

C. McLaughlin Resigns Road Commission Post

Clenard O. McLaughlin of Dexter, submitted his resignation Wednesday as a member of the Washtenaw County Road Commission. His resignation was accepted by the Board of Supervisors, which will appoint a successor at its meeting in April.

McLaughlin had begun a six-year term on the three-man commission in January. He had been on the commission for four years, having been appointed to fill an unexpired term.

McLaughlin resigned because he plans to undertake a housing development in Brazil and will be away from the county for long periods of time.

BOOKS FOR CASSIDY LAKE SCHOOL—Edward Revis, (left) recreational director at the Cassidy Lake Technical school, discusses a good book with Alden Wakevainen of the State Library's consultant division during a recent visit to the State Library in Lansing. Also interested readers are school librarians Jerome Meriwether (right) and Richard Makin. The group from Cassidy Lake were in Lansing to select 350 books for loan to the institution. The new books, chiefly non-fiction, including many classics, are on loan for a six-month period, after which they will be returned to the State Library and another selection of books will be made. The book loan is part of the State Library's institutional book loan program. More than 10,000 books are loaned annually to Michigan institutions throughout the state.

Council Briefs

The Rev. S. D. Kinde of the Methodist church, served as chaplain for the Mar. 21 Council meeting, opening the meeting with a prayer that the Council be given "wisdom to lead our community into progress."

Two new committees added: "Planning" to deal with expansion of the village area and facilities and "Industrial Promotion for Chelsea" which is to work closely with other interested groups and individuals to further development of Chelsea. On the planning committee are Stephen Clark and Donald Baldwin; on industrial development, Harvey Lixey and William Chandler.

In discussing industrial development and related facts and figures it was brought out that six of the larger industries in Chelsea are accounting for 40 per cent of the tax income of the village—a fact which should be of interest to everyone in the community. (An additional reason for citizens to appreciate industry's contribution to the well being of the entire area. If industry's share of tax had to be absorbed by other business and residents—a real tax burden would result. In some communities individuals and organizations have taken particular pains to express appreciation directly to industries or in a "letter to the editor" of their paper. Has this been done by anyone in Chelsea?)

Council granted permission providing that the High school take responsibility for conducting and chaperoning the events.

Low bid of Spaulding Chevrolet Sales accepted for a 3-ton truck for use of Chelsea Electric and Water Department. Bid: $1,647.00. Palmer Ford Sales bid submitted for $1,741.47.

Note: Official minutes of the Mar. 21 meeting will be published in two weeks after they have been read and approved at the Apr. 4 Council meeting. Residents of the Village are welcome to attend any of the Council meetings which are held the first and third Tuesday of each month in the Council room on the second floor of the Municipal building. Meetings begin at 8 p.m.

'The Victors' Tops Russian Popularity List for U-M Band

By Frederick E. Monerhoff
Business Manager
U. of M. Symphony Band

Minsk, Russia—At the end of its third week in Russia, the University of Michigan Symphony Band has traveled more than 7,000 miles and played to audiences totaling well over 40,000.

Byron Pearson, of Chelsea, who plays the cornet, and George Heller, of Dexter, a tuba player, are with the band.

Michigan's famed marching song, "The Victors," continues to top the Russian popularity poll. The Band sings the words as they play, while the audience claps in tempo during the final part.

The Band has some long train rides ahead as it continues its tour of the Soviet Union as part of a 25,000 mile cultural exchange trip through the USSR and the Near East.

All told, the 94 students and a staff of 10 will spend some 183 hours or five and one-half days aboard trains traveling to eight cities. This is in addition to the two nine-hour rail trips they already have made between Moscow and Leningrad.

On March 19, the Band arrived in Minsk after a 12-hour journey. On Wednesday (Mar. 15) we move to Kiev for five concerts, and Mar. 21 we are scheduled to arrive in Odessa, both 15 and one-half hour runs. Mar. 26 it's Karkov, after 24 hours and 41 minutes on board. Then it's on to Sakhum, a resort town, on Mar. 30, the longest rail trip of all—29 hours. Thillisi is next on April 4 after a mere 10-hour jaunt. Then Erevan, April 9—18 hours—and Baku, April 13—13 hours.

The group returns to Moscow by air April 15 and the next day flies to Cairo.

The band's eight-week stay in the Soviet Union will have been the longest sojourn in that country of any of the cultural exchange groups. Undoubtedly, the group also will set a record for train travel.

The group is traveling under auspices of the U. S. Department of State, with expenses covered by the President's Special International Program for Cultural Presentations.

New Outlets Developed for State Foods

Wider markets for at least two Michigan farm products were realized early in February with movement of about 50 cars of onions to Europe and shipment of apples to California, according to G. S. McIntyre, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Shipment of both products carried certificates of Federal-State Inspection service, and in the case of the apples there was an accompanying certification of the Michigan Department of Agriculture that the fruit complied with California's bureau of plant quarantine standards. Under those standards only certified controlled atmosphere (C/A) storage apples are eligible.

The onions were being moved to New York for export to the Netherlands, Germany, and Sweden. The apples were mainly of the McIntosh variety with some Jonathans included. They were fancy grade and were destined for the Los Angeles area where total apple unloads approximate 5,000 carloads a year.

For the past 55 years no apples from the eastern part of the country could enter California legally because of that state's plant quarantine regulations. In early 1960 this was modified to permit legal entry of controlled atmosphere stored apples that met exacting standards of the state of origin including C/A storage inspection and licensing.

Michigan C/A regulations went into effect early in 1960. The first apples from only eastern state to enter California since 1925 drew national attention during Michigan Week last year when Michigan's agricultural queens presented three boxes of C/A Jonathan apples from South Lyon to the mayor of Los Angeles at a press interview.

