Tax Abatements Show Chelsea Milling Co. Continues To Prosper

By Brian Hamilton
There was little doubt that Chelsea Village Council would eventually pass Chelsea Milling Co.'s request for a 12-year, 50-percent tax abatement on $499,410 worth of improvements the company installed during the last year.

The measures, which failed on a technicality last month, were passed unanimously on Tuesday, Oct. 2.

True, the company probably doesn't need the money to survive. And it wouldn't have packed up and looked for another home. The abatements were more of a way for the village to pay respect to one of the village's true economic success stories. It was the first abatement the company has requested in 12 years, according to vice-president Howdy Holmes.

As one audience member put it during the public hearing, "how could you guys turn them down after all they've done for the community."

The abatement was actually three abatements; one for the new tower for milling by-products next to the railroad tracks, expansion of the office building, and expansion of the flour mill.

The company told the village about 37 jobs would be created by the expansion but recently vice-president Dudley Holmes, Jr. told The Standard the number would be more like 41.

The expansion of the flour mill included the installation of four new production lines all dedicated to Jiffy Mix corn muffins, which account for about 60 percent of the 1.2 million boxes produced daily. The lines, built in the 1940s, would in some quarters be considered antiques. They were purchased from Pillsbury and General Mills, who have installed more advanced equipment, probably at the expense of jobs.

"We could go out and buy a new production line for a couple million dollars that would take one person to run, but that's not us," said Dudley Holmes.

"We chose to go the labor intensive route because the equipment will run forever, we have dependable employees who are familiar with the equipment, and we didn't want to take jobs away. We have second and third generation family members here. The return on investment is also phenomenal."

The company needed the equipment simply to keep up with business. Vice-president Howdy Holmes said orders for their 20 various products are up seven to 10 percent this year, which he called a "fairly predictable," annual rate of growth.

Added Dudley Holmes, "It's a nice problem to have when demand for your product outraces supply."

At least to a point. The Holmeses say that simply by making some adjustments to their packaging (all products come in the standard blue and white box), pursuing some markets, and advertising (the company does no advertising), business could literally explode almost overnight. They say they don't want that kind of growth because it could lead to a loss of control. For instance, now they can afford to be choosy about the 2-million bushels of wheat they use each year. If it doesn't meet their standards, (Continued on page six)

Board of Education Still Discussing Facilities Issue

Chelsea Board of Education discussed the district's proposed building program at length Monday night, but no final conclusions were made.

However, in a related item, the board approved a student forecast study to be conducted by Stan Fred of Michigan State University, accepted by the Department of Education as the authority on school enrollments.

It's a necessary step in obtaining approval for a bond issue from the education department.

Assistant superintendent Fred Mills said the board is still grappling with what grades the new school might contain. He said it could be a traditional elementary school with grades K-5 or perhaps it could house all students in K-2 while North and South schools could handle grades 3-5. He said there is also some sentiment for housing two grades in each building.

"Whatever decision we make, we're going to have to live with it for 15 years, and maybe even 50 years," Mills said.

The grade decision is crucial because decisions for facilities like bathrooms would change depending on which students are in each building.

Mills said there also apparently is not much support for enclosing hallways at Chelsea High school at a price tag of more than $1 million. He said there is more support for simply adding classrooms.

Mechanical and electrical renovations will take place at North and South schools no matter what other decisions are made, Mills said.

School Board Approves DDA Pact, Full-Time Mental Health Counselor

Chelsea Board of Education has approved an amended agreement with the Chelsea Downtown Development Authority concerning plans for downtown renovation.

The board approved the agreement Monday night.

The exact impact of DDA's proposed $1.1 million bond issue on the school district is not known because the terms of the issue have not been decided.

The agreement limits the amount of school district money the DDA can capture through tax increment financing to 80 percent.

Under most tax increment financing plans, a DDA could take all additional tax revenue in a district generated by rising property values. The local agreement limits the take to 80 percent.

In addition, the agreement limits the amount of time DDA may capture the school district revenue to the life of the bond issues.

"As far as I know, we have the best agreement of any district in the state," said assistant superintendent Fred Mills.

"It not only limits the amount of capture but has a sunset in it."

Mills said first-year impact on the district could be as high as $100,000 to perhaps as low as $50,000, depending on the length of the bond issue and other factors. Year to year the amount would also change.

DDA's new plans will be carried out in one phase rather than the originally-planned three phases. Mills said he prefers the new plans because the proposed purchase of property behind the 14th district courthouse, the All Season Comfort building, and the Pump and Pantry "will have a tremendous impact on the downtown."

"Those things weren't even dreamed of originally," Mills said.

In other board action, the board approved the hiring of a full-time substance abuse counselor. Current counselor, Moira Hubbard, is leaving her position in December. She has a half-time position in the district.

A full-time counselor will spend time at both Chelsea High school and Beach Middle school.

The position may more accurately be described as a mental health counselor with an emphasis in substance abuse counseling.

Part of the counselor's job will also be to educate staff members in the identification of substance abuse and mental problems, Mills said.

Mills said that while Chelsea Community Hospital will no longer be a half-time employer of the counselor, the hospital will remain a primary resource for substance abuse problems.

The counselor will be paid according to the scale adopted in the bargaining agreement, Mills said. He also said the district realizes the salary constraints may make finding a qualified counselor a more difficult job.

In a separate, but related item, the board approved a substance abuse policy for Chelsea High school and a school district student assistance program statement of philosophy.

The philosophy statement, four paragraphs long, says, in part, "In an effort to help students, we commit ourselves to a program of education, prevention, identification, referral, and ongoing support. We recognize that it is not our role to diagnose or treat mental health concerns. To protect the academic environment, we implement appropriate disciplinary actions."

The philosophy also says, "We recognize that mental health problems are primarily the responsibility of home and community," but that mental health problems can be disruptive to school.

The substance abuse policy has three parts; one dealing with students in general for use and possession; a second dealing with sales of drugs or paraphernalia; a third dealing strictly with athletics.

For the general student body for possession or use, first offense carries a maximum five-day suspension, second offense carries another five-day suspension plus mandatory treatment, and if treatment is not followed, possible expulsion from school. A 10-session chemical awareness program or assessment by a licensed agency is required.

For sales, first offense carries a minimum 10-day suspension and possible expulsion, as well as the chemical awareness program. Second offense would carry recommendation for expulsion.

Police and parents would be notified in each instance above.

In the athletic policy, first offense would disqualify a student for 50 percent of the season as defined by the Michigan High School Athletic Association, and second offense would disqualify a student for the entire season. A third offense carries a loss of eligibility for all sports for the remaining high school years. Suspension periods would be temporarily lifted during try-out periods. A first offense will automatically be considered a second offense if the athlete fails to attend a chemical awareness program or assessment. A second offense will automatically be considered a third offense if a treatment recommendation is not followed.

Under all three sections, offenses are cumulative throughout the high school career. Theoretically a student's first offense could occur during the freshman year and second offense during the senior year.

SENIOR JENNIFER PAYNE was voted the 1990 Chelsea High School Homecoming Queen. Payne, who represented the varsity football team, which she manages, was crowned at half-time of the football game.

SHAWNDR A MUNDINGER of Grass Lake isn't quite sure what to make of the inside of the Chelsea Fire Department truck during the department's annual open house last Sunday. The event is a great chance for youngsters to see the inside of vehicles, as well as all the tools of the fire-fighting trade.

BEFORE GASOLINE ENGINES were available some pioneer farmers used horse power for a wide variety of tasks. This buzz saw was used for cutting firewood for heating the home and cooking. Five horses were used to travel a circular path and turn a large gearbox which transmitted the power to operate the saw. Again the ingenuity of man was helping to make pioneer life easier. This particular saw was purchased by Paul Bollinger some 30 years ago at an auction of the Reilly brothers equipment. Paul painstakingly restored the mechanism and has now returned it to its original state for Pioneer Day on the former Reilly Bros. homestead operated by the Waterloo Area Historical Society. Laverne Haffey and Don Bollinger were handling the wood being cut while Paul Bollinger, in the background, was caring for the horses. Five beautiful horses were supplied for the day by George Beaman of Cassidy Rd., and Kenneth Marsh of Fitchburg.

A 1985 Mercury Capri was reported stolen from the Palmer Ford Used Car lot on Saturday evening, Oct. 18. Police said the red automobile was stolen between midnight and 9 p.m.

Melanie Flanagan was crowned the 1986 Homecoming Queen, an honor voted upon by the students. Seven candidates each represented a different sport, and Melanie's was cross country. Greg Brown, a member of the boys cross country team, was her escort.

Christine Dillon, a former Chicago resident now living in Ann Arbor, was hired as the Chelsea School District's new substance abuse counselor. Dillon would actually be employed by Chelsea Community Hospital but would spend half her time in the district. Her office is located opposite the trophy cases at Chelsea High school. "I couldn't believe my good fortune to find a job like this so quickly," Dillon said. "I moved to Ann Arbor in August with her husband. I've found people here to be very supportive. It would be a different feeling if I had to come here and convince people that (substance abuse) was an important issue."

Chelsea Bulldog Marching Band was awarded a First Division rating at the District 12 Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's Marching Festival. The band participated with 15 other bands from southeast Michigan at Ypsilanti High school. Bands were judged in three areas: marching, music, and showmanship. The band had to march in a downpour that began just before entering the field.

Vandals gained illegal entry into Chelsea High school between midnight and 8 a.m. on Oct. 9, and fled with a Marantz amplifier valued at $300. In addition to loose change from a vending machine. Police reports indicated the vandals passed through the audio-visual room, music room, student publications room, auditorium, and faculty lounge, before ransacking the student publications room and departing.

A tip from two hunters resulted in the recovery of a 1987 green and yellow John Deere tractor. The tractor, reported stolen Aug. 28 from Chelsea Fairgrounds following the annual tractor pull competition, listed a replacement value of $8,000. Upon investigation, officers found the tractor in good condition, although two front tires were flat.

Herbert D. Vogel, of Washington D.C., and a former Chelsea resident, received Honorary Membership in the American Society of Civil Engineers. Dr. Vogel was cited "for his distinguished career as an engineer-soldier for his founding of the Waterways Experiment Station and for his work as an advisor and administrator on projects planned to improve the quality of life."

Gubernatorial Candidates Asked To Pledge School Reform

Promoters of a school finance reform package have criticized the two major party gubernatorial candidates for failing to debate the issue seriously. They sought pledges of support from each as a way of giving the matter a higher profile.

Detroit attorney David Olmstead, a co-author of the reform plan with University of Michigan professor Philip Kearney, said the candidates should support the plan's points or explain to voters why they do not. "Here is the campaign, and there is no debate on this issue," Olmstead said. "We've let them avoid the points." The two men said all candidates for state office should take a stand on the issue to end over 20 years of debate. School finance reform should not be tied to tax increases.

