Chelsea School District Student Count Higher Than Anyone Expected

A tentative head count of students shows the Chelsea School District has 122 more students this fall than a year ago.

Superintendent Joe Piasecki informed the Board of Education last Tuesday about the unexpectedly high count.

"This represents the biggest growth this district has had in some time," Piasecki said.

"Most of the growth is in the elementary schools, there's some growth at the middle school, and a little growth at the high school."

Piasecki said the total student population, 2,427, is even higher than a Michigan State University consultant projected last year. The consultant used three figures to predict the school population. The low estimate was 2,243, the "most likely" estimate was 2,313, and the "high" estimate was 2,398.

North and South schools combined have grown by 73 students, from 1,079 to 1,152. North has a population of 582 while South's population is 570. Beach Middle school grew from 560 to 594, and Chelsea High school grew from 554 to 570.

In a related topic, Piasecki said the school district's facilities committee has recommended the construction of a new elementary school as well as extensive remodeling of the current elementary schools. However, he said no final decisions have been made.

Renovations at the high school have also been suggested but Piasecki said "that's the part that the committee is least comfortable with."

Piasecki said it's likely a bond issue election would happen by the next general school election in June.

In other business, the board ratified a three-year contract with the district's bus drivers. The pact calls for a seven percent increase, similar to raises teachers and administrators have received this year.

New drivers begin at $8.50 per hour while drivers with 10 years or more experience earn $11.40. Most drivers work a minimum of 17½ hours.

The board adopted a new athletic eligibility policy proposed by athletic director Wayne Welton.

The new policy was designed primarily to create similar policies for the middle and high schools.

New policy requires high school athletes to pass five of six classes and middle school athletes to pass six of seven classes. If a high school student only has five academic classes, he must pass all of them.

The policy essentially tightens standards at the high school but loosens them at Beach. Chelsea High school previously followed Michigan High School Athletic Association guidelines which say a student must pass four classes. At Beach, the previous policy allowed no failing grades.

Two D's also count as a failure.

The athletic department has also recommended study tables for students who have less than a C- in any subject. It is not required but "strongly recommended," Welton said.

Eligibility is being checked every two weeks at CHS and every week at Beach. The difference is due to the relatively short middle school athletic seasons.

The change, effective immediately, is being conducted as a one-year pilot project.

"Who knows, we may decide we want a tougher policy," Welton said.

Very few Chelsea high students had eligibility problems under the previous guidelines, Welton said.

Welton said the new policy is very similar to Saline's policy.

Finally, the board appointed Karen Schiff to a teaching position at Beach Middle school at the step one salary of $23,698.22. She replaces Debra Butler, who resigned unexpectedly a day before school started. The board chose not to accept Butler's resignation for legal reasons, Piasecki said.

THIS FIELD off Waterloo Rd. was plowed under last week after Livingston and Washtenaw Narcotics Enforcement Team found a field of marijuana with an estimated 500,000 plants.

LAWNET Destroys Field of Marijuana

Livingston and Washtenaw Narcotics Enforcement Team (LAWNET) destroyed a large marijuana field off Waterloo Rd. in Lyndon township last Wednesday afternoon.

The field, about 50 yards wide and more than a quarter mile long, contained an estimated 500,000 plants with an estimated street value of more than $1 million. The field was up off the road between one field of soybeans and another field of corn. The plants were growing among naturally-occurring wild weeds and plants.

Chelsea police, who received an anonymous tip about the field, informed LAWNET.

Police initially tried to chop down the plants but stopped after collecting about 500 of them. Chelsea Fire Department was called to the scene to burn the field, but the plants were too green. A decision was made to plow the plants under and police enlisted the services of a local farmer.

The day after the field was plowed a few plants were still standing. Later in the week police used all-terrain vehicles to collect the remaining plants.

As of press time, no arrests had been made. The owner of the property, an elderly woman living in northern Michigan, had rented out the property. Her tenants told police they knew nothing about the field, police said.

Police acknowledged they will probably have to use a herbicide on the field and keep a close watch on it next spring.

MATURE MARIJUANA PLANTS were growing in a field off Waterloo Rd. last week. A few plants were found standing the next day but police recovered the remaining plants by hand.

DPW Garage Problem Still Needs Solution

Village of Chelsea is still trying to figure out what to do with its public works garage on North St.

And no matter what the village decides, the solution looks as though it will be expensive.

Soil contaminated by gasoline is under a significant portion of the garage. The village is seriously considering demolishing at least that portion of the building and constructing a new building near the wastewater treatment plant off McKinley St.

Village council listened to a proposal by an engineering firm last week to use a vacuum system to draw air through the contaminated soil to vaporize the gasoline. The consultants could not guarantee the system would work, say how much it would cost, or how long the clean-up would take. They want to perform about $7,000 of tests at the site to try to answer some of those questions.

A rough estimate by the village to construct a new building is about $180,000. However, some council members said the figure was too low and the actual cost would probably be closer to $200,000. That did not cover disposal of the building at a landfill or hauling away contaminated dirt.

Girl, 9, Killed After Crash When Driver Blinded By Sun

A nine-year-old Manchester girl was killed and seven other people were injured in a two-car crash on Austin Rd. in Manchester township last Wednesday, Sept. 5 at about 6:50 p.m.

Rachel Butterfield, who was airlifted to University of Michigan Hospital, died Sept. 6 at 5:30 p.m. of head injuries.

The crash occurred, police said, when Sarah M. Butterfield, 18, Rachel's sister, driving west on Austin Rd., was temporarily blinded by the setting sun and turned in front of an oncoming pick-up truck driven by Clifford Cobb of Clinton. Sarah Butterfield was driving on a learner's permit. Rachel Butterfield was a passenger in the backseat and was thrown over the front seat on impact.

Sarah Butterfield was believed to be the only person in her car who was wearing a seatbelt. Her mother, Wanda Butterfield, 37, was in the front passenger seat and apparently took most of the impact of the crash.

Three other Butterfield children were in the back seat.

John T. Butterfield IV, 12, and April Butterfield, 14, were also taken to U. of M. Hospital. Rebekah Butterfield, 10, was treated and released at Saline Hospital.

Cobb and his wife, Bernice, were both wearing seat belts. Clifford Cobb was treated and released at Chelsea Community Hospital and Bernice Cobb was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

CHELSEA FARMERS MARKET continues to grow both in terms of the number of vendors who bring their produce and crafts to the market each Saturday and in the number of shoppers who turn out. Early shoppers find the best selection of items. Hours for the market are from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., just west of the Chelsea Depot. A new service is also being planned. Within a few weeks recyclers will also be able to drop off empty milk jugs. Details of the service are still being worked out.

Chelsea, Manchester Join To Seek Major Grant For Recycling Program

The villages of Chelsea and Manchester have decided to seek a state recycling grant for about $300,000 in a one-of-a-kind proposal.

Resource Recycling Systems of Ann Arbor, which was writing a grant proposal for Manchester and its four surrounding townships, decided at the last minute to ask Chelsea whether it would be willing to join the proposal to increase the chance of obtaining the grant. The application has to be into the state by Oct. 1. Money would come from the state's Solid Waste Alternatives Program.

Chelsea Village Council voted to join the proposal on the hope that Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, and Dexter townships would also participate. The grant would create a co-operative recycling effort among 10 units of government, which Stalker said he was told has never been set up in a rural area in Michigan.

Chelsea would receive about 60 percent of the grant money and would likely manage the equipment and run the program.

However, the operational details of the program have yet to be determined.

"Staffing will be one of the greatest challenges of the program," said Chelsea Village Manager Robert Stalker.

The program would feature curbside recycling, which Chelsea now has but Manchester doesn't, and expand Chelsea's program to include plastics and newspapers. The money would primarily cover equipment such as trailers, drop-off equipment, and bins. How the eight rural townships would participate in the program is not clear.

Chelsea voted to spend up to $5,000 for the writing of the proposal.

In a related issue, the village is looking for ways to continue the successful milk jug recycling program that was run in the schools last year. More than 80,000 jugs were collected from November through August.

Village President Richard Steele said the village should find a way to take the project because the village is "a leader" in recycling in western Washtenaw county. Steele and others also said it is important not to dampen the students' enthusiasm for recycling, which would happen if the program dies.

Trustee Frank Hammer, chair of the village's Solid Waste Committee, told council there were at least two area residents who have stored more than a ton of milk jugs in their homes in anticipation that the program would be continued. He also noted that while he'd like to see the village take the program, pressure on the village to continue it is unfair because the village has never been involved.

Hammer said he'd also like to see the schools stay involved simply because it was the children in large part who made it successful. However, storage of the jugs at the schools is a problem. The village owns a barn where the jugs may be stored once they are collected.

Next Community Blood Drive Slated Sept. 20 in Village

The third Chelsea Community Blood Drive of 1990 will be held Thursday, Sept. 20 at St. Mary's Hall from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The hall is located at the corner of W. Summit and Congdon Sts.

A meeting was held Wednesday, Sept. 5 to finalize plans.

Christine Saunders is the new blood co-ordinator for the Washtenaw chapter of the American Red Cross. She presented new forms to be filled out by volunteers, which may be obtained through Marion Kerns at 475-7440.

Barbara Pate, regional representative of blood services, discussed how Chelsea's percentage of blood donors is far above the national average.

Those who have been volunteers for a year or more received pins. They are Ellen Batzdorfer, Bertha Booker, Kathleen Chapman, Myra Colvin, Kathryn Hermon, and Kerns.

New local blood co-ordinators include Charles Burgess for St. Mary's Catholic church, Gertrude Kern for First Congregational church, and Dorothy Shippy for St. Barnabas Episcopal church.

Anyone who would like to volunteer for the Sept. 20 drive should contact Kerns.

Anyone who would like to give blood may contact a church co-ordinator, the Red Cross at 971-6534, or Kerns.

Police Crack Theft of Video Items

Two young Chelsea-area men have been arrested and a warrant has been issued for the arrest of an out-of-state student in connection with the theft of video equipment from Chelsea High school on Jan. 2.

Donald Harr pled guilty to charges earlier this summer and Andrew Maynard turned himself in and was (Continued on page two)

Four Chelsea-area youths served 10 hours on the Chelsea Police Department's work program in connection with a marijuana-smoking incident during a home football game. According to Chelsea police, two Gregory youths, ages 16 and 17, and two Chelsea youths, ages 15 and 18 were caught by Chelsea police at 9:08 p.m. smoking marijuana and hashish near the 400 building at Chelsea High school. Chelsea police approached the youths during a routine patrol of the grounds.

A vandal broke out the window of a pick-up truck as it was parked in the Chelsea High school parking lot during a home football game with Saline. According to Chelsea police, Jeffrey Mason, 18, said the incident occurred between 7 p.m. and 8:51 p.m. He said the window had apparently been smashed by a steel rod that was in the front seat of the vehicle. He said nothing was stolen from the truck.

A 28-year-old Chelsea man was charged with disorderly conduct and obscene use of a telephone in connection with an incident in the Tower Mart parking lot. According to Chelsea Police, a man broke a telephone receiver in half during an argument he was having on the phone shortly after 8 p.m. According to seven witnesses, including a store employee, he repeatedly screamed obscenities into the phone and at the store employee. Police also said the man yelled obscenities at an officer as he later discussed the incident with police on the telephone.

