School Problems Studied at Special Board Meeting

Volunteers Asked To Serve on Next Election Board

A special School Board meeting Tuesday evening, Board Member Arthur Kuhl was named election board chairman for the Sept. 11 election when voters of the district will be asked to approve an operational levy of two mills for a period of one year. The School Board had announced the decision to hold the election on Wednesday, Aug. 23, after voters would vote down the proposal for a mill-levy for a period of three years at the Aug. 22 election. In the interest of saving the school district the expense of the election, Kuhl had proposed that an effort be made to secure volunteers to work on the election board which has been successfully carried out in some districts. As election board chairman, Kuhl was authorized to ask other members of the election board on a volunteer basis without compensation, however, a motion as passed by the school board provided that $1.50 an hour for eight hours would be a rate of pay for election board members if volunteers cannot be found. Out of the Aug. 22 election approximately $80.

School Board Answers Queries On Millage Issue

Q. Why is the board of education re-submitting the millage issue so soon after the last election?
A. The Board of Education believes the electors of the district should be informed of the deletions in the program necessitated by the results of the previous election before the deletions are made. The Board felt the electors should be given the opportunity to determine whether this is the program, with the deletions, they wish.
The millages must be certified by the Board of Education by Sept. 15 to be spread on the tax roll in December.
Q. Does the board favor operating the program with the deletions listed in the last issue of The Standard?
A. No. These deletions will be necessitated by the anticipated income of the district. A favorable vote on the issue Sept. 11 will enable the Board to put these items tend?
Q. Must an elector be registered to vote?
A. No. Our district is a non-registration district and registration with any unit of government is not required.
Q. Does an elector have to own property to be eligible to vote?
A. No. The requirements to vote in this election are: you must be 21 years of age, a citizen of the United States, a resident of the State of Michigan six months and a resident of the school district 30 days next preceding the election.
Q. Must you have children in school to be eligible to vote?
A. No.
Q. Will pupils, elementary and secondary, be required to walk to school if they live within a mile and a half of the school they attend?
A. Yes. The school district will transport only the pupils for whom reimbursement is received from the State of Michigan. The buses were crowded last year and additional buses cannot be purchased to relieve the situation without additional revenue.
Q. What is the present operational deficit?
A. $33,000, accumulated over the last two years.
Q. Will buses be used for athletic trips, band trips, field trips and summer recreation program?
A. No. Buses will be used only to transport pupils to and from school.

Schools Will Open Tuesday Morning with Increased Enrollments

191 Expected To Enroll in Kindergarten

With the addition of a school librarian and a junior high English teacher this week, the faculty list of Chelsea High and Junior High schools is now complete. The new librarian is Duane Johnson, who has a master of arts degree from Western Michigan University and has had five years experience. Mrs. Marilyn Smith, a graduate of Ohio State University and a teacher for two years at Rocky River, O., is the newly-named junior high school English teacher. Principal Charles Lane, in announcing the opening of school next Tuesday, Sept. 5, said all junior high students are to report at 8:20 a.m. to the Junior High school gymnasium. Senior High school students—grades 9-12 are to meet in the high school auditorium. New students in junior and senior high school who are not yet registered should contact the high school principal's office at once, GR 5-3461. The cafeteria at the high school will be open to serve lunches on the first day of school, the principal said. Principal Lane also announced that students in Chelsea schools will be insured with the Security Mutual Casualty Co. the price for elementary school children being $1.50 and for junior and senior high school students, $1.75. School buses will follow last year's schedule for the beginning of the new school year. Elementary Principal Arthur Schmunk, speaking of the extra large kindergarten enrollment, has said that most beginners living along Waterloo Rd., and north from this road would form a satisfactory morning class at the North Elementary school. Children from this area may go with their parents directly to the kindergarten room located in the front annex of the North school. All other kindergartners should go with their parents to South Elementary school on opening day, Tuesday, Sept. 5. Total kindergarten enrollment to date is 191. Parents of all kindergartners should accompany their children to school (Continued on page three)

Annual 4-Day Event Features Crowning of Queen Saturday Night

Model Fall-Out Shelter Being Shown at Fair

Chelsea Civil Defense Director Ray Knickerbocker extends a special invitation to area residents to visit the Civil Defense exhibit at the Chelsea Community Fair and learn, first hand, about recommended fall-out shelters.

Chelsea Auxiliary Police, Fire Department and Village Council members have co-operated in constructing a cement block shelter which any handyman could install in his home.

Representatives of the Auxiliary Police and the Fire Department have arranged a schedule which provides for one of the men to be present at all times during the fair to answer questions of interested visitors. All have been instructed on all phases of fall-out shelter plans by Col. G. G. Miller, Washtenaw county Civil Defense director.

