GROUND WAS BROKEN last Thursday, Sept. 18 for the construction of a new office building at Chelsea Community Hospital. The new underground structure, being built by O'Harrow Construction Co. of Jackson, is expected to cost $670,000. In addition, old office space will be remodeled into additional area for patient care. Total project cost is estimated at $1,300,000.

Second Village Mall Planned For Land Near Polly's Market

Fresh on the heels of news that a Farmington Hills developer wants to construct a strip shopping center behind Schumm's Restaurant, another man says he also has plans to build a shopping center on seven acres of marshy land next to Polly's Market.

Mike Kennedy, manager of Polly's Market, has site plans for a 45,150-square-foot mall on land owned by his family next to the store and behind Great Lakes Federal Savings and Loan. He said he already has commitments from two businesses that would use a combined total of 36,000 square feet, and has had inquiries from many others, including several local businesses.

While he would not name the specific tenants, he described one store as a combination hardware store-farm implements and supplies store. That would take up 26,000 square feet in a separate building, and technically would not be affiliated with the center, Kennedy said. A drug store would take up 10,000 square feet. He said he has had discussions with Chelsea Greenhouse as well as others who want a jazzercise business, a beauty salon, a chiropractor and a shoe store.

Kennedy said that a Jackson developer would actually build the mall, and the land would be leased. He said Chelsea residents would be given the first shot at renting space in the mall.

"At this stage, were trying to get cost figures together," Kennedy said.

"We want to be able to tell people what it will cost to rent space. If that figure is too high we won't go through with the project. We don't want to have the building sitting empty."

Kennedy, who's trained as an architect, said he developed the original site plans for the mall in 1980 and that they had been approved by the village planning commission. However, Zoning Inspector Rosemary Harok said she can't locate any site plans. She said even if she could they will have to be re-submitted because they are only good for 2 1/2 years according to village ordinances.

Unlike the land the Farmington Hills developer plans to use, Kennedy's parcel does not have to be re-zoned, he said. He said he is not overly concerned about sewer and water hook-ups because there won't be any heavy users, such as a restaurant.

"I think a shopping center like this would keep a lot of people from going all the way to Ann Arbor to do their shopping," Kennedy said.

"We're certainly not out to hurt the downtown businesses. We just want to keep people from going to Ann Arbor."

The center would be built in an L shape so that it would wrap around Great Lakes. The main entrance would be on the south side of the bank.

Kennedy said the facade of any business in the mall would have to match the architectural style of Polly's so "there isn't a hodge podge." He said he hopes businesses will hire him to design their store fronts.

Kennedy said that Village President Jerry Satterthwaite said, "I would have no problem getting the project approved."

Satterthwaite told The Standard, "If everything is zoned properly, how are you going to stop a project like that?"

Kennedy said he would like building to begin by December.

Village Asked To Give $35,000 to District Courthouse Project

Village of Chelsea has been asked to contribute up to $35,000 to the 14th district courthouse restoration project.

Local attorney Peter Flintoft, chairman of the Historic 14th District Courthouse group, asked the village council at its regular meeting Tuesday, Sept. 16 to consider a pledge of $7,000 for each of the next five years to the project. Flintoft, who's firm also handles the bulk of the village's legal work, said that the group had pledged totaling $80,000 to date, still leaving them $55,000 short of the $135,000 required by the county.

Flintoft said the county agreed to proceed with the final plans once 90 percent of the local share had been pledged. He said that with the village's contribution the total would probably be close enough to 90 percent to persuade them to go ahead anyway.

Council took no immediate action on the request.

Chelsea's 14th district courthouse, at the corner of Main and South Sts., is scheduled to be renovated by Washtenaw county for use as a full service court provided that private donations totaling $135,000 can be solicited to restore the original character of the building.

The building, originally the Chelsea State Bank building, was donated to the county by the bank. It is full of ornate woodwork and marble, much of which has been covered up by various remodeling projects over the years. It also has a dome that is hidden by a modern suspended ceiling. The idea is to make the courthouse into a usable court, as well as a tourist attraction. The building has been designated as an historic site by the state.

According to Flintoft, surrounding townships have pledged a total of $39,000 to the project. He said Sylvan township has pledged $12,000. He also said that a grant of $15,000 has been secured from the Herrick Foundation.

"I would hope the village council would be of a mind to make a contribution to the project," Flintoft said.

"The village of Chelsea, with all the governmental bodies and political subdivisions that you're under, the village has more at stake than any other in keeping the court here.

"The townships have pledged $39,000, and I can tell you, they don't have any traffic (in the court).

"However, I'm sure as the townships expand they will eventually have police departments. The sheriff's department has contracted with Dexter township and will probably be contracting with all these townships. So they have a stake in keeping it here.

"Based on the time and involvement that the Village of Chelsea has in the court system, I think the $35,000 is a fair figure."

Over the years, the county has expressed an interest in consolidating the entire court system in Ann Arbor, one thing Flintoft's group is trying to prevent.

Flintoft said that the village wouldn't actually have to pay any money to the project until work has been completed.

Flintoft also argued that in the long run Chelsea will save money by having a full service court in Chelsea because, among other reasons, Chelsea police will not have to travel to Saline to help with jury selection. When that happens, Chelsea police are paid over-time, an estimated $14 per hour, he said. He estimated the over-time costs the village $3,500 annually. With a full service court, all those functions could be handled here.

Flintoft said that the traveling also makes legal fees more expensive because lawyers charge their customers for that travel and waiting time.

Plans for the building have also been changed, Flintoft said, expanding the total project cost to $433,000, and putting the county's share at $298,000. Originally, the entire project was slated to cost $295,000. He indicated that the previous plans called for expansion of the parking behind the courthouse. The new plans call for no new parking.

Another change is that there would be no new construction on the back of the courthouse, but that instead an elevator would be constructed so that a lot of idle room in the basement could be used.

Flintoft also said that the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department plans to move its Chelsea substation, currently located in the Chelsea School District's bus garage on Old US-12, into the building. The station would also have a holding cell, he said, something the village police department does not have.

"The project would increase the usable space of the building by 150 percent," Flintoft said.

Village President Jerry Satterthwaite said he supported the project but did not say whether he supported giving the full $35,000.

"If the court left and the building reverted to the village, it would cost us a heck of a lot more than $135,000 to do anything with it," Satterthwaite said.

The county is obliged to turn the building over to the village if the district court moves elsewhere.

Trustee Joe Merkel suggested that Flintoft try to solicit additional funds from area lawyers and come back with a proposal for the village to make up the difference.

Village To Replace 1,000' of Sidewalk

Village of Chelsea will soon begin its annual sidewalk repair program and will replace nearly 1,050 feet of walkway.

According to assistant village manager Lee Fahrner, six areas have been targeted for repair; about 150 feet in the 424-502 area of McKinley Rd.; 200 feet on Elm St.; 200 feet in the vicinity of 242 E. Middle St.; 150 feet near 220 Madison St.; 200 feet on the north side of Park St. west from Madison; and 130 feet on Buchanan St.

Many of the areas to be repaired were compiled in a list by village resident Jim Hoffmeyer. Hoffmeyer, working on his own time, walked every sidewalk in the village and noted every spot that in his opinion needed repair. He turned the list in to the village offices, and Fahrner said it proved to be most helpful.

"He did a very good, thorough job," Fahrner said.

"There were 12-15 locations he considered the worst spots and we picked several of those."

The village sent Hoffmeyer a letter of commendation for his work.

Fahrner said village workers will do the work, which is estimated to cost about $5,000. He projected a cost of approximately $5,000 for materials, including $45 per yard of concrete supplied by Killens Concrete, the low bidder. Crownover Concrete was the next lowest bidder at $47 per yard, Fahrner said.

He said about 100 yards of concrete would be used.

Workers will remove the old sidewalk, regrade the ground, if necessary, set the forms and pour the concrete.

NORTH LAKE UNITED METHODIST church celebrated its 150th anniversary last Sunday. The church began in 1836 as a Methodist class meeting of 12 persons led by Charles Glenn, and for the next 10 years met in the home of Glenn's brother, John. In 1846 the brothers presented the congregation with a building (above, the building behind the main church) which served as the church and school until the current structure, above, was built in 1866.

North Lake Methodist Observes 150th Year

North Lake United Methodist church celebrated its 150th birthday this past Sunday, Sept. 21, with balloons, fire, food, special music and honored speakers in a whole day of festivities.

More than 200 helium balloons were let loose at the conclusion of the morning worship service following the burning of the parsonage notes. The burning of these notes means the church is now debt-free. Members, guests and friends then gathered for a pot-luck feast in the fellowship hall.

Special music for both morning worship and afternoon program was provided by an "Alumni Choir" composed of present and past choir members. Guest musicians from other area churches including the Chelsea

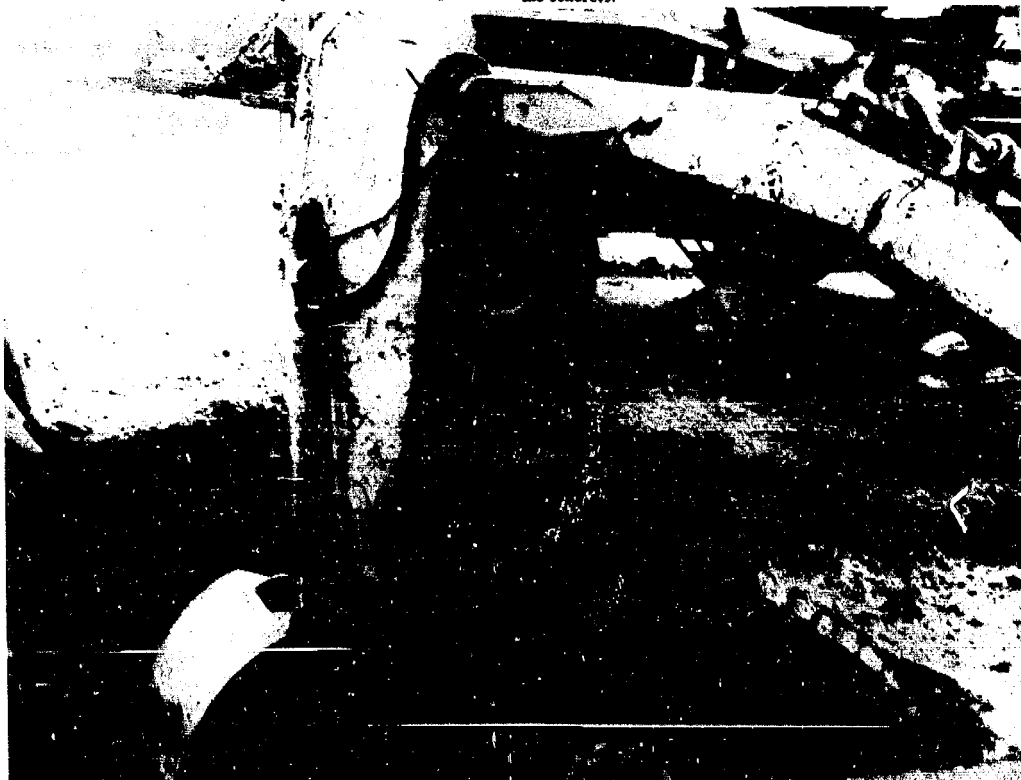

UMC High School Choir and a mother-daughter duet from the Dexter UMC enlivened the afternoon program.

Preacher for the morning worship service was the Rev. Jack E. Giguere, district superintendent for the Ann Arbor District of the United Methodist Church. Previous pastors of North Lake who shared reminiscences during the afternoon program were: the Rev. Herbert Brubaker, the Rev. Ronald Brunger, the Rev. Edwin Weiss, the Rev. Harry Weeks, the Rev. John Elliott, the Rev. David Strobe and the Rev. David Collins. The day's festivities were hosted by the present pastor, the Rev. Sondra Willabee, and Administrative Council leader Lee Collier was master of ceremonies for the afternoon program.

An historic display featured pictures of early Sunday school classes and other gatherings. Commemorative mugs etched with the church's picture were displayed and sold. Many members of the congregation dressed in historic clothes as part of the occasion.

The North Lake United Methodist church began in 1836 as a Methodist class meeting of 12 persons led by Charles Glenn. The present sanctuary building was constructed in 1866 and Grange Hall affixed in 1925. More recently a fellowship hall was constructed for church and community use in 1972.

With the eating of ice cream cones on the lawn and the ringing of the old church bell the celebration was concluded.

THE MYSTERY OF THE GRAVEL-EATING MOLE at the intersection of Jackson and East Sts. was solved by village crews over the week-end. Every previous attempt to fill in the hole was foiled as the gravel simply kept disappearing. When workers dug up the road they found a broken section of sewer pipe. The pipe was repaired and the hole covered up.

Tuesday, Sept. 21, 1985—An employee of West Shore Fire Equipment ran Chelsea's newly repaired truck into a gravel hauler just before its debut in Chelsea's fair parade.

Fire chief Bud Hanker had ordered changes to the truck so it could pump water and move at the same time, and include a two-way winch designed specially by the Dana Corp. Now, unfortunately, all the fire department has until more repairs are slides of their truck, which make it look like the front end is going uphill, while the back end is going downhill.

A big welcome home sign greeted Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wood when they returned from a tour through Poland. Before they landed in Warsaw they were excited and a bit apprehensive. How would it be behind the Iron Curtain? How would they hurdle the language barrier? How would they recognize relatives they had never seen? Communication proved to be no problem, however, when after not speaking Polish for 20 years, it came flowing back to Mrs. Wood. The countryside especially captured their hearts when they visited an uncle's farm, and traveled with a tour group.

