

Pre-Historic Mastodon Bones Unearthed on A. Kuhl Farm

Paleontologists have pegged the mastodon as a male. The size of the skeleton unearthed on the Arthur Kuhl farm told University of Michigan scientists the sex of the prehistoric mammal. University students and professors packed up their shovels and picks Friday and left the site on Scio Church Rd. But labor on the mastodon bones has barely begun. It will be many months before the bones will be ready to assemble into a partial skeleton of the Mammut Americanum. The bones are presently soaked in water tanks at the Museum of Paleontology. Bog water where they lay buried for 25,000 years had kept them perfectly intact. But exposed to the air, they would quickly crumble into dust. The water seeps into the air spaces between cells and maintains the bone composition.

The museum will wait until their "bone expert," Dr. Claude Hibbert, head curator of the museum, returns from studies in New York, before working on the mastodon. He will ascertain the proper preservative to harden the bones so they may be taken from the water. Then the long job of cataloging the bones begins.

"It's a good find," Prof. Robert V. Kesting of the museum said. "The skeleton is about three-fourths complete. Part of the skull, and leg bones are missing. Diggers found many ribs, vertebrae, a complete hip bone, jaw and tusk."

This mastodon is about seven feet tall at the shoulders, larger than the female mastodon on exhibit in the University Museum.

But he added that mastodon skeletons are not rare. "About 130 have been found in Michigan," Prof. Kesting noted, "and occasionally complete skeletons are unearthed." Mastodon bones have been found in Freedom township as recently as 1956. The oldest reported mastodon, 25,000 years old, was discovered near Saginaw. When the age of the Chelsea mastodon is decided, perhaps it will rival the claim of "oldest."

A much rarer find would have been the musk ox. A clove-hoofed animal bone was found among the mastodon bones that students hoped might be a musk ox bone. But paleontologists say they are now "quite sure that it is not from a musk ox." "Someone's cow must have gotten mixed up in the muck," laughed one student.

Carbon 14 analysis may be used to find the age of ancient bones and artifacts but the article must be burned and destroyed in the process. Paleontologists thus will compare the new find with other bones to pinpoint the mastodon's place in geologic history. Bits of wood and snails found alongside the mastodon will help in setting the age. A Carbon 14 analysis may be done on these more expendable finds.

Much of the mastodon was found undisturbed where it had died in the bog, with companion snails and vegetation alongside. Scientists can study how the animals lived together and what they ate and shared or competed for. Thus an entire ecology may be studied rather than isolated bones, a factor that much interests its discoverers.

Geologists helped plot the mastodon as an inhabitant of the latter part of the last ice age of Pleistocene. The soil samples they were able to take from the undisturbed ground will also help explain how the mammal died. The depth of the pond may be found to tell whether the animal mired down in deep water and drowned, or whether

THOSE AREN'T CHICKEN BONES! Edna and Arthur Kuhl display two of the mastodon bones that were found on their Scio Church Rd. farm last week. What's so important about bones, you ask? Well, the mastodon was a Pleistocene-age mammal that hasn't been seen in these parts for 20,000 years. Mrs. Kuhl holds the jawbone (left) showing the teeth of the animal. Mr. Kuhl props up the three-foot thigh bone which weighs more than 30 pounds. Almost an entire skeleton was found buried beneath six feet of muck. University of Michigan students and professors dug up the mastodon.

Rep. T. Sharpe To Speak on School Finance

State Representative Thomas G. Sharpe of the 61st district will publicly address the Citizens for Quality Education in Chelsea Monday on "Alternatives in School Financing."

Sharpe has just completed a mail survey of his constituents' opinions concerning the various education financing proposals before the state House. Although he is not on the Education Committee or directly involved in the bills on the floor, he should be able to help clarify the proposals.

One of the proposals for education is Governor Milliken's bill for a state-wide property tax with ceilings lowered on local property taxes to reflect the substitution. Other bills sponsored by various lawmakers involve income taxes, or changes in the sales tax system to raise the boom-ing cost of education. Members of the Citizens for Quality Education group are hoping that Sharpe will indicate the net effect on the community and the individual of any tax revision.

Taxpayers may welcome this chance to question a House member on state plans for education in view of the upcoming Jan. 26 millage election to partially finance Chelsea education next year. The financial problems alone facing Michigan schools are immense enough to call for thoughtful consideration of solutions even during the holiday rush, advise CQE members.

Rep. Sharpe is spending his fourth term with the House and is a farmer from Howell. He is a graduate of Detroit Business Institute.

The public meeting begins at 8 p.m. in the high school library and will end promptly at 9:30 p.m., organizers promise.

Loren Keezer, secretary-treasurer; Norm O'Connor, director, and Jerry Heller, director. The new club, a chapter of Civitan International, will provide a vehicle for area men to serve the community and promote fellowship.

Civitan Club Chartered

Thursday was charter night for the newly formed Civitan Club of Chelsea. Eighteen local men organized the chapter as a social meeting ground and a service center for village projects.

A dinner at Weber's kicked off the affairs of the Civitan Club with six men chosen as leaders for the group. James Myers will serve as president with Frank Hill as his second in command. Loren Keezer was elected secretary-treasurer. Directors are Richard Kern, Jer-old Heller and Norman O'Connor. Membership includes all men over 21 by invitation. The Jackson-Arbor Civitan Club sponsored Chelsea's chapter. Members expect to hold their first major meeting to discuss projects after the first of the new year.

Charter members, in addition to the officers, are Jerry McPeake, Charles Clauson, Jr., Douglas Sindlinger, Duane Weiss, Stephen Slane, Russell Gardner, Frank Wojcikowski, Leon Meabon, Carl Loeffler, Earl Heller, and Andrew Pollock.

The Chelsea club raises the number of Civitan chapters to 36 in Michigan. The idea of Civitan originated in Birmingham, Ala. in 1917 and by 1920 Civitan International was a reality. Today Civitan chapters may be found all over the world.

Schools Close Friday For Christmas Vacation

Chelsea Public Schools will close for Christmas vacation on Friday, Dec. 19 at 3:30 p.m., and reopen Monday, Jan. 5 for the second term.

L. G. Palmer is recuperating at the Kennedy Rehabilitation Center, Lake Worth, Fla. 33490 after surgery to correct the broken hip he suffered in a fall at Thanksgiving.

Area Churches Plan Programs For Christmas

A chorus of carols will celebrate the holiday season at Zion Lutheran church Sunday. The congregation will join with the Senior and Junior choirs in a joyful program of Christmas favorites. "Away in a Manger," "O Come All Ye Faithful," and "Joy to the World" and many others will ring out at the worship service at 10:15 p.m.

Zion women have also added to the Christmas spirit at the church with hand-made Christmas decorations for the "Chrismmon" tree. Symbols of the Christian religion are represented by the 144 hand-crafted ornaments that decorate the evergreen. Tiny white lights illuminate the lovely ornaments made by 30 of the churchwomen.

St. Paul United Church of Christ has again erected their "Chrismmon" tree also.

The symbolic ornaments get their name from a combination of the two words "Christ" and monogram. Thus "Chrismmon" means "symbol of Christ."

