Proposals Offered To Ease Environmental Regulations
A series of proposals to streamline environmental regulations—some requiring legislation—that supporters say would not weaken protections, has been submitted to Governor William G. Milliken for review and approval.

Lieutenant Governor James Brickley, head of the regulatory review task force, said if Milliken approves the proposals the Department of Natural Resources will begin instituting them either through the administrative rules process, drafting proposed statutes or changing internal policies.

The proposals deal with a number of environmental quality areas, including water and air pollution controls and waste disposal rules.

Some of the changes would cut back on requiring filings of water discharge reports, streamline the permit process, allow the Air Pollution Control Commission to set reasonable emission limits on "less stringent sources," eliminate the licensing of non-toxic waste transfer facilities, eliminate dual regulation of some waste hauling firms and eliminate or modify rules dealing with a municipal junk car center.

The recommendations also call for a new codification of the state's environmental protection laws.

Milliken called for such a re-codification in his State of the State address in January.

Brickley said the proposals will "contribute in a significant way to easing regulatory burdens while sustaining Michigan's nationally recognized environmental protection efforts."

Questions Still Abound On Project E.L.F.

A review of the U.S. Navy's proposed Project ELF submarine communications system by the Legislative Office of Science Advisor found many critical questions remain unanswered and suggested it may not be needed anyway because new alternative technology could be available in about the same time it would take to build the project.

The project is currently proposed to be located in the Upper Peninsula and tied to existing facilities in Clam Lake, Wis.

The science office said because the design has been so considerably altered from original designs, the Navy could reconsider other locations, including the Wisconsin site, which would be more cost-effective and more quickly constructed.

The science advisor noted Project ELF is not projected to be operational until at least 1987 and says a new blue-green laser system would provide similar communications by the 1990's, and maybe sooner.

The ELF system is a one-way link to submarines, alerting them in the event of nuclear war.

The science office noted unanswered questions include how effective the system will perform and possible harmful effects of the low frequency radiation.

The report said an independent committee of experts should be appointed to monitor construction and operation and a 1977 commitment by the Navy to shut down the project if harmful biological effects should be extended to cover all other negative effects not yet foreseen.

The new proposals of the project are currently under study by the Department of Natural Resources and the Michigan Environmental Review Board.

church, doctor's bills, mortgage payments and the rest, and offer Newton a package deal. Since taxable income of his folks ain't all that much, Clem said, fer sure they could git enough fer their breaks to settle with the IRS. And if Newton shops around careful, Clem declared, he can corner the break market and come up with a refund like GE.

Zeke wasn't buying any. He said he believed the feller that said any businessman paying 1981 income taxes just don't understand the tax laws, but our system of taxation is based on obeying, not understanding. Selling tax breaks, Zeke said, is going back to the days the church sold indulgences. Ever man and ever corporation is individual accountable soon or late, was Zeke's words.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Clem Webster told the fellers at the country store Saturday night that he was glad he took a break one night last week from fighting his 1040 to glance through the papers. If he hadn't of, he said, he might not of got a reminder that tax time can be happy time. Folks natural put off doing what they got to do and don't want to do, Clem said, but he figured General Electric was glad to git in its return. He saw where GE got a tax refund of $100 million.

Actual, Clem said, he didn't understand much of the details, but he could handle the part where GE made $2.6 billion profit last year that worked out to be a income tax of $529 million. After that the report got sticky, Clem went on, telling how GE had bought $633 million worth of tax breaks from other companies that didn't need em. Since GE overstocked on breaks, the Federal Government was required by new tax laws to buy up the surplus leaving GE way ahead. Clem said he knows the Government has got surpluses of everthing we produce more of than we can use or give away, but this was the first he heard of Uncle Sam being in the surplus tax break business. Clem wanted to know where to sign up fer his.

Natural, Mister Editor, Ed Doolittle was quick to pool his ignorance. He said this idee is a way to level off tax burdens fer big corporations from one year to the next, and to keep all of em in better shape to grow and pay taxes. Fer instant, Ed explained, if General Motors lost $2.6 billion last year obvious it won't pay no income tax. But it had to spend billions on equipment and rebates and such that would ordinary give deduct credit. So it can sell this credit to a company that made a big profit, like GE, and git income while GE used the bought credits to hold down its outgo in taxes.

Practical speaking, come back Clem, he couldn't see no difference in GM and GE working a swap and Zeke Grubb and Wayne Newton striking a deal. After all, Clem said, he heard a lawyer say onct that a corporation is like a person in the eyes of the law, except it don't have a heart to break and a soul to save. Clem had saw where Newton is the highest paid performer in history, and he probable is in the market fer tax breaks. What Zeke can do, Clem went on, is round up all the breaks of all the folks in his

Managing Multiple
Roles Workshop
Slated at CHS

A second seminar designed for women will be offered in co-operation with Chelsea Community Ed. The workshop, entitled "Managing Multiple Roles," will be held at Chelsea High school on Saturday, April 24 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

The exciting one-day seminar will explore three transitional elements for managing multiple roles and fulfilling life-roles strategy that leads to satisfaction and success. Participants will review the past, become involved in the decision-making process and take action to effectively manage the multiple roles for enhanced well-being and fulfillment. The primary focus is to help the participant decide on sorting out and managing quality and multiple roles that have meaning. Both men and women are encouraged to attend the seminar in order to gain a better understanding of the different roles and expectations they have for each other.

D. Schiller Wins
ASID Interior
Decorating Award

Donna Schiller of Chelsea, a senior at Eastern Michigan University, has been awarded first place honors in the American Society of Interior Designers (ASID) Career Day competition.

An interior design major, Schiller received the $150 first prize at the Career Day awards banquet hosted by the University on Saturday, April 3.

