ESCORT STATION WAGON was driven by Angela Kennedy, 19, 228 Park St., Chelsea, along Dexter-Pinckney Rd. south of North Territorial Rd., Thursday, Aug. 14, and according to a report filed by accident investigator Jim Westrick of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, crossed the center line and left the pavement, but returned to the road and struck a pick-up truck with overhead camper. Injured in the crash were both drivers, Angela's seven-month-old daughter, Amanda Kennedy, and Rebecca Kennedy, 12, of Dexter. Passenger in the truck, Haskel Brown of Pinckney, and the truck's driver, Bertha Luckhardt, of Dexter, Rebecca and Angela Kennedy were transported to University of Michigan Hospital by Huron Valley Ambulance, but the lot was taken to the hospital by U-M's Survival Flight.

Survival Flight Aids Dexter Voters OK Auto Crash Victims Millage for Schools

University of Michigan's Survival Flight was summoned Thursday, Aug. 14, to transport injured victims from an accident scene on Dexter-Pinckney Rd., a two-vehicle pin-in collision which took place one-half mile south of North Territorial Rd.

The accident occurred at 3:20 p.m., backed up heavy afternoon traffic for a considerable distance along Dexter-Pinckney Rd. and resulted in serious injuries to occupants of the 1981 Ford Escort station wagon driven by 19-year-old Angela Kennedy, 228 Park St., Chelsea.

A fire rescue team from the Dexter Area Fire Department was called to the scene to extricate the driver from the wreckage. In addition to the injured driver, seven-month-old Amanda Kennedy of the Chelsea address, and Rebecca Kennedy, 12, of 9115 North Territorial Rd., Dexter, were hospitalized at University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Also injured in the crash were Bertha Luckhardt, 8060 Fourth St., Dexter, driver of a pick-up truck with over-the-cab camper, and Haskel Brown, 11372 McGregor Ct., Pinckney, a passenger in the truck.

Units from Huron Valley Ambulance transported some of the injured parties to U-M Hospital.

According to a report filed by Deputy Jim Westrick, accident investigator from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, the vehicle driven by Angela Kennedy crossed the center line of Dexter-Pinckney Rd., left the pavement, then returned to the roadway and struck the pick-up truck. The accident remains under investigation.

Two People Injured in Two-Car Crash on M-52

Two people were seriously injured in a collision on M-52 at Clark Lake Rd., just north of Chelsea, Saturday, Aug. 16, at 8:50 p.m.

Deputies Joe Marshall and Joseph McAllister of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department filed an accident report which indicated Loretta Clark, 73, who resides at 18793 M-52, was driving one of the automobiles involved in the collision, and Carol A. Bryson, a passenger in the second vehicle, were transported by Huron Valley Ambulance to Chelsea Community Hospital following the crash.

Diane Weid, 427 Oakdale, Chelsea, was a second passenger in the Bryson car.

The report related two vehicles were travelling northbound on

M-52 when Loretta Clark had signalled a left turn into her driveway. The second vehicle, driven by Alan Robert Bryson, 20, of Mason, started to pass her, pulling into the oncoming lane.

The Clark car pulled in sharply, and the driver, thrown left, attempted to activate the brake with her hand, but hit the accelerator instead—her vehicle powered into the ditch, came back on the road and struck the left rear of the other vehicle before it coasted back to the driveway. Smith's Service removed the Clark vehicle from the accident scene and the Bryson car was taken from the location by friends.

Throughout the day, beginning at the 7 a.m. opening hour and continuing until the polls closed at 8 p.m.

"There was no lull during the times the polls were open," agreed Marian Gilbert and Wana Baldus, who chaired the election boards for precinct I and precinct II, respectively.

The election board workers reported a steady stream of voters at the 7 a.m. opening hour and continuing until the polls closed at 8 p.m.

Largest Crowd Ever Expected To Attend

More than 33,000 people are expected to attend the 49th annual Chelsea Community Fair beginning next Tuesday, Aug. 26.

For just the second time in the history of the event, the fair is being dedicated to someone, this time to Harold Eiseman, who died this year.

Eiseman, a life-long Chelsea resident and farmer, had been employed by the fair in an all-around capacity until his death. He took care of the storage rental space, sprayed for weeds and performed a wide variety of other tasks.

"He was just an all-around Mr. Community Fair," said fair board secretary Maryann Guenther.

Irvin Trinkle was the only other person to have the fair dedicated in his name.

At 40 acres, the Chelsea fair is both the largest community-owned fair in Michigan and the largest fairgrounds in Washtenaw county. Just before last year's fair, the board purchased additional adjoining acreage that will eventually be used for parking.

Although admission prices have not gone up, the fair has had its liability insurance rates increased by 30 percent this year, Guenther said. She said it costs approximately $75-$80,000 to support the fair every year. The board does not pay taxes on its land.

"The board talked about raising prices, but decided just to wing it this year," Guenther said.

Despite Michigan's tendency toward fickle weather, the last time the fair had a substantial problem with the weather was in 1975. That year 5 1/2" of rain fell from Friday through Sunday, and the fair was closed early on Saturday.

A few minor changes have been made in the location of exhibits.

Last year all home economics activities were held in the Red Barn and an adjoining temporary building. This year all the baking, quilting and needlework will be displayed in the dining area of the Fair Service Center. That area opened up when it was decided not to open the kitchen. Patrons will have to purchase all food from vendors on the midway.

The Red Barn will house antiques, hobbies, agriculture and floriculture. A number of Chelsea community organizations will have booths set up in the Merchants Building. Those organizations include Chelsea Community Education, Chelsea Family Practice Center, Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce, Chelsea Rod & Gun Club, Boy Scouts, St. Mary's Catholic church, Faith In Action, Chelsea Jaycees, Chelsea Community Hospital, Christian Film Ministries, Chelsea Communications Club, Chelsea Lions Club, Kiwanis Club of Chelsea, the senior class, and the Chelsea Music Boosters. In all there will be 45 booths.

"I'm all booked up," said Don Koenigter, who's organizing the booth displays.

"I have calls all the time from people who want to know if anyone has cancelled out."

Crown Amusements is again supplying the midway rides and games.

The fair traditionally opens with the children's parade, this year on Tuesday, Aug. 26 at 6 p.m. There will be an official ribbon-cutting ceremony following the parade at the second gate between the parking lot and the fairgrounds.

The final event will be the livestock raffle drawing in the main arena on Saturday, Aug. 30 at 10 p.m. In between there will be everything from livestock judgings, to selection of the fair queen, to a mud bog.

Youth Appreciation Day Slated for Saturday

Children through high school age from Chelsea, Manchester, Stockbridge and Grass Lake are invited to attend Youth Appreciation Day this Saturday, Aug. 23 at Chelsea Lanes.

The day will feature free bowling, pinball, videos and refreshments, along with safety-oriented instructional programs.

Approximately 300-500 children are expected to attend the event, which begins at noon and ends at 6 p.m.

A number of instructional sessions will be fit into the afternoon. Chelsea Kiwanis Club will show the anti-drug film "A Better Way To Go."

The University of Michigan Burn Center will give an instructional session on fire safety.

Chelsea Family Practice Center will participate with a talk on physical preparedness before beginning a new sport.

Chrysler Proving Grounds will also show a safety film.

Chelsea Fire and Rescue will discuss how to escape a burning building and how to use fire extinguishing equipment. There will also be a demonstration of "Jaws of Life," which is used to remove accident victims trapped inside vehicles.

Chelsea Police will perform a safety inspection on bicycles and give some tips about riding in the village. There will also be a question-and-answer session about drugs.

Representatives of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department will present a demonstration on tracking dogs. Young children will be told how to ward off strangers. There will also be a discussion for teenagers on the reality of life as a runaway.

"This is a first," said co-organizer Vicky Wurster of Chelsea Lanes.

"I don't know of a similar event being staged anywhere else."

Bridges Hit By Auto

Lloyd Bridges, owner of Lloyd Bridges Traveland on M-52 in Chelsea, was hit by a car as he walked near his home on Sunday, Aug. 10.

Bridges was treated and released from Chelsea Community Hospital.

According to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, Bridges, who is legally blind, became disoriented when he encountered new road work along the edge of North Territorial Rd. According to police, Bridges "thought he was further off the road than he was." They said when the automobile's horn sounded, Bridges accidentally turned into the rear quarter of the car.

No charges were filed, police said.

School Opens For Students On Sept. 3

Opening day for Chelsea School District students will be Wednesday, Sept. 3, with a full-day session of classes beginning at 8:50 a.m. and concluding at 3:10 p.m. Buses will be operating on the same routes as last year.

Chelsea's teaching staff will be reporting on Tuesday, Sept. 2, to their respective buildings at 8 a.m. At 1 p.m., staff will be

Automobile Stolen as Thief Drives Through Garage Door

A Jackson prison camp escapee is suspected of stealing at least two automobiles, one of them from a Chelsea dealership, as he made his way to Detroit early Friday morning, Aug. 15.

School Board OKs Millage

Chelsea school district approved a total tax levy of 41.22 mills for the 1986-87 school year.

Chelsea school board took the action at its regular meeting Monday night.

The millage includes an operating millage of 38.52 mills, and debt retirement of 2.7 mills, which covers the construction of Beach Middle school, the bus garage and other capital improvements.

According to the Chelsea police, shortly after Kevin Bowles, 24, walked away from a Jackson prison camp, a 1975 AMC Pacer was reported as stolen. That car was later found outside the Paist-Morrow Buick, Olds and Chevy dealership on M-52.

Also, police discovered that another car, a 1983 Delta 88, had been stolen from the dealership. According to police, the thief apparently used a junked engine carn shaft to break a window on a service area door to gain access to the garage where the car, with the keys in the ignition, was in the process of being serviced.

Police said the thief apparently drove through a second closed garage door to leave the premises.

Police said the auto was later found in Ann Arbor.

Fred and Geraldine Klink

Fred, Geraldine Klink Mark 50th Anniversary

Fred and Geraldine Klink, 9121 Waterloo-Munith Rd., will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary this Friday, Aug. 22. The couple was married in St. Cornelius Cyprian church in Bunker Hill, in 1935 after originally meeting in December of 1933 in Stockbridge. When they met, Geraldine was 16 years old and living in a foster home with the Elmer Phelps family. Previously, she had lived in Detroit. Fred, who was born in Lyndon township, was a hired hand on the farm. The couple later moved to the Hardscrabble Fruit Farm, now home of Fred Patterson.

The Klinks have 10 children, nine of whom live in the Chelsea area. Donna Payne lives in California. The others are Mary Ann Walz, Fred Klink, Jr., John Klink, Alice Wahl, George Klink, Esther Whitaker, and Garry, Phillip and David Klink. In addition, the Klinks have 28 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

VFW Auxiliary Hosts District Inspection Team

The regular monthly meeting and district No. 6 inspection of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Chelsea Post No. 4076, was held Monday, Aug. 11, at 7:30 p.m. with Joan L. Taft, president, presiding.

The pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by Gertrude O'Dell, patriotic instructor, pro-tem, followed by our National Anthem. Pat Weatherholt, district No. 6 president and Mary Gramlich, both from Monroe Ladies Auxiliary 4361, were special guests. Pat Weatherholt as district No. 6 president was making her official inspection.

