Opposition to Metro Park Is Organized

Mill Creek Research Council Names Committees To Gather Data for Fight

Several hundred persons attended the third of a series of meetings arranged by the Mill Creek Research Council to consider the proposed metro park to be built by the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority southeast of Chelsea. The meeting started at 8 p.m. at the Chelsea High school. As opposed to the first two meetings, which were general information meetings, this last meeting was to determine a course of action for the MCRC.

With few exceptions, sentiment at this meeting favored action in opposition to the park. According to Virginia Denham, a poll was taken of the people present to determine the number of members of MCRC. With 30 active members present, which represented a quorum, a vote could be taken to decide what action MCRC should take. A vote was proposed that the Mill Creek Research Council make an investigation into the park, and determine the economic loss, loss to the tax base, and loss in farmland productivity which such a proposed park would present, and then indicate to county officials from an intelligent basis their reasons for opposing the park.

Dave Bacon, president of the MCRC, indicated that there are basically two ways to oppose the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority. The first would be to use political pressure, which is hoped the results of the study would do, and the second would be to refuse to sell out to HCMA officials. This latter action would force HCMA to obtain the necessary lands for their park through 100 percent condemnation of the area, which would be costly and time consuming. HCMA would most likely move their park elsewhere.

There are 48 farms involved in the Mill Creek proposed park area. In most cases HCMA wished to buy the entire farm, not just a portion of it. Mrs. Denham, board member, and former president, stressed the need to gather facts immediately to be able to assess adequately the situation. When asked how the Research Council had acted to the controversial Army Corps of Engineers reservoir plan, she indicated that MCRC thoroughly studied all facets of the proposal and then informed others by a variety of methods, became involved with the decision making process themselves. Members of MCRC took tours, and "wrote to their congressmen to stop the project."

Jay Bradbury, of the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners, who attended the meeting, was quizzed on the County Commissioners' position on this issue. Bradbury indicated that the Board of Commissioners will back those who oppose the building of the park if a large enough majority of "affected" people don't want the park. He was unable, however, to define for those at the meeting exactly what the board considered a large enough "majority," nor would he say just exactly who was considered "affected" by the park.

Five committees were formed to investigate the Huron-Clinton park, from all aspects of the situation. The first committee will conduct an agricultural and economic survey of the Mill Creek area, as well as of the Arms Creek area, in Sharon township, which represents an alternate site for the Huron-Clinton Authority park. This survey will be a comparison of the agriculturally oriented economic activity in both areas.

A second committee will investigate Stoney Creek Metropolitan park. This committee will find out the damages, if any, which the park has caused in and around the township, what extra police patrols have been necessary, road maintenance problems, the effect on the tax base, drug usage, and problems of trespassing on privately owned property. Stoney Creek park was chosen because it is the most recent addition to the HCMA complex of parks. It is of a similar design to the one that the HCMA wants to build at Mill Creek. Since it is newest, also, the problems would still be most recent in the minds of the people quizzed.

A third committee, a "Clerical Committee," to do mailing, typing of letters, and so on, was formed. Recreation committee, a committee to investigate the present recreational areas which are publicly owned in the area, to determine potential development for those areas, was the fourth committee formed. Hopefully, one of the existing areas could be made to serve the same purpose in this area which a metropolitan park would serve.

A final group of people will attend the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Board of Commissioners meeting which is to be held Dec. 10 in Detroit. Purpose of this committee will be to prepare a list of questions, and to suggest problems for the board to consider and answer.

Prior to the Dec. 10 meeting of the Board of Commissioners, Mrs. Denham indicated that there

Santa Visits Promised on 3 Saturdays

Freezing temperatures and the cold snow indicate that Santa season is near. Reports indicate that the return of the grand old man is scheduled for three consecutive Saturday afternoons prior to Christmas.

Chelsea Jaycees, who are in contact with the North Pole, indicate that Santa's pre-Christmas schedule is rapidly becoming hurried by the tremendous pressure to get all the toys done, but that Santa will take time this year to visit Chelsea children.

First appearance of Santa is scheduled for Saturday afternoon Dec. 5. He is scheduled to arrive from the north part of town on that day at approximately 1:30 p.m. He will stay for a time at the chair the Jaycees have placed for him in front of the Post Office, where he will hear youthful hopes for Christmas, and give away candy. Afterwards, he plans to wander through town, visiting the Christmas shoppers, and recording in his fabulous mind who's been bad, and who's been good. So bad children are warned to stay home on Dec. 5, 12, and 19, in hopes that Santa won't see them, and won't remember their pranks. But good children are urged to come out and see the grand old Santa on his historic pre-Christmas visit to Chelsea.

