

Proposed New Chelsea Wastewater Treatment Plant

Editor's Note: This article is being published with the intent of clarifying the issues and facts associated with the proposed construction of the new wastewater facility for the Village of Chelsea. It has been written by members of the Village Council and administrators and represents the best and most factual information available to help village residents understand the many facets of a complicated issue.

Additionally, residents are encouraged to call their elected officials or village administrative officers with any questions that they might have regarding the proposed wastewater treatment facility. It is important that any questions you may have are answered so that an intelligent and informed decision can be made by each voter on the millage issue.

Currently, Chelsea and Manchester are the only two communities in Washtenaw county that are not in substantial compliance with the Federal Clean Water Act.

Our average quarterly bill for sewer service in Chelsea is about $80 per household. It is this low because, during the year, we are dumping millions of gallons of raw, untreated sewage into Letts Creek and the Huron River system. Household costs for other communities, which are in compliance, are $40 and higher.

Chelsea Is One of Only Two Washtenaw County Communities Not in Compliance

In most cases, these are before tax expenses and the real cost to taxpayers is substantially lower.

There is no way, under the Federal Clean Water Act, that Chelsea can continue to save money with its present dirty water act. Whatever it may cost to obey the law and protect the public health will be pennies per day.

Another important consideration is that as more homes and industries are established in Chelsea over the next 15 years, the lower our millage rate will be. Thus, even a modest increase in Chelsea's tax base will reduce household costs.

A final thought on the treatment plant is the consideration of the costs involved if the new facility is not built. There are social costs which are hard to put into a dollars and cents form.

Chelsea, without the new facility, will be a polluter, damaging not only its own immediate environment, but the environment of all the Letts Creek downstream property owners.

Even if the State and Federal government are suddenly to decide to not force Chelsea to comply, we question whether Chelsea wants the image it might take on if it continues to pass untreated sewage into Letts Creek.

Additionally, it should be understood that the Water Resources Commission has adopted a Municipal Compliance Plan for Michigan that calls for total compliance with the Clean Water Act on a state-wide basis by the end of 1988. Thus, the State is ready to apply the full force of the enforcement options which the Clean Water Act provides.

When this is viewed with the knowledge that the grants program in the President's new budget will be eliminated over the next two to three years, the only sensible route to follow is completion of the project.

Stratton L. Rademacher Fatally Injured in Crash Near Traverse City

Stratton L. Rademacher, the 23-year-old son of William and Marlene Rademacher, died last Thursday morning of injuries sustained in an automobile accident near Traverse City.

The 1986 Chelsea High school graduate was returning home from Boyne City late last Wednesday night. He and a Chelsea friend had driven to Boyne City to retrieve Rademacher's automobile, that had broken down earlier. Rademacher was following his friend home when the accident occurred.

According to the Antrim County Sheriff's Department, Rademacher tried to pass another automobile on a steep stretch of road, about two miles north of Traverse City, and struck a northbound vehicle, causing the crash.

Rademacher had been living with his family in Chelsea since he finished his bachelor's degree in speech communications at Colorado State University in Rademacher had originally gone to Boyne City to interview for a sportscasting job at a small radio station. The day after he died, his family received a telephone call offering their son a job at the station.

"His dream was to become a sportscaster," his father said.

Rademacher had pursued that dream since his days at Chelsea High school, where he was active in the speech and communications programs.

Several hundred friends and relatives paid their final respects to Rademacher Monday morning.

Other survivors included his brother, William R., and sister Laura; his maternal grandfather, Mrs. Lloyd Haystack, and uncle and aunt George and Carol Haystack, of Chelsea, and two and Carol Rademacher, of Chelsea.

A Stratton Rademacher Memorial Scholarship Fund has been established in his memory.

Vocal Music Dept. Offers Free Concert

Chelsea High school vocal music department will present a pre-festival concert on Tuesday, March 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the George Prizing Auditorium. Special features include the Contemporaries and Madri-Guys performing music just done at the Solo and Ensemble Festival on Feb. 22.

The Contemporaries will also sing favorites such as "My Prayer" and "Mr. Sandman."

The Madri-Guys get up-to-date with "Longest Time" and "Longer."

Kristina Steffenson and Tana Hermosillo will perform solos from the festival.

The Concert Choir will be performing two songs for their upcoming festival on March 13, "Sing Aloud," and "Let All the Earth."

For the lighter section of the program the choir will demonstrate some dance steps in "Land of a Thousand Dances," choreographed by Jill LaCroix. The choir sings "Truly" and "The World Is Yours."

The concert is free and open to the public.

Children Playing In Gravel Pile Escape Death

Several Chelsea children came dangerously close to hurting or killing themselves last week as they were playing in the county road commission lot at the end of W. Middle St., Chelsea police reported.

According to police chief Lenard McDougall, the children found a frozen pile of gravel, and decided to dig a tunnel into it.

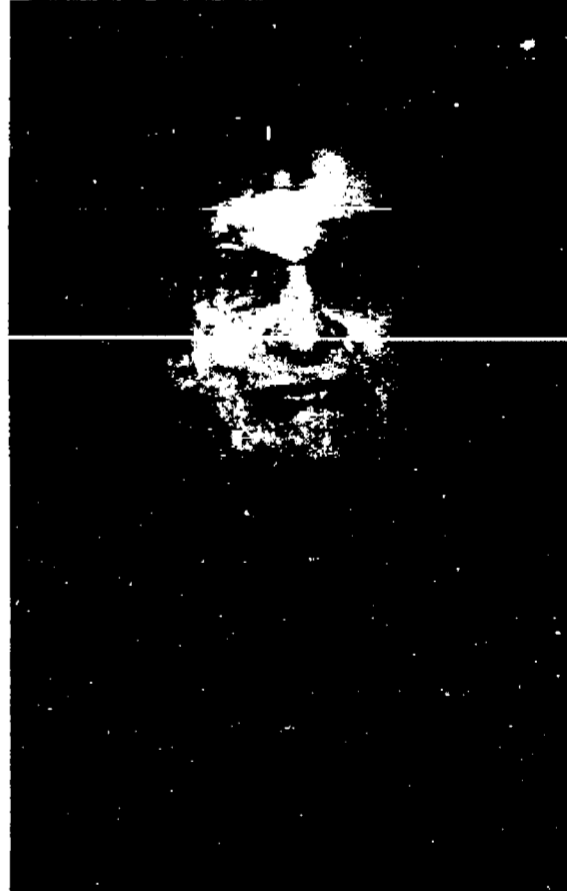

"If those children had dug back into it, and the pile had caved in, we never would have found them," McDougall said.

"Parents should be aware of how dangerous that lot is. There's a lot of hazardous equipment, and there are piles of salt and sand."

After discovering the tunnel, and making sure there were no children inside, McDougall requested that the road commission cave in the gravel pile.

Meet Your Candidates

The following is the fourth in a series of stories concerning candidates for the various offices that will be voted upon in the March 10 village elections. The hope is that it will enable you to cast a more informed vote. The Chelsea Standard does not officially endorse any candidate for any office.

Kathleen Chapman is challenging incumbent William Storey in the March 10 village elections for the office of village treasurer.

The position has an annual salary of $2,400.

The treasurer is responsible for collecting all real and personal property taxes owed to the village. The treasurer mails out tax statements, answers tax questions, keeps track of collections, including the delinquent tax list, and acts as a one-person tax collection agency for the village. He or she is also required to report at least annually to the village council.

William Storey, 216 Jefferson St., has been treasurer since October of 1984 when he was initially appointed to fill the vacancy left by Mary Harris, who resigned.

He ran unopposed in last year's village elections to fill out the term. However, Mrs. Chapman mounted a strong, last-minute write-in campaign and Storey won by a few votes.

Storey has a long history of public service to the village. He previously served as Chelsea's civil defense director, a member of the village council, heading of the planning commission and president of the board of education.

He was a charter member of the Chelsea Jaycees and has been active in the Chelsea Methodist church for more than 25 years.

He is a graduate of Michigan State University and a retired major in the U.S. Marine Corps.

Storey retired from Michigan Bell four years ago, and is currently a partner in an Ann Arbor consulting firm, Prieskorn and Storey, which specializes in data communications.

Storey and his wife, Jean, came to Chelsea in 1950.

Storey estimates he's spent about 700 hours in the last year working as treasurer.

"I've spent more time on the job than I originally intended to," he said.

Storey said he has been able to make some changes and "get rid of some redundancies," in the tax collecting system since he took office. He said there are a third fewer delinquencies and half as much money outstanding.

Kathleen Chapman, 629 N. Main St., has "never been in the political arena," in her own words, but has been extremely active in Chelsea volunteer organizations for many years.

Mrs. Chapman came to the village of Chelsea in 1950, although she has lived in the area all her life.

She worked on a farm until 1950, and then spent 25 years working for the Co-operative Extension Service in Ann Arbor. While with the service, she was

Contributions to Depot Fund Top $7,000 After Ten Days

In the first 10 days since a fund appeal for the Chelsea Rail Depot has been mailed to residents of the Chelsea School District, $7,000 has been received from families and individuals.

According to Gloria Mitchell, treasurer of the Chelsea Depot Association, many families made separate contributions for spouses, children and grandchildren so that each received a lithographed personal Certificate of Donorship.

All certificates, which are historical keepsakes, have been registered and mailed on the day the contribution arrived. The registry of donors will be maintained by the depot association and preserved as a permanent part of the archives of the Chelsea Area Historical Society.

February donations from individuals and families, added to the $16,000 contributed by major local organizations to purchase the depot, plus $8,500 in organizational pledges for 1986, represent a starting capital of more than $31,000 for the depot association.

Thus far, 148 Donor Certificates have been issued. Among them were two honorary certificates awarded in gratitude to Congressman Carl Pursell and his district co-ordinator, Cynthia Hudgins for their help in acquiring ownership of the 106-year-old station.

