Bulldogs Win From Flying Dutchmen

Must Win from Saline Friday Night To Keep Title Hopes Alive

The Dutchman from Manchester came flying into Chelsea last Friday night with plans of upsetting the Bulldogs and didn't let up for a moment in their effort to do so.

The fine effort was in vain, however, as the Bulldogs, playing their poorest floor game of the season, had just a little too much for the Flying Dutchman to handle.

The first half of play saw Manchester hustle their way to a slim 24-23 half-time lead, only to have the Bulldogs wipe it out by outscoring the Dutchmen, 10-6, in the third period and regain the lead at 30-30 going into the fourth quarter.

In the fourth period the Dutchman wouldn't let the Bulldogs relax in any way, as they repeatedly came back from as far as 10 points down to cut the lead at one time to four points. But the Bulldogs were not about to hand victory over to the Dutchman, and kept plugging away even though they were having a poor night.

With five seconds left in the game, the Bulldogs were leading 56-49, but Manchester's big 6'4" Jerry Pniwski hit on a 30-foot hook shot to make the final score Chelsea 56, Manchester 51.

Chelsea had balanced scoring, as Alton Nixon showed the way with 14 points, followed by Mike Marsh and Homer Nixon who had 13 and 12 points, respectively. Daryl Keizer scored 8 points, Ed Lauhon 5 and David McLaughlin 4.

For Manchester, Ken Brokaw and Jerry Creech each scored 14 points, with Gary Pniwski getting 11.

The Chelsea Junior Varsity again came on strong in the second half to defeat the little Dutchman 61-41.

Chelsea travels to Saline tomorrow night for a game that is a MUST if they expect to stay in contention for the Washtenaw Conference championship. The Hornets of Saline are presently sporting a fine 5-0 conference record, and are 9-1 on the season. Saline is a very fast, smooth-working, hustling team with lots of desire, and barring a let-down on either team's part, it should be an excellent ball game.

CERTIFICATE OF ACHIEVEMENT—Major General Dwight E. Beach, commanding general of the 82nd Airborne Division, Fort Bragg, N. C., was present to congratulate Major Marjorie Sadt of the Army Nurse Corps after she received a certificate of achievement "for distinguished and meritorious service." The presentation of the certificate of achievement took place Jan. 16 in the office of Colonel Byron L. Steger, commanding officer at Womack Army Hospital at Fort Bragg, where Major Sadt is now head nurse in the receiving office. She joined the hospital staff there Jan. 4.

Major Marjorie Sadt Earns Certificate of Achievement

At impressive ceremonies in the office of Colonel Byron L. Steger, commanding officer, Womack Army Hospital, Fort Bragg, N. C., a certificate of achievement was presented to Major Marjorie Sadt of the Army Nurse Corps, for "distinguished and meritorious service" from Feb. 13, 1958, to Dec. 23, 1960, as chief nurse, attending surgeons' office, Walter Reed Army Medical Center, Washington, D.C. Major Sadt is a daughter of Mrs. Ruth Sadt, Chelsea school teacher, and the late Royben Sadt.

After the presentation by Colonel Steger, Major Sadt was congratulated by Major General Dwight E. Beach, commanding general of the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg. General and Mrs. Beach were guests of honor at the ceremonies.

General Beach and Major Sadt both graduated from Chelsea High school, the general in 1926 and Major Sadt in 1935.

Major Sadt completed nurses training at W. A. Foote Memorial hospital, in Jackson, in 1940, and began her career with the Army Nurse Corps in 1945. She has completed several professional training courses offered by the Army, including the Medical Field Service and Nursing Administration courses at the Army Medical Service School, Fort Sam Houston, Tex., and the Management of Mass Casualties course at Walter Reed Army Medical Center, Washington, D. C. While assigned to Tripler Army Hospital in Hawaii, she attended classes at the University of Hawaii.

In addition to her mother, her relatives here include a sister, Mrs. Lowell Spike, 3200 Sharon Hollow Rd., and two brothers, L. Dean Sadt of 6123 Hasley Rd., and Howard Sadt of Jackson.

General Beach is a brother of David Beach of Chelsea. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Beach.

Anti-Rabies Clinic Set For Thursday

From 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. this evening (Thursday) is the date for the annual anti-rabies dog vaccination clinic at Sylvan Town Hall. A $2 fee is charged to cover the cost of the clinic.

Planned for the convenience of dog owners so they may comply with the law requiring all dogs to be vaccinated before a dog license may be issued, the clinics are part of a program of the Washtenaw County-Veterinary Medical Association and the Health Department to keep rabies out of the county.

Dr. Otto Engleke, Washtenaw county health officer, in announcing the clinics throughout the county, said practicing veterinarians in each community will administer the new avianized vaccine which will protect dogs for a two-year period instead of the one-year protection obtained with vaccine used in the past.

Clinics similar to those planned this month have been conducted since 1948 when a county ordinance was passed requiring all dogs to be vaccinated prior to being licensed.

