IT WAS A BIG NIGHT for the Purple Rose Theatre Company last Thursday as the new Garage Theatre had its first performance with a preview of the comedy "Blush at Nothing." The performance was nearly a year and a half in the making as the building had to be substantially renovated. There was plenty of nervous anxiety in the building all afternoon. Above, members of the theatre company took a short break from mopping floors, adjusting the sound system, and moving props to pose on the set. From left are play director T. Newell Kring, technical director Bart Bauer, and executive director Jeff Daniels.

Liquor License Transfer Approved By Council Paves Way for 'Grille'

Chelsea Village Council approved the transfer of a resort liquor license into the village last Tuesday, paving the way for a new restaurant in the vacant Dancer's building on Main St. Council voted 6-0, with one abstention, to allow Craig Common of Livonia to transfer the license from a Westland establishment. Common, a former chef in the Chuck Muer chain of restaurants, plans to open The Common Grille sometime in May.

Common's request was tabled by council in January after local liquor license owners complained that bringing another license to the village would dilute the value of the licenses already here.

Council asked Common to see whether he could purchase a liquor license locally.

Common told council Tuesday that two licenses are for sale at a minimum of $200,000. He also said as many as three businesses might be for sale, ranging from $325,000 to $1 million.

"Two hundred thousand dollars is a somewhat incredible price for a liquor license," Common said.

"That is prohibitive for me to even think about starting a business. I need the license to complement the food. To be successful, I really need it."

An overflow crowd in the council chambers last Tuesday heard expressions of support for Common from Chelsea 1995 Chair Robert Thornton, Ann Feeney of the Chamber of Commerce, and Barbara Rose and Dave Prohaska, also of Chelsea 1995. Most downtown merchants were in attendance.

The only dissent was offered by Chelsea Lanes owner Ed Greenleaf, a liquor license owner, who said the village also should consider how their decision will affect the community in the years to come.

"(The decision) may bring a lot more licenses in," Greenleaf said.

"I think you should take a look at that." He also questioned whether downtown parking would be adequate.

Gina Pantely, owner of Gina's Cafe in Chelsea, said Friday that she may also pursue a liquor license if the survival of her business depends on it. She is discussing the possibility with her attorney and has made no final decision, she said.

Thornton said that Chelsea 1995 marketing committee has found that attracting additional restaurants into downtown has high priority among area residents.

"Bringing in an additional liquor license is an asset to the community and one additional asset to the downtown community," Thornton said.

"I think we're very fortunate" to have someone who wants to make that investment.

Prohaska said the downtown needs the business to "maintain its momentum, and this offers an excellent opportunity to keep it going."

Common said after the meeting that he was "really thrilled" by the amount of support he had.

"It confirmed my thoughts about coming out here," he said.

Common said he hopes to start construction in March and open in early May.

'Good Set of Bids' Offered For DDA Project Bonds

A national brokerage firm was the low bidder for $995,000 in bonds sold by Chelsea's Downtown Development Authority last week.

Roney & Co. was the low bidder for the bonds, the proceeds of which will be used for the majority of the DDA's proposed downtown revitalization project. Interest rate was 6.44 percent.

According to Don Keim, DDA's bond counsel, interest rates ranged to 6.7 percent and there were six bidders.

"The bids offered are really a tribute to the community," Keim told village council last Tuesday.

"They are essentially the same rates for the City of Novi, which has an A-1 rating. It was a very good set of bids and you should be proud."

According to Franz Mogdis, DDA's financial consultant, the final set of bid documents for the project should be coming this month and DDA should be able to select a contractor by mid-April.

In other news, DDA is still waiting for the vacated Pump 'N Pantry to be demolished. It is a key piece in the DDA's project.

DDA needs a vacant lot at the site so a house can be moved there from behind the courthouse. The move will make way for a parking lot to be built from South St. to Middle St.

The idea is for the house to be used as an addition to McKune Memorial Library. If the house turns out to be unsuitable for a library, it will probably be moved to another lot and sold.

At any rate, DDA needs to make plans for the house. If the former convenience store isn't demolished, the entire project could be delayed.

Mogdis said new signs should be installed downtown next month, which could well be the first signs of the DDA project.

Chelsea 1995 Wants 1991 Fireworks Show

Chelsea 1995 organization has approached village council about rescheduling the Fourth of July fireworks show.

Last year was the first interruption in the traditional local display since it began more than 30 years ago.

Mark Baily of Chelsea 1995 was told by council that the requirement for $3 million in liability insurance, introduced two years ago, still stands.

Baily told council he wants to contract a show with a professional company. He said the shows range from $5,500 to $7,500, depending on the size. He also said the price includes $1 million in insurance.

Funds for the show, Baily said, would come strictly from contributions.

Trustee Jack Myers said he believes the show should be pursued, especially considering "the situation the country's in right now."

Trustee Dennis Hall also supported the project and said, "we're talking about a whole different ballgame with this group."

Survey Shows Alcohol, Cigarettes Most Widely Used Drugs Locally

Chelsea eighth, 10th and 12th graders participated in an anonymous, 55-question survey about their attitudes, beliefs, and practices regarding alcohol and drug abuse.

The survey, held last fall, was conducted through the Kercher Center for Social Research of Western Michigan University under the sponsorship of the Michigan Department of Education. It was designed primarily to help school districts determine the size and nature of alcohol and drug problems in the district.

Results were reported to the Board of Education at their regular Monday, Feb. 4 meeting.

In most areas, results for Chelsea seniors did not differ dramatically from national results. In many cases, prevalence of drug and alcohol use was slightly less than national averages. The report said that trend is fairly typical of rural communities. The report showed that alcohol is by far the most used substance among students in all grades, followed by cigarettes and marijuana.

For example, 67.5 percent of seniors said they had used alcohol within the previous 30 days. The number dropped to 51.2 percent in the 10th grade and 36.3 percent in the eighth grade. Seventy-five percent of eighth graders said they had used alcohol in the past year, as did 69 percent of 10th graders and 92.2 percent of seniors.

Binge-drinking is apparently far less of a problem for seniors here than it is nationally. Here 2.6 percent said they had five or more drinks in a row at least one time in the previous two weeks. The national rate was 33 percent.

Among seniors, 15.5 percent said they smoke cigarettes on a daily basis, while nine percent of 10th graders are "frequent" smokers and 4.2 percent of eighth graders smoke daily.

Nineteen percent of seniors reported using some sort of illegal drug within the previous 30 days, 6.9 percent reported using a drug other than marijuana, and 16.5 percent said they used marijuana within the previous 30 days.

Among sophomores, 19.9 percent said they had used an illegal drug the previous 30 days, as did 8.6 percent of eighth graders.

Sophomores and eighth graders reported a lower incidence of marijuana use (14.6 and 3.7 percent, respectively) than seniors. However, the younger students reported using hallucinogens and inhalants more often than seniors. Among eighth graders, 8.2 percent said they had used inhalants (freon, propane, and others) within the past 30 days, and 2.5 percent said they had used hallucinogens. Among sophomores the numbers were 8.4 for inhalants and 6.7 for hallucinogens, while the numbers for seniors were .9 and 4.4 percent.

Stimulants, such as amphetamines, were used by 6.1 percent of seniors, 6.7 percent of sophomores, and 3.8 percent of eighth graders.

Students were also asked when they first tried various drugs and alcohol.

Among eighth graders, 24.1 percent said their first experience with alcohol came before the sixth grade and 9.7 said they first got drunk before the sixth grade. Also, 13.1 percent reported using inhalants before the sixth grade, and 13.8 percent said they tried cigarettes before the sixth grade. By the sixth grade, the first use of inhalants dropped to 1.9 percent, while first use of alcohol dropped to 16.1 percent, and the first incidence of getting drunk dropped to 7.6 percent.

Sophomores also reported early exposure to various substances—13.3 percent said they tried alcohol before the fifth grade, 11.0 said they had tried cigarettes, and 7 percent said they had used inhalants. However, their first experience with getting drunk came a little later as 18.3 said their first time came in the eighth grade and 24.6 percent said the ninth grade. Ninth grade was also the highest incidence of first-time use of marijuana as 11.5 percent reported trying it.

The first-use trend moved generally higher for seniors. Eight percent said they had tried alcohol before fifth grade and by seventh grade the total first-time users had risen to 17.7 percent.

Civic Foundation Reviews Past Year, Elects Officers

At its annual meeting Thursday, Jan. 31, at the Woodland Room of the Chelsea Community Hospital, the Civic Foundation of Chelsea reviewed its accomplishments for 1990.

Two projects were highlighted as significant community contributions: 1) providing underwater communication equipment for the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department Dive Team, and 2) providing financial support for the Futuring Session led by Barbara Rose, enabling Chelsea 1995 to focus and galvanize its vision for the Chelsea of the future.

To help in continuing its support for community ventures, the board elected four new members: Mark Baily, Marilyn Guenther, Toni Sensoli, and Mark Stapish to three-year terms, and two new members, Pat Murphy and Barbara Rose to two-year terms.

To provide the leadership and vision necessary to the vitality of the board, the membership elected as its officers for 1991 David Swan, president; Randy Musbach, vice-president; Darla Bohlender, secretary; and Jeff Stormen, treasurer.

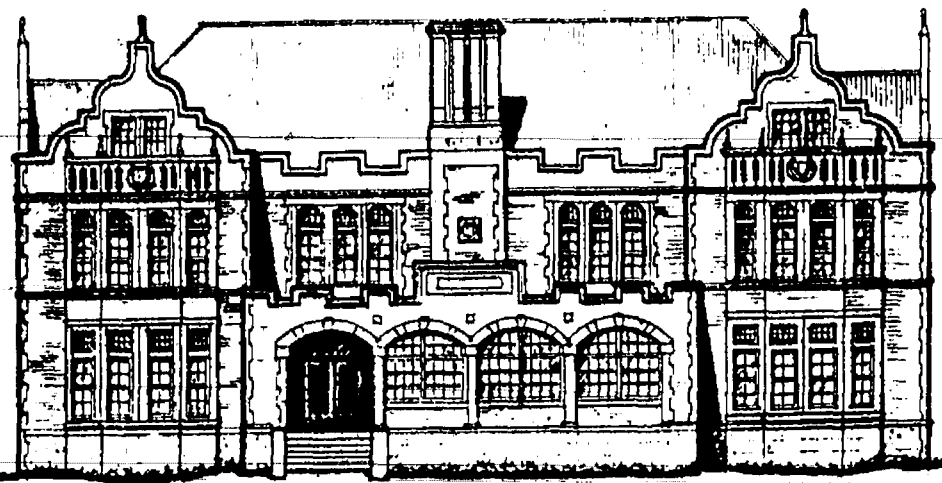

A report on the very successful membership drive was made by Mark Baily and an annual treasurer's report was provided.

