

A HIGHLIGHT OF HOMECOMING festivities is the choosing of the queen, and this year there were eight finalists, two from each class. The young ladies and their escorts were treated like royalty as Darrel Bolanowski chauffeured them in a $150,000 limosine loaned by Chrysler for the occasion. The eight contestants were

GREGORY STEPHENS of Chelsea was killed in this automobile accident that occurred on Old US-12 just west of Chelsea. Another Chelsea resident, Dennis M. Muck, was also injured when the automobile, heading east, left the road and slammed into a tree. Police said neither passenger was wearing a seat belt and that they suspect the use of alcohol contributed to the accident.

Gregory Stephens Dies After Saturday Night Auto Crash

Gregory Stephens of Chelsea, 19, died early Sunday morning after the car in which he was traveling struck a tree and rolled over on Old US-12, just west of Chelsea.

Another passenger in the auto, Dennis M. Muck of Chelsea, 20, was in good condition at University of Michigan Hospital on Monday.

Police said there was evidence that one or both of the men had been drinking. Neither man was wearing a seat belt.

Police said the car, a 1977 Plymouth, was so badly mangled that, as of Monday, they still weren't sure whether Muck or Stephens was driving the vehicle at the time of the accident. The vehicle was registered to Muck, they said.

The accident occurred at approximately 9:20 p.m. on Saturday. Police said the auto, traveling east at a high rate of speed, failed to negotiate a curve, left the road and struck a large tree in front of the old Weinberg Dairy. The accident is still under investigation.

The victims were initially taken to Chelsea Community Hospital, but were transferred to U. of M. Hospital shortly thereafter. Stephens died at 1:45 a.m. on Sunday.

Officer Mike Foster of the Chelsea Police Department was first on the scene. The Chelsea Fire Department, Dexter Fire Department and Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department also responded to the call.

Stephens, an employee of BookCrafters, lived at 19 Chestnut Dr. Muck's home is at 209 Park St.

Downtown Development Authority Official With Adoption of Ordinance

The Village of Chelsea's Downtown Development Authority became official Oct. 15 as the village council unanimously approved the ordinance at its regular meeting. The ordinance takes effect Nov. 14.

The DDA, which will operate under the supervision of a board with anywhere from eight to 12 members, was devised as a tool to "correct and prevent deterioration in" the downtown business district by suggesting improvements to the downtown area. It is also designed to encourage historic preservation and promote economic growth.

The money-raising powers of the DDA, under state law, are wide ranging: it has, with the approval of council, the ability to levy an ad valorem tax of up to two mills on property within the DDA; it can borrow money through bonding; take advantage of proceeds from a special assessment district created by law; can accept donations; can act as a landlord; and can take advantage of tax increment financing for producing revenue.

The board can hire a director, secretary and director and fix their compensation. It can retain legal counsel (and can be sued). It can acquire and construct public facilities, plan and propose construction and renovation of an existing building, develop long-range plans with the planning commission and "take such steps as may be necessary to persuade property owners to implement plans to the fullest extent possible." There are many other powers also spelled out in state law.

The next step is for a board to be appointed by village president Jerry Satterthwaite. His selections have to be approved by the village council. The initial selections are expected to be made this week, according to Mark Heydlauff, who has spearheaded the drive for the development of the DDA.

State law says that a majority of the board members have to be persons with an interest in property in the downtown area, presumably business people.

The board will also likely have members of the village council and the planning commission.

The DDA can exercise its authority on property defined in the ordinance as being in the downtown development district. The "district" does not have straight borders. It runs north on Main St. to approximately midway between Buchanan and Dewey Sts.; east about half-way down the first blocks of E. Middle St. and Park St.; south on Main St. to Lincoln St.; and west down W. Middle St. near the fire station.

The district includes not only businesses within the village, but several residences as well, among them a few homes on Main St., and Park St.

United Way Reaches 58% of Goal With One Week Left

With several of the Chelsea area industries reporting their campaign contributions, and with accelerated activity within the commercial and professional division, the Chelsea United Way has achieved 58% of its 1985-86 goal.

According to Dave Prohaska, co-chairman of the fund drive, both Dana Corp. and Chrysler Proving Grounds each reported reaching 100% of their respective goals. "This is a tremendous boost for our campaign," stated Prohaska. He added, "We are hoping that Chelsea Milling, BookCrafters, Federal Screw Works, and the Chelsea Community Hospital follow suit. The industrial and hospital divisions provide almost half of the funding resources for the Chelsea United Way."

Perhaps the most unique contributions thus far came as a result of "leftovers" from the 1984 Chelsea Sesquicentennial celebration. Members of the Woodshed Squatters and Standarders chapters of the Chelsea Belles and Brothers of the Brush recently found that they still had money left in their treasury. They voted to contribute their remaining

Bands Plan Concert On Monday

Chelsea High school marching band and the Beach Middle school bands will present a combined concert this Monday, Nov. 4 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

In addition, the flag corps, led by flag captains Jackie Kelley and Dawn Spade, will perform a routine.

The show will feature highlights from this year's half-time performances.

The show, which will be about an hour long, is free and open to the public.

funds to the Chelsea United Way, and Sheila Barker, president of the Squatters, presented the United Way board with a check for $105.

The various campaign divisions have achieved the following percentages of their goals: residential, 56%; coupon, 113%; community organizations, 56%; professional, 61%; schools, 34%; and industrial, 46%.

According to Randy Musbach, United Way board member and chairman of the allocations committee, "The official campaign runs during the full month of October, although we receive a surprising number of contributions well into the month of November. If it weren't for that, we might fall short of our goal. However, those late donations do keep us on pins and needles until they actually come in."

Faye Frederick and Joanne Rowe, co-chairpersons of the commercial division, indicated that the merchants and business people in the community have been very supportive of the 1985 fund drive. Frederick stated, "We are seeing a modest increase in donations, and we are picking up a few new contributors who haven't given before." She continued, "The shops and business establishments have been extremely co-operative considering that they are so visible and are the target of every fundraising affair in town. We sincerely appreciate their donations."

Anyone who has not yet been contacted may still send their contributions to Chelsea United Way, P. O. Box 176, Chelsea 48118. Chelsea residents working out of town may designate that United Way pledges and contributions through their employer-sponsored drives be designated for Chelsea. This must be indicated on their pledge cards if Chelsea United Way is to receive their donation.

HOMECOMING QUEEN CHRIS DEFANT is crowned by last year's queen, Rebecca Finch, during homecoming festivities last Friday night. Chris' escort is Mike Goodwin. DeFant, 17, a senior, is a lifelong Chelsea resident. She was on the student council for three years, is a member of the National Honor Society, played tennis for four years and will be one of the top Bulldog softball players this season as a pitcher. She plans a career in medical technology and wants to attend Michigan State University next fall. She is the daughter of Carol and Peter DeFant.

Hailing from Dundee where he directed the band program for five years, Bill Gourley accepted the position left by the resignation of Steven Bergmann at the end of the 1980 school year.

Since the beginning of the school year, Gourley has changed the marching style of the Chelsea High School band, which has in turn, made the music more challenging. Under his direction, the band continued its dedicated, superior ways, receiving a Division I rating at district festival in mid-October.

Joan Yocum and Jeff Daniels have teamed up once again on an original comedy musical entitled "42 Cities in 40 Nights," performed Off Broadway at the Circle Repertory Company, Sunday and Monday, Oct. 25-26, in New York City.

Yocum, former choreographer for many Chelsea Players summer musicals throughout the 70's, including "Hello Dolly" and others, choreographed as well as performed in the pair's latest production.

Show performances were sold out and raised more than $7,000 for the Circle Repertory Theater.

Nanette Push of Chelsea, an all-state softball pitcher in her freshman year at Eastern Michigan University, heads the list of 23 players to make the team's fall cut, as chosen by coaches Anne Johnston and Lori Anderson.

Chelsea's water tower has a new look inside and out since last week when Haron Painting Co. of Jackson drained water from the tower and began their routine maintenance of the tank, painting it inside and out.

During the maintenance and painting time, water pressure was provided directly from the village pumps. The preventive treatment periodically is done to eliminate the possibility of impurities reaching the village water system.

Mrs. Hinz has been active in Girl Scouting for several years, and says much of her work will be involved in planning the quarterly area association meetings for all adult Girl Scouts.

The first shipments of a new type of pole to be used in the 345,000-volt power line, planned to run from Monroe to the proposed Majestic Station in Dexter, started arriving in Chelsea last week.

The poles, which have an average height of 130 feet, weigh approximately 20 tons each and are placed on reinforced concrete foundations 20-30 feet deep.

The poles are made of three or four telescoping sections which have a 40-inch diameter at the base and a 22-inch diameter at the top.

The new octagonal poles will be used instead of the usual lattice towers along the line's entire 65-mile route, except where the line changes direction.

Detroit Edison Company officials hope the line will be in operation late in 1972.

Drunk Driving Task Force Issues Final Report

The State's Drunk Driving Task Force recently ended its statutory existence with a final report outlining 39 recommendations, including a call for temporary highway sobriety check-lanes, but the chairman of the task force said its demise comes as the state is just getting data on the effects of the 1982 drunken driving laws.

That law, among other things, stiffened fines, prison terms and license actions for driving under the influence of alcohol.

District Judge Kenneth Hempstead, chairman of the task force, said he was confident that many of the recommendations made by the group would eventually become law despite sharp political opposition to the checklane proposal.

He was also disappointed the commission was disbanded despite a request to the Legislature that its life be extended, but said that some organization at some time would have to begin monitoring the effects of the drunken driving laws.

Probably the most controversial proposal the committee made was for highway check-lanes, which Hempstead said was "political dynamite," but he defended the proposal saying that in other states it had been shown to help keep drunken drivers off the road.

And he did not give up hope that the proposal would eventually become law. "Things change over the years," he said.

The Legislature, in a 1984 law authorizing the task force to continue until October, 1985, added a prohibition against the task force instituting any checklanes program.

The task force recommendations, many of which were in earlier draft reports, also include:

Legislation preventing court appeals of license suspensions and revocations issued by the Department of State.

Legislation earmarking fines collected from drinking and driving offenses toward enforcement efforts.

Special community and school programs on the effects of drunken driving.

Legislation authorizing as admissible court evidence the refusal of a person to take a breathalyzer test and a person's record provided through the Law Enforcement Information Network.

Strict enforcement of the state's seatbelt bill.

A feasibility study on enacting a "per se" rule that would permit police officers to take driver's licenses of persons refusing breath tests, or who tested with a blood alcohol level at 10 percent or above. Hempstead said a proposal to enact the per se requirement may be presented to the Legislature soon.

Mandatory liability insurance for all bar owners as part of any changes to the dramshop act.

Legislation for centralized reporting of all drunken driving cases from the time of arrest to final disposition of the case.

Saline Players Feature Chelsea Area Residents

Saline Area Players will open their 1985-86 season with their production of "Once Upon A Mattress," a musical frolic through the classic story of The Princess and the Pea. At first glance a singing and dancing version of the children's fairy tale, but closer look reveals a riotous show full of double entendres, mime, and roaring good fun. Set in a medieval fantasy world with moats, minstrels and jesters, royalty battles to find the perfect bride, for its prince "Dauntless the Drap." This is a true family show with something for everyone.

King Sextimus the Silent is played by Saline's Mayor, Don Shelton; Queen Aggravain by Rose Carol Toth; Prince Dauntless by David Morris and the minstrel, Doug Beaumont are both from Chelsea, and Princess Winifred, Chris Hall, is from Ann Arbor. Well known local actress, Sharon Sussman is playing Lady Larkin with Jim Newton as Sir Harry.

Productions will be at Saline High school, 7190 N. Maple Rd., Saline, on Nov. 7-8-9 starting at 8 p.m.

Village Building Permits Total His $588,000 Through September

Building permits issued through September totaled approximately $588,000, according to Zoning Inspector Rosemary Harook.

Harook submitted the figure, along with a list of building permits, to the village council at its Oct. 15 meeting.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Linda Arnett, Troy Satterthwaite Are Wed in Stockbridge Church

Linda Karen Arnett and Troy Jay Satterthwaite were married Oct. 26 in Stockbridge, at the Church of God. The Rev. Donnie Eagle performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. JoAnne Arnett of Chelsea. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Satterthwaite, also of Chelsea.

The bride brightened the ceremony with a true white, victorian style dress trimmed with net lace, silk ribbons and an embroidered rose on the collar. The veil was festooned with pearls, flowers, red and white roses with ribbons.

The bride's cousin, Miss Cheryl Carpenter of Saginaw, was the maid of honor. She wore a true white Columbia dance dress with silk rose at the waist and net skirting. Flowing from the back of the shoulders were layers of silk and ruffles.

The bridesmaids, all cousins of the bride, were Lori Jedele of Chelsea, Stephanie Carpenter of Saginaw, and Amy Carpenter also of Chelsea.

Serving as best man was Ken Cobb of Chelsea, attired in a white tuxedo with tails, red tie and cummerbund.

Serving as ushers were John Laraway, John Jedele, and Tim Brown, all of Chelsea.

The reception was held at the UAW Hall on Main St., Chelsea, immediately following the ceremony. The aunt of the bride, Mrs. Judy Jedele, cut the wedding cake.

Woman's Club Hears Talk About St. Louis School

Twenty members and guests were present to hear Sister Sally Callahan, MSW, talk about the St. Louis school. The St. Louis Center was established in 1960 as a residential setting to provide education and training to developmentally disabled boys unable to function at home. Fifty young boys are provided education in basic elementary curriculum along with social and self-care skills.

Leah Smith, an honorary member of the Woman's Club, was wished a special "Happy Birthday" by the members in attendance.

Welcomed as guests for the evening were Mildred Eeles, Ann Botterell, Sylvia Gilbert, Ellen Batzdorfer and Dorothy Montgomery.

Nov. 12 promises to be an exciting meeting when Blake Thomson will talk about hot air ballooning.

Anyone interested in attending the Woman's Club meetings should contact Cheryl Schoenberg at 475-7273 or write to the Woman's Club of Chelsea at 221 St. Main St., Chelsea 48118.

Get Window Quilt for your sliding glass doors... and be warmer this winter!

The cold fact about home heating is that far more heat escapes through windows than through walls, roof or doors. Window Quilt® can eliminate up to 79% of this heat loss.

