Showboat Net Profits Are Divided

Originally set for Friday night, the net profits of the Chelsea Ol' Time Showboat committee and representatives of the four designated recipients of the net proceeds of the community project was held Monday night, instead. The session was held at McKune Memorial Library.

The Chelsea Firemen and Auxiliary Police received 32.7 per cent of the votes of people who stated their choice on the backs of tickets for the Showboat production. The percentage amounted to $13.82.

Next highest was the Pierce-Memorial Park Improvement Fund with 28.5 per cent, amounting to $11.81.

In third place with 24.4 per cent of the votes for a total of $10.00 was the McKune Memorial Library.

The Mabel Fox Memorial Collections Room project was fourth with 10.4 per cent for a total of $4.36.

Additional ticket sale proceeds were turned in yesterday and others are expected. These will be re-invested in the project.

It was pointed out that the amount of the net proceeds of the Showboat project is the result of the contributions of time, talent and effort by many volunteers—the committees in charge of arrangements, patrons, people who participated in the production and those who purchased tickets and took the time to indicate their choice of a beneficiary of the proceeds—and thus represents a real community-promoted endeavor.

The Showboat production was presented June 22, 23 and 24 at Chelsea High school auditorium.

Vacation Bible School Held by Baptist Chapel

John Snyder, pastor of the Baptist chapel which holds services at the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds, has announced that vacation Bible school for children of the community will be held there next week.

Classes will be held each day, Monday, July 10 to Friday, July 14 from 9 a.m. until 12 noon.

Recent visitors of Mrs. P. M. Rosamle were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Manning of Somerville, N. J.

SUMMER STORY HOURS at McKune Memorial Library are a popular weekly feature in the attractive children's room at the library. Story hours are held each Wednesday, from 3 p.m. until 4 p.m. The program, which began June 18, has two more weeks to go—July 12 and 19. Attendance has ranged from 45 to 68 youngsters. Shown with the "story lady," Mrs. Wilbur Hinderer, are a few of the regulars who enjoy the story hours. Clockwise, from left, are Danny Bertke, Betsy Belser, Curtis Belser, Mrs. Hinderer

Burglary Is Foiled

An attempted burglary at the Stop & Shop store at 10:45 p.m. Friday was foiled when two men who had succeeded in breaking down a door at the east side of the building were frightened away as a passing car drove into the parking area.

Driver of the car, Ted Nixon, approaching from the east, saw the two men break down the door and enter the building, according to Chelsea Police Department reports. The men fled on foot across a nearby field and had disappeared before police officers could reach the scene.

Investigation by the police is continuing.

Five Games Played in Rec. League

Results of the first week of baseball in the Midlet League of the Chelsea summer recreation program, as reported by Recreation Director Alan Conklin, are as follows:

Wolverines 13, Pirates, 9
Wolverine pitchers were Daniel Clark and John White. Also for the Wolverines, Ned Blacklaw had a bases loaded triple while Don Dickelman and Keith Kysterer each had two hits. For the Pirates the pitchers were Kenny Dove and David Conklin. Jack Wilson had two grand slam homers for the Pirates, while Art Farley had two hits.

Tigers 12, Pirates 6
Tiger pitchers were Glen Wilkerson, Bobby Hess and Paul Wenk. Tigers Glen Wilkerson, Ron Herrst, George Cameron and Steve Thomson all hit home runs. Pirate pitchers were David Conklin, Art Farley and Ken Dove. David Conklin and Jeff Bust hit home runs for the losers. Ken Dove had two hits while Conklin had two singles also.

In the Little League the results were as follows:
Yankees 4, Hawks, 3
Yankee pitchers were Danny Allen and Ray Holiday. Allen and Chuck Wenk each had two hits for the winners. Hawk pitchers were Rodney Houle, Larry Blackwell and Mike McClannahan who also had two hits including a home run.

Lions 11, Bears, 2
Lion pitchers were Paul Lancaster and Tom Kern. Both Lancaster and Kern, along with Norm Green, hit home runs. Owen Cavender had two hits for the Lions. For the Bears Robert Brooks, Mark Lancaster, Kim Clark and Mike Gucken all took a turn on the mound. Brooks and Pete DePant hit home runs.

Fencebusters 8, Giants 1
Jack Risner and Phil Eckhardt were the winning pitchers. Eckhardt also had three hits including a triple and home run. John Freeman and Larry Gucken pitched for the Giants.

Reds and the east approximately three miles.

A nominal admission charge will be made for the Friday night program.

Boys and girls of the ages 10 through 16 are enrolled in the summer theatre program—some for three weeks and others for the full six-week period.

In addition to Mrs. Sandberg and Mr. Sexton, the staff includes Mrs. Rosemary Twomey, an elementary school teacher who assists with theatre classes in the children's creative activities program.

Classes meet five days a week from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m.

Adoption Announced By Episcopal Pastor

The Rev. and Mrs. Allan Reed are announcing the adoption of a daughter, Martha Kathryn, seven weeks old.

The baby will be baptized Sunday at St. Barnabas' Episcopal church with the Rev. Reed officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Feldkamp and children were in Bay City the week-end of the past week to attend a family gathering at the home of Mrs. Feldkamp's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kirk.

JOHN ALBER

John Alber Affiliated with Investors' Services

John Alber, former owner of Alber Motor Sales for 15 years, is now affiliated with Investors' Diversified Services of Minneapolis, Minn., as one of the firms representatives in Washtenaw county.

A district office of the firm is located in Ann Arbor, while the regional office is in Jackson.

Alber will work from his home here.

Chelsea Team Tops League Standings

Chelsea promises to give any and all Ann Arbor Adult Baseball League teams a fight for the championship.

The Chelsea squad won its third straight game Wednesday, June 28, defeating Quality Bakery, 5-2, to gain a first-place tie with Ypsilanti Motor State.

A late (seventh inning) rally which produced all five runs gave the Chelsea team its victory. There were three hits and two errors in the inning. Jerry Ringe was the winning hurler, limiting Quality Bakery to four singles.

The Bakers scored two in the sixth on singles by Don Jorjunga and John Pichita and a double by Dave Hirth.

Line scores:
CHELSEA 000 000 5-5 5 3
BAKERY 000 002 0-2 4 3
Jerry Ringe and Ouis Richardson.

Andy Andercgg, Doug Horning (7) and Ed Ankenbrand.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Trinkle were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Trinkle of Manchester and in the afternoon both couples attended the funeral of Mrs. Anna Steinaway, Sunday evening callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Trinkle were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Eisele.

Locality Area Phone Service Will Start for Portage, Loch Alpine

Kiwanis Club Rummage Sale Slated

Friday and Saturday, July 7-8, Kiwanians of Chelsea will conduct their annual rummage sale.

According to George Palmer, general chairman of the event, there is a wide variety of men's, women's and children's clothing and shoes as well as many pieces of household furnishings, toys and radios.

Also included are pianos, stoves, refrigerators; in fact, almost any household item anyone might be looking for.

The rummage sale will be held at the Community Fair building on the fairgrounds south of Chelsea. Sale hours are 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturday.

Kiwanians have been preparing for the big event for several months. General pick-ups were held as early as May 15.

Two general pick-ups were held in June—Monday, June 12 and Monday, June 20.

Lloyd Heydlauff was the pick-up committee chairman and those who still wish to make a donation of a rummage sale item may call him for pick-up.

In charge of the sales committee is Dr. J. B. Casey, while Ray Knickerbocker is general chairman of the sorting and pricing committee.

Sub-committee chairmen on the sorting and pricing committee are Jack Fowler, furniture; Tom Smith, men's clothing; Dr. Clare Warren, women's clothing; Harold Jones, hardware; and Don Baldwin, miscellaneous.

Proceeds of the rummage sale are used for community service projects of the Kiwanis club. The sale is one of the chief sources of raising funds during the year.

Kiwanians will take turns at serving as "salesmen" during the two-day event.

The Rev. Donald C. Baacke

Installed as New Lutheran Pastor in Ohio

The Rev. Donald C. Baacke was ordained as a pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church at special services held June 18 in his home church, Trinity Lutheran church, at Avalon, Pa., a suburb of Pittsburgh.

On Sunday, July 2, he was installed as pastor of Emmanuel and St. Matthew churches at Sugar Grove, O., having accepted the call extended by the two churches.

The Rev. Baacke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baacke of Pittsburgh. His wife is the former Audrey Haug, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haug of 19147 Girard Lake Rd.

He is a 1957 graduate of Capital University, Columbus, O., and received a bachelor of divinity degree from the Evangelical Lutheran Seminary affiliated with Capital University at commencement exercises on June 4.

