

Park Plan Hurt By SEMCOG Withdrawing Its Support

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA) appealed to the executive board of SEMCOG this week, hoping to mitigate some of the damage done Feb. 20, to their Mill Creek Park plans: The 4,000 acre metropark, to be located in Lima and Freedom townships, came under fire in Lansing at a public hearing arranged by area legislators, Hal Ziegler and Gil Bursley.

After the hearing, HCMA wrote a letter to each member of the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments' policy-making body urging them to restrain James L. Trainor, SEMCOG's executive director, from withdrawing the council's approval of immediate funding for the park.

Of all the criticism aired at the hearing, this action was the most costly to HCMA because SEMCOG's opinion is a necessary part of the HCMA's funding application.

The federal government designated SEMCOG the official regional planning agency that must comment on the funding request. HCMA needs SEMCOG's comment, whether it is positive or negative, before its application is complete. By rescinding its August 1972 recommendation for immediate funding, SEMCOG has left a large whole in HCMA's machinery.

The executive board reportedly responded to HCMA's request by backing Trainor's action. The reversal of policy, according to Trainor's statement at the hearing, was based on information collected since the summer resolution.

Trainor indicated, for example, that the park would be accessible to only 10 percent of the people in the five county area it is supposed to serve. This fact, said Trainor, is in direct contradiction to the reports published by HCMA that stated 83 percent of the population would be able to use the park.

Trainor also said that protection of the water quality in the Mill Creek area is still in question. SEMCOG plans to wait until such questions as this are resolved before making its decision. After a thorough study of the plan and the area, SEMCOG will issue a new comment on the HCMA's proposal.

Allen Dines, administrative assistant for recreation and planning Lima township, is gratified by these recent developments. He suggests that this reprieve from the impending threat of the park will allow energies, which have recently been directed to nothing but opposition to the park, to go to more constructive uses.

Hockey Teams On Local Rink For First Time

Chelsea hockey teams finally saw some action on their own ice this week after months of squeezing in time on alien arenas. It was the Ann Arbor Federal Midgets, having played all their previous games in Ann Arbor, who christened the rink by hosting Milan Rockets. The contest ended in a 3-3 tie.

On Sunday, the Milan Pee Wees played their old rivals, Mayer Maroons, and were trounced, 8-1. This game, played at Fuller Rink, saw Ross Stofflett and Gary Kelemen share scoring honors with four goals each.

Maroon fortunes turned off color the following evening when the team lost, 9-1, to Klingler Pontiac at the Fuller Rink. The Mayer team held Klingler to one goal in the first period but gave up five in the second. Steve Dresch came back with an unassisted goal early in the third period to spark the Maroons to a sustained attack, but they were unable to zero in on the net. In spite of the score, spectators rated this a good game, and commended J. Powell for his efforts as goalie.

The Lloyd Bridges Chevrolet team had an outing in Jackson on Sunday night which matched the juvenile team with contemporaries from the city. Chelsea's youngsters nearly took home the win, only to be robbed of the victory in the third period when the Jackson team found its second wind. The final score was 6-4.

The Chelsea Medical Clinic Squirrels came under fire for the first time Monday when their more experienced opponents, Noon Optimists, out-played and out-scored them in Ann Arbor. Nevertheless, the small fry can be proud of their performance. They stayed right with the play and did not give up, showing adherence to an old hockey maxim. The score was lopsided but goal tending by young Beaudoin showed promise.

The Chelsea Lumber Co. faced a strong Ann Arbor Bank Bantam team last week and lost, 5-0. Despite some breakaway efforts, the Chelsea men were unable to score. Coach Chris Bennett deserves recognition for kicking out some 39 shots, including some hard slapshots.

Finally, the 3-D Sales & Service skaters played back-to-back games with the Ann Arbor Elks team. The first, at Chelsea, ended in a 4-3 loss for Chelsea with Dave Ruttinger getting the hat trick to act.

Their music is the result of the new string program instituted by the Board of Education that sent them to work learning fundamentals last November. Dexter Township Readies Revised Zoning Ordinance

Dexter township's zoning future will be considered by the Township Board during the coming two weeks.

The board, at a special meeting March 6, will review the township's zoning plan, which is the basis of future planning in the township. The basic intent of the zoning plan, says Township Supervisor John Tandy, is "preservation of as much open space as possible consistent with the needs of people."

The board will consider "developmental processes and residents' opinions on how the plan should be implemented."

The board will then hold a special meeting March 13 to consider adoption of the proposed zoning ordinance for the township. The proposed ordinance, which came under attack from some area residents at public hearings last November and December, has since been revised.

Township representatives, working with members of the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission, have made some changes in accordance with recommendations of the commission.

"However, if an applicant decides to decline the zoning board's recommendations, the wording of the ordinance has been changed to say that a site plan not exceeding the floor ratio of the original structure "shall be approved" by the zoning board. This wording will hopefully guarantee a property owner's right to rebuild, a question which area residents have been concerned about.

Tandy also points out that many criticisms of the proposed ordinance's typography and grammar made by the county planning commission in its January report were due to the fact that the township had given the commission a rough draft of the proposed ordinance.

Both meetings of the township board will begin at 8 p.m. at the township hall on Dexter-Pinckney Rd.

ON THEIR WAY TO THE REGIONALS are these five matmen who won two matches each in the Districts at Dexter last Saturday. Nine grapplers from Chelsea made it to the finals, which helped stack up Chelsea's 24 1/2 points into second place.

Wrestlers Qualify 5 Men For Regional Competition

Chelsea grapplers, once an inexperienced group, handled themselves with finesse, Saturday, at the district wrestling meet, at Dexter. The Bulldogs emerged second in a sea of 18 squads. Only Pinckney, who had taken first class honors in the Dexter Tournament earlier this season, outstripped Chelsea's strength and agility.

Contributing to Chelsea's impressive showing were the nine matmen who made it to the second round, the finals, Saturday evening. Of these, five will go on to regionals this week-end, having overpowered their second opponents, too.

Mark Montange at 112; John Beeman, 119; Tim Lancaster, 138; Darryl West, 145 and Steve Worden, Chelsea's heavyweight, will travel to Saline, Saturday to represent Chelsea in the regionals, only one step away from the state finals.

Chelsea matmen who came out on top in the first round but got stymied in the evening bouts were Dale Schoenberg, who won his first match by a pin, Dale Poertner, Mike Agopian, and Don Bollinger.

Team standings reveal that Chelsea men were more on their toes than their closest rivals from South Lyon or Dexter. Monroe Catholic Central High school with 24 points, was in third place, nearly equalling Chelsea's 24 1/2. South Lyon was next with 22, followed by Gross Ile with 19. Tecumseh with 16 filled the next place, just above Dexter and Brighton both with 15.

Monroe Jefferson had the roughest time of it. That team ended with a score of -1. They were unable to win any matches and they were penalized for the poor sportsmanship of one of their men, which explains the negative score.

Cagers Almost Upset Champs From Milan

As cager parents, who had been invited to the traditional Parents Night, approached Chelsea High school gym, some worried that the spectacle would be worthy of gladiators and Christians in the coliseum.

