Matmen Take Third Place in District Meet

Four Team Members Qualify for Competition in Regional Saturday

Four Chelsea wrestlers survived the District Tournament competition by placing first or second in their weight class last Saturday to qualify for the Regional tournament March 1 in Chelsea.

Chelsea's undefeated co-captains, Mike Gaken and Kerry Kargel, were the only Chelsea champions. Each won three matches Saturday to advance to the regional semifinals.

Other men to advance to the regionals are Tom Tibb, 112, and Jim Boylan, heavyweight, who finished second in their weight divisions.

PHILIP J. MAZZIOTTI

New Manager Now at Dana's Chelsea Plant

Philip J. Mazziotti, general manager of the Clutch & Marine Division of Dana Corp., Ft. Wayne, was named general manager of the Power Take-Off Division, Chelsea, last month.

Mazziotti, who commutes between the two divisions, replaced Thomas Fairhurst, who now manages hydraulic pumps division from the corporate offices, Toledo.

Mazziotti joined Dana in 1941 as a draftsman at the Toledo plant. He returned to become chief engineer of the Universal Joint Division in 1953 after service as a fighter pilot in World War II.

He became manager of research and development and later director of engineering before his appointment as director of research and development in 1963. He has been manager of the Ft. Wayne plant since 1966.

Mazziotti is a registered professional engineer. He graduated magna cum laude from the University of Toledo with a degree in mechanical engineering. He is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers and past president of the Engineering Society of Toledo.

Vern Fordyce was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Saturday after he was found unconscious in his home at 115 Orchard. His condition is stable. He is in room 417, bed 1.

Elmer Kiel Will Head Chest Board

Elmer Kiel has assumed duties as president of Chelsea Community Chest, a position vacated when Richard Boss was transferred to Ft. Wayne, Ind. by Dana Corp., two weeks ago.

Kiel, a board of directors member last year, was elected vice-president last month. A new vice-president will be elected at a later date.

Kiel, a Chelsea resident since 1952, has served as a Boy Scout leader and member of the finance committee of the First Methodist church. He is a supervisor at Chrysler Proving Grounds.

CHS Classes Vie for Pep Week Trophy

Each Chelsea High school class has decorated a hall in the school to demonstrate their school spirit for "pep week," sponsored by the Student Council. The class which shows the most spirit through their decorating efforts will be given a pep trophy.

After the Dexter game Friday, the last basketball game before tournaments begin, the "Lyme Frost," Ann Arbor band that won "Battle of the Bands" last month, will appear at the dance sponsored by the cheerleaders.

Student Council exchange day will be March 12. Chelsea representatives who will trade places for a day with representatives from other area schools are Mike Harvey, Saline; Sarah Lindauer, Dexter; senior representatives; Jacqueline Bailey, Dundee; Roxanne Shears, Milan; juniors; Mitchell Heard, Lincoln; sophomores; and Wayne Welton, South Lyon, freshman.

Seventh grade winner was Jeff Sprague, runner-up was Trudy Sanderson, followed by Phyllis Fedele, Jennifer Lane, Pam Risner, Janice Eiseeman, Julie Smith, Ruth Freeman, Carol Smyth and Barbara Hardy.

Bill Harrison led the winners of the eighth grade contest, followed by Steve Worden. Others at the top of the eighth grade spelling bee were Steve Norton, Cindy Powell, Alice Cavender, Gilda Gillespie, John Mann, Phyllis Bust, Janet Wackenhut and Jeff Daniels.

Joseph Dreyer entered St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday for surgery.

BEN BOWER, as Mayor Shinn, and Pat Gil-L'Roy said the humorous tale of a fake music teacher and a conservative midwestern town will be one of the most ambitious and expensive productions chosen since the musical's inception five years ago.

U-M Grid Coach Is Guest Speaker At Kiwanis Meet

Chelsea Kiwanis Club's Monday night program featured Jim Young, defensive co-ordinator of the University of Michigan football coaching staff. Young was with Bo Shembacher at Miami of Ohio for five years and graduated from Bowling Green in 1957. He discussed the 1968 U. of M. football team and described the 1969 prospects.

Plans were announced for the ladies night birthday party scheduled for March 17 in observance of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club's 45th birthday.

Philip Bareis, 1968 varsity football coach at Chelsea High school, was a guest at the meeting.

Money, Purse Returned After Being Found

How much is honesty worth? Mrs. Rolly Cole found that it is worth more than $96 to one Chelsea woman.

Mrs. Cole was upset to discover that she had misplaced her purse, containing important papers and $96 for payment of bills, while shopping Monday at Stop & Shop. After returning to her home at 133 North St., she decided to place an advertisement in The Chelsea Standard in hopes that "someone would return the papers," although she confessed she was pessimistic about return of the money.

The purse contained her driver's license, Blue Cross card, car payment and truck payment books and other items that would have been inconvenient to lose.

Later that day, Mrs. Leonard French found what she thought to be her 11-year-old daughter's purse purse lying in the parking lot by Stop & Shop. She stuck it in her tote and carried it home with her.

Tuesday morning she noticed the small purse was not the same one she had given her daughter, checked inside and returned it to Mrs. Cole.