Window Quilt insulating shades are far more efficient than ordinary shades or insulated drapes. That's because they seal tightly on all four sides of your windows to keep warm air in and cold air out. In fact, they're so efficient that they can pay for themselves in energy savings within 3-5 years.

Window Quilt fits any size window—even 8' sliding glass doors. Choose from a wide variety of colors from pastel to bold, in both light filtering and room darkening styles.

Botanical Gardens Annual Fall Sale Is Slated Nov. 2

Friends of the Matthaei Botanical Gardens will hold their annual fall sale on Saturday, Nov. 2, in the auditorium of the Gardens at 1800 N. Dixboro Rd., Ann Arbor.

Once again there will be a wide assortment of different types and sizes of wreaths, decorated with dried herbs and flowers. The types of backgrounds will include artemesia, olive, grapevine, Spanish moss, straw, pine needles, moss, willow (natural and bleached), lavender and scotch broom.

New items will include botanical linens, herb breads, forced bulbs, dish gardens, Christmas ornaments filled with potpourri, Berea brooms, Garden's logo apparel, new herb mixes and animals made of wood.

Patrons from the years past will also welcome familiar items such as indoor plants, wicker baskets filled with dried flowers and herbs, cinnamon stick arrangements, herb vinegars, mullied wine mix, bouquet garni, serving trays and matching napkins with botanical designs, herb decorated straw hats, botanical wrapping paper and cards, Christmas ornaments made from natural materials, dried materials and pressed flower cards.

Members of the Friends of the Matthaei Botanical Gardens have been working all summer tending the herb gardens and harvesting materials this fall. Materials have been dried and used in the items offered for sale.

Proceeds from this annual sale will be used at the Gardens to develop both their public and educational role, and to assist financially in the development of the Gardens and its programs.

Seminar Slated On Women's Health Issues After 30

Over the past decade people have taken an ever increasing interest in self care and health improvement. Health care and the money the American public spends to remain healthy or to regain health have become topics of critical importance and interest. More and more people are taking an interest in fitness and nutrition as a means of delaying that inevitable process of aging.

"The medical profession is now beginning to look at some of the information that is being collected on life-style and its relation to illness and disease," states Dr. Mindy Smith, a family physician at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea. Much literature has been published and is available to people interested in health promotion. However, specific information for women on aging and disease is not as readily available.

Many women have specific concerns and questions about their health as they get older. "While there is much information available on menstruation, anatomy, conception and pregnancy," continues Smith, "much less information is available on health issues of the maturing women."

Because of the desire for this information Dr. Smith is offering a special seminar titled "Health Issues for Women Over 30." The physiology of aging in the female body will be discussed along with information on disease and illness common to women. Basic self care and prevention of disease along with screening for disease will be discussed.

The session will be held Wednesday, Nov. 6, 7 to 9 p.m. at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center in Chelsea. There is a $2 registration fee payable at the door. Pre-registration is requested by calling 763-7120.

Senior Citizen Center Closing Nov. 27 for Resurfacing Floor

Treva Winans reminds that on Wednesday, Nov. 27, the rooms in the Senior Citizens Center at North school will be completely emptied of furniture so that the floors may be stripped and refinished. Some extra volunteers help will be needed to move the furniture and some of the seniors will be taking a cruise during that time, so others are asked to mark their calendar, bring a friend (or two) and assist on Nov. 27.

"The floors took a real beating during our recent flooding and are sorely in need of a bit of rejuvenating," Treva explained, "and the furniture will need to be put back in place either late Sunday, Dec. 1, or early Monday, Dec. 2."

Treva also reminds the Widows Group will meet on their regularly scheduled date even though the Senior Center will be closed Nov. 11. A pot-luck luncheon is planned, she explains.

Soundings Offers Training Program For Jobless Women

Soundings: A Center for Women, will offer a pre-employment training program for any woman who is single-head-of-household, separated, divorced or widowed, or whose husband is permanently disabled, and needs a job now or in the near future to support herself.

The seven-week program, which begins Nov. 6, will help each woman explore career/job options, prepare a resume, learn interviewing skills, conduct a job search, and provide personal support and counseling to help her become self-sufficient.

Funding by the Michigan Department of Labor and the Ann Arbor Community Development Office makes this program available to all eligible women, regardless of income.

For further information call Soundings at 665-2606.

Homemakers Club Plans Nov. 2 Holiday Bazaar

On Thursday, Oct. 24, 18 members of the Chelsea Home-maker Club met at the home of LuAnn Heller with Leah Herrick serving as co-hostess.

Sue Sherrill, nationally known for her hand-made miniatures, gave a very interesting program on her miniatures, as well as porcelain dolls and angel tree tops that she makes.

The business meeting followed, at which time the club's holiday bazaar being held Saturday, Nov. 2 at the Longworth Plating Building was the main topic of discussion. Following adjournment, refreshments were enjoyed by everyone.

The next meeting will be held at The Village Shoppe in Manchester owned by Neta Mills on Thursday, Nov. 21 at 7:30 p.m.

Health Center Offers Free Introductory Weight Loss Sessions

Catherine McAuley Health Center will sponsor free introductory "Be Trim" sessions Monday, Nov. 4, and Wednesday, Nov. 6, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the Education Center, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

For more information, call 572-3675. St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is a unit of Catherine McAuley Health Center.

R. Thornton Named Realtor of the Year

Robert H. Thornton, Jr., a Chelsea realtor, was awarded Michigan's top real estate honor recently. Thornton was named Michigan's "Realtor-of-the-Year" during ceremonies at the Michigan Association of Realtors annual convention, held Oct. 13-15, at the Amway Grand Plaza Hotel in Grand Rapids.

Thornton is broker-owner of Thornton, Inc., a real estate brokerage firm at 323 S. Main, Chelsea. He has been active in the real estate industry for 18 years. His selection as Michigan's Realtor-of-the-Year recognizes an extensive and long term involvement in his profession, as well as his commitment to his clients and community.

Thornton is a member of the Ann Arbor Board of Realtors, where he has served on many committees and held the offices of president, vice-president and director of the board. He is immediate past president of the Michigan Association of Realtors, and has additionally held the state offices of first vice-president, secretary/treasurer and district vice-president.

Currently, Thornton represents Michigan and Ohio as regional vice-president for the National Association of Realtors (NAR). He has also chaired and been a

Would you like to go make a donation to the Society for the Prevention of Housemaid's Knee? Or send a contribution to the Campaign To Save the Endangered Bolivian Buttercup? Just check the card for $10, $25, $50, $100, More $.

You may get a hundred such pleas a year and you do respond to some good old favorites such as Easter Seals and Christmas Seals along with the heart and cancer societies. But if you are a registered Republican you may be stoney-hearted to a plea from Ted Kennedy for the Democratic Party. Also, if you are a member of the Right to Life you may be unresponsive to an appeal from Planned Parenthood. Then again, if you are a man who is not moved to give $10, $25, $50 or $100 to support the NOW campaign for women's rights, you might prefer to hang on to your status as a cheap male chauvinist pig.

You are likely to find a hundred or more money appeals in your mailbox every year. But how about a single appeal for help, once a year, for 17 different human needs right here in Chelsea and our own Washtenaw county?

You guessed it, Chelsea United Way.

The people who run the campaign are well known and respected neighbors. They do not indulge in costly campaign expenses; I would guess they amount to less than one cent out of every dollar collected. United Way officers do not turn their work over to slick professional money raisers in New York or Chicago. Instead, a United Way committee holds open hearings right here in Chelsea. Leaders of the agencies seeking funds are social servants in the community who appear before the United Way tribunal to tell what they need the money for and what they intend to do with it. They also account for what they did with last year's help from United Way.

Take our Washtenaw County Red Cross for example. Their asking of Chelsea United Way in 1986 is $9,500, the biggest item in the 1986 goal of $68,000. This is a county agency, but it sure is Chelsea minded. We needed 1,100 units of blood in Chelsea last year. Chelsea donots provided 300 units and the other 800 flowed into Chelsea from our Red Cross. During the same year the Red Cross trained and certified 1,000 Chelsea area persons in first aid, pulmonary resuscitation, swimming and lifesaving. It's impossible to say how many lives have been and will be saved by these Red Cross services, but you get a clue when you know that most children and adults who drown do it within a few feet of safety—far less than the length of our Chelsea swimming pool.

When you are considering maybe $10, $25, $50 or $100 for Chelsea United Way, remember that part of it goes to Chelsea Social Service which has been collecting and distributing food, clothing, toys, blankets, fuel and medicine for almost 30 years. Their share of the 1986 campaign goal is $6,000, same as this year. In 1985 Chelsea Social Service will use that $6,000 to collect and distribute more than $38,000 worth of donated clothing, toys, canned goods and Christmas gifts as well as 15,040 pounds of federal surplus cheese, butter and honey.

Through Chelsea United Way you support Chelsea Recreation and Chelsea Home Meals plus help for retarded citizens, abused and disturbed children, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, CATS, visiting nurses and others.

Lang Ramsey and Dave Prohaska, 1986 co-chairmen, have noted something that Dale Schumann and I observed when we headed Chelsea United Way campaigns in the late seventies. There are affluent people in Chelsea who never give to the United Way. Why? When you look through the list of 17 agencies aided by Chelsea United Way, it is hard to find any reason for discrimination. If someone dislikes cats and would like to change the acronym of the Chelsea Area Transportation System, we might propose changing from CATS to DOGS (for Dear Old Grandparents System). It is doubtful, however, that the motion could get past the CATS board even though many of the board members are dog owners.

There may also be the question of protestants supporting Catholic charities or Catholics coming to the rescue of needy or troubled protestants. If you will talk to local officers of the Salvation Army you will learn that at any given time a big share of the people they are helping are Catholics. And if you talk to the leaders of Catholic Social Services they'll tell you that their clientele is sometimes predominantly protestant. What is more, the leaders of the two religiously designated organizations work together all the time because they are sharing the burden of helping essentially the same population of desperate families and individuals.

There are many deserving charities around the nation and the world, but it is not being selfish or parochial to recognize that charity begins at home. With Chelsea United Way we get 17 for the price of one.

In case an oversight in the campaign has missed you, you can send $10, $25, $50, $100 or more to Chelsea United Way at P.O. Box 176.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Oct. 21 were Dills, Grau, Comeau, Feeney, Redding, Satterthwaite, superintendent Van Meer, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Williams, Stielstra, Benedict, Wescott, assistant principal Larson, community education director Rogers, special education director DeYoung, curriculum director Bissell, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by vice-president Arthur Dills.

Board approved the minutes of the Oct. 7 meeting.

Superintendent Van Meer read a communication from Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hinderer in which they expressed appreciation for the board permitting Mrs. Moody to use the high school auditorium to show Christian films on weekends in August. Also read was a communication from Sylvia Gilbert in which she commended Anne Comeau for her presence at many of the Beach school functions. Also entered as an official communication was a letter from Bob Strong, on behalf of the Chelsea Music Boosters, Warren Mayer and the 8th grade band, expressing appreciation to the board for the purchase of the new gold sweaters. The sweaters were worn on Oct. 11 at the combined high school/Beach school half-time show.

The board presented a certificate of appreciation to David Baker, South school parent, who started the Chess Club last year at South school. David's intent was to introduce youngsters to the game of chess, hoping that the higher thinking skills would help them not only in chess, but in their school work, specifically in math and science.

Ruth Stielstra, TRIAD teacher, was present to discuss the TRIAD program which deals essentially with three levels of involvement for students. The TRIAD program is a school-wide enrichment program which provides a wide variety of enrichment experiences. Classroom studies, individual research and special classes already meet many of the children's learning needs, yet the abilities of many of our students are so unique that it becomes necessary to look beyond the boundaries of the traditional classroom in order to locate appropriate resources and role models. The TRIAD model has three categories: Type I, general exploratory activities; Type II, group training activities; and Type III, individual and small group investigations of real problems.

Dr. DeYoung was present to review with the Board of Education the responses in the survey pertaining to community education. DeYoung discussed the awareness of and participation in community education. It is significant and pleasing that two-thirds of the survey respondents participated and/or were knowledgeable of community education.

The board heard a recommendation to change the board policy on qualifications for board membership to conform with the school code. The school code indicates that a person is eligible for board membership if he/she resides in the district. Previous board policy indicated that a person had to be a property owner.

The board received an information item pertaining to gifts to the school. This has been an administrative directive; as a future action item, it will become formal board policy. Essentially, administrators may accept, on behalf of the school, without board action, gifts with a value of $1,000 or less. Acceptance of gifts with a value of more than $1,000 will have to have board approval.

Dr. Bissell presented a curriculum update. She indicated that the Central Curriculum Committee will meet on Oct. 29, at which time she will present several proposals of a coordinated curriculum development plan. The plan will give structure to the Central Curriculum Committee, the building enrichment teams, and subject area committees. This plan also allows teachers and administrators a process and procedure to initiate curriculum changes.

Dr. Bissell updated the board on the implementation of study skills, K-12, indicating she had met with a group of Beach school teachers; input was received from the entire Beach staff. She plans to meet with teachers in each of the buildings to ensure teacher input in the design of a K-12 study skills focus. Laurie also indicated that the high school and middle school vocational program, in conjunction with Eastern Michigan University, is underway.

Board approved the amended 1985-86 operating budget, with current income of $7,624,896, and current expenditures of $7,841,026. The $216,130.00 income shortage will be taken from the fund balance. This fund balance reduction is in line with the projections that were made on June 13, 1983, when district residents passed the additional 2.9 three-year levy.

Board authorized IDS/American Express, Inc., as a tax shelter program for the Chelsea School District employees desiring that option, and to authorize payroll deductions. This is in accordance with tax shelter retirement programs under Section 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Ann Feeney and Arthur Dills, of the Personnel Committee, expressed the desire to meet with building principals at 7 p.m. on Nov. 4 to review the secretarial evaluation form and process and procedure.

