QUOTE

"The clock indicates the moment—but what does eternity indicate?"—Walt Whitman.

ON TO TEXAS: Chelsea girls added yet more trophies to their growing collections last week-end as the 16- to 18-year-old traveling team emerged triumphant in the Great Lakes Regional Tournament and began planning and fund-raising for the trip to Texas to play in the nationals. Trophies displayed here are the ones garnered by the team in Alpena, when they swept the state championship.

Softball Team Wins Regional Tournament, In Texas for Nationals

Fair Queen Candidates Will Meet

There will be a meeting of the 1979-80 Fair Queen Candidates Sunday, Aug. 12 at 7:30 p.m., at the home of Suzanne Morrison, 518 Chandler St. This will be an informational meeting and girls will also learn a dance routine taught to them by last year's queen and court.

This year each candidate will have a personal interview with the judges on Aug. 14 at 7 p.m. On Tuesday, Aug. 21, at 6:30 p.m., the pageant will be held in the grandstand area of the fairgrounds. The girls will be required to present the dance routine, answer an impromptu question, and give a talent presentation.

Anyone interested in sponsoring a candidate may do so. The girls must be of high school age, currently enrolled at Chelsea High school, must have a convertible for Tuesday's parade and a float for Saturday's parade. Please call Suzanne Morrison, 475-1713, evenings for further information.

Trio Dumped In Lake Erie During Storm

Three area residents spent a shaky hour bobbing about in stormy Lake Erie last Sunday, after their 12-foot boat capsized in eight-foot waves and high winds and rain.

Tod Tudor of Washington St. and Jim and Jeff Shepherd of Trist Rd., Grass Lake, were on a fishing expedition out of Boles Harbor near Monroe when they noticed black clouds forming on the horizon around noon Sunday. The trio made for shore and was about two miles out when the storm hit.

High winds and huge waves capsized the craft, but the crew managed to flip it over and hold on.

Tudor said they waved at passing boats, but none was close enough to spot the overturned boat. Finally, after they had been in the water almost an hour, another craft saw their predicament and circled their boat, taking in the soaked fishermen one at a time.

The group left the boat in the water and notified the Coast Guard, Tudor said. It was found by the Coast Guard Monday morning off Toledo Beach.

20 Top Teams in Nation Seek U.S. Championship

With the prospect of a second consecutive trip to the national championships dancing tantalizingly before them, Chelsea's 16- to 18-year-old girls fast pitch team mowed down the opposition in Saginaw last week-end and became one of the top 20 softball squads in the country.

Wednesday morning, just three days and more than $5,000 later, Chelsea's crew, along with parents and coaches, was winging its way to Irving, Tex., to vie with the other 19 top teams for the national title.

If the Regionals in Saginaw last week were any kind of an accurate measure of the team's tenacity and skill, no one in Texas is going to be asking "Chelsea Who?" for very long.

The girls took four consecutive games in Saginaw to dominate the five-team tournament. Pitching ace Nanette Push teamed up with catching mate Patti Hume to control some of the finest 16-18-year-old hitters in the state.

Hume and Push, the team co-captains, have been working together as a battery for the past three seasons. Push struck out 25 hitters in the four contests and was credited with wins in all four games.

Chelsea's first victim was Detroit Warehouse Tire, 10-1. Leading the 10-hit offensive attack were Molly Eisele with three singles and Kim Wood with two. Jennifer Hines added three RBIs to the effort.

Rhonda Haglund, picked up from Ann Arbor Chelsea Flower Shop, relieved Push in the sixth inning with the score 8-0. Push's control had been excellent as she had walked only one and fanned seven. She was pulled off the mound to rest for the second contest of the evening, with another Metro Detroit team.

After disposing of Warehouse Tire, the Chelseaites took on Kane's Klassies and routed the team, 15-3. Kathy Taylor, picked up from Dexter Perfect Fit Auto Glass, and Nanette Push both tagged round trippers, and Push again took the pitching victory with six strikeouts.

Those two victories Friday night set up a rematch with an old rival, Lansing Mavericks, the state runners-up. Lansing had already beaten Saginaw Pro-Am Sport and was hoping for another upset.

Chelsea crushed those hopes with three key hits in the second inning off the bats of Push, Kim Wood and Haglund to knock in four runs.

Haglund later laced a triple and double to provide the power, and Kathy Taylor had a perfect three for three at the plate.

Hume and Push sparked the nearly-perfect defense that yielded just one run to the Mavericks on only one hit.

The Chelsea win forced the Mavericks to meet Saginaw Pro-Am once more, to decide which team would meet Chelsea for the regional title. The see-saw battle found Lansing on top, 7-6, at the finish.

Sunday morning the squads faced each other for the trip to Texas. Chelsea was ready, and the outstanding defensive play of shortstop Molly Eisele combined with the offensive attack led by Haglund and Anita Powell, gave Nanette Push her fourth victory of the tournament, 7-4.

Powell had a perfect day at the plate, lacing one single, walking twice and laying down a key sacrifice bunt. Haglund walked twice and stroked a home run and a double.

As the joyous team spilled onto the field after that contest, they knew that only three days separated them from a shot at the national crown.

Rec. Council All-Stars Upset Blues

Chelsea High school was the scene of a surprise-filled girls softball contest Thursday night, as the Junior Miss All-Stars of the Chelsea Recreation Council pulled off an upset over Pat Clarke's 13- to 15-year-old traveling team, the Blues, by a score of 15-9.

Superstar pitching by the All-Star Mario Petsch proved to be the margin of victory for the team. Petsch allowed only four hits on her way to striking out six Blues.

After six innings of play the All-Stars led, 12-5. With two on base, Mario Petsch increased the lead with a booming triple to right field.

The Blues sent Kim Boyd and Anna Aello to the mound in a vain attempt to catch the All-Stars, but good defensive work in the seventh left the Recreation Council team on top.

For the Blues, it was the end of a 9-game winning streak.

Younger Girls Team Defeated in Regionals

Chelsea's 13- to 15-year-old travel team traveled north last week-end to compete in the MASA Great Lakes Regional Tournament, held in Saginaw. The girls had high hopes of repeating their victory of two weeks ago, when they captured the MASA State Championship, but it was not to be. Chelsea stumbled Friday, lost its first game of the year, and never regained the form and poise that they had shown in Petoskey.

Friday, Chelsea drew Charlevoix, whom they had defeated twice in Petoskey, and were virtually driven off the field by an inspired Charlevoix team.

Charlevoix jumped on Chelsea in the first inning for 11 runs and continued to score in each inning, to put the game away, 23-5.

Ann Eisele started on the mound for Chelsea and Shelly Weber relieved in the third inning, but both had trouble finding the plate. The normally tough Chelsea defense committed seven fielding errors and consistently threw the ball away in tight situations.

Coach Waller commented that it was a case of Charlevoix playing an outstanding game while Chelsea gave what had to be their worst showing of the year. "The Chelsea bats were cold and none of our hits fell in, while Charlevoix pounded out nine solid hits to combine with Chelsea's poor fielding," he said.

Saturday, the Chelsea girls came back and played Group One from Detroit and took a 20-9 win, but it was clear that Chelsea was still not playing up to their potential.

The Chelsea team customarily relies on strong pitching and good defense, and neither appeared to be sharp. Amy Unterbrink started for Chelsea and claimed her fifth tournament victory with relief help from Ann Eisele. Chelsea's hitting attack revived itself as Chelsea pounded out 12 hits. Celeste Powell, Kim Boyd, Shelly Weber and Amy Unterbrink each collected two hits. Ann Eisele, and Tracy Borton slammed doubles, while Amy Unterbrink blasted a home run to the 276-foot fence in left field. Immediately following the game with Group One, Chelsea had to face Charlevoix for the fourth time in two weeks. Again it was a case of the Charlevoix team being sky high while the Chelsea team appeared to be flat.

Amy Unterbrink was given the start for the second time that day and worked hard for four innings as Chelsea trailed Charlevoix, 2-1, going into the bottom of the fifth inning.

Charlevoix slammed the door in Chelsea's face in the bottom of the fifth and sixth innings, however, as they scored three times in the fifth and added eight more runs in the sixth to end the game, 11-1.

Chelsea again failed to hit as Charlevoix allowed Chelsea just three singles and the Charlevoix girls played outstanding defense. (Continued on page six)

Games Scheduled for 'Kids Day' at Fair

The games for Chelsea Community Fair's "Kids Day" are back!

This year, each child between the ages of 3 and 11 will be able to participate in special events and games that are being planned. Youngsters 3 through 5 will compete in a penny toss. Each child in this age category will pick up as many pennies as possible in a specified amount of time. The child with the most pennies wins a prize.

An egg toss will entertain children aged 6 through 8. A team, consisting of two children, will toss an egg back and forth until the last team without a broken egg wins. Participants will find a catch (Continued on page three)

4-H FAIR QUEEN: Paula Beaudoin, a junior at Chelsea High school and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beaudoin, 16744 Kilmer Rd., was chosen queen of the 1979 Washtenaw County 4-H Fair last week-end. Beaudoin was chosen queen on the basis of personal interviews conducted prior to the fair and answers given to questions asked of the 16 candidates before a large audience. Paula was also one of seven participants chosen as Outstanding Teen Leaders of the county. She is a teen leader of the Washtenaw Dairy Goat Club and is active showing her dairy goats in shows throughout Michigan and other states.

Fairgrounds Prep Work Progressing

Another work bee was held Thursday, Aug. 2 at the Community Fair Grounds and much was accomplished in the horse barns and the new arena.

Eight concrete bases for the light poles were poured. Jim Dault and his people moved three sections of the old bleachers to the south side of the new arena.

Twin cables above the guard rail fence were threaded through the posts, tightened and anchored to the end posts. Large lag screws were installed to hold the guard rails to the posts. A blow torch and impact wrench helped in accomplishing the task.

In the horse barn, a crew of workers installed the hinged gates for the horse stalls. Reuben Lessor, Sr., brought in an air compressor to drive the impact wrench used in installing the hinges.

All of the work was accomplished in a single week, working around rain showers and mud puddles. Thursday night after 9:30 p.m., a business meeting was convened to discuss a large insurance policy in detail.

