

PARTICIPATING IN COLLEGE PLAY.—Linda Burghardt, at right, is shown in the part of Constance in the play, "The Mad Woman of Chailiot" being given today, tomorrow and Saturday in the Heidelberg College Little Theatre. The play will be repeated next week, Nov. 18-19. Miss Burghardt, a graduate of Chelsea High school, shows notable promise as an actress, according to information from the college, which states it is unusual for a first-year student to be given such an important part in a Heidelberg College play. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Burghardt. Others shown in the view from the play are (left to right) Carmen Hendershott, Tiffin, as Gabrielle, Judy Geary, Van Wert, as the Countess and Nance Blaine, Toledo, as Josephine. Heidelberg College is at Tiffin, O.

Michigan Newspapers Public Service Campaign Will Bring More Jobs

In our outstanding system of communication, Michigan has an advantage for industry. Our fifty-five daily and three hundred five weekly newspapers, with a total circulation of 2,833,124 lets industrial management and workers know what is going on everywhere in the world.

Newspapers have an innate sense of modesty. There are those who claim we carry this to extreme and that we should be more forward in letting our readers know more about ourselves. This is brought to mind by a public service advertisement, carried in today's edition of The Leader. The advertisement, prepared by the industry promotion committee of the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department, sets forth in large black type—"Michigan Is Communication." It is inspired, in part, by the fact that we have just concluded observance of Newspaper Week.

Michigan is communication—and good communication. Our newspapers are alert to let our readers know what is happening in our communities, our State, the nation and the world. In fact, we've gone another step now and we let them know what's going on in space, too.

It is an advantage to industry to know of all the latest scientific developments, the population trends, and it's good for all of us to know what our friends, our elective officials and our neighbors are doing.

Our Michigan newspapers have a sincere interest in the industrial development of our State. Over the last year, Michigan's newspapers have contributed upwards of a quarter million dollars in space for public service advertising, boosting Michigan, such as the advertisement that appears today.

Lest, this be considered blowing our own horn and recognizing the usual modesty of newspapers, let us just say we're proud to be a part of this campaign for progress and urge that every one of our readers help promote Michigan as a good place for industry.

The average man is neither as clever as his wife thought he was when they were engaged, nor as much of a dud as she thinks he is now that they are married.

When a man hides his light under a bushel, if somebody doesn't notice pretty soon he begins to pound on the bushel.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR-MISTER-EDITOR:

My old lady has already started doing her Christmas shopping. She allowed as how, if she'd followed her "intuition," she would've started in August after everything got picked over.

I always keep quiet when my old lady gets a "intuition." I recollect asking her about it right after we was married and she said wives couldn't get the truth out of husbands by questioning 'em, so they had to develop "intuition." When you come up agin a situation like that, Mister Editor, the thing to do is let the situation alone and that's what I been doing for 40 year with my old lady's "intuition."

It looks to me like Americans has lost all respect for the calendar anyhow. It used to be Christmas started about the middle of December but now they start shopping for it in August and get the mistletoe and decorations strung up along about Labor Day. People is paying last year's bills, driving this year's automobile, and spending next year's income. And I reckon ain't more'n half of 'em got a calendar in the house.

Black Is White; White Is Black

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

The November, 1962 election was brought sharply to the attention of Michigan Republicans by the formal announcement Gov. John B. Swainson would seek another term.

Although it was assumed Swainson would want another two years as Governor, there were some in the GOP who hoped his problems in the first term would be great enough to discourage him.

Reports of lack of "communication" within the Democratic party, a term used by party chairman, John J. (Joe) Collins, apparently were not enough, however, to cause the leadership to look for another candidate.

Collins said he had "every indication" the entire administrative board, Lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, auditor general and treasurer, would be on the ticket with Swainson next year. The other two posts, highway commissioner and superintendent of public instruction, were filled last April.

Attorney General Paul L. Adams was the only doubtful one of the six officeholders. Adams was very disappointed he did not receive one of the several judgeships which were appointed recently.

With or without Adams, however, Republicans face a big task in attempting to unseat the incumbents.

Congressmen Gerald R. Ford of Grand Rapids and Robert P. Griffin of Traverse City were among Republicans most often mentioned as possible candidates for the Number One spot on the ticket.

State Sen. William Milliken of Traverse City and Rep. Gilbert E. Bursley of Ann Arbor showed promise in the future but lacked experience. Each was in his first term in the state legislature.

American Motors President George Romney was still given top ranking by some party spokesmen but his unsuccessful battle for the presidency of the Constitutional Convention left a bad taste in the mouths of some of the more conservative party members.

MSU President John A. Hannah is considered by some as an outstanding possibility if he could be interested in the government job.

The Governor's communication

since it was promulgated by the Corporation and Securities Commission.

Breweries and beer distributors did not threaten court action to halt effect of the rule. They did let it be known they would prefer it if it never became a reality.

The theory behind the rule was that people would be less careless about littering parks and highways with bottles if deposit containers were more widely used.

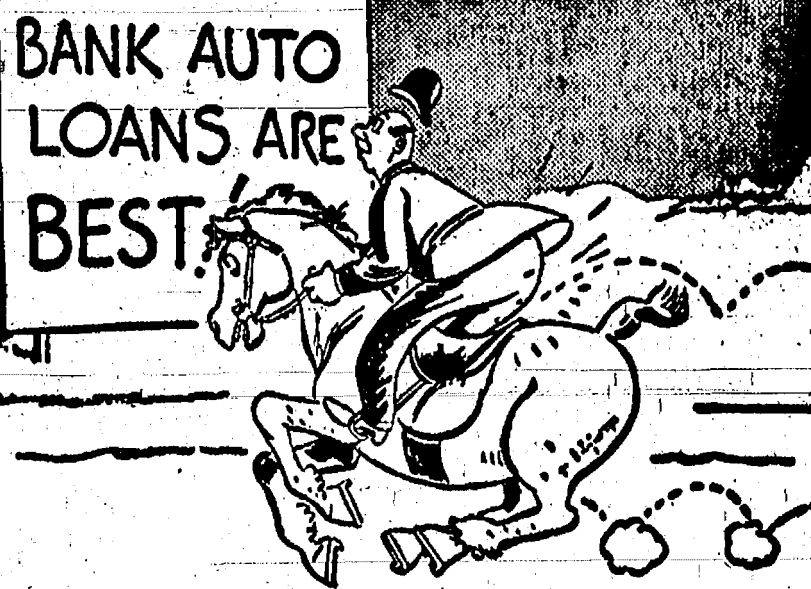

Chief argument against the commission rule was that people would switch to beer in cans instead of returning to deposit bottles.

YOUNG DRIVER GROUNDED

Sudbury, Ontario, Canada—Driving to kindergarten was more than police could allow—even though Terry Appleby, a 6-year-old had made a safe trip.

His father, George Appleby, was charged with allowing a person under 16 to operate a motor vehicle. Appleby said his son can drive in the heaviest traffic and park with more ease than most adults.

Skidding cars were responsible for killing 3,460 and injuring 113,870 people in the United States last year.

FROM THE GOVERNOR'S CHAIR

By John B. Swainson

With almost 1,400 mentally retarded children waiting for admission to state hospitals, the Farmington children's hospital was closed Monday.

This is the latest example of the tragic consequences of the cutbacks in child care ordered by the legislative majority in the face of growing needs.

The more than 800 children at the Farmington facility were moved into a new unit at Plymouth State Home and Training School which is designed to accommodate 220 children. With a continually growing waiting list, the number of available beds has been decreased rather than increased.

The Department of Mental Health was forced to make this move because the legislative majority did not appropriate enough money to even maintain current levels of care. Cutbacks were forced on the department by an effective net reduction of $2-million in appropriations.

This is a shocking example of false and cruel economy. The reduction in mental health funds amounts to only about two cents a month per Michigan resident. For lack of these pennies, hundreds of children are being assigned to waiting lists rather than to facilities that would provide them with needed care and treatment.

Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson has accepted Michigan's invitation to speak at the White House Regional Conference which will be held in Detroit, Nov. 14-15.

The conference is being held at Michigan at my invitation to discuss measures to stimulate economic growth and full employment and to explore opportunities for our cities, our youth and our senior citizens. There will also be reports to the people on action already taken in these areas by the national administration.

The vice-president will speak Nov. 14, at 8 p.m., in the Edgewood Auditorium. Other speakers bearing the two-day program will be Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, Budget Director David Bell and Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver.

This is American Education Week. The people of Michigan from the beginnings of our state have recognized and continue to recognize the need for educational opportunities for our young people.

We must never take our system of education for granted but rather, we must always remain alert to the necessity for the opportunity of education.

It is important that our educational facilities—and opportunities—be used to the fullest to insure the economic growth of our state and to enhance the spiritual, material and ethical progress of the individual.

When the people of Michigan invest in educational opportunities for their children, they invest in building a greater Michigan. The future of our state depends on our children... and the future of our children depends on our educational system.

Thursday, Oct. 30, 1947—The Rev. T. W. Menzel, assistant professor of religion at Elmhurst College, Elmhurst, Ill., has accepted a call to become pastor of Bethel Evangelical and Reformed church in Freedom township. He will begin his duties here in February.

Early Friday morning, Chelsea people were surprised to see a 1,000-pound bull moose being hauled in a trailer down Main St. by Walter Mohlock. The moose was bagged by Mohlock on a hunting trip to Long Lake, Ontario. He was accompanied by Mrs. Mohlock and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Steger.

Deaths this week: Mrs. Ida Damon, 80; Eva Goetz, 48; Mrs. Agnes Mayer; Mrs. Maude Metton, 76.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Breitenwischer who have been guests of honor at a number of affairs in celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary were honored at a family dinner Sunday in St. Paul's church hall with 80 relatives present. Preceding the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Breitenwischer re-affirmed their wedding vows at a ceremony in the church performed by the Rev. P. H. Grabowski.

MICHIGAN IS COMMUNICATION

Michigan people are well informed. They are probably the best informed in the nation. That is because Michigan is outstanding in facilities for communication.

Michigan is good communication. It has 55 daily newspapers with a circulation of 2,023,266; 305 weekly papers, with a circulation of 829,828. That's a total of 2,833,124. We have 135 radio stations and 15 television stations.

Our newspapers are alert to local happenings and have demonstrated leadership in civic improvements, industry appreciation and industrial development and many other examples of community responsibility.

The people of Michigan know what is going on. Our newspapers are strong in their stand that the people have a right to know. Radio and television in addition to information, provide music and entertainment. Michigan has communications attuned to the best interests of our communities, our State and all our people. Communication is important to industrial development, and here again Michigan has it.

Help carry Michigan's message to the nation. Clip this ad and mail it to someone in another state with your comment. Let's talk up Michigan and its advantages for industry. Together we can assure a greater future for all of us.

MICHIGAN IS EVERYTHING FOR INDUSTRY

Annual Safety Awards Given Road Commission Employees

At the annual safety award dinner of the Washtenaw County Road Commission, Friday, Nov. 3, at Dixboro Methodist church, 12 Chelsea area men and five from Dexter who are employed by the Road Commission were among the 66 from the entire county who received certificates of merit and safety award pins for their established record of safe driving.

The Chelsea men include Victor Miller, whose period of safe driving (no at-fault accidents) is listed at 22 years.

Others are LeRoy Satterthwaite, 21 years; Fred Houk, 19 years; John Klink, 13 years; Oliver Walker, nine years; Vernon Satterthwaite, eight years; John Stoffer, six years; Lloyd Schneider, three years.

The list continues with James Bennett, Emerson Wheeler and Osie Armstrong, each two years; and Albert Notten, Jr., one year.

The Dexter men are Raymond Schumacher, one of those honored for 22-year safe driving records; Robert Hoffman, seven years; and David St. Louis and James Gordonier, each two years.

In the higher brackets, diamond pins are awarded the men by the Michigan Safety Commission.

"It is hard to realize these days that this country was founded partly to avoid taxation."

Retarded Children's Group Plans Panel Discussion

The scheduled appearance of Miss Gertrude Roser, former principal of Backham School at Eastern Michigan University, at the monthly chapter meeting of the Washtenaw Association for Retarded Children (WARC) has been changed and a panel discussion has been substituted.

Mrs. Julian Frederick, first vice-president of the association, who announced the change of program, said, "Because the WARC is for the first time this year working jointly with the Ann Arbor public schools to serve retarded children throughout Washtenaw county in an expanded program, many new people have become aware of the organization and have expressed an interest in it. The executive board has deemed it timely, therefore, to devote the next meeting to explaining the retarded children's movement in general and the work of the local chapter in particular."

The expanded program mentioned by Mrs. Frederick includes 33 children in nursery, intermediate and senior groups as well as an adult education class.

The meeting, which is the regular monthly session, will take place Monday, Nov. 13, at 8 p.m. in the Day School for Retarded Children, 2030 Dhu Varren Rd., Ann Arbor township.

The panel discussion topic is "Let's Get Acquainted," Moderator is to be Glenn Olson, chapter president and director of special services for the Ann Arbor public schools.

Members of the panel include Mrs. Henry Keller, special education teacher; Dr. E. W. Guiden, regional vice-president of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children; Mrs. Hugh Pickett, director of the Day Center; John Mader, director of special education for Washtenaw county; and Mrs. Leonard Hyde, chapter executive director for the National Foundation.

March of Dimes Workers Attend State Conference

Mrs. Donald Baldwin, Chelsea March of Dimes chairman, Mrs. Larry Chapman, canister chairman, and Mrs. Lawrence Dietle, Mothers' March chairman for the 1962 New March of Dimes campaign represented Chelsea at a state-wide March of Dimes conference in Ann Arbor, Oct. 27 and 28. It was announced this week that the conference, plans were made for the January appeal for funds to aid the victims of arthritis, birth defects and polio. More than 250 volunteers from all over Michigan met to hear nationally-known experts in the health field and to tour the new March of Dimes-financed clinical study center at University Hospital.

Paul D. Bagwell of Lansing, state chairman of the March of Dimes for 1962, presided over the conference, which featured Dr. Virginia Apgar of New York as principal speaker. Dr. Apgar, widely-known for her work on the problems of children born with significant birth defects, explained how funds given to the March of Dimes are being used to find ways to prevent the 5,300 cases which occur in Michigan each year.

Dr. Johan Eliot, pediatric consultant for the Michigan Department of Health, and professor of maternal and child health at the University of Michigan, spoke at the conference, as did Burr Bigsby of New York, national director of the March of Dimes, and Porter Brashier of New York, regional director for the National Foundation.

Grass Lake Man Injured When Hay Bale Falls from Truck

John H. Chupp, 73, of Grass Lake, was treated at a doctor's office for cuts suffered Thursday when a bale of hay fell off a passing truck and broke the windshield of his car.

Chupp told sheriff's deputies he was driving west on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. near Steinbach Rd. in Lima township when the accident happened. Deputies said the bale of hay fell from a truck driven by Clement Scherdt of Chelsea.

Carl Fletcher of Asheville, N. C., who had spent the past three months with the Donald Bardens at South Haven, left Sunday to return to his home following a few days' visit with relatives here.

Thursday afternoon and Friday, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Elba Gage, he was a guest of his niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Labo and children, at their home in Flint. Saturday he was present for a family birthday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elba Gage in honor of Mrs. Edward Easterle.

DEATHS

T. G. Riemenschneider
Life-Long Area Resident
Dies Suddenly Sunday at 84

Theodore G. Riemenschneider, life-long area resident, died suddenly Sunday morning at his farm home at 2410 Notten Rd., where he was born 84 years ago, March 2, 1877, and where he had farmed all his life.

