Auto Stolen From Garage at Methodist Home

The Rev. W. Scott Westernman who lives in one of the retired pastors' residences at the Methodist Home, lost his automobile to thieves Sunday. It is believed there might be a connection with the fact that three Cassidy Lake Training School inmates were reported missing at the same time.

The Rev. Westernman's car is a Ford two-door Galaxie, distinctively styled with a white hood and trunk while the remainder of the vehicle is blue.

The car, locked and in a garage on the Home grounds, was taken some time Sunday night.

Area Farmers Win Honors At State Fair

Erwin Haist & Son of Haist Rd., received the Premier Michigan Sheep Breeders Banner in both the Corriedale and Black Top categories at the Michigan State Fair last week.

Receiving this banner at the State Fair has become almost a tradition in the Haist family since 1927 when Erwin Haist's honor, the father, son and grandsons have, with few exceptions, had it each year.

At last week's fair they also had the grand champion fleece in the wool show; the champion ram and champion ewe in the Black Top division and the champion ewe in the Corriedale division, in addition to many other intermediate awards.

Other area farmers who exhibited livestock at the fair included Perry Bristle of Seio Church Rd., Elton Frey, also of Seio Church Rd., Harold Graden of Waters Rd., George Macomber & Sons of Park Rd., and Norman Brasso & Son of Vaughn Rd.

Graden exhibited Ayrshire cattle raised on his farm, Pleasant Acres, and won third place on a two-year-old bull, "Hight Ambor King," third place on a three-year-old cow, "Sunset Dagmar," and sixth place on a senior calf, General M. Margaret.

Macomber, Brasso and Frey exhibited in the Holstein division, described as the "largest Holstein show in many years." Included in the show staged Saturday, Aug. 31, with Kent Mattson of Carnation Farms as judge, were more than 300 head of cattle from Illinois and Canada in addition to the Michigan entries.

The Brasso, whose Dexter area place is known as Nofich Farm, received a second-place award on a senior yearling bull, Naches Carnation Madras; sixth place in the open class, and fourth place in Michigan on produce of dam of Saltford Heights Rosella Pabst.

Frey's placings were as follows, credited to Elmarlu Farm, which is the name of their place on Seio Church Rd.: eighth in the Michigan class and 11th in open class on three-year-old Dibble Model Homestead Carolyn, and sixth (Continued on page six)

Lite-A-Bike Clinic Slated For County

"Lite-A-Bike — Save-A-Life" is the slogan being stressed for a special youth activity and community service project being sponsored on a national scale by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Ladies' Auxiliaries. In Washtenaw county the co-sponsors for the special project scheduled to be held at the Fifth Ave. city parking lot directly behind the VFW Home at 314 E. Liberty St., Ann Arbor, are Graf-O'Hara Post 423, Veterans of Foreign Wars, its Ladies' Auxiliary and an organization known as Dads of Foreign Service Veterans, No. 151.

Date of the "clinic" for Washtenaw county is Sunday, Sept. 15, from 2 until 6 p.m.

Young people of Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester and other communities in the county are invited to attend with their parents and pick-up-reflector-tape for their bicycles, free of charge, with the compliments of the three sponsoring organizations. Ann Arbor young people are invited to bring their bicycles directly to the clinic location for application of the special tape.

Co-chairmen of the "Lite-A-Bike" project are Fred Benz for Graf-O'Hara Post and Mrs. William Planders (Betty) of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

The project is being held with the permission of the Ann Arbor City Council—Mayor Cecil O. Greaf is expected to be present during the afternoon.

Special entertainment is also scheduled, including a bicycle rodeo for children in charge of Sergeant Chet Carter of the Youth Bureau of the Ann Arbor Police Department and there will be prizes of various kinds.

Severe Gashes Inflicted By Night Prowler

Mrs. Dennis Guinan of 1596 Waterloo Rd., suffered two severe gashes on her head when she woke up shortly after 3 a.m. Sunday and cried out as she noticed an intruder had entered the house and he turned and struck her.

Mrs. Guinan told Washtenaw county sheriff's deputies that she awoke to find a tall, thin man with dark hair in her room. She said he struck her on the head with a sharp instrument, probably a knife, when he noticed that she was awake. He hit her "again" when she screamed and then fled with her blood-soaked clothing.

Other smaller bills and change and identification papers. He had taken the billfold from her purse on a dresser in the room.

Mrs. Guinan said yesterday that neither she nor her husband, asleep in a room across the hall, heard any noise until the burglar struck her.

The Guinans said detectives are investigating the incident.