Chelsea Community Hospital's Rehabilitation Program successfully achieved a three-year accreditation from the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF). The Rehabilitation Program was surveyed by CARF in June and notification of accreditation was received in August. The Rehabilitation Program was established in 1981 as an eight-bed unit serving patients with disabilities, including strokes, traumatic brain injury, neurological and rheumatological disorders. Under the medical direction of Lawrence Handelsman, M.D., the program's team of professionals includes rehabilitation nursing, physical therapy, speech and language pathology, occupational therapy, recreational therapy, social services and psychology. In addition to notification of accreditation by Alan H. Toppel, executive director of CARF, the hospital received a personal letter of congratulations from Governor Blanchard.

A farm owned by Orson A. and Mary Ann Beeman, Jr., was designated a Centennial Farm by the Division of Michigan History. The farm, located in Lyndon township, has been owned by the family since July 12, 1847, when it was originally purchased from Theodore Hastings by Washington Beeman, great-great-grandfather of the present owners. When Washington Beeman first bought the land, he lived in a log cabin on the property and built a barn as his priority. Then, in 1854, he completed construction of the present farmhouse. Both the house and barn were self-designed and toiled. The Michigan History Division considers a farm to be either 10 or more acres, having estimated farm product sales of more than $50 yearly, or less than 10 acres having estimated sales of at least $250 yearly. A centennial farm comprises only the land and not the farm buildings, which may be remodeled or even new.

Washtenaw Sheriff's Police records showed three thefts. On Sept. 4 several tapes and a stereo were removed from an unlocked car on Scio Rd. near Zeeb Rd. They were valued at $214. A Holstein calf was removed from the Pleasant View Farms on Trinkle and Steinbach Rds. on Sept. 5. On Sept. 6 a 31-inch Toro lawn mower was reported stolen from the Territorial Clinic on North Territorial Rd.

Two Chelsea youngsters, Marilyn and Michelle Hafner, both 14, joined more than 20,000 enthusiasts, led by Michigan Governor Milliken, in the 1976 annual Labor Day Walk across Mackinac Bridge Sept. -8. The two sisters finished the five-mile trek in 1 hour, 18 minutes, slightly behind Milliken's time of 1 hour, 5 minutes. Both were among the first 200 to 300 walkers to cross the bridge. Marilyn and Michelle traveled to the Mackinac Bridge just to participate in the walk.

MET Adopts 1990 Price Increases, Monthly Purchase Plan

Setting aside money for college through the Michigan Education Trust Fund will cost an average of 7 percent more this year. That is the increase based on recent prices set by the MET Board of Directors. The increase is half of last year's 14 percent hike and should remain at 7 percent the next few years, said State Treasurer and MET Chair Robert Bowman.

Restraint on tuition hikes by community colleges and universities and "better than expected investment opportunities" contributed to the lower increase this year, Bowman said. At least 5,000 individuals are needed to participate in 1990 to maintain price levels. Last year, 8,864 people invested in MET, compared to 40,409 enrollees in the first year. Price hikes will not affect those who bought MET contracts in 1988 and 1989.

The MET program, with almost 50,000 children enrolled, has built a trust fund with assets of almost $350 million. One of the most recent investment opportunities is a transfer of 57 percent of MET's assets into preferred stock, Bowman said. This reduces the amount of taxes MET will have to pay.

Because of a decline in interest during its second year, the board adopted

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

a new monthly purchase plan. In the first two years, persons buying the tuition contracts had to pay a lump sum, either their own funds or money lent by co-operating financial institutions. The MET board now offers a payroll deduction plan for state employees and monthly installments for all Michigan residents as new options to entice participants, Bowman said.

Bowman attributed last year's drop in participants to high interest rates and residents viewing MET as a consumer loan, saying "people just don't like going into debt." The two new options will allow people to invest in MET without borrowing. "The monthly purchase plan increases the accessibility of MET for even more Michigan families," he said. "We are two steps closer to (year-round) open enrollment."

The base cost for one year of MET tuition for a newborn child is $2,006 under the 1990 Full Benefits Contract. The cost was $1,860 last year. With the new monthly purchase plan, an individual can purchase that same year of tuition for $35 a month over seven years. Participants will not be penalized for taking their money out early in any of the payment options, Bowman said. Under the 1990 Limited Benefits Contract, the base cost for one year of MET tuition for a newborn child is $1,947, compared to $1,864 last year.

For community college benefits, the base cost for one year for a newborn child is $1,133, compared to $1,128 last year. Bowman said the community college prices remain the least changed from year to year because the colleges have "kept the lid on tuition."

The older the child, the more MET will cost because the trust has less time to invest money before the child is ready for college, Bowman said. The price range is not as wide for community college tuition. The base cost for one year of MET tuition for community college for a 12th grader is $1,415, compared to $3,874 for the 1990 Full Benefits Contract. The monthly purchase plan will require a $50 option fee to be paid each contract year. Purchase plans are based on four, seven or 10 years of tuition. The extended application period for MET is Oct. 15 to Nov. 9.

Summer Travel Levels Off To 1989 Figures

Michigan summer travel activity appears to have leveled off at 1989 record figures, Travel Bureau Director John Savich reported. That year was the best in Michigan history, with a $10 billion summer and a $16.5 billion annual economic impact. "A softening of the national economy, a lack of new consumers in the travel market, and cool, rainy weather combined this summer to slow down Michigan's five year surge as America's most popular vacation state," Savich said.

Reports from Michigan destinations this summer ranged from flat to moderately above last year. Major destinations around the country were significant attractions this summer, he said.

Savich said while rising gasoline prices have not yet had an impact on travel, if the Midwest situation results in a general recession, it could have a serious effect on the industry.

Village Plans Fall Pick-up For Oct. 6

Village of Chelsea has scheduled a fall pick-up for Saturday, Oct. 6.

Village residents will be able to get rid of major appliances and other bulky items that can't be put out for regular curbside pick-up.

It will be the first village pick-up in more than two years. They were discontinued after the village ran into problems with its landfill license. It's also likely to be the last village pick-up.

For rules and details, look for published village notices.

arrested last week, according to Chelsea police. Maynard waived examination and the case will go to Washtenaw County Circuit Court.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Nicholas Houle, who attends school in another state, police said.

Chelsea Police Chief Lenard McDougall said none of the equipment has been recovered. He also said more arrests are possible.

The theft occurred during the high school Christmas break. Thieves used bolt cutters to gain access to the hallway where the high school's television production class is held. The equipment was valued at about $10,000.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle and his old lady got home Friday from visiting their daughter that lives in the city, so he came to the session at the country store Saturday night with a supply of clippings from different newspapers. Ed allus buys the local papers wherever he goes, and he allows they tell him a heap more about places than he could learn riding around in em.

Ed said they have got to where the car trip wears em out, so they went by airplane. He said he enjoyed the ride, especial flying above the clouds, but he kept thinking about them three airline pilots that recent were convicted of flying drunk. He said he wanted to believe people in charge of the metal tube he was in five mile in the air was in their best shape and paying closest attention to everything all the time.

Actual, Ed said, it wasn't so much that the pilots had been drinking late the night before, as it was that the jury decided they had to be drunk the next morning or they would of had more sense than to fly after a Federal inspector warned em not to. Ed said they must of been in as bad a shape as the driver that claimed his rights was violated because he was to drunk to decide whuther to take the breath test when the police stopped him fer driving drunk.

Actual, Ed said, he spent more time on the trip worrying about what's going to come of this country when the oil runs out. No matter what happens in the Middle East, he said, we have got to come up with other ways to get from place to place. Our transportation system is bound to have a stroke sooner, not later, because all the arteries are plugged up, was Ed's words.

Ed said his daughter met em at the airport and brought em back, and the wait in traffic was longer than the flying. Everwhere they went in the city, he said, there were four lanes full of cars, with a lane on each side so they could come by and pick up the pieces. Ever hour must be rush hour nowdays, and that's a odd name fer lines of cars going nowhere fast, was Ed's words.

The fellers were full agreed about the country's clogged arteries, but Zeke Grubb was of a mind we are changing the way we live whuther we like it or not. We allus change when the price is right, Zeke said. Fer instant, the price of gasoline eventual will slow us down. And as soon as the recycling industry gits enough invested in plants and equipment to handle the demand, it will have to pay enough to make it worth a feller's time to collect glass, paper, plastic and metals.

Practical speaking, Zeke said, Americans find it hard to be honest about problems. We can't git use to the idee that we ain't got the most and the best of everything. Before we pave all our pastures, he declared, we got to ask ourselves if we got to have wider roads, more axles on trucks and more two home, two income families. Even them that see clear and know what ails us ain't willing to take the medicine, was Zeke's words.

Actual, broke in Clem Webster, we ain't first in a lot. He had saw where Sweden has more televisions per 1,000 folks, Russians read more books, the Irish have a better diet and Canada has took over first place as the world's favorite vacation spot. Fer sure, Clem said, we still got a firm grip on No. 1 fer going in debt.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Breathers Club To Meet Saturday At Chelsea Hospital

The new season of the Chelsea Breathers Club will begin with "Laughter and Healthy Play" presented by Kathy Hulyk, RN, on Saturday, Sept. 15. This group meets in Dining Rooms A & B in Chelsea Community Hospital, 775 S. Main St., from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Breathers Clubs are free educational and support groups for persons with breathing difficulties caused by chronic lung diseases such as asthma, allergies, chronic bronchitis, and emphysema. They are sponsored by the American Lung Association of Michigan and made possible through the generosity of many volunteers. Family members and friends are especially encouraged to attend.

For more information, please contact the American Lung Association of Michigan at 313-995-1030.

Asthma Support Group To Hear Talk On Exercise for Child

The September session of the Family Asthma Program will be Wednesday, Sept. 19, at 7 p.m. in the EBA Club at Domino's Farms, 30 Frank Lloyd Wright Dr., Ann Arbor. The speaker will be Georgiana Sanders, M.D., who will present information on "Exercise and Your Child." There will also be a concurrent session for asthmatic children, ages 5 and up, at this meeting.

The Family Asthma Program is sponsored by the American Lung Association of Michigan and the University of Michigan Medical Center Division of Pediatric Pulmonary Medicine. The program is an educational and support group for parents of asthmatic children. Family members and child care professionals are also encouraged to attend. There is no charge for the program, and pre-registration is not necessary.

For more information, please call the American Lung Association of Michigan at 313-995-1030.

The future bride is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University and earned a master's degree in social work from the University of Michigan. The future bridegroom is also a graduate of Eastern Michigan University.

VFW Ladies Auxiliary Notes

The regular monthly meeting of the local VFW Auxiliary was held Sept. 10, with nine members in attendance.

It was reported the following Auxiliary members attended the sixth district meeting held Sept. 9 at Hanover Auxiliary No. 1155: Lois Speer, Eulahlee Packard, Geraldine Klink, Gertrude O'Dell, Lucy Platt and Bessie Sharp. A report of same was given by Eulahlee Packard.

Hospital chairman Lucy Platt reported on the hug a heart pillows for veterans who have had heart surgery and the assembly voted to supply two, which will go to veterans at the Ann Arbor VA Hospital. She also reported on care packages for servicemen now serving and going into Saudi Arabia. They are in need of soaps, shaving creams, postage stamps, stationery, etc. Toiletries are to be in small sizes.

Mrs. Platt also reported on the sale of the cancer pins, which are a picture of the Mackinac Bridge. Proceeds are for cancer aid and research. She stated there is to be a workshop at Ypsilanti on Sept. 29 and one in Ann Arbor on Oct. 27. Anyone wishing to attend should contact Mrs. Platt at 475-2236.