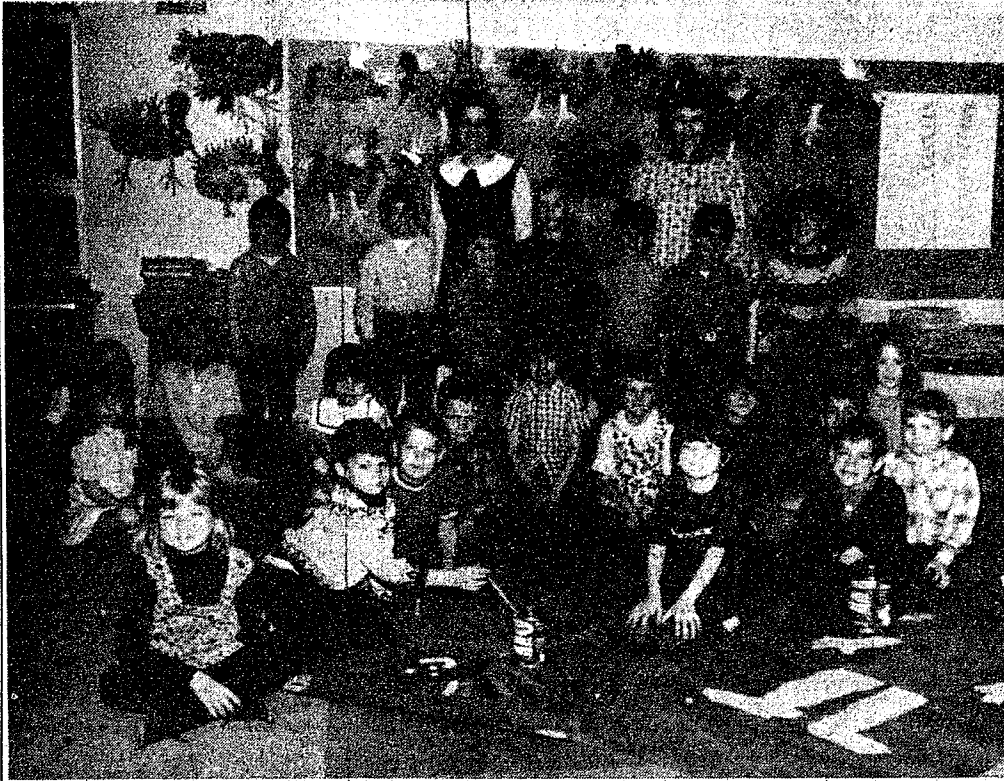

Jaycee officials report also that very soon Santa's Mail Box will appear on the Post Office lawn to hold the many letters young people will be writing to their favorite correspondent. Santa wishes to thank all these youngsters this year, Jaycees indicate, so children's addresses should be included somewhere on the letter to Santa.

New Full-Time Agriculture Teacher Hired

Douglas Davidson, a recent graduate of Michigan State University, has accepted a position to teach agriculture in the Chelsea schools for the balance of the school year, according to Charles Lane, principal of Chelsea High school. According to Lane, Davidson graduates from MSU sometime this week, which will allow him to assume his teaching duties Nov. 30. Davidson replaces Don McCormick, the present agriculture teacher, who has been helping out until a full-time permanent teacher could be found.

Davidson hails from Felch, a town in the Upper Peninsula. He was active in agricultural related activities in high school, and has been assisting the Department of Natural Resources in forestry during his summer vacations from college. His degree is in vocational agriculture.

The new agriculture teacher, who did his student teaching in Corunna, will be moving into the area over the Thanksgiving holiday. He and his wife will be living on North Territorial Rd.

Ricky Eder, and Paula Payne. In the outside semi-circle are Charise Hava, Joy Albrecht, Margaret Sweet, Norman Brown, Matthew Bennett, Robbie Benedict, Mike Bareis, David Heydlauff, Danny Meyer, Alan Hale, and Sandy Frame. In back is Mrs. Raduazo, and Mrs. Steinaway. There are five teacher aides presently working at North school. South School Association is trying to get such a program as this stated.

Teacher Aides Helping in Many Ways at North School

Teacher Aides at North school and the budding program at South school indicate that in the future, Chelsea's school children will find more participation from parents and members of the community in their education. Presently there are five teacher aides working at North school who come every week, for a certain amount of time to help a teacher, not a teacher in the same grade, or of the same room in which she has a child, simply a teacher who needs some assistance.

Mrs. Arthur (Anne) Steinaway is the only teacher aide who presently comes for a full day. She works with individual students who need help for part of the day that she comes, and assists with large group projects, and art work in the afternoons. Mrs. Raduazo, who is the teacher she works for, indicates that Mrs. Steinaway has a free rein of activities with which she can assist. Mrs. Jerry Satterthwaite helps first grade teacher Mrs. William Coelius for one hour per week. She works with small groups of children or with individual students who need help reinforcing concepts already learned.

Mrs. Jerry Boyd gives one hour a week also, to Mrs. Stein, first grade teacher. She does the same type of work for Mrs. Stein that Mrs. Satterthwaite does for Mrs. Coelius.

In the upper grades, Mrs. Edmonds, a third grade teacher, has Mrs. Robert Updegraff come to type dittos for her. In the fourth and fifth grade levels, Mrs. Sylvia Ford types dittos for Mrs. Mortenson and Mrs. Paplawsky.

These women are all volunteers. They have no other specifications for their jobs other than an interest and a desire to work in these fields, and the available time to donate. Mrs. Ford, since she began her work at the school, has expanded it to type dittos for many of the other teachers.

There is room for much more of this kind of community action, according to Mrs. Raduazo. Duties range from helping children specifically with learning problems, typing dittos, to mixing paint, to washing off desks, anything a teacher could use an extra pair of hands for.

To become a teacher aide, interested people are urged to contact Mrs. Arthur Steinaway, or Robert Benedict, principal of North school.

Our Saviour Lutheran Church Observing First Anniversary

Anniversary services for Our Saviour Lutheran church will be held Sunday, Nov. 29, according to pastor, the Rev. William H. Keller.

Our Saviour church, a church of the Missouri Synod of Lutherans, held its first worship service one year ago on Nov. 30. This culminated two and one-half months work by the Rev. Keller, and the Mission Board of the Michigan District. According to the Rev. Keller, who was ordained July 27, 1969, he received a call from the Mission Board of the Michigan District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, to serve as a missionary at large in the Michigan District. Assigned to the Chelsea Mission area, his purpose was to gather and organize a congregation.

With a little help from his friends, and the Mission Board, the pastor first succeeded, by area canvass conducted of more than 500 homes in the area, in gathering a congregation of 35 prospective families.

At the first general meeting, which was held on Nov. 12, 45 people attended the meeting.

In early December, a Sunday school, and a bible class for high school students was started. On Dec. 17, before the Rev. Paul T. Heinicke, executive secretary of the Board of Missions, the group was accepted as a congregation of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod.

