Old-Fashioned Bargain Days This Week-End

Merchants Co-operating in First Big Retail Promotion of Summer Season

Chelsea's Main Street will be a thoroughfare tomorrow and Sunday as the "Old-Fashioned Bargain Days" sale gets underway.

The first co-operative retail promotion of the year, the week-end event is a replacement of the "Monday Midnight Madness" sale held during the past several years. It is anticipated that this year's crowds will be not only from Chelsea but from many of the nearby communities.

Each retailer participating is offering five "red hot" items at 50¢ off the regular price. The list of items will be available from opening until noon, from noon until 6 p.m., and from 6 p.m. until closing. The Saturday's bargain features will be purchased from opening until noon and from noon until closing time. The regular hours will be held, 9 to 9 on Friday and 10 to 6 on Saturday.

Costumes from the past, worn by a number of the merchants and their wives, will emphasize the promotional theme—as will the decorations, some of which will be reminiscent of "relics" of the 125th celebration of some years back.

Kiwanis Club Entertained at Cassidy Lake

Chelsea Kiwanians were entertained Monday evening at Cassidy Lake Technical School. They were welcomed by Jeremiah MacDougall, assistant director at the school.

The 30 Kiwanis club members present for the dinner were served "an excellent meal," according to reports of the meeting, and thoroughly enjoyed a program of vocal selections presented in the chapel by the chapel "all faiths" choir composed of youths at the school.

Organist and director of the choir is Richard Sharp; musical program co-ordinator is Earl Serat; and choir spokesman is George Brown.

The varied program included numbers such as "The Holy City," "The Lost Chord," "America the Beautiful," and popular tunes.

At the July 6 meeting, it was reported, Fire Chief James Gaken was the guest speaker. In an interesting manner, he outlined the history of Chelsea's volunteer fire department. His grandfather, the late Edmund Gentner, was a member of the department for many years.

Announcement was made that a "Hole-in-One" contest is again being sponsored by the Kiwanis club. Robert Daniels is chairman of the project which is scheduled for July 30-31 at the Chelsea High school athletic field.

A guest at Monday's Kiwanis meeting was James Seelye of Wellington, O., who was introduced by the Rev. John Fall.

The Rev. Warner Siebert, new pastor at St. Paul's United Church of Christ, was a guest at the July 6 meeting.

Suffers Heart Attack

Following four days in St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, Harmon Place will spend the next few weeks at his home, 5137 Park, recuperating from a slight heart attack. Place is manager of the Tower Shell station on the Chelsea-Manchester Rd.

Sheriff's Posse Holds Annual Horse Show Event

The ninth annual Washtenaw County Sheriff's Posse horse show was held Saturday and Sunday at Rural Activities Center on Saline-Ann Arbor Rd.

A total of 150 horses were shown on Saturday and 225 on Sunday.

It was a point-approved quarter horse show operated under rules laid down by the National Quarter Horse Association.

Among the entries were horses from Ohio, Indiana and from many points in Michigan. Prizes and trophies were awarded in the many events held during the two-day show.

Approximately 1,000 people were spectators at the event.

Sheriff's Posse members from this area who assisted at the show in various capacities included Carroll Ordway, Merle Sibley and Harvey Fischer.

Proceeds of the annual show are used for the purchase of equipment for the Sheriff's Posse which is a self-supporting organization.

Sylvan Township Starts Lawsuit To Collect Delinquent Property Tax

Suit in Circuit Court has been filed by Sylvan township for $1,639 in personal property tax which it claims is owed for 1964 by the Tokheim Engineering Co.

The equipment on which the tax was levied by the township supervisor was removed from the company's plant on Old US-12 before Dec. 31, 1964, and in January of this year, the company informed the township that it was not responsible for this tax, the township's complaint states. Tokheim Engineering is based in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Off to Seattle

Patrick Merkel, son of the F. W. Merckels of Main St., left Monday for Seattle, Wash., where he expects to stay for some six weeks. He left by car the same day Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kosiski returned by air with their three children, ending a double visit in Chelsea before and after attending a wedding in the East. Mrs. Kosiski is the daughter of the Norbert Merckels of Cavanaugh Lake.

Local Youth Entering Soap Box Derby

Scott Foster, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Foster, 515 Wilkinson St., is readying his rebuilt soap box racer in which he plans to participate in the annual Ann Arbor Soap Box Derby.

He competed in the 1964 derby but was eliminated in the first event, principally because being "light weight"—he has gained weight and has added weight to his rebuilt racer.

Inspection of all racers is to take place Saturday, July 17, and all will then be impounded until the day of the derby; however, during the week they will be on display along the downtown streets of Ann Arbor.

The Ann Arbor Soap Box Derby is sponsored by the Ann Arbor Junior Chamber of Commerce.

G. A. Sales & Service is sponsoring Foster's entry.

Rummage Sale Slated By Jaycees

Chelsea Jaycees fourth annual Rummage Sale, one of its biggest projects of the year, will be held at the Chelsea Fairgrounds Friday and Saturday, July 16 and 17.

The substantial collection of furniture, appliances and clothing indicates this year's efforts will equal or better last year's results which brought in more than $300.

In charge of the sale are Jerry Blough and Don Bush. For the past two weeks they have been busy gathering stoves, refrigerators, housewares and clothing—of which there seems to be a good selection this year—through a street-by-street pickup last Thursday and personal pickup for those who called.

Everyone is urged to attend the sale and help the Jaycees in their efforts at community betterment through the money earned which goes into equipment for Pierce Park, sponsorship of the Junior Champs baseball teams, aid for the needy and the Easter egg hunt.

Legislators Find United Opposition to Proposed Mill Creek Reservoir

First Summer Band Concert Slated Friday

The first of the outdoor community band concerts planned for this summer will be given tomorrow (July 16) at 7:15 p.m. in the Municipal Parking lot. Under the direction of Bruce Galbraith, the 80-member band will present a program of band music including "The Magic Flute," by Mozart, the "Hall of Fame March," by Olivadoti, and "Cossack Invocation and Dance," by Lenkov.

Rehearsals have been held Wednesday evenings at Chelsea High school. The band is composed of high school students and a number of university students who are spending the summer in the area.

A sizable audience has turned out for the concerts presented during previous summers. According to Galbraith, this year's band expects to repeat the fine performances given in the past. Everyone is welcome to attend, whether headed for the section supplied with seats or those who sit in their cars.

Another concert will be given in about two weeks.

Holiday, Rain Holds Down Rec. Activity

The holiday on Monday and rain on Wednesday brought down the attendance for the second week of operation of the Chelsea Area Recreation programs.

Swimmers at Clear Lake numbered 210. The next highest, 190 participants, turned out for morning sports program at Chelsea High School athletic field, with Babe Ruth League there were 122 at North school, 75; and the evening basketball drew 63, bringing the total for the week to 809.

Concerned Citizens Urge Thorough Investigation of Proposed Alternates

Direct action on the part of Senator Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, followed the Sunday tour of the proposed Mill Creek impoundment area.