The Olmstead-Kearney proposal would require the state to pay 50 percent of local school operations, with lottery funds added on top of that. It is a goal that would boost state spending in current dollars by $1 billion phased in over several years; cap property tax assessment increases in out-of-formula districts without providing reimbursement for lost revenue but guarantee those districts that the state aid they get for categorical programs will not be cut; and require a core curriculum and annual student test of achievement in the core subjects.

Republican candidate John Engler endorsed the principals of the plan when it was first aired.

Governor James J. Blanchard later unveiled a plan to commit a 50 percent state share of support for schools with lottery money included in the calculation. The plan would place a limit on property assessment growth to the rate of inflation, and school quality measures such as employability skills testing, higher drop-out age and higher payments to schools with improved student test scores. The administration asserts the plan would be more generous to schools than the Olmstead-Kearney plan.

Olmstead criticized the governor's plan for delivering more money to out-of-formula districts and devising a property tax relief plan that largely benefits individuals in those districts. "It worsens the situation," he said. The O-K plan does not reimburse local districts for revenue lost under the assessment growth limit, with Olmstead saying this would not harm the wealthier districts because they only compete with each other.

While Kearney noted Engler has supported the plan, he said the pledge requires a "clear and concise statement on where he stands." Olmstead criticized Engler for supporting the Headlee tax cut proposal that he said would "gut the state budget."

Treasurer Robert Bowman said the administration cannot endorse all aspects of the O-K plan because failure to reimburse out-of-formula districts for lost property tax revenue above inflation "is pretty harsh." He said the governor's approach puts about the same amount of new money annually to schools to reach the 50-50 goal, and is "politically palatable." Bowman criticized Engler for endorsing both the O-K plan and the Headlee cut, saying they both cannot be achieved within current budget limitations. "He's apparently supporting everything he can," Bowman said.

Engler is in "strong fundamental agreement" with the plan, said campaign manager Dan Pero, although adding a pledge could not be signed without noting some points of concern. He said Engler would want clarifications that the plan would not bring "the best schools down to a level of mediocrity" and a recognition that some out-of-formula districts are poor as well.

The two most recent superintendents of public instruction, Philip Runkel and John Porter, also supported the request for pledges of support from the candidates. Don Bemis, who now occupies that position and supported the governor's plan, was not asked because he is so close to the governor, Olmstead said.

Solid Waste Management Plan Updates Approved

Natural Resources Director David Hales has announced the approval of Solid Waste Management Plan updates from 50 counties. The approval insures eligibility to apply for grants and loans from bonds earmarked for alternatives to solid waste disposal.

Hales said that even though some plans filed by the Oct. 1 deadline still have areas to be addressed, they essentially fulfill the update requirements. He added they provide sufficient information to allow the department to review Solid Waste Alternative Program grant applications for consistency with a county plan.

Eight counties previously had updated plans approved. Twenty-five counties will not be eligible to apply for bond money in the 1992 funding round either because they failed to submit plans or the plans were not approved. Those counties included Gogebic, Mackinac, Arenac, Benzie, Iosco, Lake, Mason, Osceola, Saginaw, Sanilac, Clare, Berrien, Branch, Calhoun, Cass, Hillsdale, Kalamazoo, Livingston, Mecosta, Muskegon, Newaygo, Oakland, Ot-tawa, Van Buren and Macomb.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

After hearing Bug Hookum's report Saturday night at the country store, the fellers were divided on whether life is one thing after another or the same thing over and over. Bug had saw where Highway Patrols across the country are using dummy radar to outfox radar detectors to make drivers slow down, like some use to park patrol cars beside busy interstates with dummy troopers in em.

He was wondering how long before fuzz busters learn to tell real radar from fake, and the playing field is level again. With 15 million radar detectors on the road, Bug said outlawing em everywhere would work ever bit as good as the speed limit. Where radar detectors are legal, drivers that use em say they are protecting themselves from radar error.

Actual, Bug went on, it just goes to show that for ever action, legal, technical, whatever, there's a reaction, and the longer you're around the more you realize everthing called progress is one or the other. For instant, some police check speeds with laser that don't show up on fuzz busters, so soon on the market will be laser detectors. How far down the road, Bug ask, is stealth technology that gives speeders and patrolmen cars neither one can see with their radars.

The reaction will have to be a law requiring cars with big numbers on the sides in paint radar can see. Then there'll be a paint-additive to hide the number, and then speeder activated cameras on ever road. For sure, Bug went on, laws of nature and car sales won't let the situation get so far out of hand as electronic eyes in cars that read speed limit signs and keep em from going faster than the law allows.

Practical speaking, Zeke Grubb said, reaction is to action what yeast is to dough and match is to dynamite. One ain't much without the other. Zeke said he was thinking of a item he saw where Muzak is offering rock an roll as an option. The fact is, Zeke said, slow, soft music in dentists offices has outlived the teeth of patients that like it, and patients that don't grind down their teeth listening in the waiting room.

Furthermore, Zeke said reaction by newspapers and radio is meeting public needs. He had saw where a paper started in Seminole, Fla. last month prints nothing but crime news and names of everybody that gets arrested for anything. The publisher said a lot of petty crime is not reported, and he believes printing names of everybody caught breaking the law will make the community safer by making everybody more aware of the law.

In West Springfield, Mass. a radio station has eight staff people and 200 volunteers that read on the air what listeners don't get anywhere else. They read obituaries, want ads, recipes and social items to blind people, rest home residents and others that can't read for one reason or another.

Clem Webster said action and reaction usual is healthy in the marketplace, but he had saw one reaction that he wants to think is an overreaction. Bulletproof clothes for children is a big seller in cities where rival gangs and drug dealers shoot one another and anybody else around.

Personal, I see where a preacher in Arkansas wants to put arsenic in all drugs collected by police and put the stuff back on the street. Is that over-reaction?

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

CAP Renting Costumes for Special Events

With Halloween just around the corner there are also parties.

The parties at this time usually require costumes. Sometimes it is not always easy to think of exactly the right costume nor do many of us have time to put something together. So what will happen is something just so-so or no costume at all or worse yet no party because you just couldn't find anything to wear.

Chelsea Area Players have decided to rent costumes for adults this year. CAP has been collecting costumes for their play productions for many years and now have a large stock ranging from the Medieval period to the present. If you are interested in looking for the perfect costume please call Jerri Cole, 475-9987 for an appointment.

Those of you who have a child in the Chelsea orchestra are encouraged to wear a costume for the orchestra concert on Oct. 20. There is a prize for best costume.

Woman's Club Hears Report on 'Healing The Children' Project

The Oct. 9 meeting of the Woman's Club of Chelsea was held in the club room of McKune Memorial Library. Eighteen members were present to hear Dona Baird and Tami Houle discuss "Healing the Children," previously called "Heal the Children."

This is a program that started in Spokane, Wash., in 1981 resulting from a Korean child dying because a $12.50 medicine was not available.

The program has expanded to 28 states. Doctors refer patients who, when accepted, are transported to the United States to live with host families until well enough to return to their homeland. Doctors, nurses, and hospitals are very co-operative.

Mrs. Baird is continuing an involvement with the program, but Tami Houle has taken over as co-ordinator. The group can use clothing and other articles as well as financial help for transportation mostly. Contact Tami Houle, 100 Clear Lake Rd., Grass Lake 49240.

During the business meeting, Rose Mary Degrow was installed by membership chairperson, Marilyn Haug.

Leah Smith's 95th birthday is on Oct. 25. We hope that she will receive many remembrances.

Beth Lyster and Myra Colvin were hostesses for the evening, and Betty Osterle was in charge of the program.

Sylvia Gilbert will present a program on "Traveling Elderhostel" at the Oct. 23 meeting to be held in the clubroom. All area women are welcome.

For more information, contact Lois Moore at 475-8743.

Chelsea Community Couples Resume Bridge Marathon

The first meeting of the Couples Bridge Marathon for the benefit of Chelsea Community Hospital was held in the Woodland Room of the Hospital Sunday evening, Oct. 7, with nine couples initiating the new format for the group.

High couple was Ken and Fran Runciman with a score of 4,000 for the 20 hands played. Second place was taken by Joyce and Angelo Angelocci with 3,150; and third couple was Irita Ertel (with Babe filling in for Paul) with 2,820.

The group meets the first Sunday of each month through May at 6 p.m., donating $2 per person to the hospital and 25 cents toward the evening's prizes. They must attend at least five times during the year to qualify for yearly marathon prizes.

Any couple interested in an evening of fun and contribution to the Hospital may attend. Please call 475-2750 (Marlene) or 428-3887 (Roberta), or just drop in on Sunday, Nov. 4 at 6 p.m.

'Parenting for School Success' offered at Women's Lecture

"Parenting for School Success" is the Women's Health Lecture Series in Chelsea Community Hospital's Dining Room on Wednesday, Oct. 24. Registration and dessert buffet are at 7 p.m.

This program will cover specific ways in which parents can help their children to become successful in school, motivation, the importance of self-esteem and how to develop it, the home study environment, rewarding achievement, and other factors that contribute to success in school. Contact (313) 475-4007 for reservations.

Healthy eating can be fun! Learn new ideas on using pasta, wok dishes, and soups without spending a lot of time in the kitchen. "Healthy Eating Classes" begin Tuesdays, Oct. 23, 30 and Nov. 6, 7 p.m. in the Partial Hospitalization, 955 W. Eisenhower Circle, Suite H, Ann Arbor. Call (313) 475-3535 to register and for further information.

Jane Barnes, G. Amory Roach Marry in Grass Lake Church

Jane Ellen Barnes of Columbus, O., daughter of Mrs. Jack Barnes and the late Jack E. Barnes, and G. Amory Roach, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Lewis Roach of Danville, Va., were married Sept. 1 at Grass Lake United Methodist church.

The Rev. Gregory Wolfe performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a dress she designed and made. It was made of silk with a jewel neckline in the front and low U neckline in the back, which were outlined with seed and trumpet pearls. The gown had a chapel-length train. The fingertip veil was held with a hand-made headpiece. She carried a bouquet of orchids and Queen Ann's lace.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Roy Kemppainen of Gull Lake, sister of the bride. She wore a pale pink tea-length gown, which was identical to the bridesmaid's dresses.

Bridesmaid was Mrs. Paul Signorelli of Northville, sister of the bride.

Best man was the bridegroom's father. Ushers were O. L. Roach of Charlottesville, Va., brother of the bridegroom, Dan W. Barnes of Holland, brother of the bride, and Sean Gregg of Alexandria, Va., friend of the bridegroom.

A luncheon followed at the home of the bride's mother on Wolf Lake.

The couple took a honeymoon Caribbean cruise. They are living in Columbus.

The bride is a 1978 graduate of Chelsea High school and a 1983 graduate of Michigan State University. She is a sales manager for Marriott Hotels and Resorts in Columbus.

The bridegroom is a 1984 graduate of Hampden-Sydney College in

Police Catch Man Stealing Friend's Marijuana

A young Chelsea man may face charges of breaking and entering after he was captured while stealing marijuana from a South St. apartment on Monday, Oct. 8.

