A NEW DEAL FOR DEALERS: Ted Faist and Bill Morrow proudly show off a sign emblematic of their recently acquired Chevrolet dealership. In background are some of the new Chevy cars and trucks they have for sale. The agency at 1500 S. Main St. also sells Buicks and Oldsmobiles.

Faist-Morrow Adds Chevrolet Franchise To Buick-Olds Agency

Ted Faist and Bill Morrow, who operate what is now known as the Faist-Sprague Buick-Olds agency at 1500 S. Main St., have taken on the local Chevrolet franchise as well, and delivered their first Chevy vehicle this week.

The two men officially became Chevrolet dealers on Oct. 8 following several months of negotiations to obtain the dealership formerly operated by Bob Silva. The Silva agency went out of business last winter, and the building at 1603 S. Main is now occupied by Lloyd Bridges Traveland, which sells recreational vehicles.

Faist and Morrow are consolidating the Chevrolet line into their existing facilities. Four new employees have been added, and the service area has been expanded with new hoists and other equipment.

The firm will shortly display a new sign proclaiming it as the Faist-Morrow Buick-Olds-Chevrolet agency. Graham Sprague, Faist's former partner, is deceased. Morrow joined the business in June of this year.

latest equipment and technology to handle all GM cars in our shop," Faist said. "We see ourselves as a kind of 'one-stop' center for GM car owners and prospective buyers."

Business hours are 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday and Thursday, 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday. The service garage is closed on Saturday.

Faist has been an automobile dealer in Chelsea for 31 years and has done business in the present location since 1968. Morrow has been an Oldsmobile-Chevrolet dealer in Saline, a Pontiac dealer in Milan and owner of Wolverine Motor Sales, a used car outlet in Ann Arbor. He lives in Saline.

Open House Set Monday At High School

Chelsea High school will have an open house 7 to 9 p.m. Monday, Oct. 25.

Parents can meet their children's teachers and see different activities at the school, such as a blood pressure demonstration by the health careers class, printing by graphics arts students, or see the auto shop.

The orchestra will play while parents arrive at the school auditorium, John Williams, high school principal, and Sam Vogel, the assistant principal, will be there to answer questions. Maps will be passed out and the parents set loose.

Teachers will be in their classrooms to explain their grading scales, and talk about the textbooks. It is an evening, said

Williams, to see "What kind of person is teaching my kids." Parents who would like to ask about their child's performance should make an appointment at another time.

Counselors will also be present to answer questions about financial aid and college testing.

This is the third year the open house has been "open format," with the parents indulging their curiosity, instead of following their child's schedule, said Williams. Parents with more than one child in the school seem to appreciate this. Attendance at the open house has also more than doubled since open format began.

Coffee and cookies will be served in the cafeteria.

Two Arrested in Credit Card Fraud Moonlight Sale

Chelsea police are at the end of a line of law enforcement agencies seeking to prosecute two men who are accused of systematically bilking banks from Ann Arbor to Battle Creek with counterfeit credit cards.

Victims of the robberies include the Ann Arbor Trust Co. branch office at 1478 Chelsea-Manchester Rd., and the Chelsea State Bank at 305 S. Main St. and its branch at 1010 S. Main.

It is a long, complicated story, which Chelsea Police Chief Robert F. Aeillo told this way:

On Oct. 6, a white male person went into the Ann Arbor Trust branch and received $950 as a "cash advance" on a Master Charge credit card account. The transaction was cleared by the bank following a normal credit card check.

Aeillo received a call from an Ann Arbor Trust security officer, on Oct. 13, notifying him that the $950 had been obtained fraudulently through use of a counterfeit credit card.

Aeillo later learned that several other banks had been similarly defrauded, including the Chelsea State Bank branch where a cash advance for $750 on a Master Card had been approved and paid, and the parent bank, where $500 was paid out on a Visa credit card request.

In each instance bank tellers called a central control office to check out credit card names and numbers, and had paid out the money when assured that the transactions were legitimate.

Meanwhile, information had been received that two men had flown from New York into Detroit Metropolitan Airport on Oct. 5, rented a car, and headed west with counterfeit credit cards and driver's licenses, hitting banks along the way.

They got as far as Pennfield township in Calhoun county, where police arrested them. Jailed and held on $40,000 bond each are Carl A. Solomon, 46, charged with uttering and publishing and forgery, and Gordon Rodgers, 59, charged with conspiracy to assist Solomon.

When apprehended, the pair had 80 separate counterfeit driver's licenses and 80 phony credit cards, all bearing the names of New York residents who hold the documents legitimately. They also had $41,000 in cash and a written record of banks they had visited.

Aeillo said one person went into the victim banks and withdrew the money while the other stayed in the car. He is asking a warrant against Solomon, who has been identified by local bank tellers, looking at photographs, as the person who came to their windows and asked for money. He will not try to prosecute Rodgers, who was not identified by anyone locally.

Besides Pennfield township, police departments in Wayne county and Albion are seeking to prosecute the pair, and their warrants are ahead of any legal action that Chelsea police take.

"This has to be a highly organized operation," Aeillo said. "The counterfeits were excellently done. Besides that, the criminals had to have access to a computer in order to know how much money to ask for. Credit card balances are kept confidential on computer records, and you must be able to plug into the computer file in order to find out those balances. In every instance these people knew just the right amount of money to request."

Aeillo added that the bank tellers are not at fault. "They checked everything out, as they are supposed to, and they approved the cash payments when assured they were 'legitimate'." This is just a very clever, well conceived scheme. I wouldn't be surprised if the Mafia is involved.

Exploration Firm's Site Plan Okayed

Chelsea Village Planning Commission approved North American Oil Exploration's S. Main St. site plan Oct. 12, after a revised site plan showed drainage going east towards Pierce Park instead of off-site to the northwest in the direction of South school as had been originally planned.

The site plan for the one-story office building on the 2.09-acre lot, the present home of billboards and a turn-around for cars across from the park, had been tabled at the Sept. 14 meeting until more information about drainage was provided.

Storm water runoff will go through a drain under Main St. to a drain built in 1924 along the southern boundary of Pierce Park. During a "100-year rain," said Paul Hume, planning commission chairman, some overflow would temporarily go to a gully off-site to the north. Vegetation on the lot is not well developed, since the site had once been a swamp that has been filled in over the years.

What's exciting about the site plan, said Hume, is the number of new trees and shrubs to be planted. The building will be built on pilings, because of the old swamp, but that shouldn't be a problem.

The entrance to the 5,850 square-foot building will be across from the Pierce Park entrance. The short drive will branch into a u-shape, with parking on both sides of the centrally situated building.

North American Exploration is a two-year-old gas and oil exploration firm, now based in Manchester. They have not announced a date for construction to begin.

Moonlight Sale Slated Wednesday

Chelsea merchants are hoping a little moonlight will prod your shopping libido this week for some early Christmas shopping or mid-season specials. They are sponsoring a Moonlight Madness sale from 7 to 10 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 20.

The merchants association, a division of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors four downtown-wide sales a year: the October moonlight madness, the March moonlight madness, the July sidewalk sale, and a Christmas time sale. Individual stores have sales at other times of course, but these four are co-ordinated efforts.

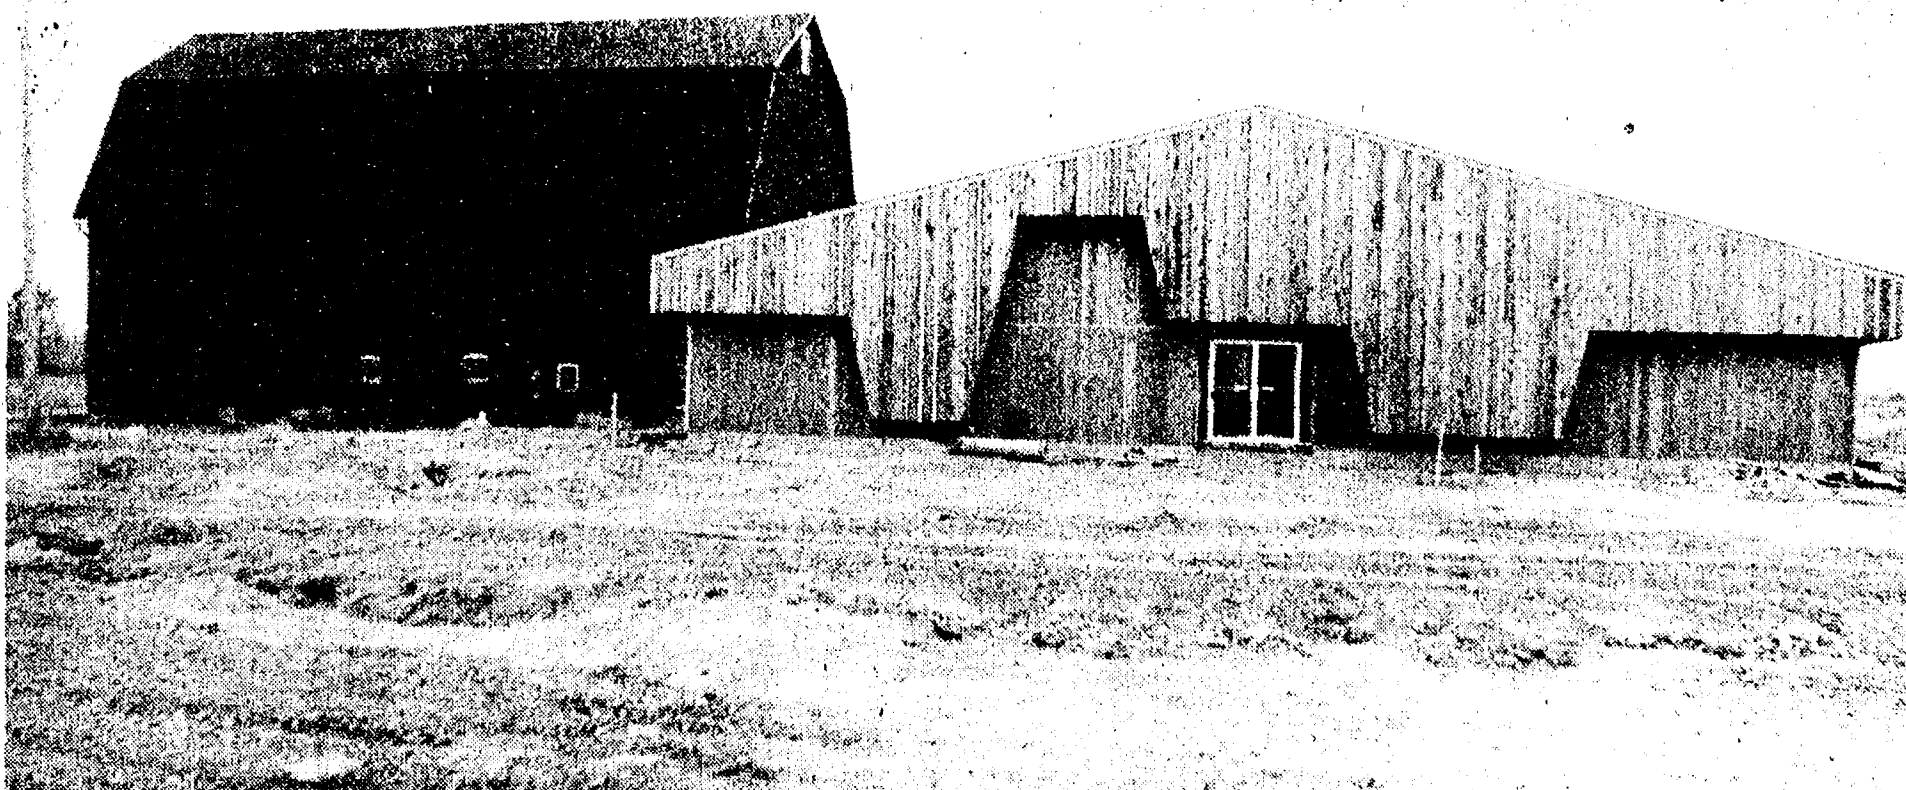

Downtown shopping has really picked up in the last few years, says Jack Winans, the owner of Vogel's Department Store and Foster's Men's Wear, who is chairman of this upcoming sale. When Briarwood first opened, shoppers thought nothing of driving there—until gas prices went up.

Then shoppers began to more seriously consider Chelsea stores, he said, which had expanded their inventories in the meantime. This coincided with the revitalization of the Chelsea Merchants group and the moonlight sales too, which are now in their third year.

"What we have to offer in Chelsea is personalized service," said Winans. "When a husband comes in a local store, we can tell him what blouse or dress his wife had been eyeing while she browsed last week, or tell her what shirt he has looked at. Chelsea merchants know customers' sizes too, because they know them.

"And the hardware stores can pass on information at birthday and Christmas time about what tool or appliance someone dawdles over, as can the furniture stores, gift shops and jewelry stores," he said.

THE NEW CHELSEA LUMBER CO. display building is completed at the firm's new location at 1 Barn Circle. The landmark red barn on the former Pielemeir farm is connected to the new building and will be used for storage. Six sheds will be built to complete the lumber company's relocation from its present site at 305 N. Main St. The move will be made sometime before Dec. 31.

Youth Dies In Sunday Auto Crash

Craig Scott Glassford of 10144 Stinchfield Woods Rd., Dexter township, was pronounced dead at the scene of a single-car accident in which his car hit a tree shortly after midnight Oct. 17 on Dexter-Pinckney Rd. south of North Territorial Rd., Dexter township.

Glassford, 19, was alone in the car, and was traveling at a high rate of speed, according to sheriff department reports. When he entered a curve, his car crossed the center line into the south-bound lane, onto the shoulder, and then struck a tree.

He was pinned into the car.

'Sandy' Sundling, Not 'Sherry' Is CHS Homecoming Queen

Newspaper people are supposed to be infallible even though, like all other human beings, we do make mistakes. We made a dandy in last week's issue, erroneously miscalling Chelsea Homecoming Queen Sandy Sundling as "Sherry Sundling" in a front-page headline. To be honest about it, we don't know how it happened, but it did.

We apologize to Sandy, her parents and friends, and congratulate her on having been selected as Homecoming Queen.

Chelsea Lumber Will Move To New Location Before Jan. 1

It takes courage these days to expand a business closely tied to the ailing construction industry, but that is exactly what the Daniels brothers are doing in taking the Chelsea Lumber Co. to a new location.

The firm, which has done business at 305 N. Main St. for 60 years through three generations of family ownership, will move to 1 Barn Circle this winter. The Main St. site being vacated has been bought by Chelsea Milling Co. for a new manufacturing and packaging plant.

Chelsea Lumber's new address will be west off M-52 (S. Main St.) a short distance north of the I-94 interchange. It is directly west of the Faist-Morrow auto agency, and includes a prominent red barn which is an area landmark.

Robert and James Daniels, who jointly own the lumber company, are optimistic that their venture will succeed despite the current depressed state of the construction and home improvement business.

"Even though we have been hit hard by the recession and our business is down, we are going ahead," Bob Daniels said. "We believe there is going to be a comeback, and we intend to be ready for it."

Chelsea Lumber's employment has declined from a high of 55 in the fall of 1979 to 25 today. "We hope to get back to where we were," Bob Daniels said, "but that will depend on business conditions. Our steady customers have remained loyal. They keep coming in in about the same numbers, but they just can't afford to buy as much as they used to."

"I have great faith in what the state of Michigan and village of Chelsea have to offer," Daniels said. "There is a lot of gloom and doom right now, but that is going to change. We are betting that things will get better."

Daniels declined to put a dollar figure on the cost of the lumber company's move but acknowledged that the new facilities will cost substantially more than the price received for the property being vacated.

Chelsea Lumber will have a total of eight buildings on the new site when everything is finished. The new display room is just about completed. It will be connected to the existing red barn, which will be used for storage. Still to be built are six lumber sheds. Construction on those will start in about three weeks. All work is being sub-contracted. "Even though we are a lumber company, we don't have any carpenters on our payroll," Daniels noted.

Target date for completion of the new complex, and the move into it, is Jan. 1, when Chelsea Lumber is supposed to turn over its property to the milling company. Chelsea Milling will raze the lumber firm buildings in preparation for its new plant.

"When we move, we will do it all at once," Daniels said. "It will be some one-shot move, but it will be easier than trying to do it in phases."

The new Chelsea Lumber Co. display building, where customers will be serviced, has 9,600 square feet of floor space, about double the area of the present facility. The six new storage sheds will have a combined total of about 42,000 square feet.

"We are not expanding in the sense of adding new things to what we already do," Daniels said. "We will do a more complete job of displaying products and giving services that we now provide. Our basic cash-and-carry, contractor service, and owner-builder operations will continue, but we will do them better."

"We will keep our prices competitive, and we will try to do an even better job of personal service to customers, especially homeowners who need advice and assistance in carrying out repair and remodeling projects."

Immediate customer benefits will be easier access and more parking space. Driveways and parking lots may not be blacktopped before next spring, Daniels said, but they will be usable when this winter's move is made.

Chelsea Lumber Co. markets in an area within an approximate 30-mile radius of the village, extending south to Adrian, east to Plymouth, north to Howell and Brighton, and west to Jackson.

The site of the company's new location is the former 120-acre Pielemeir farm. Two houses on the property have been removed, but the barn has been kept. Chelsea Lumber sold a small tract to the Ann Arbor Trust Co. but still owns most of the 120 acres, and leases the vacant acreage to a local farmer. A total of 16 acres has been zoned for the lumber company operation, but only seven acres are being developed at this time.

