Pamela Czarnecki Expulsion Upheld At Board Hearing

In a closed hearing before the members of the Chelsea School Board, Pamela Czarnecki, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Czarnecki of 14200 Jerusalem Rd., was officially and finally excluded from the membership of Chelsea High school.

This hearing was the result of a Circuit Court ruling of Judge John W. Conlin during a show cause hearing held last Tuesday in his chambers.

The decision to exclude Miss Czarnecki culminated the 6½-hour hearing before the board and officially closed the matter.

The annual school board election will be held Monday, June 8, in the large group instruction room at Beach school. Polls will be open between 7 a.m. and 8 p.m. for school district electors to select two of the following three candidates for four-year positions on the school board: Herman L. Koenn, Harold C. Powers, or Mrs. Carolyn Smith.

In addition to selecting two school board members, electors will be voting on a one-mill proposal to establish and operate a county-wide vocational-technical school facility.

Last week, each candidate was supplied with a form requesting pertinent biographical information and his position on three questions which The Standard felt were important to the community at this time.

The following is their response to this questionnaire.

Mrs. Alfred C. (Carolyn) Smith of 8529 Hanked Rd., is 36, a homemaker, wife, and the mother of six children.

She is a former nurse, having graduated from the Mercy School of Nursing; is a past officer and an organizer of St. Mary's School Association; is a teacher in St. Mary's religious training program at both elementary and high school levels; and is an officer in Beta Sigma Phi, a nationally affiliated sorority.

Her responses to our questions were as follows:

Question No. 1: Suppose there were to be a student protest or uprising at Chelsea High sometime during your tenure in office, how would you advocate handling it?

Answer: "In the event of a student uprising or protest, I feel the causes and people responsible must be determined immediately and measures taken to see that the school system, which cannot function with disorder, can get back to its business of educating our children."

Question No. 2: What are your feelings about the "White Panther" influence upon Chelsea area students?

Answer: "What I have heard about the 'White Panthers' frightens me. I think children should be taught at an early age that life is not all sweetness; that society does have many ills. However, you cannot improve a bad situation by indulging in violent acts. It is difficult now to observe the inequalities and unfairnesses going on around us today without becoming impatient to correct them immediately. I think it is necessary to face the fact that they may not even be corrected in our lifetime. But, to say, in essence, 'If you (our generation) don't take care of it, we (the White Panthers) will do it our own way,' is very immature and senseless. Often times, we must sustain ourselves by constantly working at a problem even though we only make a small dent in it. This is the philosophy my husband and I try to impart to our children and can only hope that it is the right one. In a couple of years, we will know. I also hope that the young people of Chelsea have learned their lesson well and will pass the test and not be influenced by the White Panthers and be their followers."

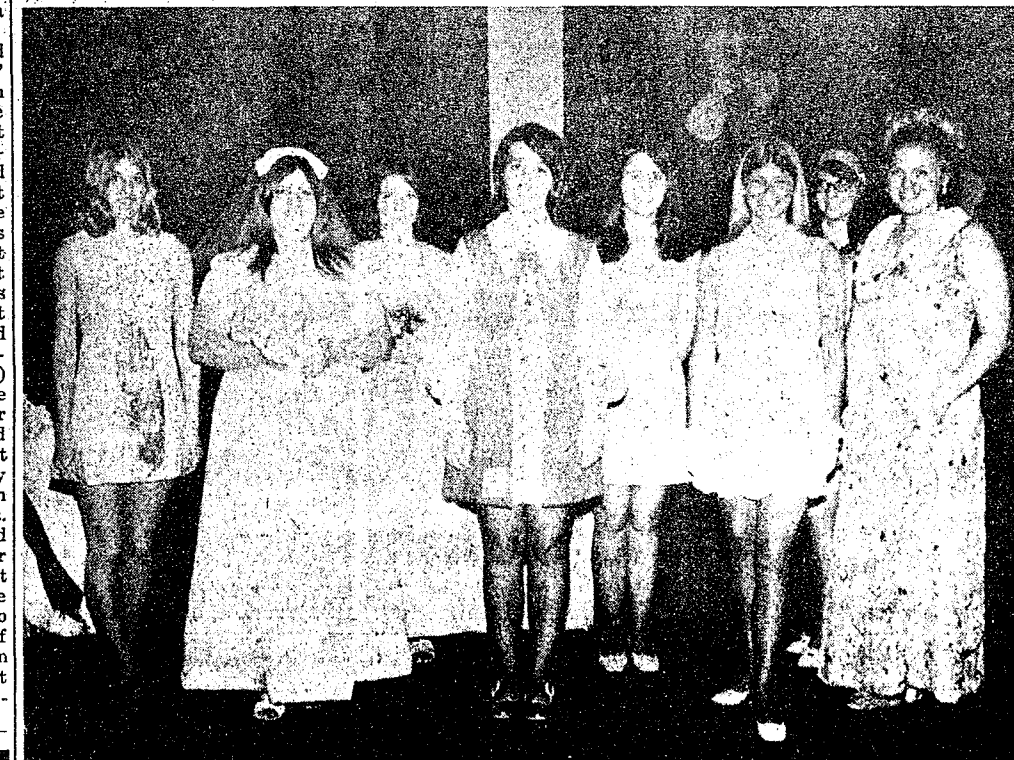

LAUREN W. BOYER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Boyer, 515 Grant St., will graduate from Washtenaw Community College with an associate degree on June 6. In September, he will be attending Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

Lee Dickelman Wins First in Road Rally

A total of 21 cars entered the Road Rally, Sunday, May 31, sponsored by the Chelsea High Debate Team and held at the school parking lot.

