Village Underground Gas Tanks Dug Up, Soil Contamination Found

Village consultants are trying to determine the extent of contamination at the village garage on North St. caused by leaking underground gasoline storage tanks.

The two 1,000-gallon and one 300-gallon tanks have been removed, but tests are still being conducted to determine how much dirt will have to be excavated and hauled away.

If the case proves to be extreme, the garage itself may have to be supported while dirt is removed from underneath it.

"We didn't know they were leaking when we dug them up, but our suspicions were confirmed," said village manager Robert Stalker.

Liability concerns prompted Stalker to recommend to village council that the tanks be removed. The tanks were within 500-600 feet of the village's well, he said.

Chelsea School District had a similar problem recently, at its bus garage although contamination was minimal and was cleaned up in an afternoon.

Stalker said in order to keep tanks in the ground, they now have to go through a certification process required by law.

"They never would have been certified," Stalker said.

Stalker said the leak is apparently fairly extensive. He said he could smell gasoline when he picked up a handful of dirt. He also said tests have shown that "we're not close to reaching background levels," or readings of nearby uncontaminated soil.

"We budgeted to take the tanks out of the ground, but we didn't anticipate this kind of problem," Stalker said.

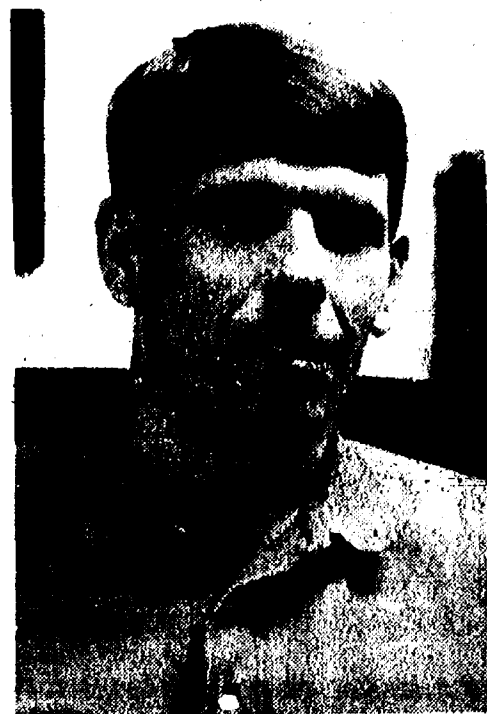

"What we have budgeted may well fall short of the actual costs."

The tanks have been in the ground for at least 20 years, Stalker said, as long as anyone working for the village can remember.

For now, village vehicles are being refueled at the private bulk plant on Hayes St. just around the corner from the garage. Stalker said that arrangement could go on for quite a while.

The fourth and fifth highest vote-getters, Mary Kay Weber (244) and Rod Powers (170) are also Chelsea natives.

Village Agrees To Terms With Hatch Stamping On Industrial Property

Village council agreed to terms with Hatch Stamping Co. for the purchase of six lots in the industrial park, paving the way for the company to move its entire operation to the park.

As of press time, the purchase agreement was subject to approval by the village attorney.

Hatch Stamping will purchase the property, totaling 10.9 acres, for their offer price of $136,250, or $12,500 per acre, $10,000 per acre less than the village's listing price. The six lots are located in the center of the park behind the facility owned by BookCrafters, Inc.

The company eventually wants to build a 200,000-square-foot plant. They'll start initially with a 100,000-square-foot building, and probably add another 100,000 square feet in 3-5 years, said general manager Ed Horadecki.

The village, however, will apparently not have to construct a bridge and road across Letts Creek from the company's current facility to the industrial park as was stipulated in the original offer. The company plans to obtain enough financing to go ahead with the entire project, rather than building it in several stages. The road would have allowed easy access between the old building and new site.

The village had planned to apply for a state grant to build the road.

Company president and owner Ron Hatch said in the long run it will be more economical to build the project all at once.

Another major question in the original offer has also apparently been settled.

Village manager Robert Stalker and zoning inspector Rosemary Harok agree that the industrial park property's light industrial zoning is not appropriate for a stamping company. However, Stalker proposed that a special use permit be issued rather than re-zoning the parcel, which would allow the village to keep more control of the property. Re-zoning the property is also a much longer process.

The matter may be referred to the village planning commission, Stalker said, or village council may simply go ahead with the permit as Hatch is on a tight time deadline for obtaining Industrial Revenue Bond financing through the state.

Should the revenue bonding fail through, the company will use conventional financing, Horadecki said.

"We'd like to start building something this fall," Horadecki said.

"One way or another we're going to go ahead with the project."

The village also agreed to a 50 percent tax abatement for 12 years, the maximum allowable by law. Comments by Hatch, as well as Washtenaw Development Council Director Gretchen Waters, indicated that a full tax abatement is the typical offer of most municipalities.

Horadecki said the company was all set to go to Jackson had council balked at the agreement.

"We have to do something, we're out of space," Horadecki said.

"We can't wait any longer. I have to say, we were real pleased with the support we got from the village, and it was especially nice to see the support we got from the floor," Horadecki said, referring to public comments about the project at last Tuesday's council meeting.

"We feel real good about staying here."

The price Hatch will pay for the land appears to be a good deal for the village, according to a comparative price study put together by McKernan Realty Co., the village's realtor on the project.

Manchester, which has not made a sale yet for its park, is asking $10,000 per acre.

City of Jackson has sold land for as low as $800 per acre, Dexter sold 15.5 acres to Dexter Fastener for $19,000 per acre, and the City of Saline gave Phillips Co. 70 acres at a cost to the city of $1.25 million.

The initial $3.2 million project will double the size of the company's current 49,600-square-foot facility on Cleveland St.

Horadecki said the company is in the process of bidding the project. He also said Hatch Stamping is working with realtors to find a company to take its place in the building.

According to figures supplied by the company, Hatch Stamping employs 77 people and anticipates about 15 percent growth each of the next two years. The company manufactures precision parts for the automobile industry.

The company also purchases about $80,000 in electricity annually from Consumers Power Co. With the move to the park, the company would purchase power from the village.

Village Readies To Begin Using Landfill Cell As Letter of Credit OK'd

Village of Chelsea may be able to start filling its new landfill cell this week.

Village council last week accepted the conditions of a letter of credit offered by Chelsea State Bank.

A letter of credit was the centerpiece of a compromise reached between the village and the Department of Natural Resources over a dispute about stipulations in the village's new landfill license.

DNR originally wanted the village to post a total of $880,000 in cash bonds over the two-year life of the license. That was late last year.

However, a compromise reached last month allows the village to post a $380,000 letter of credit instead.

Chelsea State Bank, which has most of the village's accounts anyway, requires primarily that the village have a total of $870,000 on account at all times. That is a cumulative requirement—in other words—all the village's accounts combined can be included in that total. It's not a requirement for a separate savings account.

Village manager Robert Stalker said last week that he has been told by village attorneys that once the DNR officially receives the letter of credit, the village can begin filling the cell.

Another part of the agreement requires the village to deposit 25 cents for each cubic yard of garbage into a separate Perpetual Care Fund for 30 years.

According to Stalker, the fund's purpose is to give DNR a ready source of money should the village fail to close the cell or fail to monitor or maintain the site properly.

"The obvious effect of this requirement will be to reduce available operating revenues for landfill operations," Stalker wrote in his report to council.

Landfill operator Cecil Clouse said the requirement could divert up to $100 per day the landfill is open.

Stalker said council will have to decide soon what direction it wants to take with the landfill, especially since the license may only be good for 1½ years because half a year was spent in negotiations.

Boy, 15, Steals Cars, Leads Police on Chase

A 15-year-old boy who escaped from Boysville in Tecumseh led Chelsea police on a wild chase last Tuesday, June 5 but was eventually captured later that day by Grand Rapids police.