Yet, when first-place Milan sauntered into Chelsea's seventh-place arena, it was difficult to tell who had whom by the hair. Chelsea nearly pulled off the coup of the season. The Big Reds struggled hard for their 49-46 laurels.

The season's statistics were heavily weighted in Milan's favor, but the team, now standing 12-1, did not carry the clout that was expected. The Big Reds found Chelsea's defense, aroused by Jeff Sprague's persistence, practically impenetrable. At the end of the first quarter, Chelsea stood in the foreground, 12-8, with the help of six points from Jeff Schmidt.

Both teams erected formidable barriers around their loops in the second quarter, allowing only a skimpy 17-12 accumulation. The fixed battle left Milan one point ahead at 25 when the first half came to a close.

Chelsea Bulldogs successfully resisted the Big Reds' surge and re-

High School Bands Compete Saturday

Band members at the high school will be giving their Saturday over to competition this week-end, as they travel to area band festivals.

The Symphony Band will begin competing at Milan at 9:45 a.m. They will board three waiting buses at Chelsea High school at 7:45 and leave at 8:00 a.m. in order to reach their destination in time. The same buses will bring them back around noon.

Concert Band members will have a greater opportunity to sleep in since their performance at Riverdale is at 1:15 p.m.

The Symphony Band will compete in class B, while the Concert Band will be in Class C competition.

CEA, Board Hope To Ratify New Contract

Through the mist of low key deliberations, the ratification of the Chelsea teachers contract appears in sight. The Chelsea Teachers Association is scheduled to vote on the document, Monday night at 8.

The breakthrough began Wednesday, the board's negotiators from the Board of Education and the CEA met to discuss the 1973-74 school calendar, an item the teachers had charged was missing without cause from the final draft of the tentative agreement.

At the Wednesday afternoon meeting, the board's negotiators presented the calendar which the board had ratified the previous Monday evening. CEA negotiators said the calendar, which covers 180 school days, starting Sept. 5 and concluding June 5, 1974, was acceptable, as long as it was included in the contract.

Tuesday, the CEA's chief negotiator, Leonard Solomon, received strong assurances from the board's attorney, that the board would add the calendar to the contract at its regular meeting, March 6.

"Given these assurances," said DiAnn L'Roy, CEA president, "we plan to offer the final draft, complete with the calendar, to our membership Monday night."

When the negotiators met last week, another item of business concerned the wording of the letter of understanding, which is appended to the contract. It states that the number of class periods at Beach middle school will remain the same next year, and that an Ad Hoc committee will decide the number of periods for the high school. This committee, composed of teachers, administrators, and private citizens, is to submit its recommendation to the board for implementation by April 23.

Attorneys for the two parties clarified the language in the letter to preclude future misunderstandings.

Although the opportunity arose, the CEA negotiators did not broach the other bone of contention, the salary index, which the CEA had found lacking in the final draft. "After talking with our attorney, we are satisfied," said Miss L'Roy, "that the index is implicit in the structure of the contract."

There remained, at press time, one rough spot between the two sides. Last week the CEA had given the board notice that they had filed a new set of unfair labor practice charges against their employers. However, with a settlement imminent, it is doubtful that those charges will be pressed.

"Given the board's stated intentions, and given our desire for a settlement," said a spokesman, "it is likely those charges will be dropped."

Both sides hope the apparent peace on the horizon is not a mirage.

Lottery Winner Invests in Fund for Children's Future

Although James E. Spencer is new at winning, he handles himself like a pro. He has been elated and level-headed, generous and shrewd all within the week of pocketing $10,000 from the Michigan Lottery.

The resident of 3814 Musbach Rd. has deposited the sum in mutual funds in trust for his two children. The young family moved to the area from Ann Arbor last August.

His pleasure and surprise at being one of the lucky few to purchase a ticket with two winning numbers is evident. "It's goofy," he says, "I never expected to win."

Spencer's "gambling spirit," which he says we all have, was never strong enough to take him to the races or into card games, but it was healthy enough to get into the $1 weekly habit. He purchased the winning combination 941-569 at a store in Ann Arbor.

Spencer, an exact science instructor in chemistry, biology and health courses at Washtenaw Community College, says he has always been conscious of the ways and means of income tax. "I've always followed the legal ways of relieving the tax burden," he says, so he is more aware than some of the complexities attached to "free money."

Although lottery winnings are exempt from taxation on the local and state level, they are free game for the federal tax authorities. Spencer's investment in his children's names will not only secure their future but avoid the tax bite. Spencer explains that the capital gains on the investment will earn money while remaining untaxable until his children come of age at 18 or 20. "It's the same principle large corporations use for retirement annuity," he says.

"If this hadn't happened," says Spencer, "we probably would have followed the same road everyone does when it comes time for the kids to go to college,

10,000-DOLLAR SMILE: James E. Spencer of Musbach Rd., followed his "gambling spirit" to a jackpot that will send his two toddlers through college in the years to come. His Michigan State Lottery ticket, purchased at an Ann Arbor store during the week of Feb. 15, showed both series of winning numbers, making Spencer one of about 10 $10,000 winners that week.

He would have had to borrow or maybe the kids could have gotten scholarships. This gives us the opportunity to do something for them. They'll be able to do what they want."

The real winners, then, are Leigh Anne, 3 1/2, and Peter James, 2. "They just keep playing," says Spencer, "they don't know what's happened to them."

Spencer says he reaped some immediate reward last Thursday in Lansing at the presentation. He says it was gratifying meeting some of the winners who "were really nice people."

Some of the older, retired people really could use the money," he says, "and it was nice seeing them get the larger prizes."

His knowledge of the ins and outs of income tax influences that sentiment. He knows that the tax burden is far less on those winners who are subsisting on a pension. "The men working between 20 and 50 are probably already in a high tax bracket, but if you're retired, you're near zero to begin with," so the prize doesn't boost the winner into too high a bracket.

Spencer thinks the state could supply winners with more information about ways of dealing with the tax. "I know they don't mention income averaging, which is one legal way to save the tax until later years," he says.

QUOTE

"Don't let ambition get so far ahead that it loses sight of the job at hand."

—William Feather.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers at the country store studied it up one side and down the other Saturday night, and they was agreed that good news is like compliments. A little now and then perks a feller up, but a steady diet is as bad as all cake and no meat and potatoes.

Everybody was happy when our boys started coming home from Vietnam, said Zeke Grubb, and when they turned our prisoners loose and they come home to their folks our cups of good news runneth over. Zeke said he had been reading all this happy news till he had started to wonder wasn't nothing else going on in the world. Zeke said he allus had heard that the hardest things to do was to climb a fence leaning towards you, kiss a gal leaning away from you and live up to your compliments. He said he would add being satisfied reading good news to that list.