The tradition of a Chrismmon tree originated in Virginia at the Lutheran Church of the Ascension at Danaville. Patiens for the symbols are copyrighted by the Danaville church.

The ornaments are made from styrofoam and various materials in white and gold. White, the liturgical color for Christmas, refers to the Lord's purpose and perfection, while the gold symbolizes His majesty and glory.

The most well-known Chrismmon is the combination of the first two letters in the Greek word for Christ, one of the first symbols used by Christians. These form the sign of the letter "P" with the crossed "X" on the stem. Christians used such symbols in early times to keep the secret of their Christianity from those who sought to punish them as "heretics." The fish was also commonly used for a secret symbol.

Other early symbols were the butterfly or lily, representing the resurrection; the vine of grapes; a cornerstone (the chief cornerstone being Christ); a cross over the world; and the crown, of Christ the King. All these symbols are on the Chrismmon tree.

There are many crosses in the Chrismmon collection: the Latin cross which is not widely used today; the graded cross, a Latin cross on a base of three steps; faith, hope and love; the cross of glory or Easter cross; the Maltese cross with eight outer points symbolizing the beatitudes; the pointed cross, reminder of Christ's crucifixion; the Greek cross, and the anchor cross which symbolizes hope.

Also included among the Chrismmons are the circle meaning eternity; the equilateral triangle for the Trinity of God; angels, the spirits created to serve and praise God; scrolls which depict the written word and prophecy; a heart, the symbol of Christian love and service; a yoke, designating universal ministry and Christian service; and a ship "for the whole business of a church," the main part of a church being called a nave, the Latin for "ship."

There are two stars on the Chrismmon tree, the five pointed one called the Epiphany star or star of Bethlehem which was manifested to the Wise Men on the first Christmas; and the six-pointed star known as the Creator's star with the points referring to the attributes of God; power, wisdom, majesty, love, mercy, and justice.

Even the evergreen Chrismmon tree symbolizes the eternal nature of Christ. A shell on the tree represents holy baptism, and a dove presents the symbol of the Holy Spirit, peace.

Washington Report
 by Congressman
MARVIN L. ESON

Congress is on trial with the American people as never before. More and more people question the effectiveness of the legislative branch of the federal government in meeting a staggering array of crucial problems.

As one Congressman, I have my own disappointments about the performance of Congress. But at the same time I welcome, and encourage self-examination. Nearly every institution in this country needs to take a searching look at its own procedures and attitudes in this period of rapid change. Congress is guilty of near-scandalous conduct in failing to approve all appropriations bills even though we are more than five months into the new fiscal year.

While Congress has a duty to determine how money should be spent it has an equal duty to know how it is actually being spent. Nowhere is this more true than at the Pentagon. To take that position is not to strike an anti-military posture. Of what value to our defense structure is mis-spent dollar?

The cost of the C-5A cargo plane, for example, has run billions of dollars over budget, a situation discovered only belatedly to the anger of Congress and the public.

Congress needs many more staff members not to build empires, nor to harass an executive branch that often has difficult functions to fulfill. But rather to better understand the complexities of the unbelievable number of problems it rightfully receives.

But more than a better staff is needed. We need a reorganized Congress that will permit the public to exercise more freely its will through its elected representatives. And this is the most important point of all.

The real power of Congress comes from a stout-hearted belief at the grass roots, a gut feeling that surpasses disappointment of over specific issues that my Congressman and our Congress are truly listening to the people and acting with the best wisdom at its command.

I believe that Congress, near and far, to the people by design, should be and can be the most responsive branch. I work daily for that goal.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Parochial Gains
 Quite a few Michigan residents are excited over the issue of state aid to parochial schools.

The touchy issue is one of the most emotionally charged ever to come before a legislature.

During the December session the state PTA marshaled its forces to the statehouse in an attempt to dissuade wavering lawmakers from voting for the most recent parochial proposal.

The women were highly emotional and in a moment of frustration, a senator who favored parochial aid, after attempting to explain his position to them, told them to "go to hell."

Another lawmaker accused the women of "trying to put pressure on me" and walked away from a meeting with them. Many lawmakers, on both sides of the issue, refused to meet with the women at all for fear of emotional outbursts.

One thing which seems to have gained little notice in Michigan is the advances parochial has made in other states.

In the past two years four of the states of the Union have inaugurated some form of state aid to parochial schools. The four states are Connecticut, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Rhode Island.

The Pennsylvania statute was passed in 1968. The other three states passed theirs in 1969.

Both Ohio and Rhode Island authorized the use of state aid to supplement teacher salaries in secular courses taught in non-public schools. This is the method backed by Gov. William G. Milliken, Connecticut and Pennsylvania both authorized the funds for materials as well as non-secular teachers.

Connecticut's legislature appropriated $6 million for parochial schools, with the first payments to be made next Sept. 1.

Rhode Island had the smallest appropriation, $375,000 for the first year. Ohio on the other hand, appropriated $35 million for the first year.

In Pennsylvania, no specific amount of money was appropriated. Instead, a special fund financed by revenues from state harness racing and horse racing will be used to help the schools.

Pennsylvania's law has been challenged in a suit filed by six religious, civil rights and educational organizations joined by three individuals. A suit is planned against the Connecticut law.

The word "parochial" itself, by the way, is a product of the battle in Michigan over state aid to private schools.

You won't find the word in any dictionary and it is unheard of outside Michigan.

It was created several years ago by a group of newsmen mulling over the situation and frustrated by the length of the phrase "state aid to parochial schools" which was a barrier to tight writing.

The newsmen began working on various combinations of phrases which could be made into one word. Suddenly, one of them came up with "parochial" and before long the new word had become an accepted part of the language of the state.

Collection Costs
 In case you've been wondering about it, the federal government spends 40 cents of every $100 it collects financing its tax collection activities.

In comparison to the past, the 40 cents spent last year is one of the more efficient figures, according to a report by Commerce Clearing House in Chicago.

The all-time low was 28 cents per $100 in 1944 in the midst of World War II. The all-time record for cost came back in 1971, when $5.87 of every $100, or nearly 6 percent of the total collection, went for the expenses involved in collecting money.

Total collections weren't so high then.

As recently as 1932 the revenues dropped nearly $1 billion and the drop was 38 percent of the total collected in the previous year.

A drop of that size today would be little more than one-half of one percent, since the government collected $187.9 billion in taxes last year.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
 You could tell we is in the tag end of another year in the way things went at the country store Saturday night. The fellers was in a looking back and adding up mood. I tried to stir thru the agender and pickout some stuff that is worth passing on to you.

There was Ed Doolittle with his report that 1969 has been a real solid Republican year, and that, general speaking, he was more happy than not with President Nixon. Ed had the staties to back him up. He had clipped this one piece by a column writer that showed how the country has fared under Democrats and Republicans since the start of this century.

The country, said Ed, has been run by Democrats 36 year and by Republicans 33 year. During their 36-year, Democrats balanced their budget six times, and the Republicans came out ahead 12 times. The Democrats run up deficits amounting to $314.5 billions, while the Republicans got a total of $22.6 billions deeper in the hole.