"We think our public campaign for restoration of the depot is off to a heartening start," treasurer Mitchell stated. "The average contribution has been most generous. There are also numerous individuals and families in the school district who have not yet responded to our appeal. The lag is understandable with Christmas just behind and three layers of taxes straight ahead."

"We are strong enough right now to dig a tunnel into it."

Legislators Visit Michigan Troops

Training in Honduras

Michigan's Adjutant General Vern Andrews returned recently from a four-day fact finding mission to Central America. Departing with Andrews on Feb. 17 were Warren Hoyt, executive director of the Michigan Press Association, Blair Bedient, publisher of daily newspapers in Alhambra and Marshall, and nine members of the Michigan Legislature. They included: Senator Kirby Holmes, R-Utica, and Representatives Mickey Knight, R-Muskegon; Charles Mueller, R-Linden; Ralph Ostling, R-Roscommon; Richard Fitzpatrick, D-Battle Creek; Michael Nye, R-Litchfield; Philip Hoffman, R-Horton; Robert Bender, R-Middleville, and Perry Bullard, D-Ann Arbor.

Primary purpose of the trip was to view training exercises being conducted in Honduras by Michigan Army National Guard personnel of 119th Field Artillery's B Battery, based in Alhambra.

The Michigan Army Guard arranged the trip with U.S. Defense Department approval, to try to offset some of the negative publicity surrounding the United States' activities in Central America.

The Michigan legislators and members of the press were flown on a Georgia Air National Guard C-130 Hercules from Battle Creek Air National Guard Base to Panama, where they received intensive briefings by high ranking military officials of the U.S. Southern Command including its Commander in Chief (four star) General John R. Galvin.

In response to critics who say the Army Guard's participation in Honduras is engineered to provoke an attack by Nicaraguans, the legislators were told this was false. Lt. General Emmett Walker stated "They're wrong. We are training our soldiers to be as qualified as possible." He went on to say that to read and listen to some of the comments you'd think training the Guard overseas was something new. "It isn't. We've been training Guard units overseas for years—in Central America and around the world—in 44 countries."

Asked about the safety of Michigan Guardsmen in Honduras, Adjutant General Vern Andrews said, "they are as safe in Honduras as in any of the other countries we've trained in around the world." He pointed out that more than 20,000 Army National Guard soldiers have trained in Central America in the past three years without a single incident, and that the host country will provide the security.

He also cited the humanitarian needs provided by the Guard's service there. U.S. medical personnel inoculate and treat natives and livestock in the region, while military engineering units build miles of badly needed roads. All of which, Andrews said, helps build good will with our Central American neighbors as well as provide meaningful and readiness training for our troops.

Following the series of day-long briefings in Panama, the group was flown to Palmerola Air Base in Central Honduras for another briefing by the commander of all U.S. troops in Honduras, before being transported in Army Huey helicopters to remote mountain training sites of Michigan Guardsmen.

Swooping in and out of makeshift landing zones in wilderness training areas, Michigan legislators experienced simulated battle field conditions, dined on MRE packs (Meal Ready to Eat), consisting of mostly dehydrated food which were designed to replace the familiar "C" and "K" rations used by our military for decades, and observed first hand the Guard troops from Alhambra's field artillery unit firing live shells at an unseen target over a mountain some six miles away.

During the shelling, almost as if it were pre-planned, the sunny skies gave way to a torrential downpour which added drama to the scene, as well as a few wet seats for the helicopter flight to the Honduran Capital of Tegucigalpa, clinching the Honduran tour with an evening reception and briefing on the country's current political and economic climate.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The news last week was somewhat short of comforting to Clem Webster. He told the fellows at the country store Saturday night that the more we stir the mess in the Philippines the worst it smells, but the most discouraging word came out of Washington as usual. Clem had come to the session with a clipping where the Internal Revenue had just sent out its first batch of refunds untouched by paper and pencil or even human hands.

According to the report, the returns were sent the way you would wire bail money three states away, and Clem said this is to clasp for comfort to what actual happens to taxes sent to Washington. Then the electronic numbers were checked by special trained computers and where refunds were due the computers made out the checks and mailed em. Clem said he had thought the situation up one side and down the other, and he was of a mind that computers have rose up and took over the IRS. He is worried because it's a known fact that the hands that hold the pursestrings run the world.

Democrat Clem said overthrow of IRS by computers would explain why the perposed Reagan budget wants all guns and no butter. Survival of the species is what it is, was Clem's words. Computers know that more computers are needed to handle the high tech weapons systems than farmers and ranchers can use working up inventories for bankrupt sales. And it must of been a teleprompter computer breakdown that caused the President to explain the Filipino election in such a way that all the President's men ain't been able to explain what he meant to say.

Farthermore, Clem went on, if the hands on the pursestrings ain't human, so much the better for the IRS that don't even try to explain the human ways it draws money out of folks. Last year, Clem recalled, IRS humans first blamed computers but final admitted they shredded thousands of income tax forms accidental. Maybe they had been programmed by the computers to cut down the workload, Clem said, but whatever the reason if the computers are running the humans now you can bet they are bent on gitting even.

Republican Ed Doolittle said Clem's comment on the President's farm budget showed he had blown any fuses left in his head. The plain truth is, Ed declared, the Administration is trying to bring agriculture down easy. The new budget cuts farm spending 18 percent, Ed said, but the $44.6 billion in it funds most of the support programs. With the Federal Government in debt $2 trillion and climbing and with Government warehouses filled with farm surplus, what don't make sense is why it's doing as much as it is.

General speaking, the fellows sided with Clem on the computer overthrow idea, farm budget or no. Zeke Grubb said computer revenge is the only way to explain why the Treasury has lost billions supposed to be circulating. Humans might say the missing money is overseas, Zeke said, only because they figger if it was in piggy banks in this country in the same houses with all them back issues of National Geographic the weight would turn the world over.

The truth is, Zeke declared, bank computers are using the money to make $250 million a year in interest while they hold up clearing our checks fer a month or more.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Modern Mothers Learn About Art Of Rug Hooking

The Feb. 11 meeting of Modern Mothers Child Study Club was a progressive dinner with the group meeting at the home of Debbie Peck for punch and hors d'oeuvres. The main course was served at the home of Pat Whitesall and the group moved on to Carol Zenz's home for dessert.

The club welcomed Ann Mann into its membership and exchanged valentine surprises.

On Feb. 23 Joan Esauades demonstrated the art of rug hooking at a meeting held at the home of Janet Alford.

Joan explained the history of rug hooking and displayed the beautiful rugs she has made over the past five years. Joan explained the tedious task of cutting each piece of wool, dyeing the wool and bundling it in preparation for the project. She then "hooked" the strands of wool into the frame-held burlap backing, demonstrating how the pattern is completed. It became clear why these beautiful works of art are indeed priceless treasures to their owners.

Refreshments were prepared and served by Debbie Arend and the evening ended after a short business meeting.

Child Study Club Members Hear of Life in England

Chelsea Child Study Club members were treated to an interesting and informative discussion on life in England at the Feb. 25 meeting.

Jean Cooper and Ann Mason introduced members to the areas they lived in before moving to Chelsea. They spoke of the differences and similarities between the two countries and passed out a quiz to demonstrate the language differences and provide a few facts about England.

The meeting was held at the home of Kay Redding.

The next meeting will be held March 31 at St. Paul United Church of Christ and the members will be introduced to the art of stenciling by Janet Alford.

Pasta Educational Class Offered By Extension Service

What food comes in shapes that mimic seashells, stars, bows, worms and Shirley Temple curls? There are so many varieties of this food that you can dine with a different one every day of the year.

The answer, of course, is pasta, ancient history to Italians, but newly re-discovered by Americans.

The Co-operative Extension Service will sponsor an educational program on Pasta, the Versatile Dish on March 11, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the County Service Center, 4133 Washtenaw. Extension programs are open to all regardless of race, color, creed, sex, handicap or national origin. This program is part of the monthly series, Corner on the Kitchen.

Peter DiLorenzi, restaurant consultant affiliated with Paesano's and Bella Ciao Trattoria restaurants, will demonstrate several varieties of easily prepared sauces that produce the classic dishes in the Italian cuisine.

Marion Prince, extension home economist, will talk about the nutritional contribution of pasta, why it need not mean extra pounds, and how it fulfills with latest dietary recommendations for more complex carbohydrates.

Pioneer Craft Fair Slated March 15

March 15, will find the 13th annual Pioneer Craft Fair taking place at Dexter High school. Hours will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission will be adults, $1.50; grades 1-12, 50¢.

There will be many regular demonstrators among the 50 plus on hand to share their crafts with the public. A newcomer to the fair this year will be George Jull, demonstrating some of his very unusual basketry. John Covington, another newcomer, will share his talents in demonstrating the making of wooden weathervanes. Mr. Covington is a well known artisan in Texas. This will be his first appearance in Michigan, where he will attend several craft shows over the next few weeks.

On hand to share their crafts will be demonstrators of wood-working such as carvings, toys, whittling, etc. Country folk art will include dummy boards, animals, accessories and wood inlay. Jewelry making is always popular, as is the rug weaving and braiding.

This year persons attending the fair will be privileged to view the work of some very special people, the Hmong. If you are interested in needlework, such as quilting, this will be of special interest. This tribal needlecraft pa nadu (pronounced pond ow) survived the ravages of war in Laos during the 1960s. Communist cruelty in the 1970s and a desperate 12,000 mile journey to the United States in the 1980s.

Today this unique folk art, created by Southeast Asian mountain people called the Hmong, is kept alive by dedicated church groups. The church groups are preserving the craft, a combination of reverse applique, applique and embroidery and using it to help the Hmong refugees become financially independent. Working without measuring tools of any sort, these talented people create breathtaking works combining complex geometric designs in reverse applique with stitches so fine they are practically invisible. As the children of the Hmong become Americanized, this art may become lost; therefore, any of their work will only increase in value.

