Kiwanis Club Travel Series Is Sell-Out

Ernest Shelley of Lansing, departmental treatment director for the Michigan Department of Corrections, speaking Monday evening at the Kiwanis club meeting, explained the newer methods of rehabilitation work being done in the state, particularly among younger persons. He also told about the beginnings of a new program of his department—interesting service clubs, church groups and day people in volunteer counseling work with these men—a program which already is showing excellent results.

The class was introduced by Dr. P. E. Sharard, program chairman for the evening. Guests at the meeting included the Rev. John R. Smucker, vicar of St. Barnabas' Episcopal church, the Rev. Philip Rusten, pastor of the Congregational church, Fred Anderson and William Chandler. James Daniels, chairman of the travel-adventure series being sponsored by the Kiwanis club, reported that the ticket sale for the series was completed. The capacity of the Chelsea High school auditorium where the series of four programs will be given. Dates of the four programs are Feb. 8, Mar. 17, Apr. 7 and May 5.

for National Magazine
Chelsea—High school home economics students have elected Ruth Ann Sexton to be Chelsea's Co-Ed magazine correspondent for the remainder of the school year. Co-Ed magazine is particularly concerned with home economics.

Her duties include handling correspondence to and from the magazine and filling out questionnaires sent out by the publication in making surveys of high schools throughout the United States and Canada.

Miss Sexton has already begun her correspondence by completing form requesting information of general interest to high school age students.

There are approximately 2,500 Co-Ed magazine correspondents in the United States and Canada.

Class in Advanced First Aid Planned By Red Cross Unit

An Advanced First Aid class has been scheduled to begin Feb. 6, Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. in room 1 of the County Building, according to the Washtenaw County Red Cross Safety Services section. The free, 18-hour course will be taught by John R. Williams, and Laurel A. Bauer, Red Cross trained volunteer instructors and is open to anyone in the county who has completed the standard course within the three-year limitation period.

The class will meet each Tuesday evening for nine weeks for two hours each session—covering in detail the theories and skills of handling emergencies of a complex nature. John Williams suggests that those individuals planning to attend (Continued on page six)

Girl Scout Adult Leaders Are Honored

An impressive flag ceremony, with investiture of 17 adult volunteer Girl Scout workers, were the highlights of the Girl Scout Neighborhood meeting held Monday evening at Chelsea Junior High school.

Both ceremonies were conducted by Senior Girl Scout Troop 77. The Girl Scouts pinned to each volunteer worker's dress a Girl Scout pin and welcomed her into Girl Scout work.

Adult volunteers invested are Mrs. Carl Mayer, Mrs. Edwin Sutter, Mrs. Alex Ersten, Mrs. Laurence Boyer, Mrs. William Storey, Mrs. Bob Fitzsimmons, Mrs. Donald Knoll, Mrs. Huey Hardy, Mrs. Duane Weiss.

The list continues with Mrs. Richard Schmidt, Mrs. Basil Greenleaf, Mrs. Wilbur Yocum, Mrs. Wesley McClain, Mrs. Jerald Frisbie, Mrs. John Alber, Mrs. Maynard Poertner and Mrs. Brice-Graham. Nine additional volunteer workers are to be invested at a later date. They are Mrs. Robert Eisele, Mrs. Donald Snyder, Mrs. Elton Guenther, Mrs. Gene Burnett, Mrs. Olen Hart, Mrs. George El (Continued on page six)

COMMUNITY CHEST OFFICERS — Elected as 1962 officers of the Chelsea Community Chest at the annual meeting Wednesday, Jan. 17, were, from left, Donald Baldwin, president; Miss Gertrude Young, treasurer; Willard Guest, vice-president; and Jack Wellnitz, secretary. Willard Guest, Miss Young, Dr. Michael Papo, N. H. Miles and Mrs. Leon Chapman were elected to their second three-year term as directors. The remaining two of the seven directors elected are Donald Schneider and George Knickerbocker.

Community Chest Officers Named at Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting of the Chelsea Community Chest Wednesday evening, the matter of making allocation of payments to benefit agencies was tabled for action at the regular monthly meeting in February. This decision was made because of the fact that all pledges had not yet been received. Reports of the October campaign to raise funds for this year stated it fell short by approximately $700. The goal was $15,300. Wednesday's meeting was held in the Village Council room in the Municipal building. Both the annual meeting and the regular January meeting took place the same evening.

Business at the annual meeting, in addition to official reports of the campaign, included election of seven directors to serve on the 21-member board. Elected to replace two retiring members—David Strieter and Robert Ruddy—were Donald Schneider and George Knickerbocker. The others, each elected for their second three-year term, are Willard Guest, Miss Gertrude Young, Dr. Michael Papo, N. H. Miles and Mrs. Leon Chapman.

The remaining members of the 21-member board of directors are Howard Anderson, Allen Broesumle, Richard Kern, Donald Baldwin, Richard Smith, George Atkinson, Mrs. Robert Daniels, Lyle Christwell, Jack Wellnitz, Armin Schneider, James Allan, Mrs. A. D. Mayer, Miles Smith and Lyle Haselswerdt. The board, as organized, has named Donald Baldwin, president; Willard Guest, vice-president; Miss Gertrude Young, treasurer; and Jack Wellnitz, secretary. The next regular meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 21.

Edward H. Chandler Dies Thursday at 97

Edward H. Chandler, a Chelsea resident since 1885, died Thursday at Cedar Knoll Rest Home, Grass Lake. He had been in failing health the past two years and had entered the rest home as a patient Oct. 8, 1961. He would have been 98 years old next month, although officially, he celebrated his birthday only once every four years. He was born Feb. 29, 1864, at Alstead, N. H. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chandler.

He came to Chelsea in 1885, when he was 21 years old, and became a member of Chelsea's volunteer fire department. He had been connected with the department for almost 60 years at the time of his retirement in 1945. For approximately 65 years, Mr. Chandler was in the draying business here, a number of years with a horse and wagon and later with a truck, as motor vehicles came into use. He also delivered shipments for the Railway Express Co.

On Nov. 10, 1886, he was married at Walpole, N. H., to his former Hattie Graves. They made their home in Chelsea throughout their married life. The Chandler home was at 216 Park St. Mrs. Chandler died July 17, 1937. Survivors of Mr. Chandler are three daughters, Mrs. Henry Thierman (Albee) of Deerfield Beach, Fla., Mrs. George Turnbull (Esther) and Mrs. Lyle Haselswerdt (Dora) both of Cavanaugh Lake.

Mrs. Gary Packard received a bachelor of science degree and elementary education teacher's certificate at mid-term commencement exercises Sunday at Eastern Michigan University. Mrs. Packard, the former Bernice Miller, has accepted a position as kindergarten teacher at South Elementary school. A 1956 graduate of Chelsea High school, she enrolled that fall at EMU. She was married in 1957 and took a year off, 1958-59, for the birth of her daughter, Deborah Marie. She entered the university again in the fall of 1959, took the following year off when her son, Gary Alan, Jr., was born, and returned to school in 1961 to complete her studies. Friday night, her husband's family—the Mac Packards and Boyers here—held a surprise party in her honor at the IOOF Hall.

United Church Women's Group Organizing Today

Today marks an important occasion for church women of the Chelsea area who are holding a meeting in the social center of the Methodist church to complete organization of a chapter of United Church Women, a branch of the National Council of Churches. Mrs. Leroy V. Walcott of Grand Rapids is expected to be presented to address the group. She is president of United Church Women of Michigan. In addition to the talk by Mrs. Walcott, the afternoon's program will include a film, "United Church Women at Work," showing the organization's "areas of concern." Election of the first slate of officers will also take place. Mrs. S. D. Kinde, wife of the Methodist church pastor, will open the meeting with prayer and, following the program and business session, tea will be served. All area church women were invited to attend today's meeting and to become affiliated with the new chapter. The initiative to begin organization of a United Church Women group here was spearheaded by women of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed, St. Barnabas' Episcopal and the Congregational and Methodist churches. The meeting was scheduled to begin at 4 p.m. Turn on your porch light Tuesday evening if you wish to contribute to New March of Dimes.

Bulldog Loss Charged to Inexperience

Eager Young Team Shows Real Desire, Aggressive Play

The Saline Hornets invaded Chelsea High school last Friday evening, and proved a bit too strong for the young Bulldogs to handle. Superior height and experience made the difference in the game, which went to Saline, 67-55. The Chelsea loss certainly could not be credited to a lack of hustle or desire, but inexperience, primarily. On numerous occasions the Bulldogs would outthrust Saline for the ball, but would follow it up with an error in judgement and give the ball back to the opposition without so much as a good shot first.

Game scoring honors went to Chelsea as Curt Farley and Don Joseph tied for the top scoring position with 18 points each, Bob Riemenschneider collected 10 for

St. John's Church Elects Officers At Annual Meet

St. John's United Church of Christ (E & R) at Rogers Corners, held its annual meeting and election of officers for 1962 on Sunday. Elected as a new member of the Church Council was Virgil Hines; he replaces Robert Trinkle whose term had expired. When the Council met to organize for the year, Duane Westphal was elected president; Robert Koch, vice-president; Mrs. Erwin Hinderer, secretary; and Mrs. Ellis Pratt, treasurer.

Named as organist, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Frank Mitchell, was Mrs. Herbert Hinderer. Officers will be installed at the morning service, Sunday, Jan. 28, with the pastor, the Rev. J. Tracy Luke, officiating.

Board Seeks More Safety At Crossing

Improving safety practices at railroad approachways was discussed by the Board of Education Tuesday night.

The Board decided to see if approachways can be salted so that school buses will not slip on the roadway and also to see if view obstruction sheds can be removed so that school bus drivers will have better visibility when they are driving over the tracks. The board re-affirmed its policy on auditorium rental fees which states that all groups, except those concerned with school projects, must pay a rental fee for use of the auditorium.

Dave Soule, Mrs. Florence Mayer, Everett Van Riper and James Daniels were appointed to represent the Board on a county committee studying the possibility of starting a Community College. Supt. Charles S. Cameron was authorized to attend the American Association of School Administrators conference at Atlantic City Feb. 17-22.

It was noted at the meeting that a new 60-passenger school bus has been delivered and a 72-passenger bus is on order.

