"There are a lot of noble causes you can be involved in, but what's more important than supporting a soldier? No matter your politics, they're the backbone of the country."

Regional Report: The American Legion Legion aims at getting younger

By Brian Cox
Staff Writer

Its buildings — often with a tank or artillery gun stationed out front — are landmarks in a community.

Its members, in similar fashion, are historic markers, representing generations of veterans spanning decades of military service from all branches of the United States armed forces.

The American Legion has posts, made of corrugated steel to cinderblock to white clapboard, based in more than 450 communities across Michigan. There are eight posts in Washtenaw County, accounting for more than 1,100 legion members.

For almost 90 years, American Legion posts across the country have provided veterans with a place to congregate, a forum for community service and an avenue to honor and care for fellow veterans.

It's the camaraderie, community service and commitment to veterans that legion members identify time and again as the cement that holds a post together.

Holmes to donate Indy racing suit

Chelsea museum

By Edward Freundl
Staff Writer

It's no secret that Howard Holmes Jr. is president and chief executive officer of one of Chelsea's oldest and most successful companies, the Chelsea Milling Co.

What may not be so well-known is that, before joining the family business, "Howdy" Holmes achieved a measure of success burning up the racetrack alongside the likes of A.J. Foyt, Al Unser Sr. and Mario Andretti as an open-wheel Indy car driver.

Holmes recently agreed to share that piece of personal history with the community by donating his "Jiffy Mix" racing suit and other memorabilia to the Chelsea Historical Museum.

"I'm flattered that someone would ask about that stuff," Holmes said.

It wouldn't have happened, though, if museum volunteer and motorsports enthusiast George Till hadn't decided to be bold enough to do exactly that.

"I knew about Howdy's racing career because I'm a big racing fan, and I thought it would be really cool if people knew about this," Till said.

"I just decided to call him up. I explained the situation, and he was very cordial about it.

"He said he'd be more than happy to be part of the museum," Till added.

Till figured having something — anything — from Holmes' personal collection would be quite a feat, because "we don't have a great deal of modern things at the museum," he said.

Holmes appeared on the open-wheel, or Indy car, circuit from 1978 to 1988.

THE BANKS OF SALINE

"A village on the river"

Connecting, communication and community have been very important to local real estate developer and long-time Saline resident Tom Foley ever since he envisioned a new residential complex, The Banks of Saline along the winding Saline River, just west of the city's historic downtown district.

Foley and his partners believe the residents of the 102 well-appointed condominiums in seven charming Tudor-style buildings will enjoy connecting with their neighbors in the bright and airy atriums that adjoin their front doors and will be enriched as they stroll the few blocks to the shops, restaurants and businesses in the established and ever-growing downtown area of Saline.

By communicating with neighbors along tree-lined Monroe Street, the architects and landscape designers have created a project that complements the surrounding homes and remains sympathetic to the wilderness, riverbank and adjoining public parks. The two and three-bedroom homes will be built with roof-lines, building materials and color schemes that have been carefully selected to highlight the natural resources and features on the property and surrounding land.

Also, a river-side hiking trail, looping through the Banks of Saline property has already been planned with a public right-of-way awarded to the City to encourage walkers, bikers and young families in the community to enjoy the Saline River, which developers say will be three-times cleaner thanks to the care and diligence of their team's efforts.

The homes have been designed with every sophisticated creature comfort and upgrades have already been made throughout the living areas.

Entering the heated, underground parking garage, residents may take the elevator to the enclosed atrium to their front door. Inside, nine-foot ceilings, six-inch trim, solid-core doors and the finest hardware and fixtures have been used in consideration of homeowners who would like to protect their investment. Granite counter-tops, finely tiled ADA-designed bathrooms with Jacuzzi tubs and generous use of windows will be found in each of the two and three-bedroom homes ranging in square footage from 1,300 to 1,674.

The Banks of Saline has earned an Energy Star rating to guarantee homeowners enjoy the utmost energy efficiency with environmental consideration.

Saline River Properties is a joint venture between Foley, Jeff Verhines, Bill Atwell and Chris King. The architect, also a Saline High School graduate, is Terry Sanford of Nederveld Associates and numerous local contractors and electricians will contribute to the project, a collaboration that has been important to Foley and his partners.

Reservations are now being accepted at the Monroe Street Show Home daily 12 noon - 4:00 p.m. or by appointment by calling 604-3527.

Event to raise money for family

By Terry Jacoby
Heritage Newspapers

Family and friends of Joe Conlin are reaching out to their extended family in and around Chelsea.

Joe Conlin, 29, was diagnosed in 2000 with Aveolar Soft Part Sarcoma, a rare form of cancer with no known cure. The cost of health care has had a severe impact on the family and they could use some help paying bills.

"Pancakes for Joe," a fundraiser for the Conlin family, will be held between 7 a.m. and noon on Sunday at the Chelsea Fairgrounds.

Conlin has family in the Chelsea area, including cousins Patrick Conlin Jr. and Jody Regnier. All of the food is being donated by Chelsea businesses.

"People I know in Chelsea

Joe Conlin with wife Amy and daughter Connor.

keep coming up to me and asking how they can help," said Regnier. "Come enjoy some pancakes is a great way to help."

Joe, a Saline native, attended Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard High School and Eastern Michigan University, where he received his bachelor's degree in criminal justice in 2005.

Joe, the son of Judge Richard E. Conlin and Jean DeFord Conlin, has undergone an above-the-knee leg amputation, several surgeries of the brain and lungs as well as many rounds of chemotherapy and other experimental therapies since this battle began.

He is currently on leave from Domino's Farms where he works in security.

Joe has been married to Amy, a social worker, for seven years and they have a six-year-old daughter Connor.

Donations will be accepted at the pancake breakfast or donations can be made directly to the family. Send donations to Chelsea State Bank, 1010 S. Main St., Chelsea, Mi., 48118.

Car window smashed

At 3:45 p.m. May 15 Chelsea police were dispatched to the 500 block of Maywood Street to make contact with a 23-year-old Adrian woman.

According to a police report, the woman said she had parked her 2002 Dodge Neon sedan in front of a friend's house and they went to Ann Arbor at about 1:15 p.m., and when they returned about 45 minutes later a witness told her the car's rear passenger-side window was shattered.

The witness told the officer he was mowing the lawn and got the mower stuck next to the car. He then noticed the broken window, the report stated. The officer found a small rock among the broken glass, but the witness said he was unsure if the mower had thrown it into the window.

The woman reported nothing missing from the vehicle.

Cash missing from locker

A 17-year-old Chelsea youth came into the Chelsea Police Department at 7:52 p.m. May 15 to report that $230 in cash had been taken from his wallet at Chelsea High School.

The victim told police the money had been in his wallet when he went to school May 11, and he had put his clothes in his locker room locker for gym class and locked it.

According to a police report, the man said after class the locker was still locked, but his wallet was in a different pocket. He discovered the money was missing but nothing else, and asked others if they had seen anything, but no one had.

The victim told officers that several lockers have been broken into recently, the report stated, and that another male student had been questioned about leaving gym class for an unknown period of time.

The victim's father, Athletic Director Wayne Welton and Assistant Principal Julie Deppner reviewed a surveillance tape, which showed several people entering and leaving the locker room during the time of the incident.

Utility vehicle damaged

At 11:30 a.m. May 21 police were called to a business in the 300 block of North Main Street for a report of a burglary and vehicle damage.

According to a police report, the building complex's maintenance supervisor told police the ignition circuitry of a Gator utility vehicle had been forcibly removed and parts discarded on the floor, causing about $100 in damage.

The supervisor told police the two main entry doors should have been locked over the weekend but it appeared they were not.

The last person in the building should have left at 5 p.m. May 18, the supervisor said, and the damage was discovered about 10:45 a.m. May 21.

The report noted that fingerprints would be of little value because arrests were made in another incident that occurred at the same location on May 13, and in all likelihood those suspects had touched the utility vehicle then.

Check, credit card missing

Chelsea police were dispatched to the 700 block of Darwin Drive at 8:41 p.m. May 21 to meet a woman who said her son's federal tax return and a bank credit card had been taken from her mailbox that afternoon.

According to a police report, the woman told police she retrieved her mail from the mailbox at about 3:30 p.m.

When she saw that it contained her son's tax return and credit card, she put his college address on them, and returned it to the mailbox and raised the flag.

The woman told police she later saw a silver-colored vehicle pulling away from the mailbox and the flag was down, and when she went out to investigate she discovered the two envelopes missing.

She saw a similar-looking vehicle driving through the neighborhood and stopped it to question the occupants, a couple in their 50s, the report stated. The woman told police they "seemed like upstanding citizens," according to the report, but took down the vehicle license number, which was registered to an address on Dewey Street.

Police advised the woman to cancel the credit card and contact the post office about the mail theft, and at that point she told the officer she was unsure if the mail carrier had retrieved the envelopes on his way out of the subdivision.

According to the report, the woman's husband came into police headquarters later that day to say he had followed a vehicle out of the subdivision occupied by two males and matching the description of the suspect vehicle.

The man said he followed the subjects to an address on Clark Lake Road, but the license plate number he provided to police came back with no record on computer.

Chelsea News in Brief

Garden Walk tickets

Tickets for the Chelsea Area Garden Club's Garden Walk on Saturday, June 23 are now on sale at The Garden Mill, Chelsea Pharmacy and Gourmet Chocolate Café.

Eight sites in Chelsea's historic downtown area and newer homes in the Freer Road area, east of Main Street, will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Proceeds from the Garden Walk will benefit the Chelsea Senior Center and McKune Memorial Library.

Tickets, priced at $7 for adults with children under 12-years-old free, also will be on sale on the day of the walk at the McKune Memorial Library. A brochure with a map and list of gardens will be available at each site marked with hanging baskets and numbers.

For more information call Thrin Pifer at The Garden Mill, 1-734-475-3539.

Hot dog sale

The Chelsea Pamida will be sponsoring a Hot Dog Sale from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Friday and Saturday. All proceeds of the sale will be donated to the Chelsea Senior Center. Senior Center volunteers will be selling hot dogs, chips and pop.

Young actors

Children ages 5 to 8 will have the opportunity to learn a little about the theater at the Chelsea Center for the Arts. Christine Law will lead a mini camp from 10 a.m. to noon on June 13 and 14 where budding actors and actresses will have fun with theater games, skits and an introduction to the workings of a theater.

For more information or to register for the camp, call the CCA at 1-734-433-2787.

Youth Theatre Camp

The popular Chelsea Area Players (CAP) is again offering a Summer Youth Theatre Camp for two weeks, June 18-29. The Camp is for kids from any community completing grades 2-7 and will be held at the Washington Street Education Center from 8:45 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Monday-Friday. Cost for the Camp is $250.

The CAP Camp is designed as an enrichment program focusing on developing a child's performance and production skills. Students will rotate through intensive but fun classes: learning everything from theatre history to all aspects of production on and off stage. A staff of skilled theatre professionals will conduct the classes.

Registration ends June 8. Call the Chelsea Community Education at 1-734-433-2206 or log onto www.chelseareaplayers.org.

Dog owners may be prosecuted for attacks

By Edward Freundl
Staff Writer

Chelsea police may seek to prosecute the owners of two dogs that have a history of running loose and attacking residents of a north-side neighborhood.

A police official said the owners, a woman and her adult daughter, have disregarded a series of warnings and citations, prompting the decision to forward to the county prosecutor's office a burgeoning file of complaints.