Assigned a hypothetical runaway shelter, Schiller was judged on layouts, electrical schedules, fabric choices and three-dimensional colorations of the project.

ASID is the largest organization of interior designers in the world, representing nearly 20,000 members within its 46 chapters in the U. S. and abroad. Its professional members, the highest category of society membership, represent a body of practitioners who have reached the highest level of skill, creativity and technical knowledge in the interior design profession.

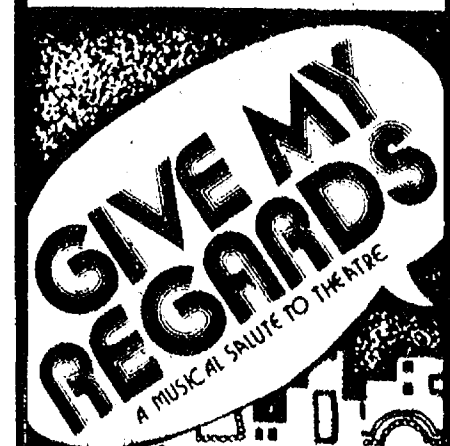

The Michigan chapter of ASID sponsors nine student affiliate chapters: Bowling Green State University, Eastern Michigan University, Kendall School of Design, Lawrence Institute of Technology, Michigan State University, St. Clair College, Ontario, University of Michigan, Wayne State University and Western Michigan University.

Student chapters help prepare interior design students for the eventual transition from classroom to professional practice by exposing them to the professional and practical aspects of an interior design career. Interaction with professionals in the field and ASID chapter programs and activities enable student members to better understand the many facets of interior design not covered in the school curriculum.

Winning at Monroe Contest

Local members of the Chelsea Charms baton twirling corps continued their winning streak at an NETA open contest in Monroe Saturday, March 27. Eleven twirlers brought back to Chelsea a total of nine trophies and 14 ribbons against a very competitive and excessively large group of twirlers from Michigan, Ohio and Indiana. Each event entered had from 10 to 22 competitors trying to win a trophy or ribbon.

In basic twirl solo for ages 0-9 years, Kristen Clark took first followed by Amy Weir (3rd), Crissy Dunlap (4th) and Nikki Schultz (7th). Basic twirl solo for ages 11-12 found Elizabeth Maurer in first place followed by Laura Walton in second.

Special beginner solo for ages 0-6 found Nikki Schultz in second place while special beginner solo for ages 7-9 found Amy Weir in third place followed by Kristen Clark in eighth. Elizabeth Maurer and Laura Walton were fifth and ninth, respectively, in special beginner solo for ages 10-12.

In novice solo for ages 0-6, Kori White took second place while Crissy Dunlap took third place in the novice solo division for ages 7-8. Michelle Graflund took sixth place in the novice solo for ages 9-10 and Susan Schmunk was ninth in the 11- to 12-year-old novice solo division.

In basic beginner strut for ages 0-6, Kori White took first, Nikki Schultz second and Betsy Schmunk fifth. For 7- and 8-year-olds, Crissy Dunlap was second while Amy Weir earned a fourth-place ribbon. Other competitors in this division included Kristen Clark and Julie Miller. Michelle Graflund, in the 9- and 10-year-old division, took a fourth-place ribbon in the beginner basic strut division while, in the 11- and 12-year-old class, Laura Walton was fourth and Elizabeth Maurer fifth. Also competing was Susan Schmunk.

In beginner military strut for ages 0-6, Kori White took second because of a protective clause in which no first place was decided. Using a similar protective clause, Crissy Dunlap was second in the same event for 7- through 9-year-olds. Amy Weir took fifth. Laura Walton and Michelle Graflund were third and fifth, respectively, in the beginner military strut class for ages 10-12. Also competing was Susan Schmunk.

In the fancy strut competition, Michelle Graflund earned a sixth-place ribbon for ages 10-12. She also took a seventh-place award for her modelling in the 10- to 12-year-old class.

Observing the contest along with Chelsea Charms coach Rita Wilson-Howard, were parents Jill Dunlap, Norma Graflund, Barbara Clark, John Miller, Sandy Schmunk, Becky Schultz, Sue Walton, Gary White. Chelsea Charms twirler Richelle Jones also attended with her mother Sherry and younger sister.

Child Restraint Program Slated at Chelsea Hospital

What does the new law about child restraints in the car mean? What is the best type of child restraint to buy for my child? In a really serious crash, will a restraint do any good? Car seats are very expensive. What do I do if I can't afford one? These questions and many more will be answered in an educational program for community residents at Chelsea Community Hospital. The program will be presented on Monday, April 12 at 1 p.m. and repeated on Wednesday, April 14 at 7:30 p.m. Participants will have the opportunity to examine several types of restraints. Information on how the restraints work will also be available.

Waterloo Historical Society Will Study Antique Chests

"Neat and Tidy," a delightful display and discussion of antique and very old boxes, chests, and small trunks, will be the subject of the Waterloo Area Historical Society's spring educational meeting.

The meeting, to be held Wednesday, April 14 at the Presbyterian Educational Building, the corner of Main and Water Sts., in Stockbridge, will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Jocelyn Rabbit of Village Green Antiques of Stockbridge will discuss the various types of and uses for these charming containers.

On display will be boxes made of wood, tin, hair, paper, porcelain, birch bark, glass and any other material early Americans found available. As varied as the materials used in making boxes were the uses for them. The boxes housed nearly everything—spectacles, tobacco, hair pins, spices, tea, snuff, salt, gloves, razors, writing materials and sewing paraphernalia.