HELP THE WIDOW THROUGH GRIEF STAGES
The newly widowed (or "widower-ed") progresses through several emotional stages during mourning. If you recognize these as "stages," it may enable you to help her work through her grieving more fully and effectively.

Sorrow is a basic emotional stage of mourning and very common, often accompanied by self-pity and/or feelings of guilt.

Anger is another stage, a resentment against a "cruel world" which has taken one's mate prematurely.

Fears for the future "without him" as companion and breadwinner are not unusual to a new widow.

Anxiety makes her wonder "who will provide for the family" and "how will I manage my finances alone?"

The widow's confidence in her own abilities needs to be strengthened so her re-entry into the world of reality may be achieved more smoothly. As a widow, if she recognizes these stages as natural and common to all, the social adjusting she does will be easier, faster, more effective.

Salary Hikes for State Officers Hinge on Economy

Members of the State Officers Compensation Commission recently began the process to determine salary and expense levels for the state's top elected officers but indicated early on that salary levels are not likely to be increased much in the next two years because of the dim outlook on the national and state economy.

While the members said their remarks are only preliminary assessments, their expectations of what will be done to salaries range from a freeze to increases of no more than 5 percent a year. The only formal action taken during the first public hearing, which will culminate in a final determination by mid-December, was to set future hearing dates and determine hearing from some top economists would be beneficial in making a decision.

The commission, created by constitutional amendment, is to determine salaries and expense levels for 1983 and 1984 for the governor, lieutenant governor, Supreme Court justices and members of the Legislature.

In terms of direct salary, Michigan legislators are tops in the nation, while justices, lieutenant governor and governor rank 5th, 6th and 7th, respectively.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

It's final happened, Ed Doolittle told the feller at the country store Saturday night. They've done a study of studies that show studies don't do much for anybody. Ed had this clipping where the Army studied results of 150 studies the Army had done on how to get people to join the Army, and it found none of the ideas that come out of the studies made any difference.

For instant, Ed said, nearly all the studies called for sign-up bonuses, and more bonuses to reenlist, but the study of studies brought out that bonuses don't draw or keep good soldiers. Them that want to go in the military go no matter what kind of deal they get for joining or staying in, Ed reported, and the shape of the economy in general and the job market in particular does more for recruiting the uncertain and unwilling than anything the Army does. Ed said he had studied this study up one side and down the other, and he was of a mind that the only way for the Army to recruit is to send them greetings that amount to offers loyal Americans can't refuse. Any study that shows all you got to do to get what you want is spend money is just another case for useless studies, was Ed's words.

Speaking of curing what ails you with doses of money, Zeke Grubb said, the National Urban League has come up with a $100 billion prescription it says is just what this country needs to get rid of unemployment, dirty cities, bad water and all the rest. What the doctor is ordering, Zeke said, is a domestic Marshall Plan like we used to help rebuild Europe after the war. The idea is to borrow the money to set up make-work programs, food giveaways and job training centers. Zeke said he has watched these remedies come and go, and the only good that's come from em is reminders that as long as the Federal Government will throw money away folks will come to catch it.

Actual, Zeke went on, under ordinary conditions even politicians have come to wonder how many times they can go to the money well, but the final weeks of a election campaign is a desperate time that calls for desperate measures. Zeke said he ain't heard of the Marshall Plan for the voters back home making much headway, but, then, he ain't been hearing that parable about giving a man fish and showing him how to fish either. If we've learned anything in the past 50 year, Zeke declared, it ought to be that there ain't no free lunch.

New Deal Democrat Clem Webster let out a grunt, but before he could speak for the defense Bug Hookum come with a report on another study. Bug had saw where researchers found that the average woman goes on a six-minute crying jag five times a month. Without going into the value of this discovery, Bug said, he was wondering about the cause of all the tears. The piece didn't say if any or how many of the wimmen was married, but he was full convinced a man figgers into most of them crying spells. For instant, he said, even if you don't count TV football and poker nights, you got to count a few sniffles for ever tie he picks out for church.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew

How long has it been since you talked about how much you saved
instead of
how much you earned?

Sometimes we confuse our priorities. It can be compared to the old story about the ant and the grasshopper. One was preparing for the future, the other was forgetting the future.

A savings program is definitely planning for the future. The absence of a savings program is ignoring the future.

Isn't it about time you prided yourself on what you saved rather than what you earned?

Think about it.

Washtenaw Board of Education Elects Officers

Representatives from each local school board, the Washtenaw Intermediate School District (WISD) board, and the Washtenaw Community College board of trustees met Sept. 18 to elect officers and develop plans for the new year for the Washtenaw School Officers/Boards of Education.

Evelyn Kern of Willow Run, was elected president. Robert Gamble of Ann Arbor was elected vice-president, and Gail Barnard from Ypsilanti was re-elected secretary/treasurer.

The board of directors is comprised of one member from each of the local school boards. They usually meet three times a school year, October, January and March this year, to plan for general membership meetings. The board and the Superintendents' Association of the County sponsor monthly legislative breakfast sessions with local legislators.

Ann Comeau of Chelsea will be on the board, along with Diana Walters, Dexter; Mary Huggins, Lincoln; JoAnn King Okey, Manchester; Joseph O'Donnell, Milan; Paul Peters, Saline; Joseph Cantalupo, Whitmore Lake; Vanzetti Hamilton, WCO; and Clarence Lyte, WISD.

Dr. Norman P. Weinheimer, executive director of the Michigan Association of School Boards, described the services and programs available from his group.

Elvira Vogel, president of the WISD board of education, went over the district's annual report. She encouraged the members to become familiar with the ISD's services and programs.

Kern, the new president, appointed Huggins and Cantalupo to review the association's by-laws and make recommendations for any needed revisions.

Weinheimer and Clayton Symons from the superintendents' association encouraged the group to study the role of boards of education in relation to administration, and the importance of evaluations. This would relate to negotiations and contract settlements.

The next meeting is Oct. 12.

ABWA Members Hear Talk By Fashion Stylist

Chelsea Charter Chapter of the American Business Women met Tuesday, Sept. 28 at the Wolverine Lounge.

"Season's Transitions" was the theme for the Fall Enrollment with a fall decor. Sixteen guests joined the members. Micki Quackenbush spoke to the group about the background and benefits of ABWA. Nancy Morgan chaired the event.

Hope Warner, fashion stylist of Ann Arbor, was guest speaker. Hope spoke on fashion, finding the right colors, styles and fabrics that are most flattering to you. She also modeled some of the versatile co-ordinates she had brought along. Hope presented a slide show featuring many of her hand-sewn outfits.

The new executive board is made up of Micki Quackenbush, president; Lena Behnke, vice-president; Martha Powers, recording secretary; Cheryl Nelson, corresponding secretary; Shirley Case, treasurer. Committee chairmen for the chapter are: Cindy Bear, bulletin; Nancy Morgan, education; Vicki Favers, hospitality; Joan Luick, membership; Judy Moisan, program; Jeanne Atkinson, public relations; Shirley Schneider, ways and means and Gay Dalton, scrapbook.

The group is now busy at work on a large "Barn Sale" to be held Nov. 6, at 13501 Trinkle Rd.

The next meeting will be Oct. 26 at the Wolverine Lounge.

County Extension Homemakers Plan Bazaar, Craft Show

The Extension Homemakers of Washtenaw County are sponsoring a bazaar and craft show at Pittsfield Grange Hall on the Ann Arbor-Saline Rd., Saturday, Oct. 23 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Extension groups will be selling bazaar items for their group projects.

Featured every half hour will be a simple, worthwhile, and sometimes edible craft demonstrated by Extension women. Materials used will be from field and tree, from scraps of cloth and from the kitchen.

Coffee and doughnuts will be available as well as lunch.

Personal Note

Bob and Sue Williams with their sons, Steve and J.D., have moved to make their home in Chelsea at 549 Howard St. They came from Waukegan, Ill. and he is now district supervisor for Volume Shoe Corp.

Fenton-Jahnke Marriage Vows Spoken at Methodist Church

Robin Jean Fenton and Louis Jerome Jahnke were married Friday, Aug. 27 at the First United Methodist church of Chelsea.

The Rev. Ronald Little, former pastor of Immanuel Bible church, officiated at the ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fenton and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Jahnke.

Kathy Fenton, the bride's sister, sang "The Wedding Song." Mary Anne Skinner was the organist.

The bride wore a white chantilly lace gown, which featured a Queen Anne neckline and bouffant skirt with attached chapel-length train. A scalloped lace headpiece held her finger tip veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses, baby's breath, sword fern and ivy in a cascading arrangement.

The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Karolynn Fenton of Chelsea. She wore a ruffled peach floor-length gown, which featured a bustle. She carried a bouquet of peach-colored daisies, miniature carnations and purple statice.

The bridesmaids were Kathy and Kim Fenton, the bride's sisters of Chelsea, and Debbie DeSmythers of Chelsea.

The bride's mother wore a lavender knee-length dress. The bridegroom's mother wore a silver-blue knee-length dress.

Best man was Keith Stillion of Chelsea. Groomsmen were Jeff Jahnke, the bridegroom's brother of Chelsea; Doug Paul of Chelsea; and the bride's brother, Bill Fenton of Chelsea. Ushers were the bride's brothers, Dan and Andy Fenton, both of Chelsea.

A reception was held at the UAW hall on Chelsea-Manchester Rd. Bonnie Bayer, the bride's cousin, attended the guest book. Kelly Stebleton served punch, and Marge Benson, the bride's cousin, served the wedding cake.

After a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains, the couple are living in Ann Arbor.

Kinder Klub Told Of Senior Citizen Program Growth

Jackie Rogers, director of Community Education, spoke on the Chelsea senior citizens program at the Oct. 12 meeting of the Kinder Klub at Veretta Whitaker's home.

Miss Rogers discussed the development of the program from a few people to an active group which meets daily at North school. A nutritious lunch is served at a minimal fee for anyone wishing to partake. Miss Rogers' enthusiasm made it a most enjoyable program.

A delicious ice cream dessert was served by Mrs. Whitaker, and a business meeting began the evening.

The Nov. 8 meeting will be at Mary Messner's home. Anita Todd Parks will speak on gifted children. Guests are welcome.

Workshop Offered On Conducting Meetings Efficiently

The workshop "Making Meetings Work" to be held at Saline High school on Oct. 20 at 7:30 p.m. will address the issues of motivating club members and conducting meetings efficiently.

Many club meetings deteriorate into bickering over agenda items that could be resolved with newer methods. Learn how to set agenda items, solve problems and accomplish the tasks at hand without creating an atmosphere that polarizes members.

There is a $2 charge for the workshop. For more information call the Saline Continuing Education Department at 429-4931, Extension 242.

Mrs. Floyd E. Gentner of 316 Jackson St. returned home last week after spending several days in Aurora, Colo., visiting her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Duane L. Gentner.

Woman's Club Sees Slides of Hawaii Trip

Lucile Finkbeiner showed her slides of Hawaii at the Oct. 12 meeting of the Woman's Club of Chelsea at McKune Memorial Library.

Hostesses for the evening were Myra Colvin and Beth Lyerla.

The club is planning a fall bake sale to be held at 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 23 at the Masonic Hall.

Club members will meet at AppleRose Natural Foods, 300 W. Liberty, Ann Arbor, for their Oct. 26 meeting. Dr. Gale Jensen, a nutritionist, will lead a nutrition and health program.

Modern Mothers Hear About New Orthodontic Care

Chelsea Modern Mothers heard Dr. Raymond Howe, a Dexter orthodontist, speak and show slides on new orthodontic equipment and different problems requiring correction at their Oct. 12 meeting at Denise Long's home.

The members also discussed the Nov. 9 auction craft workshops and final instructions for next meeting's craft night were distributed.

A social hour followed with refreshments served by Sandie Meyer and Jan Grenier.

The next meeting will be the annual Halloween party Oct. 26 at which members will learn how to make dolly dusters, folded star potholders and salt box Santas. Liz Prentis will be the hostess. Call 475-9856 for more information.

Mental Health Day Program Changed to Oct. 28

The senior citizens Mental Health Day has been changed from this week to 11 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 28 at the North school center. Peg Woehle, a social worker, will describe Chelsea Community Hospital's physical rehabilitation program for adults who suffer disabilities such as strokes or head injuries.

She will cover who the program serves; how one gets admitted; the evaluation period of testing and setting goals; the therapy itself; the emotional aspects of rehabilitation such as common feelings of having too high expectations with resulting disappointment, loss and change of one's mobility, and depression, and how those feelings affect the family, which the hospital does incorporate into the program.

Anyone in the community is invited to attend the program.

Dance Class Offered By Community Ed.

A dance class with an invigorating tempo and earth-shaking beat begins 7:45 to 8:45 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 27 at South school.

The class, to be taught by Karen Keiser, will run six weeks. Registration is the first night of class. Tennis shoes and loose fitting clothing are a must—the class is designed to cater to young, active adults.

Call the Community Education office at 475-9830 for more information.

Senior Citizens To Square Dance

The October special event for senior citizens will be a square dance and pot-luck 6 p.m. Friday, Oct. 29 at the North school senior citizens center and cafeteria.

Anyone interested should bring a dish to pass, his own place setting, and make a reservation by calling 475-9242. The event will cost $1 per person.

Methodist Home Annual Bazaar Scheduled Saturday

Chelsea United Methodist Home is planning its annual bazaar for Saturday, Oct. 23, from 1 to 4 p.m. The entrance to the bazaar is through the west door which is located on ground floor of the M. Bldg. Featured there will be baked goods, ceramics, art, Christmas gifts, jewelry, hand work of all kinds, plants, a grab bag, books, and an odds & ends counter.

There will also be a snack bar offering hot coffee and fried cakes.

Legal Secretaries Will Meet Thursday

Washtenaw County Legal Secretaries Association will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, Oct. 28 at Weber's Inn.

Legal secretary Karen Nyquist will speak on the Professional Legal Secretary certification and conduct a mock exam. Ms. Nyquist serves as governor of the local chapter and is second vice-president of the Michigan Association of Legal Secretaries.

Social hour begins at 5:30 with dinner served at 6. The program will begin at 7, and a business meeting follows at 8. All interested legal secretaries and support staff are invited to attend.

For further information or to make dinner reservations, call Jean Stufflebean at 663-3366.

North Lake Fitness Club Starts Second Session of Classes

North Lake Fitness Club will begin their second session of classes 9 to 10 a.m. and 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 26 at the North Lake United Methodist church.

The class is designed to firm and tone the major muscle groups, as well as strengthen and stretch the body to improve posture, and increase cardiovascular fitness.

The class will run for seven weeks. Call Community Education at 475-9830 for more information.

Abbot School Plans Art Fair Saturday

Ann Arbor's Abbot School RTO presents "Artists and Accents" on Saturday, Oct. 23, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

This multi-dimensional art fair will feature 34 artists and craftsmen with moderately priced, original work. Food specialties and demonstrations will highlight the Culinary Arts Section. Unusual hand-made gift items make the Parent's Boutique a special favorite.

Talented junior and senior high school artists and Abbot's own students lend a unique aspect to the fair with their imaginative booth. This year live performing arts entertainment will be featured. Of course lunch and snacks will be available throughout the day. Admission is free.

Home Meal Service Can Be A Life-Saver

Cooking for yourself seldom inspires you to muster up gourmet meals, especially when you are homebound with a broken leg, or find grocery shopping difficult in winter, as many senior citizens do.

That is what is so great about Chelsea Home Meal Service, one of the four Chelsea United Way agencies—all it takes for someone who needs this service, such as senior citizens or anyone living alone and homebound by an injury or illness, is a phone call to sign up for a hot meal, such as pot roast, gravy, mashed potatoes, vegetables, salad, milk and dessert. And the meal is delivered to the doorstep by volunteers.

The kitchen at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home can accommodate any dietary needs within reason, said Ann Feeney, treasurer of the service. They can have low fat, no-salt, diabetic meals or grind the food for those who have trouble chewing. But one woman who did not like any food that was green, such as salad or green Jell-O, had to go along with a mass-produced color scheme.

All of the present subscribers pay the full $2.25 cost of the meal per day, said Mrs. Feeney, although everyone who signs up is asked if they need assistance.

Funds to help those who cannot pay the full price are available from United Way contributions, said Mrs. Feeney, which are made to the service when they need them, instead of as a regular contribution.

United Way also helps buy supplies, such as the insulated carrier, which holds the individual trays of food and costs $100 to replace. That carrier is needed to keep the food hot enough to pass state standards.

Volunteers such as Don Drew, a 74-year-old retiree himself, really move on these deliveries to keep the meals hot. He quickly stacks the meals in order of delivery before he puts them in the carrier, so he won't have to fumble for the right meal. He also walks very quickly from house to house, to again save time and temperature.

The volunteers who deliver meals do not get reimbursed for gasoline, said Mrs. Feeney, but they may deduct it from their income tax.

The present schedule works out to one delivery every two weeks for each volunteer.

Although volunteers do not have to get emotionally involved with subscribers, she said, many of them do. It's a daily contact for someone living alone, which is sometimes a life-saver. Mrs. Feeney found one woman who had fallen during the night, when she came by with her noon meal.

The meal service is very flexible, she said. If someone is visiting, or the subscriber goes away on a vacation, he just needs to call Mrs. Feeney at 475-1493; Mary Ann Merkel at work, 475-8621, or at home, 475-2734; or Barbara Branch at 475-7844, before 11 a.m. to cancel the meal that day.

