Garage Sale Ordinance Is Proposed

An ordinance which would require permits for the operation of garage sales within the Chelsea village limits and restrict village residents to two sales in a calendar year was being considered by Village Council this week.

According to Village Administrator Frederick Weber, the ordinance will most likely be passed by council at its next session, Tuesday, Nov. 6.

In an attempt to eliminate garage or yard sales that are actually on-going businesses, the ordinance proposes to limit villagers in areas zoned as residential to two sales per calendar year, require them to buy a permit at a price "established by resolution from the Village Council from time to time" and limit each sale to two days.

Also included in the proposed ordinance is a prohibition of buying "new or used merchandise at any... sale for the purpose of reselling or offering such merchandise... for sale at any residentially-zoned premises in the village of Chelsea." Again, the council is attempting to crack down on garage sales that are actually businesses.

Advertising for sales would also be regulated. The ordinance proposes that just one sign, no more than two feet by four feet, may be placed at the site of the sale and that it must not be displayed more than 48 hours prior to the sale. Further, it would prohibit the placing of advertising signs on trees or poles in residential areas "within any public right of way."

If the ordinance is passed, violation of its provisions will be a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than $500 and imprisonment for not more than 90 days.

Grid Team Clinches 2nd Place in SEC

Playing confident, consistent football, Chelsea's varsity Bulldogs clinched at least second place in the Southeastern Conference Friday night by outrunning and controlling Ypsilanti Lincoln, 16-6.

Scoring was few and far between in the contest, confined to the first and final periods, but in between Chelsea displayed great defensive control of the Railsplitters' whirling dervish Derrick Tolliver.

A masterful runner, Tolliver was held to 70 yards rushing until the last four minutes of the game when he broke for a 70-yard touchdown run, saving Lincoln from the short end of a shutout.

Chelsea opened its scoring in the first quarter on a five-yard Bill Freeman run, set up by a Jeff Dills reception of a John Dunn pass.

Freeman proved to be the Chelsea workhorse in successive quarters, carrying the ball 30 times for 131 yards and scoring the Bulldogs' only other TD in the fourth quarter on a 62-yard run against the tough Lincoln defense.

Chelsea led 16-0 with four minutes left in the contest, when Tolliver slipped two Chelsea tackles and outran the Bulldog defense for his 70-yard touchdown.

In all areas, Chelsea proved to be in the driver's seat against Lincoln. Despite Lincoln's excellent defense, Chelsea racked up 337 total yards against the Railsplitters' 215. Dunn was 7 for 16 passing for 145 aerial yards.

Meanwhile, controlling the Lincoln offense was kicker Brad Knickerbocker who averaged 44.5 yards in five punts. Not once did the Railsplitters begin a drive forward of their own 20-yard line. Three of Knickerbocker's powerful kickoff efforts found their way into the Lincoln end zone.

80 YEARS YOUNG: M. W. "Mac" McClure and his wife, Hilda, stand on the porch of their Washington St. home for Mac's 80th birthday portrait. Former village president, Chelsea Standard publisher and Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. local manager, McClure will be honored at a family dinner party Thursday evening.

'Mac' McClure Celebrating His 80th Birthday Today

Dec. 16, 1920 the front page of The Chelsea Standard carried numerous stories concerning the recently-completed war. Herbert J. McKune's mother was notified that she was to receive a posthumous medal for her son, killed in action in 1918, and soldiers were informed that they were eligible for a Victory medal if they had served in the armed forces during the war.

Buried in a small block on page four was a notice from then-publisher O. T. Hoover, announcing that a 21-year-old, recently come from Ohio would be taking over publication of the paper.

In the almost 60 subsequent years, the name of that newcomer, M. W. McClure, would become synonymous with service in the Village of Chelsea. It is somehow fitting that Mc-

Clure's 80th birthday should come on a press day of The Standard, Thursday, Oct. 25, for he and his wife, Hilda, ran the paper from that December day in 1920 through a depression and another war until finally selling to Walter and Helen May Leonard in April of 1947.

McClure was born Oct. 25, 1899 in Grover Hill, O. He moved to Chelsea with his family in 1917, but not before acquiring quite a bit of printing experience with the Reporter Publishing Co. of Grover Hill. When The Standard was put up for sale by O. T. Hoover in 1920, McClure decided to utilize his previous experience and buy it.

According to Hilda McClure, who married M. W. in June 1921, "We just pooled our money and bought it. It we weren't so young and foolish, we'd probably never have made it go. I was teaching during the week and working at the paper on week-ends. Once we were into it, there was nothing to do but make a go of it."

During the Standard years, the McClures were involved in civic affairs. McClure helped organize and is a charter member of the local Kiwanis Club, chartered in 1924. He is the only Chelsea Kiwanian ever to have served two terms as president, in 1930 and 1933.

From 1947 to 1951, M. W. served the village as president. He had helped to organize Chelsea Products Inc. in 1945 and served on the board of directors until the company was sold to Dana Co. in 1958.

Back in 1948, he became manager of the Chelsea branch office of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., with Mrs. McClure as his assistant. They both served in that capacity until their retirement in 1964.

A quiet family dinner party will be held Thursday to celebrate Mr. McClure's landmark 80th birthday.

Always challenged and always serving the village in some new way, McClure looks back on his Chelsea career as a series of happy choices, including his sale of The Standard.

"I got out of the newspaper business in 1947 at just the right time," he said, "and you can tell that to anybody."

Prison Camp Escapees in Violent Crimes

Escapees from Cassidy Lake Technical School have been linked to two violent crimes in the past two weeks, both of which were committed in the Chelsea area.

A 19-year-old escapee, Philip Allen of Detroit, originally sentenced to Cassidy Lake for burglary, was arraigned Tuesday before Judge Kenneth Bronson on charges of rape.

According to Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department reports, Allen allegedly raped a Detroit woman in Waterloo Recreation Area Sunday, Oct. 21, as she and her husband were walking through the woods enjoying the autumn colors.

Police said that the couple was hiking in the woods when a man armed with a knife suddenly appeared. He ordered the woman's husband to partially undress and lie face down on the ground. The husband was repeatedly warned that if he moved, his wife would be killed.

After raping the 26-year-old woman, the assailant ordered her to lie down on top of her husband. He then fled.

It was reported that the victim and her husband identified Allen as the attacker in a line-up held Tuesday afternoon at the county jail.

Last week, another 19-year-old escapee, James E. Pickens, was arrested and charged with the shotgun murder of an Ann Arbor woman whose body was found in roadside bushes near Zeeb and Marshall roads in Scio township.

Police surmise that Pickens, who escaped from Cassidy Lake July 7 of this year, may have been harbored by his victim, Morrell Wilborn, following his get-away. Police said that Mrs. Wilborn and Pickens' mother were close friends.

A Detroit native, Pickens had been serving time in Cassidy Lake for violation of probation on charges of auto theft and carrying a concealed weapon. Police did not disclose the information that led to the finding of the body, but said that Pickens was arrested at his mother's home in Detroit.

Mrs. Wilborn, an employee of the Chrysler Corp. Introl Division, had been reported missing to Ann Arbor police Monday, Oct. 15, the day before her body was found.

Girl Cagers Win Two, Lose One

It was a week of mixed feelings for Chelsea's female cagers as they notched their sixth and seventh wins against Columbia Central and Pinckney but dropped an important conference contest to Lincoln.

Oct. 9 the Bulldogs hosted Columbia Central and ended up with a 54-36 victory. The hometown five started strong using an effective press and powerful rebounding to take an 18-8 lead after the first quarter. Mary Boylan and Nanette Push popped in seven and eight points respectively to lead the attack.

Experimentation was the key word for the rest of the game. Having lost guard Jennifer Ringe to a knee injury and forward Lorie Vandegrift with a broken ankle the week before, the Bulldogs tried many different combinations on the boards trying to sort out their game plan for the second half of the season.

The visitors from Columbia Central were game and kept battling, but the Chelsea squad held them off and in the second half added to their margin, outscoring the opponents by a 26-17 margin.

A trip to Lincoln Oct. 11 gave Chelsea an opportunity to climb in the league standings, but the Railsplitters fought their way to a come-from-behind victory in overtime.

Things seemed under control in the first half, as Chelsea's defense shut down their hosts in the first eight minutes. Lincoln put only one field goal in the hoop, and, although the Bulldogs were having a problem getting their shots in, they still enjoyed an 8-2 lead.

Halloween Party Set Wednesday

Ghosts, monsters and just plain spooks will reign in Chelsea Wednesday night, Oct. 31, as young masqueraders enjoy the Kiwanis Club sponsored activities of Halloween Night.

Evening fun starts with trick or treating from 5 to 6 p.m. during which hour ghoulish groups will try to collect as much candy as possible. From there, it's on to the Park St. parking lot at 6 p.m. for judging of costumes in various categories.

After winners are picked, the whole crew will spill out onto Park St. at 6:30 for a parade through the streets of Chelsea. The costumed munchkins will march from Park to East St., north to E. Middle, west to Main St. and south to Park, accompanied by the tuneless beat of the Beach school marching band.

Cider and doughnuts will await the marchers back in the municipal parking lot at the end of the parade.

JV Gridders Win First of Season

Coming off a heartening rally in the second half of their game against Saline last week, Chelsea's JV gridders finally put it all together last Thursday to down Ypsilanti Lincoln, 14-6, for their first win of the 1979 season.

Lincoln scored first in the opening period on a 33-yard pass play, but the Bulldogs came back in the second quarter with a Mike Bareis interception and a 23-yard drive capped by a one-yard TD run by Gary Van Meer. Van Meer also carried in the extra point, and Chelsea led, 8-6.

After the half, however, Chelsea came into complete domination of the contest, rolling up 247 yards of offense to Lincoln's 42. The Bulldogs put themselves on the scoreboard once in the third quarter as Todd Sprague ran one yard for the score. Conversion attempt was no good, and the scoring ended at 14-6, Chelsea.

Several other drives in that quarter were stopped by Bulldog fumbles.

Defensively, Chelsea was led by Brian Cooper, Tim Whitesall, Rick Poljan, Todd Sprague, Jeff Lantis, Dave Harrison, Dave Peterson, Mike Bareis, Dave Wojcicki, Steve Snyder, Ken Nicholas and Craig Olmstead.

Also defensively, Mike Bareis had four interceptions. Dave Wojcicki intercepted two and made a touchdown-saving tackle in the second quarter. Gary Van Meer had an interception and Dave Harrison recovered a Railsplitter fumble.