At 7:44 a.m. Chelsea Police Chief Lenard McDougall saw a 1988 Cadillac, that matched the description of a vehicle stolen from Clinton, in the Municipal Parking Lot.

As McDougall pulled up behind the vehicle, officer Chris Kruger attempted to block the exit drive with another squad car.

ELMER LINDOW SERVICE CENTER, known commonly as the Chelsea bus garage, was formally dedicated last Wednesday, June 6 at the foot of the driveway on Old US-12. Lindow was a school district bus driver from Sept. 12, 1943 until he became ill on Aug. 17, 1967. He died that year on the anniversary of his employment. For the last 13 years, Lindow drove students to special education classes in Ann Arbor. He was known for being particularly dedicated and kind to the special students he transported. Lindow farmed at 600 S. Freer Rd., was a charter member of Our Savior Lutheran church, and was a founder of the Chelsea Community Fair. He and his wife, the former Viola Krumm, were also active with Spankling for Children. More than 100 family, friends, and school employees attended the ceremony. Pat Zangara presented a poem she wrote for the occasion. At right are some of Lindow's relatives. In front are Judy Cooper, Frank Cooper, and Kim Cooper. In the back are Ken Lindow, Brian Cooper, and Scott Cooper. Judy and Frank are Lindow's daughter and son-in-law, and the other Coopers are grandchildren. The sign was designed and painted by Connie Scott. On one side it features the front of a school bus, and on the other side, the back of the bus, with a friendly building looking out of the window.

CHELSEA ADULT EDUCATION GRADUATES held their commencement program last Thursday, June 7 at Chelsea High school. A reception followed in the cafeteria. Wednesday, June 18, 1986—

Chelsea School District joined a class action suit against the State of Michigan that argued the state had under-funded special education and mandated lunch programs since 1979. Chelsea superintendent Ray Van Meer said he had no idea how much money the school district may have lost since 1979, but that joining the law suit shouldn't cost the district more than $300 to $400. The district was notified that it may have been short-changed by the law firm of Thrum, Maatsch & Nordberg, of Lansing, who handles all of the district's legal tax articles and notices of election. "They recommended we file a claim," Van Meer said. "There will probably be a lot of districts who will join the suit."

The Village of Chelsea was to enter the computer age. The village was planning to purchase a computer system to replace its outdated NCR bookkeeping machine. Several systems, costing between $38,000 and $52,000 were being considered, according to Village Manager Fritz Weber. He said a final recommendation would be made to the village council sometime in July. Whatever computer system is chosen, Weber said, would handle all the village's accounting functions such as billing, payroll and general ledger. It would also be able to track inventory. Other likely uses were for voter registration and word processing.

Charles A. Curtis was one of 16 graduates who received high school diplomas during the commencement exercises at the Chelsea High school auditorium. Curtis, 68, now retired from Rockwell International, returned for his diploma after his wife, Bette, received her's last year. He said the hardest part about the whole thing was making himself go through with the registration procedure.

More than 3,400 mentally retarded youth from all over the state of Michigan competed in track and field, skiing, swimming, bowling, gymnastics, horseback riding, floor hockey, basketball, volleyball, and frisbee at Mt. Pleasant. During state games, participants were housed together in Central Michigan University's dorms with evening entertainment provided such as movies, dances, carnivals, etc. When not competing, athletes visited with many sports and TV celebrities and participated in sports clinics and other special events.

Mrs. Mary Laney Steinbach, a resident of the Chelsea Methodist Home, was to be honored on the 75th year of her graduation from Dexter High School in special ceremonies during the Class of 1976 commencement. An alert 94 years young, Mrs. Steinbach was the only living graduate of the DHS Class of 1901, which consisted of just three students. Mrs. Steinbach still had her graduation program and several certificates of promotion. One of her teachers, in the 2nd and 4th grades, was Mamie Murdock, Dexter's very first graduate.

Traffic accidents in May claimed 144 lives, which was five less than 149 charged to the same month last year, according to provisional figures of the State Police traffic division. Average for the month was 173 in the five years 1971-75.

Area residents were rallying to the aid of Melvin Lamb, known in Chelsea as "Red the Barber," in his battle for life. Red, who was 31, suffered from a kidney ailment which resulted from a childhood illness. Both kidneys were removed at the Cleveland Clinic, and he became dependent upon twice-a-week treatments from an artificial kidney machine, while awaiting a kidney transplant. The entire project, including the operations was to cost at least $20,000 according to a member of the family. In order to help him defray the medical expenses, area organizations planned a benefit dance, breakfast, and bake sale.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. launched a campaign against obscene and harassing phone calls. Nicholas J. Prakkien, manager, said Michigan Bell was deeply concerned with the increase in the crank calls and that the company was stepping up its efforts to protect customers against them. In a concerted attack on the problem, Parkken said, the company was using new equipment and developing new techniques to identify the caller number of anyone making obscene, harassing or crank calls.

Last fall's record army of Michigan firearm deer hunters took 113,000 whitetails in the state, according to a final estimate made by the Conservation Department. The figure, based on the Department's postcard survey of some 24,000 licensed sportsmen showed a 19 percent drop from the 1964 harvest of nearly 141,000 which ranked second best in the state's history.

Budget Talks Snagged on Revised Spending Estimate

A reported estimate of $36 million in additional spending for corrections and social services and a House Democratic proposal to defer higher education payments have snagged negotiations on a supplemental needed to keep the current fiscal year out of deficit.

Those issues threaten hopes by legislative leaders to resolve the 1989-90 budget next week and set spending targets for final conference committee work on the 1990-91 budget. The new DSS and corrections estimates, reported by Senate Republicans, would result in a third revision this year of projections of spending needs. Legislators negotiating the supplemental have asked for a detailed accounting of the additional requirements.

The revision, a change from estimates a week earlier, reportedly calls for another $10 million for corrections and $28 million for social services.

But Management and Budget Director Shelby Solomon said the needs of those two departments have not been hiked, with the net increase dependent upon total reductions within the budget.

Those projected increases, he said, represent what would be needed if a 3.5 percent reduction was made in every department.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

"Basically what we said was do 3.5 percent across the board but we suggested we might have to make adjustments within that to make sure the money went to the right areas," Solomon said. "They're saying the 3.5 percent across the board is exactly what's needed."

The leaders, including members of the House-Senate conference committee on the budget-balancing supplemental (HB 5278), were already dealing with recommendations to cut $232 million to help cover spending increases in a variety of areas totaling $280 million.

The cuts included a 2.5 percent across the board slice in each department proposed in February plus another 1 percent last week; K-12 schools and higher education were exempt.

House Democratic leaders, saying it is "unrealistic" to expect departments to absorb the additional 1 percent in the four remaining months of the fiscal year, proposed deferred payments of $46 million to four-year universities and $11.2 million to community colleges until the next fiscal year as an alternative.

But Senate Republicans decried that as breaking an agreement to keep education exempt and Solomon said he, too, is against the plan.

Sen. Dan DeGrow (R-Port Huron) said Republicans rigidly oppose any tampering with education appropriations. "We don't feel it's right and we won't do it," he said. He called the deferred payments to the colleges and universities "real cuts" that will not be made up.

Solomon, who expressed doubts the higher education deferral will "go anywhere," said, "We don't like it very well. We're concerned about it being a way of moving money from one year to the next."

Some of those in the negotiations also said the tactic reminded some of bookkeeping adjustments made during the Milliken administration to cover deficit spending.

Solomon said "definite progress" was made during a recent closed door meeting, but added, "What we still haven't seen is ensuring that the reductions that have to be made are actually made in the bill."

He said the key will be to include provisions in the social services budget that require actual reductions in spending.

"We're getting to the point where we have to reduce spending farther than some of the people are willing to go," Solomon said.

