School Board Candidates Questioned

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION
Monday, June 14
Polls Open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

"What is the most important subject of school board business, in your opinion?" This question brought a broad range of interesting answers from the five candidates who are seeking the two seats on the Chelsea District Board of Education to be filled in the annual election Monday, June 14.

HERMAN KOENN— "Getting more interest at the state level to try to bring in a fiscal reform type program that would put school support on a more equal basis. The income tax would be possibly a more equalized way to finance education, and I think the legislature could be persuaded to support this type of fiscal reform if the various school boards would act co-operatively in recommending it."

CHARLES LANCASTER— "Spending of money should not be done lightly," stated candidate Charles Lancaster when asked his belief on "the most important subject of school board business." "We must take a long, hard, practical look when we deal with other people's tax dollars."

Owner and proprietor of the Chelsea Drug Store, Lancaster lives at 807 Washington St. He graduated from the Granite City, Ill. high school and from the St. Louis College of Pharmacy before coming to this area.

ROBERT K. TAYLOR— "A long-range plan on both buildings and curriculum to cover a 10-15 year period" was advocated by Robert K. Taylor. "Both long and short-term plans must be based primarily on the needs of the entire community," he pointed out.

Taylor, who lives at 345 Washington St., graduated from Port Huron High school, Port Huron Junior College and attended the Detroit College of Law for two years. He is the assistant general manager of Federal Screw Works Chelsea plant.

ROBERT G. KOCH— When asked the identical question, Robert Koch replied that "Prudent planning for future requirements must be continued to be a main concern of the Board. The drastic problems that confront the present School Board, if not soon solved, could make it difficult to maintain the quality that has been achieved. If elected to the School Board, I will express my own belief when voting and not that of any group or organization."

A 1947 graduate of Chelsea High school, Koch lives at 12255 Seio Church Rd., and is employed at the Chrysler Proving Ground.

BARBARA DRESCH— Most important school board business to candidate Barbara Dresch was stated as follows: "The standard of education is established by the school board, and that is the board's most important function."

Mrs. Harold Dresch, Jr., lives at

565 Chandler St., is a Tecumseh High school graduate, attended Purdue University for one year on an electrical engineering program before her marriage, gives her occupation as "housewife."

QUESTION—Do you support the three-point program to build additions to the high school and the elementary school, and to build a new junior high?

Dresch—I see no other way than to support it. I feel it is needed.

Koch—Yes.

Koenn—In principle, yes. I don't think there's any denying the need. However, I think this has to be practical—how to be what the district needs and can support. We must not approach the subject in a piecemeal way, but should study the whole situation.

Lancaster—We all know we don't want 50 or 60 children in one room, we must have the other new school rooms. How could I say other than yes? I also believe in getting a dollar's worth of building for every dollar spent, for I pay taxes in this community, too.

Taylor—Definitely. I intend to work actively in support of it.

QUESTION—Do you believe that the elementary school art, music and physical education programs should be expanded? (The Board of Education recently acted to have a music teacher for the elementary system, but tabled action on art and physical education.)

Dresch—I fully support this program.

Koch—Yes.

Koenn—Frankly, my knowledge of this is rather limited. It looks like there's a group aiming for this in the future. Without specific knowledge of the needs and available money, I recommend that a good study be made. It might have to be a gradually developed program. We also need to research the value of a vocational training program in technical fields. New approaches to agriculture training are also good. This program, now being carried out in the Chelsea schools, can help many youngsters prepare themselves for good jobs.

LANCASTER—Not having been on the Board, I can only say that curriculum questions deserve careful study. Certainly, the buildings are not as important as what we teach inside of them.

TAYLOR—Yes, I would like to see these things in the elementary schools on a full-time basis, unless it turns out there are other areas that deserve higher priority on available funds. After I have had an opportunity to consider the entire curriculum, I will be able to make a better judgment.

Dormitory Being Built At Camp Crile

Camp Crile, headquarters for the Michigan Society for Epileptic Children at 10842 Joslyn Rd., has been rebuilt and will be ready for occupancy by June 27.

The new structure, costing approximately $20,000, replaces the building which was completely destroyed by fire last Sept. 28. It has two dormitory wings attached to the front section which contains the reception and first-aid rooms and the employee quarters. The aluminum building which was formerly a dormitory will serve

Jaycees Auxiliary Sponsoring Shower For Camp Crile

The Chelsea Jaycees Auxiliary, as a community service, is sponsoring a kitchen shower for the benefit of Camp Crile. The shower will be held next Thursday, June 17, at 8 p.m. in the Jaycee Hall, now located on the second floor above the Chelsea Medical Clinic. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

