Gary Richardson Hits State Lottery Jackpot for $65,000

Gary L. Richardson of 38 Sycamore Dr., is $65,000 richer following last week's "Super Play" drawing in the Michigan State Lottery, held in the Detroit studios of WDIV-TV (Channel 4). Richardson missed the big prize of half a million dollars but is "very, very happy" with his $65,000 consolation award. He was one of 10 finalists in the drawing, which was done live on television.

A quality assurance engineer for Bechtel Power Corp. in Ann Arbor, Richardson bought his winning ticket last April at Kusterer's Market in Chelsea. His biggest previous prize in the lottery had been $50. (As the sales agent, Kusterer's gets 5 percent of the prize, or $325.)

"It's one of those things that you really never expect to have happen to you, but it's certainly a thrill when it does," Richardson said.

He has the money in his credit union, earmarked for the college educations of his son, Kevin, and daughter, Mary Ann, both students at Chelsea High school. Kevin is a senior and Mary Ann a sophomore. Both are cross country runners.

Both children and Richardson's wife, JoAnn, were in the studio audience, along with several family friends when he won his prize.

The Richardsons have been Chelsea residents for four years, coming here from Midland. They are originally from California.

He is the second Chelsea resident to "strike it rich" in a many State Lottery drawings. Last spring, Al Genovese won $90,000 in a similar "Super Play" event.

"Al is a member of the Chelsea Lions Club, and so am I," Richardson noted. "We're good friends, and maybe you could say we belong to a lucky club. Two of us have certainly been lucky."

VISITING CHINESE NURSE WELCOMED: Li Xue-Zeng (left), a nurse from Peking, China, who is spending three months in Chelsea to observe nursing services at Chelsea Community Hospital, was the honored guest at a reception held last week at the hospital. Village President

Visiting Chinese Nurse Wins Friends With Hospital Staff

"Your trees were so beautiful when I came here." Li Xue-Zeng, editor of the Chinese Nursing Journal in the Peoples Republic of China, is by no means the first person to be enchanted by Michigan's colors of fall, but her comment struck a warm note as she chatted with a reporter during a reception in her honor at Chelsea Community Hospital last week.

She is staying in the village for three months while she observes the nursing service at Chelsea Community Hospital, living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Schaff, 345 Washington St. Her visit to the United States, the first of its kind for a nurse from Communist China, was arranged by Mrs. Leonard Woodcock, wife of the U. S. ambassador to China. The Chelsea hospital was chosen because of its concept of "total" nursing service, under which nurses become personally known to patients and give complete care.

Li Xue-Zeng speaks fine English, which is a good thing because members of the hospital staff do not speak much Chinese. Her fluency is remarkable because she learned the language in high school prior to the revolution which resulted in the Communist takeover of the country in 1949.

"After 1949, everybody learned Russian," she noted.

Since renewal of diplomatic relations between China and the United States during President Nixon's administration, the study of English has come back into practice, she said.

The American view of Chinese persons as inscrutable and distant is certainly wrong in the case of Li Xue-Zeng. She is an outgoing person who smiles and laughs a lot, is easy to talk to, and makes friends instantly. She shines as an ambassador of good will.

"I like it here in Chelsea," she said. "Everybody has been very friendly and very helpful. They have made me feel at home."

Home in her case is Peking, one of the world's largest cities and therefore a sharp contrast to Chelsea. She described Peking's climate as being "warmer and drier" than that here, but added that it does snow in winter and she has no qualms about the coming months of cold and snow in Michigan.

Li Xue-Zeng graduated from nursing school in China and was a

Public Hearing Set On Future of Old Spring Plant Site

The Chelsea Village Council has set Tuesday, Jan. 4, as the date for a public hearing on an application to have the Chelsea Spring (Rockwell) plant site declared an Industrial Development and Plant Rehabilitation District.

"I have no idea what the applicants (Chelsea Medical Clinic Building Corp.) have in mind," said Jack Merkel, village president. "They have not disclosed their intentions, and my experience in dealing with them is that they do not tell you anything until they are good and ready."

"However, I believe they are working toward the same goal that the council has—the best long-term interest of Chelsea. We want to know more about their proposal."

"We also want to know how people in the immediate neighborhood feel about the application. I think the hearing will clear up a lot of questions."

If approved by the Village Council, the application would allow the Chelsea Medical Clinic Building Corp. to apply for a tax break on improvements made to the property.

A state law provides for a 50 percent reduction in assessments on improvements to unused industrial sites, if certain conditions are met. For the reduction to be granted requires that the controlling local government unit approve.

The old Chelsea Spring plant, which was last owned by Rockwell International Corp. before the doctors' group bought it in September, is located on the northeast side of Chelsea. It fronts on East St., just north of the railroad tracks.

Signs have been displayed on the building front offering to lease "plant space."

"They (Chelsea Medical Clinic Building Corp.) may have some tenants in mind," Merkel said. "I

Out-of-Court Settlement Reached By Rick's in Contamination Suit

An out-of-court settlement has been reached in the two-year-old chemical contamination case involving Rick's Market on M-52 at Werkner Rd. north of Chelsea, attorney Daniel F. Giardina of Dexter has confirmed.

A condition of the settlement was that its terms be kept secret. Giardina did say that Orkin, a nationwide firm which specializes in fumigating work, agreed to pay store owner Terry Rickerman "hundreds of thousands of dollars."

The case dates back to Oct. 10, 1980, when Orkin representatives carried out what was supposed to be a routine fumigating job at Rick's Market. A week later Rickerman had to close the store when customers began to complain of bad smells and tastes in his merchandise.

Rickerman sued Orkin for more than a million dollars, charging negligence and claiming damages for loss of inventory and income. The case had been in court until last week's settlement.

Investigations conducted by the Michigan Department of Agriculture showed that a chemical used by Orkin in the fumigating process had penetrated meat, cheese, fruit, vegetables and other merchandise sold in the store.

Furthermore, there was a residual amount of the chemical left in the building which posed a threat that new merchandise might also be affected. As recently as last July, Agriculture Department tests of food samples placed in the empty store for a week indicated the possibility of contamination was still present.

What happens next is uncertain. The federal Environmental Protection Agency, which has pre-empted the case from the Department of Agriculture according to Giardina, says the market can now reopen.

However, the attorney added that he does not believe Rickerman will go back into business. Rickerman, who has an unlisted telephone number, was not available for comment.

The market, which has a package liquor license, has been more or less abandoned for two years, and shows it. Glass on the front door is broken. Inside, some store fixtures remain. Grass and weeds are growing up through cracks in the paved parking lot and also around the building. A pickup truck without wheels is parked on the property.

Thanksgiving Services Set At Churches

The Chelsea community is invited to participate in any of the Thanksgiving church services listed below. There is no specific community service as there has been in the past.

Thanksgiving Eve services will be held at 6:30 p.m. at St. Mary's Catholic church, 14200 Old US-12 East; 7 p.m. at Chelsea Free Methodist church, 7665 Werkner Rd.; 7:30 p.m. Our Savior Lutheran church, 1515 S. Main St.; and 7:30 p.m. at Zion

Lutheran church, Rogers Corners, 3050 S. Fletcher Rd. The Rev. John Morris, pastor of Zion, has as his sermon theme, "Thanksgiving or Thanksgiving?"—is it a celebration of thanks or indulging in abundance?

Thanksgiving Day services will be held at 8:30 a.m., St. Barnabas Episcopal church, 20500 Old US-12 West; and at 9 a.m., St. Mary's Catholic church, 14200 Old US-12 East.

United Way Passes 80%

With the bulk of Chelsea United Way contributions in, the annual fund campaign stands at 80 percent of its $50,000 goal, $39,611.63.

Robert Porter, campaign chairman, says he expects the final tally to be very close to goal. He estimates they will receive at least another $10,000 in late contributions. Many businesses have different fiscal years than the campaign's October to September year, and payments are often made quarterly.

The campaign committee is now deciding what the final allocations will be to local, county, and state United Way agencies, he said, based on funds received and pledged up to now.

The star of the campaign continues to be residential mail contributions, he said. So far $6,819 has been received, more than $700 above the goal for that campaign, and more than $1,000 above what was given in that campaign last year.

Tentative results of different village-wide campaigns are organizations, $340; professionals, $1,650; commercial, $7,358; schools, $2,134.50; Chelsea Community Hospital, $1,113.50; Detroit United Fund, $3,000; (Continued on page seven)

THE BOAR'S HEAD FESTIVAL PLUM PUDDING which John Mitchell II and Tim Greenleaf are carrying on this tray, and the mince pie John Mitchell holds, symbolize the richness and fullness of God's gifts. The festival put on by First United Methodist church Nov. 28 features four choirs and costumed actors. Mitchell holds the wise men's costume he will wear. At the festival itself, this pudding tray will hold a boar's head, the symbol of evil which is conquered by Christ when the head is presented at the altar. Mitchell II and Greenleaf will carry the yule log at the ceremony, a British tradition to begin the Advent season.

Boar's Head Festival Sunday Will Open Advent Season

The Boar's Head Festival, to be held at 7 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 28 at First United Methodist church, is one of the oldest continuing festivals of the Christmas season. The festival and yule log ceremony was presented as early as 1340 at Queen's College, Oxford, and became a part of the Christmas celebrations of the great manor houses in England. The tradition was brought to America and celebrated in Colonial times.

A highly refined version of this ancient ceremony has been a tradition at Christ church in Cincinnati since 1940 and has inspired other performances throughout the country, such as Chelsea's.

Members of First United Methodist church have worked more than four months on costumes, decorations, props and music for the festival. The church's four choirs will join costumed actors in the presentation.

