Band Awards Presented

Barry Visel was the 1965 recipient of the John Philip Sousa Award at Chelsea High school. The annual award customarily presented in a surprise ceremony at the spring band concert, is given to the outstanding senior in the High School Band on the basis of leadership service and musicianship.

Past winners of the award include Linda Blass, David Winans, Kathryn White, Denis Beach and Edward Lauch.

The award winner's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Visel.

Three other senior band members have been awarded scholarships to spend two weeks at Interlochen, the nationally known music camp in the northern part of the state.

The three are Nancy Koengeter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Koengeter; Sandy Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson; and Tom Rich, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Rich.

The scholarships for Rich and Miss Johnson were awarded by the band and financed with money received in free-will offerings at band concerts.

Miss Koengeter's scholarship is being sponsored by the Kiwanis club of Chelsea.

No Space Left for Fall First Graders At St. Mary's School

Sister Ann Seraphim, principal of St. Mary's parochial school, announced this week that children who will be in the first grade next year will not be accepted at the school because of lack of space. She said the first graders will be enrolled in Chelsea public schools.

Sister Ann Seraphim said she is hopeful that by the time the Catholic children are in the second grade that arrangements will be possible for having them at St. Mary's.

St. Mary's School Association Studies Airborne Television

A discussion of airborne television was on the agenda at the Tuesday evening meeting of St. Mary's School Association. Speakers were Allen Slickers and P. D. Graham, of the Midwest Program on Classroom Television instruction from Purdue University.

Their talk, illustrated by films, pointed out the advantages of teaming televised instruction with that of the teaching staff. The cost would be approximately $1 per pupil per year, plus some $1,041 for the installation. Howard Treado, Paul Maynard and Harold Pennington will discuss the matter further with the Rev. Fr. Francis Maliszewski.

Other business disposed of at the meeting concerned the addition of gravel to the playground and the modernization of the lighting system in one classroom during the summer. In charge of the latter project are Mrs. Donald Schneidt, Mrs. Frank Warywoda, Mrs. Edward Orlovski and Pennington. Mrs. Keith Boylan reported on plans for purchasing a car for the Sisters. Some 53 returns have been received on 369 letters sent out, with a sum of $471 in the fund to date.

Merkel, Wagner Home From African Safari

Fritz Wagner and Pat Merkel are back home from their eight-month "jaunt" in Africa. They arrived here Sunday; however one of the motorcycles on which they had traveled around Africa developed trouble and had to be left in Detroit. It was brought back to Chelsea later by automobile.

Both young men had grown beards—Merkel's a vivid red and Wagner's black. They appear to have grown taller—probably because they have lost quite a little weight. Their own story of their experiences has appeared in The Chelsea Standard and The Dexter Leader in letters they sent whenever they had an opportunity to do so.

Kiwanis Club Hears Talk on U-M Status

"Report on Ann Arbor" was the topic presented by Donald A. Morris, manager of special programs at the University of Michigan, before the Chelsea Kiwanis Club Tuesday evening at the Congregational church.

Highlighting his speech was the states' phenomenal college enrollment—from the predicted 226,000 next fall to an estimated 318,000 in 1970—and what this means to the University of Michigan. He was introduced by P. G. Schable, Jr., program chairman.

Louis H. Burghardt is chairman of the picnic committee in charge of arrangements for the special Kiwanis Ladies Night program which will be held at the home of the Lloyd Heydauffs next Monday, June 7, starting at 6:30 p.m. Everyone is reminded to bring his silverware.

Can't Keep Good Man Down

While the twisted ankle which Louis H. Burghardt suffered recently left him hobbling and wearing a cast, he has lost no time from his duties as funeral director. He expects the cast will be removed on June 17.

Mrs. Nancy Johnson returned home Friday after spending since October in Phoenix, Ariz.

Baccalaureate Service Slated Sunday Night

Kindergarten Pupils Study Community

To broaden their everyday experiences in the classroom and community the 120 kindergartners in South school have been undergoing a "Community Helpers" program planned by teachers Carolyn Hine and Carol McKerrow.

The program began Monday, May 24, with Sylvester Wojcik, principal of Chelsea Elementary school, presenting a general outline of what is expected of a student in the first grade. Other speakers for last week included Janet Odle, Washtenaw county school nurse, members of the Chelsea Post Office, Dr. Clare Warren, dentist, and Frederick Schumm, of Schumm's restaurant.

This week's speakers were Dr. Bruce Stubbs on Tuesday and Police Chief John Palmer, yesterday. The class visited the Stop Shop Supermarket today, and tomorrow, they will see slides of Palestine shown by the Rev. J. Tracy Luke, of St. John's United Church of Christ (Rogers Corners and Francisco).

Bicycle Licensing Set for June 19, 26

Saturday, June 19 and 26 will be bicycle license registration days, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Chelsea Fire Station on W. Middle St. All bicycles within the village must have licenses effective June 26.

Chelsea Police Chief John Palmer will be in charge of licensing bicycles.

A list of rules will be published next week.

Commencement Exercises Will Be Held Next Friday

Graduation week at Chelsea High school begins with the baccalaureate service at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. The service will be held in the school's auditorium with the Rev. James Craig, pastor of the Methodist church, delivering the sermon.

Other area clergymen who will participate in the service are the Rev. G. T. Nevin, pastor of Salem Grove and North Lake Methodist churches; the Rev. Wilbur Silvernail of the Waterloo Village church; the Rev. C. J. Renner of Zion Lutheran church; Rogers Corners; the Rev. John Smucker, vicar of St. Barnabas Episcopal church; and the Rev. Fr. Francis Maliszewski of St. Mary's Catholic church.

Senior Class Night will be held Wednesday, June 9, at 8 p.m. and commencement exercises are scheduled for Friday evening, June 11, also at 8 p.m.

Bus Schedules Told for Final Week of School

Bus schedules for the last week of school will be as follows: Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 7, 8 and 9, regular time. There will be no buses scheduled on Thursday, June 10. On Friday, June 11, pick-up time will be one-half hour later and the returns will be at 9:15 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Mullen and their family of Northville, spent four days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chapla, of Rank Rd. Also visiting were Mr. and Mrs. John Matijko and Richard Turski, both of Detroit.

NEW OWNER: Customers of Hanked's Pure service station on Main St. found a new proprietor to take care of their needs Tuesday morning. After more than 28 years at the location, Emmett M. Hanked sold the business to Walter Bolanowski, of Lyndon township. Above, Hanked is shown filling a tank on Saturday afternoon, his last day at the "old stand," while the new owner looks on.