In the latest incident, officers were dispatched to the 800 block of Darwin Drive at 7:53 p.m. May 15.

They made contact with a woman who said she was walking with a group of five children, including her own children and their friends, on Darwin Drive near St. James Place when a large brown dog and a smaller black dog ran toward them.

According to a police report, the woman told the dogs to go away, but they jumped on a 9-year-old girl and scratched her leg.

The witness told officers she has had several run-ins with these dogs in the past and has complained to their owners three or four times.

Each time the owners have some excuse for the dogs running loose, she said, and they become offensive when she requested that they keep the dogs at home, the report stated.

The woman told police she is now afraid to walk in the neighborhood because of the dogs, and the 9-year-old girl is very frightened of the dogs because they bark at and run after people.

The report stated that police have been dispatched to the dog owners' residence for dog complaints at least nine times since Nov. 28 and have issued citations six times.

Police Chief Ed Toth Jr. said the incident was turned over to the Washtenaw County Prosecutor's Office for possible criminal charges because "the tickets don't seem to be working."

'A different outlook'

UMRC chief tells Chelsea business leaders lessons learned from Katrina

By Edward Freundl
Staff Writer

John Thorhauer has been through the storm, and came out with some valuable life lessons.

The current president and chief executive officer of United Methodist Retirement Communities told his story during the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce

"Lunch for Success" on May 24. The event took place at the Townsley Village Town Center located on the campus of the UMRC's Retirement

Thorhauer

Chelsea Community.

In August 2005, Thorhauer had been appointed director of the Armed Forces Retirement Home in Gulfport, Miss., just two weeks before Hurricane Katrina would make an indelible impression on his life.

The Virginia native has a long career in senior care management, and how he directed the safe evacuation of more than 500 military retirees and staff from the facility.

Thorhauer spoke on the "life lessons" he learned through the ordeal of Hurricane Katrina. He tried to keep the presentation as light-hearted as the subject allowed, while describing his actions in facing the most devastating natural disaster in U.S. history.

"There are lots of lessons to learn in life, and I learned these very quickly," Thorhauer said.

Lesson No. 1: If it appears to be too good to be true, it probably is.

Thorhauer had been appointed by then-Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld as director of the private facility located on a former naval base.

John Thorhauer's home (above) in Gulfport, Miss., the day before Hurricane Katrina; below, only a few bricks and shrubs remain. Thorhauer, current president and CEO of United Methodist Retirement Communities, spoke to the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce recently about successfully evacuating more than 500 residents and staff of the military retirement center he was director of at the time of the deadly storm.

"It was kind of unusual situation," Thorhauer said. "I had civilian and military employees, and it is not part of the Veterans Administration health-care system."

"You have to not only be a military veteran but a war veteran as well to live there," he added. "We had about 400 World War II and Vietnam War veterans, and about 150 employees."

The main facility consisted of a ground-floor, traditional nursing home for residents who required a high level of care. The former officers' quarters, an 11-story high-rise apartment building, was converted into independent- and assisted-living apartments that would ultimately prove crucial to the evacuation.

The base also included the home where Thorhauer and his wife and children lived.

"It was right on the Gulf of Mexico, and the weather was perfect - for about two weeks," he said.

Then Katrina came to town, and Thorhauer gave a riveting account of what happened next.

Lesson No. 2: If the media shows up, leave.

"Especially if it's The Weather Channel," Thorhauer noted. "If they start setting up their equipment in your front yard, you know something really bad is about to happen."

He said hurricane expert Jim Cantore interviewed him, and Cantore and his crew stayed at the facility for days "because we were deemed one of the safest places in the area," Thorhauer said.

Lesson No. 3: Leaders sometimes have to make difficult decisions.

"One decision I made that was extremely unpopular with many people, at least at first, was to evacuate the nursing facility," Thorhauer said.

"When you order an evacuation of a facility like this, it's not just a matter of loading up a bus and leaving; a lot of these patients were bedridden or had critical medical issues."

He decided to move them over to the high-rise, where the first-floor windows had been boarded up.

"They said the rest of the windows were safe because they were designed to withstand 200-mile-per-hour winds," he said.

"We were also assured water wouldn't come in from the front, which faced the Gulf."

Unfortunately, there was a creek at the back of the base which overflowed, and the water came in through the back from the loading dock.

"And this wasn't just sea water," Thorhauer said. "It contained raw sewage, gasoline, diesel fuel and all kinds of debris."

All the boarded-up windows on the first floor gave way, and the water started coming in rapidly.

"I made the decision to move people from the first floor to the second because the water was rising so fast," he said.

The elevator shafts flooded, so they had to carry people up the stairs.

"It was ankle-deep when we started, and was knee-deep in about 15 minutes," Thorhauer said, "and it was waist-deep in another 15 minutes. I was the last one off the first floor."

It was still rising and Thorhauer ordered them to move again, from the second floor to the third, but by then the water stopped — at the top of the first floor.

"That decision to evacuate the residents proved to be the most significant decision of my life," he said.

"As a result of that decision, more than 100 people did not die."

Lesson No. 4: Go with your gut.

"The second most significant decision of my life was to move my family over to the high-rise with the rest of us," Thorhauer said.

His home, to all appearances a solidly built, brick ranch-style structure that overlooked the Gulf, simply disappeared from the site. Vehicles that were parked in the garage were found shoved against the base's administration building more than 150 yards away.

"The car windows were blown out, and the force of the water sucked everything out of it, even the stuff in the glove box," he said.

There were 18 buildings on the base before the storm; 17 were either completely destroyed or had had four feet of water in them, he said, and the uppermost floors of the high-rise lost about 75 of its "hurricane-proof" windows.

Within 24 hours 11 tour buses arrived, and all the patients who could move with little or no assistance were placed on nine of them and evacuated to Washington D.C., hundreds of miles away.

Why Washington, instead of somewhere — anywhere — closer?

"Because that was where the other military retirement center was, and they had the space — about 1,500 beds," Thorhauer said.

"We just sent them off into the dark, and we stayed behind with the most critical patients."

Some of the staff volunteered to go with the patients to care for them, and Thorhauer put his family aboard the buses as well.

"Our facility was uninhabitable — we had no phones, no water, no sewer, no electric; the only food we had was what we were able to scrounge, and we had no perishable food at all," he said.

Some of the most critical residents were sent to eight local hospitals, and their computer records were destroyed in the storm and resulting flood waters.

"All we had were handwritten lists, because our computer system was destroyed and many of the hospitals' records were lost too," Thorhauer said.

"I spent the next week going to the hospitals trying to find our residents, going room-to-room in some cases."

Lesson No. 5: Sometimes the rules need to be broken.

"Before the storm I was a very black-and-white person — if we had a rule it was there for a reason, and to be successful we had to follow it," Thorhauer said.

"Now I have a different outlook. Sometimes you have to be a little flexible to get things done."

He said he ended up bartering with people to obtain needed supplies or equipment.

"I traded four cartons of cigarettes from the base PX (post exchange, or general store) for a pickup truck so I could get around or go back and forth into Gulfport," he said.

"I stuck an official-looking decal on the truck and borrowed a security guard's shirt and badge so I was able to bypass checkpoints that were set up to control looting."

Lesson No. 6: People are generally good and will help others.

Thorhauer said he witnessed acts of kindness that were sometimes ordinary and some that were extraordinary.

"One of the extraordinary acts I saw was an employee who got on a bus to help the residents, without even knowing about the safety of his own family," Thorhauer said.

Before the storm, he said, people had been told to withdraw money from the banks to be able to survive for a few days, but as it turned out, "money was pretty much useless," he said.

"There was nothing to buy and there was nowhere to spend it," he said.

"People would empty their wallets when they saw someone getting on a bus so they could buy things when they got to wherever it was they were going."

Thorhauer said he and the staff who remained had no shelter to speak of; they poured bleach on the concrete to disinfect it and slept outside for five days with no cover, and that led to more extraordinary acts of kindness.

"I got badly sunburned — the kind where you get blisters, then they pop and you get more blisters; it was excruciatingly painful," he said.

"One lady gave me some ointment that was for her baby and she told me, 'You need this more than my baby does.'"

"There were a lot of incredible lessons that go far deeper than these, but it would take more time than we have today," he added.

In closing, Thorhauer said some of the residents who were evacuated to Washington chose to remain, while others moved back with their families or found other facilities to take them in.

The damage to the Gulfport facility was catastrophic, he added, but there are plans to rebuild it.

"Congress appropriated $176 million, but it will probably take more like $300 million," Thorhauer said.

Ypsilanti woman dies from injuries in M-52 crash Sunday

By Edward Freundl

Staff Writer

A two-car crash Sunday afternoon at M-52 and Waterloo Road took the life of an Ypsilanti woman and left two others hospitalized.

The deceased was identified as Pamela Diane Holloway, age 58, of Ypsilanti.

The injured were identified as Ann Marie Clouse, 37, of Ann Arbor; and Dianne Judith Cruickshank, 39, of Stockbridge.

Both suffered serious but non-life-threatening injuries, according to a Michigan State Police press release.

Chelsea Area Fire Authority rescue personnel removed all three victims and Huron Valley Ambulance transported them to the University of Michigan Hospital for treatment.

Troopers from the Ypsilanti Post were dispatched to the scene at about 3:50 p.m., and closed the road to investigate the accident until approximately 8 p.m.

According to the report, Clouse was northbound on M-52 when the vehicle crossed the center line and struck Cruickshank's southbound Ford Explorer.

Holloway, a passenger in Clouse's vehicle, sustained fatal injuries in the crash.

The report stated that weather is believed to be a factor in the crash, because heavy rains and high winds were reported in the area at the time.

Creative painting

The Chelsea Center for the Arts welcomes watercolor artist Donna Zagotta for a workshop June 15-17.

Zagotta will demonstrate and discuss methods that will help turn ordinary subjects into creative and imaginative paintings.

The focus will be on composition, finding creative new color and the elements and principals of design.

For more information or to register, call the CCA at 433-2787.

City Council briefs

Local speed limit changes approved

At its May 22 meeting, the Chelsea City Council approved changing the speed limit on four local streets to comply with 2006 amendments to state law.

City Engineer Christine Linfield and Police Chief Ed Toth Jr. conducted a speed study and recommended changes to the speed limits on the following streets:

Sibley Road from M-52 to the west city limits, decrease from 40 to 35 mph;

Old Manchester Road, increase from 25 to 40 mph;

Railroad Street east of Taylor Lane, increase from 25 to 40 mph;

Freer Road, between Trinkle and Old U.S. 12, from 25 to 40 mph, with a school-zone speed limit of 25 mph between the hours of 7:30 to 8:30 a.m. and 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. on school days.

Toth reported that the speed study showed a majority of motorists routinely drive about 40 mph in those areas anyway.

Signs reflecting the new speed limits will be installed within about a month.

City won't control drain

The Chelsea City Council on May 22 voted to support Wilkinson Street residents if they decide to petition the Washtenaw County Drain Commission to take control of a drainage ditch that runs through their property.

Dennis Wojcik, Chief Deputy Drain Commissioner, said previously that maintenance of the drain in that area is the responsibility of the citizens rather than the city or the county.

"This is kind of closing the loop on this," Interim City Manager John Hansen told the council. "We're not going to do anything but support the citizens should they choose to petition the Drain Commission."