The community is invited to the festival to start off the Advent season. Donations will be accepted at the end of the performance to be used for a Christmas gift to the church's missionaries and for a sanctuary piano fund.

Call festival co-chairmen Dorina Palmer at 475-8531 or Gloria Mitchell at 475-3488 for more information.

Thursday, Nov. 30, 1978—
The bottle bill passed in 1976 goes into effect Dec. 3 and is getting a mixed reaction from local merchants. Although one merchant said he supported the bill since it would probably cut down on littering, others weren't thrilled at having to add storage space for returned bottles and payroll hours for checking and sorting bottles, and bookkeeping.

Mrs. Lona Doty celebrated her 100th birthday Tuesday at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home, where she has lived since 1963. She has five children, 18 grandchildren, more than 50 great-grandchildren and at least 50 great-great-grandchildren.

New Chelsea firemen will assist Dexter Fire Department members in their house-fire training Dec. 10 at an undisclosed location on Jackson Rd.

Those competing for Nickel Carnival queen are Kathy Powers, Caryl Thornton, Debi Stoker and Cheryl Wilkerson. The Carnival used to be named Penny Carnival, but inflation changed the name.

Charles Smith of Lingane Rd. reported the first deer taken in firearm season. He shot his six-pointer at 8:10 a.m. Nov. 15 in an undisclosed wooded area north of Chelsea. He usually hunts near Cadillac, so this was his first local deer in 23 years.

Mrs. Kathleen Chapman of 629 N. Main also got a trophy, but a different kind. On a Bermuda vacation with other Ann Arbor city employees, she hauled in a 10-pound barracuda.

Returning lettermen Mike Schnaidt and Doug Weatherwax were elected co-captains of the Bulldogs varsity basketball team, which will have its first game Dec. 6.

Chelsea Community Chest Fund is at 95 percent of its $23,850 goal for its annual fund drive. One week remains in the campaign.

Governor Unveils
Transportation Tax Proposal
Gov. William G. Milliken, who will be leaving office in about six weeks, has unveiled a new four-step transportation package, calling for increases in both the gas and weight tax, a change in the funding formula for comprehensive transportation and a sales tax on amusements and some services to replace losses to the general fund.

Immediately after announcing the program, the House Taxation Committee scheduled hearings on the package with an eye toward getting legislative approval to implement the program on Jan. 1.

However, the Legislature may not be too receptive to the proposal as numerous members won't be returning in January and, therefore, are not in the mood to vote new taxes as one of their last official acts.

Over a five-year period, Milliken's proposal would raise an additional $1.91 billion—$1.43 billion through increases in the weight and gas taxes and $484 million through sales tax amusements and services.

Without the tax increase, the five-year figures on gas and weight tax revenues would be $3.2 billion, with revenues declining each year, from $639.1 million in 1983 to $634.5 million in 1986-87.

Under the proposal changes, the weight taxes on automobiles would be increased by 30 percent, with the minimum increased to $32.50 from $25 and the weight tax on trucks increased by 45 percent.

The gasoline tax, now at 11 cents per gallon, would be increased each year based on an index of road maintenance costs, except, it would not increase more than 2 cents per year.

The combination of increased weight and gas taxes, if effective Jan. 1, would raise $114.3 million for the remainder of 1982-83, and by 1986-87, would raise an additional $459.6 million.

Roads would get $94.8 million of the 1982-83 revenues, bringing the total for the nine-month period to $690.9 million. Non-road transportation would get the rest under the provisions allocating 8.3 percent of the gas and weight taxes for those purposes.

The proposal also changes the formula for funding non-road, or comprehensive transportation.

Currently, the state allocates some 25 percent of the auto related sales tax to transportation purposes, and of that, 27.5 percent goes to comprehensive transportation.

Under the Milliken proposal, the proportion would be increased to 35 percent for 1983, to 50 percent in 1983-84, to 75 percent in 1984-85 and 100 percent in 1985-86 and 1986-87.

The changes in the formula should net the comprehensive transportation fund an additional $12 million in 1983 for a new total of $34.3 million, and by 1986-87, would raise an additional $88.5 million for a new total of $137 million.

Additionally, the proposal would impose a 4 percent sales tax on such services as the labor on auto repairs, electrical appliance repair and on amusements like video games and cable television.

The taxes raised on those services, an estimated $64 million in 1983 and rising to $120 million by 1986-87, would replace the revenues lost by the general fund due to the auto-related sales tax allocation to transportation.

House Taxation Committee Chairman William Ryan (D-Detroit) said the latest Milliken proposal was "the most realistic" one made thus far by the executive office. He called the increases in the gas and weight taxes very modest.

He expressed skepticism that the sales tax on amusements and services would be approved, given the rejection of the tax earlier this year when it was proposed as a budget balancer.

School Board Drops Policy On Attendance

Chelsea school board voted to drop the controversial daily attendance points, retroactive to the beginning of the second term, at their Nov. 15 meeting.

Until an alternative policy is developed for second semester, last year's policy will be in effect. Assignments may be made up for excused absences such as sickness or pre-arranged trips but not for unexcused absences.

Absences for prolonged illness and for career preparation such as looking at colleges are two major areas faculty and administrators developing the new policy are looking at, said John Williams, high school principal. Whatever ideas they have to encourage attendance will be presented to parents and students for their input before it becomes policy.

Woman's Club Hears Van Meer's Program on China

The Woman's Club of Chelsea heard Raymond Van Meer, schools superintendent, speak of his trip to China two years ago at their Nov. 9 meeting in the McKune Library club room.

He showed many slides of the country and people, which made the evening especially enjoyable.

A short business meeting was held, at which plans for the December Christmas party were discussed.

Gail Bauer was a guest. Hostesses Pat Scholz and Gladys Barth served delicious refreshments.

Holiday Baking Workshop Set By Comm. Ed. Dept.

"Holidays and Baking," the final workshop in the Cooking with Whole Foods series sponsored by Chelsea Community Education, will show how simple alterations can improve the nutrient content of holiday treats from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, Dec. 4 at the Chelsea High school home economics room.

Whole grain baked goods have a richer flavor than their white flour counterparts, says Teresa Freed, workshop teacher and author of "The Foodletter." Those attending the session will sample "healthy" versions of traditional holiday favorites. The workshop will focus on using simple formulas for substituting nutrient-rich ingredients for overly processed flours and sugars.

Participants may bring along a favorite recipe they would like to convert, and will receive recipes for those foods sampled at the workshop.

To register for the workshop, call Chelsea Community Education at 475-9830. Cost of the class is $6.50.

School Board Briefs

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Nov. 15, were Feeney, Schumann, Snyder, Comeau, Superintendent Van Meer, Assistant Superintendent Mills, Principals Williams, Conklin, Benedict, Wojcik, Community Education Director Rogers, Athletic Director Nemeth, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Ann Feeney. Board approved the minutes of the Nov. 1 meeting.

The Board approved Principal Williams' recommendation that during the second marking period the attendance policy revert to last year's policy. The policy will continue to be under review by staff, students and parents. It is expected that a recommendation will be forthcoming for the second semester.

The Board approved the vocational advisory committee members.

Board approved the purchase of the 1979 15-passenger Ford van for a purchase price of $4,180. The van had been leased for a three-year period, and is used to transport small athletic groups, special education students, and students going to college visitations.

The Board accepted as a gift a 1975 Oldsmobile station wagon from Dr. Wilfred C. Lane, valued at $1,000.

The Board rejected an offer to purchase the 1981-82 building trades house located at 3105 Chisholm Trail; the offer was for $67,000.

Principal Benedict and three North school faculty members reviewed with the Board their progress to date on the North School/Eastern Michigan University project. The North school staff, working co-operatively with personnel from Eastern Michigan, established a goal for the 1982-83 school year. The goal is to facilitate communications within the building and between staff and parents. The staff has established three objectives: to improve teacher-parent communications; to improve communications of planned events and procedures (communications within the building, calendar co-ordination, first aid procedures, discipline, etc.); improve the staff effectiveness in communications in public, in conferences, and in interviews. The goal and objectives were established co-operatively by the staff after conducting a needs assessment.

Superintendent Van Meer reviewed with the Board impending legislation which could affect the school district. The Board compiled a list of educational priorities to communicate to the present and newly-elected legislators, among which are:

- Making education a top priority in the state,
- Revising the timelines for summer tax collections,
- Promoting House Bill 4150 and passage of a summer tax collection,
- Examining the Uniform Budget Act to see if compliance is possible,
- The Open Meetings Act; it may be too restrictive,
- Review of Public Law 379, negotiations and labor relations,
- Being against legal strikes,
- The Caesar Amendments.

Meeting adjourned at 9:58 p.m.

Judge K. Bronson Leaving Chelsea in District Court Shift

The expansion of 14th District Court No. 3 in Chelsea to include Superior, Salem, and Ann Arbor townships announced Nov. 17 may be a big boon to Chelsea's commercial district, said Judge Kenneth Bronson, who will be leaving the Chelsea based court at the end of December. He will be replaced by Judge Karl Fink in a rotation of all district court judges also announced last week.

That expansion of court 3 may mean more lawyers opening practice in Chelsea, said Bronson, who at his new post, a full-time Saline court, will have jurisdiction over the city of Saline; Lodi, Saline, Pittsfield, and York townships as well as state police cases from Ypsilanti township.

Bronson does not want to leave Chelsea, he says. He had planned on moving out here permanently, because he liked the area, but the rotation, the first in recent times that all the judges have changed, has at least delayed that idea.

