STATE CHAMPION DAVE MASON earned this prestigious honor with a victory in the 200 IM at the state meet last week-end. He just missed winning two other events, the 100 butterfly and the medley relay, losing by two-tenths and seven-tenths of a second, respectively. Nevertheless, Mason assisted Chelsea in its fourth place Class B state finish at Grand Rapids where the Bulldog swimmers faced 66 other state high schools.

High School Swim Team Finishes Fourth In State Competition

Chelsea High school's swimmers traveled to Grand Rapids last Friday and Saturday to compete in the state Class B swim meet. Chelsea's swimmers competed against 66 other Class B teams that had qualified competitors for the state championship.

Chelsea was seeded sixth entering the meet and improved its times and places to finish fourth with 84 points. The meet was won for the sixth consecutive year by East Grand Rapids with 169 points followed by Battle Creek Lakeview with 140, Fenton 121, Chelsea 84, Lansing Waverly 75, Cherry Hill 72, Sturgis 57, Saginaw MacArthur 50, Saginaw Eisenhower 41 and St. Joseph 39. Milan was the only other area team to score, finishing 29th with six points.

The Chelsea team was led by Dave Mason who became the school's first state champion swimmer with a victory in the 200 IM. Mason just missed winning two other events, the butterfly was lost by .2 of a second while the medley relay lost by .7.

Other members of the medley relay who finished fourth with a school record 1:42.6 (1:42.7 in the preliminary) were Craig Wirtz, Dave Nicola and John Drew.

Sean Oxner broke three school records with a ninth place finish in the 200 free and seventh place in the 500 free. Sean broke the school record in the 200 in the prelims with a time of 1:49.7 and then broke it again with a 1:49.6 in the finals. He also broke his own school record in the 500 free with a time of 5:01.3.

John Robbins finished 12th in the 200 IM with a life-time best of 2:10.1 while Paul Schumann was 11th in the 500 free with a great 5:09.9 swim.

Dave Nicola broke two more school records with a time of :22.80 in the 50 free and :50.45 in the 100 free. Dave's 100 freestyle time was on the lead-off leg of the 400 free relay that finished sixth. Nicola's 50 free effort qualified him seventh and he finished 11th in the finals. Teaming with Nicola on the freestyle relay were John Hoffman, John Drew and Sean Oxner.

Every swimmer who entered the meet placed and had at least one best time. "I think we are the only team that accomplished either one, much less both of those feats," Coach Larry Reed explained.

"Not much was expected of us this year. We only had two swimmers returning that scored in last year's state meeting individually and yet, we managed to make our goal of finishing in the top five," Reed continued.

Seniors who swam fine races for the last time and who will be missed by the team were Dave Mason, Craig Wirtz, John Robbins and Paul Schumann. Kirk Hawks, also a senior, was injured in practice four days before the state meet and was not able to compete in the 100 butterfly and 100 back for which he had qualified.

The team will now be taking a well-deserved break from their grueling practice regimen.

New Trustee Elected in Village Vote

Nearly 350 official ballots were cast in the village election Monday, March 8, reflecting a voting percentage of 19.7 of those village electors who came out to exercise their right.

Earning an unopposed seat as Village President was John Merkel, receiving a total of 292 votes while Charles B. Winans, II, was re-elected as assessor with 303 votes. Treasurer Mary Harris also earned another term as treasurer with a total of 319 votes cast in her favor.

In the trustee race, incumbents Joseph Merkel and Loren Keezer were re-elected with 223 and 217 votes, respectively, while newcomer Jeanene Riemen-schneider garnered 183 votes to fill the third available seat, defeating incumbent Stephanie Kanten who received 119 votes.

Two other unsuccessful trustee candidates, Ishmael Picklesimer and Herman Radloff, were given 116 and 93 votes, respectively.

Elected to the library board were incumbent Jean Eaton with 291 votes and newcomer John Groesser with 269 votes.

The newly-elected village officials take office tonight, March 16.

Moonlight Madness Wednesday

Chelsea residents will get a bit of the "luck of the Irish" Wednesday, March 17 as local merchants band together for another night of reduced prices and "Midnight Madness."

This St. Patrick's Day event will be held between the hours of 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. Wednesday only and prices throughout village stores will be slashed to bargain rates.

Following a day and evening of true celebration, the downing of green beer and feasting on corned beef, cabbage and soda bread, local shoppers can gather innumerable pre-spring bargains from shops lining Main St.

Hungry Robins Welcome Spring

With March winds and lots of sunshine early Saturday morning, the Krichbaums of Waltrous Rd. spotted eight robins looking for food in their backyard.

Andrew Policht of 5650 Stoffer Rd. also reported two robins, a male and a female, grabbing a bite to eat at his bird feeder.

It looks like the long-awaited spring is finally here.

CHS Musical Set To Open On Thursday

"Another opening, another show." Even though this isn't Philadelphia, Boston or Baltimore, it is that time of the year. The time of year when Chelsea High school presents its annual spring musical.

This year's play, "West Side Story," was the smash of Broadway in 1957. It was written by Leonard Bernstein and Stephen Sondheim and starred Carol Lawrence. The film version, which won the academy award for best picture in 1960 starred Natalie Wood, Rita Moreno and Richard Beymer.

Although they may not be as well known as the original stars, people like Amy Wolter as Maria, Phil Powers as Tony, Dave Lange as Riff and Celeste Arbogast as Anita, are doing a fine job of portraying the characters made famous by the stars.

Also in the cast are Jim Herter as Bernardo, Eric Kruger as Action, Thad Bell as Arab, Mike Smith as Baby John, Tom Mull as Big Deal, Tim Benjamin as Glad-Hand, Bob Benedict as Doc and Diane Bareis as Daisy.

Even though the job may not be as glamorous as working on stage, working just as hard behind the scenes are technical director Doug Beaumont and set designer Bev Yelsik, and their respective crews.

"West Side Story" is being directed by Tamara Barbret and choreographed by Sue Bauer. These two collaborated on last year's "Me and Juliet," and both believe that this year's show will be just as successful.

The orchestra, which is also made up of students from Chelsea High, is being directed by Kevin Miller, who also directed last year's musical.

Tickets for "West Side Story" are still on sale at Chelsea Pharmacy and will also be available at the door during all three performances, March 18, 19 and 20. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Dana Employees Sign New Contract

In late January, the Dana Council, the governmental body of the international UAW as it is affiliated with Dana Corp., opened negotiations and discussions in Chicago with regard to both master and local contractual agreements. As of March 5, the bargaining team reached an agreement on the master contract and, the next day, the Dana Council met in Indianapolis and voted to accept the recommendations of the bargaining team and the international union.

Dana Council delegates representing the local Dana plant are Harold Salyer, Earl Willis, Jr., and Jill Shepherd. On March 7, the local bargaining team entered discussion with the local management in hopes of reaching a local agreement and, on March 11, a special meeting was called and voting took place.

The master contract was accepted by the shop workers, 143-41, and by the office staff, 15-1 while the local contract was accepted 109-75 and 15-1, respectively. The master contract was to be ratified by a vote of all UAW locals and members of the Dana Council later in the week.

The master contract concessions provide that three personal holidays are given up, the cost of living increase is frozen for three-quarters of one year, and that one percent wage raise is cancelled. In return, Dana Corp. provides for more job security in plant closings, early retirement becomes an option; health insurance is increased; separate pay is increased by 50 percent; and S.U.B. fund benefits are extended for as long as two years for lay-offs. A $2 million advance is to be placed in the S.U.B. fund immediately and, should it be depleted, an additional $1.5 million will be advanced.

Under the local agreement, no wage-related concessions came into the forefront. Instead, the local agreement was concerned exclusively with Dana Corp. cost-saving measures and subsequent concessions.

Currently, Chelsea Dana employs 239 production workers, 59 are currently laid off; and 16 office workers, three are laid off.

According to UAW plant chairman Earl Willis, Jr., "Everyone is pleased with the contract. We're all concerned about our jobs and about the company."

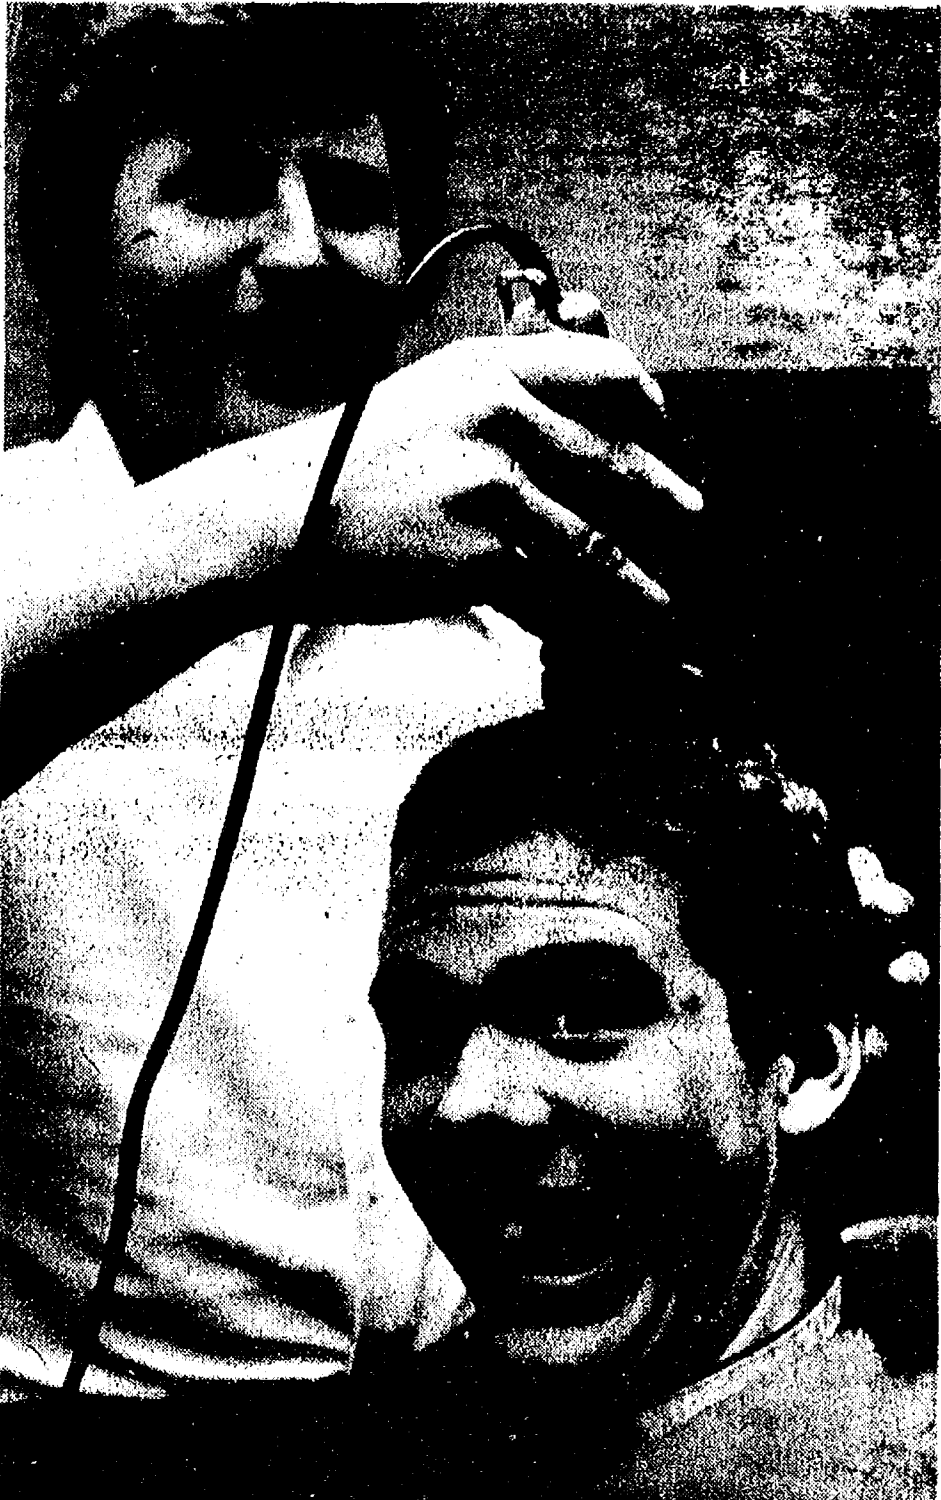

The local contract becomes effective immediately.

