Bulldogs Lose To Red-Hot U High Cubs

Manchester Dutchmen Will Be Hosted Here This Friday Evening

University High School's Cubs handed the Chelsea Bulldogs a very bitter pill to swallow last Friday night at Ann Arbor, when they defeated the Bulldogs, 75-74.

U. High got away to a very fast start by outscoring Chelsea, 25-15, in the first period, which saw the Cubs shoot a remarkable 68 per cent from the floor.

This outstanding shooting percentage was the difference in the game. U. High hit on 58 per cent of their shots for the entire game. Chelsea, on the other hand, shot a very respectable 48 per cent for the night.

After being down by as much as 15 points at one time in the second period, the Bulldogs began to press full court and pulled to within seven points at half-time and trailed, 43-36, at the intermission.

During the third period, the Bulldogs continued to hustle to overcome the big U. High lead and trailed by only four points going into the fourth quarter, 56-60.

With about four minutes left in the game the Bulldogs tied the game up at 62-62. The lead changed hands for the next two minutes at which time the Bulldogs surged in front by a six-point margin, but the Cubs were not dead yet, and came back to score eight points in the last 95 seconds while the Bulldogs could only get one more point.

All five starters on both teams scored in double figures, with game scoring honors going to U. High's Dennis Stevens. Dennis is a 6'3" senior who weighs 206 pounds, and has averaged about 12 points a game up until last Friday. He scored 28 points as a result of hitting about 82 per cent of the shots which he took. This was, by far, U. High's best game of the season.

Mike Marsh played very well as he led the Chelsea attack with 19 points, followed very closely by Alton Nixon who scored 17 points.

David McLaughlin and Homer Nixon each scored 12 points, Daryl Keizer had 10, and Ed Lathun scored 4 points.

The U. High Cubs are to be congratulated for their outstanding shooting and the victory. Let's not overlook, however, the fact that our own Bulldogs who were down by as much as 15 points against a red-hot shooting team who just could not miss, never let up, and through extreme desire and determination to win, hustled hard with a full court press which finally late in the game allowed them to go ahead, only to have the reward snatched away again.

If those people who doubt the value of athletics in our very competitive American way of life, can watch young men such as these give out with everything they have only to lose and yet bounce back as we know they will for their next game, with that same amount of effort, desire and determination to win—if these people can continue to be skeptical, and doubt the value of our athletic programs, then they are too old to learn.

The Junior Varsity played an outstanding game, and defeated the Little Cubs, 69-29.

The Dutchmen from Manchester will be at Chelsea tomorrow evening fresh from an impressive win over Roosevelt. This could very well prove to be an outstanding battle between two rivals of many years.

Chelsea made it a double victory Friday for the Junior High. The seventh grade won 42-10 from the U. High juniors in the first game with Mike Tarasov being high scorer with 12 points.

The eighth grade game was also won by Chelsea, 38 to 8, the high scorers being Jim Cameron, 8, and Dick Lanthorn, Jim Knott and Dennis Stoffer 7 each.

Miss Grace Ward who has been chief bookkeeper for the Chelsea Electric and Water Department for almost 27 years, has been retired under the village retirement system.

Miss Ward's retirement began officially with the end of the year, Dec. 31, 1960, but she was at the office until last Friday finishing up details of work she wished to complete.

Members of the Village Council and department heads and their wives were present. At that time Miss Ward was presented with a television set as a retirement gift.

Miss Ward makes her home with her sister, Mrs. Peter Boehm, at 122 East Summit St.

MRS. LEE FERGUSON Named to Library Board

Anonymous $1,000 Gift Given Library

At the regular meeting of the McKune Memorial Library Board Tuesday evening, a gift of $1,000 was accepted from two donors who prefer to remain anonymous. The $1,000 was designated as the nucleus for an endowment fund, the donors expressing the hope that other gifts will be made to the fund.

The income only of the fund is to be used to increase the general budget of the library, the donors saying it is their desire to "leave books around for the Chelsea area."

Other action at the meeting Tuesday evening included appointment of Mrs. Lee Ferguson to fill the unexpired term of the late Miss Mabel Fox.

At Tuesday's meeting, also, a report of the costs of Christmas lighting in the downtown area was presented, showing that Chelsea merchants had donated almost $400 toward the project, the Chamber going on record with a vote of thanks for this co-operation.

John Thomson was appointed a representative to the Chamber of Commerce from the Chrysler Proving Ground to replace Robert Anderson.

It was decided that a membership committee is to be appointed and an announcement was made that nomination of a slate of officers is scheduled for the February meeting.

Tuesday's meeting was held in the dining room of the Congregational church with 25 members and guests present.

Ministers to Deliver Plane Load of Livestock to Ecuador

The Rev. Paul M. Schake, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church, and the Rev. Armin Bizer, of St. James Evangelical and Reformed church, Saline township, leave by plane Tuesday for Miami, Fla. There they will board a chartered freight plane for Ecuador to deliver a plane load of livestock to various parts of that South American country for Church World Service.

Being flown to Ecuador are 28 six-month-old calves; a Jersey cow; one goat; and an undetermined number of Corriedale sheep.

All the livestock for this load has been purchased with money contributed by E & R churches of the Michigan-Indiana Synod.

St. Paul's of Chelsea contributed a total of $475 which was sufficient to purchase three of the animals.

The calves are a cross-breed of Brown Swiss and Brahman cattle from India, which have proved to be better able to withstand the heat of Ecuador.

The Corriedale breed of sheep was also selected as a type less likely to suffer ill effects from heat and the mountainous area where they are to be distributed to children for 4-H club work.