Senate Appropriations Chair Harry Gast (R-St. Joseph) said the negotiations have not uncovered any "quick and easy answer." And, he said he remains "perplexed" as to where the money will come from to cover the newly-identified spending needs.

"If they will agree to cuts in the Youth Corps and some of those other things, we can get agreement," DeGrow said.

The Senate had slashed two-thirds of the Youth Corps budget and cut funds from other programs cherished by the governor such as the Opportunity Card and Yes Michigan promotions.

Governor James J. Blanchard personally took up the campaign to keep the Youth Corps program nearly whole and is backed by House Democrats.

Republicans also question the propriety of administration recommendations to balance the budget by transferring $23 million in building construction costs to State Building Authority bonds, gaining another $5 million in SBA interest payments to the general fund for money used to begin projects, and assuming $15 million in unspent appropriations from various unspecified departments.

Country-Western Barn Dance Slated At Fairgrounds

There will be a hoedown in Chelsea the likes of which has never been seen by Chelsea or even the famous people of Dogpatch, USA.

On July 14 from 8 to 12 the Fairgrounds will be rocking with the music of the Luke Schable Band. A country-western barn dance will be held in the new Agriculture Building at the Chelsea Fairgrounds. It is open to all ages and non-alcoholic refreshments will be available.

Tickets are available at the Parts Peddler and Chelsea Pharmacy and at the door.

The fantastic barn dance will get you all in the mood for the upcoming play of "Lil' Abner." You can experience country music and dancing just like the people of Dogpatch.

The night is sponsored by the Chelsea Area Players but they are not the ones performing that night. You will be the performers as you dance and have fun to the country-western music of Luke Schable.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

It use to be said that the only way to make sure crime don't pay is to let the Government run it. We have learned the hard way that white collar crime and betraying public trust pays everybody but the taxpayer, especial when the Government is in charge.

You might think evidence that Clem Webster hung to the session at the country store Saturday night would put the stopper in a jug full of greed and gail, but he was the first to note that one new idea only opens up more ways to make sure rights of them that stomp on rights of others is protected.

Clem had a clipping where people indicted or just investigated by the Federal Government are sending bills for their defense to the Federal Government. Clem had saw where the Government already has agreed to pay lawyers for Panama bandit Noraygo, and git the money back when all his frozen assets thaw out. There's some real zingers here, Clem declared, not the least of which is Noraygo's claim that most of his assets are money the U.S. paid him for helping fight drugs before we figured out he was working both sides of the street. If his high price lawyers git him off clean, Clem went on, or if the case is thrown out because the court rules we ain't got the right to try him in the first place, then we lose claim to his assets, and he ain't likely to pay back his lawyer fees out of the goodness of his heart. All we will do is throw bad money after bad, was Clem's words.

But fer pure gail, Clem said, you can't beat Ed Meese, the feller that quit as U.S. attorney general after his own Justice Department said he had broke ethic rules of his own office. After he got away without being indicted, Meese talked like unindicted was the same as innocent, and that he ought to git a reward fer putting up with the aggravation and staying out of jail. Now his lawyers have billed taxpayers for the $575,000 they charged fer doing all they could to keep investigators from finding out enough about Meese shady dealings to indict him.

The fellers were general agreed this turn of events opens a can of worms. Under the new rules, Bug Hookum noted, if the Government starts the hole thing it ought to pay fer the hole thing. People don't ask to be accused, so it's their accuser's job to pay fer any trouble they're put to. You can see where this is leading, Bug went on, so you know it'll be cheaper fer the American taxpayer to come with $130 billion to bail out the savings and loans and fertit the crooks that bled them dry.

Fer sure, Bug said, if the Government points a finger at anybody he's going to hide behind his lawyers and send the taxpayers the bill. Since the Government is so worried about everybody's rights, Bug said, the least it can do is give the same break to folks that git crossways with the Internal Revenue Service, where you're allus guilty until the exact level of your guilt is proved. Since a taxpayer without a high powered lawyer ain't got a prayer going in, Bug said, at least he ought to be able to deduct the cost of wiggling out the best he can.

Actual, Zeke Grubb said, the more things change the more they don't. He figgers chances of Government-paid defense lawyers trickling down to ordinary folks is ever bit as good as chances of that government waste Whistleblower Protection Act passed last year ever being give serious attention by anybody in Government.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Chiropractic

Health Care

Pediatric Care Con't.

Dr. J. Nicholas Koffeman

In last week's discussion of children and chiropractic I wrote about scoliosis, a progressive sideways curvature of the spine. Scoliosis can be a devastating spinal disorder, but usually this condition responds to proper chiropractic care quite nicely.

This week I wish to discuss headaches in children. In earlier columns I used headaches as an example of a condition that can be caused by any of the three stresses—structural, chemical and emotional. These distresses to the body misalign the spine, causing spinal joint problems and nerve impingement that can lead to headaches.

Children respond quickly in the majority of cases. While headaches can be a sign of severe problems, like tumors, the majority are relieved by gentle spinal adjustments. Sometimes decreasing one or more of the three body stressors is also needed.

Please address all questions and comments to Dr. J. Nicholas Koffeman, 138 E. Middle Street, Chelsea, MI. (313) 475-2088.

Village Approached About Annexing Land For Industrial Park

Village council appeared to be lukewarm last Tuesday to the idea of annexing property on the south side of I-94 for the establishment of an industrial park.

The village has been approached by CMS Land Co., which represents Consumers Power Co., about annexing nearly 200 acres of land at the southeast corner of the I-94 interchange in Sylvan township.

Consumers Power, which owns 93 acres of the parcel, says it has been approached by large, prospective clients of such a park. However, Consumers, which would like to sell electricity to park tenants, says the drawback has been the lack of water and sewer service to the property.

Council indicated that it wants to follow through on updating the village's General Development Plan, as well as the proposed area plan with considering the request. That process is expected to take up to two years, village president Richard Steele said.

In addition, village manager Robert Stalker said a large industrial park could have a major impact on capacity at the wastewater treatment plant.

CMS representative William Meadowcroft told council that the proposed park would not compete with the village's industrial park because its clients would need more land than is available in the village park.

Their vote totals were Marie Colombo 181, Dona Baird 156, Conrad Knutson 142, Roger Dymond 98, James "Jason" Eyster 65, and Elin Gutierrez 32.

There were no millage issues on the ballot.

McCalla and Dising will replace Craig Wales and Barb Chorem, who each served one term and decided not to run again due to personal commitments.

Josh Metzler Takes Sixth Place In Math Competition

Joshua Metzler of Chelsea, a student at Beach Middle school, placed sixth in the seventh grade level of the state mathematics finals at Central Michigan University May 19.

About 800 students in grades 6-8 who qualified through regional tests, took the test. More than 4,000 students competed at the regional level. Joshua is the son of Arlene Seelbach and Michael Metzler.

Auto Thief Eludes Police

something was wrong, sped out of the lot past Kruger's vehicle by driving over a lawn.

Both cars followed the car on a chase into Oak Grove Cemetery that began at high speed but slowed down considerably once inside the cemetery.

The youth was able to elude officers in the cemetery and eventually exited out the Madison St. entrance, then turned north on McKinley St.

An area resident, monitoring the incident on his scanner, called police and told them the vehicle sped north past his house on McKinley.

At that point, McDougall said he requested assistance from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department but was told no one could respond due to contract problems.

Chelsea police continued to follow, including reserve officers Phil Boham and Dennis Hall in an airplane. The Cadillac eventually crashed into a tree on Waterloo Rd.

However, the youth was able to escape on foot and eventually stole a Pontiac from a residence, which co-incidentally belonged to Bud Hafner, superintendent of the village's Electric, Light, and Water Department.

The youth fled the area undetected and was eventually captured in Grand Rapids after a foot chase there.