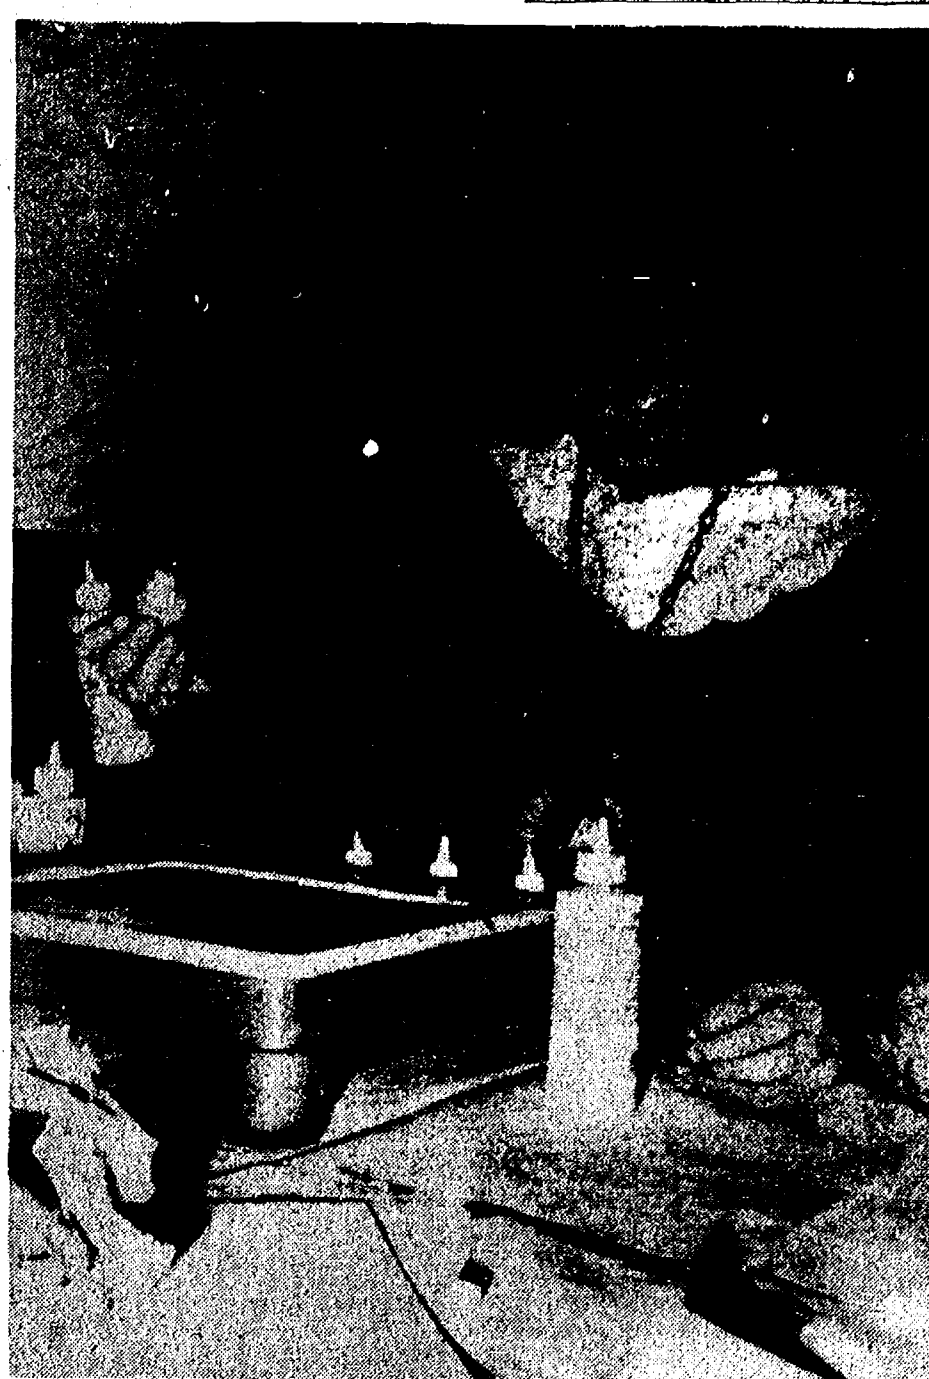

Bob Bullock reported that the CEA would like to continue informal meetings with the Board Personnel Committee. Ann Feeney and Arthur Dills indicated that the date of Oct. 30, 3:30 p.m., as requested by Bob Bullock, would be satisfactory. Bob complimented a very confident administration that allows this direct interchange with board members.

Vice-president Dills commended John Williams, Ken Larson and Larry Reed, and the Dexter staff for ensuring that the relationship between the two schools is satisfactory.

Community education director Jackie Rogers indicated that approximately 30 FTE (full time equivalent) students will be preparing for their high school diploma. She reported that the recent Senior Citizens' arts and crafts show at the high school attracted 1,200 persons.

Board convened in executive session to discuss a personnel matter.

Board reconvened in public session and subsequently adjourned the meeting at 11:03 p.m.

KRISTI LENTZ studies the patterns she is creating as she applies paint to the spinning paper on the table. Kristi, a second grader at North, was part of a packed house at her school for the Night of Knights medieval festival last Thursday. Parent Teachers North put on the festival, which included food, a bake sale and games, to benefit their organization.

Monthly Lobby Sale Set Nov. 3 at Botanical Gardens

Friends of the Matthaei Botanical Gardens will hold their monthly lobby sale on Sunday, Nov. 3, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Gardens, 1800 N. Dixboro Rd., Ann Arbor. The sale will include plants, gift items, reference books, pressed flower cards, napkins, wrapping paper, Garden's logo apparel, and other garden related items.

The interesting and educational exhibit in the lobby of the Matthaei Botanical Gardens, starting Oct. 21, will be Orchids and Friends, watercolors by Carol Selby. Carol is retired from Eastern Michigan University where she served as head arts librarian. This exhibit will feature 14 new paintings.

Come to the Gardens, tour the outdoor trails, view the exhibit in the lobby, tour the Conservatory and shop at the Lobby Sale. The outdoor trails and the lobby exhibit are free. There is a fee for the Conservatory of $1; Senior Citizens 75+, and children 5+. The Garden grounds are open from 8 a.m. to sunset. The inside exhibits are open from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Docents are available for guided tours.

In times of great stress familiar surroundings have a tendency to ease tensions. Which is why the atmosphere of our Funeral Home tends to simulate the comfort and serenity of one's own home. The temptation to endeavor to impress with ostentatious touches was firmly resisted and time has proven that we have largely achieved our aim. The atmosphere literally has had a relaxing effect on frayed nerves and weary bodies. Little enough to do for a bereaved family, but to start in the direction members of our staff will continue to work toward during the Funeral Service itself.

9-Year-Old Hooks Big 25-lb. Chinook Trophy

When Scott Koscielniak, son of Ron and Kathy Herrst of Chelsea, came home three weeks ago, he didn't boast of the one that got away. He was carrying a 25-pound fish story.

Scott is no novice to fishing, but going after Chinook Salmon was a new adventure. Just father and son jumped in the van and headed for the shores of Lake Huron near Alpena to catch the fall colors and do some serious fishing. The nine-year-old hooked a whale of a Chinook and he had a battle on his hands of Hemmingway proportions. With only a little help from his father, Ron, Scott wrestled his trophy to shore.

Kathy Herrst said the pair try to get away at least once a year to camp and fish. Scott is a third grader at North school. He is a little leaguer, a wrestler and an avid soccer player.

Sheriff Lists Halloween Safety Rules

Ghosts, goblins, candy and fun are the treats of Halloween. Tricks are often played on children, however, when people tamper with candy and treats.

"Halloween is a festive time of year for kids," said Sheriff Schebil, of the Washtenaw County Sheriff Department. "You can help keep your kids safe by following some simple, common sense rules."

—Make sure your children are accompanied by a responsible adult when they go door-to-door.

—Instruct children never to eat anything until they are home and the treats have been examined by parents. Wash and cut all fruit before eating. Throw away anything unwrapped.

—Check the wrapper of commercial treats for signs of tampering.

—Call the local police and report any suspicious treats.

—Make sure children's costumes fit and they can see well.

—Tell your children to trick or treat in their own neighborhood and in well-lighted areas. Daylight hours are best.

—If children are going out after dark, make sure they carry a flashlight. Costumes should be made of light colored or reflectorized material.

—Teach your children to use sidewalks and crosswalks if possible. If there are no sidewalks, walk on the left side of the street facing oncoming cars.

—Know which friends your children will be with and which route they are taking.

—Leave your porch light on so children will know it's okay to visit your home.

"We all want to ensure that this Halloween is safe and happy for our kids," Sheriff Schebil declared. "By taking time to set a few ground rules, I think it will be a happy Halloween for everyone."

Creative Drama Workshop Set for 4-H Club Members

If you are 12 years or older, Washtenaw county 4-H and the Goal Getters Performing Arts Team present a Creative Drama Workshop with you in mind. Beginning with an open house on Sunday, Nov. 17, in the Extension Service building, 4133 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor, the series, complete with guest artists, is free.

The four-part series will convene at Scarlett Intermediate school, 3300 Lorraine, Ann Arbor, from 7 to 9 p.m., on Thursdays, Nov. 21, Dec. 5, 12, 19.

Participants will receive training to include meditation and relaxation, concentration, sensitivity, dialog, characterization, improvisation, movement and pantomime. Those who complete the series will be offered an opportunity to be a part of a production scheduled for February.

Please call to register before Nov. 15. Call Ken Coe at 483-7519, Carolyn Earl at 971-5618 or Pat Montgomery at 971-7985. Handicapped are encouraged to attend.

24 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Oct. 26, 1961—

The Rev. J. Douglas Parker of Rochester, chairman of the Methodist Home board of trustees, officiated at the ground-breaking ceremonies for the new $1,118,000 addition to the Home.

The new unit will increase care facilities for aged persons by more than 60 percent.

Joining the Rev. Parker in his official capacity on the occasion were the Rev. E. J. Weiss, superintendent of the Methodist Home, Mrs. Charlotte Tamlyn, who will be 100 years old in June and a resident of the Home (also believed to be one of the oldest living twins in the United States), Harold Glazier of Cavanaugh Lake, grandson of the late Frank P. Glazier, who donated the 14-acre site on which the first of the present six units was built in 1906.

Hafner received the prize for the best-dressed lady.

Carol Ann Mayer, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mayer, won first place in the Kiwanis-sponsored amateur show, Saturday night, with her vocal solo, "Mockingbird Hill."

Carol's brother, George, and their cousin, Danny Mayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mayer, took third prize with their tap dance act, and second-place winner was Maxine Bradley of Munith, a 14-year-old vocalist.

Charles M. Ziegler, Michigan state highway commissioner, will be a guest at the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce meeting, Wednesday, Nov. 7.

Mrs. Chauncey Freeman and Miss Minnie Schumacher entertained their brother, Henry Schumacher, on his 83rd birthday, at a family dinner.

Schumacher's son, Earle, was a speaker at the Chelsea Kiwanis Club meeting, Oct. 22, at the Methodist church.

Farmer Committee To Prepare Proposed Policy Positions

The 20 farmers who serve on Michigan Farm Bureau's Policy Development Committee will meet in Lansing Nov. 11-13 to review an estimated 1,200 proposed policy resolutions submitted by the organization's 69 county units.

Under the leadership of Tuscola county dairy farmer Jack Laurie, the committee will then prepare a slate of recommended policies on state and national issues to be presented to the delegate body at the Michigan Farm Bureau annual meeting in Grand Rapids, Dec. 10-13.

Policy recommendations adopted by the voting delegates dealing with state issues will become the policies for the Michigan Farm Bureau in 1986. Those dealing with national issues will be forwarded to the American Farm Bureau Federation Policy Development Committee.

CHS Class of 1930 Holds 55th Year Reunion Luncheon

Chelsea High school class of 1930 held their annual reunion luncheon at Weber's, Ann Arbor, Wednesday, Oct. 23. Members of the class have met each year for the past five years, since they celebrated their 50th year. This year 10 members attended the luncheon. Those attending are: Label Huston Alter of Scottsdale, Ariz., Vera White Briston of Chelsea, Helen Butler Finch of Gales Junction, Enid Freeman of Birmingham, Bernadine Moore Hill, Lake Odessa, Glenard McLaughlin, St. Louis, Mo., Arwena Brooks Simpson of Clearwater Beach, Fla., Doris Spash Smith of Chelsea, George Staffan of Chelsea, and Catherine Outwater Reddeman of Chelsea.

Toledo War Story Told In 'Michigan History'

Did you know that time proved Michigan a winner in a war that was never fought, in which Michigan was declared the loser? It was the infamous Toledo War with Ohio that took place in 1835 when Michigan, still a territory, sent troops to prevent the governor of Ohio from holding court and establishing jurisdiction over the "Toledo Strip," claimed by Michigan. Spoiling for a fight, Michigan volunteers stormed into the Toledo area of Ohio only to find militia had fled. Local residents told the Michigan troops they could occupy the city as long as there was no "disturbance." After four days occupation, Michigan troops were ordered back by Michigan's boy Governor, Stevens T. Mason, who had been removed from office by the President of the United States, Andrew Jackson, four days after he ordered the volunteers to Ohio. Mason continued to lead Michigan in the absence of an appointed successor.

Michigan was declared the loser because Ohio got the Port of Toledo and the war delayed Michigan's entrance into the Union until 1837. Michigan however, was given 9,000 square miles of mineral rich and scenic Upper Peninsula, an area that in time proved many times more valuable than what the winner, Ohio, received.

The story of the Toledo war from a soldier's point of view is recounted in the September/October issue of Michigan History, the state's official publication.

Published by the Bureau of History of the Department of State, Michigan History is available in single copies for $2 each or subscriptions for $9.95 a year and is available on newsstands. Checks should be made payable to the State of Michigan, and mailed to the Bureau of History, Michigan Department of State, 208 North Capitol, Lansing 48918.

Assessment Practices Contribute to Farm Property Tax Woes

Resolutions have been introduced in the Michigan House and Senate to require the state tax commission to do a study on whether farmland is being assessed properly. Robert E. Smith, senior legislative counsel for the Michigan Farm Bureau, believes that part of the property tax problem is "uneven" local assessment procedures. "In some cases, farmland value is based on land that has been sold for commercial purposes, while in other areas the land is assessed according to farm value," Smith said. "The present law requires that productivity of the land be considered. We don't think the tax commission or local assessors have given that much consideration to the type of soil, productivity, cost of production and what can be earned on that land."

Smith said the Michigan Farm Bureau will share these concerns when the tax commission begins its study.

Trivial Pursuit Tournament Set By Parks Comm.

Looking for entertainment, competition, a pursuit of a trivial nature?