Newly elected president David Swan announced his goals for the Civic Foundation including doubling its membership, increasing the endowment fund to $100,000 over the next five years, creating public awareness and reviving the Foundation's newsletter to inform its membership of its many significant ventures.

Wednesday, Feb. 18, 1987—

Jack Dunn, president of Chelsea Industries, Inc., announced his company's purchase of the former North American Rockwell Buildings and property located adjacent to the Chelsea Industries Plant from Rockwell Associates, of Ann Arbor. Preliminary plans for the buildings include an expansion area for the growing Chelsea Industries manufacturing operation which began business in late 1980 and employs 70 people and utilizes the entire plant.

Two area high school seniors were selected by their respective schools to receive Good Citizen Awards from the Sarah Caswell Angell Chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Students selected were Jeanette Wheeler of Dexter High school and Melanie Flanagan of Chelsea High school. The student selected as the school's "DAR Good Citizen" must have the qualities of leadership, which includes personality, self-control, ability to assume responsibility; dependability, which includes truthfulness, loyalty, punctuality; service which includes co-operation, courtesy, consideration of others; patriotism, which includes unselfish interest in family, school, community, and nation, to an outstanding degree.

Christina M. Steger of Chelsea was selected as a finalist to compete in the 1987 Miss Michigan National Teen-Ager Pageant.

Shirley L. Bruck of Chelsea would be taking her husband Richard to the high-speed action of the Indy 500 as a winner in the Valvoline Four Gard "I Love a Parade Sweepstakes." Winners were chosen randomly from a nation-wide pool of contestants who entered at local Valvoline retail outlets. Of winning, Bruck says, "It's something I do." She has won a number of contests including a Caribbean cruise. When she entered the Valvoline contest, she was hoping to win a case of oil, but instead won the big prize.

Chelsea High's varsity debate team realized their best debate season since 1970, as they argued their way to a sixth-place finish in the State Finals Debate Tournament at the Southfield Sheraton. Those on the team were Julie Prohaska, Lesley Clark, Barb Hinderer and Tammy Puglisi. The coach was William Coelius.

Chelsea's wrestling season wound down fast as three Bulldog matmen would travel to regionals. The trio advanced to regional competition following their championship performance in the District Tournament. Junior Rick Beeman, Mike Young, and Todd Hendrick all won their two qualifying matches as they helped Chelsea place 10th in a field of 20 Class B teams. New Boston ran away with the district title.

A 36-year-old area man escaped serious injury after being struck by an Amtrak train at Hayes St. crossing. Troy Lee Lewis was pinned inside his 1976 Chevy pick-up for nearly an hour before being rescued from the vehicle by the Grass Lake Fire Department. Lewis claimed not to have seen the train or the blinking railroad crossing warning lights as he approached the tracks.

Only three short weeks after being apprehended on charges of breaking and entering a private dwelling, a 17-year-old was again in police custody, this time for illegally entering a local business firm and attempting to cash a forged check. Also arrested was his accomplice, a Chelsea juvenile.

Headlee Tax Plan Would Narrowly Gain If Rebuttals Are Okay

Proponents of the Headlee property tax cut initiative have submitted evidence which they say shows an additional 6,333 signatures are valid, and would mean the petitions would have just barely the number required to force the issue to the Legislature and perhaps ultimately the voters.

Proponents needed to prove at least 6,314 more signatures were valid in order to require a vote on the proposal cutting tax assessments by 20 percent over two years.

Elections Director Chris Thomas said it will take up to two weeks to review the five boxes of material, although if elections staff find more than 18 invalid signatures—meaning the petitions would fall short of the 191,726 required—it would stop work and the matter could again be in limbo.

"It's cut real close," he said. The material submitted by proponents is drawn from about 7,500 signatures which the elections staff had disallowed as being presumed "stale" in not meeting requirements to be signed within 180 days of the petitions being presented for approval.

The disputed names had to be shown to be signed by persons who were registered voters at the time they signed or at some time during the 180-day period.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Jerry Sutton, attorney for the Headlee proposal, said the evidence does confirm those who signed were registered, and said almost all those in question had signed no more than 10 days beyond the 180-day requirement.

In some cases, he said, the proof consists of affidavits from local clerks rather than copies of actual registration records.

Welborn Urges Rejection of State Employee Pay Hike
A resolution (SCR 19) proposed by Sen. Jack Welborn (R-Kalamazoo) would reject a 4 percent pay raise and benefit improvements approved by the Civil Service Commission for about 66,000 state employees.

The raise would take effect Oct. 1 and cost the state $89.4 million. State Employer William Whitbeck urged the commission earlier this month not to approve the increase and warned there would not be enough money in the state budget to implement it.

He said approval of the resolution was not likely because it would take a two-thirds majority in both the House and Senate—something that has never happened before.

Three of the four commission members said their decision would not have a significant impact on the state's layoffs and would create a level playing field among all the classified workers. Representatives of both unions representing state workers supported the raises—saying the raises are justified and employees should not suffer because of the state's fiscal situation.

"Rejecting these pay raises will save as many as 2,600 state jobs as well as many vital programs," Welborn said. "We have to do what we can to save jobs."

Welborn said the Legislature has the credibility now to "ask others to tighten their belts" since both legislators in both chambers overwhelmingly approved a resolution rejecting their own pay hike.

"I feel that most state employees would be more than happy to forego a pay raise in order to save the jobs of their co-workers," Welborn said. "But as individuals they don't have the mechanism to do it."

Department of Civil Service legislative liaison Michael Cain said no one could respond from the department until the executive staff meets to discuss the resolution.

PIRGIM Urges National Energy Policy Development

The Public Interest Research Group in Michigan (PIRGIM) has supported a national energy policy which promotes the replacement of fossil and nuclear fuels with renewable energy sources, including solar, wind, hydroelectric, wood and alcohol fuels.

PIRGIM, along with other members of a national coalition, said the Sustainable Energy Strategy is an alternative to the Department of Energy's National Energy Strategy.

The federal plan, said Andy Buchsbaum, program director for PIRGIM, relies primarily on the expansion of use of fossil fuels and nuclear power.

"Our plan would reduce the projected use of coal and oil by 50 percent by the year 2010, totally eliminating our dependence on foreign oil," said

Bill Magavern, PIRGIM's national energy lobbyist.

Specifically, the plan calls for a national energy strategy to include three principles: the United States giving priority to those energy options with the lowest total economic, environmental and social cost; the United States avoiding technologies that are particularly hazardous to the local or global environment or to human health, and the United States minimizing the use of energy imports to avoid economic disruptions.

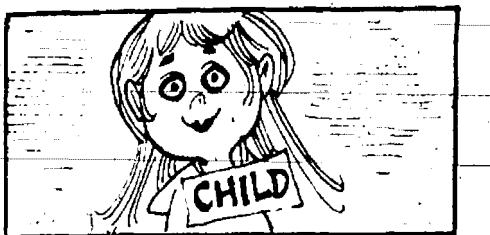

Goals of the plan include improved energy efficiency and energy conservation; expansion of renewable energy technologies; a decrease in reliance on coal and oil, with natural gas used as an interim fuel during the transition towards cleaner and sustainable energy sources, and an acceleration of the phase-out of nuclear power.

Drug Treatment Programs To Receive Federal Grants

Two Detroit area substance abuse treatment programs will receive federal grants designated to remove people from waiting lists and place them in treatment, Dennis Schomack, acting administrator of the Office of Substance Abuse Services, said recently.

Under the one-time grants, Project Life Substance Abuse Center will receive $1 million and the Metro East Drug Treatment Corp. will receive $479,984.

The funding will provide a total of 380 treatment slots for heroin addiction.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers were in unusual fine voice at the country store Saturday night, and when the agender moved to politics Ed Doglittie and Clem Webster locked horns like the bull-headed old friends they are.

Ed, that carries Abe Lincoln's picture in the back of his watch, got the floor for the first move. He reminded that February is the month of birth-days of the kind of men that rise to the top to lead America out of the wilderness she wanders in ever 20 years or so. Clem held his peace while Ed spoke high of George Washington being the founder of the country, but he called for equal time when Ed went on about Lincoln being the savior of it. Clem stood up and started finger wagging when Ed said the history of America is the history of Republican Administrations pulling Democrat Administration chestnuts out of one fire or another.

Clem said that's what happens when history is wrote by people with a blindsided view of it. Clem said he was a Democrat through the New Deal, the New Frontier, the Great Society, he is a Democrat now and he will be a Democrat when the working people of the country come to their senses and git back in the White House. He laid into Ed's speech by calling to mind President Bush's $1 billion a day plan to take the country's mind off her troubles at home. Clem took note that one day before Iroch invaded Kuwait the Bush Administration said we had no duty to Kuwait and no quarrel with Iroch.

Farthermore, Clem went on, ever Republican Administration operates on the idee that them as has gits. Everthing they do helps folks that don't need it at the expense of them that do. We got our values mixed up, Clem said, when we pay $1.50 per American to the United Nations and $4,000 apiece to make sure then everybody gits ever cent plus interest out of belly up savings and loans.

Isaac Cornfodder is a expert listener and slow to talk, but he put the stopper in the debate jug. Isaac said we git back to the same old difference between the parties. Democrats want Government to start at the bottom and bubble up, while Republicans say it ought to start at the top and trickle down. It's a crap shoot either way, Isaac declared, and folks keep paying their money and taking their chances. Fer sure, he added, we ought to change politics to mean the art of the impossible.