Bursley has stated that at the next session of the legislature he will introduce a bill calling for an amendment to current watershed laws, asking for direct representation for those people directly involved in any special project in a given area. According to Bursley, this measure is now being drafted by the Water Resources Commission in Lansing.

Sunday's tour was the first in a series which is being sponsored by the Mill Creek Research Council. It covered much of the 12,500 acres which would be affected by the proposal of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers to create a reservoir. According to the Council, the purpose of the reservoir is to provide low-flow augmentation for the Huron River. Flood control, improved sanitation and added recreational facilities were given as secondary gains.

The Research Council, headed by George Frisinger, has been formed to voice the strong opposition of the residents in the affected area. They claim the sacrifices which would follow the impoundment would far outweigh the benefits.

Charles Powers, Research Council member from Dexter, pointed out while serving as narrator during the tour that great areas of highly-productive farmland and a substantial number of centennial farms and modern residences would be lost.

The Research Council feels that the whole economy of the Chelsea-Dexter area would suffer considerably, curtailing sharply the commercial and industrial development which has been steadily increasing since World War II. The Council also voices the sentiment of most of the area residents when it points out that the recreational facilities available to the public already exceed those of many other parts of the state.

With Senator Bursley on the three-hour bus tour were U. S.

Representative Weston E. Vivian, D-Ann Arbor; and state representatives Charles F. Gray, D-Ypsilanti and Thomas G. Sharpe, R-Howell. Also there were Cecil O. Creal, former mayor from Ann Arbor and a good representation of the city, county and community leaders from Chelsea, Dexter, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, and surrounding communities included in the Mill Creek area.

At Homestead Acres, home of the George Frisingers, where the discussions were continued after the tour, one of the most frequently voiced questions was "What alternate proposal has the Engineers Corps made?" Although none have been offered to date, it is felt that the comparative advantages of two other measures be checked.

The first is the installation of a water supply line from Lake Huron to the downtown Huron Valley communities to meet the accelerated demand for water.

The second, dredging for a series of deeper and smaller pools along Mill Creek, to eliminate the shallow pools of the present proposal. In reference to the latter, one official pointed out that the impoundment would leave an "enormous, muddy mess" where the large and shallow fringe-area pools would be drawn down. It was also pointed out that areas as large as a square mile would be only a few feet deep when filled in the spring and would be empty when the reservoir was drained to augment low-flow levels of the Huron River in summer drought months.

The current proposal includes a flood area of approximately 4,000 acres along the main channel of Mill Creek in southeast Lima township, 1,000 acres around Four-Mile Lake in northwest Lima township, and another 1,000 acres connecting the first two. A series of 10 dams is planned.

Mrs. H. W. Donham, vice-chairman of the Research Council advisory board, announced Sunday's successful tour would be followed by another for a different group on Sunday, July 25.

A GOOD TURN-OUT: An estimated 300 persons gathered at Homestead Acres, home of Mr. and Mrs. George Frisinger on Jerusalem Rd., Sunday following a bus tour arranged by the Mill Creek Research Council. Citizens who live in the area of the proposed reservoir had an opportunity to voice their opposition to the legislators and congressmen who accepted the council's invitation to see for themselves what the proposal would do to the economy of the area if carried out.

THE LANSING REPORT
 FROM
GIL BURSLEY

People are very interested in what the legislature's increased appropriation to the School Aid Fund means to their own school districts.

Let me explain the basis for the increase and then list the dollar amounts which Washtenaw school districts received in the current year and what they will receive in the coming year. Presently the state is paying $236.50 per pupil less 4 1/2 mills based on the property valuation per pupil in the district. We have increased state aid to $255 less 4 1/2 mills. We have also raised the community college support to $380 per pupil adjusted against a $14,500 property valuation. These figures were prepared at my request by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Transportation and special education had been supported by the state on an 87.8 percent basis according to a mathematical formula. The state will now support these programs 100 percent.

This means dollar support to Washtenaw School Districts as follows:

For Ann Arbor $2,404,256 (old figures will be in parentheses) $2,334,946; transportation $90,847 ($80,670); special education $147,807 ($128,412).

For Ypsilanti $1,478,857 ($1,440,463); transportation $25,554 ($22,494); special education $24,734 ($215,330).

For Chelsea $329,407 ($306,040); transportation $11,880 ($87,193); special education $9,885 ($8,155).

For Dexter $268,608 ($249,532); transportation $42,481 ($37,726); special education $8,995 ($8,995).

For Lincoln Consolidated $819,765 ($297,033); transportation $46,568 ($41,347); special education $18,833 ($16,400).

For Manchester $212,412 ($197,250); transportation $30,383 ($26,583); special education $9,863 ($8,532).

For Milan $539,050 ($458,213); transportation $52,752 ($46,848); special education $15,069 ($13,068).

For Saline $340,544 ($316,326); transportation $33,570 ($29,812); special education $4,966 ($4,201).

For Whitmore Lake $187,206 ($175,827); transportation $24,470 ($21,739); special education $6,671 ($5,086).

For Willow Run $788,049 ($741,746); transportation $22,721 ($20,178); special education $32,000 ($28,528).

Farmers Show 'City Cousins' How To Stop Surplus

If the farmers' "city cousins" drank as much milk as is consumed on the farm, there wouldn't be any milk surplus problem.

Don Murray, Michigan State University dairy specialist, points out that on the farm per capita milk consumption is 87 pounds more than that consumed by urban and suburban folks. Yet, the difference is declining. Just 10 years ago, farm per capita milk consumption was 126 pounds higher than for non-farm consumers.

"If we had the non-farm consumer up to the farm per capita consumption, our surplus would disappear," says the MSU dairy specialist. "In fact, about 60 pounds of this 87-pound difference would eliminate our surplus."

Murray adds that the 60-pound difference on a per capita basis would amount to about 2 1/2 ounces of milk per meal—about one extra swallow.

Murphy Corps aviation had its inception in May 1912. In August 1912 Lieutenant Alfred A. Cunningham was the first Marine to solo after 2 hours and 40 minutes of instruction.

A GOOD LEADER IS THOUGHTFUL

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Right To Try
 Northern Michigan University at Marquette may become a haven for high school graduates with difficulties enrolling in overcrowded colleges.

The philosophy of Northern President Edgar L. Harden is that education must become more inclusive—to allow more young people "the right to test themselves against the realities of college or university life."

Harden described his view recently at the summer meeting of the Michigan Press Association at Marquette. "Higher education must serve a handful of people, not a handful," he said.

Students who find other colleges closed to them because of low entrance examination results or other problems might do well to try Northern Michigan.

"We do not believe that test scores alone can measure ability. We do not believe that arbitrary percentages or inflexible admission policies should turn the key that locks the classroom door to the student who wants to make the effort."

"Neither do we believe that admission should be contingent upon the size of dad's pocketbook or mother's position in the social register," says Harden.