One candidate received her invitation for membership. Darlene Cozens, membership chairperson, stated that only 23 ladies still needed to pay their dues for the coming year.

Eulah Lee Packard, Americanism and Loyalty Day chairperson, reported that she had received four more telephone calls about stolen flags and even one from Dexter.

Virginia Boyer, Community Service chairperson reported that the sidewalk sale and comfort station had been a great success. We still have some tickets on the Tupperware picnic set available before the drawing on Aug. 28, at 6:30 p.m. at the Post Home right before Bingo.

Pat Weatherholt, district No. 6 president was escorted to the podium, where she presented the ladies auxiliary with a special citation from National headquarters for Cancer Aid and Research, a special citation from Department Ladies Auxiliary for participation in the Robin pin sale, a citation from Department Ladies Auxiliary for chairperson and Auxiliary for Americanism and Loyalty Day program, another for the auxiliary for the hospital program and one for reaching 100% membership. She also reported that the department president, Lorraine Stewart from Taylor Auxiliary No. 4422, special project is "Make a Wish" which is based at Traverse City. These are wishes granted to children that are terminally ill. About 156 wishes have already been granted this year.

Pat Weatherholt was then presented with an American Eagle from the Franklin Mint Collection.

Refreshments were served following the meeting.

The next regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary will be held Monday, Sept. 8 at 7:30 p.m., at the post home.

Personal Note

Dr. Yarows Pushes for Outlawing Tobacco Advertisements in Chelsea

Chelsea physician Steven Yarows is among the growing number of medical professionals who would like to see advertising for tobacco products banned.

Yarows recently sent a letter to the Chelsea Village Council asking the trustees to ban advertising for cigarettes inside the village. Council decided not to take up the issue, although Village President Jerry Satterthwaite said he didn't think it was government's business to regulate it.

Yarows, an internal medicine specialist, says he hasn't given up. He plans to make a personal appeal to council.

"This is an important issue now," Yarows said. "The American Medical Association and the American Lung Association have come out against the advertising. The argument is that advertising is aimed mainly to get new smokers, although the tobacco industry says they only want to get people to change brands. Almost all of the advertising is aimed at teenagers, who are very impressionable. We're simply interested in protecting people who can't protect themselves."

"If you go to Briarwood Mall you'll see quite a number of young girls who smoke. Somehow they've gotten the idea that smoking is all right for them, and I don't think it was from Mom and Dad."

Yarows noted that the tobacco industry spent $2 billion last year on advertising, much of it for ads for products like Virginia Slims, which shows smoking to be glamorous, or Marlboro cigarettes, which depicts a tough, rugged man.

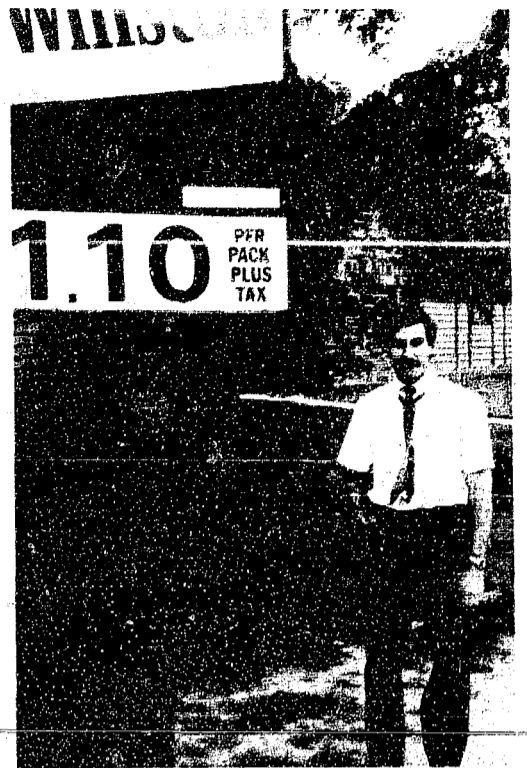

Yarows also said that every pack of cigarettes smoked translates to $3 in additional health care costs nationally. That covers everything from the cost of treating diseases such as lung cancer, emphysema and heart attacks, to lost wages. He said more than 350,000 people a year die from smoking-related illnesses.

"I'm not against a person smoking, it's every person's right to make that decision," Yarows said.

"But every smoker I've ever talked to wishes he hadn't started in the first place. I believe we have a right to keep the tobacco industry from influencing non-smokers to smoke. I guess I feel so strongly about this because I see the effects of tobacco. I've never seen a 40-year-old who had a heart attack who didn't smoke."

Yarows said he would like to see advertising for all tobacco products banned from the village because, "smokeless tobacco is just as harmful as cigarettes." He said convenience stores are the biggest offenders and he scoffed at the notion that eliminating those ads would hurt their business.

"I guarantee you there is not one store in Chelsea that would go out of business because they can't advertise tobacco products," Yarows said.

DR. YAROWS would like to see advertisements like this one, ironically in front of his office on adjacent property, outlawed in Chelsea.

Cats Survive Hot Time In Pick-up

A Chelsea policeman broke out a pick-up truck's vent window in order to save three cats who were in danger of dying of heat prostration.

According to Chelsea police, Laura Cassell, of Ann Arbor, who was visiting Lane Animal Hospital on M-52, accidentally locked both her cats and keys in her car on Saturday, Aug. 16, at a time when it was 80 degrees outside.

After officer Michael Foster was unable to get the car open, a futile attempt was made to call a locksmith. That's when Cassell asked Foster to break the window.

Although a little hot, the cats were in good shape when they were released, police said.

YOUR TIME IS HERE.

The time is right for taking a class at Washtenaw Community College. Registration for fall classes is underway now through August 29. We have more than 50 career programs and a variety of general education courses, many of which can transfer to four year schools.

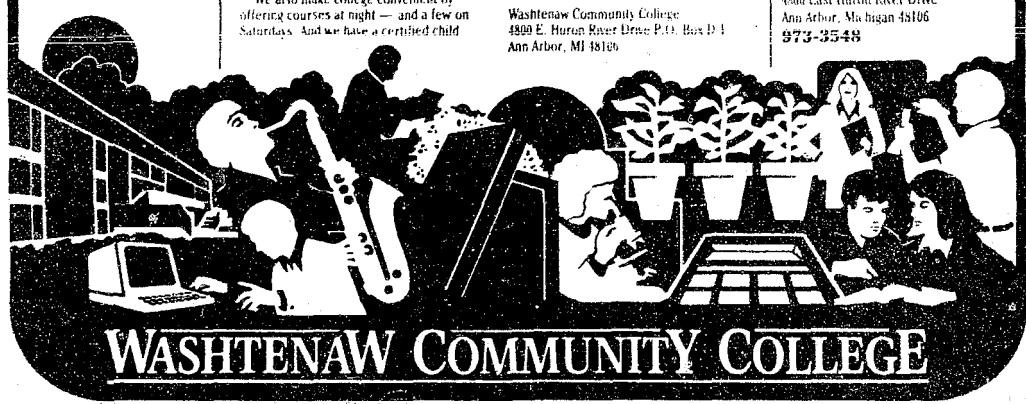

We also make college convenient by offering courses at night — and a few on Saturdays. And we have a certified child care facility right on campus. We can help make college affordable, too, thanks to reasonable tuition rates and a full service financial aid office.

Call the Information Tape at 573-3650 for daily registration hours. For tomorrow, start today at Washtenaw Community College.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

Across Jackson St., just a few feet to the west of the depot, is Farmers' Supply, a feed and grain mill operated by Anton Nielsen, village president for several terms during the 1930's. The busy building is gray with age, perhaps dating back to the Civil War. If you venture upstairs you will find at least one remaining bedroom plumed with mid-Victorian wallpaper. Typical of rural America, it was a two-story house, snugly close to the train depot. Others, with more bedrooms and a public dining room were called hotels.

Rail officials, traveling salesmen and village visitors would stop overnight at the hourly nearest railroad station. There was no Benz or Avis in those days and if the traveler had farther to go, he would head for the stable to rent a horse and buggy.

More than 70 years ago, my mother, Vernie, my sister Helen and fidgety five-year-old Will used to visit Grandma Judevine in a Missouri country town named Rolla. We would arrive on the 2 a.m. train and depart a week or so later on the 3 a.m. "special" to St. Louis. At each part of the visit we luxuriated in the Depot Hotel. We would sleep out the arrival night until sometime after dawn when Grandma, having milked the cows, would arrive with her cow-horse carriage/wagon to pick us up. On the night of departure, she would drive us to town, kiss us farewell and turn us over to the hotel keeper.

We had a large room with two beds at a cost of 75 cents. Mother and Helen slept in ladylike peace in the big brass bed while they assigned the white iron cot to wiggly Will.

Hanging overhead was an iron bell which the housekeeper would ring with a rug rope 30 minutes before the arrival of the train. There were two porcelain washbowls with matching porcelain pitchers. Beneath each bed was a chamber pot partially filled with water which reputedly would freeze solid in the wintertime.

Next to the double hung front window was a coil of rope attached to a metal plate and fastened with anchor bolts to the floor. The heavy fire escape rope had massive knots spaced about one foot apart. If a fire broke out, heralded by the emergency bell, the sleepers went into action. The prepacked bags would be lowered or dropped to the ground. I would descend joyfully (an event that never happened to happen) while the ladies fastened the hems of their very long skirts before descending into public view.

Today, no Chelsea family is concerned about a moonlight passenger train nor does Mrs. Nielsen worry about a guest register for the wallpapered bedroom. The nostalgia of the old depot is still there, though. During open house days at the building, crowds of visitors came outside the station and waved enthusiastically as Amtrak trains passed through. Engineers, conductors and passengers waved gayly back.

History buffs will be interested to know that the land for the Chelsea Depot was donated to the railroad by the Congdon brothers in 1848, the same year America began building the Washington Monument. The monument was completed in 1880, and so was the railroad depot in Chelsea, Michigan.

There might be some hope for the revival of intertown railroad services of 25- to 100-mile runs but not for big diesel engines. Such intermediate distances call for a 2- or 3-car interurban service. For the long trips, it's hard to compete with the speed of jets or the comfort of motor homes.

There is, and should be, greater hope for train freight service if it can only get back into control by private enterprise. As the president of the Northwestern Railroad once observed, "For carrying heavy loads long distances, nothing compares with the efficiency of loadbearing steel wheels rolling on smooth steel tracks." To take advantage of this principle, Conrail is busy right now on local tracks welding rails into seamless ribbons of steel. But nothing will help freight rail service as long as bureaucratic boneheads are running the show. One shipper noticed that boxcars of freight destined for national distribution travelled 25 miles only to stop for a week's "rest" on a siding.

Well, enough about the national rail troubles.

CHELSEA'S DEPOT OF THE FUTURE

With the purchase of the Chelsea Depot and its exterior restoration, what comes next?

Our sales agreement has certain dreamy reservations in event that Amtrak resumes regular passenger service to Chelsea. We are obliged to provide parking for six cars and 100 square feet of waiting space for passengers. It will be a welcome accommodation if that day ever comes. Right now we are faced with the rehabilitation of the inside and a few important additions to the outside.

