

Questions, Answers on Proposed School Millage Request

The following Question-and-Answer Summary for the Chelsea School District Millage has been prepared by the Chelsea Board of Education and the administration to give factual information to the voters before the scheduled June 9 election.

WHAT IS THE TOTAL MILLS REQUESTED?

The total mills requested is 5.8, 2.9 mills being a renewal for operating purposes (which expired with the 1985 tax levy), and 2.9 mills being additional operating millage.

WHY DID THE BOARD PUT THE 2.9 RENEWAL AND THE 2.9 INCREASE AS ONE PROPOSAL?

The amount generated by the 5.8 mills is needed to maintain the current programs in the school district.

WILL THERE BE ANY NEW OR ADDITIONAL PROGRAMS?

No. The District will be operating the same programs as last year.

HAS THE SCHOOL DISTRICT MADE ANY ADJUSTMENT FOR DECLINING ENROLLMENT?

Yes. During the past six years, 14 teachers who have retired or left the system have not been replaced. Their classes and students are being redistributed among other teachers.

WHY DO WE NEED AN INCREASE IN OPERATING MILLAGE?

The valuation of the district has not grown as the costs of operating have increased to maintain the same programs. Our tentative state equalized valuation (SEV) for 1986-87 is $184,326,215 compared to $186,405,207 in 1982-83. The 1986-87 SEV increased 0.56% over 1985-86, and with costs rising at about 4 to 5%, additional millage is necessary to continue the same programs. Income from taxes increased 3.07% in 1983, 2.76% in 1984, 1.07% in 1985, and 0.56% for 1986.

HOW DO OUR SCHOOLS COMPARE WITH OTHER COUNTY SCHOOLS IN READING AND MATH?

The Chelsea School District ranks first or second in all math and reading comparisons in grades 4, 7 and 10.

ARE THE CHELSEA SCHOOLS' PER CAPITA OPERATING COSTS COMPARABLE TO OTHER COUNTY SCHOOLS?

A. YES.

Ann Arbor	$4,313.97
Manchester	3,666.78
Ypsilanti	3,463.67
Chelsea	3,307.73*
Willow Run	3,228.51
Saline	3,086.87
Whitmore Lake	3,020.83
Dexter	3,012.22
Milan	2,970.04
Lincoln	2,967.50

Source: WISD Summary. Average $3,606.68 1984-85 Data
*Includes $81.14 per pupil for the maintenance millage

WHY DO WE NEED ADDITIONAL MILLAGE WHEN THE STATE INCOME TAX INDICATES MORE MONEY FOR EDUCATION?

Chelsea is an out-of-formula district and will receive no state aid on the state-aid formula.

WHAT IS THE PROPOSED INCREASE IN THE 1986-87 BUDGET?

1985-86 Income	$7,841,026
Tentative 1986-87 Income	$8,166,428*
*Includes 2.9 mill increase; total income increase, 4.15%

WHAT WILL THE INCREASED MILLAGE COST?

The millage request is for 2.9 mills for 3 years. This increase in millage will be partially offset by the reduction in debt levy for 1985-86 (0.45 mills) and 1986-87 (0.03 mills).

Property SEV	2.9 Mill Increase
$ 10,000	$ 29.00
15,000	43.50
20,000	58.00
30,000	87.00
40,000	116.00
60,000	259.00
100,000	290.00

The net effect of the increase would be reduced if the property owner is eligible for a property tax rebate and as a deduction for income tax purposes.

HOW HAS INFLATION IMPACTED THE SCHOOL BUDGET?

The 2.9 mills passed in 1983 has been absorbed by inflationary increases. Costs have risen as follows:

School Supplies	+ 7%
Heating Fuel	+ 8%
Worker's Compensation	+ 10%
Increased Property Ins.	+ 10%
Electricity	+ 8%
Employee Benefits	+ 6%
Insurance	+ 90%

WHAT ARE THE SOURCES OF SCHOOL FINANCES?

Chelsea schools receive financing for the operating of schools through local property taxes, Intermediate School District appropriations for special education, state aid for categorical programs such as transportation and special education, and from the federal government in areas of special categorical funding.

WHAT WILL BE ELIMINATED OR REDUCED IF THE MILLAGE DOES NOT PASS?

Guidelines to eliminated or reduced programs that represent the 2.9 mill increase only are as follows:

DAN BELLUS AND ANDRIA CLEM enter the elaborate scene, one of a boatload of couples to attend this year's Riverboat Rendezvous prom. As is the custom, juniors put on the event for the graduating class. The set was a recreation of Hanaibal, Mo. during Mark Twain's day.

IT'S HARD WORK to bring off a successful prom night, and juniors have to shoulder most of the work. Some of the hardest workers of the lot were, from left, Marty Poljan, Matt Steinhauer, Tana Hermosillo, technical advisor Brian Myers, prom chairwoman Memarie Walters, and Ron Bogdanski and Cherie Alexander, who were voted Captain and First Lady by those who attended.

Study Skills Teaching Becomes Part of Every Class

Hunter S. Thompson might define studying as "Fear and Loathing in the Library."

Huckleberry Finn might have told the Widow Douglas, "I don't see no sense to it."

Studying is one part of learning that many children would just as soon skip. Memorizing words and their meanings, or working a math problem that apparently has no practical application for them ranks about as high on their list of preferred activities as attending a Lawrence Welk concert.

Part of the problem is some children don't know how to study efficiently. Techniques that work for English might not necessarily be appropriate for history, math or science. And those techniques have to be learned just as surely as multiplication tables. Children who don't learn them often run into academic problems.

Chelsea School District, recognizing that the ability to study not only makes learning easier and more enjoyable, and gives the child motivation to study on his own, has formally instituted what is called, "Study Skills Course of Study and Curriculum Resource Guide K-12." That is essentially a long-winded title for what amounts to adding the teaching of study skills to each and every class in the school system.

For example, history teachers will suggest various ways to take notes or remember events. Or a grade school teacher will use games that are designed to teach a child how to listen. It is all spelled out in great detail in the resource guide for virtually every kind of class at every level. "It is important for people to know that most teachers already teach study skills, but putting them into the curriculum in a structured way makes sure they are taught to everyone," said Dr. Laurice Bissell, Chelsea's curriculum director.

Bissell said the way Chelsea has chosen to tackle the problem is unusual. Most school districts have a special study skills class, which is usually taught in the middle school or high school.

"With that approach, the problem becomes a transfer of knowledge," Bissell said.

"Kids learn the study skills in one class and forget to apply it in another. Fortunately, our Committee for Educational Excellence was against that approach, and I agree with them."

The committee, which was composed of board and faculty members, and other people from

McKune Library Starts Big Expansion Program

An arsonist nearly destroyed the McKune Memorial Library a couple of weeks ago as he went on a rampage of downtown Chelsea. But, ironically, it's not slowing down significant expansion plans for the library. It's speeding them up.

If you walk into the library a year from now, you might not recognize the place.

The library board already had plans for knocking out walls, installing a large, semi-circular circulation desk where the current desk now stands, renovating the back office and turning into two offices, renovating the children's room, and replacing the downstairs carpeting.

Much of that work will be completed by the end of the year, thanks to the arsonist. The back door of the office was nearly burned down (the screen door actually melted), and the inside sustained a fair amount of smoke damage. You can still smell it.

Upstairs, a door was broken in by firemen who had to make sure no one was in the apartment when the fire broke out.

So the work on the back office will begin soon.

A new heating and cooling system was recently installed, and the duct work runs along the ceiling throughout the downstairs. A new ceiling will be installed to cover them.

If you've gone to the library during normal hours and found it closed, it was due to the renovation. It's likely the library will be periodically closed during their future projects, too. Watch for signs at the library, and notices in The Chelsea Standard.

"This is an exciting time to be associated with the library," said library board chairman Anne Belser. "Everybody on the board is excited about the projects and future plans."

The library renovation was originally planned partly to comply with state regulations. The library's classification is being upgraded from class two to class

GIVEN ANOTHER TEN MINUTES and the McKune Memorial Library might have sustained heavy damage as a result of the arson attempt a couple of weeks ago. Fortunately, the Chelsea Fire Department was on the scene quickly and confined the fire to the back of the building. The damage from the crime has speeded up plans for a substantial renovation of the downstairs over the next several months, and may cause the library to close for short stretches during the summer and fall.

THIS SCENE AT McKune Library will soon be a thing of the past as an extensive remodeling of the downstairs area is in the works for this year. A new, semi-circular circulation desk will replace the one that library clerk Lucila

Kramer is seated behind. The wall behind it is also scheduled to be knocked out, as well as several others. The remodeling is necessary because of the increase in circulation over the past few years.

Wellborn Proposes Voter Approval for Prison Siting
Sen. Jack Wellborn (R-Kalamazoo), chairman of the Senate Corrections Committee, has introduced legislation which will give local citizens the ultimate veto power over any proposed prisons in their community.

Under the proposal, once citizens have filed a successful petition for a referendum, the Department of Corrections would be prohibited from establishing a correctional facility at a site until approved by a majority of the voters in a city, township or village.

"Voters deserve the right to vote on what's going to happen in their community," Wellborn said. "They already can on such issues as zoning and ordinances, but when it comes to a prison being located next door, voters have no say. It's unfair to communities who don't want a prison, and it's equally unfair to a prison and prison officials to be in a community where they're not wanted," he said.

The bill would not affect prison sites on which hearings have already been held and that are scheduled for construction by the Department of Corrections.

Wellborn denied his bill would make it impossible to construct new prisons and insisted that under the measure, the department will be forced to become more accountable to the public.

"There are already a number of communities that want prisons and the employment they bring with them," Wellborn said.

"My bill won't mean an end to new prison construction, but it does mean the department will be accountable for security and for the operations of the prison system, and today, in my opinion they're not. They'll have to face the voters and explain to them that they'll provide that security before they just dump a prison into a community," he added.

Blanchard Announces Housing Cost Reduction Competition

The Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA) has launched a national competition for new ideas and products that will cut the cost of residential housing construction, Governor Blanchard announced.

The 1986 Housing Cost Reduction Competition will offer up to $27,000 in prize money, including special awards for the best Michigan-based entry and for the best entry from a student enrolled in a Michigan college, university or technical school.

"In Michigan, we always look for better and less expensive ways to meet our state's needs," Blanchard said.

"MSHDA has consistently led in developing innovative housing programs. This exciting new competition will give the Authority another tool to address the housing needs of low and moderate income families and the elderly in an economical and efficient way."

MSHDA Executive Director Terrence Duvernay said the Authority is seeking construction methods, design alternatives and products that result in the greatest cost savings for production of single family or multi-family housing. Entries will be accepted through Sept. 2.

Library Expansion

three, which means its service area has expanded so much that in order to receive state aid another librarian has to be hired. Since there isn't room for two people at the current circulation desk, that has to be changed.

Jo Ann Walter is the only full-time librarian and library circulation has expanded from 32,000 books a year in 1979 to 53,000 in 1985. However, there are other part-time library clerks.

"We really need two people at the front desk to handle all the people who come here," Belser said.

"The library is being used much more by people in the townships than it used to be. Chelsea hasn't grown so much, but the townships have. We need a lot more room."

Belser said new programs, such as a story hour for children, and the renting of videotapes, have also brought new people into the library, many of whom check out books when they ordinarily wouldn't have.

Funding for the expansion will come from the library's general budget, which includes one mill of village taxes, donations and other money from the townships, fines, copy machine revenue and state money.

Money for repairs of the burned out area will come from the village's insurance company since the library is actually owned by the village.

Fire Dept. Runs Drop During April

Chelsea Fire Department made 35 runs in April, eight fewer than in April last year.

Lima township had the most runs, with 10, and the village followed with nine. Lyndon township had six, Sylvan, four, Dexter and Sharon, two each, Sharon and mutual aid, one each.

Medical rescues accounted for 15 runs, while personal injury, grass fires, automobile accidents, and fires, accounted for the rest.

Through April of last year, the department had made six more runs.

CHS Class of '46 Plans 40th-Year Reunion July 12

The Chelsea High School Class of 1946 will hold its 40-year reunion July 12 at Schuler's Restaurant in Jackson, it was announced this week.

A reunion committee spokesman said that of the 29 members of the class, three cannot be located. They are James Ridley, La Verne Halbrook and Clara Newman.

Anyone with information should call June Winans at 475-3284 or Shirley Gaken at 475-1473, or write Shirley Gaken at 310 Pierce St., Chelsea.

Correction:

A story that appeared in last week's edition of The Chelsea Standard incorrectly identified Carol Boff, 250 Wilkinson St., as a passenger in a vehicle that veered off Main St. and ran into a tree. In reality, Boff was a witness to the accident, not a passenger. We apologize for any inconvenience the error may have caused.

Village Tax Rate Decreases for '86

Chelsea Village Council approved a millage rate of 10.93 mills for the 1986 fiscal year, at last Tuesday's regular meeting.

The figure is down .34 mills from last year due to higher State Equalized Value (SEV) of land within the village.

According to the Truth in Taxation law, when assessments increase, the millage must decrease so that the governing body receives no more tax money than it did the previous year. Just how much the millage rate declines is determined by a base rate formula imposed by the state.

Total SEV for the village is $48,472,885 as compared to the 1985 value of $46,174,465.

Residential land had an SEV of $26,802,150; business, $4,837,675; commercial, $7,285,050; agricultural, $82,300; personal, $9,229; and development, $236,700.