He was the youngest of a family of eight children, his parents being William and Eva Greesebach Riemenschneider. His father had served as a local Methodist preacher conducting services at Salem Grove church when regular pastors were not available.

Mr. Riemenschneider was a life-long member of Salem Grove Methodist church. He also was an active member of Cavanaugh Lake Grange.

He is survived by his widow, the former Bertha Kate Wyand, to whom he was married at Crookston, Minn., Aug. 20, 1914.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Lydia Taylor of Wenatchee, Wash.; three nephews, LeRoy and Harry Gussman of Washington state, and Herbert Remy of Detroit; three nieces, Mrs. Elsie Weiman of Arizona, and Ruth Riemenschneider and Mrs. Mabel Taylor of Oswego, Ore.; and a number of cousins.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Burghardt Funeral Home with the Rev. John Laird, present pastor, and the Rev. Harry Pyseher, former pastor of Salem Grove Methodist church, officiating. Burial followed in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Willis Reynolds

Former Area Resident
Dies in Detroit Hospital

Mrs. Willis H. Reynolds, 1330 Carol St., Plymouth, a former Chelsea area resident, died Friday morning at Mt. Carmel Mercy hospital, Detroit, following a 10-day illness. She would have been 38 years old next Sunday. She was born at Ann Arbor, Nov. 12, 1923.

A daughter of Albert and Amanda Roller Schneider, she was the former Doris K. Schneider. She was married to Mr. Reynolds Feb. 21, 1942. She had lived at Plymouth since 1947 and was employed as a machine operator at the Burroughs Corp. there.

Mrs. Reynolds was a member of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church at Plymouth.

Survivors are her husband; a daughter, Carol J., and her mother, Mrs. Amanda Schneider, of Plymouth.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. Monday at St. Peter's church, Plymouth, with the Rev. Norman Berg officiating. Burial followed at Glen Eden cemetery, Livonia.

Arrangements were in charge of the Schrader Funeral Home at Plymouth.

State Prepared To Build First Electronic Road

Houghton—The Michigan State Highway Department is prepared to build the nation's first electronic highway as soon as the Federal government provides funds for the experimental project, a State Highway Department official said recently.

Managing Director Howard E. Hill told the Upper Peninsula Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers that "we are ready and in the best position of any state highway department to proceed with the project."

Hill made the comment while discussing the Highway Department's research program which exceeds $2.5 million per year.

"Electronics research in many fields of highway design and construction is an important part of our program, and we hope to build an electronic highway," Hill said.

The U. S. Department of Commerce has announced it is considering construction of an experimental electronic highway on the Interstate System but no decision on whether to build the highway or where has been made by the government.

Civic Symphony Will Present First Concert of Season

The Michigan Civic Orchestra Association will hold its Fall Concert at Ann Arbor High School Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 11 and 12. Following the opening of the concert Saturday, Nov. 11, at 10 a. m. the Michigan Youth Symphony, conducted by Oren Dalley, will perform in the auditorium of the high school.

At 1:30 p. m., guest speaker Dr. Hans T. David of the University of Michigan School of Music, will speak to the assembled delegates on the subject, "Problems of Interpretation." Following this presentation, a panel discussion on "Program Building," chaired by Dr. Morvete Rider of Hope College, will take place. Members of the panel include Prof. Clyde Thompson, University of Michigan; Wayne Dunlap, Plymouth; Mrs. Donald Armstrong, Grand Rapids; and Robert Ritsema, Kalamazoo.

At 8:15 p. m., Saturday, Nov. 11, after an informal buffet supper in the East Cafeteria of the high school, served by the Women's Association, the Ann Arbor Civic Symphony will present its first concert of the 1961-62 season. Admission is complimentary.

Chelsea people who are members of the musical group are Mrs. James Hoffmeyer, violinist, and David Sanborn, vocal music director in Chelsea schools.

The performance Saturday evening will be conducted by Dr. William D. Fitch.

Featured soloists will include Karen Klippe, lyric soprano, a member of the University of Michigan Opera department; Elizabeth Bowman, soprano, a student in the U. of M. School of Music; and Carolyn Hall, cellist, also a student at the U. of M. School of Music and winner of the highest rating among cellists in proficiency tests at the state festival.

The Ann Arbor Civic Symphony is sponsored by the Ann Arbor Recreation Department. Saturday's concert opens its 31st season.

A feature of the meetings of the Michigan Association Sunday will be the appearance of William Boot, winner of the 1961 Grinnell Piano Award, in the Little Theater of the high school, at 10:15 a. m. After presentation of summary reports from member orchestras, the conference will close.

STEER CLUB ANIMALS CHOSEN—Carl R. Ripper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rippert, 13180 W. 13th St., is shown above with the Angus steer he will enter in next year's Chelsea Steer Club. He is one of 22 members of the club, all of whom purchased their steers from the herd of 22 bought on western market through an Adrian commission man and shipped here a week ago. Arrangements for buying the steers in one lot were decided upon by club advisors as a means of getting all club members started on a more nearly equal basis than if each had to find a suitable animal on his own. All steers were spring calves and now weigh between 35 and 500 pounds. Average cost of each steer is about $130, the buying price being $29 per 100 pounds. The 22 steers were kept at the Van Riper farm on Jerusalem Rd. for a week to acclimate them.

Burmeister Holstein Tops 150,000-lb. Mark for Lifetime Production

Chattahoochee, Va.—The career production of seven registered Holstein cows in Michigan recently topped 150,000 lbs. of milk in the final testing programs of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Among these was Leo Bur Abner Viola, 3011294, (VG), owned by Leonard Burmeister of Ann Arbor, which now has a lifetime total of 151,340 lbs. of milk and 38 lbs. of butterfat. Her production to date averages out at 41 lbs. of milk for every day since she reached two years of age—including days dry.

To date nearly 1,400 officially registered Holsteins have topped the 150,000 lb. mark—approximately six times the lifetime output of the average U. S. dairy cow.

Panel Discussion To Study Con-Con, Educational Needs

A panel discussion of local educational needs under the constitutional amendment now being developed at the Constitutional Convention will be held Thursday, Nov. 16, at 8:00 p. m. in the Washtenaw County Building, Ann Arbor, under sponsorship of the Washtenaw County School Officers Association, it was announced today by Robert W. Harrington, president.

The Association is composed of members of the Board of Education of all Washtenaw county school districts. The meeting, however, will be open to the public, Harrington said.

Among the proposals affecting education which are sure to be discussed, said Harrington, are the earmarking of tax revenues; the federated taxing authority for schools proposed by a tax study committee under the chairmanship of Roy L. Stephens, Jr., of the Detroit Board of Education; the proposal by Albert E. Champney, director, Wayne county Bureau of Taxation, to substitute for the 15-mill limitation a specific taxing limitation on each unit of government now participating in the division of the 15 mills; and the suggestion that the uniformity tax clause in the Michigan Constitution be eliminated.

The panel members participating in the symposium will be: Dr. Howard Bretsch, Professor of Educational Administration, University of Michigan; and a member of a state-wide committee which has been studying the needs of education in a new constitution; Dr. Jack R. Rombouts, Deputy Superintendent, State Department of Public Instruction; Robert Carr, instructor of government, Ann Arbor Public School system; Gerald Fyfe, supervisor, correspondence study, and instructor, Political Science Department, University of Michigan; Albert Johnson, superintendent, Willow Run Public Schools; president, Washtenaw County School Administrators Association; and Dr. Albert Markwardt, director of English Language Institute, and Professor of English, University of Michigan.

It is hoped that the question and answer period following the panel presentation will assist Washtenaw county school board members and the public in evaluating the progress of the Con-Con in educational issues, Harrington added.

"PROOF OF THE PUDDING," they say, is in the eating and these patrons at the Kiwanis Club's annual pancake supper Monday evening appear to be more than satisfied with the fare of golden brown pancakes, golden brown sausages, syrup, applesauce and coffee—with seconds (and thirds) as desired. More than 400 "customers" had supper at the affair, held in the Chelsea High School cafeteria. When the crowd was thinning out late in the evening Kiwanians took time out to eat their own cooking. ## Hunters Urged To Register With Conservation Dept.

