Council Approves July 4th Fireworks, With Contingencies

Chelsea Village Council appears willing to lower its liability insurance requirements for a Fourth of July fireworks display this summer.

Two years ago, the last year village resident Harold Allen organized the program, Allen was required to come up with a $3 million policy naming the village and the Chelsea Community Fair as insured parties.

Last year the show was not held. This year Chelsea 1995 organization wants to sponsor a show. Council authorized the show with a $2 million insurance policy, $1 million of which will be provided by Independence

Fireworks, the company Chelsea 1995 wants to handle the show.

The fairgrounds has offered to lease the fairgrounds to the village for $1 for the show.

Allen said he might sue the village if it lowers its liability insurance requirements. He said he lost a substantial amount of money on the 1988 show and part of the reason was "the unreasonable requirements" for insurance.

JENNIFER JOHNSON, age 6, stopped to take a look at all the Easter eggs she collected last Saturday during the annual community Easter Egg Hunt at Chelsea High school. Warm weather and high winds greeted the many youngsters who took part.

Council Tells DDA It Can Use Village Lot As Site for House

The house behind the Chelsea 14th District Courthouse that was scheduled to be moved to the former Pump 'N Pantry site as part of the Downtown Development Authority's parking lot project is now likely to be moved to a village-owned lot on W. Middle St.

DDA has decided the estimated $50,000 cost to move the house to the corner of Orchard and Main Sts. and renovate it for use as an addition to McKune Memorial Library is too much money to spend.

Last Tuesday, village council told DDA chair Mark Heydlauff and financial consultant Franz Mogdis that DDA could move the house to one of two village-owned sites—the W. Middle St. lot or the vacant lots on Park St. opposite the First United Methodist Church that were purchased several years ago as a site for a new village hall.

However, on Friday Heydlauff said the W. Middle St. lot is the preferred site for a number of reasons, including the relative ease with which the house can be moved to it as opposed to the Park St. lots.

Details about purchase price of either lot have yet to be worked out.

DDA approached the village about the lots because it needs a place to move the house by the end of May. Demolition was the last option, Heydlauff said.

If the house is used as a residence, it will require less renovation than it would be used as a library because, among other things, it will not have to be modified to handle the additional weight of books and will not necessarily have to be handicap accessible.

No matter which lot is used, Heydlauff said "now the pressure is off" because there's little chance the house move will delay the rest of the DDA redevelopment project. Once the house is moved, the 50-space municipal lot behind the Main St. businesses can be constructed.

Mogdis said the clean-up of the Pump 'N Pantry site could take quite a while because the owners and the Department of Natural Resources are still trying to decide how to go about cleaning up ground contamination.

"At the very least, we'd like to see if we can (grass) seed it," Mogdis said. DDA had planned to spend $200,000 on the library project, Heydlauff said. That money may now be used in other areas. For example, about $25,000 is being earmarked for a study on a new library addition.

"As it turned out, while we were studying the (house project) we got about half-way through a study of

Area Bus Riders Trying To Organize Support for Route

The fate of the Chelsea-Ann Arbor bus route offered through Ann Arbor Transportation Authority has not been determined.

AATA has asked the village to contribute more than $8,000 for six months of service under a new contract. State money for the project runs out at the end of the month.

Village council tabled action on the request at their Tuesday, March 19 meeting. Users of the service are trying to find sources of funds other than village coffers for the route. They had planned to talk to the various township boards.

AATA has told the village it will grant an extension beyond March 31 until a funding decision is made.

Council has indicated it does not want to subsidize the route by itself, partly because many of the bus riders from the Chelsea-area apparently do not live in the village.

A group of bus riders asked council to consider temporary funding through September while a task force is formed to study alternative sources of funding. Doug Worthington told council some riders depend on the service to go to work. Another rider, Tim Heeter, said the bus "is a good thing for the environment."

AATA has indicated the bus route will be discontinued without the funding.

Pharmacy Thieves Take Variety of Drugs

Last week's theft at Chelsea Pharmacy netted thieves $4,900 in drugs, in addition to the $730 in cash.

Stolen were pain killers, such as Tylenol with codeine, as well as a variety of sedatives, such as valium and seconal, other pain killers, various amphetamines, and methadone.

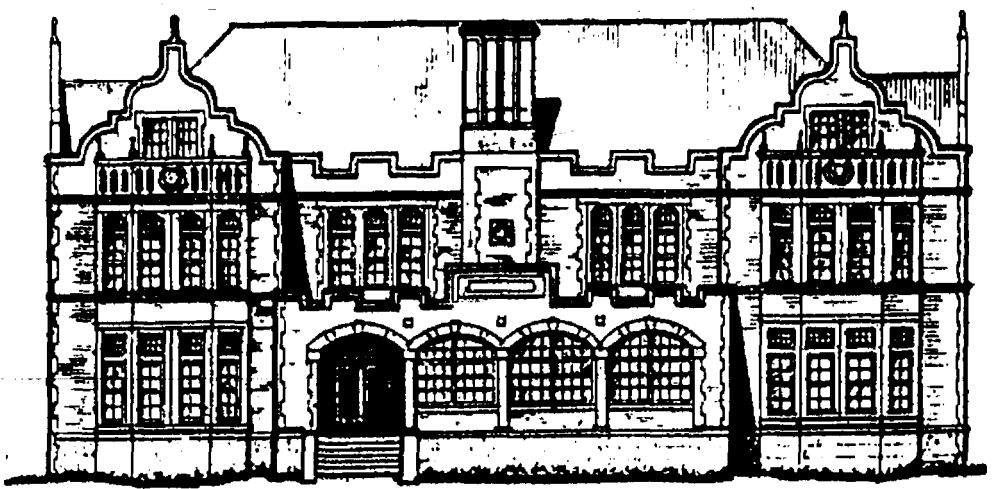

Chelsea Det. Richard Foster said the drugs are probably worth about 10 times as much on the street.

Thieves gained access to the store by cutting a hole in the roof. They disarmed the alarm and exited through the back door.

Foster said he had no leads he could elaborate on.

THE EASTER BUNNY was on hand to greet children and pass out a few eggs at last Saturday's community Easter Egg Hunt at Chelsea High school. As usual, he arrived on a Chelsea fire truck.

At a hearing of the Michigan Historic Preservation Review Board, the 107-year-old railroad depot of Chelsea was nominated for listing in the National Register of Historic Places. This nomination would be considered by the National Park Service. According to Kathryn B. Eckert of the Michigan Bureau of History, a particularly impressive part of the Chelsea presentation was a series of color slides showing the completely restored exterior of the 1880 building.

Lloyd Grau was named Outstanding Farmer of the Year by the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea. Grau had farmed in the Chelsea area for 25 years. He was a 1962 graduate of Michigan State University. Grau has always been active in the community. He was vice-president of the Chelsea School Board, executive vice-president of the Chelsea Community Fair Board and is active in the Zion Lutheran church.

Beth Ann Leeman and Susan Schmunk of Chelsea were chosen to participate in the New York/Washington Youth Seminar sponsored by the Detroit Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church. They would join 39 other junior and senior high school students.

Chelsea High school forensics team won eight of 14 events in a district tournament at Ann Arbor High school. In addition, the team had eight second place individuals or teams in the meet. "We had a tremendous showing," said Chelsea High school sponsor Bill Coelius. "All the students who took either first or second place qualified for the Southeast Michigan Regionals over spring break, which was one of the toughest regionals. If they can perform well there, they stand a real good chance in state competition."

The 49th annual state FFA convention was held in conjunction with Farmers Week at Michigan State University. Chelsea FFA was one of 157 chapters attending the convention. Chelsea sent three delegates, Shelly Hatt, Cindy Welshans and Vic Ver-chereau, as well as a state finalist in parliamentary procedure competition to the convention. In award presentations, the Chelsea chapter received a silver certificate for membership to conclude their participation in the 1977 state FFA convention on a high note.