The building will be open at 6 p.m. for anyone wishing to bring in their treasures to display.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

To take the edge off of the mid-morning blahs, cut one of your hard-cooked Easter eggs in half lengthwise. Then, add a dollop of plain yogurt and a sprinkle of your favorite herb. This almost-instant egg salad is lots of good eating for not very many calories!

Modern Mothers Continue Learning About Themselves

On Tuesday, March 23, Modern Mothers Child Study Club continued their theme for the year, learning about themselves and each other. Members met at the home of Alice Stimpson.

Speaker for the evening was the Rev. Robert Weikart, who provided the group with many interesting thoughts and asked each member prepare a list of both positive and negative feelings about herself. The results showed that each is an individual, but often wears a mask to hide the real person.

Nineteen members and two guests welcomed two new members to the Club, Mickey Michaud and Judy Steger. Refreshments were served by Chris Keane and Kathy Peterson, followed by a short business meeting to discuss the installation of officers.

Chelsea's Modern Mothers will meet next on Tuesday, April 27 at the home of Lori Rohrkemper. Anyone interested in attending should call 475-9877.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
 On April 1, 24 participants in the World Peace March stayed overnight in the Chelsea area, hosted by 14 local families from four of the major Chelsea churches.
 It is very gratifying to know that these families opened their homes and their hearts to total strangers, not knowing ahead of time even from what countries their guests would come.
 Some of us had American Indians, some Japanese, some Swedish or Swiss or Costa Rican, and more. Some guests were Buddhist monks or nuns. But we all soon learned that beneath obvious differences in dress, beneath differences in custom or tradition, all of us, guest and host alike, share one common concern: the concern for world peace.
 We support the group's desire for a world where the threat of nuclear catastrophe can be eliminated; where humans or any country realize that humans born by accident behind a man-made boundary in another country, are also praying for world peace and disarmament.
 As the co-ordinator for these marchers while they were in Chelsea, I offer deepest thanks to everyone who offered their home and hospitality, whether needed and used or not. Chelsea can be proud of its people and their contribution!

Jim Hoffmeyer.

Substance Abuse Committee Formed

A growing concern over substance abuse among Manchester youth prompted the formation of the Substance Abuse Awareness Committee (SAAC). Substance abuse relates to drugs, alcohol and tobacco.

SAAC is co-chaired by Brian Schick, middle school principal; and William Zsenyuk, Village Administrator. Other committee members include Carol Wiethoff, Sandy King, Janice Hammond, Kathy Aluto, Don Steele, James Kappler and Dr. Monte Okey.

The first goal of SAAC is to develop a presentation which will be relevant to Manchester and informative to its populace. The program will be designed for adult participation.

The Substance Abuse Awareness Committee is now finalizing plans for the April 22 meeting to be held at Manchester Middle school beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the gym.

William Zsenyuk, Manchester Village Administrator and Chief of Police, will begin the program by discussing the substance abuse problem on a local level. Liz Sill, a Circuit Court probation officer in Ann Arbor, will present statistics relating to young people and substance abuse. The final speaker, Janice Hammond, Klager Elementary school principal, will discuss ways families can help prevent substance abuse and its relationship to other factors such as feelings about self and pressure from friends.

Following these brief presentations, the audience will break into smaller groups to talk about concerns and solutions related to substance abuse. It is the hope of the committee that topics for future meetings will be identified from these discussions.

This first meeting is designed for adults. Nevertheless, babysitting services will be provided for parents who find it necessary to bring small children to the meeting.

Anyone interested in obtaining more detailed information may call Brian Schick at Manchester Middle school, 428-7442, or

New Safety Program Set for Pre-Schoolers

Safety Town is a new program that will be offered in Chelsea this summer to all children who will be attending kindergarten in the fall of 1982.

This program is designed specifically for four-year-olds and will teach basic areas of safety such as pedestrian safety, school bus safety, police and fire safety, and home and personal safety (don't go with or talk to strangers). It also emphasizes teaching each child his or her own name, address and phone number.

Safety Town consists of eight half-day sessions, the last of which is graduation day. It will be run in conjunction with the Chelsea Police Department and the classes will be taught by certified teachers. The program will be offered in late June and early July and will be held at South Elementary school.

Safety Town has received national recognition for its effectiveness, and has been successfully implemented in Ann Arbor and Plymouth, among other surrounding cities. It is totally community funded through many local groups, organizations and individuals.

The program's goal is to get every eligible child into the program. Questions regarding Safety Town may be directed to Kathy Thompson at 475-6383 or Lynn Fox at 475-2453.

Registrations will be processed through the Community Education office at Chelsea High school.

Two class sessions of 15 participants each will be held June 14-17 and 21-24, from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.. Session II will be held from June 14-17 and 21-24, from 12:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. (2 classes of 15).

Session III will be held June 28-30 and July 1, 6, 7, 8 and 9 from 9 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. while Session IV will be offered on the same days but between the hours of 12:30 p.m. and 3 p.m. Both sessions will feature two classes of 15 youngsters each.

Two additional sessions, V and VI, will be offered if necessary. Session V will be held June 14-17 and 21-24 while Session VI will be held June 28-30 and July 1, 6, 7, 8 and 9. Both classes will be held between the hours of 6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. and will each offer two classes of 15 persons each.

Lioness Club Rummage Sale Slated

Spring is here! It's time to clean out that attic, garage, basement and bedroom. But what can be done with all the unused items that are cluttering up your home?

Donate them to the third annual Chelsea Lioness Club rummage and bake sale to be held Friday & Saturday April 30 and May 1.

The Lioness Club members have no difficulty providing baked goods, but after two years of donating their useable items, club members are concerned that there may not be enough items to offer for sale this year. The club would appreciate the support of people who have things they no longer need that could be placed in the sale.

