School Bands Will Present Winter Concert

Combined Total Of 186 Students Will Perform

The Chelsea Bands with a combined membership of 186 students, will present a combined concert on Jan. 24 at 2:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The 50-member seventh grade band will open the concert. The 40-member eighth grade band will then perform, featuring Karen Leach as cornet soloist on one of their numbers.

The 96-member high school band, under the direction of Bruce Galbraith, assisted by Martin Gurvey, will conclude the concert.

The concert, an annual winter affair, is free to the public.

GEORGE W. ATKINSON

Fire Destroys Building at Klumpp Bros.

Fire was discovered about 7 a.m. Tuesday in the Ready-Mix part of the Klumpp Bros. Gravel Co.

John Stofer was checking roads that morning and as he drove by Klumpp Bros. he noticed smoke coming from the building. He immediately radioed Ann Arbor and they called the Chelsea Fire Department.

The origin of the fire is not known now, but the part of the building that houses the boiler, heater for hot water, electrical wiring and control panel for the Ready-Mix operations, was completely demolished. It will be out of operation for at least four to six weeks, the Chelsea Fire Department arrived quickly and had the fire under control within a short time.

Extent of damages is not yet estimated.

G. W. Atkinson To Head District Fire Association

George W. Atkinson, assistant chief of the Chelsea Fire Department, will be installed as president of the Southern Michigan Association of Fire Chiefs and Firemen. Thirty departments in Jackson, Hillsdale and Washtenaw are members of the Association and monthly meetings are held at different departments.

Installation ceremonies will be held at the monthly meeting, Jan. 25, at Jackson City, Station No. 1. Others being installed at this time are Chief Leo M. Fox, Jackson City, first vice-president; Claude J. Clark, Equipment Co., second vice-president; Sgt. Joseph Terze, State Fire Marshal's office, secretary; Chief Ralph Blatter, Concord, treasurer; Chief Gerald Traill, Hanover, sergeant-at-arms; Chief Elwin, Spring Arbor. (Continued on page eight)

Chelsea Bank Names One New Director

At the annual meeting of the Chelsea State Bank held Tuesday morning Jan. 19, Dudley K. Holmes was elected a new director to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late J. V. Burg, 1.

Other directors re-elected are John Keusch, F. W. Marks, Dr. A. A. Palmer, Howard S. Holmes, Paul G. Schaible, Sr., Paul G. Schaible Jr., and Paul E. Mann. All officers were re-elected. They are P. G. Schaible, Sr., chairman of the board; Paul E. Mann, president; Howard S. Holmes, vice-president; Paul G. Schaible, Jr., cashier; Richard J. Kern, assistant cashier, and Paul F. Niehaus, assistant cashier.

Temporary Pastor Named At St. Paul's

The Rev. Donald Baacke will be serving as the part-time interim pastor at the St. Paul United Church of Christ until a full-time pastor is called.

The Rev. Baacke is a full-time student at the University of Michigan, working toward a Master of Social Work degree. Although an ordained minister of the American Lutheran Church, he has not been serving a congregation while attending school. The Rev. Baacke will be teaching the Junior High confirmation class and preaching at the Sunday morning services at St. Paul's church.

The Rev. Baacke is married to the former Audrey Haab, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haab. Mrs. Baacke teaches fourth grade at North Elementary school. They have one daughter, Cheryl. The Baackes are living at 158 Park St. Chairman of St. Paul's church is Jess Meininger. Church secretary is Miss Flora Schanz. Anytime desiring further information about the church and its program should direct questions, and requests to either Miss Schanz, Meininger or the Rev. Baacke.

Friends and members of St. Paul's church are invited to join in worship each Sunday morning at 10:45 a.m. Sunday School meets at 9:30 a.m.

Olive Lodge Will Observe 100th Birthday at Banquet

Olive Lodge Centennial Banquet plans are going forward with the banquet to be held Saturday, Jan. 23 at 7 p.m. in the Chelsea High school cafeteria.

There will be a change in speakers as word was received earlier this week of the hospitalization of Dr. Donald E. Bailey, PhD of Christ Episcopal church, Adrian.

Newton S. Bacon, PGM of the Grand Lodge of Michigan, of Niles, will be the speaker.

Toastmaster will be Clarence E. Duke, administrative assistant to the dean of the school of dentistry at the University of Michigan.

The Chelsea lodge gained its first charter in a rather unusual way. The files of the historian show that before 1865, there were 10 Chelsea residents who were Masons, but they belonged to Washtenaw Lodge 66 in Dexter.

The 10 finally decided that the seven and one-half miles between Chelsea and Dexter was too far to travel by horse and buggy once a month to attend the meetings, so they petitioned for a new lodge. The reason for their petition read in part: "That the petitioners, with several others reside at Chelsea, a thriving village situated about seven and one-half miles from our lodge, and subjects those brothers to considerable inconvenience, and believe that the good of Masonry will be promoted by instituting a lodge in that place.

The faith of all concerned was well based because the Chelsea lodge has grown from the original 10 members to 201 today.

The present master is Franklin D. Sweeney.

Agriculture Classes Start Monday Evening

Gary Jackson, Chelsea agriculture teacher is again reminding the public of the Adult Education classes being held, Monday evening, Jan. 25, 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria, the subject being "Record Keeping."

These classes are open to any interested Washtenaw county resident.

Chairman for the anniversary celebration is Robert D. Rudd, Donald J. Dancer is in charge of tickets.

The Spartan Bell Ringers, a nationally known student performing group, will present a program at the banquet as an entertainment feature.

The group has appeared on several national-wide television and radio shows, including the Don Nelson performance in the 1955. A highlight of last year's performance was a featured appearance on the Artist-Celebrity Series of the Indiana Institute of Technology, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The group has also successfully auditioned in Radio City Music Hall, and is being considered for a future appearance. The Bell Ringers received national publicity in 1962, when they represented the State of Michigan at the National Convention of the Federation of Music Clubs in Pittsburgh, Pa.

The group is featured on a special Fourth of July recording, "Freedom Ring," which was released in 1963.

One highlight of past tours was the group's performance at the Music Educators National Conference in Chicago. The Bell Ringers also participated in the annual President's Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony in Washington, D.C. in 1955.

Lycoming College Choir to Appear at Methodist Church

WALTER G. MELVER

Walter G. Melver, director of the Lycoming College Choir, which will appear at Chelsea on Tuesday, Jan. 26 at 7:30 p.m. in a Veterans Building of fine choir.

Melver began his musical education in Cleveland, O., where he gained valuable experience as a church chorister and soloist. He entered Westminster Choir College, Princeton, N. J., as a scholarship student. While there he was selected to tour Europe and Russia with the internationally famous Westminster Choir.

In 1946 Melver joined the Lycoming College faculty. He has served as chairman of the music department and director of choral music since that time. He received the Bachelor of Music Degree from Westminster Choir College, the Bachelor of Arts Degree from Bucknell University, and the Master of Arts Degree from New York University.

Shortly after coming to Williamsport, Melver organized the Williamsport Civic Choir, an organization which annually produces several major choral works. Each year the Lycoming director is invited to serve as guest conductor for many scholastic, church and community choral festivals.

Professor Melver was granted a leave of absence from the College for the second semester of the 1958-59 academic year. He and his wife were then free to accept a U. S. State Department invitation to join 20 other Westminster graduates in a five-month concert tour of Africa.

The First Methodist church will sponsor the appearance of the Lycoming Choir in Chelsea on Tuesday, Jan. 26. The public is invited to hear a program which has been arranged to afford music lovers of all tastes an enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Emma Oesterle returned to her home Wednesday after six weeks at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where she underwent heart surgery. She is to have complete bed rest for an indefinite time.

Voters Okay Community College Plan

Out-County Trustee Candidates Fare Well at Home But Lose in Total Vote

In spite of miserable weather and considerable apathy, Washtenaw county is to have the community college for which electors voted last Friday.

The county total vote was 11,109 in favor and 5,085 opposing establishment of a college, while 10,048 persons voted for the 1.25 maximum millage and 5,580 opposed it.

The unofficial elected Board of Directors which must be confirmed this week by the Board of Canvassers are Samuel T. Harmon, Jr., Richard C. Creal, Evert W. Ardis, Edward Adams, Jr., Ralph G. Weirich and Kenneth L. Yount.

All are Ann Arbor residents except Ardis who lives in Ypsilanti. Out of 127 votes cast in Sharon township, 51 favored a community college but 77 did not. Only 33 voted for the millage proposal, while 94 opposed it.

Mrs. Elvira Vogel received 99 votes for trustee, Mrs. Florence Mayer 83 and Paul Bosel 44, in this township.

Manchester township voters passed the college proposal 171 to 116 and the millage proposal 149 to 134. Mrs. Vogel received 241 votes in her home community, while Mrs. Mayer received 185 and Bosel, 117.

In Sylvan township the college proposal also passed, 129-108, and the millage proposal 108-99. Mrs. Mayer's total vote here was 449.