Unlimited honors appeared to mark the future of at least one Chelsea youth, Tim Welshans, as he was awarded a certificate for high achievement as an Outstanding FFA Junior. He received the award during presentation ceremonies at the FFA State Convention in East Lansing. Welshans is the president of the Chelsea FFA chapter.

Two Chelsea High school seniors, Kathleen Treado and Susan Leach were selected as being among the country's most outstanding high school music students. In recognition of the honor, the names of both girls would appear in the 1977 edition of Who's Who in Music.

Perhaps in reaction to the well-publicized, tragic kidnapping-murders of at least four children in the Oakland county area, three Chelsea elementary school children reported an alleged abduction attempt to North school officials. According to Chelsea police reports, the children were returning to North school after completing safety patrol duties when one of the children claimed a car carrying two women and a man stopped nearby. The child said one of the women got out of the car, shook him, and her male companion asked him to get into the car and show the occupants of the vehicle where Chelsea Community Hospital was located. Upon investigation, police officers located the two women suspects at Chelsea Community Hospital where they were visiting a friend. The suspects acknowledged stopping their car to ask directions to the hospital, but vehemently denied asking any of the youngsters to get into the car.

Several incidents of malicious destruction of property were reported to area law enforcement officials on Easter Sunday. The Chelsea Police Department received a complaint. Jack Joseph stated that he had parked his car along N. Main about 100 yards inside the village limits. While the car was parked there Joseph said another vehicle drove by and someone leaned out of the right side with a shotgun and sprayed Joseph's car with bird shot. The Police Department also received a complaint about bottles thrown at cars along Chelsea-Dexter Rd. on Easter day. The bottles were apparently aimed for windshields.

State Fine Jumps in Prison Case
U.S. District Judge Richard Enslen has ordered the state to begin paying $10,000 a day for failing to make progress on its promise to build a psychiatric prison for mentally ill inmates.

The order to increase the fine (which officially took effect March 15) denies the personal appeal made by Gov. Engler last week in Kalamazoo. Engler argued that the fine, which stood at $1,000 per day since Oct. 22, should not be jumped to $10,000 a day as scheduled because his administration has not had sufficient time to correct the prison problems created by former Governor James Blanchard.

Following the meeting between Engler and Enslen, Engler spokesman John Truscott said, "the judge was very receptive to the measures the state has put in place."

Truscott said Engler was actively working to locate the prison hospital, as ordered by Enslen, and has appointed his senior policy advisor, Dennis Schornack, to oversee the process. "We want it (selected) as soon as possible because we'd like to put the issue behind us," Truscott said.

Engler also indicated other steps his office has taken to comply with federal orders, including the elimination of the Corrections Commission and the impending direct appointment of a new director for the Department of Corrections to replace Robert Brown. "That person will be ordered to expedite the process," Truscott said.

Enslen's order will allow the state to pay only half the fine up front. The rest must be placed in a separate account until May 31, by which time

Enslen will decide whether to collect or forgive the fine.

Following the announcement of the increased fine, Truscott said the administration was disappointed.

"But we saved half the amount of money that would have been spent if we would have done nothing. So we consider it a minor victory."

The state is nearly two years behind schedule in complying with a 1984 agreement with the U.S. Justice Department to develop treatment for mentally ill prisoners.

Attempts were made last year to put the prison in Potterville, Bath township and Perry, but residents protested the proposed 400-bed facility and the Corrections Department's process of choosing a site.

Sen. Jack Welborn (R-Kalamazoo), who co-ordinated the transition team on corrections and participated in the meeting with the judge, said the judge called the governor's appearance on the case "unprecedented" and represented a commitment not demonstrated by the Blanchard administration.

Welborn said Engler told the judge he would establish a task force to work with the Legislature to satisfy the court order so that the contempt charges may be dropped at a hearing on May 29.

State Sues Metro Airport Over Pollution Discharge

The state has filed a lawsuit against Wayne County Detroit Metropolitan Airport over the discharge of wastewater containing excessive amounts of deicing compounds, oil, grease, ammonia, phosphorous and other pollutants into drainage ditches.

Council, Planners Move Meetings to Sylvan Town Hall

Chelsea Village Council has held its last meeting in the council chambers, at least for the foreseeable future.

Council meetings will be held at Sylvan Town Hall on the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month at 7:30 p.m., starting in April.

Council decided a couple of months ago to move the meetings to a site with handicap access.

Sylvan township holds its regular board meetings on the first Tuesday of the month, which required the village to change at least one of its meetings. Council had considered moving to another night, but nixed the idea.

Village planning commission meetings will be moved from the fourth to the third Tuesday of the month, also at the town hall at 7:30 p.m.

Zoning Board of Appeals will also move its meetings (third Wednesday, 5 p.m.) to the hall.

The village is also moving its public address and tape recorder system to the hall, and the township board may use it as well.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers that the National Hobo Convention held recent in San Francisco drew members from all over the country. I ain't ready to call these fellers the first robins of spring, but I expect they stay south or hunker down during the dead of winter.

I took a clipping to the country store Saturday night where one paper took note that somepun new has been added to the Hobo Convention. A new breed called hobbiysts are mixing with the reglars. These are weekend bums that call hobboing a sport, and they play it to git away from clocks, walls and bosses. I figger they're a better bet on warm weather because they can choose. They don't have to be out in all kinds.

The fellers took some interest in the hobo hobbiysts. Zeke Grubb said he had heard folks join the circus, go to sea and jump out of airplanes for the same reason, they want to do somepun totally different from their real lives. Zeke said he had read about one of these sports that worry him. This is where fellers dress up like soldiers on weekends, take to the woods and hunt one another with guns that shoot blobs of ink. This ain't real, and it probable ain't dangerous as a hobo jumping on a moving train, Zeke said, but it makes you wonder how different a sport these people want.

Fer sure, Clem Webster said, there is enough in real life fer us to worry about. He had saw where cutbacks in federal funds to states and states cutting back support of services they order counties to provide has got dominos falling ever which way. Towns and counties are setting higher tax values on property, raising charges fer service folks have got to have, like water and sewer, setting up new "user" fees fer parking lots and tennis courts that use to be free, and using payroll taxes to catch them that work in town and live outside.

Furthermore, states are proving again that nobody is safe when their legislatures are in session. They are jacking up car tags, hunting and fishing licenses, deed transfer fees and all manner of legal charges, while they keep saying they are holding the line on taxes. The bottom line, Clem said, that the strain and pain is spreading from the bottom up, like it allus does, and them that hurt the most are turning to public assistance that ain't there.

Actual, Bug Hookum broke in, he don't have to read about hobos or listen fer birds to see signs of spring. He just goes to his mailbox. The trickle of pamphlets, circulars, seed catalogs and garden tips from the farm agencies has started, he said, and it will build to a flood in a few weeks. Fer all the computer mailing list miracles, and fer all the cards he has marked and returned, he said he is bound to git the annual tips on caring fer the grape arbor he cut down 12 year ago to make room fer a little plastic covered greenhouse his old lady wanted next to his tool shed in the back yard.

I didn't go into it at the meeting, but my old lady has started dropping hints about a early, early garden that are as subtle as a flatiron up side the head. Up to now all I've done is nod, but this can't last.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Attorney General Frank Kelley and Department of Natural Resources Director David Hales said the suit, which orders the airport to stop the discharge, alleges that facility violated its National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System permit because it failed to properly sample the waste.

The complaint was filed in Ingham County Circuit Court and also alleges that the airport has violated the state's Water Resources Commission Act and the Environmental Protection Act.

The complaint asks the court to issue a permanent injunction against further discharge; order full payment of damages to natural resources; order the airport to pay $10,000 per day for each violation of the permit or the state laws which occurred before May 31, 1990, and $25,000 for each violation which has occurred since that date; order the airport to construct waste treatment facilities to comply with its permit and order the airport to reimburse the state for costs of the suit.

Health Assessment Team Available To Older Patients

Older persons with health problems have a special resource available to them at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center in Chelsea.

A team of experts from a variety of disciplines is available to provide a comprehensive health evaluation for elderly individuals who are experiencing a problem with their physical and/or psychological well-being.

