The 1969 United Fund Community Chest drive will continue through Nov. 7 with the door-to-door campaign set for next Monday. The 1969 goal is set at $24,225.

Mrs. Charles Popovich, Jr., is chairman for the residential committee. The captains for door-to-door village soliciting are Mrs. Robert Bertke, Mrs. Robert Peterson, Mrs. Jack Patrick, and Mrs. Thomas Dmoch. Mrs. Richard Harvey, Mrs. A. J. Hale and Mrs. Jerry McPeake are also in charge.

The door-to-door drive in the rural areas will begin Oct. 27 with the following captains in charge: the Rev. John Morris, Mrs. Earl Kuhl, Mrs. Frank Messman, Mrs. Willis Heydlauff, Mrs. Douglas Nadeau, Mrs. Charles Stappish, Mrs. Alfred Smith, Mrs. Robert Powers, Mrs. Norman Bott, Mrs. Edward Gilbreath, Mrs. R. Ringe and Katie DelPrete. Contributors may phone the captain nearest to them to donate or may send a donation directly to Chelsea Community Chest in care of the Rural Area chairman, L. D. Guinan.

Chrysler Corporation was the first unit to turn its contributions over to the Chest this year. Approximately 100 local residents employed at Chrysler and the corporation gave $4,600 to the Chest.

Trick or Treat For UNICEF Slated Sunday

This Sunday children of the community will be making door-to-door rounds "trick-or-treating" with UNICEF canisters. The collection is an annual drive to collect pennies and nickels to be used by the United Nations for children's aid all over the world.

After the collection from 3 to 4 p.m., the children will gather in the Methodist church Social Center for a treat prepared by the ladies of the Church Women United of Chelsea.

UNICEF money is used for many different needs. Some of the donations may be used for equipment for production of vaccines, for text books, safe milk and weaning foods. Other critical needs in the areas served by UNICEF are for workshop equipment for vocational training, and materials for day-care centers.

The UNICEF dollar goes a long way. One-half dollar buys enough medicine (at world market prices) to cure a child of trachoma, blinding flakes.

Bulldogs Win, 35-20, Over South Lyon

The Chelsea Bulldogs defeated South Lyon, 35-20, in Friday night's league football game.

Early in the first quarter, Jim Wojcicki took the opening kick-off and ran 75 yards to reach the 12-yard line. Tim Orbring picked up the ball on the next play and added five yards with Dave Conklin gaining first down on the two-yard line. Wojcicki used a quarterback sneak to go in for the first touchdown of the game. Orbring kicked for the extra point.

On the next kick-off, the Lions picked up the ball on their five-yard line and ran back to the 20. Chelsea's stout defense knocked Dave Brandon, South Lyon's fine quarterback into the end zone after three plays, where he fumbled the ball. Dennis Brown recovered the pigskin in the end zone for a TD. The extra point attempt was no good. This play set the score at 13-0 within the opening three minutes of the game.

Brandon then passed to Bob Bruner for 32 yards and a touchdown for South Lyon. The two extra points were made on a run, setting the score at 13-8.

In the second quarter, Wojcicki again scored on a sneak of four yards. The try for an extra point failed, leaving the score at 19-8.

South Lyon scored on a pass from Brandon to Rick Pike who ran 82 yards for the touchdown. The Lions failed to make the extra points setting the score at 19-14 at the half-time.

In the third quarter, Wojcicki scored once more on a sneak of about three yards. The attempt for the extra points was fumbled but Len Kozma recovered the ball in the end zone to save the two points. The score stood at 27-14.

In the final quarter, South Lyon scored on an intercepted pass by Dave Perkins who ran 32 yards for the TD. With six minutes to go in the game, Chelsea punted to the Lions but held them for four downs and no score. South Lyon punted to the Chelsea 44-yard line. Glen Wilkerson received the punt and faked a hand-off to Larry Gorton. Gorton carried out a beautiful fake while Wilkerson ran through heavy blocking for 66 yards and a final touchdown. The extra two points were made by Wojcicki who walked into the end zone with the ball after a tailback fake by Dennis Brown diverted almost the entire South Lyon team.

Tom Lukasiak and Wojcicki each intercepted passes for Chelsea. The team kept South Lyon's capable quarterback, Dave Brandon, at bay during the entire game. Bulldog tackling was tremendous and stopped him at all points of the game.

