FAMILIAR TO SEVERAL GENERATIONS
St. Mary's Catholic church shows the church as it appeared for final services held in the building which is now being torn down. The building, condemned for further use because of deteriorating walls and floor supports, has been in continuous use since its construction in 1869. Official records of the church go back to 1861 when a Father Van Jennip was the parish priest; however, Chelsea area Catholics had attended services prior to that time at a small Sylvan township church sometimes called "Old St. Mary's Church." Its parishioners being Irish settlers who came to the area in the 1830's. One of St. Mary's early parishioners was James Savage who later became the Rt. Rev. Magr. Savage of Most Holy Trinity church, Detroit, often referred to as the Corktown church. Presently serving the church as interim pastor is the Rev. Fr. Francis Maliszewski.

Winter Takes One Last Fling at Us!

Chelsea, along with the rest of Michigan and the entire midwestern part of the country, experienced a wintry snowstorm the past week-end.

Although the calendar showed it to be Apr. 18 and 17, about four inches of snow fell here, clinging to bushes and trees and covering the ground with whiteness customarily welcomed as Christmas weather.

The snowfall is the largest recorded here in April since the Willow Run Weather Station began recording such things in 1958, and the largest in the Detroit area since Apr. 17, 1921, when 4.5 inches fell. Approximately 3.5 inches fell in and around Detroit on Apr. 19 and 20, 1948.

Along with the snow, the mercury dropped from the low 70's Saturday morning to the low 30's Sunday and early Monday. The biggest drop came between 5:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday when it went from 50 to 30.

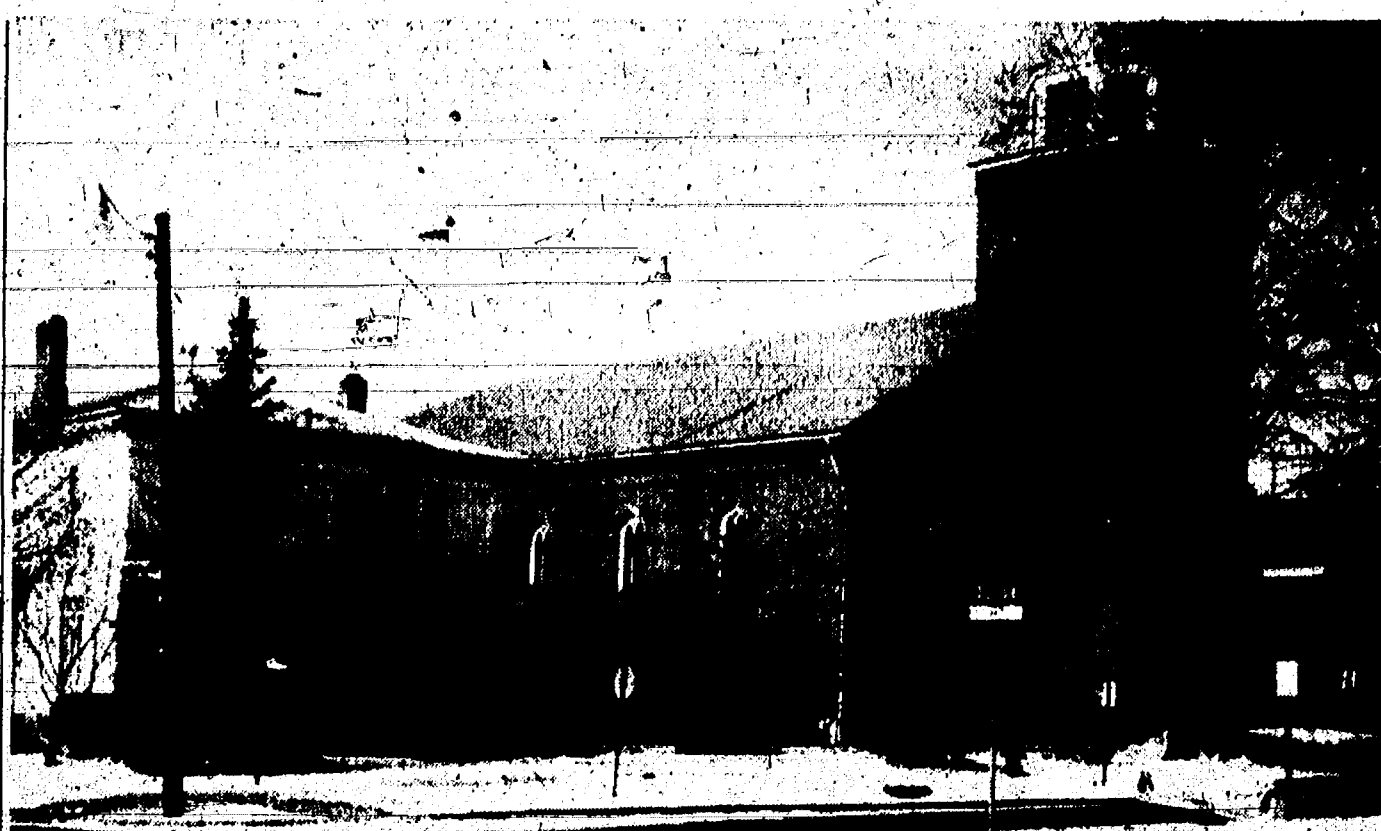

The slushy snow made driving hazardous and was listed as a contributing factor in a number of accidents and garage men were kept busy because of stalled cars. Some areas in western Michigan reported as much as a foot of snow. In the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph area, factories and rural schools were closed.

Allegan, Ottawa, Barry, Cass, Berrien and Van Buren counties were among those reporting rural schools closed when buses couldn't navigate roads because of drifts or tangles of cars and trucks left from the week-end.

Almost all evidence of the heavy snowfall had disappeared in rising temperatures and spring appeared to be "back on the job" yesterday.

James Weir and James Rohm of Great Lakes Naval Training Station, spent the week-end here as guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garnett Weir. Additional guests for Sunday dinner were Merlene Rogers of Olivet College, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Keith-miller and daughter, Debbie, of Waterloo, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Egeler and sons, of Dexter, and Mrs. Lella Weir.

ST. MARY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH, a Chelsea landmark since 1869, is being torn down to make way for eventual construction of a new church on the site. The building was condemned for further use some time ago and the final services were held in the building on Sunday, Apr. 16. The cornerstone bears the name "Our Lady of the Sacred Heart" but the name was changed to the original St. Mary's. Rotting timbers caused removal of the original tall steeple in 1947 and since then the church has appeared as shown in the above outside view of the building. The pews and altars have been moved to McKune Memorial Hall, adjoining St. Mary's school, and church services will be held there until a new church is built. Announcement of plans for a new building has not yet been made.

Open House Event Planned By Four School Departments

The Senior High School Library, the Audio-Visual Department, Guidance Department, and the English Laboratory in an open house Wednesday evening, Apr. 26, from 7:30 until 9 p.m.

Service awards will be presented to the women who are working in the school libraries as volunteers. Charles S. Cameron, Superintendent, will make the presentations.

The magazine, newspaper, and book room, formerly the conference room in the library, will be open to interested individuals may use the materials which are in great demand for class reports, study magazines are received regularly by the library. Others are from people in the community.

Books purchased under the National Defense Education Act will be on the shelves.

The Senior High School Library will be open for the use of students the evening of Open House so that the visitors may see the library in action.

Members of the Library Club will serve as guides.

The Audio Visual Department will demonstrate the latest AV equipment in the schools available for instructional purposes. Much of this equipment was purchased with funds from the National Defense Education Act.

At the show in the main lobby and in the cafeteria, George Pringle and his student assistants will run educational films; demonstrate the use of the overhead projector; and explain the function of the tape recorder and record players. Filmstrips and filmstrip reviewers will be on display.

George Bergman, of the guidance and counseling department, will have a display of materials in the lobby of the school. These will include job information, college catalogs, college entrance blanks, sample test—aptitude, achievement and interest—also, military service information and college and university scholarship information. Expected to be of special interest.

Handlebar Mustache Challenges Flying in Chelsea Factories

Facial Foliage Fad Started To Boost Showboat

(By Special Reporting Reporter)

Rumors started pouring into The Chelsea Standard office Monday morning and upon investigation it was discovered that the men at Federal Screw Works had decided to start growing mustaches of the handlebar variety to give the community an old-time atmosphere in keeping with the community-sponsored "Chelsea's Ol' Time Showboat."

The heading of their petition posted on their bulletin boards for prospective growers to sign reads as follows:

We, of Federal Screw, being blessed with an abundance of community spirit have decided that we will help to promote the old time theme of our latest community activity, Chelsea's Ol' Time Showboat.

We deem it inconceivable that there be a total lack of old-time atmosphere in our community prior to the Show Boat production.

Therefore, it is an acknowledged fact that the finest beards and best dressed men of our recent 125th Anniversary Celebration were the men of the Federal Screw Works. We, the undersigned, agree to cease and desist from shaving the hair on our upper lips and in doing so present for the acclaim and acknowledgement of our community a splendid crop of handlebar mustaches such as only we true champions of the art can grow.

Harvey Elixey
Chairman Federal Screw Works
Handlebar Mustache Committee.

Upon contacting the showboat general chairman, Donald Alber, we received this statement: "I had not heard of the movement for men at Federal Screw Works."

New Records Set by CHS Trackmen

Last Saturday the Chelsea Bulldogs traveled to Ann Arbor for a triangular meet with U. High and Milan. Final score was U. High, 68½; Chelsea, 46; Milan, 25½.

Three new school records were set by the Bulldogs. Senior Don Sexton broke his own broad jump record by three inches in leaping 20'8".

Junior Larry Cattell set a new pole vault record of 10'6" bettering the old record by one foot. Junior Dave McLaughlin improved his shot put record by 10½" up to 44' 10½". However, Cattell's and McLaughlin's efforts were good only for second places in the meet.

Individual winners for the Bulldogs besides Sexton were Don Wilson who won the 880-yd. run in 2:15.2; Dave McLaughlin who won the high and low hurdle races in 15.4 and 20.6, respectively; Larry Cattell won the 100-yd. dash in 10.8. Second places were, in addition to McLaughlin in the shot and Cattell in the pole vault, Jim Maynard in the high hurdles and both of Chelsea's relay teams.

MUSTACHE GROWERS—Notices posted at the Rockwell-Standard Corp., were of special interest to several employees gathered around the bulletin board in the shop after a "challenge" had been issued by Federal Screw Works and Chelsea Products employees relative to their merits as "beard growers" during Chelsea's 125th Anniversary celebration two years ago. The matter was brought up in connection with a "mustache contest" instituted this week in preparation for Chelsea's Ol' Time Show Boat production, a community project to be held in June. In part, the notice on the bulletin board states: "It seems as if the Screw plant and the Products have a short memory since it was evident at the time it was the Spring plant employees who were the best dressed, grew the best beards, and had the prettiest wives promenading the streets with us every Friday night. We of the Spring Plant should not have to re-affirm the fact that we surpassed the rest of the community in the various phases of the 125th Celebration to which they claim superiority, but our honor has been trod upon and it is again time for us to rise up and meet the challenge." From left, those scrutinizing the bulletin board notice are Glenn McClear, Gerald Tish, George Robb, Lester Marley, Eddie Orlovski, Tom Collins. Scrub plant and the Products have a short memory.

School Librarians To Meet at U. of M.

The first joint conference of the Michigan Association of School Librarians and the School and Children's Section of the Michigan Library Association will be held at the Michigan Union, in Ann Arbor, Apr. 21-22.

Miss Joan Wiese, Chelsea school librarian, will attend the conference.

Munith Man Pulls Knife On Deputy After Arrest

Sheriff's Deputy Harold Owings, Jr., sent Saturday afternoon to investigate a complaint that a car was parked in a private driveway near Chelsea, found Ernest L. Carpenter, 22, of Munith, asleep in the car and arrested him on a drunk and disorderly charge. The case appeared to be a routine

"line of duty" one until the patrol car taking the arrested man to Ann Arbor reached Baker Rd. on I-94.

Carpenter was in the back seat; Deputy Owings was driving the car; and Owings' father, Harold Owings, Sr., was riding in the front seat with him.

Carpenter suddenly bent down over his left shoe. A second later he had whipped out a pearl-handled jackknife with a three-inch blade.

With one motion he threw one arm around Deputy Owings' neck in a stranglehold and with the other hand plunged the knife at the officer's throat. The deputy's father spotted the arc of the knife out of the corner of his eye.

He brought his fist up in a short, quick movement which caught Carpenter in the mouth, knocking him back into the rear seat. In the subsequent struggle, (Continued on page five)

Work Bee' Scheduled at Pierce Park

Planned as a community service project, members of the Chelsea Standard will hold a "work bee" Saturday afternoon at Pierce Park to clean up the area.

The clean-up will require all the help they can get, according to press President Dan Maroney, and anyone willing to volunteer assistance will be welcomed.

The work Saturday is the beginning of the park program, for a year in anticipation of a final boost from a share of the proceeds of the "Ol' Time Showboat" to be given here in June.

Pierce Park is one of four municipalities of the show boat project.

CHS Alumni Group Plans For Banquet

At an organizational meeting of the Chelsea High School Alumni Association meeting held Tuesday evening at the high school library, George Knickerbocker, president of the association, announced plans for the 1961 banquet to be held June 10 at 6:45 p.m. in the Chelsea High school cafeteria.

Officers for the year are George Knickerbocker, president; Ray Steinbach, vice-president; Mrs. Walter Bauer, secretary; and Mrs. George Heydauff, treasurer.