Officiating clergymen at the ordination service included the Rev. Claude Fehon, pastor of Trinity church at Avalon, and the Rev. David Lynn of Columbus, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haug and sons, Arthur and Ronald, and Mrs. Haug's mother, Mrs. Otto Mayer, attended the ordination ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haug had also attended the graduation exercises on June 4 and were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eschbach and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haug.

Observes 84th Birthday

Emanuel Eisenmann celebrated his 84th birthday on Sunday, July 2, and in observance of the occasion had a number of callers over the week-end. Included were Mrs. Emma Must, Mary Ann Horning, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Eisenmann and Mr. and Mrs. William Eisenmann of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hauselman and family of Saline; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schiller and Alfred Schiller of Rogers Corners; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Eisenmann and son, Mike, Mr. and Mrs. Vail and Albert Pichelmeyer.

Progress Made Toward Chelsea Toll Free Service

Nicholas J. Prukken announced early this week that locality area service, approved recently by the Michigan Public Service Commission at Lansing, will become effective on July 13 for both the Portage-Lake and Loch Alpine areas.

Prukken said Michigan Bell representatives are making a private, two- or four-party-line in the affected areas to inform them of the service soon to become a reality.

Customers in these areas have previously been required to pay a mileage charge in addition to the base rates in the Dexter exchange. The mileage charge was based on the number of quarter-miles from base rate boundaries.

An average Loch Alpine customer was about 10 quarter-miles from the base line and under existing rates paid $11.70 per month for a private line. Under the new system, the same customer will be charged $5.70 per month for the same service.

An average Portage Lake customer is now 17 quarter-miles from the base rate boundaries and now pays $16.05 per month for a private line; under locality area service, this customer's rate will be $5.70 for the same service.

Dexter-Chelsea extended area service, also approved by the MPSC, will become available as soon as necessary equipment can be installed.

Prukken stated that plans for completing necessary equipment for handling the service are proceeding well and the customers in both exchanges will soon be able to use the long-sought service.

Area Resident Killed Sunday By Train

Mrs. Eleanor Fahrner was instantly killed shortly after 5:30 a.m. Sunday when she was struck by a train as she was walking along the New York Central Railroad track 700 feet west of McKinley St.

According to reports of investigating officers, Mrs. Fahrner was walking east with her back to the approaching passenger train when the train's fireman saw her. He told officers he shouted to the engineer who immediately applied the brakes; however, the train could not be stopped in time and the front of the locomotive struck her and crushed her body 150 feet down the track.

Mrs. Fahrner made her home with her father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. David Lixey, but had been staying recently with an aunt, Mrs. Rose Tuttle of 116 Park St.

Mrs. F. D. Mumby and her daughter, Vyda, of Marshall, were Friday callers at the home of Mrs.

Summer Theatre Production Will Be Presented Friday

On Friday, July 7, at 8 p.m., the members of Green Acres Summer Theatre Workshop will take part in the end result of three weeks of hard work, rehearsal, and fun. The lights will go up on their production of "The Sentimental Education" by Rachel Field—the culmination of their set building, costume designing, and acting under the guidance of Mrs. Barbara Sandberg, director, and Homer Watson, technical director of the workshop.

Members of the Summer Theatre Workshop include: Marcia Brown, Paul Stapler, Lucy Winner, Michael Umpleby, Martha Belser, Shelley Richardson, Marlene Scheldner, Jack Wolf, Betty Klockner, Cliff McClain, Roger Felt-

inger, Janet Horton, and Paul Lancaster, all of the Ann Arbor-Chelsea area.

In addition to Green Acres' production of "The Sentimental Education," the Acting Workshop of the Ann Arbor Civic Theatre will present "The Neighbors" by Zola Gale. Both productions were chosen with an eye to entertaining the whole family. There will be a short intermission between the two one-act plays and lemonade will be sold by workshop members.

Green Acres Summer Theatre is located in a barn on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. George Frislinger at 13450 Jerusalem Rd.

To reach the farm from Chelsea, travel south on M-52 to Jerusalem

Rd., and go east approximately three miles.

Adoption Announced By Episcopal Pastor

The Rev. and Mrs. Allan Reed are announcing the adoption of a daughter, Martha Kathryn, seven weeks old.

The baby will be baptized Sunday at St. Barnabas' Episcopal church with the Rev. Reed officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Feldkamp and children were in Bay City the week-end of the past week to attend a family gathering at the home of Mrs. Feldkamp's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kirk.

First Successful Typesetting Machine Installed 75 Years Ago in New York

July 3, 1886 is a date that ranks close to July 4, 1776. Seventy-five years ago, just 110 years after the Declaration of Independence, the first successful typesetting machine, operating in the composing room of Horace Greeley's New York Tribune added a new emancipation to the freedom enunciated in the Declaration—liberation from 400 years of hand-setting of type and the gift of wings to news!

Observing the still nameless machine in action under the nimble fingers of its inventor, Ottmar Mergenthaler, Whitehead Reid, then publisher of the Tribune, exclaimed in amazement: "It sets a line of type!" Thus, to this day, the machine that set most of the Tribune's priceless editorial page of July 3, 1886, is known as the "Linotype."

Since that day, more than 100,000 other Linotypes have gone to work across the nation and in every part of the world, casting type for newspapers, magazines, books and practically every job-printing need. Mergenthaler type matrices—in 900 languages and dialects, plus a wide variety of styles and sizes—have helped to inform and educate peoples in every country on the globe.

It is only human and natural, perhaps, that we look upon this still amazing machine as the minor miracle that gave America—all of America—a truly free and vigorous press.

We would never deny that "the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world." But we believe the fingers that operate the linotype guide the thoughts of the cradle rockers—and sooner or later the cradle occupants.

Required Reading . . .

Michigan Republicans ought to mail to every voter in Hamtramck and every other voter of Polish descent in Michigan a copy of the official papers released in Washington last week. Up until last week the deals made by Roosevelt, Stalin and Churchill at Teheran remained officially secret although leaks had been made. But now it is substantiated by government that Roosevelt at Teheran and Yalta and Truman at Potsdam agreed to the annexation by Russia of Eastern Poland and the Baltic states of Latvia and Lithuania thrown in for good measure.

Why was the deal at Teheran kept secret? Charles E. Bohlen, then first secretary at the American embassy in Moscow and Roosevelt's interpreter, and now top state department adviser on Soviet affairs, explains it this way: President Roosevelt told Stalin that the U. S. had an election in 1944 and that there were between 6 to 7 millions of Americans of Polish descent, and as a practical man he did not wish to lose their votes.

The secrecy of Teheran was repeated at Yalta and Potsdam. That was how Russia became a world power, through the ineptness of Roosevelt, Truman and Churchill at meetings with Stalin. That was why Russia was permitted to capture East Germany.

A lot of our world troubles with the Russians are of our own making.

Americans of Polish, Lithuanian and Latvian descent ought to study the records finally being released in Washington. Such a study might change a voting pattern. —Ingham County News.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

It looks like things is both good and bad around the country at this writing. I see where some company in Detroit is making women-sized lawn-mowers for this summer. That's good.

Then I see this piece in a magazine where they has about quit making desks, chairs, typewriters and such things in anything but fancy shades to match the color of the walls. That's bad.

If a company wants pink adding machines and yellow typewriters to match the paint job on the walls, there is going to be complications. There ain't no female stenographer or secretary that's going to work on these things without having clothes to match. That situation could upset the national economy.

The country was gitting along pretty good back yonder when we didn't have nothing but two-toned Democrats and two-toned Republicans, but them car manufacturers come out with the two-toned automobile and everybody started going two-toned crazy. For instant, I was over in town Sunday and saw a teen-ager wearing a pair of yellow pants and a red shirt. But I reckon folks will gradual git used to pink stenographers just like we got used to two-toned politicians and automobiles. I recollect when the boys come home from the first World War wearing wrist watches and everybody thought they was crazy.

The papers say unemployment is still pretty bad in this country, and in the next column I see where the Government is asking for $850,000 to import Mexicans to help on the farms. I reckon we got a heap of people out of work that would rather stay out of work as work on the farm. And just between me and you confidential, Mister Editor, after plowing in this salt mine 40 year, I got a heap of sympathy fer 'em.

Naturally they ain't no unemployment in the Government. I see where the Army, for instant, is increasing its civilian employees by 35,000, giving 'em 547,000 civilian workers, or one fer ever two soldiers. And I see where this column writer claims employment will pick up a heap when the Government gits started on its multi-billion-dollar Federal Road program. Knowing how the Government does things, I reckon it'll take several thousand employees just to work on the detours. A heap of them Congressmen, Mister Editor, don't live on the main road.

