JASON GRAMMATICO doesn't seem to be too thrilled as speech-language consultant Jane-Rose asks him to identify objects during kindergarten screening at North Elementary school last week. The Chelsea School District held its annual screening, designed primarily to help parents decide whether their child is ready for kindergarten. The district will have about 190 kindergarten students this fall, about the same number as this year.

Gina's Owner, Rene Papo, Plan To Open Chinese Restaurant Here

Chelsea-area residents who like Chinese food may not have to drive all the way to Ann Arbor to get it by the end of the year.

Gina Pantely, owner of Gina's Cafe, and Rene Papo, whose Arcus Corporation owns Chelsea Shopping Center where the cafe is located, plan to enter a joint venture to bring a Chinese restaurant to the village.

Tentatively called "The Chinese Place," the new restaurant would be located next to the cafe in space occupied by Chelsea Community Hospital. The hospital staff plans to move to Papo's new office complex opposite Polly's Market on Old US-12 once the complex is finished. Initial site work has been completed and footings have been poured.

Pantely, who would be the working partner, said the only thing that will kill the project is if she can't find the right Chinese chef.

"I won't do it if I can't get the right person," she said.

"However, we're willing to pay some bucks for the right person," she said she has begun her search.

Pantely said the restaurant would seat about 25 people but would be heavily oriented to carryout business. She plans to have a delivery service.

"I think Chelsea is ready for this kind of restaurant, don't you?" Pantely said.

Pantely said she'd like to model the restaurant after Ann Arbor's Middle Kingdom, which she said is her favorite Chinese restaurant in the area. It would feature all fresh ingredients. The menu, she said, would be ample but patrons wouldn't be overwhelmed by a five-page menu typical of some restaurants.

Pantely may also serve liquor or beer and wine, but hasn't made a final decision. She said she may purchase one license to handle both The Chinese Place and Gina's Cafe if it turns out either business is hurt by not serving alcohol. Earlier this year, Pantely said she might purchase a license for Gina's Cafe after village council allowed a license to be transferred for The Common Grille, which is under construction downtown.

The space next to Gina's Cafe also has room for another business or two, and Pantely said she wants to open a frozen yogurt store, probably one of the franchise operations. However, she hasn't selected a final company.

She has decided, however, that she likes the European style of frozen yogurt. She also wants to offer at least four kinds of no-fat, sugar-free yogurt.

Planners Schedule Hearing on Home Occupation Ordinance

Chelsea Village Planning Commission will hold a public hearing next month on a new home occupations ordinance.

The ordinance, which would update and expand the current ordinance, is designed to regulate businesses residents run out of their homes.

The village has had several cases in recent years in which it has been in dispute with a business owner over interpretation of the ordinance. The most recent case involved Royalty Limousine Service, which was run out of a home on Flanders St. That case is still in the courts.

The hearing will be Tuesday, May 21.

The commission met for their regular meeting Tuesday, April 16 at Sylvan Town Hall.

Two items involving the Laundry Room next to Tower Mart were discussed.

Owner Tom Elsele was not permitted to delete landscaping plans from his approved site plans. The landscaping involved the area between his lot and Chelsea Industries Inc. lot.

The other matter dealt with storm-water run-off. Chelsea Industries apparently has water pooling in its parking lot as a result of the new parking lot, which may have been constructed too high to permit the normal flows. Elsele was asked to consult an engineer and come up with a plan to handle the problem.

Finally, the commission recommended that Chelsea resident Tim Eder be named to take the place of Marilyn Guenther. Village council was scheduled to act on the recommendation last night.

Village Power To Be Interrupted Sunday Morning

Village electrical power will be temporarily turned off on Sunday, April 28 from 2 a.m. to 6 a.m.

According to the village, the power interruption is necessary due to work planned by Consumers Power Co.

The power will not be interrupted if weather conditions will not permit the work to be performed.

School District Faces Big Revenue Losses From New Tax Freeze

Chelsea School District and other out-of-formula districts were given a one-year reprieve after the state legislature voted last week to delay a property tax freeze until next year.

Chelsea School District faced the prospect of losing $787,000 in revenues for the 1991-92 school year if the first version of the property tax freeze had passed the House of Representatives. The senate voted 33-0 to freeze assessments two years at 1990 levels, but pressure by school districts and other governmental agencies, who had already worked out their budgets, persuaded legislators to delay the freeze.

The compromise version of the bill will freeze assessments in 1992 at 1991 levels. In addition, in 1992 voters will be asked to decide whether a permanent yearly cap of five percent should be put on the rise in property tax assessments. Specifically, assessments could rise five percent, or the rate of inflation, whatever is less. If voters approve the cap, it would amend the state constitution.

The bill also would require that when a house is sold it is automatically reassessed at 50 percent of its sale price.

The bill does not have a provision to reimburse school districts or any other taxing authorities for loss of revenue. However, it's likely, according to the Michigan Association of School Administrators, that in formula districts (those that depend heavily on state aid) will not lose any money because they are guaranteed a certain level of funding per student by the state.

According to Chelsea assistant superintendent Fred Mills, Chelsea stands to lose between $600,000 and $1 million for the 1992-93 school year.

"It's kind of hard to guess at this point because we don't know what will happen with the consumer price index," Mills said.

Another unknown is the level of new construction in the district, which could affect the funding.

The 136 out-of-formula districts state-wide stand to lose about $100 million to the bill. Mills said it's not likely the state will be able to find that much money to reimburse the districts.

Mills also said it's likely voters will be asked to approve additional operating millage next year if the district faces heavy losses.

"We haven't directed administrators to start making cuts," Mills said.

"But what we may do is have them start looking at their 1992-93 budgets this November so they can take into account the possibilities."

The effect on the Chelsea district's proposed bond issue for renovations and building would be minimal, Mills said, because a five percent rise in assessments after the second year was assumed in debt retirement tables.

Chelsea School District's operating expenses have increased about 7-8 percent annually over the last decade, Mills said. Some of that is due to annual employee raises, but much of it, Mills said, is due to student population growth.

"I think what's going to happen is 20 years from now people are going to look back and see that what happened from 1991 to 1993 set the tone for public education in Michigan for the next 20 years," Mills said.

"I think we're at a critical point."

Office Complex Slated for Completion in Next Three Months

Developer Rene Papo said work should continue on his new office complex between Chelsea Community Hospital and Old US-12 next week.

The new facility, which Papo said will house physicians as well as the hospital's billing department, should be completed in about three months. The billing office is now at Chelsea Shopping Center, another Papo development. That space is scheduled to become the site of a Chinese restaurant and a frozen yogurt store.

In other developments, Papo said he and the village are close to deciding the best way to extend water and sewer lines to a site immediately east of the future office complex. That site is scheduled to be developed into single-family and multiple housing, as well as a daycare center and low-cost housing for senior citizens.

"I want to start building some homes there," Papo said. He said single-family homes would start out in the $100,000 to $120,000 range.

Two other projects are still under investigation, including a golf course on land around Pierce Lake and a mobile home complex near Hatch Stamping Co. off Cavanaugh Lake Rd., opposite the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home.

Papo said he still doesn't know whether the mobile home park is economically feasible. The golf course project is dependent upon another developer.

Another Papo project may be in the works for this year. He said he wants to split a 20-acre parcel behind Schumm's Restaurant on M-52 into six or seven lots. He said three businesses, including a fast-food restaurant, car wash, and equipment rental company have all expressed interest in locating there. He said he would reserve six or seven acres for a motel.

The parcel is zoned for highway access commercial businesses.

Seven CHS Students Qualify for State Forensics Competition

Seven members of the Chelsea High School forensics team have qualified for state competition May 3-4 at Western Michigan University.

To qualify, a student had to place in the top four at the regional championships last Saturday in Battle Creek.

Chelsea had two district champions. Rob Coelius won in prose for "Lost at C," a humorous piece about high school algebra. Becky Pryor won in poetry 9-10 with assorted poems on the women's movement.

Chelsea had three second places. Megan Stielstra competed in informative 9-10 on "Umbrellas." Brett Salamin presented poetry by David Edder, and Chris Craig, Christine Dunlap, Rob Jaques, Matt Peckham, and Matt Carlson performed the "Fantasticks."

Third places went to Jane Pacheco in broadcasting and Carey Wallace in extemporaneous speaking.

Howie Brooks is an alternate in impromptu speaking.

Thirty-six schools competed at the regionals. The top four in each of 14 events move on to the state.

The annual Chelsea forensics showcase will be held next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the high school.

Work Scheduled To Start on Office For Sec'y of State

Work was scheduled to begin this week on the new Secretary of State branch office at Village Plaza.

Plaza developer Mike Kennedy said the state plans to be moved into its new quarters by June 1.

Mike Whelan, builder of Bridgetown Condominiums, is scheduled to do the work, Kennedy said. The office will be located at the back of the building, opposite Dance Arts Academy and will use about 1,500 square feet.

The state vacated its downtown branch office this winter, saying it needed more space with handicap accessibility.

CUB SCOUT PACK 455 at South Elementary school held Scouting for Food last Saturday to benefit Faith in Action and Chelsea Social Services. The scouts collected 75 boxes of food, collected primarily from village residents. Some of the scouts who worked on the project

THREE CHELSEA SOLDIERS who recently returned from the Persian Gulf were honored Saturday morning by the Chelsea Support Group. From left, Pvt. Jeff Latimer, Spec. Tyler Lewis, and Sgt. Jared Bradley each received a plaque in appreciation of his military service during Operation Desert Storm. All three young men are Chelsea High school graduates.

Wednesday, April 29, 1987—

Three students from Beach Middle school in Chelsea were named local winners in the 18th annual America & Me Essay Contest, sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance Group. The three students, who earned the first, second and third-place awards for their school were Kate Dilworth, first; Kerry Plank, second; and Laurie Honbaum, third. All three received award certificates for their achievement. As the school's first-place winner, Kate Dilworth's name would also be engraved on a plaque for permanent display in the school.

Chelsea girls track team made a solid showing, scoring 79 points to finish fourth in the eight-team Mason Kiwanis Invitational. Mason won with 112 points, St. Johns was second with 99, followed closely by Jackson County Western with 93½. Considering the cold, windy night, Chelsea did well in the running events, said coach Bill Bainton. Chelsea scored in all but one event and won medals in five.

Steve Martin, a 7th grade student at Beach Middle school, was awarded the Ricky Stegath Award for the Most Improved Player from the Ann Arbor Amateur Hockey Association. He received the award at the Championship Hockey Game for the Peeewe Division at Veterans Ice Arena.

A Grass Lake man who was involved in a high speed chase with Chelsea police crashed his car in Hamburg township about an hour after he eluded the Chelsea officer. According to Chelsea police, Michael Joseph Hurst, 20, of Grass Lake, led officer David Dettling on a chase at speeds up to 110 miles per hour after Dettling attempted to stop the vehicle due to a broken lens on one of the rear lights. Police said Hurst tried to turn onto Roepke Rd. at high speed and the car spun out. He then maneuvered onto North Territorial Rd., turning in front of Dettling's cruiser, forcing Dettling to take "evasive action" to avoid an accident. Dettling quit his pursuit. However, an hour later Hamburg Township Police reported a similar incident, in which a car went off the road, through some trees and into a creek. Dettling was asked to go the scene to see if it was the same vehicle. The driver, who was not hurt in the accident was wanted on drug charges and contempt of court charges, police said.

14 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, April 28, 1977—

Pitting their oratorical skills against contestants from six Michigan districts, members of the Chelsea High forensics team emerged from regional competition with two state championship qualifiers and three place-winners from a total of eight entries. Finished in the top three to qualify for the state championship were Julie Prohaska, 2nd, and Doug Foreman, 3rd. "Because our region is so strong, our state qualifiers have an excellent chance to place among the top six finalists in the state championships," coach William Coelius said.

Fred Mills, business manager of the Chelsea School District was elected president of Michigan School Business Officials a 550-member professional association, during the group's annual convention.

Emphasizing the need for community support of programs for the blind were three Chelsea Lions Club members who prominently displayed symbols reminding the public of White Cane Week. White Cane Week is observed annually throughout the state, and is a time when Lions Club members solicit funds to finance Leader Dog Schools and the purchase of white canes for the visually impaired. Chelsea Village President Don Wood joined Michigan Governor William Milliken in issuing a proclamation declaring White Cane Week.

An 18-year-old Chelsea youth was ticketed for a double violation of the traffic code when the car he was driving slammed into the side of a Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department patrol car, injuring two sheriff's deputies. The patrol car was on M-52 (Continued on page four)

Pentagon Targets Wurtsmith Among Bases for Closure
Federal officials announced the planned closure of Wurtsmith Air Force Base in Oscoda, despite efforts by Governor John Engler to urge White House Chief of Staff John Sununu and U. S. Secretary of Defense Richard Cheney to keep the base open and fully resourced because of its economic significance to the state.

