Bands Compete Saturday in District Meet

Concert Band Will Travel to Ida, Symphony Performs at Southgate

At least 139 Chelsea High school students will be rising bright and early Saturday morning to participate in the District Symphony of Concert Band Festivals.

The 88 members of the Concert Band will leave Chelsea High school at 6:30 a.m. in two buses to arrive at Ida High school in time for their scheduled 8:30 a.m. performance. They are to be back in Chelsea at noon.

The 100 members of the Symphony Band will load into three buses at Chelsea High school and depart for Schafer High school, Southgate, at 8:30 a.m. Performance time is 11:10 a.m.

Band members performed the national anthem at a public concert Sunday. Under direction of Mr. Glazer, the Concert Band performed the warm-up march, "Burnished Brass," by Cavayes; "Gaelic Folk Songs," "Molly Malone," and "The Wearing of the Green," arranged by Tyra, as selected numbers; and "Overture for the King" by Copland as required music for Class C bands.

Bands are divided into classes according to school enrollment. Although Chelsea is a Class B school, the Concert Band is allowed to perform required Class C music because two bands are entered on Chelsea.

Under direction of D. Keith Brown, the Symphony Band will perform a warm-up march, "Coat of Arms" by Kenney; "Overture in F" by Giovanni-Bonini as arranged by Tyra; "Symphony No. 3" (Piaf) by Williams as a selected composition. Both bands will be required to perform eight-reading numbers that they have never seen before. Chelsea High school principal and former band director Bruce Galbraith, will evaluate the Concert Band's performance. Galbraith was also invited to judge at a State Junior High and Senior High Festivals, informed the band and orchestra association of this particular arrangement but was refused. "They said they were sure could be fair anyhow," explained the former director.

St. Mary's Will Close Grade 8 In September

St. Mary's Parochial school in Chelsea was one of five suburban Detroit Catholic school that is slated to close down part or all of their operations next September because of prohibitive financial situations.

Archbishop John F. Dearden notified St. Mary's priest, the Rev. Fr. Francis Wahowiak, Tuesday that he accepted the proposal from Fr. Wahowiak and the school office to close the eighth grade of the school, "with great reluctance."

St. Mary's School Board and Fr. Wahowiak engaged in an extensive study before they recommended that the decision be made. "We found that it would be financially impossible to construct an addition to the present structure," he explained. The school is supported solely through tuitions and the parish treasury.

This year, there are 285 students in grades one through eight in the school, an average of 28 per class. The 32 eighth-graders next year will attend Beach Junior (Continued on page three)

Legion Post Planning for 50th Birthday

A celebration in honor of the 50th anniversary of the American Legion has been set for March 22 by the Herbert J. McKune Post 31, with a dinner starting at 6:30 p.m. at the Legion Home, Cavanaugh Lake.

It is designed to be a memorable occasion, especially to World War I veterans.

The guest of honor and speaker is Sgt. Major William Schrader, former Chelsea resident. He is expected to bring to mind many of his serious and amusing experiences during his 20 years in the armed forces.

Sgt. Major Schrader enlisted in July, 1948 and has served overseas for a total of 10 years, including Germany, Lebanon, Panama, Japan, Korea, Laos, Iran and Vietnam, plus service in Alaska.

He has 12 years of Airborne service with more than 120 parachute jumps. His last assignment was with the Green Berets, special forces, for six years. Present duty is with the 6th Army Advisor Group, stationed in Wyoming, Mich. as advisor to the 46th Infantry Brigade, Michigan National Guard.

He earned awards and decorations as follows: Silver Star, Bronze Star, Commendation Medal, (Continued on page six)

Girl Scout Week Slated Across Nation

Village President Donald Baldwin has proclaimed March 5-15 as Girl Scout Week in Chelsea.

The president's proclamation paid tribute to Girl Scouts of the USA on its 57th birthday, and hailed the firmness of purpose which has guided the lives of many million Girl Scout members since the organization's founding on March 12, 1912.

President Baldwin highlighted the organization's triennial theme, "Values to Hold—Worlds to Explore," and Girl Scouts of the USA's continuing service to "our daughters, our community, and nation."

Baldwin called upon all citizens of Chelsea to give Girl Scouts their "continued interest, co-operation, and support so that an increasing number of girls may benefit from a program which also benefits each and every one of us."

Girl Scouting was founded in Savannah, Ga., in 1912 by Juliette Gordon Low, who brought the idea home from England with the statement: "I've got something for the girls!" The movement has grown in this country from an original troop of 18 girls to an organization of three and three-fourths million.

Cadet Mary K. Slocum will be mistress of ceremonies on Father-Daughter Night, Wednesday, March 12. Miss Slocum will give a talk on Lady Baden-Powell who helped initiate the Girl Scout movement.

If the attendance at Day Camp Round-up is any indication, there should be a record number of girls from the Chelsea area attending camp this summer.

RAIN OR SNOW NEEDED: Outdoor Burning Permits Canceled

No more fire permits will be issued in Washtenaw county until the prime burning conditions encouraging rashes of fires are doused.

Michigan Department of Natural Resources ordered the fire departments to cease issuing the permits which are necessary for all outdoor burning except that in covered container or domestic fire.

Conservation Officer Donley Boyer said parched land, mild weather and breezes allow the fires to catch and spread rapidly. The last precipitation in the county was 9 inches early last month.

Prosecution for careless burning, debris and endangering the property of others is pending authorization from the prosecutor in two local cases.

The two fires occurred within a half hour of each other Saturday afternoon. The first, which began at 1 p.m. at 1919 Bartel Rd., near Hadley Rd., raged over a large area to endanger farm buildings and several homes. Chelsea, Pinckney and Unadilla Fire Departments plus state equipment and personnel from Brighton fought to extinguish the blaze, which swept over an estimated 100 acres.

Before this fire was subdued, another broke out at 12760 Roepke Rd. The fire began when papers burning in an uncovered container blew out and ignited grassland nearby. Several fields were burned over and the fire, endangering cottages on Ellsworth Lake, was

Unopposed Slate Offered in Village Election

Charter Amendments Ask for Caucus Nominating, Longer Terms of Office

Registered Chelsea voters will have the opportunity to accept or reject two propositions to amend the Village Charter and accept an uncontested slate of village officers from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday at Sylvan Township Hall.

The first proposal would amend the village charter to provide for two-year terms for the offices of village president, clerk and treasurer. Village Clerk George Winans said this proposal would eliminate the existing one-year terms where these officers are just becoming familiar with their duties before the term ends.

The amendment would provide that the terms of the president and treasurer be two years, beginning with the 1970 village election, and the term of clerk would be extended to two years beginning with this election.

The second amendment would give 10 or more qualified residents the right to nominate political candidates for local office by caucus. This would eliminate the expense of a primary and would provide for the right to form political parties other than national parties by submitting a petition with approximately 15 signatures to the village clerk.

A 1966 state law required all state, county and township candidates for office to file petitions under the national parties, such as Democratic and Republican. Since the village elections are governed by township rules, candidates for these village offices had to file under national parties, though it was not the intent of the legislature to include villages.

Chelsea firemen were busy with fire calls all week. Wednesday afternoon grass and brush burned on state land at the corner of Washtenaw Rd. and M-52, but caused no major damage. Later that afternoon firemen were called to put out another grass fire on state land on Embury Rd.

Grass was ignited by burning rubbish at the home occupied by Jerry Boyd, 19040 Old US-12 West, Friday. At 2 p.m. Wednesday a train spark ignited grass along the railroad and caused a fire that burned down to the Jack Harrington property on Hoppe Rd. Shortly afterward, grass was ignited by burning rubbish at 19033 Ivey Rd.

Firemen put out a grass fire at St. Louis school, 10530 Old US-12, caused by burning rubbish and later extinguished another fire behind the Dana plant. This fire was believed to have been started by children playing with matches. (Continued on page three)

The amendment was proposed by village officers who felt that "village politics should be divorced from national political party affiliations."

To amend the village charter the council was required to submit a petition requesting authorization for such changes to the office of the Governor. This authorization was granted by former Governor George Romney.

Candidates for available village offices are Frederick Weber, Village president; Gene Miller, Arden-Musbach and Athel "Mac" Fulk; trustees; Wallace Wood, village treasurer; Thomas Smith, assessor; Richard E. Harvey, clerk; Ruby Strieter and Sylvia Ferguson library board.

Persons not sure whether they are eligible to vote should contact village clerk George Winans.

Gaken, Kargel To Compete in State Meet

Chelsea wrestling co-captains Mike Gaken and Kerry Kargel survived the Class B Regional Tournament Saturday and will advance to the state meet at Okemos High school Friday and Saturday.

Chelsea totaled 18 team points in the tourney, finishing behind Madison Heights, 58; Dexter, 48; Holt and Tecumseh, 37; Willow Run, 31; Flat Rock, 19; Lutheran West, 24; Parma, 23; and Michigan Center, 22; tying Detroit Bishop Foley; and placing ahead of Saline with 15.