Office hours at the fairgrounds are as follows: Aug. 14, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.; Aug. 16, 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.; Aug. 17, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Aug. 18, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Applications, registration and tickets may all be obtained at those times. Kay Poljan at 475-2921 will answer questions.

More workers are needed to continue the progress on getting the grounds ready for the Aug. 21-25 fair.

Sheep Fair Entry Count Needed Before Aug. 15

Anyone interested in showing sheep at the upcoming Chelsea Community Fair should contact either Richard Bareis at 475-2202 or Dave Wolfgang at 475-7911.

A total count is needed by Wednesday, Aug. 15 so that pens may be arranged.

Bareis points out that a market pen consists of two market lambs and that there is a $1.50 entry fee for each pen or individual lamb entered. One dollar of the fee goes toward the buyers' banquet following the sale, and the scale fee is 50 cents.

Friends, Businessmen Give Funds for Trip

People from other towns said to raise the needed funds in just two days.

Monday morning bright and early, an army of uniformed girls made their way through the village collecting and soliciting money for the trip and by Wednesday morning they were flying down to Texas with the necessary cash in hand.

According to Sue Wood, in charge of the fund raising, the contribution total had reached $4,500 by Tuesday evening, with an additional $1,100 in pledges not yet collected.

Which just goes to show those skeptical people, that, on or off the field, Chelseaites are winners.

DAN GRAU of Chelsea exhibited the Reserve purchased by George Wacker of G. E. Wacker, Grand Champion Steer at this year's Washtenaw County 4-H Fair, held last week-end. The steer was

Suit Against C & O Railroad

To Add Ferry Service

Attorney General Frank Kelley has filed suit and a formal complaint to compel the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co. to add a third auto ferry across Lake Michigan during the peak summer season—Aug. 1 to Sept. 4—while the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) reviews the railroad's plans to discontinue service completely. The suit, filed in the Ingham Circuit Court, would require the railroad to increase its auto and passenger ferry service from Ludington to the three Wisconsin cities of Milwaukee, Manitowish and Kewaunee.

It would further require the railway company to abide by the schedules it had previously published for the peak tourist season.

Traditionally, the railroad added a third ship to the Ludington to Wisconsin service during the seasonal period to accommodate vacationers. Previous published schedules show three boats during the period. Kelley charged the railroad changed its plan and recently announced that the third ship would not be added. Upon a request of Kelley, the ICC has agreed to review a previous order giving the railroad the authority to discontinue all ferry service from Ludington to the Wisconsin cities.

He will argue the case before the ICC contending that allowing the railroad to discontinue service will work an economic hardship on businesses and individuals who rely on the ferry service.

Additionally, in a complaint filed Monday in U.S. District Court, Kelley argued that reduction of the scheduled sailings not only deprives the traveling public of reasonable service but also adversely impacts on the public and the economy as a whole. He also said the ferry service saves millions of gallons of gasoline that would otherwise be used by the motorists.

Energy Conservation Loans

Available from Utilities

Consumers can now get loans for energy conservation programs from, believe it or not, utility companies themselves.

Rules regulating loans utility companies may make for such programs have been approved by the Public Service Commission, the state agency governing utilities.

Under the rules, utility companies may make interest free loans to home owners for installing fuel conservation devices as long as those devices can be paid off within seven years.

The devices may include insulation and furnace and fuel modifications.

tion and furnace and fuel modifications.

As originally proposed, the rules would have allowed the utility companies to charge a modest interest rate, but consumer groups came up in arms saying to charge interest was in violation of the act permitting the loans.

At that time the rules produced much controversy and were modified to eliminate any interest charged.

PSC Chairman Daniel Demlow, declared the rules will help save natural gas in Michigan at a time when energy conservation is America's number one priority.

The approved rules allow the utilities to recover the cost of their loan program by putting a surcharge on all customers' bills.

The rules also require that only qualified contractors install conservation devices if home owners do not self install them.

So, if consumers are looking for a source of funds to install energy savings devices, the best place to look is within the utility companies themselves.

California leads the nation's Vietnam Era veteran population with 990,000, followed by New York, 610,000; Texas, 507,000; Pennsylvania, 493,000; and Ohio 446,000. The Golden State also leads the nation in total western population with 3.3 million. New York again, is second with 2.5 million residents who once served in the military.

The last Civil War veteran died in 1959, yet the Veterans Administration provides benefits for 245 widows and helpless children of Civil War veterans.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers must of mull'd over all week the discussion the Saturday night before. Bug Hookum, fer instant, usual eats whatever's on his plate and tells himself he likes it. He come to the session at the country store Saturday night with more opinions on good and bad Government than he usual offers in a year. What must of cranked him up was Ed Doolittle's and Clem Webster's views on Government and people working together.

spends all its effort justifying itself.

Practical speaking, reported Clem, it cost us nearly $5 billion a year to run all these regulating agencies, and he said he'd have to go with Ed that we could put some of that money to better use. Clem noted that less control, not more now is being tried on the oil industry, but the jury is still out on who'll git what out of the change.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Bug said he had give some thought to what he expects of his Government, and he figgers it's too much. The big problem is, we want security and protection ever step of the way, but we don't want any meddling, and Bug was of a mind we can't have it both ways. Fer instant, he went on, we want to be sure the meat we buy is inspected and declared fit to eat by a agency of Government, but we don't want another agency telling us what we can feed our cattle. We go to a fancy eating place and order a prime steak, and we depend on the Government to make sure we don't git a lower grade. But when we're told we got to cut back on cooling and heating to have enough fuel to go around we gripe about Government running our lives.

General speaking, the fellers sided with Bug. It was Zeke Grubb that said he noticed at breakfast that even the grape jelly he spread on his biscuits was rated Grade A by USDA. The water we drink, the schools we send our children to, the electricity we can't get along without is all provided under some kind of Government control, Zeke said, but when we're told we can save lives and fuel by driving no more than 55 we say Uncle Sam has gone too far. Even the little dab of savings we put aside is protected, like the ads say, "by a agency of our federal Government." There is two sides to this picture, Zeke declared, and we got to look at both of em.

Speaking of going too far, Ed said this is what the Environmental Protection Agency is doing, and gripes of all the local Governments in the country don't have anything to do with the two-sided picture. Ed said from what he sees in the papers EPA's trouble is it can't figger out what its policy is. One mayor went to Washington the other day to talk with Congressmen about EPA. He said his little town has been tryin' fer 11 years to find out what kind of waste treatment the agency wants. Ever time the plans git drawn, the mayor said, down come new guidelines to meet, and you got to do the whole thing over. In the meantime, EPA says the treatment plant the town is using ain't doing the job and has to be shut down. Ed said all this appears to be another OSHA case where the agency loses sight of its job and

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hinderer

Sally Gaken Becomes Bride of J. Hinderer in Friday Ceremony

Sally A. Gaken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gaken, 310 Pierce St., wed John W. Hinderer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hinderer, 11866 Hieber Rd., Manchester, on Friday, Aug. 3 at St. Mary's Catholic church, with the Rev. Fr. David Philip Dupuis officiating.

The bride wore a white knit empire-style dress, with a high neck, net bodice insert accented with lace appliques and pearls, long full sleeves and a chapel-length train. Her veil was lace and pearl and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and pink baby carnations with ivy.

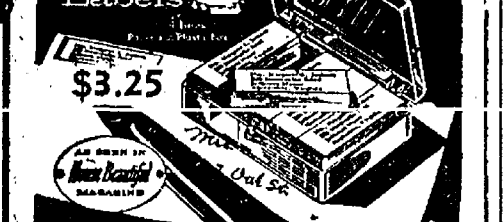

Maid of honor was the sister of the bride, Linda C. Gaken. She was attired in a blue knit empire-style gown with a crystal pleated skirt and blue chiffon cape. Pink shoes were carried and worn in hair.

Bridesmaids were Annette Houle, Chelsea and Mary K. Perry of Chelsea, both sisters of the bride. They wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor.

Mother of the bride wore a street-length flowered dress with beige accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a street-length blue voile dress with blue lace trim. She wore a carnation of pink-tipped white roses.

Best man was John H. Kemner of Manchester. Timothy John and Terry Walter of Manchester were ushers.

A reception was held at UAW union hall on M-52. Yvonne and Cynthia Gaken, sisters of the bride, were in charge of the guest book.

Rosier Players Back

The Rosier Players, the only remaining old-time tent theater in America, have returned to Chelsea this week.

Sponsored by the Chelsea Kiwanis Club, they will perform for five consecutive nights, opening Tuesday, Aug. 7 and with a final performance on Saturday, Aug. 11.

Each night's show is entirely different and combines drama, vaudeville comedy, music and dance. The Rosier tent is set up at the Chelsea High school with the doors opening at 7:30 and the curtain at 8:30. It is an opportunity to experience both genuine Americana and pure fun and entertainment.

Tent rep shows became popular in the late 1800's as a means of bringing theater to people in small towns and rural areas throughout the Midwest. Then, as now, theater existed only in the largest cities. Dramatic tent shows developed to present theater to the audiences who had no access to city theater houses. The repertory companies came to town, set up their tent, and performed for about a week, presenting a new show each night. Many actors received their early training in tent rep theater companies, for example Milburn Stone (TV's "Doc" on Gunsmoke), Ralph Bellamy, Melvyn Douglas, and Spencer Tracy.

The Rosier Players are a part of this tradition. The Summer 1979 Tour marks their 81st year. Originally the Henderson Stock Co., it was formed in 1898. Upon the death of Henderson, Harold Rosier, a young actor with the company, bought the show and re-named it the Rosier Players. In 1976, Rosier donated it to Jackson Community College to the understanding that performances would continue in their authentic manner, style and spirit.

The shows to be performed this week include plays written early in this century, vaudeville skits, musical numbers and the Rosier Concert Band. Some of the costumes and props are more than 100 years old. And Harold Rosier continues to perform with the Players in skits and doing "chalk talk," a tent theater classic which blends comedy and art. He also recreates his famous Toby, the lovable character featured in so many of the old dramas.

Harold "Toby" Rosier and the rest of the actors, actresses, and behind-the-scenes people have put together for this summer five nights of solid entertainment. Here is a chance to see entertainment as it was before television and films, or to simply have a good time. Old time tent rep theater, the Rosier Players, and Toby are back in town, Tuesday through Saturday, at Chelsea High school.