However, Hansen added, it was his understanding that residents would not submit such a petition.

Water plant repairs top $5K

Water Treatment Plant Superintendent Rob Jones submitted separate invoices totaling $5,218.56 to the City Council at its May 22 meeting.

A 100-horsepower pump motor was repaired at a cost of $3,420, and a water valve was replaced for $1,798.56.

Council approval was needed because the expenditure exceeded the $5,000 no-bid limit.

"The two invoices came in the same day," Jones explained.

Cookies for the troops

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4076 (VFW) in Chelsea made a financial donation to Girl Scouts of the Huron Valley Council in support of the council's 2007 Cookie Share Program. The contribution will go towards shipping Girl Scout cookies to military troops and their families here and overseas. Through the Cookie Share Program Girl Scout cookie lovers bought for themselves and designated additional cookie purchases to go to the men and women serving our country. Local American Legion and VFW Posts then helped to raise the funding needed to ship more than 2,000 boxes of Girl Scout cookies — an American tradition.

"Remembering from their own experience how important receiving letters and packages were — we are grateful to VFW Post 4076. Their donation will help to ship military troops a taste of home from inside a box of Girl Scout cookies," said Lisa Raycraft, of the Girl Scouts of the Huron Valley Council.

He reached the pinnacle of his career by competing in the Indianapolis 500 six times between 1979 and 1988.

Holmes placed in the top 10 four times, winning "Rookie of the Year" honors in 1979.

His best Indy start was second in 1984 and his best finish was sixth in 1983.

Holmes said he entered the world of open-wheel racing to fulfill a "boyhood dream," because his parents and siblings attended the Indy 500 each year as a family tradition.

"My interest in racing developed as a spectator," he said. "It was kind of a boyhood dream for me to pursue, even though I knew nothing about it."

He was one of 13 people to attend a driving school at the just-constructed Michigan International Speedway in 1968, which set the course of his life for the next 20 years.

"It's one of those classic stories that you get to try something that otherwise would be a dream," Holmes said. "I was determined that I was going to do it."

He ordered a set of tools from an automotive magazine for $69.95 ("I still have them," he noted), enlisted a few buddies as pit crew and set off for road races at small tracks around the Midwest.

"I was never a 'motorhead' as a kid, but I didn't let logic get in the way," he said.

"I went to 21 races and finished in 19 of them, and I was well on my way to doing this as a career."

It was a unique opportunity to learn the racing business from the ground up, Holmes said.

"I made a tremendous amount of mistakes, but that is the best way to learn something," he said.

And make no mistake, world-class auto racing is a business, he stressed.

"What a lot of people don't understand is that there's a lot more to the world of motor racing than what happens on Sundays," Holmes said.

"The races are entertainment, but there is a lot of effort necessary to prepare the cars, and there's the overt commercialism that goes along with the racing world. There's a lot of corporate involvement in racing."

Although Holmes did not mention it, Till noted that racing carries with it an inescapable element of risk.

"He said he'd had several accidents," Till said. "The last one, at Ontario Motor Speedway (in California) flipped the car and sheared off part of his helmet right down to the protective foam."

Till said auto racing is an exclusive club and Chelsea is fortunate to be home to one of its members.

"(Holmes) told me, 'More people have climbed Mount Everest than drive Indy cars,'" Till said.

Although he compiled a very respectable track record, Holmes realized he would not reach the elite ranks of drivers, so he concentrated on the business of racing instead.

"I was the business guy who looked at motorsports as a business opportunity and went about it that way, rather than as just a driver," Holmes said.

He formed a marketing company, Creative Motorsports, and a related enterprise, Motor Racing Advertising, to promote and market his and others' racing teams.

He also was a contributing writer to racing publications and author of the award-winning book, "Formula Car Technology."

"When he retired from racing he brought that same passion to Chelsea Milling," Till said. "Maybe that's why it's so successful."

Being involved in the business of racing was the proving ground that prepared Holmes to assume his role in the family business.

"Being part of a team exposed me to many things that, in a corporate setting like Chelsea Milling, were just invaluable," he said. "I walked into the family business setting as an adult."

Although racing was his life for 20 years, Holmes had the remarkable ability to compartmentalize that experience and step into his next 20 years.

"When I look back, I can't believe I really did that," he said.

"To be fortunate to be able to make a career out of what you love, very few people are able to do that.

"Now I'm 20 years into this other thing, and I realize I'm very lucky."

Another carryover from his racing years is the ability to clearly focus on the issues at hand.

"It is really important for me to separate my heart from my head, and I put together a five-year plan to leave racing and re-enter Chelsea Milling," he said.

"There's a lot of drama in a family business, and it was absolutely necessary to separate those two things."

"You don't make family decisions with your head, and you certainly don't make business decisions with your heart," Holmes added.

"If you can't tell the difference between the two, you're going to have problems."

Group supports tougher environmental laws

By Daniel Lai
Heritage Newspapers

The Michigan Farm Bureau is gunning for a four-bill package being considered in the Michigan Senate that would impose stricter penalties on farms convicted of breaking environmental laws.

"These laws wouldn't penalize farms that have a good record," Washtenaw County Farm Bureau Chairman Jerry Huehl, said. "The biggest problems we are seeing involve farmers who are coming over here from other areas and starting up these concentrated animal feeding operations."

According to Huehl, farms considered CAFOs include those with at least 700 mature dairy cows, 1,000 head of beef cattle or approximately 2,500 hogs.

"If these bills pass in the Senate and their counterparts pass in the House, anyone who is in violation will be penalized," he said.

According to the proposed legislation, CAFOs that are convicted of violating state water quality laws would be subject to increased regulatory oversight and would not be re-issued their existing operating permit nor issued a new permit to operate a CAFO at another site unless it met certain criteria.

"A convicted CAFO would be required to come into compliance with the law and court orders," the legislation states. "In addition, the CAFO would be prohibited from expanding for three years and would be restricted from applying manure to farm fields that are already high in phosphorus."

If passed, under Senate Bills 501-504, CAFOs would also be subject to annual water quality monitoring and soil sampling requirements.

"This legislation addresses many of the environmental community's concerns over the regulatory oversight of CAFOs and CAFO expansion, but does so in a way that targets convicted violators without casting a black cloud over the rest of agriculture. This is an important balance," MFB President Wayne Wood said in a written statement. "The Michigan Farm Bureau fully supports enforcement actions by the Department of Environmental Quality against convicted agricultural polluters. This legislation enables the DEQ to do its job without unnecessarily penalizing farms with clean slates and good track records of environmental protection," he said.

Huehl said there are no large CAFOs near the Manchester area that he knows of.

"The closest one is near Hudson," he said. "I'd just as rather see more farms than more CAFOs, but that probably won't change anytime in the near future."

The legislative package also contains provisions to support proactive environmental protection, including defining the Michigan Agriculture Environmental Assurance Program in state statute. According to Huehl, MAEAP, which helps farmers identify and reduce or eliminate environmental risks on their farm, is a voluntary program for Michigan farmers. Huehl said by defining MAEAP in state statute, the legislature would make the program more appealing to farmers and would be an incentive for more farmers to complete the program.

"This would benefit the state as a whole," he said. "Completing MAEAP often requires a farmer to meet environmental standards that exceed those federally mandated and MAEAP applies to farms of all sizes and all commodities."

Huehl said the bills put a definitive law in place that would help regulate the farming community.

"Farmers want to follow the law, but with the changing regulations all the time, they feel like they are chasing a moving target."

Restaurant calls police for troublesome customer

By Edward Freundl
Staff Writer

A customer harassing a waitress prompted the manager of a local restaurant to summon police.

The subject was gone when officers arrived shortly before 10 a.m. May 19.

The manager told police the customer, an Ann Arbor man whose age was not available, calls the restaurant every day to ask if a specific waitress, the manager's daughter, is working.

According to a police report, the manager said when the man comes in smelling of alcohol and makes rude, off-color comments to the staff, and the manager wanted to bar him from the premises.

The waitress, a 23-year-old Stockbridge woman, told police the man asked her if she "had a communication problem," the report stated, then emptied the contents of a prescription bottle in his hand.

The waitress saw they were bullets, and the man said, "Here's what I do when I have a communication problem," the report stated.

He then put them away, paid his bill and left the restaurant.

Police found a telephone number for the subject and called, but the man's mother said she didn't know where the man was and gave them his cell phone number.

Officers asked the woman to tell her son to contact them. When police called the man's cell phone there was no answer.

Police were dispatched to the restaurant again, the report said, and the manager told them the suspect had called to apologize for his actions.

She also told police she told the man not to return to the restaurant and the man agreed.

The suspect then called police headquarters to talk to the investigating officer, who also advised him not to return to the restaurant.

The Chelsea Standard

June 7, 2007

Your take on the Dexter float controversy?

To even suggest that the kids on the float and/or those that came up with the idea are racists is a reach. I didn't get the iPod connection until it was explained to me. What does iPod have to do with Memorial Day? If this was a parade honoring bad commercials or overpriced gadgets, it would have been appropriate.

The problem with the float is that it had nothing to do with the meaning of the day. It was out of place, stupid and inappropriate. But it wasn't racist. That was not the intent.

Anything else to add?

Yes. And this is important, and I better be very careful how I say it because I don't want to offend anyone. NEVER throw your jeans in the washing machine with your iPod in one of the pockets. Bad idea.

Heard you have someone to thank?

Yes. The great folks at Pierce's Pasteries Plus in Chelsea who sent over that box of goodies on Friday. Wow. I put on five pounds just from the smell. No telling how much weight I put on after actually eating five of the goodies. And they tell me the donuts come from the Dexter Bakery. See what can be accomplished when these two wonderful communities get together on such an important project.

Anyone else to thank?

Yes. We have been doing a series of stories recently on Relay For Life. Asking people to share their reasons for getting involved are usually personal, but everyone has been willing to share them with me. It's not an easy thing to do and their honesty and openness is greatly appreciated.

Why do you think people are willing to open up their hearts?

Because they have seen firsthand what this disease can do to not only people, but entire families. They have seen people try to fight it, but slowly get destroyed by it. Watching someone go through the different deteriorating "stages" is horrifying. Imagine a young girl watching her father die right in front of her eyes - over a period of months and even years. What kind of scar does that leave?

Anything to share?

Heard a great quote this week. "The essence of what confidence really means is being over prepared for a task."

Give us something from the "I can't make this stuff up" department.

From an e-mail sent by the Dexter Chamber of Commerce: "The Dexter Mobil station, on 7177 Dexter-Ann Arbor Road, now features a delicious menu of healthy Mexican cuisine (from La Fuente). Check out their current specials as they role out this new dining choice for Dexter residents."

Gas stations providing new dining choices?

Well, gas stations are struggling these days so they need to find other ways to make money. And I bet the food is cheaper than the gas. I also would bet that the food is better tasting and better for you than anything you would find under those golden arches.

Anything else?

From one of my favorite columnists, Phil Mushnick of the NY Post: "The YES Network, Friday, posted the following graphic: 'Post Game Coverage After Game.' Reminds us of the sign that appeared in old Tiger Stadium - 'Visitors Clubhouse. No Visitors.'"

What are you watching on TV?

I have been consumed by the Larry Sanders DVD collection. What a brilliant show. It's my third favorite comedy show right behind Curb Your Enthusiasm and Seinfeld.

Speaking of Seinfeld, how about a line?