Police said the boy had been convicted on 15 various charges during his life, including seven separate counts of auto theft.

JIM SARNA took first place in the Beach Middle school home economics class interior decorating project, an annual event in the class. The challenge is to come up with the ideal bedroom. Jim just finished seventh grade.

Concert-in-the-Park Series Moves to Sunday Afternoon Dates

The Fourth Annual Concert-in-the-Park series, which kicks off July 1 in Pierce Park, has been moved from Thursday evening back to Sunday afternoon from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.

The series, sponsored by the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce and the Chelsea Recreation Council, will feature several returning artists as well as two new acts and again is designed to appeal to people of all ages.

The day change was made, according to organizer H.K. Leonard, to avoid scheduling conflicts with recreation softball and baseball but mostly to allow people to "enjoy the tradition of Sunday afternoon in the park."

"It's a time for families and friends to enjoy leisure and each other's company in the beautiful setting of Pierce Park while enjoying great entertainment," Leonard said.

This year's series will open July 1 with Linke & McCants, which plays a combination of country, bluegrass, and more.

Mark Braun, otherwise known as Mr. B, returns with his infectious style of boogie woogie piano on Sunday, July 15. Mr. B was a resounding hit last year in his local debut.

The Sunday, July 29 concert features Chelsea's own classical musician Deborah Hinderer Rusinsky and area-band Maxton Bay. Maxton Bay plays a folksy brand of swing and blues.

The series closes Sunday, Aug. 12 with the fourth appearance of Al Townsend & The Ambassadors, annually one of the most popular performers in the series. These 20 musicians play many of the classic big band sounds as well as their versions of more contemporary songs.

The entertainment is all free to the public. Food is available through the Chelsea Kiwanis Club sausage wagon, staffed by members of the Chelsea Key Club. Concert-goers are also welcome to bring a picnic dinner or snacks. Parking is free on the Chelsea Community Hospital grounds.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I must comment on Mr. LaFave's statements in last week's paper. He states: "I have always thought the district should hire the best person for the district, not just the best teacher."

Gene, the best teacher is the best person for the district. Also the best counselor, administrator, or bus driver, is the best for the district. Do not compromise our children's education so that you can have a winning season.

Yes, sports is important. My kids love to play, and will probably try to make a school team. But both myself and my children know they are in school to learn.

I agree with Mr. Piasecki in "finding excellent teachers, that can also do other things."

Maybe someday the district will be able to afford a full-time coaching staff. Then, the best coach will be the "best person for the district." Until then we will have to do the best we can, with what we have.

Gene, quitting isn't the answer either. Working hard together, with staff and kids, will produce the best team possible.

Good luck next season. Go Bulldogs!

Tom Osborne.

Dear Editor:

Some children have two dads, or some even more, in this day and age. I had only one super dad. Let me introduce you to him, by the name of Joe.

My "Pops" never went passed the third grade in school but he was wiser than most folks with a wall full of degrees from university after university. From that young age he learned a trade and how to do odd jobs that would add to the meager funds of the family he grew up in. In those days it was pennies earned a year in comparison to the thousands of today.

My dad was a tall man in structure and character. Mother was ill most of my growing years, so Dad became a "father-mother" image. Dad could cook up a meal fit for a king, and bake up a storm from cream puffs to bread that would turn the Pillsbury Dough Boy green with envy. Dad was a gardener, a carpenter. He and his brothers, without a background of professionalism built the house I lived in till the day I wed. That special house still stands today and is occupied. The house Dad built became a "home" with the heart of love its center. Yes, my dad must have been the first "Jack of all trades."

My dad laughed a lot and made our everyday seem very extraordinary. He always, after our evening meal, collected all of his four children and with his wife, our mother, we knelt in prayer together. No one could ever count the many rosaries and litanies that were sent heavenward. It was an iron rule that no one of us left our home till the prayers were finished. Dad was never a rich man in the sense of monetary wealth. Papa worked for the Detroit Street & Railways system for 24 years, from streetcars to buses. He loved people and they loved him. Whenever a neighbor needed a faucet fixed or a hot water heater changed, Dad was always there with both tools and helping hands.

Dad died in his 50's of a heart attack. Cause not so much physical as was the fact that his heart was the kind as "big as all outdoors." Dad was a loving husband and father who respected his family and loved with an endless love.

I have not seen the face of God in all my days, but I saw and knew a reflection of God in my father. My hope, wish and prayer, for each of you who read these words, find a glimpse of your own dad—in mine.

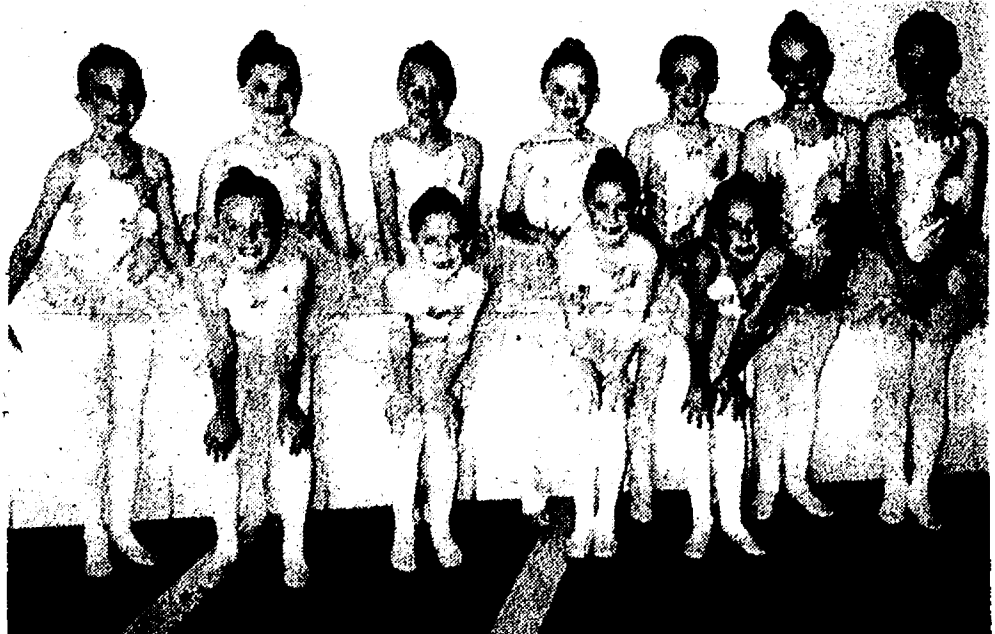

Happy Father's Day to all dads, living and dead... We love you.

Mrs. Millie Warner.

A Day at the Circus Always Remembered

To attend a circus is to become a child again for a delicious hour or two, reminded members of the Dexter Kiwanis Club, which is sponsoring two performances by the Kelly-Miller Bros. Circus, Monday, June 25, on the Dexter High school grounds.

A child's first circus has wonderful moments, somewhere between the discoveries of Christmas and the apprehension of the first day of school.

A moment locked in time, never to be forgotten, forever etched in memory, to be brought forth time and time again, as the years roll by.

For some of the younger children in the community, that magical experience will take place Monday, June 25, when the Dexter Kiwanis Club brings the Kelly-Miller Bros. Circus to town.

A three-ring circus, the Kelly-Miller Circus is acclaimed as one of the cleanest and finest tented shows in America, and has entertained more than 282,000 patrons from Texas to Canada, from Maryland to Oklahoma, within the last year.

Mark Twain once said the three most important days in the life of a child are the youngster's birthday, the fourth of July, and the "day the circus comes to town."

Grown-ups and kids are invited to come on Monday morning to watch the "raising of the big top," on the high school grounds, where both the 4:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. performances are scheduled, June 25.

Tickets are available from any Dexter Kiwanis Club member, in addition to several locations in the business community.