This Phase Two is more costly and more complicated than Phase One because it involves a host of technical problems. We want modern electrical circuits, high intensity gas heat, air conditioning, and plumbing that will serve us well into the 21st century.

While the building can retain its exterior design indefinitely, the inside must keep pace with the times while preserving some of its 19th century decor. To make Phase Two work, we may need additional trustees on the board and they, in turn, will probably need committees of advisors.

We will want a finance committee to raise money and account for its use. We will need a committee on construction and yet another for decor and furnishings. The public affairs committee should publicize the programs and affairs of the depot.

An early need after reconstruction will be a community organization team to see that the facilities of the depot can be shared by civic, social, educational and cultural interests of the area.

Farther down the line, someone may propose that all Donor Certificate holders should be accredited as voting members of the Chelsea Depot Association. This, in turn, could lead to a membership committee.

The one thing the depot should not do, in the opinion of many, is to influence changes in the character of the community. The village and countryside has base roots of two and three generation families. There are thousands of people who know each other by their first names and wave a friendly hello to practically anyone they pass on the road.

Once or twice I have heard someone remark, "Why have a depot meeting hall at all? There are plenty of places in town to get together."

I have never had to answer that question. Others have always beaten me to it.

First, our depot is a place of historic distinction which is likely to draw greater attendance than places of less distinction.

Second, it is a permanent home for displays, exhibits, antiques and community records maintained under the auspices of the Chelsea Area Historical Society.

Third, the building has only one floor, providing good access to handicapped people who wish to participate in community affairs.

Fourth, the depot is situated in the heart of the downtown business district with plenty of convenient parking.

And fifth, this building is more likely to be available daytimes, evenings and week-ends than other public meeting places in town.

If anyone would like more reasons, tell him to go climb the Washington Monument.

THE BEST CHEERLEADERS POSSIBLE are what Brenda Welch, left, and Stacie Taylor want to be. These Chelsea High school sophomores attended a United States Cheerleaders Association camp at Ohio State University July 24-28 with the idea of learning a few new techniques. Instructors from Indiana, Ohio, Arizona, and Paris, France, taught the girls in sideline cheers, floor cheers, and crowd participation, including upbeat, snappy, quick-moving cheers. Stacie, the daughter of Jan and Bob Taylor, will be a junior varsity basketball cheerleader. Brenda, the daughter of Milton and Pam Wood, will be a junior varsity football cheerleader. Both were freshman cheerleaders last year.

Fair Work Bee Planned Aug. 21

The final "work bee" to set up the 1986 Chelsea Community Fair will take place Thursday, Aug. 21 at 7:30 p.m. In addition there will be a fair board meeting.

Board members, anyone else who wishes to work, and superintendents of departments are requested to attend. So far, attendance for the work bees has been outstanding. The last bee was held Thursday, Aug. 14.

Beach Students Report on Sept. 3

Beach Middle School's 1986-87 school year will begin for sixth, seventh and eighth grade students on Sept. 3. Sixth grade students should plan to report directly to the school cafeteria where they will be introduced to their first-hour teachers who will, in turn, escort them to their classrooms. Seventh and eighth grade students should report to the school exercise room to pick up their class schedules and then report to first-hour classes. Students should plan to arrive at school between 8:30-8:45 a.m.

Classer will be dismissed at 3:10 p.m.

Families new to the Chelsea School District may wish to enroll their Middle School students the week prior to the Sept. 3 general school opening. Jean Mann, Beach Middle school counselor, will be available on Aug. 27-28 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. to enroll new students and to answer questions about the Beach school academic program. All new entrants must comply with Michigan law regarding immunizations and must provide the school with a record verifying that proper vaccines have been obtained.

The Beach Middle school principal will review the Student Handbook with students on Sept. 4 and 5. A copy of the handbook will be sent home with students. Parents are encouraged to review this document to acquaint themselves with policies and operational procedures at Beach school.

Schedule Changes At Chelsea High

Class schedule changes for Chelsea High school students this fall will be handled on the first day of classes rather than the week of Aug. 25, according to Principal John Williams.

The change in plans was made due to the unavailability of staff. The first day of classes is Wednesday, Sept. 3, beginning with a meeting in the high school gym. Williams said only a pen and note pad will be needed for the first day.

Griffiths Promoted At Chelsea Hospital

Kathleen S. Griffiths has been promoted to executive vice-president and chief operating officer of Chelsea Community Hospital.

Griffiths began at Chelsea in 1981 as administrative coordinator for psychiatry and substance abuse. In 1983 she was promoted to assistant administrator for the hospital's clinical specialty programs. Her promotion to executive vice-president and chief operating officer became effective Aug. 1.

Griffiths earned a master's degree in Public Health Administration with a specialization in Health Services Administration from New York University, and a master of social work degree from the University of Michigan.

Griffiths has approximately 15 years of health care experience. She was previously employed at Hawthorne Center, Northville, and W. A. Foote Memorial Hospital, Jackson. She is a member of the American College of Health Executives and the American Association of Mental

The fourth annual Country Western Dance will feature music by Stetzen, the musicians who played the Friday evening concert at the Gazebo during the recent Dexter Daze.

The group also played at the 1985 Country Western Dance at the Legion grounds.

"In addition to dancing, admission to the party will include a lunch during the evening," explained Nellie.

Although the event nearly always turns out a good crowd, it's easier to estimate food quantities with some idea in advance of the number for which to plan, so Nellie and Chuck encourage early ticket sales as a help to them.

DAVID SAYER OF CHELSEA was one of the volunteer casualties at Washtenaw County's recently staged Hazardous Substance Disaster Exercise, Wednesday, Aug. 13. The mock disaster was conducted at the site of the Pittsfield Township Hall. David is a member of Boy Scout Troop 478, Chelsea. He was originally directed to the "seriously injured" group of volunteers, but later transferred to the casualties section when it was discovered he was tagged a "non-survivor."

munities. The county donated antennas used with the unit, and RACES members have contributed their time and effort to implement the vehicle changes. Additional equipment is needed to complete the unit and RACES members hope citizens will aid by donating either items of needed equipment or funds toward purchase of the items. The vehicle will be in operation at the Chelsea Community Fair, and Schantz explained Chelsea Police Chief Leonard McDougall has accepted a RACES offer to use the unit as a Mobile Command Post at the fair site.

DIRECTOR DAN HARSH from Washtenaw County's Office of Emergency Management, shown at far left, was one of the directors at the Hazardous Substance Emergency Disaster exercise planned by officials to test responses of fire, law enforcement and emergency medical services personnel and equipment. The mock disaster was conducted Wednesday, Aug. 13, at the Pittsfield Township Hall. Shown with Harsh, who resides on Dexter-Chelsea Rd., are county planning director Tom Fegan and David G. Hunscher, controller/administrator for Washtenaw county are shown at the site of county's Mock Disaster Exercise.

Mock Disaster Exercise Held For Emergency Personnel

Units and procedures developed for response to a "Hazardous Substance Emergency Disaster" in Washtenaw county were put into operation, Friday, Aug. 13, at Pittsfield Township Hall, corner of Ellsworth and State Rds.

A simulated disaster was conducted with police, fire and emergency medical services personnel responding as they would to a real disaster situation. County officials, both elected and appointed, were abundant at the mock disaster site, both before and during the event.

Planned as part of the annual program to test emergency units throughout the county, the disaster exercise plan emanated from the Washtenaw County Office of Emergency Management, in which director Daniel E. Harsh of Dexter-Chelsea Rd. serves.

According to the disaster script, the following situation existed in the mock disaster: "At approximately 4:55 p.m. on Aug. 13, a tanker truck carrying about 6,000 gallons of a pesticide attempted to make a turn in the Pittsfield Township Hall parking lot.

"While the tanker was attempting the turn, a vehicle struck the tanker causing a minor rupture in the tank and subsequent leaking of material.

"The vehicle which struck the tanker ignited, also igniting the pesticide which leaked from the tanker.

"A meeting was in progress at the township hall with 90 people attending.

"The hall is directly adjacent to the parking lot.

"At the sound of the collision, a majority of individuals opened the door from the township hall to observe the incident.

"They were immediately overcome by fumes emitted by the burning pesticide.

"Initial distribution of injuries was estimated to be 20 fatalities, 30 critically injured, and 40 with less critical injuries.

"Further estimates of the 70 injured victims were 36 red (most severe injuries), 20 yellow (serious injuries), and 20 green (moderate injuries).

"Of the group, a large percentage of victims appeared to be exhibiting severe respiratory distress.

"At approximately 5 p.m., Emergency Management officials were notified, along with Pittsfield Public Safety officials, that a mass-casualty incident was occurring at the mock accident site, with hazardous material involvement."

Harsh and Pittsfield Public Safety Director Jim Payeur surveyed the disaster site, and Payeur selected the pre-staging area for law enforcement, fire and EMS personnel.

With assistance from local physicians, American Red Cross (ARC) officials prepared the injury scripts for the scene.

Harsh and Wes McKenzie, executive director for American Red Cross' Washtenaw chapter, supervised gathering the moulage materials.

Volunteers from many sectors within the county served as mock disaster victims during the exercise.

Searching to identify some of the participants, this reporter located David Sayer of Chelsea among the injured victims.

David and Mike Hinderer, both members of Chelsea's Boy Scout Troop 476 were among the volunteers in the injured people at the mock disaster scene.

A student at South school in Chelsea, David originally was placed with the seriously-injured victims, but was later identified wearing a "black tag" and transferred to the non-survivors.

Black, red, green and yellow flags were planted in the grassy ground surrounding the parking lot to signify injury status of the mock disaster victims.

Among the other injured victims were volunteers from the various hospitals. Explorers from posts sponsored by various fire and law enforcement units, and ARC volunteers.

Each of the fire units within Washtenaw county was issued an invitation to take part in Wednesday's mock disaster incident, but no firefighters from the county's western units were located at the scene.

Observers from the United States Coast Guard and from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) attended the disaster exercise.

Lt. Cmdr. John G. Herish and MSTC Ernest Presher from the USCG's Detroit office, both of whom serve in the Marine Safety Office, were present, with Ted Kaiser from NOAA's Hazardous Materials Response Branch.

NOAA has an office on Washtenaw Rd.

Also present to offer assistance and valuable expertise in the field of hazardous substances was Adam Paul Banner, who serves in a voluntary position with the Office of Emergency Management as hazardous materials co-ordinator.

Banner is a retired industrial chemist from Dow Chemical Co. in Midland and possesses worldwide experience in the field of hazardous substances.

Neil Simon was hired by the county to fill in for much of the planning for the summer's mock disaster, since Dan Harsh was seriously ill for several weeks prior to the event.

Wednesday's mock disaster exercise was under the direction of Harsh, McKenzie and Payeur.

Payeur co-ordinated the pre-staging area, with assistance from WCSO Deputy Joe Yekulis and Dale Berry.

It was Yekulis who developed the law enforcement resource script used in the exercise, while Payeur served in the same capacity for fire resources and Berry prepared the EMS resource script.

Jan Kennedy and Kathy Swen-der developed the MTRC script. Hospital representatives arranged the transportation of volunteers to and from the disaster site.