Also to be on display at the Civil Defense exhibit is a commercially produced fall-out shelter which is planned for installing directly in a hole dug in the ground. Another interesting feature at the Civil Defense exhibit is a display of instruments for testing radiation fall-out; also instruments and equipment for use in shelters.

Summer Band Activities End This Week

Summer band activities will conclude this week with many students scheduled to take part in the Community Fair festivities.

Sixth graders will hold their last class at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow but the seventh and eighth grade classes were combined to march in the opening day parade and Saturday in the afternoon parade.

The Community Band played a concert last night at the fairgrounds and will also appear in the parade on Saturday.

The progress made this summer in the band department has been phenomenal at all levels of instruction according to the director, David Lindsay.

Students who were eligible for classes but neglected to take advantage of the opportunity will find themselves hard pressed to keep up with their classmates who have made such great improvement in playing and learning to march, the director pointed out.

Many adult musicians of the community and surrounding area have been performing with the Community Band and their talents have added greatly to the effectiveness of the group.

Giant Parade Planned for Saturday

George Atkinson, Community Fair parade chairman, is requesting that people refrain from driving through the area around the Junior High school during the time the parade is being assembled. He said only those drivers who have a part in the parade should be in the area for at least an hour prior to the parade. "Co-operation in this respect will be greatly appreciated," Atkinson stated.

The parade is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m.; however, in case of rain, it will be held up and when the weather clears, the five siren will be sounded as a signal to bring the floats to the Junior High school.

Line-up for the parade is as follows: horses on Park St. between Main and East St.; farm machinery on East St.; floats on Park St. between Madison and East St.; antique cars, also on Park St. between Madison and East St.

Other parade features: two school bands; Zai Gax Grutte Drum and Bugle Corps of Ann Arbor; Waterloo Band.

Merchants are reminded to display American flags during the parade.

Governor, Senator Will Be Guests at Labor Day Affair

Gov. John D. Swainson and U.S. Senator Philip Hart are scheduled to be guests of honor at the Washtenaw County Democratic Committee's chicken barbecue on Labor Day. Open to the public, the barbecue is to be held from 3 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. at the Rural Activities Center on Saline-Ann Arbor Rd.

Entertainment is to be provided by a group of musicians known as "The Ragtime Five." Peter Darow, chairman of the Washtenaw County Democratic Committee, said there is "plenty of parking space and lots of good food."

Arthur Carpenter, Ann Arbor attorney, is chairman of the committee in charge of cooking the chicken, according to the general chairman of the barbecue, Mrs. Annette Hodosh, also of Ann Arbor.

Sale of Prize Livestock Slated Thursday Night

Chelsea's 1961 Community Fair tonight.

The big Children's Day parade and events of special interest for youngsters were featured yesterday.

Today is Dexter Day and tomorrow is Old Settler's Day while Saturday's special event is the big afternoon parade followed by the Horse Show at the fairgrounds.

Saturday evening grandstand entertainment will include a pony pull, awarding of merchants' free door prizes for which free tickets are being made available at all stores and business places in the community; and crowning of the Community Fair Queen of 1961.

In addition to the free merchants' door prizes Saturday night, a special door prize—a $25 Savings Bond—will be given away at the Fairgrounds Cafe at 10:30 p.m. each night of the fair.

The ever popular tractor pulling contest is scheduled for 1 p.m. Friday and in the evening at 6:30 Tom Franklin will make a parachute jump.

A "thrilling" event has been added to this year's events—a

Parachute Jump

Friday, at 6:30 p.m., Tom Franklin of Chelsea will make a parachute jump from an airplane and will attempt to land in the Fairgrounds arena.

"powderpuff" tractor pulling contest featuring ladies of the community atop the tractors. This will precede the pulling contest Friday afternoon. All tractors for both events must be weighed by 12 noon. There will be only one class in the powderpuff contest and the score will be calculated, allowing for the size of the tractor.

Another feature of Friday's program is a vaudeville show at 8 p.m., followed by a showmanship contest of cattle and horses at 9 p.m.

Tonight (Thursday) the pig scramble, in charge of Stephen Hayden and William Dunavin, Chelsea and Dexter FFA advisors, will highlight the evening's events following the talent show. The latter is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. and the pig scramble for 9:30 p.m.

The prize fat stock sale will begin at 7 p.m.

