'Host' Law Aimed at Teen Drinking, Driving Will Probably Be Approved

Chelsea Village Council is expected to approve an ordinance Feb. 3 that would regulate the furnishing of alcohol and drugs to minors, aimed primarily at stopping teen-age drunk

Chelsea Police Chief Lenard McDougall presented the proposed ordinance to the village council at their Jan. 20 meeting. There was no opposition from any village trustee, and Village President Jerry Satterthwaite directed the village administration to put the proposed ordinance in a votable form for the next village council meeting.

The proposed ordinance, according to McDougail, is identical to one the City of Saline passed early last year after several teens were killed in alcohol-related automobile accidents.

"(The furnishing of alcohol to minors) isn't a widespread problem in Chelsea, but it is a problem," McDougall said.

"The problem is (with current laws) we can't do much about it."

Under the ordinance, a person who has "the ownership, possession, or control," of any dwelling in the village would be held responsible for any teen-age drinking on the property, whether or not that person supplied the alcohol. The person has to be able to show that he or she made a reasonable attempt to find out if a person drinking on the property was a minor.

The ordinance also requires parents to take steps to insure that their children don't raid the family bar or drug cache. That, according to McDougall, means parents have to be extra careful about leaving their children at home on a week-end by themselves, the time most teen-age drinking parties take place.

"This also might help with graduation parties," McDougall said.

"If it deterred just a couple of them, it would be worth it."

Violation of the ordinance would be a misdemeanor, with a maximum fine of $300 and 30 days in jail for the first offense and $500 and 90 days in jail for subsequent offenses.

According to Saline Police Chief James Douglas, the ordinance can be used as the basis for a search war-

"The ordinance was designed to heighten awareness of the problem,"

Douglas said.

"We wanted to make the statement, 'look, you have a certain responsibility under the law and you can't abdicate it.' It also gives us another tool to use. Our big problem was that there were large gatherings being held, usually when the parents weren't home. Under state law, in order to prosecute, you had to show the serving taking place. If there was a keg or some fifths of alcohol, the people would say, 'someone must have brought it.' This law makes the owner or the tenant responsible for all alcohol use."

Saline police also use another tool to deter large teen-age parties. Parents can sign a form letter addressed to the chief giving the police authorization to enter their home while they are away if parents suspect their children may host a party while they're gone.

"We also give the parents a copy of the letter and ask them to put it on their refrigerator," Douglas said.

"We want this to be a deterrent." McDougall said he also plans to use a similar letter.

Douglas said, that the Saline ordinance appears to be working. He said that shortly after the ordinance went into effect, there was a party in Saline with about 80 youths ages 13-17 and the owners of the residence were

'We walked in and the kids were obviously intoxicated," Douglas said.

"In fact, the kids who lived there were so intoxicated that they didn't even know who we were. All the kids were tested, and their parents were

"After that, word must have gotten around because we didn't have one large party last summer."

The number of large parties in Chelsea has declined in recent years, mainly due to the number of law suits being filed by parents whose children attended those parties and were later injured, McDougall said. However, he said teen-age drinking has not significantly declined.

The carnival takes place at 1700 Ridge Rd. at the post home on the west side of Cavanaugh Lake beginning Friday at 6 p.m. The Grand Finale will be a free concert by Dennis Ruby and the Persuaders, along with Wynn Kanten, on Sunday afternoon.

The event begins with a euchre tournament at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, directed by John Popovich. Entrance fee is $2 per player, with cash prizes for the most games won and most "loners." Players need not bring a partner.

Entries for the Fishing Derby will be accepted beginning at 7:30 a.m. on Saturday. First, second and third prizes will be awarded for perch, panfish and pike. The Youth Division will have first through third prizes for perch and panfish. Entrance fees are $2 for adults and 50 cents for children. Fish must come from Cavanaugh Lake. The contest is officially over at 5 p.m. on Sunday, with prizes award-

The post home will be open all day and into the evening for snowmobilers, cross country skiers and fishermen to relax and enjoy a bowl of bean soup or chili.

The Grand Finale will take place on Sunday from 2-5:30 p.m. on the upper deck of the home. The Legion urges parents to bring their children to this annual popular event.

On the inside of the "u" each fourunit complex would be four individual covered garages. Bridges said the condominiums would have two bedrooms, one and a half bathrooms, and approximately 1,050-square-feet of living space, as well as a full basement. He said they would cost between $65,000-$69,000.

Bridges said the land begins just west of the church and runs several hundred feet north, widening at the back. He said trees almost completely surround the land, which will create a natural visual barrier. The main entrance to the development will be off Old US-12, he said.

project, according to Assistant Village Manager Lee Fahrner. The RM-1 zoning allows a density of nine units per acre.

Once the new wastewater treatment plant is in place, there will be plenty of sewer capacity available, Fahrner said. However, there is some question as to how many of the 72-units could be handled by the current plant. The new treatment plant is scheduled to open sometime next year. Bridges said it will take two years to complete Bridgetown Apartments.

Bridges said he has hired Kowalewski & Associates, an Ann Arbor architectural firm, and Washtenaw Engineering, to provide the site plan. He said a builder has not yet been selected, although building

Court Traffic Reporting System Is Inadequate

Secretary of State Richard Austin has called for a unified electronic information network to replace the paper-based system used by courts and law enforcement agencies to report traffic-related offenses to the Michigan Department of State.

Austin made his remarks in Lansing, during the first meeting of a 27-member Task Force on Reporting Traffic-Related Offenses that will consider changes to improve how Michigan courts report drunk driving and other traffic offenses.

The task force, appointed by State Court Administrator V. Robert Payant, and chaired by 52nd Circuit Judge M. Richard Knoblock, was formed to consider findings of an Auditor General's report issued last year, that found some courts failing to report drunk driving and other trafficrelated convictions to the Department of State, which resulted in offenders not receiving mandatory license suspensions or penalty points.

Rep. William Van Regenmorter (R-Jenison) drafted legislation directing the auditor general to conduct the study on a state-wide basis, after a Grand Rapids Press reporter found that 70 percent of the drunken-driving related cases resolved by the Kent County Circuit Court in 1985 were not Court," Austin concluded. reported to the state.

The secretary of state noted that District Courts are submitting 98 percent of their traffic-related convictions to the state, but indentified a bigger reporting problem at the circuit and probate courts, where 80 and 30 percent, respectively, of the required convictions were not submitted. "There seems to be some confusion

Sheriff Cites Danger Risks Of Thin Ice

Sheriff Ronald J. Schebil is reminding Washtenaw county citizens of the unpredictable dangers they may encounter when venturing out onto frozen lakes and rivers.

It is not uncommon for waters in this area to be only partially or very thinly frozen due to the fact that many lakes are spring or river-fed. The thickness of the ice varies greatly and an area that may appear to be sufficiently frozen to support the weight of an individual can, in fact, be dangerously weak and hazardous.

With the unseasonably warm winter weather we have periodically been experiencing, it is advised that every necessary precaution be taken while attempting to travel across frozen lakes or rivers.

"Your well-being and safety is important to us. Please follow these simple suggestions to ensure a safe and happy winter season for you and your family," the sheriff concluded.

