All are probabilities. The Tigers have been expected to fight for the flag in the last couple of years and now they'll have to get in the fight this year before anyone is sure they're eligible for the match.

Still, one New York Yankee, who has been quoted, expects the Tigers to be the toughest foe this year. Maybe that's partly a memory of 1958, when the Bengals were the only rival in the league to win their series with the world champions.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

BY RALPH BOBEY

Proposed Labor Legislation

That we shall have some kind of labor legislation in this session of Congress is about as certain as anything can be in the legislative field.

Two bills already have been introduced. The first was by Senator John Kennedy (D-Mass.) with Senator Sam Ervin, Jr. (D-N.C.) as co-sponsor. The second was the Administration bill, which, because of his seniority on the Labor Committee, was introduced by Senator Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) but is generally regarded as embodying the thinking of Secretary of Labor James Mitchell.

Two other bills may be introduced. One of these would be by Senator John McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the so-called Labor Rackets subcommittee. The other would be by Representative Graham Barden (D-N.C.), chairman of the House Labor Committee.

Senator Kennedy has completed public hearings on his bill, and some of the witnesses also covered the Administration bill in their testimony. Even if we have a McClellan bill and a Barden bill there is practically no chance that there will be public hearings on them. In other words, the decisions from here on will be made by the Congress itself, and the public will be able to enter the debate only through either direct or indirect communication with Representatives and Senators.

The Kennedy bill is the mildest of the lot. It presumably is an attempt to eliminate wrong-doing within unions and little more. The measure contains, just as the Kennedy-Ives bill of last year, amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act but Senator Kennedy maintains that all of these are non-controversial. That is not true, and even Senator Ervin has said that he would be happier if these proposed amendments were eliminated from this bill. Labor spokesmen, however, say they will not continue to support the Kennedy bill if these amendments are not included. This means, of course, that labor leaders are in favor of the Kennedy bill as it was introduced, except for some relatively minor points.

The Administration bill is both a better and a stronger measure. In general it also prohibits wrong-doing within unions, but it goes farther. It also provides controls over secondary boycotts and coercive picketing. The unions do not like this extension over the Kennedy bill and will oppose it with everything they have. Andrew Biemiller, legislative director of the AFL-CIO, in a statement to the Kennedy Labor subcommittee, said that the Administration bill is "complicated, confusing and self-defeating."

It has been reported that Secretary Mitchell will not make the same fight this time that he did last year in opposition to the Kennedy bill. That report is an exaggeration. The Secretary has made it clear that he is willing to have one bill which deals with the internal affairs of unions and a second bill which amends the Taft-Hartley Act, but he insists that there must be a firm commitment on the second measure. Most observers are of the opinion that regardless of the commitment, if the Kennedy bill is passed there will not be further labor legislation. To these persons, therefore, it appears important that the Kennedy bill not be approved.

What, specifically, is lacking in even the Administration bill? Three major points may be mentioned:

1. Further legislation is needed to protect the rights of an individual worker to join or not to join a union. This means the elimination of the closed shop in all its forms, even if an employer is willing to agree to such a provision in a contract.

2. The philosophy of the anti-trust laws must be made applicable to labor unions. The purpose of this is to end the monopolistic practices now engaged in by unions and their leaders.

3. There should be a provision prohibiting the use of union dues for political purposes and is should not be possible to get around the prohibition by calling the activity an educational program, or some other fancy term.

One or more of these three points may be included in the bills of Senator McClellan and Representative Barden. That remains to be seen. The danger is that, unless the public makes its voice heard, the Kennedy bill will be passed and that will be all the legislation on labor we get out of this Congress.

OWNERS ADVISED TO CHECK COTTAGE IN NORTH COUNTRY

Lansing—The Conservation Department is advising owners to check their cabins and cottages in the northern lower peninsula.

Field men have already received reports of cabin roofs that have collapsed from the heavy strain of snow and this burden was increased considerably by last week's storm.

The state of Idaho ranks as one of the leading states in wild-life resources.

COMMENT on SPORTS

★ Hopeful Tigers

Lakeland, Fla.—There is optimism at Lakeland over the Tigers this year, but an elevator boy said, there has been optimism about Detroit for three or four years now.