Q. What's the biggest problem with driving after drinking?

A. Alcohol affects your judgment, and you can't drive safely and you don't even know it! You need judgment to determine speed of your car and others; to determine distances; to determine passing times; to judge where to turn; and to know when to stop.

Dexter's Larry Wireman Wins World's Amateur Handicap Title

What has to be the dream of many a golfer became reality for Dexter's Larry Wireman, winner of the Du Pont World Amateur Handicap Championship title at The Dunes Club, Myrtle Beach, S. C.

For the 44-year-old Wireman, who resides at 7909 Chamberlin Rd., Dexter, the triumph was doubly meaningful, since he actually declared a "lower handicap" before his victory.

Monty Cook reported Saturday, Sept. 1, in The Sun News, "Wireman, a seven-handicapper, defeated six-handicapper Danny Southern of Trinity, N. C., on the second hole of sudden death during the flight winners' shootout."

Both men were tied with a net 67 after 18 holes, and Southern had a gross score of 73, while Wireman's was 74.

Wireman told a Sun News reporter, "I struck the ball as well today as I've ever struck it. I was lucky just to win my flight."

The Dexter man carries a handicap of eight at his home course, Washtenaw Country Club.

He played to a seven at The Dunes, based on his play throughout the week.

"It's the lowest it's ever been. I declared a lower handicap because I wanted to play in the first flight," Wireman explained to the Sun News.

Flight 1 in the World Amateur carried players with handicaps from scratch to 5.9.

Although many golfers would think it golfing suicide to "declare down," Wireman explained there were two ways to look at it.

He said, "You have to play well and get a lot of breaks to win any flight. It was more of a mental thing."

If he were in a tougher flight, it might force him to concentrate more effectively, Wireman conjured.

"If you shoot an 85, or an 89, in the first flight, you can wave bye-bye after the first day," he noted.

He returned with a net 68 on the final day of flighted play to edge Charlie Brasington of Plant City, Fla., by three strokes.

The Sun News reported tournament officials were forced to disqualify the tournament's over-all leader, 13-year-old high handicapper Glenn Trent, III, of Elkview, W. Va., and six others from his home course, for having unsubstantiated handicaps.

The Dexter golfer, who has won his flight in two previous World Amateur events, began his round at The Dunes by carding a 35 on the front nine, but a roller-coaster back nine saw him bogey three consecutive holes before he bounced back to finish birdie-par-par, according to a report in the Sun News.

In that story, Wireman said, after he putted out on the 18th hole to make the playoff, he remembered the wintertime discussions with his buddies about golf and the World Am.

"Mostly, we talked about choking," he said.

Playoff format would have the participants playing the first hole, then if necessary, the 18th.

The Sun News reported that Wireman teed off first, his tee ball landed under the lip of the right fairway bunker, some 160 yards from the green, and the Dexter man thought he'd lost the tournament.

However, his opponent gave him an opening.

Danny Southern's tee ball was pulled left, striking an oak tree and bounding back toward the fairway, where it landed in the two-inch high Bermuda rough, 185 yards from the hole.

Southern landed his second shot 25 yards short of the green, while all Wireman could do was pick up his nine-iron and hit the ball up over the lip, and as far down the fairway as possible.

After his third shot, Wireman's ball remained 20 feet short of the cup, his putt from there was one turn of the ball from ending the playoff, and he tapped it in for a bogey/net par.

Southern then chipped on and two-putted, sending the playoff to the 18th hole.

The Sun News reported another 240-yard drive left Wireman an easy approach shot to the 18th green, but his colleague found more trouble, after his tee shot went screaming down the right side, hitting the cart path and not stopping until it had traveled nearly 300 yards.

Distance sometimes has its price—Southern had a terrible lie, his golf ball lying on barren ground between tufts of grass.

He tried to punch it, and hit short of the green—his chip was 15 feet short.

Wireman's approach left him 50 feet from the cup on 18, and he two-putted for the title, while Southern missed his putt for par.

"A lot of PRIDE!" Wireman responded, when asked about his big win, and what it meant to him.

He modestly admitted, "I'm just a club golfer."

He explained the biggest thing he's previously won was the two-man club championship at Washtenaw Country Club with his golfing buddy, John Plichta, who finished tied for sixth in Flight 2.

Wireman admitted he might have "declared down" to keep from competing against Plichta, a seven-handicapper.

In the world of work, Wireman is president and owner of Fel-Kran Plumbing and Heating, Ann Arbor.

He and his wife Jacquetta (Jackie), have a son, John, 13, who attends Greenhills school in Ann Arbor.

Jack and Jean Wheatley, Jackie's parents, live just down Chamberlin Rd. from the Wiremans.

Larry has two brothers, Kelly Wireman, who's retired and lives in Chelsea, and Jerry, part of the work force at the Thetford plant on Jackson Rd.

Larry says he's not sure he's any kind of celebrity, but a whole lot of kids sought his autograph while he was in South Carolina.

This was his sixth participation in the Du Pont World Amateur Handicap Championship, but he's been a devoted golfer for a dozen years.

He explained he played his first round of golf at the Hickory Hills course, and a friend, Jerry Eaton, was his original golf mentor.

DEXTER'S LARRY WIREMAN, DU PONT WORLD AMATEUR Handicap Championship title winner, "declared down" from a seven to a six handicap, but still edged Danny Southern in the playoff at The Dunes, Myrtle Beach, S. C.

Clean-Up of Old Station Likely a Long Project

Chelsea Downtown Development Authority has purchased the abandoned Pump and Pantry property but may not actually take possession for some time.

DDA purchased the property on the condition that the current owner demolish the building and clean up the contamination at the site. According to DDA chairman Sheridan Springer, the contamination is apparently fairly extensive, perhaps even into the street.

The property owner has also had to obtain a new consultant on the project since their initial consultant lacked the needed expertise, according to village manager Robert Stalker. That has delayed a clean-up work plan, which has to be submitted and approved by the Department of Natural Resources.

DDA is anxious to take possession because it sees the corner as a key to its downtown beautification project. However, it's possible DDA won't be able to use the site until after the project is completed.

"If that's the case, we'll put some money aside for it," Springer said.

Walking Program To Continue in Winter

Walk Michigan/Walk for Wellness program completed its final walk for the season Friday, Aug. 24, with a four-mile walk ending with a luncheon meeting at Chelsea Community Hospital. Twenty-three walkers attended. Everyone agreed the program was a success and expressed their appreciation for all that the hospital had done to make the walks possible.

It was decided to continue with walks twice a week throughout the year, with walks on Tuesdays at 1 p.m. and Fridays at 9 a.m. Everyone present expressed a desire to continue the walks. The first scheduled walk, after the Labor Day Bridge walk, started at 1 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 4, starting from the Chelsea Senior Citizens Center.

Suggestions for walking alternatives in inclement weather included Puka Plaza, in the Jackson area, and Briarwood, in Ann Arbor. Transportation would have to be arranged through the Chelsea School District.

Other walking locations also considered were the Lower Level of the Hospital, the covered walks at the Chelsea High School and the gyms of the public schools.

Results from an evaluation given to the walkers showed that the program met the expectations of everyone; and all plan to participate again next year. Two members of the walking group volunteered to take leader responsibility for the Tuesday/Friday walks this fall.

Manchester Area Man Completes Navy Recruit Training

Navy Seaman Recruit Kurtis A. Burton, son of Carol A. Hansen of 7261 Hashley Rd., Manchester, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill. During Burton's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

His studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in physical education and hygiene.

Finance Professor To Speak At Economic Breakfast Club

David J. Brophy, associate professor of Finance at the Graduate School of Business Administration of the University of Michigan and director of the annual Growth Capital Symposium, will speak at the Chelsea Economic Breakfast Club on Wednesday, Sept. 19 at 7:30 a.m. in the Main Dining Room of the Chelsea Community Hospital. The title of his presentation will be "Venture Capital Market: Financing New Business."

Chelsea Economic Breakfast Club is co-sponsored by Society Bank and the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce and meets in the Hospital on the third Wednesday of each month. Topics and speakers which would interest members of the surrounding communities are presented.

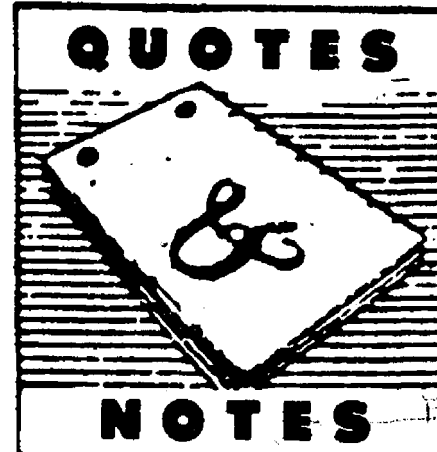

Dr. Brophy teaches courses in venture capital finance and investment, corporate financial policy, and banking. Current research focuses on the study of entrepreneurship and venture capital investment as well as the management of financial risk in financial and nonfinancial corporations.

He has written a book titled "Finance, Entrepreneurship, and Economic Development." Another book "Venture Capital Finance and Investment," will soon be completed. He has twice won the National Association of Small Business Investment Companies Research Award. He has been chairman of the Advisory Committee of the Michigan Investment Fund, a venture capital investment fund, President of the Michigan Growth Capital Foundation, and a charter member of the Michigan Venture Capital Forum. He has also served on the Governor of Michigan's Commission on Entrepreneurship.

The location of this monthly meeting has been changed for September only to the Main Dining Room in the Chelsea Community Hospital. The meeting is open to the public. A continental breakfast for a nominal charge will be served at 7:30 a.m. The program, which includes a brief question and answer session, will be adjourned at 9 a.m. Reservations are required and should be made through Mark Baily, Society Bank, at 475-9154.

Two area students studies in Germany under Kalamazoo College's Foreign Study Program. They were Janet Walling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Walling of Dexter, and Mary Meininger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Meininger of Chelsea. Miss Walling enrolled in Erlangen University in Erlangen, Germany, for the fall semester. She sailed on the "Europa," a North German Lloyd Line ship, from New York to Bremerhaven, Germany. Miss Meininger, who also sailed on the "Europa," studied for six months at Bonn University in Bonn, Germany.

Christine Fisher, daughter of Mrs. Eugene Fisher of Chelsea, participated in a three-week European study tour over the summer. The journey was offered by Central Michigan University for college credit. The group of 38 Michigan college students flew to Europe on July 31 and returned to the United States on Aug. 22.

The 125 members of the Chelsea Marching Band joined students from 34 other Michigan High schools and Michigan State University's Marching Band to form a 3,000-piece band at the 12th annual High School Band Day, at MSU's Spartan Stadium. The massed band performed at the halftime of the Michigan State-North Carolina State football game.

34 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Sept. 13, 1956—

Mary, Mike and Cindy McCalla, calling themselves the "Harmony Four," won first place in the Kiwanis-sponsored amateur contest at the Chelsea Community Fair. Other prize winners were Carol Mayer, second; Jean and Judy Bird, third; Richard Stark, fourth; and Linda Blaess, fifth prize. A total of 16 acts participated in the contest.

Marlene Kuhl, who rode on the 4-H float in the Community Fair parade, was selected as the 1988 "Chelsea Community Fair Queen." Runners-up in the queen contest were Linda Wright, Janet Bernath, Karen McAllister and Norma Hafner.