Look no further than the Trivial Pursuit tournament to be hosted by the Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission on Friday, Nov. 13 at 7 p.m.

Teams of four compete in this double elimination tournament. Winning teams will be awarded prizes and refreshments will be served. Each team must supply a Genus edition of the game.

The tournament will be held at the Washtenaw County Recreation Center, located in the Service Center off Hogback Rd., Ann Arbor. The fee is $8 per team.

Registration forms are available at WCPARC. For more information call 973-2575, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Registration deadline is Wednesday, Nov. 11. Checks should be made payable to Washtenaw County Recreation Center and mailed to Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission, P.O. Box 8645, Ann Arbor 48107.

CHELSEA'S 1985 FAIR QUEEN, Susan Overdorf, draws the winning raffle ticket from basket held by Olive Wiseman. The prize, made and raffled by members of the Chelsea Historical Society, was a large quilt being held for this picture by Dave Pastor and Hazel Dittmar. Winner of the quilt was Dianne Van Gorder of Ann Arbor.

MAX COOL DID THE VEGETABLES for Pioneer Day at the Waterloo Farm Museum, Sunday, Oct. 13. In fact, Max agrees, he always does the vegetables. A Stockbridge resident, Max worked in Hackney Hardware several years ago and still remembers many of the Dexter people. Shown with him is Vivian May of Gregory. Vivian plays in the Chelsea Senior Citizens kitchen band and is one of the ladies of the Waterloo Historical Society. Its members undertook preparing and serving the food on Pioneer Day for the first time this year. Previously, the food has been under the charge of ladies from the Methodist church. The two had been chatting with retired Munith banker Fred Ford just before the photo was taken. Max explained it was he who had headed the old Waterloo ice-house restoration project during the first two years and built the present bakehouse, a scale model of the original structure and located just behind its early site.

Books Tell Where To Hunt How To Cook Wild Game

Michigan hunters can boost their chances of finding game and increase their enjoyment in consuming it with two books from the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC).

One of them, "Hunt Michigan! How To, Where To, When To," is the most complete guide to small and big game hunting ever published in Michigan. The other, "Wildlife Chef," is a standard reference on preparing game and fish that has been used by thousands of Michigan hunters and their spouses.

"Hunt Michigan!" was written by Tom Huggler of Otisville, veteran sportsman and writer who crisscrossed the state interviewing dozens of game biologists and hunters to gather information for his encyclopedic volume. The book contains separate chapters on all species of game in Michigan, a guide to hunting in each of the state's 83 counties, and descriptions and maps of all game areas, recreation areas, parks, wildlife areas, and other public lands open to hunting. Cost of the book is $14.95, including tax and shipping.

"Wildlife Chef" is MUCC's perennially popular cookbook. It contains nearly 400 recipes for game and fish dishes and is now in its third printing. Copies are available for $5.15 each, tax and shipping included.

All proceeds from sales of the books are used in MUCC's conservation and environmental protection programs.

The books may be ordered by sending checks or money orders to MUCC, Box 30235, Lansing 48909.

Diabetes Screening Tests Offered Free

Free blood tests will be provided in the U. of M. Family Practice Center Monday, Nov. 4, through Thursday, Nov. 7 from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. and on Friday, Nov. 8, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. This service is provided in observance of Diabetes Detection Week (a state-wide program of the American Diabetes Association) by Chelsea Community Hospital, Chelsea Medical Laboratories in conjunction with M.D.S. laboratories, Michigan, Inc., and the U. of M. Family Practice Center.

Karen Pyett, R.D., clinical dietitian, stressed the importance of eating a high carbohydrate meal, one with a large amount of starches and sugars, two hours before the test. A person planning to take the test after supper could have a serving of meat, fish, or poultry, 1 cup mashed potatoes or a large baked potato, a hot vegetable, salad if desired, cake or pie for dessert, and a glass of milk. The meal should be eaten within a 15-minute time period to assure an accurate test. After the meal, nothing else except water should be taken before the test. The name and address of the family physician is needed for follow-up.

The free blood tests are meant for adults 18 years of age or more who are not known diabetics. An estimated 240,000 persons in Michigan are diabetic and do not know it. Persons who are at high risk of developing diabetes are over 40, overweight, and related to diabetics.

If you have any questions regarding the blood tests, contact Karen Pyett, R.D., clinical dietitian, 475-1311, ext. 360, or Chelsea Medical Labs., phone 475-1311, ext. 402.

FILLING IN LAKE TRINKLE is what this scene might be called as county workers implemented their solution for the Trinkle Rd. flooding problem last week. The solution involved filling in the original sink hole, covering it with the black geotextile fabric, seen at the bottom center, putting mountains of wood chips on top of the fabric, folding the fabric back over the chips, then pouring a layer of sand and another layer of gravel on top. The road will end up being elevated a foot or two higher than it previously was, which could cause careless motorists a problem.

Halloween Party Slated Thursday

Time once again for Halloween celebrated by Chelsea in a traditional way in a party sponsored by the Chelsea Kiwanis Club.

Community "Trick or Treat" hours will be from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 31. After 6 p.m. all ghosts and goblins should haunt the municipal parking lot for the harvest holiday party.

Costume judges will start judging promptly at 6 p.m. Experts in their field, they will look for the best costumes in all the kingdom.

Judging will be done as follows: age categories 3 yrs. and under, 4-5 yrs., 6-7 yrs., 8-9 yrs., 10-11 yrs., and 12 years and over. Each group will be judged for either "Best Looking" or "Most Original," with first, second and third prizes awarded in each area.

At approximately 6:30 the collection of ghosts, witches and creatures will be led by Jim Gaken and his classic fire truck on the Halloween parade.

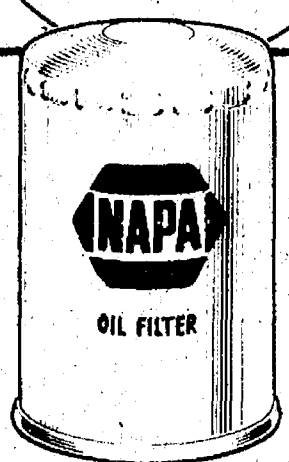

Cider and doughnuts will be served to all participants in what should be a fun evening for the whole family. Please do attend.

Almost half the children in two-parent families in 1984 had both an employed mother and father. Overall, approximately 1 child in 7 lived in a home where there was no employed parent, and income was accordingly low (a median of $6,782 in 1983), according to "Working Mothers and Their Children," a fact sheet issued by the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor.

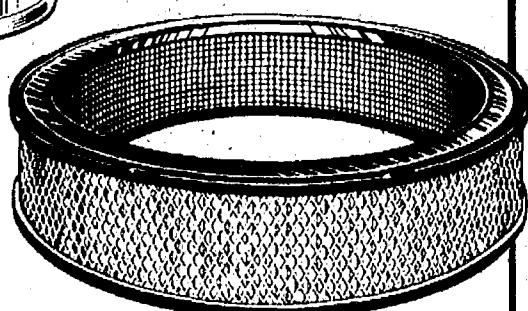

32 TONS OF SAND were poured on top of the black geotextile fabric as part of the solution for the flooding on Trinkle Rd., about a quarter mile off Freer Rd. The road has been impassible for nearly three months and has been closed to all but local traffic. There is still quite a bit of standing water on both sides of the road.

Bulldog Gridders Play Well Enough To Win Homecoming Contest

The Chelsea varsity football team played well enough to win—no more, no less—in last Friday's match-up with the Pinckney Pirates. The Bulldogs, in their 14-0 homecoming victory, could have been a little more tidy, should have displayed a little more offensive firepower, but couldn't have kept the Pirates out of the end zone more convincingly.

The win gave Chelsea a third-place finish in the SEC, tied with Tecumseh.

"It was encouraging," said Chelsea coach Gene LaFave. "We made the big plays when we needed to. They weren't necessarily great plays. We showed a certain amount of football maturity by winning even though we played less than our best."

The Chelsea defense made the bulk of the best plays. The Bulldogs stopped the Pirates twice inside the Chelsea 15-yard line. One drive ended in a missed field goal. The other drive ended on downs after Pinckney had a first down and goal from the Chelsea one-yard line.

"Those goal-line stands and the interception by Matt Bohlender, were the key plays of the game," LaFave said. "We responded to those situations well."

What made those plays so good, in part, were how the Bulldogs performed immediately afterward.

After the Pirates missed their field goal at the 8:20 mark of the second quarter, Chelsea drove 80 yards in eight plays for the score. Bohlender, who had an exceptional night on both sides of the line, caught a 20-yard pass from Dan Bellus, and ran for 37 more after the catch to put the ball at the Pinckney 22. Three plays later, Bellus ran an option to the one-yard line, before Mark Mull took it in on the next play.

After Bellus kicked the extra point, the score remained 7-0 until the fourth quarter.

The Bulldogs' second big stand was late in the third quarter, after the Pirates took the second-half kick-off and chewed up nearly eight minutes. Pinckney used 15 plays, including one in which they gained 28 yards on a third down and 27 play, to reach the Bulldog one-yard line with a first down. Rob England and Jeff Larson took care of one down, stopping Pinckney quarterback Doug Berry cold. Bohlender, playing defensive back, combined with Andy Box and Marty Poljan on two of the next three plays, and made another jarring tackle by himself, to give Chelsea the ball at their three-yard line.

Shackled with poor field position, the Bulldogs had to punt four plays later, and Todd Starkey booted one 38 yards.

However, Pinckney moved the ball from their 45 to the Chelsea 15 in eight plays, but Bohlender stepped in front of a pass at the goal line to end Pinckney's final serious threat.

After the interception, Chelsea took the ball 92 yards for the score in 15 plays. Mull punched it in from the one.

For the first time since perhaps the opening game of the year, the Chelsea running game surpassed the passing game in yardage. Bellus completed just five of 15 attempts for 111 yards, three to Mull, and one each to Bohlender and Starkey. Several passes were dropped.

Mull gained the bulk of the rushing yardage, 89 yards on 17 carries. Bellus and Curtis Heard gained the remaining 56 yards. Total team yardage was 256.

Chelsea had three turnovers for the game, all in the first quarter on their first three possessions.

The Bulldogs gave up just 181 total yards to the Pirates, 150 on the ground and 31 in the air on three completions in 16 tries.

Chelsea plays a tough Brandon High school team in the season finale this Friday at Niehaus field. Brandon has a 6-2 record, with one of those losses to unbeaten Saginaw Neval.

Brandon uses an offense that is rarely seen anymore. When the quarterback takes the snap, he turns his back to the line, forcing the defense to guess what he'll do next. According to defensive coordinator Wayne Welton, Brandon runs a deceptive bootleg and the quarterback is an "excellent faker."

"This kind of offense presents a multitude of defensive problems because we only have three or four days to prepare for it and most folks don't play the way they do."

With a victory, Chelsea can finish at 5-4, the first time they will have been over .500 since the first game of the season.

IT WAS JUBILATION as the Chelsea defense stopped Pinckney on a fourth and goal last Friday, enroute to a 14-0 homecoming victory. The Pirates had four chances from inside the one-yard line

MARK MULL bulls his way for a couple extra yards during last week's homecoming game with the Pinckney Pirates. Mull scored both Chelsea touchdowns on short runs as Chelsea won the game, 14-0.

END TODD STARKEY leaps high for a pass, but the ball pops loose as Pinckney's Tim Skover makes the play. Starkey was tightly covered all night long, but the Bulldogs won the game, 14-0, to finish third in the SEC.

8th Grade Cagers Defeat Lincoln for League Title

Beach school eighth grade girls basketball team is the league champion.

The girls defeated Lincoln last week, 41-35, with whom they were tied for the conference lead before the game, both with 8-1 marks.

Chelsea had to rally from a 7-0 deficit at the end of the first quarter. The Beach girls scored 22 points in the second quarter, with Allison Brown hitting 16 of them. Chelsea had a 22-14 half-time lead, and the best Lincoln could do was rally to within six points late in the fourth quarter.

Brown ended the night with 23 points, 19 rebounds and two blocked shots. Stacey Scott had 10 points and four steals; Lisa McGlennen had nine rebounds; Lisa Park had nine rebounds;

Scharme Petty had eight rebounds; and Tiffany Moore had seven rebounds.

In a game earlier in the week, Chelsea defeated Milan, 26-8. Park had four points and four rebounds; Moore, four points and five rebounds; Brown, six points; McGlennen, four points and three steals; Sarah Grau, three points and three steals; Stacie Guenther, three points and four steals; Amy Thomson, four rebounds and four steals; and Amy Doering, four rebounds.

In addition to the girls mentioned above, several other girls contributed to the championship, including Debbie Webb, Kim Roberts, Barb Scriven, Lori Johnson, Jill Nowatzke, and Heidi Boyer.

JV Gridders Lose To Pinckney, 28-8

Chelsea junior varsity football team played a good second half against the Pinckney Pirates last week, but it was a case of too little, too late and the Bulldogs lost their sixth game of the season, 28-8.

Chelsea fell behind 22-0 at half-time, which proved to be an insurmountable deficit.

"We just have trouble moving the football," said coach Jim Ticknor.

"Our offense is inconsistent and it's not just one person's fault. The linemen seem to be tentative and the backs aren't hitting the holes."

The Bulldogs gained only 91 yards on 26 carries for the evening, with Rob Finch leading the way with 20 yards on 12 carries. Finch also accounted for the only Chelsea touchdown, on a one-yard run early in the third quarter.

Pinckney scored three touchdowns in the first half, the first one on the last play of the first quarter on a four-yard run. The conversion made the score 8-0.

The Pirates' second touchdown was set up by a two-yard Chelsea punt in the middle of the second quarter. Pinckney scored on an eight-yard run.

A 14-yard run late in the half produced the third Pinckney touchdown.

Finch's touchdown, on Chelsea's first drive of the second half, was set up by a 44-yard pass play from Kevan Flanigan to Chris Acree.

The Chelsea defense held the Pirates to 277 total yards, 260 on the ground and 17 in the air.

Ticknor cited the defensive play of Acree at cornerback and Shawn Brown at middle linebacker.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Chelsea, Tecumseh Tie for Third Behind Saline, Lincoln

The only thing that had to be decided in the final week of SEC football action was who would finish third. Saline and Lincoln wrapped up first and second, respectively, the week before. There was a four-way tie for third.

