CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, May 29, 1991

KING BOB BENEDICT, otherwise known as principal of South Elementary school, was greeted by a throng of well-wishers last Friday as the school held a retirement party for the long-time leader of the school. Children sang songs and performed skits to mark the occasion.

Village Planners Okay Revisions To Home Occupations Ordinance

Chelsea Village Planning Commission voted to recommend approval of a revised home occupations ordinance as well as a site plan performance guarantee ordinance at their regular meeting Tuesday, May 21.

The revised home occupations ordinance is designed to clear up ambiguities in the ordinance which have caused the village and residents problems over the years. It also tightens requirements.

Most recently, Royalty Limousine Service was taken to court by the village after neighbors complained. The business has since ceased operations, and all village complaints were dismissed. However, owners Gene Haab and Marvin Schiller still have a lawsuit for damages pending against the village.

The definition of a home occupation has been simplified. It would be "An accessory use of a dwelling unit for gainful employment involving the sale of goods and/or services."

Home occupations will become special land uses in all residential districts as well as the AG-1 agricultural district. As such, a home occupation will require the approval of the planning commission after a public hearing is held.

The new ordinance also expands the number of conditions from three to 12. Any home business, which does not meet all 12 conditions, will not be allowed.

The conditions include:

- The business will be permitted only in a single-family dwelling unit.
- No person other than members of the family residing in the dwelling shall be employed or engaged in the business.
- The use of the dwelling unit for the business will be subordinate to its use as a residence.
- There will be no change in the exterior appearance of the structure to accommodate the business.
- No article shall be sold or displayed anywhere on the premises except those prepared or produced by the occupants.
- No more than one parking space for the business, and it cannot be located on the street.
- No outside storage.
- No equipment which generates noise, vibration, glare, fumes, odor, electrical interference, or radio or television interference will be allowed.

• Fire, explosive, radioactive or chemical contamination hazards will not be allowed.

• Not more than one two-square-foot sign attached to the dwelling unit will be allowed.

• Vehicles containing any sign, markings, or other display associated with the business will not be allowed to deliver materials to or from the premises.

• No combination of home and business can use more utilities than the average for residences in the neighborhood.

The site plan ordinance was devised as a way to force developers to complete improvements, such as landscaping or sidewalks, that were approved as part of their plans. For example, in order for a developer to receive a certificate of occupancy for an office building in February, a monetary guarantee for the improvements would have to be in place.

As part of the site plan process, the village routinely requires guarantees for roads and other public improvements.

Memorial Day Address

By Darcy Stielstra

In your life time, how have you punctuated Memorial Day?—Possibly with an exclamation point as in: "Yes! Memorial Day!" In your life you may have used a question mark as in: "Memorial Day?" Or possibly you have used a factual statement; a matter-of-fact "Memorial Day," with a simple period bringing the thought to an abrupt end. How about the same period but this time preceded by a reflective and distant "Memorial Day, Memorial."

In your life time, how have you punctuated Memorial Day? How do you remember the Memorial Days of your life? How do you punctuate today's Memorial Day.

This is my 45th Memorial Day and although I suspect each was different, I remember them not individually but rather in phases. Instead of 45 individual memories, I remember four, maybe five, transitions; each carrying a changing attitude and a different punctuation for Memorial Day.

Join me as I briefly revisit my transitions and see if they may also be your transitions; especially if you are a member of the "baby boomer" generation.

Life's early Memorial Days carried a large exclamation mark. How could it be otherwise for a child.

1. Green grass following a cold winter.
2. Song birds and frogs.
3. Parades.
4. A "ready-aim-fire" that forced small hands to cover ears in anticipation of the awesome crash from rifles paying tribute to memories.

I was hardly patriotic then. My commitment to country went about as deep as this poem by Shell Silverstein entitled "Flag":

One star is for Alaska...
One star is for Nebraska...
One star is for North Dakota...
One star is for Minnesota...
There are lots of other stars,
But I forgot which ones they are.

What a grand time of optimism and world calm; at least as seen through the eyes of a youngster.

But exclamation marks gave way to "question mark" Memorial Days in the sixties and seventies for most baby boomers. With Vietnam at its core, the unquestioned values of childhood gave way to cracks in our self-assured and self-righteous belief in world order. Doubt, fear of power and uncertainty in the previously perceived purity of American purpose became the norm. Bob Dylan told us "the times, they are a changin'." And change they did!

The passage of time demanded decisions and each man and woman, in his or her own way, placed a "period" at the end of their Memorial Day celebration. A matter-of-fact period that found Americans in Southeast Asia, Canada, rioting and in jail. It was a time for action you see—not for questions any more.

Senators and Congressmen please heed to the call.

Meeting Slated Today on Downtown Project

Chelsea downtown merchants and property owners can find out the timetable of the Downtown Development Authority's downtown beautification project at a meeting today (Wednesday) at 2 p.m. in the village offices.

A representative of Flat Rock Contractors, as well as DDA's architect, will be on hand to answer any questions about the project.

BEACH MIDDLE SCHOOL PRINCIPAL Darcy Stielstra, a Vietnam War veteran, delivered an upbeat Memorial Day address Monday morning in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Outdoor Commencement To Cap Week for Seniors

Chelsea High school seniors are in the spotlight this week beginning with tonight's Baccalaureate services and ending with graduation exercises Sunday.

This year Class Night and Baccalaureate nights have been changed. Class night was moved to Friday to allow out of town guests the opportunity to attend both class night and graduation.

Baccalaureate begins tonight (Wednesday) at 7:30 p.m. in the high school's George Prinzing Auditorium.

The Rev. Chuck Clemons of the Chelsea Full Gospel church will be the officiating minister while the Rev. Sondra Willobee of the North Lake United Methodist church will be the liturgist.

All seniors, family and friends are welcome to attend.

Friday's Class Night begins at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium. It is the annual opportunity to recognize all seniors who are receiving scholarships, departmental awards, and other recognitions for high school achievements. The community is invited to attend.

Heart & Sole Run Slated for Saturday

At 8 a.m. Saturday, June 1, the gun will fire and the runners and walkers will launch the second annual Heart & Sole Run/Walk. A slightly revised route will allow the runners and walkers to finish east of Main St., near Kresge House. The 10K participants will loop through Belser Estates and the shorter route will head up Main St.

David Parham, chairperson of the run, has solicited the help of Dave Bolton of the Village DPW to fill in some very swampy spots on the trail with material the village collects and grinds into chips. The committee has spread the material in hopes of improving conditions for those running the 10K.

The response has been brisk but the largest group will probably register Friday evening. The Food Service Dept. at Chelsea Community Hospital will prepare a spaghetti dinner available to registrants that evening for a modest sum. It will be served in the main dining room from 5 to 7 p.m.

There is an application form elsewhere in this issue which may be filled out and sent to Chelsea Community Hospital. All runners and walkers who want one will be guaranteed a "Heart & Sole" tee shirt. There will be awards in several age categories and a drawing for prizes.

The Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce is co-sponsoring the event with the Chelsea Community Hospital.

On Sunday at 3 p.m. the 118th Chelsea High School Commencement will begin, weather permitting, on the high school football field. In case of bad weather, the activities will be in the gymnasium.

Gates or doors will be open at 2 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Student addresses will be given by Sarah Gegenheimer and Brett Salamin.

The Rev. William Matthews of the Chelsea Christian Fellowship church will give the invocation and benediction. Members of the Board of Education will present diplomas to graduates.

"The senior class is very excited about the opportunity to move its commencement outside, but they are also concerned that all in attendance recognize that this is a very formal event, not an athletic event," said principal Ron Mead.

"They remind all planning to attend to please dress appropriately and conduct themselves in a manner fitting for a graduation. Everyone is asked to remain seated in the bleachers throughout the program, with no one allowed on the hillside. No food should be brought into the stadium and people are requested to refrain from smoking."

Mead also said that anyone planning to photograph the event should plan to take photographs from their seats. Anyone planning to use video cameras is advised to arrive early to find a top row seat to avoid blocking anyone's view.

Chelsea-Ann Arbor Bus Route Not in Jeopardy Until End of Summer

Bus service between Chelsea and Ann Arbor will continue at least through August.

Ann Arbor Transportation Authority Executive Director Mike Bolton said last week the service would continue through the summer, no matter what happens with financial negotiations with the village.

A flyer, which Bolton said was mistakenly distributed to a few passengers, indicated the village had refused to pay any money and the service would stop in June. It upset several members of village council, especially trustee Joe Merkel, who said he wanted to talk to "Bolton's bosses," and "maybe someone should lose their job" over the matter.

"It was an honest mistake," Bolton said of the flyer, without elaborating on how the mistake occurred.

"Those notices were prematurely released."

AATA has asked the village to pay $9,063 to keep the service running through September. Chelsea Village Council has indicated it is not willing to pay the full local share but has never taken a vote on how much it would be willing to pay.

On several occasions, bus riders from the surrounding area have approached council about trying to work out some financial arrangement. The village has asked the surrounding townships to help pay for the route, but none have voted to do so.

A few of the local riders have told council they would be willing to pay $2 each way if it means the service will continue. They rely on the bus for transportation to work.

Council has suggested a combination of a fare increase and a service cut.

Last Wednesday, Bolton asked the AATA board to allow him to consider raising the fare from $1 to $1.75 and eliminate some bus runs. Some mid-day runs during the week, and Saturday service, are likely runs to be cut.

Based on AATA information, a fare of about $1.55 would cover nearly all the cost of the route, based on 85 passengers daily. Bolton said he would expect to lose some passengers with a higher fare, which he called "the elasticity factor."

"We're not sure what will happen if the fare goes over $1.55," Bolton said.

Bolton said riders have suggested alternate routing, perhaps through Scio township, as a means to pick up more riders. However, Bolton said the township so far does not want to participate. He said the fact that the state requires bus service anywhere it considers building a half-way house may have something to do with the township's decision.

Riders have also suggested increased promotion of the route, which Bolton said he would be willing to do.

"The people who are using the bus have been very creative in trying to make it work," Bolton said.

Lakes Sewer Project Progressing on Schedule

"The Portage-Base Lakes Water and Sewer Authority wastewater project for Portage and Base Lakes is coming along well, and on schedule," chairman James Drolett reported, May 20.

His progress report stated, "Sewers around Base Lake, and on the east side of Portage Lake, under D. J. Higgins, Inc., are nearing completion, and the contractor's clean-up crews are following close behind construction."

"In June, Higgins plans to start on the south and west shores of Portage Lake."

"The pumping stations being built by Union Construction are close to completion, except for final electrical and control wiring."

"Mead Brothers Excavating has completed shaping the lagoons and infiltration sand beds, and has constructed the control building and appurtenances."

"Installation of the lagoon liner is scheduled for June, with treatment equipment soon to follow."

Drolett explained, "For anyone who has questions regarding the sewer project, we suggest they call the Authority office during normal working hours."

"Elizabeth Brushaber at the office will direct their concerns to the appropriate party. Her phone is 428-0610. Over-all, the project is more than two-thirds complete."

"The Sewer Authority Board has developed a sewer-use ordinance to meet requirements of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. The ordinance is to be adopted by the Authority and each township."

"As we look ahead toward beginning the process of connecting to the sewer system, you will receive a further letter of instruction from the Authority, and will have up to 90 days after date of notification to complete connection to the system. You or your contractor will make an application for connection at the Authority office, and will be given details of where your connection is to be made. The fee for the application will be $25. Your contractor will take that information to the Washtenaw County or Livingston County Building Inspection Department, depending on the county in which you are located, and make application for construction of the sewer lead. All construction work will be in accordance with county standards, and will require inspection by the county plumbing inspector. Their fee for this permit is currently $40.

"As project progress continues on schedule, some areas may begin to make connections later this summer, with all areas available for connection by October."

Farmers Fight Fuel Economy Standards

Farm Bureau is supporting congressional efforts to kill a proposal that would force automakers to improve the fuel economy of their vehicles. Al Almy, director of public affairs for Michigan Farm Bureau, said better fuel economy sounds like a good thing, but the concept comes with a high price tag for farmers and other rural people.

"Farmers are hit especially hard by the unrealistic new standards that are set for pickup trucks," he said. "These trucks must be heavier and more powerful to do the jobs they were meant for. The scarcer, more expensive these trucks are, the higher the cost will be to the farm business."

Almy said Farm Bureau believes the market system is far superior and more efficient than government agencies for determining the appropriate miles-per-gallon efficiency for automobiles and trucks.

Engler Defends Budget Action In Court Test

Arguments on a suit testing the limits of the governor's authority to control state spending opened with Governor John Engler asserting the method he chose to circumvent the Legislature in dealing with a budget crisis poses no danger of uncontrolled arbitrary power.

Democratic legislative leaders, who say the action has created an unprecedented constitutional crisis, allege they have no power in the legislative process to counteract the "abuse of power."

The confrontation revolves around the governor's use of the Administrative Board to transfer funds to implement a budget plan, including the elimination of much of the General Assistance welfare program to keep Medicaid and other services operating through the rest of the fiscal year.

Administration officials say the board has acted similarly in its 70-year history, while Democrats say it was an unprecedented way to alter basic state policy.

If the Ingham County Circuit Court (and higher courts through expected appeals) upholds Engler (who also has line-item veto power), some administration officials acknowledge the governor stands to gain extraordinary authority, although they add he does not intend to operate in that fashion.

Speaker Lewis Dodak (D-Montrose), who initiated the suit, said the issue is neither political nor about the GA program. "This is a constitutional crisis. The Legislature has to play an important role," he said.

A brief filed on behalf of the governor cited a "grave financial situation" facing the state after a breakdown in negotiations, and said, "In the context of the instant case defendants submit that the people are protected from 'uncontrolled arbitrary power' in the hands of the state Administrative Board by the political process and by the specific limitations on the state Administrative Board's Authority contained in the statute."

The brief notes that half of the six-member board are members elected separately from the governor, or named by an elected board: the attorney general, secretary of state and superintendent of public instruction.

The transfer authority is contained in a 1921 law, which was partially repealed in 1984 when transfer authority was given to the Department of Management and Budget, subject to approval of the Legislature's Appropriations Committees.

The governor contends the laws create alternative transfer methods, rather than replacing the board authority. And, his brief suggests that if insufficient standards exist for the board authority, the same exists for transfers under the DMB act which sets no standards for "mere committees" to exercise authority over executive functions.

The governor also argued that Dodak and three other Democratic leaders have no standing as individual legislators to bring such a lawsuit. Neither house of the Legislature, nor the Appropriations Committees authorized the suit.

Under federal precedent, the brief said, a legislator may bring such suits when no power exists through the legislative process to remedy the alleged abuse. It said the Legislature could amend or repeal the law governing the board, or restore the transfers through appropriations, both of which are subject to gubernatorial veto.