It was decided to hold the next regular meeting Tuesday, Feb. 13, instead of Feb. 20, so that Supt. Cameron may attend the School Administrators conference.

Next week, it was stated, the Board will publish a transportation report in The Chelsea Standard, breaking down figures for cost and maintenance of school buses at both the state and local levels.

Mr. and Mrs. Fremont Boyer spent from Thursday to Sunday visiting his brother and family Mr. and Mrs. Keith Boyer of St. Louis, Mo., and also called on Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vicary and children in Elkhardt, Ind. Mr. Vicary is an uncle of Mrs. Fremont Boyer.

Postponed Pinckney Game Set Feb. 19

The Pinckney game (Jan. 5 at Pinckney) which was postponed because of bad weather, will be played at Pinckney on Monday, Feb. 19.

The Bulldogs, for Saline, Brian had 16 points, Jerry McDonald 15, and Ed Strait collected 14. Chelsea got off to a slow start in the scoring column, and fell behind 21-11, at the end of one period of play. At half-time it was 32-21 for Saline, and 51-35 at the end of three quarters of play. The Bulldogs outscored the Hornets, 20-16, in the fourth quarter, but couldn't close the gap, as they went down, 67-55.

The Saline Junior Varsity dealt a 33-22 defeat to the Chelsea JV's, who had great trouble finding the hoop. Friday night's schedule will find Ypsi Roosevelt at Chelsea.

Group Organizes To Play Volleyball

Men of the community will have an opportunity to play volleyball at Chelsea Junior High school Wednesday, Jan. 31; beginning at "exactly 7:30 p.m.," according to an announcement made by Duane Rowe on behalf of a group promoting the project. Those who would like to play basketball should come earlier. Being promoted for the purpose of playing for fun and exercise, the group will discuss details of planning at the first meeting Wednesday.

A nominal donation of $1.00 per person is planned for the first night. All men of the community are welcome to participate, it was stated.

PEANUT SALE PREPARATIONS — Members of Boy Scout Troop 76, assisted by Scoutmaster Alvin Reinhardt and Assistant Scoutmaster Harold Baker, began preparation at their regular Monday night meeting for the "Peanuts-for-Pollo" peanut sale to be held this week-end. Boy Scouts of both Chelsea troops—76 and 25—will participate to help raise funds for the 1962 New March of Dimes.

Peanut Sale, Mothers' March Will Help Dimes Campaign

This week's special activity of the annual New March of Dimes campaign is the Boy Scouts "Peanuts-for-Pollo" sale. Boy Scouts of Troops 25 and 76 will participate. They will be on the downtown streets from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m. Friday and all day Saturday. Mrs. Donald Baldwin, 1902 New March of Dimes campaign chairman, in tabulating returns from sources, said the total received to date is $391.28. This amount includes $108.79 from mailers; $32 from clubs; $46 representing two days receipts from the bowling tournament; $108 from industry; and $3.50 from miscellaneous sources. Also included, Mrs. Baldwin said, was $2.50 from approximately 15 members of a Chelsea High school class, after Carol Dancer had made a speech. The impromptu collection took place on a day when only a few students were present. No results will be available on the amount contributed in canisters placed in business places and other locations in the community until the end of the campaign when the canisters will be picked up by the chairman of that division, Mrs. Larry Chapman. Next Tuesday, Jan. 30, from 7 p.m. until 8 p.m., Chelsea women will hold their annual Mothers' March, along with other mothers throughout the county. In Chelsea, this is one of the principal means of raising funds for the March of Dimes. Mrs. Lawrence Dietle is Chelsea Mothers' March chairman; she has appointed as "block captains" Mrs. William Rademacher, Mrs. Robert Turner, Mrs. George Palmer, Mrs. J. Wilbert Smith, Mrs. Richard Smith, Mrs. Edward Visel, Mrs.

Theodore Faist and Mrs. William Storey. The captains, in turn, have appointed marchers as follows: Mrs. William Hitchingham, Mrs. Thomas McClear, Mrs. Roland Eder, Mrs. Donald Alber, Mrs. Harold Dove, Mrs. Richard Collins, Mrs. Lero Buchler, Mrs. Thomas Eisele, Mrs. Ronald Brannham, Mrs. Bill Harris, Mrs. Robert Barke, Mrs. Robert Butler, Mrs. John Stofor, Mrs. David Soule, Mrs. Herbert Hinz. The list continues with Mrs. John Chapman, Mrs. Leonard French, Mrs. Sumner Osterle, Mrs. Jack Musser, Mrs. David Sanborn, Mrs. Huey Hardy, Mrs. Harold Dodge. Others are Mrs. James Hovey, Mrs. Philip McGibney, Mrs. Paul Bollinger, Mrs. Darrol Satterthwaite, Mrs. Gerald Wolk, Mrs. Wesley Ellenwood, Mrs. Kenneth Smith, Mrs. Edward Visel, Mrs.

Image of Colonialism Being All Bad Has Been Distorted from True Picture

The United States, especially in the United Nations, has accepted the theory of the Asian-African peoples that colonialism was and is bad, and that, therefore, it must go. We have done this partly because of our history and democratic background—partly in keeping with our belief that all peoples should have a right to decide on their form of government.

Colonialism meant, among other things, that practically all of the world was supervised from Western Europe. The countries of Western Europe were the most advanced in terms of science, hygiene, industrial production, etc. (in the era when colonizing was in vogue) and the ships of the various Western European nations probed the seas and established territorial areas for their mother countries to rule.

There was nothing inherently evil in this development process. In fact, it was normal under the circumstances. The backward peoples, most of them using spears on each other, needed an example and a teacher—in the long evolutionary process of achieving a modern civilization.

Western Europe's colonizers brought with them technical knowledge and built roads and hospitals and factories, and also brought with them the Christian religion. Gradually the backward, ignorant peoples, learned Western ways and methods and began to acquire skills, techniques—and ambition!

The real ferment for throwing off the colonial yoke began to boil only after World War II—or in the last 16 years. The beginning, of course, was earlier, but only in the past 16 years has the moral thesis been accepted that the world will be better off with everyone free.

But will it? Should all these backward nations be freed, today, whether they are ready for freedom or not? Will we be better off in the world when all these half-civilized Asian and African nations are completely unrestrained by some old, orderly European capital?

It is the current fashion to think of all past colonialism as bad, and to attach a stigma to all colonialism and the European nations which practiced it. On the contrary, the greatest colonial power, Great Britain, has set an example for the world in freeing most of her colonies. What Asian or African nation would have done the same?

If the Communists move into the vacuum left by the departed colonial leadership, the age of idealism will have been a fine one for the Reds. If we end up with world chaos and confusion, among hundreds of half-educated and disorderly governments, at the end of this era of international idealism, what will we have gained?

John F. Kennedy, President: "We are going to pass through difficult weeks and months in the time ahead in maintaining the freedom of West Berlin. But maintain it we will."

Congressional Detour Ahead

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Election year in Michigan usually brings forth an unproductive, non-controversial legislative session, but there are several indications that 1962 will be an exception.

Pressure to finance expanding government operations within revenue income grows harder continuously. Attempts to remove the $71.5 million-plus deficit also are being sought.

Gov. John B. Swainson has indicated to the Republican-controlled legislature he is ready for a fight over ways to increase revenue to meet the needs. The Republicans, however, now appear ready to approve, and perhaps even promote, some new sources of revenue.

The fight in the legislature this year would well center over who would take credit during the fall campaign for whatever is done. George Romney, a delegate to the Constitutional Convention and very likely 1962 Republican candidate for governor, has spent considerable time in recent weeks hammering at Swainson's administration.

The Governor has said he was "too busy" to comment on Romney's charges of labor domination and general irresponsibility. Swainson says he is waiting for the campaign.

It would appear the 36-year-old governor is playing a waiting game, but it is far from a quiet one. He is concentrating his efforts on legislative proposals which have some measure of bipartisan support for which he hopes to take credit.

While Swainson says he is waiting for the campaign to start, his lieutenants are spending considerable time building up for the race. The Governor, of course, is directing the activity by his subordinates.

The Governor recently gave two prize plums to members of his administrative board when former Auditor General Otis M. Smith and former Attorney General Paul L. Adams were named to the State Supreme Court.

Both Smith and Adams undoubtedly were well qualified for the bench positions, but ulterior motives, geared to the 1962 election, were seen behind the two appointments.

Appointment of Smith, first Negro elected to a state-wide office or named to sit on the high court, was an obvious and probably successful move to keep the favor of the Negro voter in Michigan.

Adams had patiently been waiting for a judgeship at any level, and reportedly was ready to blow the whistle on his co-operation with Swainson's team when he was named.

The appointments gave Swainson the chance to bring in new party faithful from other areas to elective posts. Frank J. Kelley of Alpena replaced Adams and Billie S. Farnum, long-time party worker from Lansing, took Smith's position.

Several other changes in Swainson's organization since he took office gave him the beginnings of a strong machine for the November election.

Romney's entry into the election picture, raised bristles of fear on the backs of Democrats. Many thought he never would run and indications are they have strong doubts that Swainson or any other candidate they might have could beat him.

The American Motors Corporation president's position as a delegate to the Con-Con might give him a strong edge for the fall campaign.

It will be his aim in the coming months to take credit for the document presented to the people, while his party seeks to take credit for any legislative action which will relieve some of the state's lingering problems.

Michigan motorists now drive on 801 miles of freeway linking 12 of the state's largest cities. This is among the reasons that the state highway department ranks among the top in the nation.

The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads reports Michigan opened a record amount of new freeway in 1961 and maintained its lead for the second consecutive year in all types of road-building and contract-letting.

Major freeway links completed during 1961 gave motorists continuous divided four-lane highways between Flint and Lansing, Grand Rapids and Muskegon, Lansing and Grand Rapids, and Flint, Saginaw, Bay City and Midland.

By the end of this year the department plans to complete construction, enabling motorists to drive non-stop from Detroit to a point near the Indiana line at New Buffalo, from Detroit to Muskegon and from the Michigan-Ohio line to St. Ignace.

Red Cross Offers Problems in Aging Course to Public

A brand new Red Cross public service program will make its debut in Washtenaw county when the first "Fitness for the Future" course will be offered in Ann Arbor as part of the week-long workshop at the University of Michigan starting Feb. 5.

