Theatre Workshop Sessions Offered

In co-operation with the Chelsea Community Players, Chelsea Community Education is sponsoring theater workshops in preparation for the upcoming theater auditions.

The first of these workshops, "Accents," was held April 20 and 22, between the hours of 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. in the Chelsea High school auditorium. Taught by Jan Koenigter, participants were given training to alter the voice and create the sounds of various regional and foreign accents. Emphasis was placed on English and Cockney accents.

The second workshop, also taught by Jan, is entitled "How to Audition" and will assist participants in preparing for an audition and presenting themselves effectively. This workshop will be held on Tuesday and Thursday, May 4 and 6, and will also take place in the CHS auditorium from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

The workshops are limited to a maximum of 16 individuals and, should the number of registrants exceed the limit, additional sections may be organized. Pre-registration is required and there is an $8 fee per session.

Questions regarding this new addition to the Community Education roster may be directed to the office, 475-9830.

Expedited Bargaining Underway

Beginning Sunday afternoon, April 25, members of the Chelsea Board of Education and teacher's union began a session of expedited bargaining in hopes of establishing quickly a contract settlement for the coming school year.

In an effort to bring management and labor closer together, expedited bargaining is an attempt to condense the bargaining process and narrow issues down.

If, during this bargaining, a settlement is reached between the two groups, further information will be given at a later date. However, if together, the two groups are unable to affect a settlement and the talks fail, no discussion of what did or did not occur will take place, as a part of the pre-negotiation agreement between the two groups.

SEC Festival of Arts Slated at High School On Saturday, Sunday

In an attempt to bring schools within the Southeastern Conference together in addition to athletic competition, a Festival of the Arts has been scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, May 1 and 2.

This festival will include artworks from all schools in the athletic conference as well as Chelsea High school music, speech and drama departments.

Beginning at 12-noon Saturday, the Chelsea art department will host a league art show that will exhibit student artwork from the SEC schools of Milan, Tecumseh, Lincoln, Saline, Jackson County Western, Dexter and Chelsea. All works will be on display in the CHS cafeteria and will be judged by Maureen Lucas of Pinckney High school and Charles Fensch of Eastern Michigan University. Ribbons will be awarded to all winners.

The school will remain open throughout the day and, at 8 p.m., a musical collage, comprising all facets of the Chelsea music department as well as the regional forensics winners, will be performed in the auditorium.

Then, on Sunday, the displayed artworks will re-open to the public at 1 p.m. as strolling minstrels and chamber-type musicians entertain guests until 5 p.m. An outdoor concert may also be performed Sunday, weather-permitting.

According to Chelsea High school Principal John Williams, the purpose of this first annual Festival of the Arts is to highlight and spotlight Chelsea High school students and to provide the Southeastern Conference with more than just athletic competition.

There is no charge for this presentation and members of the community are encouraged to attend and support the various facets of art, drama and music as carried out by nearly 300 students of Chelsea High school.

Orchestras Plan Cabaret Concert

Preparations are underway for another "first" for the Chelsea orchestras: a cabaret-style pops concert. On Friday, May 7, at 8 p.m., the Chelsea high school and middle school orchestras will transform the high school gym into a cabaret setting, with tables and chairs, so that members of the audience can order refreshments while listening to popular music.