According to police, the 18-year-old entered the apartment of a friend through an unlocked window. A neighbor saw the man leaving the apartment and called police.

According to reports, the man ate the marijuana when he saw police.

Two other 18-year-olds accompanied the man to the apartment but did not enter the apartment, police said.

DAVE ROEHM of Chelsea was a popular figure at Sunday's Pioneer Day activities with his demonstration of sheep shearing. After clipping the coats from many sheep during the afternoon he graciously answered questions from the admiring youngsters and allowed them to pet the newly-shorn sheep. In addition to Dave, the Pioneer Day had a distinct Chelsea flavor as Diane Zatokovitch and Cathy Muha were general co-chairmen of the event last year and again this year. Ben Bower was present to demonstrate and sell his drawings. William Darwin, II, of Darwin's Berry Patch Stained Glass Studio explained the techniques in making stained glass art pieces. In all, some 35 artisans were demonstrating and selling their wares. Perfect weather encouraged people to attend and make it the largest crowd ever. Ron Montague, scoutmaster of Chelsea Troop 425, and Brad Lund of Stockbridge Troop 329 and members of both Boy Scout troops handled the parking of some 3,500 cars. Attendance was estimated to be probably from 6,000 to 8,000 persons.

"If it's painful for you to criticize your friends, you're safe in doing it; if you take the slightest pleasure in it, that's the time to hold your tongue..."

—Alice Duer Miller

What a perfect standard for judging whether or not to criticize! The urge to point out the faults in others is universal but not always desirable.

If we reserve our critical comments for those occasions when the task is actually painful, we can be assured that our action is prompted solely by a sincere desire to help the one we criticize. At other times, let us learn to hold our tongues.

Arrangements made prior to need relieve the family of making painful decisions under difficult circumstances. We are available to explain the advantages to you.

100th Infantry Trying To Locate Men Who Served in Division

The 100th Infantry Division Association is looking for men who served in the division from 1942 to 1945 in World War II.

The 100th "Century" Division fought in France and Germany in the Rhineland, Ardennes-Alsace and Central Europe campaigns.

Over 30,000 men served in the 100th which trained at Ft. Jackson, S. C. and at Ft. Bragg, N. C. before going overseas in 1944 to join the Seventh Army.

Former members, 5,400 of whom have already been located, may obtain more information by calling (215) 699-9498 or writing Wm. H. Young, Jr., 307 N. Main St., North Wales, Pa. 19454.

which are considerably higher than governmental standards for cleanliness, it is rejected. They can also meet their delivery schedule.

"Many companies are in business to make the ultimate amount of profit," Howdy Holmes said.

"We are in business to provide a service. We are the 'value people.' We don't use that as a slogan, but we should. We've had one price increase in 10 years. In order to maintain that philosophy, we have to find ways to do the little things better than the next guy."

The installation of the new lines was also a way of trying to help out existing employees who were working a lot of over-time. Until recently, the lines were operated 24 hours, seven days a week.

"We don't want to work our people too hard," Dudley Holmes said.

"It costs the company in over-time and it costs the people. We don't want them to spend many Sundays away from their families. They tend to get on each other's nerves, especially in January through April."

The new concrete tanks replaced old storage tanks for their bran and midds, by-products of the flour milling process. Daily processing of more than 300,000 pounds of flour produces about 100,000 pounds of by-products. The old tanks hold about 80,000 pounds, which meant some by-product had to be off-loaded into trucks daily, sometimes at odd hours.

Dudley Holmes says there are no current plans for major expansion, but admits that with current growth rates, expansion is inevitable. The company already owns a lot of land, some of it populated by businesses and homes, around their complex.

But the growth will come slowly and deliberately, the way the Holmeses want it.

SANTA HAS A BRAND NEW SUIT: Chelsea Downtown Merchants Association determined that Santa needed a new suit to replace the 12-year-old, frayed and faded one. Sam Vogel, president of the association, presented Chelsea's longtime Santa Claus, Jim Branham, with a new suit Oct. 11 during the Chamber of Commerce sponsored "Business After Hours." The Downtown Merchants, recognizing Jim's devotion to Chelsea children, purchased the suit and surprised him. For many years Jim has taken his annual vacation to coincide with events surrounding the Christmas holidays. He listens to the children's requests, appears at the Festival of Lights, and serves wherever Santa is needed. Speaking for the merchants and all of Chelsea, Sam Vogel expressed his gratitude to Jim for his years of service to the community.

In the ten years between 1970 and 1980, the state with largest percentage gain in population was Nevada, with 63.8 percent.

Breathers Club Will Hear Talk on Estate Planning

Elaine Donnoe, OTR, JD, of the Legal Services of Southeastern Michigan will discuss the "Senior's Law Program - Estate Planning" at the October meeting of the Chelsea Breathers Club. This club will meet Saturday, Oct. 20 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., in Dining Rooms A & B, Chelsea Community Hospital, 775 S. Main St.

Breathers Clubs are free educational and social support groups for people with breathing disorders such as asthma, chronic bronchitis, emphysema, allergies, and lung cancer.

ATTENTION: BEREAVED FAMILIES WITH CHILDREN

NEEDED - Families who have experienced the death of either a parent or child and where there is at least one child in the home who is under 19 years of age. We are interested in discussing the changes that affect families and ways family members help each other after a family member's death. Each family would meet with an interviewer at least 4 times during one year. This study is funded through RE-CONNECT, a community of support for bereaved children and their families.

For more information, call Ruth Lendt, 994-0561.

Halloween Tape Available on Trick Or Treat Safety

The Greater Washtenaw Area Tel-Med, a free telephone health education program, announces the addition of a new tape especially for children. The new tape, "A Halloween Message," is an enjoyable way to teach children about trick-or-treat safety.

"A Halloween Message" talks to children about ways to make Halloween trick-or-treating both fun and safe. Developed in conjunction with local law enforcement agencies, the tape's narrator, the Halloween Pumpkin, makes suggestions about checking candy for tampering, being able to see and be seen while trick-or-treating, and the need to be accompanied by a responsible adult.

Tel-Med is open for calls Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and on Saturdays from 12 noon to 8 p.m.

From the Ann Arbor and western Washtenaw area call 669-1551. From Ypsilanti, eastern Washtenaw and western Wayne counties, call 434-6120. From Livingston county, call 517-548-2832. Persons from outside the local calling areas are welcome to call, but regular telephone charges will prevail.

Flyers advertising "A Halloween Message" and brochures that list Tel-Med's entire library of over 300 tapes are available by calling the above numbers. For large quantities, please call 313-572-3067.

CHARLES BOOMUS of Chelsea showed his skills at spinning yarn from raw wool at Sunday's Pioneer Day activities on the Waterloo Farm Museum grounds. Boomus, a Chelsea High school graduate with the class of 1985, is now a junior at Eastern Michigan University majoring in art and works part-time as a medical technology photographer at U-M Hospital in Ann Arbor. He learned the skills of spinning from his grandfather, Jerry Canton, in Ann Arbor.

Man Arrested After High Speed Chase

Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department (WCSD) deputy Mark Mesko was the first lawman to respond, but officers from the Chelsea Police Department joined the effort to apprehend a suspect who led officers on a highway chase involving a truck stolen in Ann Arbor, Saturday, Oct. 6.

The driver of the truck led officers from several departments on a wild chase at speeds sometimes exceeding 100 mph, along Interstate-94, westbound from the City of Ann Arbor as far as Fletcher Rd.

In his report of the incident, deputy Mesko indicated he received a call at 4:40 p.m. from dispatch regarding a 1990 model white Chevrolet pick-up truck, valued at $18,000, apparently trying to escape officers from the City of Ann Arbor.

Assisting on the chase, Mesko spotted the suspect, "now past Baker Rd. and approaching Parker" and noted "the suspect vehicle lost control in the median just east of Fletcher, regained control and fled eastbound on 94."

Deputy Mesko also crossed the median and started his pursuit.

After continuing east on I-94 at estimated speeds exceeding 100 mph, Mesko explained in his report, the suspect started to slow—near the rest stop east of Baker Rd.

Mesko said he was able to get close enough to see a white male driver with his seat belt fastened.

It appeared the suspect wanted to cross the median again, but decided not to, Mesko explained in the report.

Later, Mesko learned there were flat spots on the patrol car's front tires, due to skids during the pursuit.

The suspect continued from I-94 to eastbound M-14 with speeds estimated at 80-100 mph.

In order to get around the traffic, deputy Mesko said the suspect drove on the left shoulder of the highway and the truck sprayed several stones, which landed on the WCSD unit, causing damage to the windshield, headlights and grill.

The truck turned onto northbound US-23, then proceeded westbound on North Territorial Rd., and on reaching Whitmore Lake, made a U-turn, then returned eastbound on Territorial, and slowed to about 50 mph, apparently because of a blown front tire.

The driver lost control, drove into a ditch on the north side of the road and struck a mailbox before stopping on the front lawn of a business at 1061 North Territorial Rd.

Deputy Mesko apprehended the suspect as he exited the truck with raised arms and immediately fell to the ground in what Mesko theorized was an attempt to "give up."

Ann Arbor police officer Jeffrey Connelly and deputy Mesko made the arrest.

Too many political campaigns today rely on name-calling and on trying to make labels stick. Some candidates will do this to avoid talking about real issues or about their own stands.

I don't believe in name-calling or labels. I just want to talk about the issues that are important to all of us. Issues like the environment, the "polluters pay" law, property tax relief and crime, drugs and safe streets.

I am happy to talk with you at any time and explain my stance on the issues that are important to you. Please feel free to give me a call at the campaign office at 761-9679.

JUST REMINISCING

24 Years Ago . . .

Pontiac were both taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after the car they were riding in was nearly demolished in a wreck on I-94 east of Fletcher Rd. in Lima township. The car was west-bound on the interstate highway when a tire blew out, causing the car to reel out of control, sail onto the median strip and roll over, according to Washtenaw County Sheriff's officers.

34 Years Ago . . .

Wednesday, Oct. 18, 1956—

Items taken from the files of The Chelsea Standard

Dr. and Mrs. Kendall P. Thomas and their son, John, who came here in September, 1955, after spending two years in Germany, were leaving Chelsea to make their home on Long Island, N.Y. Dr. Thomas would be director and head of the department of dental hygiene at Long Island Agricultural and Technical Institute which was one of the 33 branches of the University of New York State.

The Boy Scout Court of Honor, held in the gymnasium at Chelsea High school Monday evening, with members of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea as guests, was believed to be one of the largest ever held in Chelsea. More than 200 people attended and 81 awards were presented. Other guests present were the district Boy Scout commissioner and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fetters; a Portage Trails Council representative and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Duke; and Chelsea Cubmaster William Hitchingham.