The millage breaks down to 8.84 mills for the general fund, to raise $428,500; .77 mills debt service, for $37,324; sewer, .32, for $15,511; and McKune Memorial Library, 1.00, for $48,473.

Piano Students Appear in Recital

Students of Rochelle Martinez-Mouilleseaux, participated in their annual spring piano recital Sunday, May 18. The First Congregational church of Chelsea was the host and setting for the event. The concert was well attended with over 100 family members, grandparents, friends and alumni students.

Rochelle Martinez-Mouilleseaux, who received a Bachelor and Master of Music Performance from the University of Michigan, has been teaching in the Chelsea area for nine years. Ms. Martinez-Mouilleseaux's students range in age from 4 to 83 years of age.

Participating Sunday at the recital were: Jean-Pierre Mouilleseaux, Keri Kentala, Betty Schunk, Sarah Heller, Kim Grossman, Kate Gorney, Jocelyn Dohner, Nathan Mackinder, Jeremy Bowers, Jessica Holton, Adam Daniel, Chris Grossman, Megan Stielstra, Ellen Bradbury, Jason Bradbury, Jeannine Mouilleseaux, Erik Brown, Ben Manning, Christy Petty, Scharme Petty, Leslie Manning, Charity Allen, Allison Brown, Kenyan Vosters, and Robert Kornel. Nikki Wireman, though very well prepared, was unable to attend due to the chicken pox.

The concert was followed by a reception in the parlor.

Mr. Guthrie was the last remaining member of a family of nine children whose parents were John and Eliza Logan Guthrie, pioneer residents of this community.

Albert C. Johnsen, who has been superintendent of schools here since 1938, will assume the position of superintendent of Willow Run schools July 1. Charles S. Cameron, present CHS principal, will succeed Johnsen as superintendent here. Cameron was CHS's athletic coach in 1937 after his graduation from Western Michigan College, and has been principal of the high school for the last five years.

Chelsea residents were stunned and saddened by the depth of the tragedy which struck the local family of Claire and Jenny Smith, when four of their five children were fatally injured in an accident when the Smith family were driving their new Pontiac for the first time. Their car was struck broadside by a vehicle driven by three Ypsilanti area men traveling at 70 miles per hour. Schools and businesses closed several hours during the funeral.

CHS Seniors Evelyn A. Woods, Beatrice A. Fowler and Brewster (Bruce) E. Peabody are included on the list of 722 high school students in the state who received Regents-Alumni Honor Awards at U. of M.

Katharine Ullman Awarded NSF Fellowship Grant

Katharine S. Ullman of Chelsea, has been awarded a National Science Foundation Graduate Fellowship.

Ullman, who will receive a degree in microbiology June 14 from Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., will attend the University of California at Berkeley.

Nine other Northwestern seniors or recent graduates received the fellowship awards, which provide up to $11,100 for 12 months of study. Eleven Northwestern students received honorable mentions from the NSF.

TOTAL BUDGET REDUCTION

Prior to making the above reductions, we have reduced the non-people, non-program budgets by $310,495. Many of the programs listed above have been part of the Chelsea School District for many years. Chelsea schools have always attempted to provide a comprehensive education for their students. Elimination of the above programs will have a drastic effect on the opportunities for students. The school system is the focal point of this community. Most residents have taken pride in the accomplishments of the Chelsea schools and of the students within these schools. If program eliminations become a necessity, the effect will be immediate to the students in school and will have far-reaching effects in the community.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

A hunter came to a sporting kennel and reared a hunting dog by the name of Salesman. In the field, Salesman proved to be brilliant at finding pheasants, freezing on point and flushing the birds on command. He was also a splendid retriever.

At the beginning of the next bird season the same hunter returned to the kennel and asked for the services of Salesman. The owner shook his head sadly and replied, "I'll rent him to you if you want, but he ain't no good any more. We decided to name him Salesmanager. Now all he does is sit on his tail and bark."

This is the kind of yarn that's been shared for 50 years by members of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club. There have also been exchanges of indelicate tales and blue language when youngsters or members of the fair sex have not been present.

The club began in 1936 with no officers and no quarters—just a common interest in hunting and fishing as well as the protection of wildlife and natural resources. There was, and still is, the natural enjoyment of card games, good food and beverages, the practice of trap shooting, archery, firearms marksmanship and tales of the big ones that got away.

By 1937 the club had established firm roots and elected officers with H. B. Murphy as president. Today, with Rick Monier, a certified hunting safety instructor, as president and chief conservation officer, the club has a handsome red brick clubhouse atop a hill on Lingane Rd. It owns 62 acres of land including a forest of 30,000 pines, spruces and other evergreens with Joe Torrice serving as Chief Forester.

The club, established as a non-profit corporation in the State of Michigan, is a member of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC) and an affiliate of the National Wildlife Federation.

In November, on the threshold of its second half century, the club welcomed the formation of a Women's Auxiliary. Although the boards of directors hold a joint meeting on the third Tuesday of each month, the Auxiliary is an independent organization with its own officers, its own treasury and its own by-laws.

Any adult person over 21 of good reputation is welcome to join either of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club organizations. The costs of joining and belonging are among the lowest of all the conservation clubs in Michigan. Men or women may arrange to join by phoning Dave or Ginnie Rank at 475-1437.

The question is: Why should a man or woman or married couple join the club?

The following answers are prejudiced because I belong and am the public affairs officer (publicist) for the club.

I don't know what the ladies do at their meetings, but the men's meetings are a mixture of fun with about 15 minutes of business affairs, followed by a program which may consist of educational films or informative Q and A talks by distinguished conservationists, or hunting or fishing experts. A heavily attended meeting recently included a father and daughter demonstration concerned with black powder gun ownership.

June 14 will feature an overnight campout in the club's own forest, with all the wilderness feeling of the woods of the U. P.

On Aug. 17 there will be a 50th Anniversary Dance and Pig Roast, open to all residents of the Chelsea area. Dancers will revel to the music of Tracey Lynne and her band.

Attendance at club meetings or events is entirely voluntary but all members are expected to live up to the Conservation Pledge:

I give my pledge as an American to save and faithfully to defend from waste the natural resources of my country—its air, soil and minerals, its forests, waters and wildlife.

Here is what we do as individuals and as members of brother-sister CR&GC organizations:

Hunting safety lessons are given by DNR certified club members to youngsters and adults. A certificate of safety proficiency is required for every person of legal hunting age to obtain a Michigan hunting license.

The clubhouse and its lands are open to all Boy Scout and Girl Scout groups, as well as other supervised youth organizations.

"TRACKS," an educational magazine published by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, is provided in classroom quantities to Beach school so that students may learn more about wildlife and the conservation of natural resources.

The club sponsors Chelsea Arbor Days each spring and provides 200 evergreen seedlings to give children of the Chelsea School District an opportunity to participate in the planting of trees. The club also provides evergreens free from its forest for replanting on church, school and public grounds. These trees are grown to a height of three to five feet.

In the early fall, the club is the local sponsor for National Hunting and Fishing Day in the interest of wildlife protection and conservation.

An ongoing subscription is provided to the McKune Memorial Library by the club for "Michigan Outdoors," a conservation magazine published by the MUCC.

Each year the club sends two boys and two girls to the Mill Lake Camps for outdoor learning experiences under the MUCC.

The club is strongly opposed to gun control laws which are in violation of the Constitutional right to own arms. We believe that if guns are outlawed, only outlaws would have guns. We feel that if the people of Russia had the right to bear arms, Russia would soon become a land of freedom.

In its 50 years of existence no member of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club has ever been killed or injured in a gunfire incident, nor have any of us ever been involved in death or injury of other human beings. No students in the club's 21 years of hunter safety programs has ever caused, or been involved in, human death or injury from the mishandling of firearms.

CR&GC instruction, it is important to note, is not only received by prospective hunters of all ages; it is multiplied thousands of times as it is passed along to other users and keepers of firearms.

The Chelsea Rod and Gun Club deeply regrets the needless deaths caused by the accidental firing of loaded guns. Uniformed children in possession of such loaded weapons have killed mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers and friends. Careless hunters have accidentally killed wives, children and friends. Careless hunters have killed valuable farm animals. No one can prove anything about accidents that have been prevented. The club simply maintains that its leadership and instruction has prevented many such tragedies.

One of our most distinguished members, Rolly Spaulding, is the only one to have served three terms as president of the club. He was the leader of Chelsea's observance of its 125th anniversary in 1959 and originator of the idea of painting the headquarters building by a huge crew of volunteers. They did the job in three minutes and made the Guinness Book of Records.

At club meetings Rolly and I sometimes take the floor in a duel of jokes or wits. The good humored barbs cross the floor like missiles.

He will read this column, I know. We will shake hands warmly at the June club meeting and I am prepared for his compliment. It will be something like this: "Will, that was a good Clock Tower column about the club and I know it took quite a bit of time. You do the work of two men—Laurel and Hardy."

A MILITARY SALUTE, in honor of Mitchell at Oak Grove Cemetery. Chelsea veterans fired the three-round salute.

Study Skills Teaching

the community, suggested that teaching study skills be incorporated into the curriculum. That suggestion became a school board goal for the 1985-86 school year. The formal study skills curriculum will be instituted next fall.

With the adoption of the curriculum, every teacher will have to be concerned with not only the content of their courses, but the study skills necessary for the students to learn the material.

"For example, children in a fourth grade class learning about Michigan history should be taught how to take notes on Michigan history, not dinosaurs, which is the way it might be set up if they were learning study skills from a book," Bissell said. "There are a whole series of books like that that may not be relevant to what the children are learning."

The curriculum defines five broad study skills to teach: self-management (such as following directions and establishing effective study situations); how to read and evaluate information; how to prepare for and take tests; finding information; and developing vocabulary. Each of these are broken down into many specific areas. It also gives ways teachers can determine whether students are learning the skills.

Each of the study skills is broken down by grade, and just how much students in each grade should be exposed to.

"We've also spent a great deal of time developing suggested learning activities," Bissell said, holding another booklet about as thick as the curriculum itself.

"Teachers aren't required to follow the suggestions. Teachers can look at this and say, 'ok, I want to teach about setting goals,' and find out how they might do it on the second grade level."

The system is set up so that a teacher might suggest two or three different ways for a student to accomplish the same goal, simply because what works for one student might not work for another.

"Thirty years ago study skills were taught more like commandments," Bissell said.

"A teacher would say, 'you will do this or that.' Now the emphasis is on giving students more of a choice and letting them make some decisions about how to study."

Bissell said she has received calls from other school districts who have heard about Chelsea's unusual program and are interested in finding out how it was

C. of C. Offers Members Complete Payroll Service

Chelsea Chamber of Commerce has endorsed an innovative program aimed at substantially reducing member payroll costs through a discounted pricing schedule. A computerized state-of-the-art payroll service, developed by the Payroll Systems Co., is now available to the membership.

In securing the program, Chelsea is flexing the buying power of the chamber for its members. The program is consistent with the chamber's interest in complementing existing member services and resolving business needs. Payroll is a common thread among the membership.

The adoption of the program represents a significant breakthrough for the Chelsea Chamber. A member will now have the option of capturing group economies of scale while utilizing a sophisticated system designed to help an organization remain competitive.

Payroll is an important, although part-time, function for most organizations. This program affords a member, especially those who lack the resources, the opportunity to concentrate human and capital resources where they will have the greatest return.

The service, provided by the Payroll Systems Co., includes processing payroll checks, management reports, personnel information, and an audit trail. All payroll tax filings are prepared and ready for signature.

Quest for Fulfilment

Johann Muncer, The Cascadians
Issaquah, Wash.
Golden Alder Books, 1986.
pp. 345, $15.95.

A Review by William S. Hill
In The Cascadians, author Johann Muncer expresses his fondness for flying, skiing, and mountain-climbing with an enthusiasm that arouses in the reader a longing to share in these activities.

However, the book is not a travelogue, for the sky, the snowy slopes, and the mountains provide the setting for an absorbing tale of a man's search for the particular fulfillment he believes it was nature's intention for him to have.

When in his mid-fifties commercial airlines pilot John Skuta loses his license and his job because of a brain tumor, he determines to live to the full whatever remaining time he is allotted. To him, the full life—the life he is convinced is his rightful destiny—requires kidnapping the woman who had been his high school sweetheart, taking her to a remote mountain retreat, and rekindling her love for him before he is finally overtaken by death.

Thirty years ago, while he served as foot soldier in Korea, they had broken up; both had made unhappy marriages; for the few months he has left to live he wants their former relationship to flower anew.

The tale of Skuta's planning, preparation, and execution of the kidnapping contains all the suspense of the well-told detective story; and the accounts of two middle-aged people recapturing the glow of love they had experienced in their teens has all the elements of the romantic novel.

A fascinating—and unexpected—feature of the book consists of Skuta's reflections on reincarnation, life after death, and out-of-body experiences. The awareness of the imminence of his own death, in combination with episodes of near dying brought on by the tumor, had forced the pilot to look beyond flight-patterns in the sky to eternity.

Youth Enrichment Week Slated By Pinckney Comm. Ed.

An extensive and diverse Youth Enrichment Week highlights the 1986 Pinckney Community Education Brochure to be mailed to area residents during the week of June 2. Among those classes offered during the Youth Enrichment Week, June 23-26, are calligraphy, weaving, cooking, nature programs, orienteering, clowning, folk dancing and pre-school aerobics.