The heifer program has been carried out the past few years as an interdenominational project to help farmers in less favored areas of the world to help themselves.

Each person who receives one of the animals promises to give that animal's first female offspring to another farmer, who, in turn, makes a similar promise. Thus, it becomes a continuing program of assistance, promoting the "good neighbor" policy.

The largest delivery of animals is to be made at Limon Cocha where a linguistic Bible group is located. The group owns an airplane and will fly the two Michigan livestock to the area.

Rod & Gun Club Schedules Annual Fox Hunt Sunday

Congregational Church Officers Elected Sunday

Members of the Congregational church, at their annual meeting Sunday, elected the following officers: Mrs. Larry Chapman, church clerk; Mrs. William Geddes, church treasurer; Mrs. Edward Visel, church school superintendent; Vernon Parks, church school secretary-treasurer.

The list continues with William Chandler and Howard Andersen, trustees; Elton Musbach and George Frisinger, deacons; Mrs. Howard Anderson, Mrs. Mary Boyle and Mrs. Paul Maroney, deaconesses.

Others are Mrs. William Van Riper and Mrs. Max Hepburn, Board of Christian Education; Mrs. Kenneth Runciman, membership committee chairman; David Beatty, Mrs. H. G. Gage and Mrs. R. D. Hoppe, music committee; Paul Mann, Kenneth Runciman, Paul Boehler, Charles Powers and John Hale, finance committee; and Mrs. Henry Schneider and Miss Flora Schieferstein, benevolence committee.

All Sportsmen Are Welcome To Participate

Max Hepburn, president of the Chelsea Rod and Gun club, has announced plans for the seventh annual fox hunt which is to take place in this area Sunday.

The annual affair is being sponsored jointly by the Detroit Outdoorsmen club, the Jackson County Outdoors club and the Chelsea Rod and Gun club.

Club membership is not required for participation in the hunt—all sportsmen are welcome—and there is no charge.

The fox hunt is an organized hunt, rules and regulations stating that dogs are not permitted. Hunters walk in from four sides of a section of land, converging toward the center.

Rifles or slugs are also prohibited, the accepted weapons being shotguns, using shot no larger than No. 2.

Enlarged areas are being included in this year's fox hunt and maps of the areas will be available when the hunters meet at 7 a.m. Sunday at Louie's Dairy Bar.

Those who participate are being asked to bring their own lunch since no arrangements are being made for a noon lunch as has been the custom in past years.

Chelsea Rod and Gun club members suggest that Chelsea's newly-completed municipal parking lot is an ideal location for out-of-town hunters to leave their cars during the hunt if they plan to ride with others to the areas to be hunted.

Last year, 62 men took part in the hunt staged principally in the Sharon township area. Two foxes were bagged, another was wounded but managed to escape, and two more were sighted.

Earns College Degree with Help (?) of Five Children

David Eaton of Saginaw, formerly of Chelsea, is to receive a bachelor's degree in biology and chemistry at commencement exercises at Central Michigan University at Mt. Pleasant Sunday, Jan. 22. He has earned the degree by attending classes and summer school during the past eight years while regularly employed as a chemical technician at the VA hospital to support his family.

The Eatons now have five children, Mary Frances, James, Ann and John, who will be at the commencement ceremonies Sunday, and William, three years old.

Following his graduation, he will be employed as chief technician in the laboratory of St. Mary's hospital at Saginaw.

The oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Eaton, he graduated from Chelsea High school in 1939. He began his work at the VA hospital in December, 1950, and continued his employment there until June 17, 1960, when he resigned to go to summer school to finish residence requirements for the degree he is to receive Sunday.

He entered the U. S. Army Sept. 24, 1942, and was separated from active service Feb. 16, 1945 as a reserve.

Recalled to service in the Korean Conflict, Oct. 15, 1950, he was discharged Nov. 20, 1950, because he had four dependents. He and his family then moved to Saginaw where he took up his work at the VA hospital. He began studying for his degree in 1953.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Eaton will attend the commencement exercises.

KIWANIS LEADERS—William Rich, left, immediate past president of the Kiwanis club of Chelsea, and James Liebeck, 1961 president, as they appeared at the Jan. 6 meeting just after Liebeck had received the official club gavel. New March of Dimes Campaign Seeks Funds for Aid in Broad Field

The New March of Dimes is conducting its 1961 campaign with an expanded program. Polio, now apparently dealt a near fatal blow, the National Foundation seeks other dragons to slay.

We enter the new year with hope for a better future and to us it has always seemed fitting that the March of Dimes appeal should be held in January. For years, the March of Dimes meant hope to the children suffering from polio. Only a few short years ago, a March of Dimes financed research project produced a polio vaccine that has protected millions of youngsters from a crippling disease.

This year, the New March of Dimes offers new hope to even more millions—the patients suffering from crippling birth defects and crippling arthritis, as well as those suffering from crippling polio. These three diseases affect one family out of every four in this country.

Crippling birth defects are the major childhood medical problem in the United States today. Much progress has been made through study but there is much research needed along these lines.

The number of Americans suffering from some form of arthritis and rheumatism is in the millions. Among these are children afflicted with rheumatoid arthritis. They live in such a painful, tragic world that the touch of a sheet on the body can be excruciating at times.

And finally, there are thousands of victims of paralytic polio still being aided by the March of Dimes. Some are children whose parents neglected to give Salk shots.

