8th Graders, Parents To Be Briefed

On Monday, March 22, there will be a general meeting in the Beach school cafeteria for the parents of all eighth grade students as well as their sons and daughters. This meeting will be conducted by members of the high school teaching staff to explain their programs and scheduling alternatives to those attending. The meeting will begin promptly at 7 p.m. and should not last more than one hour. A general discussion time will follow.

A representative from the various high school academic departments will be present at the meeting to give a brief presentation of the courses in that department that are available to incoming ninth grade students. This will also provide an opportunity for the parents of the prospective ninth graders to meet members of the high school faculty and administration.

In conjunction with this, various members of the high school faculty will also be giving presentations to just eighth grade students the afternoon of Friday, March 19. By having these two meetings, it is hoped that all eighth graders and their parents will have an opportunity to have their scheduling questions answered.

The 1982 Washtenaw County Agricultural Banquet, sponsored by the Dairy-Livestock Council will be held Friday, March 26 at Chelsea High school.

Dinner will be served starting at 7 p.m. Joe Merkel, owner and operator of the Wolverine Bar in Chelsea will cater the event. Joe promises one of his outstanding dinners, and plenty of it.

The featured program for the evening festivities is Pat Leimback, a farm wife from Wermlion, O. In addition to being a partner with her husband in a potato, vegetable and grain operation, Mrs. Leimback writes a newspaper column called "County Wife" which appears in a number of farm publications around the nation. She is also the author of two Prentice-Hall books, "A Thread of Blue Denim" and "All My Meadows." Farm Journal magazine, who

Poljan, Bristle Place in State Wrestling Meet

In the Class B state wrestling meet held Friday and Saturday at Ferris State College, Chelsea took seven wrestlers to compete. At the end of the week-end, Rick Poljan finished third in the state while Ernie Bristle earned sixth-place state honors.

Poljan won his first match but lost in the quarter final only to come back and earn four consecutive wins to place third in the 198-lb. weight class.

Teammate Ernie Bristle pulled off a sixth-place state finish while Chelsea's Travis Rudd, Bill Hanna and Jeff Morgan managed to each win one match.

According to Coach Tom Fletke, his team did fairly well against some very tough competition. "It was a good learning experience for the young wrestlers who took part. Four of them will be back again next year," he explained.

Over-all, Chelsea finished this year's wrestling competition with a 14th-place county standing.

Federal Screw Employees OK New Contract

Amid an afternoon snowstorm, 99 members of UAW Local 437 cast their ballots Thursday, March 4 at the union hall, deciding in favor of concessions proposed by the Federal Screw Works management. According to Harold Salyer, president of the local amalgamated union, 66 eligible employees voted in favor of the contract while 33 voted in opposition of the plan.

In accepting the recently-negotiated contract by a 2-to-1 margin, the Federal Screw employees will have their cost of living increases frozen for one year and five paid holidays will be forfeited. Also, minimal changes in the company's Blue Cross policies have been made in compliance with the new contract.

In return, Federal Screw Works hopes that with the concessions, additional business, which has fallen off recently, will be stimulated. According to Jerry Dorer, manager of Chelsea's Federal Screw plant, the company is "very happy with the outcome," deemed necessary as a matter of economics following the slowing of business. The possibility of more jobs is not conceivable "in the immediate future though, with the new contract, it is hoped that additional jobs will open up somewhere down the road."

At the present time, a total of 101 blue collar and 25 white collar workers are employed at the Chelsea plant while 47 and 5, respectively, are currently laid off. The paid holidays and Blue Cross changes will also affect Federal Screw's management employees though the current cost of living clause will not—cost of living was given up by management two years ago, according to Dorer.

John Hughes, chairman of the Chelsea Federal Screw unit of UAW Local 437, explained that he is "glad that the contract was ratified." According to Hughes, "I hope this will help us all get through these tough economic times."

Maintenance Millage Helps School Repair

At the annual election held on June 12, 1978, the electors of the Chelsea School District approved the levy of one-half mill for five years to be used exclusively for maintenance, repair and improvement of school facilities.

Following the approval of the millage request, the Administration developed a five-year plan for the use of funds. This plan was approved by the Board of Education following their input, and implemented with the 1978-79 school year. The plan set aside $30,000 annually for roof repairs and lesser amounts for drapes, weather stripping, science table tops, instrument storage, painting on a schedule, playground improvement, sound control, replacement of plumbing fixtures, replacement of floor and ceiling tile and repair of heating controls.

For the 1981-82 school year, the Board of Education was able to double the yield of part of the money, using it as a match for federal funds for energy conservation measures which include new temperature controls, insulation, new doors, weather stripping, register deflectors and the like.

The maintenance millage has been of tremendous assistance in making Chelsea schools more attractive, energy-efficient in much better repair.

School Assessment Scores Show Improvements

Reading and mathematics scores at all three grade levels tested state-wide have improved since last year, marking only the third time in the 13-year assessment program that scores improved in all areas.

The assessment tests, checking minimal skills in both reading and math, are given each fall to fourth, seventh and tenth graders. They also show girls demonstrating better skills than boys, the State Board of Education reported.

Although scores are up, and education officials praised the public system for the achievement, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Phillip Runkel, concerned whether the progress can continue, said districts are experiencing their greatest reductions ever in the number of teachers.

Runkel also said he is concerned with budget cuts at the state and federal levels, particularly in some federal programs which have targeted aid to urban districts and helped raise Detroit's scores.

The state superintendent said the biggest disappointment in the tests is the relatively large number of students not meeting minimal skill levels for mathematics in the seventh and tenth grades, more than 40 percent in each grade.

Only 50.4 percent of the seventh graders demonstrated minimal skills in math (up from 58.7 percent) while 58.5 percent of the tenth graders had acceptable scores (up from 57.7 percent).

At the fourth grade level, 74.2 percent (up from 72.3 percent) had acceptable scores.

In reading, 72.9 percent (up from 70.9 percent) of the fourth graders had acceptable scores while 77.9 percent of the seventh graders (up from 76.7 percent) and 76.3 percent of the tenth graders (up from 73.3 percent) had acceptable scores.

Testing officials said students do best in schools with teachers and principals who set specific objectives and structures to obtain those objectives related to the basic skills.

Runkel said the tests demonstrate the need to put more attention into the teaching of mathematics.

Edmund Vandette, a state school board member from Houghton, added that it is rather amazing that schools require two years of physical education but not two years of science or math.

The tests marked the third straight year girls outscored boys in reading and math, although in reading the gap narrows at the seventh and tenth grade levels.