"This in-house remedy recognizes the separation of power issues present in this case," the brief said.

But the brief filed by the legislators said they cannot remedy the "abuse of power" through the legislative process. It said the DMB act, which includes requirements for committee approval when transfers have policy implications or revise programs, "preserves the check-and-balance system so essential to our constitution."

A Republican House member said he will propose legislation repealing the board, leaving all transfer authority solely under the direction of the DMB act.

The legislators' suit asserts that one provision of the 1921 law authorizing board transfers was expressly repealed by the budget act, and that it controlled the language which was relied upon by the Legislature administration.

It said it would be an "absurd result" for the Legislature to repeal a section which provides for approval by the Appropriations Committees in order to give the board "unfettered discretion" over transfers.

The suit notes that the later budget act, adopted in 1984, provides "unquestioned legislative oversight" by the Appropriations Committees over disapproving transfers initiated by the governor. The House committee had also rejected a February Executive Order cutting several areas of spending, including the GA program.

"Rather than accepting the valid rejection of Executive Order 1991-5 by the House Appropriations Committee and letting the transfer process run its lawful course, the board stepped in and simply circumvented the statutorily prescribed process," the suit charges.

The governor's brief added Engler was forced into the action he took after negotiations with the plaintiff legislators had failed and all other options had been explored.

"The state of Michigan faces a fiscal crisis caused by revenue shortfalls, under-funding of enacted budget bills, and disagreement between the executive and legislative branches of state government about the method for reducing state deficits," it said.

The transfers by the board along with several other one-time revenue bills moving through the Legislature are intended to eliminate all but up to $150 million of a $823 million deficit. The transfers were ordered to not take effect before May 31.

Hospital Offers Variety of Free Lectures, Activities

Chelsea Community Hospital will offer a free substance abuse lecture in the Main Dining Room on Thursday, May 30 at 7:15 on "Stress Management in Recovery." Culturally, we have learned to manage our stress through the use of chemicals, whether we take a sleeping pill at night to sleep or celebrate a wedding with champagne. Therefore, in recovery, it is vital to look at how we cope with stress without the use of these chemicals. This lecture will define the stress response and give some tools on management of stress—without drugs.

Chelsea Community Hospital's Older Adult Chemical Dependency Family Night will feature "Spirituality and Recovery" presented by the Rev. Kathy Batell Tuesday, June 4 from 6:30 to 8 p.m. This free lecture will be held at 955 W. Eisenhower Circle, Suite E, Ann Arbor, across from Mervyn's. For more information call (313) 685-5070.

Chelsea Community Hospital is offering a Walk for Wellness Program in co-operation with Michigan Recreation and Park Association and Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Michigan. The next walk is Tuesday, June 4 at 1 p.m. and everyone should meet at the Senior Citizen Center for transportation to Hudson Mills Park.

The walks are open to anyone in the community and is approximately two miles long.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellows that make garden got to talking about crop rotation Saturday night at the country store, and the discussion rotated in all directions. Zeke Grubb said his old lady wants her tomatoes this year where they were last year. She says a few volunteers allus come up in that section of the little patch, and they're more likely to live than the plants she buys ever spring. Zeke said her mind is made up and she don't want to be confused by any facts about moving stuff around to give the soil a rest.

Right off, Zeke got some flak from Bug Hookum that noted there's no way to put any trust in volunteer tomatoes. He said the seed could of come from 10 mile away in bird droppings, and it is more likely to be a runt than a Big Boy. Bug said he sticks to store bought plants and he puts em in the same place because it gits the morning sun.

Practical speaking, Bug said, real farming is like real everthing. What goes around comes around, so one farmer's rotation this year is another farmer's aggravation the next. Conservation is the big buzz word nowadays, he said, and everybody agrees if you lose the top soil you strike out before you git to bat.

As fer cycles, Ed Doolittle took note of the latest round of military base closings and sacred cow gorings. He said everybody allus is in favor of a cost efficient military tailored to the job as long as tailoring don't include his district. Sen. John Breaux of Louisiana thinks the Defense Department's hit list of 31 installations is terrible, but Sen. Wendell Ford of Kentucky thinks it's great. Pure incidental, Louisiana would lose England Air Force Base and Kentucky's bases would dodge the bullet.

Further more, Breaux is claiming the closings are based on partisan politics because 60 percent are in Democrat districts. What Breaux ain't saying, Republican Ed noted, is that more than 60 percent of the districts are Democrat. Instead of ranting over who gits hit by this bullet, Ed said, Congress ought to make sure the cutback makes good defense sense and let the economics fall where they may.

Fer onct in a blue moon, Ed got some support from Democrat Clem Webster that said we got to relize the depending on a Federal payroll is false economy anyway. It is said that Washington, D.C. is depression and inflation proof, Clem said, but not when you know that city is not of the real economic world.

Clem's motion got a second from Zeke that said Florida is exhibit A in the case fer civilian use of closed military bases. Zeke said the state is full of big airports serving little town that couldn't possible afford them concrete runways. Towns walled when the training bases closed after WW II, Zeke said, but they were quick to use the fields to boost their economy.

Practical speaking, went on Zeke, this is the way towns can look at the move to cut back the military 25 percent. There ain't no economy in closing bases and paying to keep em up in case we need em. But letting em rot is worst. Zeke said, so ways ought to be worked out to run em to civilian use.

This is the right idee, which means its time won't ever come fer a bureaucrat.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew

Memorial Day Address...

Don't stand in the doorway
Don't block up the hall.
For he that gets hurt will be he who has stalled.

There's a battle outside and it's rag-
gin—
There's a battle outside and it's rag-
gin.

My first post-Vietnam remembrance of a national change of patriotic heart was the Bicentennial Fourth of July celebration in New York City. In "Big Apple" style the flag was flying proudly; a symbolic national reawakening, it seemed to me, and the "matter-of-fact" "period" behind my Memorial Day began to take a new quality—a reflective pride—a deep sense of belonging—of ownership—of patriotism. Memorial Day. Memorial Day.

The events of the past five months have touched this nation's sense of pride and, for my generation, added to our reflective Memorial Day
"period." The welcome back" initiatives for the soldiers from the Middle East included a belated "welcome home" to those from Southeast Asia.

Heroes reappeared! A president who was decisive and diplomatic in the face of arrogant aggression.
Generals with "white hats" of intellect and conscience who planned and implemented a military campaign based on regard for the lives of ordinary soldiers. The red, white and blue is a hero again and in poet Wilber
Nesbit's words is:

Your flag and my flag
And how it flies today.
In your land and my land
And half a world away!

Rose-red and blood-red,
The stripes forever gleam;
Snow-white and soul-white,—
The good forefathers dream;

Sky-blue and true blue,
With stars to gleam aright—
The glorified guidon on the day
The shelter through the night.

Those are my four punctuated transitions. When I began I mentioned a possible fifth transition but have not lived long enough to discover its meaning.

But I like to speculate.
If a fifth exists, my hope would be a utopian wish. That Memorial Days of the future be void of unnecessary or unnatural loss. My wish would be that we, as a people, understand the importance of the present moment:

1. The touch of a loved one.
 2. The joy of being a community.
 3. The love of the Divine.
 4. And yes, an afternoon barbecue.
- Best wishes for a joyous Memorial Day. I hope and trust you will cherish the memories you will create today;
be they at a cemetery, a barbecue grill, fishing or swimming.
Happy Memorial Day! (With an exclamation mark)

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I want to thank Mr. Gorley, Mr. Meyer, Mr. Rosheger and Ms. Warren, for their perseverance to try to keep student needs and programming of paramount concern. Because YOU, the teachers put students' needs first, there will be junior and senior high music trips. You have each paid dearly on behalf of your students, our children, and we truly appreciate your efforts.

TRADITIONALLY, the Middle School Band and Orchestra has taken the last non-student day of the teacher contract to go to Bob-Lo. This trip is a reward, it promotes a positive experience regardless of one's individual talent, it helps build the program for another year, and solidifies bonds of friendship beyond the classroom. Because Mr. Meyer and other music staff have been willing to be with students one more day of the year, and because it was in the best interest of the students not to miss an entire day of academics or activities involved in the last week of school, for 15 years the band/orchestra/choir has gone to Bob-Lo on the last non-student contract day.

This year, Mr. Meyer will be making the trip eight days after the end of school, on June 14 so the trip would not be cancelled entirely. Mr. Meyer does not get paid extra to make this trip with his students. Unfortunately, it is no longer a "school trip," but a "summer event" which is conflicting with other summer schedules for many students. This change in TRADITION is due to Mr. Piasecki's "no exception" to THE POLICY that ALL teachers will be present in their buildings on the last day of the contract.

TRADITIONALLY, the High School Band gathers in August for Band Camp. Families and students defer vacations, jobs, and other activities so band students may attend. Students practice music, marching formations, etc. from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. for four days and on the fifth day (for 10 years) they went to Cedar Point to PERFORM and watch other bands perform. This trip helps students establish relationships, learn about Mr. Gorley's high expectations on a band trip, and understand how to be a member of the honor winning CHS Band that has had enormous community support for years. The trip was scheduled on the first non-student day of the teachers' contract. Mr. Gorley is not paid for Band Camp no matter when it is scheduled. This year the band camp will start one week earlier (on Saturday) so that the Cedar Point trip can be taken on the day before the first day of the contract. This change in TRADITION is due to Mr. Piasecki's "no exceptions" version of THE POLICY. Last year the students went to Bob-Lo on Saturday, just so the trip would occur. To meet POLICY requirements Mr. Gorley cut Band Camp one day short, last year, and took the students on the fourth day of Camp, which did not prove to be successful for the Camp experience. This year the trips again are scheduled with THE POLICY rather than the students and their TRADITION kept in mind.

Most administrators are not faced with this dilemma because most teachers do not volunteer their time to spend a whole day (or week) with 150-200 teenagers. We are lucky to have teachers who have made this special trip with their students for 10 years and continue to want to do this for young people.

The students have asked the administration to reconsider its immovable position regarding THE POLICY. Parents spoke to, and wrote to, the administration requesting the TRADITION be considered as an important value in this school system. When it was pointed out that THE POLICY is in direct opposition to meeting the needs of the students there was no response. Mr. Piasecki said that these trips could be taken on any other day of the contract, therefore THE POLICY is more important than students attending any of their other academic classes. THE POLICY is more important than a program that had worked for eight years prior to this administration. It became clear by the results of the "negotiating" with Mr. Piasecki, that no effort was made by the administration to accommodate this positive student activity.

The trips will take place this spring and next fall, but the TRADITIONS are gone. THE POLICY has prevailed.

Sincerely,
Roger Dymond.
Nancy Dymond.

★ Pet Mills Perpetuate Misery

Puppy and kitten mills are defined by the Humane Society of the United States (HSUS) as "mass dog and cat breeding establishments that produce puppies and kittens for profit by selling them wholesale to the pet industry." Located mostly in the midwest, mills are usually overcrowded, unclean places. Animals often live several together in unprotected outdoor cages for their entire lives. Female dogs and cats are forced to produce two and three litters per year, and the offspring receive inadequate nutrition, socialization, and veterinary care.

As soon as the baby animals are a few weeks old, they are shipped to pet stores nationwide. Many of the puppies and kittens produced in this way exhibit genetic disorders such as hip dysplasia, bone malformations, and spinal defects. Temperament problems including aggression and fear-biting are also common, and may be due to the insufficient socialization the animals receive at the mills.

Puppy and kitten mill pets are purebred. They come complete with registration papers and high price tags. However, they are seldom suitable for breeding, due to their poor health backgrounds. But pet stores do not require sterilization of these low-quality purebred animals. Many people, unaware of the animals' genetic defects, breed the pets and perpetuate the problems.

How big of a problem are pet mills? HSUS estimates that there are about 5,000 puppy mills in the U.S. Their annual output is half a million puppies. The number of kitten mills is unknown.

The Humane Society of Huron Valley recommends that prospective pet owners avoid buying purebred dogs and cats either from pet stores or directly from puppy and kitten mills. Instead, buy through a professional private breeder who is associated with the local kennel club or cat fancy. Also remember that about 25 percent of the animals at humane societies are purebreds.

For a free brochure about the pet mill problem, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to Pet Mills, c/o L. Reider, HSHV, 3100 Cherry Hill Rd., Ann Arbor 48105.

Soviet Credits OK If They Can Repay

The U.S. Senate last week approved a resolution supporting up to an additional $1.5 billion in export credit guarantees to the USSR.

"We think that if the Soviet Union needs export credits and there is assurance that the Soviets have the ability to repay those credits, then the credits are appropriate and should be extended to allow additional market opportunities for U.S. commodities," said Al Arny, director of public affairs for Michigan Farm Bureau.

So far, no similar resolution is planned in the House. The Senate resolution does not carry the force of law and is only a recommendation.

Keep Trees Healthy, Plant Less Preferred Species To Thwart Gypsy Moth

Losing their leaves to gypsy moth caterpillars or other defoliators puts trees under stress. Healthy trees usually survive one defoliation and often two or three. Trees already weakened by disease, drought, poor nutrition or other stresses, however, may die after one gypsy moth assault.

"One thing homeowners can do to thwart the gypsy moth is to water and fertilize valuable landscape trees," says Curt Peterson, Extension horticulture specialist at Michigan State University. "This is especially important with oaks, poplars and other species that gypsy moth caterpillars prefer to feed on."

Another strategy is to replace trees lost to gypsy moth or other causes with species less susceptible to gypsy moth damage.

At the top of the gypsy moth caterpillar's list of favorite foods are oaks, some poplars and birches, willows, crabapples, red maples and purple leaf plums. All except willows are commonly used in landscaping.

"Some birches, particularly the European white birch so commonly used around homes, are also susceptible to attack by bronze birch borer and birch leaf miner," Peterson notes. "Trees weakened by these insects are very likely to die after one defoliation by gypsy moth."

The caterpillars usually won't feed on ash, pear, honey locust, London plane tree or sycamore, juniper, tulip tree, spruces, yews, hemlocks, firs, black locust, magnolia, lilac, euonymus, dogwood, catalpa, azalea, arbutus, ginkgo and black gum.

Between these two groups in susceptibility are spirea, serviceberry (Amelanchier), hickory, alder, basswood, ironwood, beech, elm, white pine, blue spruce, sweetgum, river birch, yellow birch, and sugar, silver and Norway maples.

"The gypsy moth problem will be with us for a long time," Peterson observes. "There isn't much homeowners can do to combat the infestation directly. But watering and fertilizing susceptible trees and planting less vulnerable ones can limit the pest's impact on the home grounds."

Less than one half of 1 percent of all injury-producing, passenger-car collisions involve fire or submersion.