As glad as he was to see the prisoners out and all the boys coming home, Zeke allowed, he found himself breathing a little easier when he run across some of the usual news. He saw by the papers, for instance, where the Federal Aviation Administration has worked out a deal with big companies that make helicopters for the military. The police in this country need helicopters, and them coming back from Vietnam is in good shape as they could be sold as surplus to the police. But that would mean the companies wouldn't sell many new helicopters, so they fixed it where the FAA won't approve em for non-military use till the company inspects em, and the company is finding plenty wrong with all em. So the police is having to buy new ones at 10 times the cost.

Actual, broke in Ed Doolittle, these little deals has been reported all along, but the sudden run on good news pushed em way back in the papers and they had to really stink to catch the public nose. That's the reason for news, declared Ed, to get a feller thinking positive. In this day and time, said Ed, positive thinking means find out what the trouble is, then try to fix it.

Bug Hookum said he hadn't give it much thought, but he had saw where the papers had reported that a cold car seat on a winter morning can cause everything from kidney trouble to rhatism. Bug figured we must be hard up for bad news to run stuff like that. And good news must of been behind word that the North Carolina legislature is debating whether to name the honeybee the state insect. A cold car seat probably still beats walking in the cold, Bug said, and the bee is better than a lot of bugs a state could honor. Which goes to show, broke in Ed, that we has got in the habit of making all news good news.

Like that feller that broke a mirror over his wife's head. He told the judge if he was in for seven year of bad luck he at least got some benefit out of it.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

County Circuit Judges Have Busy Year

Most of us won't spend a year in any court. But Washtenaw county circuit judges do. In 1972 Judges William F. Ager, Jr., and Ross W. Campbell disposed of 2,688 cases—more than 1,300 cases per judge. The late Circuit Judge John Conlin's fatal illness restricted his court activities in 1972, but with the help of several District Judges, his court nonetheless disposed of more than 1,200 cases.

Circuit Courts in Washtenaw county handle four categories of cases: criminal, auto negligence, divorce, and general civil. An average case, whether jury or non-jury, requires several contacts with the assigned judge before it is completed. Even unmodern math demonstrates that, with the 261 court business days in the year, Judge Ager and Judge Campbell are completing 5 to 6 cases per day.

The two judges together disposed of 96 jury cases in 1972, approximately one jury trial a week for each judge. In addition to jury trials, the two judges disposed of 227 non-jury cases, approximately 2,222 motions, and approximately 1,230 pre-trial conferences during the year, plus bindovers, arraignments, pleas of guilty, sentences, sentencing conferences and administrative matters relating to the operation of the courts.

Newly-elected Circuit Judges Patrick J. Conlin and Edward D. Deake have now joined Judge Campbell and Judge Ager to assist in handling the mounting caseload of the circuit court. Another year in court has begun.

Innovations Continue

Long recognized as one of the country's most progressive, Michigan's Department of Corrections, now comes with another experimental plan designed to make it truly a "correction" department.

The program begins in March and will involve a test group of 300 inmates admitted to the corrections system during the month. It involves the signing of a "parole contract" by an incoming inmate.

Under the program, a man entering prison can set up a schedule of education and counseling designed to satisfy his needs to become a productive member of society at large. He then will sign a binding contract with the Corrections Department guaranteeing him parole on his earliest parole date, provided he accomplishes all the things listed in the contract.

Similar plans are already in effect in California, Arizona, Wisconsin and Minnesota. They are aimed at developing individual goals for each inmate.

Three things can be accomplished, says Corrections Director Perry Johnson.

"First it gives the man motivation for achievement and self-change, based on the most desired for reward - release from prison," he says.

"Second, it removes the anxiety and uncertainty concerning release which has often crippled rather than added to motivation. And third, it puts parole on a very systematic and objective basis, thus avoiding possible charges of arbitrariness against the Parole Board."

The contract program is completely voluntary on the part of the prisoner. Only those who want to participate need do so.

It will say specifically which goals the inmate will attain to secure the parole. A standard contract form will be used with individual objectives in the areas of behavior, education, vocational training and counseling.

A convict will be able to cancel the contract anytime he wants without prejudicing his record.

Johnson says the critical aspect of the new approach is the increased involvement of the inmate in diagnosis of what he needs in prison and what skills he wants to acquire.

"The crucial element of the parole contract," he said, "is that the reward-parole-is contingent upon an inmate's own behavior and achievements."

Growth Endangers Deer

An everpresent danger in development of the state's lightly populated areas is that a heavy influx of people can destroy the beauty and serenity which originally attracted people to the area.

Wildlife experts at the Department of Natural Resources say one of the latest manifestations of this problem involves its hopes to double the state's deer herd by 180 from 500,000 to one million. They are afraid the land sales boom in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula may threaten these plans.

"We're still hoping that we can achieve our goal, but we have no idea what the widespread construction of roads, plus summer or retirement home buyers' preference for mature woods and big trees will do to our plans," explains David Arnold, supervisor of the DNR's forest wildlife section.

To help alleviate the problem, the DNR has a deer range treatment program through which it helps assure food for deer.

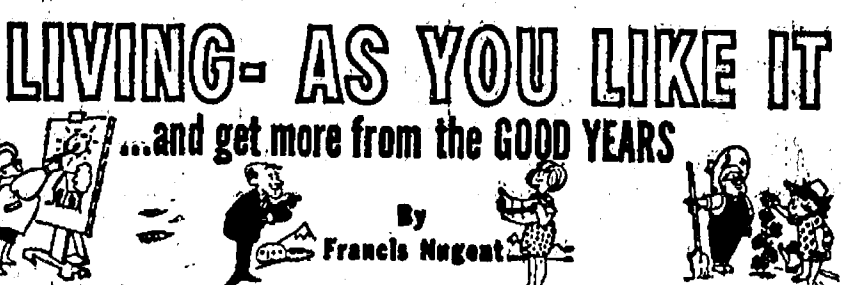

Where timber has been harvested the range area would be "processed."

Remaining brush and small trees would be cut and pulverized into the soil. Larger trees would be ground into chips and sold to paper mills.

This leaves the land an ideal planting bed for new forests with the planting of aspen trees, wild raspberries, strawberries, sweet fern, huckleberries and many herbs.

Aspen is one of the state's more profitable sources of pulpwood. And for the first 25 years of its existence aspen provides excellent food for deer. After 25 years it is harvested and the area is replanted.

"While we do know that our projected new forests will provide a great deal more browse for deer than mature forests, we cannot yet be certain that the improved range will supply enough good food to insure survival of one million deer," Arnold says, "especially if there are long hard winters with lots of snow."

Unfortunately, many people do not properly plan for the retirement years. Once retired, the starting point for surviving on a reduced income is reevaluation.

First, the present and anticipated income must be figured out. Then the "fixed" expenses must be totaled. Rent, utilities, and food are the big items. Obviously, the only way to reduce rent, if it too high, is to settle for less than you now have. You can make small savings by being conservative with the use of utilities. Food prices are high, but careful and wise shopping can help you save at the supermarket.

One of the most popular complaints of many retired couples is "cooking and shopping for just two people is difficult." A closer examination shows that many times the real problem is they have not learned to cook only a portion from a family-size meal.