Mrs. Ray Manzel Accepts Position as High School Secretary

Co-Op School Parents Hold 'Trial Run'

Chelsea Co-Operative Nursery held a "trial run" of a typical nursery day on Friday, Sept. 6 as part of the regular orientation program for parents. With the orientation chairman, Mrs. Raymond Steinbach, in charge, mothers learned what the children will do, and how the mothers can assist the nursery program. Mrs. Raymond Schaefer, the regular teacher, conducted the "trial run."

Other activities have taken place to ready the nursery for the opening day on Tuesday, Sept. 10. Mothers of children enrolled held a work bee, Sept. 4 to clean and set up equipment and several fathers assisted by removing a diseased elm from the playground.

B. McIntyre laid tile in the small rooms and Raymond Schaefer refinished the floor of the main room.

There are still two openings for four-year-old girls; also vacancies for boys and girls in the three-year-old group. Information may be obtained by calling Mrs. J. Vincent Burg, II, of 418 Chandler St., Chelsea.

First PTO Meet Slated Wednesday

The first Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) meeting of the 1963-64 school year is to be held Wednesday, Sept. 18, at 8 p.m. in the Chelsea High school cafeteria.

An executive board meeting, to make plans for this first meeting and for the year, was held Monday evening at the home of the PTO president, Herman Ashley.

The first meeting of the year is customarily in the nature of a special gathering for the purpose of meeting and greeting the junior and senior high school teachers.

A feature of the evening's program will be talks by Junior High School Principal Alan Conklin and High School Principal Charles Lane, in which they are expected to outline school functions and activities and answer questions of parents as related to the topic.

Parents of all junior and senior high school students are urged to be present for the meeting.

Grid Season Opens Friday Night at Milan

It has been five years since a Chelsea football team has defeated the "Big Reds" of Milan.

Milan has a new football coach this year by the name of John Swain. Coach Swain is expected to use the same power-type offense that has made Milan a Huron League leader for many years.

The "Big Reds" average approximately 205 lbs. across the defensive line as compared to 160 lbs. average on the Chelsea line. "It is not how much weight you have, but how you use it and the 'Big Dogs' are determined to come out on top.

"Friday the 13th is the date at Milan, and the Chelsea Bulldogs are tired of coming in second best in the season's opener," says Coach James Bedford.

No Ill Effects For Goat from Cotton Candy Diet

In response to questioning of their friends, Linda, Becky, Jeff, Cindy, Billy and Gina Van Riper report that their pet goat "Pepper" is fine after being exhibited at the Chelsea Community Fair and being "fed" large quantities of the carnival-type cotton candy by people who stopped to pet her.

"Pepper" was not officially entered as an exhibit but was brought to the fair as an extra feature. (The fair had no premium listing for goats).

Mrs. and Mrs. William Van Riper, parents of the six youngsters who own the goat, were fearful the animal would be sick after her diet of cotton candy, candy bars, peanuts, popcorn, etc.—much of which she snatched as people stopped to pet her—however, they decided, after watching her several days for signs of "upset stomach" that she thrived on the unusual diet.

CHEERLEADERS at Chelsea High school are ready for the 1963 football season and are especially looking forward to the first home game on Friday, Sept. 27. The season opens Friday, Sept. 13, with Chelsea Bulldogs going to Milan for a bout with the "Big

ALLEN BROESAMLE, right, a Washtenaw county 4-H club leader for the past 25 years, was recognized at the State 4-H fair at Michigan State University and was presented with an "overall" clover pin. As the award was presented, he was cited for his interest in garden and electrical work which "has motivated" his youngsters in his area to an increased interest in these fields. The efforts of volunteer leaders like him make possible outstanding 4-H program in Washtenaw county. During presentation ceremony the volunteer leaders were honored for countless hours of supervising and guiding 4-H club activities and were called "the key to 4-H success." With Broesamle the photo is Dr. Richard Swenson, assistant dean of the College of Agriculture at Michigan State University.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Civil Rights Agitators Have Nation Ready To Accept Almost Anything

Now that everybody is home again after the celebrated "March on Washington," the civil rights agitators have returned to business-as-usual in keeping the racial pot boiling with new crises being promoted in many varied spots.

What the "march" really served to demonstrate is that both Negroes and Whites are being callously deceived by the Administration. For, implicit and explicit among this vast convocation was the faith that passage of the "Civil Rights of 1963" would automatically and overnight erase all sources of friction between races, all prejudice and all discrimination.

Obviously, such a goal cannot be achieved by law. And it is even more important to realize that any degree of social change this legislation might bring about must be paid for at the price of every man's freedom—and that payment will have been made whether race relations are bettered or made even worse.