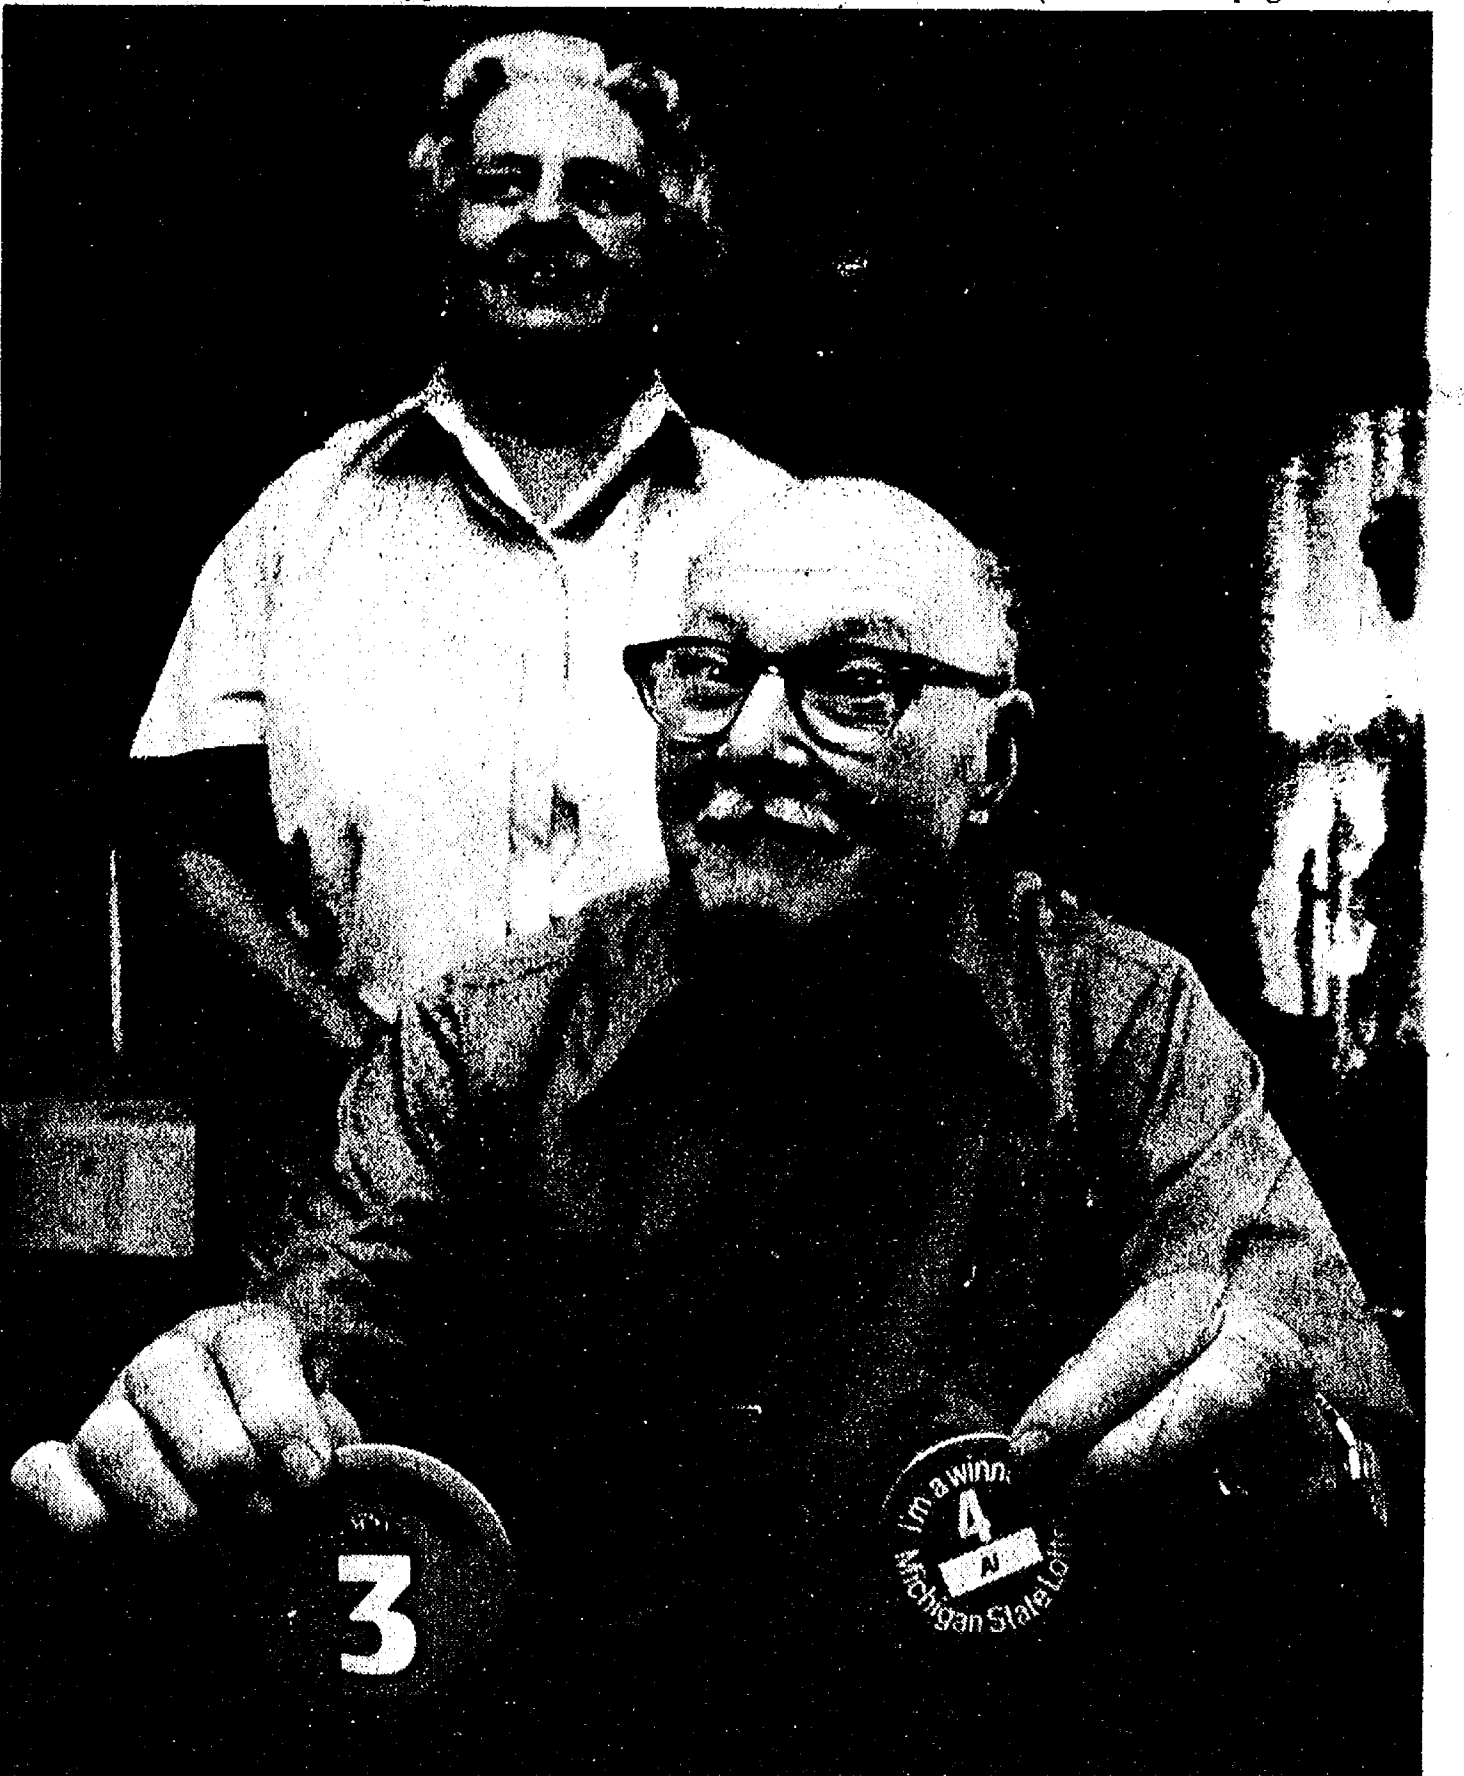

The high school orchestra will begin the program with the "March of the Toreadors" from Carmen—music used in the television series "Bad News Bears" and the current best-selling album, "Hooked on Classics." This will be followed by other light classical tunes such as the famous "Can-Can" by Offenbach.

Next, the Beach orchestra will perform such popular favorites as "Nadia's Theme," "I Want To Hold Your Hand," "You Light Up My Life," "Downtown," and others.

The high school orchestra will return with music from "The Pink Panther," "The Sound of Music," and "Rocky." The highlight of the evening will be "New Horizons in Music Appreciation," P.D.Q. Bach's ver-

WHAT A WINNER! Thursday evening found Al Genovese and wife Marian, in Detroit as Al was among five finalists vying for a potential $1 million grand prize in the Michigan State Lottery. Though not returning home a millionaire, Genovese did win $40,000 instantly followed by an additional $50,000 to be distributed to him over the next two years. All smiles and grins, Al's opinion of his winnings: "Just wonderful."

Al Genovese Wins $90,000 Lottery Prize

How does it feel to be a part of the million dollar lottery drawing? How does it feel to win $90,000 after purchasing just two lottery tickets per week since the Michigan Lottery got its start in the early 70s? Al Genovese knows. "It's just wonderful," he beamed Friday at his rural Chelsea home.

Genovese was one of five finalists vying for a possible $1 million Thursday evening in Detroit. At the end of the evening, Al was a happy man who was $90,000 richer after winning $40,000 initially and then an additional $50,000 following a Detroit fireman's ultimate drawing of more than $500,000.

Now there's the question of what to do with this new-found wealth, $40,000 of which was presented by emcee Dick Purtan Thursday, the other $50,000 of which will be received over the next two years.

Will Genovese and his wife of 31 years, Marian, retire from his 32-year-old appliance repair shop on Jackson Rd. in Ann Arbor. "I'm going to semi-retire," he explained. Will Genovese and Marian, who celebrated their 31st anniversary last week, spend lavishly, take long vacations, buy something they've always wanted but have been unable to afford? Not likely.

Still, a possible trip to Italy is being considered as well as numerous shorter trips in this country. "I'd like to see the United States before traveling to Europe," Al said.

But, in a profile presented by Dick Purtan prior to the grand drawing Thursday night, Genovese was quoted to have said that if he were to win the elusive $1 million, he and Marian would row out into the middle of a lake and sit and talk a while. Now, $90,000 richer, these parents of four and grandparents of 15 can row out into the middle of anything they'd like and do whatever they want.