Tested were 121,000 fourth graders, 130,000 seventh graders and 130,000 tenth graders.

Property Tax Reform Update

Following a veto by Governor William G. Milliken of a "front loaded" relief system and additional $150 million in reductions, the Legislature, still struggling with tax reform, is dealing with front loading the circuit breaker concept.

Both the House and Senate have approved separate versions of legislation that would make the state property tax credit available to taxpayers at the time when property taxes are due rather than making the taxpayer wait until the beginning of a new year and receive it as a portion of their state income tax return.

Under the system, taxpayers would receive a voucher to present to local treasurers who would deduct the credit amount from their tax bills.

With the governor's continued threat of a veto for any additional relief, the Legislature is totally concentrating on the "front loading" system as a means to make the money available to the people when it is most needed.

Blood Clinic Set For March 11 at Chelsea Hospital

As always, there is a need for blood, especially "O" positive, reports the American Red Cross Blood Services. Known as the universal donor, "O" positive is the most common blood type and can be transfused, under certain medical conditions, to patients with other blood types.

Because it is the most common blood type, there is a constant need for "O" positive and donating any type of blood is easy and relatively painless. Anyone between the ages of 17 and 65 and in good general health can donate.

Registration, a free mini-physical and blood donation takes less than an hour and is followed by cookies and juice.

This month, blood may be donated at Chelsea Community Hospital on Thursday, March 11, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. For an appointment, call 475-1311 during blood drive hours.

Copies of Old Returns Make Good Tax Records

Copies of federal income tax returns from prior years not only serve as good financial records, but they can serve as guides for filling out future returns as well, the Internal Revenue Service said.

A good deal of information may be utilized from old copies, especially for those taxpayers whose financial situations stay almost the same from year to year, according to the IRS.

Being able to refer to completed returns could also be helpful to taxpayers who might later wish to amend their returns, income average, or who are called in for a tax examination. Taxpayers claiming the energy credit might also find copies of completed returns useful in figuring the amount of unused credit which they may carry over to later tax years.

School Board Briefs

Present, at a regular Board of Education Monday, March 1 were Feeney, Schumann, Dils, Heller, Grau, Snyder, Comeau, Superintendent Van Meer, Assistant Superintendent Mills, Principals Williams, Conklin, Benedict, Wojcik, Assistant Principal Vogel, Community Education Director Rogers, Special Education Director DeYoung, Athletic Director Nemeth, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Ann Feeney.

Board approved the minutes of the Feb. 15 meeting.

The Board of Education approved an expanded sex education program. This program will include contraceptive education and will be initiated as a pilot program this spring in the biology classes. The pilot program will be reviewed in June by the Sex Education Advisory Committee, and if the program evaluation is favorable, the expanded program will be piloted for the 1982-83 school year. The recommendation for the expanded program came from the Sex Education Advisory Committee after a 2 1/2-year study. The program will follow all state and committee guidelines, including the option for parents to withhold students from sex education instruction dealing with contraceptive information.

The Board approved a language addition to the Board policy governing community use of school district facilities. The policy now will state that when space in the school district becomes available, it may be rented to produce another source of revenue for the district. In considering rentals, the Board of Education will review the potential rental request and determine the compatibility with the Chelsea School District's educational program. A further consideration will be how the requesting agency serves the needs of the people of the community. Currently the district is renting space in the transportation/maintenance facility to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, and under consideration is the location of a pediatrician's office at Beach Middle school.

Superintendent Van Meer reviewed the progress with other school districts in a resource sharing venture. The main purpose of exploring resource sharing with other schools is to provide programs for students. Resource sharing is an alternative to program elimination because of low student enrollments. Many ideas of resource sharing are being discussed, including transporting students to schools that have specific programs and investigating the use of electronic media, specifically cable and/or disc television equipment with teleconferencing capabilities. Schools participating in resource sharing discussions are Chelsea, Manchester, Dexter, Milan, and Saline. Principal Williams and biology teacher Barbara Pruess are Chelsea's representatives.

Assistant Superintendent Mills presented the Board with a written report of a comparison of gasoline-versus-propane fuel costs. The administration is considering the use of propane to reduce operating costs of transportation.

The administrators have visited two school districts who have partial fleet conversions. Mills' report covered the initial expenditure involved, the length of pay-back period, and the dollar savings generated if conversion took place. Two plans were reviewed: conversion by replacement, which means all new purchased buses would be converted, and conversion of all 1978 and newer buses and replacement of all new purchased buses. The pay-back would be five years, with an estimated savings of approximately $43,000. In the second plan, the pay-back would be three years, with a potential savings of approximately $136,000. The administration is still analyzing all cost factors.

Superintendent Van Meer presented a proposed maintenance millage plan as an information item. The administration is recommending that the Board consider reduction of the debt retirement (which is a series of bonded proposals which were used for the building programs) from 3.5 to 3.0 mills, which is a 1/2-mill reduction. This is possible due to SEV growth. Additionally, the administration is recommending that the 1/2-mill reduction be designated for maintenance millage, bringing our total maintenance millage to 1 mill. The current 1/2-mill levy expires on June 30, 1983. One possible plan would be for 6 years, and a renewal of the current 1/2-mill levy for 5 years. This would give the district an expiration date of June 30, 1989, and would keep the maintenance millage in one package. The 1-mill allocation would allow the district to do the renovations and repairs that are needed for the facilities. Previously the Board of Education has twice reduced the debt retirement levy within the last three years, for a total of a 1-mill reduction.

President Ann Feeney reported on the development and implementation of an awards program for exemplary performance by employees. This was one of the district's 1981-82 goals. A committee of Sylvester Wojcik, Bob Benedict, Suzanne DeVries, and Ann Feeney compiled recommendations.

Superintendent Van Meer reviewed the economic position of the State of Michigan. The economic dislocations are severely impacting on K-12 school districts. Sixty-eight school districts have currently been identified as being in a state of near-bankruptcy. Any further reductions, such as an Executive Order, could financially paralyze a "great number" of school districts. The Chelsea School District has been notified that the State-aid payment for April will be split into two payments—one on April 20 and one on May 3—and the June payment will also be split into two payments. This split in State-aid payments requires school districts, in most cases, to borrow additional funds to meet current expenditures. Superintendent Van Meer indicated that education organizations should become more politically involved, especially pertaining to the upcoming gubernatorial election. We need to stress the high priority of fund allocations for Michigan schools.

The Board was apprised that the agreement between the Chelsea School District and the Recreation Council had been revised.