The Division of Coal Mine Workers' Compensation recovered more than $8 million during fiscal year 1985 as a result of debt collection activities from responsible mine operators, insurance carriers, beneficiaries, and medical providers, according to the Labor Department's Annual Report for Fiscal year 1985.

Melanie Lee Chosen In Kalamazoo Young Artists Competition

Melanie Lee, daughter of Richard and Elizabeth Lee of Hay Rake Hollow, has been selected along with 15 other outstanding musicians, to compete in the 22nd annual Young Artists' Competition sponsored by the Kalamazoo Bach Festival Society to encourage young musicians to explore and perform music of the Baroque period.

Melanie Lee, a Chelsea High school graduate now attending Kalamazoo College, will play the oboe in the competition which will take place Saturday, Jan. 31. Participants were selected on the basis of tapes they submitted for screening earlier this fall. Winners of Saturday's contest will perform at the Bach Festival's Young Artists' Concert at Kalamazoo College, March 14.

Jury Duty Possible In CAP Production

There's a call out for jury duty, but be an entertaining evening for the don't worry. It isn't mandatory and, although it is a murder trial, lives don't hang in the balance--it's strictly for your entertainment.

The call comes from the Chelsea Area Players who are presenting "Night of January 16th" by Ayn Rand on Feb. 20, 21, and 22 at Beach middle school.

All of the action takes place in a courtroom where two people are defending themselves against the charge of murdering one Bjorn Faulkner. One is on trial, his secretary, Karen Andre. The other, not on trial but mighty suspicious, is a wealthy philanthropist, John Graham

When the audience enters for the performance, audience members who wish to participate leave their names at the door. From that pool of names, 12 "jurors" will be selected, who will sit in a jury box on the stage and listen to the evidence. At the end of the play, the "jury" renders a verdict, with the cast having rehearsed separate endings for each verdict.

This is the first time that this type of participatory theater has been seen on a Chelsea stage, and it promises to 475-2577 evenings.

Chelsea community.

A courtroom drama was especially selected for this production because the Chelsea Area Players are teaming up with the Historic 14th District Court Restoration Commission to offer this production as a fund-raising effort where 50% of the net proceeds will go towards the Chelsea courthouse restoration.

The Feb. 20 and 21 performances will begin at 7:30 p.m. with a dessert social hour followed by an 8:30 p.m. curtain time. The performance on Sunday, Feb. 22, will be a matinee beginning at 2 p.m. There will be an afterglow with an hors d'oeuvre buffet and a cash bar at the Woodshed restaurant following the Feb. 20 and 21 performances. Net proceeds from the afterglow will also be donated by the Woodshed restaurant to the restoration effort.

Tickets will go on sale at the Woodshed restaurant Feb. 2. A limited number of tickets will be sold because arena style seating will be used.

Historical Calendar Offered By Sesqui Commission

An attractive, historical, entertaining, and free calendar was recently made available to libraries, educators, museums, and local Sesquicentennial agencies by the Michigan Sesquicentennial Commission and Consumers Power Co.

The calendar features an historical event for each day of the year. The events range from May 19 in 1778 when George Washington was notified of plans to attack Detroit to a more political event on Oct. 27 when Stevens T. Mason, Michigan's first Governor was born in 1811. Others include, sports: Oct. 7, Detroit Tigers win first world baseball championship-1935; nature: April 8, Robin picked as Michigan's official state bird-1931. Or it may concern most anything such as on June 12, Dearborn man throws playing card 185 feet for world record-1979.

Color photographs of historic items, transportation, and scenes introduce each month of the year. A color photograph of a rare 26-star American flag graces the month of July. The flag was used for eight years after Michigan became the 26th state to join the union.

The month of March is illustrated with a color photograph of a painting of Annie Clemenc leading miners during their historic copper mine strike of 1913 in Keweenaw county. Highlighting the month of May is a unique color photograph of Detroit's Hitsville USA which is considered a treasure in musical history. Saginaw's Stevie Wonder and a parade of other Motown stars recorded their music at Hitsville USA during the 1960's.

Limited numbers of the calendar are available at libraries, muséums, and local Sesquicentennial agencies throughout the state. i 1007 | 120 | 140 | 140 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 160 | 1

CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

Hark back and you'll recall a speech made by an opponent in the rural south against a candidate for re-election. Facing the audience, the speaker bellowed, "I'm gonna tell you straight out that this man Smith is a shameless extrovert. Not only that, but he practices nepotism right in his own office. Furthermore, his only sister was once a thespian in Greenwich Village, N.Y. I can also tellyou, and prove it, that Smith matriculated with the co-eds at university. And before his marriage he habitually practiced celibacy."

These obscure revelations had a deep effect on his audience—and the speaker never came within a mile of committing libel. Oddly enough, however, it is possible to libel a person by implication. One memorable example was when the mate of a ship made this entry in the log: "The captain was sober today,"."

An honorable reputation is a sacred possession and if it is soiled with a lie, the offender has not only broken the Ninth Commandment, he has broken the law of the land.

It can be done by the spoken word, which is slander, or it can appear in print, when it is called libel. Of the two, libel is the more serious. Call someone filthy, rotten bum in the heat of anger and a court of justice may forgive you. Take the time to spell out each word before having it published and there is evidence of malice. The victim of the libel may claim that it has exposed him to hatred, contempt, ridicule and abuse. It may also be proved that this person, since the libel may apply to an individual, a corporation, or a group such as the dirty, rotten burn in charge of a hospital or food packing plant or biological laboratory.

Libel law came into being with the invention of movable type. Suddenly mankind could be injured in print—stark black words which could be read over and over again, and scattered to the ends of the earth.

The people who are most likely to be injured by libel are public officials, political candidates and public personalities of stage and screen, sports and entertainment. Libel can also be committed by TV or radio. Just last month entertainer Wayne Newton won a libel judgment against NBC for a blockbusting $19.3 million. Then network was accused of linking Newton to criminals.

The people most likely to become defendants in libel suits are reporters, editorial writers, cartoonists, editors, publishers and broadcasters. Most offenses by newspapers and broadcasters are unintentional or accidental—all in the torrents of deadlines. From time to time editors will knowingly risk libel because the information to be released is considered to be in the public interest and hence defensible.

· As all writers know, a slip of just one letter in the alphabet can lead to a disaster. An instance was a news report that "George Soandso is not in jail," being changed to "George Soandso is now in jail."

The largest award for libel by a Washtenaw county jury came in the aftermath of a brawl at a 1976 wedding party in Chelsea. The central figure was Sheriff Frederick Postill and the affair occured at the fairgrounds during a Sunday morning reception for Sheriff's Traffic Lt. Leonard Dexter and his bride.

On the following day the Ann Arbor News published the story of the brawl under the byline of William B. Treml, veteran crime reporter. During the week other articles by Treml followed, reporting death threats by Postill against Deputy Basil Basinger and his wife. The news story for Thursday, the 15th summarized events as follows:

The head of the Michigan State Police was asked Wednesday to place a guard on a Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputy and his wife because of death threats alleged an ade by Shefiff Frederick J. Postill and Jeil Ad-Garl Parsells executive director of the Police Officers Association of Michigan, sent a telegram to Col. George Halverson, director of the state police, asking for the protection. Parsell said in his wire that Deputy Basil Baysinger and his wife, Shirley, are in danger because of a fight with Postill and Donley early last Sunday morning.