Items for the rummage sale may be taken to 28 Sycamore in Chelsea between now and Thursday, April 29. Please call ahead to be sure someone will be there to take them; call 475-4443. If you have items that you are not able to deliver yourself, call Dorothy Fouty at 475-8072 for pick-up.

Proceeds from the annual Lioness Club rummage and bake sale will go to aid in a variety of community projects as well as to support projects such as Leader Dogs and Braille Transcribing.

What should insured savings mean to you?
Peace of mind.

When you bank with us, your total savings picture is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) to $100,000. Joint accounts basically mean each individual's portion is insured to $100,000.

Stock brokers, department stores like Sears, insurance companies, and every conceivable type of financial institution is after your savings dollars. Some offer astronomical interest rates.

But, what about peace of mind? If you have funds to risk, that's one thing. If you are depending on your savings for your future, that's another thing.

This isn't to say these other people aren't solid and your money is in jeopardy. But it is to say, FDIC insured savings means as solid as this bank is, we add FDIC protection for you.

Your peace of mind is important to us.

Color Guard Places 2nd in State Competition

A second-place trophy was brought home last Sunday when the Chelsea Winter Color Guard, the Chelsea Winter Color Guard, performed in the Michigan Color Guard State Championships in Flushing. The unit, which is an offshoot of the marching band's flag squad, is made up of six imitation sabres—Jennifer Gibb, Trina Mindykowski, Shari Haab, Margaret Leisinger, Karen Wilson and Captain Julie Dunlap, along with six flags—Terri Bort, Jodi Rowe, Becca Lee, Becky Finch, Phoebe Strong and Mary Ann Richardson.

The Chelsea ensemble, compared against four Auxiliary Class schools and a total of 12 groups took part in the state championships.

Trapped music used for the five-minute gym performance was taken from Emerson, Lake and Palmer's "Love Beach" album, pushing an up tempo beat as the guard showed its practical movements to the fans and judges. Nevertheless, the local group was forced to perform their routine two times; the music system malfunctioned in the middle of the first performance.

Five judges took part in ranking the Chelsea Winter Color Guard in every detail, ranging from hand position and body movement to carriage and equipment angles.

This was the third and final competition for the corps of marchers who had traveled to West Bloomfield and Cassopolis before going into the state finals.

Instructor for the group is Chelsea High school English teacher Phil Jones, who was assisted by former flag squad members Teresa Hoffman and Melanie Schneider.

The final season performance of the guard will be an exhibition at the last band concert to be held this spring.

Truck-Car Crash Reported at I-94 Fletcher Rd. Exit

On Friday, April 2, at 2:15 p.m., a property damage accident occurred at Old US-12, 50 feet east of Fletcher Rd., according to Washtenaw Sheriff's Department reports.

According to reports, Bruno S. Michno, 40, of Illinois, was driving a Peterbilt truck carrying auto parts. He had just left the west-bound lanes of I-94 and exited onto Fletcher Rd. Deciding to get back on the expressway, he did not allow himself enough room to enter the entrance ramp and put his vehicle into reverse, thereby backing into a 1981 Citation driven by Kristine Ann Adler of 195 S. Freer Rd., resulting in minor damage to her vehicle.

Michno was cited for failure to use due care and caution. No injuries were reported.

The Other

Athletics bring great visibility to our community and school district. This can be quite a bold statement to make, since each and every department, both academic and extra-curricular, has a particular product to offer our students and our community. The Chelsea schools excel in academics, music, athletics, group and club organizations. The school district provides opportunities for the young and the young-at-heart. Frequency of athletic events is what creates visibility for the program in Chelsea, and in all school districts.

Today, and next Tuesday, you have the opportunity to read about two of the greatest assets the Chelsea athletic program has to offer our community: its coaches and student athletes.

The Michigan High School Athletic Association has taken great steps in providing a categorized list of coaching competencies for school districts to use in the selection and evaluation of a coaching staff. There are four distinct categories: first, physical aspects; second, sociological and psychological aspects; third, professionalism; and fourth, theory and techniques of coaching.

The Chelsea coaching staff is well versed and knowledgeable in all four categories. We have a coaching staff that thoroughly understands the student athlete. They understand how our district works and how our community works. They understand the rules and regulations of the MHSAA. They understand the rules and regulations pertaining to their individual sports, those being for the well-being and protection of the student athletes.

The physical aspects of coaching are not so much the blocking and tackling, the setting of picks, the long wind sprints, but the entire philosophy as to how a sport is conducted to insure the health, physical well-being, and safety of the participants. The coach must be knowledgeable and understanding of physical fitness and its relationship to the over-all health of the students. Our coaching staff works very closely with physicians concerning physical activity for the students and the safety and prevention of injuries. They understand how the body works, how it moves. Even more important, they understand the use of drugs and their effects upon the body. They realize that nutrition is very important to the health of a student athlete and the athlete's performance. They use this knowledge to make their sports as safe and free of injury as possible to our student athletes.

The sociological and psychological aspects of coaching have a direct relationship to the behavior of student athletes with their relationship to society. The coach must understand characteristics of adolescence. The coach not only teaches X's and O's; the coach serves as a counselor, a confidante to the student athlete. A coach is not a pal, but a person, a professional that is there to assist that student athlete when the need arises, whether it be a 8:00 in the morning or 10:00 at night.

A coach is able to motivate a student athlete to immediate and long-range goals, and to instill positive self-confidence, self-responsibility and responsibility to others. A coach spends many hours looking for new ways of motivation to help our student athletes adjust to life. Several members of the Chelsea coaching staff meet with each and every student athlete individually to help establish short as well as long-range goals. This, in itself, is something that takes many hours of preparation and fair evaluation. A dedicated coaching staff is willing, and does perform this most needed function.