The Fair Board has announced that pictures of bearded individuals will be on display in the "Old Chelsea Room" of the Chelsea Community Fair Restaurant. These pictures were taken during the 125th anniversary celebration but no one has been able to identify some of them. The public is asked to come in and try to identify these "bearded sants." ### Area Resident Is Runner-Up In USGA Amateur Tourney

Tish Preuss, a member of Inverness Country Club at North Lake, was the runner-up in the 1961 USGA Women's Amateur Golf Championship matches, concluded Saturday at the Tacoma (Wash.) Country and Golf club.

Miss Preuss, whose name is actually Phyllis, had been consistently successful in each of the preliminaries but was outdriven in the final match by a former champion, Anne Quast Decker of Seattle, who lost only six holes of the 112 she played.

Mrs. Decker had won the 1958 championship while she was a student at Stanford University.

Miss Preuss said yesterday, "It was a great experience" to play in the championship matches as one of 105 entrants and become the runner-up. She said it was a 14-13 record victory for the champion.

Miss Preuss and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Preuss, are summer residents at North Lake and make their home at Pompano Beach, Fla., during the winter. She has played in tournaments there the past five years.

Our Farm Surplus Problem Would Be Great Blessing to Any Other Nation

That continually over-inflated political football, the "farm problem," has been kicked around for 100 years or more. All that while, the politicians have had all the fun, the farmers have scratched their heads as they watched the game in growing confusion, and the taxpayers have paid for the tickets.

However much this spectacle may have helped the vote harvest, it does not seem to have made the farmer any happier and has cost all of us more money than any other Federal activity excepting only national defense. Even worse, perhaps, in the face of the approaching global showdown between freedom and slavery—representative government or Communism—we have, in spending our farm aid, farm relief, price-support billions also convinced our enemies that we have a devaluing farm problem—when, in fact, we are probably the only nation on the face of the earth that hasn't!

Difficulties, we have—in marketing problems—yes. But they boil down to a single fact: We are just too efficient. We produce a perennial food surplus in a world where the mass of humans live out their lives on the brink of starvation.

This feat of American agriculture should provide the most widely understandable demonstration of the vitality and sure-fire workability of the free enterprise system that we can offer to an ideologically bewildered world. That we feed our own nation as no people has ever been fed before—and then proceed to pile up troublesome surpluses—is fantastic in the light of world food shortages. But what could be the strongest weapon in the arsenal of freedom we distort into lamentation!

And it would be news to millions abroad, who are convinced that the American farmer is a pitiable ward of the State, that our check-writing agricultural bureaucrats are concerned with supporting the price, reducing, eliminating, utilizing, storing and purchasing surpluses of—but a handful of major crops.

To cite but one of the many categories of American farmer who solve their own problems by carrying on beyond the basic production cycle, there are the apple growers. In working together through state and regional organizations and the National Apple Institute, which they set up and support themselves, they are producing, promoting and marketing their crop—without need for Government purchase of their surplus, or any other Federal subsidy. They point with justifiable pride to their accomplishments and to the fact that such an operation is only possible within the framework of a free competitive system.

Behind the Iron and Bamboo curtains, millions are starving and millions more accept minimal subsistence as a bitter but inevitable fact of life. What better way could there be to foster the urge for freedom than to make it clear that only under this incentive there will be enough to eat for all.

About People

It is said that being bald has its advantages. When company comes all you have to do is straighten your tie and tuck in your shirt. And then there is the one about people: Some people are like a wheelbarrow—they have to be pushed. Some are like footballs—you can never tell which way they will bounce. Some are like balloons—full of wind and ready to blow up. And some are like a good watch—open face, pure gold, quietly busy and full of good works—Gibson City Courier.

The Threat

★ MICHIGAN MIRROR ★

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

"Equal time" for political candidates on radio and television is a deceptively simple and dangerous concept.

In the fall campaign of 1960, the requirement that broadcast media give "equal time" to all candidates for a given office was suspended for the Presidential and Vice-Presidential candidates only. Specifically, the "equal time" provision in section 315 of the Communications Act, and was suspended last year by Congress, which passed the act in the first place.

The danger in this whole situation is this:

As indicated in the campaign last year, the wording of section 315 is somewhat vague and this leads to problems over just where it applies. Because minor party candidates could have equal time with Republicans and Democrats under an interpretation of 315 by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), a tremendous hardship threatened the broadcast industry in the 1960 election.

That's why Congress suspended the operation of 315 for the top two races.

Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, in a speech to members of the professional journalism society, Sigma Delta Chi, advocated permanent repeal of the "equal time" law.

His point, one well worthy of consideration, was that rule 315 cannot be construed as anything but a limitation on the free flow of information, and as such not only is an infringement on the rights of broadcasters, but constitutes a threat to freedom of the press.