As of Feb. 19, 1973, bacon packages must have a window opening that shows at least 70 percent of the length of a representative strip of the meat and 1 1/2 inches of the bacon stack.

gained the lead during the third period. Milan reaffirmed its supremacy, however, before the going, by scoring with four seconds left to play. The quarter ended with a Milan margin, 39-38.

In the final period, the tug-of-war continued until the three-minute mark, at which time Milan inched to a 41-40 edge. They guarded it jealously from then on.

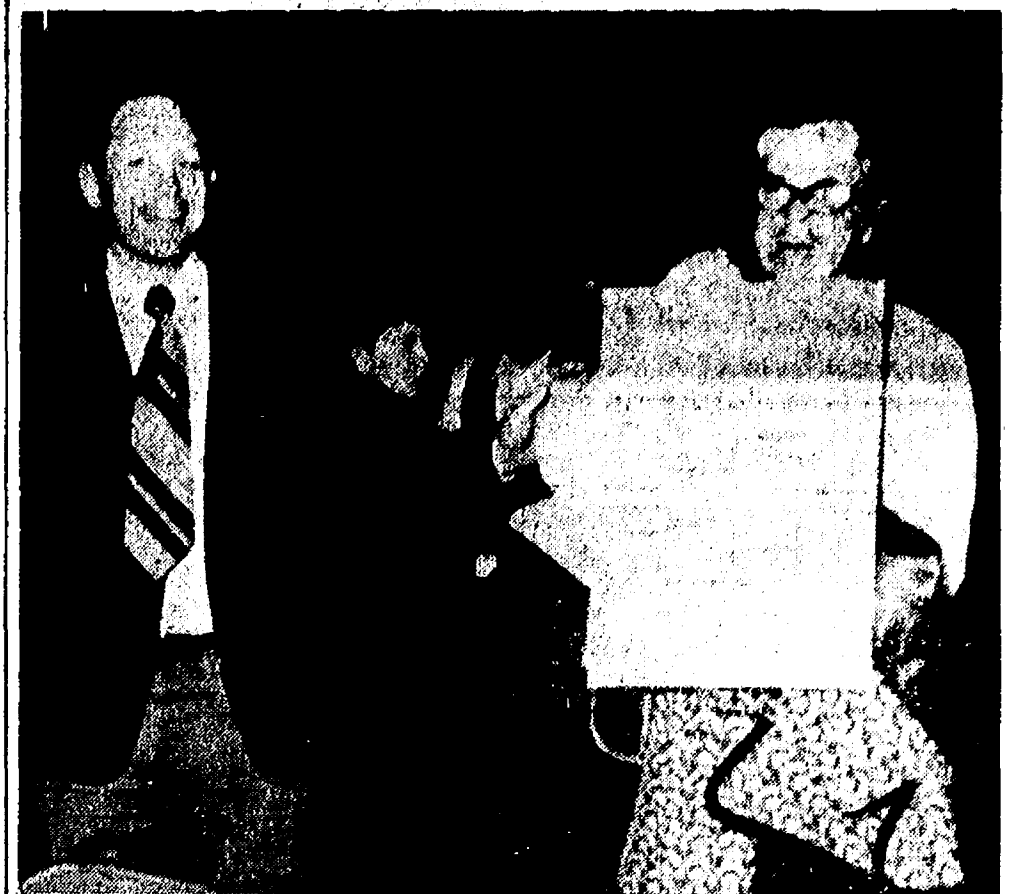

The Bulldogs had a shadow of a chance for a comeback when they were awarded a one and one. With 1:10 showing on the clock, the first free throw went astray. Milan slipped ahead, 49-46.

Jeff Schmidt's prowess was exhibited defensively and offensively during this exciting bout. He led both the scoring, with 22 points, and the rebounding, with 14. Tim Treado also added to the fine defensive action by intercepting seven rebounds.

John Mann was another Bulldog, who, though not making waves in the statistics, made his presence felt on the floor.

Chelsea was left one step out of the basement, just above Dundee at 1-11, and just below Dexter. Chelsea's season record is two wins, 11 losses. The non-league home game with Parma Western last night did not affect the standings, but the final game of the season, Friday night, against Dexter, will. The confrontation will be off Dexter's court at 8 p.m.

If you have metal hangers, and your clothes keep slipping off, here's what to do: Take a ball of yarn and wrap it around the hanger several times. Make sure the yarn is secure.

A JUBILANT COACH AND A PROUD MOTHER: Richard Bareis and Mrs. Wilber Worden were more than impartial observers of Steve Worden's heavyweight match in the finals of the district competition in Dexter last Saturday evening. Here they rejoice over Steve Worden's pin victory which concluded Chelsea's participation with class. For Bareis, it meant his boys placed second in the district tourney and five would go on to Regionals. To Mrs. Worden, it meant her son would be among those five at Saline, this Saturday.

Hockey Teams Finally Get on Home Ice

count for the 3-D goals. In the return game, in Ann Arbor, the 3-D Pee-Wees rallied from a 1-0 deficit in the first period to a goal by Dave Ruttinger in the second. 3-D capitalized, in the final three minutes of the last stanza, with another goal, again by Dave. This fine all-around team effort was distinguished by sharp defensive play and quick goal tending by David Baldwin.

The Chelsea rink, which was occasionally usable this week, is now in questionable condition with a pocket of snow in one corner. Thus, the Chelsea District Hockey Association is still looking for help as they are forced to buy ice time at indoor rinks.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Blossom Umstead, formerly of Chelsea, has been moved to Marlin Manor in Jackson. Those who wish to shower her with cards for her birthday, March 15, may send them to 434 W. North St., Jackson.

In accordance with the provisions of Public Act No. 43, Second Extra Session, 1963 Legislature, notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held on the 1972-73 budget for the Chelsea School District on Monday, March 5, 1973, in the Chelsea High School Library at 7:30 p.m.

A copy of this 1972-73 budget is available for public inspection at the office of the superintendent of schools at the Chelsea High School.

Younger Set Helping in 'Oliver' Cast

The success of this year's musical, "Oliver!" is dependent, says Judi Blaess, on a number of "mighty outgoing kids." In addition to the "adults (alias high school students)" the script calls for 10 youngsters to portray the orphans in Widow Corney's workhouse and the rascals in Fagin's gang of thieves.

Representing the elementary schools and the junior high are Jim Alexander, Frankie Cianciola, Tim Stubbs, John Daniels, Mike Hardy and Steve Pennington. High school students who revert to being kids again are Jim Powers, Doug Beaumont, and Skip Foytik.

An unusual member of this band of "younguns" is Jeannette Morrison. Since she is the only girl playing a boy's part, the cast has dubbed her "Jet," a more boyish name than Jeanette.

Every Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evening, these young thespians become Sammy Wilson, or Georgie Smith, or whatever character they may be. In the song, "Food, Glorious Food!" they hungrily beg for morsels to eat, and in the song "Be Back Soon," they promise Fagin their loyalty.

Their young talent adds extra freshness to the play, according to Judi, publicity chairman for the production.