But it's a comfort to know, employed or unemployed, a feller don't have to set someone, aside no more fer a rainy day. The Government is now furnishing a umbrella for them occasions.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

THE CHELSEA STANDARD

★ MICHIGAN MIRROR ★

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Daniel Boone had nothing on Michigan mirrods when it comes to bringing home the bear meat. Boone, a Tennessee frontiersman of no mean skill with the muzzleloader, may rank as the most famous bear hunter of all time, but hunters in the Water Wonderland have improved their take over the years.

Bow and arrow and firearm bear hunters killed 1,238 of the ferocious furry animals during 1966, the Conservation Department reports.

It was in the Upper Peninsula where bear hunters found their greatest success, and an improvement during the firearm season, which is concurrent with the deer hunting season, was the reason.

Some 800 bears were taken from above the Straits of Mackinac compared with only 270 in 1965, the department said.

Another 297 bruins were counted crossing the Mackinac Bridge on their way to the food locker or the taxidermist shop during the nearly fall bear season last year.

While hunters who use dogs to go after bear are often criticized by other sportsmen, the department said, figures over the years have shown only a small percentage of bears are taken with the aid of dogs.

The department said 543 hunters reported using dogs last year, only 7.4 per cent of them were successful, bagging 40 bears.

Skill with weapons, rivaling old Daniel Boone, was the chief reason for the increase in bear kill last year but the weatherman had to be given an assist. Conservation experts said warm weather during the concurrent deer and bear season, while hampering the whitetail hunters, kept bears from denning up early and helped produce the high tally.

Final figures comprising the box score for the 1966 legislature showed about a quarter of the bills introduced finally passed.

In fact, there were 1,027 measures introduced, 681 in the House and 396 in the Senate, and 258 of them made it past the pitfalls of the lawmaking process.

Without considering the quality of the legislation, its sheer quantity is formidable.

Perhaps as many as 100 of the bills created major controversy before their passage. These ranged from the routine appropriations bills, which always bring strife, to highly specialized measures that would affect only a small portion of Michigan's population.

A lesson in the results of the 1966 session might be that whatever the amount of sound and fury, the lawmaking process goes on.

While attention focuses on the battles over dollars and the anguish of special interest legislation, a great deal of attention each session must be devoted to the relatively minor housekeeping measures and routine operational bills.

Boaters beware! This is the warning sounded by safety experts who see the growing number of powerboat registrations in Michigan as a potential danger to life and limb, if used unthinkingly.

Nearly 370,000 boats have been registered in Michigan under the federal numbering system, state officials report.

And the number of watercraft authorized for use on Michigan waterways is growing at the rate of about 500 a day. The flow of registrations is expected to taper off by mid-summer, however.

Water safety, like safety on the highways, is the business of the man behind the wheel or rudder, as the case may be.

State Police files on water accidents show an alarming number of drownings and injuries are directly traceable to improper handling of the watercraft. Even the fisherman who stands up in the rowboat is still a major threat to himself and those with him.

Add to the ever-present dangers around the water, the threat from water skiers, skin divers and other new aquatic activities, and the conditions are becoming ever more dangerous.

Food faddists were on the receiving end of a warning by state Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heutis recently.

Miracle foods or food supplements are not magic cure-alls for what ails you, Heutis said. Instead, indiscriminate use of pills, capsules or concoctions can actually aggravate an existing condition or produce a brand-new ailment, he said.

A trip to the doctor may be far better than switching to a new brand of tonic, the health chief said.

A major part of the problem is that a general run-down feeling can often be traced to emotional strain, fatigue or simply not relaxing enough. People in this condition are prime targets for the colorful, but not always completely honest, advertising by health food or health pill promoters, Heutis said.

While many of the claims of the advertising are patently ridiculous, they often are the straw which a sick person will clutch at. Get a diagnosis, and then get the proper treatment, Heutis said.

At this point, there is no way of predicting what, if any, tax reform will come out of this session of Congress.

The nationwide membership of the National Federation of Independent Business has brought to the attention of Congress that both major political parties have pledged, in their platforms, to provide independent business with tax incentives to expand, to improve facilities to compete.

At the present time, it appears that if tax concessions are made in one direction, there must be additional income raised. Thus there is talk of closing loopholes, such as eliminating the first $50 of dividends or interest income as tax free, or making it law that no salesman can spend more than $25 per day for travel expenses, regardless of conditions under which he must operate, or making it federal edict a Christmas gift to a customer or client shall not be over $10.

This probably is not picking in its extreme sense, as the extra taxes realized in this manner would perhaps not finance one day of the foreign give away schemes.

On this subject of more Billions down the rat-hole, Rep. J. P. Coughlin says "If we cannot get enough votes to eliminate the fraudulent foreign aid program, our government ought or at least reduce it."

But Congressman Tom Johnson (D-Nat) Federation of Independent Business

son of Maryland, in discussing the subject, he says "The closing of tax loopholes would permit the granting of tax incentives to small business. Small business represents the broad base on which entire economy rests."

But his idea of closing loopholes is the big one, mainly the vast huge profits of American companies in their foreign subsidiaries which are virtually, or completely tax free.

His contention is U. S. is losing billions in taxes on more than $30 billion invested by U. S. firms overseas.

A leading business publication recently estimated that Palmolive now gets 53% of its business and 75% of its profit overseas. Standard Oil (N. J.) gets over 50% of its business, 66% of its profits overseas.

It is indeed ironic that recently Hickman Price Jr., assistant secretary of commerce, in a speech, called American business for trying to compete for world trade with machine tools made before 1945, while practically all machine tools in Europe and Japan were made since 1950. He also announced with pride that he took part in this government's away program to build up more efficient foreign production, which he feels has caused the drain of gold from the U. S. It's astounding that it does not get through to him that you cannot tax U. S. business to building up foreign competitors, and expect American business to be able to afford the modernization to compete. It's somewhat like a bookkeeper embezzling the firm's working funds, then accusing the boss of trying to operate on too limited capital.

Folder Available On Fly Control

The fly season is upon us. Flies present a constant household insect control problem. Some of the annoying insects overwintering in homes. Their disease-carrying habits should be well known, every possibility of ridding premises and homes of the pests should be explored.

A new folder on fly control now available in the Washtenaw County Agricultural Extension office, Room 110, County Building, Ann Arbor, W. A. Dexter, Agricultural Extension agent, announced.

The folder is F-808, "Flies and Their Relatives." It is written by Ray L. Jones and Thur Wells, MSU entomologists.

It contains control suggestions for house flies, blow flies, cluster or chamber flies, face flies, pomace or vinegar flies and wood flies.

The use of insecticides is planned and instructions given using various types of application equipment.

Some Fence Controllers Can Cause Barn Fires

Thousands of Michigan farmers have endangered their buildings by installing "weed-burner" type electric fence controllers.

A controller that eliminates the danger of burning barns, says Richard Pfister, agricultural safety engineer at Michigan State University, should be used by all farmers.

The Underwriters Laboratories or the Insurance Commission of Wisconsin and ICW standards allow the maximum current that won't start a fire or harm livestock and humans, according to Pfister.

Other states have outlawed the use of unapproved fence controllers, so it's a prime target for manufacturers of weed-burner controllers.

Some insurance companies are reluctant to insure buildings that have electric fence controllers, Pfister says. Unapproved controllers, he would be unfortunate in that if such danger forced farmers to stop using electric controllers, the engineer warns.

"Approved controllers installed properly are both safe and efficient."

The safety engineer suggests three basic steps in making sure approved controllers will do their job.

"First, put fence supports in at a 45-degree angle rather than vertically. Then you can easily mow weeds near the wire."

"Second, make sure insulators have no cracks or defects that drain away electricity. Good insulators get maximum current over the full length of the fence."

"Third, check the controller short indicator every two or three days, especially in the spring when weeds are growing fast."

Farmers who already have weed-burner controllers should make sure the controllers and all wires charged by it are more than 16 feet from buildings. Better yet, they should discard the controllers before they learn the hard way.

★ Tractor Trouble

Considerable interest has been stirred in farm circles recently by a proposal made by an agricultural safety engineer at Michigan State University. He has recommended that farm boys not drive tractors on highways until they have licenses to drive cars. Making the proposal is Richard Pfister, who points to 28 out of 72 tractor-highway fatalities since 1955 involving children under 18.

"All of which has prompted farmer Bryce Doran of Sault Sainte Marie to take issue in a spirited reply in defense of youthful tractor drivers."

"Requiring farm youth to have a car-driver license in order to drive a tractor on the highway will never solve such tractor-highway accidents," Doran says. He feels the only result will be to penalize farmers who have well-trained, youthful tractor drivers on farms that force the operator to cross or use public roads.