The governor said he plans to continue working with Michigan's congressional delegation and federal officials to keep the base open. "I am very discouraged by today's announcement that Wurtsmith will be closed," Engler said. "The outstanding performance of the 379 Bombardment Wing from Wurtsmith during the Persian Gulf war demonstrated their importance to our national defense." Engler also said the base is "crucial" to the economic well-being of Oscoda.

Wurtsmith injects more than $119 million into the Oscoda community and employs over 700 civilians; is the only remaining active-duty installation and military medical facility in the Lower Peninsula and supports more than 5,000 jobs in Oscoda and Isco county.

The Department of Defense has initiated plans for several base closings in response to budget reductions.

Rep. Tom Alley (D-West Branch), whose district includes the Oscoda base, said he was extremely disappointed, but not surprised the base was slated for closure. The base has come close to shutting its doors before, leaving the community apprehensive before the release of each base closure list.

Alley said the continued threat has passed and it is time to start working toward the future, which will require a team effort between community, state and federal authorities. "I will be working with all agencies in an effort to resolve the resulting economic conflict in the area," he said. "There will be a solid effort to fill in any gaps left behind when the air force moves."

After expressing concern about the economic effects of closing the base, Alley said he will continue his efforts to make sure contamination around the base is cleaned up even if the base is closed. "The contamination will be there, with or without the base," he said. "Cleanup of that mess is imperative to the people of the area and the surrounding environment."

Engler expressed appreciation the Department of Defense plans to keep open and fully fund the Warren Tank Automotive Command plant. "TACOM employs over 5,000 civilians, 300 military personnel and over 500 temporary workers," Engler said.

Two More Mental Health Facilities Close

Two of the four mental health facilities which fell victims of state budget cuts, Ypsilanti's Regional Psychiatric Hospital and the York Woods Center, closed their doors recently.

Of the 235 patients at the Regional Hospital, 170 were transferred to six other facilities. Some 56 are entering community programs. Of the 42 children at York Woods, eight were transferred to other children's facilities, one to an adult hospital, and the rest to either their homes or foster or group homes.

York Woods employed about 100 persons; the Regional Hospital, 640. Most of them faced layoffs because of the closures, although officials in the Department of Mental Health were uncertain of how many retained jobs through the bumping process.

The Arnell Engstrom Children's Facility in Traverse City closed last month and the Oakdale Center in Lapeer is scheduled to shut down in September.

Bohlender-Jennings Engagement Told

John and Darla Bohlender of Chelsea have announced the engagement of their daughter, Tracy, to Edward Joseph Jennings, III, son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Joseph Jennings, II, of Clearwater, Fla.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Chelsea High school and Michigan State University. She is a certified public accountant with Ernst & Young in Chicago. Her fiancé is a graduate of St. Joseph's University, Philadelphia Pa., and Wake Forest University School of Law, Winston-Salem N.C. He is a tax manager with KPMG Peat Marwick in Chicago. A June 29 wedding is planned.

Virginia Watson Honored in Student Teacher Competition

Virginia (Ginger) Watson was selected as one of the 10 finalists in the Michigan Association of Teacher Educators (M.A.T.E.) Student Teacher of the Year competition and will be honored with other finalists with a reception held at EMU McKinney Student Union on Tuesday, April 30. Each of the 10 finalists will make a few comments concerning the support of those who helped them achieve this honor. A framed certificate will be awarded.

This competition is a program originating at CMU in Mt. Pleasant and is devoted to promoting the excellence of student teaching in the state of Michigan. Contestants were required to submit a completed questionnaire concerning teaching philosophy, a lesson plan, and a 30-minute VCR tape of the lesson.

Virginia taught at George Long Elementary school in Grass Lake last fall.

Winners Announced in Co-Op Preschool Raffle

Chelsea Childrens Co-operative Preschool held a fund-raising raffle, with drawing April 11 at 8 p.m. during a special meeting at the school located in St. Barnabas church on Old US-12.

The Rev. Jerold Beaumont drew the winning tickets.

First prize of a dinner and one night's stay for two at Weber's Inn was won by Robert Salts of Tecumseh.

Two second prizes, a $100 gift certificate at Polly's Market was won by Ann Schlenker of Chelsea; and a hand-made quilt was won by Mary Pierson of Chelsea.

Twelve third prizes were awarded. A handcarved wooden box from Maya Place was won by Jane Brooks of Chelsea. A clock radio from Heydlauff's was won by Cheri Norris of Chelsea. Gina's Cafe gift certificate was won by Dan Elliott of Chelsea. A bird feeder and seed from Chelsea Lumber Co., was won by Betty Prappas of Chelsea. Wolverine Food & Spirits' gift certificate was won by Sue White of Chelsea. A stuffed ballerina teddy bear from Dayspring Gifts was won by Doug Carson of Ann Arbor. Vogel's & Foster's gift certificate was won by Robert Ford of Chelsea. A musical picture frame from Winans Jewelry was won by Diane Nichols of Livonia. A one-year subscription to The Chelsea Standard was won by Mike Cavanaugh of Munith. A free haircut from trendsetter was won by Marjorie Beaumont of Chelsea. Country Rose gift certificate was won by Larry Doll of Chelsea.

Motivational prizes for Co-operative members included two tickets to The Purple Rose Theatre, gift certificates from Thompson's Pizzeria, Mike's Deli, Chart Hit Super Video and movie tickets from Briarwood movies and Fox Village Theatre.

Winning members include Matt and Rosemary Hanker, Bill and Beth Kalmbach, Chuck and Linda Koch, Dave and Wendy Reinhardt, Gary and Gayle Thompson.

Chelsea Childrens Co-op expressed their appreciation to all those who helped make the fund-raiser a success.

when the youth failed to stop at the stop sign at the end of the exit ramp. His vehicle struck the patrol car on the right side, which in turn left a four-foot trail of skid marks. The driver and a passenger in his car were not injured nor was a passenger in the patrol car. However, Deputy Richard Foster driver of the patrol car, suffered minor injuries, and his partner, Deputy Paul Wade, was transported to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, where he was admitted for treatment of serious injuries. The youth was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way, and for defective equipment after an examination of his vehicle by sheriff's deputies revealed the car had no brake control.

24 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, April 27, 1967—

It was an accident that only a woman could understand. As a young woman drove along Madison St. near Adams, her car rounded a curve, swerved out of control and crashed into a tree, demolishing the front of the vehicle. Was she intoxicated? Was the car defective? Had she fallen asleep at the wheel? Not at all. Actually, there was a decorated cake in the front seat, and as she rounded the curve the cake began to fall. She reached for it saved it, and WHAM!—hit the tree. There was no report on the condition of the cake after the accident, although the woman was not injured.

The Chelsea High track team defeated South Lyon to gain their first 1967 conference victory. "A head wind on the straight-away slowed times somewhat," Chelsea Coach Bert Kruse said. "Actually, the score was closer than we expected—South Lyon had improved in several events," Kruse commented.

Home Service Department of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. received a national award for its publication of a homemaking handbook which was being used by 1,000 home economics teachers in Michigan schools.

Many Chelsea area girls were among entrants in the 1967 County Spring Achievement held at Concordia Lutheran college and several were selected to participate in the Dress Revue at Greenfield Village County Fair. In the Young Miss category, Elinor Musolf was selected. Junior Miss participants from this area were Connie Orlowski and Karen Schafer. Senior Miss contestants would be Arlys Wiseman, Jeanene Hinderer, Jill Lantis and Charlene Powers.

34 Years Ago . . .

Wednesday, April 25, 1957—

A house trailer and attached utility room were completely destroyed by fire of undetermined origin. The trailer was the property of Albert Hafley. He and his wife and three small children made their home there. They lost all of their personal belongings. The family included a boy five years old and two girls, one and two years old, respectively. The fire was beyond control when it was discovered by neighbors. The Hafleys were not at home at the time.

Mrs. Clarie Nicholson Foster and her sister Laura Nicholson, both of Ann Arbor, were cut and brised in an automobile collision at the corner of Old US-12 and M-92. According to Police Department records, Mrs. Foster was driving west on Old US-12 and failed to notice the intersection. The other car involved in the collision was driven by Walter F. Bauer of Conlin road. He was not hurt. The impact threw both women out of their car which came to a halt as it struck logs placed across the parking lot of the root beer stand on the south side of the highway.

Glenn Schiller, 13 years old, taking advantage of spring vacation, went fishing in Letts Creek near the Methodist Home and came home with a wall-eyed pike which tipped the scales at 6½ pounds and measured 31 inches. He had told his mother, Mrs. Faye Schiller, that he saw the big fish the week before.

CHELSEA SOUTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL Ice Cream Social Committee has been busy planning this annual event. It will be held May 9 from 5:30 to 8 p.m. with a cake auction at 7 featuring Loren Heller. Next committee meeting will be April 24 at South school. Members of the

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Assoc. of Investors Corp.
Ralph L. Seger, Jr., President
NAIC Investor Advisory Service

Q. I attended a lecture on the stock market and the speaker spent a great deal of time mentioning investment objectives. I didn't really understand what he meant. My objective is to make money, and from all I've heard, investing in stocks is one of the best ways to make money.

A. In their training as brokers, salesmen are cautioned to guide investors into stocks which fit the objectives of the individual. That is another way of saying, don't guide a customer into a stock that is not appropriate to his or her circumstances. A widow who has $200,000 of life insurance and little prospect of any other income would have a much different investment objective than a person 32 years old with a good job and $25,000 to invest for the future.

Your investment objectives typically relate to what you value most. For example, you might value dividends more than the possible appreciation in the price of a stock in the future; or you might value the stability of a utility stock more than the volatility and growth potential of a high-tech computer stock. You might want a stock that has a record of increasing its dividend every year as compared to a company that pays a bigger dividend but one that hasn't changed in five years.

Mr. O'Hara and Mr. Seger welcome your questions and comments, but will answer them only through this column. Readers who send in questions on a general investment subject or on a corporation with broad investor interest and whose questions are used, will receive a complimentary one-year's subscription to the investment magazine, Better Investing. For a sample copy of Better Investing or information about investment clubs, write: Today's Investor, P.O. Box 220, Royal Oak 48068.

Manchester Man Is Sailor of the Day For Aircraft Carrier

Navy Fireman Thomas T. Tolen, son of James T. and Anita J. Tolen of 17533 Tolen Dr., Manchester, has been selected as Sailor of the Day for the aircraft carrier USS America, homeported in Norfolk, Va. Tolen was chosen from among all the sailors assigned to the command, and was cited for his outstanding performance of duty, proficiency, leadership, initiative, and military bearing. A 1989 graduate of Manchester High School, he joined the Navy in June 1989.

HEARING and vision tests were part of Chelsea School District's kindergarten screening process last week and here Lauren Hazlett has a chance to use the headphones while Judy Boughton, audiologist for the Washtenaw County Department of Human Services runs the test. The screening included five stations. The others were tests of conceptual skills, language skills, motor skills, and an interpretation center.

GEORGE PALMER, right, was presented the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea's President's Appreciation Award last Monday at the club's regular meeting. Past-President Ed Lewis, left, made the presentation after telling club members that Palmer, during 1989-90 "was the one single most valuable member of the club—as an advisor and counselor and friend."

Depression in Older Adults: When To Seek Help?

Loss is a normal part of growing older. "It occurs with the death of a spouse or having to give up a large home for a small apartment," says Dolores Hutchinson, a social worker in the Older Adult Service at the Center for Mental Health and Chemical Dependency, Ann Arbor. Some sadness over loss is natural for the older adult, but when it veers into depression, it can threaten his or her mental and physical health and disrupt long-standing relationships.

If sadness is normal, how can family members recognize when the older adult is depressed and needs professional help?

Signs of depression in the older adult include:

- Trouble eating or sleeping
- Lack of motivation
- Withdrawal from friends and activities

Feelings of guilt, inability to concentrate, suicidal thoughts

If left untreated, depression can lead to further damage. The older adult may stop eating or remain in bed for weeks at a time, causing malnutrition or muscle deterioration.

Encouraging older adults to stay physically and socially active is at the core of the treatment philosophy in the Older Adult Service at the Center for Mental Health and Chemical Dependency. The 20-bed Older Adult Service is the only inpatient psychiatric program for the elderly in Washtenaw county.

"Older adults are the fastest growing segment of the U.S. population. Their needs are different," says Hutchinson. "Many of our admissions are right on the heels of the death of a loved one. We see more women than men, partly because women outlive men and partly because they're more willing to get help than men. This is reflected in the rising number of suicide attempts by older men."