Lansing—Deer hunters soon to be striking out for camps where there is no telephone, are being urged to register at the nearest field, district, or regional offices of the Conservation Department when reaching their northern hunting areas so they can be located quickly in case of home emergencies.

Their families at home are reminded to make calls to the Department's offices only when there is a "real" emergency—death, a serious illness or accident.

Judging from recent seasons, Department men can expect to deliver about 50 emergency messages to hunters this fall. Although this is not a high figure in proportion to hunter numbers, it is all important to hunters and their families that they co-operate to make the delivery of "must" messages as prompt as possible.

For the benefit of hunters who are still wondering about where to pitch their tents or park their trailers, the Department points out that about 6,000,000 acres are open to free camping in state and national forests.

Hunters using state forest lands must post camp-registration cards at their camp sites. This not only helps Department men locate hunters in emergencies, but it also works to reduce litter problems. Camp registration cards may be picked up at the Department's district headquarters or at license dealers.

Camping facilities are also available at state parks. The daily camping fee is $1.00 at these parks; an additional 25 cents is charged per day for electricity. Daily or annual vehicle permits are also required at state parks.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vicary, Mrs. Annabelle Wooley and Mrs. Fremont Boyer spent Sunday in Elkhart, Ind., as guests of the former's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vicary and family.

Area Women To Attend E&R Women's Guild Conference

Mrs. Paul Schaible of Chelsea, Mrs. Lewis Vogel of Pleasant Lake Rd., and Mrs. Ralph Kuetner of Manchester are among the more than 600 Protestant women from all parts of the nation who will convene in Cleveland, O., Nov. 14-17 for the fifth and last quadrennial meeting of the Women's Guild of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

This is an historic occasion. The United Church of Christ, formed by the union of the Evangelical and Reformed Church with the Congregational Christian Churches, established a Council for Lay Life and Work, according to its Constitution declared in force in July in Philadelphia. This Council is "responsible for increasing, developing and coordinating the activities and participation of laymen and laywomen in the Church."

Miss Frances Kapitzky, Strasburg, O., president of the Women's Guild, will speak on "We Measure Our Ministry" on Tuesday, Nov. 14, at the opening session. At the 20th anniversary dinner on Tuesday evening, Nov. 14, at which Mrs. Vincent J. Bartell, Detroit, will preside, the program will highlight many past activities of the Women's Guild and show how they are "stepping stones" to larger possibilities in the Council for Lay Life and Work in the United Church of Christ.

Miss Lillian S. Gregory, Chicago, executive secretary of the National Fellowship of Congregational Christian Women, and the Rev. Dr. J. Kenneth Kohler, St. Louis, executive secretary of the Churchmen's Brotherhood of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, will discuss the "Role of the Laity" in the United Church of Christ. A communion service will be held Thursday evening, Nov. 16, at the Old Stone church in Cleveland and the quadrennial's final session will be held the next day.

Suffers Broken Ankle From Fall on Sidewalk In Downtown Area

Mrs. Elmer Scherdt of 11691 Chelsea-Dexter Rd., sustained a fracture below the right ankle and an injury to her left knee when she fell Tuesday noon, Oct. 31, at the corner of Main and South Sts.

Mrs. Scherdt said she stumbled because of a hole in the sidewalk. Believing at first that she had only turned her ankle, she said, she was assisted to her car and returned home; however, later examination by a physician revealed the fracture and a "walking" cast was applied.

There are no public libraries in Luce and Montmorency counties.

Mrs. Michigan Preparing for National Contest in Florida

The first lady of Michigan home-makers, Mrs. Lila Masson of Redford township, (northwest suburban Detroit) will step aboard a jet airliner at Detroit Metropolitan Airport at 5 p.m. Monday, Nov. 13 and fly away to the most exciting time of her life.

As this year's "Mrs. Michigan" she will represent the state in the "Mrs. America" contest in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where the nation's top homemaker will be selected on Thanksgiving day.

Accompanying Mrs. Masson will be her husband, Cleve, and Peggy Lewis, home service director of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., which sponsors the "Mrs. Michigan" contest. Confidently waiting at home for word of their mother's selection as "Mrs. America" will be the couple's three children: Diane, 17; Tom, 12, and Dave, 9.

For Mrs. Masson, her reign as Mrs. Michigan since last June has already had its share of excitement, but nothing like she can expect in Florida. "I've never ridden in an airplane before and I've never been to Florida," she exclaims. "If that is all there was to it, I'd be thrilled."

But for "Mrs. Michigan" there is a lot more coming. She will be treated like a movie star on her arrival in Fort Lauderdale, met at the airport amid a barrage of flashbulbs and ushered to a luxurious hotel with flowers and fruit on the table.

There will be opportunities to relax and get acquainted with contestants and their husbands from the other 49 states and the District of Columbia. The couple will be interviewed by the judges and the press.

There will be parties at the fabulous beach hotels, swimming, fishing and sightseeing trips. On Friday night, before a packed house in the War Memorial Auditorium, she and the other state winners will begin three days of competitive events.

There will be cooking and baking, hair styling, public interviews with TV's Penny and Johnny Olsen and other events "to determine homemaker talents, poise and personality."

On Thanksgiving day afternoon Mrs. Masson and the other contestants will dress in their best ball gowns for the finals and the judges will announce the winner. For Lila Masson it could mean a fabulous year of travel and public

UNUSUAL JOB

Des Moines, Iowa—Arriving for her baby-sitting assignment, Marcia Hudson, 14, was told that the entire family would be away for several hours.

Her "sitting" assignment was an unusual one. Marcia was asked to sit and see that the neighborhood children didn't mar the newly-poured cement in the backyard patio.

Choosing a comfortable chair, she sat.

appearances, thousands of dollars in prizes and a trip abroad for her and her husband.

Just the thought of all this might paralyze many a homemaker who has spent her adult life raising a child and never getting closer to the spotlights than the eighth row.

But not Lila Masson, who in the few months since she became "Mrs. Michigan," has developed into a real trouper. The first time I stood up and faced the judges in the "Mrs. Michigan" contest I was terrified. Now it doesn't bother me at all to talk to an entire auditorium full of people, appear on television or be interviewed.

Mrs. Masson credits her growing self confidence to the way she has been received by the thousands of people she has met at public appearances plus the reassurances from her husband and children.

"Everyone I have met has been so delightful, complimentary and interested in what little I have to say that it just makes me feel wonderful. I learn something from everybody I meet, not just the dignitaries, but everyone," she said.

"One day you're just another homemaker, and the next day people stop you on the street and in stores and ask about your experiences and family and what it feels like to be 'Mrs. Michigan.' It feels wonderful and I'm having the time of my life. But I'll be glad to get back to being just plain Mrs. Cleve B. Masson, wife and mother. Nothing could ever change that," she added.

At 39, Lila Masson personifies the mature woman of grace and dignity, although her charm and good looks would stand her well in any beauty contest. She has reddish brown hair, a sparkling smile and green eyes that seem a bit mischievous. She wears a size 12 and weighs less today than she did when she graduated from St. Agnes High school in Detroit in 1939.

She met Cleve Masson at a house party at Wolverine Lake and they courted three years before getting married Oct. 10, 1942. When Cleve went off to World War II as a navigator in the Air Force, she worked as a receptionist until Diane was born. A year later she joined her husband who was stationed in San Bernardino, Calif., and lived in motels for six months.

Cleve got out of service in 1946 and shortly after they purchased their present home at 25137 Lyndon, Redford township. Mrs. Masson recalls her first reaction as being "put away out in the country," as their was among the first homes built in the area. Now you can hardly find a vacant lot on the winding, tree-lined streets.

Mrs. Masson is an expert cook, as she demonstrated in taking the culinary arts award in the Mrs. Michigan contest finals. Her family prefers "plain" cooking, but she can whip up a mighty fancy dish for company.