The clinics are not the only means of securing rabies vaccinations since veterinarians offer the vaccination the year round at their offices for a regular fee; however, the clinics do offer low cost vaccination to dog owners who might find it difficult to comply with the regulation requiring vaccination for their dogs.

This year's clinics are under the direction of Dr. George E. Bowler, veterinarian-meat inspector on the Health Department staff.

Township clerks co-operate by being present at the clinics to issue dog licenses to all dog owners who wish to purchase one.

Dr. Bowler reminds dog owners that the deadline for purchasing a dog license without penalty is March 1.

In Lyndon township the anti-rabies clinic was held last Friday; Dexter had one last Saturday; and the Manchester area clinic was held last night.

Varsity Club Sponsoring Cage Game

The Chelsea Varsity Club is sponsoring a basketball game and record-hop Saturday night with proceeds going into the club's treasury, which helps to support various phases of the athletic program and serve the public by organizing and distributing programs for the football and basketball games.

The game will be between the Chelsea Faculty and the WPAG radio staff. The game will start at 7:30 p.m., and will feature nearly all of the Chelsea faculty members plus the entire WPAG radio staff.

Following the game a record-hop with Dave Pringle spinning the discs, will take place in the Chelsea High school cafeteria.

Peanut Sale Nets $208 for Polio Fund

Proceeds of the "Peanuts-for-Polio" sale held here the past two Saturdays amounted to $208.39, according to a report by the chairman, Mrs. Robert Foye.

Boy Scouts of Troop 25, with Tom Penhalligon in charge, sold peanuts Saturday, Jan. 14, and Boy Scouts of Troop 76, with Troop Committeeman Elmer Kiel in charge, sold peanuts Saturday, Jan. 21.

Proceeds of the square dance sponsored at South school Saturday night by the Chelsea Promoters amounted to approximately $60, the club paying the school rental fee as its contribution.

Another special area of contribution is a March of Dimes bowling tournament, in which league bowlers at Chelsea Lanes are participating on a voluntary basis.

Tournament play began Jan. 15 and will continue through Jan. 28. High scorer for the two-weeks tournament will be eligible to eventually compete in state finals.

Mike Apel Rolls Perfect '300' Game

Mike Apel, manager of Sylvan Lanes bowling alley here, won acclaim for qualifying for membership in bowling's exclusive "300" club for the second time Wednesday, Jan. 18, while competing in the Varden Classic League at Jackson.

His first 300 game was recorded several years ago at Toledo, O. The 300 game Wednesday, together with a 214 and a 190 game, gave him a series total of 704.

While 704 is an enviable series score it is one less than Apel's record of 705 which he compiled Tuesday night, Jan. 16, while playing in Jackson's Palace Classic League.

Five Directors Named to Chest Board

At the annual meeting of the Chelsea Community Chest Wednesday, Jan. 18, two directors were eligible for re-election: Lyle Haselswerdt and Miles Smith, and five new ones were named. The newly-elected directors are Mrs. Alfred Mayer, James Allan, Armin Schneider, Jack Wellnitz and Lyle Christwell.

The 14 directors of the 21-member board whose three-year terms did not expire this year are Mrs. Robert Daniels, Richard Kern, Richard Smith, George Atkinson, Allen Broesamle, Willard Guest, N. H. Miles, Dr. Michael Papo, Robert Rudd, David Strieter, Mrs. Leon Chapman, Donald Baldwin, Howard Anderson and Miss Gertrude Young.

At the organizational meeting of the board of directors, Community Chest officers were elected as follows: Lyle Haselswerdt, president; Donald Baldwin, vice-president; Howard Anderson, secretary; and Miss Gertrude Young, treasurer (re-elected).

Directors who had served two three-year terms and thus were ineligible for re-election to succeed themselves are Calvin Summers who served as president; William Collins, J. V. Burg, II, and Robert Taylor.

The remaining outgoing director is Mrs. James Windell who had served the unexpired term of Mrs. Fred Schumm.

Annual reports given at Wednesday's meeting by the treasurer, Miss Gertrude Young, indicate that member agencies will receive only 90 per cent of their budget requests for 1961 unless additional contributions are received and it was pointed out that such additional contributions may be made at any time and would be greatly appreciated.

Total amount pledged by the close of the general fund-raising campaign was listed in the treasurer's report as $19,901.64, which is approximately 90 per cent of the $15,237 set as the goal for the campaign.

No Hepatitis Epidemic Say Local Doctors

Chelsea physicians, contacted yesterday concerning reports that the liver ailment known as hepatitis has affected a large number of children in Chelsea schools, said this is not true. Because many parents are being unduly alarmed by the report, however, they felt it wise to clarify the situation.

Dr. J. V. Fisher, president of the Chelsea School District Board of Education, checking with Dr. A. A. Palmer, Dr. V. R. Hansen, Dr. Michael Papo and Dr. James Shadoan, found that he and the four other physicians, together, know of a total of only four verified cases of the disease at the present time.

This number of cases does not constitute an epidemic, the doctors point out, and necessity for a wholesale immunization program is definitely not indicated.