"I was happiest that I have ever been in my professional career in Chelsea," he said. "I'm really going to miss visiting with people in the coffee shops."

"Maybe I got too close to the people out here," he said. "Whenever a kid got in trouble I would remember my own six children. I never gave any teen here a sentence I wouldn't have given them."

The reason for the shift, says Judge Robert Fink, district chief judge ordering the change, is that the judges are elected county-wide, so they should know more of their constituency.

Case-loads also fluctuate between the districts, he said, so the change and the redistricting was intended to even that out.

Manchester Schools Staff, Students Exceed United Way Goal

Students and staff of the Manchester Community Schools have exceeded their goal for the Manchester United Way by 12%. Pledges and donations from staff, popcorn sales at Klager Elementary, and gifts from the high school students have made up the total of $1,531.36 which was donated by the school district.

Expressing his pleasure at the response from all members of the school organization, Dr. Thompson said, "It is obvious that Manchester personnel feel strongly about our responsibility to the community in which we work. In a period of extreme economic distress throughout our state it is heartwarming to note that school district employees have risen to the occasion by assuming a leadership role by reaching in so that United Way may reach out. I would like to express to all Manchester School employees and students my extreme pleasure at being associated with them."

Hudson Mills Park Offers Terrain for Cross-Country Skiing

Hudson Mills Metropark, located 12½ miles northwest of Ann Arbor and near the Village of Dexter, has excellent terrain for cross-country skiing.

This is the primary winter attraction at the park and there are no specially developed trails; however, the scenic qualities of the park make it a wonderful spot for this fast growing sport.

The nature trail is open year-around for self-guided hikes. Hudson Mills Metropark is an excellent spot for winter photography, especially at the rapids near the North Territorial Rd. Bridge or at other scenic locations within the park.

Park hours are 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. For information contact Hudson Mills Metropark, 8801 N. Territorial Road, Dexter, Michigan 48130 — Phone 426-8211 (Dexter).

Vehicle entry permits (Annual: regular - $7, senior citizens - $2, or daily - $2) are required year-around.

Pets Need Extra Care for Winter

Here comes the winter and cold weather! The winter of 1982-83 will undoubtedly be as cold as previous Michigan winters. So when you think about winterizing your car or adding insulation on your home, please also think about your pets' special winter care needs.

Dogs and cats that are outside for even a few hours each day during the cold months need up to 50% more food than during the summer. Keeping warm requires extra energy. Dog houses can be made warmer by putting them on cinder blocks to get them off the ground, putting a thick layer of straw inside, and hanging a piece of plastic or blanket over the door. Also, make sure your dog knows or is shown how to get in to and out of the doghouse after you put plastic or the blanket over the door.

Another winter danger to pets is anti-freeze. Pets are attracted to the smell of anti-freeze and will lick up any they find. It is poisonous, even in very small amounts. If cats walk through anti-freeze and then lick it off their paws they can suffer kidney failure or even death. If an accident does occur be sure to get your pet to a veterinarian, or to the county Animal Emergency Clinic, immediately.

Many cats are injured because they sleep under the hoods of cars looking for warmth. When the owner starts the car the cat is caught in the fan belt and is severely injured. Prevention is easy. Just give a loud knock on your car hood before you start your engine.

Many animals and particularly cats, suffer from frostbite because the tips of their ears freeze easily. Remember: Winter is hard on animals, but there are simple, considerate things we can do to help them get through the winter happily and healthily!!

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Margaret G. McCall Michigan Dept. of Agriculture

Last week's column discussed the advantages of beginning your holiday baking early, and suggested food items which could be prepared and frozen. Of course, all of them use some of the more than 50 good things growing in Michigan.

I can guarantee that a freezer well stocked with foods for holiday entertaining will fight the frazzles we all encounter during this happy, hectic season. Here are some more sanity-saving ideas:

You can freeze almost any kind of appetizer fillings if you avoid mayonnaise products and eggs — neither freezes well. There are exceptions — a prepared, unbaked quiche may be frozen, and when baked will be nearly as fine textured as a fresh quiche.

Miniature cream puffs may be stuffed with all sorts of combinations using cream cheese as the binder. When removed from the freezer, just heat at 400 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes, serve hot.

I have had good luck freezing cheese balls and spreads for up to three weeks with no apparent change of texture. Meatballs are a versatile standby for hot dips or main dishes. Freeze on cookie sheets, then portion into storage bags.

Make your favorite liver pate' and pop it in the freezer. When thawed blend in some soft butter to restore smoothness, and serve with small sweet gherkins and cocktail rye slices.

Popular quick breads, such as apple nut or pumpkin bread may be frozen weeks before Christmas. Thawed, thinly sliced and toasted, they are a treat for breakfast or teatime.

Equally versatile are pound cakes, baked in loaf pans and then frozen. Thaw, slice thinly, spread with a favorite jam and stack sandwich-style. Just before serving, top with whipped cream and a maraschino cherry.

Peach or apricot upside down cake (try making one with a chocolate cake recipe for a delightfully different flavor) won't take much space in the freezer. All it needs is a crown of whipped cream before it goes to the table.

A few hours of advance preparation, and your freezer, can reward you with more free time for family and friends during the holidays. Enjoy!

Dana Employees Increase Giving To United Way

Dana Corp. may have one-third less employees this year, but that did not dent their annual United Way contribution, the result of a revamped in-house effort the past two years.

The plant campaign used to be rather passive, said Phil Boham, industrial relations manager. A table was set up and staffed with volunteers distributing pledge cards and pamphlets, which didn't have a high readership.

Tom Green, who became plant manager in 1981, had seen a more active approach in the Montgomery, Ala., plant he had worked at before.

He suggested telling the United Way story, said Boham. A film borrowed from United Way was shown to meetings of 25 to 30 employees. Then Green described local beneficiaries such as Chelsea Social Services, Chelsea Area Transportation Service, Chelsea Home Meals Service and Chelsea Recreation Council, and also suggested a fair share to give.

Only four percent of money contributed to United Way goes towards administrative costs such as mailing and telephone bills. Not many businesses or governments could run themselves that efficiently, said Boham. That means 96 cents of every dollar contributed goes towards those that need it.

In 1981 approximately 300 employees contributed as much as 417 employees had in the past, said Boham, and this year's 200 employees contributed just as much as 1981's 300 did.

"We are pleased and proud of the response," said Boham, "especially considering how tough 1982 has been."

Marilyn Begres Wins OSU-M Score Contest

Marilyn Begres of 12075 Island Lake Rd., Dexter, converted her frustration over football mania into a Win Schuler's dinner by predicting a 19-16 Ohio State win in WAAM's game score contest.

She had been listening to the station Friday for delayed Dexter bus times when she heard about the contest. She is from New York City and not much of a football fan, she says, so thought "I'll make it interesting for them."

She called in one of the only two Ohio win predictions, drawing a "big chuckle" from contest organizers. She won the dinner because her guess was closer to the actual score.

Julie Knight Named Dexter Township Treasurer

Julie Knight of Quigley Rd. has been appointed treasurer of Dexter township. Mrs. Knight succeeds Forrest Begres who resigned the post.

Warrant Sought in Rare Hawk Shooting

Conservation Officer Craig Wales of North Lake is seeking a warrant against a man he believes shot and seriously wounded a rare red-shouldered hawk in the Pinckney Recreation Area on Nov. 13.

Four Inmates Escape from County Jail

A mass breakout Saturday night at the Washtenaw County Jail on Hogback Rd. in Ann Arbor has left three potentially dangerous felons still at large.

Four inmates escaped by prying a metal angle-iron shelf support off a cell wall and using it to break a safety glass window. They then bent the outside bars enough to squeeze through a hole barely six inches wide.

"I don't know how they managed to get through (the hole), but they did," said Detective Paul Wade of the Chelsea sheriff's substation, who was called to Ann Arbor to help investigate the escape. "I could barely put my head between the bars."

One of the escapees, Michael Gregory, 33, was caught shortly after the breakout and returned to the jail where he is awaiting trial on a burglary charge.

Still missing area: Daniel Wright, 25, black, 6' 1", 170 pounds, awaiting trial for burglary.

Daniel Valentine, 20, white, 5' 10", 145 pounds, convicted of burglary and third-degree criminal sexual conduct.

Bruce Jackson, 26, white, 5' 9", 135 pounds, who was awaiting transfer to Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson to serve 2½ years for burglary.

When they broke out, the escapees were wearing green jumpsuits, standard clothing for jail inmates. None was known to be armed at the time.

The sheriff's department warned that all three are considered to be potentially dangerous and may now be armed. Any information should be called into the department at 971-8400.

Report Possible Losses To FCIC after Harvest

District Director Barbara Cranson, of the Federal Crop Insurance Corp., encourages each policy holder to check his 1982 harvested production against his guarantee and report any possible losses to the agency servicing his policy, not later than 30 days after the earliest of the date harvest is completed on the unit or the calendar date for the end of the insurance period.

An occupational injury is an injury such as a cut, fracture, sprain or amputation which results from a work-related accident or from exposure involving a single incident in the work environment, according to the U.S. Labor Department's revised publication "All About OSHA."

Wales declined to release the name of the suspect pending issuance of the warrant but said he feels his investigation has yielded enough evidence to make a case.

The incident was reported by four small game hunters—three from Ann Arbor and one from Jackson—who were watching two red-shouldered hawks soar overhead when they heard a shot fired from behind them and saw one of the birds tumble to earth.

One of the men ran after the suspected shooter, and saw him get into a car and speed away, but not before the license plate number had been read and written down. The other three searched for the hawk and found it alive but badly hurt.