A 1½ hour course through the countryside around Whitmore Lake, Dexter, and Pinckney comprised the rally route. Top three winners for this year were Lee Dickelman, first; Tim Colvia, second; and Bill Hafner, third.

The team earned about $35 for their fund which will be used to help send four debaters to summer institutes at Eastern Michigan University and Toledo University.

Since this is not nearly enough to send the students to their debate institutes, contributions are willingly accepted and persons interested in donating to the scholarship fund are asked to contact debate coach William Coelius at Chelsea High, 475-3461.

Walter Zeeb Will Head Kiwanis Club

At the regular Kiwanis Club meeting Monday, June 1 election of officers was held for the 1970-71 year beginning Oct. 1.

Those elected include: Walter Zeeb, president; George Staffan, first vice-president; Louis Burghard, second vice-president; John Dettling, treasurer; and John Dunn, Peter Flintoft, Tom Dmoch, and George Meranuk, directors for two-year terms. Incumbent directors Sam Johnson, V. O. Johnson and Luther Kusterer will remain in office for one more year. Lt. Governor of Division 40 Walter Henne was present at the meeting.

Two members of the CHS speech class provided an interesting program for the evening. Sue Blaess spoke on the need for reform in mental institutions while Joan Yocum spoke on how to invite and/or repel burglars from your home.

Interlochen delegates for this year will be Jill Flintoft and Jeff Parsons.

ALFRETHA HARRISON

CHS Student Chosen for U.S. Band Tour

It was recently announced by The First Chair of America, a national honor recognition society of school bands, orchestras, and Chorus, that Alfretha Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harrison, of 1185 Old Manchester Rd., an 11th grade student of Miss DiAnne L'Roy and Warren Meyer at Chelsea High, has been selected as a member of their 1970 USA School Band and Chorus.

Alfretha's selection came as the result of her performance as a music student and the outstanding teaching done by the two directors who worked with her. She has played in school bands since the sixth grade and is presently in the first flute section of the Chelsea High band and has also had several years work in the school chorus.

As a member of the USA School Band and Chorus, Alfretha will travel through England, Ireland, (Continued on page six)

Action on Principal's Request Deferred Until Next Monday

Business at the regular meeting Monday night of the Chelsea Board of Education was anything but routine. Three separate matters were presented to the Board and the action, or lack of action on each, seems to have widespread ramifications for the residents of the Chelsea area.

Early in the meeting, board member Herman L. Koenn turned over to his fellow board members a sealed envelope given to him earlier in the day by a group of "concerned citizens." When opened, it revealed a series of petitions containing 142 signatures requesting the "immediate reinstatement of Richard Bareis as head wrestling coach."

Following the board's examination of these petitions, Koenn presented a motion stating, "I move that Richard Bareis be reinstated as head wrestling coach with periodic evaluations of his performance to be held during the coming school year. I do so on the basis of testimony presented at the open hearing on his case last week and the lack of documentation of the charges."

Koenn emphasized that his motion was not the result of the petitions presented, but rather was made on the evidence offered at the hearing itself. After some discussion, the board members were polled by President Irwin and the motion passed 4-3.

Somewhat later, Superintendent Cameron presented to the board three grievance petitions from the Chelsea Education Association regarding the recent dismissals of Bareis and Jon Schaffner and one in behalf of the CEA grieving, "not the dismissals but the evaluation procedure." After some discussion, action on these grievances was deferred for one week until a special session of the board to be held Monday, June 8.

Shortly before the meeting adjourned, Superintendent Cameron requested the board's permission to present to the board with a matter not on the agenda. He then proceeded to read a letter from Charles Lane, principal of Chelsea High, requesting that "effective June 30, 1970, I be released from my duties as principal of Chelsea High for personal reasons and be reassigned as a classroom teacher in the system." No further explanation was given for this request and, obviously taken by surprise, the board declined to act immediately upon it and tabled the matter until the special board meeting set for next Monday night.

Gen. Beach Blasts Forces of Violence

An estimated 1,500 persons turned out Saturday, May 30, to participate in or watch the traditional Memorial Day parade and observance at Oak Grove Cemetery.

Chelsea Police Chief George Meranuk's mobil car, with its lights flashing, led the parade of American Legion and VFW representatives, Boy, Girl, and Cub Scouts of the area, the Firing Squad, and the high school and junior high school bands accompanied by hundreds of village children on their bicycles.