Schools Closing Thursday Noon For Workshop

Chelsea schools will be dismissed at 11:30 a.m. on Thursday, March 18. All employees of the Chelsea School District will be involved in an afternoon in-service workshop.

The communications workshop will be presented by representatives of the Macomb Intermediate School District.

This workshop is for teachers, administrators, secretaries, bus drivers/transportation personnel, maintenance/custodial personnel, and cafeteria employees.

ANOTHER TELLY SAVALAS in the making was John Robbins, who, along with other Chelsea swim team state meet qualifiers, had his head shaved prior to traveling to Grand Rapids last Thursday. Doing the annual honors is Ric Foytik of Ricardo's.

Hospital Plans Programs On Poison Prevention

In recognition of Poison Prevention Week, March 21-27, the Pharmacy Department at Chelsea Community Hospital will be presenting programs on poison prevention to area pre-schoolers and kindergarten students.

The programs will include a short film depicting the dangers of taking medicine without supervision as well as activities to teach the difference between edible foods and potentially toxic substances commonly found in the home. In addition, materials will be sent home with the students, containing information for parents to help create a safe environment for children in their homes.

The programs will be presented by Lorraine Perkins, director of pharmacy, Nancy Mason, assistant director of pharmacy; Lori Kearney, staff pharmacist; and pharmacy technicians Patricia Stevenson, Katherine Cobb, and Betty Edwards.

Programs will be held at North school Monday, March 22 at 9:15 a.m. and Wednesday, March 24 at 1 p.m.; South school Thursday, March 25 at 9:15 a.m. and 12:45 p.m.; and at the Chelsea Community Hospital Child Care Center Tuesday, March 23 at 9 a.m.

For more information, contact Lorraine Perkins at Chelsea Community Hospital.

School Urges Return Of Questionnaires

Residents of the Chelsea School District who received questionnaires recently from the Chelsea High school, in connection with the North Central Evaluation, are urged to complete and return them as soon as possible.

The data received from these questionnaires is an integral part of the year-long in-depth study of the high school. The completion and return of the forms is very important.

Fire Dept. Answers Four Calls

Chelsea Fire Department made a total of four runs last week, involving three rescues and one fire.

On Monday, March 8, a rescue run was made to a residence on Howard St. This call was received at 2:32 p.m.

Then, on Thursday, March 11, a rescue was made to a location on M-52 and Boyce Rd. This call was received at 9:26 p.m.

An unknown accident was reported on Cavanaugh Lake Rd. west of Pierce Rd. at 12:27 a.m. on Sunday, March 14 and, later that day, a car fire was reported on east-bound I-94 at Mile Marker 166.

"I FEEL PRETTY" is rehearsed during preparations for this week's high school spring musical production of "West Side Story." Featured in this photograph are, front, Amy

State Budget Problems Worsen
It has often been said about the Michigan weather that if you don't like it, just wait and it will get worse. As of late the same thing could be said about the state's budget problems.

A steadily deteriorating budget, which has added $190 million to the current-year projected deficit since January, is forcing outgoing Governor William G. Milliken and legislative leaders to reconsider the need for a general tax increase.

After a lengthy meeting with top department directors, including his chief budget advisor, Milliken said he was not "including anything, nor rejecting anything" such as tax hikes and budget cuts to deal with the budget problems.

The state's worsening budget problems are largely due to falling revenues. Besides the current fiscal year shortfall, the 1982-83 budget proposals by the governor must also be revised downward by about $190 million.

The Department of Management and Budget, the state's general administrative department, reported that February collections of sales, use, income and business taxes were $38 million below estimates and $20 million below figures of the same period last year.

Lottery revenues, which have always been on the increase, are also declining unexpectedly, with a revised $210 million estimate reflecting a $30 million cut.

The fact that the governor refused to reject consideration of tax hikes is a sharp change from his position in January when he flatly rejected general tax increases.

Besides consideration of general tax increases, another current-year executive order could total about $469 million.

Of the total proposed budget cut, however, some budget cutting steps have already been recommended. These include $225 million in fourth-quarter cuts to colleges and revenue sharing programs to local governments and $51.6 million through 4 percent cuts in departmental budgets.

Another $98 million has already been cut in retirement fund obligations and with the $270 million general budget cut last fall, the 1981-82 budget will have been pared by over 15 percent when compared to the original appropriations.

State budget experts say that current year revenue estimates should be cut $115 million. This includes $37 million in revenues dedicated for K-12 schools which must be made up by the general fund.

The remaining current year deficit of $190 million is due mainly to increased interest costs and added welfare obligations.

The budget deficit for 1982-83 is almost entirely reflected in depressed revenue estimates.

Management and Budget Director Gerald Miller said the over-all picture remains discouraging, particularly with a continued decline in auto sales and with February unemployment rates in the 15-16 percent range.

Miller added that if auto sales do not improve by April or May, the revenue projections will again have to be revised.

Various state fiscal analysts blame Michigan's continuing problem on the federal government's tight money policy, high budget deficits which are keeping interest rates high and a tax structure that encourages savings rather than spending. Both act to discourage automobile purchases which are so important to Michigan.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Two schools of thought come up during the class at the country store Saturday night. Clem Webster was of a mind nothing is more certain than change, and he got some backers. Ed Doolittle allowed the more things change the more they stay the same, and he swung some of the fellers with him.

Clem had saw where pay fer aluminum cans has dropped to where they don't bring enough to pay fer the gas to haul em to a recycle center. The companies say folks ain't using as much of what they make, so there's no need to recycle the aluminum and glut the market. Clem told the fellers this goes with the report where Jaycees collected a boxcar of scrap paper in a fund raising project recent. They sent it to a mill to be recycled, Clem reported, and what they got paid was $17 short of the freight bill. What happens when times git tight, Clem wanted to know, to make it cost more to do everything cheaper. We've been told, Clem went on, that new aluminum can be made from old, and new paper from old fer less than mining and logging.

What's happened, Zeke Grubb declared, is that times ain't tight fer the companies, just the customers. They can keep the price going up and make as much by selling less, so they don't need to run their junk sideline. Zeke said public hospitals is caught in this same change. Private companies now got so many new ways of flogging costs and getting out of paying taxes til they can own and operate hospitals cheaper than the public. Back in the Great Depression, Zeke said doctors and churches couldn't take in enough to run their hospitals so they sold to cities and counties to git public backing and keep from closing. Now we got the same situation but the same rules don't work, was Zeke's words. Public hospitals that are losing money remind him of a little old lady standing on the corner. Zeke went on, she may not want to cross the street and sell out, but plenty of good scouts are trying to convince her she ought to.

Ed final got the floor to declare that we got the same leeches sucking Government dry we allus have had, some of em just go by different names. Fer instant, Ed had saw where Poland is crying cause we won't send them all the wheat they want. At the same time, word out of Washington is that the U.S. Treasury will have to pay $2 billion to U.S. banks that Poland has borrowed with the backing of the U.S. Commodity Credit Corp. Poland used the money it won't pay back to buy U.S. farm products. While we're paying Poland's debt to us, Ed said, we're running our Federal Government $91.5 billion in the red next year.

Farthermore, Ed went on, the U.S. Education Department has put out contracts to private outfits that will try to collect $111.7 million in defaulted college loans to 66,000 students. The Government will pay 38 to 40 cent fer ever dollar paid back, and it hopes to git 10 percent of what's owed. It ain't no wonder, Ed said, that West Germany's "reverse peace corps" to the U.S. is growing fast.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

ABWA Members Will Hear Grand Rapids Banker

The Chelsea Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association's next monthly meeting will be held Tuesday, March 23 at the Wolverine bar, beginning at 7 p.m.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Charles Jennings, vice-president of Old Kent Bank and Trust of Grand Rapids. His presentation is entitled, "Affirmative Action: Is It Working for You?"

ABWA is an organization that is devoted to the advancement of women in business through educational seminars, development of individual skills and leadership abilities. It is not a sorority or a club, but it does provide enjoyable opportunities for members and other special benefits for the working woman.

The Chelsea Chapter's goal is to provide scholarships for women as ABWA believes that education is the key to help women help themselves. Scholarships awarded throughout the country have amounted to more than $1 million annually and the Chelsea Chapter is no exception. Throughout the year, goals are planned, developed and completed in order to provide local recipients with scholarships and, since its beginning, the local chapter has awarded several thousand dollars in scholarships.

Special events and festivities offer opportunities for members to exercise their creativity and the meetings provide settings in which many members gain poise and self-expression and develop lasting business and personal friendships.

VFW Auxiliary Hears Report on District Meeting

The regular monthly business meeting of the VFW Auxiliary was held Monday, March 8 with eight members attending.

Reports were given on the Sixth District meeting held in Fowlerville on Feb. 21. Attending from the local group were Fran Zatorski, Eulahlee Packard, Lucy Platt, Gertrude O'Dell and Marlene Johnson.

The group decided to sponsor two children to attend Camp Trotter during the up-coming summer sessions. The time and children to attend will be decided at a later date.

A total of $100 was voted to be donated to the CATS bus for transportation use for the elderly and disabled in the community. Also, funds were allocated in order to sponsor a Little League baseball team at the Bertha Robinson school, East Jackson. $10 was submitted to help decorate the department offices in Lansing.

Plans were formulated to hold a bake sale on April 10 and a rummage sale was scheduled to be held on March 26 and 27. Both events will be held in the VFW Hall.

Plans were completed for the Ann Arbor VA Hospital party being co-sponsored by the Post and scheduled for March 24.

It was explained that the newsletter chairman is in need of assistance from anyone able to work on this each month. Interested parties are asked to contact Carl Heldt who also needs help with the weekly games program.

The next regular business meeting will be held Tuesday, April 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the VFW Hall. The election of officers and Sixth District delegates will take place at that time.

Black Sheep Theatre Opens Season With Shaw's 'Pygmalion'

The Black Sheep Theatre of Manchester will open its 1982 theatre season with a production of George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" on Friday, March 19. The play will run three consecutive week-ends with performances Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:15 p.m. and a Sunday matinee at 4 p.m.