The Board of Education is currently involved in the annual evaluation of the Superintendent. This process takes place annually during the month of March.

The Board's Finance Committee will meet in the near future to review revenue and expenditure projections for the 1982-83 school year.

The Board was informed that more than 200 students are taking part in 24 classes that are being offered as part of the Super Saturday program.

LD/El Parents Group Will Meet Tonight

LD/El Parent Support Group will meet Tuesday, March 9 at 7:30 p.m. in Chelsea High school, room 103.

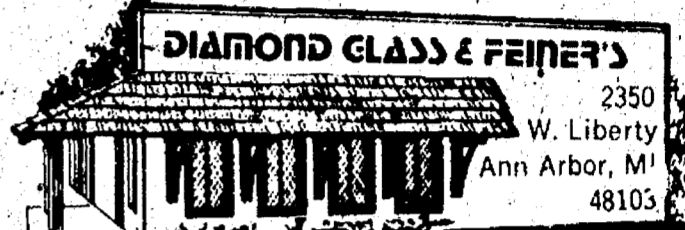

Two guest speakers will be present. At 7:30 p.m., Emilie Polens will discuss a summer camp at Waterloo Nature Center designed for handicapped and El/students.

Then, Jackie Rogers, director of Chelsea Community Education, will talk about the summer programs for special education students.

The public is invited.

CCH Rehab Unit Observes Birthday

In November 1981, Chelsea Community Hospital celebrated one year of providing intensive rehabilitation services through their Rehabilitation Unit.

The hospital has designated eight to 10 of its beds for patients requiring the expertise of a number of rehabilitation specialties. These services are provided under the direction of Dr. Lawrence Handelsman, a psychiatrist with eight years of experience in rehabilitation medicine.

The specialty services include rehabilitation nursing, physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech pathology, psychology, and social services as well as a fully staffed recreational therapy program. When needed, psychiatric and neuropsychological consultations or vocational counseling are easily accessible through the hospital.

The patients admitted to the unit range in age from adolescence to older adults. Among the types of disabilities served are stroke, closed head injuries such as those which would result from a car accident, and other neurological or rheumatological problems.

An important aspect of this program is the involvement of the patient's family. Family members are encouraged to participate in the program throughout the hospital stay. A family group meets at convenient times to provide information and allow family members to ask questions of the rehabilitation staff. Individual counseling services are provided to families and patients on the unit by the social worker and psychologist.

A major focus of the rehabilitation process is planning for the discharge of the patient. The professional staff works with the family in making arrangements well in advance of the day the patient is to go home. Soon after admission, staff members meet with the patient and families to establish mutual goals for the admission. Prior to discharge, a staff member may make one or more visits to the patient's home. In this way, recommendations can be made for any changes which will allow the patient as much freedom and independence as possible in his or her home.

The hospital environment is one of friendly reassurance in a home-like atmosphere which many of our patient's families say has contributed to their family member gaining strength and returning home quickly," states Peg Woehrl, the social worker on the unit. Peg is responsible for co-ordinating the family involvement with staff members.

Another important organizational aspect of the unit is the use of primary nursing. This means that one nurse gets to know the patient and his or her family and is responsible for their general well-being during the hospitalization. She co-ordinates the patient's daily schedule and sees to it that all appointments are kept.

Chelsea Community Hospital sits on a 42-acre site of wooded grounds. The buildings and surroundings themselves contribute a great deal to the health and recovery of the patients. This tranquil environment, with its easy accessibility to the outdoors and recreation, are all part of what makes the hospital's rehabilitation program a success.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Congratulations to Chelsea High school teachers. I recently read an article in the school newspaper about the new breakfast program. It is commendable that this was a teacher's idea. Mr. Boughner's. One would wonder, with all of the highly trained, professional administrative staff, experienced and trained dietary and kitchen personnel and various government food agencies, that a rank and file teacher, overwhelmed with classroom responsibilities, had to come up with this great idea.

Perhaps this teacher's salary should be increased to compensate for his administrative skills and the salaries of the administrators and kitchen staff lowered for their failure to be responsive to the needs of students.

My student, who is familiar with the school newspaper, is impressed too, by the fact that the school newspaper is now being printed outside of school by a private printer, which relieves Mr. Boughner to do bigger and better things. A tremendous savings for school machines, school material and teacher time when school budgets are tight. I am assuming that this is done at no cost to the school district. Would the school board confirm this and have the courage to commend this weary teacher for his innovative skills and management of school funds?

I respectfully ask to have my name withheld for obvious reasons.

A Monitoring Taxpayer.

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to a letter to the Editor printed during the week of Feb. 9. The writer stated that he, "was embarrassed by the performance of the crowd at the Chelsea-Northwest basketball game." The writer went on with numerous reasons why he felt this way, and at the same time lowered the status of the Chelsea basketball team and its coach. He ended his letter by suggesting that Chelsea High school apologize to Jackson Northwest.