Currently one of the smaller of Michigan's state-supported colleges, Northern is looking toward tremendous growth which likely will be helped partly by its president's view of the role of higher education.

"Those who would limit higher education contend that too many of our young people already are in college," he says.

"Our greatest concern should not be for those who are in college but for those who should be. When you diminish the opportunity for education, you compound the growing problems of delinquency, unemployment, irresponsibility, immorality and indifference."

Not So Bad
 Predictions are sometimes interesting to view in retrospect. One such was made last November and in succeeding months by Harry R. Hall, executive vice-president of the State Chamber of Commerce.

Immediately following the November election, Hall set out through the state to fulfill part of his responsibility. This is to keep Michigan businessmen informed of state legislative activities.

At that time Hall felt compelled to warn businessmen that there would be troubled times ahead. The 1955 session was to be the trouble spot because of the new majority control by Democrats.

One obvious factor was cited by Hall in his gloomy series of remarks. The sheer newness of many legislators would make it more difficult to foresee what would happen. He termed the session "the most staggering challenge" in the history of Michigan business.

Hall thought, however, that "some developments can be predicted with a high degree of fidelity."

The power struggle between the Democratic legislature and the Republican Executive office will make previous battles between these two, when party alignments were switched, seem like summer picnic games by comparison," he said.

In this his main prediction the legislators fooled him. Relations between Gov. George Romney and the lawmakers were relatively to Muslim bed sheets. On account of Muslim being a heap lighter, he reports, it is saving $66,000 a year on the laundry bill.

But the biggest item in this new economy drive in Washington was a dollar bill. Them folks that prints our money has come up with a new kind of paper that increases the "life expectancy" of the dollar bill from 12 months to 18 months. Senator Young reports this will save more'n a million dollars a year in the printing and paper bill. Personal, I been mighty patriotic about saving the wear and tear on a dollar bill. I ain't been able to hold on to one more's a couple days since we crossed the New Frontier. Somebody else is wearing 'em out, Mister Editor, not me.

And I see where a Congressman from Georgia was lamenting that politics has not got mixed up in education at the first grade level. Maybe the time is coming when we can get a little first grade education mixed in with politics. That'll be the day when matter in the Congress might take a turn for the better.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

CAP Director Nominated For National Service Award

Mrs. Venita Dickerson, founder and president of CAP, Inc., has been awarded a citation and named a finalist for the Lane Bryant award.

Lane Bryant awards are presented each year to individuals and groups for volunteer service to the community.

The 1964 awards committee will include Senator Robert F. Kennedy, Andrew Goodman, president of Bergdorf Goodman, Judge Thurgood Marshall, Henry Cabot Lodge, and Rosemary Park, president of Barnard College.

The citations which were presented to 10 percent of the nominees, were selected by the New York University graduate school of social work.

CAP, a non-profit organization owned and operated by handicapped workers, was founded in 1960 by Mrs. Dickerson. Since that time 10 persons have found jobs in industry with the aid of CAP and 50 others are now at work in the plant turning out work.

for Ford Motor Co., Parke, D. & Co., Upjohn, Reynolds, C. Burroughs, Rockwell-Standard and many others.

Blindness, polio, mental retardation, cerebral palsy, high blood pressure and epilepsy are among the handicaps encountered at CAP.

"The transformation in people is miraculous. After they work a couple of weeks and draw a salary it does wonders for them. They feel like they can hold their heads up again," Mrs. Dickerson said.

"If given a chance, these people can produce," she said.

Presently CAP is involved in a $200,000 drive for a new facility. Construction will be soon on the new 15,000-square-foot plant which will be capable of holding 150 employees and include a sheltered workshop for the severely handicapped.

Mrs. Dickerson said she hopes to break ground for the new building within a month and move within four months after groundbreaking ceremonies.

Scouts Returning This Week-End From New Mexico

Chelsea Boy Scouts and their leaders, headed by Ralph Frisch, who took part in the 12-day expedition at Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico, returned to their homes this week-end. The trip home this week-end was the activities which included their scouting skills, experiences and gave them a greater awareness of the outdoor world. Survival instructions, map reading, hiking through the rugged mountainous terrain was experience which they found especially challenging. Mementos of the trip were a "made it" plaque and the Philmont arrowhead patches which some prize possessions of the scouts who successfully complete the annual trek. Memorable points of interest included Tooth of Time, a 9,000-foot butte; the Ciphers mine and a working gold mine.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Francis Hufner and her son Ronald, formerly of Arizona and now of Lansing, spent some time recently visiting Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hufner, 220 South St.

Mrs. Charles Slane, Jr., and daughter, Andrea, of Riverdale, N.Y., arrived Sunday night for a visit at the home of Mrs. Charles Slane, Sr. Her husband will join them next week for a two-week stay. Also a guest of Mrs. Slane this week is her niece, Sally Scott, of Mesa, Ariz.

Back from a vacation in St. Louis, Mo., Tulsa, Okla., and other points west, are Conservation Officer Donley Boyer, his wife and two of their children. In St. Louis, they stayed with the Keith Boyers, who are now visiting relatives in Chelsea, among whom are Mr. and Mrs. Mac Packard of Madison St.

of interest included Tooth of Time, a 9,000-foot butte; the Ciphers mine and a working gold mine.

Camp Youth Will Present Stage Plays

Two melodramas and several scenes from Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" will be presented tomorrow (July 16) at 2:30 p.m. by the Dramatic Workshop of the Children's Theatre at Homestead Acres Theatre camp, 13450 Jerusalem Rd.

The second three-week session at Homestead Acres will begin on July 19. Its major project will be a production of Aristophanes' "The Birds" in the camp's new Greek Theatre. The director is Morton Achter, who also serves as director for the Ann Arbor Civic Theatre, the Gilbert and Sullivan Society and the University Players.

Homestead Acres camp provides an opportunity for young people, ages 9 through 17, who want an opportunity for young people to develop his interest through experience. In addition to drama, the program offered includes stage design, set construction, stage lighting, costuming, makeup and movement, creative writing and writing for the camp newspaper.

Further information concerning the camp may be obtained from its owner, Mrs. George Frisinger.

Kathy Foster in Group Headed for Scout Roundup

Twenty-four girls and five adult leaders from the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council left Ann Arbor yesterday for the International Girl Scout Roundup at Farragut, Ida.

In training since last November, the scouts are virtually self-sufficient, prepared to set up camp kitchens, pitch tents, cook meals and furnish special entertainment for other Scouts and guests attending the Roundup. Some 11,000 girls from the U.S.A. and overseas will gather in the tent city about to spring up on the parklands at Farragut.

Eight of the girls in the Huron Valley group have had training in newspaper writing, and two of the girls have had special work in recording tapes for radio. These 10 girls earned a Public Relations Aide Bar during their training and will channel reports on the Roundup back to their hometowns. Scouts attending the Roundup are:

Patrol I: Jean Nevins and Margaret Rogers, Ann Arbor; Patricia Dopkowski, Brighton; Ann Whitesell, Plymouth; Faye Langert, Plymouth; Leota Kyko, New Boston; Janis Coe, Saline; and Rachel Baker, Wayne.