Ed surprised the fellers by siding with Isaac on the gamble idee. He said this is what Americans can handle and Soviets can't. All their new troubles can be traced to too much to soon. It's like they were cut loose from the slave ship and set adrift at sea. They are free to do what they want, but their first thought in the first storm is that where they were was better than where they are. Americans know riding out the storm is better than some ports they have seen, and that's what keeps us going, was Ed's words.

The fellers agreed with Ed, and Bug Hookum even noted that until now he didn't know Ed had a bipartisan bone in him. But Bug went on to say Americans need to work on their entertainment values. He had saw where two Russians recent split $3 million for playing chess in this country. If anything can be more boring it must be watching the Tower of Pizza fall. Bug had saw it leanned another .08 inch last year.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Heating Tips for Seniors

Prepared by: Marian Cohen, ACSW and Marian Johnson, MSW Intern
University of Michigan

Family Practice Center at Chelsea
Geriatric Health Care Team

During this cold winter, senior citizens with low or fixed incomes may sometimes have difficulty paying for their heating expenses which could result in shut-off notices. Sometimes shut-off notices can be avoided by checking with the heating company about their specific plans for seniors. However, Washtenaw county residents over age 60 who find themselves in this predicament may be eligible to receive help through several programs.

If you have gas heat, call Michigan Consolidated to be coded under the senior plan. Those registered in this plan will not get shut-off notices until after April 30, when the cold weather has subsided. Detroit Edison has a reduced rate for heads of households 62 and older. In order to benefit from this, the electricity usage must be under 650 kilowatt hours per month.

The American Red Cross has a Heat Bank in co-operation with MichCon for customers with gas heat. You are eligible for this program if your total household income is 125% of the poverty level guideline. For example, one person with a monthly income of $655 or $677 for two people will be eligible. Documentation is required indicating that you have contacted the Department of Social Services and been denied assistance. The Heat Bank takes applications over the telephone.

The Targeted Fuel Assistance plan (TFA) through the Multi-Service Agency also offers assistance in payments of gas, electric, oil, propane or coal bills. Another source of help is People Care, sponsored by the Salvation Army. Chelsea Social Services gives aid on a one-time basis to people 65 and older residing within the Chelsea School district who get shut-off notices. Faith in Action does not have a fuel program, but can help direct the individual to appropriate sources.

First, explore available plans or programs with your heating company and then call any of the places listed below for additional information. Each agency requires specific documentation and most assistance is for one time only. Asking for help can be difficult, but the current economy makes it impossible for many people on a fixed income to keep up with the rising costs.

MichCon, 663-6531.

Detroit Edison, 781-8716.

Department of Social Services (DSS), 994-1853. Call 994-4357 if on public assistance.

Multi-Service Agency, 994-4357.

Chelsea Social Services, 475-1581.

Faith in Action, 475-3305.

Washtenaw County Community Service Agency, 994-1650 (helps anyone with a partial payment).

People Care (Salvation Army), 668-8353.

Heat Bank (Red Cross), 971-HEAT.

Washtenaw County Council on Aging, 665-3625.

BookCrafters Names Employee of Month

BookCrafters' Michigan Division recently selected its January Employee of the Month—Eric Micol. Eric has worked at BookCrafters for 13½ years and presently serves the company as the third shift Perfect Binder Operator.

Outside work, Eric can be found fishing. During the summer it's Muskie fishing at Thornapple and Hudson Lakes. In the winter, he bundles up for ice fishing.

Eric lives in Napoleon with Vivian, a dedicated multi-skilled operator on first shift, and with Bear, their dog.

Yellow Ribbon Stolen from Yard

A Chelsea woman reported that someone stole a yellow ribbon from a light post in her front yard last week.

The woman has a son involved in Operation Desert Storm. She has learned of at least two other area residents who have also had ribbons stolen.

"It's really a cruel thing to do," the woman told The Standard.

"If they had a child in the Persian Gulf they'd understand how much that ribbon means to me. Plus, yellow ribbon is hard to find now."

Thursday, Feb. 14, 1967—
Jim Williams, a junior at Chelsea High school, was struck by a car while walking home from wrestling practice and was still listed in serious condition six days later at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. Williams was walking on N. Main when he was struck by a car. He wore dark clothing and was apparently walking on the pavement.

John Palmer, who had been Chelsea's police chief since 1959, resigned. He was accepting a position as Washtenaw County Civil Defense Director.

Five Chelsea High School Symphonic Band members practiced in Lansing Conservatory All-Stars Band in Ithaca. Participating Chelsea students were Russell Maurer, Mike Funderburgh, Ralph Johnson, Suzie Knickerbocker and Kathy Fulks.

Twenty-three band members from Chelsea High School earned top ratings at the Senior High Solo and Ensemble Festival at Eastern Michigan University. A rating I was awarded the 23 for superior performance.

Esther Schneider Honored on Her 85th Birthday

Esther Schneider was honored Sunday, Feb. 10 at her 85th birthday celebration at the Immanuel Bible church. Wednesday, Feb. 13th is the actual day of her birth.

Robert Schneider, Sr., Esther's son, sang a special song with the church choir. A trio, Robert Schneider, Jr., Robin Schneider Warner and Milanie Schneider Smith, grandchildren of Esther, sang two very special numbers.

Following the church service, a family dinner was held at the home of son, Donald Schneider. Present were Esther's three children, Robert and wife Billie, Marlene and husband, Walter Keizer, and Donald and wife Shirley, and the grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Also present was her sister, Marian Rutledge.

Drug, Alcohol Survey

cent. However, 19.5 said they first tried alcohol in the eighth grade, 17.7 said the ninth grade, and 19.5 said the 10th grade.

Less than two percent had gotten drunk by the seventh grade and less than 13 percent by the eighth grade. However, 20.8 percent said the first time they got drunk was in the ninth grade, 23.6 percent in the 10th grade, and 21.7 percent in the 11th grade.

Eleventh grade was also the highest first-time use of marijuana as 13.6 percent said they tried it last year.

Chelsea students generally say their alcohol and drug use carries "great risk," especially if done more than occasionally. Seniors, however, seem to be more tolerant of alcohol use. Twenty-three percent say there is great risk associated with having five or more drinks once or twice each week-end (the numbers are 48.2 percent for eighth graders and 44.3 for 10th graders) and 17.2 percent said there is great risk with having one or two drinks nearly every day.

A significant majority of students in all three grades said their close friends would strongly disapprove of most forms and frequencies of alcohol and drug use. The lowest perceived disapproval was for seniors who have five or more drinks once or twice each week-end, 50.9 percent.

Most students also said alcohol, cigarettes, and marijuana would be easy to obtain. Among seniors, 98.6 said alcohol would be easy to get and 92.2 said the same of marijuana. The numbers were essentially the same for sophomores, although the number dropped to 71.3 for marijuana. Among eighth graders, the numbers were 78.9 percent for cigarettes, 81.8 percent for alcohol, and 35.8 percent for marijuana.

A relatively high number (46.9 percent of seniors and 42.3 percent of sophomores) said LSD would be easy to find.

The survey showed that generally students do not use drugs or alcohol on school property, especially during the day.

In all grade levels, most students say their alcohol use takes place in their home, a friend's home, or at a party. However, 23.3 percent of seniors said they drank in a car once or twice over the previous 30 days.

Among sophomores, 12.1 percent gave the same answer.

A car was also the most prevalent place for seniors to use drugs (once or twice over the last 30 days, with a 10.4 response rate. Parties followed at 9.5 percent.

Students were asked about drinking and driving. Among seniors, 12.9 percent said they had driven a car, truck, or motorcycle once in the previous two weeks after drinking alcohol. 4.3 percent said they drove once after having five or more drinks in a row.

13.8 percent of seniors, 12.6 percent of sophomores, and 8.5 percent of eighth graders said, in the previous two weeks, they had been a passenger in a car driven by someone who had been drinking.

Students were asked where they would go for help if they found themselves with a substance abuse problem. In each grade, "friends" rated the highest with 75 percent of seniors, 65.9 percent of 10th graders, and 51.2 percent of eighth graders. The next highest rating for seniors was "family" with 27.6 percent. For 10th graders it was a "drug clinic" with 34.1 percent, and for sophomores it was "family" with 39.2 percent.

While the vast majority of students at all levels said they had been exposed to drug education courses, seniors were less inclined to say they made them less interested in trying drugs (38.3 percent) while eighth graders were more inclined (74.8). Nationally, 57.6 percent of seniors said courses made them less inclined to try drugs.

Just 17.7 percent of seniors said the drug curriculum had "considerable value" or "great value", compared to 43.7 percent nationally. 28.3 percent of 10th graders and 42.4 percent of eighth graders gave those ratings.

What is reported here are just a few of the statistics contained in the report.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Feb. 4, were Comeau, Redding, Satterthwaite, Feeney, Eisenbeiser, Diesing, McCalla, superintendent Piasecki, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Mead, Stielstra, Benedict, Wescott, assistant principal Rossi, community education director Rogers, curriculum director Bissell, special education director DeYoung, athletic director Welton, guests. Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Anne Comeau.

Announcement was made that Board President Anne Comeau has been appointed to the Accreditation Advisory Committee by the University of Michigan's Bureau of Accreditation and School Improvement Studies (School of Education).

Superintendent Piasecki reminded everyone that tickets are still available for the Feb. 10 brunch (at Chelsea Community Hospital) which is sponsored by the newly established Chelsea Education Foundation. (Tickets are available through Joe Piasecki.)

Athletic director Wayne Welton requested the board to consider having the Chelsea girls' golf team join the South Central League. This will be an action item at the next board meeting.

Superintendent Piasecki reviewed the results of the recent drug/alcohol survey conducted by Western Michigan University. This data will be very useful to Cheryl Davis, the district's new Substance Abuse Counselor, and to those persons involved in the implementation of the recently adopted Student Assistance Plan.

Representatives of Greiner, Inc., were present at the meeting to briefly discuss several options for the district's building plans. Greiner will meet with the board in a work session on Feb. 23, and it is expected that their study will be completed by May 1.