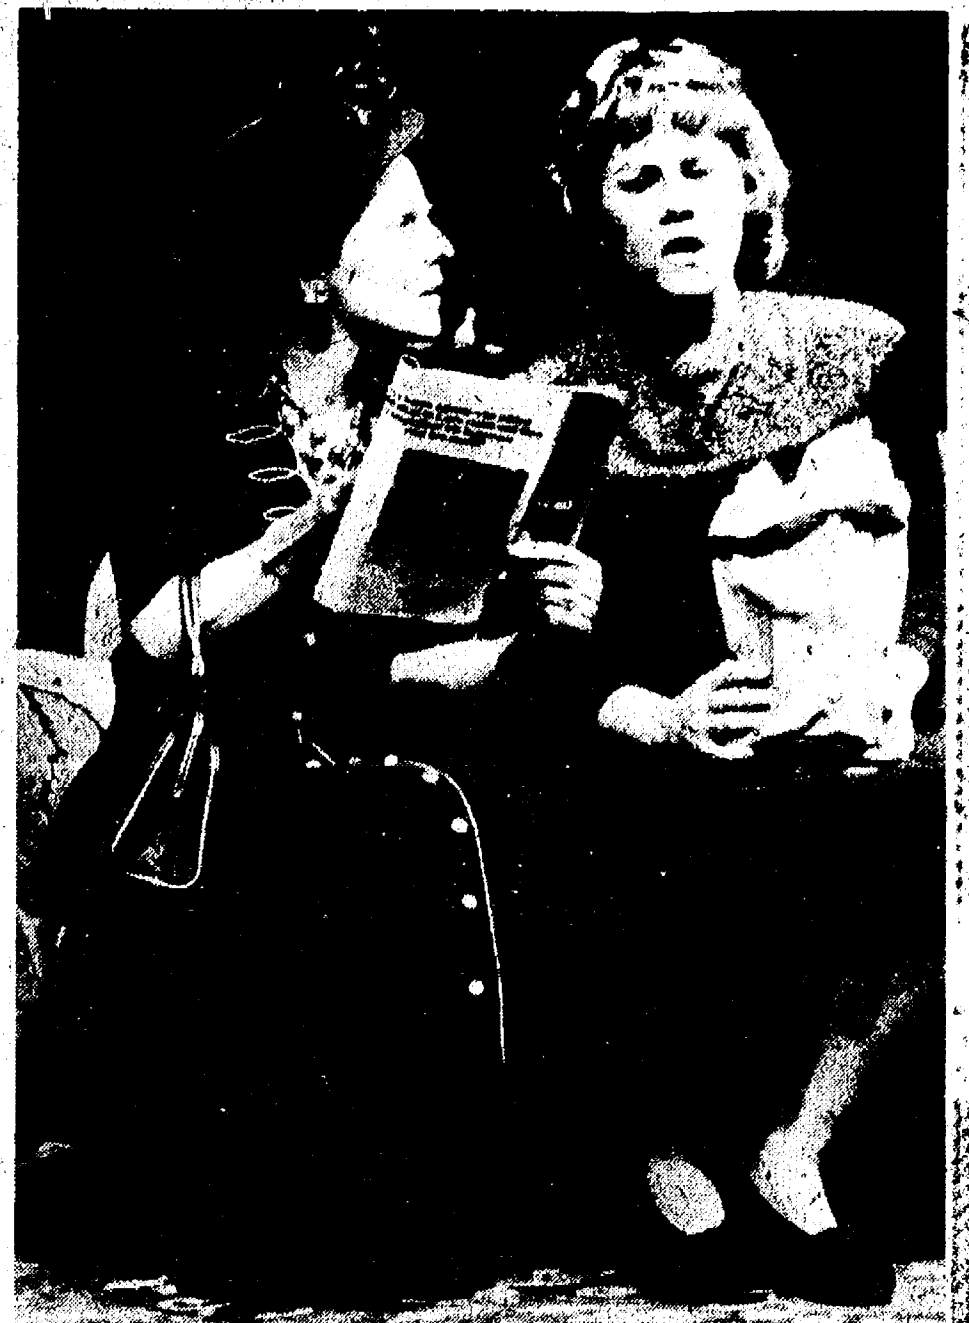

I am a student at Chelsea High and I do not believe that what happened at the game was as bad as the writer made it out to be.

It seems to me that a few years ago, parents were complaining that students did not get involved in the games as they should. Now

Proceeds from the annual cookie sale are used toward the financing of Girl Scout activities.

Students Must File Course Requests

Beginning March 15, Chelsea High school counselors will begin visiting classes at the high school and eighth grade classes at Beach Middle school to explain the scheduling process. The students will be given the course offerings booklet and course request sheet which needs to be filled out. These course request sheets will need to be returned by March 25 for high school students and March 26 for next year's ninth graders.

Principal John Williams noted that this is only the beginning of a long and complex scheduling process. He stressed that students and parents alike should understand that the course request sheet does not finish a student's scheduling but merely tells the school how many sections of each class need to be offered next year. Once that is determined, the master schedule will be built, given to the students and the students will actually go through the scheduling process the week of May 17.

The high school is returning to the open or college type scheduling process this year. Principal Williams believes that this gives the students more direct involvement in making their schedule for next year and also gives them an understanding of the complexities of student scheduling.

The high school staff is requesting parent involvement in helping their sons and daughters make relevant requests about their education program. In addition to the counseling staff and the teachers, Principal Williams said that it is important for the parents to help guide their sons and daughters in making intelligent requests. It is the goal this year that all students will have a full and complete schedule when they leave school in June.

The message the group brings in song is inspirational and challenging and the public is invited. There is no charge and nursery facilities will be available.

Child Passenger Safety Law Effective April 1

Beginning April 1, Michigan joins 10 other states with the adoption of Public Act 117 of 1981 (P.A. 117), the child passenger safety law.

According to this law, each child transported in a motor vehicle is required to be secured in a child restraint system. Any child less than one year of age must be secured in a child restraint system which meets the Federal safety standards prescribed. Any child one year of age or more but less than four years of age, when transported in the front seat, must ride in a child restraint system. Any child one year of age or more but less than four years of age, when transported in the rear seat, must ride in a child restraint system unless the child is secured by a safety belt provided in the motor vehicle. This law does not apply to a non-resident driver transporting a child in Michigan or to any child being nursed.

This law does not apply if the motor vehicle is a bus, school bus, taxicab, moped, motorcycle or other motor vehicle not required to be equipped with safety belts. A person who violates this law is responsible for a civil infraction. Points shall not be assessed for a violation of this law.

The Secretary of State may exempt a class of children if he determines that the use of the child restraint system is impractical because of physical unfitness, a medical program, or body size.

For a violation of the child passenger safety law, the civil fine ordered will not exceed $10. The court shall waive any civil fine or cost against a person who, before the appearance date on the traffic citation, supplies the court with evidence of acquisition, purchase or rental of a child restraint system meeting the Federal safety requirements.

The intent of Public Act 117 is not to punish parents, but to assure the safety of small children who are unable to make responsible decisions about safety on their own.

The problem of child passenger safety is serious. More children are hurt or killed each year from automobile crashes than from any disease or other type of accident. In 1980 alone, more than 3,350 children under age four were injured while riding as passengers in cars.

The safest place for anyone to ride is in the middle of the back seat, farthest from any doorknobs, radio dials or gear shift levers. Seatbelts keep passengers from becoming uncontrolled flying objects. A safe child restraint system is one that has been dynamically tested. All seats manufactured after Jan. 1, 1981 must meet strict Federal safety standards for crash worthiness.

Cost for a safe child restraint system ranges from $20 to $60 and there are three types of child car seats: Infant Only (for a child up to 20 lbs.), Toddlers Only (for a child able to sit up him or herself), and Convertible Seats (for both age groups). If the cost of buying a seat is too much for one's budget, rentals are available through local rental programs such as the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary.

AMERICA AND ME WINNERS: In a contest, sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance Co. and designed to stimulate patriotism, three local girls earned winning ranks following their interesting

'America & Me' Essay Contest Winners Named at Beach School

Three students from Beach Middle School have been named local winners in the 13th annual "America and Me" essay contest, sponsored by the Farm Bureau Insurance Group.