Chelsea United Way Sets $95,000 Campaign Goal

Chelsea United Way Campaign has reached about 10 percent of its $95,000 goal as of Friday, Oct. 12, said campaign chairman Joe Piasecki.

The goal is $10,000 higher than last year's goal of $85,000.

"The financial needs of the agencies we support continues to grow so we needed to raise our goal," Piasecki said.

The goal for the campaign was set after each of the funded agencies completed the budget and allocation process with the board of directors. Allocation amounts were set after determining the needs of each agency.

Agencies funded last year included Chelsea Recreation Department, Chelsea Home Meals, Chelsea Social Services, Salvation Army, Catholic

Social Services, Huron Valley Child Guidance, Washtenaw Retarded Children, Cystic Fibrosis, Huron Valley Girl Scouts, Wolverine Council

USE OF ARTIFICIAL SWEETENERS CAN REDUCE DECAY RATE

Q: What are some of the differences between different artificial sweeteners?

A: For the last 30 years or so Americans have been consuming artificial sweeteners in massive amounts, starting with the "one calorie cola," in an effort to prevent weight gain. Artificial sweeteners include saccharin, aspartame (Nutra-Sweet), sugar alcohols (xylitol and sorbitol), and cyclamates.

Saccharin has been in use longer than any of the other artificial sweeteners. It is a no-calorie additive that does not promote tooth decay and is often used instead of sugar in foods, beverages, chewable vitamins, toothpastes, and mouthwashes.

Sugar alcohols like xylitol and sorbitol are found naturally in many foods. According to the Academy of General Dentistry, they are produced commercially for sweetening confections, such as chewing gums and candies. Some recent research found that xylitol users had a 90% decrease in cavities compared with those who used natural sugar. However, a small number of chronic sugarless gum chewers have developed plaque in their mouths that will produce decay in the presence of sugar alcohols. They also have the unpleasant side effect of causing increased gastro-intestinal gas in some people.

Cyclamate is a food additive that was used heavily in the 1960's. It is a no-calorie sweetener that does not cause tooth decay. The Food & Drug Administration removed it from the market in 1969 when it was implicated as a cancer causing agent.

Aspartame (Nutra-Sweet) is currently very popular as a "natural" sugar substitute that does not promote tooth decay. It is 180 times sweeter than sugar and is used in a wide variety of foods that previously were sweetened with sucrose (table sugar) or saccharin. It can be made to have a similar texture to table sugar but with far fewer calories due to its concentration.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Dogs Hold Off Tecumseh, Visit Pinckney Friday With Eye on Play-Offs

Senior running back Jude Quilter rushed for 249 yards and scored four touchdowns as the Chelsea Bulldogs won their fourth straight game last Friday, 34-23 over the Tecumseh Indians.

And suddenly the Bulldogs have become contenders for a post-season play-off spot. Chelsea, ranked ninth in their division before Friday, can jump to perhaps as high as fifth with a win over the class A Pinckney Pirates this Friday in Pinckney. The top four teams in each division will make the play-offs in the new system this year.

"If we win our last two games, I'd say we stand about a 50-50 chance," said Chelsea coach Gene LaFave.

"Somebody ahead of us still has to lose."

The Bulldogs, 5-2 over-all and 3-2 in the Southeastern Conference, led the entire game last Friday but had to withstand a furious comeback by the Indians, who trailed 28-7 early in the fourth quarter.

After receiver Ben Hurst scored a touchdown on a 13-yard reverse with 11:21 left in the game to give Chelsea their biggest lead, Indian quarterback Jon Kuhman went to work. The Indians marched 64 yards on eight plays to score on a three-yard Brandon Cox run with 9:02 to go.

Tecumseh then forced Chelsea to punt on four downs and took the ball at their own 45. A questionable interference call on Quilter gave the Indians the ball at the Chelsea 16, then Kuhman completed a pass to the six. On the next play, Kuhman passed to Joe Kuebler for the score. Chelsea's 21-point lead had dwindled to five in about seven minutes.

Chelsea's final drive of the night looked as though it might stall. Behind the running of Quilter and Rick Westcott, Chelsea moved the ball from their own 38 to the Tecumseh 34. On fourth down and six, Quilter took a pitch around the right end, eluded two would-be tacklers, and ran for the score with 1:27 left.

"Offensively we played an outstanding game," LaFave said.

"We were very good up front. Dan Tassinari, Jason Adams, Mike Terpstra, Craig Ferry, everyone up front dominated the line. I think the way we attacked their defensive scheme caused them a lot of problems. Plus, our kids got off the ball pretty well. Defensively we were very good until the fourth quarter. They've got a very good quarterback and two or three fine receivers and most of the time we were able to keep the receivers in front of us. Brian Burns caught one touchdown pass, but other than that we played him reasonably well. Their quarterback is better than we thought and he had quite a few athletic plays."

LaFave was also particularly pleased his team had no turnovers.

"A lot of the credit for that goes to JUDE QUILTER makes a leaping catch for one of his four touchdowns during last Friday's Chelsea homecoming game. Quilter rushed for a season-high 249 yards as well as the Bulldogs won and moved to 3-2 in the Southeastern Conference.

Tucker (Steele, quarterback)," LaFave said.

Chelsea took the opening kick-off and scored on their opening possession. Quilter did most of the damage in the 74-yard drive, and the touchdown came on a 21-yard pass from Steele.

After stopping the Indians at the Chelsea 30, thanks partly to an 11-yard sack by Tom Poulter, the Bulldogs drove 70 yards for their second score. One of several unsportsmanlike conduct penalties on the Indians gave Chelsea a first down at the Tecumseh 34. A holding penalty put Chelsea back to the 44, but Quilter was able to make up most of the yardage on a screen pass from Steele, to move to the 25. After Steele kept for the first down, Westcott ran 13 yards to the nine. Quilter eventually scored from the one-foot line at the 11:24 mark of the second quarter.

Tecumseh got on the board on their next drive. The Indians found themselves with a fourth down and 21 from the Chelsea 22. Kuhman found a well-covered Burns at the back of the end zone for the touchdown with 5:29 left in the quarter.

Quilter picked off a pass early in the third quarter to give Chelsea the ball at the Tecumseh 45. He later scored from one yard with 7:14 to go in the third.

The Bulldogs drove 86 yards on their next drive after Adam Taylor picked off a pass at the Chelsea two. Quilter ran 39 yards to the Tecumseh 23, and a 10-yard penalty at the end of the play gave Chelsea the ball at the Indians' 13. That set up Hurst's score.

Quilter's numbers overshadowed another fine performance by Westcott, who ran for 113 yards on 14 carries. Steele completed 3-9 for 47 yards.

Chelsea held Tecumseh to 286 total yards. Kuhman was 17-23 in the air for 151 yards. Cox ran 11 times for 53 yards to lead the Tecumseh rushing attack.

Pinckney Pirates shape up to be one of the toughest challenges of the season for the Bulldogs. The winner will take sole possession of second place in the Southeastern Conference.

"Pinckney plays great defense and offensively they've been able to move the ball," LaFave said.

"They have two good running backs and the quarterback is very capable. We're going to have our hands full."

Pinckney is also 5-2 on the season.

Golfers 11th At Regional

Chelsea Bulldogs golf team placed 11th in the 17-team regional tournament at Jackson Cascades Golf Course last week.

Jackson Lumen Christi won the tournament with a 321. Chelsea shot 378.

Alex Hammerschmidt was Chelsea's top scorer with a 90. Other Chelsea scorers included Aaron Tanner 92, Chris White 95, and Nick McCalla 101.

Cagers Remain Unbeaten in SEC After Wins Over Saline, Pinckney

Chelsea Bulldogs varsity basketball team kept their grip on first place in the Southeastern Conference with victories over the Saline Hornets and Pinckney Pirates last week.

The Bulldogs are 11-2 over-all and 6-0 in the SEC. Tecumseh and Dexter each have two losses.

Chelsea topped Saline, 50-43, on the road last Thursday.

"I think our experience came through in the end," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter.

"Saline is a much improved team, but we were able to make some adjustments in the second half."

The Bulldogs led 8-6 after the first quarter but fell behind by half-time, 25-22. They moved into the lead by the end of the third quarter, 38-37.

"The game was really undecided until the last three minutes when Christine Burg stole the ball and made a lay-up," Rosentreter said.

Carrie Flintoff scored 10 of her 14 points in the first half to keep the Bulldogs close. In the second half, Burg scored 11 of her 15 points and Mercedes Hammer scored 10 of her 13 points, as they combined for 21 of the Bulldogs' 28 points.

Chelsea hit 20 of 47 shots from the floor and 10 of 20 from the free throw line.

Hammer led Chelsea with seven rebounds.

Other Chelsea scorers included Kristin Bohlender with five points and Sarah Devine with three.

Tuesday's game at home with Pinckney ended with a 43-30 win for Chelsea.

"It was a very sluggish game and it shouldn't have been that close," Rosentreter said.

"We didn't execute as well as we're capable of."

Rosentreter said Pinckney's shift to a man-to-man defense when they were a few points down in the fourth quarter enabled the Bulldogs to take control.

"We scored three quick baskets when they made the change," Rosentreter said.

However, Rosentreter said he was upset by the fact that Pinckney made six of their 10 field goals in the fourth quarter.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Boy, how I wish Chelsea could play the Saline Hornets now.

The Bulldog varsity football team won its fourth straight game last Friday with an impressive showing against the Tecumseh Indians. Chelsea is 3-2 in the Southeastern Conference, tied for second place with the Pinckney Pirates, this week's Chelsea challenger.

You probably know by now that Saline wrapped up the title two weeks ago. They're undefeated.

I have a hunch that Chelsea would give Saline all they could handle were the two teams to meet this week. The Bulldog defense, while still somewhat vulnerable to a good passing attack, has improved steadily. They are consistently making the big hits on fourth-down-and-short. Inspiration and intensity have been the keys. Occasionally the hitting is fierce. Defensive co-ordinator Roger Cox deserves a lot of the credit. Inspiration and intensity are the trademarks of his coaching style, at least at game time, and it seems to have rubbed off on the players.

The Bulldog offense has also come to life. Running back Jude Quilter is getting the ball more now than he did early in the season. Last Friday he gained nearly 250 yards, caught every pass thrown his way, and scored 28 points. Opponents know they have to stop him, even design their defenses for that purpose, but still can't do it. He'd probably be the first to admit that key blocks don't hurt any, either. Chelsea is dominating the line of scrimmage.

Add a few key passes now and then by quarterback Tucker Steele, whose over-all game is improving week to week, and some underrated running by Rick Westcott, and you have a team that might be as good as any in the league at this point.

Incidentally, this year's varsity coaching staff has been an absolute pleasure to watch. Head coach Gene LaFavé, Cox, and assistant Curt Ellis all have their individual styles, but they all have one thing in common. They tell the players in no uncertain terms when their play stinks and when it is outstanding. The praise flows as freely as the criticism. That was a key missing ingredient last year and may have had as much to do with their dismal season as anything else.