It should not be necessary to urge anyone to contribute generously to the New March of Dimes. A reminder might be needed, but in view of the facts that is all that should be necessary for you to do your part before the end of January.

Therefore, we cannot endorse the New March of Dimes too highly. We urge every reader to examine his own personal situation and do his best in this humanitarian effort.

Michigan Is Water Unlimited for Industrial Processes of Every Kind

It has become an easy habit for residents of Michigan to tell friends elsewhere that "we live in the Water Wonderland," a habit because we are so used to the beauties of our 11,000 sparkling lakes, the 3,100 miles of Great Lakes shoreline, the 36,000 miles of rivers and streams rippling through our acres of forest lands.

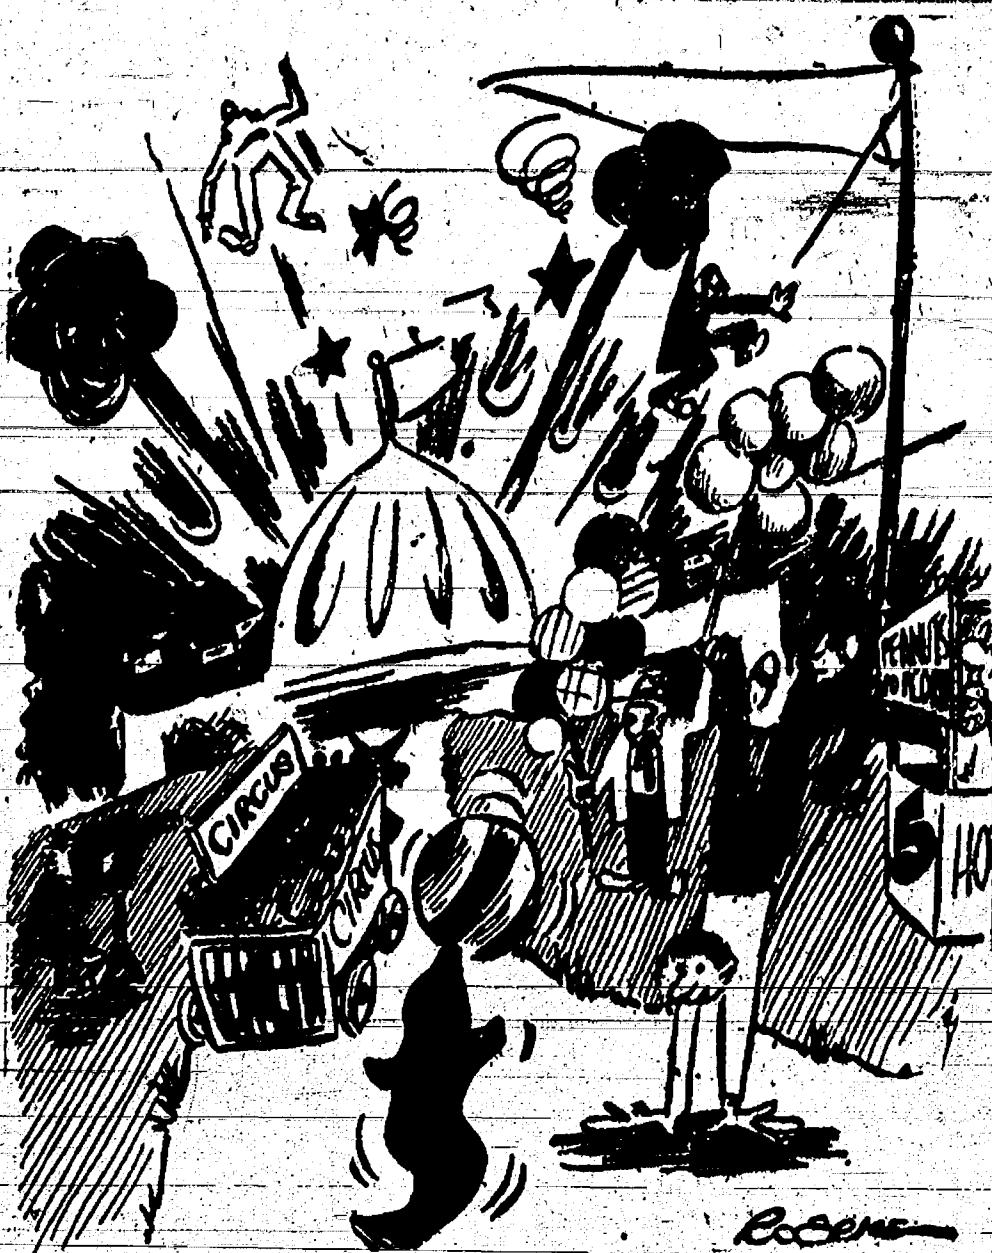

All this we take pretty much for granted, as it has become a part of our lives in Michigan. A fact that escapes most of us is that without water for industry, most of us would be without jobs, whether we are directly engaged in manufacturing, or whether we work in a store, an office or one of the many other service industries.

Water is indispensable in the actual process of manufacturing in many industries. It may be used to temper steel, or to transport raw material or semi-processed material such as salt in solution and wood fibre; to remove scale from iron, and bark from pulp logs. It is used, as a solvent and a dilutant in the chemical industry, or as a cleansing agent to remove floating wastes in many other industrial processes.

The amount of water used by industry varies according to its product. It takes about 680,000 gallons to make a ton of steel; 25 gallons to produce just one gallon of gas for your car, about 11,000 gallons of water to make the fibre used in a man's summer suit.