"Pygmalion," one of Shaw's best known works, takes its title from the Greek legend of a sculptor who falls so much in love with a beautiful statue he has created, that the gods take pity and bring the marble image to life. In this adaptation, the artist is Professor Henry Higgins, a phonetics expert, and his work of art is the transformation of a Cockney flower girl, Eliza Doolittle, into a flawlessly spoken Victorian lady. Complications ensue, since Eliza was flesh and blood to begin with and eventually resents her status as an experiment. The play follows very closely the action of its most recent adaptation the musical, "My Fair Lady."

Reservations may be made at the box office, noon to 6 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday, by phoning (313) 428-9280. Group rates are available.

In the fourth quarter of 1981, 32.9 million married-couple families with wage and salary workers earned a median weekly salary of $486. For the 19.0 million such families with two or more workers, median weekly earnings were $601, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Woman's Club Enjoys Program On Nature Center

The Woman's Club of Chelsea held its March 9 meeting at McKune Memorial Library. The program for the evening was on the Waterloo Interpretive Center and it was ably presented by Carol Strahler, a co-director. Along with Emilie Polens, she is bringing to the Chelsea-Ann Arbor area a wide and interesting offering of nature and history.

The slides presented showed the center and the surrounding natural setting and gave the members a clear picture of the many workshops, festivals and trips through the woods provided by the center throughout the year.

The Waterloo Interpretive Center is a non-profit organization founded by Emilie Polens and Carol Strahler. Membership is open to anyone and donations are welcomed. Anyone interested should contact Carol or Emilie at 475-9444.

The next meeting of the Woman's Club of Chelsea will be Tuesday, March 23 at the McKune Memorial Library beginning at 8 p.m. The program will be the annual birthday party.

Health Education Programs Starting at Senior Citizen Center

Beginning on Monday, March 22, Chelsea Community Hospital will present a monthly health education program at the Senior Citizens Center.

At each meeting, a new topic will be discussed, covering a different health concern. This first meeting will begin at 10:30 a.m. and all are invited to take part in a "Health Check Test," presented by the hospital pharmacy and providing a slide presentation and quiz to all attending.

Every participant will receive a personal pocket-sized medication record booklet and this program proposes practical solutions in order to keep track of all prescription and non-prescription medication.

Sara Ullman on Dean's Honor List At U. of Illinois

Deans' List for nine colleges and three other academic units in the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign for the 1981 fall semester were announced recently by Acting Director Robert E. Underwood of University Honors Programs.

Among the 5,294 students honored was Sara E. Ullman of 20931 Island Lake Rd., Chelsea.

Volunteers Honored At Methodist Home

Volunteers at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home were honored at a luncheon on Monday, Feb. 22, in the presence of church and civic organization leaders assembled for a Volunteer Recruitment Program.

Following the lunch, each volunteer described the work she does at the home and was then presented with a carnation by Catherine Durkin, administrator. Connie Amick, resident advisor, and Bill Champion, activities director, explained the many volunteer needs for the home and extended an invitation to local church and civic organizations interested in involving themselves through volunteering at the home.

Former Chelseaite Has Water Color in New York Exhibit

Water color artist Alice McCallum of Arkansas, daughter of Lawrence and Ruth Wenk of 245 Jefferson St., has had one of her paintings, entitled "Chiles Rojo," accepted for exhibition in the American Water Color Association Show in New York.

The Association is 116 years old and is known for the difficulty of being accepted for exhibition. Last year, just 123 paintings were accepted of more than 3,000 entries submitted.

Mrs. McCallum's painting will be on display in the exhibit from April 1 until May 2 at the National Academy of Design in New York and it, along with others exhibited, will be judged by a panel of the society's members.

The first federal 8-hour day was passed by Congress in 1868, it applied to laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by or on behalf of the United States government, according to the U.S. Department of Labor publication, "Important Events in American Labor History."

TOYS FOR TODDLERS and other youngsters confined to Chelsea Community Hospital are made each Wednesday by volunteers who attempt to cheer the children during their recuperation. Preparing the hand-made stuffed toys for emergency and surgery patients are, from left, Vera Briston, Ella Aldrich, Julia Garland, Wilma Picklesimer and Agnes Faist.

Hospital Volunteers Assist Patients, Staff in Many Ways

Volunteers and volunteer programs are only as good as the organization from within which they provide their services. Naturally, the Chelsea Community Hospital volunteers, made up of 152 women and eight men, successfully provide countless activities and services to patients and staff there.

Under the direction of Jan Tupper, Chelsea's volunteers range in age from college student to retiree, and range in residence from Ann Arbor to Manchester to Stockbridge. Of course, the majority of volunteers are from the Chelsea-Dexter area.

At the time of the hospital's construction, two bodies of volunteers were formed. This year, the two groups—the auxiliary and the volunteers—merged to become the Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary, a group dedicated to providing their services to patients and administration alike.

President of the executive council is Carole van Reesema while Madonna Bury serves as president-elect. Marge German holds a two-year position as secretary and Vera Briston (who was recently honored for her 2,000 hours of volunteer work at CCH), holds the one-year post of treasurer.

In addition to the Auxiliary Executive Council, the Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary is also governed by a Board of Managers, each manager organizing and responsible for a specific area of the entire volunteer organization.

June Flanagan is in charge of hospital service while Shirley Sweet handles community service. Jean Mann is responsible for scholarships and Gale Johnson is the chairman of the ways and means committee which includes all of the auxiliary's money-making endeavors.

Taking over the area of public relations is Sallie Springer with the dedicated help of others and Ruby Strieter is the head of the information desk. Chairing patient and teen service is over-all volunteer director Jan Tupper while the Arbor Nook gift shop is chaired by Helen McDonald. The nominating committee is organized by Alice Thornton.

Chelsea's volunteers are seen throughout the hospital, from the recreational and occupational therapy departments to the information desk and gift shop. They pick-up patient menus each morning, deliver department head and patient mail and flowers and provide other patient services.

Some of the volunteers meet each Wednesday to make toys for youngsters confined to the hospital. Others work on the Chelsea Hospital Quilt, along with hospital visitors and patients. Still others are seen escorting patients to therapy, chaperoning at outings including weekly bowling and swimming. More yet are given an over-all orientation in order provide thorough tours to Chelsea area students and others throughout the course of the year. An in-house newsletter, "Stethoscope," is also prepared by the volunteers.

All fund-raisers are sponsored and staffed by the volunteers. These events include bazaars, fashion shows, couples' and ladies marathon bridge and more. During the course of the year, a cookbook, "Food, Glorious Food," made up of recipes from volunteers, staff and others, was compiled and, this past winter, a house tour was sponsored by the auxiliary.

Monies raised through these endeavors are used for the overall betterment of Chelsea Community Hospital. In the past, funds returned to the hospital have been used for the purchase of equipment, plants, a piano, a series of three Dale Fisher photographs per patient room and so on.

According to Jan Tupper, who began her volunteering after being a patient herself, at the time a person comes to her to discuss the possibility of volunteering, she discusses their areas of interest and reasons for volunteering. If at all possible, volunteers are placed in the area that interests them most; if not, they are placed where they are needed and, at the time of the first available opening, are transferred to their original volunteer choice.

Recruitment of volunteers poses no problem at Chelsea Community Hospital, no serious recruiting process is necessary. Instead, interested parties venture to CCH on the basis of the reputation of the hospital volunteer program.

Chelsea's volunteer auxiliary is a respected group, providing countless services to patients and donating a total of 12,000 hours of their time to both the hospital and patients last year alone. Since the hospital was constructed and the volunteer services organized, seven original volunteers remain active with the present auxiliary.

In return for their services, volunteers are recognized at special ceremonies, where they are given a pin featuring the CCH logo and one aquamarine for 250 hours of service, two for 500 hours, three for 1,000 hours of service and a single diamond for 2,000 hours of volunteer service at Chelsea Community Hospital.

ARBOR NOOK, the Chelsea Community Hospital gift shop is staffed by volunteers and all proceeds are returned to the hospital for any number of purchases, including additional merchandise, plants and the like. Above, volunteers Hazel Dvorak, left and Helen Ringe complete a sale by wrapping a carefully selected gift and ringing the price up on the cash register.

VERA BRISTON AND AGNES FAIST deliver toys made each Wednesday by Chelsea Community Hospital volunteers to young emergency and surgery patients confined to the hospital. Receiving a hand-made stuffed rabbit is Steve from Marquette.

PREPARING TO GO HOME, Lillian Foor has her hair done by operator Cathy McDaniels. Chelsea Community Hospital volunteers provide for a one day per week beauty shop at the hospital, employing a part-time paid beauty operator.

RALPH FAIRCHILD is one of many volunteers at Chelsea Community Hospital, though one of very few men who volunteer their services. Providing information to anyone who asks, Ralph answers the telephone and staffs the information desk.

Pioneer Craft Fair Slated in Dexter

Basket handles, pencil water-colors, knitted lace, Hawaiian applique, wooden toys, knitting, trapunto, stained glass, wheat weaving, maple sugar candy, and crocheting are all widely diversified crafts, yet they all have two things in common. All these crafts are created by Chelsea residents and all will be demonstrated at the ninth annual Pioneer Craft Fair which will be held Saturday, March 20, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Dexter High School gym. Admission is: adults, $1; grades 9-12, 50 cents; all other children admitted free.

This is a day eagerly looked forward to by many of the people from our area and also from many other districts. People come from all over the state to attend this affair. It is a chance to meet and share hints and tid-bits with people who know and love their crafts. While many of the craftspersons will have items on hand that you may purchase, the emphasis will be on the demonstration rather than selling.

When the wives of missionaries arrived in the Sandwich Islands (now called Hawaii) in 1820 they brought with them the art of quilting. The Hawaiian women were intrigued with the many beautiful quilt designs and also the dresses of the missionary wives. The Hawaiian women wished to combine the quilt designs and the dresses and make costumes for themselves; however, they thought it foolish to cut up scarce cloth and then sew it back together. With this in mind, they began snipping folded scraps much as children snip paper into snowflakes.

Each woman developed her own particular pattern and woe unto any woman caught stealing that pattern. Sometimes a woman would see a pattern she especially liked and would cut a copy, changing it just enough to be able to call it her own. This style of design has become a trademark of the designers in the Islands.

Cheryl Ford became interested in this ancient art and will be sharing it with the public next Saturday. Cheryl makes quilts, jackets, and other useful items using this craft. She purchases patterns from the Islands and them incorporates them into her garments.

The luncheon served by the Dexter Heritage Guild will be a good spot to stop for a bite to eat and perhaps a chance to talk to one of the craftspersons who will be taking a break. Brockwurst, baked beans, home-baked cakes and pies are just a few of the items that will be on the menu. Freshly baked sugar cookies will be ready for purchase. The bake table will again be loaded with home-baked items.

The Cobblestone Dancers will perform at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Percy "Mr. Bones" Danforth will be performing throughout the day. A harpist from the Jackson area will provide background music.

Be sure to stop at booth 55 and view the project the Dexter Heritage Guild has been working on so diligently these past two months.

Three door prizes will be given away to some lucky persons with tickets available the day of the fair. Ben Bower has donated a charming picture of an old barn. Mary Rush has donated one of the delightful cornhusk dolls she has signed and copyrighted. A teal duck, carved by John Hrzicak is another of the door prizes.

Though it has an area of more than one million square miles, less than 100 square miles of the Antarctic continent is free from a permanent blanket of ice.