Approximately 100 representatives of Wolverine District No. 8, of the Association of Operative Millers were expected to attend the annual fall meeting held in Chelsea and in Jackson. Chelsea Milling Company was host for the annual affair.

The Canfield School District was dissolved and the property, money and assets of the district were attached to the Chelsea School District by action of the Washtenaw County Board of Education.

Free Nutrition, Fitness Lecture Slated Sept. 12

By Marion Prince Holt
 County Home Economist
 Achieving fitness is more than pumping iron or running around a track. Proper nutrition and hydration are key elements in a fitness program. Whether you are a week-end exerciser or out to win at athletic competition you can learn about "the Vital Link—Nutrition and Fitness" at a free public lecture on Sept. 12. The program, sponsored by Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service, a Human Services agency, will feature an authority on sports nutrition, Dr. Ann Grandjean.

Dr. Grandjean is the director of the International Center for Sports Nutrition in Omaha, Neb., and is chief nutrition consultant to the U.S. Olympic Committee, the University of Nebraska Athletic Department and served the Chicago White Sox baseball team in like capacity for three years. She is the author of numerous articles, chapters and books on nutrition for athletes, the nutritional requirements for human performance, and dietary habits for athletes and active people.

The program will be held at Catherine McAuley Education Center, 8906 E. Huron Rivers Dr., Ypsilanti, at 7:30 p.m.

Financial support for this program was contributed by MedSport, Co-operative Extension Service, Life Plus, Inc., Center for Fitness Research and the University of Michigan, the Ann Arbor News and Parke-Davis.

BENEFIT SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT: Weber Field was the site of the recent third annual Nicholas M. Kaiser Memorial Softball Tournament to benefit Spaulding for Children. Following two days of play, the B-One Bar team from Jackson emerged as the champion. Campbell's Softball also from Jackson, and the Doggers, sponsored by Lane Animal Hospital, came in second and third, respectively. Spaulding was presented a check that brings the three-year total to $3,400 raised for the agency. Pictured above are members of Nick's family and close friends who worked very hard to make the tournament such a success. Left to right (back row): David Kaiser, Bob Kaiser, Ken Kaiser, Terry Parker, Terry Blossom and Gary Handloser; (front row): Judy Kaiser, Dawn Kaiser and Missy Kaiser.

PREDICTIONS OF RAIN probably caused a lot of people to stay home, but there was still a nice turnout for the picnic hosted by the Washtenaw County Republican Party, Sunday, Sept. 9, at the home of Margaret and Gerald O'Connor, 4300 Saline-Ann Arbor Rd. Margaret, incumbent state representative for the 52nd District, agreed the picnic was a fine opportunity for Washtenaw county citizens to meet Republican office seekers in a relaxed setting. Representative O'Connor is pictured with Martin Straub, chairman of the county's Board of Commissioners, Peggy Haines, who seeks election in November to the post she was appointed to fill after county clerk/register Bob Hareison retired, and Dexter businessman-scientist Wally Fuslier, who arrives each September to prepare the tasty fried chicken livers at the picnic, with help from his wife Beni.

Strep Throat Season Will Be Arriving Soon

By Gail Finch, R.N.
Chelsea Family Practice Center
A common illness in children is streptococcal pharyngitis, more commonly known as strep throat. This disease occurs most often from October through April. Although anyone can get strep throat, it is most common in ages 5 through 10. It is caused by the bacteria streptococcus pyogenes (group A streptococcus).

Strep throat is spread by direct person-to-person contact via droplets of saliva or nasal secretions. Symptoms of strep throat include fever (101-104 degrees), sore throat with painful swallowing, red throat, enlarged tonsils with white patches, swollen glands in the neck, a generalized achy feeling and weakness. Some children may complain of abdominal discomfort. The incubation period is one to five days.

These symptoms can also occur in viral pharyngitis. Antibiotics are not effective against viral illnesses, but they are effective against strep throat. If your child has a sore throat and a fever, he or she should be taken to a physician, since it is difficult to distinguish strep throat from viral pharyngitis.

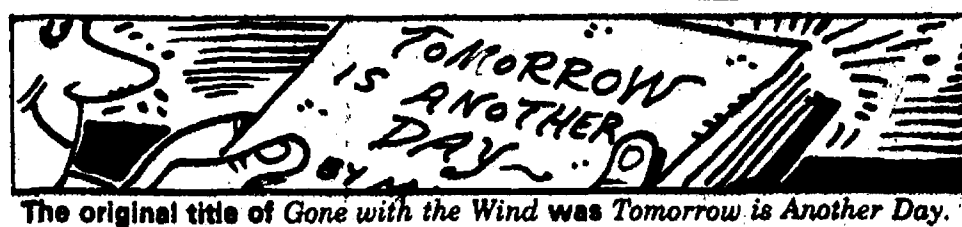

Most physicians will diagnose strep throat by doing a rapid strep screen or throat culture. If your child is diagnosed with strep throat, the doctor will prescribe an antibiotic. The prescription will usually be for seven to 10 days. It is important that you give your child the entire prescription, even if they feel better. This gives the antibiotic time to kill all of the strep bacteria in the body. Complications of strep throat, if it is not treated, are rheumatic fever and severe kidney infections.

Your child will not be contagious 24 hours after starting antibiotics. The child may return to school after the 24 hours if there is no fever and if the child feels well enough to stay in school for the whole day.

Sometimes a rash will occur with strep throat. We then call it scarlet fever or scarlatina. The child will have all the symptoms of strep throat, as well as a fine red rash that feels like sandpaper. It resembles a sunburn with goose bumps. The rash usually appears first on the upper chest then spreads to neck, abdomen, legs, and arms. The tongue may have a strawberry color and texture. If your child has a sore throat and a rash, a physician visit is needed.

Important facts to remember: 1) A child with a sore throat and a fever (with or without rash) should be checked by a physician. 2) If strep throat is diagnosed, take all the antibiotics prescribed to avoid complications. 3) Keep the child isolated for the first 24 hours after the antibiotic is started. Offer rest and lots of fluids. 4) School and activities may start after taking antibiotics for 24 hours if the fever has gone and the child feels well.

In a survey conducted by the National Employer-Supported Child Care Project, published in 1984, 90 percent of the 178 companies responding said that the child care service their business offered had improved employee morale, 85 percent said their ability to recruit had been affected positively, and 85 percent noted more positive public relations, according to the U.S. Labor Department.

FORTY-SEVEN SENIORS from Chelsea Community Hospital service area traveled by bus to the Straits of Mackinac Labor Day week-end to participate in the Governor's annual Labor Day Mackinac Bridge Walk. Albin, Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Dexter, Frontier, Gregory, Hillsdale, Jackson, Manchester, Parma, Pinckney, Saline, Stockbridge, Whitmore Lake and Ypsilanti were represented. The group left the Chelsea Senior Center early Sunday morning, traveling to Petoskey where they stayed overnight. Early Labor Day morning they continued across the straits by bus to St. Ignace, where the walk began. The weather was perfect; everyone had a wonderful time. The seniors arrived back in Chelsea Monday evening. The trip was an outgrowth of the Walk Michigan/Walk for Wellness program sponsored by the Senior Health Connection. The group will continue regularly scheduled walks on Tuesdays at 1 p.m. and Fridays at 9 a.m., leaving from the Chelsea Senior Citizens Center. Anyone interested in walking is invited to join the group. For more information, call 475-3938.

Nature Events Slated At Hudson Mills Park

Several nature events will be held at the Huron-Clinton Metroparks during the period of Sept. 14 through Sept. 16.

Two nature events will be held at Hudson Mills Metropark near Dexter.

"Nature Stories for Children," a program of nature tales and activities for young children, will be held Saturday, Sept. 15 at 11 a.m. Participants should meet at the Activity Center.

"Vines, Weeds and Wildflowers," a naturalist-led walk in search of some of the plants still going strong this late in the summer, will be held Saturday, Sept. 15 at 2 p.m.

Most programs are "free," some may have a nominal charge and advance registration and a vehicle entry permit are required.

"CLEARY'S BUSINESS CURRICULUM PROVIDES EXCELLENT EDUCATION FOR THE ENTREPRENEUR"

John Kuderik, Accountant, Kuderik & Co.

"I always thought of starting a business of my own while still receiving my education in a large university. But soon, I realized that larger universities only provided a small fraction of the business education that was needed to run my own company."

"One day while on a visit to Cleary, I found that the programs and classes offered at Cleary were more business oriented and suitable to my needs. The classes are geared toward a practical business setting, with fine staff and faculty to provide individualized assistance and personalized attention. That prompted me to enroll immediately! At Cleary, I focused on classes that helped me work toward my accounting degree."

"Today I am the proud owner of Kuderik and Company, an accounting firm which Cleary College helped make possible through its business education program."

Call the Admissions Office at Cleary College for information about programs in today's fastest-growing fields: Accounting, Business Computer Systems, Management, Marketing, Business Office Systems and Allied Health. Classes begin September 19.

Rehabilitation Memorial Award Presented By Methodist Home

The first annual Ann Maly Memorial "Spirit of Rehab" award was presented by the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home's Rehabilitation Department to Blanche Kaiser from the Home's Housekeeping Department. The award was given in memory of Ann Maly, a physical therapist who died in December 1989.

Mrs. Kaiser was selected for the award because she best exemplified Ann's positive "can-do" attitude; her concern for quality of life; her sensitivity and responsiveness to resident's needs; and her commitment to the philosophy that activity promotes wellness. Ann's son, Scott Maly, and her daughter, Katy Maly, were on hand to present the award.

Ten staff members were also recognized with certificates for their contributions. Four individual
"runners-up" plaques were awarded to Iva Graham, RN, and Sara Sum-merfelt, LPN, as well as to two nurse assistants, Janette Henderson and Sherry Esch.

The Rehab Department presented the awards in conjunction with its first anniversary, having been established by Patricia J. Dukes, Ph.D., director, on Sept. 5, 1989. The department offers physical, occupational and speech therapy, as well as hearing consultations. The clinic is also licensed to provide out-patient services.

Persons interested in further information about rehab services may contact the Rehab Department at

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Bulldogs Drop SEC Opener To Saline, Host Big Reds Friday

Chelsea Bulldogs have "our backs to the wall," in the Southeastern Conference football title chase as Saline won here last Friday night, 26-13.

The Bulldogs host defending co-champion Milan this Friday in a crucial game for both teams.

"Someone is going to be eliminated from the race Friday," said Chelsea coach Gene LaFave.

"Milan lost last week so they're in the same spot. Saline has two or three tough games yet."

Chelsea will have to shore up its kicking game and cut down on turnovers in order to be a factor in the SEC race. Two of three turnovers led to Saline scores. However, the offense had a solid game and the defense had several big stops deep in Saline territory, even though it gave up 399 total yards and 322 yards on the ground, most of it in the second half.

"We had a lot of opportunities to win," LaFave said.

"However, Saline took better care of their opportunities. There were a number of key plays. They stopped us twice on fourth down and short, and we fumbled in the end zone. They also made a big interception when we were ahead. We also can't afford to give them the ball at midfield all night."

Chelsea had a 13-12 lead with 7:10 left in the third quarter as Jude Quilter scored from two yards out and Rick Westcott booted the extra point.

The Bulldogs grabbed a Saline fumble less than two minutes later at their own eight-yard line, moved the ball to the 30 behind Quilter's running, then threw a 28-yard interception at the Saline 42.