Mrs. Vogel's 323 and Bosel's 150. Lyndon township defeated both proposals by a large margin with only 26 in favor and 66 against a college; 27 favored the millage while 62 opposed it. Mrs. Mayer received 50 votes here, Mrs. Vogel 20 and Bosel 10.

Out of 262 votes cast in Lima township, only 121 wanted a college; 149 did not. On the millage proposal, 105 were in favor and 157 voted against it. Mrs. Mayer received 197 votes for trustee, Mrs. Vogel 147 and Bosel 99 in Lima.

Freedom township also defeated both proposals. Out of a total vote, 87 persons favored the college; 142 did not. As for the millage, 67 were in favor and 154 were not. Mrs. Vogel drew 101 votes here, Mrs. Mayer, 120 and Bosel 49.

Dexter Village passed the college proposition 189 to 133, while the millage proposition only passed by 20 votes, 167-147.

Had Dexter voters had their way, their own candidate, Paul Bosel of Dexter School District would have been elected. He topped the village vote with 204, while another favorite out-county candidate, Mrs. Elvira Vogel of Manchester, brought 136 votes. Mrs. Florence Mayer would have been their third choice with 119, followed by three Ann Arbor men, Creal, Proccassini and Harmon.

In Scio township, Precinct 2, 149 favored the college while 29 were against it and 140 voted for the millage, with 35 opposed to it. Bosel and Mrs. Vogel were among the top six candidates chosen in this precinct also with Proccassini, Harmon, Creal and Ardis also among the top six.

In Scio Precinct 3, 164 voted for a college while 83 opposed it and 152 favored the millage while 88 did not. This precinct chose for the trustees Harmon, Creal, Ardis, Adams, Lundy and Proccassini.

In Webster township the proposal for a college passed while the millage was defeated.

70 voters were in favor of the college while 62 opposed it. Only 67 votes were cast in favor of the millage; however, with 69 against it.

Webster's first choices for trustees were Bosel, Mrs. Vogel and Mrs. Mayer followed by Wenrich, Harmon and Grossman.

It was through no help from Dexter township that the college will be constructed to benefit county students. Voters defeated the proposal by one vote there—86-87.

The millage was defeated by great margins—71-90. Of those who did favor the college, 80 wanted to see Mrs. Mayer as trustee. 74 chose Bosel and 58 Mrs. Vogel. Adams, Proccassini, and Conlin were their next three choices.

Ann Arbor gave the proposals to establish the college and authorize the millage their greatest margins. The proposals passed in most urban townships, in six of Ypsilanti's eight precincts, and in nine of Ypsilanti township's 12 precincts.

The board of trustees will be called together for its first meeting by Carl R. Anderson, president of the Intermediate School District. The trustees must meet within one month of their election to begin formulating plans for the two-year community college.

Among their major responsibilities are determining the aims of the college, to decide if it will offer college transfer, vocational training and general education programs for those persons who do not wish to continue in college, to choose a location and if necessary, plan financing and building a campus, and do the staffing of administration and faculty posts.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS Jan. 21, 1965 is the Golden Anniversary of the founding of Kiwanis International.

And, WHEREAS achievement of this milestone represents more than the completion of 50 calendar years, but is, in truth, the golden anniversary of community service,

And, WHEREAS the men of Kiwanis have contributed unselfishly to the good of this community, aided in their work by the citizens,

I, therefore, call upon the citizens to join me in honoring the Kiwanians of Chelsea, as those Kiwanians have honored us in countless ways throughout the years, and I declare this to be Kiwanis Golden Anniversary Week in the Village of Chelsea, urging each and every citizen to join me in wishing this organization of our fellow citizens a happy birthday and many more to come in the years that lie ahead.

Witness my hand and seal,

Dated: Jan. 9, 1965

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

Recently we have discussed the many improvements in Michigan, but this year's improvement, concerns the magnitude of the challenges we face.

Based on the actions taken and the directions assumed in the next two years, the coming decade can be either one of renewed deficiency and difficulty, or one of unequalled progress.

We have entered a period of unprecedented change and explosive expansion needs—a revolutionary rising in expectations.

For most citizens, learning and acquiring new skills will become lifetime processes. The "scientific age" is giving way to a "learning age."

Current and new knowledge will revolutionize education, work, travel and recreation.

Increased income, leisure time, family formation and urbanization will develop unexpected demands on our recreation facilities, and natural resources, including land and water supplies and water and air purity.

Advanced—and more costly—physical and mental health methods will not only prolong the lives of the healthy but also of the handicapped.

Our state's population is growing by about 200,000 annually and is expected to reach more than 10,000,000 by 1975. It is taking on an hour-glass shape. An estimated 150,000 young people will celebrate their 18th birthday this year, as compared to 102,000 last year—a 50-percent increase in a single year. By 1970 more than 50 percent of our total state population will be less than 25 years of age. And senior citizens over 65 are the next fastest growing age group.

This roaring population explosion will require a corresponding increase in job opportunities and the huge investments necessary to supply them. However, and social needs, old and new, will confront our private and public resources, institutions and leadership with unprecedented demands.

Thus the awesome task of the next two years unfolds.

It is to prepare our state with efficient methods of meeting your needs adequately and the tax structure to yield the revenue justly. And it includes accomplishing this without losing our competitive ability to attract the business investments necessary to provide more and more jobs.

We are fortunate that our present surplus, if used properly, provides us sufficient time to do this. But we must not be lulled into complacency by our sizable surplus.

Despite our recent record levels of annual economic progress and personal income improvement, our annual revenue growth is not keeping pace with just the unavoidable increases in public service expenditures. And as we improve services, the gap steadily widens between revenues and the built-in level of unavoidable expenditures made necessary by the sheer increase in the number of individuals to be served.

If we consider a three-year period since July, 1962, when Michigan experienced its last tax increase, we find that the actual and projected revenue growth average is an estimated $38.5 million annually. But when we examine the same period the built-in expenditure increases, the average annual increase is over $50 million.

Thus, additional revenue over the three-year period, which is a record period of economic expansion in Michigan, averages $12 million less each year than the built-in cost increases in state government.

The present facts are that on the basis of revenue growth alone, if we didn't have a surplus, we would not be able to meet the built-in costs without a deficit or improvement in services without an even greater deficit.

It is clear we can improve services where necessary in the coming year only by spending a great deal more than our present tax structure will produce. This means the state will dip into this year's surplus to balance next year's budget.

Life can be enjoyed by all who are willing to accept it patiently.

Terrific Problem
 Traffic safety is costly in many ways, but most experts agree the investment is worth the dividends.

The alternative, no action, is tremendous tragedy.

With a highway death toll above 2,000 in 1964, higher auto insurance premiums, being predictions for continually rising costs.

Related costs are many. One of these is prevention. This is a possibility, destined to bring pressure on state government officials in months ahead.

Late in 1964, the Governor's special commission on traffic safety brought forth several recommendations for more strict enforcement of existing laws, new legislation, and research aimed at reducing the annual increase in accidents and deaths on the highways.

The Secretary of State's office is basically the largest single state agency involved in safety-related activities with which the Governor's commission concerned itself.

James M. Hare, administrator of this department, says now that the commission's recommendations would cost about $1.2 million annually.

Largest single expenditure for Hare's department would be an estimated $821,000 to combine the various existing state driver licensing services into a single jurisdiction, presumably the Secretary of State's office.

Additional sums of more than $200,000 would be required, Hare said, for each of two other commission recommendations. These would be a 15-month study to be conducted covering every season and type of tourist activity to determine the amount spent in Michigan on food, lodging and stages in the 12-point violation system.

Lever expenditures, each under $100,000 would be needed annually to implement three other commission recommendations dealing with stricter enforcement of driving laws.

The healthy surplus remaining in the state treasury at the end of the last fiscal year and an even bigger one anticipated this July will mean a mass of requests from all state departments for a share of the pie.

Traffic safety has taken a back seat to other appropriations on a couple occasions in the past few years, but this year real pressure will be on to give this area long due attention.

The $1.2 million estimated necessary for Hare's department and other amounts for other agencies dealing with the problem will pose a serious question to legislators this year. Which costs more, the multi-faceted costs of a continually rising highway accident-death toll or a full-fledged program to educate Michigan citizens and enforce state laws?

How Much Value?
 Dollar value of Michigan's year-round tourist industry has been variously estimated at from several hundred thousand dollars to well over $1 billion, depending largely on how many related expenditures were considered.

By the end of this year, the State Tourist Council hopes to have a relatively accurate and uniform yardstick for all seasons.

Through a $75,000 legislative grant to Central Michigan University, a 15-month study is being conducted covering every season and type of tourist activity to determine the amount spent in Michigan on food, lodging and recreation by various tourists.

Last Fall's deer season, for example, resulted in a report that more than $13 million was spent by some 450,000 hunters in 16 days. Based on interviews, the count indicated the average party was about four persons spending 5 1/2 days in the state, each person spending $30 during the period.