Hanked Sells Service Station

Chelsea businessman Emmett M. Hanked has sold his service station on Main St. across the street from the Federal Screw Works, which he has owned and operated since May 10, 1937. At the time of the sale, Hanked was 68 years old and the new retiree has no other plans for the future. He and his wife make their home at 10 Meadow Lane.

Hanked was born on a farm north of Chelsea and is a graduate of Chelsea High school. When he went into business more than 28 years ago Main St. looked considerably different and so was Chelsea's population.

The Hankeds have six children: Therese, Mrs. Ray Houle, Mrs. Duane Boyer, Mrs. James Kallehek, Paul (all of Chelsea) and Sister Ingrid, who teaches in Ruth, Mich.

He is a member of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion, Herbert J. McKune Post 31, and St. Mary's Catholic church.

The new proprietor is Walter Bolanowski, 48, of Lyndon township. He and his wife have five children, three daughters and two sons, Darryl, 20, the oldest, is assisting his father at the station.

Officer Frank Reed Retires From Chelsea Police Force

Following more than 19 years of service on the Chelsea Police Force, Patrolman Frank L. Reed retired on May 15. His retirement was marked by a dinner at Schumm's restaurant on May 26, attended by Police Chief John Palmer, his fellow officers and other community officials. About a year ago he retired from the Chelsea Fire Department, after 15 years.

Reed, who joined the Chelsea force in April, 1946, is well liked and well known to the citizens of Chelsea.

"Frank is a fine example of what a law enforcement officer should be," said Chief Palmer. "I've known him for 12 years and his devotion to duty has been outstanding. They don't come any better."

Prior to 1946, Reed was a machinist at the Hoover Ball and Bearing Co. in Ann Arbor. He was born in Vicksburg, and went to school there. As a young man he worked on a farm in Stanwood, later moved to Blue Lake Junction, near Frederick. He and Ethel Bell Titus, a native of Pinconning, were married April 13, 1918.

OFFICER FRANK REED

and lives with his parents on North St. He works at the Chrysler Proving Grounds.

Now that he has left active duty, Reed plans to spend more time on the boat he's building and will keep busy repairing bicycles and doing other small jobs in the neighborhood. Later, he and his wife may take a trip to Arizona to visit a nephew who lives near Phoenix.

The new man who will replace him on the Police force is Charles Sharp, 37, of Milford. He begins his duties on June 1.

READY FOR HUNTING IN MICHIGAN: Conservation Department game men are "talking turkey" about hunting these birds in parts of Allegan county and establishing a wild flock in the Upper Peninsula. They say that the Allegan area's turkeys, which have apparently run out of room to expand their numbers, could safely stand a short, closely-controlled season. Needed at this point is legislation authorizing such a season. Should it come through, the Department would recommend a permit-regulated, "any-bird" season to be held in early November for harvesting about 200 surplus birds. It would probably run for nine days and have a season bag limit of one. Permit holders, numbering no more than 300-400 hunters, would likely be determined by a machine drawing. Of more immediate interest is the Department's effort to transplant 30 of the Allegan area's extra turkeys in the southwest part of Menominee county west of Stevens. This area, covering about 40 square miles, has the Upper Peninsula's best known potential as turkey country, according to the Department which is making its first attempt to start a home for these birds above the Straits.

Wild Turkey Hunting Season Possible in Allegan County

Lansing — Back in 1954 when it all started on state lands in Allegan county, Conservation Department game men would have been happy just to see a few flocks of wild turkeys become established as sightseeing symbols of Michigan's past. At best, their turkey stocking project had only a 50-50 chance of success. It was hunted by the memory of earlier failures of private groups and individuals to introduce these long-lost birds in other parts of the state. On the optimistic side, there was new encouragement in the early 1950's from Pennsylvania which had just made a breakthrough in expanding wild turkey numbers. Most important, its birds had "taken hold" on forested lands somewhat similar to those of Allegan county. Spurred on by that state's success, Michigan game men 11 years ago this March turned loose 50 Pennsylvania raised turkeys at six sites in the Allegan area. They followed this with another release of 152 birds in September, 1954. All of the stock originated from "three-fourths-wild" hens mated with wild gobblers. Left on their own since then, the area's birds have expanded their homeland and multiplied their numbers beyond the early hopes of Department personnel. As a matter of fact, these gainly, proud-looking turkeys have thrived past the point of just being something to see. They could, the Department says, become Michigan's newest game birds on a limited scale. The situation boils down like this: For the last six winters, the Allegan area has annually lost 300-350 turkeys or about 50 percent of its fall population, to natural mortality. In other words, its flocks have hit their population peak. More specifically, their "living room" is full. In those early years after their release, they were able to edge into new territory for food and nesting places. Today, the outer limits of their range is surrounded by farmlands. And going as far as they can go, the turkeys are now on a population treadmill, with their numbers building up each fall only to be heavily undercut by natural causes during the winter. That is why Department game men say these birds are ready for hunting. Under their plan, which requires legislation to become a reality, about 200 of the area's surplus birds could be harvested next fall instead of being lost to mortality next winter. Should a bill be introduced and lawmakers see fit to authorize a season, the Department would recommend a permit-regulated, "any-bird" hunt to be held in early November. It would probably run for nine days and have a season bag limit of one. Permit holders, numbering no more than 300-400 hunters, would likely be determined by a machine drawing. While the Department continues to "talk turkey" about a hunting season, an important season of another kind is fast approaching for these birds. In late March or early April as soon as warmer weather arrives—it will again be mating time for turkeys, and the distinctive calls of gobblers will stir the spring setting of the Allegan area. Just before sunrise on mild, calm days, their sounds will be heard as far away as a mile, echoing through their forested homeland of pines and hardwoods. Rounding up their mates with these calls, adult toms proceed to strut their stuff as part of their spring ritual of collecting harems which average four to six hens building well-concealed nests in thickets, fallen tree tops, or in grassy forest openings. From about mid-April to the first of May, the females lay their eggs which average about 10-12 to a clutch. They are then kept busy incubating these eggs until hatching time in late May or early June. Incidentally, nest losses are high and it is normal to have less than half of the hens hatch their clutch of eggs. By late summer, hens and their poults often form into groups of two or more broods. These birds are usually not hard for sightseers to find during the summer. Around mid-morning and again in late afternoon, the birds frequently are seen moving into grassy fields to feed on insects, grain, or weed seeds. Visitors may occasionally catch a glimpse of the turkeys crossing roads or making their way along woodland edges. By mid-August in normal years, broods which started with about 14 poults in May will have lost 40-50 percent of these young birds.