HAY FEVER: These exuberant youngsters really got into the spirit of the hayride they took at North school's Autumn Harvest Festival last Saturday. Besides haywagon fun, the PTO-sponsored event featured a farmers' market, craft tables, refreshments and a bake sale.

OLD NUMBER 22 was the Chelsea School District bus piloted by Don Keezer for many a long year until his retirement at the end of September. Keezer drove district students for 24 years on three different routes in all kinds of weather. There is never any such thing as retirement for farmers, however, and Keezer will continue to work his property on Freer Rd.

Special Committee Opens Hearings On Nuclear Power

A legislative committee investigating the nuclear power industry in Michigan has found that stress, shown as concerns over health, local economy and safety, was the single greatest impact the nuclear accident in Pennsylvania has had on local residents.

At the first meeting of the committee, testimony describing the effects the accident had on those living near the facility was presented by Joyce Freeman, executive director of a special Pennsylvania state commission investigating the accident and Michigan State University professor Stanley D. Brunn.

The special committee was formed after the accident occurred at the Three Mile Island nuclear plant. Its purpose is to investigate the nuclear industry in Michigan, the state's capabilities to deal with a possible emergency and the possibilities of reverting to alternate forms of power.

It is still uncertain how the accident occurred but there was a breakdown in the cooling system which led to a partial meltdown causing the emission of radiation. Freeman said though radiation was leaking, it never reached dangerously high levels.

Human health studies are still continuing and will include pregnancy studies, chromosome studies and mental health studies.

The single most important social issue that the accident has had is stress, according to Freeman. She said people face concerns about their health, about the local economy, about the willingness of people to move into the area and whether they should leave the area.

"There is still a very high level of tension in the community because we can still make the national news at the drop of a hat," she said.

Brunn said the accident had a significant impact on how people felt about nuclear power.

He noted before the accident, some 41 percent of the local residents favored nuclear power against 23 percent who opposed it with the rest uncertain.

After the accident, there was a dramatic shift with only 34 percent in favor and 48 percent opposed.

The committee held the hearing on the effects of the Three Mile Island accident as a way of setting background for its future work.

Legislator Proposes Annual Vehicle Safety Inspection

Annual safety inspections for the state's 6.1 million cars and trucks has been proposed by Rep. Jack Kirksey (R-Livonia).

In announcing the introduction of legislation to require the inspections, Kirksey said although several other states already require such inspections, he was getting little support for the idea in Michigan.

The State Police do random safety inspections and use the occasion to also check the driver for possible warrants or alcoholic influence.

Kirksey's bill would set up a state-licensed inspection station at private garages.

The garages could charge $7.50 for the inspection and would be prohibited from making repairs, costing more than $20, within 10 days of the inspection.

The Livonia Republican said such a prohibition would be an attempt to reduce any chances of fraud.

He also said the safety inspections could be done in conjunction with a proposed auto exhaust emissions testing program.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

It was one of them catch can sessions at the country store Saturday night. The fellers started out on taxes, but they worked their way through worms and wimmen. It got started when Ed Doolittle said he had saw where taxes was called a "compulsory payment for which you receive no direct benefits." Ed said that tied in with one of these typical taxpayer reports in the paper the other day.

The typical American taxpayer, Ed reported, earns $18,000 to support himself, his wife and two children. He has to send $4,814 of that to Washington, and all his state and local taxes will bring that bite to a full $6,000. The Tax Foundation that got up the figures said spending by all levels of Government has gone up seven times in 20 years, from $52.3 billion to $362.3 billion. And if this typical taxpayer ain't drawing veteran benefits, welfare, unemployment pay, Medicaid or Social Security he ain't getting hardly any of that $6,000 back, Ed allowed.

The fellers took Ed's report calm. Clem Webster said another foundation is just as likely to work up a report where that typical taxpayer gets more back than he puts in. Figgering the cost of keeping up the hospital where them two children were born, running the schools that take care of them nine months to the year, add up the public recreation that the family takes for granted, like the town, the state and national parks, the fire protection, the roads, the police, the garbage collection and pritty soon the typical taxpayer will find hisself ahead of the game, Clem declared. The trouble with folks, Clem said, is they want to dance but they don't want to pay the fiddler, and that idee is what keeps our politicians busy promising what they know they can't come up with unless they keep inventing new ways like a value added tax to get what Ed called that compulsory payment.

Before Ed and Clem got into one of their Republican-Democrat debates on how to run the world, Zeke Grubb reported where we got to cut out our worrying so we can cut out fishing to get away from our worries. Zeke had this clipping where researchers in Sweden say they have found out it hurts a worm to have a fish hook run through him. When the worm is squirming on the hook he's in agony, the study showed, because his body produces the same stuff ours do that lets us know when we're hurting. Doctors had said animals without backbones didn't feel pain. Add to that thought how the fish must feel with a hook run through the roof of his mouth, and it could take all the pleasure out of relaxing, was Zeke's words.

As fer the wimmen, Bug Hookum had saw where one woman lawyer had got rich over the past 25 years handling nothing but divorces, and where a woman justice of the peace had married 2,000 couples in the past two year at $15 a clip. This, said Bug, is a case of gitting locks on the market. Bug said he saw this wimmen takeover coming 40 year ago at a church picnic. His old lady won the rolling pin throwing contest and then beat him in the 100 yard dash.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew

Bulldogs 2nd in SEC. . .

Bulldogs' performance Friday. "Lincoln is the best defensive football team we've faced," LaFave explained. "They're tough, but we were consistent. We committed zero turnovers and, timewise, controlled the ball two to one."

The win over Lincoln finished Chelsea's 1979 league competition. A tie with Saline for first place is a possibility if Saline is defeated by Milan this Friday. The slim chance of that occurrence is expressed in LaFave's hopeful: "We can always pray."

Nevertheless, the Bulldogs cannot be budged from second place and have bettered their fourth place conference finish of last year when they ended the season with a 6-3 record. Chelsea is now 4-1 in the SEC and 4-3 over-all.

Next opponent on tap is South Lyon who will travel to Chelsea for the Bulldogs' last home contest of the season. The Lions are the Kensington Valley League champions this year and are likely to be the roughest team Chelsea has seen all year.

According to LaFave, "Saline was big, bigger than Okemos, but they're not physical. South Lyon plays power football and they're extremely physical."

Rounding out the season for the Bulldogs will be an encounter with Pinckney week after next.

The Newspaper Guild has made it mandatory for its locals to seek contract clauses that prohibit employers from discriminating against handicapped workers, according to the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

Mr. and Mrs. Torstein Faaberg

Linda Simon, T. Faaberg Wed in Texas Ceremony

Former Chelsea resident Linda Simon, daughter of Paul and Lorraine Simon, 20345 Gene Dr., and Torstein Faaberg of Drammen, Norway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lars Faaberg of Drammen, chose a unique setting for their Sept. 28 marriage in Big Spring, Tex.

The wedding took place in the hangar at Trans-Regional Air in Big Spring, Tex., where the bridegroom is employed as a flying instructor. A small reception in the hangar followed for friends.

The bride has completed her third year at Central Michigan University majoring in speech therapy. Her husband just recently completed his training and received his license as a pilot instructor.

Woman's Club Sees Cooking Demonstration

Chelsea Woman's Club met Tuesday at St. Barnabas church for a cooking demonstration by Lenore Mattoff.

As guest speaker, Mrs. Mattoff demonstrated three hors d'oeuvres, chicken terrine, pumpkin soup and mushrooms croustads. She also answered questions and gave cooking hints.

A short business meeting followed, after which the prepared food was served with punch and tea.

Eight guests joined the club for the demonstration. They were Irene Clair, Alda Knight, Irene Procknow, Katherine Durkin, Joanna Alter, Gari Feldman, Jean Cooper and Lorrie Rady.

Hostesses were Carol VanReesema and Marjorie Beaumont.

Next meeting will be Nov. 13 at the home of Joyce Vogel where the group will learn a Christmas craft.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay M. Butler

Lori Proctor, Jay Butler Exchange Wedding Vows

Chelseaites Lori D. Proctor and Jay M. Butler were joined in marriage by the Rev. Fr. Philip Dupuis at St. Mary Catholic church Friday, Oct. 12, in a late afternoon ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sweet of Chelsea and Mr. and Mrs. Don Proctor of Chelsea. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butler of Orchard St.

For the ceremony, the bride chose an ivory delustered satin, empire-styled full-length gown with a rose figured lace bodice and matching lace trim on skirt and chapel-length train. Her fingertip veil was made of matching lace attached to a tiara-style headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of ivory-white roses and baby carnations accented with a touch of burgundy and rose-tipped carnations and greens.

Maid of honor was Dawn Roberts of Manchester. She wore a rose-colored floor-length gown and a rose tipped carnation in her hair and carried four long stemmed rose-tipped carnations.

Serving as bridesmaids were Lois Butler of Chelsea, sister of the bridegroom; Janis Proctor of Chelsea, sister of the bride; and Teri Wade of Chelsea, a friend of the couple. They wore wine-colored floor-length gowns, wore wine-tipped carnations in their hair and each carried three long-stemmed wine-tipped carnations.

The mother of the bride chose to wear a Qiana evergreen full-length gown with a draped neck and long dolman sleeves. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a full-length aqua knit dress and mid-length jacket with caped sleeves.

Best man was Dennis Barker, a friend of the bridegroom. Serving as ushers were the bride's brother, David Proctor of Ann Arbor, Brad Smith of Stockbridge, and Dave Schuelke, a friend of the bridegroom.

Organist Kathy Hoard of

Gregory provided music at the ceremony.

A reception was held at Chelsea Fairgrounds with 225 guests in attendance. Mrs. Marge Ferry cut the cake, Barb Proctor poured punch and Margaret Sweet tended the guest book.

Following a four-day wedding trip to northern Michigan, the couple will reside at 128 E. Middle St.

The bride is employed as a secretary at Gelman Sciences, Inc. Her husband works as a machine operator at Industrial Technics, Inc.

Women Forming K-C Auxiliary

Fifteen interested area women attended a meeting Tuesday, Oct. 18, to discuss and formulate a Knights of Columbus women's auxiliary for this area.

Main function of the auxiliary will be to work in conjunction with Knights of Columbus Council No. 3092 by assisting its members and supporting their projects and causes.

Temporary officers were chosen until formal elections can be held. They are Emma Neibauer, president; Mary Nadeau, vice-president; Sister Patricia Weigand, treasurer; and Pat Zangara, secretary.