"The lack of proper safety training in handling farm tractors holds far greater responsibility than the age of farm boys in preventing tractor highway accidents," the Chippewa county farmer suggests.

Doran insists that a farm boy of 12 to 16 years of age, properly trained and experienced in tractor driving is more reliable than one of 16 to 20 years, but lacking in training and experience needed to become a reliable tractor driver.

In a statement to officials of the Michigan Farm Bureau, Doran reasons in this fashion: "young people must be 18 years of age or take a driver training course to get a license at age 16. This means passing a written test and actually driving a supervised car for as little as 6 hours."

"It is unreasonable to think that a young person with only 6 hours of actual driving experience with a car is as reliable as a properly trained farm boy with several years of experience in truck and tractor driving on the farm," he adds.

"Requiring all tractor drivers to be old enough for a car license is not the answer. Proper training and enforcement of traffic safety laws on the highway is the only way to solve tractor accidents," Doran believes.

Orphan Highway Circles Popular Resort Island

Mackinac Island—This is a story of an orphaned state highway that has no beginning or end.

The highway has a new asphalt surface, but will never know the warmth of leaky transmissions and squealing tires.

The highway is M-185, eight miles long, and circles this car-free resort island off the southwest tip of Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

The Mackinac Island State Park Commission doomed M-185 to its lonely status when it banned cars and trucks to preserve the island's peaceful, rustic atmosphere.

M-185 became the ugly duckling of the Michigan state highway family in 1933 when Mackinac Island officials complained their budget was too small to cover maintenance costs.

Local officials were happy when the state spent $97,000 to pave the road last year, thereby reducing state maintenance costs from $14,000 to under $5,000 annually.

But critics say without cars and trucks bringing in gas tax revenues, M-185 fails to pay its way in the 9,400-mile network of state highways.

A seasonal Highway Department employee handles summer maintenance, picking up litter and waste material gingerly called "animal organic matter." The Park Commission handles winter maintenance at Highway Department expense.

The clip-clop of a horse and swish of a broom mark time for lonely M-185.

New Illuminated Signs Pass Exams

Lansing—An illuminated speed limit sign developed by the State Highway Department for use near schools has passed all of its exams with flying colors.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said studies made at 14 locations where the signs were installed as an experiment showed a "definite reduction" in speed when the signs were in operation.

The signs contain two flashing amber lights and illuminated numbers showing the speed limit and operate only when children are going to and from school.

Motorists are able to drive through the school zones at higher speeds during the rest of the day.

Mackie said the signs are effective because "they don't cry wolf."

"The signs give added protection to children when they are going to and from school but do not restrict the speed of motorists during other periods of the day," Mackie said.

More Interstate Highway Funds Will Be Available

Lansing—Michigan will receive an additional $264 million for Interstate highway construction during the next 11 years under provisions of the highway bill passed by Congress, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie reports.

Mackie said that represents Michigan's share of the additional $1.156 billion to be appropriated by Congress for Interstate highways between now and 1972.

Mackie said no additional Interstate projects will be programmed at the present time because Michigan will not receive any of the additional funds until after 1964.

Mackie said he also was "very pleased" that Congress has extended for two years the deadline for states to qualify for a bill-board control law bonus.

"I am hopeful the Michigan Legislature will adopt the necessary state legislation next year so that Michigan can qualify for a bonus which will amount to between $5 and $8 million," Mackie said.

Donation Parties Brought Pastors 'White' Elephants

Ann Arbor—Gifts of food were sometimes "white elephants" to needy young ministers of 75 years ago, according to Lloyd C. Douglas, author of "The Robe" whose letters are now in the University of Michigan Historical Collections.

In a note written in 1947, Douglas, one-time pastor of Ann Arbor's First Congregational church, described his father's Lutheran pastorate in Indiana in the 1880's.

"My father's salary, paid by six churches, was $600 a year—plus donations. But we were never broke. My mother, who was what is known as a 'good manager,' handled the family treasury. Of course, a dollar went farther then than it does now. I surmise a dollar now is worth about 13 cents as compared with the dollar my father earned 80 years ago."

"As for the donations—each of the six churches named an appointed day for visiting the parsonage, bringing all manner of foodstuffs. Perhaps so many as a score of farmers, with their families, would drive to town, through the mud, in their big wagons and fill our kitchen and storeroom with smoked hams, sides of bacon, barrels of apples, potatoes, parsnips, and innumerable jars of jellies and jams. And they would bring enough fried chicken, bread and pies, pickles and deviled eggs and canned fruit and four-layer cakes with white icing on them to feed the crowd a noon-day feast. When it was over we cleaned house—six times a year, one for each church's appointed day."

"It was not considered very good cricket for the parson to sell or give away anything that had been acquired at a donation party. For that might look as if we didn't appreciate the gift," Douglas wrote.

"One time, when there had been a bumper crop of apples, my mother tearfully reported to my father that we now had on hand 18 gallons of apple butter. What in the world were we going to do with all this apple butter? My father, who was never much upset about anything, said 'We'll paint the barn.'"

Nearly 25 million acres are due to be retired from production under the 1961 Feed Grains Program.

Senator Philip A. Hart's REPORT from WASHINGTON

★ Watch That Label...

Months ago I asked the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee to do a real study of the problems that face the consumers of America. The Subcommittee authorized such a study and Senator Kefauver, its chairman, designated me as its chairman.

We have just concluded three days of public hearings. The first subject for study was the effect on consumers of packaging and labeling practices of food and household products. I would not have asked for this hearing and study if I had not thought it was important. But after these three days of hearings, I know that it is infinitely more important than virtually any of us realized.

Today's supermarket carries about 6,000 different items. The testimony shows that consumers spend hundreds of millions of dollars every day in purchasing these items. As we consumers spend what amounts to 30 per cent of all our consumer expenditures for these goods, how much do we know about what we're buying?

We know just what that packaging and label tells us and nothing more. When I was going to the store, as a boy, I would talk to the storekeeper, he knew me and I knew him, and when I came home with my shopping it was just in a plain paper bag. The bag didn't say anything. But I knew what was in it.

The only salesman available to us today is the label on that package. The problem is, how clearly does the label speak to us? Not as clearly in some cases as it should and as I think we have a right to expect.

Witnesses demonstrated to us things they had bought and some of them were clearly labeled as to content, others you had to stand

Nothing 'Glamorous' About Ulcer, Warns U-M Doctor

Ann Arbor—An ulcer is nothing to joke about, nor is there anything 'glamorous' about it—we must know an ulcer for the dangerous thing it is, a University of Michigan medical expert warns.

During this century, the ulcer has become a "socially acceptable" disease, and some people even treat it as a mark of distinction. "But this acceptance has had an adverse effect upon our understanding of the ailment as a significant national health problem," declares Dr. Charles J. Tupper, assistant dean of the U-M Medical School and associate professor of internal medicine.

Actually the 20th Century has no special claim on the ulcer. The first description of the clinical symptoms dates back to 350 B. C. Yet, no one has been able to explain the exact cause, Dr. Tupper says. "Much of the difficulty comes from trying to separate the physical problems of the disease from the personality problems of the patient."

However, "a vast amount of research has taught us what the ulcer is and a good deal about the sort of person who gets the ulcer." For instance, studies on the ulcer-type show that the business executives have no monopoly on an ulcer. The disease shows no respect for occupation, class, age or sex.

The characteristics of the ulcer-type begin very early in life, with feelings of insecurity, of being unloved or inferior to others. The typical ulcer patient is usually sensitive, tense, hard-working, and ambitious. He flares with inward anger toward anyone who doesn't appreciate him, anything that blocks his way. But he keeps these feelings bottled up; he remains in-

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By RALPH ROBEY

Administration Forecasts 'Boom'

Secretary of the Treasury Dillon made a speech before the Press Club in Washington a few days ago in which he said that at this time next year "we may well be in the midst of an economic boom."

In view of Mr. Dillon's position within the Administration this prediction is of this time. The Secretary cited gross national product as evidence of his growing optimism. Gross national product is the monetary value of all goods and services produced in the nation. It's all-time high was in the second quarter of last year at $505 billion. In the first quarter of this year it had dropped to $500 billion. By the last three months of this year it will be $530 billion, according to Mr. Dillon, and for the year as a whole about $515 billion. In 1962 it will rise by a further 8 percent, and in the final quarter of that year it will be $570 billion.

That, of course, would be an extraordinarily rapid rise. Certainly it supports the Secretary's statement that "there is no need for emergency programs to stimulate the economy." Unfortunately various plans for increased government spending, continued to be pushed in the Congress. They may not be "emergency programs" but they are "emergency" if they are passed, they will have that effect in any case.