Chelsea meets Saline in football on the home field Friday at 7:30 p.m.

TARGET, 100 PERCENT: The Red Feather of the United Fund-Community Chest drive in Chelsea is again flying next to the postoffice. Elmer Kiel (left), president of the 1969 Community Chest Board, approves of the mark Dr. Gene Miller, chairman for the campaign, is aiming for on the chart. They hope to raise $24,225 this year for local and state agencies.

Halloween Party Slated Next Thursday

Halloween, the eve of All Saints Day, will soon be upon us and the Chelsea Kiwanis Club is preparing for their annual spook parade.

The Kiwanis Club tries to keep damage and lost children to a minimum with their party and parade on this happy holiday. On Thursday night, Oct. 30, the time from 5:30 to 8:45 p.m. has been delegated "Trick or Treat" time.

Goblins are to gather in the gym at the old Junior High school at 7 p.m. for judging of their costumes. A panel of judges will choose the most original, comical, traditional and spookiest costumes. Noisemakers will add to the fun.

At 7:30 p.m. the hobgoblins parade will march from the school to the downtown parking lot for cider and donuts. Last year hungry spooks consumed 100 gallons of cider and 140 dozen doughnuts. Eerie music will emanate from the Chelsea High Mummer's Band with Kiwanians as scary marshalls.

Halloween eve, or Halloween as Americans call it, is a pagan celebration on the night before Nov. 1, All Saints Day, dating from the Middle Ages. All Saints Day is a feast celebrated by the Roman Catholic and Anglican Churches to praise God for all his saints, known and unknown.

The celebration of All Saints probably began as the commemoration of martyrs who died in groups or whose names were unknown in the religious wars of Medieval times.

In pagan times, Halloween was thought to be a night of supernatural influences. Children born on Halloween were thought to have the faculty of perceiving ghostly bodies and able to converse with supernatural beings.

The vigil of Halloween is associated with countries where Celtic influence is strong and includes age-old customs. In certain parts of the British Isles, bonfires and fortune telling like those of midsummer night continue. These customs on the night before Nov. 1, the beginning of winter, survived independently of the feast.

Elsewhere, especially in our country, masquerading and knocking on doors for tricks or for treats, along with carving pumpkins for jack-o-lanterns, is popular.

Large Crowd Urges Return To Negotiating

A large crowd of concerned Chelsea citizens who attended the Board of Education meeting Monday night appears to be the prime precipitating factor behind the board's offer Tuesday to renew negotiations with the striking Chelsea Education Association.

More than 500 townspeople turned out for the regular board meeting to press for school to reopen. The primary goal of the audience, irrespective of the differing opinions expressed, was for contract negotiations to resume in order to settle the dispute and open the schools as soon as possible.

One of the first questions with this intent came from a woman in the audience who asked the board, "Why don't you negotiate? Why aren't we willing to negotiate with our teachers?"

Board President Donald Irwin answered, saying, "We are now waiting for a complete fact finding report. Prof. Gould, the fact finder, has issued a 'mini-report' to expedite negotiations."

"The board feels that we didn't ask for fact finding," said Irwin. "We are impatient to give the full fact finding report a good close look." The "mini-report" does not give the fact finder's rationale, he said.

Prof. Gould has promised to issue his complete report by Nov. 1. When a citizen asked if the board planned to wait until Nov. 1 before meeting with the teachers, Irwin said, "We would hope that we could get this thing off the ground some way."

"We would certainly hope the teachers would reconsider and get back to school," he said, "and this would stimulate us to no end."

Later a citizen rose to ask, "I want to know whether the teachers are ready to go back to school right now?"

Lawrence Lonsway, president of the CEA, was recognized by Irwin and answered the question. "We sent a letter to the board last week indicating that we are willing to negotiate," he said. "We are still waiting to hear from the board."

When the citizen protested that this did not answer the question and demanded a simple yes or no, Lonsway rose and answered, "No!"

Later Lonsway also said that the teachers were ready to negotiate that night. A number of the audience then petitioned the board with, "I've heard the teachers say (Continued on page five)

Board Votes To Ask Court For Injunction

School Board Unanimous In Decision

At a special Board of Education meeting held Wednesday night, the board voted unanimously to seek an injunction to return the teachers to the classrooms.