The physicians, psychiatric nurses, social workers and therapists specialize in treating older adults and work together to deliver care.

"Becoming involved with other people in groups is an important aspect of our program," says occupational therapist Jane Grimes. "Patients get dressed, come out of their rooms and join in activities like cooking, crafts, music and grief support."

Families play an important role in the treatment process at the Center. "We involve families from day one," notes Hutchinson. "We interview them at admission, encourage them to visit as much as possible and invite them to participate in family support groups. We also prepare them for the patient's discharge and discuss what follow-up care or home health care may be needed."

For patients who have "graduated" from the inpatient unit but still need care, the soon-to-open Transitional Day Hospital program will offer a structured daytime program, after which patients will return home each night.

Referrals to the Older Adult Service at the Center for Mental Health and Chemical Dependency can come from physicians, families, friends, clergy or older adults themselves. For more information, call (313) 572-5838.

Nature Events Slated At Hudson Mills Park

Two nature events will be held at Hudson Mills Metropark near Dexter.

"Birds, Buds and Blossoms," a program observing spring's effect on the trees, flowers, birds and other wildlife, will be held Sunday, April 28 at 2 p.m. Persons should meet in the parking lot at Oak Meadows picnic area.

"Moonlight Meditation's Walk," featuring the many things nature offers, will be held at the Activity Center on Sunday, April 28 at 8 p.m. You are welcome to bring a nature poem, quote or experience to share.

Most programs are "free," some may have a nominal charge. Advance registration and a vehicle entry permit are required. For information/registration, contact the Huron-Clinton Metroparks, phone 1-800-47-PARKS (toll-free).

'Fungus Fever' Attacks Morel Hunters in May

May is Michigan morel month. It may be a tongue-twister, but April showers and warm temperatures bring on Michigan's luscious morel mushroom crop.

Although last year's harvest was not as good as previous years because of a dry April, mushroom hunters are hopeful that this season will produce an abundant supply of morels. And so are tourism officials, since a good morel crop brings in thousands of visitors.

"About a half million people residing in and out of the state head for the Michigan north each year to hunt mushrooms," reports Peter Erickson, AAA Michigan Club Services director. "Hotel rooms, restaurants and shops all benefit from morel fever."

Many folks with morel-mania, especially from Ohio and Indiana, also stay overnight in Michigan campgrounds in their search for the elusive morel.

Black morels surface first, usually in late April or early May. White morels fruit about a week later, followed by giant morels.

Mushroom-hunters say the best spot to find morels is in the upper half of the Lower Peninsula, in woods near the base of hardwood trees and in hilly areas.

Experts advise the most important point to know about morel hunting is how to recognize false morels which could be poisonous. Inexperienced pickers should hunt with a knowledgeable guide.

When morel hunting, wear comfortable long-sleeve shirts and long pants to avoid insect bites and poisonous plants. Bring a paring knife to cut morel stems and a paper sack or basket to carry the mushrooms. It's

Michigan Lions White Cane Queen Selected

Eighteen-year-old Christine Gomoll of Rockwood has been selected the Lions of Michigan White Cane Queen for 1991. Christine was born with a rare eye condition, aniridia, or absence of the iris. At six months she was fitted with prescription sunglasses, and then specially designed corrective lenses. Christine graduated 19th in her Oscar A. Carlson High school class and was a member of the National Honor Society. She is now attending Western Michigan University and works at Student Services on campus. Christine enjoys many extracurricular activities, including singing, acting, jogging and helping others.

Christine will represent over 20,000 Michigan Lions as she travels throughout the state to attend various community events. She will act as a spokesperson for the visually impaired by making the public aware of the White Cane Law and Public Accommodation Laws.

The White Cane Law ensures safety to blind pedestrians by requiring motorists to take all necessary precautions when approaching a crosswalk. A blind pedestrian carrying a white cane or being led by a dog guide in harness has the right-of-way. Public Accommodation Laws state that a blind person with a dog guide in harness may not be refused entry to a public facility.

Governor John Engler has proclaimed April 26 through May 5 as "White Cane Week" in Michigan.

Chelsea Students On Dean's List At Kalamazoo

Two Chelsea students were on the Dean's List at Kalamazoo College for the winter quarter.

They are Allison L. Chasteen, a senior and daughter of Marilyn Chasteen, 21 Sycamore Dr., and Erich Hammer, son of Frank and Elizabeth Hammer, 521 East St.

The first use of the sliding wage scale was in 1885 by Pittsburgh iron workers, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

In 1891 the first prevailing wage law was passed in Kansas, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

Medical Emergency Calls Transfer Directly to HVA

As of April 22, all residents of Washtenaw county can dial 9-1-1 directly for police, fire and emergency medical help. All medical emergency calls will be transferred directly to Huron Valley Ambulance, the community ambulance service covering Washtenaw county and surrounding areas.

The new Enhanced 9-1-1 system automatically provides the calling party's telephone number and location to the rescuer. In addition to direct transfer of medical calls to HVA, E 9-1-1 allows HVA dispatchers to give their callers medical self-help information over the phone while an ambulance is enroute to them. E 9-1-1 system works equally well from either touch tone or rotary phones.

Thanks to HVA's Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) system, the ambulance service can use specific information about the caller's location. Examples include: directions, medical equipment on the scene (such as an apnea monitor), medical conditions or handicaps, and caution notes, such as the presence of an unfriendly dog. Washtenaw county residents are invited to call HVA at 971-4420 to register such information about their residence or business in case of a medical emergency. HVA also has 9-1-1 phone stickers available free of charge.

E 9-1-1 allows rescuers to call their callers back if disconnected and to find callers who cannot give their location due to injury, hysteria, communication problems or the presence of an intruder.

Inauguration of the new system brings Washtenaw county in line with surrounding counties, all of which have E 9-1-1. All municipalities within the county are participating. Previously, only Ann Arbor and Saline had limited 9-1-1 service. Residents of other municipalities had to remember to dial various seven-digit telephone numbers to summon emergency help.

Nature Walks Set By County Parks Rec Commission

Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission announces several upcoming nature walks with Parks Naturalist Matt Heumann.

Sunday, April 28 is entitled "Fishes of Fleming Creek" at Parker Mill County Park on Geddes Rd., 1/4 mile east of Dixboro Rd. The walk along Fleming Creek starts at 10 a.m. and is free of charge.

Sunday, May 12 is the annual "Mother's Day Picnic Hike" from Park Lyndon South. The group will hike the trails in search of emerging spring wildflowers. The park is located on North Territorial Rd., just west of Embury Rd., and 1 mile east of M-52. The walk begins at 10 a.m. and is free of charge.

Sunday, May 19 is "Spring Flora of Fleming Creek" again being held at Parker Mill County Park. This walk also starts at 10 a.m. and is free of charge.

Matt is as affable as he is knowledgeable and welcomes everyone to his walks.

For further information or a copy of Matt's upcoming walks, please call the Parks Commission at 971-6337.

Red Cross Organizing Kurdish Refugee Relief

The League of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies has issued an appeal for $1.53 million on behalf of the Iranian and Turkish Red Crescent Societies. The funds will allow immediate steps to be taken to meet the needs of the Kurdish refugees who are trying to flee to Iran and Turkey.

The American Red Cross is accepting monetary contributions for the relief fund. Checks should be made payable to "American Red Cross/Kurdistan Relief." Locally, donations may be sent to the Washtenaw County Chapter, 2729 Packard Rd., Ann Arbor 48108.

Funds collected by the League will be used to provide medical care, food and shelter to the displaced populations. The Iran Red Crescent Society has set up camp facilities along the borders to accommodate 90,000 refugees.

The League of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies is the world federation of national Red Cross societies and acts as their co-ordinating body. The League organizes, at an international level, the dispatch of Red Cross relief when damage to life and property reaches such proportions that the national society alone cannot cope.

The Red Cross has begun registering Iraqi civilians and military deserters in refugee camps in Turkey. The American Red Cross is accepting Tracing Inquiries for persons believed to be in these camps.

For more information, contact the Washtenaw County Chapter at 971-5300.

Rural Education Days Set Thursday, Friday

On April 25 and 26, Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service 4-H Program and the Farm Bureau Promotion and Education Committee are sponsoring the first county Rural Education Days. Purpose of the program is to educate third grade students about local agriculture and natural resources.

More than 950 students from 20 different schools throughout the county are registered to participate in Rural Education Days. All activities will be held at the Washtenaw County Farm Council Grounds, 5055 Saline-Ann Arbor Rd., Ann Arbor.

Many local agriculture and natural resources organizations, businesses, and interested volunteers will be assisting with the program. Each day is split into two sessions and will feature six hands-on learning centers, an agriculture equipment display designed to compare the cost of equipment to the cost of cars and homes, and a commodity showcase featuring locally grown agricultural products and local organizations.

Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District will also provide a tree seedling for each student. In addition, participating teachers received an information/activity packet on agriculture and natural resources that they can use in their classroom.

For more information on this activity contact Nancy Thelen, Washtenaw County Extension Director at 971-0079.

Dial-A-Garden Topics Listed

The following is a weekly schedule of Dial-A-Garden, the system of pre-recorded daily gardening tips sponsored by the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service. The system is in operation 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Interested persons are invited to call 971-1129 at their convenience to listen to timely, up-to-date gardening information.

County Bar Assoc. Elects New Officers

On Thursday, April 18, 1991, the Washtenaw County Bar Association held its annual election of officers, for 1991-92. The newly-elected officers are: president, Sherry L. Chin; vice-president, Randy A. Musbach; secretary, Robert Fair Gillette; treasurer, Stefani A. Carter; immediate past president, Margaret J. Nichols.

The new officers were sworn in by Judge Patrick J. Conlin of the Washtenaw County Circuit Court.

President Sherry Chin practices with the firm of Laird, Chin & Schwartz in Ann Arbor.

Vice-president Randy Musbach practices with Rademacher & Musbach in Chelsea.

Secretary Bob Gillette is the director of Legal Services of Southeastern Michigan, which provides free legal services to low income citizens who qualify for such services.

Treasurer Stefani Carter is an Assistant City Attorney for the City of Ann Arbor.

Immediate Past President Margó Nichols practices with the firm Harris, Guenzel, Meier & Nichols in Ann Arbor.

Area Athletes on Hillsdale Baseball Team Coming to U-M

When the Hillsdale College baseball team arrives for a double-header with the University of Michigan, Thursday, April 25 (tomorrow afternoon), several area athletes, many of them freshmen, will be seeing action on the diamond.

The games are scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. at Ray Fisher Stadium, Ann Arbor.

Among the group of athletes from the Washtenaw-Jackson-Livingston areas will be Chris Sinta and Haig Avsharian from Ann Arbor, Jackson's Chad Logan, Rob Roberts of Brighton, and Dexter's Marty Walsh.

SPRING CELEBRATION BENEFIT AUCTION was held Saturday night to benefit the patient assistance fund of Chelsea Community Hospital. A variety of items were donated to the auction, including this portable toilet by the Thetford Corp. of Ann Arbor. Other items included everything from artwork to catered meals to trips to a piece of the artificial turf from the University of Michigan football field. Auctioneers for the sixth annual event were Jerry Helmer and Lloyd Braun.

Five Area Residents Enter Chili Cook-Off

Five area residents are participating in the 1991 Great Chili Cook-Off at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds in Saline May 4-5.

Jim Finch, Larry Doll, and Craig Maier of Chelsea, and Tim Collins and Ralph "Skip" King of Dexter will be showing off their culinary skills.

More than 240 gallons of chili will be prepared and consumed during the annual event, a benefit for the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan.

The event will feature 120 chili cooks, wacky cooking displays ranging from a nuclear reactor to a covered wagon, the Great Midwestern Egg Drop, free chili tasting, a classic Ford Mustang exhibit, a craft show, petting farm, and live blues, country, and rock 'n' roll musical entertainment.

Finch, Collins, and King will join 77 other cooks in Saturday's official North Central Chili Cook-Off, which follows the rules of the International Chili Society. The society defines chili as any kind of meat cooked with chili peppers, spice, and other ingredients with the exception of thickening agents such as beans and spaghetti.

The winner will receive $500 and a chance to compete in the world championships in California this fall.

Doll and Maier are competing in Sunday's Ameritech PagesPlus Renegade Chili Cook-Off. First place will earn $250 and a guaranteed spot in next year's North Central cook-off. Second place will win $100 and $50 will go to third place.

The renegade competition allows cooks to use any ingredients.

The event is sponsored by Ameritech PagesPlus, BFI Waste Systems, Inc., Blue Care Network of Southeast Michigan, Coors, Wendy's Restaurants, WIOB-FM, WRIF-FM, and W4 COUNTRY-FM.