ST. JOE'S RADIO AUCTION: A four-hour ride for parent and child in an on-duty patrol car from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department is one of the items that bidders may purchase through the St. Joe's Radio Auction, March 27-28 on WAAM Radio.

St. Joe's Radio Auction Offers Wide Variety of Items

What do a huge stuffed lion, a week's stay in a condominium in London and a flight in the Washtenaw County Sheriff's helicopter have in common? They're among hundreds of gifts donated by area merchants and may others to this month's St. Joe's Radio Auction on WAAM (AM 1600).

Now in its fifth year, the auction will be broadcast Saturday, March 27, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 10 p.m. and Sunday, March 28, from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., from the Bechtel Power Corp. building at the corner of Eisenhower and State, Ann Arbor.

According to auctioneer Dennis Pearsall, proceeds will help fund a "Mobile Health Promotion Unit."

"This specially equipped vehicle will be staffed by health professionals from the Catherine McAuley Health Center, which includes both St. Joe's and Mercywood Hospital," Pearsall explained. "It will offer a variety of free diagnostic and educational services throughout the local area. Examples of likely services are hypertension and hearing screening; a child seat educational program and a general health guidance and referral program."

Pearsall said a new method of bidding has been added to the auction format this year.

"We're going to announce some of the more unusual 'high ticket' items well before the auction and encourage mail-in bids," he explained. "This approach gives you a chance to bid even if you can't listen to the radio on auction week-end."

He said information about mail-in bidding and additional auction activities may be obtained by calling 572-4040 during business hours.

A brief glimpse at the auction menu reveals the following unusual donations: an official NFL football bearing the autographs of the Superbowl champs, San Francisco 49ers. A week's stay at a London condominium, air fare included. Also Florida and Virgin Island condo vacations.

Rides in gliders, aerobatic planes, and patrol cars of the Ann Arbor Police, Washtenaw County Sheriff and Livingston County Sheriff.

A "like new" four-door 1976 black Lincoln Continental. Lunch for two with U. S. Representative Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, in Washington, D. C.

A roast pheasant dinner for 12 catered in your home by professional chef Jules Van Dyck-Dobos.

A painting or drawing of your home by local artist Milt Kemnitz.

A visit for two to the Detroit Lions' training camp, including lunch with the team and mementos.

Four tickets each to the Michigan football Wolverines games against Michigan State, Ohio State and Notre Dame.

An official NCAA football autographed by the 1981 Bluebonnet Bowl victors.

Major League baseballs autographed by Detroit Tigers Charlie Gehringer, Al Kaline, Ernie Harwell, Kirk Gibson and Rich Leach.

DR. THOMAS P. NIELSON

Former Missionary To Taiwan Will Speak At Rebekah Hall

After extensive study of the writings of Elisabeth Kubler-Ross, books by Dr. Raymond A. Moody, Jr., M.D., Life After Life and Reflections on Life After Life, and the Bible, Dr. Thomas P. Nielson has developed a lecture which answers the question, "After death what?" This lecture will be presented at Rebekah Hall, located at 1194 M-52 on Sunday, March 21, beginning at 7:30 p.m. It is free to the public.

Dr. Nielson has had a distinguished career as an educator and humanitarian. He received his bachelor of arts degree at Brigham Young University, studying history and Asian studies, after serving as a missionary in the Republic of China (Taiwan). He earned his PhD at Washington University and was acting director of Asian Studies at Arizona State University until he was called to preside over a mission in the Republic of China.

Since 1977, the Nielson family has lived in Ann Arbor. He is the Director of Religious Education Programs in southeastern Michigan for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

BREAKING TWO SCHOOL RECORDS at the Class B state swim meet last Friday and Saturday, Dave Nicola swam the 50 free at :22.6 and the 100 free at :50.45. His 100 freestyle time was the lead-off leg of the 400 free relay that finished sixth while his 50 free effort qualified him at seventh place where he ended his swim placing eleventh in the finals.

Bulldog Cagers Lose To Lumen Christi in District Tournament

In their first game of the Class B district basketball tournament at Columbia Central, Chelsea's Bulldogs were knocked from their chances of a district championship, losing to Jackson Lumen Christi, 76-43.

According to Coach Robin Raymond, Lumen Christi dominated every phase of the game, performing extremely well and coming to the contest ready to play.

Though Chelsea was ready to play, there was no way that the Bulldogs would be able to win after being devastated in the first quarter, 21-3. At the half, Chelsea was down by 25 points, 11-35.

Statistically, Chelsea's best facet of the game was a percentage of 63 from the free throw line as the Bulldogs hit 17 of 27. From the floor, however, just 13 of 48 shots or 27 percent, was accomplished.

Lumen Christi, on the other hand, hit 33 of 68 for 49 percent from the floor.

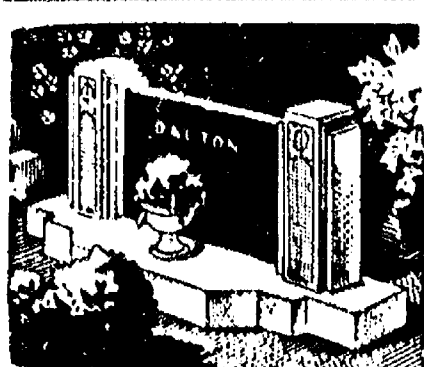

The Jackson team also out-rebounded Chelsea, 39-23, committed just nine turnovers to Chelsea's 19, and made 15 assists to Chelsea's six.

Though it was a disappointing game, Raymond explained that everyone loses their last game of the season except for four of 700 teams in the state. Still, Chelsea's seniors, John Welton, Mike Bareis, Toby Boyd and Darren Pierson were disappointed in the loss.

According to Raymond, the play of the aforementioned four players was instrumental in the over-all development of the team this season and pointed to the fact that it will be difficult to replace them next year.

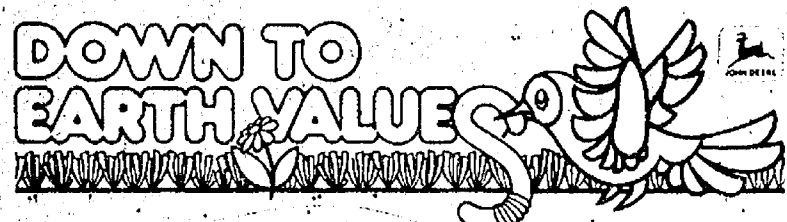

Pacing Chelsea was David Wojcicki with 15 points while Carl Pate added eight and pulled down seven rebounds. David Mann and Marty Steinhauer had five points each while David Kiel, Mike Bareis, Toby Boyd, Matt Villenure and Frank Waller (from the JV team) chipped in with two points apiece.

SEC TOURNEY ROUND-UP:

Dexter Defeated in District Semi-Finals By U-D High

Milan 42, New Boston Huron 28

In their Class B district tournament opener Monday night, Milan and New Boston Huron took to the courts, finding the SEC Big Reds in the winning column with a final score of 42-28, to clinch the first game of the competition.

Considered to be one of the worst games of the year, Milan could muster just 29 percent from the floor until the third quarter.

In a rather flat game, Milan was led by Scotty Harrison and Ron Dingman with 10 points apiece while Brad Collar tossed in nine points.

Tecumseh 63, Columbia Central 50

In first-round district competition Monday, Tecumseh overcame a second quarter deficit and defeated host team Brooklyn Columbia Central, 63-50.

Pacing the SEC winners, who improved their record to 8-13, was outside shooter Jeff Corley who sunk a season-high 24 points, 10 of which came in the second quarter. Greg Clark had 11 points for the Indians.

Lumen Christi 76, Chelsea 43

A disappointing loss following eight wins in their final 11 outings of the season, the Chelsea Bulldogs went into district competition Tuesday and left hastily after suffering a 43-76 loss at the hands of Jackson Lumen Christi.

The game was virtually over at the end of the first quarter as Chelsea's opposition took a 21-3 lead and eventually won easily.

Pacing the losers was David Wojcicki who scored a team-high 11 points.

Dexter 56, Royal Oak Shrine 52

In a solid upset of a fine Royal Oak team, the Dexter Dreadnaughts were able to clinch a district opener and move further into district competition Tuesday, winning 56-52.

Randy Ralford managed two free throws with just seconds remaining in order to secure the Dreadnaught win.

Leading Dexter to its win were Rob Ianni, Kurt Brushaber and Ralph Finlay with 19, 12 and 11 points, respectively.

The win upped Dexter's slate to 14-7 and sent them to the semi-finals against University of Detroit High Wednesday.

U-D High 67, Dexter 59

Dexter's finest basketball season for a number of years ended Wednesday night in the Class B district semi-finals. The Dreadnaughts were soundly defeated by a tough University of Detroit High team, 67-59.

Though Dexter led by two, 29-27, at the end of the first half, no fouls were called against U-D in the second half, leading the Detroit team to a semi-final victory.

Pacing Dexter was senior Rob Ianni with 26 points and five assists. Kurt Brushaber added 14 points for the losers.

Parkside 65, Tecumseh 52

In semi-final district basketball action Wednesday night, Tecumseh lost an important game, mainly at the hands of Parkside's forward Ossie White, who tossed in 23 points to lead his team to the finals.

Though the game was even in the first quarter, Tecumseh was down by eight at the end of the half and the game was downhill from there.

Pacing the SEC team were Scott McDonald and Mark McLoughlin with 17 points each. The Indians finished their season with a record of 8-14.

X-rays of the Mona Lisa show that there are three completely different versions of the subject, all painted by Leonardo da Vinci, beneath the final portrait.

Congratulations, Scott on some Super Bowling

Come to Chrysler-Plymouth for

- CLEAN REBATES 100% FROM CHRYSLER. Chrysler rebates require no dealer contribution that could be added to the price you pay, unlike all the GM rebates, and some of Ford's. A 100% factory rebate is why your Chrysler-Plymouth dealer can give you the best deal.
- NEW HIGHER REBATES. Chrysler just boosted rebates on 22 models. The Reliant† and LeBaron rebates are now $600 and $750. That's an increase of $300 to $450. There's now a rebate on the luxurious New Yorker, where there wasn't one before. You can get $300 to $2000* cash, on most new '81 and '82 models.
- FREE SCHEDULED MAINTENANCE FOR 2 YEARS. On all rebated front-wheel-drive models, you pay nothing for scheduled maintenance for 2 years or 24,000 miles (whichever comes first). You also get a cost-free 24 month/24,000 mile power train warranty.
- ECONOMY AND FRONT-WHEEL-DRIVE LEADERSHIP. Chrysler has the highest Corporate Average Fuel Economy of the Big 3. So the Chrysler or Plymouth you pick can deliver the kind of mileage to help drive down your cost of driving. And, you can depend on Chrysler quality, from some of the most technologically-advanced assembly plants in the world, to give you your moneysworth.

It's Maple Syrup Time Again At Waterloo Nature Center

Long dark winter days filled with snow are drawing to a close, and it is time for the "moon of the loose bark."

After months of frigid weather, the Chippewa children looked forward to the frosty mornings and bright sunshine days that signaled the move to the sugar camp. Sheesheegunnawis is the Ojibway word meaning "sap flows fast." For the next month or two there would be much work expended in producing a year's supply of sugar.

Sugar was used as the white man uses salt, for flavoring and as a preservative. Often, an Indian family could consume 1,000 pounds of sugar in the course of a year. Since iron pots were not available, the Indians would boil the sap by placing heated rocks in hollowed out logs. This process was repeated until the sap turned into sugar. It is no wonder that the iron pot was a highly valued trade item once it was introduced by the white man.

