CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, JULY 25, 1990

THE PULL-BEHIND TRAILER that is being used for the village's curbside recycling program each Wednesday is also being used at the landfill by people in the townships who want to recycle. Landfill superintendent Cecil Clouse, right, said recycling is proceeding as usual at the landfill during normal landfill hours. He reminds recyclers to flatten cans before recycling because unflattened cans take up too much room in the bins. The trailer is driven to Recycle Ann Arbor once it is filled. Left is landfill worker Robert Walker.

Plenty of Buckets Available For Village Curbside Recycling

More than 2,000 recycling buckets are still available for village residents who want to take part in the village's curbside recycling project.

The buckets are available at the village offices for a refundable deposit of $2.25 for each bucket. Senior citizens, however, are being allowed to waive the deposit fee.

The village initially purchased 3,000 of the color-coded, plastic buckets.

The village picks up glass and cans from the curbside each Wednesday. Three different buckets are available for various items, but residents can take only one bucket if they so choose.

One of the biggest problems so far has been receiving too many unflattened cans, which take up too much space in the trailer, said landfill superintendent Cecil Clouse.

The orange pull-behind trailer being used by the village for curbside recycling is also being used at the landfill by township residents who want to recycle. The bigger green bins that are part of the Washtenaw county program are not being used. So far, Clouse said, it looks as though it will be cheaper for the village to drive the recyclable material to Recycle Ann Arbor than to ask the county to haul away the green bins once they are full.

Clouse said that the village's unusual trailer has attracted a lot of attention from workers at Recycle Ann Arbor.

In other recycling news, the village has been asked to take over last year's successful milk jug recycling program that was organized by volunteer parents in the elementary schools.

Last year's organizers are worried they won't have enough volunteers this fall. They say the program has taken more time than anyone thought it would.

Frank Hammer, who chairs the council's Waste Management Committee, said the committee would take a look at the problem.

The committee is also studying the possibility of recycling motor oil.

Dedication Slated For Depot Marker

Stray Bullet Hits Garage

A stray bullet hit the garage door of a Grant St. home as the resident was trying to start a lawn mower in his driveway.

The man said he heard what sounded like a rifle shot come from across the street in a vacant lot. He said he believed someone was shooting woodchucks and a bullet ricocheted into his garage.

Police removed a .22-caliber bullet from the garage trim. An effort to find a hunter failed.

Historical Commission, will make the presentation.

The event will include model train displays as several guest speakers including Sam Breck, historian and train enthusiast; Denis Schmiedeknecht, architect talking about "why save old buildings"; Robert Devine, previous station master; and Peter Fletcher, director of the Greater Michigan Foundation, who will be master of ceremonies.

Craft booths, food wagons, artists, bake sales and merchant sales will all be available each day beginning at 8 a.m. Friday's close is at 8:30 p.m. and Saturday the event winds down at 5:30 p.m.

The Antique Car Parade, one of the largest events of its kind in the area, seems to grow larger every year. Organizer John Mitchell has promised that every driver who participates will be given an inscribed dash plaque. Drivers typically come from all over southeastern Michigan.

Council Finally OK's Jackson Planner As New Assistant Village Manager

It wasn't the smoothest of appointments, but Chelsea Village Council finally approved a Jackson planner as the new assistant village manager.

As happened the week before, when the matter came up on the agenda, a motion to appoint Deborah L. Kuehn to the position died for lack of support.

However, after an executive session was held to evaluate village manager Robert Stalker, council appointed Kuehn to the position with six yes votes and an abstention by trustee Stephanie Kanten.

Kanten said she had "no comment" on her vote.

Stalker would not give an opinion as to why the appointment took the route it did.

Kuehn, who has a professional background similar to former assistant manager Tom Warstler, is a principal planner for the Region 2 Planning Commission in Jackson. She has also been an assistant planner in Toledo, as well as a reporter for two newspapers, including the Ann Arbor News.

Kuehn, hired at a salary of $32,500, will start Monday, Aug. 6.

"The first thing we'll have to do is get her up to speed on the developments and the general issues facing the village," Stalker said.

"We also have to define her role and where she fits in. People in the office have had to expand their job roles since we've been without an assistant.

We need to clearly define what people will be doing."

Kuehn will likely be heavily involved with the planning commission, re-writing of the zoning ordinance, and the area plan with the townships, among other projects requiring planning expertise.

Village Planning Fall Pick-Up For Large, Unwanted Items

The village has decided to have a fall pick-up similar to the annual spring pick-up that was abandoned two years ago due to landfill problems.

However, it is likely to be a one-time event.

Exact date of the pick-up has not been set, but it's likely to be in September.

The pick-up will allow residents to dispose of virtually any unwanted items except hazardous wastes.

The fall pick-up became possible when the village and Department of Natural Resources finally agreed to terms on the new landfill operating license for the new cell.

A HUGE SPIDER made of balloons graced the lobby of the Michigan Theater last Tuesday for the premier of "Arachnophobia," Jeff Daniels' new movie. The event drew a large Chelsea crowd that did not go home disappointed. Disney Studios loaned a copy of the film to the Garage Theatre Foundation for the showing, the proceeds of which will benefit the renovation of the Garage Theatre.

CHELSEA 1995, the group trying to help chart Chelsea's future, met last Thursday evening at Chelsea Community Hospital to listen to a presentation by consultants for the Downtown Development Authority beautification project. Presented were ideas of how downtown Chelsea may look with various renovations in place. Above, DDA chairman Sheridan Springer, left, confers with consultants Jeffrey Corbin and Howard Dear-dorff, and village planning commission member Fred Barkley.

Wednesday, July 26, 1986—The old Glazier Stove Company's "Welfare Building," at 300 N. Main St., achieved an official place in history when the Chelsea Area Historical Society dedicated a marker that declared the building a Michigan Historic Site. The main speaker was Bradley Glazier, great-grandson of the president of the stove company. Jerry Roe of Michigan Historical Commission presented the marker. Donald Kvarnberg performed musical selections.

Amid concerns that the people of Chelsea were getting the wrong impression about the intentions of the Downtown Development Authority, DDA chairman Mark Heydlauff arranged an informal meeting of Chelsea businessmen, village administrators, and a Standard reporter to try to "get some things out in the open." Heydlauff said that, in particular, two aspects of the plan were receiving far too much attention—tree planting on Main St. and studies on constructing a truck bypass around Chelsea. Heydlauff said there were no concrete plans to plant trees all down Main St., "and in no way do we want to try to resemble Ann Arbor." Village council has to approve the DDA's plan with a resolution before it can proceed.

Aug. 6 marked the day when a nuclear weapon was first used in our world. Considering the increased numbers and power of today's nuclear armaments, the First Congregational United Church of Christ invited the people of Chelsea to participate in a "Pause for Peace." "Pause for Peace" is concerned about the fact that nuclear weapons have been used two times in our history and seeks to remind us that peace is the only viable solution to the nuclear threat. At 3:30 p.m. (when the bomb dropped on Hiroshima), the church bell rang. At that time they hoped as many people as possible would pause for a moment to pray for peace in their own way. The doors of the church were opened for anyone desiring to gather and pray.

The public was invited to attend a presentation of the architect's plans for the renovation of the 14th District Courthouse, a spokesman for the restoration committee announced. A number of local officials were on hand to answer questions.

A group of Portage Lake property owners explored the possibility of developing a sewage system in that area. The Portage Lake Wastewater Task Force was formed July 9 in a meeting at Dexter Town Hall to push for a pressure-type sewer system to be in use within two years, said Robert H. Miller, chairman of the group. Washtenaw county director of public works, Jack Durbin, who attended the meeting, said it was possible the proposal would qualify for small-city block grant funding from federal and state programs. No Environmental Protection Agency money would be available, however.