The Board and CEA negotiating teams met in the Board Room at the high school Tuesday, Oct. 21, from 10:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. with a break for dinner.

The Board of Education stated its position on the various unresolved issues.

The CEA then presented a counter proposal in regard to probationary teachers and extra-curricular assignments, demanding that they have access to the grievance procedure in the event of termination of services with binding arbitration as the final step.

The Board reaffirmed its position regarding the necessity to retain its legal right under the State Tenure Act, to dismiss probationary teachers for sufficient cause.

CEA negotiators agreed to present the Board proposal to their membership Wednesday and report the reaction of the CEA to the Board.

At the special meeting, held Wednesday evening, the CEA negotiators reported that the teachers rejected the Board position on binding arbitration for probationary teachers and extra-curricular assignments. They indicated this was a hard and fast position and the teachers would return to the classrooms only when all items in the proposed contract were tentatively agreed upon.

It is the belief of the Board of Education, with the best interest of the students in mind and based on the past several days of experience, that as much progress could be achieved with the teachers in the classroom as with them out of school, hence the decision to ask for an injunction.

Action Taken At Wednesday Night Session

The Chelsea Board of Education voted unanimously Wednesday night to seek a court injunction that could end the CEA strike and return teachers to the classrooms.

The Board had earlier re-opened contract negotiations with the CEA Tuesday morning after townspeople called for action in a stormy school board meeting Monday evening.

The CEA met with five board members, their negotiating attorney, Thomas Nordberg, and Superintendent Cameron from 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tuesday. Negotiations resumed at 6 p.m. with all board members present and adjourned shortly before midnight.

In the negotiation sessions, the board reaffirmed its position that it intends to "retain its legal right under the State Tenure Act, to dismiss probationary teachers for sufficient cause."

The CEA maintained its proposal that probationary teachers have access to the grievance procedure with binding arbitration as the final step if they feel they have been dismissed without just cause.

The CEA met Tuesday morning in general assembly to discuss the board position. The CEA negotiators met Wednesday night with the board to discuss the issue. Teacher negotiators told the board that the CEA was holding fast to its position on binding arbitration for probationary teachers and for assignment of extra-curricular positions.

The board subsequently decided to enjoin the teachers, stating that "as much progress could be achieved with the teachers in the classroom as with them out of school."

The board did not indicate when it will seek the injunction.

The injunction may be sought either in Jackson or Washtenaw counties since portions of the school district lie in each county.

A court may refuse the injunction, or force the teachers to return to their classrooms. A court may demand continued negotiations if teachers are enjoined to return to their jobs.

In earlier action, the board indicated at the meeting Monday evening that it intended to wait until Nov. 1 and the issuance of the complete fact finding report before renewing negotiations. Many

★ IN OUR OPINION ★

School Board Should Continue To Protect Taxpayer's Rights

Another week has gone into history and Chelsea's school-age population is still without the customary daily routine of acquiring an education in the classroom.

Striking members of the Chelsea Education Association are now in their 8th day of "withholding services" following their inability to reach agreement with the Board of Education on contract terms.

Apparently our editorial last week did not find complete acceptance among the CEA membership. However, the overwhelming number of expressions of approval must mean something to both parties in the dispute.

We have no innate dislike for teachers and their struggle for improving their lot in life or attempting to improve their "professional" position. We have always looked up to educators at all levels as being involved in one of the most respected and noble of occupations—in the same category we have always placed ministers, doctors, attorneys and other similar professional people. But carrying a picket sign will never help improve this bright image in the eyes of the rest of the population. It isn't a question of putting one person above another, classwise. Simply a natural feeling of respect and admiration that has grown for these leaders and "professional" people in all civilizations around the world down through the ages. Respect like this is not the result of any demands, but a spontaneous reaction among peoples everywhere.

CEA spokesmen have stated they are not demanding concessions from the board. That they simply take a position on the issues involved. From where we sit, they can call it anything they wish, but we will continue to call it a demand when they "take a position"—and back it up with an illegal strike action!

And teacher strikes are illegal according to the Michigan statute. To be sure the Michigan Legislature has granted teachers the right to organize and bargain collectively with their employers. But strike action was never authorized for teachers, or public employees. For some unknown reason legal machinery was never written to provide for enforcing the no-strike position, so we continue to have such actions.

