SAMUEL R. MCCOY of Ypsilanti is the temporary officer-in-charge of the Chelsea post office, pending appointment of a new postmaster. McCoy (seated) is shown here conferring with assistant postmaster Larry Williams. By Postal Service rule, McCoy cannot apply for the postmastership. Williams is an applicant.

Western Washtenaw Maintains Reputation As GOP Stronghold

Democrats will have a 7-2 majority on the new, nine-member Washtenaw county Board of Commissioners, basically unchanged from the 11-4 split on the old 15-member board which was abolished as part of the redistricting process.

That was one key local government result of last week's election which produced few surprises except for some of the margins by which candidates were elected.

George A. Merkel of Chelsea, who ran unopposed in District 1, will be one of the two Republicans on the Board of Commissioners. Merkel received 6,362 "stamp of approval" votes in his uncontested race.

Martin L. Straub of Dexter township is the other Republican elected to the commission. He won by a bare 79 votes in District 2, defeating Thomas E. Carey of Superior township.

Democrats elected to the commission include Catherine McClary of Ann Arbor, Donald N. Duquette of Ann Arbor, Larry D. Minick of Augusta township, Mary Lou Murray of Ann Arbor, Raymond G. Shoultz of Ann Arbor, Dilard Roy Cragier of Ypsilanti township, and Mary Egnor of Ypsilanti.

Shoultz and Duquette both upset favored Republicans. Shoultz defeated incumbent Thomas N. Burnside in a normally GOP district, and Duquette beat veteran Commissioner Richard Walterhouse in a similar situation.

Republican Margaret O'Connor of Lodi township won a convincing victory over Democrat Henry Flandysz of Chelsea in a bitterly contested run for the right to go to Lansing as state representative from the 52nd district. The unofficial tally was 16,271 to 11,413. The campaign pitted a conservative, O'Connor against the liberal Flandysz, and the result showed that west Washtenaw county remains a conservative stronghold. It may also have shown that the type of personal attack mounted by Flandysz against his opponent is not well received by voters in the district.

In a race considered to be as toss-up on election eve, Democrat Lana Pollack trounced Republican Roy E. Smith by more than 4,000 votes and will become the first woman ever to hold a seat in the State Senate. She will represent the 18th district.

Judge Thomas F. Shea was re-elected as a judge of the 14th District Court, fighting off a strong challenge from Ypsilanti attorney Walter K. Hamilton. Unlike most judicial campaigns, this one had been a gloves-off, no-holds-barred affair.

Incumbent Republican Carl Pursell turned back George W. Sallade's bid to unseat him as congressman from the 2nd district, winning by an overwhelming 2-1 margin.

On a county-wide basis Washtenaw definitely went Democratic, with the exception of Pursell. County voters gave solid majorities to Governor-elect James Blanchard and U.S. Senator Donald Riegle.

A little more than half of Washtenaw's registered voters cast ballots, a turnout considered good in view of the poor weather which prevailed on the most of election day and the fact that it was a non-presidential poll.

The voting process generally went smoothly despite the length and number of issues on the ballots. Waits in line were short for the most part.

Bands To Present Concert Monday

Chelsea school district bands will perform at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 15 at the Chelsea High school gymnasium. The Beach Middle school bands are directed by Warren Mayer and the high school bands by Bill Gourley, chairman of the music department.

The seventh grade band will play "American Patrol," a march by Meacham; "Arietta and Rondo," a concert piece by Erikson; and "Little Rock," a popular tune by Ployhar.

The eighth grade band will play "Brasses Triumphant," a march by Holmes; "Brandywine Creek," an overture by Forsblad; and "Dixieland Spectacular," a medley of tunes by Edmondson.

The high school marching band, who will be wearing their uniforms but playing in-place, will perform tunes from half-time shows such as "Aztec Fire," "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "Still," a popular tune by the Commodores; "Twilight Zone-Twilight Tone," a popular number by Manhattan Transfer; and "Ballin' The Jack," an old dance number.

All three bands combined will play the half-time show they did for the Lincoln football game. Numbers in that show include "Wabash Cannonball," "Downward Road," and "Swan-nee River."

Temporary Officer-in-Charge Named To Head Post Office

Samuel R. McCoy of 705 Virginia Pl., Ypsilanti, is the temporary officer-in-charge of the Chelsea post office, working with assistant postmaster Larry Williams.

McCoy will be working in Chelsea for the next four to six months, until a new postmaster is appointed to replace Richard E. Schaules, who retired Oct. 29 after 18 years in the position.

"I am not a candidate to become postmaster of Chelsea," McCoy emphasized. "Postal Services rules forbid a temporary officer-in-charge to apply. I will be here only as long as it takes for a new postmaster to be named." McCoy added that he supports Williams' bid for the job. "The way things are, he really is training me," he explained. "While I know a little bit about the Chelsea community and have some friends here, he knows a lot more about it than I do."

McCoy's regular job is supervisor of deliveries and collections in the Ypsilanti post office. He said that he and Williams may make some "minor" changes in the operation of the Chelsea office, but that nothing major is in prospect.

Appointment of an interim officer-in-charge is standard practice under Postal Service procedures when a postmaster leaves. Also standard is an audit, which has been completed. McCoy said the auditors had found "nothing at all wrong" and were highly complimentary of Schaules and the Chelsea office.

CHS National Honor Society Inducts 34 New Members

Chelsea High school chapter of the National Honor Society inducted 34 students at a 7:30 p.m. ceremony last night at the high school auditorium.

Four seniors who were inducted last year spoke about the four necessary qualifications for the honor—Melanie Lee spoke on character; Celeste Powell, service; Dan Klemmer, scholarship; and Marie Sullivan, leadership.

Dr. James Peggs, director of the University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea and the featured speaker, used "The Responsibility of Excellence" as his theme.

Students need to have an 8.5/11.0 average or better to be eligible for the honor.

Eric Kruger, a senior and president of the Chelsea chapter, was master of ceremonies. Refreshments were served afterwards to the parents, relatives, teachers and students attending.

Seniors inducted were Lisa Furd, Randy Larson, Dave Moore, Randy Simon, and Rod Worthing.

Juniors were Chris Arbogast, Connie Bollinger, Laurie Brugh,

Allen Cole, Kevin Colombo, Dianne Desmyther, Kurt Eisenbeiser, Amy Finkbeiner, Walter Gray, Laurie Heller, Mary Hellner, Dave Kiel, Leslie Koopp, Brenda Lewis, Jeff Martin, Colleen McClintock, Ted

Merkel, Debbie Morris, Tom Nemeth, Sue Oesterle, Carrie Parkins, Joyce Robards, Jodi Rowe, Becky Schlupe, Dave Tobias, Gretchen Vogel, Carol Warren, Linda Wiedmayer, and Jane Wood.

Attendance Policy Sent Back for Board Decision

Those controversial daily attendance points will be voted on by the school board at their Nov. 15 meeting. John Williams, high school principal, recommended dropping them for the second marking period, which began Nov. 8, at the board's Nov. 1 meeting.

If the board decides to drop the points, last year's attendance policy would be in effect, said Sam Vogel, assistant principal at the high school, while high school administrators and teachers look at new ways to encourage attendance. That policy says assignments may be made up for excused absences such as sickness or pre-arranged trips but not for unexcused absences.

The high school has its highest absence rate at the beginning of deer-firearm season and the days just prior to the spring break, said Vogel.

Students considering hunting trips should bring a note from a parent or guardian in advance, said Vogel. Students may go for a three-day or longer trip, if they are with their families. They should make arrangements for a trip that long a week in advance, and have their teachers fill in their assignment sheets.

David Hardy Dies in Crash On Icy Bridge

David M. Hardy, 32, of 116 Buchanan St., Chelsea, was killed about 7:30 p.m. last Friday when his car and a semi-truck collided on the icy Baker Rd. bridge over I-94.

The accident occurred in darkness following a late-afternoon snowfall which left the bridge deck glazed and slippery. Bridge surfaces are often icy when roads are not.

Washtenaw sheriff's deputies said Hardy's car apparently skidded into a truck driven by Howard G. Mayfield, 53, of Lamar, Mo. Mayfield was unhurt.

Hardy's death was the county's 34th traffic fatality so far in 1982, compared to 30 at this time last year.

Planning Comm. Hearing Set Tonight on Rezoning

Chelsea Village Planning Commission will hold a public hearing and make a recommendation on the proposed rezoning of the property known as the Old 2-Cycle Fuel Plant on Old US-12 W., the proposed site of Tregets Tool & Engineering Co., at their 7:30 p.m. meeting tonight in the council chambers.

That property is now zoned residential. Rezoning of the 2.25 acre parcel would change it to light industrial use.

After the planning commission makes its recommendation to the village council, the council must set a date for a public hearing at one meeting, and hold the public hearing at again another meeting, before it makes its final decision.

The planning commission will also be setting public hearings for their consideration of two proposed village ordinances, one to bring the present ordinance's language up to date on special land uses and planned unit developments, and the other on an ordinance setting legal and building inspection procedures on dangerous buildings.

School Buses Getting Strobe Safety Lights

Chelsea school buses will be getting a disco look soon.

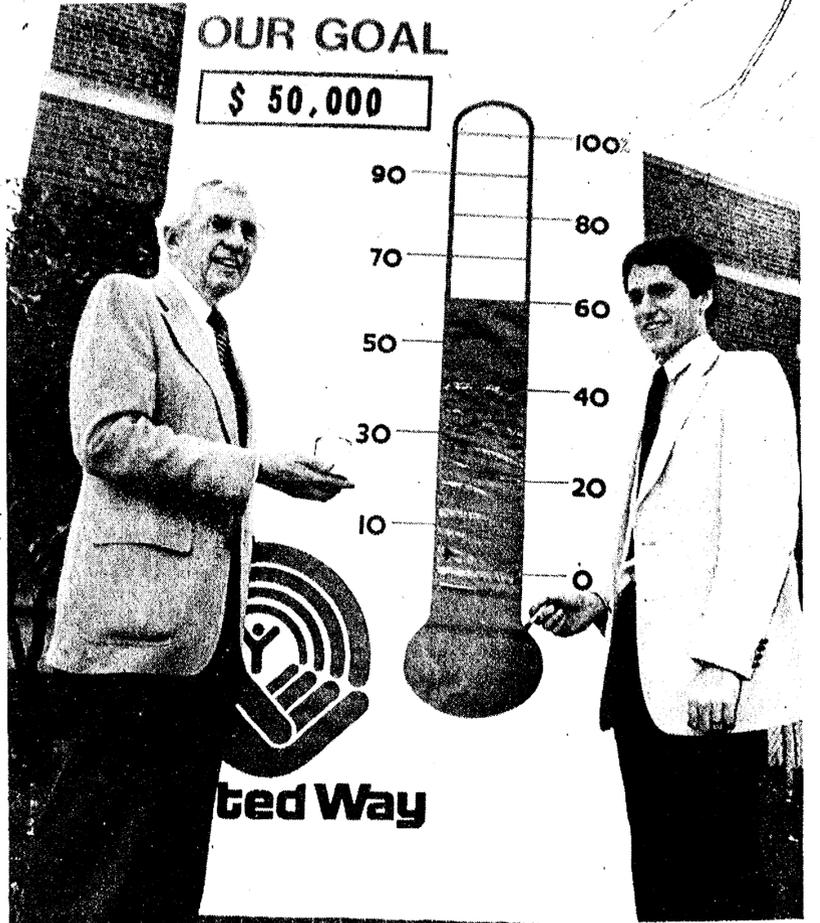

But those new strobe lights on top of the buses will be for safety, said Raymond Van Meer, Chelsea schools superintendent, to make the buses more visible in snow and fog. That's important in a district such as this one, which has a lot of lakes.

Strobe lights are not mandatory, he said, but are encouraged by the state, so the district budgeted for them. Tecumseh already has them.