"Remember when you first went out to eat with your parents? Remember, it was such a treat. You go and they serve you this different food that you never saw before. They put it in front of you and it was such a delicious and exciting adventure... and now I just feel like a big sweaty hog waiting for them to fill up the trough."

Guest Column: CANOPAS

The following guest column was sent to the Chelsea Standard by Canopas (Chelsea Area Network of Peace Activists and Supporters). It was signed by the following Chelsea residents Jan Bernath, John and Kathi Gourlay, Elizabeth Hammer, Susan Morel-Samuels, Susan Morse, Cathy and Mike Muha, and Elsie Swanberg.

We were among the two dozen people who walked at the end of the Memorial Day Parade, carrying the banner listing the American servicemen and women killed in the current military occupation in Iraq. There were many positive responses from parade on-lookers, and we found ourselves thinking, and wondering, as we left for home after the ceremonies that day, May 28. We are writing to share some of our thoughts and questions.

Death number 1: 12th Lt. Therrel Shane Childers was 30 when killed March 21, 2003...

Many of those clapping knew us as the same group that gathers on Sundays at the Post Office to stand vigil for peace. Perhaps those folks recognized that our banner is nearly 70 feet longer this year than last—at 15 names to a foot. How much longer will it be a year from now?

Death number 513: Cpl. Gary B. Coleman was 24 when killed Nov. 21, 2003...

Others of those clapping may have been voicing support for the military on this holiday which honors those who died in the service of country. We join them, in honoring those who have fallen in the wars that gained and maintained our freedom and nationhood. Do these folks, we wondered, make any distinction between those wars, fought for defensive purposes, and this conflict, fought for changing reasons that are often spoken but never quite articulated?

Death number 1159: Sgt. Shawna Morrison was 26 when killed Sept. 5, 2004...

We also hold in the highest regard the troops who are currently fighting. Some of us have relatives and friends among them. They are burdened with an administration who has betrayed them, by engaging them in an ill-defined battle, with insufficient support, with no clear strategy or way to win. Which of these patriotic young people would have put their lives on the line for a multi-national corporation, or for the "right" to make Americans richer by stealing the Iraqi's major natural resource for our use, or for any cause that cannot answer the question, "How will we know when we've won?"

Death number 2075: Maj. Gregory J. Fester was 41 when killed Aug. 30 2005...

Those who were listed on our banner, who have died in this military action are perhaps even due twice the honor, as their passion and idealism caused them to follow their leaders into a cul-de-sac. Yet, they still nobly fought, as they were duty-bound to do. These soldiers had courage and a loyalty that is commendable, but sadly manipulated. We are mostly too old for military service (though some of us have served in the past.) Every time we voice our opposition to the imperial conquest of a country which did not attack or harm us, we feel we are fighting, in a different way, for that same loyalty to country and vision of freedom. Fighting for your country is not always defined by fighting for its leaders. Where is the tipping point that will make that a broadly understood idea?

Death number 2731: Pvt. Kristian Menchaca was 20 when killed June 16, 2006...

As the guns saluted at the ceremony, and the jet flew over, we were struck by the ferocious noise, and both the threat and memory of violence it carried, in our otherwise quiet corner of the world. Then we thought of how those in Iraq, both Iraqi citizens and American soldiers, live with this on a daily basis, and of how often the implied threat becomes real violence for them. And of how many reports show it is failing strategically and only getting worse. How, we wondered, will this level of ever-increasing violence ever bring peace...and how will our nation grieve this legacy?

Death number 3012: Pvt. 1st class Stephen Bicknell was 19 when killed Oct. 15, 2006...

Some will point out that the number of current military dead, just short of 3,500, is a fraction of the number lost in earlier conflicts. Others will say this is not a local issue, and should not be discussed in a local forum. Still others will say that nothing can be done to change our course, or even that the entire military occupation in the Middle East is right and good and just. Fortunately, there is still room in our country for all points of view. Ensuring the defense of these Constitutional rights is a noble cause, indeed, and one we support. And we wondered, will the first American military death in Iraq tomorrow, and the one after that, and the one after that, do anything to protect this right, along with the others itemized in the Bill of Rights, for our citizens?

Death number 3470: Lance Cpl. Emmanuel Villarreal was 21 when he died May 27, 2007.

Our Chelsea History

In the 1400s and 1700s, five major Native American tribes lived in Michigan. Which tribe lived in the Dexter/Chelsea area?

A. Huron
B. Potawatomi
C. Ottawa

Answer: B. Although the Huron, Ottawa, Ojibway (Chippewa), and Miami tribes all lived in Michigan, only the Potawatomi settled in southeastern Michigan in the area that would become Dexter and Chelsea. The Potawatomi excelled in farming and usually resided in dome shaped wigwams.

a hall of friendly farewells follows him out the door.

Admittedly, as a member of the Dexter Post for 35 years and the executive board member in charge of the bar, the 64-year-old former Navy man is at the post almost every night and so is a familiar face.

But it's that type of camaraderie that many Legion members cite as one of the cornerstones of the organization.

"You're around a group of people that's gone through the same thing you've gone through," said Duane Hicks, 68, who has been a member of the Dexter Post for 14 years and commander for three terms. "They know what you've been through and you know what they've been through."

Hicks and Layher served in the Navy from 1959 to '63 and both found themselves off the coast of Cuba in 1962 during the Cuban Missile Crisis.

Legion members, despite possibly having served in different military branches and even different decades, share a common bond that remains unbroken even after they leave the military.

"We've all done it, we've all done the same thing," Bob Kellogg said while outside American Legion Post 117 in Manchester. "It don't matter if it's World War I, World War II, Korea, Vietnam, Lebanon. We all know what's going on in there."

The posts are warehouses of stories. Veterans exchange with one another tales of their service, weaving a thread of oral history that is passed down from generation to generation.

"Everybody has a different story," said Kellogg, who spent 10 years in the Army Military Police Corps. "No matter how many times they tell a story, you're right there listening."

For Matt Walters, the newly elected commander of American Legion Post 268 in Milan, listening to older veterans' stories represents a rite of honor.

"I enjoy listening to their stories and giving them the respect they deserve," said Walters, 48, who served in the Air Force from '76 to '82.

An extension of the fellowship is the familial connections often found running through a post.

Chuck Steele, who at 77 has been a member of the Manchester post for 54 years, including five terms as commander, grew up with the American Legion.

His father became a member after fighting in World War I. His 86-year-old brother, Edward Jr., is a member of the same post. And the family tradition continues: Steele now has a grandson, Patrick, who is in the Navy.

Colleen Wolfe-Duranso, 56, also grew up in the legion. Her father, Jim Duranso, who served in the Navy, was a past commander of American Legion Post 282 in Ypsilanti. Her mother served as president of the American Legion Auxiliary, which is a service affiliate of the legion that is open to women.

"I've been involved in the legion since I was three," said Wolfe-Duranso, standing in Highland Cemetery with members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars as she coordinated the placement of flags on the gravesites of veterans. "Families used to vacation together. It was like I had a family of 25 to 30 people."

That level of fellowship, however, has declined, Wolfe-Duranso said regretfully, echoing the sentiments of other longtime Legion members.

A sense of community

"I think the primary importance (of the legion) is the things we do to support the community," said Jim Fuller, commander of American Legion Post 322 in Saline. "We gear a lot toward the kids in the community."

Post 322 awards nine college scholarships a year from money raised primarily through their sauerkraut dinners, and gives out two Americanism awards of $500 bonds to high school and middle school students. The post also sponsors an Easter egg hunt, a Halloween candy check and activities demonstrating proper care of the American flag.

"We try to do things that are associated with Americanism," said Fuller, who served in the Army for more than 30 years. "We do things that not only raise money but that instill patriotism."

From pancake breakfasts, to blood drives, to raising money for Toys for Tots, to college scholarships, to sponsoring Little League teams, to putting up flags on Main Street on holidays, to chartering more than 1,700 Boy Scouts of America units nationwide, posts strive to involve the community.

Their efforts are not always recognized, said Joyce Scott, president of the Manchester Auxiliary as she stood outside the post beside five grills where her husband of 43 years, R.D. "Scottie" Scott, 71, was preparing for a steak fry open to the community. He said he was ready for 75 people to show up.

"Sometimes there are things we do that don't make headlines," said Joyce, who has been a member of the auxiliary for 17 years. Her husband, who served 36 years in the Airborne Rangers and Navy, has been a member of the legion for almost 20 years.

"I think it's pretty common that people don't know much about what we do," said Dave Miller, the commander of the Dexter Sons of the American Legion, "but I also think it's common that when people join, they stay involved."

A sense of commitment

"The other purpose in our life is taking care of veterans," said Jim Early, 72, a past commander of the Milan post, where he has been a member for 33 years.

He sums up the legion's central mission succinctly: honoring past and current veterans.

"The biggest thing and the most important thing I like about (the Auxiliary) is helping veterans," said Joyce Scott. "Those veterans need all the help they can get."

Posts rotate the responsibility of visiting veterans in the Veterans Affairs Hospital in Ann Arbor as often as possible. The Manchester Auxiliary buys and wraps Christmas gifts for the veterans to pick out for their families. They go to play pingo or provide entertainment for the hospitalized vets.

Posts routinely organize putting together care packages for soldiers overseas and write letters of support.

Above the bar in the Dexter Post is a photograph of a unit currently serving in Iraq. Several soldiers in the unit are sons of post members. Each soldier autographed the photo.

Layher shows the photo with pride. "This is what we're about," he said. "There are a lot of noble causes you can be involved in," said Miller, the Dexter Sons of the American Legion president, "but what's more important than supporting a soldier? No matter your politics, they're the backbone of the country."

The American Legion is active in Washington, D.C., lobbying on behalf of veterans. The legion's single greatest legislative achievement was spearheading the passage of the GI Bill of Rights in 1943. The legion's work on Capitol Hill is an important component of its mission, said Chris Tramp, an active member of the Coast Guard, who joined the Ypsilanti Post two years ago.

"The legion has a big voice and takes up veterans' issue in Congress," said Tramp. "The more members the Legion has the bigger voice we have."

Individual posts also are eager to provide any support needed to families whose father, mother, or children are fighting. In Iraq or Afghanistan.

"We are always, constantly monitoring the situation to know about families who have kids overseas," Fuller said.

To honor veterans now gone, several Posts are veritable museums with photographs and memorabilia from past wars in glass display cases.

In Dexter, a red book on a table near the entrance features photographs of the post's World War II members. Above the table is a banner reading, "Registry of Remembrances."

"There is a historical connection here," said Jean Early, vice president of the Milan Legion Auxiliary. She is also a past president of the group and has been secretary and treasurer as well.

Early's multiple roles highlights the greatest challenge the American Legion Posts face: membership growth and increased participation.

Facing challenges

American Legion Post leaders are unanimous that to remain viable they must do better at attracting younger members and expanding its active membership.

"People have so many other things to do these days," said Hicks of Dexter. "It looks like it's dying off. It's hard to get younger guys to join."

In the past year alone, five members of the post in Milan have died and new members from the younger generations are few and far between.

"We need active members," Miller said. "We need to get younger guys in here and maybe they'll bring in their friends."

They need members like Chris Tramp's brother Paul Tramp, who recently retired after serving 20 years in the Army and Army National Guard.

But Paul Tramp, 44, has two young sons and is active in school and after-school activities. He's strapped for time.