The free eight-hour course is devoted entirely to discussion sessions on the rewards and problems which come with aging. It is designed to help meet the needs of Americans in maintaining the highest level of health in the years science is adding to their lives. It is especially useful to individuals in the 35 to 65 span of life. There are no physical limitations or requirements as the course is not an "exercise" or "slim" program. The principal questions considered by the group are: how to live healthfully, how to live safely, how to live wisely, how to live leisurely.

Both men and women are encouraged to enroll for this class by calling the Red Cross at 662-5546 before the Jan. 31 deadline. The only requirement is that they have a genuine interest and be able to attend all four of the classes.

Shelter Survey Program Is Topic For County Meet

The national shelter survey program being implemented in Washtenaw county will be discussed at a conference in Ann Arbor Jan. 30. Representatives from the federal government, Region IV, Battle Creek; the Michigan office of Civil Defense; and an engineering firm that is conducting a site survey in Washtenaw county will be present.

The program to be discussed deals with the effort by the federal government to determine the location, the protection and the number of people both public and private buildings may accommodate in community shelters.

All Civil Defense personnel in the county are invited to attend. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in room 1 of the County Building.

Parents Should Draw Line on Kids Says U-M Official

Ann Arbor—Much present-day juvenile delinquency stems from the fact that parents fail to set boundary limits for youngsters during their formative years, says Marie Hartwig, University of Michigan supervisor of physical education for women.

"Some children can fare quite well within the framework of broad limitations, whereas others must have very specific boundaries," says Mrs. Hartwig. "Because of the nature of their personality, some children need very strong authoritarian leadership until such time as they are able to demonstrate their ability to operate within a democratic framework."

"Now and then children need to face the reality of being denied something they want to do. Under the protective wing of the family, love they often do not learn that their wishes must be brought into line with the wants and wishes of others—that their world must be compatible with the society in which they live."

Service to Aged Is Key Part of Catholic Charities Work

As a result of the increasing number of senior citizens, the Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw county has become increasingly active in the field of aging.

Catholic Charities in Michigan has an established reputation for service to the aged dating back to the early part of the 19th century. The early efforts of the church in this field were largely confined to volunteer groups cooperating with religious orders, often on an informal basis.

Today the services offered to the aged by Catholic agencies and institutions is highly organized and consists of counselling by professionally trained caseworkers in homes located throughout Michigan, and residential care in a wide variety of institutions geared to meeting the needs of a wide variety of personalities with various backgrounds and interests.

Many of the 1,026 families coming to the agency for help during 1961 were senior citizens asking for help with housing or medical care and some were seeking counselling with emotional problems associated with retirement and growing older.

Jan. 31, 1961, the Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw county will hold its third annual dinner, and at that time a report will be given on the agency service to the aged as well as agency service in other areas. The dinner will be held at the Michigan Union at 6:30 p.m., Jan. 31, 1962. All interested citizens are cordially in-

Mothers' March...

Neal, Mrs. Martin Tobin, Mrs. Clarence Ulrich, Mrs. Stanley Seal, Mrs. Lauryn White, Mrs. Keith Boylan, Mrs. Robert K. Taylor.

The list is completed with the names of Mrs. John Pilkington, Mrs. Robert Foster, Mrs. Duane Crouch, Mrs. Alex Mear, Mrs. Jack Mear, Mrs. Frederick Wagner, Mrs. Parker Sharrard, Mrs. Keith Rappette, Mrs. Dan Murphy, Mrs. David Stedler, Mrs. Charles McDaniels, Mrs. Robert Reed, Mrs. William Blass, Mrs. Robert Robbins, Mrs. Donald Blacklock and Mrs. Wilber Worden.

Mrs. Dietle said the women plan to stop at every home during the one-hour "march" and it would be a convenience for them if residents will turn on their porch lights, particularly if there is ice and snow.

Those who have already responded to their request for assistance are Mrs. Holton Kniesly, Mrs. Joseph Hachey, Mrs. Ferdinand Kopinski, Mrs. James Eberts, Mrs. Robert Rentschler, Mrs. Duane Braun and Mrs. Kenneth Brooks.

Area township women will canvass their areas throughout the week instead of having a concerted "march." This has been the custom in most rural and outlying areas where the "Mothers' March" as carried out in cities and villages is impractical.

In Sylvan township, Mrs. Franklin Gee, the chairman, has appointed four area captains to assist her—Mrs. Max Hepburn, Mrs. Edward Lauhaon, Mrs. Graham Sprague and Mrs. Earl Kuhl.

In Freedom township Mrs. Roy Bihlmeyer is chairman and in Sharon township the chairman is Mrs. Bernard Kemmer.

The Lima township chairman, Mrs. John Cole, has a total of 12 women on her list of helpers. They are Mrs. Robert Kushmaul, Mrs. Raymond Renz, Mrs. Charles Trinkle, Mrs. William Beach, Mrs. Joan Kipmiller, Mrs. Rudolph Zahh, Jr., Mrs. Carroll Ordway, Mrs. Henry Orthing-Jr., Mrs. Elmer Rust, Mrs. Ralph McCalla, Mrs. Roy Koch and Mrs. Alfred Johnson.

Mrs. Lawrence Stalker and Mrs. Howard Cribble, co-chairmen for the township solicitation, have appointed Mrs. Robert Peterson of Loch Alpine, Mrs. Clarence Bauer of the Jackson Ave. area, and Mrs. Orin Inbody of the Evergreen subdivision area to assist.

Dexter township's co-chairmen are Mrs. Leo Hoey and Mrs. Arthur Visel.

Mrs. Burton Bucy and Mrs. Patrick O'Malley, Webster township chairmen, do not plan a solicitation from house to house but will rely on matters for contributions.

THE LETTERBOX

Jan. 21, 1962

Robert Daniels, President

Dear Mr. President,

Your proclamation of "Junior Chamber of Commerce Week" is a deserving recognition of an outstanding civic minded organization.

This is therefore, an appropriate time to express the deep appreciation and gratitude of the children at Camp Crile, sponsored by the Michigan Society for Epileptic Children, Inc.

The services rendered by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and their Auxiliary, have been of immeasurable value to our children at Camp Crile.

On behalf of all of us in the society and particularly the children we join you Mr. President in a public declaration of appreciation and esteem for the Chelsea chapter, Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Sincerely and respectfully yours,

Eldon Heller, President,
Michigan Society
For Epileptic Children, Inc.

It is positively surprising what some people will do in the expectation of monetary gain.

PHYLLIS (TISH) PREUSS

Major Win for Miss Preuss In Tourney

This area's top nomination for stardom in the women's golfing world, Phyllis Preuss, won her first major golfing tournament Sunday when she scored a 4-3 victory over Sandra Spuzich of Indianapolis, Ind., in the Doherty women's golf championship at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Miss Preuss, who has finished runner-up to many of the top amateur women golfers in the nation in recent tournaments, came into her own Sunday after being one down on the seventh hole. Over the rest of the course she played a brilliant green game that carried her to victory.

Last year, in the Doherty, Miss Preuss finished runner-up to Marlene Streit, the Canadian amateur champ. She also went to the finals of the National Women's Amateur before bowing out. She has been a consistent strong finisher in most of the major women's golf tournaments.

Her next major tournament will be the North-South amateur soon to be held at Pinehurst, N. C.

Miss Preuss's victory in the Doherty now makes her a strong contender for the Curtish Cup team, the top women's golf team of the nation, and comparable to the Walker Cup team, the men's championship golf team.

Miss Preuss plays out of Pompano Beach, Fla., during the winter season but calls the Inverness Golf Club her summer club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Preuss who have a summer home at North Lake in Lyndon township.

Diane Worden Chosen Alternate Representative To International Meet

Diane Worden has been selected as an alternate representative of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council at the third International Girl Scout Round-Up, July 18-31. She is one of 14 alternates chosen.

The alternates will attend the round-up only if some of the 30 girls selected as representatives are unable to go; however, the alternates will be eligible for a substantial trip if they are not needed as replacements to attend the round-up.

The round-up takes place this year at Button Bay State Park in Vermont; two girls from Belgium will be present to share the experience with the Huron Valley Council girls who attend. The Council includes Washtenaw, Livingston and part of Wayne county.

Girl Scouts elected for the honor of attending the round-up are chosen for their ability to demonstrate their knowledge of basic camping skills.

A girl selected must also have been chosen from her troop as the girl who best practices the ideals of Girl Scouting.

The committee in charge of selecting girls for the round-up also considers each girl's complete scouting and camping history and her own statement as to why she wishes to attend the round-up.

Miss Worden is a member of Girl Scout Troop 77.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The program period at the Jan. 23 meeting of the Woman's club featured a display of new spring fashions exhibited by five buyers from an Ann Arbor store who explained they had just returned from fashion centers where they had purchased the store's spring stock.

The buyers represented the following departments: casuals, better dresses, hats, shoes and cosmetics. They brought to the meeting here a quantity of dresses, suits, sport dresses, blouses, coats, hats, costume jewelry, hand bags and shoes.

Program topic for the club's meeting, held at McKune Memorial Library, was "Plan a Wardrobe."

At the conclusion of the program, each lady present was given a bottle of a special cologne and a shoe horn as a gift and refreshments were served by Mrs. P. G. Schable and Mrs. H. T. Moore.

During the business session Mrs. Ben-Domson became a member of the club.

At the next meeting, to be held Feb. 13, Valentine cards will be brought for distribution at Colonial Manor the following day.

PNG

New officers for 1962 were elected at the first meeting of the Past Noble Grand club of Kibekah Lodge, held Tuesday evening, Jan. 23, at the home of Mrs. Vernon Parks.

Those elected are Mrs. Dorothy Keezer, president; Mrs. Mary Ann Coltre, vice-president; Mrs. Lucille Altstaetter, secretary; and Mrs. Lulu Sweeney, treasurer.

There were 13 members present for the January meeting; co-hostess was Mrs. Clifford Wolfe.

Following a dessert supper and business session, a resume of the club's records was read by the outgoing secretary, Mrs. Eulabee Packard. This included mention of the fact that since 1939, 10 members of the club have died and four members have withdrawn from membership.

The retiring president, Mrs. Lucille Altstaetter, presided at the business session.