Gates will be open each day at 11 a.m. Tickets are $5 for adults and $1 for children 12 and under. Proceeds support the National Kidney Foundation's patient services, education, and research programs.

For more information call 1-800-482-1455.

Fast Track Crucial For Fairer World Trade

As important as international trade is to agriculture, it will be even more important in the future, American Farm Bureau Federation President Dean Kleckner told the Senate Finance Committee recently.

Kleckner said U.S. farm products face unacceptable obstacles in world markets and international trading rules are largely ineffective in dealing with widespread import barriers and export subsidies. "Despite the apparent breakdown of trade talks in Brussels last December, we now believe substantial progress has been made in the Uruguay round of agricultural trade talks," he said.

Without extension of the fast track negotiating authority beyond its June expiration date, there can be no success of the Uruguay round or of the negotiations with Mexico and Canada toward a North America free trade agreement, Kleckner said. "American agriculture has much to gain from successful and equitable trade agreements and Farm Bureau urges that they be pursued," he said.

Trumpeter Swans Released by DNR Northeast of Jackson

Two pairs of trumpeter swans, hatched from wild swan eggs collected in Alaska, were recently released at the Phyllis Haeuble Sanctuary, located six miles northeast of Jackson.

The event is part of an ongoing project by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) to establish at least 15 breeding pairs of trumpeters by the year 2000.

"Knowing that trumpeters may once again grace Michigan's wetlands is indeed something to be heralded," Director David Hales of the DNR said.

Nineteen pairs of the birds will be released this spring into Michigan including a first-time reintroduction in the Upper Peninsula.

The trumpeters were hatched from eggs obtained from aviculturists, zoos, as well as from the wild swans nesting in the Minto Flats wetlands northwest of Fairbanks, Alaska.

In 1986, a partnership to restore Michigan's only native swan was formed between the DNR's Natural Heritage Program and Michigan State University's Kellogg Biological Station near Battle Creek, where the eggs were hatched and reared.

Populations of trumpeters once native to Michigan declined because of heavy market hunting and the loss of wetlands. By 1900, it was believed that the trumpeter swan was extinct in the continental United States. A remnant population was discovered in remote areas of the Northwest and several thousand were later discovered in Alaska and Canada.

Funding sources for this program have been the DNR's Nongame Wildlife Fund, the Wetlands Foundation of West Michigan, Wildlife Unlimited of Allegan and Ottawa counties, and the Great Lakes Michigan Wildlife Art Festival of Clare.

'West Side Story' Offered As Benefit for Youth Organization

A rumble is soon to take place at the Power Center for the Performing Arts in Ann Arbor as the Jets and Sharks take the stage on April 25, 26 and 27. The People to People Connection, with a cast of primarily University of Michigan and EMU students, will be presenting one of America's greatest Broadway musicals.

"West Side Story" sets the tragic story of Romeo and Juliet in the contemporary slums of New York City and celebrates with fiery intensity love's attempt to flourish against a backdrop of hate and prejudice. Songs from the show include "Something's Coming," "Tonight," "Cool" and "America."

The production takes on a decidedly Chelsea flavor with Shelley Wheaton, production manager; Scott Marsh, technical director; Chris Craig, house manager; Ginny Wheaton, ticket manager; and Cynthia Gaken, properties manager.

Tickets may be reserved at the Power Center Box Office or by calling 475-7412. All performances begin at 8 p.m. with the Saturday matinee at 2 p.m.

West Side Story is being presented as a benefit for The People to People Connection, a non-profit educational and musical youth organization headquartered in Ann Arbor.

In 1989, Michigan had 417,262 reported traffic crashes involving 1,035,764 people. On average, four people died on Michigan roadways each day due to those crashes.

YOUNG WRITERS from Beach Middle school were invited to submit their best pieces to be reviewed by a panel of writers and educators. Fifty students from Washtenaw county were selected on the basis of their work to attend a one-day conference on writing (yesterday, April 23) at the Washtenaw Intermediate School District. These students

Walk Clinic Slated at County Farm Park

Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission has announced the May 4 date of their seventh annual Walk Clinic to be held at County Farm Park off Platt Rd., near the Washtenaw intersection.

It's again that time of year when folks are getting back outside to exercise and enjoy the delights of spring. So everyone is invited for a walk of any distance (your choice) and discover the camaraderie of others who enjoy walking as well. The event begins at 10 a.m. at the pavilion a short walk up the path from the Platt Rd. parking lot.

There will be a short talk by Park Staff about the fun, fitness and benefits of walking. Then, Karen Hollapa of the Tortoise and Hare Running Center will talk about footwear available for walkers.

A staff person from County Parks will lead warm-up exercises preceding the walk. Following the walk, pot-luck brunch will be enjoyed.

If you would like to join the group, bring a dish to pass, a place setting, and grab your walkin' shoes! And bring the entire family along!

If you need more information or directions, please call park administrative offices at 971-6337.

THIS TEAM from Beach Middle school was invited to take part in the Michigan Future Problem Solving State Bowl at the University of Michigan April 20-21. The state bowl is the culmination of a year-long program to teach students to creatively solve problems related to projections into the future. More than 14,000 Michigan students worked on three problems during the year, including high school drop-outs, ozone depletion, and transportation. Based on the third problem, 20 percent of teams from each of three grade divisions, 4-6, 7-9, and 10-12 were invited to compete at the state level. While teams knew the general topic of the bowl—censorship—they did not know the specific nature of the problem until the bowl began. The Beach team, included, from left, Angela Tanner, Melissa Schultz, Corrie Schoenberg, and Melissa Smith.

Bulldogs Sweep Hornets To Open League Play, Scharphorn No-Hits Rats

Chelsea Bulldogs softball team opened their Southeastern Conference schedule with a sweep of the Saline Hornets at home last Thursday afternoon.

Chelsea took the opener, 7-3, behind the five-hit pitching of Colleen Scharphorn, who struck out 10 and walked one.

"It was a good outing for Colleen," said Chelsea coach Amy Poljan. "It wasn't a pretty game for us, but it was a win."

A two-run top of the fifth tied the game at three before the Bulldogs broke the game open with four runs in the bottom of the inning.

Seven different Chelsea players each had an RBI. Christine Burg had two hits and scored twice.

Junior pitcher Jennifer Petty shut out the Hornets in the second contest, 11-0. Chelsea scored in each of the first four innings and the game was called in the bottom of the fifth.

Petty gave up two hits, struck out eight and walked one.

Burg scored twice, Petty had two hits and scored three times, Hurst knocked in three runs, and Kelly Bellus and Shawn Losey each had two RBI.

In other action last week, the Bulldogs beat Ann Arbor Huron 6-0 and 11-1 on Tuesday.

Scharphorn tossed a no-hitter in the first game and was one walk away from a perfect game.

"Colleen had very good control," Poljan said.

"Plus, Bellus had a nice performance at catcher. It was a good total team effort."

Burg and Scharphorn each hit a single and a double, and Cross hit two singles.

Four of Chelsea's runs came on aggressive baserunning.

Burg stole four bases, including home.

In the second game, Chelsea's 16-hit attack supported five innings of pitching by Petty and two innings of relief by Sara Musolf. Together they limited Huron to three hits.

Chelsea scored six runs in the bottom of the first to put the game away.

Musolf, Burg, Petty, Scharphorn, Kelly Cross, Bellus, and Jenny Bobo each hit two singles.

Chelsea was 8-1 going into Monday's games with Milan.

DANA DURST fouls off a pitch during last Thursday's home contests with the Saline Hornets. Chelsea swept the first double-header of the Southeastern Conference season.

CHELSEA SPRINTERS Leah Hadley, left, and last Thursday in the 100 dash. However, Chelsea won the Jeanene Rossi, right, were edged out by a Saline sprinter meet easily.

Dogs Split With Hornets In SEC Baseball Action

Chelsea Bulldogs baseball team salvaged a split with the Saline Hornets last Thursday in the opening of the Southeastern Conference season.

The Bulldogs were whipped 11-1 in the opener but took the second game in the bottom of the seventh inning, 5-4.

"We felt real fortunate to split with them," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

"I hope it's a sign of our character that we were able to come back in the second game even though we weren't playing very well."

ROB CLEM checks his swing during Chelsea's first game against Saline last Thursday. The Bulldogs lost the opener, 11-1, but came back to win the nightcap, 5-4.

Bulldogs' Depth Gives Girls Big Track Victory Over Rival Saline

Chelsea Bulldogs girls track team opened their Southeastern Conference season Thursday with an 84-44 victory over the Saline Hornets.

Both teams had some good performances, but one of the keys to the meet was the Bulldogs greater depth, which showed in the hurdles and the relays, according to Chelsea coach Bill Bainton.

Chelsea gained a 20-point advantage by winning the four relays. The 3200 relay of Sarah Henry, Sarah Brosnan, Beth Bell and Tracy Wales ran a 10:46.4. The 800 relay of Leah Hadley, Theresa Royce, Leisa Schiller, and Laura Paton ran a 1:52.9, excellent for early in the season, Bainton said. The 400 relay of Jeanene Rossi, Royce, Schiller, and Hadley ran :54.5, a better time than the Bulldogs had in that event all last season. The 1600 relay of Henry, Jessica Holton, Hadley and Paton turned in a 4:33.3.

Monica Hansen led a Bulldogs sweep in the 100 hurdles winning the race in :18.3, with Amanda Nimke second and Becky Erskine third. Nimke won the 300 hurdles in :53.3 with Hansen a strong second in :54.8.

The two teams split the points in the field events. Leisa Schiller won the long jump in 14'6" with Deanna Richardson second. Jeanene Rossi won the high jump, tying her own school record height of 5'3". Rossi narrowly missed clearing the bar at 5-5, in her final two jumps.

Saline won both throws, but Nimke took third in the shot put for the Bulldogs, and Wendy Bristle and Lauren Sparaco both threw career-best to earn second and third places.

"We are quite pleased with the development of our inexperienced throwers," commented Bainton.

"They have put in a lot of time so far and are starting to see some payoff."

Hornet Tracy Sniderman was one of the meet's two individuals to win two races as she took the 100 and 200.

Rossi and Hadley finished 2-3 in the 100 and Royce and Paton were 2-3 in the 200.

Paton won the 400 in 1:05.1 with Sarah Tracy third in her first race of the season.

Lisa Monti won the 1600 and 3200 for the Bulldogs. Monti and Saline's Liz Chriscinske took off to a fast start in the 1600 with Monti pulling away in the final stages to win in 5:26.3. Chriscinske was second with a good time of 5:38.3. Monti finished the 3200 in 12:01.3 with Val Bullock third. Chriscinske took the 800 for the Hornets in 2:30.4 with Bell close behind in 2:33.1. Sarah Brosnan was third.

"Both teams ran well," Bainton said.

"We were concerned about this meet because we felt they were a good team, but didn't know how good. Our depth made the difference."

Chelsea Bulldogs boys track team lost their only meet of the week last week to the Saline Hornets, 84-52.

However, Chelsea head coach Pat Clarke was more than pleased with his team's performance as the Bulldogs compiled 32 personal-best efforts.

"To say that [assistant coach Roger] Cox and I are pleased would be an understatement," Clarke said.

"Sure, we would like to win a meet place in the 110 highs in :18.54 and third place in the 300 lows in :47.61.

Junior Mike Terpstra won the shot put with a personal best of 49' 9".

Senior Raduane Far added 18 inches to his best in the long jump to win at 18' 10".

Sophomore Ty Darden shaved 1.5 seconds off his best time in the 400 run to finish in :57.5 in third place. In the same event, senior Jim Hassett placed second in :56.7.

another. In typical fashion, he won the high jump at 5' 11". After securing the win, he narrowly missed 6' 11", which would have broken his own school record.

Royce also won the 110 high hurdles in :16.24, and the 200 dash in :24.3. His second place was in the 300 hurdles in :43.6.

Chelsea's 1600 relay team of Kemnitz, Hassett, Cheng, and Blough won in 3:54.1.

and we will do that this season. Saline was a very good team. But win number one is coming for us."

Among the Chelsea performances, senior Joe Blough cut 10 seconds off his best time in the 1600 to take second in 4:46.8. In the same event, sophomore Dan Zatkovich cut 11 seconds and broke the five-minute barrier for the first time to record a 4:59.9 for third place.

Junior Martin Cheng set personal records in the hurdles, taking third Hassett also had his best pole vault ever as he cleared 10'.

Sophomore Hans Kemnitz tied his personal best in the high jump at 5' 6" and ran three strong relay legs, Clarke said.

Sophomore J.J. Hanke ran a personal best 11:38 in the 3200.