A critique session was held at 1 p.m. Friday, Aug. 15, at the township hall for all observers, hospital representatives, exercise directors, law enforcement, fire, EMS participants and disaster sub-committee members.

Recommendations for future mock disasters will be put in writing in the weeks ahead, Harsh explained.

Mock Disaster Exercise Held For Emergency Personnel

Units and procedures developed for response to a "Hazardous Substance Emergency Disaster" in Washtenaw county were put into operation Friday, Aug. 13, at Pittsfield Township Hall, corner of Ellsworth and State Sts.

A simulated disaster was conducted with police, fire and emergency medical services personnel responding as they would to a real disaster situation.

Black, red, green and yellow flags were planted in the grassy ground surrounding the parking lot to signify injury status of the mock disaster victims.

Among the other injured victims were volunteers from the various hospitals. Explorers from posts sponsored by various fire and law enforcement units, and AHC volunteers.

Each of the fire units within Washtenaw county was issued an plan for the summer's mock disaster, since Dan Harsh was seriously ill for several weeks prior to the event.

Wednesday's mock disaster exercise was under the direction of Harsh, McFarlane and Payer.

Payer coordinated the pre-staging area, with assistance from WESD Deputy Joe Yekulis and Dale Berry.

It was Yekulis who developed the law enforcement resource des developed the MRCO script. Hospital representatives arranged the transportation of volunteers to and from the disaster site.

A critique session was held at 1 p.m. Friday, Aug. 15, at the township hall for all observers, hospital representatives, exercise directors, law enforcement, fire, EMS participants and disaster sub-committee members.

The mock disaster

Mock Disaster Exercise Held For Emergency Personnel

Units and procedures developed for response to a "Hazardous Substance Emergency Disaster" in Washtenaw county were put into operation, Friday, Aug. 13, at Pittsfield Township Hall, corner of Ellsworth and State Rds.

A simulated disaster was conducted with police, fire and emergency medical services personnel responding as they would to a real disaster situation. County officials, both elected

Black, red, green and yellow flags were planted in the grassy ground surrounding the parking lot to signify injury status of the mock disaster victims.

Among the other injured victims were volunteers from the various hospitals, Explorers from posts sponsored by various fire and law enforcement units, and ARC volunteers.

Each of the fire units within Washtenaw county was issued an invitation to take part in the exercise.

planning for the summer's mock disaster, since Dan Harsh was seriously ill for several weeks prior to the event.

Wednesday's mock disaster exercise was under the direction of Harsh, McKenzie and Payeur. Payeur co-ordinated the pre-staging area, with assistance from WCSO Deputy Joe Yekulis and Dale Berry.

It was Yekulis who developed the law enforcement resource script used in the exercise, while der developed the MRCC script.

Hospital representatives arranged the transportation of volunteers to and from the disaster site.

A critique session was held at 1 p.m. Friday, Aug. 15, at the township hall for all observers, hospital representatives, exercise directors, law enforcement, fire, EMS participants and disaster sub-committee members.

Nine Young Women Face Busy Week in Queen Program

Although the official 1986 Chelsea Community Fair Queen program takes place on Friday, Aug. 29, it marks the end of a busy week for the nine contestants.

The first official public business for the young women is to participate in the Children's Parade on Tuesday evening, the traditional opening event of the fair. Each girl will ride in a convertible automobile.

However, one of the most important parts of the week has already taken place by that time. On Sunday, Aug. 24, before the fair even begins, each girl has a five-minute personal interview with the contest judges. Each girl will be asked questions about her personal interests and community activities. That interview counts for one-third of the contest.

The judges for this year's event include three people who have had considerable experience judging talent and beauty contests, according to Margot Koenig, who along with Kathy Powers and Penny Trinkle has organized this year's event.

Jaqueline Hunter, of Jackson, is the director of the Junior Miss program in Jackson.

Leonard Lafleur, a sales supervisor for Jacobson's store, has judged contests leading to the Miss America pageant.

David Lutchka, of Grass Lake, an accountant for the State of Michigan, has also judged similar events at state fairs and other venues.

Also on Sunday, the judges will score the talent portion of the program, in private with the girls. Again, the talent accounts for one-third of the program.

On Friday evening the girls will show their particular talents to the public.

This year's group includes three singers: Lori Jedele, of McDonald's; Susan Schmunk, of Chelsea Area Players; and Jennifer Bennett, of Terrific Tailors 4-H Club. Two girls will also show their forensics talents—Dawn Spade, of the Chelsea High school junior class and Michelle Kuhl, of the senior class.

Vicki Niethammer, representing the freshman class, and Elizabeth Maurer, of the Chelsea Baton Corps Booster Club, will twirl the baton.

Debbie Harshberger, of the sophomore class, will dance, and Kathryn Morgan, of Rogers Corners Herdsmen, will perform a dance-tumbling act.

The final part of the judging involves the public interview, which takes place during the Friday show. Each girl will answer a question that has been created especially for her by the judges. She will be judged on how well she handles herself in front of a crowd, and her grace and poise. Each girl will also talk a little bit about herself, and will introduce her family.

In addition, reigning queen Susan Overdorf will perform a forensics-flute routine.

Chelsea resident Julie Vorus will be the Mistress of Ceremonies for the Friday show. Vorus has been active in the Chelsea Area Players, Ann Arbor Civic Theater, and the Saline Area Players.

During the week, the girls will also take part in a variety of fair activities. They will pass out ribbons at the livestock judgings; judge the painted cars at the demolition derby; take turns in the Lions Club dunk tank on Tuesday and Wednesday; assist with the judging in the floriculture, agriculture and hobbies areas; help out with the Ladies Day program on Friday morning; and ride on their sponsor's float during Saturday's fair parade.

So when you see the young women during Friday's show, it really marks the end of a long, nervous week of being in the public's eye.

Thursday Meeting Set To Discuss Telephone System

Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a public meeting to discuss the Chelsea telephone system at 9 a.m., Thursday, Aug. 21, at the Chelsea Milling Co. auditorium.

The agenda will include remarks by the Commissioner of the Michigan Public Service Commission, a summary of the recent survey regarding the telephone problems, and a report by Michigan Bell as to what is and will be done concerning the problems and will end with a question and answer period.

All interested parties are invited to attend the meeting. Please call the Chamber office, 475-1145, if you plan to attend.

Community Fair Queen Candidates

Five of Nine Young Women Who Seek The Crown

DEBRA SUE HARSHBERGER, 15, will represent Chelsea High school's sophomore class in the 1986 Fair Queen Contest. She is the daughter of Robert and Charlotte Harshberger, 14007 McKinley Rd., and the sister of Stephen, Mark and Matt. Debra has received numerous scholastic honor certificates throughout her school years. She has also received awards for cheerleading, dance and gymnastics. Previous to moving to Chelsea in 1984, Debra lived in Taylor, where she was a cheerleader for three years, and took dance and gymnastics classes. She plans to gradually become more involved in Chelsea community activities as her busy schedule allows. Her family is building a house and she hopes to have a horse as horseback riding is one of her favorite activities. She also likes to travel, spend time at the beaches, participate in water sports, shop, and spend time with her boyfriend.

DAWN SPADE, 16, is being sponsored by the Chelsea High school junior class in her bid to become the 1986 Chelsea Community Fair Queen. Dawn is the daughter of Vince and Pat Spade, 2878 McKinley Rd., and sister of Mike, 14. Dawn will be captain of the Flag Corps, after serving as co-captain last year. She was a member of the Flag Corps that earned a first-place trophy in an all-state competition at Eastern Michigan University. She earned a blue ribbon for a superior performance in a flag competition from Smith-Walbridge Clinic in Indiana. She also earned a red ribbon in dance for excellent performance. In addition, she has won a first-place trophy in sailboat racing. Over the years she has entered numerous fair activities and has won ribbons in hobbies, needleart, baking, floriculture and agriculture. Dawn has been a cheerleader for four years and is captain of the Chelsea Color Guard. She is also a flute player and has participated in band for five years. Among her community activities, Dawn has worked in the Lions Club Sightmobile, sat in the Lions Club dunk tank and babysat for a local women's Bible Study group. In addition to entering exhibits at the fair, Dawn has worked as an assistant to the superintendent of the hobby and floriculture departments. She has also participated in the parades. Among her hobbies, Dawn loves to sail, waterski, golf, cross-country ski, and ride horses, when she isn't reading or baking. In her court will be Kristi Jachalke and Dena Stevens.

KATHRYN MORGAN, 17, is being sponsored by Rogers Corners Herdsmen 4-H Club in this year's Chelsea Community Fair Queen competition. She is the daughter of Sam and Nancy Morgan, 12900 Trinkle Rd., and she has a brother, Jeff. Kathryn is a member of the National Honor Society at Chelsea High school, and participates in track, volleyball and key club. She is very active in 4-H and has had entries in the community fair's steer and swine competitions, as well as in vegetables, baking and crafts. Her hobbies include running, volleyball, swimming and crafts. Her court will be Judy Barels, Melinda McCalla and Linell Brehner.

SUSAN SCHMUNK, 16, is representing Chelsea Area Players in her bid to become the 1986 Chelsea Community Fair Queen. She is the daughter of Charles and Sandra Schmunk, 12468 Trinkle Rd. She has a brother, Dana, 11, and sister, Betsy, 8. Susan will be a junior at Chelsea High school. A gifted student, Susan won an academic letter last year and is a member of the Society of Distinguished American High School Students. She's also a member of the National Honor Society. Susan has kept extremely active in school and community activities. She has performed in three high school musical plays, "Pippin," "Cinderella," and "Annie Get Your Gun," and in the Chelsea Area Players productions of "Annie," "Mame," and "Camelot." She has been a member of the varsity swim team for three years and has been a three-year state qualifier and two-year state finalist. She won the Coach's Award last season. She also teaches and coaches swimming at Cameron pool. The former drum major of the Chelsea Chorus Baton Corps was state champion in beginning baton solo in 1983, and was faucy strut champion in 1983-84. A member of The Contemporaries and the CHS choir, Susan was recently granted a scholarship to Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp for Voice. Susan is also active in her church, where she is vice-president of her youth group and participates in the choir. Her fair activities have included marching in the parade for three years, entering vegetables in competition, and co-chairing this year's senior float committee. Not surprisingly, reading, singing and baton twirling are her hobbies. Members of the Chelsea Area Players Children's Theater and Workshop will be in her court.

Tell Them You Read It In The Standard

LORI JO ANNE JEDELE, 16, is being sponsored by Chelsea McDonald's in the 1986 Chelsea Fair Queen Contest. Lori is the daughter of John and Judy Jedele, 404 Chandler St., and sister of John, who graduated from Chelsea High school last year. Lori loves to sing. A member of The Contemporaries, Lori has received "1" ratings for her efforts at the annual festival. She also sings in the choir. Lori is one of Chelsea High school's football managers and has been busy of late. She says she would like to join Chelsea's Students Against Drunk Driving chapter this year. Lori has coached Midget League softball. Last year she helped out with the high school music department's snow cone stand at the fair. Among her hobbies, Lori said she likes to ride her bicycle, walk, or read a good book. She also likes to collect koala bears and penguins.