The three, who earned the first, second and third place awards for their school, are Karen Michaud, first; Susan Overdorf, second; and Ingrid Weber, third. All three received award certificates for their achievement. And, as the school's first place winner, Karen's name will be engraved on a plaque for permanent display in the school.

Karen's first-place essay, based on the topic "America and Me," now advances to the state level competition from which the top 10 essays in Michigan will be selected. The top 10 state-wide winners, who will be announced in March, will receive plaques and U. S. savings bonds ranging in value from $200 to $1,000, totaling $4,000 in prizes for the top 10 essayists.

In addition, the top 10 winners will be honored at an awards luncheon in Lansing next month, followed by a visit to the office of Gov. William Milliken, who will personally congratulate each winner.

Gov. Milliken heads the team of celebrity judges that will determine the top state-wide winners.

Several thousand eighth grade students from more than 450 Michigan schools participated in the 1981-82 America and Me essay contest, which was conducted with the help of Farm Bureau Insurance agents across the state.

Started in 1968 and open to all Michigan eighth grade students, the annual contest encourages youngsters to explore their roles in America's future through "America and Me" essays.

As sponsor of the contest, Farm Bureau Insurance Group has received 10 national awards from the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge.

St. Joe Radio Auction Will Provide Funds for Mobile Health Unit

Dennis Pearsall, senior vice-president of National Bank and Trust Co., Ann Arbor, has been named chairman of the fifth annual St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Radio Auction.

WAAM (AM 1600) will broadcast the event March 27-28 from the Bechtel Power Corp.

This year's auction goal is to raise $30,000 for a Mobile Health Unit to extend the Catherine McAuley Health Center's health promotional activities throughout the community," Pearsall explains. CMHC includes both St. Joseph Mercy and Mercywood Hospitals.

According to Pearsall, the specially equipped van or bus purchased with auction proceeds will furnish a variety of free services and will be staffed by health professionals capable of performing tasks including hypertension screening, an infant car seat education program and general health guidance and referral.

Pearsall, a resident of Saline, noted that funds from last year's auction established the Community Hypertension Screening Program. "Underway less than six months, this program has already screened more than 2,500 people, identifying 200 'high risk' and 500 'borderline' hypertensives," Pearsall reported. Serving as medical consultant to the Mobile Health Unit project is Ron J. Vanden Belt, MD, head of St. Joseph's Department of Internal Medicine.

Vice-chairman of the Auction is James Gilligan, vice-president Canadian Operations, University Microfilms, Inc. Numerous other community volunteers include local residents and businessmen Kathy Aiuto, owner, Odds and Ends, Manchester; Howard S. Holmes, president, Chelsea Milling Co., and Robert Porter, manager, Great Lakes Federal Savings and Loan, Chelsea.

Rocking M Sets Pace In Rec. Basketball

Chelsea's mens recreational basketball teams took to the courts again Sunday, March 7.

In the first game of the day, Dana and Chelsea Woodshed battled it out, finding Dana up, 53-52, at the end of the first half and eventually winning, 115-103. High scorer for Dana was Dave Hinkle with 36 points though suffering a broken ankle with just one minute to play in the game. John Butler paced the Woodshed with 28 points and was one of just four players on the court during the last two minutes of play following the fouling out of the team's other two players.

Rocking M Ranch and Jiffy Mix took to the courts in the second contest and Rocking M managed a 42-39 lead at the end of the first half and took the victory, 96-80.

Pacing Rocking M was Doug Everard with 34 points while Jiffy was led by Mark Black with 30 points.

In the final game of the day, Chelsea State Bank and Ann Arbor Centerless played with CSB taking a commanding 53-34 half-time lead. Final score in the game, CSB 114, Ann Arbor Centerless 56. Except for the final five minutes of this game, play was even with Matt Robinson pacing the winners with 33 points while Joe Muldoon led Ann Arbor Centerless with 22 points.

Plaza Suite' Cast Pleases Audience

By Joan Wolf

The Chelsea Players production of Neil Simon's "Plaza Suite" was a huge success. Saturday night's dinner theater troupe were greeted at the door by doormen Phil Powers and Jeff Poye, dressed in tuxedos. Further down St. Louis School's beautiful skylit entryway were wait check girls Jody Rowe and Theresa Merkel in their long black skirts. Sherry Sundling's delicious gourmet dinner was served buffet style and the buffet tables were elegantly decorated with white candles and silver candelabras. A magnificent butter sculpture of Plaza Hotel, made by Sherry herself, decorated the buffet. Ann Lee and Katie Ullman, dressed in long formal gowns, added to the festive atmosphere by rolling through the dinner hall and entryway with their violins. Technical director Brian Myers did a beautiful job with the stage. He designed and made an extension for St. Louis School's small stage. He also made two large chandeliers for the dinner hall which really added a festive touch to the entire evening.

The dinner tables were cleverly decorated with MaryBeth Rosenberg's design of top hats, canes, white gloves and red carnation boutonnieres and programs, designed by Ben Bower, at each place.

Several men and women in the community worked at the busy wine and beer bar during the cocktail hour, dinner and intermission. Special acknowledgment goes to Bob and Ginny Wheaton and children Shelly and Jeff, who not only ran the bar, but also spent long hours during the entire week-end from dress rehearsal Thursday night to striking the set Sunday evening, helping in every possible way.

The performances in all three acts were quite professional. In the first act, Bill Coelius and Julie Vorus starred as a long-married couple on the verge of a break-up. Although the subject was serious in this scene, the audience chuckled at Simon's witty dialogue. Julie brought a touching dignity to the role of Karen Nash while Bill did an excellent job with the not-so-loveable character, Sam Nash. Julie and Bill were well supported by actors Harland Wood and Tim Whitesall, who brought humor to their roles of waiter and bellhop, and by Connie Dault, who played Jean, the secretary. In the second act, Ric Foytik was hilarious as the suave Hollywood producer, Jesse Kiplinger who, after 17 years, invites his old high school sweetheart Muriel Tate to an afternoon of getting re-acquainted. Muriel was played with delightful star-struck innocence by Jan Reizens-tein and the laughs really got going after Jan's character had a few vodka stingers and really let her hair down, much to Jesse's surprise.