Under this act (S. 1731 and H.R. 7152) Congress would deny the traditional American right of jury trial to those charged with violation of its Title II, the "public accommodations" section. Over-all, it would impose Federal control over every home, every school, every business, every bank, every citizen who votes or owns property and over the "sovereign" states.

The Act prescribes an intolerable grant of unprecedented power to the president—and to a new swarm of politically appointed Federal inspectors armed with authority to direct the hiring and firing, promotion and demotion of workers in every business; to foreclose or refuse loans; to exclude individuals and businesses from Federal programs, subsidies and benefits; to blacklist banks, contractors, schools, businesses and individuals.

Such legislation cannot protect the rights nor improve the job opportunities of "racial or religious minorities" as it pretends to do. It can only destroy existing rights and existing job opportunities for all Americans—of all colors and creeds. All Americans should tell both of their senators and their congressmen to kill these bills—not because they are against providing equal opportunity for everyone, but because they are for anything that will honestly accomplish the hoped for goal. The proposed bills will not.

No Tax Lacks

Taxes imposed by the various states differ considerably, but there appears to be a definite trend to stick with a few main sources of income.

In addition to state income taxes, three of the most common sources of income for state operations are gasoline, sales and cigarette taxes.

A traveler in the United States will find some 10 states where he does not have to pay a state sales tax. A sales tax also is in effect in Washington, D.C.

All of the 50 states impose a tax on gasoline sales, including Alaska and Hawaii, and all states except Oregon, Colorado, and North Carolina have imposed taxes on cigarettes.

The range of sales taxes is from two to four percent, with most states levying a three percent tax. Five to eight cents is imposed per gallon of gas purchased. Among those levying a tax on cigarettes, several southwestern states have enacted an eight-cent per package tax. Most of the others range from two to seven cents and two states tax cigarettes on a percentage-per-pack basis.

Michigan uses all three of these popular sources. The state imposes 6 cents tax on each gallon of gas, four percent on sales, and 7 cents per package on cigarettes.

Long time ago, in 1904, when George Romney Jr. was in a long life in 1904, he runs for a second term.

The current special session and its outcome will largely determine whether there is to be a famine of Democratic office seekers next year.

Former Gov. John B. Swainson, Congressman-at-Large Neil Stuchlik.

such tomfoolery that nobody but a woman could think up. Ed told the fella he would admit house cleaning in the Spring was a good American custom, was probably invented by Martha Washington, but his old lady was the only woman in the country that done it again in the Fall. Furthermore, allowed Ed, he had give up fussing with his old lady on this Fall cleaning business. He said he figured the day after he was married 40 years ago that if he ever got in the last word with his old lady, he'd have to outlive her and write it on her tombstone.

Clem Webster was of the opinion that maybe Ed was making the wrong attitude in these matters. He said it hadn't been more'n two Sundays ago that his preacher told the congregation marriage was a 50-50 proposition. But Ed didn't think much of Clem's remarks, said Clem's preacher either didn't know nothing about wives or he was powerful ignorant in fractions.

Personal, Mister Editor, between me and you, I think house cleaning twice a year is Un-American, unhealthy, and unnecessary and ought to be agin the law, but I didn't take no part in the argument on account of not wanting any quotes to get back to my old lady. And I don't consider Clem a authority to speak on the subject. My Pa told me once, you could size up a marriage by looking at a fella's barn. If the barn was bigger than the house, the man was wearing the pants, and vice-versa. Clem's barn is smaller than his house, and furthermore, it's painted green. When you see a barn painted green you know somebody's old lady is picking the colors and wearing the pants.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew

Alcoholism, at its worst a killer

and a serious mental illness at best, has been the object of new attitudes by corrections officials and the general public in recent years.

Fewer than 10 years ago, according to the Michigan Board of Alcoholism, people wouldn't even talk about alcoholism, much less consider trying to understand it.

Today, however, George Stewart, the Board's educational director, says the public is becoming more interested in alcoholism as a problem, and more alcoholics are admitting that they have a problem.

"Most people felt about 10 years ago that if they forgot about alcoholism, it might just go away," said Stewart.

Today a number of voluntary agencies offer community referrals for information for treatment of alcoholism.

In the state's five major correctional institutions and 13 rehabilitation camps, special programs are in use to help the alcoholic adjust to society, according to Robert Scott, an assistant director of the Corrections Department.

"We now talk about alcoholism not strictly as a problem, but as a problem which can be treated," he said.

The year-end holiday season often poses problems about which many citizens are confused, according to the consumer protection division of the Attorney General's office.

