BROTHER-AND-SISTER Mike and Jane Wood, both Chelsea High school graduates working in the news business, are pictured at the Dec. 16 press conference marking the anniversary date superintendent of schools Joseph Piasecki was murdered. That was the first time the siblings competed side by side for the best position in covering the event for television.

Study Now Underway To Determine Future Of McKune Library

Representatives of four local townships and the village of Chelsea have begun meeting to investigate the feasibility of establishing a district library. Presently McKune Memorial Library is primarily supported by the Village of Chelsea. Formation of a district library would allow the people of Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon and Dexter Townships to share control of the library. The first question facing the representatives on the District Library Planning Committee is whether the community is satisfied with the present library and whether the library in its present state can continue to properly serve the community into the future. The committee then must determine if a district library organization is the best method to meet the library needs of the entire community. If the planning committee decides to recommend creation of a district library to the township and village governments, they will then proceed to the next stage of the process, the development of a district library agreement. This agreement must be formally reviewed by each of the townships and village governing bodies before being ultimately presented to a vote by all of the district's citizens. For now the committee is targeting completion of the entire process for the spring of 1996.

Members of the committee and their sub committee assignments are: Library Needs Assessment, Diane Bareis, Allen Cole, Steve Daut, and Bob Mida; Finance, Diane Haskill, William McRoy, Nancy Myers, and Sandy Thomas; Other Communities, LuAnn Koch, Nancy Paul, Barbara Roderick, Rhona Velling; and Steering, Jan Dohner, Mary Green, Gary Zenz. The District Library Planning Committee will be meeting the first Thursday of every month at 8:30 p.m. at the McKune Memorial Library. Members of the community are encouraged to attend.

Sibling Rivalry

Jane, Mike Wood Compete at Media Posts

Sibling rivalry has reached a new plateau for Jane and Mike Wood as they fight it out in the television broadcasting industry.

Rather than compete for the attention of their parents, the brother and sister now vie for the best lighting and angle when they are assigned stories for WLNS in Lansing and WKBD in Detroit.

For the first time, both were assigned the same story, and it just happened to be in their home town, at the Dec. 16 press conference marking the first anniversary Chelsea High school science teacher Stephen Leith murdered school superintendent Joseph Piasecki.

"It was the first time we shot side by side," said Jane, who has followed her older brother in the videography field.

"It was neat to see her as another working professional," said Mike, who admits there was some sibling rivalry present that day. "I was certainly thinking of every shot I got because I knew she'd be looking at it. There was a little friendly rivalry."

The children of Clarence and Pat Wood of Sylvan township, both grew up in the Chelsea area. Mike, a 1980 Chelsea High school graduate, initially embarked on a radio broadcast career after studying the field at Western Michigan University. He worked as a disc jockey for three years at radio station WKFR in Kalamazoo, a top 40 FM station, while enrolled at WMU before switching to radio news. He studied radio/TV broadcast at Specs Howard School of Broadcasting and was hired as a reporter by an NBC affiliate in Armadillo, Tex. But before he could start as a reporter, Mike had to fill in as a videographer for two months until the position opened up. That two-month long stint turned into a career when Mike unearthed his artistic side. "I found I kind of had a knack for shooting video for TV," he said.

With no camera experience, Mike parlayed his disc jockey experience into a successful and rewarding career in photography. "It's fun. You can be creative and comfortable," said the 30-year-old Mike.

After eight months in Texas, Mike returned to Michigan to work as a videographer for WILX in Lansing. From there, he went to WKBD, where he has spent the past eight years.

A 1984 Chelsea High school graduate, Jane didn't expect to be battling her brother for news. "I never once thought I'd be doing what he's doing," she said. "I think it's ironic."

Jane had intended on studying psychology at Michigan State University, but changed her major to communication. After graduating in 1990, Jane contemplated a career in public relations and other communication fields before accepting a position at CBS-affiliate WLNS in Lansing. She started out as a production assistant and quickly moved through the ranks to newsroom assistant, then full-time videographer. She is joined by two other Chelsea High school grads in the photography department at the station. Pat Barkley and Steve Worthing also work there.

Since embarking on her new-found career a year ago, Jane has met distinction by being the first full-time female videographer in the Lansing area. She says her career has taught her more than she learned in school and she has met people she never thought she would meet. Some famous people she has filmed for the TV station include suicide doctor Jack Kevorkian, actor Charlton Heston and basketball players Bill Lambier, Vinny Johnson and Magic Johnson.

Brother Mike has provided pool coverage that has gone national. When he was still green, Mike had video he shot aired on NBC Nightly News when his NBC affiliate sent coverage to New York. "Just starting out, it was kind of mind boggling," Mike admits. He has also worked as a freelance videographer for the Detroit Pistons. On Monday, Mike was assigned Governor John Engler's inauguration for WKBD Channel 50.

While Mike has enjoyed a thriving career, his sister's has recently begun. Jane has made great strides in the field and continues to learn and explore all dimensions of the broadcasting industry. Officials at WLNS have helped her probe different facets of the broadcasting industry. When she was a production assistant she followed the chief photographer on her off time, learning the videog-raphy trade. Presently, she is experimenting in the writing/editing field. When a reporter isn't available, Jane has had the opportunity to interview people and edit the piece at the station. Recently, she wrote and edited a story on Chelsea's Purple Rose Theatre.

"It's almost like going to school but being paid for it," she explains.

Jane is content with her new career. Her coverage area stretches from Lansing to Chelsea and throughout mid-Michigan. She mainly covers the courts and local tragedies. But covering the tragedies is what Jane dislikes most about her job. "We do 'good' stories," she assures the 28-year-old Jane. An assignment she is most proud of is the story of a young boy who had his foot cut off during a train accident. She said she felt morbid shooting the tracks where the event took place. But when the reporter arranged to do a follow up story about the boy returning to school and meeting the person who saved his life, Jane felt good about the story because she covered it full circle.

Like his sister, Mike feels uncomfortable covering the gloom and doom that often makes the news. "I try to be a little more sensitive or ethical," he said.

Mike was one of the first media representatives on the scene of the Piasecki murder last year. "There are a lot of memories in that neighborhood... It was kind of weird," he said. He has been on the scene of other tragic events, but this was where he grew up. "That was my life, my neighborhood my school. It was bizarre," Mike remembers. He just happened to be in town that day when the news hit. Instead of his usual post behind the camera, Mike used his close ties to direct crews and set up interviews.

The brother and sister don't see much of each other, even though their careers often collide. A White Lake resident, Mike says he often calls his sister in Lansing to talk shop. His wife, Kelli Felker, often joins in the conversation. The media business appears to be a family affair for the Woods. Mike's wife works as a producer for the Eyewitness Morning News show at Channel 2.

Chelsea, Japanese Village May Become Sister Towns

Chelsea Village may establish international family ties as the council considers a proposal to set up a sister town relationship with a similar village half way around the world.

The Chelsea-Shimizu Exchange Committee, comprised of Chelsea residents, teachers and community volunteers, has proposed the village council endorse the sisterly relationship. An answer is expected this spring.

The proposal was drafted following a Chelsea High school graduate's assistant teaching assignment in Japan. Brian Oakley's work as an assistant English teacher in Shimizu-cho, Japan has already facilitated a student exchange program at the middle school level.

Oakley, a 1986 Chelsea High school graduate, was assigned to teach at Shimizu-cho in Hokkaido in 1991. In 1993, his mother, Deborah, met with then-superintendent of Chelsea schools, Joseph Piasecki, about meeting with Japanese school officials to discuss exchange visits of junior high students. In October 1993, the officials paid a visit and it was agreed that Shimizu-cho junior high students could spend a week-long exchange here. After a year of planning, 10 Japanese students and six adults arrived Oct. 10 and were hosted by several local families.

Now, Chelsea Beach Middle school students are applying to visit Shimizu-cho as part of the exchange. The Chelsea-Shimizu Exchange Committee hopes to send 10 students, but wants the sister town relationship established before the actual exchange. The trip will be self-funded, but scholarships may be established to help with expenses. It is the committee's hope that local families and officials will visit the Village of Shimizu as part of the sister town relationship.

"It would be wonderful if some of our community could travel to Shimizu," says Deborah Oakley. Oakley describes Shimizu as a town very similar to Chelsea. It is a farming community with chicken and horse farms. Farmers produce corn, wheat and sugar beets. The population is approximately 10,000 people, including residents in surrounding townships.

In Japan, towns are encouraged to build the sister city relationship and recruit native English speakers to assist Japanese teachers in the junior high schools. Shimizu-cho is seeking an assistant English teacher for next fall to fulfill a year-long teaching assignment. Applicants need not speak Japanese or have a teaching certificate, just a bachelor's degree from an accredited college. Letters of interest are currently being accepted via Hiroake Hosono at the Board of Education, Shimizu-cho, Kamikawa-Gun, Hokkaido, 089-01.

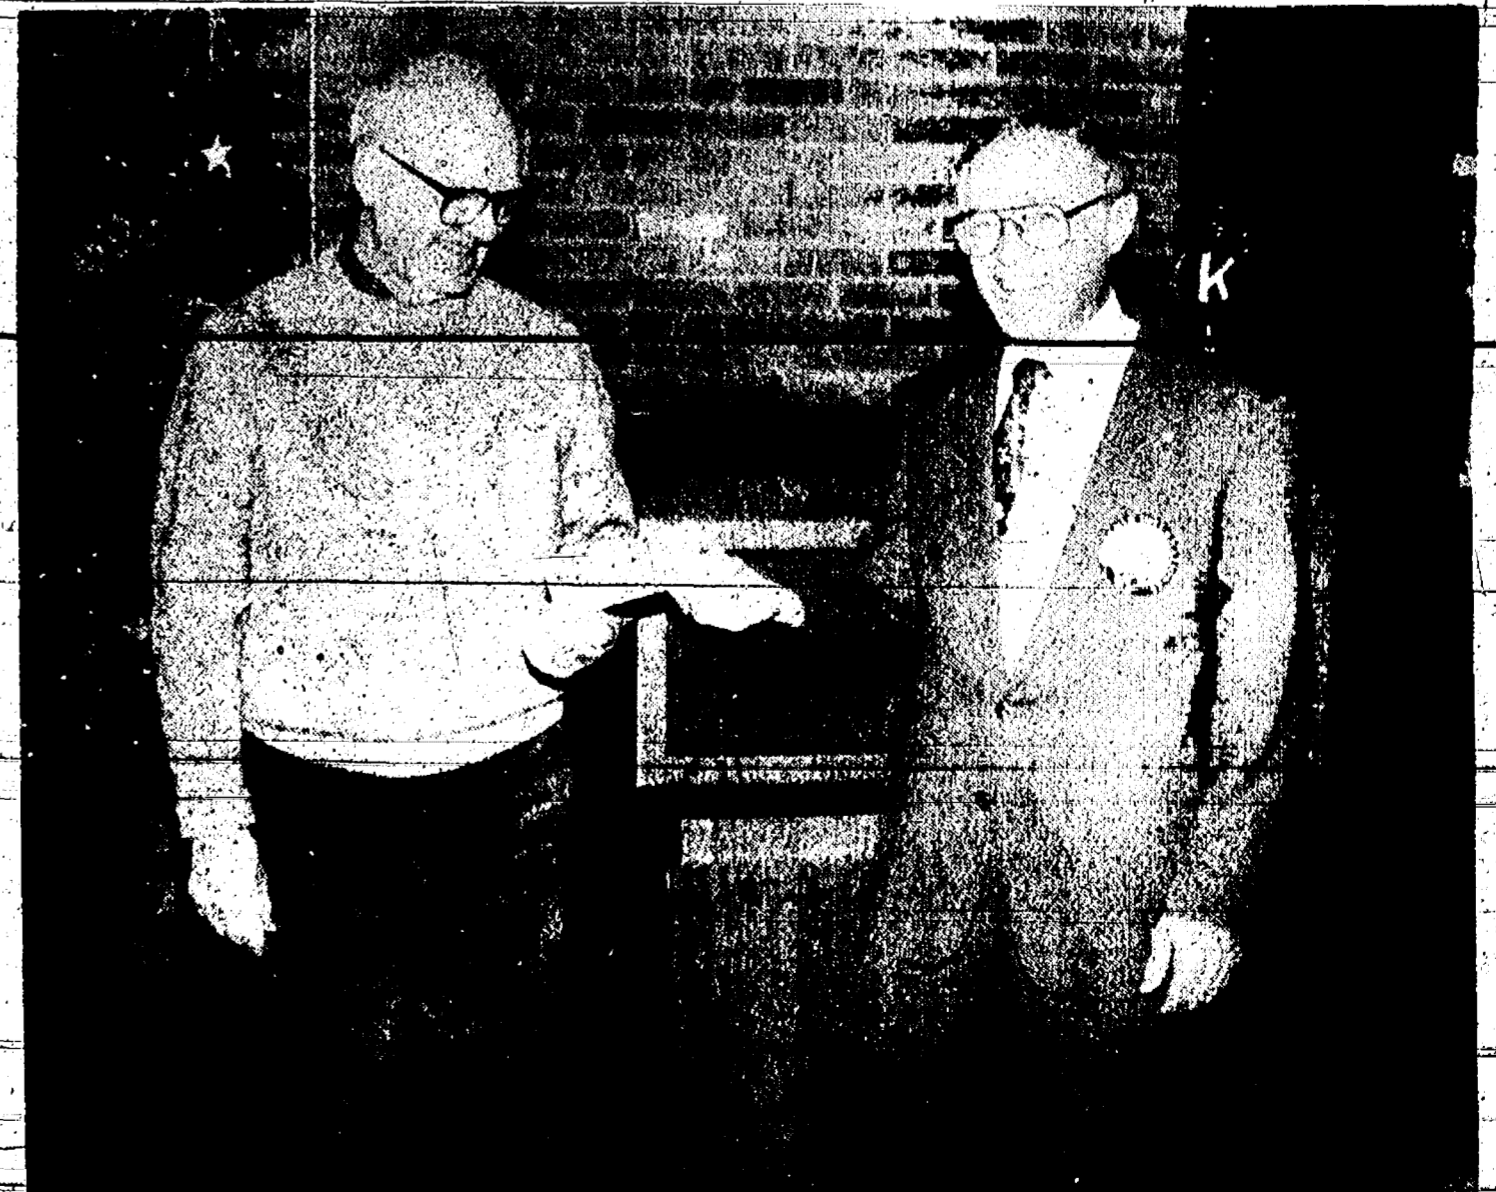

The Chelsea-Shimizu Exchange Committee is working with council trustee Steve Daut to investigate state guidelines related to establishing a sister town relationship. Once those guidelines are obtained and reviewed, the council is expected to give its approval. Once approval is granted, the Chelsea-Shimizu Exchange Committee plans to set up information displays on the exchange program and sister town relationship in the McKune Memorial Library. They will also be looking for local families to host guests of Shimizu.