Chelsea and Tecumseh had to share a tie for third place, both with 3-3 records. Some might argue that the Bulldogs should be there all by themselves since they beat the Indians, 24-22.

Chelsea earned its share of third place with a not-too-convincing 14-0 shut-out of the Pinckney Pirates in Chelsea. Senior running back Mark Mull scored two touchdowns on one-yard runs.

The Bulldogs at times played brilliantly and at other times looked as though they were playing their first game of the season. They had turnovers on each of their first three possessions, but put together what might have been two game-saving goal line stands.

Pinckney was unable to capitalize on any of the Chelsea turnovers, and didn't even record a first down until the second quarter.

The Pirates finished the SEC season at 0-6. They play Hartland this Friday at home, while Chelsea hosts Brandon.

Meanwhile, the Tecumseh Indians took their share of third place with a 14-0 thrashing of the Dexter Dreadnaughts in Dexter.

Tecumseh, like many teams this season, completely shut down the Dexter offense, allowing only a few first downs.

The Dreadnaught offense was unable to capitalize on several Indian turnovers, and in the closing moments the Indians were able to sit on the ball and run out the clock.

Tecumseh took the lead in the first quarter on a keeper by quarterback Chad Anshuetz. The score stayed 7-0 until the fourth quarter, when Anshuetz rushed for another score.

The Dreadnaughts finish the SEC season at 2-4. They play at Stockbridge this week, the only team Dexter beat last season.

The Lincoln Railsplitters had a lackluster performance against the Milan Big Reds at home, although they won the contest, 29-8 and finished the SEC campaign at 5-1.

Lincoln took a 13-0 lead midway through the second quarter on a 17-yard pass from Jeff Sloan to Chris Smith. Milan closed the gap to 13-8 on a 23-yard pass play. A 25-yard Lincoln field goal gave the Railsplitters a 16-8 half-time lead.

The Railsplitters scored two more touchdowns in the second half, one on a 70-yard run and the other on a 17-yard pass.

Lincoln plays at Belleville this week, while Milan finishes out the season at Monroe Jefferson.

Milan finished the SEC season in a fifth-place tie with Dexter at 2-4.

The Saline Hornets continued to look like the champions they are with a 42-0 whitewashing of Brooklyn Columbia Central at Brooklyn.

It was the seventh straight win for the Hornets and their fourth shut-out.

Saline used a powerful ground attack, with Mark Pearsall gaining 110 yards and scoring four touchdowns, and Alan Gordon grinding out another 168 yards and a touchdown.

The Hornet defense yielded 186 total yards.

Saline hosts Riverview this week and looks to finish the season at 8-1, after their opening-season loss to South Lyon.

Varsity Cagers Drop 2 SEC Games

Chelsea varsity girls basketball team dropped a pair of SEC contests last week, one to the Saline Hornets, 57-42, and the other to the Milan Big Reds, 49-41.

The Saline match-up was essentially decided after the Hornets scored 24 points in the second quarter to pull ahead, 31-17 at half-time. They also scored 21 in the third quarter. The score had been tied at seven at the end of the first quarter, and the Bulldogs even took a four-point lead at the outset of the second quarter, when the onslaught began.

"Saline's a good team, they have a lot of talent and depth," said Chelsea coach Jim Winter.

"They had a height advantage, and they didn't even use it all. They had somebody hounding Kristi (Headrick) all night long, so we didn't get the scoring from her we normally get."

Headrick finished the game with six points. Kris Mattoff, the senior tri-captain led the Chelsea scoring with 10 points, while the other tri-captain, senior Jennifer Cattell, followed with nine.

Statistically, the game was about even in many categories. Chelsea out-rebounded the Hornets, 47-35, gaining a large share of those in the fourth quarter when the Hornets had their subs in. The Bulldogs made 10 free throws, the Hornets, nine. Saline had 10 fewer turnovers.

The biggest discrepancy was in field goal percentage. Saline hit 39 percent, while the Bulldogs shot 29 percent.

Rounding out the scoring was Peggy Hammerschmidt with four points, Kris Zerkel and Jodi Keezer had two points, and Karen Weber and Kim Perry each had one.

In the Milan contest, the Big Reds' Rhonda Bates was simply too hot for the Bulldogs to handle. The junior hit 11 of Milan's 22 field goals.

"Rhonda is a big girl and she jumps well," Winter said. "Cris Zerkel did a good job on her playing man-to-man defense."

This game was virtually even in all categories except field goals made. The Big Reds made five more from the floor than Winter's girls. The teams even had the same number of field goal attempts, 52.

Milan didn't begin to pull away until late in the third quarter. Chelsea was down by two points at the end of the first quarter, 12-10, and one point at half-time, 24-23. However, Chelsea had a five-point deficit at the end of the third quarter.

"Our offense just didn't produce," Winter said.

Cattell and Kris Mattoff led the Bulldog scoring with 12 and 11 points, respectively. Hammerschmidt had nine, Headrick, six, and Perry, three. Milan, Winter said, played the same sort of defense on Headrick as Saline did, with about the same amount of success.

The Bulldogs are still seeking their first win in the SEC, with an 0-7 record. Their over-all mark is 3-12.

TIM BOWDISH beat 47 boys to the finish line as he took the top spot in the Southeastern Conference league meet held last week at Inverness Country Club. Bowdish, who has been Chelsea's top runner all season long, had the league championship as one of his goals for the season.

Boys Cross Country Team 3rd in Regional

Chelsea's boys cross country team qualified for this Saturday's state meet with a third-place finish at the regional meet last Saturday in Linden.

Chelsea finished third out of 12 teams, as John Cattell led the Bulldogs in 17:22, good for 11th place.

"I was very proud of our team's efforts today," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"Our top runner, Tim Bowdish, had a bad day and it didn't look good, but the other boys really pulled together to take up the

7th Grade Cagers Close Season With 7-3 Mark

Beach school seventh grade girls basketball team finished its season last week with a 15-13 win over Milan and a 33-31 loss to Lincoln. The girls finished with a 7-3 mark on the year.

In action the week before, the girls defeated Tecumseh, 18-17, and Saline, 26-14.

Everyone on the team contributed to the victory over Milan. Deanna Richardson had four points and three steals; Jane Pacheco had three points, five rebounds and three steals; Jeanene Rossi had five rebounds and three steals; Kristin Bohlender had two points, five rebounds and three steals; and Carrie Flintoff, Kelly Bellus, and Mercedes Hammer each had four rebounds.

The Lincoln game was close throughout. Lincoln was the only team to defeat Chelsea twice.

Colleen Scharphorn had nine points and eight steals; Bohlender had five points and nine rebounds; Pacheco had four points and 10 rebounds; Rossi had three points and six rebounds; Sara Musolf had four points and six steals; and Mercedes Hammer had four points, making four straight free throws.

In the loss to Tecumseh, Chelsea was down 15-8 but played tenacious comeback basketball. Bohlender made a free throw with two seconds to go, to clinch the victory.

Scharphorn had nine points, five rebounds and four steals; Sharon Losey had six rebounds, five steals and two points. Pacheco had four rebounds and two points.

In the win over Saline, Rossi played her best game of the year, scoring six points and grabbing six rebounds. Pacheco had a season-high 12 rebounds to go along with four points. Musolf scrapped for seven steals and four points, and Scharphorn had five points, four rebounds and five steals. Bohlender was three of four at the foul line and had five rebounds.

In addition to the girls mention-

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

The first part of this column might be subtitled, the "Saga of the Unappreciated Football Player."

I have mentioned in past Sports Notes that I attempted to play football in high school until I wised up and played soccer instead. I was one of those unappreciated players, not that I deserved any notoriety, though. I was a lineman. I don't mind saying that not only was I a lineman, I was a pathetic lineman. Maybe the worst anyone has ever seen in high school. There are many reasons I was so bad at it, chief among them, I was slow, weak and unmotivated, and hated to be hit. You might ask, given those qualifications, why I ever tried to play in the first place. I don't know, probably had some deep-seated psychological need to be punished.

Howard Cosell wrote a book, "I Never Played the Game." Mine would probably be titled, "I Never Played the Game, but I Tried."

Linemen have many problems that other players don't, especially offensive linemen. I'm not talking about the ones who sit on the bench the entire season. They have yet another set of problems, some of which are too bizarre to even think about. The ones who don't play often feel about as useful as the blocking sleds because they end up being human blocking sleds in practice. They get to pretend they are the upcoming opposition, while the first teamers figure out exactly what blocking assignments work best.

One of the biggest problems linemen face during the season is that no one knows who they are. They never get any publicity even when they play like All-Americans. Their success, many times, can be seen between the lines of the sports pages. For example, when running back A gains 365 yards, that generally means the line did a great job. On the other hand, if opponent B gets only 85 yards for the game, you can generally take that to mean that the defensive line did a super job.

It's difficult to explain to a sports fan exactly what a lineman does, that makes his performance so great. It's a little easier in the case of the defense because there are always tackles to be made. However, on most teams, the linebackers are the leaders in tackles, so once again, the lineman goes unnoticed.

With a lineman, you can say Brutus Hithard knocked his opponent on his butt 20 times, but as far as I know, no one keeps those statistics.

A self-described "football mother," who shall remain nameless, called me about this publicity problem this week. As complaining football parents go, she was very friendly and cordial and, I hope, convinced that I have no malice toward her son simply because his name never gets in the paper. I told her this publicity problem is one of the hazards of being a lineman. It goes with the territory, like getting mud in his face during sloppy games.

I've dealt with many parents like this before, and some of them, I'm convinced, suffer from paranoid delusions. Some of the stories I could tell you about the behavior of athletes' parents are stranger than anything you could make up.

This particular woman mentioned in passing that her son was upset with coach Gene LaFave about this situation, apparently feeling, rightly or wrongly, that he was unappreciated. There was also some question that some details about a particular game were mis-reported, that somebody else had gotten credit for something her son did.

It's not right for any player of any sport to be upset with his coach because of a lack of publicity. A coach, especially a football coach, has more than enough to be concerned about without having to worry about being that particular player's press agent.

Yet, I still sympathize with the plight of linemen in general. They take most of the beating and generally get almost none of the credit. They're running backs and quarterbacks and split ends all know who's opening those holes and giving the quarterback time to pass. But the public doesn't.

So here's to you, Rob England, Gary Johnson, Andy Box, Steve Whitesall, Leo Durham, Jason Smith, Jeff Stacey, Alan Fromm, Jim Eisenbeiser, Jeff Larson, and Matt Steinhauer for a job well done. (Before you call in, these boys don't necessarily play offense, and a couple, don't necessarily even play. They aren't listed in any particular order, either. I just feel sorry for them. Please, God, I hope I didn't leave anyone out.)

I was expecting Chelsea to beat Pinckney by more like 41-0 than 14-0 last week. I found myself cringing through the entire first quarter as we were freezing, too, but that's another story. As the Bulldogs couldn't wait to give the ball back to the Pirates—three straight turnovers. Throw out the first quarter, though, and they didn't play all that poorly.

Girls Cross Country Team Wins Regional

Chelsea's Kasey Anderson took first place, and Amy Wolfgang placed third to lead the Bulldog varsity cross country team to a first place in the regional meet at Linden last Saturday.

Chelsea won the meet in convincing style over 11 other opponents, including Pinckney and Dexter of the Southeastern Conference. Chelsea, which scored 29 points, was 32 points ahead of second-place Oxford, with 61 points.

Their performance automatically qualifies the team to compete in the state meet this Saturday at Hudson Mills Metropark, beginning at 12:30. "The girls just ran an excellent race," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"They grouped in the top 10 runners at the beginning and were very dominant throughout the race. Kasey took the lead at the two-mile mark and stretched it out from there. Melanie Flanigan ran her best race of the year by over 40 seconds to make all-region. Amy also ran her best race of the season."

Anderson's time was 20:10, while Wolfgang finished just behind in 20:30. Other Chelsea finishers were: Robin Mock, sixth, 20:57; Flanigan, seventh, 20:58; Sallie Wilson, 12th, 21:22; Jennifer Rossi, 17th, 21:49; and Debi Koenn, 21st, 22:18.

THE CHELSEA GIRLS cross country team won both the SEC league meet and the regional meet last week, showing they justify their third-in-the-state ranking. Three of the girls on the team are, from left, Jennifer Rossi, Amy Wolfgang and Robin Mock.

Boys Cross Country Places 2nd in SEC

Chelsea's Tim Bowdish led a field of 48 runners as the Bulldogs took second place in the Southeastern Conference meet at Inverness Country Club last week.

Chelsea was only 10 points behind meet winner Saline.

Bowdish was 19 seconds better than second-place Andrew Howe of Pinckney. Bowdish finished in 16:38.53.

"Tim ran an excellent race," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"One of his goals for the season was to be the SEC champion. It was nice to see a senior work hard for a goal and finally accomplish it. Tim was in fifth place at the end of the first mile, which was the plan. He then kicked it into gear during the second mile to take a commanding lead."

Bowdish, and teammate John Cattell, who finished in sixth place in 17:10.85, made the all-SEC team.

"Cattell continues to amaze me," Clarke said. "He just works and works, cutting time off every race. I think he has some real potential at cross country."

Other Chelsea finishers were: Jeff Wheaton, 11th, 17:51.36; Paul Hedding, 12th, 17:52.9; Greg Brown, 21st, 18:18.23; Lee Riemenschneider, 22nd, 18:22.44; and Jason Creffield, 24th, 18:26.27.

"Jeff Wheaton ran the best race of his life to just miss making it."

Frosh Grid Team Wins At Monroe

Chelsea freshman football team ended its season last week with its fifth consecutive win, a 14-13 squeaker over Monroe County Central.

The teams played under less-than-desirable conditions at Monroe, with no scoreboard, no bathrooms, and a mucky and poorly marked field.

"It seemed like everything was against us," said Bulldog coach Jim Tallman.

It took an interception by Larry Nix with less than a minute to go in the game to seal the victory. Monroe was moving down the field rapidly on a short passing game.

Chelsea took a 6-0 lead mid-way through the first quarter on a pass play from Nix to Jeff Marshall that covered 50 yards. But that was the end of the Bulldog scoring until late in the final period.

The game was tied at six at half-time. Monroe scored late in the second quarter on a 35-yard run.