That Brawl, in which Postill received a 14-stitch mouth gash and a nose injury, occured at a wedding reception at the Chelsea fairgrounds for Sheriff's Traffic Lt. Leonard Dexter. The incident resulted in a State Police investigation which Prosecutor William F. Delhey said Wednesday will bring assault and battery charges against Postill and Donley. The prosecutor acknowledges as correct reports appearing in Wednesday's Ann Arbor News that the state police report indicated Postill and Donley were the agressors in the fight. Delhey characterized as "substantially correct" a report that one of the witnesses at the reception has said: "Postill and Donley were drunk when they arrived. They were swearing and threatening Baysinger. They kept at alone. They wanted him to fight." 'Witnesses have made it very clear that the sheriff and the jail administrator have publicly and privately, both at the incident and after the incident, stated they are going to kill Deputy Basil Baysinger and his wife. This should not be taken lightly, as the record is clear that the present jail administrator, Frank Donley, has a long criminal record including violent assault. The record is also clear that Sheriff Postill has been involved in several felonious assaults of private citizens reportedly involving pistol-

him. He tried to get away, to avoid trouble. But they wouldn't leave him whipping.' Other articles by Treml on the 16th and 17th told of demands by aggrieved sheriff's deputies to have the County Board of Commissioners conduct a hearing on the fairgrounds incident along with other serious allegations of misconduct by the sheriff.

Postill and Donley sued for libel in 1976 and the case dragged through the courts for four years. In May 1980 a circuit court jury, after six hours of deliberation, returned a verdict against the Booth Newspapers, William Treml, Basil Baysinger and Carl Parsell. The damages totalled $1,000,000. Postill was awarded $700,000 and Frank Donley $300,000.

Later that year a judge reduced the $1,000,000 to $300,000, still a crushing blow to the defendants. Then in the summer of 1983 a three judge Michigan Courc of Appeals panel reversed the $300,000 award concluding, among other things, that Treml had shown no malice in his reporting. The Michigan Supreme Court subsequently refused to hear an appeal by Postill.

Why that circuit court jury awarded $700,000 to an alleged drunk, belligerent sheriff I will never understand. The higher courts certainly must have found egregious flaws in the trial court's instructions to the jury. In his reports Bill Treml never once expressed any opinion as to Postill's character or guilt. All he did was to weld together accurate quotations from statements by state police, public officials and sheriff's deputies.

The legal ordeal lasted for seven years and at one point in the journalistic process City Editor Robert Romacher asked Treml if he would like to be taken off the Postill story. "If I can't give a fair shake to Postill I shouldn't be assigned to any story," Treml replied. just as Romacher expected. "It's a matter of integrity, and that goes whether you're dealing with your worst enemy or your best friend."

Courthouse Ownership

private concerns for the purpose of restoring the original architecture of the building, much of which has been covered over during the years.

The village has pledged to spend $7,000 for each of five years, and the townships have pledged $39,000 each, with Sylvan township promising $12,000, according to Flintoft. Flintoft is president of the Historic Chelsea District Courthouse fundraising group, which raised the non-county donations.

The county's share of the project is to convert the courthouse to a Western County Subcenter, providing a fullservice court, a Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department substation, and meeting rooms. Currently the substation is in the Chelsea School District's bus garage off Old US-12. All jury trials are held in Saline.

Village Trustee Phil Boham expressed concern that "we might end up in a bidding situation," with the townships for the building should the county decide to leave it.

Flintoft, admitting that he didn't know exactly how ownership would be decided if the county left, said, "in view of the fact that they're spending almost $400,000, I don't think they'll leave in your or my lifetime."

The resolution states that purchase price would be the cost of improvements less contributions by the village, townships and private concerns, depreciation and market changes.

Council voted 4-0 in favor of the resolution.

Spinner's Flock Fleece Fair Set at Botanical Gardens

Matthaei Botanical Gardens will be the setting for the Spinners' Flock Fleece Fair, an opportunity to examine and purchase the products of local spinners, sheep owners and fibercrafters.

This event, scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 22 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., will feature Michigan wool, mohair and angora in all their forms, as well as blends and exotic fibers.

In addition to fleeces, roving and batts for spinners, quilters and other fiberartists, there will be handspun yarns in natural and dyed colors, ready for weaving, knitting and other uses. These unique yarns are prized by weavers and other fiberartists for their special beauty and quality, and they are a work of art in their own right.

There also will be a special exhibit of items created by Spinners' Flock members from their hand-spun yarns. Spinners' Flock, with members who now number nearly 70, was organized in 1979. The guild draws its membership from Washtenaw, Lenawee and Livingston counties.

For further information about the Fleece Fair or about Spinners' Flock, call 313/475-2306, 313/769-1657, or 313/971-7614. Matthaei Botanical Gardens is

Michigan Statehood Saluted With Commemorative Stamp

The first commemorative stamp for 1987, honoring the 150th anniversary of Michigan Statehood, will be issued on Jan. 26 in Lansing, the state capital. The stamp will be available nation-wide the following day.

The principal Postal Service speaker at the first day of issue ceremony will be Associate Postmaster General Fletcher F. Acord. Michigan Governor James. J. Blanchard also will be a featured speaker at the event.

The stamp was designed by Robert Wilbert, a resident of Detroit. Wilbert is an artist and a professor at Wayne State University. His design, rendered in acrylic paint, features a White pine, the Michigan state tree. The tree is pictured in the foreground, silhouetted over a sunrise on Lake Wilbert explained that he featured those two components-the tree and the lake-to represent the importance of the timber industry and waterborne trade to the early development of the state.

The name "Michigan" is thought to be a simplification of an Indian expression meaning "monstrous lake." The state is composed of two peninsulas, a southern and a northern, separated by the Straits of Mackinac, which connect Lake Michigan and

Some 281 years later, Jacques Marquette founded a permanent settlement at that site. In 1701, Antoine de La Motne Cadillac founded Fort Pontchartrain at the narrows of the river connecting Lake Huron and Lake Erie by way of Lake St. Clair. The fort, known in French as La Ville d'Etroit (city of the strait"), later was anglicized to "Detroit." In 1763, the Treaty of Paris transferred from France to England all of Canada and the Great Lakes region. During the Revolutionary War, the British used posts in Michigan as bases in the frontier war against American colonial settlements in Ohio and western Pennsylvania. Although the war ended in 1783, the British did not relinquish control over the area north of the Ohio River until 1796.

The Ordinance of 1787 provided for the organization and government of the Northwest Territory, which included the current boundaries of Michigan. After a brief period as part of the Territory of Indiana, the Territory of Michigan was formed on July free state. Their concern was ameliorated by a compromise by which Arkansas, a slave state, also would be admitted. Conditional to its formation as a state, Michigan annexed the Upper Peninsula, then a part of the Wisconsin Territory, and conceded to Ohio a disputed section of territory near the city of Toledo.