All classes ending in the numeral one are to be honored this year. Various classes have already begun plans for get-togethers of former classmates.

Letters are being processed and sent out by the committees within the next few weeks. It is of the utmost importance to answer this letter by purchasing a ticket at the designated stores or filling out an enclosed reservation blank.

The next meeting of the association will be held on Wednesday, May 17 at 8 p.m. at the high school library. All committee chairmen will present a full report of their various activities at that time.

Next Monday Is Rubbish Pick-up Day

A general all-out rubbish pick-up is scheduled for next Monday, Apr. 24, and Chelsea residents are advised to "clean out attics and basements" and put the rubbish at the curb before 7 a.m.

Village Public Works crews and William Terns' regular pick-up crews will combine their efforts for the big scale, one-day operation.

The big pick-up of rubbish on Monday should give residents an opportunity to get rid of all extraordinary rubbish which has accumulated so that future regular weekly pick-ups will return to the normal contract loads.

Councilman William Chandler, in charge of the rubbish pick-up, is urging all residents to co-operate by having their rubbish set out Sunday night or before 7 a.m. Monday because pick-up crews will begin their Herculean task as early as possible.

Two Killed In Week-End Auto Crashes

Two persons were killed in the Chelsea area in separate accidents the past week-end.

Vincent K. Dault, 24, lost his life shortly after 4 o'clock Friday afternoon when his car went out of control on Loveland Rd., north of I-94, and struck a tree.

Herman Schoening, of Grass Lake, a passenger in the car, sustained only minor injuries.

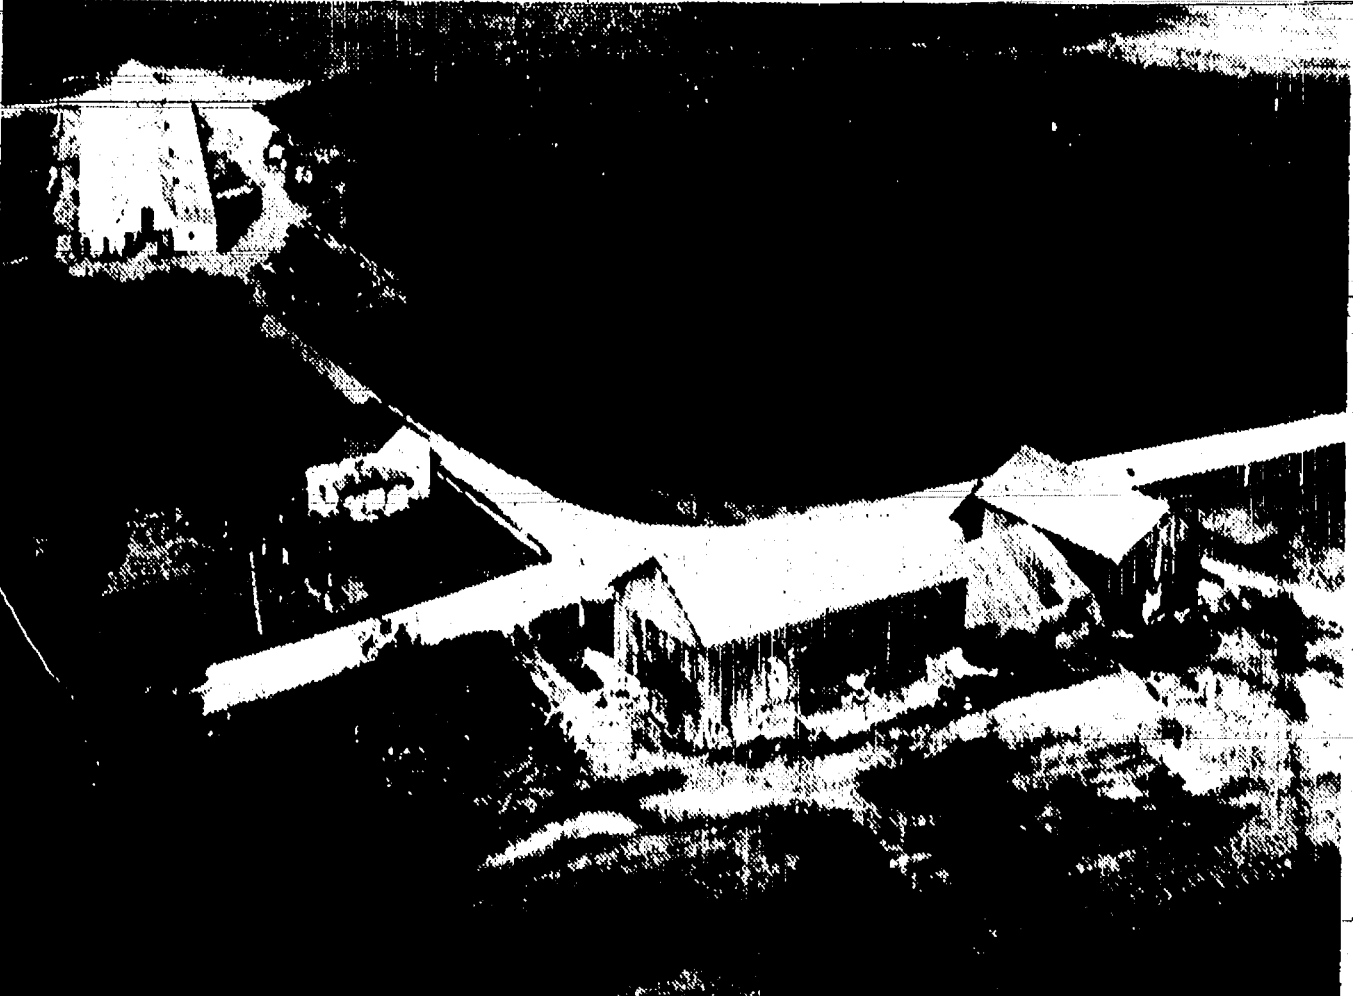

Dault's home was at 13955 W. North Territorial Rd. He was the husband of the former Delores Schmitz, to whom he was married Feb. 27, 1960.

The second area fatality occurred at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The wet, driving snow falling at the time was blamed as a contributing factor in the accident which occurred on I-94 and resulted in the death of Mrs. Alvina D. Moeckel of Munith and Wyandotte.

Mrs. Moeckel died at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, a little more than an hour after the mishap.

Mrs. Moeckel, 88 years old, was riding in a car driven by her daughter, Alta L. Moeckel a Wyandotte school teacher. They had spent Saturday night at their farm home west of Munith and were en route to Detroit where they were to be dinner guests of friends before returning to Wyandotte. Mrs. Moeckel customarily spent winters with her daughter.

MYSTERY FARM NO. 147—The extra large barn which appears to be rather new, will probably be a help to area residents in identifying "Mystery Farm No. 147," shown in the above photo. If you recognize the farm, please call The Standard office, GR 5-3581. The owner will receive, as a gift, a mounted photo of the farm if he will call at The Standard office on or before Saturday.

Survey Crew Working On M-92 Modernization

The Michigan State Highway Department has started marking land surveys for the modernization of 2.8 miles of M-92 in Washtenaw county, it was announced this week.

The project, part of the Highway Department's second five-year road building program, is scheduled to be placed under contract in 1963.

This project will be part of the modernization of 6.4 miles of M-92 from Stockbridge in Ingham county, through Jackson county to Territorial Rd., north of Chelsea in Washtenaw county.

Chamber of Commerce Sees Winnewana Project Pictures

Thomas McClellan, newly-elected president of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce, presided Tuesday evening at the first dinner meeting of the current fiscal year. The meeting was held at the Congressional club.

The program for the evening was presented by Roy Russell, park manager for the Waterloo-Recreational Area and Jim Hein, assistant manager. Their topic was the development, growth and future plans for the Winnewana Impoundment or backwaters area which is located just east of Sugar Loaf Lake.

With the aid of color slides the two park rangers showed the gradual development of a massive swamp land to a 500-acre lake with a predicted depth of nine feet in just two years.

This area is being developed for pike fishing, hunting, picnic and camping grounds which will be one of the best in the state when completed.

In 1955 this project was just a dream with John Williams, a member of Michigan Fish and Life Service.

Williams is credited with making this dream become a reality and through the combined efforts of the Michigan Conservation Dept. the reality now exists at Chelsea's back door.

The Winnewana Impoundment will draw outdoorsmen from all over the area and out of state to Chelsea. Already Audubon societies from miles around are utilizing the facilities to study wild fowl habitats, the rangers said.

Chelsea should take great pride in this new development and give credit to those who made this dream a reality, according to Chamber of Commerce spokesman, President McClellan.

names of the chairmen of the new committees for the year during the business session at the meeting.

Those named are William Blaess, membership; R. W. Spaulding, parks; M. J. Anderson, with John Pierson, publicity for color tour and tourist development; Paul Mann, with Charles Lancaster and M. W. McClure, economic development; Fred Anderson, retail merchant; Norbert Merkel, Steer club; Vincent Burg II, program.

Reporting on the action of the board of governors meeting, President McClellan stated that the Chamber of Commerce has adopted two basic points for future development—attract new industry and promote over-all growth of the community.

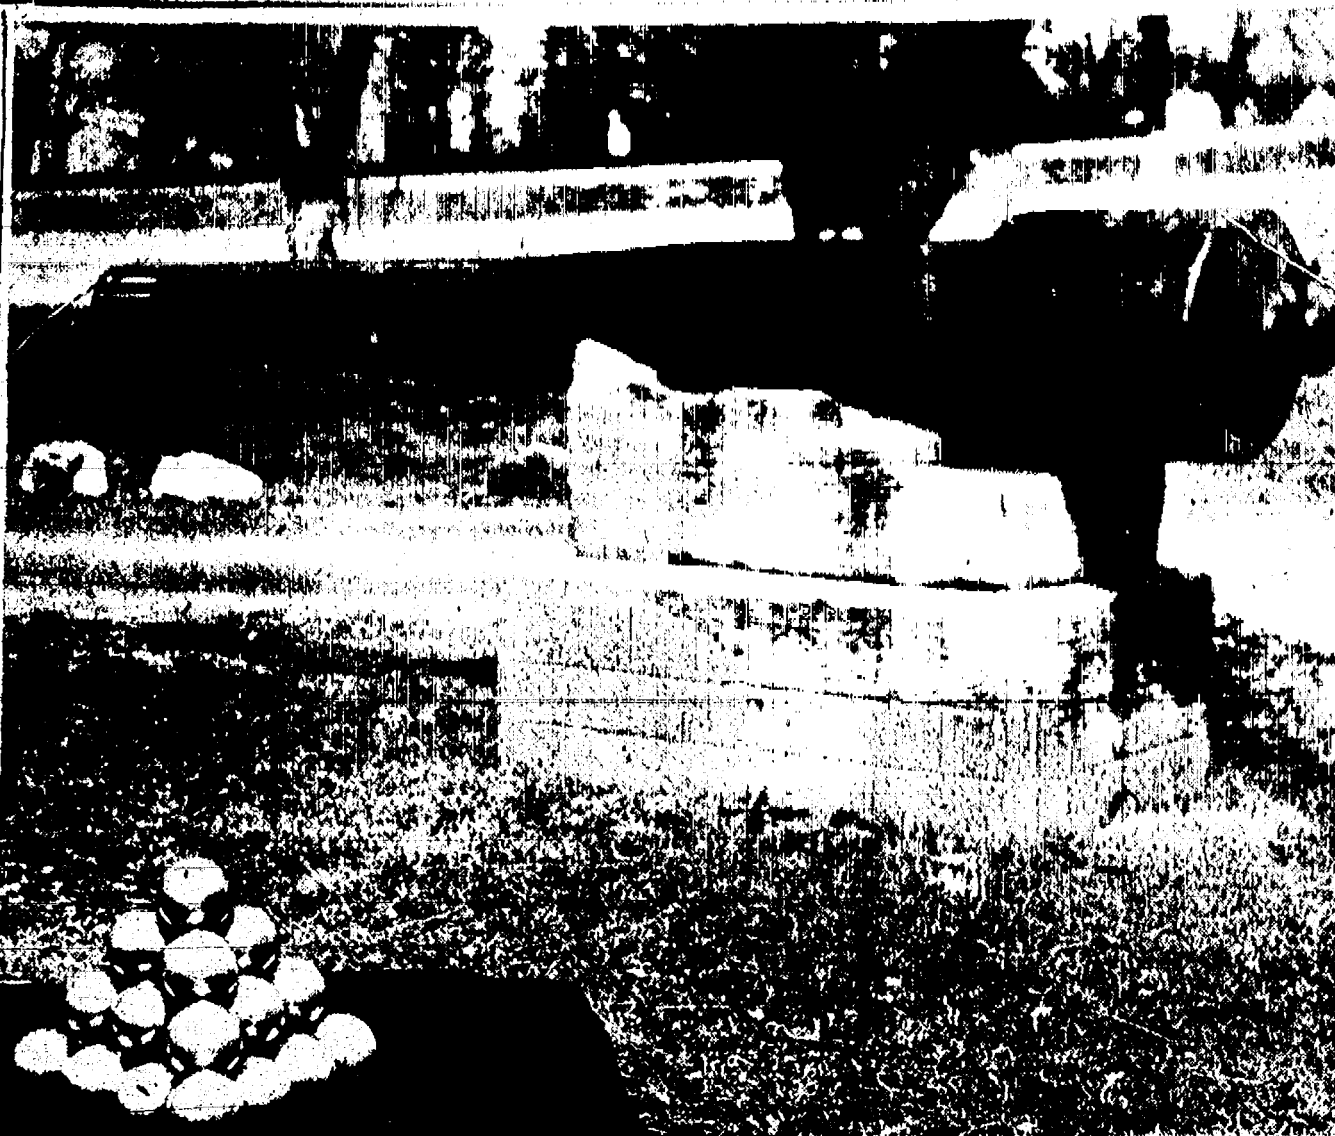

Several open letters were read from employees of Chelsea factories stating their capabilities at out-growing everyone else in town in a mustache contest. This came about from a statement made by Federal Screw Works employees that they could grow the best mustaches for the upcoming show boat production.