The Democrats raised personal income taxes 18 times, the Republicans onct. The Democrats reduced income taxes four times; the Republicans six times.

Clem Webster was agreed that the Republicans came out ahead according to Ed's staties, but he said a heap depends on whose Bible you read. Clem said he was shore the Democrats could work up a pretty good list of their up. For instant, they has been one Great Depression in this century and the Republicans was in charge of it.

In the last 35 year, Clem said, this country has done the fastest growing, raised the standard of living faster than any country in the history of the world, we got electricity everywhere, a car in ever garage and a TV set in ever home, and Clem said he was shore the Democrats could come up with staties giving them credit for most of it.

The year, 1969, Clem went on, will be recollected as the year when we went to the moon, and history books will say we done it under the Nixon Administration. Actual, said Clem, the space age got going under President Kennedy, and by the time Nixon finally won another election it was all over but the shounding.

Bug Hookum said he will allus remember 1969 as the year everything turned poison, from air and water to soda pop and baby food. The only way a feller could keep from poisoning himself in 1969 was to hold his breath and starve to death, was Bug's words. Bug said he heard where this feller went fer a examination and his doctor told him he had to give up everything but his doctor. Bug said he won't be surprised if the Government comes out with a ruling that living is hazardous to yore health.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

GRID TRI-CAPTAINS: Chelsea's 1970 foot-all tri-captains were presented at the annual and banquet Friday night. Jeff Bust (left), Jim Wojicki and Larry Gorton (right) will head the Bulldogs in grid action next year.

CHS Gridders Honored at Annual Football Banquet

Chelsea High's 1969 gridders were honored Friday night at the annual Football Banquet. At the banquet, Coach Phil Bareis presented the Southwestern Conference Trophy award to the Bulldogs for a perfect season.

A first-year-griddier, Larry Gorton, was voted the most valuable player at halfback for the '69 season. Varsity Coach Phil Bareis announced Len Kozma as the most valuable lineman for the Chelsea team. The awards for the improved players went to Guster at halfback and Rod Powers, lineman. The honors will be engraved on a plaque along with former Bulldog stars.

Byce Fauble, athletic director, master of ceremonies, introduced the featured speaker of the evening, Richard Young, University of Michigan defensive coach.

He reviewed the 1969 Michigan football season and added his thoughts on the rewards of playing football.

Coach Bareis presented his squad with certificates, letters and gold medallions for team membership. Certificates acknowledging membership on the team, letters indicating one year of field play and medallions reward additional years of participation.

Varsity gridders rewarded for their third year of football include Dave Conklin, Tim Orthing, Richard Bollinger, Tim Colvia, and Len Kozma. Second-year gridders include Jim Wojicki, Art Farley, Dave Bust, Dennis Brown, John Porter, Karsten Kargel and Glen Wilkerson.

Those appearing for the first time with the Chelsea team were Jack McClear, Larry Gorton, Tom

Varsity gridders will also receive patches commemorating their league championship, and photographs of the team.

Trainer Charles Belser and manager Don Bollinger were awarded for their work with the team.

Bareis also announced his tri-captains for 1970, Larry Gorton, Jeff Bust and Jim Wojicki.

Richard Bareis and Robert Pussel assisted on the 1969 coaching staff.

Junior Varsity awards were presented by Tom Morrison, assistant to Coach Jon Schaffner. Mark

GRID HONORS: Gridders deemed most valuable and improved by their fellow Bulldogs flank the plaques where their names will be inscribed. Rod Powers (left) was named most improved lineman on the 1969 team with Len Kozma (left center) dubbed most valuable lineman. Keith Guster (right center) was voted most improved back for the season and Larry Gorton added the award of most valuable back to his '69 honors. The awards were presented at Friday's Football Banquet at Chelsea High.

Collins and Wayne Welton tied for the most valuable player award. Team members receiving letters and certificates were Dan Houle, Keith Hume, Tim Johnson, Dave Layler, Tim Lancaster, John Mann, Mike Merkel, John Marzee, Mark Montague, Mike Robbins, Dan Schulze, Larry Sweet, Tom Skittenhelm, Jeff Van Riper, Kim Wilkerson, Tim Wilkerson, Steve Worden and Randy Young.

Parents, ballplayers, coaches and guests enjoyed a buffet dinner in the high school cafeteria before adjourning to the auditorium for the award ceremonies. Films of several games were run as the final event of the evening.

The second undefeated season in succession for the Junior Varsity was commemorated with a trophy presented to the team.

The freshman football team also received their share of the honors from Coach Jim Tallman. Bruce Guster at halfback was voted the most valuable player by his teammates. Deemed most improved were Dan Houle and Larry Sweet. Team members for the 1969 season.

Police Arrest Man Making Scene in Bank

Chelsea police arrested a man at the Chelsea State Bank Wednesday afternoon after he began shouting and raving about "the bank dealing with the FBI and various unintelligible things," according to witnesses.

Joseph A. Watson, 41, of Jackson was booked for being drunk and disorderly in a public place and taken to the Washtenaw county Jail. He has had a history of mental illness with time spent in Ypsilanti State Hospital, according to police records. A Chelsea patrol car was also slightly damaged by Watson, kicking and beating on the windows and seat as he was driven to Ann Arbor.

Conditional Use Permit Granted By Zoning Board

Lima Township Zoning Board met Monday night to consider Douglas Sindlinger's petition for a permit to remove topsoil beyond the legal limit from property he is developing. Sindlinger is excavating and moving soil from his 100 acres at the intersection of Chelsea-Dexter Rd. and N. Lima Center Rd. in order to build streets through the residential area he is planning.

The board granted a Conditional Use Permit to Sindlinger with the conditions still to be set. The board is concerned with the prevention of erosion and dust clouds near and on the site. Topsoil conservation is also desirable for other environmental reasons such as water retention and the growth of trees and other vegetation. The board will consider these needs when they set conditions for the permit.

years ago, Dec. 20.

Our Hearts are sad without you

He had your home prepared for you

And took you home to rest.

Sadly missed by

IN MEMORY OF

CLAY LANGSTON

7 years ago Dec. 15

Although it's true we are apart still when this day draws near,

The distance doesn't seem so far,

And you somehow seem very near.

And ties as warm and strong as ours

Will bridge the miles between someway.

And we will be together still.

In thoughts and hearts on this sad day.

Missed so much by loving wife and children.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank the kind people who expressed their sympathy in so many ways during our recent bereavement.

Pre-Historic Mastodon

he suffered a heart attack or other injury and died in shallow water.
Geologists will also take pollen samples found near the bones to ascertain the type of vegetation prevalent or needed for mastodon forage during the Pleistocene. The mastodon probably followed the receding glaciers northward in search of his food as North America warmed up. His bones have been found as far south as Florida so the search for the right climate and food as the weather changed could account for the mastodon's migration to the Great Lakes area.