It was announced that Mrs. Altstaetter and Mrs. Elsie Hinz will be co-hostesses for the next club meeting, Wednesday, Feb. 28. A Valentine gift exchange and party is scheduled with Mrs. Parks as entertainment committee chairman. The meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Altstaetter.

SUBURBANETTES EXTENSION

Suburbanettes—Extension—club members met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Bruce Byerast for a smorgasbord dinner.

In keeping with the January lesson topic, Scandinavian dishes had been prepared by members and brought in to be served; these included fruit soup, stuffed cabbage, caviar and green rice.

There was discussion of the proposed purchase of a large coffee pot for club use.

The lesson pertaining to the customs, food habits and general everyday life of the people in Scandinavian countries was presented.

Gregory Area Youth Participating in Navy Training Program

Great Lakes, Ill.—Fred J. Devine, II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Devine of 8705 Coonlake Rd., Gregory, Mich., began a nine-week basic training program, Dec. 20, at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Recruit training consists of classroom instructions in various naval topics. As prospective leaders, the recruits are schooled in military etiquette, drill, swimming and survival, first-aid, shipboard safety measures and security duty. Recreation and a rigorous physical fitness program will round out the training.

Puppies Abandoned Along Country Road in Bitter Cold

The cruel hoax of puppy abandonment apparently continues in this area.
Recently a news-story appeared in The Dexter Leader which told of the abandonment of three half-frozen black and white puppies which were placed in a cardboard box and apparently thrown from a car traveling along Dexter-Ann Arbor Rd.
Friday morning another incident of this type was reported to The Chelsea Standard by home owners living on the Haist and Fletcher roads four miles south of Chelsea.
Three rust-brown puppies were found wandering in this area, apparently abandoned, and were taken into nearby homes to get warm. Two of the puppies were found on Fletcher Rd., and one was found wandering along the middle Haist Rd.
Residents of the area found homes for two of the abandoned puppies but one had to be turned over to the Washtenaw County Humane Society.
The puppies were said to be several weeks old and appeared to be well-cared for.
"People around here are pretty disturbed about this," a woman who asked to remain anonymous said, adding, "who could be so cruel?"

To Honor Five Farm Leaders at Farmers' Week

Outstanding contributions to the dairy industry, to the potato industry and to rural leadership have won Distinguished Service to Agriculture awards for five Michigan farm leaders.

The awards will be presented Jan. 31 during Farmers' Week activities at Michigan State University by Dean T. K. Cowden of the MSU College of Agriculture.

Recipients of the awards are Walter Wightman, Fennville, Ben F. Beach, Adrian and Reuben Bros. and Hopp, Rogers City.

Wightman, an Allegan county farmer, is president of the Michigan Farm Bureau and serves on the board of directors of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Beach is general manager of the Michigan Producers Dairy Co., Adrian, and received the award for his long service to dairy organizations.

Fred and David Reiserer of Ervin Hopp are a partnership producing certified seed potatoes, having helped develop several varieties on their Presque Isle county farm.

Complaints reaching my office indicate that citizens are being victimized by vendors of defective or worthless water conditions. Some of these are being sold in the name of a non-existent Michigan corporation which forfeited the right to do business in the several years ago. The notes signed by its customers are sold in instances from outside the state, which the pursues the hapless buyer as an innocent holder for value.

There are many good water conditions on the market made as sold by reputable dealers. When you buy such an item, make sure you know whom you are dealing with. If in any doubt, check with your local chamber of Commerce, better business bureau or bank.

Any difficulty similar to the described above should be reported to your local prosecutor or to my office at once.

When you hear somebody complaining about how much the government has done for the farmer, ask him if he knows how much the government has done for business.

The United States, in its effort to help other people, has demonstrated the most amazing generosity to be found in any nation.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank our friends, relatives and neighbors for the many kindnesses shown me while I was in the hospital. I especially appreciate the visits and telephone calls and the gifts of candy and fruit.

Sincerely,
Ralph Wood.

THANK YOU
I wish to thank the many friends and neighbors for their kindness and thoughtfulness shown to me while I was a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital; for all the cards, gifts and prayers I am deeply grateful.

Mrs. Sadie O'Connell.

Area Corn Growers Invited To Free Weed Control Clinic

All progressive corn growers in this area are invited to attend a Weed Control Clinic in Chelsea, Thursday, Jan. 25 (today). The latest methods of growing corn without weeds will be presented by experts and reviewed in group discussions. A new motion picture filmed in the Corn Belt will be shown.

Chemical weeding of corn, a subject of vital and increasing importance to the development of Atrazine and Simazine herbicides, has become an accepted cultural practice among progressive corn growers. A cost-and-benefits discussion of these now established weed killers, in terms of this locality's needs, should benefit every grower who attends this informative and instructional session—which will start at 8 p.m. at Chelsea High school.

As many farmers in this area know, Atrazine and Simazine represent a major breakthrough in the science of weed control—described by many leading authorities as the most important development in profitable corn culture since the introduction of hybrid seed. These herbicides now take their place with hybrid seed, insecticides, and nitrogen fertilizers as another important cultural practice for top corn production.

Before the development of Atrazine and Simazine, corn producers were always faced with the difficult and time-consuming task of either cultivating corn or facing an almost certain reduction in yields due to weeds competing with corn for soil moisture, plant food and sunlight. Responsible for about 80 percent of losses due to weeds are the weeds within the row, and of course, these cannot be touched by the cultivator. These "untouchables" presented a most difficult problem to solve.

Earlier chemicals available for weed control in corn had limitations since they did not adequately control both broadleaf weeds and grasses. To solve these problems, science came up with Atrazine and Simazine—herbicides that control both annual broadleaf weeds and grasses all season with one application at planting time. Certain perennials such as quackgrass are also controlled by a special type of application.

These weeds are safe to corn, safe to humans and animals, and will not irritate skin. Weeds are eliminated from corn so effectively that yield increases more than pay for the chemical and application.

Most progressive growers apply Atrazine or Simazine as a broadcast treatment. However, band applications may also be used successfully.

While both weed killers may be applied at planting time for full season weed control, Atrazine may also be applied at any convenient time after planting, as long as it is put on before weeds are not more than 1½ inches high. Broadcast treatment is recommended for this type of application.

The instructional color film, "A New Day In Corn," will be shown at the Weed Control Clinic and following the meeting refreshments will be served. All farmers and others interested in corn production are invited to attend.

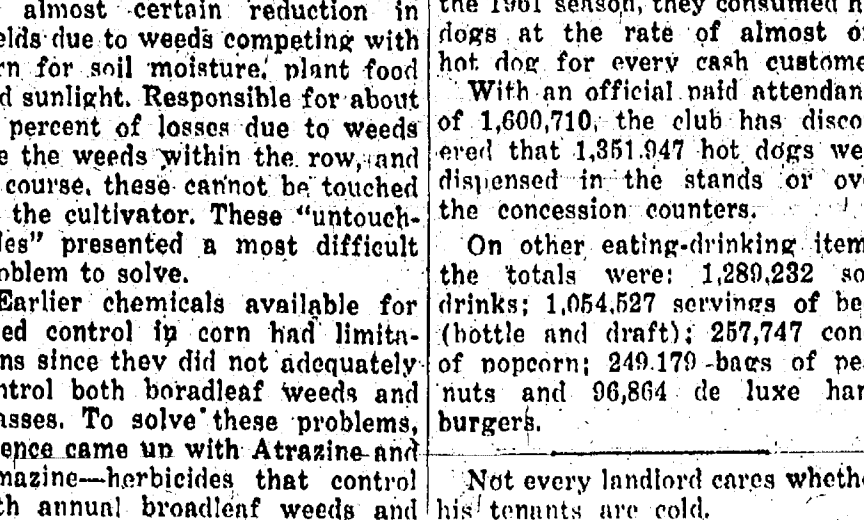

Tiger Baseball Fans Must Have Big Appetites

Tiger fans are big eaters. During the 1961 season, they consumed hot dogs at the rate of almost one hot dog for every cash customer.

With an official maid attendance of 1,600,710, the club has discovered that 1,351,947 hot dogs were dispensed in the stands or over the concession counters.

On other eating-drinking items, the totals were: 1,289,232 soft drinks; 1,054,527 servings of beer (bottle and draft); 257,747 cones of popcorn; 249,179 bags of peanuts and 96,864 de luxe hamburgers.

Not every landlord cares whether his tenants are cold.

WINDSHIELD VIEWS FROZEN LOCK TIP

Locks on auto doors freeze tight easily, particularly after a car wash or after a thaw and refreezing weather. Here is a good way to make the key turn the frozen lock open.

Heat your key with a match or lighter, and slowly insert and turn. Depending on how badly the lock is frozen, you might have to repeat the heating three or four times for success. But, be careful you don't force the key too much and break it off in the lock.

It's our habit at FOOR MOBIL SERVICE to squirt a little graphite into door locks during the lubrication service on your car. This helps to keep the moisture out. Drive over to 520 South Main St. next time for this extra free service.

State Newsmen To Gather for Annual Meeting

A veteran White House correspondent, a political analyst and an official of the U. S. Information Agency will speak to Michigan newspapermen at Michigan State University, Jan. 26-27.

Nearly 600 editors and their wives, representing the state's more than 350 daily and weekly newspapers, will travel to Kellogg Center for the 94th annual meeting of the Michigan Press Association.

Discussing "The Washington Scene" will be Merriman Smith of United Press International. Smith, who is now reporting the activities of his fourth president, has covered many of the biggest news stories of our time.

Diving into public opinion with his talk on "What Do You Think?" will be Samuel Lubell, noted author, lecturer, political analyst and writer of the syndicated feature, "The People Speak."

Discussing the tremendous job involved in "Competing with Communism for the Minds of Millions" will be Charles T. Vetter Jr., of the U. S. Information Agency.

Rounding out the major speakers will be Don Reid, managing director of the Iowa Press Association, and Rosella Bannister, Michigan family news writer.

Other activities include a discussion of trade problems, displays of the latest printing and newspaper equipment, a Consumers Power display of prize-winning Michigan newspaper photographs and meetings of the Michigan League of Home Dailies.

Our prediction for 1962: Taxes will be higher than you think.