"Once I'm not tied up with my children's activities, I might be interested in something more," he said. "But raising two kids with sports and Boy Scouts, I just don't have the time."

It may be, admitted post leaders, that the legion's membership is simply destined to be made up mostly of men in their late 40s or older, whose children are largely grown and who find more time open to them.

"I really hadn't settled down enough to join a single post," said Chris Tramp, 47, attending the Memorial Day service at Highland Cemetery. "A lot of people think (the American Legion) is just a place for their dads to go. Hopefully, that's changing. Hopefully, the ranks will swell again. The key is getting younger members involved, poised to take over leadership positions."

GLAZIERS SETTLE IN

Family business in Chelsea, 1867 to 1890s

By Kathy Clark
Special to the Chelsea Standard

Clocktower: 100 years old

This is Part 1 of a series of articles about the history of the Clocktower complex, its previous owners and tenants and the impact it has had on Chelsea.

In 1867, when all transportation and commerce was by railroad, or horse-driven, George Pickering Glazier, his wife Emily (Stimson) Glazier and one surviving son, five-year-old son Frank Porter Glazier moved to Chelsea. George had studied pharmacy in New York and entered the drug business in Jackson and Parma. In 1868 he purchased the brick building at the corner of Middle and Main (now Zou Zou's) from John C. Winans. He engaged in the drug and general store business with a relative, under the name of Glazier & Stimson. They carried fancy and staple dry goods, hats, caps, boots and shoes, ready-made clothing, crockery, choice groceries and medicines.

Archie Wilkinson said in his 1950s Chelsea memoirs, "Retail stores did a great barter business in those days. They bought butter, eggs, dried apples, apple butter, dressed chickens, pork sausage in bags, potatoes, cordwood and about everything farmers had to sell with the exception of wheat, wool and livestock. For these commodities farmers could get real cash with which to pay for their farms, interest on their mortgages, lumber to build fences and salt for the cattle."

"The only merchant in town doing a cash business was George P. Glazier, druggist and banker. His motto was Under buy, under sell, and believe me he lived up to his motto."

In 1868 George P. Glazier organized a private bank under the firm name of Noyes & Glazier with Mr. Glazier as its cashier. This firm existed until 1871, when M. J. Noyes sold out and Mr. Glazier conducted the Glazier Bank alone. It evolved as the Chelsea Savings Bank, which was closed by the State of Michigan in 1907.

Frank Glazier soon followed in his father's footsteps engaging in more than one enterprise at the same time. After graduation from the University of Michigan School of Pharmacy and a business college in New York, he purchased his father's store in 1881. Frank conducted business with the same success demonstrated by his father, until 1890 when he sold the Bank Drug Store. The Glazier's remained in the banking portion of the business until 1908.

Glazier Stove Factory

In 1890 Frank Glazier turned his attention to the manufacture of oil stoves as a member of the Glazier-Strong Stove Co. This was an excellent venture as in the mid to late 1800s, the only furnaces were in the churches and there were very few coal stoves in private use.

Two years later he bought out his partners and Glazier manufactured oil stoves for both cooking and heating purposes. These stoves used a coal oil from which gas was generated. The business steadily increased and by 1901 had reached such extensive proportions that it was incorporated under the name of the Glazier Stove Company, with F. P. Glazier serving as president and general manager.

The May 1895 issue of the Chelsea Herald reported that "Business is Booming," and the Glazier Stove Co. was increasing its capacity. They had acquired properties on Main Street and adjacent to the railroad tracks (current Clocktower complex) to erect a foundry in a building 60' x 120' feet in size, at the east side of North Main Street on grounds, opposite the Chelsea train depot. The company manufactured a line of foundry supplies which a Mr. Koenan had invented. A building on the corner of Main and Railroad Streets was a fire proof warehouse 68' x 90' ft. two stories high.

The Michigan Central Railroad ran a side track through the property, facilitating the handling of the immense amount of freight. This was the beginning of the Clocktower complex as many more buildings soon followed.

In January 1897, The Standard published a drawing of the Stove Co., understanding the factory looked pretty much like this fanciful drawing. It labeled the Glazier Stove Company as the "Largest exclusive oil stove factory in the world." Not being modest, it was reported three carloads of stoves had been recently shipped one going to Russia, one to Australia.

Factory fires

In February 1894 the Glazier stove works office and showroom, and part of the Chelsea House hotel burned. Fire spread to the Congregational Church which burned to the ground.

In March 1895 fire broke out in the tin shop of the Glazier stove works. The entire plant with the exception of the offices, storage building and power house was destroyed by fire.

Not disheartened, they immediately set to planning for a more extensive and better equipped plan, with factory capacity largely increased by modern machinery of the finest quality and every labor saving device imaginable. The Glazier factory employed 150 to 200 employees by the late 1890s.

Investing in Chelsea business

Thanks to Frank Glazier's many ventures into new business, by April 1895 Chelsea became one of the best lighted villages in Michigan. The first Arc Lights were installed under a contract with the Glazier Electric Light Company. By 1898 Glazier factory provided engine power for the Chelsea Waterworks Company. These two businesses are still in operation today, owned by the City of Chelsea.

By 1901, the Glazier Stove Co. was developing from a small and uncertain attempt at its inception in 1890 to one of the largest companies of

The celebration

McKinley, Inc. will recognize the 100th anniversary of the Clocktower Development in downtown Chelsea this fall with a grand community celebration scheduled for Sept. 29. Although still in the planning stage, the community event will celebrate the Clocktower's history as the entire seven acre site will be used to offer activities, attractions, games, entertainment, artifacts and more.

The historic Clocktower was an addition to the existing site of the former Glazier Stove Works, in 1907. The tower contained a 15,000 gallon water tank inside and has long been one of the most recognizable architectural landmarks in Michigan since its completion 100 years ago.

its kind in the United States. "This small town has grown to be a large one and a great business point. Frank P. Glazier's stove works or factory has called many here and made a busy, thriving town of it. When I am away I am proud to say I live in Chelsea and have seen it grow from such a small town to what it now is," wrote Archie Wilkinson, a Chelsea Lawyer.

McKinley, Inc. will be holding a community celebration in honor of the Clocktower's 100th anniversary on Saturday, September 29, 2007. More details to come as the event gets closer.

Homeowner's pet perishes in house fire

By Edward Freundl
Staff Writer

A fire at a home in the village of Dexter on Friday resulted in extensive fire and smoke damage, and the death of the homeowner's 8-month-old German Shepherd puppy.

Firefighters from the Dexter, Chelsea and Scio Township fire departments were called to 3445 Edison at about 3:30 p.m. Friday.

The homeowner, Chad Ritchie, was on his way home from his job as a construction worker in Bloomfield Hills when he received word of the fire.

"I bought the house from my mother three years ago," Ritchie said. "It was our family home since she moved here in 1985 or '86."

Ritchie said he lived in the two-story house by himself, and it was insured.

Firefighters pulled a soot-blackened gas stove from the house, giving investigators a possible clue to the cause.

Dexter Area Fire Department Chief Loren Yates said a preliminary investigation showed the fire may have started in the basement.

"There was a hole burned through the floor; I think it might have started below the stove," Yates said.

"There's extensive smoke damage throughout the house and fire damage to the kitchen."

Yates declined to offer a dollar estimate on the damage.

Quiz Bowl winners

Chris Millen, Matt Mills, Brad Stech, and Connor Townsend represented Beach Middle School at the Michigan Social Studies Olympiad Quiz Bowl. The competition was held on April 21, 2007 at Romulus High School. After an overnight bus trip from Washington D.C. for three of the students and no preparation, the students finished first in the state for the Intermediate Division. In a close finals match, they beat out a well-prepared team from Parcels Middle School in Grosse Pointe Woods, Michigan. This followed an exciting semi-finals contest with Webster School that was decided with tie-breaker questions. Connor Townsend also placed first in the Political Cartoon Journal Intermediate Division.

Chelsea High School Graduation Day: The Speeches

By Joseph Lawrence Daly

Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen! Now, before we get started, I have a favor to ask of you. During the next few minutes, I want you to laugh as hard as you possibly can, but I don't just ask it for my sake.

The main event tonight is 278 people walking in a line as their names get read. Sure, the graduation part is important, but let's face it, if this were being broadcast on television, you'd probably switch over to C-Span as fast as you could. What I'm trying to say is, try to enjoy the next few minutes as much as possible, because in a way, I'm like the painkillers you get before giving birth to triplets.

So really, you'd be doing yourself a disservice if you didn't applaud as wildly as possible after everything I say. Allow me to introduce myself. I'm Joe Daly.

You may recognize me as the dentist from the high school's production of Little Shop of Horrors or you may recognize me as the anchor from the Chelsea Action News, which is the only news program in the history of the world to have fewer viewers than it has crew members. So between those two activities, I pretty much have my schedule filled up signing autographs and letting people touch me.

What makes me qualified to sum up all the time we've spent together? It must have been my astounding GPA that beat out a full 30 percent of you, almost. But I do feel a bit like a stressed out high school girl myself right now. I mean, look at us. This is like the biggest event of the year and we all wore the same dress.

So, being responsible for five minutes out of all of your lives, I set out to figure out what makes a quality speech in the best way I know how: staring at a blank Microsoft Word document at night as I listen to the song "Graduation: (Friends Forever)" by Vitamin C on a continuous loop. But today is not about me. It's about us—The Seniors. Class of 2007.

Being a senior has been great. We get about an 15 extra days off and it's on these days that we wake up in the morning and say "Hah! I'd be in fifth hour right now."

On behalf of the senior class of 2007, I'd like to thank our principle Mr. Mead for caring for all of us and treating us with respect and on behalf of the senior class, I completely forgive you for not risking getting fired in a lawsuit by letting a controversial half page article appear on the middle of the school newspaper.

I'd like to thank the moms, for carrying us for 9 months each. I'd like to thank the dads, because we all know if you had a uterus, you'd have done it too.

I'd like to thank whoever it is who came up with our mascot, the bulldog. Chelsea has quite the rivalry with nearby town Dexter, and their mascot, the dreadnought, is a boat with arms and a smiley face.

Our battle cry is a growling dog and theirs is "Toot-toot." I'd like to thank Paris Hilton and Jessica Simpson, because with them around, we all look like geniuses.

I'd like to thank the high school janitorial staff, because you guys didn't make fun of me or tell anybody when I came in on that snow day.

I'd like to thank the abstinence speaker, Pam Stencil, because without her I'd never know that if I have sex, I'm going to have discharges shooting out my nether region that come in every single color of the rainbow.

What is graduation? It's not the beginning of education and it's not the end of it either. This just marks the point where we have to start paying for it. So yeah, we've finally made it. This marks the point where we become independent. I know I am. In all my schooling, this is the first speech my parents haven't proofread. And you can really tell.

Before now, our parents are those people we see everyday. It breaks my heart, but from now on, we're still going to have to call them up whenever we need money. Next year, every single one of you going to college will have a weird roommate. If you don't have a weird roommate, then you are the weird roommate. That's just statistics. From here on, we'll live in a room that's 8 foot by 9 foot by 7 foot, and we'll have to share it with someone.

If ever you're arrested, you'll be thrown in a room that's 8 foot by 9 foot by 7 foot, but sometimes you'll get it to yourself. Some colleges have co-ed dorms, but some will actually fine you for being in the wrong one. You pay $10 for a first offense, $50 for the second, and $100 for a third. What I want to know is, how much is it for a season pass?