Grass Lake Man Dies in Farm Accident

Thomas Sutherland of 6200 Baby Rd., Grass Lake, was killed Saturday in a farm equipment accident on a farm off Sharon Valley Rd. northwest of Manchester.

Sutherland reportedly was helping his father-in-law clean out a silage wagon preparatory to storing it for the winter and became caught in the power takeoff of a tractor connected to the wagon. He was pulled into the moving machinery and fatally in-

THE UNITED WAY THERMOMETER in front of the post office now measures 67 percent of the way towards the annual campaign's goal of $50,000. Paul Mann, honorary campaign chair-

United Way at 67% of Goal

Chelsea United Way is 67 percent of the way towards its $50,000 annual campaign goal, said Bob Porter, campaign chairman. That means $33,320 has been raised to support the four Chelsea United Way agencies: Chelsea Social Services, Chelsea Home Meals Service, Chelsea Recreation Council, Chelsea Area Transportation Service and other county and state United Way agencies.

The mail campaign is this year's superstar, he said. Contributions have averaged 24 percent greater than last year, and that campaign has passed its goal already.

The school campaign, at 88 percent, is running strong in this, the last week of the campaign. Organizations are at 65 percent of their goal; professionals, 42 percent; commercial/light industrial, 67 percent; and contributions given in other campaigns but earmarked for Chelsea United Way, 100 percent. Hospital campaign results are not in yet.

4 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Nov. 16, 1978—Chelsea girls varsity swimming team had a perfect 13-0 season record, the first undefeated season in the team's three-year history. They have won 19 consecutive meets, and have a 29-6 three-year record. Nine swimmers qualified for the December state meet.

Chelsea griddler Alan Augustine was named to both the offensive and defensive All-Conference first teams. Brad Knickerbocker, Tom Bareis, and John LaBarbara were named to the second team.

Four Chelsea firemen are now certified Emergency Medical Technicians after eight months of training. They are qualified to stabilize a victim until an ambulance arrives and will supplement an ambulance attendant's care.

Joggers are needed for the Chelsea Recreation Council's first annual Thanksgiving Turkey Trot Tuesday, Nov. 21.

Mild weather has sped up construction at the McDonald's on S. M-52 after the Oct. 27 groundbreaking, so the restaurant may open earlier than the projected May opening.

14 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Nov. 7, 1968—County voters went Republican for president and county offices but re-elected a Democratic sheriff, Douglas Harvey. Nixon took the county by a 3,000 vote margin.

The Bulldogs nudged out South Lyon by one point to take the Southeastern Conference football championship, with a 5-1 record, compared to South Lyon's 4-1-1. That 20-0 win over Dexter Friday iced the gridiron cake for the Bulldogs.

Frederick Belser will be the contractor for Retirement Village, an apartment complex on Middle St. for those who can live independently and provide their own meals, housekeeping and medical care. Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home will lease the apartments. Arthur Lindauer, a Chelsea architect, designed the complex, whose first buildings should open next summer.

The contributions thermometer for the Community Chest drive showed 60 percent of the $23,850 goal last week. The fund drive received a large corporate contribution from Federal Screw Bulldog junior varsity gridgers' win over Dexter last Thursday gave them a perfect 8-0 season record.

24 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Nov. 13, 1968—Villagers will vote on general obligation bonds to improve the water system Nov. 24. Presently the normal pressure of 85 pounds per square inch drops to 15 at times of peak demand. With any population or industrial growth, the present system will be unsafe for fire protection, public health, and sanitation.

Mrs. Anna Hoag, oldest Chelsea resident and believed to be the oldest person in the county, quietly observed her 103rd birthday Nov. 1.

Bulldog gridgers played their last game in the Huron conference Friday, a 40-13 win over Saline. They will join six other schools in forming a new league next year. Their season record is 5-3, and they finished fourth in the league.

In one week Chelsea Methodist church's 60 volunteer canvassers raised the $65,000 in contributions and pledges necessary to begin construction on a new education building.

34 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Nov. 11, 1948—Raymond D. Gadd of 203 W. Middle St. won a Westinghouse refrigerator for answering a question on "Hit the Jackpot" radio quiz show. Gadd sent in several responses to different questions in early summer, so he doesn't know which one won him the refrigerator.

County circuit court judge Clifford A. Bishop dismissed last week the suit filed by residents in the 13 school districts which were consolidated into the Chelsea Agricultural District, because the court lacked jurisdiction in the case. The suit, filed more than a year ago, questioned the legality of consolidating the districts and the subsequent election of a school board.

Lima Shepherds Sheep 4-H club won the silver cup for having the most active club in the county for the third time at the county 4-H awards dinner last Thursday in Ann Arbor.

A course on Boy and Girl Relationship Problems will be offered at the high school Dec. 1. A male physician will answer the boys' questions, and a female physician will answer the girls' questions.

Norman O'Connor won the $50 first prize at the Kiwanis amateur contest last Thursday for his piano solos, "Twelfth Street Rag" and "Dark Eyes."

State Faces New Budget Deficit

With just over one month gone in the state's new fiscal year, a budget cut of over $160 million may be needed to compensate for declining revenue said Senate Fiscal Agency Director Ted Ferris.

In a memo to Senate Leaders, Ferris noted that the fiscal year just ended also had a budget gap that is $40 million more than projected by the administration which must be resolved before the books are closed.

The gloomy estimates were issued following an unexpectedly large fall-off in tax collections in the final quarter of fiscal 1981-82 and the prospect the economy will show little improvement for the remainder of the calendar year.

Ferris said the odds are slim that the budget problems will be of a lesser nature than he has forecast and many variables could push it to even larger levels.

Ferris urged the cut be made in November or December, saying the next opportunity would not be until February after the new government is organized which would give officials as much flexibility in dealing with the problem.

Senate Majority Leader William Faust (D-Westland) accepted the more pessimistic forecasts, saying an executive order cut appears unavoidable.

Management and Budget deputy director Doug Roberts called the revisions premature. "The evidence to date does not indicate it will go the other way," he said.

He said officials may not know prior to the end of the calendar year if a downward revision is needed unless the slide is substantial.

The department also continues to hold a $20 million remaining deficit in the 1981-82 fiscal year which it proposes to be resolved by accounting changes for beer/wine and oil/gas severance taxes.

Ferris, forecasting a $62.3 million gap, suggested the additional step be taken to revise the Medicaid accounting as well, a move he said would not only balance the budget but keep the state in compliance with constitutional requirements for proportion of state-local spending.

His projection for a $161.2 million deficit for 1982-83 includes additional spending for welfare of $50 million and for school aid of $21.2 million (that due to sales tax revenue declines) and $91.8 million less in general fund taxes.

Ferris' economic projections noted the weakness of the September revenues (it was the worst month of the 1981-82 year) and said he expects October collections to be better but to also fall below expectations.

The indicators continue to tell bad news, he said, pointing to the 3,000 caseload jump in September in welfare recipients, the September rise in the unemployment rate and the month's decline in the number of persons employed.

Ferris added he still expects the economy to pick up next calendar year, but not enough to offset the decline at this point.

Other analysts note that despite the drop in interest rates, consumer confidence has not yet risen to the point where it is reflected in major purchases, particularly in homes and cars.

And they note state spending will continue at high levels even after the recovery begins, since a decline in welfare caseloads generally trails an upturn by about 12 months.

Dialogue With Superintendent Slated Thursday

Dialogue with the Superintendent, a chance for community members to discuss school issues with Raymond Van Meer, will be held at 9:30 a.m. Nov. 11 at North school.

No particular topic has been set for the talk—just what citizens would like to discuss.

CHS Orchestra Members Selling Fruit Cakes

Manor Texas fruitcakes are being sold by Chelsea High School Orchestra members to raise funds for general operating expenses. Orders for the fruitcakes will be taken through Nov. 14, and delivery will be made on Nov. 29 and 30. Orders may also be placed with the following Music Boosters members: Margaret Wiedmayer 475-9091; Karen Dixon 475-7161, and Virginia Webb, 475-7231.

Personal, Mister Editor, I'm partial to bumper stickers. I like whoever wrote "Virginia who?" over "Virginia is fer lovers," but my all time favorite is "if you can read this, you're to darn close."

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

This young feller that delivers bread to the country store was running late Saturday, but he took time for a cold drink and some talk. He said there had been some layoffs at his plant, and he passed around amongst the fellers a sympathy card he was sending his unemployed buddies. It was a regular store bought card with a verse inside about how sorry the sender is to hear about the receiver losing his job. The bread truck driver had a half dozen of em stuck in his jacket pocket.

After the young feller left, Bug Hookum said the card showed that, if nothing else, there are folks left that know how to make the best of a bad situation. Bug said he don't know nothing about trickle down and bubble up, but, fer sure, ever stick has two ends and if you got the messy one somebody will grab the other one. Fer instant, Bug said, he had saw recent where a feller in San Francisco is selling $21,000 parking places. He had figured out that folks with fancy cars and big bucks was tired of the hassle of renting spaces, much less finding em, and was willing to fork out a few piddling thousand fer a spot of their own.

Practical speaking, Bug allowed, people are staying up nights figgering ways to turn your misfortune into their fortune. He took note that no more than a week after poison was put in them pain pills somebody had filled a batch of the little capsules with cocaine and was moving em on the street. The world never would of got the hula hoop, Bug said, if one feller hadn't overstocked on garden hose and been willing to take a loss when another feller come along with a sack of wooden plugs, a sharp knife and a idee.

General speaking, the fellers was agreed that all Bug was talking about is what's left of the free enterprise system. Ed Doolittle said this old system may have proved too weak fer building roads, where rigging bids is as certain as a short paving season, but it sure is at work in the bumper sticker business. If anything goes right or wrong, you'll read it first on the bumpers, then catch a mention on TV, then learn what it's all about from the papers, was Ed's words. If you miss the sticker, you can get the message a few days later by reading some feller's cap, he went on, but don't depend on T shirts keeping you informed, cause they've gone to dirty jokes and pictures.

WHERE CAN SENIOR CITIZENS GET HELPFUL INFORMATION?

We have been asked often for information and literature about services available to our community's senior citizens. We've had to seek out material about Social Security, old age and survivor's benefits, VA claims, insurance-processing, wills, retirement-planning, etc.

We've become a kind of Information Center from which senior citizens (or anyone else for that matter) may receive pamphlets, reading lists, and even free advice on "where to find it" for all manner of important data.

We sometimes speak before adult and school groups on these subjects and others pertaining to funerals. We'd be glad to speak to your group.

If you have questions on some of these topics, we'll try to help you get the answers. There's a wide range of source material, some of which we have and others we can help you locate.

ABWA Members Hear Talk On 'Stress Management'

American Business Women's Associations' monthly meeting was held Oct. 26, at the Wolverine Lounge with 24 members and six guests present.

Highlight of the evening was guest speaker Janice Hammond, who talked about "Stress Management." She is an elementary principal in the Manchester school system.

Vocational speaker was Shirley Schneider. She is employed by Honneggers & Co., Inc., as a bookkeeper. She started her career with Central Fibre Products and was with Rockwell International until its Chelsea plant closed. Her advice to beginning "business women" is that they should always do their best.

Joan Luick, membership chairman, conducted the installation ceremony for the chapter's new members, Cindy Colvin and Esther Kujawa, sponsored by Cindy Bear and Cheryl Nelson, respectively. The group welcomed the two new members to the chapter.

Jeanne Atkinson, 1981-82 membership chairman, presented perfect attendance awards for the past year to Catherine Brooks, Kathleen Chapman, Judy Moisan, Micky Quackenbush and Shirley Schneider.

The Nov. 22-24 trip is highlighted with Christmas shopping, city tour, Sears Tower and a tour of a winery on the way home. The cost of the trip is $140, based on double occupancy.

For more information call Eric at 973-2575.

National Adoption Week Set for Thanksgiving Time

Thanksgiving Week is National Adoption Week. During this week when families traditionally gather together, it is appropriate to celebrate those families created and expanded through adoption.