Five plays later running back Tom Boivan (15/152) scored from the seven to give Saline the lead for good.

Chelsea's next drive, of 18 yards, ended at the Saline 31 as Quilter was stopped on a fourth and three.

Saline quarterback Tom Reeves (9/97) scored on a 27-yard scramble on the Hornets' next drive to give his team a 26-13 lead. Reeves, who didn't have a good passing night, hurt the Bulldogs several times with his ability to maneuver his way out of trouble.

The Bulldogs came back strong on the kick-off as Quilter took the ball to the Chelsea 47. Quarterback Tucker Steele completed four passes in the drive, including a 14-yard strike over the middle to Adam Taylor on fourth down and a 12-yard pass to tight end Craig Ferry at the one. Two plays later the Bulldogs fumbled the ball away in the end zone on a bad hand-off.

"If we had scored I think we would have had a good chance," LaFave said.

"We have a good two-minute offense."

The Bulldog mistakes overshadowed another good offensive performance by running backs Quilter (20/104) and Westcott (12/99). Quilter scored both touchdowns and caught three passes.

Steele completed 6-10 for 67 yards as he hit four different receivers.

Both teams had good field position virtually the entire game, partially because neither team had much of a kicking game. Saline began drives at their 47, 22, 39, 34, and the Chelsea 17, 40, and 43. Chelsea drives began at the Chelsea 28, 22, 34, 14, 47, midfield, and the Saline 49.

The game started out as though it might be high scoring. Chelsea took the opening kick-off and drove 50 yards for the score behind the running of Quilter, Westcott, and Steele. Quilter scored on fourth down from the two.

Saline answered with a 53-yard scoring drive of their own on the next possession and the game was knotted at 6 with 5:00 left in the quarter.

Chelsea fumbled the ball away on the kick-off at their 17, but Saline moved two yards before being stopped on downs. Neither team scored the rest of the half as the defenses dominated the game.

Milan has shown a strong defensive unit but not much offense, according to LaFave.

"Jesse Walker is gone, and they don't seem to have that great threat anymore," LaFave said.

"However, up front they're a huge team. It should be a good game."

Bulldog Boys Take 11th In First X-Country Meet

Chelsea boys finished 11th in the 14-team Bath Invitational cross country meet last Saturday.

"The boys ran decently," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"We have no front-runners so it makes it difficult for us to rise from the middle of the pack."

Tobin Strong cut 40 seconds off his previous best time and Dan Zatkovich broke 20 minutes for the first time ever. J.J. Hanke also recorded a personal best time.

Chelsea was led by Jim Hassett, who finished 33rd in 18:02. Other varsity finishes included Kelly Beard, 37th, 18:08; Ben Vermeylen, 46th, 18:43; Justin White, 54th, 18:58; Strong, 55th, 19:01; Mike Reese, 79th, 20:12; and Brian Andress, 81st, 20:15.

Junior varsity finishes included Zatkovich, 7th, 19:23; Hanke, 29th, 20:18; Dave Sayer, 49th, 21:59; Dan Alber, 72nd, 23:50; Tony Trotter, 73rd, 23:58; and Mike Kennedy, 77th, 24:00.

"We will improve as the season progresses because this team works very hard," Clarke said.

RICK WESTCOTT breaks into the secondary for one of his several fine runs against the Saline Hornets last Friday night. It was one of the best games ever for Westcott, who gained 99 yards.

Bulldog Cagers Win Two More But Scharphorn Out Indefinitely

Chelsea Bulldogs won two more varsity basketball games last week but are faced with the possibility of losing top scorer Colleen Scharphorn for most of the season.

Scharphorn injured her knee on a routine play in last Tuesday's 53-52 victory over Fowlerville.

"That was the one thing we were afraid of," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter.

"We'll just have to pick up the slack in other areas."

Scharphorn went out in the opening minutes. With two minutes to go the Bulldogs were down by seven points.

Christine Burg rebounded a missed free throw and scored, and later stole the ball and scored to narrow the gap to two points. Burg eventually made another free throw to cut the deficit to one point.

Carrie Flintoft stole the ball, called timeout, and the Bulldogs took it out. Shawn Losey's shot was blocked into the hands of Mercedes Hamner, who laid the ball in to give Chelsea the lead with eight seconds left. A close shot was missed on the other end as time expired.

"It was good we came back because it was a real struggle all night," Rosentreter said.

The game was fairly close most of the way. Chelsea had a 29-24 lead at half-time and a 37-35 lead after three quarters.

Burg led Chelsea with 18 points and Flintoft scored 12. Other scorers included Sarah Devine 8, Hamner 7, Kristin Bohlender 2, Losey 2, and Scharphorn 2.

Chelsea was 23-42 from the field and 7-12 from the free throw line. Hamner had a team-high 15 rebounds.

The Bulldogs also struggled on Thursday even though they won 48-30 over Stockbridge, Rosentreter said.

Chelsea made 18 of 53 shots from the floor, and most of the misses were close shots, Rosentreter said.

Free throw shooting was also off as Chelsea made 11 of 23 shots.

"Our free throw shooting just has to improve," Rosentreter said.

"That and our lay-ups. The game was a lot closer than it should have been."

Burg paced Chelsea with 17 points, including a three-point field goal. Other scorers were Hamner 12, Flintoft 6, Devine 4, Losey 3, and Heather McConeghy 3.

Golfers Beaten By Dexter

Chelsea Bulldog golf team lost their third straight match last week when they were beaten by Dexter, 168-179.

Chelsea's Chris White was the low scorer of the match with a 40. Other Chelsea scores were Alex Hamerschnidt 44, Nathan Oake 46, and Aaron Tanner and Rick Clouse each with a 49.

Dexter was led by Mike Doletsky with a 41.

Chelsea's junior varsity team also lost 192-209.

Chelsea scores included Cory Brown 47, Jason McVittie 52, and Chris Walton and Scott Pacheco with 55 each.

"When we become more consistent with our scores we should start doing better as a team," said Chelsea coach Jim Tallman.

"Right now none of the team is able to put two good rounds together."

As America approaches the year 2000, veterans in the labor force will fall into two categories: Vietnam-era and post-Vietnam-era, according to a report, Workforce 2000 and America's Veterans," prepared by the Labor Secretary's Committee on Veterans' Employment.

JUDE QUILTER is off to the races Friday night and gained 104 yards in a losing effort. Chelsea hosts against the Saline Hornets. Quilter scored two touchdowns Milan on Friday.

Bulldog Girl Runners Pick Up Right Where They Left Off

It didn't take long for the Chelsea Bulldog girls cross-country team to display its talent and depth as the Bulldogs easily won the 14-team Bath Invitational last Saturday with 33 points.

Marshall, the second place squad, finished with 87 points.

"We looked very impressive," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"Every girl on the varsity and junior varsity won a medal. Beth Williams ran her lifetime best and Lisa Monti cut two minutes off her time from last year. Sarah Brosnan and Sarah Henry looked very good."

Monti began where she left off last year as she took first place with a time of 19:33. Chelsea girls who followed were Val Bullock, 4th, 20:55; Brosnan, 7th, 21:29; Henry, 9th, 21:35; Williams, 12th, 21:52; Tracey Wales, 24th, 22:39; and Jessica Holton, 26th, 22:46.

Chelsea's junior varsity runners included Carmen Smith, 1st, 22:09; Charity Allen, 2nd, 22:31; Christine Mignano, 4th, 23:16; Beth Bell, 5th, 23:56; and Emily Anderson, 12th, 27:34.

New Golf Course Open at Hudson Mills

All 18 holes of the new golf course at Hudson Mills Metropark near Dexter are now open to the public.

The second nine holes opened recently according to Gary C. Bartsch, park superintendent. The course covers 6,834-yards with a par of 71.

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority has spent over $1.4 million to develop this new course, according to Robert W. Marans, HCMA commissioner who represents Washtenaw county. This includes golf course development, service yard, parking lot, turf preparation, maintenance building, fences, gates and a trailer now used as a golf starter building until a permanent structure is built.

Hours are (when weather and frost conditions permit) 7 a.m. to dusk daily, with earlier hours on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

Rates are: Weekends and holidays: 9-holes, $9, 18-holes, $14; Weekdays: 9-holes, $8, 18-holes, $12.

Golfers must provide their own equipment, however, power carts, hand carts, and a limited line of golf accessories are available at the Golf Starter Trailer. Power cart rental rates are: 18-holes, $16, 9-holes, $9, Junior (17 years of age and under) and Senior golf rates are available weekdays only (except holidays): 9-holes, $5, and 18-holes, $8, with reduced cart rentals at $7 for 9-holes and $11 for 18-holes.

Food service is available at the Snack Bar located in the Golf Starter Trailer.

Entrance to the course is at 4800 Dexter-Pinckney Rd., between the Village of Dexter and North Territorial Rd. (This entrance is separate from the regular park entrance to Hudson Mills on North Territorial Rd.)

A 1990 Vehicle Entry Permit is required (Annual: regular, $10, senior citizen, $5, or Daily: $2).

JV Cagers Beat Stockbridge, Fowlerville To Go 3-0

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity basketball team improved its record to 3-0 last week with victories over Fowlerville and Stockbridge.

The Bulldogs beat Fowlerville 51-35 on Tuesday on the strength of a 19-8 second quarter.

Chelsea scorers included Dilworth 12, Smith 11, Flannery 10, Jamie Collinsworth 8, Piasecki 6, Schiller 6, Lindsay Johnson 4, and Carty 2. Schiller had 13 rebounds and Flannery had nine steals.

Other members of the team include Kyle Klink, Alicia Lafferty, Tracy Patrick, and Renae Skelly.

"We made a couple of adjustments after the first quarter so Fowlerville's good guard couldn't score," said Chelsea coach Paul Terpstra.

"We also did a good job stealing the ball."

Ginny Flannery paced Chelsea with 18 points, 10 steals, and five rebounds, while Molly Dilworth added 18.

Other scorers included Nicki Piasecki 4, Jackie Crawford 3, Erin Schiller 2, Mara Smith 2, Liz McLaughlin 1, and Laura Carty 1.

"Over-all it was an improvement over our first game and we were able to get inside consistently," Terpstra said.

In Thursday's game at home against Stockbridge, the Bulldogs won decisively, 59-10.

"I really thought it was going to be a much closer game," Terpstra said.

Chelsea outscored Stockbridge 20-0 in the third quarter to run away with the game. The score could have been more lopsided had the Bulldogs shot better than 1-12 from the foul line.

Junior Dogs Lose at Saline

Chelsea Bulldog junior-varsity football team suffered a 6-2 loss at Saline last Thursday.

It was the second loss in a row for the freshman-laden squad, although they gave up 50 fewer points than last week.

"Defensively we played pretty well, but we had a tough time sustaining our drives," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

"We had three interceptions and just didn't execute very well on offense."

A snap through the end zone on a punt attempt by Saline gave Chelsea their only two points, in the first quarter.

Saline scored in the second half. Welton praised the play of linebacker David Brock, noseguard John Bobo, tackle Ed Walter, defensive end Paul Taylor, and strong safety Gabe Bernhard, as well as running back Matt Montange.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

I can only recall about two or three times in the last six football seasons when the Chelsea varsity football team was thoroughly outplayed by a better team. Most of their losses have been the result of their own mistakes.