WATTS-MOORE: Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Watts, 8330 Mt. Mrs. Mark Allen Seyfried

Tina L. Davis, Mark Seyfried Exchange Vows in Grand Rapids

Tina Louise Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis of Grand Rapids, became the bride of Mark Allen Seyfried, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Seyfried, 19245 Waterloo Rd., Saturday, Aug. 4 in a late afternoon ceremony at Wesley Park United Methodist church. The Rev. James E. Fox officiated.

For the ceremony the bride chose a soft knit dress with an empire waistline and scroll laces encircling the opening just below the neckline. The veil was covered with matching laces and a two-layer netted piece covering the old-fashioned head piece. She carried a colonial bouquet consisting of greens, white carnations, peach rosebuds and baby's breath.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Linda Davis of Grand Rapids. She wore an ivory colored spaghetti strap sundress with three bands of wide lace trim and an ivory cape with matching lace collar. Her bouquet was a smaller version of that carried by the bride.

Bridesmaids were Lorraine Eves of Grand Rapids, a friend of the bride; Peggy Seyfried of Chelsea, the bridegroom's sister; and Kellie Bryant of Wyoming, Mich., a friend of the bride. Their dresses were apricot versions of that of the maid of honor and they carried identical bouquets.

Mother of the bride wore a pink formal gown with lace cap sleeves, pleated skirt and peasant top. The bridegroom's mother wore a simple lavender A-line formal with a short belt and matching lace cape. Flower girls were Charly England and Nicholas England was the ring bearer.

Best man was George Rudzinski, Jr. Groomsman were Tom Rose, Daniel Shrilla and John Seyfried, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception was held at the American Legion Hall in Wyoming, Mich. Co-masters of ceremonies were Paula and Dennis England and Susan and Joel Bower.

Following a three-day trip to Mackinac Island the couple will be at home in Grand Rapids.

The bride is a graduate of Lee High school. She is presently continuing her education to become a legal secretary. Her husband is a Chelsea High school graduate and is attending Davenport College. He plans a career in banking.

Safety Award Granted Local Sanitary Authority

The Michigan Water Pollution Control Association has presented its Safety Award of Merit to the employees of the Scioto Sanitary Authority waste water treatment facility for their safety accomplishments during 1978.

The award is presented annually to a Michigan facility in recognition of effective management and safe operations.

"The daily operations in a treatment facility involve many hazards which could result in serious personal injury, illness, or death to employees and the public," commented an employee of the plant at 4350 W. Huron River Dr. "It is the mark of a highly efficient team, supervisors and employees, who have worked 'safe enough' to earn the Merit Award of Safety."

The award indicates that there were no accidental deaths or lost workday cases during 1978. Clarence E. Phillips is plant superintendent.

Free Booklet Offers Consumer Insulation Tips

A free booklet on home insulation is being offered by the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation.

The booklet, prepared by the U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC), describes the hazards of different types of insulation, explains how to figure the amount you need to use, offers insulation and safety tips for the do-it-yourselfer, and suggests precautions for people buying insulation.

William Ballenger, department director and Michigan co-ordinator for product safety information, arranged to have the booklets distributed free in Michigan because so many citizens are now considering insulating their homes to cut winter fuel costs and conserve energy resources.

"The Consumer Product Safety Commission has found that some home insulation can be a fire hazard, a skin irritant, or even cause respiratory problems from formaldehyde odors which can persist for months after installation," Ballenger said.

Copies of "Questions and Answers on Home Insulation" may be had by writing to: Insulation Booklet, Department of Licensing and Regulation, P. O. Box 30018, Lansing 48909.

ELLENWOOD-CLARK: Mr. and Mrs. George Ellenwood, 563 McKinley St., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Paula Marie, to Anthony Ray Clark, the son of Geraldine Clark of Munith and Virgil Clark of Chelsea. Paula is a 1979 graduate of Chelsea High school and is employed at Chelsea Big Boy restaurant. Her fiancé is a 1977 graduate of Chelsea High school and is employed at Polly's Market. A June 1980 wedding is planned.

Debra Sackett, Mark Robertson Are Wed at North Lake Church

Fifty guests were present Saturday, Aug. 4 for the early afternoon wedding of Debra Marie Sackett and Mark Robertson at North Lake United Methodist church. The Rev. Marvin McCallum officiated.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Hazel Wilkins and Jack Sootsman of Kalamazoo. Mr. and Mrs. Billy Robertson of Chelsea are parents of the bridegroom.

For the ceremony, the bride designed and made her dress on her great-grandmother's treadle sewing machine. Her gown is a floor-length sundress with satin bodice and shoulder straps. The top is covered with a simulated hand-crocheted lace jacket, ruffled just below the bodice. The bride wore daisies and baby's breath in her hair and carried a bouquet of daisy pompons.

Matron of honor was Donna Jean McCarty of Battle Creek, sister of the bride. She also made her own dress, a blue and pink floral chiffon over a solid blue, floor-length sundress.

Best man was Philip Shishman of Cincinnati, O., a friend of the bridegroom. Ushers were Randall Roehm of Ann Arbor and Jeffrey Slack of Detroit, friends of the bridegroom.

Vocalist at the ceremony was Tamara Barbret.

A reception was held in the Education Hall of North Lake church. Refreshments and a cake, made by Mrs. Ellen Cook, were served by Mary Anna Robertson, Ellen Cook and Jane Roehm. A gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robertson followed.

The couple planned a honeymoon camping trip to the Smoky Mountains. Upon return, they will be at home in Kalamazoo.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of Gull Lake High school. She has worked as a seamstress for Whitman Saddle Co., but is now starting a woodworking business. Her husband graduated from Chelsea High in 1970. He is employed at Whitman Saddle and has a part-time woodworking business.

62 County Fairs Left In Next Two Months

Treat your family to a mini-vacation this year with a trip to one or many of the remaining Michigan county fairs or to the Upper Peninsula state fair at Escanaba.

"There are 62 county fairs during August and September in every part of the state. Michigan's fair season will close with the Hillsdale fair Sept. 23-29. Fair schedules are available through the County Fairs section of the Michigan Department of Agriculture in Lansing," according to Dean M. Pridgen, director of MDA.

The Upper Peninsula state fair will run for six days beginning Aug. 14. Agricultural commodities from cheese to vegetables will be on exhibit and will be judged for awards. Various breeds of dairy cows, beef cattle, sheep and swine will be exhibited and judged for awards, as will horses. There also are displays of youth program achievements.

Free midway entertainment at the U. P. state fair includes a petting zoo, an observation bee hive, antique auto show and antique steam and gas engine show, a skydiving team, and horseshoe pitching.

Grandstand entertainment includes the Hubert Castle circus on Aug. 14; "Buck Night" Great Northern Opry show, Aug. 15; the Kendalls, Aug. 16; Don Williams show, Aug. 17; stock car racing and Thunder Mountain Bluegrass Band Aug. 18 and 19.

There is a school exhibit on youth day, Tuesday; a ladies' day program, Wednesday; Native American day, Thursday; a senior citizens talent contest on Governor's day, which is also senior citizens' and handicapped persons' day, Friday; with Escanaba's Little German band performing Friday afternoon.

Admission to the U. P. state fair is $1.50 per person, with children $5 passes are also available by under 12 admitted free. Weekly calling or writing the fairgrounds office in Escanaba 49829, (906) 786-4011.

Legislature Passes $4.6 Billion Budget

By Mary Keith Ballantine
23rd District Representative

Before the legislature adjourned for the summer, we tackled a number of difficult issues, resolved some and put off others. Our major accomplishment during the past six months was passage of the state's $4.6 billion budget. In discussions I had with our budget director, I was told this was a tight budget. There are a few capitol outlay bills we will have to deal with in the fall, but the majority of the funds have been appropriated.

But the legislature's failure to strictly enact the Headlee Amendment may result in a voter backlash in the 1980 elections. We clearly did not accomplish what the voters intended when they approved the amendment last fall, and because of it, we may see a much more restrictive measure on the next ballot—a measure which is repugnant to good, solid government.

Headlee was one of legislature's failures, but there are a number of successes, too.

We sent spending plans for mental health ($449.4 million), school aid ($1.5 billion), social services ($1.377 billion), agriculture ($20.2 million) and higher education ($968.7 million) and others to the Governor. There are no new taxes proposed for the 1979-80 fiscal year, which begins Oct. 1, and the record budget was described by legislative and administration officials as a modest one—$250 million over last year's governmental spending.

Other important bills the legislature took action on were the Michigan Occupational Safety and Health Act amendments, the essential insurance bill, repeal of the presidential primary, toxic waste disposal and real estate steering.

The MIOSHA amendment, which would revise the appeals procedures, passed the House and is now in the Senate Labor and Retirement Committee. Opponents of the measure said it opened up the work place to more confusion and consternation for the businessman, while not appreciably aiding workers (which is why I voted against it).

A toxic waste disposal bill, which hopefully will alleviate situations like the Hooker Chemical Co. contamination in Muskegon county, was signed into law.

Two very controversial bills were the repeal of the presidential primary and the real estate steering legislation. Both passed the House and both are lodged in Senate committees. The Senate also passed a presidential primary bill, but that measure would partially close the primary, not repeal it. Proponents of the House measure argue that repeal of the primary will save the state several million dollars.

The real estate steering bill would prohibit realtors from steering people towards or away from certain neighborhoods on the basis of its racial makeup. An amendment to the steering bill allowing realtors to answer buyers' questions without suggesting that a neighborhood would or would not be appropriate, made the bill acceptable to many legislators who originally voted against the measure.

When we reconvene in September we will face the difficult issues of workers' compensation reform, decriminalization of marijuana and public ethics.

Although we have clearly accomplished a good deal, a number of hard decisions are still pending.

The Governor has signed a bill increasing the amount paid out of the public school employees' retirement system for health insurance premiums. Under the new law, which will go into effect immediately, the system will pay $40 per month rather than $31 to retirees who are members of an authorized group health insurance plan. The increase was designed to meet a hike in the premium for Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage.

The Governor also signed into law a bill that limits an employer's liability for employees exposed to PBB.

Sponsored by Republican Floor Leader J. Michael Busch of Saginaw, the new act is aimed at helping former employees of the company which once manufactured PBB find new jobs.