to infant mortality and other causes. Most of this toll stems from the young birds' over-exposure to damp ground conditions and rainy weather. During early fall, the poults grow fast and by the end of October usually weigh 8-12 pounds. At full size (two years), gobblers weigh 15-20 pounds while adult hens are 10-12 pounds. Compared with the domestic type, the wild-turkey has a smaller, more pointed head, a more slender body, and longer legs which give it a streamlined rather than plumpish look. Its tail feathers are tipped with dark brown compared with the white tipping on domestic turkeys. The native bird has darker body feathers, and at some distance or in deep shade, will appear black. Its body plumage also has a metallic iridescence which is lacking in its barnyard counterpart. In sunlight, the wild turkey is literally a walking rainbow, with its feathers reflecting various shades of red, bronze, blue, purple, green, and brown. Small wonder this bird, this wildlife trademark of our country's pioneering past, is so highly prized among hunters in states where it is fair game. Certainly, the wild turkey would add its share of color and sport to Michigan's lineup of game birds. In the Allegan area, it is ready to join that list.

IN THE OPEN
By Lee Smits
There has been a recreation explosion five times as violent as the population explosion.
This statement was given to the National Wildlife Conference in Washington by Dr. Justin W. Leonard of the University of Michigan School of Natural Resources quoting a scientific paper by Marjion Clawson.
They say you can't please everybody. The big headache of wildlife management is trying to please more people with more leisure wanting to go more places and do more different things, outdoors.
Dr. Leonard's paper points out some of the dramatic changes taking place in outdoor recreation. By the year 2000 there will be three times as many people in the United States as there were in 1900. The population of Michigan has jumped 27 percent in less than 15 years.
Fishing is the sport that provides the largest number of recreation hours in Michigan.
"Membership in the Audubon Society," says Dr. Leonard "has grown faster than the sale of hunting and fishing licenses in the past decade; the sale of high horsepower outboard motors, obviously intended for water-skiing and other high-speed uses, has far outstripped that of equipment appropriate to trolling; use of state parks and state forest campgrounds has soared while license sales have held steady or even declined."
"Today, leadership in outdoor recreation is being claimed by the whistle-blowers and the interests categorized as 'organized' sports." There is nothing wrong with the intensive type of sports development, planned by physical education enthusiasts or by social scientists. But there is presently little mutual understanding between them and our own interests.
When he says "our own interests" Dr. Leonard means the sportsman's interest - hunting and fishing. In Britain the opposition to what are called "blood sports" is organized and militant. Dr. Leonard notes in America a "gradual increase in the antiblood sports contingent." His defense of sport is based on human biology, genetics and psychology.
"Over the years," he says, "I have remained hopeful that someday competent psychological research would be directed at the much-mooted question of whether or not a week or 10 days in a deer hunting camp sublimates gross animal impulses which might otherwise lead fond husbands and fathers to beat their wives and harass their children. Carleton Coon, the distinguished anthropologist has done a good job of arguing that man evolved both physically and mentally, above all else, as a hunter. According to a eminent authority, man is a creature fashioned around and selected for hunting."
"When the human race generally abandons wearing shoe leather and furs and partaking of T-bone steaks, it will be ample time to think about giving up hunting."
"It would be unfair to contend

Michigan Archers Post Record Deer Kill Last Season

Lansing — A record-sized army of latter-day robin Hoods, numbering 44,980 active hunters, scored a new Michigan high in archery deer kill last season by taking 2,800 whitetails, the Conservation Department reports.

Results of the Department's annual postcard survey of bowhunters point to a harvest of 1,700 deer in the northern half of Lower Michigan, 660 in the Upper Peninsula, and 440 in the southern farmbelt.

The last two figures are archery records for those regions of the state. Last year's take by bow-twanging sportsmen in the northern Lower Peninsula stands second to the 1958 harvest of 1,890. State-wide, 6.3 percent of the season's hunters came home with a deer.

Reseal Program Extended for 1961-Crop Corn

USDA announced current reseal program for farm stored crops being extended to include 1961-crop corn or another year under reseal price support loans. This action was taken following current appraisal of corn supply situation. This indicates CCC stocks of corn should be adequate to meet expected disposition needs without obtaining 1961-crop corn. However, 1961-crop corn loans may be called during coming resale year if needed for program purposes.

Farmers will be able to extend 1961-crop price support loans after the July 31 maturity date for another year through July 31, 1966. Farmers will earn storage payments at rates to be announced.

Slightly more than 569,000 bushels of 1961-crop corn were under resale in Michigan as of April 30, 1965. Here in Washtenaw county there are 26,548 bushels of 1961-crop corn under resale.

Reseal programs through 1966 maturity dates were announced previously on 1964-crop corn, wheat, barley, and oats; 1963-crops corn, oats, and barley; and 1962-crop corn, and now includes 1961-crop corn also.

Michigan's income is approximately two-thirds of that of the entire continent of Africa, equal to about one-half of all of South America; and two-thirds of all the Scandinavian nations.

AGRICULTURE in ACTION

by M. L. Noell
MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

★ Franchise To Farm

The day may not be far off when a farmer will have to apply to the U. S. Department of Agriculture for a license to farm.

Sounds far-fetched, doesn't it? But the Administration's new farm bill would give the Secretary of Agriculture broad discretionary authority to permit the sale or lease of allotments.

The Secretary of Agriculture would be given a powerful tool which could be used to guide the redistribution of rights to produce controlled crops along whatever lines he thinks best.

The Secretary would be authorized to adjust the size of an allotment that is transferred to a farm with a substantially higher yield per acre, and also to set "reasonable limits" on the size of resulting allotments on farms to which transfers are made.

In addition, the Secretary apparently would have the authority to:

1. Restrict transfers to farms within the same county, as well as to permit them on a statewide basis.
2. Permit transfers for some commodities while refusing to permit them for others.
3. Permit transfers in some years, and prohibit them in others.
4. Establish qualifications that must be met by any individual desiring to obtain an allotment by purchase or lease.
5. Limit the amount of allotments that may be purchased or leased by any producer.
6. Restrict transfers to allotments of less than a specified size.