Indirectly, restrictions of this sort reach to the basic freedoms guaranteed in the Constitution to all United States citizens.

Perhaps the original intent of section 315 was good, or at least not bad. It was probably designed to prevent anyone from using the airwaves, apparently well established as public property, to over-expose one candidate in a political campaign and thereby practically guarantee his election.

The consequences of requiring equal time, for example, for a score of candidates for a local office apparently was not foreseen.

Also missed in the zeal for regulation was the necessity for a better definition of how "equal time" should work. The FCC later said section 315 applied to news-casts, interview programs or anything else that constituted an appearance. This is really where the trouble lies.

Obviously, few broadcasters would object to making "equal time" available to those who would pay for it.

But the necessity to time each appearance of each candidate on news programs and other shows so all other candidates could be given equal treatment is an intolerable burden.

Even if radio and television stations would put up with the restrictions of section 315, however, the threat of expanding the "equal time" concept should frighten all citizens.

As Stanton eloquently put it in his speech to Sigma Delta Chi: "A free society cannot say of one medium that it shall have less freedom than another, because it has more impact or more immediacy or a greater audience."

"If the freedom of any medium is restricted, the foundation for the freedom of all media is gone, and freedom eventually becomes a government handout."

"Nor can a free society give governmental agencies the power to roam around the substance of publications or of broadcasts, choosing what matter shall be free and what subject to government restraints or reprisals, except in the case of clearly and publicly defined matters."

Stanton went on to say:

"It is in the nature of a free society that only the people make choices about what they shall read or see or hear, and not their government, whether its motive be protective or self-seeking, benevolent or invidious."

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Several serious items was took up by the fellers at the country store Saturday night. First off, Ed Doolittle announced he has discovered "accidental" important weakness in our form of Government.

Ed said he's been reading the bank ads in them big Sunday papers and he ain't saw a single one that didn't list four or five vice presidents. Everybody knows, says Ed, that all banks is making money, paying dividends and ain't never been known to operate in the red. It's on account of them vice presidents, claims Ed. If a bank needs four or five vice presidents to operate real good, Ed allows as how the Government will never git the budget balanced with just one.

Then Clem Webster shook up the meeting with the news that this feller James Patton, head of the National Farmers Union, is asking the Congress to make it unlawful to farm without a license. He claims that farmers can't practice law or medicine and ain't right for lawyers and doctors to be raising their own vegetables.

All the fellers was in favor of this license business and Zeke Grubb said he was going to write his Congressman right away. A rancher can't run an extension cord to his barn on account of him not having a electric license, and I don't see how come them fellers has any right to be raising their own pens and corn with a farm license. In some states farmer ain't allowed to use his kitchen sink without calling a plumber, and a plumber ain't no right to be hurting the leg of beef by raising himself a pig. They ought to be certain requirements afore you city feller can get a license to lift a tail say offhand that you ought to have at least two hogs, a two hound dogs, a cow, a dog and a rooster that crows fer minutes at daylight. I'm in favor of making doctors, lawyers, plumbers, barbers and them other professions that protects their business with license stay out of the farm business. I ought to be a $10 fine for a to even raise a blue-top hat. Us farmers need some protection in this business.

And speaking of protection, giving to be a pretty complicated item in Washington. Per jee Bobby Kennedy is aiming to diet a heap of folks fer first prices outside the farm. Brother Jack is working on plan to fix prices inside the farm. Tigger it out, Mister Editor. Yours truly, Uncle Lew

Next in line, in his recommendations he said, presumably would be consolidating classes by closing one elementary school; putting grades 1-12 together in the high school building; instituting a schedule of half-day sessions. While this was speaking hypothesis, Cameron explained, such action conceivably could follow continued lack of sufficient operational funds.

Cameron emphasized that he is empowered only to make recommendations and that final decision on his recommendations are made by the School Board. Other discussion pointed toward the desirability of accumulating a fund for future needs similar to a building and site fund which had been built up over a number of years prior to construction of a new high school at Lansing. In closing the meeting, Flintoft explained that all School Board meetings are open to residents of the district who are always welcome to attend; however, if large groups plan to present it would be well to notify the school board so arrangements could be made for a meeting place large enough to accommodate them. Tuesday's meeting was held in the High School cafeteria.