The only fines you really get in high school are library fines. I'm sorry if I'm critical of them, but when I receive a note that says, "Please return 'The History of Colonial Farming,'" my gut reaction is to wonder who in their right mind would be waiting to check that out, especially when there are six other copies.

But graduation is a big deal. Since day one, we've dreamed of walking up in front of all these people, shaking the hand of a board member and in return, he hands us an empty box. Maybe there's a sound like an air horn blowing when your name is being read, which either means that somebody really likes you, or a Dexter Dreadnought is trying to dock itself inside the building.

The class of 2007 has had a difficult act to follow. Last year, the seniors of 2006 were getting unlimited praise like, one student is state tennis champion, this student is the smartest person in the nation.

One member of our class accidentally shot himself while trying to use his finger to clean out the barrel of his paint ball gun. I'm not going to say who it is, but now you know where 9-fingers gets his nickname.

What I'm saying is, while the class of '06 may be more likely to do great things, we're more likely to get in the news. Once in History class, I had the misfortune of witnessing someone ask the following question to the teacher in front of the entire class. "So is Canada part of the US or what?"

With all due respect to the president, this is one child that I think we may have to leave behind. In high school, there are honors English classes, and what I like to call remedial English classes.

There is no middle ground between the classes where the kids can't read and the classes where the students feel it necessary to correct you when you say "who" when you're supposed to say "whom."

Who here has taken an honors class? You were the kids who went to pre-school, weren't you? Taking pre-school is like if you're sentenced to 13 years in jail, and you decide to go for an extra year and call it "practice prison."

Here is my biggest concern. What's the deal with homework? If you can't teach me everything you need to in seven hours time, then you aren't doing it right. It's always the math class that gives the majority of the homework. It thinks it's the most important class, but last I checked, reading and writing came before "rithmetic. And since only one of the three R's actually starts with an "R," I think we may have to put more time into reading and writing.

Now the biggest reason I wanted to give the speech today is because after thinking about the meaning of graduation and where it fits in the grand scheme of our lives, I did find that I have something important to say. I don't do this kind of deep thinking often, so you're in for a real treat. As a sixth grader, I was chosen to be one of only three people to be thrown into the advanced seventh grade math program.

I accepted because I thought it would be beneficial to my educational career to have this on a resume and just to be viewed as "the smart one" in general. But I haven't exactly excelled in these classes since. Mr. Orlandi will testify. He's had me for three years. He will be receiving my letter of apology in the mail shortly.

Anyway, my grades have been so low throughout high school that I suggested for our class song to be the theme from "Are You Smarter

By Carolyn Marie Callery

Well everyone, I was shocked to find out that this class isn't sick of listening to my voice yet. It was also a big shocker when for the first time in awhile I couldn't think of anything to say. So I guess I'll start with congratulations and move on from there...

Probably like many of you, I've been thinking a lot about high school lately. Trying to, in a sense, "wrap it up," get some concluding thoughts on it. When I started thinking about that, I started to think about the world's view on high school, where it fits in the great scheme of things. I found that the media today puts a very negative spin on high school—common opinions are that it's a very damaging time in our lives. But if you look at it a little differently, you may find something else.

We chose the class motto "Life isn't about finding yourself, life is about creating yourself." I can't help but think about how much the past four years has created the key ingredients of the people that we are and will become.

Michelangelo once said: "In every block of marble I see a statue as plain as though it stood before me, shaped and perfect in attitude and action. I have only to hew away the rough walls that imprison the lovely apparition to reveal it to the other eyes as mine see it." I believe that this view on sculpting can be applied to our high school experience.

What I mean is... we've been through a lot together, not all good, but not all bad, and the way I see it, each and every one of us walked into high school this big block of marble. Nothing, untouched, clean slate. However, with every experience, good or bad, our sculptor that is high school chips off a piece of that block.

Every completed project, part in a play, game won, or song performed. From the other end-every trip on the stairs, unplanned, drooly nap in chemistry, or bombed in class essay—those are all chips that fall off our blocks of nothing and eventually reveal the beautiful sculptures that have so sorely been longing to come out—the sculptures that are our "selves."

Today, I stand up here and before me I see 278 beautiful sculptures. However, we are not yet complete. Today, as we walk out of this gym, or into our dorm rooms, or onto a new job, we will be walking into the part of our lives that puts the finishing touches on our masterpieces. And eventually, with these completed creations of ours, we will hold a treasure a lot more valuable than any diploma, degree, paycheck, or title could ever get us. To put a little spin on that famous line from Hamlet, above all, we will hold something to be true to.

Well you guys, every time I speak before you I have something to ask of you. In eighth grade I asked you to step outside your box...and most of the times after that I was usually just trying to get you to wear your pajamas or sign up for a lifesaver pass. But today, I've got something different. The first time we walked into this school was a scary one, but as we part ways today and step into a new chapter of our lives, we don't have to be so scared.

Why, you ask? That's where my new request comes in. Today, right now, I'm asking us to look around this gym and remember how each and every one of these people has in some way helped us create those selves of ours. In doing so, we can remember that our "self," our "sculpture," is the one that we can fall back on throughout our whole lives.

I'm told that the strongest trees have the strongest roots—so don't forget yours.

I'd like to close with a quote that got me through my "sculpting years" in hopes that if any of us ever do hit that rough patch,

Chelsea High School Graduation Day: Class of 2007

In their own words: The Class of 2007

"I'm going to Ferris (State University) to do as much as I can and get experience in Forensic Science. It's the only school in Michigan, I'm pretty sure. Chelsea is a really nice small town, but it will be nice to get out and see different stuff."

— JULIE ADAMS

"I'm going to Albion College to study Biology and Pre-Veterinary, then to Michigan State University. I also plan to start a bowling team, because they don't have one yet, and that's my passion."

— KRISTEN COULTER

"I'm going to Washtenaw Community College, but I'm not sure yet what I'm going to study. The art classes here were my favorite. I'm going to miss all my friends."

— JAMES LEACH

"I'm going to Kalamazoo College, and I'll probably study Business and Economics. I always did pretty well in math and science here; football and baseball were fun, too."

— BEN BRADBURN

"I'm going to Washtenaw Community College doing liberal arts, and hopefully transfer to the University of Michigan. My favorite class was photography. I'll miss seeing all my friends here."

— ALEX DOERING

"I'm not going to college, I'm going into construction work. Building trades was my favorite class here. I'm not really going to miss high school."

Than A Fifth Grader." Sometimes it's best to slow down for a moment and look ahead to where your life is heading and where your life would lead if you make different choices. And if ever you get an opportunity to take the road less traveled by, and it leads to an exciting new path, you need to take that opportunity.

Last year, when the seniors were leaving, I was really sad because, guys, let's face it, the class of '06 had some gorgeous women. But they weren't sad. They were super excited. That's like when you break up with someone and their reaction makes you wish you'd done it sooner.

They were excited because they finally made it through high school. They'd made it to the light at the end of the tunnel. Now I don't know if you know this, but in college, the work is actually harder and you'll be looking for the next light at the end of the tunnel, which is when you graduate again. But at that point, you're going to have to work at a job and that's when the family starts coming.

Then you have retirement to look forward to, but that's a long way off. I guess what I'm trying to say is, if you keep waiting for the good times to come, you aren't going to enjoy any good times at the place you're at. I've enjoyed the experiences I've lived with you guys in high school. Joe, Alex, Dolan, Chet, Jeff, Zach, Brendan, we've built a lot of great memories together.

The time on the New York trip when there were people filming a TV show on the steps of the Supreme Court building and we tried to suggest lines to them by reading the quotes written on the building.

The time we were at cross-country camp, we hid a walkie-talkie under Mr. Clarke's pillow and tried to convince him that there were voices in his head at night. The time in Washington DC when we found that naughty book in the trash minutes before our bus driver turned a corner too tightly and a traffic light crashed right through the window by our seat, and we thought it was a sign from God and we threw it away.

Those times we've had in high school were a blast, but now it's over and I'm going to go to Western Michigan University with only a few of you and start up a whole new set of experiences with the people I meet there and that will be a blast too. What I'm trying to say is, don't think of there as being a light at the end of the tunnel, because there might not be one. Instead, think of your tunnel as being well-lit.

Now normally, you'd expect your entertainment to save their best joke for last, but that's just not the way life is. If your death is a punch line, you'd do something wrong along the way. It's the adventure that should be hilarious and then when you're almost done, people should be sad to see it end.

Class of 2007, good luck and thanks for your time. I will truly miss every single one of you. I wish you all a lifetime of love and laughter.

which I'm sure we all will, we can remember what I've spoken about today. The quote is from a collection of meditations by Henri Nouwen, and it was used in the book "She Said Yes."

"Often we want to be somewhere other than where we are, or ever be someone other than who we are. We tend to compare ourselves constantly and with others and wonder why we are not as rich, as intelligent, as simple, as generous, or as saintly as they are. Such comparisons make us feel guilty, ashamed, or jealous..."

"We are unique human beings, each with a call to realize in life what others can't, and to realize it in the concrete context of the here and now.

"We will never find happiness by trying to figure out whether we are better or worse than others. We are good enough to do what we are called to do. Be yourself!"

Class of 2007, let's show the world our pretty little sculptures.

Chelsea High School Graduation Day: Senior Diary by Joy Wilke

Though I've known that it has been coming for the past 13 years, the fact that I'm graduating didn't hit me until I heard my name called, and walked across the stage. I shook the hand of a board of education member, received my diploma box, and smiled for the camera as I heard people cheering and clapping for me.

The graduation affair began last Thursday, with the mandatory graduation rehearsal that lasted, believe it or not, longer than the actual commencement ceremony. My classmates and I all awoke early enough to be at school at 8:05 – an impressive feat in itself for students who are supposed to be done with school for the summer.

We lined up in alphabetical order, practiced the Processional and Recessional, and even walking across the stage to accept our diplomas.

Last Friday was class night, where 65 percent of our class received an award or scholarship of some kind. The night dragged on as my classmates walked individually up to the stage and shook hands with presenters as they received awards. Our assistant principal Julie Deppner read off our college plans and what we had accomplished during high school as each student approached the stage. It was weird to find out things about my classmates that I hadn't known before that night.

The highlight of the night was the infamous baby picture movie, which brought serious "aw's" and laughter from the audience. We saw our classmates in pig-tails, heart-shaped sunglasses, sailor suits and covered in food.

Finally, after 13 years of school, I always expected to be excited on Graduation Day, and to an extent, I was. But as I sat in the hot gym listening to the rain pound on the roof and watching my classmates walk one by one across the platform, I realized that this was the last time I would see most of the people I've grown up with. Because Chelsea is such a small community, I know the names of each of my classmates, as well as a few things about him or her.

Waiting for my name to be called, I started thinking about growing up with the people sitting around me. I realized that things are going to change, and my life is never going to be the same.

Sure, I have a couple dozen graduation parties to go to where I'll eat ridiculous amounts of food and see my ex-classmates, and I'll probably see others around town this summer, but June 3 was the last time we would all get together.

Bulldogs win district crown

By Don Richter
Sports Editor

Chelsea baseball captured a Division II state district championship last Saturday, defeating county rival Dexter 8-5 at Jackson Northwest for the title.

Senior Dan Augustine (8-1) recorded the win from the mound, tossing the final three innings for the Bulldogs (26-9-1). The district crown is Chelsea's second straight.