Good news for baseball fans who hate to see gloomy fall evenings cutting into their game time—the baseball field is now equipped with lights, thanks to the Chelsea Recreation Council, so they can ignore the football season and play into the night. Chelsea Bulldogs scrapped with Mason High's Bulldogs in the season opener and came away with the bone, winning 10-0. Halfback Bruce Guster intercepted a pass and started Chelsea's drive home, and Bill Harrison kicked a 23-yard field goal.

The roof of the Sylvan Hotel blew off. Mrs. Dave Atkinson's 1957 Plymouth was smashed by a falling tree while she was at work. Mrs. Ray Knickerbocker and three children were trapped in their car on East St. by tree branches—a total of 20 trees were downed in Chelsea. Volunteers from neighboring communities and area farmers rushed to assist Chelsea public works crews, auxiliary police, and firemen in sawing up the fallen trees.

News broadcasts of the disaster were carried throughout the nation and soon calls were being received here from people inquiring about safety of relatives. One call from the

Agreement on Chrysler Jefferson Plant, Oakland Center

The state is committing $150 million to support an agreement on a $2 billion investment by the Chrysler Corp. to build a new Jefferson Ave. manufacturing plant in Detroit and a technical center in Auburn Hills, Governor James Blanchard announced at a recent press conference.

The agreement on the two facilities, which Chrysler Motor Car chairman Gerald Greenwald said could be under construction by February, will "return and build upon 10,000 jobs" in the company, Blanchard said.

The state commitment of $150 million, to be spread over five-seven years, will go for both job training and construction of new roads and rail lines for the two facilities.

The co-operation between the local governments, the corporation and state government were unprecedented, Blanchard said.

And Greenwald said the agreement "demonstrates how the public sector can pull together when projects of this magnitude, involving so many citizens, is involved."

The agreement was announced following a meeting between Blanchard, Greenwald, Detroit Economic Development director Emmett Moten, Oakland county executive Daniel Murphy, commerce director Doug Ross, Auburn Hills mayor Robert Grunick and members of both the House and Senate Appropriations Committees.

Moten said the project, which would replace the current Jefferson Ave. assembly plant where Chrysler New Yorkers and K-cars are built, could help revitalize the city's East side with new homes and businesses.

Final details of the agreement will be released in the next few weeks, Ross said.

The agreement requires Detroit to acquire $20 million in federal urban development action grants to be used for site development. The agreement also calls for both Detroit and Auburn Hills to give the corporation 50 percent property tax abatements for 12 years.

State Board Expected To Complete Certification Rule State Superintendent of Public Instruction Phillip Runkel said he expects the State Board of Education, at its scheduled Oct. 7-8 meeting, to give final approval to new teacher certification rule changes.

The board action would follow approval by the House-Senate Joint Administrative Rules Committee's adoption of the regulations designed to improve teacher competency and training.

Runkel called the rule changes, first approved by the board last November, the "most significant set of changes in teacher certification in the last 15 years."

The rule changes would require, effective Sept. 1, 1989, that all teachers in public schools and most private schools need to complete six semester hours of additional work or staff training every five years to keep certificates active.

Middle school grade (5th, 7th and 8th grades) would also be required to teach only subjects in which they majored or minored in college.

Other changes require middle school teachers to be trained in human growth and development, in dealing with handicapped, gifted and talented students and those with cultural differences. That grade level teacher would also have to complete six hours of instruction in the teaching of reading.

MADD Chapter Meets Monthly On 4th Thursday

Washtenaw Chapter of Mothers Against Drunk Driving began its 1986-87 meeting series on Aug. 28 in their new regular meeting location at Catherine McAuley Health Center's Education Center.

MADD meets in Classroom 5 of the Education Center on the fourth Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m.

The meetings provide information to interested County citizens on what can be done to stop drinking and driving. The next meeting will be Sept. 25.

Speaker at the September meeting will be Mayor Donald Shelton of Saline. Mayor Shelton is speaking to groups of citizens on what drinking and driving has done to Saline and on that City's response. Saline has a new ordinance which holds parents liable for the actions of their children when parties involving alcohol are held by minors.

Shelton is encouraging communities surrounding Saline to adopt similar ordinances in the expectation that if more communities have such ordinances Saline youths won't be able to circumvent the intent of the ordinance by partying outside Saline.

A drinking and driving awareness film will also be previewed.

All interested citizens are invited to attend these meetings. MADD is looking for people to volunteer as observers in court. Court monitor training is scheduled for the October meeting.

Meet Engler, O'Connor At Coffee in Manchester

A coffee honoring Republican candidates Colleen Engler and Margaret O'Connor will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday, Oct. 3 at the Manchester Township Hall. Engler is running for Lt. Governor and O'Connor is running for re-election of the Michigan House (52nd District).

Jane Talcott, Manchester, chair of the Washtenaw County Republican Committee, which is sponsoring the open house, said she hoped people from several townships neighboring Manchester would come to the informal event. The township hall is located at 275 S. Macomb St., in Manchester.

Bill Lucas, Republican candidate for Governor, chose Engler to be his running mate following his primary victory in August. Engler was elected to the Michigan House in 1974 (99th District) and is the first Republican woman candidate for Lt. Governor.

Long active in Washtenaw county politics, O'Connor was elected to the Michigan House in 1982. She is noted for her direct and simple campaign style, devoid of advertising tactics.

Cassidy Lake Liaison Council To Meet

Cassidy Lake Liaison Council will meet Tuesday, Sept. 30, 7:30 p.m. at Cassidy Lake Technical School Administration Building.

Talcott said the coffee would provide an opportunity for people to meet and talk with both candidates in a relaxed atmosphere. "It's just a neighborhood coffee session," she said.

Ronald McDonald House Needs Blankets For Young Children

Knitters, weavers, quilters and crocheters—would you, or your organization, pledge blankets by Dec. 1?

Young patients living at Ronald McDonald House during treatment need all the "warm fuzzies" possible to help them through their ordeal. The Ronald McDonald staff enthusiastically received this project proposal but cautioned that a supply of 50 blankets would be needed before the program was initiated. Ambulatory or wheelchair bound, newborn or teen, they all need our warm fuzzies!

Blankets must be machine washable and machine dryable. All bangles must be securely fastened (remember the to/s). Crib to lap sizes are preferable to bed sizes. All donated blankets will be machine washed and dried at Ronald McDonald House before being given out.

If you have any questions about this project, or if you would like to make a pledge, call Bettie Smith at 426-2032.

L. Roskowski, A. Farley Are Married on July 12

Lynne Adair Roskowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Roskowski, 7109 Lake Shore Drive, married Arthur Harlan Farley, son of Mrs. Eleanor M. Farley and the late Curtis Farley, of Chelsea, on July 12 at North Lake Beach.

The Rev. Robert Hunt performed the ceremony. The Rev. Hunt, Terry Seltz and Chris Burnham sang "Petals of a Rose," and "Roll Away."

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin chiffon with a beaded bodice with drop shoulders. She made a veil of silk flowers with beads crowning a scalloped veil. She carried a bouquet of silk peach roses with white roses and blue flowers to accent.

The maid of honor was Ms. Karin Kay Roskowski, sister of the bride, of Ann Arbor. She wore a peach-colored cocktail-length strapless dress with white lace to accent, and white shoes and a white eyelet bolero. She wore a wrist band of peach, blue and white silk flowers.

Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Brenda Taylor, of Chelsea, best friend of the bride, Annette Wright, of Florida, friend of the bride, and Tanya Russell, of Royal Oak, second cousin of the bride.

Bridesmaids dresses were the same as that of the maid of honor.

The bride's mother wore a blush chiffon, tea-length dress with an overlay of crocheted lace the same color as the dress. It was long sleeved and accented with a wrist corsage of white roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a light pink tea-length dress with raised satin roses. The waist was accented with a ruffle and a sash and a shoulder corsage of white roses.

The best men were Curtis Farley, brother of the bridegroom, of Richmond, Ky., Paul Wenk and Albert Hafley, of Chelsea, and Steven Oyert, of Jackson, all friends of the bridegroom.

A reception for 500 guests was held at German Park off Pontiac Trail after a long scenic procession led by 34 motorcycles. Curtis Farley gave the toast.

Loretta Roskowski, sister-in-law of the bride, passed the guest book. Jackie Swanson, of Belleville, cut and served the cake. Jo Bennett, Katie Chapman and Mary Martin were the kitchen workers.

The couple took a one-week motorcycle camping trip to the Traverse City area.

After the wedding and dinner, the bride changed into a white, tea-length handkerchief style dress with rhinestones on the bodice.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Chelsea High school and works at Chelsea Milling Co. as a tour guide.

The bridegroom is a 1970 graduate of Chelsea High school and works for Belser Construction Co.

Wackenhut-Kuhl Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz F. Wackenhut of Chelsea have announced the engagement of their daughter, Gail Joanne Liebeck, to Gregory A. Kuhl of Manchester. Mr. Kuhl is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Kuhl of Hendersonville, N.C., formerly of Chelsea.

The future bride is employed by Wolverine Food and Spirits. Her fiancé is employed at Chelsea Proving Grounds. No wedding date has been set.

Training Session Set for Cobblestone Farm Volunteers

Cobblestone Farm, an authentic 1844-1860 historical farm homestead, located at 2781 Packard Rd., Ann Arbor, is in need of volunteers to be trained as tour guides.

Training sessions for beginning guides provide information on the architecture, history, and furnishing of the house. The guides are responsible for tours of houses, educational programs, and special events.

The next training session will be held on Oct. 11 from 9 to 11 a.m. Interested persons should call the farm at 994-2928.

Mr. and Mrs. John James Hoffman

J. Rouse, J. Hoffman Married Aug. 9 at St. Mary's Church

Jenette Lee Rouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gale Rouse, 16496 Farnsworth Rd., Stockbridge, married John James Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Hoffman, 112 W. Summit St., on Saturday, Aug. 9 at St. Mary's Catholic church.

The Rev. Fr. Philip Dupuis performed the ceremony. Marie Houle and Larry Guenther, of Chelsea, and Lucy Dillen, of Ann Arbor, were vocalists.

The bride was dressed in her mother's 22-year-old gown. It is made of ivory Chantilly lace. She also wore a headband made of silk, pearls, and silk flowers. She carried peacock feathers in her bouquet.

The maid of honor was Melissa Beth Kitchen, of Dexter. She was dressed in a smooth, one-shouldered, sapphire blue dress, with ivory trim.

Serving as bridesmaids were Teresa and Deanna Rouse, sisters of the bride, and Cathy Hoffman and Teresa Rabbitt, sisters of the bridegroom. They all wore sapphire blue dresses and carried peacock feathers. The bride's mother wore a lavender satin dress covered with lavender lace.

The bridegroom's mother wore a tea-length ivory dress.

The flower girls were Courtney and Jennifer Schulte. The ringbearer was Chad Ladish.

Bill Hanna, of Chelsea, was the best man.

Serving as ushers were Phil Hoffman, brother of the bridegroom, and Ted Merkel, Greg Dillen and Steve Dotson, all friends of the bridegroom.

A reception for 225 guests was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Dexter.

The couple took a one-week honeymoon to a cabin in upper Michigan.

KRACHT-RITTER: Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Donahee of Plymouth have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lee Kracht to Michael E. Ritter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin W. Ritter of Leslie. The future bride is a graduate of Plymouth High school and Washtenaw Community College. She is owner of Lee's Day Care Center in Ann Arbor, teaches Sunday school at First United Presbyterian church in Plymouth, is a member of the Eastern Star in Ypsilanti and leader of the Youth Fellowship in Plymouth. Her fiancé graduated from Leslie High school, and Jackson Community College, and has been employed by the Ann Arbor Police Department for 17 years. He formerly lived in Chelsea. The couple plans a March 28 wedding.

Local Youths Win in State 4-H Dairy Show

Several Washtenaw county 4-H members placed well at the 1986 Michigan Dairy Days, Aug. 18-21, at Michigan State University. The Washtenaw county Dairy Judging team senior division placed fourth out of 14, with 1,498 points. Kerri Bristle of Manchester placed 12th out of 79 in the senior individual dairy judging with 520 points. Casie Finkbeiner of Saline placed 11th out of 85 in the junior individual dairy judging with 442 points. The Washtenaw county senior team placed second in the Dairy Quiz Bowl Contest. The Washtenaw county junior team placed third.

Marcus Bristle of Manchester placed third in the junior division of the Dairy Exhibit Contest. Jennie Gordon of Saline placed third in the Junior Dairy Foods Recipe Contest.

Kerri Bristle of Manchester placed third in the senior division of the Speak Up for Milk Contest. Nick Gordon of Saline placed fourth in the senior division of the Speak Up for Milk Contest.

Ken Baldus of Dexter won first place in the Michigan Milk Producers' Association interview. Kevin Weidmayer of Ann Arbor placed fifth. The top five winners go on to the National 4-H Dairy Conference held in Madison, Wis., Sept. 29-Oct. 3. They will compete for national honors.

"The purpose of Dairy Days was to give 4-H'ers a chance to display and match their skills in various contests and activities," says John Evert, Washtenaw county 4-H youth agent. "We're very proud of how well our kids did at this year's event."

Activities held during the four-day event included dairy science exhibits and demonstrations, dairy goat and cattle judging and showing contests.

Beans, Vegetables Hardest Hit By Recent Flooding

The crops in Michigan most seriously affected by the recent heavy rainfall are dry beans, soybeans and vegetables, according to Robert Craig, manager of Michigan Farm Bureau's Commodity Activities and Research Department.