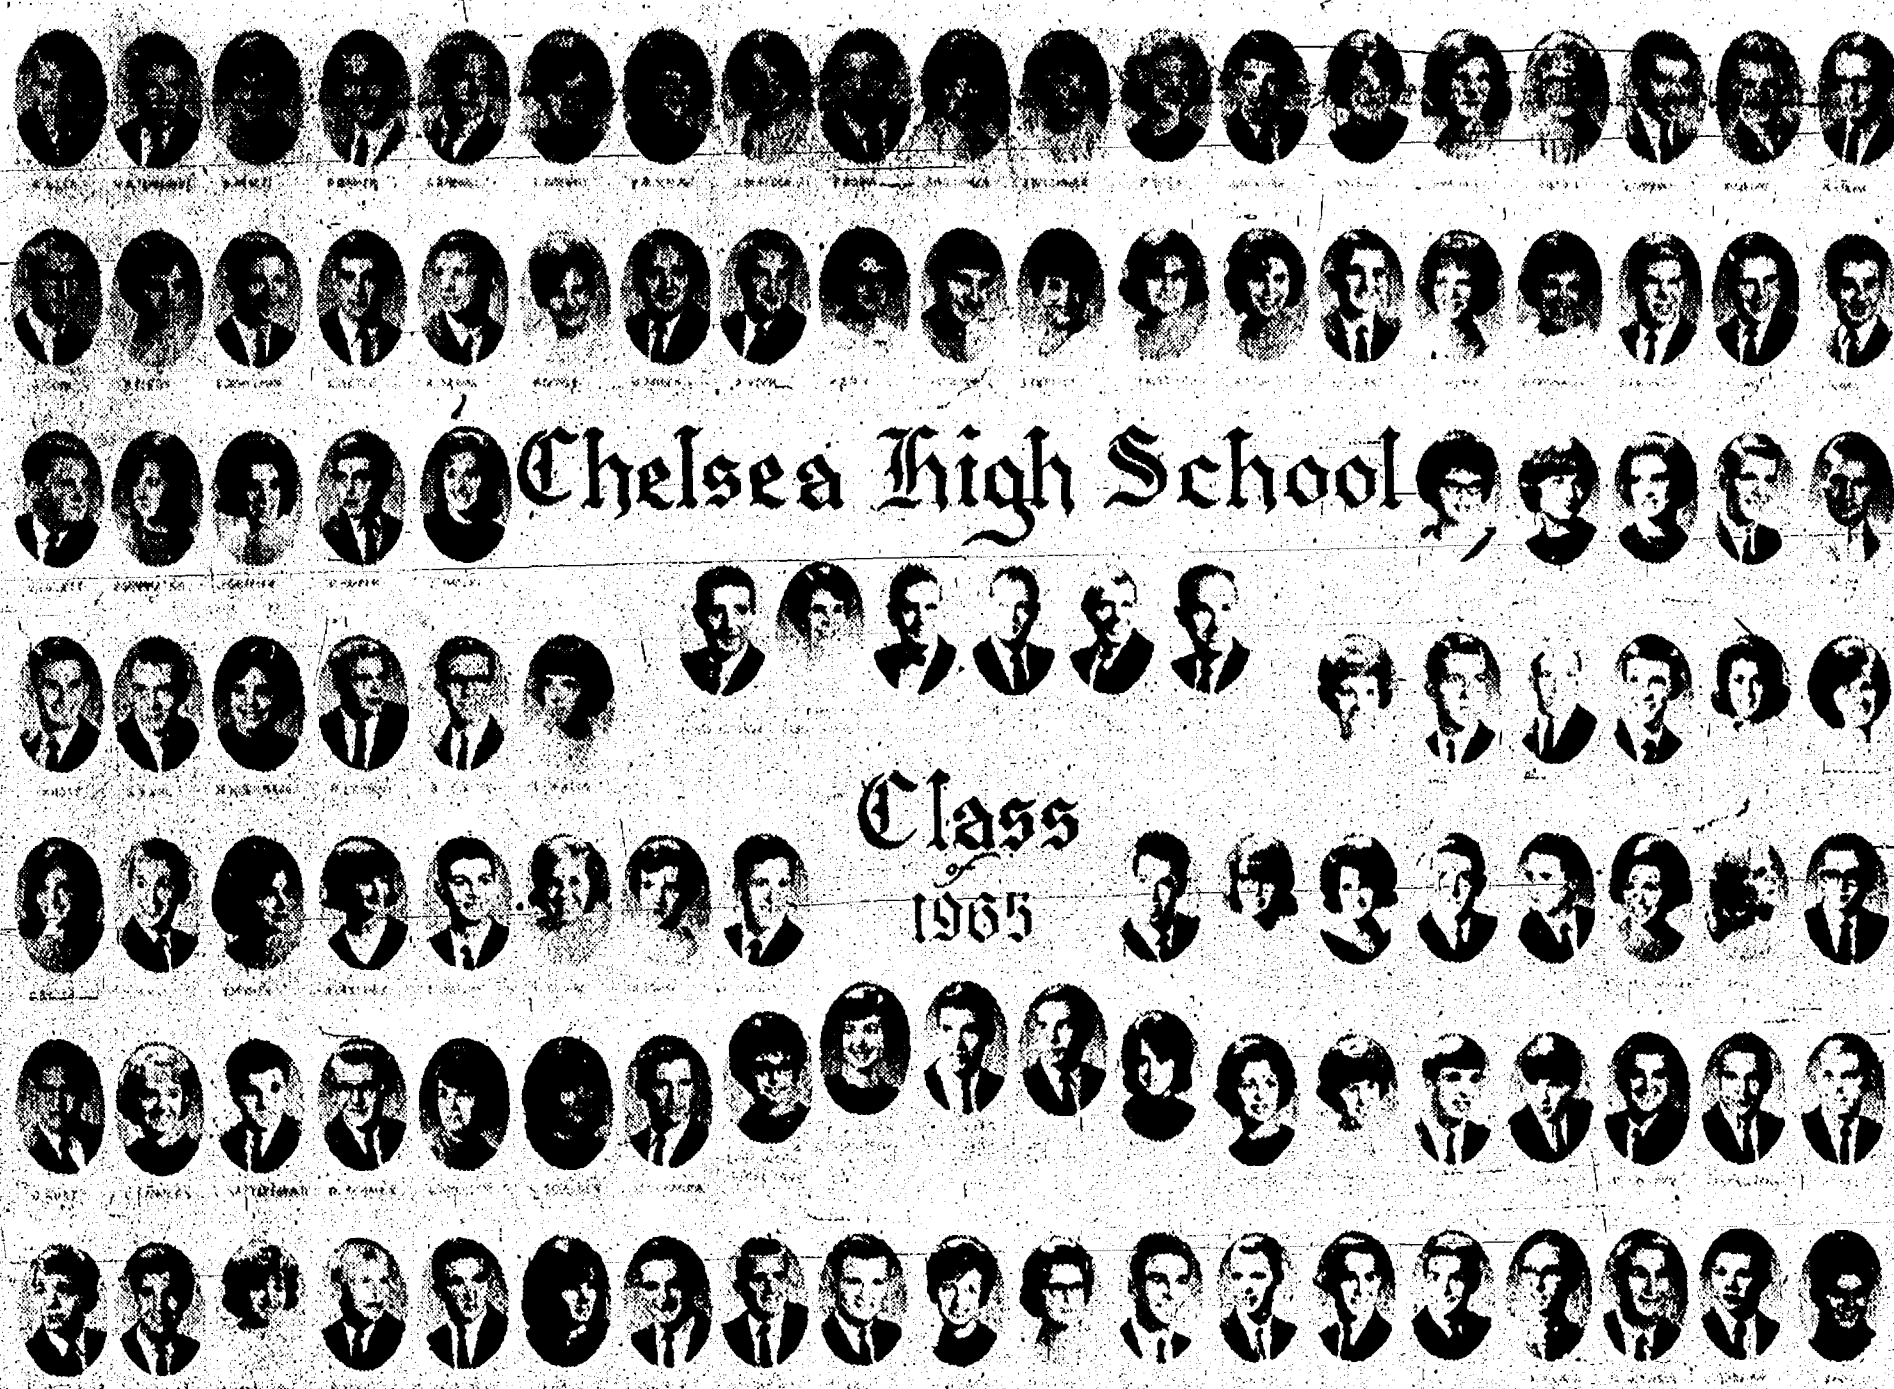

Items suggested as especially useful are large size cooking kettles, large serving dishes, glasses of the hard plastic restaurant type, mixing bowls, silverware and kitchen gadgets of all kinds.

as the dining-social hall. A separate and modern kitchen is part of the unit.

Lloyd Thompson, president of the Society, states that the disaster of last year has strengthened everyone's determination, and as a result the property will provide greater facilities for a large number of persons than were previously served.

Thompson and other leaders of the Society and those representing other groups working with crippled and retarded persons, will meet at Camp Crile on Sunday, June 20, at 2 p.m. to discuss the year-round use of camp facilities, plans for expansion and for making the social hall available for community, social and civic affairs in the area.

According to Thompson, the Society's major concerns are raising the necessary funds and finding the time to carry out all the necessary projects. Volunteers are needed for painting the buildings, for installing concrete walks and for cleaning the buildings. Since it will be too late to sow grass, sod is also needed and the labor for laying it down. Other needs include tank-type vacuum

Grass Lake Man Is Victim In Auto Crash

Albert J. Weininger, 30, of Grass Lake, became Washtenaw county's 11th traffic fatality when his vehicle went out of control in Lyndon township and collided with another car Thursday, June 3, at 10:25 a.m. He was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

According to the Sheriff's office, Weininger was driving south on M-52, a mile north of Waterloo Rd., approximately five miles northwest of Chelsea when he lost control of his car. The 1960-model vehicle went off the right side of the road, skidded 484 feet, then veered back on the road sideways and was struck broadside by a car driven by Gerald L. Wyckoff, 62, of Stockbridge, officials reported. Wyckoff who was traveling north on M-52, was reported in good condition Saturday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Last year's traffic fatalities, which totaled 50 in the county, show 20 at this time; with the 11th registered on April 4.

Speaker at tomorrow's commencement exercises for 110 seniors at Chelsea High school will be Alfred W. Storey, assistant director of the Extension Service at the University of Michigan. In addition to his other duties, Dr. Storey also teaches public speaking, discussion, conference and debate.

His topic will be "Leaders of Today and Tomorrow." The Rev. James A. Craig, pastor of the First Methodist church, was the speaker at the baccalaureate services held Sunday evening.

In his talk, he pointed out the false values which contribute to the unhappiness of some of the young people. He decried the "cool look" which some of the youth want to emulate. "This is not something new," he said. "The previous generation was called beat, before that they were lost, and prior to that they were the silent."