The doctors said they are keeping a close watch on the situation; however, they believe that because of the rumors of "an epidemic" the natural concern and anxiety of many parents has reached a stage which is out of proportion to actual conditions.

In households where an illness is diagnosed as hepatitis, people who have been in prolonged contact with the patient may be given gamma globulin supplied by the Health Department as an immunization measure.

Casual contact, such as going into a hepatitis patient's home for a short time, does not constitute sufficient exposure to call for the immunization, the doctors state.

Precautions against hepatitis, as in any other infectious disease, the doctors point out, is adequate rest, proper diet and normal cleanliness, including frequent washing of the hands.

The four cases in the Chelsea schools at present involve elementary school age children.

Five Foxes Bagged in Annual Hunt

Eight foxes sighted and five bagged was the score for the 50 hunters who participated in the annual fox hunt in this area Sunday. All five were downed in the Sharon township area.

An additional section hunted this year—along Cavanaugh Lake Rd., from Letts Creek to Pierce Rd. and south to US-12—resulted in sighting only one fox and that one "got away."

The five foxes shot were all bagged by Detroit men.

This was Chelsea's seventh annual fox hunt and was sponsored jointly by the Detroit Outdoorsmen club, the Jackson County Outdoors club and the Chelsea Rod and Gun club.

Proposed Volleyball Group Organization Meet Set for Feb. 2

Because of conflict of activities the proposed volleyball group "for young or young middle-age men" which was to hold its first session at the Junior High school gymnasium tonight, has postponed the meeting until next Thursday, Feb. 2.

A group interested in getting the recreation program underway announced last week that approximately 40 men should be included if the project is to be a successful venture. The plan is to meet from 7:30 until 9:30 p.m. each Thursday.

Those who might be interested in participating may contact any of the following for details: Robert Foster, Harvey Lixey, Stephen Clark, Arnold Steger, Fremont Boyer, George Winans or David Strieter.

DAVE McLAUGHLIN was caught by the camera as he tipped on a teammate's shot to score early in the fourth quarter of the Chelsea-Chelsea basketball game here last Friday. William Olesky, Manchester's No. 33, appears much taller than his 5'7" as he reaches high in an attempt to stop McLaughlin. Manchester's No. 45, Terry Ayers who is 6'1" tall, was also closing in at the left while Gary Pniwski 6'9", Manchester's No. 51, is at the right. Chelsea's co-captain Mike Marsh, (42) is at the left, watching McLaughlin. Chelsea won the game, the final score standing at 64-51.

This situation poses a pressing problem for the new Democratic administration. The task of reaching world agreement on the outlawing of nuclear weapons may indeed be the most vital facing President Kennedy. The success of this effort could have far-reaching consequences for all the peoples of the world.

The space ship rumors and reports have certainly come thick and fast in recent years. Maybe they are up there some nights after all. If they are, we hope they'll look out for Santa Claus on Christmas Eve and our own commercial airplanes as they're having enough trouble recently trying to avoid each other.

The first weeks of the new Democratic administration—unleashed from the iron control of former Gov. Williams—have been mindful of that Broadway production called "Hellscapeopppin'."

All semblance of unity has been tossed to the winds by Democratic leaders. They have started a free-for-all in which there may not be a rest period even between rounds.

Heset by their own internal battles, Republican legislators are not in a position to sit back and float. The fight over Senate organization, when the younger Republican Senators cast votes with the Democratic minority, has oncrates—is a bigger headache for Gov. Swainson.

Senator Lane, serving his 13th year, has been most proud of his service as a member of the Senate labor committee.

Senator Novak, once an organizer and business agent for UAW locals, has been for six years a member of the powerful State Affairs committee.

Both were knocked down by their colleagues and lost these assignments. They plan retaliation.

Atty.-Gen. Adams, chosen originally for his high office by the UAW because the union felt he was "safe," has been sentenced to the political gallows by Scholle because Adams told the U. S. Supreme Court two weeks ago that the people of Michigan used good sense in apportioning the Senate on a geographic basis.

Pointing to the United States Senate and to the American principle of checks and balances, Adams told the nation's highest tribunal that apportionment of Michigan Senate on a population basis is a philosophy that agrees "neither with history nor precedent."

"I am appalled," said Scholle—who is asking the court to unseat all 34 Senators and reapportion the districts to give Democratic control.

Knights of Columbus Make Plans for Annual St. Patrick's Day Dinner

A regular meeting of the Chelsea Knights of Columbus Tuesday evening, it was voted to discontinue sending individual meeting notices to each member. Meetings are scheduled regularly the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, beginning at 8 p.m. and general notice of the meetings is customarily included in St. Mary's church bulletin.

Announcement was made that the annual Knights of Columbus memorial service for deceased members will be held Tuesday evening, Jan. 31, with the Rev. Fr. Francis Maliszewski conducting the service.

Plans were discussed for the group's annual St. Patrick's Day dinner scheduled for Sunday, March 19, and announcement was made that 9 a.m. Jan. 30 is the date for the K. of C. Communion Sunday, followed by a breakfast in the school hall.