The hosts took the lead 13-6 in the first few minutes of the fourth quarter on another long run. This time the extra-point kick was good.

But, with two minutes left, Nix hit Shannon Fredette on a 10-yard touchdown strike. Still down by a point, the Bulldogs went for the two-point conversion. Dave Zerkel tucked away a pass from Nix for the winning points.

"All in all it was a good game for us," Tallman said.

"There at the end it seemed like the kids finally decided they were better than Monroe and went out and got the job done. One of our bright spots this year has been the amount of improvement. This team has improved more than any I've ever coached."

The freshmen finished the year with a 5-2 record.

JV Cross Country Boys Team Places 2nd in Conference

Chelsea boys junior varsity cross country team took second place in the SEC league meet last Tuesday, just two points behind the Saline Hornets.

Larry Moore took the top spot with a life-time best of 18:33. Tucker Lee and Mike Lavigne were third and fourth, respectively, with times of 18:48 and 18:55.

Other Bulldog finishers were: Brian Coy, ninth, 19:09; Craig Zuehlke, 17th, 19:45; Eric Bell, 20th, 19:55; Dave Steele, 25th, 20:11; and Dave Freitas, 31st, 20:24.

"The JV ran extremely well today," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"I was especially pleased with the efforts of our first three runners."

JOHN CATTELL led the Chelsea boys to a third-place finish at the regional meet last Saturday in Linden, which qualified them for this week-end's state meet at Hudson Mills metropark. Cattell, third from left above, finished 11th over-all in the regionals.

Gridders of the Week

GRIDDERS OF THE WEEK are Gary Johnson, left, and Brian Robeson, both senior Bulldogs. Johnson has lived in the Chelsea area since the sixth grade. Described as a "tinkerer," Johnson will likely be a mechanic some day. He has recently worked on restoring a 1978 Pontiac Sunbird. Johnson is also president of the CHS chapter of Students Against Drunk Driving, and played a key role in organizing the highly successful after-the-prom party last spring. He is the son of Gary and Darlene Johnson. Robeson, the son of Barbara Robeson, is in his second year on the varsity squad. He's interested in football and baseball, and you can often find him in a pick-up game of basketball. He also jogs and lifts weights. It's likely he'll attend either Central Michigan University or Eastern Michigan University, perhaps studying business and math. Brian is an honor student, and he works part-time at All Season Comfort Co. His brother, Rodney, was a CHS football player in 1982.

Girls Cross Country Team Depth Earns SEC Championship

Chelsea girls cross country team won the Southeastern Conference Championship in convincing fashion last week with a 19-point edge over the second-place Saline Hornets at Inverness Country Club.

Chelsea's Kasey Anderson finished in second place behind Saline's Dawn Toth to lead the Bulldog runners. Her time was 20:11.

Bulldog runners took places six through nine. The lowest any Chelsea runner finished was 15th.

"The girls ran just super today," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"The top five girls all ran personal best times for the Inverness course. Robin Mock and Jennifer Rossi ran particularly well, with both cutting over 20 seconds off their previous best times. Senior co-captain Amy Wolfgang finished her career at Inverness with her finest time ever and a third time all-league spot in sixth place. Amy has been a fine leader for us this season and an inspiration to the younger runners."

Other Bulldog runners who made all league were Mock, Rossi, Anderson and Sallie Wilson.

Places and times were as follows: Wolfgang, sixth, 20:41.19; Mock, seventh, 20:50.31; Rossi, eighth, 20:52.63; Wilson, ninth, 20:55.76; Debi Koenn, 14th, 21:40.34; Melanie Flanigan, 21:43.66.

Nature Walk Slated in Rural Woodlot

Join Washtenaw County Parks naturalist Matt Heumann for a nature walk through a rural woodlot.

Sunday, Nov. 3 at 10 a.m. Heumann will lead the first of two walks that explore the composition of woodlots and their importance to nearby habitats. The walk will be held at County Farm Park.

"A woodlot is an artificially restricted forest or a forest remnant," said Heumann. "They're

Swim Team Wins Over Dexter, Albion

Chelsea girls swim team beat Dexter, 92-80, last Tuesday, Oct. 22 and Albion, 87-85, Oct. 24 in meets at Cameron pool.

In the Dexter meet, the Bulldogs used their superior depth to their advantage.

"Dexter has a fine team and swam well, but our numbers came through in the end," said Chelsea coach Mike Keeler.

The results of the Dexter meet follow.

200 medley relay: 1. Chelsea (Karen Grau, Kelly Kuzon, Cathy Hoffman and Susan Schmunk), 2:03.44; 4. Chelsea (Maria Kattula, Chris Young, Lisa Taylor and Tami Harris), 2:19.28; 5. Chelsea (Missy Check, Dawn Thorne, Tricia Colby and Meredith Johnson), 2:26.74.

200 freestyle: 1. Paula Colombo, 2:10.41; 3. Sharon Colombo, 2:18.41; 5. Helen Cooper, 2:31.20.

100 breaststroke: 1. Kuzon, 1:15.72; 4. Young, 1:23.91; 5. Thorne, 1:30.01.

400 freestyle relay: 2. Chelsea (H. Cooper, S. Cooper, P. Colombo, and S. Colombo), 4:33.81; 3. Chelsea (Dent, Josie Krezkowski, Johnson and Harris), 4:51.93; 5. Chelsea (Karen Paulsell, Colby, Anne Albrecht, and Check), 5:09.86.

Diving: 4. Deanna Zangara, 173.8; 5. Nancy Stierle, 1:56.45; 6. Robyn Hafner, 1:34.95.

In the Albion meet, "many races were decided by tenths of a second and any of those races could have decided the meet," Keeler said. "Our girls really swam well when the pressure was on."

Chelsea had 16 lifetime best times, and four season-best times.

200 medley relay: 1. Chelsea (Grau, Kuzon, P. Colombo, Schmunk), 2:03.63; 3. Chelsea (Kattula, Young, Taylor and Harris), 2:26.35.

200 freestyle: 1. S. Colombo, 2:16.44; 5. S. Cooper, 2:28.08; 6. Helen Cooper, 2:30.28.

200 individual medley: 1. P. Colombo, 2:23.66; 3. Grau, 2:39.30; 4. Hoffman, 2:40.3.

50 freestyle: 1. Schmunk, 26.63; 5. Dent, 30.25; 6. Harris, 30.79.

100 fly: 1. Hoffman, 1:09.14; 4. Colby, 1:19.41; 5. S. Cooper, 1:21.96.

100 freestyle: 2. Kuzon, 1:04.89; 5. Dent, 1:04.71; 6. Johnson, 1:11.99.

500 freestyle: 1. S. Colombo, 6:03.75; 5. H. Cooper, 6:39.75; 6. Albrecht, 7:59.31.

100 breaststroke: 2. P. Colombo, 1:09.21; 3. Grau, 1:14.27; 6. Kattula, 1:22.84.

100 breaststroke: 2. Schmunk, 1:14.96 (state-qualifying time); 3. Kuzon, 1:15.28 (state-qualifying time); 4. Young, 1:22.57.

400 freestyle relay: 2. Chelsea (S. Cooper, H. Cooper, Hoffman, S. Colombo), 4:20.21; 4. Chelsea (Johnson, Krezkowski, Colby, Dent), 4:45.3; 6. Chelsea (Young, Albrecht, Shiela Tillman, Paulsell).

Diving: 1. Zangara, 173.9; 3. Stierle, 138.35; 4. Hafner, 125.75.

THE 1985 FRESHMAN FOOTBALL TEAM finished the season with five straight victories and a 5-2 record, which certainly bodes well for future varsity teams. In the front are managers Travis Paul, Jason Adams and Jimmy Tallman. In the second row are Paula Kuzon, manager, Mike Taylor, Monty Kimball, Larry Nix, Shannon Fredette, Matt Riemenschneider, Bill Coelius and Dan Luck. In the third row, from left, are Lori Jedele, manager, Loren Keezer, Jeff

In March 1984, 10.3 million families had as their principal support women who were divorced, separated, widowed, or never married. These families accounted for over 16 percent of all families in the United States, according to "Women Who Maintain Families," a fact sheet by the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Waterfowl Hunter Report Better Than Expected

Hunter success has been better than expected since the Oct. 5 duck season opener, according to Department of Natural Resources (DNR) waterfowl specialists who expected a reduced duck population this year.

Although state-wide information is not yet available, reports show a mix of hunter success compared to the 1984 season.

DNR waterfowl specialist

Jerry Martz reports that the number of birds bagged per hunter on opening day at Maple River, Fish Point, Shiawassee River, Harsen's Island and St. John's Marsh areas was higher than in 1984. Nayanquing Point was slightly lower than in 1984, and goose hunting success at the Allegan Highbanks and Pennville Farm units was down substantially from the 1984 opener. However, hunters at the Shiawassee National Wildlife Refuge near Saginaw did better than last year averaging one and one-half Canada geese per person on opening day.

During this year's shortened season, DNR waterfowl specialists suggest that hunters exercise caution in their shooting during the early light of the morning. "Shooting a 100-point hen mallard or black duck will end the day's hunt early," Martz said. "Either of these birds, which are in short supply, constitute a full day's bag limit under this season's restrictions."

All major state managed waterfowl areas now have good numbers of ducks and Canada geese, many of which arrived just before the opener. Birds continued arriving during the first few days of the season. The bulk of the harvest has consisted of mallards and Canada geese, but substantial numbers of green-winged teal, baldpate, blue-winged teal, wood ducks, and pintails have been taken as well.

The 40-day season, which runs through Nov. 13, is designed to save breeding ducks in the hope that they will find improved water conditions during next year's production season. Waterfowl specialists are optimistic that this measure, along with proposed farm legislation that will set aside millions of acres of safe wildlife nesting habitat, will increase duck populations in the near future.

The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) protects young workers from employment that might interfere with their educational opportunities or be detrimental to their health or well-being, according to a U. S. Department of Labor fact sheet.

JV Cagers Tromp Saline, Lose to Milan

Chelsea junior varsity girls basketball team put a win and loss on their season's tally sheet last week with a 34-15 victory over Saline and a 38-28 loss to Milan.

Coach Paul Terpstra's girls came out smoking in the first quarter against the Hornets and took a 13-0 lead at the end of the period.

"That was probably the best quarter we've played all season," Terpstra said. "The offense executed exceptionally well."

The Bulldogs ended the game with a significant rebound advantage, 47-22, which was one of the keys to the contest, Terpstra said.

Leah Enderle had the hot hand all night long, scoring 16 points on 7-9 shooting. Rounding out the scoring was Heather Neibauer with seven points, Vanessa May with five, Laura Torres with four, and Lisa Unterbrink with two.

Neibauer and May had 12 and 9 rebounds, respectively.

Shannon Dunn had six of Chelsea's 19 steals.

In the Milan game, Chelsea was outscored, 9-2, in the third quarter, after the teams were dead even at half-time at 18.

What hurt the Bulldogs more than anything else was 33 turnovers, Terpstra said.

Neibauer led the Chelsea scoring with 10, and Enderle followed with nine.

The Bulldogs, after last week's action, sport a 10-5 over-all record, and 4-3 mark in SEC play.

The next game is Tuesday at home against rival Dexter beginning at 5:30.

The "art" of cheesemaking was jealously guarded for many centuries, being handed down from father to son. Only in recent years has research evolved the "science" of cheesemaking which is now taught in schools all over the world. Approximately 400 varieties of cheese are known. Thirty-six years after Michigan State University (Michigan Agricultural College then) opened in 1857 the first cheese course was offered. In fact, the first cheese was reputed to have been made by the wives of the professors.

CATHY HOFFMAN was elected swimmer of the Albion meet by her teammates.

PAULA COLOMBO was named swimmer of the week by Chelsea coach Mike Keeler for her performances against Dexter and Albion.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

I agree with Marianne Elser of Saline (Ann Arbor News) concerning the highly charged emotional issue to have seat belts on all school buses. This is a wonderful cause to take up. Anything to keep the children in their seats. Also shoulder harnesses should be considered for mandatory laws. No person should be exempt from wearing a seat belt, not even children. This is good for the health, welfare, safety, education and morals of the children. After all our government knows what is best for us all.

Recently, laws were passed making it mandatory to raise the seat backs to the level of the high school rider's nose when seated so that the riders would be protected from injuries by "packaging." This has not prevented injuries in accidents and presented numerous new problems. For example some of the problems are listed here:

1. The floor mountings are no longer adequate to stand the added leverage of the taller seat backs and are more likely to tear out on accident impact, requiring expensive floor strengthening on new buses, thus adding much to the cost of future buses, and may presently be the cause of additional injuries.

2. The bus driver is unable to see through the seat backs and cannot determine what is happening behind the protection of the high seat backs. As a result discipline suffers and there is undetected expensive damage to the seats and backs. Also, most children hate the high seat backs.

There are many problems presented by installing seat belts. Some of them will be:

1. How does the bus driver make certain every one has the seat belts fastened before starting a run and how can the driver make sure the belts remain fastened throughout the run? (Remember the extremely high seat backs) Video cameras? A parent as a monitor? Or it may be necessary to visually check each seat at each stop, making bus routes more time consuming.

2. The floor would have to be strengthened for seat belt mounting and some provision be made for anchoring adequately the shoulder harness. This would add weight and/or length to the bus, or reduce the seating capacity. Also increase the chance of injuries in an accident or tripping on the necessary anchor structures.

3. Seat maintenance costs would increase dramatically due to vandalism to the seat belts, thus putting buses out of service for lack of useable seat belts, making more spare buses necessary and more jobs for more people.

4. Injuries from hitting each other with the seat belt buckles would become common, thus adding to the school secretary's job, making more jobs necessary, or maybe a nurse at each school.

5. The added cost of all this would mean more money borrowed at interest to pay for the additional costs, thus more interest for the banks and more jobs for more people.

6. The school buses in use are rated as 66-passenger (elementary) and 44-passenger (adults) capacity vehicles. Would the seat belts be installed to make all 44-passenger buses (more jobs) or would the extra seat belt on each seat be stored on the muddy, wet floor when not in use? Thus making more work for you know who and additional jobs making soap, clothes, etc. and buses at $25,000 each.

7. It should be mandatory for each bus driver to be deputized so that a $10 or more fine could be assessed the parents of the child that dares not to wear a seat belt in an attempt to make the program self supporting, as all government programs should be.