"Michigan's dry beans, which include white navy beans, dark red kidneys, pintos and a variety of other colored beans, have been seriously affected," Craig said. "We also see vegetable crops, such as carrots, onions and potatoes as having been damaged. Saginaw and Gratiot counties appear to be the hardest hit."

Craig said that farmers outside the disaster areas may benefit from higher prices for dry beans and onions, but predicted there will be only minimal price increases at the retail level.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

A successful entry into your home by burglars can be an upsetting experience, and there's a lot you can do to prevent it. Police estimate that 40 percent of illegal entries are not forcible. A door or window has been left unlocked so the burglars can just help themselves. Even when all are locked, thieves also test for household keys cleverly hidden under door mats or placed on nearby ledges or sills.

Home protection is especially important these days because so many dwellings are regularly left unoccupied while dad and mom work and the kids go to school. This also explains why so many burglaries now take place in broad daylight during school hours.

As villagers and country people, Chelsea area home owners have considerable advantage over their city cousins. We know our neighbors, their families, their occupations and their general time tables. We are likely to notice the presence of strangers behaving suspiciously near neighborhood homes. When we do, we are also likely to dial the police. In many city neighborhoods people are getting to know each other and protect the block by forming Neighborhood Watch groups.

It must also be conceded that we have a few special problems of our own in the form of correctional institutions. Originally intended for the rehabilitation of mild offenders, they were euphemistically labelled "training schools" or "technical schools." Today, with our desperately overloaded prison system, many hard core felons, including murderers, have become our neighbors in these same facilities.

Most escapes and walkaways are quickly rounded up by local police and sheriff patrols but this is no guarantee that an escapee won't someday find his way into your home. Petty thieves are after money, jewelry and compact articles that can be sold or pawned. Career criminals are also looking for rifles, shotguns and knives. Professional burglars will back up a moving truck in broad daylight, posing as servitors. They will then clear a house, shop or office of TV's, VCR's, sports equipment, computers, typewriters and copying machines. All thieves covet handguns and ammunition.

The first step you can take to protect your home is to make it an unappealing target. Have nightlights mounted high out of reach so that all entrances, and panels subject to easy destruction, are illuminated at night. Do not have bushy trees or shrubs near entrances or windows. They can provide cover while thieves open locked windows with glass cutters or penetrate locking systems with files, saws or specialty tools. If you have bushes, trim them low so they offer poor concealment. To make Mr. Burglar really uncomfortable, plant barberry bushes, or anything with thorns or prickles.

Keep jewelry, cash, stamp collections, securities and valuable papers in a bank safe deposit box. Do not place too much confidence in cute household hiding places, either home-made or manufactured, because experienced thieves know them all.

On all guns, cameras, TV's and valuable electronic equipment get an engraving tool and letter your driver's license number on these possessions. (The Chelsea police will gladly lend citizens an engraving tool.) Then post labels near doors and windows letting thieves know that this identifying has been done. A product that has been engraved with an ID can only be sold by the thief at a discouraging discount or not at all.

Another disincentive to burglars is a noisy dog. Such a pet is especially valuable against sneak thieves who dare to enter an occupied home while the family is sleeping.

You could probably recite the next suggestions in your sleep, they are so familiar. Don't go away for a long time without two precautions: First, arrange to have your grass mowed or driveway snow removed. Have all mail and newspaper deliveries suspended, and notify the police or sheriff of your planned absence. The second safeguard is to make your house seem occupied by having electric timers turn lights, radios, and TV's on and off at various times in different parts of the house.

About two thirds of all burglars enter through a door. If you have exterior doors of hollow core construction they should be replaced with solid hardwood doors one and three-fourths inches thick, or steel doors. In this age of all-out terrorism, you want doors that can repulse or slow down an attacker.

Also, when an unknown person knocks on the door or rings the bell, you want to know who's there before you open the portal. To be sure of a good view, have a peephole with a 180 degree lens. Each exterior door should be hung on three hinges and installed with extra long screws. Make sure there is no more than one-sixteenth inch of space between the door and frame so the door can't be pried open.

It is extremely important to your security to use dead bolt locks on all exterior doors combined with good, well mounted strike plates. Each lock should be double keyed so the door can be locked from either the inside or outside. Do not rely for safety on a key-in-knob lockset equipped with a spring latch that opens from the inside by turning the knob. These locks are a piece of cake for any experienced burglar.

Ordinary plate glass panels in exterior doors may be replaced with laminated glass similar to the tough material used in windshields. Or you can specify bullet proof laminated glass and can also order it reinforced with wire mesh.

Do not trust windows with butterfly latches. Replace them with key operated latches, all controlled by one key. Or drill contiguous holes through the windows and frames of both upper and lower windows. Then insert an easily removable nail in each opening. Take the nail out when you want to use a window and replace it when the sash is closed.

Sliding doors need similar protection. In addition, space above the top rail should be plugged with a pole or broomstick so a burglar cannot lift the door vertically and remove it from its frame.

If you can't have a noisy dog, or don't want one, there are various kinds of intruder alarms that can be purchased at moderate cost from hardware stores and electronic supply shops. You can also have a professional security firm install a more elaborate system that will automatically notify the nearest law enforcement agency. Such systems cost more; it all depends on the amount of protection that is needed. This, in turn, may depend on how often you are away.

Electronic gates send a beam across a passageway and set off an alarm if interrupted. Unfortunately, burglars may contrive to slide under or climb over the beam.

Pressure sensitive mats may be placed at doorways and used to activate alarms. There are also wired systems with panic buttons and ultrasonic devices that can frighten an intruder away or even alert the law.

But please remember this: Quality locks and alarm systems are as useless as open doors if you neglect to turn the keys or set the switches.

A TEDDY BEAR CLINIC is being sponsored by Chelsea Community Hospital this Saturday, Sept. 27 from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the main dining room. While waiting for their teddy bears to be repaired, participants can visit a display of teddy bears or a display of emergency room equipment, have a vital signs card filled out listing height, weight, pulse and blood pressure, or have fingerprints taken by the Chelsea Police Department. Volunteers will also be able to repair teddy bears, cloth dolls or other soft animals. The hospital will also give away a soft, cuddly teddy bear as a special door prize. In addition, Halloween trick or treat bags, balloons and helpful information will be given away. Some of the participants in the clinic will be, in front, from left, Vicki Jagodowski, Judy Even and Bernice Geragosian. In the back row, from left, are Nancy Fielder, Dr. Barry Nemon, police chief Lenard McDougall, and Gail Tornaka.

State Police Seek Tips on Marijuana Growing Sites

Operation HEMP, a Michigan State Police effort to eliminate marijuana planting in the state, is in full swing, officials report.

Last year, more than 141,000 plants were destroyed as a result of the co-operative effort which involves participation from other law enforcement agencies as well as the public. D/F/Lt. Roy Verrier, project co-ordinator, explained that the best and cheapest way to prevent marijuana from reaching the streets is to stop it at the source.

The State Police recognize the difficulty in identifying and apprehending individuals involved in this illegal activity. The public is being asked to assist. If a citizen has reason to be suspicious about property that may be used for growing marijuana, he or she should call the State Police Operation HEMP toll free number 1-800-235-HEMP.

Vernier says tips from the public had a significant impact on the number of plants eliminated in the first two years of the operation. "There has been a drastic reduction in the number of tips from the public this year which has limited the effectiveness of the program. We are urging the public to use the toll free number to report any suspected plantings. With harvest time in the very near future, it's even more important to get those tips in right away," Vernier said. The State Police is interested in small as well as large plots—size makes no difference.

Funeral Service... For Thousands of Years A Part of Humanity

DONALD A. COLE
Director

Archaeologists write that honoring the departed in a social ritual has been a part of civilization ever since the beginning.

We are privileged to continue that tradition by providing the highest standard of funeral service to the Chelsea area. And in so doing, we endeavor not only to honor a memory... but also to provide peace of mind for the living.

Setting the Standard

Some names set the standard for quality.

In every field, there is one name that stands out. Generally, it's because the people behind the name care a great deal about what they do and know how to do it well.

McAuley Health Plan sets the standard for health care coverage.

The growth of McAuley Health Plan in Washtenaw and western Wayne counties in the last two years has been remarkable. People are switching to McAuley Health Plan because it offers the doctors, the hospitals, and the service they want.

Experience counts.

Running a health plan takes good people, and we have some of the best. Many have years of health care experience working with other plans across the country.

We have used that experience to provide the kind of service you need. Our members pay no annual deductible and are covered for routine as well as emergency care by local physicians and hospitals they know and trust.

Just as important, the people of McAuley Health Plan work hard at making care easy to get. Paperwork has been virtually eliminated so you can just concentrate on staying well.

It's surprising for a relatively new health plan to talk about setting the standard when there are a number of older plans around.

But then, McAuley Health Plan is surprising a lot of people these days.

If It Comes to Mudding Out the Crop, Plan Well

Ideally, farmers shouldn't attempt to harvest crops this fall on heavy soils until they've sufficiently dried. But that may not always be feasible.

"Farmers who do go after crops in spite of muddy fields should expect trouble and be prepared to minimize personal hazards," says Howard Doss, Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service agricultural safety specialist.

Part of that preparation should be to designate specific responsibilities to the people involved in the harvest when equipment becomes stuck.

"You can considerably reduce downtime and consequent irrational activity if you make sure each person knows what aspect of the job he or she is to perform," Doss says. "The number of people involved in getting the equipment unstuck should be kept to a minimum. Getting machinery out of the mud should not be a spectator event—extra people often add to the exasperation of the people trying to get the harvest going again."

Use only heavy chain matched to the pulling power of the towing equipment. The pulling capacity of chains is generally listed at the point of purchase. The local dealer can also be helpful in getting the proper chain.

Fiber ropes, straps or nylon ropes should not be used for pulling stuck equipment," Doss says. "Nylon ropes are especially hazardous because of their tremendous recoil and whipping action when they break. The recoil can be strong enough to throw a clevis into an engine block."

"The rule is to hitch as low as possible between the two units," Doss says. "That means to the drawbar on the tractor, not the axle, three-point hitch or the seat, and hitch to the combine at points intended specifically for towing." Pulling pressure should be consistent. Yanking or jerking can make the tractor flip backward and crush the operator in seconds. It can also severely damage the harvester undercarriage.

Keep platforms, steps and the operator's cab clean and boots free of mud. The most common

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

Brian Hamilton has a Walt Disney attitude towards sports. He claims he'd like to see the U. of M. football team finish in last place because they need to be humbled after so much success over the years.

Athletes and coaches are supposed to try to win every game. Michigan has the best coach and the best reputation. So naturally the best high school athletes want to play for Bo Schembechler. Mr. Hamilton will never live to see Michigan's football team in last place.

Mike Connors.

To the Editor:

As a registered voter of the 2nd congressional district, I believe it is important to call attention to a very important congressional race that is taking place between Congressman Carl Pursell and Dean Baker.

As the election is to take place Nov. 4, there is time to become acquainted with political stands of each of these individuals in order to vote in a more informed manner. I would hope The Chelsea Standard will play an active role in this.

Carl Pursell's (R) voting record in the House of Representatives has been a real mixed bag. In the past he has supported aid for the Contras and hikes in the level of defense spending. Most recently he seems to have switched his stance and voted for a one year moratorium on all nuclear tests and freezing "Star Wars" funding, along with some other arms control measures.

While this recent voting is laudable in terms of providing a safer future for ourselves and our children, it behooves all of us to look at his track record over his last term in office.

No matter where each of our sentiments lie, it is important to register to vote and make each of our voices heard this coming November.

Sherry Hansen.

To the Editor,

Here are some tough questions to ask any candidate for Congress or the Senate.

If what is called apartheid in South Africa is worthy of condemnation, why do our leaders not also condemn India for its vicious caste system, Moslem nations for keeping women in bondage, Red China for forced abortion and infanticide, and the Soviet Union for its persecution of Christians and Jews?

Communist nations treat people so horribly that they must erect walls to keep the people in. Yet we give Communist nations aid, most favored nation loan status, and legitimacy. The nation of South Africa, surrounded by Communist and socialist regimes, is so appealing to the people of those neighboring countries that it has problems keeping the people out. Yet the U. S. is increasingly meddling in its affairs. Why don't we switch our meddling?

The likely beneficiary of attempts to destroy the government of South Africa will be the African National Congress, an organization that is in league with the South African Communist Party and in sympathy with the Soviet Union.

If a government unfriendly to the United States should come to power in South Africa, our nation would lose its supplier of 23 minerals that are vital for our own national defense. The only other nation possessing most of these strategic materials (chromium, platinum, vanadium, manganese, etc.) is the Soviet Union.

Allen Keyte in the July 15th issue of World Affairs Review reports that western politicians, in preparing the overthrow of South Africa, are assisting in the biggest giveaway conceived in the 20th century. The apartheid issue in South Africa is a red herring. The real issue is South Africa's survival as a free nation. "Unless, Mr. Politician, you come to your senses quickly, South Africa will be controlled by the Soviets... and so shall we," says Keyte.

NATIONAL MERIT SEMI-FINALIST: Steven Petty, a senior at Chelsea High school, has been named a semi-finalist for a National Merit Scholarship. About 6,000 scholarships totaling more than $21 million are available. Petty, and more than one million other high school juniors, entered the competition last fall by taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. The top scorers in every state, representing about one-half of one percent of the class, are in the nationwide semi-finalist pool. To be considered for the scholarships, the semi-finalist must advance to the final standing by documenting high academic performance, being endorsed and recommended by their high schools, taking the Scholastic Aptitude Test, and submitting information about their school and community activities, personal interests and goals. Winners in each state will be chosen by a committee of college admissions professionals. The national awards are supported by grants to NMSC from companies and businesses and by undesignated program funds. Steven is interested in computer science and is considering attending the University of Michigan.