DEATHS

Dr. E. E. Koebbe

Body Returned to Chelsea For Burial Friday

Dr. E. E. Koebbe, 71, of 8021 15th St., Columbus, Neb., died Sunday evening following a short illness.

He was a veteran of both World Wars and was retired from the Naval Reserve in 1950 with the rank of captain.

He was married at Toledo, O., Sept. 4, 1917, to Ethel Burkhardt, of Chelsea and at that time he was an assistant surgeon in the Navy. During World War I he served in that capacity on battleships. At the close of the war he was stationed at Great Lakes Naval Training Station remaining in active service until 1922 when he established private practice at Columbus, Neb., specializing in eye, ear, nose and throat diseases.

At that time he was a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserves. His Navy service during World War II was entirely at Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

Dr. Koebbe was a member of the Masons, Knights Templar, Shrine and Elks. He was also a member of the American Legion Post at Columbus, serving as its commander in 1928, and was a past president of the YMCA and the Lions Club at Columbus.

He was one of the original directors of the Loop River Public Power District in Nebraska; was a diplomat of the American Board of Otolaryngology; a member of the American Medical Society and county and state medical associations of Nebraska; and was a fellow of the American College of Surgeons. He was past president of the Nebraska Medical Association.

Dr. Koebbe was on the staff of St. Mary's and Lutheran hospitals in Columbus and had served as Columbus city physician.

In 1950 he was honored for 25 years of service as associate professor of Otolaryngology at the University of Omaha, Neb.

Born Oct. 27, 1890, in Freedom township, he was a son of Edwin and Christina Finkbeiner Koebbe. He graduated in 1907 from Manchester High school; in 1913 from the University of Michigan Literary College and in 1915 from the University's Medical College.

For some years he has had articles published in the Journal of the American Medical Association and in the U. S. Naval Medical Bulletin.

The body is to arrive in Chelsea this afternoon (Thursday) and friends may call this evening at the Staffan Funeral Home.

Funeral services will be held there at 10 a.m. tomorrow with the Rev. S. D. Kinde of the Methodist church officiating.

Burial will follow at Oak Grove cemetery with graveside military rites in charge of Herbert J. McKune Post, No. 31, American Legion.

Survivors of Dr. Koebbe, in addition to his widow, are his mother, who now lives at Grand Lodge; a sister, Mrs. Harry Culp (Edith) and two nieces, of Grand Lodge; and a grandson, Robert Christian Hester of Glen Ridge, N. J.

His only daughter, Mrs. Mary Catharine Hester, died in 1955 and a sister, Luella, died in 1900.

Mrs. J. W. Van Riper

Dies Tuesday Evening At Ann Arbor Hospital

Mrs. J. W. Van Riper, 85, died Tuesday evening at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, where she was taken Saturday evening after receiving head injuries in a fall at her home, 314 East Middle St.

Born in Freedom township, Aug. 31, 1876, she was the former Amelia Klingler, a daughter of Christian and Frederica Frey Klingler.

She was married Sept. 10, 1896 to J. Walbur Van Riper who died Aug. 24, 1940. The present residence has been the family home for many years.

Mrs. Van Riper was formerly a member of Olive Chapter No. 108, OES, for 25 years, also a former member of the Pythian Sisters and the Woman's Relief Corps.

During World War II, from 1942 until 1945, she was employed at Federal Screw Works.

Survivors of Mrs. Van Riper are a daughter, Mrs. Virginia Ball and two grandchildren, Douglas and Elaine Fay, all at home.

Five-year pins, given in recognition for that many years of volunteer service, were awarded by Mrs. Wilbur Worden, Girl Scout Neighborhood chairman, to Mrs. Leslie Eisenbeiser, Mrs. William Storey and Mrs. Carl Mayer.

Also eligible for five-year pins, but not present Monday to receive them, are Mrs. David Strieter, Mrs. Harold O'Neill and Mrs. Frederick Schumm.

During the business session, the group voted to purchase a new Girl Scout Neighborhood flag and to procure three new American flags—two for the new Brownie troops and one for the Neighborhood.

Mrs. Worden made several announcements as follows:

Girl Scout cookie sale dates are Friday, Feb. 23 to Saturday, March 10.

Dates for the standard Red Red Cross First Aid course are five Thursdays, Feb. 1, 8, 15, 22 and March 1; classes to be held in the all-purpose room at North Elementary school from 7 until 9 p.m. each evening.

A leaders' seminar is to be held Thursday, Feb. 8, 9:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m., at Bethlehem Evangelical and Reformed church, 423 South Fourth Ave., Ann Arbor; the seminar being designated "Booster Shot to Lagging Leaders," and featuring 30-minute sessions on songs, games, program planning, folk songs, ceremonies, troop government, behavior clinics, etc. Those who attend should take their own sack-lunch, stay for part or all of the program; and if necessary, bring their small children for whom a baby sitting service will be provided. No registration necessary. Sponsored by Eberwhite Girl Scout Neighborhood of Ann Arbor.

A "sing-together" workshop scheduled to be held Jan. 27, 1:30-2:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre at Ann Arbor High school in preparation for Girl Scout birthday celebration; two girls and one adult from each troop may attend. Film on public relations: "You're It."

District III of Huron Valley Girl Scout Council birthday celebration to be held in Chelsea, March 11.

Following the announcements by Mrs. Worden, Monday's meeting was concluded with refreshments served by Mrs. Franklin Gee, Mrs. Duane Weiss and Mrs. Huey Hardy, workers of Brownie Troop 51.

One Deer Shot, Two Killed by Area Motorists

Deer hanging in the yard at the home of Conservation Officer Donley Boyer were common sight over the week-end.

One had been peppered with fine shot and left to wander around until it fell. A button buck, it was found Saturday afternoon near Duffy's Lake on state property north of Chelsea.

Chester Keizer, who made the discovery soon after the animal had died, notified Conservation Officer Boyer.

Officer Boyer said the other two deer, a large buck and a doe, were killed by cars.

The buck was found on M-92 north of Waterloo Rd., and doe was killed on Dexter-Pinckney Rd. near Fleming Rd. north of Dexter.

The conservation officer also reported that a 30-year-old Belleville man, Robert Lockhart, was fined $35.00 and ordered to pay $7.50 court costs when he pleaded guilty last week in Municipal Court Ann Arbor, to a charge of shooting pheasant out of season.

The Belleville man was arrested after a Dexter hunter reported the license number of his car to Conservation Officer Donley Boyer and Dexter Police Officer Robert Putnam.

JAMES GRAU

J. Grau Completes MSU Insurance Training Course

James Grau, who has been associated with A. D. Mayer Insurance Agency since Dec. 1, has completed a 10-day training course at Michigan State University, sponsored by the Independent Insurance Agents Association, and after passing the required state examination has been granted a license as an insurance agent.

Following his graduation from Chelsea High school in 1958, he was awarded a Michigan Road-Builders' Association scholarship to the University of Michigan's Camp Davis, near Jackson, Wyo., for a period of study before taking a position as instrument man for the Michigan State Highway Department.

He resigned from that position to accept employment with the Mayer Insurance Agency.

Grau is the son of Mr. Alton Grau, Sr., 3380 Fletcher Rd., and the late Mr. Grau.

Dexter at Top In Recreation League Play

Dexter continued to pace the teams in the Dexter Recreation League with a 62-53 win over Chelsea Wednesday night.

The winners led at halftime by 10 points but Chelsea came back in the second half to tie the score at 47-all with five minutes of play remaining. Dexter then pulled ahead in the final minutes of play.

Clark led the winners with 20 points while Keezer of Chelsea netted 12.

In the second game of the evening Stockbridge defeated Pinckney, 65-36 to take over second place in the league.

Long of Stockbridge led both teams with 19 points, followed by Gerkin of Pinckney with 18. Stockbridge led all the way in the game.

The next games will be played Jan. 31 with Dexter and Pinckney meeting in the opening game at 7 p.m. and Stockbridge and Chelsea playing after the first game is completed. The games are played in the Dexter high school gym and the public is invited.

The free course is made possible by public support of the United Fund appeals throughout the county and registration can be made for the course by calling Red Cross at 682-5546 before the deadline of Feb. 1.

Industrial Development Group Look for Plant Sites

Members of the Chelsea Industrial Development Committee and Charles Gelman, president of Gelman Instrument Co., toured the area around Chelsea Sunday afternoon looking over sites that might be used in a projected Gelman expansion program.

The group looked in all directions around and in the village and three or four sites were reported to have looked favorable to the company.

No definite decision was arrived at and the group will continue the site probe, working closely with Gelman officials, it was stated.

The committee toured the area by car, occasionally walking when an area commanded more close inspection.

Harvey Lixey is chairman of the Chelsea Industrial Development Committee. Other members of the committee who made the tour include Robert Daniels, village president; William Chandler, co-chairman, and Norman Eismann, representing Sylvan township.

Wednesday night of this week the committee was to meet with Harris K. Miller, Lansing, representing the Michigan Economic Development Commission, and representatives of the Small Business Administration and the Washtenaw County Planning Commission.

Representative of the Planning Commission will discuss with the committee the possible formation of a four-township planning commission comprising Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon and Dexter townships.

CON-CON STYLE AND DRAFTING committee leaders are preparing for a heavy work load as committee proposals have their first reading before the Constitutional Convention. Chairman of the committee is William B. Cudlip (R-Grosse Pointe Woods), second from right. Shown at left is Joseph F. Sablich (D-Casplan) second vice chairman, Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) first vice chairman and at right, Theodis Gay, research consultant to the committee. Style and Drafting will eventually determine the style and form of the Constitution to be presented to the people.

CD Display Will Feature Survival Food

Attendees at the 1982 Farmers' Week may get some first-hand experience of life in a fallout shelter. At noon on Jan. 31 the MSU auditorium will become a giant, "make believe" shelter.

A "survival luncheon" of foods which keep well and may be stored for emergencies will be served from 12 to 1 p.m. to point up Civil Defense and survival for the Jan. 29 to Feb. 2 programs.

Planners of the luncheon said the foods will include new ones developed through USDA and MSU research. Arrangements are being made to serve between 2,000 and 3,000 persons.

A film, "Fallout and Agriculture," is to be shown at 12:30 p.m. Co-sponsors of the luncheon and film are the Michigan Office of Civil Defense and the Army Quartermaster Corps. The luncheon and program are both open to the public.