The board approved the addition of Northern Life as a TSA company available to district employees.

The board convened in executive session at 10:05 p.m. to discuss a personnel matter, reconvened in public session at 10:40 p.m., and adjourned the meeting at 10:43 p.m.

Sgt. Ronald Ewers In Middle East With Air Force Unit

Staff Sgt. Ronald L. Ewers has deployed to the Middle East with American military forces participating in Operation Desert Storm. Operation Desert Storm is the largest deployment of U.S. military forces since Vietnam. The operation is in response to Iraq's invasion of Kuwait and threat to Saudi Arabia.

"It is the presence of dedicated military people like Ewers that brings America's principles to life and gives them strength and meaning," President George Bush said.

He is the son of Alma R. Lewis of Jellico, Tenn., and Charles Ewers of 8872 Sibley Rd., Chelsea.

The sergeant is a security supervisor at Little Rock Air Force Base, Ark.

Ewers is a 1978 graduate of Napoleon High school.

S. Haselschwardt Displays Her Work at Chicago Show

Sarah Haselschwardt

Sarah Haselschwardt, a design architect and an associate at Kingscott Associates, Inc., of Kalamazoo, has been chosen to show her work in the prestigious Chicago show of the American Institute of Architects entitled "Women in Architecture—Fitting in or Making a Difference."

The exhibit will feature her design work on Challenger Elementary school in the Grand Rapids suburb of Kentwood. It is a 53,000 sq. ft. structure named after the ill-fated U.S. space shuttle that exploded on takeoff.

Challenger is the first in a series of projects in the Kentwood school district designed by Haselschwardt, including a new 100,000 sq. ft. middle school and additions/renovations at two existing middle schools. She has been a contributing designer on several major projects in the Kalamazoo area and is currently project leader for the Traverse City area schools' new junior high school.

Sarah is a graduate of Lawrence Institute of Technology in Southfield and is a registered professional architect with the state of Michigan. She is the daughter of Howard and Agnes Haselschwardt of North Lake, Gregory.

ROADSMART

Presented by Huron Valley Traffic Safety Committee

- Q. How much can you drink before it's unsafe to drive?
- A. Only one or two drinks may make it unsafe. A 150-lb person who drinks 4 beers in only a few hours would likely become impaired or intoxicated.
- Q. Can my parents let me drink at home if I'm under 21?
- A. Legally, no. There is no exception to the 21 or older law.

Send "ROADSMART" your questions about traffic safety. Huron Valley Traffic Safety Committee, 1/4 Transportation Center, 4920 West Atbain Rd., Monroe, MI 48161

Outdoor Sporting Notes

By John M. Robertson
Chief, Fisheries Division, DNR

★ Erie 'Eyes

Once referred to, only partly in jest as "the dead sea," Lake Erie has recovered in recent years to become one of the finest walleye sport fisheries in the nation. Much of the credit for that remarkable turnaround must go to stricter water quality control standards enacted in response to public concerns about the environment.

Significantly, figures newly released by the state DNR show that more than one million walleyes were taken by sport anglers in Erie's Michigan waters during the 1989 season alone. Such total ranks a strong second in the lake's long history, trailing only the record established just the year previous. Numbers aren't yet available for the '90 season, but it looks like it'll be another banner one.

While it's true that Lake Erie's walleye fishery is primarily thought of as a "boat fishery" (with top success coming in the early summer months,) year-round angling for walleye is almost equally productive. Impressively, when taken altogether, more than 3.3 million fish of all kinds—walleyes, perch, black bass, you-name-it—were estimated to have been taken from the lake in 1989. Imagine that, 3.3 million fish!

State DNR fisheries officials would like to remind walleye anglers of a pair of important rules changes that became effective this summer.

First, the daily walleye possession limit on Lake Erie has been established at six fish—provided each is of legal minimum 13" keeper size. No longer may anglers keep 10 fish in certain special portions of the lake as in years past.

Second, in accord with both Ontario and Ohio restrictions, that daily possession limit is six walleye TOTAL regardless of how many licenses one holds from how many jurisdictions or where the fish are caught.

The lake's boaters are asked as well for their help in slowing the spread of a sinister aquatic invader—the zebra mussel—by (1) thoroughly draining all water from their craft before leaving the lake's boat ramps, (2) by cleaning all debris and vegetation off their trailers, and (3) if possible, to avoid re-launching into other Great Lake or inland waters for at least several days after leaving Lake Erie. It's thought such a delay will effectively destroy any zebra mussels clinging to the boat's bottom.

Discussion Forum Slated on Gulf War

A community forum, designed to provide relevant information to all who are attempting to grasp and understand the implications of the daily news of the war in the Arabian desert, will be held on Saturday, Feb. 18 from 1 to 3 at Emanuel church, 302 W. Main St., Manchester.

The informational meeting is in coordination with activities in other communities noting that the war will then have been in progress for one month.

Dial-A-Garden Topics Listed

The following is a weekly schedule of Dial-A-Garden, the system of pre-recorded daily gardening tips sponsored by the Washtenaw County Cooperative Extension Service. The system is in operation 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Interested persons are invited to call 971-1129 at their convenience to listen to timely, up-to-date gardening information.

Two other awards included the Industrial Award for the greatest increase in contributions, won by Chrysler Proving Grounds, and the Corporate Award, for the largest corporate contributions, won by Federal Screw Works.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
I was sickened by "The Red, White & Blue" parody of "Twas the Night Before Christmas" which appeared on p. 10 of your Feb. 6 issue. Christmas may be a time for "high fives of glee;" the bombing of Iraq is not.

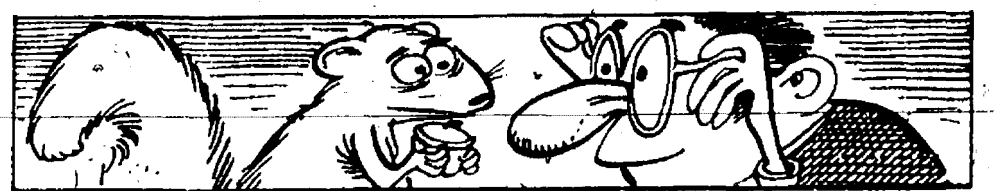

Without debating the merits of our country's decision to attack Iraq (which is certainly debatable) I think any true patriot should be deeply saddened by the destruction and loss of life occurring there. This war is not generating "confetti," it is shedding blood. And it is getting bloodier. Just today I heard on the news that (1) a ground war is imminent, and (2) certain civilian targets may be bombed soon because we suspect military hardware is hidden there.

Our soldiers are dying. Iraqi babies are dying. This is an occasion for grief and prayer, not machismo.

I think talking about this war as if it were a football game is very unpatriotic indeed.

Praying for peace,

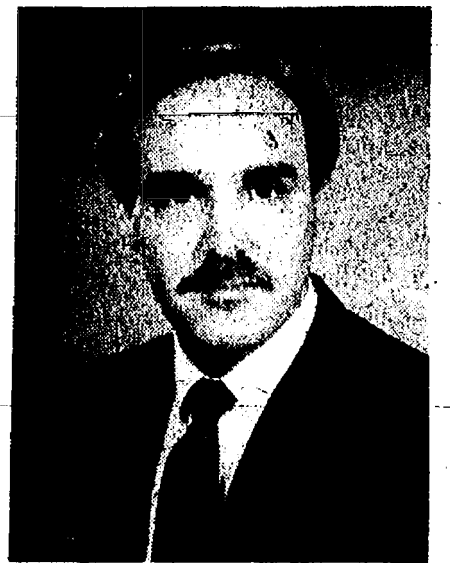

Anne France Dexter.

Every part of the squirrel's field of vision is in perfect focus, not just straight ahead as with man.

Living Wills

What is a Living Will?

A Living Will is a personal statement to your family, your doctor and your health care professionals. It expresses your desire about receiving or refusing life-prolonging medical treatment procedures when you are unable to express your desires or incapable of consenting to or refusing the treatment or procedure. Further, a Living Will may contain a Durable Power of Attorney clause which would nominate a person to make all medical treatment decisions on your behalf should you be unable to do so yourself.

THESE MUSICIANS from Chelsea High school earned division II ratings at the recent Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association Solo and Ensemble Festival in Livonia. From left are Tina Hassett, Erin Snyder, Gretchen Hofing, Angie Benjamin, Lisa Hughes, and Nona Glebel. Hofing and Hughes were soloists while the others formed a quartet.

Hoyt Wilhelm, the first relief pitcher in the Hall of Fame, registered 143 wins and 227 saves.

New Amateur Baseball Association Organized

During June, 1990, the Washtenaw County Amateur Baseball Association (WCABA) emerged from area diamond dugouts.

Community baseball representatives from Dexter, Chelsea, Saline and Ann Arbor met at the home of Ann Arbor's Dr. Ken McClatchey to map out the non-profit organization's plans and objectives.

Board members continue to meet, each month, under the guidance of WCABA's newly-elected president Steve Weaver.

The purpose WCABA, which now includes teams from all the cities and villages previously listed, in addition to Manchester, Milan and Ypsilanti, is to promote the growth of competitive amateur baseball in Washtenaw county.

Steve Weaver, president, cited section one of WCABA's by-laws, "To develop an organization with an active and involved membership that's concerned with any activity or endeavor that will promote the excellence of competitive baseball events and programs."

Weaver indicated the emphasis is on competition, providing another level beyond the community education style programs, in which advanced-skill level players may compete.

"The quality of ball that was displayed in our 'pre-incorporated' first year, 1989, was outstanding," Weaver explained.

He added, "The players enjoyed double-header outings weekly with registered umpires on groomed fields."

The age groups currently represented by WCABA are 11-12, 13-14, 15-16 and 17-18.

There are, currently, about eight teams in each age division.

WCABA board members, in addition to Dexter's Steve Weaver, include Ed Hood of Ann Arbor, Chelsea's Craig Wales, Cliff Miller from Ann Arbor, Randy Walker and John Covert, both of Saline, and Dr. Ken McClatchey, Ann Arbor.

For more information about the Washtenaw County Amateur Baseball Association, including interest in team involvement, please contact Steve Weaver, 761-1804.