During a special ceremony on Aug. 21, the Bicentennial Committee supervised the burial of a sealed time capsule at the McKune Memorial Library. This capsule, filled with memorabilia from 1976, will remain buried for 100 years. It holds such items as photographs, newspapers, souvenirs, magazines, coins and special envelopes containing messages to Chelsea's descendants. In a corresponding ceremony on Aug. 21, 2076, the capsule will be unearthed and opened with a key given to the first baby born after the capsule was buried.

As of July 19, the tabulated voter return in the race for Chelsea's First Lady places Kathy McCalla in the lead; Anne Steinaway, second; Betty Koch, third; Susan McCalla, fourth; Wanda Schiller, fifth; Jennie Walz, sixth; Nadine Koch, seventh; Debbie Gergman, eighth; and Beth Clark and Shella Carr, unreported.

Shades of William Shakespeare again haunted the big red barn on the George Frisinger farm Aug. 4 and 5, as members of the 1866 Homestead Acres Theater Camp presented "Twelfth Night." The production of the Bard's famous comedy about mistaken identities was performed on a specially constructed outdoor Elizabethan stage. Leading roles were Roger Frisinger in the role of Sebastian, Lori Smith in the role of Fabian, Alice Rentland in the role of Sir Andre Aguecheek, Austin Iglehart in the role of Toby Belch, Lucy Winner as Viola and Nora Davis as Olivia.

Gast Says Budget Woes Close Tax Limit Option

The 1990-91 budget awaiting Governor James J. Blanchard's signature is potentially at least $250 million in deficit, a top Senate Republican contends, saying those problems foreclose the governor's options to set aside money for a property tax assessment limitation plan.

But Blanchard continued to rally support for the plan, telling local Wayne county officials the plan was done in by "election year gimmickry" by the Legislature.

Aids to the governor have hinted he may try to reserve the $40 million needed for the tax assessment proposal by line item vetoes throughout the budget.

But Senate Appropriations Chair Harry Gast (R-St. Joseph), who discussed his budget concerns in a meeting with Blanchard, said he told the governor any money he can find with vetoes should first go to plug the budget "soft spots. It's asinine to put it into a tax plan."

Management and Budget Director Shelby Solomon, who holds to his original spending and revenue projections for the upcoming year, said no decisions will be made on using vetoes to pay for property tax relief until an over-all budget review is completed.

Solomon, when the budget was completed, said the governor would have more flexibility for vetoes this year because the administration did not support many of the agreements reflected in the bills.

The governor endorsed the property tax assessment limit and a constitutional amendment earmarking lottery funds to schools earlier this year, and despite support by most legislators, neither were approved.

The plan limiting assessment increases to the rate of inflation passed both houses, but the Senate included it with a much larger property tax cut plan. The lottery proposal passed the House, but the Senate defeated it after it was expanded to include the tax assessment plan and an increased portion of the budget for education.

"I proposed real tax relief and real assurance that the lottery money goes where it is supposed to go. What did we get? Election year gimmickry and games instead of positive action," Blanchard told western Wayne city officials.

He said the two proposals would restore voter confidence in public school finances.

Senate leaders who added additional guarantees for school support said the lottery proposal is meaningless unless the earmarking means schools would get increased aid due to the lottery.

Gast said particular problems exist in corrections, social services and mental health. The governor did not revise his 1990-91 recommendations despite higher spending rates in those departments in the current year that had to be addressed in a supplemental appropriations measure.

The corrections budget, sent to the governor unchanged from the House-approved version, is one of the main concerns of Solomon, largely because it adds just one instead of two new boot camps.

He said the Gast suggestion is consistent with the administration's stand, but no decisions have been made on how to deal with the budget. Some legislators had expected the entire bill would be vetoed.

Gast said legislators in both parties would support vetoes in the corrections budget of funds for a Detroit reception/aftercare center for boot camp inmates in order to pay for expanded camps and use of electronic tethers.

Solomon said a line-item veto approach is "a real possibility" to address the administration's concern over boot camps.

He said the administration will take steps, as it did last year in issuing vetoes and calling for reduced spending, to adjust spending if it determines that is needed. He added Gast did not have any specific proposals to ensure the budget remains balanced.

Gast said the Legislature for the most part stayed in the framework of the administration's proposals—some $30 million was added to education budgets, however—and the governor did not relay its unhappiness with the bills.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

There's somepun solid and civilized about trains, Zeke Grubb told the fellers at the country store Saturday night, and the same can be said of France that has built a name for good food and running trains on time. Zeke said from what he read recent, it ain't no wonder trains in France stay on schedule. A bullet train there broke its own record and set a new speed record of 318-mile-an-hour.

Zeke said the reason he got that item on the agenda was because he had saw where a train run into a car in Peekskill, N.Y. and come off second best. The driver of the 1983 Buick went on home after he got stuck on the track between gates and his car was hit by an Amtrak engine, but the locomotive had to be towed away. The piece didn't mention the speed of the train, Zeke said, but you got to wonder what the Buick would of done to the French bullet.

The fellers filed Zeke's item under trivia, but Bug Hookum said he was glad a made in the USA car had come out ahead for onct. Bug said he is concerned about the level of confidence Americans have in American products. He saw a item in a magazine recent that quoted a economist as saying "the only thing worth a damn in this country today is its agriculture." If you took a poll of what farmers and ranchers think of the state of American agriculture, Zeke said, you would see how scary that statement is.

Like they say, Bug went on, if you laid all the economists in this country end to end they'd never reach a conclusion. Still, he said, the magazine piece went on to say that kind of thinking is the reason agriculture is about all we got left that ain't made or assembled hole or part somewhere else, or here by somebody else.

Clem Webster was strong disagreed. He said American business and industry ain't about to lay down and play dead for nobody. Fer instant, Clem has been reading that they see Eastern Europe as "the world's richest untapped market," and they're going after it. We're not talking Pepsis and Big Macs here, Clem said, this is the big picture, a sizable chunk of the consumer world opening all doors and pulling out all stops to welcome everything it has been dreaming about and doing without.

If this ain't a situation made for American free enterprise, Clem ask, what could be. He said our companies already are cranking up advertising campanies using the idee that never fails. Create demand for the product, then create the product. In our case, build the demand and ship the product over.

General speaking, Clem's pep talk was took as a article of faith. All the fellers are too far down the pike and all have seen to many rises and falls to doubt the will and strength of America to compete in a free world market. And all were agreed that fer them, the middle of summer is a time fer much talk and little do.

The discussion started to ramble after that. Ed Doolittle was of a mind this is a time for taking and reading surveys. He had saw recent the Centers for Disease Control says the average life expectancy in this country today is 75 years. Ed took note that all the fellers are above average, like they thought.

Actual, Ed said, there's living and there's living. He said he thought he was holding up good until he mentioned his bad knee one morning last week and his old lady said he was nothing but a maintenance problem. Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

New Beginnings Offers Help for Grieving Persons

One of the most difficult experiences in life is to have lost a loved one through death. Those who grieve over such a loss usually experience strong feelings such as sadness, anger, emptiness, guilt, hopelessness, and loneliness. While their emotions are on a roller-coaster, they feel ignored and misunderstood at the very time when they need understanding.

A group called "New Beginnings" not only offers understanding, but a great deal of information, guidance, and support for those who are grieving.

Those who have lost a loved one are invited to attend the New Beginnings Grief Support group which is offered by the University of Michigan Family Practice Center and is held on the first and third Thursdays from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the Faith in Action House located at 775 S. Main St., Chelsea (near the new entrance to the Medical Center).

There is no registration or fees.

If you would like more information you may call Diane Parisho at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center, 475-1321, ext. 430.

X-RAY EQUIPMENT DONATED: Chelsea Community Hospital's Mark Cwick (vice-president), Richard Schneider (materials management supervisor), Kathy Raymond (diagnostic imaging technical director) and James Carl, M.D. (radiologist), pose by the 16-year-old Picker Galaxy radiographic and fluoroscopic x-ray unit the hospital is donating to the World Medical Relief Organization, for use in the Philippines. The hospital has purchased new, state-of-the-art x-ray equipment for its Department of Diagnostic Imaging.