Challenges were quickly issued by the other industries. The Chamber went on record of wholeheartedly endorsing the contest with a show of hands from some of their mustache growers-to-be.

CANNON BALLS?—What looks like a pyramid of ammunition for the big Parrott gun in the background is really a modern-day product of Industrial Teetronics, Inc., Scioto township manufacturer of precision balls and bearings. The balls, designed for a mammoth radar antenna bearing, are made of chrome alloy steel, far harder and rounder than anything ever seen in Civil War Days. The gun, located at the American Legion Post on the Chelsea-Dexter Rd., is an excellent example of another American-made precision product. Named after Robert Parker Parrott, its inventor and an ordnance expert born in Lee, N.H., in 1804, it won fame during the war between the states. Parrott devised a method of employing shrunken hoops of wrought iron to strengthen the breech of big guns and thus was able to perfect the first American rifled cannon in 1861. His initials as well as those of the West Point Foundry, of which he was superintendent and where it was cast, are still visible on the Dexter gun. Industrial Teetronics, employing many skilled workers in the Dexter-Chelsea area, makes close-tolerance balls for electronic, missile, automotive and machinery uses. Wednesday, Apr. 12 marked the 100th anniversary of the opening of the American Civil War with the firing on Fort Sumter, S.C.

New Track Records ...

In the mile relay Don Wilson ran a fine anchor leg to overhaul the Milan runner to claim second place. Other members of the mile relay are Gary Cattell, Paul Schramm and Al Schauer.

The 320 relay, composed of Larry Cattell, Al Schauer, Warren Porath and Dave McLaughlin, finished second.

Third places were earned by Sexton and Maynard as they tied in the high jump, and Jim Maynard in the shot put. Maynard also took fourth in the low hurdles. Larry Cattell and Warren Porath ran third and fourth, respectively, to round out the Chelsea scoring.

So far, in two meets, the local team has set new records in all of the field events.

On Tuesday of this week Chelsea's track team went down to defeat at the hands of U. High and Saline. The score was U. High, 67; Saline, 47; and Chelsea, 31. The poor showing in part can be attributed to the fact that three of Chelsea's top men were below par physically. Don Sexton, with a pulled muscle, competed in only one event instead of his usual four as did Larry Cattell, while Dave McLaughlin came up lame after two events. However, the most serious injury was sustained by half-miler Don Wilson. In a tremendous finishing kick that almost resulted in a victory, Wilson tripped after crossing the finish line and suffered a severe ankle injury that may keep him out of action from three to four weeks. Jim Maynard paced the Chelsea scoring as he took first place in both hurdle races. He won the 110 in 17.0 and the 200 in 23.2. Maynard also added a third place in the shot put.

Dave McLaughlin won the 100 yd. dash and finished second in the shot put.

Larry Cattell tied for second in the shot put.

The mile relay of Gary Cattell, Paul Schramm, Al Schauer and Don Wilson finished second as Wilson came through with a tremendous kick at the end.

Other Chelsea points were earned by freshman Warren Porath who took fourth in the high hurdles and 220 yd. dash and Larry Schauer who took fourth in the low hurdles. Tomorrow, beginning at 6:00 p.m. and continuing under the lights, Chelsea will compete against Pinckney on Saline's track.

County Hospital Auxiliary To Hold Annual Meeting

On Apr. 19, at 1:00 p.m., the Washtenaw County Hospital Auxiliary is to hold its annual open meeting when officers and board chairmen are to be elected. The program, "A Progress Report and Glimpse at the Future," will be given by Robert Reynolds, superintendent of the County Hospital; Mrs. Mildred Perry, from the Workshop and Rehabilitation program; Miss Elizabeth Robinson, Auxiliary Chairman of Nursing and of House Furnishings; and Mrs. Kingsley Galkin, Visiting Program Chairman of the Auxiliary.

Ten will be served following the meeting. Members of the Auxiliary are urged to attend and to bring their friends.

Dexter Man Charged With Bank Robbery

James Jones, 27-year-old Dexter resident, is to appear in Federal District Court in Detroit tomorrow to enter a plea to the charge of robbing the McPherson State Bank at Pinckney on Wednesday of last week.

Jones was arrested the same afternoon by Ann Arbor Detective Richard G. Hill who spotted him walking along Huron River Dr. northwest of Dexter.

Although FBI agents and State Police said "everything points" to Jones as the bank robber, he has maintained his innocence.

Jones was arraigned Friday morning in Federal District Court, appearing before Federal Judge Ralph M. Freeman who set a release bond of $5,000. Jones was placed in the Wayne County Jail after he failed to post the bond.

Thursday afternoon, searches had found the $3,789 in cash stolen from the bank hidden with a .22 caliber gun and a red-hooded jacket in a cornfield near Stinchfield Woods Rd. in Dexter township.

The items were found a short distance from the spot where a stolen car used in the bank robbery was discovered abandoned Wednesday morning.

The gun was identified as one stolen Feb. 11 in a break-in at the Mill Creek Sporting Goods store in Dexter.

Jones, an unemployed roofer who has a minor criminal record, has maintained he was skin diving in the Huron River at the time of the Pinckney robbery. When Hill arrested him, he was wearing a skin diving outfit and was walking toward Dexter.

Aquamarine Club Fishing Contest Scheduled Sunday

The Aquamarine Club of Dexter will hold a fishing contest for underwater divers along the Huron River northwest of Ann Arbor starting at 1 p.m. on Sunday, Apr. 23.

Registrations will take place between noon and 1 p.m. at the Big Shelter at Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park, located five miles northwest of Dexter. The park entrance is on North Territorial Rd., near the Huron River.

Max Trowbridge, publicity chairman for the group, said that trophies will be awarded for the largest catch of the day turned in by the divers. It is open to any Michigan resident, but contestants must have a fishing license.

No aqua lungs are required. It will be a snorkel trip, using rubber or spring guns, and divers must be completely submerged to spear the fish, (according to Michigan State Law).

For details persons may contact Max Trowbridge, 8104 Northfield Church Rd., Ann Arbor (Phone NORmandy 2-8928) or Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park, 8800 North Territorial Rd., Dexter (Phone HAmilton 6-8211).

Robert L. Schultz, 6412 Joy Rd., Dexter, is club president.

Co-Op Nursery House Tour Will Visit Five Area Homes

The second annual Chelsea House Tour will be held Thursday, Apr. 27. This week, two of the homes on the tour will be described.

The Lloyd Hedyauff residence at 86 Cavanaugh Lake is a California ranch home built last year. The entry leading into the kitchen is separated by a room divider planter. The predominant cheery yellow of the kitchen, with aqua, brown and beige accents offers an inviting welcome to this home.

The lake panorama, brought in to the living room through the glass walled windows, complements the decor of gold walls and carpeting. A focal point of the living area is a three-sided fireplace of Tennessee ledge rock which can be enjoyed from the living room, dining room and den. Cornice lighting is used extensively in the living area.

Two bedrooms and bath in the guest wing are accessible through a narrow hall, cleverly papered on one side to create an illusion of depth. The bath has a glass enclosed shower stall, conveniently located for swimmers.

The master bedroom, again using cornice lighting, is carpeted with the same gold carpeting as in the living room. This room, as well as the rest of the house, offers an interesting study in the blending of blues, greens, aquas and yellows.

Summer entertaining centers around the patio which is reached from the living room.

The Ben Donaldson residence, 136 Cavanaugh Lake, is a "collector's paradise." Donaldson has a rare Bible collection of more than 700 volumes. His collection includes Bibles that date back to 1200-1300 A.D., the first English Bible printed in America, the Coverdale Bible which is the first Bible printed in English, illuminated manuscripts, scrolls, and an original page from the Gutenberg Bible. This rare collection has been exhibited in various libraries and universities.

Donaldson will be at home during the hours of the tour to answer questions about his books and show any that might interest visitors.

One of Mrs. Donaldson's most interesting collections is a "B & G" Christmas plate collection. These are plates manufactured by the Royal Danish Porcelain China Co. Each year one plate is designed and produced which depicts some phase of Danish life. On Christmas Eve the pattern is destroyed. Mrs. Donaldson has the three oldest plates.

Space prohibits describing many more interesting and original items the Donaldsons have in their home, among which are Tea Leaf Ironstone ware, unusual butter chips, old open salts, a collection of Rackham, many first editions and private presses.

Next week, the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wood, Merle Barry Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jones will be described.

Library Facts ...

Each student may borrow books, magazines, and pamphlets for home use from his school library.

The senior high library is open all day with the services of a professional librarian.

The 85 seats in the senior high library are usually filled.

299 senior high library books were out for home use on Apr. 17.

There are files of materials on jobs, current events, and conservation in the senior high library.

Weir Named To Road Commission

Don A. Weir has been elected to the Board of Supervisors to the vacancy on the three-man County Road Commission resulting from the resignation of Gerald McLaughlin whose business interests are taking him to America.

Weir is athletic ticket manager at the University of Michigan. He was formerly an employee of the Road Commission for years, before Michigan Attorney General Herbert L. (Fritz) Corder appointed him University athletic ticket manager in 1947.

For nearly 15 years, or Apr. 6, 1946, Weir worked way up into a key position in the road commission.

At the commission, Weir in charge of the office, served as clerk of the board, met with and was in charge of buying.

He lives at 11040 Helmer near Manchester.

Chosen from a field of five candidates, Weir received 21 of 37 votes cast at the Apr. 11 meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

The other candidates were Scheffler of Ypsilanti, and former Road Commissioner, Arthur Heining, president of the Saline Mercantile who had been backed by voters of the Saline City Council at a petition bearing 68 names; Sam Morgan, former Pittsfield ship supervisor; and John Cross, Bridgewater township supervisor.

Sixth Graders Send 'Help For Africa'

Good's sixth grade class at North Elementary school has completed a project they called "Help For Africa."

Result of the project, started early in March, was shipment of a box of soap and a letter to Dr. Albert Schweitzer, who is working in Africa.

The project was started when the teacher, Mrs. J. Schweitzer, read a book about the doctor's life. The book was given to the class by the doctor's family.

The Rev. Schnake Will Speak at Mission

The Rev. Paul M. Schnake will be in Germantown, O., Apr. 21-23, as one of the leaders and speakers at a special "teaching, reaching, preaching" mission being conducted simultaneously by 26 churches of the Dayton area. A highlight of the week's program is a mass service at Dayton on Sunday.

The mission project is sponsored by the Commission on Evangelism of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The Rev. E. J. Weiss, superintendent of the Methodist Home will conduct both the 8:15 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. services at St. Paul's, Sunday, Apr. 23.

People of St. Paul's church who require any pastoral service during the Rev. Schnake's absence will be asked to contact the Church Council president, David Strieter.

Saline Girl Wins District Spelling Bee

The two Chelsea elementary school spelling champions who competed in the district contest at Dexter last week Wednesday, placed second and third.

Sandra White, a sixth grade student at South Elementary school was the second-place winner and Joyce Allen, sixth-grader at North school won the third place award.

Parents of the two girls are Mr. and Mrs. Roland White of 222 Washington St., and Mr. and Mrs. Western Allen, 17925 Old US-12, West.

Diane Worden, Chelsea Junior High-school champion, also competed in the district contest at Dexter. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Worden, 118 Lincoln St.

First-place winner at the district contest at Dexter was Linda Heiserman, an eighth grade pupil at Saline. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heiserman of Saline.