Other business at Tuesday's meeting included the decision to permit Boy Scouts of Chelsea to place a display in the front window of the K. of C. hall during the next regular meeting of the K. of C. Chelsea Council is scheduled for Feb. 14.

REPORT from WASHINGTON

The father who has been laid off his job and has exhausted his unemployment compensation, the young farm boy who, if he is to work, must have a job in town, the older miner who has seen his company close the pit—these are some of the people for whom the Area Redevelopment program is being developed by the Kennedy Administration.

While nation-wide unemployment has moved up to seven percent this month, there are cities and rural areas of our state and nation where chronic unemployment and underemployment have been over 10 percent and even as high as 20 percent.

Automation in the factory, mechanization on the farm, depletion of mineral resources, changes in buying habits of consumers—all have hurt these areas of high and continuing unemployment.

These depressed or "distressed" areas are not just clustered around major industrial centers such as Detroit. They include the rural and small town regions of our Upper Peninsula and northern Michigan—and there are some 500 counties in the United States where the low income and lack of job opportunities has been the pattern for many years.

Last December, President-elect Kennedy appointed a special Task Force on Area Redevelopment. It was instructed to work on plans to assist people in these economically distressed areas.

The recommendations made by the Task Force resulted in the Area Redevelopment Bill recently introduced in the Senate. I co-sponsored this bill. It is designed to help the unemployed, not only in the cities but in the small town and rural areas of Michigan and the other states.

Recommended special programs include:

- (1) Stepped-up vocational training and retraining opportunities for workers to gain new skills for new jobs with subsistence payments to workers undergoing retraining;

- (2) Special grants to survey and redevelop the economic potential of depressed regions. This would be especially important to the U.P.
- (3) Special grant and loan programs to assist local development groups prepare plant sites for new industry and provide necessary additional public facilities for the plant sites, such as roads, water and sewage facilities;

- (4) Immediate additional work opportunities through recreation site construction in our national forests. We have five national forests in Michigan and anyone who has visited them knows the need for more recreational facilities;
- (5) A sizeable expansion in our nation's mineral research programs, with special work on low-grade iron ores, such as those in the Lake Superior region;

(6) Agriculture conservation as a means of getting worthwhile work programs underway through the Soil Conservation Service. This would stress reforestation, stream bank stabilization, erosion control, drainage, and small watershed projects that could be done quickly with supplemental appropriations;

(7) As a long term measure, funds earmarked for permanent conservation practices providing maximum employment in distressed areas. Programs such as forestry on private land held by low-income farmers, and timber stand improvement would be especially helpful as additional funds are provided.

The people of Michigan, whether they live in the cities, the small towns or the rural counties, have a real stake in the new programs recommended in the report of the Task Force and proposed in Senate Bill, the Area Redevelopment Bill. These are programs for all the many areas of our country suffering from high unemployment. People must work to help themselves, of course, but under these new and special programs they know the government sees its responsibility to help.

Boy Scouts Preparing for Cold Camp

A "Klondike Derby" is being held this week-end at Bruin Lake Boy Scout camp.

Many years ago men raced by means of dogs and sledges across the frozen wastes of Alaska in search of gold. Scouting has capitalized on this theme and has developed the Klondike Derby as an activity for Boy Scouts and Explorers.

Patrols and Explorer units will have to be prepared with sledges as each "dog team" of 4-6 boys follows the directions of the "driver" (patrol leader or president) who guides them over a field course with the aid of a map that he will receive. The course will take them to various "cities," where practical problems involving basic scouting skills will be encountered. Each city will have a "Mayor" who will present the problem and act as judge. Depending upon how well the team works out its problems, it will be awarded a number of "gold nuggets." The final count of nuggets will determine the team's standing.

Since the specific problems are to be secret, only the title can be given at this time. At "Fairbanks" the teams will face a problem in compass; at "Polar Cove" a problem in measuring; at "Skagway" the first aid; "Kodiak," rescue; and at "Yukon Peak" a problem in signaling. "Capitol City" will be the start and finish of the course and will also be the main headquarters. Each troop and post is responsible for its own tentage, cook gear and food.

All participating units must be in camp by 10 a.m. Saturday and must have completed registration by that time.

Break camp is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. Sunday after an 8 a.m. presentation of awards.

Officials for the Klondike Derby project include Alfred Mayer of Chelsea, listed as territorial representative.

Mrs. Margaret Dietle's Retirement from U-M Honored at Party

Mrs. Margaret Dietle, whose retirement from employment at the University of Michigan became effective Dec. 31, 1960, was honored at a party Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dietle.

Present, in addition to members of her family, were the Rev. P. H. Grabowski, Mr. and Mrs. William Schmitt, Mrs. Cora Feldkamp, Mrs. LaRue Shaver and Mrs. John Dietle.