The bird was taken to the nearby office of a veterinarian, Dr. Debra Mainville, who diagnosed the wounds as injuries to one wing and the head, and gave emergency treatment.

Officer Wales later took the hawk to Dr. Merlyn Minick of Eastern Michigan University, a recognized expert in doctoring birds. Dr. Minick found the wing wound to be superficial in the sense that the shotgun pellet missed bones, but the head injury is serious because the brain may have been affected.

Hawks, eagles and owls of all species are fully protected under both state and federal laws. The red-shouldered hawk, so-called because of its distinctive upper wing color, used to be fairly abundant in Michigan but has declined to the point where it is now considered rare.

Counterfeit $20 Bill Passed in Dexter

A counterfeit $20 bill was passed at the Pump & Pantry store in Dexter last Saturday night, the sheriff's department reports. Area merchants are warned to be on the lookout for similar phoney currency and are urged to contact the sheriff's office if anything suspicious occurs.

Visiting Chinese Nurse Wins Friends With Hospital Staff

hospital clinical nurse for about 25 years before becoming editor of the Chinese Nursing Journal. She no longer works as a nurse, but serves as a source of information for practicing nurses in her country.

Under the guidance of Kathy Brubaker, director of nursing at Chelsea Community Hospital, she is spending several days in each of the departments at the hospital, observing and asking questions. Her purpose is to learn how the nursing service is organized, administered and carried out.

The principal difference she has noted so far, Li Xue-Zeng said, is that the Chelsea nurses are not nearly so specialized as their Chinese counterparts and perform a broader variety of services to patients.

"Here at Chelsea nurses have fewer patients to look after and so get to know their patients better.

They perform all nursing care duties. It is a more personalized relationship than in a situation where a nurse may do nothing but dispense medicines."

Hospital staff members characterize Li Xue-Zeng as "intelligent, alert and very observing," a person who does not hesitate to ask questions and is obviously interested in learning as much as she can during her stay.

New Fire Truck Expected in Late January... Maybe

The Chelsea fire department will get its long delayed new fire truck late in January—maybe.

That's the latest word from Fire Chief Bud Hankerd about the ill-starred piece of equipment, which will undergo still another round of repair and rebuilding while insurance companies argue over who is responsible for what.

The department bought the $50,000 truck from a company in Ocala, Fla., then found it had not been designed and equipped as wanted. The truck was sent to a second company for modifications, and a driver from that company was bringing it to Chelsea on Sept. 3 when it collided with a travel trailer.

The fire truck suffered heavy damage, including a bent and sprung chassis, which Hankerd has insisted should be replaced as part of any insurance settlement. Although liability still has not been definitely established, a go-ahead has been given to buy a new chassis for $4,500 and mount the repaired body on it.

"They tell us that will take until at least the third or fourth week in January," Hankerd said. "I'll believe it when I see it (the truck)."

"But we certainly do not intend to rush into any kind of settlement until we are sure we will finally get a truck that will do what we want it to do."

The new machine is intended to be a light, fast vehicle that will be dispatched on first call to rural fires and perform preliminary control until bigger, slower trucks arrive.

"Until we get it, our response time will be slower than we would like," Hankerd said, "but I think it's best to wait for the new truck to be right. We'll probably have it for at least 18 years, so waiting a few more months makes good sense under the circumstances."

Senior Citizen Thanksgiving Dinner Reservations Due

Chelsea Community Hospital will try to make Thanksgiving as much a family day and as traditional as it can be for persons who are hospitalized over Thanksgiving.

Each person hospitalized over Thanksgiving Day is being urged to invite a relative or a friend to join them for Thanksgiving dinner, courtesy of the hospital.

The menu will consist of roast turkey, ham, sage dressing, cranberry sauce, candied yams, and pumpkin pie.

The special dinner will be served at noon, and patients and their guests are encouraged to enjoy their meal in the hospital's home-like dining room.

Dexter Township Home Burglarized

More than $2,000 worth of household goods were stolen from a home at 8751 Beachwood, Dexter township, sometime last week-end, the sheriff's department reports. Entry was made by breaking through the front door.

Stolen were two television sets, a video cassette recorder, a desk and several items of food.

The new Job Training Partnership Act of 1982 replaces the comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA), effective Oct. 1, 1982.

Accrediting Study To Start Tuesday

Chelsea High school is going under the peer review microscope Nov. 30 - Dec. 2. That's when 19 teachers and administrators from the North Central Association (NCA), the largest regional accrediting association in the nation, will visit Chelsea for its seven year evaluation.

The high school's accreditation isn't on the line, said William Chandler, high school work study co-ordinator who is helping arrange the evaluation, but the review forces a school to look hard at itself by having its weaknesses pointed out by outsiders.

The evaluation has two parts. First the school itself gathers information such as a survey of parents, a statement of philosophy, description of the curriculum and new programs by departments—about six inches of paperwork that began last spring.

The 19 educators, led by Don Geiger, principal of Adrian High school, will then visit both the school and community Dec. 1 and 2, and will give an oral presentation before they leave. Each team member will also do a written evaluation, but because of upcoming Christmas holidays, Chandler says he doesn't expect that until January.

The team will be asking basic questions, he said. What does the community want from and how does it evaluate its school, and is what the school doing appropriate for the community?

If a school had super vocational programs and all its students went directly to college, or if a school focused on college prep classes and most students went into trades, he said, the team would zero in on that.

The visit begins with a banquet at Weber's Inn in Ann Arbor Tuesday, Nov. 30. Many of the 19 visitors have never met each other or school officials, so this is a time to get acquainted.

Having such a visit costs both the host district and districts sending team members, he said. Chelsea will pick up their hotel tabs at Comfort Inn in Ann Arbor and banquet fees. Districts such as Adrian, Sturgis, Portland, and Ypsilanti have to hire substitutes for three days.

The high school will be on its tippy toes for a few days, said Chandler, who has had to deal with details such as someone not liking roast beef (they decided on a buffet instead,) and missing slides for the proposed slide show.

Chelsea High school has been accredited by the NCA since 1899.

Basketball Season Previews Tonight With Scrimmage for Public

Chelsea High school's basketball team will make its public debut at 7:30 p.m. tonight in a "Blue and Gold" intra-game open to the public without charge at the high school gym.

"I'll pick the teams and divide the players as evenly as possible," coach Robin Raymond said. "We'll probably be a little sloppy because we've only had a few days of practice, but it should be an interesting evening for basketball fans."

Raymond has selected his 12-member varsity squad, consisting of seniors Dave Wojcik (captain), Matt Villeneuve, Dave Mann, Carl Pate and Frank Waller; juniors Dave Kiel, Marty Steinhauer, Chuck Hager, Jerry Hammerschmidt, Jeff Martin and Glenn Prinzing, and sophomore Eric Schaffner.

All but Pate will be in uniform tonight. Pate suffered a shoulder injury in the last game of the football season and may not be ready to play basketball until around Christmas.

"Carl will coach one of the teams tonight, and he is very excited about that," Raymond said. "I'll coach the other. It's an interesting teacher-student experience. He will do well."

Raymond said he has been encouraged by the first week of practice sessions, which are held at the unusual hours of 6-8 a.m. in order to help relieve pressure for time in the gym.

"The kids like it (the early-morning practices) because they know that, when school ends for the day, they are finished and can go home. Otherwise, they would have to be here until 5:30 or later."

Eight of the 12 varsity cagers are coming off the varsity football team which wound up its season Nov. 5, and that causes some adjustment problems.

"It takes about two weeks for athletes to make the switch from football to basketball," Raymond said. "Basketball doesn't require as much sheer strength as football, but does call for greater agility. The same muscles are used in both sports, but they are used differently. Football players are generally 'stiff' when they first report for basketball, but they adjust quickly as they work out. The last thing to come back is the 'shooting touch' and that's what may be a little lacking in the intra-squad game."

Echoing a chorus of coaches in all team sports, Raymond believes the key to the Bulldogs' success this winter will be how well they play defense.

"Offensively, we look good," he said. "We'll score points. But to win you also have to curb your opponents' scoring."

JV Girls Set New Records

That record-setting Chelsea junior varsity girls basketball team tied with Dexter for the unofficial JV league championship.

Chelsea and Dexter split games during the season. When Dexter beat Jackson County Western Nov. 16, both teams finished with 9-1 league records. Chelsea's only other loss was against Pioneer, a Class A school, so the Bulldogs had an over-all 18-2 record.

The Bulldogs junior varsity, coached by Paul Terpstra, set six school records this season—most season wins, 18; most league wins in a season, nine; best winning percentage, 90 percent; most season points, 762; most points scored in a game, 62 against Lincoln Nov. 12; and longest winning streak, nine games.

At last night's varsity-junior varsity basketball "dessert banquet" in the hospital cafeteria, individual awards voted on at last week's team meeting were given.

Anne Weber, team co-captain and a guard, was chosen Most Valuable Player. She was the team quarterback, said Terpstra, and ran both the offense and defense, broke presses, and led the team in steals.

Kristi Headrick was named Most Improved. In the beginning of the season she only played a few minutes per game, he said, but led scoring with 19 and 26 points in the last two games of the season.

Samantha Collinsworth, a forward and guard, won Best Team Spirit award. She bridged the gap between the sophomores and freshmen, he said, and made the younger players feel a part of the team. She was leading scorer in several games this season.

Team members chose the 39-25 win over Tecumseh as their Best Team Game. That win, which Terpstra described as the most "intense" game they played, revenged a bad loss in the 1981 season.