Jaycees Push For Con-Con Proposal

Chelsea Jaycees, in line with the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce policy, is supporting a con-con, the constitutional convention question which is one of the issues to be voted on at the April 3 election.

The local group, as part of its all-out effort in support of the proposal, has prepared a fact sheet prepared by the coordinating committee headed by George Romney as chairman.

Their first project is to urge everyone to vote on the con-con question (Proposal No. 1) on the April 3 ballot, pointing out that if the proposal is not approved, a constitutional convention proposal will not be automatically on the ballot for another 16 years. The call for a convention on the April ballot follows the "yes" vote on Proposal 3 of the Nov. 8 election.

Answering the question "are constitutions confusing?" the Jaycees give the following answer: "Michigan has had three constitutions. As a matter of fact, within a 73-year period, (1835-1908) Michigan wrote five constitutions. The voters decided "yes" on three (1835, 1860, 1908) and "no" on two (1867, 1878). Obviously, people did not feel then that deciding on a new constitution would be too "confusing" and "difficult" for the voters to understand.

"Our present detailed constitution, with 69 amendments is difficult and confusing. In a democratic government, by, or for the people, the people should be able to understand the basic law by which they are governed. A constitution, ideally, should be a simple, easily understood framework for government. A constitutional convention, which has been called the 'direct voice' of the people in constitutional revision, is the best method of getting such a constitution."

Moose Continue Battle Against Invading Trains

Ann Arbor—The moose may not be the smartest animal in the world, but it's hard not to admire his gallant (and foolhardy) courage.

For the past hundred years or so the Maine moose population has fought a brave but losing battle against the railroads, reports Karl F. Lagler, chairman of the University of Michigan Department of Fisheries and regular commentator on "Conservation Report," broadcast by the University Broadcasting Service (WUOM).

The railroads, Lagler relates, "transgress upon the forest fastnesses that the moose considers to be his own by prior right. Knowing nothing of evasive action, the moose literally meets the invasion head-on."

Whenever a pugnacious bull moose climbs squarely into the middle of the railroad bed and lowers his head, the result is a resounding crash that rudely shatters the forest stillness.

"No moose in history has won a decision in these jousts," Lagler admits, "But the railroads have not come off unscathed. Many a locomotive has been battered, and the nerves of trainmen have been frayed."

"Recently two Maine bull-moose tried again to accomplish what hundreds of others have failed to do. They squared off with an on-rushing locomotive—with predictable results."

"Maine moose may be brave," Lagler concludes, "but records show that on occasion Michigan deer have been just as brave."

Bradbury-Benedict Granted Exclusive Name for Cattle

The names of all registered Holstein cattle bred by Keith Bradbury & Graham A. Benedict, Dexter, will henceforth begin with the words "Rolling-Rock."

Exclusive use of this prefix name has been granted by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. It will become a permanent part of official breed records at the organization's national headquarters in Brattleboro, Vt.

More than 30,000 Holstein dairy-men are currently using similarly distinctive prefixes in naming their home-bred cattle. The total is growing at the rate of 1,500 annually.

Since the average Holstein breeder derives 15 percent of his income from sales of registered breeding stock, the plan, which literally "trademarks" each animal throughout its lifetime, has unique advertising value.

Girl Scout Troops who sang at the program included Troop 52 in addition to Troops 51 and 496, as previously announced.

Kathryn Kinde served as master of ceremonies.

A number of Girl Scouts and mothers attended a Junior-Senior Girl Scout banquet at Ann Arbor Wednesday, March 15.

A special guest was Albert Warnhoff of Ann Arbor, commonly referred to as Ann Arbor's "Santa Claus" because of his activities through the years, making and presenting toys to children.

He presented the Girl Scouts with a bird-feeder and a foot-stool he had made, saying they would be useful at Girl Scouts' Hilltop Lodge, Ann Arbor. Warnhoff commended the Girl Scouts of the Ann Arbor area saying they had helped him in many ways with his work and he could "always depend on them" when he needed help.

Warnhoff was seated as an honor guest at the table reserved for Girl Scout Troop 48.

The evening's speaker, Mrs. Preston Sloan of Ann Arbor, told about her work as a Girl Scout leader in the early days of Girl Scouting. She also spoke of her interest in the Save-the-Children Federation.

MSU Band Concert...

The band's appearance here is scheduled for 2 p.m., Friday, to present a concert in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

In an effort to cover expenses incurred in presenting the concert tickets will be sold at the door.

All area residents are invited to attend.

One of the highlights of the program will be the colorful and exciting "Stars and Stripes Ballet Suite," by the famed American composer John Philip Sousa. Another rousing number favored by the band is "The Crown Imperial March," by Walton.

Designed to set toes a-tapping are a number of selections by contemporary American authors, including "Hollywood Jubilee," a medley of light opera tunes, arranged by Nacio H. Brown.

Among other numbers to be played here are "Siegfried Rhine Journey" from "Götterdämmerung" by Richard Wagner, and such selections from the brilliant pen of Franz Liszt as the "Second Hungarian Rhapsody."

The Cap and Gown Series is in its eighth year of operation. The Men's Glee Club, State Singers, Spartan Bell Ringers, Promenaders and Brass Ensemble are among the 14 student and faculty groups being offered throughout the state under this program.

Dr. Lloyd C. Ferguson, dean of the College of Science and Arts, points out that "The Cap and Gown Series not only provides

Educational Development Tests Given

Every chair (85 seats) in the Senior High School Library was occupied during every school hour on Monday and Tuesday, Mar. 20-21. The library served as a study hall while the 9th grade students took the Iowa Tests of Educational Development in the Cafeteria which normally is the Study Hall.

George Bergman, Director of Guidance, Chelsea School District said that 123 students took the achievement test battery.