We repeat our position stated last week on the basic issues of (1) binding arbitration, (2) academic freedom and the personal life of teachers outside of the classroom, (3) the order of reduction of staff in case of a financial crisis, and (4) making the dismissal of a probationary teacher a grievance entitling such person to a full and complete hearing of the charges. These four items we still believe should be NOT NEGOTIABLE.

Why do we feel these items should not also be negotiated? Because we feel the Board of Education does not have and should not have the right to bargain away these rights. The board is required by law to operate the school district and can be held legally responsible for its management or misconduct of the school district's business. We believe these certain issues are rights that belong to the people—the taxpayers and residents of the school district—and as such the board has no right to give away what they are elected to hold in trust for the people.

As for the academic freedom issue, we feel it should be unnecessary to try to set down elaborate guidelines to cover the hundreds upon hundreds of issues that may arise. We have never quite been able at any level of government to set down a similar set of rules although the laws of the State of Michigan already fills many volumes.

How much more simple and effective it would be for a teacher desiring to present some controversial issue or renovation in the classroom to talk it over with his principal or supervisor before going overboard. Such controversial issues surely can't arrive too often and normal day-to-day operations should be easily guided by any competent teacher using common sense and good taste.

On the request for a hearing for probationary teachers who might be dismissed, we feel the board should give such teacher a hearing when requested—in private—and let such teacher know the reasons or charges. We don't know if this has been the practice or not but feel the board would probably accept it. Such probationary teacher is not entitled to a public hearing, however. Such a hearing would probably develop into a nasty gripe session and the teacher would limp away with a diminished public image and probably a blotch on his employment record. And the community would be emotionally torn apart each time.

Final decision on the dismissal should still rest with the board—the legal employer—not with somebody from Detroit or Lansing. A probationary worker in any industrial plant under union contract almost always has far less rights than this. He can be arbitrarily dismissed for almost any reason during such period. Teachers are given at least two years to prove their competence.

The CEA has failed to convince us that this position is unrealistic, unworkable and impossible for them to live with. We want teachers to enjoy their work and associations in Chelsea and we believe most of them have. But we also believe the majority of residents in the school district want the board to retain these rights which they are holding in trust for the people.

Cigarettes Grow Costly

While cigarettes have been taking quite a beating lately from many different corners, there is one beneficial aspect about them: they're taxable.

On Oct. 1, for the first time in history, there was a tax imposed on cigarettes in every state of the union.

On Oct. 9, to bring the matter closer to home, Gov. Milliken asked the legislature to raise Michigan's cigarette tax from seven cents to 12 cents per pack.

To those who can remember the time when cigarettes were two packs for a quarter, the prospect of paying that much alone in state taxes on them seems a little drastic. But a 12-cent rate isn't even unusual any more.

Iowa was the first state to impose a tax on cigarettes in 1921. Michigan was a relative latecomer to the scene, waiting until 1947 to levy the first tax on smokers.

Prior to 1947, some 32 states had levied taxes on cigarettes and seven more joined the bandwagon that year.

A 12-cent rate would by no means make Michigan the highest taxing state, either. That distinction belongs to Connecticut, which charges 16 cents for every pack of cigarettes sold there.

Other states higher than 12 cents are Florida (15 cents), New Jersey (14 cents), Oklahoma, Tennessee, Pennsylvania, Minnesota and Rhode Island (13 cents), and Arkansas (12.25 cents).

States already charging 12 cents are New York, Vermont, Massachusetts, Maine, Illinois, North and South Dakota and New Mexico.

Hare Keeps Trying
 Secretary of State James M. Hare is one of those persons who truly deserve the title "politician." He is as astute a politician and has as many contacts as any man in Lansing.

Yet, he has one pet project that he has never been able to get the Legislature to go along with. That is a financial disclosure provision for campaigns.

The seven-term officeholder, who is retiring after the current term he is serving expires, is going to make one more try.

He served notice on the legislature he will be after it again next January to enact "total reform of Michigan's financial disclosure laws with particular emphasis on more effective controls over reporting of political campaign contributions and spending."

"A meaningful, effective public disclosure law will not only inform the people as it should but will produce the desirable side effect of reducing the cost of politics to permit highly qualified but modestly affluent people to run for office," he told them.

Hare said the bill he is pushing "will not limit political participation but will require the participants to be open and honest."