She didn't cook much until she was married, "so everything I know I learned out of recipe books," she says. "One of the first dishes I prepared was green peppers stuffed with hamburger—it took quite a few meat stamps—and Cleve pushed it around on his plate. It finally came out that green peppers are about the only thing he really doesn't like."

In addition to keeping an attractive home and caring for her family, Mrs. Masson is also very active in civic and church affairs. She is a director of the Redford Suburban League which sponsored her entry, and a number of church, hospital and school organizations. She models clothes from time to time and enjoys decorating her home, gardening, knitting, golfing "and doing anything with the family."

The Massons are a devout family, attending St. Valentine's church together every Sunday, followed by a family breakfast at a nearby restaurant. Their vacations are usually spent at a cottage at Houghton Lake and the things they like to do best are done as a family, she explains.

Their mother being "Mrs. Michigan" has also brought some changes in the Masson children. "They are extremely proud, but more than that, they are very eager to be helpful. They pitch in and do all sorts of household jobs that used to take some urging to get done," Mrs. Masson says. "I'm going to miss them terribly in Florida," she goes on. "I've never been away from them for two weeks before. But then they seem to be having as much fun out of this as I am."

New State Auditor General Named To Fill Vacancy

Auditor General Billie Sunday Farnum was born April 11, 1916 in Saginaw. The oldest of ten children, he spent most of his school years living on a farm in Watrousville, Michigan, graduating from Vassar High school in Vassar, in 1935.

After graduation, Farnum worked with the Civilian Conservation Corps before going to the Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors. During World War II, he worked in an advisory capacity to the Office of Price Administration and the War Production Board. For his work on the OPA, he received a War Service Award from Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Governor Williams appointed Farnum to the Michigan State Fair Commission in 1961, where he distinguished himself in his battle against graft and corruption. In 1962, the late United States Senator Blair Moody appointed him Administrative Assistant, a post he held until 1964. In 1965, he was appointed Assistant Secretary of State, and on July 1, 1967, he was elevated to Deputy Secretary of State. In January 1960, he was appointed Deputy State Chairman of the Michigan Democratic Party, the office he held until his appointment as Auditor General by Governor John B. Swainson on Oct. 23.

Farnum is self-educated, developing his reputation as a top-flight administrator by his night school study in accounting, public administration, business management and time study.

He has been active in all phases of the labor movement culminating in his appointment as an international representative of the UAW. He also has been active in the Boy Scouts of America, Parent Teachers Association and was a member of the Pontiac Community Chest Board for nine years, where he helped develop the plan for the first Michigan United Fund Campaign.

In addition, he is a member of the Plymouth Congregational Church of Lansing, the Masonic Lodge and served as president of the Pontiac Shrine Club.

His extensive political activity ranges from work as a Democratic precinct delegate in Oakland county to the post he now holds.

Farnum married the former Maxine DeCoe in 1936. They have three sons, Eugene 24, Norman 20, and Ronald 12, and one grandson, The Farnums live at 7184 Coleman Rd., East Lansing.

Farm Burdens And Blessings

Dr. George Scarfeth, research director for the American Farm Research Association, is a man that mimeses few words. A life-time conservationist and veteran educator, he has compiled a listing of farm burdens and blessings. Says Scarfeth, the farmer may be the first to go broke, but he's the last to starve.

"He must stay close to home, has much privacy, and is free from time-slacks. He knows storms, cold, rains and mud, but his air is free from cancer-producing gases."

"He uses labor saving machines, but farms bigger, so works as hard as ever. Hard work doesn't kill anyone with a good heart—good in spirit and good by use. His work is steady so he isn't soft. (Many city people in the North die shoveling snow.)"

"He can forego comforts and has much freedom, or he can trade his independence for more things. (His family and others keep him on the treadmill—most of us will do anything for our family.)"

"He does not need a vacation in the country, but would like to see the 'bright lights' occasionally. He hasn't time to go fishing, but there is nobody saying 'you can't go.'"

"He used to be regarded as a 'hayseed,' but many of our national leaders got started from hard times on the farm."

"He can't hide his property from the tax collector, and is taxed to death for the tools he used to produce a taxable income."

"Inflation increases the value of his land, but in turn increases the taxes and the cost of farm supplies."

"If he conserves his soil or builds its productivity, he gets no tax deduction; instead, the taxes go up because the farm is worth more."

"He is a disciplined man. He can't cheat on the laws of nature, and he doesn't like orders from confused man-made regulations; he hates bureaucrats, and is suspicious of 'do-good leadership.'"

"He believes in God. Of all men, the farmer must still work with God as a partner who will strike."

JFK SIGNS SCHOOL BILL—President Kennedy has signed into law "with extreme haste" a bill containing the main of his aid-to-education program.

He said he signed the measure because the Welfare Department told him that to defer action on the next session of Congress would jeopardize the entire education effort.

Michigan Ready To Link Freeway with Toll Road

The Michigan State Highway Department is preparing to award contracts early next year for a better highway between the west end of the Interstate 94 Freeway and the LaPorte Road, it was announced recently.

Department Managing Director Howard E. Hill said State Highway Commissioner John C. Williams has approved a plan to build a temporary connection as early as possible because it will be seven years before Indiana's portion of I-94 between LaPorte Road and the Michigan line is completed.

Construction of I-94 from its terminus at New Buffalo to the Indiana line cannot be done until Indiana builds its link, Hill said.

The Highway Department is preparing to award contracts early in 1962 to extend its present terminus at LaPorte Road south to LaPorte Road, a distance of 1.5 miles.

At the same time, it has started negotiations with the Berrien County Road Commission to modernize 1.5 miles of LaPorte Road from 1-94 south to the state line and to change its status from a county road to a state highway.

Contracts to modernize LaPorte Road also would be awarded early next year, Hill said, and the project would be financed by the Highway Department and the Federal government.

The Michigan plans were announced in a letter from Hill to George M. Foster, Executive Director of the Indiana State Highway Department.

Hill told Foster the decision is based on the assumption that the Indiana Highway Department will improve Indiana 39 from the Michigan-Indiana line to the Indiana Toll Road.

We know old men who remember the compliments that came to them as little boys.

Furniture Refinishing

by BOB WILKIN

In the three preceding articles, we discussed the tools in removing paint prior to refinishing, the types of removers, and the application of a semi-paste remover.

Q. Now we're ready for sanding?

A. Not quite. Let's fill, seal and repair wherever necessary before getting into the sanding operation. Cracks, deep scratches, and nail holes can be filled with a commercial crack filler. Don't be stingy. Use a putty knife and spread on the crack filler (or wood putty) as though you were buttering toast. With the flat of the knife, push the filler down into the crack and then remove the bulk of the excess. A crack filler is harder as it contains mineral ingredients whereas a wood putty contains wood flour and is easier to sand and will not dull tools.

When it has hardened, sand it level with the surrounding wood surface. Shallow dents can be filled by laying a damp cloth on the area and running a hot flat iron over the cloth.

Q. What about the knots?

A. Back to the putty knife and fillers. Fill the indentations in the knots the same as you did the nail holes and cracks. Sand off the excess filler when dry.

Q. Great. Except that leaves me with dark colored knots filled with little areas of light crack filler.

A. Chances are you'll be giving that furniture piece a stain. With a clean cloth, dab some of that stain (or dark brown or mahogany shoe polish) into the filled area of the knots, and wipe it off when the color matches. Or you can use food coloring such as that used for frostings etc. Put the color in a glass of water and add color or increase water until you get the right shade, then use this water in mixing the filler.

Then—and this is important—brush over the knot area with white shellac or a commercially prepared knot sealer.

Now you're ready to consider the sanding operation and we'll cover that in the next (fifth) article.

POLICY SHIFT

The Administration has decided that, apart from members of Congress, it will appoint only professional diplomats as delegates to the United Nations General Assemblies.