Girl Scouts
See Slides of Exchange Student
Twenty-three Girl Scouts and seven adults of the Chelsea Girl Scout Neighborhood were guests of Mrs. Warren Eisenbeiser at her home at North Lake to hear Michael LaSavage of Redford give an illustrated talk on his stay in Spain as an exchange student.
LaSavage is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley LaSavage, formerly of Chelsea. His mother is the former Dorothy Boyce.
Guests at the gathering included LaSavage's grandmother, Mrs. Lloyd Boyce, and an aunt and cousin, Mrs. Laurence Noah of Werkner Rd., and Mrs. Doris Look of San Bernardino, Calif.
Mrs. Eisenbeiser and Girl Scout Troop 58 were hostesses for the meeting.
The Girl Scouts held a songfest featuring Girl Scout music preceding the talk by the guest speaker. Sue Eisenbeiser was the song leader.
LaSavage explained that he was a representative of Redford Union High school in the American Field Service student exchange program and that he lived for three months with a doctor's family at Palma on the island of Mallorca. There were three sons in the family. The doctor also was manager of a department store.
Slide pictures shown by LaSavage depicted customs of the people as well as the many medieval castles which LaSavage visited during his stay. He also showed pictures he had taken at short stops enroute in Madrid, Paris and Rotterdam.
Describing his trip home, he said all passengers on the ship were exchange students and they had a "wonderful time" comparing notes about their experiences in the exchange program.
Announcements made at the conclusion of the program mentioned that plans for a Girl Scout booth at the Community Fair had been completed. The booth contains exhibits of Girl Scouts' work and camping equipment. At least one Girl Scout and an adult will be on duty at the booth throughout the fair.

Any one who has pictures of the pageant and would like to donate them during the fair, may contact Rolly Spaulding, vice-president of the Fair Board.
Fair Board officials have been promising for some time that the 1961 Chelsea Community Fair would be the "biggest and best" of the many fine fairs held here and opening events, together with the great number of exhibits in all categories, the expanded facilities for exhibits, the new "French Cafe" added to the former facilities for serving meals, seem to indicate that they are going to make good these promises.
A detailed program of all events at the Fair appears on page seven of this issue of The Standard.

REPORT from WASHINGTON

★ Inter-Parliamentary Meet in Brussels

If all goes well, in less than a month I should be flying the Atlantic as a member of the U. S. delegation to the 50th meeting of the Inter-Parliamentary Union in Brussels.

The purpose of the Union is to promote personal contacts between members of the various Parliaments, to establish the development of democratic institutions and to advance the cause of international peace and co-operation. Founded in 1889, through the efforts of British and French parliamentarians; representatives of nine countries attended the first meeting in Paris that year. This year, just short of 60 countries will be represented. Meetings have been held every year since 1889 except for the two World War years.

The United States is one of the charter members of the Union. The delegates are all members of the Congress, 10 Senators and 11 Representatives, under the leadership of Senator Albert Gore of Tennessee. The size of the delegation is determined by the population of a country and so our delegation is the next to the largest, being exceeded only by that of the USSR.

Through the years, the Inter-Parliamentary Union has earned a reputation for its foresight and the influence of its resolutions on international thought. The first proposal for a World Court was made by the Union early in the 1890's. Before World War I the Union had passed resolutions which recommended the development of machinery for international co-operation on a lasting basis. As a matter of fact, the League of Nations was set up following various recommendations of the Union. Now the Union is affiliated with

Cancels Committees

Let's face it. Committees aren't very efficient. They spend too much time, they talk too much, they are costly.

The alternatives are really appealing. The fewer involved the quicker the action. One or two people can maneuver with very little waste motion. A caravan is cumbersome.

Dictatorships are always more "efficient" than our Republic—that is if you count money, not the lives of men; if you are concerned with the end, not with the means.

Compared, our Republic operates slowly and uneconomically. It is concerned with individual rights and minority groups. It spends great amounts of time and money searching for justice and upholding human values.

There are no committees making major decisions in Russia.

Committees are not consulted by

Castro. Much as we poke fun at the constant committees in America, they are a vital part of our Republic. We may call them a "pooling of ignorance" and say that a camel looks like something a committee put together, but we cannot ignore their value.

One of the most important farm committees is the group of 18 rural men and women who have been called to the special job of hammering out a set of policy resolutions for the Michigan Farm Bureau.

This State Farm Bureau Resolutions committee will sift and study, sort and reject, compromise and collect. It will end up with something like a 40-page document to be placed before 700 Farm Bureau voting delegates in annual policy making session at Michigan State University, Nov. 8-9-10.

The committee of farmers will have travelled more than 18,000 miles, spending about 10 full days each before the job is done. They will organize into sub-committees by topics (taxation, roads, health, safety, etc.) they will conduct hearings and they will review in detail every one of several thousand resolutions sent to them by Michigan farmers.