It is also a time to remember the many children who are still in search of a permanent home. Many of these children are older or have mental, physical or emotional handicaps. Many are children of a minority heritage and need to be placed with

MARIE KOCH, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Erwin Koch of 760 N. Main St., was a member of the Queen's Court, in the Homecoming King and Queen contest at Heidelberg College, Tiffin, O. Miss Koch is a senior at Heidelberg, completing a triple major in economics-business, psychology and German.

Parent to Parent Program Offers Help With Stress

Many people are down and out now, not only financially but emotionally. It is understandable that it is not okay because you feel this stress and anger? You've got it — the kids, no matter how careful and unintentional it is on the part of the parents. Kids may lack knowledge but they can easily sense tension and anger. Because they lack the knowledge and understanding of what is happening and why, they automatically assume it is because of them and they don't know how to handle it. This results in children acting out; behavioral problems and depression which may effect child development and parent/child relationships.

Income and supporting a family is an everyday issue of concern now; one uppermost in parents' minds. So much so that they are changing their focus to this, away from the children. More and more moms are working now out of necessity and they are too tired to handle a demanding young person. The child senses this and acts out any way he/she can to get that attention even if it is negative or abusive attention. Tension, frustration and/or anger have very negative and long lasting results.

The High Scope Parent to Parent Program is a preventive program providing non-professional peer support to families who need assistance with child development, parenting skills, parent/child relationships and use of community resources. The program currently visits families with young children, 0-36 months of age on a weekly basis for up to 12 months. The Out-county Parent to Parent Program serving Chelsea, Dexter and Manchester, is now accepting family referrals from those areas. The contact person is Jo Ann Carruthers, 475-1311 ext. 262.

For the rest of Washtenaw county, call High Scope Educational Research Foundation, 485-2000 and ask for the Parent Program.

Home Meals Service Has New Co-Ordinator

Joyce Manley took over the job as co-ordinator of Chelsea Home Meals Service Nov. 1 from Barbara Branch, who has been co-ordinator and involved with the program for about eight years.

Mrs. Branch will be on the board of directors of the home meal service when it incorporates at the first of the year.

Mrs. Manley, as co-ordinator, will schedule and line up drivers for deliveries and call the Chelsea Retirement Home kitchen daily with the number of meals needed.

The meal service had two drivers drop out recently, said Mrs. Manley, who has been involved with the program on and off for six years, so they now need several more drivers.

It's a "rewarding" volunteer service, she said, and only takes about one hour every other week. Anyone interested should call her at 475-2795 or Ann Feeney at 475-1493 or Mary Ann Merkel at 475-8621.

Nov. 18 is the Great American Smoke-Out. For helpful quit smoking suggestions, ask for the free booklet, "Clearing the Air." Call the Cancer Information Service of Michigan, toll-free, at 1-800-482-4959.

D. Cooper Travelogue Scheduled Saturday

Chelsea Kiwanis Club will present their second program in the "Travel and Adventure Series" at 8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 13 at Chelsea High school auditorium.

Don Cooper, a lumberjack with wanderlust, will trace the historic mountain trails taken by western explorers through the Continental Divide from New Mexico to Alaska.

Cooper, who has a style like Will Rogers, was born on the family homestead near De Borgia, a small logging town in western Montana. He inherited a love of nature and an insatiable wanderlust from his mother, and sinus trouble and an odd-ball sense of humor from his father. The wanderlust has gotten him into trouble, he said, but the sense of humor helps him laugh at it.

He spent many years in the forest and lumbercamps of Montana and Alaska. He has traveled in South America, Mexico, Alaska and the South Pacific. Although known for his humor, Cooper is also a knowledgeable speaker with a down-to-earth message and a reverence for nature.

Coronado's search for the "Seven Cities of Gold" begins the evening. White Sands National Monument and Mesa Verde National Park, where the largest and best preserved Indian cliff dwellings are, will be visited. The flavor of the Old Spanish West is preserved in the colorful Santa Fe Festival. The famous Santa Fe Trail will take the group north into Colorado and the awesome Rockies. In Wyoming, one will see a horse round-up and an all-girl rodeo. Antelope, moose, and beaver are the animals to be seen in the Wyoming prairies and Wind River wilderness.

DON COOPER

Yellowstone Park's natural phenomena are as awesome and beautiful as ever. Earthquake Lake will be visited and an avalanche seen. A Montana cattle drive will give a taste of life on the road, and the viewer will learn about timber conservation, logging, fighting a forest fire, and reforestation on the way north. Waterton National Park, the Canadian Rockies, Mullan Trail, and Edmonton Trail are other highlights. The Denali Highway will be followed as it winds through the wild Alaskan Range to Mt. McKinley, the highest mountain in North America on the edge of the Arctic, and a natural high point to end the tour.

Chiropractors Attend Seminar

Drs. Warren and Linda Atkinson, Betty Koch, Rose Marie Bushway, and Joanne More, chiropractic assistants, returned last week from a four-day seminar in Atlanta, Ga., presented by Clinic Management Associates, Inc. of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Focus of the seminar for the doctors was care and evaluation of the whiplash injury, and for the chiropractic assistants, insurance relations and procedures.

Drs. Warren and Linda Atkinson are graduates of Palmer College of Chiropractic in Davenport, Ia., and are located at 7970 Clark Lake Rd., Chelsea.

Junior Girl Scouts Camp Outdoors In Irish Hills

Chelsea Junior Girl Scout Troop 82 bundled up for their snowy camping trip in the Irish Hills Nov. 5-6.

The eight Chelsea scouts, accompanied by leader Sue Nagel, co-leader Stefani Hilligoss and Troop 32 from Ann Arbor, were to tent camp two nights. Nagel said they planned to wear their clothes to bed and insulate their sleeping bags from the ground chill with layers of plastic and newspaper.

Other than chattering, the scouts took day hikes, dip candles over a fire, and did arts and crafts with acorns and pine cones. They cooked their meals over an outdoor fire.

WCC Enrollment At All-Time High

Fall semester enrollment at Washtenaw Community College increased two percent reaching an all-time high of 8,919 students registered, Dr. Gunder Myran, president, reported to the Board of Trustees Tuesday, Oct. 26, at the monthly meeting.

General education enrollment increased 22 percent over Fall semester 1981 to 4,280 students, he said.

"A reduction in federal funding for individuals eligible for training assistance under the Trade Readjustment Act and some changes in CETA arrangements caused a decrease of 11 percent in the number of students in occupational education to 4,639," Dr. Myran stated. "Last year approximately 800 individuals were enrolled at the College in those two programs," he explained.

The number of credit hours remained essentially at the same level as last year with a one percent decline to 63,057.

Female students outnumber males by two (2) percent, 4,544 women, 4,375 men.

In-district students accounted for 84 percent of enrollees and 57 percent were continuing students, individuals who were enrolled at the college last year.

Drug Customers Urged To Report Any Tampering

In view of the recent Tylenol contamination incidents in the Chicago area and similar incidents in other locations, the Washtenaw County Health Department urges county consumers to be aware of willful contamination of over-the-counter products, and to examine all packages for evidence of tampering before leaving the store.

While State Health Director, Dr. Bailus Walker, commended the federal government's efforts to require tamper-resistant packaging for non-prescription drugs, he cautioned "It is imperative that consumers remain alert to the possibility of tampering" without becoming fearful of every health care product on the market.

The Health Department urges that consumers who find signs of package-tampering call them to the attention of the store manager or pharmacist immediately — whether they are alerted in the store or after they arrive home.

If everyone worked as hard as he described it, there would be no undone work.

County Historical Society Observing 125th Anniversary

On Sunday, Nov. 14, at 2:30 p.m. the Washtenaw County Historical Society will be celebrating the 125th anniversary of their founding.

The group will meet at the Ann Arbor Inn, corner of Fourth and Huron, Ann Arbor. For reservation information please call 682-8275. Reservations are required.

There will be a reception which will be followed by a program to be presented by Dean Russell Bidlack, U. of M. School of Library Science, regarding "The Amazing Ann Allen — One of Ann Arbor's Early Pioneers."

Leon W. Durgan Completes Navy Recruit Training

Navy Airman Recruit Leon W. Durgan, son of Judith A. Durgan of 158 Orchard, Chelsea, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in their studies were seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

out for the purpose of forming a Washtenaw County Historical Society. Nineteen citizens signed the call. The first meeting was held in the courthouse in Ann Arbor. John Geddes was appointed president and J. M. Wilcoxson was appointed secretary.

Across the street from the county courthouse was the Solon Cook Temperance House. The title was later shortened by the public to the Cook House, after a disastrous fire the historic landmark was rebuilt in 1910 and christened, "The Allenel." This building was razed in 1964 for the construction of a new 10-story motor hotel now called the "Ann Arbor Inn." The meeting will be held at the Ann Arbor Inn.

Chuck Curtis Given Surprise Party On 65th Birthday

Chuck Curtis of 13034 Sager Rd. was given a surprise 65th birthday party by his children, Ken and Rose Reinhardt and Bill and Carol Cammet, Sunday, Oct. 24 at the Cammet's Saline home.

About 70 friends and relatives attended Mr. Curtis' first surprise party ever. The Cammets dangled a Laurel-and-Hardy-movie-in-Toledo carrot to him, knowing a diehard Laurel and Hardy fan like Mr. Curtis wouldn't pass it up. He was to drive to Saline and pick them up.

Mr. Curtis, who was surprised, he said, was born Oct. 26, 1917 in Manchester.

G. E. WELLNITZ, father of John Wellnitz of 520 Howard Rd., will be 102 tomorrow. He had a garden again this summer, but it was smaller than the one shown here in this photograph taken two years ago. Wellnitz, of 10930 Wisner Highway, Tecumseh, has three children, 10 grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren, and eight great-great-grandchildren. He leaves for Florida this week, for his fourth winter there.

South Lima Township Area Seeks Rural Historic District Designation

Even though Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority officials insist they are no longer interested in the idea of developing a big metropark in Lima township, some township residents aren't sure.

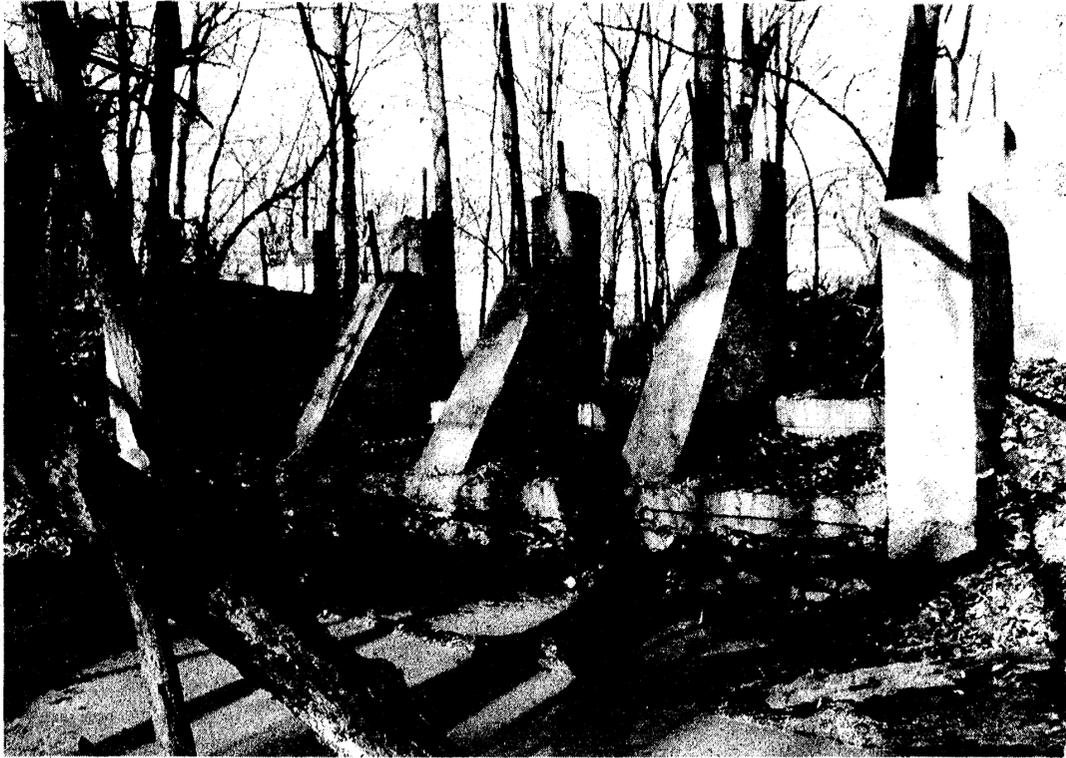

That is the motive underlying a proposal to have 9,400 acres declared a "rural historic district" and placed in the National Register of Historic Places. The History Division of the Michigan Department of State has 'the proposal under review and is expected to make a decision early in 1983.