The use of iron pots simplified the evaporation process, and through the years, the pioneers improved upon the collection methods taught to them by the native Americans. Instead of gashing a tree with an ax, the sap was tapped by driving spiles into the tree. Today's "sugar bush," or woods made of maple trees, is a far cry from the aesthetically pleasing wooden buckets and horsedrawn sleds and wagons of the past. Plastic hoses connects the tree directly to the evaporation site. While this method has considerably decreased the amount of manual labor associated with collecting sap, the process of producing syrup is still costly. It takes approximately 40 gallons of sap to make one gallon of syrup. Today, pure maple syrup sells for $25 per gallon and few people can afford the luxury of a stack of pancakes dripping with liquid gold.

Area residents are invited to celebrate the advent of spring by visiting Waterloo Nature Center on Saturday and Sunday, March 20 and 21, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. for the second annual Maple Sugar Festival. Because of last year's overwhelming response, the event is being offered over the two-day period this season.

Festival activities will include a discussion on the history of maple sugaring, including Native American and pioneer methods, demonstrations on evaporation and tapping techniques; and a film entitled "Maple Sugar Farmer." Native American sugaring equipment on loan from the University of Michigan

GATHERING SAP: Emilie Polens pours maple sap from a collection container. Approximately 24 gallons of sap are necessary to produce one gallon of maple syrup. Waterloo Nature Center will present its second annual Maple Sugar Festival this week-end.

Museum of Anthropology, and pioneer equipment loaned from the Waterloo Farm Museum will be on display.

Visitors attending the festival will be able to taste a sample of the product and both maple sugar candy and maple syrup will be sold there.

Waterloo Nature Center may be reached by taking I-94 to exit 157. Travel north on Pierce Rd. until reaching Bush Rd. Turn left on Bush Rd. and one-half mile down the road is the entrance sign. Admission is $1 for the public and is free to members of the Waterloo Natural History Association.

For additional information, contact the Nature Center at 475-8069.

Agriculture Day To Be Celebrated

People in all 50 states will hear about the importance of our food and fiber system on Thursday, March 18, according to Mrs. R.O. Burgett, vice-president, Michigan Cattlewomen.

"Agriculture Day is a nationwide program of education and celebration of agriculture's contribution to American life," said Mrs. Burgett. "We expect millions of Americans in cities, suburbs and towns all across the country to participate."

This year, the program is being celebrated with a week-long schedule of activities beginning on Agriculture Day, carrying over the week-end, to bring in Saturday shoppers and Sunday church services, and concluding on the following Wednesday.

The theme of the observance is "Agriculture: It's Your Heartbeat, America!" The accompanying symbol is a print-out of an electrocardiogram and farm image shown inside a U.S. map.

"This is an occasion to remind other Americans of the strength of agriculture's heartbeat and of its needs," commented Mrs. Burgett. She pointed to the following facts dramatizing agriculture's leadership role in the U.S. economy:

—Our nation's number-one industry, with assets of $1.1 trillion, equal to 88 percent of the capital assets of all manufacturing corporations in the United States.

—Our nation's number-one employer, with more than 23 million people employed in the food and fiber system.

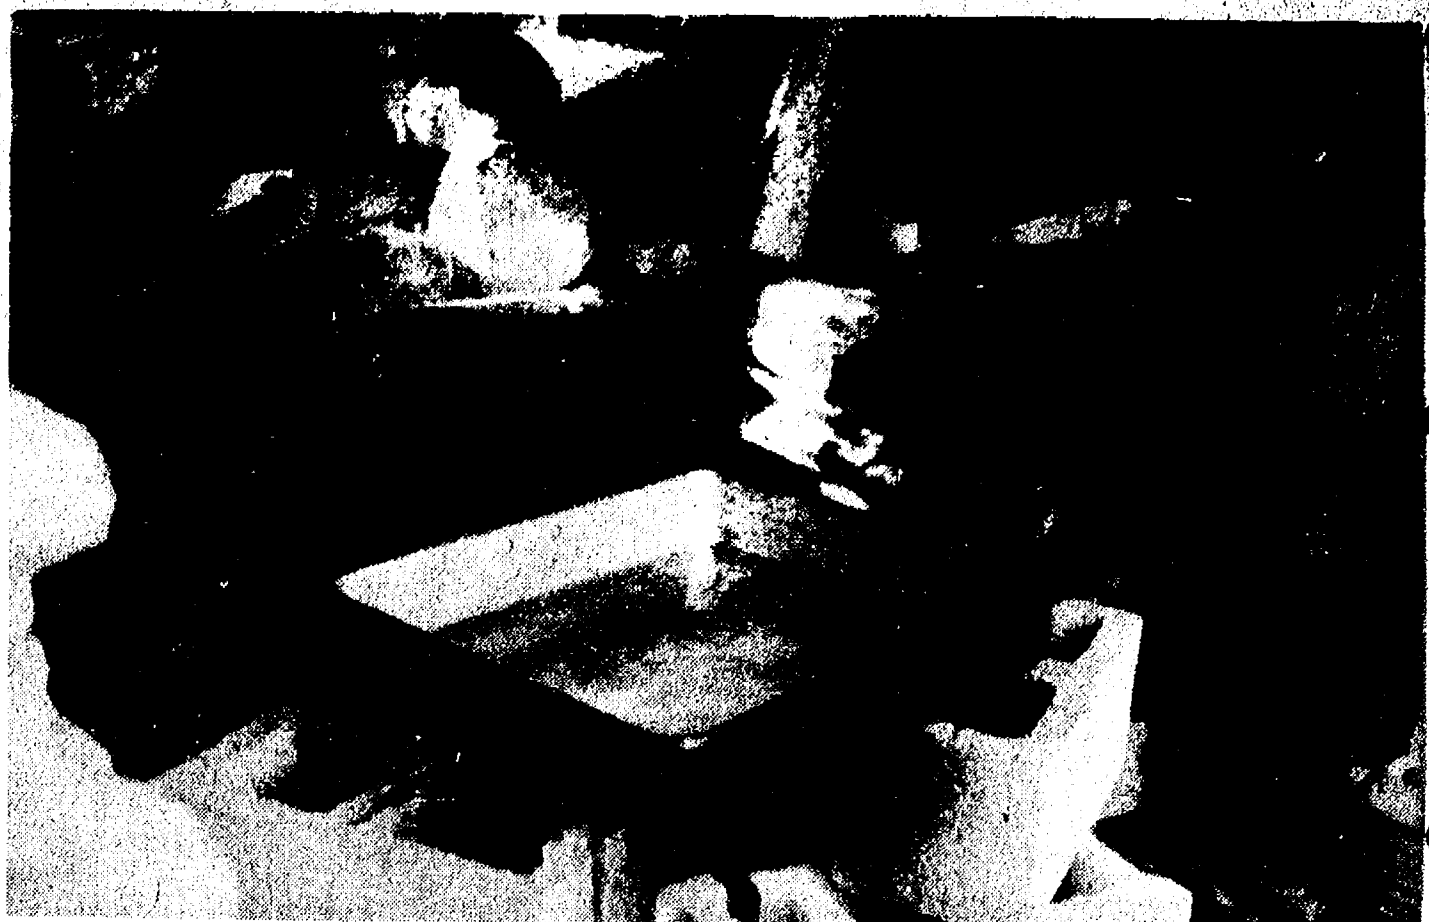

—Our nation's number-one inflation-fighter, with each farmer producing enough food and fiber for 78 persons.

—Our nation's number-one exporter—about $44 million in 1981—helping to pay for oil, electronics, automobiles, vital raw materials and other items we import.

"Every citizen has a personal stake in keeping agriculture's heartbeat strong," Mrs. Burgett continued.

Mrs. Burgett reported that a wide range of projects and events are planned nation-wide. These include securing proclamations from governors and mayors; setting up exhibits and small fairs at shopping centers; appearing on television and radio talk shows; serving as hosts of farm, ranch and agribusiness tours; speaking to school children and greeting shoppers with booths at supermarkets.

Locally, the Jackson County Farm Bureau will sponsor the 1982 Rural-Urban Days at Puka Plaza in Jackson, March 12 and 13, with this year's theme being "The Land and You." There will be exhibitors from all segments of agriculture, as well as urban groups. Once again the Michigan Cattlewomen will have a booth at the show where they will pass out free literature and recipes, samples of beef sausage, as well as sponsor a beef-cutting demonstration and beef cooking demonstration. Chelsea Milling Co. will also participate in this event.

SAP COLLECTED from maple trees at the Waterloo Nature Center is placed in an evaporation pan where it is then boiled outside until it becomes maple syrup. Approximately 24 gallons of sap are needed to make one gallon of syrup.

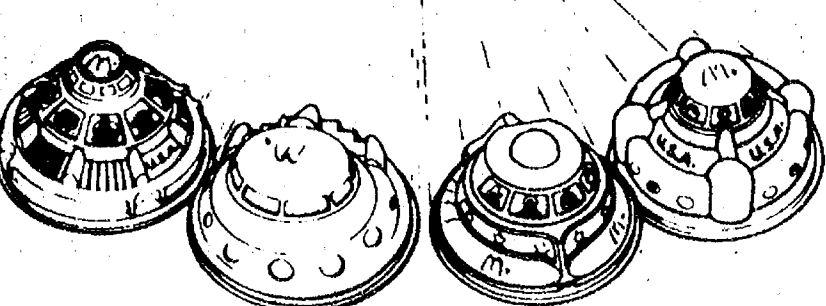

MAPLE-ON-SNOW: To prepare a taffy-like candy, Carol and Erik Strahler have heated maple syrup to its desired temperature and now pour it over snow near the Waterloo Nature Center as a part of the preparations for the Maple Sugar Festival to be held at the Center next week-end.

A TRIP TO THE BARBER SHOP: Waiting their turn for the traditional shaved head routine last week were these Chelsea swimmers, enroute to the Grand Rapids Class B state swimming championships. Among the quartet is, left to right, Dave Nicola, Sean Oxner, John Hoffman and John Drew. The annual crew cut was a success as Chelsea's swimmers placed fourth over-all in the state.

Famed Baritone Will Appear in Lenten Concert

The First United Methodist church of Ann Arbor, 120 S. State St., will present a special Lenten concert Sunday, March 21, beginning at 7 p.m. and featuring baritone David Baker of Cincinnati.

This concert should be appealing to all ages and the public is invited to attend and hear this baritone who has studied in Austria and has sung with philharmonic orchestras.

Zion Lutheran Will Dedicate New Handbells

Zion Lutheran church, Ann Arbor, will dedicate the new trompette-en-chamade for its pipe organ and a new set of Whitechapel handbells on Sunday, March 21 at 4 p.m.

An organ recital and a choral evensong will include compositions by William Smith, Healey Willan, John Stanley, Jose Lidon, J. S. Bach, Pkoni, Britten, Proulx, Charpentier and works by Zion members Carol and Linda Muehlhig and James Nissen. Organists will be Mary Ida Yost, Carol Muehlhig, James Nissen and Donald Williams. The sanctuary choir will sing the service which will be accompanied by organ and the new set of 59 bells.

The trompette-en-chamade was a gift from a life-long member, Edith Staebler Kempf, and the hand bells were memorial gifts from many friends and members of Zion.