Transportation, equipment, and license fees were not considered in the study, but rather were viewed as side-effects of the deer season.

Tourist Council Director William T. McGraw said his department, the industry previously has been and the regional associations expect to get new insight from the results of the study.

"We are confident the completed study will be of great value," said McGraw. "In some matters it is pioneering new areas which the industry previously has been financially unable to study," he said.

The Last Split
 The Johnson-Romney split victory in Michigan's November election came as no surprise to astute history students in the state.

Palsters and most Democratic Party leaders had predicted Gov. George Romney would be defeated if President Johnson carried the state by 500,000 votes, which he did easily.

 Thursday, Jan. 15, 1931—

Several members of local Granges attended a meeting of the Tri-County Pomona Granges in Stony Creek. Cavanaugh Lake Grange members attending the meeting were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Notten, the Rev. and Mrs. Henry Lenz, Mrs. Floyd Schweinfurth, Mrs. H. J. Gieske, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riemenschneider, Miss Ricka Kalmbach and Mr. and Mrs. George Heydlauff and son, Clifford.

North Sylvan Grange: Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Laird, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Weiss, and Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Brosamle.

The Welsh Imperial Singers appeared here today at the Chelsea High auditorium. The Singers have been acclaimed Britain's greatest male ensemble. For five years they have been the singing sensation of Europe and Canada.

The Kempf Commercial and Savings bank warns: the road to ruin to misery—to heartache—is paved with speculative gold bricks.

In the 34 Years Ago column (Jan. 14, 1937), it was reported that Saline saloonkeepers closed up at 7 o'clock Thursdays to accommodate revival meetings.

Macomber Holstein Receives Highest Classification Given

Brattleboro, Vt. — Farmstead Rainbow May Ella 4542778, a registered Holstein cow in the herd of George Macomber & Sons, Ann Arbor, has been officially classified "excellent"—the highest designation attainable in the type classification program of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

This highly select designation is applied only to animals scoring 90 or more of the 100-points representing theoretical perfection in body conformation.

Of more than 70,000 registered Holsteins officially classified for type last year, slightly more than one percent were rated "excellent." The Macomber Holstein moved into the "excellent" bracket for the first time during a recent classification of the herd by Ronald C. Chapman, Emmetsburg, Ia., an official inspector on the staff of the national Holstein organization.

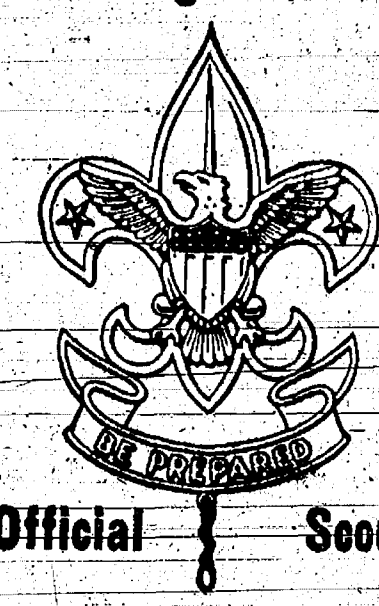

She scored 90 points. Animals scored "excellent" in previous programs are not included in this listing.

The Classification Program, in continuous operation since 1929, provides a universally-recognized method of comparing the conformation of living animals with that of the true-type Holstein cow or bull. Participation is currently at an all-time high level.

Witnesses Will Attend Conference in Brighton

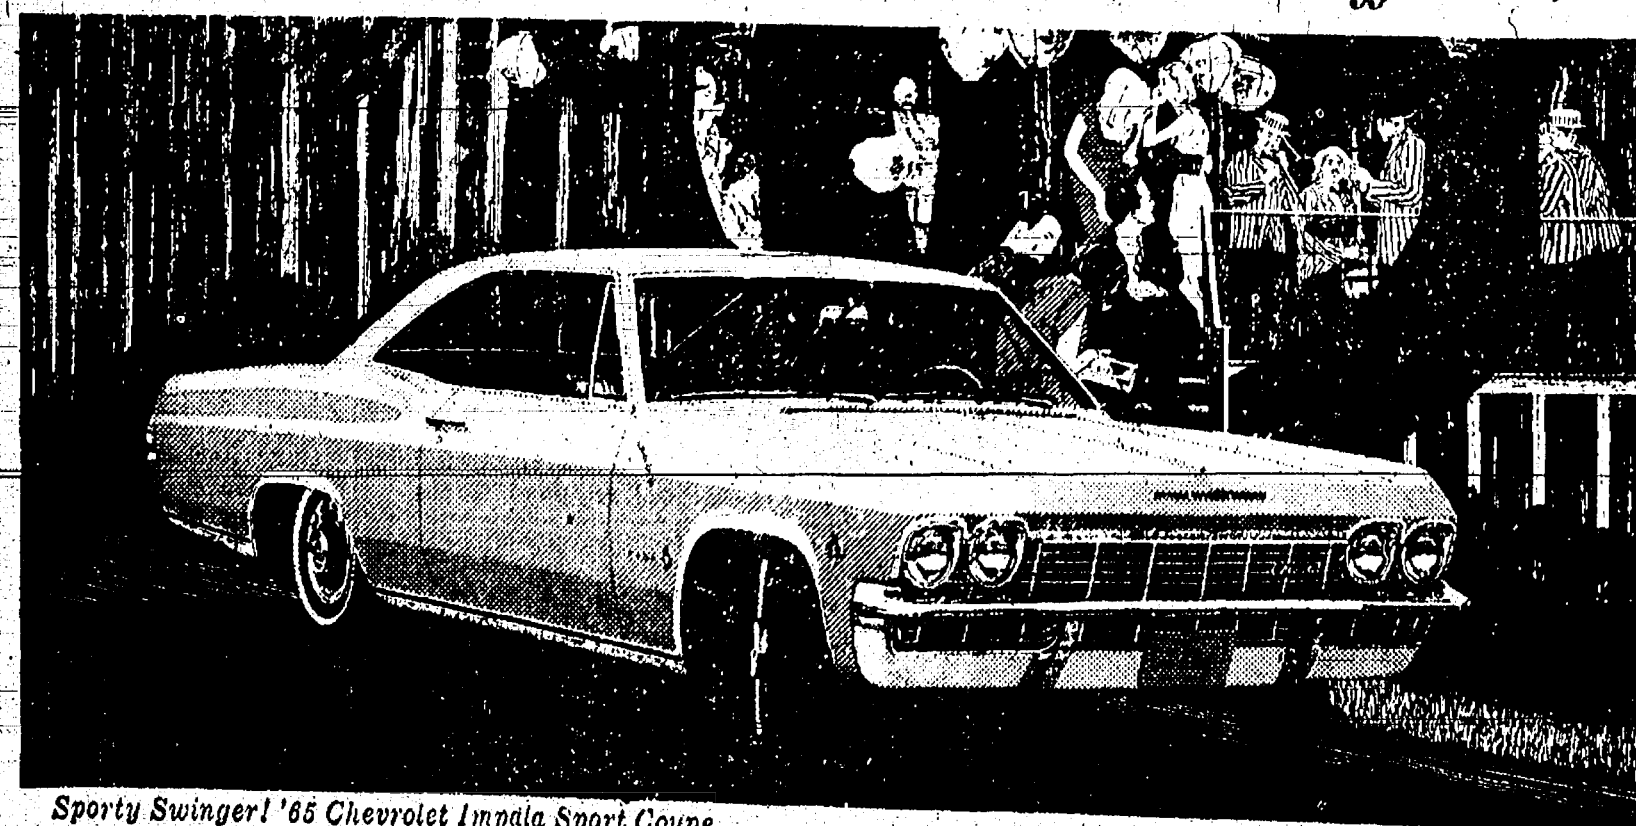

The Chelsea congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will be in Brighton for three days of special ministerial training Jan. 22-24. Raymond P. Tyskiewicz pointed out that Bible distribution and church membership is at an all-time high. Also at an all-time high is immorality, dishonesty, juvenile delinquency and alcoholism. The conclusion we must reach is that there is a lack of understanding of the Bible.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR—

The fellows at the country store Saturday night was paying their annual respects to the Internal Revenue boys in Washington. Ed Doolittle had it figured out this department was operating on a sort of sub-license plan. Ed says it expects to make up the forms and they fix 'em so's it takes other tax experts to fill 'em out. It's like a doctor running a funeral parlor, claims Ed, the house can't lose.

What brung up the subject was Zeke Grubb reporting he had saw the new tax forms for farmers and ranchers and they got 72 questions a feller has got to answer. Zeke said he had saw in the papers where the forms was going to be more "simplified" this year on account of they was fixing 'em so's they would work in them computer contraptions. Zeke allowed as how if they "simplified" 'em about one more year they would write 'em in Greek and put on a 25 per cent penalty for using the dictionary.