And in the Tigers' first exhibition games, there wasn't an awful lot to crow about. Ray Narleski supposedly the ace of the relief staff—didn't stop the lowly Washington Senators in his first test.

And unless Narleski and Don Maasi come through for the Tigers, they won't be a contender in 1959. The Tigers were surprisingly puncheon in 1958 but came up with rather good pitching, especially in the first seven innings.

Along about then they needed some stoppers and didn't have them.

This year they have some fine young pitchers, though they didn't get much pitching return on Duke Maas from the Athletics until they swapped Martin to Cleveland in the recent Narleski-Maasi deal.

The hitters who will have to come through for the Tigers include Maxwell, Kaline, Kuenn and others. If Kaline doesn't have a good year, or if Maxwell does not improve, the Tigers can't growl much at the plate. Kuenn had a great year in 1958 and should again having moved to the pasture.

Bunning and Hoof must come through if the Tigers' pitching is to be great. Frank Lary and Paul Foytack are expected to be right, but Hoof especially is unpredictable. Bunning should also win more consistently. The Tigers may find another starter among their youngsters, who have been working hard at Lakeland in recent weeks.

The optimism at Lakeland is based on the belief that the Tigers' poor start in 1959 was due to a bad gamble on Jim Hogan, that the Tigers were short on relief pitching, which they now might have, and that the team will hit. All are probabilities. The Tigers have been expected to fight for the flag in the last couple of years and now they'll have to get in the fight this year before anyone is sure they're eligible for the match.

Still, one New York Yankee, who has been quoted, expects the Tigers to be the toughest foe this year. Maybe that's partly a memory of 1958, when the Bengals were the only rival in the league to win their series with the world champions.

March 31 Maturity Date for Wheat Price Support Loans

Here's a reminder to Michigan wheat farmers:

March 31 is the maturity date for price support loans and the deadline for filing intention to deliver under purchase agreements.

John Ferris, extension farm economist at Michigan State University, thinks farmers should consider selling their wheat when market prices are at least high enough to cover the loan plus the interest charges. No interest is charged on wheat delivered to the government in repayment of the loan.

Although 10 per cent of Michigan's crop of white wheat went under price supports, market prices in early March moved up to support levels and above in some counties.

Farmers planning to hold wheat for sale after March, without support protection should consider the risk of a price decline during the spring, Ferris says.

(Provided you have the dime, of course.) When the design is perfected, these booths will become general.

HOW MUCH IS TOO MUCH

to pay for health? Perhaps you believe that today's medicines are too high in price. Some capsules your doctor prescribes may cost 50 cents each... a dollar each... or even more. This sounds expensive.

But is it?

Divide the price of the medicine into four parts, so that you can see what you are getting for your money:

1. A smaller hospital bill—because an effective medication put an end to the ailment in a few days or a few hours.
2. Fewer visits from your doctor—because some new discovery stopped an infection quickly.
3. Wages earned—because a complete recovery was possible sooner than would have been the case a few years ago.
4. A life—because "expensive" drugs helped resist possible serious after-effects (a danger in prolonged illnesses).

We believe you will agree that today's medicines aren't so expensive after all, because they bring you real value for your money. They represent one of your best investments.

Lesson at Cadillac

Experience is a great teacher, but sometimes people cover their ears to it.

We can learn a lot from the experience of Cadillac, which is losing its biggest industry.

Too late, the community wakes up to the facts of life after being told them for the past three years.

You can't continue to bleed the mainspring of your economic life. Merchants and workers alike were guilty of not heeding the warnings of the management—that it was losing money.

The workers continued to ask for more money, prodded on by the international union which seeks the great equalizer wage to stop the decentralization of industry. In a nutshell, the international wants to keep industry in the big cities where it can keep its ironclad ring of discipline over its members.

Cadillac workers did not think for themselves. They were "taken in" by their union leaders' promises; now they are without jobs, stuck with mortgages and debts.

Civic leaders are just as guilty: they did nothing until the barn door was closed.

When all of us—laborers, businessmen, students, teachers—learn that we can't have all the things we want in life on a 40-hour week, we will have learned a lot.