Meeting will be held on the second Thursday of each month at the Knights of Columbus Hall. All K of C wives and widows are invited to attend the next meeting, Thursday, Nov. 8 at 8 p.m.

Pennsylvania passed a child labor law setting the minimum age for workers in commercial occupations at 12 years in 1848. The following year, the minimum was raised to 13 years, according to "Important Events in American Labor History, a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Bollinger-Bauer Vows Spoken at Zion Lutheran

Deborah Sue Bollinger of Chelsea and Steven W. Bauer of Marshall were wed in an evening ceremony Saturday, Oct. 6, at Zion Lutheran church with the Rev. John Morris officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bollinger, 2811 Peckins Rd. Parents of the bridegroom are William Bauer of Marshall and Mrs. John Klein of Ann Arbor.

For the ceremony the bride was attired in a long white satin gown ending in a short train. The neckline was trimmed in lace flowers, as were the front of the skirt and the train. A waist-length veil was secured to a lace-trimmed cap. She carried long-stemmed peach roses, fern and baby's breath.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Judy Brewer of Kalamazoo. She wore a peach print chiffon dress and carried long-stemmed peach roses, fern and baby's breath. She also wore baby's breath in her hair.

Friends of the bride, Cindy Broderick and Judy Herman, both of Chelsea, were bridesmaids. They wore dresses identical to that of the matron of honor and each carried one long-stemmed peach rose, fern and baby's breath.

Mother of the bride was attired in a floor-length wine-colored silk jersey with figured chiffon overlays and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a street-length royal blue silk dress with three-quarter length sleeves and a yellow rose corsage.

The bride's niece, Sarah Bollinger, was flower girl, and her nephew, Steven Brewer, was ringbearer.

Best man was Joseph Kooperman II, a friend of the bridegroom from Ann Arbor. Ushers were Neil Bollinger of Laingsburg, the bride's brother; Mike Morrison of Ann Arbor, a friend of the bridegroom; Nelson Bollinger of Chelsea, the bride's brother; and Tim Morrison of Ann Arbor, a friend of the bridegroom.

Vocalist Karen McGowan sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer" at the ceremony accompanied by organist Cathy Sebold.

A reception was held at the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club. Buffet supper was served by Mrs. George Prinzing and Mrs. Elmer Bristle. Assisting were Gail Kuhl, Jody Bennett, Mrs. Tony Shoening and Becky Armstrong. Music for entertainment and dancing was provided by Leigh Travis' band.

Following a one-week trip to northern Michigan, the couple will be at home in Marshall.

The bride is a 1978 graduate of Chelsea High school. Her husband is a 1975 graduate of Pioneer High school, Ann Arbor, and is employed by Bauer Heating & Cooling of Marshall.

Swimmers of the Week

THIS WEEK'S HONOREES as Swimmer of the Week are Janine Hoffman (left), Teresa Degener (right), and Celeste Powell. Janine is a sophomore who lowered her best times in the 200- and 500-yard freestyles against Milan and lowered her 500 free again in a winning effort against Lincoln. Junior Teresa won the 100-yard breaststroke against Milan and lowered her best butterfly time swimming against Milan, and again in competition with Lincoln. Celeste Powell had her best 200 free and 100 butterfly times at Lincoln. She is the third fastest 9th grade 'flyer in the history of Chelsea High school swimming.

Orchestras To Present Concert

Back by popular demand, the Chelsea Orchestras are planning their first season concert for Tuesday, Oct. 30 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Members of the 7th grade strings will be playing "Candy Man" and "Axiom," followed by the 8th grade strings which will perform "Sarabande" and "Festival for Fiddlers."

High school symphony orchestra will perform "Concerto Grosso" by Geminiani, movements two and three, and "Sinfonetta" by Jarda.

The Choir will then perform a number of selections followed by a grand finale in which all three string groups accompany selected choir members on "Three Times a Lady."

Band Concert Scheduled For Monday

Combined bands from Beach Middle school and Chelsea High school will present a post-football season concert Monday, Oct. 29, at 7:30 p.m. in the CHS gymnasium.

High school director Steven Bergmann and Beach band director Warren J. Mayer will lead their respective bands in individual performances and then the groups will combine for a finale.

Beach's 7th grade band will perform "Liberty Fleet," a march by King, "An Antique Suite," by Purcell and "Play Elvis," arranged by Klevenow and Pierce.

Members of the 8th grade band will perform a march "Honors of the Day" by Irons, "Brandywine Creek," by Forsblad, and selections from "A Chorus Line." Chelsea High's marching band will play selections from its 1979 marching season.

Girl Swimmers Split Two Meets

Chelsea High school's girl swimmers had both ups and downs last week as they were sunk by two-time state champion Milan, 101-69, and then turned around and walloped Lincoln, 116-55.

In the Milan meet, highlight event was the butterfly. Sara Borders won with a personal best time of 1:07.000 and Teresa Degener was third with a personal best of 1:19.912. Celeste Powell was fifth with a 1:26.059.

Other winners against Milan were Teresa Degener in the 100 breaststroke and the freestyle relay of Borders, Kristin Thomas, Shannon Springer and Anita Powell.

Fine performances were turned in by Sue Cobb in backstroke, Janine Hoffman in the 500 free and Mary Bacon in diving.

In the Lincoln meet, Chelsea took all 11 events and took first and second in nine of those. Winners for Chelsea were the following:

200 Medley Relay—Lisa Radke, Shannon Springer, Kristin Thomas, Lori Voita; 200 free—Annette Kuhl 1st, Celeste Powell 3rd, and Janine Hoffman 4th; 200 IM—Sara Borders 1st, Radke 2nd; 50 free—Springer 1st, Degener 2nd, Voita 5th; Diving—Michele Clark (school record: 202.50) 1st, Molly Bacon 3rd; 100 fly—Degener 1st, Powell 2nd; 100 free—Thomas (freshman record) 1st, Barb Davis 2nd; 500 free—Hoffman 1st, Kuhl 2nd; 100 back—Radke 1st, Sue Cobb 2nd; 100 breaststroke—Powell 1st, Springer 2nd; 400 free—Davis, Cobb, Powell, Thomas.

Swimmers of the week this week are Thomas, Davis, Hoffman, Kuhl, Radke, Cobb, Powell and Springer.

GIRL SCOUTS

BROWNIE TROOP 145—
Brownie Troop 145 met Oct. 15. At this meeting we made final plans for next week's trip to Waterloo Recreation Area, and we planned a roller skating trip for next month. We also made invitations for our investiture. Snack was brought by Stephanie Bowers.
Susie McGonigal, scribe.

TROOP 247—
The Brownies of Troop 247 made a caterpillar magnet for our refrigerators and got to choose our favorite color. We talked about our halloween party. We played a game called animal pantomime and sang a song called "Make New Friends." Kelly Dale brought treats. We closed our meeting with the Brownie squeeze and taps.
Sharen White, scribe.

TROOP 84—
The Brownies of Troop 84 took a nature hike to Waterloo Center and saw a movie about hibernation. Then we went back to Mrs. Young's house and had lunch. We made s'mores.
Sheri Myers, scribe.

TROOP 689—
Last week the Girl Scouts of Troop 689 went grocery shopping at Polly's to buy food for our camping trip. We camped all week-end at Cedar Lake. Melanie Dils showed us her coin collection. Kristen Muncer showed us her jewelry collection. Cathy Hoffman brought the treats.
Kristen Muncer, scribe.

TROOP 82—
Junior Troop 82 started our apple head dolls and planned our camping menus. It was Heidi's birthday and she brought a treat.
Nancy Stierle, scribe.

Psychology Award

The Chelsea High school psychology class has chosen Tracy Cattell for this week's award.

Tracy was chosen by her fellow classmates because of her active participation in class discussions, her great amount of interest in psychology and her good grades in the subject.

Tracy says of the class, "It's interesting and I'm learning a lot." She is planning to use some of her psychology in her future career.

A senior this year, Tracy has held class offices, is a member of the National Honor Society and is active in school musicals. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lynda Cattell.

TRACY CATTELL

About eight percent of the federal government's full-time employees work for the Veterans Administration.

During 1978, the Wage and Hour Division of the U. S. Department of Labor found 14,063 minors employed contrary to the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act, according to the department's 66th annual report.

Wheat Weaving Demonstrated for Child Study Club

Local artisans Gloria Greenleaf and Sherry Plank demonstrated the art of wheat weaving at the Oct. 9 meeting of the Chelsea Child Study Club at the home of Nancy Grau.

Guests Gari Feldman, Darlene Strank, June Flanagan and Ginny Dietle joined 22 members to create small wreaths using the craft that Sherry Plank learned while visiting Kansas this summer.

Nancy Grau of the finance committee reminded members that the Jan. 14 culinary collection cooking demonstration will feature Christine Liu, whose Chinese cook book is available in bookstores.

Members voted to support the local United Way campaign with a donation. Co-hostesses Ruth Dils and Marion Sprague served dessert to the members, guests and speakers following the program.

Hospital Auxiliary Hears Report on New Addition

Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary met Monday, Oct. 15, and heard guest speaker Willard Johnson, hospital administrator, discuss the progress of the new hospital addition and other recent developments.

Alice Thornton presided over the business meeting.

A new project for the auxiliary is taking blood pressures at the Senior Citizen Center on W. Middle St. twice a month on Wednesdays. Carole VanReesema is in charge of the project.

The next time you hear someone complaining about all the money being spent on "silly research projects," consider this: Research has made possible the heart-lung machine, medication to control high blood pressure and many other tools used to treat cardiovascular disease—our nation's number one killer. We know that finding the answer to cardiovascular disease is vital. That's why we're supporting sixty research projects this year in Michigan. At the Michigan Heart Association, it's one big way "we're fighting for your life."

Hunter Failed To Get Farmer's Permission

The Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department reminds hunters that written consent must be obtained before hunting on property not their own, or be liable to charges of unlawful entry.

This year's first area arrest on that law was made by Deputy Joe Yekulis, who reported placing in custody Evert F. Bailey of 268

Madison St., Manchester, after the latter was reported hunting raccoons without permission by the owner of property on the southwest corner of Elmsman and Bemis Rds. near Manchester late Monday, Oct. 8.

Yekulis said that upon investigating he found a pick-up truck parked on the property, but was unsuccessful in his attempt to summon the vehicle's owner by flashing his lights and sounding his siren. At the complainant's request, the deputy said, the truck, which contained three freshly killed raccoons, was impounded and the carcasses were logged as evidence.

According to Yekulis, Bailey received permission to reclaim his truck after which a warrant was obtained for his arrest. When Bailey came to the Dexter Substation to demand the return of the raccoons, the deputy continued, he was placed in custody and a confession was obtained.