THEATRE R.e.v.i.e.w

By RUSS OGDEN
Free Lance Drama Critic
& EMU Professor

"SHOE MAN"

Absolutely everything clicked into high-gear humor at The Purple Rose Theatre with the debut of actor Jeff Daniels' marvelous two-act comedy "Shoe Man." Playwright Daniels comes forward with a tight-script, one that wrings you through hysteria even though you may not be a golf player.

All of the actors gave sterling performances with only one member failing to maximize his role because of inexperience. The direction by T. Newell Kring was exceptional and Gary Decker's settings were thought-provoking, adding to the hilarity of the evening.

"Shoe Man" opens with a two poster bed in the middle of a sand trap on a golf course. At the top of the two posters, two large golf balls become symbolic as the play progresses. The "cover" of the bed is artificial green turf. The back portion of the stage is a fenced area topped by rolled barbed wire, and eventually becomes a symbol for a prison.

Sally (Janet Maylie) has a feeling that her solid marriage is not so solid. Golf seems to be entering the picture, more and more, night and day. In her absolute frustration, Sally ends the life of her husband, Sam (John Seibert) with a strong stroke of her golf club from which a deadly aimed ball ends his flirtations.

Sally's life is surrounded by her imaginative (and real) friends who enter at strange times. You must see the play to get the full humorous effect. Each and every member of the cast is unique in their delivered humor.

Sally's husband, Sam, does sell shoes. But Gina (Joanne McGee) apparently has become Sam's off-courtesy dilligante. McGee and all of her pulchritude on stage presents a gem of the wayward, gutsy and tempestuous lady.

In her attempt to match her husband's interest in golf, she hires Chip (Dana Gamarra) to teach her lessons. Chip is a demented golfer with extremely strange ideas but merely adds to the intent of the plot.

Seeking advice from the church, Sally meets with Rev. DeSmithers (Erik Fredricksen), pastor of the Methodist Church who has also sampled the offerings of the golden goddess, Gina. But their encounters breed hilarity.

Patsy (Patricia A. Rector) and her description of making out in the 9th hole sand trap, sans clothing, with her husband leads her friend Sally into further wonderment as to the activities of husband Sam.

In desperation, she hires an attorney, William Williamson (John Seibert) and his secretary, Jennifer (Linda Parolini) who merely muddle up her indecisive attitude about obtaining a divorce.

Stir all of these off-beat characters, but characters whom you meet daily in your life, and you have a comedy that will not quit.

My pride in Jeff Daniels and his superb accomplishment with a most entertaining comedy holds no limits. But just to be a little picky... You have given many comedic leaves to your tree of humor, but after you leave the theatre, you've had a good time but wonder in final analysis where the roots or trunk of the tree is that you have adorned so beautifully.

If you desire the play to succeed outside Chelsea, and I see no reason why it could not, references to local areas would be funny here, but not to somebody in Indiana. The references to Ypsilanti several times (am I being overly sensitive?) gets chuckles here but might not in Oshkosh.

Outstanding performance by an actor in this production would have to go to Dana Gamarra as Chip. His consistency in character is unbelievable and although he's not on that much, time wise, he leaves a great impression.

James Cooper as Connors does a great job but his inexperience on stage comes through thus causing the role to be less effective.

Seibert's double roles, superb! Patricia A. Rector's description of personal eroticism on the golf course: unbelievable! Janet Maylie's stupendous ability to maintain actor's calm on stage with all of the actions surrounding her was magnificent! Erik Fredricksen's minister is unforgettable and will be a classic in my mind for years to come. Joanne McGee's taunting seductress is another gem of humor carried out with a gusto of sincerity.

According to Alan Ribant, the play has been extended through June 30. See the birth of our new Chelsea playwright before he becomes as world famous for the pen as he is for his acting.

Regular performances will be Thursdays through Saturdays at 8:00 p.m. with Sunday performances at 2:00 and 7:00 p.m.

The Purple Rose Theatre Company Box Office is open Tuesdays through Fridays noon to 6 p.m. Tickets prices are $15 for Fridays and Saturdays, and $13 for Thursday and Sunday performances. Reservations and additional information may be obtained by calling the Box Office at (313) 475-7902.

Women participated in a strike for the first time in 1824 when weavers in Pawtucket, R.I., resisted increased hours and reduced wages, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

"SHOE MAN": Janet Maylie and John Seibert portray Sally and Sam Simpson, a couple trying to save their marriage through the grand game of golf, in the new comedy, "Shoe Man" at the Purple Rose Theatre Company, 137 Park St., Chelsea. "Shoe Man" was written by Jeff Daniels and takes a funny look at relationships, religion and golf in a small Michigan town. Performances are Thursdays through Sundays through June 30. For tickets and more information please contact the Purple Rose Theatre Company at 475-7902.

Always Keep Foods Safe During Warm Weather

The hazy, lazy days of summer may bring thoughts of relaxation, but it's no time to relax the rules of food handling. In fact, climbing temperatures should signal us to use extra caution in preparing and handling food, according to Dr. Edward C. Heffron, director of the food division at the Michigan Department of Agriculture (MDA).

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) estimates that each year 4 million people are affected by food poisoning, caused by food-borne bacteria so microscopic it cannot be detected by sight, smell or taste. This often occurs at picnics and backyard barbecues when food is left out in warm temperatures creating a perfect environment for bacteria to grow.

"Food poisoning can be prevented," said Heffron. "It just takes some common sense. The key is to keep food cool and limit the time it is exposed to warm temperatures."

In summer months, salmonella, one of the most common bacteria, finds a perfect breeding ground. "Foods that are allowed to remain at too warm a temperature for too long, or those that are not heated to a high enough temperature can harbor dangerous food-borne illnesses," said Heffron. "These illnesses are especially dangerous for the elderly, young children, pregnant women, and those with chronic illnesses."

Heffron offers the following advice to guard against contamination:

- The first step in prevention is to make sure hands, utensils and work areas are thoroughly cleaned before preparing food. This is especially critical when working with raw meat and poultry. Anything touched by raw meat should be considered suspect and should be cleaned immediately.

- Keep food cool. Keep all perishable foods in a refrigerator that is less than 40 degrees Fahrenheit or in a freezer at or below zero degrees Fahrenheit. If picnicking, keep perishables in a well-insulated cooler with a cold source, such as ice or commercial "blue gel." If grilling, keep the meat cool right up to the time of cooking and then cook thoroughly. If you pre-cook meat to reduce grilling time, make sure you pre-cook immediately before grilling to prevent bacteria growth. And never, ever thaw meat on the countertop, even during winter months.

- Cook foods thoroughly. Only thorough cooking can destroy most bacteria. Grill meat until the juices run clear and check its internal temperature with a thermometer, cooking beef to 160 degrees, pork to 170 degrees and chicken to 180 degrees Fahrenheit.

- Be extra cautious about highly perishable foods like dishes prepared with mayonnaise or cream. These must be kept cool to be considered safe enough to eat. And only use store-bought mayonnaise, not home-made, which contains raw eggs and is always considered a high risk. (See next item.)

- Caution is also called for when eating eggs. Scientists have recently discovered that the bacteria, salmonella, which causes salmonella enteritis infections, can be found on the inside of raw eggs, not just from outside sources through cracks in the shell. While there have been no reported outbreaks in Michigan, the potential exists for infection. Therefore, foods made with raw or undercooked eggs should be avoided, including Caesar salad, hollandaise sauce, some cake frostings, home-made ice cream or mayonnaise, and soft scrambled or soft-boiled eggs with runny yolks. Even cookie dough and cake batter, made with raw eggs, should not be tasted. The rule of thumb is too cook eggs thoroughly so both the yolk and white are firm.

For further information about food safety, call Dr. E.C. Heffron, director, Food Division, Michigan Department of Agriculture, (517) 373-1060.

Patience Advised With P.A. 116 Delays

Farmers who filed Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act (P.A. 116) returns this year should expect a longer than normal wait to get their refunds, according to Michigan Farm Bureau legislative counsel Ron Nelson.

He said there are two reasons for the delays. First of all, there's no money in the budget to pay for the overtime needed for faster processing. And secondly, the Treasury Department changed policy and decided to audit each return as it comes in.

"If there are problems in getting your refund, or you want to check the status of your return, be sure you have your social security number ready when you call the Treasury Department," he advised.

However, Nelson warned that many people are calling the Treasury Department and it might be difficult to get through. His advice: just try to be patient.

Study Made on Proposed Radioactive Waste Site

Results of a study on the proposed low-level radioactive waste site in parts of Freedom, Lima, Lodi and Scio townships were presented by Wallace Fusilier, PhD, of Water Quality Investigators during the Tuesday, May 21, Scio Township Board meeting attended by State Representative Margaret O'Connor and many of her constituents.

A few minutes prior to the start of the meeting, Representative O'Connor discussed items of mutual interest with several of the citizens.

During one of the first reports given at the township board meeting, Dr. Fusilier explained the study was requested and paid for by Representative O'Connor, and that it described the natural and man-made features in a six square mile area of Washtenaw county proposed by the Michigan Low-Level Radioactive Waste Authority as a possible disposal site.

He introduced his wife, Beni, whom he credited with providing very able assistance in compiling information for the report.

Thursday Report in Lansing
A water quality management specialist, Dr. Fusilier will present results of the study in Lansing before the Michigan Low-Level Radioactive Waste Authority, Thursday, May 30 (tomorrow).

Representative O'Connor explained, "He will show the officials his table-top model of every well in the area of the site proposed for the waste facility."

"It clearly depicts the widespread, shallow water table, and how such a facility would endanger the water supply, verification that our county should be taken off the list of proposed sites. I'm sure Commissioner James Cleary and his staff will appreciate Dr. Fusilier's thorough and precise work, and agree with his findings now, rather than waste more time and money to reach the same conclusion, later."

In addition to the location of the site, including the townships and sections, the study documented the roads surrounding the site, the pipelines crossing the site, the wetlands within the proposed site, the rivers and streams which drain the site, locations of houses in and around the site, and the well logs of houses in and around the proposed site.

The six-square-mile area consists of approximately 3,840 acres, including all of section 31, Scio township; sections 6 and 7 in Lodi township; sections 1 and 12, Freedom township; and section 36, Lima township.

The proposed site is located five miles west of Ann Arbor, four miles south of Dexter, five miles southeast of Chelsea, five miles northwest of Saline, and slightly more than seven miles northeast of Manchester.

Elevations of the site range from a high of about 960 feet above sea level on the south to a low of approximately 880 feet above sea level on the north.

Roads Surrounding the Site
Roads surrounding the proposed low-level radioactive waste disposal site, as shown in Dr. Fusilier's report, include a two-mile stretch of Ellsworth Rd., a gravel road along which eight houses are located between Steinbach Rd. in Freedom township to the southeast corner of section 7, Lodi township.

Waters Rd., another gravel road, traverses the site for two miles, and has 15 houses within the two-mile section from the west edge of sections 1 and 12, Freedom township, to Strieter Rd. in Lodi township.

Black-topped Scio Church Rd. also traverses the site for two miles, and has 13 houses along the stretch from Steinbach Rd. on the west to Strieter Rd. on the east. It is the dividing line between Lima and Freedom townships.

Liberty Rd., a blacktopped-road, forms the two-mile north boundary of the site. There are 13 houses along Liberty Rd. from Steinbach in Lima township (on the west) to Strieter Rd. in Scio township (on the east).

Three houses are located on Steinbach, a gravel road which forms part of the three-mile west boundary of the proposed site, from Scio Church Rd. one mile to Liberty in Lima township. It starts again at Ellsworth Rd. in Freedom township, and heads south.

Nine houses are located on a three-mile section of Parker Rd., a blacktopped road which traverses through the center of the proposed site, from Liberty on the north to Ellsworth on the south. Parker Rd. divides Scio and Lima townships, also Freedom and Lodi townships.

A total of 17 houses are located along Strieter Rd., a blacktopped road which forms part of the three-mile east boundary of the proposed low-level radioactive waste site.

Three roads, Sitka Court, Lone Oak and Renz Court, are in the Lone Oak Subdivision, which parallels Strieter Rd. in section 5, Lodi township.

Well logs of the houses closest to Strieter Rd. were used in Dr. Fusilier's study.

Four houses on Lone Oak, four on Renz Court, and five on Sitka Court, including the house with the deepest well, 227 feet, at 2896 Sitka Court, were included in the study.

A one-mile stretch along a gravel road, Duible, included an additional 11 houses.

Pipelines Crossing the Site
The 18-inch Panhandle Eastern natural gas pipeline crosses the northwest part of the proposed site.

According to Panhandle Eastern, the pipe is buried a minimum of 36 inches, although it may be buried as deep as 8-10 feet.

It was installed during 1942. The gas in the pipeline is under approximately 600 pounds per square inch pressure.

Wetlands on the Site
Wetlands were determined using two sets of maps, the USGS QUAD maps, and a set of DNR wetlands maps obtained from the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission.

Another source of wetland maps is the Soil Conservation Service. However, they would not provide the maps, unless we made a Freedom of Information request. To date, this was not done.

There was very little agreement between the wetlands on the USGS QUAD map and the DNR map.

However, one of the maps included in this study shows the combined information from both sources.

A table included in the report lists the wetland information by township and section.

The assumption was made that all sections contained 640 acres.

This is reasonable, but not necessarily correct.

Rivers and Streams

Several small streams drain the proposed site. All appear to be tributaries to Mill Creek, part of the Huron River drainage basin.

As an added note, the city of Ann Arbor takes a large proportion of its drinking water from the Huron River.

Well Logs, Road Cross Sections
Since water wells are often used to describe sub-surface conditions, a section containing well-log information was included in the report.

The study lists the surface elevation of the land, the location of each address along the road, the well depth and the static water level of each well.

Since well information is related to surface elevations, it was first necessary to establish the surface elevation of the roads from the USGS maps.

Well Logs
Well logs were obtained from three different locations: the DNR groundwater division in Lansing, Cribble Well Drilling in Dexter, and the Washtenaw County Health Department.

Even with the three sources, a substantial number of well logs could not be found.

Well logs describe the location of the well, sometimes not too clearly if the well was installed before the electrical service was installed, because Detroit Edison assigns the address.

The well logs also describe the well depth, the materials used in the well, the level the water rises in the well (static water level), the kinds and thickness of soils the well penetrated, the draw-down, the name of the driller, and assorted additional information.

However, well-log data should be used with some caution, the report advised.

The study explained, "Probably the most accurate piece of information is the well depth, since the driller was paid for the number of feet of pipe installed."

The average well depth is 86 feet, while they range 40 to 227 feet.

STATE REP. MARGARET O'CONNOR met with Governor John Engler Tuesday afternoon before a meeting at Scio Township Hall on Zeeb Rd. The governor addressed a group of citizens about plans for reducing state expenses and lowering taxes. O'Connor is a long-time champion of economy in state government.