Clem Webster was taking up a little for the tax boys, claimed all they been doing ever is closing up more loop holes. Per instant, he said he had a neighbor once that returned his horse as a dependant. The tax form for that year didn't ask the name of his ship or a dependant, just whether they was male or female. The neighbor said the horse was eating his oats, corn and hay and was costing him more'n any kid he had, so he just listed him in the middle column and took the proper deduction.

The feller that runs the store had an encouraging note. He reported he had saw in the papers where the city of New York was aiming to put on a payroll tax and some of our Congressmen was leaning in the direction of a Federal sales tax. He predicted the day was coming when the Government at all levels would get together and take 'over everything, then give ever family 50-acres and a jeep and tell 'em to root hog or die. A good many of the fellers

Mister Editor, was of the opinion this might be the best plan. It would be interesting to git your opinion in this matter.

Josh Clodhopper was hoping things might git better, said he was trading where Secretary McNamara was fixing to cut another billion dollars off the military spending, said matters was gitting top heavy in that department.

Personal, Mister Editor, I ain't got much faith in that direction, I recollect reading when I was a boy that when the United States founded our Navy in 1775 we started with 2 ships and 4 Admirals. By 1885 we had got up to 8 ships and 9 Admirals. They ain't been a time in our history when the military ain't been top heavy, never will be.

Yours truly
 Uncle Lew.

Wild Geese Sighted

Mrs. Martin Steinbach would think her eyes were playing her tricks if she hadn't had witnesses, Monday, to the sight of two formations of geese, flying low and "honking" loudly. Mrs. Steinbach was outdoors looking toward the south when they appeared from the west, flying in an easterly direction.

Mrs. Steinbach wasn't aware that any of the lakes around the vicinity were open, so where the geese were heading, only they knew.

Wintgreen Lake near Battle Creek, has a Biological station where they feed and observe, geese, ducks and various other birds and animals. If the geese came from there, they were quite a ways from home, Mrs. Steinbach thought.

For this time of year it was rather an unusual happening, or maybe an early spring?

Kiwanis Club Hears Talk By Bircher

The Kiwanis Club program this week was a surprise to local members and proved to be most interesting. Dr. Larry MacDonald, an M.D. practicing at University of Michigan Hospital, was the speaker and is a chapter leader of a John Birch chapter in Ann Arbor.

Dr. MacDonald was introduced by the program chairman, Dr. Clare Warren, who had heard of the interest with which an Ann Arbor service club heard Dr. MacDonald's talk.

According to Dr. MacDonald the Birchers were started by Robert Welch of the candy fame in 1958. He stated that the Communist party said in January of 1960 that only a growing anti-communist party stood in their way to world conquest. The Birchers are primarily an educational group being interested in what has happened and what is going on, MacDonald said. Chapters of about 20 people meet monthly and follow an outline of program discussion.

He expressed the fact that they are not against the many programs set up by politicians but that they are often against the way they will be handled. He said they are not against help for the aged, medical help for the needed, but are opposed to the inroads being made to rob us of our American heritage and our freedoms.

Although the program went overtime, most members remained until the adjournment and quite a few remained for further questioning of the speaker. He proved to be well educated, very informed and had a nice manner whether you were for or against his beliefs. He ended by saying that all should forget what he said, but that they should have a healthy desire to study all issues and decide for themselves—this is our American heritage.

Guests introduced were Key Club member Ed Windell by Charles Cameron, The Rev. John Snucker by Paul G. Schaible, Jr., Dr. James Shadoun by Dr. Clare Warren, Jess Morley, Don Lauer, Walt Michals, Conrad Peterson and Dan Michals, all of the Ann Arbor Eastern club by the Rev. E. J. Weiss.

Former Chelsea Girl Struck By Auto in Ann Arbor Accident

Mariann Steele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Steele, 121 N. Seventh St., Ann Arbor, formerly of Chelsea, was struck by a car as she crossed Packard Rd.

She had just gotten off a bus and was crossing the street to visit a girl friend. The snow was blowing and it was hard for either pedestrian or cars to see.

Mariann is in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, room 4489. She has a broken leg and fractured pelvis.

Mariann's grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Former and her grandfather, George Steele, both live in Chelsea.

HANDY FEATURE

One of the most convenient features to be added to the home in recent years is the vanity-lavatory for the bedroom. It permits handy dressing and grooming and cuts down on bathroom traffic.

Jaycee Week Is Observed

Chelsea Jaycees are observing National Jaycee Week. Ed Akin, local president, has asked members of the Chelsea organization to seek ways to better serve the community throughout 1965.

Akin cited some of the achievements of the past year. Last January the local club sponsored the Date Carnegie Course, Larry Chapman was honored with the 1964 Distinguished Service Award at the annual Bosses' night banquet. The Easter egg hunt was another success despite unfavorable weather. The success of the rummage sale and chicken barbecue helped to make possible the installation of five new pieces of playground equipment at Pierce Park. Plans for expanding and developing the park have progressed throughout the year.

A full schedule of events for 1965 was announced by Akin. Included will be presentation of the Distinguished Service Award, Outstanding Young Farmer, and Outstanding Young Educator awards to take place in February. Other activities coming up are Junior Tennis, Junior Champ, Punt, Pass & Kick, Junior Miss, plus Jaycee activities such as softball and bowling tournaments, district, regional, and state meetings, and monthly dinner meetings held at Silvers Restaurant.

Akin has extended an invitation to all young men in the Chelsea area between the ages of 21 and 35 to become members. He said that Jaycee Week is the ideal time to learn "Leadership training through community development."

FOLLOW PESTICIDE LABELS

Farmers should follow label directions carefully when using all pesticides, and they should keep a written record of all sprays and dusts on the farm. This will help avoid pesticide residues in milk, according to Michigan State University entomologists.

THANK YOU

Mrs. Otto W. Goetz wishes to thank everyone who sent get-well wishes and cards, and also the Rev. Paul Schnake for his visits, while she was a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Donley Boyer and family.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the following who helped erect and dismantle the Christmas "Crib" again this year. Their effort is appreciated by the entire community. A special thanks to E. Keeler, B. Eden, M. Packard, P. Floebuchar, K. R. McMannis, J.V. Burg, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Foster.

Signed: St. Mary's Altar Society.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank everyone who sent cards, gifts, made visits and phone calls while we were in the hospital and since our return home.

Public Relations, Publicity Chairmen Named by County Democratic Committee

Public Relations and Publicity Committee chairmen have been appointed by George Wahr-Sallade, chairman of the Washtenaw County Democratic Committee, and approved by the executive committee of that group.

Alan Jones, 2007 Huron Parkway, Ann Arbor, will chair the Public Relations Committee which will be concerned with editing and distributing a newsletter to county democrats. Dissemination of day-to-day news about county democratic events will be handled by the Publicity Committee chairman, Vesta Svenson, 1946 Huron River Dr., Ypsilanti township.

A very small, honor-earn-puff up a very small individual.

IN THE OPEN

By Lee Smits

On this desk is an especially exciting copy of Audubon, published for 86 years by the National Audubon Society.

What gives this issue special interest to Michigan people is an article by a lake captain who has made a remarkable study of bird migration.

Any vessel in which Capt. Perkins sails carries a miniature forest, trees set in tubs on deck, called "Perk's National Forest" by his shipmates. This floating wildlife refuge is used by scores of birds making the hazardous crossing of the Great Lakes in spring and fall when fog and storms are common.

Capt. Perkins, photographed in uniform, carrying on his bird studies, is the typical vessel officer of the lakes, sturdy, thick-chested, square-jawed. Certainly he doesn't fit the popular image of the bird-watcher.

Capt. Perkins' contribution to our knowledge of birds includes the charting of 17 heavily-used bird crossings on the lakes.

An important crossing—as duck-hunters well know—is at the west end of Lake Erie, the mouth of Detroit River where two continental flyways converge, the Atlantic and Mississippi.

Capt. Perkins carefully recorded observations upon the notion that wild-creatures receive advance notice of weather changes. He talks of a weird night, Aug. 20, 1961, sailing eastward in Lake Superior from Devil's Island in the Apostle group. Fog changed to misty drizzle. Any light on deck caused birds to smash themselves against glass. "At times there were so many on the bridge deck that the lookout had to be careful not to step on them."

In mid-April 1960, the captain reports, a "wave" of birds was caught in a storm while crossing the south end of Lake Michigan. The beaches from Michigan City, Ind., to Gary, were strewn with dead birds of many species.

It may ease the minds of those who have difficulty naming birds sighted in eclipse plumage to know that this ardent amateur says of the flycatchers, "only those with the real yellow bellies could be positively identified."

Birds that landed on a vessel would take off after a brief rest, if the vessel was headed in the wrong direction. Others freely accepted Capt. Perkins' hospitality. They showed little fear. A sparrowhawk would perch on his arm. All of the visitors to "Perk's National Forest" fed eagerly.