He warned the class about standing by as spectators and told them they would have to stand for something, to take risks in fighting complacency. He praised those who will enter the arena of life through the Peace Corps, the Volunteers in Service to America and other organizations like the Northern Student Movement and the more traditional movements like the missionary programs of the various churches.

Prepare Bikes For Registration

The annual registration of bicycles in Chelsea has been set for two Saturdays, June 19 and 26, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Police Station in the Municipal Building.

Police Chief John Palmer reminds parents that Section 11 of Ordinance No. 85, passed last year, is of particular importance to the safety of bicycle riders. The charge for the yearly license is 50 cents.

Miss Nina M. Greening was in Detroit Wednesday to attend the 20th anniversary dinner of the Detroit Retired Teachers Association.

Special Awards to Seniors...

Linda Wahl, Audrey Wengren, Linda Worden, Michigan State University, and Jane Paist, San Jose State University, received the American Legion awards; and James Cameron was presented the Bobby Vogel award.

Chester John Bowling, Jr., received the Rockwell-Standard award. The presentation was made by William Marsh, plant manager of the Chelsea Division of Rockwell-Standard Corp.

Donald Hinderer received the DeKalb outstanding agriculture award. Gary Jackson, agriculture instructor and Future Farmers of America advisor at Chelsea High School presented the award to Hinderer.

The list continues with Carol Wahl, who received a scholarship award; and Katherine Elder, Julie Eisenman, Jerry Wahl, and Linda Wahl, who received Chelsea Teachers' Club awards.

Senior awards were presented to Jane Scott, Betty Crocker, and Tomorrow's; to Kashaum, Procter & Gamble, and for excellence in home economics; and Valerie Burghardt, International Silver Smiths award.

APPROXIMATELY 300 PEOPLE attended the groundbreaking ceremony at the site of the new church building of St. Paul's United Church of Christ on Old US-12. The ceremony was held following the regular morning worship service at St. Paul's church Sunday, May 30, and the Rev. Donald Baacke, who has been serving as interim pastor, presided. A furrow had been dug outlining the new church building location and the ceremony took place inside this area until the time for the actual groundbreaking when those present—men, women and children—stepped outside the area and each used a shovel or other digging implement to participate in the "breaking of ground" for the new church. Jess Meininger, president of the church council, read a message which had been sent by the Rev. Warner H. Siebert who will assume his duties as the new pastor of St. Paul's church on June 27. He mentioned the struggles and "plain hard work" of the people who founded the church 100 years ago, and said descendants of the present generation will look back some day to this time and note the "plain hard work" now in progress to provide enlarged church and Christian education facilities. "Building a new church," the Rev. Siebert pointed out, "is a once-in-a-lifetime" experience for most church people. Construction of the new church is expected to begin soon.