TEL-MED Adds New Health Tapes

TEL-MED, a public service offering free taped health information by telephone, has recently updated the following tapes:

- Syphilis, #15
- Depression: How to Deal with It, #CL 432
- When Should I Seek Help for Personal Problems? #CL 11
- Mouth-to-Mouth Resuscitation (Adults), #103
- Ringworm and Other Fungal Infections, #80
- Dental Insurance, #317

To listen to these, or any of the other 265 TEL-MED tapes, call 668-1551 from the Ann Arbor, western Washtenaw county area, 434-6120 from the Ypsilanti, eastern Washtenaw county area, or 548-2832 from Livingston county. Hours of operation are Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Saturdays, noon to 8 p.m.

Tapes may be requested by name or by number.

Because each tape is automatically disconnected at the end of the message, only one tape can be heard per phone call. However, there is no limit to the number of calls an individual may make to this toll-free service.

Free brochures listing the complete library of TEL-MED tapes are available upon request.

TEL-MED is sponsored by: Beyer Memorial Hospital, Brighton Hospital, Chelsea Community Hospital, Eastern Michigan University Health Service, Livingston County United Way, M-CARE, McAuley Health Plan, McPherson Community Health Center, Mercywood Hospital, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Saline Community Hospital, University of Michigan Hospitals, University of Michigan University Health Service, Veterans Administration Medical Center, Washtenaw County Medical Society, and Washtenaw United Way.

REBECCA ALLEN has been promoted to the position of personal lending officer with Citizens Trust, according to George H. Cress, president and chief executive officer. Allen joined Citizens Trust in 1978 as the head teller/assistant manager of the bank's Main Office. Since that time, she has assumed the position of assistant manager of the South State Street Office, and most recently held the position of assistant manager of the Chelsea Office.

Elvira Vogel Re-Elected To MASB Board of Directors

Washtenaw Intermediate School District Board of Education member Elvira Vogel has been re-elected to the 21-member board of directors of the Michigan Association of School Boards. Vogel was elected to a three-year term to represent all school board members from Michigan's intermediate school districts.

Vogel has been on the intermediate district's board of education for 28 years, and previously served as the board's president and vice-president. Her extensive state-level activities include former chairmanship of the MASB education and curriculum innovation committee, and membership on MASB's ad hoc committee for finance, honors and hall of fame committee, board of directors nominations committee, and conference planning committee.

The MASB's board of directors guides the association in providing some 4,089 board of education members throughout Michigan with a variety of information, services and boardmanship development programs to strengthen their role as effective community representatives.

on their local and intermediate school district governing bodies. Virtually all public school boards of education in Michigan are members of the association which was begun in 1949.

Fall Color Appearing in Metro Parks

House Approves Bill Requiring Deposit on Wine Cooler Bottles

The Michigan House last Thursday overwhelmingly approved a 10-cent deposit on wine cooler bottles, while the Senate approved the bill on Friday.

State Representative Margaret O'Connor (R-Ann Arbor) said the rising popularity of wine coolers has made clear the need to include the containers in the bottle deposit law that took effect in 1978.

"I could find no one who opposed wine coolers being included with pop and beer containers when I went door-to-door on the issue," the lawmaker said.

Upon final legislative approval, the bill is being sent to the governor for his signature. The law would become effective June 1989.

Cyclists Advised To Walk Bikes Near C. Industries

Due to a couple of potentially serious near accidents, signs will be posted on N. Main St. on the sidewalk next to Chelsea Industries advising bicycle riders to walk their bikes.

The action was prompted by a letter from Chelsea Industries Controller John Mayne to the village council describing the problem.

"We have again had a near miss with an employee stepping out of our door at the north end of the plant. The bicycle was coming down the decline at a dangerous speed. Had the employee been one step further onto the walk the bicyclist would have to choose between hitting the person or a telephone pole a few feet beyond."

"We also recently observed an elderly couple walking up the sidewalk who were encountered by a similarly speeding bike."

Mayne said the shift at the plant changes at 3:30 p.m. and school lets out about the same time, creating a dangerous situation.

"We are also concerned about vehicle traffic, both delivery trucks crossing the sidewalk at the north end of the plant, employee cars in and out of the north parking lot, and a car entering and leaving the parking garage located in the middle of the building near the office door."

CHELSEA ORCHESTRA MEMBERS participated in a week-end string retreat at Judson-Collins Camp in the Irish Hills with the Saline High school orchestra. The students spent Friday and Saturday in an intensive program of clinics by musicians from the University of Michigan. Sunday was spent bringing the different string sections together to try their new techniques. All their

4-H Club Leaders Offered State Workshop on Personal Grooming

Washtenaw county 4-H teen and adult leaders are invited to join others from across the state attending the 4-H Personal Appearance Workshop Oct. 10-11, at Kettunen Center, the state 4-H leadership training facility in Tustin.

Participants will be given the opportunity to update their knowledge and skills in personal appearance areas and to provide in-depth training for teens in grooming and modeling.

Reservations for the workshop are due Sept. 29. The workshop is sponsored by a grant through the Michigan 4-H Foundation from Citizens Commmercial and Savings Bank, Flint, and the Cummings Fund, Fremont.

For more information, contact the 4-H office at the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service Office, 973-9510.

A group of roebucks is called a bevy according to International Wildlife magazine. The term may stem from the Old French beverage—a drinking session, since roes are frequently seen together at a watering place. Speaking of water, a group of ducks is called a paddling when on water, but on land or in the air they're simply a flock.

KATIE GIEBEL is shown here with her new violin. The violin was a birthday gift from her parents but was presented as a surprise during first hour orchestra class. As orchestra director Jedd Fritzemeier presented her with violin, the rest of the orchestra class also surprised her by playing "Happy Birthday."

Work Exchange Program Takes Proctor to Holland

Richard Proctor, of Chelsea, recently returned from a month-long "work ambassador" exchange program in the Netherlands.

The program, sponsored by AFS International/Intercultural, was funded by the United States Information Agency and the Dutch Ministry of Culture. Proctor was among 20 young Michigan men and women in the Michigan Youth and Civilian Conservation Corps to take part in the program.

Proctor spent two weeks in Uden, Holland, a small town in the southern part of the country. He stayed with a host family.

"We were there to learn about unemployment in other countries," said Proctor, who worked in a youth center as a painter and maintenance man.

"The youth center was a place that had classes for kids who dropped out of school."

Among other things, Proctor said he learned how much slang Americans use in their everyday speech. For that reason, he often found it difficult to communicate with people who had some understanding of English.

"I used hand gestures a lot," Proctor said.

Before leaving for the Netherlands, the group spent several days at Michigan State University together in an orientation session. After the two weeks of work, the entire group went on an excursion to Paris. After returning home, the group had an evaluation.

Proctor, a 1985 graduate of Chelsea High school, is the son of Michael and Jeanette Sweet, 47 Chestnut St. He's a criminal justice major at Michigan State, and is in the Air Force ROTC program.

RICHARD PROCTOR recently returned from a work exchange program in Holland, where he learned about unemployment among young people.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Sept. 15, were Dils, Grau, Comeau, Redding, Satterthwaite, Wales, Cherem, superintendent Van Meer, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Williams, Stielstra, Benedict, Westcott, assistant principal Larson, special education director DeYoung, athletic director Reed, Community education director Rogers, curriculum director Bissell, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Dils.

Board approved the minutes of the Sept. 2 meeting.

Entered as official communications were (1) a letter from former board member Ann Feeney, complimenting the board for a splendid evening honoring her and former board president Dale Schumann; (2) a letter from Susan and Mike McKee, thanking Fred Mills and Ralph Brier for responding to a transportation request; (3) a letter from Judith James Woods, Juvenile Court Judge, indicating that a case worker has been assigned to work with truant students; (4) a letter from Larry and Sue Bennett, thanking Bob Benedict and Ralph Brier for working out transportation problems for kindergartners; (5) a letter from Gary Houle pertaining to the overload in Auto Shop (32 students), and inquiring if the administration or board could create a second class for this course.

Athletic Director Larry Reed presented a report on the staffing needs of the Athletic Department.

Trustees Comeau and Cherem commented on their meeting last Monday with local legislators.

The principals discussed the opening of the schools. They discussed enrollments, transportation and staffing. The high school schedule conflicts were discussed in depth. After assessing the situation, the board requested that a contingency plan be developed so this would not happen next year.

Assistant principal Larson indicated that the interviewing process had started for hiring a half-time substance abuse counselor.

Community education director Rogers reported that the Washtenaw Community College enrollment is at an all-time high, and that Chelsea will be designated as a western location for the college.

Band director Bill Gourley was present to discuss his request for permission to have the symphony band tour the Boston area April 21-25 (an information item on the agenda).

The board approved a contract for Barbara Foley for 173 days, effective Sept. 16, 1986, through June 11, 1987. Barbara will be replacing Pauline Koski, who accepted a position in another school district.

The board approved a contract for Ruthann Sears, effective Sept. 15, 1986, through June 16, 1987. Ruthann will serve as half-time psychologist, replacing Marla Rubinstein, who has transferred from full-time to half-time.

The board approved a wage scale for 1986-87 for substitute secretaries, playground supervisors, and assistant mechanic.

Guests were present who had inquiries regarding the high school scheduling, the auto shop course, and the need for an athletic trainer and assistant swimming coach.

The board convened in executive session at 10:32 to discuss a personnel matter and subsequently reconvened in public session at 10:56 p.m.

Meeting adjourned at 10:57 p.m.

Leader Dog Training Offered 4-H Members

County residents who are interested in leader dog training can now join a 4-H club. The 4-Her will take care of a seven-week-old puppy for approximately one year in their home. They will teach the puppy basic obedience, socialize the puppies and feed them. All vet bills will be taken care of.

If you are interested in joining a 4-H Leader Dog Club, contact the Washtenaw county 4-H office at 973-9510.

Federal Screw Indicted on Two Oil Dumping Charges

Federal Screw Works of Chelsea has been indicted on two misdemeanor charges in connection with an oil dumping incident

Two Escape Serious Injury In Car Crash

Two Chelsea men are lucky to be alive after the car in which they were driving slammed into a tree on Cavanaugh Lake Rd. on Monday night, Sept. 15.

According to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, Mark Edwin Kranick, 21, 14110 Riker Rd., was driving a car eastbound on Cavanaugh Lake Rd., and Danny Darrow, 19, was a passenger, when a motorcycle turned in front of the vehicle. Police said the vehicle skidded eight feet on the wet road and hit a tree on the opposite side of the road. Rescue workers had to cut off the top of the car to remove the men.

Police said neither man was wearing a seatbelt, and that Kranick had been drinking, although he was not charged with impaired or drunk driving.

Both men were initially taken to Chelsea Community Hospital. Kranick was treated and released, but Darrow was transferred to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, where he was listed in good condition late last week.

on Sunday morning, July 20.

According to Sgt. Jim Wooley, environmental conservation officer for the Department of Natural Resources, a warrant has been issued by the Washtenaw county prosecutor's office charging Federal Screw with discharging oil into Letts Creek, and for dumping the oil without a permit.

Wooley said that the charges can be issued without showing any deliberate attempt to dump the oil.

If convicted, Federal Screw Works could pay from $2,500 to $25,000 for each charge, although Wooley said a $5,000 penalty is not very likely.

The incident was brought to the attention of authorities by a Chelsea resident who lives on Letts Creek. The resident called Chelsea resident and conservation officer Craig Wales, who conducted the initial investigation

Stars Planning for 10th-Year Reunion

Chelsea High School Class of '77 will meet Sunday, Oct. 12, 2 p.m. at the Wolverine Bar. Planning will get underway for the class' 10-year reunion in 1987. Members of the class are asked to bring names and addresses of classmates. If anyone wishes more information please call Bob Swanberg, (517) 784-7915.

before turning the case over to Wooley's office.

Federal Screw allegedly dumped several hundred gallons of oil into the creek. According to the DNR, a valve on a holding tank was left open and the tank overflowed into a floor storm drain. The valve was used to let water into the tank to flush it out. They said the problem was compounded by a faulty catch basin in the floor that was designed to separate water and oil.

Village Raises Deductibles

Village of Chelsea will save nearly $8,000 on insurance costs next year by substantially raising the deductible costs.

Village council recently voted to go with a $1,000 deductible on collision for village vehicles and a $10,000 deductible on all liability claims and building and contents claims.

The village, which is self-insured through the Michigan Municipal League, is expected to save $1,368 annually on collision insurance, and $6,599 annually on liability and building and content insurance, according to figures supplied by the league.

According to village manager Fritz Weber, the village paid $68,800 with the old deductibles of $250 for collision and $1,000 for liability.

Michigan Poised for Color Extravaganza

During the next few weeks, Michiganders can drive, pedal, paddle, boat or stroll their way around wooded acres boasting some of nature's most splendid autumn colors, reports AAA Michigan.

For many, fall means the scent of freshly pressed apples at one of more than 100 Michigan cider mills, a quiet walk under a canopy of copper and gold leaves on trees in more than eight million acres of state and national forests or a hike through scenic gardens and arboreta.

This year's blaze of color begins in mid-September and early October across the Upper Peninsula woodlands and in the extreme northern tip of Lower Michigan. Vibrant hues of magenta and brassy yellows will decorate trees from late September to mid-October south of Cheboygan to north of a line from Ludington to Standish.