Heavyweight Jim Boylan and Tom Tibb at 112 were eliminated in the first round. Kargel pinned his first two opponents and then met another undefeated wrestler, Mike Gonzales of Madison Heights, who sported a 33-0 record. Kargel, competing at 145, with a 31-0, turned back Gonzales in a hard-fought match to win, 8-4.

It was a big win for Kargel in area wrestling since Gonzales had defeated top wrestlers from some of the toughest class A schools in Michigan.

For Mike Gaken his advancement to the state meet provided a series of cliff-hanging experiences. He suffered a slight head injury in the first round of his first match. According to Chelsea Coach Barclay Hendricks, dizziness and obscured vision from this brought his first defeat of the season. Hendricks said that he is confident that Gaken (Continued on page five)

Whitey Guest is Familiar Figure at CHS Sports Events

CHELSEA'S RESIDENT ANNOUNCER and official Whitey Guest has been seen behind the official's table during varsity basketball games since the early 1950's, and has been scrutinizing Chelsea football players since 1945 when he was temporary announcer for the last two games of the season.

Whitey Guest has been a familiar figure to those who frequent Chelsea athletic events since 1945, when he "temporarily" took over football announcing duties.

Whitey was asked by Charles Cameron to announce at the last two games of the 1945 season, after football lights were given to the school board by the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea. A public address system had been donated by Lloyd Heydlauff for the occasion, and was used by Whitey to introduce the team to approximately 2,000 spectators. The Chelsea team celebrated the occasion by trouncing University High school, 18-0.

Every season since 1945, except one, has found Whitey behind the microphone; that year, son Bud Guest took over announcing for the Bulldogs. In the early 1950's scorekeeping for the Bulldog cagers was added to his schedule. He is still the official tabulating scoring, time outs and fouls at all Chelsea games.

Before Whitey became the one to announce, describe and record action on the field or court, he was the one creating the action. While a student at Detroit's Western High school, Whitey was on the basketball, football and baseball teams.

At basketball games, Whitey works with official timer Arden Musbach and two officials from the opposing team to keep a running account of all floor action. Both scorekeepers insert the names and numbers in their books before game time, designating the five starters as selected by the coaches. The men check occasionally to be certain their figures agree. They have numerous little-publicized duties—such as noting whether the ball is already in flight when time runs out. (Continued on page five)

Scandinavian Tour Highlights Saturday's Kiwanis Travelogue

Irving and Electa Johnson travel in and around Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Finland in their little ketch "Yankee" in "Yankee Sails Scandinavia" at 8 p.m. Saturday in Chelsea High school auditorium as the fifth program of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club Travel and Adventure Series.

The Yankee, an unorthodox vessel built by Johnson in Holland, is a cross between an ancient galleon with sails and a modern yacht with motor. The couple used the vessel as home base as they explored majestic fjords, storybook islands, castles, beaches, colorful hamlets and great cities.

The "Yankee" was warmly welcomed by the boat-minded Scandinavians during the explorations. The Johnsons head for the Baltic by way of northern Germany and the Kiel Canal. Fair winds, adventure and fascinating sights mark their progress to Nordeney Beach resort, where Germans bathe in artificially-made waves in a large indoor pool.

Norway provides colorful scenery, fishing hamlets and inland waters. Homes, farms, old stave churches and schools are visited by the roving couple.

Sweden reveals its picturesque Gota Canal, land-locked sailing among cows in pasture. Famous quare-rigged warship VASA, Mayflower contemporary raised from Stockholm Harbor, is visited. Holiday boating and summer homes among islands of Sweden's vast archipelago, old and new, Stockholm. (Continued on page seven)