The third competency to be discussed is professionalism. By professionalism, we are looking at the coach—his or her relationship to the individual sport:

class. In fact, many hours are spent in attending class. Clinics assist our coaches in becoming better professionals. They are able to learn not only new techniques about X's and O's, but also to learn about and discuss problems that may be similar or dissimilar within other school districts and around the State of Michigan or in the mid-west. Coaches learn from one another. They learn about their students. They learn new ideas that may not be brought out in just a general lecture. These new ideas help build strong successful programs. They also help build strong successful coaches.

The fourth area of competency is theory and techniques of coaching. The program should be conducted by qualified individuals with full respect for the educational principles, philosophies and practices of each competitive athletic activity. In simple words, the coaches analyze the rules, skills, theory and strategy of a specified sport. They can identify their specific game plans and tactics, their ability to analyze their pluses and minuses after a contest, their ability to formulate their practice plans to best fit into their program. They make practices challenging. They keep current on sport techniques and theories. They have a knowledge and thorough understanding of the use of teaching aids, and they are able to detect the strengths and weaknesses of various offensive and defensive systems.

Our Chelsea coaching staff is a very mature coaching staff. We have 31 coaches at the high school level, with a total of 210 years of

- 5 hard-cooked eggs, sliced

EMU Student Studies Origins of NBA Players

Chicago and Detroit lead the nation in supplying talent to the National Basketball Association, according to a study made recently by an Eastern Michigan University student.

Dan Sharf, a sports geographer at EMU, researched the college, high school and birthplace of all 276 players in the NBA for 1981.

There are 10 tables which include statistical information compiled by Sharf, an Ann Arbor senior majoring in accounting, who conducted the statistical compilation in conjunction with Dr. Carl Ojala of EMU's Geography Department.

In addition to the tables, compiled from data provided by the NBA front office in New York, Sharf includes an analysis section preceding the tables and makes some observations on birthplaces, high schools, colleges, cities, states and conferences supplying the NBA.

"Without a doubt, Chicago and Detroit are the top areas in producing basketball talent," Sharf said. His report indicates that Chicago and Detroit are ranked one and two, respectively, with Chicago supplying 11 players and Detroit supplying 10 players to the NBA for a total for 21 NBA players or 7.6 percent of the NBA personnel.

"This table clearly shows that the best high school basketball talent in the country is found in the 'Windy City' and the 'Motor

City,' Sharf said. "Both Mark Aguirre and Isiah Thomas, who were the top picks in the 1981 NBA draft, played their high school basketball in Chicago. And George Gervin, the NBA scoring leader for three out of the last four years, played his high school basketball in Detroit at Martin Luther King High school."

Brooklyn, Chicago and Detroit are the only cities with two high schools supplying the NBA with two players. Detroit's Murray-Wright and Northwestern high schools both provided the NBA with two players.

Sharf's table indicates the top three college suppliers of basketball talent to the NBA are Indiana, North Carolina and UCLA. Each of these schools has nine alumni in the NBA.

"With the alumni of UCLA alone, you could form a team that could sweep the league," Sharf predicted. "Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, perhaps the best player in the NBA, won three national championships at UCLA and currently is the second all-time career scoring leader of the NBA. David Greenwood, Marques Johnson, Swen Nater, Richard Washington and Jamaal Wilkes are all former Bruins who play in the pros after combining for an amazing total of nine national championships at UCLA."

"It's no surprise that the top three colleges correspond with the top three states (California, North Carolina and Indiana) in producing talent for the NBA," Sharf said.

Sharf provides significant findings in his tables of the number of NBA alumni by college conference. Sharf's tables show the combined total of NBA players from the Big Ten, Pacific Ten, Atlantic Coast and Pacific Coast Conferences represents 109 players, for 39.5 percent of the NBA. This indicates the remaining 61 percent of NBA players come from places other than these conferences.

According to Sharf, his report "offers a unique insight into where these players come from."

Here are some other interesting facts Sharf discovered in his research:

—There are three players in the NBA now who did not play high school basketball: Ricky Sobers, Swen Nater and Bill Robinson.

—Three NBA players never attended college: Darryl Dawkins, Moses Malone and Bill Willoughby.

—The youngest player in the NBA is Isiah Thomas who is 20 years old.

—The oldest player in the NBA is Elvin Hayes who is 36.

—Lloyd Free and Bernard King, teammates with the NBA Golden State Warriors, both played their high school basketball in Brooklyn.

—Michael Brooks and Joe

Seventy percent of the population believes that smoking should be restricted to fewer places. More than half of all smokers agree to this as well.

Bryant, teammates with the NBA San Diego Clippers, played their high school basketball in Philadelphia.

—Jay Vincent, who starts for the Dallas Mavericks, and Magic Johnson, who starts for the Los Angeles Lakers, played against each other in high school and on the same team at Michigan State. Johnson went to Lansing Everett High school and Vincent went to Eastern High school in Lansing.

Sharf became interested in sports geography after taking a class at EMU taught by Dr. Carl Ojala titled "Geography of Sport." The idea for his report came from Dan McClory, an EMU student who did a similar study on the NFL one year ago.

"I played in sports growing up. I've always followed basketball. I like working with numbers and statistics," Sharf said. "I feel my report could be used to provide insight during the NBA draft in June."

Anyone interested in Sharf's report or in the subject of sports geography should contact Dan Sharf, 3253 Lockridge Dr., Ann Arbor 48104 or Dr. Carl Ojala in the EMU Geography Department.