The test series, published by Science Research Associates of Chicago, includes several individual tests: Understanding of Basic Social Concepts; General Background in the Natural Sciences; Correctness and Appropriateness of Expression; Ability To Do Quantitative Thinking; Interpretation—Social Studies; Interpretation—Natural Sciences; Interpretation—Literature; General Vocabulary; and Use of Sources of Information.

This is the third year in which the Iowa Tests have been given. Students now in the 10th and 11th grades, who attended Chelsea in their 9th grade, have test results in their school files.

Results of the Iowa Tests given on Mar. 20-21 will be available in the Guidance Director's office in May. Parents are invited to make an appointment to see Bergman to discuss educational planning for their children. Test scores will be mailed to individual students. Parents will receive the test scores and a brief description of their meaning. Students from the Senior High School who served as helpers during the testing included Donna Sherman, Joan Weinke, David Kenhart, Matt Williams, Kathryn Kinde, Ruth Sexton and Barbara Appel.

The school also plans evening pre-high school orientation meetings, primarily for 8th grade students and their parents in which the four-year alternate general and pre-college course sequences will be dealt with.

JOB ACTION—PRODDING
President Kennedy, hitting back at those who contend there is no recession, is pumping more Federal money into the economy to combat "the very serious problem of unemployment."

He said the country is "most concerned about the very serious problem of unemployment." There are more than 5,500,000 Americans who want work and can't find a job.

Quite a bit of indignation is caused by people having to eat their words.

CHS Library Can Use Your Periodicals

The Senior High School Library is getting a great increase in calls for individual issues of magazines containing information on subjects studied in classes.

Both college preparatory and non-college preparatory students are coming to ask for collateral reading material other than the standard encyclopedias.

Demand for information is created in all classes. Last week, however, calls were heaviest from students in biology, government, history, home economics, and sociology. Topics ranged from world figures to scientific terms.

Requests included information on Hitler, Castro, juvenile delinquency, tuberculosis, personal budgets, weather insurance, urban renewal, teen-age African nations, Communism, UN, Federal Aid to Education, current Broadway shows, Easter legends, reviews of books on best-seller lists, President Kennedy's legislative program, and agricultural engineering.

The Senior High School Library provides a basic list of periodicals for reference and the Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature, a finding list for magazine topics.

However, duplicate copies of periodicals would prove very useful to the students. Miss Joan Wiese, School Librarian, invites people in the community to donate their used copies of certain magazines.

Anyone who has magazines in a technical, scientific or current news category they might wish to donate may deliver them directly to the Senior High School Library or call Miss Wiese, the librarian, at the school. If in doubt as to whether the magazines are suitable for this purpose, would-be donors should contact Miss Wiese.

Every person should be willing to listen to others—at least as much as he talks.

$5.7 BILLION SCHOOL PLAN
President Kennedy proposed a $5,700,000,000 aid-to-education program designed to set "a new standard of excellence in education" available "to all who are willing and able to pursue it."
No funds were recommended for constructing church schools or paying church school teachers' salaries. But no distinction was made between public and private institutions regarding college scholarships and loans to colleges.

Fish Shanties Must Be Removed From All Lakes

Ice conditions are rapidly becoming unsafe throughout Michigan's lower peninsula, especially in the southern part of the state. The Conservation Department has issued a warning to all anglers.

Fishermen in the southern part of the state should have already completed their spring moving chores.

Along with removing shanties, fishermen are asked to pick up cans, bottles, and other litter to help lead the way toward accident-free fun for bathers this summer.

What has become of the old-fashioned lad who used to keep the family car clean?

Anglers can also expect to make an early exit from their favorite lakes if mild weather continues.

To avoid "treading on thin ice" in more ways than one, fishermen are urged to remove their shanties before conditions become unsafe. Failure to do so may result in a $50 fine and/or 30 days in jail.

The next Dexter Blood Bank clinic date was announced to be May 11.

The group accepted the invitation from the Jerusalem Farm Bureau Group to see the film on Communism at the Lima Township Hall on May 25 at 8:30 p.m. sharp. Each couple is to bring sandwiches or cookies.

Raymond Schaefer led the discussion on "The Issues on the Ballot in the April Election."

The next meeting will be on April 20 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sias on Steinbach Rd.

OLDER ADULT FELLOWSHIP

Older adults of the Methodist church held a regular monthly meeting in the church social center Saturday afternoon preceded by a noon pot-luck dinner.

Shamrocks, yellow candles and yellow snapdragons combined to form effective table decorations. Adding to the attractiveness of the table setting was a birthday cake decorated with shamrocks and green candles in observance of March birthdays of three members. Those whose birthdays were observed are the Rev. S. D. Kinde which occurs today (Thursday), Mrs. Charles Koenig and Mrs. John Kilmer.

A brief devotional service was presented by Mrs. Harry Litteral and Mrs. Loring Bates gave a reading entitled "At 65."

Several hymns were sung under the leadership of Mrs. D. L. Gadbary with Mrs. Philip Broesamle at the piano.

The entertainment feature during the afternoon was shuffleboard.

It was announced that the next meeting, on April 15, is to be a guest day.

Hostesses for Saturday's meeting were Mrs. Winifred Coffron, Mrs. Harry Prudden, Mrs. John Kilmer and Mrs. David Mohlock.

St. Patrick's Day Theme Used at Birthday Party

Methodist Home residents whose birthdays occur in March were honored at a joint observance during the noon dinner hour on Tuesday.

It was a St. Patrick's Day party for which Mrs. George Muehlhoff of Ann Arbor, made one of her special appearances. Costumed in keeping with the Irish theme, she played familiar Irish songs and tunes on her accordion. The program assembly took place in the lounge.

In the dining room the birthday table was decorated with shamrock plants and miniature harps. The St. Patrick's theme was further carried out in the decorations of a two-tiered birthday cake. A large "shamrock" formed of green colored icing, topped the cake.

Even the ice cream was tinted green and flavored with mint.