Only One Grass Fire Reported This Week

Chelsea firemen were called out only once last week although other area departments have been plagued with a large number of fires.

The single fire of the week was a grass fire behind Schuim's Restaurant Thursday afternoon, caused by burning rubbish. No damage was reported.

'Music Man' Is Ambitious Undertaking

The attitude of the cast and production crew for CHS's Music Man production is expressed by director DiAnn L'Roy: "To be a typical high school production, to us, is to fail. Our entire production quality, in every aspect, tangibly 'Up-graded.'"

To be sure, each of the five successive musical productions at Chelsea High school has been tangibly "Up-graded."

Miss L'Roy points out that the first musical she directed here, three years ago, involved less than $2,000. Graphically portraying the increasing expenditures on the musicals, this year's production of The Music Man will involve more than $3,400.

Another illustration of the musical's expansion is the fact that this year for the first time, the musical will run three nights. This will involve total attendance of up to 2,070 people from the area.

Miss L'Roy points out that production of The Music Man is no The Music Man will be five times harder to stage than any other musical Chelsea has attempted. This musical requires professional quality in singing, acting, and all technical phases of production.

The orchestra personnel for the March production will be an impressively competent group. Only five Chelsea students will play in the orchestra, otherwise composed of musicians from the University having almost professional performing ability.

Miss L'Roy attributes the expected success of the school production to a very conscientious cast and production crew. "All the leads are doing an exceptionally competent job. Karen Leach, with Larry Blackwell's assistance, has done a professional job of choreography. Kathy Powers, chairman of costumes, should be commended for a fine job also. Mike Schmidt and Mike Gaken, in charge of set designs and construction, have done splendid work."

Enthusiasm for the CHS musicals was beyond the realm of Chelsea. Richard Crabbe, member of the Screen Writer's Guild and television director, attended last year's production of Bye, Bye, Birdie. His reception of the musical was very favorable: "I was greatly impressed by the production, particularly the total involvement shared by every student on that stage."

Coach William Coelius, who came to CHS only last year, comments, "I have attended several high school productions in several states."

The public is invited to the performance, set for 3:30 p.m. Sunday in the Chelsea High school gymnasium. No admission will be charged, although there will be a free-will donation.

Each band will play the three selections prepared for the District Festivals. The Concert Band, conducted by Stuart Glazer, will present "Burnished Brass," by Cavas; "Civil War Suite," by Walters; "Two Gaelic Folk Songs," arranged by Tyra; and "Overture for Wind," by Carter.

On Monday, March 3, the bands will have the opportunity to perform their festival music for Dr. Leonard Falcone from the Lansing Conservatory of Music, formerly from Michigan State University. Dr. Falcone will give constructive criticism to help the band work out any musical problems during the four remaining days before the festival. He will also help eliminating some existing problems himself.

March 8 the Concert Band is scheduled to play at Ida High school at 8:50 a.m. The Symphony Band is to play at Schaefer High school in Southgate at 11:10 a.m.

Varsity Cagers Rally To Win Over Saline

A second-half scoring spree dismantled the Saline Hornets last Friday and gave Chelsea a 58-57 victory in the closing seconds.

The Chelsea cagers combined a hustling offense and pressure defense to whittle away Saline's 17-point lead. Some fine clutch shooting by Dave Konkin helped give the Bulldogs their victory, according to coach Tom Balistrere. Konkin scored two foul shots with 20 seconds to go to give Chelsea the one-point lead. The Bulldogs held this lead and won the game.

High scorer for the Bulldogs was senior captain Doug Weatherwax with 14. Lance Burghardt, Jim Wojcicki and Konkin all chipped in with 12 points each. This league victory over Saline brings the Bulldogs' league record to 6-5 and gives them an over-all record of 9-7.

According to Coach Balistrere, the victory demonstrated the hustle and determination that his team has exhibited this year. This win also assured the team of at least a 500 season this year.

Mayor Exchange Pairs Chelsea With Hudsonville

Chelsea village president has been paired with the mayor of Hudsonville for "Mayors Exchange" during the 16th annual Michigan Week set for May 17 to 24.

Mayors of the Michigan towns and cities were paired at drawings Wednesday, Feb. 20 for the exchange. Chelsea Village President Don Baldwin, a veteran of mayor exchanges, said paired mayors usually meet for breakfast somewhere between the two towns, then separate for a day of familyizing themselves with the other's town.

Typical activities include lunch, dinner, addressing civic groups, meeting village officials and seeing sites. This year untested village president candidate Frederick Weber will presumably represent Chelsea in the exchange.

Crocuses Ready for Spring at Wellnitz Home

John Wellnitz has spotted three yellow-crocuses buds ready to bloom in his garden this week.

The crocuses are slightly ahead of schedule but may be excused for their mistake because of the unseasonably warm weather during the past few weeks. Mrs. Walt Zeob, from Chelsea Greenhouse, said they usually bloom during March and early April.

Wellnitz said his tulips and hyacinths are also ahead.

EDITING THREE MILES OF FILM for presentation in two travelogues March 29 and April 26, Chelsea Kiwanis Club purchased the rights to the film "The Alaska Kid." Don Turner, the film, taken from two 16 mm cameras, will be from Turner's most recent "Alaskan Capers."