Kiwanis Clubs Install Officers

New officers of the Chelsea and Dexter Kiwanis clubs were installed at a recent joint ceremony involving all clubs in Kiwanis Division 10. Assuming office were:

Chelsea — Thomas Bust, president; Ron Walters, vice-president; Ray Van Meer, vice-president; Rick Rickerman, treasurer; John Cox, secretary, and John Morris, immediate past president.

Dexter — Frederick G. Model, president; Carl F. Willoughby, president-elect; Kenneth W. Greiner, vice-president; Richard B. Lundy, treasurer; Frederick E. Schmid, secretary; and Timothy J. Spencer, immediate past president.

North School PTN Plan Sale of Used Merchandise

Need new skates, skis, or boots for the winter?

Parent Teachers North school (PTN) will have a used skate, boots, skis, games, toys and book sale 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 23 at the North school gymnasium.

The public is invited to bring their used merchandise in good condition to North school 3 to 4 p.m. today and tomorrow, Oct. 19 and 20, and 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday and Friday, Oct. 21 and 22.

The sale price will be split 75 percent seller and 25 percent to the PTN. The money for sold items will be available before and after school Friday, Oct. 29.

Unsold merchandise is to be picked up by the owner after 4 p.m. Oct. 23.

Hikers Net $2,000 For Nature Center

Although the exact amount won't be known until walkers collect sponsor pledges and turn the money in, the Waterloo Nature Center apparently realized about $2,000 from the Oct. 9 Hike-A-Thon along 20 miles of the Waterloo Trail.

Emilie Polens, co-director of the center, said 54 hikers participated in the event, and 19 of them completed the entire 20 miles, even though the weather was less than the best and there was competition for attention from the Michigan-Michigan State football game.

Participants ranged in age from a one-year-old baby, who was backpacked the full 20 miles, to a 79-year-old woman who hiked 12 miles without help.

Nancy Cooper, a physical education teacher at Chelsea High school and a marathon runner, ran the rugged up-and-down course in four hours flat, a remarkable achievement considering the terrain and often-sandy footing.

Each hiker was to have obtained sponsors who would donate a specified amount of money for each completed mile. Some of the hikers had more than $100 in offered pledges. Prizes of camping gear will be awarded to those who collect the most money and turn it in to the Nature Center.

"Considering this was our first Hike-A-Thon, I think it was very successful," Mrs. Polens said. "Everybody seemed to have a good time. There was a little trouble with the trail markers at some points along the route, and a few people strayed temporarily. We will correct those problems now that we know about them."

The Nature Center, formerly operated by the state, is presently run by the Waterloo Natural History Association.

Chelsea Charms Baton Boosters Elect Officers

Chelsea Charms Baton Boosters met Oct. 4 at Carole Van Reesema's home to discuss the future of the corps and to elect officers for the 1982-83 year.

The board of directors will be Rita Wilson Howard, Sandy Schmunk, Norma Graflund, Glenn Weir, Jill Dunlap, Eleanor Maurer, and Sue Seibor.

Arlene Honbaum is president; Jill Dunlap, vice-president; Sandy Schmunk, secretary; Norma Graflund, treasurer; Angela Wynn and Sherry Jones, parade chairmen; Janice Taylor, parade equipment chairman; Debbie Wales, fund-raising chairman; Becky Schultz, costume chairman; Debbie Wales, Patty Schick, and Janis Miller, costume committee; Donna Quartermaine, contest transportation chairman; Sandy Schmunk, special appearances chairman; Sharon Roberts and Lois Hagerty, publicity chairmen; Norma Graflund, Janis Miller, and Brenda Houle, practice committee; Sherry Jones, South school gymnasium chairman; Rita Wilson Howard, Chelsea Charms director.

Jill Dunlap will be the chairman for the Chelsea baton contest, which will be held April 30, 1983 at the Chelsea High school. Linda White, Sarah Steele and Sue Seibor are on the contest refreshments committee; Joyce and Glenn Weir, and Barbara Clark, equipment/janitor; Shirrell Pryor and Vicky Kern, personnel; Sandy Crawford and Belinda Veto, door; Lorraine McGoneghy, Carole Van Reesema, dressing rooms; Sue Seibor, Becky Schultz, Donna Quartermaine and Carole Krzeczowski, clean-up; and Amy Powers, name tags.

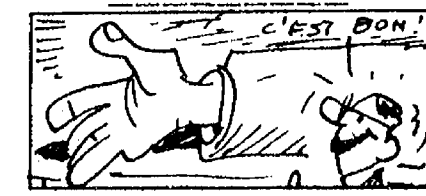

CHELSEA HOME MEAL SERVICE is door-to-door delivery. Clark Renwick, left, admits he's not much of a cook, so he has been taking the meal service off and on for several years. This way he gets his one big meal of the day without much fuss. Don Drew, a five-year volunteer, started delivering the meals in winter, and somehow never stopped, he says. He drives every other Wednesday, and it takes him about an hour to deliver the meals. That case he's carrying in his right hand is insulated to keep the tins of meals as hot as possible. Although the meal service is mainly supported by its subscribers, occasionally they do need major purchases such as the carrying case, which United Way contributions helped buy.

Stage, Drama Class Starts Work on Play

The 1982 Chelsea High school stage and drama class will perform "The Mouse that Roared," adapted by Christopher Sergel from the book by Leonard Wibberley. The play centers around the Duchy of Grand Fenwick, and its problems and victories.

Putting on a play takes a lot of hard work behind the scenes. This year's stage manager is senior Rob Beaudoin. The committee chairpersons are: lighting, Chris Seitz; make-up, Tom Mull; costumes, Kim Forner; properties, Colleen Lewis; special effects, Rob Moore; sound, Ron Marshall; sets, Rob Beaudoin; finance, Tom Lytle; house management, Lorri Wright; programs, Thad Bell; tickets, Jennifer Gibb, and publicity, Mike Smith.

Gustave Eiffel, who built the Eiffel Tower, also designed the right arm of the Statue of Liberty.

Voters Urged To Be Ready For Complicated Nov. 2 Ballot

It's none too early to think about getting ready to vote on Tuesday, Nov. 2. The ballot is long and complicated, and the voter who goes into the booth without having studied candidates, offices and issues beforehand is going to have problems and cause delays for those in line behind.

The sample ballot for Sylvan Township, for example, shows 35 choices that must be made, unless the voter chooses to take a short-cut and vote a straight-party ticket for partisan offices.

Ballots for other townships in the Chelsea and Dexter areas differ in minor details for local offices, but the total number of decisions to be made is the same.

For the record, there are candidates from seven political parties on the ballot. The parties are, in their officially listed order: Democratic, Republican, American Independent, Libertarian, Socialist Workers, Workers League, and Tisch Independent Citizens.

All seven parties are running candidates for governor and lieutenant governor. The two offices are combined for voting purposes; in other words, you vote for a pair from the same party. You cannot, for example, vote Democratic for governor and Republican for lieutenant governor.

Other state-level executive offices to be filled are secretary of state and attorney general.

Voters will also choose among candidates for U.S. senator, U.S. representative in Congress from the Second District, 18th District state senator, 52nd District representative in the Legislature, two members of the State Board of Education, two members of the University of Michigan Board of Regents, two members of the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, and two members of the Wayne State University Board of Governors.

At the local level a county commissioner is to be elected. That wraps up the partisan portion of the ballot.

On the non-partisan judicial portion of the ballot there are two Michigan Supreme Court justices, three judges of the State Court of Appeals, two Circuit Court judges, a Probate Court judge and a District Court judge to be chosen.

Also, there is a non-partisan election for two members of the Washtenaw Community College Board of Trustees.

Next come seven state referendum proposals, lettered A through H. (The letter F is skipped in the listing.) These deal with such complex issues as state legislators' immunity from civil arrest, the legal status of the State Police, mortgage and land contract foreclosure laws, procedures for approving utility rate increases, a freeze on nuclear weapons, and an elected instead of appointed State Public Service Commission. (There are two proposals on the utility rate-setting process.)

All are complicated. The person who tries to vote on the basis of the ballot language alone, without prior knowledge and study of each proposal, will be in difficulty. The wording on the ballot is much condensed and therefore not especially clear.

Finally, there is a local proposal to renew a one-mill special operating levy for Washtenaw Community College for five years.

It is a long and challenging ballot, the kind that used to be called a "bedsheet" back when ballots were printed on paper and there was no such thing as punch-cards.

Swimming Instructions Offered at Ann Arbor Mack School Pool

Registration is currently in progress for the Instructional Swimming Program offered at Mack Pool by the Ann Arbor Department of Parks and Recreation. Classes for ages 3 months through adult are available at various skill levels. Register in person at Mack Pool, 715 Brooks St., Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. or the Department of Parks and Recreation, located on the fifth floor of City Hall, between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. For information on mail-in registrations call Mack Pool, 994-2898 or the Department of Parks and Recreation, 994-2780.

Cross Country Teams Both Win Invitational

Chelsea swept the Brandon Invitational cross country meet at Ortonville last Saturday as both girls and boys harrier teams won against stiff competition.

Led by Sandra Frame who finished first with a time of 20:12, the girls team beat out second-place Monroe St. Mary's, 45-42.

"The girls ran very well to beat out seven other teams," Coach Pat Clarke said. "I only hope we can get everyone healthy for the league and regional meets coming up."

Other Chelsea finishers were Mary Ann Richardson, fifth; Wendy Wolfgang, ninth; Laura Damm, 10th; Kathy Degener, 20th; Sue Young, 22nd; Jill Schaffner, 28th; Debbie Tiff, 30th; Sue Grant, 35th, and Julie Thompson, 36th.

The boys team was again led by Mark Brosnan who took individual honors with a first-place time of 16:27. The team score was close. Chelsea won with 50 points to Onsted's 52 and Linden's 55 in the nine-team race.

Clarke was especially pleased with the victory because it was achieved despite leg cramps suffered by his number five runner, Craig MacIag, who finished far behind where he normally would have. Sophomore Jared Bradley came on strong in the stretch to beat out an Onsted runner and insure the Chelsea victory.

Dave Kies was fourth, Allen Cole ninth, Eric Green 14th, Bradley 22nd, Kevin Richardson 28th and MacIag 42nd.

In the junior varsity run Kyle Kemmish finished fourth, Damon Creffield fifth, Mark Spayd 10th and Tom Nemeth 15th.

County Board of Commissioners Will Make Many Appointments

Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners is scheduled to consider applications for appointments to its various Boards, Committees and Commissions at the Nov. 3, session of the annual meeting, at 7 p.m. in the Board Room, Administration Building. The appointments will become effective Jan. 1, 1983. These appointments include:

—Two appointments of Consumer representative and two alternates to the Emergency Medical Services Commission for two-year terms.

—One appointment to the Board of Health for a three-year term.

—Two appointments to the Historic District Commission for three-year terms.

—One appointment to the Library Board of Trustees for a five-year term.

—Four appointments to the Community Mental Health Services Board for three-year terms.

—One appointment to the O'Brien Center/C.O.P.E. Policy Board for a two-year term.

—Three appointments to the Parks & Recreation Commission for three-year terms.

—Four appointments to the Metropolitan Planning Commission for three-year terms.

—Two appointments of members and two alternates to the Huron River Watershed Council for two-year terms.

—One appointment to the Board of Public Works for a three-year term.

—One appointment to the Road Commission for a six-year term.

—One appointment to the Social Services Board for a three-year term.

One-page resumes should be addressed to Carol Hampton, Controller/Administrator's Office, County Administration Building, P.O. Box 8645, Ann Arbor 48107. Those resumes received by Oct. 22 will be submitted to the Board of Commissioners for their consideration on Nov. 3.

The class with the highest percentage of students wearing their school Bulldog T-shirts, a project of Parent Teacher North, on contest day wins. Seated front row, left to right, are Richard Stahl,

State Police Say Rural Crime Decreases in '81

Crimes against persons and property in Michigan's rural areas declined four percent in 1981 compared to 1980, according to the Michigan State Police. The same type of crimes in urban areas increased six percent.

Sgt. Bill Atkins of the State Police Community Services Section says rural crime prevention efforts over the past few years are responsible for the crime decrease. "We've found through the efforts of farmers and other people in the rural areas that residents are becoming a lot more security conscious," he says. "People are reporting suspicious activity, lighting their farms, watching each other's property, etc., and these efforts are really paying off."

Atkins says that on the other hand, rural crime prevention may have contributed to an increase in urban crime. "In the past years criminals considered rural areas easy pickings," he said. "But now people in rural areas are much more likely to report suspicious activities or strangers in the neighborhood. So criminals have got the word that it's a little more risky to commit crimes in the country, and this is pushing some crime back in the city areas."

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration was created to establish "separate but dependent responsibilities and rights" for employers and employees for the achievement of better safety and health conditions, according to the U.S. Labor Department's revised edition of "All About OSHA."

Roy Smith Addresses Group in Webster Township Area

Roy Smith, Republican candidate for the State Senate, spoke to a group of citizens at an evening coffee given in his honor Wednesday, Oct. 13 in Webster township.

Questions directed at Smith reflect the major concerns of Washtenaw county—unemployment and tax reform.

Smith also responded to questions on the death penalty and gun control.

"...We Never Talked About That..."

Almost everyone, in the course of making funeral arrangements says something like this: "Oh, I wish I knew what he would have liked. We . . . we never talked about it and . . . I just don't know . . ."

It isn't necessary that those left behind be burdened with this added agony of indecision. The thoughtful, sensible thing to do, is to record your wishes in advance of necessity.

Girl Scouts Observing 50th Year in Chelsea

The 50th anniversary of Girl Scouting in Chelsea will be celebrated Sunday at St. Mary's School by a gathering of present-day Girl Scouts and leaders together with former members and leaders of the organization.

Among those present will be Florence Steger, who served as captain of the first Chelsea Girl Scouts in 1932 when they were organized as a Lone Troop. Other honored guests at the gala event will be Pat Leves, president of the board of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council; Gail Slusser, executive secretary of the council, and Bobbie Smith, council field director.

The festivities will center around fun rather than formality with group songs, comedy skits and tables of food. Former Girl Scouts are searching their attics for old uniforms in the hope of presenting a 50-year Girl Scout fashion show.

Another event in the program will be a birthday tribute to the founder of U.S. Girl Scouting, Juliette "Gordon" Low, whose lifelong nickname was Daisy. She was born on Oct. 31, 1880.

USDA Withdraws Proposal for New Leaner Beef Grade

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has withdrawn its proposal to change U.S. beef grading standards. The proposal would have allowed for a new grade of leaner beef or a softening of current standards to allow for grading of leaner beef. "Consumers have shown that they prefer a leaner grade of beef, so many retail outlets are marketing a so-called lean-grade of beef that is not necessarily U.S.D.A. graded," says Mike Kovacic, commodity specialist for Michigan Farm Bureau. "Farm and livestock groups felt that a new lean U.S.D.A. grade would boost beef sales."

However, in making the announcement that U.S.D.A. was withdrawing the proposal, John Ford, deputy assistant secretary for Marketing and Inspection Services, expressed concern that the consumer's perception of lower quality products could result in a decrease in consumption.

CONGRESSMAN CARL PURSELL

Leadership

FOR THE 2nd DISTRICT.

The Chelsea area has been added to the 2nd Congressional District. While the district's boundaries are new, the leadership of Congressman Carl Pursell remains. Carl has represented the 2nd District for 6 years. He's a member of the influential Appropriations Committee . . . a first-rate legislator who is known for exceptional service to the people he represents.

FOR AGRICULTURE

The major change in the new 2nd District is the greatly increased agricultural territory. Carl is already hard at work on this part of his partnership with the district's people . . . meeting with farmers throughout the district . . . examining the commodities exchange and its impact on farm prices . . . talking with farm families about the economic squeeze facing America's farms.

Carl has already earned the endorsement of the Farm Bureau.

He recognizes two important truths:

- 1—The real experts on agriculture are those who make their living at it . . . so he listens to them.
- 2—Farmers are business people in one of the toughest businesses around, with problems similar to those of other business people. As a former small business owner, Carl understands those problems, and is sensitive to farmers' concerns.

The knowledge of local farmers, combined with Carl's legislative skill, can make a great partnership for 2nd District agriculture.

Congressman Pursell doesn't promise miracles. He does promise to listen, to learn, to help.

For long-range economic development, Carl is working on modernization of the St. Lawrence Seaway. That would make Michigan more competitive in national and world trade, and open new markets for our agricultural and industrial producers.

FOR ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

A lot of people talk about economic development. Congressman Pursell works at it.

He was a leader in getting more defense supply contracts for high unemployment areas, and convinced President Reagan to support his plan. He was a leader for a new rehabilitation tax credit to encourage business to stay and expand in Michigan.

FOR SENSIBLE FINANCIAL POLICY

Congressman Pursell voted to reduce your taxes. His vote helped cut your personal tax 5% last year, another 10% this year, with another 10% cut coming next year.

Carl has been on the front lines of the effort to control runaway government spending, and has helped to cut the rate of spending growth about in half. He believes in a balanced budget, and that spending controls must extend to all departments.