The third act in Neil Simon's trilogy is pure farce. In this act, theater-goers met Norma and Ray Hubley who were trying every conceivable means to get their daughter to come out of a locked bathroom and get married. Bill Coelius and Janet Tobin had the audience roaring with laughter at all of their futile attempts to coax, threaten and force their daughter to be sensible and attend her own wedding. Not until Tim Whitesall, playing Borden Eisler, the fiancé, utters the simple words, "Cool it," does Mimsey, played delightfully by Linda Klein, unbaricade herself.

Between the acts, Pearl Phillips, dressed as a Plaza Hotel maid, would re-arrange the props and set the stage for the act to follow while Jan Koenigter did a fabulous job directing this talented cast.

At Community Education director Jackie Rogers' suggestion, the Chelsea Players held a Sunday matinee. This performance was attended by 60 senior citizens as well as many students who earned their admission by helping with the clean-up and the set-up.

Spring Arriving Early This Year

The month of March brings an early beginning of spring and an opportunity to view a puzzling star with a recurring, two-year-long eclipse, says University of Michigan astronomy Prof. Richard G. Teske.

"Spring will begin on March 20 at 5:56 in the afternoon, the instant the northward-moving sun stands directly above earth's equator. The moment is called the vernal equinox, a term which means the time of spring when day and night are of equal length," he says.

"Usually, the date of March 21 is associated with this event. But because of the way our calendar is related to the movement of the sun among the stars, the vernal equinox sometimes occurs on the preceding day, as it does this year.

Molly Bacon on Dean's Honor List At Michigan Tech

Molly Bacon, a sophomore studying computer science at Michigan Technical University, has earned recognition on the Dean's List, following her successful completion of the recently ending fall term there.

To earn recognition, full-time students must earn a grade point average of at least 3.5. Molly is the daughter of Barbara Bacon of Gregory and David Bacon of Chelsea.

Both shows were well attended with 270 persons present for the dinner theater and approximately 225 attending the matinee.

The Chelsea Players have expressed their sincere appreciation of everyone who helped to make this year's winter production a success by giving people in Chelsea an opportunity to get out and enjoy an evening or afternoon of laughter together.

The Chelsea Players' next effort will be the summer musical production of "My Fair Lady."

Reduced Crop Acreage Sign-up

Farmers who wish to participate in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's reduced acreage programs for wheat and feed grains may begin signing up at the ASCS Office.

While the programs are voluntary, only farmers who participate in the program will be eligible for program benefits such as government price support loans and target price protection and the farmer-owned grain reserve, according to Everett Rank, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

County ASCS offices will handle the sign-up, which continues through April 16, Rank said.

To be eligible to receive program benefits, feed grain producers must reduce their acreage planted to feed grains (barley, corn, oats and sorghum) by at least 10 percent from an established base. Rank said two bases will be set: one will include corn and sorghum and one will include barley and oats.

Participants in the wheat acreage reduction program must reduce their acreage planted for harvest by at least 15 percent from their established acreage bases.

Rank said the bases for these crops generally will be the higher of the 1981 crop acreage or the average of the 1980-81 crop acreages. However, he said, for farmers that have been following a definite crop rotation pattern, the base will reflect such rotation.

Farmers who sign up may change their minds up to the time they report their acreage, Rank said. State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committees will establish reporting dates for each crop, he said.

USDA will issue its first sign-up report about March 16, and will report weekly sign-up progress until registration is completed.

Varsity Cagers Roll Over Parkside, Milan, Tied for 2nd in SEC

The Bulldogs turned all of their talents into the best game they've played all year Tuesday, defeating Jackson Parkside, 64-46.

Parkside led at the end of the first quarter, 10-9, but the Bulldogs took hold of the lead at the half, 22-19.

Chelsea upped their lead to 31-28 at the end of three and eventually won, 54-46.

According to Coach Robin Raymond, the Bulldog game plan was to slow the tempo and stop the Parkside running game. The team was patient on offense, taking just selective shots and completing a percentage of 61 on 20 of 33 field goal attempts.

The Bulldogs managed to control the entire game and executed very well with minimal mistakes.

Pacing Chelsea was David Wojcicki with 21 points on eight of 13 floor shots while Mike Bareis ended the game with 14 points on seven of nine attempts. No other Bulldog took more than four shots as Chelsea's senior leadership was evident throughout the game.

Bareis and Welton combined in the fourth quarter for a total of 20 points while Bareis also did an excellent job on defense against Ossi White of Parkside who normally averages 23 points per game and was held to 14 against Chelsea.

With Chelsea's fine defensive game, the Parkside squad was kept outside and was able to muster just 19 of 52 field goals for 38 percent.

Others scoring for Chelsea were David Kiel with seven points including six of seven free throws in the fourth quarter. Marty Steinhauer had five points, David Mann had three and Matt Villemure and John Welton chipped in with two.

Chelsea hit 70 percent of its free throws, 14 of 20 while Parkside hit 35 percent on six of 11.

The Bulldogs had 15 turnovers while Parkside committed 11 in a game that was even with the exception of shooting percentages.

Following this win, the Bulldogs hosted Milan's Big Reds in both teams, final league games of the season and Chelsea's last home game for seniors.

In an evenly matched game, the Bulldogs, following three overtimes, were able to win the game, 64-60, and end their Southeastern Conference season with a 7-5 league slate and a three-way tie with Milan and Lincoln, all finishing in second place behind Dexter.

Chelsea led, 15-11, at the end of the first quarter and, 29-23, at the end of the half. The Bulldogs were up, 37-25, with just two minutes left in the third quarter but Milan came on strong and tied the game at 37-all at the end of the third stanza.

The game was tied at 49-all at the end of regulation time, 54-all at the end of the first over-time, 58-all at the end of the second over-time and the Bulldogs bested the Big Reds at the end of the final over-time period.

Determining the final outcome was a matter of Milan's two best players fouling out as did David Kiel and David Mann of Chelsea while Mike Bareis continued to play with four fouls.

In the final over-time, Mike Bareis scored two points while John Welton hit four of four free throw attempts to lead the Bulldogs to their important win.

Free throw shooting for Chelsea was very good, with 70 percent achieved on 22 of 30 attempts. Marty Steinhauer did an exceptional job from the line with eight of 10 and his last six consecutively. He was 4-4 in the fourth quarter and 2-2 in the first over-time.

John Welton led Chelsea with 18 points while Marty Steinhauer ended the game with 14, David Wojcicki had 10 including four of four free throws, David Kiel had eight, Mike Bareis had seven points while playing with four fouls, Carl Pate had three points and six rebounds, and Toby Boyd and David Mann contributed two points apiece. Welton and Wojcicki contributed five and four assists, respectively.