Kiwanis Club Arranges To Show Turner Travelogue

By Don Turner

"The Alaska Kid"

Since my last "Caper" article printed in The Chelsea Standard last September I have been sticking pretty close to home and burning the midnight oil in some cases. My cutting-room floor is littered with scraps and odds and ends of film I have been sorting from the 18,000 feet I shot while on my "Caper" to Alaska and Canada's north country.

It seems as if every time I venture out in public I am greeted by someone telling me that they read my articles in The Standard last summer. Most people ask when they will have a chance to view some of the film I have been talking about.

That is the reason I am writing this article. No, I haven't had any closer association with the Kiwanis Club than I have in the past three years. You see, I don't want to spoil the image I'm trying to create while appearing in my own productions as a prospector and miner.

Yes, I have compiled two full-length travelogues from the footage I have been talking about, and sold the rights for the first showing to Chelsea Kiwanis Club for a money-making project. The dates are now set for Saturday, March 29 and Saturday, April 26. (Continued on page three)

★ The Case for Licensing Lawyers ...

Legislation will be introduced at the current session of the Michigan legislature, requiring university officials to withdraw state-supported scholarships from students who participate in violent demonstrations or otherwise interfere with the right of other students to attend classes and receive an education.

I have long urged the enactment of such legislation, and I was extremely pleased, very recently, to see Governor William Milliken take a firm and responsible position toward the disruptive minority on the university campuses.

It is wrong for us to permit our students to live under two standards of conduct—one for the campus and one for the outside world in which they must spend the rest of their lives. I was also pleased to see Michigan State University President John Hannah, in his farewell address, echo many of the very statements made by Governor Milliken. This was one of the few times that a high-ranking university official has taken a corrective stand on the issue of disruption.

In another facet of the same problem, I was shocked and deeply concerned after reading the Feb. 12 issue of Michigan State University's newspaper. In this issue of The State News there were verbal atrocities too obnoxious to be repeated. These offensive quotes leave me with just one impression:

"Slow Pace"
 Slow-moving best describes the first two months of the 1969 Michigan legislative session. Senators and Representatives are spending most of their time organizing committees, introducing bills, and preparing for a lengthy time ahead.

Thus far the primary topic of conversation in hallways and cloakrooms about the Capitol is tax aid for Michigan's 1,000 parochial schools.

Wheat and feed grain producers who enroll in the 1969 programs for these commodities may receive half of their estimated direct payment in advance. Earl Doletzky, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reported:

For those requesting an advance payment, county ASCS office personnel compute the amount of advance payment on the basis of sign-up intentions and forward the payment as soon as possible. Sign-up for the 1969 programs began on Feb. 3 and continues through March 21, Doletzky said.

All producers of wheat and feed grains are entitled to advance payments on acreage voluntarily retired from production beyond that necessary to qualify as a participant. In addition, producers with a feed grain base of 25 acres or less may receive advance payment for both the minimum required diverted acreage (first 20 percent) and any additional acreages diverted.

Doletzky reminded producers with a feed grain base between 25 and 125 acres they may request the ASC county committee to temporarily adjust the 1969 base to 25 acres and divert the 25 acres for payments.

The first payments for wheat and feed grain diversion were mailed on February 20th to producers who requested advance payments.

A miser is not as bad as those who do not know how to give of themselves.

Bug Hookum, that never could retire because he ain't never done nothing to quit doing, come up with a new worry during the session at the country store Saturday night. You recollect, Mister Editor, that Bug was upset a while back when he figured the Equal Employment Opportunities Act said he would have to work as hard as other men and women.

Well, sir, Bug allowed that what he had feared had come to pass. Now that he has lived long enough to take his ease, along comes word that doing nothing is a hazard to a feller's health. Actual Bug said, he never had took to that saying about a feller can rust out but he can't wear out.

Bug said he once saw a spooked horse run until he fell dead in his tracks, but he allowed he is yet to see man or beast rest to death.

What had got Bug riled was this doctor's report he had saw. The doctor said it's a mistake a lot of times to tell a patient to get plenty of rest. That's the advice the patient wants to hear and he will rest so much he can't get wound up again. The doctor allowed that a feller that gets 10 hours of sleep a day is more likely to have a heart attack than one that don't get six. The problem, reported Bug, was all the stopping and starting.

Actual, said Bug, people is like cars, according to this doctor. The feller that gets too much rest runs his battery down, getting cranked up again, while the high strung folks keep their motors going at a fast idle all the time and they're ready for quick starts.

Josh Clodhopper told Bug to calm his fears. Josh said he was taking the report for information, but he wasn't putting no stock in it. Too many of them doctors is jest practicing, was Josh's words, and too many of their cures is worst than the disease. For instance, Josh said, doctors can't never decide from one case to the next whether to cover a burn, leave it open to the air, keep it dry or wet, so they jest practice on ever patient.

Ed Doolittle was full agreed with Josh that Bug ought to rest easy about that report. There comes a time when a feller has to take a chance, allowed Ed, and the ways things is going jest about everything a feller wants to eat or do will rot his teeth, make him fat, clog up his arteries or is agin the law.