LEADERSHIP FOR WASHTENAW . . .
AND THE 2ND DISTRICT
CONGRESSMAN CARL PURSELL:

MUSIC BOOSTERS president, Phyllis Muncer, sells Raymond Van Meer, schools superintendent, the first ticket to the Boosters second annual All-You-Can-Eat Hotcake Dinner, 4 to 8 p.m. Nov. 8 and 9 at Chelsea McDonald's. Last year's dinner was such a hit, it will be held two evenings. Tickets must be purchased in advance and are available from Ms. Muncer, at 475-1751; from Miriam Klemer, the Boosters secretary, at the high school administration office; or at Chelsea Pharmacy. Proceeds from the sale will be donated to the Boosters' scholarship fund.

Candidates Forum Scheduled Sunday

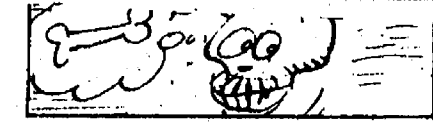

Chelsea Lions Club is sponsoring a "Meet Your Candidates" forum Sunday evening, Oct. 24, at 7:30 p.m. at the Chelsea High school cafeteria. The public is invited to attend.

Candidates participating in the event include Lana Pollack, Democrat, Roy Smith, Republican, and independents William Witowski and Kevin Osborn, all of whom are competing for the State Senate seat from the 18th district. Also participating will be Margaret O'Connor, Republican, and Henry Flandysz, Democrat, who are running for State Representative from the 52nd district.

Both contests for the Michigan legislature include the Chelsea-Dexter areas.

According to David Prohaska, president of the Chelsea Lions Club, "This is the only joint appearance in western Washtenaw county where all candidates for both seats will be together in an open forum. It is an excellent opportunity for the voters of our area to observe the candidates in action first-hand, face to face."

Refreshments will be served after the forum at which time the audience will have an opportunity to speak individually with the candidates.

Teeth are bones—but harder than most of the other bones in the body.

Halloween Puppet Show Offered Saturday Afternoon

Chelsea Community Education will host a Halloween puppet show, "Halloween Mischief," scary movies, a Halloween magic show and other surprises at their second matinee in their performing arts series at 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 23 at Chelsea High school auditorium.

The performance is geared to elementary school aged children, but all ages are welcome. Children under the age of 5 must be accompanied by an adult.

Refreshments will be sold during intermission, and family rates are available for tickets, which may be purchased at the door.

Call the Community Education office at 475-9830 for further information.

Choral Concert Slated

Chelsea Music Department will present Chelsea Choirs and Contemporaries performing the first concert of the 1982-1983 season at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 20, in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

The S.A.T.B. Choir will perform "I Can Dream a Dream," by Jay Althouse, "Let the Sunshine In," a vocal jazz arrangement by Kirby Shaw, and "It Was Almost Like a Song," by Buck Buchholz. Student pianists Tom Mull and Mike Smith will assist Mrs. Tamara Barbret by accompanying the choir.

The S.S.A. Choir has prepared the pop single, "Ebony and Ivory," by Stevie Wonder and Paul McCartney, "If the World Learned How To Sing" by Joyce Eilers and Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Selections from Carousel."

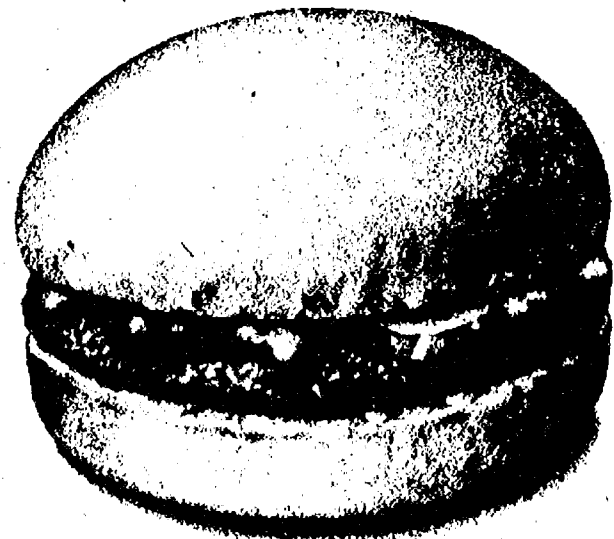

The 1982-1983 "Contemporaries" will perform "I Bought Me a Cat" written by Aaron Copland, "Music When Soft Voices Die" by Julie Knowles, the pop single "The One That You Love," made popular by Air Supply, and a vocal jazz number, "All Alone Without You," written by Jack Kunz.

In fiscal year 1981, the Employment and Training Administration continued to focus its resources on involving the private sector in the training and employment of disadvantaged workers.

Russell Harris Shines As Gridders Defeat Saline in 'Best Game'

It wasn't officially declared Russell Harris night at Saline last Friday, but it well could have been. Harris did everything but take tickets as his Chelsea team defeated the Hornets, 27-6, to earn possession of first place in the Southeastern Conference.

Harris carried the ball 26 times for 240 yards, scored three touchdowns and a two-point conversion, caught a pass, ran back a kickoff, and played a sparkling defensive game from his linebacker position, getting two quarterback sacks.

The hard-going Bulldog halfback is not particularly big (6'9", 170 pounds) nor exceptionally fast. He is a strong, determined ball carrier who picks his holes, uses his blockers well and instinctively runs to daylight. When an extra yard is needed for a first down or a touchdown, he usually gets it with superb second effort.

Harris had his chance to shine against Saline partly because the Hornets were keying on Chelsea's running and passing standout, quarterback Dave Wojcicki. They did a fairly effective job of holding Wojcicki down, but couldn't keep Harris in check. Future opponents had better be ready to cope with both, and that will take some defensive doing.

Chelsea Coach Gene LaFave unveiled a new look for the Bulldogs, a "hurry-up" offense without huddles between plays. "We thought it might upset their defense by not giving them time to adjust and get set, and it worked," LaFave said after the game.

What really upset the Hornets, however, was Harris. He set the tone by bolting 53 yards for a touchdown on Chelsea's first scrimmage play following a wind-blown Saline punt which travelled only three yards. Harris broke clear over the left side behind strong blocking and outran everybody into the end zone.

Harris was stopped on a two-point conversion try, one of the very few times he came up lacking.

Still in the first quarter, another short Saline punt gave Chelsea excellent field position on the Saline 39, and the Bulldogs quickly capitalized. Wojcicki sparked the drive with a 12-yard pass to Thom Headrick and a 13-yard run which put the ball on the Saline 2. It took Harris two plays to put it over, and he did an encore with a two-point conversion run.

Chelsea didn't score on its next possession, losing the ball on downs at the Saline 13, but got on the board again the next time it had control. A partially blocked punt was the key, putting the Bulldogs in business on the Hornet 27.

Steinhauer Not Seriously Injured

Gratifying as Chelsea's 27-6 thrashing of Saline was to Bulldog rooters last Friday night, the best news of the game came the following morning when Chelsea Coach Gene LaFave happily reported that Marty Steinhauer had not been as seriously injured as first believed.

Steinhauer went down in the waning minutes of the contest, victim of a slow referee's whistle which allowed late hits by Saline tacklers. The Saline players were not at fault. In football, you keep on coming until you hear a whistle signaling that the play is finished.

After being treated on the field, Steinhauer was carried to the sidelines and placed on a stretcher, and later taken by car to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

His injury, which involved some temporary paralysis, was diagnosed as a concussion, and he was released after observation and treatment. "He's not badly hurt," said a relieved LaFave Saturday morning. "I'm not sure what his playing status is, but the important thing is that he is going to be all right."

Steinhauer, a junior, was getting his first game experience at quarterback, the position he may play for the Bulldogs next year. This season he has seen two-way duty as a split end and defensive back.

Chelsea had a couple of other injury scares during the game. Both quarterback Dave Wojcicki and halfback Russell Harris took severe bumps, but both recovered and stayed in the game.

A Wojcicki to Steinhauer pass moved the ball to the 17, Harris got a yard, Wojcicki another, and it was Harris again on a dandy run to the 4. Wojcicki took it in from there with a fine individual effort, his first touchdown of the season.

LaFave then came up with another new wrinkle, an extra-point try from placement, something Chelsea had not before attempted this year. Wojcicki, a soccer-style kicker, made it good to run the score to 21-0.

"We practice hard on placekicks," LaFave commented, "but we usually go for two because of our strong running and passing game. This was the right time to see if our kick practice would pay off. It did."

Chelsea lost the ball on a fumble on the first series after the second-half kickoff, giving Saline good position on the Chelsea 47, but the Bulldog defense smothered any Hornet comeback hopes by forcing a punt into the end zone.

Taking over on its own 20, Chelsea moved briskly down the field on a mixture of Harris runs and Wojcicki passes. Harris got the final nine yards on a pretty pitchout play that befuddled the Hornet defenders. Wojcicki's kick attempt went wide this time.

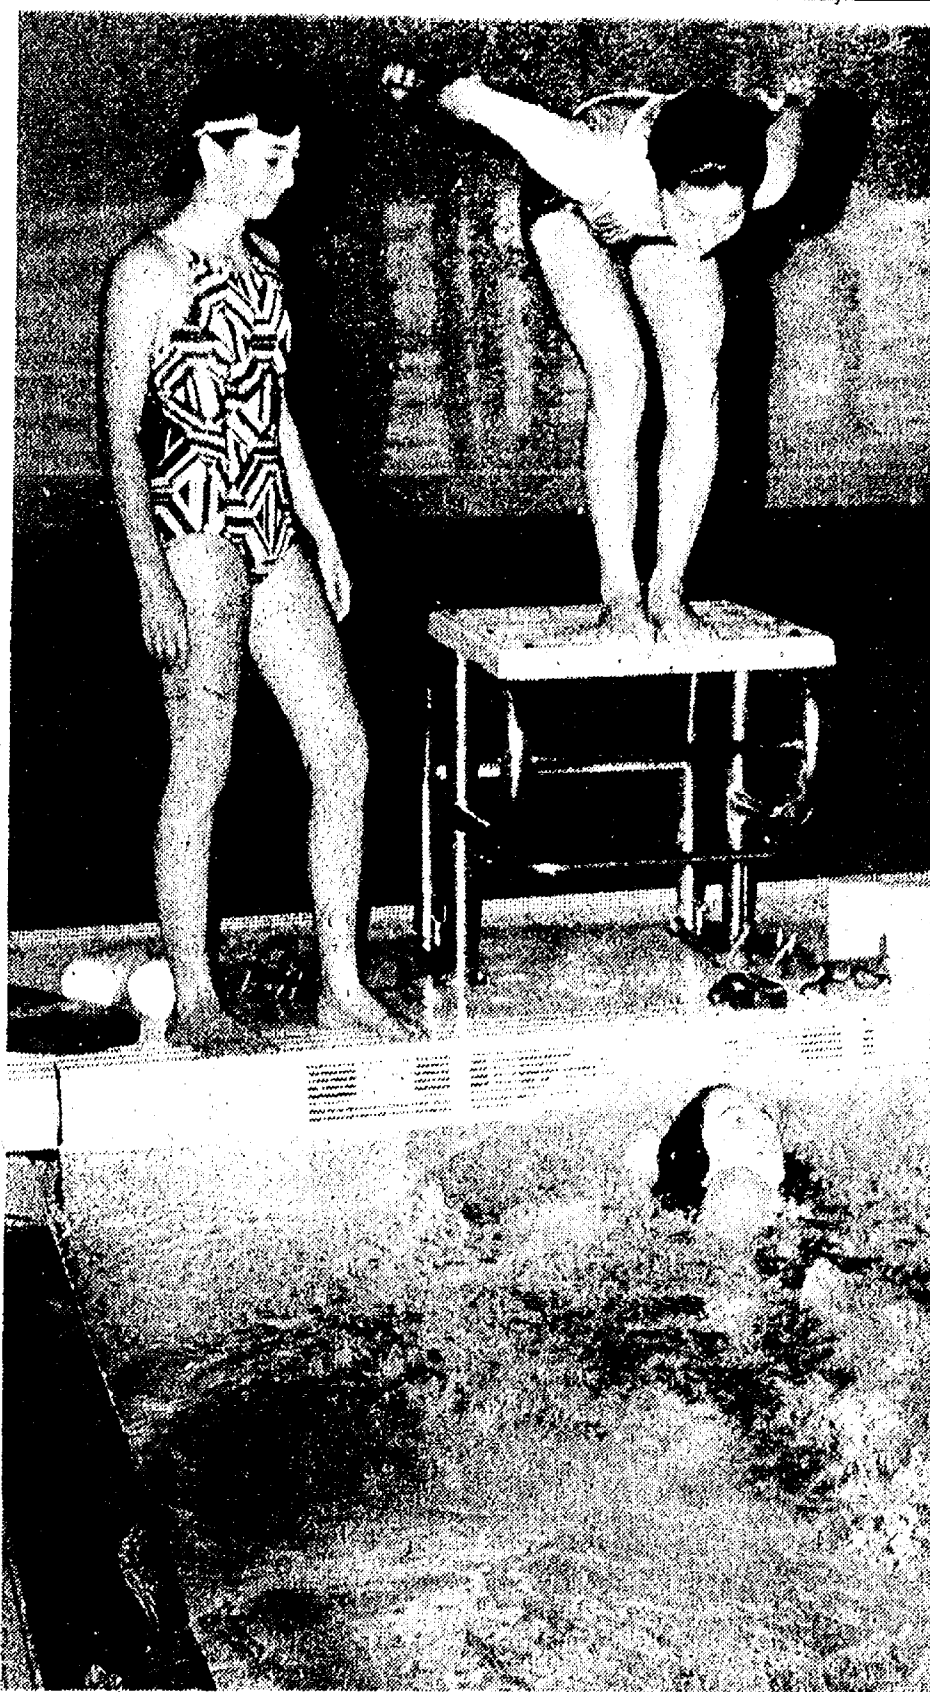

Held to just one first down up to that point, Saline finally managed to mount an offense upon getting the ball on its own 40 following an out-of-bounds kickoff.

The Hornets needed 16 plays to grind out the 60 yards, using up most of the fourth quarter in the process. Dave Dettling plunged for the final two feet on a fourth-down play. A conversion pass attempt failed.

Saline tried an onside kick, alertly covered by Chelsea's Vaughn Mills, and that was the end of the game for all practical purposes.

Although he was concerned about a late-in-the-game injury to Marty Steinhauer (see separate story), LaFave's post-game comments reflected satisfaction over his team's play on both sides of the line. "We put it all together tonight," he said. "It was by far our best effort of the season. Saline is a good football team, and it was a game we had to win. We played 48 minutes of hard, consistent football. When you do that, you usually win."

Chelsea's total team performance was outstanding to the point that LaFave was reluctant (Continued on page 11)

SWIMMER OF THE WEEK is Heather Grenier, at left, who is watching Amanda Holmes practice her relay start. Paula Colombo is swimming the backstroke. These swimmers came within an eyelash of the freshman relay record in last week's meet against Dundee. Grenier, 14, just started swimming competitively this fall, said coach Von Acker, and her times are starting to show her hard work. She dropped four seconds off her 100-yard freestyle time and touched out another girl to take third in the Dundee meet. She is starting to dive to help replace senior diver Vicki Harrell next year, which shows what a team-oriented swimmer she is, said Acker. Diving practice should help her racing starts. She has already mastered the flip turn.

JV Gridders Lose To Saline, 29-19

Chelsea's junior varsity football game fell behind, 29-19, in its game against Saline here last Thursday night, then rallied in the fourth quarter but couldn't make up the deficit. Result was a 29-19 loss.

The Bulldogs got on the board first, after a scoreless first quarter when Jon Carey took a 19-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Evan Roberts early in the second period. Jim Toon kicked the extra point to make it 7-0.

That seemed to fire up the visiting Hornets who took the next kickoff and scored in four plays, the last one a 74-yard touchdown run. A successful two-point pass out of placekick formation put Saline ahead, 8-7.

The Hornets scored again with 40 seconds left in the half, this time on a 28-yard pass play. The conversion was missed, and Saline took a 14-7 lead into the locker room.

Another long run, of 87 yards, and an extra point kick put the Hornets up 21-7 right after the second-half kickoff, and a short pass and two-point conversion made it 29-7 early in the fourth quarter.

The Bulldogs came alive at that point, scoring touchdowns on runs of 39 and 2 yards by Scott Miller, but the effort was too late to accomplish anything except make the final score closer.

Chelsea did manage to recover an onside kick following its final touchdown but lost a race against the clock to post one more touchdown which, even had it been achieved, would not have meant victory.

Bullpup Coach Ken Sullins pointed to Saline's two long-gainer touchdowns as the difference in the ball game. "We were embarrassed on both plays," he said. "We missed tackles and let the runners get away from us."

Sullins was not at all happy with his team's performance but did commend Miller who rushed for 97 yards and two touchdowns and Carey who caught four passes for 55 yards and one TD.

Defensively, Sullins said Chelsea just plain did not play well at all. "Ours is the kind of team that has to go all-out all the time in order to win," Sullins commented. "Unfortunately, we haven't done it."

The Bulldogs are 2-3-1 on the year and play Lincoln there on Thursday.

Frame, Brosnan Set Records, Again

It's almost getting monotonous the way Chelsea cross country runners Mark Brosnan and Sandra Frame set records just about every time they race. Both did it again last Thursday as the Bulldog harriers split with Saline. The boys won, 24-31, while the girls lost, 26-30, in two excellently run, close matches.

Brosnan set a Saline course record for boys with a time of 16:05 to pace his team to victory over the state-ranked Hornets. The win put Chelsea in first place in the Southeastern Conference with a perfect 4-0 record. The team is 5-2 over-all.