This week's game at Pinckney will tell just how good the Bulldogs have become. Observers of the Pirates have told me that while Pinckney lacks the exceptional athletes this season, the team over-all is more solid than last year's co-championship squad and is the quickest in the league. They did shut out Lincoln in Willis last Friday, so they're obviously doing something right.

It's also the battle for second place. And if Chelsea entertains any thoughts about the play-offs, they have to win this game.

My guess is, if neither team kills itself with turnovers or penalties, and Quilter doesn't break his leg in practice, the outcome will hinge on coaching. And in that department Chelsea has a distinct advantage.

My one and only prediction of the season is, Chelsea 27, Pinckney 22.

A couple of notes about homecoming.

The homecoming parade, although vastly improved over last year, was still a feeble attempt. It was little more than a few vehicles with people sitting or otherwise piled in them. A little crepe paper here and there. Hardly worth diverting traffic off M-52 for it. And how can you have a parade with no music? That was the major missing ingredient.

Speaking of music, the Bulldog Marching Band put on an excellent half-time performance Friday, maybe the best I've seen. The band played a tune by Guns 'N' Roses, the racist, homophobic rock band, followed by a percussion-dominated "Frere Jacques." I never would have guessed either number would be fodder for a marching band.

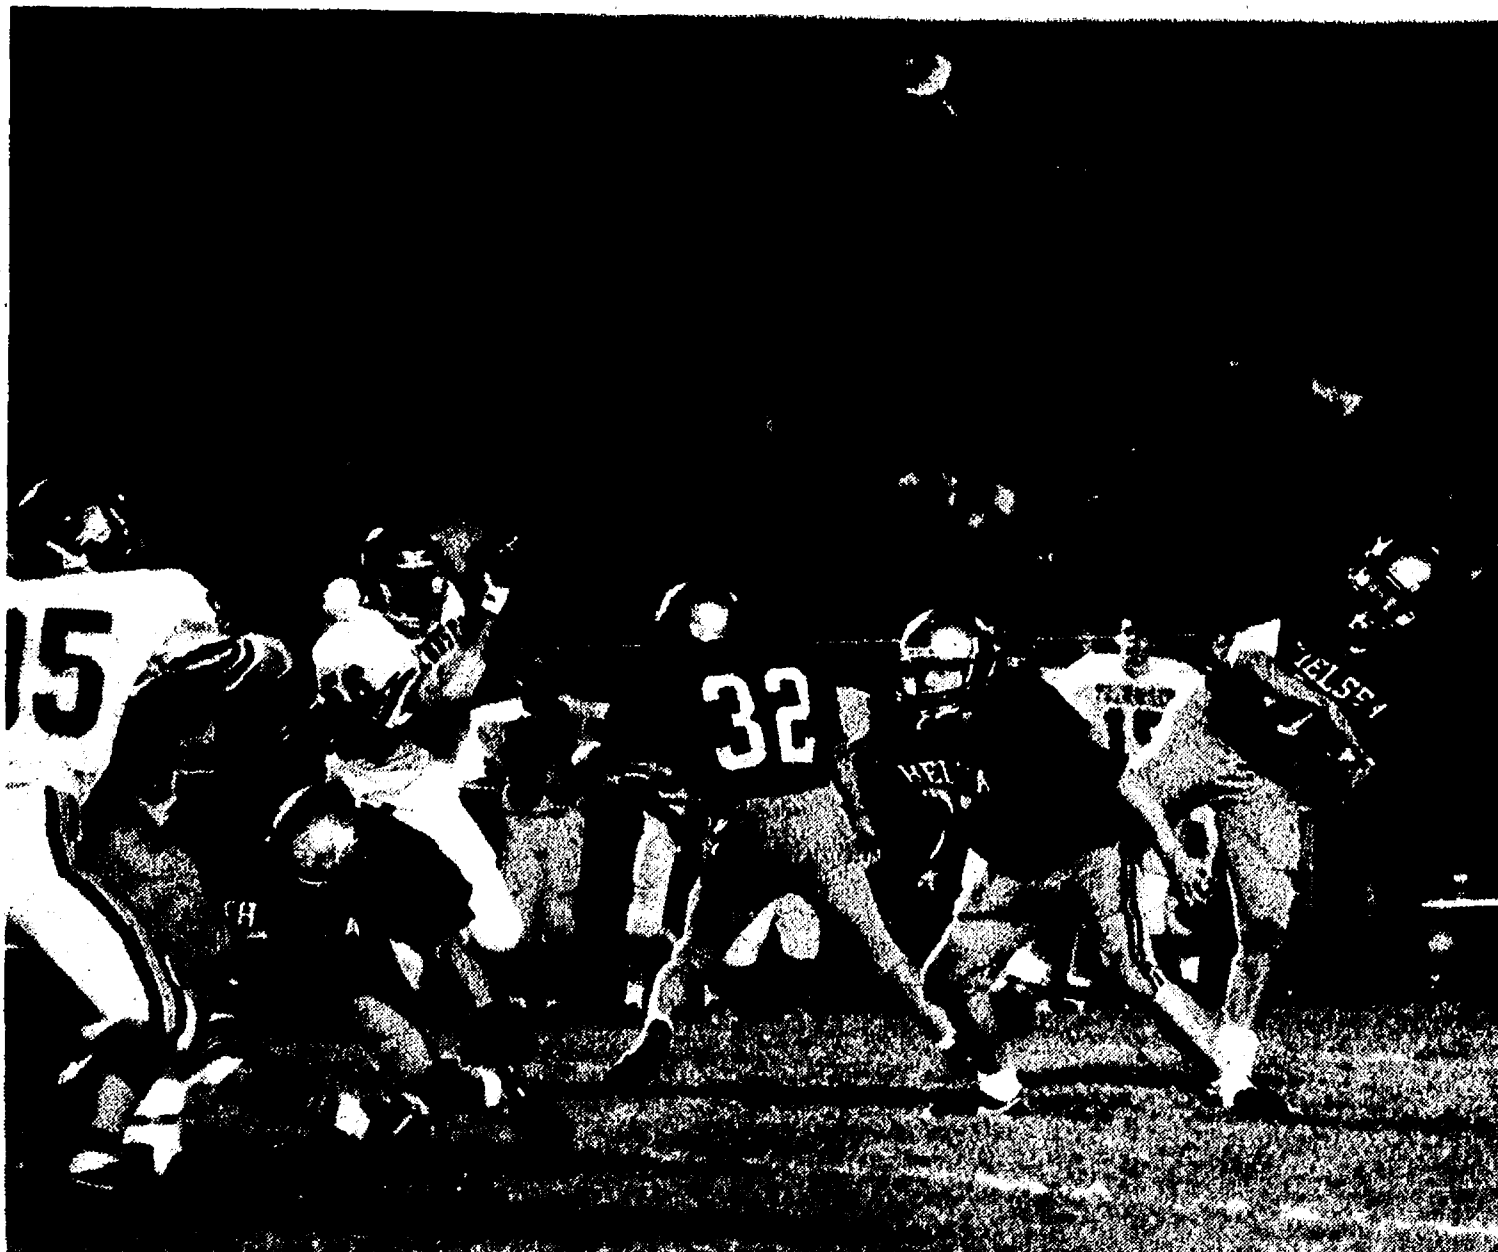

Chelsea girls cross country team continues to clobber the competition, although they finished second to Jackson Lumen Christi last week-end. Even so, I still think they are the team to beat for the state title. Top to bottom, the Bulldogs are probably stronger than they were last year. And they're all so young.

Lisa Monti has yet to finish anywhere other than first place, the position she's occupied ever since last year's state meet. Val Bullock usually finishes in the top five. And the rest of the Bulldogs run close together. It's not uncommon for five or six runners to finish all within a minute of each other. With that kind of grouping, the Bulldogs will be hard to beat.

The varsity basketball team is on course to win its third straight league title. As of this writing, they're undefeated in SEC play, two games ahead of the nearest competition.

This may be Rahn Rosentreter's finest coaching job yet at Chelsea High, and we're talking about a guy who has two girls titles and one boys title to his credit. His top scorer has been out for most of the season, and he has almost no depth. The team reminds me of an old pick-up truck that you expect to break down at any minute yet keeps on hauling the payload.

It's shaping up to be another excellent fall for girls sports.

TUCKER STEELE launches a ball downfield over the outstretched arms of the Tecumseh linemen during last Friday night's game in Chelsea. The ball was nearly caught by Adam Taylor. The Bulldogs went on to win the game, 34-23. They'll battle the Pinckney Pirates for second place in the Southeastern Conference, and a possible play-off berth.

Chelsea Netters Take Sixth At Regional Tennis Tourney

Chelsea Bulldog tennis team finished in a tie for sixth place in the class B regionals in Monroe last Saturday.

"We had four byes and a fairly good chance to come out in the top third, but too many things were against us," said Chelsea coach Terri Curtis.

"The pluses that the byes gave us turned out to be our undoing. The girls with the byes had to wait five hours before going on and then the rains came. Two hours later we moved indoors to the Monroe Racquet Club and finished that round."

Sara Musolf, at second doubles, lost in three sets, 3-6, 6-4, 4-6 to St. Mary's Catholic Central.

Lissa Hamrick and Jane Pacheco won their quarter-final round and moved on to the semi-finals Saturday morning at 8 a.m. They lost to Grosse Ile, 6-3, 7-5, "but played great tennis," Curtis said.

Katie Neal reached the semifinals at fourth singles but lost to Catholic Central in three sets, 7-5, 3-6, 4-6.

"Everyone could have won their first round, but we just didn't," Curtis said.

In other singles play, Amy Mitchell lost to Crestwood, 1-6, 6-3, 3-6; and Sarah Gegenheimer lost to Riverview 6-7, 7-5, 3-6.

The doubles team of Becky Dehring and Christine McLaughlin defeated Crestwood, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4 in their first round but were defeated by Catholic Central in the second round, 6-0, 6-1.

Julie Weiss and Becky Vctor lost to second-seeded Grosse Ile, 1-6, 1-6 in the first round.

"All in all, it was a tough, mixed-up week-end, but we did manage sixth," Curtis said.

Saline won the regional, followed by Grosse Ile, Allen Park Cabrini, Catholic Central, Riverview, Crestwood, Chelsea, Brooklyn Columbia Central, Allen Park, Dearborn Heights Annapolis, Monroe Jefferson, and New Boston Huron.

Boy Runners Place Eighth At Sturgis

Kelly Beard, Ben Vermeylen, and Joe Blough ran their best times of the season as the Chelsea Bulldogs boys cross country team finished eighth at the Sturgis Invitational last Saturday.

The 17-team meet featured a strong field, according to Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

Beard was the highest Chelsea finisher, taking 22nd place in 17:31. Chelsea runners behind him were Vermeylen, 39th, 18:11; Jim Hassett, 48th, 18:21; Joe Blough, 54th, 18:29; Mike Reese, 62nd, 18:52; and Tobin Strong, 90th, 20:06.