To become involved on the Chelsea-Shimizu Exchange Committee, residents may contact Daleen Harper at 475-2809.

★ New Congress To Re-Examine Tax Codes

Some welcome relief may be coming for the overburdened taxpayer. The new Republican-controlled Congress promises to re-examine the tax code with an eye to providing a break for savers and investors.

By Phillip C. Clarke

Among industrialized countries, the United States ranks near the bottom in personal savings rates, using data from the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development, the U.S. savings rate is 4.3% of the personal disposable income, down from 8.1% in 1980. That's compared to current double-digit rates in Japan, Germany, France, Italy and Canada.

According to Investor's Business Daily, part of the reason for America's low savings rate is our relative wealth. Because Americans have a greater personal income than citizens of most other countries, their savings as a percentage of income naturally tend to be lower. But another factor that needs changing is the way our government taxes savings and investment.

When individuals have money, for instance, they must pay taxes on any income earned as interest. If the individual invests in stock of a company and that company pays dividends, that too is taxed. And if an individual sells that investment for a profit, that profit is also subject to capital gains taxation. Moreover, all of these taxes come on top of the regular income taxes that individuals must pay when they earn the money they want to invest. In other words, this money is double- and sometimes triple-taxed.

And that's just the negative side. Consider the tax breaks on Individual Retirement Accounts that Congress took away in 1986. To encourage savings, the government used to allow anyone to put away $2,000 per year and deduct that amount from income. But the 1986 Tax Reform Act severely limited who could claim the deduction. For example, any individual earning more than $25,000 a year could not take the IRA deductions. Nor could anyone who worked at a company with a pension or other retirement plan.

But Republicans, particularly those on the House of Representatives, are talking about changing these disincentives to savings by changing the tax code. For instance, Congressman Dick Armey of Texas, has proposed a "flat tax" plan that would exempt dividend and interest income as well as capital gains. And Congressman Bill Archer, another Republican from Texas, has offered his own tax reform proposals. Archer, who's in line to head the House Ways & Means Committee, wants first off to reduce the tax on capital gains and index them to inflation. More importantly, he wants to move away from taxes on income, altogether to a tax on consumption—a sort of national sales tax.

Such reforms aim at reducing taxes on productive activities like work and savings. In addition to reducing such taxes, simplifying the tax code—whether by introducing a flat tax or a national sales tax—would greatly reduce the costs associated with complying with current tax laws.

For example, according to the government's own figures, people spend more than 4 billion hours a year just filling out their tax forms. If you estimate that people's time is worth $20 a hour, that means that our society spends some $80 billion a year wrestling with tax forms. And while a national sales tax might involve more paperwork than a flat tax, it still would be much simpler than the current system with all its dozens and dozens of thick instruction and rule books.

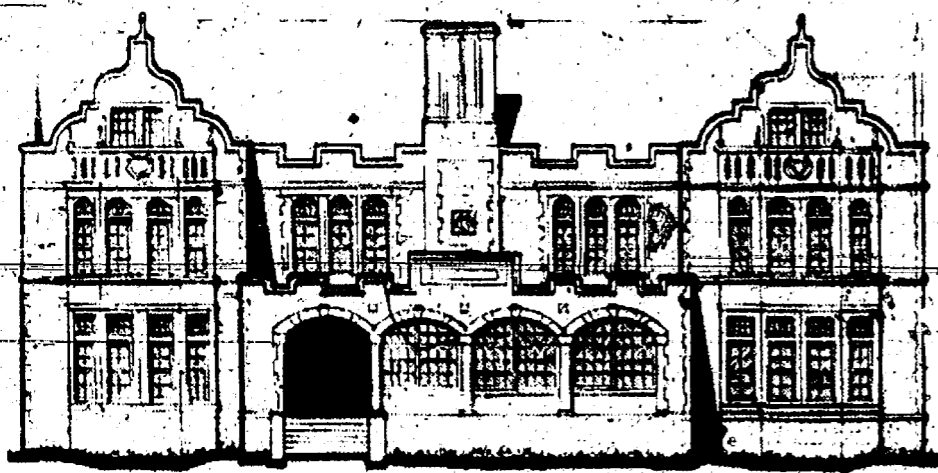

Whatever the new Congress comes up with, it's heartening, that at least some of our lawmakers are now willing to consider changing the rules to reward savings and investment.

Wednesday, Jan. 2, 1991—Chelsea's Secretary of State branch office has been identified as one of 22 branch offices that will close at the end of February due to state budget problems. According to reports, the plan has to be approved by the state Office of Management and Budget. Further details were not available as of press time Friday. The Secretary of State's Real Estates Service Division had a busy telephone all day Friday. The village had not been informed of the decision before it was widely reported on Friday.

A survey on drug, alcohol and tobacco use was recently completed by Chelsea School District eighth, 10th and 12th graders. The survey, developed by the Michigan Department of Education, Western Michigan University and the Social Research Institute of the University of Michigan, was 55 questions long, and was conducted anonymously. There were questions dealing with use of a variety of legal and illegal drugs, including steroids, as well as peer pressure, grades in school, drug education curriculum and importance of religion in a student's life.

Chelsea police kept busy early Saturday morning, Dec. 22, dealing with drunk drivers in the village. At 1:35 a.m. a car driven by a 28-year-old Manchester woman was observed weaving across the center line of M-52 near Chelsea Lanes. A breath test revealed the driver had a .22 blood/alcohol level, which is more than twice the legal limit. Similar cases were reported throughout the early morning hours.

Village of Chelsea has renewed its software maintenance agreement with New World Systems of Troy. The system handles general ledger, accounts payable, payroll/personnel and utility billing. Annual cost of the contract is $4,500.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The regulars were back around the stove at the country store Saturday night, and to a man they reported happy holidays and welcome calm after. Everybody was wearing some new, and Ed Doolittle, that ain't what you'd call a flashy dresser, was sporting red suspenders. He noted it was a good thing his old lady got the snap-on kind because he had give up years ago on finding trousers with suspender buttons.

Ed said he had give some thought to one change in gifts. His daughter give him the usual mail subscription to the paper, but for only six months. Always before he got it for a year, and he told the fellows he was curious about the cutback. At his stage in life, Ed said, he doesn't buy green bananas, and he wondered if his daughter found out the subscription would last longer than the subscriber.

Clem Webster put Ed's mind at ease by pointing out that the cost of the paper keeps going up, and that the daughter probably was more concerned about her budget than about losing a long-term investment. You got to know, Clem went on, that with the hike in first-class postage the other classes won't be far behind, and little papers depend on mail delivery. We have got to keep paying more for less service, Clem allowed, so we can fight what the Postal Service calls a "declining sense of public confidence" with more advertising and big bonuses for folks who think up catchy slogans for the ads.

Furthermore, Clem went on, with the way the Federal Reserve keep moving the shells in the interest rate game it's a wonder anybody can plan anything. While national politicians used the break between Congresses to reinvent themselves, Clem said, the Fed has been playing with ways to reinvent controls of the economy. Democrat Clem said President Clinton was on the right track, no matter what the voters said, but now he's down to playing followship with the Republicans.

Republican Ed said he never could figure how Clem could get so far afield in so short a time, and to bad mouth his own Democrats in the deal. Here we are, Ed said, discussing the holidays and the New Year and here's Clem busting in with a State of the Union address. Ed moved that the fellows start the year by adopting some rules like public hearings have. For instant, Ed read recent where folks who want to be on the agenda at a state hearing on mental health have to type up what they want to say and send it in 10 days in advance.

That ought to slow Clem down some, Ed said, and then we could have a rule where you got to be recognized by the chair before you read what you write. That would keep politics off the agenda for most of the year while hearings are held on who will be the chairman.

The fellows saw Ed's filibuster for what it was, and Zeke Grubb broke in to say this country does have a problem with rules that do more harm than good. For instant, he saw where the man who was seen shooting six people dead on a New York subway is pleading innocent and a judge says the public has got to pay a private detective to look for the real killer. And since the man is defending himself, the public's got to pay a lawyer to advise him how.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Volunteers Sought for County Foster Care Review Board

The State Court Administrative Office of the Michigan Supreme Court is seeking volunteers to serve on the Washtenaw County Foster Care Review Board.

The Michigan Legislature established the Foster Care Review Board Program in 1984 in an effort to improve children's foster care programs through the state utilizing citizen review boards.

The five-member board meets one day each month to review a representative sample of cases of children who have been removed from their homes and placed in foster care due to abuse or neglect. At these reviews, board members interview parents, foster parents, caseworkers, attorneys, and other interested parties who may be involved in planning for the ward. Advisory recommendations are formulated and mailed to the court, child welfare agency, prosecuting attorney, parents, and other interested parties.

Purpose of the review is to insure that all agencies, including the court, have established a plan for the ward and progress is being made toward achieving permanency.

The Foster Care Review Boards are comprised of citizens who reflect a broad cross section of their communities. Minorities are especially encouraged to apply. The program is seeking volunteers who have demonstrated leadership in other settings. Employees of the Department of Social Services, juvenile court, or private child placement agencies are prohibited by law to serve on Foster Care Review Boards.

Currently, Foster Care Review Boards operate in Clare, Genesee, Ingham, Isabella, Jackson, Kent, Lenawee, Midland, Muskegon, Oakland, Saginaw, St. Clair, Washtenaw, and Wayne counties.

Each volunteer who is selected must attend a two-day orientation training in Lansing on March 23-24. Also, board members attend yearly training which is held in different locations throughout the state, and expenses for training are reimbursed.

Citizens interested in volunteering for the Washtenaw County Foster Care Review Board should call (517) 334-6403 for an application. The deadline for receiving applications is Jan. 31, and interviews with prospective candidates will take place in February, 1995.

Theresa Ann and Thomas Robert Schmidt

Wagner, Schmidt Married at St. Patrick's Catholic Church

Theresa Ann Wagner and Thomas Robert Schmidt were married July 16 at St. Patrick's Catholic church in Ann Arbor.

The evening ceremony, performed by The Rev. Fr. Thomas J. Helfrich, OSFS, united the daughter of Paul and Rose Wagner of Saline with the son of Robert W. and Janis L. Schmidt of Dexter.

The bride wore an enchanting white satin gown with woven pleats in the bodice and long sleeves, adorned with pearls and sequins applique. The sweetheart neckline and full satin skirt and scalloped chapel-length train trimmed with cutout applique. The bride also wore a two-tiered hand-beaded, elbow-length veil of nylon tulle. Her round bouquet featured roses, freesia, stephanitis, phlox, hydrangeas, nigella and larkspur.

The bridegroom wore a Christian Dior LeConnaisseur-Black Cezanne double-breasted tuxedo with full length tails and notch lapels. The colorful paisley dark combination bow tie and vest were accented by black studs and cuff links. His black trousers with pleats and tapered legs topped off his outfit. His boutonniere was a white rose with stephanitis accents.

Matron of honor was Eileen M. Wagner-Mallory, the bride's sister from Chelsea. The maid of honor was Heidi M. Wagner, the bride's sister from Saline. The best man was David W. Schmidt, the bridegroom's brother from Dexter.

Serving as bridesmaids were Kristine J. Opland from Saline, Tracy L. Johnson from Spring Lake and Amy L. Schmidt, the bridegroom's sister from Wixom.

The groomsmen were Thomas P. Foote from Ann Arbor, Mark A.

Wingler from Novi, Gregory D. Mills from Dexter and Randall S. Wock from Commerce township.

The ring bearer was Kenneth S. Mallory from Chelsea, the godson and nephew of the bride. The flower girl was Michelle A. Mallory from Chelsea, niece of the bride.

Other attendants included acolytes Ryan R. Bishop and Scott D. Bishop, the bride's cousins from Milan. Ushers were Michael J. Vanlerberghe, the bride's cousin from Ray, Thomas E. Vanlerberghe, the bride's cousin from Richmond, Eric D. Wireman from Dexter and Daisuke Doi from Ann Arbor.

Serving as readers were Eileen M. Wagner-Mallory, David W. Schmidt, Cheryl E. Raymer from Milwaukee, Wis. and Paul Wagner.