The appointment of "big names" and the concern about so-called "balanced delegations" for internal political reasons are no longer regarded in the Administration as sound and adequate approaches to deepening international problems. The acquiescence of leading members of Congress in the new policy will be sought in the coming months.

Being courteous may require a little extra time but, in the long run, it often saves time.

Citizens Meet with Con-Con Delegates To Study Ways for Reporting to People

More than 60 area residents representing 40 civic organizations met at a noon meeting Monday at the Michigan Union with Washtenaw county's three delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

The meeting was under the auspices of the Ann Arbor Citizens Council with the announced purpose of developing better communication between the delegates and their constituents. Pro Charles W. Joiner, of the University of Michigan Law School and associate director of research for the convention, acted as chairman of the event.

Brief reports on convention problems, especially that of adequate contacts between delegates and their home districts, were delivered by Roscoe O. Boniske, Don Lawrence and Prof. James K. Pollock, the Washtenaw county delegates.

Four proposals were offered to the organization representatives by the Ann Arbor Citizens Council. Included as possible alternatives for future action were (1) regular breakfast or luncheon meetings between the delegates and organizational representatives; (2) periodic public appearances by the delegates; (3) locally scheduled hearings for presentation of viewpoints on convention issues by interested organizations to the delegates and to the community; and (4) regular reports from the delegates by newspaper and radio.

Formation of a programming committee to consider these along with other alternatives was approved by the group. Suggested initial members of the committee subject to later additions are Arthur Eastman, Arthur Gallagher, Mrs. John Lansing, and Mrs. Stanley Thayer. Mrs. Brymer Williams will act as secretary of the committee.

Wide Variety In Michigan Farm Crops

Michigan agriculture is characterized by the production and sale of a wide variety of crops, says John Ferris, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

This diversification may be seen in a comparison of Michigan production to that of other states. Michigan ranks high in the growing of apples, peaches, pears, plums and grapes and leads all states in tart cherries, strawberries and cultivated blueberries and black raspberries.

Michigan is the top producer of piling cucumbers and is an important growing area for asparagus. The state ranks from first to fifth in ten fresh vegetables, he says.

The dairy, livestock and poultry industries of the state represent a small part of the U.S. total, but together they make up over half the cash farm receipts in Michigan.

Most of the soft white wheat grown east of the Mississippi River is produced in Michigan, says Ferris. This class of wheat is used mainly for pastries, crackers, biscuits and cakes.

"We have to ship in a considerable amount of food from other states," he says, "while at the same time we produce an abundance of certain crops which must find a home outside of Michigan. Our dairy industry supplies us with about all the fluid milk we use, but we buy considerable amounts of butter and cheese from other states. We also bring in from other states about two-thirds of the red meat we consume, about half our eggs and nearly all the broilers we eat."

"Self-sufficiency in agriculture is not a desirable goal for Michigan," says Ferris. "We want to be certain that our resources are employed to the best advantage, specializing in those products for which we have a comparative advantage in production and marketing. We must also pay attention to the quality, volume and uniformity of products."

ATLAS BASES

The Strategic Air Command hopes to place its first intercontinental ballistic missiles in bases that are prepared to give some protection against thermonuclear blast.

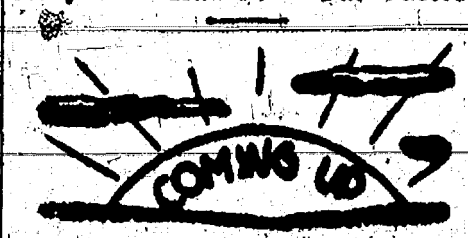

A total of forty-five bases are expected to be completed in October or early November. They will house the Atlas, Titan I and Titan II, all liquid-fueled, and the simpler solid-fueled Minuteman.

There are 35 million fishermen in America, and still the Russians are able to out-fish us.

FUTURE NURSES CLUB

Future nurses club, under the direction of Mr. Bergman had an assembly last Thursday in the library. A representative of the Grace School of Nursing in Detroit gave a talk on the school and its facilities. All the members enjoyed it very much.

JUNIOR ENGLISH

Mr. LaGoe's Junior English classes have been reading essays from the non-fiction section of their literature books. Mr. LaGoe said that the juniors' first book reports were the best he has ever had, which of course is a great credit to the "class of '63."

CIVICS

The class is discussing our National government. They have to write a paper on the "Constitutional Convention" every other week. Many of the civics classes have been discussing "Russia bombing and ways to destroy the bombs."

SHOP I

Each individual is making objects for himself. Examples are wood work, plastics, refinishing, salvage and-lave (which you can make lamps and bow out of).

ADVANCED ALGEBRA

This Monday Mr. Cowell had the class start Chapter 3, "Special Products and Factoring." The class has been reviewing 9th grade algebra and toward the end of the six weeks they will begin to work the harder problems.

DRAMA CLUB

Mrs. LaGoe is head of the Drama club. There will be no Junior Play this year because the Drama club has taken its place. The three-act play will be given second semester. The play this year will be "Our Town" and we hope to have the Seniors in it.

LATIN CLUB

Latin club is not just for Latin students. As some people may think; anyone is welcome to join. The meetings are held once a month. At the first meeting held this year officers were elected as follows: Tom Eisenbeiser, president; Janice Wood, vice-president; Marilyn Wenk, secretary; and Linda Killham was appointed treasurer. The taffy sale which is being conducted now and the other activities to be conducted throughout the year were discussed. Among these activities is the Roman banquet where the club members lie on the floor and eat like the Romans did and wear togas like the Romans. At the Roman banquet a slave auction is also held. Fun is always had by all who attend the Roman banquet, although digestion is a little hard lying down. Other activities to be held during the year are a dance and various types of parties.

AGRICULTURE I

Ag. students under the direction of Mr. Hayden are learning the differences between the different types of corn. The correct procedures used in planting corn and the types of fertilizer used in planting corn are also being discussed.

FRENCH CLUB

There was no French club last year because of lack of enthusiasm for French but a club is being formed this year and all French students, past and present, are welcome to join. The new French teacher, Mrs. Eckstrom, is the advisor. Officers were elected at the organizational meeting. They are as follows: president, Elaine Eder; vice-president, Penny Boyer; secretary, June Scott. Money-making projects were discussed and it was decided to have a dance. A committee consisting of Penny Boyer, Elaine Eder, Jane Scott, Mike Collins, Barbara Lixey and Katherine Eder was appointed to make plans for the dance. It was also decided to amend the club constitution that was used two years ago. Dues were set at 75 cents a year with the possibility if money is needed to increase this in the second semester.

FARM SHOP

Farm Shop is a class something like shop but in this class the students make things to be used on a farm. This class is for Juniors and Seniors who are Ag. students.

GAA

GAA has followed the same policy this year as they have in the preceding years. It has been their policy to decorate the goal posts for all the home football games. Pep posters, to show the team that we, the student body, are behind them whether they win or lose, have also been made by GAA. The school gym is open for an hour every Tuesday night immediately after school for all the members of GAA. There will be a fun night some time this month. A specific date has not been set, as of yet. Congratulations on your good work, girls!

JOURNALISM

Four editors and two business managers attended Journalism Day at Michigan State University this past Saturday. The four editors are Mary Ann Hanson, Pat Pastor, Nancy Carter, Ava MacDougall. The two business managers attending were Roseanne Hiltz and Sherry Frisinger. The Journalism Day program consisted of Registration from 8:30 till 9:30. Registration was followed by two sets of Group Sessions, the first from 9:40 till 10:40 and another one from 10:50 till 11:45. The first group discussed newspaper-making. While the second group discussed yearbook planning and design. Group discussions were followed by luncheons. Everyone was allowed from 12:00 till 1:15 for lunch. Upon returning from lunch, Godfrey Sperling, chief of the Midwest Bureau, Christian Science Monitor spoke to the group. At 2:45 there were round-table workshops and clinics. The meeting ended at 3:45. Everyone present said that they were all the wiser for attending.