Those playing on this very successful team were Anne Weber, Tina Paddock, Kelly Hawker, Samantha Collinsworth, Laura Koepele, Jenny Cattell, Kristi Headrick, Kris Mattoff, Michelle Easton, and Amy Wolfgang. JoAnn Tobin, who played with the team at the beginning of the season, was moved up to the varsity.

Four players were moved up to the varsity for the district tournament which ends today: Weber, Collinsworth, Paddock and Hawker.

Varsity awards will be announced later. Their season runs longer, so team voting was delayed.

Chelsea High school's first alumni boys swimming meet Wednesday, Nov. 24, pitting alumni against the present boys team, will begin at 7:30 p.m. at Cameron Pool.

Alumni who have said they will swim include Dave Mason, the 1982 state 200 individual medley champion, and former all-stars Tom Gaunt, Phil Hoffman, Mike Mason, Craig Wirtz, John Robins and Scott Prohaska. Two members of the 1976-77 team, the first swim team Chelsea had, Dave Steinbach and Jon Oesterle, will also be there.

They will swim against the 30-member varsity team, coached by Larry Reed, who has been the only boys swim coach Chelsea has ever had. The meet will be the first appearance of the season for the Bulldog boy swimmers, who began practice Nov. 15.

Reed says the meet will both be a season warm-up for team members, especially those who have never been in a meet before, and a reunion for swimmers in the community.

Bulldog Girl Swimmers Dominate Chelsea Invitational

Record-hungry Bulldogs girl swimmers not only won the sixth annual Chelsea Invitational Nov. 18 by more than 100 points over the second place team, they qualified a whopping 75 percent of the team for the state meet Dec. 3 and 4—not a bad percentage for first-season coach V. Acker.

The Bulldogs broke two varsity, five meet, and two freshman records at Cameron Pool Thursday and qualified three new swimmers for the state meet, Amanda Holmes, Becca Lee, and Paula Kuzon. They and team members, Dawn Borders, Kristin Thomas, Margi Rawson, Liesel Culver, Paula Colombo, and Vicki Harrell, who had already qualified in other meets, swam a total of 10 state meet qualifying times.

"Ackers Awesome Alligators," as the banner at Cameron Pool read, were obviously up for this meet. Team captain Kristin Thomas said, it's a small team in number, but an especially close group, because all the girls are hard workers—the pre-requisite for swimming success.

She got the high school pep band there to play the fight song—quite an unusual sight at a swimming meet. As unofficial times were given over the din to a finishing swimmer, Cameron echoed with high-pitched squeals.

Acker waved his long red stocking cap at them while they swam, even in the long events such as the 500 free. "I won't sleep tonight," he said after the traditional post-meet dunking.

He had them over to his home on meet-eve for carbohydrate-loaded spaghetti. It was 9:30 when the meet finished, so time combined with a big win meant no morning practice for the state qualifiers. But it was a short vacation; they had afternoon practice and will practice all around Thanksgiving.

But they do have that day off, he said. "I'll let them eat their turkey in peace."

Chelsea finished first with 317 points; Novi, second, 209; Dundee, third, 185; Dexter, fourth, 183; Lincoln, fifth, 170; and St. Mary's Academy in Monroe, sixth, 133 points.

A car-load of St. Mary's swimmers got lost driving to the meet, so they had a small team.

Dexter senior Lisa Goldman, who set Dexter varsity records and meet records in the 200 individual medley and 500 freestyle, and anchored the team's 400 freestyle relay to first place with a blazing 55.3 second split, was awarded the meet's outstanding athlete plaque for the third year in a row.

Dexter diver/swimmer Karla Goldman set a meet record in one-meter diving competition held in the afternoon. She was second in last year's state meet as a freshman.

The other five meets belonged to the Bulldogs. Dawn Borders won in varsity records both the event that is traditionally the most exciting, the 50 free, but which wasn't won the most exciting as it turned out event, the 100 backstroke.

She broke the oldest varsity record in the 50, set by Shelly Springer in 1979, but she was more than two seconds ahead of second place, so it wasn't the least bit close. The backstroke race with Dundee swimmer Rath was a thriller. Rath was seeded with a 9/10 second better time. Borders pulled ahead on the second turn, but Rath was still close enough to catch her. They pushed each other to state meet qualifying times.

Liesel Culver was another double-win Bulldog, the 100 free and the 200 free. Amanda Holmes, who broke a minute, the psychological barrier for girl freestylers, for the first time in the 100 free, qualified first-time for state meet in two relays. She began diving during the summer and began serious swimming only this fall. Becca Lee was also a first-time qualifier in the free relay.

Marji Rawson had two state meet individual times, as did Paula Colombo, and Kristin Thomas. Paula Kuzon had a state meet consideration time in the 100 breaststroke, within one second of the cut-off point. If less than 24 swimmers make the cut-off time, she will be considered for the event. She has the fastest 50 breaststroke time on the team, but wasn't swimming on the qualifying relay. Coaches are checking to see if they may let her swim that event.

FREAK DEER SHOT ILLEGALLY: Conservation Officer Bob McHolme displays a freak buck deer that was illegally shot by a Whitmore Lake man last week. The animal, probably three or four years old, had short stubs for antlers, most likely the result of some kind of accident. Shawn M. Veeder, 25, of Six Mile Rd., Whitmore Lake, was charged with possession of an illegal deer.

ALL-AROUND TRUCK PARTS STORE!

That's what A&L Fleet Supply is — Jim Giles, Fleet Counter Supervisor, says that "Being so much to so many people is a big responsibility. We carry a lot of product lines — and are quite complete in most of them. We can take care of most requests — from our single-truck customers to the large fleet owners/operators."

"You don't have to be behind this counter long to know that when trucks aren't running they aren't making money. We have to anticipate — figure out what's going to be needed, how much of it, and when."

"Some things are a bonus. For instance, A&L recently became the area distributor for Korody-Colyer. That means that we have the widest in-stock selection around here of parts for Detroit Diesel engines. It's been estimated that one-fourth of all heavy-duty diesel manufactured in the U.S. are GM (or Detroit Diesels), so you can see how important having this line is to us."

All these things, plus the professionalism of Jim and the rest of the counter and sales staff, have added to the reputation of service and quality at A&L. Try it!

Varsity Girls Lose In District

SPORTS NOTES BY BILL MULLENDORE

Bulldog girls varsity basketball team finished their season with a 39-32 loss to Tecumseh in the Class B district tournament Nov. 20 at Jackson Lumen Christi.

Tecumseh had only a 16-14 lead going into half-time. Chelsea just couldn't score enough in the third quarter to keep it close, so Tecumseh had a 28-20 lead going into the final quarter.

"We had problems with our offense in both the second and third quarters," said coach Jim Winter. "They had two girls about 5'11" tall. One of them, Ruth Schaefer, blocked six shots, so we got tentative on our shooting."

The team played tough defense in the second quarter, he said, which kept it close at half-time. But the two big players were hard to handle in the last half.

Chelsea kept within six to 12 points in the last quarter, frustrating Tecumseh a bit, but couldn't really threaten.

Beth Unterbrink was leading scorer with 10 points, had 4 rebounds, 3 assists, and 1 steal; Amy Poljan, 6 points, 6 rebounds; Carol Warren, 5 points, 7 rebounds; JoAnn Tobin, 5 points, 6 rebounds; and Sharon Glassford, 4 points, 6 rebounds.

Before the game, the players' mothers put on a steak dinner at Chuck and Lenore Matloff's home, to honor the players' season of hard work, said Ellie Unterbrink. Although before all the season games, the girls had carbohydrate-loaded dishes such as spaghetti and lasagna, the mothers wanted to give them a traditional pre-game meal.

The team's league record is 1-9. Their over-all record is 4-17.

"It would have been easy to quit, or give up this season," said Winter, "but they kept trying, even though we didn't win."

"They just kept coming to practice and working hard."

Five seniors played their last game for the Bulldogs, Glassford, Colleen Clark, Missi Lazarz, Poljan, and Mary Klink.

Next year's team will be young, said Winter, with only two seniors on the team. How the players coming up from junior varsity adjust to quicker, stronger, and bigger varsity players will determine how well next year's team will do.

Players voted on team awards late yesterday. Those awards were announced at the team banquet last night, but it was too late to include them in this issue.

Varsity Girls Lose In District

SPORTS NOTES BY BILL MULLENDORE

Bulldog girls varsity basketball team finished their season with a 39-32 loss to Tecumseh in the Class B district tournament Nov. 20 at Jackson Lumen Christi.

Tecumseh had only a 16-14 lead going into half-time. Chelsea just couldn't score enough in the third quarter to keep it close, so Tecumseh had a 28-20 lead going into the final quarter.

"We had problems with our offense in both the second and third quarters," said coach Jim Winter. "They had two girls about 5'11" tall. One of them, Ruth Schaefer, blocked six shots, so we got tentative on our shooting."

The team played tough defense in the second quarter, he said, which kept it close at half-time. But the two big players were hard to handle in the last half.

Chelsea kept within six to 12 points in the last quarter, frustrating Tecumseh a bit, but couldn't really threaten.

Beth Unterbrink was leading scorer with 10 points, had 4 rebounds, 3 assists, and 1 steal; Amy Poljan, 6 points, 6 rebounds; Carol Warren, 5 points, 7 rebounds; JoAnn Tobin, 5 points, 6 rebounds; and Sharon Glassford, 4 points, 6 rebounds.

Before the game, the players' mothers put on a steak dinner at Chuck and Lenore Matloff's home, to honor the players' season of hard work, said Ellie Unterbrink. Although before all the season games, the girls had carbohydrate-loaded dishes such as spaghetti and lasagna, the mothers wanted to give them a traditional pre-game meal.