There were some odd ones, such as an exhausted kingfisher, a tiny sawwet owl, a whip-poor-will that slept all day.

Capt. Perkins' check list, compiled over the years, shows 150 species that actually came aboard.

Washtenaw Democratic Committee Appointment Announced By Sallade

George Wahr Sallade, chairman of the Washtenaw County Democratic Committee, has announced the following committee appointments.

Mrs. Wilma Weinberg, 617 S. Seventh, Ann Arbor, will be chairman of the State and National Affairs Committee. Vanzetti M. Hamilton, 712 Emmet, Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Marjorie Lansing, 4003 E. Huron River Dr., Ann Arbor township, are the co-chairmen of the County Affairs Committee.

Sallade stated that "these two committees have been created to inform the Washtenaw County Democratic Committee of activities in these government areas, and to suggest programs and policies to public officials involved in these particular government areas."

Hatley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hatley and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Owens and family, of Pinckney, and Mr. and Mrs. William Neilly of Saline, spent Sunday evening at the home of Mr. George Hatley and son, Carlton, to help Mr. Hatley celebrate his 79th birthday.

Brownies...

TROOP 143—Brownie Scout Troop 143, met Monday, Jan. 18.

We opened the meeting with the Brownie promise and the Brownie smile song. Brownie treats were cookies. After enjoying treats we worked on getting our puppet show ready to present. Games were played and we closed the meeting with taps.

McKune Library

Starts New Policy on Reserved Books

McKune Memorial Library has a new policy on reserve books. Persons wishing to reserve a book may do so by paying a dime at the library. The book will then be held at the library three days, after which time it will go to the next person on the reserve list or back on the library shelves. If there are no more names on the reserve list.

Library patrons will be notified by telephone when their reserved book is available.

In the past, many persons have abused the privilege of reserving books, and the library feels that by establishing this new policy, the abuse will end.

Free Course Offered Area Boat Owners

Ann Arbor.—Planned to give small boatmen comprehensive instruction in the handling of their craft and in basic piloting and marine navigation, Ann Arbor United States Power Squadron members will conduct a free course in these subjects, open to men and women of all ages, commencing Feb. 3. Classes will be held Wednesday evenings, commencing at 7:30, at the Ann Arbor High School on Stadium Blvd.

"We are hoping that numbers of Dexter-Chelsea area boatmen, their wives, sons and daughters, will enroll for this free instruction," said H. W. Welton, Advanced Pilot and class chairman. "With the construction of the new dam on the Huron River, below Portage Lake, power-boating in the area is expected to treble. There is already talk of a yacht club not far from Dexter. With this increase, will come an increase in boating hazards and a consequent need for greater boating skills and safety measures. I do hope that numbers of Dexter-Chelsea area people will make the short drive to Ann Arbor for the course," Welton added.

The USPS course, which has been conducted for nearly 50 years throughout the nation, has won the praise of the U.S. Coast Guard. It provides practical knowledge in safety afloat, seamanship, small boat handling, government regulations, rules of the road, aids to navigation, the mariner's compass and charting and piloting. The course will end on April 14 and, after passing the USPS examination, students will receive the official government-recognized certificate of competence.

Welton emphasized the fact that the course is free, open to all and is a "labor of love" of Power Squadron personnel. No advance registration is required. All students need do is to report at Ann Arbor High school by 7:30 on Feb. 3.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Fry and sons, Brian and Greg, and Greg's fiancée, all of Ontario, Calif., visited relatives in this area during the recent holidays, returning home after New Year's in time for Mr. Fry to resume his work as principal of one of the high schools in Ontario.

Mrs. Fry, the former Margaret Miles, and family, were house guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Miles, and brother, Bernard Miles, in Ann Arbor. The Frys also spent several days at the home of her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Miles. Her sister, Lillian, and husband, Royal McMillin, Boy Scout executive in Terra Haute, Ind., joined the family group for the Christmas weekend and celebrated the 83rd birthday of their father, J. B. Miles, by dining out in Ann Arbor at a party held in his honor. The Frys also spent several days visiting in Jackson as guests of Mr. Fry's parents. His father, Ward Fry, is now retired from his work as an engineer on the New York Central Railway. In his work he was on a train that passed regularly through Chelsea.

Mrs. Annabelle Woolley and her mother, Mrs. Walter Vicary, were recent evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tucci.

Paul Maynard is convalescing at home after undergoing surgery last Thursday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Correction

In the annual business meeting report of the Baptist church in last week's edition of The Standard, it was reported that Mrs. Kermit Brown was elected as deacon. It should have been Kermit Brown. The three-year term for trustee should have been John Hude instead of Mrs. John Hude.

Robert Lee Schlittenhelm, Jr., seven-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schlittenhelm, entered U. of M. Hospital Saturday night with a virus flu. He will remain a few days longer.

Professions of the trustees who will serve until Jan. 1, 1967, are: Harrison, engineer and president of a research firm; Sensor, Dynamics, Inc.; Creal, social studies teacher and department head at Slauson Junior High school; Ardis, director of the University Bureau of Appointments; Adams, president of the National Bank and Trust Co. of Ann Arbor; Wenrich, chairman of the U-M department of vocational education; and Yound, an attorney, is assistant to the dean of the U-M Medical School.

Unofficial tabulations at first showed Mrs. Vogel one of the six trustees elected. It proved to be an error in the count of Yound, however. The County Clerk said such an error would be possible since unofficial counters work under tremendous pressure on election night to get a count ready for the public.

Mrs. Luella Smith also pointed out that five candidates, Adams, Wenrich, Yound, Vogel, and Proccassini are separated only by 157 votes, with apparently no doubt existing about the elections of Adams, Wenrich and Yound. She stressed that these are unofficial returns and errors discovered in the official canvass could change the membership of the board.

POSTAL RATE HIKE?

John Gronowski, Postmaster General, has been asked by President Johnson to make a study and survey for possible legislative proposals to increase postal rates on second class and third class mail. He said the study did not indicate that there were any plans, at this time, to ask Congress to increase first class rates.

Those who violate the law should not object to the penalty.

DIMES BOARD FILLED QUICKLY — It took only five days at the Wolverine Tavern to fill the March of Dimes board with contributions that totaled $45.10. Employee Molly Minix poses below the full board on Jan. 14; the day the last time was placed on it toward the birth defects campaign.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP 58 — Girl Scout troop 58 met Thursday, Jan. 14, at the Municipal Building. A Junior troop gave the Scouts own, and offered the flag ceremony.

How to add to your living space without adding an inch to your home.

Simply install a Gas baseboard heater. And suddenly that enclosed porch, breezeway, playroom or add-on room—a room that was too chilly for comfort before—becomes a real family room. Economically.

Gas heats add-on rooms for about 1/4 the operating cost of any other type of baseboard heat. So every $25 you spend for Gas baseboard heat represents savings of up to $75 compared to the operating cost of other baseboard heaters. Savings like that really add up. And, of course, when you heat with Gas, you get super-comfort . . . without super-insulation. So don't shut off that hard-to-heat area. Heat it easily—and economically—with Gas. To find out how to make your home grow—without stretching your budget—call NORMANDY 3-8531, Ext. 252. Today. LIVE MODERN. FOR LESS. WITH GAS.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Harris.

CLOTHING TIP

Cheek workmanship when buying ready-to-wear clothing. How a garment is cut, sewed and finished indicates workmanship. For example, a garment cut on the correct grain hangs and wears better than one cut off grain. Accurate matching of patterned material also is important if the garment is to look attractive.

TIPS for your TOP from

TODDY and FRAN

Haven't someone said that the mail-man carries on through sleet and snow and wind and rain? And what did they think he had over the female-women? We carry on the same way. Taxiing youngsters, shopping, doing all the other duties that take us into all kinds of weather.

Not only the mailman doesn't have to worry about looking pretty when he gets home again. We do. Let our operators help you be well-groomed in spite of the weather. We'll give you a permanent that will help keep your hair set beautifully through a hurricane. Well, nearly. The coffee pot is on. Join us, will you? We're open evenings except Saturday.

Mr. Waller is a graduate of Chelsea High school and has attended the University of Michigan. He is at present serving in the U.S. Army, stationed in England. The couple plan a fall wedding.

Woman's Club Hears Report on 'Status of Women'

Great interest was aroused at the meeting of the Woman's Club on Jan. 12 from the comments of Mrs. Reuben Sadt and Mrs. Jess Meininger on their program for the evening, the changing "Status of Women" here were 16 members and two guests present.

Mrs. Sadt and Mrs. Meininger told how there have been many changes in the role of women through the years due to technical advances. They fought hard and long to be freed of servitude and secure the privileges of education and voting along with the men. They struggled at the time of the opening of frontiers to help their husbands carve out a new nation, but even then, were not accorded the same advantages as men.