Run Slated During Fair

For the third straight year, the Chelsea Community Fair will feature a Fun Run, this year on Saturday, Aug. 30.

The event is being held by the Chelsea Family Practice Center in collaboration with the Chelsea Recreation Council and the Chelsea Community Fair.

New to the Fun Run will be a one-mile walk event.

There will also be the standard one, three and five mile events.

The runs begin at 9 a.m. at the Family Practice Center on M-52. Entry fee by Saturday, Aug. 23 is $6. After that a late registration fee of $8 is required. Registration will be accepted the day of the races. The fee covers a t-shirt, refreshments and eligibility for numerous prizes which will be given away at the finish line.

All races begin at the Family Practice Center and end at the fairgrounds. The one mile events loop around the center and goes up Main St. The three-mile run goes north on Main St., west on Middle St. around the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home parking lot and down Wilkinson St. The five mile race runs north on Main, east on Van Buren to Washington St., Freer Rd. to Mayer Dr., to Madison St. to Middle St., finishing up the same way as the three mile event.

Prizes will be awarded to all participants 14 and under, the family with the largest number of participants, the oldest and youngest runners, and the person who has traveled the greatest distance.

'Green Team' Opens Practice For 1986 Football Season

For a lot of us it may still seem like baseball season, but for about 60 Chelsea boys, and boys across the state, football season got off to a rousing start last Monday, Aug. 11.

Thirty-six boys make up the Chelsea Bulldog varsity team, again led by high school counselor and Head Coach Gene LaFave. LaFave begins his eighth year as taskmaster. Coach Jim Ticknor led the junior varsity into practice.

"Over-all, we're a little green," is the way LaFave described this year's varsity team.

"Our top players compare favorably to last year's best, but after that it falls off quite a bit. When contact starts next week we'll have a much better idea."

LaFave anticipates heated battles for many first string positions, including quarterback. Last year's all-state hurler, Dan Bellus, graduated.

It's very likely a sophomore will start at quarterback, LaFave said, although last year's all-conference receiver Todd Starkey was running the offense on occasion last week.

"We want to use Todd as a wide receiver, but if we don't have anyone who can get the ball to him, it's a waste of a lot of talent," LaFave said.

"We're fortunate Todd can play quarterback, too. It's too bad he can't throw to himself."

About "five spots either way," have definite starters, LaFave said. The rest are wide open.

LaFave said the team is in

JV Football Wants More

Practice has begun for the junior varsity football team and more boys are welcome to participate, according to coach Jim Ticknor.

Practice is being held daily from 9 a.m. to noon.

23 boys are on the team so far.

Fresh Football Has Meeting Aug. 20

Any ninth graders interested in trying out for the Chelsea High school freshman football team are invited to attend an organizational meeting on Wednesday, Aug. 20 at 6:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Practice will begin on Monday, Aug. 25 at 8 a.m.

Coach Jim Tallman will be on hand to answer questions at the meeting.

pretty good physical shape and that the conditioning drills have been coming along well. He said the off-season weight lifting program has also helped.

Seniors make up half of this year's team. There are 15 juniors and three sophomores.

The coach described his team's size as "decent," as about 10 boys weigh in at more than 190 pounds.

According to state guidelines, the first week of practice is conducted without pads. This week the boys begin the real action.

JOE EASSA looks for a hole during an early-season workout. He is one of several boys who will likely see time at running back this season.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Two characteristics about this year's Chelsea Bulldog varsity football team stood out as I watched one of their practices last week.

First is that almost nobody on the team has hair more than an inch long, well maybe an inch and a half, although there were just a lot of plain short haircuts.

Crew cuts and flat tops seemed predominant.

I didn't like flat tops the first time they came around, partially because my Dad made me wear one for a couple of years. To this day I have a hard time understanding why someone would choose to wear one of his own free will. Do guys take the butch wax and make the front stand up like a hedgehog like they used to?

Yes, on the football field last week I felt as though I had time warped back to the '50s. Can letter sweaters, sock-hops and going steady be far behind?

Personally, I miss the good not-quite-as-old days when guys like Jim Kick of the Miami Dolphins or Fred Beltrickoff of the Oakland Raiders, who had hair sprouting from every crevice of their helmets, dominated the game.

The other thing that struck me about the Chelsea football team is how small, in poundage, it looked. It was partly because everyone was wearing a helmet and no pads, which made their heads look too big for their rest of their bodies.

It's also because Gene LaFave, the head coach, is bigger, far bigger, than anyone else out there, including his assistant coaches. It's probably good that he's so big. His size helps give him a commanding presence.

However, if a coach's physical presence had much to do with winning football, my high school team would have been undefeated.

My coach would have made LaFave look like a shrimp. His name was Hal and he had played semi-pro football somewhere in New York.

Hal was an ex-offensive tackle and probably weighed around 350 pounds. He was so fat that his eyeglasses looked as though they were going to explode off his head. He couldn't wear them over his ears because they wouldn't open that wide, so he was forced to tilt them upward to a narrower part of his head. It didn't really matter because he was so big that he was usually looking downward at people anyway.

Hal taught English, although I was never in one of his classes. Apparently he was hooked on the classics because he used them with reckless abandon on the field.

"Son, you're blocking like a wimp," he once told me. "Your blocking like DAVID COPPERFIELD for chrissake."

Another time he yelled at my best friend, "If Ahab had your enthusiasm, he would have settled for a damn dolphin for chrissake."

Hal was big on show-and-tell coaching. He liked to get down in the trenches with us linemen, except he never wore any pads—he didn't need any. And he expected us to tangle with him as though he was just some huge sophomore.

Hal was also a big proponent of the four-point stance and he demonstrated it with vigor.

"Explode off the ball!" he used to yell before he'd run over the 190-pound guy in front of him. "Drive, drive drive, never stop until you hear that whistle!"

It never mattered how low the defender was to the ground, Hal was always lower. He could block a guy backward who was lying flat on his stomach, and he did a few times. Occasionally his belly would fall out of his clothes and he'd scrape it up on the grass but his feet would keep churning like pistons. I recall being astounded by the size of the divots his huge feet produced, as though someone had been turned loose on the field with a giant nine-iron.

I had to line up opposite Hal once. It was the day before I quit football for good. The team didn't miss me, either. It lost almost every game anyway.

COLBY SKELTON swam for the Michigan Zone Swimming Team at the Central Zone Swimming Meet in Indiana recently. The Michigan team won. Colby's medley relay team took a first place, and Colby won an individual second place.

Skelton's Relay Team Wins Zone Meet Title

Colby Skelton swam the breaststroke leg of the Michigan "A" medley relay team that placed first at the Central Zone Swimming Championships at Indiana University Aug. 8-10.

In order for Colby to qualify for the Michigan Zone Swimming Team, he had to swim a AAA time at a U.S.S. Long Course Swim Meet this summer. Colby was one of 96 swimmers on the team.

Colby also earned a silver medal by placing second in the 10-and-under, 50-meter breaststroke with a personal best time of :49.52. He also swam the 100-meter breaststroke and was the anchor of the 200-meter Michigan "B" freestyle relay team, which finished ninth. For the first time ever.

Michigan won the meet over seven other states and placed five swimmers in the category of individual high point winner, in which there were eight total spots.

Colby is a member of the Chelsea Aquatic Club and will be a fifth grader at North school this fall.

The first fraternity house was occupied in 1839 by the Williams Chapter of the Kappa Alpha Society at Williams College, Williams-town, Mass.

Outdoor Report

From DNR District Office in Jackson

General ... Weather will remain hot and humid with the threat of storms each day. General cooling is expected next week. Seasonal relief until the hot last days of August! The Living Resources Program has added the Piping Plover to the series of patches offered to help endangered species. You can pick one up at the District office for $2.00 and half the amount is tax deductible.

Hunting ... Hunting licenses are due in District offices around the middle of August. This year a second firearms deer license may be purchased by residents and non-residents; however, it may not be purchased until after deadline for antlerless deer applications. Second firearms deer license will be sold at their regular fees, valid only for legal bucks with three-inch or longer antlers. A second bow and arrow deer license may be purchased by residents and non-residents at their regular fees; the second license is good for legal buck only and valid only in Zones 1 and 3. A second junior bow and arrow license is to be sold for the same price as a first junior bow and arrow deer license. There are no provisions for a senior citizen to purchase a second senior citizen hunting license. Therefore, if a senior citizen wishes to purchase a second deer license, they must purchase a regular resident deer license at the price of $9.75. This is also true for purchases of Sportsperson licenses.

Fisheries ... Lake Hudson in Lenawee county was stocked with 2,000 purebred northern musky fingerlings in late July. These fish averaged seven inches long. The musky program in Lake Hudson has been very successful. We have received recent reports of anglers catching and releasing several nice muskies during a day's fishing. To protect the large muskies for our brood stock and egg collecting projects, the legal minimum length limit for muskies on Lake Hudson is 38 inches. Also northern pike from Lake Hudson have to be at least 30 inches long to be kept.

On Aug. 19 the Fisheries Unit will begin a rotenone survey project on the Battle Creek River from Charlotte to Battle Creek. Present plans are to survey a total of seven stations on the entire river. These stations will vary in length from 300 to 600 feet. A net is placed at the downstream end of the station to hold the fish. Then rotenone which suffocates the fish is added at the upstream end of the station. The dead fish are collected at the net. Potassium permanganate is applied to the river immediately downstream from the net to neutralize the rotenone and prevent unwanted downstream fish kills. This method works very well in streams and rivers that are too large to effectively collect fish by electro-fishing. Fish move back into the small treated sections quickly. The background information gained from the survey is useful in developing plans to improve game fish populations.

THE FASTEST GUN IN MICHIGAN. Dave Waters of Port Huron, shot 12 bull's eyes with a heavy pistol in less than six seconds, emptying and reloading the gun in the process.

FIREARMS EXPERTS from Port Huron, and Sarnia, Ontario provided some fancy shooting, as well as gun education to club members at the August meeting of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club. Left to right are Ray Jarmasz of Sarnia, chief range instructor, Dave Waters, firearms champ from the Bluewater Sportsmen's Club, Shawn Corbett, Michigan range officer and instructor, Mark Harris, Ontario range equipment designer and Mike Manuszak who shoots videofilms as well as bullets.

Rod & Gun Club Witnesses High Speed Pistol Shooting

Members of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club were given a demonstration of high speed, accurate pistol marksmanship on the gun range of the club. This was followed by an educational lecture on fast draw shooting, lightning reloading and firearms safety.

The invitation was issued on behalf of the Chelsea club by Dave Rank, club secretary, who is a long-time friend of Dave Waters, Michigan pistol champion. All five members of the U.S.-Canadian team, pictured with this news report, are from the Port Huron-Sarnia area. All are members of the International Practical Shooting Club and the Bluewater Sportsmen's Club.

While Waters did the incredibly fast shooting, Ray Jarmasz was line judge, Shawn Corbett timed the shooting to 1/100th of a second, Mark Harris was safety officer and Mike Manuszak videotaped the event.

Chelsea Rod and Gun Club also gives invitational gun safety and marksmanship demonstrations to adults and youths in the area as well as annual lessons to qualify for Michigan hunting licenses. The club is a member of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs and is affiliated with the National Wildlife Federation.