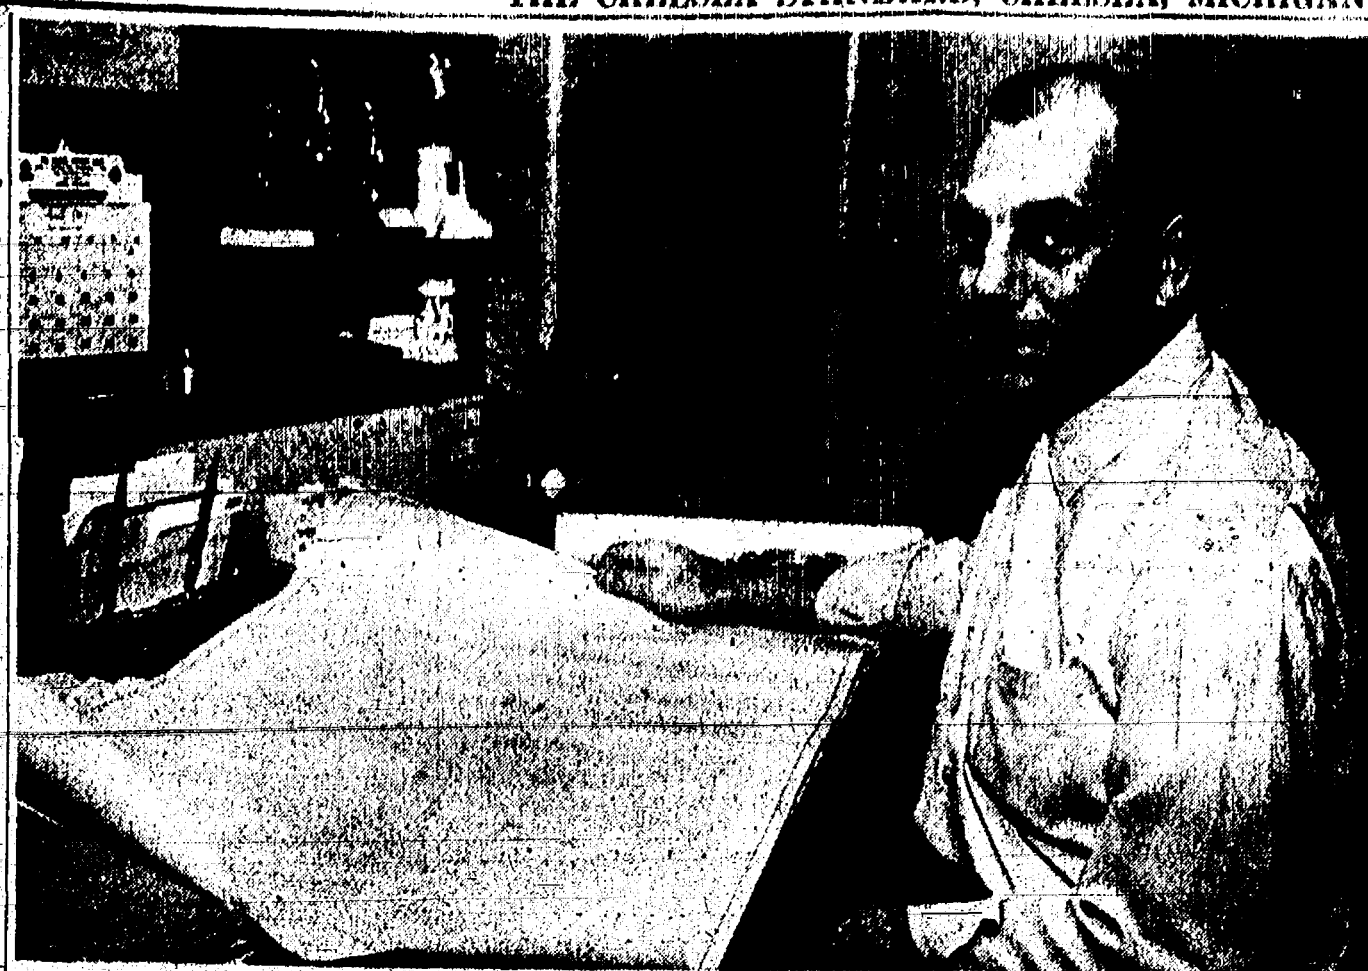

This is the second time she has qualified for state competition, having won the district contest two years ago.

With other Michigan finalists she will compete in the Metropolitan Finals at Detroit on May 3.

Winner of the Detroit contest will be eligible for national competition in Washington, D. C.

The spelling contest is sponsored by The Detroit News.

Everybody stands for progress until it looks like it might cost some money.

COUNTY BUILDING INSPECTOR—At the April 11 meeting of the Board of Supervisors, Clarence C. Hanselman of Dexter, was appointed Washtenaw County building inspector. His appointment was recommended by the board's building code committee. Hanselman, a construction contractor for more than 10 years, was selected from among 50 persons who were interviewed for the position, according to Arthur Gallup, acting chairman of the building code committee. Gallup said that the committee evaluated the qualifications of each candidate by taking into consideration the length and variety of construction experience he possessed, his general knowledge of the building code, the extent of his technical experience in the principal building trades and his career interests and age. Hanselman, who is 43 years old, fills the vacancy created by the death last year of C. Julius Nimke.

Mustaches... Open House Events...

the assertion of masculine virility so ably displayed by the growing of handbeard mustaches but the idea will be a big help in promoting the old time atmosphere in connection with our Showboat.

The community spirit of the men at Federal Screw Works is taken for granted in view of their past performances but the bit about the finest beard, best dressed men of our recent 125th Anniversary Celebration—certainly sets them up for argument.

"I have always felt that I was even more handsome with a hairy facial adornment and intend to go along with the Screw Plant boys in the handbeard department and I wouldn't be at all surprised if some of the other factories, as well as other members of the community, took this petition as a personal affront to their own past proven abilities and spirit."

Upon hanging up the phone at the end of our conversation with Chairman Alber we received a call from Chelsea "Products" telling us that if we wanted some real handbeard mustache pictures in about two weeks to visit their factory as they had a number of signers on a notice they had put on their bulletin board in answer to that of the Screw Plant.

Your reporter then stepped next door to the Rockwell-Standard plant and saw a group crowding around their bulletin board and took a picture of a number of men standing in line to accept the challenge put out by the Screw Plant and given momentum by the Chelsea Products.

We next called Harold Jones at the Central Fibre plant and he explained that his voice was muffled due to the fact that he was talking through a three-hour growth of handbeard that he was growing in conjunction with Chelsea's Old Time Showboat and that the Fibre plant employees would be taking their usual top honors; this time in the handbeard division.

Chelsea Manufacturing Corp., and Chelsea Milling Co., were contacted and already knew about the rash statements of the Federal Screw Works men and were taking steps to "show them a thing or two" to quote Dudley Holmes.

The "challenges" regarding the mustache project were read into the record at the Kiwanis club meeting Monday night and at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday night.

The Chamber of Commerce action included passing the following resolution:

It now looks as if the famous Chelsea community spirit is off to a commendable start.

At present there are 12 sound-proof booths, each of which serves as a private "pipe-line" between student and teacher. This enables the teacher to give special indi-est to those who attend open house in the three departments. Wednesday is a language laboratory which has been installed for use by French and Latin students at Chelsea High school. Students are now able to repeat or respond to material pre-recorded in foreign languages, and to hear their own voices through earphones while reciting into microphones.

The listen-speak type of equipment found in the laboratory enables the student to listen with little or no interruption to one of five master programs through earphones. The master program is so arranged that the student has time to give responses in the native language. Words of the master voice may also be repeated by the student, and in so doing he is able to hear himself speak as others ordinarily hear him speak. Critical comparison with native speakers is thus made possible and necessary improvements may then be made with continued repetition. Tapes also may be and have been prepared by the language teachers themselves.

With ever-increasing enrollments, special care must be taken to insure that the quality of education be sacrificed to quantity and mass-production type of education for students. By enabling each student to work at his own rate of progress, this important factor is partially realized.

Bright students are thus not forced into listening to boring repetitions, as sometimes happens in the classroom. Students of lesser ability may listen to the foreign language speakers more often, and thus bring themselves up to the level of the students who are more naturally talented.

At present there are 12 sound-proof booths, each of which serves as a private "pipe-line" between student and teacher. This enables the teacher to give special individual attention to one student at a time without in any way interrupting the balance of the class. The teacher also has control over the program to which he wishes the students to listen, according to the individual needs of that student.

A choice of five program sources is possible at one time.

Several hundred secondary schools in the state have recently purchased this type of electronic language equipment; 51 percent of the cost being covered under the National Defense Education Act (NDEA), the act which made federal funds available to public schools for certain specific purposes, of which improvement in foreign language facilities is one.

The equipment was purchased from the Howard and Smith Co., of Detroit, at an over-all cost of approximately $6,000. This means a total cost to the school district of about $2,500.

At present French and Latin are the only languages offered in the high school curriculum; however, with increasing enrollment and demand, serious thought is being given to adding a second modern language, Russian, beginning next fall. Improved classroom techniques, together with the proper use of this new equipment, can and will better prepare students in foreign languages. The amount of material ordinarily covered in the classroom can be handled in less time and with better results.

Kiwanis Bowlers Will Participate in State Tourney

Guest speaker at the Kiwanis club meeting Monday evening was Dean E. Lidgard, assistant director of the Forney W. Clement Memorial Foundation project at University of Michigan hospital, Ann Arbor.

Lidgard showed pictures of the foundation's activities for the benefit of children and included a picture story of an individual child patient from the time he entered the hospital until his eventual return to his home. Lidgard said a total of 5,000 children are looked after through the foundation program each year.

Lidgard was introduced by Ralph C. Keyes, Kiwanis past Michigan district governor, who also introduced John C. Dettling as a new member of the Chelsea club.

William Freeman was the evening's program chairman.

Dr. F. E. Sharrard announced the progress of plans for the all-community Show Boat program to be given in June and letters pertaining to a mustache raising project among men of the community were read into the record. The letters in the form of challenges were from groups employed at Federal Screw Works, Chelsea Products and Rockwell-Standard Corp.

Announcements made at the meeting included notice of the annual U. S. Canada Good Will meeting at Windsor, Ont., at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Apr. 26.

It was also announced that four Chelsea Kiwanis club teams will be participating in the state Kiwanis bowling tournament at Cheboygan this week-end.

Guests at Monday's meeting were Norman Mangouli, Robert Reiff and Hale Rice of Ann Arbor, in addition to Keyes and Lidgard; also, J. H. Windell and Edward Kuivinen of Chelsea and Glen Eades of Fenton.

Auto Crashes...

According to reports of the accident, Miss Moeckel's car, headed east, skidded 300 feet and rolled over twice, throwing her and her mother out of the vehicle. Mrs. Moeckel suffered severe head and internal injuries while the daughter's injuries were listed as multiple bruises and cuts. Miss Moeckel was taken to St. Joseph Mercy hospital for treatment and relatives here said she was to be released Tuesday.

Another accident occurred on I-94 in Lima township at 1 a.m. Monday when a compact car, driven by Cecile Y. Dumbrique of Pontiac skidded off the highway and rolled over on its top after the driver apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

The car landed in two feet of muddy water, the impact throwing Miss Dumbrique into the back seat of the car. She suffered only minor injuries and was not hospitalized. Her pet dog, riding in the back seat, was not injured.

Miss Dumbrique is a swimming instructor at DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind.

Track Team Opens Season With Victory

After two previous tries, Chelsea High's trackmen finally launched their 1961 season last Thursday by defeating Brooklyn.

Coach Al Conklin's thinlads won 12 of the 13 events and added five seconds and two thirds for their point total.

The Bulldogs had three different boys who won three events each. Donald Sexton won the 440, the 880 and the high jump. Don was a new school record of 5'9" in the latter event, breaking his own record of 5'7" set last year.

Larry Cattell won both the 100-yd. and the 220-yd. dashes and also tied his own school record of 9'8" in the pole vault.

David MacLaughlin won both hurdle races and the shot put, to emerge as the leading scorer in the meet with 18 points to his credit.

Winning individual events for the Bulldogs were Don Wilson in the 880 and Gary Cattell in the mile. These two boys also teamed up with Al Schauer and Paul Schramm to win the mile relay.

The mile relay is a new event in high school track, replacing the Medley relay and thus this was the first time it has been run. Therefore, the mile relay time of 4:12.7 is a new school record.

Jim Maynard came through with four second places in the high jump, shot put and both hurdle races.

The other Chelsea points were earned by freshman hurdler Mike Schrader in the low hurdles as he finished third in the first competition. Warren Porath picked up 1/2 point as he tied for third in the 220-yard dash.

Tomorrow night the Bulldogs travel to Saline to take on Pinckney in a two-night meet beginning at 6:00 p.m. This is the first of five such meets on Saline's track. There will be triple dual meets involving all Washtenaw Conference schools each night. A trophy will be awarded to the team with the best win-loss record at the completion of the series.

These evening meets give the Bulldogs a chance to run on a cinder track plus allowing the student body and parents an opportunity to observe the track team in action.

The explanation of many automobile accidents is in the fact that the driver of the car did not believe in signs.

Rod-Gun Club Names Committee Chairmen for Year

Chelsea Rod and Gun club's president, Max Heppburn, at the Apr. 11 meeting, announced the list of committee chairmen who are to serve for the coming year. Each chairman is to appoint additional members of his own choosing to act on his committee.

Heppburn also announced that plans for the new club house on Lingane Rd. are progressing satisfactorily.

Committee chairmen appointed are Roland Spaulding, finances; Ishmael Picklesimer, welcoming; Robert Bauer, house; William Schatz, flower; John Keusch, legal; Don Turner, program; Victor Kohnsman, planning; Howard Anderson, publicity; Carlton Hafley, project; Dr. James Shadon, trap.

The list continues with Walter Jarvie, lease; Elwood Keezer, food; George Doe and James Hafner, district delegates to the MUCC.

Deputy Threatened...
The elder Owings was cut on the back of his left hand by the knife. The deputy stopped the cruiser, disarmed Carpenter and handcuffed him. The rest of the trip to the County Jail was made without incident.

At a bond-setting hearing held Saturday night in Municipal Court, Carpenter said, "I don't remember what I did. I'm sorry."

Acting Judge Chandler A. Rogers set the release bond for the Munnith man at $500 cash or $1,000 property and remanded him to jail when the bond was not produced.

CD Test Alert Slated April 26-29
Civil Defense Operation Alert 1961, a nation-wide activity, will begin Wednesday, Apr. 26 and end Saturday, Apr. 29. It has been announced by Col. Gerald G. Miller, Washtenaw County Civil Defense director.

Objectives of the alert are training and testing of governmental functions during a period of "increased readiness buildup" and training and testing of governmental functions during an "attack period."

The various stages of the alert, as planned, begin with federal governmental activities between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. EST, Wednesday, Apr. 26.

State governmental activities are scheduled for the afternoon of Apr. 27, and county and zone activities will follow that same afternoon or on Friday, Apr. 28.

A nation-wide Conelrad alert drill will be held from 4 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Friday, Apr. 28.