At the cemetery, master of ceremonies Ray Lutovsky welcomed the residents of Chelsea and introduced the Rev. Fr. Francis Wahowiak who gave the invocation and benediction. A wreath was placed at the soldiers' monument by the Woman's Relief Corps and the school bands joined together in playing several selections.

Following this, Lutovsky introduced Gen. Dwight E. Beach, of the United States Army, a Chelsea native, who gave a short address, speaking of this as the 102nd annual Memorial Day celebration and reminding his audience that this traditional observance dates back to 1868 following "the most devastating war ever."

Gen. Beach likened America 1970 with America during Civil War days and said that, "Not since the Civil War has our country been so torn by dissension, rioting, and hostility."

He likened the position of President Nixon with that of President Lincoln and drew several vivid parallels between this country's present attitudes and the problems that led to the explosion of our nation 105 years ago.

He vehemently condemned the forces in America that are now trying to "tear our nation to pieces" and asked his audience to reflect upon the soldiers who have gone to war for her, fought, and in some cases, died for her.

"Did they," he asked, "fight so that they might be overwhelmed with drugs and drug users?"

Did they fight so that the rioters and student protesters might bring this great land to its knees?

Did they fight so that 3,000 acres of land in America could be ruined every day by an industrial society bent upon its own destruction?

Did they fight to see pollute (Continued on page six)

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

The dialogue between the federal government and the public, particularly our youth, is far from being what it should be but it has improved in recent days.

I am very pleased that President Nixon met with the presidents of eight leading colleges and more recently with leaders of 15 black institutions.

This is one thing I had in mind when I wrote the President on May 6, "it is now time for us to 'lower our voices' and open channels of communication between the institutions of government, the campus, the young people, and society as a whole. The dialogue is now weak, limited and excessively emotional."

Meanwhile, in keeping with my long-standing practice, I have met with hundreds of persons both in my Michigan district and in Washington. Many have been young, but others have been adults from many walks of life.

As an added factor I and several

House colleagues have introduced legislation urging the President to establish a commission to study the causes of campus violence.

If we are to keep open and widen all these channels there must be a willingness by all to listen as well as speak. And there must be an understanding that the freedom to express our opinions does not and cannot carry with it a guarantee our views will be followed. Such a guarantee would not be possible since many groups with a range of viewpoints compete for an action that can go only one direction at a time.

There is no assurance that talking to each other with proper respect and consideration will solve our country's problems or even partially solve them. But it is quite certain that injustice cannot be significantly and permanently reduced without effective communication.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

They split votes Saturday night at the country store. Mister Editor, of the Chronicle, issue, the Vice President issue, the welfare reform issue, the postage reform issue, and the winner of the election issue. The only issue the fellows were full agreed on was the Mars issue.

They was agreed that they may be folks on Mars, but on the other hand they might not be. That was about as close as the fellows could get on any question that hit the floor.

Zeke Grubb reported he had saw by the papers where another scientist had come out in favor of life on Mars, and Zeke noted that this scientist had left all his options open by not taking on the moon first and working up to Mars. Zeke said that was the way with scientists, though, they like to take the hard ones first.

leastwise the ones nobody knows for shure. Mister Editor, Zeke said he didn't get no objection to a fellow having a opinion, because that's what science is, a opinion. But Zeke was of a mind if the scientists know for shure they's people on Mars, they ought to keep quiet about it. They would do better turning their talents to turning out a better tasting sump and a safety match a fellow can strike on his pants like Zeke's words.

Bug Hookum was agreed with Zeke. He said we are having enough headaches trying to run the world we got, much less taking on another one. Bug was of the opinion we could best spend our time trying to get along on earth without squabbling, starving, fouling up the air and water and, general, messing up the world so it soon won't be fit to live in.

Clem Webster said that was one good reason why we got to go ahead with space studying, so's we can find a place to go when we foul our nest so bad we can't say on earth. Course, Clem went on, we is taking the chance that folks on Mars ain't no better off, or is even worse off, than we are. Parthmore, allowed Clem, they is the question of loyalty to think about. Would Mars be with the West, wondered Clem, or in what Washington calls a Communist sphere of influence?

Afore that question could be answered to anybody's satisfaction, said Clem, the stability of the Mars economy would have to be studied. What this means, he allowed, is we would want to know if we could borrow from them or if they would rather borrow from us or the Russians. They is so many questions in going to another world, Clem said, till after giving the matter some thought he favors letting Mars make the first move. Personal, I ain't one to stand in the way of progress. I could use a loan myself.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Mercury Future Uncertain

No one knows when or if the current restrictions on fishing in Lake St. Clair, the St. Clair River, the Detroit River, Lake Erie and part of Lake Huron will be lifted.

When he announced the program under which fish in these waters can be caught but then must be thrown back, Gov. William G. Milliken said the restrictions would apply "indefinitely."

"I don't think it can accurately be said the mercury situation is getting better," he said. "It will inevitably get better, but when, nobody knows."

"I don't have any plans to modify it at the present time," he said.