Payless Payday Near Without

Tax Hike: Milliken

Making another pitch for legislative approval of a six-month income tax increase, Governor William G. Milliken has warned that the state could face some payless paydays.

Giving the Legislature a May 1 deadline for approval of a 1 percent income tax increase, retroactive from April 1 to Sept. 30, Milliken said the state is living on borrowed time as far as its financial responsibilities are concerned.

The state had payless paydays during the G. Mennen Williams administration which resulted from a dispute between a Republican Legislature and the Democratic governor.

Milliken said that was a contrived crisis, but added that the state's problems now are real. If the proposed financial package is not in place by May 1, he said the state will have lost another month's revenue and would be unable to afford to make revenue sharing, university and school aid payments.

If the package is not approved, he added, the first sign of failure would be a downgrading of the state's credit rating.

Previous action by the House to approve the temporary 1 percent tax hike in the income tax appears to have bought the state some time relative to the state's credit rating.

Budget officials also said another important aspect in staying off a critical review of the state's credit rating was approval by the full Legislature of the 10-cent per pack boost in the cigarette tax with the revenue solely devoted to restoring the state's cash position.

In another move reflecting the state's financial condition, the governor is telling state department directors to prepare layoff plans for their employees and to turn those plans into his office.

At the same time, a federal mediator has joined the effort to get agreement between the state and the largest state employee union, the Michigan State Employees Association.

Milliken's legal advisor, Peter Ellsworth, said ordering the layoff plans to be prepared is not a "tactical" maneuver to put pressure on wage concession talks.

"The longer we wait, the more people are going to be affected by the layoffs," he said noting that once the layoff plans are in hand, the actual layoff notices could be issued very quickly.

Stanley Kravitz, head of the Office of State Employer, said the statement did not mean that layoffs were a foregone conclusion. But "we're not doing anybody a favor by waiting" any longer before getting the notices ready, he said.

Kravitz said it is the governor's feeling that the state can no longer wait before getting the notices ready. "It's just a fact of life. There comes a point when you have to make a move. We've given chances for the talks to suc-

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Partly because all the fellers have passed their three score and 10 they are tuned to news dealing with old folks. Probable, that's why Bug Hookum come to the session at the country store Saturday night with a clipping about "Juicee Treat," a new soft drink fer dogs billed as the first of its kind. We live in a strange world, Bug said, when we got old human beings that can't afford hamburger buying all beef dog food fer themselves off the same grocery shelves that offer 32 ounces of vitamin enriched beef flavored drink fer dogs for $1.

Bug said the North Carolina company that makes "Juicee Treat" says four out of five dogs prefer it to water, so odds are this first of a kind won't be the last. Another item Bug had saw last week told where a woman had bought a custom-built water bed fer her cat that has arthritis and has trouble sleeping on an ordinary pillow. If a survey is took, Bug said, it probable will show that four out of five cats prefer water beds to pillows, and that will open up another new line fer pet shops.

The wonder, Bug declared, is not that we treat our pets like people, it's that we don't treat one another at least as good. He had saw a report out of Florida where crime is increasing fastest among old people that are poor and alone. The FBI last year arrested 200,000 people over 60 in this country fer ever crime in the book, twict the number of 10 year ago. The Florida study found that most of the elderly were pushed into crime by poverty. The have outlived their usefulness and they have been discarded, was Bug's words.

General speaking, the fellers was agreed with Bug that in to many cases the honor in honoring your parents has been changed to ignore. Clem Webster said he was proud of that woman in California that quit waiting on her three children hand and foot, and told them she was on strike until they started being more helpful and thankful fer all she had been doing. It didn't take many days of cooking and cleaning, Clem said, fer the kids to relize the bargain they had been gitting. Clem said he was reminded of the story of the girl that brought a friend by after school to find the house a mess and her mother watching soap operas. When the girl asked what happened, the mom said "you've always wondered what I do all day. Today I didn't do it." Maybe these children will remember when the time comes fer them to look after their parents, was Clem's words.

Personal, Mister Editor, it's not good to allus look on the dark side, but I figger them old folks in Florida had larceny in their hearts before they got old. We look fer excuses when there ain't any, and our hearts go out to the feller that kills his parents and throws himself on the mercy of the court because he's a orphan. This line of thinking would lead us to excuse the feller that pulled a knife on a 11-year-old Girl Scout in Jacksonville, Fla. the other day and took her $40 from cookie sales. You think he needed the money more than she did?

Yours truly,

ceed, and they may yet succeed, but we have to be ready," Kravitz said.

The Milliken administration is also asking the Civil Service Commission to direct that the 16,000 non-union civil service workers either take six one-day layoffs for the rest of the fiscal year (through Sept. 30) or work 55 hours without pay, banking that time for future compensation.

Bad Winter for Roads

If you thought the winter of 1981-82 was bad you are right and the cost figures for snow and ice control and removal on the state's highway system prove it.

The Department of Transportation has reported that costs to control snow and ice on the highway system jumped more than 25 percent this winter compared to the previous year.

The department reported spending $38 million for winter maintenance for 9,450 miles of highway, compared to $30.1 million in 1980-81.

Lupus Foundation Plans Workshop For Patients, Families

Michigan Lupus Foundation is sponsoring a one-day workshop for patients with Lupus and other connective tissue disease on May 15 at the Ann Arbor Holiday Inn Westbank, located at 2900 Jackson Rd. It will begin at 9 a.m. and run to 4 p.m.

The workshop will be geared to educating the patient about their disease as well as means of coping with a chronic illness. Family members are also encouraged to attend. There is a registration fee of $12 single or $20 couple, including lunch.

Lupus is an auto-immune disease, which means that the body's defense system attacks the tissues of its own organs. In laymen's terms, one could say Lupus wages a civil war within one's self. Lupus, more than any other major disease, suffers from lack of awareness and understanding, both publicly and professionally. It affects more people than such widely known diseases as Muscular Dystrophy, Cystic Fibrosis and Leukemia (approximately 50,000 new cases per year). It ranges from mild to life threatening and is often misdiagnosed. Without awareness of Lupus, early diagnosis is almost impossible. A physician must first think of it in order to test for it.

For more information or for registration, contact the Ann Arbor chapter of the Michigan Lupus Foundation at 665-7535 or write the State office at 19001 E. Eight Mile Rd., East Detroit 48021.

With 4.2 million members and supporters in all 50 states, the National Wildlife Federation is the nation's largest citizens conservation organization.

Chelsea Charms Compete in Michigan State Baton Contest

The annual Miss Majorette of Michigan baton contest was held Saturday, April 10 in Petersburg. Chelsea Charms feature twirler, 10-year-old Michelle Graflund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Graflund, tried for the title.

Miss Majorette of Michigan is a preliminary contest for Miss Majorette of America, an NBTA event which selects the best "all-around majorette" in twirling, strutting and modeling with interview.