The team's league record is 1-9. Their over-all record is 4-17.

"It would have been easy to quit, or give up this season," said Winter, "but they kept trying, even though we didn't win."

"They just kept coming to practice and working hard."

Five seniors played their last game for the Bulldogs, Glassford, Colleen Clark, Missi Lazarz, Poljan, and Mary Klink.

Next year's team will be young, said Winter, with only two seniors on the team. How the players coming up from junior varsity adjust to quicker, stronger, and bigger varsity players will determine how well next year's team will do.

Players voted on team awards late yesterday. Those awards were announced at the team banquet last night, but it was too late to include them in this issue.

Both Hunting Pressure and Harvest Down During Local Deer Season

Somewhat surprisingly, hunting pressure and harvest in the local area are both down from last year so far during the firearm deer season which opened Nov. 15.

That's the appraisal of Conservation Officer Craig Wales who patrols west Washtenaw county.

"There were a lot of hunters out on opening day, but not the numbers I had expected," Wales said. "Since then, I just haven't seen very many. It may pick up later in the season when people who have gone north and been unsuccessful come home and try to fill their tags around here."

The relatively low hunting pressure has held the harvest down, Wales added, even though the deer herd is big and healthy and includes a high proportion of trophy-class bucks.

Pre-season forecasts by the Department of Natural Resources had predicted a large hunter turnout in southern Michigan, based on several factors:

The high unemployment rate, which gives more people free time to hunt, with the added incentive of bringing home a deer for food as bonus meat on the table.

Perhaps the largest deer herd ever in this part of the state, as opposed to diminished numbers in northern Michigan because of last year's severe winter and delayed spring break-up which resulted in some loss of both adult deer and fawns in the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower.

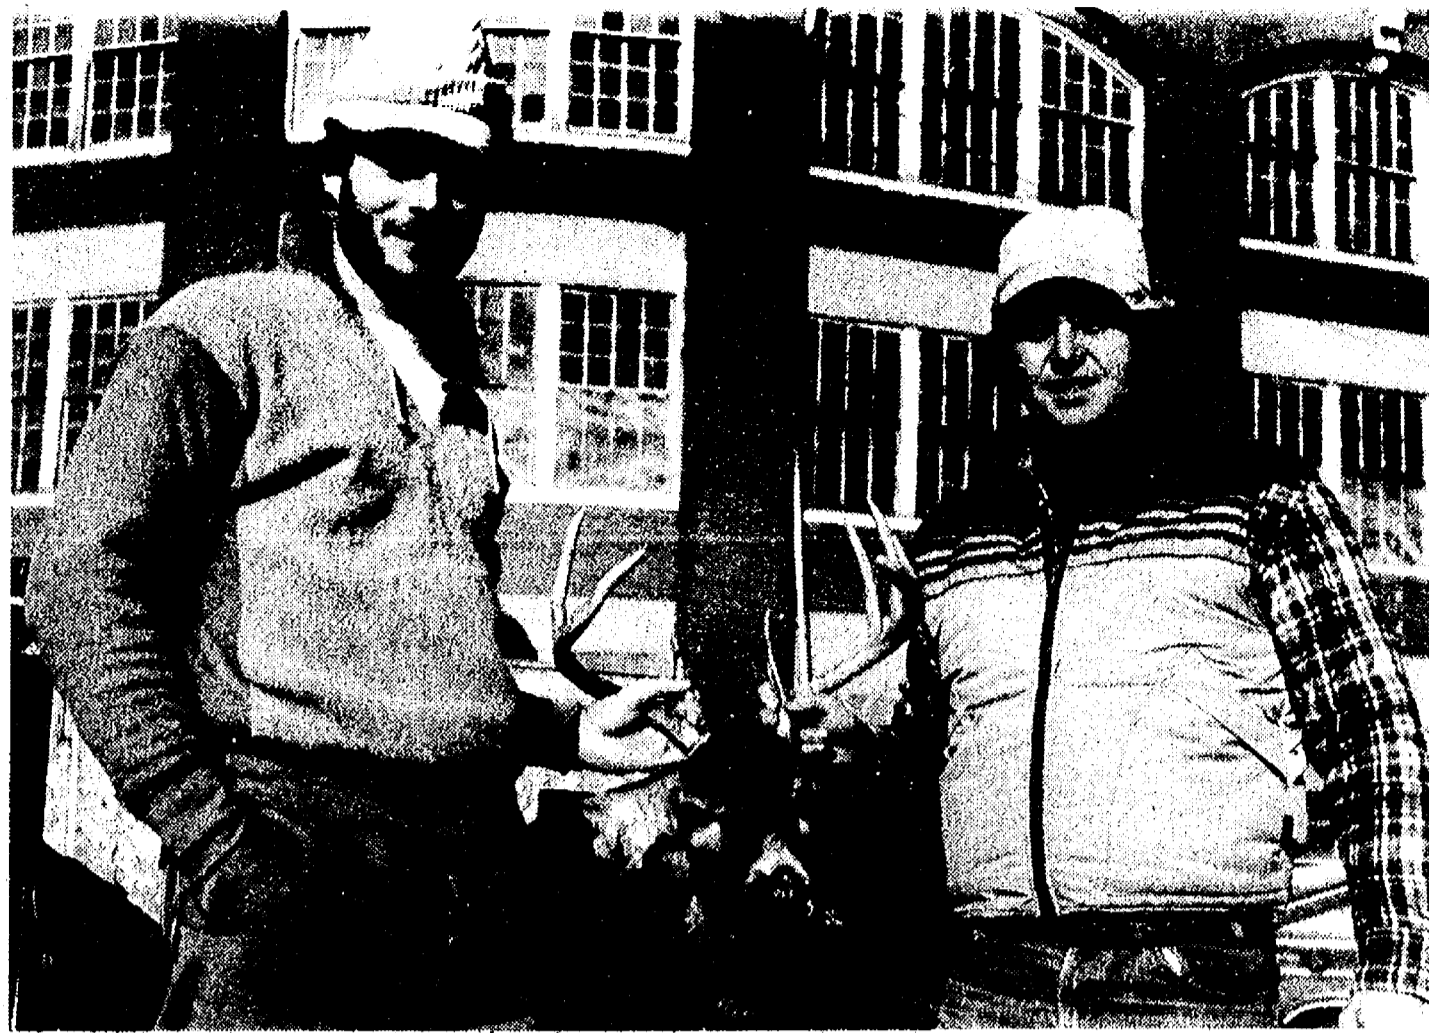

Widely publicized excellent success by bowhunters during the archery season which opened Oct. 1.

"I don't know how to explain it," Wales said, "and it could turn around before the season ends Nov. 30. But, so far, things are decidedly down."

Bucks are coming in large sizes for area hunters who do score, Wales added. Racks of eight points or more and dressed weights of 150 pounds and up are common. Those are big deer by any measuring stick.

Stockbridge Men's Basketball League Organizing Monday

Stockbridge men's basketball league will have an organizational meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 29 in room 105, Stockbridge High school, 416 N. Clinton St., Stockbridge. All coaches interested in having a team are encouraged to attend.

FIRST AT THE STANDARD: Honors for bringing the first deer of this year's firearm season to The Standard for picture-taking went to Ishmael Picklesimer, Jr. (right) of 458 North St. He brought down this fine nine-point buck at about 8:30 a.m. on opening morning while hunting on private land off W. Liberty Rd. Picklesimer's brother-in-law, Jeff Starkey (left) of Holly, helped him dress and drag out the deer.

BIG BUCK FOR LITTLE LADY: Mrs. Janet Salyer of 1181 Pierce Rd., did a lot of practice shooting with her single-shot 20-gauge shotgun before the deer season opened, and it paid off in a big way when she downed this exceptional 12-point trophy buck Nov. 16 while hunting on land the Salyers own. She made a perfect heart shot at more than 50 yards. Her prize weighed about twice as much as she does.

Another Father-Son Get Deer on Opening Day

Last week a father and son both reported shooting deer on opening day of firearms season. There was another father-son double-play that day—but with pick-up trucks.

Charles Trinkle of 9631 Trinkle Rd., Dexter, hit a 10-point, 250-pound buck about 11:30 a.m. Nov. 15, just past the marsh area on Dexter-Chelsea Rd.

The deer apparently hit the side mirror and broke its neck and one of the point tips, doing no damage to the truck itself.

"It didn't even knock the mud off the side of the truck," said Pat Trinkle, his wife.

Son Duane of Ann Arbor was not as lucky. His truck's radiator was destroyed by a 50-pound fawn which hit his truck about 8:30 p.m. on Baker Rd.

These were the first deer the family has ever gotten, since they are not venison lovers. They plan to give the meat away, she said, and save the hides.

Greg Rudd, the 14-year-old son of Max and Sue Rudd of 2352 Loeffler Rd., shot his first deer around noon Nov. 15. It was a three-point, 155-pound buck. He plans to mount the horns as a hat rack and tan the skin for gloves.

More women are deer hunting this year, said Mary Rose Cook, who sees them buying licenses and ammunition while she works at Cook's Grocery at Sugar Loaf Lake.

Last year about 10 local women bought licenses, she said. But this year about 25 to 30 women, whom she didn't know, came in for licenses.

The first deer report they heard at their store was a 10-point buck shot at 7:21 a.m. Nov. 15.

Hunters coming to the store for ammunition usually just buy one shell, she says. "I ask them if they wouldn't like a box, but they always say 'I only need one.'"