Village To Purchase 911 Calling Equipment

Chelsea Village Council voted to spend $45,148 on 911 emergency equipment over the next five years on a lease/purchase plan.

For several years, Washtenaw county has been seeking to put emergency services for the entire county on a 911 system. In other words, in case of a fire or police emergency a caller can dial 911 to contact the appropriate emergency agency.

Council voted to purchase the more expensive of two options. It includes a data base program which will allow special information about each telephone number in the system to be stored. For example, rescue workers could know about a resident's special medication.

The system will handle calls for both the Chelsea Police Department and Chelsea Fire Department.

The system is scheduled to be installed by the middle of next year.

The first private pension plan offered by a company was established by the American Express Company in 1876, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

Economic Club Hears Chrysler Engineer

Executive engineer Susan Cischke from Chrysler Proving Grounds, was the guest speaker Wednesday, July 18, at the second monthly meeting of the Economic Breakfast Club of Chelsea, co-sponsored by Society Bank and the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce.

Ms. Cischke presented a comprehensive overview of the auto industry in the 90's, and Chrysler's approach to recapturing a fair share of the auto market back from Japan by manufacturing a quality, competitive product.

Susan cautioned the 35 guests that it is time for Americans to act in their own self interest. As a nation we must make sacrifices, save more, invest more and consume less. It is time for action and Chrysler hopes to win back consumers with a quality product which research has shown can stand on its own against foreign competition. For example Chrysler now has one million air bag equipped cars on the road because they are now standard on all U.S. built Chrysler automobiles.

The Chelsea Proving Grounds is used basically for durability and endurance testing. The Arizona testing site measures high temperature, low humidity and dirt infusion effects. The Minnesota facility does low temperature, crash, speed, heater and defroster evaluation and testing.

There are 3,700 acres in the Chelsea location, two miles from east to west and 3 miles north to south. There are 50 miles of endurance roads, a six-lane, banked oval track where brakes and fuel economy are checked at up to 140 miles per hour. There are numerous simulated weather and road conditions.

Chelsea and its economy benefits greatly by the Chrysler location. In addition to future plans to build a $1 billion technical complex on the grounds which will no doubt reap extra benefits to the Chelsea area, Sylvan township received $954,632.61 in taxes this year. During a recent construction project, $50,000 was spent in Chelsea. There are 553 employees with annual salaries totaling $25.5 million. Many of them are local residents.

Ms. Cischke had a great deal to offer her audience, particularly about "Advantage: Chrysler," one way the company is fighting back. Because the world marketplace demands fairness and a world class product, American industry must build its own advantage.

Mark Bailly of Society Bank thanked Ms. Cischke for her willingness to share her expertise at the second meeting of the Chelsea Economic Breakfast Club. The next breakfast will be held 7:30 a.m., Aug. 15 at the Chelsea Community Hospital.

Council Delays Renovation of Park Bathrooms

Renovation of the Pierce Park restroom facilities has been delayed until the village's next fiscal year, which begins in March.

Village council decided to delay the project, which would require the replacement of virtually all equipment, because it was not a budgeted item.

Portable-toilets have been used in the park for a number of years.

The first federal legislation setting safety and health standards for workers in general in the private sector was the Occupational Safety and Health Act passed in 1970, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication. The Occupational Safety and Health Administration is run by the U.S. Labor Department.

Council Appoints Two New Planners

Village residents Marilyn Guenther and Tim Merkel have been appointed to the Chelsea Village Planning Commission.

Village council made the appointments official last Tuesday. Six members of the nine-member commission have been appointed since early 1989.

Other commission members include chairman Marty Tobin, Fritz Belser, John Yelasko, co-chairman Bill Bott, Fred Barkley, Debbie Olson, and Dave Prohaska.

DONALD A. COLE, Director

"Doubt is not necessarily the mark of a pessimist or a cynic. Some of the happiest men are first-class doubters. They are distinguished because they have the courage to face facts."

—William Feather

Seldom do we find anyone with a kind word for doubt or for "doubting Thomases." Too often we associate doubt with negative attitudes.

But, doubt can be very constructive. Most advances in knowledge are based on someone's doubt that existing beliefs are accurate or adequate, thereby providing the drive to prove or disprove those beliefs.

Arrangements made in advance of need can relieve loved ones of the burden of making painful decisions while emotion upset. Let our trained personnel explain the benefits to you... in our office or in your home. No obligation.

Nine Chelsea race enthusiasts competed in a "Cracker Box" Derby sponsored by the Chelsea Jaycees. The competition took place on W. Middle St. with the use of a special starting ramp on loan from the Ann Arbor Jaycees. Trophies were presented to the champion, Philip Musolf, and to Eugene Moore, runner-up, the award for "Best Construction" went to Scott Foster.

Water, water everywhere seemed to be the story in Chelsea. Homer Nixon, Chelsea's supervisor of the Light and Water department, reported that Chelsea residents used 1,034,000 gallons of water on that day, the first time in the history of the department that water usage topped a million gallons for one day.

34 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, July 26, 1956—According to the ruling by Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh, persons who will observe their 21st birthdays on Nov. 7 were eligible on the basis of age to vote in the Nov. 8 election. Kavanagh advised Secretary of State James M. Hare that a tenet of common law was controlling. Under common law, a person is 21 at the "first moment" of the day preceding his anniversary.

Science and the machine march hand in hand at Michigan State University. Research projects in some 30 departments of the university are speeded by the machines in MSU's central tabulating department which do anything from keeping students records to tracing milk production in the dairy herd. Dr. James C. Sternberg of the chemistry department, who used the mechanized methods in studying how a vitamin is synthesized, said "if we had to do the calculations in the usual laborious way, we would still be deep in figures and charts." About 50 per cent of the tabulating machine's work is related to MSU research projects, according to Frank B. Martin, supervisor of tabulating.

Chelsea Kiwanians held their meeting at Cassidy Lake Technical School and following the dinner, started a ballgame with Cassidy Lake players. The game was called because of the darkness with no official score announced.

The Chelsea Aquamarine club, an organization for those interested in skin diving, held its first meeting at Clear Lake. Purpose of the club was "to provide fun and safety for those participating." A former "frog man", Don Mercer of Howell, was present at the next meeting. Mercer gave instructions and demonstrated. Others in the club then were James Geer, Earl Gebott and Ronald Foster.

Chiropractic Health Care

Dr. J. Nicholas Koffeman

This week's column will discuss chiropractic care for sports injuries.

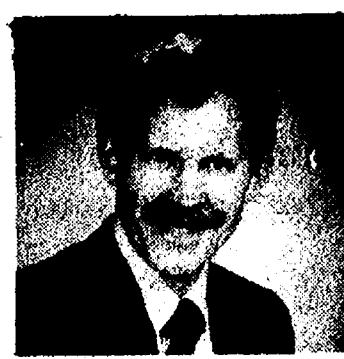

In my earlier columns I discussed how subluxations (misalignments in bones, especially of the spine, which cause joint problems and nerve impingement) were caused by dis STRESS to the body in the form of chemical, emotional and structural.

Sports injuries are a structural stress to the body. The injury will cause the body in the area of injury and its related spinal area, to subluxate.

By restoring the joint function the injury is decreased. By freeing the nerve from the pressure on it, the function is normalized.

This leads to a decreased healing time and more complete healing, which decreases the chance of recurring injury or becoming a chronic problem.

Please address all questions or comments to J. Nicholas Koffeman, D.C., 138 E. Middle Street, Chelsea, MI 48118. 313-475-2088.

DRIVERS DAVE NOLES, PAULA FINNEGAN alternated in two-hour shifts, sweating out 100-degree temperatures in the University of Michigan's Sunrunner cockpit, as they raced from the front gates of Epcot Center in Orlando, Fla., to the GM Tech Center in Warren, finishing first in a field of 31 entries competing in the General Motors-sponsored SUNRAYCE USA. Three back-up drivers were trained—just in case, but the two main drivers finished the entire race without difficulty.