Have you wondered what happens to the monies generated by this craft fair? It is used to defray the expenses of the Dexter Area Museum. One of only two money makers sponsored by the Dexter Historical Society during each year, it is a vital part of keeping the museum operating. This fair benefits not only the museum but the village as well since people stop and eat or shop in the various stores after visiting the fair.

Luncheon will be provided by the Dexter Heritage Guild. There will be a bake table, loaded with the items that we all look forward to purchasing. Cookies will also be for sale to nibble on while touring the fair.

Three door prizes will go home with some lucky persons at the close of the day. Mary Rush has donated one of her very popular corn husk dolls. John Covington has given a "Miss Liberty" wooden weather vane. The Iretons have donated one of their charming wooden trains. Tickets will be on sale during the fair.

Federal, state, county, and local governments operate over 2.7 million motor vehicles to provide services

THE CHELSEA BULLDOG has appeared in many forms over the years, but rarely as a block of ice. Three sophomores worked quickly in the bitter cold to produce everybody's favorite mascot for the ice sculpture contest, part of last week's

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I find the following quote from Michigan writer Jim Harrison's poem, "Returning To Earth," a most appropriate response to Will Connolly's latest diatribe (2/26/86):

"O Faustus talks to himself, talks to himself, talks to himself, talks to himself, talks to himself, Faustus talks to himself, talks to himself."

To Mr. Hamilton,

Being thoroughly impressed by the writing skills you displayed so well in the Sports Notes in The Chelsea Standard last week, I would like to take this opportunity to inform you of a few things which you may not have been previously aware of.

In the first place, athletes' first responsibilities are to their studies; if they were not most sports fans would have nothing to watch because there would be few athletes, period, and fewer would be capable of being accepted to college, let alone eligible to participate in college athletics.

In addition to which, maybe if you had spent more time "studying Dickens and the Civil War" and trying to be an honors student in school you would have been able to find a better job. Since working for The Standard doesn't appear to be such a good one. That is if the writing you've displayed in the Sports Notes is the best The Standard is able to produce.

Furthermore, I would like to take this opportunity in "speaking" for the rest of The Standard readers, as well as for myself, to express my deepest sympathies for you in your present state of depression and to say I am truly sorry that our athletic abilities depress you so, for no one deserves such "Gloom, despair, -Deep dark depression," and, "excessive misery."

Finally, I cordially invite you personally to come up to the high school and "bang heads" at any time. Even though since I was not a member of a championship wrestling team, I may not be of your caliber.

Very sincerely,

Steve Wingrove

"One of the boys with...not enough footwork!" (Taken in reference to the Feb. 26, 1986 issue of The Chelsea Standard.)

Sheriff Schebil Heads Criminal Justice Assoc.

On Jan. 22, Sheriff Ronald Schebil was elected chairperson of the County's Criminal Justice Association. The Association boasts 21 members from all the local, state, and federal law enforcement and corrections agencies in Washtenaw county.

Schebil points out that the group's significance rests with the fact that the agency heads themselves are the ones who participate in the Association's activities. This makes it a "true" consolidation of Community Law Enforcement/Corrections policy makers, capable of taking appropriate action, when and where it is required, to benefit our many county communities. "With so many agencies of differing levels and concerns, it is an amazingly willing and viable group," remarked Schebil. "I intend to develop a prioritized agenda based on the Association's consensus, and focus on these joint issues one at a time. I'm sure we won't be lacking for activity."

Schebil used the opportunity of discussing the Association to point to other efforts of "integrated policy making," such as the Washtenaw County Policy Team (head of all the county departments) and the county's Human Service Committee, which have been quite successful at addressing issues of mutual concern. These are all groundbreaking efforts, and those of us who are involved to any degree have learned a great deal about effective resource allocations. In these kinds of efforts, Washtenaw county is easily the front runner in the state."

Do you have PMS?

Recent research indicates that pre-menstrual syndrome may be the most common medical condition in the world. Forty percent of all women suffer from it occasionally, and ten percent of them have such a serious combination of symptoms that they require medical treatment.

What is PMS?

PMS is a hormone disorder that originates in the brain, not in the reproductive organs, so it can affect women of all ages. Symptoms include headaches, fatigue, depression, anxiety, eating binges, and mood swings, but the symptoms can be as diverse as women themselves. The common denominator and the key to diagnosis is the cyclical occurrence of the symptoms.

What is The Michigan PMS Program?

The Michigan PMS Program is part of the new Women's Health Center at Chelsea Community Hospital. At The Michigan PMS Program, you will never be told that there is nothing wrong with you or that your symptoms are your fault. Your symptoms will be carefully evaluated, and an individualized treatment program will be designed to relieve your specific condition.

Contact The Michigan PMS Program for more information at (313) 475-1311, ext. 196. The Women's Health Center would like to know about your interests and needs for future services. Call us with your ideas and suggestions.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

SAVE $5 MILLION OR TOSS IT DOWN THE SEWER?

Our family home on McKinley Rd. is just a short distance north of the village limits. Recently surveyors have been hard at work in the cornfield across the road, evidently plotting (or plotting) a subdivision. So I do not believe all this stuff about Chelsea remaining within its present boundaries for 20 years. I may become a resident of the village within five years and that is why I wish I could vote in the important sewer bond issue on the ballot next Monday.

Part of my viewpoint on the Chelsea sewer issue is rooted in 14 years of service as public relations counsel, writer and editor for the National Sanitation Foundation. They happen to have a testing laboratory here in Chelsea, but more important, NSF is one of the nation's most prestigious agencies in the field of wastewater treatment.

Even though I am not a registered Chelsea Village voter, I am going to write today from this viewpoint because that is how I feel.

Our village is facing a legal, economic and public health crisis. We've got to rebuild our sewerage system at a cost of $2 million now or pay as much as $7 million later. We are dumping millions of gallons of raw, untreated sewage into the Huron River system, an unsanitary practice which has been declared against the law by the federal government (enforced by the EPA) and the State of Michigan (enforced by the DNR).

Our municipal sewage treatment system is so old, so undersized, so out of date, that we dump 200,000 gallons of raw sewage on each of about 45 days a year into Letts Creek. Raw sewage means the untreated contents of our toilets, garbage disposers, laundry machines and industries. We send this stuff straight downstream to Dexter, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and Lake Erie. These are the 45 days when we have a fairly heavy rain but there are other periods when our aging sewers and treatment plants have been severely overloaded. We have been forced to discharge millions of gallons of partially treated sewage into the water system of our region.

Chelsea, like thousands of other communities populated by decent, responsible citizens, has been unaware of the extent of its guilt in water pollution. Much time and money has been wasted because we have not been properly informed about our responsibilities under the Federal Clean Water Act which was passed in 1972. The government has been patient and generous in helping communities such as ours to comply with the law. For the planning alone, Chelsea has been given a grant of $155,000. This has paid the funding of plans for an expanded, modernized sewer system that will cost about $4.5 million. That estimate is the result of a study made by a qualified national engineering firm and a parallel study made by the EPA.

The estimate may not be entirely accurate. There may be cost overruns as unexpected problems are encountered. There may be savings as economies appear. Give or take differences of five to ten percent, the essence of the problem today is this: We can lose millions by delaying or obstructing the project, or we can pay $4.5 million if we vote YES to the bond issue next Monday—the government will pick up 55 percent ($2.5 million) of the 4.5 million dollar bill while we pay 45 percent, or $2 million.

By voting YES to the bond issue, we will borrow our two million probably with 15-year bonds. Based on a current interest rate on municipal bonds of 9 percent, your YES vote will cost you about 56 cents a day during the life of the bonds. The payments of principal and interest may either be in the form of millage tax increases or sewerage charges.

What if you decide, "Nuts to all this," and you mark the ballot NO?

If enough other people say NO, so that the issue is defeated, we will not only be in non-compliance with the Federal Clean Water Act, we will be in defiance of it. We will then be liable to multimillion dollar water pollution lawsuits by Dexter, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti or any downstream community. We can become in contempt of court, or convicted under the Clean Water Act, where a federal judge is entitled to fine Chelsea $2,500 a day until the new waste treatment plant is in operation. This $2,500 per day is the minimum daily fine under the Clean Water Act. If we then decide to comply with the law, and it takes two years to get the plant into operation, the NO votes on our March 10 bonding issue will have cost us five million dollars. HOW? The $2,500 a day fines will add up to $1.8 million. There will be a demand for repayment of the $155,000 for the plans we rejected. There will be the withdrawal of the $2.5 million in federal sharing funds. Construction costs will have gone up by eight to ten percent. Bond interests may have risen to 12 or 14 percent.

The voter who voted NO to save something like 56 cents a day is more likely to wind up paying $1.39 a day for the 15 years for a personal or family total of $7,600.

As for the registered voter who decides on March 10 that it's too much bother to go to the polls, it's about as bright as stuffing his or her purse full of money and then tossing it out of the car window on the way down the street.

I sure wish I was entitled to go to the polls Monday and vote YES for the sewer bond issue. I hope it passes by a generous margin, but would still feel good if the final tally turned out to be 250 to 249.

RAGGEDY ANN AND ANDY were on hand last week at Chelsea High school for Storybook Day, part of the 1986 Winter Carnival sponsored by the student council. Students dressed up as characters from nursery rhymes, fairy tales, and history. Each day of the week-long carnival had a different dress theme. Raggedy Ann was played by Charan Street, right, and Melanie Flanagan took the part of Andy.

Seniors, Freshmen Were Winter Carnival Winners

Chelsea High school's annual Winter Carnival ended last week with the seniors and freshmen tying for first, the sophomores coming in second, and the juniors coming in third.