Michelle scored highest in the modeling event where she placed fourth. In twirling she placed ninth and in strutting she placed fifth. Scoring an over-all seventh place for the title, Michelle represented her group extremely well against a very competitive group of twirlers from across the state.

In the open contest (open to twirlers from any state), little Nikki Schultz captured her first first-place trophy in special beginner solo, 0-6 division. She also placed second in military strut (protective clause with no first-place given), fourth in basic twirl solo and also competed in basic strut. Nikki is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Schultz.

Primer on Dietary Minerals Offered By Consumer Agency

Minerals are more than precious gems. They're also essential nutrients for your body.

To give you some help on finding these "gems," the Food and Drug Administration has published a free reprint from its magazine, the FDA Consumer. To get your copy of A Primer on Dietary Minerals, send a postcard to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 524K, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Mineral elements have two general body functions—building and regulating. Their building functions affect the skeleton and all soft tissues. The regulating function involves a wide variety of systems, such as heartbeat, blood clotting, maintenance of the internal pressure of body fluids, nerve responses, and transport of oxygen from the lungs to the tissues. Some of these functions require large quantities of minerals while others may only be required in minute traces.

So-called macro minerals are the ones that the body needs in large amounts. These include calcium, phosphorus, sodium, chloride, potassium, magnesium, and sulfur. Calcium is present in the body in greater amounts than any other minerals—two or three pounds worth concentrated mostly in the bones and teeth. Green, leafy vegetables (except spinach), citrus fruit and beans are good sources.

You'll find phosphorus in meat, poultry, and whole-grain foods. Phosphorus, present with calcium in the teeth and bones, is an important part of almost every tissue in the body.

Table salt is made of sodium and chloride, and you probably already get more than you need. Potassium helps regulate body fluids. It's found in almost all foods.

Magnesium is also plentiful in most foods. Its job is to help convert food into energy. Sources include nuts, whole-grain cereals, dark green vegetables, and bananas.

Sulfur, an essential mineral for life, is involved in protein metabolism. You can get sulfur from eggs and many other foods. Other minerals, called "trace minerals," are needed in small amounts. These are iron, manganese, copper, iodine, zinc, cobalt, fluorine, and selenium.

But, even minerals that the body requires for good health can be harmful if you get too much. For instance, if you take all your daily required potassium in one single concentrated dose, severe illness can result. Each year, in fact, many children under 5 years of age are hospitalized from iron poisoning caused by accidentally swallowing multiple vitamin supplements. Other minerals can cause adverse health effects if you take as little as two times the required dose.

An excess of one mineral can upset the balance and function of other minerals in the body, and reduce your ability to perform physical tasks. Health problems can result from mineral overdose, such as anemia, bone demineralization and breakage, neurological disease, and fetal abnormalities.

When you order A Primer on Dietary Minerals (free), you'll also receive a free copy of the Consumer Information Catalog. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the free Catalog lists more than 200 selected free and low cost government consumer booklets.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Editor:

On Tuesday evening, April 20, the high school music departments gave a combined concert in the school gym.

This concert was excellent! The directors did an amazing job of combining the choirs, bands, and orchestra into a very moving program.

Every student who participated should feel very proud. I hope the music departments will make this concert an annual event.

M. K. Perry.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP 98—

On April 7, Girl Scout Cadette Troop No. 98 went to Crisler Arena to see The Police and their warm-up group, Joan Jett and the Blackhearts. The concert was packed with lots of people, young and old.

The rock concert was very exciting. Joan Jett and the Blackhearts were very good. They sang their hits, "I Love Rock 'N Roll" and "Crimson and Clover," among others. Everyone seemed to like them. We felt they were exceptionally good. When Joan Jett was through, they took time out to change the stage.

After about 20 minutes, The Police entered and most of the crowd went wild. They were excellent. They sang most of their songs including, "Ghost in the Machine," "Spirits in the Material World," and "Roxanne."

After the concert was over, we had a behind-the-scenes look at the concert. Karen Smith, the administrative assistant for the University of Michigan Major Events Office, gave us a tour and some information about setting up and taking down a concert. She explained the way they sell tickets and held the band and the people who set up. Each band has its own special needs and requests. There is a lot of work, but if they did not put all of that work into it, the concert would not have been as great as it was. It was a fun experience.

Carol Cordell and Tammy Jankuski.

CHELSEA WRESTLING CLUB: Kerry Kargel, right, makes sure that these 8 and under division wrestlers don't pull any questionable moves during a typical Thursday night practice for the 60-plus members of the Chelsea Wrestling Club.

Question: I am from Marquette and have some complaints. Mostly I'm tired of hearing about Detroit's problems. What has the state done for the Upper Peninsula lately?

Governor: Let me start by saying that I am very concerned with Upper Peninsula issues and recognize that Upper Peninsula residents have unique concerns. I have visited the Upper Peninsula more than any other Governor. In addition, I hold an annual State Affairs Conference in the Upper Peninsula. This year was the sixth time I traveled to the Upper Peninsula accompanied by department heads and other key administrators to talk directly to the people in the Upper Peninsula.

The conference was held April 17 in Escanaba at Bay de Noc Community College. Conferences are open to the public and last year more than 500 people attended.

I also visited Menominee, Marquette, Houghton and Ironwood, in addition to Escanaba. While in Marquette I appeared on a question and answer program at Northern Michigan University's public television station, WNMU-TV.

During last year's conference, I broke ground for two new plants: a new $483 million hardwood pulp mill which will provide much-needed jobs to the Upper Peninsula and a $78 million copper refinery at the White Pine Mine near Ontonagon also will help the local economy.

The state is active in promoting tourism in the Upper Peninsula. Last year the state set up a program for sight-seeing buses originating in St. Ignace. More than 2,300 people took the tour to see such sights as the Tahquamenon Falls and the Soo Locks.

We are continuing for the fourth year the See and Enjoy our Lakes, Lands and Streams (SELLS) program. More than 100 senior citizens worked 20 hours a week last year showing the splendor of the Upper Peninsula to tourists. This program not only provides jobs for the senior citizens but also promotes tourism in our state.

If you have a question for the Governor, please send it to: Ask the Governor, Executive Office, Press Section, State Capitol, Lansing 48909.

Hospital Surgeon Explains Skin Expansion Techniques

On Thursday, April 15, Dr. Eric D. Austad of Chelsea Community Hospital, made a presentation based on skin expansion techniques, at the American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeons News Briefing in Chicago.

This new skin-stretching technique that permits easier insertion of permanent implants in patients who have had defects due to breast cancer, other cancers, and accidents was outlined during the ASPRS science writers seminar, the first such media briefing held by ASPRS in 10 years.

The purpose of the technique, called tissue expansion, is to produce an excess of soft tissue next to a defect so that the "new" skin can be stretched easily over the defect and stitched into place, explained Dr. Austad, an instructor of plastic surgery at the University of Michigan Medical School.

These defects are scars or depressions that develop after surgery for cancer or trauma. Frequently, overlying skin becomes so tight when it heals that there is almost no room for an implant to fit. In the case of a breast removal, the tight skin often precludes a single-step placement of the standard implant.