JOY AND SURPRISE is reflected as Tony Wisniewski, left chuckles while Elwood Keezer holds trophy cup presented him for years of service behind the bar of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club. Tony is a director of the club and co-chairman of educational programs. El served as club president in 1967 and 1968.

Safety Urged On County Waterways After Ford Lake Boating Accident

During the past week-end, another boating accident occurred on Washtenaw waterways, this time on Ford Lake in the eastern section of the county.

Deputy Jerry Evans, supervisor of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department's Marine Safety Unit, reminds both boaters and swimmers to exert special care on county waterways during the remaining weeks of the summer season.

There have been several accidents on the water this year, some resulting from people's carelessness and others the result of equipment failure.

At approximately 6:30 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 16, Dearborn Heights resident Joseph Marlett, age 36, was injured after he was thrown from his boat.

Marlett, enjoying an outing at Ford Lake with family and friends, was kneeling on the seat of his boat traveling across the lake about midway between JYRO Park and the island when the steering control on the craft came loose and the throttle accelerated.

The sudden acceleration, combined with a lack of steering control, caused Marlett to be thrown from the boat which continued in a circular path back toward the man.

He tried to swim out of the boat's path, he explained to Marine deputy Frank Niehaus, but the boat ran over him. Marlett remained conscious through the ordeal but received multiple lacerations along the lower part of his legs up to his buttocks--the cuts were inflicted by the churning propeller blades.

Tom Sapiowski, a passenger in the boat, stopped the engine and pulled Marlett from the water.

A passing boat towed the craft to shore and Marine Deputy Frank Niehaus who was nearby was summoned to assist.

With assistance from the Ypsilanti Township Fire Department, Niehaus administered first aid and Marlett was transported to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, where he was reported in good condition on Sunday, according to Deputy Evans.

Of all his immortal works of art, Michelangelo painted only one easel picture. It is of the Holy Family, now in the Uffizi Gallery in Florence.

Wild Horses, Burros May Be Adopted

Approximately 150 wild horses and 75 wild burros will be placed up for adoption during a three-day event sponsored by the Department of the Interior's Bureau of Land Management. The animals have been rounded up from public rangelands in the West and will be trucked to a temporary adoption center, the Michigan Livestock Exchange stockyards at Battle Creek, telephone (616) 962-7591.

The Michigan Livestock Exchange is located on the eastern edge of Battle Creek.

Adoption will begin Friday, Aug. 15, and run through Sunday, Aug. 17. Hours will be 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day.

Potential adopters should call or come to the Michigan Livestock Exchange to receive an application to adopt. Applications may be approved at the site. A fee of $125 per horse and $75 per burro is charged to help cover veterinary, shipping and administrative costs.

Contact Bill Grossi at (414) 291-4417 before Aug. 13 for background information or names of past or future adopters in your area. After Aug. 13, ask for Bill at the Michigan Livestock Exchange in Battle Creek (616) 962-7591.

WE'RE READY FOR YOU.

ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

Minutes August 5, 1986

The meeting was called to order at 8:05 p.m. by Chairman Satterthwaite.

Present: Chairman Satterthwaite, Secretary Rosentreter, Village Manager Weber and Assistant Village Manager Fahner.

Members Present: Steele, Radloff, Bentley, Merkel, Boham and Kanten.

Others Present: Tina Kenney, Pat Schantz, Robert Penskar, Jim Finch, Gayle Finch, Cecil Clouse, Superintendent of Public Utilities, Mark Heydlauff, John Mitchell, Brian Hamilton, Treasurer, George Heydlauff, Carol Heydlauff, Bill Bott, Judy McArthur, Bill Nuffer, Phil Musolf, Connie Musolf, Harriet Hamilton, Ronald Biedron, H. K. Leonard, John Pierson, Bob Merkel, Mr. and Mrs. Winans, David Bartlett and Jim Fowler.

Motion by Merkel, supported by Kanten, to approve the minutes of the Zoning Board of Appeals meeting of June 3, 1986 as read. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

A public hearing was held on an Application No. 86-03 filed by Robert Penskar for a variance from the provisions of Section 4.25-C-1a (15.438) of the Zoning Ordinance.

WCC Will Seek Millage Increase

Washtenaw Community College will submit a millage increase proposal to county voters in the November general election. The proposal to seek an increase was formally approved by WCC's Board of Trustees at its regular monthly meeting July 22.

The college will place two proposals on the ballot. Those proposals include:

—Operating Millage—The college will ask for 7/10 of a mill, or $2.6 million. This is for operating budget needs and designated funds, such as campus repair and maintenance, instructional equipment, program and staff development and computer and teaching/learning systems.

—Bond Issue—The value of the bond issue is $13.5 million. This is for proposed new construction projects with an estimated total cost of $16 million. The remaining $2.5 million would be raised from state appropriations and other funding sources.

"The board and college staff, assisted by diverse community groups, has spent more than a year studying the future of WCC and how it can best respond," said Dr. Richard Bailey, chair of WCC's board of trustees. "The studies show how the college needs to make important investments in continuing its distinctive educational role."

The dollar increase for taxpayers can be determined by looking at some examples. One mill equals one dollar per $1,000 of "assessed equalized property valuation." The equalized property valuation is 50 percent of the market value of someone's property.

For example, if the property is valued at $80,000, and half of that is its assessed equalized value, the total tax increase would be $45.20, $28 for operating (.7 mills) and $17.30 for the bond issue (.43 mills).

Funds from the bond issue would be used for new construction and renovating current facilities. The proposed additional space includes facilities for the computer and electronics division; customized job training for employees of local companies Ordinance to build a duplex apartment unit on a lot located between 625 and 643 W. Middle Street.

RESOLUTION

VARIANCE DENIAL

WHEREAS, Robert Penskar, of 4300 Mushbach Road, has filed a petition for a variance, Application No. 86-03, from the provisions of Section 15.438 of the Zoning Ordinance, to construct a duplex apartment unit on the following described property:

Commencing at the Northwest corner of Lot 17, Block 2, of "JAMES M. CONGDON'S ADDITION" to the Village of Chelsea, Washtenaw County, Michigan as recorded in Liber 55 of Deeds, Page 328, Washtenaw County Records; thence N 70°-00'-00" E 198.00 feet along the Southerly right-of-way line of West Middle Street to the POINT OF BEGINNING; thence continuing N 70°-00'-00" E 74.74 feet along said right-of-way line; thence S 20°-00'-00" E 132.00 feet; thence S 70°-00'-00" W 74.74 feet; thence N 20°-00'-00" W 132.00 feet to the POINT OF BEGINNING, said parcel being a part of Block 2 of said "JAMES M. CONGDON'S ADDITION" and containing 9866 square feet of land, more or less. Being subject of easements and restrictions of record, if any. (This parcel is located between 625 and 643 W. Middle Street); and

WHEREAS, on this date, a public hearing was held as the statute in such case provides; now

BE IT RESOLVED, that this Zoning Board of Appeals finds:

1) that special conditions and circumstances do not exist which are peculiar to the property

2) that in denying the variance would not deny the owner of the property use of the property under the terms and conditions of the Zoning Ordinance

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that based upon the above findings, this Board of Appeals does not grant to the applicant, Mr. Robert Penskar, a variance from the provisions of Section 15.438 of the Zoning Ordinance.

Motion by Radloff, supported by Steele, to adopt the above resolution as read. Roll call: Ayes - Steele, Kanten, Radloff and Satterthwaite. Nays - Bentley, Merkel and Boham. Motion carried. Resolution adopted. Request denied.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Bentley, to adjourn. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned.

Evelyn Rosentreter, Secretary, Zoning Board of Appeals.

Task Force Now Recommends STEP System for Wastewater Treatment

The Wastewater Treatment System Task Force studying the proposed Portage Lake wastewater treatment system has been extremely diligent during the past few months with the work it has undertaken.

Bob Miller, chairperson of the task force, had this to say just a few days previous to the Aug. 19 board meeting for Dexter township:

"We who live in the immediate area of Portage Lake now have a wonderful opportunity to eliminate the sewage problem of lake living by installing an effective wastewater treatment facility."

"A task force was established to select a system, get support of, and petition officials of Dexter township to implement the system."

"With support from a majority of residents and approval from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the Washtenaw County Department of Public Works, a workable system could be installed in less than two years."

Concerning the type of system proposed, Miller explained, "After considering the number of homes to be served, location relative to the lake, treatment site availability, impact on the environment, ease of installation and cost," it was decided a Septic Tank Effluent Pumping (STEP) system would best satisfy our needs."

The STEP pressurized collection system consists of a 750-gallon tank and a chamber housing a one-half horsepower effluent pump.

The pump would run on each individual homeowner's electricity and discharge relatively clarified effluent into a 1 1/4" service lead to the road right-of-way where it would join a two- to eight-inch force main.

Check valves would be installed to prevent back flow.

The septic tank would provide 24-hour storage capacity during emergencies and times of pump repair.

Wastewater generated from each home would trickle from the septic tank into the pump chamber.

The major portion of grease and solids will be contained within the septic tank.

The septic tanks become part of the public system and are pumped on a regular basis every five to 10 years.

The effluent is then pumped to a remote disposal field.

A tentative site, which has already been investigated, is available at the northwest corner of Stinchfield Woods and Dexter-Pinckney Rds.

The location has excellent sandy sub-soil to provide the necessary filtering and treatment of the effluent.

For reference, Miller explained there are more than 2,350 STEP systems operating in the state of Michigan alone.

Many STEP systems are being installed because of the reduced cost for installation.

With smaller-sized pressurized lines, the systems can be installed at a relatively shallow five-foot depth to avoid freezing.

They can follow the terrain and require no costly intermediate pumping stations.

A much smaller area is required for construction and waterproof PVC plastic pipe is impervious to outside infiltration of ground water.

Both gravity and holding-tank type systems were considered by the Wastewater Treatment System Task Force.

The gravity type system would be extremely expensive, probably costing two to three times as much as the STEP system.

It would have a negative impact on the surrounding area due to the necessary large-diameter pipes.

The sewage might have to be transported all the way to the Village of Dexter system.

An extremely large holding tank would be necessary, with frequent dumping and possible overflow problems.

Although additional studies will be required to establish an exact amount, cost estimate for each home will be approximately $6,000-$8,000, complete.

The amount would include the connecting line, installation of each resident's STEP system and all main trunk lines, as well as the remote disposal treatment system on Stinchfield Woods Rd.

It is anticipated the expenses would be borne by a special assessment district supported by bonds issued on behalf of Washtenaw county.

At current rates, monthly payments would range $45-$55 on a 20-year bond.

Monthly charge of approximately $10 to maintain and operate the system, repair defective pumps and perform periodic pumping of the septic tank would be needed.

Other methods of financing are being investigated.

Based on the information provided the task force, Miller said, "In the Village of Dexter, monthly water and sewage charges are approximately $40 per resident."

"Other centralized sewage systems in suburban areas run as high as $50 per month," he said.

Task force members are considering only those Washtenaw county homes located within Dexter township, in the immediate lake vicinity.

The total number of such homes is estimated at 450.

Apparently the proposed remote waste treatment disposal site has sufficient capacity for additional units.