The ban on eating applies to all fish caught in Lake St. Clair, the St. Clair River and the Detroit River. It applies to all wall-eyes, white bass and sheepshead caught in Lake Erie and on Lake Huron south of Port Sanilac.

Anyone wishing to fish in these waters must have a special, free permit, even if they are 16 and under and normally need no fishing license.

When the permit is given to the person, he also receives a warning as to the hazards involved in eating the fish due to the high levels of mercury in them.

There are 500 permit outlets in the southeast Michigan area.

Health officials say there is no way to clean or cook fish contaminated with mercury to make them safe to eat.

Persons who eat too much mercury contaminated food can suffer brain damage, and this is why the extra cautious approach has been taken on the problem.

"We don't want to keep dead bodies before we start moving to protect the public," explained one state official recently.

Milliken said he thinks it is "clear in the public mind" that mercury does pose a hazard to the public health and that the ban is therefore necessary.

Tax Take Hold

Most people know their taxes are high, but few realize exactly how much of what they earn is used to pay for government.

It is a bit of a shock then to learn that the average American works two hours and 26 minutes in each eight hour work day for the government.

This compares with about one hour and one minute for house hold and housing needs and 59 minutes for food and tobacco. Transportation needs require 39 minutes of work while 26 minutes of work goes for clothing and 19 minutes for recreation needs. Medical needs require an average of 21 minutes work a day.

The remaining one hour and 49 minutes goes for all other expenditures.

Drunks Dangerous

Staggering statistics which outline the problems raised by drunk driving in this country continue their shocking ways.

For instance, alcohol was a factor in at least half of the 56,400 traffic deaths recorded in the United States last year. Those deaths equal the entire population of Bay City.

The drunken driver is the most deadly killer on the highway. At any given time it is estimated that 4 or 5 percent of the drivers on the road are drunk.

However, this group is responsible for at least half of the highway deaths. One medical examiner has estimated that 44 percent of the drivers killed last year were innocent victims of drunk drivers.

Michigan's current limit for drunkenness is .15 percent alcohol in the blood stream. At this level, a driver has a 25 times greater chance of causing a traffic accident than he would if he were not drinking, according to the National Safety Council.

Increased accident causation is noticeable at a blood alcohol level of only .04 percent. A 180-pound man may reach the .04 level with only one 8-12 ounce mixed drink, the council said.

The council urges anyone who drinks to wait at least one hour for each drink after he has stopped drinking before he drives. It says this is the minimum time required by the body to rid itself of alcohol.

CANADIAN SCENE: Don Turner's camera catches a beautiful spot in the Lake of the Woods.

D. Turner Sends Back First Report from North Country

Don Turner, the Chelsea naturalist who left for an odyssey in Alaska May 18, has sent in his first description of his summer travels to date:

Since the article of May 14, telling of my departure for the far north, I have been doing some traveling through Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ontario, and now am camped in a beautiful, quiet spot here at Falcon Lake Provincial Park, just off the Trans-Canadian Highway.

The sun is just coming up over the lake and the birds are singing merrily in the trees over my camper. Robins, warblers, sparrows, and many others I don't know the names of are sounding off. They all seem to be trying to out-sing each other. So, it looks like a good day for travel.

The first four days of my travels I spent with Earl and Mabel Whitney looking for "agates" on the Keweenaw Peninsula. Agates are one of the semi-precious stones found in Michigan and are highly prized by those associated with the lapidary arts.

Earl has been creating some beautiful pieces of rock jewelry from agates the past few years and now I am getting the disease as I call it, for once you find an agate, you are hooked and every pile of rocks or gravel beach you come to, you automatically start looking. However, every stone found on the beach is not an agate, as quartz, jasper, and many others are found in the same area so one has to know what he is looking for or he will pass them up as just another dull rock. I think our younger generation should take up rock hunting as a pastime, seems as if carrying a rock hammer looks better than carrying a protest banner. At least, it will put one out into cleaner atmospheres.

I left the Whitneys at Houghton, the copper country of the U.P., and headed west through Wisconsin to Superior and Duluth, Minn., then headed north on Highway 53 to International Falls, Minn., crossing in to Canada at Fort Francis, Ontario; then on Highway 71 to Kenawab on the Trans-Canada Highway. Highway 71 goes through the heart of the famous resort area of the Lake of the Woods. Here, one sees miles and miles of lakes and waterways, rivers, and creeks and the beauty of this area is hard to describe. The pine, spruce, and birch lined shores of these lakes are especially beautiful at this time of year as the new leaves on the birch and poplar are just coming out and the wild flowers are just peeking their heads out. So I am seeing my second spring this year and maybe another as I head farther north. I haven't tried my luck at fishing yet, but will when I start up the Alaskan Highway. I will keep you posted as to my wanderings.

Your northern reporter,
Don Turner.

School Board Candidates...

Question No. 3: How well do you feel the Chelsea Public Schools are meeting the needs of the student body? What changes would you propose?

Answer: "In some areas, such as science and language arts, I feel the needs are being met quite sufficiently, as well as in the business courses and home economics. However, only two foreign languages in a school the size of Chelsea's is inexcusable."