Patrol II: Pamela Sekaros and Patty Higgins, Ann Arbor; Kathy Foster, Chelsea; Pamela Lennox, Howell; Mary Louise, Horsfall; Northville; Mary Ronk, Plymouth; Margaret Beal, Saline; and Diane Rogers, Wayne.

Patrol III: Pamela Warren, Nancy Kelley and Laurie Pearlman, Ann Arbor; Lindsay Adams, Brighton; Charlene Deasy, Saline; Sally McKenzie, Plymouth; Joan Shackelford, Wayne; and Sandra Herold, Ypsilanti.

Adult Scouts going to Farragut are: Mrs. Sekaros, Mrs. Carlton

INTEREST AROUSED: Concern of the Chelsea-Dexter area residents over the proposed Mill Creek reservoir impoundment was strongly indicated by the large crowd which turned out Sunday for the bus tour of the area under study. In the group above are State Representative Thomas G. Sharpe, R-Howell (left to right); Robert Kaercher, 12075 Island Lake Rd., Dexter; Robert Heller, 1610 Guenther Rd., Chelsea; and William Chandler, 765 Howard Rd., Chelsea.

Nevins and Nancy Nevins from Ann Arbor; Mrs. Howard Spooner, Brighton; and Mrs. Norman Price, Wayne.

Also taking the Roundup training were eight Scouts in an Alternate Patrol. Unless called upon to replace any of the girls unable to attend the Idaho encampment at the last minute, the alternates will go to Lima, Ill., as guests of Camp Saukenauk near Quincy.

There are at least five million adults ready to give the June graduates their best advice.

New Road Carved Through Porcupine Mountains Park

The wondrous beauty of the Porcupine Mountains will unfold this summer for all motorists who seek new adventure.

A new road is now ready with completion date set being around June 15.

In the past, the rugged beauty of the Porcupine Mountains was seen by only a hardy few who braved the wilderness on foot while motorists had to be content to gaze from afar, said Jerry E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager.

The last portion of the new road to be completed was a section from M-107 south to Nonesuch Mine.

The new road will let tourists drive the full east-west span of the 58,000 acres which hug the Lake Superior shore in the far northwestern portion of the Upper Peninsula.

The park area, which covers approximately 25 miles, is in Ontonagon county.

Generally, the road keeps well away from the primitive heart of the park, but it does take the motorist along its edge and at two points, via short spur roads, even inside that edge, Fisher pointed out. One spur leads to a magnificent overlook point, the other puts the visitor almost on the banks of a sparkling, rock-strewn stream hurrying down to Lake Superior.

To reach the true east-west-tion of South Boundary, the visitor who has been into the park via Silver City must turn south on the road commonly called Nonesuch Mine Rd. It turns west and becomes South Boundary Rd. just above the old Nonesuch Mine about four miles south of M-107.

Superlative scenery and a true sample of Porcupine country mark every mile of the way. The road opens a new world of opportunity for campers and hikers. Likewise for the fisherman, the remote trout waters are brought within hop-skip-jump distance from the car.

South Boundary Rd., provides straight shot from the southeastern corner of the park to the Presque Isle River on the western end. Here, after a series of falls, the river plunges in the largest of the Great Lakes.

Until construction of the road the only way a visitor in the eastern segment of the park could reach the falls was over a route about route of 50 miles—from Silver City on Lake Superior south to Bergland on M-44, westward to Wakefield on M-28, the north again about 10 miles on county road from Wakefield, new road cuts into the Wakefield Presque Isle Falls road only a mile south of the falls.

To reach the true east-west-tion of South Boundary, the visitor who has been into the park via Silver City must turn south on the road commonly called Nonesuch Mine Rd. It turns west and becomes South Boundary Rd. just above the old Nonesuch Mine about four miles south of M-107.

AGRICULTURE In Action

by M. L. Woell
MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

★ Busy Session

It appears that technically, at least, the legislature intends to remain in session throughout the entire year. Although in recess, there are plans for a two-day session in the last part of July, and then another recess until about Sept. 14 when a fall session will convene.

Farmers will be much concerned when the legislature again meets, for a good part of the unfinished business directly affects them—such things as the widely discussed anti-monopoly milk pricing bill and tax reform.

In general, farmers have fared well in the first session of the 73rd Michigan legislature. Two food inspection bills were passed, one dealing with dairy and one with meat.

The total, over-all effect of the new Uniform Dairy Inspection law will be to assure that milk passing inspection in one part of the state will be accepted in all other areas of the state. Present duplicate inspections will be knocked out, with dairy farmers no longer plagued with confusing, multiple inspections and a variety of inspection standards to meet.

Similarly, the state-wide uniform meat inspection and slaughterhouse licensing bill will assure uniform standards for meat in our state; and for the first time Michigan inspected meat may now cross county lines formerly closed in many cases by lack of uniform inspection standards. Farm leaders feel that the new law, operating under the supervision of the state Department of Agriculture, will remove many roadblocks to the growth of Michigan's livestock industry.

Perhaps the single most important measure passed in this session is that of state government reorganization. Farmers are delighted that the Department of Agriculture will continue as one of 19 major departments, and that it will be under the direction of an Agriculture Commissioner.

In the past, Michigan farmers had the unhappy experience of working with a politically appointed director, and waged a major fight to place the Department of Agriculture under Commission status. Most agree now that under this Commission arrangement and with the present Department Director, Michigan has enjoyed one of the most effective departments of agriculture of any state in the Union.

Mrs. M. J. Dunkel, 323 S. Main, left Willow Run airport Tuesday, headed for Phoenix, Ariz., where she was met by her son, Mahlon Dunkel. After spending a few days there, they will fly to Monrovia, Calif., then on to see her daughter, Mrs. Edith G. Morrison, in Santa Monica, Calif. Before returning home (by jet) she will spend some time in Los Angeles.

Circuit Court Suit Charges Illegal Search

A Dexter resident who states that he was illegally searched by a Dexter police officer, who is also a deputy sheriff, has started suit in Circuit Court for $25,000.

John Cupp, 7951 Forest, names as defendants Washtenaw county, the Village of Dexter and Robert Hunawill, the officer.

Cupp states that he was driving with his wife into the American Legion Post in Dexter at 12:55 a.m. on June 24, when Hunawill, in a Dexter police car, demanded that Cupp get out and allow the officer to search his car. The officer also forcibly searched his person over Cupp's protest, Cupp states.

The Dexter man contends that there was no warrant for the search and that there was nothing in his conduct, appearance or driving which would give Hunawill reason to believe that laws were being violated or that there was any contraband in the auto.

Language Barrier Overcome By Signs

The international language barrier at the home of the Rev. Wilber Silvernail, pastor of the Waterloo EUB church, has been solved through a centuries-old expedient—sign language—by his two daughters and their two younger cousins from Japan.