Prices are lower for tickets purchased in advance, but tickets will also be sold at each performance.

Lessons from the Summit

By Philip C. Clarke

If the history of summit meetings and arms control agreements provides any lesson, it is that talk is cheap—and potentially dangerous. In advance of the Bush-Gorbachev summit in Washington, the administration scrapped plans to modernize short-range missiles in Western Europe, proposed new troop and conventional arms cutbacks by NATO and recommended easing restrictions on the export of advanced technology to the Soviet Union. Whether all this results in real and lasting peace remains to be seen. But there remain a number of qualified experts in and out of Washington who continue to advise against any precipitate unilateral disarmament, warning that the Soviet military has yet to match Gorbachev's promises to beat the Red Army's swords into plowshares.

While going along with measured cutbacks in Pentagon spending, Senator Sam Nunn, chairman of the Armed Services Committee, has cautioned that the "modernization of Soviet strategic forces remains relatively unimpeded." The Soviet nuclear program, said Nunn, "is a matter of continued serious concern, and it continues to represent the paramount military threat to United States national security."

Senator Nunn also reminded fellow lawmakers that even if the Soviets carry out promised troop reductions in Eastern Europe, they "will still dwarf those of any army in Europe and will constitute a force many times more formidable than the army which Adolf Hitler threw against the low countries in 1941."

Indeed, as Senator Malcolm Wallop has pointed out, the Soviets still have more than half a million heavily-armed troops in Eastern Europe, 380,000 of them in East Germany. "All the talk about democracy, pluralism, market economies, and so on," said Wallop, "is just so much talk until those troops are gone. Yet, American arms-control policy seems bent on granting a legitimacy to this occupation through . . . current negotiations" for conventional force reductions. As Senator Wallop concludes: "If we must negotiate, at least we should wait to negotiate with the newly-elected governments of Eastern Europe. We should support democracy, not the Red Army."

According to Michael Nacht, dean of the School of Public Affairs at the University of Maryland and author of The Age of Vulnerability: Threats to the Nuclear Stalemate, regardless of whether the Cold War is over, one thing is certain, the arms race definitely is not over. "Even if the START, or Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty, negotiations are completed this year," he writes, "it would still leave the Soviets with about 9,000 strategic nuclear warheads and a total arsenal of probably 20,000 nuclear weapons."

The intentions of Mikhail Gorbachev himself bear closer scrutiny, particularly in light of the Soviet president's action to suppress independence movements in the Baltics. Robert Morris, the geopolitical authority and author of Our Globe Under Siege, cites extensive evidence that "Gorbachev is getting tougher, continuing his empire building and adding to his lead over us in strategic arsenals—all while we disarm, actually and psychologically. The reports are constant that he is accelerating his modernization and streamlining of that arsenal, more than offsetting numerical reductions which often are proving to be mere promises."

Chelsea Walkers Plan Labor Day Walk Across Mackinac Bridge

Chelsea Seniors have been engaged in a growing pastime this summer. They are joining many other Michigan seniors in the Walk Michigan/Walk for Wellness program. Walk Michigan is sponsored by Blue Cross/Blue Shield, Michigan Recreation and Parks Association and co-sponsored by the Chelsea Senior Citizens, Chelsea Community Education, and Chelsea Community Hospital in the Chelsea area.

Walkers from Chelsea, Dexter and other nearby areas have been participating in regularly scheduled walks of about two miles to improve their general fitness, and enjoy the resources in their community at the same time.

So far they have taken walks in Pierce Park, Matthaei Botanical Gardens, and a historical tour of Chelsea. Future walks include trips to Mill Lake and Mackinaw City to do the Governor's annual Labor Day Mackinac Bridge Walk.

Plans are underway to travel to Mackinaw City on Sept. 2 with overnight accommodations there. The group will walk across Mackinac Bridge early Labor Day morning, returning home Monday evening, Sept. 3.

The trip will be in the range of $80-$95 per person, depending upon accommodation costs, and will include continental breakfast and one other meal. There is still room for additional participants. The deadline for reservations is July 16. A $30 deposit is due at that time.

Anyone interested in walking or taking the trip with the Chelsea group may call 313 475-3935 for more information.

Senate Bills Would Help Small Rural Hospitals Survive

Michigan Farm Bureau is supporting a series of bills in the state senate Health Policy Committee designed to help small rural hospitals stay open.

"Several rural hospitals have closed in the past several months and it looks like more will close unless there are some of these changes as proposed in the series of bills," said Howard Kelly, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau.

Kelly said the legislation includes an important provision that would restrict the Department of Social Services from differentiating amounts paid for hospital services based solely on the size and/or location of the facility where hospital services were rendered.

The bills are sponsored by Sen. John Schwarz (R-Battle Creek), Sen. Connie Binsfeld (R-Maple City) and Sen. James Barcia (D-Bay City).

Hazardous Waste Drop-Off Slated

The Village of Chelsea and Washtenaw County are sponsoring a household toxics drop-off on Wednesday, June 20 from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. at the Chelsea Fire Department, 200 W. Middle St. Purpose of this collection is to divert these materials from improper disposal in landfills, storm drains or sanitary sewers.

To participate, individuals need to phone the Washtenaw County Cooperative Extension Service (CES) at 971-0079, Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Before calling, determine the type and approximate amount of waste to be dropped off, as this information will be requested by CES.

This is a free service to residents of the Village of Chelsea and Sylvan townships both of which are paying the fees. Other area residents will be charged $32 per participant.

The following items will be accepted at the drop-off: pesticides/insecticides, oil based paint and stain, wood preservatives, petroleum-based cleaners and solvents, other items on a case-by-case basis.

Please do not bring: latex paint, used motor oil, automotive batteries, medicines, explosives, ammunition or empty containers.

Because of the high cost of hazardous waste disposal, participants are asked to carefully evaluate those wastes intended for disposal and whether they might safely be used by a friend or neighbor. Each participant will be provided a "Household Hazardous Waste Wheel" which helps identify hazardous wastes and provides information regarding their use and disposal. Each participant is asked to donate $5 to support distribution of this wheel and other useful information.

For more information on managing household toxics and safer alternatives, call 1-800-468-9612 or the Washtenaw County Environmental Health Bureau at 994-2492.

Support Sought To Complete Funding for Pierce Park Pavilion

This week's mail has brought an illustrated announcement to nearly 6,000 families in the Chelsea School District with news of the Pierce Park Pavilion project. The community is being asked to make individual and family contributions to complete its fund raising. Business firms and civic organizations have already donated half of the needed money and materials. Now the public is asked to carry the project over the goal line.

When completed this summer the Pierce Park Pavilion will provide a center for outdoor entertainments including a wide variety of music, dramatic presentations and theatrical acts.

Donors of $10 or more will be remembered with a permanent plaque listing all 1990 patrons in alphabetic order. Donations must be received by July 16. (June 16 was printed by error in the announcement which went out in the mails.) A July 16 closing date will not only allow a person or family time to determine the amount of the gift; it will also enable them to decide how their names should be inscribed on the plaque.

Chuck Raeder, Pavilion construction chief, reports that the building materials have already been delivered to the site and crews of volunteer carpenters from the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club are ready to swing into action.

JANET ALFORD and her cocker spaniel, Chrissy, display the recently-mailed Pavilion folder. Mrs. Alford aided in designing the brochure. Donors have until July 16 to decide how much to give and how they want their names to appear on the Pierce Park Pavilion plaque.

Let's Go

Bulldogs!

Riverview Dumps Dogs In Region Baseball Play

Chelsea Bulldog baseball season came to an end last Saturday in the first round of the regional baseball tournament as Riverview rallied for a 7-4 victory on Chelsea's home field.

"It was a good game," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton, whose team finished 22-9-3.

"Both teams played well and did the little things you have to do to win. We were four outs away from winning, but give Riverview credit, they hit the ball well when they had to."