Among the group whose birthdays occur this month are five whose ages range from 90 to 94 years—Mrs. Rebecca Osborne, formerly of Royal Oak, 94 on Mar. 4; William Mooney, who came here from Detroit, 91 on Mar. 6; Mrs. Emma Seibert who had lived in Flint, 91 on Mar. 10; Miss Susan Sparling, formerly of Royal Oak, 90 on Mar. 20; and Mrs. Esther Girling, who came from Highland Park and will observe her 91st birthday Mar. 28.

Others whose birthdays were observed at Tuesday's party are Mrs. Anna Butler, Samuel Youngblood, Mrs. Ethel Williams, Mrs. Fannie Chambers, Mrs. Carrie Blackmore, Mrs. Harriet Richards, Mrs. Emma Jensen and Mrs. Lavina Conklin.

NORTH LAKE EXTENSION CLUB

If the 18 members and two guests of the North Lake Extension Club are not calorie conscious, no blame can be given to Mrs. Lee Ferguson and Mrs. Grover Colby, Jr., who so ably presented the topic of the day, "Low Calorie Meals."

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Reuben Lindemann, Wednesday, Mar. 15. A low calorie salad dressing as well as dessert were served at the noon luncheon.

During the business meeting, plans for the District Spring Party, April 20, at St. Andrew's church hall, Dexter, were announced and as a climax to the discussion of some of the issues of the forthcoming election, all present were urged to exercise their privilege and duty of voting.

Under the direction of Mrs. Albert Ruhlig, an attractive "Easter Tree" was completed and will be given to Colonial Manor Nursing Home in Chelsea for use during the Easter Season.

Area Girl Scout Summer Camp Schedule Announced

The 1961 Girl Scout camping schedule for the Chelsea area was announced this week by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council. Saturday was observed as "Out-of-doors Day" of National Girl Scout Week across the nation by more than 3 1/2 million scouts and adult leaders.

There will be four established camping sessions of two weeks each for Intermediate and Senior Scouts at Cedar Lake, west of Chelsea, from mid-June to mid-August. Day-camping for Brownie and Intermediate scouts will be held at Camp Newkirk and Hilltop Lodge in June and July.

"Primitive" camping experience will be available to older Intermediate (Pioneer Adventure) and Senior (Senior Sojourn) scouts at the newly-acquired Huron Valley Girl Scout Council campsite on Hogan Rd., near Howell.

Senior scouts are also eligible for a canoe trip on the Au Sable River, an eight-day camping excursion (Gypsy Trip) to the northern Lower Peninsula and Upper Peninsula, and a two-week camping trip (Heritage Caravan) through Canada, New England and the Adirondacks, including sight-seeing trips to Boston and the United Nations.

Health examinations are necessary for all camp sessions and excursion except day-camp. Medical personnel will be available on call at all camps.

Registration for Cedar Lake camp sessions begins May 1. Applications postmarked prior to May 1 will be returned. Day-camp registration will start April 1 and will continue to May 1 or until filled. Senior scout programs have varying registration dates.

Cedar Lake sessions are scheduled to begin June 25 and end Aug. 18. The cost is $42.50 for each girl for the two-week session. Special programs for 8th graders and older have been designed to include a canoe trip, backpack hike, and a Junior Life-saving course. The latter will be held in the final two-week period only.

Cedar Lake camp consists of a main lodge and dining room, a craft house, and shower and bath house. Twenty-four girls of the same age will live in cabin units with three counselors. Waterfront activities are under the supervision of an American Red Cross Safety Instructor and are in accordance with Girl Scout Standards of one Senior Life Saver for every 10 swimmers.

There will also be two three-day "troop-camping" sessions at Cedar Lake the week of June 19. Registration opens April 1 and closes May 1 for these group outings.

A booklet titled "Let's Go Camping with the Girl Scouts, 1961" contains registration forms along with additional information regarding refunds, health examinations, and certain specialized activities such as Counselor-in-training and Program Aide training. Copies are available through Troop Leaders and at the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council office at 201 N. Washington St., Ypsilanti.

Only 56 cases of paralytic polio reported in Michigan in 1960 was an all-time low for the state, according to the Michigan Department of Health. The previous low was in 1957 when 121 cases were reported.

Reports Available on Cattle Disease Fight

Two concise progress reports covering 1960 activity that are of interest to the owners of 1,701,000 cattle in the state are available on request from the Michigan Department of Agriculture at Lansing.

One is the Michigan Bovine Tuberculosis Eradication Program. The other is the Michigan Brucellosis Program Report. The cattle diseases covered have cost herd owners millions of dollars over the years.

Both reports outline the problems faced by the Federal-State officials operating on the two eradication programs and the results attained last year in stamping out these costly cattle diseases. Eradication is the goal, and steps being taken toward this objective are outlined.

MICHIGAN IS MARKETS

Markets are of vital importance to industry. Ready with the answer to this need are Michigan's large markets and the nearby markets throughout the midwest. These combined potentials are important advantages no industry can afford to overlook.

The facts speak plainly. In Michigan are centralized industrial markets and almost eight million consumers. Personal incomes exceed the national average. These factors assure industry's future growth in Michigan.

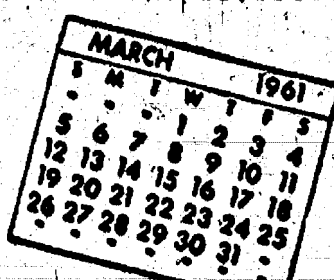

As for Michigan's regional market, one-fourth of the nation's population and 30 percent of the country's industry are within overnight delivery range of Michigan plants. And now the St. Lawrence Seaway has brought world markets closer to Michigan.

Help carry Michigan's message to the nation. Clip this ad and mail it to someone in another state with your own comment. Let's talk up Michigan and its advantages for industry. Together, we can assure a greater future for all of us.

