

Minor Disturbances Mark Continuing Rockwell Strike

Chrysler Corp., armed with a Circuit Court injunction signed by Washtenaw County Circuit Judge Ross W. Campbell, succeeded in sending a semi-truck through a 35-man picket line of striking Rockwell International workers here Tuesday morning, Feb. 15.

The truck, authorized to pick up Rockwell manufactured parts for Chrysler Corp., arrived partially loaded with parts customarily used to supply local Rockwell production lines, according to union committeemen and the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department who jointly supervised the loading process. None of the parts were allowed to leave the truck.

The striking workers, members of the UAW Amalgamated Local 437, left their jobs at midnight Friday, Feb. 4, when their three-year contract expired. They have continued to maintain around the clock picketing since that time.

Documented attempts by three truck drivers to cross picket lines in the past five days have led to a tensely strained relationship between the 160 striking union members, Rockwell management, and the Chelsea Police Department. One of the truck drivers was reportedly a member of a Jackson Teamsters local, while another truck was believed to be owned by ICC, a union trucking firm.

What the hourly workers see as Rockwell's attempts to break the strike have sparked two incidents of window-breaking and an exchange of heated verbal blows in an otherwise peacefully conducted strike.

Late Monday evening, Feb. 14, a spike was hurled through the windshield of an Allied semi crossing picket lines without an injunction, according to Jason Wahl, vice-chairman of Local 437. The incident was confirmed by Chelsea police. Sometime after 2 a.m. Wednesday morning, Feb. 16, a rock was thrown through the front office glass door window of the local Rockwell plant. Neither incident resulted in injury.

"We're not going to be run over by them anymore," one angry striker proclaimed Tuesday as he watched the Chrysler truck drive away. "Rockwell lied to us when they said the truck was coming in empty. It came in with parts," another striker added.

Alongside their anger aimed at "scab drivers," the strikers vocalized a string of grievances against the Chelsea Police Department, which they feel is sympathetic to Rockwell in the current strike. Several union members stated that there was cause for partiality towards Rockwell by Chelsea police because Jerry Ringe, personnel manager for Rockwell, was also a part-time officer with the local police department. Other examples of police prejudice against the strikers, union members said, was exemplified by their conduct towards those picketing.

"They're never there when the windows break or when the scab trucks violate traffic laws, but they are there to escort the trucks half-way to Detroit, or harass our picket lines," a striker, who wished to remain unidentified, stated. Union member Richard Risner stated he was a witness to these allegations. Chelsea Police Chief George

Meranuck vehemently denied his department was sympathetic to the management side, stating the department was required by law to protect the peace and enforce laws sometimes unpopular with the strikers. "For example, in a strike situation we are legally required to keep all entrances and exits to the struck facility clear," he said.

In answer to accusations that Chelsea police went out of their area of jurisdiction to escort a truck driver who had crossed picket lines, Meranuck said the jurisdiction of Chelsea police can be the same as that of the county sheriff's department because Chelsea officers are all deputized by the sheriff's department. He added that strikers following the departing driver were threatening the driver over CB radios, and it was the department's responsibility to keep the driver from being harmed.

"There are no hard feelings on our part toward the union," Chief Meranuck continued. "We're not playing favorites. In fact, the truck driver was no friend of ours and it would have been a lot better for us if he never came."

"From a legal standpoint, we are entrusted with certain duties which we must perform. We overlook many minor legal infractions on the part of the picketers just to keep the peace," he concluded.

Ironically, union members unanimously praised the performance of the county Sheriff's Department during their brief appearance at the scene of the strike Tuesday morning. "They made sure nothing went off that truck that wasn't supposed to," one striker said. A companion added, "That's right, Minick (Sheriff Tom Minick) did do what he said he would do."

A lingering bone of contention for striking Rockwell workers revolves around their claim that Rockwell is using white collar employees in jobs restricted to blue collar workers by union regulations. Another rumor, that Rockwell was using non-union help to run union jobs, is currently the subject of a union injunction request.

When contacted for his response to union accusations, and to the various incidents which have erupted as a result of the strike, Chelsea Rockwell plant manager, Don Baldwin, refused to comment.

Main table talks in the contract dispute, which have been recessed since Sunday, Feb. 6, following a breakdown in negotiations, remain at their former impasse. Wahl and Harold Salyer, board chairman of Local 437, reported the union bargaining committee has been called into meetings by Rockwell, but the corporation refuses to negotiate any further. "We're ready anytime," Wahl declared, "but the company has not responded."

Officials of Local 437 state they do not blame the local Rockwell management for the impasse in negotiations, but blame the national management, who they say is responsible for ordering the actions of the local group. Many in the union feel the national organization is impervious to the local strike as the Chelsea Rockwell plant is too small to affect Rockwell's over-all operations.

Varsity Cagers Squeak Past Manchester

A dogfight between the Bulldogs varsity cagers and Manchester's Flying Dutchmen sent Manchester crashing to defeat, 67-71, on Tuesday, Feb. 15. The exciting, action-packed victory was Chelsea's fifth in their last seven games.

"I'm really pleased with the way the team is playing," Coach Tom Balistrere said. "The guys are really hustling and exhibiting some fine team basketball."

Chelsea came down hard on the Flying Dutchmen with some well-balanced scoring as Pete Feeney deposited 15 points. Close behind him were Don Morrison with 14; Dean Thompson and Randy Sweeney, 10 each; Jerry Benjamin, 9; Tony Robards, 7; Dave Schrotenboer, 4; and Marc Feeney, 2.

The Bulldogs grabbed a 41-32 half-time lead which was reduced to only two points by a Manchester counterattack after Chelsea's Tony Robards and Randy Sweeney got into foul trouble. Helping the Bulldogs stay abreast of Manchester's attempted comeback were the fine efforts of Dean Thompson who came in off the bench.

Maintaining their advantage, the Bulldogs eased out a 71-67 victory. Their success was patterned on a combination of good defense and accuracy on the boards, Coach Balistrere stated. High rebounder was Randy Sweeney with 11. Also contributing to the victory were Don Morrison with 4 assists, and Pete Feeney with 3 assists and 3 steals.

Statistically, the Bulldogs totaled 22 field goals for a 39 percent shooting average, and sank 27 of 37 from the foul line for a 73 percent average. Chelsea collected 28 rebounds, 7 turnovers, 12 steals and 10 assists.

As Tuesday was Senior Night, the following senior cagers were honored at their last home game in their high school basketball careers: Anthony Houle, Jeff Sweet, Dean Thompson, Jerry Likavec, Tony Robards, Randy Sweeney, Pete Feeney, and Don Morrison.

In recognition of the occasion, Coach Balistrere praised the seniors for their fine play and contributions to this year's ball club.

VARSITY WRESTLERS: With their season nearly over, these members of the Chelsea High school wrestling squad have already secured an admirable record of achievement for their efforts this year. Though a relatively young team, Chelsea's matmen finished second in the Southeastern Conference and 10th in District Finals last week-end. Three of the wrestlers qualified for regional competition to be held Saturday, Feb. 19 at Riverview. Kneeling, in the front row, from left, are manager Steve Grau, Joe Branham, Rick Beeman, Jim Stahl, Joe Keiser, Chuck Young, John Bulick,

Debate Team Grabs 6th Place In State Tournament Marathon

Chelsea High's varsity debate team realized their best debate season since 1970, as they argued their way to a sixth-place finish in the State Finals Debate Tournament, Saturday, Feb. 12, at the Southfield Sheraton, Southfield. Preliminary tournament rounds opened Feb. 10.