Mrs. Dietle had previously been guest of honor at a retirement dinner and another retirement party given by fellow employees of the University residence halls. Mrs. Dietle had been employed by the University for 19 years and at the time of her retirement was chief cook at Moshier-Jordan hall. She had been at Moshier-Jordan for eight years and prior to that at Besty Barbour house. Friends at the University presented her with several gifts at the retirement parties held at Ann Arbor.

A 100-bushel corn crop is equal to 120-bushels of barley, 200 of oats or 85 bushels of soybeans in total feed value, according to Michigan State University specialists. The 100-bushel crop is also equal to 4.4 tons of alfalfa-clover hay and 11.8 tons of good corn silage.

Attorney Named To Head Cancer Society Campaign

Loren W. Campbell of 8175 Ford Rd., Ypsilanti, has been named Washenaw county chairman for the 1961 Crusade of the American Cancer Society.

A campaign goal of $30,000 has been established for the drive, which will take place during the month of April.

Campbell, an Ann Arbor attorney, is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Chelsea Methodist Home and the Ann Arbor Senior Citizens Guild, the board of the YM-YWCA of Ann Arbor, and is a director of the Washenaw County Humane Society. He is a member and past president of the Ann Arbor Kiwanis Club, state appointed member and chairman of the Washenaw County Welfare Board, and a member of the Bureau of Community Services Committee on the Aging.

He holds two degrees from the University of Michigan (A.B., 1940, and LL.B., 1940) and also received a Bachelor of Divinity degree from Oberlin Graduate School. He was pastor of the Dixboro Methodist church for 10 years until beginning the practice of law.

Excess Property Auctioned by State Highway Dept.

Ann Arbor—Six parcels of State Highway Department surplus property were sold at public auction here recently for $19,500—almost three times the lowest acceptable price on the properties.

Five of the parcels sold were in Washenaw county and one was in Livingston county. Two parcels in Jackson county were withdrawn from the sale after review by the State Highway Department.

The largest sale was a 33.7 acre parcel at the northeast corner of US-23 Freeway and Northfield Church Rd. in Washenaw county. Successful bidder was Charles Botoro of Ann Arbor at $9,800. Lowest acceptable price set on the parcel was $2,500.

Other Washenaw county sales include:

Two acres on M-17, one-half mile west of Ann Arbor to Alice C. Navarra, Whitmore Lake, for $6,500. Minimum price on this parcel was $2,500.

She was also successful bidder at $400 for a vacant lot at the northwest corner of the US-23 Freeway and Barker rd. overpass near Whitmore Lake.

Ralph Lupi, Whitmore Lake, was successful bidder on two parcels—$490 for a vacant lot at the southwest corner of the US-23 Freeway and old US-23 and $100 for a small lot at the northwest corner of US-23 Freeway and Grove St. near Whitmore Lake.

Peter Sater, Brighton, was the successful bidder at $1,950 for 24 acres south of and adjacent to the Brighton-Farmington Freeway, about three miles east of Brighton in Livingston county. Its minimum price was $1,200.

Michigan ranks seventh in the production of milk in the nation. The state's 750,000 cows gave over 5.5 million pounds of milk last year.

SOME STUDENTS WONDER:

Why Study?

The students—crowded around the teacher's desk straining to see the open grade book and bombarded by the instructor with a multitude of frantic queries.

"How did I do these last six weeks?" "How many zeros do I have?" "What will my grade be for this marking period?"

The questioning was followed, of course, by fumbling through Fibonacci-like notebooks for the precious scraps and bits of homework that even though late might help repair the damage of adolescent forgetfulness.

But that time is well past now, mentally and chronologically. Exams are over and in the minds once crammed with facts and phobias about testing there is perhaps little but concern over the end result—the semester grade.

And how great that concern for some whose fate hangs upon a mere 1/2 of a point in their average. For they know that if they fail to achieve a particular letter on their report card they will have to sit through another 300 hours of their failure and this is their greatest fear.

Their concern is rarely centered upon the alphabetical evaluation of performance, for after all, what will an A, B, C, D, or E really mean in the future? Certainly after the brief 18 years of agony there is no longer the need for subjection to grading. The entire pigeon-holing process is abandoned—or is it?

The point being that there often appears to be a noticeable lack of concern over the loss of an opportunity to learn. The "why" or "failure" is rarely discussed about the low mark or average he has accumulated or over the fact that he might have deserved his grade through wasteful spending of class hours. He seems most disturbed about the fact that he will be called into another semester of the same kind of work—doing it if he doesn't somehow manage enough effort in the book for at least a passing grade.

For though it is true that grades do not make the man at least there seems to be a correlation between the effort honestly expended on grades and the ability to tackle problems, to use common sense and to develop good work habits.

The parallel is often faulty and understandably so when any rather rigid and hypothetical scale is applied to the widely disparate entity called man. Yet, isn't it true that by whatever scale you choose men and women are always ranked according to "best housewife," "bowler," "assemblyman," "good citizen," and "parent."

And if records could be produced, isn't it likely that there will be a correlation between what these people were when they were young and in the very important formative stage (the stage in which the attitudes and habits of adulthood are fixed) and their actual performance as "mature" personalities?