It would be gratifying to see all the merchants, businessmen, farmers, corporations, professionals, retired and homeowners willing to bear the additional burden of costs and inconveniences to put seat belts on every bus. Remember it is done for the health, welfare, safety, education and morals of our most precious resource, our children.

Ray Coulter,
Grass Lake.

Cargo Preference
Is Big Farm Issue

Cargo preference is expected to be one of the first items debated when the 1985 farm bill hits the Senate floor later this month, according to Al Almy, director of public affairs for the Michigan Farm Bureau. Almy said Farm Bureau will push for language in the bill that would exempt blended credit and other new commercial credit programs from cargo preference.

"Cargo preference penalizes our ability to sell in the world market," Almy said. "It is estimated that cargo preference adds from $40 to $60 a ton to the cost of shipping our commodities to export markets. In a highly competitive market, which the export business is, that can take us totally out of the picture."

The U. S. House, which passed its version of the farm bill earlier this month, retained the Merchant Marine Committee's cargo preference language, which says that half of all Food for Peace, donation and export credit transactions must be shipped on U. S. flag vessels. A Farm Bureau-backed amendment to exempt blended credit from the requirement was rejected.

Almy said that Farm Bureau supports a strong Merchant Marine, but believes that agriculture should not have to pay the price with lost markets.

The aim of co-operative labor-management programs is more satisfied and involved employees and more efficient, adaptive and productive organizations, according to a U. S. Labor Department fact sheet.

Opens at True Grist

True Grist Dinner Theatre in Homer, is staging a production of Frederick Knott's mystery thriller, "Dial 'M' for Murder." The show opened Oct. 10 on True Grist's mainstage.

Walter Kerr of the New York Times said that "Dial 'M' for Murder" is "a holiday for whodunit fans and as such, it couldn't be more welcome." True Grist's production promises to be just that, featuring Paul Kerr as Tony Wendice. Paul is well-known to True Grist audiences having performed such roles as Teyve in "Fiddler on the Roof," Scottie in "Tribute," Teddy in "Tintypes" and more recently as F. D. R. in "Annie."

★ Old Wives' Tales

If you're like me, over the years you've heard old wives' tales about health and medicine and may have been hoodwinked by some of them. Some of these sayings have staunch believers, even though they can actually be hazardous to health. I'd like to point out a few of these erroneous ideas and give you some health facts to replace them.

Feed A Cold, Starve A Fever—Or is it starve a cold and feed a fever? The truth is that either way it's wrong because food has no effect on colds or fevers. Extra fluids, however, are beneficial because they wash away byproducts of illness and prevent dehydration.

Cold Weather and Chills Cause Colds—This is totally wrong. Remember, viruses, not getting chilled or cold weather, cause colds. It's true that we catch more colds in cold weather, but that's because we're indoors more and in close contact with others.

Grapefruit Burns Up Calories—Wouldn't it be nice if this were true? But it's not. The fact is that no food burns up calories. Grapefruit is a good, low calorie source of Vitamin C and will fill you up if eaten at the beginning of a meal. But it won't burn calories. The only way to use those extra calories is by exercising.

Normal Blood Pressure Is 100 Plus a Person's Age—If you rely on this old tale, it could be very dangerous to your health. Blood pressure is measured by two numbers. The upper number (systolic) measures the thrust of the heart's contraction and should be between 100 and 120. The lower number (diastolic) measures the heart at rest and should be below 90. Although it may rise slightly with age, if your systolic reading is higher than 140 or your diastolic higher than 90, it's abnormal. You should seek medical advice and treatment promptly.

So if you've been depending on some of these erroneous beliefs, you might consider some things I've discussed here. Hopefully, my information will clear up some confusion or misconceptions that we've all experienced with old wives' tales.

Q. My broker sold me on the idea that Borg-Warner would be a good stock to invest in. I bought it at 19 1/2 in 1982 and three years later it is still just $21. That's not my idea of a good stock to invest in. What did my broker do wrong?

A. Let's not blame your broker. Whenever you buy anything, a stock or anything else, you are the one who makes the decision to buy. Even if you have someone applying pressure, it's still your responsibility to know enough about what you are buying to make an intelligent decision and to know why you bought.

That being said, let's look at Borg-Warner. Borg-Warner has had a good record when you look at it over the last 10 years. But a sizeable part of its business is cyclical in nature and this means its bottom line is going to be affected by the business cycle. Borg-Warner is also a very high exporter and both its sales and earnings have been hurt by the strong U. S. dollar, which has made the sales of U. S. products overseas more difficult and less profitable.

The company has seen its chemical business a little less than robust and it is not getting any return from the 19% of Hughes Tool that it owns.

While the figures may look a little weak for B-W, management foresaw the problems in overseas markets several years ago and started to build up the services end of the business. That move has been helpful but the company still has a lot of manufacturing business. I don't think the company's problems will last forever and my guess is you will have a greater profit in the next two or three years.

One thing that you should have been aware of when you bought the stock was that it was selling at the high end of its price-earnings ratio and above what similar stocks were selling for at the time. It was selling at 10 times its earnings of $1.95 when most similar quality stocks at that time were selling at 5 to 7 times earnings. This suggests you would have been better off waiting until you could have bought the stock at $9 to $11, which you could have done six months later.

It is interesting to see that Better Investing featured Borg-Warner as a stock to study in July of 1980. At that time the stock was selling for $8.63. Investors who bought it at that time now have a value of their $8.63 investment of $2,500. Their stock at $21 is worth $2,100 and they have had about $400 in dividends.

There are two lessons to be learned from your purchase: The first is when you buy stock, look in the paper for how high and how low it has sold in the past year. If it's selling near the high, I would hesitate buying it unless it was enjoying rapidly increasing sales and earnings, or there was some other development suggesting its value was going to continue to increase.

Secondly, when you buy a stock near a high, you must recognize that a higher price will only come in two ways. That is, there will have to be speculation in the stock which will take it further above reasonable values. That is a development which does not occur very often. Or you will have to wait until the company grows, produces higher earnings, and justifies a higher price. That is what you are doing with Borg-Warner. The growth that has been taking place is obscured by the export problems, but I think it's likely these problems will be overcome and the stock will move ahead in time.

Mr. O'Hara welcomes your questions and comments, but will answer them only through this column. Another in a series of informational messages concerning your phone service.

We're trying to make things simple for you again.

Starting with your new phone bill.

When all those changes happened in the telephone business a while back, some things got more complicated. Including your phone bill. Ever since, we've been looking for ways to simplify it, so it's easier to read and understand. And after a lot of research and listening hard to customers like you, we think we've done it.

For starters, we've cut out some duplication, so the new bill you'll be getting could have as few as three or four pages.

From now on, you'll just mail in the Payment Page with your payment. The Payment Page is the top page of your bill. We've done away with the computer card you used to have to send in. (If you pay in person, you should bring the whole bill with you.) The Total Amount Due will be easy to find because it's shaded in a box on the Payment Page.

You'll find the new appearance and wording of the bill help make it a whole lot easier to understand.

We think you'll agree that a confusing phone bill is just one more little problem none of us wants to muddle through. That's why we hope our new shorter version will be easier for you.

If you're looking for a quiet place to live, ask about the door construction. Solid or core-filled doors with gas-kets or weather stripping are quieter.

A MEDIEVAL FESTIVAL just wouldn't be complete without an authentic game of "conkers," a truly medieval game. The idea of conkers, which is being explained to Beach school student Brian Burg, by North school teacher John Capper, is to hit your opponent's chestnut hard enough to split it off the string. Above, Brian prepares to take a whack at John's chestnut. The game was one of the many things to do at the Night of Knights medieval festival held at North school last Thursday.

Car Window Broken In School Parking Lot

The rear window to a 1984 Honda was smashed while the automobile sat in the Chelsea High school parking lot, according to Chelsea police.

Police said the automobile, owned by John Bohlender, was vandalized during morning school hours on Oct. 18.

Skateboards, Roller Skates Use Forbidden In Public Streets

It's against the law to ride a skateboard or use roller skates in the street.

That's the word from Chelsea Police Chief Lenard McDougall. He said those activities are against both state law and Chelsea village ordinances.

October - National Respect for LIFE Month

U-M EMPLOYEES: OVER 6,000 OF YOUR CO-WORKERS HAVE CHOSEN M-CARE. NOW IT'S YOUR CHANCE.

October 21-November 1

Last February, U-M employees were given several different health care plans to choose from during a special enrollment period. Since that time over 6,000 U-M employees—a third of the U-M workforce—have chosen M-CARE, Michigan's Own Family Health Care Plan.

Why? Perhaps it was the three free office visits per year. Or the free pediatric exams and immunizations for children up to age 14. Or the discounts on eyeglasses and prescription drugs. Or it may be the accessibility—M-CARE is delivered through the U-M Medical Center, giving you easy access to over 500 medical specialists and 110 specialty clinics, and it's also available at the Brighton Health Center, the Chelsea Family Practice Center, the University Health Service and through 33 community pediatricians.

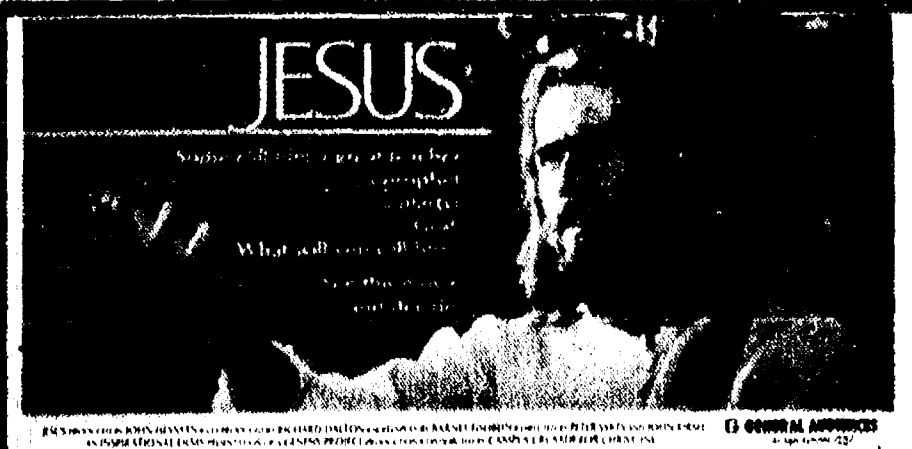

In a recent survey of randomly-selected M-CARE enrollees, 89% reported short or medium waiting times, 88% were able to get appointments on short notice and 95% thought the service sites were convenient.

If you're a U-M employee, you can find out more about M-CARE by calling 763-7000. But don't delay... you have just two weeks in October to select the health care plan that's best for you. We hope you choose M-CARE.

Lesser, Mrs. Robert (Linda) Brammer, and Mrs. Russell (Elaine) Carpenter; and three great-grandchildren.
He was preceded in death by four brothers, John, Alvin, Emerson and Ezra, and one sister, Mrs. Alfred (Lydia) Gross.
Mr. Lesser was a farmer in Chelsea since 1926. Among his community service activities, he was a member of the Sylvan township board, the Zion Lutheran church, the Farm Bureau and the Chelsea Community Fair board.
Friends may call at Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel after 7 p.m. today or from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday, or at Zion Lutheran church at 10 a.m. on Friday.
Funeral services will be held Friday, Nov. 1 at 11 a.m. at Zion Lutheran church in Rogers Corners, with the Rev. John R. Morris officiating. Interment will follow in Zion Lutheran cemetery.
Memorial contributions may be made to the Zion Lutheran building fund, the Zion Old Church fund, or the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home.

Five Escape Injury in 4-Car Pile-up

Five people escaped serious injury when a driver who failed to yield caused a four-car collision at the intersection of Werkner Rd. and M-52 in the early evening of Friday, Oct. 25.
According to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, a car driven by Alma Holliday, 55, of 19635 Ivey Rd., heading north on Werkner Rd., was hit by a car, heading northwest on M-52, driven by Alice P. Schifle, 57, of 17720 North Territorial Rd. The force of the collision sent Schifle's vehicle into another vehicle driven by Donald A. Eveleth, Jr., 50, of 5508 Old US-12, that was stopped at the intersection, heading south on Werkner Rd. Eveleth's vehicle was then pushed backward into yet another vehicle driven by Vicki Kleinstaubler, 17, of 11880 Oakridge, Pinckney, who was stopped behind him.
Holliday's vehicle ended up in a field off the road. Holliday was charged with failure to yield the right of way.
Schifle and Holliday were both taken to Chelsea Community Hospital, while the other drivers, including a passenger in Kleinstaubler's vehicle, were uninjured.

The U.S. Department of Labor's Division of Co-operative Labor-Management Programs was created in June 1982 to encourage and assist employers, unions and others to undertake efforts to improve productivity and increase the well-being of workers through co-operative labor-management programs.

SHAWN QUILTER belts out a solo during half-time festivities of last Friday's homecoming game with Pinckney. The Marching Band also combined with the Alumni Band for a couple of numbers. That's Bill Gourley directing the band in the background.

Woodlot Walk Slated Sunday

usually left when the rest of the land is cleared for farming or development.
"They have many historical uses," he added. "Farmers would leave a woodlot for a windbreak, property line, or as a kind of 'warehouse' for timber, wildlife, mushrooms, nuts, herbs, and any plants that they couldn't raise themselves.
The woodlot at County Farm is a good example of a small rural woodlot in a now-urbanized area. Composed primarily of oak, hickory, and ash trees, this woodlot has trillium, many different fungi, fox squirrels, woodpeckers, a creek, and two nature trails.
Heumann will discuss how woodlots serve as preservation areas for certain plants, how they collect and hold moisture, and the food they provide for people and animals.
Participants should meet in the parking lot off Medford Rd. at the west end of the park. Please do not bring pets on the walk.
The second walk in the rural woodlot series will be at Rolling Hills County Park on Sunday, Nov. 24 at 10 a.m. This rural, agricultural area woodlot will be contrasted with the more urbanized one at County Farm.

Cassidy Lake Walkaway Apprehended

A prisoner who had walked away from Cassidy Lake Technical School on Sunday was apprehended by Chelsea police Monday morning at the east-bound entrance ramp to I-94 at M-52.

Christopher Wagmann, 20, who was serving two years eight months to four years for larceny from a building, told Chelsea Officer Frank Kornexl, Jr. that he was trying to go to Flint when Kornexl arrested him at approximately 10 a.m. on Monday.