An employer's liability would be limited to $12,500 with reimbursement for any additional benefits coming from the Silicosis and Dust Disease Fund, to which all insurance carriers and self-insured employers contribute.

Another new act will extend the interim period available for the Governor and the legislature to approve or disapprove the State Health Plan from the original 30 legislative days to 60 legislative days.

The House Republican caucus is urging Gov. Milliken to use his veto power on the general government budget bill, saying Democratic leaders sneaked into the bill a $59.1 million withdrawal from the budget stabilization fund. The governor's staff and budget officials admit they, too, were unaware the fund was being tapped, but are still reviewing whether to recommend use of the veto.

House Republican Floor Leader Michael Busch of Saginaw said his caucus "went on some faith" and did not read the entire final version of the general government budget bill when it was being passed on Friday, July 13. He said language providing for the transfer of $59.1 million from the budget stabilization fund to the general fund was inserted after House-Senate conferees reached final agreement. Neither Republican conferee was aware the provision was being inserted into the bill, he said.

Douglas Roberts, executive assistant in the Department of Management and Budget (DMB), said he does not disagree that personal income may decline and money will be triggered from the stabilization fund. But he said the bill should not require the money to be transferred based on the estimate for personal income. Roberts said the actual growth or decline in personal income would be known "a couple of months" into the 1980 calendar year, and the transfer could be made then, still in time to be included in the 1979-80 fiscal year.

Busch, on behalf of the House GOP caucus, urged the governor not to veto the $59.1 million line item, or to veto the entire bill. "It is a major policy decision and there was not one word of debate," said Busch. In his letter to the governor, he also indicated that the fund was not set up to allow removal of funds in anticipation of hard times.

House Fiscal Agency Director John Morberg, denied the Republican charges that the language was sneaked into the bill. He said the language was in the measure when signed by all the conferees.

Although the language in the bill says $59.1 million is transferred to the general fund, Morberg noted the transfer is to be done under other provisions of the act. Therefore, it will not need to take place when the fiscal year begins Oct. 1, and, depending on how the year turns out economically, may not involve the entire amount. The act permits the transfer of only the amount needed to balance the budget, even if the decline in personal income would allow the transfer of additional funds. But Roberts said as he reads the language, budget officials are given no discretion and the money is to be transferred Oct. 1. Also undecided is whether the exchange is a transfer or an appropriation. If it is an appropriation, it can be vetoed as a line item; if it is a transfer, it is not subject to that procedure. Budget officials plan to ask Attorney General Kelley to resolve the matter.

The Chelsea Standard, Thursday, August 9, 1979

Mustard Factory Started in 1768

According to several sources, mustard was first manufactured in America by Benjamin Jackson of Germantown, Rd., Philadelphia, Pa. He advertised himself as the "original establisher of the mustard manufactory in America" in an ad in the Pennsylvania Chronicle of Feb. 15, 1768. The Domestic Arts Collection of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, provides fascinating insight into the domestic implements of bygone days, including butter churns, early washing machines and cream separators.

K. of C. Tootsie Roll Profits Go to Special Olympics

Chelsea Knights of Columbus recently presented $800 to the Chelsea Special Olympics and $214 to the Stockbridge Special Olympics. The money was raised by the Knights of Columbus during their annual tootsie roll drive for the mentally retarded in March. It will be used to run athletic programs for the retarded.

The money was presented to Area 20 Director Nancy Cooper by Grand Knight Jerry Hammer-Schmidt and Doug Nadeau. It will be used for various Special Olympic activities such as transportation to state events and tournaments, equipment, room and board at state meets, ribbons and awards, uniforms, and for bowling fees.

The K. of C. has been very involved with helping the mentally retarded and has been supportive of Special Olympics in Chelsea.

The Labor Department's Wage and Hour division enforces federal wage and hour laws.

DEATHS

Miss Adeline Ballamy

Former Bay City Resident Dies at Methodist Home

Miss H. Adeline Ballamy, a resident of the Chelsea United Methodist Home, died Saturday, Aug. 4 at the Home. She was 93.

Miss Ballamy was born July 5, 1886 in Bay City, the daughter of William T. and Maratha Ballamy. She was a long-time junior and senior high school teacher in Bay City and lived there until she came to the home in 1968.

She was a member of the Madison Avenue United Methodist church in Bay City. She also belonged to the American Association of University Women, Alpha Chi Omega, Bay City Panhellenic Association, Western Service Guild and the Michigan Schoolmasters Club.

She is survived by two nieces, two nephews and several grandchildren and nephews.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, Aug. 8 at Penzien Funeral Home in Bay City, with the Rev. Roger Park officiating. Burial followed at Elm Lawn Cemetery, Bay City.

Local arrangements were made by Burghardt-Cole Funeral Chapel.

Manchester Street Fair Set Saturday

On Saturday, Aug. 11, the Village of Manchester will be holding its second annual Manchester Street Fair, sponsored by the Manchester Village Association.

The Street Fair will feature arts and crafts, merchant's sidewalk sales, food and beverages, entertainment and much, much more. There will be ample parking for everyone and admission is free. The event will be held on Main St. in Manchester. Manchester is a quaint, turn-of-the-century village located approximately 20 miles southwest of Ann Arbor on the River Raisin. It is picturesque, warm, and friendly to its visitors.

The Fair will begin at 10 a.m. on the 11th and close at 7 p.m. Artists will be featured via the arts and crafts booths and the main stage area. Artists from southern Michigan, and some from as far away as Florida will be joined by performers from the Black Sheep Repertory Theatre, the Traveling Smiles Children's Theatre, and area mime artists.

Horse-drawn wagons and shuttle vans will be available to transport visitors to the Fair area.

The second annual Manchester Street Fair promises to be an event for the entire family to enjoy. Bring your friends and enjoy the day in historic Manchester. For further information, phone (313) 428-9115.

Younger Girls Team Defeated in Regionals

Tournament play continued and the title was won by Trini and Carmans of Detroit, as they defeated Charlevoix in the championship game.

The Chelsea team returned home beaten, but not broken as the girls learned to come back from disaster and regain their poise in a difficult situation. They played well even when not at their best.

Coaches Waller and Clarke were pleased the Chelsea team had an opportunity to play in the Great Lakes Regional, and, win or lose, both coaches were proud of the way the girls continually tried to come back.

Coach Waller said that "while it is never fun to lose, it was an excellent experience for the girls to play a high level of competition and gain the experience from the tournament. I hope the girls come back next year, as we still have several exciting goals to look forward to."

Good Things Growing In Michigan

Before leaves start turning to golden hues and Michigan's summer is at a close, light up the charcoal. Have a backyard pork barbecue or a picnic cookout.

Try barbecued pork kabobs, alternating chunks of Michigan tomatoes, onions and peppers with pork chunks and top with your favorite barbecue sauce. Or marinate ham slices in sweet apple juice for 24 hours, then grill them slowly while basting with apple juice.

Pork steak burgers stuffed with cheese and cooked onions, wrapped with bacon, is a favorite recipe.

Good things are growing in Michigan, and our state's pork producers marketed 203 million pounds of pork, valued at $96 million, in 1978, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Our state ranks 16th in pork production among the 50 states.

In recent years, hogs have been scientifically bred and fed to have less fat, larger muscles for leaner, meatier roasts and chops, and longer sides with more lean bacon. They are usually sold when five to six months old and weighing 190 to 230 pounds.

If you have an original pork recipe that has never been printed, Michigan Pork Producers is sponsoring a Michigan pork cookout contest. Friday, Sept. 14, at the Saginaw county fair. Prizes will be awarded and a Michigan pork king and queen will be chosen from the entries.

More than 50 major commodities are produced in Michigan each year, a $10 billion industry, with the addition of transportation, processing and marketing costs. For more facts about Michigan agriculture, contact MDA's Communications office for a free booklet, "Michigan Food Facts," P. O. Box 30017, Lansing 48909.

AS STATED IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE:

FOOD PRICES RISE SHARPLY

Lead list at 21 percent annual rate!

WASHINGTON (AP) — Food prices jumped sharply in February for the second straight month to pace a 1 per cent increase in wholesale prices, the Labor Department reported Thursday.

The food price increase was 1.6 per cent, equal to an annual rate of more than 21 per cent. In January, food prices at wholesale rose 1.8 per cent.

School Board Briefs

At a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Aug. 6, present were Stirling, Feeney, Schafer, Snyder, Superintendent Van Meer, Assistant Superintendent Mills, Principals Williams, Benedict, Wojcicki, Assistant Principal Vogel, Special Education Director DeYoung, Community Education Director Rogers and Guests.

Meeting called to order at 8:10 p.m. by President James W. Stirling. Board approved the minutes of the July 16 meeting.

The Board accepted, with regret, the following resignations: Alex Knight, South Elementary teacher; Maria Sebu, Special Education teacher at Beach Middle school; Rosalie Hudnut, Spanish teacher at Chelsea High school.

The Board approved one-year contracts for the following teachers: Thomas A. Fletke, social studies and head wrestling coach; Kathleen A. Gilbert, EMI teacher at Beach Middle school; Denise Day, EMI teacher at Beach Middle school; Veronique Wills, EMI-D consultant at Beach Middle school; Patricia Tchiblakian, LD teacher at Beach Middle school; Judith Bottom, Special Education at the high school.

The Board approved Community Education Course descriptions and class eligibility for the 1979-80 school year.

The Board heard information reports as follows:

1. The Trinkle Barn Dance group donated $800 for Special Olympics.
2. Sam Vogel, assistant principal, reviewed the extra-curricular participation at the high school.
3. Sam Vogel, assistant principal, reviewed the proposed Mexico Band Trip in May, 1980.

4. Superintendent Van Meer reviewed the Washtenaw Consortium for Vocational Technical Education.

5. Assistant Superintendent Mills informed the board that the district gasoline allocation will be reduced 20 percent which will necessitate a reduction in transportation for field trips, spectator buses and in general some route revisions.

6. Secretary Schafer informed the board of the MASH Board of Directors election and indicated that he will present a slate to the board at the Aug. 20 meeting.

7. President James Stirling made the following committee appointments: Curriculum Committee — Chairperson, Daniel Snyder; Finance Committee — Chairperson, Earl Heller; Communication and Public Relations Committee — Chairperson, Ann Feeney; Personnel Committee — Chairperson, Robert Schafer.