"The area where I would like to see much immediate attention given is in Reading Comprehension. There is not another subject in our curriculum as important as reading. It overlaps all of the other subjects. A child who has not mastered reading and the ability to understand what he has read suffers for the remainder of his school and adult life. Since approximately 80 percent of a qualified reading consultant's salary is paid by the state, it seems as though the portion invested by the local district would pay for itself over and over by enabling the children to get the most possible out of their math, history, geography, science, or whatever subject it might be, and be well worth it."

"I would like to see more community involvement. I think the citizens of the community must be drawn into the circle. As representatives of the people, I feel it is the responsibility of the school board to become involved and unless I am just being overly optimistic, I think many of the school problems would be easier solved."

Herman L. Koenn...

Herman L. Koenn, 52, of 2010 Hayes Rd., is an incumbent board member who is employed as a farmer and real estate salesman. He responded to the questionnaire as follows:

1) Due to the inconsistency in the manner these types of situations occur, I feel each situation would have to be dealt with as the occurrence took place.

2) I cannot believe the "White Panther" element has a great deal of influence on the majority of the student body of the Chelsea High school system. I have a great confidence in the ability of the Chelsea students and faculty to use good judgement.

3) I feel the Chelsea system compared to other systems is doing a good job of producing quality education. There have been many changes in curriculum and school policy. However, it is a never-ending responsibility to upgrade and improve. I believe the Board of Education of Chelsea has met the responsibility of working this past year with many different problems and I have confidence the Boards of Education of the future working with students, faculty, and administrators, will continue to improve and upgrade the system.

Harold C. Powers...

Harold C. Powers, 45, of 12930 Scio Church Rd., also is an incumbent member of the board. He is employed as a foreman for the Introl Division of Chrysler Corp. He responded to the questionnaire as follows:

1) As problems arise, they will be met individually in a manner that benefits the occasion.

2) Outside influences of our students are not new and I have confidence they have sufficient wisdom to evaluate and handle the information properly. Parental and family discussions on outside influences are desirable to improve relationships within our local area.

3) Chelsea Public Schools, as most all schools, do not fully meet the needs of all students. With expanding programs, dropping programs, adding programs, and curriculum changes, we are attempting to improve our program to meet with continuing area changes to give each student more of what they need. We need additional growth in the vocational training area to give more students the feel of what they are doing in addition to the theories they have. Vocational additions can also be helpful in future employment, home, or recreational challenges.

PERSONALIZED FRAMES

Personalize your picture frames with paint. An inexpensive dime-store frame takes on a different personality when treated to a coat of silver or gold paint. Rub down the paint when almost dry to achieve an "antique" effect. It'll look like it was just retrieved from grandmothers attic, especially if it is the kind that has some molding on it.

Peoples throughout the entire world share the discomfort of the common cold.

IT'S HERE.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

At one time or another we all must face a moment of truth. It is a normal pattern of life. At times, the unlooked truth is hard to take, especially when it reveals bad luck or disaster. At that moment, we can open the door and courageously face reality — or — we can close the door and try to hide from the despairing truth. When we face reality, we must face the truth that self pity does not and can not create pride and who among us can deny a desire to be proud?

Fire Destroys 2 Cottages at Half Moon

"It's lucky no one was home!" was the comment of onlookers at the scene of an explosion early Monday morning at Little Half Moon Lake off Whitewood Rd., in Hamburg township, where one summer cottage was leveled and another was extensively damaged. Both dwellings were considered a total loss. There were no injuries.

Firemen said no one was in either cottage when the explosion occurred at 10376 Half Moon Dr. Ann Arbor.

According to a neighbor of Hicks, there was a loud explosion and then the front of the cottage and the roof lifted up and the front blew out.

He said there was not much fire immediately following the explosion, but some flames from the burning house spread to an adjacent cottage which has an address of 10384 Half Moon Dr. That cottage is owned by Mrs. Alice Knapp of Detroit.

Forty firemen, representing the Pinckney, Hamburg, and Dexter fire departments were at the scene. They were able to prevent the blaze from spreading to nearby residences. An old station wagon parked near the Hicks cottage was also heavily damaged.

Although cause of the explosion is undetermined, Hicks said that there was a leak in his propane gas tank located at the front of the cottage.

He estimated that the value of his cottage was $35,000 and while he could not give a dollar estimate of its contents, mentioned that there were many antiques in the cottage at the time of the fire. The arson squad from the Livingston County Sheriff's Department was also at the scene and is investigating the explosion and the fires.

Dress Code Ruling Not Effective Here

Within the last week, information has appeared in both the Ann Arbor News and Detroit Free Press involving a decision by the Supreme Court that it is not legal for a board of education to dictate length of a student's hair.

In order to check the accuracy of this information, a call was made to Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh of the Michigan Supreme Court. Since this was a federal rather than state ruling, Justice Kavanagh referred the matter to the United States Attorney General and the following answer was obtained:

"Late last year, in the case of Kahl vs. Breen, a high school boy was suspended from school when he refused to comply with the school regulation that his hair 'should be washed, combed, and cut so that it did not cover his collar line, extend over his ears, or fall below his eyebrows and that he must be clean shaven with no long sideburns.'"