Bailey was arraigned in 14th District Court before Judge Kenneth Bronson Friday, Oct. 5.

You're in the lead.
It's your last dive.
Everyone's waiting for your sensational
2 1/2 Somersault in a Tuck.

And your suit feels like a wet hippo.

Forget the competition.
Right now, it's you against your suit.
And your suit's winning.
No wonder. It's bigger than you are.
Or at least it feels that way. Like 200 pounds of wrinkles and bulges that cling and creep and mess up your concentration.
You can't even tug them out. Awful.
Shoulda worn a Speedo suit.
A Speedo suit would never, ever do this to you.
Even sopping wet, a Speedo wouldn't grow wrinkles or turn hippo on you.

Never even have to think about it.
Now you can hardly remember your dive.
Too bad. You're so good, too. Even though your suit isn't.
Maybe you could have it trained.

Good Things Growing in Michigan

October is National Porkfest month. Celebrate by preparing an all-pork dinner with "good things growing in Michigan." This is one of the major hog-marketing months of the year and you can find excellent pork buys now.

Pork producers in our state marketed 203 million pounds of pork in 1978, valued at $96 million, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Begin your special celebration with Ham Pretzel Pleasers. Combine cream cheese, ground ham, nuts, Worcestershire sauce and onion juice. Form into about three dozen balls and roll in chopped parsley. Stick a pretzel in each ball to serve.

For Ham and Squash Rings, arrange slices of cooked acorn squash and ham in a shallow baking dish and bake for 40-50 minutes. Mix one-half cup maple syrup, three tablespoons of butter, one-fourth teaspoon each of cinnamon and cloves. Pour over squash and ham. Cook covered for 25-20 minutes, spooning glaze over ham and squash occasionally.

A popular luncheon recipe is Molded Ham Salad. Heat one cup of canned tomatoes to boiling and add one three-ounce package lemon gelatin. Stir until dissolved, then cool. When mixture begins to thicken, stir in one cup diced ham, one-half cup each diced celery, green pepper and chopped cheese; one-half teaspoon each of prepared horseradish and salt, and one teaspoon grated onion. Combine one-quarter cup salad dressing and one-half cup sour cream. Add to gelatin mixture. Pour into oiled mold and chill.

These and many other recipes demonstrated at a Michigan Food Fare in Detroit this summer are available by writing MDA for the free recipe booklet, "Michigan Food Fare," P. O. Box 30017, Lansing 48909.

DOUBLE WINNERS: Helping the Chelsea Aquatic Club to a healthy finish in this past weekend's AAU meet in Livonia were, left to right, David Nicola, David Mason, Scott Prohaska and John Robbins. The quartet took gold medals for Chelsea in both the sprint relay and 200-yard medley relay.

PROCLAMATION FOR A UNITED NATIONS DAY OF SHAME

- Whereas, the United Nations has never condemned the Communist tyrants for assaulting religious freedom, destroying the sanctity of the family, abrogating property rights, abolishing free elections, or murdering tens of millions, and
- Whereas, the UN did condemn the United States in 1975 for maintaining military bases in Guam, and in 1976 for importing nickel and chrome from anti-Communist Rhodesia, and
- Whereas, the United States has only one vote in the UN General Assembly, while the Soviet Union has three (USSR, Byelorussia and the Ukraine), and
- Whereas, America's taxpayers pay twenty-five percent of the UN regular budget, more than sixteen times the amount that a majority of the member nations collectively contributes, and
- Whereas, the money Americans "contribute" to the UN has not been used to support American ideals of true human rights and freedom, but instead has been used to suppress freedom and glorify tyrants, and
- Whereas, in 1961, the UN troops in the Congo massacred civilians, bombed hospitals, destroyed churches and slaughtered women and children, and
- Whereas, in 1971, the UN expelled the government of Free China from its membership, and welcomed instead Communist Chinese tyrants who have murdered millions of their fellow Chinese, and
- Whereas, just this year, the United Nations Development Program has approved a $15 million aid program for these same Communist Chinese, and
- Whereas, two groups affiliated with the terrorist Palestine Liberation Organization (the Special Unit on Palestinian Rights and the Committee on the Exercise of the Inalienable Rights of the Palestinian People) have been receiving funds from the UN and
- Whereas, UNICEF (which claims to help needy children) has issued medical combat packs to terrorists entering Rhodesia, and
- Whereas, far from being a meaningless debating society, the UN is actually the formal framework for a one-world government, and
- Whereas, the United States should maintain its sovereignty and freedom, and should not allow the UN to acquire control over its citizens,
- BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED that the United States should get out of the United Nations, and that the UN anniversary on October 24, 1979 should be proclaimed a United Nations Day of Shame.

FARMERS MARKET

BOUNTIFUL HARVEST: All the riches of the fall harvest in the area were on sale at the farmers' market during North school's Harvest Festival last Saturday. Sponsored by the school PTO, the event raised funds for North PTO projects.

Diabetes Screening Tests Available

Free screening tests for diabetes will be available locally during National Diabetes Detection Week, Nov. 4-10. The American Diabetes Association-Michigan Affiliate is sponsoring the testing program in cooperation with more than 150 hospitals and health facilities in many communities in Michigan.

In this area, tests may be obtained at Chelsea Community Hospital, 775 S. Main St., Monday through Friday, Nov. 5-9, 2 to 8 p.m.; St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, Tuesday, Nov. 6, 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.; and Manchester Emanuel Church of Christ, 234 W. Main St., Manchester, Friday, Nov. 9, 8:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.

It is estimated that there are approximately 200,000 people in Michigan who have diabetes and do not know it. The purpose of this drive is to identify these people and alert them to the need for proper treatment. The testing is limited to those over 18 years of age who have not previously been diagnosed as diabetics.

To assure an accurate test, it is important to eat a high carbohydrate meal, one with large amounts of starches and sugars, two hours before the test.

A good breakfast to have before the test, for example, would be fruit or juice, cereal with milk and sugar, two slices of buttered toast with jam, and coffee or tea. A person planning to take the test after lunch could have a bowl of soup, a sandwich, cake or pie for dessert, and a glass of milk.

The meal should be eaten within a 15-minute time period and nothing else except water should be taken before the test. The name and address of the family physician are needed for follow-up.

Most common symptoms of diabetes are excessive thirst, frequent urination, blurring vision, constant hunger or the slow healing of cuts and scratches. The disease, however, may be present without any symptoms.

Persons who are over 35, overweight, and blood relatives of a diabetic are particularly urged to take the test since they are in the "high risk" group of those most likely to develop diabetes.

United Way Rural Campaign Is By Mail

Else Heller, rural chairperson for the Chelsea United Way fund campaign, is urging all farm and country families to mail their contributions to United Way as soon as possible.

Mrs. Heller, whose family farm is at 1610 Guenther Rd., reported, "We have attained one-third of our goal so far, but we still have hundreds of rural families to hear from. This is the first year we have conducted our rural fund campaign by mail. With rising costs of gasoline, it's just too much to ask our volunteers to drive hundreds of miles on country roads and pay for the gas out of their own pockets."

"Members of many rural families in our area are direct beneficiaries of Chelsea United Way services," Mrs. Heller added, "but for most of our area families, the big thing about Chelsea United Way is that is an annual act of giving."

Chelsea United Way has a goal of $41,000 for its 1979 campaign in support of 36 human service agencies. Eighty-five percent of all that is raised through Chelsea.

United Way goes for the needs of people in Washtenaw county.

One of the newest agencies to be aided by Chelsea United Way is Chelsea Area Transportation System (CATS), which provides free bus rides for senior citizens. This service is now benefiting seniors well beyond the village limits and will be extended further into the country as time goes by.

General chairman for the 1979 fund drive is pharmacist Dale Schumann.

Things Were Simpler Then

The New York City Police Department issued the first traffic regulations pamphlet in the country on Oct. 30, 1903. The tiny booklet, title, "Rules for Driving," was only four pages thick and 6 1/4" by 3 1/4" in size. Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, offers visitors a chance to see other traffic regulators from the early days of motoring, including the world's first three-color, four-direction traffic light.

Novice Debaters Open Season in Jackson League

Chelsea's novice debate team opened its season Monday, Oct. 22 with a meet in Jackson and finished with an over-all 6-2 record.

Teams competing with Chelsea in the Jackson ABC league are Jackson Parkside, Homer, Lit-chfield and Columbia Central.

Chelsea's novices lead in the open division, which is open to debaters on both novice and varsity teams. Mary Anderson, Kathy Waldyke, Sarah Leisinger and Celeste Arbogast led the novices to a 3-1 finish for the top division spot.

In the novice division, Chelsea's debaters are second with a 3-1 record. Participating for Chelsea were Mike Ward, Kelly Hense, Katie Ullman and Laura Hines.

Varsity Chelsea debaters Drew Sprague and Dave Waldyke acted as judges at the meet and Teresa Degener, Michelle Clark and Mary Markle were timekeepers.

The next time you hear someone complaining about all the money being spent on "silly research projects," consider this: Research has made possible the heart-lung machine, medication to control high blood pressure and many other tools used to treat cardiovascular disease—our nation's number one killer. We know that finding the answer to cardiovascular disease is vital. That's why we're supporting sixty research projects this year in Michigan. At the Michigan Heart Association, it's one big way "we're fighting for your life."

Put a Light Bulb On the Birthday Cake

Thomas Edison completed his experiments on a successful incandescent light Oct. 21, 1879. With that one small bulb, which had glowed for 40 hours, the world was forever changed. This year, in celebration of the Centennial of Light, special private ceremonies are planned for Edison's Menlo Park, N. J., Laboratory in Greenfield Village, Dearborn, a 240-acre site with more than 85 historic structures.

bench, sitting out foul trouble, in the second quarter, Chelsea managed to lead at the half, 16-10. Chelsea popped off 19 points against the Railsplitters in the second half, but the speed and quickness of the Lincoln squad was beginning to show as it went for 16 points of its own.

The wear and tear of the fast pace finally took its toll in the final quarter as Lincoln ran off 18 points to the Bulldogs' nine and force overtime with a tie.

The final period trend continued there with Lincoln outscoring Chelsea 8-1 in the extra period to take a 52-45 win.

Only three players scored for Chelsea but each hit into the double figures as Push garnered 22, Amy Unterbrink 12 and Mary Boylan 11.

Last week at Pinckney, the Bulldogs ran into another overtime thriller but this came came out the winner, 51-47.