Some of the mastodon bones were smashed before he rest were discovered. Clayton Griffin of Britton was using a crane last Tuesday to dig a pond for Kuhl when he clamped into the huge jawbone still imbedded with teeth. He had unwittingly dug up a tusk and several ribs before the jawbone caused him to alert Kuhl. Kuhl had asked Griffin to be on the lookout for pre-historic bones since he had earlier found elk bones on his farm.

Kuhl notified the Museum of Paleontology and William Akersten, a graduate student in vertebrate paleontology and Robert Habetler, preparator (of bones) for the museum rushed out. It was a mastodon, all right, and volunteers began digging Wednesday.

About 10 students and professors worked all Wednesday and Thursday at the home of Mrs. Charles Burgess. Our meeting opened with the flag ceremony. David Baldwin carried the American flag and David Hall carried the den flag. Many worked on Dad's Christmas presents. We played a game of musical chairs with our den chiefs. David Blass brought the treats. We closed with the living circle.

Douglas Nutt brought refreshments.
At the flag ceremony, which opened the meeting, Jamie Bollinger carried the American flag. Steven Dresh carried the den banner and Lance Fletcher and Pat Murphy assisted.

DEN 3, PACK 455
Mark Foster carried the American flag in the opening flag ceremony at the meeting of Cub Scouts of Den 3, Pack 455. The meeting was held Thursday, Dec. 11, at the Congregational church.

Youth Shaken Up, Not Injured When Struck By Auto

A 12-year-old Chelsea boy received a concussion and bruises when he was struck by a car Thursday on the corner of Madison and Mayer Dr.

Gregory W. Harook, of 1216 Sugar Loaf Lake was struck by the auto driven by Paul J. Shippy, 17, of 1244 Sugar Loaf Lake. Witnesses told police that the boy "jumped in front of the car" from a cluster of friends. Patrolman Schneider, investigated the accident and cleared Shippy of negligence. Shippy was not traveling at excessive speed, Schneider reported.

Harook was taken to the medical clinic and released several hours later. He returned to school Monday.

For making money this year, the Cub Scouts sell Cub Scout trees and we have a meeting every Thursday. Last week and the week before, we were working on Christmas projects.

We have seven boys in our den. We have a den chief. His name is Richard Worden. His is a Boy Scout. He teaches us how to carry a flag. Our den mother is Mrs. Ford. Assistant den mother is Mrs. Blough. When we are arguing over who is going to carry the flag, we draw numbers out of a hat. Our den chief, Richard Worden, showed us how our belts are supposed to be.

Wrestlers Pin Dundee, 40-8, In League Meet

The first league encounter for Chelsea wrestlers tipped heavily in their favor. Only two of the 18 matches were won by Dundee at the home competition Thursday.

One of the more interesting matches found Gary Montange at 155 winning his first match—a close 2 to 0 decision. Two of Chelsea's pins were impressively quick. Jim Poertner gained a pin in 1:35 in the first round. Karsten Kargel pinned his opponent after 27 seconds in the first round.

Even though Jerry Kuhl was pinned in the 130-pound class, he did an outstanding job for the first five minutes against a talented, experienced Viking wrestler, said Coach Dick Bareis.

In this league match, Mark Montange, 98, won by a forfeit; Tom Tirb, 107, won by a pin; Jim Wencel, 115, won by a forfeit; Steve Ersten, 123, won by a decision, and Jerry Kuhl, 130, lost by a pin. Jim Poertner, 137, won by a pin; Bob Koenigter, 145, won by a decision; Tim Colvia, 165, won by a decision; Randy Seitz, lost by a decision; Karsten Kargel, 185, won by a pin; and Dennis Brown, heavyweight, won by a decision. Tom McKernan at 140 won the exhibition match by a decision.

The final score for the match was 40 to 8.

In wrestling against Jackson Northwest Monday, Chelsea showed its strength by winning handily, 35-13.

Mark Montange won by a decision 5-4 at 98 pounds, with three seconds to go in the match. Mike Robbins replaced the injured Tom Tirb at 107 but was defeated, 13-3, by Doug Schwartz. Mike did a good job in his first match even though it ended in defeat, said Coach Bareis.

Jim Wencel won a decision, 4-1, at 115 by getting a take down, reversal and a strong ride. Steve Ersten won a decision, 4-2, at 180 also on a strong ride. Jerry Kuhl had the misfortune for the second time to be matched against Northwestern's Jirokovic, one of the outstanding 130 pounders in the state. Jerry was pinned in the second period.

Jim Poertner won a 4-2 decision at 137 by getting four early points and then making them stand. Bob Koenigter won by a pin at 145. After an early difficulty, he came on strong to pin his man after 1:44 of the first round. Gary Montange won a 4-2 decision at 155. Again Gary was involved in a very tight match until he gained a reversal with about 40 seconds to go.

Tim Colvia pinned his man at 165 in 1:01 of the first period. Doug McDonald was defeated by a pin at 175. At 185, Karsten Kargel pinned a very strong wrestler in 1:37 of the second round. Dennis Brown pinned his heavyweight opponent in record time of 10 seconds in the first round.

In Junior Varsity action against the Northwestern wrestlers, Steve Siebert was defeated, 5-3, at 98 pounds, with Gary Dorer losing, 4-2, at 107. At 115, Tom Hubert won by a 7-3 decision while Tim Lancaster was defeated 3-2 at 125.

Mike Spence won his match by a 2-1 decision at 128. A pin cost Bill Elliott his match at 130 and Tom McKernan lost, 4-2, at 137. Steve Bergman ended the match on a good note by winning by a decision at 155.

Chelsea wrestlers now prepare for the Jan. 3 Invitational Tournament to be held at home. The matches begin at noon on Saturday.

Lary Hafner brought a Christmas tree and we made some Danish bells for it. Joyce Liebeck, Linda Trevino and Angie Rivera made some decorations for the windows. Wanda Boyer brought a plastic Rudolf, the reindeer. We made a report about bacteria and some children made a large drawing for it.

Kathy Scott moved to Harrison, Mich. She says the school is behind us in most subjects. Linda Shaw came to us from Westchester, Penn. We are all happy to have her. In Math we are learning the difference between prime numbers, and composite numbers. Mrs. Senne is getting rather frantic, because some children do not know their number facts. Our teacher is working with these people at noon and last recess. Some of us are ready to start three place multiplication and division. Beth Troyer brought in some things from England where she was three years ago with her grandmother and aunt.

In Science we have been studying about the sun and how it works. We have been writing paragraphs about Thomas Jefferson, Daniel Boone, William Clark and Sacagawea. Scott Holliday brought a Christmas tree which we decorated with red and blue Christmas tree ornaments.

GOOD HEALTH SPOKEN HERE!

In pharmacy school, one of the first important lessons a pharmacist-to-be learns is the serious harm that can result when people try to diagnose and treat their own illnesses. We are warned that it is often easy to seek an asked for home remedy, especially when TV has shouted out its claims.

When you have a recurring problem or persistent symptoms, it is recommended that you not take chances but quickly see your physician. He will usually be able to exactly determine your problem and prescribe a specific prescription medicine to help you.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

NECK HURTS ARE BLAMED FOR ILLNESS

A growing number of "whiplash" automobile injuries to the spine and neck has been reported by a New York research team.