Sale or lease of allotments might be attractive as a kind of "severance pay" for farmers who want to retire or get out of production of allotment crops, but what about the young farmers who are just getting started? Or what would it do to the family farmer who needs to expand his operation to achieve the necessary efficiency of production to stay in business.

The sale and transfer of allotments proposal is only one of the latest schemes in 30 years of unsuccessful and futile attempts of government to control America's uniquely successful system of farming.

The Upper Michigan "Copper Country" is the largest commercial deposit of native copper in the world.

Optimism is more important to business than cash is to buyers.

PACK 445, DEN 3—

Last week's meeting of Pack 445, Den 3 was held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Juergens. Jeff Van Riper opened the meeting and provided the treats. The completion of buddy burners and plans for their coming picnic was the business of the day.

Michael Juergens, scribe.

PACK 455—

The May 20 meetings of Pack 455 dens were held jointly at South Elementary school playground. During the ballgame which followed Den 10 stood Den 11 with the Webelos and Den 9 filling out to make the team even. Parents Bob Sweet and Bill Perry assisted.

PACK 455—

The May 27 meeting of Pack 455 Cub Scouts, presided over by Robert Schaeffer, committee chairman, opened with the flag ceremony by Den 11. Each den staged a pantomime of an industry in Chelsea which the audience interpreted.

Awards were presented to the following boys: Thomas M. Burnett, Bob Cat pin; Robert Schaeffer, gold arrow, silver arrow one-year pin and first year perfect attendance; Bill Harrison, lion badge and gold arrow; Jack Willard, lion badge; Ronnie DeLoe, one-year pin; Lee Hafner, one-year pin and first year perfect attendance. Perfect attendance for two years was achieved by James Potts, Steve Worden, Bill Harrison and Robert Rudd. The latter also made the three-year perfect attendance mark.

The ceremony was given by the Four Winds, James Potts, Robert Schaeffer, Jr., Bill Harrison and Larry Sweet. Robert Rudd received his Webelos badge.

A pack ball game will be held June 12, at 1 p.m. at the South Elementary school. Den 9 and 11 had perfect parent attendance. Den 11 retired the flags and closed the meeting.

CHILD MOLESTATION.

Because child molestation increases in spring and summer, the State Police urge parents to give their children rules to follow outdoors. Insist that the children have companions because numbers add protection against molesters. Tell the children to reject any stranger's offer to go for a walk or ride and to report such suspicious behavior. Prohibit their playing in alleys, isolated places and vacant buildings. These can be high danger areas. Youngsters who know the rules can help protect themselves.

Christmas Tree Growers To Meet Near Belleville

Again this year all who have an interest in Michigan Christmas Tree production are invited to attend a twilight outdoor meeting at a local plantation. Again, we go back to the same plantation owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Boughan, located about 2 1/2 miles southeast of Belleville.

This is a well-kept, active, producing scotch pine plantation with harvesting operations, planting and in-between care. Harvest has been going on for several years, and trees in all stages of growth will be seen. The Boughans have many other interesting things to see: trees that were stained green last September, some of which are still growing; small trees re-planted where larger trees are still growing; blue spruce, white spruce and Douglas Fir trials; 1965 damage from Jack Pine Sawfly; bird damage; a flocking machine; and many other interesting aspects.

MSU Specialists, Lester Bell, will be present this year. Vic Horvath, District Forester, will assist. Pruning and shearing techniques, and general plantation management practices will be shown.

The Boughan plantation, 15851 Martinsville Rd., is located about a mile east and 1 1/2 miles south of Belleville, 1 1/2 mile south of Hull, on the east side of Martinsville. Drive back into the field behind the house, being careful of planted trees along the driveway.

Please be on time at 6:30, as the mosquitoes will force a closing time of about 8:15.

Conference Slated on Railroad Fire Control

Lansing — An estimated 100 representatives of state, federal, and Canadian agencies and private industry are expected to meet at the Higgins Lake conservation school June 7-9 for a railroad fire control conference.

The three-day session, to be hosted by the Michigan Department of Conservation, will run the gamut of railroad fire safety problems and programs in the Great Lakes area.

In addition to progress reports to be given by officials of various states and Canadian provinces, the conference's schedule will cover the role of railroad companies in preventing right-of-way fires. Talks will also be given on materials and equipment developed by private industry to promote fire safety.

Community College Adopts $920,691 First Year Budget

A budget of $920,691 was agreed upon last Thursday night at a Board meeting of the Washtenaw Community College, following a public hearing attended by six persons. $905,691 of this total will be raised from current property tax collections.

The budget calls for a levy of the maximum 1.25 mills ($1.25 on each $1,000 assessed valuation as equalized). The hope, as expressed by member Richard Creal, is that next year the Board may find a one mill taxation sufficient.

The budget, according to Chairman Samuel Harmon, includes many high costs that will not recur once the college is built. Another factor adding to the budget is the Board decision to work toward the earliest possible opening. Some occupational education programs are expected to be offered by the fall of 1966 or possibly by January, 1966.

The Board has already screened 50 applications for the presidency down to nine persons.

Amounts to be raised in taxes from the various units include $8,372 from Dexter, $8,199 from Lima, $7,010 from Webster, $9,704 from Manchester, $33,496 from Scio, one of the larger areas of collection. Lyndon will contribute $4,736 and Sharon $4,447.

A site for the college has not yet been determined.

The budget adopted last week lists sources of revenue in addition to the property tax levy as revenue from deposits, $7,000; grants for library fund, $4,000; interest and penalties on delinquent taxes, $2,000; and gifts and bequests, $2,000.

The largest items of expenditures are the building and site fund, $400,000, and salaries, $240,710.

The budget form which is provided by law has six separate divisions, adult education, community college, administration, plant, fixed expenses, and the building and site fund. The salary figure is distributed through four of these divisions.

The largest division appropriation, headed "community college," totals $206,560. It includes $131,560 for salaries of three deans and some instructional personnel, $50,000 for library books, $5,000 for office supplies, $15,000 for rental of instructional equipment and $5,000 for miscellaneous expenses.

Administrations appropriation totals $127,830. It includes $49,830 for salaries of a president and a business manager, $12,500 for professional services, $10,000 for office supplies, $38,000 for travel expenses, $15,000 for miscellaneous expenses, and $5,000 for informational services. The exact salaries for the various posts will be established later.