She isn't sure, she says, whether they have bought a full box elsewhere, or are sincere.

Deer tales are usually taller than fish stories, she says. The fish are weighed and measured right at the store, but deer weigh too much for that fish scale.

OUT IN THE OPEN

By BILL MULLENDORE

There are a million deer hunting stories, and a few of them are even true. Here is a sampling of some that I can vouch for because they involved either me or friends whose truthfulness I can more or less trust. Names will be omitted to protect the innocent or guilty as the case may be, and also to preclude the possibility of libel suits.

Many years ago I made my first and only deer hunting trip north of the Mackinac Bridge (only the bridge wasn't there then, just a ferry boat that you waited all night to drive onto). I had signed up as the paying guest of a farmer who provided room and board for a modest charge and gave his customers hunting access to his land.

The bed was pretty decent and the food bountiful if you didn't mind a steady diet of deer meat — venison fried for breakfast, venison sliced for lunch sandwiches, venison stewed or roasted for dinner. After the first three days I began to wonder a little where all the venison was coming from. There were four of us hunters staying there, and the farmer, his wife and three kids were eating, too.

The hunting was pretty bad. We saw only a scattering of very spooky deer, none of them legal bucks. When our week was up, none of us had so much as fired a shot. After we were packed and ready to head back "down below," our host beckoned us into his barn.

Hanging from the rafters were 21 deer of assorted sizes and sexes. "Nobody goes home without a deer if he wants one," we were told. "Does are fifty dollars, bucks a hunnert. Had more in here awhile ago, but we've eaten some of 'em. Been feedin' you the young and tender ones."

No wonder we had seen mighty few deer during our week of hunting. The local herd had been pretty well cleaned out before the season opened.

Much of the lore of deer hunting lies (or used to) in the "camp life" that goes along with it. A great deal of that tradition is gone. There aren't very many old-fashioned deer camps — log cabins, tarpaper shacks, big wall tents — left. Today's typical deer hunter operates out of his home, a motel room or an RV.

The romance of deer camps has been exaggerated to considerable degree in the tales told about them. Most were dirty, smoky and after a few days pretty smelly, and most of their occupants developed chronic indigestion from a monotonous intake of greasy fried foods topped off by too much booze and too little sleep.

All of which is to say there sometimes is more to deer hunting than hunting deer.

In fact, one of the most dedicated deer hunters I ever knew made it a point never to take a gun to camp, for fear that he might be tempted actually to go out and hunt. He bought a license every fall because he figured somebody needed the money, and he "hunted" for the full 16 days of every season.

"There are three 'runways' in our camp," he explained to me once. "One goes from the kitchen stove to the dining table, one from the table to the bar, and one from the bar back to the stove. They make a triangle. I sit in the middle and watch all three. Haven't seen a deer yet, but boy have I had fun!"

Another friend religiously joins with five buddies every fall to pitch a tent camp so elaborate that it takes three pickup trucks to carry and two full days to assemble. The camp is created in a patch of jack-pine barrens where sighting a deer would be about as likely as tumbling into the Lost Dutchman gold mine.

Every year after he returns from his hunting trip, he and I have the following dialogue:

"Get a deer?"

"Nope."

"See any?"

"Nope."

"Anybody else get one?"

"Nope."

"Why do you keep going back there?"

"Because we've still got the best damn spring water in the world for mixing with bourbon!"

I have long contended that most deer are killed by accident. In a one-on-one contest between man and deer, the deer will win virtually every time. What happens is that one hunter jumps a deer, which crosses the path of another hunter while evading the original source of alarm. That is why hunters who sit and watch kill far more deer than hunters who walk. If everybody sat and watched, and nobody walked, most deer would die of old age.

Consider this:

One of my former bosses was a workaholic, the type who puts in 18 hours a day seven days a week. On the rare occasions when he took time off, he played as hard as he worked. Deer season was one of his few times to play.

Awaking one morning with a throbbing head and a bladder aching to be emptied after a very wet night he stumbled out of camp to relieve himself. More or less by reflex, he grabbed his rifle off the rack as he went out the door and loaded it with the only cartridge he had in his pocket. Fifty feet down the path he stopped to answer nature's call, looked up, saw a 12-point buck standing about 30 yards off, raised the rifle, fired his single bullet and downed the buck dead in its tracks with a perfect heart-lung shot.

"Couldn't hardly see the thing," he admitted afterward. "I just waited until we were both wobbling the same way, and pulled the trigger."

It was one of the best bucks taken in Michigan that fall.

Deer Pose Danger To Area Motorists

With both the mating and hunting seasons in full swing, deer are on the move right now more than at any other time of the year and are likely to be almost anywhere.

That was underscored last Thursday evening when a deer was hit by a semi-truck on S. Main St. at Old Manchester Rd. inside the Chelsea village limits.

Driver of the truck was Leon H. Jeffrey of Hudson. The vehicle sustained only minor damage, as apparently did the deer which ran off after the accident and was not found.

Chelsea Police Chief Robert Aiello warned local residents to be especially on the lookout for deer crossing roads and streets during the next couple of weeks.

"You are likely to see them anyplace, even in the downtown area," Aiello said. "Last year at this time I saw three in the parking lot of Chelsea Lanes, and over the years we've had reports of them wandering around in all parts of town."

Dawn and dusk are the most hazardous times for deer-vehicle collisions, but they can happen at any time of the day or night during late November when the animals are pursuing their mating rituals and also being pushed by hunters.

Dale Fisher Offers Christmas Show of Aerial Photography

Photographer Dale Fisher will present his third annual Chelsea Christmas Show and Sale on Sunday, Nov. 28, from 1 to 6 p.m. at the Chelsea Fairgrounds Activity Building.

Fisher, who lives at 3991 Notten Rd., said the exhibit will be the largest and most varied that he has presented in Chelsea, and will include about 40 pictures never shown here before.

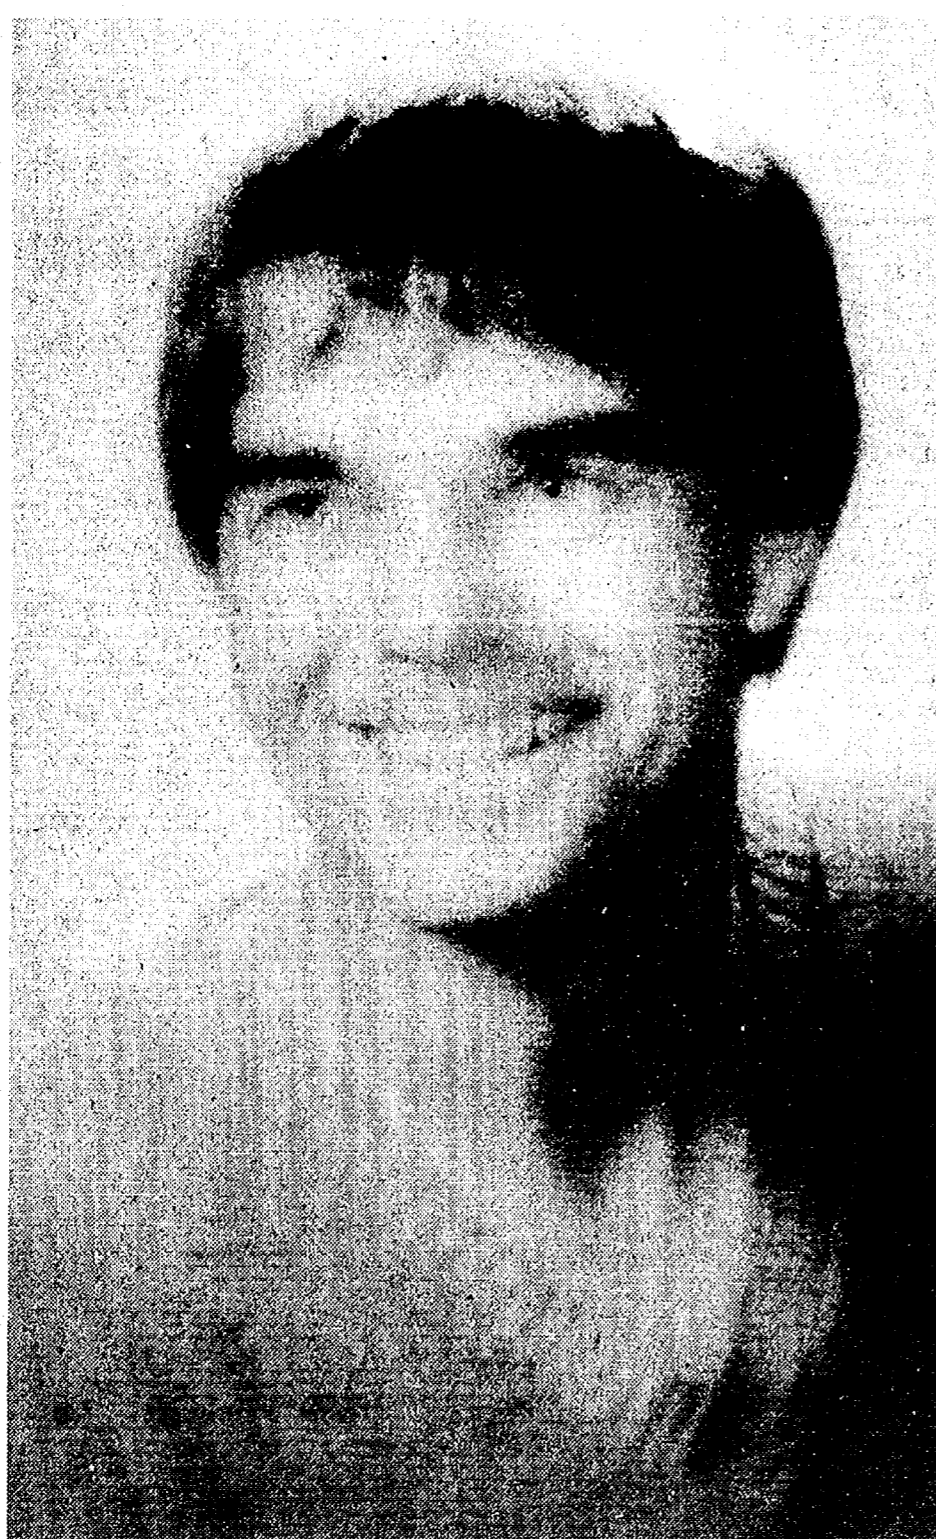

Subjects will include wildlife, nature, boats and other outdoor items. Print prices will range from $40 to $1,600. The higher prices are for limited editions. All prints will be in color.