I think so, and the very seriousness of the too prevalent, lackadaisical attitude of some students strikes fear or ought to into the heart of any who are involved in the development of young adults. To skim through life with as little effort as possible is especially dangerous in an age of ferocious competition—competition that affects not just the single person or several persons involved. Mankind is responsible to mankind and with today's and tomorrow's mechanical advancements this draws the world's 250 billion souls, 249,999,999,999 plus 1, closer to facing this responsibility.

Competition in what? You might say just about every field that man has or will investigate, including peace.

"But this is too far removed from students and youngsters," some will say. "This is a lot of meaningless hot air that is beyond the student's understanding. Besides, a kid is only a kid once and after all if there is any real burden to be taken upon shoulders, that's an adult's job."

Yes, the seriousness of waste of anything—money, time, ambition—is often too much for a younger person to realize, but the fact remains that the same carefree, "excusable" behavior won't automatically stop when the "youngster" turns adult at 18, 20, or 25 years of age.

The same bad habits, lack of concern for learning those things which will help a young person handle his after-school life (the reason we have schools in the first place) will still persist.

If a student doesn't care about his career in school at this age, chances are that he will tackle his job and adulthood with the same lack of direction and purpose.

The end result blights mankind because waste is parasitic and drains from the energy of those people who care enough to use whatever they have inherited. Genuine waste of time (a non-responsive attitude toward whatever is happening around us) is a waste of life and it seems there is more "waste" in man than in any basket or barrel reserved for that purpose.

Students must learn to care about their opportunities, whatever they are and whenever they occur, for their lives, the love of nations, like the gradebook, will reflect the amount of energy they put into THE COURSE.

Distinguished Service Award Goes to 3 at Farmers' Week

Plans are complete for Michigan State University's annual open-house to Michigan agriculture—Farmers' Week—and MSU officials hope the 5-day event Jan. 30-February 3 will prove as big and as valuable as ever to Michigan farmers and many city people who annually attend.

Highlight of the Farmer's Week this year may well be the Wednesday afternoon forum in Jenison Fieldhouse at which the five former secretaries of agriculture give their views on "Agriculture in an Uneasy World," beginning at 1:30 p.m.

After each has spoken, a panel will question the group. Panel members are to be Milton Grinnell, editor of the Michigan Farmer, East Lansing; Carroll Street, editor of the Farm Journal, Philadelphia; Loren Both, editorial page editor, Des Moines (Iowa) Register-Tribune, and Dale Hathaway, MSU Department of Agricultural Economics.

Admission is free to the forum. The five secretaries will be among the more than 230 persons from on and off campus who will talk at 75 programs being presented to cover in detail all phases of Michigan agriculture.

In addition, about 30 farm groups will meet on the campus during Farmers' Week—many to select officers for the coming year. Distinguished service awards are to be presented Tuesday at 1:45 p.m. in the University Auditorium to Glenn Lake, North Branch; Veril Baldwin, Stockbridge, and Thomas F. Schweigert, Potoskey.

Special week-long exhibits will be open to visitors in many campus

the real price of a quart of milk?

In terms of the average amount of work required to buy a quart of milk, the "price" is 70% less today than it was 45 years ago.

The real price of a quart of milk is measured by the amount of work—not the amount of money—required to obtain it.

In 1914, for example, the average hourly wage earner worked 22.9 minutes to earn the money to buy a quart of milk. (See table.) Today's average wage earner works only 6.8 minutes to earn enough money to buy a quart of milk.

In terms of the work required to obtain it, the same quart of milk "costs" 70% less today than it did 45 years ago.

Bargains like this are few and far between.

"NUMBER, PLEASE?" . . . According to our best information, this famous phrase originated in Chicago, way back in 1895. Before this, telephone operators responded with such phrases as: "What do you want?", "Hello", "Number?", and "What number?". The whole Bell System adopted the words in 1904—so you can see that our present operators are following a long tradition of courteous service.

SOMETHING NEW ON THE DIAL of most telephones being installed these days is an Area Code. The Area Code is part of your telephone "address," indicating your section of the country. Printed on the dial, it's easy to give your Area Code to persons in other parts of the country who call you. If they use the Area Code when calling you, their calls will go through faster, whether dialed direct or put through by an operator. Your Area Code is used only for calls from distant places—never on local calls, or calls to phones with the same Area Code.

Transportation Needed for Blind Girl To Attend Special Classes in Ypsilanti

George Bergman, counselor for Chelsea schools, is issuing an appeal for assistance from individuals or organizations in the Chelsea area in an effort to provide transportation to and from special classes in Ypsilanti for an elementary school-age girl who is blind.

The "young lady" is a blind girl who qualifies for early elementary education. She needs to be educated and trained in a specially equipped class by a qualified teacher. She offers the potential of learning more successfully than an average child with similar handicap. The Ypsilanti schools have such a special program in Washtenaw county—just "made to order" for the little girl and they are willing to take her into the program.

The Chelsea School District, however, has no provisions nor funds for transportation, except for the possibility of receiving state reimbursement up to $80.