Mr. Dillon said that the federal deficit for this fiscal year, which ends this June 30, will be about $3 billion, and for the next fiscal year the deficit will be $3.7 billion, or even more if the Congress does not enact the requested increases in postal rates. It is not expected that the Congress will do this. These deficits, in the opinion of the Secretary, are "entirely appropriate." In fact, he made it clear that he would have considered it most unwise to have a reduction of government spending at this time.

And government spending will continue to rise. For the fiscal year starting July 1, 1962, it is estimated federal revenue will be about $90 billion, as compared with some $81 billion in the previous year.

Some Holiday Fishermen Forget To Buy License

Good catches of bass and wall-eyed pike on all area lakes, particularly in the Portage area chain over the holiday week-end were reported by Conservation Officer Donley Boyer.

Along with the good fishing report, however, Boyer reported that 18 fishermen were given summons to appear in court for various fishing violations.

Eleven men were apprehended on the Fourth for fishing without a license, and another for having an illegally set line. The latter offense occurred at North Lake. No fishing violations were reported from Cavanaugh Lake but there were arrests made at Half Moon, Whitmore and Portage lakes and on the Huron River, Boyer said.

Two men—Furt Harrin, 45, and Gerald J. Kociemba, 22, both of Detroit, appeared before Justice of the Peace Chandler Rogers on Monday and pleaded guilty to charges of fishing without a license and each paid fine and costs of $12.30. They were picked up Sunday on the Huron River.

Other offenders are scheduled to appear in court during the coming week, Boyer said.

Gerald Bahnmiller Purchases Lockwood Funeral Home in Saline

Gerald O. Bahnmiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bahnmiller who now make their home in Manchester, has purchased the former Lockwood Funeral Home at Saline, taking possession of the business Saturday, July 1.

Francis Lockwood, who had operated the funeral home since 1950, in announcing the sale said he sold the business for reasons of health. He and his wife will continue to live in Saline.

Bahnmiller had been employed by the Muehlberg Funeral Chapel of Ann Arbor the past 14 years. He has changed the name of the business at Saline to Bahnmiller Funeral Home.

Fireworks Witnessed by Huge Crowd

"Biggest ever" was the description of the fireworks display at the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds the evening of July 4. It was estimated that more than 1,000 people witnessed the display at the Fairgrounds.

Parking area on the grounds was filled to capacity and cars were parked along Old US-12, old Chelsea-Manchester Rd., M-92, and along Wilkinson St.

In addition, area residents were able to watch from their homes.

The display began on schedule, a few minutes after 9 p.m. and continued for 45 minutes.

Co-ordinated effort on the part of all Legion committees resulted in presenting the display in a most efficient and orderly manner, with the utmost safety precautions.

Elton Guenther was again chairman in charge of the fireworks display, a position he has filled for the past few years at each of the annual Legion-sponsored displays.

On the committee with him were Ray Lutovsky, Richard Schanz and Donald Doll.

This year's extra big fireworks display was made possible by a contribution from the Kiwanis club of Chelsea added to the amount set aside for the annual project by Herbert J. McKune Post No. 91.

An ice cream social, held in connection with the Fourth of July celebration for the convenience of the public, was in charge of Keith Boylan as chairman.

Outgoing Legion Commander William Blaess credited the success of the Fourth of July community project to the fine co-operation of every Legionnaire.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fletcher of Asheville, N. C., and Kathleen Barden of South Haven, were recent houseguests of the former's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elba Gage, Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. Gage spent the day at Flint as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Labo and family. The Fletchers left Saturday for Asheville.

DEATHS

Jean C. Sorensen Former Chelsea Resident Dies After Long Illness

Jean C. Sorensen, formerly of Chelsea, died Friday at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, following a six-month illness. She was 87 years old.

Born March 31, 1924, in Detroit, she was a daughter of Edward and Alice Birch Sorensen. She graduated from Dexter High school in 1942 and attended the University of Michigan from 1943 until 1945 when she joined the WAVES. She returned to the University to graduate in 1947. She was employed as a medical technician at University Medical Center.

She and her parents lived in Dexter for a number of years and following her military service she lived in Chelsea for approximately 10 years before going to Ann Arbor. Her home in Ann Arbor was at 2800 Easy St.

Miss Sorensen was a member of the Church of the Good Shepherd at Ann Arbor.

Surviving are her father of Phoenix, Ariz.; a brother, Hugh of Costa Mesa, Calif.; and two nieces and a nephew.

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. Monday in the Muehlberg Chapel, Ann Arbor, with the Rev. Richard E. Crusius officiating. Burial took place at Vermont cemetery, on Chelsea-Manchester Rd., Chelsea.

Mrs. Herman Haas of 9081 Seio Church Rd., died Monday night at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, following a week's illness. She was 80 years old.

Born Aug. 12, 1880, in Lodi township, she was the former Louise W. Neyer, a daughter of August and Fredericka Dremeyer Neyer. She and Mr. Haas were married April 18, 1906.

She was a member of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church.

Surviving are her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Conrad Thomas (Rubene) of Freedom township and Mrs. Nelson Palmer (Marian) of Ann Arbor.

Also surviving is one granddaughter, Mary Jane Palmer of Ann Arbor.

Funeral services are being held at 1:30 p.m. today (Thursday) at the Muehlberg Funeral Chapel, Ann Arbor, with the Rev. Paul M. Schnake officiating. Burial will take place at Arborcrest cemetery, Ann Arbor.

Sturgis Couple Escapes as Car Overturns on I-94

Eric Sheldon, 20, and Barbara Mead, 18, both of Sturgis, escaped serious injury Monday when their car rolled over twice on I-94 near Fletcher Rd.

Accident reports stated that Sheldon, driving east on I-94, apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The car went off the road, careened on to the median strip for 160 feet, and then rolled over twice, demolishing the 1959-model auto. Sheldon and Miss Mead were taken to St. Joseph Mercy hospital for treatment of body bruises.

Just try to remember to drive carefully and you might make your automobile journeys more en-

SCOTLAND HAIRDO RAGE

Glasgow, Scotland — A leading barber reported the latest rage is the John F. Kennedy hairdo—a mop on-top, parted on the side.

The young Scots are giving up the crew cut and are going to try the Kennedy style because they think it makes them look older and more mature.

The older men are coming in to get this type of haircut because they think it makes them look younger.

LUCKY WRONG NUMBER

Providence, R.I. — A wrong number, William Horowitz might have saved a man's life.

A cry for help came from the other end of the line: "I'm dying."

Thinking it might be a hoax Horowitz asked the man's name and phone number. He dialed back and got the same plea, then called police.

Patrolmen checked the address and found Anthony J. Lancor, 74, who was suffering from a heart attack.

St. Paul's Pastor Leaving Monday On Vacation Trip

The Rev. and Mrs. Paul M. Schnake and family will leave Monday on a vacation trip. They will go first to Tonawanda, N.Y., where they will be joined by the Rev. Arthur Van Camp and family for a camping trip. They plan to spend some time in Maine if the weather is favorable.

The Rev. Van Camp is a former classmate of the Rev. Schnake.

During the Rev. Schnake's absence, services will be held as usual, continuing the summer time schedule—8:45 a.m. for Sunday school and 10 a.m. for the single worship service.

On July 16, the Rev. E. J. Weiss, superintendent of the Methodist Home, will be the guest minister.

On July 23, the Rev. A. H. Meyer of the Evangelical Home for Children and the Aged at Detroit will conduct the service and on July 30, the Rev. Walter Morford of Albion, will be in charge of the service.

The Rev. Schnake will return to take charge of the Sept. 3 service which will be the final one of the summer schedule—only one service at 10 a.m.

Park Permit Sales Exceed Early Estimate

Lansing—Receipts from parks permit sales rose to $126,570 through the end of May, more than enough to pay the first year's obligation for the principal and interest on the opening bond issue of $2,000,000 approved early in June by the Conservation Commission.

Annual permit sales were nearly 42 percent above the January-May estimate, bringing in some $106,460. Daily permit sales reflected the drop in general attendance caused by cold weather this spring. They fell almost 60 percent short of early expectations with their receipts totaling about $20,110.

Department officials, and bonding attorneys are working out details to schedule a bond sale which will provide $2,000,000 for parks improvements and lands acquisition under the first series of bonds. They hope to hold the sale in July, pending action by the State Municipal Finance Commission which must approve the bonds before they may be advertised.