At the time, there were many Michigan residents who believed that trading agriculturally important land to Ohio for unknown potential in the north was a poor bargain. However, the subsequent discovery of rich iron and copper ore deposits in the Upper Peninsula soon quieted any disagreement, and Michigan remained the leading producer of those ores until the end of the 19th century. During this period, lumbering was also a key industry in the state, which in 1837 was almost completely forested.

At the beginning of the 20th century, Michigan's economic focus underwent a dramatic transformation from agriculture, mining and lumbering to manufacturing. The transition was accelerated by the creation of a booming automobile industry in the southeast corner of the state. ## WISD Has New Superintendent Washtenaw Intermediate School District has a new superintendent, Dr. Michael O. Emlaw, replacing Nick A. Ianni, who retired after 21 years of service.

WISD serves all the school districts in the county, including Dexter and Chelsea, acting as an intermediary between the state and local systems. providing services that would not be economically feasible for school systems to do alone.

Specific services include instruction for severely or multiply handicapped students at High Point; special education programs taught through the local schools but with advice, funding, and monitoring by WISD; facilitating vocational education programs; consulting and in-service training in a variety of areas including a full-time consultant in math and science and one in gifted and talented children; and maintaining a regional educational media center to share classroom materials such as films and video tapes.

Emlaw was born in Detroit and grew up in Warren. He earned two masters degrees, one in history from Wayne State and one in educational administration from Michigan State University. He received his doctorate in educational leadership from Wayne State in 1976.

Emlaw taught English, history, and economics before beginning his career as an administrator. Prior to his present appointment, he had served as superintendent of the East Detroit schools and of the Ludington schools. He has also worked as a branch library director and as a director of personnel.

Emlaw started his job on Sept. 2. So far, he says he finds "Washtenaw county a marvelous place to work." He continues "I've found a dedicated group of school employees with a real desire to do the best job possible."

Asked what changes he would make, he replied, "Intially I'm making sure I stop and learn the good things that are going on. I'm sure there are things that could be improved, but I want to make sure I understand what is going on before presuming to make wholesale changes."

Sylvan To Use Village for Site Reviews

Village of Chelsea plans to enter a site plan review agreement with Sylvan township for village engineering and secretarial services.

Village council approved charges of $30 per hour for engineering reviews and $12 per hour for secretarial reviews.

The reviews, performed by Assistant Village Manager Lee Fahrner, would cover storm water drainage matters only, according to a letter from the village to Sylvan Township Supervisor Don Schoenberg. The village has already performed one review for the township, that regarding a parking lot expansion for Chelsea Lumber Co.

America's Population Is Growing Older

Next time someone tells you about our youth-oriented society, tell them that the fastest growing age group in America is aged 85 and over. That one in six Americans is now 60 years of age or older and that over one-fourth of the purchases made in the marketplace are made by those 55 and over.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,
It looks like Scio township is literal-

It looks like Scio tow ly playing with fire.

What type of fire department does Scio want or expect to run? Where are they going to get trained volunteers? Where are they going to get equipment and how much is it going to cost? Certainly, they can't run a whole department on less than what they are paying to Dexter Areawide. I don't think it can be done and that will mean that Scio's taxes will have to be increased.

The Dexter Areawide Fire Department is an excellent fire department and I for one, don't want to see our fire rating and excellent service go down the drain.

Scio is complaining about having a dispatcher on duty all of the time. If they are cut from the department, what kind of response time are we going to have? Isn't it also their duty to keep the trucks in running order and have them ready to go by the time the volunteers get there? Two or three minutes extra response time can make a big difference in the amount of damage a fire can do to a home or business.

As a Lima township resident, I know that our taxes will have to go up to make up for the loss of Scio's portion of the budget if they pull out. If that happens, so be it, but don't let Scio pressure us into doing away with our dispatchers.

Come on residents of Scio, Lima, Webster and Dexter townships and Dexter Village, let's back our current Fire Dept. and keep it like it is. To not do so, is to create higher taxes for all of us. It might even raise our home and busness fire insurance.

Annette Anderson 8870 Dexter-Chelsea Rd.

Dear Editor,

I hope you will print this in the paper.

I don't understand the people of the 20th century.

My husband who is a retired postal carrier and a Korean veteran was out picking up bottles and cans alongside the road with his bike to help a Vietnam veteran with a family. The bottles and cans helped him with gas. While my husband was picking up bottles his bike was stolen.

That was the only thing he had to ride. He is not driving at this time.

He used the bike to go get groceries and my medicine. We don't have the money now to replace his bike. My husband had to walk 6½ miles home in 22° weather. It is a good thing he is in good health.

To top it off, the next door neighbor took him into Polly's on her way to work so he could get some groceries before the storm hit. On his way back some women called the sheriff and said he was a suspicious looking character and he was picked up and asked some questions. Then they brought him home. Can't people walk the roads anymore? We pay taxes.

Furious wife,

J. Palmer 861 Lowery Rd., Chelsea

Manchester Has New School Supt.

Ronald E. Niedzwiecki is the new superintendent of Manchester's public schools. He joined the Manchester staff July 1, after serving four years as principal of Napoleon High school.

Niedzwiecki was born and grew up in Center Line. He graduated from John Carroll University in Cleveland in 1966. He received a masters degree in physical education and administration from Wayne State University and is now in a doctoral program at Michigan State University.

Niedzwiecki has taught in Madison Heights, Center Line, and Rochester, teaching physical education and social studies, and coaching football and wrestling. Before becoming principal of Napoleon High school, he served as that school's athletic director and assistant principal.

Niedzwiecki says as an administrator, he will miss the direct contact with students but will plan to spend time with them even if he has to schedule the visits.

He is pleased with the secondary curriculum which provides a variety of exploratory programs at the middle school; and basic, elective and college preparatory classes at the high school.

Dear Mister Editor: Small world ain't it?

Yesterday, Jan. 20, 1987 on sorting our mail delivery would you believe we received two copies of The Standard—Jan. 14th Issue. One copy delivered correctly and the second addressed to Homer Kuhl, formerly of the Chelsea area. Both copies correctly addressed as to Route No. and Street No., our copy Brevard, N. C. and Homer Kuhl's Hendersonville, N. C.

I cannot imagine who, or what electronic wizardry could have confused the name Kuhl with Juergens, or Briarcliff Dr. with Rt. 1, Bx. 272-A, or Zip Code 28739 with 28712. But somehow it was done. Hendersonville is approximately 18 miles north (£) of Brevard so we surmise being such close neighbors could get kinda confusing at times.

Like Margaret and Homer, we are anxious to learn what is happening at home and look forward to receiving The Standard each week, as well as hearing from friends and relatives. On the average it takes seven days for your publication to reach us, really not too bad considering the remote area in which we live.

As a favor to our over-worked postal employees I called Margaret and Homer last evening and read the lead articles to them and today will forward their copy. It will only take another three or four days for them to receive it.

We find, "A View from the Clock Tower" quite interesting although not always in agreement. A few weeks ago Will Connelly commented on the high cost of government and perhaps rightly so—but the thought foremost in my mind is, in view of the many blunders such as this and elsewhere, are we paying our politicians and government workers a sufficient salary so that only the most qualified are taking care of the important functions entrusted to them.