The group is presently meeting, at the Chelsea Rebekah Lodge, where it has met for this past year. As their first year as a parish rolls by, however, the group finds that they are too large to fit comfortably into the Rebekah Hall. Hence, they are making plans to build a new church building.

The new building will be built on M-52, just south of town. According to the Rev. Keller, the plans, which have not been formally selected by the congregation, include for the building to be a multi-purpose unit. The building will feature a moveable altar, which will be situated in the center of the room. It will also be able to be used as a fellowship hall, and to provide Sunday school rooms. The Rev. Keller asserts, however, that there are tentative plans, and that the congregation must approve, and want to build the revolutionary new building, before the church will begin to

The new church unit will seat 210 people comfortably with maximum seating for 250, in the case of overflow.

Funds for this unit will come in the form of a loan from the Mission Board. On Dec. 6, the congregation will meet to view and decide upon the plans.

The Rev. William Keller, the young pastor who has led this young flock this past year, is a 1969 graduate of Concordia Seminary at Fort Wayne, Ind. He received his BA degree from Concordia Senior College in Fort Wayne. He is married, and has one child, Timothy, who is now 2½ months old. The Rev. Keller, and Karen, his wife, live at 116 Pierce St.

Public Invited To Tour Facilities Monday on Firm's 25th Anniversary

Dana's Chelsea plant will hold an Open House Monday, Nov. 30 between 1 p.m. and 6 p.m. Plant tours will begin at the Sibley Rd. plant, and transportation will be provided to and from the Buchanan St. plant. The public is extended an invitation from Dana management to tour the facilities.

Displays depicting products of the Dana Corp. will be on hand, as well as power take-offs produced in Chelsea. Experimental and test vehicles will be on display for public viewing.

Chelsea plant history dates back to Dec. 1, 1945, when the Power-Take-Off Division of Central Fibre Products, Inc., was purchased, and Chelsea Products, Inc., was formed. Original officers and stockholders of the company were: Howard S. Holmes, chairman of the board; R. W. Wagner, president and general manager; E. W. Eaton, vice-president and treasurer; M. W. McClure, secretary. On the board of directors were: P. G. Schaible, R. A. McLaughlin and Earnest King. Other stockholders were A. D. Schneider and Mrs. Howard S. Holmes, Sr.

Under the direction of the above officers and stockholders, Chelsea Products power take-offs gained nationwide acclaim as a leader in its field.

On March 31, 1958, Chelsea Products, Inc., was purchased by Dana Corp., of Toledo, O. At the time of purchase, total employment was 150.

Several additions were made to the Buchanan St. plant, the last one in 1963 of 15,500 square feet which increased the total plant area to 52,618 square feet.

Ground-breaking for the Sibley Rd. plant occurred May 23, 1966 and by the following May, manufacturing operations were being transferred to the Sibley Rd. plant.

Employment at Dana Corporation Power Equipment Division, Chelsea Plant, is presently 350 employees.

"PIONEER DAYS" was the theme for the meetings of Cub Scout Pack 455, Den 8, this past month. To commemorate the occasion, the Cubs thought up a skit, and made the "scenery" and costumes for the skit, which was presented to the entire Pack at their Pack meeting Thursday evening, Nov. 19. Pictured above is the cast from the exciting tale, which featured; standing, from left, Lucas

Marathon Run Team Stopping Here Thursday

Jackson brothers, Joel and Tony Ahlstrom, students at Trinity College, in Deerfield, Ill., have begun a marathon 263-mile run, from City Hall in Chicago to City Hall in Detroit. Purpose of this is to arouse public interest in pollution control.

Their run, which will take 10 days, will be averaged into 26-mile daily runs. The Ahlstrom brothers will be in the Chelsea area Nov. 26, Thanksgiving day, moving on into Ann Arbor the following day.

Mayor Richard J. Dalry, and his Commissioner of Environmental Control, H. W. Poston, have of the Michigan State wrestling tournament. Dennis's team, the Raiders, is the No. 4 team in the nation, in the junior college division. They will arrive in Roswell Wednesday, Nov. 25, where they will be hosted in a parade through the town. The game will be broadcast on local television, and may be heard on the radio, but local fans are urged to check their schedules to confirm time and station. Washington Report by Congressman

MARVIN L. ESCH

In one of its most significant actions this year, the House in Washington has passed legislation which makes a major attack on the problems of unemployment and underemployment, it was reported today by Congressman Marvin L. Esch (R-Mich.).

Esch was co-sponsor of the bill—the Comprehensive Manpower Act. The Senate passed a similar version earlier. A committee composed of House and Senate members will now attempt to resolve the differences in the two bills.

Esch said, "Our bill is one of the most far-reaching pieces of legislation passed by Congress this year. Perhaps its major contribution is the pulling together into a streamlined package existing manpower training and employment services throughout the country. Second, it makes use of modern computer techniques for job placement."

Major provisions of the bill include:

(1) The identification of national pockets of unemployment resulting from plant shutdowns or changing economic conditions, the development of cooperative programs between national organizations and private industry, and the development of training programs for service men nearing release from military service.

(2) Development of a national job computer bank which will match the unemployed with available jobs. This is a unique feature of the legislation, which holds great promise.

(3) The development of job service employment programs within federal, state, and local governments to help the unemployed find jobs.

(4) The institution of programs to upgrade the underemployed. Millions of people, by working in jobs below their capacity, are denied the benefits of a good job, while the country is denied the skills it needs to run a giant, sophisticated economy.

Esch said, "This long-delayed legislation should be a major tool in our fight against unemployment and underemployment. While it is quite obviously no panacea it brings into being programs and procedures that are more equal to the problem."

"Unfortunately, our legislation still does not address itself to a major need: that of coordinating manpower training programs with vocational and technical education programs in our school systems. That should be the next task of Congress," Esch said.