"The case was taken to court where the school board ruling was upheld; however, on Dec. 3, 1969, an appellate court in the seventh circuit reversed the decision stating, 'the right wear one's hair at any length is a part of due process and is an inviolable right.' On June 1, 1970, the Supreme Court, with dissent, ruled that it would not review the case at this time and allowed the appellate ruling to stand."

It should be pointed out that the seventh circuit district, includes the states of Wisconsin, Illinois, and Indiana only. Michigan is in the sixth circuit along with Ohio, Kentucky, and Tennessee and as such, this ruling has no immediate application to our local boards of education. It does, however, pave the way for those persons dissenting from regulating school dress codes.

★ Welfare Curb

Paying the cost of supporting welfare recipients isn't going to improve by the looks of increasing numbers receiving benefits. Taxpayers will continue to finance the multi-billion dollar program to aid the poor.

In Michigan, it is estimated that there are more than three quarters of a million poor people in our rural and urban areas. Nationally, there are more than 30 million, and of these there are some 14 million rural people in this category. Being poor means, by most authorities, earning an income of less than $3,400 annually.

A solution to ease welfare payments is jobs for the poor, but most poverty victims lack required skills to get them. One plan is to train people before they get out of school.

A revision of the school curriculum would begin with a program to orient school children in primary school to the reality of the work world. Later in secondary school opportunity to learn skilled work would be available. The plan could be an important stopgap to the booming welfare rolls in the younger age bracket.

But yet, machinery and other tools to teach useful skills to growing citizens is more expensive than reprints of Shakespearean texts. Vo-ed is the most expensive type of education, but can we afford to do less? Our aim is to make taxpayers, not future tax dependents.

In Michigan, last year alone the cost of welfare was $537,650,000 to the state, $288,100,000 federal, and $17,800,800 to the counties.

Many predict that the welfare road is the direction that many underprivileged students will head without proper training. As it is, many tune out and drop out, because of not being able to relate to studies. There's no real guarantee that many won't do the same in Vo-ed programs, however, state officials do report, encouragingly, many successes of students after training.

An idea being adapted in some communities in Michigan is multi-district vocational centers to offset the high expense of a single community sponsoring its own program. Advantages include affording a more varied vocational curriculum for a greater choice of learning skills for working careers, for solid citizens for tomorrow.

Letters to the Editor

An Open Letter:

A little more than a month ago, a local resident was subjected to what she felt was unnecessary coldness and rudeness by a local physician who demanded an autopsy on the day of her husband's death. She feels that the autopsy was performed against her wishes and pleading and was never told why it was necessary. The doctor did inform her that he would obtain a court order if it were necessary.

This woman is now left to wonder why she was forced to go through this unnecessary ordeal at this time. May God have mercy on those who failed to show a little kindness and consideration to someone who needed help, not more hurt.

A concerned Chelsea Citizen.

What the June 8 Ballot on Vocational Education Means

Exactly what will the successful passage of the June 8 county-wide election on Vocational Education mean for the students and tax payers of Washtenaw county?

First, it will mean that some 2,000 students will have available to them courses which are meaningful in meeting their needs in preparation for the world of work.

The following courses are being proposed and will be made available to all students who need and can benefit from them: auto-body repair, automotive mechanics, building and grounds maintenance, business machine repair and service, carpentry and millwork, commercial foods preparation and service, cosmetology, data processing, electrical repair and maintenance, electronics, phone equipment mechanics, horticulture and floriculture, industrial machine repair maintenance, industrial machine shop operation, medical-office assisting, nursing aid, pre-nursing, printing, retail sales, secretarial and office machine operation, and welding.

These are occupational fields in which well paying jobs exist in Washtenaw county, in Michigan, and in most parts of the country. They are also occupations in which Washtenaw county high school students are interested, if the training is made available during high school periods. Other courses will be added as the needs are identified.

The programs will help the forty-seven percent of our young people whose education ends at the high school level to get and hold a worthwhile job.

While the bulk of the students will be drawn from the 11th and 12th grades, programs are being planned for some students who will not have reached the 11th grade. Every effort will be made to serve those students with social and learning difficulties and those who seem likely to drop out of their regular school program, regardless of their grade level. In addition, opportunities will be made available to youth who have already dropped out of school.

Secondly, this program and the hundreds like it, being planned across the country, will eventually save the taxpayer the expense of patch-up remedial programs, such as the Job Corps, which last year spent more than $2 billion from our Washington pocket trying to make young people employable.

It will also, over the long haul, mean a much more efficient use of local tax money. Good vocational programs and facilities are tremendously expensive and must be utilized fully in order to be economically feasible. This county-wide pooling of student and financial resources will make it possible to utilize such resources fully. The locations of the main facility—the area vocational center—on the Washtenaw Community College campus, at US-23 and the Huron River, will make it possible to use the same building and equipment for both high school and post-high school students. This will ultimately represent a huge savings in site, buildings, and equipment.