In Saturday's elimination rounds, the Bulldogs were defeated by Caro, who went on to capture titlist honors. Eight top Class B teams had advanced to the finals in the three-day marathon debate contest, and placed in the following order: Caro, 1st; Essexville Garber, 2nd; Marshall, 3rd; Lansing Waverly, 4th; Grand Rapids Christian, 5th; Chelsea, 6th; Portage Northern 7th; and Birmingham Brother Rice, 7th.

Teaming up for Chelsea on the affirmative side were Tammy Pughli and Barb Hinderer, while upholding the negative were Lesley Clark and Julie Prohaska. They cited the pros and cons of a well-rehearsed national debate topic anchored on penal reform.

"I couldn't have been more proud of their performance," said Coach (Continued on page six)

FFA Chapter Still District Champions

Some 30 members of neighboring high school Future Farmers of America (FFA) chapters arrived in Chelsea Thursday, Feb. 10, to compete in the District FFA Leadership Contest hosted by Chelsea High school. Eight CHS students claimed first-place certificates as four more followed with silver ratings to give Chelsea an undisputed title as District Champion.

Chelsea has remained the leader in district competition for the past 30 years. Attempting to upset their stranglehold on the title were teams from Dexter, Milan, and Saline. Chelsea resisted the challenge, allowing only one division winner to surface from Milan's ranks, and three to rise from the Saline FFA corps.

Winning top honors in parliamentary procedure for Chelsea were FFA members Tim Welshans, chairman; Shelley Hatt, Mark Lesser, Becky Bollinger, Bob Ball, Ken Bollinger, and Cindy Welshans. Parliamentary procedure defines the rules by which meetings are conducted.

Recipient of the Greenhand Public Speaking Award was CHS student Patty Shoemaker.

Chelsea FFA winners of a silver rating were Dawn Roderick, job interview; Lucy Bott, public speaking; and Tammy Downer and Lisa Bauer, demonstration.

Chelsea High school FFA advisor is Dave Nicewicz.

With Thursday's victory, members of the local FFA are eligible for regional competition, Feb. 24, at North Adams. Winners of the regionals will advance to the state finals in March. Trophies will be presented to the top finishers in both regional and state contests.

Judging on all levels of competition is based on the contestant's ability to demonstrate leadership qualities. Sponsor of the event is the State FFA Association.

Hit By Train, Man Escapes Serious Injury

A 36-year-old area man, Troy Lee Lewis of 16831 Kilmer Rd., escaped serious injury after being struck by an Amtrak train at the Hayes St. crossing early Tuesday morning, Feb. 15.

Lewis was pinned inside his 1976 Chevy pick-up for nearly an hour before being rescued from the vehicle by the Grass Lake Fire Department.

According to Chelsea police officer David Peebles, Lewis claimed not to have seen the train or the blinking railroad crossing warning lights as he approached the tracks.

The Amtrak commuter hit his truck while slowing to pick up passengers at the Chelsea station.

Chelsea police transported Lewis to Chelsea Community Hospital for treatment of his injuries. He was issued a ticket for failing to stop at a signalized railroad crossing.

3 Wrestlers Qualify For Regional Meet

Chelsea's wrestling season is winding down fast as only three Bulldog matmen will travel to the regionals Saturday, Feb. 19.

The trio advanced to regional competition following their championship performance in the District Tournament last Saturday, Feb. 12.

Junior Rick Beeman, Mike Young, and Todd Headrick all won their two qualifying matches Saturday as they helped Chelsea place 10th in a field of 20 Class B teams. Now Boston ran away with the district title.

Young scored a 7-0 win over Pinckney and a 7-2 decision over New Boston Huron to boost his record to 30-1.

Beeman improved on his record making it 22-8, as he scored a fall victory over Riverview, and returned to the mats for a 1-0 overtime win over Gibraltar Carlton. The match went into overtime as Beeman fought back from a 7-2

17-Year-Old in Jail For B&E, Forgery

Only three short weeks after being apprehended on charges of breaking and entering a private dwelling, 17-year-old Jeffrey Scripser was again in police custody, this time for illegally entering a local business firm and attempting to cash a forged check. Also arrested was his accomplice, a Chelsea juvenile.

Victim of the Feb. 12 break-in was Farm Bureau Insurance Co. Dave Rowe Agency, on S. Main St. A business check, stolen from the premises, led to Scripser's downfall as he attempted to cash it at Chelsea's Jiffy Market.

According to police reports, at about 3 p.m. Saturday, Richard Jennings was in his place of business, The Photo Depot, when he heard a noise from the front office area which adjoins the Farm Bureau office on the second floor of the location.

Upon investigation, Jennings found the Farm Bureau office door standing partially ajar. Entering the office, he discovered the juvenile in a stooped position behind a desk.

Jennings asked the youth what he was doing there, and the youth replied he was looking for his photographs. Observing that the door appeared forced open, Jennings took the youth into his photography studio for further questioning, then released him, and contacted the Chelsea Police Department.

Shortly before receiving Jennings' call, Scripser had been arrested by Patrolman John Detling at Jiffy Market for attempting to pass a $100 forged check belonging to the insurance company.

That arrest capped a sequence of events which began when Scripser came into Jiffy Market, selected a few items from the shelves, and brought them to the check-out counter where he presented the forged check. Gene Shoemaker, Jiffy Market owner and personally acquainted with Rowe, knew Scripser was not connected with the agency. Consequently, he summoned police.

A customary body search of the accused led to the discovery of a bent door lock plate from the Farm Bureau office in Scripser's back pocket.

Under questioning at Chelsea police headquarters, Scripser admitted he had forced open the locked Farm Bureau door with help from the juvenile accomplice, pushing it in with his shoulder. The two suspects began searching the room by going through several desk drawers.

On one of the desks, the juvenile found $70 in cash which he stuffed into his sock. Scripser found a business check book in the bottom drawer of one desk and removed four blank checks. When Jennings entered the room, he failed to see Scripser, who fled out the door after Jennings left with the youth.

Scripser further stated he tore up three of the checks and threw them away, keeping only the one he tried to cash. He denied taking any money. The missing $70 was later found in the juvenile's possession.

After Jennings released the youth, the youth joined Scripser, and the two made their way to the juvenile's residence. Scripser left (Continued on page six)

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

It never ceases to amaze me how the fellows at the country store manage to stay one jump ahead of world events. You recall late last year they were talking about the Arabs falling out with one another about raising the price of their oil, and the fellows figured the Arabs was worried about competition from Alaska oil coming through the new pipeline. The Arab oil item was on the agenda Saturday night, and Ed Doolittle reported it looks like the January price hike has backfired.

Ed said Iran's oil sales is down 40 percent, and it is having to cut back on all kinds of building and buying on account of the loss of income. It looks like their greed may turn on em, went on Ed. By the time they realize they're hurting themselves by gouging their oil customers that they have to buy everything they need from may be we can get the Alaska oil moving. Ed said the last Arab oil price jump could help us by forcing us to figger ways to help ourselves.

General, the fellows saw what Ed was driving at. Bug Hookum said we ought to do the same thing with this coffee pricing. Even if we can't grow our own, Bug said, we can go back to other ways to skin the cat. Bug had saw in the paper where "depression coffee" was coming back. A fellow had roasted and ground barley and mixed it half-and-half with coffee and served it to folks at a party. Nobody could tell the difference. And barley probable is better for you, Bug said.

Actual, Mister Editor, the fellows was full agreed that Americans are to set in their ways. We git in a rut and we call it a groove and we stay there. It goes back to wimmen wanting the same lengths of shirts, and the men wanting the same kind of haircuts. We fall behind somebody we think is doing somepun right and we don't look for anything better. We think we can't live without a car fer ever member of ever family and plenty of gas, no matter how much it cost.