The week's events included a snowball toss, a volleyball game, and an ice sculpting contest. The students showed their pep by dressing according to the day's themes. Monday was Sweets Day, Tuesday was Bum Day, Wednesday 50's and 60's Day, Thursday Storybook Day, and Friday was Blue and Gold.

The week ended with a pep rally, featuring air bands, the basketball game against Pinckney, and a Blue and Gold dance. The 1986 Winter Carnival King was crowned at the game. This year's winner was junior Curtis Heard. His escort, Michelle Kuhl, is also a junior.

Winter Carnival chairpersons were junior Elizabeth Maurer and senior Gary Johnson.

This Week's Thought

By
DONALD A. COLE

Nearly every one at one time or another has been caught in a horrible storm while driving a car. There were times when your windshield wiper could hardly clear your window to give you a clear view of the road. At such times the yellow and white lines on the road were certainly helpful. Without them you probably would not have been able to continue driving. The yellow and white lines kept you out of trouble and protected your safety.

There is a parallel here that can be drawn for use in our day by day living. Safety lines have been given to us and no one can dispute it. The lines are safety guides and common sense should tell us how important they are. Yet, some people continually ignore them, sadly and foolishly.

The basic guides are in the Bible such as the Beatitudes, the Lord's Prayer and of course the all important Ten Commandments. Is it not true that if we follow these white lines carefully, we would avoid many ditches of difficulty in our daily living?

At the Kiwanis Club "pay-off" dinner the losers for the annual Travel Series ticket sales entertained the winners. The winners, Jim Daniels' team of William Freeman, James Liebeck, William Rademacher, William Collins, A. S. Penhalligon, George Palmer, Harold Jones, Charles Cameron and George Doe, ate T-bone steak and the losers ate spaghetti.

Entertaining musicians were P. G. "Slider" Schauble, Jr.; Lou "Licorice Stick" Allen; Wally "Hot Lips" Wood; Mac "Molasses" McClure; Bill "Big Bang" Rich; and Loring "Bongo" Bates. "Miss" Edwin (a?) Greenleaf, demonstrated the Twist, the newest dance craze which Judge Chandler Rogers seemed to "catch on fast" to; Don Turner demonstrated the "Mexican Hat Dance" and Ralph Guenther played his saxophone while his losing team performed.

Three outstanding 4-H members were honored at the annual Washtenaw county livestock banquet attended by 300 persons. Richard Haist for his outstanding projects in beef; Mary Sue Gordon, sheep; and Gene Girbach from Saline for swine.

Chelsea village clerk George Winans and police chief John Palmer joined yesterday in what they described as "another warning" against unscrupulous encyclopedia salesmen. To avoid spending several hundred dollars for future editions, residents were urged to ask to see the salesman's permit issued by the village, with the signature of George Winans.

The 1952 Red Cross drive for funds got underway here Monday. Mrs. John Fischer, who is heading the campaign as chairman for the third consecutive year, said she was hopeful people in the community would make it easy for the volunteer block workers by having their contributions ready when the block workers call.

Chelsea upset Saline to the tune of 49-46 before a capacity crowd last Friday night. Thus put the Bulldogs in the second place in the Huron League standings because Dundee edged out Lincoln Consolidated by a tight 22-21 score to tie Saline for first place. Bob White led the Bulldog attack with 20 points, while Dick Merkel dumped in 11 and Joe Greenwood sank 9.

Extensive damage resulted when fire of undetermined origin broke out in the Jack Joseph residence on Madison St. while the family was away. The fire was discovered by Mac Packard, a neighbor, who turned in the alarm at 8:30 p.m. The entire inside of the living room, together with the furniture, curtains and other furnishings, was burned out.

Three men were elected to serve as members of the board of education during the consolidation of the Pleasant Lake Primary School District No. 1, March 3, at Freedom Town Hall: Roy Bihlmeyer, of the former Kuebler school district, moderator; Nathan Albor, of Silver Lake district, treasurer; and Alton Horning, of Pleasant Lake, trustee.

Features throughout the week at the Sylvan Theatre are "Indian Uprising" with George Montgomery; "Joan of Arc" starring Ingrid Bergman and Jose Ferrer, and "Love Star" starring Clark Gable, Ava Gardner, Broderick Crawford and Lionel Barrymore.

Ann Arbor Symphony Band Offering Concert

On Saturday March 9, the Ann Arbor Symphony Band under the direction of Victor Bordo will present a special concert, a March Concert of Marches. The concert will be at 3 p.m. in Pioneer High School's Schreiner Auditorium.

The program, consisting of marches from all over the world, will appeal to people of all ages. Military marches, ceremonial marches, and marches celebrating various holidays will be performed, including a variation of one of the greatest marches, "The Stars and Stripes Forever," composed by John Philip Sousa.

Other selections include: "Three Revolutionary Marches," Smetana; "Alla Marcia," Sibelius; "Guadalcanal March," Richard Rogers; "Coronation March," Tchaikovsky; "Country Band March," Charles Ives; "Valdres," Hanssen; "The Circus Bee," Fillmore; "El Bersaglieri March," Boccalari; plus much more.

Parents of children who play instruments in the school program are encouraged to attend with their children. The concert is free.

Hospital Prepares To Face Possible Area Disasters

Chelsea Community Hospital serves an important role as a health care facility in the communities it serves. In the event of a natural or other type of disaster individual and families from the surrounding county or counties involved will most likely come to the hospital to receive necessary medical treatment or triage. This makes preparedness on the part of the hospital essential to the health and safety of the county.

Disasters such as tornadoes, fires, flooding or accidents are among those to which the hospital must be prepared to respond. To do this, the hospital has declared Feb. 14-March 14 Disaster Awareness Month. Staff from all areas and departments of the hospital are participating in voluntary "awareness quizzes" and other activities to raise awareness of those steps necessary in responding quickly and efficiently to a disaster.

Emergency services, communications, transportation and the movement of patients and staff in a disaster are being reviewed and rehearsed.

The thought of any type of disaster occurring is not something one likes to think about. Yet in such an event, it is good to know that Chelsea Community Hospital is prepared.

WHEN THE LAST SNOW IS GONE the roof will be inspected and the repainting of the depot—starting again from the bare wood—will

USDA Cautions Participants In Dairy Termination Program

Dairy farmers who anticipate submitting a bid to participate in the recently enacted milk production termination program should be advised that changes in the size and composition of their dairy herds may effect their eligibility for the program, warns Milton Hertz, acting administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

The Food Security Act of 1985 provides that participants in the program give information on the size and composition of their dairy herds during a base period and the size and composition of their dairy herds at the time they submit a bid.

Under the program, producers may enter into contracts with the government by submitting bids to dispose of their dairy herds and terminate any interest they have in the production of milk. Producers who submit acceptable bids and who meet program requirements will receive payments from the USDA.

CHelsea SENIOR KELLY FLETCHER takes the role of a specialist for one of her fellow students at the Huron Valley Beauty Academy. Kelly is having a mask applied. The academy, set up by the South and West Washtenaw Consortium, gives students 1,200 hours of instruction over two years in everything from facials to permanents. Students also earn 3½ credit hours a year.

CHelsea JUNIOR AME KEURZEL shampoos the hair of a real customer as part of her training at the Huron Valley Beauty Academy. Keurzel is one of three Chelsea High school girls enrolled in the academy, which is owned and operated by the Southwestern Washtenaw Consortium. Keurzel will attend the school for two years, including this summer, and will be eligible to take the state licensing exam upon graduating. It's all part of the consortium's vocational education program.

Cosmetology Course Offered By Consortium

Every weekday morning, six girls from Chelsea and Dexter High schools go to Ann Arbor to learn how to work on hair and nails.

The students are part of a revamped program by the South and West Washtenaw Consortium, along with Ann Arbor public schools, that is designed to give the young ladies (boys are welcome, but none have signed up as far) a complete education in cosmetology. When they complete the two-year course, they'll be ready to take the licensing exam given by the Michigan State Board of Cosmetology. Many of the graduates will eventually own businesses.

The two-year course, for students at Dexter, Chelsea, Manchester, Saline and Milan High schools, and Ann Arbor high schools, takes a big commitment on the part of the students. They spend three and a half hours each day at the school, called the Huron Valley Beauty Academy, for two full years, including summer.

Chelsea students enrolled include Cris Hiltz, Ame Keurzel and Kelly Fletcher. Dexter students are Jennifer Ledwidge, Lisa Farabaugh and Billie Laraway.

"We have an elaborate screening process," said Dave Mieras, director of the South and West Washtenaw Consortium. "We take a very close look at a student's past attendance and discipline record. We also want students whose parents will be supportive since many of the girls have to come a long way every day to class."

The school is unusual in that it is wholly owned and operated by the consortium. Until this year, the consortium operated on contracts with private cosmetology schools in Ann Arbor to provide the service.

"We had a lot of problems with that arrangement," Mieras said. "We became very concerned about the curriculum, and we wanted to make sure the school maintained a qualified staff."

The school is located in a 4,000-square-foot storefront on W. Stadium Blvd. near Liberty Rd., behind Farmer Jack's supermarket. It was intentionally located in a shopping center rather than in one of the schools for business reasons. Few people think to go to a public school for a permanent.

The school offers a complete line of cut-rate services, from body waves to manicures. A senior student performs the work, supervised by one of the instructors. Eventually, Mieras hopes the walk-in business will subsidize the storefront rent and utilities, or about 40 percent of the cost of the school.

Students pay nothing. It is treated just like any other vocational education class. All equipment, such as blow dryers, curling irons, and even a personal mannequin, is provided.

The training is rigorous. Students have an hour or more of "theory" work, followed by hands-on practice of techniques. They have to wash for 100 hours before they can work on anyone other than a classmate or their mannequin. They receive grades, just like students in any other class.