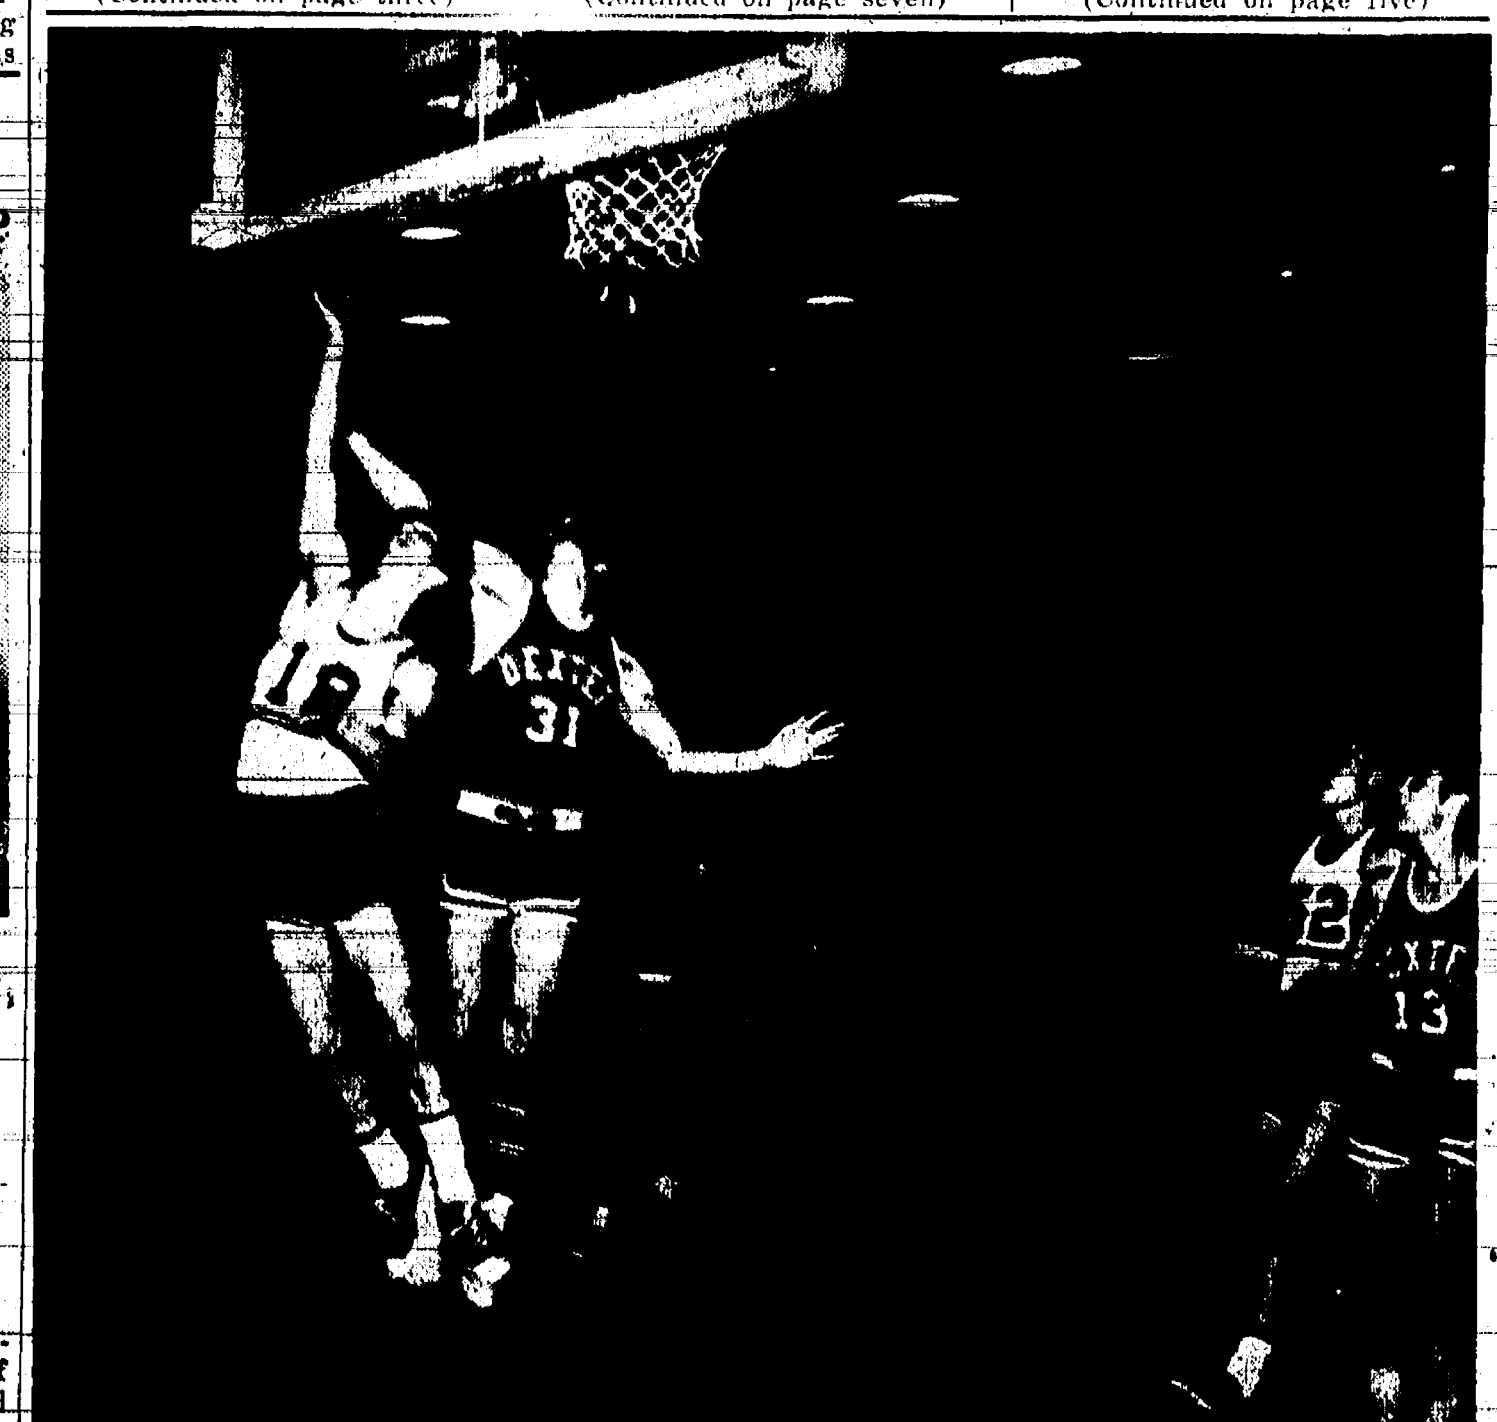

CAPTAIN IRVING JOHNSON travels through Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Finland in his personally narrated, full color film, "Yankee Sails Scandinavia" Saturday, March 8. Launch time for the cruise is 8 p.m. at Chelsea High school auditorium.

REPORT from LANSING

State Representative

Thomas O. Sharpe

★ The Case for Licensing Attorneys ★

I recently introduced, in the Michigan legislature, two bills that would withdraw the State Bar Association's present prerogative of policing its own members, and would place attorneys under state regulation—as is the case with practically all other professions that deal with the public.

House Bill No. 2115 would create within the Department of Licensing and Regulation, a new board consisting of three attorneys and two lay members, to license and hear complaints against the legal profession.

A second measure, House Bill No. 2116, would prescribe the powers and duties of the board members.

Since this legislation is raising considerable controversy, I feel compelled to review briefly the reasons behind it and the situation that made the need for it so glaringly apparent.

In Michigan, we have what is known as an "integrated" State Bar. This term does not refer to integration in the racial sense that is so much in the news today. It refers to a system whereby the functions of the Bar Association are integrated with those of the court and whereby the former operates with and under the authority of the latter—the authority, in the last analysis, of the Michigan Supreme Court.

This means that the Bar Association exercises and licenses attorneys, and that only its members may practice law in Michigan. This also means that the attorneys themselves hear, in secret, grievances and complaints against their fellow attorneys, and decide which grievances are justified.

Not all states have this system. In neighboring Ohio, for example, the Bar Association is a voluntary organization, rather than a compulsory one, and does not have the prerogative of policing all attorneys. From all accounts I've received, the Ohio system functions very well. Ohio attorneys, in fact, point out that their Bar Association provides them with far more services than does its Michigan counterpart.

Suggests Solutions

A detailed prescription for curing the state's urban malaise is set forth by the Michigan Welfare League.

The 40-page document calls for a mixed bag of tax law revisions, expanded housing authority loans, creation of so-called new towns, and establishment of a state urban affairs department.

The league, a state-wide citizens' organization, said the proposals are based on a 10-month study of Michigan's housing and urban life.

"The housing situation for low and moderate income persons remains one of the most critical problems facing Michigan today," said Detroit attorney George E. Ruehnell Jr., chairman of a special League study committee.

Great Need

Immediate need for a minimum of 150,000 housing units exists in Michigan, believes the League, including 100,000 in Detroit, the state's largest city, by far.

It said the state has been building homes for low-income families at the rate of 25,000 per year, and this is woefully inadequate.

Studies by other organizations after the 1967 Detroit riot underscored the urgent need for action.

Tough Problem

Housing that can be described as safe, sanitary and decent in Detroit and elsewhere is "either too costly for them to afford, or unavailable to them because of discriminatory housing practices," the League added.

"Research by our university social scientists can help develop cheaper and quicker methods and materials for building housing," it stated.

Here are the major ingredients of the League's plan for solving the state's urban housing problems:

Revise and update the Michigan Housing Code to make it more uniform and useful, especially as regards availability of funds.

Establish "new towns" outside the big city ghetto areas to permit development of self-contained communities with thousands of housing units for families of all income levels.

On a related front, Gov. William G. Milliken announced his administration will be dedicated to solving Michigan's urban troubles.

"The problems of the city are the problems of us all," he told the state Legislature in a special message, "whether we live in the Upper Peninsula, Benton Harbor or Detroit."

Milliken said the cities of Michigan face a "shortage of resources" that the state could meet best if the federal government begins to channel its funds through block grants to the state.

First priority, he said, must go to "redirection of our existing programs and improving them."

He said the total general budget increase from the state general and restricted funds is 11 percent this year.

WINDOW SERVICE

More than 45,000 drive-ins cater to the travel and eating habits of the American car owners.

Incidental, Mister Editor, the fellers at the country store Saturday night got a report from Zeke Grubb on how much a feller cats.

Zeke had saw some figgers that show an average American will eat 150 head of cattle, 2,400 chickens, 310 hogs, 225 lambs, 20 acres of grain and 50 acres of fruits and vegetables by the time he is 70 year old.

In an average year, he will eat 20 pounds of candy and wash everything down with 75 gallons of soft drinks.

You take that average American and multiply him by 200 million and you've got a powerful big job for farmers and ranchers.

The thing that might save us is that the fewer farmers we got the smarter they get. I saw where some farmers now is planting corn with airplanes and they can plant 10 times faster than with a 10-row planter.

I don't know where it's going to end, Mister Editor, but I see this scientist perdicts during the next 20 year the world will need more food and consumer goods than has been used in all history up to now.

And half of the goods we got now wasn't even invented 10 year ago.

Things is moving powerful fast. I was telling the old lady the other day man is the only animal in the world that will work his self into a early old age—just so he can relax and enjoy his old age.

Yours truly,

Uncle Lew.

Mrs. A. A. Palmer and Mrs. P. G. Schable who have long been connected with the library board are retiring this month. It is through the constant efforts of all the women who set up the original library and the people who have since served on the board that the library has grown and developed.

Mrs. Ella Staphis attended the ordination of her cousin, Charles H. Smith, to the Holy Priesthood on Saturday, Feb. 23.

The large farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright on Heim Rd. in Sylvan township was completely destroyed by fire which started in the attic about 11 p.m., Sunday.

With the help of neighbors, practically all furniture and contents were saved, but the blaze was beyond control when the fire department arrived. Mr. and Mrs.

Junior High Conservation Club Joins in Wildlife Week Observance

The Chelsea Junior High Conservation Club is joining in a nationwide effort to "Provide Habitat—Places Where Wildlife Live," theme for the 1969 National Wildlife Week observance, March 22-28.

Mark Staplah, Beach seventh grader working on the local Wildlife Week effort, said the observance is to draw attention to the growing urgency to protect and conserve natural areas that support wildlife.

Beach students will participate in an essay, cartoon and poster contest, and hear conservation speaker Thomas Hodgson discuss the need for wildlife protection. Present contest awards March 28.

Conservation officials are alarmed by the heavy toll of habitat loss from increased urban and suburban sprawl. The Nation's wet areas may be the most seriously damaged. It has been estimated that more than 70 million acres of marshlands and estuaries have been lost by draining, dredging, filling, and pollution. Reports indicate this destruction is accelerating.

Big Increase Noted In Michigan Travel

Lansing—Motorists were more mobile in Michigan in 1968 than ever before, the Department of State Highways reports.

They drove an estimated 48.3 billion miles on state highways, county roads and city streets, an increase of 3.3 billion miles over the previous high in 1967. The average annual increase since 1960 has been 1.9 billion miles. The 1968 increase was 7.3 percent, largest since 1964's 7.7 percent. Statewide traffic volumes were up 5.8 percent in 1965, 5.7 percent in 1966 and only 2 percent in 1967.

Ex-Teacher Finds Old Textbook In State Library

Nina M. Greening was featured in an article in the Feb. 21 Michigan Education News published by the State Board of Education in Lansing.

Miss Greening, a teacher with 43 years experience, had searched everywhere she could think to look for a book called "Birds and Bees and Sharp Eyes and Other Papers" by 18th century naturalist John Burroughs. She recalled using the book while studying for teacher certification in 1910, and later used it as a teaching guide. She wrote to "Box 4" in Detroit and they "failed to find the ancient book, published in the 1880's for 40 cents a copy."