Right now, Bug went on, few of us are willing to really work at cutting back or changing. We don't want to set at home and drink barley while our neighbors are riding the road and sipping 50-cent-a-cup coffee when they stop for 75-cent-a-gallon gas, Bug allowed. He said we follow the same rut in most everything from politics to pulling crab grass. Ever onct in a long while, Bug said, a brave soul will come along like the fellow in New Jersey that sewed his whole yard in crab grass.

Practical speaking, Bug said this is why he never gits excited when a new politician or a new kind of flu comes along. Folks will stay right in their rut until they're hit by a disaster big enough to make them think fer themselves. We'll perk up now and then, like the young folks trying out a new dance step, Bug said, but it ain't long until we're right back doing the same old fox trot. Like federal spending, he went on, we ain't realized yet when we dance somebody's got to pay the fiddler.

Yours truly,

Uncle Lew.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

To Battle Crime
If the legislature goes along, 309 Michigan State Police troopers will be patrolling freeways in Detroit and several other Michigan cities late this year.
It's an $8.4 million move by Gov. William Milliken aimed at fighting crime in the state's urban areas. That's how much it will cost to hire and equip the new troopers.

A string of violent assaults on motorists on Detroit freeways prompted Milliken in August to order the State Police temporarily onto those 62.4 miles of urban freeway.
Since then, assaults on stranded drivers have dropped and arrests have soared. And meanwhile, Detroit police officers can spend their full time on off-freeway crime.

Now Milliken wants to stretch the program to include suburban Detroit freeways and those in Grand Rapids, Flint, Lansing and Saginaw. In those cities, freeway assaults are infrequent, but the crime rate is soaring off the freeways. City police would be freed up to combat that.

Power Prognosis
Snug and warm now with plenty of power, Michigan's situation could change drastically if the state is forced to give up some of its natural gas supplies to shivering states like Ohio, state and gas company officials predict.

As long as no sharing is forced on the state, they say, it is likely to get by. And Gov. William Milliken has said that it would be unfair for Michigan to share its gas supplies with other states just to keep their industries going.

Unlike many other states, Michigan gas utilities have vast storage fields which they stock during the summer months and draw upon during the winter, when the demand on gas pipelines is high.

But those fields are designed to meet temperatures of only about 10-12 degrees below normal, and already the winter has been averaging 20 degrees below normal.

Though the state has no problem now, things could get serious in late February or early March, when the gas supply in the fields is nearly depleted, says James Woodruff, of the state Public Service Commission's gas section.

So it's in Michigan's best interest to hoard its gas supplies, and cut down on gas use as well, they say.

Most agree, however, that if Ohio or Alabama or any other power-poor state reaches the last resort and shuts off power to small businesses and homes, Michigan then would be morally required to share its power wealth.

Fish Slightly Smother
This frigid winter holds no security for fish, either. Beneath many inches of ice and snow, they are slowly smothering in Michigan's inland lakes.

Without sunlight, lake-bottom plants cannot photosynthesize and produce oxygen. So many varieties of sport fish—perfectly comfortable in the icy waters—still are dying because they have no oxygen.

Particularly susceptible are bluegill, yellow perch, walleye and bass. The hardest fish are the least desirable—carp and others.

John Scott, the state's chief fish biologist, says that while many fish are dead already beneath the snow and ice, some lakes are being opened to unlimited fishing, so the remaining fish can be caught before they smother.

Michigan has some 11,000 inland lakes and because this winter has so far been so persistently cold, the fish kill is likely to be higher than it has been in years, Scott said.

So many people talk about what is wrong with the country that careless listeners are apt to overlook the many things that are right.

Community Education Classes

Residents of the Dexter School District will once again benefit from courses offered through a Community Education program beginning Feb. 22. Sponsored by the Friends of the Library, it will offer courses in six areas at the beginning. Its growth will depend on community interest shown and facilities and teachers available.

The following courses are being offered: Sewing, Children's Dance, Exercise and Movement for Adults, Craft Workshops, Creative Writing, Children's Gymnastics and Gardening.

All classes will continue for eight weeks with the exception of the Craft Workshops which will last only four weeks, two hours per weekly session, with the macrame workshop extending to three hours.

Registration for classes will be handled by mail only, on a first-received, first enrolled basis beginning on Feb. 11. Registration will end Feb. 19. Checks will be returned immediately if there is no opening in the class indicated.

If your check is not returned in three days or if you have not heard by phone, then you may assume you are enrolled. Classes are limited.

Once enrolled there can be no refunds made. Please make checks out to Dexter Community Education, Box 127, Dexter. Classes must have an enrollment of eight in order to be held. If classes are cancelled due to inclement weather or school closing, classes will be extended one week. Use the registration form printed elsewhere in this issue.

Classes will begin on Feb. 22 except for the Monday classes which begin on Feb. 28 because of the holiday on Feb. 21.

There is a stimulating assortment of teachers involved in the program, some familiar faces and some faces relatively new to the community, all anxious to add a little more "know-how" and pleasure to one's day.

Sewing
Betty Vail will return to give a basic sewing class at the high school on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9. There is a limit of 10 students for this class. High school students and adults are eligible. Children's Dance
Alice Hayna is a relatively new face in Dexter. She brings to her dance classes a wide range of experience in teaching dance, recently through the Ann Arbor Recreation Program. The only requirement she has is that the children go barefooted during the dance period. Any clothing that allows for freedom of movement is appropriate.

The classes will be divided into three groups: 4-year-olds through K; 1st through 3rd and 4th through 8th grades. 4-yr.-K will meet at Bates gym on Tuesday from 4 to 4:30 p.m. This class is $4. Mr. and Mrs. R. Douglas Stanley

Sandra Owens, Douglas Stanley Are Wed at St. Jacobs Church

Sandra Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Owens of Saline, married R. Douglas Stanley, son of Mrs. Margaret Stanley of Chelsea, and Raymond Stanley of Farmington Hills, Saturday, Jan. 29, 4 p.m. in St. Jacobs Evangelical Lutheran church, Grass Lake. The bridegroom is the grandson of the late Earl and Olive Beeman of Chelsea.

The Rev. Andrew Bloom, pastor of the parish, conducted the ceremony before 100 guests.

As she approached the altar, the bride was wearing a white satin empire waist gown with sheer sleeves and flower trim down the dress-front and train. Completing her attire was a full-length veil. The dress was made by Mrs. Wilhard Kohler of Clinton.

Maid of honor for the occasion was Darlene Owens of Saline, sister of the bride. She appeared in a royal blue velvet empire waist gown with an old-fashioned lace bib. In her hand was a bouquet of white roses with royal blue starburst flowers.

Serving as bridesmaids were Stacey Stanley of Farmington Hills, sister of the bridegroom; Linda Smith of Dexter; and Lois Alber of Ann Arbor. Their gowns were identical to that of the maid of honor, but they carried single white roses.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Owens wore an aqua, full-length empire-waist dress with butterfly sleeves.

Other wedding attendants included flowergirl Krista Kohler of Clinton, who appeared in a light blue velvet dress which matched those of the bridesmaids. She also carried a basket of light blue flowers. Ringbearer was Michael Smith of Dexter.