These problems arise through the gimmick of sending unwelcome items through the mail.

The person receiving the package also receives a bill to pay for the package, book, toy, clothing, or what have you, he soon gets a series of dunning letters threatening all kinds of stern measures if payment isn't forwarded immediately.

Att. Gen. Frank J. Kelley emphasizes there is a very distinct right of the person who has received any unwelcome merchandise.

First, you need never accept items you did not order. You may return the package to the mailman unopened. If you should open the package, however, there is still no obligation to return it or pay for it.

As long as you do not use the merchandise, you have no legal obligation to pay for it. Kelley's advice is to disregard the dunning collection letters.

The merchandise should be kept for a reasonable period of time. If it is not picked up by the sender, or if you are not provided the postage to return it, you are entirely within your legal rights to dispose of it, according to Kelley.

The speaker will be Mrs. Lois Nothman, who is on the Faculty of Highland Park Junior College.

The announcement was made by Mary Wolter, member of the Dexter township group.

In making the announcement Mrs. Wolter emphasized the fact that probably never before in the history of the world has the need for international peace and understanding been greater. She also pointed out that the hopes of all the peoples of the free world rest on America, as leader of the free world, to guide them toward these goals.

This theme will be the center of discussion at the meeting and the public is invited.

World Peace Day was first observed in 1960. Its purpose was to commemorate the introduction of the Baha'i Faith to the United States on Sept. 18, 1893.

The Baha'i Religion was founded in Iran over 100 years ago and proclaims the oneness of all great world religions. According to its teachings, all major prophets are accepted as equally inspired and the need for unity of all mankind and the absolute equality for all people is stressed.

Great Lakes Help Protect Michigan From Tornadoes

The Great Lakes act as a buffer against tornadoes in Michigan. That's probably why Wolverine State has fewer of these storms than Midwest states such as Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma.

Michigan State University climatologists point out that the help to stabilize air by cooling in contrast, the Midwest have a bigger "clash" between warm, humid and cold air masses which results in intense thunderstorms and tornadoes.

Michigan's changeable weather is by no means uncommon in the interior U.S., according to Michigan State University climatologists. They cite the following extreme temperature changes other parts of the country.

A rise of 49 degrees in minutes from 4 below zero a.m. to 45 at 7:32 a.m., Jan. 1943 at Spearfish, S.D.; a fall of 47 degrees in 15 minutes from 7 a.m. to 8 degrees at 7:15 Jan. 10, 1911 at Rapid City, S.D.; and a fall of 100 degrees in hours from 44 above zero to below Jan. 23-24, 1916 at Bangor, Mont.

Fog is made up of minute particles and may be thought of as a ground-level cloud. It occurs along the coast, the Great Lakes region, and in Appalachian Mountains where there is in the country.

Michigan State University climatologists report that the fog places in the United States the north and middle Pacific and the coast of Maine, where the mean number of hours fog exceeds 1,500 a year in areas.

Detroit is closer to Europe than the St. Lawrence Seaway. It is by land to New York and by water; for example, it is miles closer to London, to Havre and to Antwerp via the water route; it is also 200 miles closer to Bordeaux and 41 miles closer to Paris on the Mediterranean such as Marseilles, Genoa and Tel-Aviv.

Community Chest Benefitting Agencies Arthritis, Rheumatism Foundation

This is the fourth in a series of articles explaining about the various benefiting agencies included in the Community Chest. Today's article takes up some of the many health and welfare activities made possible by the Michigan United Fund.

The Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, supported by the Michigan United Fund, a benefitting agency of the Chelsea Community Chest, provides the latest information on the diagnosis and treatment of arthritic ailments to the physicians throughout the state. Thus, every citizen in the state who has arthritis at the present time benefits from the work of this agency. The Foundation supports research at the national level as well as at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor and in other Michigan hospitals.

In addition to sponsoring the research fellowships, the Michigan Arthritis and Rheumatism Chapter leads all 60 chapters in the nation with its own research efforts. Ranging from basic research to rehabilitation studies of selected patients the chapter's research program at University of Michigan and hospitals in Michigan now totals more than $300,000.

It is pointed out that 25 percent of all farmers in the nation know the aches and pains of the rheumatic diseases. Factory workers make up the second largest group affected with more than 17 percent of workers affected. The loss of work because of rheumatic disease averages 15 days each year per sufferer. This may not seem like a great many days lost for each individual, but total up the days lost and it amounts to approximately 150,000,000 work days each year—lost just because of rheumatic disease.

All of these are among the people who benefit from the work of the Foundation.