No matter the amount needed, when it comes to water for industry, Michigan is indeed "Water Unlimited" as pointed out in an advertisement appearing in this newspaper today. (Continued on page five)

The Show Is On

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Michigan is caught in the middle of a battle between giant corporations and individual citizens.

Conceivably, higher bills to individual customers could result from the struggle, though no move is now underway to obtain permission for a gas rate hike by any party in the dispute.

Involved in the fight, which is in the federal courts and before federal and state agencies which have the power to regulate utilities, are Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co., a supplier of natural gas and American Natural Gas Co. The latter subsidiary, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., is well known to southeastern Michigan residents and to people in other areas as well.

The extremely complex questions at issue between the two systems include how much, if any, gas Panhandle should sell to the Michigan utility.

The profit motive is, of course, at work.

But to say that either side lacks conviction that its position is ultimately the one which will enable the best and cheapest service to both the homeowner and the huge industrial user would be unfair.

The Federal Power Commission and the Michigan Public Service Commission are governmental agencies set up to regulate utilities because questions of the public good are inherent in their operations.

Protecting the consumer and making sure the utilities receive a fair price for their service are part of the duties of the FPC and MPSC.

Appeal from the decisions of the regulatory agencies can be made to the courts if a company coming under them thinks a decision should be modified. That happened in the Panhandle-American Natural case.

The struggle over natural gas is an example of how everyday business activity affects each individual consumer.

Corporations of a quasi-public nature, such as the utilities, must carry on their high-level maneuvering and business agreements and disagreements under the public eye.

Purely commercial firms can cloak their competitive rows in secrecy under the heading of "private business matters."

Ultimately, however, the cost of these maneuvers comes home to rest on the consumer's pocketbook. And that includes the cost of long lawsuits and repeated appearances before regulatory agencies.

Why should a pedestrian walking along a highway use the left side of the road, walk facing the oncoming traffic?

A reasonable and correct answer is that it's safer that way. Drivers can see the pedestrian better when he is facing them. The pedestrian can also dodge out of the way better should a driver fail to see him and come dangerously close.

But it's also against the law to walk on the right side unless it's impossible to keep to the left.

Attorney General Paul L. Adams recently answered a citizen's query on the point, and probably cleared up the question for many others who though they always walked on the left side, weren't quite sure why.

Anyway, Adams cleared the point up for once and all.

Not only is it good practice to walk on the left, it's mandatory under the law. For those who want to see for themselves what the law says, Adams refers them to the Michigan Vehicle Code, Section 655.

The National Pickle Packers Association, whose product is much maligned by epithets, gags and nursery rhymes, have come up with a public service program worthy of mention.

And Michigan can take pride and perhaps have a little chuckle because it is part of the program.

Gov. John B. Swainson has been authorized to display on his desk the little green pickle flag of traffic safety.

It was authorized because Michigan citizens co-operated with law enforcement agencies over the recent holidays to the extent that provisional figures show 37 traffic deaths over the Christmas and New Year's week-end compared with 64 for the same holiday period last year.

The National Pickle Packers Association said that it wanted to show "in a small way" its appreciation for the safe record.

The award, which the Pickle Packers hope will help dramatize the need for traffic safety, may

Governor Offers No Economic Cures

The only surprise in Gov. Swainson's message to the legislature was the fact that he offered no surprising suggestions for the future of the state.

Both Democrats and Republicans had anticipated recommendations by the young Governor to create a new atmosphere at the capitol. They expected he would come up with a couple of ideas establishing youthful vigor in the new administration.

Maybe Swainson will submit specific proposals before the winter ends.

For the time being, however, he has picked up where Gov. Williams ended by repeating the frazzled fact that something is very wrong with Michigan's economy and that everyone in Lansing must work together to find a cure.

The new Governor set his keynote by saying: "There is no task of greater urgency facing our state and our people."

"The key to Michigan's economic problems resides in Michigan. It lies in the energies, the optimism, the strength and the determination of the people. Full employment means greater fiscal strength and stability."

No one can take issue with these platitudes.

There is an old gag, obviously untrue, that Colidge said unemployment results when people are out of work. Gov. Swainson's point was the opposite.

But he presented the Republican-controlled legislature with a problem that has no solution as long as the Democratic Party is governed by a labor union.

There is no mystery in diagnosing Michigan's illness.

New industries cannot be attracted to this state as long as the courts make new rules like the Ford Motor Company decision granting unemployment compensation to employees who are out of work because of a strike, and the recent decree granting compensation to a worker injured while at lunch away from the property.

New industries cannot be enticed to Michigan when workers' compensation insurance rates reach be a small thing. But it is praiseworthy that an organization of commercial firms is taking an active part in the too often neglected fight against death and disabling injury on highways.

The little green pickle flag is more than just an award for two week-ends of relatively safe driving.

It is a symbol of public spiritedness and the need for all citizens, groups and firms to join in helping to curb the ever-mounting toll largely attributable to the unsafe driver.

the highest level in the nation and threaten to go higher. The constant threat of high unemployment compensation assessed against employers, is not persuasive advertising.

The State Labor Department policy that employers always are wrong is not an asset. So the remedy to Michigan's depressing climate rests with Gov. Swainson really, not with the legislature. He alone will be responsible for the policies of the commissions that will make up his government.

All talk about reorganizing and strengthening the Economic Development Commission becomes meaningless as long as the government regards employers as ugly enemies.

A few hours before Gov. Swainson went to the legislature with his message, a warning about present course of government made in Detroit by John F. Gore, president of General Motors.