This team of professionals includes physicians who have special geriatric training, a social worker, nutritionist, clinical pharmacist, and geriatric nurse practitioner.

Each team member conducts an assessment of the older individual and shares their findings with the assembled team. A summary letter including specific recommendations is provided to the individual's regular physician to aid in better management of future health concerns.

Any older person or concerned caregiver of an older person with health-related problems is welcome to arrange an evaluation.

Typical reasons for seeking such an assessment include failing general health, safety concerns with recent falls; appetite or weight changes; changes in personality or memory problems; consideration of nursing home placement.

The full evaluation includes a home visit from the nurse practitioner and a half-day visit to the Family Practice Center to be seen by the pharmacist, nutritionist, social worker and physician. If desired, an evaluation by a single member of the team can be arranged (e.g., a nutrition assessment or a pharmacist review of medication use).

Any older person or concerned caregiver is welcome to inquire about an evaluation by calling Diane at 313-475-1321. The Family Practice Center participates fully with Medicare and other major insurance carriers.

The first national organization of workers to endure to the present, the Typographical Union, was first organized in 1852, according to "Important Events in American Labor History," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

Cong. Dave Camp Backs 'Fast Track' Negotiating Authority

Michigan's representative on the House Agriculture Committee supports extending "fast track" negotiating authority for trade agreements. 10th district Congressman Dave Camp told Michigan Farm Bureau members meeting in Washington, D.C., recently, that a "fast track" provision will reassure our trading partners that the Bush Administration can negotiate a trade treaty without being second-guessed later by Congress.

"Without this authority, it would be like you or I trying to get a house loan and not having the loan officer be able to commit to the loan until a board reviews it," Camp said. "That just doesn't work. The countries we negotiate with need to know that our trade representatives have the authority to negotiate an agreement."

Fast-track negotiating authority would extend the time for further world trade talks and enable discussions to go forward on a possible North American free trade agreement. "Congress will still have the opportunity to review the trade agreements and approve them," Camp said.

what the library should have," Heydlauff said.

"Now we'll go ahead and finish that process. They should end up with a schematic design and some general cost estimates. They'll also be guaranteed the lot will be available for them."

Some of the remaining $175,000 may be used to help the library with immediate needs, such as handicap accessibility. Other money may be spent on short-term remodeling of the next-door lot.

Eye Care

Cheryl Huey, M.D.

Ophthalmologist - Eye Physician and Surgeon

WHAT CAUSES CATARACTS?

A cataract is a clouding of the lens of the eye. The lens is positioned directly behind the pupil, and normally it is optically clear. Any disturbance to the lens will cause it to become cloudy, and we then call it a "cataract".

Usually, the clouding of the lens into a cataract is a slow process occurring as we age. Sometimes, however, we will see cataracts form in very young individuals. The great majority of these cases are of unknown cause. Occasionally there seems to be a hereditary factor in cataract formation. Recent evidence supports the theory that long-term exposure to the sun may hasten cataract formation, and it's possible that persons who spend much of their time outdoors may be more likely to get cataracts. Shielding the eyes from the sun or wearing glasses that block ultraviolet light may slow development of cataracts.

Long-term use of cortisone or other steroid drugs has been associated with cataracts. Trauma to the eye can cause cataract formation, either immediately or delayed. Cataracts are seen in some diseases of the eye such as iritis, and in extreme nearsightedness. They are more common in diabetics and in persons with atopic dermatitis. Many other rare diseases have been linked to cataract formation.

For most patients, the cause of their cataract will not be known for certain. If the lens clouds enough to seriously affect vision, modern cataract surgery, with lens replacement by intraocular lens implant, can restore excellent vision in the great majority of patients.

JESSICA FLINTOFT of Chelsea, an 8th grader at Beach Middle school, recently took second place in an essay contest at History Day Competition sponsored by the Detroit Historical Society. The competition had a civil rights theme. Flintoft's essay, "Four Bills of Justice," detailed four bills passed over the last century dealing with civil rights but concluded that "Civil rights can not always be obtained and preserved with acts and laws...civil rights needs to be reinforced in the minds of young children and adults." Her essay will go on to state-wide competition. She is the daughter of Peter and Carol Flintoft of Chelsea.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

And the Lord said, "Go."
 And I said, "Who me?"
 And He said, "Yes, you."
 And I said, "But I'm not ready yet, and there is company coming, and I can't leave the kids. And you know there's no one to take my place."
 And He said, "You're stalling."
 And the Lord said, "Go."
 And I said, "But I don't want to."
 And He said, "I didn't ask you if you wanted to."

And I said, "Listen, I'm not the kind of person to get in controversy. Besides, my family won't like it and what will the neighbors think?"
 And He said, "Nonsense."
 And yet the third time the Lord said, "Go."

And I said, "Do I have to?"
 And He said, "Do you love me?"
 And I said, "Look I'm scared. People are going to ridicule me, and call me a radical and a fanatic. I can't take it all by myself."
 And He said, "Where do you think I'll be?"
 And the Lord said, "Go."
 And I sighed, "Here I am, send me."

These words must be the thoughts of every single person who has ever stood tall for a noble cause. Yet, when the Lord touches one He really does not let go, till we say our "Yes."

So to Christians everywhere, the Lord says, "Go." "Go live Me to all you meet. Be My eyes, My ears, My tongue, love with My heart. Bring Me, your Lord, to those who hunger and need fulfillment."

There is no time on the calendar of this year more appropriate than now during Lent—a time of soul searching and making an earnest effort to do better by prayer, which we all are doing a lot of these days for World Peace, and protection of those who serve for justice in our Armed Forces. One could do some self denial of the common ordinary things we take for granted. All or some, of the goodies we munch on would be an excellent beginning. Acts of charity to a family member or neighbor. Lent renews our will-power and our character.

Then this Good Friday when we remember Jesus died on the cross for each of us, the whole world will stand beneath the cross. The world needs to look upon a crucifix and know the full meaning of the word LOVE. There are many sacrifices made by our family of service people all over this world, and those left at home to wait, pray and hope.

Search out a crucifix, and look upon it and there at the feet of Christ lay your troubles and anxieties. He knows your hearts and he will heal, and sustain you. He promised that.

Every Good Friday that we experience prior to Easter Sunday teaches us a simple lesson. That in everyone's life there must be a Good Friday before there can be the endless joy of Easter. May your Easter Joy exceed your expectations.

A Blessed Easter to you and yours. To all our service men and women who give so much for us all—and for what they believe in. Freedom for all—everywhere. God bless us all, with His Holy Peace.

Mrs. Millie Warner.

Q. My wife's mother just passed away. She left $28,000 each to our son who is eight and our daughter, six. Would you suggest a way we could invest the money so it will be of maximum help when our children are ready to go to college. The money was left to the children with my wife as the custodian. I believe that means the earnings are taxable to the children.

A. The first $500 of dependent children's income is not taxable. The next $500 of income is taxable at 15%. Above $1,000 the income is taxable at the parent's maximum rate.

The costs of college education seem to be rising faster than the 5% current rate of inflation. We suggest the funds be invested in a conservative manner so the rate of return will outpace inflation. Currently, the yields on 10- to 16-year maturity, zero-coupon U.S. Treasury bonds are 8.2% to 8.4%. We would suggest that half the money for each child be invested in zero-coupon U.S. Treasury bonds. That's $14,000. Since college is normally four years, divide the $14,000 into four equal parts of $3,500 each. Buy $3,500 of zero-coupon bonds maturing each year of the expected years of college education expense. Be aware that the IRS will access taxes against the implied income each year from the zero-coupon bonds within the limits described above.

Since common stocks provide a rate of return in excess of bonds, the remaining $14,000 for each child should be invested in a series of no-load stock mutual funds. The fluctuation in price from stocks is greater than from bonds, but over the time frame for these children, the results should be better than for the bonds. The mixture of 50-50 bonds to stocks is a way to reduce the risk of the portfolio.