CLEAN FILTERS

Filters are for filtering — but they don't do a good job of catching grease and grime unless they're cleaned regularly. Here's how: fill your kitchen sink with hot water and a cup of pine oil cleaner to cut the grease. Let the filter soak a while then scrub it if it is necessary with a sturdy sponge, rinsing with more hot water.

Poems Copyrighted For Youth at State Boys Training School

U. S. Congressman Weston E. Vivian will present official copyright documents to 17-year-old Leon C. Roseman, of the W. J. Maxey Boys Training School, this coming Friday, June 11, at 7 p.m. Leon has published two volumes of his own poetry, with the assistance of the teaching staff at the Whitmore Lake school. He contacted Congressman Vivian earlier this year, to request information about the possibility of having his works copyrighted.

Mrs. Elvira B. Cohen, wife of the new Undersecretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, and a member of Vivian's Washington staff, was so touched by the poems and the request that she contacted the Copyright Division of the Library of Congress, and made arrangements for the poems to be copyrighted.

Congressman Vivian has placed a number of Roseman's poems in the Congressional Record. He will present Leon with several copies of the Record for May 28, with inscriptions by House Speaker John McCormack, Vice-President Hubert Humphrey, and Congressman Vivian. He will also present Leon with the copyright documents.

Leon's two volumes are entitled "Poems for Young and Old," and "Poems to Warm Your Heart and Soul."

Congressman Vivian has purchased copies of the volumes, and turned over his payment to the Library of Congress, to pay the costs of copyrighting them.

Basic Plans Formulated By County To Warn of Tornado

Chelsea-Dexter area citizens are assured that Washtenaw county has taken action to make certain that sufficient warning will be given in the event of future tornado conditions in this area.

A recent review of weather bureau procedures has been conducted with all radio stations in the county. To expedite the broadcasting of impending storms and tornadoes, it has been decided that the U. S. Weather Bureau will alert each radio station in the county and cut a tape for broadcast. This will assure the public of more timely and accurate information.

The chiefs of county police departments, the county sheriff, representatives of the State Police post from Ypsilanti and the U. S. Weather Bureau agreed that henceforth every effort will be made to inform all participating agencies within 10 minutes in the event of a tornado strike anywhere in the community. The sheriff also has issued instructions to have every patrol car immediately double check with the local chief of police in the event of such an occurrence.

WATERLOO

Mrs. Anna Walz and Gottlieb Rothman are patients at Foote Memorial Hospital, Jackson.

Bill LeVan, a patient in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, is slowly improving in health.

Mrs. John Dykumaster of Jackson was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Beeman.

The program at the Memorial exercises at Waterloo was given as follows: Invocation: the Rev. W. Silvernall; speaker: the Rev. J. Craig of the Methodist church of Chelsea. Due to much illness in the community the audience was not as large as usual, though the program, under the direction of Jane LeVan, assisted by Leona Beeman, was well given. A flag drill by children; Lincoln's Gettysburg Address by Darlene Beeman; reading by Wesley Schultz; placing of flowers at memorial cross; coronation by Axel Camp of Stockbridge. The Waterloo Band furnished appropriate music. The American Legion of Dexter again placed flags in the church and performed the ritual at the cemetery. The children placed flowers on all soldiers' graves and memorials and the reading of these names was by Wilbur Beeman.

Summer Here On June 21

Ann Arbor — Summer will arrive in Michigan officially at 9:56 a.m. Monday, June 21.

University of Michigan astronomer Dr. Hazel M. Losh reminds us that the sun has been steadily climbing northward, and on June 21 will reach the summer solstice 23.5 degrees from the equator, the most northerly point reached by the sun in its apparent yearly journey.

On that day the northern hemisphere will receive the most heat from the sun in any 24-hour period of the year, but the chances are very good that this day of the summer solstice, the longest day of the year, will not be the hottest of the summer.

There will be more than 16 hours of daylight of that day, Professor Losh says, but the peak of the season usually comes from four to six weeks later, because the earth receives more heat from the sun than is lost each day. The earth will be storing up more heat than it is losing, because the atmosphere acts like a blanket holding back some of the heat falling on the surface. Consequently temperatures are likely to keep climbing until around the first of August, when the earth will begin to lose more heat than it is taking in. This is known as the "lag of the seasons."

Fortunately we are farthest from the sun during our summer and nearest it during the winter, so that our seasons in the north tend to be a little milder than those of the southern half of the globe, she explains.

Also, since the earth is moving a little slower in its orbit around the sun during our summer, this season is slightly longer than our winter. This is known as the "inequality of the seasons," and is said to have been detected by Thales as early as the 6th century B.C.

REPORT from LANSING

State Representative

Thomas G. Sharpe

Now that the first two legislative deadlines are behind us, and the range of legislation for this year fairly well defined, I think it would be a good idea to pause long enough to map the route over which this enthusiastic, Democratic-controlled legislature is taking the people of Michigan.

The financial outlook is anything but bright. Under proposed spending levels and under the existing tax revenue structure, the state's general fund could — in three short years — go from record surplus to record deficit.

If you are a farmer or a small businessman, you should not only hold on to your hat, but your pocketbook as well. This Democratic legislature has plans for you that will make pickers out of any previous legislature.

Last week, in an attempt to raise at least a token offering toward this new, all-time dimension in state spending, the Democrats hurriedly rammed through a property transfer tax, which actually constitutes another tax on the owners of real estate — in spite of the long-recognized need for cutting, not raising property taxes. The House also approved the first state income tax by replacing the business activities tax with a 6 percent levy on net business income, with an exemption of $10,000.

This accomplishes little in reducing the unfair share of the tax bill now picked up by business.