"They would have us believe," said Gore, "that the United States is sacrificing social fits for material indulgence—our production of consumer goods like automobiles is using too much energy and too many resources that should be allocated to public goods like schools, hospitals, yes—missiles."

"They do not seem to understand that it is the production of consumer goods and services that makes possible the tax revenue necessary to create social goods."

MICHIGAN IS WATER UNLIMITED

Whether in single stream from a factory faucet or in thundering volume, water is at work and at hand for industry in Michigan.

Water is almost everywhere in Michigan. Michigan has 11,000 inland lakes and 36,000 miles of streams, and Michigan has a vast underground water reserve. Lake levels vary little, stream flow is stable and, except for very limited areas, ground water levels have shown no appreciable change since record-keeping began.

Michigan is almost surrounded by the greatest supply of fresh water in the world, the Great Lakes. Stand anywhere in Michigan and you are within 85 miles of one of the Great Lakes.

Michigan is first in water resources—today, tomorrow and for the whole foreseeable future.

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I recollect a story in the papers way back yonder 30 year ago about a hunting trip Will Rogers took to Africa. The Saturday Evening Post was paying him a $1 a word for sending back a account ever week of his experiences. Ever time Will got a shot at some wild animal he's put in his story, "Boom! Boom! Boom!" The magazine editors called him to quit shooting so much, said it was costing 'em a $1 a shot.

That's peanuts, Mister Editor, to what it's costing us taxpayers for them Senators in Washington to talk so much. I was reading a piece last night on the high price of talk in the Senate.

They was in session 200 days this last time and a copy of all their speeches weighed 112 pounds, filled 1,920 pages and used 12 million words. The fellow writing this piece was comparing it with a standard size Bible that weighs two pounds and 10 ounces, has 1,149 pages, and less than 8 million words.

If that was the end, things wouldn't be so bad, but all of it had to be printed in the Congressional Record at $85 a page. This fellow went on to show that each Senator on the average talked enough to fill 78 pages, and one distinguished Senator used 300 pages. Gitting it down to dollars and cents, it cost the taxpayers $20,265 just to put this one Senator's speeches in print. Putting the speeches of all of 'em in print for the last session cost the folks back home $672,000.

I bring this item to the attention of the fellows at the country store Saturday night. Ed Doolittle claimed Senators was pickers alongside them, diplomats in the State Department. He said he was reading a piece the other day where Russia owes us ten billion eight hundred million dollars and our striped pants boys offered to cross off the ten billion and settle for the eight hundred million. But up to now Russia is offering only three hundred million. Clem Webster allowed as how we better take it quick or they'd probably start charging us a per cent interest on the ten billion they don't aim to pay us.

Zeke Grubb was in favor of making diplomats get a year's advance training working with a balky mule. Zeke claims after a feller learns how to handle a stubborn balky mule he'd be just right to take on Russia. I think that's good advice, Mister Editor. Incidentally, I've even heard that experience with mules is mighty good training for getting along with wimmen. But I ain't endorsing it for publication on account of my old lady might see this piece.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

LONG HIKE
Miami, Fla. — Two blind men have completed a hitch-hiking trip from Miami to Philadelphia accompanied by their guide dogs.
Robert Lambert, 27, and William Schrimgeour, 50, both of Miami, said they encountered no difficulties during their five days on the road. Lambert said he hopes to raise $2,000 so he can get a doctor's degree in mathematical logic. Schrimgeour, a masseur, made the trip to keep Lambert company and to look for work in the city.

TWINS TWICE IN 1 YEAR

Berkley, Cal.—For the second time in one year the Harley Pedersen family is increased with twins. A year ago 23-year-old Mrs. Kirsan Pedersen gave birth to her first set, both girls.

Again within the year she bore twins—this time a boy and a girl. The father, a laboratory technician, is hoping income-tax benefits from both sets will help out with his extra expenses.

South American Educator Inspects Chelsea Schools

Jose Vanegas, who is inspector of secondary schools in Colombia, South America, visited Chelsea schools on Monday.

One of 550 educators from all parts of the world who are in the United States under a Fulbright Grant from the U. S. Department of State and the U. S. Office of Education, for the purpose of studying American schools, the Colombia visitor was very much interested in the architecture of Chelsea's new high school.

Vanegas will be in Michigan two weeks as the guest of Acting Superintendent V. Jones of Lincoln Consolidated High school at Ypsilanti. He had previously spent some time in California.

His visit here was the result of a suggestion made by John Griffin, former Chelsea High school principal, who is now at Ypsilanti.

Vanegas expressed his appreciation for courtesies extended by school personnel, mentioning particularly his contacts with Superintendent Charles Cameron and the school principals—Charles Lane at Chelsea High school and Arthur Schmunk of the elementary schools, who arranged his tours of the buildings and visits with students and teachers.

At North Elementary school, he taught the sixth-grade geography class of Philip Smith and commented that he was "amazed at the good questions asked by students" about his own country and South America in general.

Vanegas also spent some time with H. T. Moore, custodian at Chelsea High school, who conducted him on a tour of the building so he might examine the physical facilities of the plant.

He also talked with the school dietitian, Mrs. Lucille Olson, about the lunch program.

Livestock to Ecuador

gan ministers; and the remainder of the livestock in their care over dense jungle to primitive tribes of Indians in the area where missionaries lost their lives several years ago.

Stops and delivery of stock will be made at the Jivaro Indian Mission near Macuma in the southeastern part of Ecuador, about 300 miles south of Limon Cocha and the two men will remain there three or four days.