The following no-load stock funds have good records: T. Rowe Price Growth and Income Fund, 1-800-638-2587; Guardian Fund, Inc., 1-800-877-9700; SAFCO Equity Fund, 1-800-628-5711; Scudder Capital Growth Fund, 1-800-225-2470; Dodge and Cox Stock Fund, 415-434-0311. Call each one and ask for a copy of the prospectus and an application blank. Be sure to reinvest all dividends and capital gains for maximum compounding. Keep good records of the original investment plus reinvestment of dividends and capital gains. When the funds are sold, the tax liability can be accurately calculated.

Chelsea Man Severely Injured When Car Rams Tree Saturday

A Chelsea man suffered critical injuries in a one-car crash on Old US-12 early Saturday morning.

According to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, Glenn Lamar Lingerfelt, 62, of 103 Shoreview, was driving west on Old US-12 when he lost control of his car, crossed the center line, left the road, and struck a tree head-on two-tenths of a mile west of Freer Rd.

Lingerfelt was taken to Chelsea Community Hospital by Huron Valley

Ambulance. Chelsea police and fire departments were also at the scene. Police said the use of alcohol appeared to be a factor in the crash. The incident is still under investigation.

Each Spring, God Renews His Promise

Long, long ago in a land far away,
There came the dawn of the first Easter Day,
And each year we see that promise reborn
That God gave the world on that first Easter Morn.
For in each waking flower and each singing bird,
The Promise of Easter is witnessed and heard,
And Spring is God's way of speaking to men
And renewing the promise of Easter again,
For death is a season that man must pass through
And, just like the flowers, God awakens him, too.
So why should we grieve when our loved ones die,
For we'll meet them again in a "cloudless sky" —
For Easter is more than a beautiful story,
It's the promise of life and Eternal Glory.

24 Years Ago . . .

A break-in at Triangle Auto Sales resulted in the arrest of two juveniles. According to Chelsea Police Department reports the Triangle Auto Sales office was broken into and change and car keys taken. Three automobiles from the used car lot were reported missing. Two of the three missing vehicles were later found wrecked and abandoned on Old Manchester Rd. The two juveniles arrested admitted wrecking two of the cars while "horsing around."

Glenn Rentschler became pretty handy with a gas pump in the 41 years he had operated the Waterloo Garage, but motorists who wanted to take advantage of his experience would have to hurry. Glen planned to retire from his business, located at the corner of Waterloo Rd. and Clear Lake Rd.

A dramatic collision resulted in the death of three deer and the destruction of a Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department scout car, but the two deputies in the vehicle escaped with only minor cuts. The scout car was on an emergency run to assist in a hunt for four armed robbery suspects. The scout car was headed east on North Territorial at high speed when it crashed into a herd of eight deer and then spun around, hitting a tree. The deer had suddenly darted out from thick brush along the road and the scout car struck and killed three of the animals before leaving the road.

34 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, March 28, 1957—

David Wolfgang, president of the Chelsea Future Farmers of America chapter, was awarded the State Farmer degree in ceremonies held at the 29th State Future Farmer convention, held at Michigan State University. The State Farmer degree is the highest degree that can be awarded to an FFA member by the state association.

High School Principal Charles Lane announced that Lynda Mayer and Barbara Collins won the honor of being co-valectorian of the Class of '57 and Marlene Kuhl was to be salutatorian.

"Camp where Washington camped!" was the rallying call that would bring 50,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers, and their leaders from all parts of the nation to historic Valley Forge, Pa., for their Fourth National Jamboree. Chelsea Scouts and Explorers would be represented at the jamboree by Danny Mayer, Gary Berger, Thomas Brooks and Wilson Morley. The four Chelsea Scouts would go to Detroit by train and join other Scouts of the Michigan-Illinois-Indiana district who would make the trip together and would camp as a unit of 800 at Valley Forge.

Giant earth movers, cranes and power shovels were being used in the preliminary work for re-location of M-52, north of Chelsea.

JESUS IS ALIVE

Hallelujah
Jesus is alive
Death has lost its victory
And the grave
Has been denied.
Jesus lives forever
He's alive, He's alive.

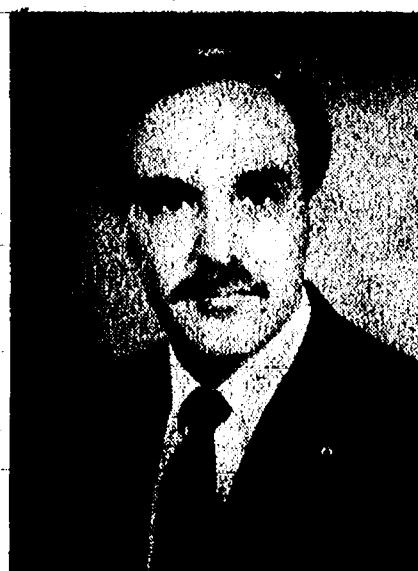

He's the Alpha and Omega
The first and last is He
The curse of Sin is broken
And we have Perfect liberty
The Lamb of God
Has risen.
He's alive, He's alive
Hallelujah
Jesus is alive.

March Is Reading Month At North, South Schools

"March Is Reading Month" is again being celebrated at North and South Elementary schools this year.

The over-all theme is "Launch Into Reading." North school's theme is "Reading Is Out of This World," while the South school theme is "Launch Mr. Benedict To The Moon," in reference to their retiring principal Bob Benedict.

Each school has set a reading goal. Students at North school are reading to send their principal, Bill Wescott, to all the planets in the solar system and back to earth. At South school, students want to send Benedict to the moon before he retires.

Many students at the schools are also participating in the Multiple Sclerosis Readathon all month. Volunteer students read books and seek pledges to raise money for the Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Health-O-Rama Slated April 13 at Chelsea Hospital

Chelsea Community Hospital will be offering Project Health-O-Rama on Saturday, April 13, between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Health-O-Rama offers a variety of free or low cost health screenings to adults age 18 and over. A number of health professionals from the Hospital's service area will assist in the screenings and health screening counseling.

Health screenings include hearing, blood pressure, height, weight, skin cancer testing, pulmonary function testing, vision, glaucoma screening, oral/dental screening and others.

Health-O-Rama is sponsored by Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Michigan, Channel 7 WXYZ-TV, and United Health Organizations. Health screening is not meant to replace a physical examination by a health care provider. It is, however, good medicine to use a screening test so that if a condition is developing, there may be a chance to detect and treat it early. Participants with abnormal test results are referred to their health care provider to receive further evaluation.

For more information call the Chelsea Community Hospital Education Department, 475-3935. No pre-registration is required.

YOU & YOUR PET

By Linda Reider

★ Easter Rabbits...

Next Sunday the Easter bunny makes his annual appearance to the delight of little children. Sadly, many parents purchase live baby rabbits and chicks to add to Easter baskets. While the tiny creatures are indeed adorable, their fragile bodies cannot stand up to the rough handling of excited children. Once the novelty has worn off, the baby animals usually receive inadequate nutrition and care. Those that do not die usually end up abandoned outdoors where they cannot survive for long or at animal shelters like ours.

Owning a domestic rabbit as a pet is rewarding, as long as one understands and accepts what is involved. Rabbits live five to 10 years, so a long-term commitment to the pet is essential. Rabbits range in size from two to 20 pounds, averaging about five pounds. Housing for each rabbit should be a wire mesh cage at least two by two by four feet long, with a wire mesh bottom covered in part by a wooden slab. A removable tray filled with shavings or clay litter will facilitate cleaning the cage, which should be done daily.

Necessary supplies for a rabbit include a water bottle, a heavy food dish, and a box with a towel inside for sleeping and hiding. Rabbits eat rabbit pellets and chopped alfalfa (available at feed and pet supply stores) and occasional (once or twice a week) fresh carrots and dark green vegetables. Rabbits also require a branch to chew on and a salt lick in their cage.

Rabbits should never be picked up by the ears or legs. Instead, use one hand to grasp the skin at the back of the neck; use the other under the rabbit's body to support the hind feet.