Freshman David Beeman set a personal record by one foot in the shot put at 41' 4", good for fourth place.

Junior Jon Royce won three events for Chelsea and placed second in

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

This is the time of year when it seems like the best thing the state could do is start and end the school year about 10 days later.

So much of the early spring sports season falls victim to weather that is typical of late October. What a depressing feeling Saturday morning to see snow falling. Chelsea Invitational baseball tournament was cancelled again. Softball was weathered out, and the Chelsea Relays couldn't be run.

As hard as it is to play those sports in less than dry weather, it's impossible to play tennis. To make matters worse, even if it stops raining early enough, coach John Capper and his team lose one court simply because it has so many valleys that water can't drain from it. So they have three courts on which to play at least seven matches.

The season is the shortest of the year and most teams schedule about as many games as they can into the average week. That leaves little maneuvering room for make-up dates for the inevitable rainouts.

Just when the good weather begins, most of the season is over.

The poor weather also puts a new dimension on the recent half-season suspension of four Chelsea high athletes for drinking.

They are all eligible to return to play this week. If all of the baseball team's rainouts are re-scheduled and actually played (which is probably impossible), the suspended players will have lost virtually none of the season, at least as measured in games tests. Even so, the players would have missed the games even if they were on the roster.

Did the suspensions serve their purpose? Only the coaches and others intimately connected to the players can answer that question. However, it does appear the definition of "half the season" has some room for modification—perhaps a certain number of games or contests actually played based on the number scheduled. The definition is the mid-way point between the first day of practice and the last day of the play-offs. As it is now, the severity of the penalty can vary from year to year simply because of the weather, which I don't think was the intent of the rule. The penalty, whatever it is, should be more explicit.

I've heard a lot of opinions about the general topic of suspensions for drinking or drug use. The one thing that emerges is, it's a complicated issue.

There are those who think a student should lose all rights to play any sports for the rest of the year, the so-called "death penalty." That's the way it used to be. The idea, like capital punishment, is if the penalty is severe enough, and kids see it enforced, they'll steer clear of the crime.

They see it partly as a matter of discipline. When a kid signs up, he knows the rules, he lives by them, simple as that.

Then there's the other side. One successful coach told me the half-season penalty is still too harsh. His thinking is the tougher the penalty, the less likely it is that any student will ever be turned in.

"We ought to have a more Christian attitude about this," he said.

"The idea is to help the kids."

I can see his point. No parent, coach, or friend of an athlete wants to see a kid deprived of something relatively constructive that he/she enjoys. And often the unfortunate attitude toward substance abuse, especially as it affects friends and relatives, is "we can deal with it later." A stiff penalty makes that decision easier.

One advantage of a stiff penalty is it may deter parents from serving booze to their children and friends. A recurring theme of the problem of student drinking, as I talk to more people about it, is there are apparently quite a few adults who think nothing of pulling out a few beers or wine coolers when their kids have friends over.

There are many reasons I can see why parents might want to do something like that, but they're all extremely dumb. Just the thought of a lawsuit should be enough to frighten any half-intelligent homeowner. It's like having your pit bull on the doorbell.

One thing is certain. As long as parents subvert the law as well as the policies of the school district, there are going to be confused teen-agers who will never take the issue of drinking seriously.

IT MAY SEEM UNUSUAL for a shot putter to run a sprint but that's junior Mike Terpstra on the left as he speeds down the track in a heat of the 100 dash. On the right is Chelsea's Tom Richards. Coach Pat Clarke requires everyone on the team to run at least one race, no matter what his primary event is. Terpstra is more at home in the shot put and discus.

Tennis Team Nipped By Williamston

Chelsea Bulldogs tennis team lost to Williamston last Thursday, April 18 in a hard-fought match, 3-4.

Chelsea won one of four singles matches and two of three doubles matches.

Senior captain Chris Haugen was the only singles winner for Chelsea, taking fourth singles in three sets, 5-7, 6-4, 7-6, with a 7-3 tiebreaker.

"It was an outstanding match," said Chelsea coach John Capper.

"Chris played for two hours and won the tiebreaker."

In other singles matches, Scott Pacheco lost to J. Church, 3-6, 0-6 at first singles; Bobby Senzel lost to A. Dyer at second singles, 1-6, 4-6; and Aaron Tanner lost at third singles to B. Pendleton, 4-6, 2-6, at third singles.

In doubles matches, Ben Manning and Dave Burkel lost their first doubles match over N. Key and B. Henn, 3-6, 1-6; Dan Stahl and Jeff Gietzen won their second doubles match over N. Hathaway and R. Underhill, 6-4, 6-7, 7-5; and Jason Allen and Mike Tremper won their third doubles match over J. Hill and P. Ballard, 5-7, 6-4, 7-5.

In junior varsity play, Cory Brown and Steve Harness defeated M. Kalzynski and S. Brennan, 8-1, 8-2; and Scott Dale defeated M. Andrews, 8-2.

JV Softball Team Hurt By Errors in Two Losses

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity softball team opened their Southeastern Conference season last Thursday in Saline with a pair of losses.

Chelsea lost the opener, 8-7, as six errors hurt the Bulldogs.

"It was a fun game to watch because of the action," said Chelsea coach Ken Sullins.

"But it wasn't much fun being on the losing end. It came down to Saline making the plays when necessary and we didn't."

Saline scored twice in the bottom of the seventh for the win, the final run the result of an error.

Chelsea had seven hits, including singles by Liz Sager, Erin Knott, and Nicki Piasecki in the first inning to give Chelsea a 2-0 lead in the second inning.

Gretchen Knutsen and Piasecki each had an RBI double in the game. Knott struck out six, walked six, yielded eight hits, and gave up four earned runs.

The Hornets won the second game 14-8 as the Bulldogs again had problems in the field and committed 12 errors.

The Bulldogs were ahead 7-3 after the top of the fourth inning. However, in the bottom of the fourth Saline scored six runs on two walks, three errors, a single and a double. They added five more runs through the fifth and sixth innings.

Sager, Alicia Lafferty, Stephanie Hanselman and Jackie Crawford each had an RBI single. Lafferty and Knutsen each had two hits.

Knutsen gave up nine hits but only three of Saline's 14 runs were earned. She struck out seven.

Chelsea Village Council Proceedings

Regular Session.

Tuesday, March 19, 1991

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Steele.

Present: President Steele, Clerk Anderson, Assistant Village Manager Kuehn, Administrative Assistant Fredette.

Trustees Present: Kanten, Merkel, Steele, Hammer, Myers, Anderson.

Absent: Dorer.

Others Present: Ron Walter, Pat Merkel, Cecil Clouse, Kathryn Lambert, H. D. Toon, Lisa Gray-Lion, Mae E. Hadley, John R. Sparaco, Jan L. Shackelford, Doug Waslyton, Tim Eder, Linda Alber, Nancy Cooper, Michael Rybka, Cathy Muha, B. Hamilton, M. Wonderly, Ron Hoog, D. Bulson.

Clerk Morrison was sworn in by outgoing Clerk Anderson. Trustees Kanten and Anderson were sworn in by Clerk Morrison.

Mr. Mark Heydlauff, a representative from the DDA, gave Council an update on DDA Projects. It has been decided that moving the Euclides residence next to the McKune Memorial Library will not be feasible. The DDA is looking for an alternative location and requested permission to investigate the two Village lots currently available (located on Middle and Park Streets). The Council would like Mr. Heydlauff and the DDA to investigate the legalities of purchasing Village-owned property, other lots available in the Village for purchase, and Village Moving for an estimated cost, reporting back to the Council at the April 9, 1991 meeting.

Representatives from the AATA ridership presented a formal proposal for the Council to consider before taking action on whether or not to approve the $9,053.00 fee requested to continue servicing Chelsea. The Council will request that Mr. Bolton, a representative from the AATA, be present at the next regular Council meeting to discuss outstanding issues. Assistant Village Manager Kuehn notified the Council an extension of service has been granted until this matter is settled. The item therefore will be placed on the agenda for the next meeting.

Motion by Myers, supported by Merkel, to approve the Consent Agenda with one correction to the minutes of March 5, 1991: The AATA Service Contract fee amount should be represented as "$9,053.00 fee" not "$9,053.00 annual fee."

Western Washtenaw Consortium will be meeting again April 18th in Chelsea. Trustee Hammer reported that they may be at the point of forming the Articles, unless their lawyers tell them otherwise.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Myers, to grant Mr. Ron Walter's request to split his property located on McKinley Road into two separate parcels. Motion carried.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Myers, to approve an option on Lot 4 in the Industrial Park for two years at $500.00 per year for a total of $1,000.00, to be applied to the purchase price with a 72 hour "kiss of death" clause with Mr. Jack Merkel and Mr. Patrick Merkel. Ayes: Kanten, Steele, Hammer, Anderson, Myers. Absent: Dorer. Abstain: Merkel. Motion carried.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Kanten, to change the Regular Council meetings to the 2nd and 4th Tuesday of each month, moving the Planning Commission to the 3rd Tuesday with the time remaining the same, to begin in April, 1991. Motion carried.

Motion by Myers, supported by Hammer, to enter into an agreement between the Chelsea Village Council and the Chelsea Fair Board to lease the fairgrounds on July 4th, 1991 for $1.00, providing Independence Fireworks presents the Chelsea Village Council and the Chelsea Fair Board with a Certificate of Insurance for $2 Million Dollars which will provide coverage for the 1991 fireworks display to be sponsored by Chelsea 1995. Motion carried.

The Council had previously been asked to contribute to the MMEA Legal Defense Fund, no decision was made at the time. The MMEA is again requesting a contribution. Assistant Village Manager Kuehn was instructed to contact other communities in the area as to their contributions annually and report back at the April 9, 1991 meeting.

Motion by Myers, supported by Hammer, to employ Mr. Don Thibodeau to relocate the existing sound system to the Sylvan Township Hall for a minimum cost of $400.00 not to exceed a maximum charge of $600.00. Motion carried.

Motion by Anderson, supported by Myers, to award a two-year contract to Enviroland per their bid of 2.15 cents/gallon for routine hauling and land application of sludge; and 39.4 cents/gallon for unusual land filling of sludge if land application is not possible. Motion carried. (Enviroland will continue to service the landfill leachate hauling for the same price we currently pay, for the term of the wastewater sludge contract.)

Motion by Myers, supported by Hammer, to grant the Washtenaw County Unit of the American Cancer Society permission to conduct their annual door-to-door Crusade April 20-28, 1991. Motion carried.

Motion by Myers, supported by Kanten, to approve the proclamation in connection with National Telecommunications Week and acclaim April 14-20, 1991 National Telecommunications Week. (Proclamation attached to these Minutes as Appendix A). Motion carried.

Motion by Myers, supported by Hammer, to proclaim April 13-20, 1991 "Scouting for Food Week." Motion carried.

Trustee Myers has met with the Chelsea Fire Department and would like to suggest that the Chelsea Fire Department take on the responsibility of checking the Village fire hydrants. Trustee Myers reported that Fire Chief Harkerd is willing to perform this task. The Council has requested that the Fire Department do routine checking in the evening and that they notify the Village office of their schedule.

President Steele asked that the Trustees review the proposed 6120 Sibley Road Lease.

President Steele appointed Trustee Kanten to the Zoning Board of Appeals; Trustee Anderson to the DDA and the Park and Recreation Board; and Trustee Hammer to the Planning Commission.

Motion by Merkel, supported by Myers, to adjourn. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned at 8:50 p.m.

Suzanne C. Morrison, Village Clerk.

Baseball Team Sweep Milan

In the second game, Craig Ferry doubled in the bottom of the seventh. Rick Westcott, inserted as a pinch runner, was moved to third on a sacrifice, and Tucker Steele's infield hit brought him home.

Chelsea had taken a 2-0 lead in the first on Kerry Plank's two-run double. However, the Hornets scored four unearned runs in the third inning to take a 4-2 lead.

Chelsea scored one in the fourth and one in the sixth to tie.

Jake Rindle improved his record to 2-0 on the mound.

In the opener, the game was tied 1-1 in the first inning before Saline scored six runs in the second and two more in the third.

"In addition to the two or three errors in the scorebook, we had at least 15 other things we didn't do very well," Welton said.

"We weren't sharp and our problems started from the first pitch and went until the end."

Steele and Plank had the only two hits for Chelsea.

In action Monday, Chelsea took two one-run victories over the Milan Big Reds at home, 4-3 and 5-4.

It was a game the Bulldogs nearly squandered. Chelsea, behind the 11-strikeout pitching of Rindle, had a 4-0 lead going into the seventh.

A Rindle triple, a solo homer by Taylor, and a two-run single by Clem provided Chelsea's offense.