Estate Planning Program Set at Ann Arbor Church

J. Dale Boyd, Director of Development at First United Methodist church, Ann Arbor, has announced the scheduling of an estate planning program to be held April 18. The program will run from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the Social Hall at the church. Attendance is open to all.

The principal speaker/presenter at the session will be Dr. Karl L. Zeigler, Director of Development, United Methodist Foundation of the Detroit Annual Conference. Dr. Zeigler pastored churches in Detroit, Allen Park, and Novi before taking the current assignment in 1979. In addition to being an avid sailor, "Catalina 27," on Lake St. Clair, Zeigler has served many community organizations including the American Cancer Society, the YMCA in both Detroit and Farmington, Hospice of Southeastern Michigan, and is currently president, board of directors, Michigan Hospice organization.

Dr. Zeigler will present valuable information on how to plan the preservation and use of your assets (estate) and do the things you really want done with these assets, both while living and after dying. Methods to use for "goal setting" within the context of estate planning will also be given.

This program is the second in the series on Financial and Estate Planning which is sponsored by the Development Office at First United Methodist church. The closing presentations for the series this year are scheduled for the month of May and will cover facing death from a Christian perspective.

The April 18 meeting is open to all who desire to attend. Pre-registration is not a requirement, but Boyd requests that you call the church office (862-4536) and indicate your intent to attend, thus making it possible for him to have sufficient materials to share with all attendees.

MUCC Offering Shrub Plantings For Arbor Day

As part of its state-wide observance of Arbor Day, April 22, the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC) is again sponsoring a program of planting trees and shrubs for wildlife.

Begun in 1980, the "Plant for Wildlife" program utilizes a package of young trees, shrubs, and ground cover especially selected for their benefits to wildlife. Included in the package are 13 trees (six different species), 12 shrubs (four species), and five ground cover plants (one species).

Persons planting these varieties can provide food and shelter for wildlife, aid in soil conservation, establish windbreaks, and create landscape beauty.

The wildlife packages are available at $14.98 each, plus $1.50 for shipping from MUCC, Box 30235, Lansing 48909.

MCRC Logo Contest Winners Announced

The Mill Creek Research Council annual meeting was held Tuesday, March 30 at the Lima Town Hall. Chairman was Robert Wirtz, president.

On display were 22 South Lima Rural Historic District logo designs submitted by local students. The Research Council was very pleased with the number of young persons who competed and also with the overall quality of the logos.

They were judged on basic design principles and skill of presentation, content and suitability and adaptability for possible future use. Lee Schaberg announced the winners, who will receive the $25, $15 and $10 awards. They are Lisa Vandegrift, 14325 Jerusalem Rd.; Blake Adler, 9970 W. Liberty; and Diane Barels, 10411 Dexter-Chelsea Rd.

A resolution was read expressing appreciation to James "Red" Cosgrove of Ypsilanti, this county's current Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority delegate, for his excellent representation of the people of Washtenaw county.

A second resolution, read by chairman Wirtz, honored William Chandler of Chelsea who has "cheerfully and competently" served the MCRC as treasurer during the entire 17 years since the first board and first officers were chosen in 1965.

Both men were given wall plaques made by Wallace Fusilier.

Virginia Denham reported that the documentation for the South Lima Rural Historic District was taken to Lansing in July. This was one of the most ambitious projects ever handled by the MCRC. It is hoped that the Michigan Historical Commission, which meets quarterly, will act on the application this year. That

Dexter Township Budget Increased For Services

At the annual meeting of Dexter township Saturday, March 27, 17 persons were in attendance.

The Board set the regular meetings to be held the first and third Tuesday of each month and salaries remained identical to the preceding year. They are as follows: supervisor, $7,500 per year; clerk, $6,000 per year; and treasurer, $6,000 per year.

At the budget hearing a $17,500 increase in expenditures was approved for a total of $240,000. Township services were increased by $24,000 with major increases in fire protection and road improvements.

Capital improvements were down by $7,000 while administrative services were increased by $500.

As a part of its service to the public, the U.S. Department of Labor provides a variety of information to workers, employers, teachers, students, business people, government officials and others.

The Individual Champion was Rachel Brickman (winning word: vacillating) of Wylie and the runner-up was Peter Buch of Milan Middle school.

Each school represented provided a judge for the contest. Judging from Beach was Mrs. Margaret Koch, 6th grade language arts teacher.

Team members were transported to Dexter by parents and Beach Principal Alan Conklin.

The team contest is scored by awarding points to team members when they are spelled down. With 50 spellers competing, 10 from each school, the first person to drop out of the competition received one point; the second person, two points and so on. In totaling each team's points, Chelsea had the highest total and was declared the Conference Champion.

vanced to the school spell-down. Then the top 10 or alternates represented Beach school at the conference contest.

Beach School Survives Possible Gas Line Leak

Beach Middle school was forced to close Wednesday, March 31 because of a possible gas leak within the building.

According to Principal Al Conklin, the gas lines had just been regenerated and apparently some of the gas was spilled. Though no gas leak was discovered, it took most of the day for gas company employees to track down the cause of the gas fumes that had permeated Beach school.

School re-opened, as usual, Thursday, April 1.

High School Baseball Team in Florida for Spring Training Week

Members of Chelsea's 1982 varsity baseball team packed their bags and headed to Venice, Fla., 12 miles south of Sarasota, Friday, April 2, for their annual spring training.

Accompanying the group was coach Wayne Welton, and chaperones Robin Raymond, Tom Nemeth and their families.

Leaving at approximately 4:30 p.m., the baseball caravan was scheduled to arrive in the sunny south sometime Saturday evening at which time a 30-man Army tent would be pitched for the players.