Mister Editor, Bug looked like he was mighty relieved. He thanked the fellers for easing his mind about getting too much rest. He said he weren't putting no more thought on the matter. Personal, I think Bug is living proof that a feller can rest a long and full life. Furthermore, he proves if you don't never crank up you ain't likely to run your battery down on stops and starts.

Yours truly,

plan for passage of a parochial bill by June 15.

Gov. William G. Milliken says he will further define his position on the politically sensitive subject before the legislature adopts a tax aid program.

Milliken told lawmakers earlier he would not object to a parochial plan so long as it met constitutional tests and necessary funds were provided.

But the Governor said legislators are entitled to a clearer explanation of his thinking on the matter before too long.

"I intend, so far as what would or would not be acceptable to me, to further define the parameters," Milliken said. "This is not to say that I will propose a so-called Milliken plan."

Shades of Youth
 Fourteen shades of red. That's what Mary Cauhorn, Governor

Milliken's receptionist, says she turned recently when a stranger without an appointment walked unannounced into the executive office to see the Governor.

The stranger was understanding when Miss Cauhorn explained that the Governor was tied up in a meeting.

"Believe me," he said, "I know the Governor of Michigan can be a busy, busy man. I used to work here."

"Oh," said Miss Cauhorn, "when were you here?"

"From 1941 to the first part of 1943," answered the stranger. "I'm former Gov. Murray D. Van Waggoner."

No Reserve!
 Major provisions of a bi-partisan plan to appoint an acting Lieutenant Governor have been scuttled by the 28 Senators sponsoring the proposal.

The reason is that the State Constitution prohibits a legislator from being elected or appointed to another state office while serving in the House or Senate.

Legislation to appoint the president pro-tempore of the Senate acting Lieutenant Governor and extend the line of gubernatorial succession was introduced last month.

For the first time since 1939, Michigan is without a Lieutenant Governor because of the ascendancy of William G. Milliken to the Governor's office to replace resigned Gov. George W. Romney.

Senate majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, and other sponsors of the bill to fill the vacancy said they will revise the proposal to comply with the Constitution.

Eliminated will be provisions in the measure which would make Sen. Thomas F. Schweigert, R-Peter, president pro-tem, eligible for the Lieutenant Governor's $22,500 per year salary, and $3,000 expense allowance.

A section adding Schweigert and House Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, to the line of succession to the Governor's office will also be dropped.

The bill will still bestow on Schweigert the "honorary title" of acting Lieutenant Governor so that he can assist Milliken in discharging responsibilities of the executive office.

This could give Schweigert, a nine-year Senate veteran, the inside track on the Republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor in 1970. He is a close personal friend of Milliken's.

A section adding Schweigert and House Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, to the line of succession to the Governor's office will also be dropped.

The bill will still bestow on Schweigert the "honorary title" of acting Lieutenant Governor so that he can assist Milliken in discharging responsibilities of the executive office.

This could give Schweigert, a nine-year Senate veteran, the inside track on the Republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor in 1970. He is a close personal friend of Milliken's.

For the first time since 1939, Michigan is without a Lieutenant Governor because of the ascendancy of William G. Milliken to the Governor's office to replace resigned Gov. George W. Romney.

Senate majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, and other sponsors of the bill to fill the vacancy said they will revise the proposal to comply with the Constitution.

Eliminated will be provisions in the measure which would make Sen. Thomas F. Schweigert, R-Peter, president pro-tem, eligible for the Lieutenant Governor's $22,500 per year salary, and $3,000 expense allowance.

Kiwanis Club Arranges To Show Turner Travelogue

26, in the Chelsea High school auditorium at 8 p.m.

The first showing I have entitled "Highway to Alaska" and I am sure it will be of interest to anyone planning a trip to Alaska over the Alaskan highway, as it shows points of interest as well as a number of the out-of-the-way places missed by some tourists due to the lack of time they have for their trip.

The second showing on April 26 I have entitled "Alaska Ramble" and this will take us to a number of out-of-the-way places in the state of Alaska.

To give you a little run-down on what will be shown in the film, I will describe it in brief. Starting at Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, we will take a look at the city of more than one-half million population from the top of the Canadian National building of 28 stories owned by the Canadian National Railway Co.

Then we'll be off to the Alberta Game Farm owned and operated by Al Oming, a former fight and wrestling promoter who, in studying zoology, has had good success in "climatising" animals from other lands to stand the severe winters of Alberta where the temperature drops to 50 below at times.

Here we will see animals roaming at large like on the African plain such as rhinoceros, zebras, giraffes, camels, Cape buffalo and many others.

From Edmonton the film takes us over a smooth paved highway to Dawson, Creek, a short drive from Edmonton, a small town at Grand Prairie, a small farming community. Dawson Creek, a bustling farm community of 14,000 population, is the official starting point of the Alaskan Highway, as mile post "0" is located in the heart of the downtown area. A white marker is set at each mile starting at Dawson Creek "0" to Fairbanks, Alaska, a distance of 1,523 miles.

The camera takes us through the Peace River Valley stopping at the Peace River Bridge to tell the story of how the river got its name. It was named after the peace treaty between the warring Cree and Beaver Indians. The river separates the territories between the two tribes and when peace was declared the river took its name from that peace.

