Gridders Slip Past Novi on Strong Defense

The Novi Wildcats went down to defeat at the hands of the Chelsea Bulldogs last Friday evening for the first time in four years. Despite the Bulldog victory it was a narrow one, that came in the first quarter of play off a 27-yard field goal kicked by Rex Miles.

Coach Phil Bareis said "Nobody thought this would be the final score."

With their season well underway, the Bulldogs have something of a winning streak behind them, having won all three of their games. Yet they still have to contend with five more league teams before any claim to the title can be marked up.

Friday's game started off with Novi kicking to Chelsea who returned to their own 42-yard line. With rushing of Tony Robards, Howard Salyer and Tim Reed, Chelsea moved to the Novi 10-yard line. "Here the drive stalled," Bareis remarked, "and the Bulldogs went for a field goal." Eight minutes and 32 seconds were left in the first period.

Bareis reported that the Bulldogs' defense played an outstanding game in the first half, holding Novi to a net 47 yards of rushing and passing. "The defensive line of Jim Boyer, Joel Sprague, Don Sullivan, Rex Miles and Leon Brown held the Wildcats to only a eight-yard run for the longest run of the night." Brown, Sullivan and Miles were all credited with eight tackles or more.

Linebacker Jim Marshall and Tim Reed also did a fine job shutting off the Novi offense when Marshall was put into play replacing Dennis Bauer who suffered a knee injury in the second quarter.

While the Bulldogs' offense was not able to score a touchdown, Coach Bareis said they were able to move the ball. Tony Robards gained 91 yards, Howard Salyer 54 yards and Tim Reed 25 yards behind the blocking of Dave Schaible, Jim Marshall, Mark Smyth, Rex Miles and Don Sullivan. Other men on the offensive were Eric Prinzing, Steve Jones, Dave Watson and Dave Pletcher.

Randy Guenther passed for 10 yards in six for 14 attempts with Reed catching two for 18 yards, Watson one for 14, Boyer two for 45 and Tony Robards one for 13. In the second half of play, the Bulldogs continued their defensive game with Chelsea's biggest test in the third quarter when Novi drove to the 20-yard line. "But here," Coach Bareis said, "the Bulldogs, led by Randy Guenther and Jim Boyer, threw Novi for a five-yard loss, then with fourth and 10, Salyer, Sprague and Collins caught the Novi quarterback for a big loss."

Chelsea will host the Brighton Bulldogs this Friday, Sept. Oct. 3. The game will kick-off at 7:30 p.m.

Total School Enrollment Hits 2,644

Total school enrollment for the Chelsea school system is up by eight students over last year's enrollment of 2,636 according to the district business manager Fred Mills. However the number of kindergartners has risen by one full classroom; up from 153 students in 1974 to 179 students this year.

At the high school, 923 students are enrolled; 663 at Beach Middle school; 584 at South elementary and 474 at North school.

The total of 2,644 students enrolled in Chelsea schools this year is the final count taken the fourth Friday school has been in session and used to determine state aid, Mills said.

Two Nabbed Taking Rolls of Barbed Wire

Two men were arrested and a third escaped arrest early Thursday morning in an incident involving the taking of some eight rolls of barbed wire from Farmer's Supply located on Jackson St.

According to Chelsea police, the two men, Bruce James Schauer of Grass Lake and Joe Rander Minix of Salyersville, Ky., and a third whose identity is not yet known, were observed loading barbed wire into the trunk of a 1974 Chevy Nova in the area of Farmer's Supply.

Chelsea officers Peebles and Yager gave chase to the three, placing two of the men under arrest on charges of larceny under $100 near the North American Rockwell plant. Anton Nielsen, owner of Farmer's Supply estimated the value of the wire to be $275.

The third subject got away with the evidence in the trunk of the Nova.

Schauer and Minix were conveyed to the Washtenaw County jail and later taken to Saline County where they appeared before Judge Arkison. The judge set bond at $1,000 each. An examination has been set for Nov. 6.

Police say they are still investigating the identity of the third man involved.

Woman's Body Found Off Clear Lake Rd.

The body of a 20-year-old Detroit woman was discovered Sunday, Sept. 21 about one-half mile from Camp Waterloo on Clear Lake Rd.

According to Lt. Floyd Garrison, Jackson post commander, State Police identified the woman, who had been shot, as Diane Madison. The woman was identified through fingerprints.

Garrison said the death appeared to have occurred within the past two weeks.

State police are investigating the incident further to determine if the woman had any Jackson connections.

The body was found on the west side of Clear Lake Rd. shortly before 7 p.m. by a squirrel hunter from Detroit. According to reports, the hunter is not suspect.

EXCHANGE STUDENT Jolanda Koole (seated right) shows her YFU family, the James Hoffmeyers, the spot on the map that marks her home town in Holland. Jolanda is in this country for a year of study and cultural exchange sponsored by Youth for Understanding. Pictured standing from left are Mr. Hoffmeyer, Paul and Mrs. Hoffmeyer. Seated next to Jolanda, Holly. Daughter Merry is in Washington for her freshman year at the University of Puget Sound.

Dutch Exchange Student Says Things in U.S. Are 'Big'

When daughter Merry left for her freshman year at the University of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Wash., the James Hoffmeyers of 146 Orchard St. didn't lose a daughter, they gained one and her name is Jolanda (pronounced Yolanda) Koole of Oost-Souburg, Holland, in the province of Zeeland. (Get out your atlas and look up Holland, now move south and then west to the sea. You should find a body of land that looks like an island, but is actually a peninsula . . . there, you've got it.)

Jolanda has been with the Hoffmeyers since Aug. 25 when she and more than 100 other YFU exchange students from Belgium, France and Holland touched down at Detroit's Metropolitan Airport for a year of study and cultural exchange in the United States.

Once out of customs, which took Jolanda and her fellow passengers more than three hours (the flight departed from Amsterdam and Jolanda said the two agents were "really strict") her first impression of the USA was that "everything was so big."

"What do you mean? Big cars, big homes, big buildings?" "Everything, just everything." Of course one must realize that her native country is tiny in comparison with our single state. One can drive from the very southern tip of Holland to the very northern tip in five hours.

Minutes after her arrival, Jolanda and her new brother, Paul, and sisters, Merry and Holly, were loaded into the family station wagon and whisked north for Cadillac where they spent an entire week at a lakeside cottage, swimming, relaxing, Jolanda catching up on her jet lag and getting acquainted.

Soon it was time to head home for Chelsea; Merry to Washington, Paul to Beach Middle school and Jolanda and Holly to the high school where Holly is a sophomore and Jolanda a senior.

Since then Jolanda reports that she has been too busy to be homesick. "My parents are the homesick ones. For me, that is. My mother bought some birds before I left to keep her company." Jolanda, an only child, remarked that she and her parents are very close.

They were naturally concerned about her spending a year away, but when the Hoffmeyer's daughter Merry spent some time with them last summer while traveling through Europe they were put at ease. The Kooles also hosted an American from Illinois through YFU, making them familiar with the exchange program. Jolanda shows pictures of "the girl from Illinois" and says she intends to visit her family sometime this year. As most foreigners and especially exchange students, Jolanda is asked and answers a barrage of questions ranging from the number of languages she speaks (which are four: German, French, English and Dutch) to what her country's government is like, even to the young Dutch woman's view of women's lib. And by the way they do have it in Holland!

Jolanda comes from a small village, which she refers to as "our place." From her description of size it is probably close to the size of Chelsea though the geography and architecture are strikingly different.