Their weekly itinerary was planned to include a trip to Busch Gardens, Tampa, Sunday with rigorous practice to begin Monday and continue through the week, culminating in the traditional Blue-Gold game Saturday morning, April 10.

According to Wayne Welton, practice would be scheduled daily between the hours of 7:30 a.m. and noon and would include a host of drills and the like. Thereafter, the group is scheduled to have lunch and dinner together with afternoons and evenings open for swimming, tennis, movie-going, etc.

Welton explains that the annual spring training is designed to provide a number of things. First, it is used as a supplement to any senior trip that members of the team might be forced to forfeit because of their commitment to baseball. Secondly, from a coaching standpoint, the warm climate is ideal for practices and, finally, from a social point of view, this week-long trip is frequently the first major vacation for the participants and provides an atmosphere conducive to strengthening present friendships and developing others.

Chelsea's 1982 baseball team will depart from Venice Saturday afternoon, returning home sometime in the afternoon on Easter Sunday.

CHS Wrestler Wins Ypsilanti Running Event

Chelsea wrestler Travis Rudd took part in the March Madness run sponsored by Ping's Dojo Health Club of Ypsilanti and held Saturday, March 27. He placed first in the 19 and under age group, running a six mile course. This was Rudd's running debut and his reason for taking part was in order to stay in shape for wrestling.

For his efforts, Rudd received a plaque and shirt.

He is the son of Max and Sue Rudd of 2352 Loeffler Rd., Chelsea.

The number of smokers who have quit is rising steadily. From 1978 to 1980, the ranks of former smokers increased by 1.8 million to 33.3 million.

Leading the list of returning juniors is defending league pole vault champion David Wojcicki and all-state cross country runner Mark Brosnan.

Other juniors who will contribute to the Bulldog cause are hurdlers Mike Hntzen and Matt McCallum; sprinters Kevin Richardson and Russell Harris; distance runners Dave Kies (all-league and region in cross country) and Steve Cattell; newcomers Randy Krichbaum, high jumper; Del Magee, distance runner; Garrett Carlson, 400 meters; and swimmers Dave Nicola in the discus and Sean Oxner in the pole vault.

Sophomors to take note of are sprinter Scott Cooper, weight man Gar DeVoe, and distance runners Eric Green, Allen Cole and Tom Nemeth.

In the freshman class, distance runner Jared Bradley bears watching along with Jason Pierson (hurdles, high jump), Scott Miller (sprints), Kyle Kemmish

Track Team Bolstered By 18 Letterwinners

Chelsea High school boys track team should be one of the strongest fielded in recent years. Coach Pat Clarke welcomes back no less than 18 letterwinners this spring to join with 22 other varsity candidates who are out for track.

Leading the group of returning letterwinners is senior four-year letterman Bob Benedict, who is defending league champion at 800 meters (1:59) and an all-league, all-region cross country standout.

Another four-year man is Toby Boyd, a sprinter-long jumper who has looked especially strong in practice this spring.

Seniors Todd Sprague and Ken Nicholas are both defending league champions in the shot put and discus. Sprague is throwing over 52 feet already while Nicholas is going over 160 feet in the discus.

Other seniors to be counted on are Russell Ramsey in the sprints, Herbert Pearson in the long jump and sprints, Darin Pierson in the hurdles and high jump and track newcomer Jeff Lantis, an all-state football flanker.

(sprints), Ed Brosnan (pole vault sprints), Dan Fenton (pole vault, sprints and long jump) and Steve Hunn (sprints).

"We will be as strong as we've ever been since I've coached here," said Coach Pat Clarke. "I must say, however, that the league is very strong and there is not a clear-cut favorite," continued Clarke.

Assisting Clarke with this year's team is veteran track coach Bert Kruse who commented on this year's team by saying, "We'll show up to make things interesting for the other teams in the league."

The following is a Southeastern Conference outlook for the 1982 track season.

Lincoln: Defending SEC and regional champs, the Railsplitters are again talented, led by all-state football tailback sprinter Dan Johnson, regional shot put champion Tony Cook and stand-out hurdler Tony Curry.

Saline: The Hornets will field their strongest team in recent years to make them a solid choice for the league crown. They are led by sprinters George Tilt, Todd Knepper, Mark Veal, hurdler Dan Pope and distance all-stater Mark Pagliano.

Milan: Led by premier sprinters James Taylor and Nick O'Hare, the Big Reds will field a solid team.

Tecumseh: Featuring distance man Nick Osborn and high jumper Dave Champanois, the Indians will be rebuilding this year.

Jackson County Western: Hurdler Bill Shempf and middle distance ace John Parks will lead a rejuvenated Panther squad this spring.

Dexter: The Dreadnaughts, led by premier sprinter Jamie Carpenter, who is described as faster than greased lightning, will be rebuilding this spring.

Chelsea: The Bulldogs are strong across the board of the 18 events, but they will need a lot of work, a positive attitude and some degree of luck if the spring of 1982 is to continue to be the "year of the Dogs."

Wrestling Club Places 10 in Meet

Members of the Chelsea Wrestling Club traveled to Grass Lake Saturday, March 27 to participate in a tournament and ending the day with a total of 10 Chelsea wrestlers placing.

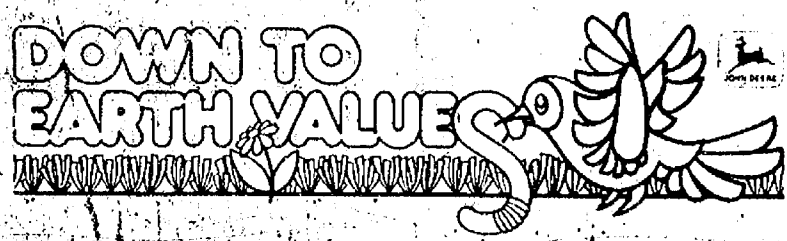

In the 8 and under wrestling category, six participants won medals for their efforts. Bryndon Skelton and Bryan Schulz each took first place while Ian Dyer, Sean Rolsten, Colby Skelton and Chris Gibson earned second place medals.