It was a game of rallies as the Bulldogs fell behind 2-0 in the third inning on two singles and a double off senior starter Doug Wingrove.

But Chelsea bounced back in the top of the fourth inning to tie the game on Steve Emmert's first double of the day, Kerry Plank's triple, and a single by Wingrove.

The Bulldogs took a 4-2 lead in the fifth inning as Ben Hurst walked, Jude Quilter singled, Emmert smacked his second double to drive in a run, and Kerry Plank doubled home another run.

A five-run fifth inning by Riverview put the Bulldogs away. Riverview opened with a walk, a single, and a sacrifice to put runners at second and third with one out. Riverview's Brian Menna lined a double to tie the game at four, and Welton called in junior Rob Clem to pitch in relief.

After a walk and an out, Riverview's Scott Hunter rapped a single to give the Pirates a 6-4 lead. Another double scored the final run.

"Wingrove pitched well enough to win a lot of games," Welton said.

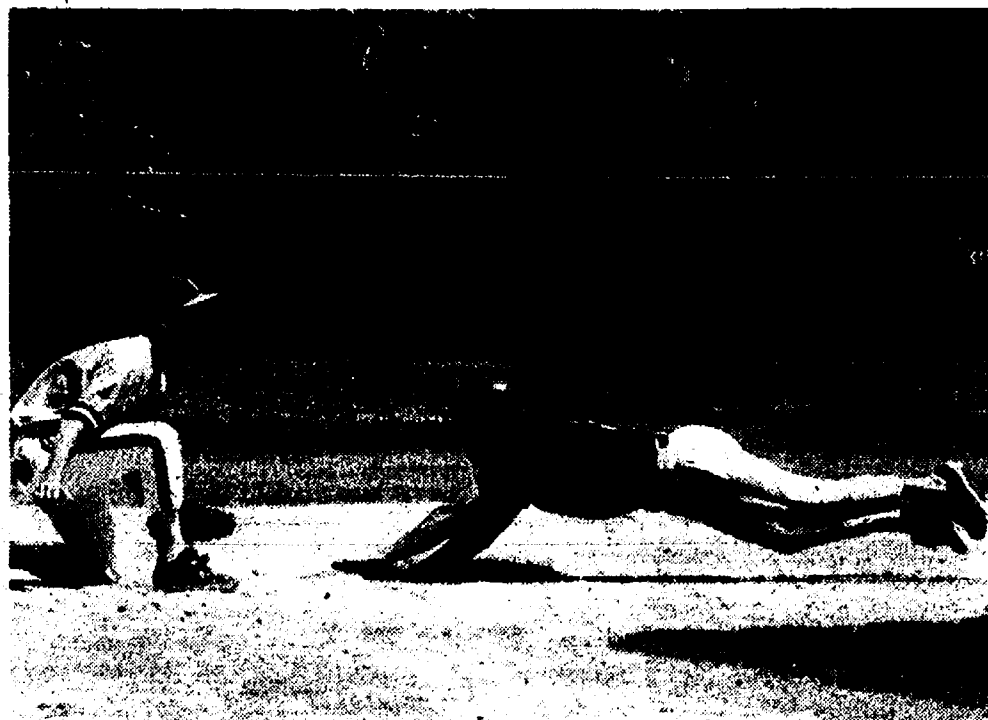

"We had our chances to win it. This should send a message to all the kids in our program that we are not that far away from going to the state tournament."

Wingrove finished the season with a 9-2 record.

Jackson County Western, 16-13 going into the tournament, stopped Riverview in the finals, 6-0.

Raisins are rich in nutrition, containing ten minerals of important food value, including iron and copper.

SOPHOMORE BEN HURST beats the throw to second base during Chelsea's regional tournament game against Riverview Saturday. Chelsea lost the game, 7-4, in the Bulldogs' first appearance in a region tournament in 18 years.

Second 'Free-Throw-A-Thon' Slated for Friday Evening

Chelsea Athletic Boosters, through the Chelsea Basketball Club, are sponsoring the second annual "Free-Throw-A-Thon" this Friday in the Chelsea gym from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Members of the 1990-91 high school basketball program will each shoot 50 free throws in competition to raise money for summer tournaments and camps. Participants have secured pledges based on the number of free throws made and will receive trophies based on their proficiency in shooting and fundraising.

Persons pledging to the event are eligible to win any of the four prizes donated by Chelsea Lumber Co., Heydlauff's, Wolverine Food & Spirits, and the Woodshed Eatery, by guessing the total number of free throws made by each team and by the entire contingent of some 40 players. The closest guesses win.

The public is invited to attend.

Anderson Fifth In Track Finals

Chelsea's Kasey Anderson, a sophomore at Hillsdale College, placed fifth in the 3,000 meter run in the NAIA Outdoor Track Finals at Stevensville, Tex. on May 25.

Anderson was also GLIAC and NAIA District 23 champion in the event.

Anderson is a chemistry major and carries a 4.0 average.

CHELSEA BULLDOGS had a lot to cheer about Saturday during their region tournament game against Riverview, except the final score. Chelsea rallied, then took the lead, and came within four outs of the victory. Most of the team will return next season.

DOUG WINGROVE pitched well enough to win Saturday but the Bulldogs lost their region match-up against Riverview, 7-4.

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Assoc. of Investors Corp.
& Consulting Editor, Better Investing

Q. I am an owner of stock in Abbott Laboratories. It has done well, but with all the talk about the government forcing health care costs down, I'm wondering if you wouldn't think it was a good time to sell it?

A. I'm not very good at guessing what impediments our friends in Washington will place in front of a successful business, but all the figures suggest that Abbott is a very well run organization. On the record, it should continue to be an excellent investment.

A year ago Better Investing featured Abbott Laboratories as an undervalued stock. That means it thought the stock had a good likelihood of increasing 20 percent in price over the next 12 to 18 months. At the time it was selling at $1 and by November it had passed $7. Recently it has dropped down a bit to the mid-60s, but its figures still look very good.

In the past year, sales of the company were up 9 percent and earnings per share were up 14 percent. More than half of the company's business is in pharmaceuticals and nutritional products and that part of the business has moved ahead at better than 10 percent compounded annually for the past 10 years. Baby formula is a major item in its nutritional products business and the company has two powerful competitors, Gerber and Nestle, but still maintains its relative position and moves total volume ahead.

Abbott has 70 percent of the market with tests for AIDS and has received FDA approval for a new test.

Abbott has been innovative both in its research and in its marketing. It recently introduced a hospital based weight management program. Weight problems are the subject of interest to millions of people and the market should be huge.

Over two million Americans are 85 and over.

Senior Housing Project May Not Start for Two Years

It may be more than two years before Rene Papo's project for low-cost senior housing finally begins construction.

The project is scheduled to be included in a larger housing project on 42 acres between Old US-12 and Chelsea Community Hospital. The land was recently annexed by the village.

Papo said last week that he has decided to apply for a Farmers Home Loan, which could take up to two years to be processed by the federal government.

However, Papo also said he probably wouldn't wait until then to build the rest of his project, which will include a mix of apartments and "affordable" single-family homes.

"We'll just put some land aside for the senior housing project," Papo said.

The land is scheduled to be zoned Planned Unit Development. Plans for the entire parcel will have to be submitted all at once, and no deviations can be made without approval of village council.

In other news, Papo has submitted site plans to the village for a two-building office complex on 13 acres adjacent to his proposed housing project off Old US-12.

Each one-story building would be 8,864 square feet. He plans a total of 86 parking spaces, according to the plans.

Chelsea Village Planning Commission is scheduled to consider the plans at their regular meeting June 28.

Three Area Students On Dean's List at Northwood Institute

Public relations director Nick Oppermann advised The Dexter Leader/The Chelsea Standard that three students from this area had been named to the Dean's List for the winter term at Northwood Institute, located in Midland.