This ad is one of a series published as a public service by this newspaper in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

MYSTERY FARM No. 142—The George Blalock home at 3363 Sylvan Rd., proved a real mystery to Chelsea area residents. Elmer Lehman, 1960, Lehman Rd., was the only person to cor-

George Blalock Farm Is Mystery To Everyone But Elmer Lehman

When the 142nd in the current series of "mystery farm" photos appeared in the Mar. 10 issue of the Standard, it went unidentified by everyone except Elmer Lehman. He recognized it as his family's farm at 3363 Sylvan Rd., now owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Blalock. Lehman's present home is at 1801 Lehman Rd.

The Blalock farm is located at the corner of Lehman and Sylvan roads and was acquired by the family in the 1860's, remaining in possession of the family until 1951 when the Blalocks purchased it.

Lehman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lehman lived in the house shown in the photo and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lehman resided in a small, two-story house which was on the farm with his parents until after he graduated from Manchester High school. He is now married and lives in Arizona.

The Blalocks have another son, Donald, who lives in Chelsea, and two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Ruby of Ypsilanti and Mrs. Kenneth Wentworth of Montague. They have 19 grandchildren.

Primarily a dairy farm, Blalock has no cows at present.

The dairy barn is located across the road from the other buildings and does not appear in the picture.

It's pretty hard to convince the kids that the shortage of teachers is a calamity.

New Science Library Built By Defense Education Act

More than 250 new science books in each of the Chelsea elementary schools—more than 300 new titles on the shelves of the Senior High school library—make a noticeable change from last year when there were only about 25 up-to-date and authoritative science books in the high school for research and collateral reading. Now even youngsters in grades kindergarten through 6 have many books on animals and other topics to take home to read.

Reason for this improvement is the fact that the Chelsea School District is participating in Title III of the National Defense Education Act which authorizes funds on a matching basis for the strengthening of instruction in science, mathematics, and modern foreign languages.

A fully equipped modern language laboratory, a new physics laboratory, a large film screen for the high school auditorium, microscopes, planetariums, globes, pulleys, and magnets for each elementary school, a model of the human body for the junior high school, French language records and Russian dictionaries are some of the NDEA purchases.

When Michigan, along with the 49 other states, decided to participate in Title III, Charles S. Cameron, superintendent of the Chelsea School District, appointed a committee to make recommendations. The committee presented a project for 1958-1960 on June 30, 1960 which was approved for $25,740.11 by the Michigan Department of Public Instruction. The NDEA share was $12,917.84 and Chelsea supplied $12,822.27. $2,300 was invested in books.

A second project was submitted Nov. 1, 1960. The next target date is Nov. 1, 1961.

The members of the National Defense Education Act Committee are Jack Good, North school; Jim Hoffmeyer, Junior High school science; John McGill, Senior High school science; George Prinzing, audio-visual aids; Arthur Schmunk, elementary school principal; Alfred Smith, modern languages; Mrs. Bernice Smyser, South school; and Johanna Wiese, chairman.

The National Defense Education Act of 1958 provides a billion dollars in federal aid for some twelve separate programs as described in its ten titles designed for the fullest development of the mental resources and technical skills of Federal funds amounting to $51.1 million have been certified for Title III.

United States.

The young men and women of the NDEA follows the tradition of the Morrill Act of 1862 establishing agricultural colleges; the Smith-Hughes Act and the George Barden Act for vocational education; and the GI Bill of Rights.

The initial NDEA Title III allotment for Michigan was $672,170 for equipment and remodeling.

The Michigan Department of Public Instruction granted approvals totaling $8,255,784 for the period 1958-1960 to Michigan schools. The NDEA share was $4,117,891.

All Washtenaw county schools have had projects approved. Schools are Chelsea, Ann Arbor, Dexter, Lincoln Consolidated, Manchester, Milan, Saline, Whitmore Lake, Willow Run, and Ypsilanti public schools.

Supt. Cameron on Mar. 20, 1961 reported the Chelsea School District approval for 1960-1961 was $4,914.06. The local share was $2,707.66. The NDEA share was $2,206.40.

Figures released by F. Ralph Prostie, consultant in State Aid and child accountant, Michigan Department of Public Instruction, Mar. 20, show total approvals for Washtenaw county schools for 1958-1960 of $161,122.38. Local 16.

share was $82,456.82; NDEA share, $78,665.56.

The breakdown was $116,390.81 for science; $14,569.02 for mathematics; and $30,162.55 for modern foreign languages.

Total approvals for Washtenaw county schools for 1960-1961 were $76,545.66. The local share was $42,028.42; NDEA share, $34,517.24.

The breakdown was $52,462.94 for science; $7,357.14 for mathematics; and $16,725.58 for modern foreign languages.

Millers Association Tours Chelsea Milling Co. Facilities

A combined meeting of Ohio Valley District III and Wolverine District VI of the Association of Operative Millers, held at the Hayes Hotel at Jackson Friday and Saturday, included a tour of Chelsea Milling Co. facilities Friday afternoon. Approximately 50 men participated in the tour, among them being some from Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Buffalo, N. Y.

Thomas Franklin, miller at Chelsea Milling Co., as chairman of District VI, and John Money, chairman of District III, alternated in presiding at the two-day sessions attended by more than 70 representatives of the two districts.

Special guests at the meeting included Stuart Butler of Ontario, Canada, president of the Association, and Donald S. Eber of Kansas City, Mo., international executive vice-president.

Wilbur Hanson, chemist at Chelsea Milling Co., welcomed the group at the Jackson sessions. Of special interest to millers at the meetings were papers read by men who are authorities in their field.