Holland is flat. Most of the homes are of brick and the architecture for the most part is very plain and simple, except in areas where older homes and buildings still stand.

Her father, who is a member of the town council, works with animals. We are not quite clear what Jolanda means and Mrs. Hoffmeyer interjects that it is similar to our agricultural extension agent. Her mother is a part-time nurse.

In Holland, Jolanda has finished "high school." "I did my exams just before I came," she said and continued to explain the Dutch school system, which is different than our own.

Dutch children begin school at four years old. They attend our equivalent of kindergarten and then at the age of 6 through the age of 12 attend schools which are comparable to our elementary schools. And that, is as far as the similarities go.

At the age of 12, a child in Holland makes choices that most of us in the United States make at the age of 18 and often even later. 12-year-olds decide whether to continue their schooling in vocational schools devoted to the study of business, agricultural, homemaking, technical programs, etc., or attend a school of "higher learning," as Jolanda puts it. The school of "higher learning" is close to continuing in our own school systems studying the liberal arts and sciences.

Among the schools of "higher learning" are four levels. The very top being for the very bright and so forth down the ladder. Jolanda said with a proud smile that she was in the second highest level. Students then remain in these schools until they pass their exams, which for some means taking them more than once.

"I was so nervous," Jolanda says. "If I didn't pass my exams (which were given just a few days before her departure) I would not get to come to the United States." Coming to the United States, to Chelsea, was something that she wanted very much.

Now here, Jolanda is beginning to savor the American lifestyle. She says she is very happy, has had no trouble adjusting to the food, "I love it, I've gained," and thinks everyone is very friendly. "Already I know so many people," she exclaimed.

Youth Dies in Crash During Police Pursuit

An incident which began as a simple traffic violation ended in death for one Jackson area man and serious injury to his brother after the pair led Chelsea police on a wild 11-mile auto chase through the Waterloo Recreation Area from Chelsea into northern Jackson county early Saturday morning.

Dead is 19-year-old Gary Thomas of 9750 N. Meridian Rd., Pleasant Lake. His brother Benie Thomas, 36, of the same address was listed in fair condition at Jackson's Foote hospital at press time Wednesday.

Thomas was killed when the 1970 Buick he was driving left North Territorial Rd. at speeds of more than 110 miles an hour, according to police reports. Benie was found hanging from the rear window and was rushed to Foote hospital.

The incident began when neighbors called police to the Park St. address where Benie's estranged wife was living after 2 a.m. Saturday. Apparently Benie had aroused several neighbors by banging on the doors and shouting, police said.

When Chelsea officers arrived they tried to question the pair. According to reports, Gary who was driving, became angry and pulled away from the curb toward Main St., squealing his tires.

Police pursued the two for seven minutes at speeds often in excess of 100 miles per hour, before the younger Thomas lost control of the car on a curve two miles west of the Jackson-Washtenaw county line.

Police said the chase began along M-52 northbound into Lyndon township and into Jackson county's Waterloo township when the patrol car began to slow down, not knowing the road ahead. Reports stated that debris was flying all around making the visibility very poor. The mishap occurred just west of the intersection with Hinkley Blvd., where M-52 abruptly turns north toward Ingham county.

Chelsea police chief George Meranuck remarked that the entire episode was "very unpleasant. We don't want anyone to kill themselves," he continued.

According to Meranuck, residents have made numerous complaints in the past about reckless driving, squealing tires, etc., and the officers involved went after the men to issue a traffic violation. "Police don't want to go at those high speeds, simply for their own safety," Meranuck said. "But if we let them (people) get away with it, everyone will try to elude us."

Meranuck added that Thomas became angry when police asked him to empty open beer cans which were in the vehicle.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

None of the fellows that gather around the country store is what you could call a fashion plate, but Zeke Grubb allowed during the session Saturday night that ever since he's got it in style right now. Zeke said he'd been telling his old lady for years that his double breasted wool suit would swing back in favor soon or late, but he didn't expect to see his overalls get to be what ever up to date college girl is wearing these days.

Zeke had saw where dressing up means dressing down, and the same age children that use to be ashamed to go to school in faded cotton shirts and frocks now won't be caught hanging around the water cooler in nothing new. They do everything from new patches on brand-new jeans to bleach out their wore out look, Zeke declared.

General, Mister Editor, the fellows were more up on styles than

I would of give em credit. Ed Doolittle reported where he had read a piece in one of his old lady's magazines where "prole clothes" was the hottest thing in the fashion trade. Ed said that word worried him till he finally looked it up. He said the best he can figure that comes from "proletariat," which means the working class. Ed said the styles include coveralls for the girls and everything from welder helmets to logger boots for the boys.

The fellow that runs the store stocks work gloves, and he's got a rack full of caps and hats that somebody is allus spinning around for no reason. He said the salesman that keeps up his clothing department said the other day that we have gone from permanent press to permanent wrinkle in three years. One company that makes men's pants now is selling as many to women, he said, and the funny part is they got to make new stuff old. As soon as the pants made are they took by the hundreds of dozen to a outfit that rents work uniforms and they are run through them big commercial washing machines. This way new pants come out looking like they've been wore a couple of years and they're snapped up as soon as they get dry, the salesman said.

Practical speaking, the fellows couldn't decide whether the style is good, bad or indifferent. They were agreed, though, that the man still has to make the clothes, not the other way around, and they noted that "prole clothes" is wore by young folks that general know as much about the working world as FDR knowed about dealing with the Russians.

If folks paid much attention to clothes styles, it would mean trouble for everybody. A fellow that carries his lunch to work in a bucket is going to feel silly when he sees his old lady paint his lunch pail, stick some pictures on it and start carrying it fer a handbag. And poor folks won't feel right working all day in clothes the well off wear to country club dances. I figger it's best to cover up with whatever we got and let the style take care of itself.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Fee Exam Sited
Michigan's off-criticized workman's compensation program, which carries a whopping $230 million-a-year price tag, may be in for some close scrutiny this fall.

Republicans in the Michigan House say they'll dig into reports of "generally massive abuse" in the system. And the Department of Labor, which administers the program, is launching an examination of the $30 million in medical and legal fees paid annually.

Revision of the workman's comp law, now 63 years old, should be top priority when lawmakers reconvene this fall, says Rep. Dennis O. Cawthorne of Manistee, leader of the House GOP caucus.

"Michigan's workers, employers and consumers are all victims of a conspiracy on the part of many physicians, lawyers and union officials to perpetuate the system through unethical solicitation of cases and kickbacks, from settlements obtained and fraudulent claims and from generally massive abuse of the existing antiquated law," Cawthorne says.

He also speaks of "an epidemic of fraud and abuse" in the system. Fees paid to doctors and lawyers are subject for consideration by a special task force named by the Labor Department.

"Those fees, amounting to more than $31 million a year, represent a substantial portion of the cost of the workman's compensation program," says director Keith Molin.

"Therefore, it is in the public interest to make certain through a careful examination that such costs are fair to both the medical and legal practitioners and the claimants they serve."

Some 100,000 disability claims were filed this year by Michigan workers, reports Ernest Fackler, director of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation. Of that total, about 70 percent are settled without dispute, he says. The remaining 30 percent require adjudication.

Fackler says payments to claimants' lawyers total some $20 million each year. (Under the current fee schedule, attorneys get 15 to 30 percent of the compensation award.)

Another $31 million was paid in medical fees to doctors, hospitals and others, he says.

Protecting Children

Battered and abused youngsters—sometimes not identified until it's too late—may be discovered and helped more quickly because of a new law recently signed by Gov. William Milliken.