The Chelsea Community Chest allocation to the Michigan United Fund also helps make possible the work of the Mental Health Society, Michigan Welfare League and many other state health and welfare agencies serving all the citizens of Michigan.

Another Michigan United Fund agency, the Michigan Children's Aid Society, provides adoptive services, foster home care, and placement services for neglected children, children born out of wedlock and children left homeless due to other circumstances.

These are but a few of the 36 agencies that serve Chelsea citizens in every facet of health and welfare services needed to make Chelsea a better community in which to live.

VFW Auxiliary Sponsoring High School Writing Contest

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars has announced the opening of its 29th Annual National High School Writing Contest. The topic will be "The Foreign Student in America—An Opportunity for Friendship."

The writing contest, first started in 1935, is intended to put before the student some problem of patriotic citizenship, or similar topic about which he must study and learn in order to write the essay.

In this area, Graf-O'Hara Auxiliary No. 423 of Ann Arbor, is sponsoring the contest with cooperation of area schools and is offering local prizes of $25, $15 and $10 for first, second and third place winners, respectively.

Folders explaining contest rules for the 1963-64 contest may be obtained by contacting Mary Davis, 2958 Verle, Ann Arbor who is contest chairman for Graf-O'Hara Auxiliary.

Students in all public, private and parochial high schools are eligible to enter the contest. National prizes are: first, $1,000 cash, second $500, third $250, fourth $100 and gold medals, and 20 other cash awards for honorable mention. State and local contest winners receive additional Auxiliary awards.

More than 42,000 students participated in the 1962-63 contest which closed in April.

The writing contest is one of the youth service projects of the national Auxiliary. Members of the Auxiliary are wives, mothers, sisters, daughters, granddaughters and widows of veterans who have served overseas in the U.S. armed forces, or women who have themselves had overseas service.

Girl Scouts Changing to New Uniforms

One of the busiest weeks in the history of Girl Scouting is taking place this week Sept. 9-14, on a nation-wide basis when the Girl Scouts of America officially change over to new uniforms, books, and new classifications.

According to Mrs. Casper Enkelmann, Ann Arbor president of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, 8,000 girls and adults in this Council will participate in the change.

The new classifications are as follows—Brownie: 7-8 years; Juniors: 9, 10, 11 years; Cadettes: 12, 13, 14 years and Seniors: 15, 16, 17 years.

Handbooks for each age group were written by a team of experts using ideas sent in by the Girl Scouts themselves. The books are packed with "how-to-do-it" information, and ideas for projects encompassing every aspect of activities in the arts, the home and the outdoors.

Books went on sale Sept. 9 in Girl Scout departments of authorized department stores in Ann Arbor, Jackson and in the Detroit area.

The Council office in Ypsilanti and "stations" in Chelsea, Romulus, Milan, Saline, and Brighton will also be manned by Girl Scouts to sell the new books.

The Chelsea "station" is the home of Mrs. Wilber Worden, 118 Lincoln St. Beginning last Monday the books may be purchased there each day after school from 3:30 until 7 p.m.

Be sure that your eye brows measure up to beauty standards. A bit of judicious plucking will free you of stragglers. Remember that today the best line for you is probably the very one Nature gave you. Those thin, pencil-lined arches hark back to the 30s, you know. If, like so many women, you're an eyeglass wearer, watch out for a conflict of the components. The top line of your frame should follow, not compete with the curve of your brows.

Red Cross Center To Be Dedicated

The Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross will hold a dedication ceremony and open house at its brand-new Operations Center, 2729 Packard Rd., Ann Arbor, at 4 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 8. The entire event will be open to the public.

Principal speakers for the dedication ceremony will be University of Michigan President Harlan Hatcher, Robert F. Shea of Washington, D.C., American National Red Cross vice president, and Charles A. Sink, president of the University Musical Society and the only living member of the local chapter's original board of directors.

Announcement of the event was made today by Erich A. Walter, secretary of the University and chairman of the Red Cross dedication committee.

Ann Arbor High School Band will play during the ceremonies at the new operations center, Washtenaw County Veterans Council will present an American flag to the Red Cross for the Center.

Following the dedication program, the new building will be open to the public for inspection. Red Cross volunteers will be on hand to describe the future activities in each of the operation center's rooms. Refreshments will be served.

Presiding over the dedication will be James M. Davis, chairman of the chapter.

In addition to the brief remarks to be made by each of the three speakers, personalized greetings and congratulations will be heard from Henrik Bear, of Geneva, Secretary General of the League of Red Cross Societies, in behalf of the American Red Cross.