Trompette-en-chamade, "trumpet in calling," refers to a symbolic call within the worship service for the worshipper to overcome evil and is the name for the new set of horizontal pipes recently added to Zion's organ while the Whitechapel handbells are being added to Zion's nearly completed set of 59 bells in a 61 bell set.

The dedication concert and service is open to the public.

In Memoriam 17

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Raymond Franklin.

Do not stand at my grave and weep:
I am not there; I do not sleep.

I am a thousand winds that blow.
I am the sunlight on ripened grain.

I am the gentle autumn rain.
When you awaken in the morning's hush,
I am the swift uplifting rush
Of quiet birds in circled flight.

I am the soft stars that shine at night.
Do not stand at my grave and cry;

I am not there, I did not die.
Mother, Father and Sisters.

VILLAGE OF CHELSEA COUNTY OF WASHTENAW Resolution Approving Amendments To the Second Amended Articles of Incorporation of Michigan Public Power Agency

At a regular meeting of the Council of the Village of Chelsea, County of Washtenaw, held at 7:30 o'clock p.m. local time in the Village of Chelsea, pursuant to notice duly given.

PRESENT: Chriswell, Kanten, Keezer, Merkel, Popovich and Satterthwaite.

ABSENT: none.

The following preamble and resolution were offered by Chriswell:

WHEREAS, this body has heretofore adopted a resolution approving the Articles of Incorporation of the Michigan Public Power Agency (herein the "Agency"), the First Amended Articles of Incorporation of the Agency and the Second Amended Articles of Incorporation of the Agency, which resolutions provide for the participation of this Village in such Agency; and

WHEREAS, the City of Lansing, by and through the Lansing Board of Water and Light, has adopted a Resolution electing to become a member in the Agency; and

WHEREAS, it is necessary to amend the Second Amended Articles of Incorporation of the Agency (the "Articles") in order to provide for the membership of the City of Lansing in the Agency.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED as follows:

1. The Village of Chelsea hereby consents to the participation of the City of Lansing as a member of the Michigan Public Power Agency.

2. This Village hereby approves the following amendments to the Second Amended Articles of Incorporation of the Michigan Public Power Agency:

(a) The title of the Articles is hereby amended to read as follows: "Third Amended Articles of Incorporation of Michigan Public Power Agency."

(b) Section 2 under Article II of the Articles is hereby amended to add the reference to the City of Lansing and will read as follows:

Section 2. Electronic Arcade Games Ahead of Lab Instruments

Some electronic arcade games are well ahead of the computerized instruments used by some scientists, said a Michigan State University professor of chemistry.

The reason, he explains, is simple: there is much more money to be made in games and word processors than there is in instruments for lab research. Nonetheless, he said, computers and microprocessors are already revolutionizing laboratory procedures and saving many hours of human time.

Lab Workers May Audit U-M Lecture Courses

Lecture courses in Clinical Laboratory Diagnosis given by the undergraduate Medical Technology Program at the University of Michigan may be audited by anyone interested. These courses are excellent review courses for laboratory examinations. Courses are offered in Blood Banking, Clinical Chemistry, Hematology, Immunology, and Microbiology. Those interested must register with the University Undergraduate Admissions Office for special audit status and must also pay the audit fees.

The next series of lectures will begin on July 6, with all content areas being covered between July and December.

For course schedules and registration information, call Sandra Gluck, Program Director, Department of Pathology, 764-1502.

High Corn Yields Seminar Slated at Farmer's Week

Higher corn yields can become a reality for farmers who take advantage of new production techniques.

To learn about some of these techniques, farmers may attend a crop and soil sciences seminar to be held during Farmers' Week and Natural Resources Days, March 22-28, at Michigan State University.

During the 9:30 a.m. session March 24, MSU agronomists will discuss alternatives to conventional tillage, weed control, effects of disease and management practices.

Topics to be examined during the 1:15 p.m. session include handling and storing of high moisture corn and using high moisture corn in swine, dairy cattle and beef cattle feed.

For more information about Farmers' Week, pick up a schedule from your county Extension office.

Proof of Insurance Required With Mail License Application

This year when you purchase license plate tabs by mail from the Department of State, you must include a proof of insurance certificate with your prepared application and personal check.

This is a new law enacted by the Michigan legislature in 1981.

Your insurance company will furnish two copies of a certificate of insurance. One should be sent to the Department with your mail application for plates or tabs.

In addition to a driver's license and vehicle registration, you are now required by law to show proof of insurance on your vehicle if you are stopped by a law enforcement officer.

CATS Benefit Dinner Party Raises $1,700

On Monday, March 8, the CATS benefit dinner, held at Chelsea Community Hospital, proved to be a huge success, raising more than $1,700 in order to enable CATS to continue providing transportation to the elderly and handicapped in the Chelsea area.

A total of 116 tickets were sold and civic representatives included members of local clubs and organizations including Sylvan township, Chelsea Jaycees, Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home, Village of Chelsea, Lions and Lioness Clubs, Chelsea Kiwanis, United Way, Lima township, Chelsea Chamber of Commerce, and Chelsea Senior Citizens as well as interested citizens, concerned about the fate of the bus system.

Emceeding the Chelsea Community Hospital-catered dinner was Chelsea Kiwanis Club president John Morris while entertainment was provided by the Classic Rendition Quartet made up of Carol Flintoft, Wendy Winkelman, Diane Harmer and Jean Phaus as well as soloist Marcia Little accompanied by pianist June Warren.

The success of the CATS benefit indicated a strong community support for the local transportation system.

Head of Household Must List Dependents

Many taxpayers have been needlessly delaying their tax refunds by not listing the names of qualifying dependents of children when claiming head of household status, the Internal Revenue Service said.

To file as a head of household, a taxpayer must be unmarried and provide more than half the cost of keeping up a home that is the main or primary home of the taxpayer's dependent or child. A qualifying unmarried child must live with the taxpayer, the IRS said, but need not be the taxpayer's dependent.

Other qualifying relatives must be the taxpayer's dependents, and must actually live with the taxpayer. The taxpayer's dependent parents, however, may qualify even though they live elsewhere. The taxpayer must have paid more than half the cost of keeping up their home in order to qualify for head of household filing status.

To be considered unmarried, the IRS said a taxpayer must be single, legally separated, divorced, or widowed.

Without a child or qualifying dependent, the IRS stressed, unmarried taxpayers are not eligible to file as heads of household, and if they do not qualify as surviving widows or widowers, they must file under the single status.

Games Team Places in Tourney

The academic games team of Beach Middle School, "Chelsea Challengers," attended the Michigan League of Academic Games state tournament held Friday and Saturday, March 5 and 6 at Eastern Michigan University.

Twenty-two students from Chelsea, accompanied by sponsors Mrs. Mary Powers and Mrs. Betty Cox, competed in several academic games for two days against 70 other schools and more than 800 students from the southeastern area of Michigan.

All of the students performed well.

The team of Cathy Burkel, Loren Rosenberg, Randy Hafner, Donna Bruck and Julie Thompson won a third place trophy in their division in the English game "On Words" and the same team won a second place trophy in their division in the math game "Equations."

Panel Discussion Slated on School For Gifted, Talented Children

On Wednesday, March 24, at 7:30 p.m., the Ann Arbor Area Association for the Gifted Children will give a panel presentation entitled "Pre-school Perspective." This will be followed by a question and answer session.

Don Sprague, principal of the Lincoln Consolidated School District's Early Elementary Program of early admittance and acceleration, will speak on administrative concerns in public education. Toni Burton, 1st level teacher at Emerson, will discuss the role of the private school for young, bright children and Loree Stafford, director and teacher at North Lake Co-Op Nursery school, will address the subject of bright students in a general nursery school setting.

The meeting will be held in the ABC Room at the Washtenaw Intermediate School District, 1819 S. Wagner Rd., Ann Arbor.

Early Robin Sighted

Spring hasn't sprung or has it? According to Howard Miller of 405 Wilkinson St. if it's not here, it's just around the corner. Early Tuesday morning March 9, his wife's birthday, Miller looked outside his window to see a large male robin sitting in a tree covered with edible berries. The bird, apparently alone, returned to the roost the next day as well.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,
Last summer the Village of Chelsea was sprayed with insecticide to kill mosquitoes which were spreading a disease. The Health Department issued a warning that area residents remain indoors as much as possible. This disease, commonly called EEE, killed many horses in the Waterloo Recreation Area and other parts of southern Michigan. One boy near Portage, Michigan has been in a coma for a year and a half caused by EEE.

One method to reduce the number of mosquitoes would be installing birdhouses for purple martins. Each bird eats up to 2,000 mosquitoes per day. And an apartment size martin house holds a colony of 20 to 30 birds. This might not eliminate the need for insecticides, but it would help. Martin houses are not cheap, but they cost less than an electronic bug killer. Public libraries have books with plans for making birdhouses, including purple martin houses.

Once a colony of martins uses a birdhouse, they will come back every spring, to use the same house again. If the house and pole are taken down and moved out of sight in the winter, when the martins return in the spring they will fly around the exact location where their house had been the previous summer.

One last note to horse owners. Last summer, a veterinarian told me that in the last 20 years, not one horse has died from EEE after being properly vaccinated in the spring, before the mosquitoes are out.

Tom Northrup.

Douglas Spike To Give Concert At Sharon Church

Sharon United Methodist church will present its second annual organ concert March 21, at 3 p.m. featuring Douglas Spike playing the church's Austin Classical Pipe Organ. The Austin Organ was installed in the Sharon church in 1942 and today is a finely kept example of this romantic period organ with electro-pneumatic stops.

Douglas Spike, son of Lowell and Carol Spike of Grass Lake, is a 1964 graduate of Manchester High school. Doug is currently working as an agriculture teacher at the Bloomfield Hills School Farm. Doug has been church organist at the Jonesville Presbyterian church and currently substitutes in the Bloomfield Hills area.

The Sharon church invites you to attend the concert and the hymn singing just before the concert at the corner of M-52 and Pleasant Lake Rd. Mrs. Marion Voegeding, head organist for the church, will lead the hymns. Admission is free, parking is available north of the church, and a free-will offering will be taken to defray costs.

RAYMOND P. HOWE, DDS Orthodontist Returns from German Study

Raymond P. Howe, DDS, MS, and his wife, Alyce Riemenschneider, recently returned from Bonn W. Germany. Dr. Howe was one of a four-member team of American orthodontists visiting the German capital to exchange current ideas on orthodontic treatment.

The American team interviewed patients, studied the construction of European orthodontic appliances, and documented the treatment of many patients.

Commenting on his experience, Dr. Howe explained, "Full braces, which are routinely used in the United States, work well in straightening teeth, but do little to correct the jaw growth problems that we see in our patients. The European orthodontic techniques, on the other hand, may correct jaw growth problems, but are not as efficient in straightening teeth. The use of both methods in turn may provide superior results. Our experience was rewarding. Hopefully, the German orthodontists learned as much from us as we did from them."

Dr. Howe maintains an orthodontic practice in the Territorial Professional Building near Dexter, and lives with his wife and three children in Chelsea.

Student Group Studying With Computer Expert

Students beyond the computer game stage, with previous programming experience, have been meeting every other Saturday with John Sayer, in the high school computer room. Sayer, a local resident, is a computer professional with Ann Arbor Terminals, Inc., Jackson Rd.