Finally, she wrote to the state board in hopes that they could find the book she had used when studying for their tests.

In a few days, her lengthy search ended as she received a letter from Francis X. Scannell, director of the Bureau of Library Services, State Department of Education. He found a copy in the state library, still on the shelves, and sent it along for a four-week loan.

JV Cagers Show Power in Another Win

Chelsea JV basketball team wound up their season with a 10-7 final record by defeating the Little Dreadnaughts from Dexter, 52-41.

High scorers were Taylor and Treado, with 19 and 18 points, respectively. Coach Paul Perpatra commented that Taylor gave "probably the best total performance by a JV cager this season" as he piled in points and grabbed 27 rebounds.

Treado performed well defensively as well as offensively with a total of 14 rebounds.

Jack McClear did a "good job of controlling the offense" according to the coach. Hercules displayed his great aggressiveness and hustle by grabbing a total of 10 rebounds.

The coaching staff agrees in the feeling that the Chelsea JV will be able to contribute a great deal to the varsity program in the coming years.

Superstition never contributes to the unfolding of truth.

St. Mary's Closing 8th Grade...

High school in September since there is no nearby Catholic school with an eighth grade. Arrangements have already been made with the Chelsea Board of Education.

The closing of the eighth grade is prompted by rising enrollment and increasing lack of space. St. Mary's was forced to discontinue the high school curriculum in 1964 because of a lack of space in the growing school. The building was built for grades one through senior high in 1925.

Archbishop Dearden also confirmed decisions made earlier by parishioners and pastors at four other schools. St. James school, Ecorseville, will close grades one to six; St. Martha school, Dearborn, will close grades seven and eight; St. Bernadette school, Dearborn, will close down; and St. Alphonsus school, Dearfield, will close grades seven and eight, with remaining grades at St. Alphonsus to be closed next year.

Dana believes in putting all its eggs in one basket.

A 192 billion dollar basket.

Here's why Dana is putting everything it's got into the $192 billion—and growing—transportation basket. The U.S. auto population alone has tripled in 20 years. Right now it's growing eight times faster than the human population.

Studies indicate that by the early seventies transportation will account for 25 percent of the Gross National Product—about $250 billion.

Dana, with a total and diverse involvement in transportation, has a mighty good looking future in an atmosphere like this. After all, we are the largest independent supplier of transportation components in the world.

TIPS for your TOP

TODDY and FRAN

Surely you wouldn't be caught in a crowd in your new spring suit with the hair hanging; then it stands to reason you wouldn't want to wear it with your hair out of style either. In either case you'd feel utterly "unfinished". Why not make an appointment now, so you'll be prepared later, when spring is really in - so your hair will look as pretty as your Easter hat. We're a pleasant drive outside of town, have a parking lot that's free and easy to use, and we're open evenings (except Saturday). What more could you ask? If you think of something, maybe we have that too. Try us.

Letter to Parents

To My Wise Parents:
I said I'd write what became of us. (Instead of beads, I meant beads in last week's letter). You now know what happened to me, but I'll refresh your memories. The happenings will never be forgotten. You almost caught me smoking pot. You got suspicious and checked my time. I got scared you'd find out. I started to go to church regularly, cut my hair and wore regular clothes. The minister got me interested in the young people's work in church. But I had neglected my studies so much that I had a rough time getting into a community college. I worked my tail off, learned a trade, married a good girl (not a pot user). My two-year-old is your first grandchild. How proud you are. We'll have your second grandchild in a few months. Surprised? We want three. But Mom and Dad when your grandchildren go to school, we are going to join the PTA, and if there is no PTA, we'll work to have some organization. We'll get acquainted with our kid's teachers and support them with their discipline problems as well as scholastic problems. Also we will criticize teachers when we think they are too "far out" in their ideas or statements. I'll write next week (if you want me to) about the other kids.

Your Wisest Kid.

Large Cast, Crew Involved In Production of 'Music Man'

One week from tonight will mark the opening night of the March 13, 14 and 15 CHS productions of Meredith Wilson's "The Music Man." The large and talented cast for the musical will stage Chelsea-High school's most ambitious production yet.

The stage production, however, will not have begun with the raising of the curtains in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock Thursday night, nor will it have ended after the last applause ends Saturday night.

Countless hours of work will have preceded the presentation. Miss DiAnn L'Roy, director, had co-ordinated the efforts of the cast of 55 and the production crew of some 50 others.

Performances of the cast will speak for themselves—each of the 2,070 people expected to attend will see, hear, and appreciate the talents of the students on stage. Cast members spend more than nine hours weekly rehearsing to get each line and song consistent with the total effect. The performing students have dedicated much time and effort toward making the performance a good one.

The six principal characters of the River City, Ia., capers are portrayed by especially well-qualified students, according to the director. Professor Harold Hill, "Mr. Music Man" himself, will be portrayed by senior Steve Dieckrich who continues to improve in ability. Chris Alber's superb singing talent makes her the perfect portrayal for Marian the Librarian.

Karen Leach and Larry Blackwell, playing Zaneeta Shinn and Tommy Dillas, portray a teen-age couple so delightfully they are apt to steal the show in several scenes. Mayor Shinn, played so well by Ben Bower, has some hilarious run-ons with his talkative wife, portrayed by Pat Gilbert. Other cast members do fine jobs of supporting.

Many students making the stage production possible, however, will not be on the stage with the cast taking curtain calls. Many names representing important efforts will not be in the limelight. Committee chairmen, in supervision of their individual committees, have taken care of everything from building sets to selling tickets.

Miss L'Roy especially commends set designer Mike Schnaidt. "All of the committee chairmen have done very competent jobs, but I believe that Mike deserves special recognition for the magnitude of his task. The huge turn-table and the impressive set represent, in some cases, architectural feats, for which Mike deserves the credit. He designed the sets, and practically built them himself—on top of his regular school work and pressing athletic activities."

Student director Pam Wilson has also shouldered a large responsibility in co-ordinating efforts of cast members, publicity, ticket sales, finances, and other facets of staging a production such as this. Chris Frinkle, who was also very active in last year's production of "Bye, Bye Birdie," has handled the financial operations of the musical, involving more than $3,500.

Kathy Powers has directed active costume-making since early December, to provide costumes for a cast of 55, some requiring several changes. The responsibilities have involved several searches for articles including the shoes, hats, and vests required.

Ticket sales, a bigger job this year than ever before because of the added night of performance, has been organized and executed by Sarah Lindauer. Mike Gaken, also in addition to athletic activities, has supervised construction of sets, another large responsibility. Jim Boylan and Paul Prina will be operating lights during the production, a job involving many technical difficulties. Lynn Veech, in charge of collecting props, says she has had to locate "everything from a pitchpipe to a player piano!"

Design and make-up of the programs has been handled by Marilyn Hinderer, yearbook co-editor who is thus well-qualified for the responsibility.

Diane Stoffer, who worked on make-up last year, will be in charge of make-up for the performers. Jo Ellen Tison, rehearsal pianist for the production, has put forth many hours of effort with the singers.

Bonnie Parnell and Mary Steele, co-chairmen of publicity, have publicized the school production in newspapers and radio spot announcements in the entire area, as well as distributing posters to some dozen high schools and downtown districts.

Each of these committees has been supported by several students, unsung heroes and heroines of the presentation.

Obviously, the largest part of the answer to "What makes a production of "The Music Man" would have to be Miss L'Roy. Her busy schedule and added production of the musical have made her tenacity and determination keep pushing forward the cast and committee chairmen. Her efforts and total involvement in the staging of the musical will be evident to each member of the audience next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights.

Harold Hiss is coming to town! The super salesman, who makes his living cheating people in small towns, meets his match in River City, Ia., when he falls in love with Marian the Librarian. He decides to go straight from then on and remains in the small town to direct a band which he organizes.

Ticket sales, a bigger job this year than ever before because of the added night of performance, has been organized and executed by Sarah Lindauer. Mike Gaken, also in addition to athletic activities, has supervised construction of sets, another large responsibility. Jim Boylan and Paul Prina will be operating lights during the production, a job involving many technical difficulties. Lynn Veech, in charge of collecting props, says she has had to locate "everything from a pitchpipe to a player piano!"

Design and make-up of the programs has been handled by Marilyn Hinderer, yearbook co-editor who is thus well-qualified for the responsibility.

Diane Stoffer, who worked on make-up last year, will be in charge of make-up for the performers. Jo Ellen Tison, rehearsal pianist for the production, has put forth many hours of effort with the singers.

Bonnie Parnell and Mary Steele, co-chairmen of publicity, have publicized the school production in newspapers and radio spot announcements in the entire area, as well as distributing posters to some dozen high schools and downtown districts.