The measure "is a comprehensive approach to the protection of our children from abuse and neglect, born out of the frustrations experienced by those involved in identifying and protecting these children," the governor says.

Dentists, medical examiners, certified social workers, school administrators, counselors and teachers will be among those required to report suspected cases of abuse or neglect.

In addition, the new law grants immunity to all persons making such reports "in good faith."

The law also speeds up the reporting process by providing for oral reports, with written follow-up of county social services departments within 72 hours.

New Map Ready

You can't get there from here, or here from there—or can you? Michigan's new public transportation map and guide may be your answer if you want to figure out how to get from Jackson to Traverse City or Negaunee without driving the distance yourself.

First of its kind to be published by the state, and free, the map shows the routes and locations of all public transportation services throughout Michigan.

Intercity bus and passenger rail lines, direct air services by commercial carriers, cross-lake passenger and auto ferries on the Great Lakes—they're all there.

So too are markings for 30 cities with local bus or Dial-A-Ride services.

Another helpful listing includes an alphabetical enumeration of all Michigan communities serviced by public transportation. And that is followed by a key to locally-available services.

Travelers who want to save fuel or avoid long hours behind the wheel of a car will find the map an invaluable guide to planning their trips by public transportation, declares Peter B. Fletcher, chairman of the Michigan Highway Commission.

If you'd like a copy of the new map, just write to Information Services, Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation, P.O. Drawer K, Lansing 48904.

Cider Festival Returning To Dexter

The brisk fall weather and the changing colors of the trees signal the time for the annual Dexter Cider Festival set this year for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 10, 11 and 12.

The annual house tour, a chicken barbecue, cider and donuts, and sausage all are part of the week-end.

The week-end kicks off with the annual House Tour presented by the Friends of the Library and the Dexter Area Historical Society. Tour of the six homes will be from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 10. Tickets for the tour and the luncheon at St. Andrew's church are available at McLeod's Pharmacy and the Dexter Library.

On Saturday and Sunday the Wagner Cider Mill near the Huron River on Central St. will be open and the Knights of Columbus are cooking barbecued chicken on Saturday and Sunday at the site next to the American Legion Home on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. Take-out orders are also available.

Near the cider mill, old-fashioned knackwurst and bratwurst will be sold by the Dexter Kiwanis Club and the Jaycees will again have Halloween pumpkins for sale. And tours of local farms will be part of the week-end.

The Dexter Chamber of Commerce urges residents to make this a family week-end at the annual Cider Festival.

Water Filter Plant Bonding Approved

For the second time this year Dexter voters authorized the village to finance a water filtration plant. In a relatively small turnout, the voters approved the bonding by more than three to one.

With only 215 residents voting, 172 voted yes and 43 no. There are more than 500 registered voters in the village.

In precinct one the count was 80 yes votes and 17 no. In precinct two, 92 yes and 26 no.

The Village Council now has authority to obligate the village to up to $250,000 in general obligation bonds to finance a water filtration plant. The same measure passed in February, but a second vote had to be taken when village bonding attorneys found that the wording on the first ballot was incorrect.

Gridders of the Week

DAVE SCHAIBLE (66): A second-year veteran on the varsity team at 6'2", 190 pounds, guard and tackle. Dave Schaible says he has "gone all the way with football." He has "played on the JV team, the freshman team, the 8th grade team, the 9th grade team." Dave is also an avid water and snow skier. He is a member of the Key Club and the Forensics team. "I Am Not A Crook," took first place in district competition for Dave and his fellow speakers last year in forensics. With a successful year behind him he hopes to do as well this year. As far as football, Dave believes the Bulldogs will make it to the top in the Southeastern Conference. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schaible, 6700 Washington St., Dave has one sister, Anne, 18, who is a sophomore at Chelsea High.

STEVE JONES (70): A very confident young man, not only for himself, but for the Bulldogs, Steve Jones was not shy in predicting a championship season for his team. "We are sure to beat Brighton. We have yet to meet Milan who has defeated Saline (a strong Chelsea rival for years), but if we can do that it will come down to Saline and Chelsea and I'm hoping for a championship. The 6', 170 pound senior is in his second year as a center for the varsity team and in his second year at Chelsea High school. Steve's family, the Mel Joneses, moved to Chelsea two years ago from Flint. Steve is a member of the Honor Society. He has a brother, Scott, 8, and a sister, Rhonda, 20.

JV Gridders Ramble Over Novi, 18-6

Chelsea's JV football team defeated Novi last week, 18-6, on three touchdowns made by players Chuck Broderick, Mike Young and Matt Fisher.

A pass by Jeff Powell to Chuck Broderick resulted in a 25-yard scoring play. Mike Young followed with a 72-yard run in for the second TD. Novi then intercepted a Chelsea pass and returned it 40 yards for a touchdown. However, the Bulldogs were not to be topped and immediately after the Novi kickoff following the Team's only touchdown, Bulldog Matt Fisher caught the ball at the 28 and returned it 72 yards for a TD.

Coach Jon Schaffner said that all the extra point attempts were run but were not good.

Again the defense was strong and Schaffner said "they have not allowed a point to be scored in 11 straight quarters."

Leading in tackles were Jamie Bollinger, 12; Steve Pennington, 11; Jeff Powell, 9; Tim Welshans, Todd Weber and Todd Headrick, 8 each; Victor Verchereau, 7; Rocky Branel, 7; Mike Young, 8; Jason Lindauer, 3; Rick Beeman, 2; Chuck Broderick, 2. Don Harris, Matt Fisher and Dave Schrotenboer, one each.

Steve Pennington and Matt Fisher intercepted passes. Todd Headrick and Don Harris recovered fumbles and Victor Verchereau blocked a punt.

Schaffner reported that his team will travel to Brighton tonight (Thursday) who in this season has walked over three opponents. "It should be a real good game," he said. The game will begin at 7 p.m.

make millions of lids for current and future canning seasons."

Lids are shipped in bulk quantities, tens-of-thousands per order, to companies which supply the home food and housewares markets. Only small-mouth, regular size, lids are being made. They are used the same way the older, conventional lids are.

Rockwell International has no plans to sell lids directly to consumers and wide-mouth lids are not available at this time.

More than $200,000 in scholarships will be awarded to national winners during the 54th National 4-H Congress, Nov. 30-Dec. 4 in Chicago.

Frosh Grid Team Bashes Mich. Center

The freshmen turned loose a strong running game last Wednesday and powered to a 44-0 victory over Michigan Center. The Bulldogs were paced by Joe Vervey who gained 142 yards and Greg Reed who scored three touchdowns.

Chelsea opened the scoring midway in the first period on a six-yard dive by Al Augustine. They tallied again late in the period when a fine block by Chuck Young sprung Greg Reed for a 20-yard TD. Tom Bareis ran the extra point. Reed scored again on a one-yard run in the second period and Bareis again converted, giving Chelsea a 22-0 half-time lead.

A Cardinal fumble in the third period was recovered by Scott Powers. This led to a nine-yard TD by Al Augustine and a conversion by Joe Vervey. Michigan Center got a fine runback on the kick-off. Only a great tackle by Bart Bauer saved a touchdown. That was the extent of their offense. They gave up the ball and Joe Vervey scored on a 21-yard run with Tom Bareis again converting—his third of the night.

The final Bulldog score came on a Reed dash in the fourth period to make the final point total 44-0.

The Bulldogs had a fine offensive game, gaining 423 yards. Vervey and Augustine each ran for over 100 yards.

