 County boards of supervisors throughout the state have just been told what could be a long wait to determine whether the boards are legally constituted. Supreme Court.

Fewer Vacations
 Schools of tomorrow, and particularly high schools, may bring even more changes than scientific advances of the past decade have brought. Summer-long vacations and seven-hour daily sessions very likely will be just a memory, according to two leading Michigan educators.

Protection Problem
 It was evident during the recent campaign that security measures were tightened considerably in the mind that in 10 years not only will the school year and the school day be significantly longer than today, but also because of the tremendous increase in knowledge and the growing need for more skills and training, our schools will be open on some basis the year around, perhaps on a 10-to-15-hour daily program," he said.

The U. S. government subsidizes crops and livestock. It is estimated that doubling the wages of stoop labor — still used to cultivate and collect some vegetable crops — would increase the retail price of tomatoes by a mere penny a pound.

Don Turner Will Head Kiwanis Club

Don Turner was elected the 1964-65 president at the Kiwanis club meeting held Monday evening in the dining room of the Congregational church.

Also named as club officers were Floyd Fowler, first vice-president; Paul G. Schabbe, Jr., second vice-president; and Jack Dettling, treasurer.

Named as directors for two-year terms were Ralph Guenther, Elden Heller, Clarence Pendley and Walter Zeeb.

Directors who remain in office another year are Robert Barlow, Edwin Greenleaf and Edward Lewis.

Guest speaker at Monday's meeting was William A. Dexter, district extension agent for farm management in a nine-county area. He gave a resume of farm conditions in the district.

Dick McCalla and Oren Wireman, Chelsea Key club members, were guests at the meeting and were introduced by William Freeman and William Windle, respectively.

Eight Kiwanians from other clubs were guests at Monday's meeting — Bob Bradley, Douglas Austin and Bob Turner of Ann Arbor; Western; Bill LeClere, James Campbell, Roy McCalla and Chet Carter of Ann Arbor; Downtown club; and Horace J. Lickly of the Dexter club.

Also guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Ralston of Garden City and Fred Pearsall, the new manager of Chelsea's Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. office.

William Rademacher, Kiwanis pancake supper chairman, reminded members of their duties at the annual event scheduled for next Monday, Nov. 9, at the Chelsea High school cafeteria.

Remember, Your Single Vote Might Change the Election

Here are some facts to remember when you're tempted to stay home from the polls at any election because your vote won't count.

Charles Hughes went to bed as the new President on election night, but woke up defeated. During the night returns came in from the state of California. Woodrow Wilson carried the state by 3,800 votes out of nearly one million cast. Less than one vote per precinct in this one state returned him to the White House.

Harry Truman carried Ohio by only 7,107 votes out of nearly three million cast, and California by only 17,806 votes out of about four million cast. A difference of less than one vote per precinct in those two states would have given Thomas Dewey the 50 electoral votes involved, thus throwing the final decision into the House of Representatives.

John F. Kennedy won the 1960 election by 112,253 votes out of sixty-nine million cast. Again less than one vote per precinct throughout the nation could have changed an election. A total switch of just 11,874 votes in the five states of Hawaii, Illinois, Missouri, New Mexico, and Nevada would have given Richard Nixon the Presidency.

17 Winners Tops Weekly Grid Contest

Winners in the adult division of this week's football contest sponsored by The Standard and co-operating merchants are Dave Colquhoun, first prize of $75.00 cash, and Ron Eder, second prize of $25.00 cash.

Identical prizes were won by first- and second-place winners in the junior division (those 16 and under). Winners are 11-year-old Linda Freeman and 13-year-old Jack Young.

Linda correctly guessed 15 of the 20 games in this week's contest and gave 24 as her guess in the tie-breaker game, Arkansas vs. Texas A & M which Arkansas won, 17-0.

Young's guess of winning games was 15, also, but his guess on the tie-breaker points was 27.

Colquhoun had 17 correct selections on his contest entry and the second-place winner, Ron Eder, correctly guessed 16 of the winners.

Winners should call at The Standard office before Tuesday of the week following the contest to pick up their cash prizes. If not claimed by Tuesday, they will be forfeited.

Rules of the contest are included on the contest page in The Standard each week.