Any person or organization interested or willing to assist or give information about possible daily transportation to and from Ypsilanti (on school days) is invited to contact Charles S. Cameron, superintendent, or George Bergman, counselor, by calling GR 5-3461.

Methodists To Participate in 'Witness for Christ' Program

Methodists of the Chelsea area will participate in three special activities as part of the "Witness for Christ" program, being carried on in Michigan congregations, Feb. 5-12. According to the Rev. S. D. Kinde, pastor of the First Methodist church, the witness mission is designed to strengthen local churches in their communities.

Youth of the area's Methodist congregations will attend a District Youth Rally in Ann Arbor, Saturday evening, Feb. 4. The program, designed as a "kick-off" for the mission, will include an address by Dr. Hoover Rupert of the First Methodist church, Ann Arbor.

Methodist pastors in the area will attend a four-day School of Instruction in Ann Arbor, West Side Methodist church on Feb. 9, 10, 11, and 12.

The Rev. John Tennant, of the First Methodist church, Albion, will have charge of the instruction. A public mass meeting of youth and adults will be held Sunday afternoon, Feb. 12, at Ann Arbor. The speaker for the rally will be Dr. C. R. Armstrong of Indianapolis, Ind.

The three special activities will be in addition to evangelistic services Feb. 5-9 in this area. Guest ministers from the Michigan Conference are to assist local ministers in these services and to train teams of laymen who will call at homes of the community.

Scout Leaders Attend District Planning Session

A number of Chelsea volunteers in Cub Scout and Boy Scout work attended a Huron Trails District roundtable meeting Thursday evening at the First Methodist church, Ann Arbor.

Activities at the meeting included the Washington Indian Dancers group, a film strip on railroading which is to be the Cub Scout program theme for March; and a question and answer period.

Announcements were also made pertaining to a "Pow Wow" scheduled for Jan. 28 at Ann Arbor High school. For Cub Scouting, it was stated at the roundtable discussion, the topic for April is to be "Air Adventure" and for May, "Indian Country."

Cub Pack No. 125 was represented at the meeting by Mrs. Curtis Farley, Mrs. George Marshall, Mrs. Richard Hoelzer, Mrs. Richard Smith, Maynard Poertner, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gardner, Dan Ewald, Malcolm Novoss, John Potts, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Parks, and Ralph Frisch who is the institutional representative for the Cub Scout sponsoring organization, the Chelsea Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Others who attended the meeting from this area included Scout Representative Douglas Lange, Scoutmaster Robert Foye and Webelos Den Chief Donald Dickelmann of Troop 25.

D. Prochnow Promoted by Ann Arbor Trust

Derwood D. Prochnow of 353 Washington St. is one of three new appointees as assistant vice-presidents of the Ann Arbor Trust Company.

Announcement of the promotions was made by Earl H. Cress, the company president.

Prochnow was promoted from his former position as property manager in the Real Estate Division of the Trust company. He joined Ann Arbor Trust Co. in 1952 after operating Prochnow's Market, now Steeb's Market, at Ann Arbor for 10 years.

He is a member of the Ann Arbor Board of Realtors and is active in the Elks and in the "Dads" organization of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Other assistant vice-president appointments are Gerald V. Alcock and George H. Cress, both of Ann Arbor.

Thomas L. Dickinson of Ann Arbor, a former assistant vice-president, was promoted to the position of trust officer.

Harold Cravens Enjoy Close-up View of Inaugural Ceremonies

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cravens and their grandson, Gary Craven, returned Sunday night from Washington, D. C., where they had been the guest of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Craven, for the inaugural ceremonies.

Their son is a warrant officer for the U. S. Coast Guard, his office being located midway between the Capitol and the reviewing stand at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and E street. The Cravens had a warm, comfortable "ingside" spot from which to watch the procession as outgoing President Eisenhower arrived with the new president and vice-president, John F. Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson.

They remained to watch the inaugural parade which passed directly in front of the office. A public address system kept them in touch with the entire proceedings.

The Cravens made the trip by automobile, arriving in Washington Wednesday evening and starting the return trip early Sunday.

Travel on Michigan highways has more than doubled during the last 15 years, from 16 billion vehicle miles in 1946 to an estimated 32.8 billion miles in 1960.

Diane Worden Is Guest At Annual Meeting of Mineralogical Society

Diane Worden, who won third prize in a 1960 national essay contest sponsored by the American Lapidary and Mineralogical Society, was guest of honor at the annual dinner meeting of the Central Michigan branch of the society, held Thursday evening in the cafeteria of the C. W. Otto Junior High school at Lansing.

Her mother, Mrs. Wilber Worden, was also a guest at the dinner. Approximately 250 mineralogists and guests attended the dinner and an open house held later at the home of the retiring president of the group, Clarence Kirkby.

The invitation to attend the affair was extended by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bennett of Okemos, on behalf of the society.

At the Kirkby home, the guests were given an opportunity to view a large display of rocks and Diane was given a bag of stones and a large piece of salt crystal to add to her own collection.