Each of these committees has been supported by several students, unsung heroes and heroines of the presentation.

Trip Through Time

The Michigan Farm Bureau will celebrate its Golden Anniversary this fall, and the occasion has attracted renewed interest in the changes which have occurred in the past 50 to 100 years. Old-fashioned churns, hair-dressers, kerosene lamps and other items are reminders of the "good old days," but it was in "the good old days," as it was then—when the now, as it is now—when every housewife baked her bread, churned butter and rubbed clothes on a washboard in a tub. Water was hand-carried and heated on a wood fire.

And, most everybody lived on the farm. Recently, the chairman of Michigan's important five-member Commission of Agriculture, Walter Lange, who farms near Sebewaing in Huron county, acted as master of ceremonies at a community gathering where the group took a "trip back through time" by means of an exhibit of antiques, bringing them early farming tools. A threshing flail and an ox-drawn sled served to illustrate an important point. "This flail probably cost the farmer of that time about one or two dollars if he had to make the flail himself," Walter explained. "Now it has been replaced by a complex machine costing today's farmer between $5,000 and $20,000," he said. The flail, a wooden handle, lashed by leather thongs to a shorter length of wood, was swung by muscular threshers to beat kernels of grain from the stalks and husks on the threshing floor. The self-propelled combine was the modern threshing counterpart against which it was compared. In similar fashion, Lange told the team of oxen has been replaced by a modern tractor, costing from $10,000 to $15,000—but immeasurably more effective. At the conclusion of the trip-through-time, both Lange and his audience of farm and city folks agreed much prefer things the way they are now.

But the point was well made that progress does not come cheap, and that a large part of the price-squeeze about which some complain has been caused by replacing once abundant farm manpower with high priced machinery.

Accreditation Team of Evaluators Complete Study of High School

The team of 17 North Central Association evaluators studying Chelsea High school last week met with teachers at a full faculty meeting Thursday for a summary of their findings. In general, the evaluators were favorably impressed with the functioning of the school and the quality of students. Their two main suggestions for change were, first, physical changes to add more storage space; and second, certain curriculum changes. Evaluators studied phases of the school in which they were competent by observing and talking with students, faculty and administration. They arrived Tuesday for dinner and orientation. Wednesday and Thursday were spent in the actual study. A detailed, written report will be available in approximately two weeks.

Choice of Contractor Important When Constructing Soil Conserving Systems

By Clark A. Eacker

Whether it's a pond, a waterway or a tile system, the careful choice of a good conservation contractor is like having money in the bank. It's an economic investment in the future. Even though his hourly rate may be a little higher, an experienced conservation contractor can produce a top quality job that not only fulfills its purpose, but also protects your soil and water resources.

The conservation contractor is experienced in digging ponds and channels for landowners who belong to the local Soil Conservation District or who just believe in practicing wise land use. He readily co-operates with the SCD in following the engineering plans prepared by U. S. Soil Conservation Service technicians. He is familiar with and follows guidelines for the proper installation of the various conservation measures, thus insuring that they will successfully do the job for which they were installed.

The better contractor is generally familiar with the problems and acceptable land uses of the soils in your area. He is concerned with possible soil erosion on the freshly exposed ground and follows Soil Conservation Service suggestions for reducing erosion.

An able contractor runs a highly efficient operation. He saves his clients money by using the equipment best suited for the job. He and his crew are well versed in using surveyors' instruments and

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER:

"I have a problem. I like this boy very much. I think that he knows it. I'm 15 years old and he is 17. When there's a dance we both go and I sit there watching him all night. I dance with other boys, but it's just not the same. Many people say it's fun to feel this way about someone and to enjoy it. I don't agree. I want to know if you could give me some advice on how to stop liking him so much. I see him every day at school."

OUR REPLY: Since you apparently have had only a "looking-at" relationship with this boy, how do you really know that you like him? If you knew him well enough you might not like him at all. One thing that you must learn, and will probably learn as you mature, is that a one-track mind can be responsible for plenty of heartaches and grief. One cannot go through life very happily and successfully without concentrating on a few realities. You won't like this boy so much if you exercise the will power that is yours . . . when you turn your mind to other thoughts. When you go to a dance, have a good time; don't spend the night staring across the room. When you are in a class, concentrate upon the lecture, or the subject under study. Do this and a wider world of wisdom and understanding will open up for you.

If you have a teen-age problem you want to have discussed or an observation to make, address your letter to "For And About Teenagers," Community and Suburban Press Service, in care of this newspaper.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMER

From Mrs. Mildred H. Fischer, Hutchinson, Minn.: I remember the good old days on the farm when herding cows was a regular chore. As soon as a crop was off the field, the cows were let out to graze. Whatever livestock was available, feed for livestock was scarce in those days and every bit had to be salvaged. There were no fences in those days, so it was our job to keep the cows within the confines of a particular field.

After school, Saturday, yes, even on Sundays we had to herd cows. It wasn't too difficult because the cattle were usually hungry instead of running around and when they started wandering it was time to bring them home.

We would bring a book or a game and spend the time pleasantly absorbed while escaping some of the more unpleasant tasks at home. Some times we would become a little too absorbed and look up to see the cows in a nearby corral which involved a merry chase to get them back where they belonged. We usually had the help of a well-trained cattle dog who would round them up for us. Once in a while, he would get too enthusiastic and stampede the herd and they would head for home at full speed.

Spring was a pleasant time to herd cows. When fall brought the cold winds, it became quite uncomfortable and we were glad when snow came to cover the fields and end our chore for the season.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Do you have a voice? Do you use it to good advantage? If there is something you don't like can you do anything to change things? Where would you start? Would you go to the city hall? To the police? To whom would you take your problem? It frustrates me to think I cannot as an individual, do a thing. I can talk and complain, but this doesn't solve my problems or alter them.

How do I make my voice heard? With a PTA!!! I know it interferes with my other interests. But don't I care about my child's school life? If I leave it all up to the teachers, then I am inviting them to make any and all decisions. It may not be in my interests, though?

Well, the only way for us to be heard is in the PTA. Where good or bad—everything is brought to light. So many of us have said, "I don't like the strict enforcement of high school rules. More kids are being kicked out." So if you think something should be changed—let's get together and talk about it. I'll pick you up! Let's get it going again. We let something good get away!

Key Harat.

Dear Editor,

It is with deep concern that I write you in hopes that I may reach people of this community. The people of Chelsea have paid high taxes for most modern schools. Now a school is only as good as the teachers that staff it.

My concern is with a 9th grade teacher of English. This teacher has flunked almost one-half of the students of the average group. The school classifies these students according to ability and groups them.

It is questionable to us as parents, to this teacher's ability to teach.

Upon visiting this teacher's classroom (of which I was unwelcome by teacher) I questioned his marking records.

We, as parents feel he was unfair in his marking. We ask that our child be transferred to another class of English, where a higher mark could be obtained, to stay on honor roll.

We would like you parents to know the co-operation we received from the principal. Our child was transferred to study hall for the remainder of the school year.

This matter has been brought to the school board's attention. I appeal to you parents of the students that flunked. Do you wish to have your child another whole year in English class (a required subject) because of this teacher?

Time in this day and age, is very valuable to students, as well as parents. Why waste time in a class where a flunk is a certainty.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Sibley

CURVES OF MAINE

The Maine shoreline winds 3,478 miles; yet by straight line it spans only 228 miles.

To the Editor:

With the First Amendment of the U. S. Constitution and Article I, Section 4 of the Michigan Constitution again under attack by the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church, it might be well to recall the words of the most prominent Catholic of our time—John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

They were spoken on Sept. 12, 1960 when Mr. Kennedy, then the Senator from Massachusetts campaigning for the presidency, delivered his televised address before the Greater Houston Ministerial Association.

I suggest a reading of the complete transcription. In the space available I can present but a few of Mr. Kennedy's statements.

Senator John F. Kennedy: "I believe in an America where the separation of church and state is absolute. . . where no church or church school is granted any public funds or political preference. . . I would not work with favor upon a President working to support the First Amendment's guarantee of religious liberty (nor would our system of checks and balances permit him to do so)."

"I ask you tonight to follow me in that tradition, to judge me on the basis of 14 years in the Congress—on my declared stands against an ambassador to the Vatican, against unconstitutional aid to parochial schools, and against my boycott of the public schools (which I attended myself)."

"There's no doubt in my mind that the viewpoint I have expressed here tonight publicly represents the opinion of the overwhelming majority of American Catholics. This is the opinion, I think, of the American Catholic Church in the United States with which I am associated."

"In my judgment it is the view of American Catholics from one end of the country to the other. . . my judgment is that Cardinal Cushing, who is a Cardinal from the diocese of which I'm a member, would approve of this statement, in the same way that he approved of the 1948 statement of the Bishops."