A MODEL OF THE SUNRUNNER, the University of Michigan's solar-powered race car, which finished first in the General Motors-sponsored SUNRAYCE USA, featuring 31 entries from schools and universities throughout North America. During August, the Sunrunner and its race crew will join the second- and third-place finished from the SUNRAYCE USA event, travelling to Australia, under the sponsorship of General Motors, for the 1990 World Solar Challenge, a race from Darwin to the coast at Adelaide. Dave Noles and Paula Finnegan alternated as the official drivers during the Sunrunner's trip from the front gate of Orlando's Epcot Center, the morning of July 16, to the GM Tech Center in Warren, July 20. Three students were trained as back-up drivers, but were not pressed into service during the race.

U-M Sunrunner Car Places First in Solar-Powered Race

Dexter's Terry Larrow was a key technical adviser, serving on the race crew for the Sunrunner, one of 31 student-designed, solar-powered cars from schools across North America which competed in SUNRAYCE USA, an 1,800-mile, 11-day race sponsored by General Motors Corp.

Early this week, the race crew took their celebrated solar-powered vehicle to Washington, D. C., answering an invitation from President George Bush.

More than 110 University of Michigan students from the College of Engineering, the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, and the School of Business Administration, participated in the SUNRAYCE effort.

Organized in project teams, students spent more than a year designing and building the Sunrunner. A team of graduate and undergraduate business students raised more than $750,000 in individual and corporate donations for Sunrunner materials and support services.

The Sunrunner is the largest student project of its kind every undertaken at the University of Michigan.

Susan Fancy, solar car team project manager and a senior engineering major, explained, "Working on the solar car project was an opportunity to put what we've learned to work. We were able to take a car from paper to reality. In their entire careers, that's something most engineers never have a chance to do. It was an invaluable learning experience."

The Sunrunner is powered by 14,524 solar cells, each the size of a razor blade, individually soldered together and mounted in banks on the car's exterior.

The car runs on a two-horsepower motor, the size of a coffee can, and produces 1,300 watts of power in full sunlight—the equivalent of a portable hair dryer.

In addition to solving design problems, students encountered and solved challenges with costs, materials availability, and manufacturability.

The design of the solar car was bound by several constraints.

- 1) Power had to be derived from the sun, only, although solar energy could be stored in batteries.
- 2) Maximum vehicle dimensions were six meters long, two meters wide, 1.6 meters high, with a minimum height of one meter.
- 3) The solar arrays might be composed of any material, but had to fit into a hypothetical box with maximum dimensions identical to those listed for the vehicle.
- 4) The vehicle had to be able to pass a large truck traveling in the opposite direction at 80 km/hr on a narrow two-lane highway, without losing control.
- 5) The driver had to have normal car vision in all directions, and rear vision could be electronic and/or mirror.
- 6) Stop lights, turn indicators, and hazard lights were required.

General Motors was the major sponsor for the solar-powered car race, the GM SUNRAYCE USA, during which the route wound from Florida to Michigan, July 9-19.

The Sunrunner, a University of Michigan entry, finished as the top winner.

The Sunrunner and its race crew will be one of three vehicles to compete in the 1990 World Solar Challenge, racing from Darwin to Adelaide, Australia, during August.

More than 100,000 student hours have been invested in the Sunrunner project since August, 1989, including the fund-raising, design and construction, not to mention the heavily publicized race itself.

Starting the morning of July 9 at the front gate of Epcot Center (Florida), the race crew utilized the 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. race hours, with two hours before and after each race day allowed for battery charging, from sunlight.

The route included stops in Floral City and Tallahassee, Fla., as well as Montgomery and Haleyville, Ala., Spring Hill, Tenn., Bowling Green and Louisville, Ky., Indianapolis, Ind., Greenville, O., and Mason, Mich., before finishing at the GM Tech Center in Warren.

In her "Story of the Michigan Sunrunner," driver Paula Finnegan noted, "The satisfaction and sense of accomplishment felt from producing parts of the car—seeing designs become a reality—was a strong motivation for all team members."

"By far the most exhilarating and fulfilling part of the project was seeing the car in action."

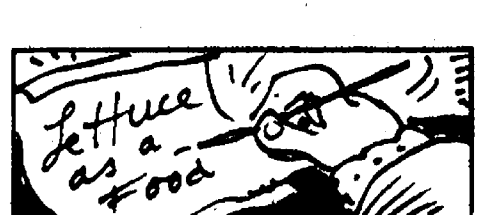

"Since March, we tested the frame of the car with test batteries, and detected no major failures."

"It's only been in recent weeks, however, that we have been successfully 'Sunrunning' with the solar array on the car."

"As the team focused on the race, the talents and strengths of each person involved became increasingly obvious."

"Our completed solar car is by no means the result of one person, or even a handful of people."

"It was truly a group effort, one of which I'm extremely proud to be a contributor."

As long as man has been able to write, he has mentioned lettuce as a food.

Co-ordinated Strategy Gains Support of Michigan Farm Bureau

With multilateral trade talks getting underway again, USDA Secretary Clayton Yeutter says the U. S. dairy and sugar programs may be the two most vulnerable programs for reform if world trade talks are successful. Michigan Farm Bureau economist Bob Craig said the farm organization would accept changes in the dairy and sugar programs if they were part of a broad based negotiating strategy.

"It's going to depend on what those changes are but as long as it's consistent all across the board for all commodities, I think Farm Bureau would be prepared to support those changes," he said. "Certainly we would not support singling out dairy and sugar."

Dressage will begin at 9:30 Friday morning, running through the day. Cross-country will start at 7:45 Saturday morning, followed by stadium jumping in the afternoon.

TOWNSHIP OF DEXTER

RECALL PROPOSAL

REASONS FOR DEMANDING RECALL OF H. DOUGLAS SMITH FROM THE OFFICE OF DEXTER TOWNSHIP TRUSTEE

1. His contempt displayed to public input at Township Meetings.
2. His continual attitude and claims that Dexter Township Citizens are not knowledgeable enough to vote on issues intelligently.
3. His continual support of the implementation of a massive Septic Sewer System that would promise to financially devastate Dexter Township Citizens.
4. His use of Office of Trustee for possible personal gains.
5. His continual disregard for the rights of Dexter Township Citizens.
6. His personal behavior as Trustee has caused unnecessary financial loss to Dexter Township Citizens and the Dexter Township Fund due to unnecessary legal actions.

STATEMENT OF JUSTIFICATION OF CONDUCT IN THE OFFICE BY H. DOUGLAS SMITH

The recall petition charges Doug Smith with untrue and unfounded claims. The people who promoted the referendum vote against the proposed sewer project for the Portage-Base Lakes area are the same backers of this recall election. Their effort was achieved by misleading the electorate that the Township at large could be left to finance the sewer project. The truth being only those getting a sewer would pay for the project. Doug has actively supported cleaning up pollution in the lakes area. He has followed the dictates of his constituents who want safe drinking water and clean lakes for everyone's enjoyment. This is a personal vendetta since all 5 Dexter Township Board members approved this project, but only two are being recalled. Doug's long and dedicated service to Dexter Township residents should not be distorted by unsubstantiated and untrue claims.

TOWNSHIP OF DEXTER

RECALL PROPOSAL

REASONS FOR DEMANDING RECALL OF JAMES L. DROLETT FROM THE OFFICE OF DEXTER TOWNSHIP SUPERVISOR

1. His contempt displayed to public input at Township Meetings.
2. His continual attitude and claims that Dexter Township Citizens are not knowledgeable enough to vote on issues intelligently.
3. His continual support of the implementation of a massive Septic Sewer System that would promise to financially devastate Dexter Township Citizens.
4. His failure to answer legitimate Township questions completely and honestly.
5. His use of the Office of Supervisor for possible personal financial gains.
6. His continual disregard for the rights of Dexter Township Citizens.
7. His personal behavior as Supervisor has caused unnecessary financial loss to Dexter Township Citizens and the Dexter Township Fund due to unnecessary legal actions.