Abandoned Autos Easier To Handle Under New Laws

Lansing — Abandoned vehicles long a major headache to Michigan's law enforcement officials... have now become much easier to handle, thanks to a pair of new laws and co-operation from the Michigan's Secretary of State's office.

According to Secretary of State James M. Hare, enforcement agencies previously had to pick up abandoned vehicles, send out registered notices to owners, and conduct public sales. The police also had to arrange getting cars towed in for storage.

The new procedures have the Department of State doing much of the bookwork. Police officials now have to publish only one public notice if the vehicle is not registered and may tow a vehicle off private property after 48 hours if permission to leave the vehicle there has been revoked by the owner. The police may also turn an abandoned vehicle over to a garagekeeper to be disposed of if it is appraised at less than $10.

Have noted that about 5,000 abandoned vehicles are reported every year, but he expected the total to increase with the new, easier procedures. Usually the abandoned vehicles are "old cars, worth little except for scrap."

Once in a while, Hare said, newer cars are found and they are usually "gone over with a fine tooth comb" by police officials to see if they are stolen or may have been used in committing a crime.

Education Week Slated Across Nation

This year's observance of American Education Week, the 44th annual celebration, is set for Nov. 8-14 and schools all across the nation will be recognizing the occasion in various ways.

At Chelsea Junior High school National Education Week will feature an open house for parents on Friday, Nov. 13, beginning at 2:30 p.m. and continuing through the evening.

Parents will be invited to attend on an alphabetical schedule to avoid overcrowding and permit teachers more time to talk to visitors. The open house will begin at 2:30 p.m. and continue through the evening, Principal Alan Conklin said.

At the two elementary schools a general open house, in co-operation with the PTA, was held Oct. 21, so another is not planned at this time; however, Principal Sylvester Wojcicki issued an invitation to all parents to visit the schools at any time during the week.

High School Principal Charles Lane and high school teachers are to meet this week to discuss plans for observing National Education Week.

Sponsored by the National Education Association, the American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U.S. Office of Education, American Education Week is designed to spotlight what the schools are doing and to remind citizens that good schools are their responsibility, too.

The nation-wide theme of this year's observance is "Education Pays Dividends" and supporting this idea are special topics receiving emphasis on each day of the week. These include: "Better Human Relations," "Improved Earning Power," "Personal Fulfillment," "Good Citizenship," "National Economic Growth," "Better Communities," and "International Relations."

The NEA says this year's theme was chosen to call attention to the fact that an investment in education pays the highest possible dividend. Because there are fewer jobs for the uneducated and because society's problems are becoming more and more complex, the value of education will constantly increase.

Open houses and school programs are traditional with American Education Week and local observances will give interested citizens an opportunity to examine the latest in teaching methods and equipment.

School Belongs to Everybody

"The school belongs to everybody" is the philosophy preached by the Mott Foundation Community Education Workshop, attended in Flint by six PTA representatives last week.

In old-time rural America, much social as well as educational life centered around the schoolhouse. It was centrally located and was often the only building large enough to hold adequately the number of persons who attended the classes and who were often the only place for social and recreational activities.

That was yesterday's "everybody's school" concept. Today, it is developing into much the same thing—only the activities have changed.

For example, there are classes in sewing, auto mechanics, square dancing, golf, drafting, group singing, journalism, and any other subject in which enough people are interested.

The most suitable activity building in a community is nearly always a school. They're centrally located and they're not fully utilized at night and in the summertime.

As America's model for adult education programs, Flint's Mott Foundation has successfully placed full-time directors of extra-curricular activities in 50 lo-ocations throughout a 375,000 population metropolitan community. The lesson to be learned from Flint is not that every small town must be just like it, but rather that "it can be done," with each community organizing for a program that will start perhaps modestly and continually improve.

To meet the demands of today's world, it is necessary to utilize fully all the facilities at our command. We must train and educate to prevent school dropouts, and to help them, to help adults improve themselves after high school and to finish work toward a high school diploma in some cases, to provide all teen-agers with recreational facilities, to give adults as well as youth opportunity to improve themselves beyond the ordinary curriculum offered in the regular school day.

All these things are required to keep pace with our times—and the school buildings are here idle much of the time—we have taken some steps in the right direction already with the recreation program conducted by Alan Conklin under auspices of the Recreation Council and the Community Fund, in co-operation with the school system. Purpose of the visit by the six people was to learn as well as possible how the existing program could be improved or expanded. Other groups and individuals will be invited to make special trips in the near future, it is believed.