The Dreadnaughts led 1-0 after one-half inning.

In the bottom of the first inning, the Bulldogs scored two runs to take a 2-1 lead. Senior Travis Amburgey's two-run RBI single was the key hit in the frame for Chelsea.

In the fourth inning, Dexter rallied, scoring two runs and regaining the lead 3-2.

Once again, the Bulldogs responded, scoring six runs in the fifth inning to break open the contest. Junior Christopher Schmelz had a RBI double, while seniors Adam Connell, Chad Nielsen and Augustine, along with junior Taylor Hopkins, each had RBI singles for Chelsea.

The Dreadnaughts loaded the bases in the seventh inning, but Augustine was able to pitch out of the jam for the district title-clinching victory.

Nielsen, who started the game for the Bulldogs on the mound, throwing the first four innings, led Chelsea at the plate with two hits.

Dexter reached the district final by defeating the host Mounties 11-0 in a first round mercy rule win.

The Bulldogs faced a much tougher match-up in their first round game, facing Division II No. 5-ranked Jackson Lumen Christi (30-5). The Titans are led by one of the best players in the state in University of Michigan recruit senior Ryan LaMarre. A pitcher-outfielder, LaMarre has posted gaudy numbers this season, with a .500 batting average, 17 home runs and 62 RBIs. As a pitcher, he entered the game with a 7-1 record.

"He's definitely one of the top two players in the state," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

LaMarre took the mound to face the Bulldogs.

Chelsea players gather together to raise the Division II state district title they won last Saturday. The Bulldogs defeated Dexter 8-5 to win the championship.

Despite a two-hour rain delay, Chelsea defeated Lumen Christi 4-0 last Saturday.

Out-dueling LaMarre and earning the victory from the hill for the Bulldogs was senior Dan Rhodes, who scattered four hits, struck out six and walked none.

"Dan was on top of his game," Welton said. "Dan has pitched great for us this last month or so. In 60 innings, he has only nine walks. He deserved to pitch."

Chelsea scored all four runs in the fourth inning against LaMarre.

With the bases loaded, Nielsen stroked a two-run RBI single, while Amburgey followed with a triple to left-center field driving in two more runs for the game's final margin.

The Bulldogs next host the Division II regional Saturday. To open the tournament, Monroe Jefferson takes on Tecumseh at 10 a.m. Following that game will be Chelsea against Melvindale at 12:30 p.m.

The regional championship will be 3 p.m. Saturday.

On May 30, the Bulldogs

Chelsea battles Dexter in final

Chelsea's girls' soccer team lost to county rival Dexter 2-1 in a Division II state district final last Saturday at Jackson Northwest.

With the loss, the No. 6-state ranked Bulldogs ended their season with an overall record of 15-3-2. The 15 wins tied a school record.

Because of inclement weather and multiple delays, the district title game took five hours to complete.

The long delays didn't make losing any easier for Chelsea.

"Losing is always tough and it's worse when it's your next door neighbor in a district final," said Chelsea coach Chris Orlandi. "I know our kids felt proud to have been involved in the effort, though. We did what we wanted to do in the end. We may have lost, but we didn't quit and we played our best soccer at the end."

"It was inspiring to watch." The No. 3-ranked Dreadnaughts (16-2-3) opened the scoring as Katie Marsh hit the back of the net eight minutes into the game for a 1-0 Dexter lead.

Four minutes later, Erica LeBlanc scored increasing the Dreadnaughts' advantage to 2-0.

"Our game against Chelsea was a classic," said Dexter coach Scott Forrester. "Our play prior to the weather delay was the best I have seen a Dexter team play."

Orlandi said the Bulldogs' slow start was the difference in the contest.

"We've struggled to play well early in games this year and it cost us today," he said. "I think our defensive line may have been a little too aggressive and we got burned. Dexter was incredible early and we were hanging on for dear life."

With 14 minutes left in the first half, the game was halted because of lightning. Orlandi said the break was good for his club.

"We needed the timeout," he said. "We talked it out and made a few adjustments. I told the girls, and especially the seniors, that we didn't want to go down like this. If we were going to go down,

Chelsea netters place sixth at state match

Chelsea senior George Merkel (left) and junior Chris LaDuke advanced to the second round of last weekend's final in Jenison, before losing to the eventual state champions 6-2, 6-2 at No. 2 doubles. As a team, the Bulldogs finished sixth in the state.

Chelsea's boys' tennis team finished sixth at the Division III state match last weekend at Jenison High School near Grand Rapids.

The Bulldogs ended up with 14 points, missing the placing in the state's top five by seven points.

The finish is the highest by a Chelsea boys' tennis team in recent memory.

"Every one of our players won their first match," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter. "It was a very good day for Chelsea tennis and equally good for the nine seniors that ended their careers."

In their four-year high school career, the Bulldog seniors earned three Southeastern Conference

White Division titles, a regional championship and a school-best sixth at the state final.

Winning the Division III state crown was East Grand Rapids with 31 points.

Rounding out the top five were Birmingham Detroit Country Day and St. Joseph each with 27 points, Bloomfield Hills Andover with 22 points and Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook-Kingswood with 21 points.

In singles play, Chelsea junior Josh Stiles advanced to the state semifinals before losing in the No. 1 flight. Stiles drew a first round bye, before blanking Aldo Silva of Ludington 6-0, 6-0 in the second round. In the state quarterfinals, Stiles defeated Nate VanderVeen of Allegan 6-2, 6-1. In the semifinals, Stiles lost to eventual state champion and No. 1 seed Greg Andrews of Richland Gull Lake 6-1, 6-2.

"Josh had his usual strong day," Rosentreter said.

At No. 2 singles, senior Reece Hammer received a first round bye. In the second round, he defeated Kyle McKey of Stevensville-Lakeshore 6-1, 6-1. In the state quarterfinals, Hammer lost to eventual state runner-up Brian Cutler of East Grand Rapids 6-0, 6-1.

"Reece had his finest moment in defeating (Kyle McKey) Stevensville-Lakeshore," Rosentreter said. "It was the best we've seen Reece play."

At No. 3 singles, senior Chris Tapping defeated

Track and field

Dawgs ninth at state meet

By Don Richter
Sports Editor

Chelsea's boys' track and field team finished tied for ninth at last Saturday's Division II state meet in Zeeland. The placing is the Bulldogs' second straight top 10 state finish. Last year, Chelsea also placed ninth in the state.

This season, the Bulldogs ended up with 21.50 points, tying Battle Creek Lakeview.

Winning the Division II state title was Dexter with 48 points.

Rounding out the top five were East Lansing with 35 points, followed by Grand Rapids Forest Hills Northern with 32 points, Detroit Renaissance with 28 points and Ferndale with 25 points.

"It was another great finish for the men's track team," said Chelsea coach Eric Swager. "We qualified in six different events and made All-State in five of them. We finished much higher than our seeds in every single event, which indicates how well these guys competed on this day."

In a twist of irony, Chelsea finished as Southeastern Conference White Division champions this season, ahead of Dexter.

"I did mention to him (Dexter coach Chris Hanlon) that we also feel good that we were able to beat the state champions four times this year, and finish ahead of them in the league," Swager said. "The additional fact that (Ann Arbor) Pioneer won the Division I state meet shows how good the Southeastern Conference truly is."

Pioneer captured the SEC Red Division title this year.

Leading the Bulldogs last Saturday was Evan Carpenter. The junior finished second in the state in the 110-meter hurdles, with a time of 14.32. He also placed third in the 300-meter hurdles in 39.39. Both times set Chelsea school records.

Beating Carpenter in both events was senior Josh Hembrough of Grand Rapids Forest Hills Northern. One of the top prep hurdlers in the nation, Hembrough will run track at Purdue University next year.

"Evan Carpenter was incredible," Swager said. "In the finals, only Josh Hembrough was better."

Swager said Carpenter's performance in the 300-meter hurdles was impressive.

"He blasted out of the starting blocks like a rocket," he said. "But, unlike a rocket, he did not burn up and land in the ocean. Instead, he attacked the final three hurdles and moved up into the top three within the final strides."

Senior Brendan Smith ended his prep career on a high note at the state meet, finishing fifth in the 1,600-meter run in 4:20.09 and eighth in the 800-meter run with a clocking of 1:57.35. Both times were personal bests for Smith.

Swager said Smith's race in the 1,600-meter run was a thing of beauty.

"We had talked about how the race always tends to separate at the 800 (meter) mark and how the third lap is where champions are made," he said. "He was aggressive, breaking away with the lead group right at that point. His finishing kick moved him up into the top five."

Smith's 1,600-meter time is third-fastest in school history.

Clark records hole-in-one

Chelsea native Ron Clark recorded a hole-in-one last week at Waterloo Golf Course.

Clark hit his perfect shot on the 120-yard, Hole No. 17 using a wedge.

Overall, he shot a 43 for the round.

Witnessing the hole-in-one was George Clark.

Chelsea junior Evan Carpenter finished second in the 110-meter hurdles, third in the 300-meter hurdles and helped the Bulldogs place 10th in the 1,600-meter relay at last Saturday's state meet in Zeeland. As a team, Chelsea placed ninth.

Bulldog senior Brendan Smith ended up fifth in the 1,600-meter run, eighth in the 800-meter run and was a member of Chelsea's 10th-place finishing 1,600-meter relay at last Saturday's final.

Chelsea's final placing was in the 400-meter relay. The Bulldog foursome of Danny Ngo, Nick Hill, Jason Ratliff and Antwan McClendon tied for sixth with Milan in 43.75. The time is the second-fastest in school history.

"It was a really great day for Chelsea track," Swager said. "All of the coaching staff should be proud of the preparation and focus we have instilled in these young men."

The Bulldog group of McClendon, Smith, Ratliff and Carpenter didn't earn a medal, but placed 10th in the 1,600-meter relay in 3:27.0.

On May 29, Chelsea competed in the Honor Roll Meet of Champions in Ann Arbor.

Carpenter finished second in the 110-meter hurdles in 14.6. He also was second in the 300-meter hurdles in 40.1.

Smith was fourth in the 800-meter run in 1:58.1.

The group of Ngo, Ratliff, McClendon and Carpenter placed fourth in the 800-meter relay in 1:31.5.

Ngo, Hill, McClendon and Ratliff finished sixth in the 400-meter relay with a time of 44.2.

Tyler Ball participated in the shot put throwing 43-feet, seven inches.

Teddy Eyster crossed the line in 10:58, while Nick Hewitt stopped the clock in 11:24 in the 3,200-meter run for the Bulldogs.

LOVING HOMES NEEDED

BLADE: 1-year-old shepherd/hound mix. Blade is a handsome, friendly, boy with a calm hound dog disposition. He weighs 64 pounds. Sadly, his former owners just did not have the time to work with him, so now he is with us waiting for a family that will devote some time to this sweet dog. He is already housetrained and knows a few commands.

DRAKE: 2 1/2-year-old black cat. We are putting out a cool cat alert for this sweet dude! Drake is a friendly cat that loves to cuddle and loves attention. He is litter box trained, good with other cats, and already neutered. He was brought to the shelter because his previous owner moved. He is here looking for his forever home! Please come and meet this awesome guy!!

JUNE: 5-year-old gray tabby cat. June is national adopt-a-cat month and June here is hoping that you will adopt her. Someone in her house became allergic to her so she had to come here. This 5-year-old girl is good with dogs and other cats. June can be a little tentative until she gets used to her surroundings and then she shines! She is patiently waiting for someone to notice her and take her home.