Rabbits can produce large litters of babies monthly. Breeding bunnies is not recommended, however, due to the difficulty of finding good homes for the babies. Male and female rabbits may be neutered by a veterinarian, which often calms their nature. Sick rabbits should be treated by a veterinarian who specializes in them.

Next Week: "Canine Heartworm."

Three Severe Weather Training Sessions Set

Dan Harah, director of the Office of Emergency Management for Washtenaw County, announced this week there will be three informative training sessions within the county at which Severe Weather Spotter Training will be offered, free of charge.

Each of the three sessions is provided to the citizens without charge by the Washtenaw County Office of Emergency Management, the National Weather Service, and a sponsoring community group or agency.

Each session is approximately two hours in length, and will include informational materials, in addition to slides and films.

For those attending who are at least 18 years old, a "Spotter's ID Number" will be assigned.

This number is to be used when calling Emergency Management, a law enforcement agency, or a fire agency, to report threatening weather.

The first gathering will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 9, at the Superior Township Hall, 3040 N. Prospect Rd., Ypsilanti, and will be sponsored by the Superior Township Community Watch Program.

Scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 16, at the Chelsea UAW Hall, 2795 Chelsea-Manchester Rd. (M-52), the second session will be sponsored by the Chelsea Communications Club and the UAW.

The final session of the three begins at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 17, at the Scio Township Hall, 827 N. Zeeb Rd., and will have three sponsoring units, the Dexter Area Fire Department, the Scio Township Fire Department and Scio Farm Estates.

Wildlife Rehabilitation Workshop Offered By Humane Society

Due to increasing loss of habitat, each year more of Washtenaw county's wildlife depend on community residents for their survival.

During 1990, more than 1,900 orphaned and injured wild animals were brought to the Humane Society of Huron Valley. Thanks to the dedicated volunteers of the Wildlife Rehabilitation program, over 50% of these animals were released back into their natural habitat.

For those persons interested in learning to foster and release wild birds or mammals, the Humane Society is sponsoring a one-day workshop taught by area wildlife rehabilitation experts. The workshop is scheduled to be held April 20, at Washtenaw Community College. Space is limited, so you must pre-register; the cost of the workshop is $20 per person. If you are interested contact the Education Department at 662-5545, weekdays until 5 p.m.

Merkels Take Option on Lot

Pat and Jack Merkel of Chelsea have been given a two-year option on a lot in the village's industrial park on Sibley Rd.

Village council granted the option at $500 per year. The money would either be forfeited or be applied toward the purchase price.

The Merkels plan to build a facility for a client, which they have not yet found. Pat Merkel told council he didn't think they'd have any problem finding one.

If another buyer for the lot is found by the village, the Merkels have 72 hours to exercise their option.

Manchester Man Killed in Monday Motorcycle Crash

A Manchester man was killed and a Gregory woman severely injured in a motorcycle crash early Monday evening in Manchester township.

According to Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, Richard L. Baggett, 34, of 6431 Sharon Hollow Rd., was riding his motorcycle west on Austin Rd. one-quarter mile east of Grossman Rd. at 6:13 p.m. when he failed to negotiate a right-hand curve in the road. He drove off the side of the road and started to slide clockwise, traveling 200 feet before hitting an Atlas Feed building. Baggett, and his passenger, Susan Kay DuRussel, 38, of 5217 Joslin Lake Rd., Gregory, fell off the motorcycle and the vehicle continued to slide another 200 feet.

Baggett and DuRussel were taken by Survival Flight to University of Michigan Hospital. Baggett died of closed head injuries.

The crash is under investigation as an alcohol-related crash.

SPORTS

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Injuries, Other Factors Could Play Big Role In Dog Baseball Season

While coach Wayne Welton remains optimistic about the chances for his Chelsea Bulldogs baseball team this season, he knows his team could be anywhere from average to spectacular depending on a number of factors, some of them out of his control.

Welton recently had to suspend two of his top players for half the season for rules violations. It's likely but uncertain they'll return. It's also unknown what kind of reception they'll get from the team if they return. Welton said "I'll take them back with open arms." The suspensions at least temporarily deprive the team of their lead-off hitter and number five hitter, as well as the school's stolen-base leader.

The second factor is how well junior Ben Hurst will be able to compete with a broken left wrist. The right-hander is slated to be a key in Welton's pitching rotation.

"Ben is the real key," Welton said. "Basically, I feel real good about our staff but if Ben can't perform someone else will have to step up. That's the case with (the suspended players) too. If they don't play, someone else who probably would have been bit players will have to step forward."

Senior Rob Clem and junior Jake Rindie are Welton's top pitchers. Senior Craig Perry should be the number three starter. However, Perry recently injured his ankle and may be out for part or all of the season.

Other pitchers include juniors Chris White and Adam Taylor, and sophomores Steve Grau and Ken Slane.

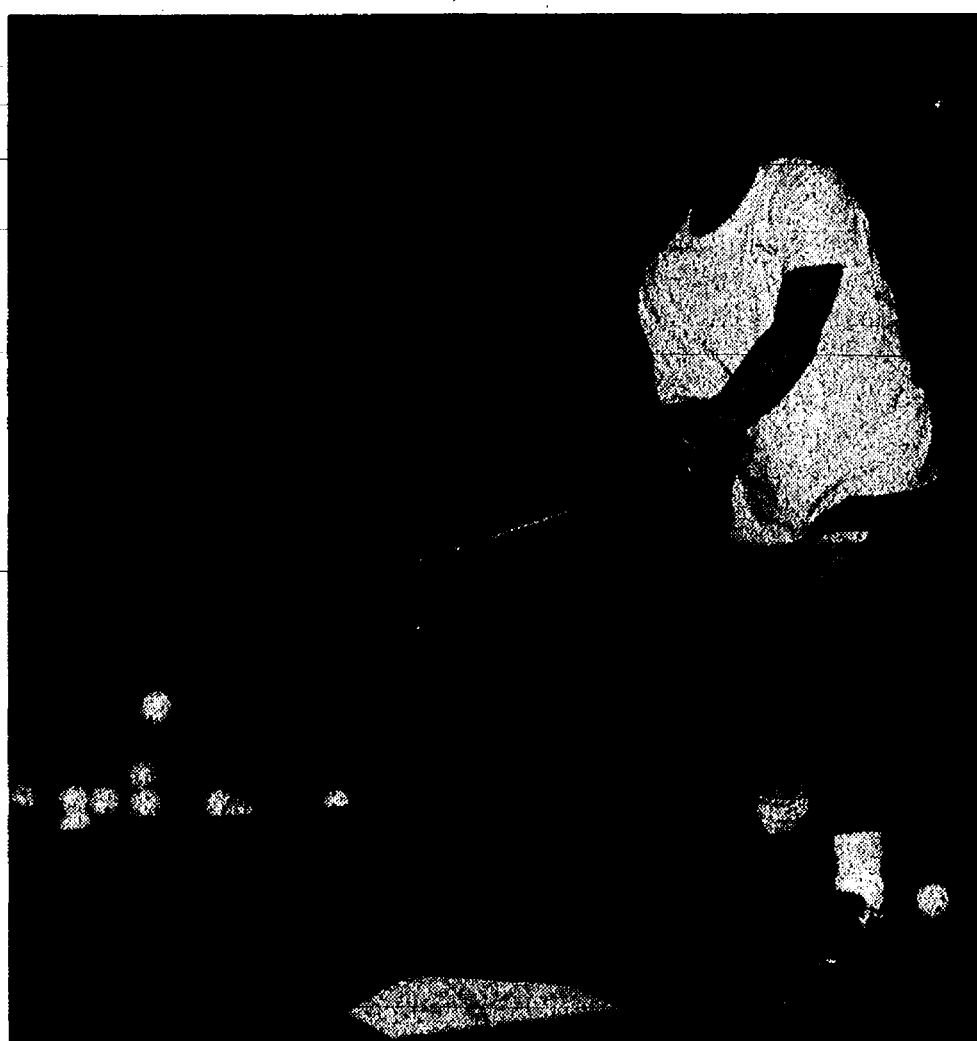

The Bulldogs do appear to be strong behind the plate. Taylor returns as Welton's top receiver while senior Tucker Steele backs him up.