STATEMENT OF JUSTIFICATION OF CONDUCT IN THE OFFICE BY JAMES L. DROLETT

This recall effort is the result of people opposed to the sewer system at Portage and Base Lakes. Opponents either object to the disposal site or they don't want to pay for a sewer. Many agencies including the DNR, Health Dept., independent environmental professionals and professors have reviewed and approved the project. Only those with a sewer will pay for the system. This recall is a personal vendetta as all five members of the Dexter Township Board voted to approve the project but only two are being recalled. The allegations made against Jim are unfounded and unsubstantiated. He has diligently maintained control of public meetings he has chaired. He has allowed all citizen input in over 50 hours of public debate over the sewer issue. Jim has no personal financial gain as he owns no property for development and his salary is set by the electors. Jim has supported the sewer system because it is needed to protect the health of residents, a duty to which he is sworn by oath of office. Jim has brought Dexter Township government out of the 19th Century and had the courage to go forward in spite of the personal assaults on his integrity.

CHELSEA HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 1980 held its 10-year reunion at Weber's Inn Saturday evening. About 180 people, including 95 class members, attended the dinner and dance. CATS Raising Fares Aug. 1

Chelsea Area Transportation System plans to increase its fare from 25 to 50 cents effective Aug. 1.

The current fare has been in effect since CATS began operation 14 years ago.

"Our goal at CATS has always been to provide the finest service possible at very low fare," said a CATS spokesman.

"This increase is necessary for CATS to continue its service."

CATS provides transportation for the elderly and handicapped in the Chelsea area.

She is the daughter of Marilyn Chasteen, 21 Sycamore Dr., and Dr. Joseph Chasteen of Brier, Wash.

Senior Housing Task Force Needs More Response to Survey Forms

Senior Housing Task Force is trying to determine how many people are eligible for, and how much interest there is, in affordable senior housing in Chelsea.

Survey forms designed by lenders to determine the need for the project were recently distributed to many local addresses, but not enough have been returned to make an accurate estimate.

"Without this verification, plans for affordable housing in our town cannot proceed," said task force chair Treva Winans.

"However, once we receive verification, application for monies to build affordable senior housing units can be made."

Developer Rene Papo has indicated he will donate land off Old US-12 near Chelsea Community Hospital to a non-profit local housing board for the construction of the housing.

Rentals in the senior complex will be made to individuals based on income, not assets. For example, if a senior citizen sold his home and invested the money on stocks, only the income from those stocks would be considered income. In this case, qualifying annual income would be in the $10,000 to $15,000 range for people age 62 and over.

Winans said that eligible persons should keep in mind that while they may be comfortable where they presently live and have no desire to move, it is in their own best interest to keep all options open. She said married couples should consider that their future may not include two incomes and that adult children should give consideration to the future status of their aging parents by seeing that surveys are completed for them.

Telephone follow-up is being made by Bruce Robinson Marketing for those surveys received with incomplete information or those that may need clarification.

Survey forms are available at the Senior Citizens Center in the Faith in Action building on the campus of Chelsea Community Hospital between 1 p.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Chelsea Summer Baseball Team Picks Up First Win of Season

Chelsea's summer baseball team won its first game of the season last week with a 4-3 victory over Milan. In other action, Chelsea lost to DeWolfe Excavating, 3-2.

Chelsea's win came last Thursday, July 19, but they had to rally from a 3-0 deficit after three innings.

Milan took the lead in the third on a three-run homer.

Chelsea responded with two runs in the fourth and had the tying-run thrown out at the plate.

A two-run sixth inning, featuring a two-out single by Kyle Plank and Adam Taylor's second homer of the summer, gave Chelsea the lead for good.

Ben Hurst pitched the first four innings, struck out four, walked two, and allowed three hits.

Jake Rindle pitched in relief and recorded the win. In three innings he gave up one hit, one walk, and struck out five.

"Both Hurst and Rindle did a good job on the mound," said Chelsea coach Akel Marshall.

Taylor had two of Chelsea's six hits. Jude Quilter, Steve Emmert, and Craig Ferry each added a single.

"We hit the ball a little better tonight and when that happens it makes the other team play defense and anything can happen," Marshall said.

On Tuesday, July 17, Chelsea lost a game it should have won, Marshall said.

Chelsea out-hit DeWolfe, 4-1, but struck out 14 times.

"We have to move the ball better than that," Marshall said.

"Our pitchers gave up one hit and walked seven but still pitched well enough to win."

Chelsea threatened in the first as Emmert and Rindle hit back-to-back singles but were stranded on the bases as a ground out ended the inning.

DeWolfe scored twice in the first without a hit as Chelsea committed three errors.

In the fourth inning, a triple by Rindle and a wild pitch gave Chelsea its first run.

Chelsea tied the game in the sixth as

Two walks and a double gave DeWolfe their final run of the game in the sixth.

Ferry pitched for Chelsea and had a no-hitter until the sixth inning.

"I think Ferry knows how (Yankees pitcher) Andy Hawkins feels now," Marshall said.

"He could have easily won by six or seven runs."

Chelsea plays again on Tuesday, July 31 at 8:30 p.m. at Veteran's Park in Ann Arbor.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

This letter is being written for the benefit of the person or persons who "helped themselves" to the two planters at the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club.

The Chelsea Rod & Gun Club Auxiliary purchased the planters two years ago in an effort of making the clubhouse a little more attractive, not only for the members of the organization, but also for people who rent the building for graduation parties, weddings, anniversary parties, etc. I am sure they were enjoyed by the neighbors who drive by there everyday as well. They weren't expensive items, but they meant a great deal to us. In the Spring, we would pick a date and all of us would meet at the clubhouse. The whole "planting ritual" took less than an hour, but it gave us a chance to get together and have some fun.

Perhaps, the person or persons responsible for removing the planters will find it in their hearts to return them to their original site. If not, we hope you enjoy them. Please think of the Rod & Gun Club Auxiliary next Spring when you adorn them with flowers, because we will surely be thinking of you.

Barbara Fredette, Secretary
Chelsea Rod & Gun Club Auxiliary.

To the Editor:

Are you tired of mud slinging political campaigns, misleading information, innuendoes, sound bites, and dirty tricks? If you are, then you should make sure you take a few minutes on Aug. 7 to vote NO on the recall of Doug Smith and Jim Drolett.

The people behind this recall have instigated a smear campaign against two elected officials who have worked hard to fulfill their pledge to clean up the lakes in Dexter township. For instance, when Linda Gajewski came to our house asking us to sign the recall petition, I asked what specifically was the personal financial gain that Jim Drolett was getting that would prompt his recall. I was told that with the Portage Lake sewer system going in he would be able to flush his toilet. It just doesn't make sense. It seems to me that someone who makes it possible for people to flush their toilets and clean up the lakes would get a plaque with "Thanks" inscribed on it, not a recall drive.

I've talked with some people who signed the recall petition and later found out the truth. They are now supporting Doug Smith and Jim Drolett. Won't you also? It's time to send the political tricksters a message that we won't go for their lies anymore.

Bill Kotowski.

To the Editor:

Re-cycling day, Wednesday, July 18, 1990.

Somewhere down the block, the sounds of dumping. Mostly glass. Whether it's clear or coloured is left to the imagination.

The new kid in town appears slowly, not shyly; a brilliant orange container-trailer towed quietly by an equally brilliant orange-on-white Village of Chelsea pick-up truck.

Both their brilliances and quiet match the superb summer's morning. High on July, I watch, and believe the Earth is re-blessing us now, trading for time, all of us, making our own breaks.