"The effect," he predicted, "will be to foster public respect for politics and politicians. The bill restricts campaign spending to candidates, committees formed at the candidates' request, party committees and fund-raising committees."

"These so-called committees must file a statement of existence and file an accounting of receipts and disbursements," he explained.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

After attending the school board meeting Monday, Oct. 20 I was just sick to see what kind of representatives the Chelsea taxpayers have. To think we voted for these men who have no back bone and are afraid to seppak their mind. This situation has continued long enough. Yes, our children are being hurt this fall but unless we get some petitions circulating and clean up our present administration you can look forward to this situation repeatedly. Wouldn't you like to feel proud of our community and its leaders. Let's all get out and do our part. Think of your children's future.
 A concerned taxpayer.

To the Editor:

I attended the school board meeting Monday night curious to see if the present situation between the school board, teachers and no school for children would be discussed and if so what decisions had been made and what we as parents were to expect to be happening in the next few days (or weeks so it would seem). Apparently others are just as concerned, because approximately 500 people must have been in attendance. The stage curtains opened at about 8:20 p.m. to reveal the school board, Mr. Cameron and Mr. Mills. Apparently the meeting had started in another place and then when they were made aware of the large attendance of interested persons they moved to the auditorium.

Numerous small items were discussed and in view of the present situation it seemed ridiculous to be calmly chatting about, lunch, flag pole, shrubs, etc. Finally Mr. Irwin, the school board president, asked what had caused so many people to be in attendance. (A person not knowing of the situation might have thought he was mistaken on the first place, etc.) He then proceeded to say the board had not asked for an audience for anything special! Just what does a person have to do to make someone realize they care and are concerned? It seems the residents of this school district have sat quietly by letting the board control the situation in their own good time confident a conclusion would be reached in the best interest of the community.

Well now that school has not been in session for seven days we wonder just what is being done? As was pointed out last night we have been able to receive all the answers to our questions that we want from the teachers, but to date (even after last night's meeting) the board still has not made clear why we are having a problem. As someone else so aptly

DEN 1, PACK 455—

Cub Scout Den 1, Pack 455 met at the home of their den mother, Mrs. Charles Burgess. The meeting opened with a ceremony called America and the pledge of allegiance.

We are all busy working on our skit for the pack meeting. We talked and read a pirate story. We were all happy to see that we now have a den chief to help us. He is Lee Hafner.

With the den chief we had an outdoor game of football. The treat was brought this week by Donald Aldrich. Meeting closed with the "living circle."

Leon Wheeler, scribe.

DEN 3, PACK 455—

Cub Scouts of Den 3, Pack 455, with their den mother, Mrs. Haskell Worden, met Thursday afternoon, Oct. 16, at the Congregational church. The meeting opened with the den yell and dues were taken.

The boys made eye patches to be used in the skit for the pack meeting and talked about the skit.

said we understand what you are saying but why you are not reaching a compromise is just not clear! Everyone in this town must realize that when you belong to a union and you decide to go on strike (when negotiations have reached an impasse) the employer does not request employees to return to work before they will negotiate. Whoever heard of such a thing! If the teachers have decided they want a union that's up to them to decide, and unions do strike!

Through the years after attending Chelsea High myself and now with my children attending, only one thing has become very apparent—I'm sick and tired of the children of this district being used as pawns by the board, principals and teachers! I do not think it is necessary for anyone to discuss millage issues, teachers' personal feeling, strike, etc., in front of the children at school—threatening—Yes, in a way it is threatening them to convince their parents that we will out activities and services—such as no sports, no driver training, no this and no that. Why can these issues be discussed without using the children and their futures as the stakes. Its just too high a price to pay.

GUEST EDITORIAL

By Chelsea Education Association

Oct. 16-1969, The Chelsea Standard published an editorial, "CEA Asks Concessions Board Should Not...". Although the intent of the editorial is clear, the facts support specific issues are vague and often false. The list of FALSE-RESPONSE statements clearly shows this disparity.

FALSE: "Among the list of 13 unresolved items the demanding the board grant them before they will sign at this year, are nine which we believe the board probably would be willing to negotiate."

RESPONSE: The CEA is demanding nothing. The CEA is that it has a right to collectively negotiate employment which will enhance the teaching pro-

FALSE: "First, is the demand for binding arbitration school board for any grievance that cannot be peacefully resolved."