The infield is still a little questionable depending on what happens to the missing players. Rindie and senior Kelly Beard will see time at first base, and senior shortstop Kerry Plank has been one of the highlights of the early season. Juniors Rick Clouse and Jason Adams are battling for the second base job and Perry had a lock on third base until his injury. Grau and Clem could see time at the hot corner.

Welton is loaded with potential outfielders, including sophomore Chris Dunham, senior Rick Westcott, Steele, Beard, and Clem.

Plank has been swinging the best bat of the early season, Welton said. "He's hitting well, his arm is stronger than last year, and he looks refreshed after a strenuous basketball season," Welton said.

Plank and Rindie will likely hit third or fourth. The rest of the line-up, however, probably won't be known until after the team comes back from its spring training trip to Florida.

ROB CLEM takes a turn hitting whiffle balls during early-season practice. Clem will be one of coach Wayne Welton's top two pitchers this season.

"I know Kerry and Jake will hit and with a full team we potentially have more power than we've had in a number of years," Welton said.

"Without those other players, however, we'll probably be slower than we have been in a long time and we might have to play for the big inning more often."

Tecumseh and Saline appear to be the teams to beat in the league, Welton said. Milan, Dexter, and Pinckney should also be competitive and Lincoln always has outstanding athletes, he said.

"I think we can compete with any of them if we don't suffer any more setbacks," Welton said.

"We have a veteran team with 11 players back, including eight seniors."

Monti, Sprint Medley Team Win at Siena

Chelsea Bulldogs girls track team earned medals in five events at the 32-team Siena Heights Shamrock Invitational last Saturday.

The Bulldogs placed first in two events. Lisa Monti won the 1600 run in 5:18.9, with a strong, evenly-paced race, according to coach Bill Bainton. The sprint medley team also won with a time of 4:38. Laura Paton led off in the 400 and put Chelsea in the lead. Leah Hadley and Theresa Royce added to the lead on the 200 legs, and Monti finished it off with a 2:33 in the 800 leg.

There were other placers as well. Royce took fifth place in the long jump at 14' 5".

The 800 relay team of Hadley, Amanda Nimke, Jessica Holton, and Paton finished fifth in 2:00.5.

The 3200 relay of Sarah Brosnan, Sarah Henry, Beth Bell, and Tracey Wales placed fourth in 11:13.0.

"I think we made an outstanding showing for so early in the season," Bainton said.

The meet featured teams from southern Michigan and Ohio.

Royce, Terpstra Are Pillars Of Chelsea Boys Track Team

Chelsea Bulldogs boys track team will feature two of the strongest field events performers in the area this season.

Beyond junior Jon Royce in the high jump and junior Mike Terpstra in the shot put and discus, the team is largely untested and is extremely young.

"Our goal this season is simply to be competitive," said head coach Pat Clarke, who joins assistant Roger Cox as the team's new coaches.

"The Southeastern Conference is one of the toughest track leagues in the state. We'll be sort of the midgets of the league."

Nevertheless, if Royce ever loses it will be an upset. Royce, last year's state high jump champion, set a new school record in his first attempt this season, at Siena Heights College last Saturday. His new record is 6' 8". He has a goal of 6' 10" this season, while Terpstra would like to hit 50' in the shotput.

"If they reach those goals, we'll all be tremendously happy," Clarke said. Royce is also working on the hurdles, a new event for him and one of the toughest of track events.

Senior Joe Blough is Clarke's top distance runner and senior Hans Kernitz is the team's top long jumper and sprinter. Senior Martin Cheng is one of the best hurdlers and can compete in any running event from the 800 on down.

Senior Jim Hassett, Clarke said, can literally compete in any track event, from hurdles to pole vault. He'll be filling in where he's needed.

Other distance runners include sophomores Justin White, Tobin Strong, Dan Zatkovich, Jody Shaw and Scott Postiff, freshman Jim Bennett and Chris Leatham, and junior Jim Robinson.

Clarke said the standout teams of the SEC should be Lincoln, Milan, and defending champion Pinckney.

Royce Breaks Own High Jump Record In First Competition

Several members of the Chelsea Bulldogs boys track team placed in a 32-team invitational at Siena Heights College last Saturday.

Junior Jon Royce set a meet record and a new school record in the high jump with a leap of 6' 8" to take first place.

Junior Mike Terpstra placed second in the shot put at 47' 2", while teammate David Beeman placed eighth at 40' 2".

In the 1600 run, senior Joe Blough placed 10th in 4:56.8.

Senior exchange student Raduane Farr placed 14th in the long jump at 17' 5".

The 800 relay team of Mike Reese, Martin Cheng, Farr, and Royce placed 12th in 1:43.3.

Lisa Unterbrink Pitching for Columbus College

Former Chelsea High school student Lisa Unterbrink is pitching for the Columbus (Ga.) Lady Cougars softball team this spring.

Unterbrink recently pitched 14 innings in a double-header against Kennesaw State College, lost the first game, 3-1, won the second game, 2-1, and gave up only one earned run.

"Lisa did everything we could have possibly asked her to do," said her coach, Larry Keyes.

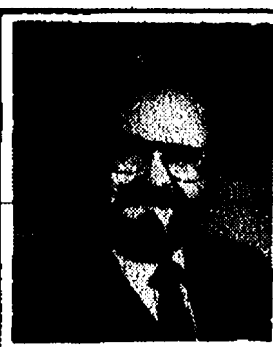

In the first game, Unterbrink had a 1-0 lead going into the seventh before a two-base error in centerfield ruined her effort.

Unterbrink is a sophomore.

PARENTS AND FRIENDS of the Chelsea Bulldogs baseball team helped erect the outfield fence last Saturday morning and afternoon at the field. The Bulldogs head off to Florida this week-end for their annual spring training trip.

JOEL KRICHBAUM of Chelsea took first place in the master division of whitetail heads at the state taxidermy competition March 14-17 in Grand Rapids. Krichbaum is the "son" of Jim & Son Taxidermy on Waltrous Rd. Krichbaum's work actually involved parts of two deer and took 40 hours worth of work. The deer has its eyes focused on a butterfly sitting on its nose, which Joel created out of plastic and pipe cleaners. The master division is the highest division and Krichbaum has finished in the top three in each of the last three years. He plans to take his mount to national competition. Joel, a 1981 Chelsea High school graduate, has been helping his dad out since he was 10 and has been a full-time taxidermist since his graduation. Jim, incidentally, took second and third in two fish categories at state competition.

Tornado Spawning Weather Is Arriving

Severe weather information, including tornado and lightning safety rules, will be presented for citizens within Washtenaw county at three training meetings sponsored by the Office of Emergency Management and other agencies during the coming weeks.

Although most everyone knows that the snow and ice is probably not gone for the year, early signs of spring-like weather are beginning to appear.

Tornado-Time

Tornadoes generally occur in the Michigan area, beginning in early spring through mid- to late-fall.

Whether or not a tornado develops depends on the shape of the cold front at the time.

After forming, tornadoes usually travel 25-40 miles per hour, and normally move from the southwest to the northeast.

Huron Meadows Metropark Golf Course Now Open

The 18-hole golf course at Huron Meadows Metropark south of Brighton in Livingston county covers 6,647 yards with a par of 72.

The course is now open (weather permitting).

Hours are (when weather and frost conditions permit) 7 a.m. to dusk daily, with earlier hours on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. Course hours will be extended as the daylight increases.

Golfers must provide their own equipment; however, power carts, hand carts and a limited line of golf accessories are available at the Golf Starter Building. For additional information, persons should contact Huron Meadows Metropark, phone 231-4084 or 1-800-23-GOLF-4 (toll-free).

Junior (17 years of age and under) and Senior Citizen golf rates are available weekdays only (except holidays).

This site also has a driving range. Food service is available at the Snack Bar at the Golf Starter Building.