Court Ruling OKs Engler's State Administrative Board Budget Transfers

Gov. John Engler acted legally when he bypassed deadlocked legislative negotiations and ordered intradepartmental budget transfers through the State Administrative Board, an Ingham County Circuit Court ruled on May 20.

The transfers will preserve funding for many human services programs that would have been blocked by a lawsuit challenging the action.

House and Senate Democratic leaders filed suit against the governor and the board, claiming that only the Legislature has the power to transfer funds. Ingham County Circuit Court Judge Thomas Brown denied the lawsuit and upheld Engler's use of the State Administrative Board to transfer money within various budgets, ruling that the statutes giving the board authority to conduct the transfers were constitutional.

Democratic leaders are expected to appeal the ruling.

Although the Legislature usually handles such transfers, Gov. Engler instigated the board action as a last-resort effort to remove the budget process from a political quagmire. Continual delays and refusal by legislative Democrats to offer reasonable alternatives to the governor's budget proposals made Engler's action all the more necessary.

The $142 million transfers were necessary to maintain certain programs within several state departments and prevent the shutdown of the Medicaid program.

One of the most significant transfers would divert funds from General Assistance, halting welfare payments to 95,000 healthy, single, employable adults. Engler has earmarked that money to continue the Medicaid program, which would have had to shut down in August without the transfer.

The transfers also will restore foster care payments; county medical care facility payments; adoption subsidies, and prevent additional cuts in Aid To Families with Dependent Children payments.

There is much public support for the governor's action to break the budget logjam. The National Foster Parent Association is a good example.

The association recognized that the step was taken in the best interest of Michigan's most vulnerable citizens and urged House Democrats to cooperate with Gov. Engler's budget transfers.

I also believe the governor took the appropriate course of action. He delayed his request of the State Administrative Board until all hope of an agreement with House Democrats was exhausted, and then assumed the leadership role bestowed on him by the people of Michigan.

The public is understandably weary of and frustrated by the lack of resolution of Michigan's serious budget problems. So am I.

Although the governor's budget transfers reduced this year's deficit to about $150 million and essentially wrapped up the 1990-91 budget, the Legislature now has the state's 1991-92 fiscal blueprint ahead of it. Given the negative attitude of House Democrats towards Gov. Engler's deficit-reduction proposals, the up-and-coming budget year's negotiations could be just as problematic to resolve.

However, I hope the majority party in the House will join legislative Republicans in a much-needed spirit of co-operation to help resolve the state's financial problems. Failure to do so not only will jeopardize the legislative process, but will hurt Michigan citizens.

House OKs Site for Michigan Vietnam Veterans Memorial Monument

The Michigan House recently approved legislation that establishes a site for a permanent Vietnam veterans monument near the state Capitol.

Legislation first was approved in 1988 to authorize state-owned land for the monument. The structure will contain the names of all Michigan men and women who died in the Vietnam conflict as well as state residents who remain missing in action.

It will be built on two acres of a 14-acre site, which currently is a state parking lot. The remaining 12 acres would be turned into a public park and encouraged for use by other veterans' organizations for monuments.

Despite years of great shame and ignorance, this country finally has come to recognize and acknowledge the enormous dedication of and sacrifices made by the brave Americans who fought and died in Vietnam. It is fitting that a permanent monument be built at the center of the state's government, where so many people visit and conduct business.

Once the legislation is approved by the state Senate where it currently is under consideration, the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Monument Commission will begin the design-selection process. The commission also will solicit funds for the monument from private individuals, corporations and organizations.

CHELSEA ORDINANCE NO. 111

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE UNIFORM TRAFFIC CODE AS PROMULGATED BY THE DIRECTOR OF THE MICHIGAN STATE POLICE UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF PUBLIC ACT 62 OF 1956, UNIFORM TRAFFIC CODE IN TOWNSHIPS, AND VILLAGES, WHICH HAS BEEN ADOPTED BY THE VILLAGE OF CHELSEA, AND TO ADD THERETO THE REGULATIONS PERTAINING TO ABANDONED VEHICLES.

THE VILLAGE OF CHELSEA ORDAINS:

An Ordinance to amend Ordinance 72, the Uniform Traffic Code, by the addition thereto of the following provisions pertaining to abandoned vehicles:

SECTION I:

A police agency receiving reliable information that any vehicle registered under this act has been stolen, shall immediately report the theft through the law enforcement information network. Upon receiving information that a vehicle previously reported as stolen has been recovered, the police agency shall immediately report the fact of the recovery through the law enforcement information network.

SECTION II - ABANDONED VEHICLE PROCEDURES:

1. As used in this section, "abandoned vehicle" means a vehicle which has remained on public property or private property for a period of 48 hours after a police agency or other governmental agency designated by the police agency has affixed a written notice to the vehicle.

2. If a vehicle has remained on public or private property for a period of time so that it appears to the police agency to be abandoned, the police agency shall do all of the following:

a. Determine if the vehicle has been reported stolen.
b. Affix a written notice to the vehicle. The written notice shall contain the following information:

1. The date and time the notice was affixed.
2. The name and address of the police agency taking the action.
3. The name and badge number of the police officer affixing the notice.
4. The date and time the vehicle may be taken into custody and stored at the owner's expense or scrapped if the vehicle is not removed.
5. The year, make, and vehicle identification number of the vehicle, if available.

3. If the vehicle is not removed within 48 hours after the date the notice was affixed, the vehicle is deemed abandoned and the police agency may have the vehicle taken into custody.

4. A police agency which has a vehicle taken into custody shall do all of the following:

a. Recheck to determine if the vehicle has been reported stolen.
b. Within 24 hours after taking the vehicle into custody, enter the vehicle as abandoned into the law enforcement information network.

c. Within 7 days after taking the vehicle into custody, send to the registered owner and secured party, as shown by the records of the secretary of state, by first-class mail or personal service, notice that the vehicle has been deemed abandoned. The form for the notice shall be furnished by the secretary of state. Each notice form shall contain the following information:

1. The year, make, and vehicle identification number of the vehicle if available.

2. The location from which the vehicle was taken into custody.

3. The date on which the vehicle was taken into custody.

4. The name and address of the police agency which had the vehicle taken into custody.

5. The business address of the custodian of the vehicle.

6. The procedure to redeem the vehicle.

7. The procedure to contest the fact that the vehicle has been deemed abandoned or the reasonableness of the towing fees and daily storage fees.

8. A form petition which the owner may file in person or by mail with the specified court which requests a hearing on the police agency's action.

9. A warning that the failure to redeem the vehicle or to request a hearing within 20 days after the date of the notice may result in the sale of the vehicle and the termination of all rights of the owner and the secured party to the vehicle or the proceeds of the sale.

5. The registered owner may contest the fact that the vehicle has been deemed abandoned or the reasonableness of the towing fees and daily storage fees by requesting a hearing. A request for a hearing shall be made by filing a petition with the court specified in the notice within 20 days after the date of the notice. If the owner requests a hearing, the matter shall be resolved after a hearing conducted pursuant to sections VI and VII. An owner who requests a hearing may obtain release of the vehicle by posting a towing and storage bond in an amount equal to the accrued towing and storage fees with the court. The owner of the vehicle who requests a hearing may obtain release of the vehicle by paying the towing and storage fees instead of posting the towing and storage bond. If the court finds that the vehicle was not properly deemed abandoned, the police agency shall reimburse the owner of the vehicle for the accrued towing and storage fees.

6. If the owner does not request a hearing, he or she may obtain the release of the vehicle by paying the accrued charges to the custodian of the vehicle.

7. If the owner does not redeem the vehicle or request a hearing within 20 days after the date of the notice, the secured party may obtain the release of the vehicle by paying the accrued charges to the custodian of the vehicle and the police agency for its accrued costs.

8. Not less than 20 days after the disposition of the hearing described in subsection (5) or, if a hearing is not requested, not less than 20 days after the date of the notice, the police agency shall offer the vehicle for sale at a public sale pursuant to section VIII.

9. If the ownership of a vehicle which has been deemed abandoned under this section cannot be determined either because of the condition of the vehicle identification numbers or because a check with the records of the secretary of state does not reveal ownership, the police agency may sell the vehicle at public sale pursuant to section VIII, not less than 30 days after public notice of the sale has been published.

SECTION III - ABANDONED SCRAP VEHICLE PROCEDURES:

1. As used in this section:

a. "Registered abandoned scrap vehicle" means a vehicle which meets all of the following requirements:

1. is on public or private property.

2. is 7 or more years old.

3. is apparently inoperable or is extensively damaged, to the extent that the cost of repairing the vehicle so that it is operational and safe as required by section 683 would exceed the fair market value of that vehicle.

4. is currently registered in the state of Michigan or displays current year registration plates from another state.

5. is not removed within 48 hours after a written notice as described in section II(2)(b) is affixed to the vehicle.

b. "Unregistered abandoned scrap vehicle" means a vehicle which meets all of the following requirements:

1. is on public or private property.

2. is 7 or more years old.

3. is apparently inoperable or is extensively damaged, to the extent that the cost of repairing the vehicle so that it is operational and safe as required by section 683 would exceed the fair market value of that vehicle.

4. is currently registered in the state of Michigan or displays current year registration plates from another state.

5. is not removed within 48 hours after a written notice as described in section II(2)(b) is affixed to the vehicle.

2. A police agency may have an unregistered abandoned scrap vehicle taken into custody, in which case the police agency shall do all of the following:

a. Determine if the vehicle has been reported stolen.

b. Take 2 photographs of the vehicle.

c. Make a report to substantiate the vehicle as an unregistered abandoned scrap vehicle. The report shall contain the following information:

2. The date of abandonment.

3. The location of abandonment.

4. A detailed listing of the damage or the missing equipment.

5. The reporting officer's name and title.

6. The location where the vehicle is being held.

d. Within 24 hours after taking the vehicle into custody, enter the vehicle into the law enforcement information network.

3. Within 24 hours, excluding Saturday, Sunday, and legal holidays, after taking the vehicle into custody, the police agency shall complete a release form and release the vehicle to the towing service or a used vehicle parts dealer or vehicle scrap metal processor, who shall then transmit that release form to the secretary of state and apply for a certificate of title or a certificate of scrapping. Upon receipt of the release form and application, the secretary of state shall issue a certificate of title or a certificate of scrapping.

4. The release form described in subsection 3 shall be furnished by the secretary of state and shall include a certification executed by the applicable police agency when the abandoned scrap vehicle is released. The certification shall state that the police agency has complied with all the requirements of subsection 2(b) and (c).

5. The secretary of state shall retain the records relating to an abandoned scrap vehicle for not less than 2 years. The 2 photographs taken pursuant to section 2(b) shall be retained by the police agency for not less than 2 years. After the certificate of scrapping has been issued, a certificate of title for the vehicle shall not be issued again.

6. A police agency may have a registered abandoned scrap vehicle taken into custody, in which case the police agency shall do all of the following:

a. Determine if the vehicle has been reported stolen.

b. Take 2 photographs of the vehicle.

e. Within 7 days after taking the vehicle into custody, send to the registered owner and secured party, as shown by the records of the secretary of state, by first-class mail or personal service, notice that the vehicle has been deemed abandoned. The form for the notice shall be furnished by the secretary of state. Each notice form shall contain the following information:

1. The year, make, and vehicle identification number of the vehicle if available.

2. The location from which the vehicle was taken into custody.

3. The date on which the vehicle was taken into custody.

4. The name and address of the police agency which had the vehicle taken into custody.

5. The business address of the custodian of the vehicle.

6. The procedure to redeem the vehicle.

7. The procedure to contest the fact that the vehicle has been deemed abandoned or the reasonableness of the towing fees and daily storage fees.

8. A form petition which the owner may file in person or by mail with the specified court which requests a hearing on the police agency's action.

9. A warning that the failure to redeem the vehicle or to request a hearing within 20 days after the date of the notice may result in the sale of the vehicle and the termination of all rights of the owner and the secured party to the vehicle or the proceeds of the sale.

7. The registered owner of a registered abandoned scrap vehicle may contest the fact that the vehicle has been deemed abandoned or the reasonableness of the towing fees and daily storage fees by requesting a hearing. A request for a hearing shall be made by filing a petition with the court specified in the notice within 20 days after the date of the notice. If the owner requests a hearing, the matter shall be resolved after a hearing conducted pursuant to sections VI and VII. An owner who requests a hearing may obtain release of the vehicle by posting a towing and storage bond in an amount equal to the accrued towing and storage fees with the court. The owner of the vehicle who requests a hearing may obtain release of the vehicle by paying the towing and storage fees instead of posting the towing and storage bond. If the court finds that the vehicle was not properly deemed abandoned, the police agency shall reimburse the owner of the vehicle for the accrued towing and storage fees.

8. If the owner does not request a hearing, he or she may obtain the release of the vehicle by paying the accrued charges to the custodian of the vehicle.

9. If the owner does not redeem the vehicle or request a hearing within 20 days after the date of the notice, the secured party may obtain the release of the vehicle by paying the accrued charges to the custodian of the vehicle.

10. Not less than 20 days after the disposition of the hearing described in subsection (7) or, if a hearing is not requested, not less than 20 days after the date of the notice described in subsection 6(e), the police agency shall follow the procedures established in subsections 3 to 5.

SECTION IV - VEHICLE REMOVED FROM PRIVATE PROPERTY:

1. When a vehicle is removed from private property at the direction of a person other than the registered owner of the vehicle or a police agency, the custodian of the vehicle immediately shall notify the police agency from whose jurisdiction the vehicle was towed. The custodian shall supply that information which is necessary for the police agency to enter the vehicle into the law enforcement information network.

2. Upon receipt of notification described in subsection 1, the police agency immediately shall do all of the following:

a. Determine if the vehicle has been reported stolen.

b. Enter the vehicle into the law enforcement information network.

3. The owner of the vehicle removed as described in subsection 1 may obtain release of the vehicle by paying the accrued towing and storage fees to the custodian of the vehicle. Upon release of the vehicle, the custodian shall notify the police of the disposition of the vehicle.

4. If the vehicle described in subsection 1 is not claimed by the owner within 7 days after the police agency been notified by the custodian that it has been taken into custody, the vehicle is deemed abandoned and the procedures prescribed in section II 4(c) to 9 shall apply.