If approved and dedicated, the district would be the first of its kind anywhere in the United States, according to Virginia Denham, chairwoman of the Mill Creek Research Council's historic district committee.

The idea is to preserve the 9,400 acres in its present state as a rural, agricultural area which has not changed much since it was first settled more than 100 years ago. That would preclude, among other things, an HCMA metropark.

Lima township has, so far, been largely bypassed by the wave of development rolling westward from Ann Arbor. There have been a few "farmette" homes built on 10-acre parcels, but not many. House, barns and other structures dating back to the early 1800's still exist, and the primary land use is for agriculture. Woodlots, swamps and swales have been left pretty much undisturbed.

Many township residents want

MUCH OF LIMA TOWNSHIP'S HISTORY focuses on this old dam site at Fletcher and Haist Rds. The dam, originally built in 1832, backed up a millpond and provided Mill Creek with its name. As the picture shows, the dam is no longer operating, and Mill Creek is free-flowing as far as the old millpond at Dexter, a short distance from its confluence with the Huron River.

to keep things as they are, and establishment of the South Lima Rural Historic District would be one way of accomplishing that. The rules and regulations governing historic districts make changes difficult and in many cases impossible.

The same goal can be achieved through strong, rigidly enforced local planning and zoning, up to a point. However, there is an ever-present threat of pre-emptive action by a higher level of government exercising its power of condemnation.

During the early 1970's HCMA came up with a plan to establish a 3,500-acre metropark in Lima township, centered on a 2,000-acre artificial lake to be created by damming Mill Creek. The park at that time would have cost about $7 million to acquire and develop, and would be much more expensive today.

Mill Creek had been a target of would-be dam builders before. The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers had earlier proposed a 4,000-acre impoundment as a Huron River water-level control project. The idea was to hold back water flowing down the creek, which is the Huron's largest tributary, and release it gradually to stabilize the river's flow. The Corps abandoned the proposal in the face of strong local opposition and no proven necessity. Given all the impoundments on the Huron mainstream, which can be manipulated to control the amount of water going down the river, there seemed to be no real need to dam Mill Creek.

The HCMA proposal for a metropark was likewise heavily opposed by residents of the area. It also touched off a bitter argument at the state level between the Department of Natural Resources, which initially supported the project, and the Department of Agriculture, which opposed it. The DNR later backed off and came out against the proposal, thus effectively killing it. A federal grant to pay half the park's cost would have had to be approved by the DNR.

HCMA officials say the Lima township park idea is dead. The authority's priorities have switched to operation and maintenance of the parks it already has. Land prices have risen to the point that acquiring more is not feasible financially. And, should money become available in the future, it would be used to develop parks closer to the Detroit metropolitan area. Washtenaw county is seen as being relatively well-off in terms of outdoor recreation facilities.

But some Lima residents are not convinced the park scheme has been buried for all time, and so have prepared the historic district proposal as a way of keeping the park from coming back to life.

The 9,400 acres suggested for inclusion in the district lie south of I-94. All but four small parcels of land are in Lima township. There are two each in Sylvan and Freedom townships. The irregularly shaped area is bounded roughly by M-52 on the west, Parker Rd. on the east and Waters Rd. on the south.

The area was settled by European immigrants from Germany, England and Ireland, beginning in the 1820's. The tiny community of Jerusalem was the site of a mill, from which Mill Creek got its name. The small millpond still exists, as do many other old features and structures.

A team of University of Michigan architecture students surveyed the area in 1980-81 and identified 76 houses as having historic significance. There are many other buildings, ranging from barns to privies, which are considered to be of historical note.

Some skeptics question whether establishing an historic district is the right way for south Lima to go, pointing out that the designation may "lock in" existing uses of land and buildings to the point where future development is stymied.

They cite the current bitter controversy in Ypsilanti, where an historic district has been established in the downtown business area and has become the focal point of clashes between merchants who want to expand and modernize their buildings, and preservationists who want to maintain things as they are. So far, the preservationists have been winning.

A TRAGIC FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY: This stone in old Porter Cemetery at Fletcher and Sager Rds. in Lima township marks the grave of Manning B. Doud, a Union soldier of the Civil War who, according to the inscription, died at Washington, D.C., in December, 1864. He may have been a victim of disease or of lingering wounds, which accounted for far more fatalities in the Civil War than did combat deaths.

Manchester Optimists Name Citizen of Month

Carol Kidd, the senior daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Kidd of 11359 E. Austin Rd., Manchester, has been named the Optimist Club Outstanding Citizen for September.

Carol participated one year on the junior varsity softball team, was a cheerleader during 10th grade, has been class secretary for the last three years, a member of the band in 9th, 10th, 12th grades, and was elected to the National Honor Society in her junior year. She has been a candidate from her class for Fair Queen on three occasions and was a finalist in this year's Homecoming Queen contest. She has also been a member of the Manchester Steer Club for four years.

Her hobbies include crocheting and photography.

After graduation, Carol plans to attend college to major in accounting or some other area of business.

Boys Swim Team Enters AAU Meet

High school boys swimming for Chelsea Aquatic Club off-season had their first real competition of the season at a major AAU meet, which attracted 3,200 entries, Oct. 30-31 in Livonia.

Swimmers entered in two categories, A and B.

The 400 medley relay team of John Hoffman, Ted Merkel, Dave Nicola, and Sean Oxner finished second in the A event. The team of Steve Ramsey, Mike Coffman, Brent Bauer, and Don Skiff took second in the B event.

Dan Degener won the B 100 free, and had a good time in the 500 free, said coach Larry Reed. Kevin Colombo was sixth in the B 200 breaststroke; Ted Merkel, first, B 200 breaststroke; Dave Nicola, third, A 50 free; Brent Bauer, first, B 50 free; Steve Ramsey, second, B 50 free; Don Skiff, fifth, B 50 free; Sean Oxner, eighth, B 50 free, third, A 1000 free, first, B 100 backstroke. Darrin Fowler did not place but had two career best times.

The boys will swim in a CAC meet Nov. 13 against Milan and begin boys high school swimming practice Monday, Nov. 15. The first high school meet Dec. 9 will be against a formidable Monroe team, said Reed.

Study Finds Sure Punishment Key to Drunk Driving Laws

Alcohol involvement in Michigan highway deaths should continue to increase despite new state drunk driving laws unless police raise arrest rates and prosecutors and judges properly punish offenders, according to a study released by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

The study—"Under the Influence"—points out that the percentage of fatal traffic accidents involving alcohol in Michigan is increasing an average 2 percent annually and estimates that 917 persons could be killed by drinking drivers in 1982.

"We do not believe that alcohol-related traffic deaths will decline until flaws in the present system are corrected to ensure that drinking drivers receive swift and certain punishment," stated Auto Club President Jack Avignone.

The 55-page report suggests more effective ways police, prosecutors and judges can handle the drinking driver problem. Copies are being sent to legislators, judges, prosecutors, law enforcement agencies and others who deal with this problem.

Recommendations include increased use of police selective enforcement, more enforcement of laws against selling alcohol to minors and less use of plea bargaining by prosecutors in repeat offender cases.

In 1981, Michigan's 24,000 police officers issued 55,000 tickets for drunk driving, or only 2.2 per officer. At that rate, it is estimated that only one in 2,000 drunk driving offenses is ever detected.

"To improve this arrest ratio, we suggest that state, county and local police implement selective enforcement programs."

"Police also should increase enforcement of laws against selling alcohol to minors and intoxicated persons," he said. "An average of only 37 liquor licensees were cited annually for liquor law violations from 1971 to 1981."

The study further recommends that prosecutors eliminate the practice of allowing repeat alcohol-related offenders to plead guilty to lesser charges.

Of the 1,273 drunk driving cases the Auto Club studied, only 21 percent resulted in convictions on the original charge, while the rest were allowed to plead guilty to lesser charges.

The Auto Club study was released coincidentally with yesterday's start of Alcohol Awareness Week in Michigan, which is intended to focus public attention on the extent of alcohol abuse.

New Pizza Mix Passes Market Test

Chelsea Milling's newest product, a pizza crust mix, has passed its market tests and is being sold nationally, president Howard Holmes reports. The mix can be purchased in most supermarkets where other "Jiffy Mix" packages are displayed.

The pizza crust mix is selling very well so far, Holmes said. The mix comes in a 6 1/2-ounce package whose contents, combined with half a cup of water, make a 12 or 14 inch pizza crust.

Jiffy pizza crust is different from most other pizza mixes on the market in that the package does not include tomato sauce, cheese or any other "topping" ingredient.

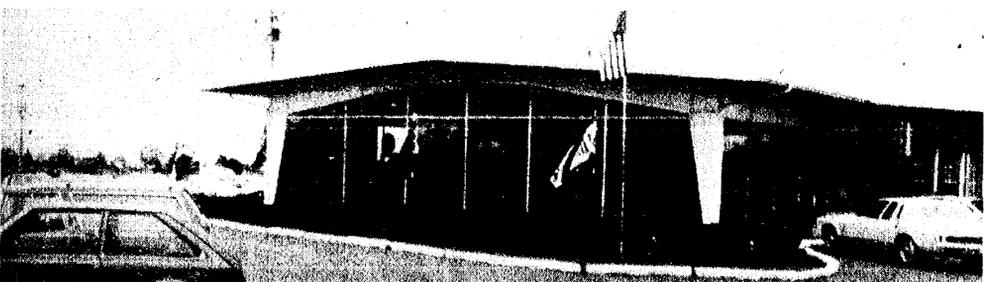

The box lists three suggested recipes for toppings.

School Board Briefs

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Tuesday, Nov. 2 were Feeney, Schumann, Dils, Snyder, Heller, Oran, Comeau, Superintendent Van Meer, Assistant Superintendent Mills, Principals Williams, Conklin, Benedict, Wojcicki, Assistant Principal Vogel, Athletic Director Nemeth, Community Education Director Rogers, Special Education Director DeYoung, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Feeney. Board approved the minutes of the Oct. 18 meeting.

The Board approved the band trip for April 20-23 in which the high school band and the Contemporaries will be performing before Western Michigan area high school students, with the trip culminating in the Elmhurst-Chicago area.

The Board accepted a printing press for the high school graphic arts building from Mr. Gerstler of The Print Shop. The press is valued at $3,900.

Assistant Superintendent Mills reported that the lease of a 15-passenger van has expired, and a determination is being made as to whether to purchase the van or to lease another one.

Assistant Superintendent Mills reviewed with the Board the present student discipline policy applicable to bus riders.

Principal Williams recommended to the Board that during the second marking period the attendance policy revert to the previous policy while the advisory staff is conducting further study in the area of attendance.

Superintendent Van Meer reviewed with the Board the K-12 testing program for the year, and updated the Board on the tests that have been administered to date.

Superintendent Van Meer indicated that Anita Todd-Parks, Gifted and Talented Consultant from WISD, will be working with the administrative staff and building faculties in the establishment of long-range plans.

Van Meer reviewed with the Board the direction of the K-12 computer literacy committee. This committee was formed on Oct. 22 and has held two meetings to date.