If the weather is favorable, the ceremony will be held on a paved parking area just outside the Red Cross building. If inclement weather prevails, it will be held indoors.

Unlimited supervised parking will be available on an area of Buhr Park immediately adjacent to and just east of the new building.

Shea will talk on "The Red Cross in a Troubled World." He has primary responsibility for organizing national Red Cross efforts for disaster strikes in the U.S. and for the nationwide Blood Program.

In addition to Davis, other chapter officers are Mrs. Owen J. Cleary and James F. Beamer, vice-chairmen; Roy Weber, treasurer; and Mrs. Richard Mann, Jr., secretary. Executive director is W. de St. Aubin.

Eleven Chelsea people represented Merkel Brothers store at the 42nd annual district meeting of the Michigan Retail Hardware Association held Monday evening at the clubhouse of the Irish Hills Sports Park near Clinton.

The district meetings, which open with a 7 o'clock dinner, are open to retailers, their wives, employees and the general public.

Featured speaker was J. Ed Uland of Coldwater, nationally known human relations counselor. His subject was "The Key That Opens All Doors."

Peter M. Baudino, Calumet, president of the Association, and Harold W. Schumacher, manager-treasurer, also participated in the program.

This 42nd annual fall series of meetings being conducted in 16 southern Michigan communities, is designed to serve as part of an over-all program aimed at maintaining constant communication with member merchants, a regular Association service since 1920. The Association annually conducts 26 meetings throughout the state, with the spring series held in northern Michigan.

Members may attend any of the meetings—one was held at Ann Arbor, Tuesday evening—the Merckels selecting the Irish Hills meeting because of the fact that Thomas Young, now in the hardware business in Clinton, was chairman of that particular district session.

Those who attended from here included Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Merkel, Miss Gertrude Young, Mr. and Mrs. John Merkel, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Merkel, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Chapman and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoffman.

Thomas Young, brother of Mrs. Norbert Merkel and Miss Gertrude Young, was formerly with Merkel Brothers store here.

Slight Reduction Noted in August Traffic Death Toll

Michigan's traffic fatality toll was reduced for the first time in eight months when 100 deaths were recorded in August as compared with 177 in the same month last year.

The State Police reported that although delayed death reports are expected to increase the toll somewhat, the difference of 17 deaths, or a reduction of 9.6 percent, is not expected to be overtaken enough to put the month in the loss column.

The provisional eight-month toll is 1,128, or 12.6 percent more than 1,002 in 1962.

The Labor Day week-end toll, which was recorded between 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday, was 81 deaths in 10 accidents, six of them multiple deaths. Two persons were killed in each of three accidents, three in one, four in one and five in one. The death toll was five more than 26 in 1962, and was the highest in 10 years. However, there were more fatal accidents in five of those years but not as many multiples.

Washtenaw Area Library Meets Here Monday Evening

A quarterly meeting of the Washtenaw Area Library Association was held in Chelsea Monday evening, representatives of libraries at Ypsilanti, Dexter, Manchester, South Lyon, Milan, Saline, Ann Arbor, Willow Run and Chelsea being present. Total attendance numbered approximately 40 men and women, including Mrs. Marian Ingram, Michigan State Library consultant for Washtenaw county; George Curtis, the county librarian; and Homer Chance, head librarian at the Ann Arbor Public Library, who is vice-president of the Association.

Chance conducted Monday's meeting in the absence of the Association president, Mrs. Edward Stasheff.

Manchester sent a large delegation of representatives to the meeting and the Dexter library was represented by Mrs. Byron Soule, a member of the library board. The meetings are open to all librarians and their assistants and all library trustees.

Dr. P. E. Sharrard, president of the board of the McKune Memorial Library had made all arrangements for the meeting which was held in the club room at the library.

"Good Public Relations" was the subject for discussion at the meeting, in accordance with the Associated program for the year. Members were particularly interested since the accomplishments of Chelsea's library since it was founded 31 years ago by members of the then Child Study club, now the Woman's Club of Chelsea.

She explained in detail the various stages of growth which culminated in the present library facilities in its permanent location in the historic McKune homestead bequeathed to the village by the late Mrs. J. E. McKune.

Four Ohio Men Fined for Fishing Without Licenses

Apprehension of fishing violators continues, according to Conservation Officer Donley Boyer who reports that four men from Ohio were assessed fines and costs on such charges in the past week.

Two of the offenders, Robert Dodson of Swanton, O., and Norman Kriefall of Parma, O., appeared before Sylvan Township Justice of the Peace Chandler Rogers and were ordered to pay $13 fine and costs each, for fishing without a proper license. Dodson was cited while fishing on Iron Lake and Kriefall while fishing on Crooked Lake.