Fixed expense total $100,481 and include employee retirement $12,000; social security, $7,790; insurance, $2,000; tax delinquency reserve, $68,691, and rental of data processing equipment $10,000. The adult education division is allocated $51,320, all for salaries.

The plant expenses total $34,500, including $8,500 for salaries, $15,000 for rent of temporary instructional building, $8,000 for plant supplies, $1,000 each for contracted services, plant maintenance, and miscellaneous supplies and $2,000 for miscellaneous expenses.

Foreign Car Registrations Decrease in Michigan

Lansing — While domestic cars have been setting all-time records for imports for the first quarter of 1966 did not do too well with registrations decreasing by 500 units over the period. Secretary of State James Harlan in reporting the decline, said the German Volkswagen continued to pace the imports, 936 units registered in March more than 3,000 for the year far.

According to Harlan, three out of every four foreign cars registered in Michigan are V-8s.

the children at the University of Michigan hospital is now underway

AA Country Club Swimming Pool Officially Opened

The Ann Arbor Country Club
swimming pool was opened officially Wednesday, although members had been "unofficially" enjoying it for over a week. The major innovation in the pool area this year is that the water is heated, an improvement much appreciated by members who found swimming a chilly, if exhilarating, experience last year.

In honor of the official opening, pool director John Candler arranged a demonstration of life-saving, swimming and diving techniques and a funny clown diving act. Following this program, member families enjoyed a buffet supper in the clubhouse. Supper chairman was Mrs. James Holla-way and she was assisted by Mrs.
Charles Rayburn and Miss Gertrude Maglott. Entertainment was provided by "The Outlaws," two of whom — Russ Procassini and Dave Nichols — are AACC teen members.

On Sunday, AACC golfers participated in a Scotch foursome tournament. Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Kubly took top honors, with Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Credille coming in second.

CLUB 15
Club 15 had a work bee on Saturday morning, May 22. They all went to clean up a vacant yard on our street. The girls worked hard picking up rocks and bricks, raking the yard, and helping to haul it all away. One of the girl's father moved the grass.
When it was all finished Mrs. Nutt treated the girls all to a treat at the Dairy Queen.

CARD PARTY
Approximately 50 members of the Chelsea Senior Citizens group attended a card party held Wednesday evening, May 24, at the Korner House (the group's meeting room).

A chairman for the evening's entertainment was Mrs. Donovan Sweeney who was assisted by Mr.
and Mrs. August Dorer and Mr.
and Mrs. Harold Knott.
This committee served refreshments.

WCS OFFICERS
Among the officers installed by the Women's Society of Christian Service at the Methodist church on May 23, was Mrs. Calvin Summers. Because it was later discovered that Mrs. Summers had served the customary period, the position of membership cultivation secretary will be handled by Mrs.
Robert (Virginia) Schaeffer.

BEACON LIGHT EXTENSION
Beacon Light Extension Study group met Wednesday, May 26, at Sharon Town Hall, with Mrs. Lawrence Kruse playing the part of hostess. The discussion included plans for a tour of the University of Michigan North campus and observatory followed by lunch at an Ann Arbor restaurant on Thursday, June 17, starting at 10 a.m.
Members planning to attend are asked to contact Mrs. Ellis Pratt.
The lesson, on the care and sewing of stretch fabrics, was presented by Mrs. Armin Kuhl. New officers, elected are Mrs. Floyd Parr, chairman; Mrs. Kruse, vice-chairman; Mrs. Patrick Handy, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. L.
Dean Sadt, reporter; Mrs. Pratt, historian; Mrs. Allan Alber, publicity; and Mrs. J. L. Barkley, sick committee. Mrs. Kuhl will be hostess at the first meeting in the fall, on Sept. 22.

Milk Still Rates Best, Cheapest Source of Calcium

Ann Arbor — Milk remains the least expensive and most palatable source of calcium in your daily diet, say dietitians at The University of Michigan Medical Center.

Calcium, the "bone builder" of the body, is needed all through life. Although growing children and pregnant women have a special need for calcium, adults need it too.

The U-M food specialists say it may be difficult to get adequate calcium without milk. (For most people, foods other than dairy products provide less than 25 percent of typical daily needs.)

In addition to promoting healthy bones and teeth, calcium aids in body functions such as blood clotting, nerve response and muscle contraction. Experimental animals have shown that adequate intake of calcium also leads to greater vitality and a longer prime of life.

One of the largest lake trout ever caught anywhere was landed at Grand Haven in 1884. It weighed 88 pounds.

U-M Training For 'Project Head Start'

Ann Arbor — The University of Michigan will be one of 147 colleges throughout the country training teachers for Project Head Start, a part of the "war on poverty."

Project Head Start will enroll some half-million children in preschool child development centers this summer. About 41,000 teachers, most of them from regular school systems, are being sought to staff these centers.

The U-M will have a one-week training program for 75 teachers, June 28-July 3. The program is being organized by the Extension Service, with Lawrence Berlin, supervisor of course programs, as the training officer. University faculty from education, social work, psychology, sociology, pediatrics, and public health will participate.

Although the teachers selected for Project Head Start will be already trained as teachers, few of them will have had direct experience with the deprived pre-school child," Berlin explains. "The purpose of the training program which the universities are giving is to provide specific help to the teachers in working with children from economically and culturally deprived backgrounds. Instruction will also be given in working with volunteer staffs and the parents of the children."

Teachers enrolled in the training program are being recommended by local school systems, and will be assigned to the University by the Office of Economic Opportunity, Berlin added.

Partial Eclipse of Moon Visible Here

Ann Arbor — Skywatchers will be treated to a partial eclipse of the moon on Sunday evening,
June 13, according to Prof. Hazel
M. Losh, University of Michigan astronomer.

Just a few minutes before the moon appears over the horizon, it will hit the earth's shadow. The eclipse will start at 7:59 p.m. to be exact—so that the moon will rise with the eclipse under way, she explains.

Midpoint of the eclipse will come at 8:40 p.m., and the end will be at 9:40 p.m.

This is only a partial eclipse with the moon never completely entering the earth's shadow, Professor Losh says. The shadow will appear dark in contrast to the remaining exposed section of the moon.

For a lunar eclipse to occur, the phase of the moon must be full, and it must be situated in nearly the same plane as the earth and sun. The reason we do not have a lunar eclipse every full moon is because the moon's orbit is inclined to the earth's path five degrees, so the moon usually passes above or below the shadow.