Terpstra Takes District, Three More Bulldogs Qualify for Regionals

Junior heavyweight Mike Terpstra took a district title and three other Chelsea Bulldogs placed in the top four of last Saturday's individual district wrestling tournament in Tecumseh.

Terpstra, along with Karl Wikman (112), Kevin McCalla (140), and Jim Hassett (145) will go on to compete this Saturday in a class B wrestling regional tournament in Hastings.

Wikman and Hassett each placed second in his weight class and McCalla took fourth place.

"I thought we might get four or five boys out of the district tournament," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel.

Terpstra beat Chris Porter of Fowlerville in the finals, 8-4, to take the title. It was one of the few times this season Terpstra has had to wrestle three full periods because he has pinned so many opponents.

"Mike looked really good Saturday," Kargel said.

"He put Porter on his back twice in a cradle. He controlled the match until the third period."

Terpstra pinned Bob Powers of Jackson Lumen Christi in :30 to open the tournament. In his second match he wrestled a little longer before pinning Keith Siegman of Dewitt in :38. To reach the finals he pinned Jake Green of Mason in 1:04.

Wikman pinned Jason Hartley of Hillsdale in 1:09, then won an 8-2 decision over Steve Arnold of Jackson Lumen Christi. In the finals he lost 8-7 to Chris Morgan of Haslett. Hartley beat Wikman last year in the regionals before Wikman went on to take the state title.

"Karl should have won the match but he was cheated out of a three-point move because the official made a mistake and blew his whistle when he shouldn't have," Kargel said.

Hassett opened with a 18-0 win over Chris Trefry of Lumen Christi.

He followed with a 10-0 decision over Andy Burpy of Jackson Northwest, and a 9-0 decision over Jason Balcom of Dexter. In the finals, however, he was stopped by Conan Furtwangler of Eaton Rapids, 8-6.

"Jim was controlling the match until the third period," Kargel said.

"He chose down and got turned for three points. Jim can beat him."

McCalla won his first two matches. He pinned Gary Strik of Lansing Catholic Central in :59, then won a 5-4 decision over Joe Heikkila of Mason. In his third match he lost a 10-0 decision to Saline's Lance Bebee. In the consolation finals he lost an 11-4 decision to Scott Frey of Stockbridge.

Chelsea's Tim Wescott won his first match at 103 pounds, 8-6 over Mark Guilfayle of Lansing Catholic Central. However, he dropped his second match to Jamie Lupp of Brooklyn Columbia Central, 6-4, and was eliminated.

Todd Watson wrestled 119 for the Bulldogs and lost his first match to Tim Arnold of Lumen Christi, 5-2.

Jason Szostak was pinned in his first match at 152 pounds by Matt Johnson of Saline in 3:33.

John Bobo met a similar fate at 160 pounds as he was pinned by Phil Mason of Hillsdale in 1:52.

JV Cagers Improve Record to 13-1

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity basketball team posted two more convincing victories last week to improve their record to 13-1.

On Tuesday, Feb. 5 the Bulldogs beat the Lincoln Railsplitters on the road, 79-71.

Chelsea led by 18 points after three quarters.

Nick McCalla paced Chelsea with 23 points. Other scorers included Pat Steele 13, Ed Waller 10, Dana Schmunk 8, Tom Poulter 7, Colby Skelton 6, Jeremy Beauchamp 5, Erik Brown 4, Hans Kemnitz 1, J.D. Alford 1, and Colt White 1.

The Bulldogs won Friday's game against South Lyon, 68-58, after leading the entire way.

Chelsea scorers included McCalla 22, Steele 17, Poulter 9, Brown 7, Schmunk 6, Waller 3, and Skelton 2. Poulter grabbed 13 rebounds.

Bulldogs Cagers Rally Twice, Lose Both Games

It was a tough week for the Chelsea High school varsity basketball team as they lost back-to-back games in the closing seconds of each contest.

On Tuesday, Feb. 5, Chelsea nearly rallied from a five-point deficit with a minute left but lost 51-48 to the Lincoln Railsplitters in Willis.

Jon Royce hit two baskets to cut the Lincoln lead to one point. The Bulldogs then intercepted an in-bounds pass. They ran the ball down to :07 and called a timeout to set up the final play.

Chris Haugen's pick gave Chris Dunham the opportunity for a backdoor lay-up. But the in-bounds pass was flat and was picked off.

The Railsplitters were fouled immediately and made both free throws.

Chelsea played the last three minutes without senior captain and scoring leader Kerry Plank, who had fouled out. Royce was also in foul trouble.

"We showed tremendous improvement over our first game with Lincoln at home," said Chelsea coach Robin Raymond.

"The kids did a real nice job coming back."

Chelsea lost the first meeting by 16 points.

Tuesday's game was close most of the way. Lincoln led by as many as eight points.

Plank and Royce each had a team-high 14 points. Other scorers include Jake Rindle 9, Jude Quilter 4, Dunham 4, Chris Haugen 4, and Dan Stahl 1.

Brian Laster led Lincoln with 19 points.

Royce had 10 rebounds and Plank and Rindle had six each.

Chelsea hit 20 of 50 shots from the field and 7 of 8 from the line. Lincoln was 21 of 49 from the field and 8 of 12 from the line.

The loss gave Chelsea a 5-4 record in the Southeastern Conference. They host the Dexter Dreadnaughts this Friday.

In a home, non-conference game against South Lyon last Friday, the Bulldogs rallied from a 12-point deficit in the last two minutes but lost 79-78.

Chelsea had the ball with :02 left in their offensive corner after Royce's three-pointer pulled the Bulldogs to within a point. The Bulldogs ran a pick to free Royce for an open shot but the in-bounds pass was intercepted.

"It was just a tremendous comeback," Raymond said.

"We forced five turnovers in the last two minutes with our man-to-man trap and we really had South Lyon reeling."

The Bulldogs scored 33 points in the fourth quarter, by far their biggest single-quarter output of the season. Royce hit three three-point field goals in the final period and Plank was 8-8 from the line.

South Lyon led the entire game. They jumped out to an early lead as they shot 55 percent from the field in the first half and hit three, three-points in the first quarter.

"Our scouting reports said South Lyon couldn't score so we figured if we played good defense they'd have a tough time," Raymond said.

"We didn't think they'd shoot that well. We also had some match-up problems with them." South Lyon didn't have a small guard as most of the starting line-up was 6-2 or taller.

Plank led Chelsea with 35 points, 13 rebounds, four steals, and four assists.

"If that isn't a good night's work, I don't know what is," Raymond said.

Plank was 11-14 from the field and 13-14 from the line.

Other scorers included Royce 19, Dunham 8, Stahl 6, Rindle 4, Haugen 2, Quilter 2, and Jason Allen 2.

Chelsea shot 47 percent from the field (28-60), and 69 percent from the line (18-26). The Bulldogs had 17 steals and 15 turnovers.

South Lyon shot 54 percent from the field (29-54) and 68 percent from the line (17-25).

Chelsea's over-all record was 6-8 after last week. They were scheduled to play Ypsilanti last night at home.

Chelsea Tankers Whip Dexter To End SEC Schedule at 4-1

Chelsea Bulldogs ended their Southeastern Conference swimming scheduled last Thursday with a 109-77 victory over the Dexter Dreadnaughts.

The win gave Chelsea a 4-1 record. Chelsea coach Dave Jolly said many outstanding swimmers were turned in by Chelsea competitors.

The 200 medley relay team of Steve Brock, Matt Montange, Mauricio Bora, and Dirk Colby swam a 1:52.68.

David Brock recorded a 2:03.05 in the 200 freestyle, good for second place.

Bora and Joe Huetteman finished 1-2 in the 200 individual medley with times of 2:10.51 and 2:19.16, respectively.

"They blew out the Dreadnaughts," Jolly said. "They are the two hardest workers on the team."

Von Acker and Colby combined for another 1-2 finish in the 50 freestyle. Acker's 23.54 was among his best performances of the season.

Chelsea diver Richard Barnes scored 138.7 points to place second. Acker swam a :58.09 in the 100 butterfly and teammate Geoff Ostling a season-best time of 1:13.49 for fourth place.

Huetteman qualified for the state meet in the 500 freestyle with a time of 5:07.16.

"Joe swam a perfectly paced race," Jolly said.

In the 100 backstroke, Brock, Mike McEachern, and Adam McArthur combined for a 1-3-4 finish. Brock's time of 1:05.86 was among his best times of the season.

Montange recorded a 1:10.14 in the 100 breaststroke.

Chelsea hosts the SEC Championships on Feb. 22-23.

Capital Gains Cut A Good Move for Ag

Farm Bureau is praising a capital gains tax cut proposed by President Bush in his State of the Union address. Michigan Farm Bureau public affairs director Al Almy said a cut in capital gains would have a positive impact on agriculture.

"Agriculture is a very capital intensive industry," he said. "Farmers are constantly looking at new technologies and ways of operating more efficiently. This means that they purchase a lot of capital assets, machinery and other technologies on their farms. Capital gains would certainly help to ease the tax burden upon the sale of those capital assets, and would encourage additional investment which would be good for the over-all economy."

Almy said the details of the Bush proposal are expected to be the same as the plan the President suggested last year that would have reduced the capital gains rate from 28 percent to 19.6 percent for assets held over three years.

Beach Swimmers Drop Two Despite Season-Best Efforts

Beach Middle school boys' and girls' swimming and diving team finished their dual meet season last week, losing a tough one to Adrian at home 95-75 and losing to Milan, 106-88.

"We have really come a long way in a short time," said Coach Dave Brinklow.

"Most of our team is made up of swimmers and divers who are competing for the first time in their lives. We swam Adrian at the beginning of the season and got crushed. Then by the end of our season, we swam them to a tie up until the diving event and gave them a great fight until the end. I was very proud of their effort throughout the meet."

Scorers for Chelsea in the Adrian meet were Jim Bergman, Kevin Kolodica, Kelly Bowers, Steve Straub, Betsy Schmunk, Chris Grossman, Stephanie Wesolowski, Halley Orr, Christie Lonskey, Eric Freitas, and Charlie Sell.