Chelsea hit about 46 percent from the floor on 21 of 44 field goal attempts while Milan hit 26 percent, 21 of 80 tries. Chelsea outrebounded the opposition, 45-33.

Committing too many turnovers was Chelsea's only downfall in the game as they committed 20 as compared to Milan's seven.

In what Raymond considered "a funny game," the Bulldogs controlled the first two and one-half quarters while Milan dominated the final one and one-half periods of regulation time. Then, it was considered to be a struggle between teams in the first two over-times while Chelsea took the initiative and played well to win in the final two minutes.

Chelsea ends its 1981-82 season with a 12-8 over-all slate and a 7-5 SEC record, having won eight of the team's last 11 games.

"We've shown tremendous improvement this season with a great deal of leadership shown by Bareis, Wojcicki and Welton," explained Coach Raymond. "We've had steady play off the bench with Matt Villemure, Carl Pate, Toby Boyd and David Mann doing different things at different times and giving the team strength."

On Tuesday, the Bulldogs travel to Columbia Central to take on Jackson Lumen Christi in the first game of the districts. "It's going to be our toughest game of the season," explained Raymond.

DISCUSSING THE GAME PLAN, Coach Robin Raymond provides instruction to his team, circled around him during a time out at Friday's final league basketball game against Milan. His strategy worked and Chelsea defeated the Big Reds, 64-60, to tie with both Milan and Lincoln for second place in the Southeastern Conference.

JV Cagers Drop Two, Finish in Tie for Title

Chelsea's junior varsity Bulldogs suffered two disappointing losses last week, falling to Jackson Parkside, 70-32, on Tuesday and dropping their final league game to Milan, 47-46, Friday.

According to Coach Wayne Welton, Tuesday's game found the Bulldogs playing against the most talented and best team they had taken on all season. The JVs were down, 15-32, at the end of the first half and, despite a realistic chance to catch up, were outscored in the third quarter to put a damper on the contest.

Frank Waller played a fine game for Chelsea, scoring 12 points and grabbing six rebounds while Chuck Hager added eight points and pulled down six rebounds.

In a heart-breaking loss Friday, Chelsea held onto the lead until the final 30 seconds when Milan scored to take home a 47-46 victory over Chelsea. As a result, Chelsea and Saline are locked in a two-way tie for the JV Southeastern Conference championship.

Pacing Chelsea was Chuck Hager with 18 points and nine rebounds while Jeff Martin and Eric Schaffner added seven and Jay Marshall and Frank Waller each chipped in six.

Chelsea's loss came at the foul line as the Bulldogs hit just six of 22 attempts while Milan made good on 15 of 22.

According to Welton, "This was the most frustrating game we've played all season, though, overall, we finished a pretty good season."

Meeting adjourned.

Mary M. Harris, Clerk.

A 1980 study showed that 50-60-year-old employees will stay with a company for at least 15 years.

LOCKING INTO HIS OPPONENT, senior wrestler Rick Poljan prepares to pin his competition enroute to a third place finish in the state in the 198-lb. weight class. Along with Poljan, Ernie Bristle earned a sixth place state ranking while the Chelsea team was 14th over-all at the competition.

Wren House Workshop Set at Nature Center

Returning from his winter hideaway in the Southern states, the Eastern House Wren will soon be making his appearance on fence posts, clotheslines, and the like. One of the easiest of all birds to attract, the wren is identified by its up-turned tail. Although somewhat ordinary in appearance the male house wren has a beautiful song with which he attracts his lady love.

This enterprising midget will make its home in almost any available cavity including mailboxes, flower pots, and trash barrels. A birdhouse is a welcome alternative.

On March 13 at 1:30 p.m., the Waterloo Nature Center will be offering a workshop on the construction of a wren house. The class will include an indoor presentation on the common birds of Michigan and a hike, as well as the making of the bird house. Cost including materials will be $2. Interested people should call the Center (475-8069) Tues.-Thurs., 9 to 3. (After hours call Emille Polens at 475-7840.)

The Women's Bureau was established in the U.S. Department of Labor by an act of Congress in 1920.

FREE HEARING TESTS

Jackson, Mich.—Free electronic hearing tests will be given on Monday, March 15, thru Thursday, March 18th from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Beckord's Hearing Aid Center.

A hearing aid specialist will be available to give these free tests at 2922 Wildwood Ave. Ph: 517-782-5724.

The tests have been arranged for anyone who suspects they are losing their hearing. Such persons generally say they can hear but cannot understand conversation. Testing with the latest electronic equipment will indicate whether it can be helped electronically.

Everyone, especially those over 60, should have an electronic hearing test at least once a year. If there is a hearing problem, a free electronic hearing test may reveal that newly developed methods of correction will help, even for those who have been told in the past that a hearing aid would not help them.

For those wishing the free test but want to avoid waiting, an appointment for a specific day and time may be arranged by phoning (517)782-5724.

These free hearing tests are given for the purpose of making selections and adaptations of electronic hearing instruments.

Available for inspection on the test days will be the NU EAR All-In-The-Ear hearing aid which is especially designed for nerve deafness.

Good Things Growing In Michigan

By Margaret G. McCall

The first signs of spring can perk up even the dullest day, when the sun starts setting later and the days begin getting warmer. And warm days with freezing nights are good for one of Michigan's agricultural crops—maple syrup.

It's this type of weather which makes sap run and makes possible delicious Michigan maple syrup for topping hot pancakes or waffles, making rich maple candy or glazing your favorite meat dish.

For an added treat, try maple barbecued spareribs. Just substitute maple syrup for sugar in your favorite recipe by using one and one-half cups syrup for each cup of granulated sugar.

Baked goods made with maple syrup should be baked 25 degrees lower than the same recipe using sugar. Be sure to add one-quarter teaspoon soda for each cup of maple syrup and cut down any liquids by one-half where sugar is eliminated.

Last year in Michigan about 91,000 gallons of syrup were produced, sixth highest production in the nation, according to Michigan Department of Agriculture officials. The value was estimated at $1,747,000.

Only pure, boiled-down sap weighing at least 11 pounds per gallon may have a maple syrup label, reports Dr. Edward Hefron, MDA's Food division chief. "Syrups may legally be sold as mixtures of maple and other syrups, but the law requires these to be labeled showing the percentages. They must be labeled either imitation maple or maple-flavored syrup."

To make one gallon of maple syrup, about 40 to 50 gallons of sap must be collected. Holes are drilled into a tree and a "spile," allowing the sap to flow into a bucket or tubing, is placed in the hole. Each tap will yield 15 to 20 gallons of sap during a season, depending on the size of the tree. Larger trees will accommodate two or more buckets.