A great lesson can be learned at Cadillac. We hope the lesson is understood.—Otsego County Herald, Gaylord.

Heart Disease a Killer

Heart disease is rapidly becoming the chief cause of death in the United States, being far ahead of cancer, the second on the list of diseases which kill the greatest number of people in the United States every year.

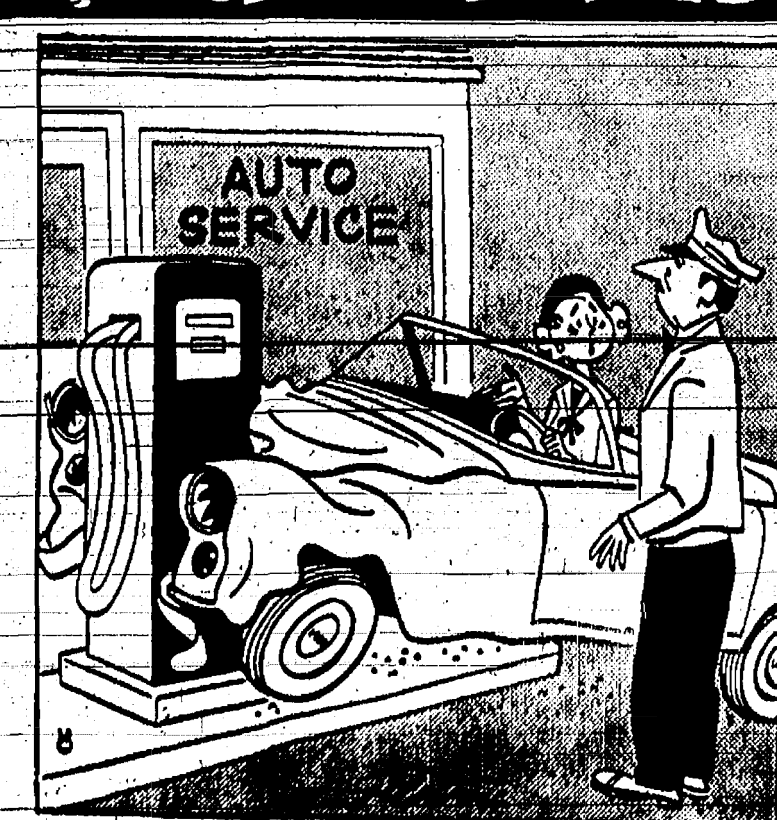

Concerning heart disease, a recognized authority reports that coronary sclerosis is sometime called the "disease of the intelligentsia" because of the susceptibility of physicians, bankers, lawyers and clergymen. The characteristics of the disease, including the hardening of the nerves, ligaments and blood vessels around the heart, and its incidence, is highest among those who do mental work and lowest among those who do manual labor.

We naturally hesitate to attempt any conclusion from these observations, but, apparently, the disease attacks individuals who are prone to forget the importance of physical exercise while consuming their energies in the anxiety of mental worries. It would therefore appear that somewhere along the line of popular education in this country, the physical nature of man has been neglected.

If this is true, and we believe it might be, we could save the lives of future professional men in this community by stressing athletic interests during childhood, with the hope that, when these individuals reach maturity, they will have sense enough to continue what has been wisely begun.

When a woman is quiet at a committee meeting, don't think she's listening. She's waiting.—Carlsbad (N.M.) Current-Argus.

"No It Wasn't the Power Steering or the Power Brakes . . . It's the Power Push Buttons That I'm Not Used To!"

More and more, motoring has become a "push button" operation. But there's still no substitute for the expert human touch, when it comes to serving a car for peak performance. That, of course, is where we come into the picture! Our men have what it takes in skill and "know-how"! Try us, see for yourself.

Motorists pay for their own highways in Michigan.

They pay slightly under a half-cent-a-mile in gasoline taxes to the state and slightly under a quarter-cent in Federal taxes. This amounts to 6¢ per gallon at state level; 8¢ per gallon at federal. Then add 3 per cent sales tax. In addition, there is the weight tax paid by buying annual license plates.

Motorists paid an estimated $135,000,000 in state gasoline taxes last year—a pretty sum, according to any standard.