Other programs included in the summer brochure are a Recreational Week, slated for the week of July 7, reading and math tutorials, elementary age choirs, and three sessions of swimming classes.

For further information or additional brochures, please contact the Pinckney Community Education Office at 878-3115, ext. 72.

JOHN MUNCER has pledged to donate $2 for every copy of his book, Cascadians, sold on Saturday, June 14, at Dayspring Gifts, to the Chelsea depot restoration project. Muncer, a former Chelsea resident, made the agreement with Dayspring owner, Laurie Smith, left.

Airlines Pilot John Muncer Has First Novel Published

John Muncer, a former Chelsea resident and owner of the Village Bakery, recently had his novel, "Cascadians," published by Golden Alder Books, of Seattle.

The book, a story about a medically-retired airline pilot who kidnaps his childhood sweetheart (a review of the book appears in this edition of the Chelsea Standard), is his first novel, and is being marketed world-wide. "Cascadians" refers to the mountain range in Washington, the state where Muncer now lives, and lived before moving to Chelsea. The book draws heavily on his experiences as a pilot.

Muncer, who wrote the book under the pseudonym of Johann Muncer, has agreed to donate $2 for every book sold at Dayspring Gifts on Saturday, June 14, to the depot restoration project. Cover price of the book is $15.95.

Muncer, who has worked for Republic Airlines for 29 years and is a captain, said he carried a typewriter with him on overnight trips and spent virtually all his spare time for two years writing the book. He plans to donate two copies to the McKune Memorial Library later this summer.

Muncer has two children, Kristen, 18, and Anna, 15, who live in Chelsea with their mother.

Article 2 "Typical Diagram of a Language Impaired Child"

This article will focus on language disorders in elementary school children. We have chosen to describe an average day in the life of a typical language impaired child. Tommy Burden is not a real child; his problems are similar to those in children like him.

Tommy Burden, an eight-year-old boy, with normal intelligence, was in the third grade. Today was a special day for Tommy because he was going to his friend Billy's home after school.

After Tommy dressed for school, he rushed to his mother and asked, as he had for the last five days, "Today, I go Billy's?" (Tommy has difficulty forming grammatically correct sentences.) His mother replied, "Yes," and she gave him a note to explain to his teacher. Mrs. Burden then asked Tommy what kind of cereal he would like. Tommy could not seem to remember the name, "uh, uh, the kind, that one, you know . . . it goes 'Snap, Crackle, Pop'." (Often Tommy has trouble naming things even though he can describe the item in detail.)

As Tommy ran out of the door for the bus, his father called, "Tommy, do you have your lunch box and play clothes for Billy's?" "Oh, I forgot," answered Tommy. He rushed back in the house, grabbed the clothes, and still forgot the lunch box. Tommy's Dad had to run out after him. (Tommy has difficulty remembering a series of instructions.)

At school Tommy gave his note to the teacher. She was aware that he had trouble confusing days so she asked him what he was going to do after school that day. Tommy responded by asking "Is today, I go Billy's?" "Yes," replied the teacher, "how are you getting to Billy's house?" Tommy answered, "After school." (Tommy did not understand the difference between how and when.)

When the bell rang, the teacher called the class to order. "OK, I want you to get your spelling book and your pencil and paper, and then write your name at the top of your paper." Tommy took out his pencil and paper and wrote his name. The teacher questioned, "Tommy, where is your spelling book?" The children looked at him and giggled as he quickly found his book.

As recess time approached, the teacher asked the children to line up. Tommy was told to be third in line but he rushed to the front of the line and argued, "I'm here." (Tommy did not know what third meant.) The rest of the morning progressed nicely. Tommy was good at math computation and completed his assignments.

At lunch, Tommy tried to get rid of his raisins by giving them to friends. One little girl pointed to the boy next to her and complained, "Tommy, how come I got less than he did?" Tommy, confused about the meaning of "less" took some raisins away from her and gave them to someone else. (Language impaired children frequently have difficulty with concepts of quantity.)

For the social studies lesson, the teacher pulled down the wall

map and asked the children to identify the state above Illinois. Tommy replied "Tennessee" because he confused the concepts "above" and "below". At the end of the day the teacher got ready to flip the day on the calendar and said, "Today is Monday. When I see you tomorrow, it will be what day?" Tommy called out "Saturday." (Language impaired children frequently have difficulty sequencing events, days of the week, months and seasons.)

As the children were lining up to go home, the teacher reminded them, "Be sure to wear your rain gear tomorrow because it's supposed to rain cats and dogs!" Everyone laughed except Tommy who questioned Billy, "How can it rain cats and dogs?" (Like many language impaired children, Tommy takes things literally and he did not understand the idiom "raining cats and dogs.")

This is a diagram of a typical language impaired child. It is important to realize that any child without a language problem could display some of these characteristics. However, when a clustering of such characteristics occur it can be indicative of a language problem.

If you have any questions regarding your child's language development, please contact the speech and language pathologist at your school.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea board of Education Monday, May 19 were Schumann, Dils, Grau, Comeau, Feeney, Radding, Satterthwaite, superintendent Van Meer, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Williams, Stielstra, Benedict, Wescott, assistant principal Larson, community education director Rogers, curriculum director Blaisell, guests.

Prior to the regularly scheduled meeting, the Board of Education met in the study session to receive an update presentation by curriculum director Laurie Blaisell on curriculum.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by president Schumann. The board approved the minutes of the May 5 meeting.

Entered as official communications were: a letter received from Madeline Vallier of the Chelsea Painters regarding their annual Art Show; a copy of a letter from media specialist Sherrill Pryor to Dan Murphy in which she expressed appreciation for his contribution of a magazine subscription to the library; a communication from Rich McKenzie, of Keynote Music, regarding a presentation to the parents of music students; a letter from the Dexter Board of Education regarding the scheduling of softball and baseball double-headers for the 1986-87 school year; a letter regarding the 8th grade academic awards program on Tuesday, June 3 at 6 p.m. at Saline; a memorandum from counselor Sue Carter pertaining to the California Achievement Test for grades 2 and 5.

President Schumann presented a certificate of appreciation to Mary Ann Guenther for her involvement in many activities this school year at Beach Middle and South Elementary schools. Mrs. Guenther was recommended by principals Benedict and Stielstra for this recognition.

The board made assignments for members to present graduation diplomas at both the high school and adult education graduations.

Superintendent Van Meer discussed the present status of the recent donation of the New York Times collection. University Microfilms has made arrangements with a trucking concern to have the films delivered to Chelsea; they will probably arrive before the end of the school year.

Superintendent Van Meer reviewed with the board the tentative agreement with the Chelsea Education Association.

Superintendent Van Meer reviewed the scheduled activities of the millage committees, indicating that volunteers are plentiful.

The board accepted the low bid of First of America Bank-Ann Arbor for a loan of $2,950,000 in tax anticipation notes. The notes will be dated June 1 and payable April 1, 1987. The rate of interest is 4.50%, and the total interest cost to the district will be $112,125.

The board set the public hearing on the 1986-87 operating budget for 7 p.m., Monday, June 9, in the Media Center of the Dwight E. Beach Middle school in accordance with the Uniform Budget Act.

The board changed the first meeting date in June, to coincide with the annual school election, to June 9, 8 p.m. in the Media Center at Beach Middle school.

The board ratified an agreement with the Chelsea Education Association, effective July 1, 1986-June 30, 1989.

ACCOUNTANTS HONOR ROLL: Jim Miller, district manager, Ford Motor Co., announced last week that Mrs. Beverly Slater, office manager of Palmer Ford-Mercury, had achieved the Accountants Honor roll for the fifth straight year. Remarkable on this honor, Miller indicated that less than 10% of dealer office managers throughout the country are so honored. George Palmer, Mrs. Slater's employer, also added his praise stating that "she is the type of employee that a dealer must have in order to excel in the complexities of the automobile business today." Palmer concluded by offering his congratulations to Mrs. Slater and said, "We are indeed fortunate to have her on our staff."

Police Seek Charges On Drunk Driving, Tire Slashing Incident

Chelsea police are seeking charges against a 22-year-old Chelsea man who was arrested early Memorial Day for slashing a tire in Polly's parking lot and drunk driving.

According to police reports, a man who witnessed the tire-slashing notified Chelsea police of the incident. When police arrived on the scene, the man had left with two other men in a blue

Nova. The witness knew the name of the suspect.

A short time later, a man went to the Chelsea Police Department and complained that the vandal had returned to the Polly's parking lot, this time in a brown car. Officer Michael Foster responded to the complaint, and stopped the car just north of Old US-12.

The man, a South St. resident, failed a sobriety test, police said.

They said the man's brother, who was also in the car, was "belligerent," and told police that no one was going to arrest his brother.

Police are seeking charges of drunk driving, and malicious damage to property less than $100.

IMPROVED LAKE ACCESS is the goal of several construction projects in the Waterloo Recreation Area this summer. Road and boat ramps at Cedar, Doyle and Crooked Lakes are in for a facelift.

Construction Work Improves Access to Three Area Lakes

Fisherman and boaters will enjoy improved access to three Waterloo Recreation Area lakes after construction projects designed to improve roads and boat ramps are completed in mid-June.

Kenneth E. Dodge, District Fisheries Biologist with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, said the work at Cedar, Doyle and Crooked Lakes will result in "a thousand percent improvement over what there was before, and at Crooked Lake even more than a thousand."

Until now, the launch areas—one at 73-acre Cedar Lake and one at 113-acre Crooked Lake—were unimproved. Boaters had to back their tow vehicles far into the muddy shallows or lift their boats off trailers and carry them to deeper water.

Doyle Lake, a state-owned, 17-acre body of water near Cedar Lake, could only be reached with four-wheel-drive vehicles and then by walking across the crude planking and wooden pallets thrown down as a makeshift trail across a bog.

Last fall, DNR crews improved the roads leading to the two larger lakes. That road work continues, along with attention to parking and turnaround areas. Dodge estimated that 250-300 cubic yards of gravel will be dumped at the sites.

Pre-cast concrete blocks went in at the Cedar Lake boat ramp; with Crooked Lake also scheduled for the same improvement. Dodge said boaters will find it easier to launch smaller craft. The reason a larger, continuous slab wasn't set down is to discourage use by bigger boats, which could quickly crowd the lakes as they towed skiers. Dodge added that the still limited amount of parking also will serve to keep the lakes from being overcrowded.

Besides grading the Doyle Lake access road and adding parking for three cars, DNR crews will put gravel over the 200-foot-long path that leads to the water. This will enable fishermen to carry small craft to the shoreline. And it will let DNR biologists conduct a survey of the small, pristine lake's fish population.

Dodge reminded fishermen and boaters they need a park sticker to use the roads and boat ramps. An annual permit good for one calendar year costs $10. A daily permit is $2. Both can be purchased at Waterloo Recreation Area headquarters, or on weekends at Sugar Loaf Lake and Portage Lake campgrounds.

Only dredge and fill permits were required for work at the three lakes, Dodge said. Public hearings were not necessary because of the minor nature of the projects.

J. Ashby Attains Company Distinction

Jerry Ashby, a State Farm agent in the Chelsea area, has been named a Legion of Honor member, one of the firm's most prestigious distinctions.

The Legion of Honor is awarded for very high standards in all aspects of the insurance business, especially regarding the quality of their business.

Ashby has been a State Farm agent since 1962.

KENNETH DODGE, fisheries biologist with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, explains the work being done at Crooked Lake that should result in even more than "a thousand percent improvement." Improved access to Cedar, Doyle and Crooked Lake is the goal of the DNR.

Humane Society Sets Adopt-A-Cat Month

June is Adopt-A-Cat month at the Humane Society of Huron Valley. Adopt-A-Cat month is celebrated nationwide by hundreds of Humane Societies to focus attention on the increase in the number of cats and kittens brought to animal shelters during the summer months.

HSHV received almost 4,000 homeless and unwanted cats last year. Cats provide companionship to young and old alike, whether you live in an apartment or a house. They are quiet, calm, and very affectionate. A wide variety of "finicky" and not-so-finicky friends are awaiting adoption at the Humane Society.

The Humane Society of Huron Valley has planned a number of activities for Adopt-A-Cat month:

To help the new owner and cat, a free cat care clinic will be held on June 3 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. The clinic, which will be taught by shelter veterinarian, Dr. Mainville, will cover topics such as feeding, household behavior, litterbox use, scratching, grooming and health care.

The Humane Society is also making pet ID tags available for your feline friend at no charge. The ID tag may be picked up at the shelter or send a self-addressed stamped envelope to: HSHV 3100 Cherry Hill Rd., Ann Arbor 48106. Be sure to include your name, two phone numbers where you may be reached, the cat's color, sex, length of hair (short, medium or long) and breed if purebred.

Along with the Humane Society of Huron Valley, Little Professor Bookstore located in the Westgate shopping center will also help celebrate Adopt-A-Cat month. During the week of June 23-29, the bookstore will donate

10% of its proceeds to the Humane Society in honor of their cat-in-residence, "Buster."

Members of the Washtenaw Academy of Veterinary Medicine will have shelter kittens available for adoption through their clinics to long term clients. This will be the second year the veterinarians act as satellite adoption centers for Adopt-A-Cat month.

With any cat or kitten adopted from the shelter you receive an educational adoption kit, a collar and an ID tag. Your new pet will have been vaccinated, wormed and is litter trained. In addition you and your feline friend will receive a special adoption kit, compliments of Morris and Nine Lives cat food.