For exercise purposes, the Federal Government will assume that during the afternoon of Wednesday, Apr. 28, a deteriorating international situation requires increased readiness on the part of the Federal Government and will further assume that during the afternoon of Thursday, the situation has worsened to the point that general war involving nuclear attack on the United States, has become such an imminent threat that states and other political subdivisions should be notified of the situation and increase their readiness. This is known as the "Pre-Attack Phase."

The "Attack Phase" will begin on receipt of an "Attack Warning."

The attack pattern, the exact weight and fallout pattern, will not be known before the exercise. Attack information will be developed by use of prepositioned envelopes containing radiological information, distributed throughout the county and state.

W. J. Grossman, Civil Defense director for Zone VI, which includes the Chelsea area, said yesterday he plans to announce plans for warning signals and public participation in the Apr. 27 issue of The Standard.

This local participation, for which plans are not yet complete, is scheduled for Friday, Apr. 28, Grossman said.

When people begin to praise you, to your face, it might be a good idea to start an investigation of yourself—and them.

Life is a problem of balance; usually, the bank balance.

Methodists Ask Return of Pastor For Ninth Year

Dr. Edwin Stricker, superintendent of the Ann Arbor District of Methodist Churches, presided at the fourth quarterly conference of the First Methodist church here on Thursday, Apr. 13.

He heard reports from leaders in all departments of the church program for the period from June through December of 1960. The church fiscal year now corresponds to the calendar year.

Dr. Stricker commended the church and its members for their "splendid care of the church property" and for their emphasis on Christian Education and support of world missions.

Robert Rudd, chairman of the committee on pastoral relations, presented to Dr. Stricker the unanimous request of the church for the return of the pastor, the Rev. S. P. Kinds, for the conference year beginning June 1. Appointment of pastors will be made by Bishop Marshall R. Reed of the Detroit Conference when the sessions meet at Adrian College in June. Should Bishop Reed respond to the Rev. Kinds to Chelsea it would make his ninth year as pastor here.

Robert Harris was elected lay delegate and Christine Tarasow junior lay-delegate to the conference in Adrian.

All officers for the new church year were elected at the quarterly conference.

Extension Clubs Plan Spring Party

Members of the 12 Extension clubs in this area, which are included in District IV of Washtenaw county, are holding their annual spring district party Thursday evening, Apr. 20 at Dexter.

The party begins with a supper at 7 p.m. at St. Andrew's United Church of Christ, Mrs. LaVerne Coy and Mrs. Carl Lesser of Dexter, were in charge of reservations for the affair.

The program at the district party is entitled "A Visit to Mexico" with Mrs. Alice Eppler, county extension agent in home economics, narrating pictures to be shown.

Each club in the district was assigned some part of the preparation for the party. Each club may also enter an exhibit at the party, the exhibits all to be in place before 6:30 p.m.

To be eligible, the exhibits must pertain to a regular leader training lesson given during the 1959-60 or 1960-61 club year.

The term of Mrs. LaVerne Coy, senior representative from the district to the Washtenaw County Home Extension Council, expires at this time and Mrs. Carl Lesser who has been junior representative, automatically succeeds her.

A new junior representative will be elected during a business session at the district party.

Area extension clubs included in District IV are Lima Center, Sylvan, South Sylvan, Lyndon, Jerusalem Homemakers, North Lake and Chelsea Suburbanettes of the Chelsea area, and Delhi, Dexter, Jolly Arts, Village and Webster clubs of the Dexter area.

Facts, Figures Given on Four School Libraries

In special recognition of National Library Week, Miss Joan Wiese, Chelsea school librarian has compiled statistics and interesting information which she calls "Facts and Figures on School Libraries."

She headed the list with the statement that there are 1,837 students and 82 teachers in the Chelsea School District and mentions that there is a central library in each of the four schools—Chelsea High, Junior High, North Elementary and South Elementary.

Miss Wiese explains the purposes of the school library are to:

- Participate effectively in the school program as it strives to meet the needs of pupils, teachers, parents, and other community members.
- Provide boys and girls with the library materials and services most appropriate and most meaningful in their growth and development as individuals.
- Provide an opportunity through library experiences for boys and girls to develop helpful interests, to make satisfactory personal adjustments, and to acquire desirable social attitudes.
- Work with teachers in the selection and use of all types of library materials which contribute to the teaching program.
- Participate with teachers and administrators in programs for continuing professional and cultural growth of the school staff.

Other facts about the school libraries, as listed by Miss Wiese are as follows:

Each Chelsea school library has a 1959-1960 encyclopedia.

CHS Baseball Season Starts With 2 Wins

The Chelsea Bulldogs have successfully launched their 1961 baseball season by winning their first two games.

Last Thursday afternoon the Baseball Bulldogs pried the lid off the 1961 season with a 5-4 come-from-behind win over the visiting Grass Lake Warriors, and followed on Friday with a 4-2 victory over Stockbridge.

After trailing Grass Lake, 4-1, going into the last half of the seventh inning, the Bulldogs came up with four big runs to win, 5-4.

The four runs were scored as a result of two hits, two walks, and two Grass Lake errors.

The first run was scored on Ken Larson's single and Don Blalock's long double. Other Chelsea men to get hits were Don Brooks and Homer Nixon.

Three Chelsea pitchers shared the mound duties with Homer Nixon going the first three innings, Jerry Ringe the next three innings, Don Blalock the seventh and picking up the win. The three pitchers allowed just four Grass Lake hits.

On Friday Chelsea spotted Stockbridge a one-run lead in the first inning and then scored once in the third to tie the game at 1-1. In the top of the fifth Stockbridge went out in front 2-1 in a walk, an error, and their only hit of the game, but the Bulldogs came back in the bottom of the fifth with three runs on two hits and two Stockbridge errors. Chelsea then hung on in the seventh, Blalock was the fortunate one, and picked up his second win.

The eight-hit Chelsea attack was led by Ken Larson who collected three safeties, while Charles Keenan, Ed Leamon, Don Blalock, Alton Nixon, and Jerry Ringe all got one hit each.

Tuesday's game at Pinckney was rescheduled for Friday, while the Saline game at Chelsea, scheduled for today, is still in doubt.

The Junior Varsity team is scheduled to open its season next Wednesday at Stockbridge.

Council Briefs

Considerable discussion pertaining to a new subdivision ordinance to regulate the construction of groups of houses resulted in assurance the ordinance, subject to a few minor changes, will be adopted.

Following reports of discussion by Ray Eastman, planning consultant, and John Keusch, village attorney, relative to the rezoning request of Paul Pierce (on which a public hearing had been held) the Council approved a change in classification of Pierce's property at the corner of M-92 and Old US-12 from "neighborhood business" to "general business."

Low bid of Palmer Motor Sales accepted for use of two police cars, one for the six-month period beginning May 1 and the other for the six months beginning Nov. 1.

Upon recommendation of the project engineers, Ayres, Lewis, Norris & May, the Council accepted as complete the village water improvement program. (A few minor details are still pending.)

Thomas Flynn Construction Co. of Detroit, was awarded the contract for the bituminous aggregate and seal coat program of street work for the 1961 season and will probably start work next week.

New York Central Railroad's Main St. crossing repair held up because of the weather. It is to begin as soon as weather permits.

Village Council is attempting to locate the owner of the old pea factory in the south part of the village. Numerous complaints have been received that the tumbledown building is in extremely dangerous condition and should be torn down. Parents are warned to forbid children to play in the vicinity.

Official minutes of the Apr. 18 meeting of the Village Council will be published in The Chelsea Standard and after the minutes are approved at the May 2 meeting. All meetings are open to the public and citizens are invited to attend. Meetings are held on the second floor of the Municipal building the first and third Tuesdays of each month, beginning at 8 p.m.

BIRTHS

A daughter, Michelle Marie, Friday, Apr. 14, at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith, 158 Orchard St.

CYNTHIA HEPBURN, only Chelsea entrant in the third annual Southeastern Michigan Science Fair, held at Yost Field House, Ann Arbor, last week-end, received honorable mention for her exhibit—a shell collection and written report. Her geology exhibit was entered in the general science classification. Cynthia had accumulated the collection and classified each shell under its Latin name as well as its commonly used name. Some of the shells were originally from California and Florida. A total of 267 students from four counties entered exhibits, 144 being in the junior division in which Cynthia exhibited. The fair is sponsored by the Ann Arbor News and the University of Michigan. It is financed by contributions from area business and industry. This year's fair saw a greater number of exhibits than in any previous year the fair was held. Cynthia, a seventh-grade student at Chelsea Junior High school, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Hepburn, 18315 Cavanaugh Lake Rd.

DEATHS

Vincent K. Dault

Dies Friday from Injuries Received in Auto Crash

Funeral services for Vincent K. Dault, of 13956 North Territorial Rd., were held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Staffan Funeral Home with the Rev. Paul M. Schnake officiating. Burial took place at Oak Grove cemetery.

Dault was killed Friday afternoon when his car went out of control and struck a tree on Loveland Rd., north of I-94. He had observed his 24th birthday on Tuesday.

Born at Alpena, Apr. 11, 1937, he was a son of Christy and Louise Burgard Dault. Before coming to Chelsea four years ago, he had served three years with the U. S. Marines on Okinawa and in the Philippines.

Feb. 27, 1960, he was married to Delores Schmitz, who survives.

Also surviving are his mother, in Alpena; a sister, Mrs. Ernest Gagnon (Beatrice), also of Alpena; and eight brothers, Ernest of Detroit; Frank and Fred of Chelsea; Arthur of Harrisville; Harvey of Anchorage, Alaska; Christy, Jr., of Greenbush, Harold of Alpena; and Robert of Spokane, Wash.

Another brother, Albert, died in 1938.

Mrs. Alvina D. Moeckel

Munith Area Resident Dies from Crash Injuries

Funeral services for Mrs. Alvina D. Moeckel are being held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Stockbridge, arrangements being in charge of the Caskey Funeral Home.

Mrs. Moeckel died at 12:45 p.m. Sunday at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, of injuries received an hour earlier in an automobile accident on I-94 near Pletener Rd.

Mrs. Moeckel, the former Alvina D. Ariz, was the widow of Aaron Moeckel. The family home is west of Munith. Mrs. Moeckel was 83 years old.

Survivors are a daughter, Alta, a teacher at Wyandotte, with whom she had spent the winter; a son, Wesley, who lives on the home farm at Munith; a sister, Mrs. Anna Huber of Munith; and a number of nieces, nephews and other relatives.

Mrs. E. H. McKernan

Life-Long Area Resident Dies Tuesday Evening

Mrs. Eugene H. McKernan, a life-long area resident, died late Tuesday evening at Colonial Manor Nursing Home where she had been a patient since Aug. 1, 1960. Before entering the nursing home she had made her home with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mark McKernan, at 26179 US-12.

The former Stella E. Conlan, she was born in Lyndon township, Oct. 31, 1880, a daughter of John and Mary Wheeler Conlan. She and Mr. McKernan were married at St. Mary's church Oct. 25, 1904 and lived on their Waterloo Rd. farm until Mr. McKernan's death, Feb. 1, 1956. They had observed their 50th wedding anniversary in 1954.

Mrs. McKernan was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church, St. Mary's Altar Society and Lyndon Farm Bureau.

Survivors include the son, Mark, and three daughters, Mrs. Jacob Bauer of Ginton, and Mrs. Edwin Braun and Mrs. Francis LeFevre of Ann Arbor.

Also surviving are 17 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

A son, Joseph, died in infancy, and another son, John C., died Jan. 10, 1947.

She was also preceded in death by three sisters, Miss Teresa Conlan, Mrs. Agnes Young and Mrs. Sarah Doody, and two brothers, J. A. "Bert" Conlan and William.

Funeral services will be held at St. Mary's church at 10 a.m. Saturday with the Rev. Fr. Francis Maliszewski officiating. Burial is to take place at Mt. Olivet cemetery.

The Altar Society's Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock this evening (Thursday) and the Parish Rosary at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Staffan Funeral Home.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

On Apr. 6, 1909 Commander Robert E. Peary hoisted the Stars and Stripes at the North Pole and took possession of the region in the name of the President of the United States.

JCC Road-e-o Tests Slated Wednesday

Wednesday, Apr. 26, course orientation and written tests will be given for would-be contestants in the Jaycees annual Teen-Age Road-e-o scheduled to be held here Sunday, Apr. 30. The tests will be given at Chelsea High school.

It was announced this week that the first prize winner at the road-e-o will receive a $25 government bond and an attractive trophy.

Second prize is also a $25 bond while the third prize is a $15 gift. In addition, a special award is planned for the top girl driver—another $25 bond.

Shavitt George Petersen has agreed to be one of the judges for the event.

The other three judges will include a State Police representative and two officials at Chrysler Proving Ground.

The Road-e-o will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, Apr. 30, at the Stop & Shop parking area, corner M-92 and Old US-12.

Winner of the Chelsea contest will compete in the state meet at Benton Harbor-St. Joseph, on June 10.

At the June 10 meet a winner will be selected for national competition at Washington, D. C., July 31-Aug. 3.

National prizes are $2,000, $1,500, and $1,000 scholarship awards for first, second and third place winners, respectively.

National sponsors of the Road-e-o project which stresses safety rather than speed, are Chrysler Corp., Pure Oil Co., and the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety.

All interested teen-agers who would like to be included in the event should contact one of the committee members who are making a special effort to have a larger-than-ever group participate this year.

Members of the committee are Ronald Branham, chairman; Ed. Akin, Richard Salonen and Cyrus Hopkins.