Robert Wieser, manager of milling development at the Bannington, Ill., Quaker Oats Co., spoke on "Adventures in Grain Milling." "Fine Grinding and Air Classification of Soft-Wheat Flours" was the title of a presentation by Ernst Auer, chief sales engineer for MIAO North America, Inc., at Minneapolis, Minn., and Walter Eichle, sales engineer for Bühler Mill Engineering Co., Buffalo, N. Y., showed a film entitled "The Most Modern Grain Elevator in the World." The grain elevator is located in Switzerland, Eichle's home country.

Millers attending the two-day meeting and their wives were entertained Saturday evening at a party at the Hayes Hotel sponsored by allied trades serving the milling industry.

80th Birthday Honored

Mrs. Lydia Zahn was honored at an open house reception Sunday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Erma Grau, the occasion being an observance of her 80th birthday which occurred that day. Approximately 150 guests attended.

On Saturday, also at the home of Mrs. Grau, 30 members of the Women of Zion of Zion Lutheran church, Rogers Corners, held a party in her honor.

About 400 Michigan farmers raise about 150,000 dwarf fruit trees on a commercial basis, say Michigan State University horticulturists.

Look Beyond the Finished Product

When you buy your steak wrapped in cellophane or your nicely packaged breakfast bacon, you see only the finished product. What you don't see is the terrified steer painfully battered about the head, or the screaming pig that falls into a vat of scalding water while still conscious.

If you think this is a matter of indifference, why not visit a packing house and see for yourself. What you see there will scar your soul forever unless you do something about it.

Recently our government adopted humane slaughter for meat purchased by the government, but that takes care of only a portion of our meat animals. Now there are humane bills—either pending or passed—in many states to banish the suffering of all animals destined for slaughter.

Our Michigan Senate bill 1015 Dwindy Humane Slaughter Bill is now pending but it needs the support of public opinion to get it through our legislature. This bill will assure our animals of a more humane death through the use of the modern and practically painless methods which are now available.

It's a simple act of kindness to write your State Senator and State Representative asking for favorable action on this bill. We owe it to the animals who cannot speak for themselves, but who have provided for us so faithfully.

Lyndon B. Johnson, Vice-President-elect: "I think Senator Kennedy made some very fine selections. It is a group of men who will work well together."

Adlai E. Stevenson, U. S. Ambassador-designate to the United Nations: "I hope we can improve the quality of our United Nations representation. There will be some changes but not until next year."

Douglas Dillon, the new Secretary of the Treasury, has just about eliminated any last lingering hope that our new President wasn't really any more serious about his campaign promises than any of his predecessors. In an appearance before the Senate Finance Committee, Dillon expressed belief in a balanced budget and reduction of the national debt. But it would seem, when he said further that it will not be "possible to stay within the $285 billion debt limit," that he does not expect either.

WHAT'S "ALL NUMBER CALLING"?

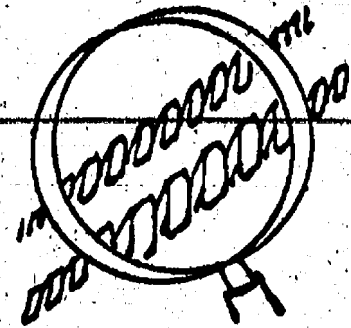

It's the latest development in telephone numbering. Now, in many communities throughout the country, you dial seven numerals to make a local call—no letters. For example, KL 5-2368 becomes 555-2368—a true telephone "number." Why was this done? Simply because we're running out of usable letter-number combinations. If we're to continue to grow and provide good service, we need to use the more flexible "all numerals" system. Some Michigan communities already have it. More will begin to use it soon. You'll find this new system more accurate and we think you'll like it.