Clem pitched the second game, struck out 10 and walked one.

A single by Plank and a bunt single by Rindle, followed by two Milan errors at shortstop gave the Bulldogs the winning run in the bottom of the seventh.

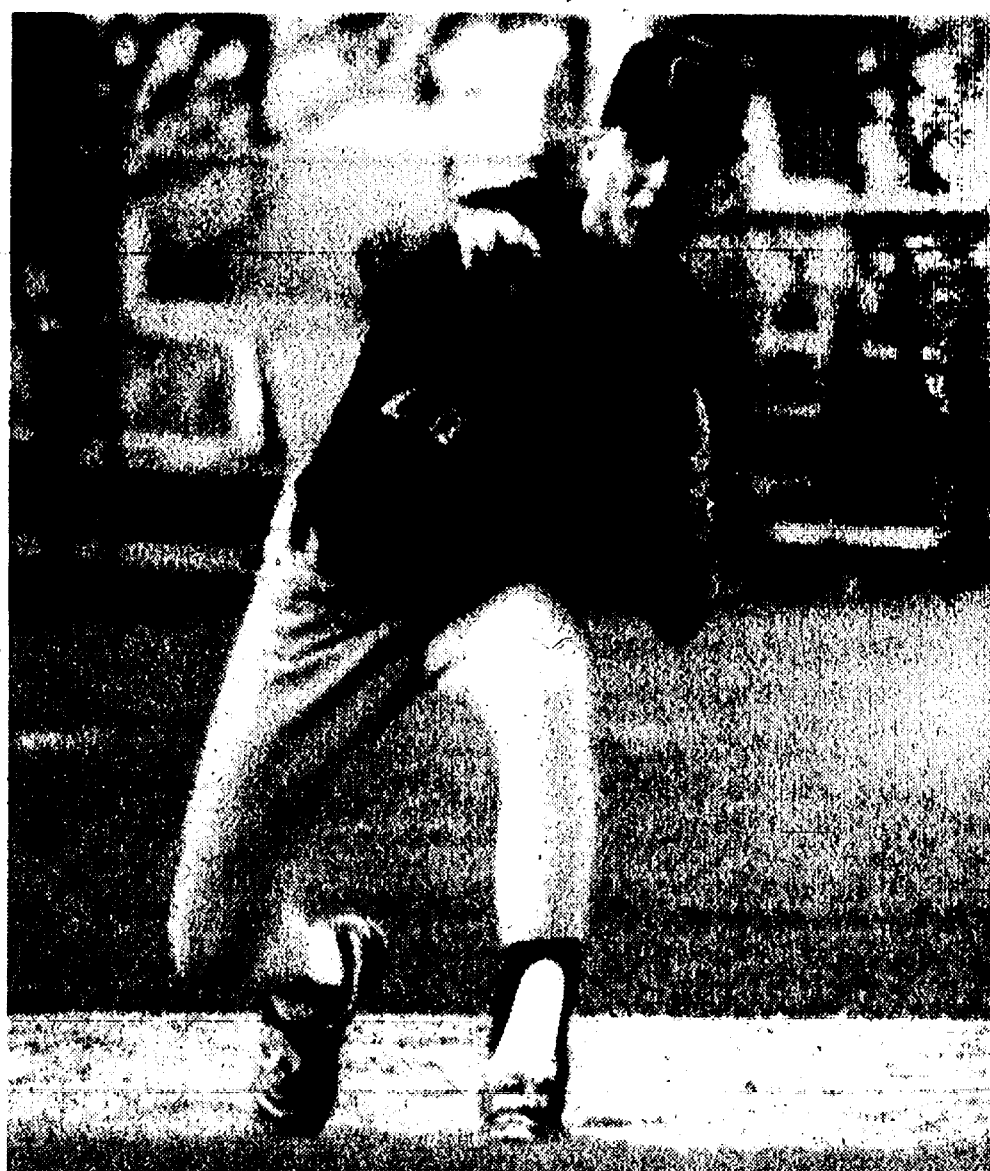

Chelsea was behind 4-2 in the bottom of the fifth. Taylor's double and Rindle's single scored one in the fifth, and back-to-back doubles by Rick Westcott and Steve Grau plated another run in the sixth.

"The highlight of the day had to be the pitching of Rindle and Clem," Welton said.

"They struck out 21 batters and walked one."

Welton said he was not pleased with his team's defensive play.

Chelsea is 3-1 in the Southeastern Conference and 7-1 over-all.

SENIOR KERRY PLANK makes the play at shortstop during last Thursday's home game against the Saline Hornets. Chelsea salvaged a split in the double-header, which coach Wayne Welton said was not particularly well-played by the Bulldogs.

Big Sports Saturday Loses Out to Weather

One of the biggest sports week-ends of the entire year at Chelsea High school was lost to a mixture of rain and snow last Saturday.

The Chelsea-Manchester Invitational baseball tournament was rained out for the second week and coach Wayne Welton said there is no way it can be re-scheduled.

"The weather is getting to be a little frustrating for us," Welton said.

The team also missed playing a double-header last week with Huron.

In addition, the 15-team Chelsea Relays, the annual local girls track classic, was cancelled for the first time in its history.

"It is very unusual for a track meet, particularly a 15-team invitational, to be cancelled," said Chelsea coach Bill Bainton.

"But with snow and ice in the air and temperatures struggling to reach 40 degrees, and wind which probably pushed chills into the teens, the decision was made not to hold the event."

Everything was ready to go, including the full complement of teams and judges. Teams came from as far away as Grosse Ile and Marshall. Initially the start was delayed.

Bainton said neither he or assistant Bert Kruse could remember a time in the last 18 years when the event was even delayed.

The meet will not be made up but will be on the schedule again next year.

Varsity softball also missed out playing in the Corunna Invitational on Saturday.

Softball Coaches Clinic Set for May 14

A clinic for the coaches of girls Summer Softball is being planned for May 14. The clinic is designed to assist the prospective coaches in teaching softball skills to the participants of both Midget and Junior Miss divisions in preparation for the summer softball season.

Instruction will be provided by the Chelsea High school softball staff. Amy Poljan, the varsity coach, and former pitcher for the CHS teams and participant in summer softball, will be assisted by Charlie Waller, former varsity coach and present assistant coach, and by Ken Sullins, the present junior varsity coach.

All three coaches have expressed much interest and enthusiasm in helping the volunteer coaches develop better softball skills in budding softball players.

The summer softball programs are fortunate in having access to the high level of knowledge and teaching ability which these coaches can provide. It is hoped that every prospective coach and every interested parent will take advantage of this opportunity.

The clinic will be held Tuesday, May 14 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. All participants will meet in the CHS Cafeteria at 7:30 and, weather permitting, proceed to the softball diamond outside of the gym. The clinic will finish in the cafeteria with coffee and cookies provided. Again, parents as well as coaches are invited.

There is no charge for the clinic, but please notify the Recreation Council at 475-9830 if you plan to attend so that the coaching staff can better prepare their program.

Driving Costs Increase for 1991 Models

From Coldwater to Copper Harbor, it will cost more to drive this year than last, according to AAA Michigan. How much more depends on the type of car you drive.

For example, owners of new compact cars will pay nearly 13 percent more to drive their cars in 1991 than they did in 1990. Mid-size drivers will pay almost 11 percent more, while large car owners will spend an additional 15 percent.

That means someone driving 15,000 miles annually will spend an average 31.6 cents per mile or $4,741 a year for a four-cylinder compact; 37.9 cents or $5,686 for a six-cylinder mid-size; and 42.4 cents for $6,355 for a full-size sedan.

These figures come from the 1991 edition of AAA's "Your Driving Costs" booklet, which calculated the annual costs of owning and operating three 1991 models equipped with automatic transmissions, air conditioning and other options.

Operating costs—gas, oil, maintenance and tires—account for about 28 percent of the yearly expenses. The remainder covers ownership costs—insurance, taxes, depreciation and loan finance charges.

The 10-page guide was compiled by AAA and Runzheimer International.

Browning Elected To Student Govt. At Adrian College

Tiffany Browning of Chelsea was elected vice-president of academic affairs of student government at Adrian College.

Student government officers work with the college administration in matters concerning the students. In the past year, student government officers helped formulate the new meal plan that students can choose from.

Browning is a 1990 graduate of Chelsea High school. She is a freshman planning a major in sociology and human services. She is the daughter of Robert and Anna Browning of Sugar Loaf Lake.

Woman Caught With Videotapes In Purse

A Chelsea woman may face charges in connection with the attempted theft of three videotapes from Ames Department Store on Monday, April 15.

According to Chelsea police, a 36-year-old Old US-12 resident put the tapes in her purse and tried to leave the store but was caught by store security. Value of the merchandise was $29.97.

JV Baseball Team Drops Two Games to Saline Hornets

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity baseball team lost both ends of a double-header with Saline last Thursday in Saline.

The Bulldogs were shut out in the opener, 10-0. Jason Johnson led off the game with a double, for Chelsea's only hit of the contest. The Bulldogs surrendered six runs in the bottom of the first.

Chelsea lost the second game, 15-5. The Bulldogs took a 1-0 lead in the first on Nick McCalla's RBI single, but gave up two runs in the bottom of the inning. In the second inning, John Heller's run-scoring double highlighted a two-run inning to again give Chelsea a temporary lead.

However, that was the end of the Bulldogs' scoring until the fifth inning, when they were behind 15-2.

"When we eliminate our mistakes, we will be very competitive," said Chelsea coach Jim Ticknor.

Chris Dunham was 2-2 for the Bulldogs and Kevin McCalla knocked in two runs. Pitchers Ed Waller and Mark Eder gave up nine hits.

Julie Dukes Chosen for National Honor Society

Albion College junior Julie Dukes was recognized as a new member of the Albion College chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa at this year's Honors Convocation on Thursday, April 18.

Omicron Delta Kappa, a national leadership honor society, was established at Albion in 1942 to honor juniors and seniors who have actively contributed to campus life and scholarship.

Dukes, a women's studies major, is a 1988 graduate of Chelsea High school. She is the daughter of Dr. Patricia J. Dukes of 20324 Jerusalem Rd., Chelsea.

Tips Given for Safe Canoeing

Finding a place to rent a canoe is fairly easy in Michigan. The state has close to 100 canoe liveries along popular waterways in both peninsulas. But first-time canoeers or occasional paddlers may need help before heading out for an afternoon on the water so AAA Michigan has compiled some tips for an enjoyable and safe canoe trip. They include:

- Wear personal flotation devices.
- "Wearing a life jacket is the easiest way to ensure your safety in case the canoe capsizes or you fall out of the boat," said Robert V. Cullen, AAA Michigan Community Safety Services manager.

- Avoid alcohol. "Drinking impairs boating capabilities, clouds judgment, affects balance and coordination and weakens survival skills," Cullen said.
  - Know how to swim. Canoeists should be competent swimmers, even when fully clothed.
  - Don't overload. Keep cargo at a minimum and pack it low and in the middle of the canoe. This lowers the center of gravity and stabilizes the vessel.
  - Keep gear dry. Pack food, clothing and other items in watertight containers—a couple of garbage bags sealed separately and packed one inside the other. Attach to the canoe.
  - Bring a change of clothing. In addition, a hat and sunscreen are musts for sunny days while a windbreaker and long pants can ward off chills during storms or cool weather.
  - Strap sunglasses and eyeglasses in place.
  - Keep car keys in buttoned-down or zippered pocket. Leave jewelry and valuables at home.
  - Wear tennis shoes for wading.
  - Respect private property. Camp and picnic on public property or gain permission of the property owner on private land.
  - Don't litter. Attach a garbage bag to the canoe.
  - Watch the weather. Get off the water during unexpected electrical storms or periods of high winds.
- Canoe liveries provide rental service on more than two dozen state rivers. Rental rates vary depending on the length of trip and size of the party.
- Most liveries open in April or May and close for the season in October or November. Reservations are recommended, especially during summer week-ends and holidays.

Grange Week

Being Observed Across Nation

All the Granges over the United States will be celebrating this week in their own ways.

National Master, Robert Barrows, and the Master of the Michigan Grange, Roland Winter, have made a proclamation—

"Grange is always building for the future: as an agricultural organization, as a community organization, as an educational organization, as a service organization, as a family organization, as a fraternal organization."

Grange is a place to use our abilities, share our experiences, exert our influence and stimulate action.

Grange is a truly American Spirit providing people with opportunities to serve their brothers and sisters.

Grange members are extending the hand of fellowship to all those interested in joining the organization. Granges will be focusing their attention on their legislative initiative, local roads and bridges.