The Associated Petroleum Industries of Michigan, Inc., said the average car traveled 14 miles on each gallon of gas last year. Average consumption was 731 gallons.

William Palmer, association executive secretary, advised motorists that the tax they paid in state gasoline taxes can be deducted from their Federal income tax.

"Motorists may be surprised at how much gasoline taxes they paid last year," he said.

The traditional average of 10,000 miles a year per car shows a $21.56 state gasoline tax and $21.43 in Federal gasoline tax payments. The Federal tax cannot be deducted.

Palmer warned that the averages are merely guides, and that actual mileage and gasoline consumption should be used in computing the tax.

If a motorist drives 5,000 miles in a year, the averages show he paid $21.56 in total gasoline taxes. This ranges upward to $128.67 if he drives 20,000 miles.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see where several states is worrying about losing a Congressman when they take the 1960 census, on account of so many folks moving out of their states. If them fellers in Washington don't quit spending so much money and getting us in debt so bad, one or two less Congressmen will be a blessing. It shore ain't nothing to worry about.

One of these days we're going to have a awful bust in this country. Them Congressmen that think up all these spending ideas is like the Indian that cut one end off his blanket and sewed it to the other end to make it longer.

People say we can't put a stop to it because nobody wants to shoot Santa Claus. Well, if we can't shoot him, we might try soboring him up for a change. He's spending money like a drunk sailor.

A piece in the paper was telling about some English scientists that is over in Asia looking for evidence that man is kin to a monkey. They could give all the evidence they need by just reading American newspapers.

For instant, I see where a agency in New York that specializes in advertising is putting advertising on wimmen's knees.

Voters will decide April 6 whether to give the legislature power to keep state and local government operating in time of war disaster.

Under the plan, any government wiped out by an enemy attack could be immediately replaced by legislative act to function until orderly processes are restored.

The resolution does not cover the odd prospect of a bomb landing on the capitol during a legislative session and wiping out the legislature.

Momentum is gathering behind a proposal to reduce the number of state employees, now about 30,000, by refusing to fill vacancies as they occur.

The bill would leave vacant 50 per cent of the vacancies for the year, 25 per cent the second year, until the present payroll is cut 20 per cent.

There are expected to be changes in the proposal to protect smaller agencies in which vacancies would hamper operations.

Politics is getting its annual mid-term workout in Michigan. Republicans are jubilant at the thought that the state's financial crisis will torpedo any chance Gov. Williams has for his party's 1960 Presidential nomination.

Democrats, certain that Williams will leave the state scene after 12 years at the helm, are playing musical chairs for the top spot on the 1960 state ticket.

At present, it seems that Paul D. Bagwell, the Michigan State University professor who gave Williams his best run in six years, is the top Republican candidate.

Democrats are taking a close look at Secretary of State James M. Hare, who led the ticket in 1958, and Lt. Gov John B. Swain.

It seems from the picture that the girl sews a big round card to the knees of her stockings with some sort of advertisement on it, like "Drink Canada Dry," and of course over time she sets down and crosses her legs all the fellers is going to die of curiosity until they figure out what's on the card. It goes without saying that these girls will have pretty knees.

And then they was this piece in the paper about a feller in Georgia selling his wife for $700 and when the law got him he said he had no regrets. That's the way it is in life, Mister Editor, these fellers that is profligating ain't got no conscience to bother 'em. And then I was reading about this woman in New York telling the Judge that because her husband thought she was wayward in her ways, he got down on his knees over night and prayed for her, then got up and socked her in the jaw. There's a piece in the Bible that says prayer without works availeth nothing, but I reckon this Judge don't read his Bible. He give the pore feller 60 days.

If them scientists want any further evidence that man is a little bit kin to the monkey, they can wire me collect.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

★ Easter and Love

God is everywhere, but we can't meet him everywhere until first we have met him somewhere. "God is love," we read in the First Epistle of John, but Total Love is quite beyond our comprehension until we have experienced love on a smaller scale.

We cannot experience universal love until we have known what love feels like at first hand. God's love is everywhere, but before we could know it, it had to be revealed in human terms. So Christmas happened, and the Son of God entered the human scene.