Four Beneficiaries Selected For Profits from Show Booth

Chelsea's Ol' Time Showboat chairman, Donald Alber, reported that 37 people attended the community meeting held last Thursday night to decide upon the recipients of any profits derived from the production.

A number of worthy causes were advanced but finally the list was narrowed down to the four recipients, with the complete accord of those in attendance.

The four are listed as: Pierce Park Expansion Fund; Chelsea Firemen and Auxiliary Police Special Equipment Fund; McKus Memorial Library Repair and Maintenance Fund; and Mabel Fox Memorial Publications Room Fund.

The Pierce Park fund is to be used to expand the park facilities. It was explained that slightly less than half of the park property is actually cleared and in use now.

The remainder has been platted and will be cleared by volunteer labor—a policy that has been successful since the park project was started—however, additional equipment must be purchased.

The second project, for the firemen and auxiliary police, is for the purchase of special equipment such as power megaphones, emergency lighting apparatus, mobile communication devices, etc.

The McKus Library Repair and Maintenance Fund is for repair of the roof, gutters and other emergency items which are not a definite part of the yearly budget. The fund would make it possible to purchase such things as extra paint, grass seed, shoveling, and others, when free labor is volunteered—an important factor in operating the library on a minimum budget.

The fourth beneficiary fund, in memory of Mabel Fox, Chelsea High school teacher who died in December, provides for the purchase of equipment for the publications room at Chelsea High school. This room was started by Miss Fox as an extra-curricular activity for the students. The school paper, "The Bulldog Barks" is printed there as well as class activity programs, schedules, other school publications. The room is to be designed "Mabel Fox Memorial Publications Room" and a bronze plaque bearing that inscription is to be placed over the door.

The ticket chairman, Paul Mahas, stated that these four recipients will be listed on the back of each admission ticket and a ticket-holder is asked to vote his or her choice before presenting the ticket at the gate.

Again, as was the case in last year's minstrel show, the number of votes received by each of four choices will determine the final percentage of the show's profit that each will receive.

Mrs. Howard Walz Escapes Serious Injury When Struck by Truck

Mrs. Howard Walz of 141 W. Middle St., escaped serious injury Wednesday morning, Apr. 19, when she was struck by an American Rug Cleaning Co. truck.

She was crossing Main St. at the corner of Huron, in Ann Arbor, when she sustained multiple bruising of the left side and back. She also was bruised about the head. She was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor, for examination and treatment and released later in the day.

Mrs. Walz explained that she had started across the street when the green light came on. She came around the corner and struck the truck.

The truck driver was ticketed for failure to yield pedestrian right-of-way.

FARM PRICE BOOM ENDS

A prolonged boom in farm prices has come to a halt.

An Agriculture Department report on the farm real estate market said land values took the close of 1960 were at the level as July 1. There had been a steady upward trend in market values of land since 1947, only two minor interruptions.

IVAN LIKES JAZZ, TOO:

U-M Band Makes Big Hit on Extended Tour in Russia

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of weekly communications from the U-M Band, directed by Dr. William D. Revell, now touring Russia. The tour is sponsored by the U.S. Department of State through the President's Special International Program for Cultural Presentations.

By Byron Pearson
Kharkov, USSR
March 26, 1961

Dear Friends:

Here is a summary of what has happened up until now. I will categorize by cities after a brief account of our trip over. Hereafter I will get out at least one article a week.

The Trip Over

The trip over was a very long and tiring one. It was further complicated by several little items such as having to take off a day late because of weather conditions, a 6 1/2 hour wait at New York for our plane to be made ready for the Trans-Atlantic jump, and a general feeling that the tour was off to a poor start.

We finally left New York, with all in good spirits, at about 10:00 p.m. on Feb. 19. We arrived at the London airport at 10:30 a.m. Feb. 20. (London time). In just six hours, we had crossed the Atlantic. It didn't seem to us that we were 3,000 miles from home.

We boarded two Soviet jets at London and were flown to Moscow in 6 hours.

Our first impressions of Moscow were a bit on the gloomy side.

Moscow Gloomy

The trip from the airport was dominated by a silence and gloominess not at all like the Michigan Band's usual attitude. This is the first time I had ever seen any Michigan Band spiritless.

The road from the airport is lined with many old ramshackle houses and everything else seems to be very drab. At first appearance it seemed to us as though we were on another planet, not just in another country. Almost everything looked different.

We went to our hotel, had supper and retired to a much needed, yet restless sleep.

The remainder of our first stay in Moscow was taken up by playing one concert in the Sports Palace and a visit to the Kremlin. The Sports Palace is a large indoor arena much like Madison Square Garden in New York. It is very large, seating a capacity crowd of 15,000. The band was seated on platform in the middle and was surrounded by the crowd on all four sides. The acoustics are fair and the crowd was very enthusiastic.

One more thing should be pointed out during this first concert many sections of the band were using Russian instruments. Many of our instruments had been left behind in London because the Soviet planes could not carry them all.

Our hotel and facilities in Moscow were quite good. We had large rooms with bath and plenty of hot water. As for food, we underwent a drastic change in diet. For breakfast the Russians had a very foul tasting juice resembling tomato juice. This would be followed by a variety of things, such as a sausage and mashed potatoes, or eggs and cabbage or just about anything.

Lunch consisted of an appetizer, usually 2 or 3 different cabbage delicacies and some slices of cold meat. This is followed by a bowl of soup. Incidentally, I have found the Russian soups to be very good. As a matter of fact Borscht is my favorite. Borscht is basically a cabbage soup but it has a little of everything in it.

Supper is the same as lunch only a main course is added, usually fried beef and potatoes. Ice cream is available after every meal. Drinks during the meal are water and a type of soda pop which is fairly tasty. After the meal one may have tea or coffee. Milk is not available. Fresh vegetables are also not available.

The meals contain very little variety so that it was quite easy to adjust to the diet. Most of the band suffered through upset constitutions and rumbling stomachs, for the first two weeks but good health prevails now.

Leningrad, Likes Jazz

In this city we began to know the people a little. After each concert several members of the band would go to the front of the stage and talk with members of the crowd. Interpreters were available but we found that many of the Russian people speak at least a fair amount of English. Also, in Leningrad we were approached by a number of jazz musicians.

In the USSR jazz is frowned upon by the government. As a result, not much jazz can be heard although a great many of the people are very interested in jazz. We have, in our midst, two jazz groups, one Dixieland group of six instruments, and one big band of 17 pieces playing modern jazz compositions. Incidentally, I play in both groups so I can relate these things first-hand.

One evening we were invited by a group of Soviets to attend a dance hall where jazz was being played on the sly. After our concert we were met by several fellows who led us to "who knows where." It was one of those types of places where one knocks on the door and whispers "Joe sent me." At any rate the band was very good. The arrangements that they played were taken down by ear from records and from Voice of America broadcasts.

The Dixieland band was invited to play with several Russian groups. We went to the building where we were supposed to play and found that an immense crowd had gathered to hear the American jazz group. The manager of the building wouldn't allow us to perform there because he was afraid of trouble. We walked many blocks to another building and played there. The people really liked us and we enjoyed playing for them.

In Leningrad we also attended the University and the music conservatory. The conservatory was very interesting. All of the string instruments played very well and very musically. The wind instruments were a different story, however. The Russian style of trumpet playing is very harsh and rough. The players only use two dynamic levels, loud and louder, and were quite amazed that we could play so soft and still have control over the horn.

The quality of the instruments over here is very poor. Most of them are German, Polish or Russian instruments and we find them very unsatisfactory to play. The Russian musicians like our instruments very much. I have had many chances to sell my trumpet. Generally speaking, it was Leningrad that broke the ice for the band. We got to know a little about the people and learned a little of how to associate with them. The band is a great success so far.

MAN HAS NEW EYELID

Houston, Tex.—Don S. Capehart lost an eyelid when he suffered facial injuries in an accident. The doctors took a small piece of skin from Capehart's right arm, shaped it, and grafted it to the eyelid base.

Byron Pearson, who is in Russia with the University of Michigan Symphony Band currently touring Russia, has written to The Standard, giving a summary of his experiences, to date, and has promised to write additional accounts each week during the remainder of the tour.

Pearson's letter, dated Mar. 26, at Kharkov, appears in the adjoining column of this issue.

Pearson, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Pearson, 13940 Old US-12, East, Chelsea, is a member of one of four cornet-trumpet trios which have been creating a sensation in a special rendition of "The Three Trumpeters," by Agostini.

In the Soviet Union, the trumpet is highly regarded by both musicians and audiences. So when "The Three Trumpeters" is announced, the audience ripples with applause.

What the crowd gets, however, is unexpected. With the downbeat of the baton of Dr. William D. Revell, band director, all 12 trumpets and cornets present a fanfare, the band plays for several measures and then the first three cornetists stand and play a trio.

Concluding their part with smiles and obvious approval from the audience, they sit down and up pops a second trio which, to the surprise of the audience, includes a girl, Joan Foster, a coed from Nelson, Wis.

Considerable approval from the audience now is obvious, for not only are there two trios, but the second has a girl in it, a remarkable situation to the Soviets who generally regard women as too slight to play the cornet or trumpet with the high level of loudness they most like.

Down goes the second trio and up comes a third, the audience now leaning forward with anticipation. Playing here are Willard Pearson of Chelsea, Ronald Bell of Traverse City, and Gregory Munson of Valley Stream, N. Y. Their part done they sit down and up stand the members of the fourth trio.

These three stay on their feet, are joined by the first trio, then the third and finally the second, all at one measure intervals, and then all play together with volume and precision to conclude the composition.

The unique presentation of "The Three Trumpeters" has received the same enthusiastic reception whether it is Moscow, Leningrad, Minsk, Kiev, Odessa or Kharkov as the band continues its trip through the USSR as part of a 15-week cultural exchange program which is being made under sponsorship of the U. S. Department of State with all expenses being covered by the President's Special International Program for Cultural Presentations.

Both the Symphony Band and Dr. Revell are receiving high praise from music critics in the Soviet Union.

ENVOYS TO STOP WORRYING

Secretary of State Rusk has told United States diplomats around the world not to worry too much about domestic United States policies.

American policies, Rusk said, are a problem for President Kennedy and his top aides, while "our business is in Foreign policy."

INDUSTRIAL ARTS OPEN HOUSE—This was the scene at the open house held in the Industrial Arts building at Chelsea High school Wednesday, Apr. 12. Gary Ferry is shown at the first machine as he explained to the visiting parents and guests, about the demonstration in which he and four other students were engaged in the metal lathe division. Others in the photo are Bill Coltre, David Kealy, Bob Brown and Don Brooks.

Industrial Arts Department Holds Open House Event

The Industrial Arts Department of Chelsea High school held its open house at the school Wednesday evening, Apr. 12. Members of the Industrial Arts classes explained and demonstrated the uses of the various machines in the laboratories.

While touring the building, guests observed many of the projects which the students had made during the year. Among these were several "ceramic tile" coffee tables, armchairs and plastic projects, a display of woodturning which included a variety of lamps and bowls, electronics projects, and drawings from the architectural and machine drawing classes.

The highlight of the evening seemed to be the casting of an aluminum Lincoln head in the foundry area of the metal shop. Refreshments were served at the event.

Edwin Hornings Engaged in General Farming on 105-Acre Waldo Road Farm

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hornings have lived on the farm since their marriage in 1938. They purchased the farm in April, 1954.

Since the photograph was taken the Hornings have added a glassed-in porch at the east side of the house. The house faces toward the south.

Also built recently was a two-car garage at the rear of the house.

The Hornings are active members of Zion Lutheran church at Rogers Corners. Mrs. Horning being a member of the Women of Zion and Mr. Horning a member of the church Brotherhood. They are also members of the Rogers Corners Farm Bureau.

They have a son, Dale, who is a junior at Chelsea High school. He is a member of the school's Future Farmers of America Chapter and the Rogers Corners Herdsmen 4-H club. He also is a member of the Luther League at Zion Lutheran church.

The Hornings' daughter, Mary Ann, who graduated from Chelsea High school in 1959, is now with the Pittsfield Beauty Salon in Pittsfield Village, and serves as secretary of the National Hairdressers Association.

According to ownership records, Edwin Hornings' parents, the Christian Hornings, bought the 105-acre farm March 19, 1907, from a Lewis C. Kellam.

Part of the property had been owned by Joe Hoffer and an old house from that place was moved to the rear of the Horning house and is still used as one of the farm storage and livestock buildings.

It could not be determined whether there were other owners through the years prior to 1907, but a Lewis C. Kellam was also listed as the original owner who secured the land from the U. S. Government on Jan. 5, 1881.

Edwin Horning and his brother, Ernest, who owns an adjoining farm, work both their farms together. The Edwin Horning farm is given over to general farming and on the place at present, are 18 dairy cows, 10 heifers, 40 head of sheep and lambs, and some pigs and chicken.

Several years ago a test oil well was drilled just behind one of the barns on the farm but proved to be a dry hole.

Among others who called The Standard office to identify the Horning farm were Herbert Jacob, Janet Bollinger, Robert Schneider and James Centilli.

Congratulations to Thomas Register On 50 Years of Service to Industry

Editor Charles P. Lyding, who worked on the first edition in 1905, has just put out the 1961 issue of the world's most massive best-seller, Thomas Register. Without plot, a word of fiction or a breath of love-interest, this opus has, through the years, attracted more readers than "Anthony Adverse," "Lady Chatterley's Lover" and "Gone With the Wind" combined. The Register is used by industrial purchasers to locate sources of supply.

The current edition of ten thousand pages lists 100,000 different companies with 75,000 different product classifications and reflects 380,000 changes since last year's edition. The latest 46-pound book is four pounds heavier than that of 1960 and 4,000 pages fatter than that of 1960.