HSHV is open seven days a week from 11 to 5.

Thodesons Return for Visit To Ancestral Home in Norway

For the Rev. Thode Thodeson, of Chelsea, his wife Dorothy, and his sister Esther Collins, of Canton Center, the two weeks between May 5-10 not only marked the culmination of a long-held dream but also began a period that will inspire many dreams to come. That was when they traveled to Norway courtesy of the Thodeson's three children.

It was the Rev. Thodeson's first trip to Norway—a chance to visit the homes of his grandparents and to meet 10 of his first cousins and many other relatives.

"I'm going to dream about it for a while," the Rev. Thodeson said. "I could hardly believe it was true. I had wanted to go for so long. Then, all of a sudden, it was realized."

Going to Norway was a natural aspiration for a man who spoke only Norwegian until the age of five. Then, attending school in New Westminster, B.C., he learned English, which he later taught to his parents. His younger sister then grew up in an English-speaking home.

When sons Bob, of Ann Arbor, Paul, of Winston-Salem, N.C., and daughter Loreen, of Pebble Beach, Calif., informed their parents they would be going to Norway, the Rev. Thodeson, retired pastor of the Chelsea Christian Fellowship, found his old Norwegian Bible and began reading a chapter a day. Until then, he had not read or spoken Norwegian in over 40 years.

On Monday, May 5, an Air Canada flight took the Thodesons and Mrs. Collins from Windsor, Ont., to London, via Toronto. In busy Heathrow airport, they passed through three security checkpoints. The Rev. Thodeson said security personnel searched him but only found his hearing aid batteries. Another flight, this time on SAS, took them to Oslo, where they were met by two of the Rev. Thodeson's cousins. Now was the time for his spoken Norwegian to be put to the test.

"I had to improve quickly when I got there," he said.

With travel arrangements made by the cousins, the three set out for Trondheim by train, then made a two-and-a-half-hour ferry crossing to the island of Froya. The island (pop. 5,000) was the home of the Rev. Thodeson's maternal grandparents.

"It's nothin' but rock," he said. They found that his grandfather's house is used as a summer home by a relative and is being restored. The four-day visit to Froya also provided the chance for the Rev. Thodeson's first-ever fishing trip; he reeled in seven cod from the ocean.

Many summer homes dot Froya, and he noted that

Norwegians are not unlike Michigan residents: "One of their hopes and ambitions is to own a summer home and a boat."

Back in Trondheim, they took a sleeper train to Fauske and boarded a bus bound for the ferry link with Sortland, an island well above the Arctic Circle. Sortland has six or seven villages, but the three visitors stayed at another relative's home in the country. Even in May, the midnight sun provided nearly constant daylight.

"We waited for darkness to come so we could go to bed, but it never did," the Rev. Thodeson even recalls reading his wristwatch without turning on the lamp when he woke up at 1:30 a.m.

Sortland was the Rev. Thodeson's paternal grandparents' home, but only the foundation of their house stands today. In 1955, a snowslide buried the house and barn. Both occupants—including one relative—escaped from inside the house by wriggling out of a second-story window. The eight animals inside the barn could not get out, however, and all died.

Still on Sortland, the three visitors saw the cemetery where the Rev. Thodeson's grandparents are buried, and they photographed those tombstones and the one of an uncle.

Before leaving the island, they joined seven first cousins for a reunion. The meal they ate included "a lot of deli foods" and "fish in all its forms." One of the best dishes the Rev. Thodeson could recall was mutton shanks with cabbage.

From the Stokmarkness airport on Sortland, they enjoyed a scenic, low-altitude flight on a 20-passenger plane that landed in Bodø. There, an SAS flight carried them back to Oslo.

On Saturday, May 17—which was Norway's Independence celebration—a throng gathered in front of the Royal Palace to view a parade. The Rev. Thodeson said they received complimentary tickets to the event because of their status as visitors. He called the displays of national dress they witnessed "spectacular."

That was one high point during the trip, but another the Rev. Thodeson mentioned was of a much different nature.

It came back on the island of Froya, when he visited his grandfather's house and picked up a cup and other heirlooms his ancestor had once used. Over the many years, thousands of miles away, these objects had waited for the Rev. Thodeson's visit, ready to re-connect him with an era that ended when he learned to speak English at age five.

Time and distance had disappeared as in a dream.

Enrichment Triad Celebrating Live

Enrichment Triad Program at South school will have its final big celebration of the year tomorrow night as some of the school's talented children present commercials and displays on subjects they've been studying all year.

North school was scheduled to have the same "Chelsea's Children Celebrate Live" program last night at North.

The celebration will consist of children presenting their special areas of interest to the public with elaborate displays and oral "commercials."

The commercials are designed to let the children show off their knowledge about a particular subject, and tell why the subject excites them. After the introductory commercials, parents and friends will be invited to visit each child's "interest center." These are the displays. You might see a display on elephants, or baseball, or computers, or any other subject a child has chosen to study.

Each interest center will also have its own appropriate snack or appetizer.

The commercials begin at 6:30 p.m. The entire celebration will be over at 8:30 p.m.

Koenn Named to Dairy Industry Board of Directors

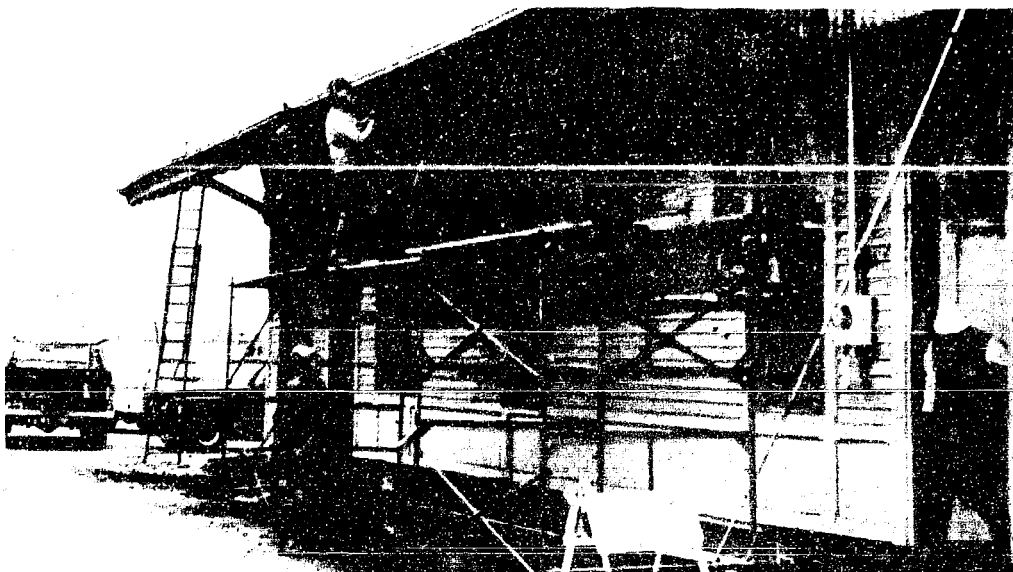

Herman Koenn, Chelsea, was recently appointed to the United Dairy Industry of Michigan's Board of Directors. Koenn, a dairy farmer and realtor, served on the American Dairy Association of Michigan (ADAM) Board of Directors prior to this appointment in February when ADAM consolidated its administrative operations with the Dairy Council of Michigan under a new organization, the United Dairy Industry of Michigan.

BUILDER BOB BAUER, bottom left, supervises the work of carpenters who are repairing the south underside of the Chelsea depot roof. Other crews were working inside the building and outside on the northern wall.

CROSS SHAPED WOODWORK under the peak, and gingerbread woodwork on the right cornice, have been crafted by Dave Stoll from redwood which is probably older than the building itself.

WEST END OF DEPOT with newly installed windows also contains newly crafted reproductions of ornamental woodwork. Other replicas of deteriorated or damaged ornaments are yet to be installed.

Exterior Refinishing of Depot Underway Ahead of Schedule

Refinishing of the exterior of the Chelsea depot has begun 12 days ahead of schedule. Old layers of paint, dating back to 1880, are being removed from approximately 4,500 square feet of wood surface including numerous elements of intricate, decorative woodwork. The removal of the old paint and the application of a prime coat plus two finish coats is being carried out by specialists in the employ of Shiver Restoration.

While the old paint is being removed, carpenters are completing repairs to the woodwork at the base of all four walls and are preparing to install a wheelchair access ramp on the Jackson St. side of the building.

As the work progresses, all windows and transoms which have been reglazed with insulating glass, are being installed. They have been painted with a white prime coat but, as the exterior painting proceeds, the window wood will receive two finish coats in station colors.

Trustees of the Chelsea Depot Association are hoping to hold an open house during the daylight hours of July 4, 5 and 6 so that visitors may see the arrangement of the interior. At that time the inside of the station will still await repainting, flooring, plumbing, heating, air conditioning, electrical installation and other improvements.

It is expected that by early July the depot, already paid for in full, will have exterior restoration completed with all bills fully honored.

Softball Team Downs Saline, 8-1, in Friday's Pre-District Action

The Chelsea Bulldog varsity softball team is on its way again. The Bulldogs topped the Saline Hornets for the third time this season, 8-1, behind another strong pitching performance by junior Pam Brown in pre-district action in Saline last Friday afternoon.

The win gives the Bulldogs the right to compete in Saturday's district tournament in Tecumseh. Their first opponent will be another Southeastern Conference foe, the Pinckney Pirates, who they've also beaten three times.

Brown, a unanimous selection for the all-conference softball team, tossed a two-hitter. She struck out six and didn't walk a batter, as she faced three batters more than the minimum 21. The Bulldogs committed an error allowing the only other Saline runner. A wild pitch brought home Saline's only run.

"The kids worked hard and played hard," said Chelsea coach Charlie Waller.

"But I wish we'd hit the ball with a little more authority."

Chelsea touched Knepper for 10 hits, but, as Waller indicated, most were not of the line-drive variety. A timely blooper here and there, and a couple of well-placed grounders did the job just as well.

Knepper held the Bulldogs scoreless for the first three innings, but the fourth inning proved disastrous for the home team. Chelsea scored five times in the inning.

Michelle Easton led off with a single. Trish Mattoff bunted the ball toward third, but the Hornet fielder elected to try for the play at second, and threw the ball into the outfield. That allowed Easton to score.

Next up was Celia Murphy, who lined the ball over the left fielder's head for a double, and that scored Mattoff. The ball seemed to die in the outfield grass.

Murphy moved to third on a passed ball, and scored on a sacrifice bunt by Kris Mattoff.

Phase two of the rally began with Karen Weber blooped a single behind second base, and Leah Enderle followed with a walk. Chandy Hurd sacrificed, moving the runners to second and third.

Cattell sent a little, looping liner over second base that barely cleared the infield for the final runs of the inning.

Chelsea picked up one more run in the fifth inning, as a single by Trish Mattoff, and walks to Kris Mattoff and Kim Perry loaded the bases. Trish scored on a passed ball, with Kelly Stump batting.

The final runs were scored in the sixth inning as Hurd walked, Chris Defant singled, Easton sacrificed them to third, and Trish Mattoff blooped a single behind second for two RBI.

"I figured that eventually we'd hit Knepper, but I didn't think we'd score eight runs," Waller said.

"But our defense is what impressed me the most. When you combine that kind of defense with our pitching, we're a pretty good team."

Trish Mattoff was 3-4 on the day with three RBI, "and a couple of nice defensive plays," Waller said. Murphy was the only other player with two hits. Defant, Easton, Enderle, Hurd and Weber had the others.

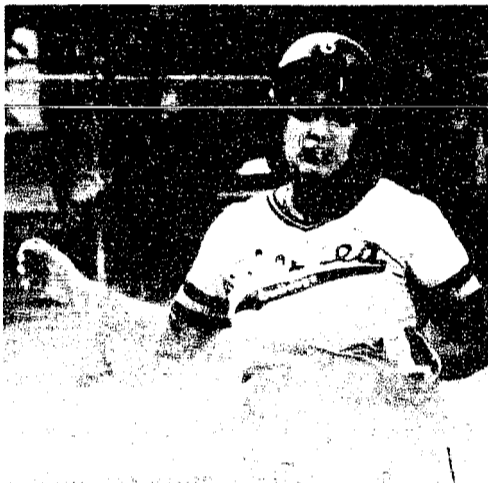

If Chelsea gets by the Pirates for a fourth time, they'll likely have to face Monroe St. Mary's in the finals, the team that knocked off the Dexter Dreadnaughts in their pre-district contest.

"We saw their top pitcher last year, and she'll probably be better this year," Waller said.

Chelsea has a 33-6 record.

TRISH MATTOFF SCORES one of her two runs against the Hornets last Friday. She went 3-4 on the day and knocked in three runs to lead the Bulldog offense.

SCORING THE GO-AHEAD RUN is Bulldog catcher Michelle Easton, who singled earlier. She scored the first run in a five-run fourth inning for the Bulldogs that spelled death for the Saline Hornets. Chelsea plays its first district tournament game this Friday in Tecumseh.

Beach Boys Track Team Nips Tecumseh

Beach Middle school boys track team nipped Tecumseh, 69-63, on Wednesday, May 14.

In the field events, Lucky Beeman and Phil Eassa finished first and second, respectively, in the shot put.

In the long jump, Scott Reynolds was first and Mark Chasteen, third.

Todd Hamel won the high jump, and Eassa was second.