Speaking for the task force, Miller explained, "It will be the responsibility of Putnam township residents to get support and join us in an inter-township and county effort."

What is the current status of the project?

Dexter township residents met with the township board, Tuesday, Aug. 19, for further discussion.

Input from the citizens in the area was also scheduled to be heard, with cards mailed last week encouraging inquiries or statements from those people the project will affect.

Preliminary investigation by the task force established proposed usage of the STEP system, and preliminary studies on the proposed wastewater treatment plant site proved very favorable.

If general support is obtained, the township will be petitioned to launch an advanced hydro-geological investigation to obtain Michigan DNR approval.

If approved, an in-depth study with cost analysis will be undertaken of the suitable system, and steps initiated to establish a special assessment district.

A final public hearing will be held, after which the township would petition Washtenaw county to issue bonds for debt retirement.

The task force urged immediate ate support of the township citizens to keep the proposed wastewater treatment project an ongoing activity.

PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT

Superintendent Raymond E. Van Meer today announced its policy for free and reduced price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast or Commodity School Programs. The following household size and income criteria will be used for determining eligibility:

TOTAL FAMILY SIZE	A. SCALE FOR FREE MEALS			B. SCALE FOR REDUCED PRICE MEALS
	YEAR	MONTH	WEEK	YEAR	MONTH	WEEK
1	6,968	581	134	9,916	827	191
2	9,412	785	181	13,394	1,117	258
3	11,856	988	228	16,872	1,406	325
4	14,300	1,192	275	20,350	1,696	392
5	16,744	1,396	322	23,828	1,986	459
6	19,188	1,599	369	27,306	2,276	526
7	21,632	1,803	416	30,784	2,566	592
8	24,076	2,007	463	34,262	2,856	659
Each additional family member	+2,444	+204	+47	+3,478	+290	+67

Children from households whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced-price meals.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced price meals, households should fill out the form and return it to the school. Additional copies of the application form are available at the principal's office in each school. Households should answer all questions on the form. An application which does not contain all of the following information cannot be processed by the school: (1) the total household income; (2) the amount and source of income received by each household member (such as wages, child support, etc.) OR the household's food stamp case number if the household is on food stamps; (3) names of all household members; (4) social security numbers of all household members 21 years of age or older, or the word "none" for any adult household member who does not have a social security number; and (5) the signature of an adult household member.

The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility and verifying data. Applications may be verified by the school or other officials at any time during the school year.

If children are approved for free or reduced price meal benefits, the household must report to the school in creases in household income over $50 per month ($600 per year) and decreases in household size.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If a household is not currently eligible but has a decrease in household income, an increase in household size or if a household member becomes unemployed, the household should fill out an application at that time.

In certain cases foster children are eligible for these benefits regardless of the household's income. If a household has foster children living with them and they wish to apply for free or reduced-price meals for them the household should contact the school for more information.

Under the provisions of the policy the building principal will review applications and determine eligibility.

Parents or guardians dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. The household also has the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the following official: Fred A. Mills, Asst. Supt., Chelsea School District, Washington St., Chelsea Mich. 48118 (313) 475-9331. Each school and the Central Office have a copy of the complete policy, which may be reviewed by any interested party.

In the operation of the child feeding programs no child will be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, sex, or handicap. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250.

BRAD MACOMBER OF MANCHESTER was owner of the Reserve Grand Champion dairy animal at this year's Washtenaw County 4-H Fair.

Brad sold his champion animal to Cutler-Dickerson of Saline for $375 at the Livestock Sale, Thursday, July 31, at the Saline Farm Council Grounds.

EDDIE MONAGHAN OF CHELSEA sold his 494-lb. Reserve Champion Pair among Swine entries judged at the Washtenaw County 4-H Fair to Domino Farms, Inc. The bid was $90 per pound.

KEVIN KERN RAISED the 227-lb. grand champion individual hog as well as the grand champion pair he brought to the Washtenaw County 4-H Fair last week. Kevin is a member of the Rogers Corners Herdsmen 4-H Club. He is shown with his animals.

JOHN B. WOZNIAK, 19, of Grand Rapids, took time out while visiting relatives in Chelsea to snap this photo of a local scarecrow. The photo was taken with a Kodak disc camera given him as a gift by his late grandmother, Mrs. John Wozniak. He was visiting his cousin Lisa Wozniak and aunt and uncle, Tom and Kay Wozniak in Chelsea.

JODI MACOMBER OF MANCHESTER was the owner of the Grand Champion Pair of lambs at the 1986 Washtenaw County 4-H Fair. She sold her lambs, totalling 281 pounds, to G. E. Wacker of Manchester for $1.75 per pound.

NAPOLION LIVESTOCK WAS HIGH BIDDER on the second hog of Kevin Kern's Grand Champion Pair Barrows at the 1986 Washtenaw County 4-H Fair Livestock Sale. Kevin sold the 247-lb. hog for $1.75 per pound. Shown with the owner and buyer representative are Fair King Dave Weidmayer and Queen Laura Shope.

Tour Gives Opportunity To Explore Farming

Approximately 75 people participated in the third annual Farm Tour organized by the Land, Food and Justice Committee of the Interfaith Council for Peace, and the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service on Saturday, Aug. 16.

The purpose of the tour was to give city people an opportunity to understand the vital connection between urban and rural Washtenaw county and the continuing farming crisis.

This year the group visited a dairy farm operated by the brothers Steve and Tom Solowczuk and their families. The brothers operate a 500-acre farm growing grain, hay and silage to feed their dairy herd.

Bill Ames, agricultural agent for the extension service, moderated the discussion with the Solowczuk family about modern farming operations today.

A buffet luncheon was served by the women's fellowship of St. John's United Church of Christ in Freedom township. The menu consisted of food grown by the parishioners.

The afternoon program at the church featured an informal discussion between tour participants and county farmers, an ideal opportunity to learn more about farming from the farmers themselves.

Deadline Near For Insurance

Sept. 30 is the last day to apply for crop insurance for wheat in all Michigan counties, according to Mrs. Barbara A. Cranson, a representative of the Federal Crop Insurance Corp. (FCIC).

Recently a new crop insurance plan called Actual Production History (APH), became available to farmers for specific crops. It is designed to promote actual integrity and fairness on a producer-by-producer basis. "Using your own farm records or other available sources of information, an APH yield is determined for each crop produced. The higher your individual APH yield, the more insurance protection you are offered," explained Mrs. Cranson, "and the lower your premium rate."

Since no one crop insurance policy is best for every situation, individual and financial needs must be considered before buying insurance.

"To find out more about the program, contact an authorized insurance agent," urged Mrs. Cranson, "as the deadline to apply for crop insurance is Sept. 30."

A NEW SOD FARM is being constructed by Redding, a Gregory area farmer, on 60 acres of McKinley Rd. about a mile from the village. Redding recently purchased the land and has spent many hours clearing the field. The land was formerly used for farming but was considerably overgrown when Redding purchased it. The clearing involves a lot of extra work because sod farming, in particular, requires level land, he said. He hopes the first sod will roll off the farm next year.

MICHAEL WAGNER PURCHASED THE THIRD mid-weight pair of lambs, totaling 234 pounds, paying $1.25 per pound at Livestock Sale, Thursday, July 31, at the Saline Farm County Fair. Judy Barrels raised the animals. Jalle Nixon is helping in the ring.

Bernard A. DeGrow

7223 Lakeshore Dr., North Lake, Chelsea

Bernard A. DeGrow, 7223 Lakeshore Dr., North Lake, Chelsea, Age 60, died peacefully Wednesday evening, Aug. 13, at his home.

He was born Nov. 3, 1919 on the family farm in Rich township, Lapeer county, the son of Murray A. and Vera V. (Vasbinder) DeGrow. On Aug. 29, 1942 at the Pastor United Methodist church he married Rose Mary Mihora and she survives.

Mr. DeGrow was a former resident of Mayville and Fostoria, coming to Chelsea in 1982.

In his younger years he had been a farmer, and was the owner of the DeGrow Hardware Store in Fostoria. He retired from Fisher Body Division of General Motors.

While living in Fostoria he was the clerk of Watertown township Fire Department, and the Fostoria and Mayville United Methodist churches.

At the time of his death he was a member of the North Lake United Methodist church board of trustees, and the committee on Care and Outreach.

Surviving in addition to his widow, are two daughters, Mrs. John W. (Gloria M.) Mitchell of Chelsea, Mrs. Paul (Elaune) Ferguson of Linden; four grandchildren, John Wesley Mitchell, Jr. Michael DeGrow Mitchell, Amy Lynn Mitchell, and Heather Marie Ferguson; his mother, Mrs. Vera V. DeGrow of Mayville; two sisters, Mrs. Lawrence (Evelyn) Tompkins and Mrs. Dane (Leona) Valentine, both of Fostoria; two uncles, several nieces, nephews and cousins.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Aug. 16 at 1 p.m. with the Rev. Dale E. Brown of the Hardy United Methodist church of Howell, the Rev. Jerry Parker of the First United Methodist church of Chelsea, and the Rev. David C. Collins of Lincoln Community United Methodist church, Ypsilanti, officiating. Burial followed in the North Lake Cemetery, Dexter township.

Expressions of sympathy may be made to the North Lake United Methodist church.

Arrangements were by the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home.

Emilie L. Sidwell

Issaquah, Wash. (Formerly of Chelsea)

Emilie Leser Sidwell, 86, Issaquah, Wash., formerly of Chelsea, died Thursday, Aug. 14 at the Overlake Hospital in Bellevue, Wash.

She was born Jan. 24, 1900 in Philadelphia, the daughter of Carl and Caroline (Schenk) Leser. On June 21, 1924 she married George R. Sidwell in New York City, and he preceded her in death on March 6, 1983.

Survivors include two sons, Dr. Robert Chandler Sidwell, of Ashland, Ohio, and Dr. Kenneth Ward Sidwell, of Issaquah; three grandchildren, Ronald and William Sidwell, and Diane Jones; two great-grandchildren, Heather and Abdon.

Mrs. Sidwell was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star Olive Chapter No. 108 in Chelsea, Child Study Club in Chelsea, Woman's Club in Ann Arbor, American Legion Auxiliary and Engineers Club Auxiliary. She was also a member of the First Church of Christ Scientist in Byston. She attended public schools in Glenolden, Pa., Atlantic City, N.J., and Germantown, Pa., and Temple University in Philadelphia. She worked for Curtis Publishing Co. in Pennsylvania before moving to Chelsea so her husband could attend the University of Michigan Law School. She later worked in the Dean of Students office of the university. After a move to Lansing, she worked for the Secretary of State and the state law library. After her retirement, they moved back to Chelsea.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, Aug. 19 at the Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Arrangements were handled by Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel.

Jean L. Eaton

Long-Time Community Leader Dies in Ann Arbor at 91

Jean L. Eaton, 91, of Chelsea died Wednesday, Aug. 13 in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Eaton was born Jean Louise Everham on Jan. 22, 1895 in Cincinnati, O., to Melville and Barbara (McKay) Everham. She moved with her family to Detroit where she attended Central High school and graduated in 1913. Following high school she attended Olivet College, graduating in 1918. She taught high school in the Port Huron school system until her marriage June 19, 1920 to Edwin W. Eaton in Detroit.