Best wishes to all:
A. L. (Tony) Juergens

BB Damages Glass Door

A BB gun was apparently used to damage a sliding glass door at a home in Lancwood on Tuesday, Jan. 20.

According to Chelsea police, a BB punctured the glass, but because safety glass was in the door, the door sustained extensive damage.

Police said the BB caused approximately $100 in damage to the door at 47 Chestnut St.

Since 1930, Englander's has offered its customers a rare combination of quality and affordability. While other stores have come and gone, Englander's has flourished. We show only the finest in home furnishings, and over the years have attracted customers who are demanding and discriminating, yet have an eye for value.

We invite you to visit our Ann Arbor showroom and discover for yourself what's new and exciting this season. Let our professional designers assist you in selecting the perfect room setting or individual accent piece to complement both your taste and your lifestyle.

Today as well as yesterday, it's Englander's for style, fine quality and service...just as you've come to expect.

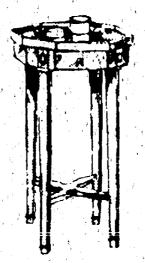

While efforts have been made to anticipate reasonable demands, we regret that we cannot assure you every item in this circular is in stock and available for immediate delivery. If an item is out of stock, we will special order it during the sale at the price shown. The fabrics appearing in this circular are not necessarily featured within our store. However, upholstery may be special ordered with your choice of fabric or as shown. Prices will vary depending on fabric grade selected. The term "regular," used with respect to price, refers to manufacturer's suggested retail price and is optional with retailers.

Village, Schools Adhere To New Smoking Law

Chelsea smokers these days.

Both the Chelsea village government and the Chelsea School District are in compliance with Public Act 198, the "Clean Indoor Air Act," the new Michigan law allowing smoking in public places only in designated areas.

Perhaps the most conspicuous absence of smoke is in the village council chambers during the twice-amonth meetings of the council.

Before the first of the year, when the law went into effect, anyone could smoke in the council chambers. Several village officials, including trustees Joe Merkel and Stephanie Kanten, Village President Jerry Satterthwaite, and Village Manager Fritz Weber, smoked during those meetings. Often people in the audience smoked as well. The ventilation system in the second-floor room left a lot to be desired.

The Jan. 6 meeting of the council was the first no-smoking meeting.

The council quarters, as well as nearly the entire village administration, is out-of-bounds for smokers. A small room adjoining the council room, and the lobby at the main entrance are the only two areas designated for smoking.

Weber, who could have designated his office a smoking area, has declined to do so.

Other village employees who work in the building admit the new law has forced them to change their nabits.

The other village facilities, including the public works garage and Life is just a little tougher on some the sewage treatment plant, also have designated areas.

Adjusting to the new law for school district employees shouldn't present too much of a problem because only about 10 district employees are smokers, according to Assistant Superintendent Fred Mills.

At Chelsea High school, employees can puff away only in the school board room. However, smoking during school board meetings is prohibited, as it has been for many years.

Chelsea high teachers used to be able to go to one of the teachers' lounges. That is no longer the case.

At Beach Middle school, a former storage room has been converted to a lounge for a designated smoking

"It's comfortable but it's not plush," said principal Darcy Stielstra.

Four members of the Beach staff are smokers.

At South Elementary school, teachers voted to make the regular teachers' lounge a smoking area.

"We debated it quite a bit and that's what the teachers voted to do at one of their meetings," said principal Bob Benedict. He said there are only two smokers on the staff.

The designated area at North Elementary school is the custodial supply room because the woman who cleans the building is the only person who smokes.

"I think it would take an awful flagrant violation before any action would be taken," Mills said.

Police Department '86 Report Shows Rise in Complaints, Runs

Chelsea Police Department logged 4,036 complaints in 1986, 207 more than in 1985, according to a year-end report submitted to the village council by Chief Lenard McDougall.

The report broke down arrests and violations by type and listed police department revenues.

The report said police made 4,409 radio runs in 1986, 1,348 more than in Felony arrests dropped from 32 in 1985 to 20 in 1986. Misdemeanor arrests accounted for 98 of the total 199 arrests made during 1986. Warrant arrests doubled, from 36 in 1985 to 72 in Traffic violations were up nearly 300, to 824.

Traffic stops were up more than 600, to 1,993.

Property checks, county runs, bar checks and funeral escorts all dropped over their 1985 levels.

Impounded vehicles increased from 19 to 48.

Bank escorts, accident reports, parking violations and case reports all rose slightly.

The two police cars were driven 86,427 miles in 1986, down from 89,034

The department also reported an increase of more than $4,000 in revenues over 1985.

Police collected $5,167 from parking violations, such as violation of the 2 a.m. to 5 a.m. ordinance, $11,282.18 from parking meters and meter violations, and $8,887.01 from district court fines and costs. District court fines and costs were up $3,107 over 1985, and parking violation revenues were up $979.

Grant for Bus Service Approved by State DOT

Experimental bus service between Chelsea and Ann Arbor will begin later this year under a three-year grant through the Michigan Department of Transportation.

Village Manager Fritz Weber informed the village council last Tuesday Jan. 20 that the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority had received written confirmation of the grant from the DOT. The grant, through the New Small Bus Services program, will over all costs of the service for the first two years, and 75 percent in the third year.

After the first three years, the local cost would be $15,000 to $30,000 depending on ridership, Bolton said. He said an acceptable number would be 15 passengers per service hour, or an average of 11 passengers each way. A round-trip would take approximately 90 minutes.

"This is truly a demo project," said AATA Executive Director Michael Boiton.

"We have never attempted this kind of service. We have to see if there is a market for it. We have to find the key times the bus would be used. We don't know if it would be used primarily for (commuting), or if there would be riders during the day."

Bolton said that AATA will be meeting with Chelsea Community Hospital, Chelsea United Methodist Home, Faith in Action and local government to determine scheduling and routing. The service would probably begin in the late spring or early

When the service was first proposed last year, there was talk that the route would run through Dexter.

"We talked with Dexter officials at the beginning and they didn't show any interest," Bolton said.

Bolton also nixed the idea that the route might be combined with one from Saline.

"Right now we're just intent on serving Chelsea," Bolton said.

Kiwanians Offer Seniors Assistance With Tax Returns

"We want to get the service started as quickly as we can."

Bolton said the 18-25 passenger bus would run down Jackson Rd. or

The number and placement of Chelsea bus stops has yet to be determined. Those issues will be determined by AATA based on information supplied by local organizations. The route, like all Ann Arbor bus routes, will be evaluated quarterly,

Bolton said. He did not say whether the service would be stopped before the grant runs out if there are not enough passengers. Bolton also agreed that low gasoline prices and automobile financing rates generally tend to reduce bus rider-"Someone who commutes to Ann Arbor is likely to take 10 or 15 minutes looking for a parking spot," Bolton

"Bus riders tend to read and relax and enjoy the trip more."

DDA's budget showed both revenue and expenses equaling $3,000. Revenue was from contributions and donations from private sources. Almost all expenses, $2,900, were for professional services.