Pittsfield Union Grange, located on Ann Arbor-Saline Rd., just south of Meijer Store, serves the Washtenaw county area and meets the fourth Wednesday evening at 8 each month.

For further information please call any of the following: Chelsea area, 475-2813; Manchester area, 428-8817; Saline area, 429-9823; or Ann Arbor area, 665-9082.

The first use of the sliding wage scale was in 1885 by Pittsburgh iron workers, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

Lima Planners Hold Hearing On Re-Zoning For Project

Lima Township Planning Commission held a public hearing last week on a proposal to re-zone 10.9 acres of agricultural land that would allow a nine-house development just west of Upland Hills access road off Old US-12.

The commission took no official action on the proposal because a quorum was not present. It referred the matter to the Washtenaw County Planning Commission.

Township planners will act on the proposal at their May meeting. However, the ultimate decision belongs to the township board.

The land is owned by Roderick Janich of Chelsea. An engineering study has not been completed on the project. Planning commission chair David Bacon said there are some concerns with wetlands on the site as well as how the project sits in relation to groundwater recharge areas.

However, he said the request is consistent with the township General Development Plan.

Bacon said Upland Hills developers wrote a letter indicating they are not opposed to the project as long as homeowner association rules are comparable to those for Upland Hills. They also said they did not intend to provide access to the project from their road.

Just Dial 9-1-1 for All Emergency Help Calls

From either the Chelsea area or the Dexter area, in addition to anyplace else in Washtenaw county, citizens may now dial "9-1-1" and someone will answer and send help immediately.

After dialing "9-1-1," be sure to give all the necessary information: the exact location of the emergency, and your name and phone number.

Try not to panic, and hang up. The person taking the information may need to ask more questions.

"9-1-1" is easy to remember. For non-emergency calls, look in your phone directory for the appropriate police or fire department business number.

The quickest way to get help is to dial "9-1-1." Of course, your telephone operator will continue to provide emergency assistance if you dial "0" (operator), but the fastest way to get help is to dial "9-1-1."

Business customers with Michigan Bell's Centrex service, or who own/lease a private branch exchange (PBX) system, need to dial the normal access code to get an outside line before dialing "9-1-1."

In addition, if you have a PBX system, you need to have your vendor/supplier check the equipment to ensure the "9-1-1" code is activated.

Dialing "9-1-1" will get immediate fire response, medical response and police response anywhere within Washtenaw county.

Home Fire Brings Back Vivid Childhood Memories

By Russ Ogden
Free Lance Drama Critic and Retired EMU Professor

Turkeyville—The wailing of dogs, screaming from an attack of painful fright in their own way, joined by an incessant chorus of pain expressed by screeching canaries and budgies (parakeets) as an uncontrollable house fire fanned by careless winds bringing an end to a happy home. My mother's many humanized pets became charred remnants, sad reminders of yesterday's happiness turned into pitiful replicas of memories past.

Sixty years later the odiferous winds carrying the strong aroma of burning flesh and feathers brings forth memories of our home burning at my age 5. We were destitute, no insurance, no savings, hand-to-mouth living.

"Did you know that Val Pace's home was destroyed by fire last night?" A call from Linda of Pritchard Productions in Marshall, telling about the Pace home in Homer totally destroyed by fire this last week.

Reveries of Val Pace flashed in my memory bank. To me Val Pace is an angel, always smiling, making sure you were happy, and providing comforts other people would ignore. As a hostess (waitress) earlier at the True Grist Dinner Theatre in Homer and now at Cornwell's Turkeyville, the injured Val is a gem.

Last Sunday evening a testimonial to the goodness of Sam and Val Pace was held with a dinner and a performance of "Driving Miss Daisy" at the Cornwell Theatre. The actors donated their services along with David Pritchard Productions and the Cornwells served a meal with donations by invited patrons of the evening. The Paces were gifted to the tune of $1,700 Sunday evening.

Val, in a speech to all present, expressed the charity of the Cornwells and what giving people they were at her time of crisis. Sam Pace works at a local manufacturing plant and had left for work when Val had returned from the theatre. She had her own two children plus a neighbor child spending the night at their Homer residence about five miles from town.

"Alarms went off... or else I would never have survived," Val stated. She told her oldest daughter and friend to go to the yard while she looked for her youngest daughter in the house. In the process of dodging flames, part of the kitchen ceiling fell on her as she desperately searched for her youngest. Running from the house with the child in her arms, Val watched the house burning.

In Homer, however, the fire bell rang at the Homer Fire Department, according to Rory Cavender and Kurt Swope, all 23 members joined in the race to the Pace dwelling. According to Cavender and Swope (in attendance at the Sunday performance), the fire truck left the fire station one minute after the alarm was sent. When they arrived, however, flames were coming out of the windows! To enter the dwelling would have been idiotic; thus they waited as the fire subsided, and the second story had fallen in.

Kurt Swope, a young member of the volunteer fire department, expressed his amazement and admiration of the efforts of his 22 other Homer buddies in their endeavor to save and contain what they could during the holocaust.

Paces and their three children are currently living at her parents. Similar to my family 60 years earlier, we had no insurance nor did they. Only items of clothing on their bodies remained after the fire. Her stupor was interrupted by an ambulance and a visit to the local hospital. Val's hospital visit found her with second and third degree burns on her arms with multi-bruises over her body.

From her tear-stained personage, Val's voice clearly rang through the emotional sobs as her appreciation of warmth extended to her by those present; by her employer—the Cornwell family; by the actors, members of Pritchard Productions; members of the Homer community; became a warming emotion that caring was still present in small and large communities, the word "neighborly feelings" still exists. These gestures of love currently encompass the Pace family.

Val and Sam Pace represent goodness! They also are a family in need of love and the necessities of life. If your hand suddenly reached out to write a check to "Sam and Val Pace," and mailing it to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pace, Cornwell's Dinner Theatre, 18935 15th Mile Rd., Marshall, Michigan 49068, the world would instantly be a better place.

The kindness extended to our family 60 years ago by neighbors and strangers who came forth with canned foods, blankets, new clothing, cash and many other items gave me the feeling of "goodness about mankind" that I have tried to carry forward even to this day.

of this community. But, "Sex Respect" has been rejected by the school as "not comprehensive enough," though it is used in over 1,000 public school districts through the country. Why is it impossible to have a good, morally-based program implemented? Why is there so much power in the hands of a few very intent on "doing their own thing" in spite of what is in the best interest of young people and the wishes of their parents?

Those of us who have voiced our concerns and expressed them by our presence at the last three Sex Education Advisory Committee meetings (at least 102 different individuals) are being regarded as a "vocal minority." I'm sure that parents who care about their children and pastors who care about the spiritual and moral values of their congregations have never been a minority in this community. Our "do their own thing" could better serve their community and uphold our values by implementing rather than rejecting or re-working curriculums to meet their approval when their approval conflicts with our approval, especially in this area.

Our children's lives and the quality of their futures depend on these curriculum choices, and we and our children will pay the price of irresponsible education while any administrator or educator "doing their own thing" goes merrily on their way, consequence free—salary paid—by us!

Kathy A. Zeigler.

Dear Editor,

I am VERY upset with the Chelsea School Board Administration! We just received a newsletter in the mail stating the trip for the Beach School Band to Bobo Island had been cancelled. It seems that it has been "disallowed" by the Administration. My son, along with many others, is both confused and hurt by this whole thing.

This trip was the high point of being in band, and all the kids worked very hard selling candy bars thinking that the money that was raised was going towards the expense of the trip.

In the very same newsletter, there was a sign-up sheet from the Music Boosters for the kids to sign up for other fundraisers. The kids need to participate in 50% of the fundraisers if they want aid from the Music Boosters for future tours. While I am not blaming the Music Boosters for the cancellation of the trip, my son wonders "what's the use?" He feels like it will just be cancelled again.

While I do not know all the reasons for the cancellation, I do know the hurt and frustration the kids are all feeling, and I did not envy Mr. Mayer's job in trying to explain to all the kids. This trip was planned well in advance, and if there was a problem, why did it take so long to voice it? Now it is getting too late to try to come up with something else to take its place. I thought the School Administration was there to work FOR the kids, not against them!

I wouldn't blame the kids, or the parents, for not signing up for any more fundraisers. While it is not the fault of the Music Boosters, I for one wonder if the money raised will go to future tours. And where did the money already raised for the Bobo trip go to?

I truly hope the Administration will reconsider its position, if it isn't already too late, and let the kids go on the trip to Bobo Island as planned. The kids all worked so hard.

Ellen Bowers.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I am writing to again encourage the concerned parents and clergy of Chelsea to attend the "Sex Education Advisory Committee Meeting" on April 29, in the High School Media Center at 7:30 p.m. It's important that, by your presence and, when given the opportunity to speak, we express our desire for responsible, morally based, sex education effective in reducing teen sexual activity, pregnancies, and sexually transmitted diseases. At the March 25 meeting, our proposal to 1) implement the already-approved "Sex Respect" program as an alternate choice to parents, 2) better inform parents of program content and ask parents to sign their child into rather than out of the courses, and 3) recommend these actions to the school board for approval and implementation for the 1991-92 school year, was referred to a summer curriculum review committee under the direction of Dr. Laurie Bissell. The dual program offering parents a choice was denied on the basis of a claim by Dr. Bissell and Superintendent Plaseki to be currently using an abstinence-based curriculum. However, parents certainly have good reason to question how and if this claimed abstinence message is getting through to the 8th and 9th grade students when:

1) some of the audio-visual presentations and classroom discussions are sexually arousing and encouraging toward sexual expression rather than abstinence, and

2) contraception is taught to 9th graders in Biology 1 even though it is now known that "Prior contraceptive education increases the odds of starting intercourse at the age of 14 by a factor of 1.5." A factor of 1.5 might not seem like much, but in actuality, it is a staggering 50% increase! ("Dr. Deborah Ann Dawson, in "Family Planning Perspectives")

The justification for including contraceptive education in the 9th grade is so that "the young people will know what's available to them when they marry." If that is truly the reason, then this information would be better given to graduating seniors in the spring of the year in a single

Law Day Awards Given By County Bar Association

On Thursday, April 18, the Washtenaw County Bar Association met at Weber's Inn to present several merit awards, including the Liberty Bell Award and the Patriot Award. The Bar Association also held its annual election of new officers, and the new officers were sworn in.

The Liberty Bell Award

The 1991 Liberty Bell Award Winner is Charles Beatty. The Liberty Bell Award is presented by the Bar Association to a non-lawyer for community service that strengthens the legal system. The award is intended to grant public recognition to a deserving citizen who promotes a better understanding of the constitution and the bill of rights, and who encourages his/her fellow citizens to greater respect for the courts and the rule of law by stimulating a recognition of the duties as well as the rights that go with citizenship.

Charles Beatty, 82, has devoted a lifetime to education and community service. He holds a B.A. from Eastern Michigan University and an M.A. from the University of Michigan. He served as a public school elementary teacher and principal for 39 years. He was co-founder of the L.C. Perry Preschool program, which has gained international recognition in helping young children make an early success of school.

Beatty firmly believes in the vital importance of instilling a respect for law and responsibility in students at an early age, and one of Beatty's proudest achievements as a teacher was the very large number of his pupils who graduated from high school.

Beatty is an active church member and has played important roles in the Ypsilanti Breakfast Optimist Club, the Ypsilanti Boy's Club, the Boy Scouts of America, the Ypsilanti Housing Commission, and the Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor Business and Professional League.

Beatty was an outstanding track star in his youth, and in 1978 was inducted into the Eastern Michigan University Athletic Hall of Fame. He was instrumental in organizing after-school athletic programs in the Ypsilanti Perry School area. He has previously been honored by numerous organizations, including the Michigan Elementary Principal's Association, the Eastern Michigan Alumni Association, the National Black Child Development Institute, and the University of Pennsylvania.

The Patriot Award

The 1991 Patriot Award Winner is the Honorable Francis L. O'Brien. The Patriot Award parallels the Liberty Bell Award, except that the Patriot Award is presented by the Bar Association to a lawyer whose community service and professional activities strengthen the legal system and promote a better understanding of the constitution and the bill of rights.

The Hon. Francis L. O'Brien, 83, has spent his entire lifetime in public service. He received his B.A. from Eastern Michigan University and his J.D. from the University of Michigan. He was a public school teacher for six years, a member of the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors for four years, and the Chief Assistant Prosecuting Attorney for Washtenaw county for three years.

In 1949 he was appointed Municipal Judge. During his 18 years as Municipal Judge, Judge O'Brien devoted considerable energy to developing services for alcoholism. He was appointed to the Michigan State Board of Alcoholism and was largely responsible for the establishment of the Washtenaw County Alcohol Clinic.