In other action, Chelsea lost to the Dexter Dreadnaughts, 23-32.

Beard finished first for Chelsea and second over-all in 17:35.

"Dexter has four fine young runners that we simply couldn't match up with," Clarke said.

Behind Beard were Vermeylen, 6th, 18:20; Hassett, 7th, 18:27; Dan Zatkovich, 8th, 18:30; White, 9th, 18:37; Strong, 11th, 18:54; Reese, 12th, 19:04; Blough, 13th, 19:10; J. J. Hanke, 17th, 20:18; David Sayer, 18th, 20:22; Rob Jaques, 21st, 21:17; Martin Cheng, 24th, 21:59; and Mike Kennedy, 28th, 22:11.

Bulldog Tankers Nip Pinckney In Tune-Up for Conference Meet

Chelsea Bulldogs tankers edged the Pinckney Pirates last week, 92-90, and coach Dave Jolly said the Bulldogs "turned the corner in a close and well-swum meet."

Jolly said the Pirates performed well but the Bulldogs were a better team that night.

"Pinckney has really come a long way in three years," Jolly said.

The 200 medley relay team of Melissa Thiel, Michelle Hollo, Erika Boughton, and Kelly Cross turned in a winning time of 2:06.11.

"It was a little off their usual pace but was a normal time for this point in the season," Jolly said.

Boughton placed second in the 200 freestyle with a time of 2:11.10, while Kristi Smith was fifth in 2:31.01.

Thiel won the 200 individual medley in 2:29.49 and Sara Nicola placed fourth in 2:44.23.

Cross and Jennifer McEachern turned in a 1-4 finish in the 50 freestyle.

"Kelly's time of :26.79 was nice," Jolly said.

"She is finally starting to get healthy after a long bout with colds and allergies."

McEachern's time of :28.53 was also a strong swim, Jolly said.

"I expect Jennifer to eventually be in the 26-second range," Jolly said.

Diver Jennifer Schultz scored 115.15 points.

Jolly said the 200 freestyle relay was one of the highlights of the evening as the team of Cross, Sandy Schmid, Thiel, and McEachern swam a 2:51.73, three seconds off the cut for the state meet.

Erica Street was second in the 100 backstroke with a time of 1:15.12.

Thiel and Hollo easily finished 1-2 in the 100 breaststroke. Thiel just missed qualifying for the state meet with a 1:15.61, while Hollo swam a 1:20.60.

"Michelle's time was her best in the last four meets and really looked strong," Jolly said.

"With the conference meet two weeks away, our girls are ready to score a lot of points. I believe we will be the big surprise of the meet."

Young Tankers Improve Times

Chelsea freshman and sophomore swimmers participated in the first annual Dexter Invitational last Saturday.

"We had some outstanding performances," said Chelsea coach Dave Jolly.

Jennifer Schultz placed eighth in diving.

Maya Holleman dropped six seconds from her previous best in the 200 individual medley with a 2:48.49.

Amy Hinshaw, Kristi Ostling, and Maya Ponte all dropped time in the 50 freestyle as Hinshaw swam a :43.29, Ostling a :38.00, and Ponte a :34.74.

Hinshaw dropped seven seconds in the 100 freestyle to record a 1:39.63 while Holleman dropped a little more than a second to turn in a 1:06.51.

Ponte swam a 1:34.56 in the 100 backstroke.

Nona Giebel improved 14 seconds in the 100 breaststroke with a 1:43.57 and Ninete Vermeylen improved two seconds to record a 1:39.44.

8th Grade Cagers Win Two Games

Beach Middle school eighth grade basketball team played two games against Stockbridge and won 28-13 and 45-6.

Leading scorers for the day included Martha Merkel 13, Jessica Knight 8, Halley Orr 8, Amy Petty 8, Aubree Gerardi 6, Charlotte Ziegler 5, Kate Steele 5, Cindy Tripp 4, and Nancy Pidd 4.

Merkel had 12 rebounds, Jayma Spears 7, Orr 6, Maria Cordero 5, Knight 5, Steele 5, and Petty 5.

Gerardi led with 8 steals, Pidd 5, Orr 5, Steele 5, Tripp 4, Spears 4, and Keri Kentala 4.

Laura Hodgson sparked the team, said coach Jon Schaffner.

Varsity Cagers Leading SEC

Burg led Chelsea with 14 points and Hammer scored 11. The remainder of the scoring included Flintoff with six points, and Devine, Losey, and Bohlender with four each.

"If we're going to do anything in the second half, we've got to pick our play up a notch," Rosentreter said.

"We'll have to come out with a few surprises and mix it up a little bit." Chelsea's biggest change will be the return of Colleen Scharphorn. She may be able to play next week.

Most women managers in a March 1988 survey were middle aged, according to the U.S. Labor Department's Women's Bureau. Of the 5.4 million women employed as executives, administrators and managers, 2.2 million (40.6 percent) were between the ages of 16 and 34, and 3.2 million (59.4 percent) were over age 35.

KENNETH BAUER II of Chelsea shot this 220-pound, 19-point buck in Jackson county last week. Bauer was perched in a tree stand and shot the animal with a bow and arrow from about 20 yards. It was the second buck he has taken with a bow.

7th Grade Cagers Split Two Games

Beach Middle school's seventh grade basketball team played two games against Stockbridge last week as the team was divided into A and B teams.

The A team was defeated 24-14 as they struggled against the Stockbridge half-court press and zone defense.

Lisa Beard led Chelsea with six points and three steals, Ann Terpstra had four points and 12 rebounds, and Kyle Kentala and Beth Blevins each added two points. Danielle Longe had six rebounds and Jessica Inwood had three rebounds.

In the B game, Chelsea capitalized on their quickness and 38 percent shooting to take a 32-5 victory.

Katie Spink led with 10 points, Heidi Wehrwein had eight points, Angie Bell and Sara Petty had four points each, and Chrissy Vargo, Nikki Lane, and Heidi Kemnitz each had two points.

Chrystal Orr had five rebounds and Kemnitz had four rebounds.

Most women who were employed as executives, administrators and managers in March 1988 were married with spouse present (60.1 percent), according to the U.S. Labor Department's Women's Bureau. Another 18.4 percent had never married while 14.5 percent were divorced. Male executives, administrators and managers were more likely to be married with spouse present (75.3 percent), with an additional 14.5 percent having never married and 6.8 percent divorced.

JV Gridders Lose to Indians

Tecumseh Indians junior varsity football team dominated the Chelsea Bulldogs last Thursday, 42-14, in Tecumseh.

The Bulldogs were missing some of their key players due to injury and illness.

Chelsea fell behind 14-0 before recording their first touchdown on a 65-yard pass play from Pat Steele to Steve Grau.

The Indians scored twice more to increase the score to 28-8 before Chelsea mounted its second scoring drive. Aric Dougherty scored on a five-yard run, then scored the conversion points.

"We threw the ball well and passed well," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

"Pat Steele played a marvelous game. Our main problem is we stopped ourselves."

Gabe Bernhard caught three passes.

The Bulldogs had a rough time defending the Tecumseh "full-house backfield," Welton said.

Girls Cross Country 4-0 in SEC

"It was constant rain and about 45 degrees."

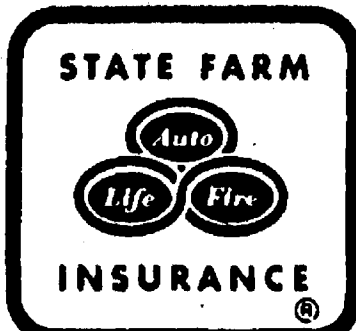

Monti checked in with a 19:49 for first place and Bullock was second in 21:17. Other Chelsea runners included Brosnan, 4th, 21:38; Williams, 5th, 21:39; Holton, 6th, 21:54; Wales, 7th, 22:14; Smith, 8th, 22:46; Charity Allen, 9th, 23:00; Beth Bell, 10th, 23:08; Sarah Henry, 13th, 24:06; Christine Mignano, 14th, 24:54; and Kristin Martin, 19th, 29:27.

The girls are 4-0 in the Southeastern Conference.

Postal Service Advises Early Holiday Mailing

"Mail Early." That's what the U. S. Postal Service is advising all Americans to do again this holiday season, especially with mail intended for their loved ones overseas. "With the military build-up in Saudi Arabia, we're expecting a big strain to be placed on our mail transportation system world-wide," says Allen Kane, Assistant Postmaster General for Delivery, Distribution and Transportation.

"With the massive mailing effort going on with Operation Desert Shield, transportation and processing capabilities will be extremely tight this holiday season," adds Kane. "The Postal Service will be moving a tremendous volume of holiday mail overseas. To ensure timely delivery, customers should send their cards, letters and packages bound for military and international locations as early as possible."

Cards and letters travel overseas by Air Mail/Priority only. To mail packages to any military overseas destination, customers can choose from one of three services: First-Class/Priority or Air Mail, Parcel Airlift Mail (PAL), or Space Available Mail (SAM). Information on the cost of these services can be obtained from your local post office.

For the fastest delivery, Express Mail Military Service is an option available to more than 200 APO and FPO facilities. Customers can also choose to mail with Express Mail International Service, available to more than 100 countries.

In terms of mailing within the United States, there is no specific deadline, but the Postal Service recommends that you send your holiday mail by early December. Typically, the largest mail volumes come during the week before Christmas.

"Mailing early ensures timely delivery and is important in the event winter storms delay air and ground transportation," says Kane. "Plus, it gives your friends and relatives more time to appreciate your gifts and holiday greetings."

Meet the Candidates Night Planned By Council of Veterans

Washtenaw County Council of Veterans will be sponsoring a "Meet the Candidates Night" on Tuesday, Oct. 30. This activity will be held at the American Legion Post No. 322 located at 320 W. Michigan Ave., Salline, and will start at 7:30 p.m.

The forum is open to the public and the host post will be providing light refreshments for those attending.

Invitations have been mailed to 58 candidates seeking to represent this community at the county, state and federal levels of government.

To date, 30 favorable responses have been received and more are expected to attend once their schedules are cleared.

Candidates will be given a brief opportunity to identify themselves; office they are seeking and explain why they are "uniquely qualified" to serve in that capacity. Time remaining may provide the public with the opportunity to meet with candidates individually.

Outdoor carol singing seems to have started in the Middle Ages when groups of people went from house to house to sing by torchlight.

Nearly 5.6 million women were employed as executives, administrators and managers in the U.S. in 1988, more than double 1978's 2.5 million, according to the U.S. Labor Department's Women's Bureau. Women managers now represent 10.8 percent of all employed women, up from 6.3 percent 10 years ago.

LANA POLLACK

Michigan State Senator

Lana Pollack, Michigan's hardest working State Senator, believes that our most precious resource is our children. From pre-school to university, her name is synonymous with education. She works both to free education from its reliance on property taxes and to increase its financial support.