Group Organizes To Promote Howell Honeysweet Melon

Howell — A Michigan Howell Honeysweet Melon Commission, composed of leading state business, agricultural scientists, educators, marketing and promotion experts, has been formed to aid in plans for increasing production and extensive promotion of the famous premium fruit.

The stamped and branded "Howell Honeysweet" melon, long recognized as one of the nation's finest melons, is noted for an unusual, delicate nut-sweet flavor and fine texture. It has been grown in Livingston county for more than 30 years. However, because the prized melons require expert scientific handling in starting and growing the plants and in harvesting and handling the crop, demand has usually ranged far ahead of supply annually.

The commission has been formed with the hope of overcoming this hurdle. Thomas Kizer, commission chairman explained: "Each committee member is a specialist in his own field who is voluntarily giving of his efforts in this project simply because they recognize the melon as a particularly outstanding Michigan fruit which shows great promise of being developed into a major agricultural specialty."

Kizer pointed out some of the care that must be used to produce such superior melons. The plants are started from seed in sterilized earth. The growing plants are planted through miles of plastic covering—thus no Howell Honeysweet melon ever touches the earth, eliminating mold and brown soft spots. To pollinate them, two hives of bees are placed in each field.

The commission will work with the growers and local backers of the expansion plan to learn new methods or shortcuts in growing and handling to increase the total

THE CHELSEA STANDARD Commercial Printing

Resurrected 1903 Issue of The Standard Describes McKune-Hayes Wedding

Paula and Donald Otto brought the Standard office some time ago a copy of The Chelsea Standard dated April 10, 1903, which had found among keepsakes their home. They believed their father had kept the paper because it contained an account of wedding of special interest to them.

W. P. Schink & Co. in an advertisement on the front page of the Standard, 1903 paper, listed in wool, ingrain, rugs, extra in handsome oriental and designs in sizes 7x9 ft. to 12x12 ft. at $5, $6, $7, $8, $9, $10, $11, $12, $13, $14, $15, $16, $17, $18, $19, $20, $21, $22, $23, $24, $25, $26, $27, $28, $29, $30, $31, $32, $33, $34, $35, $36, $37, $38, $39, $40, $41, $42, $43, $44, $45, $46, $47, $48, $49, $50, $51, $52, $53, $54, $55, $56, $57, $58, $59, $60, $61, $62, $63, $64, $65, $66, $67, $68, $69, $70, $71, $72, $73, $74, $75, $76, $77, $78, $79, $80, $81, $82, $83, $84, $85, $86, $87, $88, $89, $90, $91, $92, $93, $94, $95, $96, $97, $98, $99, $100.

The feature story on the front page was a detailed report of the wedding of Agnes McKune, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy McKune, and Dennis Hayes, described as an "eminent Detroit lawyer."

The ceremony, the story relates, was performed by the Rev. Fr. Considine at St. Mary's church on April 15, 1903.

The description continued as follows: "The bridal party arrived in carriages at the appointed hour and proceeded at once toward the altar. First came the bridesmaid, Miss Alice Long of Jackson, upon the arm of the groom.

"They were followed by the bride with her brother, Herbert, who acted as best man. The bride wore a traveling suit of blue tulle, trimmed with cream lace. She also wore a black picture hat trimmed with pink roses and carried a prayer book.

"M. P. Barden sang 'The Palmers' and 'O Salutaris' and Louis Burg sang 'Ave Maria.' Miss Clark, at the organ, also did much to add to the impressive beauty of the occasion.

"Following the church service the guests returned to the McKune home and sat down to a delightful wedding breakfast. The table was resplendent with a beautiful array of cut glass, painted china and silver. The repast was under the direction of Miss Nen Wilkinson."

The account of the wedding also went into detail about a bachelor dinner given at the Russell House in Detroit earlier in the week and about an "impromptu gathering" the evening before the wedding at the McKune house, which "in readiness for the following day, was decorated with amilax, palms, ferns and cut flowers."

Photographs of the bride and bridegroom also were included, showing the bridegroom as a handsome man and the bride as a very attractive woman.

Inquiry the past week among distant relatives of the couple, brought out the sad fact that the bride died a year or so following her marriage. She and Mr. Hayes had made their home in Detroit following their wedding.

J. Edward McKune, whose widow bequeathed the McKune House to be used as McKune Memorial Library, was a brother of Agnes McKune Hayes.

Japanese Beetle Traps Set Out

Nearly 10,000 Japanese beetle traps to detect the presence of one of the most voracious destroyers of vegetation are being set out in the state under the cooperative program between the Federal and State departments of agriculture.

Work of setting out the traps is expected to be finished by early July. The trap is a yellow lantern-like metallic device that is suspended on metal rods about three feet above the ground. Such a trap is baited with aromatic oils. The oil is not poisonous but should not be taken internally.

A trap will attract a Japanese beetle within a 500-foot radius. The purpose of trapping is to indicate the presence of beetles so that control programs may be instituted. Traps are not control devices in themselves.

Director G. S. McIntyre of the Michigan Department of Agriculture says the Japanese beetle is one of the most dangerous insect pests in the middle west today. It is known to feed on 250 different kinds of vegetation including field crops, lawns, fruits, vegetables and shrubs.

The insect has a metal green head and copper colored wings. It has white dots under its wings, which are positive identification. Laymen often confuse rose chafers for Japanese beetles although there are marked differences.

Many of the Japanese beetle traps will be placed in the metropolitan Detroit area. There also will be a concentration in Monroe and Lenawee counties where for the past two years there has been

California Minister To Speak at Fair Sunrise Service

Dr. Raymond Lindquist, minister of the First Presbyterian church of Hollywood, Calif., will be the main speaker for the Michigan State Fair 11th annual Sunrise Service to be held Sunday, Sept. 3, at the State Fairgrounds in Detroit.

Dr. Lindquist, president of the Board of National Missions of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States, is minister of one of the largest congregations in the country.

The State Fair service, held outdoors in the Music Shell on the first Sunday of the 10-day event, annually attracts from 8,000 to 10,000 worshippers.

Past speakers included: Judge Luther Youngdahl; Dr. Charles B. Tompkins; Rev. Colin W. Williams; Dr. Louis H. Evans; Dr. Eugene Carson Blake; Bishop Gerald Kennedy; Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg; Dr. Reuben K. Youndahl and Bishop James A. Pike.

The service is co-sponsored by the Detroit Council of Churches and is one of the greatest religious mass meetings in the country.

The announcement of Dr. Lindquist's acceptance was made jointly by Dr. Merrill Lenox, executive director of the Detroit and Michigan Council of Churches and Donald L. Swanson, State Fair general manager.

"People who have no money to speak of just have to do their own talking."

Portage Lake Boy Cut by Object Thrown by Mower

A five-year-old Portage Lake boy suffered a deep back laceration Sunday when he was hit by a sharp object thrown from a power lawn mower at his home.

James Barkley was taken to St. Joseph Mercy hospital after the accident. Doctors released him after taking 16 stitches in the wound, sheriff's deputies said.

Officers said the boy was standing about 12 feet away from the power mower which was operated by his 10-year-old brother, Richard. A sharp object—deputies said what it was is not known—was picked up by the machine and thrown into the air, hitting James in the back.

The injured youth is a grandson of Mrs. Blanche Barkley.

4-H Club Week Set at MSU Campus

Sharon Hall and Robert McCrooy, Washtenaw county 4-H club agents, report that approximately 90 Washtenaw county 4-H club members will be joining club members from throughout the lower peninsula of Michigan at the annual 4-H Club Week from July 11-14, at Michigan State University.

The delegates will be staying in Shaw dormitory on the campus and attending many educational, recreational, and fun-filled activities.

The club week program will be organized on the basis of 20 countries. Delegates will become "citizens" of these countries and learn things about the people, customs, songs, dances, and governments. Washtenaw's delegates will become "citizens" of Pakistan and Switzerland.

Each delegate will have a chance to select three choices from a group of 22 careers. These choices are designed to guide them when making a choice of a future career. They may also tour the State Capitol Building in Lansing.

They will also have a chance to take advantage of the many recreational facilities of MSU's campus.

Two Washtenaw county 4-H leaders will be accompanying the members for Club Week.

On Wednesday, July 12, during Club Week will be the interview and initiation of State Service Club members. Those nominated from Washtenaw county are Barbara Marshall of Ann Arbor and Carol Reddeman of Chelsea. All State 4-H Service Club members are invited to attend the program and initiation ceremony at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium at MSU. There will be a party at the American Legion Hall for all State 4-H Service Club members following the initiation ceremony.

Two of Washtenaw county's outstanding 4-H club members will be interviewed on Wednesday, July 12 for an award trip which will be given two outstanding Michigan 4-H members. This trip will be to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago in November. Those participating from Washtenaw county are Carol Reddeman and Richard Haist of Chelsea.