Defensively, the Bulldogs were led by Scott Powers who recovered two fumbles, Tom Bareis and Scott Price.

Chelsea Firemen will hold their third annual Firemen's Ball Saturday, Oct. 4 at the Chelsea Fairgrounds. Entertainment by "The Researchers," will provide live music for dancing.

The 9:30 to 1:30 p.m. affair will benefit the Institute for Burn Medicine in Ann Arbor.

Persons at the institute note that events such as these mean a great deal to those who care for burned patients and to the patients themselves who could not pay bills accumulated as a result of burn accidents and injuries.

During the evening, light refreshments and free set-ups will be served. In addition, door prizes will be awarded.

Co-sharing this year's ball are Larry Koch and Robert Dorner.

Persons interested in purchasing tickets for the ball may do so at Kusterer's Food Market or by phoning 475-2955, 475-7582, or 475-7319.

Bank Extortion Plot Fails In Dexter

After a long five days for a local bank manager, an extortion attempt by a Dexter man at the Dexter branch of the Ann Arbor Bank & Trust was thwarted through the combined efforts of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI).

Richard Edward Olberg, 22, of 7680 2nd St., was arraigned in the U. S. District Court, Detroit, on Tuesday, Sept. 30, on charges of attempting to extort $75,000 from a local bank and having made written and telephone threats to kill the bank manager and employees, according to the WCSJ. A federal offense, the charges could bring up to 20 years in prison. Olberg, a 1971 graduate of Dexter High school, has no known prior police record.

The local drama began Thursday, Sept. 25, according to Sgt. Nigel Schneider of the Dexter station WCSJ, when Earl Roehm, Ann Arbor Bank manager, received a note asking for $75,000 in small bills. The note, also carrying threats on the lives of the manager and the employees, had been placed in the night deposit box at the bank.

Bank security stepped into the picture at this point and called in the sheriff's department and the FBI, he said.

Friday afternoon, Sept. 26, according to the Sheriff's report, a phone call was received by the bank manager which informed him that the "drop" would be on Sunday afternoon in a corn field on Dancer Rd., near Island Lake Rd. Local sheriff's officers and FBI men staked out the area, but the extortionist failed to appear.

Again, on Monday morning a phone call was received by the manager. The drop was to be made at 1:30 p.m. that afternoon at the same place. Again, sheriff's officers and FBI staked out the area.

A young man, later identified as Olberg, carrying a .22 caliber rifle, was arrested at the site when he attempted to collect the package. Olberg was placed in the Washtenaw county jail.

Officers from the Dexter sheriff's station were protecting the bank employees at all times, says Sgt. Schneider. He said there were seven sheriff's officers and four FBI men working on the case.

FACELIFTING: Representative Mike Conlin (R-23rd District) recently helped to give his office a facelift. To save the taxpayers a few dollars, he pitched in over the week-end and pushed the paint roller around himself.

Rep. Mike Conlin Displays New Skill

It isn't a $37,000 remodeling job like one state Senator spent on his office but it's exactly what the man wants.

Representative Mike Conlin (R-23rd District) got a new paint job in his Lansing office and, to save the taxpayers a few dollars, he pitched in over the week-end and pushed the paint roller around himself.

"I get a lot of complaints about irresponsible governmental spending and I agree with most of them. I thought I'd do my part to keep down the cost of painting my office by doing it myself," Conlin said.

Conlin described the office he was assigned last January and why he wanted it painted.

"The woodwork was a chocolate brown, the walls were peach-colored, with lime-colored curtains, cranberry carpeting and turquoise and orange chairs. It was like living in a fresh fruit bowl."

HCMA Study Committee Hearing Set in Brighton

Representative Mike Conlin (R-23rd District) urged interested Washtenaw county residents to attend a public hearing Thursday, Oct. 9 on the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

The special House of Representatives committee studying the HCMA has scheduled the next hearing at 7:30 p.m. at Brighton High school, 7878 Brighton Rd., Brighton.

Conlin is a member of the special committee investigating the HCMA, which develops and maintains a series of recreational facilities in southeastern Michigan. He is one of 10 committee members. He and Representative Gary Owen (D-Ypsilanti) represent Washtenaw county on the committee.

The Oct. 9 public hearing will be the fifth conducted by the committee.

Conlin earlier this year introduced the resolution in the House calling for the investigation. He said at that time that he thought there was a need for some accountability on the part of the authority which has collected over $90 million in property tax dollars. "As far as we know this is only a portion of its total budget, but no one knows for sure how much that total budget is," Conlin said.

Recent plans to develop new Metroparks, as well as questions regarding the charter structure of the authority and the lack of an appeals process in regard to the authority's decisions have caused some controversy.

The resolution creating the committee calls for completion of the investigation by Dec. 31, 1976.

Cross Country Runners Lose To Brighton

While Chelsea's cross country team fields a season record of 2-3 overall and 1-1 in the SEC league, coach for the team, Pat Clarke was not too pleased with their Sept. 25 performance against Brighton. The Bulldogs met at least at the legs of the Brighton runners, 46-17.

Despite the fact that last Thursday's meet was held during a driving rainstorm, on the invitational course and without Brighton's number one runner, junior Tim Proulx, the team was "awesome." The best team coach Clarke has seen in his five years of coaching cross country.

Brighton's Paul Mason, a senior, placed first in the meet with a time of 16:18. A time which Clarke said, "broke the course record." Second place went to Proulx's brother, Jeff, a freshman on the Brighton team. Sophomore Sean Hurley took third place. Fourth place was taken by Chelsea senior John Storey who ran his best time ever, 17 flat for the three-mile course.

Other Chelsea placers were Rick Haller, 17:16; 19th, Phil France, 17:30; 14th, Dan Thompson, 17:35; and 15th Bill Rademacher, 17:44. Clarke added that Mark Bucholz, a sophomore runner for Chelsea, ran the course in 19:02 his best time for the year.

Today (Thursday) the Bulldogs will meet South Lyon, the defending champions in the conference. According to Clarke the entire team of 1974 is returning and they are used to sport some tough competition.

"We will know after this meet if we have a shot at the league title," he concluded.

From Mrs. Raymond Van Hoy, Hamptonville, N. C.: I am 69 years old now but I remember back to the winter of 1909 and 1910. It was a sad time for us. During that winter my Grandmother was dying with cancer. We had a fine family doctor back then who, on occasions would at-keep up with the times.

We lived nine miles from that family doctor and, needless to say, the only mode of travel was horse and buggy or horseback. When my Grandmother reached the stage that morphine was a necessity, my Mother's cousin, a teenage boy, would make the trip. He owned a great little saddle mare named "Net." He would mount her and single-foot it to the doctor's office to get the required morphine for my Grandmother. The round trip was eighteen miles—that was a long trip by horseback. He was such a good person. I truly hope our cousin received an extra star in his heavenly crown for his many kindnesses.

Participation in 4-H educational programs increased 38.3 percent in 1974 over the previous year.

Bulldog Golfers Third in Grass Lake Tourney

The second annual Grass Lake Invitational Golf Tournament was held Saturday, Sept. 27 at the Waterloo Golf Course. Champions were Addison, Chelsea, Columbus Central, Grass Lake, Michigan Central, Napoleon, Stockbridge, and Vandercook Lake.

Chelsea, the defending champions, took third in the tournament. Grass Lake won the tournament with a 314 score. They led after nine holes with a score of 162 which set a new school record.

In second was Napoleon 164, third was Vandercook Lake 168, Michigan Central 170, Columbus Central 175, Chelsea 178, Stockbridge 187, and Addison 184.