The Bulldogs again proved to be their own worst enemy in last Friday's 26-13 loss at home to the Saline Hornets. Three turnovers, including a fumble on an apparent Chelsea touchdown with two minutes to go, were the biggest factors in the outcome.

The kicking game was terrible—one shanked 18-yard punt, several short kick-offs, and a fumble on a kick-off return gave the Hornets excellent field position most of the night. The lone bright spot in the kicking game was Rick Westcott's one extra point, which he pounded through the goal posts with authority. The kick probably would have been good from 30 yards or more.

There were other problems. On several occasions the Bulldogs appeared to have Saline quarterback Robert Reeves trapped in the backfield, but somehow the guy escaped and more often than not created a big play. On one extra-point try, the Hornets lined up to kick the ball while Chelsea coach Gene LaFave was yelling, "They're gonna fake it!" Sure enough, the Hornets not only faked it, but blew the snap. Yet somehow Reeves managed to find a receiver in the end zone for two points. He turned out to be an ineligible receiver, the game film showed.

That's the kind of game it was.

Yet there were many bright spots for Chelsea. Jude Quilter and Westcott ran the ball very effectively, so effectively that the Bulldogs didn't throw the ball once the entire first half. Chelsea's reluctance to put the ball in the air in the first half, with a good hurler and fine receiving corps, was probably the biggest surprise of the game.

The Bulldog defense also had a couple of key stops deep in Saline territory against a solid running team.

So Chelsea is 0-1 in the Southeastern Conference. Two losses and they don't stand a chance of winning the league. That makes Friday's home game against winless Milan virtually a must-win situation.

The Bulldogs can win every game from here on out if they don't self-destruct with turnovers and other mistakes. Just put a little flubber in the ball for kicking situations and we're all set.

How would you feel if the Chelsea School District were to adopt random drug testing for athletes and cheerleaders? Would you say "it's about time," or would it make your skin crawl?

School districts around the state are closely watching the situation in Melvindale, where a cheerleader refused a drug test and the American Civil Liberties Union filed a law suit on her behalf. She claims she was being punished for something she didn't do. ACLU will probably argue invasion of privacy, unreasonable search or some other constitutional aspect of the case.

Random or not, drug testing for athletes and cheerleaders is a bad idea for a lot of reasons.

Not only are there numerous constitutional problems with it, but singling out those kids is discriminatory. I don't see how a district can justify testing athletes and cheerleaders if it doesn't also test all its students, as well as teachers, bus drivers (wouldn't you like to have a zoned-out bus driver taking your kids to school?) and administrators, and maybe even its board members.

I could rant about this issue forever on a number of points. But my main quarrel with testing students for drug use is the attitude it suggests.

"Here kid, we don't trust any of you. Pee in this bottle, please." That's the message of the policy and it's a horrible attitude to have toward young people. Drug testing institutionalizes suspicion, which in the long run will cause more problems than it cures.

Talk about a problem. Cross country coach Pat Clarke has a big one; too much talent on his girls' team.

In one of the strangest quirks I've ever heard of in a varsity sport, all of Clarke's three tri-captains ran for the junior varsity team in the first meet of the season. They just couldn't crack the top seven.

Imagine that. Your team is so darn good your captains are second stringers.

The captains are all excellent runners and in 99 out of 100 seasons would have no problem. In fact, they're probably better than most runners at other schools.

And they will have a big impact here. The season has barely started.

Swimmers Top Willow Run

Chelsea Bulldog swim team got off to a quick start last Thursday night with a 64-26 victory over Willow Run Flyers.

In the process, Kelly Cross qualified for the state meet in two events. Cross finished the 50 freestyle in :26.51 and led off the 400 freestyle relay with a :57.90.

"Kelly proved that year-around swimming is the key to success," said Chelsea coach Dave Jolly.

"Her time in the 50 free was blazing fast for this time of the season."

The Chelsea medley relay team of Melissa Thiel, Michelle Hollo, Erika Boughton, and Cross finished first in :2:05.37.

In the 500 freestyle, Boughton won in 6:03.02. It was the first time she has competed in the race in two years of high school competition. Jolly said the time was "an excellent starting point" for the season.

Melissa Thiel swam a 1:09.30 in the 100 backstroke to take first place.

"The over-all attitude of the team is good," Jolly said.

KELLY CROSS didn't waste any time this season as she qualified for the state swim meets in two events at the Chelsea Bulldogs' first meet of the season.

CHELSEA BULLDOG TENNIS TEAM shows off the trophy they won for winning the Pinckney Invitational last Saturday.

Bulldog Netters Win Pinckney Inv.

For the second straight year the Chelsea Bulldog tennis team won the Pinckney Invitational.

"The score of the Saturday tournament was Chelsea 25, Howell 21, Gabriel Richard 18, and Pinckney 16.

Chelsea took five first places out of the eight flights.

Gold medals were awarded to Amy Mitchell at first singles, Sara Musolf at second singles, Katie Neal at fourth singles, Lissa Hamrick and Jane Pacheco at first doubles, and Theresa Hurst and Monica Hansen at fourth doubles.

"The gold medals alone would not have won the trophy for us, it took a team effort," said Chelsea coach Terri Curtis.

"The match was close all the way. At one point we only led 14-11. Two other second-round flights helped win the match."

Sarah Gegenheimer lost her first round but came back to win her second. Becky Vetter and Julie Weiss lost their first round, won their second, and lost their third.

Mitchell beat Avis Connellan of Gabriel Richard, 4-6, 7-6, 6-4, and Laurie Maciag of Pinckney 7-5, 7-5; Musolf beat Christine Folding of Pinckney 6-3, 6-2; and Mary Guryzinski of Gabriel Richard, 6-3, 6-2; Neal defeated Andrea Powers of Pinckney, 7-5, 6-2 and Danielle Bodalski of Gabriel Richard, 6-1, 6-4; Hamrick and Pacheco defeated Hayley Herrero and Na Lee Park of Gabriel Richard 6-0, 6-0 and Debbie Quackenbush and Jenny Turnbull of Howell, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2; and Hurst and Hansen defeated Maxey Masters and Tracy Fisher of Gabriel Richard, 6-0, 6-0 and Chris Newman and Lisa Romanowski 3-6, 6-4, 6-1.

In other action last week, Chelsea whipped Brooklyn Columbia Central, 6-1 as they swept the singles and lost one doubles match.

Mitchell defeated Katie Gulliver 6-3, 6-4; Musolf defeated Julie Horthrop 6-3, 7-5; Gegenheimer won by default after leading the first set; Neal defeated Val Allmen 5-7, 6-1, 6-2; Pacheco and Hamrick defeated Julie

Nature from Your Backdoor

By Glenn R. Dudderar

Something we don't often mention in this column is threatened or endangered species. The reason is that, by the time a species makes it into one of these categories, most people aren't going to encounter it in their backyards.

One threatened species does occur on the edge of backyards of many Michigan residents, however, and an incident this past summer brought it to my attention. Its presence illustrates one reason why we want to protect endangered species and work to restore them to significant numbers.

I'm talking about the river herring. In sampling fish populations last summer, the Department of Natural Resources reconfirmed its existence in the Muskegon River. To the best of our knowledge, small numbers live in rivers such as the Grand, Muskegon and St. Joseph, where they are threatened by habitat loss and water pollution.

The Grand is the longest river in Michigan. A lot of people have property that abuts the Grand or the Muskegon, so this threatened species is in the backyards of many people. It's easy to distinguish from the other fish you might see there.

It's a chubby, torpedo-shaped fish with a soft sucker mouth and pink to bright red fins. The shorthead and greater herring are similar in appearance, but their body shape is flatter from side to side. Full-grown river herring suckers may reach 3 to 4 pounds.

Because of their red fins, these fish are easy to see in clear water when they're spawning over gravel or feeding in shallower areas. Anglers who succeed in coaxing a big herring to suck up a baited hook will be impressed with the battle the fish gives them.

I'm frequently asked why we should be concerned about the fate of a threatened or endangered species. In the case of the river herring sucker, its has value as an attractive addition to the aesthetics of water recreation, whether you're fishing, swimming, canoeing, or just sitting and watching the river.

The river herring is also what biologists call an indicator species. Like the canary in the coal mine that alerts miners when the air quality is declining, the river herring tells us by its decline that water conditions are deteriorating. When the river herring moves back into an area, it means we have made some headway in our efforts to improve water quality and living conditions in that area.

Those are reasons enough to want to maintain and increase the river herring. But there's another reason, too: someday we might need it for some purpose that we don't recognize or aren't aware of now.

One way the river herring might prove valuable relates to its diet. It's a mollusk eater — it feeds on freshwater snails and clams. A freshwater clam called the zebra mussel, which was accidentally imported into the Great Lakes from Europe by ocean-going vessels, is the newest threat to our aquatic environment. Because it reproduces and lives in huge masses, it's already caused problems with municipal water systems by clogging intake pipes. Other problems caused by its presence on underwater structures and boats are bound to occur as it spreads to inland lakes and streams.

It could be that a well managed population of river herring suckers could help reduce the problems caused by the zebra mussel. We would have to do a lot of habitat improvement, of course, to bring herring sucker populations up to levels where they could affect the zebra mussel. A management program would have to include efforts to improve water conditions as well as introduce the sucker to new areas. If it succeeded, the river herring sucker, along with the sheepshead, sturgeon, canvasback duck and scaup, may help reduce the damage that these prolific mollusks may cause.

(It's interesting to note that two of these — the sturgeon and the canvasback duck — have also been greatly reduced by habitat destruction and exploitation.)

Perhaps the river herring sucker and the zebra mussel will help us realize that it's in our enlightened self-interest to preserve other species: we never know when we will have a critical need for one of them somewhere down the road. In the meantime, in the case of river herring suckers, improving their habitat improves ours, too, and preserves these colorful residents of nature from your backdoor.

Webster Church Group To Address Mental Illness

A small and enthusiastic group of concerned members and friends of Webster church have banded together to work toward developing a new and needed ministry with persons suffering from mental illness.

The Rev. John P. Gardner, pastor of Webster church, states: "We are attempting to determine in what ways the church can minister with and for people with mental illness. Specifically, we are asking the tough question, can the church develop and muster resources to embark upon a housing ministry with and for people suffering from chronic mental illness?"

The many problems that plague the mentally ill, and their families, are not new to those who are meeting in the working group. "For more years than I care to number," comments the Rev. Gardner, "the subject just wasn't talked about. The fact is Webster church has more than two or three families touched by this illness. We now hope to delve deeper than coffee hour chat. We hope to educate ourselves, develop working strategies for ministry, and forge a model of ministry that will offer compassion and understanding for those affected by serious mental illness."

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Assoc. of Investors Corp.
& Consulting Editor, Better Investing

Q. Would you please discuss mutual funds that emphasize income?

A. There are several types of mutual funds that emphasize income. Money market funds emphasize both income and instant liquidity, and are very popular for those purposes. Many daily papers, such as the Wall Street Journal and Investors Daily, run a list of money market funds by rate of return at least once a week so you can easily see which ones will give you the most income. These funds do not pay a guaranteed rate. Their rate changes every day and depends upon what securities the fund is currently holding and earning. While these funds have been very safe so far, it is possible that an investment could go bad at some time. The funds which invest only in U.S. Government obligations are probably the safest.

There are a number of mutual funds which emphasize income, but invest in bonds and stocks where the yield is very good. These funds are shown on the various lists as income funds and their records for five and ten years are shown in the Forbes and Business Week annual mutual fund editions.