Coupled with this, there is already enacted liberalized workers' compensation bill which like employer insurance premiums by about 45 percent, and bill broadening unemployment compensation benefits which has already passed the House and is before the Senate — which will add another 22 percent cost increase.

What is the thinking behind of these spiraling expenditures and special interest legislation? Perhaps it was best expressed by a new member of the Ways and Means Committee who recently emerged from a Committee meeting. "We just got more money in three hours to King Farouk spent in a lifetime."

Or by one of the Senate leaders who stated, "This session of Michigan legislature is dedicated to accomplish more in the area of social and labor legislation than all of the combined previous legislatures of the past two decades. The time is long past for the people of Michigan to be aware of what is transpiring in their state government."

Otto Hinderers To Mark 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hinderer are being honored Sunday at an open house reception at their home, 204 Jefferson St., in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary. Their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hinderer of Grand Rapids, will be hosts for the event and they extend a special invitation to all friends of the family to attend. They particularly request that no gifts be presented.

The Hinderers were married at the parsonage of the Congregational church on June 23, 1915 and have always made their home here. In fact, Mrs. Hinderer has lived at the present home since she was a young child. The home was originally purchased by her grandfather and ownership passed to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Cook, and then to her and her husband.

Attendants at the wedding, performed by the Rev. Charles Dole, were Mr. Hinderer's sister, Mrs. Arthur Schaefer (Anna) and Mrs. Hinderer's brother the late Ray Cook.

Mr. Hinderer was in the grocery business here for 33 years before his retirement in 1953.

The First Methodist church in Ellsworth, Kans., provided the setting for the June 6 wedding of Sharon Suzanne Smysor and Duane Lee Lindenmeyer. The Rev. Robert Groat officiated at the afternoon ceremony. Francis Smysor, II, as soloist, was accompanied by organist Mrs. Robert Groat.

A graduate of Chelsea High school, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Smysor, former Chelsea residents, who now make their home in Lawrence, Kans. Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Lindenmeyer of Salina, Kans., are the bridegroom's parents.

The bride's gown of organza over tulle featured a fitted bodice with long sleeves and a lace motif bordered the scoop neckline and skirt which extended into a chapel train. Her elbow-length veil was secured to a crown of pearls and lace and she carried a cascade of white roses.

Attendants of the bride were Mrs. Robert Lowe, of Winona, Kans., matron of honor, and bridesmaid Jacquelyn Paige, of Topeka, Kans. Everett Newman, of Cincinnati, O., was best man and James Gorrell, of Salina, Kans., usher. Stacked heels for sports shoes are good and the spectator type is still with us. Very few real high heels are being shown.

Just A Minute . . .

By the Rev. James A. Craig

There have been only a few times in the past 20 centuries when the Church (or church people) have been so much in the news.

Everything from sit-ins to bus boycotts to vigils and marches have found supporters in the Church.

Some feel that it is no place for the Church to be; that these activities are somehow outside the spiritual realm.

Of course they are!

But where did we get the idea that the Church had anything to do with what was real? Could it be that, after a long period of fighting the wrong battles, the Church has rediscovered its purpose?

Is it possible that it read its Book and found there that the message it was given had to do with war and peace and poverty and racial justice and social welfare and slum landlords and abusive management and labor practices and questionable governmental decisions?

The tragedy is not that the Church is taking part. The tragedy is that so many have been spectators for so long—and so many still are.

U-M Spring Term Is Equivalent of New Small College

Ann Arbor—The University of Michigan's new spring term is the equivalent of adding a new small college to the state's educational resources, a University official has commented.

This year the U-M has started a three-term, year-round operation. A spring-summer term includes a spring session of seven and one-half weeks and a similar summer session. The spring half began May 4; the summer session will begin June 28.

Nearly 8,000 students are enrolled for the spring term, Vice-President Roger W. Heyns has reported. University officers estimate that more than 5,000 of these are full-time students who are thus gaining an extra seven and one-half weeks during the academic year.

"This is about the same as adding a small college of about 1,300 students for an entire year," Dr. Heyns says.

Few people drop five dollars bills into the collection plate at church without seeing that the giver is properly identified.

FOR A CAUSE

Our world becomes increasingly complicated and more and more a world of change. Scientific developments have altered the routines of the business world and preage the discovery of unlimited horizons in space. Better medicine, better medical techniques keep us healthy, promise longer useful years of life.

Only time will prove what benefits accrue to the average citizen through successful space exploration and discovery . . . and to what end an individual may utilize longer years of life.

As individuals, we should, perhaps, be less concerned with the sun and the moon and the stars, and with some distant tomorrow. We should think more about things closer to the home and the heart.

If we take our eyes from that distant horizon, we cannot fail to see that other changes are taking place. In our own little corner of the world, the eternal struggle goes on—good vs. bad, right vs. wrong, and while this is not new, there is a new challenge in the heart of every man.

Let us make our "cause" that of Christianity. If we believe, if we practice Christianity, we promote a better world in which to live, with the promise of a better tomorrow.

Youths Fined for Having Alcoholic Drinks in Park

Three Garden City boys, Kenneth Garry, 22, Rufus D. Ellis, Jr., and Robert L. Chuba, Tuesday were fined $10 each plus costs by Justice of the Peace Earl Doletsky when they were arrested for illegal possession of alcoholic beverages at Silver Lake.

The arresting officer was D. L. Richards, the park ranger who has the authority of a deputy sheriff. There is a law forbidding the possession of alcoholic beverages in Half Moon and Silver Lake State parks and others until June 26.

$1.3 Million Bill Estimate for State Tornado Cleanup

Lansing—Tornadoes which whipped through parts of southern Michigan on Palm Sunday left a $1.3 million emergency cleanup bill in their wake, according to an estimate worked out by the Conservation Department and U. S. Corps of Engineers.

The figure, based on the two agencies' recent five-week study of 15 counties where wind damage was reported, includes only those costs related to removing debris which poses an immediate hazard to public health and safety as determined by the State Health Department.