Presentations of the gifts were made by Joan A. and John F. Vanlerberghe, the bride's godparents from Richmond and Samuel F. and Jane T. Wendt from Columbus, O., the bridegroom's godparents.

Church co-ordinator was Maureen A. Bishop, the bride's aunt of Milan.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Barton Hills Country Club in Ann Arbor. The newlyweds spent their honeymoon in Maui, Ha. and now reside in Ypsilanti.

A graduate of Dexter High school, Thomas earned a bachelor of business administration degree from Eastern Michigan University. He is employed at American Title Company of Washtenaw in Ann Arbor. Theresa, a graduate of Saline High school, earned a bachelor of science degree from Eastern Michigan University. She is employed at the University of Michigan Medical Center in Ann Arbor.

BLUE RIBBON
BLUEBERRY MUFFINS
(CHELSEA FAIR 1994)

TOPPING:
1/4 cup sugar
3/4 teaspoon cinnamon

BATTER:
1/2 cup unsalted butter, softened
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon orange zest
2 eggs, at room temperature
2 teaspoons vanilla
1/2 cup milk
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
Pinch of salt
2 cups blueberries, fresh or frozen, not defrosted

TOPPING: In a small bowl, stir together sugar and cinnamon. Set aside.

BATTER, ASSEMBLY AND BAKING: Pre-heat oven to 375°. Line muffin tin with 12 papers. In a large bowl, cream together butter, sugar and orange zest. Stir in eggs and vanilla. In a separate large bowl, sift together flour, baking powder and salt, then gently fold into creamed mixture to blend. Do not overbeat. Sprinkle with berries, reserving 36 to dot on top, and gently stir into batter. If over-mixed, the batter will turn blue. Dot top of each muffin with three berries. Sprinkle with topping. Bake 15 minutes at 375°, reduce heat to 350° and bake another 15-20 minutes until tops of muffins are lightly golden or until wooden pick inserted comes out clean. Remove from oven. Cool 12 minutes. Remove from tin and cool on rack. Makes 12 muffins.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Webster Township

Malicious Destruction of Property

Malicious destruction of property was reported in the 4700 block of Aberdeen Dr., Dec. 22. A 45-year-old township woman told police someone ripped two lights off her garage, causing $80 in damage. Her husband found one light laying in their backyard and the other destroyed in their driveway. Police have two juvenile suspects.

Malicious destruction of property was reported in the 4400 block of Aberdeen Rd., Dec. 22. A 59-year-old township man told police someone stole an antique brass carriage lamp from his garage Dec. 16 and destroyed two others. Total damage is estimated at $228.

Suspicious Situation

A suspicious incident was reported in the 7200 block of Park Lake Dr., Dec. 26. A 54-year-old township woman called police when two men identified themselves as sheriff's deputies and said they were there to seize her vehicle. When police arrived, the two men produced an Execution Against Property order issued out of 14A-3 District Court for seizure of the vehicle. The paperwork was legitimate and a tow truck was called to take the vehicle. A prosecutor will review the case to see if any laws were broken when the men entered the woman's garage without permission.

Assault and Battery

Assault and battery was reported in the 7900 block of Fisher's Way, Dec. 26. A 40-year-old township man told police his wife struck him three times with her fist after they argued in the bedroom that evening. He said they argued about their eight-month-old baby falling down the stairs. He told her she was unfit to be a mother. That's when she struck him. The couple's six-year-old daughter witnessed the assault, but she said both hit each other. A prosecutor will review the case.

Dexter Township

Warrant Arrests

Steven J. Diebolt, 29, of Pinckney was arrested on McGregor Rd. near Dexter-Pinckney Rd., Dec. 24. He was initially stopped for speeding. A computer check revealed five warrants out for his arrest. Two of the warrants were for driving impaired and driving with a suspended driver's license.

Breaking and Entering

Breaking and entering was reported in the 5900 block of Dexter-Pinckney Rd., Dec. 24. A 38-year-old township woman told police High Performance engine parts were stolen from her garage between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Dec. 20. Thieves gained entry to the garage by prying open a small metal door. The stolen parts are valued at $5,000.

Civil Dispute

A civil dispute was reported in the 3300 block of Janet Dr., Dec. 24. A 26-year-old township man told police his ex-wife refused to honor a Friend of the Court visitation order allowing him to visit his daughter over Christmas week-end. He called police when the 24-year-old Chelsea woman refused to comply around 2 p.m. Dec. 24. The woman told police her daughter appeared upset, so she didn't want to allow a visit.

Livestock Kill

Livestock kill was reported in the 8500 block of Dexter-Pinckney Rd., Dec. 26. A 70-year-old township man told police one Suffolk Cross ewe was killed and the another was injured between 8:30 a.m. and 12:50 p.m. Dec. 21. An animal control officer also reported the dead animal was badly mutilated. He suspects it was a dog that did the damage.

Lima Township

Car Fire

A car fire was reported at the Hop In on S. Fletcher Rd., Dec. 28. A 41-year-old Grass lake woman told police she pulled into the Hop In store at 6:30 a.m. to use the telephone. While she was on the telephone her 1985 Ford Escort caught on fire. Apparently, her vehicle motor caught on fire. An employee of Hop In extinguished the fire. Damage is estimated at $1,000.

It's only natural that we avoid thinking about our own funerals, even though we know that at some unknown time, our loved ones will be called upon to make arrangements. To minimize their burden, we urge you to pre-arrange your funeral at Cole Funeral Chapel this week, then forget about it. It's a thoughtful, considerate thing you can do now to help your family later.

We thought of you with love today but that is nothing new We thought about you yesterday and days before that too. We think of you in silence we often speak your name. All we have now are memories and your picture in a frame. Your memory is our keepsake with which we will never part. God has you in his keeping we have you in our hearts. A million times we cried. If love alone could have saved you you never would have died. In life we loved you dearly. In death we love you still. In our hearts you hold a place no one can ever fill. It broke our hearts to lose you but you didn't go alone. For a part of us went with you the day God took you home.

 concerning reports that the liver ailment known as hepatitis had affected a large number of children in Chelsea schools, said that this was not true. Because of the alarm felt by some parents they felt it was wise to clarify the situation.
 Eight foxes sighted and five bagged was the score for the 50 hunters who participated in the annual fox hunt in this area. All five were downed in the Sharon township area.
 Proceeds of the "Peanuts for Polio" sale, held over the past month, have amounted to $208.39. Boy Scouts, a square dance group known as the Chelsea Promenaders and the Chelsea Lanes bowling leagues, all contributed money earned for the fight against polio, by the March of Dimes.
 Despite smaller population growth, the number of households has increased due to more single parent families, smaller families, childless families and retirees. This trend has increased the need for housing. Housing lot sizes have continued to become larger as the number of dwelling units per acre of land has declined 75% since World War II, accelerating the consumption of rural land. Michigan also has the largest number of second homes and second largest number of golf courses in the nation.

New Year Resolution #1: Living Without Debt

The 1994 holiday season saw a strange phenomenon: instead of buying everything in sight, some people actually stuck to their budgets and saved money! Although owners of retail stores may not have been happy about this, those individuals who woke up New Year's Day knowing they wouldn't be facing a pile of holiday bills feel pretty good about it.

Unfortunately, not everyone showed such restraint. Many millions of Americans did go into debt for the holidays. Many of them added their holiday debt to an already unmanageable pile of debt from earlier spending. What will the New Year hold for them?

One more chance to change their spending habits, according to Michael Kelly, Senior Director of Information for the Michigan Credit Union League (MCUL). According to Kelly, "People are beginning to realize that they can't keep spending more than they earn. In fact, there are encouraging signs that many Americans are starting to realize the urgent need to start saving for tomorrow."

But for today, says Kelly, the key is to get out of debt. The Michigan Credit Union League offers 10 concrete steps to get out of debt in 1995.

#1—Understand that credit is not more money. If your credit card has a $5,000 limit, you don't have $5,000. You only have the right to rent $5,000 and you'll pay a very high price for that right. Credit cards are the original "rent-to-own" scheme.

#2—If you're going to use a credit card, make sure it doesn't have a high interest rate. Some people are still carrying cards with interest rates of 19% or higher. With a little shopping around, you ought to be able to find a card at 14% or below. Credit unions have traditionally had better rates than other programs but use the phone to compare.

#3—Stop using credit. People

find it easier to spend when they pull that plastic out of their wallet but in the long run, it's cheaper to pay cash. If you can't control your credit card spending, cut them up and throw them away. If you feel the need to carry at least one card for emergencies, put a rubber band around it to remind you that big sales don't qualify as emergencies.

#4—Sit down and make a list of your debts. Include how much you owe and what rate of interest you're being charged on each debt. Pay off the one with the most expensive interest rate first, not necessarily the largest amount owed. Update the list each month and total the amount owed to make sure that it is getting smaller each month.

#5—Establish a savings plan. You should have both short-term and long-term savings goals. The short term is for things like insurance, auto repairs, holiday gifts and other regular, predictable costs. The long-term is for house down payments, kids' college and retirement. Keep the two funds separate and set a specific amount to go into each fund out of every paycheck.

#6—Save first. Don't try to save out of whatever money is left over after other bills have been paid. There won't be any. Treat your savings as the first bill you pay. You have probably already been living beyond your means but credit has disguised it. Making your savings payments first forces you to see what you really have to live on.

#7—Carry a little notebook around with you for one month and write down everything you spend. Everything from the home mortgage payment to the 45¢ pack of gum. Small things can add up. That 79¢ cup of coffee you pick up on the way to work each day will total $200 over the course of the year. Even a low-cost $5 lunch each working day will cost $1,250 over a year. You can't start trimming costs until you actually know what you're spending.

#8—Based on your savings goals and the spending patterns you've tracked, establish a spending plan. Then follow it. The plan doesn't have to be brilliant, it just has to be followed. You don't have to be a rocket scientist to design a budget, you just need the will to follow it.

#9—If married, involve your family in your budget planning. A successful budget isn't imposed from above, it emerges from consensus. If everyone in the family doesn't feel their interests have been considered, they won't be motivated to make the spending plan a success.

#10—Compare fees and services at various financial institutions. For example, credit unions typically offer lower fees on everything from checking accounts to credit cards. Credit unions also usually offer higher interest rates on savings accounts.

If you don't know where to start on your budget plan, the Michigan Credit Union League has a free brochure and work sheet available. Simply send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Budget Blueprint, Michigan Credit Union League, P.O. Box 5210, Detroit 48235.

Michael Kelly is the Senior Director of Information for the Michigan Credit Union League. He also serves on the boards of the Michigan consumer council, the Better Business Bureau and the Consumer Educators of Michigan. His newspaper column, "Your Money Matters" is carried by 20 newspapers across Michigan. He is a frequent spokesperson on consumer financial affairs.

The Michigan Credit Union League is the primary trade association serving Michigan credit unions. Founded in 1934, it is headquartered in Southfield with an additional office in Lansing.

(NAPS)—It's shocking, but the Humane Society of the United States estimates that over 5.8 million dogs and 4.2 million cats turn up as strays at the nation's animal shelters, police stations and private animal rescue centers each year.

Wrong Social Security No. Delays Refunds

An incorrect social security number could cause needless delays when you file your 1994 federal income tax return.

"It is very important that every social security number on your federal tax return be correct," said IRS district director Arlene Kay. "This year we will verify the social security numbers of every taxpayer, their spouse and their dependents with Social Security Administration records. If a name and number do not match, it will delay the refund."

"We will also look closely at returns that claim refundable credits, such as the Earned Income Credit, to ensure that the taxpayer is eligible for the credit and that it has been computed correctly," said Ms. Kay. "Taxpayers should review the rules for claiming dependents and credits before filing their returns to avoid additional delays."

"Taxpayers and dependents who do not have a social security number or are unsure of their number should contact the Social Security Administration before filing their return," she said. "They can call SSA toll-free on 1-800-772-1213."

"Taking a few extra minutes to make sure the return is accurate and complete will prevent delays," said Ms. Kay, "and ensure a timely refund."

Lowbrow Astronomers Plan Open Houses

University Lowbrow Astronomers astronomy club has scheduled an open house on Saturday night, Jan. 7 and Jan. 28, at U of M's Peach Mountain observatory. People of all ages are invited to come out and view a myriad of celestial wonders through the huge, newly refurbished 24-inch McMath telescope, along with a number of other club members' scopes. The open house starts at sunset and lasts until 1 a.m., but is cancelled if the sky is overcast or it is below 10° F at sunset.

Visitors are requested to turn off all electronic equipment (cellular phones, CB radios, etc.) at the entrance to avoid interference with the radio telescope that is also at the site.

Follow North Territorial Rd. about a 1/2 miles west from Hudson Mills Metropark. The event is free.

Call 480-4514 on the night of the event to see if it's on or not.

Local Residents Earn Degrees from EMU

Several area residents were among approximately 1,650 Eastern Michigan University graduates honored in commencement ceremonies held Dec. 18 in EMU's Bowen Field House.

The commencement address was delivered by Darrell H. Cooper, chairman and owner of Fernco Inc. in Davison and chairman of the EMU Foundation Board of Trustees.

Cooper, who received an honorary doctor of business administration degree from EMU, was cited for applying his "remarkable business skills and entrepreneurial abilities for the betterment of others." He also was recognized for his role as chairman of key EMU campaigns and board, noting that his efforts have contributed to ensuring "that quality programs offered by the university will continue to thrive and that more students will have the opportunity to pursue their educational dreams."

EMU president William E. Shelton presided over the ceremony.