Grass Lake Man Participating in NATO Exercise

Marine Lance Cpl. Richard E. Kohn, II, son of Richard E. and Patricia A. Kohn of 216 N. Lake St., Grass Lake, recently deployed to Norway to participate in the NATO exercise "Alloy Express."

He is a member of Battalion Landing Team 2/2, 36th Marine Amphibious Unit (MAU), Camp Lejeune, N. C.

"Alloy Express" involves Marines from the Netherlands, England, Germany and the U.S., as well as army forces from Norway. It is designed to gain realistic training in combined amphibious landings and subsequent operations ashore in an arctic environment.

The six-day exercise will include two practice landings and an amphibious assault on northern Norway.

Members of the 36th MAU will spend 10 days training in live-firing, skiing and a cold weather bivouac routine prior to the exercise.

After the exercise is completed, port visits are scheduled for England, the Netherlands, Norway, France and Spain.

A 1978 graduate of Grass Lake Junior-Senior High school, Grass Lake, Kohn joined the Marine Corps in April 1979.

The U.S. Department of Labor was established as a separate cabinet-level agency by an act of Congress in 1913.

Steelhead Spring Spawning Runs May Be Delayed By Heavy Snow

Michigan's spring steelhead fishing season may peak later than usual because of this winter's heavy snows, but the excellent runs expected should be worth the extra 7- to 10-day wait, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Anglers should watch for peak runs in early to mid-April in West Michigan, mid-April to mid-May in East Michigan, late April through mid-May in Southeast Michigan and in mid-May across the Upper Peninsula.

"The snowmelt which helps trigger the steelhead's spawning urge could be later in parts of northern Lower and Upper Michigan because of the heavy snowfall," stated James Drury, Auto Club Travel Operations manager. "The melting snow would keep rivers cold, meaning a longer-than-usual period of stream temperatures below the optimum 40- to 45-degree range needed for spawning activity and best fishing."

Some 300,000 six- to 15-pound silvery fighters planted as 6- to 10-inches in 1979 and 1980 will enter the 36 streams listed on Auto Club's Spring Steelhead Guide. There also should be a good run of immature "skippers" weighing 2 to 4 pounds.

"Best West Michigan fishing should be on the St. Joseph River up to Buchanan and the Grand River system," Drury said. "Both streams have received heavy plantings and the Grand will have runs nearly within sight of the state Capitol because of new fish ladders between Grand Rapids and Lansing's Moore's Park Dam."

Other productive spots along the western shore include the Muskegon and Manistee rivers.

Lake Huron standouts should include the Ocqueoc River near Huron Beach, the Au Gres River's East Branch, and the Au Sable near Oscoda, which should peak in late April or as late as mid-May because colder water released from upstream dams will delay runs.

Pier fishermen should find good results at the Pigeon River's mouth at Caseville in the Thumb.

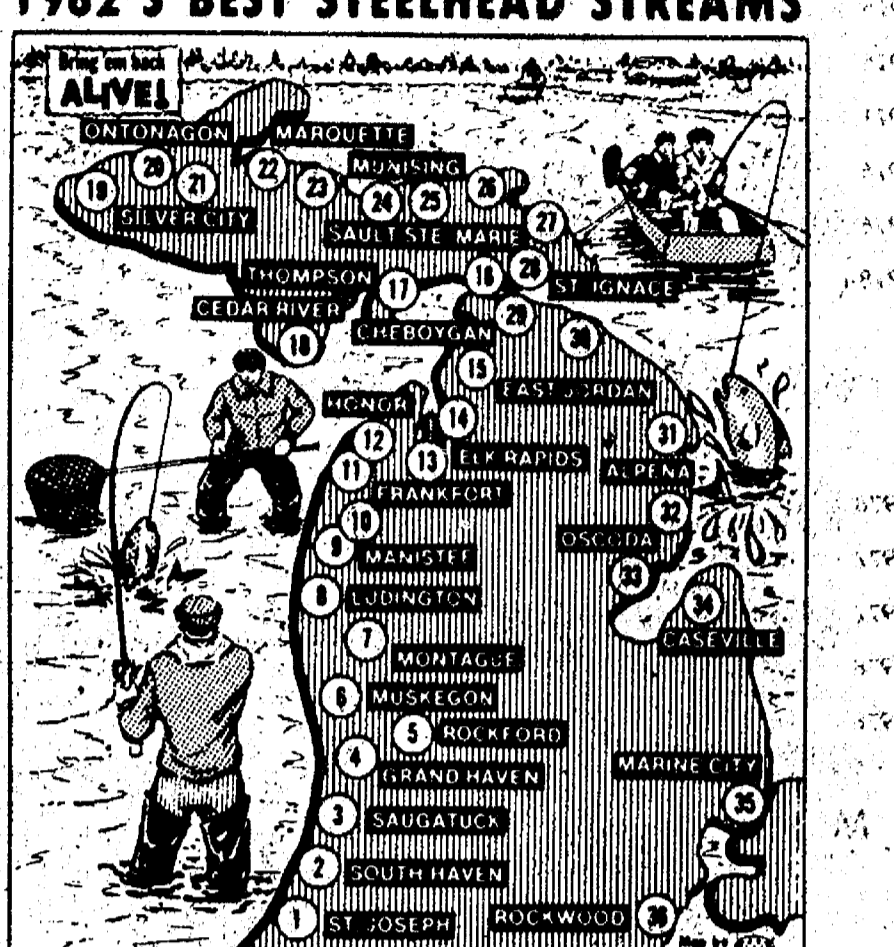

In Southeast Michigan, best steelheading should be on the St. Clair River for trollers and on the Huron River for shore and wading fishermen.

Upper Peninsula anglers should find peak action at Thompson Creek's mouth and on the Big Cedar along Lake Michigan, the Ontonagon, Little Garlic and Two Hearted along Lake Superior and the Carp on Lake Huron.

Auto Club advises steelheaders to check specific rules for individual rivers in the DNR's Michigan Fishing Guide. Some rivers are open year-around while others open April 1 or April 24, the start of general trout season. The guide is free to anglers purchasing license passbooks.

Although contaminant levels of Great Lakes gamefish are declining, the State Department of Public Health continues its advisory that steelhead from Lakes Michigan and Huron should not be eaten by children, pregnant women, those expecting to bear children or nursing mothers. All others should consume no more than one steelhead meal per week.