Holden Harris was first in the pole vault and John McDonald, third.

In the running events, Brian Zangara took first in the two-mile run.

In the 55-meter hurdles, Hamel was first, Chasteen second, and Kyle Plank, third.

Jeff Latimer was second and Jim Hassett, third, in the 800-meter run.

Harris took second in the mile. The 100-meter dash was won by Scott Reynolds, and Wally Schmid was third.

Chasteen placed first and Todd Redding, third, in the 400-meter dash.

Hamel won the 100-meter hurdles.

Chad Raymond took third in the 70-meter dash.

In the 200-meter run, Chris Isberg was second and Jude Quilter, third.

Girards Participate In Gaylord Biathlon

Darren and Garth Girard of Chelsea took part in the Stark-Mann Biathlon sponsored by the Gaylord/Otsego County Chamber of Commerce on Saturday, May 10.

Darren, a junior at Chelsea High school, and Garth, an eighth grader at Beach, both completed the 6.2 mile run and the 31-mile bike course, and received medals for their efforts.

Darren, 16, finished in 2:54:33.4, good for 83rd place over-all in a field of 120, and second in his age group. Garth finished in 3:03:22.9, for 89th place over-all, and third in his age category.

They are the sons of Shirley and Richard Girard of McKinley Rd.

Minimum wage, overtime and child labor provisions of the federal Fair Labor Standards Act are enforced by the U.S. Department of Labor's Employment Standards Administration.

Amy Unterbrink Wins 2 in NCAA Softball Tourney

Amy Unterbrink, Chelsea's senior softball pitcher at Indiana University, won two games in the opening round of the NCAA softball tournament.

In the first game, a 2-0, two-hitter, Amy struck out six. In the second game she allowed only three hits.

Amy also had two hits, including a double, and two RBI. Her record is 31-11.

Boys Track Team 6th in SEC Meet

Chelsea boys track team finished in sixth place in the Southeastern Conference Track Meet on May 21 at Tecumseh.

Chelsea had 22 points, just ahead of Dexter, with 15. Lincoln Fallsplitters ran away with the meet, scoring 106 points to 76½ for second place Saline. Milan, Pinckney and Tecumseh finished third, fourth and fifth, respectively.

Tim Bowdish was the Bulldogs top scorer with a fourth place finish in the 1,600-meter run in 4:39 and a third place finish in the 800-meter run in 2:03.1.

Other individual placers included Curtis Heard in the 100-meter dash in 11.7, good for fifth place; Pete Janik in the 300-meter hurdles, with a sixth place, in 4:24; and John Cattell in the 3,200-meter run, with a sixth place in 10:18.

All of Chelsea's relay teams placed. Bowdish, Greg Brown, Lee

Riemenschneider and Ron Bogdansk took fourth place in the 3,200-meter relay in 8:31.3.

Heard, Rob McDowell, David Freitas and Janik were sixth in the 400-meter relay. The same team was also sixth in the 800-meter run.

In the final event, Bowdish, Brown, Riemenschneider and Janik finished fifth in the 1,600-meter run.

Todd Sprague 3rd in Mid-American Meet

Todd Sprague of Chelsea took third place in the hammer throw for Western Michigan University, Saturday, May 17 at the 1986 Mid-American Conference championships in Oxford, O.

Sprague had a personal-best effort of 180' 4".

Girls Track Team Wins SEC Championship With Their Over-all Strength

Chelsea girls track team are the undefeated champions of the Southeastern Conference.

Led by wins in three of four relays, the Bulldogs won the conference meet Tuesday at Tecumseh with 113 points. Lincoln was runner-up with 82 and Saline third with 58.

Lincoln got off to a big start in the meet by winning all four field events. Milan also scored well in the field so the Bulldogs went into the running events in third place.

Nevertheless, Chelsea did turn in some fine performances in the field. Edie Harook pushed the school long jump record out four inches as she jumped 16' 2" to finish third. Harook had an outstanding competition as all of her six jumps bettered 15 feet and three were at or over the previous school mark of 15' 9¾".

Cris Zerkel added a second in the shot with a 34' 10" and finished fourth in the discus, with teammate Dena Stevens sixth.

Although they had only one individual winner in the running events, along with the three relay wins, the Bulldogs had six seconds and placed two or three people in the top six in every event. It was this over-all team strength that carried Chelsea to the championship.

Chelsea started the running events when the 3,200 relay of Amy Wolfgang, Debi Koenn, Sallie Wilson and Kasey Anderson won in 9:55.2, a new SEC meet record. Wolfgang put the Bulldogs in the lead on the first lap and they were never really challenged after that. Milan came in second in 10:07.9.

It was about the same story in the 800 and 1,600 relays. The 800 relay of Susan Jaques, Laura Damm, Dania Disbro and Tami Harris ran very well to win in 1:47.8, and the 1,600 relay added the frosting to the cake as the team of Jaques, Chris Neuman, Damm and Wolfgang took the event in 4:11.3. Wolfgang finished into a crowd of happy teammates chanting "SEC, SEC" in celebration of their victory.

A number of Chelsea girls had outstanding performances. Kasey Anderson was the Bulldog's sole individual champion as she took the 800 in 2:23.1, her best ever in that event. She later added a second in the 3,200 with another career best 11:59.

Tami Harris was second to Lincoln's April Chenault in the 100 and 200. Disbro also had a fourth in the 300 hurdles.

Jennifer Rossi was second in the 1,600, a 12:03.4, for fourth place.

The team strength of the Bulldogs was most evident in the middle distances where all three Chelsea entrants placed in the 400, 800, and 1,600. In the 1,600, in addition to Rossi's second, Wilson ran her season's best, a 5:30.8, to take third, and Suzanne Cooper finished strong to take fifth. In the 800, Wilson came back for a third, narrowly edging fourth place teammate Helen Cooper. Both Wilson and Cooper ran down Michelle Clayton of Dexter, the fifth place finisher, in the final yards. Wilson was timed in 2:29.2, Cooper in 2:29.3, and Clayton in 2:29.4.

In the 400 Damm finished second in 1:00.9 to Lincoln's Chenault. Jaques was fourth in 1:02.3 and Neuman sixth in 1:04.0.

Amy Wolfgang finished fourth in the 100 hurdles field that included the top five regional finishers. Debby Tift was sixth as she wrapped up a fine four years as a Bulldog hurdler.

Wolfgang could not extend her string of SEC championships in the 300 hurdles as she was second to Saline's Kelly Olszewski, but

Four Chelsea Girls Named to All-SEC Team

Chelsea junior pitcher Pam Brown, who was a perfect 7-0 in league play this season, heads the Southeastern Conference All-League first team.

Brown, a unanimous selection to the squad, was joined by teammates Chris Defant, Jenny Cattell and Chandy Hurd.

Defant, like Brown, made the team as a pitcher, giving Chelsea both pitching positions.

Cattell, a second baseman, made the team as an infielder.

Hurd was selected as an outfielder.

Rounding out the first team were Debbie Bigham and Wendy Stappowski, of Saline, Karen Devine, of Dexter, Joan Tobin, Jill Ritchie and Dawn Christian, of Pinckney, and Stacey Dimlow, of Tecumseh.

Second team honors went to Chelsea's Trish Mattoff, as an infielder, and catcher Michelle Easton.

Outfielder Kris Mattoff and pitcher Jill Schaffner, were honorable mention picks.

One Run Separates Bulldogs from Gaining SEC Championship

Just a single run separated the Chelsea varsity baseball team from the Southeastern Conference championship, as the Saline Hornets pulled off an improbable 1-0 shutout of the Bulldogs in the championship game last Saturday in Adrian.

Chelsea earned the right to play Saline for the championship after whipping the Pinckney Pirates, 8-2, in an impressive return for senior pitcher Dan Bellus.

In other action last week, Chelsea was eliminated from post-season action by a powerful Linden team, 5-2, in the pre-district game.

Also, Chelsea outclassed River Rouge in a double-header, 17-0, and 19-2, and stopped Perry, 13-5 and 7-6.

Saturday's game with Saline featured one of the finest pitching duels of the season, as Chelsea's Kevin Maynard hooked up with all-conference pitcher Kevin Grossman.

In the end, Grossman had a little more luck, and showed a lot of poise in pitching out of a mess in the seventh inning.

"Kevin Maynard pitched the game of his life," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

"He put it all together, concentrated for seven innings, changed his speeds and had excellent control."

Maynard had given up just one hit going into the seventh inning, when a walk, a sacrifice, and a double scored the lone run.

Chelsea came right back in the bottom of the inning and loaded the bases on three walks with just one out. Chuck Downer and Mark Mull, the two batters Welton would hand-pick to bat in that situation, both struck out.

"You've got to hand it to Grossman," Welton said.

"He pitched out of a tough spot and got two of our best guys out. Once he walked the bases loaded, I was pretty confident we'd at least tie the game. We just couldn't get the key hit."

In the first game against Pinckney, Bellus gave up six hits, one earned run and struck out five in earning an 8-2 win.

Ray Spencer put Chelsea out in front in the first inning when he tripled in Rob Murrell and Kevin Maynard, who had walked.

The Pirates scored their two runs in the second inning, before Murrell put Chelsea in front in the bottom of the inning on an RBI single by Murrell, scoring Bareis who earlier singled.

Chelsea got a gift run in the third as Greg Haist, who was running for Spencer, who had reached on a fielder's choice, stole second, went to third on an over-throw, and scored on a wild pitch.

A sacrifice fly in the fifth inning by Maynard scored Murrell from third, for the fifth Chelsea run.

RBI singles by Bellus and Murrell, and a sacrifice by Downer, scored the final three runs in the sixth inning.

"Danny was tired when he was done but he pitched well, even though he wasn't at full strength," Welton said.

Second-ranked Linden proved to be one of the best, if not the best, teams the Bulldogs faced all year.

Downer pitched and gave up five hits, and four earned runs.

"We made a few mistakes, made a couple of bad decisions on defensive plays that you can't make against a good team," Welton said.

"We were capable of playing with them, and we had our chances to win."

Chelsea was within a foot or two of tying the game in the sixth inning, when Maynard hit a 350-foot line drive off the wall in center. A home run would have tied the game at four. However, with runners at second and third, and two out, Chelsea couldn't score.

Bellus had a base hit good for two runs. Mull, Maynard and Bareis all added hits against a tough pitcher.

"We hadn't seen a pitcher nearly as good as he was in quite some time," Welton said.

"We had trouble handling his change of speed and velocity."

Chelsea simply overmatched River Rouge earlier in the week.

In the 17-0 mercy rule win, Downer and Mark Mull each pitched two innings, and Bellus finished the game. Together they gave up four hits.

The Bulldogs scored 10 runs in the first inning as Murrell and Downer set the tone of the game with back-to-back doubles to start off the game.

When it was over, Chelsea had collected 15 hits, including a home run by Downer, and triples by Todd Starkey, Maynard, and Bellus. "It wasn't a very good game," Welton said.

The second contest wasn't much different than the first, as Maynard pitched three innings, and Starkey and Bellus each pitched one.

The Bulldogs pounded out 17 hits, including a home run and triple by Maynard, doubles by Downer and Brian Robeson, a 3-3 performance by Junior Morseau, and a two-hit afternoon by Jeff Stacey.

Perry proved to be about the same caliber ball club as River Rouge, but Chelsea gave Perry considerably more help.

Chelsea won both games despite walking 25 batters for the afternoon.

In the first game, Morseau picked up his first varsity win in a 13-5 route.

Chelsea hit safely 17 times. Downer was 5-5. Starkey, Bareis, and Jon Lane each had two hits, and Mull had three hits, including a double.

The second game proved to be considerably closer, although Perry scored six runs on just two hits.

Jeff Harvey was the man of the hour late in the game, as his home run in the sixth inning proved to be the winning run.

Perry loaded the bases in the sixth inning, but hit a line shot to Bellus at short to end the inning.

Chelsea finished last week with a 23-10-1 over-all record. They were scheduled to play Brighton at home yesterday in the season's finale.

JV Softball Team Split's Last 2 Games

Chelsea JV softball team split their final two games of the year against Ypsilanti, Wednesday, May 21 with a 4-1 win, and a 3-2 loss.

In the opening win, Chelsea jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first inning on a two-run single by Peggy Hammerschmidt with two out.

Hammerschmidt, the pitcher of record, didn't allow a run until the fifth inning, as she struck out eight, walked three, and limited Ypsi to two hits. It was her ninth win of the season.

The Bulldogs picked up their final two runs in the sixth inning. "Peggy pitched very well and we played excellent defense behind her," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

In the second game, Chelsea again scored two in the first inning. However, Ypsi plated single runs in each the third, fourth and fifth innings in a game shortened by rain.