Many points of interest will be shown along the way, including wildlife.

We will stop at Ft. Nelson, beautiful Muncie Lake where we fish for large lake trout and arctic grayling. Then on to Liard Hot Springs where we bathe in 95 degree water boiling from the ground in two large pools.

We now enter the Yukon Territory of Canada. Our first stop is at Watson Lake, a bustling community with many accommodations for the tourist.

Here we will charter a float plane to fly us to a beautiful lonely lake some 100 air miles from Watson Lake. Here you will see an acquaintance I made at Watson Lake. We catch large lake trout as fast as we throw our baits in the water. The camera captures the tasty lake trout being fried over the open fire for our lunch, before we go prospecting for gold and exploring an abandoned trapper's cache. We bring back 14 beautiful lake trout weighing 125 pounds. We will view the famous Watson Lake sign-board where thousands of travelers have tacked their signs boasting of their communities. As we proceed up the highway we stop at an Indian village and see a little of their way of life. Then we stop at beautiful Teal Lake for some more fishing. Next the camera takes us off the Alaska Highway a distance of 60-odd miles to Atlin, B. C., a gold mining town dating back to 1898. It is located on the shores of beautiful Lake Atlin, the largest lake in B. C. We will explore another abandoned mining town in that area before visiting Carcross on Lake Bennett, the headwaters of the Yukon River. It was here that the gold-seekers built their flimsy wooden boats and rafts for their float trip to Dawson City and the Klondyke, after a tortuous hike over the Chilcoot Pass and White Pass.

We now return to the Alaska Highway and visit Whitehorse, the capital of the Yukon Territory. Here we will visit McBrides' Museum, Sam McMegee's Cabin, and see the old stern-wheeler paddle boats at their final resting place where they were abandoned after the Alaska Highway was built. We will take a ride on a modern river boat, the Schwatka, through historic Miles Canyon.

We will talk with a real prospector and watch him pan for gold, on the banks of the Yukon River.

The camera takes us then to Klunene Lake, the largest lake in the Yukon Territory. Here we will climb in the mountains for a look at the beautiful white Dall sheep. The trail leads on to many more scenic spots with a stop at the Alaska border where we have a paved highway again. Then we stop at Teatin Junction where we see a Siberian Husky kennel and a cute puppy.

We stop at Tok Junction and the American Customs, then on to the Santa Claus House at North Pole, Alaska, where we can mail a card to the home folks.

And at last to the City of Fairbanks, the end of our journey, "Highway to Alaska."

"Alaska Ramble," shown on April 26, starts at Fairbanks, Alaska, where we will see some of Fairbanks, the University of Alaska, a gold mining operation and "Alaska Land" constructed for the Centennial Celebration, in 1966 and 1967. This establishment resembles Disneyland in California, and takes one back to the early 1900's when Fairbanks was a gold-mining town of only a small population. From here we will fly to Kotzebue, Alaska where we will see the Eskimo village of Kotzebue, watch the women cut-up and skin seals, take a ride on the Arctic Ocean in a modern Eskimo boat, watch ivory carvers at work, view Eskimo dances, see the midnight sun just dip toward the horizon and climb again to a new day.

Then a flight to Nome, the famous gold town founded at the turn of the century where 40,000 men and women came in search of gold.

We return to Fairbanks and then drive to Anchorage, the largest city in Alaska, for a quick look before a flight to Katmai National Monument on the Alaska Peninsula, a trip to the Valley of 10,000 Smokes. Here we will watch the big brown bears catch sockeye salmon in the Brooks River, see moose and more scenery and some spectacular fishing for sockeye salmon in Nacnek Lake.

Then we take a trip to Mt. McKinley National Park where we will see more beautiful scenery and wildlife and the tallest mountain in North America, McKinley. It is here we will conclude our journey, "Alaska Ramble."

I hope this article describes the two productions I have put together and that I will have the opportunity to present to all the readers my visual version of this article to be shown on March 20 and April 26.

Yours truly,
Don Turner

Cager of the Week

ACCURATE SHOOTING and aggressiveness characterize the performance that took Ron Sweeny from the freshman to JV and finally, varsity basketball teams this season. All three coaches praised the playing potential of this 6', 148-pounder, the only freshman varsity cager. Sweeny's interests also include hunting, baseball and football. He has played end for seventh, eighth and freshman football teams and hopes to play baseball this spring. He was a pitcher while playing with the Babe Ruth League, something he would like to continue as a professional after graduation. Another possibility is engineering, a follow-up to his favorite subject—algebra. He lives at 14700 Jerusalem Rd. with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sweeny. Sweeny has four brothers.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT
A small boy and his younger sister were in a group of escorted tourists in a deep cave. Suddenly, the lights were turned off. It was totally dark. Not even a ghostly eerie shadow. The girl was scared and started to cry. Her brother grabbed her, held her close. With warm reassurance he told her there was nothing to fear and said, "Don't cry. There is a man here who knows how to turn the lights on." And there was.
The story has meaning in every day life. In hours of darkness, day or night, there is One who is capable and willing to turn on His switch to supply His ready, unfailing current for guidance, safety and protection. There is no need ever to stumble in spiritual darkness, afraid and lonely. Christian faith provides a light no darkness can douse out. . . . St. Paul Church Schedules Lenten Drama-Dialogue

"Drama-Dialogue" will be the focal point of Lenten worship for members of St. Paul United Church of Christ this year. This unusual form of drama will be presented by church members under the leadership of Jim Holm, one of the leads in the current Civic Theater production of "South Pacific." Holm is a doctoral student in speech at the University of Michigan.