It covers cleanup costs in tornado-torn areas of the following counties where on-the-spot inspections were made by conservation and Corps of Engineers personnel: Allegan, Barry, Bay, Branch, Clinton, Eaton, Gratiot, Hillsdale, Kalamazoo, Kent, Lenawee, Montcalm, Ottawa, Shiawassee, and Tuscola.

Kent, Branch, Hillsdale and Lenawee counties were hardest hit by wind damage and accounted for a large share of the debris-removal figure. Expenses for eliminating health-safety hazards in the last three counties included more than $24,000 to mop up wreckage from eight inland lakes.

Listed for emergency action were Coldwater, Dragon, and Hog lakes. Branch county Long, Wilson and Baw Beese lakes. Hillsdale county, and Branch and Devils lakes, Lenawee county.

A 16-man crew of conservation workers with a small fleet of heavy equipment several weeks ago assisted the local sheriff's department and Civil Defense personnel in clearing debris from Coldwater lake.

Findings of the recent cost study have been submitted to the Michigan Office of Emergency Planning which is processing applications from local units of government for federal funds to underwrite cleanup projects.

The U. S. Coast Guard operates as a unit of the Navy only in time of war or on direction of the president. In peacetime, it is a separate branch operating under the direction of the Treasury Department.

THE COUNTRY PULPIT

"NO ONE IS ON THE FENCE"

In many affairs of life various persons may be undecided—uncertain—or, to use a well-known and time-worn expression, they are "on the fence."

Mrs. Higgins, for instance, is not sure whether she will vote Democratic or Republican ticket. She likes both candidates just about equally well. Her husband is a Democrat but her two sons are Republicans. So, Mrs. Higgins, it can easily be seen, is "on the fence."

Then, too, there's Mr. Billings. He has decided to buy a new car. What car will it be? One of his biggest insurance clients sells the Chevrolet. If that were all, things would be easy. Chevrolet it would be. But Billings' wife's brother is agent for the Pontiac and this, you can readily see, complicates matters considerably. So bewildered and undecided Billings with his car purchase, is "on the fence."

While many more situations could be mentioned in which persons are on the fence, there are many affairs of life in which NOBODY is on the fence. Ask Mr. Throckmorton if he is "on the fence" of Harvard University. His answer comes back immediately "Yes" or "No." Ask him further, if he has ever been given a parking ticket, if he owns a set of golf clubs, and if his wife's name is Thelma. Again, to these and many more questions that might be asked, this man's answer is a "Yes" or "No." In all these matters Throckmorton is NOT ON THE FENCE.

Friend Reader: Eternity is a long, long, long time! Once you pass its Entrance you can never, never return to this life. This, of course, you know. Because Eternity is a shoreless forever. This friendly message you are now reading wants to ask you an important question concerning your eternal welfare. The question is this: ARE YOU SAVED? Once you pass the portal of Eternity your destiny will be FOREVER SEALED. Others, some feet will then be treading the Shores of Time as you do, will be able to be saved, but you—NEVER! Stop, then, Friend Reader, and ask yourself: AM I SAVED FOR ETERNITY? Answer "Yes" or "No." In this matter NOBODY IS ON THE FENCE.

Faithfully attending church won't save you. Saying prayers won't save you. Living an outwardly moral life won't save you. Caring for your family well won't save you. Paying all your bills won't save you. Being kind to dumb animals won't save you. God's Word, the Bible, states plainly that salvation is "not by works of righteousness which we have done," (Titus 3:5).

One thing WILL SAVE YOU—faith in the once-crucified and buried—but now risen and ascended Son of God, the Lord Jesus Christ, who "died for our sins according to the Scriptures" (1 Corinthians 15:3). This, alone will save you. "Neither is their salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved" (Acts 4:12).

It down deep in your heart you know this eternally-important question has never been settled between God and you, why not settle it NOW. Turn in your heart to God; confess that you are a sinner for whom Christ died and ask the world's only Saviour to come into your heart and life, take your sins away and make you a child of God. Do it NOW because today could easily be for you, and it will be for thousands of others, your last day on earth.

"Whoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved" (Romans 10:13) is God's promise to you.

Maybe you can truthfully say, "Yes, I know I am saved because Christ Jesus has already come into my heart and life and has given me Eternal Salvation!" If this is your assurance, then please pass this message on to someone else.

Thank you.

Population Check

Being Completed on Mourning Doves in State

Lansing — An annual state-federal mourning dove survey is under way in nine Lower Michigan counties, reports the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

The dove population check, scheduled to continue through June 16, is conducted during the early morning hours along 14 regular censusing routes by personnel of the Bureau and Michigan Conservation Department.

Dove call counts are being recorded at established listening points along the 20-mile survey courses in Allegan, Bay, Ingham, Isabella, Kalamazoo, Monroe, Newago, Tuscola, and Washtenaw counties.

Although these birds are off limits to the state's hunters, Michigan is included under the survey because it forms part of a management unit which covers states open to shooting mourning doves.

IN THE OPEN

By Lee Smits

It is flattering to be asked for advice, even though advice is rarely followed.

I am proud of a six-year-old nephew who wins medals in swimming competition. His parents asked:

"When shall we get Richard a gun? What kind of a gun?"

They live in a lofty apartment. No basement for supervised air-gun instruction.

My advice, freely delivered, went this way:

Wait until the kid is old enough to buy a gun for himself. As things are now, shooting of any kind, for a city-dweller, is a costly and difficult sport.

It is no longer possible to step out in the backyard and shoot at tin cans. No longer possible to walk half a mile after school on a winter afternoon and shoot rabbits.

Who can say what conditions will be when Richard is old enough to hunt on his own? In Michigan there are now 60-odd licensed reserves where pheasant and mallard may be shot during a long season—at a minimum cost of about $5 a bird. Perhaps by 1980 Michigan farmers will add to their incomes by practicing game management so that boys who are now in the first grade will be able to hunt at moderate expense. However, I reminded Richard's parents that the population of Michigan had increased 27 percent since 1950 and that, possibly, by 1980 there will be too many people per acre to leave much space for wildlife.