It was more than 100 years of battle for rights of women before they were given the ballot, the first law passing in the State of Illinois. The first College to admit women was Oberlin in 1837 and by 1875 they had gained entrance to most of the colleges. Still they had to fight prejudice and obstacles to carry out the work they chose to do.

As a result of the fight of Susan B. Anthony, the 19th amendment was passed in 1920 to equalize position of women. The privileges and rights which women have today have resulted in an increase in divorce rate due to the outside activities which many women prefer to carry along with their wife-mother role. Also, they live longer now than men, consequently it is necessary that they have satisfying activities after the wife-mother role have been completed.

Many women have proved themselves capable and have added a great deal to the fields once occupied by men. This year, for the first time, we saw a woman making a serious effort to obtain the Presidency of the United States, and each year we find more women making a name for themselves in industry and the professional occupations. Recently, they are becoming active in the UAW-CIO Labor Unions. However, it is very important that all women learn that now the rights have been granted that there are certain responsibilities that must be met, or the rights must be forfeited, and it will depend upon they, themselves, what use they make of their opportunities to improve the world about them.

At the close of the program, Mrs. Charles Meservey and Mrs. Paul Schauble, Sr., served refreshments.

Members are reminded again that there will be a visit to Chelsea Milling Co., on Jan. 26 at 2 p.m.

Co-Op Nursery Still Has Openings For 3-Year-Olds

Carolyn Miller Joins Sorority at WSU

Carolyn Miller, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, 138 E. Middle St., has been initiated into Alpha Phi sorority at Wisconsin State University, Stevens Point, Wis.

One of the oldest social sororities for women, Alpha Phi was founded at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N.Y., in 1872 and now has more than 35,000 members and has installed 88 chapters.

Cardiac Aid was adopted as the national philanthropy of Alpha Phi in 1940, and since that time members have contributed over $800,000 to this cause and donated hundreds of hours to volunteer work to local heart associations and other community projects.

Six years ago the Fraternity launched its newest and most important project, the Alpha Phi Foundation—our "Investment in Youth." The primary object of the Foundation is to provide scholarships and fellowships for deserving young women to help complete their education. This fall 81 undergraduate and 6 graduate students received aid.

Carolyn is treasurer of the new chapter, and was one of its charter members.

DEATHS

Charles E. Downer Young Area Farmer Dies Suddenly Saturday

Charles E. Downer, 41, died suddenly, Saturday, Jan. 16. He lived at 13986 Dexter-Chelsea Rd. Mr. Downer, owned and operated a farm at 13215 Dexter-Chelsea Rd., Lima township.

He was born April 1, 1923, in Chelsea, a son of Darwin Downer and Cora Bollinger-Downer. He graduated from Chelsea High school in 1943. In addition to his farming he had also worked eight years for Klumpp Bros. Gravel Co.

Surviving, in addition to his parents, are three sisters, Mrs. Paul (Marion) Boyce, Cleveland, O.; Mrs. Tom (Jane) Merkel, Owosso and Mrs. Earl (Doris) Taylor of Ypsilanti; one brother, Duane of Chelsea, and several aunts and uncles.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, Jan. 19 at 2 p.m. from the Staffan Funeral Home, with the Rev. R.A.J. Livingston officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

Mrs. John Metzger

Dies at Ann Arbor Hospital Following Brief Illness

Mrs. Cora I. Metzger, 78, of 176 Summit St., Chelsea, died Sunday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, after a brief illness. She had entered the hospital on Jan. 14.

Born July 10, 1886 in Lima township, she was a daughter of Albert and Lisette Mayer Widmayer. She was married to John Metzger on Feb. 12, 1914. They observed their 50th wedding anniversary last year. They had farmed in Lima township, moving to Chelsea in 1937. Mr. Metzger survives.

Mrs. Metzger was a member of St. Paul's United Church of Christ, and the Women's Fellowship of the church, the Limaners, and the Friendship Club.

Surviving besides her husband is a son, Gerald Metzger of Ann Arbor, a sister, Mrs. Charles (Alma) Meserva of Chelsea, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Burghardt Funeral Home, with the Rev. Robert A. J. Livingston officiating. Burial followed in Oak Grove cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the building fund of St. Paul's church.

Band Booster Club Plans Cage Game

A cornet solo by Jim Rich and a flute trio, composed of Barbara Bauer, Diane Stofer, and Sara Lindauer, was enjoyed by members of the Band Booster's club prior to the regular business meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 13.

Mrs. Herman Ashley of the Uniform Committee reported that approximately 40 of the old uniforms will need to be cleaned and modified for the new Freshmen bandmen, who will be entering high school in the fall.

It was decided that the Band Boosters will promote a basketball game. Details will be worked out and publicity forthcoming about this event.

Music stands purchased at cost ($3.90 each), are on order. These stands are available to students at cost price and Mr. Galbraith, Band director, feels that the use of these stands in the home is highly beneficial to the student, since once a music corner or area is set up, the student will be more willing to practice than he would if music materials must be put in place each practice time.

All people of the community are invited to attend the Winter Band Concert, to be held Jan. 24 at 2:30 p.m.

The next Band Booster meeting will be held Feb. 10 in the Band Room.

Word Received of Richard Sower's Death

Skin Diver Drowns Under Wolf Lake Ice

Mark Mather, 20, son of Grass Lake News publishers, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mather, drowned Saturday while skin diving in Big Wolf Lake near Jackson.

His body was recovered Sunday by sheriff's deputies about 25 yards from a hole where he and his two companions had entered the water.

Mather, Robert Donnelly, 20, of Maumee, O., and William Cosgrove, 21, of Pittsburgh, Pa., all three of whom were juniors at the U. of M., had been swimming for an hour in 20 feet of water under four inches of ice when Mather indicated he was in trouble. A fourth U-M student, Rita Clugston, was holding a safety line but the divers had gone beyond it.

Donnelly and Cosgrove chopped holes in the ice, looked around and located the open hole through which they had entered, resubmerged and reached open water. Cosgrove was out of air but both men managed to reach safety. Donnelly returned to look for Mather whose air tank was apparently empty. He didn't find him.

Temperatures were near zero, and the cold not only put a heavy strain on the divers but severely hampered rescue operations.

Fourteen skin divers gave up the search Saturday evening because of darkness. By Sunday Mather's neoprene diving suit brought him to the ice, according to a trooper.

Memorial services were held yesterday at 2 p.m. in the Grass Lake

Scouts, Parents Will Discuss Trip To Scout Ranch

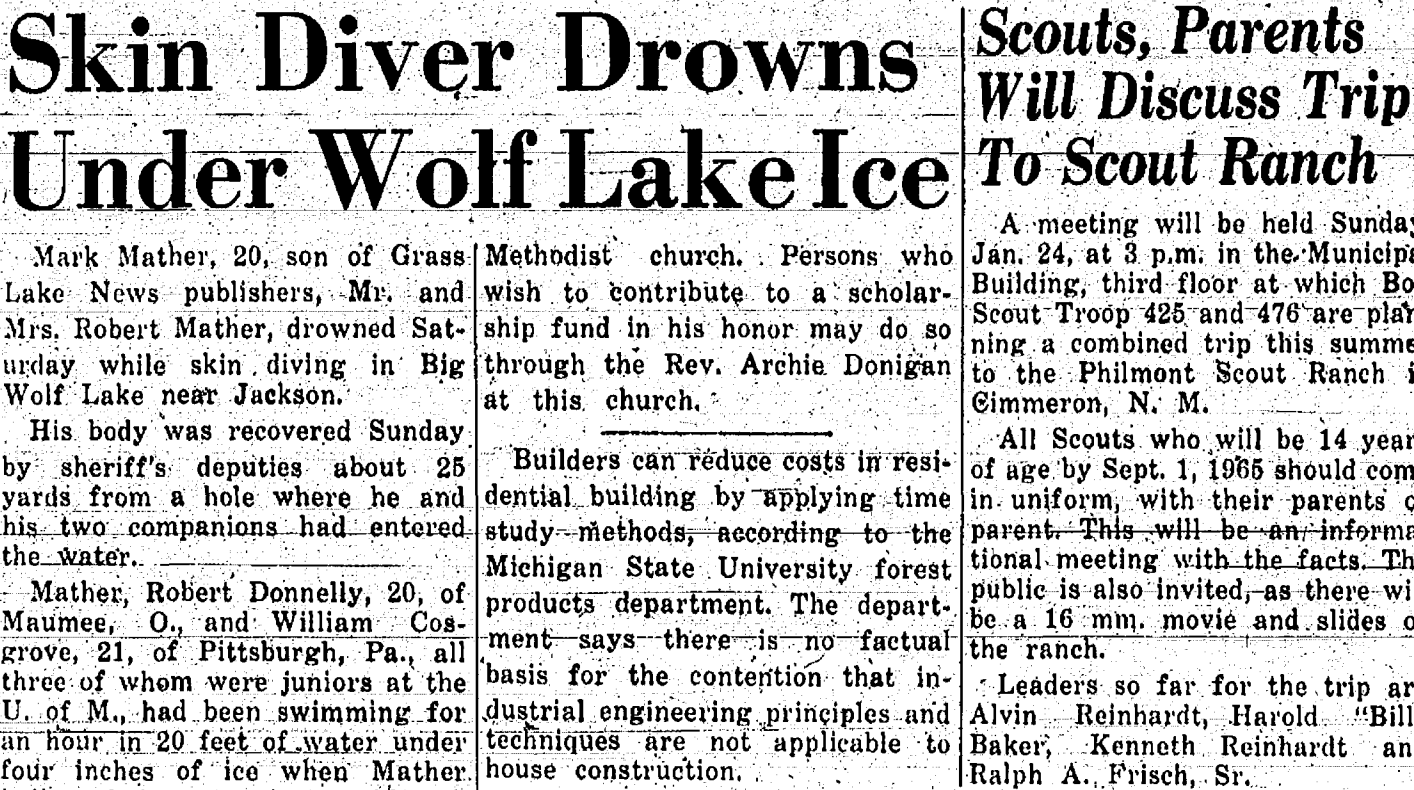

A meeting will be held Sunday, Jan. 24, at 3 p.m. in the Municipal Building, third floor at which Boy Scout Troop 425 and 476 are planning a combined trip this summer to the Philmont Scout Ranch in Cimarron, N. M.