Candidates for bachelor's degrees graduating with honors included 23 Summa Cum Laude, 70 Magna Cum Laude and 85 Cum Laude graduates.

Local Summa Cum Laude graduates included Mary L. Frenndt of Gregory. Local Magna Cum Laude graduates included Sharon A. Auquier of Chelsea, Charles H. Burg of Pinckney, Jacqueline Mall of Manchester and Vanessa K. Wayne of Pinckney. Local Cum Laude graduates included Terri L. Keppler of Dexter and Darlene L. Paradise of Pinckney.

EMU graduates from Chelsea were Heidi Apostol, Sharon Auquier, Christine Below, Cindy Gaffield, Bernard Kranz, Jennifer Lewis, Anna Muncer, Nicole Myers and Margaret Wilson.

EMU graduates from Dexter were Judith Bareis, Todd Chamberlain, Terri Keppler, Alicia Parsons and Debbie Wilson.

EMU graduates from Gregory were Mary Frenndt and Valerie Wisner.

EMU graduates from Manchester were Marc Kozloff, Jacqueline Mall and Michael Walker.

EMU graduates from Pinckney were Charles Burg, Robert Lahm, Brad Lavey, Jennifer Marhofer, Terry Meeks, Darla Miller, Darlene Paradise, Kelly Roth, Theodore Schafer and Vanessa Wayne.

Views On Dental Health

GARY GOCHANOUR, D.D.S.

PLAQUE POINTERS

Plaque is probably the biggest cause of tooth decay and eventual loss. What is it—how do we acquire it—and how do we control it?

Plaque is the sticky, practically colorless film that builds continuously on the teeth. The main inhabitants of plaque are bacteria—one milligram of plaque can contain a half-billion bacteria. Bacteria ferment sugars in the mouth (why not to eat sweets), changing them to acids which then eat away at tooth enamel. "Look, Ma—cavities."

As the plaque creeps below the gum line, it mineralizes and becomes razor-sharp deposits of tartar which is the catalyst of periodontal (or gum) disease—by far, the major cause of tooth loss in adults.

Plaque must be removed daily by "proper" brushing and the use of dental floss. Have your dentist or hygienist show you how to do it properly.

The best way, if not the only way, to remove tartar and long-established plaque is to have a professional cleaning. But, remember, it will start to reform the very next day. The only one who can remove plaque regularly is you.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: GARY GOCHANOUR, D.D.S., 3108 Baker, Rd., Dexter. Phone 426-8336.

Signup Underway for Crop Disaster Help

Producers who suffered 1994 crop losses due to weather related conditions may apply for disaster payments through March 31, at the Washtenaw-Wayne County Farm Service Agency (FSA) office.

The FSA is the newly created agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture which combines the commodity and main conservation functions of the former Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service, farm lending programs of the former Farmers Home Administration, and the entirety of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

County offices began accepting applications for disaster assistance Dec. 1.

While the 1994 program is similar to those of recent years, which provided partial reimbursement for losses exceeding 35 percent of normal production for insured crops (40 percent for uninsured crops), producers should be aware of several changes. Several specific program changes were mandated by law to improve the integrity of the program.

For 1994, producers will need to provide more complete information at the time they apply on the disaster condition affecting the crop and their production practices prior to the disaster. Records of current or historical actual production and production costs will be needed for non-program crops, except soybeans, minor oilseeds, sugar beets and hay. When the county office is authorized to sell multi-peril crop insurance, producers also will be required to provide proof of insurance.

This year, state and local FSA committees have been given more authority and responsibility in several areas, including up front checks on gross income limitations, setting payment levels based on crop development; applying a "reasonableness" factor to non-program crop yields on any given farm; and ability to gather additional data from producers when needed to make accurate determinations. Local committees may reduce applications if they question the accuracy of the producer's documentation.

The FSA believes that farm programs work best when decisions are made as close to producers as possible. The program changes and improved oversight procedures for the 1994 disaster program will significantly improve the accuracy of eligibility determinations and payments and reduce the risk of potential abuse of the program.

Call the local FSA office at (313) 662-3900 for more detailed information.

USDA Offers Additional Loans on 1994-Crop Corn

Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Richard Rominger has announced recourse loans will be made available to producers who have corn that has been cracked, rolled or crimped.

USDA will make the 9-month farm-stored recourse loans to eligible producers of 1994-crop corn at 70 percent of the county price support rate.

"Availability of this loan provides our nation's livestock producers with an entire measured quantity will be eligible for a recourse loan. If the corn is stored in a structure that cannot be measured, inspected or sampled, the loan quantity shall be limited to 75 percent of the quantity certified by the producer.

The program does not apply to any other variations of corn, such as silage.

NATIVE SON Joseph (Joe) Wolf has returned to Chelsea after attending the College of Art & Design in Minnesota. Wolf, who attended Interlocken Art Academy from 1989 to 1991, has opened Art House at 929 S. Main St. He will teach art classes beginning Jan. 9. Joe Wolf is the son of Joan and Jon Wolf of Chelsea and the great-grandson of Esther and Paul Belser. His great, great-grandfather was W.P. Schenk, owner of Schenek & Co. clothing store on Main St., noted in the 1897 Directory of Chelsea. A mural by Joe Wolf was once displayed on the Comic's Corner building on Main St. He also has 14 oil paintings displayed as part of a private collection in Hollywood, Calif.

DNR Seeks Public Help With Bald Eagle Survey

The Department of Natural Resources is inviting all Michigan residents to participate in the 1995 mid-winter bald eagle survey Jan. 4-18 by reporting bald eagle sightings to the DNR.

This survey is sponsored by the DNR's Natural Heritage Program, and is part of a nation-wide effort coordinated by the U.S. Department of the Interior's National Biological Survey to determine the number and location of wintering eagles. Information from this survey will be used to update management plans for this protected raptor.

Tom Weise, the Natural Heritage Program's Endangered and Threatened Species Co-ordinator, suggests looking for eagles near open areas. "Eagles are most often seen near lakes and rivers in ice-free zones, but they can also be seen along highways feeding on road-killed deer. Motorists should be careful when driving past eagles along roadsides, because the birds may not move away from their food when cars approach. Bald eagles have been killed by vehicles this way."

All counties can be visited by eagles during the winter. More eagles tend to stay in Michigan during a mild winter.

Although still listed as a threatened species, Michigan's bald eagle population has been steadily increasing since the ban of "hard" pesticides such as DDT. During the 1994 nesting period, 262 occupied nests produced 265 eaglets. This was a very successful year, with a large number of eaglets reaching flight stage.

If you see an eagle during Jan. 4-18, please send a postcard by Feb. 1 to Winter Bald Eagle Survey, DNR Natural Heritage Program, Wildlife Division, Department of Natural Resources, P.O. Box 30180, Lansing 48909-7680, with the following information:

—Date and time when you saw the eagle(s)

—County and specific location where you saw the eagle(s)

—Number of eagles seen at that time and location

—Activity of eagles, and any other pertinent information.

This winter eagle survey program is funded by contributions made to the Nongame Wildlife Fund. "Look for the loon" on your state income tax form to make a donation to this fund.

'94 Crop Wheat Not Eligible To Enter Farmer Owned Reserve

U.S. Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation, has announced that due to rising prices and a tight supply/demand situation relative to the statutory trigger levels, 1994 crop wheat will not be allowed into the Farmer Owned Reserve. Under the provisions of the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended, eligibility of entry for 1994 crop wheat must be announced by Dec. 15.

By statute, entry is not permitted unless at least one of two conditions is met. The conditions are: the average market price for wheat for the 90 days preceding the announcement is less than 120 percent of the wheat price support rate, or the 1994/1995 estimated wheat ending stocks to use ratio is more than 37.5 percent.

As of Nov. 28, the 90-day average wheat market price of $3.74 per bushel was much higher than 120 percent of the wheat price support rate, which is $3.10 per bushel. The estimated 1994/1995 wheat ending stocks to use ratio is 21.1 percent, much less than the 37.5 percent level needed to allow entry. Thus, there is no authority to allow 1994 crop wheat into the Farmer Owned Reserve.

A recent California study found that every dollar invested in substance abuse treatment, on average, leads to a savings of $7.

Plank Earns All-Tourney Honors in Holiday Classic

KYLE PLANK

Hope College senior, Kyle Plank, was one of five players selected for the All-Tournament Team at the conclusion of the two-day DeVette Holiday Classic Basketball Tournament last week at Hope College in Holland.

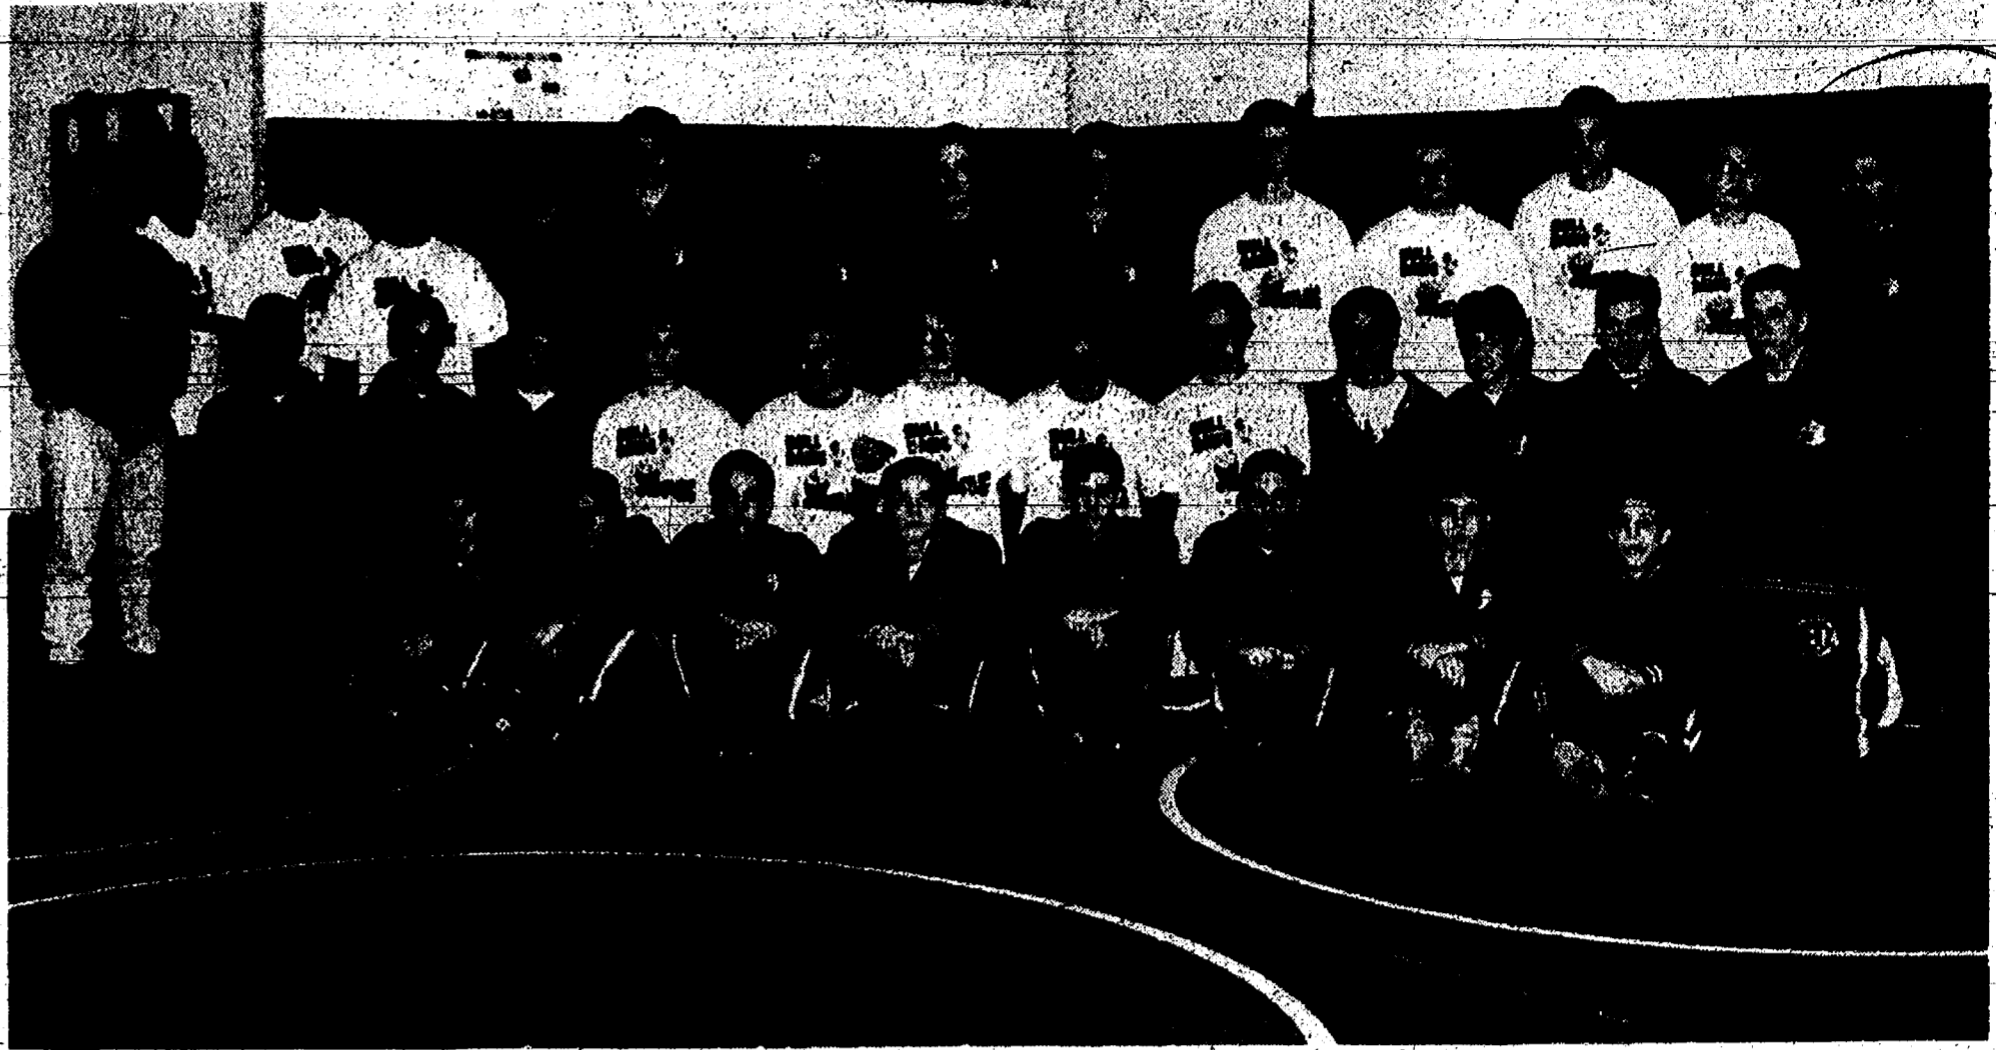

Kyle is a Chelsea High school graduate and the son of Max and Sherrie Plank.