The course is good for three and a half credit hours a year. It provides a total of 1,200 hours of instruction.

"If a student were to try to buy this education on her own it would cost anywhere from $2,000-$3,000," Mieras said.

The school's staff is headed by Michelle Brunoch, who moved to Ann Arbor from Traverse City. She is assisted by Jody Gienahl, another instructor, and Cynthia Cramer, an assistant.

There are 45 girls in the program, and Mieras said the school has a capacity of 80.

The first organization of black workers was the American League of Colored Laborers, located in New York City in 1888, according to "Labor First in America," a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor.

DEXTER TOWNSHIP SUPERVISOR Jim Drolett, shown before the zoning map in Dexter Township Hall, explained the township board adopted a new fee structure at their Jan. 21 meeting, responding to complaints from citizens who said they had followed procedures set down for new or additional construction on their property, but realized they paid the same fees as other citizens who proceeded with construction without filing in advance for proper permits. When it was discovered the second group improperly began their construction, they filed AC (after construction had been either started or completed) and the result was they paid the same amount in fees as those who had filed in advance of the work being started. They felt this was unfair, they said. Drolett explained the township board agreed the complaints were justified and took action to amend the fee structure to make it easier for the people who seek permits or hearings with the zoning board after beginning construction.

Dexter Township Revamps Zoning Permit Fee Structure

Dexter township board members took action at their regular meeting, Jan. 21, to revamp the fee structure for citizens requesting zoning permits and/or hearings before the township zoning board, a step preparatory to requesting a building permit from the county building inspector.

Supervisor Jim Drolett explained the board had received several complaints from township citizens who felt other people who ignored the procedure to file for zoning permits before beginning construction had filed later, but were not required to pay any penalty amount. Instead, those people really paid the same amount as those who followed the proper procedures, some complaints related.

The township board sought to correct this situation by adopting the new fee structure, Drolett said. Under the new rate structure, those applying for a zoning permit in advance of beginning new or additional construction on their property will be charged $50, while those who seek a zoning permit after construction has begun will be charged $200.

The fee for requesting a hearing before the township zoning board of appeals will be $50 for those who place their request prior to beginning construction, but for the people who request a hearing with the zoning board of appeals after their construction starts, the fee will be $200.

Section 10.02 of Article 10 from the township zoning ordinance states: "No building or other structure, including farm buildings and structures, shall be erected, moved, added to, or structurally altered unless a building permit has been issued therefor by the building inspector. No building permit shall be issued by the building inspector except in conformity with this ordinance, unless he receives a written order from the board of appeals in the form of an administrative review or variance as provided by this ordinance."

The section further states, "Plans submitted in application shall contain information necessary for determining conformity with this ordinance."

Dexter township is one of the faster growing townships in Washtenaw county, with new construction a major item in the growth of the area. Recent statistics published in the report from the Washtenaw County Planning Commission indicate Dexter township will gain from 2,000-3,000 people by the year 2000. Total population of the township is now listed in the 2,000-4,999 category.

Anyone wondering whether or not they need a zoning permit or a hearing before the zoning board may call Dexter township zoning inspector Merritt Homburg at 475-7448. If residents own a non-conforming lot (and there are many non-conforming lots in the township), a variance will probably be needed. Again, the zoning inspector will be able to answer any questions and save residents some dollars.

At the Dec. 17 board meeting, Robert H. Burns of Portage Lake was appointed "night inspector" by the township board. The board took the action to free Homburg for other duties of the zoning inspector's office.

Questions Arise Over Use of Weed Killer in Hi-Land Lake

Concern over a long range effect of treating the waters of Hi-Land Lake with chemicals to eliminate or at least control the unusual growth of eurasian water milfoil in the lake prompted members of the Portage and Bear Lakes Owners Association to invite officials of the Hi-Land Lake Association to attend the meeting of the PBOA.

as reported in their recent newsletter.

Vi Scott and Bob Robey, president of the Hi-Land Lake Association, attended the meeting as well as William Krauss, president of the firm selected to apply the chemicals.

PBOA directors also invited to the meeting Dr. Wally Fusilier, water scientist from Water Resource Consultants, Ellen Scavia, executive director of the Huron River Watershed Council, Bobby Lawrence from the Washtenaw County Cooperative Extension office and Dexter township supervisor Jim Drolett, hoping for an exchange of information on the matter.

Hi-Land Lake residents are faced with a problem of heavy weed growth in their lake. Ellen Scavia told The Chelsea Standard this week that eurasian milfoil is a weed highly resistant to many of the chemicals ordinarily used to control weeds. "When certain chemicals are applied, other weeds may be destroyed—but eurasian milfoil is characterized by a system of dense roots which are very difficult to destroy," she said. Apparently 2-4D is one of the few chemicals capable of eradicating eurasian milfoil, even temporarily.

Only certain procedures and specific chemicals are allowed in Michigan lakes and streams by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, and Margaret Hala, aquatic biologist with the Inland Lakes Management Unit, Division of Land Resource Programs, explained early this week to The Chelsea Standard that no request for permit has yet been received by either the Hi-Land Lake Association or Krauss' firm, Aquatic Management Services, which the Hi-Land Lake people explained would be the applicator.

"No permits are ever issued before March 1," related Ms. Hein. In seeking a permit to treat Michigan waters with chemicals, she explained the prospective applicator must indicate the amount of chemical or chemicals, place of treatment and a host of additional information. The DNR considers each application on an individual basis, she added.

She felt the chemicals suggested to control the eurasian milfoil would not be contrary to the guidelines of the DNR, but did confirm that the frequency of treatment might go beyond a single application (and usually multiple treatments were allowed during the year).

A report listing actual treatment date and amounts of chemical(s) used is required by the DNR from the applicator, she indicated.

Addressing concerns of the PBOA members, Frank L. Braun, president of the group, said in a letter dated Jan. 20 and sent to Howard Wandell, who heads the DNR Inland Lake Management Unit in Lansing. "We are concerned about the use of 2-4D to control eurasian water milfoil in Hi-Land Lake, located in Livingston county. We have been assured by the applicator,

Bulldog Cagers Lose To Pinckney on 3-Point Play in Final Seconds

A three-point play by forward Steve Black with two seconds to go gave the Pinckney Pirates a dramatic 54-53 come-from-behind victory over the sliding Chelsea Bulldogs last Friday in the Chelsea gym.

The Pirates never led until that final free throw.

The loss gave the Pirates and Bulldogs identical 2-10 marks in Southeastern Conference play, a dead-heat for last place. Pinckney's only league victories came at the expense of the Bulldogs.

In other Chelsea action last week, the Bulldogs lost a non-conference match to Dearborn, 71-45, in Dearborn.

"We just didn't play very well, and it didn't really matter who was on the floor," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter of the Pinckney game. "We should never have been in a position to lose at the end of the game."

The Bulldogs played inspired basketball for the first few minutes, jumping out to a quick 8-0 lead. But five turnovers, of all varieties, wrapped around a field goal by Dan Bellus, put Pinckney right back in the game at 18-7. That set the trend of the game. Good basketball followed by sloppy play. By the end of the first quarter, Chelsea led 14-7. They stretched the lead to 10 points by half-time, 29-19.

Pinckney began the third quarter with a three point play, off a steal, by Rob Henr. The Pirates went on to close the lead to three points by the middle of the quarter, 31-28, before falling behind by seven points at the end of the period, 40-33.

A free throw by Mike Merkel on a technical foul put the Bulldogs up by 10 points, 51-41, in the middle of the fourth quarter. After that it all began to fall apart.

Turnovers plagued the Dogs the rest of the way. They committed 12 for the quarter and three in the final 1:40. Although Chelsea ended with a respectable 65 percent free throw shooting on the night, they failed to make any in their last three one-and-one situations, including one with 19 seconds left and the Bulldogs ahead 53-51. The combination was too much to overcome.

The loss spoiled "the best game of the year," by Chelsea forward Mark Bareis, Rosentreter said. Bareis had 26 points on 13-16 free throw shooting, and 19 rebounds, eight of them offensive.

Chelsea shot a reasonable percentage from the floor for the night, 18-45, or 40 percent. A substantial rebound edge went to the Bulldogs as well, 34-20.

"I don't know if we ever really got into an offensive set in the second half," Rosentreter said. "In the last three or four games, we've haven't been able to do much in the second half, especially the third quarter."

Other Chelsea scorers included Ken Martin, nine points, John Jedele, seven points, Bellus, five points, Todd Starkey and Ray Spencer, two points, and Merkel, one point.

The Dearborn game was "a mirror image," of the Pinckney game, Rosentreter said.

Chelsea again took a quick lead, 22-16, with two minutes to go in the first half, before the collapse began. By the end of the third quarter the Bulldogs were down 52-32.

Shooting told the story. Chelsea hit only 6-31 in the second half, while Dearborn was 30-30.

"If there was anyone I would compare them to it would be Saline," Rosentreter said. "They were big and strong, and they completely took away our inside game."

Harvey and Jedele, who split time at center, didn't score a point between them. Bareis was held to an anemic five points, way below his average.