Lana Pollack is the legislature's foremost environmentalist. After six years of hard work, the "polluters pay" bill has finally passed in both houses of the Legislature, and awaits the signature of the Governor. This is a milestone in the environmental effort in Michigan.

Lana Pollack fights those who are trying to take away freedom of choice with regard to birth control, abortions and living wills.

Lioness Making Plans for Annual Haunted House

Chelsea Lioness are sponsoring their fifth annual Haunted House. This year it will take place in the Village Plaza next to Arbor Drugs on Main St., Friday and Saturday, Oct. 26 and 27 from 7 to 10 p.m. There will be new scenes and scary surprises as well as some old favorites. As usual, some local celebrities are expected. Proceeds are used for many local causes and it is the Lioness' primary fund-raiser.

The Lioness membership tea was a pleasant success, held Monday evening, Sept. 24 at the McKune Library. Seven guests attended including Kathy Powers-Patrick, Diann Murphy, Denise McCourt, Karen Lentz, Laura Bloomsaat, Romona Wikman and Diane Haskill-Gerstenlauer.

Monday evening, Oct. 8, the Lioness general membership meeting was held at the Society Bank. "Christmas Around the World" demonstrator Virginia Matthews provided an opportunity to view and purchase unique decorations for Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Two guests, Diane Haskill-Gerstenlauer and Romona Wikman were in attendance and have decided to join the club.

Much of the meeting was taken up with Haunted House plans.

Lion district chairman Stanley Groh observed the meeting as part of his duties as chairman. He offered advice but primarily praise for our local Lioness group. Lioness secretary Vicky Lawrence was congratulated for the efficient submission of reports and general handling of her duties. Diane Daniels' high quality newsletters were noted. The high energy and enthusiasm of the club was also noted by the chairman as exemplified by the high number (11) of local Lioness attending the upcoming November Lioness conference as well as the high participation and scope of the Haunted House project. The Chelsea Lioness appreciated his comments.

The next Lioness meeting will be Monday evening, Nov. 12 at Society Bank with a program to be announced.

Workshop Will Help Parents End the 'Homework Battle'

Parents, are you tired of battling with your children to finish their homework? Come to "Ending the Homework Battle" on Tuesday, Oct. 23, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at Washtenaw Intermediate School District, and end the skirmishes.

The workshop will give participants strategies and a concrete plan of action to improve the homework situation. Chelsea teacher Barbara Fisher will explain why students do not complete homework and the resulting frustrations for the child, parent and teachers. She will also outline the study skills, structure and organization needed to set up a homework plan.

The workshop is free and open to all interested persons, but registration is required. To register, please call Staff Development Services, (313) 994-8165.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

Big Government Gets Bigger

By Philip C. Clarke
It was Ralph Waldo Emerson, the philosopher and poet, who once said: "The less government we have, the better." The advice was offered about 125 years ago, but never heeded. As always, much of the political battling in Washington these days is over the size of the government.

Many Democrats, it seems, want more federal programs, while most Republicans appear to want fewer. Much of the media. The government has not been "slashed" and "cut to the bone." Rather, it has been inflating all along. And not just the federal government.

Since 1970, state and local governments have increased their spending more than five fold, from $85 billion to more than $445 billion in 1987. And just

And with the Democrats in control of Congress, the outcome more often than not has been more government programs.

Republicans are not blameless, however. If a piece of legislation—whether on defense, public works or whatever—benefits the home district of a GOP lawmaker, he or she usually can be counted on to support it. That's politics, as the saying goes.

But it is this kind of incremental growth in the federal government that has led to the current budget of more than 1.2 trillion dollars. That's more than double the federal government's 1980 budget of $590 billion!

Too often, it seems, lawmakers fail to ask some basic questions, questions that most American families and individuals have to ask every day. Questions such as, where does the money go? Is this spending necessary? Am I getting the right value for my dollars? In the past decade, the White House often has asked some of those questions. But Congress which has the power of the purse, either hasn't been listening or doesn't want to.

Just consider the following facts: Three-quarters of the federal budget is in the so-called category of "uncontrollable" spending. According to the Office of Management and Budget, outlays are considered uncontrollable when they "can neither be increased nor decreased by Presidential decisions without a change in existing federal laws." And who writes those laws? That's right, Congress.

What are some of these "uncontrollable" programs? Under the category of "Payments to Individuals" are listed some of the following: Social Security, medical care, food and nutrition assistance, public assistance and farm price supports. These and other federal payments to individuals add up to almost $700 billion alone. That's up from about $61 billion in 1970!

What are the relatively controllable programs? Defense, which is where Congressional budget cutters seem always to look first. Also, civilian programs such as road building and public works projects. All told, these controllable programs account for only about a quarter of the federal budget.

Over-all, the real-life picture is quite different from that portrayed in like Uncle Sam, these state and local governmental entities are living far beyond their means.

For example, outstanding debt for state and local governments went from $42 billion in 1970 to more than $235 billion in 1987, a six fold increase! And where does this spending go? Judging by employment and payroll records, much of the spending at the local level goes to new employees. For instance, from 1970 to 1987 the federal work force grew by just 220,000 people. By contrast, state and local work rolls increased by more than four million people over the same time period.

These numbers suggest that notwithstanding all the talk of cutting waste and trimming budgets, it is the tendency of government, at all levels to grow. That can only mean more intrusion into the daily lives of the ordinary taxpayers—and, of course, higher spending. And when it comes to government in our daily lives, bigger is not necessarily better.

Legal Notice 21

MORTGAGE SALE — Default having been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage made by DARRYL K. THOMAS and GWENDOLYN A. THOMAS, husband and wife of Ypsilanti, Michigan, Mortgages, to DMR FINAN-CIAL SERVICES, INC., Mortgage, dated the 3rd day of May, 1988, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, on the 4th day of June, 1988, in Liber 1988 of Washtenaw County Records, on page 438, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due, at the date of this notice, for principal and interest, the sum of Forty One Thousand Seven Hundred Thirty Three and 94/100ths Dollars ($41,733.94).

And no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof. Now, Therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute of the State of Michigan in such case, made and provided, notice is hereby given that on Thursday, the 1st day of November, 1990, at 10 o'clock a.m. of that Time, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the main lobby of the Washtenaw County Court House, Huron St., entrance, Ann Arbor, Michigan (that being the building where the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw is held), of the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due, as aforesaid, on said mortgage, with the interest thereon at twelve & 1/4 per cent (12.25%) per annum and all legal costs, charges and expenses, including the attorney fees allowed by law, and also any sum or sums which may be paid by the undersigned, necessary to protect its interest. In the event which said premises are described as follows: All of a certain piece or parcel of land situate in the Twp. of Superior in the County of Washtenaw, and State of Michigan, and described as follows, to-wit:

Situated in the Township of Superior, Washtenaw County, Michigan, Lot 701 and that part of Lot 700 described as: beginning at the southwest corner of Lot 701 and proceeding thence along the southerly line of Lot 701 south 82 degrees 41 minutes 38 seconds east 26 feet; thence south 88 degrees 54 minutes 12 seconds west 23.34 feet; thence along a curve concave to the west, radius 60 feet, arc distance of 12 feet to the place of beginning, all being in Woodland Acres No. 5, as recorded in Liber
21 of Plats, pages 34 and 35, Washtenaw County Records.

The period of redemption expires six months from the sale date unless the property is considered abandoned pursuant to MCLA 600.224(a) in which case the redemption period expired thirty
(30) days from the sale date.

ROADSMART

Presented by Huron Valley Traffic Safety Committee

Q. Does alcohol play a big part in the fatal accident rate for younger drivers?

A. Most definitely! About 60% of the drivers aged 16-24 who were killed in vehicle crashes had been drinking.

Q. How many people are killed due to alcohol-related crashes?

A. About 22,000 people each year or 400 each week. This is the equivalent of the entire population of one of the following Michigan cities each year:
Adrian, Berkley, Holland,
Monroe, Mt. Clemens, Mt. Pleasant, Norton Shores, Novi, Romu-

Nature from Your Back Door

By Glenn R. Dudderar

Have you ever noticed, in late summer and fall, large flocks of birds feeding in one area on the lawn? In urban areas, these birds are likely to be starlings or house sparrows; in rural areas, a large flock of migratory blackbirds, a pair of cardinals and their grown offspring, or a flock of six to a dozen mourning doves.

The starlings might be probing for soil insects. The other birds could be pecking at fallen fruits under a shrub. But frequently, they are eating knotweed seeds.

Chances are the name "knotweed" doesn't mean much to you, but you will probably recognize its description. My personal nickname for prostrate knotweed is "sidewalk weed," because it's one of the few plants that typically grow up in cracks in the sidewalk.

Knotweeds have tiny green leaves less than 1/8 inch long and about 1/16 inch wide, and inconspicuous white, pale pink or green flowers about 1/16 inch across that bloom from early summer until frost. Knotweeds have wiry, intertwining stems that grow erect or creep along the ground. On a sidewalk, prostrate knotweed spreads into a circular mat. That shape and its many interlacing stems make it resemble a lace doily.

Don't let that resemblance to something lacy and frail fool you: these rugged little plants can tolerate growing conditions that most other plants could not survive. That accounts for their being able to grow not only on sidewalks, but in lawn, playground and park areas that get a lot of foot traffic. Knotweeds thrive in the bare spots created by tramping feet, such as the corners of lawns where people cut across the grass, school playgrounds and other areas where frequent trampling and soil compaction make it impossible for grass to survive. Such areas produce vigorous stands of knotweed. And the knotweed attracts flocks of birds to feed on its tiny seeds.

If you pick up a handful of knotweed anytime after midsummer and crumble it into your other hand, you'll see the tiny brown seeds. They're about the size and shape of sesame seeds and are very nutritious, an excellent late summer and fall food for birds.

People don't seem to appreciate knotweeds, even though they grow where grass won't. Vigorous efforts to eliminate them from lawns tend to be, at best, only temporarily successful. Unless traffic patterns change so the area isn't trampled again, all the working up of the soil and seeding and nurturing of grass will be futile. When the grass gets trampled out of existence again, the knotweeds will return to fill in the bare spot. It might make more sense to leave them alone — they make an excellent ground cover.

Knotweed in sidewalks is another story. A clump of it can be thick and dense enough to pose a hazard to walkers, so eliminating it in a sidewalk or driveway makes sense from a safety standpoint as well as an aesthetic one.

Knotweeds are part of a group of plants called smartweeds, all members of the buckwheat family. Smartweeds are usually recognized by their tight cylindrical clusters of tiny pink flowers. From a distance, they look like heads of pink millet. To homeowners and farmers, most smartweeds are weeds — plants growing where people don't want them. But there is also an ornamental smartweed called prince's feather. It's an annual that readily reseeds itself and so is used as a perennial in the garden.