A stop will also be made at an agricultural mission station at Pichin, north of the Ecuadorian capital at Quito. The Jersey cow and the boar are to be delivered to the station there, an E & R and Congregational Christian mission project.

After the two ministers have finished their deliveries of livestock and observed the work of area missionaries, they will do some sightseeing along the Pacific coastline before returning to Quito for the flight to Miami and back home.

The Rev. Schnake expects to be back in Chelsea Feb. 11.

Weekly Publisher Seeks Nomination For Regent's Post

Paul M. Chandler, publisher of three community newspapers in northwestern Wayne county, announced today that he is a formal candidate for the Republican nomination as Regent of the University of Michigan.

Chandler is 41 years old and a graduate of the University of Michigan in 1941.

The Republicans will nominate two men for the office at the State Convention in Detroit's Cobo Hall on Feb. 4. No incumbents are seeking the office.

Chandler, who lives at 1115 Maple in Plymouth, is owner and publisher of The Plymouth Mail, The Lionian, and The Redford Observer, weekly newspapers with a combined circulation of 40,000.

He previously was employed as a sports writer by The Detroit News, as a writer by The Associated Press, as vice-president and director of the Michigan Racing Association, and associate editor of The Detroit Athletic Club News. During the war he was a Navy officer, winning the Bronze Star while serving on aircraft carriers in the Pacific.

He is married and the father of Thomas, 12 years old.

Hostesses who served refreshments at Tuesday's meeting included Mrs. Richard Salonen, Mrs. Duane Layher and Mrs. Daniel Maroney.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for Feb. 21 at the home of Mrs. Elton Guelther and each member is to bring one or two servings of a dessert for a smorgasbord. The recipe for the dessert is also to be shared.

A new slate of officers is to be presented Feb. 21 for the election scheduled for the March meeting.

A state Jaycees Auxiliary Board meeting is scheduled for Feb. 17 and 18, the same dates the Jaycees men will hold their state meeting.

Michigan Bell Petitioned For Toll-Free Dexter Calls

Michigan Bell officials have now been supplied with some of the ammunition to back-up a request for initiation of toll-free telephone service between the communities of Dexter and Chelsea.

Letters from individual customers in both the Hamilton and Greenwood exchanges, as well as from civic, fraternal, church and farm bureau organizations, were presented to Nicholas J. Prakkien, Michigan Bell manager for the Ann Arbor area, at an informal meeting in his Ann Arbor office on Thursday, Jan. 12 at 2:00 p.m.

Dexter Chamber of Commerce president Leo G. Hoey and secretary Lyle Engle took the letters to Prakkien, who promised to "do his best" to please the telephone customers from both communities.

Included in the letter collection were communications from the Chelsea Village Council, the Dexter Village Council and the Chambers of Commerce of both communities.

President Leo Hoey and Secretary Lyle Engle reported that when they presented the letters to N. J. Prakkien of Michigan Bell, he assured them that telephone company officials would take action as soon as possible and that he hoped to have an answer from Michigan Public Utilities Commission members within three or four weeks on whether toll-free service would be established between Dexter and Chelsea.

This does not mean, it was pointed out, that the service would be established in that length of time; only that the MPUC would advise whether or not the toll-free service was approved or disapproved by that time.

LEARNING BY DOING 4-H CLUB

The fourth meeting of the Learning By Doing 4-H Club was held at the home of Velma, Judy and Arlys Wiseman.

Molinda Beck gave a demonstration on the color wheel, Barbara Feldkamp and Linda Schneider on your hands, and Arlys Wiseman and Linda Schneider on the facing of the collar.

The club decided to take some things to the Kiwanis sale. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Social Service Reports on Christmas Aid

Mrs. Louis Ramp, director of Chelsea Social Service, has completed a report of Christmas activities on behalf of the needy in the Chelsea area, opening her report with mention of the fact that the report shows one way in which Community Chest funds work for the benefit of the home community.

Mrs. Ramp's report reads as follows:

This year, as in other years, gifts were distributed at Sylvan Town Hall under supervision of the Chelsea Social Service, a Community Chest organization. Others received their gifts from the Salvation Army in Ann Arbor, also a Chest beneficiary. The two organizations work closely together to avoid duplication and to see that no one needing help is omitted from the list.

The money required to make the gift distribution possible comes entirely from the Community Chest. Each family receives an order for purchase of meat and groceries, with the amount varying according to the number in the family. In addition, each family receives a box of canned goods and household supplies. This year the canned goods were supplied mainly from the collections made at the High School and Junior High School, with supplemental purchased by the Chelsea Social Service. The Chelsea Milling Co. provided all the boxes needed to hold the food gifts and in addition gave several cases of their products for distribution.

A number of service organizations and individual families joined in the giving. This year, eight families received their gifts in this way. Among the clubs joining were the Chelsea Social Service, the Chelsea Milling Co., the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary, Sylvan Farm Bureau, American Legion Auxiliary, and Chat 'n' Sea of the Congregational church. An unusual idea was worked out by the Eastern Star of the Congregational church who made Christmas centerpieces for each of the boxes prepared for distribution.

This year a total of 85 adults and 134 children were served by all of the groups working together. Of these, 42 adults and 101 children received their gifts directly from the Chelsea Social Service, while 32 adults and 8 children received from the Salvation Army. This is in addition to toys provided by the Salvation Army. Ten adults and 25 children were assigned to the organizations listed above and to individuals, who usually explained when requesting.

with the Chelsea Social Service to provide Christmas cheer for the less fortunate were the Girl Scouts, Troop 77; Cub Scouts, Den 65; Cub Scouts, Den 4; Chelsea High School FHA, Child Study Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary, Sylvan Farm Bureau, American Legion Auxiliary, and Chat 'n' Sea of the Congregational church. An unusual idea was worked out by the Eastern Star of the Congregational church who made Christmas centerpieces for each of the boxes prepared for distribution.