Frame also established a time record over the Saline course for girls as she came home in 20:02. However, her fine run wasn't enough to avert team defeat as the Saline girl harriers turned in their best collective effort of the season. Chelsea had to go without its fifth best runner, Stephanie Grant, who was injured, and that made the difference in the final result, according to Bulldog Coach Pat Clarke.

Clarke praised his boys team effort in defeating the strong Saline squad. "Brosnan, Dave Kies and freshman Craig Macilag all ran super races," he noted.

Clarke was also extremely pleased by Frame's run, which cut 20 seconds off the previous course record set by Kelly McKillen of Dexter, who is Frame's arch-rival. "I think we will see a real interesting race when they go head-to-head again," he said.

Chelsea boys placers besides Brosnan included Kies, third; Alan Cole, fifth; Macilag, ninth; Jared Bradley, 14th; Steve Hunn, 15th; Kevin Richardson, 18th; Kyle Kemmish, 20th; Mike Herrst, 23rd; Randy Krichbaum, 24th; and Damon Creffield, 25th.

For the girls, finishing behind Frame were Wendy Wolfgang, 5th; Mary Ann Richardson, 6th; Laura Damm, 7th; Sandra Friday, 11th; Kathy Degener, 12th; Sue Young, 13th; Jill Schaffner, 15th, and Debbie Tift, 16th.

Swim Team Has Fun While Defeating Dundee

The Chelsea High school girls swimming team had some fun with their 71-51 victory over Dundee Oct. 12 at home. They swapped events from their usual specialties and went after the freshman record book.

"I wanted to give them a break from the same old thing," said coach Von Acker. "Both teams had a very relaxed meet—we knew Chelsea would win, so we had fun."

The freshman 200-yard medley relay team missed the record by less than a sneeze, nine hundredths of a second. The 400 free relay will have to wait until next time, said Acker. The girls were about five seconds shy.

Paula Colombo did break the freshman record in the 100 butterfly with a time of 1:07.45.

Becca Lee had an "outstanding" meet, said Acker, with her two wins in the 200 and 500 free.

200 medley relay—Marji Rawson, Kristen Thomas, Liesel Culver, Missy Young, first, 2:12.1; Colombo, Paula Kuzon, Amanda Holmes, Heather Grenier, second, 2:17.31.

200 free—Lee, first, 2:24.7.

200 IM—Culver, first, 2:31.6; Kuzon, disqualified.

50 free—Borders, first, 27.65; Holmes, second, 29.17.

Diving—Harrell, third, 151.8; Rawson, fourth, 134.7.

100 fly—Colombo, first, 1:07.45; Young, second, 1:18.66.

100 free—Thomas, first, 1:00.3; Grenier, third, 1:15.05.

500 free—Lee, first, 6:29.70.

100 back—Borders, second, 1:09.20; Harrell, fourth, 1:38.03.

100 breast—Young, second, 1:33.40.

400 free relay—Borders, Rawson, Thomas, Culver, first, 4:09.13; Kuzon, Grenier, Holmes, Colombo, second, 4:27.18.

Workshop Offered on Caring for Your Heart

Turner Geriatric Clinic will present a workshop titled "Taking Care of Your Heart" on Thursday, Oct. 21, from 12:30 p.m. until 2 p.m. It will be held at the Dexter Nutrition Site, 8625 Chelsea-Dexter Rd., in Dexter.

Julie Say, nutritionist with the Chelsea Medical Center, will speak on proper diet. Dr. James Peggs of the Family Practice group will speak on caring for the heart, by avoiding over-exertion, getting proper exercise and diet.

The program is free and open to the public. For further information, call Turner Clinic, 764-2556.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BILL MULLENDORE

There were mutterings on the Dexter side of the field during the fourth quarter of Chelsea's 36-0 varsity football victory over Dexter. Why, Dexterites wondered out loud, didn't Chelsea Coach Gene LaFave put in his second-string offensive unit once the game was wrapped up? And why in particular did he keep standout quarterback Dave Wojcicki on the field and running?

The first question is easily answered. As explained in this column last week, Chelsea has no "second string," as such, on either offense or defense. Given only 28 players with three or four of them hurt, the same people have to play most of the time regardless of the game situation.

The Wojcicki answer is a little more complicated. It is kind of a quandary for a coach.

Wojcicki is a strong, legitimate candidate for all-state recognition. He received honorable mention last year, and deserves to rank higher this fall. If there is a better Class B quarterback in Michigan, he hasn't come to this writer's attention.

Problem is that it is difficult indeed for a player from a small community, rural area school to catch the attention of the big-city sports editors who pick the all-stars. The best way to get the selectors to sit up and take notice is to compile an impressive statistical record.

Wojcicki has an outside shot at gaining 2,000 yards in total offense this season. That is a feat rarely accomplished by a high school quarterback. One of the few who have achieved it is Steve Smith, the University of Michigan's starting quarterback the past two seasons. Smith did it in his senior year at Grand Blanc High.

Through five games Wojcicki has 954 yards—667 passing and 267 rushing. His rushing average of 4.6 yards per try in 56 carries is remarkable considering that he has had to eat the ball and accept losses on several sacks, the inevitable misfortune of any passer. His pass completion record—33 of 86—is deceptive. He hasn't had an interception. He is smart enough to throw the ball away when his receivers are covered, rather than try to force it into a crowd. And he has had a goodly number of catchable passes dropped.

Wojcicki's scoring has not been spectacular. He has recorded just two touchdowns passing, none on the ground. That is mostly because the Bulldogs go to their halfbacks when they get into touchdown territory. With outstanding blockers up front and powerful, hard-running, sure-handed ball carriers charging behind them, that makes good sense from a strategy standpoint. The idea of the game is to put the football over the goal line, and a wise coach uses his best short-range weapons to get the job done.

What it all adds up to is that Wojcicki's best claim to first team all-state honors will lie in his total offense statistics, not in his scoring numbers, yards per carry or pass completion percentage. The 2,000-yard goal may seem far out. He would have to average better than 250 yards in the remaining games on the schedule. While unlikely, that isn't impossible for a young man who has picked up 330 yards passing and running in one game and 270 in another.

He won't get those yards if he doesn't play every possible minute. Yards accumulated walking the sidelines don't count. And that is why Wojcicki stayed in to the end of the Dexter game.

Chelsea does have a backup quarterback, co-captain Matt Villeneuve who is good enough to be a starter on most teams. He is just plain unlucky to be playing behind someone of Wojcicki's ability. However, Villeneuve does see a lot of action in the defensive backfield and as a flanker on offense. It is not as if he were standing around begging for a chance to play in the late minutes of one-sided games.

I have known only one football coach in my life who made a habit of deliberately "rubbing it in" when his team had an opponent down and thoroughly beaten. He was Wayne Woodrow Hayes of Ohio State, and you know what finally happened to him. He deserved it.

The word "tycoon" comes from both the Japanese and Chinese languages, meaning literally, "great prince."

GOLFERS OF THE WEEK are sophomores Doug Otto and Eric Schaffner, the golf team's number one and two golfers. Otto is warming up at the first tee for the team's last home match Oct. 13 against Gabriel Richard. His strength, said golf coach Ken Larson, is his superb putting. He has a 40 season average for nine holes. He takes golf very seriously, said Larson, and will keep on improving as a junior and senior. Schaffner hits long off the tee, he said, well with his long irons, but he's still working on his putting. His average has improved seven strokes since last year. He tied the Inverness course record with a 35 against Dexter.

Golfers Defeat Richard in Tune-Up for Regional Play

Rain and falling leaves splattered the Inverness golf course for the Bulldogs golfers' final home match of the season Oct. 13 against Gabriel Richard. Other than lost balls among the leaves, it didn't matter to Chelsea's 156-187 win over Richard. That 156 team total was only one stroke off the team's best round at Inverness this year, and the 31-stroke win was the most decisive win of the season.

The weather was good practice for the regional meet Friday. In Ken Larson's golf coaching tenure at the high school regionals, it has rained twice, snowed once, was pretty once, and this year it hailed. Golf matches are only canceled if lightning is sighted, and then immediately the match is stopped.

Richard has only one senior on its team, said Larson, and has had several coaches recently, so their golf program is not as competitive as their softball team is. But golf is a gentleman's game, he said, so when a Richard player asked a Bulldog golfer how far it was to the green, he told him. "We encourage the players to answer accurately, when someone who has never played the course needs information. But although this was a friendly, non-conference match, they probably wouldn't have been so chatty against a rival."

High school golf matches can be addicting, as this one was. The golfers play in foursomes, numbers 1 and 2 golfers playing against the other team's top two, and on down the line. So by standing between one green and one tee at Inverness' tight course, one can watch one group driving

Manchester Educator Named to Chair State Conference

Dr. Janice Hammond, principal of the Klager Elementary school in Manchester has been named as the chairperson of the 1984 Michigan Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development State Convention. Hammond has been active in MASCD for several years and with this appointment will assume a seat on the Board of Directors.

Dr. Hammond is beginning her second year as principal in the Manchester Community Schools. After completing her doctorate at the University of Michigan she worked as a staff development consultant.

Girls JV Cagers Split Two Games

Chelsea girls junior varsity basketball team had Saline chasing them the whole game in their 35-28 win over the Hornets Oct. 14 away, but the Bulldogs just couldn't come up with baskets at crucial times in their 42-37 loss to Dexter Oct. 12 at home.

The team's record is now 10-2 over-all, and 3-1 in the coaches' league standings for junior varsity teams.

Dexter led, 10-9, at the end of the first quarter, but Chelsea pulled ahead, 23-14, in the second quarter. But right before and after half-time, Dexter scored five unanswered baskets to take away the Bulldogs' nine-point lead.

"We just stopped scoring when we needed to," said coach Paul Terpstra. The drought around half-time hurt.

Chelsea had a one-point lead, 31-30, going into the final quarter, but missed several one-and-one foul shots and easy shots right under the basket in the touch-and-go last three minutes.

The team shot 13 of 56 field goal attempts, 23 percent, and 11 of 22 foul shots for 50 percent.

Samantha Collinsworth had her best game of the year, said Terpstra. She made 9 of 22 from the field, shot two for two from the foul line for 20 points total. She also had 7 rebounds and 5 steals.

Jenny Cattell scored 6 points; Kelly Hawker, 5; Anne Weber, 4; and Kris Mattoff, 2. Hawker had 7 rebounds, and Paddock had 5.

Chelsea got off to an 8-0 lead against Saline and kept a lead the entire game. Chelsea led, 10-2, at the end of the first quarter, 16-10 at half-time, and 26-17 at the end of the third quarter. Saline did come within two points in the third quarter, but Chelsea pulled away again.

The team had their best foul shooting percentage of the season, 54 percent. They shot 14 of 49 from the field for 29 percent.

Hawker had 12 points; Weber, 10; Paddock, 6; Cattell, 4, and Collinsworth, 3. Cattell was leading rebounder, with 8. Hawker and Paddock had 6 each.

The team plays Lincoln 5:30 p.m. today at home and away Thursday against Northwest.

Jackson Western Quitting SEC To Reduce Costs

It's not news in a sense, because it was announced a year ago, but it appears to have been generally forgotten that this is Jackson County Western's last year of competition in the Southeastern Conference.

The Parma school is dropping out of the SEC primarily because of the long distances its teams have to travel to play visiting dates at other conference schools, especially Milan and Tecumseh.

Western will join the newly forming Cascades Conference beginning with the 1983-84 seasons. The switch will save the school a substantial amount in transportation costs.

Chelsea High School Athletic Director Ron Nemeth said the SEC is not actively seeking a replacement for Western. "We plan to continue with six teams, hoping that Tecumseh will reinstate its full athletic program," he said.

Tecumseh dropped sports this fall for budget reasons, but announced recently that it will play partial seasons in girls basketball and boys golf, using funds raised from private sources.

"I think that's a good sign," Nemeth commented, "and I have a hunch Tecumseh may play a full schedule of winter sports. I certainly hope so."

Nemeth added that Chelsea will continue to play Jackson County Western in most sports, including football next fall. There will be no basketball competition between the two schools next winter because of scheduling problems created by formation of the Cascades Conference, but Nemeth said that "we will play them in the years after that."

He characterized the athletic relationship between Chelsea and Western as "excellent" and noted that the travel distance between the two is short enough so as not to pose a problem for either.

Gridders of the Week

GRIDDERS OF THE WEEK are seniors Mike Cox, 62, and John Packard, 34. Cox, an offensive guard has played a lot this year, said coach Gene LaFave. He lettered last year, but has grown bigger since the 1981 season. He is an improved player as a result, and works hard on his football. Packard, a wide receiver and defensive back, has also matured as a football player, said LaFave. He is 5' 9" tall and weighs 145, so he won't be the biggest guy on the field, but he makes up for it with a desire to excel. He has played for six years, is a hard-working practice player, and is an excellent blocker.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Chelsea Moves into Sole Possession of League Lead

With its victory over Saline, Chelsea moved into first place all alone in the Southeastern Conference following last Friday night's action, but, Milan stayed just half a game behind with a 17-0 win over Dexter.

Should Chelsea defeat Lincoln and Milan win its remaining two conference games against Jackson County Western and Saline, the two teams would share the league title.

Lincoln dropped into a third-place tie with Saline as Western beat the Railsplitters, 20-18. It was Western's first conference victory.

Western is now 1-2 in league play, and Dexter is 1-3.

SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE STANDINGS

	W	L
Chelsea	3	1
Milan	2	1
Lincoln	2	2
Saline	2	2
Western	1	2
Dexter	1	3

Milan 17, Dexter 0

Milan stayed in the running for at least a share of the Southeastern Conference championship with a 17-0 shutout of Dexter in a game played at Milan.

The Big Reds dominated play, scoring touchdowns on their first two possessions and adding a field goal in the fourth quarter. Meanwhile, the Milan defense was shutting down Dexter, which never seriously threatened to score. As they have all season, the Dreadnaughts hurt themselves with mistakes at critical times.

Milan's touchdowns came on a 52-yard pass from Craig Westfall to Bob Horvath and a 22-yard run by Jeff Sabo. Bernie Saja kicked both extra points and a 23-yard field goal. Saja, a linebacker, had 15 tackles and a pass interception on defense.

For Dexter, quarterback Ryan Doletzky completed five passes for 110 yards but also threw four interceptions. The Dreadnaughts' usually strong running game was effectively stopped by the Milan defense.

Western 20, Lincoln 18

Things keep going from bad to worse for Lincoln, which has lost its two major offensive weapons, quarterback Darrell Federer and tailback Syrry Cannon, to injuries. The Railsplitters dropped a tough 20-18 game to previously winless Jackson County Western and fell out of contention for the Southeastern Conference title.

Lincoln almost pulled it out at the last minute, but was stopped at the Western 1-yard line as time expired.

A bright spot for Lincoln was the play of sophomore quarterback Ron Parks. Federer's replacement, who performed well despite his lack of experience, Cannon's fill-in, Leonard McClain, also did a fine job, scoring on an 81-yard kickoff return and a five-yard run from scrimmage. Bob Ladouceur accounted for Lincoln's other touchdown on a 10-yard jaunt.

Lincoln had an 18-14 lead late in the game, but couldn't stop a Western drive that ended with a 21-yard pass completion from Mark Cardwell to Jim Shaw for the deciding touchdown.

8th Grade Girl Cagers Lose Two

The eighth grade girls basketball team did not have a good week. They lost, 31-17, against Milan Oct. 11 away and lost to Saline, 30-7, Oct. 13 at home.

The Bullpups put up a lot of shots against Milan, said coach Cheryl Vogel, but just did not score much against Milan's quick and aggressive defense.

The score was tied, 6-6, at the end of the first quarter, before Milan began pulling away.

Milan shot 33 percent of their foul shots, while the Bullpups shot 25 percent.

Kim Ferry had 7 points; Trisha Mattoff, 3; Donna Guinan, Pam Brown, Sallie Wilson, and Kris Zerkel had 2 points each. Zerkel was leading rebounder with 7.

The Bullpups were still in the game against Saline into the fourth quarter. Saline led, 4-0, at the end of the first quarter, 9-5 at half-time, and 15-7 at the end of the third quarter.

But Chelsea just didn't score in the final quarter, and Saline doubled their point total in the last quarter, said Vogel, when the Chelsea defense folded.

"They got to us with their press."

Forwards Zerkel and Tylene Greenleaf both had good defensive days, she said.

The team's next home game is 4 p.m. Oct. 20 against Lincoln.

7th Grade Girl Cagers Split Games

The seventh grade girls basketball team split their games last week, beating Milan, 20-14, Oct. 11 away, and losing to Saline, 27-7, Oct. 13 at home.

Milan had a zone defense which was difficult for the Beach Middle school Bullpups to penetrate, said coach Ann Schaffner, so the team did not shoot a good field goal percentage. But Milan had a poor shooting day, too, trying to deal with the Bullpups man-to-man defense.

It was a tightly called game, so fouling and foul shooting were important, she said. Chelsea shot 6 of 13 foul shots, a good percentage for that age group. Milan shot only 2 of 18.

Dawn Weatherwax scored 10 points, making 4 of her 5 foul shots. Beth Kenney scored 5 points, and Peggy Hamerschmidt pulled down 6 rebounds.

The Bullpups had trouble with Saline's man-to-man and zone presses. Chelsea had a hard time getting the ball down the court, said Schaffner, without having it intercepted, or being called for fouling. Chelsea shot poorly also.