Judi says there are three easy ways to obtain tickets to any of the performances given Wednesday, March 21, Friday, March 23, and Saturday, March 24. They are available at the high school to those who come in person, or they may be ordered over the phone. One may also send a self-addressed stamped envelope to "Tickets," Chelsea High School, Chelsea 48118. Enclose $2 per ticket and indicate which night you wish to attend. An engaging bunch of scallywags await you.

NEW PRODUCTS

East Lansing—Pre-cooked bacon that you warm in a toaster like a frozen waffle, and beef sold under brand name labels are two new products likely to appear in super market departments in the near future, according to Michigan State University extension marketing specialists.

A hearing loss can strike a person of any age, warn hearing experts. They add that young people who believe they need not worry about their hearing ability until reaching senior citizen status may be headed for trouble.

Police Arrest Woman on Check Charge

Debra Sue Green, who had been sought by Chelsea police since December for allegedly passing bad checks, was apprehended by Chelsea Police Officer Roger Graves, Saturday.

Graves, responding to an anonymous tipster, found the suspect's car in the parking lot of Chelsea Lanes. He conducted a search of the bowling alley in an attempt to find Mrs. Green, but was unsuccessful. He then waited, not far from the parked car, until she returned to it. At that point, Officer Graves moved to arrest her on a warrant for the felony of writing a series of checks on a closed Ann Arbor account.

Mrs. Green was taken to police headquarters where she was informed of her rights, and shown the warrant. She was then transported to Ann Arbor where Judge S. J. Eldon set bond at $1,000. She was confined in Washtenaw County Jail until she posted the bond. Her examination in 14th District court will be March 7.

Police have nine of her bad checks on record and expect three more to come in from another local business.

Each January thousands of American mothers ask their neighbors for contributions to the March of Dimes through the annual Mothers' March on birth defects.

Cong. Chamberlain Will Not Run for Re-election in '74

Congressman Charles E. Chamberlain (Rep-Mich) has announced in Washington that this would be his last term as Michigan's 6th District Representative in the United States Congress.

"Now that the Inaugural is over and the Congress is getting down to work, I would like to make it known that I shall not be a candidate for re-election in 1974," Chamberlain stated.

"My intention in making this announcement at this early date is to provide the citizens of our District with ample time to consider their choice as my successor."

"At the end of this term I will have devoted 18 of my prime and vigorous years to service in the House of Representatives. I feel I have done my part and I would like to return to private life which will provide more time for my family and personal interests."

"This is not a sudden decision on my part. I had contemplated this action two years ago but was persuaded by friends and supporters in the 6th District and by the Republican Congressional leadership to be a candidate one last time."

"I am determined that my last term will be the most productive and rewarding of my Congressional career, and I look forward to the next two years with much enthusiasm. With fewer purely political obligations, I hope to be able to concentrate more fully on the major problems pending before the House. As a member of the Ways and Means Committee, I intend to devote my energies to tax and pension reforms, international trade problems and national health insurance . . . problems of jective attention of the Congress."

savings VERSUS THE stock market

How does the undramatic savings deposit really compare to the widely discussed more glamorous stock market?

What about the usual advice to discipline yourself first by building a savings account, and then, after that duty is completed, you can venture into more profitable, worthwhile investments?

A look at long-term trends in the stock market should cause this bit of locker-room lore to be discarded.

Over most of the past half decade, the unheralded savings account actually outperformed the stock market. The asset value of the savings remained at $10,000 while the asset value of stocks fluctuated widely. The savings account paid a better return on capital than the companies on the Dow Jones Averages.

The chart here shows the asset value of $10,000 placed in the market at each of the Dow Jones averages and in a savings account at the beginning of January 1966. In early 1966, the stock market investments looked good. Industrials climbed to a peak of 995.15 on February 9. Then the market faltered and the redemption value represented by the blue chip stocks in the Dow averages fell to around $8,000, or a 20% capital loss by fall.

The market recovered from time to time, but on only three occasions did the value of the stock equal or exceed the initial $10,000 investment. There were many long, dry periods when the value of the original stock investment was far under the $10,000 savings account.

Long term plans for retirement or college education would have suffered greatly if the funds were needed during these dry periods.

Unless you are an investment specialist, know just when to buy and sell, or are just plain lucky your best investment is a savings account at Ann Arbor Federal Savings. It pays a sure, safe return and each account is insured to $20,000 with the FSLIC.

A folder that goes into this in greater detail is available at any AAFFS office.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
I just wanted to share these beautiful words with you on the "Ministry of Kindness." In fact cut this article out and pin it on your special bulletin board. It will change your whole life and you won't be the same again.
Florence Phinney.

MINISTRY OF KINDNESS

Of all the ministries open to souls consecrated to God, the most effective, the most far-reaching, the most consoling is kindness. Kindness is one of God's best gifts to the world. It drives gloom and darkness from souls. It puts hope into fainting hearts. It sweetens sorrow. It lessens pain. It discovers unsuspected beauties of human character. It calls forth a response from all that is best in souls. It purifies, glorifies, ennobles all that it touches. It opens the flood-gates of children's laughter. It gathers the tears of repentant love. It lightens the burden of weariness. It stops the torrent of angry passion. It takes the sting from failure. It kindles courageous ambition. It lifts the unfortunate. It leads back the wayward. It walks in the steps of our Savior. Let us become apostles of kindness to partake of its sweetness. To aspire to its holiness. The ministry of kindness is exalted; it is sublime; it is Christ-like.

Now Finalists In Scholarship Competition

Carol Fairbrother and Steve Worden, seniors at Chelsea High school, have been notified that their names were moved from semi-finalist to the finalist standings in the National Merit Scholarship competition.

The change of status is a result of their achievement on the Scholastic Aptitude Test and National Merit Scholarship Examination taken last fall. The semi-finalist position was awarded on the merit of their performance on similar tests taken in their junior year.

Both Steve and Carol explained last fall, when they were notified of their placement on the semi-finalist list, that most semi-finalists became finalists. There are some, however, who do not get into the final stretch of the scholarship competition.

Arrival in the finalist category in this prestigious and competitive program affords the student an honor but no money. Of the 14,500 National Merit Finalists, only 3,000, the Merit Scholars, will receive scholarships.

Names of National Merit Scholars will be announced in late March or in April.

Carol, a varsity debater, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Fairbrother. Steve, an athlete and active in Boy Scout and youth center activities, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Worden.

Police Cool Off Rowdy at Rock Concert

Chelsea policemen Roger Graves and Gerald Shaw were summoned to Chelsea High school, Saturday night, during a rock concert, to subdue an allegedly rowdy individual. Auxiliary Policeman Roy Guenther reported that Wayne Alan Oliver was making a disturbance at the entrance to the building where a rock concert was in progress.

Oliver, of 18188 North Territorial Rd., was taken into custody when the police officers reportedly found evidence of intoxication on his breath and in his behavior. He was charged with drunk and disorderly conduct.

He posted $50 bond and, later, appeared in 14th District Court where Judge Arkison fined him $50 and costs, and sentenced him to three days with the work program.