Susan L. Aufderberge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Aufderberge of Dexter, Marie Hunneth, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hunneth, also of Dexter, and Martin E. Ennen, son of John S. Ennen of Chelsea, achieved the Dean's List recognition by earning at least a 3.0 grade-point average at Northwood.

Northwood Institute is a private, accredited college, specializing in practical career preparation, and offering two- and four-year degrees in the fields of business and management. The college emphasizes the importance of the free enterprise system, and the relationship between business and the arts.

Free Tree Pruning Guide Offered By Arbor Day Found.

How a tree is pruned in its first few years of life will affect its shape, strength and even its life span.

An illustrated, easy-to-follow guide called "How to Prune Young Shade Trees" has been prepared for homeowners. It can be obtained free of charge by writing the National Arbor Day Foundation.

The How To Prune guide includes step-by-step illustrations showing how proper pruning in the early years of a tree's life can save money in the long run and result in safer, more beautiful, healthy, easy-to-maintain trees.

This valuable booklet is filled with illustrations showing you how to make a pruning cut... how to prune for desired form... how to maintain the tree's health by removing trouble spots... when to leave temporary lower branches, and when to cut them.

The booklet even shows how to hold a pair of pruning shears and how to make pruning cuts at the proper angle.

You'll learn how to shape and guide a shade tree when it's young so that it's tall, straight, strong, and healthy when it's old.

To obtain your free copy of this valuable booklet, send your name and address to: How to Prune, National Arbor Day Foundation, Nebraska City, Neb. 68410.

Show of Paintings, Photographs Offered at Dale Fisher's Gallery

sale pairing painter Sam Knecht and photographer Dale Fisher, both of Grass Lake. The artists enjoy national reputations for their artwork. Fisher is known for the striking photographs he takes hovering over his subjects in a helicopter. Such photographs have secured state-wide prominence for Fisher in his books, Michigan, from the Eyr of the Eagle, and Detroit. Knecht is art department chairman of Hillsdale College and has been featured in American Artist magazine and the Michigan Natural Resources magazine. Whether working in the media of watercolor or egg tempera Knecht's style is known for its strong realism.

One can expect to see many different perspectives on the natural beauty of Michigan among the images offered by Fisher and Knecht in this show. The pictures range from Fisher's large scale panoramic landscapes to intimate closeup views by Knecht. Michigan is by no means the exclusive beat of these artists. Currently Fisher is covering Hawaii for his next book project. Knecht has traveled, taught, and painted extensively in Italy.

This exhibit finds a unique setting in the Dale Fisher Gallery, situated in a restored 100-year-old barn located on Fisher's Eyr of the Eagle Farm. The spacious gallery combines the rustic flavor of exposed structure with the contemporary look of track lighting and split levels. Fisher moved his photographic business to Grass Lake several years ago after many years of success in Ann Arbor. The barn gallery is just one of the many projects Fisher has been putting into effect on his 80-acre farm. His plans include developing fields of wildflowers, picnic areas, a petting zoo, and carriage rides through the complex.

Knecht is a versatile painter whose subjects range from landscapes to still lifes, to portraits. Currently he has a painting entitled "Fair Fantasy" included in the 44th annual Exhibition of the Michigan Water Color Society at the Kresge Art Museum, Michigan State University, East Lansing. He is represented by the Hefner Galleries, Ltd. of Grand Rapids and is scheduled to mount a one-man show of his work there next January.

Absent: Clerk Anderson.
Trustees Present: Hammer, Hall, Kanten and Myers.
Trustee Absent: Merkel.
Others Present: David Bulson, Sheridan Springer, Fred Harris, Lois Speer, Gertrude O'Dell, Robert Schantz, Jim Utaler, Matt Heydlauff, Bill Bott, Dudley Holmes, Jr., Dan Stout, Lenore Mattoff, Amy Heydlauff, Tracy Heydlauff, Fred Mills, Bob Daniels, Frank Renton, Ruth Leach, Brian Hamilton, George and Carol Heydlauff, Donna Palmer, Friedelle and Jack Winans.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Hall to approve the minutes of the regular session of April 17, 1990 as submitted. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

President Steele recommended Tom Dorer be appointed to the vacant seat on the Council.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Hammer, to appoint Tom Dorer as Village Trustee to fill the unexpired term of Richard Steele. Roll call: Ayes: Hammer, Hall, Kanten and Myers. Nays: None. Abstain: Steele.

Trustee Kanten administered the Oath of Office to Mr. Dorer.

Howard Deardorff, President of Deardorff Design Resources, gave a slide presentation of his firm's proposition for Chelsea's downtown development planning, design and construction implementation services. Deardorff Design Resources will work with the firms of Jackson Design and Corbin Design on this project.

Franz Mogdis, Downtown Development Consultant, explained the principles of Tax Increment Financing.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Myers, to endorse the DDA entering into a contract with Deardorff Design contingent upon a favorable opinion of bond counsel regarding both short and long term tax increment finance bond issues. Said contract is for the sum of $89,670.00. Roll call: Ayes: Hammer, Hall, Kanten, Steele, Dorer and Myers. Nays: None. Motion carried.

(In approving the above referenced contract, the Village Council is aware that funding will be provided through the issuance of TIF bonds).

Lois Speer, a resident of Orchard Street, voiced her concerns regarding the poor condition of village streets and sidewalks. She also reiterated on the water runoff problems she and neighboring residents experience from the alley behind her home.

President Steele assured Mrs. Speer that the Orchard Street sidewalks will be handled in this year's repair work.

The condition of the Pump & Pantry property was also discussed. Village Manager Stalker was instructed to contact the property owner regarding the current status of the potential cleanup of the site.

Village Manager Stalker presented a Proposed Nepotism Policy to Council for their review and comments. Council requested the policy be revised and resubmitted at a later date.

Landfill Superintendent Clouse has made contact with the firm of Zero Waste Recycling, Inc., of Ann Arbor. Zero Waste is willing to collect tires at the landfill once we have accumulated 25 to 50 tires. The Village would receive revenue for these tires which would then be recycled by the company. This venture would not only save our landfill space, but hopefully would aid in eliminating tires from the roadsides as well. Village Manager Stalker was instructed to obtain a written proposal and agreement from Zero Waste Recycling, Inc., to present to Council for official action.

Equipment for the E-9-1-1 implementation will be on display at the Village Office on Wednesday, May 9, 1990 from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. for those wishing to view it.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Myers, to approve the minutes of the meeting of April 17, 1990 as submitted. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

A public hearing was held to consider Application No. 90-4 for a variance from the provisions of Section 5.19 (15.716) of the Zoning Ordinance. (Chelsea Milling Company Applicant). There were no oral or written comments.

RESOLUTION

RE: Zoning Variance Grant Application for Appeal No. 90-4

WHEREAS, Chelsea Milling Company of 210 W. North Street, Chelsea, Michigan has requested a variance from the provisions of Section 5.19 (15.716) for the construction of larger holding tanks that exceed height restrictions of 35 feet on location described as follows:

Commencing at the north 1/4 corner of Section 12, T2S, R3E, Village of Chelsea, Washtenaw County, Michigan; thence along the north line of said Section, S87 deg. 24' 20" E 1065.39 feet to the intersection of the northerly extension of the westerly line of Main Street (M-52); thence along said westerly line and the northerly extension thereof, S00 deg. 52' 50" E 1747.37 feet; thence along a line parallel with the centerline of the east bound tracks and 30 feet northerly of the centerline of the west bound tracks of Conrail, S70 deg. 18' 10" W 300.48 feet for a POINT OF BEGINNING; thence continuing S70 deg. 18' 10" W 40.25 feet; thence N00 deg. 22' 00" W 97.38 feet; thence N70 deg. 18' 30" E 164.14 feet; thence S19 deg. 41' 50" E 108.52 feet to the Point of Beginning, being part of the Northeast 1/4 of said Section 12 and containing 19,365 square feet or 0.44 acres of land more or less, subject to easements and restrictions of record, if any.