The best time to savor sugar maple leaves turned brilliant gold and aspens drenched in yellow should be early and mid-October in the Lower Peninsula's midsection, south of a line from Ludington to Standish and north of a line from Holland to Port Huron. Fall colors should reach their peak in southern Michigan in mid- and late October.

A harvest of paddleboat cruises, train treks and festivals are available for fall revelers.

Travelers can enjoy crisp autumn colors aboard an old-fashioned paddlewheel boat or vessel. In Lower Michigan, the Star of Charlevoix cruise ship sails Lake Charlevoix daily through Oct. 19. The Queen of Saugatuck paddleboat plies the Kalamazoo River on a 1½-hour tour daily through Sept. 19 and week-ends through Oct. 12. In southeast Michigan, Milford's Island Queen cruises Kent Lake on fall week-ends through Oct. 12.

For a unique color tour, hot-air balloonists can glide over acres of trees at many locations around the state or hop on a bicycle for a week-end or weekly tour. Michigan Bicycle Touring near Traverse City sponsors tours in the Northwest Lower Peninsula and across the U.P.

Residents can explore Michigan's bumper crop of forest colors aboard one of the state's many passenger trains. In the U.P., the Toonerville Trolley leaves Soo Junction for a 6½-hour round trip jaunt to Tahquamenon Falls daily through Oct. 6.

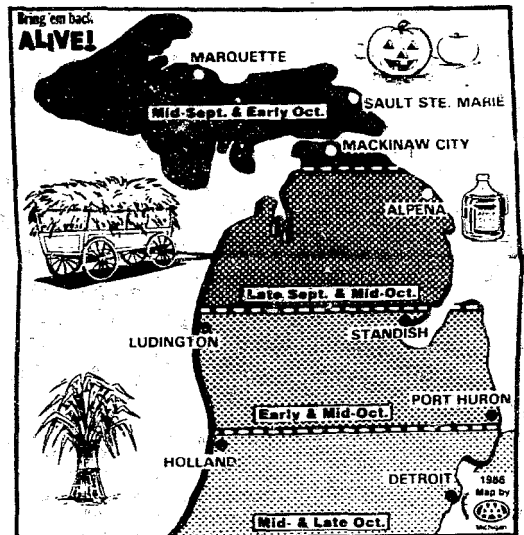

The Tom Sawyer Riverboat and Paul Bunyan Timber Trail in Hulbert combine forces for a 4½-hour trek through the wilderness area to the Tahquamenon Falls daily through Oct. 10.

In the Lower Peninsula, train buffs may ride the Lake Shore and Lyndon Central in Chelsea, where the open-air locomotive travels around a lake beneath blazing fall leaves Sundays through mid-October. In southeast Michigan, two of America's oldest steam engine trains chug past Greenfield Village's historic homesteads daily through Oct. 31.

Michigan also boasts a number of scenic gardens, including Midland's Dow Gardens and Kalamazoo's Nature Center, and arboreta from which residents can enjoy self-guided tours. Leila Arboretum in Battle Creek, Fernwood Nature Center in Niles and Fenner Arboretum in Lansing are among the facilities open this fall.

Among the bumper crop of West Michigan fall festivals are Kalamazoo College's Oktoberfest, Oct. 3-4; Battle Creek's Harvest Festival and the Red Flannel Festival, at Cedar Springs, both Oct. 4; Viking Color Festival, Cadillac, Oct. 9-12; Bangor's Apple Festival, Oct. 9-13; and Charlevoix's Apple Festival, Oct. 11-12.

East Michigan travelers may savor dozens of autumn activities, including the Pumpkin

Festival in Caro and Tuscola county, Oct. 2-5; Alpena's Fall Harvest Day and Houghton

Lake's Fall Color Tour, both Oct. 4; Midland's 11th annual Fall Harvest Festival, Oct. 4-5; and Lansing's Fall Festival, Oct. 29.

In southeast Michigan, Dearborn's Oktoberfest is Oct. 1-5; Port Huron's Oktoberfest, Oct. 3-4; Greenfield Village's (Dearborn) Autumn Harvest Festival, Oct. 2-5; and Fall Harvest Day at Jackson's Ella Sharp Museum, Oct. 5.

Defense Dominates, Heard Gains 206 Yds. As Bulldogs KO Milan

For the second straight week, the Chelsea varsity defense turned the game around and gave the Bulldogs a key Southeastern Conference win, this time a 20-12 decision over Milan.

Despite an inauspicious start, in which the Bulldogs gave up two touchdowns in less than five minutes, the Chelsea defense dominated the game for better than three quarters. After the first quarter, Milan got no further than the Chelsea 35-yard line, and it took a questionable pass interference penalty for them to get that far.

On the first play from scrimmage, Milan's Aaron Taylor scooted 79 yards around the right side down the sidelines to the Chelsea 3. Two plays later Big Red quarterback Pat Heath scored. The extra point try was no good.

Shortly after Chelsea running back Curtis Heard ran 63 yards for a touchdown on Chelsea's first play from scrimmage, Heath hit tight end Richard Henley on the right sideline, and Henley outran Chelsea defenders 40 yards to the goal line for Milan's second touchdown. Again the extra point failed and Chelsea was in a 12-7 hole.

From that point on, Chelsea's defense controlled the game. On the Big Reds' next possession, Matt Steinhauer sacked Heath for a 15-yard loss on third down, setting up good field position for Chelsea near mid field after a short punt.

In three plays, Head Coach Gene LaFave reached into his tool box and took out a gadget play he had used successfully in the past. Matt Bohlender, who was split so far out that he looked like he was on the sidelines, took off on the snap and ran under a Todd Starkey pass. No one was near Bohlender and he ran easily into the end zone.

Heath must have felt like Saline quarterback Grant Fanning felt the week before. After that first quarter he was constantly forced to scramble, which played havoc with the Big Red pass routes. Bohlender and Jeff Stacey had key interceptions, and Heath was sacked several times.

"Every time they went to their four receiver set, we blitzed one linebacker and sent another back into pass coverage," LaFave said.

Matt Steinhauer also did a good job keeping the pressure on, and Chris Acree did a good job covering. We played well."

Linebacker Joe Eassa led the team in tackles with nine, including a key sack. Steinhauer, at defensive tackle, and Bohlender and Acree, at defensive back, all had seven tackles each.

Chelsea got an insurance touchdown on the first drive of the third quarter when Starkey hit Junior Morseau with a screen pass on the left side, and Morseau ran 55 yards for the score, eluding a couple of Milan tacklers in the process.

Another big story of the game was the running of Heard, who showed why he is one of the league's best ball carriers. He gained 206 yards on 26 carries and became the first Chelsea runner since 1973 to gain 200 yards in a game. Take off his 63-yard run and he still averaged almost more than five yards a run.

"Curtis ran well," LaFave said.

"He's a good player." Despite Heard's excellent performance, and the couple of spectacular-looking plays by Bohlender and Morseau, LaFave called the offense "inconsistent."

"We relied way too much on the big play," LaFave said.

"And that can hurt you." In many cases, the Bulldogs were their own worst enemy as they were penalized for 120 yards on the night. Several of those penalties nipped Chelsea drives in the bud, and cost Heard a number of yards as well.

"We will be better this week," LaFave said.

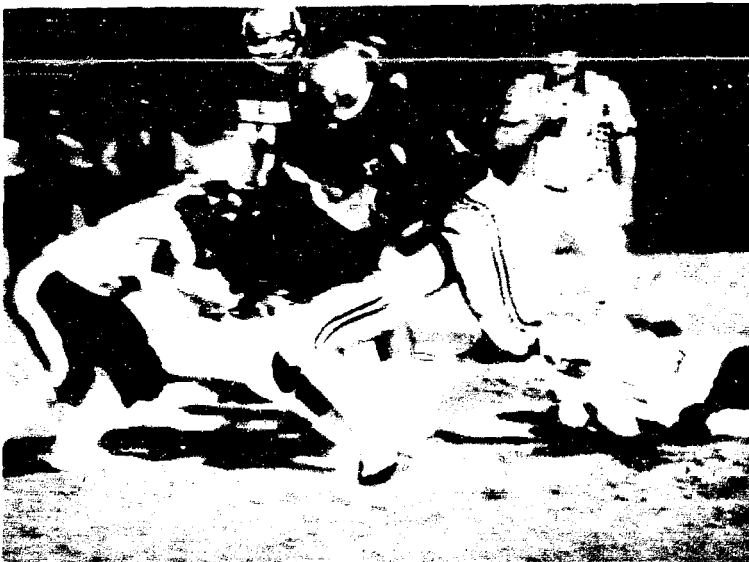

Friday Chelsea plays its first league road game of the year against the Lincoln Railsplitters.

"Lincoln plays tough defense, but nothing fancy," LaFave said.

"They have exceptional athletes."

Lincoln also relies on its big play passing game.

"This is a big one," the coach said.

CURTIS HEARD had his best game of the season with a 206-yard rushing performance against the Milan Big Reds. He also scored a touchdown on a 63-yard run on Chelsea's first play from scrimmage.

LINEBACKER MARCUS FLETCHER closes in on Milan ace receiver Ernest Walker after a catch. Walker's offense wasn't a major factor in the game as the Chelsea defense kept the pressure on the Milan quarterback all night.

Bulldog Harriers Upset by Big Reds

Despite a record-setting performance by Chelsea's Kasey Anderson, the Bulldogs dropped a tough cross country meet to the Milan Big Reds at Inverness Golf Course, 27-28, on Tuesday, Sept. 16.

It was the first time in four years the Chelsea girls have lost a dual meet, according to coach Pat Clarke.

Anderson set a new varsity course record of 19:42, beating Sandra Frames' record by nine seconds.

"Milan is a fine team that ran an outstanding meet to beat us," Clarke said.

"We ran well, but we are still suffering from an illness outbreak among the girls."

It was an exceptionally close race in the six through eight positions, as five seconds separated the girls. Chelsea took the sixth and eighth places. Had they taken sixth and seventh, it would have given the Bulldogs the win.

It was even closer for ninth and 10th places as Laura Torres and Milan's Becky Ramsey each finished at 21:54. However, Ramsey was judged to have crossed the line first.

Behind Anderson were: Jennifer Rossi, third place, 20:35; Sallie Wilson, sixth, 21:24; Debi Koenn, eighth, 21:29; Alisha Dorow, 11th, 22:10; Vicki Bullock, 12th, 22:36; Kim Roberts, 13th, 22:41; Wendy Hunn, 14th, 22:50; Kim Allen, 15th, 23:08; Anna Muncer, 16th, 23:10; Stephanie Wagner, 17th, 23:11; Ann Brosnan, 19th, 23:31; Ann Steffenson, 20th, 23:57; Jennifer Harris, 22nd, 24:18; Sheila Haab, 23rd, 24:19; and Charity Strong, 24th, 24:28.

In other action last week-end, Chelsea took sixth place in the 12-team Jackson Invitational, a meet won by Jackson Lumen Christi.

Anderson won the meet with a time of 19:42.

"Kasey ran an outstanding race to win the individual championship," Clarke said.

be a fine team. Vicki Bullock broke 22 minutes for the first time with a fine effort."

Behind Anderson were: Wilson, 24th, 21:24; Bullock, 36th, 21:51; Torres, 41st, 22:12; Dorow, 47th, 22:37; Roberts, 48th, 22:40. Koenn did not finish due to illness.

Boy Runners Whip Big Reds

Chelsea boys cross country team earned their first victory in Southeastern Conference dual meet schedule with a convincing 21-39 pounding of the Milan Big Reds at Inverness Golf Course, Tuesday, Sept. 16.

"We ran a good team race to earn the victory," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"Paul Hedding, Greg Brown and Tucker Lee all ran well and continue to show the improvement that is necessary as the season progresses."

John Cattell, who finished second over-all, paced Chelsea runners at 17:30.

Behind Cattell were: Hedding, third place, 17:52; Lee Riemenschneider, fourth, 18:15; Brown, fifth, 18:22; Lee, seventh, 18:37; Holden Harris, eighth, 18:43; Dave Kvamberg, 10th, 19:05; Brian Zangara, 11th, 19:12; Mike Lavigne, 13th, 19:20; Matt Riemenschneider, 17th, 19:42; Brady Murphy, 19th, 20:30; Paul Damm, 20th, 20:31; Craig Zuehlke, 21st, 20:54; Bob Pratt, 22nd, 20:58; Dave Freitas, 23rd, 21:01; Jeff Andrews, 25th, 21:31; Joe Williams, 28th, 22:08; Jim Rooke, 30th, 23:21; and Jamie Basso, 31st, 23:21.

Matt Riemenschneider broke 20 minutes for the first time, Clarke said.

In other action last week-end, the Bulldogs finished ninth in the 12-team Jackson Invitational last Saturday.

Cattell was the top Chelsea finisher, in 14th place in 17:05.

"Tucker Lee and Greg Brown ran exceptional races," Clarke said.

"We still have a very long way to go as a team, however."

Chelsea finishers behind Cattell were: Brown, 39th, 17:56; Lee, 47th, 18:07; Kvamberg, 56th, 18:29; Lee Riemenschneider, 57th, 18:34; Harris, 58th, 18:38; and Hedding, 69th, 19:35.

Sturgis won the meet with 59 points. Chelsea had 213 points, two places behind league rival Saline.

Milan Fall Road Race Set for Oct. 26

The ninth annual Milan Fall Road Race will be held Sunday, Oct. 26 at 1 p.m. in Wilson Park, 147 Wabash St., Milan.