Christ displayed before our mortal eyes the nature of divine love. He loved all sorts and conditions of men: the simple and the learned, the sick and the well, the rich and the poor, the mighty and the weak. He showed us how love heals the mind—drives out demons, if you will. He showed us how it takes away the sting of physical illness and deformity. He showed us how it conquers sin. And that was not easy. That brought him to the cross.

The cross is where love gets hold of us. "Greater love has no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." That is what Jesus did. As we look at him there on the cross, we see the sinfulness of the sin that put him there. And when we see sin as it really is—as being wholly evil—and when we see love as God's love is—wholly unselfish—then we are ready for the message of Easter; then we have met God somewhere, and we can begin to see him everywhere.

"In this is love, not that we loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the expiation for our sins. . . . The Father has sent his Son as the Savior of the world. . . . God is love, and he who abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. . . . There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out all fear. . . . We love, because he first loved us."

Love like that could not be buried in a tomb. It had to come to light again. This is the power of the resurrection—the power of the Risen Lord—the power of Easter—the power of unconquerable love.

Alaska has vast forest along its coasts.

EXPERT OPINION:*Should Michigan Eliminate Its Small High Schools?

East Lansing—Michigan should eliminate its small high schools through district reorganization, the president emeritus of Harvard University recommended in a speech at Michigan State University Friday, March 20.

Dr. James B. Conant, an authority on education and former ambassador to Germany, defined high schools with graduating classes of under 100 students as "too small."

If your high school is too small, push consolidation, he told members of the Michigan Citizens Council for Better Schools.

Small high schools, Dr. Conant maintained, cannot afford programs broad enough to take care of all their students, and elimination of the small high school, he added, would ease the teacher shortage.

"A class of 100 will normally have 15 or 20 academically talented students, those who can study effectively and rewardingly advanced courses in mathematics, science and foreign languages," he asserted. "A slightly smaller number can study a somewhat less intense program. In a smaller class the number in these groups would be too small to warrant a proper academic program."

Some small high schools, Dr. Conant added, require all students to take an academic program and thereby lower grading standards and eliminate vocational programs which would be best for the majority of students.

Dr. Conant pointed out that 12,000 American high schools offered physics in 1956, indicating that there are at least 12,000 qualified physics teachers in the U. S.

"Elimination of the nation's small high schools would reduce the total high schools from 21,000 to 9,000 and we would not have a shortage of physics teachers," he contended.

About 30 per cent of Michigan's schools are too small, the educator concluded, a figure comparable to the nation at large.

Second Annual National Library Week Scheduled

William T. Gossett, vice-president and general counsel of Ford Motor Co., Detroit, has been named state chairman in Michigan for the 1957 observance of National Library Week, April 12-18.

His acceptance of the chairmanship was announced by Mrs. Leta D. Fyan, state librarian in Lansing.

In accepting, Gossett said, "I am convinced that Americans everywhere must heighten their interest in reading. Suddenly a better-read, better-informed America is imperative. National Library Week affords all of us an excellent opportunity to unite in a campaign to encourage reading and the development of libraries in homes, in schools and for public use."

This will be the second observance of National Library Week. The success of the first celebration in March 1958 led to plans for the expanded program for 1959. Selection of the Michigan vice-chairman and the state committee will be announced soon.

Sponsored by the National Book Committee, Inc., in cooperation with the American Library Association, the national reading program will emphasize the rewards of reading for fun, knowledge and advancement. The theme will be "Wake Up And Read" and the objective will be a better-read, better-informed America.

KNOW YOUR PTA

Are you really in tune with the PTA?

A Parent-Teen-age panel discussion will be sponsored by the PTA at its meeting of April 10.

The PTA is fortunate to secure Dr. N. Edd Miller of the University of Michigan as moderator for the panel. Other members of the panel will be two teen-age students from Chelsea High school, a representative from the teaching staff and a parent representative.

SCIENCE FAIR FOR WASHTENAW COUNTY

Junior and senior high school students from Chelsea as well as other Washtenaw county communities, will have the opportunity to participate in the first annual Southeastern Michigan Science Fair on Saturday, April 11. The fair will be held in Waterman Gymnasium on the University of Michigan campus.