Joining Plank in being named to the All-Tournament Team were Duane Bosma and Jeff VanFossan, Hope College; Nate Riley, North Central College; and Kevin Wickliffe, Cornerstone College.

Participating in the sixth annual tournament were the varsity teams from Hope College, University of Michigan-Dearborn, North Central College, Ill. and Cornerstone College. Hope and North Central are NCAA Division III members while Michigan-Dearborn and Cornerstone belong to the NAIA.

Going into the tournament, Hope had posted a 9-0 record in pre-conference play. Defeating Michigan-Dearborn and North Central, tournament champion Hope College now carries an 11-0 record into the MIAA conference season opener tonight against Kalamazoo College.

The Hope College Flying Dutchmen play games in the area on Jan. 25 at Adrian College and on Feb. 5 at Albion College. Both games begin at 7:30 p.m.

CHELSEA HIGH SCHOOL WRESTLERS are eagerly looking forward to the 1995 season. They are now 6-2 for the season with only one conference meet, a loss to Saline, recorded to date. Action resumes Thursday, Jan. 5 with a home meet with Milan beginning at 6:30 p.m. Members of the team are, front row, left to right, Todd Pearsall, Matt Tuttle, Ray Hatch, Ryan Ludwig, Mike Alber, Jamie Holzhausen, Zach Eresten, and Robert Bullock. Middle row, from left, Kevin Bollinger,

Sports Enthusiasts Urged To Avoid Possible Thin Ice

The Department of Natural Resources advises those participating in ice-related activities this winter to be particularly careful in the vicinity of public docks and marinas along the Great Lakes.

Some harbors utilize underwater bubbling systems or electric de-icers to reduce ice damage to docks. These systems act to bring warmer bottom water to the surface to prevent strong ice from forming. In some cases, open water is maintained and is visible to persons on the ice nearby. In other cases, a thin layer of ice may exist. If this is covered by snow, persons may not realize how weak the ice is, and may break through.

"Winter sports enthusiasts should give a wide berth to open water and thin ice created by bubblers," DNR Director Roland Harmes said. "Public awareness of potential hazards is key to safely enjoying outdoor activities and preventing serious accidents."

Many commercial marinas and yacht clubs take similar measures to prevent the formation of strong ice at their docks. Unless a person is knowledgeable about a particular harbor, the safest course of action is to avoid standing or traveling on the ice near any dock structure in Michigan waters.

TEN OLDER BOYS from Boy Scout Troop 425 participated in a two-day backpacking hike and overnight outing on Nov. 12-13. This backpacking experience on the Potawatami Trail was the beginning of their work toward the Backpacking Merit Badge. The merit badge requires completion of three two-day, 15-mile trips and one 30-mile, five-day trip. Scouts involved are Tim Bailey, Ben Hicks, Matt Hicks, Ryan Lixey, Ian Kummer, Andrew McGuire, Jerry Milliken, Brian Phillips, Bobby Rohrkemper and Nick Tandy. In photo above the boys were preparing to leave on the backpacking trip under the watchful eyes of merit badge counselor Steve Wright. Standing to the right are parents John Tandy and Jim Hicks.

DAN BLACK led the Chelsea High pep band in the season opening basketball games Tuesday, Dec. 6 against Williamston. The pep band surely did help as Chelsea came through with an 85-63 victory.

Managing Cover Crops Meeting Slated in Adrian

By Brian Ehlert, Acting ANR Agent
With increasing constraints being placed on fertilizer and pesticide use, cover crops have become more important for managing nutrient levels, insect populations, and enhancing weed control. Cover crop management is more an art than a science. A grower needs all the information available to make wise management decisions.

To help you make these decisions, MSU Extension-Lenawee will host an all-day meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 10, from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at 1040 S. Winter St., Adrian. This meeting will focus on using cover crops to reduce pesticide and fertilizer use.

Make your reservation now by sending your name, address, phone and check, made payable to MSU Extension (Att. Carolyn) for $5 per person, by Jan. 6.

Chelsea Police Arrest Whitmore Lake Man

A 33-year-old Whitmore Lake man was arrested by Chelsea Police for driving with a suspended driver's license and driving an unregistered vehicle.

Police stopped the man on Main St. near North St., Jan. 2, for driving with an expired license plate. He was driving a 1976 Ford F-700 dump truck loaded with logs. The license plate expired May 1994.

The man was issued two citations and released from police custody.

Special 30-Day Canada Goose Season Opens Jan. 7

A special 30-day Canada goose season to control local goose populations is scheduled for Jan. 7 through Feb. 5.

The area open to hunting includes public and private lands south of a line from Port Huron through Grand Rapids, which is along highways I-69, M-21, and M-45, excluding the Allegan County Goose Management Unit as shown in the state Waterfowl Hunting Guide. The bag limit is two Canada geese per day.

The DNR recorded over 100,000 Canada geese in the state during a survey Dec. 12-16. About 57,000 of these were within the area open for the special late hunt. Counties within the hunt area with the most geese recorded include Ingham (2,700), Oakland (4,600), Livingston (1,900), Jackson (3,100), Calhoun (3,900), Branch (4,600), Washtenaw (2,500), Hillsdale (2,700), Wayne (4,800), Kalamazoo (8,100), Barry (2,800), Cass (1,200) and St. Joseph (3,300).

"The 1994 count of 100,000 geese is down from the 135,000 counted in December 1993," said Jerry Martz, Waterfowl Specialist for the DNR's Wildlife Division. "The snow and cold temperatures recorded during Dec. 7-14 this year caused many geese to pull out and head south to Indiana and Ohio. The birds that stayed here will be roosting on open water, especially along river systems, where they can fly out to corn stubble or unpicked corn. If snow cover stays light and January temperatures don't get extremely cold, hunting could be better than last year. Hunters will have the best long-term success if they hunt the fields and avoid disturbing the birds on their water roosting sites. When hunting on private lands, hunters should always get permission from the landowners."

To help evaluate results of the season, hunters are again asked to voluntarily submit parts from the geese they shoot to their nearest

DNR Wildlife Division office. The head and tail of each goose shot, including tail feathers and the vent with at least two inches of intestine attached, should be placed in a plastic bag and labeled with a tag indicating the date of the kill and the nearest town. These bags can be kept frozen and delivered to the DNR within a month after the close of the season.

For detailed information on season dates, hunting hours, and other regulations, consult the 1994-95 Michigan Waterfowl Hunting Guide available from license agents. For the location of DNR Wildlife Division offices, call (517) 373-1263 or write to the Wildlife Division, DNR, BOX 30444, Lansing, 48909-7944.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

This is actually "Dear neighbors, friends, firefighters and concerned citizens, firemen Doug & Marilyn. We just want to thank everyone who stopped to help with our barn fire. With Doug working in Ann Arbor and me running around like a chicken with my head cut off, I needed all the help I could get. I'm not even sure who the people were who were there when the fire broke out but I really appreciate your help and concern.

Thankfully, everything we lost is replaceable. No one was hurt, none of the animals were harmed, and our kids are looking forward to helping with another barn. We still have our home and our dedication to our farm. We do plan on replacing the barn, and to everyone who offered their help, we'll let you know when the barn raising is!

We truly live in a great community! Thanks again to everyone and have a Joyous New Year!

Pinckney Area Man In Western Pacific With Carrier Group

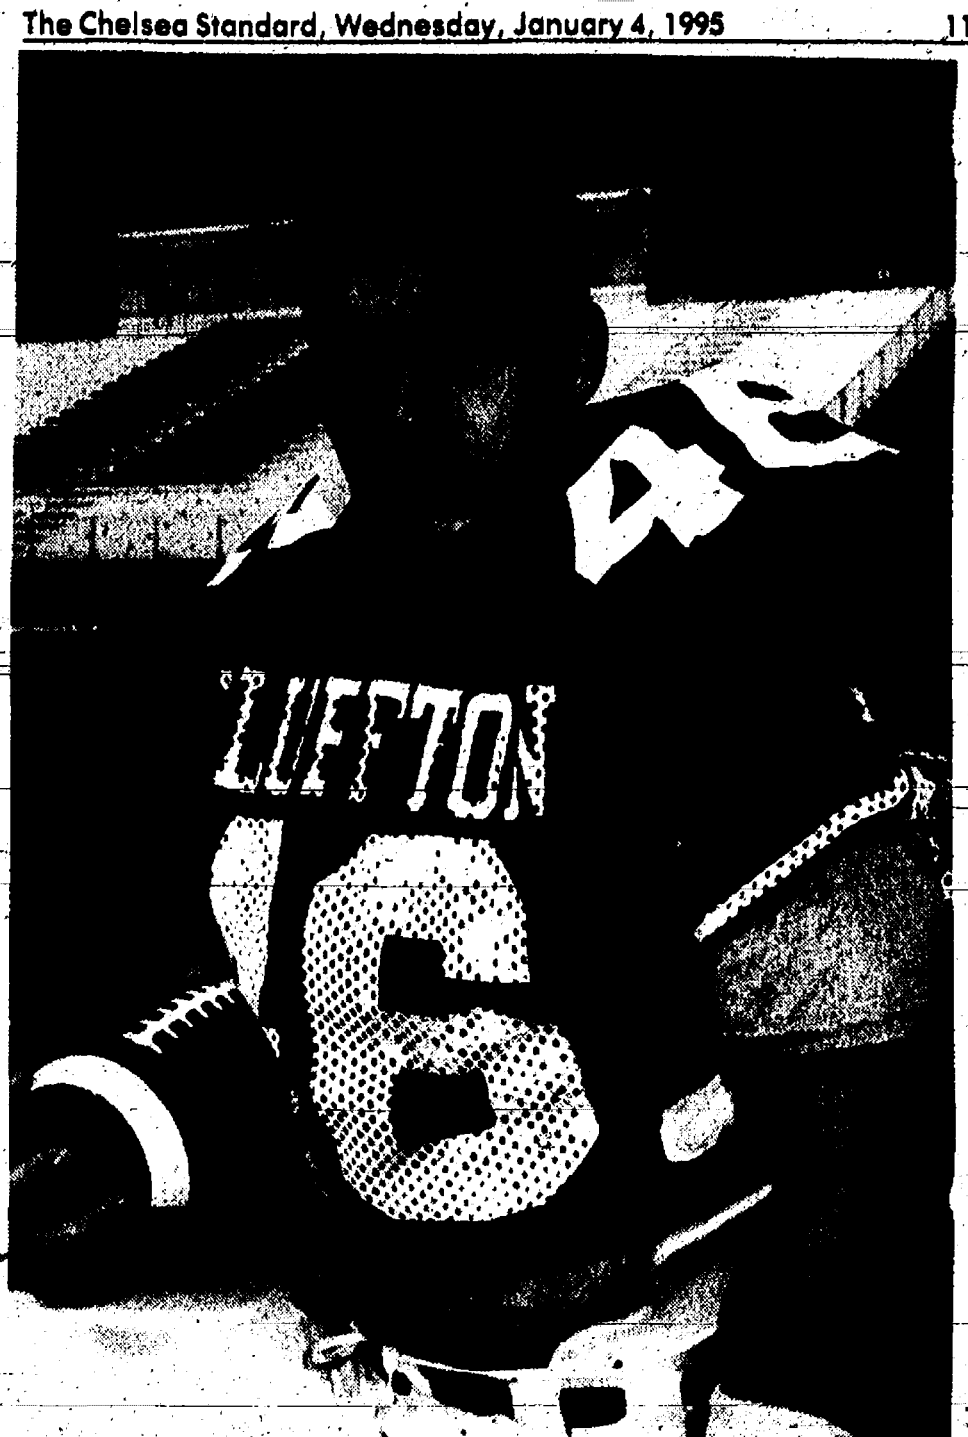

Navy Petty Officer 2nd Class Daniel J. Dolphin, son of Thomas F. and Elizabeth A. Dolphin of 3244 Madison Dr., Pinckney, is midway through a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific and Indian oceans with Strike Fighter Squadron 97, as part of the aircraft carrier USS Kitty Hawk Battle Group.