A report of the ninth annual Community Education Workshop will be given at the next PTA meeting by a panel of the six Parent-Teachers Association representatives who attended: Mrs. Alan Conklin, Mrs. Herbert Hinz, Lester Czarniecki, Sylvester Wojcik, the Rev. John Snucker and Ed Lewis.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

Some Trends Up, Some Down . . .

High-level economic discussions tend to be conducted in terms of broad-gauge indicators, like the gross national product or the Federal Reserve Board Index of Industrial Production. These have their place but we need also, from time to time, to be reminded of the wide variety of trends that are averaged out in such measures.

An opportunity to look below the surface is provided by an article on "Patterns of Output Growth," just published by the Department of Commerce. This analyzes the post World-War-II trends in production of 339 separate items.

The range in growth rates is truly astonishing. There were 70 products—about a fifth of the list—which were labeled "fast-growing." These were items whose rate of growth averaged above 7.5 percent per year for the period 1948-1963. The "moderately growing" group—yearly increase in output between 0 and 7.5 percent—included 135 products. The remaining 84 products showed actual declines in output.

Some Surprises
Among the fast-growing group there are some products that we would have expected to find there: room air conditioners and frozen fruit juice concentrates for example. But some of the products listed as fast-growing surprise the casual reader: vitamins, shavers, skirts and effervescent wines.

Similarly, we are not surprised to find silk and bituminous coal in the declining group. But we wouldn't have guessed that men's suits, outboard motors, refrigerators, and men's work shirts would also show declines in output.

Doubtless the experts, in each of these fields can offer an explanation for what happened, at least in retrospect. Whether they could have predicted it in advance is another question.

Chaos or Order?
Not only has the growth rate varied widely from product to product—it has changed abruptly for some products, from one time period to another. Out of 81 products that were fast-growers between 1948 and 1957, only 35 were still fast-growers between 1957 and 1963. Another 35 moved down to the moderately-growing class, and 11 actually declined. At the other end of the scale some products that were declining in the early years moved into the growing—even into the fast-growing—category later on.

Departure from the average pattern is so much more common than adherence to it, that one is tempted to describe the whole situation as chaotic. And so it is to the statistician who tries to explain or predict economic changes in industry-by-industry detail.

For the consumer it is not chaos at all but supreme orderliness. He finds the things he wants in the marketplace. The things he has ceased to want cease to appear there.

"National economic planning" is favorably regarded in some quarters. However, we doubt that a central planning bureau could have projected the right trend for very many of the 339 products analyzed in this Commerce Department study. Any attempt to force them into a predetermined pattern would have produced real chaos.

73 Elections Schools Slated in Michigan

Lansing — A total of 73 schools for local elections officials are being held during October in preparation of the general election on Nov. 3.

According to Secretary of State James M. Haro, the state's chief elections official, the schools started Oct. 6 and will continue on through the Oct. 30.

Before the primary election, some 95 elections schools for inspectors and others were held.

Haro said the schools are conducted by officials of the Elections Division of the Secretary of State's Office.

Life would be simple if everyone were sincere.

When you bake with Gas, your cookies turn out just the way you planned them . . . and disappear almost as soon as you serve them! There's something about flame-baking that makes cookies extra tempting. Perhaps it's old-fashioned tastiness. But it's also the way they look. SOME OF YOU HAVE ASKED why we don't somehow prevent annoying telephone sales calls from reaching our customers' homes. One reason is that the law requires us to provide service for any lawful purpose. And selling by phone is entirely legal. Another reason is that many sales-by-phone organizations really do offer outstanding bargains. We wouldn't want our customers to miss out on those.

We do try in many ways to encourage better telephone manners among business people. Gradual improvement can be expected as a result.

Meantime the law of self-defense certainly applies. When a telephone salesperson is rude or overly insistent on the phone . . . feel free to hang up.

Mother, Daughter Bruised in Auto Mishap

Among a series of traffic accidents reported in the county Monday was one in the Chelsea area in which Mrs. Judith Boudreau, 20, and her 2 1/2-month-old daughter received bruises.

Reports of the mishap state Mrs. Boudreau lost control of her car as she was driving along Onaugh Lake Rd. near Pine and the car went off the right side and struck a tree.