Bullpup players Leah Enderle and Laura Torres did play their best games of the season against Saline, she said, the bright note of the day.

The team's next home game is 4 p.m. Oct. 20 against Lincoln.

Golf Team Places 9th in Regionals

The Bulldog golf team finished ninth out of 18 teams at the regionals Oct. 15 at the par-72 Burr Oak golf course—the best regional finish for the team in the past four years.

Rain, hail, and cold made the scores higher than average, said golf coach Ken Larson. The players wore fur-lined gloves between holes to keep their hands warm.

Jackson Lumen Christi, a Class B Golf powerhouse, won the tournament with 313. Jackson County Western, playing on their home course, was second. Tecumseh, a late entry into Southeastern Michigan conference golf, was fourth with 330. Chelsea's four-player total was 345. Dexter finished 14th, with 367. Saline was sixth with 335.

Jim Ritter, who has been getting better as the season progresses, said Larson, had low score for Chelsea, 78, and he tied for sixth place individual honors. Eric Schaffner shot 89; and Kurt Eisenbeiser, 92. The score of Mike Carignan, the fifth golfer, was not counted towards the team total.

The team finished their season yesterday with the SEC tournament.

Firemen Make Two Rescue Runs

Chelsea Fire Department made two ambulance runs and put out a car fire last week.

The rescue calls were made to the Federal Screw Works plant and to 2180 Quigley St., to assist persons stricken ill.

The car fire, which involved only minor damage, was at 211 Lincoln St.

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDORE

A friend of mine died a couple of weeks ago. That would not ordinarily be a subject for this column, but in this instance it is because the friend was somebody very special—the best hunter and sportsman I have ever been privileged to know.

He was Leo Haner, a barber in Ann Arbor for more than 40 years. That name will ring a bell with many readers, because Leo was a friend to hundreds of people not only in Ann Arbor but also in the surrounding area.

He was, among other things, the finest field marksman with a shotgun whom I ever saw in action. When he missed a shot, which happened about once every five seasons, it was news. If you heard Leo's 12-gauge go off, you could bet your next paycheck that he had put game in the bag.

Yet he was not a "killer" in the sense that the word is sometimes used by today's anti-hunters to put down those of us who enjoy the act of hunting. He held his fire on many shots that he probably could have made, because he wasn't sure of a clean kill. And toward the end of the season, when he and his family had had their fill of wild game on the table, he passed up the easy shots. Sometimes he didn't even fake his gun along. "Let's just let the dogs run," he'd say, "and have fun being out there."

Leo loved to hunt. When fall came, his regular haircut customers knew they had better phone in advance to find out if he was going to be in his shop, because the chances were good that he wouldn't be. Countless times he called me at work to ask if I could "sneak out for a couple hours" to join him in a late-afternoon excursion. Fortunately, my job was such that I often could.

We hunted together at least twice a week for more than 15 years, starting with pheasants in October and going on through the end of February when the rabbit season closed. Most of the time either Nick Prakken or Ted Baughn, or both, were also in the party. Nick was then manager of the Michigan Bell office in Ann Arbor, and Ted ran radio station WPAG.

Leo was our senior hunting partner and peerless leader. He was just plain better than the rest of us, but he put up with our shortcomings without complaint.

Only once that I can remember did we have the last laugh on Leo. He, Nick and I were hunting pheasants together when a cackling cock flushed from under Leo's feet, offering the easiest kind of straightaway shot. Bang! Bang! Bang! The bird flew off unscathed, without so much as a ruffled feather. It was the only really scandalous miss we ever saw Leo make.

Gridders Romp

to praise individuals other than Harris, but did pick out Mike Neibauer and Glenn Prinzing as leaders of a hard-charging offensive line which got off the ball quickly all night and opened big holes for Harris.

The defense was truly a collective gem. The Hornets gained only 106 yards during the game, and 60 of those came on the fourth-quarter touchdown drive after Chelsea had the decision wrapped up. Saline's first-half attack netted just 18 yards.

Hornet quarterback Larry Swanson was constantly pressured when he tried to pass and was sacked several times.

The game was played on a chilly, windy evening before a surprisingly small crowd that might have numbered 1,000. There were almost as many people on the Chelsea side of the field as on Saline's.

Chelsea can lock up at least a share of the Southeastern Conference championship with a victory over Lincoln here Friday. For the Bulldogs to win the crown outright will require that somebody beat Milan which, like Chelsea, has only one loss in league play.

Sheriff's Office Reports Thefts

A home in 20000 block of M-52, Sylvan township, was broken into sometime two weeks ago and reported to the sheriff's office the afternoon of Oct. 12.

Entry was through a front window. Two calculators and two cash registers were taken.

A home in the 3000 block of Jennings Rd., Webster township, was broken into between 1:30 and 3:45 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 13.

A window on the northside of the home was pried open, and a cassette radio, head phones, two 12-gauge shotguns, and one 10-gauge shotgun, worth a total of $920 were taken. The incident is being investigated by the sheriff's department.

A two-door 1973 Lincoln, which had been stolen the morning of Oct. 13 in Detroit, was recovered shortly after 4 p.m. that day on Kalmbach Rd., Sylvan township.

Laughing because we couldn't help it, Nick and I walked up to Leo, who was standing there staring at the three empty shells he had picked up off the ground.

"What happened, Leo?" Nick called out.

"These blankety-blank shells must not have had any shot in them!" he exploded, and then he relaxed and laughed along with us.

From then on, we never started a hunt together without either Nick or I asking Leo if he was still using those cheap shells without any shot. And he never failed to share the joke.

Every November Leo joined a group of old-time friends in a deer hunting camp in the western Upper Peninsula. I never went along on one of those trips, but have it on good authority that he was just as expert a deer hunter and rifle shot as he was a small game gunner. His buddies called him "One-Shot Leo". Any buck that got in his sights was as good as dead.

My friendship with Leo was unusual in that he was nearly 30 years older than I, yet the age gap never made any difference between us. He treated me as his equal, even though I wasn't. He could be friends with anybody.

One benefit of his remarkable ability to make friends was that he never lacked for places to hunt. He must have known half the farmers in Washtenaw county, and some in Monroe and Livingston as well, and he was welcome at all their places. Many of those rural residents regularly journeyed to his shop at 105 E. Liberty St. to have their hair cut, even though there were barbers closer by. (The shop is still there, operated by Leo's son, Eugene. It's an Ann Arbor landmark.)

Nick and Ted and I got together for the first time in many years at Leo's funeral. Because I had been living away from Washtenaw county for nearly 20 years, we had had little opportunity to see each other. It was a sad occasion, of course. The loss of a beloved friend can never be reason for gladness.

Yet, we all felt better than we might have because of our memories of the man and our knowledge that he had lived a full and happy life, doing the things that he enjoyed, and had remained active until shortly before his death at the honored age of 83. We remembered hunting trips and Leo's many remarkable feats in the field. We felt it appropriate that he died in the fall, at hunting time.

As I said at the start, Leo Haner was a hunter and sportsman without equal in my experience. His skills and ethics were matched only by his character as a person and a friend.

Honeggers Erects New Storage Silo To Handle Expected Bumper Corn Crop

It's "just a big tin can," said Jerry Heydlauff, manager of Honeggers & Co., Inc., but what a tin can the new silo is!

The silo, which should be ready for corn this week, can hold 125,000 bushels of corn and increases the company's storage for corn, wheat, and oats to 450,000 bushels total.

The company's storage needs have increased in each of the past six years, said Heydlauff, so they decided to go forward with this big investment in spite of the interest rates, and because a record corn crop is predicted for this year's harvest.

Construction by the O.W. Mueller Co. of Deerfield started in July. One set of workmen assembled the sides, and Latvala Brothers, Inc., of Ypsilanti, poured the concrete and is welding the pipe that transports the grain from the 200 degree dryer to the silo.

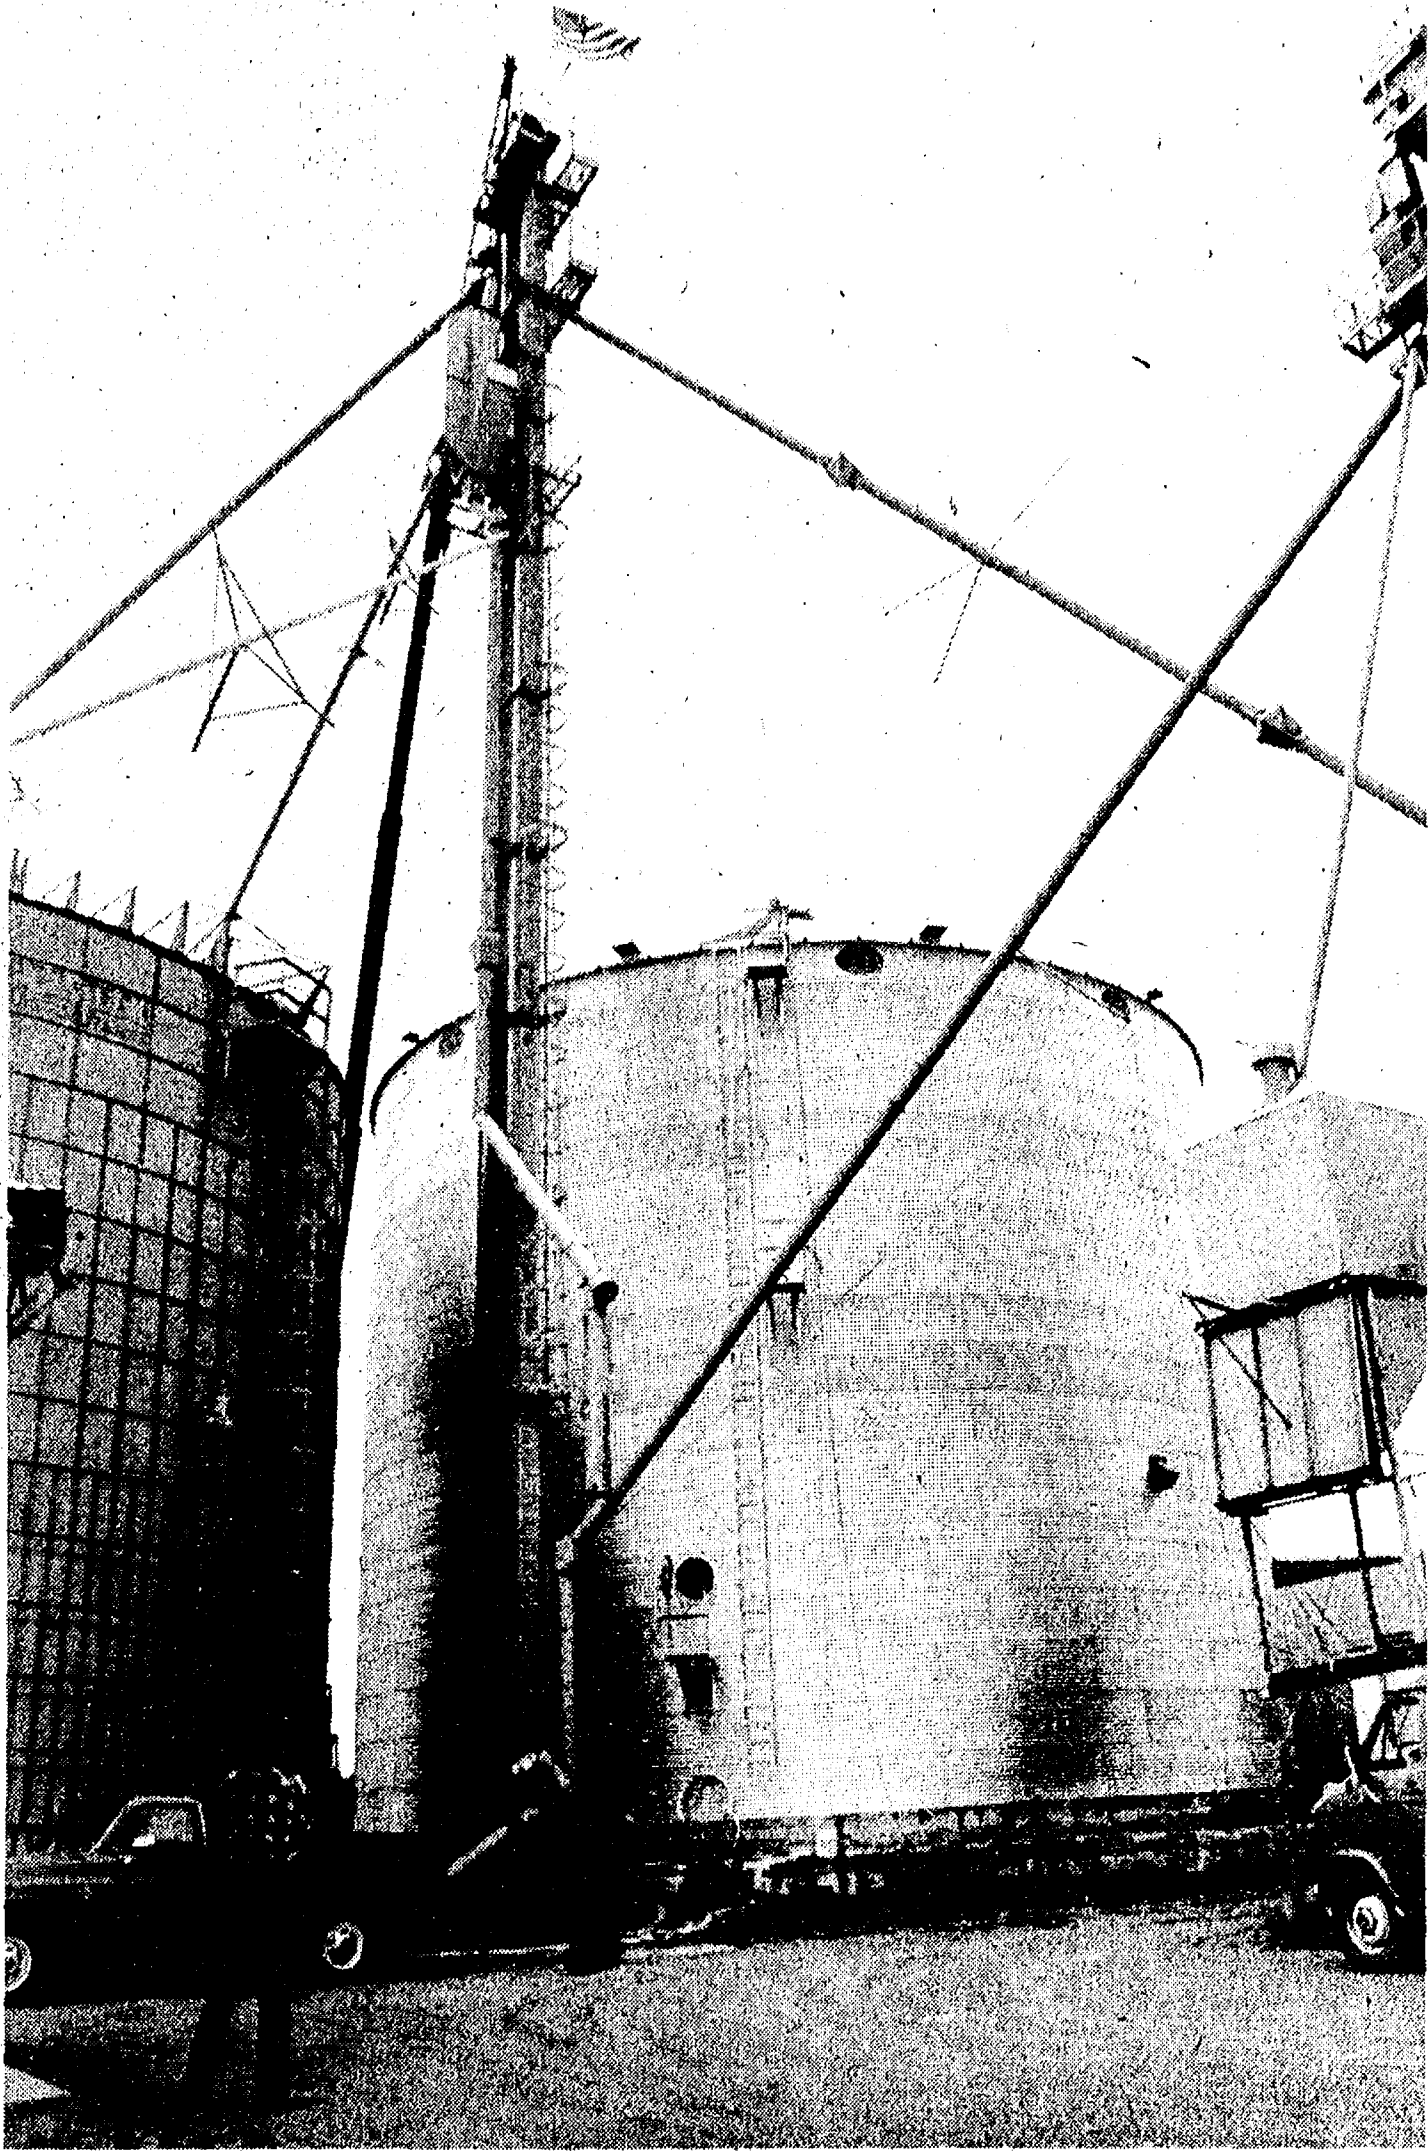

During busy times the firm gets 100 truckloads of grain a day, said Heydlauff. The newly harvested grain, usually already husked and shelled from the ear, is then cleaned, dried and cooled before it is put into the silo.