The 7.5 mile run was featured in the September 1986 issue of Michigan Runner Magazine, as one of the most popular.

Trophies will be awarded to the top three finishers in each age division.

For more information, call Milan Parks and Recreation at 313/439-1549 or 313/439-1540.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Chelsea on Top of SEC, Four-Way Tie for Second

Chelsea Bulldogs found themselves alone at the top of the Southeastern Conference standings after their 20-12 home victory over the Milan Big Reds.

Saline Hornets and Pinckney Pirates also won last Friday, creating a four-way tie for second place among Saline, Tecumseh, Milan and Pinckney. Lincoln Railsplitters, who played a non-conference game on Saturday, and Dexter Dreadnaughts, are each 0-1 and tied for sixth place.

Chelsea 20, Milan 12—

Chelsea survived a quick start by the Big Reds, who put all 12 points on the board in the first five minutes of the game.

Milan's Aaron Taylor, on the first play of the game, took the ball 79 yards to the Chelsea 3. Two plays later the Big Reds scored.

However, on Chelsea's first play after the ensuing kick-off, running back Curtis Heard went through the right side of the line and down the sidelines for a 63-yard touchdown. The extra point gave Chelsea a short-lived lead.

Five plays after taking the kickoff, Milan quarterback Pat Heath hit tight end Richard Henley with a pass down the right sideline, and Henley ran the ball 38 yards for the score.

Chelsea used a little razzle-dazzle for their second touchdown as quarterback Todd Starkey heaved the ball down the left sidelines as Matt Bohlender, coming off the sidelines, simply ran under the ball for a 52-yard score.

Chelsea scored their final touchdown on the opening drive of the third quarter as Starkey hit

Junior Morseau with a screen pass and Morseau ran the ball 55-yards for the score. Larry Nix kicked the extra point.

Heard finished the night with 196 yards on 24 carries.

Saline 14, Tecumseh 3—

Saline came back strong after the previous week's emotional loss to Chelsea. Quarterback Grant Fanning ran for two touchdowns and 102 yards.

Saline got a break at the end of the first quarter when a Tecumseh punt snap sailed high over the punter's head, putting the ball at the Tecumseh 2. Fanning ran the ball in.

Tecumseh closed the gap to four points at half-time after Fanning was hit hard as he dropped back to pass and fumbled the ball. The Indians took the ball to the Saline 14, where Dwy Darg drilled a 31-yard field goal.

Toward the end of the third quarter, Fanning ran 33 yards on a quarterback draw for his second touchdown.

Twice in the second half, Tecumseh quarterback John Hartley was intercepted by Chris Roehm, once at the Indian 1.

Tecumseh's star running back Tim Bryan, who ran for 172 yards the week before against Lincoln, was held to just eight yards on four carries.

Pinckney 29, Dexter 0—

The Pirates held the Dreadnaughts to just 63 yards total offense, intercepting three passes in the process.

Dexter ran only 29 offensive plays, nine in the second half, while Pinckney had the ball 66 plays.

Pinckney had a 15-0 lead at half-time on two rushing touchdowns by Tim Skover (five yards) and Jim Chapin (two yards) and a safety when the Dreadnaughts tried to punt the ball from their own end zone.

The Pirates scored their final two touchdowns in the fourth quarter on runs by Chapin and Paul Taylor.

Skover rushed for 108 yards and Chapin contributed 79.

Lincoln 16, Royal Oak Shrine 15— Royal Oak Shrine was ranked in the top 10 in preseason rankings, but the Railsplitters used tenacious defense to win the contest.

Swim Team Wins Over Lincoln Park

Last Thursday the Chelsea girls swim team opened their season at Lincoln Park and came home with a resounding victory against a weak Lincoln Park team.

"Many of our second and third line swimmers swam to personal best times," said coach Mike Keeler.

"I was especially pleased with the way our freshmen swam in their first dual meet."

Freshmen Melissa Johnson, Debbie Webb and Jill Nowatzke all swam or dove to their personal bests. Debbie Webb, a diver, earned her varsity letter in her first meet with a point total of 156.5.

Other swimmers and divers who continued to perform well were: Karen Paulsell, Kenyon Vosters, Debbie Devoe, Maria Katula and Karen Graub.

"Our first line of swimmers weren't really challenged by Lincoln Park but I'm sure they will swim much better this week against Milan," Keeler said.

The Bulldogs will be traveling to Milan country tomorrow to take on the state-rated Big Reds.

"Although I don't see us coming up on top we are gearing up for some good swims that will help us prepare for the following meets," Keeler said.

Monroe Runs Past Frosh

Chelsea freshman football team ran into a powerful Monroe Jefferson running game and lost their contest last Tuesday, Sept. 16, 34-14.

Chelsea fell behind 14-0 by the middle of the second quarter and never recovered.

"They had a 220 pound fullback who got five to 10 yards at a crack," said Chelsea coach Jim Tallman.

"Once he got going, he was hard to bring down."

Chelsea scored its first touchdown when the score was 14-0. A 60-yard drive ended with a four-yard run by Tom Mesnard for the score.

Monroe came right back and scored again on their next series, making the score 20-6. They scored one more time before Chelsea set up their final touchdown on a 60-yard pass play from Mark Chasteen to Bret Wales. Matt Herter powered the ball in from three yards out.

Monroe scored one more time late in the contest when the game was out of reach.

Tallman cited the play of center Tony Byers, who played his first game at the position. He also said kick-off return specialist Mike Connell, defensive back Todd Perry, and Chasteen and Wales all had especially good games.

The freshmen have this week off.

Grass Lake Youth Completes Army Leadership Course

Sgt. Kevin E. Koker, son of John F. and Nancy L. Koker of 1594 Wolf Lake Rd., Grass Lake, has completed a U.S. Army primary leadership course in West Germany.

Students received training in supervisory skills, leadership principles and small unit training techniques essential to a first-time supervisor in a technical or administrative environment.

Koker is an infantryman with the 4th Infantry.

His wife, Mary, is the daughter of Dale F. and Doris M. Wymer of 113 Clark St., Grass Lake.

Bulldog Tennis Squad Wins Two

Chelsea Bulldog tennis team defeated Hartland, 5-2, and Monroe Jefferson, 6-1, last week but dropped its Friday match to Riverview, 3-4, all matches were on the road.

Riverview managed to break the Bulldogs' streak as they had a strong veteran team and Chelsea's third doubles team was out due to illness.

"We had to call upon our extra players and almost pulled it off," said Coach Terry Curtis.

Chelsea started the match off with a win by Jenny Pichlik over Stephanie Cerach, 7-6, 6-3. Angie Miller dropped her match to Amy Caesar, 6-2, 6-4. Kelly Stump and Deana Slusher got Chelsea's second point by beating Sonja Popadich and Mara Angelocci in straight sets, 6-3, 6-0.

Meanwhile, Melanie Dils split sets with her opponent, Karen Wiebelhaus, but went down, 6-3, 1-6, 6-4. Ada and Arlene Tai also split sets with Theresa Wong and Lisa Horvci, but lost their match 5-7, 6-1, 6-0.

"Finally, it came down to third doubles," said Curtis.

"The match shouldn't have depended upon this point. It could have been won by three other team members but just wasn't."

Chelsea was at a disadvantage having to replace the regular third doubles team of Minta Van Reesema and Alison Thornton, who were out with illness. Stepping in for them were Angel Lawton and Jennifer Robinson.

Angel and Jennifer carried the match into three sets but couldn't quite pull it out for Chelsea. Both teams cheered for their respective teams in the third and final set.

"We are looking forward to replaying this match here in Chelsea on Oct. 7," Curtis said.

"We should be at full strength at that time."

Chelsea took Hartland and Monroe Jefferson in straight sets except for the three points it lost. The point lost to Monroe Jefferson was third doubles due to illness. Jenny Pichlik and Laura Courneau had stepped in but lost to their opponents, 6-4, 6-2. The two points lost to Hartland were first and third doubles. Ada and Arlene Tai lost a tough three setter to Alisa Alsin and Lisa Barrett, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3 and Van Reesema and Thornton (who played the Monday match) went down to Stacey Neeley and Kelly Masuch, 6-3, 6-4. Chelsea has a 6-1 record.

THESE FORMER NORTH SCHOOL BOYS have stayed busy since they moved from Chelsea in 1985. Paul DeWitt, 9, left, won Best of Show in the Science Division of the Clare County Fair, Aug. 1-8. Paul, who's member of the 4-H Science Club, New Horizons, devised a project in computers. He created a weather chart and recorded the weather for the month of March. Travis DeWitt, 11, is standing beside a display he made for the entrance of Wilson State Park, as part of a scout project. It's the park where his father, Marvin, is the assistant park manager. The DeWitt family used to live on Bush Rd., where Marvin was the park ranger in charge of the outdoor centers in the Waterloo Recreation Area. Marvin was promoted to assistant manager at Wilson State Park in May of 1985.

Rule Changes Discussed by Fair Board

The Chelsea Fair Board held its Sept. meeting on the 18th. Present were Bill Stoffer, president, Jerry Herrick, vice-president, Lloyd Grau, manager, Maryann Guenther, secretary, and Mark Staphis, treasurer. Directors present included Richard Bollinger, Tom Dault, Harold Gross, Earl Heller, Jerry Heydlauff, John Klink, Jeff Layher, Mark Lesser, Reuben Lesser, Jr., Bill Nixon and Don Koenigster. Six were absent.

After reports were read, discussed and accepted, and correspondence (thank-you notes) were read, the board discussed gate passes, a change in the by-laws, grey water disposal and changes in showmanship competitions.

Fair dates for 1987 were discussed.

The nominating committee was reminded that several places are to be renewed or new persons to be suggested for directorships.

The annual fair board meeting will be held on Thursday, Oct. 30. The by-law change will be presented and voted on at that time.

point. Ticknor said the defense was keyed by the play of linebackers Eric Frisinger, David White, Shannon Fredette and Julian Mason. Fredette led the quartet with 19 tackles and an interception. Frisinger also picked off a pass and had eight tackles. White recorded two tackles for losses.

Prentice, a defensive tackle, also had seven tackles. Overdorf finished the night with 111 yards on 26 carries, and Strong picked up 52. Quarterback Bryant Beard completed seven of 11 attempts for 73 yards, three to David Zerkel and Overdorf, and another to Fredette.

Ticknor said Fredette, at flanker, had a solid blocking game.

Conservation Tillage Is Answer

Conservation Tillage may not be pretty—but its one of the most attractive solutions to the problem of soil erosion on cropland.

Presently, the erosion rates in Washtenaw county on one out of three cropland acres are high enough to threaten long-term productivity. To help reduce this serious soil loss, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Soil Conservation Service is constantly seeking new ways to help farmers develop and apply affordable conservation practices. Of these, conservation tillage has developed into the fastest growing farming system in history.

Through conservation tillage, farmers can greatly reduce the number of times they need to work the land. They can reduce or even eliminate the practices of plowing, disking, harrowing, and cultivating to control weeds. In conservation tillage systems, both weeds and insects can be controlled by herbicides and insecticides.

As a result, the new crop is planted directly into the residue of the previous crop. That residue, unsightly as it may be, protects the soil from wind and water erosion.

Chisel plowing and no-till are two conservation systems used in Washtenaw county. They share a common aim: to save soil, fuel, time and labor. Of the conservation tillage systems, no-till disturbs the land the least, leaving the most residue on the surface.

In 1972, fewer than 30 million acres of cropland were under conservation tillage in the United States. Today, 100 million acres, or about one-fourth of all cropland is under conservation tillage.

On Morley or Blount soils for example, fall moldboard plowing can result in average annual erosion of more than 10 tons of soil per acre (40 bushels of soil). By switching to no-till, the most effective conservation system, the farmer could reduce erosion to only 1/2 ton per acre (2 bushels of soil).

A "trashy-looking" field was, to many a sign of a poor farmer. But today, the residue-littered field is fast becoming the mark of an intelligent farm manager.

FAIR BOARD PRESIDENT BILL STOFER, center, who complained that he was so busy with the fair that his garden was terribly neglected, was presented with this king-sized squash during the fair party by Jerry Herrick, left, and Lloyd Gran. The squash, entered in the largest squash contest, was left behind after the fair. Before the party, word has it that the squash mysteriously appeared in Lloyd's garden.

BETTY ROBBINS, superintendent of the Agricultural Department at the Chelsea Community Fair, received a hand-made necklace of staples at the recent fair party. Robbins, who had to staple entry tags on hundreds of agricultural exhibits during the fair, often worried about the state of her equipment. With her is singer Tracey Lynne.

LEAH HERRICK was given her own, personal burlap bag to be used on the slide during next year's fair. Leah is known to go for such high jinks. The occasion was the annual fair party last Friday night.

DON KOENGETER, who was in his rookie year as director of the merchants' barn at the Chelsea Community Fair, received a t-shirt symbolic of his easy-going manner during the fair. The BBA stands for something unprintable in a family newspaper. Tracey Lynne joins in the fun during the annual fair party.

How did the armadillo cross the river? Well, armadillos can either walk, float or swim across water, reports Ranger Rick magazine. Armadillos can gulp down air and blow up their stomachs and intestines like inner tubes. Then, they float across a river, armor and all. They can also dog paddle, or hold their breath long enough to walk across the bottom of smaller rivers.

Ditka: An Autobiography by Mike Ditka. Here in his own words is the Mike Ditka story. Here is his creed, his philosophy and his forthright opinion of dozens of players and coaches and announcers. Irreverent. Profane. Hilarious. But always honest. Follow the fascinating spurts of growth and introspection that helped a fiery coach with a wild temper learn to control himself and get the most from players whose salaries and egos exceed his own.