RESPONSE: The implication here is that binding arbitration is not peaceful. Binding arbitration simply guarantees that who has filed a grievance to the hearing of an impartial panel. Teachers believe that there must be a judicial body which sets itself apart from the two groups that negotiate a contract. This judiciary would be the final step in the procedure.

FALSE: "... the CEA demands the board give up the right to dismiss probationary teachers."

RESPONSE: The right of an employer to decide the fate of an employee without a hearing is unjust. This does not mean that competent teachers will be granted tenure. It does mean that probationary teachers are provided with safeguards against the possibility of unjust dismissals.

FALSE: "... they (the teachers) were demanding to have certain duties and obligations reserved for the members of the school board."

RESPONSE: Obligations of the school board may be defined in order to obey the law or to preserve tradition. The law nor tradition is infallible. The educational needs of today's children require progress in tradition and

FALSE: "And they are all matters that, in our opinion, are NOT NEGOTIABLE."

RESPONSE: Michigan law gives teachers the right to negotiate with their employers. When The Chelsea Standard states that certain contract articles are not negotiable, it misunderstands the bargaining process.

FALSE: "Think it over, teachers, while you are on the picket sign like ordinary, unskilled day labor-

RESPONSE: The teachers of Chelsea have carefully considered their actions. They have also carefully considered their position in relation to men and women in other occupations. This position continues to be one of equality where men and women stand side by side, not above and below one another.

The teachers of Chelsea's Schools believe in the children of the community. The CEA therefore, rejects the standard's suggestion that some teachers leave who do not agree with the school district's operation. There is an alternative. Although the alternative is momentarily painful, it will improve the quality of teachers and programs in the Chelsea School System.

VOLUNTEER SOLICITORS for the residential and rural areas for the Chelsea Community Chest drive received their instructions and materials in their Monday meeting shown above. Principal purpose of this part of the campaign is to contact those who do not work in a local business or factory. However, the Chest is encouraging a small donation from those who may have already given at their place of work.

More Ducks Reported This Year But Fewer Hunters

One Canadian goose made an unscheduled stop in Chelsea Saturday. Winging across the marsh near West Lake, he flew into the gunshot of Joe Doering to become a prize 1½ pound catch for the hunter.

Doering, of 560 Chandler, was hunting with Tom McCarthy of Detroit as duck season continues in full swing. They each brought down a Mallard duck also.

Local game ducks include the Wood duck as well as the Canadian and Mallard. Geese are also included in the open season which began Oct. 10.

In other game, squirrel season opened early this fall on Sept. 15. Bow and arrow season for deer opened Oct. 1 and pheasant season opened Monday. Regular deer season begins Nov. 15. Don Boyer, area conservation officer, notes that there are more ducks this fall but fewer hunters. "The heavy rains probably account for the many ducks," said Boyer, "and the complex rules this year probably reduced the ranks of enthusiastic hunters."

Most of the hunters stay around the duck blinds near Four Mile Rd. and the flooded land at Winewana. A time limit on shooting ducks ends hunting for the day at a little after 5 p.m.

Boyer has recently arrested nine men who violated hunting laws. Three men, one from Dexter and the others from Detroit were fined for carrying loaded guns in their car. Another offender from Detroit was totting an unsheathed gun in his car. A Plymouth man was found hunting waterfowl with a plugged gun, a shotgun capable of holding more than three shells. A man from Drayton Plains was fined for shooting duck past the curfew time.

Immanuel Church Bible Conference Begins Sunday

The Sunday morning Worship Hour marks the beginning of a fall Bible Conference at Immanuel Bible church.

The Rev. Claire Olin, pastor of the Frederic Baptist church, Frederic, will present a series of messages on "God's Week of Creation" along with the use of his own charts. Hundreds of hours have been spent pursuing this study and the pastor feels it will help answer many questions that face us today. The Rev. Olin has 40 years of experience in the ministry and has been a pioneer in starting new churches throughout the north.

Each service promised inspirational music and singing and nursery will be available. Sunday night's service will start at 7 o'clock with the week night meetings are at 7:30 p.m.

Halloween Party

lar. The game of bobbing for apples dates from the Middle Ages. Not so long ago, tricks like looking a cow in your mean neighbor's parlor or putting his buggy atop his barn were a certainty on Halloween. Sometimes one wonders who was punished the more, the victim or the trickster, who spent all night and much hard work on these stunts. (There were some dandies, weren't there, old-timers?)