All Scouts who will be 14 years of age by Sept. 1, 1965 should come in uniform, with their parents or parent. This will be an informational meeting with the facts. The public is also invited, as there will be a 16 mm. movie and slides of the ranch.

Leaders so far for the trip are Alvin Reinhardt, Harold "Bill" Baker, Kenneth Reinhardt and Ralph A. Frisch, Sr.

Bowling Tournament Underway

Mrs. Merle Leach, seated, left, chairman of the Chelsea March of Dimes campaign, and Mrs. William Adams, publicity chairman, are shown here as they were registering bowlers for the March of Dimes bowling tournament. Mac Packard, standing, left, and Edwin Greenleaf are managing the bowling tournament which began Jan. 10, and runs until Jan. 24. All proceeds from the tourney go to the campaign that until recently benefited polio and now is a fund to help conquer birth defects.

School Board Briefs

The Chelsea School Board met Tuesday, Jan. 19. Approval was voted to pay bills amounting to $18,440.

Arrangements were made for three or four Board members to attend the American Association of School Administrators Convention, Feb. 13-18.

Discussion of plans for the Feb. 24, building addition bond issue.

Ed. Akin, president of the Chelsea Jaycees, and two fellow members of the organization presented the School Board plans which they have, to help educate their members and the public to the need for passage on the Feb. 24 bond issue. The Board expressed their thanks to the group and hoped that other organizations would help in any way they can.

The Board reminds the various groups and clubs that members of the Board are ready to accept invitations to explain in detail any questions on the approaching bond issue.

Board approved purchase of a piano for the high school auditorium.

The Board started a systematic review of Board policies.

FFA Chapter Studies Farm Management

The advanced Agriculture class with Gary Jackson, advisor went on a field trip Wednesday morning. The class went to the Kushnau farm to work on a project for Farm Management which they are currently studying. The project is to take a 260-acre farm. The boys will receive a soil map and other information on the land. They will run the farm anyway they decide to. Their grade will be based on the efficiency and profit of the farm.

JV's Victors With Big Second Half

Pouring in 42 points in the second half, the Junior Varsity overcame a 24 to 17 half-time deficit to defeat Ypsilanti Lincoln Junior Varsity, 59 to 52, last Friday. Improved ball handling and a 24-point fourth-quarter added up to the victory.

The Little Bulldogs threw the ball away 14 times and missed several short shots in a frustrating first half. However, in the first three minutes of the third quarter, the JV's pulled into the lead by two points. The lead then changed hands twice before Chelsea pulled away on some sharp shooting by Dan Parsons, Bill Harvey and John Lixey.

Dan Parsons topped all scorers with 18, followed by Bill Harvey with 14, Don Salyer, 9, Rick Salyer, 8, John Lixey, 6, Tom Kern, 2, Jim Henry, 2.

Parsons also led all rebounders with 12. Bill Harvey added 10, Rick Salyer, 8, Don Salyer, 4, Jim Henry, 4, John Lixey, 7 and Tom Kern and Kim Flintoff one each.

This victory leaves the Junior Varsity with a 4-3 record for the season.

The next game will be Jan. 22 at the high school. The Junior Varsity game begins at 6:30 p.m.

Matmen Lose To Clinton, Face Dexter

Chelsea High school wrestling team fell behind the 500 mark (3-4) as they lost to Clinton Thursday by the score of 27-11. Chelsea had only three winners out of the 12 matches.

Chelsea winners are as follows: Mike Enderburgh (112) won on a decision 8-5; Dick McCalla won on a forfeit and Bob Snyder defeated Tom Kapras 13-7 in the Central Fibre Products 31-45 heavyweight division. Kapras was previously undefeated and had beaten Snyder, 3-0, in their first meeting.

Chelsea High plays host to Dexter Thursday (tonight) at 7 p.m. in the high school gym. Dexter defeated the Chelsea squad in their first meeting. The Chelsea squad was not at full strength at their first meeting but should be at their peak for Thursday's match.

Bulldogs Win Over Lincoln, Face Saline

By simply outshooting the opposition the Chelsea Bulldogs pulled out a 77-75 victory over the Lincoln Railspitters at the Chelsea gym Friday night.

The Bulldogs took 58 shots for the game and hit 29 for a nifty 50 percent shooting average. Lincoln hit on 30-82 for 37 percent. The ability to hit four more foul shots than Lincoln actually gave Chelsea the victory.

Each quarter of the game was as close as one could imagine. Lincoln led, 21-19, at the end of the first on good balanced scoring by Stamford, Tallady, Jenkins and Russell. Charles Schmunk scored 11 of the Chelsea points and Dennis Stoffer 6.

The second quarter saw Chelsea take the lead on David Clark's eight points. The half ended with Chelsea leading, 38-36.

The third quarter saw Chelsea throw in 20 points to Lincoln's 18. Stoffer and Schmunk led the Bulldogs with some fine outside shooting, each getting six points.

The final quarter was a nip and tuck affair. Lincoln pulled into a three-point lead with 1:30 left on the clock but baskets by Stoffer, Schmunk and Clark put the Bulldogs into the lead by two. Gary White added two foul shots to increase the lead to four with 40 seconds remaining. Lincoln almost tied it up, missing two foul shots with only seven seconds remaining.

The fine play of Dennis Stoffer and Charles Schmunk must be recognized. Both hit key baskets in the final quarter with the pressure on. Thus Stoffer started his first varsity game and came through like a veteran. He hit well from the outside, 8 for 14, and, as important, scored 8 for 11 from the foul line. If he continues to shoot half as well the Bulldogs could become a far better ball club.

Schmunk also hit well from the outside, making 11 of 10 shots from the floor.

On the negative side the Bulldogs tossed away 20 passes, thus losing the opportunity to score more and giving Lincoln more chances to score.

Although Lincoln was bigger than Chelsea the Bulldogs out-rebounded them, 37-36. Schmunk led Chelsea with 12 rebounds.

This Friday evening Chelsea meets the Saline Hornets, here. The JV game begins at 6:30 p.m.

Scoring by quarters:
Chelsea 19 10 20 19—77
Lincoln 20 16 18 21—75

Individual scoring records showed Schmunk with 26; Stoffer 21; Clark 15; Wojciecki 4; White 4; Windell 2; Steele 2.

For Lincoln Stamford led with 23 points, followed by Russell, 14; Tallady, 14; and Jenkins, 15.

Laff Of The Week

"You'll just drink it up—which is probably what I should have done."

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

★ 1965 Economic Weather — Unpredictable

One of the last official actions of former Secretary of Commerce Hodges was to issue his statement on the "1965 Outlook." This presents a highly optimistic view of this year's prospects, with only minor qualifications. Substantial over-all economic gains are expected to continue, with "nearly all" key industries participating.

By devoting his analysis to the year 1965 as a whole, the former Secretary evaded a problem which is bothering many observers—the possibility of a fairly abrupt shift in the economic weather at the mid-year.

The automobile industry is busy making up the production lost through strikes in the early part of the model year. Output levels in recent weeks have exceeded all previous records and the prospect is for this catch-up phase to continue for some time.

Fear of Strike
Meanwhile the steel industry is also operating at record rates which will probably not be sustainable for the whole of 1965. In part this is due to the already mentioned, high rate of activity in the automobile industry—one of steel's prime customers. In part it results from the fear of a possible steel strike beginning in the late spring, and the consequent desire of steel users to protect themselves by building up inventories.

By mid-year the steel strike will either have happened or not happened. In either case the inventories now being piled up will be drawn down and shipments will fall below current rates of consumption.