I-94 Bridges from Dearborn To Ypsilanti Will Be Rebuilt

Lansing—Eighteen bridges built nearly 20 years ago as part of a wartime emergency highway construction project will be rebuilt starting Wednesday.

The spans, located at nine intersections between Dearborn and Ypsilanti, are on the oldest section of Interstate 94 Freeway.

I-94 west of Detroit was formerly known as the Detroit Industrial Expressway. The highway was built to serve scores of vital war plants in the area, including the Willow Run bomber plant.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the bridges were built entirely of concrete because all steel went into the war effort at the time.

"Methods designed to prolong the life of concrete were not in general use at the time and as a result were not employed on these spans," Mackie said.

"As a result, heavy traffic and chemicals used to thaw ice and snow have caused the bridges to deteriorate to the point where new decks must be put in."

The first major traffic alteration resulting from the bridge renovation program will occur Wednesday when the east and westbound off ramps will be closed at Telegraph Rd.

Other bridges to be rebuilt are located at Rutland Dr., Oakwood Blvd., Ecorse Rd. (M-17), Inkster Rd., Middlebelt Rd., Wayne Rd. and Shook Rd.

A 50-mile-per-hour maximum speed limit will be posted throughout the 15-mile-long construction area and traffic speeds will be lower in the immediate vicinity of construction work.

"Detours and traffic restrictions may create heavy congestion along the freeway where the work is going on, particularly during rush hours in the morning and evenings," Mackie said. "But everything possible will be done to minimize it. Motorists may find it advisable to seek alternate routes during these peak periods."

Westbound traffic on I-94 will be able to exit at Michigan Ave. at the west Detroit city limits, Southfield Rd., Ecorse Rd., Middlebelt Rd., Southfield Rd. and Telegraph Rd.

All other entrances and exits in the area will be closed during most of the construction period. Both east and westbound freeway traffic will be maintained at all times but will be restricted.

From Rutland Dr. to Beech Daly Rd., traffic around the construction sites will be reduced to two lanes in each direction. From Ecorse Rd. west to the end of the project at Shook Rd., traffic at construction sites will be maintained with one lane in each direction.

HOW'S Your P.D.Q.?

WE SAVE A LOT—The same auto insurance costs $91 less in Michigan than the average of the six other most populous states; $42 less than the average for all states.

BUT WE'RE RISKING IT—Insurance cost is based on the number of accidents, times the cost per accident—and both have been increasing for more than two years.

PROTECTIVE DRIVING PAYS!

Jump in Auto Accidents May Force Insurance Rate Hike

The rising economic toll of Michigan auto accidents should be an incentive for more accident prevention effort, State Insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford suggested today.

Noting that the insurance industry has reported a $13,000,000 increase in auto insurance loss caused by Michigan accidents in 1960, Commissioner Blackford said:

"This naturally raises the question of whether auto insurance companies will seek higher rates. That decision, of course, rests with the individual companies. It will depend on how many of the increase any company has experienced, and how it applies to the various injury and property damage coverages. In view of the loss trend of the past two years, however, it is not unlikely that some rate increase filings may result."

The commissioner pointed out that in both 1960 and 1959, the auto insurance loss increase was approximately 10 percent. In both years, there were substantial increases in auto accident volume, after three years of decreasing volume. In 1958-59, the 1959 increase was 11,000 accidents, 20,000 injuries, and 123 deaths.

He explained that competition among insurance companies tends to restrain rate increases, but that a continuing loss increase eventually requires higher rates.

"Michigan auto insurance rates are among the most favorable in the country," the commissioner said. "This means a real saving for every individual, and is important to the economy of the state. It is a condition well worth preserving by a little extra alertness and caution at the wheel. Statisticians' considerations dictate every effort to reduce last year's 1,000 deaths, 91,000 injuries, and 210,000 accidents. The economic consideration is equally great for reducing the $142,000,000 of auto insurance loss and additional millions in life and health insurance payments which last year's accidents required."

NOW HEAR THIS, BOATERS: All hands on deck for a few simple, basic Rules of the Road in addition to those shown above. When overtaking another boat you must keep clear of the craft you're passing. Boats coming out of slips into open water, or leaving berths at piers and wharves, have no rights until they are entirely clear. Fishing boats have right of way whether they are anchored or underway with nets, lines or trawls out. Take it easy when passing a fishing party. Under Michigan law, water skiing, water sledding, and surfboarding by boat are prohibited from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise. One last reminder before shoving off: Written rules give you certain rights, but don't insist upon them when it will lead to confusion or possibly an accident. Always respect the rights of other boaters to the hilt and be ready to give in a little on yours for the sake of safety.

Boaters Required To Follow Rigid 'Rules of the Road'

Lansing—Although your boat and equipment may be the envy of the waterways, their value is secondary to your boating habits. To stamp yourself as a good boater and thus earn a much more important kind of admiration, you must follow the Rules of the Road.

These rules are just as fundamental to safety on Michigan's waterways as they are on a highway. This includes rules implied by the dictates of common sense and common courtesy as well as those specifically spelled out by law.

Written rules give you certain rights, but don't insist upon them when it will lead to confusion or possibly an accident. Always respect the rights of other boaters to the hilt, but, at the same time, be ready to give in a little on yours for the sake of safety.

In essence, Michigan pleasure boat operators must comply with part or all of these sets of rules. They include: (1) International Rules for ocean waters including the Great Lakes as part of this "highway" system; (2) Inland Rules; and (3) special rules only for the Great Lakes and their connecting and tributary waters.

If you are going to use waters where traffic is controlled by one or more of these major sets of rules, get an official Coast Guard motorboat pamphlet from local marine inspection offices in Detroit, Ludington, or St. Ignace.

There are a few simple, basic Rules of the Road which, with very minor exceptions, apply everywhere.

1. MEETING. When two boats approach each other head on, each bears to the right, as in driving a car. In the Great Lakes and certain rivers where there are channels with strong currents, the vessel going downstream has the right of way over the one which has the current against it. That's because it's easier to control a vessel going against the current than one being carried along by the current.

2. OVERTAKING. When overtaking another boat you must keep clear of the craft you're passing. However, if you are in a narrow channel and are being overtaken by a larger, deeper draft vessel, it will be easier for you to swing to the side of the channel and let the big fellow have the deep water. This is one of those situations in which it's wise not to always insist on your right of way.

3. CROSSING. A motorboat which has another boat in its so-called "danger zone"—close up and coming from the right—must give way to it by altering course to pass behind its stern or by slowing down, stopping or reversing.

4. LEAVING SLIPS, WHARVES and PIERS. Boats coming out of slips into open water, or leaving berths at piers and wharves, have no rights until they are entirely clear. Therefore, they must proceed with caution and at low speed.

5. SAILBOATS. Sailboats always have the right of way over power boats except when overtaking these craft. Courtesy also requires that sailboats be given a wide berth while racing. If you have to pass close to a sailboat, do so slowly and on the leeward side to cause the least possible disturbance to wind currents or by the wake of your boat.

6. FISHING BOATS. These boats have right of way whether they are anchored or underway with nets, lines or trawls out. Take it easy when passing a fishing party.

7. TOWS. Although under certain circumstances power boats have the right of way over tugs with barges in tow, it is not only good manners but sound seamanship to yield the right of way. A small motorboat is a good deal more maneuverable than a string of barges.

ACCIDENTS. In cases of collisions, capsizings, fire or other serious accidents, it is the duty of boaters to stand by and lend assistance.

In addition to these eight basic rules of the water roads, Michigan has several specific ones backed by law.

Michigan's boat law requires that boat operators involved in accidents causing injury or death, or property damage of $50 or more, must give their names, addresses and registration numbers of their craft to those involved in the accident. If the boat is rented or borrowed, they must also give the name and address of the owner. If anyone is injured—the operator must render help and transport the person or persons to a physician or surgeon if further treatment is necessary or requested. In any case, the operator must also report the accident either to a peace officer, the nearest State Police office, or the sheriff of the county in which it occurred.

In accidents involving property damage of less than $50, the operators involved must again give their names, addresses and boat registration numbers and the name and address of the craft's owner if it is rented or borrowed.

Water skiing, water sledding, surfboarding by boat are prohibited from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise. Motorboats must be equipped with mufflers to eliminate excessive or unusual noise. Persons mooring or fastening their boats to lawfully placed buoys or beacons or intentionally damaging either of these are liable to stiff penalties.

There is no treatment for brucellosis after a cow has become infected, say Michigan State University dairy specialists.