This involved, complicated process takes time, a great amount of work, and will cost more than $5,000 in actual cash.

By Russian standards this entire process is unnecessary, "inefficient and uneconomical."

By the standards of American and Michigan farmers, it is democracy in action. Slow, costly, and very right.

all speakers are limited to 10 minutes each and some of them, unlike many lawmakers, do not take all their allotted time.

This year's topics—and now you know why we are all doing our homework—are:

1. The effect of world trade and policies followed by regional economic communities.
2. The evolution of countries in the process of development.
3. The way to peace.
4. Parliamentary control of international organizations.

Needless to say, I am looking forward with the greatest anticipation to my first participation in an international conference. When I get back I should have much to tell all of you.

Field tile lines work better than either mole drains or bedding on poorly drained Michigan agricultural soils, say Michigan State University agricultural engineers.

The federal use tax on highway motor vehicles applies to some tractor-type vehicles used by farm operators, say Internal Revenue officials.

Fallout Shelter Will Be Displayed At State Fair

The annual Michigan State Fair, opening Sept. 1 in Dextertown, will feature a model family fallout shelter which is expected to draw increased interest due to the Berlin crisis.

Constructed in co-operation with the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization, the concrete masonry shelter shows how spare basement space can be converted easily to family protection against nuclear radioactive dust or storm damage. OGD officials report that shelters because of international tension. State fair leaders anticipate the model shelter will attract many visitors. Concrete masonry shelters are often added to existing basements for as little as $150-$200 on a do-it-yourself basis.

Letters to the Editor

School Board Criticized

August 24, 1961
Editor, The Standard:

Now that the proposed two-mill levy for the Chelsea School District has been defeated for the second time it might be well for the School Board to consider the meaning behind this seeming lack of interest in education.

One certainly cannot deny that it would be nice to support our school system wholeheartedly in all of their requests for funds however the fact that the school district has incurred a $33,000 deficit over the past two years makes one hesitate and wonder why steps weren't taken before this to have a balanced budget.

Also one realizes the need for a up-to-date educational program but when has an administration provoked so much criticism than in the past few years. Granted there are always those who criticize but some of it has probably been constructive—but nevertheless ignored. Recent school boards together with the administrators have more than left themselves open to criticism but have always expected taxpayers to foot the bills in the interest of education.

Why shouldn't the athletic board pay rent for the use of the field? Taxpayers pay for any use of school property. Why shouldn't all school district purchases be let on a competitive bid basis and advertised for?

If any millage levy is passed it should be used first to retire the indebtedness and then to augment the budget.

Yours truly,
K. L. Boylan
245 Park St.

Let's Face Facts

The Board of Education has been submitted to considerable criticism. Personally, I do not mind as my convictions are such that I can defend same.

I would like to assume responsibility for the recent failure to carry millage requested and thereby leading to the Board's decision to resubmit millage request as before except for one year instead of three years as originally voted on.

As publicity chairman it was my duty to sell our needs. This I failed to do. I am deeply concerned at this failure and am not or are the other Board members "poor losers."

We are resubmitting request for operational funds because "defeat has not changed the need." Remember that.

I felt the Board of Education, elected by you and comprised of individuals who have every reason, personal or business, to conserve and wisely spend each dollar of the district's income, had your confidence. Was this wrong to think?

Personally, I thought it an obvious conclusion. Remember, each of these board members had his own dollars at stake. They are not asking that which they themselves are unwilling to pay.

Where is your faith? Is it in loose talk, personal animosities, old grudges? I personally cannot follow this line of thinking. Your Board of Education knows the facts. Do you? Who elected these people? You did!

I would like you to answer to yourselves the following:

1. Who is responsible for the ever-increasing flow of children entering our schools?

2. Who voted by a large majority for the present High School building and now refuse to support it?

3. Who of you can add a room to your house and have another child without an increase in expenditure?

4. Do you believe it is good business to not maintain your investments?

5. Do you believe problems are resolved by turning your back and not facing reality?

6. Do you believe the loose talk you hear is an asset to your community?

7. Do you believe you can justify voting against an issue because of one or two disagreements with present personnel or policies?

The complaints I have heard never total in dollars over $10,000 and seldom that much. These would, at the maximum, represent less than 2 percent of the total expenditures. In plainer words you might agree we are 98 percent right. Does this make sense?

8. Do you believe any industry or business from General Motors or Chrysler Corp. down to any of our local industries or business are 100 percent efficient?