Civil Defense will also help sponsor another emergency survival program Feb. 1, in co-operation with the Michigan Rural Safety Council.

A film, "The Invisible Enemy," will be shown on the program entitled "Survival from Nuclear Attack." The film describes the probable effects on Michigan if Chicago were attacked.

Several speakers will discuss survival measures and what rural people could expect to find when the radioactive fallout danger period had passed.

Leon Hinderer left Thursday of last week for a visit to Rochester and Buffalo, N. Y. He returned early Sunday morning to find icy streets in Michigan, after the railroad conductor warned him, "Be mighty careful on those icy steps." Leon visited a buddy he had met while in the service during his New York stay.

HELL HAS NOT FROZEN OVER—At least not yet. This was reported by Chrysler Corp. test driver Robert Martin of Grass Lake when his routine winter driving tests took him through the almost isolated village of Hell, Mich. It was chilly. There was ice on the roads and ice on the trees, deep snow and sub-zero temperatures. But Hell had not frozen over. In fact, Martin found it breathtakingly beautiful. Martin's trip to Hell is part of Chrysler Corporation's continuous winter test driving program.

Receives Secretarial Certificate at CMU

Sandra Karner of Chelsea, was among 234 candidates for degrees and certificates who took part in Central Michigan University's mid-year commencement Jan. 21.

Although she received a two-year secretarial certificate, Sandra plans to continue her education for two more years at CMU in order to get her teaching certificate. She plans to teach commerce. Miss Karner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Karner, 110 Cavanaugh Lake. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau sorority. She was a member of the 1059 graduating class of Chelsea High School.

Students in the graduating clubs represented 125 Michigan communities, and the states of Missouri, Wisconsin, and Wyoming and two students from Thailand.

Co-Op Nursery Council Plans Workshop Meet

A workshop on "Creative Arts for the Pre-School Child" was presented by the Huron Valley Council of Co-operative Nurseries, Thursday, Jan. 18, at 8 p.m., in the Church of the Good Shepherd, 2145 Independence Blvd., Ann Arbor.

Three trained speakers discussed their fields and then led audience-participation groups in demonstrations of activities for home enjoyment.

Mrs. George Bigelow, teacher at the Stone School Co-operative Nursery in Ann Arbor, presented all phases of music for young children, including finger plays and rhythms; Mrs. Fred Beaver, of the Ann Arbor Recreation Department and public school system demonstrated the graphic arts and special techniques of telling a story to pre-school children were shown by Gus Leinbach, also of the Ann Arbor School system. Leinbach also presented books of stories to be told rather than read.

The Huron Valley Council of Co-operative Nurseries holds several such workshops a year for its more than 450 member-families, as well as for teachers and others interested in the education and growth of pre-school children. In addition to its educational aims, the Council seeks to facilitate mutual aid among member nurseries, to further good relations between nurseries and the communities they serve, and to assist parents who are forming new co-operatives. It now represents 13 nurseries in Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Dixboro, Monroe, Sailing, South Lyon, and Ypsilanti, and is one of six such regional Councils throughout the state which comprise the Michigan Council of Co-operative Nurseries.

Tax Guide Now Available for Small Business

Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin announced today that the 1982 edition of "Tax Guide for Small Business" is now available.

This improved edition explains Federal tax problems for sole proprietors, partners, partnerships and corporations. Income, excise and employment taxes are explained in non-technical language and many examples are used to illustrate the application of the tax laws.

A check list, of particular interest to the new businessman, is in the front of the book. It shows, at a glance, the taxes for which different kinds of business organizations and business activities may be liable and what the businessman should do about them.

The booklet is available at local Internal Revenue Service offices. It may also be ordered from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C., and sells for 40 cents a copy. Quantities of 100 or more may be purchased for 30 cents a copy from the Superintendent of Documents.

"Sponsored" research for government, industry, foundations, and individuals now has an annual dollar volume in excess of $30 million at the University of Michigan.

Nursery Has Room for Few More

The delightful world of A. A. Milne's Christopher Robin became a reality once more for the pre-school children of the Chelsea Co-operative Nursery as classes resumed after the holidays. As the magic blue polka-dot door opened wide, their treasured friend, Miss Jane, welcomed each one with a "Happy New Year."

The January birthday boys, John P. Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wagner, and Curt Winans, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Winans, both of Chelsea, happily received the good wishes of their classmates.

The sand table became fields to be ploughed and roads to be built. The building blocks became a fine engine with bell a-clanging, and the "little ladies" donned finery of all descriptions for a tea party. After the holiday vacation, the children were exuberant to hear mother say, "Nursery today."

The more exacting matter of the business of the nursery, under the chairmanship of Mrs. George Winans, involved thoughts of the second semester which began Tuesday, Jan. 23. The morning session for three-year-olds, held Tuesday and Thursday from 9 to 11, has a few openings. The afternoon session for four-year-olds is at capacity.

Information regarding enrollment and participation in the nursery may be obtained from Mrs. Duane Crouch, GR-9-5821, membership chairman. Interested parents may arrange to observe the nursery in session by contacting Mrs. Crouch. There are car pools from both Chelsea and Dexter for transporting children to and from the nursery.

The next regular business meeting will be held Thursday, Feb. 3, at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Waldron Vaughan, 8100 Shield Rd., Dexter. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Guy Stivers and Mrs. Edwin Schultz.

Varied Events Planned for Farm Week

The 47th annual Farmers' Week at Michigan State University in East Lansing will be held Jan. 29 to Feb. 2. The theme this year is "A Century of Land-Grant Progress," in celebration of the creation of the Land-grant colleges and universities of this nation.

Many interesting activities, programs and discussions have been scheduled for the week-long session to interest people from all walks of life. Programs of the activities are available from Co-op-erative Extension Service offices in each county.

Victor Horvath, district forester of the Michigan Conservation Department for Southeastern Michigan, has noted that several forestry programs have been scheduled for Farmer's Week.

Michigan Christmas Tree growers will have Tuesday of that week reserved for an all day session at Kellogg Center with a banquet scheduled for that evening.

Maple Syrup producers will meet Wednesday at Kellogg Center. Another meeting for woodlot owners, having management problems will also meet that day at Kellogg Center.

Fisheries and Wildlife people will have a meeting at the Auditorium Museum Wednesday morning to discuss new Federal Government cost-sharing programs benefitting game and fish.

The use and maintenance of chain saws will be discussed at the Forestry Cabin Thursday afternoon.

Various exhibits and demonstrations pertaining to forestry will be found at the stadium.

U. of M. High on Defense Research Appropriation List

Ann Arbor—In fiscal 1961 the University of Michigan again topped the list of Department of Defense prime contract recipients among educational institutions which do not operate federal facilities.

The U-M, according to a recent Department of Defense announcement, received $12,920,000 from 314 prime contracts, each a responsibility of a faculty member—$1,230,000 more than it received for defense related research in the previous fiscal year.

Defense research accounted for just over a third of the U-M's total research spending of $30,506,000 in fiscal 1961.

During the year, 820 undergraduate and 1301 graduate students participated in the U-M's sponsored research projects, and 318 doctoral candidates used project work in the preparation of their theses. In addition 401 faculty members advanced their teaching capability through participation in sponsored research during the academic year, as did 463 during the summer.

Again, as the year before, the University ranked among the highest ten percent of all recipients of DOD prime contracts. Top recipients of these contracts were missile and electronics manufacturers, many of which spend a large share of their contracts funds on product development, which the University does not do.

Among non-profit institutions, the top seven were Massachusetts Institute of Technology ($80,513,000), Johns Hopkins University ($44,844,000), Columbia University ($41,079,000), the Rand Corporation ($13,898,000), and the U-M.

All except the U-M are—or operate—federal laboratories or other facilities.

Former Saline Resident Becomes New Editor of Post

An area man who made good in a big way is Robert Fuoss who was recently named editor-in-chief of The Saturday Evening Post.

Fuoss, a native of Saline, was advanced to his present post from managing editor which he became when Benjamin Hibbs became editor-in-chief. While in this position Fuoss earned his superior's praise as "the best idea man on the staff."

He was responsible for the instigation of such popular Post features as the "Adventures of the Mind" series, and the "Face of America" photographs.

The most outstanding contribution Fuoss made to the Post was redesigning the whole magazine. From the start Fuoss emphasized the need for unleashing creativity. Utilizing such talents as Hollywood's Saul Bass, Fuoss concentrated on more imagination and integration of art work and photography with story content.

Fuoss's father, the late Martin Fuoss, operated a grocery store in Saline for many years and the family lived on a farm outside of town. In his later years he sold his grocery store and became vice-president of the Citizens Bank of Saline. Fuoss attended University High in Ann Arbor and later, the University of Michigan. At the University he was a member of Alpha Gamma chapter and also Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

Fuoss was known in this community and had a number of friends here.

Temptation may be strong, but it seldom overtakes the man who runs from it.

Area Holstein Producing Records Are Announced

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced the completion of outstanding official production records by registered Holstein cows in this area.

Leo Bur Robinson, Penny, 4631818, a two-year-old owned by Leonard Burmeister, Ann Arbor, produced 15,044 lbs. milk and 528 lbs. butterfat.

Or Win Skoki, Bell Lori, 4621882, a three-year-old owned by George Maco, Ann Arbor, produced 14,869 lbs. milk and 614 lbs. butterfat in 329 days.

In contrast, the annual production of the average U.S. dairy cow is generally estimated at approximately 7,000 lbs. of milk containing 265 lbs. of butterfat.

Snow Plowing Debate Ended 44 Years Ago

Lansing — Motorists long ago learned to expect that Michigan highways would be kept free of snow and ice during the winter.

But the State Highway Department reports that when the first snow plowing efforts were made back in 1918 there was a good deal of opposition to the idea.

The old system was to run rollers over the snowy roads, packing them solidly for horse-drawn sleighs. But by 1918, a considerable number of Michigan people owned automobiles which cut deep in the snow packed roads.

The year 1918 was the climax of World War I. Michigan's defense plant workers were playing a vital role in winning the war. Getting them back and forth to work was a matter of prime importance.

A few counties banded together and put up $6,500 and the Liberty Loan Board put up an equal amount. The money was used to clear snow from 690 miles of the state's important highways.