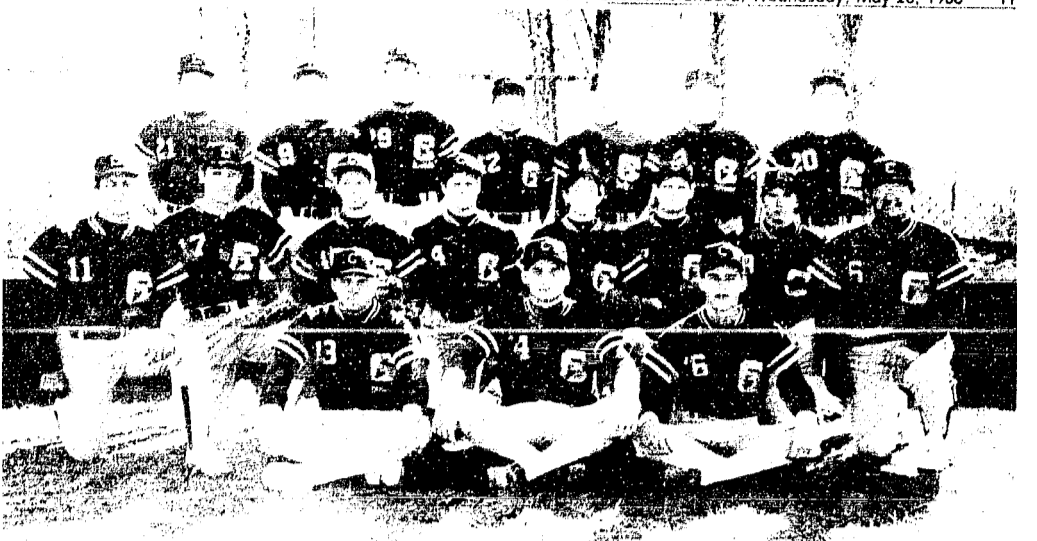

As a result of the rain, the Bulldog defense broke down and committed four errors.

"Jenny pitched well, but our defense broke down in a cold, steady rain that made the ball hard to hang on to," Clarke said.

"We had our chances to score, but Ypsi always seemed to come up with the key play."

Pichlik finished with an 8-3 record. The team ended with a 17-4 over-all record, and 9-2 league mark, best in the Southeastern Conference.

Our next super pest may be the Mighty Moth. The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports that after four generations, the Indian meal moth, a pest in grain silos, has become resistant to the best-known moth-killing bacterium, says International Wildlife magazine.

COVERING THE PLATE is Chelsea pitcher Pam Brown, as Saline scored their only run late in the game on a wild pitch. Chelsea handled the Hornets easily in their pre-district game last Friday, 8-1.

Chelsea Painters Plan Annual Art Show, Sale

Chelsea Painters 13th annual Art Show and Sale will be held at the Chelsea Medical Center on Saturday, June 7, and Sunday, June 8, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Area artists will exhibit and sell watercolors, acrylics, oils, drawings and collages with prices starting at $10. A percentage of the proceeds will provide for the Palmer Medical Scholarship. Since 1974 the Chelsea Painters have given more than $5,000 to this scholarship fund.

The event is sponsored by and will be held in conjunction with an Ice Cream Social by the Chelsea Community Hospital

Auxiliary, and they will be assisted by the Hospital Teen Volunteers.

There will be music and entertainment on both days. The function will be held rain or shine and is open to the public.

Washtenaw Walkers Club Now Meets at County Farm Park

Washtenaw Walkers Club has returned to County Farm Park for both the evening and day time walks. Walks are held Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 8 p.m.; Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 10 to 11 a.m.

Walkers should meet at the County Farm parking lot off of Medford Rd. in Ann Arbor while the park is under construction. The walking club is free of charge and open to people of all ages. For more information, please call Eric Edwards at 994-2575.

Hershey Sponsors Track Meet Set for Young Children

A track meet for children 9-14 will take place this Monday, June 2, at 5 p.m. at the Chelsea High school track. The meet is sponsored by the Hershey Foundation.

There will be three age divisions (age as of Dec. 31, 1986), 9-10, 11-12, and 13-14.

Chelsea champions will qualify for the state championships in East Lansing in July.

Chelsea's 9-10 boys were state champs in the 400 relay in 1985. Chelsea's 9-10 girls were second last year.

Colby Skelton was second in the 100 meter dash in last year's state finals.

Sailboat Racing Clinic Offered at Portage Lake

A sailboat racing clinic will be conducted again at Portage Lake from Friday noon, May 30 through noon, June 1, by the staff of T-J Sales Co. This year's clinic is aimed at the beginner/intermediate level to help folks new to sailboat racing get started on the right foot.

Self-coaching techniques, boat handling, tactics, starting and spinnaker drills, racing rules, and mini races will be some of the features of this intensive clinic. Both single and multi-handed courses will be offered. On-the-water drills and video-taped critiques are central teaching methods, supplemented by on-shore lectures and demonstrations.

T-J Sales, a sailboat dealer specializing in family and high-performance boats under 23 feet, is organizing the event and providing instructors who have earned national recognition for their sailing expertise and have extensive experience teaching sailing and racing.

The clinic will be conducted at the Newport Beach Club on the south shore of Portage Lake, four miles northwest of Dexter.

she completes her outstanding conference career as the SEC record holder in that event.

This is Chelsea's first girls SEC track title since 1975 when they won the championship the first year it was a league sport.

"It was the attainment of a goal we've had since last season," said coach Bill Bainton.

"Everyone on the team worked hard and performed very well so we could get it. We thought it might be closer, but by the middle of the meet we began to realize no one would catch us. It was a very good feeling! Everyone on this team deserves a lot of credit for their accomplishments this year."

Outdoor Report

From DNR District Office in Jackson

Fisheries

May 15 was the opener of the walleye, northern pike and musky fishing season. Since attention was focused on walleyes previously, we will discuss muskies this time.

The best musky fishing in the District will be at Lake Hudson in Lenawee county. These fish are purebred northern muskies. Also, since these fish are very important for our egg take projects to continue the purebred and tiger musky programs, we have imposed special broodstock musky regulations on the lake. There is no spearing, and the minimum legal size limit on the muskies in Lake Hudson is 38 inches. Also, the minimum legal size limit on northern pike in Lake Hudson is 30 inches.

Tiger muskies have been stocked in many area lakes over the past 15 years. In more recent years these hybrids between northern pike and northern muskies have been raised in hatchery raceways on artificial food (pellets). Although survival of pellet raised fish in the hatchery environment has been good, survival of tiger musky fingerlings raised in ponds with minnows for food has been disappointing. We are presently experimenting with different methods of rearing these fish with the goal of improved survival in the wild.

Tiger muskies are stocked every other year at fairly low rates. The goal of the program is to provide an attractive fishery for trophy sized fish. The lakes in this district which are still stocked with tiger muskies include Coldwater and Marble Lakes in Branch county, Lake Dianne in Hillsdale county, Devils and Wampplers Lakes in Lenawee county, Ford and Big Portage Lakes in Washtenaw county, and Whitmore and Woodland Lakes in Livingston county. The best of these lakes for tiger muskies are Coldwater, Devils and Whitmore Lakes.

Wildlife

Pheasant crowing cock counts are being conducted in every township in Jackson county this spring. Preliminary information received by Jeff Greene indicates that roosters are up this spring over 1985 numbers. Of more importance, however, is the spring nesting effort by hens. We are presently in the midst of a 4-5 day rain which can be a death knell for hatching chicks. The peak of pheasant hatch should occur over the next two weeks in District 13.

General

State parks and campgrounds abound through Michigan. With the first summer three-day weekend upon us, it is timely to discuss these facilities. There are some 90 plus parks in Michigan, over 14,000 campsites available in 70 of them, half on a first-come-first-served basis, half on reservations. Most have laundromats, hot showers, "party" stores, some electrical sites (modern). "Rustic" means outdoor toilets, no hot water. During week-ends which fall on holidays—Memorial Day, July 4th, (this year), and Labor Day—try to reach the camp of your choice by noon. Rules are fairly simple. Be neat—keep your dog on a leash at least six feet long and under orders not to bark at night. Also, keep him/her off the beach. Do not leave a campsite vacant for more than 24 hours. Night quiet hours are strictly observed. Annual park entrance fees are $10 per year, daily $2. Seniors over 65 pay $1 yearly. Reservations may be made by sending the camping charge for your total stay directly to the park of your choice along with a registration form which may be obtained from your DNR District office, or a state travel information post or by calling the Parks Division Lansing, (517) 373-1270. Fees for modern are $8 per day, rustic is $4 per day.

If the park you choose is full, try state forest campgrounds. These areas are all rustic. There are 150 state forest campgrounds located across the northern two thirds of the state. They are generally small, limited to no more than 50 sites. Some are small and remote and can only be reached by hiking through the woods or paddling down a stream.

Hiking, horseback riding, mushroom hunting, blueberry picking, fishing, trail touring, are but a few of the recreation opportunities available. Special areas for particular types of use are available, such as the Sands Lake Quiet Area. Users of dirt bikes and off-road vehicles are provided with trails and campgrounds. Most are located on lakes or rivers. General rules are: you may stay up to 15 days—longer with permission from the local manager; camp only in the designated sites; build fires in designated sites only; you may enter into or depart from a campground on an ORV; you may keep a dog on a leash less than six feet in length; you may not leave a campsite unoccupied for more than 24 hours; you may not occupy more than one campsite; you may not possess or discharge fireworks or guns; you may not be excessively noisy. Fees are $4 daily at most of the campgrounds. In the western UP the fee is only $3 daily. Senior citizens may camp for $1 per night. You can pick up state campground information pamphlets at your local district office or obtain more information on camping from Information Services Center in Lansing, (517) 373-1220. Or contact the Michigan Travel Bureau, 1-800-292-2520.

Excitement is growing in the City of Saline as the week-end of the Domino's Pizza-Coca-Cola Pre-Prix, June 14 and 15 gets closer. A crowd of 15,000 people is expected for the event, which is to be held the week-end prior to the Grand Prix in Detroit.

The North American Mini Champs Racing Association (NAMRA) will be racing their down-sized Indy style racers through the streets of downtown Saline. Michigan Ave. will be closed off for the two-day event and Saline Police Chief James Douglas advises that people on their way to the Michigan International Speedway and other locations which take them through Saline, may prefer to travel an alternate route those days.

Sports Physical Exams Scheduled At Family Practice

Sports physicals for all Chelsea students entering grades seven through twelve for the 1986-87 school year are scheduled for Wednesday, June 11. The physical examinations will be performed at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center, 775 S. Main St., Chelsea, according to the following schedule.

Last name begins:	Report at:
A-E	2:00 p.m.
F-J	2:30 p.m.
K-O	3:00 p.m.
P-T	3:30 p.m.
U-Z	4:00 p.m.

Fee for the sports physical is $3, to be paid at the time of the examination. Sports physical forms are available at the high school and Beach middle school, or contact the athletic director's office.

Please note: It is each student's responsibility to obtain a form, have the health history completed and signed by his/her parent, complete the school district athletic department portion of the form, and present the completed form to the physician at the time of the physical.

CONGRATULATIONS WERE SUBDUED, as the varsity softball team won last Friday's pre-district game against Saline in Saline. For Chris Defant and Jenny Cattell, it almost looks like a day at the office.

Mini Indy Cars To Race At Pre-Prix Event in Saline

Excitement is growing in the City of Saline as the week-end of the Domino's Pizza-Coca-Cola Pre-Prix, June 14 and 15 gets closer. A crowd of 15,000 people is expected for the event, which is to be held the week-end prior to the Grand Prix in Detroit.

The North American Mini Champs Racing Association (NAMRA) will be racing their down-sized Indy style racers through the streets of downtown Saline. Michigan Ave. will be closed off for the two-day event and Saline Police Chief James Douglas advises that people on their way to the Michigan International Speedway and other locations which take them through Saline, may prefer to travel an alternate route those days.

Race days begin at 6 a.m. when NAMRA drivers begin to arrive in Saline. Practice runs may occur before 8 a.m., and at 9 a.m. the RC Club begins running races of its own. By 9 a.m., NAMRA practice will be in full swing. Throughout the day Saturday, NAMRA will have practice run time trials and qualifying races. Fat Bob Taylor from WJR, will emcee the event. Other activities are also scheduled such as the Lone Ranger Car Crusher and a Big Wheel Race for kids. Concession stands, selling a variety of food, and a beer tent, will be available for race fans.

Race day fun continues with the RFD Boys, a Country Western Band, at 5 p.m. and a street dance at 8 p.m. with disc jockey Craig Bordenau from radio station WTQB.

Sunday the excitement begins again with a show by the Lone Ranger Car Crusher at noon. NAMRA begins racing immediately following. An additional highlight Sunday is the Creeper Race, a race which everyone is welcome to participate in by signing up early at Saline Auto Parts store.

Race day souvenirs and programs will be available for everyone who attends. A drawing will be held Saturday for a Coca-Cola mini racing car. Anyone may enter the drawing either on race day or prior to June 14 at participating Saline merchants.

Future cancer rates attributable to toxic air pollutants may escalate sharply. Today's cases are the result of exposure as long as 40 years ago. At the same time, production of such proven human cancer-causing chemicals as benzene and vinyl chloride has grown 8-fold and 24-fold, respectively, from 1950 to 1977 and has continued to grow since then.

KELLY HAWKER led the number six ranked Wayne State Tartars to a 35-19 over-all record this season, as she finished with a 15-11 record, and a team-leading earned run average of 0.56 over 178 innings. She struck out 148 batters. In Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference action she was third in the league in ERA at 0.48. She led the league in strike outs with 44, and was fourth in innings pitched at 44. She had nine of the Tartars' 17 shutouts and threw two no-hitters. Kelly pitched for the Bulldogs last season.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

It was a bittersweet week for Chelsea sports. On Friday, the softball team dominated the Saline Hornets in their pre-district game, 8-1.

Also on Friday, the baseball team, who many thought might go all the way to the state tournament, got way-laid by Linden in their pre-district match-up, 5-2. That eliminated the Bulldogs from post-season play. Ouch.