State Aid Funds Will Be Paid To Schools Dec. 1

Representative Thomas Sharpe announced Nov. 19 that Chelsea schools will receive a payment of $124,420 in State Aid as of Dec. 1. They will also receive $3,000 under Title I. Dexter schools will receive a total of $98,900 in State Aid for the operation of their schools.

Other schools in the area receiving State Aid, and Title I grants are Manchester, which will receive $71,110 in State Aid, and Saline with $98,540 State Aid. Ann Arbor schools will receive $680,940 in State Aid, and $40,000 in Title I grants.

Parochial Old Issue

If you have the feeling the battle over state aid to parochial schools has been going on for quite a while, you're even more right than you probably think.

The issue is 117 years old in Michigan. Despite passage of the constitutional amendment designed to kill off state aid to parochial schools, the issue appears destined to stay with us for some time.

It first came up in 1853, when Michigan Catholics asked for state money because they thought public schools in the state were too Protestant in their approach to things.

They specifically objected to remarks by the man who then was serving as state superintendent of public instruction, Ira Mayhew. He had given a lecture to the legislature on public education sprinkled with phrases such as "We, the descendants of the Puritans."

Parochial isn't the only matter of religion which has been batted back and forth, either.

The Detroit Board of Education, back in 1842, banned the reading of the Bible in the city's schools. But three years later the board changed its mind, largely under pressure from influential Protestant leaders.

When it acted in 1845, it allowed both the King James and Douay versions to be read without comment.

Later on, in 1898, the Michigan Supreme Court upheld the use of a book in the Detroit schools entitled "Readings from the Bible." After the ruling, however, the board decided to withdraw the book from the schools anyway in December, 1898.

In the 1920's persons opposed to the existence of parochial schools attempted to have them abolished in the state.

First in 1920 and again in 1924

they attempted to add an amendment to the state constitution which would have required students to attend public schools rather than private schools. Both times the proposal was defeated by voters.

Michigan's parochial schools did not get substantial state aid until the 1960's. In 1963 the legislature provided for the transportation of non-public school students in public school buses and in 1965 the state provided for non-public school students to receive the same auxiliary services, such as counseling, as public school students receive.

Now the whole question is up in the air again as a result of the new amendment to the constitution, and it will probably take years for completion of a myriad of court tests before the situation clears up.

Increase Slows

The enrollment of students in Michigan's public school systems is up again this year, but not by very much.

Statistics drawn up by the State Education Department put the official public school census for 1970-71 as 2,180,699, an increase of only 16,000 from last year.

The rate of increase has been declining for several years as a result in the slackening of the birth rate a few years ago.

The enrollment figure produced by the census, incidentally, is only 1,801 students less than the state's budget bureau estimated earlier this year.

Mailboxes Hazardous

The State Highway Department wants Michigan residents to stop beating their plowshares into mailboxes.

They feel the same way about wagon wheels, welded chains, iron pipes impeded in concrete-filled milk cans and other assorted obsolete farm equipment.

It's not the mailbox itself the department objects to, but the solid, unyielding nature which the objects have when a motor vehicle hits them.

The department says traffic accident statistics for last year show 2,510 accidents involved mailboxes and 21 of them were fatal.

An appeal to Michiganders was issued to use small pipe or wood in constructing the bases for mailboxes.

It said highway engineers favor the pipe construction with the base set off the shoulder of the road to facilitate highway maintenance in the winter and summer.

From a safety point of view, the ideal mailbox support will bend or fall away from the vehicle when it is struck and not burdle the hood and smash into the windshield, it said.

It said, for example, wood posts not more than five inches in diameter or a regular four-by-four board make good supports.

Early deer season reports indicate slight declines in the numbers of hunters afield in the total deer kill, compared with the 1955 season. Conservation Department game workers, who have made random checks on hunting activity, report a general decrease in deer kill, due in part to lower hunting pressure, and bad weather during the first two days of the Nov. 15-30 season.

Coal strike prompted the government to publish a ban on using electricity for any of the following purposes: refrigeration for air-conditioning, except to the extent essential for industrial processes, or for health and safety; outdoor and indoor advertising, and promotional lighting; ornamental lighting, show windows and marquees; display lighting; or any outdoor entrance lighting, except for the minimum essential for public health and safety, among others.

To date, the coal strike has not seriously affected the factories, schools or institutions in Chelsea, although extremely serious consequences may very well result if the strike is prolonged for any great length of time. Chelsea Methodist Home is in the best situation, according to sources at the Home, as they keep a supply of coal large enough to run the Home for two months at a time, that supply being replenished just prior to the strike. Chelsea Milling Co., has on hand only two day's supply of coal at a time. When their supply runs out, the mill will have to close, Dudley Holmes, spokesman for the mill, indicates.

Two more Chelsea pupils of Mrs. Gwen Schultz of Ann Arbor, made their radio debut over station WPAG Ann Arbor, on the "Kiddies party" program featured by the station each Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, which each of her pupils is to appear on at some time during the year. Nancy Atkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Atkinson, and Connie Ann Steinbach, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Steinbach, appeared on the program last Saturday. Their first number was a piano duet, Brahms' "Waltz in A Flat Major."

Gridders of the Week

DUANE BYCRAFT, left, plays offensive guard for the Chelsea varsity team. Duane, who is a senior, is finishing his second season on the team. A resident of Chelsea all his life, he is active in sports, playing softball during the summer. He is a member of Varsity Club, FFA, and has been in the Junior Achievement program for the past two years. Duane is presently vice-president of sales for the Dana-based company. Following graduation, Duane hopes to be admitted to the National Guard, adding that he is not certain what other course he would like to take. Duane lives at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bycraft, 12493 Scio Church Rd. He has four younger sisters, Denise, Diane, Lori, and Juanita.