Dogs Hold Off Indians For Fourth SEC Win

A blistering first quarter was enough to offset a lackluster third quarter as the Chelsea Bulldogs cruised to their fourth straight Southeastern Conference victory, 58-51, in Tecumseh last Friday night.

In a non-conference rematch with Fowlerville on Saturday, the Bulldogs blew a nine-point fourth quarter lead to drop a one-point decision to the Gladiators, 53-52, in Fowlerville.

In the Tecumseh game, Chelsea shot 80 percent from the field in the first quarter and Mark Bareis scored 10 of his team-leading 29 points as the Bulldogs pulled out to a 20-9 first quarter lead. They stretched the lead to 34-17 with less than 3:00 remaining in the half.

However, with the Bulldogs holding a 36-24 lead at half-time, the Gladiators' senior guard John Hartley began hitting his jumpers at the start of the third quarter, helping the Indians out-score the Bulldogs 12-2 in the first four minutes. That spurt cut the lead to 38-34. The only score during that stretch was a baseline jumper by guard Todd Starkey, his only shot of the night to that point.

"The third quarter has been a bad quarter for us all year," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter.

"We allowed them to get back in the game with seven turnovers in the first four minutes of the second half."

The Bulldogs made just five field goals in the entire second half, four of them in the third quarter. However, Chelsea hit 12-14 free throws in the final quarter, as Bareis went 8-8.

"The players decided on their own to sit on the ball in the fourth quarter, and fortunately, we made our free throws," Rosentreter said.

With about 3:00 remaining, Chelsea held a 49-44 lead as the Indians scored six straight. Greg Haist hit both ends of a one-and-one to stretch the lead to seven, and at the 1:43 mark, Bareis nailed a one-and-one, giving Chelsea a nine-point lead.

The Dcgs hit 19-49 shots from the field for the night for 38 percent. That's a better than average night for Chelsea yet not a good as Rosentreter would like.

Chelsea out-rebounded the Indians, despite the presence of 6' 8'' Tecumseh center Dan Forgacs, 24-18.

Bareis had a team-high 10. Starkey, again, played a strong game at the point with six assists.

"When it looked as though some of the others panicked, Todd was in control," Rosentreter said.

"For a while it seemed as though we would crack."

Other scorers for Chelsea included Haist, eight, Jeff Harvey, seven, Marty Poljan, five, Matt Steinhauer, four, and Jon Lane, three.

The strategy that worked Friday night failed on Saturday, as the Bulldogs could not convert their free throws down the stretch. The Dogs missed the front end of four one-andone opportunities in the final period and made just 6-12 in the quarter.

Bareis, with 24 points, led Chelsea. Harvey had 10, Steinhauer, eight, Haist, five, Starkey and Poljan, two each, and Lane, one.

Ski Trails Offered in Waterloo Area

Cross-country ski enthusiasts will find approximately seven miles of marked trails at the Waterloo Recreation Area. 'The trails are designed primarily for the beginning and intermediate skier; however, there are a couple difficult, steep slopes for the more advanced skiler.

Skiiers are encouraged to start at the Cedar Lake Outdoor Center warming lodge, located off Pierce Rd.

The lodge is manned on week-ends by Waterloo Natural History Association volunteers from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and offers refreshments, maps and other park related information.

Skilers may also start the trail at the park headquarters or Nature Center parking lots. The only fee is the cost of a 1987 Motor Vehicle Permit, $2 daily or $10 annual.

For the more advanced or adventuresome skiers, Waterloo offers 23 miles of hiking trail that, although not designed for skiing, may be used.

At every high school there seems to be a corps of boys and girls who make the school's sports programs go.

It's especially true in boys sports. So many boys grow up playing the classic triumvirate—football, basketball and baseball—that it's natural for them to contribute in more than one of those sports. Some guys, like Todd Starkey, for instance, have combined hard work along with their immense natural abilities, to make significant contributions in all three.

A school's athletic fortunes in any given year will usually depend on that corps of multi-sport athletes. Their talent AND their attitudes can make or break a year. And more often than not, the seniors are the deciding factor. They're the leaders. If they whine and moan and grouse and grumble or wonder what can go wrong next, the juniors and sophomores are not likely to make much difference.

I only bring this up because this varsity basketball season is beginning to look an awful lot like the 1986 varsity football season. Is it a coincidence? Probably Nobody expected much from the football team, yet they came away undefeated in the Southeastern Conference for the first school championship in several years. They had to move an all-star receiver to quarterback and had little depth. Probably no league coach would say Chelsea had the best over-all talent.

Nobody expected much from the basketball team, either. Rahn Rosentreter said at the beginning of the season that Chelsea "might be the worst team we see all year." They have no height. They don't shoot very welf. Yet here they are, in first place in the SEC in the loss column with Saline. A victory over Pinckney this Friday will make the Dogs co-champs of the first half of the season.

Although it's far too early to start talking about basketball championships, it's still comforting to know that the Dogs do have as good a shot at the conference crown as anyone. In fact, no one can take it from them if they win the rest of the way. I remember thinking the same thing last fall after the Milan football game.

The parallels between the football and basketball seasons don't stop there. Like the football team, the basketball team is winning due to an exceptionally strong defense. Like the football team, the basketball team doesn't always win the games it should. Both teams struggle(d) against less talented non-conference op-

And, by golly, quite a number of senior football players are on the basketball team as well. Let's see, there's Starkey, Marty Poljan, Matt Bohlender, and Matt Steinhauer. That's a third of the team.

Perhaps Chelsea is blessed with a senior class that has all those intangibles that make champions. They're willing to work hard, believe in themselves, and truly understand team play. They know their physical limitations yet believe they can compensate in other areas. Their leadership rubs off on the underclassmen.

It's probably no coincidence that defense has been the biggest factor in the fall and winter successes. Good defense can make up for other shortcomings. It also takes guts, hard work, team play, and the right attitude.

A Chelsea coach recently told me that often the football team will set the tone for the entire boys sports program. That certainly happened here last year. The football team had far better talent than this year's squad yet managed to fall apart. The same is true for the basketball team. The baseball team, despite a pretty successful season, also had problems in the clutch.

I'd put my money on this senior class. The basketball team may not win the title, but I bet they'll be in the race, simply because they are a senior dominated team. Shoot, they've already won twice as many league games as they did all last

It's a good thing, too, that away games aren't taken into account. I don't think anyone under 30 from Chelsea showed up at Tecumseh Friday night. And, as you all know, no one over 30 knows how to rock and roll.

I sure hope nobody slacks off this Friday night when Pinckney comes to town. The Rosenmeter was tuned up last week. As I mentioned before, it is an impartial observer. If the fans don't scream their silly heads off, even if Chelsea IS winning by 50 points, there's no chance for a seven or eight, let alone a 10. It's not the quality that counts, but the quantity.

Bullpup 8th Graders Whip Milan, Lincoln To Finish Season 10-2

The eighth grade Bullpup basketball team closed out a successful season last week with a come-frombehind win over Lincoln, 42-36, on Thursday, and a whitewash of Milan on Tuesday, 41-22.

The Pups finished with a 10-2 record, and can now start looking forward to high school basketball.