SECTION V - VEHICLE REMOVED BY POLICE:

1. A police agency or a governmental agency designated by this police agency may provide for the immediate removal of a vehicle from public or private property to a place of safekeeping at the expense of the registered owner of the vehicle in any of the following circumstances:

a. If the vehicle is in such a condition that the continued operation of the vehicle upon the highway would constitute an immediate hazard to the public.

b. If the vehicle is parked or standing upon the highway in such a manner as to create an immediate public hazard or an obstruction of traffic.

c. If a vehicle is parked in a posted tow away zone.

d. If there is reasonable cause to believe that the vehicle or any part of the vehicle is stolen.

e. If the vehicle must be seized to preserve evidence of a crime, or when there is reasonable cause to believe that the vehicle was used in the commission of a crime.

f. If removal is necessary in the interest of public safety because of fire, flood, storm, snow, natural or man-made disaster, or other emergency.

g. If the vehicle is hampering the use of private property by the owner of person in charge of that property or is parked in a manner which impedes the movement of another vehicle.

h. If the vehicle is stopped, standing, or parked in a space designated for handicapped parking and is not permitted by law to be stopped, standing, or parked in a space designated for handicapped parking.

2. A police agency which authorizes the removal of a vehicle under subsection 1 shall do all of the following:

a. Check to determine if the vehicle has been reported stolen.

b. Within 24 hours after removing the vehicle, enter the vehicle into the law enforcement information network if the vehicle has not been redeemed. This subdivision does not apply to a vehicle that is removed from the scene of a motor vehicle traffic accident.

c. If the vehicle has not been redeemed within 10 days after moving the vehicle, send to the registered owner and the secured party as shown by the records of the secretary of state, by first-class mail or personal service, a notice that the vehicle has been removed; however, if the police agency informs the owner or operator of the vehicle of the removal and the location of the vehicle within 24 hours after the removal, and if the vehicle has not been redeemed within 30 days and upon complaint from the towing service, the police agency shall send the notice within 30 days after the removal. The notice shall be by a form furnished by the secretary of state. The notice form shall contain the following information:

1. The year, make, and vehicle identification number of the vehicle if available.

2. The location from which the vehicle was taken into custody.

3. The date on which the vehicle was taken into custody.

4. The name and address of the police agency which had the vehicle taken into custody.

5. The location where the vehicle is being held.

6. The procedure to redeem the vehicle.

7. The procedure to contest the fact that the vehicle was properly removed or the reasonableness of the towing fees and daily storage fees.

8. A form petition which the owner may file in person or by mail with the specified court which requests a hearing on the police agency's action.

9. A warning that the failure to redeem the vehicle or to request a hearing within 20 days after the date of the notice may result in the sale of the vehicle and the termination of all rights of the owner and the secured party to the vehicle or the proceeds of the sale or to both the vehicle and the proceeds.

3. The registered owner may contest the fact that the vehicle was properly removed or the reasonableness of the towing fees and daily storage fees by requesting a hearing. A request for a hearing shall be made by filing a petition with the court specified in the notice within 20 days after the date of the notice. If the owner requests a hearing, the matter shall be resolved after a hearing conducted pursuant to sections VI and VII. An owner who requests a hearing may obtain release of the vehicle by posting a towing and storage bond in an amount equal to the accrued towing and storage fees with the court. The owner of the vehicle who requests a hearing may obtain release of the vehicle by paying the towing and storage fees instead of posting the towing and storage bond. If the court finds that the vehicle was not properly deemed abandoned, the police agency shall reimburse the owner of the vehicle for the accrued towing and storage fees.

4. If the owner does not request a hearing, he or she may obtain the release of the vehicle by paying the accrued charges to the custodian of the vehicle.

5. If the owner does not redeem the vehicle or request a hearing within 20 days after the date of the notice, the secured party may obtain the release of the vehicle by paying the accrued charges to the custodian of the vehicle prior to the date of the sale.

6. Not less than 20 days after the disposition of the hearing described in subsection (5) or, if a hearing is not requested, not less than 20 days after the date of the notice, the police agency shall offer the vehicle for sale at a public sale pursuant to section VIII.

7. If the ownership of a vehicle which has been removed under this section cannot be determined either because of the condition of the vehicle identification numbers or because a check with the records of the secretary of state does not reveal ownership, the police agency may sell the vehicle at public sale pursuant to section VIII, not less than 30 days after public notice of the sale has been published.

SECTION VI - ABANDONED VEHICLE, JURISDICTION OF COURT:

1. The following courts shall have jurisdiction to determine if a police agency acted properly in processing a vehicle under section II, III(6) to (10), IV, or V:

a. The district court

b. A municipal court

c. The common pleas court of the city of Detroit.

2. The court specified in the notice prescribed in section II(4)(3), III(6), IV(4) or V(2)(c) shall be the court which has territorial jurisdiction at the location from where the vehicle was removed or deemed abandoned. Venue in the district court shall be governed by section 8312 of Act No. 236 of the Public Acts of 1961, as amended, being section 600.8312 of the Michigan Compiled Laws.

3. If the owner fails to pay the accrued towing and storage fees, the towing and storage bond posted with the court to secure release of the vehicle under section II, III or V shall be used to pay the towing and storage fees.

SECTION VII - ABANDONED VEHICLE, DUTIES OF COURT:

1. Upon receipt of a petition prescribed in section II, III, IV or V signed by the owner of the vehicle which has been taken into custody, the court shall do both of the following:

a. Schedule a hearing within 30 days for the purpose of determining whether the police agency acted properly.

b. Notify the owner and the police agency of the time and place of the hearing.

2. At the hearing specified in subsection 1 the police agency shall have the burden of showing by a preponderance of the evidence that it complied with the requirements of this act in processing the abandoned vehicle or vehicle removed pursuant to Section V.

3. After the hearing the court shall make a decision which shall include 1 or more of the following:

a. A finding that the police agency complied with the procedures established for the processing of an abandoned vehicle or a vehicle removed under section V and an order providing a period of 20 days after the decision for the owner to redeem the vehicle. If the owner does not redeem the vehicle within 20 days the police agency shall dispose of the vehicle pursuant to section II or VIII.

b. A finding that the police agency did not comply with the procedures established for the processing of an abandoned vehicle or a vehicle removed pursuant to section V. After making such a finding, the court shall issue an order directing that the vehicle immediately be released to the owner, and that the police agency is responsible for the accrued towing and storage charges.

c. A finding that the towing and daily storage fees were reasonable.

d. A finding that the towing and daily storage fees were unreasonable and issue an order directing an appropriate reduction.

SECTION VIII - ABANDONED VEHICLE, PUBLIC SALE:

1. A public sale for a vehicle which has been deemed abandoned under section II or IV or removed under section II shall be conducted in the following manner:

a. It shall be under the control of the police agency or agent of the police agency.

b. It shall be open to the public and consist of open auction bidding or bidding by sealed bids. If sealed bids are received, the person submitting the bid shall receive a receipt for the bid from the police agency or agent of the police agency.

c. Except as provided by sections II(9) and V(7) it shall be held not less than 5 days after public notice of the sale has been published.

d. The public notice shall be published at least once in the newspaper having a general circulation within the county in which the vehicle was abandoned. The public notice shall give a description of the vehicle for sale and shall state the time, date and location of the sale.

2. The money received from the public sale of the vehicle shall be applied in the following order of priority:

a. Towing and storage charges.

b. Expenses incurred by the police agency.

c. To the secured party, if any, in the amount of the debt outstanding on the vehicle.

d. Remainder to the owner. A reasonable attempt shall be made to mail the remainder to the registered owner. If delivery of the remainder cannot be accomplished, the remainder shall become the property of the unit of government that the police agency represents.

3. If there are no bidders on the vehicle, the police agency may do 1 of the following:

a. Turn the vehicle over to the towing firm to satisfy charges against the vehicle.

b. Obtain title to the vehicle for the police agency or the unit of government the police agency represents, by doing the following:

1. Paying the towing and storage charges.

2. Applying for title to the vehicle.

3. Hold another public sale pursuant to subsection 1.

4. A person who acquires ownership of a vehicle under subsection 1 or 3, which vehicle has been designated as a distressed vehicle, shall make application for a salvage certificate of title within 15 days after obtaining the vehicle.

5. Upon disposition of the vehicle, the police agency shall cancel the entry into the law enforcement information network.

SECTION IX - CONFLICTING ORDINANCES REPEALED. The provisions of Ordinance No. 72, as amended, which are not inconsistent with the within amendment are hereby ratified and reaffirmed and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Building Trades Open House Planned June 3

The house built by this year's South and West Washtenaw Building Trades program will be open for public inspection on Sunday, June 3.

The house is located at 348 Berkshire St. in Saline, off Waterworks Rd.

Next school year, the program will enter into a partnership with the Washtenaw Home Builders Association to give second-year students further specialized training in one of the construction trades.

This year's house is a 1,850-square-foot, two-story traditional plan with a two-car garage, full basement, deck, vinyl siding with brick accents, cathedral ceilings, and oak flooring. There are three bedrooms and two and one-half baths, den, living room, fireplace, dining room with skylight, and kitchen. Chelsea Hospital Rehabilitation Celebrates 10th Anniversary

Chelsea Community Hospital Rehabilitation Program is marking its tenth year of service. A reception for current and former patients and staff will be held in the Hospital's main dining room on Wednesday, June 5, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Over the years the Rehabilitation Program has grown from an eight-bed inpatient rehabilitation program with outpatient therapy services to a 16-bed inpatient program with a full range of outpatient and after care services. A Traumatic Brain Injury Day Treatment Program for the rehabilitation of this special population was added in 1988. This year will also mark the third annual TBI "Camp Out" for traumatic brain injury survivors. Over 50 TBI campers have been given the opportunity to experience the challenge of camping and outdoor fun with the guidance and support of experienced rehabilitation professionals.

In 1990 the availability of inpatient rehabilitation services was expanded through a joint venture program of Chelsea Rehabilitation and the University of Michigan Hospitals. University of Michigan patients now have the option of receiving rehabilitation at Chelsea Community Hospital under the continued care of U. of M. physicians. The Chelsea Community Hospital—University of Michigan Collaborative Inpatient Rehabilitation program is directed by Brian Chodoroff, M.D., in conjunction with Chelsea Rehabilitation's founding physician, Lawrence Handelsman M.D.

Less than 20 miles west of Ann Arbor, Chelsea Rehabilitation offers highly experienced care provided in a beautiful, supportive environment. Chelsea's natural setting promotes recovery and the Hospital's single-story architecture helps patients reorient quickly and function as independently as possible. The nursing and rehabilitation professionals at Chelsea are highly trained and compassionate with the latest equipment and techniques available to them. Patients and family members take an active role in the rehabilitation process.

Bulldogs Play Dexter In District Tourney Saturday in Ypsilanti

Chelsea Bulldogs baseball team earned the right to play the Dexter Dreadnaughts in the semi-finals of the district tournament this Saturday by virtue of a 3-0 victory over the Hartland Eagles at home last Thursday.

Dexter knocked off Stockbridge and will play the Bulldogs for the fourth time this season beginning at 10:30 a.m. at Ypsilanti High school. The winner advances to the finals at Willow Run High school at 3.

"I don't like it a bit," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

"Dexter's a good team with two good pitchers and they've beaten Saline four times this year."

However, they have yet to beat the Bulldogs, who had a 26-3 record after last week's victory over Hartland.

Senior Rob Clem (8-1) will get the call against the Dreadnaughts. He pitched six scoreless innings against them in the second round of the Southeastern Conference tournament.

The no-hit pitching of senior Clem and some timely hitting were the stories of the Hartland game.

"Hartland didn't hit a ball hard all day long," Welton said.

The Eagles' biggest threat came in the first inning when Clem walked two batters, and a bunt loaded the bases with no outs. However, third baseman Craig Ferry and Clem turned grounders into force outs at the plate, and Clem followed with a strikeout to end the inning.

The Bulldogs mounted just enough offense to win. A sacrifice by Jeremy Stephens scored Kerry Plank in the third inning for the first run. Jake Rindle's single scored Plank, who had doubled, in the third. And Jude Quilter's solo home run to left field in the sixth capped the scoring.

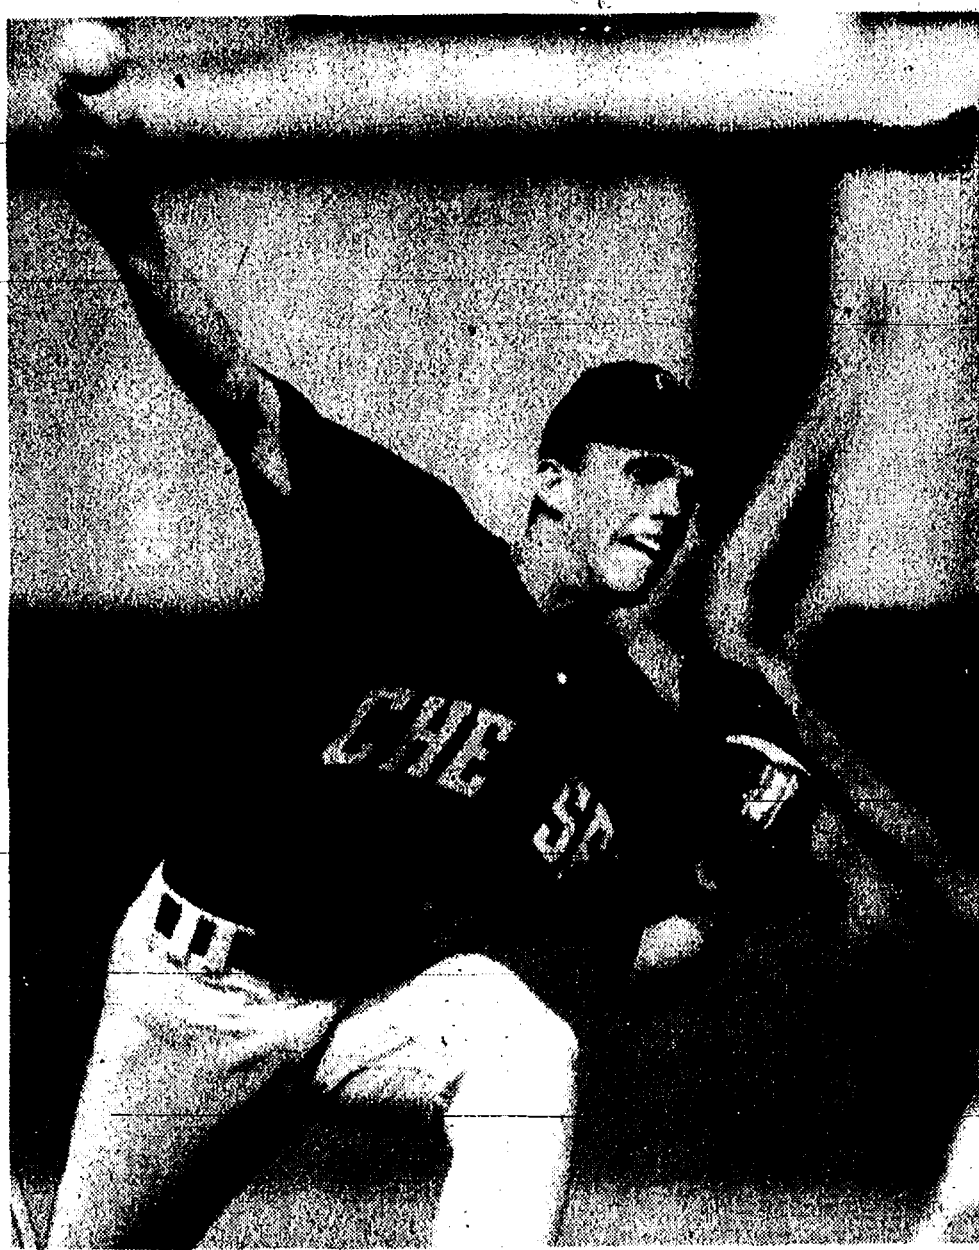

Tucker Steele, Clem, and Ferry had the only other hits of the game.