So spoke John F. Kennedy. Is there in America one priest, one bishop, one archbishop, one cardinal of the Roman Catholic Church telling his flock what John F. Kennedy said that night in Houston about separation of church and state?

Or is the betrayal of John Fitzgerald Kennedy by the hierarchy now final and complete.

Walter Brauningner.

Man Arrested Wednesday On DUI Charge

A 42-year-old man was arrested Wednesday morning for reckless driving and driving while under the influence of alcoholic beverages in Chelsea.

Regular Exercise Essential to Everyone for Physical Fitness

Most people have the false impression that, in order to be fit, one must be a star athlete or adhere strictly to a carefully selected diet, or, in other ways, restrict himself.

The Committee on Exercise and Physical Fitness of the American Medical Association has defined physical fitness as the general capacity to adapt and respond favorably to physical effort. It points out that the degree of physical fitness depends upon the individual's state of health, constitution, and present and previous physical activity.

Just what does all this mean?

In the first place, an individual is physically fit when he is able to meet both the ordinary and the unusual demands of his daily life satisfactorily and effectively. How many people do you know who are in apparently good health, but are fatigued by a normal day's work and are exhausted whenever they face a crisis requiring more than ordinary emotional or physical demands? The truly physically fit individual does not have this problem.

Obviously, physical fitness and good health go hand in hand. It is possible for a person who has some physical handicap to attain what for him is optimum fitness because much of this fitness is relative and individualized. Everyone can have the level of fitness that helps him do his work, enjoy his recreation and still have some reserve.

How do you go about attaining this fitness? First, from the purely physical point of view, maintenance of good health with a periodic health evaluation by your physician aimed at correcting any defects that may exist is essential. Then, with your physician's assurance that physical activity will be safe, you should engage in a variety of physical activity of a suitable nature at regular times.

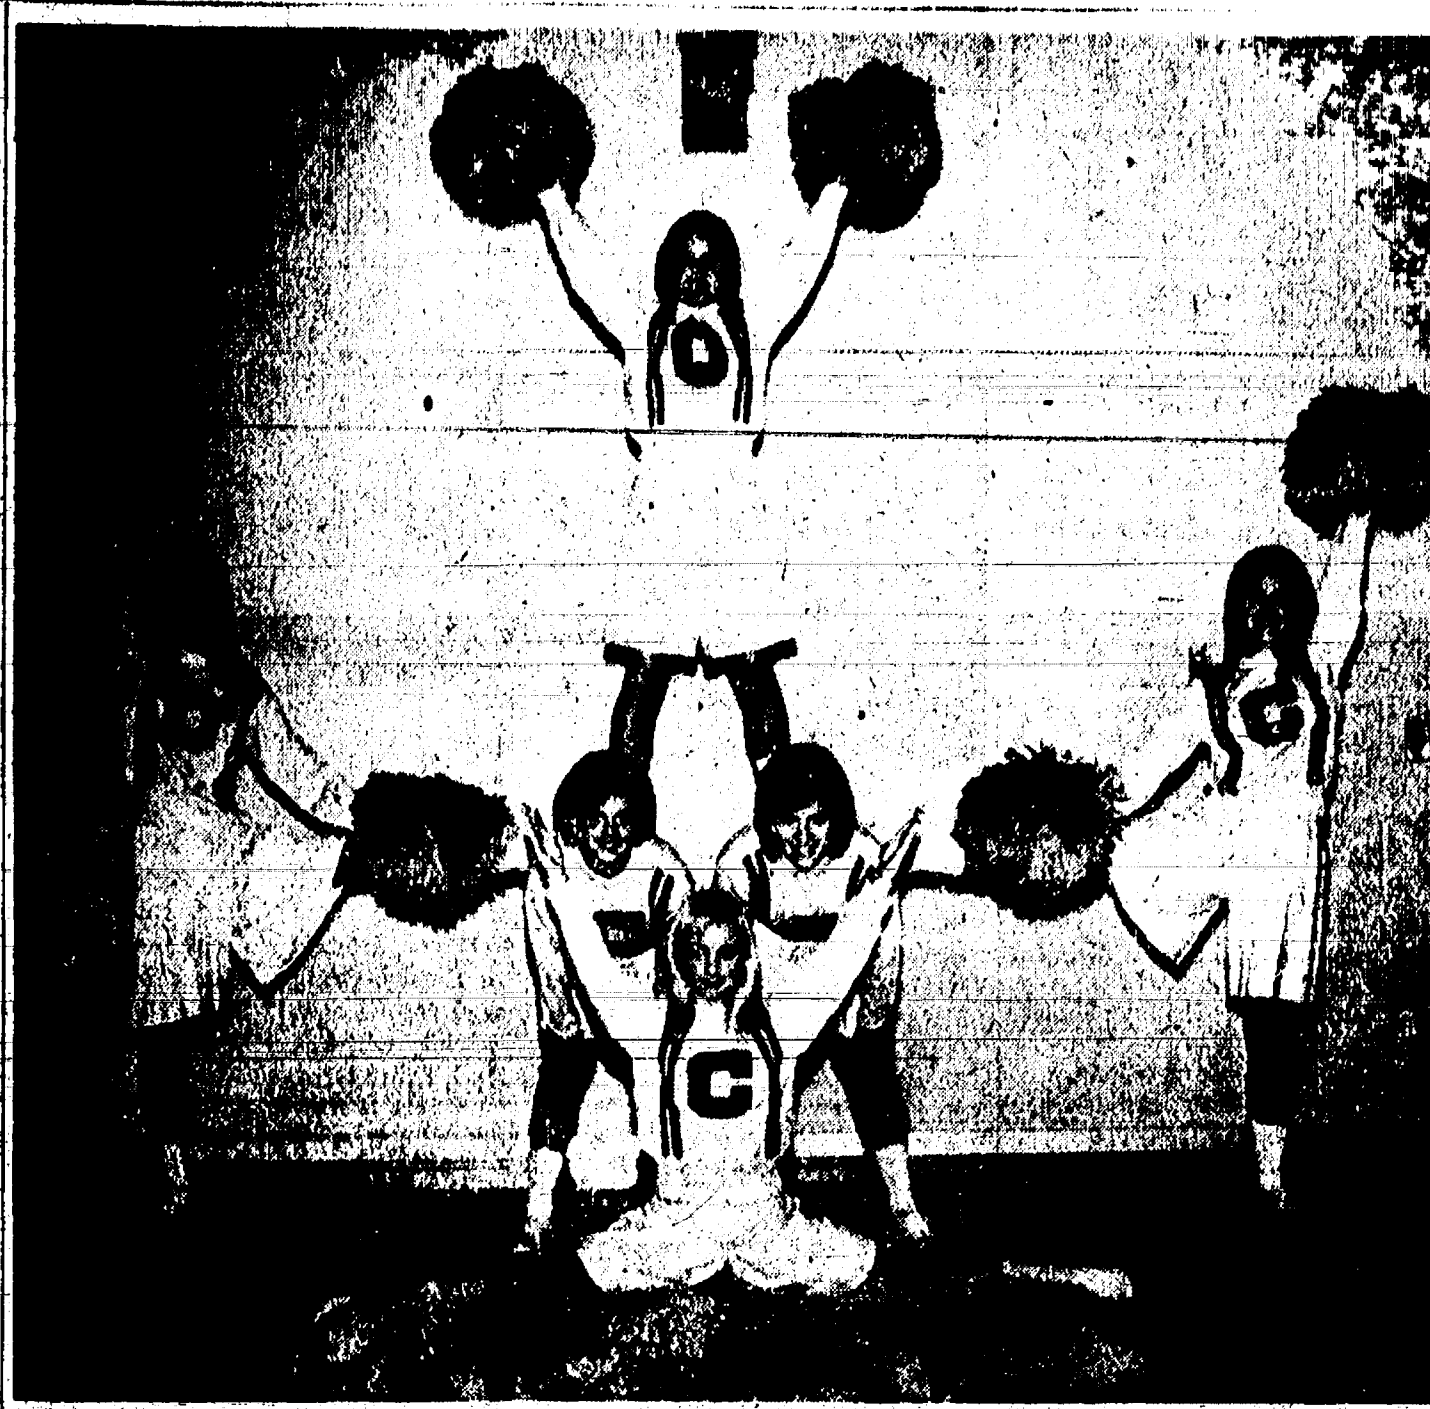

Jogging is popular at the present time. Callisthenics are useful. Walking is an excellent exercise, particularly if one tackles it vigorously and regularly. Climbing three or four flights of stairs on the way to your office or apartment every day is an excellent conditioner. So are tennis, badminton, any of the common sports, gymnastic activities, swimming and even golf and bowling.

Regularly is important. Some physical activity every day is desirable, but such activity should be planned at least four times a week.