9. May I ask how perfect is your own operation?

10. Do you honestly feel the district can continue to educate your children without additional funds?

11. Do you think we are the only district with millage problems? I must add, look around. I have always believed this eqm-

Football P.P.&K. Contest Announced for Area Youth

An opportunity for Chelsea area boys from 6 to 10 years, to compete in a football punting, passing and place-kicking contest, with trips to National Football League games among the prizes, was announced today by George Palmer of Palmer Motor Sales, Inc.

Palmer said the Chelsea competition is part of a nation-wide program sponsored by Ford Division of Ford Motor Company in co-operation with the National Football League. Known as "P.P.&K."—Punt, Pass and Kick—the competition will culminate with all-expense trips by five national winners and their fathers to the National Football League Championship game, and an official reception at the White House.

Selection of the National Champions will be made as a result of televised competitions at a home game of each of the 14 National Football League teams.

Chelsea P. P. & K. competition is open to grade school boys aged 6 through 10, and will be held early in October. Registration for the event will be at Palmer Motor Sales, from Aug. 28 through Sept. 25. There is no cost, but entrants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. Each entrant will receive a P. P. & K. badge, an instruction book written by NFL stars Johnny Unitas, Yale Lary and Paul Hornung, and an official 1961 NFL Guidebook.

After the Chelsea competition is held the scores of the most skillful punters, passers and place-kickers—one in each age group—will be compared with the scores of boys in the other competitions held in the area covered by telecasts of the Detroit Lions.

The top five boys in this region and their fathers then will be given an all-expense trip to see a home game of the Lions, and the boys will punt, pass and kick at the stadium either just before the game starts, or during half-time.

The five top winners in the Chelsea area contest, whether or not they qualify for the national eliminations, will receive National Football League type football uniforms, the five boys who place second will receive warm-up jackets, and third place winners will receive footballs.

Scores of competitors in the 14 NFL regions will be compared to determine the five National Champions. Special arrangements will be made to play off all ties, both regionally and nationally.

Palmer said the P.P.&K. competition had been developed by Ford Division and the NFL to give every boy a chance to take part in football competition, and to encourage physical fitness. He pointed out that early development of physical conditioning on the part of the nation's youth is one of the prime objectives of the President's Council on Youth Fitness.

The Council, he added, will present letters of commendation to the five National Champions during their White House visit.

The date and site of the Chelsea competition, and the judges and other officials, will be announced in the near future, Palmer said.

Washtenaw To Vote Sept. 12 On New County Park System

In addition to voting for Constitutional Convention delegates on Sept. 12, Washtenaw county electors will be asked to approve a special quarter-mill levy for a period of 10 years to finance a new county park system. The tax levy proposal was decided upon at the July 17 Board of Supervisors meeting when it was voted 25-10 to place the question on the Sept. 12 ballot.

There are two ballots—first, the question of exceeding the 15-mill limitation on which all electors may vote, and second, the proposal to tax up to one-quarter mill for 10 years for a County Park System. The second measure may be voted on only by property owners. Both measures must pass in order to obtain the one-quarter mill.

In a report by the Planning Committee of the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors it is pointed out that by 1980 the population of the county will increase by more than 50 percent. Approximately 90,000 people may be expected to be added to the county's present population of 172,440.

Presidents of the county expect and demand that recreational areas must be provided for every body, but even at the present time all parks are overcrowded.

The recent trouble over the parking situation at Silver Lake is one example. The danger there is not the overflow parking on the county roads, but the straining of sanitary facilities because of overcrowding of the park itself, according to the Planning Committee's report.

They point out that there is no question that land is needed, and needed now; however, the cost of land has risen steadily over the years and is still rising and it is urgent that suitable park land be obtained as soon as possible.

When the State Conservation Department acquired the land it now holds in the county, it paid an average of $80 an acre. Similar lands are now valued at $500 an acre. Unless some of this remaining land is acquired now, it will be economically impossible to obtain. Already commercial interests have taken large areas of choice land for other development. Soon there will be none left, even if the money is available.

The Board of Supervisors of Washtenaw county believes that the time to act on a County Park System is now. They are convinced that the problem of recreation is a concern of every level of government, and that the problem is so serious that it is up to local government to supplement the existing state and area parks with a County System.

The State of Michigan is using the sticker plan to obtain more money for lands to add to the State Parks, but they are only consolidating their holdings in the northwest part of the county and have no plans to buy in other areas. The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority is confined to the Huron River Basin, but at the present time is developed only in that same northwest area. This leaves three-fourths of the county without recreational facilities. The Saline and Raisin River Valleys are undeveloped, as well as the entire eastern half of the county.