Other participants were Amy Redman, Kevin Coy, Erin Armstrong, Mike Huschke, Tom Payne, Michelle Orr, Aaron Grammatico, Ben O'Connor, Peter Straub, Crystal Orr, Steve Thiel, Andrea Gordenier, Amie Miller, Carrie Smith, Dan Wehrwein, Brooke McArthur, Dave Mote, Genny Humenay, Rachel Gordenier, Hilary Kress, Jeremy Montange, Heidi Wehrwein, Ben Potocki, Brendon Devine, Jason Fox, Heather Pratt, Angie Wilson, Beth Barner, and David Luckhart.

In the Milan meet, the line up was switched around so swimmers had a chance to swim different events.

"Milan is the strongest middle school team I've seen in a long time," said Brinklow.

"I can't imagine anyone in the state being able to beat them. We used this meet as an opportunity to let swimmers experience events that they have not been able to try yet this year."

Some of the great performances in the meet, Brinklow said, were by Peter Straub, Hilary Kress, Dan Wehrwein, Andrea Gordenier, Tom Payne, Amy Redman, Brooke McArthur, Mike Huschke and Heidi Wehrwein.

In other action, Beach swimmers finished sixth out of twelve teams at the Erie-Mason Invitational last Saturday.

Leading the way was team captain Kolodica, who set a new Beach Middle school record in the 100 breaststroke with his first-place time of 1:10.31.

"I thought Kevin was going to swim fast, but I was amazed at his 1:10.31 in prelims," Brinklow said.

"Then he turned around and went even faster in finals. I'm happy for Kevin because he's had to work hard just to get in shape this year."

Kolodica also finished third in the 50 yard freestyle and was joined by other co-captains Schmunk and Steve Straub as well as seventh grader Kelly Bowers to finish third in the medley relay. Then Kolodica, Straub, Bergman and Grossman combined for fourth place in the 200 yard freestyle relay.

Other top 12 finishes included Bergman, 10th place in the 100 I.M.; Lonskey, 12th in diving; Grossman, 11th in the 50 butterfly; Straub, 11th in the 100 freestyle; Schmunk, 8th in the 100 backstroke; Sell, 12th, and Bergman, 9th, in the 100 breaststroke; and the 400 freestyle relay team of Bowers, Stephanie Wesolowski, Schmunk and Grossman, 9th.

Brinklow was also impressed by the performances of swimmers and divers not in the top 12.

"One of the most exciting things about today's meet was the countless best times turned in by non-scorers," said Brinklow. "We are a very young and inexperienced team compared to most others here, but I saw a great deal of potential for the future in our swimmers and divers today."

Personal best times were turned in by McArthur, Armstrong, Smith, Humenay, Michelle Orr, Halley Orr, Andrea Gordenier, Wehrwein, Redman, Coy, Wesolowski, Thiel, Sell, Bowers, Payne, Fox, Grammatico, Freitas, Grossman, Pratt, Straub, Potocki, Kress, Peter Straub, Miller, Schmunk, Lonskey, Bergman, Wilson and Montange.

Ten members of the team have qualified for the M.I.S.C.A. state competition next Saturday at McDonald Middle school in East Lansing. The following swimmers will participate: Bergman, Kolodica, Grossman, Steve Straub, Kevin Coy, Lonskey, Schmunk, Bowers, Wesolowski and Redman.

BEN HURST brings the ball upcourt against South Lyon during last Friday night's contest. The Bulldogs lost the game despite a furious rally in the final two minutes.

Varsity Spikers Nipped By Dexter

Chelsea varsity volleyball team lost a close match to Dexter in two games last Thursday, Feb. 7, 16-14 and 17-15.

In both games, Chelsea built up a big early lead but was unable to hold off late Dexter rallies.

Junior Amy Mitchell was top server for Chelsea with 12 points.

Juniors Danielle Taylor and Jennifer Petty had five attack kills each, while junior Tara Roehm contributed three kills. Jennifer Petty had eight digs on defense.

Knutsen was lost for the remainder of the season with a hand injury.

"Our young team is continuing to improve each week," said Chelsea coach Dan Montgomery.

Chelsea is 2-6 in league play.

Frosh Cagers Beat Dexter

Chelsea Bulldogs freshman basketball team beat Brooklyn Columbia Central and Dexter in action last week.

On Monday, Feb. 4 at home, Chelsea outscored Central 31-17 in the second half to take a 63-39 victory.

The Bulldogs took an 18-9 first quarter lead and never trailed.

"This is the first time we controlled the first quarter," said Chelsea coach Dave Quilter.

"The kids played good defense the entire game and never let Central get close. Offensively we hit the open man with good passes and scored as a result."

Chelsea held Central to 25 percent shooting from the floor and dominated the boards as they grabbed 30 offensive rebounds.

The Bulldogs also consistently beat the Central press.

Three Bulldogs scored in double figures, led by Gabe Bernhard's 19 points. Other scorers included Cory Brown 14, David Stimpson 12, Nathan Mackinder 6, Jason McVittie 5, Matt Powell 4, David Seitz 2, and Paul Lopez 1.

Bernhard had 14 rebounds and Mackinder and McVittie each had nine.

Chelsea shot 37 percent from the field and 55 percent from the line.

In a Thursday, Feb. 7 game against Dexter at home, Chelsea rallied from an 18-14 half-time deficit to take a 53-37 victory.

"We pushed the ball downcourt in the second half, which resulted in 39 points," Quilter said.

"I really have to praise our defense for holding Dexter to under 40 points."

Bernhard sank a three-point jump-hook from the corner to bring Chelsea within four at half-time.

Powell scored seven points in the first quarter to keep Chelsea in the game early.

Cory Brown led Chelsea's fast break despite committing his fourth foul with five seconds gone in the third quarter.

Bernhard led Chelsea with 18 points. Other scorers included Powell 9, Brown 8, McVittie 6, Mackinder 6, Ed Greenleaf 3, Seitz 2, and Cory Weid 1.

Bernhard had 11 rebounds and Mackinder grabbed 10.

Chelsea shot 43 percent from the field and 57 percent from the line.

Consumer Expert Offers Tips for Handling Debt

Ypsilanti—The holiday decorations are gone. The novelty of the new toys has faded, and for many, all that remains of the past holiday season are pleasant memories.

For others, however, the effects of whimsical pre-holiday spending and overindulgences may just be sinking in—in their bill-filled mailboxes, in their overdrawn checking accounts, and in their inability to stretch those paychecks far enough.

For consumers, credit can be a useful tool, but it can, unwittingly, become a trap, according to Rosella Bannister, director of the Michigan Consumer Education Center at EMU.

"We all use credit. Very few of us have the cash to go out and buy a home. And, certainly we use credit every month as we use the telephone and pay for it later," she said. "Credit's a great convenience and it's just part of our financial management. But the negative side is that some people don't understand that they have to pay for this at some point. Just because it's convenient and easy to use a credit card, they sometimes let it get out of hand."

Bannister said what's critical to avoiding the debt trap, is for individuals to have a clear picture of their personal financial affairs. "At least once a year, every household needs to look at 'What is our income?' and 'What are our expenses?'. Do we have enough income to meet our expenses?" and "What are our major big expenses throughout the year?" The insurance payments, the taxes and other expenditures that happen only periodically sometimes throw budgets out," she said. "So we use our credit cards. Then when it's time to pay for them and we have another major expense, we're in trouble."

Another aspect of credit that's sometimes overlooked, is that it's costly, Bannister said. "Credit costs money. It isn't just a free convenience. If we don't pay the credit card up at the end of the month, there is going to be an, on-average, 18 percent per year expense. And, wouldn't it be better to save for the non-essential goods?" she asked.

Noting that two of every three American families spend from $500 to $1,000 per year on finance charges, Bannister added, "If people realized that it's a much smarter thing to do to save money for those goals—have that money be earning money while we're saving it, then pay cash and avoid that 18 percent per year—they'd have $500 to $1,000 extra to spend."

Although some people look to consolidation loans to pay off their credit card bills, Bannister said that kind of loan shopping should be done carefully. "The debt consolidation loan may or may not be a good idea," she said. "What it does is allow you to stretch out the period of your loan further, but that means you're going to be paying even more for the use of somebody else's money. And it's not the answer or the cure, but it can relieve an emergency situation."

Bannister also cautioned consumers to beware of fraudulent debt consolidation loans, saying sometimes a "very, very high rate of interest" is charged. "If you're going to look at debt consolidation loans, be very sure that it is to your advantage," she said.

When an individual can't pay his/her bills, Bannister recommends calling the creditors themselves, or in the case of many debts, talking with a non-profit credit counseling center, professional who can intercede with creditors for you.

"If I owe you money and I can't pay it, wouldn't you rather have me call you and say, 'I'm sorry. I have this crisis and I can't pay you all I owe now, but I will pay you part of it now, and I promise to pay you the rest of it at a later time.'? You would feel better about that than if I ignored the situation and wouldn't communicate with you. And I think the same is true for business," she said.

"A lot of people don't understand that it's better to communicate with your creditors than to avoid them; and it's better to do it early, than after it's become a problem," Bannister added. "And when it's just impossible to pay, that's when you need help from a non-profit credit counseling center who can often be your advocate with (the creditors). That's partly why companies like Sears, Hudson's and National Bank of Detroit pay credit counselors to exist. It's a service to both the consumer and the creditor, and they (the centers) probably have more clout with the creditor than you."

Bannister said enlisting the help of non-profit credit counselors to face up to money problems, may also save consumers from having to face up to a bad credit rating. And although, in most instances, a bad credit rating is no longer reported by credit bureaus after seven years (or 10 years, in the case of bankruptcy), she said it can be a mark that lasts forever.

"By law, if a prospective employer is considering you for a position paying $20,000 or more per year, and wants to check your credit rating, he/she can go back to day one of your first credit problem," she said.

In addition, she said there is no time limit when applying for $50,000 or more of credit, as in the case of most home mortgages, or when applying for a life insurance policy of $50,000 or more.