Dolphin's unit is one of nine aircraft squadrons that are a part of the USS Kitty Hawk Battle Group, consisting of three guided missile cruisers, a guided missile frigate, an ammunition ship, a replenishment oiler and two attack submarines. The USS Kitty Hawk Battle Group deployment not only provides a forward deployed presence in an area of strategic importance, but it also reinforces our commitment to our Pacific allies.

Dolphin and VFA-97 have participated in a wide-range of exercises with the Japanese Maritime Self-Defense Force, Republic of Korea's Navy and Royal Singaporean Navy. The USS Kitty Hawk Battle Group also conducted numerous exercises with the U.S. Marine Corps and Air Force. Dolphin's squadron, home based at Naval Air Station Lemoore, Calif., flies the F/A-18C Hornet, a twin-engine supersonic strike fighter capable of providing protection against enemy aircraft, delivering ordnance on targets ashore and at sea, and providing close air support for troops on the ground.

While deployed, Dolphin has visited Japan, Okinawa, South Korea, Hong Kong, Singapore, Guam and Malaysia.

He joined the Navy in October 1987.

CASEY RUTHENBERG, son of Al and Eille Ruthenberg, Chelsea, was a member of the 1994 Bluffton College football team in Bluffton, O. Ruthenberg, a senior defensive back, was an honorable mention All-Association of Midwest Colleges selection. He registered 55 tackles and forced two fumbles this season. He also intercepted a pass and returned it 59 yards. A 1990 graduate of Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard, Ruthenberg is majoring in health, physical education and recreation (HPER). Coach Carlin Carpenter's Beavers finished the year 5-5 over-all, and won a share of the Association of Midwest Colleges championship with a 2-1 league record. BC is a member of the NCAA Division III and the AMC. Bluffton College was the only NCAA Division III college selected to participate in the NCAA's Life Skills program.

Chelsea Youth Arrested For Trespassing at CHS

Chelsea Police arrested Mark P. Sparaco, 18, of Chelsea for trespassing on school grounds, Dec. 22.

Police were called to the high school on Washington St. by principal Ron Mead. Mead said Sparaco has been warned to stay off school grounds and has been read the Trespassing Act. However, when Sparaco was told to leave he refused. The police were called and Sparaco was arrested.

Sparaco was apparently hanging out in the library with other students.

Jeffrey Mercer Back From Service in Mediterranean Area

Navy Airman Apprentice Jeffrey E. Mercer, son of Vickie L. Couley of 7964 Grand, Dexter, recently returned from a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean and Adriatic seas and Persian Gulf with the aircraft carrier USS George Washington, the lead ship of the USS George Washington Joint Task Group.

Mercer was one of 5,000 Sailors and Marines who completed the 51,000-mile voyage, which included duty off Bosnia-Herzegovina in the Adriatic Sea, and enforcing the "no-fly zone" over southern Iraq.

Mercer began the deployment by participating in the 50th anniversary of D-Day with visits to England and France. During the D-Day commemoration, Mercer and fellow shipmates hosted President Bill Clinton and numerous other government and military officials for an overnight visit as part of the program honoring thousands of World War II veterans.

Mercer's ship spent the last weeks of its deployment deterring Iraqi aggression on the Arabian peninsula. Capable of moving 700 miles a day, USS George Washington and its 70 tactical aircraft presented a formidable mobile platform that had joined forces with several U.S. Navy guided missile cruisers with Tomahawk cruise missiles on station in the Red Sea and Persian Gulf.

Mercer also visited Greece, Israel, Turkey and the United Arab Emirates during the trip.

The 1989 graduate of Dexter High school joined the Navy in March 1991.

Living Revocable Trust Offers Many Advantages

Do you worry about how your assets will be handled after you're gone? Will they be distributed to your children and other beneficiaries as you wish? Will that distribution be subject to probate, unnecessary delays and high legal expenses? Those are common worries for most people, but today there is an alternative to the common will that might help you avoid most of those problems. A living revocable trust could help your estate avoid probate, have more privacy, and minimize estate taxes. One benefit of a living revocable trust that many people appreciate is the privacy it offers. The directions for property disposition that a will specifies are open to public scrutiny when the will is probated. But assets passed on through a living revocable trust generally avoid probate and being made part of the public record.

Living revocable trusts also provide protection for your investments, while you are still alive. The trust agreement normally includes designating a successor trustee to manage the assets of the trust if you become ill or incapacitated, or are simply away on travel for an extended time. The designation of the successor trustee, who can be a family member or a financial professional, is made by the person establishing the trust.

It is important to see an attorney in order to establish a living revocable trust. Each trust is individually planned to meet an individual's needs and to meet the laws of the state in which it is written. An added benefit of the living revocable trust is that it can be modified or even cancelled as your needs change over the years.

You can find out more about a living revocable trust and its benefits from the free booklet "Gaining Maximum Benefits from a Living Revocable Trust," write to the American Institute of Cancer Research, Dept. LRT, Washington, D.C. 20069.

Investment Firm Hosts Seminar on '95 Markets

Deborah L. Bauer, the Edward D. Jones & Co. investment representative in Chelsea, will host a live satellite broadcast for individual investors Thursday, Jan. 5, 1995. The program will take a look back at the investment markets in 1994 and review what the experts anticipate for 1995. "The Federal Reserve raised interest rates several times during 1994, causing significant declines in the bond market," Bauer said. "Although the Dow Jones Industrial Average experienced some lows in 1994, the market did achieve a new high in 1994. For investors who would like to know the outlook for 1995, we hope to be able to provide some of the answers."

Edward D. Jones & Co.'s top research analysts will be featured on the program with Donald G. Soderquist, vice chairman and chief operating officer of Wal-Mart, who will review the company's future plans. H. Bradley Perry, senior partner of David L. Babson & Co. and author of the widely read Babson Staff Letter, will also be a special guest. "This is a 'must-see' program for any investor, particularly Wal-Mart shareholders who will be making financial decisions in the new year," Bauer said. "Viewers will even have the opportunity to ask questions of our guests live, on the air, so this is an opportunity they won't want to miss." The program will be aired live, simultaneously from Wal-Mart's headquarters in Arkansas and from Jones' headquarters in St. Louis. For more information on the Jan. 5 broadcast or to reserve a seat, contact Bauer at (313) 475-3519.

"Moral decay and violence are setting up our inner cities for implosion," says Reverend Harvey J. Meppelink, Assemblies of God Division of Home Missions' newest project—INVASION 39. "We need a spiritual awakening in America, and the time for it is now!" Meppelink will speak at FIRST ASSEMBLY OF GOD on Sunday, Jan. 8, 1995, at 10:45 a.m., according to the Rev. James Massey, pastor. "If we lose America, it will not be through outside war," Meppelink says, "but through the loss of our cities." To provide hope for the nation's inner cities, Meppelink is working to strengthen the Division of Home Missions' newest project—INVASION 39. The program's thrust is to reach the forgotten, destitute, poverty-stricken multitudes clustered in America's 39 major population centers. Each of these cities has over 1 million residents; the 1990 census documented that over half of all Americans live in these 38 metropolitan areas, as well as the majority of ethnic Americans. The INVASION-39 plan of attack is five-fold:

- establish prayer task forces for the 39 population centers
- secure a denominational-wide commitment to reach these cities
- identify ethnic groups for presentation of the gospel
- train qualified personnel
- gather financial support for new church planting

As secretary of New Church Evangelism, Meppelink oversees the department, focusing on the placing missionaries who will become church-planting pastors in the 39 targeted cities. Currently, 77 missionaries are working in this capacity. He also facilitates growth in churches with less than 100 constituents. Named department secretary in April 1992, Meppelink is an ordained minister with the Assemblies of God and a graduate of Central Bible College in Springfield, Mo. Before his appointment to the national office, he planted and pastored churches in Michigan and Southern New England states for 38 years. Additionally, he served as assistant superintendent and general presbyter of the Southern New England District (1990-1992). He and his wife Jean have three married children. Rev. Meppelink is the founding pastor of First Assembly of God of Chelsea in 1954. The public is invited to hear Meppelink share his vision for America's cities on Sunday, Jan. 8, 1995, at 10:45 a.m. For more information, contact the church at (313) 475-2615.

EMU Professor Thinks Many UFO Cases May Be Authentic

Ypsilanti—After spending years investigating and researching UFO abduction cases, an Eastern Michigan University professor admits that he has run out of explanations for what they could be, if not authentic.

"I certainly don't want to believe we're being taken away in the middle of the night," admitted Dr. Ron Westrum, professor of sociology and interdisciplinary technology, who also is associate director of the Center for Scientific Anomalies Research and a consultant for the Mutual UFO Network. "I really wish abduction cases would go away because I've simply run out of explanations," he said.

In 1992, Westrum was involved in a Roper Survey of nearly 6,000 American adults which documented the types of symptoms or experiences typically identified with claims of UFO abduction. The survey reported 119 people with four or five of the "key indicator" symptoms, which equals approximately one out of every 50 adult Americans having had a UFO abduction experience. The five "key indicator" experiences were: floating through the air, waking up paralyzed with a strange being by the bed; experiencing a major period of missing time; finding strange scars on one's body; and seeing unusual balls of light in a room.

Westrum, who has been interested in UFOs since junior high school, was recruited in the 1970s by the Mutual UFO Network to do UFO investigations. He completed investigations into the 1980s and has spent the last few years talking to UFO abductees and looking at and evaluating other people's UFO research.

As a sociologist, Westrum has done a series of studies on what he calls the "hidden event"—occurrences which, because of their anomalous character, tend not to be discussed or reported to authorities. "The hidden event" includes UFOs, the lightning ball phenomenon, sea serpents, Big Foot, etc.," Westrum said.

"With UFOs, there are a huge number of public sightings and quite a few by military people, but at the same time there is sufficient denial about them, which is the sort of sociology behind the 'hidden event.' The events are very illusive, appear to embody some sort of superior human intelligence and are even more likely to be 'hidden' because they're disturbing to people who have had the experience. And they're certainly unwanted by the official organization or information collector," he said.

Since the first UFO sightings in the late 1940s, Westrum believes UFO abductions have evolved into a widespread phenomenon. "People still see the traditional kinds of UFOs except they are no longer considered 'big news.' Most of the attention is devoted to abductions, which typically begin when an individual is a young child.

"In many cases, the mother (reports becoming) paralyzed and hearing her child screaming," Westrum explained. "When the mother is finally able to get up, she enters the child's room and hears the child's stories about the 'little people' who came to visit."

According to Westrum, abductions typically are reported as occurring in a bedroom or a car. "We've also had many cases where there has been a solitary person on a deserted road at night. Typically, one or two people are taken but there also are cases where at least half a dozen have been abducted. There is reason to believe that the abductees are being tracked somehow by UFOs.

"During the abduction, people seem to be communicated with telepathically and the communications don't necessarily stop when the abduction does," he added. "At the fringes of the abduction phenomenon are all types of psychic phenomenon. It isn't clear to me that our ordinary ideas about time and space are really adequate to cope with the phenomena that we actually see."

Westrum said abduction experiences can continue throughout an individual's life. "Some people have an abduction experience once a week and others seem to have only one or two in a lifetime," he added.

As shown in recent movies and books on abduction cases, medical experiments routinely are a part of the experience. "The experiments, which appear to be almost quasi-medical, usually involve the abductee's genitals with either sperm or ovum being taken," Westrum said.

"For women abductees, abduction experiences often include the presentation of babies, which are supposedly the result of their own reproductive activities. Quite a number of women abductees have had what they thought were false pregnancies, where they will apparently become pregnant and the pregnancy is terminated without any fetus or abortion after two or three months. Essentially, the fetus is taken and the result is what the women are presented with on the spacecraft."

Abductees also report that foreign objects are sometimes put into their bodies. Westrum said many abductees report having nosebleeds after such an experience. "Typically during the experience, the abductee feels as if something is being pushed into his or her nose," he said. "We think this may be similar to our way of tagging wildlife. These 'implants,' as they're called in the trade, are also stuck behind the ear or in the back of the neck."

The majority of abductees usually don't tell anyone about their abduction experiences until they find others who have had similar experiences. "The majority of abductees would just as soon believe that the abduction had never taken place and are eager to be told that the event never even occurred," Westrum said. "The last thing abductees want you to do is to confirm their abduction experiences."

"Abductees often lead miserable lives because they don't know when an abduction is going to happen again," he added. "People with frequent abductions have more or less adjusted to the experiences. Those individuals who have endured an abduction once every few years often respond traumatically."

Interestingly, Westrum added, many individuals who say they've been abducted by UFOs are otherwise ordinary, successful people. "The people who say they are abductees are more likely to be socially prominent and leaders, which, frankly, is a very difficult finding to explain," he said.

While many UFO critics view abductees as merely attention-seeking, fantasy-prone or even psychotic, Westrum said this usually isn't the case. "There have been numerous psychological tests of abductees, which have revealed that they are not particularly fantasy-prone," he said. "In addition, abductees have been tested by psychologists who didn't know what the diagnosis was and their assessment was that the abductees were not psychotic. So, if abductees are not psychotic and are not fantasy-prone and if the abductions occur in a group of people, how can we account for the content of their memories, unless we assume that the abduction experience actually occurred?"