Andrew Stone has bought the old Arundel Castle from the Castle S. S. Lines in Hong Kong for his picture, "The Last Voyage." He has sent a script to Bing Crosby and wants him for a star role.

Paul Newman had his hair dyed blond for "Sweet Bird of Youth," but it's a weird strawberry pink away from the stage lights.

Natives of Death Valley are gog-gle-eyed at what's going on for "Spartacus." They have had to blast the side of a mountain that was formerly a borax mine to make a road to get in cameras and equipment.

Today's picture review:
THE HANGING TREE

"The Hanging Tree" follows the current vogue of somewhat off-beat, adult-type westerns.

With that experienced westerner, Gary Cooper, in the lead role,
"The Hanging Tree" combines a first-class characterization job with shoot-'em-up action. Cooper portrays a Dr. Frail, a strange, troubled man with a very mysterious past, who sets himself up in a small gold-mining town in Montana Territory during the 1870's. Although outwardly harmless and unassuming, he is basically gentle and understanding—at least so far as his patients are concerned.

Arriving in the gold-town, the first thing he does is to save the life of a robber, who would otherwise have been strung up on the hanging tree. In return for this good service he demands that the young man become his bond servant.

Maria Schell, noted German actress, gets into the act as a psychosomatic patient after a terrible encounter with stagecoach bandits and, inevitably, falls in love with the good doctor after he has nursed her back to health.

Matters reach a hectic climax as the townspeople go wild after a big gold strike, set off by a Doe-Frill carrying him off to the hanging tree, where things look far from rosy for our hero.

Others in the outstanding cast of this film include Karl Malden, who is excellent as the weak, fool-is sensitive as Frail's young ser-

Both Journalism club and class have been working hard to get out two editions of the Bulldog Barks. The seventh Bulldog required a good deal of research to make it as informative as it was. All this work was in addition to the regular load. Also Journalism Junior and Senior clubs had a dinner Monday, March 23 at 6 o'clock at Miss Fox's house. All organizations have been working to keep you informed.

All the girls taking physical education this year may be seen floating gracefully (?) around school through the benefit of exercises being used in the gym. They are still on the modern dance unit, but have turned to individual rather than group activity. Girls are also trying to learn the splits.

The Balfour Ring Co. made good use of the library's conference room when Mr. Zimmerman consulted with each sophomore regarding the order and the $5 deposit on his ring.

The high school library has secured a 19-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and a 20-volume set of the Grolier Encyclopedia. These additions now enable more study and research.

The high school choir has recently been very busy preparing for the Good Friday service on March 25. They hope to have their new robes for this service. They are also preparing for the formal dedication of the new school on April 10. The choir is working hard to get ready for the Midwestern Music Festival at Kalamazoo on April 21, where they will be singing with 20 other Michigan high school choirs totaling more than 1,000 students. The spring concert has been tentatively set for Friday, May 1, and the choir is also hard at work on this.

At the completion of the Student Council prop-making project for the new stage totaling $250.18, Student Council members discussed new ideas for another project. Polly Willis and Ruth Prentice will look into the price of a popcorn machine. Dave Rowe will seek information about an aerial picture of the new school. Jane McLaughlin suggested buying new cheerleading uniforms since the present ones are nearly worn out. The GAA party plans for a Sponge Dance April 24 were accepted.

Student Council also accepted plans from the boys' basketball team to sponsor a party on April 18. This will be a private party, open only to basketball boys and their dates.

At the recent Junior class meeting it was decided to serve the alumni at the April banquet. For another class project it was decided that the Junior class put on a dance, March 18. But the dance was canceled because there was another dance on the following night. Other money-making projects will be put on by the class before school is finished.

Reports from various prom committees were given, and themes for the prom were discussed and voted on. It was also decided that a committee would look into the suggestion that the class use real flowers from a nearby greenhouse.

A report was also given by the play committee chairman on the progress of the play. Books have been sent for and try-outs will be held before Spring Vacation, and the play will be given May 8 and 9.