There is also a group of mutual funds which invest in regular stocks, but emphasize stocks which increase their dividends regularly. Those funds will not yield as much on your investment today as some of the other types, but you might expect the income to increase each year by around five percent.

Some funds invest strictly in bonds of corporations where the rates are higher. The risk, of course, is also higher, but you have the skill of the fund's management and the diversity the fund provides helping to reduce that risk.

If you are in a high tax area, you might want to look at tax-free municipal bond funds. Some of these are only tax free as far as federal income tax is concerned. Others are tax free both for federal and state taxes and you can even find some that are tax free in your city as well.

1 Peter 2:2 - "Like newborn babies, crave pure spiritual milk, so that by it you may grow up in your salvation."

Are you a new Christian? Or maybe you're a Christian who hasn't progressed spiritually since your rebirth many years ago.

Just as your body needs nourishment to grow physically, you require spiritual food to grow up into a mature Christian. If you expect to grow spiritually, you must partake of the "sincere milk of the Word"—God's Word—daily. Spend time reading the Bible and then choose one or two verses to meditate on throughout the day. Meditating is repeating the verse over and over to yourself. As you do, ask Jesus to reveal Himself to you and to give you wisdom on how to walk in His ways.

God and His Word always agree. If you want to know God's will, open your Bible.

Jesus is Lord and Savior!

All youths ages 14 to 21 years and interested in a career of law enforcement are urged to attend and hear informative talks by Chelsea Police officers.

Auction Planned To Benefit Historic Grass Lake Depot

Grass Lake's Whistlestop Park Association has scheduled its second annual Whistlestop Auction on Sept. 23 to raise money for the interior renovation of the historic village railroad depot.

More than $250,000 has been raised through foundations, the State of Michigan, Grass Lake township, and various foundations. In addition, skilled labor, equipment and materials have been donated by area tradespeople and businesses.

Last year the auction raised $10,000, which was used to replace the roof.

Some of the items to be auctioned include a stained glass window, Ben Franklin stove, canoe, wooden rocking horse, new 10-speed bicycle, Victorian rocker, decoys, pen-and-ink photographs by Dale Fisher, use of a new 24-ft. motor home for one week, and a trip for two.

The association is also looking for quality and collectible items for the auction. Anyone who has items to donate is asked to call (517) 522-4384 or (517) 522-8500. Items will be picked up.

Spinners' Flock Plans Annual Fall Fleece Fair

The Spinners' Flock, a Washtenaw county-based handspinning guild will hold its annual fall Fleece Fair at Matthaei Botanical Gardens, 1800 N. Dixboro Rd., Ann Arbor. Scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 16 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., the event will feature Michigan wool, mohair, and angora, as well as blends and exotic fibers.

In addition to fleeces, roving, and batts for spinners, quilters and other fiber artists, there will be handspun yarns in natural and dyed colors. These unique yarns are prized by knitters and weavers for their special beauty and quality. Finished goods including sweaters, mittens, hats and woven pieces will also be offered.

Demonstrations will take place throughout the day and individuals wishing to try their hand at spinning will be encouraged to do so. Experienced knitters will be available to give advice on adapting hand-spun yarn to commercial knitting patterns. There is no admission charge.

For further information, please call 475-7119.

Please Notify Us
In Advance of
Any Change in Address

Also that day, Mike St. John will give a brick demonstration and show how the bricks that will be used around the depot and walkways are engraved with names.

Items will be available for viewing at noon and the auction will begin at 2 p.m.

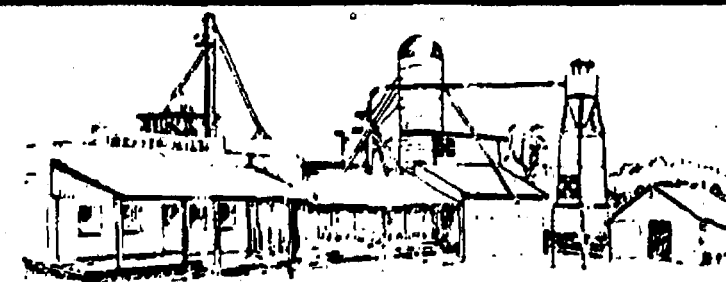

The depot was originally constructed in 1887. It burned in 1980.

Plans are for the building to be used for cultural and art exhibits, display of historical items, and community activities. The building will also be available for rent.

Explorers Post Holding Open House

Chelsea Police Explorers are holding an Open House Wednesday, Sept. 19, from 7 p.m. until 8 p.m. at the Chelsea Police Department office, 104 E. Middle St., Chelsea. The Explorers are extending an invitation to youths ages 14 to 21 years from Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester and Grass Lake areas. Slides and informative talks will be presented by members of the Chelsea Police Department.

Students interested in a career in Law Enforcement are urged to attend.

THE BAHAI COMMUNITY presented a copy of the book "The Promise of World Peace" to McKune Memorial Library last Thursday. The presentation was made as part of the International Day of Peace celebrated world-wide by the United Nations, the International BAHAI Community and other organizations on the third Tuesday of September, this year Sept. 18. The book, written by the Universal House of Justice in Israel, is being presented to every public library and branch in the county. A larger, expanded version is being presented to heads of state world-wide. Left is June Lindsay, co-ordinator of the Washtenaw county effort, McKune librarian Joanne Walter, and Toby Peterson, a Chelsea resident and BAHAI member.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

This is in response to Scott Otto's letter regarding his being disqualified at the Demolition Derby Tuesday night at the fair. My husband and many others look forward to being in the Derby once a year, which they have done so for many years. They're out there to have fun—of course it's fun to win—but not to the extent of breaking the rules. His bumper was hanging on one side and he unbolted the other side (removed it completely) and chained it up two feet higher than what a normal bumper should be. My understanding is that Scott was warned before he entered the arena that he should remove the bumper because it wasn't attached to the car, which he did not do. By moving the bumper up higher, it gives him an advantage in strengthening the rear end of the car, plus creating a hazard for other drivers and fans if it were to come loose. If he was a first-time driver, that may be understandable, but after 12 years of driving, he knows the rules.

As far as some people getting preferential treatment because of their connection to the Fair Board, I totally disagree. If anyone has received preferential treatment it has been Scott Otto in the way that he "sandbags" every year and ends up winning because he has protected his car the whole heat—not really hitting until it gets down to a handful of cars—thus his car is less damaged. When my husband's tire came off his car and he was having trouble moving, the judge was right there signalling for him to hit someone. That's one of the rules too, that your car has to be running but also be hitting moving targets. I've never seen any of the judges do this to Scott.

Scott's letter sounds like sour grapes to me for not winning this year. Scott—play fairly so all of the fans and drivers alike can enjoy the Derby.

Karen Beeman.

To the Editor,

While waiting at the bus stop last week with 11 children, including two of my own, I witnessed an extraordinarily frightening example of the disregard for bus safety laws.

At that time, children on Queen Oaks had to cross Old US-12 to board the bus (a situation which has been corrected by the children being picked up approximately 1/2 hour earlier, necessitating an hour on the bus before school).

The bus rolled up, flashers flashing, and, to my amazement, instead of stopping, the car behind the bus swung out and PASSED the bus, which was stopped, going about 35 mph (and accelerating), driving between the bus and the group of kids on the corner. Fortunately, the kids were prudently awaiting the signal from Mr. Kovia to cross the street.

I had just enough wits left to note the license number, make and color of the car and have a pretty good description of the driver. I would like to find her and tell her just how angry I am that she was thoughtless and reckless enough to endanger the lives of my kids and my neighbors' kids because she didn't feel like stopping. It is annoying to be stuck behind a bus which stops frequently, especially if you are in a hurry. But kids, at the bus stop or anywhere, are impulsive and unpredictable. To help ensure their safety, please respect and practice the bus safety laws.

Diane Haskill Gerstenlauer.

Man Caught Stealing Log

A 37-year-old Chelsea-area man was arrested by Chelsea police on Aug. 25 for stealing an artificial fireplace log from Polly's Market.

According to Chelsea police, the man picked up a fire starter log, put it down the front of his pants, and walked out of the store.

Give a bottle a decent break. Recycle!

Learning Disabilities Support Group Formed

The first meeting for the current school year of the Learning Disabilities Association of Michigan, Washtenaw County Chapter, will be held Tuesday, Sept. 18 at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria of High Point at 1735 Wagner Rd., Ann Arbor. Topic of discussion is "Attention Deficit Hyperactive Disorder and Learning Disabilities: What is the Difference?"

Dr. Dan Nolan, a clinical psychologist, will discuss the problems of children who present cold currents of ADHD and LD. He will include definition, description, myths and school and/or treatment implications.

Karen Hesselberg, the LDA group facilitator, is an RN with a masters degree in counseling. She will present the formation of this new support group. Meetings will be held at WISD bi-monthly. This group fills a gap in the organization's parent advocacy program and promotes an alternative to the isolation many parents face today.

For more information call 994-8165 or 662-9902.

ROADSMART

Presented by Huron Valley Traffic Safety Committee

- Q. How much can you drink before it's unsafe to drive?
- A. Only one or two drinks may make it unsafe. A 150-lb person who drinks 4 beers in only a few hours would likely become impaired or intoxicated.
- Q. Can my parents let me drink at home if I'm under 21?
- A. Legally, no. There is no exception to the 21 or older law.

U. of M. Family Practice Center Welcomes Five New Physicians

University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea has welcomed its 1990 class of family practice residents. "The five physicians are recent medical school graduates," states James Peggs, M.D., medical director of the Family Practice Center. "They have selected Chelsea as the site for their family practice residency training program which will take place over the next three years."

While at the Family Practice Center the physicians will learn about family medicine and simultaneously gain more experience in other medical specialties through rotations at University Hospitals, Chelsea Community Hospital and other hospitals.

"During their residency program," Peggs continues, "the physicians will practice the unique skills and develop the attitudes that will qualify them to be certified as family physicians. This includes providing continuing, comprehensive medical care to all members of the family regardless of age, sex or illness."

Dr. Peggs adds that family physicians treat 90-95% of all illnesses for which patients see the doctor. Family physicians also serve as the patient's or family's advocate in all health-related matters including referrals to other medical specialists or use of community resources.

These new physicians will spend an increasing amount of time over the next three years at the Family Practice Center. Anyone interested in learning more about them may call the Family Practice Center at 475-1321.

The new physicians include:
Karen Fonde — Dr. Fonde received her bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan. She served as a Peace Corps volunteer in West Africa for two years and then worked as a teacher of emotionally impaired delinquent children for four years before going to medical school at the University of Michigan.

Carla Jones — Dr. Jones received her bachelor's degree from Oklahoma State University and her medical degree from Oklahoma State University College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery. She recently completed an internship at Peninsula Medical Joyce Korman — Dr. Korman received her undergraduate degree and medical degree from the University of Ghana, in Africa. She was in private practice for four years in Kaduna, Nigeria. Most recently Dr. Korman was in a Preventive Medicine residency program at the Meharry Medical School in Nashville.

Terri Maszatics — Dr. Maszatics received her undergraduate and medical degree from the University of Michigan. She did an internship at the Kalamazoo Center for Medical Studies prior to coming to the Family Practice Center.

Sami Rifat — Dr. Rifat received his bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan and his medical degree from the University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School.

The U.S. Labor Department reported that according to the results of a nation-wide white-collar pay survey of the private goods-producing industries, average salaries reported ranged from $11,522 to $119,870 a year. The survey was conducted in March 1990.