"It has been such a joy to coach this team." said Chelsea mentor Jim Tallman.

"They approach each game as a team, not as individuals. When a group of eighth graders can communicate that way it is a tremendous advantage. I really hate to see the season end."

In the Lincoln contest, the Pups fought back after trailing 29-24 at the end of the third quarter, and avenged one of their earlier season losses.

"We knew we had our work cut out for us and it was about the middle of the fourth quarter before we finally got untracked," Tallman said.

"It was a great comeback. The kids were patient and when they hit a rough spot they were willing to work through it."

Chelsea was down by as many as 10 points before staging the comeback. Jude Quilter scored eight of his team-leading 15 points in the fourth quarter. Other Pup scorers included Kerry Plank with 10, Tucker Steele and Vince Dunn with six each, Jeremy Stephens with four and Alex

The Milan game was "a little ragged," Tallman said.

Hammerschmidt with one.

"Everyone contributed to the win, but I was glad to see the game end." Chelsea jumped out 14-5 at the end of the first quarter and held a 19-9 lead at intermission.

The second string did its job in the second quarter, outscoring the Milan second team, 5-4.

"I have to give a lot of credit to Alex Hammerschmidt," Tallman said.

"He was a little demon on defense, and I was impressed with his spunk." The first string put the game away

Plank took the scoring honors with 16 points, followed by Steele with nine, Quilter, five, Hammerschmidt, four, Chris Haugen and Gerret Kern, three each, and Dunn, one.

Dog Spikers Remain Unbeaten in SEC Play

Dexter Dreadnaughts in three sets, 15-8, 11-15, and 15-5 in a match played Thursday, Jan. 22.

It was the first Chelsea win over Dexter in two years, giving the Dogs a 2-0 mark in the Southeastern Conference and a 4-1 record over-all.

"This was an important match because we had a two-week layoff between games due to the schedule and the weather," said Chelsea coach Karen Tobin.

"It is hard to come back after a layoff like that and I was happy to see how well we played. We are continuing to improve, especially on offense, as serving as been the most positive aspect of our game. We have been stressing it more in practice this

Trisha Mattoff was 19-19 in serving and scored 12 points, and Beth Paddock had a perfect serving day at 16-16, scoring nine points. As a team, Chelsea was 74-77 for 96 percent ac-

The rest of Chelsea's offense is also growing stronger, Tobin said, especially the hitting and passing.

"Now we are having one person with as many hits in a match as the whole team did last year," Tobin said. "Kathryn Morgan has really come along and has been our leading hitter. She was 19-22 with six kills. Heidi Hosner, who's returned from a back problem, has also increased our offense. She was 10-11 with three kills." Other hitters were Angie DeFant, Chelsea volleyball team topped the 11-14 with two kills, and Paddock, 7-9 with two kills.

Tobin also praised the play of setter Mary Lazarz who was successful on 34-38 attempts.

"The passing of Pam Brown and Trisha Mattoff was also an important key," Tobin said.

"Over-all, the players on the court are more aware of their teammates and are covering for each other."

JV Cagers Topple Tecumseh, Fowlerville

Chelsea junior varsity cagers extended their record to 6-4 last week with two convincing road wins over the Tecumseh Indians and Fowlerville Gladiators.

The Dogs knocked off the Indians, 43-35, on the strength of a pressure defense and clutch fourth quarter free throw shooting.

Chelsea guards Larry Nix and Junior Morseau had five and four steals, respectively, and together they forced numerous bad passes.

"We played in spurts again," said Chelsea coach Jeff Dils.

"But our kids seem to know what they have to do when the heat's on. We played excellent defense again." The Bulldogs didn't pull away until the fourth quarter, holding a 30-26 lead at the end of the third quarter.

Chelsea was 14-20 from the line for the night, making most of those shots in the fourth quarter. Tim Anderson and Morseau made 11-13 shots between them for the night.

Morseau's 16 points led the Bulldogs. Anderson had 13 and John Collins, 11. Other scorers included Larry Nix, with four, and Jeff Marshall, David White and Bryant Beard with two each.

Saturday's game at Fowlerville followed much the same pattern as the game was close for three quarters before the Bulldogs pulled away in the

The Bulldogs hit two quick field goals at the start of the fourth quarter to take a 10-point lead, forcing the Glads to foul.

Chelsea hit 9-15 free throws in the fourth quarter and 16-31 on the night while Fowlerville made just 8-31 from the line all night.

Fowlerville was down 12-3 in the first quarter before cutting the deficit to 22-16 at half-time.

"Again, we played in spurts," Dils

Chelsea Coaches Will Meet Lions in Exhibition Game

A team of fearless Chelsea athletic coaches are going to play two full halves against the Detroit Lions, live, here at the high school on the afternoon of Sunday, March 15.

What gives the Chelsea players a chance to live through the contest, and maybe win it, is that it will be basketball. A sell-out crowd is expected since the game will be played away from the cold March winds and will take place in the warm CHS gym. The game is to be played as a fund raiser for the Chelsea Athletic Boosters. Lions are in the process of selecting six team members right now who will then go into secret winter training. Since body contact is illicit in basketball, the visitors will probably choose a roster of backs and tight ends.

Nick the Greek is up against a problern in doping the odds. The Lions are admittedly professional athletes, young and fresh from a heavy fall as Beach Middle school to plug the schedule. On the other hand, the Bulldog coaches are by no means up for old age retirement. It is also true that several have records as three letter men in high school, college or both (even though it took three years in the same sport to do it).

There's going to be a poster contest at the North and South schools as well

Chances for Deep Farm Spending Cuts 'Remote'

The Office of Management and Budget has proposed cutting the cost of federal farm programs by $16 billion over a five-year period. Al Almy, director of public affairs for the Michigan Farm Bureau, says the proposal is cause for concern.

"Everyone has a desire to see farm program costs reduced. Farmers do need to continue to receive income, but hopefully they can get that from the market place rather than the government program," he said. "I think we should be very concerned, however, with this new proposal by the OMB because we've just started a new farm program this year that does have a graduated schedule of reductions in price supports and deficiency payments. That plan should be given a chance to work.

"I think the chances of Congress making these deeper cuts now being advocated by the administration are remote," Almy said.

Recent camping activity is higher among younger people, with 36% of the 12-to-24 age group having camped within the past 12 months.

State Skiers To Find Many Costly New Improvements

Skiers will find new condominiums and improved snowmaking capabilities highlighting improvements this winter at Michigan's downhill ski areas which have spent at least $20 million to upgrade facilities, reports AAA Michigan.

About 40 percent of the state's 49 downhill skiing facilities have made improvements since last winter, with at least eight lodges taking major steps to upgrade snowmaking.

Most of the condominium development will be found in northwest Lower Michigan. The Homestead Resort at Glen Arbor has built 53 slope-side condominiums as the centerpiece of its $8 million building

Thirty-six one- and two-bedroom suites have been added in a $5 million expansion at Boyne Highlands in Harbor Springs. Boyne Mountain at Boyne Falls spent $4 million to remodel 38 hotel suites and to boost snowmaking capacity 20 percent.