WHEREAS, this Zoning Board of Appeal has held a hearing, pursuant to Section 7.5E with no objections from area property owners and/or occupants of property; now

BE IT RESOLVED that this Zoning Board of Appeal grant unto Chelsea Milling Company a variance from provisions of Section 5.19 (15.716) for the following reasons:

1. Structure is necessary because of increased production capacity at the mill.
2. Height of the proposed Structure (83') is actually less than others (123') already situated in this complex.
3. Zoning ordinance makes no special provisions for grain elevators and related facilities.
4. Structure would appear to be compatible with other structures in the immediate area and hence is not expected to have a detrimental effect on adjoining properties.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Hall, to adopt the above Resolution as read. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

Motion by Myers, supported by Kanten, to set the date of June 5, 1990 as a public hearing date to consider Application No. 90-5 (Norm and Sally Wetzel applicants). Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Hammer, to adjourn. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned at 9:07 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Barbara J. Fredette, Acting Secretary.

Special Session

May 8, 1990

The meeting was called to order at 5:10 p.m. by President Steele.

Absent: Clerk Anderson.
Trustees Present: Hammer, Hall, Kanten and Myers.

Trustees Absent: Merkel and Dorer.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Hall, to waive the approval of the minutes of the May 1, 1990 meeting. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

Village Manager Stalker addressed the current landfill situation and presented Council with alternatives to consider.

Landfill Operator Clouse presented his findings concerning alternative methods of disposal.

It was the consensus of Council that village residents only be allowed use of the landfill as of June 1, 1990 due to the rate the existing space is being exhausted.

The bond issue with the Department of Natural Resources was discussed in depth. Trustee Kanten requested a decision on the bond issue be postponed until the full council body is present.

Village Manager Stalker notified Council that Don Keim of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone recommended the DDA issue a small bond offering this summer (1990) to provide financing until the primary TIF bonds are sold in 1991. Council commented that this was a reasonable approach to financing the downtown improvements.

Motion by Myers, supported by Hammer, to adjourn. Meeting adjourned at 6:00 p.m.

New Diet Aid Passes Pharmacist's Test

WASHINGTON -- Before offering a revolutionary new diet product to his customers, a Wilmington, North Carolina pharmacist put the product to his own test. In a documented statement, the pharmacist said "after using the product FOOD SOURCE ONE I did not have the desire to nibble. I took FOOD SOURCE ONE in the morning and at lunch and did not get hungry. In the evening I ate my usual meal and as a result I lost 14 pounds in 15 days.

In a separate report, after fighting a weight battle for twelve years, a Daytona Beach, Florida woman, on the recommendation of her physician used the product and lost 30 pounds. She stated, "not only have I lost thirty pounds, but my cholesterol has dropped from 232 to 143. I have two closets full of clothes that have not fit me in two years which I can now wear. This product is very easy to take and I feel good. I now have one daughter and two sons-in-laws who also decided to go with the plan. Thank you for a product that in my opinion is a real aid to dieters."

FOOD SOURCE ONE packs the balanced nutrition of a meal into a compact tablet. FS-1 makes you feel full like you just got up from the dinner table, but without the calories. FS-1 works by mimicking the food assimilation process, due in part to the special mechanism by which FS-1 works to decrease body weight called nutri-bonding.

Developed by National Dietary Research, FOOD SOURCE ONE is unlike any other product on the market and is available only through physicians and pharmacists. FS-1 is not a drug and contains only natural ingredients known to be safe. Physicians and pharmacists are praising FOOD SOURCE ONE as a natural, drug free alternative for the treatment of obesity.

Food Source One is available in Chocolate, Vanilla or Strawberry. A 100 tablet supply only $24.98.

They're out for blood.

At first, it was only once a week. Then three times a week. Now they're out for blood every night. And they're not alone. They're just two of the thousands of people all over the country who are finally starting to do something about the disease that kills almost 32,000 Americans every year—and afflicts another 38 million. It's high blood pressure. And once you know you've got it, you can usually control it. By following your doctor's advice on exercise, weight control, salt intake, and medication. Talk to your doctor today about getting started on a program that will keep you out for blood. And in the running.

Prime Farmland Should Be Protected

Michigan Farm Bureau is pleased that a public advisory committee has recommended that a low-level radioactive waste disposal facility not be located in Monroe county's Riga township. If the low level Radioactive Waste Authority accepts the recommendation, the search could begin for other possible disposal site locations.

Jack Laurie, president of Michigan Farm Bureau, said the organization will oppose any location that takes prime farmland out of production. "Our position on the low level radioactive waste facility is no different than it is on any other facility that might use up prime agricultural land, whether that be a solid waste disposal site, any other public utility or a highway," he said.

JACQUELINE ANN KELLEY graduated from Michigan State University June 9 with a bachelor of science degree from the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources. She will be completing her internship this summer at Lake Lanier Island Resort in Georgia. Farm Bureau Rigid On Flexibility Plan For Alternate Crops

Farm Bureau is strongly opposed to a crop flexibility plan being considered by the U.S. House Agriculture Committee.

The plan would permit farmers to plant alternative crops on up to 20 percent of their normal acres without jeopardizing federal subsidies on the remaining acres. Farmers would not receive subsidies on the acres planted to alternative crops. Al Almy, director of public affairs for Michigan Farm Bureau, said the plan is unfair because it provides program crop producers an incentive to compete in the production of commodities that receive no form of government payment.

"This flexibility plan would hit Michigan producers especially hard," he said. "We are a state that produces a large variety of crops, including the traditional program crops such as corn and wheat. Probably the biggest impact would be on the dry edible bean sector because beans are a non-program crop that many farmers can switch over to producing with their existing equipment."

Farm Bureau favors an alternative flexibility plan that would provide farmers the option of planting any or all of their base acres to alternative crops without jeopardizing subsidy payments in future years. But under the plan, farmers would lose subsidies in the years in which they used the flexibility program.

Police Chief Warns Residents About Con Artists

Chelsea police warn area residents, especially senior citizens, to be alert for con artists who commonly try to bilk people this time of year.

On Tuesday, June 5 a man tried to convince a Lincoln St. woman at her home that he was from the Medicare office and needed to make adjustments in her records.

The 75-year-old woman refused to let the man enter her house and eventually he left. She called Medicare and was informed that no one from the office makes house calls.

"It's all done with the idea of getting into the house," says police chief Lenard McDougall.

"Common scams are roof and driveway repairs. The best advice is, if you don't know someone who knocks on your door, don't let him in."

Village Upset About No Response From Townships on Landfill Costs

Village of Chelsea may end up battling area townships in court over the sharing of landfill monitoring and closure costs.

The village, which came up with a formula for sharing the costs based on usage of the village landfill by township residents, asked Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, and Dexter townships to respond to the numbers by June 1.

However, the townships, which are all being represented by the same attorney in the matter, passed the deadline with no specific comments other than to say the matter is being studied by their attorney.

Their attorney also sent the village a letter, which council members said essentially "clouded the issue" and made irrelevant points.

Last Tuesday, village council voted to send the townships a letter letting them know "how serious this is," in the words of village president Richard Steele. They also voted to have village attorney Matt Zimmerman respond to the letter from the township's attorney.

Steele said he wanted to let them know that "court action would follow," if the village couldn't get an acceptable answer soon.

The village has spent more than $550,000 on the closing of the landfill and testing for groundwater pollution. Under the formula, the village would pay $220,000, Dexter township would pay $115,000, Lyndon and Sylvan townships would pay $74,500 each, and Lima township would pay $86,000.