Professor Losh says the shadow should be first detected at the northeast edge of the moon, and last be seen at the northwest edge.
Only the northern edge of the moon will be hidden.

32 DAYS ON RAFT

Manila—Frank H. Cushing, 63, a former aviation stuntman, and his 20-year-old son were found safe after floating 32 days on a 20-foot raft made of oil drums.
They had been searching for rare
fish around the reefs of Guam.
While asleep, strong winds blew them out to sea.

No other state has as many college and university faculty members abroad on educational mis-

TIPS for your TOP from

TODDY and FRAN
Summertime is a super time to put a little "fun in your life." Naturally we mean such fun as sunning, swimming, riding, and water skiing. But we mean more too. Put the fun of a wig in your life. Jump out of the pool — or out of bed! Monday morning after a fun-filled week-end — and pin down that hair that won't behave. Top it with a neatly coiffed wig and meet your public with confidence and grace. We wear 'em, we love 'em, and we'd love to order one for your summer fun.

LOVE

"What is so rare as a day in June? Then, if ever, comes perfect days. Then Heaven tries the earth to see if it be in tune, And over it softly her warm ear lays."

In June we see the fruition of the promise of Spring. Even so, the promise of a man's youth comes to the full flower of manhood, and he knows love, love of his fellow man, love of God, and there is glory in his soul.

What is love? It is the essence of goodness, and the man who gives himself to love consecrates himself to the highest passion that sweeps the human breast. Love has a saving effect. Under its benign influence, the noblest attributes of the human heart find expression.

But love is more than a human passion. Love develops in a man the highest ideals he can know. It leads him to the dedication of his greatest talents. Love is a quickening power, which tends to develop all that is high and noble in a man's life. Therefore, open your heart to love so that you may be more like our God "who so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son to seek and to save that which was lost."

REPORT from LANSING

State Representative

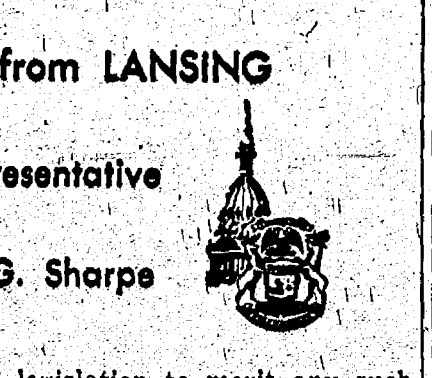

The citizens of our state are becoming painfully aware of the high price they will soon be paying for all those "pie-in-the-sky" promises which swept the Democrats into office last fall with such force that they now hold unassailable control of both houses of the Michigan legislature.

While it has become increasingly apparent that this would go down in history as the most expensive and least productive legislature in Michigan's history, the fact really hit home this week when headlines throughout the state carried the story of another legislative pay raise.

Ignoring completely the fact that only last year the pay and allowances of Michigan lawmakers were elevated to top rank in the nation, the Democrat-dominated House of Representatives this week voted themselves another $5,000 — rocketing this figure from $12,500 to $17,500 per year. Of the 56 self-centered individuals who abandoned their conscience long enough to stuff their own pockets, 51 were Democrats. They never had it so good—and they want it even better — at your expense!

In the many years I have been on the political scene, I have never witnessed a more callous and selfish action. They apparently have forgotten the cardinal test of our free enterprise system—that the amount of reward must be determined by the amount of production.

To date, the majority party has done little in the way of construction.

Thomas G. Sharpe

REPORT from LANSING

State Representative

Again and again they have indicated their unwillingness to tackle fiscal reform to meet the needs of Michigan citizens and to effect a more equitable method of tax distribution. They continue to pursue luxuries that the taxpayers cannot afford and flaunt the vital interests of our citizens. Although they expect these actions to go unnoticed, there are bound to be widespread repercussions at the polls in 1966.

Let no one doubt that I am unalterably opposed to this most unjustifiable act of legislative avarice. The people of Michigan will find this a bitter pill to swallow—and certainly such thoughtless action deserves the wrath it will bring.

My condemnation of those involved transcends partisan politics. Every legislator, regardless of party, who is so greatly interested in himself, and so little interested in the needs of his constituents, is deserving of reproach.

I would strongly recommend that you contact your state senator urging his opposition to this outlandish salary increase, approved by the Democrat-dominated House, and now before that body.

V-8 that you'd pay extra for on the smaller cars. You'd think performance like this would cost a lot. But it doesn't. Nearly half our Chrysler models are priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars, comparably equipped. Small difference to pay for a mighty big difference in your driving. No wonder it's the most popular Chrysler in history.

Congressman Wes VIVIAN Reports from WASHINGTON

Last week the House of Representatives passed the Foreign Assistance Act of 1965. This Act authorizes the funds required to continue our programs of military and economic assistance to a limited number of nations abroad which we believe can benefit from our aid, and which we believe to be in the national interest to support and help.

85 Percent Spent in U.S.
An important but little-known aspect of the foreign aid program is the fact that approximately 85 percent of all monies appropriated are spent here in the United States on goods and services supplied by U. S. companies. Thus, a very large portion of all the funds expended provide employment of our own people. This is an important fact, for it means that American enterprise is being stimulated and American jobs being created with the funds directed to the aid of others. In a small way, all of us are probably touched by the economic benefits of our foreign assistance program.

Second District Foreign Aid Suppliers
In 1964, 109 companies in 50 Michigan cities sold almost 12.5 million dollars worth of foreign assistance-financed goods to Asia, Africa, and Latin America under A.I.D.-financed programs. The experience in our own district is illustrative of the impact the aid program has on the entire state. In Adrian, the Oliver Instrument Company sent Mill Grinders and related equipment valued at over $18,000 to India.

One of the largest cities in the Second Congressional District, Ypsilanti, accounted for only $864 worth of General Motors Machine and Millwork parts shipped to Pakistan; while Tecumseh, a small city in our district, produced more than $107,000 worth of Tecumseh Products cold storage plant condensers and parts that were put into operation in the Congo, Turkey, and Pakistan. In nearby Clinton, the Ford Motor Co. manufactured almost $28,000 worth of parts used in the Philippines.