But, for the placid year of 1965—when there were 77,988 automobiles registered in the U.S., when the Twentieth Century Limited made its first run and the C&N's Overland Limited boasted the first electric lights to be used on a train, and when Paul Percy Harris founded the Rotary Club in Chicago—the late H. M. Thomas, founder of the Register, published quite a book. It weighed a pound-and-a-half, had 1,228 four by nine pages and was designed to fit the pigeon-hole of a roll-top desk. In common with the latest issue, it included in its product listings such items as coffee-mills, absinthe, anvils, horse blankets, music boxes, derringers, dominoes, harnesses, harpoons, lariats, lorgnettes, muskets, quitoes, velocipedes, whalebone. And we would suspect that in 1905 both the absinthe and whalebone were the real thing.

More than a best seller in the book trade sense, Thomas likes to recall the very small manufacturer whose listing in the Register during World War II brought an unsolicited order for three million dollars worth of his product; also to brag that in its 56-year history each new edition contained more ads than the preceding ones. Over 13,000 advertisers grace the pages of the 1961 edition.

We congratulate these publishers on their distinguished career of more than a half-century of devoted service to business and industry—and to remind our readers, too, that their newspaper, which contains so much more than advertising and other where-to-buy information, is the final link in the chain of manufacturing and marketing that so often begins with the Register.

Definition of a Newspaper

A proposed rule defining the word "newspaper" has been published in the Federal Register, but we like this one better. It was written by a six-year-old girl named Diana and sent to a west coast newspaper which published it in the paper's Letterbox. It went like this:

"Newspapers. We need them so we can know who reks and who drowns and who shoots somebody. And who wants a house or who dies or gets a baby. It tells if your dog is lost. They are good on shelves and to make bond fires. They also do good under a baby's plate and to keep dogs offa things. You can wrap potato peelings in em. You can put one when you defrost. They tell about shows and how much things are."

To which the editor of the paper added: "P. S. Diana, they also are good to swat things with, like flies and public officials and things."

Alexander Kendrick, political commentator: "Prime Minister MacMillan a year ago acknowledged that there was a wind of change in Africa and indicated that the white man must not spit into it."

★ MICHIGAN MIRROR ★

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Election post-mortems reach fever pitch a few days after each time Michigan voters go to the polls.

Losers want to explain why they lost. Winners are even more anxious to tell why they won. The 1961 Biennial Spring Election was no exception and may provide more fruitful ground for both winners and losers than most.

At least one reason for this is the fact that the Constitutional Convention issue was on the ballot. In a lot of ways, the spring election "followed the rules" by the book. None of the incumbents seeking re-election was ousted.

Democratic party candidates pulled their heaviest vote in the densely populated areas, especially around Wayne county. Republicans showed more strength outside.

But consider this: While it was still enough to outweigh the vote in the rest of the state, the vote in Wayne county and surrounding areas was down, over-all, from the record number of ballots cast two years ago. Detroit, especially, saw the number of people going to the polls fall off.

Democrats, who won seven of the nine partisan offices contested, relied heavily on the metropolitan vote, of course.

But significantly, the margin by which Republicans won outside was down in many areas. This was not true all over, naturally. It cannot be attributed to any one factor in most cases, either.

One fact stood out in the spring election as never before, however.

Democratic organizations all over the state are getting stronger. They are more active, they turn out a bigger vote and they are better able to count on a certain number of voters coming out in a given area.

In most past elections, a huge turnout in the metropolitan areas with Detroit leading the way was the obvious factor when Democrats came out on top.

This time, Democrats were able to show strongly without the great mass of party-line voters in Detroit.

The lesson seems obvious: Party organizations, which more often than not can mean success or failure in an election, are just as effective—and necessary—out in the suburbs as they are in the asphalt jungle.

Books could be borrowed from any library in the state using just one library card under a program ready for testing.

Gov. John B. Swainson directed Harvey Sherwood, Kalamazoo, chairman of the State Board for Libraries, to try out the plan in selected areas before implementing a program to issue only state-wide cards.

The Governor said about 14 per cent of Michigan's population has no access to library services because of residence outside the city, township or village boundaries within which libraries are operated.

Evidence of success in one area of public concern, and a warning of impending crisis in another may be found in the swap of tuberculosis patients for mental patients now in progress at Howell.

The state TB sanatorium is being converted to a mental hospital. Health Commissioner Dr. Albert Heustis has said the institution can be changed over without danger that any of the state's other TB hospitals, at Gaylord, Kalamazoo and Hancock, will become overcrowded.

He said improved treatment programs and shorter hospitalization periods will prevent any cutbacks in service to TB victims. Making a mental hospital out of the Howell sanatorium points up the troubles in taking care of increasing numbers of mentally ill, emotionally disturbed and mentally retarded persons.

The plan for Howell is to use it for non-dangerous patients such as senile persons and similar cases.

These patients will be brought from other institutions, such as Kalamazoo, Ionia, Traverse City and Newberry. In fact, plans call for a sort of general shuffling to put patients in an institution where they can get sufficient care and still be properly supervised.

The idea is to make room in the Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane for a number of dangerous psychotics now housed at Southern Michigan Prison.

It has required close cooperation among the three state departments involved—the Health, Mental Health and Corrections departments, to make the shift work smoothly.

WASHINGTON AND 'SMALL BUSINESS'

By C. Wilson Harder

With one of the heaviest majorities on record on any issue, the nation's independent businessmen, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, have expressed opposition to the proposal that the President of the United States be given the power to change the income tax rates.

The vote against this proposal was 83%.

There has been considerable discussion along the Potomac of permitting C. W. Harder the president, at times where there is a slowdown in business activity, to reduce or even suspend, for a period, the income tax deductions from paychecks.

While at first blush this may sound like a logical way to meet an economic emergency, such a plan has many dangers.

But probably foremost in the minds of the nation's independent businessmen when they considered this measure was a deep reluctance to transfer any more power from Congress to executive branch of federal government.

The businessmen have already seen the widespread destruction of vast areas of American business and employment when Congress relinquished control over tariffs to permit the State Dept. to sabotage the protective tariff system. They have seen the Federal Reserve Board play double-crosses with supply and cost of credit, and they have seen National Labor Relations Board play hob with everything.

Thus, it would perhaps be nice at times for Joe to feel he could afford an extra buck on his way home, or for his wife to feel she could buy a new washing machine. But that is not going to encourage somebody to risk money in setting up a new business, or washing machine company, which would provide more jobs. Presumably, this could help an already existing brewery or factory, but the problem is not alone that of keeping present employing units healthy but also to promote new job creating enterprises.

Thus, the tax problem of today is not one of adding hasty emergency provisions to an already jerry-built structure. It is rather a problem of reforming the tax system so more people will be encouraged to risk money in new ventures to provide more jobs.

But undoubtedly the greatest reason was the awareness that there is no simple nostrum to solve the present problems. Tax issues cannot be solved by half vast measures.

The problem of today and at least for the next decade is to provide more jobs. More jobs to solve the present problems. To achieve more employment, there must be new business enterprises. For new enterprises there must be more risk capital.

Today, there is only half risk capital available, because government takes no risk. Let a new business start, and it doesn't make it, the starters of that business have taken all the risk. But let it make some money while still in its infancy, and the tax man is right at the door for his cut, whether the founding business needs these earnings to continue.

Thus, it would perhaps be nice at times for Joe to feel he could afford an extra buck on his way home, or for his wife to feel she could buy a new washing machine. But that is not going to encourage somebody to risk money in setting up a new business, or washing machine company, which would provide more jobs. Thus, the tax problem of today is not one of adding hasty emergency provisions to an already jerry-built structure. It is rather a problem of reforming the tax system so more people will be encouraged to risk money in new ventures to provide more jobs.

KNOW YOUR STATE FLAG? Roblee B. Martin, left, president of the Dundee Cement Company and newly elected chairman of the Michigan Industrial Ambassadors, and John H. Carlton, Battle Creek, president of the Wolverine and Federal Insurance companies and general chairman for the 1961 Michigan Week, display the Michigan flag which they believe is altogether too "foreign" to a large number of the state's citizens. They are taking the lead in encouraging wider use and display of the state flag during Michigan Week and throughout the year.

Auto Transport Firm Repeats as 'Safest Operator'

For the fourth consecutive year, a Flint automobile transporter has won top honors as Michigan's safest truck fleet operator.

The F. J. Boutell Driveaway Co., Inc., 705 S. Dort Hwy., captured the grand trophy last week in Michigan Trucking Association's annual fleet safety contest, for the best overall record for 1960 of any competing firm.

The trophy and awards to other truck operators were presented in Lansing Civic Center, after a luncheon at which Welby M. Franz, chairman of the board of American Trucking Associations, Inc., Washington, D. C., addressed delegates to the 31st annual Michigan Safety Conference.

"Transportation Day" is the name given to the conference's transportation division program.

Rufus B. Jones, assistant to the president of Trailmobile, Inc., Cincinnati, formally presented awards to representatives of winning firms. Trailmobile sponsors the fleet safety contest nationally in co-operation with state trucking associations.

A special "fleet safety progress trophy" was awarded by Michigan Mutual Liability Co. to Jones Transfer Co., Monroe, for having the greatest reduction in accident frequency, 1960-1959 comparison.

Wilbert J. Smale, vice-president and director of engineering for Michigan Mutual, Detroit, presented the trophy.

Transportation division chairman was Donald P. Kipp, president, Kramer Bros. Freight Lines, Inc., Detroit. Charles Cooper, president of Holland Motor Express, Holland, was vice-chairman. Secretary was Sgt. Michael J. Sibul, Michigan State Police.

Traffic accidents can be avoided, say the experts, and we think they are right but this does not mean that nobody will be killed on our highways this week.

OLDER ADULT GROUP

Forty-six members and guests attended Saturday's meeting of the Older Adult Fellowship of the Methodist church, held in the church social center.

The affair included an observance of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koenig, and recognition of the birthdays of Walter Harper, Mrs. Myrtle Price, Mrs. John Hasel-swerdt and Mrs. Jennie Hiney.

Features of the table decorations included a birthday cake; also, special anniversary cakes at each table, a larger one in the shape of a book marking the table at which Mr. and Mrs. Koenig were seated.

Gold decorations on the tables included gold candles.

The special cakes were baked and decorated by Mrs. William Jesson, who was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. On the committee with her were Mrs. Loring Bates and Mrs. Winifred Coffron.

On behalf of the group, Mrs. D. L. Gadbary presented Mrs. Koenig with a corsage of yellow carnations and Mr. Koenig with a matching boutonniere.

Mrs. Loring Bates was in charge of the devotional service at the afternoon meeting and showed appropriate slide pictures.

Group singing of old songs was led by Mrs. George Stanford, with Mrs. Philip Brosamle at the piano.

Games were the diversion for the remainder of the afternoon. The May meeting is scheduled to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Jesson at Cedar Lake.

Silence, Please!

From where I sit, Cap is living up to one of our oldest American principles — respect for a neighbor's privacy and feelings. You can be sure a thoughtful man like this never tries to force his opinions and preferences on anyone. He's the sort of man who'll do it or his way to have a hot date or be ready to serve his guests even though he may not prefer being himself. We can all learn a "lesson" in tolerance from Cap's phone booth.

Mrs. Hepburn Named Chairman of Congregational Association Department

Mrs. Max Hepburn has been named Christian Education department chairman for the Women's Fellowship of the Jackson Association of Congregational Christian Churches. It was announced here this week.

Mrs. Hepburn will work as a co-ordinator between the Association Christian Education Department and the Association Women's Fellowship.

She also serves as Christian Education chairman of the Women's Fellowship of the Chelsea Church and is a member of the church's Board of Christian Education.

As the Association's Christian Education chairman, she will attend the Women's Fellowship June conference at Pilgrim Haven, Indiana.

Pilgrim Haven is the Congregational Church camp near South Haven on Lake Michigan.

Mrs. Hepburn was installed in office at the Women's Fellowship Jackson Association meeting held April 13 at the home of Mrs. Philip

Others who attended the Association meeting are Mrs. Philip

Mrs. Max Hepburn

Rusten, Mrs. Robert Wagner and Mrs. Elmer Lindemann.

Mrs. Thomas Toy and the late Mrs. W. H. Skentelbury, wives of former pastors of the church, held association offices while they lived here, but so far as can be ascertained, Mrs. Hepburn is believed to be the only lay member of the Chelsea church to be so honored.

PAST NOBLE GRANDS
Past Noble Grand of the Rebekah Lodge held the April meeting Wednesday evening, April 12, at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Hoffman. Her co-hostess was Mrs. Russell Bernath.

A dessert supper was served to the 16 members present.

Games were the evening's entertainment and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Gale Gilson and Mrs. Victor Winter.

A beautiful floral centerpiece on the table proved to be the evening's door prize awarded to Mrs. Homer Nixon.

Tentative plans were made for the annual "dinner out" at Jackson on May 24 at 6:30 p.m. It was decided that drivers who furnish transportation for the group will be guests of the club for the dinner.

Each member who desires transportation to the dinner is to notify Mrs. Russell-Altsaetter.

ENGAGEMENT—The engagement of Joann Elizabeth Ingle to George A. Staffan, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Staffan, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Ingle of Huntington Woods. A July 1 wedding is being planned.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS

Women's Relief Corps, with 20 members present, including four new ones initiated that evening, attended the regular April meeting Monday evening. Held at the Knights of Columbus hall, the meeting was preceded by a pot-luck supper at 6:30 p.m.