Keith Edwards of South Lyon was best man. He was assisted by ushers Ron Fox of Lakeland; Joe Smith of Dexter; and Jeff Owens of Saline, brother of the bride.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at Chelsea Rod and Gun Club, attended by 200 guests. Mrs. Beverly Loucks of Chelsea was hostess for the affair. Tracy Lewis of Chelsea was in charge of the guest book and gifts, while Mrs. Bonnie Kohler of Clinton cut the cake. Serving as bartenders were Mr. and Mrs. David Buku of Chelsea. Instrumental to the success of the reception celebration were Mrs. Larverne Walz, Mrs. Robert Dawson, Mrs. Fred Klink, Sr., and Mrs. Gordon Whitaker, all of Grass Lake, who assisted with food and decorations.

Poor weather conditions interrupted the honeymoon plans of the newlyweds, who instead stayed overnight at Weber's Inn, Ann Arbor. They currently reside on Park St. in Chelsea.

The former Miss Owens is a 1970 graduate of Saline High school. Her husband is a 1969 graduate of Franklin High school, Livonia, and is currently employed by O & S Bearing, Whitmore Lake.

PAST NOBLE GRANDS CLUB

The February meeting of the Past Noble Grands Club of Chelsea Rebekah Lodge was held at the home of Marion Pickell. A dessert luncheon in the valentine theme was enjoyed by the 12 members present. Lucille Altstaetter was appointed chairman of the planning committee for the year. It was announced that the group's rummage sale would be held May 5 and 6 at the Sylvan Town Hall. Cards are being sent for the bakeless bake sale. The group has 15 walker bags ready for convalescent homes.

Next meeting will be March 8 at Dorothy Keezer's home.

Students at Michigan State University come from every county in Michigan, every state of the union, and 86 foreign countries.

Jaycee Auxiliary Chooses Chairmen For New Projects

Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary held the Feb. 15 membership meeting at the home of Carol McElroy. Fourteen members and three guests were in attendance.

Bill Tudor, president of the Chelsea Jaycees, appeared before the group to thank the Auxiliary for gifts presented to the Jaycees during Jaycee Week in January.

During the meeting, members stuffed 3,500 envelopes for the Cancer Foundation, and will address the envelopes at a later date.

Reports were given on several projects, including the Cribbage Tournament, DSA Banquet, Blood Pressure Clinic, Bowling for Burns Tournament, Make Today Count and Fluoride Treatment program.

Chairpersons were selected for six new projects, Easter Egg Coloring, Adopt A Grandparent, Meal Drivers Recognition, Jaycette Week, I. D. Tags, and Golfing for Burns.

Girl of the Month award was presented to Tessie Monroe for the month of January. Mrs. Monroe also received the "90-Day Wonder" award in appreciation of her work during the months of November, December and January. Both awards are in honor of outstanding service.

The next Auxiliary meeting will be held at the home of Elsie O'Dell on March 15.

Modern Mothers Speaker Discusses Planned Parenthood

Carol Flintoft served as hostess for the Tuesday, Feb. 8 meeting of Modern Mothers Child Study Club. Co-hostesses Kathy Love and Barbara Brown assisted in welcoming the 21 members present.

Barbara Seabury, board of director member of the Washtenaw County League for Planned Parenthood, briefly discussed this agency and its operation. Volunteers to work in the Ann Arbor clinic or to re-establish a clinic in Chelsea are always welcome.

Another portion of the program was a film entitled "Eat, Drink and Be Wary." Emphasis was placed on the quantity of harmful chemical and sugar loaded foods which have become a part of our society. A tremendous amount is spent to promote these "junk" foods, requiring all consumers to indeed be wary.

A lengthy business meeting centered on the use of profits from our craftbooks and possible revision of the 1973 cookbook. The craftbook is now available to the public and anyone interested in obtaining a copy should contact a club member or finance chairman Janet Rossi at 475-2143.

CHANDLER-BOCK: Mr. and Mrs. William D. Chandler of 765 Howard Rd., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Cynthia Sue, to Jay Richard Bock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harve S. Bock of Farmington. A graduate of Chelsea High school, the future bride is currently a senior at Michigan State University. She will graduate in March with a BA in interior design. Her fiancé, a 1976 graduate of Michigan State University with a BS in mechanical engineering, is employed by the Apparatus Division of the Eastman-Kodak Co., Rochester, N.Y. A July 16 wedding is planned.

WESLEYAN CIRCLE

Can you afford to expand?

Hard expansion means land expansion. For the best analysis of your financial needs at a time when land prices are doubling, see your Federal Land Bank representative. Today's capital expenditures run high for expansion. That's why the Land Bank offers large amounts of capital that's truly long-term at reasonable rates. When you think expansion, think Land Bank.

Fluoride Tooth Program Will Again Be Offered

Chelsea's Jaycee Auxiliary will once again sponsor a summer topical fluoride program for the benefit of area children who do not drink from Chelsea's water supply, or who have only recently moved into the community, according to Carol Smith, chairman of the Jaycee Auxiliary's topical fluoride committee.

Most Chelsea youngsters have consumed fluoridated water during the time their teeth were developing and will receive no additional value from the topical application of sodium fluoride.

Three- or four-year-old pre-schoolers, 2nd graders, 5th graders, and 8th graders who drink from private wells or from non-fluoridated public water systems are eligible for the program.

Also eligible are 8th graders who have lived in Chelsea less than seven years; 5th graders who have lived here less than five years; and 2nd graders and pre-schoolers with less than three years of residency. Parents who would like any other of their children to receive the fluoride application, may register those children for the treatment.

The procedure consists of four visits to the fluoride clinic which will be held at Beach school. The child's teeth are cleaned and covered with a fluoride solution on the first visit. On the three succeeding visits, only fluoride application is done. This technique has been shown to reduce tooth decay by about 40 percent.

In addition to providing protection against cavities, the program offers a valuable dental experience for children, without any corresponding discomfort.

A fee of $4.75, to cover operating costs of the clinic, will be charged. Parents of eligible children have until March 1 to enroll their youngsters in the program. Those interested in having their children receive the fluoride treatment, but lacking the necessary registration cards, should complete the coupon printed elsewhere in this issue of The Standard and send it, with the $4.75 registration fee, to: Mrs. Carol Smith, 19890 Old US-12, Chelsea.

Varsity Cagers Fall To Milan Late Rally

On Friday, Feb. 11, Milan's Big Reds felled Chelsea's latest hot streak as they whipped the Bulldogs varsity cagers, 85-74. Throughout the game, the score remained close until midway in the fourth quarter when Milan plunged ahead with a devastating lead to sew up the game.

"I was pleased with the team's performance," Coach Tom Ballistrere remarked following the contest. "We did a good job rebounding and took good percentage shots."

The Bulldogs fought to a 20-18 lead at the end of the first quarter. Scoring in the well-balanced Bulldog attack during that period were Pete Feeney with 4 points; Tony Robards, 4; Don Morrison, 4; Randy Sweeney, 4; and junior Dave Schrotenboer, 4.

As the fast-paced second quarter drew to a close, the Big Reds plugged the two-point gap to tie the score. Containing Milan's efforts with some great passes were Pete Feeney, 6 points; Dave Schrotenboer, 8; and Tony Robards, 2. At half-time, the score was knotted, 36-36.

In third quarter action, the Bulldogs stayed with the Big Reds, who are second in the SEC league, locking into position right behind Milan, 51-56. Scoring for Chelsea were Pete Feeney, 4 points; Don Morrison, 5; Dave Schrotenboer, 4; and Randy Sweeney, 2.

A grueling battle with Milan, Friday, Feb. 11, ended in a wave of disappointment and frustration for Chelsea's JV cagers as they duplicated a previous one-point loss to the Big Reds, 58-59. The results of that game dropped the JV record to 6-10.