The tournament ended with Grass Lake in first place with a 314, Napoleon 331, Chelsea 336, Columbus Central 338, Vandercook Lake 340, Michigan Central 342, Stockbridge 345, and Addison 347.

The Grass Lake Warriors, coached by Larry Poirer, were led by "Tournament Medalist" Rod Elliott, 84-40-74, Ed Wright 75, Dale Siegrist 81, and Tom Younkun 84.

The Chelsea Bulldogs coached by Pat Wade were led by Mike Fouty 76, Dan Shirilla 82, Roger Policht 84, and Jeff Policht 86.

High scorer for the game was freshman Veronica Satterthwaite with 12 points. Joan Lutyovsky and Nancy Knott scored six points with Tammy Collinsworth and Tracy Hawker adding two each.

Girls JV Cagers Suffer First Loss

Chelsea girls Junior Varsity basketball team suffered their first loss of the season at the hands of Manchester, 42-27. Manchester had a large squad of 22 girls and they used a full-court press and the fast break to hold Chelsea to four points the first half. Chelsea came back after the half, gave them some of their own medicine and outscored them, 23-22.

"This was the girls' hardest opponent this year and it gave the team a good idea of what we will be up against when we meet Novi on Tuesday," said coach Cindy Bradbury.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

We're always talking about what happens to the "other guy." You know the one who causes all these staggering statistics in this area. The guy the United Way has to help. The guy whose daughter has an illegitimate child, whose son is handicapped, whose wife drinks too much, whose brother was in Vietnam, whose sister has an emotional problem, whose child has been struck by a drunk driver, whose son is on the lighter side, has a son or daughter in school, or in the Chelsea band. Possibly his pay or girl participated in one of the Recreation Council Programs this year. Earn, Learn & Play. T. Ball, Babe Ruth or adult baseball and tennis or his benefit of Chelsea Hot Meat Service.

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Larrestine Trimm

Autumn is the plentiful season for turnips and rutabagas. These economical root vegetables were greatly enjoyed by early American cooks because when stored at cool room temperature, about 80 degrees F., they will keep for several months.

Today, the most popular variety of turnips has white flesh and a purplish tinting of the upper outer surface. Marketing officials of MDA say good quality ones are small to medium, smooth fairly round and firm. Yellow-fleshed rutabagas are relatives of the turnip but larger and heavy in relation to size, round to elongated in shape. They are sometimes coated with a thin layer of paraffin to prevent shriveling and loss of moisture but the paraffin is easily removed by peeling before cooking.

Both vegetables are cooked the same way, peeled and cut in large pieces, mashed or cubed. Turnips may also be cooked whole. Or try them raw, thinly sliced in a tossed salad.

Early American recipes prepare rutabagas in a number of interesting ways. You may want to try 5-6 cups of grated rutabaga combined with a medium apple, diced; two tablespoons maple sugar; a teaspoon salt; dash of pepper and three tablespoons melted butter. Bake in a greased 1½ quart baking dish for about 1½ hours in a moderate (350 degrees F.) oven. Or, combine cooked cubed rutabaga with cooked cubed potatoes, light cream, butter and salt. Whip thoroughly and serve piping hot.

Federal Grant Awarded to Sheriff's Dept.

Senator Gilbert E. Bursley (R-Arbor) announced today that a federal anti-crime grant, authorized by the Michigan Office of Criminal Justice Programs, will be awarded to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department in the amount of $273,308 for improving communications system.

Senator Bursley stated, "During the past few years there has been a tremendous increase in Washtenaw county in both the number of criminal complaints and traffic stops. The calls received in 1974 were 27,568, up 14 percent from 1973. The presently-owned communications equipment is outdated and unreliable. Expansion to multi-frequency operation is impossible.

In addition to their own county police requirements, the sheriff provides police service through a contract arrangement to four townships and one village; total population of these 60,112. Plans are being considered presently to begin coordinated dispatching for the City of Ypsilanti.

Senator Bursley said, "The purchase and installation of a new and updated, county-wide radio communications system will reduce the response time for citizens and improve the safety of the officers."

Dutch Exchange Student...

A senior at Chelsea High school, Yolanda will spend a good part of the first semester studying American history, government and literature. She is taking some art courses (one of her favorite things) and hopes to pursue some more in the second semester. Does she find her studies difficult? After coming through the rigors of exams, she replies, "It is easier than my school in Holland."

It hasn't taken Yolanda very long to feel she is a part of Chelsea and the high school. She plays on the girl's varsity basketball team, has attended all the home football games and says she is very proud to be a part of CHS.

"Last week when we played Novi, I found myself really yelling for our team. And when the band played, 'Holland' then describes a feeling of really belonging. She stresses that 'everyone here is so friendly.' In Holland she says her friends vary. She has different friends from church, from school and from the teen center, a place where young people hold both social and intellectual activities. They become involved in volunteer work, a lot of it relating to celebrations during national holidays and most of it with children. On Sunday evenings the teen center becomes a place for discussion of world problems.

She says that young people in Holland are not too different from young people here. "Though we don't drink as much as everyone here seems to. She and her contemporaries relish the old, wearing farmer's clothing, collecting antiques and as here, plants have caught on. Yolanda has photos of her bedroom, a window which is full of hanging plants and knick knacks.

When she returns to Holland she will enter a University or college to study social work. But for now she is very content to be in Chelsea. As for the Hoffmeyers, "I love them," she says. "They are really mom and dad for me."

Don Johnson Memorial Scholarships Announced

Many former 4-H members will benefit from scholarships provided by the Donald R. Johnson Memorial Fund. The late Mr. Johnson served as county director of the Washtenaw Co-operative Extension Service. Upon his death, May 5, the Board of County Commissioners, recognized his service to the people of the county by establishing a memorial fund in his name.

Johnson's dedication to the youth involved in the 4-H Youth Program will be memorialized by scholarships to be awarded to former Washtenaw county 4-H'ers. Plans include offering a scholarship each year to a young person enrolled in the first or second year of post high school study. This study can be an apprenticeship, or at a technical-trade school, or at a college or university. Each scholarship recipient's name will be added to a memorial plaque which will be displayed at an appropriate location. The application date for the first scholarship is Nov. 1. Further information and scholarship application forms are available from the Co-operative Extension Service, Room 1, County Building, Ann Arbor.

Rec. Council Offers Bowling Instruction

Chelsea Lanes in conjunction with the Chelsea Recreation Council is offering a "Learn to Bowl" program for Chelsea youngsters ages 10-16.

The program will consist of films and records on the correct way to bowl, how to keep score and how to improve one's average. Also featured will be weekly personalized instruction by Chelsea Lanes manager, Floyd Northrup.

Classes will run for five consecutive weeks beginning Monday, Oct. 20 through the week of Nov. 17. Children will be divided into age groups with the 10- to 12-year-olds meeting Monday afternoons from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. and the 13- to 16-year-olds meeting Wednesdays at the same time. Each class will be limited to 50 youngsters.

The registration fee, which will include a fee for the Youth Bowling Association Sanction will enable students to bowl in leagues and to compete for prizes and awards.

Interested persons are asked to call Recreation director Holly Porter at 475-1571 to register.

Mrs. Porter noted that volunteers are needed to assist with the program. Persons interested in doing so are asked to call her.

PP&K Competition Set For Monday Evening

Just three days remain for Chelsea youngsters to register for the Punt Pass and Kick competition to be held Monday, Oct. 6 at 6:30 p.m. on the high school athletic field.