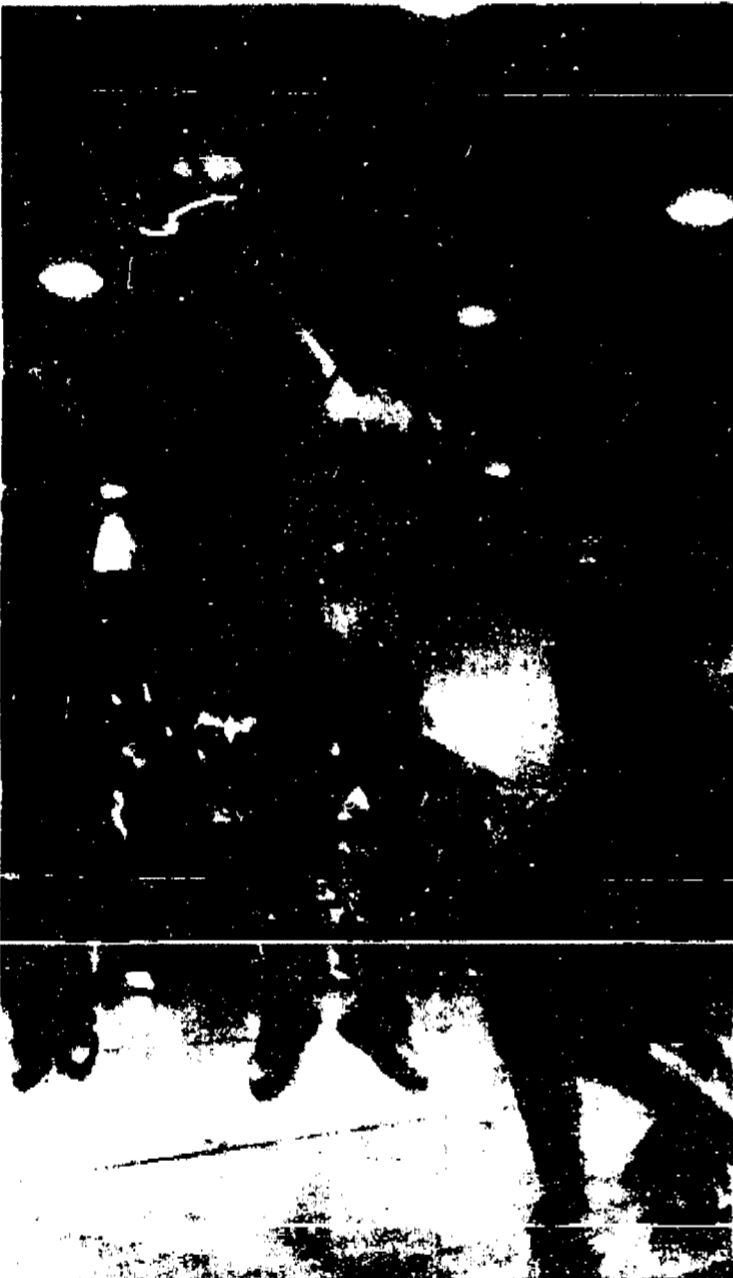

"Our rebounding was pathetic," Rosentreter said. "That was especially true on the offensive boards. They packed the zone in and we could never get inside."

Martin and Bellus managed to hit their jumpers for 18 and 17 points, respectively. Production fell off dramatically afterward, though, as Matt Bohlander had three points, and Starkey scored two.

The Bulldogs were scheduled to open district tournament play last night at Jackson Lumen Christi against Dexter. They would play Brooklyn Columbia Central game if they get by the Draughts.

Chelsea ended the regular season with a 7-13 over-all mark.

CENTER JOHN JEDELE goes up strong for two points during last Friday's loss to the Pinckney Pirates. Jedele scored seven points on the night, although the Bulldogs lost their final home game, 54-53, at the buzzer.

TRYING TO FIND THE OPEN MAN is Chelsea senior forward Dan Bellus, while Pinckney center Steve Oestreich holds his position. Bellus scored five points on the night, and the Bulldogs lost their sixth straight game, and second in a row to the Pirates, 54-53.

All-Conference Honors Awarded Basketball Players

Mark Bareis and Ken Martin of Chelsea, and Eric Meistrup and Kyle Menard of Dexter were given post-season honors by the Southeastern Conference basketball coaches.

Meistrup, a senior guard, made the all-conference first team, along with Lincoln's Joe Ross, Bill Eaddy of Milan, and Mark Pearsall and John Anderson of Saline.

Bareis was named to the second team, along with John Hartley of Tecumseh, Pat Connor of Saline, Ernest Walker of Milan, and Jesse Broome of Lincoln.

Both Martin and Menard made the honorable mention teams.

PETE HANNA, left, finished sixth in the class B state wrestling meet in Charlotte last week-end. Pete wrestled in an extremely difficult 119-pound division.

Pete Hanna 6th in State Tournament

Chelsea senior Pete Hanna took sixth place in the class B state wrestling meet in Charlotte last week-end.

Hanna, at 119 pounds, won his first two matches on Friday, before losing a tough 3-2 decision to the eventual state champion in the semi-finals on Saturday.

"I understand exactly how Pete felt about losing that match because I did exactly the same thing my sophomore year in high school," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel. "That semi-final match is the key to the whole thing, and it tends to grind you down and wear you out. Pete put everything into it and was completely drained afterward. If Pete had won that match he would have had a good shot at being state champion since the boy who beat him pinned his opponent in the finals."

That semi-final opponent was Jimmie White, of Muskegon Orchard View. White escaped in the last 17 seconds to pull out the match.

On Friday, Hanna pinned Pat McQuire of Centerline, and won a 2-0 decision over Gene Sharp of Grand Rapids Northview.

After Saturday's semi-final match with White, Hanna lost his next match to Dave Beck of Hillsdale, 12-7, a guy who has beaten him several times this year. In his third match of the day he lost to Conn Ellison of Fenton, 15-7.

"You have to be a wrestler and you have to be someone who's had a lot of competition to know what it's like to lose in the semi-finals," Kargel said.

"It's just so heart-breaking to come back. I thought Pete might have trouble with Beck because he put everything in that semi-final match. But it's a real honor to finish in the top six."

Frosh Cagers Close Season at 5-13 Mark

Chelsea's freshman basketball team started their final week by losing a one-point 48 to 47 decision to Tecumseh Monday at the Chelsea High school.

Leading 13 to 10 at the half, the Bulldogs didn't handle Tecumseh's press well in the third quarter and fell behind, 32 to 25, entering the final eight minutes.

Tecumseh scored first increasing their lead to nine then Chelsea went to work, scoring 22 points in a hectic fourth quarter that had the fans cheering till the very end.

"We played very good defense in the first half allowing them only 10 points," stated coach Dave Quiter, "but then we didn't handle their press in the third quarter and gave up 22 points. As they have done all year the kids didn't give up and we came back in the fourth quarter and nearly pulled it off. Having three starters foul out didn't seem to bother us in that quarter as everybody contributed."

John Collins led Chelsea scorers with 18 points, Dave White had 10, Jeff Marshall 8, Dave Adams 5, Larry Nix 4 and Loren Keezer 2.

Jeff Marshall helped Chelsea to a 47 to 31 rebounding edge over the taller Indians with 12 boards. John Collins and Dave White each had nine with Loren Keezer pulling down seven.

Hampering the effort was the high total of turnovers, 30, by the Bulldogs, their highest total of the year.

In their second game in two days the freshmen lost to East Lansing's "B" squad by a 64 to 49 margin in a game played Tuesday.

JV Cagers Drop Final 2 Contests

Chelsea JV basketball team dropped its final two games of the season last week, one a double-overtime loss to Dearborn on Tuesday, 60-57, and the other a 54-46 loss to the Pinckney Pirates in Friday's final home game.

The Bulldogs had their chances to win both games, according to Chelsea coach Ted Hendricks.

In the Dearborn defeat, the Bulldogs came back from a three-point third quarter deficit to send the game into overtime. Both teams scored four points in the first OT, knotting the score at 54. But poor Chelsea shooting in the second overtime cinched the game for the host team. The Bulldogs made 3-10 shots in overtime.

"I was probably never more upset during the season than I was with this game," Hendricks said.

"At one time in the fourth quarter we took the ball down seven straight times, didn't execute our offense, and didn't score a single point. If we had scored on any of those possessions, we would have won the game."

Hendricks' starting line-up featured several second-teamers. That strategy didn't make much difference in the outcome since the score was tied at half-time at 27.

Chelsea lost the game despite a whopping 37-21 rebound advantage, including 15 offensive rebounds. They also shot 42 percent from the field.

Matt Steinhauer scored a game-high 26 points. Clay Hurd finished in double figures with 12 points, Matt Monroe had five, and Greg Houghton, Tim Anderson, Kevan Planigan and Junior Morseau all scored two.

"We lost the Pinckney game in just about the same way we lost the Dearborn game," Hendricks said. "We seem to play in spurts, and there's not a lot of consistency."

Twenty-nine Chelsea turnovers was the main culprit in the loss. Chelsea lost the ball 11 times in the first quarter alone, enroute to

Laura Anderson Playing Softball This Year for MSU

Laura Anderson, daughter of Richard and Josephine Anderson, will be playing softball for Michigan State University this spring. She played third base on Chelsea's 1985 State Championship team.

The Spartan team has been lifting weights, running and working out since October. Since winter term, their workouts have stepped up to twice a day. They will be going to Florida during their spring break and playing several games there before the regular season starts April 2.

Laura is looking forward to playing against former Chelsea pitchers, Amy Unterbrink and Kelly Hawker, when MSU plays Indiana (April 25-28 in East Lansing) and Wayne State (April 22 in Detroit), respectively.

BALLETUJAH, HERE IT COMES. Scrappy Bulldog Trish Mattoff prepares to make the set-up for one of her teammates during last week-end's district tournament action. Mattoff scored two points, but the Bulldogs were knocked out in the first round.

SLADJANA JANICEVIC prepares to spike the ball back during last week-end's district tournament action against Pinckney. The Bulldogs were eliminated in the first round, although they won the first game. Sladjana was named to the all-league second team.

Varsity Volleyball Team Eliminated in Tourney

Chelsea varsity volleyball team was eliminated in the first round of the district tournament held in Chelsea last week-end. Jackson Larnen Christi was the eventual winner.

After winning the first game, 15-13, Pinckney came back to win the final two games, 3-15, and 11-15.

"We were behind in the first game, and came back to win it," said coach Karen Tobin. "I was proud of the team because earlier in the season they probably wouldn't have done that."