Another individual, George Russell Tedder of Jackson, was also arrested for drunk and disorderly conduct by Chelsea policemen this week. Patrolmen Robert Browning and Roger Graves took Tedder into custody after discovering his car in a ditch last Thursday night at 10:10 p.m.

Police reports indicate Tedder was unable to stand erect and that his speech was slurred. Policemen observed him drinking and took the label from the beer can for evidence.

He posted $50 bond and was arraigned in 14th District Court, Monday. He pled guilty and was sentenced to a fine of $50.

The final arrest of the week occurred Monday night when village police apprehended Robert Steven Alsepp, another Jackson man. Four warrants were outstanding on Alsepp. Washtenaw county sought him for three traffic violations.

He was arraigned in Chelsea, Tuesday, for simple larceny to which he pled guilty. He was fined $100 and costs and placed on six months probation. He remains in custody pending trial for the traffic offenses.

Carol Linebaugh Captures Beach Spelling Title

Carol Linebaugh, an 8th grader at Beach school, has won the annual spelling bee, and will represent her school in the District Spelling Bee, which will be held at Beach school March 28.

Carol had previously outspelled all other 8th graders in the class competition, which culled the 10 best spellers from each of 6th, 7th, and 8th grades. Those 30 master spellers met in the finals, last Friday.

In the last moments of the contest, runner-up Holly Hoffmeyer of 146 Orchard was clearing the word hurdles as well as Carol. Her downfall was the word "Stirrup," which Carol correctly spelled to end the bee.

Carol is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Linebaugh of 21 Sycamore Dr.

is quick to get its information out, however. Spencer reports that almost immediately he received instructions from the IRS about reporting his lucky bundle. Had he not invested, the tax payments would be due in three-month installments.

Spencer says another dividend he received in winning was "Getting to see how the process works." He is convinced that the lottery system is fool-proof. "If you buy at a large volume place or the little local store," he says, "your chances are the same."

This true believer says he will probably go back to the weekly habit even though the "odds are fantastic." He still can't believe they won. In this case, disbelief hasn't fogged clear thinking.

NORTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

THIRD GRADE—

Teacher: Mrs. Raduazo
This month has gone quickly and we are anxiously awaiting spring since the ground has probably not yet seen its shadow.

We enjoyed our valentine party and were happy to have Mrs. Weeks, Mrs. Joseph and Mrs. Hines help us. We are now enjoying a story about the life of Abraham Lincoln.

On Tuesday of next week, we are going to visit the Ann Arbor Museum. We have been studying about Indians and are specially interested in that exhibit.

Yesterday, we had some real excitement at school as the fire alarm was accidentally set off and we were all in the lunchroom. What to do?

FOURTH GRADE—

Teacher: Mrs. Paplawsky
Reporters: Craig Thams, Robbie Shears and David Parks

Craig Thams broke his arm when he was pulling a boy, a boy got in his way so Craig pushed him down and he also fell down. We have a very nice teacher. We had a valentine party with punch and candy and then opened our valentines. Robbie Shears went on a trip to Houghton Lake. They got there at 2:30 on a Friday morning on Jan. 10. David Parks was ready to go to school when the car got flooded. So he got his brother and mother and they tried to start it but it wouldn't start. So his mother went in the house and called the gas station, the man came and fixed it. We are all starting to study fractions in arithmetic. Everyone likes them so far. We made animals out of ceramic clay. They are going to be fired in the high school kiln. Then we will glaze them.

FIFTH GRADE—

Teacher: Mrs. Crouch
Reporters: Chris Check and Judy Norris

Every Monday we have class meetings. We elect a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. We pick different officers every three weeks. Right now our president is David Morris; vice-president, Kent Bollinger; secretary, Sandy Welshans and treasurer is Dawn Kreiger.

We have a Kellogg game. Michael Benedict's team won. The people on the team are Judy Norris, Alice Erke, Kent Bollinger, Tom Houle, Dawn Kreiger and David Morris.

The birthday this month is Patti Hume. We gave Mrs. Crouch a birthday party. We had two mothers come in, Mrs. Welshans and Mrs. Connell. We gave her a cake and a planter.

We have to do a state report. We had to take notes and then we have to do it neatly in ink. We have to have postcards or a drawing of our state. We have to tell the class about our state in a three-minute tour.

We have been studying about foods. We got little books from Planter Peanuts. We did a research on nutrition.

Teacher: Mrs. Mortenson
Reporters: Barb Schardoin and Kim Slater

In math, we are working with fractions. We just completed geometry and are making thread designs.

We had our Valentine's Day party last week and it was successful.

We are doing reports on famous black people. We saw a play given by Goose Productions. The name of it was "Land of the Dreams." In social studies we are studying the Alamo and the Mexican war. In music we are studying instruments and we will soon have our music test. A few of us tutor for the 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades. It works out real well. We switch girls on safeties every month and patrol boys every two weeks. Feb. 21 during lunch the fire drill rang and alarmed everyone. We think this was done by accident.

Five girls in our class are giving a play Feb. 23. We are using skill cards in Reading. They are kind of like SRA and RFO but they contain things such as main ideas and paragraph meanings.

Teacher: Mrs. Winkle
Reporters: Mary Beth Blanchard and Kim Wood

We just got a new girl from Pennsylvania. Her name is Linda Hamilton. She is getting along very well and has many friends.

We had a terrific valentine party. We had cookies, candy and punch. Mrs. Winkle gave each of us a balloon and a tootsie roll sucker. Our room mothers were Mrs. Blanchard, Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Williamson.

Mrs. Winkle and Gail Beyer received valentines from Karen Updegraff who moved to Cadillac. Mary Beth Blanchard and Kelley Krieger received a letter from Carter Timmins who moved to Illinois.

John Thornbury just came back from Ogdun, U. They went through the states of Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming and Utah. They had to change trains once at Chicago and they got on their next train at 4 p.m. and left at 4:30 p.m. In Wyoming they saw three herds of antelope, a prairie chicken, some deer and wild horses.

Today, Feb. 21, was Kim Wood's birthday. She gave each of us a Slo Poke to help celebrate her birthday.

Larry Jones, a freshman at Olivet College and a member of the Olivet "Comets" wrestling team, wrestled his way to a championship Saturday, in the MIAA Wrestling Tournament at Olivet.

Wrestling at 142, he defeated last year's champ, Rick Vanderlind of Hope, 5-2. Larry also took a first-place trophy in the Olivet Invitational in January, and ends the season undefeated in the league with an over-all record of 18-4, including eight pins.

Olivet also had four other championships, and held on to the league MIAA Wrestling Championship by being undefeated. The MIAA league consists of Albion, Adrian, Calvin, Hope, Kalamazoo and Olivet Colleges.

Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Errol Jones of 6051 Sibley Rd., and was captain of last year's Chelsea High wrestling team.

Corn Mold Problems Will Be Discussed

Purdue University corn mold expert Dr. John F. Tuitt will team up with Michigan State University specialists to tell farmers how they can use stocks of moldy corn harvested during the wet fall and winter of 1972.