A "toy store" was set up in the Town Hall from which parents and children made their selections. Highlight of the display was the table containing dolls beautifully dressed by the ladies of the Methodist Home. Other new toys were provided mainly by the Salvation Army. By agreement, they give to adults only with the Chelsea Social Service taking the families with children. To equalize the expense, they provide a part of the toys. Their money gifts to adults are matched to those given by the Chelsea Social Service to families of equal size.

a family that they were eager for their children to learn the true meaning of Christmas by sharing with other children.

Mrs. Ramp concluded her report by saying that a real effort is made to see that no family or child is neglected not only at Christmas-time but at any time during the year.

CHEVROLET & CORVAIR!

The "car of the year"

Overwhelming acceptance of the new 1961 models introduced last fall—together with the tremendous success of the '60 Chevrolets—has sent Chevrolet passenger car sales to an all-time yearly high. More new Chevrolets and new Corvairs were delivered to more people during the past year than ever bought any make of car in a single year before. We and your Chevrolet dealer thank you for your continuing confidence in, and preference for, Chevrolet. Your record-breaking purchases of Chevrolets have significance to everyone thinking of buying a new car this year, and—since sales of new 1961 Chevrolets and Corvairs continue at record-breaking levels—are a healthy indication of the inherent strength and vigor of our national economy.

It was estimated that 150 cars and trucks were stuck in the sand after trying to drive around the structure.

Lettie Kaercher left Tuesday for a month's vacation in Florida where she will visit at the Lakeland home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Miller.

Episcopal Churches Join in Prayer for Christian Unity

Sunday evening, representatives of St. Barnabas' Episcopal church will participate in a pilgrimage to St. Paul's Cathedral, 4800 Woodward Ave., Detroit, for an observance of what has become a worldwide custom—a week of prayer for the unity of the Christian churches of the world.

The speaker at this ecumenical service is to be the Rev. Fr. Alexander Schmemann, a priest of the Russian Orthodox Church and a professor at St. Vladimir's Seminary, New York. In addition, ministers and priests of other Christian churches will participate in the "Service of Evensong," as well as the men's and boys' cathedral choir.

The observance of the week of special petitions for unity was begun by a French Roman Catholic priest and has now spread to most of the Christian world. This year's observance, Jan. 18-25, will see Christians throughout the world praying for unity of spirit and understanding among the various Christian bodies.

Actual political union has taken place among many Protestant churches—and several Catholic churches in recent generations as Christians have sought to overcome the divisions which separate them from each other.

The Rev. Allan Reed, vicar of St. Barnabas' church, said the recent visit of the Archbishop of Canterbury, spiritual head of the 48,000,000 Episcopalians in the world, to Pope John XXIII, has spurred an interest in the problem of divided churches. He said the week of prayer for unity is an attempt to make real to Christians the seriousness of their divisions as well as to ask for eventual unity of spirit and understanding.

Episcopalians of Chelsea have been asked to include in their daily devotions a litany for unity written by the Rev. Fr. Michael of Lyon, France.

Sunday morning, at the 10 o'clock service, the litany will be used to augment their regular practice of praying for local churches and clergy by name.

Two Chelsea Students Pledged To U-M Honorary

Lynna M. Meyer, a senior in the University of Michigan School of Nursing, and the Rev. Allan W. Reed, who is vicar of St. Barnabas' church and a graduate student at the University, were among 244 students who became members of Phi Kappa Phi honorary society in ceremonies held at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Rackham Amphitheater, Ann Arbor.

Founded in 1897, Phi Kappa Phi selects undergraduates from the U-M top scholastic 10 percent and some graduate students from the upper five per cent. Students are in all U-M schools and colleges.

Professor Allan F. Smith, dean of the U. of M. Law School, spoke on the topic, "Random Thoughts on the Rule of Law."

Professor Smith and six other faculty members also entered the honorary society at Thursday's ceremonies. The six are Prof. Gardner Ackley, chairman of the Department of Economics; Prof. Wilbur J. Cohen, School of Social Work; David M. French, dean of the Flint College of the U-M; Prof. Ferrel-Hendy, head of the Institute of Public Administration; Prof. Miriam L. Keller, assistant dean of the School of Nursing; and Prof. Herbert Penz, Department of Germanic Languages and Literature.

Notaries Named

Included on the list of appointments and re-appointments as Notaries Public during the final quarter of 1960 are the names of two Chelsea area residents—Lura S. Giddes and Sally M. Headrick. The list was released by Secretary of State James M. Hare who stated that the commissions are valid for four years.

D. Boyer Elected to Head Law Enforcement Assn.

Conservation Officer Donley Boyer, whose home is at 406 North St., has been elected president of the Law Enforcement and Industrial Security Association of Washtenaw county.

The election took place Wednesday evening, Jan. 11, at a meeting held at the American Legion Home at Ann Arbor. George Doe, another Chelsea member of the association, also was present for the meeting.

Boyer was commissioned a state conservation officer in 1940 and has been assigned since then to the 12 townships in the western part of Washtenaw county. These include Sylvan, Lima, Scio, Webster, Dexter, Lyndon, Sharon, Freedom, Lodi, Manchester, Bridgewater and Saline.

Boyer succeeds Jack A. Keller of the Ford Motor Co. in Ypsilanti who served two terms as president.