Her prize-winning essay was based on reasons why she was interested in collecting rock specimens.

A newspaper, like a friend, is missed when not available.

DIMES BOARD FOR POLIO—Don Siegmund is shown beside the large board with "The New March of Dimes" spelled out in dimes—687, to be exact, for a total of $68.70—which patrons of the Wolverine Tavern had contributed in the first 11 days of the current campaign. The board was removed Saturday and another put in its place. Siegmund and Carl Dredge are co-owners of the tavern.

Your Social Security

Disability Benefits . . .

Five full years of work covered by social security is enough to qualify a severely disabled worker for cash disability benefits. Robert A. Kehoe, manager of the local social security office, reminded workers and their families.

"The five years of work must be earned in the 10-year period just preceding the onset of the disability, and the disability itself must be of at least six months duration and of sufficient severity that the insured worker is unable to do any kind of substantial work."

Until September of this year, no disability benefits could be paid to the disabled worker before his 50th birthday, but with the enactment of the 1960 amendments this age limit has been removed. Disability benefits for workers under 50 years of age who meet the requirements can begin with the month of November.

Before the enactment of the 1960 amendments, many disabled workers under 50 years of age had taken advantage of a provision to "freeze" their social security records to protect their future benefit rights. These persons will not need to furnish additional evidence of disability, but do need to file an application. Most of them already have received a letter giving them this information.

Kehoe urges all disabled workers who believe they are eligible under the new law to inquire at the local office at 114 South 4th Ave. promptly if they have not already done so. He also points out that disability benefits are not paid in addition to old-age insurance benefits. Once a worker has reached age 65, disability benefits can no longer be paid. At that age the persons receive old-age insurance benefits.

Warm the Room

If no one likes to sit in the basement recreation room, take a good look at the furnishings. Concrete walls and floors, plastic covered furniture and cast-offs from upstairs can create a cold, uninviting atmosphere. Home economists suggest bright, sturdy cotton fabrics for covers, paint for old furniture and an inexpensive area rug can give the room a warm, friendly feeling.

Last Week's Mystery Farm Proves To Be Repeat of Walter Huehl Farm on US-12

Mystery Farm No. 134 proved to be a front view of the Huehl farm at 10876 US-12, east of Chelsea. Even the aerial photograph didn't recognize it as a farm he had photographed before.

Former owners included Governor Alpheus Phelps, from whom the Finkbeiners bought the place, and Civil War General George Williams who is believed to have built the house and other farm buildings.

Among those who called The Standard office soon after publication of The Standard last week to identify the farm are Paul Rothfuss, Ann Heydlauff, Blawie Elevator men, Mrs. Jerald Heydlauff and the Herbert Hinderers.

NEW WEAPON—A night watchman used his index finger to capture a would-be burglar. Jesus Gonzales, a 60-year-old dry-cleaning plant watchman, spotted an intruder slipping through a window.

He slipped up behind the intruder, jabbed a finger in his back, and told him to freeze. The man froze until police arrived.

GIVE IT TIME—A cake in the freezer needs some time to thaw before serving. Home economists say a two-layer, nine-inch cake thaws in about two hours at room temperature.

in Michigan's apportionment will go to the counties," Mackie said.

Mackie said the increase in secondary funds for Michigan was a result of the state's population increase between 1950 and 1960.

Wayne county will receive

$609,804, about $5,000 less than it received last year, Mackie said.

This is the result of a general population shift in Michigan during the last 10 years, he said. All 82 other counties will receive increased apportionments ranging from a few dollars to nearly $50,000.

Each county road commission must match the federal funds on a 50-50 basis. The money is allocated to the counties on the basis of land area, population and road mileage.

Under this allocation Washtenaw county will receive $82,870 and

Jackson county $75,405.

All Latin classes are taking advantage of the new language laboratory. At a later date the French classes will also do so. The school acquired the laboratory through the National Defense Education Act. It cost $5,000 with the State paying for half of it. It was bought from the Howard & Smith Co., which in the last year alone has sold the language laboratory to over more than 100 schools in Michigan alone.

The equipment consists of 13 sound-proof booths, a microphone and a set of ear phones. The microphones and ear phones are activated so that the student can hear himself. There is also an intercom set up where by the instructor has the ability to listen and speak with the student individually.

Chelsea's Latin instructor, Mr. Alfred Smith, has already made up about 12 tapes which are placed at the disposal of the students.

The main purpose of the laboratory is to motivate the students and give the students an opportunity to learn the language by hearing it spoken rather than the present method. It also makes the course more interesting and appealing to the student.

Junior English classes have been asked to keep a Journal for the rest of the semester along with the usual assignments.

All classes held meetings Monday, Jan. 23 to discuss future problems.

The Juniors discussed their upcoming play to be held in April.

and the Prom which is planned late in May.

The Seniors made some final plans for the trip and were awarded for their caps and gown.

On Friday, Jan. 20, the entire student body watched the inauguration of President Kennedy and Vice-President Johnson on the televisions in the Auditorium.