Tuitt is the featured speaker on the botany and plant pathology program scheduled during Farmers Week, March 19-23.

The session on moldy corn is slated to begin at 9 a.m. Wednesday, March 21, in Room 110 Anthony Hall on the MSU campus. According to Dr. N. A. Smith, MSU plant pathologist, a question and answer session will follow the presentation made by Tuitt and other experts.

"Animal reaction to 1972 stocks of moldy corn is similar to reactions in the fall of 1965 when pigs refused to eat the corn," says Smith. "The mold is connected with a fungus, Fusarium graminearum, that is frequently present in cornstalks."

During low temperature-high moisture years, the fungus is apparently triggered to produce a toxin, according to Smith. The resulting mold flourishes when followed by warm and wet fall weather.

Deadline on GI Education Benefits

May 31, 1974—less than a year and a half away—is a crucial date for most Post-Korean veterans who haven't started using their GI Bill education benefits. That's the date their benefits expire. Unless they begin training soon, they could lose part or all of their benefits. The deadline applies to veterans discharged from military service between Jan. 31, 1955 and June 1, 1968. Benefits for these veterans were not authorized until enactment of the current GI Bill on June 1, 1968. They must complete training within eight years of release or by the May 31, 1974 deadline, whichever is later. On-the-job and farm cooperative training has until Aug. 30, 1975 to complete such training.

Cager of the Week

JEFF SPRAGUE (10), who earned his letter in varsity cross country this fall, finds basketball his first choice when it comes to the two sports. He thinks team play is more fun than the one-man effort required in long distance running. His other team experience is on the diamond in the spring. He plays second base. Stamp collecting is a hobby of Jeff's but he stresses that sports come first. He has been collecting stamps for five years. Jeff is not wild about any of his Chelsea High courses, but he does have academic interest elsewhere. Archeology is his subject, an area he hopes to pursue at some college on the Pacific coast. Although Jeff has yet to see the area, he trusts it's as appealing as he has gathered from reports. Jeff is "ready for a change of scenery, and willing to try something new." Jeff, one of six children, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sprague.

AT LONG LAST, A FISH STORY: Pack 455, after being frustrated by the weather three times, finally got to hold its annual fishing derby at Pierce Lake, last Saturday. The ice was, at last, strong enough to support their high hopes. Bundled up and baited, the caps and rods belong to, from left, in the front row, Troy Otto, Tim Roy, John Hoffman, Todd Koch, Bill Reed, Todd Otto; second row: Steve Kvarnberg, Bill Burgess, Phil Hoffman, Paul Hoffmayer, Bill Blank, Mike Waldyke; and back row: Don Kvarnberg, Phil Roy, Bob Blank, Mr. Blank, Fred Hoffman, Larry Koch and Bob Reed.

JC Auxiliary Seeks Books for Prison Library

The Southern Michigan Prison Jaycee chapter has once again asked for assistance in carrying out two of its programs: book and cancelled stamp collection. The Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary has responded to the plea by passing on the request to the Chelsea community.

Sandy Brown, Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary chairwoman of the Book Drive, stresses that all reading material is welcomed. Hard bound and paperback books as well as magazines are sought. They are for a library within the prison which the Jaycees have established for the use of all inmates.

Those who have books to donate can call Sandy Brown, 576-7634. She will arrange for the books to be picked up.

Sue Cail, chairwoman of cancelled stamps project, urges all persons to save stamps. This can be done by saving the entire envelope or by snipping off the stamped corner. Sue will arrange to pick up the stamps at the donor's convenience.

Inmates at Southern Michigan Prison remove the stamps and repair them so they may be given to the Third Order of St. Francis. The order separates the stamps, taking the best ones for sale to collectors in the U. S. and abroad. Proceeds are used for underprivileged children. Clothing, medical supplies, food and education costs are covered by the money.

Quarterly Motor Vehicle Highway Fund Shows Increase

Lansing—Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections for the fourth quarter of 1972, up 12.4 percent over the same period in 1971, are now being distributed to Michigan counties and municipalities, according to the State Highway Commission.

State Highway Director John P. Woodford said net receipts of the Highway Fund for the October through December period, totaled $104,332,739, an increase of $11,475,439.

All state taxes on gasoline and diesel fuel, plus license plate fees, go into the Highway Fund.

Woodford said the unusually high increase of 12.4 percent over the same quarter in 1971 can be traced to a 31 percent increase in license plate fees at the end of 1972. The Secretary of State's new program of issuing license plates by mail is largely credited with the huge increase of early registrations.

After deduction of collection costs by the Department of State and 1.5 percent for the Michigan Waterways Commission, the funds are distributed according to a formula established by the legislature.

The present formula provides 49 percent of the funds for the Department of State Highways; 34 percent for the state's 83 counties; and 20 percent for the state's 530 incorporated cities and villages.

Under this formula, the Highway

Department will receive $48 million as its share of fourth quarter receipts; counties, $34.3 million after deduction of $1.08 million for previously distributed snow removal assistance; and incorporated cities and villages, $20.8 million.

Of that $20.8 million, Chelsea's share is $13,282. Dexter's is $6,691. Both villages were notified of a sizable increase in the expected sum. Chelsea's 1971 portion in the fourth quarter was $11,899 while Dexter's was $6,013.

Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, of course, are eligible for the largest chunk. Ann Arbor will receive almost $40,000 more this year than for the comparable period in 1971, when its $349,441 arrives. Ypsilanti's share is up to $82,514, a gain over the 1971 figure, which was $73,898.

Manchester's share tallies at $7,435, Milan's at $15,046, and Saline's at $14,581.

CANNED MEATS

Canned meats can answer your SOS. A cool-headed homemaker doesn't fret when faced with a menu emergency when her cupboard is stocked with canned meats. The homemaker can count on a can of luncheon meat, hash, meat spread, meat balls, sloppy Joe burger filling or dozens of other canned meat products for a quick lunch or wholesome snack.

Cub Scouts Receive Awards At Blue & Gold Banquet

Festivities for Pack 445 commenced at 6 p.m., Saturday, at the Chelsea Fairgrounds, under the leadership of Cubmaster Don Pierson. The traditional occasion was the annual Blue and Gold Banquet.

The format included feasting, presentation of personal awards to diligent scouts and entertainment. The program began as the Webelos Color Guard presented the colors after which Toby Peterson gave the invocation.

A pot-luck supper was provided by the families in attendance. Mrs. Judy Johnston and her committee of Tootie Ackley, Dennis Johnston, Carol McLaughlin, Nancy Thames and Pat Whitesall supervised the spreading of the board. The supper was only an appetizer.

After recognition was given to all the dedicated pack leaders, the special guests had their say. Committee chairman Jim McLaughlin invited all interested persons to join pack activities each month. He explained that the second and fourth Monday evenings consist of thought provoking committee meetings and stimulating family pack meetings.

Dave Bowbeer, district executive, presented the first Iroquois District Good Turn award to Mike Ward. Dave Rowe, representing Troop 425, presented Doug Picklik with the Arrow of Light award and invested him into the Boy Scouts.