When this skin is expanded, the final cosmetic and functional result is relatively good, explained Dr. Austad.

The technique involves the surgical insertion of a temporary implant that is inflated either by periodic injection of a sterile solution or a self-inflating mechanism. The principle is the same as a pregnant woman's abdominal skin expanding gradually to accommodate her growing fetus.

The skin expander is removed before the reconstructive surgery which may involve the insertion of an implant or Silastic prosthesis.

To date, the various expanders have been used on a limited basis when extra skin has been needed in reconstructive surgery involving the arms, legs, scalp, breasts and face.

Dr. Austad cited the success of California surgeon Chedomir Radovan who used a temporary expander device in 68 breast cancer reconstructions. "His results are excellent, and I believe that the tissue expansion technique is the most significant advance in breast reconstruction since the development of the Cronin-filled breast prosthesis in 1964," he said.

Currently, Dr. Austad and co-workers are conducting more research on ways to make the self-inflating implant inflate more rapidly and safely and to avoid rupture.

Dr. Austad projects that this technique could eventually be used successfully for skin repairs in burn victims and for such congenital problems as cleft lip and palate.

Founded in 1931, the American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeons promotes optimal quality care for plastic surgery patients, meets the professional needs of plastic surgeons through educational programs, promotes the highest professional standards in the specialty and supports the socioeconomic and professional activities of its members.

The ASPRS has a membership of 2,600 plastic surgeons.

Farm Bureau Urges Extension Service Be For Farm Community

Voicing concern about the recent direction of the Co-operation Extension Service, Farm Bureau officials told a House Agriculture subcommittee last week that the agency should direct more of its efforts toward the farm community and less toward the urban population.

Testifying at a USDA operations oversight hearing, Farm Bureau officials noted the organization's traditional support of the Extension Service, but said, "At a time of relatively low farm income and a need to reduce federal spending, Farm Bureau urges the Co-operative Extension Service to concentrate its programming on the agricultural community where the prospects are best for improving farmer production and marketing efficiencies."

New programs providing services to non-farm people should not come at the expense of programs for farm and ranch families, they said.

'SAFE BOATING TIPS'

From Ann Arbor Flotilla 17-03, U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary

★ Free Motorboat Examinations Available

Having your boat examined free by the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary could save your life. Having the necessary equipment to save your life aboard your boat in the time of need improves your and your passengers chances of survival, like one PFD (life jacket) per person, plus one throwable device.

These volunteers—the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary—have been taught to examine your craft for safety, to see if your boat meets Federal and State laws, plus added safety equipment recommended by the Auxiliary to help save your life.

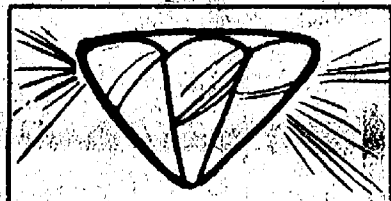

Having your boat examined NOW puts you in a relaxed position before you go cruising up the river. It makes you one of thousands of safety minded boaters across the nation. It makes you a person that not only thinks of himself but his family as well. The old cliché, "Better safe than sorry" starts here.

When you receive this free courtesy motorboat examination and you pass, the Coast Guard Auxiliary "Seal of Safety" decal is applied to your boat. It lets law enforcement officers know that your boat meets their standards. If your craft fails the examination, no citation is given; however, you are given a check-sheet for your next examination so you can receive the "Seal of Safety" decal.

If you wish to have your boat examined, contact Lynn Norton, Courtesy Marine Examination Officer for Flotilla 17-03 of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., at 313/971-4547.

The half hour or so it takes to examine your boat and equipment will do much to assure you of a safe and pleasant boating season in 1982.

Most topaz is white or blue. The famed golden variety is actually very rare.

Present a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, April 19 were Schumann, Heller, Dils, Grau, Comeau, Snyder, Superintendent Van Meer, Assistant Superintendent Mills, Principals Williams, Wojcicki, Benedict, Conklin, Assistant Principal Vogel, Community Education Director Rogers, Special Education Director DeYoung, Athletic Director Nemeth, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by Vice-President Dale A. Schumann.

Board approved the minutes of the March 15 meeting.

The Board accepted, with regret, the resignation of Dorothy Thodeson, effective June 11. Mrs. Thodeson has been a classroom teacher for more than 30 years, the last 15 of which have been served as first grade teacher at South Elementary school.

Board approved the following curriculum changes effective with the 1982-83 school year:

—the phasing out of German being taught as a foreign language; Only German II will be taught in the 1982-83 school year.
—approval of physical education for academic credit.

—raising the graduation requirements from 20 to 21 credits, requiring that 20 credits shall be from the academic subjects. Currently 15 academic credits are required. These requirements will be phased in over the next four years.

Board approved second-year probation for Sally Weber, LD teacher at South school; Karen Jane Wilson, agriculture/French teacher at the high school; Sandra Mandel, French/Spanish teacher at Beach Middle school.

The Board granted tenure to the following teachers: Lynn Davis, speech therapist at North school; John Capper, EMI, Beach school; Ann Schaffner, physical education teacher at Beach; and the following high school teachers: Alice McLain, reading; William Gourley, band; Loren Winn, metals/welding; Kieran Kargel, art; Janeen Messimer, LD; Ken Sullins, math.

Board approved continuing tenure for individual teachers at North, South, Beach and the High school.

Board approved a medical leave of absence, without pay, for Judy Bottum, effective April 22, through June 11, 1982.

Board approved the hiring of Von Acker as high school girls swim coach and middle school co-ed swim coach.

The Board approved placing the following teachers on lay-off status: Karen Jane Wilson, high school agriculture/French teacher; Judy Bottum, EMI teacher at South school; Tom Fletke, high school government/history teacher; and Dale Richards, building trades teacher. These lay-offs are necessitated by either declining enrollment, a teacher's return from leave, or lack of certification.

Board approved a rental agreement with the Chelsea Community Hospital, leasing two classrooms at Beach Middle school for a pediatrician's office.

Approval was given by the Board for the purchase of two 66-passenger buses, awarding the chassis bid to Palmer Ford at a unit cost of $18,678.66, and the bus body bid to C. R. Equipment (Superior) at a unit cost of $10,800; total unit cost of $27,478.76; also, one 48-passenger bus equipped with wheel chair lift for special education at a unit price of $24,674.65, to the same low bidders.

The Board adopted an official resolution for the June 14 annual school election which will have four ballots: election of two school board members (from candidate list of Raymond Coulter, James Patterson, Dale Schumann, Daniel Snyder); renewal of the 20.5 mills for operating purposes for the years 1982 through 1986; increase in the tax rate limitation by ½ mill specifically earmarked for maintenance for the years 1982 through 1987 (Board pledges to reduce the debt retirement millage by ½ mill); Washtenaw Intermediate School District increase of ½ mill for special education operation.

Board approved continuing contracts for all administrators.

Board adopted a resolution to borrow $475,000 in anticipation of operating tax collections. This borrowing resolution was necessary due to the inability to receive monies from the delinquent tax revolving fund in time to meet current expenditures and payroll disbursements.