Persons travelling north or south along US-23 near Brighton can reach Huron Meadows by taking the Silver Lake Rd. Exit west to Whitmore Lake Rd., south 1/8 mile to Winans Lake Rd., then west 1/2 mile to Rickett Rd., then travel north 1 1/4 miles to Hammett Rd.

A 1991 Vehicle Entry Permit is required (annual: regular - $10, senior citizen - $5; or daily $2).

The first strike by a permanent union was in 1792 by an organization of Philadelphia journeymen cordwainers, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication. The cordwainers protested against a reduction in wages.

Brighton Hospital's Programs Focus On Intervention

During April Brighton Hospital will host two free community programs aimed at helping the family and friends of chemically dependent people.

The first program, on Tuesday, April 2, focuses on how family members, friends, and employers can confront and help a chemically dependent person. The title of this evening's lecture is: "Intervention: The Direct Approach to Treatment and Recovery." Brian Duguay, the hospital's Intervention Specialist, is the featured speaker.

According to Duguay, the family and friends of someone who is abusing alcohol and other drugs realize that they need to take some action but are not sure how to begin. In an intervention the group confronts the individual with the reality of his or her drinking or drug use in a factual, concerned, and non-judgmental manner.

In most cases, says Duguay, the person intervened upon will seek treatment. Another important result is that the individual's family and friends have begun to help themselves by taking some action toward resolving the problem.

The second session will take place on Tuesday evening, April 16. The topic of this lecture is "Adult Children of Alcoholics: Breaking the Cycle."

The April 16 program, part of a series conducted at the hospital by Livingston Counseling and Assessment Services and the Women's Resource Center, presents information on addiction and breaking the cycle of alcoholism and other types of drug problems. It is a special effort to reach people who are in relationships with chemically dependent people, who were raised in chemically dependent homes, or who are themselves chemically dependent.

Both programs begin at 7 p.m. in the Brighton Hospital chapel. Reservations are not required. Brighton Hospital is located on E. Grand River, just off exit 151 of the I-96 expressway.

For additional information about these programs, contact the hospital's Community Relations Department weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at (313) 227-1211, ext. 276.

Animal Agriculture Plan Gets Boost From Gov. Engler

A Michigan Farm Bureau commodity specialist said that the livestock industry is pleased that Governor Engler has committed to totally funding the $87 million Animal Agriculture Initiative over a one-year period rather than the originally proposed four-year time span.

"The nice thing about the speed-up in funding is that it will almost guarantee that all parts and facets of the project will be completed on time and on schedule," said Kevin Kirk of Michigan Farm Bureau's Commodity Activities and Research Division. "The one-year funding could also save up to $10 million off the final tab for the project."

Kirk said the Animal Agriculture Initiative is designed to revitalize the state's livestock industry by financing research and teaching positions, and building and renovating livestock facilities at Michigan State University. "This investment will not only boost our animal agriculture industry," he said, "it will generate additional jobs and income from the processing and distribution industries and produce over $825 million a year in direct and indirect value for the Michigan economy."

SARAH GALILEY

Free Methodist Speaker Will Show Passover Elements

Chelsea Free Methodist church will welcome Sarah Galiley, associate of Shema Yisrael of Southfield in presenting "Messiah in the Passover" on Thursday, March 28 at 7 p.m.

The demonstration illustrates the central theme, "Christ the Lamb of God Who takes away the sin of the world." During this informative presentation, the elements of a traditional Passover Seder are displayed. The historic and spiritual significance of each item is explained, climaxing with the explanation of Communion as Jesus celebrated it with His disciples at the Last Supper.

Easter services at the Chelsea Free Methodist church will begin at 8:30 a.m. with the early worship service. Breakfast will be served at 9:45 a.m. The second service will be at 11 a.m. At 6 p.m. the video, "The Resurrection of Christ" will be shown, a continuation of the series, "Surprised by Suffering," by Dr. R.C. Sproul. Everyone is welcome.

The church is located at 7865 Werkner Rd.

Christ Lives... and So Can We

He lives!
Oh, shout the glorious word,
And let it echo round the world
'Til every person will have heard!
Oh, tell them, "Christ is risen,"
His victory o'er the grave
Is theirs... it's yours! it's mine! In him
We live!

Deputies Report Crashes

A car-tree crash reported at 9:15 p.m. Saturday, March 16, on North Territorial Rd., just east of Scully Rd., resulted in serious injuries to a Detroit husband and wife.

Deputy Stan Yates reported the vehicle in which they rode was eastbound on North Territorial, when it went off the south shoulder, continued on the grass, struck a "no passing" sign and several small trees, then collided with a large tree, before coming to rest.

Both victims were transported to University of Michigan Hospital by Huron Valley Ambulance.

Deputy Deacons investigated a crash reported at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday, March 12, on Dexter Town Hall Rd., just south of Stinchfield Woods Rd.

Deacons explained in his report of the incident, the first vehicle had pulled out of a driveway, making a wide turn, when it was struck by another auto, which was traveling south and tried to avoid the first car but was unable to.

Due to a curve in the road, the driver of the first vehicle was prevented from seeing the second auto.

The second vehicle struck a tree after a collision with the other car.

The driver of the second auto was injured in the crash and transported to Chelsea Community Hospital by the Livingston County Ambulance.

Patricia Lorraine Botti of Westland was unable to avoid a deer which ran suddenly in the path of the vehicle she drove on Waterloo Rd. at Cassidy, about 5:50 p.m. Friday, March 15.

Deputy George McAllister investigated the incident.

Two drivers were seriously injured in a crash reported on southbound M-52, near the I-94 entrance ramp, at 3:25 p.m. Sunday, March 10.

Both victims, James Patrick Thompson of Hazel Park and Manchester resident Deanna Lynn Hayden, were transported to University of Michigan Hospital by HVA.

Deputy McAllister noted in his report the first driver was traveling south on M-52, getting ready to turn onto the eastbound I-94 entrance ramp and did not observe the second vehicle, as he made a turn, striking the other auto.

A car-deer crash was reported on North Territorial, west of Dexter-Pinckney Rd., at 6 p.m. Tuesday, March 12.

Deputy Lanny Dunigan was dispatched to investigate the incident, and reported a Brighton motorist, Daniel David Luria, was unable to avoid striking the animal as it ran across North Territorial Rd.

Deputy Steve Platt investigated a two-vehicle crash reported on S. Fletcher Rd., south of Jackson Rd., at 8 a.m. Friday, March 15.

At a curve in the road, a Recyclers

Transport truck's trailer was left of center and struck the front fender of an automobile.

Deputies Marshall and Pickett were dispatched to investigate a report received at 8:40 p.m. Thursday, March 14, regarding a car-deer collision.

David Louis Esch of Ann Arbor was unable to avoid striking and killing the deer.

Rights Act Coming Closer to Approval

With the recent introduction of House legislation, Congress is moving closer to approval of a Private Property Rights Act, according to Al Almy, director of public affairs for Michigan Farm Bureau. He said the measures are designed to lessen the impact that federal regulations have on the use and value of private property.

"Farmers are being faced with a

'taking' of their property as a result of wetlands regulations," he said. "We have also had agricultural property in the Upper Peninsula impacted by wilderness designations, and the pesticide labeling requirements for endangered species have affected certain areas of northwest Michigan."

Almy said the Private Property Rights Act would apply only to federal agencies.

SHARING THE ROAD SAFELY

By Richard H. Austin
Michigan Secretary of State
Q: A child age 1 to 4 years old riding in the BACK SEAT of a car: (check for answer at end of article)

a. is not required to be in a safety belt or approved child safety seat.

b. must be held by an adult.

c. must be correctly fastened in a safety belt or approved child safety seat.

When I drive through Michigan as Secretary of State, I am always surprised to see young children standing in the front seat or playing in the back of a car or minivan without the protective benefits of a child safety seat or safety belt. Children are our most precious cargo. Buckling a child in a safety seat or safety belt takes so little time, but has the potential to do so much. In a very brief and unexpected moment a young life can be saved.