"We've lost quite a few that way, always by one or two points," Coach Paul Terpstra acknowledged. "The reason is consistently the same—we fall too far behind in the first quarter."

Although the Bulldogs trailed, 10-7, at the end of the first period, they returned to outscore Milan by six from the floor in the remaining three-fourths of the game. However, the Big Reds outplayed Chelsea from the foul line, scoring 13 points to Chelsea's 6.

Leading the Bulldogs attack were Gary Dils with 19 points; Jesse Coburn, 12; and Charlie Bridges, 12. High rebounders were Al Augustine, Bridges, and Dils with 7 each, and Dave Schrotenboer with 6.

"We have been playing very well as of late," Coach Ballistrere continued. "Although we played a powerful game Friday, Milan played even better. We stayed with them all the way, but the difference was at the line. Milan averaged 86 percent with 19 of 22, and Chelsea managed only 64 percent with 16 of 25."

Waterloo Area Residents Welcome New Family

Some 130 residents of Waterloo and surrounding areas gathered at Waterloo Township Hall, Saturday evening, Feb. 12, to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Ted Mead to the community. The Meads assumed ownership of Waterloo Garage on Jan. 1, after purchasing the business from Glenn Rentschler.

The group launched the celebration with the performance of a Welcome Song, and a prayer offering recited by Mrs. Duane Walz. A bountiful supper followed.

Duane Walz, Waterloo Township Supervisor, presided at a post-supper succession of speeches. He began by briefly summarizing Rentschler's 41-year business career in the village. Rentschler first opened his garage on Waterloo Rd. in April, 1928. He moved the business to its present location on the corner of Clear Lake Rd. and Waterloo Rd. in 1948. Upon retirement in April, 1967, Rentschler rented out the garage to various area businessmen.

Each of those in attendance was then asked to introduce themselves. Accompanying their introduction, many guests related humorous anecdotes about the garage or reminisced about pleasant childhood days in the village.

Mrs. Vern Siegrist, who had been employed for some time at the former Fairbrother Store directly across the road from the Waterloo Garage, recalled some particularly humorous incidents, and Ike Lundberg, Waterloo Recreation Area manager briefly described his work and plans for his upcoming retirement. Lundberg expressed his regrets about leaving the area.

Both Mead and Rentschler were serenaded with special songs, and the event was capped with a group song fest.

Chairman of the affair was Ann LeBan, assisted by Lynn Klink, Jackie Riethmiller, Christine Rentschler and Carol Slusser. Leona Beeman directed the musical program.

Chelsea Lions Club May Be Organized

Chelsea residents are currently the object of a membership drive to charter a local chapter of the Lions Club, a national community service organization. Leading the drive are Chelseaites Jerry Heller and Dale Cook.

Interested area residents are invited to attend a meeting for prospective members on Thursday, Feb. 24, 8 p.m. at the offices of Countryside Builders, 1196 S. Main. Purpose of the meeting is to determine the strength of community support for a local Lions chapter, and to discuss the future direction of such an organization.

Two Lions Club members, Michigan Lions Club executive secretary Bud Goodwin, and Jackson Lions Club extension chairman Ken Lautzenheiser, will describe the various functions of their organization at the meeting, and will field questions from the floor regarding club operations. Both will be instrumental in helping to initiate a local Lions Club chapter.

Among its many contributions on a national level, the Lions Club played a key role in the establishment of Leader Dog schools, Eye Bank, and other programs for the blind. They sponsor research in areas of sight and hearing disabilities. Other objectives of the group include support of recreational, environmental and citizenship projects.

When asked if a local Lions Club chapter would overlap with the operations of existing Chelsea Kiwanis Club and Jaycee chapters, Tom Dmoch, a Chelsea resident supporting a local Lions organization, replied, "I don't think you ever have enough service organizations. There is room for a third, with no resulting conflict with either the Kiwanis Club or Jaycees."

Debate Team

William Coelius. "We competed in an extremely tough district, and I thought it an achievement simply to qualify for the state tournament."

Chelsea debaters demonstrated their verbal facility through eight preliminary rounds before proceeding to the quarter-finals. Throughout the competition, the atmosphere was charged with a combination of tension and excitement.

"This team has set some pretty high standards for next year's team," Coach Coelius continued. "And, had there been consolation rounds, we probably could have done better."

In league competition, the only team to successfully challenge Chelsea was Napoleon, who won the Class C-D state championship.

High rebounders were Jon Riemenschneider with 11 and Mike Wade, 6.

Cager of the Week

MARC FEENEY (20), guard for the Bulldog varsity, brings an 11-year collection of basketball experience to the team this season. The 6'0" junior began competitive basketball in the 4th grade and has played basketball for Chelsea schools since 7th grade, when he moved here from the Detroit area with his family. According to Feeney, a personal highlight of the season was Chelsea's game with Pinckney. In the contest, he played as a starter for the first time because both team captains, and regular starters, were benched with injuries. From the standpoint of a team effort, Feeney theorized that Novi was the best over-all game for the Bulldogs since play first got underway. "We got out to a big lead early in the game, and played the Big-D," he explained. Although Feeney acknowledged that a slow start put a dent in the Bulldog record this year, he believes the last six games are a better reflection of the team's playing ability. "We've finally found the groove, winning five of our last six games," Feeney stated. "We're on a hot streak now, and have a chance to win for the remainder of the season." The cager has enjoyed this season more than most because it was his first time playing alongside his older brother, Pete, co-captain of the Bulldog varsity squad. In addition to basketball, Feeney has played golf and baseball for Chelsea schools. This spring he intends to add tennis to his list of sports activities. Feeney, who has three brothers and two sisters, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Michael Feeney of 249 Park S.

Michael Rybka Wins Family Leader Award

Michael H. Rybka, a CHS senior, has been named 1977 General Mills Family Leader of Tomorrow. Gene Bratsch of General Mills announced recently. Rybka won the honor by scoring highest in the school on a written knowledge and aptitude examination administered to high school seniors here and country-wide on Dec. 7.

As Family Leader, he will receive a certificate from General Mills, sponsor of the annual Search or Leadership in Family Living, and will now be considered for state and national honors. Rybka's victory makes this the second consecutive year a male student at CHS has won the title locally. A State Family Leader of Tomorrow will be selected through voting based on test performance. The individual named to this honor will receive a $1,500 college scholarship, while the second-ranked student in the state will receive a $500 scholarship. Encyclopedia Britannica Educational Corp. will present "The Annals of America," a 20-volume reference work, to the state winner's school.

Representing every state and the District of Columbia, the 51 General Mills Family Leaders of Tomorrow will gather in Colonial Williamsburg, Va., in April for an expense-paid educational tour there, and in Washington, D.C. During the tour, personal observations and interviews will be conducted to select the All-American Family Leader of Tomorrow, who will receive a $5,000 college scholarship. Second, third and fourth place national winners receive scholarships increased to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000, respectively. The test, personal observations and interviews are all prepared and conducted by Science Research Associates of Chicago.

Rybka is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rybka, 20001 Old US-12.

Jaycees Plan Career Day For Seniors

What career do I want to pursue? We have all asked ourselves this question, and probably many other similar questions, relating to the subject of careers. Try and picture yourself as a Chelsea High school senior, ready to graduate, and go out into the world, with all kinds of careers to choose from, but which one is right for you? Now you, as Chelsea area business have a chance to help.

On April 27 the Chelsea Jaycees, in conjunction with the Chelsea High school, are sponsoring a Career Day. The project will pair a Chelsea High school senior with a business in the area. The senior will be given a chance to choose the career field he would like to visit, and for one day, he will be able to ask questions, receive information, and experience exactly what is involved in the particular field he is interested in. The businesses will range from architect to sanitation, gas station attendant and farmer, to attorney.