Mrs. Eaton was a resident of Chelsea for 54 years. During that time she was active in the community and in church affairs. She attended the Congregational church for 23 years and helped to start St. Barnabas Episcopal church in 1954 and was active in its Woman's Guild. She was a member and past president of the Chelsea Woman's Club, a member of the board and one of the founders of Chelsea Social Services and for 50 years, she was a devoted member and sometimes president of the McKune Memorial Library Board.

She is survived by her brother, Edwin M. Everham of Grosse Pointe; three children, David of Kalamazoo, Robert of Jackson and Barbara of Southgate; eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Preceding her in death were her husband of 58 years, their son, Edwin Marvin, her sister, Virginia, and her brother, Arthur.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Aug. 16 at 1 p.m. at the Cole-Burghardt Chapel in Chelsea, the Rev. Fr. Jerrold F. Beaumont officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Chelsea. Memorial contributions may be made to St. Barnabas Church or the McKune Memorial Library.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

I am writing in response to the letter written by Dwane Purdy of Manchester which appeared in the Aug. 6 edition of your paper. The letter concerned Mr. Purdy's desire for Christianity, as he defined it, to return once more to the classrooms of the nation. I was appalled by the bigotry and insensitivity of his letter.

Referring to Walt Disney, he wrote, "Some say he (Disney) gave acting jobs to Jews and other admitted liberals," implying that this was some sort of terrible immoral act. I have lived in Chelsea for almost six years and have never experienced such an outrageous display of anti-semitism. For Mr. Purdy's information, I am Jewish, quite proudly, and I resent the implications that either Jews or liberals are inferior to those, such as the writer, who are not. Some of this country's greatest contributions were made by Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Louis Brandeis, Harry S. Truman, and Lyndon B. Johnson, all of whom fit into the writer's classification of "Jews and other admitted liberals."

Mr. Purdy seems to think that it is cruel to "oblige" Christian children to laugh with their classmates at bears stealing campers' picnic baskets. I have yet to hear even one story of any grade school child ever complaining of this happening. It is more unfair to oblige non-Christian students, referred to as "pagans," to sit through and participate in Christian hymns and prayers. This is equally unfair for a member of one Christian faith, such as a Lutheran or a Catholic, to be forced to engage in the singing of another's hymns.

I am sure Mr. Purdy sees himself as a true blooded patriot. He seems to have forgotten the Constitution of the United States, which defines what this country is and what it stands for. Might I refer him to the part of the first amendment which guarantees freedom of religion. It dictates that no law shall be passed "respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting free exercise thereof." Being forced to pray in a manner acceptable to the letter writer does not allow me to exercise my religion freely.

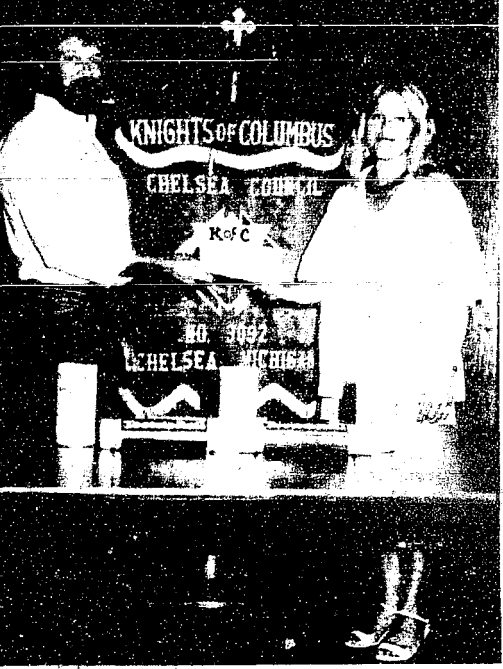

I have always been amazed at how the most horrific crimes have been committed in the name of religion. These include the Spanish Inquisition, the countless murders and torturings of blacks, Jews, and Catholics by the Ku Klux Klan, and the atrocities committed by Iranian revolutionaries. Although one of the foundations of religion is love and tolerance for one's neighbor, this is not evident in Mr. Purdy's letter.

Loren Rosenberg, Chelsea.

ST. LOUIS SCHOOL FOR BOYS was given $1,500 by Chelsea Knights of Columbus that will be used to remodel some of the children's rooms at the school. The money was collected during the K. of C. Tootsie Roll Drive last spring. Above, Father Joseph Rinaldo, center, and student Robert Rodriguez, accept the check from Jerry Martell of the K. of C. Martell said the money came mostly from individual contributions, although Chelsea merchants gave far more than they have in past years.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS of Chelsea contributed $700 to the Chelsea-Manchester Special Education Class. The money, from the group's annual Tootsie Roll Drive, was used to send 26 kids to camp in Pentwater. Above, Jerry Martell of the K. of C. presents the money to special education instructor Nancy Cooper.

Matthew Schnaidt Completes Army School

Cadet Matthew C. Schnaidt, son of Daniel J. and Joan M. Schnaidt of 29338 Waterloo Rd., Chelsea, was presented the Air Assault Badge upon graduation from the U.S. Army's air assault school at Fort Campbell, Ky.

Trainees learned to rapidly and safely exit a helicopter from a variety of difficult situations, whether descending into tree tops or lowering themselves or injured soldiers down sheer drops. Schnaidt is a student with the Corps of Cadets, U.S. Military Academy, Westpoint, N.Y.

Auto Engines Given to CHS

Six automobile engines worth a total of $4,500 have been donated to the Chelsea School District by Jodon, Inc. of Ann Arbor.

The engines will be used by Chelsea High school automotive classes.

Two of the engines are Pontiacs, and four are Fords.

John Gillespie, a Chelsea resident and owner of Jodon, arranged for the donation.

"We thought it was real nice of them," said Assistant Superintendent Fred Mills.

Ladies Day Program Ranges From Informative to Fun

Ladies Day at the Chelsea Community fair, this year Friday, Aug. 29, annually proves to be one of the most popular events of fair week and this year will probably be no exception.

Again, a wide variety of activities are planned on a day devoted especially to women.

Featured speaker of the day will be Constance Crump, restaurant reviewer for the Ann Arbor News. Her topic is "The Art and Science of Restaurant Reviewing."

Crump became a staff writer for the News in 1983 after paying her dues as associate editor of Cinegram Magazine, an Ann Arbor film journal; contributing editor and restaurant reviewer of Slicker, a metropolitan Detroit weekly; freelance home and food writer for the Detroit Free Press; and Detroit correspondent for Billboard magazine, the music industry trade journal.

Crump was trained as an economist at Albion College and the University of Michigan before changing careers.

Crump writes the "Crumpets" weekly column of restaurant reviews and "What's Cookin'," which tracks changes in the Ann Arbor food and restaurant scene. She describes herself as "types 80 words per minute, owns 30 pairs of shoes, and never eats sweet breads."

A second speaker will be Nancy Dewar, a motivational speaker.

Dewar, who lost 110 pounds, will share her personal weight-loss story, recounting her experiences, defeats and triumphs.

Dewar's success at weight loss led her to a new career and "a renewed outlook on life."

Dr. Martin Gleeson, an internal medicine specialist at the Village Professional Center in Chelsea, will speak on osteoporosis and the spinal concerns of women. In an associated event, The Dairy Diplomats, Judy Gordon of Saline and Pat Lambirth of Ann Arbor will perform an educational program on osteoporosis with "Elloise the Cow."

The day will also feature entertainment by Tracey Lynne and the Mountain Express, a country, top-40 band that also plays a few oldies. The band will also be playing Friday evening after the crowning of the fair queen.

Tracey Lynne, the lead singer, hails from New Hudson and is a graduate of South Lyon High school, where she was president of her class and homecoming queen. She is 19 years old and has been singing and playing guitar for 11 years. She is also studying banjo and fiddle. Her band has played all over Michigan and Ohio, and has performed in Nashville, Tenn.

In addition, the winners of the Champion Homemaker and Junior Champion Homemaker awards will be announced. The winner is eligible to compete for the Grand Champion Homemaker award at the Michigan State Fair next year.

There is a special admission price of $1 for women registering between 8 and 10 a.m.

Women, 18 and older, who register at the area will be eligible for more than 150 door prizes

TRACEY LYNNE and the Mountain Express, a top-40, country band, will give two performances Friday of fair week. The first one will take place at the Ladies Day program in the morning. The band will also play after the fair queen is chosen in the evening. Tracey is a graduate of South Lyon High school.

NANCY DEWAR, a motivational speaker who went from plump to petite, will share her success story during Friday's Ladies Day program.

donated by Chelsea and Dexter area businesses. These prizes will be given out during the morning and winners must be present to claim a prize.

There will also be free coffee and doughnuts for the first 500 women who register.

Events will be held in the covered arena, rain or shine. Registration begins at 8 a.m. and the program is over by noon.

Henry Eames, DVM, Retiring from Clinic

Forty-four years ago, Dr. Henry Eames and Mrs. Eames came to Manchester to start a veterinary practice and raise a family.

The family has now grown, moved away, and after treating generations of dogs, cats and farm animals, Dr. Eames is turning over his practice to a new generation of veterinarians.

Eames Animal Clinic will now be run by Drs. Art and Libby Beaudoin, both graduates of the same school where Dr. Eames received his training, Michigan State University. Dr. Eames will be moving south.

Not too far south, though. The Eameses plan to take up residence in Elkhart, Ind., close to where their daughter, Brenda, now lives. Brenda is currently the chief accountant at a local company and is working toward CPA certification. The Eames' son, Bruce, with his wife and two sons, live in St. Louis, Mo.

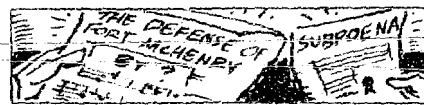

Dr. Eames does not plan to sit still during his retirement, unless it is to do some reading. He plans to study a favorite subject of his, economics. Without being distracted by emergency calls to sick animals, he should have plenty of time to follow his avocation.

Residents of the Manchester area and their pets and livestock will miss him.

Drs. Art and Libby Beaudoin and their two-year-old daughter, Marie, assume ownership of the Eames Animal Clinic, Aug. 1. After Oct. 1, they will reside in Manchester adjacent to the clinic.

Libby and Art both graduated from Michigan State University Veterinary College and are currently practicing at the Westborn Animal Hospital in Dearborn.

The first newspaper printed on a train was the Weekly Herald, a single sheet, printed on both sides. It was issued by Thomas Alva Edison and the first known issue was dated Port Huron, Michigan, February 3, 1862.

Workshop Set on Freezing Fresh Fruits, Vegetables

Gardens are full and produce is overflowing at the farmer's markets so this is the time to preserve food for later. It is important to use the latest fail-safe methods when you can or freeze, pickle or make jam. Health, time, money and your labor are all involved.

Don't let your hard work go to waste: learn the newest methods of food preservation at the public demonstration-lecture sponsored by the Co-operative Extension Service.

Information on freezing fruits and vegetables will be presented by Home Economist Marion Prince on Aug. 23, at the County Service Center, 4133 Hogback Rd., at 7:00 p.m. Reservations are required; call 973-8516. A $2 fee will be collected at the door.