JEFF HUGHES, right, plays defensive and offensive end for Chelsea this year. A junior, this is his first year on the varsity. Jeff had, however, played football for Chelsea on other teams for the past three years. Jeff, who moved to Chelsea from Dexter in the ninth grade, indicates that Friday's game was quite an interesting one for him. He is originally from Saline. He enjoys sports, track and basketball being two favorites. He swims, and hunts, mostly birds. Jeff would like to join the Air Force following graduation. He lives at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hughes, 6651 Werkner Rd., with his older brother, Mike. He has one sister, Carol, who is married and lives in Ann Arbor.

Area Veterinarian Helps in Cholera Control Program

Dr. Carl H. Pfitzenmaier, a veterinarian associated with the Animal Health Division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, recently returned to his duties here after spending 30 days in the Dismal Swamp areas of Virginia and North Carolina, where an intensive hog cholera eradication program is in progress.

Dr. Pfitzenmaier was selected for this assignment by reason of his success in working with farmers and livestock producers in his home area. While in the Dismal Swamp area, he was one of about 125 veterinarians and livestock inspectors from all parts of the United States who are engaged in the eradication effort.

The stepped-up effort to eradicate hog cholera in southeastern Virginia and northeastern North Carolina began Sept. 8, after state and local federal animal health authorities requested additional U. S. Department of Agriculture assistance.

A nation-wide State-Federal campaign to eradicate hog cholera, a virus-caused disease that affects swine only, began in late 1962. Since then, 16 states have reached the ultimate goal of becoming "hog cholera free." Target date for total eradication in the United States is December 1972.

Dr. Pfitzenmaier resides with his family at 14415 Island Lake Rd., in Chelsea. He is presently stationed with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Animal Health Division, out of Detroit, where he checks animals coming into this country from Canada for possible illness.

Brownie Troop 169 is a brand new troop this year. Leaders are Mrs. Diane Loring, and Mrs. Jerry Satterthwaite.

DENNIS COOPER, left, brother of the famed and Chelsea's favorite, Don Cooper, will present the Kiwanis' second show in their Travelogue Series Saturday, Nov. 28 at Chelsea High School Auditorium. Dennis is taking over part of Don Cooper's tour, while his brother recuperates. Don Cooper, originally scheduled speaker for the Chelsea Kiwanis Travel Series, will not be able to present this year's show because of a fall that severely injured his left leg. This would have been Cooper's 10th appearance in Chelsea. Over the years he has become one of the Chelsea group's favorite speakers. Cooper intends to be back on the circuit by next year, and looks forward to seeing his Chelsea fans at that time.

"INSIDE PASSAGE," will be one of many scenes Chelsea fans will view at the Kiwanis Travel Series second show. The program, entitled "Inside Passage and the Aleutian Islands," will feature scenes from Alaska's main industries, fishing, and crabbing, and some of her most interesting cities.

Dennis Cooper Will Present Travelogue on 'Inside Passage'

Don Cooper, originally scheduled speaker for the second Kiwanis Club Travel Series, will not be appearing with this year's series, due to an unfortunate accident, it has been announced by Chelsea Kiwanian, Jim Daniels. Cooper's brother, Dennis, will give a presentation, instead, at the Saturday evening, Nov. 28, scheduled show.

Don Cooper, who was injured Oct. 2, in Spokane, in a fall off the side of a cliff, which smashed his left leg, will not be able to continue working until January. In his stead, Dennis Cooper, brother of the famous adventurer, and an interesting travelogue commentator in his own right, will give a presentation on the "Inside Passage," and the Aleutian Islands. Featured in this travelogue will be slides of the fjords of the British Columbia Coast, pictures of a salmon fishing fleet, and logging Alaska's forests, the break-up of the Knik glacier, and King Crag fishing. Ketchikan, Wrangell, Petersburg, Haines, Seward, Homer, Anchorage, and Seldovia will be some of the Alaskan cities featured on the show. Information on the unfortunate

Overheated Furnace Discovered in Time To Prevent Blaze

Potential fire, and the gutting of the entire residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Huelsberg, 20936 Sager Rd., in the early afternoon of Wednesday, Nov. 18, had Chelsea firemen concerned, and sent four vehicles to the home. The problem started when an oil furnace overheated, overheating the pipes within the house, raising the house very close to the combustion point. According to Fire Chief James Gaken, the house could have exploded into flames at any time.

Once the problem was righted, Chelsea firemen checked the house for evidence of burning, and finding none, went home to rest easy. Mrs. Huelsberg was the only one at home at the time of the incident. It was she who notified the fire department.

A fire in a car at Jim's Pure Oil station brought out one truck of firemen at 1:43 Monday afternoon, Nov. 23. The car, a 1964 Chevrolet, belonged to Glen Erskin, but was operated by Don Erskin at the time of the blaze. Firemen had to use 150 gallons of water, and 25 feet of high pressure hose to contain the blaze.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

by GARY A. KLEINHENN

★ Agricultural Miracle

When America moved from a subsistence agriculture to an agriculture that would provide more than a family's immediate needs for survival then there is Thanksgiving. When we sit at our tables each day to feast, and it really is a feast compared to most parts of the world, somehow one day of "Thanksgiving" is a meager offering in recognition of our abundance.

It is the abundance itself that often makes this day a little unreal, because it is difficult for those to give thanks for something most folks have never been without. Agriculture in America, perhaps, has been too successful.

But thanks to our American ingenuity, we do have this abundance, because other countries strength and are sharing our knowledge to provide for the hungry people of the world. Controlling the insects and diseases has been the key.

Insecticides are being used throughout the world to boost the food supply. H. Dwight Swartzendruber, Church World Service Director for East Asia, explained about the miracle that keeps Americans full and healthy, "Pesticides are absolutely essential to any kind of agriculture. In Central Luzon and Mindanao, we have introduced new seed and new techniques, and we're making good progress. But, it does no good to bring in the new seed, unless one of the new techniques is the judicious use of pesticides to protect the growing crops."