In other action last week, Chelsea swept Jackson Lumen Christi in a double-header on Tuesday, 2-1 and 11-2.

The opening game went scoreless until Lumen Christi used a double, fielder's choice, and a squeeze to take a 1-0 lead in the top of the seventh.

In the bottom of the inning, Steele walked and pinch-runner Rob Jaques was sacrificed to second by Kelly Beard. Quilter's single scored Jaques, and Quilter took second on the throw. Plank's double was his ninth game-winning hit of the year.

Ferry (4-1) picked up the win on the mound. He allowed six hits and a walk and struck out four. Chelsea had five hits, two each by Plank and Quilter, and a double by Rindle.

ROB CLEM tossed a no-hitter as the Chelsea Bulldogs beat Hartland to advance to the district semi-finals this Saturday at Ypsilanti High school. Their first opponent is Dexter.

The Bulldogs pounded out 15 hits in the second game to give Rindle (9-0) the victory. Rindle allowed three hits, struck out eight, and walked two.

Adam Taylor had three hits, and Ferry, Rindle, Clem, Beard, and Jaques each had two. Chelsea scored three in the first and six in the second to take control.

Chelsea's 26 wins is the most for a Bulldogs' team since the 1985 team went 27-9.

Boys Track Team Last in SEC Meet

Chelsea Bulldogs boys track team won three events and placed in two others but finished last in the Southeastern Conference meet last Wednesday at Milan.

"We ran about as well as we could," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"We don't score in some events because we don't have enough people."

Junior Jon Royce won the high jump at 6' 5" and the long jump at 20' 3".

Junior Mike Terpstra won the shot put at 49' 2".

Freshman David Beeman took seventh in the shot put at 41' 1" and Terpstra placed fifth in the discus at 128' 7/4".

The Chelsea 3200 relay team of Joe Blough, Scott Postiff, Dan Zatkovich, and Jim Hassett placed sixth in 9:54.3.

The Bulldogs' 1800 relay team of Raduane Far, Blough, Hassett, and Royce placed third in 3:31.81, a season-best time.

Far was the only individual Chelsea runner to place, taking fifth in the 400 at 52.71.

Pinkney Pirates won the meet easily with 100 points. Other team scores included Saline 64, Lincoln 56, Dexter 53, Tecumseh 49, Milan 46, and Chelsea 30.

"Our goal this season has been to be competitive and we have done that," Clarke said.

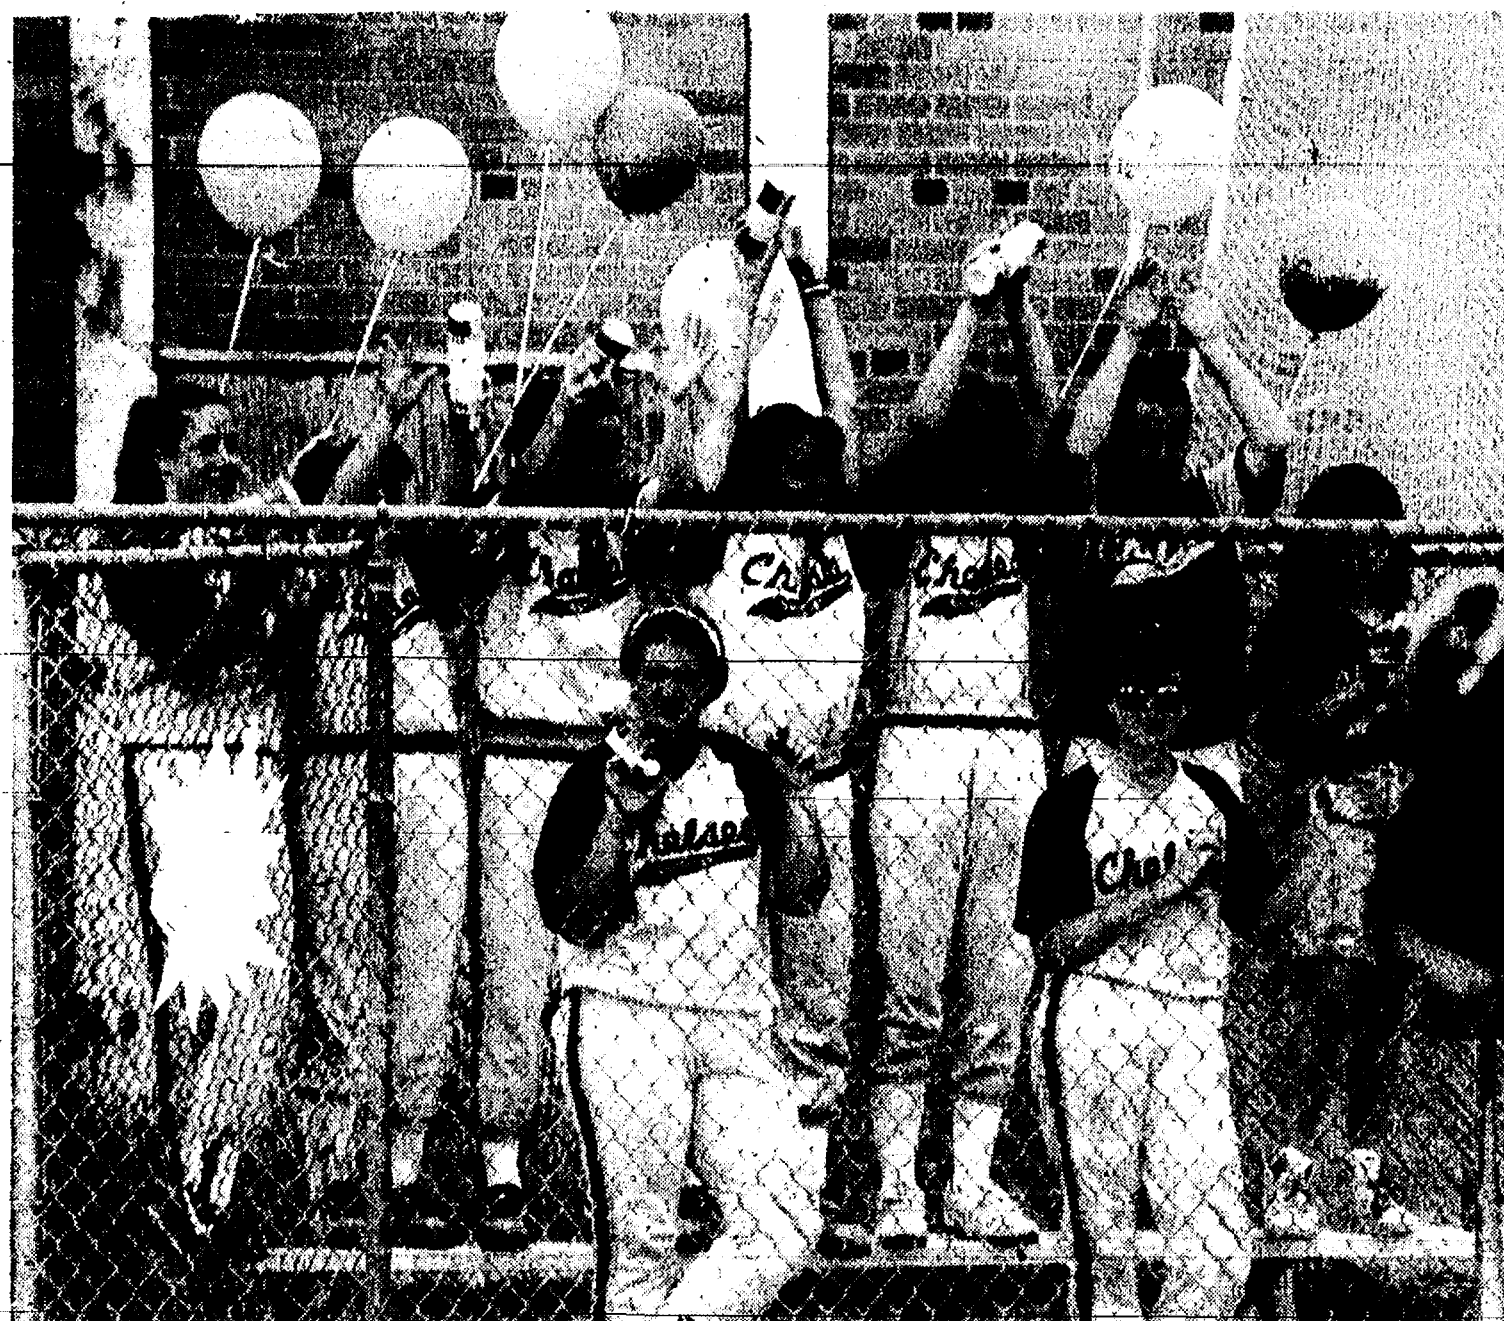

"The team has worked hard and really these young men couldn't have done a lot more. Hopefully next year more people will come out and boys track will continue to climb back to respectability."

Chelsea Golfers End League Season

Chelsea Bulldogs girls golf team finished sixth out of eight teams in their league tournament on May 23 at Hudson Mills Golf Course.

Top Chelsea scorers included Jennifer Adler 127, Jennifer Payne 136, Chris McLaughlin 146, and Jean DeLong 151.

IT WAS MORE LIKE A FESTIVAL than a softball closing innings. Chelsea won, 4-2, to move to the district game on the Chelsea bench last Thursday as the subs encouraged the Bulldogs defense to stop Hartland in the semi-finals this Saturday at Willow Run.

Chelsea Softball Team Reaches District Semis

Chelsea Bulldogs softball team survived a seventh-inning rally last Thursday to beat the Hartland Eagles, 4-2, and advance to the district semi-finals against Dexter this Saturday at Willow Run at 10:30 a.m.

The Bulldogs took a 4-0 lead into the bottom of the seventh inning when Hartland scored two runs and had the bases loaded with two outs. The Eagles hit several balls hard in the inning and had touched up Chelsea's Colleen Scharphorn for two straight run-scoring singles. However, third baseman Shawn Losey snagged a sharp grounder and made the throw to first baseman Kelly Cross at first base to end the threat.

Chelsea scored two runs in the second inning on a bases-loaded double by Sara Musolf.

The Bulldogs didn't score again until the seventh inning, when singles by Jenny Bobo and Jennifer Petty each scored a run.

Scharphorn gave up seven hits, all singles. She struck out eight and walked one.

Chelsea also had seven hits for the game, all singles.

Both teams had one error. "Both teams played extremely well," said Chelsea assistant coach Charlie Waller.

In other action last week, Chelsea swept Willow Run, 14-4 and 12-1 on Tuesday.

Cross pitched the opener and gave up two hits, walked three, and struck out nine. The strikeout number was a season-high for her.

The Bulldogs jumped out to a 9-0 lead after the first two innings.

Cross, Kelly Bellus, Losey, Scharphorn, Heather McConaghy, and Durst.

The Bulldogs had a 29-7 record after last week's action.

Sports Physicals For Athletes Slated June 12

Sports physical examinations for all Chelsea students entering grades 6-12 this fall are scheduled for Wednesday, June 12.

The examinations are intended to detect any significant health problems which would prevent a student from participating in athletics, as well as to meet the Michigan High School Athletic Association guidelines for an annual physical.

The examinations will be performed at the Chelsea Family Practice Center according to a schedule determined by a student's last name. Last names beginning A-E should report at 2 p.m., F-J at 2:30, K-O at 3, P-T at 3:30, and U-Z at 4 p.m.

Fee for the physical is $5, due at the time of the exam. Sports physical forms will be available after May 30 at Chelsea High School, Beach Middle School, and at the athletic office. It is each student's responsibility to obtain a form, have the health history portion completed and signed by a parent or guardian, complete the school district department portion of the form, and present the completed form at the time of the physical.

We speak of a herd of cattle; in this manner, we have an army of frogs, a clutter of cats, and a skulk of foxes.

STATE TRACK MEET QUALIFIERS from Chelsea include, from left, Sarah Brosnan, Lisa Monti, Beth Bell, Jessica Holton, Charity Allen, and Laura Paton. Brosnan, Monti, and Bell qualified with Sarah Henry (not pictured) in the 3200 relay. Bell, Holton, Allen, and Paton qualified in the 1600 relay. In individual events, Monti will run the 1600 and 3200, and Paton will run the 400. Not pictured is high jumper Jeanene Rossi.

Bulldog Girls Win Conference Track Title

Girls track team wrapped up an exciting league season Wednesday by winning the Southeastern Conference Meet for the second straight year, giving them the conference championship.

The Bulldogs finished the meet with 117 points to runner up Dexter's 77. Saline was third with 65 followed by Tecumseh with 61. Milan had 32, Lincoln 17 and Pinckney 7 to round out the scoring.

Chelsea jumped in front with 12 points in the first event as seniors Leisa Schiller and Deanna Richardson went 1-2 in the long jump with leaps of 15'4" and 15'1 1/2".

Lauren Sparaco took fifth in the discus with 94'8". Jeanene Rossi, was second in the high jump at 5'3", with Erin Schiller fifth at 4'9", her season-best.

Mara Smith threw her season-best in the shot as she was third with a 30'3". Amanda Nimke threw 28'11" for a fifth. At the end of the field events, the Bulldogs had 27 points, with Tecumseh and Lincoln next at 14 each.

"We were pleasantly surprised to be that far in front so quickly," said coach Bill Bainton.

"We thought Tecumseh would score well in the field. We got key performances from our senior long jumpers and the throwers, and Jeanene Rossi jumped well as she always does in big meets."

The Bulldogs started well in the running, as the 3200 relay of Sarah Henry, Lisa Monti, Sarah Brosnan and Beth Bell outdistanced the field by more than 11 seconds to win in 9:54.7.

All three of the hurdlers scored as Charity Allen was third at :17.0, Nimke fourth at :17.1, and Monica Hansen sixth at :17.6.