Thomas J. Zieziul.

To the Editor,

The upcoming Aug. 7 recall election to remove Jim Drolett and Doug Smith from the Dexter township board is but another example of the dirty tricks campaign being waged by the minority of the folks who were unable to stop the much-needed Portage Base Lakes sewer project.

All of the allegations for the removal of these two hard-working Dexter township officials are absolutely groundless and simply the personal opinions of this same minority who instigated this recall campaign.

We live next door to Jim and Gail Drolett. We realize the many, many hours that Jim spends on township business, not only on a weekly, but sometimes a daily basis. When I come home from work at night, Jim's car is usually at the township offices. I have attended most of the township board and sewer board meetings. Jim has handled his vocal opponents with the utmost of courtesy, while allowing them to spew forth venom trying to scuttle this much-needed project.

As mentioned before, all of the elected officials on the township board voted for all of the sewer program proposals, including the alternate financing through Washtenaw county. In the November referendum, voters turned down the method of financing of the sewer project, not the sewer project itself. The primary reason the voters voted "no" on the project was that they were misinformed by this same group that they would have to help to pay for the sewer.

The whole recall campaign is totally ridiculous. People should be ousted from office if they are dishonest, misappropriate funds, do not do their assigned work task, or do not carry out the will of the people. Jim and Doug are carrying out the will of the people on the sewer issue, in view of the survey taken by the Concerned Citizens. Seventy-five percent of the people in the district are definitely in favor of the sewer.

In closing, maybe there are two other members on the Dexter Township board who really should be removed to eliminate their nepotistic influence.

Robert H. Miller.

"LI'L ABNER"

Pizzazz combined with super energy describes the musical corn pone delight called "Li'l Abner" playing this Friday and Saturday at the Chelsea High School featuring a wonderful acting and singing "down home ensemble" plus one PIG.

With the Broadway opening of "Li'l Abner" on Nov. 15, 1956, the residents of Dogpatch as created by Al Capp in the Sunday paper were a part of America's family thinking. A visual hero of sorts, Al Capp did not hesitate to attack through his caricatures anybody or anyone whom he felt deserved criticism! Any idea or person was fair game.

Using the 1956 version, much of the satiric ballyhoo is dated, at least as originally planned, but the corruption still exists in Washington, D. C., and other political arenas. But, of course, never in Chelsea.

In the earlier days prior to the stage play, Al Capp's characterizations appealed to anybody who would read the newspaper funnies. Thus in originating the musical, the familiarity in 1956 of the "cast of characters" needed no explanation, everybody knew them.

Mammy Yokum (Kate Peckham), the small tyrannical matriarch, was superwoman, batwoman, and (in those days) Tugboat Annie.

Daisy Mae (Lynne Williams), who, with all of her natural attributes appealed to young men, failed to understand Li'l Abner's indifference to her.

Li'l Abner (Tim Lovelace), the big stupid, but handsome all-American boy who preferred bachelorhood to Daisy Mae, appealed to young and old alike... then and now. Pappy Yokum (Thad Bell) Mammy's diminutive partner buckled to most her commands but not always.

Witnessing Chelsea's "Li'l Abner" in the George Prinzing Auditorium, the audience is confronted with cardboard caricatures (drawn by Connie Scott and Tim Lovelace) of Mammy and Pappy Yokum, Marryin' Sam (Tobin Hissong), Li'l Abner, and Daisy Mae on the wide-open stage. With the lifting of the baton by Peter Rosheger, the orchestra overture while the curtain closed.

An absolutely marvelous setting featuring an outside view of the Yokum home, the surrounding woods, and other buildings and artifacts of nature provide for the arrival of the community of Dogpatchers singing "A Typical Day!"

The event of the year in Dogpatch is Sadie Hawkins Day. On this day (which continues to be a celebration on college campuses), single women chase the single men in the community with catchers being winners (a new husband) as it were. In Dogpatch a favorite character is Marryin' Sam whose hands are usually full on Dogpatch Day taking care of the marriages.

The basic plot dealt with Daisy Mae's efforts to get Li'l Abner to marry her; but the authors incorporated Capp's political barbs by having the U. S. Government designate Dogpatch as a suitable place for testing atomic bombs because it was thought to be the most useless place in the United States.

A second theme involved Mammy Yokum's concoction of Yokumberry Tonic, which she fed to Li'l Abner to make him strong and healthy. The subplots became interlinked when Li'l Abner took the tonic to Washington to donate it to the government, although General Bullmoose (David Morris) was willing to pay $1 million for the formula. The scientists discover that the tonic does work miracles in building up physiques but that it also, unfortunately, makes men lose interest in women.

On Sadie Hawkins Day. Appassionata Von Climax (Jerri Cole), by means of General Bullmoose's clever strategy with the able assistance of Evil-Eve Fleagle (Rod Bogart) and Stupefying Jones (Susan Schmunk) traps Li'l Abner, who is then bound by Dogpatch tradition to marry her.

Broken hearted Daisy Mae is ready to marry one of the fighting Scraggs, but all complications are solved before the final curtain. When the town inhabitants try to move the statue of Jubilation T. Cornpone into the center of Dogpatch, they discover that it bears a tablet signed by Abraham Lincoln, a fact which makes Dogpatch a national shrine and saves it from being bombed. General Bullmoose is arrested; Li'l Abner is released from having to marry Appassionata; and Mammy Yokum and Marryin' Sam break up the wedding of Daisy Mae and Earthquake McGoon (Art Finger), clearing the way for Li'l Abner to make Daisy Mae his bride.

THE PIG: Petunia the Pig momentarily steals the show as she graciously crosses the stage. She proves blondes do indeed have more fun by WAGGING HER CORKSCREW TAIL as she follows her human mentor across stage. I would not believe it if I had not seen it.

Etched directly from Al Capp's pen was the Chelsea Area Players cast. Rarely have I seen a cast faithfully selected both for looks and acting ability... even in professional companies. Although not a great singer, Lovelace could have been a model for Al Capp's original little Abner; both his acting and "down home" singing were exceptional. Tobin Hissong's physical being and his vocal talents fitted Marryin' Sam in an unbelievable caricature.

Kate Peckham would do credit to any legitimate production in the role of Mammy Yokum. Whether up front on stage or a member of the Dogpatch citizens, her character interpretation never faltered. The University of Detroit will be most fortunate to have this young lady in their student body come fall semester, 1990.

And Thad Bell's Pappy Yokum too is indeed brilliant, not only in bodily looks but in his ability to totally absorb the role of this diminutive devilish partner to Mammy. And the sleazy, green costumed Rod Bogart as Evil Eye Fleagle proved to be another acting gem in an entertaining ram-bunctious evening.

Muscle men who appear for a short time as the Dogpatch "Formularized" Husbands included Tony Allain, Mike Atwell, Brad Bauer, Mark Cwiek, John Gill, Grant Kidd, and Dana Schmunk: all muscled, and, of course, super handsome.