The true nature of the injuries is often overlooked, according to press dispatches. Some victims have been labeled psychoneurotics because they kept complaining of symptoms which seemed to have no physical basis.

The victim may feel little or no pain in the neck, just a jolted feeling. He may develop recurring headaches; continuing arm and shoulder pains may set in long after the jolt, or periodic stomach distress, nostril clogging and disturbances in vision. Treatment consists of correcting the vertebral subluxations (slight misalignment of one or more vertebrae of the spine causing pressure upon the nerve trunks that pass out between the vertebrae). Relief may be felt sometimes almost immediately. If the condition has existed for some time, a series of Chiropractic adjustments might be necessary.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Getting Ready

Some individuals have already completed their holiday gift buying. Others are busy "making a list." Only a very few have not given some thought to the fact that Christmas is but a short time away.

be more meaningful. If we would look to the good things we have left undone, and do them; and determine the wrong things that may still be amended; Christmas would be the day that it is meant to be.

Certainly, it would be a better Christmas this year if there were some way to bring all mankind closer to the real significance of this greatest of all holidays. If we would all examine our consciences as carefully as we scrutinize our gift list, Christmas would be pleasing to God.

Christmas is the birthday of Christ. There is no greater gift you can give than the recognition and love evident in the personal effort to live a life that is pleasing to God.

Let's Keep Christ in Christmas

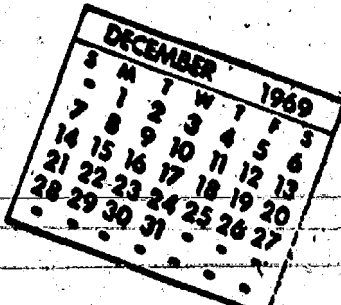

As the holidays fast approach, we are all filled with the wonderment of Santa Claus, Christmas trees, Christmas songs and gift buying. Children are busily looking through catalogs and stores making up their lists of toys and goodies Santa will bring. This all plays a part in Christmas but has grown more and more the main theme of Christmas each year. All too often the true meaning of Christmas is lost.

Let us all stop and remember what Christmas really is — the Birth of Christ. Too often we lose the true meaning of Christmas because of the commercial value our society has encouraged this time of year. This year let's all make an effort to find the true meaning of Christmas by attending the church of our choice celebrating the birth of Christ and practicing peace on earth and good will toward men.

This year "Let's keep Christ in Christmas."

Frosh Cagers Sock It to Dundee

The Freshman basketball team foretold another fine season Monday by socking a stubborn Dundee team, 50-42.

The Vikings outscored the Bulls in the third period, coming within three points of the home cagers. But Chelsea killed any hope of an overthrow by putting the game out of Dundee's reach in the final quarter.

The Chelsea frosh opened the game in good fashion by storming to a commanding 21-9 first quarter lead. A heavy battle for half-time lead left the Bullsups on top, 33-21.

The threat came in the third quarter, with the Vikings netting 15 points to six for Chelsea. The Bullsups hustled in the fourth period, however, to outscore Dundee, 20-6.

Dan Bertke, paced the Chelsea offense with a fine 14-point effort, 12 coming in the fourth quarter. He also grabbed 13 rebounds to lead his team on the boards. John Mann tallied 18 points, followed by Bruce Guster, who hit six baskets and snared six rebounds. Don Conklin and Mark Policht each scored seven points for the Vikings.

The win gave the Chelsea freshmen a two wins-one loss record. They meet Saline there tonight at 7 p.m.

Giant Step Backward

Our first Astronauts had landed in Marblehead, Mass., in 1968 on the moon, Neil Armstrong might have said—"one giant step backward for mankind," because of the citizens' recent actions to outlaw observances of Christmas and Hanukkah for Christians and Jews in the schools, supposedly, are the centers of enlightenment; the centers of learning and understanding. Marblehead, apparently, has stepped up on the idea of learning on up on other, that we really live successfully together. Apparently, their short-run thoughts are that things will merrily move along by ignoring differences.

If this were true, would Vietnam be any better, would civil rights improve by turning our backs to it... hardly. The fact shows that when we turn away, attitudes don't improve, walls are built, communication among groups becomes fragmented, lack of knowledge of each other increases, suspicion of each other is born, and soon those transparent walls become forts, while defenses are reinforced.

Perhaps this marks a turning point to the absurdity of using religion in school as infringement on the well-rounded education of our children. Perhaps this marks a turning point to the absurdity of using religion in school as infringement on the well-rounded education of our children.

Troop Inducts 12 New Brownies

Brownie Troop 145 highlighted the investiture of 12 members Dec. 4 with a playlet introducing the new scouts. Six Brownies performed "The Brownie Story" as they invested the girls into the troop. Kimberly Boyce, Valica Pletcher, Terisa Hoffman, Debbie Kolin, Dawn Krieger, Karen Liebeck, Marsha Liebeck, Monica Marquez, Donna Marshall, Linda McGuire, Cathy Myers and Marlyn Seitz became Brownies in the ceremony.

The evening program began with the Flag Ceremony commanded by Sally Miller. Kim Hopkins and Lori Miles carried the colors which were guarded by Sheryl Kiel and Karen Elkins. Mrs. Daniel Kolin was introduced as assistant leader and proceeded backstage to help the play cast costume themselves.

Membership stars were given to Nancy Tison, Sheryl Kiel, Kim Hopkins, Sally Miller, Lori Miles and Karen Elkins. One star is given for each year of scouting and symbolizes the recipients endeavor to live up to her "Promise" to the best of her ability. Because of the co-operation given to a scout by her family, parents were given the honor of pinning their scout.

The troop committee was given membership cards. These members attend meetings to plan extra activities for the troop, do telephoning, typing and other chores to help the troop. The committee was charged with the refreshments and serving for the investiture. Mrs. Ellis-Boyce is chairman of the committee with Mrs. Violet Hopkins, Mrs. David Elkins and Mrs. Raymond Seitz. Mrs. Seitz is the representative from the troops sponsor, the Chelsea Child Study Club. Mrs. James Myers, a new committee member, received the "Girl Scout Promise" and was invested.

Mrs. Raymond Liebeck, Mrs. Douglas Liebeck and Mrs. Warren McGuire were given special thanks for taking care of the children of Mrs. Herbert Hinz while their mother attended meetings and outings as troop leader.

Pam Hinz, a Junior from Troop 47 was introduced to show the calendar her troop will be selling. They did not receive their calendars because of a late organization this fall. The scouts hope to raise enough money from the sale to finance their camping trips. Calendars may be purchased from Mrs. Minix (Junior Troop 47) at 475-8081 evenings, or Mrs. Turner (Cadet Troop 98) at 769-7612 evenings.

The performance of "The Brownie Story" then unfolded with Nancy Tison narrating. Kim Hopkins acted the role of Father with Sheryl Kiel as Grandma. Karen Elkins played Mary and Lori Miles was Betty. Sally Miller played the Wise Old Owl who gave instructions to the players to find the Brownies to be invested. They brought them into the woods where the Brownies said the "Promise" and were pinned by parents. The actresses were heartily applauded for a fine production.