Servicemen's Corner

Airman David Beeman

Serving Aboard Carrier

In Western Pacific

Western Pacific — The mighty aircraft carrier USS Kearsarge is now serving as an anti-submarine unit of the Seventh Fleet operating in the Western Pacific.

Serving aboard the huge craft is David E. Beeman, airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orson Beeman of 9015 Beeman Rd., Chelsea, Mich.

The Kearsarge can best be compared to a "floating city" with its population of more than 1,800 persons. It features a chapel, dining hall, clothing stores, cobbler shop, tailor shop, library, power plant, a fully-equipped hospital, a printing plant and all other facilities necessary to efficiently operate a city of this size.

Lt. William Brown

Serving on Destroyer

In Western Pacific

Western Pacific—The destroyer USS Rupertus has joined the "400 Club."

Serving aboard the ship which has completed 400 days of meeting every scheduled assignment on time is Navy Lt. (jg) William L. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Brown of 2601 Sylvan Rd., Chelsea, Mich.

On June 8, while operating with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific, the 2,200-ton destroyer completed her 400th consecutive day of overseas service without having missed an operational commitment or assignment. A difficult record to attain, it is possible that the Rupertus is the only destroyer holding membership in the "400 Club."

Since joining the Seventh Fleet, May 3, the vessel has been at sea more than 60 per cent of the time, steaming more than 85,000 miles and refueling at sea 77 times.

In observing the initiation into the club, the ship's commander cited the crew for their "good preventive maintenance, their proper operation of equipment and machinery and their fast repair work" which made possible the accomplishment.

The Rupertus is flagship of Commander, Destroyer Division 32.

Muscling in A Muskie

It was a four-listed fight all the way, but these two fishermen won their battle royal with a mighty muskie. King-sized, indeed, are the thrills of muskellunge fishing in Michigan. Lake St. Clair is the state's hot spot for this sport, yielding several thousand of these big fish each year. Muskellunge are also found in tempting numbers in the Torch Lake chain and the Indian - Cheboygan river system. They are occasionally landed in more than 20 other waters, including western Michigan lakes directly connected to Lake Michigan and a few inland lakes. Most of these fish are caught in early summer when they are concentrated in weedy, stub-filled bays of lakes and along edges of ever changing. Trolling brings best results with large muskie lures, bucktails, and spinner combinations and common baits such as flatfish, plike minnows, and dare devils.

Local cross-traffic will be maintained in most instances but will be necessary to close Oakwood, Beech-Daly, Inkster and Wayne Rds. to local traffic for short time during demolition of the old bridges and erection of steel for the new spans.

All other crossroads will be kept open. However, local traffic will be restricted at all intersections similarly to traffic on I-94. The Saur's have five grandchildren.

Sparta Apple Grower Grand Master of Michigan Masons

WILLARD SAUR

Willard Saur, twelfth Kent county Mason and the only one from Sparta to be honored, was named the 111th Grand Master of Masons in Michigan Wednesday, May 24, during the closing session of the 135th Annual Communication of Grand Lodge at Detroit.

Willard Saur, born on a farm in Alpine township, Kent county, on Aug. 31, 1905, is the son of Wilhelm and Nelson Saur. The family moved to another farm in Sparta and, later, to the very farm where Grand Master Saur now resides.

He also accumulated many precious memories of small-town life to carry into and enrich his adult years as he grew to manhood in Sparta and he is definitely a product of the Sparta school system.

The new Grand Master has gained a name in the agricultural world as an expert scientific apple grower. The fame of the perfection of his orchards, storage, and preservation plants has spread far and wide.

Nelson Saur was a life member of Sparta Lodge No. 384 and his son, Willard, followed in his footsteps by joining his father's lodge, where he was raised in 1926 and served as Master in 1929. His brother, who later transferred to a lodge in Grand Rapids, was Master in 1928.

Mrs. Richard R. Fowler

Dianne M. Koch, Richard Fowler Wed Saturday in Dexter Church

Lighted tapers and baskets of white flowers decorated the Dexter church when Dianne Koch and Richard Fowler spoke their wedding vows Saturday evening. The Rev. Henry Campbell performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of 300 guests.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a chapel-train gown of tulle and lace, featuring a sash, neckline and long lace sleeves; the skirt was highlighted with side panels of satin, shirred at the hipline and decorated with white satin roses. Her fingertip veil was of silk illusion attached to a Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bou-quet of white carnations, orchids
and stephanotis.

Mrs. Ernest Aldrich was her sister's matron of honor. Her gown was a cherry pink silk organza over tulle, fashioned with a sash, neckline and long lace
sleeves; the skirt was highlighted with side panels of satin, shirred
at the hipline and decorated with white satin roses. Her fingertip
veil was of silk illusion attached
to a Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bou-quet of white carnations, orchids
and stephanotis.

Performing the duties of best man for his brother was Dean
Fowler of Hi-Land Lake. Seating the guests were Richard Ashley of Gregory and Richard Winnick,
Ann Arbor.
Mrs. Sharon Vance Anderson sang "The Lord's Prayer" and Ann Arbor.

A pot-luck dinner at noon was attended by 80 relatives from Munich, Grand Rapids, Lake
Odena, Woodland, Chicago, Michigan Center, Stockbridge, Jackson, Detroit, Dexter, Grass Lake, Manchester, Waterloo and Chelsea and vicinity.

At a business meeting following the dinner officers were re-elected as follows: Wayne Harvey, president; Elton Musbach, vice-president; Mrs. John Dykema, secretary-treasurer; and Austin Artz and son, Gale, sports committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Harvey of Dexter invited the group to hold the 1962 reunion at their home
the first Sunday in July.

Joanne E. Ingles, George A. Staffan Speaks Vows in Royal Oak Ceremony

The marriage of Joanne Elizabeth Ingles and George A. Staffan was solemnized at a 12:30 p.m. ceremony Saturday at St. Mary's Catholic church at Royal Oak with the Rev. Fr. John Doran officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and
Mrs. Frank W. Ingles of 10064
Elgin Ave., Huntington Woods, and Mr. and Mrs. George L. Staffan of Chelsea.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of white bouquet taffeta fashioned with a basque bodice having a scooped neckline formed of Alencon lace, and featuring three-quarter length sleeves. The bell-shaped skirt, fully draped at the back, extended into a chapel train. A shell of Alencon lace accented with seed pearls, held her veil of French silk illusion. Her bouquet was an arrangement of stephanotis and ivy centered with a white orchid.

The bride later used the white orchid as a corsage pinned to the Eton jacket of the light blue cotton suit which with white accessories, was her going-away costume.

Mary Jo Seibert of Huntington Woods, served as maid of honor, her full-skirted gown being of pink silk organza. She wore a matching headband and short veil and carried a spray of rubrum lilies, garnet rosebuds and ivy.

Wearing ensembles identical to that of the maid of honor, the three bridesmaids were Marcia Ingles of Huntington Woods, sister of the bride, Jill Bennington of Jackson, and Nancy Schultz of Rochester.

Terry Adam, a cousin of the bride, wearing a pink silk organza dress matching those of the other attendants, carried a nosegay of garnet roses for her role as flower girl.

Michael McKillop of Gaylord, assisted the bridegroom as best man, while Frederick Wagner of Chelsea, a cousin of the bridegroom,
Hugh Weinberg of Chelsea, James
Handy of Hillsdale and Thomas Ingles of Huntington Woods, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs.
Ingles wore a blue organza sheath dress with a blue organza sheath style dress with matching accessories.

The bridegroom's mother wore a sheath-style dress of mint green chiffon and mint green accessories.
Their corsages were of white Amazon lilies.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the Dearborn Inn where Mrs. James Samner of East Lansing was in charge of the guest book.

Following their return from a short stay in northern Michigan, the couple will be at home at 124 Park St.

The bride is a graduate of Berkley High school and a June graduate of Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, where she was affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta sorority. She will be teaching in the Chelsea school system in the fall.

The bridegroom attended Eastern Michigan University three years, following graduation from Chelsea High school, and Wayne University for the 1960-61 school year, receiving his degree from the School of Mortuary Science at Wayne University in June.

At Eastern Michigan University
he became affiliated with Kappa Phi Alpha fraternity.

He will be associated in business with his father at the Staffan Funeral Home.

Pre-nuptial parties for the bride included a luncheon and electrical shower given by Mrs. George Glover and Gail Glover of Birmingham; a miscellaneous shower and

DON'T BE HALF COVERED!

Insufficient insurance in an accident is like a tiny umbrella in a rainstorm. It isn't much protection. Be sure you have adequate liability insurance. Call your local Hastings Mutual agent to see about a full-size umbrella.