Richard can presently learn to handle a fly rod, or a spinning outfit, without peril to himself or the public. (I have broken a garage window, spinnest; but I am an exception.) His parents will give all possible encouragement to any interest or aptitude that will take their boy afield. He might go in for Scouting. Boy Scouts are giving increasing attention to nature study and to such projects as the making and installation of nesting boxes for wood-ducks and bluebirds.

There was no appeal for us in botany, geology, biology, local history, as these subjects were presented to us in school, when they were presented at all. Well do I remember picking up a flint arrowhead on the route of an ancient trail across southern Michigan, although it was not until years later that I had any knowledge of the tribes that claimed the hunting grounds I was using.

Come to think of it, we did have one teacher, a man, who for one term aroused our interest in nature study. He rigged up a metal tank, about six inches deep, about eight feet square, covered by wire netting maybe three feet high. We stocked this enclosure with a variety of animals—turtle, snakes, frogs—and with marsh plants.

It was fun gathering specimens. I recall that the biggest bullfrog I had ever seen became an inhabitant of our zoo. He was a happy frog, and we learned quite a lot from him. We learned that he could eat small turtles, snakes and minor frogs. In fact in a few weeks this giant frog

May Traffic Death Total Down 18% From Last Year

Michigan traffic deaths for May totaled 185, a reduction of 20 or 18 percent compared with 164 in the same month a year ago, State Police provisional figures showed.

Included in the May fatalities were 21 persons who were killed during the 78-hour Memorial Day holiday week-end, three less than 24 in the same period in 1964. Delayed death reports are expected to add slightly to the holiday and May provisional tolls.

It was the fourth month in five this year to show a decrease. April, which had shown a reduction provisionally, was moved into the increase column by delayed deaths, giving it 148 compared with 144 in the month in 1964.

The May loss was four higher than the average of 181 for that month in the 10 years of 1955-64. High May was 193 in 1941 while the low was 49 in 1944, a war year.

The provisional five-month total is 670 deaths, which is 129 or 16 percent less than 799 in the same period a year ago.

State's Bear Hunters Top 1,000 Mark

Lansing—For the third straight year, northern Michigan hunters topped the 1,000 mark in bear kill, according to the Conservation Department's final figures on last fall's shooting success by licensed sportsmen.

During the state's November firearm deer season, hunters took 750-800 bears, compared with the low 1963 harvest of 455.

Another 304 of these big animals were taken in the early fall under special September and October seasons. This is a major turnabout from the year-before take of 630.

Predictably, most of last year's kill came from the Upper Peninsula, which boasts the biggest share of Michigan's dwindling "bear country."

Above the Straits, the harvest of bears in deer season edged up to 470 last year, an increase of 60 animals over the 1963 figure. With hunting pressure down during the early fall seasons, that region's bear kill slumped to 285 in last September and October as against 599 the previous year.

In the northern Lower Peninsula, where bear numbers are so low that there is serious talk of shelving all seasons on these animals, sportsmen took only nine animals during the October hunt which was shortened to three days. Their kill for the week-long season in 1963 was 31.

Another 280 bears were shot in the northern half of Lower Michigan during the November firearm deer season. This part of the state produced a kill of only 45 bears in November, 1963.

Bear license sales covering the early seasons skidded from a record high of 4,881 in 1963 to 3,417 last year.

James Buck Charged With Kidnaping

James O. Buck, 25, of Hay St., appeared before Municipal Judge Francis L. O'Brien in Ann Arbor Friday, June 4, on charges of kidnapping an Ann Arbor housewife whom he picked up the previous day as a fare from her home in the west end of Ann Arbor.

O'Brien ordered Buck, driver for an Ann Arbor cab company, remanded to the county jail in lieu of the bond of $20,000, one of the highest ever set in the court.

Buck was arrested Friday after he turned himself in at police headquarters. He had been sought since the housewife had told police that Buck had driven her out on to I-94 and had threatened to attack her, disregarding her order to drive to a beauty parlor. He finally stopped the cab when she threatened to leap out of the moving vehicle. She told police she walked the three miles to the edge of the city.

Fined $12.30 each for fishing without a license by Municipal Judge Francis L. O'Brien were John J. Fields, 25, and Mason J. Weishuhn, 19, both of Ypsallanti and Larry Sosnow, 19, and Ronald H. McAllister, 18, both of Ann Arbor. Kenneth P. Tithof, 19, of Dearborn, was found guilty of fishing the Sylvan trout pond and also fined $12.30.

Buck, meantime, allegedly drove to a trailer park near Ypsilanti where he was reported to have made an indecent proposal to a 16-year-old girl. Michigan state police from the Ypsilanti post were called in on the case and shortly after issued a warrant for Buck's arrest on an assault and battery charge.

"I am unequivocally opposed to the recent $5000 pay raise for legislators voted by the House of Representatives. Furthermore, I would predict that the Senate Appropriations Committee on which I serve will remove the $5,000 pay raise from the general government appropriations bill before reporting it out to the floor of the Senate," stated Senator Gilbert Bursley last week.

"Personally I regret that the new Constitution did not pay legislative pay as a percentage of Congressional pay," Bursley continued. "This would have taken the matter out of the legislature's hands. Presently the Senate is suggesting a top-flight citizens' committee to make recommendations on the subject. We would not expect a report before next year."

"I am also opposed to any change in legislative retirement and pensions. A bill on the subject in the Senate was unanimously returned to committee which was a polite way of killing it," according to Bursley.

According to police, Buck also admitted making improper proposals to two U-M coeds at different times on Washtenaw Ave., a week ago last Tuesday.

Hearing Slated Tonight On I-94 Ramp Changes In Ann Arbor Area

Lansing — A public hearing concerning proposed improvements and reconstruction of existing I-94 interchanges in the Ann Arbor area will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, June 10, in the Stone school, the State Highway Department announced today.