Board recessed into executive session to review negotiating procedures for expedited bargaining, and to establish negotiation parameters with the chief negotiator, George Johnson of the Michigan Association of School Boards.

Principal Williams presented, as an information item, the continuation of the cum laude designation of 9.5 (B plus) or above, and further recommended the concept of summa cum laude, an honor for students who achieve 10.5 cumulative grade point average including the last semester.

The meeting adjourned at 12:50 a.m.

Farm Implement Day Scheduled At South School

On Thursday, April 29, 14 local farmers will travel to South Elementary school to provide students with an opportunity to learn more about farming and farm implements. This event will follow closely last year's Truck Day, whereby trucks from local businesses and departments headed to South school and the youngsters were able to ask questions regarding the uses of the specific vehicles.

Local farmers will arrive at South school with a specific farm tool or vehicle at approximately 12:45 p.m. and students will begin their farming adventure at 1 p.m.

The reason for Farm Implement Day is to broaden the children's information on farm implements. With farming so widespread in the Chelsea area, this should prove to be a valuable experience.

In case of rain, this special event will be postponed until Friday, April 30.

According to the U.S. Department of Labor, General Motors Corp. and the United Automobile Workers (CIO) in 1948 signed the first major contract with an "escalator" clause, providing for wage increases based on the Consumer Price Index.

Small Animal Day Slated at MSU Campus

Life down on the farm may be glimpsed May 1 when Michigan State University shows off a variety of newborn animals to the public.

Called Small Animals Day, the annual program is organized and hosted by the MSU College of Agriculture and Natural Resources' Student Senate, an undergraduate student government organization. More than 100 student volunteers will serve as clowns, tour guides and traffic controllers.

From 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. buses will leave the parking lot at the corner of Farm Lane and Mt. Hope Rd. to take visitors on the farm tour. The buses will stop at the horse, poultry, sheep, beef and swine barns. Visitors may stay as long as they like at each location.

Refreshments will be sold at some locations. There is no charge for the tour but donations will be accepted to cover transportation costs. Special transportation is available for handicapped and may be arranged by calling Maryci Cobb, Small Animals Day coordinator, at (517) 355-0236.

To make herb tea from fresh leaves, measure three teaspoons leaves to a cup of boiling water. Bruise the leaves, steep them and then strain from the liquid.

Maple Syrup Harvest Completed for Season

Michigan's first harvest of the year—one of the state's oldest of its kind—is being completed.

The maple syrup season, tradition since the days of the early Indians, has this year run about seven weeks compared to four weeks last year. But this year's syrup quality is somewhat lower than last year's.

Mel Koelling, Michigan State University Co-operative Extension Service forestry specialist, explains that undesirable darkening of the usual amber color is due to abnormal weather conditions. Though the darker colored syrup is considered lower quality, the texture and taste of Michigan syrup is as fine as ever, Koelling adds.

"Other than that," he says, "fanciers will find Michigan maple syrup at its usual texture and taste."

Michigan's maple syrup production, usually around 100,000 gallons annually, is valued at about $2 million and is made by about 700 commercial producers. This year's price per gallon is about $19 because of the large carryover from last year and this year's lower quality.

Nutritionally, maple syrup is comparable to most sugars. One tablespoon of maple syrup provides about 50 calories. It differs from most sugars because it is a natural, unrefined food that can give recipes a different, delicate flavor.

Maple syrup may easily be substituted for other sugar products. For each cup of granulated sugar, substitute 1 1/2 cups of maple syrup, add 1/4 teaspoon of baking soda for each full cup of maple syrup added and reduce the other liquids in the recipe by one-fourth.

Maple syrup production was popular with the Indians throughout early Michigan even before the arrival of the first French explorers. Maple syrup and maple sugar were popular barter items among tribes living along Great Lakes shorelines and the St. Lawrence River. In the Grayling area, Indians were making maple syrup well into the late 1800's.

Even the most elementary of today's energy-efficient maple syrup making units—properly called evaporators—would dazzle the early Indians, whose methods by any standard were laborious. They poured fresh sap into hollowed logs and boiled the sap down by dropping hot rocks into the log. They fished the rocks out when they cooled and repeated the process over and over until a syrup consistency was attained.

Early settlers improved upon the Indian's methods by adding wooden buckets to the sap collection process and by improving the evaporation process that for decades consisted essentially of a long, narrow and shallow pan placed over a roaring fire.

By 1860, maple syrup had become a major sweetener throughout the United States, with production peaking at more than 4.1 million gallons annually. Expansion of U.S. trade, however, started a decline in the popularity of maple syrup with the introduction of sugar cane, which is cheaper and easier to produce. During the two World Wars there was a resurgence in the use of maple syrup for cooking when sugar became scarce but it never regained the popularity it enjoyed in the late 1800's.

Today Show Films Candidate Ballenger

Last week a film crew from NBC's Today television show spent an entire day in eastern Shiawassee county walking with and filming a portion of Bill Ballenger's 1,000-mile walk across Michigan.

Ballenger, one of the leading Republican candidates for U.S. Senate, was filmed walking into and visiting the city of Durand, which is located mid-way between Flint and Lansing.

The feature story was scheduled to be aired nationally during "Bode's Journal," in the second hour of the Today Show (8-9 a.m.) on Friday, April 23.

"Walking Bill" Ballenger reached the midway point of his 1,000-mile walk last week between Fowler and Pawnee on M-21 in western Clinton county north of Lansing.

ATTENTION CHS CLASS OF '77

A few of us from the class have been meeting for the past two months planning our 5-Year Class Reunion. We have collected 75% of the addresses of our classmates, but now we are at a standstill! We have all our plans ready but now we need people for committees (band set-up, beer, etc.). If we don't have your support and interest, this reunion may not occur. Our next crucial meeting is on Wednesday, April 28, 1982 at 6:30 p.m. at Paul Bunyan's on Jackson Ave. We need you there. If you cannot attend the meeting, call 475-1774 or 475-2494 after 5:00 p.m. for further information.

FANTAIL PUSSY WILLOWS, ordered by Elsa Ordway in 1972 are, as far as she knows, no longer available through horticultural magazines/catalogs so, last year, she applied for a state license to sell individual trees that she and her husband Carroll raise on the Dancer Rd. farm that they have resided on since 1935. Always interested in flowers, floral arrangements and horticulture, Mrs. Ordway explains that her fantail pussy willows are ideal for line floral arrangements and serve as a conversation piece as compared to the typical pussy willow commonly found in yards and gardens.

Senior Citizens May Soon Have Place To Exhibit Crafts

Senior artisans will soon have a "place of their own" to exhibit and market their crafts.

Washtenaw County Community Services Agency is working in cooperation with many other county organizations and seniors in planning and developing a craft shop specifically designed to market hand-crafted items made by seniors.

"Plans are progressing like lightning for opening a non-profit senior store, run by and for older persons," according to Nancy Margolis, deputy director of the Washtenaw County Community Services Agency.