"The problem with any personality explanation is that you have to cope with multiple person abduction cases," Westrum continued. "When two or three people are involved, the chance that they are all psychotic is very slim. Much more likely would be to assume that there is some sort of natural phenomenon, such as ball lightning, which could have a direct impact on the brain, causing all of the individuals to dream. But then you have a second problem, because why and how did all of the dreams agree?"

As an example, Westrum cited a well-known abduction case involving four men on a camping trip in the mountains. "The men—all experienced campers—were abducted from their canoes and gone for several hours. All of them, under professional hypnosis with very little suggestion on the part of the hypnotist, remembered experiences that interlocked in terms of what they remembered about the aliens. All of them were given lie detector tests and there's no reason to believe any of them are psychotic."

"It's very difficult to account for the simultaneous amnesia of four people with similar memory contents when the experience has not been rehearsed or discussed prior (to their being interviewed)," Westrum said. "Here we have a scientific anomaly where the evidence seems to suggest something very different from the ordinary experience, and yet we have no real interest from most of the scientific community. The few members who have taken an interest in this, including Carl Sagan, have largely suggested that experiences like these are some type of 'mass hallucinatory activity.'"

Westrum dismissed Sagan's explanation, because it "does not correlate with the data—as in many other cases of anomalies, we have some very puzzling observations with no reasonable explanations for them."

"As illustrated by the 1992 Roper Survey, claims of UFO abductions could be much more widespread than once thought. 'Because UFO abductions seem to be a fairly common occurrence, one might find at a party with say, 30 people, that at least one person is an abductee,' Westrum said. "Again, denial of the abduction by the abductee is a large part of the phenomenon and alters the percentages."

With the possibility of other life forms watching our civilization, one wonders what their motives could be. "The data suggests that UFOs do not want to be identified," Westrum said. "UFOs seem to be studying us, except that the size of the intervention suggests that their activities are not an experiment. What we're looking at is very large scale intervention and its purposes are very unclear. Many people who have analyzed UFOs think there seems to be some type of biological interbreeding going on."

Westrum believes that research into UFOs and UFO abductions should be a high priority for government research funding. "UFOs, because of their political implications, tend to be something that the government has very strong reasons not to talk about or spend money on. But even if the probability is low that UFOs are real, the ramifications and implications of UFOs are so important that it dwarfs everything else. We need to investigate, write up findings and try to persuade people that UFOs should be investigated," he said.

Westrum admitted, however, that the ideal way to persuade people that UFOs should be looked at more closely would be to prove they exist. "An ideal event would be a recurrence similar to that of the crash of a UFO 50 years ago in Roswell, N.M. (Federal investigators concluded that the 'Roswell Incident' was the crash site of a new type of weather balloon, but it has long been disputed by UFO buffs.)

"UFO-logists' would love to have an accident occur in public, because with electronic journalism, there would be a slim chance of a cover-up," Westrum said.

Christmas at Chelsea

This is the 88th Christmas to be celebrated here at our Home. I find myself wondering what some of those Christmases were like.

At first the group was smaller so perhaps they gathered in the living room like a family. I sincerely hope that despite there being more of us we can continue to celebrate Christmas with a "family" feeling.

I have never known a family that didn't have traditions and we have ours as well. The Christmas Bazaar is one that goes way back. Based on need at first, it has become today a way for churches to keep their connection with us, an annual reminder that this place and each one of you is loved and respected by a multitude of individuals who make up the congregations of our Conference.

Another long-standing tradition is the Resident-Staff Christmas Party. This year it will be on Dec. 8 at 2:00 in the Main Dining Room. Our work rules forbid staff members receiving gifts of any value from individual residents. This is a party that the Residents put on for the Staff. Each staff member will receive a cash gift which is partially funded by your Resident Council.

A newer tradition is Candles in the Windows which began in 1987 or 1988. Our goal is to have an electric candle in every front window. When we all turn them on at 5:00 and off at 9:00, it makes quite a show for the Community. We provide the candles and extension cords. Residents provide the teamwork to make it happen.

And don't miss the village under the tree in the living room. Made by Charles Maas, a resident here in the 1950's, it represents his town in the Upper Peninsula. Each year, residents add things to the scene—a house, a cow, some carolers. This tradition is still evolving.

There is always room for new traditions as well. This is your home. Let's celebrate Christmas the way you would like to. Give us your input.

Christmas at Chelsea

wanted cold water in my coffee. The gift shop seemed to be doing well.

The forenoon crowds were great but as usual slowed down right after dinner. Being off duty then, I could browse at my leisure. There were bargains like a bag full of books for a dollar. As time came to start closing up shop, clerks at other tables started offering bargains if you really seemed interested. The baked goods went like hot cakes, in fact, when I got there the cupboard was bare. At this point in my yarn, I want to offer the general feelings of all our residents; everyone who had a part in the Fair deserves the greatest praise.

Balloons, Balloons, Hot Air Balloons

What a thrill when we spot a colorful hot air balloon in a beautiful Michigan sky. Our visit to one of the two factories in the world where Cameron Balloons are manufactured was another thrill. To see three ladies sitting in the midst of mountains of colorful nylon sewing strips and pieces together was another joy. They also soak, color and mold the baskets which carry the fuel and passengers so smoothly across the sky. One basket was so large it could carry 16 passengers in addition to the operator.

Some balloons are smooth to carry the company logo, as the face of a man in a bowler hat. Some are shaped, a Harley Davidson, a soda can, a building. Some are grooved like a Howell melon with designs of many colors. See you at the Balloon Festival in Howell or Jackson next summer.

The Halloween Party

The annual Halloween party, Monday, Oct. 31, was held in the Dining Room. The room was filled with dozens of colorful orange and black balloons floating in the air. A variety of unusual costumes could be seen as you strolled through. Many of the costumes were donated by the Chelsea Area Players Theatre Group. Others were the creative ideas of the Residents and the Staff. The Expresso Band entertained with its lively music and familiar songs. Refreshments were cider and doughnuts and candy, huge bowls of every variety imaginable.

It wouldn't be Halloween without big black pussy cats prowling around the table of refreshments (how clever the costumes and make-up were). A band of gypsies (Social Service Staff) in their colorful costumes were seen roaming among the festive crowd. The flower gardener in his big straw hat, the doctor who seemed to be so concerned about his patients and the Wise Rabbi were all there.

At 3 o'clock everyone was waiting to hear who the best costume winners were. Four of the Residents were prize winners.

Naomi Ratz—The Bumblebee. Just be wary when you see a big black and yellow bumble bee buzzing around.

Lucille Casell—Robinhood, the legendary outlaw. Was he here to rob the rich or help the poor?

Marian Schilling—The Bag Lady. The mysterious Bag Lady had everyone guessing but never a clue.

Beulah Plumb—The Clown. It isn't a party without the foolish antics of a clown.

The four Staff prize winners were:

Linda Stephens—The Wise Rabbi.

Seneca Foote—Snow White

amusing.

Corporate Staff—The Seven Dwarfs.

The clever make-up of the Seven Dwarfs with their bushy white whiskers, big stocking caps and tools in hand looked just like a picture from a story book.

Business Office—The Road Crew.

Dressed, hard hats and all, prepared for any emergency.

Pat Weaver—in her beautiful Harem Costume.

These are just a few of the costumes seen at the party. You had to be there to see so many clever ideas on display and enjoy the fun!

Naomi Ratz.

Christmas Greetings

Naturally the theme for December is Christmas. The number of related activities are so numerous they cannot be detailed, but here are a few.

"Hanging of the Greens" is an activity in which every resident is encouraged to help decorate CRC. This date is very early in the month and shortly thereafter comes the Staff-Resident Christmas party. Watch for these and join the activities!

Several light tours have been scheduled as well as a special tour to visit a Christmas Creche display in Ann Arbor (this is a must, especially if you have never seen it!)

There are a number of seasonal Holiday music programs planned as well as slide presentations about "Christmas Angels" and the Holy Land.

Look over your calendar carefully and circle all of these events in red and green then you won't miss anything and your calendar will be attractively Christmasy!

Good-Bye '94, Hello '95

This, we hope, will appear in print near the end of '94 or beginning of '95. We should remember the good things that happened to and for us last year and dream and work for the future. We in our retirement community will continue to write about the activities that occupy our time.

We rejoice when something good happens to us or our friends, Winifred and I feel good for something that happened recently.

Winifred's Woman's Society of Christian Service from the Clawson U.M. Church recently highlighted her in the church news letter. She was honored by the Society giving a gift of $100 to the Chelsea Home because of her work in '93, crocheting about 25 blankets for newborn baby kits. Our church has a goal of 100 kits that church members give to poor mothers each year.

Of interest also is the news that four more gifts of $100 each went to Detroit and Pontiac area churches and social service agencies, on top of a $900 check to their home Church in Clawson.

—M.C. Martin.

CHS GOLF TEAM: As a pleasant reminder of warm fall days before winter arrived, feast your eyes one more time on these young men. Several golfers in the area played Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 24-25—but those warm days seem months ago. Members of the team above are, front row, left to right, Ben Muna, John Pobjewski, Rusty Blackwell, Scott Keil,

New Law Eases Burden For Household Employers

Recent tax law changes mean that many household employers who used to file quarterly reports with the IRS will no longer have to withhold employment taxes for their household employees.

"In the past, anyone who paid a household employee wages of more than $50 in a calendar quarter had to file a quarterly report and pay Social Security and Medicare taxes on those wages," said IRS district director Athene Kay. "Beginning this year, household employers will not be required to withhold taxes unless the employee receives more than $1,000 a year.

Because of the $1,000 threshold is effective for the entire 1994 year, Ms. Kay said household employers and their employees who paid Social Security and Medicare taxes on 1994 employee wages of less than $1,000 are eligible for refunds.

"Employers can obtain their refunds by filing Form 843, Claim for Refund and Request for Abatement," said Ms. Kay, "and employees should request reimbursement from their employers for any Social Security or Medicare taxes withheld from their pay.

"Effective in 1995, domestic workers under the age of 18 will be exempt from any Social Security and Medicare taxes regardless of how much they earn, unless household employment is the worker's principal occupation," said Ms. Kay.

"Employers and employees who have questions about the new law, or need assistance filing for a refund, may call our toll-free number, 1-800-829-1040, for more information," Ms. Kay said.

Working at the Fair

My job at the Fabulous Fair this year was at the south elevator. It mostly consisted of greeting folks as they arrived, or left, answering questions about directions and in general making myself useful and looking happy, which I was. I had my regular issue straw hat, which felt good on my head. The dress code required dark trousers and light shirt. I looked important.

I tried to smile a lot. The straw hat people looked important and they were. My job allowed me to sit much of the time. Many of the sales people did not have that luxury. Most of the visitors came real happy, about the same as any who would be going to Disney Land.

One couple wanted to know how to get to the ceramics department. I told them as simply as I could, which is not easy from my station with all the turns and another elevator trip. I followed some in to get a doughnut and coffee. Had quite a time getting the ladies to know that I

A memorial service will be held Saturday, Jan. 7 at Cole Funeral Chapel, Chelsea.

ZACH SMITH, a Chelsea High school graduate, is back in the area with his Dixie Power Trio musical group. They will be appearing in the 18th Ann Arbor Folk Festival on Saturday, Jan. 28 at Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor. Dixie Power Trio is described as a trio with four members which plays anything from New Orleans jazz to thrash rock. The foundation of the Dixie Power Trio is tubaist Andy Kochenour. He lays down the bass lines while Bert Carlson dictates rhythmic and chordal directions on plectrum banjo. Riding on top of the grooves is Zach Smith, playing cornet, washboard, accordion, harmonica, and just about anything else he can lay his hands on. Now, this makes for a popular threesome, but the four-piece trio is invented when percussionist/drummer Byron McWilliams adds his expertise. Listen for a set and you might hear the "DPT" tackle anything from Louis Armstrong to Louis Jordan to Lou Reed. Dixie Power Trio's diabolical plan is coming to fruition as the DPT sets about on a crash course for Dixieland Music for the 21st century.

Lela Kathleen Parks

LaVerne Foster

Rochester
(Formerly of Chelsea)

LaVerne (Vern) Foster, age 83, of Rochester Hills, formerly of Chelsea, died Jan. 1, 1995. He was born in Chelsea, the son of Harry and Mabel (Rowe) Foster. He was married to the late Betty Phyllis Foster and the father of Mrs. Patricia J. (Bruce) Bentley, Robert V. (Julie) Foster, and William Murray Foster.

He is also survived by a brother, Dudley Foster, and a sister, Joyce (Russ) Gardner; three granddaughters and three great-grandsons.

Mr. Foster was past president of A.S.B.E. and co-founder of F.B.T.C.R.C.

Mr. Foster worked as a design engineer for Hudson Motor Car, Packard Motors and retired from Fisher Body after 32 years of service.

Funeral service will be Wednesday, Jan. 4, at 3 p.m., at Potere-Modetz Funeral Home, 339 Walnut Blvd., Rochester.

The family will receive friends Tuesday, 5 to 9 p.m. and Wednesday, 11 a.m. until time of the service.

Memorials are suggested to the American Heart Association or the American Cancer Society.

Little Caesars Falls Victim to Larceny

Little Caesars pizza parlor fell victim to a scam Dec. 30 when the manager handed over $200 for cabinets never delivered or installed.

The manager of the local restaurant at 1121 S. Main St. reported a larceny after a woman came in claiming to have permission to install cabinets. The manager said the suspect needed $300 up front as a down payment. Since she knew nothing about the work, the manager called her supervisor. The suspect apparently spoke with the supervisor and gave the manager the impression her supervisor authorized the release of money.