The new members initiated are Mrs. Mildred Hopper, Mrs. Leora Noll, Miss Cora Feldkamp and Mrs. Margaret Dietle.

Birthday of four members, all of which occur during April, were observed. The birthdays were those of Mrs. Joseph Dreyer, Mrs. Harold Knott, Mrs. Lucille Olson and Mrs. Myrtle Price.

It was announced that two members will be recognized with birthday observances at the May meeting.

Mrs. Winifred Coffron, WRC president, was in charge of the business session during which members voted to send a box of sewing articles to the Grand Rapids Facility, a home for aged men and women. Members are to bring items for the box to the next meeting.

It was also voted to place memorials of flowers at Veterans Memorial Park and at the Soldiers Monument at Oak Grove cemetery for Memorial Day.

The May 16 meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Howard Walz.

CHAT 'N' SEAU
Chat 'N' Seau of the Congregational church, with 17 members present, met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Otto Luick and Mrs. Charles Williams as hostesses at the home of Mrs. Luick.

Mrs. William Geddes presented the opening devotional service and following the business session, Mrs. Otto Hinderer gave an amusing reading entitled "The Good Old Days."

The hostesses served refreshments during a social hour which concluded the meeting.

LIMA CENTER EXTENSION
Lima Center Extension club held the regular monthly meeting Wednesday, April 12, beginning at 10:30 a.m. A total of 25 members and one guest were present. The meeting took place at the home of Mrs. Earle Pettibone.

The leaders, Mrs. LeRoy Feldkamp and Mrs. LaVerne Coy, presented the day's lesson on the topic, "Low Calorie Meals."

Mrs. Coy also had charge of the balloting on program subject, "Preference for the coming year."

Following a noon pot-luck luncheon, plans were made and reservations turned in for the spring district party to be held at Dexter at 7 p.m. Thursday, April 20.

Mrs. Alvin Pomeroy is to be hostess for the May 10 meeting. That meeting also will begin at 10:30 a.m.

ROGERS CORNERS HERDSMEN
The second meeting was held April 13 in the Chelsea High school cafeteria. It was decided that May 1 was the deadline for members to enroll. All of the members must have their dues paid by May 11 or their premium money will be withheld.

A recreation committee was chosen to plan activities outside of the regular meetings: Nancy McCalla, chairman; Jim Hartman; Dale Horning; Dave Young; Bob Musolf, a former softball player, said he would coach the baseball team. All of the interested persons signed up. The refreshment committee was chosen for the next meeting: Steve Bristle, chairman; Jerry Bristle; Jim Bristle; Elaine Bristle; Ken Bollinger; David Bristle.

Jim Hutchinson, the county 4-H Agent was the guest speaker. He told the club of some of the changes that were made at the county and state 4-H shows. He also said their would be a Junior meeting April 26 where the rest of the summer program would be set up.

The next meeting will be May 11 at 8 p.m., place to be announced.

BETROTHED—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Meester of Meester Rd., Chelsea, announce the engagement of their daughter, Catherine, to Robert J. Kielwasser, son of Mrs. Dorothy Kielwasser of Dexter and George Kielwasser of Ann Arbor. Miss Meester is a graduate of Chelsea High school and the Ann Arbor Practical Nurse Education Center and is now employed in the office of Dr. J. V. Fisher in Chelsea. Mr. Kielwasser is a graduate of Dexter High school and is now stationed with the United States Army at Fort Riley, Kansas. No wedding date has been set.

WOMEN'S GUILD
Mother-Daughter Banquet Planned

At the April 12 meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Paul's church, a program taken from the poem, "The Church of My Dreams" was presented by Mrs. Thomas Bust, Mrs. Theodore Faust, Mrs. William Osborne and Mrs. Charles Winans.

The program portrayed the examining of one's self in regard to participation in making her own church a "winning, working, worshiping church"—one that is active in all respects, including youth, the aged, missions and the community.

The group joined in singing appropriate hymns, with Mrs. Herbert Paul serving as pianist. Ushers for the meeting were Mrs. Alfred Lipphart and Mrs. Samuel Bohnet.

The opening devotional service was in charge of Mrs. Kenneth Buk.

During the business session, it was announced that Mrs. Ralph Osterle is to act as chairman for St. Paul's church women on a committee of women from other Protestant churches of Chelsea in preparing the program for a united May Fellowship Day, to be held May 19 at St. Barnabas' Episcopal church.

Other business at the meeting included voting to give a reception for Richard Schneider who is to be commissioned for special mission work at a commissioning ceremony at St. Paul's church on May 7.

The Guild also took action at Wednesday's meeting to make provision for sending three representatives to the summer Guild Conference at Tiffin, O., in July. In the past only two representatives were appointed each year.

Named as delegates to attend the Spring-Blooming meeting at the Church of the Most Shepherd at Ann Arbor on April 28 were Mrs. P. G. Schable, Sr., president of the Guild, and Mrs. Emma Seltz. Speakers at that meeting will include the Rev. Amelia Bies of St. James Church, Saline; the Rev. Ernest Klaut of Bethlehem church, Ann Arbor; and the Rev. Henry Kroehler of Jackson, president of the Michigan-Indiana Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

It was announced that a mother-daughter banquet will be held May 12 at St. Paul's church. The meal will be pot-luck with the exception of the meat which will be provided. There will be no charge, the plan being to cover expenses by means of a free-will offering.

Mrs. Alfred Lipphart has been appointed publicity chairman for the Guild and those having notices from the various circles for the church paper, church bulletins or for The Standard, should contact her.

Hostesses who served refreshments at the close of the meeting included Mrs. Alfred Lindauer, Mrs. Henry Buss, Mrs. William Blass and Mrs. Karl Koenigster.

SUBURBAN MOTHERS

On April 13, Suburban Mothers Child Study club met at the home of Mrs. Jerome Kilham. Mrs. Basil Reiley and Mrs. Rush Cattell were co-hostesses.

A short business meeting preceded a lively auction, with Mr. Bob Fitzsimmons performing the duties of auctioneer.

The next meeting, April 27 at 8 p.m., is to be held at the home of Mrs. Milton Rabbit.

CHELSEA SUBURBANETTES

Chelsea Suburbanettes Extension club, with nine members present, at the regular April meeting last Thursday evening, completed programs they had been assigned to make for the spring district party being held this evening (Thursday) at Dexter's, St. Andrew's church.

Thursday's meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Donald Bauer, with Mrs. John Schittenhelm as co-hostess.

With Mrs. Keith Schuelke as auctioneer, a "white elephant" auction was staged.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for May 11 at the home of Mrs. Walter Beuerle. Her co-hostess is to be Mrs. James Roberts.

Members are to bring toys for hospitalized children—a community service project of the club.

JCC AUXILIARY
A regular meeting of the Chelsea JCC Auxiliary was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Meyers, 11497 Hadley Rd. Mrs. Charles Popovich, Jr., was co-hostess.

A report by Mrs. Ed. Akin on the district meeting at Tecumseh included mention that five members of the Chelsea group attended.

Mrs. Ronald Branham, Mrs. George Ellenwood, Mrs. Elton Guenther, Mrs. Merle Leach and Mrs. Akin.

Committees for the year were appointed by the president, Mrs. George Ellenwood, and plans were discussed for attendance at the state JCC convention, May 5 and 6.

A letter of thanks from Camp Grille officials for the Auxiliary's assistance in mailing letters was read into the record.

For the next meeting, May 16, the hostesses will be Mrs. Gene Shoemaker and Mrs. Charles Gelman. The meeting, at the home of Mrs. Shoemaker, will include a barbecue supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hadley

Sunday Open House Will Honor Frederick Hadleys on 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Hadley will be honored Sunday at an open house reception from 2 until 4 p.m., at Lyndon Town Hall in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary. They have been Lyndon township residents all their lives, their home being at 15000 Cassidy Rd.

Mr. Hadley is 81 years old. He was born Feb. 14, 1880. Mrs. Hadley, who is 67, was born Sept. 19, 1893.

The Rev. Fr. William P. Constidine, who was pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church for many years, officiated at their wedding April 19, 1911, at St. Mary's church. Mrs. Hadley is the former Estella Mary Collings.

Their attendants at the wedding were Mrs. Hadley's brother, Ralph Collings, now of Stockbridge, and Mr. Hadley's sister, Sylvia, now Mrs. George Mutter of Howell. Both are expected to attend Sunday's open house.

The Hadleys' family—four sons and two daughters—are Harry Hadley of 15500 Cassidy Rd., Wilfred of 15000 Cassidy Rd., Lawrence of Dryden, Eugene of Whitmore Lake, Mrs. Walter Davy

Hard work never killed anybody but there are any number of cripples who were injured trying to dodge it.

The CHS track boys got off to a good start by defeating Brooklyn in a dual meet 7 1/2 to 2 1/2. All first heats of the 880 relay were won by Chelsea. Don Sexton broke the school record in the high jump by jumping 5'9". The previous record in this event was 5'7" also held by Don. The 440 and the broad jump were also won by Don. Larry Cattell won the pole vault, 220- and 100-yard dash. Sophomore Don Wilson won the half mile, while Gary Cattell won the mile. Other firsts were taken by Dave McLaughlin in the shot put, the high and low hurdles.

HOME ECONOMICS II

Mrs. Straker's Home Economics II classes have been divided into groups. One group is working on party entertainment and the others are working on food demonstrations of all kinds of milk.

ADVANCED ALGEBRA

Advanced algebra students under the direction of Mr. Wesley Cowell and student teacher Mr. Sheree are now studying quadratic equations containing two unknowns.

CHEMISTRY

Chemistry classes are studying qualitative and quantitative analysis. They study this in lab by taking a solution, the contents unknown to them, and performing various tests to positively prove which elements and compounds are present. Then they proceed to determine how much of each is in the solution.

ALUMNI BANQUET

The Junior class is sponsoring the Alumni Banquet to be held at the high school on June 10. The class has submitted several menus to the alumni board for consideration.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Papsdorf, he is majoring in fisheries and wildlife at MSU.

ary decorations created a haunted atmosphere. Cookies and punch were served. The club was very happy for the turnout. Everyone who participated had a very enjoyable evening. Advisor and chapter, Mr. George Bergman presided over the event.

Art I classes have been working on abstract and natural scene collages. Some have taken natural and still life scenes and distorted the figures, creating an abstract effect. Their next project will be to take some simple household object and break it down into parts and paint it in a complimentary color combination.

Future Teachers held a bake sale Saturday, Apr. 15. Cakes, pies, pastry, and candy were sold. Money from the sale will be forwarded to the Miss Fox Memorial Fund. It was decided in the last meeting that Junior and Senior members could order pins.

The club plans to go to Ypsilanti Apr. 27 for a special FFA program.

FRESHMEN CLASS

Freshmen classes are busy planning a return Freshmen-Sophomore dance. Committees have been formed for decorations, invitations, publicity and refreshments. This dance is to be held the end of this semester.

FRESHMEN ENGLISH

Freshmen English classes are reading from their literature books.

FRENCH CLASS

Mrs. Flora's French classes are doing translations from the books.

ECONOMICS CLASS

Economics classes are now working on the exchange of money and all its phases.

SENIOR ENGLISH

Mrs. LaGoe's Senior English classes are now studying Newman, Huxley, Carlyle, and Macaulay. They were reading essays of the Victorian Age.

Latin II classes have been learning new vocabularies and have been translating directly from journals that Julius Caesar wrote. They have also been working in the language laboratory studying Latin as a child would learn it, through sound.

Latin I classes have been translating the Odyssey and have just finished studying the founding of Rome. They have been also learning the declensions for pronouns.

Latin club has set the date for their annual spring Roman Banquet. It will be held May 16 in the high school cafeteria. Advisor Mr. Smith and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. Lane are to be guests at the banquet.

The final plans are being put into motion by the Juniors. The final menu has been set, the dance band has been contracted and the decorations have been mostly set.

Junior English classes, taught by Mr. LaGoe, have started the study of American literature by starting with the colonial period.

American history classes have been studying the administrations of McKinley and Roosevelt and the relationships between South America and the United States.

CHS Band To Participate In Festival

Ann Arbor—7,500 Michigan high school musicians will participate in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Festival at the University of Michigan Saturday, Apr. 22.

The Chelsea High School band, under the direction of David Lindsay, will participate with other Class B bands.

The bands qualified for the Festival by receiving a first division rating in their district Festival. Half of the Festival, the largest in the 27-year history of Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association (MSBOA), will be held in Ann Arbor, with 98 high school bands in attendance, and the other half on Apr. 20 in Grand Rapids, with 100 bands, according to Roger E. Jacobi, U-M assistant professor of music, local chairman.

The bands will play a required number, a march, and a free choice number which will be adjudicated by three judges from the college music field. After completing the prepared concert selections, the bands will move to another room where they will be judged by one adjudicator on sight-reading music which neither the conductor nor the students have seen. The judges will give the director and students constructive criticisms on how to improve their playing and then give them a rating which is totaled from all judges for a final rating.

Local area judges are: Wayne Dunlap, conductor, Plymouth and Saginaw Symphony Orchestras; Clifford P. Lilly, U-M associate professor of brass; Glenn P. Smith, U-M associate professor of brass; Larry Teal, U-M instructor in wind instrument; Roger E. Jacobi; Nelson Hauenstein, U-M associate professor of music; William D. Pritch, Eastern Michigan University, professor of music; George C. Wilson, vice-president of the National Music Camp.

The Festival will be sponsored by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association (MSBOA), the U-M School of Music, and the Ann Arbor public schools.