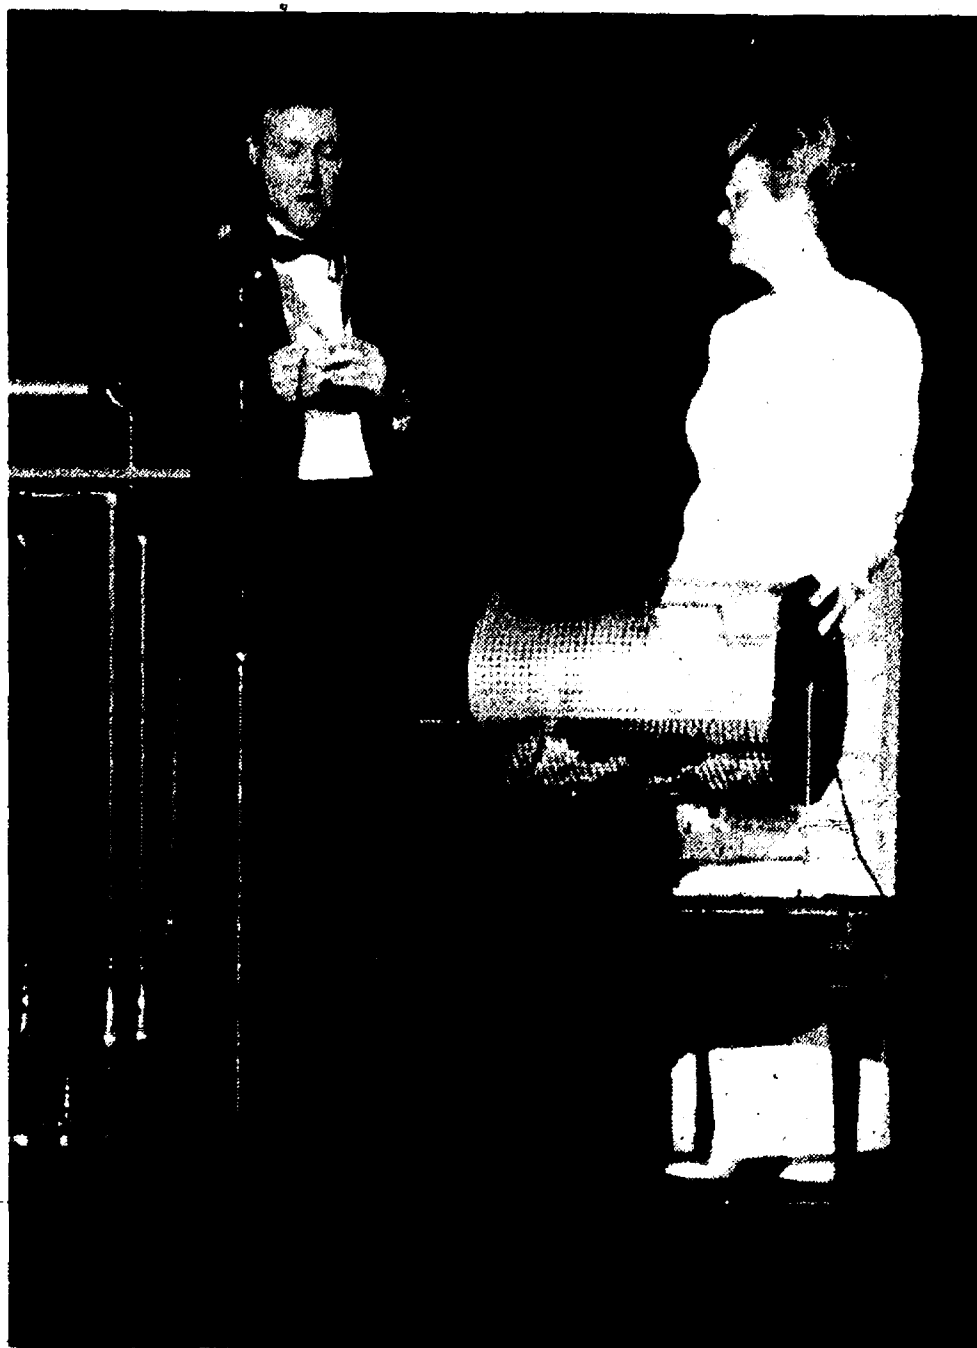

Members of the orchestra were: violins I, Holly Jorgensen; violin II, Ann Lee; viola, Judy Jorgensen; cello, Carole Palmer; bass, Mark Kemner; reeds, Mike Letovsky, Patty Letovsky, Kevin Clark; trumpet I, Dave Wolters; trumpet II, Jeremy Guenther; trombone I, Rick Wallace; trombone II, Melanie Broughton; guitar/banjo, Rob Rawson; percussion, Martha Weber; and keyboard, Steve Hinz.

With such a huge cast, choreographer Roxanne Kring pulled a miracle with "people movement," let alone required dancing, in this delightful Chelsea production. Her "Sadie Hawkins Day Race" and "Jubilation T. Cornpone" were extremely well directed dancing, moving scenes.

One slight criticism of the evening. The group voices failed to achieve the quality heard in previous productions by the CAP casts.

A round of applause must be given to T. Newell Kring as director of this Chelsea success. Cajoling and persuading amateur actors and dancers to give their all in such a well done community theatre production is a social happening!

Tickets are available at the Chelsea High School for evening performances, July 27 and 28.

THE SHOWING of "Arachnophobia" at the Michigan Theater last Tuesday to benefit the Garage Theatre in Chelsea began with a welcome by Chelsea High school speech teacher Bill Coelius, above, and a drawing for 10 posters autographed by the movie's star, Chelsea actor Jeff Daniels. Right is Gail Bauer of the Garage Theatre Foundation. The movie drew a huge Chelsea contingent, many of whom weren't afraid to scream at the appropriate times.

Council Agrees To Lot Split

Village council has approved the split of a lot at 604 N. Main St. so that another house can be constructed.

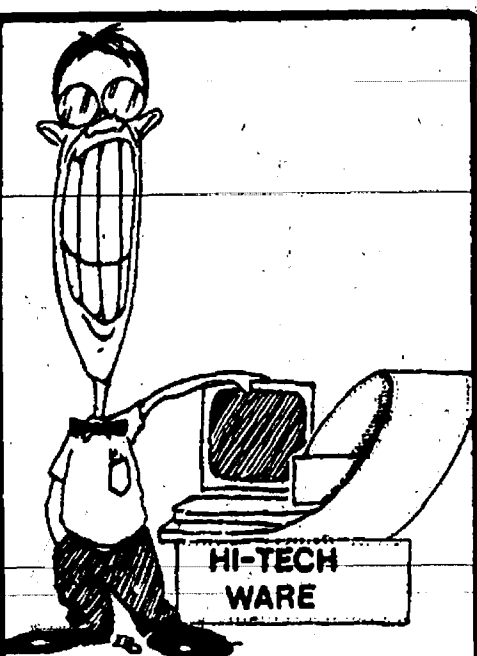

Steven Daut petitioned council to allow the split. An old barn that was just north of the existing home at the corner of N. Main and Dewey Sts. has been torn down to make room for the house.

Daut also agreed to alter lot lines so that his current house would have a larger side yard while the neighboring house on Dewey St. would have a larger back yard.

Senate OKs Textile Bill By Wide Margin

Textile quotas limiting imports to 1 percent growth per year will be imposed if a Senate passed measure wins approval in the U. S. House. Opponents of the measure, including Farm Bureau, tried to win enough votes against the bill to allow a presidential veto to stand, but the vote was 63 to 32.

"If the textile import bill does become law, it will be very difficult to negotiate the removal of foreign quotas and other barriers applied to U. S. agricultural commodities," said Al Army, director of public affairs for the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Council Obtains Sewer Jet Machine

The village has decided to purchase a truck-mounted sewer jet on a lease/purchase plan.

The machine, which will cost $21,000, will be used to clean out sanitary and storm drains. It is anticipated the village will use the machine extensively once work begins downtown on the Downtown Development Authority project.

Council wanted the lease-to-own plan because money was not budgeted for the machine.

Unusually Low Prices Hurting Wheat Farmers

Although the quality and yield of the Washtenaw county wheat crop may be a little better than average, farmers are again losing their shirts this year due to depressed market prices.

As of late last week, before the week-end rains hit, about four percent of the crop had been harvested, said Klaus Bachmann of Provico Big-H on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. He said farmers would need a couple of warm, dry days before the rest of the crop could be taken.

Of the wheat Bachmann had seen, most of it had a little too much moisture, which means it would have to be dried. Moisture was ranging between 13.2 and 16 percent. Anything above 13.6 percent has to be dried.

The rain over the week-end may cause further delays, and some of the wheat could start to sprout.