The seniors are rejoicing over their successful performance last Friday and Saturday nights. Don Woods entertained at a party at his home. Several girls donated sandwiches and cookies. Pop left from the senior stand supplies was used and the class had an enjoyable evening. Saturday night another party was held at the K. of C. hall. Approximately 25 members of the class "chipped in" with their donations to make this party a success. Monday morning some very sleepy and worn out seniors were seen in the halls of CHS.

Now the class is eagerly awaiting Easter Sunday afternoon. A bus will leave Chelsea and transport the eager class to Toledo where they will board a train bound for two glorious days in Washington and three in New York.

Elementary Principal Arthur Schmunck's home telephone is not listed correctly in the telephone directory. The number is GR 5-8286.

At a recent game, the seventh graders beat St. Mary's, 27-16.

with Richard Huston as high point man for Chelsea with 8 points. They also defeated Manchester, 21-9. Curtis Farley made 8 points, Larry Fletcher made 6, Jeff Flintoft made 2, Mike Schrader and James Schiller made 2 each.

High scorers for the seventh grade basketball team this year were Curtis Farley with 57 points, Richard Huston with 58, Larry Fletcher with 23, Jeff Flintoft with 13, Mike Schrader with 6, James Schiller, Bob Reed, and Jerry Bristle with 2 each.

The Junior High Band has just finished giving their mid-winter concert. They have already begun practicing for the next one which is planned for April 28.

First chairs of the band are Susan Schreier, clarinet, Gordon Beaman, cornet; Cheryl Lehman, flute; Linda Blass, mellotron; Rose Ann Zahn, baritone; John Briar, drum, and Danny Kephart, saxophone. The bass clarinet is being played by Susan Schreier and Barbara Bernath.

Junior High Student Council has held several meetings and seems well under way. Under the leadership of president Dudley Holmes and vice-president Paula Romine, the problem of paying to get into noon dances was discussed. David Winans was appointed to survey probable attendance if admission should be charged.

It was also suggested that next year the Junior High Student Council sponsor three dances, one at the beginning, the end, and the Christmas vacation of the school year. It was also suggested that the Student Council might finance all of the junior high clubs through a junior-central treasurer. The Council adopted the idea that committees should represent the student body and need not be members of the Student Council, but that such members would be allowed to vote only on matters relating to their own committee.

Sandra Sharrard was elected secretary. Since four home rooms, 7d, 8a, 8b, 8c, lack representation on the Council, nominating petitions are now being circulated. The Council appointed to the social committee chairman Tom Esica. (Continued on page 16)

"Comfort's fine, Nancy, but we've got to consider savings, too. And I've found just the car for that!"

"But the car I've found is so easy to get in and out of... and so comfy to sit in."

"Yes, but my car will save us as much as $1.00 on every tankful of gas because it uses regular. How about that?"

"Well, that's nice, but what about my frilly hats? We'll have hat room not just head room in my car. And you're no shorty, either... you'd bump your head in a lot of those new cars."

"Not in this one. And it only needs oil changes each 4000 miles. Its muffler is aluminumized to normally last twice as long, too."

"In the car I want, everybody enjoys a soft comfortable seat... even the folks in the middle! This car's built just right for us... and besides, I think it's cute."

"Sure, looks are important... and my car will keep on looking good cause its finish is so bright and durable it never needs waxing."

"Well, the nice man at the Ford Dealer's told me..."

"Did you say FORD?... that's the car I want, too! And we can save as much as $102.75 on purchase price alone! What are we waiting for?"

enbeler; building and grounds committee chairman David Winans; assembly committee Paula Romine. The group also suggests that all junior high organizations should have written constitutions by a set date.

Eighth grade history classes have been very busy with the last two chapters on the Civil War. One interesting topic was the Gettysburg address, which all had to learn. Mr. O'Doherty is the teacher. They will soon begin a new unit on the economic development of the United States.

In English classes, taught by Mrs. La Go, they are writing short story book reviews. They have been diagramming these stories and understanding them in this way. Math, taught by Mrs. Papadopoulos, is developing into simple algebra. An algebra test may be given in the future for those who may want to take algebra in the ninth grade. In science, taught by Mr. Bussler and Mr. Hayden, eighth graders are beginning a new unit on electricity.