The Hoover Ball Bearing Co. and Micrometrical Manufacturing Co., two Ann Arbor firms, produced a total of over $22,000 worth of goods for India and Pakistan. The Burroughs operation in Plymouth produced over $77,000 worth of computers and

NEW MSU TEACHING-RESEARCH UNITS
Two of the nation's leading teaching and research facilities — the $5.2 million Biochemistry Building (at left in the top photo) and the $6.6 million Chemistry Building — will be dedicated June 3-5 at Michigan State University. Features include modern research units such as the biochemistry laboratory (at left) which is designed and equipped for delving into the chemistry of basic life processes. Other features include extensive teaching facilities. In the Chemistry Building there are 11 recitation rooms, 29 teaching laboratories, a 100-seat lecture hall and the 300-seat auditorium (right). During the past year, MSU had 11,000 enrollments in chemistry courses. The buildings also have several special facilities. The Biochemistry Building, for example, has a section for caring for experimental animals and plant-growth chambers in which light, temperature, and humidity can be precisely controlled. The Chemistry Building has a complete glass-blowing shop and special laboratories for working with radioactive and explosive materials. Both buildings were designed to achieve maximum versatility and economy of construction. They were built as a series of uniform size laboratories, classrooms and offices, stacked one on top of another. All wiring and a large, complex network of pipes and ducts — including air, gas and steam lines, air conditioning, and a complete glass-pipe drainage system — are contained inside three-foot-thick walls along central hallways in each building.

Farm Products Sold
The distribution of manufactured products to foreign users in an important aspect of the work of the Agency for International Development. However, over one and one-half billion dollars of the new authorization voted by the House last week is for the purchase and distribution of farm products raised in the United States, including much of it right in our own District.

I believe that those of us who live and work in the Second District of Michigan should take pride that part of the great abundance of goods we produce is used to aid peoples in countries half-way around the world, in their search for a stable, productive democratic role in the community of nations. For, as our late President John F. Kennedy said, in his inaugural address, "If a free society cannot help the many who are poor, it cannot save the few who are rich."

During the four years of World War II, more than 380,000 Americans lost their lives in battle. During the same four years, however, the Michigan Heart Association says, 2,300,000 Americans died of heart and blood vessel diseases.

Computer Controlling Woodward Ave. Traffic North of Detroit

Lansing — A computer-controlled system to smooth out driving on Woodward Ave. (US-10) in south Oakland county is in operation.

The control was installed from 916-Mile Rd. in Pleasant Ridge to 16-Mile Rd. in Birmingham by the State Highway Department. Harold H. Cooper, Michigan State Highway Department traffic division director, said vehicle detectors sense traffic volumes continuously along Woodward Ave. and feed the information into a computer located at Woodslee Dr., south of 13-Mile Rd.

As traffic builds up, the computer orders adjustment in traffic signal controls to accommodate the increases.

Previously, signal changes were controlled by time clocks on a fixed program, Cooper said. The clocks did not allow variations for holidays or such factors as bad weather conditions.

The new system will allow larger platoons of cars through the entire area at speeds in line with traffic conditions and should improve safety by reducing speeding and stopping, Cooper said.

Black Bass Season Opens June 1 in State's Inland Waters

Lansing — Michigan's black bass season makes its 1905 debut June 1 in inland waters, the Great Lakes, and St. Mary's river, the Conservation Department reports.

In Lake St. Clair, the St. Clair and Detroit rivers, action on scrappy largemouth and smallmouth bass begins June 19, adding the final opener to Michigan's list of sportfishing seasons.

As in recent years, the minimum size limit on bass is 10 inches throughout the state. The creel limit also remains unchanged at five fish per day or in possession.

The Michigan Department of Agriculture estimates the value of Michigan's annual agricultural exports at $134 million.

Dentistry Said Inadequate in Medicare Bill

Ann Arbor — A University of Michigan dentist says the proposed Medicare Plan is inadequate to safeguard the dental health of America's senior citizens.

Dr. George Gillespie, an instructor at the U-M School of Public Health, says it would be better to strike dental service completely from the bill, rather than include it as an optional benefit.

Under Medicare, states would be bound to provide hospitalization, follow-up outpatient care and outpatient diagnostic service. Dentistry could be covered by a supplementary health insurance program, the U-M dentist says.

"Specific funds would not be allocated for it, and all states would not be required to offer dental services," he points out. "Dentistry has never received a fair share of consideration when dental benefits have been tied to medical benefits."

Recalling the experience of the British National Health Service Program, Dr. Gillespie noted that dental benefits were optional until 1948. At that time it was found that proper care was not being provided the public, and dental coverage was added to the program.

Dr. Gillespie told the Michigan State Dental Association officers that the cost of health care will continue to rise dramatically in the United States and that the first items to suffer in any insurance contract or government plan will be the optional benefits.

If the bill is passed in its present form, dentists across the nation will be blamed sooner or later for not providing adequate care when, in fact, their hands would be tied, Dr. Gillespie says.

The average cost of group dental care is "fairly predictable" and funds could be allocated specifically by the government toward such services, he says.

Dr. Gillespie suggests that Dental Service Corporations (non-profit dental insurance agencies established in 30 states) could be used to administer funds allocated under such an arrangement.

Michigan was the first state to establish roadside picnic tables.

NORTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

Mrs. Bonner's Third Grade—

As a climax to our study of Indians of North America we took a trip to the University Museum in Ann Arbor on May 27. Mr. Colvia drove our bus and Mrs. Jedele, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Clouse accompanied us. Two guides met us and then took us to see the exhibits on wildlife of Michigan. It was interesting to us to find out that the Indians of Michigan had metal tools and weapons long before most other Indians did.

After we had completed our tour, we went to the gift shop and bought some rocks, sharks' teeth and models of prehistoric animals. All of us hope that we can go back to the museum this summer and look as long as we would like.

An Extra from

Mrs. Winkle's Fifth Grade— We have been able to see nature in its original form at North school this week. We had a dead bat and a live Cecropia moth brought in and sent to several of the rooms for study and observation.

Mrs. Jacobson's Kindergarten—

The kindergartners are learning about community helpers. We took a trip to the fire station in the fire hats we made and had a wonderful time. Officer Palmer visited the afternoon class and talked about a policeman's job and about safety. We are all looking forward to our end of the year picnic at Hudson Mills Park.

Mrs. Winkle's Fifth Grade—

The fifth grades at North school wish to thank Mr. Donley Boyer for his interesting science lesson on conservation which he presented to us on Tuesday, May 18.

Mrs. Winkle's fifth graders wish to thank Mr. Conklin and the sixth grade teachers and their pupils for a very pleasant and interesting time spent with them last Thursday, May 20.