Palmer Motor Sales, Ford dealer sponsoring the activity, said that registrations will be taken through Saturday, Oct. 4 at the dealership.

"Although time is growing short, any youngster 8 through 13 years of age may still compete," said Lyle Christwell. "All a contestant need do is come into our showroom, accompanied by a parent or guardian and fill out the PP&K registration form." There is no entry fee or charge of any kind, including all six levels of competition and the National Finals.

Christwell pointed out that trophies will be awarded for 1st, 2nd and 3rd place in the local competition in each of the six age groups. Increasing the youngster's chances of winning one of the 18 trophies is the fact that each contestant competes only against others of the same age. And since there is no body contact, an entrant's size is not as important as his ability to punt, pass and place-kick for distance with accuracy.

Winners can continue on up through the Zone, District, Area and Division contests to the National Finals. "It's possible that one or more of our local winners could wind up in the finals, which will be held at the Super Bowl X in Miami on Jan. 18," Christwell said.

When contestants register, each entrant gets a free PP&K Tips Book. It contains helpful pointers from the pros on punting, passing and kicking. In the 1975 edition are suggestions from NFL stars Ray Guy, Ken Anderson, and Chester Marcol. Complete PP&K rules and suggested conditioning exercises for contestants are also included.

This is the 15th anniversary year for PP&K. From its inception, the youth activity has been sponsored by the Ford Dealers of America in conjunction with the National Football League. In that time more than 11.5 million youngsters have taken part in PP&K, making it one of the largest and fastest growing activities of its kind in America.

Golf Team Wins Two Dual Matches

Chelsea's Bulldog golfers have passed a week that can only be termed "victorious." The Bulldogs have won both dual matches and finished fourth in the Pinckney Invitational held Monday.

In a dual match played last Thursday in Brighton, the Chelsea Bulldogs defeated both Brighton and Saline, 170-182 and 170-180, respectively.

On Monday the team traveled to Pinckney where they played in a match with nine schools. Dan Shirilla was the second medalist for the 18-hole invitational, scoring 79 for the course. The Bulldogs finished fourth in the invitational.

A match played with Milan and South Lyon Tuesday, Sept. 30 on the Inverness course again ranked the Bulldog golfers number one. The team scored 158-165 over Milan and 158-175 over South Lyon. "We needed that one," remarked golf coach Pat Wade.

Scoring four under par, Mike Fouty shot a 32, marking up a new school record. Fouty was medalist for the day, followed by Dan Shirilla and Roger and Jeff Policht who shot 42's.

The golfers now stand at 8-3 in the conference. Today (Thursday) they will play Novi and Lincoln and on Friday meet in Dexter for their invitational.

Coach Wade said that while the team is in "good shape" they cannot afford to lose any matches in order to put them in the running for the conference title.

QUILTING is now the rage among women of all ages and especially in these times of the Bicentennial, women all over are picking up the craft as their grandmothers and great-grandmothers did. Pictured here is Mary Kumpf who has been among quilters for as long as she can remember. Both grandmothers and her mother quilt, as does Mary. Displayed are three quilts handed down to her from each grandmother. The quilt Mary holds was one put together out of necessity. The other two quilts were made and designed with color and proportion in mind.

Quilting Becomes Pleasure, Therapy

For Mary Kumpf, patchwork applique and quilting is not "in," it is something she learned from her grandmothers and her mother. Something that she knew as necessity and something she knew as beauty. Something she does today for pleasure, for therapy. "It's something I can pick-up anytime," Mary says.

Two quilts billow to the floor. "These are my pride and joy," Mary points out. To use a trite phrase, the two are as different as "night and day." They are. Mary tells the story of one grandmother who pulled together pieces from old jackets, pajamas, even feed sacks to put together a quilt to keep her family warm during winter frosts. The quilt is an array of deep somber colors, occasionally a bright red or blue, misshapen pieces that fit together miraculously.

Beside it lays a colorful quilt with colors co-ordinated, each piece fitting perfectly into the next and pulled together with what looks to be an intricate quilting design, but Mary said was done with a special quilting machine.

She immediately points to the quilt of "necessity" and says her grandmother used a treadle machine.

Mary, who has grown up with quilting, says that she really doesn't know much about its history, just bits and pieces she has heard now and then.

"Things have changed though," she said. For example, batting is no longer wool, but polyester, making today's quilts washable. Fabrics used for patchwork are also washable, making obsolete the former process of untying and separating quilts for their summer cleaning and then putting them back together for fall. Today the tying of quilts is simply to hold the three pieces (front, batting, and back) together, to make the quilt colorful and eliminate the need for the tedious and intricate quilting.

Mary showed examples of her own work. A pillow case that illustrates patchwork, the piecing of fabrics; applique, the applying of patched pieces to a larger piece through blind stitches and quilting, tiny threads which run through the fabrics joining them and creating very simple to intricate patterns.

With about five projects in the making, Mary is able to show the step by step method needed to create one quilt complete with patchwork and applique, ties or quilting. "It would be almost impossible to estimate the hours I put into making just one pillow case or quilt. I don't count. I do it because I enjoy it. And for Mary who is the mother of two children, it is "therapy."

Mary is happy to share her knowledge of quilting class for the Recreation Council's adult fall classes. The class will meet Tuesday evenings beginning Sept. 29 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the home economics room at the high school.

Persons interested in registering may call Mary at 475-1571.

Girls Varsity Cagers Lose to Manchester

Chelsea girls varsity basketball team was dealt their second loss of the season last Thursday evening (Sept. 25) when they met Manchester on their opponent's court. The Dutchwomen scored 41 to Chelsea's 24.

Coach Cheryl Turner reported that the game began as a tough defensive game by both teams with the first quarter ending 4-3. "From then on Chelsea fell victim to the problem that has plagued them all season, poor shooting."

High scorer for Chelsea was Penny Collinsworth (who was moved from J. V. to varsity along with Sue Heydlauff and Shelly Warren) with six points; Karen Keiser had five points, Kyle Parker had four points and Sharon Donovan had three. Also contributing to the score were Teresa Breza, Sue Heydlauff, Mickey Bridges and Teri Lutosky.

The girls' first league game was played Sept. 30 against Novi. A home game with South Lyon to be played Oct. 30 has been added to the schedule.

Chelsea girl's season record now stands at 1-2.

NOVI HALFBACK Bob Sasena goes after Howard Salyer in an attempt to trip him up on a wide sweep. The Bulldogs won their game against Novi last Friday in the first quarter of play on a field goal by Rex Miles. Final score, 3-0.

Ask the Governor...

Question: I recently read that a bill is coming up in Congress to allow dumping of partially treated wastes into Lake Michigan. I enjoy the lake and fish in it. I know that if sewage dumping is allowed it will ruin one of our states greatest resources. Please stop the Environmental Protection Agency from turning our lakes into sewers.

Governor: I appreciate your letter of support to stop the discharge of sewage from vessels into Michigan waters of the Great Lakes and connecting waters. As you may know, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) had rejected Michigan's initial application for a no-discharge rule. However, I have recently reapplied to the EPA asking that a no-discharge rule be applied to all recreational vessels immediately, and to commercial vessels within two years—thus allowing time to develop adequate pumpout facilities at all commercial ports of call.
I am hopeful of quick EPA approval of our most recent application; and again, thanks for your support.

Question: During the recession, the past several months, Michigan has relied heavily on the federal government to bail us out of our economic difficulties. We cannot expect the feds to continue supporting us too much longer. What is the state doing to help itself and its citizens?