In the 100, Rossi, although unable to start in blocks due to a slight injury, came on strong enough to finish fifth in :13.7, with Leah Hadley close behind in sixth in :14.0.

Chelsea won their second relay of the afternoon as Laura Paton, Schiller, Hadley, and Theresa Royce put together their season best of 1:50.9 to edge Dexter at the wire.

Monti, the only Bulldog to win two events, followed with a win in the 1600 at 5:21.7. She came back later to run away from the field by 20 seconds winning the 3200 in 11:39.8.

The 400 relay of Hadley, Schiller, Royce and Royce took third at :53.5. Paton had her best 400 ever, placing second at 1:01.9.

The Bulldog hurdlers struck again, picking up 12 points in the 300 hurdles, as Allen won in :48.4, two seconds ahead of second place, with Nimke edging Hansen, :52.3 to :52.4 for fourth and fifth.

"Our hurdlers have been very competitive all season," Bainton said.

"Scoring 20 points and having them each place in both races was very rewarding."

At that point, the Bulldogs had a commanding lead, 87-60, over Dexter. Bell was third in the 800 at 2:29.8 with Henry, fifth, in her season best of 2:32.9. Royce was second in the 200 at :27.5, with Schiller, fifth, in :28.0.

The Bulldogs closed out the night by winning their seventh event. The 1600 relay of Paton, Bell, Jessica Holton and Allen clocked a 4:14.5.

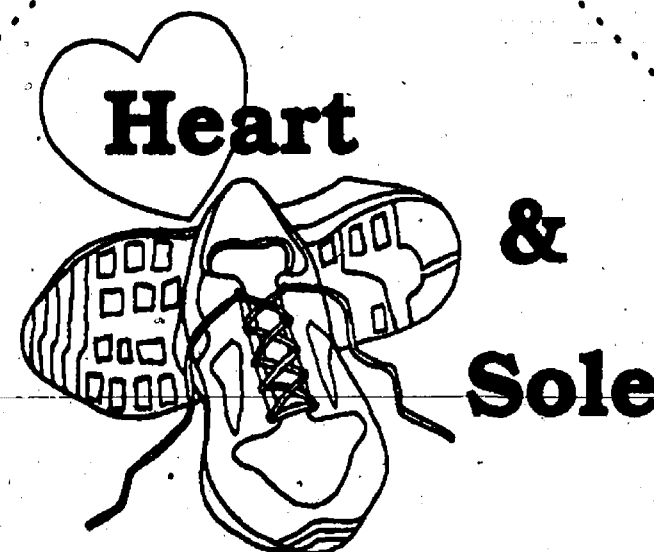

Chelsea scored in every event, as they have most of the year, and had a good mix of meet champions and depth as they took the over-all title for the first time since 1986. Defending champion Dexter finished second, Tecumseh third, and Saline fourth.

"We're really happy to have done so well," Bainton said.

"This was a goal for us all year, and we ran with a real purpose. It's great to see a goal realized and we are proud to be SEC champions. We had solid performances throughout our lineup, as we have all season."

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

I've never seen so much excitement at the Chelsea High school ball fields. Last Thursday someone decorated the softball bench cages with blue and gold balloons. The girls on the bench had cans filled with stones, which they used as noisemakers. They even did a few makeshift waves to spur on the defense. When the baseball team, for perhaps the first time ever, finished before the softball team, many of the hardball fans came over to join in the fun, producing one of the largest softball crowds I've seen here.

Baseball crowds are a little more subdued, but the energy is there. The stands have been filled for virtually every game recently, and I'm sure a big contingent will show up for the district tournament this Saturday.

There's good reason for all the excitement.

The Bulldogs have two teams that are very capable of advancing past the district tournament this year. They'll know for certain this Saturday when they advance to their four-team tournaments.

Both the softball team and baseball team play Dexter in their first game. If coach Amy Poljan's softball team can't beat the Dreadnaughts, who are below .500 on the season, they don't deserve to advance to the finals.

Senior pitcher Colleen Scharphorn and junior Jennifer Petty can dominate a game. Lately Scharphorn has wavered between good and spectacular, but always seems to get the job done in key games.

Chelsea's defense has made the big plays, perhaps none bigger than Shawn Losey's stab of a bases-loaded grounder last Thursday against Hartland for the final out.

The offense is also capable of scoring runs in bunches, especially when the running game is on and opponents start to unravel under the pressure. The Bulldogs have been exceptional at taking advantage of opponents' mistakes.

It's a little different story for coach Wayne Welton's baseball team. Chelsea has beaten them three times out of three this season, but they've all been close games. The Dreadnaughts have the athletes, a good veteran coach in Duane Clark, and a couple of solid pitchers. That first game could be the toughest of the tournament if the Bulldogs advance.

However, you've got to like the Bulldogs' chances. Senior Rob Clem has been a rock-solid pitcher over the last three weeks and threw his second career no-hitter last week. He'll get the start, but Welton won't hesitate to put junior Jake Rindle on the mound if something goes wrong. And if things really sour, senior Craig Ferry and junior Chris White are available. No Chelsea pitcher has more than one loss. Pitching depth is one of Welton's greatest luxuries this season.

(It's been interesting that Rindle is listed in the Detroit Free Press as one of the top pitchers in the state. His record is 9-0, so there's justification in the ranking. However, Clem hasn't been mentioned, although he's 8-1 with a no-hitter and Welton considers him his "go-to" guy.)

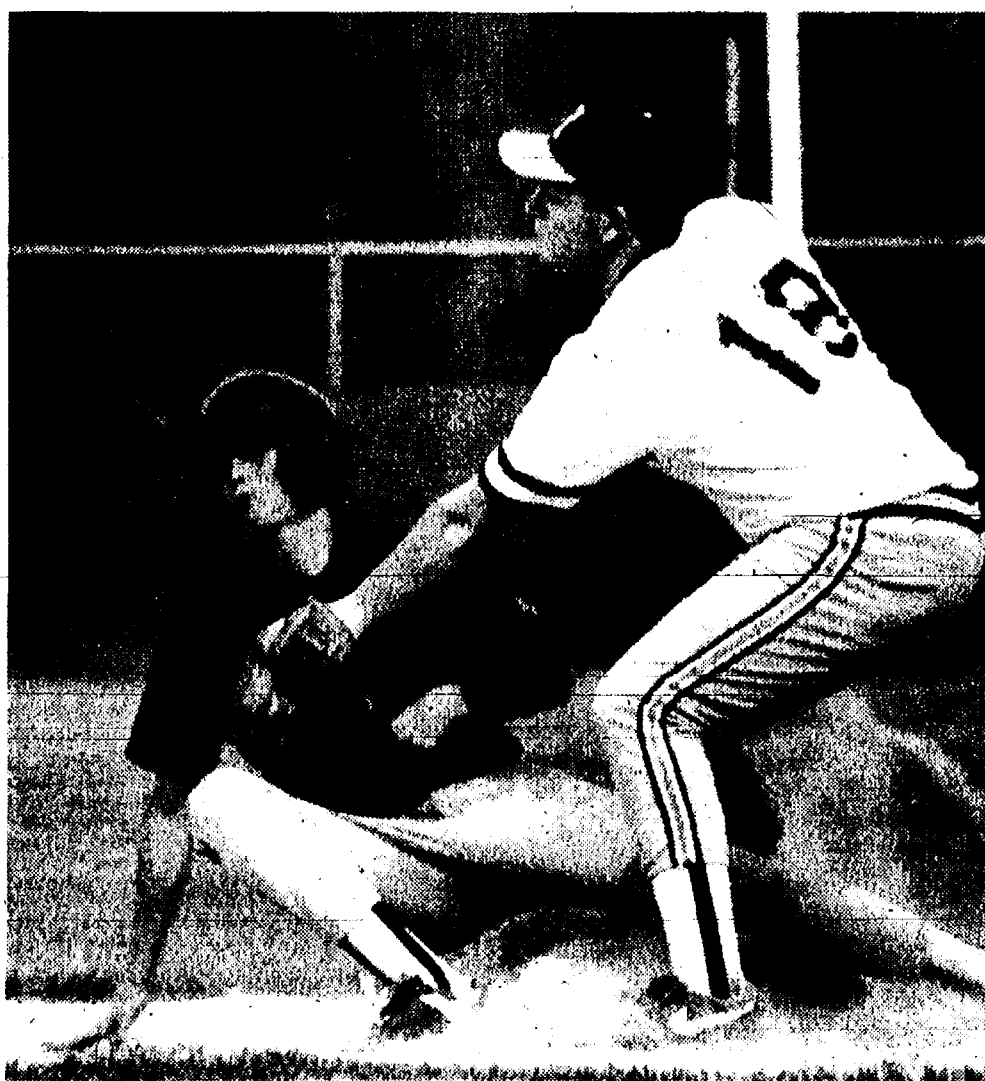

The Chelsea defense is as good as it's been in the last several years.

And the offense has played well enough to win 26 times as of this writing. The Bulldogs have won eight games in their last at-bat. They dig in when they have to. Senior Kerry Plank has nine game-winning hits. Senior Jude Quilter has suddenly become a home-run threat. In fact, Welton says the team has as much power as it ever has, which is quite a statement when you think back to the Chuck Downer/Mark Mull teams of the past.

So, it's understandable why there's been so much enthusiasm at the old ball parks these days.

FIVE CHELSEA BOYS qualified for the class B state track meet this Saturday. From left are shot putter Mike Terpstra, high jumper Jon Royce, and Raduone Far, Jim Hassett, and Joe Blough, who will join Royce in the 1600 relay.

KELLY BEARD manages to slide back safely into first base under the tag during Chelsea's 3-0 victory over the Hartland Eagles last Thursday. Chelsea advances to play Dexter this Saturday.

JV Softball Team Splits Two Games With Fenton

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity baseball team split with Fenton last week to improve their season record to 18-7.

Chelsea won the opener, 4-2, behind the four-hit pitching of Erin Knott.

"It was a great game by any standards," said Chelsea coach Ken Sullins.

"We got good pitching and good defense and hit well."

Chelsea scored in each the first and third innings, then the teams matched single runs in the fourth and fifth.

Gretchen Knutsen knocked in each of the first two runs. Jamie Collinsworth and Stephanie Hanselman knocked in runs in the fourth and fifth innings, respectively.

Knutsen was 3-3 for the game and Nikki Piasecki was 2-4.

In the second game, Chelsea took a 1-0 lead after the first inning, but Fenton scored in each of the next four innings.

"The young kids did okay but were no match for the older Fenton team," Sullins said.

"Errors and misplays put us deep in the hole in the fourth and we couldn't dig our way out."

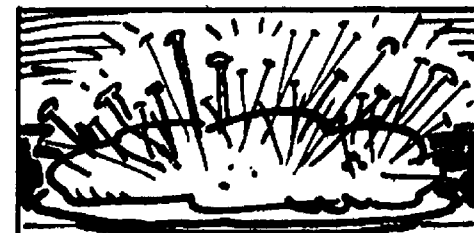

Missy Schumann pitched all five innings for the Bulldogs.

Amy Bowling's hit produced the only Chelsea run.

Trustees Present: Kanten, Merkel, Steele, Hammer, Myers, Dorer.
Absent: Anderson (until 8:28 p.m.)
Others Present: D. Bulson, B. Hamilton, Lisa Gray-Lion, Cecil Clouse, George Heydlauff.

Village Council conducted an interview with Mr. Ron Singel at 6:45 p.m. in an open session, this was a second interview for the Village Manager position.
Motion by Myers, supported by Dorer, to approve the Consent Agenda. Motion carried. All ayes. Absent: Anderson.

Dave Bulson, Public Works Superintendent, reported that the first phase of tree planting has begun in the Belser project. 38 trees have been planted.

Trustee Kanten asked Cecil Clouse, Landfill Superintendent, if it would be possible during the off weeks of recycling pickup to collect Newspapers and Plastic Jugs from elderly shut-ins. Five individuals have contacted Trustee Kanten as to the feasibility of such a program. Mr. Clouse feels that this is a reasonable request, however, he explained that the Village can not pick up Newspapers at this time because of the pending grant for recycling. In addition, it would be difficult to pick up some Plastic Jugs and not all. Other Council Members expressed their concern for those who do not have transportation available to successfully recycle their goods. Mr. Clouse feels the Village will be in a better position as we progress in the recycling efforts and the pending grant is awarded.

Trustee Hammer reported on the Western Washtenaw County Recycling Authority (WWCRA). During their last meeting, the WWCRA came to an agreement on their Resolution and Articles of Incorporation. The group has formed committees associated with the grant in order to be better prepared when the grant is actually awarded. These committees are: Finance; Equipment and Transportation; and Education. Trustee Hammer reported that the ten governmental units involved have worked very well together.

The Village Council conducted a Public Hearing on the 1991/92 Village Budgets. There were no oral or written comments.

Motion by Myers, supported by Merkel, to adopt the attached Resolutions for the 1991/92 Village Budgets. Roll call vote. Ayes: Hammer, Kanten, Steele, Merkel, Dorer, Myers. Absent: Anderson. Motion carried. Resolution adopted. (Resolutions attached as Appendix A and B.)

President Steele spoke regarding the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority and the requested funding from the Village of Chelsea. President Steele reported that there had been no substantial activity on this matter and he felt that in the best interest of the residents of the Village of Chelsea the Council needed to act on this matter. The Council expressed concern that they had not heard back from Mr. Bolton after the last meeting where Council had suggested decreasing mid-day runs and increasing fare amounts. President Steele spoke for Council indicating that they would like a report back from the AATA that would clarify the impact of such changes. Council also suggested the ridership appeal to Mr. Bolton as well as his superiors. Council will pursue a meeting with the management of the AATA.

President Steele inquired whether or not we had heard from MMEA Legal Defense Fund. Assistant Village Manager Kuehn reported that we had not. No action was taken.

Motion by Myers, supported by Hammer, to appoint Mr. Tim Eder to the Village Planning Commission to fill the unexpired term of Marilyn Guenther. This term will expire June of 1993. All Ayes. Absent: Anderson. Motion carried.

President Steele reported the Michigan United Conservation Clubs have notified Council that they plan to canvass in the Village from April 1, 1991 to July 31, 1991. Council will request the Michigan United Conservation Clubs to limit their Door-to-Door Political Canvass to a one month period.

Motion by Myers, supported by Dorer, to adopt the Western Washtenaw County Recycling Authority Resolution and Articles of Incorporation. All Ayes. Absent: Anderson. Motion carried. (Attached to these minutes as Appendix C.)

Mr. Peter Flintoff, Village Attorney and Mr. Mark Heydlauff, DDA representative were present to explain the proposed "Declaration of Taking" for the Bowling property at 115 W. Middle Street.