Mrs. Kolin presented membership cards to the troop members. The troop sang "When E'er You Make a Promise" and closed with the retiring of the colors. Refreshments were served while Ellis-Boyce snapped commemorative photographs.

of a Nursing Home more Americans are en- gaging. At first glance it seems rather sad. In those, the older people move from their homes into an inently than their children, let alone their grandchildren. A nursing home may be just the place to exchange ideas with one's contemporaries. This can be as useful as therapy in prolonging a happy life. So can the fact that television and cards are always available.

So far, I've been talking about sound reasons why some seniors prefer a nursing home to their children's home. This is not necessarily the answer in every case. The moral is that you shouldn't feel too bad if your parents want to go to such an institution. Your big obligation then is to see it's the right nursing home. PUBLIC VEXATION with the noise created by modern jets winging over the countryside had its counterpart in the era of the single-engine, open-cockpit U.S. air mail plane, reports the Federal Aviation Administration. An Ohio poultry raiser wrote to the government in 1928 complaining that low-flying aircraft were so upsetting his hens that their output of eggs dropped by as much as 100 to 200 eggs a day. "I wondered if the planes could not be requested to fly higher," the farmer wrote.

Soil Mapping Survey Project Going on in Washtenaw County

The above map indicates the status of the modern soil survey for Washtenaw county. Counties colored solid have modern soil surveys published and are available at local Soil Conservation Service offices. Eight Michigan counties are in this category.

The counties which are vertically crosshatched on the map have field mapping complete. They are in Washington, D.C., awaiting publication. In these counties the completed soil maps are available for inspection and use at the local Soil Conservation Service office. Twelve Michigan counties will have new soil surveys published in the near future.

The seven counties with horizontal crosshatching have surveys in progress. Modern day soil surveys have not yet been started in the remaining counties.

Soil maps are valuable to a variety of users. The land use planner, developer, engineer, health officer, county supervisor, appraiser, farmer or private citizen all can use soils information to make maximum use of our most basic natural resource—the soil.

Yearly progress on soil surveys in the state has been at a rate of about 700,000 acres each year. 70,000 acres were mapped in Washtenaw county last year. Approximately 12 million of the total 36.5 million acres in the state have been mapped. A total of 128,000 acres have been mapped in Washtenaw county to date.

It is estimated that at the present rate of mapping, modern soil surveys will not be completed in the entire state for another 35 years. This does not mean, however, that people needing soils data will have to wait this long for the information. Each Soil Conservation Service office in the state has available to them a soil scientist to make surveys for co-operators of the local Soil Conservation District on a priority basis. These soil maps are used for conservation planning on both rural and urban lands. In addition to modern maps developed in scattered areas in these counties, old published and unpublished reconnaissance surveys are available in most counties. These maps may provide general soil information when properly interpreted by a trained soil scientist. The Soil Conservation Service in Michigan has a staff of 25 experienced soil scientists scattered throughout the state to provide soil information to the public.

Published soil surveys consist of three major parts. The soil maps which are shown graphically on an aerial photo base map—soil maps show the kind and location of each soil, a detailed description of all the soils mapped in the county, and interpretations for all the soils pointing out the limitations of each soil for many uses.

Soil maps along with necessary interpretive information are also available for counties which are not yet published or that have scattered areas mapped. This information may be obtained through the local Soil Conservation Service office.

Soil information has proven to be a valuable tool in avoiding costly soil related problems in community development. Thousands of dollars have been saved in many communities when soil facts were considered prior to site development and construction. Some county governments are providing matching funds with the Soil Conservation Service to accelerate the soil survey in their area.

Further information about the availability of soil surveys in Washtenaw county may be obtained from the Soil Conservation Service, 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor 48103.

BEANS—Imagine a train 9,913 cars long? That's what would have been needed to haul Michigan's near-record crop of dry edible beans last year. The value to the grower was $54 million for this nearly 7 1/2 million hundred-weight crop. Michigan raised practically all of the navy beans in the country. They were sold mostly to canners. Buy a can of beans anywhere, and it is a pretty safe bet you are getting beans produced on a Michigan farm. Michigan also raises substantial supplies of "colored" beans—kidney, cranberry, yelloweye, and

Senator Philip A. Hart's
REPORT from WASHINGTON

Less Competition, Inflation's Propellant . . .

No housewife who has spent any time in a supermarket recently needs a lecture on the ill effects of inflation. The causes of inflation, however, are more complex and obscure. But there are a couple of obvious ones.

First of all the Kennedy and Johnson administrations rightly put a high premium on full employment. And when everyone is working (and spending), it puts an upward pressure on consumer prices.

Secondly, our military spending has been consistently high, sustained by unpopular, though expensive war in Vietnam, and a continuing arms race with Russia. Pentagon spending is especially inflationary because it generates a greater demand for consumer goods but produces nothing to meet that demand.

The military's 45 percent share of the federal budget, then, presents the fattest target for cuts and there have been some, but the Pentagon press releases about the cutbacks have been more numerous than the cutbacks themselves.

Administration Plan
The administration's anti-inflation fight relies primarily on high interest rates (to cut buying desires), continuing the surtax (to diminish consumer spending power) and slashing federal construction domestically (to deprive the economy of some cash flow).

The trouble with these measures is that they put the burden of the anti-inflation fight squarely on the shoulders of those now being hurt most by inflation itself.

Moreover, their efficacy is highly questionable. Unemployment may go up. Production may fall off. And demand for consumer products may diminish. But the way our economy is structured today, all this could happen without any effect on prices.

That sounds nutty, I know. It violates all the theories about how a free enterprise economy is supposed to work.

But our system has, in fact, developed a hidden propellant for inflation and as long as we ignore it we resemble a motorist trying to brake his car while the engine is racing.

The hidden propellant: growing corporate giantism and diminishing competition.

Competition: the Hope for Consumers
The consumer's hopes for decent prices depend heavily on competition. And competition is not flourishing. Already, two-thirds of the nation's manufacturing assets are owned by only 200 firms.

In concentrated industries—industries where there are few competitors—price-increases are easy. When firms know they are not going to be undersold they can—and often do—raise prices when sales go down. That way profits stay high and they lose no money.

The common practice in these industries—steel, for example—is for one firm to announce a healthy increase that is promptly matched by all the others.

But if prices can go up when demand goes down, then clearly the system is out of whack.

Concentration also simplifies tempting—though illegal—price-rigging conspiracies like the one recently uncovered among drug manufacturers.

Inflation Attack Needs
So any meaningful attack on inflation must include an assault on concentration—by inflicting tax penalties on concentrated industries, by vigorous anti-trust enforcement and by public relations pressures.

The last item was commonly used by previous Presidents who publicly attacked big price boosts in basic industries. But President Nixon has dismissed this as "jawboning" and has elected not to do it.

He's right that this technique is not totally effective but I have a feeling that it would be better to apply every possible inhibition.

For everyone who believes in competition, the merger movement is frightening.