This combination of circumstances in two leading industries suggests a strong temporary upward push on the economy during the first and second quarters of 1965, followed by a corresponding temporary downward pressure during the third quarter and perhaps the fourth. These inventory effects will be imposed on top of more fundamental and enduring economic trends. Their influence could, however, be quite substantial in distorting the pattern for the year.

Fiscal Program
Despite Secretary Hodges' evaluation of this problem in his outlook statement, leaders of the Johnson Administration are of course well aware of it. As near as can be gathered, their program for meeting the situation seems to lie largely in the fiscal field. The President has suggested that Congress provide standby funds for expenditure on public works in an unemployment emergency. He has also urged that Congress streamline its procedures for considering and acting on tax changes. Whether any such developments could play a significant part in 1965 is doubtful.

More immediately, a reduction in excise taxes is expected to provide some added economic stimulus at about the middle of the year. Also being talked about is an increase in social security benefits which would add to consumer buying power. The amounts involved in these two changes will not be decided for some time.

The difficulty with fiscal measures of this type is that they are themselves by building up inventories.

By mid-year the steel strike will either have happened or not happened. In either case the inventories now being piled up will be drawn down and shipments will fall below current rates of consumption.

Cong. W. Vivian Named to U. S. Science Committee

Washington — Newly-elected Congressman Weston E. Vivian, of the Second Michigan Congressional District, has been selected to serve on the Science and Astronautics Committee of the House of Representatives. The action, taken by the House Democratic Committee on Wednesday, is expected to be confirmed by the Democratic caucus on Monday morning and by the entire House that afternoon.

Vivian brings a scientific background unique in the Congress to the Committee. He holds a doctorate in engineering from the University of Michigan, and, until he resigned to take his post in Congress, was vice-president of Conduccion Corp., an Ann Arbor firm specializing in the development of advanced electronics equipment.

"I am pleased with my election to the Science and Astronautics Committee, which deals with the long-term and peaceful uses of science for human betterment," Congressman Vivian stated. "In recent years, leaders in Congress have often remarked on their increasing difficulty in dealing with the legislative problems posed by the scientific complexities of the space age."

"I hope that my background in engineering and the physical sciences will enable me to contribute effectively to the work of the Science and Astronautics Committee. Its work is vital to our state. The future prosperity of the state can be greatly enhanced if we make Michigan one of the great scientific and technical research centers of our nation."

"If we do not meet this challenge, the Midwest may find itself unable to regain the historic leadership which it has held in technology and production. I will work for a full share of new products, new jobs, and skilled work for Michigan and the mid-west region," Vivian concluded.

Production Records Told for Area Holsteins

Dairy cows from this area have recently completed lactations under the official production testing rules of Holstein-Friesian Association of America. The Registered Holsteins listed in the report and their actual performance records are:

Leo Bur Elation Viola, 5098042, a three-year-old owned by Leonard Burmeister, Ann Arbor, produced 16,690 lbs. of milk and 603 lbs. of butterfat in 305 days.

Whisperwill Skyliner Inka, 5586026, a two-year-old owned by George Macomber & Sons, Ann Arbor, produced 14,040 lbs. of milk and 500 lbs. of butterfat in 305 days.

Green Acre Governor Imogene, 5108102, a four-year-old owned by Lowell Spike, Manchester, produced 15,890 lbs. of milk and 643 lbs. of butterfat in 318 days.

These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 7,800 lbs. of milk by the average U. S. dairy cow, notes the national Holstein Association.

Michigan State University supervised the sampling, weighing and testing operations in cooperation with the Holstein organization's improvement programs.

ill-adapted to deal with the kind of temporary economic distortion anticipated for mid-1965. If they are strong enough to straighten out the expected kink in the economic curve, they may turn out to be excessive for the longer run.

FFA Chapter
Urges Fire
Prevention

"Don't Give Fire A Place To Start" is a slogan that the Chelsea Chapter of the Future Farmers of America are using to study and then do something about fire prevention, says Don Hinderer, Chapter president.

The proper use of electricity is receiving major attention. Electricity is frequently mis-used and accidents and fire losses are a natural result.

Don emphasized that their chapter feels that an electrical wiring system is no better than its weakest link. A poorly installed piece of equipment or a single oversize fuse may spoil a perfectly good wiring system. Temporary or make-shift wiring and numerous extension cords should be avoided.

Even the best wiring system may need attention now and then. Insulators may break, insulation may be worn and frayed, wires may sag and contact tree limbs, and many other things happen. Inside the buildings, watch for defective outlets or switches, loose connectors at junction boxes and damaged insulation or worn light fixtures.

When a fuse blows, something is wrong, either there is too much load on the "wiring" or a short circuit somewhere. Try to locate and remove the source of the trouble before putting in a new fuse. Using a larger and the electric wires may overheat and cause fires. A 15-amp. fuse is the right size for most circuits because most wiring was done with No. 14 wire. When heavier No. 12 wire has been used, a 20-amp fuse may be used.

"Our FFA Chapter places considerable emphasis on fire prevention and safety," says Don. "After all, there can be little future in farming for the careless operator who is willing to risk a fire loss or an accident. A farmer has to use safety practices all the time if he is to have a future. It's too expensive to learn the importance of safety in the school of hard knocks."

Farm Bureau Schedules
Farm-City Week Dinner

The group has appeared on television and at important events across the nation.

SOUTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTESKINDERGARTEN,
Mrs. McKerron—

We are happy to welcome a new pupil to our afternoon Kindergarten. He is Dennis Petsch from Dexter.

We have been learning about fruits and vegetables. One day we had a delicious lunch made up of fruits we had brought from home.

Although we don't have much snow outside, we have many snowmen in our room. We had fun decorating our room with the snowmen we have made.

SPEECH CORRECTION,
Mrs. Irving—

Speech correction classes are having mid-year evaluations. The children record their voices in the fall of the year, and will record them again this week. Mrs. Irving will work individually with each child showing him where he was, what he has accomplished, and what his future goals are. Another comparative recording will be taken in June with full evaluation of each child.

SECOND GRADE,
Mrs. Hanna—

During the last two weeks, the boys and girls in Mrs. Hanna's room have been studying dinosaurs. Interest in this topic began as the children watched three television programs about dinosaurs and prehistoric man. They looked at pictures and saw models of dinosaurs. By looking at a picture, they can tell if the pictured dinosaur was a plant eater or a meat-eater. The plant-eaters walked on four legs and the meat-eaters on two.

The children were very interested in learning about the different kind of dinosaurs - Brontosaurus, Tyrannosaurus, Allosaurus, Triceratops, and others. We also learned why they are no longer on the earth and how we know that such animals really did live on the earth.

READING PROGRAM,
Mrs. Eisele—

Mrs. Eisele is testing all the classes in both schools as part of the mid-year evaluation program.

KINDERGARTEN,
Mrs. Heineline—

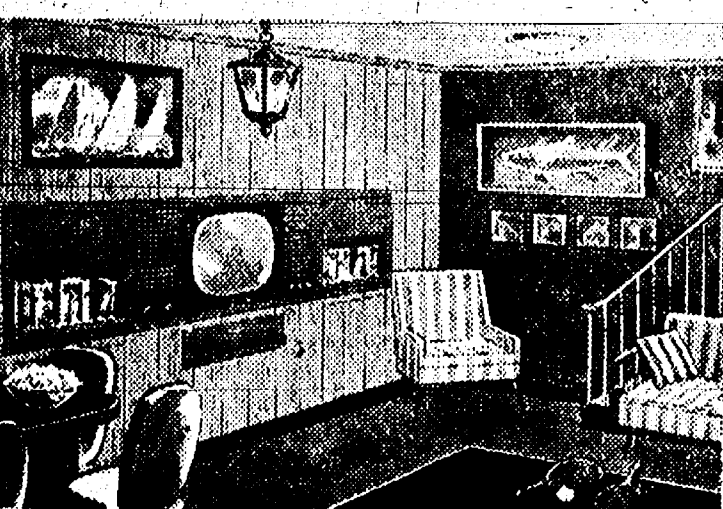

In our room we have celebrated the arrival of six new people—Mr. and Mrs. Snowman, their two children and a dog. As you may have guessed, the children constructed the family from giant snowflakes. The other new person in our room is "Eat-More," the giant. He wants all the children to eat the right foods. To show us how we have had fruit and vegetable snacks brought by the children from home, and next week we hope to have a breakfast at school.

A special welcome to our "real" new students—Larry Cross, Mike Coley and Eugene Tedder.

Cafeteria Menu—

Monday, Jan. 25 — Hot dogs, baked beans, peach cobbler.
Tuesday, Jan. 26 — Chop suey, rice, Jell-O salad.
Wednesday, Jan. 27 — Roast beef, mashed potatoes, gravy, buttered corn, apple crisp.
Thursday, Jan. 28 — Spanish rice, green beans, plums.
Friday, Jan. 29 — Fish sticks, hash brown potatoes, spinach or carrots, cake.