But fitness is not all physical activity. Caloric intake and output must be balanced. If the appetite demands more calories than are used up, obesity is inevitable. While concentrating on physical fitness, you would do well to consider also other fitness aspects that make a person whole. Mental fitness is one of the important facets of a fit person. The emotional stability, the ability to cope with anger and fear, are just as important in fitness as being able to run a mile.

Social fitness, the ability to meet, work and develop team activities with people, and to enjoy associations with people are as much a strength as enlarged biceps.

All of these and other factors in daily living help us become fit but they all are likely to be more effective if they can be built on a sound basis of physical fitness in a person who is medically well.

Varsity Cagers Lose Contest to Dexter, 75-70

Chelsea Bulldogs settled for an even 6-6 conference record Friday night as they were turned back by the Dexter Dreadnaughts, 75-70.

The defeat put Chelsea squarely in the middle of the final South-eastern Conference standings and left Dexter all alone in the number two spot behind Milan. However, Dexter was upset 69-67 Tuesday night by Brighton, a team Chelsea has beaten this year, in the first district tournament game. With Dexter eliminated, Chelsea is left with Brighton and South Lyon, teams Chelsea has defeated, and Pinckney. Chelsea faces Pinckney at 7 p.m. tonight in the Bulldogs' first game of the tourney.

At Dexter, Chelsea Athletic Director Bruce Galbraith feels the Brighton upset appreciably increased the Bulldogs' chances to claim the Championship.

Two JV players, Jim Hercules and John Taylor, were added to the varsity squad for the tournament in hopes that they will gain favorable experience from it. The team will play without Ron Sweeney who broke his leg during practice early this week.

Friday night's game was not one of the best of the season for Chelsea, as four starters fouled out and a few costly turnovers were factors in losing the close game.

High scorers were Dave Conklin, 17, Jim Wojciecki, 16, and Doug Weatherwax, 11.

Chelsea Police Chief George Meranuck said the game was supervised by 11 auxiliary and two regular Chelsea policemen since they had expected trouble. Meranuck reported that no incidents occurred.

John Stuart Culp, 19, was arrested by Chelsea police for attempting to obtain alcohol Sunday with falsified identification.

Culp, of 7447 Hashley Rd., Manchester, ordered a six-pack of beer from a Chelsea bar at 1:30 a.m. Sunday and produced a birth certificate with date of birth listed as 1950.

When asked for additional proof, he showed a draft card with birth date listed as two years later.

Printing was hailed as an invention to hand down wisdom to posterity; the only trouble is that posterity is too busy to read what was handed down.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

★ Anger
If you would rest in comfort, never take anger to bed with you. Anger impedes reason and will not let you relax.
Do something with your anger, no matter how just that anger may be, when the sun goes down. Turn your thoughts away from the source of irritation. If not, adopt a reasonable attitude that will make your thoughts objective, and not vindictive or spiteful.
You will find it easier to accept the fact that something has gone wrong for you or that someone has done you an injustice; if your mind is clear to help you to the realization that human relations are often strained through carelessness, ignorance and accident. And, sometimes the very thing that angers one individual so greatly is something no one else has given a thought.
Do not sleep with your anger. Set it aside. When tomorrow comes, take a fresh, new look at whatever it was that upset you. In the light of a new day, things may appear somewhat differently.

DISHONEST SMUGGLER
Border Patrol inspectors near Freer, Tex., intercepted a car from Mexico that had failed to report. A search revealed 240 pounds of marijuana. The driver told Customs agents that he was supposed to deliver the marijuana in San Antonio. The car was conveyed to the designated spot, and after waiting there from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m., the driver finally admitted that he had been lying and that the load was his.

ON INFLATION
Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy has promised that the new administration will move more decisively, but without abrupt or blunt action that could "bring on unnecessary unemployment," to offset inflation. The surtax question and monetary policy will be the administration's major tools in trying to contain inflation.

'Your Dollar's Worth' Program Will Examine Drug Industry

East Lansing—"Your Dollar's Worth" examines the drug industry, a sector of the economy accepted on trust by most laymen, on "Prescription Drugs: Prices and Perils," Sunday, March 9, at 12:30 p.m. and Wednesday, March 12, at 12 noon on WMSB (Channel 10), Michigan State University television.

The problem of adequate pre-testing of drugs is discussed by Dr. Philip Quibell, medical administrator of a child care center caring for thalidomide babies. Dr. A. Carleton Crooke, a British endocrinologist, comments on the safety of the contraceptive "pill" and a fertility drug.

Leading critics of the drug industry and several representatives from the nation's largest pharmaceutical concerns also appear on the program.

Other WMSB highlights include: WELFARE—The present confusing and inequitable system of welfare is explored and debated on "City Makers," Sunday, March 9, at 11:30 a.m. and Tuesday, March 11, at 12:30 p.m.

Mitchell Ginsberg, administrator of New York City's Human Resources Administration, and series host Dr. Kenneth Clark support the theory that the main burden of welfare payments is placed upon the unit of government least able to finance and administer the program adequately. Ginsberg, whose agency stands accused of fund mismanagement, advocates a national system of welfare compensation, which would alleviate variation in amounts given for relief across the country and help solve the national poverty-welfare problem.

NORMAN MAILER—"Critique" presents a lively interview with actor, filmmaker, activist—demonstrator, playwright and battler of bureaucracies Norman Mailer on "Beyond the Law," Sunday, March 9, at 3 p.m. The program, hosted by John Daly, features a segment of Mailer's highly praised film "Beyond the Law" which is a portrayal of a hard-nosed Irish detective in New York City. A panel of critics also reviews "Wild 90," Mailer's first film.

OPERA—Anne Elgar, a leading soprano with the New York City Opera, is a special guest on "Young Musical Artists," Wednesday, March 12, at 7 p.m. Pianist George Posell accompanies Miss Elgar as she performs the aria "Plangero la sorte mia" by Handel, the "Selva oscura" by Rossini, "Je veux vivre dans ce royaume" by Gounod and "Anne's Aria" by Stravinsky.

DYLAN THOMAS—"NET Festival" presents a portrait of the Welshman who became one of the century's leading poets on "Dylan Thomas: The World I Breathe," Sunday, March 9, at 1:30 p.m.

The story of Thomas's life is told in part by Thomas, himself.

LIFELINES:

THE COST

One day a man said to me, "I could never afford to join your church. Some of those folks give 10% of their income!" I have my doubts as to whether this man would have made a good church member, but I'm very sure he wouldn't make a good Christian (there is a difference, you know). Jesus Christ, the Son of God, expects the believer to give ALL! He said, "And whosoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple." (Luke 14:27). Paul, the apostle, exhorted, "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."

In a season when we hear about "deprivations," or disciplining self, or increasing our giving to the cause of Christ, we may mentally sum up the cost and pat ourselves on the back. Does it compare to "leaving all, taking up your cross, and following Him?"

If you join those who say, "The cost is too great," think on this. It is always costly to sin. The price is DEATH! (Rom. 6:23.)

Bring To Be Little Late About 6 Hours

Arbor-Spring will official March 30 at 2:08 p.m. six hours later than last according to a University of Michigan astronomer.

John W. Losh says that at 1 hour the sun will arrive at the equinox; the equinox, says north.

Four-hour time lag is traced difference between the number of days in our calendar (365) and the time used by the earth to go around the sun (365.256 days).

On the 20th, the sun will rise almost exactly at the east and west points, and the day and night are said to be of equal length.

But in reality, the day is 12 hours, it may be 12 minutes before it comes for a time after it has set, the light rays are bent as they pass through the atmosphere, day and night are more of the same length about 12 hours before the equinox," Losh says.

About Your Social Security

Robert A. Kehoe, Social Security district manager in Ann Arbor, announced today that late filing for social security benefits based on last year's changes in the law could result in loss of benefits because of the 12-month limit on retroactive payments.

Kehoe said that starting with February, 1968, changes and improvements in the insured status or work requirement rule made it possible for almost 350,000 people in the following three groups to qualify for benefits: (1) severely disabled widows and widowers between age 50 and retirement age; (2) young workers under age 31 and disabled; and (3) children of deceased workers.

However, Kehoe continued, Feb. 28 is the latest date for filing claims that could be fully retroactive.

There are still some people who are not aware of these changes in the law, Kehoe concluded, and anyone who might qualify should get in touch with their social security office before the February deadline.

The Ann Arbor office is located in Room 550, City Center Building, 220 E. Huron and the telephone number is 668-8541.

Winners in JC Ice Fishing Contest Told

The Chelsea Jaycee Ice Fishing Contest, completed last week, was a program for all ages with winners as young as four years.

Kenneth Roskowski, 7108 Lakeshore Dr., North Lake, hooked a 15-pound 15-ounce Northern Pike in North Lake to take the Northern Pike line junior division prize. Kenneth was fishing with his older brother, who had a good fortune to hook a larger one, but the misfortune to have to compete in the adult division.