In recent years Fisher has switched his emphasis from commercial to art photography. He works mostly from the air, using his own helicopter as a shooting platform.

"What I try to produce are what I call 'natural abstractions,'" Fisher explained. "These are patterns that people see every day but don't recognize until they are captured on film. Some very ordinary scenes can be made into extraordinary pictures in the sense that I present them to the viewer from a new perspective."

Fisher said the exhibit will be largely an "all Chelsea" show in the sense that most of the pictures presented will be those he has taken in the immediate area.

"I enjoy doing this because the community has been very good to me," he commented. "Frankly, we don't make any money from this annual show. The costs of putting it on are higher than our sales. That doesn't bother me because I feel I owe the community something. I just hope that everybody comes out and looks and enjoys. There is no charge and no obligation to buy anything."

DALE FISHER

PATTERNS OF NATURE: These two examples of Dale Fisher's art photography illustrate his concept of making ordinary things look extraordinary by presenting them from an aerial perspective. Everybody has seen corn shocks and abandoned farms, but few have viewed them from the vantage point of a low-flying helicopter and frozen them on film.

THANK YOU
The Chelsea Co-op Nursery membership would like to thank those merchants of Chelsea and Dexter who contributed door prizes for their recent Christmas Auction and Quilt Raffle. The generous contributions helped make the Auction a success. We truly appreciate you all.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank my relatives, friends and neighbors for the beautiful flowers and plants, the personal visits, cards and phone calls I received while in Chelsea Community Hospital.
A special thanks to Dr. Krause and Dr. Marcus and their team of surgical nurses. A big thank you to the nurses and nurse aides for the very kind and considerate care they gave me. They take such a personal interest in their patients needs and care you just have to get well. Thank you very much.

Dale H. Hepburn.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank my family, neighbors and friends and the hospital staff for the many cards, gifts and flowers and excellent care while I was at Chelsea Community Hospital and at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Margery Parker.

★ Thrifty Food Gifts for Holidays

Catalog shopping is at an all-time high. Last year the food category alone accounted for some $465 million in purchases.

Shopping by mail has become so popular that the average U.S. household receives 40 catalogs a year. Many of them arrive in the fall and are directed toward Christmas sales. Offering everything from pears to pet collars, the colorful, glossy catalogs offer convenience and variety.

Many food gifts of equal or greater value are available in local communities but shoppers are unaware of them. For example, many Michigan communities have farm markets that are open the year round. They frequently sell gift packs of apples, pears, jellies, syrups, cheese and other Michigan products. Shoppers can purchase these products gift-packed at the farm market or let the market ship them to the recipients. Some of these markets even offer the option of a gift card that you can sign — a personal touch few mail order operations include. Farm markets and other producer sources are often listed under "Foods" in the classified ads.

Gifts of food for Christmas aren't new — people have been giving cheese, jelly and fruit gift packs for years. But how about giving a gift of meat?

Almost all supermarkets carry frozen turkeys, turkey rolls, ducks, rabbits and for the small households, Rock Cornish hens. All of these products, as well as dry sausages and natural cheese, are readily available in most communities.

Shoppers looking for gifts less expensive than meats or cheese still have a lot of choices. For family and friends, an assortment of crackers, complete with a home-made cheese ball, is always welcome during the busy holiday season. The cheese ball may be frozen if there is an over-supply.

For neighbors you might make your favorite holiday coffee cake. It is a good idea to have the coffee cake wrapped ready to freeze. To make a gift of home-made food really special, include the recipe if you're willing to share it.

Another gift from the kitchen that requires no cooking is a home-made dry mix, such as pancake mix. (Recipes are available for a variety of mixes in many standard cookbooks.) Package the dry mix in a purchased canister-type jar or in a recycled jar that you have decorated. To mail mixes, package in plastic bags and slip into drawstring bags made from fabric scraps. Be sure to include instructions for mixing and baking the product.

Michigan maple syrup and honey are almost non-perishable food products that make especially thoughtful gifts. If you're giving these to several people, it is more economical to buy a large container and repack the product in smaller glass containers that have been thoroughly washed and scalded. The classified ads in your local newspaper will probably list the most economical sources of honey and maple syrup.

For men and women who like to cook and bake, a variety of low-cost food and food-related items show that special thought went into the selection of the gift. Consider a bottle of real vanilla or a special spice or herb for the gourmet cook.

Make this home-made pan-ease to give with bundt pans and three-dimensional cake pans. It works better than commercial baking sprays and makes tear-free removal of the cake a breeze. Just mix together ½ cup cooking oil, ½ cup solid shortening and ½ cup flour with a fork. Place the pan-ease in a jar, cover and label along with a note to store in the refrigerator.

Manchester Youth on Dairy Judging Team

A Washtenaw County youth was part of Michigan's high scoring 4-H Dairy Judging Team, which placed fifth over-all out of 14 teams competing in the first North American Invitational Youth Dairy Judging Contest in Louisville, Ky., Nov. 7.

Jeff Horning, of Manchester, was one of three team members representing Michigan in the national contest. The state team also scored fifth over-all in oral reasons.

Team coach was Gale Baumgardner, Michigan 4-H youth dairy specialist.

Horning's trip to Louisville was underwritten by donations made to the Michigan 4-H Foundation.

He qualified to compete in the national event by scoring well at the state dairy judging contest held during 4-H Dairy Days at Michigan State University in August.

Church Calendar Deadline Extended Until Friday Noon

Church calendars for the Nov. 30 issue of The Standard need to be submitted in writing by noon Friday, Nov. 26. (The usual deadline is 5 p.m. Thursday.) There is a mail slot to the right of the door, so they may be left at any time of the day or night. Remember, this calendar will be for Nov. 30 through Dec. 7, so those churches who usually submit monthly calendars may just turn in their first week of the new month. Thank you!

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Editor,
About six weeks ago, I lost a beautiful orange/rust colored cat. His name is Morris, and he had two collars on—one a flea collar and the other a beige leather collar with a bell on it, or a hoop for a bell!

The cat was in our car, and when we stopped and opened the door, he jumped out. We all miss our cat very much.

Would you please check your barns, garages, etc., and see if he is there. We lost him in the vicinity of the Chelsea High school. It is just as though he has vanished into thin air.

Please call at 475-2741. Thank you.

CAREERS POETRY CONTEST WINNERS in Lols Moore's South school fifth grade class are Chris Tallman, left, first for "So Many Jobs;" Carruthers, third for "So Many Many Jobs." The

The Red Cross flag honors Switzerland where the organization was founded in 1863. The Swiss flag is a white cross on a red field.

Fire Destroys Freedom Home

Fire believed started by a pan of food burning on a kitchen range, destroyed a house and its contents at 3820 Rentz Rd., Freedom township, last Wednesday.

Manchester fire chief Jim Kensler estimated the loss at upwards of $50,000 which, he said, was not covered by insurance. The property is owned by the Jerry Hunget family.

Kensler said his department received the alarm at 10:10 a.m. and responded with 17 men and four pieces of equipment. Upon spotting a cloud of smoke while still more than a mile from the scene, Kensler radioed the Chelsea fire department for assistance. Chelsea dispatched two trucks with nine men.

"By the time we arrived, the house was in flames," Kensler said. "With Chelsea's help we pumped 12,000 gallons of water on the fire, and put it out about 1:30, but it was too late to save the home and furnishings. It was pretty much a total loss."

The firemen were able to protect an attached garage and a shed in which several articles were stored, and retrieved a metal box containing personal papers and money from the dwelling itself.

Kensler described the house as a 32 by 32-foot wood frame structure worth $35,000 or more. He estimated the value of the contents at about $15,000.

He added that firemen found a pan of burned food fused by heat to a burner on the kitchen stove and said that almost certainly started the blaze, although a further investigation was to be made.

Waterloo Farm Museum Plans Open House

Pioneer Christmas at the Waterloo Farm Museum captures the elegance of Victorian Christmases.

Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 4 and 5 from 1 to 5 p.m. the Realy House and log cabin on the grounds of the museum will be decorated for Christmas. Garlands of pine boughs dotted with red velvet ribbons and cedar swags will drape doors and windows. Setting on window sills will be cored apple candle holders.

While familiar carols are sung to the accompaniment of the melodian in the parlour, Christmas guests may enjoy the black spruce encircled with strings of cranberries and popcorn. Victorian ornaments and flickering candles cling to its branches. Antique toys and dolls nestle beneath the spruce's branches.

The log house, decorated as it might have been for the first Michigan Christmas, is a warm place for a cup of mulled cider and some Christmas cookies.

Hand-made Christmas ornaments will be sold.