UNICEF Collection Total Not Available

Mrs. R.A.J. Livingston said today that complete return of the UNICEF "trick or treat" jars will not be available later in the week.

Some of the boxes in which collections were made are still being turned in and others were turned in until Sunday.

Just A Minute...

By the Rev. James A. Craig

The pungent, sort of sweet odor of slightly charred pumpkins is gone. It lasted only a night or so. The heavy smell of burning leaves is almost done. The air has the crisp, clear smell of Fall and the coming Winter. Also gone from the air is all the noise and nonsense that filled it during that time we call a presidential campaign.

As this is written even the educated guesses won't claim too loudly who will be the winner. The election over, we settle down to making the nation work again. Once more we look for the sources of unity that have made the nation what it is.

One can hardly be sure that the wounds will heal this time. Too much has been said too often by too many.

Still the open places will be covered over, even with ear tissue. The harsh words spoken angrily will be forgotten sooner or later. By and large, though, most of us will go along as we have in the past.

Another place where we have been split apart for some time is in the Church. There the wounds have not always healed. There they have resulted in too many denominations. Perhaps that too will heal one day.

THE RT. REV. Richard S. Emrich, Bishop of the Diocese of Michigan of the Episcopal Church, will be in Chelsea Sunday for the fall confirmation of a class at St. Barnabas Episcopal church. A reception for the bishop and the class will be held in the undercroft of the church after the services.

Baptist Churches Plan Missionary Round Robin

A series of missionary meetings, sometimes known as "Round Robin Missionary Conference," began last night at Chelsea Baptist church. Co-operating in the six-day program are Baptist churches of North Sharon, Dexter, Bellevue, Nashville and Garden City. The six missionaries will alternate in speaking once at each of the participating churches.

Speaking at the Chelsea church last night was Miss Margaret Mount, a native of England who is in medical missionary work in the Congo.

Tonight, Miss Beatrice Klingensmith, who served as a missionary in Bolivia, will speak at a 7 p.m. meeting at the Chelsea church. Her talk will center on work with the children.

Friday evening the speaker will be missionary He and his family were among those evacuated early this year from the Congo. A personal friend of the family, Irene Ferrell, was killed there.

The Rev. and Mrs. Wayne Sheltenberger, field representatives of the Independent Faith Mission, who will tell about work in Italy and India, are scheduled for the 7 p.m. meeting Saturday, and the Rev. Don Yerington, missionary to Brazil, will speak at 7 p.m. Sunday which will be the final meeting of the missionary conference.

The sixth missionary, Miss Norma Jenkins, former teacher in the Congo, will speak at the Sunday morning service at Chelsea Baptist church.

The Saturday evening meeting will place emphasis on youth.

The Rev. Elmer Steenson, pastor of the Chelsea Baptist church, and members of the congregation, extend an invitation to all interested persons of the community to attend the missionary meetings.

St. Paul's, Congregational Youth Plan Joint Meeting

Youth of the Congregational church will be hosts to the youth of St. Paul's church Sunday at 6:30 p.m. These two United Church of Christ churches plan to share several meetings during the year, and the first will be Sunday, Nov. 8 when the meeting will be at the Congregational church, with them providing the program as well.

President Tom Sharrard announced that about 15 of the St. Paul's youth will probably be present for the worship, business, discussion and recreation. He says that Dave Frisinger has the program on "The A-bomb in Viet Nam?" Ed Windell has the worship and the recreation is not decided yet.

The supper party was a success Sunday night with 20 present. Ray Schultz was given a big "thank you" and the secretary was instructed to send him a note of thanks for making the delicious spaghetti dinner possible. The programs were presented at the table and the youth in charge of each spoke on what he had in mind. Also the two rallies were suggested.

The Association Rally is to be Nov. 15 at Ypsilanti on the theme "Mission in Your Own Backyard." All who desire may attend, but reservations must be in by next Sunday. It will be from 3 to 8 and cost 75 cents for supper.

The State Rally is in Detroit on year will be Sunday afternoon, Nov. 8 at Penhallegon's. They will contribute to the Work Day for Christ fund for OCWM in return for raking leaves. There is rumor that Mrs. Penhallegon will also be furnishing cider and doughnuts to the group working. Tom Sharrard made the announcement in the absence of Roger Frisinger, service chairman.

The next meeting is Sunday, Nov. 8 (after working) at 6:30 with St. Paul's.