The 60-foot domed silo, which stands 46 feet to the eaves, has temperature cables in 11 different places. Sensors detect temperature every five feet on the cable, so that a hot spot may easily be detected.

Temperature is more important for keeping the grain fresh, said Heydlauff, than as a fire hazard. The silo has two fans, which can quickly cool down the grain, and which help keep it aerated for freshness.

Depending on the market for corn, the grain may be stored for several years, he said, or be shipped out immediately without ever going into storage.

Five good days of deliveries, said Heydlauff, should fill up this $95,000 tin can.

HONEGGER'S NEW SILO dwarfs manager Jerry Heydlauff. That flag is 100 feet above the ground. The silo is 60 feet in diameter, and it is 46 feet from the bottom to the eaves of the domed roof. Ypsilanti millwrights Kim and Jan Latvala were up on that platform under the flag welding the pipe, which will funnel the corn through a hole in the silo's roof. That hole on the side is one of two doorways into the silo, but it's not used when the silo is full. The doorway on the top is. This silo will hold 125,000 bushels of corn. The older silo to the left holds 109,000 bushels.

Chiropractors Attend Recent Seminar

Drs. Warren and Linda Atkinson returned recently from a continuing education seminar at Palmer College of Chiropractic in Davenport, Ia.

Focus of the two-day seminar dealt with evaluation and treatment of extremity problems.

Dr. Warren and Linda Atkinson are graduates of Palmer College of Chiropractic and practice at 7970 Clark Lake Rd., Chelsea.

Kindergarten 'Bear Day' Observed

North school kindergartners observed Bear Day last Friday. Each child brought a teddy bear to school or borrowed one from Barbara Locks, the media specialist and bear lover herself.

During their half hour session at the media center, the students did the Teddy Bear Dance with their bears to an ancient record Ms. Locks has. They wiggled the bears' ears and moved their paws to the music. They heard a recording of "Goldilocks and the Three Bears," and re-heard their favorite bear stories.

Bears have always been a favorite subject for children's stories, said Ms. Locks, because of the popularity of the teddy bear, a cuddly, furry animal. But even adult authors such as John Irving have a bear fetish.

Ms. Locks has told the children bear stories such as "Blueberries for Sal," "Ask Mr. Bear," "The Biggest Bear," and "Nobody's Listening to Andrew" during the last month. She borrowed a Paddington Bear from her two-year-old son, Dennis, which is displayed in the library along with Winnie the Pooh.

Although Ms. Locks loves bears, she wasn't very good to hers growing up, she says. She lost seven of them. She left one of them on the roof of her parents' home during winter, and he got snowed and rained on until spring.

Area Teen-Agers Invited to Hospital Career Offering

Chelsea Community Hospital is sponsoring a Medical-Health Career Exploring Post.

The Chelsea Community Hospital Explorers are young men and women, aged 14-20, who are interested in gaining information through a variety of experiences about careers in medicine and other areas of health care delivery.

The hospital will host an Exploring open house on Wednesday, Oct. 27 at 7 p.m. in the hospital's private dining room. The open house is designed to familiarize area teen-agers and their parents with the purpose and activities of the Medical Health Career Explorer Post.

For more information or to register for the open house, call Pam Burton at Chelsea Community Hospital, 475-1311 ext. 361 between 3 and 4:30 p.m.

Completes Marine Recruit Training

Marine Pvt. David W. Marshall, son of Wendall K. and Helene M. Marshall of 2001 Pierce Rd., Chelsea, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

Sweet Adelines Preparing Concert

Three women from Chelsea and one from Grass Lake are members of the chorus of the Ann Arbor chapter of Sweet Adelines which will present its fifth annual show, "Bandstand Boogie," at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Oct. 22-23, at the Huron High School Auditorium in Ann Arbor.

The local singers are Dolly Alber, Carol Flintoft and Lois Garman of Chelsea, and Stella Wolfe of Grass Lake.

The 75-voice chorus, now in its fourth year, has earned honors as the 1982 Lake Erie Regional Champion group of its kind. The chorus is directed by Jack Herr of Warren.

This year's show will highlight music from Dick Clark's "American Bandstand" television program. Featured performers will include the University of Michigan Glee Club Friars (on Friday only), the Harrington Brothers Barbershop quartet (Saturday only) and Top Priority, a women's quartet.

"Fat Bob" Taylor, Detroit radio personality, will be master of ceremonies.

A portion of the shows' proceeds will go to benefit the work of Safe House, a haven for battered and abused families.

Tickets for both performances may be purchased in advance from chorus members, or at the door. A special rate is offered to children and senior citizens for Friday's show. Further information may be obtained by calling 485-7276.

Nut Pickers' Car Stolen at Gun Point

Three women visiting Chelsea from Georgia had a more exciting visit than they expected. They and their hostess, who would rather not be identified, were picking hickory nuts about 3:30 p.m. Oct. 13 off of Pierce Rd. A man with a gun came over to them, asking for her car keys. "I gave them to him," said the Chelsea woman. "There was no way to argue."

He took off in the car, and the "pretty scared" but unharmed women ran to the nearest house to call the sheriff's department. The car was spotted at 4:15 p.m. eastbound near the Zeeb Rd. exit of I-94, and was pursued by the sheriff's department, Ann Arbor police, Pittsfield police and the state police to the Ann Arbor-Saline Rd. exit. The driver went up the exit ramp and then down the entrance ramp, but was forced to stop shortly after re-entering I-94.

Karle Andre Harper, age 24 and of Detroit, was charged with one count of armed robbery in 14th District Court, Chelsea, with bond set at $100,000. He was out

Chelsea Area Residents on Sonya Show

Your neighbor may be a television star!

Twelve Chelsea area residents were part of the audience for the Detroit talk show "Sonya," which will be aired at 11 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 21 on Channel 4.

The topic of the show taped Oct. 14 was cults. The Rev. Mearl Bradley of Chelsea Free Methodist church was asked by the talk show host to comment on the appeal of cults to young people. A mother and son, who had been de-programmed, were the featured guests.

Although Bradley was the only Chelsea person who spoke, the camera did move around the room, said Wanda Conner, one of the 12 on the visit. So Chelsea faces may be scattered throughout the audience.

Look for the Rev. Bradley, Joyce Bradley, Ron and Nancy Montange, Gilda Elkins, Jan and Julie Pratt, Rob Turner, Sue Eisenbeiser, Wanda Conner and Karen Scofield.

Students Protest Attendance Policy

The new attendance policy for Chelsea High school, which encourages coming to school by making attendance count towards one's grade, is still in the de-bugging stage, says high school principal John Williams.

He reviewed the plan at last night's board meeting. Melanie Lee, a high school senior, had objected to the plan at the board's Oct. 4 meeting.

Everyone agrees attendance should be stressed, said Williams, especially in classes such as building trades, chemistry, and art, where a large part of the teaching is by demonstration.

The new policy, passed during the summer, says that points for attendance can be counted up to a maximum of 20 percent of a student's daily grade—which won't mean that much to the student's final term grade, said Williams. If there are five points a day possible for attendance, 45 days in the term, and 1,125 points total for the course, missing two classes in the term means only losing 10 out of 1,125 possible points.

For an excused absence, such as a funeral, sickness, or pre-arranged family trip, quizzes and homework can be made up. Work cannot be made up for unexcused absences.

If a student misses school for a school-initiated absence, such as a tennis or golf match or a field trip, said Williams, they do not lose those daily attendance points.

Lee says she agrees attendance is important and that it should be stressed. But she objects to the new policy because it punishes instead of rewards; teachers administer it differently, and because an appendectomy loses points but a ball player does not.

Even though the daily loss of points is negligible, she objects on principle, she said, to losing even one out of 1,125, since grades mean so much to class rank and college admissions.

Teachers have flexibility in how they calculate attendance, said Williams. The only guideline is the 20 percent ceiling. Lee says it isn't fair if one teacher counts off 20 and another counts off five percent—It's a battleground for class rank.

Lee is concerned, she says, that sick students will come to school instead of staying at home to get well so they won't miss any points. "Even the teachers get sick days, why not us?"

She presented the board with a 345-signature petition objecting to the policy, and was accompanied to the meeting by five other students.

Last year the high school tried rewarding attendance, said Williams. If a student missed two or fewer days of class in a term, he was given an option to the final exam.

Even though the new policy needs fine-tuning, he says, for the first time in six years he has been high school principal, the students are really thinking about missing class.

They are trying to schedule doctor's appointments after school, and scheduling family trips around holiday times.

Chelsea has a relatively high attendance rate, a 94 percent daily average last year, he said. The impact of the policy cannot be calculated yet, because attendance is usually much higher at the beginning of the term.

Planning Comm. Slates Hearing on Rezoning Request

The village planning commission has scheduled a public hearing for the rezoning of the Tregetts property on the north side of Old US-12 W., the site of the old Riemenschneider two-cycle fuel plant, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 9 in the council chambers.

That property is presently zoned residential, and the application is to change it to light industrial.

After the planning commission makes their recommendation, the village council will schedule a public hearing and make the final decision on the rezoning.

Evelyn Rosentreter, Village Clerk.

Russian Grain Sale Expected to Have Little Market Impact

The announcement that the Soviet Union is buying 750 thousand metric tons—about 30 million bushels—of U.S. corn has been welcomed by American Farm Bureau Federation President Robert Delano.
Noting that the sale, announced by Agriculture Secretary John Block, was the first transaction under last month's extension of a grains agreement with the Soviet Union, Delano said he saw it not only as a substantial sale, but as a healthy indication of renewed movement in grain trade channels with the Soviet Union.

However, the sale is not expected to have any appreciable effect on corn prices. With the large stock of feed grains expected for 1982-83, long-term improvement in corn prices is not anticipated until there are indications that Russia intends to buy more grain than last year. In 1981-82 the USSR purchased 7.7 million metric tons of corn, 6.8 million of wheat and 700 thousand tons of soybeans.

Your Health Options

By Beverly Chetick
Director of Health Education, Washtenaw County Health Dept.

My mother is 68 years old and has never had a flu shot, but I've heard she should. Why is it necessary for people over 65 to get flu shots?

People who are over 65 — or younger if they have a serious chronic disease — should plan to get a flu shot to protect them during the coming winter season.

Influenza or "flu" is an illness caused by influenza viruses. Although it affects people of all ages, the risk of complications is highest for older people and for those who have chronic health problems.

These chronic problems include diabetes, heart, lung or kidney diseases and severe anemia. People who are taking medications that lower their resistance to infection are also more likely to have complications if they get the flu.

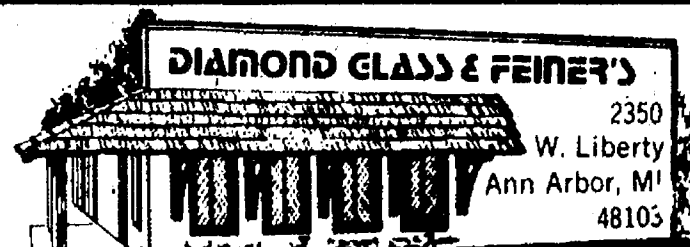

People with influenza usually have fever, chills, headache, cough, and muscle aches. They may be sick for several days or for a week or so. Most people recover fully.

Early reports suggest that last year the death rate from influenza among the elderly was the highest since 1968-69 when there was a very large influenza outbreak in the United States.

Although it isn't possible to predict whether there will be an influenza "epidemic" during the year, we can be fairly sure that some influenza will occur every year.

Influenza vaccine is given by injection. People who are at high risk for complications from influenza, should contact their doctor or clinic and arrange for a flu shot.

YOUR HEALTH OPTIONS appears monthly in this paper. If you have a health related question, please write directly to the Washtenaw County Health Department, Health Education Office, Box 8645, Ann Arbor 48107.

Eighth Grade Teams Drop Pair of Games

Chelsea's eighth grade football teams dropped a pair of games to Saline last week on the Hornets' home field. The A squad lost a squeaker, 21-16, and the B squad came out on the short end of a 14-6 score.

Quarterback Todd Starkey sparked the A team offense, completing seven passes for 110 yards and rushing for another 70. Dwayne Pate caught seven of Starkey's tosses, including one for a touchdown. He also had a two-point conversion reception.

Joe Eassa scored the other Chelsea touchdown on a three-yard run, and then ran for two more points.

The team fell behind early and never caught up despite a valiant effort after being down 21-6 at halftime. Greg Brown, Jeff Nemeth and Chris Zangara turned in good defensive efforts, especially in the second half.

Clay Hurd scored the only Chelsea touchdown in the B squad game.

The eighth-graders have an open date on their schedule this week, and will fill it by dividing into two teams and playing each other in a single contest.

"It will be an interesting experience, and I hope a useful one," Coach Bert Kruse said. "We didn't play all that well against Saline, and have a lot of things to work on."

Good Things Growing in Michigan

By Margaret G. McCall
You say you don't like pizza? Maybe these two unusual recipes for pizzas, using some of the good things growing in Michigan, will change your mind.

Cherry pizza is a dessert, featuring Michigan red tart cherries, and our state is the nation's largest producer of red tart cherries, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Breakfast pizza, which is great for a week-end brunch, makes use of Michigan pork sausage, eggs, cheese and potatoes.

First, the cherry dessert pizza, adapted from a recipe of the National Red Cherry Institute, which is headquartered in Michigan, of course:

Set oven for 350 degrees. Line a pizza pan with your favorite pie crust and bake 15 minutes. Blend together 8 ounces cream cheese, one-half cup of sugar, two eggs and a teaspoon of vanilla. You may add one-third cup of chopped nutmeats, if you like. Pour the cream cheese mixture over the crust and bake another 10 minutes. Cool, then carefully cover with tart cherry pie filling. Chill before serving, and add a topping of whipped cream if you like.

Breakfast pizza may take a little more time to prepare, but the results are worth it. Again, start with a pizza pan lined with pie crust, or form a crust from packaged crescent rolls.

Brown one pound of Michigan pork sausage with five chopped green onions. Drain well, sprinkle in pizza shell. Top with one cup shredded Cheddar cheese. Sprinkle with one cup frozen hash browned potatoes (thawed). Beat together four large eggs, 1/4 cup milk, 1/4 teaspoon salt and a pinch of nutmeg. Pour slowly over the breakfast pizza, sprinkle with grated Parmesan. Bake at 350 degrees until set and lightly browned, about 45 minutes. Cut into wedges and serve.

For variety you may add a layer of thinly sliced mushrooms before adding the cheese.

This recipe readily adapts to appetizer status. Just form your crust in a jelly roll pan, layer on the various ingredients and garnish with thin strips of green pepper. Cut the finished product into squares or triangles, serve to hungry guests and watch the pizzas disappear.

CPR Classes Offered Free at Chelsea Hospital

Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) classes are being offered to area residents on Nov. 3, 10 and 17. Upon completion of this three-part course, the participant will receive American Red Cross certification in CPR.

Participants must attend all three courses to complete the class. Each session is from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. and will be held in the Physical Therapy Department at Chelsea Community Hospital.

The course is free of charge; however, registration is necessary. To register contact Cindy Bear, 475-1311 Ext. 354.

Frosh Come Back To Defeat Saline

Chelsea's undefeated freshman football team got a scare from Saline last week, falling behind 12-0 at the half, but rallied for a 28-18 victory to raise its season record to 5-0. The game was played at Chelsea.

"I was really proud of all our players," Coach Jim Tallman said. "They made a lot of mistakes in the first half, and they could have gotten down on themselves and given up. They didn't. They got themselves together during the intermission and made a strong comeback. It's a sign of a good ball club."

The first half was pretty much all Saline. The Hornets returned the opening kickoff 66 yards to Chelsea's 20 and went in to score from there. Shortly after, they recovered a fumble at the Bulldog 10 and punched over another touchdown. Meanwhile, Chelsea was sputtering on offense.

The second half was a different story. Stopped on its first possession, Chelsea scored on each of its next four and added a couple of two-pointers to put 28 points on the board. And, except for an 89-yard Saline touchdown run, the Chelsea defense shut the Hornets down cold.

Chelsea's scoring included a three-yard run by quarterback Dan Bellus, a 20-yard Bellus to Brian Robeson pass, and runs of 14 and 39 yards by halfback Rob Beckwith, who also ran for the two successful conversions.

While crediting his entire team for its gallant comeback, Tallman singled out Bellus, Beckwith and Robeson for outstanding play on offense, and Jeff Larson, Doug Jankuski, Chuck Downer and Fred Esch for their work on the defensive unit.

The frosh face their toughest test yet when they take on Class A Adrian at 7 p.m. tonight here at Chelsea. "Adrian has an excellent football program," Tallman said, "and I've felt all along they are the best team we will play this season. If we can beat them, I will be convinced we have an outstanding group of freshmen."

Two Vehicles Reported Stolen

A pick-up truck and an automobile were reported stolen from Chelsea last week.

Police Chief Robert F. Aeillo said a 1976 Chevrolet short-box pick-up was taken from the Village Motor Sales lot on S. Main St. The light green truck is valued at $2,000.

Also missing is a 1976 Chrysler car with a white vinyl top and red body, apparently stolen from the mobile home park at 525 N. Main

Firemen Called Twice

Chelsea firemen were called to 322 South St. late last Friday afternoon in response to a report of smoke coming out of the house. They found that the owner was "boiling out" a bunch of muskrat traps and had let the kettle overheat. There was no damage other than a residual smell of smoke.