Governor: I totally agree with you that we cannot rely on the federal government to ensure the economic well-being of our state. In Michigan we have done much to promote our own economic recovery and expansion, and I am committed to taking the initiative to keep the industries we have and to attract new ones. One such initiative is the Plant Rehabilitation Act, which allows a community to grant a 12-year property tax moratorium on a firm's renovated buildings and equipment.
The Plant Rehabilitation Act has already resulted in nearly $450 million in new investments in this state and has created about 8,300 new jobs for workers, in addition to saving 17,000 jobs that would have otherwise been lost.
Another measure is the new Single Business Tax, which will help stabilize state tax revenues and promote economic expansion by providing incentives for growth and efficiency while still recognizing the need for profitability. This takes effect on January 1.
Other initiatives include: the Economic Development Corporation Act, which gives communities the authority to establish a non-profit corporation that may use tax-free revenue bonds to finance new commercial, retail or industrial businesses, and a bill I recently signed giving municipalities the power to establish Downtown Development Authorities for the purpose of revitalizing commercial strips and central business districts. In addition, I am supporting legislation that would create a State Job Development Authority, which would be empowered to sell up to $200 million in bonds to finance manufacturing growth in Michigan.

Irish Hills Area Abounds With Historic Sites for Tourist Interest

Long recognized for its tourist attractions, the rolling Irish Hills in Lenawee county also is one of the state's best areas to view fall color, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"By mid-October or later, nature will transform the terrain into a patchwork quilt of brilliant reds, oranges and yellows—a perfect setting for a ramble on country backroads," says Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

The Irish Hills covers an area of about six square miles, with Clinton generally regarded as the eastern gateway, US-12 as the western boundary, Brooklyn on the north and Onsted on the south. Cambridge Junction is the hub.

At the eastern edge of the Irish Hills, Clinton and Saline are among the area communities well worth a visit to view examples of 19th Century architecture. Saline was settled in 1824, Clinton in 1838.

The Irish Hills was named by the Rev. William Lyster because the gentle slopes and sparkling lakes reminded him of his native land.

The area was settled in the 1830's by families who had left "The Auld Sod" of Ireland because of recurrent famines from potato crop failures.

Tourist attractions abound in the Irish Hills, and most are located on the stretch of US-12 between Clinton and Cambridge Junction. Generally they are open only on week-ends after Labor Day.

Commercial enterprises along US-12 are fanciful, ranging from Prehistoric Forest to the gravity-defying Mystery Hill. But perhaps most outstanding is Stagecoach Stop, an 1890-vintage Wild West town with all the trimmings. The main street of a pioneer town is recreated as a fun place for the entire family.
A general store, Old Trail Shop, flicker movie, Longhorn Saloon, Pistols and Petticoats Room, Amusement Arcade, train ride, Western Jewelry Shop, Ice Cream Parlor, Glass Gift Shop, Carriage Museum, Children's Barn Yard and old railroad caboose are among the Stagecoach Stop attractions.
Standing serenely amidst the US-12 hoopla is St. Joseph's Way-side church, an enlargement of a stone chapel built by Irish settlers in 1854. In the old churchyard is an outdoor reproduction of the Stations of the Cross with a life-sized Crucifixion group. Graves of Irish pioneers are in the churchyard. The Catholic shrine is open daily.
For a spectacular view of the Irish Hills, especially during the color season, visitors should climb one of the twin observation towers, a longtime Hills trademark. There are 52 lakes in the Hills, and many are visible from the 64-foot towers.

Three old-time inns are within a five-mile radius in the Hills. Bauer Manor, a one-time stagecoach stop built in 1834, is a mile east of Hayes State Park on US-12. It's still a restaurant. Springfield Inn, six miles west of Tipton on M-50, dates back to about 1840 and was so named because of the many flowing wells there. It is now a private residence.
Four miles away at Cambridge Junction is famous Walker Tavern, a National Historic Site and therefore cause less pavement wear.

Woodford said at least one major tire company is advertising a radial-ply winter tire that provides improved traction on ice without studs.

Studs meeting Michigan's restriction will be permitted in all of Michigan from Nov. 15 to April 1. They will be permitted north of the line of southern boundaries of Manistee county on Lake Michigan east through Iosco county on Lake Huron, from Oct. 1 to May 1, including Upper Peninsula.

THIS WORLD OF OURS

Sound, so vital a part of our existence, is growing to such disagreeable proportions within our environment that today it is a very real threat to our health. So noisy, in fact, is America's urban environment that people living in congested sections of large cities may be hearing far less than they realize; many are developing severe hearing loss.

VIEWPOINT

By SENATOR PHILIP A. HART

Most people would not think of buying a new car, new household appliances or even groceries without comparing costs and quality.
And usually, after reading the information provided, and testing or looking over the items, a purchase can be made with some confidence.

There is one product, however, purchased by two out of three Americans, which in most cases is bought by people who admittedly don't know for sure what they're getting. That product is life insurance.

In 1973 alone more than 20 million Americans laid down nearly $4 billion for the purchase of new life insurance policies, and 120 million paid more than $16 billion for the upkeep of policies. But studies show that only three out of every 10 persons buying the policies felt they knew what they were doing.

The problem with buying life insurance is that most policies just don't give enough clear-cut information. This is a problem that has been bothering me for some time.

About three years ago, therefore,
I asked the staff of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee to look into the problem of buying life insurance in some depth. In co-operation with the National Association of Insurance

Commissioners, a study was conducted to find a method to give consumers accurate, reliable and clear price, benefits and other relevant information.

Some of the data from the study was rather astounding. For example, it found that the 40 lowest cost life insurance companies selling participating policies sold only 890,000 of the 5.1 million new policies sold in 1972. The remaining four-fifth of individually sold life insurance policies were sold by relatively high cost companies.

It was also learned that only about one-third of policyholders keep their policies until their old age, and about 18 percent of all straight life policies sold are lapsed by the consumer within the first 13 months. This meant a loss to consumers of $55 million in premiums in 1971 alone!

Consumers, I'm sure, would consider price if they could. And I'm sure that they would consider the long range costs, interest and savings benefits if they could. But life insurance policies, as they are sold now simply don't provide that much information.

In July of this year I introduced a bill which, if passed, should help to eliminate some of the chance in buying life insurance. Under the proposed Consumer Insurance Information and Fairness Act, detailed cost and benefit information on a policy would be given the consumer before purchase, and periodic reports on the performance of any policy purchased would be required.

Before purchase, consumers would be given summary and yearly information which would include: amount of death protection provided; anticipated cash values and yearly rate of return; expected dividends; amount retained by company for overhead and profit; charges for paying the annual premium in installments; charges for making loans against the policy; number of consumers who dropped the policy within 13 months of purchase.

Each time a premium is due, consumers would be told: amount of refund (dividend) being paid compared to the amount forecast at time of purchase; total of accumulation of annual refunds; interest being paid; cash value of the policy.

Also dealt with in the bill is the problem of contractual relations between insurance agents and companies. This bill would allow agents to be sufficiently independent to do a truly professional job for the consumers.

Buying life insurance is an important investment for the future, but for many consumers it is a blind one. The Consumer Insurance Information and Fairness Act, when passed, could provide eye-opening information needed to help ensure sound investments.

Certainly it is not too much to expect to have as much information available in buying life insurance as in buying a car or groceries.

CONSUMERS' CORNER

FABRIC CARE LABELS

What's happened to the care labels for piece good fabrics?
Over a year ago, on July 3, 1972, the Care Labeling Act went into effect. There was much concern about it then. Now, however, it's almost as though it never came into existence.