The Board of Education held their second session in positive attitude strategies. One of the Board's 1982-83 goals concerns positive attitudes and creative thinking.

Board adjourned at 9:37 p.m.

Hell Creek Dam Contract Awarded

Work is expected to begin next month on rebuilding the Hell Creek dam which backs up Hiland Lake, according to Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner James E. Murray.

The $250,000 contract has been awarded to Tobee Construction Co. of Wixom, low bidder among the 11 offers received. The bids ranged up to $524,000.

The state will pay 62 percent of the cost, and bonds must be sold to finance the balance.

Delay in getting the project started means that Putnam township, Livingston county, will lose money because tax assessments have been reduced on property adversely affected by failure of the existing dam.

Construction will be finished next spring or summer.

Faith is a great help to men and women as they go through life, but there's no synthetic substitute.

"THE LITTLE WHITE CHURCH ON THE CORNER," St. John's United Church of Christ at Rogers Corners, will celebrate its 90th anniversary with a special 10:30 a.m. service Sunday, Dec. 5. Construction on the main sanctuary began in January of 1892 and finished in November of that year. The sanctuary was remodeled in 1955 and a basement, which is used as a fellowship hall, was added in 1958. It is one of two churches at Rogers Corners.

St. John's Church Preparing For 90th Anniversary Dec. 5

St. John's United Church of Christ, which will celebrate its 90th anniversary with a special service Sunday, Dec. 5, continues its search for former members and friends of the church and historical records or photographs.

Dr. Paul Irion, pastor of Bethel church, began ministering in December of 1890 to families near Rogers Corners, the corner of Fletcher and Waters Rds., said Marcia Chartrand, a church member interested in its history.

A congregation formed in 1891 under the name of St. John's Evangelical Congregation of Freedom township, and the group began construction of a church in January 1892. The structure was finished in November of that year.

The first pastor to the church, which still had occasional sermons given in German in the 1940s, was called in 1894. There have been 21 pastors total. The parsonage a block south of the church on Fletcher Rd. was purchased in 1895.

The sanctuary was remodeled in 1955, and in 1958 the school building was moved and added onto the present structure. A basement, which serves as a fellowship hall, was made then also.

During the 1960s pastors were often doctoral divinity candidates at University of Michigan. The church sold the parsonage in 1970.

The Churchman's Brotherhood, the congregation's men's group, was active until the 1960s. At one time the church also sponsored a Ladies Aid group.

Presently the church is trying to revive its choir, said Mrs. Chartrand, and is looking for its 22nd pastor. Roger Samonek is serving as a temporary lay pastor until someone accepts the call.

The anniversary service will be

Softball Diamonds Drain Well from Heavy Rains

The two new softball diamonds at Veterans Park passed their first test with flying colors.

Both infields drained as fast as last week's heavy rains came down, and would have been playable within an hour after the rain stopped. A few small puddles collected in low spots in the outfields, and those are being corrected.

The construction project is virtually complete except for fencing. The posts are in place, but the wire remains to be hung.

Girls Varsity Cagers Drop Last Two Games

Bulldogs girls varsity basketball team had a hard-fought 46-37 loss against league-leader Milan Nov. 2 at home, and another 15-point loss to Dexter, 49-34, Nov. 4 away.

The team plays their last home game tonight against Saline, following the junior varsity's 6:30 p.m. game, also against Saline. Lots for the state district tournament, the post-season tournament for this team, to be held Nov. 18, 20, and 23 at Jackson Lumen Christi have not yet been drawn.

Milan is undefeated in the league, has a 15-2 over-all record, and has inspired the Bulldogs to their best playing of the year in the teams' two games, said coach Jim Winter. The score was tied, 8-8, at the end of the first quarter. Milan led, 18-13, at half-time, and 31-30, going into the final quarter.

Milan pulled away in the last 3 1/2 minutes said Winter. Chelsea's three-quarter scramble finally took its toll in fatigue. Milan made 36 percent of their field goal attempts, while Chelsea made only 19 percent of theirs.

"I was pleased," said Winter. "We made them come out and beat us; we didn't roll over and die."

Beth Unterbrink led scoring with 13 points; Mary Klink, 10 points, 8 rebounds; Carol Warren, 7 points, 12 rebounds; and JoAnn Tobin, 10 rebounds.

Although the Dreadnaughts had only a 14-13 lead at the end of the first quarter, Chelsea only scored 9 points in the second and third quarters, so Dexter had a 41-22 lead going into the fourth quarter.

Dexter had beaten the Bulldogs by 15 points also in their other game this season.

Unterbrink led scoring with 17 points and had 5 assists. Amy Poljan had 11 points, 6 rebounds, and Tobin had 6 points and 5 rebounds.

Dexter out-rebounded Chelsea 38-20, and made 36 percent of their field goal attempts compared to the Bulldogs' 31 percent.

Beach School Tours Slated

Anyone who would like to see what Beach Middle school is like can join the "See For Yourself" tour from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Nov. 18.

Visitors will start their tour at the school bus garage on Old US-12 and ride a school bus to Beach. Facilities such as the library, classrooms, and gymnasium will be toured before a question-answer luncheon at the high school.

Although the schools are open at all time to community visitors, one advantage of the tour is learning from questions others in the group ask.

Anyone interested should call Miriam Klemer at 475-9131 by Nov. 12 to make a reservation.

American flags will line Main St. for Veteran's Day Thursday, Nov. 11 as they did for election day. But other than the flags and closed federal, state, and county offices, it will seem a day like any other in Chelsea.

The county's annual parade, which rotates between communities, was Sunday in Manchester, with all the color and sounds of marching bands, veteran's posts, boy and girl scouts, and ROTC units from University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University.

The two major events on Veteran's Day itself will be at the Veteran's Administration

Hospital, 2215 Fuller Rd., Ann Arbor—a day-long Visit-a-Vet program and a 7:30 p.m. ceremony in the medical center auditorium, at which Ruben Swisher, a disabled Army and Air Force veteran who is very active in the veterans' community, will speak.

Ann Arbor mayor Lou Belcher will give opening remarks, and a color guard will post and retire the colors. Different veteran's posts and legions will present their banners.

Members of Disabled American Veterans will be at the hospital from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Nov. 11 to greet persons who would like to visit a veteran, who doesn't get much company. President Reagan declared Nov. 7 - Nov. 13 National Disabled Veterans Week.

Fire Destroys Unoccupied Cabin At Cassidy Lake

An old, unoccupied wood cabin at the Cassidy Lake Technical School sustained an estimated $6,000 worth of damage in a fire early Sunday morning, Oct. 31, Chelsea Fire Chief Paul Hanked reports.

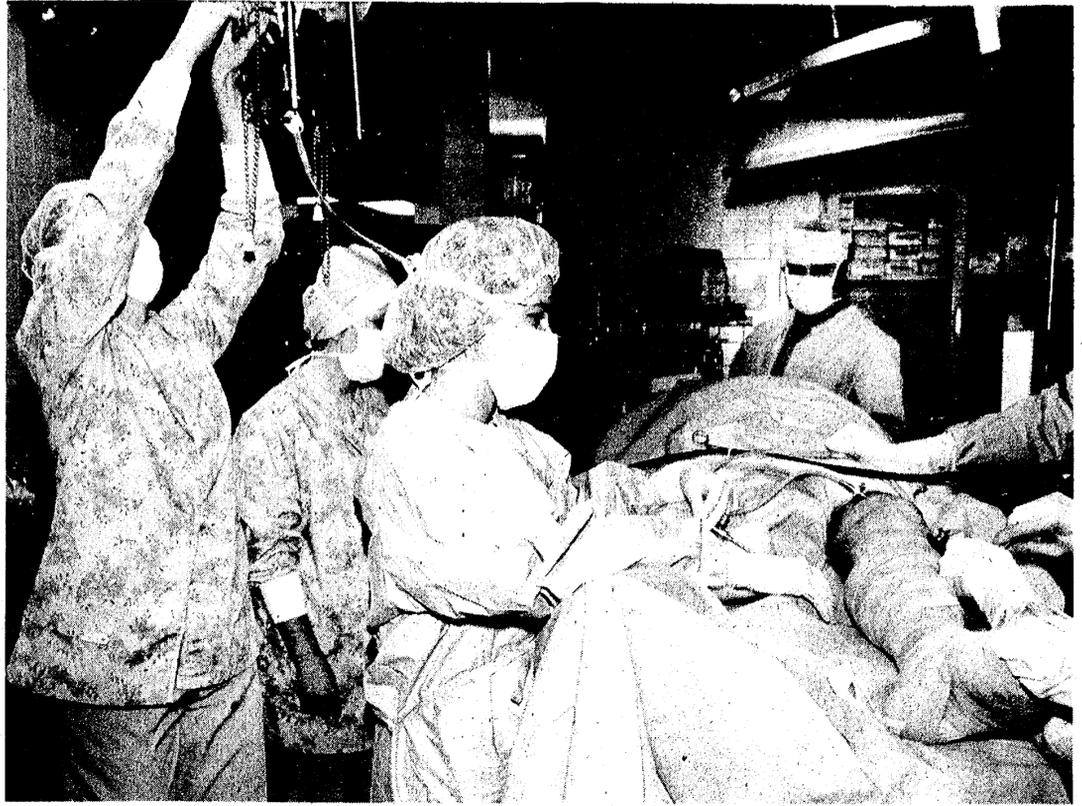

The village fire department responded to the alarm at 2:40 a.m. and brought the blaze under control after it had burned a hole through the roof of the building.

Hanked said the cabin, built during the 1930's, could possibly be repaired but probably will not be because it has not been used in recent years.

Lyndon Township Home Burglarized

A home in the 19000 block of Waterloo Rd., Lyndon township, was broken into sometime between 7:45 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. Nov. 2.

Entry may have been through the basement door, say sheriff's department reports. Stereo equipment, power and manual tools, and three chain saws were taken.

Operating Nurse Day Will Be Observed at Chelsea Hospital

Next Sunday, Nov. 14, is National Operating Nurse Day, honoring the nurses who work with doctors and anesthesiologists in performing operating room surgery, says Mrs. Howard (Pat) Brooks, operating room supervisor at Chelsea Community Hospital.

At the Chelsea hospital these specialists, who are affiliated with the Ann Arbor chapter of the Association of Operating Room Nurses with 28,000 members nation-wide, provide a variety of services including pre-operative and post-operative care, assistance during surgery, teaching and instruction, and follow-up visits to check on how surgical patients are doing.

Diabetes Screening Free Tests Offered

As part of Chelsea Community Hospital's and Chelsea Medical Center's promotion of Diabetes Detection Week, free blood tests will be provided in the Surgical Center of Chelsea Community Hospital on Monday, Nov. 8 through Friday, Nov. 12 from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Julie Say, R.D., community nutritionist, stressed the importance of eating a high carbohydrate meal, one with a large amount of starches and sugars, two hours before the test. A person planning to take the test after lunch could have a bowl of soup, a sandwich with two slices of bread, cake or pie for dessert, and a glass of milk. A person planning to take the test after supper could have a serving of meat, fish, or poultry, 1 cup mashed potatoes or a large baked potato, a hot vegetable, salad if desired, cake or pie for dessert and a glass of milk. The meal should be eaten within a 15-minute time period to assure an accurate test. After the meal, nothing else except water should be taken before the test.

Pinckney Scores on First Series, Handing Bulldogs 6-0 Loss

Things began badly for Chelsea's football team last Friday night and got steadily worse as the favored Bulldogs lost a 6-0 decision to visiting Pinckney and closed out their season with a disappointing 5-4 record.

It started with an afternoon snowstorm. Attempts to clear Niehaus Field left the turf glazed with slippery slush that turned into mud as the game progressed.

The game's start was delayed 10 minutes because the scoreboard wouldn't work. It was activated for the second half, but by that time it was too late. Chelsea couldn't put any points on it.

Snow flurried throughout the contest, adding to the miseries of the 2,000 or so fans who braved the cold and windy weather.