Heidi Hosner led the team in scoring with 11 points, including seven straight serves in the third game to bring the Bulldogs back from a 13-4 deficit. Mary Lazari had seven points, Missy Keiser had five, Sladjana Janicevic and Trish Mattoff had two points and Beth Paddock had one.

Tobin also cited the net play of Heidi Hosner.

"We've had good crowds this year and that's been nice," Tobin said. "I'd like to thank everyone who has supported us this year."

Chelsea finished tied for fifth in the Southeastern Conference with Lincoln with a 3-9 record. Tecumseh won the conference with an 11-1 record, followed by Saline at 10-2. Dexter was third at 9-3, Pinckney fourth at 4-8, and Milan last at 1-10.

The Bulldogs had a 4-20 overall record.

"I guess I had mixed emotions about the season," Brock said. "I had a good time, and I think the kids did too, but I'm not happy with the season. I don't like to see the kids have to go through a tough season. If they learned anything, I hope it was that they have to learn to concentrate if they are going to play winning basketball."

Mark Issel Now Regular On Ferris Hockey Team

Ferris State College sophomores Mark Issel and Phil Kaske have crossed paths in the development of their hockey careers and now share ice time as members of the Bulldog hockey squad.

Both players are natives of southeastern Michigan. Kaske is from Westland. Issel was graduated from Chelsea High. His parents, the Louis Issels, reside at 300 S. Dancer Rd., Dexter. The duo played junior hockey for the Paddock Pool Saints, but never competed together.

"I've always been just behind Phil," explained Issel. "He played on the A-team and I played on the B-team."

Kaske was recruited to Ferris by former assistant coach Larry Peckie. At left wing for the Bulldogs, the hard-hitting Kaske has notched six goals and eight assists so far this season.

For Issel, the road to success at the college level has been difficult. Issel was ineligible as a freshman, but was able to enjoy success with Ferris' club hockey team, joining the squad during tournaments last season. Issel was named "Most Valuable Player" when he contributed three goals and three assists to lead the club team to a third-place finish last spring at the National Club Championships in Huntsville, Ala.

Issel served as an alternate player during the first half of the 1985-86 season with the Bulldogs, but has started a regular shift in their last 12 games. He earned his first collegiate goal at a crucial point in the Bulldogs' 9-9 overtime tie at Michigan State University and added his second in a 9-4 victory at Ohio State.

"Scoring the goal against Michigan State was really exciting," said Issel. "I was pumped up a lot."

Issel, who played one season in Sweden after graduating from high school, feels he is starting to adapt to competitive hockey after nearly a two-year layoff.

Kaske also played an extra season after high school, skating with the Saints while attending Henry Ford Community College. The move to Ferris State answered a desire to play in the more competitive Central Collegiate Hockey Association.

"It took a lot of adapting to go against stronger, more mature players," admitted Kaske, who has seen his role as a player change since coming to Ferris.

"I was hoping to score more goals this season, but my role is more forechecking, hitting and making things happen," said Kaske.

An auto service major, Kaske feels the main advantage of playing college hockey has been the opportunity to get an education. He looks forward to a career in auto body repair after college.

Issel is studying business administration and hopes to return to Sweden to continue his hockey career after graduation.

With two more seasons remaining at Ferris, both Issel and Kaske are hoping to turn the Bulldog program into a winter before they leave. A freshman-dominated team, the Bulldogs are 15-15-2 on the season and have a sixth-place record of 11-15-2 in the CCHA, with four games remaining in the regular season.

Police Hockey Game Proceeds Will Benefit Spaulding for Children

Chief William Zengstak of the Milan Police Department announced today that Spaulding for Children, an adoption agency with headquarters in Chelsea, has been designated to receive the proceeds of the annual Washtenaw County police hockey game.

This year's game will feature the Washtenaw County Police Team vs. the Dearborn Police Team. Starting time is 7:30 p.m. on Friday, March 21, at Yost Arena in Ann Arbor.

Chief Zengstak, coach of the team, stated that each year the members vote to select the recipient of the game proceeds. This year they voted to play for the benefit of Nicole Russell's family. Nicole, the daughter of Sheriff's Deputy John and Brenda Russell, died in an accident last December. The Russells in turn requested that all proceeds be given to Spaulding for Children.

Tickets for the game may be purchased locally from Spaulding for Children, 475-8893, or from Sheriff's Deputy Paul Wade, a team member and Chelsea resident.

You can get about 25 pounds of potato chips out of 100 pounds of potatoes.

dent. They may also be purchased at the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department main office, from the Milan Police Department or at the door. The donation is $1 per ticket.

Home & Leisure Living Show Opens Friday

The 1986 Home & Leisure Living Show will be held March 7-9, at the Track & Tennis Building in Ann Arbor, on the U. of M. campus.

Displays will include everything for the home—new homes, remodeling, furniture, landscaping, kitchens and baths, heating and cooling and much more.

Boats and RV's will be displayed at the show in a special section. Sailboats, power boats and recreational vehicles will be offered at special home show prices.

Exhibitors at the Home & Leisure Living Show will be offering exciting new products and services. Many will have special drawings for prizes which range from merchandise to services. Admission is free.

Show hours are 3 to 9 p.m. on Friday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturday and 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Sunday. The Track & Tennis Building is located at State and Hoover in Ann Arbor.

day at East Lansing. Leading 12 to 8 at the end of one quarter, the freshmen fell behind, 29 to 22 at the half. A full court press and some very good shooting helped East Lansing increase the lead. The Bulldogs staged a rally by pulling within nine at one point after trailing by 28, but could pull no closer.

"I talked to their coach after the game and found out that their 'B' team had lost only one game all year," said coach Quilker. "Their coach praised our squad for not giving up and was genuinely surprised that we out-rebounded them because they were quite a bit taller than us."

Leading scorer for Chelsea in his best game of the year was point guard Larry Nix with 28 points. Jeff Marshall had 14, Dave White, Dave Adams and Loren Keezer two each, and Mike Kushnau one. Leading rebounder with 16 was Jeff Marshall with John Collins getting five.

The freshmen lost their final game of the season Thursday at Pinckney by a 41 to 32 score.

For the second game in succession, the freshmen had a lead at the end of the first quarter. Leading by a 6 to 4 score the Bulldogs dominated the boards by a 10-2 margin. By the half Pinckney had pulled to a 19-point advantage. The Bulldogs closed the margin to 25 to 20 entering the last stanza. With only seven players and two fouling out, the Bulldogs just couldn't pull out a victory in their last game.

"We were without John Collins and the kids had to overcome three games in four days and some questionable officiating," said coach Quilker.

Leading scorer for the Bulldogs was reserve Mike Kushnau who scored nine points. Jeff Marshall had eight, Larry Nix seven, Loren Keezer four and Dave Adams and Dave White two each.

The freshman record for the year stood at 5 wins against 13 losses. Coach Dave Quilker thought that with "just a few different bounces four more victories could have come the Bulldogs' way. We hurt ourselves most of the season with turnovers and poor shooting percentages. On the positive side we out-rebounded 12 to 18 opponents and displayed hustle and enthusiasm the entire season, never quitting," noted Quilker.

In many developed countries, a person can easily use 150 gallons of water each day. Yet in many African countries, daily use can be close to two to five quarts per person, says International Wildlife magazine.

Weed Killer Questions

William Krauss, that the material will not drift downstream into Little Portage of Big Portage Lakes—however, we feel that information is not correct."

Continuing, he explained, "We don't feel 2-4D decomposes as rapidly as the manufacturer claims. Trying to detect 2-4D in a river several miles downstream from a 1,200-acre reservoir in which 2-4D was dumped through the use of grab samples assumes the person taking the samples knew, or was able to predict, when the 2-4D was passing that point."

Braun said the PBLOA group specifically seeks some type of monitoring to be required by DNR officials (downstream from Hi-Land Lake) to detect drift of the 2-4D which PBLOA membership feels will occur.

"At this point, we are more interested in knowing whether the 2-4D is coming down the river (Portage River), rather than the exact amounts (of the chemical)," noted Braun in his letter to Wendell. His group suggested specific methods of testing, and said the PBLOA agreed strongly with the Huron River Watershed Council that lake herbicide application permits should not be granted unless the application is accompanied by a long-term plan to address the sources of nutrients causing the problem.

Of concern to residents of the other lakes is the possible danger to boat 's and particularly, to swimmers.

Apparently, the matter is of ongoing concern to both residents of the Hi-Land Lake area and those of Portage and Beebe Lakes.

Additional information will be presented by The Chelsea Standard as it is received from all parties involved in the situation.

Dexter township board adopted a resolution at its Feb. 18 meeting requesting the DNR's Island Lakes Management Unit to deny the herbicide application permit for Hi-Land Lake during 1986 and in the years that follow.

Card of Thanks

THANK YOU
I wish to thank my family and friends for the lovely flowers, cards and phone calls received during my stay in the hospital and since my return home. All were greatly appreciated.
Millie Jarvis
Kalamazoo, Mich.

THANK YOU

I wish to thank my family and friends for the flowers, cards and visits while I was in the hospital and since my return home. A special thanks to Fr. Dupuis, our deacon Richard Cesarz, Dr. Krause and all the nurses who cared for me. Your kindness will always be remembered.
Mary Kniss.

CARD OF THANKS

Thank you! To the Good Samaritan who plowed the snow from my driveway the week of Feb. 10.

AMY WEIR, a sixth grader at Beach Middle School, will be skating with the Artistic Service precision team and in a group number, "The Twist," at the annual presentation of "Melody on Ice" presented by the Ann Arbor Figure Skating Club. Performances are slated Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Veterans Ice Arena in Ann Arbor.