Home Front by Patty Davis with Maureen Strange Foster. Patty Davis, the actress daughter of Ronald and Nancy Reagan, has written a surprising, moving, and candidly autobiographical novel about growing up in the public eye during the other Vietnam War—the war at home. The heroine of Home Front, Beth Canfield, is a typically American young woman who wants to love her parents, learn to love a man, and build a life for herself in peace and privacy—without political interference. But politics was her father's life. As she comes of age amid the tumult of the Vietnam era, Beth becomes not only an estranged daughter, but a political liability to her father's dream: the presidency.

Color for Your Winter Yard & Garden by Helen Van Pelt. From December through March, whether the ground is bare or covered with snow, you can enjoy your garden just by looking out the window. With advance planning, by the time you have finished the last autumn chores and have cleaned and put away the tools, the first buds of Christmas roses will be showing, with the flowers to follow on the shortest days of the year. This practical well-researched book is designed to increase every gardener's pleasure in all parts of the country except the South and Southwest. Lavishly illustrated, it includes planting lists with each chapter.

Idol Rock Hudson by Jerry Oppenheimer. Rock Hudson's life had all the elements of a Hollywood tearjerker, not unlike one of the many he starred in during the 1950s: there were the humble beginnings, the unhappy childhood, the yearnings for another life, the sudden rise to fame, the adoration of millions, and, ultimately, disintegration and tragedy. Veteran investigative reporters Jerry Oppenheimer and Jack Vitek set out to attack the confusion that followed the announcement of Rock Hudson's illness, peeling away the layers of Hollywood myth to reveal the person underneath. Idol, an unauthorized biography, is based on over 100 interviews with family members, childhood buddies, professional colleagues, doctors, lovers, and lifelong friends, who have no reason to protect decades of carefully cultivated myths—who want only to see the truth told.

The Great Alone by Janet Dailey. In The Great Alone Janet Dailey gives us an epic saga of Alaska, a canvas as vast, vivid, and unforgettable as the harsh and beautiful land it recreates. Her extraordinary combination of romance and adventure—spanning 200 years and seven generations in the rich and dangerous wilds of Alaska—truly captures the heart of America. The story of these intrepid men and women, and their dreams is as grand as the land from which they sprang.

The label "chicken" is usually pinned on non-aggressive people, but National Wildlife magazine reports that real chickens can be aggressive and even violent. A good example is the chicken's "pecking order." The strongest hens shower blows on the lesser ones, winning priority over feed, dusting areas and roosts.

Beach Open House Set For Tuesday, Sept. 30

Beach Middle School will hold its annual open house for parents, grandparents and adult friends of the school's children on Tuesday, Sept. 30 beginning at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Following a brief meeting in the cafeteria, parents will participate in a "capsulized" version of their child's schedule with short visits to each classroom.

Participants will also have a chance to meet new school personnel, including new secretaries Judy Irwin and Carolyn White, and new teachers Tami Gillingham and Barb Foley.

Gillingham and her husband are 1984 graduates of Central Michigan University and have been teaching in Imperial, Calif. since graduation. She is a sixth grade teacher.

Foley is a recent graduate of Eastern Michigan University.

She has a degree in special education with a minor in industrial education. She and her husband live in Ypsilanti with their young children Meghan and Kate.

At the completion of the school day there will be a social gathering in the cafeteria where service clubs, such as Music Boosters, Athletic Boosters and Aquatic Club Boosters will be available to explain their respective programs. There will also be a slide presentation on the annual sixth grade camp.

No Plans for Shopping Mall In Rural Sharon Township

A report that a retail shopping center was planned for Sharon township on the corner of M-52 and Pleasant Lake Rd. has been called "inaccurate" by township supervisor John Savage.

Washtenaw County Planning Commission recently balked at the township's proposal to rezone 10 acres of land to convenience commercial. The commission, however, only has the power to make recommendations.

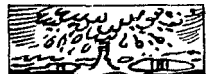

"The information that was supplied to the county commission had inaccuracies," Savage said. "There are no plans to put in a shopping center."

Savage said that Manchester businessman Rick Kleinschmidt wants to construct a storage rental facility on a small portion of the land.

"The township planning commission held two public hearings on the subject and the vast majority of people who attended were in favor of it," Savage said. "Mr. Kleinschmidt is a very reputable businessman and is an asset to the community."

The township board has approved the project, Savage said.

A sizable oak tree typically gives off 28,000 gallons of moisture in a season.

4-H Leaders Arts, Crafts Workshop Set

Washtenaw county adult and teen leaders are invited to attend a 4-H visual arts and crafts workshop, Oct. 3-4, at Kettunen Center, the state's leadership training facility in Tustin.

"The purpose of the workshop is to provide an opportunity for leaders to refine their skills and learn new arts and crafts techniques to teach to other 4-H leaders and members," says John Evert, Washtenaw county 4-H youth agent.

Visual arts sessions will include art and architecture, as well as basic elements of art. Participants in the workshop may choose to attend several sessions on such crafts as candle-wicking, clay sculpturing, glass etching, drawing, and matting and framing pictures.

A highlight of the workshop will be the annual craft auction, which will be held Oct. 3. Arts and craft pieces, supplies and other craft related materials donated by participants, clubs, leaders and counties will be sold at the auction. Proceeds from the sale will be used to send the Michigan 4-H craft project winner to National 4-H.

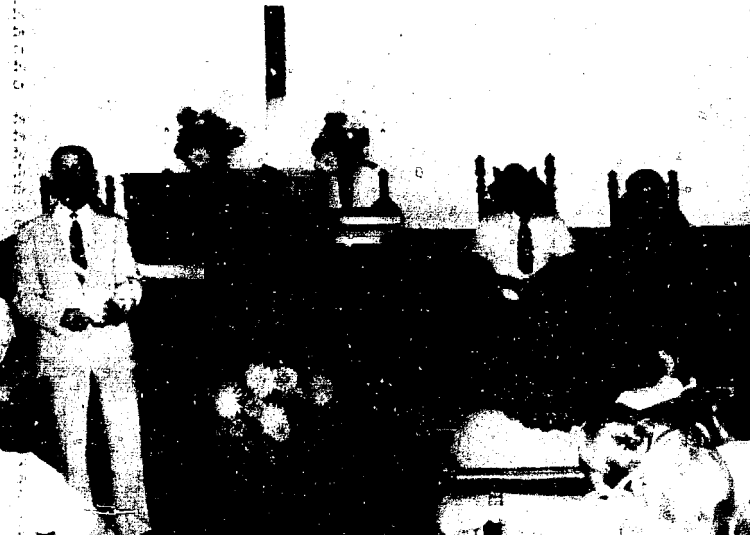

BEACH MIDDLE SCHOOL will host an open house for parents, grandparents and adult friends of the sixth, seventh and eighth grade students on Tuesday, Sept. 30 beginning at 7 p.m. The community will have a chance to meet new Beach secretaries Carolyn White and Judy Irwin (back row, left) and new teachers Barb Foley and Tami Gillingham (back row, right). Barb is a recent graduate of Eastern Michigan University and she has a bachelor's degree in special education with a minor in industrial education. She and her husband live in Ypsilanti with daughters Meghan and Kate. Tami is a Central Michigan University graduate who comes to Chelsea via Imperial, Calif. Tami, and her husband, Eric, have been teaching in California since they graduated from CMU in 1984. Students who have helped out with the welcome preparations are, front, from left, Amy Koenigter and Brandi Kenney, and in the back center, Jeremy Stephens and Colleen Scharphorn.

SINGING A DUET during North Lake Methodist church's 150th anniversary celebration last Sunday are Susan Schmunk, left, and Maryam Bramkamp. They were accompanied by Donna Palmer. The Rev. Sondra Willobee looks on. There was special music for both morning worship and the afternoon program.

THE REV. HERBERT BRUBAKER, left, minister of North Lake Methodist church from 1936-40, recalled earlier days in the church during a special program commemorating the church's 150th anniversary. Brubaker is retired and living at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home. Seated to his left are Administrative Council Leader Lee Collier, who was the master of ceremonies, and the church's current minister, the Rev. Sondra Willobee.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARINGON PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO CHELSEA VILLAGE ZONING ORDINANCE

Notice is hereby given that the Chelsea Planning Commission will conduct a public hearing, as the statute in such case provides, for the amendment of the Chelsea Village Zoning Ordinance (Ordinance No. 79). The requested change would revise the zoning map from RS-3 to C-5 in the area hereinafter described.

Commencing at the Southeast Corner of Block 1, James Congdon's 2nd Addition to Chelsea Village, Washtenaw County, Michigan as recorded in Liber 60 of Deeds, Page 289, Washtenaw County Records; thence North 01°-00'-00" West 99.00 feet along the East Line of said Block 1 to the POINT OF BEGINNING; thence North 89°-00'-00" East 277.20 feet to a point on the West Line of South Main Street (M-52); thence North 02°-00'-00" West 99.00 feet along said West Line; thence South 89°-00'-00" West 273.90 feet to a point on the East Line of Block 1, James Congdon's 2nd Addition; thence South 01°-00'-00" East 99.00 feet along the East Line of said Block 1 to the Point of Beginning, said parcel being a part of the Southeast ¼ of Section 12, Town 2 South, Range 3 East, Village of Chelsea, Washtenaw County, Michigan and containing 0.63 acres of land, more or less. Being subject to easements and restrictions of record, if any. This property is located immediately South of the Palmer Ford Display Lot on the West side of Main Street. Tax Code No. 06-12-400-013. Property commonly known as 312 South Main Street.

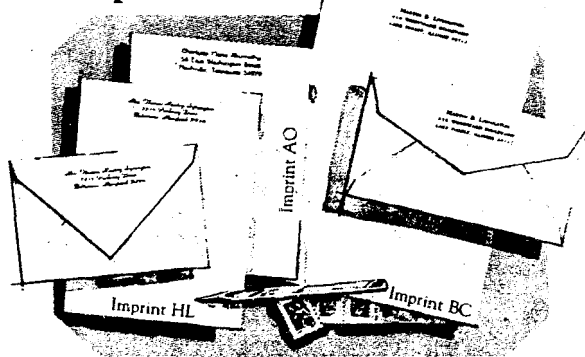

The aforesaid hearing will be held in the Council Room in the Chelsea Municipal Building on Tuesday, October 14, 1986 at 7:30 o'clock P.M. The petition, as filed by Donna and George Palmer on this proposed amendment, is on file in the office of the Village Manager, and may be examined prior to the date of the hearing.

Farm Equipment on Road Can Be Hazardous

If the most current statistics are an indication, 11 people will be killed and 183 more will be injured in 374 accidents involving farm equipment on public roadways this year.

"There are a myriad of reasons why these collisions occur, but it boils down to two factors," says Howard J. Doss, Michigan State University Co-operative Extension Service agricultural safety specialist. "Either the motorist did not see the equipment or misjudged its speed on the roadway and/or the farm equipment was not sufficiently equipped with warning devices."

He says the potential for most motor vehicle collisions with farm equipment can be reduced for less than $5.

"State law requires that, at minimum, all farm equipment on public roadways be equipped with a slow moving vehicle (SMV) sign, and that the SMV sign be placed at the end and near the center of the farm equipment being pulled or on the rear of the tractor, if it is not towing equipment," Doss says.

The law also states that when the SMV sign is placed on farm equipment, it must be not less than 2 feet but not more than 6 feet above the roadway.

Doss says the SMV sign should be replaced about every three years or when its center turns yellow. A new SMV sign has a bright, fluorescent orange center.

Ideally, the tractor will have bright, flashing, amber lights in use when it is on the roadway. An added safety measure would be to mount a clear, flashing strobe light on the top of the tractor.

"Some farmers resist these kinds of safety measures but have a different attitude after a motorist has run into the back of their equipment," Doss says.

Between 25 and 30 percent of the fatalities that result from collisions with farm equipment occur because farm equipment did not have proper lighting when it was on the roadway after dusk.

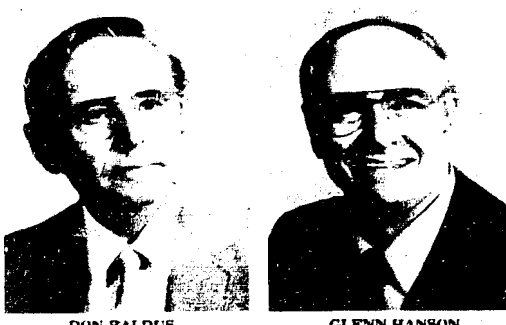

Generally, however, most collisions occur when the motorist runs into the farm equipment during daylight hours when driving conditions are dry.

"This is primarily the result of the motorist's not realizing that the farm equipment is moving at a speed that is probably less than half that of the motor vehicle being driven," Doss says.

For instance, if a motorist is traveling at 55 mph and does not see farm equipment 400 feet ahead that is moving at 15 mph, the motorist has less than seven seconds to slow to 15 mph.

"When these kinds of collisions occur, the most frequent excuse by motorists is that they did not see the equipment," Doss says.

"All the more reason for farmers to make sure their farm equipment has good warning lights and SMV signs and for motorists to realize that spring through fall is the time that farm equipment is most likely to be on the roadway."

Land Bank Assoc. Elects New Officers

Farm Credit Services of Southeastern Michigan held their organizational meeting, July 24.