After the manager gave the suspect $200, she waited for workers to come with the cabinets. When they never showed, the woman called her supervisor, who said he never gave permission for the work or payment.

Chelsea Police Department is investigating the larceny.

Michigan Historical Museum Will Observe Statehood Day

The rugged frontier spirit of Michigan 158 years ago will be celebrated Saturday, Jan. 21, when the Michigan Historical Museum in Lansing observes Michigan Statehood Day.

Two costumed debaters will stage verbal brawls reminiscent of the Toledo War, and old-time craft demonstrators and music-makers will be in the museum galleries from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. All presentations are free to the public.

The first 250 families to arrive at the museum will receive a free miniature Michigan flag.

Featured musical performers "Lady of the Lake," a dynamic trio including Wanda Degen, Pooch Stevenson and Karrie Potter, will perform in the museum forum at 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

Other Statehood Day activities include:

• 12:30 p.m. and 2:30 p.m.—The Toledo War Debate: Shouting, arguing and old-fashioned political hollering will revive the 1835 border dispute between Michigan and Ohio, known as the Toledo War. Visitors will decide who is the rightful owner of Toledo in this war of words, complete with Wolverine chicanery and Buckeye skulduggery.

• 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.—Scenes of Statehood. Two videos, "Michigan's Capitol: A Symbol Renewed," and "Travel in America in the 1840s" will run continuously on MHM-TV.

• 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.—Crafts and Exhibitions. Quilting, surveying, harness making, yoke making, and other demonstrations fill the museum galleries. There will also be clothespin doll making, basket making, Shaker box making, lace making, model shipbuilding, and cornhusk doll making.

The Michigan Historical Museum is located at 717 W. Allegan St., in downtown Lansing, two blocks west of the State Capitol. It is open 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday. It is closed on state holidays.

The museum is open to the public free of charge. Week-end parking is free and the facility is handicapped-accessible. Additional information may be obtained by telephone at (517) 373-3559.

The Department of State is the official state agency charged with preserving, protecting and interpreting Michigan history. The department's Bureau of Michigan History administers the Michigan Historical Museum system, the State Archives of Michigan, and archaeological, historic preservation, and publication programs, including Michigan History Magazine.

The bureau is supported in its efforts by the Michigan Historical Commission, the Michigan Historical Center Foundation, the Friends of Michigan History and the Docent Guild.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to register my concurrence with the woman from Saline who recently wrote The Chelsea Standard regarding Clear Cable Company's dropping CBET from our cable service. As this woman did, I called Clear Cable and was told by the receptionist that they dropped CBET because they had to find space for the new CBS channel. CBET was the only channel they did not have a contract with, and it was the result of a survey conducted in which the subscribers overwhelmingly voted to drop CBET. As I was unfamiliar with any such survey, I was told that subscribers were asked to call the Clear Cable office with the channel they wish dropped following a notice shown on Channel 45. I tried to receive more information on the survey as I felt that it was an extremely poor form of communication to the subscribers regarding our service. The receptionist responded that she was not familiar with the survey, but would have a Clear Cable representative contact me later in the day. This was approximately three weeks ago. I am still awaiting that call.

Clear Cable's lack of concern for their customers is becoming increasingly more difficult to tolerate. Three times within the last few years I have contacted them regarding the selection process of the channels they provide, and I was always informed that the party I needed to speak with was unavailable but another representative would contact me. Following each of these calls, not one person contacted me. Clear Cable seems more concerned with the collection of our monthly bills than with the questions and complaints regarding the service provided us.

My daughter recently moved to Ann Arbor, and I was overwhelmed by the number of channels available from Columbia Cable and the courteous service she receives each time she calls them with a question or service problem. She receives more than twice the number of cable channels as we do in Chelsea and pays relatively the same monthly charge.

My experience with the Clear Cable company has led me to believe that it is time the citizens of Chelsea thoroughly review the options available for the cable company that will service our community. I am hoping that they could find one that will offer the channel selection, cost, and customer service that Chelsea residents deserve. As far as I am concerned, Clear Cable does not fit this criteria—let's find a company that does.

Robert Erickson

To the Editor:

It is bad enough that we lose farm "land" to housing developers.

Unfortunately, we are losing far more. We lose families who are strongly tied to the community. We lose the giant trees which provide not only shelter and food for wildlife, but the oxygen we breathe. We lose the natural beauty of the woods and rolling fields. We lose the restful landscape our souls need in this busy, hurry-up world. We lose the wildlife—the deer, fox, raccoons, possums. We lose the good natured, easy-going neighbors who always smile and wave, and take time to talk.

We replace the open spaces with pavement, and "affordably" priced houses starting at $289,000. We bring the headlong rush of the city out to the country. We bring fast drivers with cellular phones. The paradox is the removal of the very reasons the area is so attractive. The natural beauty is disappearing like a dream.

The farms have been, and are, a vital part of this township. My hat is off to these families in which one or more members works a "day" job in addition to running the farm. I like the open, generous natures of my farm neighbors. I like their children and their values. Their homes may not be "mega," but their hearts certainly are.

I hope that eventually the new residents will take time to look around when they drive instead of talking on their mobile phones. I hope that the beauty and peace will rub off on them so they can stop scowling; I hope that they will stop flying out of their subdivisions at the speeds formerly reserved for the fire department on its way to a two alarm blaze. I hope that they truly understand that living in "the country" when the spring breezes blow and the ground thaws means that the cows and pigs get pretty pungent. Quality of life is at stake here, and so is a matter of practicality: None of our dinner-plates get filled by what's grown in a subdivision.

To the Editor,

Chelsea once again looks beautiful for the holidays.

No small debt of gratitude goes to Bob Shepherd and the Chelsea Electric Department for braving the wind and cold weather to hang the lights and wreaths which make Main Street look so pretty.

We are very fortunate to have a Village government which is so responsive to all community needs, whether its a broken water main or the appearance of our main thoroughfare. Sincerely,

Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce

Jim Stacey Takes Wood Doctor TV Show on Public Network

Beginning in January, Jim Stacey, former Chelsea resident, takes his Do-It-Yourself television show (The 21st Century Wood Doctor) to a national audience on the Public Television Network. Jim has produced over 70 cable shows over the past three years. These shows were aired in 27 different communities around Detroit.

The show is designed to teach men and women the step-by-step details of any possible type of furniture repair and antique restoration technique. "This show will not tease people with partial information and leave them guessing as to how to do it," says Stacey. "I want people everywhere to actually learn how and be able to do it at home."

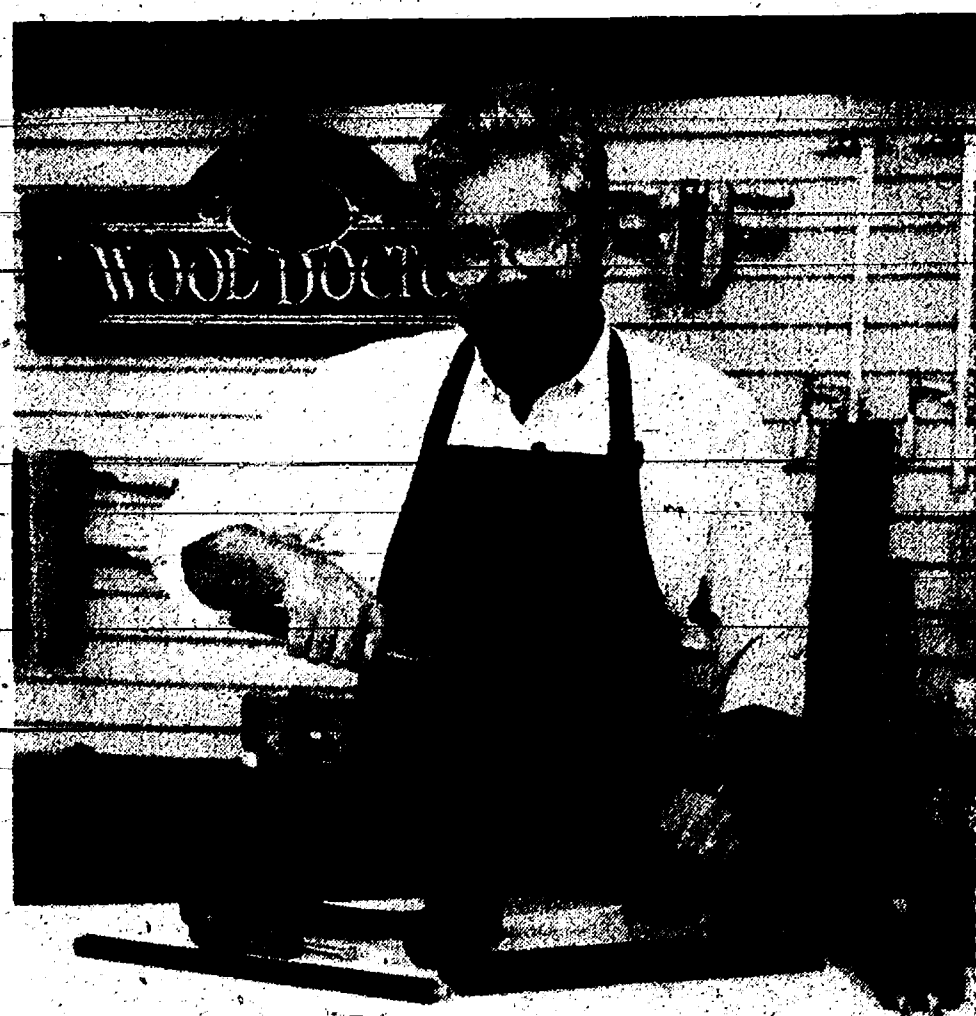

There are a lot of woodworking shows on television today but none that show the innovative repair techniques necessary for people to be able to do it themselves. This show fills a void that has existed for years. Whether it be replacing missing wood, broken arms and legs, splits, veneer repair or replacement, installing hidden screws, refinishing without sanding, making invisible repairs on antiques, filling holes and matching the wood, partial refinishing to match, repairing cracks, restoring carvings, or hundreds of other repairs—this show is for you.

Various segments on the show include—Prescriptions from the Doctor, Time Out for Tools, Where Can I Find It!, How'd They Do That? and many other experts from various wood-related fields.

"Skills for the Best Part of Your Life" is the theme of the show. "People are hungry to learn new skills," Stacey says. "They are eager to learn skills they can translate into rewarding leisure or earning extra income." Thousands of people have learned new skills from watching Jim Stacey on cable television around Detroit for the past three years. He has taught hundreds of UAW workers in hands-on classes for the past two years. "Learning how people learn has helped me to make even better shows for this new series," Jim explains. "People get really excited when they accomplish something they thought could not be done." A sense of accomplishment, self-esteem building, income supplement, personal reward, productive leisure, and the enjoyment of working with tools and one's own hands are all benefits of The 21st Century Wood Doctor Show.

While the target audience for this new Do-It-Yourself show includes all DIY people, those in their 50's and 60's, those semi-retired or fully retired, the baby boomers as they reach 50 soon and are planning for retirement, and those people looking for income supplement or a part-time business are all prime candidates for watching the show.

Stacey's cable show was nominated and became a finalist in the Michigan ICE (Innovative Cable-

JIM STACEY - The Wood Doctor

Excellence) awards competition for 1994. He received the "Best Show Award" on the network that filmed the cable series. The educational value of the show is what has brought this recognition.

For those who want to learn even more or who don't want to wait for a particular subject on a future show, Stacey has an extensive video library of more than twenty 90-minute volumes detailing many, many techniques for furniture repairs and restorations of antiques.

Currently the show is expected to be seen in over 140 Public Television markets in over 36 states covering an audience of 72 million households or 187 million people, as well as a very significant Canadian audience. Most of the stations will be carrying the show on their Saturday morning lineup of DIY shows.

Credibility is the key word for this show. "People will be able to see and believe because I will not promote anything that doesn't work. People will know that I'm being honest with them," Jim says. "This is one of the reasons why I'm going with the Public Television Network where there is no endless drone of commercials that leave you wanting some real substance."

Jim was a resident of Chelsea for 19 years until he moved to a new home just south of Ann Arbor in 1989. Julie and Jeff Stacey are both graduates of Chelsea High school.

Cheker Gas Station Closes Early after Employee Brawl

A fight between two employees of Cheker gasoline station in Chelsea ended with the premature closing of the station New Year's day.

At 6:16 p.m., Chelsea Police were dispatched to a fight in progress at the gas station, 930 S. Man St. Upon arrival, police found two clerks on the floor of the cashier's booth kicking and screaming. Underneath them were several hundreds of dollars in merchandise knocked off shelves and strewn around.

The booth was locked and police had to order the women to open the door.

One of the clerk's involved, a 26-year-old Saline woman, told police the other clerk, a 43-year-old Stockbridge woman, tried to leave and she asked her to help her with some work. When the Stockbridge woman refused, the Saline woman said she tried to call the manager. She claims when she tried to call, the Stockbridge woman struck her in the face and pulled her hair. Police reported the Saline woman had blood on her right hand from a scratch and a red, swollen spot on her wrist.

The Stockbridge woman admitted to police she refused to stay and help, but she says the Saline woman started the fight by grabbing her arm and blocking the door. Police reported she had blood coming from her mouth and a cut on her hand.

Both women want to press charges against each other for assault.

Cheker had to be closed down shortly after 6 p.m. so the women could be taken to Chelsea Community Hospital for treatment of minor injuries. The station's manager was contacted to secure the building.

A prosecutor will review the case for possible charges.