He is currently directing Sue Schreen, Harold Schneider, Mrs. Richard Borton, Mrs. P. G. Schabbe, Jr., Charles Cox, Dale Vitt, John Wellnitz, James Shadon and the Rev. Warner Siebert.

Others are invited to participate since Holm hopes to shift parts around and include whoever wishes to participate. The six-part series entitled "Behold, the Man" is presented at 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday. The last segment will be presented Maundy Thursday instead of Wednesday with the service of the loaf and cup.

Drama has a long history in the church. Often it is used to give religious truths greater impact, according to the Rev. Siebert.

AGRICULTURE In Action

Mortal Man
Man has always been concerned about living a long, full life. "Long Live the King" was the shout greeting the monarch. In more modern times, we toast a man with best wishes for "health, wealth and a long life." But few indeed ever reach the age of 100.

Although unconfirmed reports of greatly aged people are heard from time to time, the oldest person on record appears to be that of a Frenchman, of Quebec, with a record of 113 years. Out of 100,000 people, only one is over 100 years old, and someday, our scientists hint, this may be common for all of us. The recent organ transplants show progress in this direction.

About 60 years ago, the average American could expect to live 47 years—which, even then, was almost double the life expectancy of many people in the world.

Today, the average American can expect to live about 70 years. The gain alone being larger than the total current life-span of many Asians.

Recently, this great gain was brought into sharp focus by a Michigan farmer, just back from parts of the world where life expectancies are much less than ours. He told of disease and malnutrition and the "hard life" that is the common lot for many.

Speaking was Calvin "Pete" Lutz, selected as Michigan's Most Outstanding Young Farmer (in his 14th year) in 1968. Lutz is now a member of the board of directors of the Michigan Farm Bureau. The occasion was a Farm Bureau workshop session in which farmers talked about what they considered to be unreasonable attacks by nature—pests on farm use of pesticides and insecticides.

Lutz said that low life expectancy in much of the world can be traced to the lack of such modern chemicals. Flies, selling on filth and then on human food; rats, mice, lice and a host of blood-sucking insects—all contributing to the toll in areas where nearly 50 percent of the children never reach 5 years of age.

Viewed in this light "and it is the proper way to view the production miracles that have come with modern disease and pest control, farm chemicals turn out to be a tremendous blessing instead of the bogeyman many would have us believe," Lutz says. The choice, he implies, might well be between an American life-span of 70, or one of 20 as is now true, in parts of India and Pakistan.

Two Chelsea residents were arrested on traffic warrants this week. James R. Godd, 44, of 122 East St. was arrested Feb. 24 by Chelsea Patrolman Louis Schneid. He was charged with driving without a valid Michigan driver's license. He was released on $25 bond for appearance before Elden.

Virginia L. Caudill, 20, was arrested Sunday evening on a Michigan State Police warrant from the Jackson post at 240 Jefferson. She was picked up at the scene by state police.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

The Good Things

The farmer is proud that the fruits of his labor are his own. The carpenter who builds a home for himself is proud that it contains the best materials and was raised through careful workmanship.

There are so many "good things" which we can all be grateful for. Little things such as air to breathe, water to drink, sugar to sweeten, salt and spices to flavor, the beauty of a snowfall and the dawn.

In fact, most of life is good. We have but to look sincerely around us, and for this we should be grateful. Often we must struggle a bit, but, perhaps even struggle a bit, to get the good, to share in it. It is nearly always there.

It is decidedly true that we seldom appreciate some of these "good things" of life until we have lost them. The often forgotten things—the ability to see, to hear, to smell, to taste—become more increasingly valued as they become impaired or afflicted.

So, find yourself some good things; recognize them—and your life will be brightened.

About Your Social Security

By Robert A. Kehoe
Social Security District Manager

Q. I received Social Security benefits until I was 18 from my deceased father's account. I'll be discharged from the army next month and plan to attend college beginning next term. Can I receive Social Security benefits while I'm going to college?

A. You may receive Social Security benefits if you are attending school on a full-time basis and are under 22 years of age and unmarried.

Q. May I use the Social Security benefits I receive for my cousin to pay some old bills that he owes?

A. Benefits may be used to pay bills owed by the beneficiary only after the current and foreseeable needs of the beneficiary are met. Before paying the bills owed by the beneficiary you should contact the local Social Security office and discuss the matter.

Q. I became age 65 in June 1966 but I didn't sign up for the medical insurance part of Medicare because I had a medical insurance policy that my employer paid for as long as I worked there. Now I have retired so I want to sign up. How do I go about it?

A. Contact your nearest Social Security office for an application. You should enroll for the supplementary medical insurance during the general enrollment period that runs from Jan. 1 through March 31, 1969. Unless the law is changed, this will be the last chance you will ever have to sign up for the medical insurance. The law now permits a person to enroll during any general enrollment period which begins within three years after the close of his first enrollment period.