That contest featured two of the area's finest players in Nanette Push and Pinckney's Janeen Wiltse. Both displayed an abundance of offensive skill with Wiltse bucketing 29 points an Push 26.

Push had more help from her teammates this time with 14 points from Unterbrink and eight from Mary Boylan.

Neither team could decisively put the other away throughout the game. At the end of the first quarter, Pinckney had a two-point lead, at the half led by one and was ahead 30-29 at the end of three periods. With regulation time over, the score was knotted at 45 all.

The biggest margin either team could manage throughout the contest was six points and the lead kept changing hands again and again.

Baskets by Push and Boylan and a free throw apiece by Push and Patti Hume finally iced the victory in overtime for the Bulldogs.

In addition to hitting more than 20 points for the fourth game in succession, Push added 19 rebounds, five assists and seven steals to her game totals. Amy Unterbrink continued her fine play as a starter, hitting double figures in points with 14 and rebounds with 11 for the second straight game.

Mary Bort did a good job in center when the Bulldogs were having foul trouble there in the second and third quarters. Mary Boylan came back in the final quarter and overtime to can eight points and pull in five badly needed rebounds.

Two home games are next on the Bulldogs' schedule, as they host Jackson County Western Thursday, Oct. 25, and South Lyon Thursday, Nov. 1.

Trick-Treat Scheduled For UNICEF

The International Year of the Child is well under way, and in the spirit of the year Chelsea Church Women United are asking area residents to make this a rewarding season for millions of deprived children by giving to the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF).

Church Women United is sponsoring the traditional trick or treat for UNICEF in the Chelsea area this year, from Oct. 27 through Nov. 3.

Funds raised during the trick or treat will be put to good use in assisted health, education and nutrition programs in the form of seeds and tools for village vegetable gardens, pencils and exercise books for schools, pipes and pumps for clean water supplies, medicines, and stipends for training community health and education workers.

With inflation hitting everyone, it is comforting to note that a little still goes a long way with UNICEF. Just $1 can buy vaccine to immunize 66 children against tuberculosis.

All are invited to join in the trick or treat, either by collecting or contributing when a trick or treater knocks on your door.

Boxes for the collection will be distributed in area churches on Saturday, Oct. 27.

COMP TALKS — The Governor's Task Force on Worker's Compensation Reform will meet again this week following last week's disagreement on whether or not to include discussion of cost-of-living benefits on the agenda for future meetings.

MEMORIAL DAY — The House has again approved a bill to change state Memorial Day observance back to the traditional May 30 from the 4th Monday in May, in the form of HB 4524. In prior years, such a bill has passed the House but not the Senate.

PAROLE LAW — The Attorney General has further amplified a Supreme Court ruling on last year's Proposal B, saying that prisoners may be released before serving a minimum sentence if they were convicted before Proposal B took effect in December.

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY — It now appears that Michigan will have a May, 1980, presidential primary after all. The House approved HB 4392 to kill the primary, but the Senate changed it to keep the primary and require voters to announce Party preference. The bill is now in conference committee with no prospect of quick action. With no new law, the primary stays the same.

LOCAL BUDGETS — A bill has been introduced in the House which would allow voters to limit the budget of their local governments. Electors could circulate a petition, have a special election and thereby reduce the local government budget — and taxes — by a stated percentage of 5 to 10 percent. HB 5087 is now in the House Committee on Towns and Counties.

STRIKE TALKS — The House Labor Committee is continuing discussion on a package of bills which would give public employees including teachers the right to strike. Disagreement has arisen over HB 5067 which would require that school districts lose state aid and teachers lose pay if a strike cuts into the required 180 days of instruction, with set school-year dates.

WATER WAR — Michigan is again in court to fight Illinois' proposed diversion of more water from Lake Michigan into Chicago. This contest began in the 1920's; a 1967 Supreme Court ruling set present water-diversion amounts. Wisconsin has joined us in the case.

DEER WORLD — Now through the end of November is the peak time for car-deer accidents in Michigan, due to the deer mating season and changing foraging habits. The time to be most alert is the two hours after sunset, although many accidents also occur just before dawn.

COUNTRY CARRIERS — Michigan will be receiving $2.75 million from the federal government in the near future for the development of rural transportation services. Michigan has pioneered in the establishment of small transit systems such as Dial-A-Ride to serve rural residents.

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara

Q. Can I deduct the commissions I pay to a broker from my income tax?

A. Commissions are not a tax deductible item. They become part of the cost of acquiring company and are subtracted from the proceeds when a stock is sold. Let me give you an example.

You purchase 100 shares of a stock for $27 a share or a cost of $2,700. The commission is $50, making your total cost $2,750 or $27.50 per share. Later, the stock is sold for $45 a share and the commission for the sale is $75. The net proceeds to you are $4,425. To determine your tax liability, you deduct $2,750 from $4,425 which would be $1,675, your capital gain. You can see that the commissions are part of doing business, but not as a tax deduction at the time the stock was originally purchased.

In my experience, most investors feel that commissions should be cost of business that is deductible from ordinary income at the time the transaction takes place. The IRS, however, has been successful in getting the courts to uphold its position.

Q. Could you tell me briefly how my order to buy a stock is handled on the floor of the stock exchange?

A. Your broker sends your order to his representative on the floor of the exchange. That representative goes to the post or position where the specialist who handles that stock is located. Your broker's representative inquires as to the price of the stock. He is told the highest price anyone is currently willing to pay for the stock and the lowest anyone will sell it for.

Since you want to buy he will buy at the lowest price anyone is offering to sell at. Once your broker's representative says he is buying for you, a clerk records the transaction on a card which goes to the room where entries are made on the tape and your purchase is flashed around the world. The whole thing may take just a few seconds.

Mr. O'Hara welcomes your questions, but will answer them only through this column. Readers who send in questions on a general investment subject or on a corporation with broad investor interest and whose questions are used, will receive a complimentary copy of Better Investing Magazine or information about Investment Clubs to any reader requesting it. Send 50¢ for postage and write to: Today's Investor, P. O. Box 220, Royal Oak 48068.

Additives Found In Almost All Foods, Drinks

When you're enjoying a meal, you probably don't stop to think about the additives that may be in your food. But, they're everywhere—for instance, take a look at a lunch of a sandwich, instant soup, gelatin and a cola drink.

It's full of additives—and what these additives are as well as many others are spelled out in a new free reprint from the FDA magazine, the FDA Consumer. For your free copy of Food Additives, write Consumer Information Center, Dept. 685 G, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Now then, back to that lunch. The bread is fortified with vitamins and an additive keeps it fresh. The margarine has been colored pale yellow. If you use salad dressing, it's made with emulsifiers to keep it from separating. The lunch meat may contain nitrites. There's an additive in the soup to keep it from becoming rancid. And, the gelatin contains food coloring and artificial flavoring. Finally, if you take away the coloring, flavoring, sweeteners and artificial carbonation from your favorite cola, what do you have? Just plain water.

FDA says that additives are generally used to maintain or improve nutritional value, to retard spoilage, or for appearances. Many foods are fortified with vitamins and minerals that may have been lost or destroyed in processing. And, preservatives such as sodium nitrates and nitrites protect cured meats, fish and poultry from contamination.

To keep a watchful eye on the additives in your diet, read the labels on the food you buy. Most foods will include a list of ingredients.

If you have a question, write to or contact the consumer affairs office of the Food and Drug Administration, listed in the phone book under the U. S. Government or write to the manufacturer.

As an informed consumer, you can exercise your right to buy or not to buy. You might choose to purchase bread containing sodium propionate if you know this additive prevents mold. You may decide not to buy cookies that are artificially colored.

When you order a copy of Food Additives (free), you'll also receive a copy of the free Consumer Information Catalog. It lists more than 200 selected free or low-cost publications from the federal government. The Catalog is published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration.

Announcing Modernization & Expansion of DRIVE-UP WINDOW SERVICES

Chelsea State Bank is pleased to announce the expansion of the Drive-Up Window facilities at the Main Office from the current two windows to four windows, each with a separate lane. This improvement, together with the new Branch Office of this bank, presently under construction at the corner of S. Main St. and Old US-12, will increase our ability to serve our customers with greater speed and efficiency.

During the construction period the Drive-Up Window service will be limited to one window. This inconvenience should not last more than a few weeks, and during this time more tellers will be on duty in the lobby.

We appreciate your patience and co-operation during this construction period.

Willow Run Downs Dexter In Final 28 Seconds, 15-14

Milan 28, J.C. Western 27— In a tight, down-to-the-wire contest Friday night, Jackson County missed an extra point kick with no time remaining on the clock to give the Big Reds of Milan a one-point victory in Southeastern Conference football.

Milan totaled 267 yards, 193 rushing and 74 passing. Western had 232, 86 rushing and 146 in the air.

Nate Love led the Milan defense with eight tackles and six assists. Gary Strolnic has seven solos and one assist. Offensively, Scott Henry had 63 yards on 11 carries and scored two touchdowns on runs of three and 13 yards. Love also kicked the final extra point that was the difference in the game.

Willow Run 15, Dexter 14—

Coming back from a 14-0 deficit, the Willow Run Flyers rallied in the final quarter to edge the Dreadnaughts, 15-14.

With just 28 seconds remaining Greg Thompson hauled in a 17-yard pass from Marty Allison and Steve Thornton kicked the extra point that was the margin of victory.

John Merz scored both Dexter touchdowns, the first on a one-yard run in the opening quarter and the next early in the final period. Jim Vaughn kicked both extra points.

Willow Run's first touchdown came with only 7:30 remaining in the game. Dexter then controlled the ball for the next five minutes, only to see Willow Run score with less than a minute remaining to take the contest.

Saline 14, Livonia Clarenceville 0— Lacking their usual spark, but still controlling the opposition, Saline's unbeaten Hornets took a narrow 14-0 victory over Livonia Clarenceville Friday night.

Saline couldn't push the ball into the end zone with offensive force, but managed to block a first quarter Clarenceville punt. Matt McGuire fell on the ball in the end zone for a TD.

In the third quarter, Saline ended the scoring as Steve Beckett reeled in a nine-yard Chip Skinner pass. Jim Phelps kicked the conversion after both touchdowns.

Clarenceville managed only four first downs and just 19 yards rushing in the entire contest. John Rolan led Saline's ground game with 66 yards in 11 carries.

Fair Board Sets Annual Meet Date

Regular meeting of the Chelsea Community Fair was held Tuesday, Oct. 16. Present were President Lloyd Grau, Treasurer Kay Poljan, Vice-president Jerry Heydlauff, Fair Secretary Mary Ann Guenther, Executive Vice-president Earl Heller and Fair Board Secretary Frank Renton.