After stopping Chelsea following the opening kickoff, Pinckney took the ball its own 44. Two running plays moved the ball to the Bulldog 48. On third down the Pirates' Chip Stark broke clear on a trap play up the middle, veered to his right and raced untouched into the end zone.

That, as it turned out, was the story of the game.

Although both teams had chances after that, neither came really close to scoring until the very last play of the game, when a dropped pass in the Pinckney end zone wiped out Chelsea's last chance to tie and perhaps go ahead and win.

The Bulldogs had a splendid opportunity in the fourth quarter. They got the ball on the Pirates' 11-yard line where David Steinhauer recovered a fumble.

What happened next will furnish fuel for the hot stove league and second-guessers to discuss all winter long.

Chelsea Coach Gene LaFave had two choices: go with his running game and try to punch the ball in for the tying touchdown, or put it in the air. LaFave elected the aerial route. Four incomplete passes later, Pinckney had possession again.

"We hadn't moved the ball well on the ground, and I thought we had a better chance to score by going up top," a dejected LaFave explained after the game. "It didn't work. Nothing worked. When we had to do something on offense, we didn't."

Chelsea got the ball back on its own 47 with less than a minute to play and almost forced a tie as quarterback Dave Wojcicki moved his team downfield on a series of passes and runs off the option. His last-play "hope and a prayer" pass into the end zone was aimed at flanker David Walter, who was surrounded by three Pinckney defenders. Walter got his hands on the ball but lost it as time ran out.

As Mason had done the week before, Pinckney bottled up Chelsea's running game with hard-charging defensive line play, jamming the middle and thwarting the Bulldog game plan which was to run right at the Pirates.

One hoped-for objective was to allow halfback Russell Harris to gain the 176 rushing yards he needed to go over 1,000 for the season. He didn't come close. The Pirates' big and quick linemen and linebackers shut Harris off by overpowering and stunting around his up-front blockers.

"We knew exactly what they were going to do," LaFave said, "and we practiced against it all week. They had scouted our game with Mason, and saw how we were stopped on the ground. They put up the same defense, and we couldn't handle it."

Wojcicki had an especially unhappy night, suffering 15 sacks which could be some kind of record. It wasn't all his fault by any means. He was repeatedly tackled before he could hand the ball off on running plays, much less drop back and throw.

"Pinckney played an excellent game," LaFave summed up, "by far their best of the season. They were up, and we weren't."

Chelsea's defense, which improved steadily as the season progressed, again played excellent football. Except for the lapse on

T. Headrick Undergoes Knee Surgery

Chelsea's outstanding tight end and defensive linebacker, Thom Headrick, underwent surgery last week on his right knee which was injured in the Bulldogs' game with Mason on Oct. 29.

Dr. Gerald A. O'Conner, specialist in sports medicine and orthopedic surgery at University of Michigan Hospital, performed the operation to repair damage to ligaments.

Headrick watched last Friday's night's Chelsea-Pinckney game in a wheelchair on the sidelines. His leg will be in a cast for several weeks, and he will then undergo intensive rehabilitation therapy. He will return to his school classes this week.

Headrick hopes to be ready to play baseball for Chelsea High next spring. He also hopes to earn an athletic scholarship into college next fall. At 5'11" and 195 pounds, he has the size to play at the college level, and has good hands and speed to go along with his competitive zeal.

Gridders of the Week

GRIDDERS OF THE WEEK are David Steinhauer and Mike Wynn. Steinhauer is the only sophomore on this year's Chelsea varsity roster, and starts as an offensive guard. Wynn, a junior, is a center. Both will return next season.

Girls JV Cagers Win 2 Squeakers

Chelsea girls junior varsity basketball team won two gaspers last week, a 35-33 win at the buzzer over Milan Nov. 2 at home, and a 34-25 revenge win Nov. 4 away against Dexter, the only league team which has beaten this fine squad.

The Bulldogs JV, who have a 16-2 over-all record, play their last home game at 6:30 p.m. today against Saline, and their last game of the season Friday against Lincoln. Both the Bulldogs and the Dexter Dreadnaughts are tied at 7-1 in the league, and both have two league games this week.

Milan and Chelsea were tied, 7-7, at the end of the first quarter, and Chelsea led, 19-17, at half-time. Chelsea had a 27-23 lead going into the fourth quarter, and with three minutes to go, led, 31-23.

But Milan scored the next 10 points to lead, 33-31 with a minute to go. The Bulldogs missed two free throws, but Tina Paddock stole the ball back. Samantha Collinsworth hit one with 18 seconds left to tie the score—and Milan made a turnover. Chelsea had the ball with 12 seconds to go, and worked the ball around the offense. Collinsworth hit an 18-footer at the buzzer for a Bulldog win.

Coach Paul Terpstra was glad his team won this close one, he said, but Chelsea should have put the game away when they led by eight points in the fourth quarter.

Kelly Hawker led scoring and rebounding statistics, 12 of each; Collinsworth, 9 points; Jenny Cattell and Kristi Headrick, 6 points each; Paddock, 2 points.

Anne Weber led in steals, 9 of the team's 21. Collinsworth and Hawker had 4 each, and Cattell and Paddock had 2 each.

Dexter got out to an early 10-5 lead in Thursday's game, but only led, 10-9, at the end of the first quarter. Chelsea led, 19-16, at half-time, and 30-19, going into the final quarter, but had a fourth quarter scoring drought.

Dexter closed the gap to 30-25, but the Bulldogs had the last say and the last four points.

Chelsea made 14 of 45 field goal attempts and 6 of 9 free throw attempts.

Hawker had 12 points, 11 rebounds; Collinsworth, 8 points, 11 rebounds; Headrick, 8 points, 7 rebounds; Cattell, 4 points, 8 rebounds; and Weber, 2 points.

The team only had 13 turnovers against Dexter, their low of the year, said Terpstra.

After the two league games this week, the season ends for this team. Junior varsity doesn't have post-season play.

Basketball Practice Starts Next Monday

For many of Chelsea High school's athletes, one season runs right into another. Basketball practice begins next Monday; and no fewer than nine members of the football team which just completed its season are expected to report.

Cager Coach Robin Raymond is optimistic about Bulldog prospects for the winter, noting that he will have three starters coming back from last year's quintet which tied with Milan for second place in the Southeastern Conference behind league-leading Dexter.

"We had a young team last year," Raymond said, "and it showed in our record. We were 3-6 in the first half of the season and 9-3 in the second half. I hope we can pick up where we left off."

Leading the returnees are guard and captain Dave Wojcicki and forwards Dave Kiel and Marty Steinhauer, all regulars last season.

Other lettermen coming back are David Mann, Carl Pate and Matt Villemure.

"That's the most veterans I've had during the six years I've been here," Raymond said. "We will have some experience going for us, and that is what we lacked at the beginning of last season."

Others seen by Raymond as good prospects to make the varsity include Eric Schaffner, Chuck Hager, Jeff Martin, Glenn Prinzing, Jay Marshall, Jerry Hamerschmidt and Frank Waller.

The Bulldogs will have some size, with Kiel topping the squad at 6'5" and 215 pounds. Mann is 6'4", Martin 6'3", Steinhauer and Pate both 6'2".

Wojcicki is certain to start at one backcourt position in Chelsea's two-guard offense. He won all-league and all-regional honors last season as a junior, and is an excellent shot from the floor.

Villemure and Schaffner will contest for the other guard role. Raymond says Schaffner "is going to be a good one" but, as a sophomore, lacks experience.

Kiel and Steinhauer will hold down two spots on the front line, with the third one up for grabs. Raymond says both are best suited to play on the wings, but one or the other may have to be moved into the middle.

"If we have a problem right now, it's the lack of a strong center, and somebody is going to have to develop and take over that position," Raymond said, "I feel we are strong at both guard and forward."

Ski Season Opens Early

The skiing season is open at Mt. Brighton. Slopes serviced by the intermediate chairlift and beginners rope tow had been covered with enough artificial snow to permit skiing over the week-end.

Remaining slopes will be blanketed as weather and the output of snow-making equipment permit. Mt. Brighton boasts of having more snow-making capacity than any other ski area in the Midwest.

Last week-end's opening was the earliest ever at Mt. Brighton and is believed to be a record for southern Michigan. In past years the season has begun around Thanksgiving.

The labor force participation of mothers grew at a rate of 21 percent between 1977 and 1982, greater than the 18 percent rate for all women and more than double the 9 percent growth rate for men, the U.S. Labor Department reports.

A little preventive maintenance NOW may be all that's needed to keep your car in top shape this winter. For example, did you know that the two things that most people overlook on their cars are the belts and hoses. They don't last forever. After 4 years they can go anytime. And with today's belts, you can't tell just by looking. So if your car is four years old, save yourself some big trouble. replace the belts. And tell them you want Gates. Gates is the leader in automotive belts and hoses — and it pays to buy the best.

Centofanti Downs Big Buck Deer

One of the biggest and best trophy deer that will be taken this fall from the west Washtenaw area was shot on a rainy evening by bowhunter Leonard Centofanti two miles west of Chelsea on private property off Old US-12.

Centofanti's prize buck dressed out at 188 pounds on the Jiffy Market scales. That means it weighed about 240 pounds live, a mighty big deer. Average weight of Michigan bucks is around 150 pounds.

The untypical rack sported 11 points, six on one side and five on the other. Although Centofanti, who owns the A & W restaurant in Chelsea, did not have the animal aged at a Department of Natural Resources checking station, it obviously was an old deer.

Centofanti, who lives at 3730 Silver Fox Dr., went out late Sunday afternoon, with rain falling and wind blowing, and took a stand in a tree. "Even though a lot of hunters don't think so, I know from experience that such weather makes deer move," he said. "It's not comfortable to hunt under conditions like that, but it produces."

Fifteen minutes before he downed his prize, Centofanti missed a shot through brush at a six-point buck. When the big one came along at about 5 p.m. he put an arrow through the lung area at a range of 25 yards with his compound bow. He tracked the animal for 200 yards and found it dead.

Centofanti, a veteran gun hunter, has been using a bow for only two years. He didn't score last season, but this fall came up with a trophy better than many Michigan deer hunters collect in a lifetime. He plans to have the head mounted and have most of the meat ground into hamburger. A deer as big and old as his is bound to be tough.

LEONARD CENTOFANTI shows off the fine trophy buck deer he bagged while bowhunting west of Chelsea last week. The old buck weighed 188 pounds dressed and sported an 11-point rack.

Aquatic Club Tramples on Brighton for 3rd Victory

Officials stopped keeping score for the audience when the Chelsea Aquatic Club swam against Brighton Oct. 30 at Cameron Pool—the CAC was so far ahead.

CAC is now 3-0 for the season with this 576-224 win. They are tied in the league with Milan, whom they will swim against Nov. 13 in their next meet.

The new swimmers on the team did a fine job, said co-coach Von Acker.

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDORE

Photographer Dale Fisher took me for a ride in his helicopter a couple of weeks ago. Dale and I are old friends who once worked together at the Ann Arbor News. He was doing me a considerable favor. It costs him $5 a minute to fly his whirlybird, which is an indispensable tool in his aerial photography business.

As Dale's pilot took us out over the Waterloo Recreation Area at an altitude of maybe 200 feet, we looked down on a small but dense cattail marsh of perhaps five acres. Smack in the center was a handsome buck deer, standing up to see what was causing the commotion overhead. We counted eight points on his glistening rack, and there could have been more. He was a big buck with a nice set of antlers that any hunter would be happy to have hanging on his wall.

The deer didn't spook, just stood and watched as we choppered off. Half an hour or so later we came back and hovered over the same spot. We didn't spot the deer. My guess is that he had lain down in the cattails and wasn't about to be startled into showing himself again.

Old whitetail deer bucks that have survived several hunting seasons are the shyest, wariest, wildest creatures in North America. A tom turkey is dumb by comparison. I don't know of any responsible authority on this continent's big game who doesn't rate a record-class whitetail buck as the most difficult trophy of them all to secure.