The lights dimmed and the murmuring subsided when the pulsating rhythm of drums brought the Great Akela, special guest Art Steinaway, to counsel the Cubs and present them with hard-earned awards.

Honored scouts of Den 6 were: Kevin Bell, one-year pin and denner bars; Bobby Prichard, assistant denner bar; Robert Richards, wolf badge; and David Soltysiak, gold arrow.

In Den 7, Bryan Cooper received a wolf badge; Richard Gaul, a wolf badge; Darrow Keezer, one-year pin; Terry Lucas, wolf badge; Darren Pierson, gold arrow and three silver arrows; Shawn Pierson bear badge; Tom Vandervoort, and Tim Whitesall, wolf badges; and Ray Williams, bear badge; and gold and silver arrows. Everybody in this den received an award.

In Den 8, Chan Lane received a bear badge, one gold and two silver arrows; Eric Picklik, one silver arrow and a two-year pin; John Rowe, denner bars; and Mike Ward, a bear badge and a gold arrow.

Three members of Den 9 received their due. Bryan Blough received a one-year pin, while Randy Luick earned denner bars, and Howard Whitaker took home a wolf badge.

Carl Simpson of the Webelos den was distinguished as Den Chief. Doug Picklik took home honors for craftsmanship, citizenship and as a naturalist. He also received an Arrow of Light.

Akela advanced the following bear cubs into the Webelos den: Ken Bauer, Bryan Johnston, Eric Picklik and Craig Thames. After all awards were presented, the drums beckoned Akela and he departed as all eyes were fixed upon his ornate headdress and all ears listened to the rhythm of the bells on his ankles. All hearts felt pride for the success of the young Cub Scouts.

The evening concluded after all enjoyed the movie "Children of the Frontier."

DEN 13, PACK 435—

We met Wednesday, Feb. 21 at the home of our den mother, Mrs. Ann Steinaway.

The meeting was opened with the flag presentation by Ronnie Lorenzen and the pledge of allegiance. Treats were brought by Ronnie Lorenzen. We then settled down and started working on Indian lore, sometimes stopping a minute to play with a little visitor of Mrs. Steinaway's. Tracy really enjoyed the treats and it was a treat for us to have her there.

For next week we have to write a story by using the signs of Indian lore. We closed by saying our den yell.

Community Churches Will Hear UCC Official On Teaching Sessions

Community churches are planning an ecumenical get together March 11, at the Methodist church. Phil Reikow, from the Michigan Conference of the United Church of Christ headquarters in Lansing, will be the speaker at the program from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

He will be speaking about the various aspects of teaching sessions: the intellectual aspects as well as the social dynamics. The opportunities for sessions, and planning of them will also be discussed.

While the Methodist church hosts the gathering, St. Paul members will supply the refreshments. The First Congregational church is in charge of publicity and registration. A fee of $1 for registration will be required.

Competition Rough in Rec Basketball

Tuesday's Chelsea Men's Recreation Basketball brought a couple of surprises, and higher team totals than have been tallied in the last weeks.

In the first game, Huron Valley Bank lost a heartbreaker to Chelsea Lumber Co., 77-58. The score is misleading. The battle became tied, 51-51, in the fourth quarter, after the Bank had dominated the play for most of the game. But the bankers were playing one man short and became visibly tired. Their hopes lay in acquiring a long lead so they would rely on defense in those grueling last moments.

But the Lumber Company wanted the game badly, and they played hard for the prize. High scorers for the eventual winners were Archie Bradbury, 19 points; Bill Harvey, 17 points; and Craig Houle, 16 points. For the Bank, Don Peck scored 21, Harvey put in 18, and Waite hit for 12.

The second contest was again a close one all the way. Heydlauff's played even with Chelsea A & W after slipping behind in the first quarter. They never got their foot in the door, however. Dick Miller scored 19 points for Chelsea A & W, mostly on breakaway plays. Also scoring in double figures for Chelsea A & W was Jim Dunlavy with 18 points. Phil Bareis was high man for Heydlauff's. His 14 points was followed by Don Doerr's 12.

Bridges Chevrolet remained undefeated by beating Chelsea Drug Store but that doesn't mean they weren't challenged. Leading at one time in the fourth quarter by 20 points, Bridges saw its lead cut to three in the closing moments.

They hung in there, however, 52-47. High scorers for the winners were Gary White with 20, and Jack Risner with 12. The Drug Store relied on Tom Kent, 18, and Charles Koenn with 14.

Next week, second place Heydlauff's meets the fifth-place Drug Store, while undefeated Bridges faces the Chelsea Lumber Co., which now stands fourth with a

Armed Services Aptitude Tests Slated March 8

During the forenoon of Thursday, March 8, the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB) will be administered by representatives from the three major armed services to all interested Chelsea High school seniors.

This battery of tests is a series of nine pencil and paper tests designed to measure probability of success (aptitude) in five technical-vocational areas. These include general technical, general and motor mechanical, clerical-administrative and electronics.

Comes spring, and many seniors are faced with questions about the future. While the test doesn't answer specific questions about the college versus technical school decision or about which service or field the student should enter, it does indicate the student's weaknesses, and strong points. This facilitates career, civilian or military planning.

In today's rapidly changing job market with its demands for technically oriented persons, all information about a student's aptitudes is most helpful.

The school offers the testing program not to encourage students to choose a military career or training program in particular. Instead the test is presented for those who wish to take it. These tests are free, and they may be of help to some interested students. It is up to the individual senior as to whether he will take ASVAB.

Last year, 30 seniors, including a number of girls, availed themselves of the opportunity. This year, the tests will be given in the library unless more than 45 students sign up for them. Interested seniors are to sign up in the guidance office in advance.

Wisdom is the art of listening to the soft voice of truth rather than to the incessant babble of selfishness, ignorance and superstition.

record identical to the Drug Store's 3.5. Huron Valley National Bank, third, will give Chelsea A & W, now in the basement, a chance to come up in the world.

Officials at Kalamazoo College have released the list of 189 students whose excellent grades deserved recognition on the Dean's List. 77 of those students received high honors for achieving an average of 3.75 or better. Jill Kipfmiller, daughter of Mrs. Joan E. Kipfmiller of 11960 Jackson Rd., was among that elite group.

OPEN-FACED SANDWICHES

To build hot open face sandwich snacks in minutes, begin with English muffins and extra meat. Almost any meat leftover may be used, such as slices or pieces of ham, roast beef, roast pork loin, corned beef or beef pot roast. Simply spread halved English muffins with mustard, catsup or mayonnaise; add slices of cooked meat; season with salt, pepper and spice, as desired, and slip under broiler for a few minutes to heat. Top each sandwich with a slice of cheese and continue broiling until cheese begins to melt. Serve hot.

Troop 425, under the leadership of Ralph Frisch, James M. Branham and Paul Garmen, he earned his Life rank and was working toward his eagle. Later, he transferred to Troop 476, which is led by Charles Stoner, and there he finished the requirements for his Eagle rank.

He is a 1972 graduate of Chelsea High school and is now attending Washtenaw Community College.