The visiting girls are here with their mother, Mrs. Yoshio Kazuko Toda, a chum of Mrs. Silvernail's from their high school days in Yokohama.

Last Friday, Mrs. Silvernail drove to Toronto to pick up the ladies and her brother and his family, then headed for Niagara Falls. The week-end was spent in touring the Falls area. Monday, along with the Yokohama visitors she returned to Waterloo. The travelers have been on an extensive vacation, with points in Mexico, northern Canada and along the California coast included in their itinerary. They leave Waterloo this week-end.

Parents Show No Evidence of Trust

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I have a serious problem. I am sure other girls have this problem, too. My mother does not trust me, neither does my father. You probably think they have a reason. They do. Some of my girlfriends have boyfriends and they meet them up town on Saturdays—not all of the time, but sometimes. So my parents think I do everything, and I mean everything. But I don't. I have never not want you to do some of the things some of your friends do. It is obvious that we are talking about doing some things that are "wrong" things. Your parents have an obligation to you. It may sound corny, but your parents sometimes have to "protect" you from your friends and from your own immaturity.

If your parents make accusations, these accusations are made in ignorance of the true facts. Think about it for a moment and you will probably realize you have given them reason to be suspicious. Correct this mistake by telling them the truth—all of it—all of the time, about everything. Establish better communication with your parents. Don't ruin your life, and theirs too, most likely, by using their exercise of parental supervision as an excuse to do things you know, and they know, you should not do.

OUR REPLY: You failed to say how old you are. But, no matter. Whether you are thirteen or seventeen, you are confused. You want to do some of the things your friends do; your parents do

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

It is noteworthy that with a few exceptions, the budget measures adopted by the state legislature follow closely the recommendations of five months ago. In the fields of higher education, mental health and the state building program, they continue and accelerate the massive program of improved public services initiated two years ago. I the case of public health, the bill includes many new and important programs recommended in my budget message of Feb. 2.

These bills are a recognition of the need to continue the efforts launched in 1963 to put Michigan back into the forefront of the states in meeting the basic public service needs of people.

On May 28, when all legislation had passed the house of origin, total appropriations represented by the 12 major bills and by miscellaneous legislation totaled $862 million. A budget of this magnitude would have violated all principles of fiscal integrity and certainly would have left Michigan in a deficit position at the start of the next fiscal year.

As Governor I called attention to the dangers inherent in this situation and promised that unless the level of spending was substantially reduced, I would be forced to veto budget bills in their entirety. I was not alone in this admonition. Certain legislative leaders joined me in this warning.

As a result by June 22, when all bills had passed both houses, total spending had been reduced to about $820.4 million and a few days later, following conference committee, became $820.4 million.

I have concluded that although the final budget exceeds recommendations by nearly $32 million, the budget is manageable primarily as a result of continued favorable economic trends which have also increased revenues. In fact, revenues for the new budget year are now expected to be about $27 million higher than our original estimates of six months ago, and the surplus on June 30, 1966, is now anticipated to be $10 million to $12 million greater than our $72 million forecast of last February.

Some $1.6 billion in plant expansions were announced in 1964 to set a new record for Michigan. The six-month totals for 1965 are $881,628,000, over half of last year's 12-month total.

In addition, we have already started the third quarter of the year with an announced $100 million expansion by the White Pine Division of Copper Range Co. in the Upper Peninsula. This announcement brings us close to the $1 billion level which we didn't reach in 1964 until about September 1.

But the real meaning of this economic success is in terms of people.

It means more jobs and less unemployment, it means opportunities in new and growing fields, it means business for the retailer and the farmer and the motel operator, and it means increased tax revenues to permit us to better meet the public service needs of the people.

Thus, although spending is substantially higher than my recommended $788 million budget, additional revenues will very nearly meet the additional expenditures in this final product.

My frequent warnings have only been reinforced that we stand on the brink of another period of deficiency and difficulty unless we are prepared either to hold to a stand-still budget next year or deal now with the need for tax reform and increased revenues.

Barring an abnormal level of economic growth, this 1965-66 budget leaves nothing available one year from now for new programs or improvements in existing programs. The expected year-end surplus of $82 million will all be eaten up by "build-in" increases resulting from applying the higher level of expenditures to our expanding population.

It is difficult to comprehend a stand-still year in this period of exploding population and expanding public service needs. Yet there will be no improvement in programs in 1966-67 as we have en-

THE LETTERBOX

Chelsea Standard Letter-box:

There seems to be some discrepancies in the estimated total cost of the school building program. Mr. Ed Lewis reports the cost as $1,500,000; contradicting my statement of cost as approximately $2,000,000. Will Mr. Lewis and anyone else interested please refer to page 1 of the April 8 issue of The Chelsea Standard where it reads "School Packet Cost Estimated Near $2 Million." Further on it refers to the cost as "ranging from $1,600,000 to $2 million." Costs quite often have a way of reaching the highest estimates. (remember the elimination of 10 classrooms on the high school?) and it is entirely possible this higher estimate would be reached. This estimate was by the architect.

There might be some protest; however, I have heard it mentioned repeatedly by various people that the garden court in the high school would make a fine classroom (it is usually weedy anyway), the glass locker room would make two classrooms if the lockers could be placed in the halls as they are in most schools. We have been told that part of the home economics room could be utilized as a classroom along with part of the Industrial Arts room. True, this would involve some expense, but minor compared with building new. We cannot readily see if we close our eyes to alternatives.

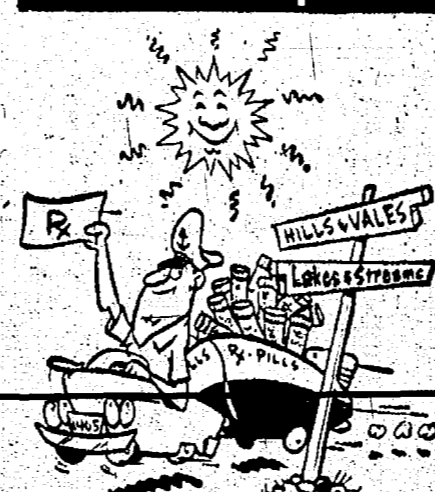

On April 22 the School Board Briefs stated, "It is felt that it is grossly unfair to the candidate and the district... to make that candidate form a position on school finance without having had some encounter with it at meetings," therefore their election should not be held at the same time as the millage. This contradicts the fact that each candidate this year was asked before election at public meeting, his or her stand on the building program, school art, music and physical education program; yet none of them had been in contact with the issues at meetings. These issues have quite a bearing on school finance.

I might add that my object in pointing out good things in the architectural report on the Jr. High buildings was to present the side that had been obviously omitted in previous publications. A Standard Reader.

joyed in this three-year period unless we take needed tax action in the months ahead.