Purpose of the meeting is to explain to interested citizens improvements to interchanges at Ann Arbor-Saline and State roads, the need for a grade separation at the intersection of the New York Central Railroad and I-94 and closing of existing ramps at Ellsworth Rd. in the interest of greater safety.

Testimony from area residents concerning the economic effect of the project will be heard and submitted to the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads which must approve of the proposals.

Chelsea Standard
The campaign for a new Junior High School is on. Contrary to the belief of some people, the old building has never been condemned. This was verified by the administration at a meeting in April. Had it been, our children would not be allowed to enter the building. It is too bad that the administration has seen fit for many years now to woefully neglect the building; even to the extent that it would be unsanitary for the children. It is interesting to note the manner in which bricks on the exterior walls were pointed up... actually is very noticeable. It is not unusual to point up brick walls, but I have never seen it done with a material such as this. Well done, it would not be noticeable.

According to the article by the Board in The Standard, the building is about ready to collapse! I have had an opportunity to read the report by the inspecting engineers and that fact is hardly born out by their report. Here are a few quotations from it:

Unit 1, Southwest corner—"Roof trusses, roof joists and ceiling joists all in good condition. Joist bearing on exterior walls OK." "Lathing for plaster ceilings still tight to ceiling joists and in good condition." "First floor framing condition same as second floor and OK for continued use."

Basement Level—"Stone foundations OK and mortar is tight on inside walls."

Outside of Unit 1—"Brickwork and mortar joints in fairly good condition on this building. One crack on east wall near entrance up high near roof should be closed with mortar. This is an old condition from previous foundation settlement." (The building committee had been told by the engineer that there appeared to be no further settling.)

Conclusions, Unit 1—"Building, although old, is in a reasonable good structural condition."

Unit 2 (Old High School)—"Ceiling joists have considerable sag but OK." "North main truss at east end is not in good shape. It is safe for dead loads but I think it should be repaired and strengthened in case of heavy snow-load-ever-occurs." "Floors east end all slope due to previous foundation settlement. I see no indication of additional movements so would consider floor safe."

Conclusions—"I believe Unit 2 to be structurally safe with exceptions noted above and if north roof truss is repaired."

Unit 3 (Gym, northwest corner)—"Brickwork and foundation looks good. Conclusions—"Unit 3 has no structural problems."

Unit 4 (Home Ec. and Science wing)—"Home Ec. and Science wing has no apparent structural problems. Construction also would meet present day fire requirements structurally. Unit 4 in good shape structurally."

Incidentally, it is quite interesting to note that the Board voted to ask for a new Junior High before the inspection engineers had time to finish the inspection or to issue a report... this at a cost of about $200. Why was this money spent if they already knew what they wanted to do?

The Board states that repairs and alterations on the Junior High school would prolong the use of it for only about five years. Why should this be? New wiring, heating plant, fixtures, staircases, etc., do not wear out in five years. Many of the taxpayers of the district have remodeled their homes, some of which are much older than the school building, and come up with fine results... Some of these homes have been included in the payed for tour of fine Chelsea homes. If $125,000 would make a building useable, $200,000 should do a pretty good job and this would be a very, very small portion of the amount that would be spent for interest on a new building. The 1 1/2 million cost for a new building would be saved (with interest the cost would run to $3 million.)

Are we really doing something for our children when a child in the first grade now will still be paying for the building for a number of years after he is an adult? Those graduating this year will be paying for the high school we built until they are about 45 years of age. We are indeed doing them a service! Let's remember that by having us vote on three buildings at a time we are getting a package deal... a vote for any one will mean a vote for all three... and taxes accordingly.

Perhaps some of the loyal CHS students who wrote to The Standard can do some good to their community by getting across to their age group the fact that marring public buildings, old or new, is a very childish action, distasteful to look at and expensive. It seems that a few have now graduated from painting the boulder on the school grounds to smearing paint on the brick walls of the gym. What is being done about this? A Standard Reader.

A MESSAGE VOTERS FOR ALL

As Chelsea School District electors, parents and taxpayers, we are concerned that the one particularly well qualified candidate for School Board may not be sufficiently well known to all voters to receive the consideration we believe he should be given in next Monday's election. We take this opportunity to make a few comments which we hope will be of interest to you and help you make a thoughtful comparison of the slate.

ROBERT K. TAYLOR, in our opinion, is singularly capable of doing a superior job on our School Board. We believe he would best serve the interests of all people involved in the business of financing and administering our school system in the name of better education at controlled cost.

Mr. Taylor is a successful Manager with one of the community's largest employers and taxpayers. As an Industrialist representative, he would speak for the source of more than one-half of District property tax.

Next year's school expenditures are now committed to reach nearly $1,000,000.00. Assuming a building program is initiated in the immediate future, the total outlay over the next four years will be something like $6 million to $7 million, for all purposes. We strongly believe that the School Board should have at least one Industry member thoroughly trained and experienced in dealing with this kind of money... one who is accustomed to the conservative application of money only for full-value return. We know Mr. Taylor to be that kind of man.

We also know that Mr. Taylor is genuinely interested in providing the best feasible educational program for the children of our District. He has a history of contribution and participation in school affairs. He has children of his own in all levels of the system. Mr. Taylor is an advocate of a well balanced academic curriculum. He considers an effective agricultural and vocational education program no less important. As a local employer and Industrialist he is especially aware of the serious problems facing today's high school graduates trying to enter the vocational world without truly adequate training. He is well suited to deal with the many problems which will arise in the impending building program.

He is in full support of it and, we believe, will favor the construction of sound, basic, functional facilities that will satisfactorily meet our long-term needs. At the same time, as a major taxpayer representative, Mr. Taylor will be cautious about waste and unnecessary costs. This applies not only to the building program, but also to the day-to-day operating expenses.

If you have not yet made a decision from among the five candidates, or if you are committed to one candidate only and are undecided as to the second, we recommend your support of ROBERT K. TAYLOR. We need him on our School Board.

Regardless of your decision,
we urge you to exercise your free voting right