Brownies...

TROOP 145—
We opened the Brownie ring with the flag ceremony, Feb. 18.

After taking dues and attendance, we discussed day camp, pennies for-Thinking Day and the Valentines day party. We sang songs.

Junior Troop 47 visited us. Ha So Sung, a Korean girl, modeled a Korean dress, sang a Korean song and talked about life in her country. We sang songs with the Junior Troop. Kim Hopkins passed out treats and the meeting was closed with "Taps."

Troop 145 held a Valentine party between 1 and 5 p.m. Feb. 14.

We prepared a party salad, sugar cookies with paint frosting, mallow squares, popcorn and punch. We all set tables as directed in the Brownie handbook, made decorations and cleaned up. We played Ock-ya, the mirror game and tried to learn "skip-to-my-Lou." Mrs. Fahrner, Mrs. Barsis, Mrs. Worden and Mrs. Hinz supervised.

Diane Shoemaker, Julia Worden, scribes.

At a Feb. 11 meeting, Troop 145 elected Dana Murphy treasurer.

Roberta Toon, assistant treasurer; Diane Shoemaker, scribe; Julia Worden, assistant scribe. The flag committee is Denise Robbins, Sherry Kiel, Beth Simpson, Pam Hinz and Jody Fahrner. Jody Fahrner brought treats. We made Valentines for our parents and closed with "Taps" and "Squeeze."

Pam Hinz, scribe.

Beth Simpson, assistant scribe.

The finest Fury ever built.

Fury III is the car that helped win over three-quarter million competitive owners in the last two years.

It's a whole new Plymouth. A big Plymouth. With a 120 inch wheelbase that's longer than Chevy Impala; an overall length that's greater than Ford Galaxie.

Fury III is big inside, too. Big and luxurious. And when you compare such things as suspension, the differences become even greater. Impala and Galaxie still have coil springs in front. Fury has torsion bars—torsion bars that twist with bumps and turns instead of bouncing up and down.

But why not do your own evaluating. The chart above tells it like it is and so does your Plymouth dealer. He's right in the midst of THE GREAT! Plymouth Sale. And that means, with Fury III, you not only get a great car but you save money on many popular options.

Worry about rootworms when you plant. After that it's too late.

What's the sense of waiting until rootworms have gnawed their way into your corn before you put on an insecticide?

Wiping out the pest at that late stage won't set your crop straight.

Apply Bux® Ten Granular when you plant and quit worrying. Bux kills both resistant and non-resistant rootworms.

Plant your corn as early as you like. Bux won't fall apart. No matter how wet it gets. You won't have to bother with a second cultivator application.

Bux puts an end to rootworms from the beginning.

Geddes Pond Problems Small Compared to Mill Creek Plan

Debate over reconstruction of Ann Arbor's Geddes Dam illustrates in miniature problems to be considered with the Army Engineers' huge Mill Creek Reservoir project.

Despite the size difference, several factors are common to both projects. Among these are determination of best land use, costs and benefits of alternatives, how best to manage flooding and taste-odor problems in water supply.

Geddes pond site, purchased from Detroit Edison by the City of Ann Arbor several years ago, is approximately 100 acres located east of where the new Huron River bridge crosses Geddes Dr. It has not yet been restored after being washed out in June, 1968, flooding.

The pond is one of three sources of water for the City of Ypsilanti.

The Mill Creek site comprises 15,000 acres now used for residences, food production, forests, and recreation. Flooded, it could become a fluctuating reservoir for low-flow augmentation, flood storage and recreation. Present land uses annually produce $2.2 million in food and $17.5 million in agricultural-recreational activity. Army engineers estimate $2.34 million annual benefits from the reservoir, not including present uses. Ann Arbor has three choices in reference to the pond, each having advantages. The tie-up is in determining which use will provide greatest community benefits. The dam can be repaired, giving it the same capacity as before. This would restore the site to its previous esthetic and water supply value. However, the Huron's flow rate doubled from 4,500 CFS to 9,100 CFS during the June floods as storm run-off from Ann Arbor's paved surfaces and rooftops reached it. As urban development increases, so does flood danger. Many feel that rebuilding the dam at the former strength would include a risk of another wash-out, although Guy Larcom suggests a repaired dam withstanding 9,000 cubic feet per second would be adequate.

A second alternative is to build a stronger dam. This would reduce the chance of another wash-out but would cost an estimated $800,000 to $1 million. Ann Arbor engineers indicate that a new dam should withstand 15,000 cubic feet per second of flood flow.

A third alternative would be to leave the pond undammed and convert the exposed land into a park. Recently Ypsilanti's, complaining about the bad taste of their water, were told that it is pure though taste has been adversely affected. The reason given was that with the failure of Geddes dam, Ypsilanti's water intake is three to four feet below the surface instead of 15 to 17 feet as when the pond was filled.

The smaller problems in considering various alternatives of Geddes pond future are reflected in larger scale on the Mill Creek proposal.