Others participating in the 8 and under class were Linda Gandy, Don Gandy, Michael Montange, Jeffrey Montange, Vincent Stahl, Scott Centilli and Doug Steele.

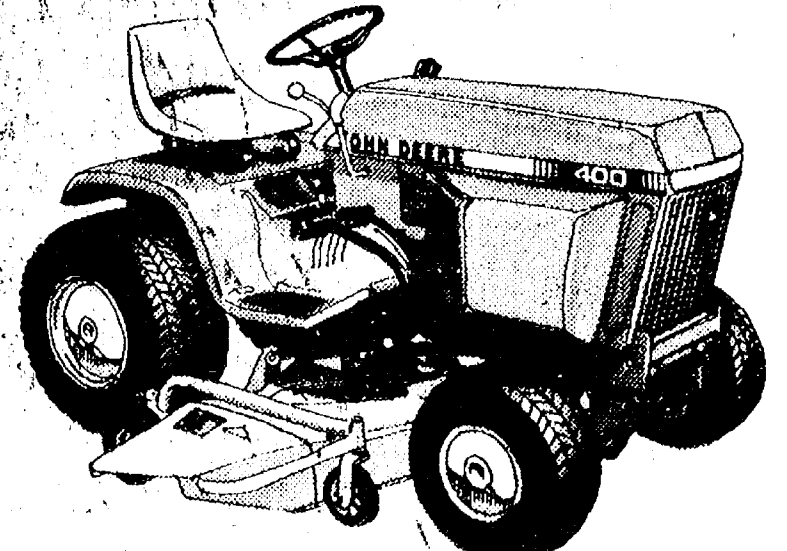

Chelsea's 9- and 10-year-old competitors included Eric Hanna, Alan Hanna and Greg Clark while 11- and 12-year-olds taking part included Rick Finch, Rob Finch, Tony Flintoft, Brant Snyder and Dwayne Elkins.

Each wrestler in the 13- to 14-year-old category earned medals at the Grass Lake tournament. Taking home a first-place medal was Chuck Downer while Peter Hanna and Mark O'Toole took second-place awards and Chad Romine won a third-place medal.

The vast majority of smokers and non-smokers believe that teachers, doctors and other health professionals should set a good example by not smoking. More than 70 percent of smokers who go through a pack or more a day claim they would quit if urged by their physician to do so.

Getting Tackle Ready For The Season

To avoid casting any gloom on your next fishing season, it's best to check your reel now. Does it turn as quickly as it should? Does the bail flip over smoothly? Does the bail flip over smoothly? All these are ways to tell whether your reel should be oiled.

A simple way to check your line is to wrap a length of it around your hand (only the lighter pound test lines), reel off some more and wrap it around your other hand. Then give a strong tug. If it breaks, move down the line a little more and repeat. If the line continues to break, it's time to re-spool.

Two-Story Story

Issued July 25, 1871 to Wilhelm Schneider of Davenport, Ia., Patent No. 117,336 was for a two-story carousel with more than 50 animal figures to ride. Unfortunately, the two-story version was neither practical nor successful. Greenfield Village, Dearborn, offers visitors a chance to ride on a 1913 Herschell Spillman Carousel, complete with frog, chicken and accompanying music from a 1916 Wurlitzer Band Organ.

ACATS Goal: To Help Gifted, Talented Children

ACATS or Association for Creative and Academically Talented Students is an organization begun in the spring of 1981 and made up of adults in the community interested in the needs and concerns of talented and gifted children and their families.

It was originally started with a group of parents whose children were involved in Special Projects, but has expanded to include anyone in the community who has an interest in its goals. Members have children from pre-school to high school, with a wide range of abilities. Some children are involved with the TAG program (Talented and Gifted/Special Projects), some are not. Some have academic strengths, some are artistically talented and some have musical abilities. What they each have in common is the need for an opportunity to develop their individual special interests.

ACATS aims include providing the means to learn more about the gifted and talented, to promote in the community an understanding of these needs and to support the Chelsea schools in providing quality education for local children.

During its brief existence, ACATS has been involved in a number of activities including sponsoring summer classes and Super Saturday classes on such topics as computer programming and games, nature studies, creative problem solving, typing and more; running a computer drop-in room; helping to financially sponsor the Beach Middle school Equations Club to attend the MLAG tournament play-offs in 1981; sponsoring a Future Problem Solving Team from South school; providing articles about gifted and talented to all staff members one time monthly to help increase awareness and assist in staff development efforts; and developing a community-based mentor program whereby adults with a particular area of interest and expertise are teamed with children who are intensely interested and wish to learn from the adult.

These and many other activities involve members from North, South, Beach and Chelsea High school. Meetings are held on the third Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the TAG room at North school. Visitors are always welcome to attend.

Evangelist Will Speak At N. Sharon Church

Easter

As green grass and warm sunshine begin to push aside the ice and snow of Winter, we celebrate the Resurrection of Jesus Christ with jubilation and a sense of ever increasing wonder.

All over the world families rejoice as they come together in fervent prayer and thoughtful contemplation.

We join our good friends and neighbors in proclaiming the glory of this holiest of holidays, and wish them its many blessings.

As you recall that miraculous morn, may you find comfort and inspiration in His message of faith and the promise of new life to come for all. Our thanks for your valued friendship and patronage.