A native of Charlotte, Boyer graduated from Grand Ledge High school. He later attended Western Michigan University at Kalamazoo until enlisting in the U. S. Air Force in 1942 when he was a junior. He served as a B-29 gunnery instructor until his discharge in 1945.

Elected as first vice-president of the association at Wednesday's meeting was George Ringler of the Chevrolet Willow Run plant.

Other association officers, elected at the meeting, are Richard J. Gansley, chief of the Ann Arbor Police Department, second vice-president; William W. Strubank of the Ford Motor Company's Rawsonville plant, executive secretary; Mel Liedel of the Chevrolet plant at Willow Run, recording secretary; and Detective Gerald Corey from the Michigan State Police post at Ypsilanti, treasurer.

meeting for adults will also be held.

A call for the evangelistic mission has been issued by Bishop Marshall R. Reed, spiritual head of Michigan Methodists. In a special message to his churches, the bishop has asked for participation in the mission to help strengthen the spiritual life for the churches in their communities.

Laymen from the local church will present several phases of the "United Witness" program during the 10 o'clock worship services on Sunday, Jan. 22. Mrs. Wesley Hovess, chairman of the planning committee, will lead in a prayer portion of the service; James Hoffmeyer, chairman of the continuation committee, will read the Scripture lesson and offer prayer for the mission; William Storey, chairman of the finance committee, will lead in the presentation of offerings. During the sermon portion of the service the following will speak: Charles Cameron, on "Spiritual Preparation"; Dr. Clare Warren on "Experiencing Concern for Persons"; and "Witnessing" given by Arthur Schmunk.

The Youth choir, directed by Mrs. George Palmer, will sing, "Light of God Within," accompanied by Claude Isham, organist.

Donley Boyer, lay leader of the congregation, will preside.

At the next meeting, Dec. 20, the girls attended a breakfast at the home of Mrs. Walfrid Impola and last Thursday they learned how to use a jackknife.

Officers elected included Crystal Impola, president; Vickie Wilkerson, secretary; and Kathy Porath, treasurer.

Suzan Frisch and Angela Cavadas gave the month's activity report.

RALPH GUENTHER invited two of his brothers and their wives to dinner Monday evening at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Guenther, the principal item on the menu being fresh-fried Northern Pike. Ralph caught the two beauties shown in the photo at Cavanaugh Lake Sunday afternoon although he exercised his fisherman's prerogative by refusing to reveal the exact part of the lake where he made the catch. He was fishing through a hole in the ice and caught both big ones 45 minutes apart on tip-ups. The larger fish weighed 5 1/2 pounds and measured 31 inches in length. The smaller one was 24 inches long and weighed 3 1/2 pounds. Ralph's mother prepared the dinner Monday evening using a deep fryer for the fish cut in square pieces for serving. Guests at the dinner included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Guenther and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Guenther.

MYSTERY FARM NO. 133—This farm photo, originally published in the Jan. 12 issue of The Standard as the 133rd in the series published each week without identification, proved to be the farm located at 12451 Scio Church Rd., owned by Fred Bollinger and rented to the Bruce Bycraft family.

Bruce Bycrafts Family Resides on Farm Known as Fred Bollinger's

Mystery Farm No. 133 was identified by a number of people who called The Standard after the Jan. 12 edition was published. Among them was eight-year-old Ernest Hinder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hinder of Rogers Corners, who will pass the house every day while riding the bus to school in Chelsea. He said his friend and classmate, Duane Bycraft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bycraft, lives there.

The men-at-blades elevator were back in their usual form, after falling to identify the Sterling farm the previous week. They were the first to call The Standard office with the correct identification this week.

"Mystery Farm No. 133" is owned by Fred Bollinger, although he has never lived there. His son, Rudolph, who now lives on the Bollinger homestead at 12260 Scio Church Rd., works the 23 acres of land on which the Bycraft home is located.

Mrs. Bruce Bycraft is the former Irene Hilt. She and her husband have lived there since 1953. In addition to the son, Duane, who is the second grade at North Elementary school, they have a five-year-old daughter, Denise, who is in the kindergarten at South Elementary school and two smaller children, Diane, four years old, and Jeff, four months old.

Next owner listed is Margaret Houck and then Jacob and Margaretta Houck who sold the farm in 1898 to George Lutz.

George Lutz died Aug. 28, 1891, without leaving a will and on April 12, 1893 Jacob Bollinger, an uncle of the present owner purchased it.

The Schallmiller family were the next owners, from 1897 until 1915, when Dewitt and Elizabeth Hathaway were listed as being the owners, until Ransom Lewis purchased it in 1918.

Names listed as early owners on various parcels which comprise the present acreage include Stewart and Julia Ann Knight, Philip Starling, Lemuel, Nancy, Nathan and Caroline Scott, James M. Bowen, Godfrey, John and Ann Grau and Jacob Hasseneahl.

Among those who correctly identified the farm, in addition to those already mentioned, are Mrs. Walter Beutler, Mrs. Clarence Koenigster of Ann Arbor, Paul Rothfuss, Mrs. Bruce Bycraft, Mrs. Ernest Horning, Janet Bollinger, Charles Curtis, Kay Buss, Robert Schneider and Fred Bollinger.

NOT FOR THE BIRDS

Modern architecture is driving starlings to the suburbs, and the exodus is easing one of Washington's biggest problems.

The birds, which love to roost in the columns and porticos of the capital's old buildings, are finding no crevices in the unbroken steel and glass of the new office buildings.