Also attending were directors Jerry Herrick, Dick Poljan, Dick Kolander, Harold Gross, Mark Stapish, Ralph McCalla, Harold Trinkle, Bill Stofer, Richard Bollinger and Bob Heller. John Wellnitz, David Lutchka, Harold Elsemann, Paula Hale, Keith Gafner and Pat Merkel were also present.

Those absent included Archie Bradbury, Jim Dault, Ed Keezer, John Klink, Charles Koenig, Reuben Lesser, Jr., Joe Merkel III, Charles Stapish and Art Steinaway.

Minutes and treasurer's report were read and accepted.

Paula Hale and Keith Gafner enlarged on plans for a Lamb Club and a Swine Club for the 1980 fair. A nominating committee was named to present names for directors and officers for the 1980 year.

All life members are welcome to attend the 1979 annual meeting, Thursday, Nov. 29, 8 p.m. at the fairgrounds.

Windows Broken At High School

Six windows valued at more than $200 were broken some time last week-end at Chelsea High school, Chelsea police reported.

Police reports indicate that a jogger running behind the CHS gymnasium Sunday morning noticed that a number of windows had been broken out and notified police.

Reported broken were two 18"x32" panes, two 49"x64" panes and two 18"x18" windows.

McDonald's Will Check Treat Candy

In cooperation with Chelsea police, McDonald's of Chelsea will offer a thorough check of Halloween candy with metal detectors at the McDonald's restaurant on M-52.

Officers will be there Halloween night, Wednesday, Oct. 31, from 8 to 10 p.m. to check over the contents of trick or treat bags for metal objects that may have been placed in treats.

McDonald's stresses that the detectors cannot detect miniature metal particles, glass or wooden particles, narcotics or drug substances. Chelsea Police Chief Robert Aeillo said, however, that small metal objects, such as straight pins, could be located. Only minute metal shavings, for example, would go undetected.

Officers from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's department will be on hand at the Zeeb Rd. McDonald's, I-94 west of Jackson, also performing candy checks.

Area 4-H Members Recognized

A number of Chelsea residents were among those honored at the recent Annual 4-H Recognition Night program held at the High Point Center on Wagner Rd.

Taking 1979 county project medals were Laurie Heller and Wendy Wolfgang for dairy and Laurie Heller for clothing.

The 1979 4-H Tel-Award winners included Nancy Heller, agriculture; Beth Heller, dairy; and Sue Heller, personal appearance clothing.

Flag Football Program Flourishing In 7th Grade

Whether in large cities or small towns, a fact of school life is that a great deal of attention is paid to high school varsity, junior varsity and freshman football teams. An unfortunate by-product of this attention is a large, obscuring shadow cast on the type of game that is generally played by 7th and 8th graders.

This year, however, a change has taken place in Chelsea middle school programs that may soon have an impact on those more visible teams, and is certainly having an impact on the team members right now.

The aim is to allow more players to be involved in junior high teams and emphasize fundamentals rather than power and hitting. To this end, Head Football Coach Gene LaFave has converted the 7th grade program from tackle to flag football, and has instituted yet another 8th grade team, doubling the number of boys who have an opportunity to play.

Coach LaFave makes it clear that the changes in the 7th grade program were made not because of any financial considerations, but rather for the good of the players involved.

"It's solely for the good of the kids," said LaFave, who as head coach oversees the entire Chelsea football program. "There's a real possibility of discouraging those who are not mentally or physically ready for the hitting. We want to encourage kids to continue through the program and not discourage them."

Athletic Director Phil Bareis agrees that "7th graders aren't ready for contact. It makes them a lot happier to be able to concentrate on fundamentals rather than the hitting."

Bareis points to the changes as indicative of LaFave's whole football philosophy, that of stressing technique over strength. "He wants young people handling the ball," Bareis said. "They can do that much better playing flag than in pads."

Flag football is played on a field 80 yards long. Rules specify that a first down is 20 yards rather than 10, and a runner is stopped by pulling a trailing flag out of his belt, rather than throwing him to the ground. Aside from those modifications, the rules are not much different from tackle, allowing for development of techniques and plays that will stand the players in good stead.

Six 7th grade teams practiced for a few weeks this fall and are now winding up an intramural program of competition.

Beach school 8th graders are still playing tackle this year, but instead of a single representative team, there are now two, called the A and B teams.

Because of scheduling problems the A team played six contests with other schools this year and the B team only four, but Coach Bareis said that next year the schedules should be equal.

Fielding two teams consisting of 26 players each permits the three 8th grade coaches to nurture more prospective talent than they would otherwise see. "You never know who the starting junior and senior ballplayers are going to be by looking at them in the eighth grade," Bareis pointed out. "This gives more kids a chance."

Most encouraging of all, Bareis reports that parental response has been very positive. "We don't have people calling up and saying 'Flag football is great,'" he laughed, "but when I come across parents in everyday situations their reaction is certainly favorable."

Aquatic Club Opens Season

Eight members of Chelsea's aquatic club swam in their first AAU meet of the year last week-end, coming home from host Livonia Spartan Aquatic Club with 15 medals and four ribbons.

The first event of the first day, Chelsea sprint relay team of Dave Nicola, John Robbins, David Mason and Scott Prohaska swam to a gold medal finish in a time of 1:39.2. The same team returned Sunday morning to take the 200-yard medley relay in 1:52.34.

Other medal winners over the week-end include the following:

David Mason, 4th in 200-yard freestyle, 3rd in 200-yard individual medley and 2nd in 100-yard butterfly; David Nicola, 5th, 100-yard butterfly; Scott Prohaska, 6th, 200-yard freestyle; Jon Oesterle, 3rd, 100-yard breaststroke; and John Robbins, 5th place, 100-yard backstroke.

Bringing home ribbons for Chelsea were Paul Schumann, Jon Oesterle, Todd Oxner and Mike Mason for their fourth place finish in the 200-yard medley relay.

World Community Day Planned

Church Women United of Chelsea is urging all area residents to attend a World Community Day program at St. Paul United Church of Christ Friday, Nov. 2 at 1 p.m.

The day's theme is "Bridges to Understanding" and the Rev. Robert Weikert of the Family Practice Center will explain the new program that is serving the needs of local families at the Chelsea Clinic.

This is a pioneer program of the University of Michigan and is one of the few in the nation. In part, the practice embodies the old family doctor ideals, but includes much more.

Refreshments will be served and babysitting is provided. Men are welcome to attend.

PAY OFF THE MORTGAGE?

After paying monthly mortgage payments for years and finally getting a glimpse of light at the end of the tunnel, it might be tempting to dip into financial reserves and pay off the loan once and for all. But should you?

Psychologically, you'd get a lift from it. There's nothing more secure, especially in later years, than the feeling of knowing that you no longer have to worry about mortgage payments. Financially, though, it would be pointless.

The net effect of putting a lump sum into prepaying a mortgage balance is approximately the same as investing that amount at whatever interest rate the mortgage carries. In today's climate, that would almost certainly mean investing at a lower rate than you could get elsewhere. You would be better off, for instance, putting your extra money into an insured, high-return time deposit and letting the mortgage run. On top of that, you have the extra advantage of being able to use the interest paid on your mortgage as a tax deduction.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-9521; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

"What if I don't want the 'average' funeral?"

DONALD A. COLE
Director

At Burghardt-Cole Chelsea Chapel, we don't believe there is any such thing as an "average" funeral. We know that each family who turns to us is different, and has special needs and desires. So every service we provide is individually planned.

Everything we do is with the family in mind.

The Bible-The Light from Heaven

Emphasizes the importance of time. Time is the best builder, the best detective, the best physician, and the best arbitrator to restore broken friendships. Thomas Edison said, "Time is the most important thing in the world." Character may break to pieces and be built up again. Health may be lost and regained. Lost friends may be found or new ones won. But time cannot be recalled. Time properly used can give most of us a livelihood, health, friends, happiness, and a beautiful relationship with God. God makes this relationship possible through the gospel of Jesus Christ. The brevity and uncertainty of time emphasizes our responsibility in the way we use it. The Bible reveals this to us in the following passages. (Psalms 39:4; 90:12; Ephesians 5:15, 16; Proverbs 27:1; John 9:4). Much time is wasted! Many men and women fill their days with too many useless things, leaving no time for the Lord and his church. How sad! Our yesterdays cannot be changed. Tomorrow may bring death. (James 4:13, 14). Today is the great word of the Bible. (Hebrews 3:7, 13; 2 Corinthians 6:2). Yesterday is gone forever; tomorrow may never come; so today is all man has. Jesus invites today! (Matthew 11:28-30; Revelation 3:20; 22:17). Felix intended to obey the Lord, but so far as we know—never did. (Acts 24:24-27).

★★★ Gridders of the Week ★★★

PARTICIPATING SPECTACULARLY for Chelsea's grid-ders in their second-place clinching victory over Lincoln last Friday were no less than seven players. Offensively, John Preston (44) and Mike Killelea (82) were standouts. Coach Gene LaFave said that the Railsplitters were doubling up on usual receiver Jeff Dils, so the call went to Killelea. He responded by catching four passes to be the key to the Bulldogs' aerial attack. John Preston undoubtedly did yeoman service for the grid-ders this week, rushing 131 yards in 30 carries and allowing Chelsea to control the football. Defensively, Craig Thams (35) was one of the keys in controlling Lincoln's might runner, Derrick Tolliver.

He shut running holes and foiled Lincoln's option pitch to contribute heavily. Other outstanding defensemen were Dave Morris (60), noseguard, who allowed Chelsea to go to a five-man defense, and John La Barbara (52) who, as LaFave simply puts it, "punishes people." Kicker Brad Knickerbocker (10) booted five punts for a 44.5 average and drove three kick-offs deep into the Lincoln end zone. His contributions gave the Railsplitters poor field position and enabled the defense to be more effective. Tom Gilbreath (62), right guard, has contributed steadily to the club all year. LaFave called Gilbreath a "hard worker" and said his diligence was a large factor in his successes on the field.

Girls JV Cagers Show Improvement

Chelsea's junior varsity girls basketball team is off to its best start in four years, having posted a 5-5 record over-all and a 3-2 league record with half the season left to play.

Coach Nikki Marmas feels there are many reasons for the improvement of the JVs.

First, the addition of basketball at the junior high level has helped tremendously. "Most of our freshmen played interscholastically as eighth graders," she explained, "and it shows in their increased skill level and knowledge of the game."