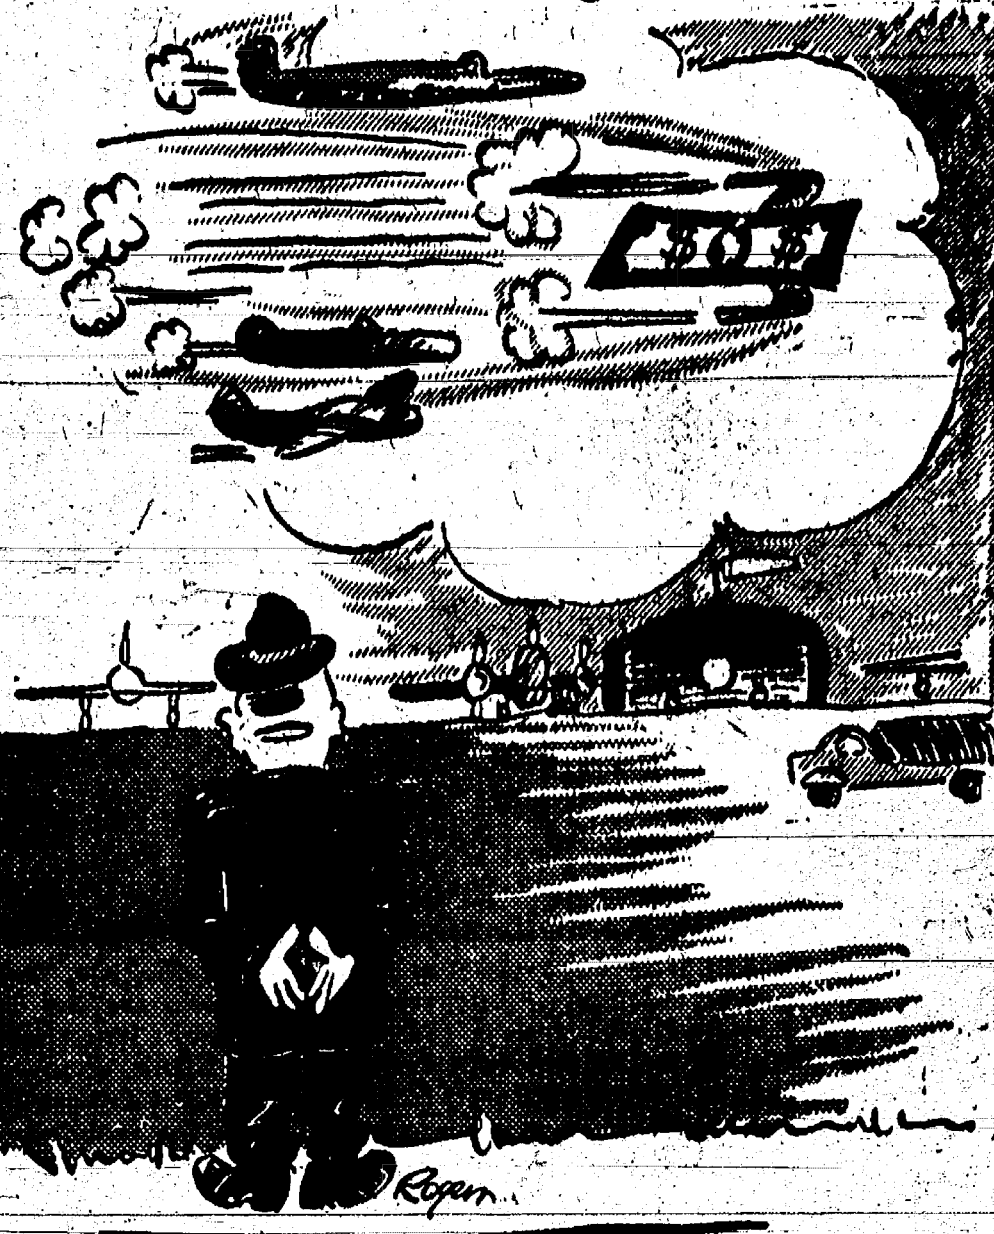

MICHIGAN'S NATURALLY

the motor center of the world. We've got drive-up banks and mail boxes, drive-in restaurants and movies... even a place where you can drive up to return a library book. Well, the telephone company is right up-to-date, too. We're installing new drive-up telephone booths! Small, handy, well-lit, these drive-up phones are a welcome aid to the motorist who wants to make a call in a hurry. They supplement the regular roadside telephone booths that are already a familiar sight along many of our highways.

A SLIMMER, LIGHTER yet stronger spring telephone cord has been developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories and Western Electric. One secret of its new, sleek strength is the use of nylon, instead of cotton, thread. Slimming a cord seems like a small change—until you realize that it will save more than half a million dollars annually in cord costs! It's another instance of your telephone company's constant search for new ways to improve the equipment you use, while keeping the cost of your service low.

Michigan's muddled tax waters are being stirred up by proposals, counter-proposals and just plain talk.

Action in the Legislature on revenue questions is expected to be hot and heavy this year, but not until after the April 3 election. That doesn't slow up the avalanche of proposals, reports and smokecreens concerning taxes.

Most of these are in good faith. Honest efforts to correct the recognized inequities in the tax situation are not hard to find.

Unfortunately, there is some self-seeking, a great deal of political maneuvering, a touch of misinformation and mountains of misunderstanding surrounding taxes.

Gov. John B. Swainson has presented his ideas on fiscal reform to the Legislature, and promises that these will be followed up by specific proposals in the form of bills.

He is giving his plan, which includes a 3 per cent personal income tax, a 3 per cent tax on corporation profits, tax relief for industry, sales tax exemptions on food and prescription drugs and increased state payments to local units of government, the hard sell.

At every opportunity he has to speak, Swainson presses the theme that his fiscal revision plan is a way to start solving Michigan's fiscal woes.

The Governor is also promoting governmental reorganization plans and economic development proposals whenever possible.

A state senate study committee which looked into the Michigan tax picture recently reported back to the upper chamber an analysis which grew out of a series of hearings in various parts of the state.

The chairman of this committee, Sen. Clyde H. Gearlings, who is also the chairman of the Senate taxation committee, has advocated a plan which he says would hit the heart of the problem: inequities at the local level in taxes on real and personal property.

His ideas, backed by several strong groups, would cut the local taxes on business with some loss of revenue to the local governments.

This could be made up, Gearlings believes, by giving the local units the power to levy certain taxes such as payroll taxes, sales taxes on certain items and other levies, after a vote by the people in the local unit approved them.

There is some opposition to this plan on the grounds that it would be giving the local governments a taxing power which should be reserved to the state.

Another plan in the legislative bill hopper was prepared by Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit.

Like Swainson's plan, it would produce no more revenues for the state. O'Brien's plan also incorporates many of the features of the Governor's proposal, but would gain most of the revenue lost through tax concessions to business by levying a 5 per cent corporation profits tax.

It does not include a personal income tax.

It is too early to say which, if any, of these plans will be considered seriously by the Legislature. Other tax ideas are certain to be introduced, and the best bet is that any solution attempted by lawmakers will include elements of several plans.

The powerful interest groups that watch closely legislative action are certain to advocate tax proposals of one kind or another as they crystallize.

It would do well for the average citizen to watch the legislative maneuvering and the tax plans as closely, and make known his desires on how he wants to pay for government in the immediate future.

In the event of a Constitutional Convention, at least one group in the state will be ready to lay out its ideas for revision of the 1908 basic law.

Veteran law enforcement officers are directing a study to determine what areas of the Constitution most affect their line of work.

A sub-committee of the permanent legislative committee representing law enforcement agencies has so far isolated nine areas which it believes must be looked into, in relation to a Con-Con.

Former State Police Commissioner and Republican candidate for Governor, Donald S. Leonard, is in charge of the research program. The areas that will be studied:

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

We had a little wind out our way the other night and it blew all kinds of stuff over my place, including a barrel-stove, chicken feathers, a blow line, two empty paint buckets and a newspaper. I didn't pick any of it up, because I figured the same wind took a heap of things off the place, leaving me about even. But the reason I mention it is on account of that newspaper the wind blowed up against my front porch. It was dated in 1939 and must have come off somebody's pantry shelf. I was two-thirds through reading it afore I noticed it wasn't the morning paper.