Then, to top it all, Saline edged the Bulldogs out of the Southeastern Conference championship on Saturday in a classic 1-0 contest. Chelsea had their chances but couldn't get the key hit.

Years from now, if someone looks back at this baseball season, takes a glance at the yearbook, or reads back issues of The Chelsea Standard at McKune, they'll see a second place team who lost their first game of post-season play and it will seem like a rather unremarkable collection of players.

Well, anyone who watched the Bulldogs play this year knows this wasn't an average team. It was a top-notch team that got a couple of bad breaks and ran into a couple of hot teams at the end of the season.

Linden was state-ranked most of the season, and as coach Wayne Welton said, "You don't get to be 27-5 by accident."

Saline's Kevin Grossman, who beat them in the finale, was the best pitcher the Bulldogs saw all season, Welton said. Twice he beat them by one run in classic baseball games.

It would also be easy to overlook that while Chelsea couldn't close the deal at the end of the season, the Bulldogs almost didn't have a deal to close. They won the regular season after starting out at 0-3 in the league. A team with less moxie might have decided it would be easier to hang out in the parking lot after school.

It's hard to say how much Dan Bellus' injury hurt the team, although any time you lose your ace pitcher it has to make a difference. He couldn't have pitched much better than Kevin Maynard did against Saline. And probably not much better than Chuck Downer did against Linden.

Bellus did come back to pitch and win against Pinckney, which is almost a miracle considering how badly he injured his hand. But Pinckney isn't the caliber of Saline or Linden. We'll never really know how Welton might have changed the pitching rotation with Bellus at 100 percent.

Hitting is what failed the Bulldogs at the end. They ran into the kid from Linden, and Grossman, two of the best in Southeastern Michigan, and they were kept off balance. The Bulldogs scored a total of two runs in those two games, probably 10 or 12 fewer than they would have scored against someone else. Any other pitchers, and Chelsea would be anticipating the district play-offs.

It'll be quite a while before Welton has a core of seniors as talented as this year's class. Mark Mull, Downer, Maynard, Bellus, Ray Spencer and Rob Murrell would start at any school. In fact, if Welton were allowed to recruit, he probably couldn't lure five better players.

It's just too bad they couldn't have gone a little farther.

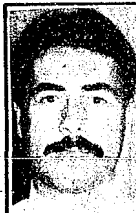

It's going to take a pretty darn good team to knock off Charlie Waller's softball team in these early rounds.

Pam Brown and Chris Defant, the two best pitchers in the Southeastern Conference, are peaking.

Brown was sensational against Saline. The Hornets were never a threat. Defant is scheduled to pitch against Pinckney on Saturday. If she allows more than a run or so, I'll be real surprised. And if she does, so what? Brown, Jill Schaffner, Jenny Pichlik and Peggy Hammerschmidt are all waiting their turns. Each is a quality hurler. If an opponent can get by all that pitching, they deserve to win.

Chelsea's defense will be the key. Most of the games they've lost have been largely the fault of poor fielding or mental mistakes. If they play defense the way they caught everything Saline hit, it ought to be a fun post season.

A few extra base hits wouldn't hurt, either.

IT WAS A SOLEMN MOMENT for Chelsea's Gary Speer, as he listened to John Mitchell's Memorial Day address at the Oak Grove Cemetery Monday morning. Speer was one of the flag bearers who led the Memorial Day parade into the cemetery.

MEMORIAL DAY seemed to stir even those far too young to understand what it means to fight in defense of the country. This youngster leans against one of the tombstones as he listens to John Mitchell's address.

Market Lambs for Fair Weigh-in Set May 31

Anyone interested in showing market lambs at the 1986 Chelsea Community Fair, is notified that the annual weigh-in is to be Saturday, May 31 from 9 to 11 a.m. at the fairgrounds.

The domestic duck count is way down, by about one-third. Drought and rapid loss of their wetland habitat to farmers and energy companies are the main reasons, reports National Wildlife magazine.

Children Invited to Biblical Marketplace

Chelsea children are invited to come to the grassy fields around St. Paul church on June 17-18-19 to participate in a Marketplace event depicting life in Biblical times.

Children will participate in crafts and occupations of Roman days, serving as apprentice metal-workers, brickmakers, jewelers, weavers and potters. They will be entertained by theater drama groups, singers, and story tellers.

They will have an opportunity to see for themselves what life was like during the days of Christ.

Purpose of the program is to acquaint children with their Christian heritage, and provide an experience of good summer fun that they won't forget for months to come.

The Marketplace opens at 9:30 a.m. and closes at 2 p.m. on each of the three days. There will be a Thursday evening picnic for children and their families to round out the adventure. A special program for pre-schoolers will run from 9:30 to 11:30 each day.

Registrations are due by June 8 and may be made at St. Paul (475-2545) or the United Methodist church (475-8119). Pre-registrations are required. Co-chairpersons are Sharon Seitz and Debbie Noye.

The fee is $5 per child, kindergarten through 6th grades; $2.50 per child for pre-schoolers. Maximum family charge is $15. Children are asked to bring a sack lunch.

The Marketplace event is brought to Chelsea for the second time by three area churches: St. Paul United Church of Christ, the First United Methodist church, and the First Congregational church.

All children, regardless of denomination are welcome to join in the fun.

Memoriam

VERL FOUTY
In loving memory of Verl Fouty who passed away 14 years ago, May 30, 1972. We mourn for him in silence. No eyes can see us weep. But many a silent tear is shed while others are asleep. Sadly missed by wife, children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

A MICHIGAN BREAKFAST was sampled by Peggy Moore's third grade class at North school last week as part of the Michigan Week celebration. They tried out muffins, Michigan fruits, and other assorted Michigan foods. It's an annual tradition at the school.

SAMPLING NATIVE MICHIGAN FOODS are, from left, Mike Taroli, Jay Schick and Melissa Bycraft, as part of the Michigan Week celebration is D'Ann Gietzen's first grade class at North school. The children sampled cherries from Traverse City, pickles from Au Gres, cereal from Battle Creek, beans from Grand Rapids, and the locally produced Jiffy Mix muffins.

HOW A VOLCANO IS FORMED was the subject of a science project for Megan Stielstra, left, and Becky Kern, two students in Bob Bullock's fifth grade class at South school. The display created the fictional Mt. St. Begon and Mt. Blackmor, as the children spent many weeks working on their project. About the only thing the display didn't do was blow its top.

ELABORATE SCIENCE PROJECTS were created by students in Bob Bullock's fifth grade class at South school this spring. One of the best was this display by Michael Kennedy on the formation of acid rain. It showed a factory, polluted lake and contaminated clouds.

AN UNUSUAL ZOO, filled with papier mache animals and other critters, was part of North Elementary school's Festival of the Arts, Tuesday, May 13. The giraffe was created by Amy Bowling.

M. O'Connor Seeks Guard Back Pay

On May 20, State Rep. Margaret O'Connor (R-Ann Arbor) and State Rep. Rick Sitz (D-Taylor) voiced their displeasure with the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Military Affairs, State Police and Corrections. The subcommittee struck $1.499 million for National Guard back pay from House Bill 5399, and left only $1 thousand for back pay in the annual appropriations bill for the National Guard. To pay the back pay, $1.5 million was put into H.B. 5399 by Rep. O'Connor on the floor of the House, with the provision that the money come from the Detroit Symphony budget. The Symphony grant has grown 144% over four years.

"The men and women of the National Guard have not been paid their statutory $2 per diem since 1980," said O'Connor and Sitz. "The total amount owed by the State to our Guardpersons could be as high as $2.5 million, but the floor amendment sponsored by Rep. O'Connor was a critical 'first step'. The Senate's Subcommittee action is a heavy blow to the morale of the Guard. Besides, the State legally owes the money to the Guard."

During the recession of 1977-82, the State halted the $2 per diem for the National Guard. O'Connor and Sitz said, "The debt to our National Guard members has been growing since 1980. We owe the money to them. The Members of the House voted 'yes' to the O'Connor amendment. The House position is that the debt must be paid. The Senate's action today nullifies the House action. We will fight for the National Guard's back pay and fight for the House position in the Conference Committee for H.B. 5399."

O'Connor and Sitz called upon the Governor and the Department of Management and Budget to revise the budget target for the Department of Military Affairs so the back pay debt can be paid.

Mary Lou Bower Day

IT WAS MRS. BOWER'S DAY at South school last Friday, as a capacity crowd in the South school gym tried to help ease her into retirement. Mary Lou is retiring after 22 years of service. She was honored with a party featuring singing, a huge assortment of treats, gifts of a book and flowers, and a lot of hugs by her former students.

A MRS. BOWER DAY BANNER was unveiled by South school students John Heller and Valerie Bullock in honor of Mary Lou Bower, who is retiring after 22 years of teaching kindergarten. The banner was signed by the students. That's Mrs. Bower at the far left of the banner, and her husband, Ben, standing behind it.

Mary Lou Bower Retiring As Kindergarten Teacher

Friday was Mary Lou Bower Day at South school.

Mary Lou was given a farewell party by faculty, administrators, former students, but most of all, the children.

She has spent the last 22 years at the school teaching kindergarten and is retiring at the end of this school year.

Friday a party was given in her honor in the South school gym, complete with home-made cookies, presents and other treats.

There could have been no better salute to Mary Lou than when principal Bob Benedict asked everyone in the gym who had attended kindergarten in Mrs. Bower's class, to raise their hands. Virtually every one of the several hundred children did so.

Mrs. Bower sat in her favorite rocking chair, one that was given to her more than 15 years ago by the Chelsea Fire Department, with a decorated Burger King crown on her head, and listened to the tributes. She was presented with a Mary Lou Bower Day banner signed by all the students, a book, a bouquet of roses and other mementos.

She was also serenaded by the students, who sang favorite kindergarten tunes such as "Bingo," and "People on the Bus." Songs that she taught them.

Several former colleagues turned out, as did a couple of her older students, and her husband, Ben. Superintendent Ray Van Meer was also on hand.

Mrs. Bower smiled and laughed throughout, as did her husband. There may have even been a tear or two as the gathering said thank you Mrs. Bower for a wonderful 22 years.

Brighton Hospital Offers Program On Drug Effects

Brighton Hospital's monthly Community Education Program continues on June 3 with a discussion of how cocaine and marijuana affect the human body.

The free program begins at 7 p.m. in the hospital's chapel and features presentations by members of the Medical Department and Counseling Services Department. They will discuss how these two drugs affect the body and point out the symptoms to look for in the person who is dependent on them. They will also provide information on how to obtain help for loved ones who are abusing drugs.

Although Brighton Hospital specializes in treating alcoholism, many of its patients are also dependent on other drugs, including cocaine and marijuana, notes Ellen Ayers, director of counseling services. "We hope family members will take advantage of this unique opportunity to learn more about these drugs and be able to head off the serious complications that accompany their use," says Ayers.

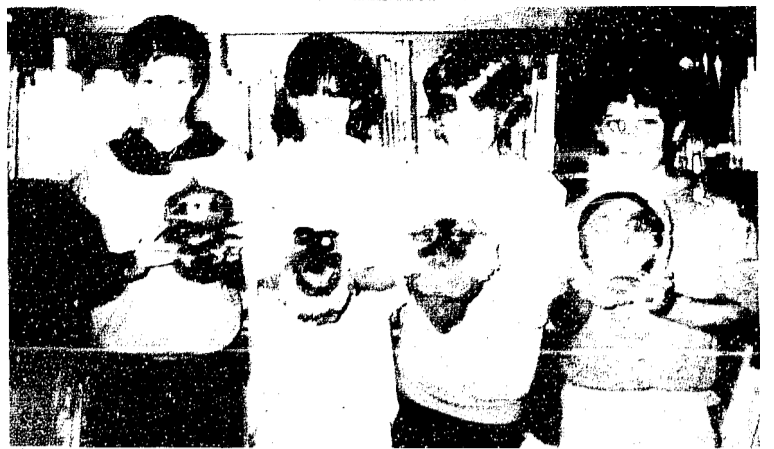

The hospital's Community Education Program is held on the first Tuesday evening of each month and concentrates on providing family members with basic information on alcoholism and related chemical dependency.

Brighton Hospital is located on E. Grand River, near Exit 151 of the I-96 freeway. For additional information and a schedule of programs contact the hospital at (313) 227-1211, ext. 278 on weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Memorial Day To Be Observed at Waterloo Church

The 94th annual Memorial Day observance program will be held at the village of Waterloo United Methodist church on Sunday, June 1 at 2 p.m. The address will be delivered by Dr. M. Riethmiller of Eaton Rapids, soldiers graves at Mt. Hope Cemetery will be decorated.

Farm Bureau Leaders Oppose Wheat Proposal

The wheat poll to be conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture the first part of June is viewed as a threat to farmer's freedoms by Washtenaw county Farm Bureau president Harold Trinkle of Dexter. The poll of wheat growers to find out if they want to use mandatory production controls to obtain higher prices is a provision of the 1985 farm bill.

"I am concerned that mandatory production controls on wheat would only be the beginning and could lead to a government-controlled agriculture in the U.S.," Trinkle said. "Every effort is being expended by proponents to make the idea of production controls look attractive, but history shows they are bad economics."

"Restricting the amount of land that can be used for a commodity will force wheat growers to look for other crops and commodities to produce. This, in turn, will impact supply-demand and price relationships well beyond wheat. Once controls move from wheat to feedgrains, the resulting sharply higher feed costs would be devastating to red meat producers.