But the big blow is price. As of last week, Provico was paying about $2.80 per bushel. Bachmann said the break-even point for most farmers is about $3.40 to $3.50 per bushel. Provico bases its prices on what it can resell the grain for, plus shipping costs and a "modest profit," Bachmann said.

"It's embarrassing that in this great country the farmers are getting that kind of price," Bachmann said.

"The price should be from $3.50 to $3.80. In Texas, wheat is getting to be cheaper than corn."

Bachmann said he believes the problem is due mainly to Washington's reluctance to push wheat exports.

"We don't use enough wheat domestically and we rely heavily on exports," Bachmann said.

"So far, the federal government has hardly done any of that this year. It appears the farmer has to hope the government will get back into it. So we're anticipating much heavier wheat storage than usual by farmers."

Still, Bachmann said, that doesn't entirely explain the price situation because as of June 1 the country had less wheat on hand than it did last year.

"The 90's are starting off worse than the 80's ended," Bachmann said.

Registration Set for WCC Fall Courses

Registration begins soon for Washtenaw Community College off-campus classes in Chelsea, Dexter and Manchester. The fall classes available offer many opportunities to residents. There are 75 offered at four separate locations.

The classes range from Basic Mathematics and Business Law to Drawing and Painting and World Literature. Anyone interested in continuing their education is invited to register.

Registration will be held on the following dates and times for all classes offered at Chelsea, Dexter and Manchester off-campus sites:

Chelsea High school, Washington St., register at Western Regional Center, Thursday, Aug. 23, 6-8 p.m., Monday, Aug. 26, 6-8 p.m., Friday, Aug. 31, 11 a.m.-4 p.m.

Dexter High school, Room 311, Wednesday, Aug. 29, 6:30-8 p.m.

Manchester, register at Pleasant Lake Technical Center, Tuesday, Aug. 28, 6:30-8 p.m.

Advising will be available at the Western Regional Center Aug. 27, from 5-8 p.m. and Aug. 31, from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. An advisor will be on hand to discuss course selection, career goals, financial aid or other college concerns. Advising also is open to students registering at other locations.

For more information on classes offered in Chelsea, Dexter or Manchester or general registration information, call Steven Hartwell at 475-5935.

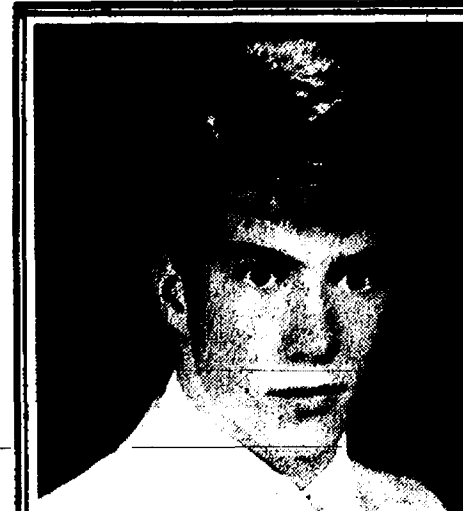

Bachmann called the current state of farming a "crisis situation," and that this decade could well be far worse than last for families losing their farms.

"We've really just seen the tip of the iceberg," Bachmann said.

Civil War Encampment Slated July 28-29 At Cobblestone Farm

The 17th Michigan Volunteer Infantry, Company E, will demonstrate military drills and military camp life at this event which takes place from 12 noon to 4 p.m. on Saturday, July 28 and Sunday, July 29. Civilian members will also be on hand to demonstrate day-to-day activities from the Civil War period including cooking and clothing making. There is no fee for the festivities.

Young Pioneers at Farm Museum Learn About Living in 1800's

Waterloo Farm Museum is offering local children the opportunity to become Young Pioneers this summer. A group of 10 children from the Chelsea and Stockbridge areas are spending time exploring what it means to live in the late 1800's. They and their parents participate in learning sessions at the Farm Museum. The sessions involve crafts making, games, and stories related to life in the past century.

The program is approaching its halfway point. The Young Pioneers have already learned how to bake on open hearth fire and make cornhusk dolls. In the next few weeks they will weave baskets, make Christmas decorations, and have an old-fashioned country picnic.

The Young Pioneers program is in its second year and growing. The length of the sessions has already been extended over last year and may still grow yet this year.

For parents and children interested in their heritage, the Young Pioneers will return next summer.

Families are always invited to visit the Waterloo Farm Museum, Tuesdays through Sundays 1 to 4 o'clock, 9998 Waterloo-Munith Rd.

The first investigation of old age associations was done in 1903 by the Massachusetts Bureau of Labor Statistics, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

THE PIERCE PARK COMMITTEE met July 19 at Chelsea Community Hospital, to discuss the next phase of the Pierce Park Pavilion, which includes the development of a base, landscaping, lighting and the placing of a plaque on-site dedicated to the donors and workers who made this project possible. Committee members seated, from left to right, are Bob Stalker, Ann Feeney, Bill Nuffer, Brian Gunderson, Frederik van Reesema, M.D., George Carter, and Rick Monier. Committee members not included in the picture are Will Connelly, Mark Cwiek, and Chuck Raeder.

Pierce Park Pavilion Will Soon Be Completed

With unprecedented public support of the Pierce Park Pavilion, $27,000 in cash, building materials and labor has been donated as of July 17. Full completion of the popular and much-needed project has been assured and there will be funds available for lighting, music stands, landscaping, sound equipment and other accommodations.

A plaque acknowledging $14,125 in gifts from more than 700 donors will soon be completed and erected in August. It will contain the names of about 1,200 individuals, couples, and Chelsea area families who donated to the Pavilion.

The project began with an initiative and contribution by the Rotary Club. Dr. Fred van Reesema, president, chaired a Pavilion Advisory Committee consisting of Will Connelly, Mark Cwiek, Ann Feeney, Brian Gunderson, Willard Johnson, Rick Monier, Bill Nuffer, Chuck Raeder, Jackie Rogers and Bob Stalker.

Three members of the committee were in charge of actual operations. Ann Feeney served as administrator. She co-ordinated numerous activities while receiving, recording and issuing receipts for hundreds of donations. Chuck Raeder, a professional engineer and president of Baseline Constructors, Inc., was the general contractor. Will Connelly handled public relations and was architect of the successful public fund-raising campaign. Contributions from major donors consisted of cash, supplies and services amounting to $8,000. Among the large donors were the Rotary Club, Lions, Chelsea Chamber of Commerce, Civic Foundation of Chelsea, the Chelsea Recreation Council, Chelsea Lumber Co., Chelsea Milling Co., BookCrafters, Typographic Insight and Heller Electric.

In addition, 12 members of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club each contributed 20 hours of skilled carpentry, greatly accelerating completion of construction. Chuck Raeder estimated the value of their labor at $5,000.

All in all, enough capital has been raised for the Pierce Park Pavilion to provide outdoor facilities for a variety of musical performances, drama, comedy, dancing and other attractions.

Thanks to our strong civic spirit, the Pavilion will be a source of entertainment, as well as cultural and educational benefits, for generations to come.

IMPLANT LENSES

There is a lot of confusion about some terms used in eye surgery—cataracts, implants, transplants, contacts—the whole subject is a "blur" to most people.

An implant is a lens that is surgically placed inside the eye at the time of cataract surgery. In cataract surgery, the normal human lens is removed from the eye because it has become cloudy. In the absence of the human lens, the lens implant is needed for focusing. The lens implant, also called intraocular lens, allows the patient to have good vision without wearing contact lenses or the thick glasses that used to be worn after cataract surgery.

The lens implant is permanent, and never needs to be removed or cleaned, since it is inside the eye. They are very small, only about one-fourth inch, but are designed to be held firmly in place. Lens implants are made of a special type of plastic, and come in different powers to correct for nearsightedness or farsightedness.

Improvements in lens implants are only one of the great advances that have been made in modern cataract surgery, allowing the great majority of cataract patients to have a rapid return to excellent vision.