These meetings offer opportunities for students to learn more about the intricacies of programming in a relaxed atmosphere under Sayer's guidance and direction. Using basic, in addition to more demanding languages, working the "bugs" out of their programs and sharing ideas as well as problems, are making these Saturday sessions very exciting for the students.

For further information about this ACATS activity, please call 475-1224.

Special Olympian Basketball Teams Play at High Point

Chelsea and Dexter High school Special Olympian basketball players went to High Point for a triple header last week. The boys varsity, junior varsity and the girls teams all played.

The varsity team was first, winning 36-21. High scorer was Brian Shinnault of Dexter with 20 points. John Wilson scored eight and Clarence Weiss of Chelsea also added eight points. Also playing well on the varsity team were Walt Lewis, Mike Goebel, Mark Turnblom and Paul Klapperich. The varsity team will be playing a nine-team tournament on March 19.

The girls team lost, 23-11. Playing for Chelsea were Dawn Stancato and Linda Alber. Dexter players were Sue Ulrich, Theresa Calcut and Doris Esch. Sue Ulrich scored 10 points while Theresa Calcut added one.

The JV team lost, 34-20. High scorer for Chelsea was Albert Bedard with 16, followed by Mike Foster with 14. Others who played from Chelsea and Dexter were Donald Ellery and Jeff Thurston.

March of Dimes Names Winners In Mothers March

2,000 volunteers answered the call to help with the annual Mothers March door-to-door campaign. Total funds raised so far are $41,000 and returns are still coming in.

The following people were drawn as lucky winners in the prize drawing: Linda Schaner, Chelsea; Lee Meneghini, Ann Arbor; Mrs. James Tasker, Dexter; Mrs. Frank Miner, Manchester; Mary Beth Gillies, Ann Arbor; and Margaret Hiss, Ann Arbor.

Mystery Home winners of a free large pizza are: Mrs. Gerald Kenney and Barbara Branch, Chelsea; Mrs. Jerry Sharrar, Mrs. Pat Knapp and Mrs. William Nixon of Dexter; Mrs. Nancy Stringer and Mrs. S. Monet of Ann Arbor; Betty Kelly and Marie Leiko of Whitmore Lake; Sandra Collins, Elase Snyder and Mrs. Francis Ludwig of Milan; Debbie Debruyne, Carol Melcher and Yvonne Friel of Saline; and Lisa Glas and Mrs. Michael Quashnie of Ypsilanti.

All prizes in the prize program are donated by area organizations.

Cub Scouts Hold Blue & Gold Banquet

On Sunday, Feb. 28, Chelsea Cub Scouts held their annual Blue and Gold Banquet, arranged to celebrate the birthday of Boy Scouting each year.

The dinner meeting was called to order by the cubmaster, Don Pambin. After a flag ceremony, held by the Webelos, the invocation was given by Al Feldman. Dinner was then served. Ham, rolls, dessert and beverages were provided by the Pack. Each family brought a dish to pass among their own den members.

After dinner, a few words were said by Tom Vaillencourt, assistant scout commissioner, and Al Zangara, a Cub father, on the goals and rewards of Boy Scouting.

A film, entitled "I'll Never Walk Alone" was then shown covering the topic about the Leader Dogs for the Blind school in Rochester. It showed how dogs are trained, how people are matched to the dogs and the training they must then go through together. Jim Versailles then answered questions and told personal anecdotes regarding the dogs he has had during the past 40 years.

Awards for Scholar and Athlete were earned during January and February by the Webelos under the direction of Al Feldman and John Collins. The following boys received both awards:

John Collins, Terry Draper, Brian Feldman, Tim Maurer, Doug Neal, Keegan Stitt and Mike Thompson.

Kevin Rail and Chris Walters received the Athlete award only.

After a thank you to the mothers in charge of the banquet, the evening was ended with all of the boys making a friendship circle.

MSU Open House Shows College Life

High school seniors and juniors will be able to get a first-hand look at college life during a campus-wide open house at Michigan State University April 12-17.

The Open House is designed to help those considering attending MSU and their parents get answers to their questions about the university. There will no charge for the event.

Information will be available about different fields of study, career opportunities, student life, residence halls, scholarships and other financial aids.

There will be opportunities to sit in on actual university classes, to meet with professors and to visit the colleges and academic units that make up MSU.

Faculty members, MSU students and advisers will be available to discuss their programs of study, the kinds of courses offered and the career opportunities resulting from particular fields of study.

Campus tours for visitors will be provided on a continuous basis during the Open House. Tours of residence halls and living units are also planned.

Information will also be available about honors programs, independent study options, opportunities for study abroad and field placement internships.

Booklet on Federal Benefits to Veterans Available Locally

The 1982 U.S. government's publication, "Federal Benefits for Veterans and Dependents," is now off the press and available to the public.

The 73-page booklet, prepared by the Veterans Administration, sells for $4. To order, persons should ask for the book by name, and the number: IS-1. The address is Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

The booklet contains a complete listing of all benefits available to veterans and their families or survivors. There are complete lists of all regional offices, medical centers, national cemeteries and vet centers throughout the nation.

Telephone numbers, including toll-free numbers for regional offices, are listed.

The booklet is issued annually and incorporates all of the changes enacted by Congress during the past year. It is one of the most popular of all booklets printed by the government.

A copy of the booklet is available at the Chelsea VFW Hall, 105 N. Main St.

Manchester Artist Exhibits in Dexter

Carol Duncan Poore graduated from Dexter High school in 1964 and began her art studies at the Center for Creative Studies in Detroit, took life drawing at the Ann Arbor Art Centre, received an associate degree in commercial art at Washtenaw Community College and completed her bachelor of fine arts degree at Siena Heights College in Adrian. Still, she claims that after many years of study, life has been her greatest learning experience.

"Everything else I do is for others. My painting is for me and, if it pleases others, that's fantastic," she explains.

In Poore's paintings, many natural elements have been brought together to reflect personal and individual concerns. The drama of natural elements is charged with meaning that may or may not be important to anyone but her.

Carol lives near Manchester with her husband Gary, a nature and portrait photographer, and their three children, Danaelle, Matthew and Jessica.

A sample of her paintings is being shown in the Dexter branch of Ann Arbor Bank and Trust and is part of a community awareness traveling show sponsored by the Manchester Art Guild.

Katherine Slater Will Receive Degree From Alma College

Katherine Slater, daughter of Mrs. Beverly Slater of 184 Cedar Lake, is one of three students from Washtenaw county who are among the 195 candidates for bachelor's degrees who will be eligible to participate in Alma College's 95th commencement exercises Saturday, April 17.

Slater, an English major, is a candidate for a bachelor of arts degree.

All-Conference Cagers Announced

After all Southeastern Conference basketball coaches cast their ballots for the 1981-82 All-League team, a total of four of the five players selected for the first team were given unanimous elections.

The first team includes just one junior selection, Chelsea's David Wojcicki. Others unanimously named to the team include seniors Rob Ianni of Dexter, Dave Stasiak of Lincoln, Milan's Scott Harrison, while Greg Sippell of Saline also earned first team honors.

The second team honors were given to Mark McLoughlin of Tecumseh, Ralph Finley of Dexter, Dan Johnson of Lincoln, Mike Barrels of Chelsea and Milan's Brad Collar, the only junior on the second All-League team.

Receiving honorable mention status were John Welton of Chelsea and Eric Sing and Randy Ralford of Dexter; Lincoln's Mark Kedroske and Rod Turrentine; Milan's Bernie Saja and John Rife; Jim Mussio and Peter Weber of Saline; Scott McDonald and Jeff Corley of Tecumseh; and Gary Lively and Dick Scott, both of Western.

Farmers Reminisce About Farming Changes For Historical Society

The William Storeys opened their home to the Chelsea Historical Society Monday as the group held its March meeting. In spite of the weather, there was a good attendance.

Guests included George Weiland of Ann Arbor and Ray Schairer, the former being interested in the gathering of information of German speaking families from the Schwabin area of Germany, especially those who were farmers.

After the business meeting, program chairman Ben Bower asked Glen Wiseman, a member of the Society, and Ray Schairer, to reminisce about farming "then and now." It was interesting to hear how grain was planted in the early days (before the turn of the century) when the seed was broadcast and the soil dragged to cover it. Then came the crude drill with pipes that pierced the soil through which the seeds dropped and were covered with the soil. Now, a more modern drill which fertilizes, plants and covers the seeds in one operation, even calibrating the number of seeds planted to the inch.

By the same token, harvesting has come a long way from the scythe and cradle, where the grain was cut into swaths gathered by hand, tied into bundles and hauled to a place where it was flailed and the seeds separated from the chaff by tossing them in the air on a breezy day. Then came the reaper, which cut the grain but still required quite a bit of manpower, followed by the binder which cut and tied the grain. Finally, the combine does a complete job in one operation. The self-propelled combine is the most prevalent and these machines are even equipped with a cab which perhaps has an air conditioner and radio. The operator has direct communication with the home base and following the threshing, grain must be hauled from the combines to a place for storage.

Glen Wiseman said he heard his father tell that some farms were quite large and one such was that of the Pierces, located just outside Chelsea. It took three-to-five days to thresh the grain on their farm. In those days, neighbors helped each other in order to get the job done. The women would help each other in the preparation of the meal for a crew of 20 to 25, depending on the size of the job.

Katie Chapman taped the program which will be a part of the history being collected for the Chelsea Historical Society.

Refreshments were served by Jean Storey at the close of the meeting.

Ben Bower announced that the April 12 meeting will be held at the home of Fran Bosel, a collector of antiques. He asked that anyone interested in going meet at McKune Memorial Library at 7:30 p.m. in order to car pool.

Frank Hammer Chairs St. Jude Bike-A-Thon

The Central Region office of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital has announced that Frank Hammer has agreed to be the chairman of the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-a-thon to be held in Chelsea later this spring. The funds raised in this year's event will go to support the hospital's programs of research, patient care and education.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases which affect children. The hospital is non-sectarian, non-discriminatory and provides total medical care to more than 4,200 patients.

At St. Jude, scientists and physicians are working side by side seeking not only better means of treatment, but also the cause, cure, and prevention of these terrible killers.

All findings and information gained at St. Jude's are shared freely with doctors and hospitals throughout the world. Thanks to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, children who have leukemia, hodgkins disease, sickle cell anemia, and other child killing diseases now have a better chance to live.

The funds raised in the bike-athons held throughout the country this spring will assure the continuation of the life giving work at the hospital.

Child Restraint Systems Studied By Auto Dealers

"Today safety is third highest—after economy and gas mileage—on the list of what people want from their automobiles," according to Jack Kearns, an auto safety consultant from Pittsburgh, Pa.

Kearns, along with three other consultants, was a guest speaker at a recent seminar for automobile dealers and salespeople. The seminar, Automobile Restraint System: A Sales Plus Factor, encouraged salespeople to promote the use of car seats and belts by children and adults.

The seminar was sponsored by the Washtenaw County Health Department and Washtenaw County Auto Dealers Association.

As pointed out at the seminar, automobile salespeople are especially qualified to educate the prospective customer about automobile safety because of their knowledge of the product and their contact with the public at times when new attitudes about automobile safety are being formed.

Stephen Jacobs, a consultant from Washington, D.C., noted that most people are concerned about automobile safety—as when they make sure their tires are not bald and their headlights are working. Jacobs suggested salespeople tie in the new seat belt law to the customer's existing concern about automobile safety.