Despite humorist Art Buchwald's prediction, it is unlikely that we will every get down to just one company—a "General Consolidated Everything." But the trend isn't reversing.

Competition is a key enemy of inflation. We are very ill-advised to let it die.

Inflatables, including tables, chairs, lamps and sofas, are popping up everywhere. Shaped out of see-through and fake leather vinyls, this puff up puff down furniture is inexpensive and therefore ideal for dormitory furnishings and furnishings for the temporary home, such as an apartment.

March of Dimes prenatal care education programs for teen-agers stress the dangers of drug misuse to unborn children and the import-mothers.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Editor's Note: This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Detroit District office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. My income is up and I think I will have to increase my estimated tax payments. Do I have to file another declaration?

A. No, when you make your next installment payment of estimated tax adjust it to take care of the increase.

Q. With your payment enclose the appropriate pre-addressed voucher sent you as part of your estimated tax package last February. The filled-out voucher for each installment identifies your payment and makes sure it is properly credited to your account.

Q. I filed my return showing a refund back in April. When can I expect my check?

A. Your refund should arrive in Mid-June. Some returns filed at the deadline may not be processed completely until the first week of June.

Q. Incomplete returns and those with errors take longer to process. Taxpayers are notified of the reason for delay in these cases.

Q. I just took a second job. Does Social Security tax have to be taken out of my pay on both jobs?

A. Yes, the law requires each employer to withhold Social Security tax on the first $7,800 of an employee's wages. If more than the maximum of $374.40 is withheld for Social Security tax in 1969, you should claim a credit for the excess on your income tax return next year.

Q. I'm thinking of buying some U. S. Savings Bonds and putting them in my son's name. If I do that, will I have to pay on the interest?

A. If the bonds are issued solely in the child's name, or in his name with you listed as beneficiary, then he will be liable for tax on the interest they earn.

Q. Can a farmer deduct the cost of a telephone he needs to sell his produce?

A. A business deduction may be taken for that portion of the telephone costs related to farm business. For instance, if the phone is used for farm business half the time then half of the cost may be deducted.

Q. I'm being called in for an examination of my return. Is there any booklet that would help me get ready for it?

A. Yes, send a post card to your district director and ask him for a copy of IRS Publication 556, "Appeal Rights and Claims for Refund."

Q. My son is working this summer for the first time and wants me to open up a bank account for him in his name. Do I use my social security number or his to identify this account? He's just 14.

A. Use your son's Social Security number. Interest earned on the account is income to you son and therefore should be identified on his account number.

Q. I made a payment on my taxes which is not reflected in the bill you sent me. What should I do about it?

A. Reduce your bill by the amount of the payment and pay the balance. To enable us to properly credit your account indicate on the bill the amount of your payment, the date paid and where it was sent.

Q. When making tax payments write your Social Security number and the kind of tax you are paying on your check or money order.

Q. If I don't make a contribution this year to the self-employed retirement plan my partner and I have set up for our business will the plan lose its favorable tax status?

A. No, the fact that you make no contribution to the plan this year will not disqualify it. If you have any other questions about your plan, send a post card to your district director of Internal Revenue and ask for a copy of Publication 590, Retirement Plans for Self-Employed Individuals.

THIS MYSTERIOUS CONTRAPTION took up an entire railway flatcar when a train brought it to Chelsea last week. It's the 12 1/2 ft. fan for the new wind tunnel being constructed at Chrysler Proving Grounds. The tunnel will allow testing of engine cooling systems in a dependably even 100-degree temperature, allow precise control of factors in repeated experiments and allow testing year-round regardless of fitful Michigan weather. "We'll also be testing the aerodynamics of 1/4 scale model cars," explains Harold Lanktree, supervisor of the soon-to-be tunnel. "Not even optimum outdoor conditions on the Arizona grounds will approach the wind tunnel environment." A 600-horsepower motor will drive the east aluminum fan, generating so much heat that a heat exchanger will be needed to cool the air down to "hot" driving conditions. The fan is also able to simulate a tailwind found in slow or city driving. Lanktree expects the tunnel to be in operation by early summer.

Homemaking Hints

The life and beauty of a parchment lamp shade can be lengthened with a coat of shellac. First, clean the shades with a damp cloth. When they are completely dry, simply apply a thin coat of shellac.

Blisters usually form on exterior or varnish doors when the top is not properly finished. The bottom may also absorb water from rain or snow. Painting will help blistering in both cases.

Church Women Organize Group To Help Low Income Mothers

A rather unique group of Chelsea women meet each Monday afternoon from 1:15 p.m. to 2:45 p.m. in the Educational Unit of the First United Methodist church, 128 Park St. The group was formed under the leadership of Miss Shirley J. Pio, a case-worker, from Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw county who saw the need for ADC and low income mothers to learn about the local and county resources available to them and to help them to meet new people.

Miss Pio, working through Mrs. Raymond Schaefer of the local United Methodist church, spoke before the Women's Society of Christian Service of that church explaining the need for such a group in the area. Members of the local Church Women United were also present at this meeting and it was finally decided that this project would be handled by Church Women United. Planning for the group actually began in August of 1968 but the first meeting was not held until March 10, 1969. Only four women appeared at the first meeting but it has grown considerably since that time, with a membership now of 12 to 14 women, although the average group meeting is generally about six or seven. Women from the following churches are involved: St. Mary Catholic church with Mrs. Jack Merkel as the chairman; Congregational United Church of Christ, with Mrs. H. S. Kern as the chairman for the morning group; St. Paul United Church of Christ, with Mrs. Harold Widmayer as the chairman; First United Methodist church, with Mrs. Carolee Hoffmeyer as the chairman; the Congregational United Church of Christ, with Mrs. Lauryn White as chairman for the evening group; and Zion Lutheran church, with Mrs. George Heydlauff as the chairman.

Some of the projects which the group has worked upon are as follows: Getting to know the resources in the Chelsea area as well as within the county, the making of waste baskets for use in the homes, artificial flowers, the collecting and cooking of inexpensive recipes. The group had a demonstration of how to make pretzels and more recently on cake decorating. The group has also had speakers from the Washtenaw County Health Department and the local Chelsea Social Services who alerted the group to their services. A monthly Newsletter keeps the group informed of new happenings and reminds them of the need for new members. The group early chose a name for their group. They call themselves the Chelsea Handy Mothers.

Currently the group is learning to sew and make their own clothing under the guidance of Mrs. Jennifer Wood of Ann Arbor, while Miss Pio and one or two of the mothers are working on quilts to be given to patients at the county or state hospital or to needy families.

As a result of this group forming, the women have met new friends and have become interested in and active in many local activities making them better able to cope with problems which once would have baffled them.

Lancy Parker, Ronald Montange Wed Friday at St. Mary's

Nancy Jo Parker was married Friday to Ronald Joseph Montange at St. Mary's Catholic church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Parker, Jr., of North Lake. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Montange of 19640 Ivey Rd.