So in signing these budget bills for 1965-66, I do so with a firm conviction to do everything within my power as Governor to meet our future needs and at the same time safeguard our hard won fiscal integrity. I enlist the support of every citizen and every public official in this endeavor.

ANOTHER RETIREE CHANTS
A SAD SONG OF SUBURBIA

"Yours for less togetherness." With that, William W. Glen sings his song of retirement in suburbia. And a pretty sad song it is.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen bought their "little chunk of Heaven" eight years ago. It was an acre in the corner of a 10-acre orange grove. They planted trees and flowers, built a home with patio, and "proceeded to dream of our retirement among the orange blossoms."

"Two years ago came the spoilers, who have since moved on to greener pastures, like summer locusts. The orange trees are gone. They left behind them a string of paper houses with cement floors, pre-cast fireplaces, and chimneys of cement that were hauled to the job in batches like cordwood and stuck to cement blocks."

"Behind the spoilers, says Mr. Glen, 'came the suckers, from every state in the union and ready for the shearing.' They had little money for down-payment on one of the homes but can make fat monthly payments as long as there is a job."

"With this stream of humanity came the noise. Each householder had his transportation, sometimes two or three cars, and from three to eight children. Each little cubicle of black-walled backyard became the depository of a couple of hounds."

According to Mr. Glen, when garbage is taken to the incinerator at the rear of his lot, a big collie across the wall starts barking angrily. This is followed by the high-pitched yips of two French poodles and a dachshund next door. Then comes the shepherd on the other side racing madly around the yard. To complete the chorus there is the forlorn howl of a dog locked in a garage across the street.

"Mother and I have been married for 41 years, and have raised dogs and dogs and dogs. We loved them all. But we have always seen to it that they were properly housed so they annoyed no one."

Mr. Glen takes a sad view of the "riotous generation" he finds around him, but concedes his own generation is partly responsible. "We raised 'em. But I did hope they would have appreciated our bringing them here, just a little more."

"We senior citizens can't get off the earth, not just yet anyway. And we ask so little, considering that we are just a couple of mean, sour, disgruntled old souls."

"All we ask is to live and let live."

Chelsea Represented By 7
At Kiwanis Convention

Chelsea was well represented at the largest convention in the 50-year history of the Kiwanis Clubs, held recently in New York City. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Niehaus, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Nielsen and Mrs. Florio Maye took part in the four-day program July 4-8 which attracted some 18,000 members and their families to Madison Square Garden.

Among the top personalities who addressed the Kiwanians were: Edward B. Moylan, Jr., Miami, president of Kiwanis International; the Honorable George Murphy, United States Senator from California; Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, pastor of the Marble Collegiate church, New York; the Honorable Jean Lesage, prime minister of Quebec; W. P. Gullander, president of the National Association of Manufacturers; Art Linkletter, radio-TV star; Nelson A. Rockefeller, governor of the State of New York; Robert Moses, president of the New York World's Fair; Barbara Cook, star of the Broadway musical comedy, "Any Wednesday"; and Josette Campbell, New York couturier designer.

Business scheduled for transaction included the election of international officers and trustees for the year ahead, adoption of convention resolutions upon which the organization's community service programs will be based, and the recognition of top Kiwanis clubs and districts from throughout the organization for excellence in community service and administration.

Also featured on the program for this Golden Anniversary gathering were some 30 amateur musical groups and performers sponsored by Kiwanis clubs; a historical flag presentation by the Naval Aviation Cadet Flag Team of Pensacola, Fla.; "Kiwanis International Day at the World's Fair"; "An Afternoon of Inter-

Gelman Firm Wins $100,000 Defense Contract

U. S. Representative Weston E. Vivian this week announced the award of Defense Department orders totaling approximately $100,000, to Gelman Instrument Co. of Ann Arbor.

The orders are currently being manufactured for two government agencies. The latest U. S. Air Force air sampler brings the total number of Gelman air samplers in use at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., to 700. Tests of toxic rocket exhausts are now being conducted with these units. Such tests are necessary to determine whether it will be safe to launch space vehicles employing new types of high-energy fuels.

The Defense Medical Supply Agency has contracted with Gelman for portable bacteriological incubators and membrane filters. The filters are used in the "white rooms" that are used as essential part of the space program where they assure the ultra-cleanliness of assembly areas.

Michigan Lore Preserved at Reconstructed Straits Fort

Through the cannon ports of blockhouses stacked between the palisades of Fort Michilimackinac at Mackinaw City visitors can see Michigan's upper peninsula, Mackinac Island and the majestic Mackinac Bridge.

With the exception of the bridge, the view is much the same today as it was in 1715 when the French, seeking to exploit the area's lucrative fur trade, constructed the original fort to guard the strategic Straits of Mackinac. In the 65 years that followed, Fort Michilimackinac was the setting for treachery, violence, intrigue and despair. Its ever-changing cast of characters was composed of French and British military personnel, voyageurs, Indians, coureurs de bois, trappers, missionaries and traders.

From here, an Indian party was assembled to help rout British General Braddock's expedition in Pennsylvania. Here the British garrison was massacred under the encouragement of Chief Pontiac. Here, Major Robert Rogers plans to find a northwest passage began and ended dimly. During the next 100 years, the elements that swept across the ted squares in search of historical refuge.

Included within the palisaded confines of the fort are such reconstructed buildings as the Commanding Officer's Quarters, where Major Rogers ruled the garrison, was accused as a traitor, and later acquitted; the guard house, soldiers' barracks, storehouses and the homes of officers, traders and other inhabitants.

At the Church of St. Anne de Michilimackinac visitors can attend a wedding—a re-enactment of a ceremony that occurred some 200 years ago—staged by means of modern electronics, sequence lighting and stereophonic sound. Diagrams have been constructed in several of the buildings, some with actual furnishings of the mid-18th century period; other furnishings have been fabricated from drawings and historic records.

Wholly owned and operated by the State of Michigan as an historic project and attraction, Fort Michilimackinac is visited by thousands of persons annually, according to the Michigan Tourist Council. The fort is open to visitors daily throughout the summer months.

Newsletters collect food, clothing and money for the needy they teach youngsters how to swim; they clamor for better schools, more hospitals and less civil waste.

Wherever you fish for sport—on the ocean, by the booming surf, or on some quiet country pond, it's great at the end of the day to head for a rewarding glass of beer. While you're talking over the ones that got away, or pan-frying the ones that didn't, you enjoy the hearty taste and cool refreshment only a glass of beer can give you so well. Yes, whatever your sport—bowling or strolling, golfing or gardening—a frosty glass of beer makes a naturally great accompaniment.

IN THE OPEN

By Lee Smits

In calling a long roll of outdoor personalities I do not find the equal of Jim Esbery, dean of Canadian guides. I got off the train at Oba on the Algoma Central on his 80th birthday. Every able-bodied man in the community was exhilarated in honor of the occasion, except Jim.