The board recessed into executive session at 10:18 p.m. to discuss negotiations with the CEA. The board convened into session at 10:40 p.m.

Meeting adjourned at 10:41 p.m.

CENTENNIAL FARM: N. H. and Margaret Miles display the marker denoting their land as a Michigan Centennial Farm—one owned by the same family for at least 100 years. The stone was built.

N. H. Miles Scio Church Rd. Home Becomes Centennial Farm

A farm owned by N. H. and Margaret Miles, located at 20735 Scio Church Rd., has been designated as a centennial farm by the Division of Michigan History.

The farm has been in the possession of the family since Feb. 19, 1879, when Michael and Barbara Hinderer, great-grandparents of N. H. Miles, bought it from Frederick and Mary Egeler.

Michael had come from Kapf, Germany and settled on Waters Rd., near Rogers Corners, in 1853. When Michael and Barbara purchased the Scio Church farm in 1879, it was for one of their seven children, Christian Hinderer.

Christian worked the farm and in 1885 married Mary Wellhoff. They had six children: George, Frederick, Amanda (mother of N. H. Miles), Albert Emma and Bertha. A seventh child was born to Christian and his second wife, Clara Catherine Waitt, whom he married after Mary Hinderer's death. That child was named Gustaf.

In 1906, Christian's son George and George's wife Louisa (Hennung), together with George's unmarried brother, Albert, bought the farm from their father and worked it together. In 1908, George bought Albert out and ran the farm himself.

At this time, the place was known as a dairy and general farm.

George and Louisa had one son who died at the age of 21. George himself died in 1934. N. H. was soon living with his Aunt Louisa and her cousin Carrie Lutz on the farm, and going to school from there.

After his high school graduation, N. H. began to work the farm. He married Margaret Steele in 1944 and they have lived in the old farmhouse since.

The land on which the farm stands was first purchased from the U. S. Government in the early 1830's. The abstract lists the names of Jesse Smith and Louis Kellam as co-owners, with dates of 1832 and 1831, respectively.

Other family names that appear on the abstract between 1831 and 1879 are Wild, Tuttle, Egeler, Goodrich, Manz, Bollinger, Kamp, Glazier, Chase, Cassidy and Schlupp.

The house itself is believed by the Mileses to be more than 150 years old, although there is no way of determining exactly when it was built.

One measure of the exquisite craftsmanship that went into the old edifice was discovered more than 20 years ago, when fire destroyed the upper story of the home. Clean-up efforts uncovered previously hidden, hand-hewn, solid walnut eaves troughs, which had been fashioned from quartered logs. The longest was an unbroken trough of 42 feet, attached to the home with hand-wrought iron bolts.

There are now 97 acres in the farm, up 17 acres from the 80 originally purchased for Christian in 1879. They are now planted in hay, corn and wheat and managed by Ted Hinderer, son of N. H.'s cousin, and grandson of one-time owner Albert.

N. H. has worked at the University of Michigan for the past 19 years as an engineer, and previously worked at Federal Screw Works and Chelsea Milling to supplement his farming income. He and Margaret have four children, John, Karen, Gary and Kim, none of whom are involved in working the family farm.

To be named a Centennial Farm, a spread must be 10 or more acres with estimated farm product sales of more than $50 yearly, or less than 10 acres with estimated sales of at least $250 yearly.

A centennial farm comprises only the land and not the farm buildings, which may be remodeled or even new.

Applications for centennial farms may be obtained by writing: Centennial Farm Program, Division of Michigan History, Michigan Department of State, Lansing 48918.

THE FINAL MOMENT

You've looked at many houses and you've finally decided on a choice. You go back for a final look; a much more critical look than the others. Don't be timid. Check everything you think is important with a critical eye. No house will be perfect, but you should know about any defects before making a final decision.

And when the time comes, let the REALTOR handle the actual price negotiations. This is always the toughest and most sensitive part of any home purchase. He's an expert in this type of negotiation. He knows both parties' financial positions, and can usually come out with a better arrangement than via personal confrontation between principals. One party will usually be at a disadvantage. Don't be afraid to quibble. Few homes sell at the asking price — but don't ask him to do the impossible.

And, be sure you know the answers to all the dollars and cents questions, such as, taxes, operating expenses, closing costs, fees, etc. If you don't know — ask!

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8681; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Girl Scout Council Has New Executive Director

Seymour Brieff, Huron Valley Girl Scout Council's new Executive Director began work in mid-July.

As Executive Director, Brieff will employ and supervise all staff, develop an operational plan, direct the preparation of the budget, secure financial support for the Council and oversee program, membership, finances and properties.

For the past seven years Brieff has been the Executive Director of the southeastern Michigan Family Planning Project, Inc., in Detroit. At Family Planning he was responsible for total administration and operations including staffing, fiscal, program, and corporate management.

Brieff has two and a half years experience as the Administrative Co-ordinator for the Planned Parenthood League, Detroit; more than eight years with the Michigan Heart Association, first as the Eastern Regional Director, then as the Director of Community Services, Detroit; one year as the Director of Operations with the Community Workshop Jewish Vocational Service; and one year as an Individual and Group Counselor with Jewish Vocational Service in Detroit.

RAIN PERMITS—Rainmaking or precipitation enhancement, as it is sometimes called, won't be allowed this year unless farmers first have a permit. Until permanent rules are written under the Weather Modification Act, farmers will first have to file the details of their project with the State Department of Agriculture.

HALF-GALLONS—Gasoline pumps unable to register prices above 99.9 cents per gallon will now be permitted to compute prices based on the half-gallon price under an emergency regulation which recently took effect. The regulation was implemented to handle about 70 percent of the state's older style pumps which can't accommodate today's prices.

SPEED POINTS—The House is currently considering a Senate Bill which would assess penalty points for exceeding the 55 mph speed limit. Supporters believe it's the best way of ensuring compliance with that more energy efficient speed limit.

HIRING HELP—Legislation providing an incentive for small businesses to hire additional employees and thereby reduce our State's unemployment rate has been introduced in the Senate. The bill would allow small businesses to increase their work forces without facing increases in their single business tax.

CODE CHANGES—Michigan drivers will be the winners under a new simplified traffic code. Infractions of basic rules of the road such as illegal turns and running red lights will now be classified as civil infractions instead of misdemeanors. The result will be a drastic reduction of court appearances for such violations.

ACCIDENTS DOWN—It may be too early to make a valid assessment about the success of Michigan's new drinking age law but the latest news from the Michigan State Police is encouraging. Latest figures show a decrease of 24 percent in alcohol-related accidents in the target group of 18 to 20 year old drivers.

TODAY'S INVESTOR

By Thomas E. O'Hara

Q. Would you name some of the leading companies that sell toiletries? It seems to me that firms in this business have a steady business, grow regularly and are more profitable than the average firm. Do you think this is true and would you recommend investing in such companies?

A. Generally, you are correct in saying that companies which sell toiletries have been growing profitable businesses. This has been particularly true where the companies have more than one product and whose business extends across the whole spectrum of cosmetics, toiletries and personal care range of items.

Companies you might consider are Avon, Bristol-Myers, Colgate, Gillette, Norel, Procter & Gamble, Revlon and Scott Paper. These companies' market other customers' products as well as toiletries. All of these companies have enough research to supply a flow of new products, have the ability to properly merchandise a new item and have the reserves to survive the jolt of the failure of a new product.

While the sale of cosmetics, toiletries and other personal care items in this country has been an excellent business, the rate of growth has been less in recent years. This has been due to the fact that so many products such as soap, razor blades and toothbrushes represent a mature market.

However, the number of people in the 25 to 49 age group, where the big users are, is now growing faster than the total population and is giving a new stimulus to sales.