Motion by Dorer, supported by Kanten, to execute the "Declaration of Taking" for the Thomas-Bowling property at 115 W. Middle Street. Roll call vote. Ayes: Hammer, Kanten, Steele, Merkel, Dorer, Myers. Absent: Anderson. Motion carried.

Mr. Mark Heydlauff, from the DDA, reported on the progress of several projects in process. First, the Bid Documents have been available since April 16, 1991 in the Village Offices and 25 sets have been distributed. May 14, 1991 is the deadline for completion of the Bid Documents. There is a Pre-Bid meeting May 3, 1991 at 2:00 to answer questions. Second, the light fixtures bid will go directly to the manufacturer—for a costs savings of 15-20%. Third, Davis of Owosso has bid $9,200 to move the Easudes home, hopefully the DDA will have a Resolution ready for Council to sign by May 14, 1991 and the home will be moved late May to early June. Fourth, the study on the vaults was completed by Robert Darvas Associates, an Ann Arbor Firm. Council needs to make a decision on how to handle the vaults which are Village property. Fifth, the property purchase from the Masonic Temple for their storage shed was discussed. Sixth, signage is scheduled for installation early May, the DDA still needs to talk to some of the property owners. Seventh, the DDA has raised $250,000 with 21 pledges thus far in their fund raising activities. There will be a fund raising dinner May 11, 1991 at 7:00 p.m. at the Chelsea Community Hospital, tickets will be $100.00/per plate. Eighth, the DDA would like to form a committee of Council and DDA members to review, approve and select the contractor from the May 14, 1991 Bid Documents. Also, they would like to form a committee to discuss the interim parking situation during construction activities. Council authorized Dave Bulson and Chief McDougall to meet with the committee regarding the parking situation. Last, but not least, the West Middle location appears to be the best location for relocation of the Easudes home.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Dorer, to establish a committee of three individuals from Council, which includes the Village Council President Steele, whose responsibility is to join the DDA and others to review the Bid Documents for the downtown development and authorize the Bid selection. The other two members of the committee will be Trustee Myers and Trustee Dorer. Motion carried.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Myers, to designate Trustee Hammer as a member of the Western Washtenaw County Recycling Authority Board and Village Council President Steele as alternate. Motion carried.

Correspondence was received from SEMCOG regarding a meeting to be held April 25, 1991.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Hammer, to enter into Executive Session. Motion carried. Time: 8:45 p.m.

Motion by Anderson, supported by Hammer, to adjourn Executive Session. All ayes. Absent: Myers. Motion carried. Time: 9:35 p.m.

Motion by Anderson, supported by Kanten, to adopt the tentative wage package for department heads and other non-union personnel. All ayes. Absent: Myers. Motion carried.

Motion by Merkel, supported by Hammer, to adjourn Regular Session. All ayes. Absent: Myers. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned at 9:37 p.m.

Q. What will be the grade configuration for the new elementary school?

A. After much study and discussion, the Board of Education decided to build a facility that would focus on our young students. Other districts that are using this approach are extremely pleased with the results.

All of our kindergarten students and all of our first-grade students will be housed in the new building. Also, because the high school needs the classrooms, our pre-school program will be forced to move again into the new facility.

• • •

Q. What else will be found in the new elementary school?

A. The location of the new elementary has not yet been determined. We are currently exploring several sites, including the one already owned by the district.

• • •

Q. What will the new elementary cost?

A. The new elementary will cost $6 million, which includes all contingency fees, site development, and everything else associated with the project.

• • •

Q. Where will the new elementary be located?

A. The location of the new elementary has not yet been determined. We are currently exploring several sites, including the one already owned by the district.

• • •

Q. When will the location of the new elementary be determined?

A. The location will probably not be determined until after the election in September. We will need the bond funds in order to purchase property if we decide to not use the property we already own.

School Board Candidates To Answer Questions in Public

Two candidates for the Chelsea Board of Education will field questions at a Meet the Candidates Night on Monday, June 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the board room.

Jan Roberts and Conrad Knutsen will answer questions from the public. Any school district resident is invited to attend.

Both Roberts and Knutsen ran for school board last year when there were 11 candidates.

The event is being sponsored by the parent-teacher organizations at North and South Elementary schools. It is being held in place of the regular school board meeting that night. The board meeting was moved to June 10, the night of the school district election.

CHELSEA INDUSTRIES EARNS ELITE FORD AWARD—O.B. (Bud) Marx, III (with plaque), vice-president, Automotive Components Group, Ford Motor Co., presented Chelsea Industries, Inc., of Chelsea, with Ford's Q1 Preferred Quality Award at a luncheon in Dearborn. Ford credits Q1 suppliers with helping produce the highest-quality cars and trucks designed and built in North America for the ninth straight year. The prestigious Q1 Award, earned by more than half of all Ford suppliers, goes to manufacturing locations that have implemented an effective quality-assurance program and received an excellent quality rating. These plants use statistical methods to build in quality, rather than catch errors at the end of the manufacturing line. Chelsea Industries makes formed wires and wire car-seat frames for Ford vehicles.

Pathfinders Will Make Pitch in Lansing To DNR on Friday

Chelsea "Pathfinders" group will make a trip en masse this Friday to Lansing where they hope to convince officials of the Department of Natural Resources their bike path project in the village is worthy of a state grant.

Pathfinders is a group of fifth graders in the Enrichment Triad Program at North and South Elementary schools which grew out of a pilot community problem-solving program. At the beginning of the school year, the students selected a project to pursue based on finding a solution to what they felt was a local problem.

Since then, the children, as well as a "Pathfinders" group of parents and interested residents, have looked for ways to make the project a reality.

They've talked to all sorts of civic groups and governmental bodies and leaders, explored locations for the path, and generally tackled the topic from as many angles as they can think of.

The group will make their initial presentation to the Recreation Services Division from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. at the Michigan State Library. Their goal is to convince the division that a bike path, technically a "linear park," would be created for recreational reasons.

Pathfinders hopes to find a liaison person within the DNR to establish a manageable timetable for the plan.

There's even word the division is trying to set up a meeting with Gov. John Engler.

Girl Scout Uniform Exchange Scheduled

Chelsea Girl Scouts will be having a uniform "exchange" on May 30, from 2:30 to 3:15 p.m., at both North and South Elementary schools. Troop leaders will be supervising the exchange. At North school the exchange will be held in the Media Center. At South school the exchange will be held in the Cafeteria.

This exchange is for you if you have a girl who may be entering Girl Scouting in the fall or if you have a registered Scout who is outgrowing her uniform.

Uniform pieces may be donated, exchanged and/or sold. All uniform pieces are welcome—Daisy smock; Brownie blouse, jumper, slacks, tie, hat, sash or vest; Junior blouse, skirt, slacks, tie, hat, sash or vest; Cadette blouse, skirt, slacks, tie, hat, or vest; Senior blouse, skirt, slacks, tie, hat or sash.

Casual sportswear items may be included, too, but no cookie sale T-shirts.

For items being donated or exchanged, please attach a note to each item to identify its size.

It is asked that if you accept a donated item for future use that it be re-donated to the Chelsea uniform exchange so it may be used again.

For items to be sold please attach an unsealed, self-addressed envelope (with your phone number, too) to each item. On the back side of the envelope clearly mark your price, the size(s) of the item(s), and identify what the item(s) are.

You may drop items off anytime after 2:30 p.m. The Girl Scouts will save items not exchanged or sold for an exchange in the fall. If you want sale items that are not sold, you may remove these items at 3:15 p.m. the date of the exchange.

There are Scouts waiting for your old uniforms—help out our latest recycling project!

INS Cracking Down on Hiring of Illegal Aliens

A Michigan Farm Bureau labor expert is warning farm employers that the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) has begun an intensive national effort to vigorously enforce sanctions against employers who knowingly employ illegal aliens.

Howard Kelly, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau, said the new enforcement campaign has already hit several farms in Michigan. "It's a double edged sword," Kelly said. "On the one hand, the INS has stepped up enforcement against hiring of illegal aliens. On the other hand, they are also continuing their efforts to prosecute employers who use the employer sanctions law as an excuse to discriminate against job applicants."

He said farm employers should check every employee to make sure they have documents that prove they are eligible to work in the U.S. "For the past couple of years we had advised farmers that they did not have to authenticate the documents, but because so many fraudulent documents are being used, it's imperative that farmers make their best investigation of the materials."

Farm Bureau Urges Rejection of Budget Plan

Farm Bureau is urging Congress to vote "no" on the 1992 fiscal year budget resolution. Michigan Farm Bureau public affairs director Al Almy said the Budget Conference Committee failed to take the bold step that would have led to much needed spending restraint.

"Farm Bureau's concern is that if Congress passes this resolution it will have chosen to pave the way for higher taxes that will not be good for the over-all economy," Almy said. "It will also pave the way for the new entitlement programs that will place even more pressure on the federal budget in future years."

CHERYL SCHOENBERG of Sylvan township retired Friday, from "her first and only job" after working 28 years as a receptionist for Dr. Clare Warren, a long-time village dentist. She started work at the South St. office four years after it opened, when it was one of two dental offices in town. Now there are six. Along the way, she managed to learn a little data processing as the business became computerized. Schoenberg plans to spend more time with her grandchildren and do a little traveling with her husband, Don, the Sylvan township supervisor. "Dr. Warren has been a really good employer," Schoenberg said. "He's always been fair and good to work for."

Beach Substance Abuse Group To Hold Second Meeting June 5

"As Parents We Will..." group at Beach Middle school will hold its second meeting on Wednesday, June 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the media center.

The group, formed by substance abuse and mental health advisor Cheryl Davis, is designed to help parents provide ways for children to avoid substance abuse.

In the first meeting, Davis described a "safe home" program where children can go for social and recreational activities. Parents who participate will agree to develop and uphold rules regarding curfew and movie viewing and will make certain alcohol is not available. In addition, they will agree to provide an adult chaperone.

Topic of the second meeting is "Knowing The Facts." Parents of children who will attend Beach school next year are invited to attend. For more information, contact Davis at 475-9131, ext. 28.

MDA Promises New Procedure for Right To Farm Complaints

The Michigan Commission of Agriculture has done some fine tuning on its procedures for handling complaints under the Right to Farm Law, according to Michigan Farm Bureau legislative counsel Ron Nelson. He said the Michigan Department of Agriculture (MDA) will now contact both the individual who files a complaint and the farmer, and then later provide feedback to both parties.

"I believe that's an extremely important step forward, because in the past both parties were uncertain of the outcome of a complaint," he said.

Nelson says that despite the tight state budget, the Michigan Department of Agriculture will be giving a high priority to Right To Farm issues.

The board approved the minutes of the special meeting of May 15.

Entered as an official communication was a report of the results of the recent scoliosis screening conducted at Beach Middle school by the Washtenaw County Health Department.

High school senior Brett Salamin was present at the meeting to give the presentation that won for him the state championship in the recent forensics competition. His outstanding performance was enjoyed by everyone present at the meeting.

Present at the meeting were high school seniors Julie Warren, Lucy Eisenbeiser, Leisa Schiller, and Angie Nagel, who participated in the mentorship program. They briefly described their activities and introduced their mentors, who received certificates of appreciation from president Anne Comeau.

Superintendent Piasecki informed the board that because of increased enrollment, an additional first-grade section and an additional fifth-grade section are needed for next year. It will also be necessary to use two portable units at South school next year. The addition of these two sections will require a minimum of 1-1/2 additional staff persons. Other positions to be filled are those of Don Young (retiring) and Jon Andrews (leave status).

The subject of the 20-minute-earlier starting time for students was discussed. Piasecki reported that the schedule has been a success and recommended that it be continued. At its next meeting, the board will determine whether it should be continued into the next school year.

In action items, the board:

- cancelled the June 3 board meeting
- scheduled the first June meeting for Monday, June 10, 7:30 p.m., in the Beach School Media Center
- approved administrative salaries as submitted.

BOB BENEDICT, South Elementary school principal, strikes a regal pose Friday during the school's retirement party for him. Benedict wore a crown and sat in his makeshift throne while children and teachers sang and performed. He also carried away a basket full of loot. Benedict is retiring after 24 years as a principal at North and South schools.

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON—A nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritionally complete "hi-tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Researchers in Europe found that an ingredient in the aptly named product Food Source One actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutrition. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to a decrease in the intestinal absorption of calories.

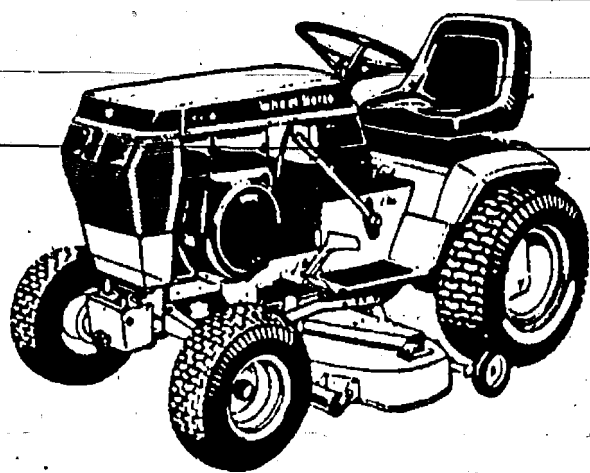

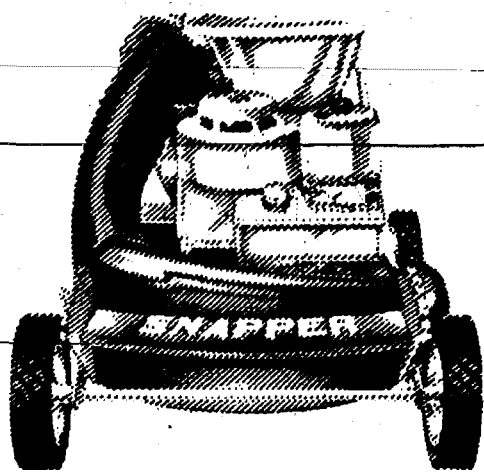

While the development of Food Source One, a project of National Dietary Research, would not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal, the discovery has been a windfall for overweight people. A Daytona Beach, Florida woman fighting a weight battle for 12 years used the product on the recommendation of her physician and lost 30 pounds. She stated, "Not only have I lost 30 pounds but my cholesterol has dropped from 232 to 143. I have two closets full of clothes which have not fit me in two years that I can now wear." In a separate report, a telephone interview revealed that a Wilmington, North Carolina pharmacist lost 14 pounds in 15 days on the product and was never hungry.

Food Source One is available through physicians and pharmacies without a prescription because it is not a drug and contains only natural ingredients already known to be safe. Copies of the referenced study are available free from National Dietary Research, Suite 553, 1377 K St., Washington, DC 20005, however, please include $2 postage & handling for each request.