In summer and fall Jim guides fishermen and hunters from Dick Watson's Pine Portage Camps on Lake Kabinakagami, 40 or 50 miles north of any roads, in winter Jim traps, and thinks nothing of snowshoeing from his cabin on Cameron Lake to Oba and back, 12 miles each way.

My visits to Pine Portage are devoted largely to conversation with Jim Esbery—and eating fish. We catch enough walleyes for a feed, go ashore; Jim unloads a supply box and presently we have fish, fried potatoes, tea, home-made bread, authentic butter, jam, maybe half a pie—and talk.

For some years I have tried to prevail on Jim to cook a walleye without removing the bones. No matter how I plead with him, he automatically slices off filets. I like boiled pike. Jim says that northerns are dog feed. I never win the argument.

Every fish-eater is entitled to his preferences but along without preferences most of us have prejudices. There is a Fish and Wildlife Service publication, "Fishes of the Middle West," intended to remove some common notions about the edibility of various species of fish.

The Great Lakes fish called burbot, losh, lawyer or ling is generally discarded except by sagacious commercial fishermen. For one thing, losh liver is a great delicacy. The liver is huge, in proportion to the size of the fish. It is rich in Vitamin A. The lawyer is a fresh-water edition of the codfish. It prefers deep, cold water, down to 700 feet, coming into shallow water at night to feed.

Says the government booklet, "In Europe it has long been esteemed as a great delicacy, both for its white and delicate flesh and for its liver."

It didn't seem possible that a spokesman for the United States government would have a good word to say for the dogfish as a delicacy. But here it is.

"Try smoked bowfin as a substitute for smoked salmon, herring or finnan haddie. The chances are you will agree with Gowanloch, Louisiana biologist and gourmet, who pronounced the bowfin 'one of the best of all smoked fishes.'"

Those who have tried fresh dogfish tell me it resembled cotton batten.

Never did I expect to find the gar pike recommended for eating purposes.

Gar pike are lively fighters, but hard to hook. A fine wire snare, or cluster of snares, surrounding a minnow on a wire leader, leading to a lengthy cane pole, is said to be effective for gar pike. At a strike, you yank, hoping to snare the fish.

Here's what the man in Washington has to say about gar pike: "The meat is white and whole, some and is at its best smoked."

Sheephead are common in the lower Great Lakes. The booklet gives interesting information on this species. In some waters sheephead attain a weight of 50 and 60 pounds. The largest I ever knew of in Michigan was a 10-pounder. The sheephead is also called grunt because it makes a sound under water. It feeds on mussels or clams. It has a small bone, like a stone, in its skull.

The booklet says a small sheephead is "tender-meated, of excellent flavor—easily digested and rich in nutritious elements."

"Suckers," according to the booklet, "have a firm, sweet and flaky meat."

Carp, taken from cold water, especially the smaller males, are esteemed by well-informed gourmets. Smoked carp is a real treat. Carp have been a banquet dish in Europe for centuries.

The carp was imported from China to Europe in 1227. It was introduced in England 200 years later and in 1870 was brought from Germany to the United States—by the federal government—and planted in the waters of 25 states and territories.

The booklet says that carp is not merely palatable, "but a real delicacy, broiled, fried, baked or stewed."

Mothproofing of Washable Woolens Done in Washer

Your washable woolens may soon come out of the washer mothproofed as well as cleaner, brighter, softer and more wrinkle-free.

Recent United States Department of Agriculture research has revealed that mothproofing is an asset of quaternary ammonium (QA) compounds commonly used by homemakers to sanitize and soften their washes. Mrs. Helen Fairman, Washtenaw county home economics agent.

The most successful tests show that the treated fabrics are 15 times more effective in repelling the clothes moth larvae than untreated fabrics.

USDA researchers also found that QA compounds added to automatic washers provide more protection. They believe that this may be associated with the rinsing cycles.

The addition of QA compounds is convenient and safe, as well as inexpensive. Only about three-fourths of an ounce of the compound is needed for two gallons of water. Homemakers now use much higher concentrations in their washers for fabric softening purposes without harmful or irritating effects on the skin.

Some of the mothproofing protection has lasted through three washings without adding any more of the QA compound.

Even smaller concentrations of the compound were found to protect the cloth from the carpet beetle larvae. This was unexpected because mothproofing is usually not as effective against the carpet beetle.

Mrs. Fairman notes that preliminary drycleaning tests have also been encouraging. Present data shows that a single treatment with the QA compound is more lasting through additional drycleanings than through additional washings.

CLEAN THE FIREPLACE

Protect the spring cleaning you have done by doing a thorough job of cleaning fireplaces, radiators, hot air grills and ducts. Dust and grime accumulated for months will cling to them and sift onto clean floors, walls and furniture unless you do a complete cleaning job, say Michigan State University home management specialists.

Price Protection Available on New 1965 Crop Wheat

The 1965 wheat harvest in Michigan should start in volume this week, stated Earl Doletsky, chairman, of the Washtenaw Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. Producers who are participating in the 1965 wheat diversion program or have new wheat allotment farms and planted within their allotment are eligible for support on their 1965 production Doletsky stated.

A producer may take his wheat to an approved warehouse and obtain a negotiable warehouse receipt or if the producer has acceptable storage on his farm, he may obtain a farm stored loan. In either case, the first step is to file an application for price support with the Washtenaw ASCS county office. The 1965 loan rate for No. 1 wheat in Washtenaw county is $1.24 per bushel.

Beginning last year with the 1964 loan program, we have used community committees as commodity inspectors stated Doletsky. The commodity inspector makes an inspection of the farm stored collateral jointly with the producer. This is a much simplified inspection compared with the method used prior to 1964. Under this method, Doletsky pointed out, the commodity inspector and farmer inspect the storage structure and grain together to determine the general condition of the commodity and estimate the quantity.

There are actually three main objectives in the Price Support program stated, Doletsky. First, to make money from farm stored loans available more quickly to the producer. Second to stress the advantage to producers in redeeming their loans whenever the market price is above the support rate. And, third, to streamline and simplify the price support program so that it is easily understood by farmers.

SHORT SLEEVE SHIRTS

TOP SUMMER NEWS

It is a fact that 85% of the shirts sold during the summer months have short sleeves. The reason for this is that men's styles are most always a result of a search for comfort.