The idea was conceived as strictly a wartime measure, but car owners liked it and the State Highway Department was assigned the job and the cost.

By 1925, the snow plowing expense had risen to 15 times the amount it cost that first year.

And it has been increasing nearly every year since until now it costs an average of $5½ million a year, depending on the weather.

A big storm means lots of money will be spent to clear highways.

But when big storms do come, there's no longer any debate about whether the highways should be cleared.

That debate ended 44 years ago when the rollers first went to work on Michigan highways.

Detroit Sportsman Returns Bounty For Killing Fox

Lansing—Michigan's controversial bounty system isn't worth a nickel to a sportsman from Detroit.

The man, H. T. Lebrez, proved it recently when he refunded his five-dollar payment for killing a fox.

In returning the money to the Conservation Department, he remarked, "I do not believe in the payment of a bounty for killing foxes or any other game or alleged vermin species. We (he and hunting partner, Robert Sanders) hunt for sport and the killing of one of these animals is an extra dividend."

Why did Lebrez accept the bounty fee in the first place? "To learn the procedure of collecting the bounty and to return the check so that this particular five bucks can do double duty," he explained.

IDEAL HOMEMAKERS
Ideal Homemakers Extension Club, at the January meeting, held Friday at the home of Mrs. Arthur Kuhl, had a smorgasbord dinner at 1:30 p.m. Each member had prepared a Scandinavian dish for the dinner using recipes given to them by the hostess, Mrs. T. W. Menzel.

Following the dinner, the regular meeting was held. The hostess, Mrs. T. W. Menzel, presented a report on the progress of the club. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. T. W. Menzel.

Mrs. Emerson Hutzler, a guest at the meeting, accepted an invitation to become a member of the club. The next regular club meeting, on Feb. 16 at 1:30 p.m., will be held at the home of Mrs. C. J. Renner.

Hostess to be Mrs. Wilfrid Koenig.

JERUSALEM FARM BUREAU
Eleven families and one guest were present Thursday evening for a Jerusalem Farm Bureau meeting which had been postponed from the previous Thursday because of icy roads. The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Pastor.

David Pastor was appointed to act as minuteman to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alvin Pommerening.

Mrs. Jess Miller presented the report of the Farm Bureau Women's Committee and this was followed by the evening's discussion on the "pros and cons" of a state income tax, led by Dave Pastor.

The meeting was concluded with a social hour during which cards were played and refreshments served.

KINDER KLUB
Kinder Klub members held their first meeting of the new year Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Alan Conklin.

The evening's program featured an open discussion on methods of handling problems which arise in bringing up children.

At the business session, members decided that instead of the customary Valentine party for children they would plan to entertain the children for a day at the Crooked Lake cottage of Mrs. David Soule some time during the coming summer.

It was announced that the Feb. 13 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Duane Schiller.

Co-hostesses for Tuesday's meeting were Mrs. Daniel Maroney and Mrs. Merle Hummel.

SYLVAN EXTENSION
Sylvan Extension club members and families met at Salem Grove Methodist church Thursday for a smorgasbord supper.

About 40 persons attended. Mr. and Mrs. Anton Nielsen of Chelsea showed pictures of Denmark and other countries of Europe which they recently visited.

Mrs. Nielsen brought several objects of brass, copper and silver from these countries which she used to supplement her talk.

ROGERS CORNERS EXTENSION
Rogers Corners Extension club met Jan. 17 at the home of Mrs. Alton Horning for a smorgasbord luncheon.

The group enjoyed a lesson given on Scandinavian Foods. The next meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Feb. 20 at the home of Mrs. Albert Schenk. Roll call topic will be: "A Valentine I remember." The lesson will be: "Rapid and Smart Food-Buying."

OLDER ADULT GROUP
With 31 present, the older adult group of the Methodist church held the monthly dinner meeting Saturday afternoon in the church social center. The gathering was opened with prayer by the Rev. S. D. Kinde.

Birthday of five members were recognized and Mrs. Harold Halliburton, one of the hostesses, had baked and decorated an attractive birthday cake in their honor.

Those whose birthdays were observed were Carl Schloesser, William Jensen, Mrs. Maude Bernhart, Mrs. Mabel Artz and Mrs. Winifred Coffron.

Included in the afternoon's program was a vocal selection, "Was That Somebody You?" sung as a solo by Mrs. Myrtle Price, with Mrs. P. M. Broesamle as piano accompanist; also, pictures described as "beautiful and much enjoyed" which were shown by Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Gadsby. The pictures were of the Nova Scotia area, taken when the Gadsbys vacationed there last year.

Mrs. Loring Bates was in charge of the meeting and hostesses, in addition to Mrs. Halliburton, were Mrs. Florence Boyce and Mrs. Myrtle Price.

It was announced that the next meeting will be held Feb. 17 with Mrs. M. Bernhart, Mrs. E. Fish and Mrs. M. Collins as hostesses.

SUBURBAN MOTHERS
Suburban Mothers Child Study club will hold its next regular meeting Thursday evening, Feb. 5, at the home of Mrs. Leonard Reith. A feature of the meeting will be a "drop" box.

The Jan. 11 meeting of the club was held at Inverness Country Club with Dr. James Botsford as guest speaker. His topic was "Childhood Diseases." Hostesses for that meeting were Mrs. William Clark and co-hostesses were Mrs. Leonard Reith and Mrs. Charles Sullivan.

CHILD STUDY CLUB
Approximately 60 members and guests were present Tuesday evening when the Child Study club held a husbands' night smorgasbord dinner in the dining room of the Congregational church. Mrs. Thomas Bust was general chairman.

Table decorations were the responsibility of Mrs. Eldon Gorton. She carried out a winter activities theme by means of green, candles in wooden holders, miniature snowmen, toboggans, ice skates, sweaters, etc., attractively arranged as outdoor scenes.

Included on the hostess committee, in addition to Mrs. Bust and Mrs. Gorton, were Mrs. Jack Wallnitz, Mrs. Robert Robbins, Mrs. Richard Kern and Mrs. Charles Lane.

The club's next regular meeting is to be held Feb. 13 at the home of Mrs. Richard Kern. Dr. Jane Schwertfeger is to be the guest speaker on the topic, "Creativity."

LYNDON EXTENSION
Lyndon Extension club members were entertained for a regular meeting Thursday at Lyndon Town ship. Trouble that looks like a mountain from a distance, usually is only a hill when you get to it.

ENGAGED—Announcement is being made of the engagement of Lynne Fahrner, 1781 Boyce Rd., Gregory, to Dennis R. Clark of Pinckney, son of Mrs. Charles Clark of Pinckney and the late Mr. Clark. Miss Fahrner is a 1961 graduate of Chelsea high school and is now a student at Alexandria School of Cosmetology in Ann Arbor. Mr. Clark graduated in 1959 from Pinckney High school. He is employed at American Multifarms Co. in Dexter. The couple has not set a wedding date.

Hall, hostesses for the day being Mrs. Howard Boyce, Mrs. Floyd Balmer, Mrs. W. C. Boyce, Mrs. Lawrence Shanahan and Mrs. George Goodwin. There were 21 members and three children present.

Luncheon was served at 12:30 p.m. and this was followed by a business session called to order by the chairman, Mrs. Stephen Baker, when she read the "Extension Woman's Creed."

Letters of appreciation were read from Austin Balmer, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Baker and Mrs. John O'Connor, who extended thanks for Christmas remembrances from the club.

Announcement was made that the club's next regular meeting is scheduled for Feb. 15; that a family Valentine party is to be held Saturday evening, Feb. 17, beginning at 8 p.m. and including a pot-luck lunch; and that a family night dinner, postponed from a previous date, will be held Saturday, March 17.

Mrs. Guy Barton made an announcement pertaining to a community service project—the making of cancer pads—at Lyndon Town Hall Jan. 31, beginning at 1 p.m. She said she already has the material and asked that anyone able to help with the project would be welcomed at the afternoon work bee.

AGRICULTURAL ENTREPRENEURS
Agricultural Entrepreneurs Farm Bureau met Jan. 18 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Trinkle with 30 members present.

Mrs. Keith Bradbury gave a report for the Women's Committee about Welfare in Washtenaw county and also announced the County Farm Bureau Fun Night was set for Feb. 24 at Saline High school.

Keith Bradbury and Charles Trinkle reported on the recent Citizens' Advisory Committee meetings they attended. LaVerne Coy made a few remarks about the recommendation of adding on to the schools.

Edwin Coy gave a report on Farm Bureau service offered to the members. It was decided to have LeRoy Rutherford come to one of the meetings to explain more about the insurance policies as there were some misunderstandings about claims.

The group decided to have a card party at Lima Township Hall Feb. 8 at 8 p.m. with each member to bring guests.

The discussion on "State Income Tax" was led by Raymond Schairer.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Trinkle on Feb. 15.

Those present enjoyed several card games and refreshments were served.

Methodist Philathea Circle Groups Hold Meetings During Past Week

Morning, Afternoon and Evening groups of Philathea Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church, held their monthly meeting last week.

EVENING CIRCLE
The evening group met Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Thomas Smith and her daughter, Shirley, with 14 members and two guests present.

Shirley Smith presented the devotional service on the topic pertaining to Christian social relations, opening by reading a poem, "What to Expect for the New Year," written by Mary Morris. Miss Smith concluded with brief discussion of the question, "Does Peace Exist?"

A St. Francis prayer was read by Mrs. Smith.

Honoring Mrs. Francis Snyder who moved the end of the week to Lawrence, Kan., members presented her with a shower of handkerchiefs and Mrs. William Briston, on behalf of the Evening Circle, presented her with George Stimpson's "Book of a Thousand Things."

Refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the meeting.

It was announced that the evening group will be guests of Afternoon Philathea Circle at a meeting scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 21, at 8 p.m., in the church social center.

MORNING CIRCLE
Morning Philathea Circle met Wednesday, Jan. 17, at 9 a.m. in the church social center.

Following appropriate Scripture passages from the Book of Romans and the 104th Psalm, Mrs. Ben Donaldson gave an interesting and informative dissertation on the January topic, "Alcohol and Christian Responsibility," taken from the study book of the year, "The Household of God."