In addition, part of the one mill being requested, will be used to support the operation of qualified vocational programs in existing high schools in the county. They, too, will be serving part of the area need for vocational education.

Thirdly, the availability of this broad range of vocational-technical programs, at both the high school and post-high school levels, will benefit the business and industrial economy of the county. Business and industry must have trained young workers in order to survive and grow. The U. S. Congress considers the shortage of these trained workers a national crisis.

In summary, the benefits to be gained from the June 8 election on Vocational Education are: 1) the availability of a range of vocational courses sufficiently broad in scope to attract and serve the occupational needs for all Washtenaw county, junior and senior students who seek and can benefit from such training; 2) the displacement of a projected 2,000 students from Washtenaw county high school laboratories and classrooms to the vocational technical center by the mid 1970's thus increasing the flexibility of Washtenaw county high school building and faculty utilization; 3) The availability of greatly increased numbers of skilled young workers, which has proved to be a positive stimulant to business and industry in other communities where such programs have been established; 4) the vocational millage allows a stable support for existing Washtenaw county vocational programs as well as for those offered at the area vocational center. (The vocational millage is a "charter millage" and thus continues for as long as the area vocational program is in operation.) 5) a reduced need for expensive vocational facilities in the future Washtenaw county high school, especially in those vocational areas which result in a high per student cost factor due to minimal enrollments; 6) economically efficient utilization of existing vocational facilities, supported by a county-wide tax and student base; and 7) a more efficient coordination of planning and programming between the high school districts and the community college can take place, enabling individual students to plan a four-year sequence of programs.

All registered voters may vote on the important vocational education propositions, Proposition No. 1 authorizes the establishment of the area vocational program for Washtenaw county and the one mill necessary to construct additional facilities and operate the program through the 1970's.

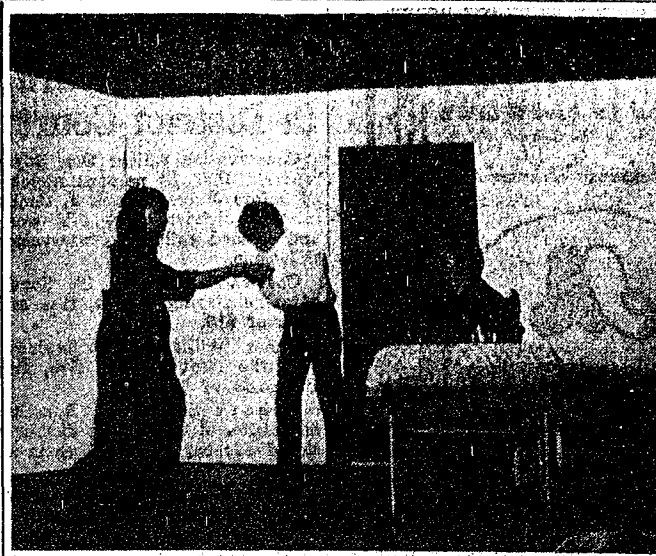

Proposition No. 2 authorizes the use of part of the mill for repaying bonds necessary for construction of facilities. Proposition No. 2 means no additional taxes; all costs will come from the one mill.

Chelsea School Superintendent Charles Cameron states "he endorses the program fully and hopes for a favorable vote."

with the man who sells and services the car you buy. Good service can help you maintain the value of your new car.

The Rev. John R. Morris officiated at the ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride was attired in a white silk organza over peau de soie gown featuring imported French Chantilly lace appliques on the bodice, bishop sleeves, detachable train, and hemline of the A-line skirt.

Her headpiece was fashioned of silk organza and held a fingertip veil. She carried a white orchid surrounded by baby carnations and lilies, and wore a diamond pendant, a gift from the bridegroom.

Attending her as maid of honor was her sister, Barbara Jean Wenk, attired in a floor-length dress of light blue crepe with an empire waist, bishop sleeves, and military collar and train accented with blue and white embroidery on the collar and cuffs. She carried a natural straw basket of pink roses, carnations, daisies, and purple statice.

Bridesmaids Mrs. Donald Hinderer, of East Lansing, another sister of the bride, and Cathie Swinehart, of Columbus, O., wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor.

Best man for the wedding was Lloyd N. Back, Jr., of Xenia, O. Ushers included Jeff Himes, brother of the bridegroom, of Xenia, O., and Daniel and Robert Wenk, brothers of the bride.

Soloist Jim Stuck, from Columbus, O., sang "The Wedding Prayer," "Psalm No. 128," and the "Lord's Prayer" and was accompanied by Mrs. Ernest Wenk, an aunt of the bride, on the organ.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wenk selected an orchid sheath dress with sheer wrist-length sleeves and matching accessories. Her corsage was of cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Himes wore a navy sheath with white accessories and a cymbidium orchid corsage for her son's wedding.

Following the ceremony, 175 guests were served a buffet supper at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Erwin Wenk, an aunt of the bride, cut and served the wedding cake. Miss Joyce Himes of Xenia, O., served the punch and Juanita Himes, sister of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book.