A young fisherman who managed to win in two categories was eight-year-old Greg Ringe, 12780 Sager Rd. He caught a 15.5-ounce Perch in Island Lake to win the Perch junior division, and caught a 25 panfish totaling 6-pounds 2-ounces in Island Lake to win the panfish junior division.

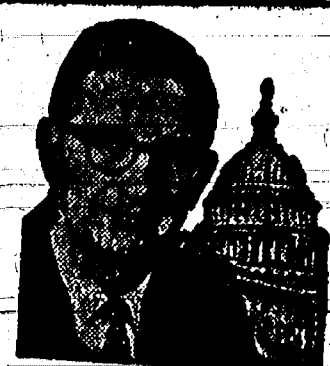

The Grand Prize winner was Mrs. Anna Juskowski, 311 N. Grinnell, Jackson, for hooking a 1-pound, 2-ounce Perch in Clark's Lake. She also won the Perch division with this fish.

The largest Northern Pike caught by line was the 7-pound 10-ounce fish hooked by Waldo B. Steinway, Jr., 507 Arthur St. He caught it in Sugar Loaf Lake. Jim Hafner, 388 Elm St., spearfished the largest Northern Pike, weighing in at 5 pounds 8 ounces, in Crooked Lake.

Charles Belser, 210 Park St., won the trophy for heaviest catch of panfish with his 25 fish weighing 7 pounds 1 ounce taken from Cavanaugh Lake.

Class winners will receive $5 plus a trophy. Junior winners will be awarded plaques, and the grand prize is a $50 savings bond and trophy. The trophies will be engraved and awarded by March 8.

THE CHELSEA STANDARD, CHELSEA, MICHIGAN

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

It is no secret that government red tape and bureaucracy are inefficient and that there is considerable waste of the taxpayers' funds here in Washington. Many programs which no longer serve a useful purpose are continued simply out of habit. Duplication and overlapping of programs between agencies has produced confusion in administration and has used up tax funds unproductively.

There are, for instance, 56 water conservation and pollution control programs in 7 different departments and agencies. There are more than 470 education programs in 20 agencies and divisions. There are 69 manpower training and vocational education programs. There are 74 economic and business development programs. There are 43 programs relating to child health and welfare.

In short, the government is very badly organized and there is little or no government-wide evaluation of programs. Faced with such inefficient organization, it is little wonder that funds are wasted and that confusion and red tape are spread throughout the government.

I have introduced this week legislation which I believe will be a first step in correcting these organizational problems. My bill, The Executive Reorganization Act, will give the President authority to submit plans to reorganize the Executive Branch. It will give him the ability to co-ordinate and consolidate agencies and functions of the government to promote efficiency and economy. It will enable him to take major steps to modernize the government and to eliminate overlapping and duplication of effort. It will provide him with the authority to reduce the number of agencies by consolidating those having similar functions under a single head, and to abolish such agencies or functions as are no longer necessary for the efficient conduct of the government.

This legislation has been endorsed by the Republican Policy Committee and by all of the members of the Government Operations Committee to which it was referred. I am very hopeful that it will soon be considered and passed by the House of Representatives.

The question of more efficient administration has long been of concern to me. During the 90th Congress I was joined by more than 100 members of the House in a bill to create a new "Hoover Commission" to conduct a broad, thorough long-range study of the government. I continue to support such a concept and understand that the new Administration is likely to give my idea its strong endorsement.

There is no excuse for not getting the very most out of each tax dollar. I view this as one of the most important functions of the legislative branch. As a member of the State Legislature in 1965, I worked closely with Governor Romney in improving Michigan governmental organization and have made efficient government my priority concern here in Washington as well. The Congress must serve as a watch dog and must provide the Executive Branch with every available tool for improving its administration.

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORDS BY LINDA NORRIS

One of the top performers of the day and one who has a voice that will keep him on top for some time to come is At Martin. He comes through with another smooth performance in Wake Up to Me Gentle which is as soothing an LP as anyone could have in their musical library these days.

Included in his repertoire this time around are I Can See Only You, Dream a Little Dream of Me, I Can't Help It If I'm Still in Love With You, The Look of Love, The Impossible Dream, Didn't We, If You Are But a Dream, I Can't Believe I'm Losing You and My Own True Love.

For those who like their LPs different... There is Joe South's Introspect which has a collection of ditties that are varied and colorful. They range from All My Hard Times on through such intriguing titles as Games People Play, Don't You Be Ashamed, Gabrielle, Rose Gardens, Redneck, Mirror of Your Mind, Don't Throw Your Love to the Wind, The Greatest Love, These Are Not My People and Birds of a Feather.

Still another group comes along in The Tunaful Trolley and they get off to a flying start with Island in the Sky, a LP that has wide appeal. In addition to the Tunaful Trolley Theme, there are such songs as Hello Love, Sunny Days, Georgianna Peach Pie, Lady, M.A.C.K., Lovely Day, Written Charet, I Got You Around, My Apple Pie and Uncle Joe's Armada—and how's that for a wake-up cheerful title?

THE LANSING REPORT by Senator GIL BURSLEY

Michigan taxpayers disturbed by tax increases resulting from state-ordered equalization of property values may find encouragement in a series of bills ready for senate action.

The bills are designed to standardize tax assessing procedures throughout the state and upgrade the quality of local assessors.

Many Michigan residents in recent months have complained about sharp increases in property taxes which resulted largely because the 1965 Constitution ordered the legislature to "provide for uniform general taxation of real and tangible property." The legislature was ordered to provide for a uniform assessment of up to 50 percent of "true cash value of such property."

When the formula was applied locally in areas where property had not been assessed at that rate, most local units of government did not drop the tax rate accordingly, being content to accumulate the greater tax revenues.

The series of bills pending include:

1. A bill to require that every assessor be certified by completing instruction in a recognized school for assessors, pass a test applied by the state tax commission, or be certified outright by the state tax commission. This would take effect Dec. 31, 1971.

2. If certification of assessors is not approved, another bill would establish the office of county assessor by Jan. 1, 1970. The assessor, appointed by the county board of supervisors, would assess for the entire county. The bill would also establish a county board of review composed of six residents. The county assessor system is working well in Oregon, it is reported.

3. Another bill calls for updating of assessments every five years. If existing staffs are not sufficient to carry out the job, the supervisors could employ independent firms certified by the tax commission to insure uniformity.

4. Another bill would require that, in determining cash value of property, the assessors must consider factors of zoning, land use and income capabilities. This measure would meet the requirements set last year by a supreme court ruling.

Michigan Students Account for 97 Percent of CMU Enrollment

Mt. Pleasant—More than 97 percent of Central Michigan University's spring semester enrollment of 10,365 consists of students from Michigan.

Coming in the largest numbers from heavily populated Wayne county, CMU students represent 82 of Michigan's 83 counties, 23 other states, the District of Columbia, two U. S. territories and 19 foreign countries.

Wayne leads all Michigan counties with 1,025 CMU students, followed by Oakland with 973 and Isabella with 828. Other counties with strong representation include Saginaw with 628, Genesee with 526, Midland with 522, Macomb with 422, Kent with 385, Bay with 368 and Gratiot with 232.

A total of 171 CMU students come from other states and territories. New York, with 41 students at the University, leads the list of states, followed by Ohio with 20, Illinois with 27 and New Jersey with 17.

Of the 63 students from foreign countries enrolled at CMU, 22 are from Canada, 10 from Thailand and four each from China, Japan and Korea.

Keweenaw County in the Upper Peninsula is the only Michigan county not represented by at least one student at the University.

New Highway Map Ready for Distribution

Lansing—Just about everything out the name and shape of the state has been changed on the 1968 edition of the Official Michigan Highway Map, the State Highway Commission said today.

The new map, now available for distribution, has been entirely redrawn, making it neater and easier to read. Red grid lines keyed to the borders have been added, making it easier to find cities listed in the index.

Bordering states and Canada appear in one color, calling more attention to Michigan, and county roads appear in gray instead of black, calling more attention to the state highway.

The reverse side also has a new look with the most helpful change being the addition of color to the city inset maps. This makes them more meaningful, especially for motorists who want to know where cities leave off and the suburbs begin.

Theme of the 1968 map is tourism, Michigan's booming billion-dollar-a-year-plus business. Colorful photos on the map cover and reverse side call attention to travel and the great variety of things to do and see in Michigan.

The Commission is printing 1.8 million copies of the map, an increase of 300,000. The additional maps will be distributed to potential Michigan vacationers through facilities of the Michigan Tourist Council.

Most of the remaining maps will be distributed in response to mail and telephone requests—and through the nine travel information centers operated by the Commission.

The Commission noted that although the quantity of maps has been increased this year, the supply is still far short of the growing demand. The Commission plans to increase its printing of maps to two million annually beginning with the 1970 edition.

Requests for 1968 maps should be addressed to Official Michigan Highway Map, Michigan Department of State Highways, Post Office Drawer K, Lansing, Michigan, 48904.