Medicine, Drugs Now Fully Deductible For Senior Citizens

Medicine and drug expenses for taxpayers 65 years and older will be fully deductible on this year's Federal income tax returns.

The full deductibility of these expenses under the 1964 Revenue Act was pointed out today by R. I. Nixon, Detroit District Director of Internal Revenue. He said this will save elderly taxpayers about $10 million a year in taxes.

Under previous law, expenses for medicines and drugs were included in medical expenses to the extent they exceeded one percent of adjusted gross income.

Elimination of the one-percent floor applies to the medicine and drug expenses of a taxpayer had his spouse if either is age 65 or over. It also applies to dependent parents age 65 or over.

There are no other changes in the provisions regarding the deductibility of medical expenses Nixon said. These expenses are fully deductible, subject to certain maximum limitations, for taxpayers 65 and over but are subject to a three-percent floor for taxpayers under 65.

The one percent floor on medicine and drug expenses for taxpayers under 65 continues in effect, Director Nixon said.

The law should know no favorites; when this is the case, the law has no excuses to make.

JV Gridders Win Over Roosevelt

The Chelsea JV's won their sixth straight victory of the season Thursday night over Roosevelt by a score of 44-6.

Roosevelt scored quickly in the first quarter as the Chelsea defense faltered. After Roosevelt's score Chelsea returned to their winning ways ending their march with a 45-yard touchdown run by Bob Taylor. Jack Risner kicked the extra point which put the young Bulldogs ahead, 7-0.

Quarterback Bill Harvey scored twice in the second quarter on runs of 14 and 2 yards. Harvey also completed a 38-yard touchdown pass to Dan Allen. The score at halftime was Chelsea 25, Roosevelt 6.

Early in the third quarter Taylor again scored, this time on a 30-yard run. On the next drive Mike McClear made a four-yard plunge on a quarterback sneak for Chelsea's sixth TD of the game. Allen kicked the extra point, making the score 38-6.

The lone score in the fourth quarter was made by Allen with a 50-yard run on a fake punt play.

Bob Taylor was the leading rusher with 163 yards. This surpasses Phil Eckhardt's record of 156 yards in the St. John's game.

The Bulldog offense as well as the defense was very effective, picking up more than 400 yards.

Tuesday, the JV's added their seventh straight victory to their 1904 record when they defeated Stockbridge on the home field 27-7.

Christmas Stamps Will Be Available Next Tuesday

Chelsea Postmaster Carl Mayer held yesterday the 50,000 of the new Christmas 5-cent postage stamps will be placed on sale at the Chelsea Post Office on a first-come, first-served basis next Tuesday, Nov. 10.

There are several different holiday designs on each sheet of 100 stamps and it is suggested the special stamps be used on the envelopes in which Christmas cards are mailed. Cards mailed with the 5-cent postage will receive first-class handling, this includes forwarding as well as return to sender if the card is undeliverable and providing the sender's return address appears on the envelope.

Postmaster Mayer pointed out that Nov. 10 is also important as the date when surface parcels for overseas members of the Armed Forces and civilians who receive mail through APO's must be in the mail if they are to reach their destination by Christmas.

Savings & Loan Associations Growing Rapidly
Lansing — Michigan's state chartered Savings and Loan Associations neared the $1 billion mark in total assets according to a report on activities over the past fiscal year issued by Secretary of State James M. Hare, whose agency licenses and conducts field examinations of these lending institutions.

Hare said total assets listed by 34 associations increased over $100 million during the past fiscal year and now totaled more than $918 million. "If this growth pattern continues, and we have no reason to think that it will not, these savings associations will go over the $1 billion mark by the close of the next fiscal year," Hare predicted.

The past year was the best ever recorded in the 77-year history of these financing institutions.

During the past six years, Hare said, savings and loans have more than doubled their total assets, "an astounding rate of growth and increase."

The largest of these institutions is the American Savings and Loan Association of Detroit, which listed June 30 assets at upwards of $158 million. Another Detroit association, Detroit and Northern Savings and Loan Association, was second with more than $144 million in assets. Capital Savings and Loan Association of Lansing was third with $101 million. First Savings and Loan of Saginaw, fourth, with assets of $79 million, while the Mutual Savings and Loan of Bay City rounded out the top five with assets of $52 million.