Police said Wagmann had called from a telephone at Chelsea Community Hospital for someone to pick him up. They said that after Wagmann was placed under arrest, he told them he left a bag of clothes in the weeds behind Vogel's Party Store and a jacket in a Jiffy Mix trailer.

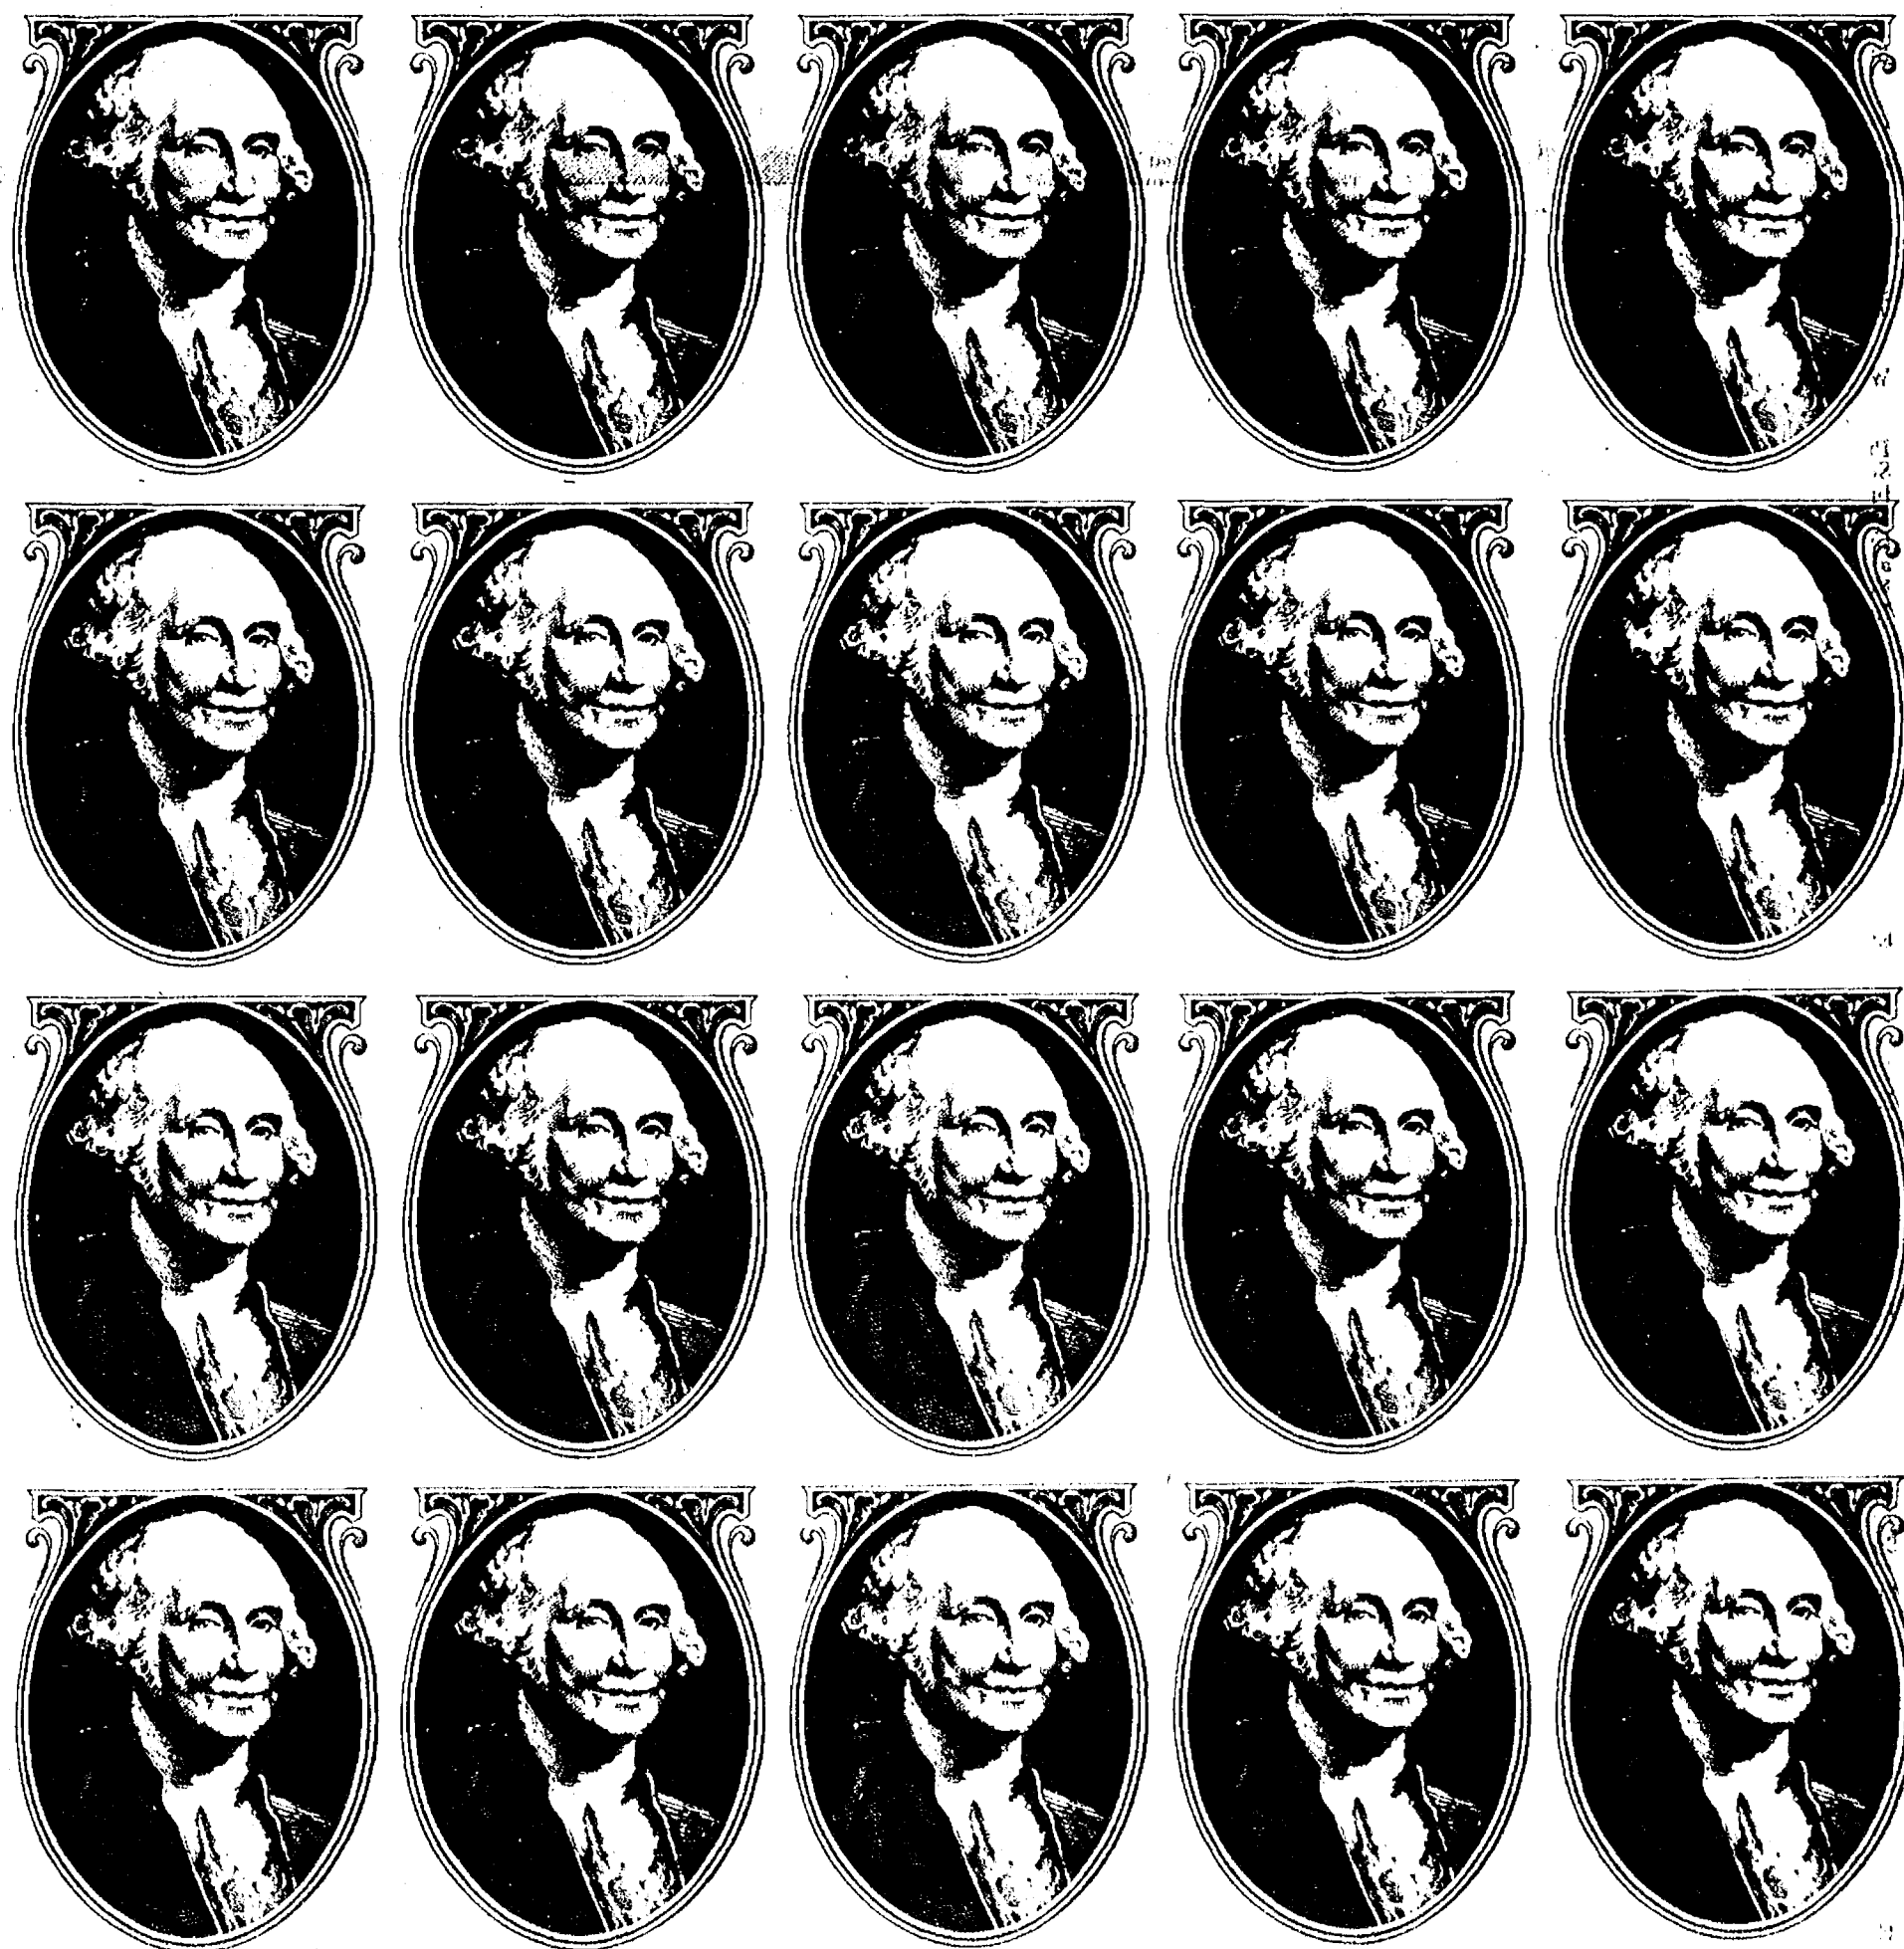

According to police, Wagmann said he fled Cassidy Lake because he didn't get along with most of the inmates and that his best friend was scheduled to leave the institution today.

Novice Debaters Place 2nd at Meet In Grand Rapids

Chelsea novice debaters took second place over-all in competition at Grand Rapids Christian High School last Saturday.

The team of Robyn Hafner, Jeff Mason, Jennifer Folsom and Sarah Noah took the honor. It was the first time they had ever competed as a unit. Hafner and Mason took the affirmative, while Folsom and Noah took the negative. The question was, "Should the federal government establish a comprehensive national policy to protect water quality in the United States?"

In addition, three Chelsea debaters won Speaker Awards for their performances. Mike Goodwin came in third place; Alison Chasteen finished in fifth place, and Chana Street took ninth place.

SERVING DRAGON BROILED CHICKEN at the Night of Knights at North Elementary school last Thursday evening were, from left, Janet Taroli, Glenna Cargel and Stormy Smith. Night of Knights was a medieval festival to benefit the Parent Teachers North organization. In addition to Dragon Broiled Chicken and other food, there was a bake sale and a multitude of games for the children.

Greeting Cards Offered By Humane Society

While greeting cards may not be at the top of your holiday "to do" list yet, the Humane Society of Huron Valley has begun their annual sale of originally designed holiday greeting cards.

"This sale is one of our major fund-raising projects," states Julie Morris, executive director of the Society. "The proceeds not only aid us in the daily care of over 175 animals received each week, but also supports our special programs such as animal rescue, cruelty investigation and community education."

Three new cards are available in this year's collection. One design, painted by nationally renowned wildlife artist Catherine McClung, of Dexter, features and antique wooden rocking-horse in the snow surrounded by birds. Two new creations by Humane Society staff artist Jan Wahl complete the trio. One design depicts a cat resting in the warmth of a fireplace and the other features a dog catching a snowflake on its tongue. The Society reports that a few of last year's popular designs are still available, including a winter wildlife scene by Catherine McClung.

The greeting cards are available in packages of 10 (with envelopes). Cards may be purchased at the Humane Society; in Ann Arbor at Ann Arbor Pet Supply, John Leidy's Padare Lane Pet Supply, Peaceable Kingdom, Scamp Pet Supply, and University Aquarium; in Chelsea at The Loft; in Plymouth at Specialty