The average woman doesn't know she's supposed to be given a care label with a fabric purchase, and many sales people have never heard of the labels, according to the trade publications "Home Sewing Trade News."

Most retailers have received supplies of labels from their suppliers. But, somewhere between that point and the consumer, things seemed to have collapsed.

A care label should accompany every purchase, according to the Federal Trade Commission regulations. If it is not included, it should be requested.

If a consumer indicates that the goods are intended for more than one article and that additional labels are required, these should be supplied by the fabric retailer.

COMPARISON SHOPPING

"Sensible shopping makes cents" is a good motto to keep in mind whenever you are shopping. It seems especially true when all of us are trying to feed families within our food budget. And comparison shopping makes sense.

A major bank in New York recently sent 2 shoppers to the same supermarket with the same grocery list—but one shopper was to compare prices while the other was not. The result was an $11.18 difference in their grocery bills.

The wise shopper should compare prices by using the unit pricing concept—how much you are actually paying for each ounce, quart or pound. Comparing size and convenience with what you really need or have room for are other important comparisons. Comparing brands is also important due to the wide variation in prices. And finally, compare your own menu possibilities for good meals at lower prices.

Some Private Lands Open for Hunting

Again in 1975, the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service program offers payments to farmers who allow public hunting on their lands.
Any farm that is participating must allow hunting on their land at no charge. The hunting will be regulated by the owner in case there are some crops yet to be harvested that might be damaged by hunters.

Dorn Diehl, state executive director of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office, states that the majority of these farms are in the lower one-third of the state.

A list of these farms may be obtained from any county ASCS office, the Michigan State ASCS office, any Michigan United Conservation Club, and the State Department of Natural Resources.
These lists will give the land-owner's name, county, township, section number and number of acres.

Public access farms can be identified by signs posted around boundaries of the farm which read, in part: "Hunting without charge.
Call at the farm headquarters." Each landowner will provide cards for the hunters to complete.
These are self-addressed cards and Diehl said it is very important that the hunter complete and return the card to the local county ASCS office. This is the only way the program can be appraised as to its total use and worth which, in turn, will determine if such programs will be continued in the future.

Hunting will be in accordance with the state game laws and regulations. For complete details, hunters may contact their local county ASCS office.

Sure, a $50,000 life policy could cost a lot of money... but it doesn't when it's "altogether!" When we say "altogether" we mean Perma-Term—permanent and term insurance combined to avoid those big premiums, but still deliver the big protection young family men need. It means you could have a $50,000 policy which lets you build up a retirement income at the same time! Yes, Perma-Term's easier on the budget, but please remember that costs go up as you grow older. TIM REED (45). Also in his second year with the varsity, senior halfback and fullback Tim Reed has no doubt the Bulldogs have a good team. Their season "all depends on whether we put it together or not," meaning working on their offensive effort. Tim has been named co-captain of the Chelsea 1976 varsity wrestling team and plans to play a third season of varsity baseball in the spring. When asked if he had any other interests or hobbies, he assured that being involved in three seasonal sports was enough. Tim has two brothers, Doug, 18, who is a freshman at Central Michigan, and Greg, 14. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, 13850 North Territorial Rd.

JIM MARSHALL (78): A senior who plays center for the Bulldogs, Jim Marshall at 5'10", 170 pounds, is in his second year with the varsity team. He played one year with the JV team and one year on the freshman team. While Jim is optimistic and believes the Bulldogs have a good chance to win the SEC title, he says he is concerned about the offense and hopes Friday's game against Brighton will give them "a chance to show a better offensive effort." Jim is a member of the Forensics team and the Key Club. He has one brother, Jeff, who is a sophomore at Central Michigan University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Marshall of 15595 Old US-12.

Dexter Realtor Firm Joins National Service

Floyd Jordan, realtor for Fletcher & Klein, Inc., of 8074 Main St., announced today that their firm is now associated with "Century 21," a national service, that offers help in relocating, as well as a wider service to local listings.

The affiliation with the national organization helps the local office give even better professional service both in finding homes for people and finding people for homes, according to Jordan.

SEC. ROUND-UP:

Chelsea, Milan Lead Conference Only Two Undeclared Teams

Chelsea High school's Bulldogs and Milan's Big Reds hold top rank in the SEC standings for the '75 season. In their game played last Friday, the Bulldogs marked up their first victory in four years over the Novi Wildcats while the Big Reds knocked off Saline for the first time in "many, many years" according to Milan coach George Genyk. The frontrunners won't meet one another on the football field until Oct. 17.

Milan 21, Saline 6

Thanks to a "seasoned defensive unit," so termed by coach George Genyk, Milan's Big Reds upset their Salinian opponents, 21-6, pushing them into position with the Chelsea Bulldogs for first place in the SEC conference. The Big Reds stonewall defense limited the Hornets to 97 yards while Milan quarterback Jeff Genyk connected on eight of 12 passes for 120 yards. Backing up the coach's son were receivers Bob Gruden, Don Ludwig, Mark Mishler and Phil Stautler who ran some fine routes to execute their blocking assignments. Fred Peterson kicked all three extra points for Milan.

Lincoln 35, South Lyon 0

The Railsplitters marked up their first win of the season Friday evening on the running of Rim Hess and Dean Amrhein together with their stubborn defense. Hess and Amrhein scored two touchdowns each while teammate

Jerry Crawford scored the final exponent.

Defensively, the team was led by Linard Wesley who made 10 tackles. Quarterback for the Railsplitters, George Czinski, also had a big night, completing four out of nine passes for 101 yards.

Dexter 7, Brighton 0

The Dreadnaughts' Bill Bernard gained 12 yards Friday night to score the only touchdown for his team, marking up their first victory of the '75 season over Brighton. The senior fullback also kicked the extra point. The Dexter defense held their opponents to a total of 170 yards while their leading ground gainer, Dale Varrelman, picked up 145 yards on 23 carries. Dexter only gained a total of 193 yards for the entire game.

Chelsea 3, Novi 0

The Bulldogs defeated their opponents with 8:32 left in the first quarter of play on a field goal booted by Rex Miles. Little did the team, nor their coach, Phil Bareis expect the 3-0 on the scoreboard to be the final score for the game. It was the first time the Bulldogs were victorious over the Wildcats in four years. The Wildcats were held to 98 yards total offense with big plays coming from Leon Brown and Miles. Middleguard for Chelsea John Sullivan aided in the effort with eight stops.

Leading the rushing attack was Tony Robards who picked up 9 yards in 20 carries for the Bulldogs.

Serious Injuries Averted in Crash At Intersection

Roland Spaulding of 14210 Eisenbeiser Rd. just missed sustaining serious bodily injuries last Saturday morning, Sept. 27 when he failed to yield the right of way while crossing north to south on Werkner Rd. at M-52, colliding with two vehicles.

According to Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, the accident occurred when Spaulding's, 1974 Chevy crossed M-52 and made contact with an oncoming car that was traveling northeast on M-52. The vehicle forced Spaulding into a third car which was stopped at the intersection. The vehicles belonged to Jean Wheeler of Manchester and Jesse Coburn of Boyce Rd.

The Sheriff's Department reported only minor injuries. Information on the amount of damage sustained by the three vehicles was not available.

A VISIT TO AN APPLE ORCHARD: Children of the Chelsea Co-Op Nursery visited the apple orchard of Dr. and Mrs. Harmon J. Webb last Monday. The afternoon was spent picking apples which they will later use in cooking projects. Pictured with some of the children is Mrs. Webb (left) and Dr. Webb who acted as hosts for the day.