"The whole idea for a special store just for senior artists is unique in this area. The store will market quality art work and crafts. That's its primary purpose."

But there are lots of other reasons why such a store is important. The store will put to work older person's skills which may have been retired some years ago. All artists like (and need) a reason to produce. Business persons are interested in getting back into the work field and offer their years of experience as volunteers. "We even have had one call from a retired electrician who said he would like to help and knew that we would need such a skill in setting up a store," said Margolis.

"Pride in their work—and a reason to produce are two more benefits. Certainly recognition for their tremendous talent is another."

Last, but hardly least, this store will give seniors the opportunity to increase their earnings and their finances by selling their art work.

According to the 1980 census, there are 24,186 persons over the age of 60 in Washtenaw county. Seniors now make up 9% of the population.

"Using only 10% of the 1980 census figure, there are approximately 2,400 potential craft members within Washtenaw county. The extension of an American handicraft industry to the older population within our county can greatly assist in meeting many of their economic needs," said Carol Trevarrow, director of the CSA Foster Grandparent Program.

Any and all seniors who are interested in working on the project are encouraged to contact staff at CSA. Phone: 994-1650.

In addition, any and all seniors are invited to attend the next meeting of the developers which is scheduled for Thursday, April 29 at 10 a.m. at the Burns Park Senior Center, (Baldwin St. in Ann Arbor). For more information please call 994-1650.

Bulldog Sluggers Post 4-1 Record for Week

In "one of the finest high school baseball games of the season," according to Coach Wayne Welton, the varsity Bulldogs pulled off a 5-4 win over the Saline Hornets in a game dominated by the pitching staff of each team. John Welton struck out his first 10 batters, not allowing any hits until the fifth inning.

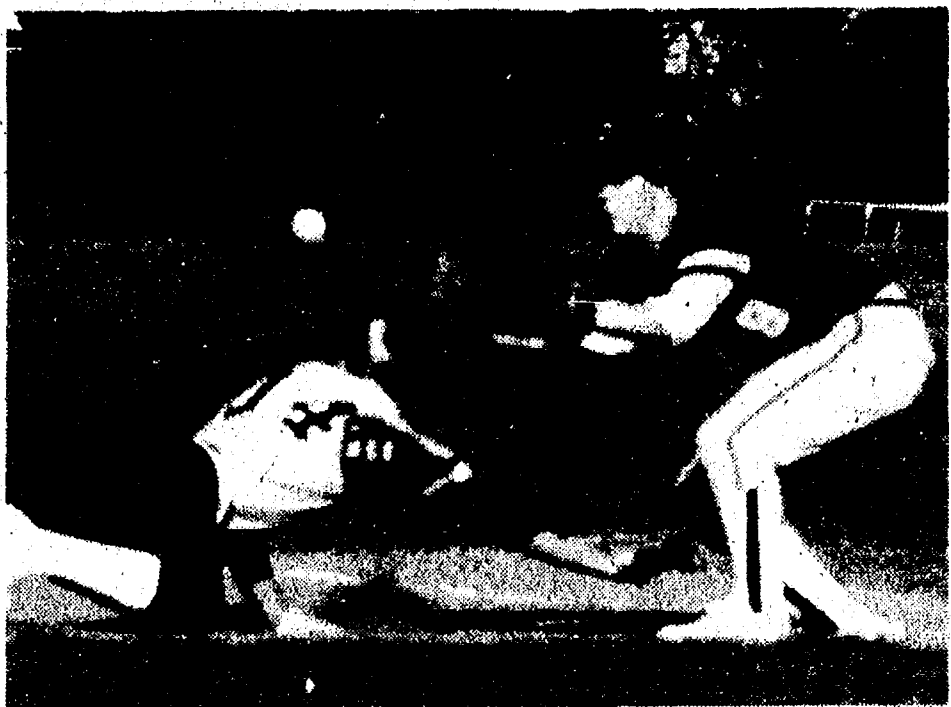

The Bulldogs got on the scoreboard in the fourth inning with two runs. Contributing to the score were a base hit by Gary Van Meer and a double by Mike Neibauer.

Saline got on the scoreboard with a single, a walk and an in-field base hit while John Welton scored on an error by the Hornet catcher. By the seventh inning, Saline was up, 4-3, following a successful walk, bunt and base hit combination.

The winning combination for the Bulldogs, however, came in the seventh inning as Sam Coomes walked, stole second and was bunted to third by Doug Pagliarini. Rod Robeson walked and stole second. With men on second and third and one out, Craig Olmsted hit a two-run triple to clinch the league victory.

Putting a damper on their fine Monday performance, the Bulldogs took on Tecumseh's Indians, 1981 state runners-up, and dropped the contest, 4-13. Chelsea committed 10 errors and allowed 13 Tecumseh hits in a not-so-impressive show of talents.

Nonetheless, Chelsea hit well, collecting eight, with John Preston and Craig Olmsted getting two hits apiece. The only other highlight in the contest was Ken Nadeau's fine relief pitching.

SLIDING TO SAFETY, a member of the Dexter Dreadnaught baseball team, successfully attempts a return to first base as pitcher John Welton catches the Dexter opponent leaning and hurls a pitch to first baseman Gary Van Meer in hopes of picking up an easy out. The Bulldogs earned a hard-fought, 7-4 victory at Dexter Friday.

On Friday, April 23, the Bulldogs traveled to Dexter to play what eventually became a carbon copy of the Saline game as the Bulldogs won, 7-4. Each team scored two runs in the first inning, followed by a two-run home run by Mike Gipson.

Both Rob Ianni and John Welton pitched impressive games and the score was tied 4-all until Chelsea went ahead by two in the sixth inning on a single by John Preston, a walk by Headrick, several stolen bases and a two-run single by Rod Robeson. This was countered by Dexter loading the bases with two outs and managing to pull off two runs to tie the game at 6-all.

In the seventh inning Ross Murphy walked, stole second, was bunted to third by John Welton and with Gipson getting a hit, Murphy ran home to clinch the win.

In the game, Preston was three for three while Welton had two hits and pitched a full game. Defensively, Ross Murphy played an outstanding game.

Coming off a fine 2-1 record for the week, Chelsea's Bulldogs took on Pinckney Saturday in a doubleheader, winning 13-7 and 19-4.

In the contests, Chelsea collected 29 hits and 32 runs, ending their day with a record of 15-15 in stolen bases.

In the first game, Chelsea had a big first inning, scoring seven times with the help of a bases loaded triple by Sam Coomes. Tom Headrick also hit a triple in the game as Doug Pagliarini pitched for the victory given relief help by Steve Grau.

In the second game, the Bulldogs scored five times in the first inning and five times in the second on a bases loaded triple by Pagliarini, who also had three RBIs. John Preston had three hits, including a home run, while Mike Gipson had two hits. Bob Trevino and Tim Whitesall had two hits apiece and Gary Van Meer had three.

By the fifth inning, Chelsea had collected 18 hits and 19 runs and the game was called on the mercy rule. Ken Nadeau pitched the first four innings, walking one and striking out five, while Tom Headrick stepped in to pitch the fifth inning well.