After a wedding trip to Cape Cod, Mass., the newlyweds will make their home at 788 Sheridan Park Court, Columbus, where they are, both seniors at Capitol University.

Remember a short while back when topless bathing suits were first big (er—small)? — It's not surprising that Rudi Gernreich, who "invented" them thinks a woman's "dress is only an accessory"—but what is surprising, in view of his liberal designs, is that he's as old-fashioned as we are about most grooming matters: "the other things make an outfit come alive," the way you wear your hair," Rudi says, "A hair style is an individual statement about a person. That's what fashion is..." When it comes to hair fashion, we feel no shop will do a better job for you than ours. Won't you check this out?

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF SAID SCHOOL DISTRICT

Please Take Notice that the Annual Election of the qualified electors of said School District will be held in the Large Group Instruction Room of the Dwight E. Beach School.

THE POLLS OF ELECTION WILL OPEN AT 7:00 O'CLOCK A.M. AND CLOSE AT 8:00 O'CLOCK P.M.

At said Annual Election there will be elected two (2) members to the Board of Education of said district for a full term of four (4) years ending in 1974.

THE FOLLOWING PERSONS HAVE BEEN NOMINATED TO FILL SUCH VACANCIES:

CAROLYN SMITH

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Education of Washtenaw Intermediate School District, Michigan, adopted a resolution on October 21, 1969, to submit the following propositions to a vote of the electors qualified to vote thereon at the annual school election to be held in this school district on Monday, June 8, 1970:

1. Shall the intermediate school district of Washtenaw County, State of Michigan, adopt the provisions of sections 330d to 330u of the school code of 1955, which are designed to encourage the establishment and contracting for the operation of area vocational-technical education programs if any annual property tax levied for this purpose is limited to one (1) mill?
2. Shall the Washtenaw Intermediate School District, State of Michigan, borrow the sum of not to exceed $5,000,000 and issue its bonds therefor, for the purpose of defraying all or any part of the cost of purchasing, erecting, completing, remodeling, improving, furnishing, returning, equipping or reequipping area vocational-technical buildings and other facilities, or any parts thereof or additions thereto; acquiring, preparing, developing or improving sites, or any parts thereof or additions thereto, for area vocational-technical buildings and other facilities; refunding all or any part of existing bonded indebtedness; or the accomplishing of any combination of the foregoing purposes?

Section 6, Article II, of the Michigan Constitution of 1963 reads in part as follows:

"Whenever any question is required to be submitted by a political subdivision to the electors . . . for the issue of bonds, only electors in, and who have property assessed for any ad valorem taxes in any part of the district or territory to be affected by the result of such election or elections who are the lawful husbands or wives of such persons shall be entitled to vote thereon . . ."

Several recent United States Supreme Court decisions have indirectly raised questions as to the validity of the above constitutional provision. For this reason, all resident qualified school electors who are registered with the city or township clerk of the city or township in which they reside shall be allowed to vote on the proposition of borrowing and issuing bonds of said school district. The votes cast by those electors who have property assessed for ad valorem taxes within the district or are the lawful husbands or wives of such persons and the votes cast by registered electors who do not have property so assessed will be tabulated separately.

Only resident qualified school electors who are registered with the city or township clerk of the city or township in which they reside are eligible to vote at this election.

This Notice is given by order of the Board of Education.

DEN 1, PACK 455—Tuesday, May 26, Den 1, Pack 455 played baseball at Pierce Park against Den 2. The score was 8-5. Den 1 was the winner. Afterwards, we cooked marshmallows over a fire and made them into "s'mores."

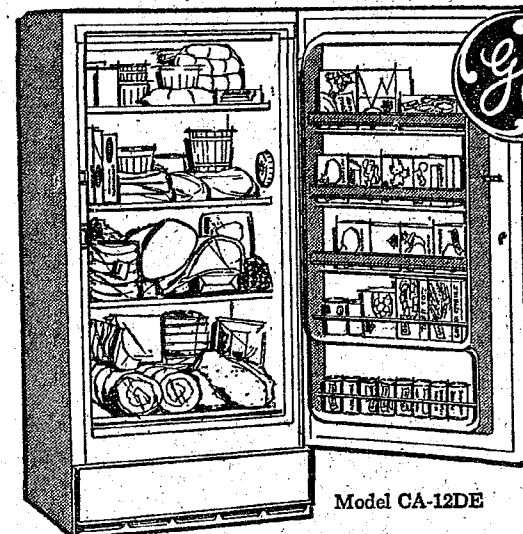

On Thursday, May 28, at our regular meeting we had practice for our circus skits to be presented at the Pack meeting. David Baldwin is the fat man; Mark Schantz is the tall man; Don Aldrich and Steve Blaess are the acrobats; David Hall and Billy Burgess are the Siamese Twins; Danny Kelin is the strong man.

DEN 1, PACK 455—This week, members of Den 1,

Pack 455 played baseball on the road. The people who carried the flags were Billy Burgess and Mark Schantz. In baseball, we played with a lot of people in back and two in front.