William Morgenstern of Toledo, O., appeared before Dexter Township Justice of the Peace David Dolg and paid a similar amount for fine and costs. He was apprehended on Iron Lake, near Manchester, for fishing without a license.

The fourth man was Horace Rockwood, III, of Defiance, O. He was charged with fishing without a license when he appeared before Municipal Judge Francis O'Brien, Ann Arbor and was assessed $12.30 fine and costs.

Youths Complete Hike Around Higgins Lake

Thomas Sharrard, 16, son of Dr. and Mrs. P. E. Sharrard, with David Barker, 15, of St. Johns, and Charles Salzman of Detroit, during a recent vacation at Higgins Lake, attracted considerable attention when they decided on a hike around the shoreline of the lake—a distance of approximately 35 miles.

When they announced their intention their families tried to dissuade them, telling them the distance was much too far for a hike, but they set out just the same and two of the boys—Sharrard and Barker—completed the hike in nine hours and 48 minutes.

The third hiker, Charles Salzman of Detroit, was forced to give up at the half-way mark at noon because he had developed several blisters on his feet.

Wearing swimsuits and jackets and traveling barefooted, the three youths left the cottage at 8:13 a.m.; arrived at the half-way mark for a rendezvous at the state park with members of their families who had brought a lunch for them; and then the two who completed the hike, continued on their way.

Profits Without Honor

Recently we see many references to the improvement in corporate profits which has occurred in the past two years. Any gain should be a source of gratification both to the profit-maker and to those who depend on his jobs. The Commerce Department's quarterly statistics confirm the reality of the rise in profits, but reveal that it has been far from spectacular. In some quarters the notion is getting around that profits have become very lush indeed by previous standards. An inspection of the statistical record shows that this impression is not only wrong—it is ludicrous. All that has happened in the past two years is that corporate profits have slowly and painfully been regaining the ground lost after earlier peaks. Since the mid-1950's there have been ups and downs, but no discernible upward trend in profits. In the last quarter of 1955 the dollar total of after-tax profits, expressed in terms of the annual rate, reached a peak of $24.9 billion. There followed a period of more than three years in which profits never got back to this level. Finally, in the second quarter of 1959, the profit figure finally broke through and established a new high of $30.6 billion. Thereafter profits fell again, and did not begin rising until after the first quarter of 1961. The latest figure available is for the first quarter of 1963 and indicates after-tax profits at an annual rate of $25.4 billion—slightly below the 1959 peak and slightly above the 1955 peak. Risk-taking is an essential part of business enterprise and perhaps we should not complain about the ups and downs of profits. What is disturbing is this tendency for total dollar profits, during periods of improving business, to do no more than climb back to where they were before the preceding decline. Meanwhile prices have risen so that the actual buying power of profits is lower than at previous high points. By contrast, we have had almost steady growth in the dollar volume of business activity during this period. Between 1955 and the first half of this year the gross national product increased by 45 percent. There were brief periods of decline, but each time growth resumed the gross national product very quickly passed through the preceding peak. We now hear predictions that profits will soon establish a new record high. It may be so, and if it is all we can say is: "It's about time." But even if profits break through the 1959 high, they will still have a long way to go if they are to regain some reasonable relationship to the growth in the economy generally. If some one tells you, in the near future, that profits have reached record high levels you might remind him that total compensation of employees makes a new high—practically every time the figure is released. Enough money can buy anything, with the exception of peace of mind and conscience.

The busiest waterway in the world is the Detroit river, which carries more tonnage annually than the Rhine, Thames, Seine and Volga rivers combined.

Kiwanis Quotes
When men cease to be faithful to God, he who expects to find them so to each other will be much disappointed. If we make religion our business, God will make it our blessedness.
—ADAM.

Michigan farmers sold more than $2.2 million worth of peas last year. Nearly 45 percent of all peas harvested in the United States comes from the Thumb area of the state. Onions, potatoes, carrots, lettuce, beans, mint, celery, radishes, cabbage, turnips and corn are crops commonly grown on this organic soil.

Wheat Growers Urged To Consider ASC Program

Time is short for winter wheat producers to consider how their wheat plantings may affect their participation in the 1964 feed grain program, Chairman Max Kalmbach of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, reminded growers today.

The chairman said that many wheat farmers in the county are also feed-grain producers and as a result are eligible to participate in the 1964 feed grain program by diverting feed grain acreage out of production.