To wildlife biologists, smartweeds are important sources of food for wildlife, especially waterfowl. Dense carpets of smartweed can be produced by regulating wetland water levels through the spring and summer. Flooding the plants in the fall creates a floating smorgasbord that attracts and feeds large numbers of ducks. (The large DNR marsh on the east side of US-27 north of St. Johns is a good example of this.)

The inconspicuous but interesting little knotweed, growing literally under your feet, in your yard and perhaps even in the center of downtown, is a good example of the lessons in biology and ecology that can be learned — or ignored — when you observe nature from your back door.

Substance Abuse
Advisory Council
Seeks Nominations

In October, the Washtenaw County Community Mental Health Board will be appointing new members to its Substance Abuse Advisory Council. The Board is inviting interested county residents to apply for appointment to the Council. Appointments will be made based on criteria that will allow for representation of a variety of groups throughout the county.

Individuals wishing to be considered for appointment should send a brief, descriptive letter to Substance Abuse Co-ordination, Washtenaw County Community Mental Health Center, 555 Towner, P.O. Box 915, Ypsilanti 48197. Telephone inquiries should be directed to Gene Brown at (313) 484-6620. Applications received by Oct. 22 will be considered for immediate appointment. Applications received after that date will be considered for appointment as vacancies occur.

★ They Give Tender Care to Bugs . . .

By Dvora Aksler Konstant

It's that time for swimming, picnics and—swatting bugs.

Not everyone wants to squash them. Scientists in the U.S. Department of Agriculture give them tender care. That applies to insects alive or dead.

A mosquito may be any mosquito, for example, to a picnicker. But there may be a world of difference in the eyes of the scientists. They want to be able to tell one species from another.

They say it's amazing how many kinds of insects there are. There may be 10 to 50 million. To date, only about 1 million species of insects have been named.

"Sometimes it is not as easy as it would seem, since two insects that look alike might be different species," said Douglass R. Miller. "Yet another two that look quite different might be the same species." He is the research leader of a laboratory in USDA's Agricultural Research Service that pins scientific names on insects.

That lab—Systematic Entomology—is home to scientists skilled in the science of identifying species from around the world and seeing how they are related to each other.

An accurate identification can make or break the efforts of farmers, and gardeners, or fruit inspectors, or biologists and ecologists. If gardeners and farmers are to use a beneficial insect to protect crops from a villainous one, for example, systematic entomologists must be sure they tag a definitive I.D.—ahead of time—on both species.

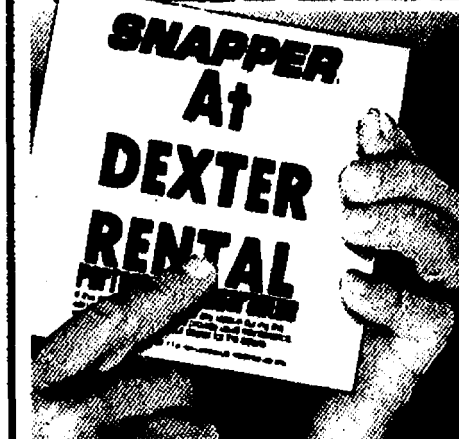

To do this, the researchers wade through drawers and drawers of insects, carefully checking each wing or leg or abdomen of an insect against what's known. For example, there are 20,328 drawers of adult moths alone in the Smithsonian's National Collection of Insects. USDA's research agency and the Smithsonian have worked together for 108 years to create this collection of over 30 million insect specimens.

These scientists must also search through thick tomes of insect names and descriptions to identify these insects. But today, Miller said, bug namers are not only looking at insect anatomy, they also are turning to modern biochemistry, bioacoustics (for crickets), DNA studies and computers to track down on insect's identity.

It seems like a never-ending job—keeping in mind the millions of insects still to be identified. ARS researchers, for their part, identify the 16 orders of insects that are beneficial or detrimental to agriculture—including flies, termites, moths and their destructive caterpillars, wasps, beetles and true bugs. There are 31 insect orders in all.

THE REV. LELAND E. BOOKER

Congregational Pastor Booker Honored on 25th Year of His Ordination

The Rev. Leland E. Booker, pastor of the First Congregational United Church of Christ, was honored Sunday, Oct. 7, on the observance of the 25th year of his ordination into the Christian Ministry.

Leland was born in Ohio and served his home church as a lay pastor from 1955 to 1957, when he entered Bangor Theological Seminary in Bangor, Me. During his student days at that institution he served the Canaan Union church from 1959 to 1961 and the Holden Congregational church from 1962 to 1964.

He graduated from the University of Maine on Aug. 20, 1965 and received his Master of Divinity Degree from the Bangor Theological Seminary in June of 1966. He was ordained into the Christian Ministry in the Phillipsburg United Church of Christ in Phillipsburg, O., Oct. 10, 1965.

At the time of his ordination, the Rev. Booker was serving the First Congregational United Church of Christ in Galesburg, until 1967. He served the Flat Rock Congregational United Church of Christ from 1967 to 1977, the Burlingame United Church of Christ in Wyoming, Mich., from 1977 to 1981, the Crystal Congregational United Church of Christ in Crystal, Mich., from 1981 until he began serving the First Congregational United Church of Christ here in Chelsea in September, 1983.

The Rev. Booker is married and lives with his wife, Bertha at 125 E. Middle St., in Chelsea. They are the parents of two daughters, Belinda Marie, who is a professional nanny, residing with her family in Rochester Hills, and Louise Ellen, who is the volunteer co-ordinator of Activities and Personnel at the Michigan Masonic Home in Alma.

Several members of the extended Booker family were in attendance on Sunday to surprise their brother or brother-in-law on this very special occasion. These included Mr. and Mrs. Harold (Luella) Roeth of Piqua, O.; Mr. and Mrs. David (Anna) Warnick of Englewood, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Steven (Patricia) Booker of Phillipsburg, O.;

Larry and Bobby Jo Barrett of Alma. A number of members of former parishes were also in attendance.

First Congregational United Church of Christ members presented their pastor with a silver cross in the form of a book mark, a beautifully decorated cake, a lovely centerpiece, and provided a bountiful noon meal for all those present for the most festive occasion.

The Rev. Leland and Bertha Booker expressed their sincere appreciation for this lovely occasion in honor of the 25th anniversary of Leland's ordination.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

We wish to express our concern about the proposed development plan submitted by Renee Papo of the Arcus Corporation.

This 55-acre development south of the Chelsea Medical Center, north of Old US-12 will include 72 homes, 112 apartments, 24 Senior Citizen apartments and a child care center next to two office buildings.

We are concerned about the adverse impact this large development would have on our school system, village services, landfill, wastewater treatment, traffic and the over-all quality of life in this area.

We strongly urge the taxpayers of the area to attend the Planning Commission Public Hearing on Oct. 23 at 7:30 p.m. and the subsequent Village Council Meeting pertaining to this issue.

CATHOLIC HOMECOMING NIGHTS

Did you "used to be Catholic" or just stop going to Church? Has your marriage situation kept you from the Church? Did the Catholic Church or a priest or religious hurt you in some way? Have you wanted to work out disagreements with the Church and not known how? If you fell into any of these categories, it simply isn't good to leave them unresolved. The Catholics in our area are hosting three HOMECOMING NIGHTS to begin to deal with these complex issues in a non-threatening environment.

The evenings will be repeated on three consecutive dates, beginning at 7:30 p.m. each evening. No commitments will be asked of you. All we ask is that you come.

Come to me, all you who are weary and find life burdensome....

and I will refresh you. Matt 11:28

TWO TEEN-AGE GIRLS were getting the feel of operating an old-time crosscut saw to the fascination of the still younger set. Many older observers still remember the hard work involved in being on one end of such a saw, especially when paired with a more experienced worker on the other end. This was the hard way of sawing a log!

THE LATEST in a power-operated crosscut saw came along in the early 1930's. This rig, powered by a small gasoline engine, was demonstrated by Larry Middlebrook of Grass Lake. Onlookers agreed this was sure a big improvement over the hand-operated two-man crosscut saw.

Boys Attempt To Pilfer Pop From CHS Stand

Two young teen-age boys were caught breaking into the Chelsea High school concession stand last Sunday, Oct. 14.

A Freer Rd. resident saw the boys taking six-packs of soft drinks from the building. The resident chased the boys into the woods near Flanders St. where they escaped. The soft drinks were dropped outside the concession stand.

Churches Sponsoring Homecoming Nights For Inactive Catholics

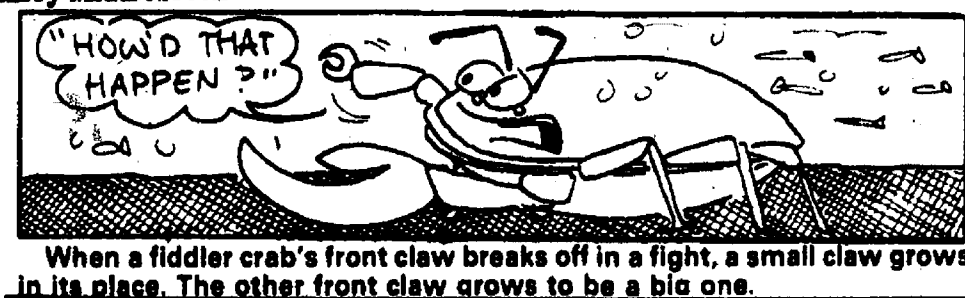

Catholics of our area have united in an effort to invite inactive Catholics to take a second look at their faith. They will be hosting three "Homecoming Nights," beginning at 7:30 p.m. which will run consecutively on Oct. 23 (Ypsilanti - St. Ursula's), Oct. 24 (Chelsea - St. Mary's), and Oct. 25 (Ann Arbor - St. Francis). The evenings have the same format, and inactive Catholics are invited to attend any one of the three.

Fr. Roger Prokop, vicar of St. Washtenaw county and pastor of St. Andrew's parish in Saline, commented that "the Church wants to make the evenings accessible to as many in the diocese as possible, and the message we bring is a message of love."

Fr. Prokop remarked that "many Catholics have left the Church or become inactive for a variety of reasons. We don't pretend to be able to respond to every concern in the course of one evening, but we do want to establish a dialogue. Our goal is to find out who you are, where you're at, and to meet you there."

Fr. Ray Klauke of St. Ursula's added that "we feel the message of Jesus Christ is relevant to everyone, no matter what their background, or what their history with the Catholic Church. We see the Church as a family that lives out a relationship with Christ. When some members are absent from the dinner table, we miss them. We want the evening to be as non-threatening as possible, and no one will be asked to commit to anything."

Opportunities to discuss issues of concern are planned, along with presentations by Deacon Dan Foley and Fr. Prokop. Refreshments will be provided. For further information on the evenings, contact: Fr. Roger Prokop, 429-8210, St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Saline; Fr. Ray Klauke, 483-3152, St. Ursula's Catholic Church; Deacon Dan or Dolly Foley, 998-4027, Christ the King Catholic Association.