First, cost of building the Mill Creek Reservoir would exceed an estimated $30 million. Two alternatives, tertiary treatment of sewage effluent and in regional water supply and interceptor system would also cost millions.

Mill Creek Reservoir has been criticized by persons who feel that the expenditures for it would ultimately be duplicated for tertiary treatment or the regional system or both.

Tertiary or third treatment is an additional process that will remove phosphates and algae nutrient. It is an expensive process, but will eventually be needed to meet state and federal legal requirements.

Storage at Mill Creek, controlling only 15 percent of the Huron's total flow, would have been ineffective in lessening last year's floods. As quantity and speed of run-off into the river increases, effectiveness of storage in tributaries decreases. Alternative ways to insure safe flood water flow provide more efficient storage. Some other methods to prevent flood damage are planning golf courses, parks and other such areas in flood plains rather than buildings; improved channels or dykes built to control waters; buildings designed to have garages or parking areas on the first floor rather than basements, which could be damaged.

One additional problem encountered by the Mill Creek reservoir planners and mirrored in Geddes Pond is the taste and odor situation now provoking complaints from Ypsilanti. The reservoir would average nine feet deep, have 4,000 acres less than nine feet and several square miles less than two feet deep. Yet the releases would be used for water supply.

The Geddes issue will be decided by local officials reflecting local opinions and needs. Many feel the Mill Creek issue will be difficult to influence by local opinion.

Weight Control Lesson Set for Extension Clubs

An illustrated lesson on weight control is scheduled for the Extension Homemakers Study Group throughout Washtenaw county on March 11 at the Ann Arbor Community Center. Times are 1 to 4 p.m. and 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

According to Mrs. Helen Fairman, Extension Home Economist, the emphasis will be on understanding the factors which effect weight control. Also to be considered will be the question: "How Does the Homemaker Plan Meals for Family Members With Different Needs?" i.e., those who should lose weight, those who should maintain their weight.

Guests and other interested homemakers are welcome.

Buffer-Hutch has unique slotted spoon rack in top shelf and four drawers—one felt-lined and compartmented for silverware.

Extension Table has new suede-finish Formica® top—so natural you can't tell where the top leaves off and the Solid Hard Rock Maple begins.

Send them out to play inside.

Add room to your home the easy way. Install a gas baseboard heater in your enclosed porch or enclosed breezeway. By the time you've added your own decorator touches, you'll have an extra bedroom, sewing room, family room or playroom ready for year-around use.

And, because each gas baseboard heater has its own thermostatic control, you can select the precise temperature you want for your new room. Keep it that way inexpensively, too. It will cost about $20 to heat an average size room for an entire year. That's 1/5 the operating cost of an electric baseboard heater.

There's no major investment at installation time, either. We'll be glad to add the cost of the heater to your monthly gas bill and let you pay for it a few dollars at a time. A phone call to us, or your heating contractor is all it takes to get things moving. And to get you moving... into that brand-new room right away.

Special Events Slated for Girl Scout Week

Spring must be near—it's Girl Scout cookie time! The cookie order taking began Feb. 21 and will continue through March 8.

Proceeds from the sale help build Camp Linden, where thousands of scouts camp throughout the year. Part of the money stays within the troops to help defray expenses.

March 9 through 15 is Girl Scout Week. On Sunday, March 9, Girl Scout Sunday, the Scouts are to wear their uniforms to church. At the Catholic service uniforms are to be worn at the 10 a.m. Mass.

Mothers, keep your steam irons primed. The girls are to wear their uniforms to school Wednesday, March 12 and in the evening they will don dress uniform for Father-Daughter Night. The ceremonies will begin at 7 p.m. in the High School cafeteria. Guest speaker will be Neher Master from the British Commonwealth, wearing native Indian dress. Mrs. Larry Chapman is chairman of the event.

Saturday, March 1 is Day Camp Round-Up. This will be held at the Dwight E. Beach school from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. The girls will bring a washing lunch, including a drink. Various camp activities will be discussed. All senior and cadet scouts interested in working on badges and challenge preps are encouraged to attend and voice their interest.

Troop 145, under the leadership of Mrs. Roberta Hinz, and their guest Troop 47 were treated to a talk by Ha So Sun who appeared in native dress and spoke to the girls about Korean customs. She graciously answered the many questions and gave the Scouts an insight into Korean ways. Miss Sun is a guest of the Ben Donaldsons of Cavanaugh Lake.

Dog License Penalty Fee Starts March 1

Final reminder to owners of dogs who have passed their "one-half birthday" at least six months of age and older dogs must be licensed according to rules and regulations of Washtenaw county.

Dog owners may secure licenses for their pets by applying to the county treasurer, or to any of the township treasurers within the county of Washtenaw. Fees for the dog licenses are $3 for male or unsexed dogs, and $5 for females. The fees will include a penalty fee of $3 additional on or after March 1, and at that time, licenses may be obtained ONLY at the Office of the County Treasurer, in Ann Arbor.

Today and tomorrow are the two days remaining to apply for dog licenses at the lower rate. When application is made, whether to the township treasurer, or the county treasurer, a certificate of vaccination must be presented by the owner or his representative.

You need not live in the township served by the treasurer from whom you purchase the dog license, but only treasurers may issue the licenses.