"Many people don't realize that a bad credit rating, even on a simple, you didn't pay your telephone bill when you were in college, can follow you for a lifetime," Bannister said. "For more information on the telephone number of the nearest non-profit credit counseling center, call the Michigan Consumer Education Center at EMU, at (313) 487-2292."

★ Feeding Stray Cats

You've seen them, the raggedy hungry cats. They creep furtively behind garbage cans and huddle next to buildings to keep warm. Many people set out dishes of dry food nightly. The strays appear at meals, but vanish when humans approach.

These gangs of outlaws are our country's feral cats. Untamed, they live relatively short lifespans of two to three years. The females give birth up to three times annually during the warm months, and the males battle over territory. Perhaps they once had owners who abandoned or lost them, or they may have been born to wild parents. Feral cats can act as a pool of such deadly feline diseases as distemper, feline leukemia virus, and rabies. They are almost always wormy and sick. Their deaths are as sad as their lives. They freeze to death, die of starvation and disease, and many times are killed by injuries from cars.

Last year, over 300 feral cats were brought to our shelter. The Humane Society of Huron Valley (HSHV) was called in hundreds of times to help live-trap wild cats in neighborhoods where they had become overwhelming. At one address alone, 64 cats and kittens were captured. Though we do not know how many feral cats live in our area, these numbers are probably only a small part of a huge problem.

Although some people believe that we should try to tame feral cats, it is not always easy or possible to do so. And since over 80 pet cats and kittens die each week at HSHV for lack of homes, it doesn't make sense to try to tame additional wild cats.

The most humane and practical solution to the feral cat problem involves live-trapping and euthanizing the existing population, and instituting cat license laws in the county. The City of Ypsilanti is currently considering such an ordinance.

If your heart goes out to the straggle stray cats in your neighborhood, you can help these animals. First, do not feed them. Instead, live-trap the cats and bring them to the HSHV shelter which is open seven days a week. Although not required, leaving a donation for every cat you bring in will help pay for the animal's handling and euthanasia by injection. Second, urge your city administrators to pass a cat license law. Finally, please spay or neuter and tag your own pet cats to prevent them from breeding and protect them from loss.

For a complete discussion of the feral cat problem in our area, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to: Feral Cats, c/o Linda Reider, HSHV, 3100 Cherry Hill Rd., Ann Arbor 48106. And send your pet care questions along too. They may be featured in upcoming columns!

WE'RE BACKED BY KODAK'S SEAL OF EXCELLENCE

The PURPLE ROSE THEATRE COMPANY would like to thank the following individuals and businesses for their generous assistance in completing the renovation of Chelsea's Garage Theatre.

Some donated their time, some offered their services at a great discount and some were just simply there when we were desperate. Together, with the help of the Garage Theatre Foundation, these people made this theatre happen.

We thank them.

Farm Leader Praises Appointment of New Extension Director

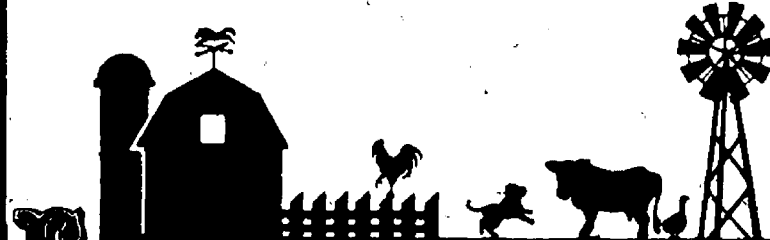

Calling her a "highly qualified individual," Jack Laurie, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, praised the recent appointment of Dr. Gail Imig as director of the Michigan State University Co-operative Extension Service.

"I've had the opportunity to visit with Dr. Imig over the past few months and I feel she will bring many new ideas to the Extension Service," he said. "She is very aware of the needs of agriculture and rural Michigan. We've shared our philosophies on the role of the Service and what it should be in the future, and I think we feel very much the same."

Laurie called the Co-operative Extension Service the backbone of successful agriculture in the U.S. for over 75 years. "The need for its services are no less today than they were in the past. The needs may be somewhat different, but the service is very necessary," he said.

"He noted what he considered one of the Service's top priorities for the future. 'Obviously the Co-operative Extension needs to be involved in the dissemination of information from our land grant university research projects out to production agriculture,'" he said.

Card of Thanks 19

CARD OF THANKS

Thanks to the many friends and family members who helped us celebrate Dad's birthday with their many cards and letters. A special thanks to all who participated in hosting and attending the Open House at Salem Grove church. Thanks also to the American Legion, the Masonic Lodge and Lions of Grass Lake for their presentations.
The family of Walter Kalmbach.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Ella Robards would like to thank everyone who supported and comforted us during our mother's illness and at the time of her death. A special "thanks" to Pastor Keith Roberson, Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, and the Women's Fellowship.
Everyone was kind and thoughtful.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank all our friends, neighbors and relatives for all the cards, flowers, visits and their prayers. And also Pastor Koch for all his visits and prayers, while I was in the hospital and since I have returned home.

Carl H. Klink.

Pamphlet Tells How To Appeal Tax Assessment

The 1991 edition of the Michigan Consumers Council's popular "How To Review and Appeal Your Property Tax Assessment" brochure is now available. The one-page pamphlet provides important information on Michigan's property tax appeal procedures, including summer tax collections.

Prepared in co-operation with the Michigan Department of Treasury, the brochure details how an individual property tax bill is computed, using the state equalized valuation (SEV) rate. It also provides insight on how assessments are made and how property owners can determine if their property appraisal was done correctly.

The Council advises property owners to review the appraisal records in their assessor's office for accuracy. Common assessment errors include such false assumptions as a house having a finished basement or fireplace when it doesn't. Homeowners should also look for missed defects that might tend to reduce the value of a house, such as the shifting of the foundation, and even simple clerical errors in computing the tax.

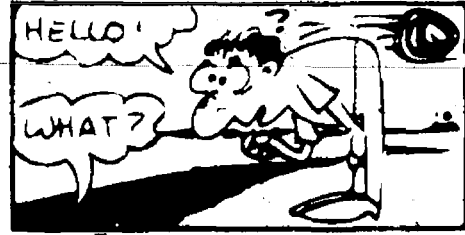

If the property owners find an error, the Consumers Council recommends that the errors be discussed with the assessor first. Some assessors may be willing to adjust the appraisal on the spot, thus saving the property owner and the assessor the nuisance of a formal protest. If the property owner should find it necessary to formally protest, the brochure provides tips on how to proceed and document a case before a local Board of Review.

Council director Kent S. Wilcox noted that "This brochure shows consumers that you can fight city hall—and win! Homeowners just need to do their homework. Know how rates are calculated, what your home's value is based upon, and the selling prices of other similar homes in your neighborhood."

The pamphlet emphasizes that timing is crucial in making an appeal. Each township and city has its own functioning Board of Review that meets periodically. It is crucial that property owners who plan to file a protest contact their local city or township office soon to obtain the deadline for filing.

"How To Review and Appeal Your Property Tax Assessment" is one of the most widely-requested brochures published by the Consumers Council. Copies are available free of charge at many Michigan assessors' offices or by contacting the Michigan Consumers Council, 106 W. Allegan St., 414 Hollister Building, Lansing 48933; telephone, (517) 373-0947.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I am sending you an outline of Dexter township's property tax dilemma brought about by a number of situations which in my opinion are discriminatory on almost 98% of lakeside property owners.

1. A major share of lake property owners do not reside year around, therefore have no voice in local government, e.g. school taxes, election of township officials, and referendums, recalls, etc.

2. Assessments on these lake properties are at the mercy of the approximately 1.5% of sales samples of those affluent folks that are well enough off to afford ridiculous prices asked by sellers who receive as much as twice the recorded value of other properties in the immediate vicinity. When the purchaser of one of these properties compares his SEV value with those of his neighbors, he will show up at the Board of Review with an appeal. Unfortunately he doesn't usually receive any relief but his neighbors' assessments will increase.

3. Then along comes the Dexter School Board with their list of goodies—a new middle school, a swimming pool, etc., that will add millage to be applied to the increased assessments.

4. All the good talk about property tax reductions will take place after all the above takes place with a net result of an over-all increase.

5. As an elected trustee of Dexter township I take this opportunity to protest the unfairness of the present formula used by assessors to establish property values of more than 98% of Dexter homesites by using a few current sales affecting the destinies of the majority of us who want to live in our homes and not to get a fast buck.

Last year the lakes properties received 28% increase and for 1991 a proposed 14% amounting to 40% in two years. I am sure many are prone to seek vengeance; however, your township elected officials are the victims of the Michigan and county equalization officials who pass down the assessing procedures for townships.

Dear Editor,

Camelot arrived in Chelsea last Thursday night via the Purple Rose Theatre Company's offering of "Blush At Nothing" by Lisa A. Wing.

Inside the latest fashioned theatre, ageless theatrics were going on and, as my next door neighbor and friend Wolf says in the prelude to one of his poems, "beyond this place, there be dragons."

A ton of Bravos, ten-thousand and one Encores, endless Broken Legs, Good Fortune and a ga-ga Thank You to all the "dragon slayers" connected with The Garage project.

Thomas J. Zieziul

To the Editor,

An open letter to all we serve.

Recently I was asked about our various services and how a determination was made regarding these services. The answer is quite simple and has been the hallmark of Faith in Action since its inception as an outreach program of St. Barnabas Episcopal church some 11 years ago.

If you are in need, we will try our best to help you!

Over time we have enlarged the number of services we can provide now numbering 25 and include almost everything you can think of from emergency food which is available on a twice each month basis to health care to financial assistance and, obviously many others in between.

Most recently, as reported in The Standard, Faith in Action has undertaken the distribution of surplus food for Chelsea. This food is available for pick up at Faith in Action House on the third Thursday of each month unless otherwise publicized by a notice in The Standard.

Faith in Action has no control over what foods we will have available for distribution as that is determined by the government. It, therefore, varies from month to month and for example we might be told that we will receive flour one month and beans the next. Eligibility is based upon criteria established by the government and is tied to income and family size. Recipients are required to sign a form provided by the government attesting that they meet the criteria.