This is where we need the help of the community. If you work in a business that would be interested in helping a senior, or if you know of a business that would be interested to a senior, and help him in making a decision towards the future, please call David M. Sweet, phone 475-1444, or talk to any Chelsea Jaycee member.

In order to really do some good, we need your help. Help that will be appreciated now, but also at a future date, when some Chelsea senior looks back and says "Without their help, I wonder what I would be doing now!"

Caring Class Offered

Planning Commission Proposes Changes in Zoning Ordinance

Debate over the role of planning in land use decisions was the focus of discussion at a public hearing held by the Sylvan Township Planning Commission on Monday night, Feb. 7. At issue were two proposed changes of sections of the zoning ordinance governing the use of land in the Recreation-Conservation District.

A minimum lot width of 300 feet, instead of the present 600 feet, and elimination of the requirement of a conditional use permit for construction of a single family dwelling were recommended. Approval was unanimous among the three commission members in attendance following a review of objections and alternatives to the changes suggested by township residents.

Public comment centered on the possibly damaging effect of the proposed changes on the stated purpose of the Recreation-Conservation District, and on the pitfalls of piecemeal revision of the township zoning plan.

Harold Jones, presiding officer of the Commission, said, "The whole zoning ordinance should be thoroughly reviewed at a public hearing," and agreed with those who said that piecemeal changing of sections of the ordinance was potentially harmful. But Jones noted that such a review necessitated the competence of a professional planner, and its financing was currently unfeasible.

Several persons commented that the proposals threatened the integrity of a zoning plan evolved from two years of work and planning. They felt that important revisions required a more complete assessment of the effects on the landscape and economics of the township.

Greg Koerper, co-chairman of the West Sylvan Citizens Council, voiced concern over the elimination of the conditional use permit for building of residences. He quoted sections of the zoning ordinance which state that "the value to the public of certain open areas of the township is represented in their natural, undeveloped or un-built condition," and that the Recreation-Conservation District was intended to "regulate the location of buildings and structures and the use of parcels and lots, in order to protect and enhance the natural resources" of the township.

Koerper contends that a conditional use classification assures the Commission's legal right to regulate the impact of development on neighboring sites and public facilities. Zoning Inspector Harry Merions thought that the Sanitation Department's approval of site development was alone sufficient.

Others also questioned the consequences of the recommendations. "Lightly-considered changes in the structure of a master plan may eventually destroy our Township Board's effectiveness in guiding land use at a time when pressures threaten to permanently alter the character of Sylvan township and the lives of its residents," one observer, George Holmes, later said.

The Planning Commission will forward its recommendations to the County Planning Commission for their opinion before the Township Board acts on the proposed changes.

Chelsea Day In Florida Slated Feb. 27

Although it's snowy and sloppy here, a lot of Chelseaites wintering in sunny Florida apparently still harbor fond thoughts of their Michigan hometown.

Transplanted Chelseaites, and Chelsea visitors to Florida are invited to attend the seventh annual Chelsea Day in Florida celebration on Sunday, Feb. 27, at Shockley Hill Club House. The event will commence with a 12:30 p.m. pot-luck dinner.

Mrs. Lulu Sweeny has sent along directions to the gathering place for those who have not attended one of the prior affairs. Shockley Hill Club House may be reached by driving six miles north from Umatilla, Fla., on Route 19 to Alexander Spring Rd. or S-445, then one mile west to Alexander Spring Store. The hall is on Blue Wing Rd.

Senate Resolution Commends U-M Football Team

It signals the outstanding record of the team, its ranking as No. 3 in the nation and highlights the individual accomplishments of many of the individual stars.

The resolution will be presented Coach Schembechler and members of the team and the University of Michigan Athletic Department.

Citizen Participation: "My name is Herbert Schlager. I'm a community member of the Vocational Residential Center and have served on this Board since November 1973. As a representative of that Board I'm authorized to present to you for your consideration the following resolution which was adopted this afternoon by the Board of the Vocational Residential Center: Resolution adopted by the VRC Board January 5, 1977. Whereas the Vocational Residential Center Washtenaw County has grown in strength and in service to children of the community since the beginnings in 1971; and Whereas the growth is in large part related to the vision and service of the Honorable Francis L. O'Brien; Now therefore it shall be and hereby is resolved that the public child service unit formerly known as the Vocational Residential Center is re-named the Francis L. O'Brien Center for Youth Development. In presenting this resolution, we ask you to note that the immediate reason for the change in the Center's name comes about from a change in the terminology now being used by the County Board to describe the centers programs. The terminology used in the federal grant Status Offender Alternative has worked its way into the language used by the County and has replaced the original name of the Vocational Residential Center. The Center's Board is quite willing to change the program name but does not believe that Status Offender Alternative accurately or adequately describes the work accomplished at the Center. Neither does this language reflect the growth, the continuity and the philosophy of the Center. Consequently the Center's Board today adopted the resolution I have just read re-naming the Center. The Board of the Center requests that the County Board recognize the new name in a parallel resolution. Thank you for your consideration."

Walkers Guide Book Now Available

Footloose in Washtenaw, A Walkers Guide to Ann Arbor and Washtenaw County is again available at the Ecology Center of Ann Arbor and many local bookstores. The first printing of the book, published in November by the Ecology Center, sold out immediately. The book fills an evident local need as it outlines 23 loop hikes and walks with the aid of maps and photographs.

The book is arranged in two complementary parts: A brief introduction with useful background information opens each part. Part I describes walks in outlying natural areas. These include walks in or near Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority Metroparks (Hudson Mills Park, Delhi River Walk), State Recreation Areas (Pinckney, Waterloo, Brighton, Highland), and university forest preserves or botanical gardens (Saginaw Forest, Stinchfield Woods, Matthaei Gardens, Hidden Lake Gardens). All these walks are located within one hour's drive of downtown Ann Arbor, and most are within 15 miles.

Part II describes urban walks, within the city limits of Ann Arbor. There are walks in familiar central areas (downtown, campus), neighborhood tours (Old West Side, Burns Park, Lower Town), and rambles through parks and natural areas (Arboretum, Eberwhite Woods, Argo Pond). The book ends with a "Thumbnail" summary of the distances and highlights of each walk, and a bibliography of other local guides and maps.

Approximately 20 Ecology Center volunteers reconnoitered, researched and wrote the walks. Donald H. Gray, Professor of Civil Engineering at the University of Michigan and a former member of the Ecology Center's Board of Directors, and Joyce Bader, Ecology Center staff member, co-ordinated and edited the material. A small group of contributors provided publication funds.

A principal value of this unusual guidebook is that it collects in one volume many local walks which are at present either not well known or described only in obscure publications. The book sells for $3 per copy, and is available at Centricore, Logos, Borders, Little Professor, University Cellar and the Westside Bookshop. It may also be purchased by mail order from the Ecology Center, 417 Detroit St., for $3.35 per copy.

IRS Urges Taxpayers To Double-Check Their Tax Returns

Taxpayers should double-check their tax returns before filing since errors can slow processing and delay any refund that might be due, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Some of the most common taxpayer mistakes on tax returns, according to the IRS, include arithmetic errors, use of the wrong tax table or schedules, and failure to sign the return or to attach all necessary documents.

The IRS also urged taxpayers to use the peel-off label that comes with the tax package on their returns in order to avoid possible social security number errors. Taxpayers can also save time and speed up processing by mailing their returns in the coded, pre-addressed envelope found in their tax packages, according to the IRS.