He noted the drop in 1964 wheat prices as reflected by the present wheat futures market. Currently, the judgment of the market is a July 1964 Kansas City wheat futures price of around $1.55 per bushel. This price, adjusted to a farm level, reflects a wheat price of about $1.25 to $1.30 per bushel.

A 1964 crop in excess of current disappearance of about 1.3 billion bushels for domestic and export use will undoubtedly put heavy downward pressure on wheat prices, probably forcing prices down to a feed price level as the supply seeks a consumption outlet.

Chairman Kalmbach pointed out that the 1964 feed grain program has been designed to reduce possible expansion of over-all grain acreage. The program provides an effective guide for farmers to follow in keeping their over-all crop acreages in 1964 reasonably in line with expected needs.

While the program provides flexibility in enabling farmers to shift acreages among crops not directly under the feed grain program, it also provides for maintaining soil-conserving acreage, including summer fallow and idle land on participating farms at 1959-60 levels. This will tend to limit over-all acreage expansion, particularly if substantial numbers of wheat-feed grain producers participate in the program.

At the same time, payments for diverting feed grain acreage to a conserving use, price-support payments on the acreage seeded, and the availability of price support will help maintain income. An added incentive to keep over-all grain acreage in check is the boost in the payments to be made for diversion of maximum acreages under the program.

The chairman urged all farmers in Washtenaw county who intend to seed wheat this fall and who also plant feed grains to look into the possibilities of participation in the 1964 feed grain program before they complete their seeding plans. Even though the feed grain sign-up will not be until early next year, farmers who plan to participate will need to keep their fall-seeded acreage in line with total crop acreage permitted on their farms under the feed grain program.

Carol Cameron Leaving for Study In Caen, France

Carol Cameron is among 121 Kalamazoo College students who will leave campus this month for two quarters of study abroad. A participant in the College's Foreign Study Program, Miss Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cameron, will sail Sept. 20 aboard the ship "Arkadia" for France and study at the University of Caen.

Kalamazoo students study at Aix-en-Provence and Caen, France; Münster, Bonn, and Erlangen, Germany; Madrid, Spain; Sierra Leone, West Africa; Beirut, Lebanon; and Mexico City, Mexico.

In addition to six months of foreign study for juniors, Kalamazoo's new plan for full-year education includes independent research projects for seniors, jobs selected for sophomores during their vacation quarters arranged by the college's Career and Service department, and an accelerated three year program for qualified freshmen.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

One of the most difficult problems in a governor's life is the bewilderingly complex relationship between the state, local and federal governments.

Local units of government have begun bypassing state capitols, seeking solutions to their problems in Washington, because they feel state officials are insensitive to their problems.

I wonder how many people are aware to what extent state and local governments are on the federal dole?

According to the report of a U.S. Senate committee, federal assistance to state and local governments under existing or proposed programs will total an estimated $10.4 billion in 1964. Total grants to Michigan were more than $244 million.

Now these statistics alone do not illustrate the growing and dangerous dependence of local and state governments on the federal government. Equally important is the attitude of local officials, an attitude which at times seems to me to approach beggary.

This came home to me during the governor's conference at Miami Beach, where speaker after speaker, panel after panel, devoted themselves to the question of existing federal programs or proposed federal programs.

In a steady stream, cabinet officers, their deputies, and all species and subspecies of Washington officialdom came trooping into the conference with the same message: Here's what the federal government can do for you.

There can be no denying the fact that federal grants-in-aid are national programs, paid for out of national tax revenues, for national purposes, under national specifications. And he who pays the piper calls the tune.

Don't let anyone tell you that federal aid does not carry with it a measure of control over the way the money is spent. The measure of this control varies, but it is there.

One of the principles upon which our nation was founded is the separation of powers between the three branches of government.

But an equally important principle is that of limited government, which divides political power between governments at all levels and the people themselves, reserving to the people a number of specific rights and powers.

During recent months, my administration and the Legislature has taken several steps to increase the responsibilities, and opportunities, of local officials.

These opportunities will exist in the care of the mentally ill, in attracting new industries to the state, in civil rights, and hopefully in taxation.

I am convinced that the governmental center of gravity should remain where it can give our republic the greatest stability, at the lowest possible level.

The only real guarantee that power will reside close to the people is the will of the people to keep it there, and the will of public officials on a local level to retain a firm grasp on the power which the people have given them.

George Bernard Shaw said that liberty means responsibility, and that is why most men dread it. If the precious balance of power between federal, state and local governments is to be preserved as one of the bulwarks of our freedom, all public officials must willingly bear the measure of responsibility which the people expect them to carry.