Really cultured persons never mistake vulgarity for originality.

CHRYSLER CONTRIBUTION: Jim Wilson, center left, Chief Steward of UAW Local 1284 and UAW chairman of the United Fund Drive at Chrysler Proving Grounds, is shown presenting a report of their 1969 contributions to Elmer Kiel, Commu-

ity Chest president. Standing left is Leonard Nawrock, personnel manager at Chrysler, and right, Tony Bowen, Chrysler industrial chairman in charge of the Chrysler area. The donation of $4,600 is the first to be reported in the 1969 campaign.

Board Will Seek Injunction

(Continued from page one) at the meeting, however, called for the board to get negotiations underway immediately. Prof. William Gould, fast finder appointed by the Michigan Employee Relations Commission, issued a "mini-report" to the board and the CEA last week that gave his conclusions regarding the unsolved issues.

Gould decided to issue the short statement before his full report due to the continuing strike that is keeping Chelsea school close for the second week.

His "mini-report" reads as follows: "1. The board of Education should, upon request, state the reasons for failure to renew the contract of a probationary teacher. Upon request, the Board should provide a full hearing with the opportunity to present evidence and witnesses, and to cross-examine Board witnesses. I reject all Association proposals inconsistent with this."

"2. The duration of the Agreement on non-economic issues should be two years."

"3. The parties should agree to accept the Association proposals on academic freedom."

"4. I recommend that there be no contractual provision dealing with reduction in personnel."

"5. Since the Board's Sept. 15 Finding states that 'tentative agreement was reached on all other issues, I recommend that the tentative agreement be adopted by the parties.'

Friday the CEA and the board negotiators met in Detroit with mediator from the Relations Commission to hear Prof. Gould's recommendations. The mediator met with both groups for more than six hours but no public action resulted.

Girl Scout Troops Brave Nasty Weather for Camp-Out

On Friday, Oct. 17, two Junior Girl Scout troops challenged the nasty weather and camped overnight at Big Portage State Park. Eighteen girls from Troop 58 and 27 from Troop 82 shared tents and camping skills for an evening and a day of fun. Mothers who generously gave of their time to help are Mrs. Keith Schuelke, leader of Troop 82; Mrs. Philip Roy, assistant leader; Mrs. James Lorenz, leader of Troop 58; Mrs. Robert Updegraff, assistant leader; Mrs. Thomas Klobuchar, and Mrs. Louis Foreman.

Thanks to a troop of courteous Boy Scouts, the girls didn't have to fill and carry the heavy water containers. However, they were strictly on their own as far as tent set-up, cooking and cleaning went.

Friday evening was a fine night for a roaring campfire, hot chocolate and popcorn. Mrs. Foreman, that genius of the macabre, read the poem of Joshua Brown and his demise. The lady then passed around parts of poor Josh's body, including "eye," "entrails" and "tongue." This apparently was a good bedtime sedative because everyone slept soundly. Everyone, that is, except the leaders.

After breakfast, Saturday, the scouts cleaned up the campsite and spent the balance of the day having fun. A wide game was played the winning of which is still opened to dispute. There was

Visit to France Reported to Kiwanis Club

Kiwanis Club of Chelsea met Monday evening to enjoy a slide presentation by Bobbie Dvorak, a Chelsea High student and a member of "Youth for Understanding."

Miss Dvorak spent eight weeks, in France last summer, mainly with a French family. She was impressed with the friendliness of the French people and the ease of conquering the language barrier. She speaks "student" French and her "family" spoke no English, yet communication was not difficult, she found.

Kiwanian Robert Thalner of Ann Arbor, Downtown club, was introduced by Wallace Wood. Travelogue ticket chairman, James Daniels, reported of the almost complete sell-out of tickets. All sales are expected to be completed by Monday, Nov. 27.

Wallace Wood was busy taking pictures of officers and program to be used in making up a historical record of Kiwanis of Chelsea. Clarence Pendley asked for and obtained volunteers for an Inter-Club visit to the Dexter Kiwanis Club on Tuesday. An inter-club is composed of four or more Kiwanians conducting a planned visit to another club and is another way of promoting friendships.

Work assignments were handed out for the Halloween party to be given for local children Oct. 30 and for the pancake supper on Nov. 10.