"The real issue is whether our farms will be managed by farmers or by a government bureaucracy," Trinkle said.

Farm Bureau is concerned that the wording of the poll ballot may be deceiving to growers who may not look at the consequences. "When growers are asked if they favor mandatory limit on wheat production, excluding land and residual returns to management, they may be tempted to vote yes," he said. "But there is nothing on the ballot that tells them how much land they must take out of wheat production to get those higher prices, or how they would be allowed to use those idled acres."

Trinkle said the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau will be involved in a nation-wide campaign to urge wheat growers to vote no in the poll. The Washtenaw County Farm Bureau board of directors has gone on record supporting a "no" vote. "We urge you to vote no," Trinkle concluded.

Fourth Graders Make Sawdust Masks

Each year when Mrs. Hafer's fourth grade class studies Africa they make sawdust masks. Hopefully, they look like real masks from Africa!

This year the class had the assistance of Lesley Berg's and Jimmy Bennett's mothers. It's quite a job mixing all that sawdust and paste together. Since it's such a messy job we wear our oldest clothes. We had lots of fun and this year's masks are particularly creative!

ROGERS CORNERS HERDSMEN The regular meeting of the Rogers Corners Herdsmen 4-H Club was called to order Tuesday night, May 6.

The first order of business was a demonstration given by Nancy Butler. Mrs. Butler, a horticulturist from Washtenaw County Extension Service, showed the club how to build a simple terrarium, an outdoor hanging basket, and talked about other classes at county show in the horticulture division. Logos were collected and a deadline was made for any others. If you have a logo (we need many more to choose from) please get it to Mrs. Bareis by May 17. The club is looking for parents to drive to Cedar Point for 4-H Day, June 27. Show books were passed out for the fair to be held on July 28-Aug. 2.

Our June meeting will be June 3. Hope to see you there!

SOMEBODY'S A LITTLE OUT OF STEP, but it's difficult to tell exactly who, as the Beach school band marches through Chelsea during Monday's Memorial Day parade. It didn't matter a bit, though, as the youngsters played the patriotic music masterfully.

THE EVER-PRESENT CHELSEA CHARMS were one of the most colorful groups in Monday's Memorial Day parade, as they strutted proudly in their bright blue and white uniforms.

Chelsea Painters Now Grown into 25 Active Members

In its 17-year history, the Chelsea Painters has evolved into a diversified group of 25 area painters, including several from Ann Arbor.

The group was founded in 1969 by Betty Maxwell, who served as teacher/director for several years.

The highlight of the group's year is their annual Art Show and Sale held in early June at the Chelsea Community Hospital. A percentage of the proceeds from that sale is donated to the hospital for a medical scholarship.

John B. Moore, Jr.

128 E. Middle St.
Chelsea

John Barton Moore, Jr., 128 E. Middle St., Chelsea, age 63, died Thursday morning, May 22, at his home.

He was born Aug. 13, 1922 in Dearborn, the son of John B. and Anna J. (Kelley) Moore, Sr.

On Nov. 24, 1945 at Greenfield Village he married Lois Palmer and she survives.

Mr. Moore had lived in Chelsea since 1967 and had recently retired from Office Resource. He was graduated from Dearborn High School in 1940 where he was a member of the Varsity Club and HBY Club. He was a past master counselor of the Demolay-Dearborn Chapter, and attended Fordham Junior College.

He served 28 months in the U.S. Air Force During WW-II, serving in Italy from July 1944 to April 1945 as a B-24 pilot flying 35 missions before the end of the War.

He then completed his college education at the University of Michigan in 1948 and was a member of the Air National Guard for three years, resigning as a captain.

While living in the Flint area he was a very active member of the Elks Lodge No. 222 and had served as the treasurer for two years.

He was also a member of the East Flint Optimist Club. In addition he was a member of the 461/484 Bomb Group Association.

Surviving in addition to his widow, are three sons, John B. Moore, III, of West Palm Beach, Fla., William G. Moore of Jackson, Charles P. Moore of Ann Arbor, and two daughters, Martha A. Indyke of Ann Arbor, and Sally L. Moore at home.

Three grandchildren also survive as does an uncle, John J. Bider, DDS, of New Jersey.

Memorial services were held Saturday, May 24, at 11 a.m. from the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home with the Rev. Dr. David Teuran, pastor of the First United Methodist church of Chelsea officiating. Military graveside services were conducted at Oak Grove Cemetery by the Herbert J. McKune Post 31 American Legion.

Expressions of sympathy may be made to the A. A. Palmer, M.D., Memorial Scholarship Fund, in care of the Chelsea Community Hospital.

Chelsea

Melissa E. Fletcher, 13, 18600 M-52, Chelsea, died Friday, May 23 at her home of leukemia.

She was born Nov. 16, 1972 in Ann Arbor, the daughter of Norman D. and Sandra K. (Pinks) Fletcher. She had resided in Chelsea all of her life.

She is survived by her parents; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Pinks, of Plainwell; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Anna I. Salyer, of Jackson; a brother, Martin, and sisters Michelle and Melinda, all at home; and several aunts, uncles and cousins.

Miss Fletcher was a member of the First Assembly of God church and Sunday school. She attended Beach Middle School, where she had been a cheerleader.

Funeral services were held Sunday, May 25 at the Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel, with the Rev. Richard Coury officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Contributions may be made to the Make a Wish Foundation. Arrangements were handled by the Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel.

Julius R. Eschelbach

Evangelical Home, Saline
(Formerly of Chelsea)

Julius Robert Eschelbach, 87, formerly of 1345 N. Fletcher Rd., died Tuesday, May 20 at the Saline Community Hospital following a short illness. He lived at the Evangelical Home in Saline.

He was born Sept. 21, 1898 in Freedom township, the son of Fred and Adeline (Loeffler) Eschelbach. On Nov. 28, 1923 he married Retha C. Shoemaker in Bridgewater, and she preceded him in death on Oct. 11, 1980.

Survivors include nieces, nephews and many friends.

Mr. Eschelbach resided in the Chelsea area all his life. He worked as a farmer and was employed by the Detroit Abrasives Co. before his retirement.

Funeral services were held Thursday, May 22 at 1 p.m. at the Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel, with the Rev. Ted Wimmer officiating. Burial was in Mt. Hope Cemetery, Freedom township.

Memorial contributions may be made to St. John's Lutheran church.

Arrangements were by the Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel.

Laura Kerbyson

805 W. Middle St.
Chelsea

Laura M. Kerbyson, 90, 805 W. Middle St., died Friday, May 23 at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home following a brief illness.

She was born May 14, 1896 in Deckerville, the daughter of William Archibald and Mary Josephine (Reinelt) MacNeil. On July 12, 1926 she married Ernest Clifton Kerbyson of Detroit, and he preceded her in death in 1964.

Survivors include two daughters and sons-in-law, James and Marian Sprague, of Grass Lake, and John and Nancy Wainwright, of Davisburg; a sister, Reva Weatherford, of Milford; nine grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren, and two nieces.

Mrs. Kerbyson was reared in Deckerville and had lived in Ypsilanti for many years prior to moving to Chelsea in 1978. She attended Western Michigan University and graduated from Michigan State Normal College, now Eastern Michigan University, with a bachelor's degree in teaching in 1928. She taught in Grand Rapids for several years and then taught in the Ypsilanti Public School System at Ypsilanti High School and East Junior High School until her retirement.

Mrs. Kerbyson was active in the Ypsilanti Women's Republican Club, holding the office of president. She was a member of the First Church of Christ Scientist of Boston, Mass., as well as a life-long member of the First Church of Christ Scientist of Ypsilanti, where she was active in the Sunday school, board of directors.

A private family memorial was planned.

Memorial contributions may be made to the First Church of Christ Scientist, Adams at Washtenaw, Ypsilanti.

Arrangements were handled by the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home.

Local Women Enjoy Cruise To Islands, Panama Canal

Margaret Graham, Kathleen Chapman of Chelsea and Gertrude Drouyer of Ann Arbor returned May 15 from an 11-day cruise aboard the New Amsterdam of Holland-American cruise lines.

The trio boarded the ship in Tampa, Fla. Ports of call included Georgetown in the Grand Cayman Islands, Montego Bay on the island of Jamaica, Cartagena, Columbia, San Blas Island and Cristobal in the Republic of Panama.

On Grand Cayman Island the women visited a turtle farm and also visited Hell, Jamaica's attraction was Rose Hall a legendary sugar plantation home that had been in a state of disrepair until it was restored to its original state in the late sixties. The mahogany panelling and period furniture make it a very interesting place to visit.

San Blas islands, a group of primitive islands off the Coast of Panama, was the New Amsterdam's "first time" stop. As the ship dropped anchor, hundreds of dugout canoes, some with sails, a few with motors and many with just paddles came out to meet the ship.

The Cuna Indians who inhabit the island came prepared to stay all day or as long and the ship was at anchor. Diving for coins tossed overboard they were very successful in retrieving the coins. Those on board wishing to go to the island were transported by tender from the ship. The women do beautiful handwork which we were able to purchase.

Although the Cuna's spoke little or no English they know a few words such as five dollar, ten dollar and so on. The children knew at least one word and held out their hand saying "money."

Through the centuries they have kept their culture free of foreign influence, however their world is getting suddenly exposed to the outside world. Cartagena, Columbia, was the last port of call before entering the Panama Canal. In the old city of Cartagena one could purchase emeralds and beautiful leather goods. Always present were the barterers. Columbian coffee (the best in the world) could be purchased for a dollar a pound.

Traversing the Panama Canal was during the daylight hours, so that the beauty of the canal could be enjoyed.

The Panama Canal is 50 miles long and runs northwest to southeast across the mountainous isthmus of Panama linking the Pacific and Atlantic oceans. Each of the series of locks is provided with twin chambers to allow ships to move in opposite directions at the same time. It was exciting to see ships anchored and awaiting their turn to enter the locks. The women saw ships from Japan, Russia, Finland, Australia and a U.S. battleship. Many ships from these same lands were met coming down the canal. A Panamanian crew and pilot boarded the ship as it entered the canal and stayed on until the ship reached the Gaillard Cut where the ascent to the Pacific Ocean began, and another crew took over until the ship was out of the canal.

The trio left the ship at Acapulco, Mexico and flew home.

Entertainers on the cruise included: Barbara Scanlon (of Ann Arbor), Ann Fanous, Theodore D'Aconti and Brent Burnes from the Broadway Production Group "All American Jubilee;" Mr. Music Man, David Pengelly; Comedian (Mr. Clean) Scott Wallace; Jeannie Steel a Broadway singer; Jim and Rosanna, Australian champion dance team; Jerry Layne, a ventriloquist, and David DeHaviland, English country singer, who was also the cruise director; as a tribute to all those on board the Indonesian crew presented Malam Indonesia, a cultural variety show.

Art Show, Sale Set At Hospital

Chelsea Community Hospital and Chelsea Medical Center are again the site of the Chelsea Painters' 13th annual Art Show and Sale on Saturday, June 7, and Sunday, June 8, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Area artists will exhibit and select watercolors, acrylics, oila drawings and collages with prices starting at $10. A percentage of the proceeds will provide for the Palmer Medical Scholarship.

The event is sponsored and will be held in conjunction with an Ice Cream Social by the Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary, and they will be assisted by the Hospital Teen Volunteers.

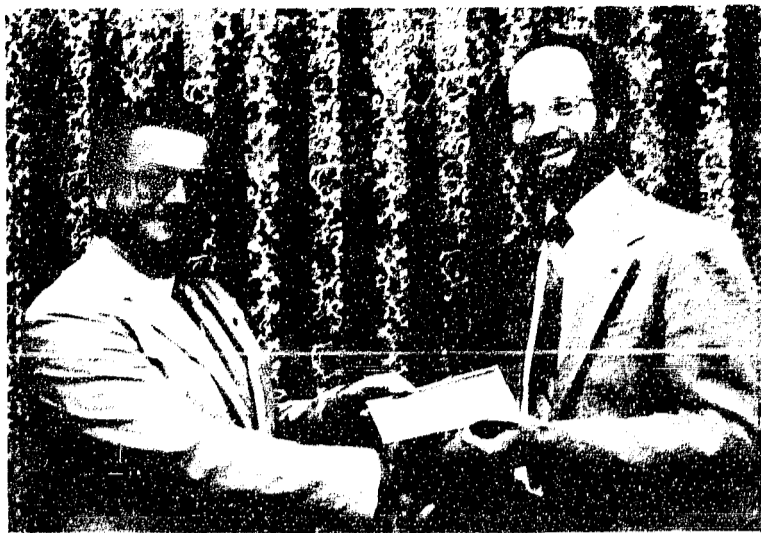

There will be music and entertainment on both days. The function will be held rain or shine and is open to the public.

Area Students Win In Humane Society Essay Contest

Jeff Sendra, a sophomore at Dexter High school, and Pam Schauer, a sophomore at Chelsea High school, were winners in the Huron Valley Humane Society's essay contest with the theme, "Do Animals Have Rights?"

Jeff won a first place prize and Pam took second place.

The contest was held in conjunction with Be Kind To Animals Week, May 4-10.

MARK GISTINGER, Manchester attorney, and treasurer of the fund to restore the Chelsea Courthouse, happily receives a donation check from Will Susan, manager of the Chelsea office of Great Lakes Federal. Support from major donors has the courthouse project well on the way to success.