Second, the team has seven sophomores who played last year. "Having these girls back has given our team the experience and stability we've lacked in the past."

Finally, the attitude of the team as a whole is a positive one. "Players are enthusiastic, competitive, eager to learn and team oriented," said Coach Marmas. "These intrinsic values are just as important to good basketball as are the various skills and strategies of the game."

Thus far this season, Chelsea has defeated Stockbridge, Milan, Saline, Columbia Central and Lincoln while falling to Michigan Center, Jackson County Western, Dexter, and Pinckney.

Taking the court for the team are sophomores Tracy Bohlander, Laurie Cobb, Ann Eisele, Beth Heller, Karen Kiel, Greta Pickleseimer, Trish Steger, Lisa Vandegriff and Shelly Weber. The frosh members of the crew are Tracy Borton, Kim Boyd, Kathy Degener, Amy Hume, Mary Klink, Missi Lazarz, Dawn Murphy and Amy Poljan.

Next home game for the JV is Thursday, Oct. 25 at 6 p.m. against Jackson County Western. The remainder of the season is as follows:

Oct. 25—J. C. Western H
Nov. 1—South Lyon H
Nov. 6—Milan A
Nov. 9—Dexter H
Nov. 13—Saline A
Nov. 16—Lincoln H
Nov. 20—Mason A

Not So Speedy Rocket

After a week of grueling trials ended on Oct. 26, 1829, George Stephenson's Rocket became both a prize winner and a history maker. Reaching speeds up to 24 mph, the steam locomotive earned a place in history and gained Stephenson a monetary prize offered by a British rail company. Visitors to the newly opened 32,000 square foot Interpretive Center of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, can see a replica of the Rocket built by the original manufacturer.

Family Blast Time Change Will Benefit Gives Us An Dimes Fund Extra Hour

Manchester March of Dimes is sponsoring a "Big Family Blast" for area residents this Saturday, Oct. 27, with activities all afternoon and evening long. Proceeds go to the March of Dimes.

All activities will take place at the Manchester Middle school on M-52. From 3 to 5 p.m., a carnival and dunk tank will be held. A potluck dinner will follow from 6 to 7:15 p.m. Admission is $1 per person or $2 per family. All are asked to bring own meat, table service and a dish to pass.

Dinner will be followed by a gong show from 7:30 to 8 p.m. Anyone interested in participating in the show may call Cliff Grifky at Ace Hardware in Manchester.

From 8 to 9 p.m. participants may enjoy a hayride, again $1 per person or $2 per family. Then, from 9 to midnight, a sock hop will move to the beat of the Midnight Rider Band. Admission is $1 per person.

Meanwhile, a senior citizens card party will be held from 8 to 9:30 p.m. Admission is $1 per person.

Participants may come costumed to any event and prizes for costumes will be given at each event. Babysitting services will be available from 3 to 7 p.m.

A reminder that clocks should be turned back one hour this Saturday night, Oct. 27, as Michigan returns to Eastern Standard Time from Daylight Savings Time.

According to the Automobile Club of Michigan, Michigan motorists can help erase this year's eight percent rise in 10- to 19-year-old pedestrian traffic deaths by staying alert following the time switch, which brings darkness an hour sooner beginning Oct. 28.

Auto Club Safety and Traffic Engineering Manager Arthur C. Gibson urges late-afternoon drivers to follow these rules:

- Watch for signs of youth at play, including dogs and parked bicycles, and be especially wary on streets near playgrounds.

- Keep proper distance between vehicles and reduce speeds at dusk.

- Keep windows clean and lights working to ensure maximum visibility.

"The addition of reflective tape to children's jackets, lunch boxes and bicycles and the use of brightly colored clothing can also help cut injuries and deaths," Gibson suggested.

Parents also should remind youngsters to always use sidewalks when available or to walk on the shoulder facing traffic. Bicyclists should ride with the traffic flow on the edge of the road and be sure reflectors and lights are in working order.

Harriers Post 7-4 Record

Chelsea's cross country team finished its dual meet season last Tuesday by defeating Ypsilanti Lincoln, 22-35. The Bulldogs ended at 7-4 over-all and 3-2 in the league.

Senior Mark Beyer turned in his life-time best mark of 15:52 in placing second for the Bulldogs. Sophomore Bob Schleede established a new soph record with his best ever time of 16:14 to place fourth.

Other Bulldog placers with lifetime bests were Jeff Bradley, 3rd, 16:11; Bob Benedict, 6th, 16:21; Steve Kvarnberg, 7th, 16:57; Brent Martin, 9th, 17:14; and Mark Stevenson, 12th, 17:42.

Sophomore Nancy Hastings again lowered her girls record to 19:20 for the three-mile run.

"This was by far our best effort of the year," said Coach Pat Clarke. "I hope we can continue at this pace in the league meet."

Bulldogs compete at the regionals this Saturday, Oct. 27, in New Boston.

What's worse than having your $45,000 house burn to the ground?
Having an insurance policy that only pays $25,000.

Every year, inflation and rising property values increase the value of your home. And make it that much more expensive to replace should something happen to make it a total loss.
But if you have an Auto-Owners homeowners policy with Adjusted Value Endorsement, you're protected. Because this modern Auto-Owners policy is designed to keep pace with rising values automatically.
If you aren't covered by Auto-Owners . . . well, maybe you should be replacing your present insurance. Let us fill you in. Before you have to replace your home.

Dexter Township Board Proceedings

Regular Meeting
Date: Tuesday, Oct. 16, 1979,
7:30 p.m.

Place: Dexter Township Hall.
Present: John Tandy, Arlene Howe, Lorinda Jede, John Miller, William Eisenbeiser.

Meeting called to order by the supervisor, John Tandy.

Minutes of the Oct. 2, 1979 meeting were read. Moved by Howe, supported by Miller to approve the minutes as read. Carried.

Supervisor's report (enclosed). Discussion held on zoning problems and Machine Zoning violation.

Moved by Jede, supported by Miller, to waive the 1 percent collection fee on current property taxes. Carried.

Moved by Jede, supported by Howe, that Dexter Township impose the 3 percent tax collection fee on taxes paid after Feb. 15, 1980. Carried.

Moved by Howe, supported by Eisenbeiser, to authorize the treasurer to replace office equipment stolen from the Town hall. Carried.

Moved by Miller, supported by Eisenbeiser, to adjourn. Carried. Meeting adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,
William Eisenbeiser,
Dexter Township Clerk.

hours of volunteer effort has been expended by the Lions in the past two months refinishing and varnishing a number of dining room chairs and painting several dining-recreation rooms at the home. Materials were provided by the home and the muscle came from the Lions.

Chelsea Village Council Proceedings

October 16, 1979 Regular Session
The regular session was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Wood.

Present: President Wood, Clerk Neumeyer and Administrator Weber.

Trustees Present: Brown, Chriswell, Popovich, Schardein and Sweet.

Others Present: Project and Grant Director Barkley, Civil Defense Director William Wade, Zoning Inspector Goltra, Dennis Petsch, Bob Smith, John Baker and Fire Chief Gaken.

The minutes of the October 2, 1979 meeting were read and approved.

Dennis Petsch discussed with the Council ambulance service within the community.

John Baker gave a report on the Recreation Council.

Motion by Schardein, supported by Sweet, to tentatively approve the extension of the garage and refuse contract with Bob's Hauling with added insurance language. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Zoning Board of Appeals

Minutes October 16, 1979
The meeting was called to order at 9:45 p.m. by Chairman Wood.

Present: Chairman Wood and Secretary Neumeyer.

Members Present: Brown, Chriswell, Popovich, Schardein and Sweet.

Others Present: Administrator Weber and Planning Director Barkley.

The minutes of the September 18, 1979 meeting were read and approved.

The variance request of Palmer Motor Sales at 1445 South Main Street was considered.

It was the recommendation of the Chelsea Planning Commission that the variance request of Palmer Motor Sales at 1445 South Main Street be approved for the following reasons: 1) that special conditions and circumstances exist which are peculiar to the land, structure, or building involved which are not applicable to other lands, structures or buildings in the same district. 2) that the special conditions and circumstances do not result from the actions of the applicant.

Motion by Brown, supported by Popovich, to approve the variance request of Palmer Motor Sales at 1445 S. Main per recommendation of the Chelsea Planning Commission. Roll call: Yeas — Brown, Popovich, Schardein, Sweet. Abstain: Chriswell. Motion carried.

Motion by Chriswell, supported by Popovich, to adjourn. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned.

Game Recipe Book

Between now and late May, when the wild turkey season ends in Michigan, this state's hunters will bring home literally millions of pounds of game birds and animals.

How should the wife (or husband) prepare this bountiful harvest?

The Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC) has the answer—nearly 400 answers, in fact.

That is the number of recipes for cooking wild game (and fish) contained in "The Wildlife Chef," the popular cook book published by MUCC.

First issued in 1975, the cook book has enjoyed sales numbering thousands of copies, with proceeds going to MUCC's conservation and education programs. The book, now in its second printing, is designed to help both novice and experienced cooks prepare food from field, forest, and stream.

In addition to the recipes, the publication contains tips on field dressing, care of big and small game and fish, freezing, and other aspects of the preparation of game and fish dishes. Special sections are devoted to breads and desserts, sauces and stuffings, camp cooking, and edible wild plants of Michigan.

Copies of "The Wildlife Chef" may be obtained for $3.95 each, postpaid, by sending a check of money order to MUCC, Box 30235, Lansing 48909.

Here are just two examples of the recipes to be found in "The Wildlife Chef":

PHEASANT CACCIATORE

- 2 pheasants
- ½ cup olive oil
- 1 large carrot, diced
- ¼ pound butter
- 1 large can Italian style tomatoes
- 1 green pepper, seeded and diced
- ¾ cup dry sherry or white wine
- 2 large cloves of garlic, diced
- 1 box (7 oz.) fresh mushrooms, sliced
- 1 can tomato paste
- 2 large ribs of celery, diced
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- ½ teaspoon oregano (optional)
- salt and pepper to taste

Cut pheasant into serving pieces, place in deep baking dish or roaster. Sprinkle over it the garlic, celery, carrot, mushrooms, onion, green pepper. Dot with butter, sprinkle with salt, pepper, and oregano. Mix tomatoes with tomato paste and wine and spread all over the pheasant. Pour olive oil evenly over all. Bake in 450-degree oven 1½ to 2 hours or more until pheasant is tender and the tomato gravy is reduced to just short of being dry. Turn the pieces several times during baking. If the juices don't seem to be cooking fast enough, or the pheasant browning enough, turn oven heat up to 500 degrees near the end of the baking period.