Many sportsmen, in Michigan and elsewhere, hunt for a lifetime without ever glimpsing a trophy buck, much less bagging one. Shooting any buck at all is an accomplishment which only about one hunter in seven manages to achieve each fall. Most of those taken are 1½-year-old animals that are legal game for the first time since they were born. They wear spikes, forks or even small eight-point racks, and no hunter need be ashamed of bringing one home. But they are not trophies in the conventional sense of the word.

A deer that has lived through one hunting season learns a lot in the process and is about three times harder to hunt than a yearling. One that has made it through four or five falls is just about impossible. Getting one of those big old busters is largely a matter of luck, or even accident. There aren't many of them, in the first place, and they are incredibly elusive.

A Chelsea archer brought down one of those rare specimens last week, a monster buck that dressed out at 188 pounds, about 90 over the average. It had an 11-point rack, which is not exceptional. I've seen 16-point heads. My guess is that the animal was on the downhill side of life so far as growing antlers is concerned. Antler growth peaks at about age five.

During my years in the Department of Natural Resources I never bothered to take the in-house course in how to age deer by looking at their teeth, but the appearance of this animal — especially the gray around the head and muzzle — suggests he was a patriarch that had been roaming around these parts for a lot of years.

The hunter, Leonard Centofanti, was lucky, of course, but he helped to create his luck. Some people are consistently luckier than others, and there usually is a reason. Centofanti went out on a "bad day" — cold, wet and windy. Most deer hunters stay home in such weather, using the excuse that deer don't move under those conditions. The fact is that they do, but hunters generally don't. Stormy, unsettled weather makes deer and other wildlife restless and more likely to move around than on a warm, sunny, still day.

Centofanti had also taken the time and trouble to learn before the season that there were deer in the specific area where he planned to hunt. Even in west Washtenaw county, where deer are plentiful, they aren't everywhere by a long shot. There may be several in one spot, none at all in another nearby which appears identical to the human eye. Good deer cover is what looks good to deer, and not necessarily to people.

Centofanti had no way of knowing, of course, that there was a buster buck hanging out in his chosen hunting area. That's where real luck comes into the picture. But he certainly increased his chances by being in a good place at a time when deer could be expected to be on the move.

Boys Swim Team To Host Alumni Meet

Chelsea High school boys swimming team will host their first annual alumni meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 24 at Cameron Pool.

Alumni will compete against the current high school boys swimming team in regular high school events.

Any swimming alumni should call Dave Steinbach at 475-2060, Jon Osterle at 475-1526, or Larry Reed at 475-1425 for more information.

Family and friends of swimmers are encouraged to attend both the meet and a social gathering, tentatively planned for after the meet.

7th Grade Girl Cagers Lose Two

The odds on the Bullpups seventh grade basketball team always winning the close ones caught up to them last week. They lost to Saline, 28-20, Nov. 1 and to Dundee, 29-26, Nov. 3, and finished the season with a 7-3 record.

The Saline game, which featured one of the team's best performances of the year, said coach Ann Schaffner, was close the whole way. The score was tied with two minutes left, and the Bullpups led, 20-18, in the fourth quarter. Saline scored four points in the last eight seconds.

Saline led, 6-4, at the end of the first quarter, 12-8, at half-time, and 16-14, going into the final quarter, making it a much closer game than the 27-7 rout the Bullpups suffered at their hands earlier in the season.

The Saline coach remarked how much the team had improved since that game, said Schaffner. She was pleased with how aggressively the team played and how much they hustled.

Kelly Kuzon led the statistics with 16 rebounds. Amy Dmoch was leading scorer with 6 points, and Kuzon had 4.

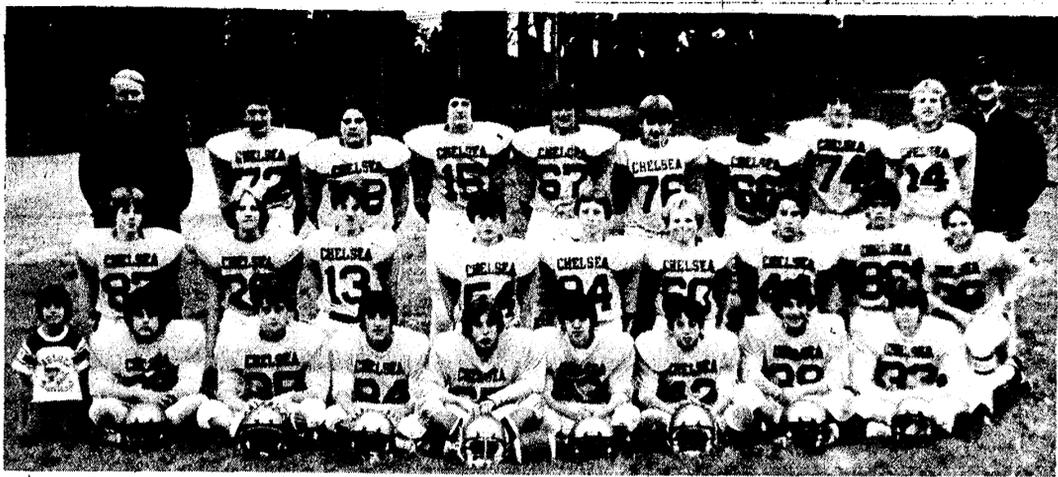

The team was a bit let down after that loss, said Schaffner, and didn't play as eagerly against Dundee.

Chelsea led, 11-9, at the end of the first quarter, and Dundee led, 17-15, at half-time. The score was tied, 20-20, going into the fourth quarter.

Kuzon was leading scorer with 7 points; Beth Kenney and Alisha Dorow scored 4 points each. Rebounding was spread evenly among team members.

Shannon Dunn had a really good defensive game, said Schaffner.

Team members ended the season with a pizza party Nov. 4 at Schaffner's home. This season may have been the first time many have played basketball on a team, she said, but not the last.

Gridders of the Future

COMPETITIVE FOOTBALL in the Chelsea school system starts in the eighth grade. Players progress through stages of freshman, junior varsity and varsity competition. At the eighth-grade level, players are divided into "A" and "B" squads according to weight and height, so that they may be matched against opponents of their own size. On the "A" team (top picture) this fall were, front row, left to right, Manager Brian Zangara, Scott Wocak, Rob McDowell, Ron Bogdanski, Jeff Nemeth, Greg Brown, Matt Kemp, Joe Eassa, Jeff Stacey; middle row, Mark Pletcher, Richard Lutz, Matt Bohlender, Marty Poljan, Mark Bareis, Greg Haist, Jeff Mason, Bill Sober, Ron Johnson; top row, Coach Bert Kruse, Dennis Parisho, Matt

What's in a name or, in this case, a nickname? I got to thinking about that last week as I wrestled with the problem of how to write a story about a football game between two sets of Bulldogs — Chelsea and Mason — without endlessly repeating the names of both schools.

Every school that fields athletic teams has a nickname for those teams — Chelsea Bulldogs, Dexter Dreadnaughts, Manchester Flying Dutchmen, Ann Arbor Pioneers, Michigan Wolverines, Michigan State Spartans, or whatever. Those titles are chosen when the school is new, most often through some sort of contest among the student body.

The idea may be to pick a nickname that will characterize the teams as fearless and unconquerable. Bulldogs (the breed of canines, that is) have that reputation. So do lions, tigers, panthers, bears and a host of other species in the animal world.

Or, the notion may be to suggest speed — greyhounds, blue streaks, whippets, and the like. In other instances teams are named after warriors who have earned a place in history — Trojans, Spartans, Titans, etc.

There is a kind of monotonous sameness in all of this. Some nicknames are badly overworked. Trojans is probably the worst from that standpoint, with Spartans not far behind. A few schools exercise some imagination and come up with names which are refreshingly original and at the same time appropriate.

If asked (which I won't be) to judge a contest for the best nicknames among area schools, I would call it a tie between Dexter and Lincoln. I like "Dexter Dreadnaughts." It is alliterative and euphonious (writer's terms for phrases which have a pleasing ring to them) and also fitting. Whoever came up with it did some thinking. Dreadnaught is a descriptive word for a battleship big enough to fear nothing (dread naught) in combat, coined by the British navy back in the ancient days when Britannia ruled the waves.

I also like "Lincoln Railsplitters." Given the opportunity to choose a nickname which would tie to the school's formal name, the selectors did so. Fortunately, they avoided some other epithets hurled at Abraham Lincoln by political opponents of his time, including "Spindly-Shanks."

Originality is not enough, by itself. Ann Arbor Huron's "River Rats" doesn't turn me on, nor does Wayne High's "Zebras." That kind of imagination could turn up names such as Field Mice, Weasels and Skunks.

There is nothing wrong with Hornets (Saline), Pioneers (Ann Arbor, an unusual name which means something), or Flying Dutchmen (Manchester, not at all bad considering the German-Dutch heritage of the village). For that matter there is nothing really wrong with Bulldogs. If you are looking for a breed of dog to name a team after, you could do a lot worse, like Pekingese or toy poodles. (Before irate lovers of those breeds call or write to vent their wrath, let me quickly add that there is nothing wrong with either. They are perfectly fine dogs, but just don't epitomize what athletics are all about.)

For that matter, the doubtful honor of having the worst, most inappropriate nickname of them all just may belong to my alma mater, the University of Michigan. The wolverine is an animal with no redeeming virtue other than the value of its hide. It is a scavenger, a thief, a glutton, foul-smelling, thoroughly disagreeable. Furthermore, wildlife biologists are pretty much agreed that wolverines have never existed in this state. They are inhabitants of the far north, in Canada and Alaska, and apparently always have been.

Michigan was dubbed "the Wolverine State" back in the days when French and English fur trappers who worked in Canada, brought their catches into Michigan trading posts, principally the one at Fort Mackinac on the Straits. Michigan thus became the world's major source of wolverine skins, which did and still do command a high price because the fur is an excellent insulator.

So what's in a name? It all depends on your likes and loyalties.

CARD OF THANKS
"A mother is someone who sends her children into the future, wishing them love and laughter handing them a pack to carry as they go . . . Filled with hopes, dreams and happy memories." We thank each and everyone who touched Frances in life and in death. In a most special way we thank Fr. Phillip Dupuis for the many times you gave Christ to Grandma. Dr. Waldyke for your patience and concern. John and Gloria Mitchell for your tender loving care in grandma's death. Ruth Zeeb for the many hours you sat with Grandma so we could get away for awhile. For the flowers which added to grandma's peace we acknowledge the efforts of Sandy and Walt Zeeb. Bob and Millie Warner Our Children and Our Grandchildren.
Henry Buss.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to thank my family, friends and relatives for the many kindnesses shown me by telephone calls, cards, gifts and flowers while in the Chelsea community Hospital and since my return home. A special thank-you to the Rev. Erwin R. Koch for his many visits and prayers.

Manchester Students Complete Assessment Program Tests
Students in the 4th, 7th, and 10th grades in the Manchester Community Schools recently completed a testing program designed by the Michigan Department of Education. The Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) is designed to assess student understanding of very specific skills within reading and math. These skills or objectives are described as minimal expectations for students at the beginning of these grade levels. The tests are basically designed to give teachers information regarding the skill levels of each of their students. The results of these tests along with those from Michigan Achievement Tests which are administered in the spring also enable the administration of the district to draw accurate conclusions regarding the success of these programs. It is anticipated that the test results will be returned to the school district within the next month. At that time all reports will be released for public information.

The average adult, with all his wisdom, rarely understands how much the average child understands.

Chelsea Schools Begin New Computer Literacy Program

Caught in a do loop, joy sticks, cursor, BASIC—the language and usage of computers isn't just a fad, says Raymond Van Meer, Chelsea schools superintendent. It's a revolution with more societal impact than the industrial revolution. Chelsea school district has just begun a computer literacy program for all grades to prepare its students for the revolution, said Van Meer. World Watch Institute, a non-profit research group in Washington, D.C., predicts that by the late 1980s the electronics industry will rival the automobile, steel, and chemical industries in sales and economic importance. But the impact of computers in the workforce is even greater, he said, since that doesn't even count computers used as a tool in other businesses such as banks, hospitals, schools, and newspapers. (This story was composed on terminal.)