Federal Land Bank Association officers elected from the board are Glenn Hanson, chairman, a cash crop farmer from Howell, and Don Baldus, vice-chairman, dairy and cash crop farmer from Dexter. Other board members are Ralph Baker, dairy farmer from Jonesville; Roland Norton, hog and beef farmer from Bronson; Dean Keller, cash crop farmer from Blissfield; and Gerald Sunbrook, dairy farmer from Jackson.

The PCA board selected Harold Benn, dairy farmer from Parma, as chairman of the board; and L. Robert Bush, cash crop farmer from Macon as vice-chairman of the board. Other board members are Robert Kleindienst, cash crop farmer from Dundee and Gary Weidmayer, dairy and beef farmer from Manchester.

Hanson and Baldus were also named as chairman and vice-chairman of the Farm Credit Services board which acts jointly, consisting of the FLBA and the PCA board of directors. James F. Schiller was re-elected as chief executive officer and holds the corporate title of president, secretary and treasurer, for both the FLBA and PCA.

Farm Credit Services of Southeastern Michigan is a locally owned co-operative lending institution, part of the Farm Credit Systems, which provides short, intermediate and long term credit and financially related services to farmers in Southeastern Michigan.

MSU Extension Computers List Current Hay Sellers

Farmers who wish to buy or sell hay can find an up-to-date listing of available hay supplies by contacting the Michigan State University Co-operative Extension Service office in their county.

Because of the potential hay market that exists in the Southeast and around Michigan, Extension has reinstituted its computerized program called Haymarket.

"It has a current list of hay sellers, their telephone numbers, the type of hay they have to sell and when the cutting was made," says Oran Hesterman, MSU Extension agronomist.

Hay buyers in the Southeast have daily access to the Haymarket program. Farmers who wish to list hay to be sold or want to buy hay should contact their county Extension office. Hay to be sold will be listed for 30 days unless it sells before then. Sellers must contact the county Extension office if they wish to renew the listing. There is no charge for the service.

Details of the Haymarket program may be obtained by contacting the county Extension office or by telephoning (517) 355-0117 at MSU.

KEVIN THOMPSON, a Stockbridge Boy Scout, was given an honorary membership to the Waterloo Area Historical Society for his part in constructing a stone fence at the Waterloo Farm Museum. Presenting the certificate is Roland Stoffer, a member of the society, as another member, Martin Hannewald, looks on.

Eagle Scout Candidate Builds Stone Fence for Farm Museum

Kevin Thompson in choosing to build a 160 ft. stone fence for Waterloo Area Farm Museum as his special project toward qualifying for the Boy Scout Eagle award, has created "a thing of beauty," "a joy forever," as well. Kevin spent many hours of hard work gathering and hauling stones from the Farm Museum area, and from his grandfather's property on Dexter Trail. He then organized a work force of 15 Boy Scouts to help set up the stones and rocks.

Besides personal satisfaction in building the fence, Kevin credits the Stockbridge Boy Scouts, "for the really good job they did in helping."

Kevin has also invested considerable time in earning 21 of the 25 merit badges included in Eagle Scout requirements. The Scout expects that by January 1987 he will have earned the remaining two badges, which will qualify him for the Boy Scouts of America highest award.

Gerald Thompson, Kevin's father, and scoutmaster was present at the Farm Museum in Sept. 13, when Martin Hannewald, board of directors member of Waterloo Area Historical Society presented Kevin with an honorary membership in the society.

Hannewald, as spokesperson for the society, expressed the group's pleasure in the stone fence and its enhancement of the Museum grounds. Hannewald also stressed the importance of young people's interest in the Museum. "The future of the Farm Museum will someday be in the hands of today's youth," he concluded.

Pioneer Day, Oct. 12, will provide an excellent opportunity for visitors to view the new stone fence. The hours are 1 to 5 p.m. Simultaneously, Dewey School Museum will also hold Pioneer Day activities.

The Farm Museum is located at 9998 Waterloo-Munith Rd.

Dewey School is located at Mayer and Territorial Rds. Both Museums are under the direction of Waterloo Historical Society.

Gregory Area Youth Completes Navy Small Arms Repair Course

Marine Lance Cpl. Antol C. Schweitzer, son of Maryann J. Pruitt of 1335 Noah Rd., Gregory, has completed the Small Arms Repair Course.

During the six-week course, at the U.S. Army Ordnance Center, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., Schweitzer received instruction on the operation, inspection, maintenance, and repair of rifles, pistols, shotguns, submachine guns, grenade launchers, mortars, and other automatic weapons. He also studied the preparation of weapons for shipment and storage, and related safety precautions.

A 1982 graduate of Roosevelt High school, Wyandotte, he joined the Marine Corps in November 1985.

Poisons spilling into wetlands from farms and other surrounding areas have contaminated the water at more than a fourth of the 428 National Wildlife Refuges reports National Wildlife magazine. These toxic substances have poisoned thousands of birds in California alone.

Among current plans being made are arrangements for a series of Sesquicentennial Balls that will be held in Marquette, Traverse City, Flint, Lansing, Grand Rapids, and Detroit. They will serve as a fund-raiser for the Michigan Heritage center being constructed in Lansing. This $40 million birthday gift to the people will house a museum, archives, and library.

Following the meeting at the Farm Museum, the Sesqui commission toured the Museum guided by members of Waterloo Area Historical Society. The Society also invited their guests to return and share in the celebration of the Museum's 24th annual Pioneer Day, Oct. 12.

Visitors will be welcome at both the Farm Museum, and Dewey School Museum from 1 to 5 p.m. on Pioneer Day. The Farm Museum is located at 9998 Waterloo-Munith Rd., Dewey school is located at Mayer and Territorial Rds.

Farm Museum Hosts State Sesqui Comm.

On Sept. 18 members of Michigan's Sesquicentennial commission met at Waterloo area Farm Museum in a meeting arranged by Dwayne Baldwin of Stockbridge, a representative of the commission's agricultural sub-committee. The 32-member commission has been formulating plans to mark Michigan's 150 years of statehood since July, 1985.

"Although state leaders such as Governor Blanchard, Senate Majority Leader John Engler, and House Speaker Gary Owen are involved, the real impact of the celebration will take place in small towns and big cities where people are working on projects and events touching everything we do—arts and sciences, history, travel, architecture, business, education, and the environment," commented chairperson Charles Mulholland of Coral. "The celebration is really a state-wide outpouring of good times and feelings about ourselves and about our state," he concluded. Mulholland was assisted at the meeting by Jerry L. Dunn, Deputy Director, Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Official launching of the 18-month Sesqui celebration took place on June 14 in Lansing in a "Michigan Family Sampler" event which featured a parade, folklife artists, children's festival, musical entertainment, agricultural exhibits, and lots of good Michigan food.

Among current plans being made are arrangements for a series of Sesquicentennial Balls that will be held in Marquette, Traverse City, Flint, Lansing, Grand Rapids, and Detroit. National Beef Cook-Off Held in Dearborn Hotel

Several area residents attended the National Beef Cook-Off held Sept. 13-17 at the Hyatt Regency in Dearborn, among them Kathleen Chapman.

Although Kathleen, better known as "Katie" to her friends, was not a contestant, she was very close to the action. She was a contestant helper. Her duties consisted of introducing the contestant, Jennifer Lowe of Dayton, Nev., at the Welcome Dinner on Sunday evening and accompanying her on the "shopping for groceries" trip to Farmer Jack on Monday morning.

There was one contestant, including four men, from every state in the United States, except Alaska and Hawaii.

The shopping trip to Farmer Jack was an experience—10 minutes into the shopping all the lights in the store went out and the remainder of the selection of groceries and meats had to be done by flashlight. Farmer Jack furnished all the ingredients to the contestants free of charge.

The Cook-Off contestants started cooking at 7 a.m. on Tuesday with the last contestant finishing at 4 p.m.

The seven judges from across the United States were food editors from the San Diego Tribune, Daily Oklahoman, The Chicago Tribune, New Haven Register, Parents magazine, Good Housekeeping, and a freelance food writer. Their task was a difficult one, since all the food dishes looked and smelled excellent.

The first place winner was Betty Phillips from New Jersey for her Hot Hunan Hoagies. Her prize was $5,000. Second-place winner was Heidi Smith of Vermont, for her Beef Ragout Country Style and a $2,500 prize. Third place went to Flora Wulf of South Dakota for her Beef and Apple Salad and a $1,000 prize. There were five honorable mentions with a $500 cash prize.

The winners were announced at the Awards Banquet on Tuesday evening.

The Rev. and Mrs. Erwin Koch were present. The Rev. Koch gave the invocation. Robert "Fat Bob" Taylor was emcee. Nancy Burgett of Grass Lake, president of the Michigan Cattlewomen, and Donna June Crumbaugh of Ashley were co-chairman of the event.

A special letter from President Reagan arrived Monday noon while the contestants and their contestant helpers were at lunch. The letter was read to the group by Nancy Burgett, president of the Michigan Cattlewomen.

Kathleen says although her contestant didn't win, it was a nice experience to assist her and to learn how such contests are conducted. Kathleen learned that eligibility of contestants is restricted to 18 years old or older with non-professional food status. Anyone who has owned one or more head of beef or dairy cattle (or who lives in a household where any person has owned cattle) is ineligible.

FIRST PRIZE WINNER

Betty Phillips, New Jersey

HOT HUNAN HOAGIES

2 pounds beef top round steak cut 1 inch thick
3 cloves garlic, minced
1/2 cup each dry sherry and dark soy sauce
1/4 cup vegetable oil
1 tablespoon grated ginger
Relish
8 hoagie rolls

Place beef round steak in plastic bag or utility dish. Combine garlic, sherry, soy sauce, oil and ginger; pour over steak. Cover dish and marinate in refrigerator 4 to 8 hours, turning at least once. Meanwhile prepare relish. Remove steak from marinade and place on rack in broiler pan so surface of meat is 4 inches from heat; reserve marinade. Broil 16 to 20 minutes, turning once and basting with reserved marinade. Let stand 5 minutes. Meanwhile split hoagie rolls and toast under broiler. Carve steak diagonally across the grain into thin slices. Place beef in hoagie rolls: top with Relish and serve, 8 servings.

*Dark soy sauce is available in Oriental markets.
*Relish
2 teaspoons vegetable oil
1 teaspoon each sesame oil and white wine vinegar
1/2 teaspoon dark soy sauce
1/4 teaspoon hot pepper sauce
1/3 teaspoon hot pepper sauce
1/4 cup each sliced green onions, chopped mushrooms, chopped green pepper and chopped red pepper
Combine vegetable oil, sesame oil, vinegar, soy sauce, sugar and hot pepper sauce. Add green onions, mushrooms and peppers. Let stand 30 minutes. Yield: About 1 1/4 cups.

American Flag Stolen From Palmer Ford Car Lot

The huge American flag that greeted drivers to Chelsea from the south end of town was stolen last Friday night, Chelsea police confirmed.

Chelsea Police Chief Lenard McDougall refused to provide further details about the incident except to say, "It was foggy as heck that night."

The flag was on a pole in a used car lot owned by Palmer Ford of Chelsea.

The theft was the latest in a series of local thefts of American flags, which has been a major concern of the local VFW Auxiliary, who donated many of the flags.

The Palmer flag, however, was not given by the VFW.

Alumni Band Preparing for Homecoming

Chelsea Band Alumni group is looking for persons who want to play their band instrument one more time on the football field.

Yes, it's that time of year again when the alumni from past Chelsea bands dig their instruments out of the closet and accompany the high school marching band.

This joyous event will take place on the night of Friday, Oct. 17, which is also the night of Homecoming.

All ages are welcome to participate. We need a definite count by Monday, Oct. 13, so give Angie Brand a call at 475-1597 and ask for Angie. If no answer, leave your name and number.

Help Sought for Flood Victims

Elton R. Smith, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, has called for prompt assistance from both state and federal governments for farmers who suffered damages in the recent heavy rainfall. Smith issued his plea to President Reagan, Governor Blanchard, U.S. Senators Riegle and Levin, and U.S. Representatives Schuette and Traxler.

"The flooding, erosion, damage to crops awaiting harvest and destruction of the rural road and bridge network have dealt severe economic losses to many farmers," Smith said.

"With most commodity prices at low levels and large crops predicted for harvest nationwide, many of the farmers affected by the heavy rainfall are in need of disaster assistance," he said.

Pratt, Noble Nominated To All-American Band

Two Chelsea High school seniors have been nominated to the prestigious 1986 McDonald's All-American High School Band.

Cheree Noble and Denise Pratt play in the marching band, the symphony band and the symphony orchestra. Noble plays the trumpet, and Pratt plays the clarinet.

The nominations will make Noble and Pratt eligible to be selected to the McDonald's band, which this year will play in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, a concert at Chicago's Orchestra Hall, in the Chicago Christmas Parade, and in the Fiesta Bowl Parade and the Tournament of Roses Parade.

Nearly 5,000 high school students from across the country were nominated by their band directors, but only 104 will be selected. Noble and Pratt, nominated by Bill Gourley, were selected based on their musical honors and competitive contest ratings.

Two students from each state and the District of Columbia, plus one each from the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico, will be selected.

Selection to the band also enables a student to be eligible for music scholarships awarded by the New England Conservatory of Music, in Boston, Rice University, in Houston, the National Music Camp, in In-terlochen, and Shenandoah College and Conservatory of Music, in Winchester, Va.

All travel, lodging and meal expenses for the band and staff are paid by McDonald's Corp.

Noble is the daughter of Margaret Noble, 19545 M-52, and Pratt is the daughter of Gail Pratt, 129 Claredale Ct.