His report is published in "Service News" by CROP, an organization to help stop world hunger. CROP says, "Insects pose a continuing threat to agriculture all over the world. However, the problem becomes even more acute in the warmer climates close to the equator. There pesticides are needed, not only to increase initial crop production, but also to save the mature field commodities from the marauding insects which thrive in the warm moist weather."

Therefore, where one farmer in America can produce enough for himself and 44 others, then truly this is "Thanksgiving," every day of the year. And it is a salute to American agriculture, that the job continues to get done, and with true thanksgiving, continues to share its knowledge with others.

What does the "aged" label on meat cuts signify? Fresh meat usually reaches the retail display within 6 to 10 days after beef is slaughtered. Some high quality beef is "aged" by holding it at temperatures of 34 to 38 degrees (ultraviolet light reduces bacterial growth if meat is held at 70 degrees). The aging process develops additional tenderness and characteristic flavor.

DEN 2, PACK 455—

Cub Scouts of Den 2, Pack 455, changing their meeting date this week to Monday, Nov. 23, because of the Thanksgiving holiday, met at the home of their den mother, Mrs. Summer Osterle.

Doug Nutt carried the American flag and David Wadyke carried the den flag for the opening and closing flag ceremonies.

The boys finished making their Thanksgiving paper turkeys and played three games—the kangaroo walk and gorilla walk, both won by Patrick Murphy, and the crab walk, won by David Wadyke.

Patrick Murphy brought the refreshments.

One-fourth of the average teenager's calorie intake comes from snacks. Most adolescents consume one to three snacks a day. In most instances, quality of the snacks could be improved—with more attention to meat, fruits and vegetables.

Two Minor Auto Accidents Are Reported

Two minor accidents involving local people occurred this past week according to the Washtenaw Deputy Robert Aeillo.

First accident occurred Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 17, at 1:40 p.m. on Cavanaugh Lake Rd., 100 feet west of Pierce Rd. Maxine Ann Dault of 221 Cavanaugh Lake Rd., was west-bound on Cavanaugh Lake Rd. at a speed of 50 mph, when she hit a vehicle which was backing out of a private drive. The other car failed to yield right of way to her.

Driver of the car was Louis Carl Stempowski, 23107 Part St., St. Clair Shores. There were no injuries to either party, although the Dault car had damage to the front end.

A second accident occurred Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 18, on Ellsworth Rd. at State Rd. near Ann Arbor. A car driven by Phyllis M. Snyder, of 17946 Old US-12, was southbound on State Rd., when another vehicle came through the intersection, and struck her in the side of the car. Driver of the other car was Paul N. Racicot, 2969 Easy St., Ann Arbor.

The driver of the first car sustained minor injuries, but refused treatment. Her car was extensively damaged on the left side.

Junior High Notes

Eighth grade junior high school science classes went to the Chelsea Medical Clinic last week during their science periods. Some of the boys had electrocardiograms taken, while the girls were given a chance to breathe pure oxygen.

Bacteria cultures were shown to the students, and they were allowed to listen to their own hearts.

Jim Zimmerman, representative of the Taylor Publishing Co., who is printing the Junior High school yearbook, met with the yearbook staff. Plans for the book were discussed at that time. The staff has decided on the colors blue and yellow for the yearbook cover.

Vern Otto came to take pictures of clubs for the yearbook, Wednesday, Nov. 18. He will also roam about the school, taking candid shots for use in the yearbook.

A book fair and art show is currently in progress at the Junior high school library. This is on Tuesday evening, and Thursday evening, Nov. 17 and 19. The library will be open from 6-9 p.m. on those evenings. This show is in conjunction with National Book Week, which is this week.

Plastic Model club, a club sponsored by James Hoffmeyer and David Knisley, is making plans for their first contest. The group makes plastic models of any kind, cars, airplanes, and trucks being most popular. Entrance fee for each contest is 25 cents, which goes toward the purchase of the prizes. Contest dates have not yet been announced, but work is already begun on the models.

Archery Club has started shooting. Their first shoot was held last week. Officers have been elected.

Wednesday, Nov. 18 Vern Otto came to the Junior High school to take club pictures, and candid shots. This was an all-day project, and some of the candid shots were what one could call "posed candid shots."

Otto took pictures of the lunchroom, a hall rush, classroom candid shots, and some shots best termed "posed candid shots."

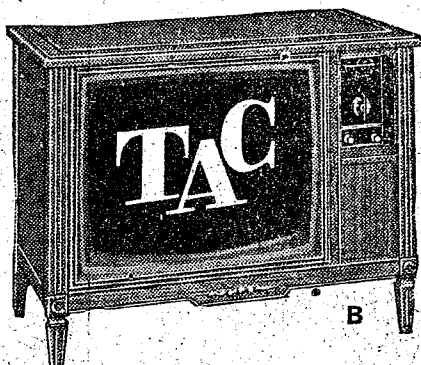

Friday afternoon, Nov. 20, a Spirit Dance was held at the school. Students attending the dance were asked to wear blue and gold.

A bake sale sponsored by the French Club was held Friday before and after school. The money from this sale goes toward a club dinner at a French restaurant.

CHS Student Commended in National Test

Jill M. Kipfmiller, daughter of Mrs. Joan Kipfmiller, 11960 Jackson Rd., has received a letter of Commendation honoring her for her high performance on the 1970 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, Chelsea High School Principal Charles H. Lane has announced.

Jill, who is also a member of the National Honor Society, ranks first in her class of 190 students. She will be graduating in June.

Jill is among 35,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper two percent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1971. The commended students rank just below the 14,750 semi-finalists who were announced in September by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Edward C. Smith, president of NMSC, said: "Although commended students advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their standing in this nationwide program deserves public recognition. Their high performance on the NMSQT gives promise of continued success in college."

"The commended students should be encouraged to pursue their education since their intellectual talent represents an important and much needed natural resource. Both these students and our nation will benefit from their continuing educational development."