On Monday the fire department put out a grass fire on I-94 west of Kalmbach Rd.

Robert Smith Named Bank Branch Manager

Robert G. Smith has been promoted to the position of assistant vice president and branch manager, it was announced by George H. Cress, president of the Ann Arbor Trust Co.

Smith joined the trust company in 1979 and has managed the S. State St. office since that time.

Smith attended Michigan Technological University and served for a number of years in the United States Air Force, retiring in 1973. Active in community affairs, Smith is a member of the Southeastern Ann Arbor Kiwanis; Gabriel Richard Dad's Club; Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce Membership Committee; the Economic Development Corp. of Pittsfield; USAF Retired Officers Association; and serves as an instructor and tow pilot for the Huron Valley Glider Club.

PP&K Slated Here Oct. 27

Chelsea Jaycees in co-operation with Palmer Ford agency again this year will sponsor "Punt, Pass and Kick" competition for all Chelsea area children ages 8 to 13.

The contest will begin at 6 p.m. Oct. 27 at the Chelsea High school football field. Trophies will be awarded to the first-, second- and third-place finishers in all three categories in every age group.

Each contestant must register at Palmer Ford with a parent or guardian present. Registration deadline is Oct. 26.

Chelsea Jaycees have sponsored the local contest since 1979. It is part of a national competition underwritten by Ford Motor Co. and its dealers.

Participation in past years has been good locally, and the Jaycees hope for continued interest this time around. Contestants, categorized by age, vie to see who can kick the longest punt, throw the farthest pass, and boot the most distant placekick.

County Planners Endorse Funneling Ordinance

Washtenaw County Planning Commission has offered its endorsement of the controversial "funneling" ordinance as recently proposed by a number of Dexter township's lake area associations.

Before a township public hearing on Aug. 16, the same ordinance was rejected by the Dexter township Planning Commission. The proposal will now be put before the Dexter township Board of Trustees for final acceptance.

The proposed ordinance, which drew a crowd of more than 200 residents to the public hearing, would establish a new zoning designation requiring all lake sites dedicated to common usage to be zoned P-5.

The ordinance attempts to control the usage of lake front property by requiring a minimum of 150 feet of frontage for any type of shared used by non-lake property owners.

The Planning Commission withheld recommendation of the "Load Limit Factor" provision which would limit the number of households on a lake by dividing the surface acreage of the lake according to the number of households on the lake.

The commission vote was 7-2 in favor of the proposed ordinance.

USDA Changes Date For Milk Assessments

Dec. 1 is now the date that dairy producers will begin being assessed 50 cents per hundred weight of all milk commercially marketed.

"The assessments were to begin Oct. 1, but the startup is being delayed to allow producers time to comment on the rules that will implement the recent changes in the dairy price support program."

The assessment is designed to offset part of the cost of the dairy price support program. An additional 50 cents per hundredweight assessment is authorized under the new law effective April 1, 1983. Producers who would like to comment on how the assessment is to be collected, and how the assessment program is to be administered, should write to: Director, Dairy Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Lima Township Board Proceedings

Regular Meeting
Lima Township Board
October 4, 1982

The meeting was called to order by Supervisor Bauer and opened with the Pledge to the Flag.

Roll call: Supervisor, Clerk Bareis, Treasurer Messman, Trustees Heller and Trinkle, all present.

Approved minutes of the September 7 meeting.

The treasurer's report was received.

Zoning Inspector Eyster gave an update of violations and permits.

The Washtenaw County Road Commission has applied for a permit to replace the Steinbach Road Bridge.

The Washtenaw County Sheriff Department reported 44 incidents for the month of August, in Lima Township.

Sgt. Ritter of the Washtenaw County Sheriff Department will give an outline of the Neighborhood Watch Program, which is intended as a deterrent for would-be breaking & entering and other types of crimes, on November 1.

You and all your neighbors are cordially invited to attend the Lima Township Board Meeting on November 1, at 8:00 p.m. at the Townhall to organize a committee to help watch your neighborhood.

The Fletcher Road-Conrail Crossing hearing has been rescheduled to November 23 in Lansing.

Approved Application for Farmland Agreement No. 43 for Valeria Ferber, No. 44 for Ted and Linda Hinderer and No. 45 for Jerald and Shirley Heydlauff pending approval by the Washtenaw County Planning Commission. Carried.

Approved the appointment of David Bacon to complete the term of Jeanne Herrst who resigned, to the Planning Commission. Carried.

Approved the purchase of six chairs and a tape recorder.

Approved payment of bills as presented.

Citizen Comments—
Concern was shown on the voting record of Commissioner Merkel in voting to increase county millage by not retiring debt, in violation of campaign promises to Lima Township. Opposition was also voiced regarding the increase of commissioner salaries.

Approved motion to adjourn.
Respectfully submitted,
Arlene R. Bareis, Clerk.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING On Proposed Amendment to Chelsea Village Zoning Ordinance

Notice is hereby given that the Chelsea Village Planning Commission will conduct a public hearing as the statute in such case provides for the amendment of the Chelsea Village Zoning Ordinance (Ordinance No. 79); that is, the zoning map which will provide that the area hereinafter described will be zoned "I-2, Light Industrial District". The area to be affected is described as:

Commencing at the northwest corner of Section; thence South 882.42 feet in the west line of Section for a place of beginning; thence north 89°23' east 5 chains in the center of Territorial Road (Old U.S. 12); thence north 4.50 chains; thence south 89°23' west 5 chains; thence south 297 feet in the west line of Section to the place of beginning, being a part of the west half of the northwest quarter of Section 13, Town 2 South, Range 3 East, Village of Chelsea, Sylvan Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan, and also described as: Commencing at the Northwest corner, Section 13, T2S, R3E, Sylvan Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan; thence S 00°17'30" W 591.04 feet along the west line of said Section for a PLACE OF BEGINNING; thence N 89°37' E 330.00 feet; thence S 00°17'30" W 297.00 feet; thence S 89°37' W 330.00 feet along the centerline of Territorial Road (Old U.S. 12); thence N 00°17'30" E 297.00 feet along the Section line to the Place of Beginning, being a part of the NW 1/4, said Section 13 and containing 2.25 acres of land more or less, subject to the rights of the public over the southerly 33.0 feet thereof as occupied by Territorial Road (Old U.S. 12).

(This property is located on the north side of Old U.S. 12 W, and is the site of the old 2-cycle fuel plant.)

The aforesaid hearing will be held in the Council Room in the Chelsea Municipal Building on Tuesday, November 9, 1982, at 7:30 o'clock P.M. The application for rezoning as filed by Treget's Tool & Engineering Company, is on file in the office of the Village Administrator and may be examined prior to the date of the hearing.

CARD OF THANKS
We can't express enough, our heartfelt thanks to everyone for the sympathy and acts of kindness shown to us during our recent loss. We truly have wonderful friends and family. We especially thank John and Gloria Mitchell, Richard Cesarz and Fr. DuPuis who were all a great comfort and help to our family, and the St. Mary's Altar Society along with our dear friends Pete Kerr and Violet Guenther for the lovely luncheon they provided for us. We truly appreciate everything and your kindness will always be remembered.

The family of Hank Ortrbing, Wife Shirley and children Ed, Sue and Dave, and Kathy, Children Tim and Joyce, Tina, Todd, Trese and Brian.

First Travel Film Slated Saturday

On Saturday evening, Oct. 23, the Chelsea Kiwanis Club will present its first program of the Travel and Adventure Series at 8 p.m. in Chelsea High School Auditorium.

Photography has fascinated Robert Brouwer of Hudsonville since he attended Junior High school. He was an enthusiastic member of his high school camera club. An education in the electrical contracting field and many years of experience in the electrical contracting business, have proved valuable in planning and adapting the equipment used for his unique presentations.

Specialized training at National Electrical Schools in Los Angeles, followed by military service in the field of computerized fire control, provided additional practical background.

Overwhelming approval of the artistry of Bob's first single screen programs, done as a hobby, challenged him to develop a more sophisticated multi-screen presentation. The addition of stereophonic sound created a total realism of vision and hearing transports the viewer into the scene.

One of Bob's first presentations received a George Washington Medal from Freedoms Foundations of Valley Forge for distinguished service in promoting the American way of life. He was later commissioned by interested sponsors and the National Tourist Agency to produce a similar travelogue on the Netherlands—an unprecedented arrangement in the travelogue field. Bob also was a recipient of the Award for Film Excellence.

A Pacific paradise awaits travelogue viewers at Vancouver Island, British Columbia. Describing its picturesque topography requires many superlatives. Volcanic rock extruded from the ocean's floor to form the sublime mountain peaks in Strathcona Provincial Park.

Deer Hunting Changes CHS Accreditation

High school student deer hunters have to choose between the bucks and the schoolwork. They can make up their work if they hunt on a family trip, but it is an unexcused absence if they go with their buddies. They do lose daily attendance points in either case, under Chelsea High school's present policy.

But although hunting forces the students to make what is probably an easy choice anyway, the start of deer gun season Nov. 15 was a good enough reason to delay Chelsea High school's seven-year accreditation visit.

The accreditation visit by the North Central Association, (NCA) was originally scheduled for Nov. 16-18. But when high school principal John Williams, who is not a hunter himself, was making final plans for the visit, the NCA representative sheepishly told him that he wasn't sure he could get enough visitors to come then.

The visit was changed to Nov. 30 to Dec. 2.

Council Studying Possible Change in Zoning Ordinance

The village council is studying proposed changes to the zoning ordinance which would bring it in compliance with the state's 1978 amendment to the Zoning Enabling Act.

Now the planning commission conducts hearings on conditional use permits, said Frederick Weber, village administrator, but the village council votes on them, which means the decisions don't necessarily hear the cases.

The Village Zoning Enabling Act says that the same body that has the hearing should be granting the permits.

The proposed change that village council is studying would allow the planning commission to hold the hearings for the conditional use permits, which would be re-named special land use permits, he said. The council would act as the zoning board of appeals, just like an appeals court for zoning decisions.

The planning commission will study the proposed changes, said Weber, before a public hearing is set.

Jackson Vocalist Will Appear at St. John's Church
 Rogers Corners St. John's United Church of Christ, 12376 Waters Rd., will host Jackson vocalist Monte Long at the 10:30 a.m. worship service Sunday, Oct. 24. Long will present a 15-minute mini-concert during the service.
 Long is director of music for a Jackson area church. He teaches voice at his own studio in Jackson and at Spring Arbor College. He has directed several productions for the Clark Lake Players, the Jackson Players and is currently starring in the production, "Starting Here, Starting Now," at Jackson Community College.
 One may meet Long and also get acquainted with St. John's new lay pastor, Roger Samonek of Ann Arbor, at the coffee hour following the service.

Discussion Slated On Consequences Of Nuclear War
 Dr. Steven Sherman of Ann Arbor, a member of Physicians for Social Responsibility, will speak at St. Paul United Church of Christ, Chelsea, at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the lounge. His topic will be "Medical Consequences of Nuclear War."
 Members of the eighth grade confirmation class are sponsoring the program, and invite all interested members of the community to this free presentation.
 Dr. Sherman will also show slides and speak about the Nuclear Freeze Initiative, to be voted on by the citizens of Michigan and eight other states on Nov. 2.

Special Olympians Tie High Point In Hockey, 4-4
 A combined team of Chelsea and Dexter Special Olympians played to a 4-4 hockey tie against the High Point Young Adults last Friday.
 Chelsea-Dexter goals were scored by Jay Curry and Dawn Stancato of Chelsea, and two by Brian Shinnault of Dexter in the last three minutes of the game. Walt Lewis of Chelsea played a fine game as goaltender.
 Chelsea-Dexter played with three front lines. Shinnault centered one, with Mark Turnbloom at the wings. Allison Carey centered the second line, flanked by Theresa Carlson and Shinnault. Line three had Stancato at center with Stacie Crews and Mark Turnbloom as wings.
 Paired on defense were Curry and Paul Knott, Doris Esch and Donald Ellery, and Linda Alber and Jeff Thurston.
 The Chelsea Special Olympians will travel to High Point for a game there Friday, and on Oct. 29 will go to Dexter for a hockey match and a Halloween luncheon. Chelsea's coach is Nancy Cooper.

Leon J. Wenk
22 South Tenth St., St. Clair
(Formerly of Chelsea)
Former Chelsea resident Leon J. Wenk of 220 South Tenth St., St. Clair, died Sunday, Oct. 10 at Henry Ford Hospital. He was 78 years of age.
He was born Oct. 10, 1904 in Lima township to Frederick and Emma (Staebler) Wenk. He married Ella Weber, who survives him.
Mr. Wenk, a truck driver, retired from Roadway Express in 1967.
Survivors are his widow; a daughter, Patricia Freeman of Lincoln Park; three grandsons, Ralph, Ron, and Tim; a stepson, Charles Wenk of Allardt, Tenn.; a brother, Lorenz Wenk of Chelsea; three sisters, Hilda Pierce, Oleta Wenk, and Una Wenk, all of Chelsea; and a great-granddaughter. Two brothers, Roland and Norwin Wenk, preceded him in death.
Funeral services were 1 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 13 at the Burghardt-Cole Chelsea Funeral Chapel, which handled the funeral arrangements. The Rev. Paul Reyelts of St. Peter's Lutheran Church of St. Clair officiated.
Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Theodore L. Quigley
20180 Brown Drive
Chelsea
Theodore L. Quigley of 20180 Brown Drive died suddenly Wednesday, Oct. 13 at home. He was 65 years of age and had lived in the Chelsea area since 1921.
He was born April 17, 1917 in Detroit to Theodore and Nellie (Price) Quigley. He married Marie Barrick March 19, 1938, and she survives him.
Mr. Quigley was employed by Chelsea Milling Co. until he retired in April. He was a World War II veteran and served in the South Pacific.
Survivors include his widow; one son, Michael of Jackson; a daughter, Sandra Prater of Orlando, Fla.; eight grandchildren; four sisters, Jean Alber of Manchester, Kay Egeler, Alice Bergman, and Margaret Hatt, of Chelsea; three brothers, Charles of Scottsdale, Ariz., Leonard and Thomas, both of Chelsea. He was preceded in death by a daughter, Carol Ann, and three brothers, Alfred, Robert, and William Quigley.

The funeral services were held 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 16 at Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home with the Rev. Erwin R. Koch of St. Paul's church officiating.
Burial was in Maple Grove Cemetery, Sylvan Center.

Lucy O. Gooden
419 Wilkinson St.
Chelsea
Mrs. Lucy O. Gooden of 419 Wilkinson St. died Oct. 12 at her home. She was 81 years of age and had lived in Chelsea for 27 years.
She was born May 27, 1901 in Coldwater to Frank and Martha (Richardson) Ovenhouse. She married George F. Gooden, Sr. Sept. 28, 1920. He preceded her in death in 1973.

Surviving are two sons, George F. Gooden, Jr. of Chelsea, Robert E. Gooden of East Detroit; two grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by one brother, Roy Ovenhouse.

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 14 at the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home, with Deacon Richard Cesarz of St. Mary's Catholic church officiating.

Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Kirk Myers Completes Army Training As Armor Crewman

Pvt. Kirk C. Myers, son of Clyde D. and Maryann H. Myers of 9706 Beeman Rd., Chelsea, has graduated as an armor crewman at the US Army Armor School, Fort Knox, Ky.

The training was conducted under the one station unit training (OSUT) program, which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training into one 13-week period.

Myers is a 1981 graduate of Chelsea High school.

CONSTRUCTION OF THE NEW LAW OFFICES OF Keusch & Flintoft on Main St. beside Strieter's Men's Wear had begun in July, but the front of the office was opened up last week. Curious passersby could look down into the lower level and see the old brick of the inside walls. It will be a two-level office with about 2,500 square feet of office space, said Bill Coltre, the contractor, holding a diagram while he talks to Don Brooks, a Chelsea carpenter. Once the home of the Chelsea Restaurant, a Kroger store, a post office, and a temporary home for Spaulding For Children, the new office will feature the exposed brick and native cherry wood trim. Anticipated completion date is mid-December.

Tibet is often called the "Roof of the World" because its snow covered mountains and wind-swept plateaus are the world's highest.

Oak Grove Cemetery Opens Plot

Oak Grove Cemetery has begun the first phase of a long-range expansion program on a six-acre tract of land across Freer Rd. from the existing burial ground. The site is located at Freer and Dexter-Chelsea Rds., just south of the railroad tracks.

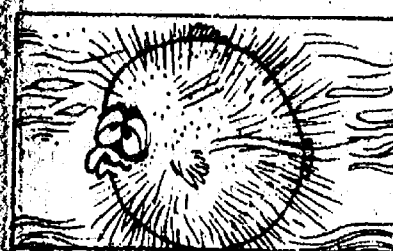

Development work is under way on two "islands" of lots which will take up about one-third of the six acres which the Oak Grove Cemetery board purchased several years ago. Roads have been laid out, and curbs and gutters poured.

David H. Strieter, secretary-treasurer of the board, said the new lots probably will be ready for use late next summer or early in the fall, after grass and other landscaping have been established.

Clarence Vogel is chairman of the Oak Grove Cemetery board, and Derwood Prochnow is vice-chairman.

The red corpuscles in the blood get their color from iron.

The porcupine fish is covered with protective spines. For added protection it fills itself with water so that it resembles a prickly balloon.

"Anchors Away," theme song of the U.S. Navy, was written in 1906 by three sailors on shore leave.