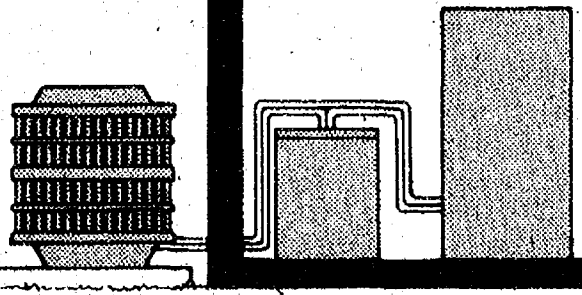

Washtenaw County Health Department received a federal grant from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration to work with the automobile dealers, in part, because of Michigan's new child safety seat law. Effective April, 1982, all children under the age of four who are passengers in a motor vehicle must be properly secured with an approved restraining system.

Information about the new Michigan Child Restraint Law and suggestions for keeping children happy in their car seats are available at the Washtenaw County Health Dept. (973-1488)

The day's activities will begin each day at 9 a.m. and end at 4 p.m. Enrollees will be taught the basic care and maintenance of equipment, how to use the equipment, proper sheep handling, and will actually shear several sheep.

Judge R. Campbell Seeks Supreme Court Post

Ross W. Campbell, Washtenaw County Circuit Judge and a resident of Ann Arbor, has announced his candidacy for the Michigan Supreme Court. "Over the 15 years I have been a judge," he observes, "I have seen our justice system become more and more complex, cumbersome, and ineffective. Justice in Michigan is no longer swift and certain, it is slow and uncertain. It is not meeting the needs of our people. I'm concerned about the situation, and I want to do something about it." Two seats on the seven-member Supreme Court will be on the ballot this November.

Judge Campbell has been a trial judge for 13 years. A graduate of West Point and the University of Michigan Law School, he first served in the judiciary as a probate judge for two years before being appointed to the circuit court in 1969. He has won re-election to it three times, without opposition, most recently in 1980. A private practitioner for many years before becoming a judge, Campbell is a member of the Bar of the Supreme Court of the United States, the American Bar Association, and the American Judicature Society.

Judge Campbell has written and lectured extensively on legal subjects, including such areas as the juvenile justice system, the mental health care system, and criminal sentencing. He has taught at Eastern Michigan University and Cleary College, for the University of Michigan, and is currently an adjunct professor at the Thomas M. Cooley Law School. He estimates that in his 13 years as a trial judge—more than any present member of the Supreme Court—he has presided over the trials of nearly 500 accused felons. His long trial experience, he believes has enabled him to acquire an intimate understanding of the problems that plague the justice system in Michigan. "Too many people have themselves been the victims of crime, or have been unable to get their civil cases on for trial," he notes, "to suggest that the judicial system is being run properly. That is simply not the case, and the trial judges of the state know it. The justice system of our state is in serious trouble. It is time the Supreme Court took a fresh approach to things, and I seek to do just that."

Judge Campbell is active both in his church and his community. He has served on school and hospital boards, the Senior Citizens Guild, Family Service, and the Huron Valley Girl Scouts Council. Active for years with the Boy Scouts of America, he is a recipient of the Silver Bear Award for service to Scouting. He is presently a member of the vestry of his church.

4-H Achievement Show Slated At Saline High

The Washtenaw County 4-H Spring Achievement Show will be held Saturday, March 27, at Saline High school.

The show will be highlighted by two fashion revues. Young models, ages 7 through 12, will be featured at 2 p.m. The 7:30 p.m. show will include 30 top young models from the afternoon revue, along with all the Junior and Senior models.

Leathercraft and woodworking projects will also be displayed throughout the day. Evaluations will be conducted during the morning. The outstanding projects will be honored during the evening revue. There will also be various demonstrations during the day.

The event is free, open to the public and barrier free.

The Loft Hosting Wildlife Art Show

Area residents will have a chance to see one of the largest collections of wildlife art by Michigan artists ever put on in this area next week-end at the Briarwood Hilton, and, as a bonus, meet and talk to the artists personally.

The show, sponsored by The Loft Frame & Art Gallery in Chelsea, will bring seven of the best Michigan wildlife artists, together with more than 100 examples of their work, to the Hilton ballroom for two days.

Both original paintings and limited edition prints will be shown, and will be available for purchase, on Saturday from noon to 5 p.m., and Sunday from noon to 4 p.m.

Walt Brown, owner and operator of The Loft, explains that the show is designed to expose wildlife art, and especially that of Michigan wildlife artists, to the public, which might never go to an art gallery. "We are going to bring the gallery to them," Brown said.

He hopes, of course, that this exposure will pique their interest in and appreciation of wildlife art, and encourage them to join the rapidly-growing number of those who collect wildlife paintings or limited edition wildlife prints.

Wildlife art has perhaps the longest history of any art form, yet it is only in the past decade or so that it has achieved its widespread popularity.

Some of man's earliest recorded artistic endeavors portrayed the wildlife that primitive man hunted, whose flesh he used for food and whose skin he used for clothing.

His basic needs for food and clothing satisfied, he then gratified his artistic desires by drawing images of his prey on the walls of the caves he inhabited, where they may still be found today.

Wildlife has been a popular subject for artists ever since, but never so popular as it is today. And this popularity, made possible by new methods of printing and innovative ways of marketing prints, has made wildlife art not only a pleasurable but also profitable activity for both artists and collector.

John James Audubon may be called the father of the modern wildlife art print. His magnificent folio editions of birds and animals of the new world, drawn from the etching press and colored by hand, were eagerly snapped up by the public.

Still only the wealthy could afford an "original" Audubon, or similar works by wildlife artists who followed his lead. Today, for a small investment anyone can have a wildlife print by a well-known artist to hang on the wall, and that print will most probably appreciate in value over the years, perhaps even dramatically.

This has been made possible by new and better methods of making full-color prints, but popular appeal for wildlife subjects, as opposed to many other subjects artists traditionally paint—landscapes, for instance—can be traced to the "limited edition prints" personally signed by the artists and at first collected mainly by sportsmen.

These, in turn, can be traced to the influence of the federal "Duck Stamp," originally designed by cartoonist "Ding" Darling, and issued to raise money for waterfowl restoration and habitat purchase.

Those early "Duck Stamps" became "collectible" items, comparable to postage stamps. And then someone thought of issuing special prints of the original art work, limited to a few hundred, and signed by the artist. Organizations like Ducks Unlimited began to raise funds through auction of these prints, and soon there was a market born for wildlife prints, now become "collectibles" just as were the stamps.

A generation ago there were just a few major artists working in the medium. But with the increased popularity of limited edition wildlife prints, there came a proportionate increase in the number of artists.

Likewise there also increased the number of competitions available to artists. State game and fish departments began to issue trout and salmon stamps, turkey stamps, or waterfowl stamps (with competitions for design), emulating the federal duck stamp. Private organizations dedicated to certain species—the wild turkey, the striped bass, etc.—followed suit with similar stamps and competitions.

And in a few places, organizations mounted wildlife art contests, and issued prints of the winner as fund-raisers. One such is the Michigan United Conservation Club's Michigan Wildlife Artist of the Year contest.

As more and more people began to collect wildlife art, the value of both original paintings and out-of-print editions of their prints increased, sometimes at a dizzying pace.

Some limited edition prints, originally priced at $75-$150, have risen to the $2,500-$4,000 range a few years after going out-of-print.

And if you wish to buy an original painting of Robert

Bateman or Ray Harm, you'd have to pay at least $10,000 for it. These two are, of course, acknowledged masters in their field, but there are many not far behind in popularity, and a number of talented young artists on their way up.

Michigan, Walt Brown believes, has a number of excellent artists, with potential to be among the tops in their field. Among those who will be at the Briarwood show are:

Gilbert van Frankenhuyzen, art director for Michigan Natural Resources Magazine, and a winner of a number of prestigious awards, including the recently judged Michigan Duck Stamp competition. This award, made just recently was for Frankenhuyzen's painting of a redhead duck. Last year Frankenhuyzen was named Michigan Wildlife Artist of the Year by MUCC in that organization's first wildlife art contest. A native of the Netherlands, he studied at the Royal Academy of Arts in Arnhem, and is also an accomplished photographer.

Rod Lawrence, a magna cum laude fine arts graduate from the University of Michigan, and now a resident of Kalkaska, was this year's MUCC Artist of the Year. His winning design, a pair of ruffed grouse, sold out its limited edition of prints within weeks of going on sale. Lawrence's other awards include first place in the 1981 Michigan Trout Stamp contest and second place in the national Wild Turkey Stamp competition in 1979.

Cathy McClung, of Dexter, is a recent addition to the wildlife art field, but is already recognized as one of the best at her specialty of songbirds. She was a runner-up in the 1981 MUCC Wildlife Artist contest, and took first place at last year's Pte. Mouillee wildlife art show.

George Camp, a designer for General Motors, collects and studies antique waterfowl decoys, and uses them as subjects for his acrylic paintings. He has exhibited widely, and won numerous awards, including Best-of-Show twice at Pte. Mouillee.

Andrew Kurzmann, a native of Germany who studied at the Detroit Institute of Arts and taught at Kellogg Community College, now runs his own studio in Battle Creek. He was chosen Michigan Artist of the Year by Ducks Unlimited in 1981, and won the 1979 Michigan Waterfowl Hunting Stamp Contest. He has raised over $100,000 for Ducks Unlimited from auction of his donated prints at DU banquets.

Rob Gwynn, a professional artist for almost a decade but only recently concentrating on wildlife art, lives in Metamora, where he has converted an old dairy barn into a studio. Last year he placed 4th in the MUCC contest.

Leonard Wades is the only artist in the show who is not a full-time professional. An orthodontist, Wades is, however, widely recognized as a skillful painter of wildlife subjects, has had a number of one-man shows both in this country and Canada, and was a finalist in the 1981 Michigan Duck Stamp contest.

Rep. Ballantine Will Meet Voters Thursday Evening

Chelsea area residents are invited to meet with 23rd District State Representative Mary Keith Ballantine and area township supervisors on Thursday, March 18, in the Chelsea High school cafeteria. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Anyone interested in current state and local issues is urged to attend. Representative Ballantine will open the meeting with a presentation on reapportionment. This will be followed by open discussion between Chelsea area residents and their elected officials.

This meeting is sponsored by Chelsea Community Education under the direction of Jackie Rogers and adult education instructor John Groesser.

Surplus Cheese Distributed Here By Social Service

Fifty-three local families in need, living within the Chelsea School District, were the recipients of surplus cheese last week. The much publicized government surplus was distributed locally through the Chelsea Social Service workers.

This cheese, which was released by the government, was handled in Washtenaw county by the Huron Harvest Food Bank, which arranged with 14 non-profit human service agencies to distribute in their local communities. Guidelines for persons obtaining the cheese were directed by the Southeastern Michigan Food Coalition.

A spokesman for the Chelsea agency expects that further surplus food such as butter and powdered milk will be distributed later this year.

Anyone interested in this program should call the Chelsea Social Service office at 475-1581 on Thursdays between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. or after 5 p.m. at 475-7405.

Chelsea Social Service is a local agency operating in the village for 50 years. It is funded by the United Way of Chelsea as well as other civic organizations and individual donations.