Commended students' names are reported to certain scholarship agencies and to the colleges they named as their first and second choices when they took the NMSQT in February 1970. The reports include home addresses, test scores, and anticipated college major and career intentions of the commended students. NMSC encourages these students to make every effort to continue their education.

New Phone Directories Distributed

The Ann Arbor area telephone directory with an easy-to-find section of governmental numbers has proved to be such a convenience to local users that Michigan Bell Telephone Co. will continue this arrangement in the 1970 directory.

Nicholas J. Prakken, local manager for Michigan Bell, said some 130,000 copies of the new directory have been ordered for distribution here and in nearby communities beginning Thursday, Nov. 19.

It will take at least three days to complete the distribution in Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan, Whitmore Lake, Willis and Ypsilanti.

Prakken reminds local customers that the key to easier use is "G for Government." The listings for local government units appear together under the heading of "Governmental offices," beginning with the city of Ann Arbor, followed by offices in this area for Washtenaw county, State of Michigan and United States government.

The consolidated governmental listings also include the administrative offices for other nearby communities. Each governmental unit, however, also appears in its usual alphabetical location in the directory.

An added feature in the governmental listings is a box of frequently called numbers listed at the beginning of each governmental section.

TEACHER TOPICS

By DiAnn L'Roy
(Music Teacher)

In an attempt to better acquaint the community with various departments in the school system, Teacher Topics will be devoted this week to the vocal music area at the Junior High and secondary level.

All sixth graders, with the exception of band students, have one full semester of vocal music. Band students combine vocal and instrumental music with art on a rotating basis. The sixth grade program consists of singing, rhythm, listening, and creative activities designed to involve all students. There is a correlation between the music and geography programs in that the 6th grade studies and sings the music of other cultures as well as that of the United States.

In the 7th and 8th grades, students may elect either general music or choir. General music is a beginning music appreciation course that does not have performance as its goal. Thus, the child with less interest in singing has the opportunity to enjoy and learn music in a different form. Choir members audition to gain membership in the group. The choir presents two concerts and represents Chelsea at district music festivals. The Junior High school music festival is held in the spring usually at a Detroit suburban school. The choir's first concert will be presented with the Beach school bands sometime in December; the second, in the spring. There are approximately 75 members in the choir.

At the present time there are only performance classes at the high school level. We are hopeful of adding to the curriculum in the near future a music theory literature course to fill this void.

There are three performing groups at the high school: Girls Glee Club, Concert Choir, and Madrigal Singers. Both Girls Glee Club and Concert Choir are regularly scheduled classes in which students receive credit. The number of students involved in choir has grown from 43 in 1966 to 153 this year.

The Girls Glee Club, in its second year of existence, is made up of 51 girls representing all grades in the high school. Their repertoire draws on such contemporary composers as Lennon-McCartney, and Simon and Garfunkel as the girls sing mostly current music. The Girls Glee Club, all dressed alike, has developed into a spirited organization, which the community will get a chance to hear and see at the winter concert on Dec. 14.

The Concert Choir, consisting of 102 men and women, will be presenting the difficult "Peaceable Kingdom" at the winter concert. This choir performs several times during the year at both school and community events. The focus of this group is on performing challenging and ambitious compositions as well as entertainment. The Madrigal Singers are selected from the Concert Choir by strenuous auditions. These 17 students rehearse outside of school at least two hours each week for no credit. They perform throughout the year at various community services such as the Medical Clinic as well as school events. This group will also present a segment at the choir concert Dec. 14.

In case you have not noticed, there will be a high school choir concert on Dec. 14 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium, which will close with both choirs singing the "Hallelujah Chorus," accompanied by a brass ensemble. We sincerely hope that no one good is playing football and you will attend to see these fine students represent their school.

Older Adult Group
Thanksgiving Dinner
Meet Held Saturday

Older Adult Group of the Methodist church held its annual Thanksgiving dinner meeting in the church social center Saturday afternoon, Nov. 21. There were 38 present. Mrs. Herbert Paul offered the table prayer.

The program period opened with a devotional service presented by Mrs. Lyman Adams. She read poems by Helen Steiner, including "One Nation Under God."

Thanksgiving reading pertaining to the Pilgrims was read by Mrs. Paul and then Mrs. George Stanford sang a solo, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Jennie Lamb.

Mrs. Stanford also led group singing.

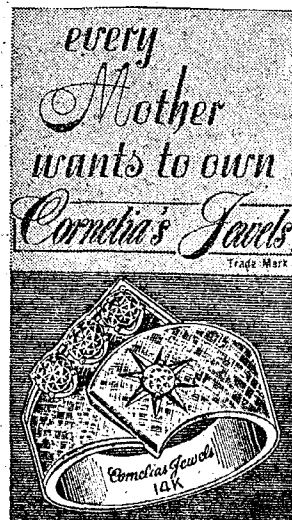

Plans were announced for a Christmas pot-luck dinner Dec. 19. Members will bring 50-cent Christmas gifts for a grab bag. Mrs. Stanford is to be chairman of the December meeting.

In charge of preparing the Thanksgiving dinner were Mrs. Lyman Adams, Mrs. Marilyn Salvers and Mrs. Paul.

FOOD PACKAGING

Foods are packaged in fractional weights instead of even weights to take advantage of the economics of mass production. The canning industry has limited the number of can sizes in which food is packed, with 35 percent of all canned food packed in nine different can sizes. However, foods of different density are packed in the same can size, which results in fractional net weights.

The effort to secure selfish advantages explains much of what is termed "politics."

Some handy information about new phone rates within Michigan.

They're simpler.

With the chart below, for instance, you can figure out what it will cost to call any number in the state. Any number outside of your local calling area.

Four things determine what you pay:

How far you call within Michigan.

How long you talk.

Whether an operator calls the number or you dial it yourself.

The time and day.

And the rates are more fair.