Serving to clarify the topic were related excerpts which she read from two magazines, "Concern," a Methodist Church publication, and "Report," published by American Business Research.

Members present joined in a discussion which followed.

Announcement was made by Mrs. John Chaplin of the meeting scheduled to be held in the Methodist church social center at 1 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 25 (today) for the purpose of organizing United Church Women of Chelsea and electing the group's first slate of officers.

Morning Philathea Circle closed its meeting with the announcement that at the next meeting, Feb. 21, in the church's education unit, Mary-Martha Circle members will be guests, and Mrs. Robert Harris will be the hostess.

Hostesses for the Jan. 17 meeting were Mrs. A. W. Wilkinson and Mrs. George Walworth.

AFTERNOON CIRCLE
Mrs. Calvin Summers, Mrs. Russell Baldwin, Mrs. Byron Hahn and Mrs. Irvn Weis entertained 21 members and three guests at a 1:30 p.m. luncheon in the church social center Wednesday, Jan. 17.

Announcement was made that Afternoon Circle members to be their guests at the February meeting for the convenience of Evening Circle members the meeting will be held at 8 p.m., although it will take place on the afternoon group's regular date, Feb. 21.

At Wednesday afternoon's program the Rev. George Stanford, chaplain of the Methodist Home, gave a talk on the month's study topic, "Alcohol and the Christian's Responsibility."

Mrs. Ada Wiebe, in presenting the devotional service, used the topic, "God's Power and Might," and closed with the question "Do we use the power given to us by the Holy Spirit and do we show we are God's children?"

Women of all circles of the church made mention of the meeting to be held this afternoon (Thursday) in the Methodist church social center for all Chelsea women, purpose of the gathering being organization of United Church Women of Chelsea.

SANDBURG VISITS JFK
On a recent visit with President John F. Kennedy, Mr. Sandburg compared the bloody battles of a hundred years ago and what they mean to "the present hour of fate and history."

The 84-year-old poet, commenting on the greatest single result from the Civil War said: "It could be that the answer is we are a united, powerful nation and our power rests chiefly on our unity. Our nation of unbreakable United States is the foremost powerful contender for freedom for all men the world over."

Special Homemaker Refresher Courses Programs Slated For Nurses Planned At Farmers' Week At Medical Center

Women throughout Michigan have a special invitation to attend homemaker programs during the 47th annual Farmers' Week, Jan. 29 through Feb. 2, at Michigan State University.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, homemakers and their husbands can learn how to get the most for their meat dollar, see an actual meat cutting demonstration, find out how rugs fit into home design, hear a nationally known authority discuss what makes houses right for human beings and view the latest in fashions in the traditional style show.

Homemakers will also want to join with their husbands on Wednesday afternoon to hear U.S. Secretary of Agriculture, discuss "Meeting Agriculture's Responsibilities."

At noon that day, civil defense-minded people can buy a "survival luncheon" made up of foods suitable for storage and use during disaster.

Ladies can also tour the MSU College of Home Economics building; see movies on family decision making; radiation or children in a nursery school setting; or learn about art from members of the University art department.

Complete Farmers' Week programs are available from your County Co-operative Extension office, or write to the Bulletin Office, 10 Agricultural Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

All women's events are free.

WRONG DIAGNOSIS
Chicago, Ill. In 1912, doctors told Mrs. Demitra Kekas that she had only 24 hours to live.

Today Mr. Kekas is 107. The Chicago woman has been told that apparently she is in good physical condition.

Use Form 1040-A To Save Time, Effort

The Internal Revenue Service announced today that each year more and more taxpayers are saving time and effort by using the "short form" 1040-A Income Tax return.

Taxpayers can use the Form 1040-A if their wages, subject to withholding, are less than $10,000. Up to $200 may be shown on the 1040-A if it was from interest, dividends, or wages not subject to withholding. However, if any combination of income adds up to $10,000 or more, taxpayers cannot use the Form 1040-A.

R. I. Nixon, district director of Internal Revenue, urges all taxpayers to investigate the possibility of using this simplified return, Form 1040-A.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

TROOP 48—

Girl Scout Troop 48 met Jan. 15 and elected new officers. They are: president, Janet Hafner; vice-president, Sharon Stall; treasurer, Pat Schiller; secretary, Sharon Bollinger.

The troop discussed the January civic project and plan to complete it in a short while.

TROOP 49—

Girl Scouts of Troop 49 visited Chelsea Milling Co. for their Jan. 18 meeting.

At the mill they saw Jiffy products made and packaged as they toured the plant under the guidance of Mrs. Winchester and Mrs. Matthews of the company's office. The girls also were accompanied by adult leaders and by Mrs. Poertner.

Each was presented with a sample of Jiffy products and were served cake and milk.

Only business at Thursday's meeting was a collection of contributions to a fund for bringing Girl Scouts from India to the United States.

Brownies...

TROOP 625—

Susan Nabb was a guest at the latest meeting of Brownie Troop 625. Judy Hafley was hostess.

The girls are learning to knit on spools and are also working on making a Brownie flag.

Elaine Burnett, scribe.

TROOP 606—

Brownie Troop 606 met in room seven.

Mrs. Lancaster came back from her trip to Mexico. She told us about the bull fights.

Gayle Wims told Mrs. Lancaster what we did while she was gone.

Refreshments were served by Susan Ewald.

Corinne Musser, scribe.

TROOP 51—

At their regular meeting Tuesday at the Congregational church, Brownies of Troop 51 discussed the question of whose father would be asked to make a flag stand for the troop.

Treats were brought by Diane Schneider and the meeting closed with the Brownie song and bridge game.

Officers elected last week are Diane Schneider, president; Tylene Weisz, secretary; and Debora Weiss, treasurer. This corrects the list as given to The Standard last week.

Joy Reynolds, scribe.

Excavation Started for New Student Activities Building at Olivet

Excavation has begun for a student activities building for Olivet college on the site of Shipperd hall, which burned three years ago. The $850,000 building will house a dining room, quarters for commuting students and all facilities of student publications and offices, among other needs.

ONCE AMERICA'S CHAMPION—This historic 1906 Loomba, known affectionately as "Old 16" and one of America's most famous racing cars, highlights the nation's largest sports car show at Henry Ford Museum near Detroit. A four-cylinder behemoth, it won the Vanderbilt Cup Race in 1908 and became the first American car to successfully challenge international road racing supremacy held for years by Europe. "Sports Cars in Review" brings together more than 50 sports and competition cars, with several making national or midwestern debuts. Vintage models contrast with the latest high performance cars from the United States, Europe, Israel and South Africa. The Ford Museum's popular and colorful Street of Early American Shops backgrounds the display and offers an unusual setting for the sleek racing and touring models of today. The show continues through Feb. 11, with hours 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

Production Records Listed for Holsteins in Four Area Herds

Four Chelsea-Dexter area farmers own cows listed by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America as having completed outstanding official production records.

Michigan State University supervised the weighing and testing for the new Holstein records as part of the breed's official herd testing program.

Leo Bur Robinson Nip, 4510553, owned by Leonard Burmeister, produced 16,189 lbs. of milk and 635 lbs. of butterfat in 318 days on twice daily milking as a three-year-old.

Bess Julie Springdale, 4062990, owned by George & Ralph Erke, 14010 Jerusalem Rd., produced 16,608 lbs. of milk and 547 lbs. of butterfat in 365 days on twice daily milking as a six-year-old.

Sumson Ormsby-Pilly, owned by Elton Frey, 6800 Scio Church Rd., produced 13,721 lbs. of milk and 625 lbs. of butterfat in 311 days on twice daily milking as a five-year-old.

The fourth area cow listed is Bridal Wreath Piebe Rustic, 3647845, owned by Wesley Amsdill, produced 16,331 lbs. of milk and 635 lbs. of butterfat in 337 days on twice daily milking as an 11-year-old.

PANIC IS THE GOAL

The recent testing of the huge nuclear blast from Russia has been denounced by the White House as a device to incite "fright and panic."

The test, the White House said, does not affect the nuclear balance of power. He said the United States has "ample military power to destroy any nation which would unleash the mononuclear war."

Mrs. Helen J. Hunter Among Group Initiated Into Honor Society

Mrs. Helen J. Hunter of Chelsea, was among 272 students and four faculty members at the University of Michigan to be initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, national honor society, at ceremonies held Jan. 18 in Rappaport amphitheater.

Mrs. Hunter, who will begin teaching Monday at Southwestern elementary school, lives with her husband, also a teacher, at 164 Orchard.

Members of Phi Kappa Phi include seniors from the upper 10 percent of their college classes and graduate students from the upper five percent.

Outstanding faculty as well as students are selected by the organization's nominating committee.

Speaker for the 8 p.m. ceremonies was Prof. A. Benjamin Handler of the U-M College of Architecture and Design. He discussed "Social Aspects of City Planning."

Professor Handler is also a faculty initiate. Others are Associate Prof. of Nuclear Engineering Terry Kammas; and Nursing Profs. R. Faye McCain and Edith G. Morgan.

Sun Slows to Walk During Next Few Weeks

Ann Arbor—This is the season when the sun stops running, to walk.

For the next few weeks, the sun takes a change of pace and moves at its slowest speed, explains Associate Prof. Hazel M. Loah of the University of Michigan Astronomy Department.

Because of the way the earth revolves, the sun's apparent motion is not at a constant rate. It runs slow and fast alternately, but in a regular and predictable fashion. This is why we can adopt its average rate rather than its actual speed as a basis for our clocks, the U-M astronomer points out.

Says Professor Loah, "We are now in a season when the sun happens to be running slowest, and consequently our clocks will be noticeably ahead of the sun."

This means that the sun does not cross the meridian—midway point of its daily path—at noon by clocks (standard time), but 40 to 50 minutes later. The net result is that the afternoons are longer than the mornings.

"So, the later setting of the sun is quite striking and noticeable while the darkness stays with during these cold mornings," Professor Loah says.

RAHS HALT OF B-52—Senator Jackson (D., Wash.) said that the Kennedy Administration is taking an unnecessary risk by refusing to spend $780,000,000 Congress provided to spend the additional money.

The Administration decision to spend the additional money voted by Congress was made by Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara and approved by President Kennedy. Part of the money was to have been used to enlarge the program of development of the B-70 supersonic bomber.