Judge O'Brien was elected Probate Judge of Washtenaw county in 1966, and presided over the Juvenile Division of Probate Court for 12 years.

In the 1960's, Judge O'Brien spearheaded the establishment of local group homes as an alternative to institutional placement of delinquent youths, at a time when Washtenaw county had no place other than detention for housing and educating delinquent youths.

In the 1970's Judge O'Brien organized the creation of a Vocational Residential center for "high risk" children. This center evolved into a comprehensive program that serves approximately 200 youths, with two major divisions: (1) the Center for Occupational and Personalized Education, which provides remedial education, skill training and recreational programs, and (2) the Francis L. O'Brien Center for Youth Development, which provides intensive day time supervision and treatment to youth who are chronic runaways or school truants, as well as emergency temporary housing.

Throughout his career, Judge O'Brien has stressed the need for voluntary community-based services to strengthen individuals and families in contact with courts. His achievements in this regard have permanently enriched the lives of the people of Washtenaw county. Judge O'Brien received the distinguished alumnus award from Eastern Michigan University in 1983.

★ Choose Kennel/Pet Sitter with Care ...

While travelling with a pet can be mutually rewarding, there are times when your dog or cat can't or shouldn't accompany you on a trip. In such cases, a boarding kennel or pet sitter is a good choice for your pet. But it's important to investigate the services available before you leave your animal in someone else's care.

Here in the Washtenaw county area, we have a wide selection of boarding facilities (including veterinarians who offer boarding), and pet sitters who will either check in on your pet regularly or who will actually move into your home and care for your pet while you're away. Check the phone book or call the humane society for listings.

I highly recommend visiting a boarding facility before boarding your pet. Ask to see the cages and exercise areas. If they won't allow you to look, choose another kennel. Is the facility clean? How often are the pets exercised?

What type of food is fed (although providing your own food is usually the best choice)? Is a veterinarian on premises, or at least on call? Are the cage sizes appropriate (at least large enough for your pet to stand up, turn around, and lie down comfortably)?

Proof of vaccination should be required prior to boarding to protect the health of all the animals. Finally, ask for a written price list and be prepared to make reservations weeks and sometimes months in advance, especially for holidays.

Hiring a pet sitter allows your pet to remain in the familiar surroundings of home while you travel. A pet sitter is often a wise choice for very young, elderly, or infirm pets who would not withstand well the stresses of boarding. Even if you choose a friend or relative instead of a professional pet sitter, make sure that you write down your expectations of care (i.e. how many times visited per day, walks and playtimes, feeding schedule, emergency instructions for illness or escape, etc.). Most importantly, fit your cat or dog with a sturdy collar and current identification tag before you go. Hundreds of pets in our area are lost each year while their owners are away.

For free pet boarding information, send a self-addressed stamped legal envelope to: Pet Boarding, c/o L. Reider, HSHV, 3100 Cherry Hill Rd., Ann Arbor 48106.

ASTIGMATISM

Most people are aware of the term "astigmatism", but few could describe it. Many patients fear they have some unusual eye disease when told they have astigmatism, and it has been blamed for many maladies, from double vision to headaches.

So what is astigmatism? It is an imperfection in the curvature of the cornea of the eye—the clear dome-shaped structure covering the iris and pupil. Ideally, the cornea would be curved spherically, perfectly round, and in some people it is. But most of us have some degree of astigmatism, meaning the cornea is a little bit oblong, or egg-shaped. This affects the focusing ability of the cornea. The eye can be nearsighted or farsighted at the same time.

Correction for astigmatism is routinely ground into spectacles, and except for rare individuals with unusual amounts of astigmatism, corrected vision should be normal. Both eyes are usually affected about equally.

Soft contact lenses can correct small amounts of astigmatism. Hard or gas permeable contacts will be needed for higher levels, as the soft contact will conform to the oblong shape of the cornea.

"A Day in the Death of Joe Egg"

Ann Arbor—Oh, how I wish that my vocabulary could faintly touch that of playwright Peter Nichols!

In the current Ann Arbor Civic Production of "A Day in the Death of Joe Egg," a feast of not only meaningful words arranged in brilliant verbal array confronts us, but the implication that society is still uncivilized after all these years of suffering.

As the father of "Joe Egg," Chelsea's Larry Rusinsky as "Bri" accuses us metaphorically (and, yes, sometimes direct verbally) with our stupidity edited by English society. What a joy it would be to see Rusinsky perform in a role not demanding the "personification of so many personalities." Bet he would be an absolute critical knockout.

As the father of Josephine, the brain damaged daughter affectionately referred to as "Joe Egg," Bri berates himself and society of our individual inadequacies in several fire and brimstone confrontations with the audience. In an impossible role in an impossible play, Rusinsky gives a performance approaching excellence from beginning to end.

We are an upper-level class in Britain taught by Brian. The school day is ending, but apparently the teacher—Brian—has been upset with our behavior and continues to rant and rave, threatening the audience by approaching several of them personally and directly as to their poor attitude. Uncomfortableness is the word for me as this "teacher" finds me smiling.

Lights dim, pulling us into the living room of Brian and Sheila, parents of "Joe Egg" who is dutifully explained in banter between these two owners of a brain damaged child. Blame is in the air constantly as to who caused the incurable situation to this attractive young child.

Vaudeville approaches, i.e., coming out toward the audience to speak about a given situation, continues throughout the first and second acts. Innermost thoughts are given to the audience but not to each other, i.e., Brian and Sheila. Everything including sexual happiness to family togetherness has crumbled since the arrival of "Joe Egg."

Sheila, at Brian's suggestion, joined an amateur theatrical group and oftentimes these members are referred to in the first act: they appear as Freddie (Tim Henning) and Pam (Paige Brady), a married couple with Freddie organizing and directing the amateur theatrical learning group. Freddie has sensed the unhappiness of Sheila and Bri and in a forthright attempt to solve the situation, suggests solutions... all tried previously or an unwillingness to try.

Pam represents an uncaring member of society, self-centered somewhat and wishing that Bri and Sheila would work out their own problems.

Culmination of relationships finalizes when Bri's mother, Grace (Erica Dutton) arrives to give an insight into Bri's unopened background not observable or spoken about before.

When one finishes the evening observing this sextet of talented people, Nichols has slashed us into believing that brain damaged children may be called "Joe Egg," but any other member of the quintet could easily be captioned with the same moniker.

Our last view of the family is "Joe Egg" sitting in her wheelchair, mother exited to look for something, father Bri leaving his family with suitcase in hand, and the exiting of the well-intended—Pam and Freddie—going on their way.

As presented by the Ann Arbor Civic Theatre, Joe Egg is humorous, oftentimes guttural; slashing in accusations at each other and the world; and not providing solvable means to problems of all we "Joe Eggs."

For an amateur group to even consider producing this play was sheer professional guts; to see an amateur group grab the roles with such a believable determination causes "goose bumps of respect" to pour through overheated pores in the temporary theatre.

How might the "Day in the Death of Joe Egg" be improved? Director Dana Buck needs to tighten the script, stage movements. Seemed as though we had been there four hours instead of 2+ when the evening was over. Move, move, move! Part of the length was caused by a stale, overly warm theatre and chairs not built for comfort.

With "Joe Egg" epitomized from a British viewpoint, inaction verbalizes action, thus enunciation of words becomes even more necessary for the full import of the drama. Buck's choice was to try a British accent. She did! It's amazing the actors do as with the script. All approaching several of them personally and directly as to their poor attitude. Uncomfortableness is the word for me as this "teacher" finds me smiling.

Another Chelsea Theatrical, Henning's capturing the role of Freddie is most applaudable as the well-meaning, empathic friend. Despite the inability to hear the "British accent" at times, Erica Dutton's (of Chelsea) appearance and physical stature were great.

Never appear on-stage with a child, they'll steal the show everytime. Ariel Buck's silent performance as the wheelchair bound Josephine (Joe Egg) was an awesome wonderment.

Kim Mackenzie as the mother and compatriot of Brian was especially superb in her scenes when she interacted with people, the characteristic of a good Theatrical. And, Paige Brady, as the self-centered Pam was so great that I hated her from time to time.

Enhancing the action on-stage was the superb lighting by Thom Johnson.

"Joe Egg" deserves your attendance which may be had on Thursday through Saturdays, April 11, 12, 13 and April 18, 19, 20, 8 p.m., all evenings. Thursday evening, two-for-one admission. WASHINGTON STREET SHOW CHOIR has scheduled a cabaret show for May 11. The group of lively young singers from Chelsea High school, under the direction of Steven Hinz, entertained South school students last week with several tunes, including "Monster Mash."

Washington St. Show Choir Plans Cabaret Concert for May 11

The "show choir" concept is new to most of Chelsea's population and you have to see it to once again be reminded of the musical talent this community harbors.

Washington Street Show choir was founded and named by our high school choir director, Steven P. Hinz who had worked with such a group earlier in his career. When he presented the idea and asked for interested students to audition for such a choir last fall, 36 enthusiastic students suddenly found themselves meeting a new challenge and having a ball doing it. Hinz serves as their director and mentor. The "show choir" takes uplifting songs and adds high energy and crowd-pleasing choreographed dance routines. The result is fantastic.

Parents and choir members with Hinz at the helm, rallied and in record time had the funding they needed to get the program off the ground. The school district was not able to give any financial support because their budget for the year was already in place; however, the accounting is done through the high school office.

Everyone involved is very grateful for the generous financial support of local organizations, businesses and individuals. This support enabled the choir to purchase music, costumes and special risers. Hinz has volunteered his many hours of time and efforts to make this happen. The choreographer, Roxie Kring, agreed to work with the kids on a volunteer basis also although everyone hoped there would be enough money in the pot to pay her at a later date. The donations received plus some successful fund-raising efforts, including selling poinsettias, will enable Roxie to be slightly compensated for her hard work and many hours.

Because of the positive response from students and the public, competition for the group is a possibility for the next school year. A sound system would be needed to compete.

Chelsea Senior Citizens were the first to witness the potential of the show choir last fall. With just two numbers and dressed in jeans, the choir gave a sample of the excitement to come. All those present knew we had a winner! After many hours of rehearsals, the show choir has given additional performances including those for the elementary and middle schools and at the Masonic Temple in Detroit.

The WSSC will present a Cabaret Concert on Saturday, May 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. The evening will include two hours of entertainment including some frolicking fun. There will be a short intermission with refreshments available. Advance ticket prices are $4 for all adults and $1 for students and youngsters.

To make tickets more available, they are being sold at the Chelsea Pharmacy or you may send in your check or money order to WSSC, P.O. Box 532, Chelsea 48118. They select the best seats available at the time, and hold the tickets for you to pick up at the door. Tickets will also be available at the North Territorial Family Medical Center. Mail order ticket requests must be received by Wednesday, May 8. Prices for tickets at the door will be $5 and $2.

The enthusiasm of these terrific kids and the good time they have on stage is contagious. Join them for a great evening!

Economy Would Benefit From Capital Gains Cut

American Farm Bureau Federation is supporting a renewed effort by President Bush to enact a cut in the capital gains tax. Al Almy, director of public affairs for Michigan Farm Bureau, said that a capital gains tax cut would reward people who turn ideas into goods and services that other people need.

"Farm Bureau thinks the most positive point about the lower capital gains tax rate and indexing as investment incentives, is that no tax break occurs unless the investment actually increases productivity and the value of the enterprise," he said.

Almy said the problem with other tax incentives, like investment tax credits, is that a tax break results regardless of the economic payoff in efficiency of production or value of the firm.

Legislation Brings State's Farm Employers Under Federal Rules

Gov. Engler recently signed legislation that temporarily brings farm employers under federal field sanitation standards instead of much more stringent state rules. That's good news for farmers who hire few workers, according to Michigan Farm Bureau labor expert Howard Kelly.

"Farmers with 10 or less employees will not be required to conform to the federal field sanitation standards," Kelly said. "That doesn't mean that farmers won't voluntarily comply, but by law they will not be required to have the specified hand washing and drinking water facilities."

Kelly said the legislation extends the life of Michigan occupational safety and health rules for six months, and also delays the scheduled huge increase in fines for violating federal farm worker safety and health regulations.

More Time To Sign Up Teachers for Ag Institute

The reservation deadline for the 1991 Summer Institute for Educators has been extended to May 15. "That's good news for teachers who want to incorporate agriculture into their classroom activities," said Julie Chamberlain, manager of the Promotion and Education department for Michigan Farm Bureau.

"The purpose of the Institute is to help educators learn about the food and fiber industry, so that they can use examples from that industry to teach science, social studies, economics, math and language arts," Chamberlain said.

The Institute will take place June 19-28 in Okemos.