At Junior Journalism club's first meeting they decided who should edit the Bulldog in each homeroom. They also decided that they would hold their meetings at noon.

At the second meeting they volunteered for assignments. Four new members joined. They plan to hold a dance in the near future.

At the third meeting the main thing discussed was dues and the next Bulldog. Each person was asked to state how many historical Bulldogs he wanted to sell out around town.

The topic of this meeting was the Journalism dance. The people who are to look into a date for it are Pat Craddock, Sandy Meabon and Beverly Bergman, with Dave Winans as the chairman of a committee to take care of the records, chaperons, and all odds and ends. Others on this committee are Carol Mayer, Mike Schrader, and Jim Lounsbury. The decorating committee consists of chairman Linda Blaess, Ann Marsh, Joanne Craddock, Leslie Baxter, and Roberta Devine. On the refreshment committee are chairman Pam Kuehman, Leone Shepherd and Carl Loeffler. The clean-up committee is held by everyone.

Junior Journalism Student Council representative is Mike Schrader, with Ann Marsh as the substitute. The name of the Personal column is "Have News, Will Talk."

Miss Reidel is the new Junior High English teacher. Before she came here, she lived in Indiana and attended Ball State Teachers College in Muncie, Ind. She now lives in Chelsea.

Her pet peeve is the noisy children in her classes.

Mr. Bussler is the new Junior High math and science teacher. He attended Presidio of Monterey, Monterey, Calif., and University of Michigan where he graduated. Before Mr. Bussler came here he was in the service and lived in Anchorage, Alaska and Washington.

He now lives in Ann Arbor. He is married and has two children, Jeff age 8 and Donice age 4. His pet peeve is people who take things without asking.

TROOP 25

The meeting was started by Dennis Stofor's patrol. Preceding the opening there was a film on the National Jamboree at Valley Forge.

Nine Boy Scouts attended the camp at Burn's Lodge. Three dads stayed with the boys at camp. They had a good time especially when a stray hound dog wandered by.

The meeting next week will be opened here and we will visit the Chelsea Mill. We need parents. The meeting was closed with the Boy Scout benediction.

Plain talk to the man who thinks "all cars are built alike today"

A. HENRY ADAMS

"The one thing we know car buyers want above all in an automobile is quality. Yet many people assume that all cars today are pretty much the same in this respect.

"This is far from being the case. I can name at least 30 basic differences in the design of our '59 Mercury. Naturally, we feel these differences make Mercury a better car. For example:

EXTRA STRENGTH STARTS WITH THE FRAME
The backbone of every Mercury is the frame. We use a heavy box-type construction—the heaviest in the industry. Competitors use frames that are up to 125 pounds lighter.

WE BUILD QUALITY YOU CAN SEE.
Compare the way Mercury builds engine-hoods. Most competitive cars use what is known as a single-panel construction. This type of hood can be twisted and turned with the slightest pressure—often flutters and vibrates when the car is in motion. At Mercury, on the other hand, we use a double-panel construction—two layers of steel with the insulation sandwiched in between. Not only is Mercury's hood more rigid, but it looks better.

YOU FEEL THE QUALITY WITH EVERY STOP...
Mercury brakes are the largest in the field—with up to 22% more brake lining than competitive cars. And only Mercury in its field has brakes that adjust themselves mechanically. You save money by eliminating periodic adjustments. And you are safer because Mercury brakes stay properly adjusted for the life of the linings.

...AND EVERY TIME YOU TAKE THE WHEEL
All 1959 Mercurys have a flexible coupling installed in the steering system.

This acts as an insulator—absorbs road shocks that would otherwise travel up to the steering wheel. Mercury, unlike some cars, gives you this with either manual or power steering.

WE HAVE PLENTY OF PROOF THAT THIS IS THE BEST-BUILT CAR IN AMERICA TODAY
We know it is the greatest Mercury ever designed and built. Never in Mercury's 20-year history have we had so much value in the product itself. Mercury has advantages everywhere over competition. The four described on this page are only typical. In future messages I'll tell you about dozens more—in styling, comfort, in everything you want in a car."