A computer literacy committee comprised of principals, librarians, mathematics, special education, business, science and gifted and talented teachers began planning for computer curriculum and teacher training in late October. Computers will supplement in-class teaching, said Van Meer. They will not be replacing teachers.

One big advantage to them as a teaching aid, he said, is that they are interactive. The computer is programmed to tell the child drilling spelling or multiplication whether or not he is right and progress or repeat, whichever is necessary. In that way computers differ greatly from passive televisions and films, the educational fad of the 1960s, he said. "Schools bought all these television sets, and five to six years later they were crammed in closets."

Those television sets were the brainchilds of the educators, he said, whereas with computers, All Special Olympics participants are required to have a completed physical form on file in the county office to compete. Persons whose last names begin with A-L will be examined from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday Nov. 13 at the High Point Center, 1735 South Wagner Rd. Those whose last names begin with M-Z will be examined Nov. 20 at the same time of day and same place. Special Olympics provides year-around training and athletic competition in a variety of well-coached sports for mentally impaired children and adults. The volunteer program provides an opportunity to develop physical fitness, prepare for entry into school and community sports programs, and experience the joys and friendships from competition. Galen's Medical Society, well-known for their holiday tag days, is made up of 140 medical students from the University of Michigan. They raise funds for Mott Children's Hospital and do community service projects such as this one. Galen's members' physical examinations will be done under the supervision of U. of M. volunteer faculty and residents. Anyone interested in volunteering for Special Olympics should contact Washtenaw County Special Olympics, P.O. Box 2627, Ann Arbor 48106.

Another big advantage to computers, said Van Meer, is they may be used in classroom where children are at different levels. A teacher may select a subtraction drill and program for a student at his level, may have another student work on his writing, and work with another child on his reading out loud at the same time. South school now has one micro computer, North has two; Chelsea High school has six, and they are on order for Beach Middle school. The district wants to be involved with computers at this time, he said, so they can really do long-range planning, instead of a hodge-podge approach of slapping them into the curriculum here and there in five or ten years. "We owe it to the children to give them a good background in this," he said.

Special Olympians Will Receive Free Medical Exams

Washtenaw County Special Olympics, with the help of Galen's Medical Society, will be giving free medical examinations Saturdays, Nov. 13 and 20 for approximately 300 mentally impaired county residents for the upcoming Special Olympics athletic season.

All Special Olympics participants are required to have a completed physical form on file in the county office to compete. Persons whose last names begin with A-L will be examined from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday Nov. 13 at the High Point Center, 1735 South Wagner Rd. Those whose last names begin with M-Z will be examined Nov. 20 at the same time of day and same place. Special Olympics provides year-around training and athletic competition in a variety of well-coached sports for mentally impaired children and adults. The volunteer program provides an opportunity to develop physical fitness, prepare for entry into school and community sports programs, and experience the joys and friendships from competition. Galen's Medical Society, well-known for their holiday tag days, is made up of 140 medical students from the University of Michigan. Galen's members' physical examinations will be done under the supervision of U. of M. volunteer faculty and residents. Anyone interested in volunteering for Special Olympics should contact Washtenaw County Special Olympics, P.O. Box 2627, Ann Arbor 48106.

Police Report Quiet October

Chelsea police had a rather quiet, routine month during October, Chief Robert Aeillo's report to the Village Council shows. Numbers of radio runs and case reports were both down from September. Accident reports were up, 16 to 11, but traffic violation tickets issued were down. Parking violations increased slightly. Bad checks continued to be a problem. Three were written in one day at Polly's Market. There were 10 reports of stray dogs and one of loose cattle.

BASKETBALL PLAYERS OF THE WEEK are junior guard Tanya Mattoff, with the ball, and junior center Carol Warren. Mattoff's "tremendous desire" has really helped her improve, said coach Jim Winter. She sets daily goals for herself, such as being first in sprints or making 75 percent of her field goal attempts. Winter says he has never seen an athlete be that organized in her goals—it really gives Mattoff a sense of purpose. Warren, 5'9", has a good vertical jump, size and speed, said Winter. She is playing her first year on the varsity, and is working on learning to use those physical talents to help her basketball.

8th Grade Girl Cagers Lose Two

Bullpups eighth grade girls basketball team ended their season last week with two losses, 32-17, to Saline Nov. 1 away, and 28-20, to Dundee Nov. 3 away.

Saline has a big advantage over other junior high school programs, said coach Cheryl Vogel. They begin a girls basketball program in fifth grade, two years ahead of Chelsea and other schools' middle school programs, and moved the ball and shot better than the Bullpups.

Saline led, 6-0, at the end of the first quarter; 14-5, at half-time; and 28-11, going into the final quarter.

The Bullpups played reasonably well on defense, said Vogel, but didn't put up many shots.

Scoring was more evenly spread among the players this game, she said. Karen Weber had 5 points; Kris Zerkel and Mary Lazarz, 4 each; and Pam Brown and Trisha Mattoff, 2 each.

The Bullpups got fired up in the fourth quarter against Dundee, she said, and scored more than they in the rest of the game. "Everyone realized it was the last quarter of the last game of the season."

The score was tied with two minutes to go, even though Dundee had an 18-6 lead going in to the final quarter.

Lazarz, who scored 8 of her 10 points in the fourth quarter, was leading scorer; Mattoff and Zerkel, 3; and Sallie Wilson and Cris Hiltz, 2 each. Zerkel led rebounding with 4; Hiltz had 3 and the team total was 15.

The team has not had a winning season by any means, but the team didn't get "down" until the last couple of games, said Vogel. "They liked to play a lot and that helped."

Girls Swim Team Defeats St. Mary's

Chelsea girls varsity swimming team had no trouble beating St. Mary's Academy in Monroe, 71-55, Nov. 1 away.

Chelsea thought the meet started at 6 p.m., said coach Von Acker, and St. Mary's thought the meet started at 4 p.m. When the Bulldogs got there at 5 p.m., they had to quickly change and swim without much of a warm-up.

St. Mary's home pool at Monroe Cantrick Junior High school is 20 meters long, not the standard 25-yard pool for high school events. Instead of swimming 100 yards, they swam 80 meters; so times did not mean much, said Acker.

Today the team faces Ypsilanti at 7 p.m. away, in what Acker expects to be a close meet.

200 medley relay—Dawn Borders, Paula Kuzon, Kristin Thomas, Vicki Harrell, second; Heather Grenier, Marj Rawson, Paula Colombo, Missy Young, third.

200 free—Liesel Culver, first; Becca Lee, third.

200 IM—Rawson, first; Kuzon, second.

50 free—Borders, first; Amanda Holmes, third.

Diving—Harrell, first.

100 fly—Thomas, first; Young, third.

David Mark Hardy

116 Buchanan
Chelsea
David Mark Hardy of 116 Buchanan died Nov. 5 in an auto accident on the Baker Rd. overpass of I-94. He was 32 years of age and had lived in Chelsea for seven years.

He was born Sept. 5, 1950 in Denver, Colo. to Floyd and Ruth (Bedford) Hardy. He married Milla Grujic Dec. 16, 1972 in Colorado, and she survives him.

Mr. Hardy was employed at the Detroit Abrasive Plant in Chelsea and was a coach for the Ann Arbor Freshmen Packers. He is a veteran of the U.S. Army and attended Chelsea Free Methodist church.

Survivors include his widow; a son, Dennis of Chelsea; his parents, Floyd and Ruth Hardy of Colorado; three brothers, Lowell, Philip, and Steven, all of Colorado; one sister, Miriam Osburn of Colorado; and six nieces and nephews.

Funeral services are at 1 p.m. today at the Chelsea Free Methodist church with the Rev. Ralph Cleveland, Free Methodist conference supervisor, officiating.

Burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to the David Hardy Memorial Fund, in care of Burghardt-Cole Chelsea Funeral Chapel, which handled funeral arrangements.

John H. O'Connor

17113 Roe Rd.
Chelsea
John H. O'Connor of 17113 Roe Rd. died Nov. 4 at Chelsea Community Hospital. He was 88 years of age and a life-long Chelsea resident.

He was born July 12, 1894 in St. Louis, Mo. to William and Alice (Looney) O'Connor. He married Irene E. Clark Jan. 28, 1937, and she preceded him in death in 1970.

Mr. O'Connor retired from Hoover-NSK in 1962. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church.

Surviving is a brother, Daniel O'Connor of Chelsea; a sister, Mrs. Lawrence (Sarah) Shanahan of Chelsea; three nieces and one nephew.

A Mass of the Resurrection was held at 11 a.m. Monday, Nov. 8 at St. Mary's Catholic church with the Rev. Fr. Philip Dupuis officiating. The Rosary was held at 7 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 7 at the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home.

Burial was in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to St. Mary's Catholic church.

NEW GAS MAIN GOING IN: Workers from Michigan Trenching Service are replacing a section of gas main on the west side of N. Main St. between the railroad tracks and Buchanan St.

Gas Main Replaced on N. Main St.

That trenching and filling activity on the north end of Main St., between the railroad tracks and Buchanan St., is being done to replace a section of natural gas main, Village Administrator Frederick A. Weber says.

The work is being done by Michigan Trenching Service under contract to Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. It involves digging down to the old pipe, putting in new pipe, and refilling and landscaping the trenches.

While it has not been necessary to reroute traffic around the construction zone, "caution" signs have been posted in both directions to warn drivers to be careful when passing through the area.

DAVID COOLEY

David Cooley Posts All-A Mark At Ohio Tech

David Cooley, the son of Dan and Janet Cooley of 14000 McKinley Rd., was named to the President's List at Ohio Institute of Technology in Columbus, O., for having a straight A average the first trimester.

Cooley, 18, is a freshman majoring in electronic engineering. He is a 1982 graduate of Chelsea High school, and began the three-year Bachelors' program in July.

Sunday Blaze Destroys Large 3-Car Garage

Fire early Sunday morning destroyed a three-car garage on the property of Dr. John O'Brien, 2987 Fletcher Rd., with a loss estimated by the Chelsea fire department at $14,000.

Village firemen put out the blaze before the building burned to the ground but pronounced it a total loss so far as repairs are concerned. The building, used for storage, contained some old furniture and other household items, but no vehicles.

The Pirate touchdown play, the Bulldog defenders never let Pinckney get close, even though LaFave gambled and lost several times on fourth-down situations which gave the visitors possession in excellent field position. At one point Pinckney took over on Chelsea's 20, only to have to surrender four plays later at the 15.

Steinhauer had an exceptional game with a pass interception and more than a dozen tackles to go with his fumble recovery. A sophomore, he has developed this fall into a standout defender who should earn all-state honors before he graduates.

Seva Starts Holiday Fund-Raising Program

Seva Foundation of Chelsea, a non-profit international public health organization, has announced a new fund-raising program for the holiday season.

Persons may give a donation of either $16.50, $26.50, or $51.50 with the name and address of a friend. Seva will send the friend a card announcing a donation made in their name and a gift, which comes from corporate donations to Seva.

Seva is now working on blindness prevention programs in India and Nepal and establishing preventive and basic health care clinics for Native Americans in South Dakota.

The nine ophthalmologists in Nepal, which has the most challenging terrain for health care delivery, said Ravi Khanna, Seva outreach co-ordinator, all live in either the capital or in major cities. Someone in the country who scratches his cornea, usually a minor injury in a large city, usually loses his sight because of untreated infection.

Many children also suffer a vitamin A deficiency in their diet, he said, which often causes blindness.

Persons at the Cheyenne River Reservation are being given basic health care and first aid training, he said, because funding cuts have made trips by doctors and nurses to the area less frequent.

Seva Foundation's address is 108 Spring Lake Dr., Chelsea 48118.