Chantilly lace roses appliqued the A-line skirt of the satin, tulle gown. Lace roses also edged the bride's train to complement her chantilly lace bodice and sleeves. The bodice was embroidered with crystals and pearls to match the petal headpiece. An illusion veil fell to shoulder-length. The bride carried a herbage bouquet of an orchid surrounded with sweetheart roses with white ribbon streamers.

Miss Kathy Montange and Gary Montange served as honor attendants in their brother's wedding. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jack Speer of Chelsea, Miss Kathy Kosley, of Farmington, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Jody Zeck of Dixter, a cousin of the bride. Miss Sherry Childers of Ypsilanti, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

The maid of honor wore a floor-length gown of green chiffon and velvet. The bridesmaids and the flower girl wore Christmas red velvet gowns to the floor. The attendants carried white fur heart muffs adorned with large red poinsettias.

Ushers were Michael Lehmann of Ann Arbor, Daniel Eider of Chelsea and Mark Montange, brother of the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride chose a silk coat and dress ensemble of Christmas pink trimmed with crystals. The bridegroom's mother wore a forest green satin dress trimmed with pearls.

A reception followed the ceremony at Inverness Country Club at North Lake. Miss Gerry Zeck of Ypsilanti and Mrs. Richard Knight of Portage Lake, cousins of the bride, served the wedding cake and the bridegroom's cake. Punch was served by Miss Cindy Zeck and Miss Monica Zeck of Ypsilanti, cousins of the bride. Miss Kathy Sunjer of North Lake attended the guest book.

Mrs. Leatha Baese, Miss Eleanor Baese of North Lake and Mrs. Dortha Cavanaugh of Ypsilanti also attended at the reception.

The newlyweds traveled to Niagara Falls and the Pocomo Mountains to honeymoon. They will make their home near Stockbridge when they return. Both are students at Washtenaw Community College.

Christmas Pageant Slated Sunday

St. Barnabas Episcopal Church women met Dec. 11 at the church, and opened with devotions by Mrs. Jerrold Beaumont. Mrs. Edwin Easton reported on the annual bazaar. Mrs. Beaumont announced that the Christmas pageant will be held during the regular Sunday service on Dec. 21 with a social hour following. There will be no communion service that Sunday.

Mrs. Eaton, as nomination chairman, suggested that the group's calendar year be adjusted to conform with other Episcopal Church-women groups in the Diocese, who hold elections in May. After discussion, it was voted to hold this year's election in May; and consequently no elections were held. The present officers will hold office until that time.

The date of the annual parish meeting was announced and it was voted to combine the January Churchwomen meeting with the parish meeting. A pot-luck-supper will be held before the annual meeting at 6:00 on Jan. 14 with the parish business discussed afterwards.

WE EAT MUCH

By the time the average American reaches the age of 70, he'll have eaten the equivalent of 150 head of cattle, 2,400 chickens, 225 lambs, 26 sheep, 310 swine, 23 acres of grain and 50 acres of fruits and vegetables, according to Dr. Phillip L. White, secretary of the American Medical Association's Council on Food and Nutrition.

To prevent streaking when you wash a wall, start at the bottom and work up. Streaking is caused when water runs over a soiled wall. These streaks are hard to remove.

FAMILY POT LUCK

Add a dash of Worcestershire sauce or dry mustard to the cheese sauce when you prepare macaroni and cheese to give extra flavor to the food.

Shrimp dipped in melted butter and then rolled in crushed potato chips comes out just dandy and much simpler and can be dipped in the famous chip and sour cream sauce at a picnic.

Ham slices are extra delicious when grilled with a mustard-butter sauce. Combine 1/2 cup butter, 2 tablespoons each prepared mustard and instant minced onion. Brush ham slices lightly with mustard butter during grilling and again just before serving.

Mate bread-to-your meat filling for a summer sandwich eating. White bread goes with anything. Whole or cracked wheat and pumpernickel are particularly good with cold meats. French or Italian breads are excellent with salami, ham or bacon, lettuce and tomato.

GO-GO HOT DOGS

Potato Chips
Cracked Wheat Bread
Butter
Stuffed Olives

Split fat hot dogs the long way and fill them with crushed potato chips and thin slices of stuffed olives. Cut the crust from very fresh cracked wheat bread. Roll thin with a rolling pin. Butter lightly and spread thickly with crushed potato chips. Put a stuffed dog on each piece of bread and roll up. Secure with tooth picks and brown in hot oven (425 degrees) till nice and crisp.

Circle closed with a prayer and the members then exchanged gifts. They also packed Christmas cookie boxes for shut-ins from the Circle. Mrs. James Gaunt served refreshments.

The Jan. 20 Circle meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Kelly Allen.

"Service makes the difference," said a speaker at a merchandising banquet, "in this age of mass production, the quality of goods sold is almost equal in every store. The success of one seller, then, over another depends upon that extra touch that says he cares about his customer, the friendly smile, the added accommodation... We at Magic Mirror agree that our products are as good, but probably no better, than most other salons use. But as for the extra touch—the smile that shows we care about you—the accommodation that may be above and beyond the call of duty but that we happily render—well, won't you come in and judge us for yourself?"

Trail Blazers Riding Club Gives Awards

Last week members of the Chelsea Trail Blazers distinguished themselves from horseback long enough to have their third Christmas party at Cavanaugh Lake. The president of the Raisin River Riding Club of Dundee spoke before more than 75 members and guests. Even Santa found time in his exhausting schedule to hand out gifts to the Trail Blazers. Dancing and cards finished off the holiday event.

The party also served as recognition night for the club. Mrs.

Kermit (Bessie) Sharp received the Sportsmanship award for 1968. Williamson was given an award as a past president. The Junior Trail Blazers received awards for points accumulated for attendance, horsemanship, equipment, sportsmanship and courtesy.

In the 12-and-under age group, point awards were presented to Debbie Wisniewski, first place, who received a belt buckle and trophy; Tony Wisniewski, second, bridle, bit and trophy; and Linda Meyers, third, halter and trophy.

In the 12-to-18 age group awards went to Crystal Scott, first, belt buckle and trophy; Carol Curtis, second, bridle, bit and trophy; and Bob Gerlock, third, halter and trophy.

Officers of the club for 1970 were elected in November with Silas Hopkins named president for a second term. Tony Wisniewski was selected vice-president and Geraldine Reith also kept her post as secretary. The Board of Directors will include Kermit Sharp, Barbara Murphy, Carol Meyers and Art Tremper.

Brake Failure Causes Pile Up At Traffic Light

A three-car pile-up on Main St. Sunday sent one boy to the Medical Clinic and an automobile to the garage.

James I. Myers of 6072 Werkner Rd., hit the car in front of him when his hydraulic brakes failed at the traffic light south of Middle St. The automobile, driven by Dennis R. Vermette of Detroit, in turn bumped into one driven by Velda J. Levan of Ann Arbor. Vermette was carrying four Boy Scouts headed for week-end camping in the Waterloo Area.

One boy, Robert Richter, suffered broken teeth and lacerations. He was taken to the Chelsea Medical Clinic. Vermette and Mrs. Levan complained of whiplash.

Myers was not ticketed for the mechanical failure.

Meeting adjourned at 12:25 a.m.