Every year, motor vehicle crashes are the number one killer and crippler of children in the United States. Even more astounding is the fact that nationally between 1978 and 1989, approximately 12,000 children under age five were killed in traffic crashes and more than 600,000 were injured, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA). These numbers mean that motor vehicle crashes cause more injuries and deaths of young children than do the seven most common childhood diseases combined.

It is so easy for us as parents and caregivers to save many of these precious young lives and reduce the injuries associated with motor vehicle crashes. Very simply, child safety seats and safety belts have the potential, when used correctly, to prevent deaths by 71 percent and injuries by 67 percent, according to NHTSA.

I urge anyone who drives young children to serve as role models and ensure everyone is properly buckled up. That snap of the buckle can do so much. Plus, it is our law.

Since 1982, Michigan law has required that all children under age one be correctly buckled in an approved safety seat when riding in a motor vehicle. Children ages one to four must be in an approved safety seat when riding in the front seat, however, when riding in the back, they must be protected by an approved safety seat or safety belt.

We know that use of child safety seats and safety belts has increased since the law passed. Research shows us this. But still, according to a 1990 survey by the University of Michigan Transportation Research Institute, while safety seat and belt use is approximately 78.4 percent for all children up to age 3, only 39.3 percent of children ages 4 to 15 buckle up.

These older children need and deserve protection, too. And they will soon have it with implementation of Public Act 90 of 1990, which requires all children ages 4 to 16 to wear a safety belt wherever they ride in a motor vehicle. While all 50 states and the District of Columbia have child passenger safety laws, beginning April 1, 1991, Michigan's law will be among the strongest.

There is no better time to celebrate this new law than during National Child Passenger Safety Awareness Week, Feb. 10-16. Throughout Michigan and the nation, special awareness activities and events will be held to encourage parents and caretakers to correctly buckle all young children.

The simple snap of the buckle takes a moment of time for everyone, but can save a lifetime of memories.

Answer to question:

c. In Michigan, all children ages 1 to 4 riding in the back seat of a motor vehicle must be correctly fastened in a safety belt or an approved child safety seat. It's the law.

PAT PAGELS is opening a new store called Kits N Crafts in the former Chelsea Office Supply building on S. Main St. Here Pagels shows off her first quilt. It won her a blue ribbon at a local fair and began her long-time love of the crafts.

New Downtown Business Aims at Quilters, Cross Stitchers, Hobbyists

A new store geared toward people interested in quilting, counted cross stitch, knitting, crocheting and similar hobbies is scheduled to open Monday, April 1 downtown.

Pat Pagels, a licensed practical nurse on the University of Michigan Hospital I.V. Team, and a previous owner of the Log Cabin Restaurant, is the sole proprietor and employee of Kits N Crafts, located in the former home of Chelsea Office Supply and Dayspring Gifts on S. Main St.

"It's the kind of thing I've always dreamed of doing," Pagels says. "I've always wanted to do all those crafty things and make a business out of it."

Kits N Crafts will be primarily a retail store carrying DMC yarns, colored threads, craft patterns, bolts of 100 percent cotton fabric, photo albums, scissors, and various other supplies. However she also plans to hold evening crafts classes in the various products she sells. She's also likely to branch into quilting supplies and classes, sewing machine repair, and other sidelines.

"People are telling me they're are dying to see this store open," Pagels says.

"If they are as sincere as they sound, it could be a real good business."

Pagels says she first got interested in crafts about 18 years ago when she made her first quilt, entered it in the Armada Fair in Richmond and won a blue ribbon. She's been a quilter ever since and has taken up other hobbies, most recently whittling.

"Whittling is a craft I think a lot of people would like to try but don't know how to start," Pagels says.

"It's something Chelsea hasn't had before."

Pagels also wants to sell kits geared toward the classes, with the materials and tools needed to complete a project. Classes will be offered in virtually any craft, provided there is enough interest. Stenciling and sweatshirt painting could also be covered. Pagels said she would find experts willing to teach. She has already been in touch with a whittler.

TEN EASTER EGGS were marked for special prizes and the children who found them last Saturday won Easter baskets, provided by Harold Allen of Chelsea. Normally there are two eggs for each age group but because the pre-school turnout was so large, a little last-minute rearranging had to take place. Winners, above, are, from

Baha'is Celebrate Their New Year

Chelsea area Baha'is and friends joined with the Jackson Baha'i community in a celebration of the Baha'i New Year on Wednesday, March 20 at the Faith in Action Building.

Festivities began with a special NawRuz (New Year) prayer offered by Alexandra Rivera of Jackson. After the pot-luck dinner, Shanti Vadamudi of Lyndon township presented a brief talk on the fundamental principles of the Baha'i Faith. Shanti explained that the Baha'i Faith centers around the oneness of God, the oneness of His Prophets, and the Unity of Mankind. She noted that the Baha'is had been fasting from sunrise to sundown for the previous 19 days, and that the NawRuz feast marked the end of the fast and the beginning of the Baha'i year, 148 Baha'i Era.

Entertainment for the evening included a newsreel featuring the growth of the concept of the unity of mankind and the Baha'is contribution to this concept from Mongolia to rural South Carolina. The video emphasized the underlying oneness of religion, also.

The celebration was concluded with a period of fellowship.

REV. BOB SEZ:

REMEMBER!

Heavy meat-eating causes cancers, diabetes, ulcers, kidney—and gall-stones, asthma, and much more. Meat-eating contaminates and wastes our water supply. Medi-bating causes erosion of topsoil, at the rate of 4 million acres a year; 75% already gone. Meat-eating causes loss of forests, at rate of 1 acre every 8 seconds. 1 acre farmland will produce 20 tons potatoes; or 25 tons tomatoes; or 30 tons celery; or 10 tons apples; or 15 tons carrots; or 5 tons beans; but only 250 POUNDS beef.

THIS IS MY LAST GUMMI!
So, Good-bye, and God Bless!

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, March 18, were Redding, Satterthwaite, Feeney, Eisenbeiser, Dising, McCalla, superintendent Piasecki, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Stielstra, Benedict, Wescott, assistant principal Rossi, community education director Rogers, curriculum director Bissell, special education director DeYoung, athletic director Welton, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by vice-president Satterthwaite.

Entered as official communications were (1) notification from the University of Michigan that Chelsea High school has been awarded accreditation for 1990-91; (2) notification that board president Anne Comeau will receive the Award of Distinction at MASB's annual regional meeting on Tuesday, March 19.

Community education director Jackie Rogers reviewed with the board her reports on building use statistics and the status of a summer school program. She reported that 488 building-use permits were processed from August, 1990, through March, 1991, and that building use of all schools after the normal school day totaled 17,163 hours. The summer school program, which would serve the constituency of the western Washtenaw county school districts, would be a pilot program evaluated annually. Mr. Rossi would serve as principal, the Chelsea curriculum would be utilized, and community education would handle marketing and enrollment procedure. This will be an action item at the next board meeting.

Debbie Osborne, who recently initiated a petition in support of a soccer program for the district, was present at the meeting. She compared her cost figures with those recently submitted by athletic director Welton, and lengthy discussion was held by other audience members on the issues of cost and facilities. The superintendent and board expressed appreciation for the community members' input, and advised that a soccer program has been under consideration on an ongoing basis. The three most important factors affecting a decision are the cost of the program, the availability of facilities, and the effects upon existing sports programs. The soccer fans were advised that until such time as the district makes this sport available, they could operate as a club.

In action items, the board

- appointed the auditing firm of Curtis, Bailey, Exelby and Sposito to conduct the 1990-91 audit

- approved the hiring of the MASB to perform an analysis of current board policies

- changed the starting time of board meetings from 8 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., effective with the April 15 meeting

- approved the appointment of Fred Mills as election administrator for the June 10 Annual School Election.

The board convened in executive session to discuss personnel and discipline matters at 9:30 p.m., reconvened in public session at 10:56 p.m., and adjourned at 10:57 p.m.