Bloodhounds can detect a scent up to 10 days old.

After an injury a good general rule if you're confused is to apply cold to the swollen part. Avoid heat for the first day or two.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I wonder how many voters in this village of Chelsea realize that on Feb. 14, a village caucus was held and 12 people decided who will represent ALL of the population of this village in the following positions—village clerk, three trustees, and two library trustees.

The people nominated for their respective positions were in essence elected as they will run unopposed in the forthcoming election.

I do not want to imply that these candidates, in any way, are unfit to serve in their respective positions.

So why this letter?

Since I moved to this village some nine years ago, I have heard time and again about the so-called clique that runs things. I have also been told that select families control the clique.

Some people have made noises about the one-party system but to my knowledge no one has attempted to organize a second party.

I have always taken the stand that if enough voters were dissatisfied with their representatives they should band together, select the people they want to represent them and attend, en masse, the next village caucus and nominate them. 13 people could have achieved this goal on the 14th.

I guess because I have mentioned this option many times to various grippers in the past I received a phone call on Friday, Feb. 11 from a concerned party that felt he had some backers for such a move.

Although I have had no particular axe to grind with the representatives on the council, I have always felt that a little dissension among the ranks is healthy politics and is far better than a rubber stamp group.

With this in mind, I advised the concerned party that I would try to help round up some voters and we should have a caucus of our own on Sunday, Feb. 13 to pick some candidates to support for nominations on Monday.

In the neighborhood of 35 of the people contacted assured us that they would attend Sunday or at least would be at the Village Caucus Monday night. Five showed up Sunday and eight were at the Village Caucus.

In summary, this letter is directed toward the apathetic chronic whiners who complain about their government but won't get off of their dead posteriors to do anything that will interfere with their TV time.

In closing, Herb Hinz, Keith Boyland, Chuck Ritter and myself respectfully request that the above described characters refrain from crying the blues to us.

Sincerely,
John L. Stepp.

Pick-Your-Own Farm Listings Being Updated

The Michigan Department of Agriculture is updating its listing of pick-your-own farms and farm markets for 1977 publication.

Growers who wish to be listed are asked to send information by Feb. 25 to the Information Division, Michigan Department of Agriculture, P. O. Box 30017, Lansing 48909.

Information should include: Name of farm or market, name of farm owner, mailing address, directions to farm or market, products available, dates open, whether operation is pick-your-own or farm market, telephone number, and county.

The 1976 listing, consisting of more than 800 pick-your-own farms and farm markets, has received tremendous response from the public, including thousands of out-of-state people interested in Michigan agricultural products.

STOP. DETOUR

Unless you're crazy about the drive, there's no real reason to drive into Detroit looking for new car bargains. Rampy Chevrolet in Ann Arbor is a lot closer and you'll get the same low prices you find in Detroit—maybe even lower. At Rampy you'll also find the kind of careful, competent, come again service you expect from small town folks who know their neighbors.

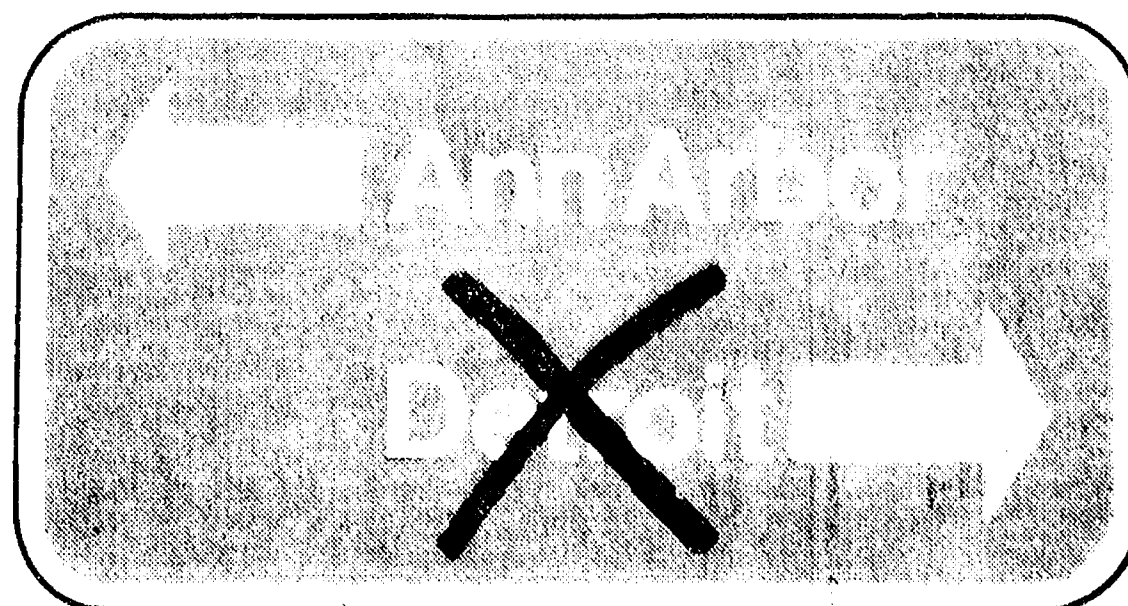

You see, Rampy's not just the biggest Chevrolet dealer in Washtenaw County, he's got the biggest dealership of any kind in the country. That means that he's governed by the same kind of high volume economics you've been driving all the way into Detroit to find.

On the other hand, Ann Arbor is a town where people do know each other. Word gets around. And the word is that Rampy gives good service after the sale. As a matter of fact, Rampy's service department has been used as a model for training other Chevrolet dealers.

Isn't it time you took a detour?
Before you drive all the way into Detroit looking for a new car . . . stop at Rampy.
We don't think you'll go any further.

First Welch Auto Built Here In Chelsea Before Earliest Ford

While Henry Ford's mass-produced Model A is generally credited with revolutionizing America's transportation industry in 1909, lesser known experimental models of the "horseless carriage" had made their appearance on the nation's roadways years before.

One such limited production model, the Welch Tourist, was conceived and developed locally by Alan R. Welch between 1901 and 1903. The car was first exhibited publicly at the 1903 Chicago Show. At that time, Welch and his younger brother owned and operated the Chelsea Manufacturing Co. on Cleveland St., adjacent to the present-day Chelsea Milling Co.

The elder Welch's ascent to the practical realization of his theories for a motor-powered vehicle was anything but gradual. As a boy, he built a steam engine which drove a lathe, also of his own construction. As early as 1895, "he had thought about motor wagons and wagon motors, and had made a study of gas engines," according to one biographical source.

These ideas culminated in the design of a new turbine gas engine, but Welch resigned the idea after proving that the heat produced by gas firing adversely affected turbine vane durability.

Welch, who had left the Chelsea area for three years, returned in 1898 to set up a metal novelty shop he had originally established in New York. He combined the business with a bicycle shop his younger brother was operating in Chelsea. Together, the men labeled their firm Chelsea Manufacturing Co. and began to engineer the construction of their first automobile.

After years of patient experimentation with a variety of engine models, Welch developed his first serviceable motor wagon in late April of 1901. The car featured a tonneau body, and had a seating capacity for five passengers.

Several detail changes later, the auto was brought up to the exacting demands of its designers, who then began with confidence to produce the Welch car shown in Chicago.

That particular model was driven by a 20 h.p. two-vertical-cylinder engine with the advanced features of a single-overhead exhaust valve and hemispherical combustion chambers. According to Hugh Dolnar, writing for Cycle and Automobile Journal in 1904, "this car made a fine showing on the road, had a tonneau body, weighed about 2,000 pounds, and was offered at $2,000.