At Crystal Mt. near Thompsonville. six new condominiums have been added and meeting facilities have been expanded. A 30 percent increase in snowmaking is set for Otsego's Bittersweet, which also widened and lighted two ski hills.

Near Buchanan, Ski World (known as Royal Valley last season) has increased snowmaking capabilities 65 percent, built a new expert racing slope and added 1,200 sets of rental equipment. Near Gobles, Timber Ridge's lodge has been tripled and snowmaking has increased 10 percent. Charlevoix's Mt. McSauba has doubled its snowmaking capacity.

In Southeast Michigan, three new advanced intermediate slopes, a 20 percent jump in snowmaking and a new ticket office head $1.2 million in work at Milford's Alpine Valley. Mount Brighton has invested $500,000 to double its lodge to 50,000 square feet and add 800 sets of rental equipment.

Riverview Highlands has erected a new ski lift at its Gangplank slope which was widened as part of a $100,000 project. A 1,400-foot run with a 290-foot drop is new at Mount Holly.

Skiers who prefer northeast Lower Michigan will find that 52 hotel rooms should be complete by Dec. 1 at Sylvan Resort near Gaylord where a new expert slope has been added in a $500,000 expansion. The cross-country lodge at Hanson Hills near Grayling has been expanded and skiers will find redecoration at Snowsnake near Harrison.

The Upper Peninsula's Big Powderhorn, near Bessemer, has replaced a lift terminal and added a slope slide sun deck at the Alpen Inn. Improved grooming and 30 percent more snowmaking will be available at Iron Mountain's Pine Mountain.

Two snow guns and advanced and intermediate ski runs highlight $200,000 worth of upgrading at Marquette Mt. A new lift on the bunny run and expanded cross country trails will be available for skiers at Ski Brule and Ski Homestead near Iron River. A cross country ski trail has been added at Mt. Zion near Ironwood.

A list of lift prices and amenities at all of Michigan's downhill ski areas may be found in AAA's Michigan 1986-87 ski guide. Included this year is Mount Grampian near Oxford, which was closed but hopes to re-open this. season. Two ski areas listed on last year's guide, Mt. Mancelona near Mancelona and Tyrolean Ski Resort near Gaylord, have closed.

The guide shows that lift tickets for weekend skiing range from $3 to $20 daily, with the high $2 less than last

Milan Swimmers Dominate Bulldogs

Chelsea swim team swam the top rated Milan Big Reds last Tuesday here in Chelsea. Although the young Chelsea team put up a good fight, according to coach Mike Keeler, the veteran Big Red team was too strong to overcome. The highlight of the meet was the diving of junior Tyler Lewis who captured the only Chelsea first place with a score of 218.65 points.

"Tyler is our only returning individual scorer from last year's state meet," Keeler said.

"He is much improved this year and should do quite well at this year's state meet. Coach Pete Mulliner is doing an excellent job with our divers and I've seen quite a bit of improvement."

The results of the meet are as follows:

200 medley relay: 2. Chelsea A (Terry Draper, Matt Doan, Kevin Brock, Lewis), 1:52.95; 4. Chelsea B (Brett Paddock, David Oesterle, Wally Schmid, Nate Cooper) 2:02.05; 6. Chelsea C (Holden Harris, Jim Alford, Mike Hollo, Scott Sheffield), 2:13.72.

200 freestyle: 3. Chris Birtles, 2:06.02; 4. Charlie Hosner, 2:08.14; 5. Garth Girard, 2:11.84.

200 individual medley: 3. Brock, 2:20.82; 4. Darren Girard, 2:22.39; 5. Paddock, 2:28.94.

50 freestyle: 3. Lewis, :24.29; 4. Draper, 24.94; 5. Schmid, 25.97.

Diving: Lewis, 218.65. 100 butterfly: 2. Brock, 1:02:97; 4. Schmid, 1:08.50; 5. Oesterle, 1:11.91. 100 freestyle: 3. Doan, :53.09; 4

Diving starts at 10 a.m. and the swimming starts as 1 p.m. Admission is $2.

This meet will have a special touch as the swimmers will be grouped by class with a team trophy being given to the highest total in each class.

Cribbage Tourney Will Begin Feb. 2

The annual Cribbage Tournament sponsored by the Ann Arbor Recreation Department will begin Monday, Feb. 2 in the west cafeteria of Pioneer High school. Registration will begin at 6:30 p.m. with play starting at 7 p.m.

The tournament is open to all persons of high school age or older from Ann Arbor and nearby communities.

Contestants will play 10 games per night for three consecutive Mondays. The 16 players with the best won and lost records will then enter a playoff which will determine the tournament champion. Players are required to bring their own boards and cards each night of

Chelsea Area Historical Society 1987 Memberships

Dear Friends:

As a special offering during Michigan's 150th Statehood celebration, Chelsea Area Historical Society's 1987 members will receive an attractive rendition of the early history of Chelsea, told by residents living in 1906.

This illustrated publication will take you back to the beginnings of Chelsea, from 1834 through 1906. It describes the early residents of the village and their lives and occupations. Over the next few years, CAHS will offer additional written and illustrated history of Chelsea, and have available information on specific buildings, factories, churches, schools and artifacts. Whatever membership you choose, all are welcome to attend our interesting programs held the second Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the Crippen House. When the interior of the restored Chelsea Railroad Depot is available for use, our meetings will be held there, hopefully in 1988! Our goal is to learn, share and preserve Chelsea's history. Join us!

SCD Receives National Award for Newsletter

National and regional newsletter contest winners have been announced by the National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD) and the Farm and Industrial Equipment Institute (FIEI), co-sponsors of the annual contest designed to give recognition to outstanding newsletters published by the nation's nearly 3,000 soil and water conservation districts. Cash prizes totaling $2,400 will be awarded by Emmett Barker, president of FIEI, to the winners at the annual NACD convention in Reno, Nev.,

Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District (SCD) was named third place national winner in the contest. Judges noted the simple but attractive layout, with information content the strong point of the monthly Washtenaw SCD Newsletter.

According to Dennis Rice, district administrative assistant, "This is the 11th national or regional newsletter contest award the district has received in the last 14 years. Since 1973, awards received include, two national first place; two national second place; two national third place; two regional first place; two regional secof merit." Rice will attend the NACD newsletter preparation.

Conservation District of Riverside, Calif., was named first-place national winner for a quarterly newsletter that features a very modern display of district information. The judges, all professional writers and communicators, complimented the district's newsletter, "Resources," on its creative style and high quality photos while maintaining a readable forum for current conservation issues. "You were drawn to it immediately." they

The Papio Natural Resource District of Omaha, Neb., was a strong second-place national winner according to the judges, who praised the newsletter for its striking lead story photo which is incorporated into the masthead of each issue.

All of the national winners, including the seven regional first-place winners and seven regional runner-up winners, were praised for the strong content of the news and feature articles in their newsletters. The judges were looking for timely information that relates to the needs of cooperators and other interested readers in the community.

The newsletters represent a major ond place and one national certificate means of communication between the conservation districts and the farmer convention to accept the award and co-operators, landowners, municipal participate in a discussion forum on officials, and community opinion leaders who are interested in soil and The Riverside-Corona Resource water conservation district activities.