RESOLUTION

WE, the Chelsea Village Council, concur with the Chelsea Planning Commission that an Area Planning Commission be created under Act 281, P.A. 145 (MSA 125.11-125.25) as a formal body to create a policy type of plan for the region and would have sufficient detail for each member governmental unit to adopt as its own "master plan" or revise an existing one.

IN TAKING this action, the Council agrees with the proposal dated July 24, 1990 from the Chelsea Planning Commission and encourages similar action by the townships of Dexter, Lima, Lyndon and Sylvan.

THE COUNCIL FURTHER agrees to the appointment of a Steering Committee and hereby appoints Councilperson Frank Hammer and Planning Commissioners Bill Bott and Fred Barkley as their representatives on the committee.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Hammer, to adopt the above Resolution as read. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

Motion by Hall, supported by Kanten, to establish a $15,000.00 line of credit to the McKune Library Board of Trustees on an annual basis. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

The Drug Agency matter was tabled to the August 21st meeting.

Village Council gave approval to Chelsea Police Explorer Post No. 481 to conduct a fund raiser program in the Village of Chelsea. Said program would involve soliciting residents for the painting of house numbers on the curb.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Dorer, to authorize Change Order No. 8 for Engineering Services submitted by Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout in the amount of $3,000. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Hammer to adjourn. Roll call: Ayes all. Meeting adjourned at 11:00 p.m.

Allen L. Anderson, Clerk.

ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

August 7, 1990

Minutes
The meeting was called to order at 7:40 p.m. by Chairman Steele.
Present: Chairman Steele, Secretary Anderson, Village Manager Stalker, Assistant Village Manager Kuehn, Administrative Services Co-ordinator Fredette.

Members Present: Hall, Kanten, Merkel, Dorer, Myers, Hammer.
Others Present: Bill Bott, John Yelsik, Tim Merkel, Marty Tobin, Debbie Olson, Donald Cole, Don Schoenberg, Craig Sayers, Don Pierson Jr., Mary K. Pierson, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Satterthwaite, Sally Hall, Tom Stevens, Sharon Cattan, Eleanor and Carl Klink, Georgia Beeman, Sharon Zimmerman, Jim Shaw, Skip Wheeler, Dan Holland, Rod Schneider, Art Haab, Marvin Schiller, Cindy Bear, Thomas Bear, Dorothy Keezer, Charles Ritter, Lenard McDougall, B. Hamilton, Cecil Clouse, Oren Wireman, Z.I. Youssef, Chuck Wilson, John Miller, K. Clark, Dave Bulson, Elwood Keezer.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Myers, to approve the minutes of July 17, 1990. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

A public hearing was held to consider the variance request filed by Jerry S. Satterthwaite No. 90-08 and the following property owners responded:

Jenny Draper—No objection to the request of two single-family homes to be constructed—no duplexes.

James Hoffmeyer—Objects to sharing a driveway (too much traffic by home) and questions ownership of a 57'x132' strip of land abutting Mrs. Hoffmeyer's property.

Don Pierson, Jr.—No objection if single family homes are built and questions ownership of a 57'x132' strip of land abutting Mr. Pierson's property.

RESOLUTION RE:

Appeal for Variance from provisions of the Village of Chelsea Zoning Ordinance No. 15.250 Section 2.2.45

Application No. 90-08

WHEREAS, Jerry Satterthwaite of 423 McKinley Street, Chelsea, Michigan has requested a variance from the Village of Chelsea Zoning Ordinance, No. 15.250 Section 2.2.45 to allow for construction of a private road with a right-of-way less than 66 feet; and

WHEREAS, such appeal for a variance from the zoning ordinance is being requested in order to gain access to property described as follows:

Commencing at SW corner of Isaac Taylor's 1st addition The E 167.75 feet s/n said sub to P.O.B., th E to a point 207.9 ft W of SE corner of said sub, th S 1-15E 244.2 feet, thence S 70° W 216.48 ft on N in of block 8 E. Congdon's addition, thence N 20° W 256.06 feet, thence N 77-57° E 42.0 feet, thence due N 77.5 feet to P.O.B. Part NE 1/4 section 12 T2S R3S and identified by tax No. 06-12-105-024; and

WHEREAS, such access would be accomplished by traversing the parcel of land immediately east of the intersection of North Street and McKinley

Street, on the east side of McKinley Street, comprising an area of approximately 132 feet long by 57 feet wide and adjacent to the southern most 57 feet of the west side of parcel No. 06-12-105-024; reference attached survey dated April 10, 1984 revised June 29, 1985; and

WHEREAS, this Zoning Board of Appeals has held a Public Hearing on August 7, 1990 pursuant to Section 7.5E of the Village of Chelsea Zoning Ordinance in order to allow area property owners and residents the opportunity to express themselves regarding this matter;

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that this Zoning Board of Appeals does hereby grant a variance from Ordinance to allow for construction of a private road with a right of way of not less than twenty (20) feet through the 57 foot by 132 foot parcel, as referenced above, and along or in close proximity to the southern boundary of parcel No. 06-12-105-024 as necessary to provide for lot frontage requirements as specified in No. 15.710 Section 5.13. Such a variance is intended to allow for the construction of two single family dwellings, pending approval of a lot split, due to practical difficulties present in obtaining access to the property. Such variance is granted specifically contingent upon the following:

1) Agreement must be reached with James and Joan Hoffmeyer, who own the property immediately south of the 132 foot by 57 foot parcel referenced above, regarding the status of the garage which infringes approximately 4.7 feet upon the south line of this parcel. The disposition of this garage must be resolved in a manner which is mutually satisfactory to all interested parties.

2) The Zoning Board of Appeals shall grant a variance from provisions of the Zoning Ordinance to provide for relief of the current non-complying situation regarding the garage once an agreement has been reached.

3) The private road to be constructed by the applicant shall be a minimum of 20 feet wide, paved, and shall provide for a turn around at its eastern-most point in order that the properties to be developed can be served by fire emergency vehicles.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Kanten, to adopt the above Resolution as read. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Resolution adopted. Zoning Inspector Harook asked Council if they were going to grant a waiver per Section 15.814-I of the Zoning Ordinance. Council's decision was to not grant a waiver.

Motion by Hall, supported by Kanten, to allow Don Cole to construct an accessory structure to be placed on his sideyard property line (Reference: Variance Application No. 89-16). Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

A public hearing was held to consider variance application No. 90-09—Daniel Hagen, applicant.

Mr. Yousef, owner of Big Boy Restaurant, stated that he objected strongly to the granting of a variance for the construction of a car wash due to the close proximity of same to his business.

Mr. Lloyd Bridges, owner of Lloyd Bridges Traveland, Inc., expressed his objections to the granting of a variance in written form. A copy of Mr. Bridges letter is attached to these minutes as Appendix B.

James and Jennifer Szamecki, owners of Schumm's, Inc., also submitted a letter of objection which is attached to these minutes as Appendix C.

Motion by Dorer, to grant a 20 foot wide variance to Daniel Hagen for the reason of practical difficulties and to deny the sideyard setback. Motion died for lack of support.

RESOLUTION RE: Interpretation of the Zoning Ordinance No. 15.706 Section 5.9-A (Application No. 90-07)

WHEREAS, Gene Ellen Haab and Marvin Schiller of 747 Flanders Street, Chelsea, Michigan, have requested an interpretation of the Village of Chelsea Zoning Ordinance, No. 15.706-Section 5.9A regarding Home Occupation regulation; and

WHEREAS, said request for an interpretation pertains to the property located at 747 Flanders Street in Chelsea, Michigan, and assigned property No. 07-07-360-003; and

WHEREAS, said pertinent zoning ordinance section reads as follows:

15.706 Sec. 5.9 HOME OCCUPATIONS
A home occupation shall be clearly incidental and secondary to the use of the dwelling unit for residential purposes. The following additional conditions shall be observed:

A. Such home occupation shall be carried on within the dwelling or within the building accessory thereto and entirely by the inhabitants thereof.

B. No article shall be sold or offered for sale on the premises except such as is produced within the dwelling or accessory building or is provided incidentally to the service or profession conducted within the dwelling or accessory building.

C. There shall be no exterior storage of material or equipment. (ord. no. 79 eff. May 27, 1974) and;

WHEREAS, this Zoning Board of Appeals has conducted a Public Hearing on August 7, 1990 pursuant to Section 7.5E of the Chelsea Village Zoning Ordinance in order to allow area property owners and residents to express their views regarding this matter;

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that this zoning Board of Appeals does hereby affirm the determination made by the Zoning Inspector that the usage of the property at 747 Flanders Street by the Royalty Limousine Company in engaging limousine drivers who are not inhabitants of the home at 747 Flanders Street as described by the Company's proprietors and neighboring property owners, is not in conformance with No. 15.706-Section 5.9A of the Village of Chelsea Zoning Ordinance.

After considerable discussion regarding the Home Occupation ordinance, Trustee Kanten indicated that it was not the intent to shut down Ms. Haab's family business. The question was whether or not Ms. Haab employed persons outside their family, which would be in violation of the ordinance.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Hall, to adopt the above Resolution as read. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

Motion by Hall, supported by Merkel, to hold a public hearing on Application No. 90-11 Variance Village Motor Sales on August 21, 1990. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

Motion by Myers, supported by Hammer, to adjourn at 9:30 p.m. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned.

Allen L. Anderson, Secretary.

Joseph B. Taylor

1200 Lima Center Rd.
Chelsea

Joseph B. Taylor, 1200 Lima Center Rd., Chelsea, age 79, died Sunday morning, Sept. 9, 1990 at the City and Country Nursing Home in Stockbridge. He was born Sept. 29, 1911 in Lima township, the son of Burt A. and Anna (Hawkins) Taylor.

Joe was a life-long resident of the area and devoted his life to farming. He was a life-long member of St. Mary's Catholic church and was a member of Knights of Columbus Council No. 3091.

Surviving is his brother, Tom of Ann Arbor; a nephew, Richard Thompson of Ann Arbor; and a niece, Patricia Jaquette of Portland. He was preceded in death by a sister, Beth Freeman, and his parents.

The Funeral Mass will be held Wednesday, Sept. 12 at 11 a.m. from St. Mary's Catholic church with the Rev. Fr. Philip Dupuis officiating. The Rosary was prayed Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. from the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Chelsea.

Equipment Taken From Parked Car

A Williamston resident told Chelsea police that someone stole a radar detector, stereo speakers, and cassette tapes from his car in the Chelsea Community Hospital parking lot on Saturday, Sept. 8.

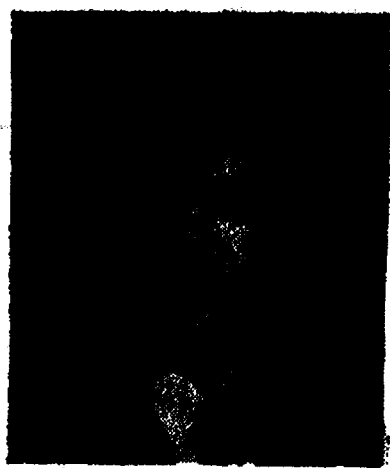

Police said there was no sign of forced entry.

More than half — 56 percent — of women with children under age six are in the labor force, according to the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics. Most women who bear children during their careers return to work soon after their babies are born; more than half of all married women are back at work by the time their children are a year old.