The car was partially assembled in Chelsea with remaining body work completed at the General Motors Flint plant.

With the eminence of their automotive design and production firm, the two Welch brothers formed the Welch Stock Co. in partnership with Chelseaites Dr. William Stapish, and Stapish's brother-in-law, John Watson, also of Chelsea. But, a series of sudden complications forced the close of Chelsea Manufacturing Co. in January, 1904.

At this time, the sole tangible asset of the Welch brothers was a design for a four-cylinder touring car. Within 65 days of the initial drawing, the car had been built and was displayed in Detroit in February of 1904. Of this model, Dolnar wrote, "the Welch Motor Car Company's 1905 four-cylinder touring car is easily in the first class and challenges the front rank of its kind."

Although the brothers did not have a factory in which to systematize production of this latest four-cylinder model, they soon selected a factory site in Pontiac and equipped it to manufacture the complete car. The first lot of 10 was completed by April 1, 1904, and shipped to waiting buyers.

From these 36 h.p., four-cylinder engine cars, the Welch's graduated to a six-cylinder model which operated with up to 75 h.p. Both automobile models, with a wheelbase of up to 11'6", were among the largest cars of their time and carried spacious limousine or touring bodies. The hemispherical combustion chambers and overhead valves were retained, now operated by a single overhead camshaft.

Expanding their Pontiac factory, the Welch brothers opened a Detroit division of the Welch Motor Car Co. in 1909. Here, a smaller four-cylinder car was manufactured, known as the Welch-Detroit. A. B. C. Hardy, general manager of the Detroit plant, removed the machinery from Detroit and Pontiac in 1911, while acting on instructions from General Motors. He combined with the Ranier plant in Saginaw to make the Marquette and end the Welch Motor Car Co. dynasty.

Today, the six-cylinder 1909 Welch 4-0 Tourer is on exhibit at Harrah's Automobile Collection, Reno, Nev. The antique car museum has some of the rarest and oldest American automobiles manufactured on display.

Descendants of Dr. William Stapish, one of the original Welch car financiers, and friend of the two Welch brothers, continue to reside in both the Chelsea and Detroit areas. His sister, Mrs. Winnie Stapish Sheils, currently lives in Detroit.

Children of Louis Stapish, brother of William Stapish, include Mrs. Mildred Stapish Jarvis of Gregory, who is employed at Schneider's in Chelsea; Albert Stapish of Chelsea; Mrs. William (Doris) Stapish Smith of Chelsea; and Mrs. Harold (May) Boltz of Monroe.

practice in Anderson, Ind. The adventurous quartet is riding in a Model 4-0 Welch Tourer, built by Alan Welch and his younger brother in their Pontiac plant. The Welch brothers began building automobiles in Chelsea circa 1903.

OVER OR UNDER-SPENDING

Some people spend more than they can afford when buying a house. Equally painful is the mistake of buying the cheapest possible house and then suffering through its shortcomings.

I have no intention of stating how much anyone can afford for a house. This is a very personal decision. There are guidelines of monthly averages that lending institutions use for housing expenses. But - like the "height/weight" charts printed on scales - these are only averages.

Don't hold back if you feel you can exceed the guidelines. When you are willing and sufficiently disciplined to economize on other expenses, you can get a better house than the average calls for. A good house may seem costly, but the rewards are well worth it. Investing in a house that's a little more expensive gives you an excellent inflation hedge while your whole family enjoys a better place to live. And often, the resale opportunity is brighter.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8681; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

JV Cagers Have 14 Steals In Big Win

Chelsea High's JV basketball squad drilled their way to a 53-53 victory over Manchester Tuesday evening, Feb. 15, on the heels of their one-point loss to Milan last Friday. The results raised their record to 7-10.

In the game, the Bulldogs caged cut down their ball control efforts to only nine, and pulverized their opponents' defense with 14 steals. That combination of tactics was the key component to Chelsea's success, according to Coach Paul Terptrak.

Leading scorers for the Bulldogs were Gary Dils, 18; Matt Feeney, 15; Charlie Bridges, 10; and Al Augustine, 7. Top rebounders were Jesse Coburn with 12; Bridges, 11; and Don Schrottenboer, 8.

The JV cagers will travel to Dexter on Friday, Feb. 18, for a rematch with their neighboring rivals.

Frosh Cagers Split In Last Four Games

Chelsea High's freshman cagers maintained the balance of their early season record as they split their last four games down the middle with two wins and two losses. The Bulldogs' freshman record now idles at 4-6 as the cagers enter their final stretch of competition.

On Jan. 27, the Bulldogs routed Dexter, 55-54, in an overtime thriller. "It was probably our best game of the season," Coach Jim Winter remarked in retrospect. "The team played together and kept their composure at the end, coming from behind, 49-51, in the final nine seconds to tie the score."

Shaun Murphy blazed downcourt to unleash an 18-foot jump shot which put the Bulldogs into overtime. As Chelsea's freshmen trailed 53-54 in overtime, with only seven seconds remaining on the clock, Dave Seyfried tossed in the winning bucket, scoring three seconds before the final buzzer sounded.

Leading scorers in the game were Mike Killelea with 17 points; Shaun Murphy, 16; Dave Seyfried, 11; and John Dunn, 10. High rebounders were Killelea with 19 and Seyfried with 14.

"I was really pleased with the way things went and with our exceptionally well-balanced scoring," was Coach Winter's concluding comment.

Three days later, on Jan. 31, the Bulldog freshmen met Saline. In the ensuing battle, the Hornets trounced Chelsea, 77-46. Saline capitalized on a 12-point advantage in the first half to pace their team to victory.

"We played well in the first quarter, finishing ahead of Saline in that period," said Coach Winter. "It was in the second quarter that we started making mistakes. We had problems with our press, they kept stealing the ball, and scored some easy points. That was the difference."

In scoring action for the Buldogs, John Dunn and Shaun Murphy led with 12 points each, followed by Mike Killelea with 11. Top rebounders were Killelea and Dave Seyfried.

Chelsea's follow-up game with Milan on Feb. 3, the third successive home game for the freshman cagers, again ended in disappointment for the Bulldogs. Milan shut the door on the Bulldogs, 53-47.

"It was another close game which went right down to the end," said Coach Winter. "We cut their lead to two points once in the fourth quarter, but that was the closest we ever came. We stayed just behind them all the way." Upsetting Chelsea's efforts in that contest was their inability to collect a sufficient number of rebounds.

Scoring for the Bulldogs were Mike Killelea with 17 points; Brad Knickerbocker with 9; and John Dunn with 8. Killelea led the team with 21 rebounds, but Chelsea's remaining cagers were unable to break a five rebound threshold.

On Feb. 10, their last of the four-game series, Chelsea sauntered to an easy 69-48 rematch win over South Lyon. In an earlier contest, the Bulldogs had overpowered Milan by some 40 points.

"Everybody was sent out to play against Milan. We used it as an opportunity to get ready for our next two games," Coach Winter acknowledged following the play.

Leading the way for Chelsea were Mike Killelea with 19 points; Shaun Murphy, 15; and John Dunn, 10. Killelea and Seyfried dominated the rebound action, collecting 13 and 12, respectively.

Chelsea's freshman cagers will face Brighton today, and Novi on Tuesday, Feb. 22. Both teams have previously defeated the Bulldogs, though Chelsea is capable of avenging both losses, according to Coach Winter.

"Center Dave Seyfried will miss these last two games, but we're going to buckle down and really go after them," the coach promised.