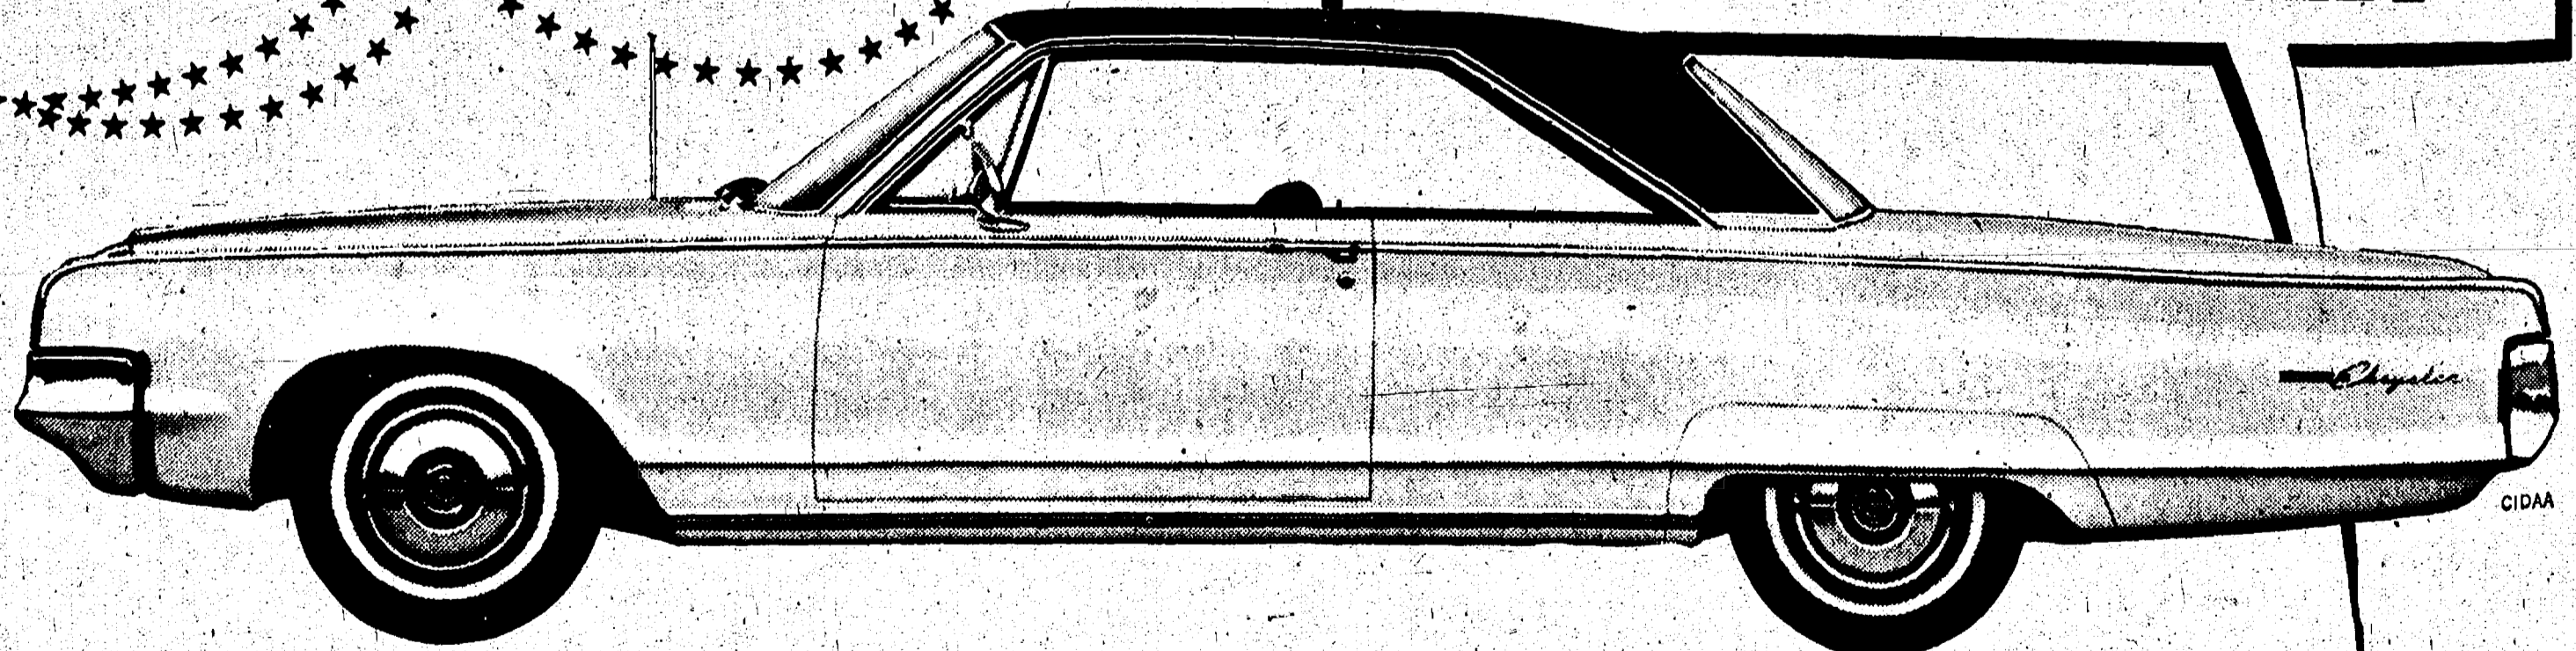

The short-sleeve dress shirt is a two-purpose item. Button the collar and wear a tie, you have a dress shirt. Wear the shirt collar open and it is a smart sport shirt.

Your summer shirts are available in the new wash and wear fabrics — choose from the popular white or most any color and design you want. Several short-sleeve shirts are a must for every man's summer wardrobe.

"Why are Chryslers
so popular these days?"

"PRICE ONE!"

You'll find that seven models (including this one) are priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars, comparably equipped. These aren't stripped down Chryslers either. You get everything you want on a big car: power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission, radio, heater. Plus a big 383 cu. in. V-8 that runs on regular gas. One more point. Every Chrysler we sell is a full-size car on a 124-inch wheelbase. A lot more car for your money. Move up to the most popular Chrysler in history. It's easy.

Road Commission Tells Employees of New Pay Schedule

The Washtenaw County Board of Road Commissioners has announced changes in hours, wages and holiday schedules for all regular and probationary employees. The regular work week will be reduced to 40 hours. Pay scales will be revised to provide no less than the amount now being paid for the present 45-hour week. This change will be effective from the July 17, 1965 pay period. Effective Nov. 8, 1965, hourly rated regular and probationary employees will be paid time and one-half for hours worked in excess of 45 hours per week. According to the Board, this policy cannot be effected any earlier because of budgetary planning, the time necessary to prepare reporting procedures, the formation of rules and regulations and other business commitments. Time and one-half for all hours worked on a holiday, plus eight hours pay for the holiday will be paid all regular and probationary employees effective Nov. 8, 1965. Effective Good Friday of 1965 work operations will be closed down at noon for the remainder of the day and regular and probationary employees will be paid for the full day. This policy will be followed annually on Good Friday.

Delegates to this convention will hold three formal convention sessions during the four-day meet; these will be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Prior to these business transmittal sessions, the various committees of the Legion will meet for individual progress review in the various fields of Rehabilitation, Services to Youth, Community Service, Child Welfare, Americanism and National Security. A new, full slate of officers to guide the organization and these programs in 1965-66 will also be selected. Some of the highlights of this convention will be the annual convention parade at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, July 17, followed by the American Legion band concert on the State Capitol lawn at 8 p.m.