BRUNSWICK STEW

- 2 pounds meat (disjointed rabbit, squirrels, or partridges)
 - ¼ cup oil
 - 1 medium onion, chopped
 - 1 diced lemon
 - 1 cup tomatoes
 - 1 cup lima beans
 - 1 cup corn
 - salt, pepper
- Brown meat in hot oil until brown, along with onions. Add 1 cup water and tomatoes and cover. Simmer until tender. Then add rest of vegetables and cook 10-15 minutes until done. Salt and pepper.

PBB Investigators Report Food Supply Free of Contamination

An independent investigator reported Tuesday that Michigan's PBB episode appears to be under control and that the chemical is no longer found in the state's food supply.

After a year-long study, Dr. Irving J. Selkoff, of Mt. Sinai School of Medicine in New York, predicted that most Michigan people will probably experience no serious health problems identified as PBB related.

Selkoff told a crowded press conference at the Michigan Department of Public Health that while the state-wide study found that most Michigan residents may have varying amounts of PBB in their bodies, "Our findings indicate you have had considerable success in preventing further contamination."

"We have reason to believe the food supply has been cleaned up," he said.

He and other researchers reported final results of their study, financed from state and federal funds, on the health impact occurring after polychlorinated biphenyl (PBB), a toxic fire retardant, was accidentally mixed with cattle feed supplements six years ago and subsequently entered the Michigan food chain.

The study involved lengthy telephone interviews conducted by the University of Michigan School of Public Health with two randomly selected groups of more than 7,700 adults and children, followed by extensive physical examinations of 1,738 persons by physicians from Mt. Sinai School of Medicine at six regional clinics.

"In general," said Selkoff, "those examined were found to be very healthy. This allows us to hope that the lower 'doses' of PBB generally suffered by people in the general population of Michigan will present little or no trouble in the future."

Dr. Richard Remington, University of Michigan dean of the School of Public Health, said that variations were found between Michigan and Wisconsin residents in a comparative study of health statistics by U. of M. researchers, but added that "the small differences we found were not of any consistency or importance."

Hospital records from the two states show different trends for some types of ailments "but do not suggest PBB is the cause," he said.

"The data do not prove PBB is responsible for (the variance in health trends) but neither can we say PBB is not related," Remington commented.

Dr. David Nolan, of Wayne State University, said a panel of physicians and other scientists from Wayne's medical school monitored the studies by the other two agencies to assure they met acceptable medical and scientific standards of reliability. "We believe the citizens of the state have been well served by the study as it has been done," he said.

Final study results were presented to the state public health department for the first time Tuesday. The director, Dr. Maurice S. Reizen, said the department will examine the detailed findings to determine whether further action may be needed to augment health protection for Michigan people.

Selkoff said plant workers at the St. Louis, Mich. chemical factory which manufactured PBB and dairy farmers whose herds were exposed to the contaminated feed supplement carry the highest levels of PBB in their bodies. The heaviest concentration is in western Michigan, particularly in Grand Rapids, he reported.

Mt. Sinai researchers found 29 percent of the 1,651 persons whose blood was tested had a PBB level of less than 0.3 parts per billion (ppb), 59 percent were in the range from 0.31 to 3 ppb and 11 percent were in the range of over 3 ppb.

The high-level percentages were the greatest among persons examined in the clinics at Grand Rapids (28 percent) and Gaylord (15 percent), with notably lower percentages for the group in clinics at Kalamazoo, Detroit and Bay City. No one among the 182 persons tested at Marquette was in the over-3 ppb category.

Milk from contaminated herds was the major source of PBB exposure during the 1973-74 period before the contamination was discovered and identified, but no PBB is currently found in the Michigan milk supply, Selkoff said.

While 90 percent of the state's residents carry PBB in their systems, "For the very large majority, the amounts present are rather low, lower indeed than tissue burdens of the workers who manufactured PBB or the dairy farmers and others intimately associated with such farms," Selkoff said.

The Mt. Sinai study found that "males had higher (PBB) concentrations than females, and children higher than adults ... Blacks tended to have lower concentrations than the whites."

Selkoff said survey findings of hypertension among 15 percent of the population and thyroid disease in 2 percent "are of public health importance," but added that "no significant associations were seen between the observance of these abnormalities and PBB serum levels."

The only consistent pattern of symptoms found in either the Mt. Sinai or U. of M. study was an apparent increase among Michigan people in short-term infections, such as more frequent colds, sore throats and ear infections.

While Selkoff said that may be "a chance effect," not necessarily due to PBB, he noted that an earlier study indicated PBB tends to lessen the body's capacity to resist infection.

Remington said U. of M. scientists are encouraged by preliminary findings that an experimental diet lowers the level of PBB in laboratory rats. But he said it is too early to suggest that reduction of the PBB level in the human body may be accelerated by diet control.

When asked about possible long-term effects of PBB on the population, Selkoff replied: "The answer is 'nobody knows,' but at the present time it is good news to say that the results of the survey are as good as hoped for, because the levels (of PBB in the state-wide population) are low... To the extent that it is possible, we have limited the exposure of Michigan's general population."

Remington concluded, "The degree of reassurance we can give you today should be a great help to the mental health of the people of Michigan."

Never Store Extra Gasoline In Car Trunk

Have gas lines and gas shortages tempted you to fill up a gas can and store it in your trunk? Don't. One gallon of gas stored in the trunk of your car has the explosive power of 14 sticks of dynamite.

How can this happen? According to the U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC), the danger is in the fumes. Drastic temperature changes in the trunk of your car can cause the gasoline to expand, which in turn causes pressure in the can and leaking fumes. Then a mere spark from a short in a tail light or a rear end collision could cause the explosion. Believe it or not, these vapors, which are invisible to the naked eye, can travel up to 30 feet from the source—and this can happen in your car trunk, your home, or at the gas station.

The CPSC reports more than 569 fatalities from igniting gasoline since 1973, and more than 4,300 injuries from gasoline-related burns in 1977. What can you do?

—Never use flammable liquids near a flame or ignition source.

—Always remember that those invisible gasoline vapors can easily ignite.

—Do not refuel power equipment, such as lawnmowers or boat engines when they are hot or running.

—Use only manufacturer-recommended fuels for camping stoves and lanterns.

—If you must store gasoline, do so only in approved safety cans with flame arresters and pressure-release valves.

In many states it is illegal to siphon gas. But if you must siphon gas in or out of your car—never siphon by mouth. Just a few drops of gasoline in the lungs can kill you. Instead, use a hand operated pump.

The best way to store gas is in the tank of your car—by using less of it. For some useful tips on stretching the gasoline dollar, send for the free Department of Energy booklet, Tips for Motorists. Just write to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 519G, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

• When you order a copy of Tips for Motorists (free), you'll also receive a copy of the free Consumer Information Catalog. It lists more than 200 selected free or low-cost publications from the federal government. The Catalog is published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration.

Vietnam Era veterans have been the greatest participants in GI Bill training with 86 percent of those eligible having taken some form of training, compared with 50.5 percent and 43.4 percent, respectively, for World War II and Korean Conflict veterans.

Agency Formed To Help Terminally Ill, Their Families

Hospice of Washtenaw has been incorporated as a non-profit organization to co-ordinate services for the terminally ill and their families. Robert Thompson, vice-president for planning, Catherine McCauley Health Center (formerly St. Joseph Mercy Hospital), has been elected president of the new organization's board of directors.

Other new officers are: The Rev. Donald Strobe, vice-president; Arlene Howe, secretary; and David Harrell, treasurer. Strobe is senior minister at the First Methodist church of Ann Arbor. Howe is staff associate to the director of University Hospital and chairman of the Washtenaw County Comprehensive Health Planning Council. Harrell is executive director of the Ann Arbor Education Association.

The formation of the interdisciplinary organization was the main recommendation of the year-long Hospice Study Project, funded by Washtenaw United Way.

A key hospice concept is that dying patients and their families receive a full range of physical, mental, educational, social and spiritual services by professionals and volunteers. Hospice

Serving on the Board of directors of the new organization are: Jane Barney, Institute of Gerontology, University of Michigan; Dr. Dayton Benjamin, Washtenaw County Council on Aging; Gilbert Bursley, Cleary College; Ingrid Deininger, R. N.; Gloria Edwards, University Hospital; and Bettye Elkins, attorney.

Also on the board are: Charles Gehrke, M.D.; Clarice Killian, United Auto Workers Local 849; Fr. Donald McAllister, McCauley Health Center; Rabbi Ralph Mecklenburger, Temple Beth Emeth; and Peter Metherall, Parkview Extended Care Convalescent Center.

Other board members are: Robert Pritchard, Jr., Hopkins-Thomas and Blair, Inc.; Ronald VandenBelt, M.D.; William Vollano, Child and Family Service of Washtenaw county; and Doris Wessinger.

PUMPKINS FOR ST. LOUIS SCHOOL: The Chelsea Lions Club "raised the spirits" at the St. Louis School for Exceptional Boys last week when they donated a truckload of pumpkins as a goodwill gesture from the Lions. Standing in the back row, above, are Lion Vice-President Dave Scriven and Doug Nutt who made the presentation to the boys. The Chelsea Lions will be selling pumpkins again this week-end, Oct. 27 and 28, at Rick's Market, Meabon's and Red's Standard Service.

More than 1,000 of the brightest high school students from across the country came to the Michigan State University campus in 1979 to compete for the 10 Alumni Distinguished Scholarships awarded annually.

If the power fails tonight, how will you keep from freezing?

Radiant 36

You need something that's dependable, efficient, safe, economical, and requires no outside power. You need a Kero-Sun heater.

Want to be considered a genius by your family? Get a Kero-Sun portable kerosene heater, and when the power goes off, get it on. They'll love you! But don't wait for an emergency — a Kero-Sun heater is perfect anytime for those nasty cold spots in the basement, workshop, garage, barn, greenhouse. Also in stores and offices. The Radiant 36 (above) operates with no odor and no smoke — none! Fill the small, removable fuel tank and it's ready for 20 hours of all-out heating. Heat output: a hefty 9,400 BTU/hour. All this in a handsome steel unit that's no bigger than some overnight bags. There's a battery-powered pushbutton igniter built in. And for complete peace of mind, all Kero-Sun heaters are equipped with a tip-over shutoff device. Get a Kero-Sun heater — when the power goes off, it's a friend indeed!