It had about the same things in it that's in the papers today. Trouble all over the world, prices going up, income coming down, unemployment, brushfire war everywhere, Congress working on the give-away programs, new weapons for destruction being invented. The world is so confused, Mister Editor, that it's hard anymore to tell a 1939 newspaper from one in 1961 without looking at the date. It used to be a feller could count on about 20 years between wars, and things gitting normal for a couple year in between when folks could enjoy a little peace of mind. But I'm afear'd them good-old days has gone forever. Peace is as shaky as the planks in my barn loft, and confusion is gitting to be our normal state of mind.

Even our preacher was talking about it Sunday. He said most wimmen special live in a constant state of confusion. He give a lot of reasons for it, but he left out one that struck me while he was preaching. So many of them is plagued with the desire to go dressed and undressed at the same time. They don't know whether to dress to kill or torment.

And between you and me, Mister Editor, I think my preacher is a little confused. For instance, he was telling my old lady last week that a certain woman member of his congregation was gitting along fine now that her husband had passed away. He allowed as how she was raising her family, paying off the mortgage, running a good farm and adding modern conveniences to her home. How do you like that? I think maybe our preacher has got to go.

But I was reading in the papers yesterday about one feller in this world that ain't confused. They had this man in court in Georgia for speeding. He told the Judge he was hurrying home to take his mother-in-law to the movies. The Judge fined him $10 for speeding and $25 for lying. That Judge ain't confused none, gits the wheat and chaff separated real quick.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Federal Aid to Education Is Election Issue

Within hours after the nominations for the spring election April 3, Republicans discovered they had at least one hot candidate refusing to obey the rule that an office-seeker must balance carefully when on a tight rope.

This unusual politician is Hugh H. Holloway, GOP nominee for Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the tight rope he encountered is the issue of Federal aid for schools.

In this era of expanding centralization of government in Washington, it is supposed to be a very dangerous move, indeed, to speak out against subsidies to the states. The powerful educational organizations must be approached with proper genuflection, you understand, if a politician is to be successful at his trade.

On the issue of Federal aid for education, demanded so loudly by Democrats, the Republican line is to agree to accept funds, no matter how tainted, for school buildings, swimming pools, basketballs, floor mops and similar necessities.

But, come first or high water, Republicans will not support a program that gives money to the states to pay the salaries of teachers and janitors.

This splendid distinction was devised by the political advisers who surrounded President Eisenhower. Thereby they made an issue.

"You can buy soap for the children, but you cannot buy their minds," they said. And the Republican Party remained balanced on the rope.

But Holloway has scorned the whole act with one word: "Nuts."

His campaigning through the state telling the people that Michigan would again be a naive fool for Federal endorsement if it supports any kind of Federal interference with our school system. Supporting the schools of other states would cost us millions of dollars, that we surely need at home, he has pointed out. More important, control of education would disappear from the local level where it belongs.

Holloway is a forceful, square-jawed, 44-year-old Air Force Veteran who is Superintendent of Schools at Sault Ste. Marie. He was the Republican nominee for the office two years ago and came within 40,000 votes of defeating the Democratic incumbent Lynn Bartlett.

Holloway's boat-rocking stand against even the GOP plan for educational aid caused a few howls at first among party leaders. But there has been a development unexpected by nearly everyone, maybe even by the honest candidate himself.

That is that everywhere Holloway goes in this campaign, he finds the voters agreeing with him.

When talking about practical things like money, instead of discussing ideals, Holloway points out that Michigan dollars would be used by the Kennedy Administration to help build schools and pay teachers in the very states which have been luring industries from Michigan by promises of low taxes.

About two million Michigan voters will manage to keep away from the polling places April 3, despite the fact that the future course of our educational system is at stake. Such lack of interest could demonstrate how democracy can fail.

This is no time in the history of the world and the nation to inhibit the weaknesses of our team. Be sure to vote.

Chemical Weed Control Study Set Friday Night

Donald R. Johnson, County extension director, has arranged a meeting for Friday evening, Mar. 24, at 8 p.m., in Room 1 at the County Building, Ann Arbor, for a pre-season weed control session.

Johnson said that chemical weed control is practiced widely with most crops, yet many area farmers have yet to try it. Those who have never used it will be interested in hearing about the program, while farmers who are already familiar with this method of weed control will be interested in the latest development and recommendations of experts.

Dr. Milton Erdman, farm crops specialist, will be present to discuss materials, rates and methods of application and may be prepared to give comparative costs of materials.

The program will include a movie dealing with the use of pre-emergence applications and a period during which those who attend may ask questions.

Johnson said the program of chemical weed control should be of special interest at this time since it will soon be at planting time; in fact, some farmers already have their oat crops planted.

The chemical weed control program should also prove interesting to farmers who will be planting corn a little later because of the problem of weeds.

All interested farmers are invited to attend the meeting, Johnson said.

DESIRES SPACE FLIGHT

Edwards Air Force Base, Cal.—Test pilot Scott Crossfield is out of work, having made his final flight in the X-15. He hopes that his next trip in a rocket ship will be aboard a similar craft boosted into space by an Atlas missile. His company, North American Aviation Inc., has previously suggested sending men into space in advanced versions of the X-15, which would be placed like a second stage atop an intercontinental missile.

The Law Can Help
The term "polyester" is the generic name for a group of fibers which includes Dacron and Kodol. The 1960 Textile Fiber Identification Act requires that the fiber content of all fabrics be identified with a generic name even though a trade name appears. Home economists at Michigan State University say this law can help consumers. Fibers within each generic group have similar characteristics. If these basic qualities are learned, labels can guide consumers in selecting fabrics, ready-made clothing and home furnishings.