Check Credentials Of Advance Agents For Show Groups

(Note: This is one in a series of articles by Paul L. Adams, State Attorney General, concerning frauds affecting the consumer of this State.)

By Paul L. Adams
State Attorney General

Veterans' groups, service clubs and others sponsoring entertainment projects for charity or community projects are being advised to check the credentials of advance agents for shows which never show up, and which cannot be identified or located.

The usual report is that the so-called "advance man," with a flashy set of credentials and promotional layouts, will work up a program with the entertainment committee of the local sponsoring group. The date will be settled and a detailed plan developed, including a big advance payment by the group to "firm up" the deal, this to be recovered by the local group through its ticket sales.

Once the advance man leaves town with the deposit, the curtain falls. No further word. No answers to letters. No show.

I suggest that you use caution to check the identity and authority of anyone with whom you make arrangements for benefits. Make certain that they represent a reliable agency.

If you run into anything suspicious, get in touch with your prosecutor or this office at once, please.

An old-fashioned girl is one who hasn't the slightest idea what an Old-Fashioned is.

with South Lyon was very successful. Another dance was planned after the game with Saline on Nov. 3. Tuesday Nov. 7 the club had a fun night where they initiated new members.

SPEECH CLASS

Speech classes went to a debate assembly at the University of Michigan Saturday Oct. 28. There were discussions and debates on Federal Aid to Public Education. In class last week the students gave individual speeches on Federal Aid. They also had discussions among themselves. Chelsea will debate four schools this year, they are as follows: New Boston, there; Jackson, there; Saline, here; and Stockbridge, here. Good luck!

FFA

The future Teachers of America served at a banquet for the Michigan Education Association (MEA) Wednesday night, Nov. 1. Last Saturday most of the members went to Eastern Michigan at Ypsilanti when they had a work shop and discussed elementary and secondary teaching. On Nov. 15 two members will be chosen to go to a special education school at Eastern Michigan and at Rackham School in Ypsilanti. A committee is making posters for National Education Week which is displayed up-town stone windows. Elaine Pearson is chairman of this poster committee. Dave Talbot is chairman of a dance committee which is making plans for a dance to be held later on in the school year. The club is also planning a bake sale. The plans so far state that the bake sale will be held around Thanksgiving time.

SENIOR STAND

The Senior stand at the home football games has proved to be both fun and successful. The overall manager was Joanne Wojciehowski; Gary Cattell was assistant manager. Jo and Gary were very busy since they took the responsibility of the stand. Jo had to be at the school early enough to have everything displayed and to have warmed hot dogs and sloppy-jos before the game starts. She made out a work sheet where the seniors signed up to work for half-hour shifts. There were four other seniors besides Jo in the stand on each shift. The Class of '62 is pleased with the work Joanne and Gary did on one of our main money-making projects. Co-chairmen for the senior stand for the home basketball games are James Maynard and David McLaughlin. The class is sure they will do an equally good job.

If you're anywhere near your car at the moment, get over there and raise the hood. Squeeze the radiator hoses at the top and bottom outlets. If they're cracked or swollen, they can fall at any time. If it happens while you're traveling, you could end up with an overheated motor and a cracked motor block.

Club and Social Happenings

ST. PAUL'S MISSION CLUB

Ten members and two guests of St. Paul's Mission club were present for a meeting of the group Thursday in the church hall. Mrs. Amanda Mayer, president of the club, was the hostess.

Following a brief business session, 200 pounds of clothing, games, dressed dolls, quilts and other items representing work of the club members during the past year, were packed for shipment.

One box is being sent to the Ozarks for distribution by the Save-The-Children Federation; one goes to the Emmaus Home for Epileptics near St. Louis, Mo., and two will be sent to the Winnebago Children's Home at Nellisville, Wis.

At the latter institution of the United Church of Christ, Richard Schneider, formerly of Chelsea, is director of social services and will distribute the articles as Christmas gifts.

Mrs. Emanuel Bahnmler, a member of the club, was remembered with a card shower in observance of her birthday.

It was announced that the next meeting of the club will be the Christmas party and will be held Dec. 7, the place to be selected later.

SALEM GROVE WSCS

Fifty members and guests of Salem Grove Women's Society of Christian Service were present for a pot-luck dinner at the Methodist Home Wednesday noon, Nov. 1.

A decorated birthday cake served at the dinner had been made by Mrs. Austin Artz.

At a short business session following the dinner it was decided to participate in the Chelsea workshop program for sending school supplies to Latin America.

Mrs. T. G. Riemenschneider and Mrs. Leon Sanderson were appointed church hostesses for November.

CONGREGATIONAL WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP

Mrs. Martin Steinbach was in charge of the program at the Nov. 1 meeting of the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational church. Her topic was "Our Friendly Service."

Mrs. Lee Ferguson, spiritual life-chairman, gave a talk on the subject of home family worship services.

During the business session an announcement was made that a box of clothing is being sent to the West Side Christian parish in Chicago; in addition, Rachel Chapter has purchased three dolls which are to be outfitted and Esther chapter will provide toys for boys, all to be sent to the same Chicago project.

The Rev. Philip Rusten spoke to the group in explanation of the church's every-member canvass scheduled for this week.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Robert Wagner, Mrs. David Poda and Mrs. Toivo Rihimaki.

WSCS

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church met in the church social center Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 1.

Mary-Martha Circle presented the devotional and program portions of the meeting using the theme, "Jesus Christ, the Light of the World."

Since this is the theme of the Third Assembly of the World Council of Churches to be held in New Delhi, India, from Nov. 18 to Dec. 6, the program was given in the form of a radio broadcast, "Spotlight," with Mrs. Ralph Frisch serving as mistress of ceremonies; Mrs. James Gaunt portrayed the role of Mrs. Frank G. Brooks, a member of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches, and explained the origin of the World Council of Churches and its many activities putting particular emphasis upon the coming Assembly; and Mrs. Clare Warren, representative.

ing the church women of Chelsea, told of the ways in which the Chelsea churches have united for special observances in the past and stressed the importance of World Community Day on Nov. 8.

Mrs. Jack Pfeiffer announced the broadcast, and Mrs. Arthur Stoll presided during the devotional service using a prayer litany and reading.

Mrs. James Gaunt had opened the program with quiet music, "Melody in F" after Mrs. David Souls, vice-chairman, had announced the topic.

Mrs. Loring Bates presided during the business session and the meeting was concluded with refreshments served by members of Afternoon Philathes Circle.

LIMANEERS

Limaneers held the October meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Beutler with Mrs. Lionel Vickers as co-hostess. The gathering opened with a noon pot-luck dinner for the 12 members present.

This was followed by a business session with club members responding with contributions of costume jewelry which will be taken to Ypsilanti State Hospital to be given as prizes in games played at hospital parties.

Boxes of new Christmas cards for patients' use were also contributed at Thursday's meeting. Plans were completed for the group's hospital Christmas project and announcement was made that the club's Christmas meeting will be held Dec. 7 at the home of Mrs. Alvin Pommrening with Mrs. Earl Whitney assisting as co-hostess.

KINDER CLUB

Kinder Club members entertained their husbands at a smorgasbord dinner Saturday evening at the Junior High School. The evening's program was arranged by the program chairman, Mrs. Duane Landwehr and her committee.

Entertainment was provided by James Hein, ranger in the Waterloo Recreation Area, who showed color slides and gave an interesting talk.

Cards were enjoyed later by those who wished to play.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held Tuesday, Nov. 14 at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. David Soule.

JFK AND 1962

President Kennedy has informed party legislative leaders that he is going to come back fighting in January for three proposals were not finished this year, he said.

The old proposals laid aside this year are a general aid-to-family bill, medical care for the aged and establishment of a Cabinet Department of Urban Affairs. A new proposal will be directed toward extension of the Reciprocity Trade Agreements Act which expires next year.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Makes A "Lot" of Sense

The other day I was driving by Slim Thomas' used car lot when I noticed he'd put up a big neon sign. Trouble was, all the letters were upside down. So I drove in. "Hey, Slim," I said, "that's a nice new sign—but one of the letters is wrong—side up!"