The primary need at the present time is land acquisition. This includes both the purchase and long term lease with options to buy of scenic localities, lacking lakes and lake shores, and other areas suitable for recreation. Not all of the land that is acquired will be developed immediately. Most of it will be held as a resource which can be used as the need arises and the money is available. But if the land is not acquired now, many of the best areas will be lost forever.

As Washtenaw county grows, so must grow the recreational facilities available to its people. For with the increase of leisure time, the greater mobility of its citizens and the expansion of its urban centers, outdoor recreation becomes not just a luxury, but a necessity, according to the Planning Committee's report.

They state that a "yes" vote on the Sept. 12 ballot will insure that the families of Washtenaw county will have convenient and valuable recreational facilities for this generation and those to come.

There already exists a "county park system" with the Board of Road Commissioners as park trustees—Herbert L. Friesinger, Raymond Koch and Don A. Weir.

Only county parks, however, are Cavanaugh Lake park at the South side of the lake (approximately 2½ acres) and a quarter of an acre at Cherry Hill and Superior Rds. in Superior township.

At one time the county operated Dexter-Huron Park on the Huron River near Dexter, but did not own the area. At the time the county managed it the 115-acre site was owned by Ford Motor Co. It is now owned by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority of which Kenneth Hallenbeck, former Washtenaw county Road Commission superintendent-manager, serves as director.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Shorty Made
No "Bones" About It

Folks thought it was a big joke when Shorty Johnson came back from Center City with a new St. Bernard for his kids.

And the truth was, Shorty did look kind of funny. The pooch practically filled the whole back seat of Shorty's car, and when he let it out, it stood darn near as high as Shorty did!

But Shorty didn't mind the ribbing. As he explained, "I know I look pretty silly with a dog like this. But when you've got eight kids like I do, and you get 'em a dog, you get one big enough so they can all play with it at once!"

From where I sit, folks should "size up" a situation before jumping to conclusions. For example, because Shorty likes coffee, I used to feel he'd disapproved when I'd have a glass of beer. But after I got to know him, I realized he was a tolerant man—one who'd never think of challenging his neighbor's right to his own opinions. This attitude is typical of most of the folks in our town—one of the things that makes them so "dog-gone" wonderful!

Restrictions
Are Many for Duck Season

Lansing—A 10-day cut-in-hunting days, shorter shooting hours, and halved bag and possession limits form new, sharp restrictions in Michigan's duck season which opens Oct. 13, six days earlier than last year.

The state's goose season will be trimmed from 70 to 80 days, but last year's bag and possession limits of five will remain in effect this fall.

Acting upon federal options, the Conservation Commission last week set the state's duck season at 30 days (Oct. 13-Nov. 11) with a basic daily bag of two birds and a possession limit of four. Its other choice was a 20-day season with limits of three and six.

Michigan's duck season last fall ran 40 days with a daily bag of four and a possession quota of eight.

Canvasbacks and redheads will remain off limits to hunters throughout the continent for the second straight season. Both of these diving ducks are in short supply.

Only one wood duck and one hooded-merganser will be allowed in the bag and in possession, same as last year. In addition to bag limits on other ducks, the maximum take on American and red-breasted-mergansers will again be five per day and 10 in possession, singly or combined.

Not more than two Canada geese, or two white-fronted geese, or one of each may be taken under bag and possession limits of five covering the Oct. 13-Dec. 11 goose season.

The bag and possession limit for coots is six, cutback from last year's quota of six per day and 12 possession. Coot hunting will run concurrently with the duck season.

Except for a noon starting time on opening day, shooting hours on all migratory birds will be shortened, running from sunrise to sunset. In 1960, hunting time began one-half hour before sunrise.

Restrictions in the duck season are more stringent than Conservation Department game men had anticipated. However, since spring, drought reports from the Canadian prairies have told of the worst breeding ground conditions for ducks in 30 years. The Mississippi flyway, which includes Michigan, normally depends on these prairies for about 50 percent of its ducks.

Deer-Food Folder
May Give Good Tips
On Where To Hunt

Lansing—Michigan deer hunters may pick up some good pointers on where to hunt this fall by asking now for a new deer-food folder, available free through the Conservation Department's publications room in Lansing.

The folder gives a five-page illustrated menu on whitetail foods, identifying different types of deer browse under three headings: preferred foods, medium quality foods, and starvation foods.

General tips of this nature are also found in the folder: "Be leery of hunting where there are lots of preferred food plants. Probably there aren't many deer in that area. Where there are lots of deer, good food will show signs of heavy use. Remember that deer food must be within reach of deer—not higher than your shoulder—preferably lower."

25 of our 50 states have parts of their area reaching to sea level. Two, California and Louisiana, each, have parts extending below sea level.