Chelsea is now 5-2 over-all and 2-1 in the Southeastern Conference, in second place behind Tecumseh and Lincoln.

JV Softball Team Splits After 6 Wins

Chelsea's junior varsity softball team has won six straight games since April 15 before splitting a double-header with Pinckney last week. The JVs defeated Ann Arbor Pioneer, 14-2, Saline, 14-1, Ypsilanti, 18-1 and 20-0, Tecumseh, 17-3, and Dexter, 7-0.

The junior varsity team has gathered fine pitching performances from Kelly Hawker, Margie Rawson, JoAnn Tobin and Beth Unterbrink. The four pitchers have combined their talents to shut down the opponents' bats. On an average, teams have scored 3.1 runs against the Bulldogs.

"This is a very impressive statistic," remarked Coach Bill Wescott. "We are very pleased with our pitching staff."

A big part of a successful pitching staff is the catching. Joyce Robards and Laura Anderson have teamed-up to make big contributions to the defense.

Offensively, Chelsea has been led by Ann Weber, Laurie Falsik, Laura Nix and Tina Paddock. Chelsea's JV team has scored 112 runs in eight games.

Frosh Nine Lose First Three Games

Chelsea's freshman baseball team opened its season Tuesday, dropping a game to Adrian, 12-7. Then, on Thursday, the team played Brighton's freshmen and lost two games by identical scores of 13-0.

In the first game of the season, Dave Boote and Matt Grau each collected two hits while Mark Bentley, Dean Boote and Dave Cox each had one hit. Playing good defense were Doug Otto, Dave Boote, Matt Grau and John Harris.

Thursday, the freshmen could collect just three hits in both games as Brighton over-powered the Bulldogs. Dave Merkel got a single, Charlie Koenn and John Harris each hit doubles. Doug Otto and Doug Graves, although not getting much support, pitched better than the score indicates.

Defensively, Phil Sweet, Bliff Bunten and Dean Boote showed promise of good things to come.

Chelsea's 26-man freshman team will play its first home game on May 8, when the young Bulldogs take on Saline.

Wrestlers Qualify Two for State Competition

In regional wrestling competition, Chelsea's wrestling club traveled to Portage Central High school last week-end, placing two wrestlers in this week's state meet.

In a tough tournament, Rob and Rick Finch earned fifth and third, respectively, in the 11- and 12-year-old division.

Others competing included Colby and Bryndon Skelton, Scott Centilli and Chris Gibson, in the 8 and under category; Alan Hanna, in the 9-10 age group; Marty Poljan, Brent Snyder and Duane Elkins in the 11- and 12-year-old age group; and Brian Kidd and Pete Hanna in the 13- and 14-year-old division.

Rob and Rick Finch will head to Grand Rapids Junior College this Friday and Saturday where they will compete in the state wrestling meet.

Girls Track Team Finishes 13th in Chelsea Relays

In a meet that turned into a four-team show, Tecumseh emerged as the champion in the seventh annual Chelsea Relays for girls Friday night. The Indians edged runner-up Milan, 58-56. On the way to their victory, Tecumseh scored in eight of the 11 events and won four of them.

From the start, four teams chased for the championship. Tecumseh led with 26 points after the field events, winning the shot put and discus relays. Dexter had 13 points, helped by a victory in the high jump, and Milan had 11 with Pat Taylor and Lisa Brietenwischer setting a meet record in the long jump. Lumen Christi had 10 points following a second in the high jump and a third in the shot put relays.

The same four teams dominated the running events with only Hillsdale and Hartland able to break in with any consistency. Tecumseh got off to a fast start, winning the shuttle hurdles over Dexter by 2 seconds. Dexter followed with a win in the 3200 and later had a victory in the distance medley from a team of Lisa Goltman, Mandy Arbour, Sarah Peapples and Kelly McKillen in a meet record 13:02.9.

Lumen Christi kept pace by finishing second in both of those races and the 800 relays when Dexter was disqualified for a running infraction. Milan's sprint strength showed with victories in the 800 and sprint medleys, the latter in a meet record of 1:54.7 and the Big Reds added a victory in the 1600 relay, edging Dexter by 4 seconds.

Tecumseh was third in the 800 and second in the sprint medley but didn't place in either the distance or the 1600 relays. Going into the final event, Tecumseh trailed Milan, 48-49, the first time the Indians were not in the lead. Dexter was third with 47 points.

Tecumseh's 400 relay of Lisa Gregg, Sue Williams, Cindy Anschuetz and Martha Hans won, edging out Milan for the race and team championship.

It wasn't a very good night for host Chelsea. The Bulldogs ran well, but only scored in the 3200 relay. The team of Wendy Wolfgang, Sandra Frame, Kristin Thomas and Lisa

Ann Arbor Trust
Reports Increase
In Earnings

A 29.6% increase in earnings was announced in a message to shareholders from George H.
Cress, president of the Ann Arbor Trust Co.

Total earnings for the first three months of 1982 were $237,104 compared with $182,907 for the same period in 1981. On a per share basis this represents $1.13 versus $.87, respectively.

Cress reported that assets as of March 31, 1982 were $98,749,173 as opposed to $98,509,093 on March 31, 1981.

Outstanding loans at the end of the quarter were $64,392,985, up from $62,120,417 last year, an increase of 3.6%.

Cress attributed the improved operating performance to growth in core and seasonal deposits, the favorable effects of reinvesting securities sold during the prior quarter and a favorable spread of interest earned over interest paid.

JV Thinclads Participate in Invitational

On Monday, April 19, Chelsea's JV thinclads traveled to the Jackson County Western Invitational and came away with some good placings in the 12-school event.

Sophomore distance runner Allen Cole led the charge, placing second in the 3200 meter run at 10:49 and running his best 1600 meters ever at 4:59.1 to place third in that event.

Sophomore hurdler Mark Spayd ran his best ever 110 meter high hurdles to place second at 18.6.

Sophomore weightman, Gar DeVoe, placed in two events; third in the discus with a personal best of 105' 6" and sixth in the shot put with another personal best, 36' 1".

Freshman Kyle Kemmish placed third in the 400 meter dash with a personal best time of 57.4 and fifth in the 220 at 25.3.

Freshman Jason Pierson also looked good, placing fifth in the high jump at 5' 4" and ending the 300 meter low hurdles in sixth place at 46.

Eric Buckberry also placed for the Bulldogs, taking fifth place in the pole vault with a 9' vault.

Freshman distance man Jared Bradley did a fine job of placing sixth in the 3200 M at 11:04 and sophomore Eric Green was seventh in the 1600 M at 5:15.

Finally, the 800 meter relay team of Kyle Kemmish, Ed Brosnan, Jason Pierson and Scott Miller was sixth at 1:46.8.

"This was a fine opportunity for these young men to compete at their own level of competition," said Coach Pat Clarke. "I wish to thank Coach Ken Sullins for taking them to this meet and I hope the experience will encourage them to work harder on improving their skills," Clarke concluded.