"Heck, I know that," laughs Slim. "Matter of fact, I had it made that way deliberate. Figured folks were bound to come in to tell me about it—and it works! I must get four or five new prospects a day."

Then he grins down at me. "By the way, Joe," he says, "I could give you a pretty good deal on that car of yours..."

From where I sit, "look before you leap" is especially true whenever you start to give advice. Unlike Slim, some folks may not welcome your suggestion—especially about personal tastes! Whether your neighbor takes coffee with his meals, or prefers a glass of beer—that's really his own "business." Giving folks credit for knowing their minds is a good way of keeping friendships "right-side up."

Hunters May Expect To See More Deer Than Last Year

Lansing — Michigan hunters should see more deer than last fall in many parts of the state's northern whitetail country during the Nov. 15-30 firearm season, according to the Conservation Department.

Brightest over-all prospects are in the northern lower peninsula where field men recorded a substantial increase above a year ago in their deer tallies.

Deer sightings were lower than last year in the Upper Peninsula, but counts indicate whitetail numbers are holding up well in the western portion, except along the Lake Superior shore.

The general impression from all counts, representing more than 68,500 man-hours of field observation, supports an early Department estimate that hunters will take upwards of 50,000 bucks this fall, provided they get a better break from the weather than was the case during the 1940 season.

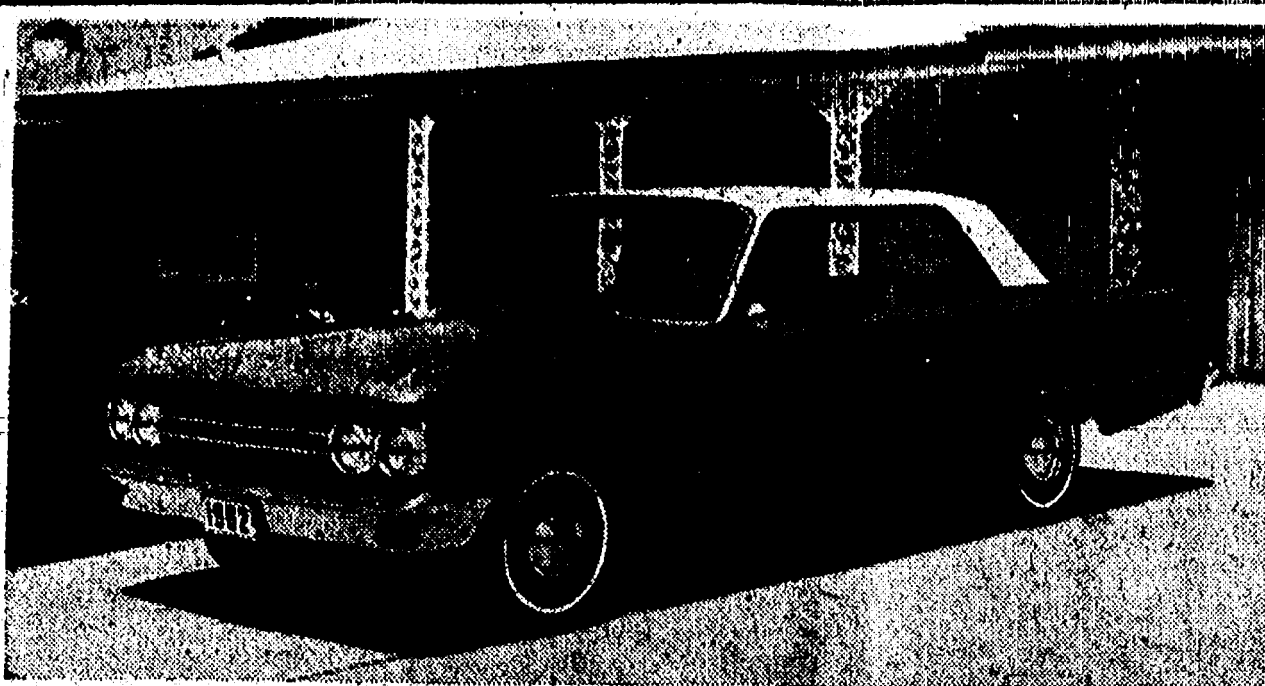

Last year, hunters harvested an estimated 47,000 bucks and 28,000 antlerless deer.

Antlerless kill will not figure significantly in this year's take since special seasons will be limited to two small cropdamaged areas in Oceana and Mason counties.

Department game officials look for roughly 450,000 hunters to be in the woods during the Nov. 15-30 season. Last year's regular and special seasons drew just over 461,000, third largest deer hunting force in the state's history.

Bears will also provide legal targets for hunters during the Nov. 15-30 period. Mild weather helped to discourage the big animals from "denning up" early last fall and Upper Peninsula hunters raised their bear kill to 800 during the concurrent firearm deer season, 530 over the year before. Only 90 were taken in the lower peninsula, well below average for this part of the state.

If you can keep from being envious and jealous of your fellowman you are approaching the outskirts of civilization.

A NEW CAR in a new car size—the Mercury Meteor—will be introduced this year as a solution for buyers who want a smaller car without sacrificing the comfort and convenience of a big car. The new Meteor will be a full-proportioned family car with an over-all length which is nine inches longer than the compact Comet and nearly a foot shorter than the Mercury Monterey. The Mercury Meteor will be available in four body styles, including the two-door sedan shown above.

Deer Hunters Urged To Report Kills Wearing Nylon Necklaces

Lansing—Upper-Peninsula deer hunters are urged to contact Conservation Department field men if they kill whitetails this season which are wearing nylon necklaces.

Approximately 50 of these animals have been "collared" by harmless self-marking loop snares in the Petal Grade area north and east of Shingleton as part of a Department study to learn more about deer movements.

Department game men are hoping hunters will tell them when and where the tagged animals are taken. This will help refine the experimental snare technique, developed last winter at the Department's Cusino wildlife experiment station, so that more extensive studies on whitetail movements may be undertaken.

The loop snare device is being tested to tell, among other things, where deer in browsed-out yards spend their summer and fall, how far they travel, precisely where they winter, and whether their movements are consistent from year to year.

U-M Museum Has Pre-Historic Animal's Tooth

A 9 1/2-pound, 10-inch-long tooth of a mammoth found near Watervliet, Mich., about two weeks ago is now being prepared for display in the University's Exhibit Museum.

Miss Margaret A. Skeels, a U-M graduate student from Ann Arbor who is preparing the tooth, said it will be added to a collection of about 15 mammoth teeth at the museum that were found in Michigan, including one from this area.

The only mammoth tooth found in Washtenaw county was discovered in June, 1943, near Chelsea and now is part of the collection, Miss Skeels said. The mammoth, a large species of elephant about the size of modern day African elephants, roamed over this area until becoming extinct about seven or eight thousand years ago, she said.

No evidence of the Michigan mammoth, a species distinct from the woolly mammoth found in the Arctic regions, has been found north of the Saginaw area, she said.

The Watervliet mammoth tooth was discovered by James Maxwell and Larry Kikels while they were working in a gravel pit at the 120-foot level near I-94. The finders didn't know what the object was and U-M Prof. Claude Hibbard was summoned to examine it.

Co-Op Nursery Children Visit Wayne Cider Mill

Halloween has been an especially busy time for the youngsters at the Chelsea Co-Op Nursery. The children helped scoop pumpkins which were then made into jack-o-lanterns. The four-year-olds made masks from paper bags and delighted in painting them to resemble cats, pumpkins, owls, witches, etc.

For their party the three-year-olds enjoyed decorating cookies. The afternoon group visited the Wagner Cider Mill in Dexter where they saw bushels of apples become delicious cider. Some cider was then taken back to the school where it was enjoyed with doughnuts.

October seemed to be birthday time as well. Birthdays were celebrated by Sandy Crouch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane