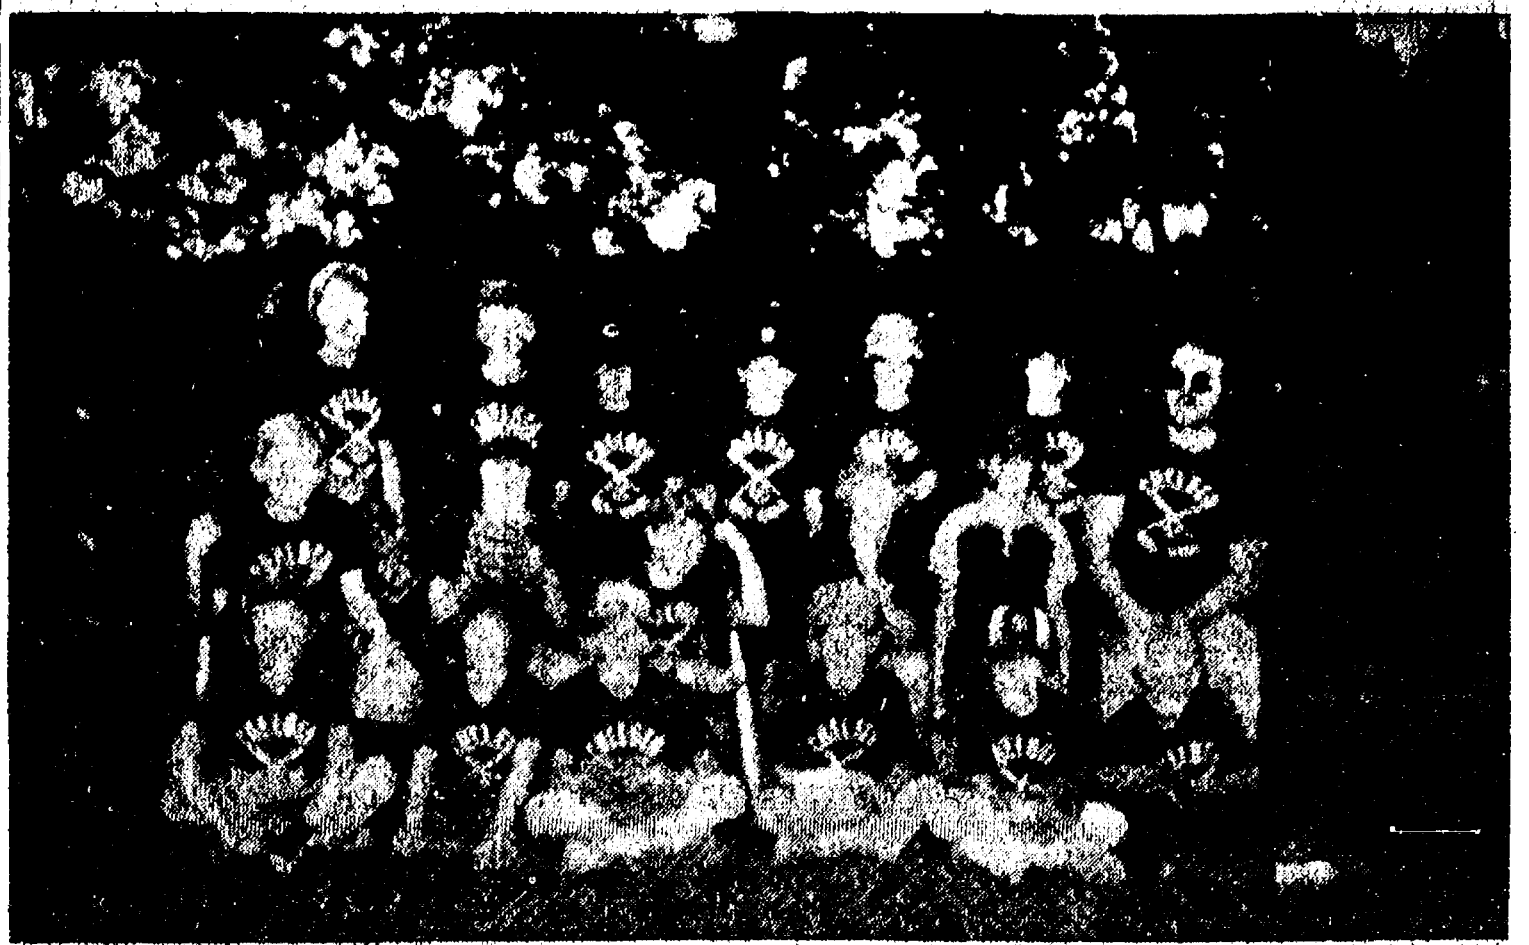

The slower rate of growth in this industry in recent years has been masked by the fact that prices have been rising rapidly. Sales of these companies has been in other words while total dollar coming up briskly, the volume of goods sold has only increased modestly.

Sales overseas are growing faster than in the United States.

The fact that total sales are likely to grow less rapidly means it is more important to be sure you invest in the most aggressive company. Companies which are the most innovative in marketing and developing new products will do better in this increasingly mature industry.

Mr. O'Hara welcomes your questions, but will answer them only through this column. Readers who send in questions on a general investment subject or on a corporation with broader investor interest and whose questions are used, will receive a complimentary year's subscription to the investment magazine, Better Investing. We would be pleased to send a complimentary copy of Better Investing Magazine or information about Investment Clubs to any reader requesting it. ## Land Sales Act Guards Buyers of Rec. Property

State Licensing and Regulation Director William S. Ballenger has issued a reminder to potential buyers of resort and recreational property during the summer that they should be aware of Michigan's Land Sales Act.

The Land Sales Division of his department has the exclusive responsibility to examine, register, and regulate the promotion and sale of recreational and resort property subdivided by developers into 25 or more lots or parcels, Ballenger said.

When considering land purchases, Ballenger said buyers should:

- Visit the property for personal inspection prior to signing any sales contract.
- Request a copy of the state or federal property report if one is required.
- Check with the County Health Department where the land is located to see if water supply and septic system permits are available if the property is being offered as a homestead.
- Check the availability of utilities such as telephone, gas, electricity or propane.
- Check accessibility to the site.
- Check availability of an abstract or title insurance for the property.

Okra May Become Big Source of Protein

In 30 years, the world must produce as much food again as it has produced since the dawn of time. Although, gumbo is handy the answer to world hunger, one of its main ingredients — okra — may one day be a strong source of protein and oil for nations in the tropical belt.

Okra has been found to have a protein production potential second only to wheat and soybeans. Okra also could compete with safflower in oil production.

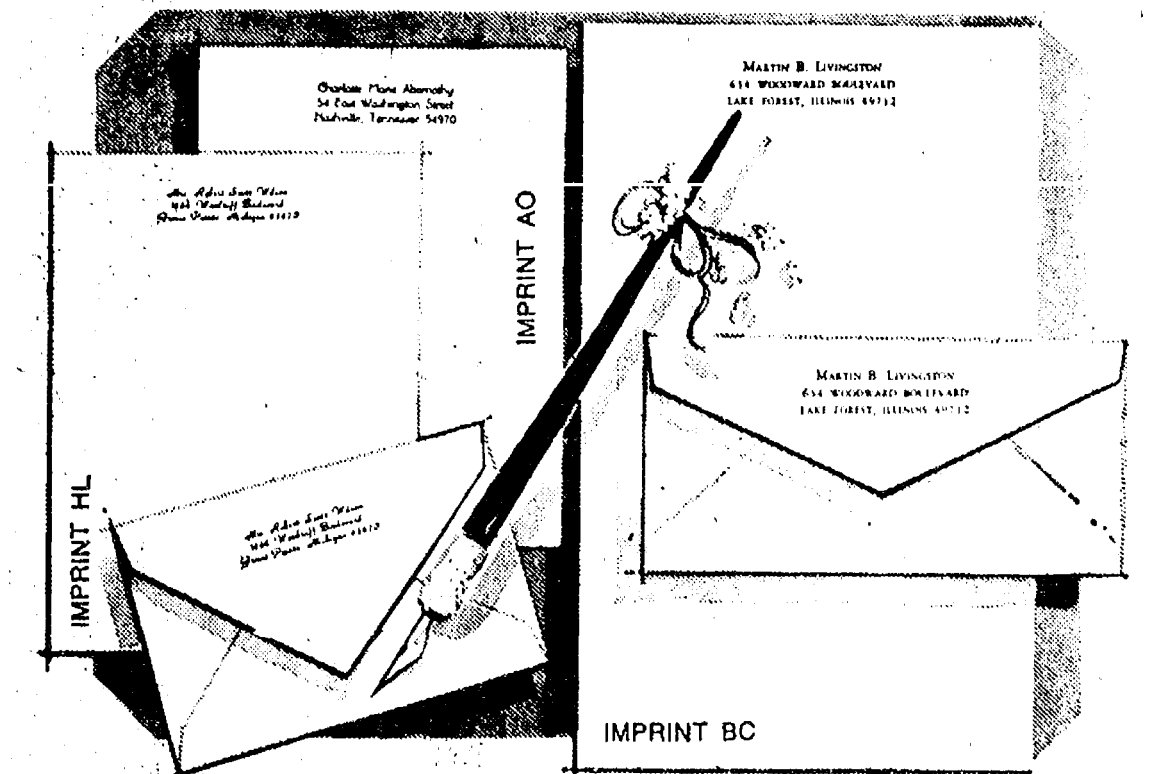

In some areas, such as Brazil, okra is so trouble-free that it is known as a crop that always pays. Okra seeds are produced in abundance and are easy to harvest, clean and store by simple as well as large-scale techniques.

tion with the offer to purchase must be placed in a trust account pending consummation or termination of the transaction.

Ballenger warned buyers always to request to see the real estate salespersons' pocket license cards in order to determine whether they are actually licensed brokers or salespersons.

Questions or comments regarding the purchase of subdivided lands should be directed to the Land Sales Division of the State Department of Licensing and Regulation in Lansing (517-373-7360), he said.

THE LITE EASY RETURN 12 PACK.

Distributed by: O & M, Inc., Ann Arbor, Mich.

TINY, FOOTBALL-SHAPED CATERpillars of the monarch butterfly may be found in abundant numbers on the leaves of the milkweed plant this time of the summer. The entire life cycle from egg to hatched butterfly will take until approximately the end of August.

Monarch Butterfly Is Good Nature Project

By Tom Hodgson
Park Naturalist
Waterloo Recreation Area

By August, the novelty of summer vacation has just about worn off. The words most frequently heard in many households are: "Mom, what can we do now?" For the answer, children need only explore a corner of their own back yards, the vacant lot next door, or the shoulders of a nearby road. There they are sure to find common milkweed plants growing among the summer wildflowers. On the milkweed they will find a nature project that will keep them busy for the remainder of the summer.

Monarch butterflies are now beginning their third and final summer generation. Their tiny, football shaped, white eggs may be found fastened securely to the undersides of milkweed leaves. Eggs laid earlier in the summer have already hatched into tiny caterpillars covered with colorful bands of black, white and yellow. They feed hungrily on milkweed leaves and reach their maximum length of about two inches in as many weeks. Then they undergo a remarkable transition.

The caterpillars leave the milkweed. They attach themselves to the underside of some convenient object by a few strands of silk. Unlike moth caterpillars they do not spin cocoons. Instead, each caterpillar hangs upside down for about 24 hours. During this time a chrysalis is formed inside the caterpillar skin. Once the chrysalis is fully formed, the caterpillar skin splits open and falls away.

The chrysalis is light green, decorated with beads of black and gold. In a week to 10 days the chrysalis skin becomes transparent and the fully developed butterfly may be seen inside. Within 24 hours, the butterfly will emerge. At first its wings will be small and folded around its body. The butterfly expands them by pumping fluid into them from its body. This process may take an hour or more. Once fully expanded, the fluid in the wings hardens and the butterfly is ready to fly.

The entire life cycle from egg to adult takes about one month. It is easier to find monarch butterfly eggs and caterpillars if you can see them in captivity first. An exhibit featuring all stages of the monarch butterfly life cycle is on display at the Waterloo Nature Center. Instruction sheets on the collecting of the eggs, and the care and feeding of the caterpillars is available at the reception desk in the interpretive building free of charge.

Waterloo Nature Center is located midway between Ann Arbor and Jackson. Visitors take I-94 to exit 156 (Kalmbach Rd.), turn north and follow the park signs to the nature center. The center is open from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday and noon to 7 p.m. Sunday. For further information call 475-8069.

As the nature center is a developed State Park facility, a motor vehicle permit is required for entry. Annual permits are $7 and enable that vehicle to enter any Michigan State Park an unlimited number of times during the calendar year. A daily permit is $2 and is good for the date of issue only. Motor vehicle permits are available at the reception desk in the nature building. Revenue collected from the sale of motor vehicle permits is used to purchase park land and develop new facilities.

The park staff requests that visitors please leave their pets at home as they are not allowed in the building and may not be left unattended outside.

In addition to the risk of hearing loss, continuous or prolonged exposure to excessive noise levels also can cause other physical problems, warn hearing specialists. These include increased heart-beat rates, higher blood pressure and an increase in the cholesterol level.

★ Nuclear Paranoia

Nuclear generation is a major power source in more than 30 countries — most of which regard our hesitation toward full use of this resource with continued puzzlement. Here we sit, one of the world's true superpowers, party to international nuclear treaties dealing with appropriate safeguards, while suffering a private nuclear paranoia about peaceful nuclear use.

During a quarter-century of experience with peaceful use of nuclear power, it has proven to be one of the most reliable and safe sources of energy available. A well-known scientist, Herbert Inhaber, has compared the risk of five conventional and six non-conventional energy systems and the results are surprising . . .

Renewable energy sources — wood, wind, water, sun — are far more dangerous in terms of energy and loss of man-hours, public and private, than is true of such sources as nuclear and natural gas, the scientist found.

In terms of total risk, public and private, coal is most dangerous, followed by oil, followed by one form of solar energy, then by wind, and by another form of solar energy.

The form of energy production with the least proven risk is natural gas, followed by nuclear.

The extreme anti-nuclear position of a vocal minority in this country has gone unchallenged long enough. Even Japan, the only country to suffer the effects of atomic weapons, is relying upon nuclear power for its long-term energy needs. About the only valid argument against a greatly expanded nuclear generating system, including the breeder-reactor, is the unanswered question of proper disposal of radioactive wastes.

Surely if we can propose billions for synthetic fuel research, for wind, tidal, and solar energy taps, we can spare enough money and manpower to resolve problems of nuclear waste disposal.

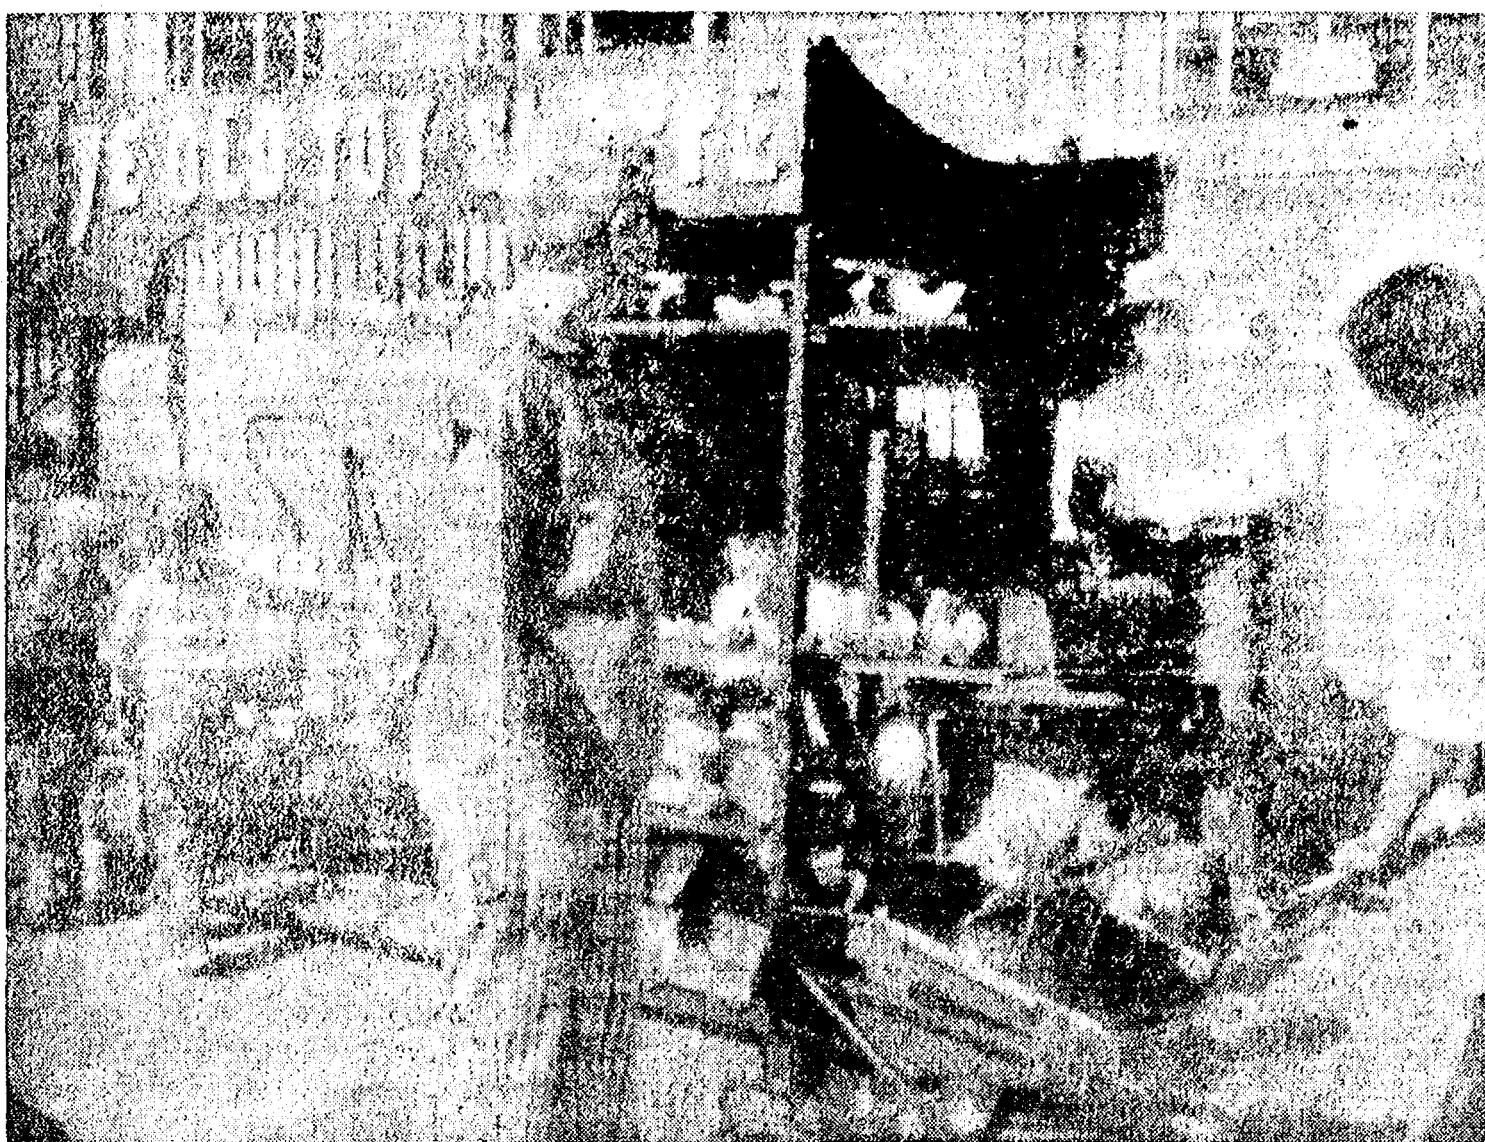

(NOTE: For further information on Inhaber's study, see February 1979 issue of Science Magazine.)

Vacation Bible School Coming to N. Sharon Church

Noah's Ark is coming to North Sharon Bible church of Grass Lake on Monday, Aug. 13 and will be there until Friday, Aug. 17, daily from 9:30 a.m. until noon, and on Friday, Aug. 17, at 7 p.m. Boys and girls, grades pre-school through 8th, may come to learn about Noah and the animals, play games during Fun Time, and meet the special animal visitor.

Children may be registered now, ages 4 to 14 by calling 428-7222. There will also be a showing of the film, "Noah's Ark and the Genesis Flood" on Friday, Aug. 17 at 7 p.m. for parents and other adults.

Sidewalk Sale Days Scenes

EARLY MORNING CROWDS had already gathered in the bright sun before Bill Coelius, seated center, had a chance to label and price all of the toys he sells at "Ye Olde Toy Shoppe." Coelius and his wife, Pat, are in their fourth year of creating and selling the wooden playthings.

GLASS ARTIST: A non-descript blob of glass became a small pig with a cork for a nose under the hands of glass artist Peter Severn of Chelsea, who fascinated crowds at last week-end's Art Fair and Sidewalk Sale Days. Severn displayed glass animals, candle sticks and Christmas tree ornaments at his popular booth.

SIDEWALK CLOWNS: One of the most entertaining sights of this year's Art Fair and Sidewalk Sale Days in Chelsea was the troupe of young clowns who wandered among the ordinary folks in the crowd, courtesy of Janet Norris and Sandy Kulenkamp. The pair painted dozens of eager faces using techniques they learned at Circus World in Florida. Here Norris puts the finishing touches on Stacy Norris.

Announcing Modernization & Expansion of DRIVE-UP WINDOW SERVICES

Chelsea State Bank is pleased to announce the expansion of the Drive-Up Window facilities at the Main Office from the current two windows to four windows, each with a separate lane. This improvement, together with the new Branch Office of this bank, presently under construction at the corner of S. Main St. and Old US-12, will increase our ability to serve our customers with greater speed and efficiency.

During the construction period the Drive-Up Window service will be limited to one window. This inconvenience should not last more than a few weeks, and during this time more tellers will be on duty in the lobby.

We appreciate your patience and co-operation during this construction period.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
It is obvious to anyone who has followed the voting record of Mr. Robert Carr, Representative from the 6th Congressional District of Michigan, that he almost always votes for bigger Government and more Government spending. Now, he has sponsored legislation that increases our taxes and gives Government Bureaucrats control over our children's education. He was one of 70 Representatives to sponsor a bill that established a separate Department of Education, apart from Health, Education and Welfare, HEW.
The new Department would benefit the teachers and administrators not the children. It is very important to the National Education Association which has 1.8 million members and in 1978 financed 155 Representatives with hundreds of thousands of dollars. The Department would mean a greatly increased appropriation, which the NEA wants in order to protect the jobs and salaries of all of those teachers and administrators who face rapidly declining school enrollments.
As the Federal Government has assumed more and more control of education in the last few years, the cost of it has skyrocketed, but the standards have diminished. The cost of this new and separate Department will be $12 billion the first year. If you spent $1,000 dollars a day, it would take 2,739 years to exhaust one billion dollars. It's not more money that is needed; it is less government control, which would allow school districts to solve their own problems, the bill-payers then would watch more closely to see how their tax-dollars were spent.
The 6th District cannot afford Mr. Carr any longer, it is time for a change.

The Bible-The Light from Heaven

Gives light on the precious name of Christ. (Colossians 3:17). When a young lady marries, she leaves her old name and adopts the name of her husband. She is called by his name, writes in his name, transacts business in his name, and honors his name. When we become Christians, we are joined to Christ in spiritual wedlock. Now we wear his name; we do all of our talking and working in his name, i.e., by his authority and for his glory. IN HIS NAME — We assemble. (Matthew 18:20). We proclaim the word. (Luke 24:46, 47). We were baptized. (Acts 2:38). We baptize believers. (Matthew 28:19, 20; Acts 10:48). We bow the knee and confess with the tongue. (Philippians 2:9, 10). We pray unto the Father. (John 14:13, 14; 15:16). We glorify God. (1 Peter 4:15, 16). We enjoy salvation. (Matthew 1:21; Acts 4:11, 12).

Salem Grove Church Outdoor Service Hosted By Robert Rentschlers

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rentschler hosted the annual outdoor service of the Salem Grove United Methodist church at their home in Waterloo Village, Sunday, July 29.
The Rev. George Woomer, pastor of the church, officiated at the 10:30 service. His sermon topic was "Love Knows No Bounds," based on the Book of Ruth.
George Woomer and Mrs. Sheri Fox furnished auto harp and guitar music for the service. Special musical numbers included a duet by Mrs. Woomer and Mrs. Fox, and two songs by the Sunday school children.
A picnic dinner was enjoyed by all following the service. Visiting and singing filled the afternoon hours for adults, and the children enjoyed games.

Farmers' planting intentions predict 970,000 acres of soybeans will be grown in 1979, more than a 20 percent increase.

Bicycle Reported Stolen Saturday

A bicycle was reported stolen from behind an apartment on Main St. sometime between 7 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 4 and 12 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 5, to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.
Susan Michael Gillespie told deputies her 10-speed man's bike, red with a black seat and black taped handles, was not locked up when it was removed from behind her second-floor apartment.

Remember, the circled EPA estimator is for comparison to other cars. Your mileage and range depend on your speed, weather and trip length. *Your actual highway mileage and range will probably be less than the highway estimate. Cruising range estimates are determined by multiplying the EPA and highway estimates by standard fuel tank capacities: Chrysler New Yorker, Newport and Cordoba, 21 gallon capacity; Chrysler LeBaron, 19.5 gallon capacity; Plymouth Volare, 18 gallon capacity; Plymouth Horizon, 13 gallon capacity.

"Let's make a deal" now on one of our mileage cars.

When it comes to mileage, we're the place to come to. Consider: our full-size Chrysler Newport and mid-size LeBaron get better EPA estimated gas mileage than Chevrolet Caprice or Ford LTD. Cordoba comes up with better mileage than Thunderbird or Cougar XR-7. And Volare with standard engine and automatic transmission beats the comparably equipped Granada or Monarch in mileage. Overall, we can offer you five Plymouth models that deliver 25 mpg or better. Chevy has two, Ford one. Like we said, if you're looking for mileage, we're the guys to see. Especially now during our "Let's Make a Deal" Closeout. Every one of our mileage cars must go now. In fact, you may never have a better chance to get into the Chrysler or Plymouth of your choice. So "let's make a deal," shall we? Like, today.

*Models counted by make and body style.

High School Diplomas May Still Be Possible

Chelsea and surrounding area residents have received registration materials for the fall Adult High School Completion program in the mail this week.

Jaclynn Rogers, director of the program, reported that many adults do not realize how close they are to obtaining their diplomas. Credits toward high school completion may be generated through work and other life experiences in addition to previously earned credits in high school.

Classes for high school completion are offered both in the evening and during the daytime hours at a variety of locations in the community. Classes normally meet once a week for 17 weeks, and will begin the week of Sept. 17.

Eighteen adults, aged 18 through 63, graduated from Chelsea High school through the Adult Education in June of last year. This is only the second year the program has been in existence.

Adults who graduated from the program had originally left school for varied reasons, but found themselves a great deal closer to graduation than they might have thought possible. For many it was the completion of a long-deferred goal; it hadn't made them any "smarter" but had given them a feeling of accomplishment and made them more marketable in the employment world.

Rogers stated that classes are also available to prepare individuals for the GED Test (General Education Development Test). A special Government class for Senior Citizens who were unable to finish their diplomas is also being offered at the Senior Citizen House on W. Middle St. Several Senior Citizens have chosen to work on their diplomas because of the program.

Classes are free to any adult without a high school diploma. Make an appointment today to find out how close you are to obtaining that diploma. Call the Community Education Office at 475-9830.

Absentee Ballots Available for School Election

Absentee ballots for the Aug. 20 millage election are now available at the school district administration building. Ballots will be picked up weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturday, Aug. 18 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

MARO PETSCH, Junior Miss All-Star pitcher, draws a bead on her next opponent in the Chelsea Blues-All Stars softball contest played last Thursday. Maro led her team to a 15-9 victory through four-hit pitching and strong performances at the plate. League Director Roberta Kemp named Petsch Most Valuable Player of that game.

Livestock Exchange Announces Promotions

Harold Lein, general manager of the Michigan Livestock Exchange, has announced a major shift in the administration of the marketing agency with the appointment of John Schornack and Tom Reed to the newly-created positions of assistant managers.

"Schornack and Reed will be working closely with me in the over-all operation of the Exchange, and I am confident that their promotions will greatly enhance our ability to grow and serve the farmers of Michigan with all their livestock marketing needs," Lein said.

Michigan Livestock Exchange, the state's largest livestock marketing agency, handled approximately 250,000 cattle, 620,000 hogs, and 88,000 sheep and lambs in 1978 for a dollar volume of over $200 million.

John Schornack of Manchester came to Michigan Livestock Exchange in 1960 from Equity Union Creamery, Inc., Aberdeen, S. D. He has been the Exchange's controller for the past 19 years and has also broadcast the daily livestock market trends and prices to Michigan's agricultural community. Schornack will continue to serve the Exchange in the role of controller along with the additional responsibilities of his new position.

Tom Reed of DeWitt first came to the Michigan Livestock Exchange in 1968 and two years later accepted the appointment as Gratiot County's Agricultural Extension Agent for Michigan State University. He also served as a crops and livestock specialist for the Michigan Farm Bureau prior to rejoining the Exchange as manager of member relations in 1977. Reed will continue to handle the activities of the member relations department and will assume the additional responsibilities of personnel procurement and training.

Need Volunteer Help at Waterloo Nature Center

Waterloo Nature Center is now looking for volunteers on weekends beginning Sept. 22 and 23 through the month of October. Volunteers will enable the center to conduct guided walks for the public to the floating bog.

Volunteers include working at the reception desk, answering visitor questions and answering the phone. If desired, volunteers may also be able to give a guided walk to the bog. These walks will be given on Sunday afternoons. For more information, contact the Waterloo Nature Center at 475-8069.

Tournament Play Concludes Rec Council Girls Softball Season

A week of fast-paced tournament play brought the first, successful season of Chelsea Recreation Council girls softball leagues to a close. Both the Junior Miss and Midget Leagues locked horns with other teams in the league to determine the tournament champions.

Play continued in the Junior Miss last week, as the Black Panthers and the Blue Eyes battled it out in the losers' bracket. Both squads were in a slugging mood that evening, as the combined hit total reached 30.

With the Blue Eyes ahead, 16-9, in the sixth inning, the Black Panthers made a gallant comeback attempt with a three-run homer by Sue Messner. The Panthers' runs weren't enough to turn the tide, however, and the Blue Eyes triumphed, 16-14.

With only a five-minute break, the Blue Eyes were on the field again, this time challenging the Red Devils of the winners' bracket for the tournament title.

Each team went through its roster of pitchers. Maro Petsch, Anne Weber and Chris Defant pitched well for the Blue Eyes, while Beth Unterbrink, Kelly Hawker and Venus Roberts saw mound action for the Red Devils.

At the top of the sixth inning, the score was a close 10-9 in favor of the Devils. With only one out, the Blue Eyes scored four runs to take the lead, and possibly the championship.

However, in the bottom of the same inning, the Red Devils responded to the pressure to score four runs and squeak past the Blue Eyes, 14-13.

In single-elimination play in the Midget League, the Blue Angels and Bombers played a thrilling contest featuring excellent ball-handling by both clubs.

Chandra Hurd homered for the Bombers, getting them off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning. The contest was nip and tuck all the way, with the Bombers squeaking by, 5-4.

The next game featured home runs by Giants Kelly Stump and Kelly Ghent, helping their team to crush the Red Hots, 27-5.

These two contests set up the final game between the Giants and the Bombers. It was a tightly played game, with the Giants finally breaking loose for six runs in the bottom of the second inning. Giant Jean Petsch helped out by slugging two homers.

In the top of the sixth, with the score Giants 11, Bombers 9, the Giants held against a rally with their sparkling defensive work, with Beth Kenney a standout. A final score of 11-9 handed the Giants the tournament title.

Haines Family Reunion Held at Moore Home

The eighth annual reunion of the Haines family was held Monday, Aug. 6, with 33 in attendance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore on Trinkle Rd.

This year's event drew guests from around Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Ontario, Canada. Activities ranged from a candy hunt and water balloon contest to volleyball and touch football. The afternoon ended with a wide-ranging water fight that involved everyone present.

Next year's reunion is scheduled to take place Aug. 3.

Girls Basketball Practice Sessions Start Next Monday

Practice for Chelsea's girls basketball teams will begin Monday morning, Aug. 13 in the high school gymnasium. Juniors and seniors interested in trying out for the varsity squad should report to the gym at 8 a.m. Monday.

Freshmen and sophomores interested in junior varsity should come to the gym at 10:15 a.m.