The general area in which we serve encompasses most of Western Washtenaw county starting with the side of the Dexter School District closest to Ann Arbor, west to the county line, south to Manchester and north to Stockbridge. For the latter two communities Faith in Action provides co-operative type services with their local agencies. This co-operative arrangement also extends to other agencies in the county in an effort to meet the needs of people.

During these past years we have assisted in excess of 30,000 people who have been referred to us, have called in or have come in to meet with us. Faith in Action's criteria, as stated earlier, are not difficult to meet. Do you have a need that we can help you meet, do you live in our area of service, your name and those of your family, address, telephone number, social security number. This information is entered on a small card for future reference and, if you either have a larger specific need or want to talk over your situation with someone, the director or the VISTA volunteer is available.

The Chelsea Standard, Wednesday, February 13, 1991

Faith in Action has maintained over the years a policy of striving to provide better service to people and to do so with a minimum of red tape or loss of dignity. We all realize that anyone at almost any time due to circumstances beyond their control could find themselves in need of a little help from their friends.

In a little over 11 years Faith in Action has grown from two volunteers to more than 50 volunteers, three part-time staff people (including the director) and a VISTA volunteer who is provided and paid by the Federal Government.

Another question which pops up is the relationship between Faith in Action, CATS Bus, Chelsea Senior Citizens and the Chelsea Nutrition Site. The answer is that each of these organizations is a separate and completely autonomous entity and except for occupying Faith in Action House and a certain amount of joint efforts, run their own programs.

We, at Faith in Action, appreciate the wonderful support which we have received from the communities and people we serve. The past 11 years have seen us grow and, as we move into the future, our greatest hope is that we will continue to grow, serve and support our communities.

Faith in Action, Inc., is non-profit, tax exempt and definitely a people oriented organization. Faith in Action House and Faith in Action truly belong to the people we serve and you are always welcome to pay us a visit, to talk over problems or just to look around.

Divorce Isn't Pretty No Matter Who's Involved.

Lets face it Divorce hurts. No matter how good you feel about yourself, the pain and anxiety are impossible to escape. That's why we work so hard to build strong marriages at our church. To help heal the rifts in relationships and overcome the scars left by broken promises. Life's hardest struggles are easier to face when you've got a group of faithful friends standing beside you in the love of Christ.

That's why we're inviting you to join us in worship To experience the love of God firsthand and see what we mean. No matter how hopeless the situation seems, there's still hope because Jesus cares for you.

Here's Hope.

McKUNE MEMORIAL LIBRARY is seeking an additional one mill in the March village elections. Some of the money is needed to handle a multitude of repairs that have been put on hold due to a lack of funds. The front porch is missing numerous concrete railing supports and some of the concrete has deteriorated.

Library Wants Millage To Repair Building, Increase Small Staff

While the March 11 election is shaping up to be relatively insignificant in a political sense, since all candidates are running uncontested, it may be the most important election in the history of McKune Memorial Library.
On the ballot is a proposition to double the library's millage from one to two mills, which would be the first increase in more than 50 years. If approved, the library's millage would reach its legal limit.

The library is operating on a bare-bones budget, according to McKune Memorial Library Board president Anne Belser.

This fiscal year the library received $65,000 from taxes, and about $43,000 from a variety of other sources, for total receipts of $108,000. Other than taxes, the biggest source of income is from penal fines. This year's total is $15,000. State aid amounted to $7,200, and half of that immediately went to the Huron Valley Library Service, the co-op of 16 libraries to which Chelsea's belongs.

However, the library is projecting a $4,000 deficit this year.

The additional mill could push tax collections to $130,000 or more, depending on the Village's state equalized value and the effect of the Headlee Amendment.

Last year the Headlee Amendment took about $8,000 from library coffers. The amendment may again hit the library hard this year. In addition, local tax abatements as well as the Downtown Development Authority's Tax Increment Finance Plan will add further financial burdens.

"When you take all that into account, it is quite a considerable amount of money," Belser said.

"Our biggest problems are the building itself, and staffing. We have not had enough money to do anything with the building."

A 1985 report by Henry S. Kowalewski & Associates, an Ann Arbor architectural firm, identified 65 separate maintenance items that need attention, from installing a larger bulletin board to major problems with the heating and cooling system. As of this year, 17 of those problems have been addressed entirely or in part.

Major work still needs to be performed on the front porch, carpeting, doors, windows, woodwork, sidewalks, roof overhangs, among other areas.

This year the library is spending less than $3,000 on maintenance and improvements.

The library also wants to increase its staff. It has two full-time librarians and seven part-time people, most of whom work less than 18 hours per week. Total payroll is about $68,000 this year.

It is open 56 hours per week and provides special programs for children and adults.

"The number of hours we're open is almost unheard of for the size of staff we have," said JoAnn Walter, library director.

"I can't see closing any hours we're open now. When we want to put on a special program, it really puts a bind on everybody. But what we want is a vital library."

The library operates with one staff member on evenings and Saturday.

In addition, the library would like to start a literacy program, as well as an outreach program to get books to homebound people. However, current programs have the staff spread too thin as it is, Walter said.

Belser said the library serves about 10,000 people, and that figure is expected to double in 10 years. From March 1988 to February 1990 the library had a circulation of 65,852, which includes 55,852 books, 5,994 videos, 2,242 magazines, 1,782 records, and two puzzles. In 1977-78 total circulation was 27,298. During that time, book inventory has grown from 20,884 to 24,281.

There is also the growing need to enter "the technology age," as Walter described it.

The library does not have a typewriter for patrons to use and Walter describes the microfilm reader as "an antique." She would like to automate the interlibrary loan process, as well as have a computer for children to use.

"There's a lot going on for libraries that have the money," Walter said.

Walter said there are a couple of widespread misconceptions about the library and its millage request.

First, the request has nothing to do with the Downtown Development Authority's plans. DDA wants to demolish the building next door, and move an old home to the site for use by the library. An architect is studying the feasibility of the project.

"We were asking for the mill long before we even heard of the house," Walter said.

Second, village government essentially only collects taxes for the library. It does not keep the library's financial books, provide maintenance, or any other kind of substantial support.

Significance of Garage Theatre Goes Well Beyond The Plays

THERE WAS A FLURRY OF ACTIVITY last Thursday afternoon shortly before the debut of "Blush at Nothing" at Chelsea's new Garage Theater. Actor Jeff Daniels handled numerous interviews, including this one by Detroit's Channel 2. The technical crew was making sound and lighting adjustments late in the day. The work paid off as there were no obvious problems during the performance.

By Brian Hamilton
I have been sworn to secrecy about Lisa Wing's play, "Blush at Nothing," which had its "world premier" at Chelsea's new Garage Theatre last Thursday.

I attended the "world premier" (why stop there, why not call it the "universe premier"?). I got a hurried call that afternoon reminding me that I was not supposed to review the play.

Jeff Daniels, T. Newell Kring, and the rest of the crew didn't have anything to worry about. I'm your basic Theatre Novice. I know as much about theatre, in a technical sense, as I know about hockey, dog shows, or flower arranging. I wouldn't know where to begin.

The last play I saw, I think, was "Hair." My dad, a pretty liberal guy, wanted us to see what all the nudity and astrology was about. I remember three things. The nudity wasn't as thrilling as I thought it might be, partly because we were about half a mile from the stage, the show was as loud as a rock concert, and my mother fell asleep in the seat next to me and started snoring, which was only detectable between songs.

Actually, I can still review Blush at Nothing if I wait until next week. See, in the theatre biz they give the play for a week, then it opens. As Daniels told us before the play started, this Friday is when it really opens, meaning it's fair game for big-time theatre reviewers. It's kind of like holding a few scrimmages before the actual contest.

Anyway, I was more interested in Nothing if I wait until next week. See, in the theatre biz they give the play for a week, then it opens. As Daniels told us before the play started, this Friday is when it really opens, meaning it's fair game for big-time theatre reviewers. It's kind of like holding a few scrimmages before the actual contest.

You'd never believe that two years ago pizzas were sold out of that building. They scraped all the tomato paste off the floor and cheese off the windows, knocked out a wall or two, added a water fountain and some seats and transformed it into a comfortable, well-dressed theatre. It's even harder to imagine they ever repaired cars there.

There's black and white tile in the lobby, and purple all over the inside of the theatre, keeping in line with the theme of Purple Rose Theatre Company, which produces the plays. As of last Thursday, the concession stand amounted to a water fountain in the lobby.

The ceiling in the theatre-area is black, and Daniels is proud, but somewhat reluctant, to admit he painted most of it himself.

The transformation of the building, though, is incidental to what the theatre may eventually accomplish.

It will draw to Chelsea thousands of people who have never been here before, including patrons, actors, workshop participants, and probably even major-league directors and actors now and then. It will provide more business for local restaurants, bars, and any other businesses that stay open. Beyond that, though, the exposure and word-of-mouth publicity could be invaluable. I love this area enough to believe there are others who might be inclined to invest in more than just a theatre ticket.

Years from now, we may one day view the theater as the first sign of the rebirth of the downtown, as well as one of its most important assets. The Downtown Development Authority's project is just around the corner. It may also give Chelsea its first national reputation beyond Jiffy Mixes.

I may someday view it as the place I finally got theatre. I have to admit, I had a great time last Thursday. I sat in one of three front rows. How many entertainment spots have you ever been to that have three front rows?

At one point, Vivvie Holden and Godfrey Herald, the lead characters, had an argument so close to me that I could have literally kicked the leading man in the behind without getting out of my seat.

I shudder to think of where I might be today had I seen "Hair" from such a vantage point.

Spec. Timothy Boyer In Middle East As Tank Systems Mechanic

Army Spec. Timothy A. Boyer has deployed to the Middle East with American military forces participating in Operation Desert Storm.

Desert Storm, the largest deployment of U.S. military forces since Vietnam, is in response to Iraq's invasion of Kuwait and threat to Saudi Arabia.

Boyer, a tank systems mechanic at Ferris Barracks, Germany, is the son of Thomas A. and Elizabeth L. Boyer of 9980 Cedar Lake Rd., Pinckney.