Mr. Benedict's Fifth Grade—

Mr. Benedict's fifth grade class played an exciting game of softball against Mrs. Lange's fifth grade from South school. North school was victorious with a 29 to 10 win. Hits were made by: Gary Collins, Bobby Craft, Steven Fitzsimmons, Steve Flint, Mike Gillespie, Danny Hoover, Greg Howard, Chuck Koch, Chick Lane, Johnnie Porter, Randy Seitz, and Floyd Tanner from Mr. Benedict's class.

Last week Mr. Benedict's class played a sixth grade class and won, 14 to 4. We say congratulations to Mr. Benedict's class! (Maybe the Tiger managing team reads The Chelsea Standard).

We are using postage stamps to help us review United States history and geography. We have a stamp collection and are using commemorative stamps issued by the post office department to remind us of important events and dates. As we find stamps that show events, we put them on a map of the United States.

Debbie Gorton from the high school talked to the fifth grades about her trip to Washington, D.C., and New York City on the Washington-U.S. seminars in between semesters this year. She had many interesting facts to give us about the United Nations, the Capitol, and the embassies in Washington. Our thanks to Debbie for sharing her experiences with us.

Mrs. Terbeck's Second Grade—

We have been having contests in arithmetic to see who can learn their addition and subtraction facts the best. David Alber won the first contest for the boys and Terri Jones won for the girls. In our second contest Brian Smith is winning and there is a tie between Valerie Robertson and Terri Jones. This past week we have been learning some words in French. Most of us can count to 10, and say "please" and "thank you." We thought it was fun to hear that Mrs. Terbeck has a poodle whose name is "Merci" which means thank you in French.

We wish everyone a happy and safe vacation!

Personal Notes on Teachers

Leaving from North School—

Mrs. Jacobson—Husband has graduated from law school. He has accepted a position in Cleveland. We will be living outside of Cleveland, in Chagrin Falls, O. I will continue to teach there.

Mrs. Bonner—I will be in the area until February when my husband will finish his work on his PhD in Astronautical Engineering. We will be transferred by the Air Force to Los Angeles at that time. I have enjoyed teaching in Chelsea and have especially enjoyed all my third graders!

Mrs. Vonk—My husband has graduated from Dental School. He has been commissioned into the Air Force and will serve a two-year tour on the hospital staff at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, O. (Afterwards—who knows—any town who needs a dentist—here we come!)

A special thank you to all Chelsea for four years of happiness in both teaching and schooling. Jim and Sharon Vonk.

Mrs. Irving, Speech Correctionist—It is with great joy and some remorse that I find the end has come to the four years spent with you and your children. I wish to thank publicly the children, parents, teachers, administration and school board with whom I have had the privilege to serve.

These final weeks find us busily giving final evaluations and parent conferences to further stabilize the work begun in speech class. The biggest step now comes: the step that the child and his parents will take in being sure what he has learned will be used. I am very pleased with the progress the speech children have made.

Miss Wendy Blume visited Monday and Tuesday with me. She will be our speech correctionist for the 1965-1966 year. Briefing was done on every child; reviewing records, examining materials, and visiting schools. It is with much confidence that I place the responsibility of speech correction upon the shoulders of Miss Blume. I hope the town of Chelsea will continue to treat her with the consideration and kindness that you have given me.

A personal note: Our family will be returning to Marshall. We do sincerely hope that you will remember us and call upon us when in "our town." Thank you sincerely for sharing "your town" with us. Rosemary Irving and family.

Mrs. Vonk's Fifth Grade—

Here are four class chosen as say on "What Freedom Means to Me."

"I had never really sat down and thought about the wonderful life I have because of the freedom I have. I have the freedom to love who I want and what I want. I also have the freedom to think about what I want. With freedom I can do what I want, own what I want, worship as I please, speak as I please, write what I want, and many more things. Many men died and left behind wives and children to fight for the freedom you and I have today, and if they had not fought, none of us could tell what the United States would have been like today. If only people all over the world could know what it is like to have freedom this would be a much happier and better place to live.

Freedom is to be free. That is the most important thing in all America."

—By Janice McGaw.

"What freedom means to me is education, if we did not have freedom we probably would not have as much as we do. Men have fought and died for freedom for our country. Great people like Abraham Lincoln who set all Negroes free and George Washington who fought for more land that the Spanish were trying to take from us. When you are 21 you can vote as you please. You can make your own laws. We do not have to pay as much taxes as other countries. We can use our natural resources as we wish. We do not have wars in America because we try to settle most of our disagreements. We can do what we please. We can worship as we please. If there is something we do not agree with we can fight back and no one can stop us.

More people came to America to make it grow strong. We can teach what we want to teach. We can ship our products to other countries so they will have some food to eat and milk to drink. You can go and work and no one can tell you to work at a different job without reason. That is what freedom means to me and maybe you do not like freedom as much as I do."

—By Danny Schuelke.

"To me freedom means to govern yourself, to make your own laws. The Revolutionary War would not have started if people could have been free to govern themselves. Everyone had to be governed by a king. Some people probably thought that a king was suppose to run their lives.

Freedom is also to move where you want, from state to state. Freedom is to get an education and go to which ever school you would like to.

Freedom is to own your own house, have your own property and own your own things.

What freedom really means is to be free! To do what you want to do, to talk like you want to, to worship as you wish.

Freedom is to vote and belong to political party of your choice. I think everyone should look at freedom and go forth to it in their own special way."

—By Mary Trepasso.

"I really cannot write an essay about freedom because, I have not been without freedom to know what it is. I think it is very important though. I wonder how the people in other countries which are not free feel.

The four freedoms are freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom to worship as you please, and freedom to think what you want. These freedoms are most important to me. I think it would be awful if you said something which offended somebody and then you were placed in jail. Because we have these freedoms I think we have progressed much faster than other nations.

We do not even realize that people in other countries do not have rights like we do, but we take advantage of our freedom all the time. We have laws we must follow though to keep these freedoms. Yes, we are very fortunate to have freedom."

—By Kathryn Schafer.

We leave you with smiles, remember us this way. So long and have a good summer.

Yes, legislators should be paid enough that they can afford to spend full-time as your representative, because it's really pretty much a full-time job these days.

But, consider, Michigan has the highest paid legislature in the country. The latest raise was $5,000. Some legislators voted that it wasn't big enough. It's last part that hurts.