The Ann Arbor Figure Skating Club presents the 44th annual edition of "Melody on Ice" at Veterans Ice Arena in Ann Arbor Friday, March 7 at 7:30 p.m.; Saturday, March 8 at 7:30 p.m.; and Sunday, March 9 at 2:30 p.m. National competitors, precision teams and local skaters performing in a variety of numbers from Aerobics to Western will be featured.

Angelo D'Agostino, from Colorado Springs, who placed fourth in the recent 1985 Senior Men's National Championships in New York, is the guest male soloist. Angelo is unique in that he choreographs most of his show programs himself. He has been a national competitor for several years, including the 1983 Junior Men's National Silver Medalist and the 1985 Eastern Senior Men's Silver Medalist. Originally from Chicago, Ill. Angelo is currently training in Colorado Springs under Carlo Fassi.

The 1985 National Junior Pairs Champions, Devany Deck, of Superior township, and Luke Hohman, of Northville, will also be appearing. Having recently passed their gold-pair test, they competed in the senior ranks of the 1985 National Championships and Skate America.

A juvenile precision team of young girls, ages 7 to 11, will be making their debut in a sharp military routine. And long-time favorites, the Hockettes, are celebrating their 20th season.

The 225 members of the Ann Arbor Figure Skating Club have contributed their time and talents in set design, choreography, and costumes to make this edition of "Melody on Ice" a special treat you won't want to miss.

Tickets are $4 in advance, and $4.50 at the door. Special Student Night rates (age 18 and under) on Friday are $3 advance, and $3.50 at the door. Tickets are available from Ann Arbor Figure Skating Club members, Veterans Ice Arena, plus several store locations.

Further information is available by calling Veterans Ice Arena, 761-7240.

Free Catalog Lists Government Books

The U.S. Government Printing Office has a free catalog of about 1,000 of the government's bestsellers. As official sales agent for U.S. Government publications, the GPO stocks more than 15,000 titles, including 550 subscriptions. To create the catalog, popular and general-interest titles were selected from this inventory. Featuring books on children, energy, gardening, history, space travel, and more, the illustrated, annotated catalog is designed to make government books more accessible to the general public.

The catalog is being made available to the public through a nationwide public service announcement campaign. Utilizing broadcast and print media, the PSAs present the scope and utility of government books and invite interested persons to write for a free catalog.

The "U.S. Government Books" catalog is part of an extensive program undertaken by the Government Printing Office to make Americans aware of the information resources available to them through government publications. The free catalog may be obtained by writing New Catalog, P.O. Box 37000, Washington, D.C. 20913.

ONE GOOD TERM DESERVES ANOTHER

We citizens who are concerned about Chelsea's future are just as concerned about the 24 months ahead as we are about the Year 2000. We feel that the Village is fortunate to have an experienced president who has the loyalty to serve for a consecutive second term at a particularly critical time in village history. He not only has the insight gained in three years as a councilman and two years as president; he has a firm understanding of the needs of the hour.

Jerry Satterthwaite's re-election is challenged by a respected former president who, by his own public statements, is simply out of touch with the problems and solutions of today.

So perhaps our headline should have been:

ONE GOOD TERM DESERVES ANOTHER IMMEDIATELY

As president of the village council, our chief elected official is in charge of a municipal enterprise that handles $3.5 million a year. A large part of this is the resale of electricity and tax-supported services. But the basic budget of the village is just about $1 million.

Each year, through his own distributorship, Jerry's firm delivers about 1 million gallons of petroleum products to nearly 600 local homes and industries, an enterprise which closely parallels the budget responsibilities of the village.

- He supports immediate action to expand and modernize our sewerage system with financial assistance from the EPA, and overseen by the DNR of Michigan.

- He has joined with the council in a long overdue pay raise for our capable Village Administrator.
- With council support, he has succeeded in helping the village to employ a highly qualified assistant administrator—a registered engineer who can more than save the village his salary each year through the elimination of costly engineering fees.
- Jerry believes in controlled growth of Chelsea with high employment rather than heavy population growth with widespread unemployment and urban social problems.
- He has assisted in the attraction of new industries to Chelsea and completion of the Chelsea Industrial Park.
- He has helped to bring village employees into a harmonious relationship with the village they serve.
- He was a force in bringing our landfill into compliance with state regulations, assuring Chelsea of more economical refuse removal for the next six years.
- He favors wholesome business development through the Downtown Development Association and cultural support for our historic Chelsea Rail Depot.

To retain the active services of this experienced and dedicated public servant, all you have to do next Monday is go to the polls and mark X next to the name of Jerry Satterthwaite who—knowing the especial needs of this hour—is willing to serve two terms in a row.

DNR Taking Bids On Surplus Lands

The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) will offer nearly 1,453 acres and 4,774 platted lots of tax-reverted lands for sale, at public auction, on March 18, 19, 20, 25, and 27.

The lands for sale are in the following southeastern counties: Bay, Branch, Calhoun, Eaton, Genesee, Hillsdale, Huron, Ingham, Jackson, Lapeer, Lenawee, Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, Saginaw, St. Clair, Sanilac, Shiawassee, Tuscola, Washtenaw, and Wayne.

Roland Harries, DNR Lands Division Chief, says a total of 3,850 property sale units, determined surplus to State needs, will be offered during the auction.

The land sales will be conducted:

—March 18, at Jackson County Tower Building, 120 W. Michigan Ave., Jackson;

—March 19, at Commissioners' Auditorium, 1280 N. Telegraph Rd., Pontiac;

—March 20, County Commissioners' Room, Courthouse, 111 S. Michigan, Saginaw;

—March 25, 15th floor Auditorium, City-County Building, 2 Woodward Ave., Detroit; —March 27, Willard P. Harris Auditorium, County Building, 1101 Beach St., Flint.

Pre-registration is from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m.; all auctions will begin at 10 a.m. The State of Michigan will reserve mineral rights, rights of ingress and egress (access) to watercourses, and aboriginal antiquities (archaeological findings) on the lands for sale.

Bids as low as $10 have been established for some sale units. Total minimum bids established for the entire sale equal $4,190,450.

Sale booklets containing property descriptions are available now at all county courthouses in the southern Lower Peninsula and DNR District Offices, or through Gary Hartstuf, DNR Lands Division, Box 30028, Lansing 48909, phone (517) 373-1250.

Sales for counties in the Upper Peninsula and northern half of the Lower Peninsula are being scheduled for late summer or early fall of 1986.

L. Estleman Has 21st Book Published

Houghton Mifflin Co. has announced the publication of area writer Loren D. Estleman's latest Amos Walker detective novel, "Every Brilliant Eye."

The book is Estleman's 21st published novel and the sixth in his series about the Detroit private eye. In this adventure, Walker accepts an assignment from the Detroit News to look for his friend, Barry Stackpole, a crime columnist who has disappeared while investigating charges of corruption in the Detroit police department. Along the way Walker discovers things about his friend's past, and about his own, that he never knew.

"Sugartown," the fifth Amos Walker mystery, was recently released in paperback by Fawcett Books.

"Every Brilliant Eye" has begun to appear in area stores, including the Little Professor Book Center in Ann Arbor's Westgate shopping mall and Borders Books on State St., Ann Arbor.

Both Mayans and Aztecs believed that chocolate had the ability to prolong life after death.

Susan Overdorf Is Finalist in Merit Scholarship Listing

Chelsea High school senior Susan Overdorf has been named a finalist in the competition for a National Merit Scholarship.

Fewer than one half of one percent of all high school seniors become finalists for the $2,000 scholarships.

The award is based on high school grade point average, and performance on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT) and the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT).

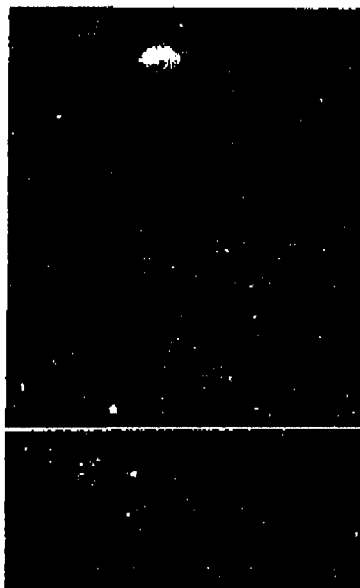

Approximately 43 percent of the finalists will actually receive the 1,800 scholarships offered.

Additional scholarships will be awarded to students meeting preferential criteria of sponsors who support the awards.

The National Merit Scholarship program is the largest of its kind. Students recognized as finalists are usually recruited heavily by the nation's premier colleges and universities.

The program receives no governmental support. It is financed by grants from more than 600 independent sponsors.

Cub bears are born toothless, fur-less and blind, and often weigh less than a pound, says National Wildlife's Ranger Rick magazine.

Because of the moon's tidal drag, days are increasing irregularly at the average rate of about a millisecond per century. Some, of course, seem to have increased by much more than that.

Bob Torres Nominated for West Point

Bob Torres, a senior at Chelsea High school, has been nominated for an appointment to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point by Congressman Carl D. Pursell.

Pursell made a total of seven nominations to the various service academies. The nominations were based on a number of criteria, including the recommendation of his citizen advisory panel.

The nomination is a key step in Torres' bid to win a spot at West Point. The school will make its final decision soon, according to Chelsea High school counselor Chris Dimarin.

Three CHS Seniors Join U. S. Navy On Delayed Entry

Three Chelsea High school seniors have entered the U.S. Navy's Delayed Entry Program and will report for duty later this year at the Naval Training Center in Great Lakes, Ill.

Todd M. Bauer has enlisted for six years, with guaranteed training as a sonar technician, according to the Navy Recruiting Station in Ann Arbor. He will report for duty July 23.

Christopher J. Miller has enlisted for six years with guaranteed training as a machinist mate in the nuclear power program. He will report July 23.

Gary W. Johnson will report Sept. 23 to begin training as a gas turbine technician. He has also enlisted for six years.