Look at the chart again. Notice that you're now charged for "each" minute you use the phone. (Before, you'd pay for no less than 3 minutes. Whether you used them all or not.)

Also notice that you're given discounts for dialing direct rather than using an operator.

Both of these changes were made for one reason. People should only be asked to pay for what they use.

Fair? Fair.

Handy cut-out for future reference.

June LeVan, Stanley Stork Wed Friday at Waterloo Village Church

Miss June LeVan, and Stanley Stork were united in marriage Friday evening, Nov. 20 at a candlelight service at the United Methodist Church of Waterloo. The Rev. Mrs. Altha Barnes officiated at the ceremony, which approximately 70 guests attended.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. LeVan of Waterloo. The bridegroom is the son of William S. Stork, and the late Mrs. Stork, of Bradenton, Fla.

Mrs. Woodrow Artz presented two vocal solos during the ceremony, "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her wedding, the bride selected a gown fashioned of silk organza, and chantilly lace. Her skirt featured a chapel train. Her full elbow-length veil of nylon illusion was attached to a petal head piece, which featured pearl and crystal on lace. She carried a cattleya orchid on a white Bible.

Mrs. Cas Case, sister of the bride, from Waterloo, was matron of honor. She wore a floor-length powder blue crepe dress with matching lace coat, and carried a bouquet of autumn color daisy mums with candle center.

Miss Kimberly and Miss Stephanie Harvey, nieces of the bride, of Chelsea, were flower girls. They were dressed in floor-length gowns of forest green velvet, carrying baskets of autumn colored daisy mums.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. LeVan chose a wool knit dress trimmed with gold lace. Her accessories were gold and brown, and she wore a corsage of white carnations and yellow roses.

Joseph Gibbs of Dearborn was best man, while Duane LeVan, brother of the bride, and Robert Stork, son of the bridegroom, ushered.

Candles were lit by Paul Case, nephew of the bride, and Jeffery Baker.

A reception immediately following the ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. LeVan. Mrs. Jeanette LeVan cut the wedding cake, Mrs. Robert Stork poured, and Miss Linda LeVan attended the guest book. Others assisting at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Alan LeVan, Mrs. Charles Adkins, Mrs. Richard Harvey and Miss Carol LeVan.

The bride and bridegroom are both employed by the Ford Motor Co., staff accounting, Rawsonville plant. They honeymooned in Florida.

Help to Appalachia Chosen as Project By Phoebe Circle

Phoebe Circle of the Chelsea United Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. James Hoffmeyer on Wednesday, Nov. 18. Mrs. George Stanford and Mrs. Mary Clark were co-hostesses for the dessert-luncheon at 10 a.m. Mrs. Clive Dickins was a guest, and 18 members of the Circle were present.

Mrs. Ben Donaldson, chairman, presided at the business meeting. Plans were made to bring Christmas candy to the December meeting to be put into Circle Companions' gifts.

Mrs. Robert Harris reported on the "Heart and Hand House," of the Appalachian Area located in Phillippi, W. Va. The principal motivating force behind this project is the National Board of Missions of the United Methodist Church. The Circle decided to send the necessary gifts of money, clothing, and useful articles to the center, as their project for this coming year, to help in meeting the needs of the people in that area.

Mrs. Tom Smith gave the devotions, using verses from the 92nd Psalm. She closed with a prayer in the form of a litany.

Mrs. Smith told of the "Status of Women" of the Methodist Church during the past six decades. She told of the interesting early day projects, which started June 8, 1880. The first president was Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes.

Mrs. Smith told of the growth of the women's organization until 1940, and after the merging of the churches until present time.

Next meeting of the circle will be Dec. 13 at 10 a.m. Hostesses will be Mrs. Lyman Adams and Mrs. Jeff Salyer. Mrs. Salyer will be in charge of the devotions and program.

What is a HAIRY HONKER?? Uhh hah! Poiled you there!! That said others like the SCHLOCK, HIFSAKE, LOPYLIT and SMEE GLINS invaded our classroom when we wrote descriptions of imaginary animals. We traded our stories with the other class and tried to draw the animals from the descriptions. It was a lot of fun.

Mr. Otto came back to school! But we bet you never would guess why. He took pictures of all the different clubs such as girls' and boys' sports clubs, industrial arts club, journalism and student council. But we still haven't told you why. It's for the yearbook. Mr. Otto also took pictures of all the students and teachers. Still we forgot something—the most important of all. He took pictures of all the 7th and 8th grade football teams and all the people who march in our parades—the band!

Tuesday and Thursday evenings and during the day all last week, we had a Book and Art Fair at Beach school. There were many interesting paperback books for sale. The big attraction was the art work done by Beach students. Most of it was for sale—and it was good. The money we earn from the book sale will be used to buy more books for our library. We are hoping to have another Book and Art Fair next semester so the second semester art students will be able to display their artwork and so we can buy more books. Mrs. Paulin, our librarian, Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Yelsik, the art teachers and all the English teachers helped in the evenings to make the fair a success.

We're already thinking about April Fool's Day! And not because we have some special jokes to play on our friends and family. On that day, we're all (200 of us) going to Ipsilanti to see "Indian Captive," a play based on a children's book by Lois Lenski. The reason we're getting ready so early is because we decided to each try and earn our own admission price. We have a "bank" in our room so we may deposit our pennies as we earn them.

Thanksgiving is a time to think about what you are thankful for. Different students have different ideas. Here are a few: I am thankful for where I live, Chelsea, Mich. I am thankful for Sat. and Sun. (translation: Saturdays and Sundays). I am thankful for my family and our good health. I am thankful that we are alive because that is the important thing in our lives. I am thankful for my teachers and our good schools. I am thankful that the HAIRY HONKER hasn't gotten me yet! I am thankful for what's left of peace that was whole when the Pilgrims came.

Backless wooden clogs are good for feet, in the opinion of some medical experts.