IF YOU'RE INTERESTED IN ADOPTING A PET, PLEASE CONTACT THE SHELTER AT 662-5585 OR COME VISIT US AT 3100 CHERRY HILL, ANN ARBOR.

Chelsea bows out of state district playoffs

By Don Richter
Sports Editor

Chelsea softball bowed out of the Division II state playoffs, losing a first round district match-up to Jackson Lumen Christi 4-3 last Saturday at Jackson Northwest.

"We played a great game against Lumen Christi," said Chelsea assistant coach Jennie Diesing. "We fought hard against some tough calls during the game, but we didn't let ourselves get down. I am so proud of my girls and all of their hard work and determination this season. We deserve to hold our heads high."

Despite pitching well, Karah Schanz absorbed the loss from the circle for the Bulldogs (23-13, 9-4 Southeastern Conference), allowing nine hits, striking out four and walking four.

"Karah dominated for us on the mound and held strong against a good Lumen Christi hitting squad," Diesing said. "She and Brogan Darwin have been a great pitching and catching duo for us this year and have worked well together. They both have really matured greatly this year and I am extremely proud of their accomplishments this season from the circle and behind the plate."

Offensively, Shelby Platt finished 2-for-3 with one RBI, while Lizzy Bentley was 1-for-3 with a triple and one RBI.

"As a freshman, Shelby Platt has stood out as a great asset for our team and the future of the program," Diesing said. "And Lizzy has really come alive for us this season with her new position at first (base). I am so happy for her."

Rachel Voicechovski

ended up 2-for-4 for Chelsea. The Bulldogs played well despite falling to the Titans. For the game, Chelsea had seven hits and only one error defensively.

On May 25, the Bulldogs hosted their own quad, finishing 1-1 on the day.

In its opener, Chelsea defeated Ypsilanti 10-1.

Schanz chalked up the victory allowing one hit, fanning two and walking one in two innings of work. Kelly Whitley threw five innings, yielding four hits and striking out four.

At the plate, Annie Hollandsworth finished 2-for-5 with two doubles and one RBI, while Casey Keilman was 2-for-4 with a double and two RBIs and Darwin 1-for-3 with a double and one RBI.

Katie Lynn ended up 1-for-1 with a double and one RBI, while Dana Feldkamp was 1-for-4 with one RBI for the Bulldogs. Platt added a double.

For the game, Chelsea belted out nine hits. Defensively, the Bulldogs committed no errors.

In its second contest, Chelsea lost to Eaton Rapids 5-4 in nine innings.

Schanz suffered the loss allowing 12 hits, striking out four and walking two.

Offensively, Hannah Guenther finished 1-for-3 with a three-run home run, while Darwin was 2-for-5 with one RBI and Lynn 2-for-3. Bentley had a double, while Voicechovski was 2-for-4 for the Bulldogs.

For the game, Chelsea had 10 hits and two errors.

let's go down playing with energy and intensity. Let's play our best soccer.

"We did that for the remainder of the game."

After a two-hour delay, play resumed. The Bulldogs, after the break, came out with a vengeance taking the play to the Dreadnaughts.

Despite the step up in energy and determination, Dexter was able to hold off Chelsea entering halftime still leading 2-0.

"We had some good opportunities," Orlandi said. "We really wanted to cut the lead down to one before halftime, but Dexter's defense held tough."

In the second half, the Bulldogs continued their strong play. However, with 35 minutes remaining, the game's second delay occurred.

Orlandi tried to remain positive during the second delay and motivate his squad.

"I kept trying to energize the girls and get them to believe that if anyone could score twice on Dexter in 35 minutes, we could," he said.

When play restarted, it appeared Orlandi's words would come true.

Shortly after, play resumed, Eastern Michigan University signee senior Kaitlin Ehman scored off an assist from senior Sarah Reinhardt cutting the Dreadnaught lead to 2-1.

"Getting that goal gave us all the energy we needed to get through the end of a sweltering day," Orlandi said. "We kept the pressure right down to the end."

The pressure kept building until the game's last minute. With time winding down, Chelsea was awarded a free kick near Dexter's goal. The kick landed in front of the Dreadnaught goal, but with legs, arms and bodies crashing into each other, somehow Dexter was able to clear the ball and salt away the hard-earned victory.

On May 31, the Bulldogs defeated Jackson Northwest 8-0 in a district semifinal at Dexter.

"The girls wanted the rematch with Dexter really badly," Orlandi said. "We came out firing on all cylinders."

The shutout was Chelsea's 11th of the year, tying a school record.

The Bulldogs led 7-0 after the first half.

Leading Chelsea offensively was Reinhardt with three goals for a hat trick.

Also scoring for the Bulldogs was Brooke Ehman, Emily Rabbitt, Codie Barron and Melissa Perry.

Picking up, assists for Chelsea were Leah Morrison, with two and Ashley Bell, Amanda McKenzie, Mackenzie Lake, Ellen Stewart and Colleen Cottrell.

Eastern Michigan recruit keeper Maggie Manville and junior Jenna Jarvis combined for the shutout in net for the Bulldogs.

On May 29, Chelsea defeated host Tecumseh 7-0 in a first round district contest.

The Bulldogs led 2-0 at the break. Scoring for Chelsea was Cara Johnson and Rabbitt. Recording assists for the Bulldogs were Tiffany Goetz and Stewart.

"We were extremely sloppy in the first-half," Orlandi said. "In fact, I told the team it was our worst performance of the year. Our ball control and defense were awful. We stunk it up."

"The second half was completely different."

Scoring in the second half for Chelsea were Alexa Petoskey, Reinhardt, with two goals, Morrison and Rabbitt.

Picking up assists for the Bulldogs were Johnson and Morrison each with two.

"Our movement was good, our passing was sharp and we did a great job of attacking the goal," Orlandi said of Chelsea's second half performance.

Combining for the win in net for the Bulldogs were Manville and Jarvis.

Chelsea out-shot the Indians 12-3 for the game.

Paulun leads team to NAIA final game

Former local standout Andy Paulun helped lead Spring Arbor University to the NAIA baseball national championship game last week in Lewiston, Idaho.

Though falling to defending champion Lewis-Clark State University in the final 9-2, Paulun pitched well, tossing two shutout innings to close out the contest.

In the 10-team double-elimination national tournament, Spring Arbor defeated Walsh University 8-5, Bellevue University 7-5 and Lindenwood University 14-6.

Paulun pitched and won the Lindewood contest.

Spring Arbor lost to Lewis-Clark 7-0 early in the tournament, before falling in the final to the country's No. 1 NAIA club.

Despite not winning the national title, Spring Arbor had a tremendous season, finishing 48-5. The 48 wins set a school record. At one point this year, Spring Arbor had a 36-game winning streak.

In high school, Paulun was a first-team All-Southeastern pick.

Soccer squads play in Canton tournament

Five teams from the Dexter Soccer Club competed in the 25th annual Canton Cup last week.

The Dexter Volcanoes U-11 boys' squad finished second in the Group B of the Green Division, while the Dexter Falcons U-11 boys' team placed second in Group A of the Yellow Division.

The Dexter Heat U-13 boys' team finished second in Group A of the Green Division, while the Dexter United U-14 boys' squad ended up fourth in Group B of the Green Division.

The Dexter Comets U-11 girls' team placed fourth in the Red Division.

Five-hundred teams participated in the Canton Cup.

Track and field

DeTroyer 10th at meet

By Don Richter
Sports Editor

Chelsea's girls' track and field team participated in last Saturday's Division II state meet in Zeeland.

Though not scoring, the Bulldogs performed well and gave a strong effort.

Winning the Division II state championship was Detroit Renaissance with 76 points.

Placing second in the state was Grand Rapids Forest Hills Northern with 45 points, followed by Sparta with 37 points, Grand Rapids South Christian with 32 points and Farmington Hills Harrison with 30 points to round out the top five.

Locally Dexter tied for 19th with 10 points.

Chelsea's top finisher on the day was freshman Olivia DeTroyer who placed 10th in the 400-meter run with a time of 59.1.

Senior Kelly Anderson competed in the discus, finishing with a toss of 97-feet, six inches.

Junior Jillian Fischer participated in the shot put, ending up with a throw of 33-7.

Two-sport standout senior Amanda McKenzie qualified for the state meet in the 1,600-meter run, but decided to play in the Bulldogs' district soccer championship game against Dexter, instead.

"All the girls that participated represented Chelsea well," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke. "Olivia DeTroyer ran her second-fastest time of the

"Jillian Fischer continued to show great promise for next year with her state meet appearance."

Clarke said this year's state meet was filled with talent.

split a doubleheader with visiting Brighton losing 11-0 and winning 11-3.

In the opener, Brighton belted out 14 hits in its mercy-rule victory.

In Game 2, Andy Korc picked up the win for Chelsea from the mound.

The Bulldogs recorded 16 hits.

Augustine finished 4-for-4 with a grand slam home run and four RBIs, while Connell had a solo home run for Chelsea.

Connecting for two hits for Chelsea were Randy Cox, Hopkins, Amburgey, Nielsen and Schmelz.

On May 28, the Bulldogs participated in the St. Joseph Tournament. Because of inclement weather, the tourney was moved to Bridgman.

In its first game, Chelsea defeated Niles 6-2.

Rhodes earned the win allowing four hits, striking out five and walking none.

Augustine had a two-run RBI double, while Nielsen and Schmelz each had RBI singles for the Bulldogs.

"We played well and Dan pitched well," Welton said.

In its second game, Chelsea lost to St. Joseph 5-2 in nine innings.

"We agreed before the game to play nine innings," Welton said. "With the poor weather we weren't able to get in as many games as we had hoped."

A three-run fifth inning by the Bears was the key to their victory.

Augustine pitched six innings for the Bulldogs.

Bulldog senior Travis Amburgey slides head first into third base after hitting a two-run triple against Jackson Lumen Christi last Saturday.

Todd Elliott, Nielsen and Korc each tossed one inning. Chelsea pitchers gave up a combined seven hits, struck out 11 and walked five.

Offensively, Ben Bradburn had a RBI single, while Augustine had a sacrifice fly and Donny Riedel a double for the Bulldogs.

Hardcastle 13th at final

By Don Richter
Sports Editor

Chelsea senior Emily Hardcastle finished 13th overall at last weekend's Division II state match at Michigan State University's Forest Akers East Golf Course.

Hardcastle ended up with a two-day score of 161 (87-74).

Winning the individual state title was DeWitt sophomore Liz Nagel with a tally of 144 (72-72).

Rounding out the top five individually were Dexter senior Katelin Davis with a 147 (75-72), followed by Lapeer West senior Jacquee Benscoter with a 150 (79-71), Okemos senior Amy Ruthenberg with a 153 (78-77), Birmingham Seaholm senior Louisa Shu with a 153 (79-74) and Grand Rapids Forest Hills Central senior Allie Tyler with a 153 (78-75).

Capturing the Division II state championship was Dexter with a score of 662 (332-330). The title was the Dreadnaughts' third in the last four years.

Livonia Ladywood was state runner-up with a 672 (343-329). Placing third was Caledonia with a 674 (341-333), followed by defending state champion Birmingham Seaholm with a 691 (354-337) and Flushing with a 693 (355-338).

"Her first day was a tough day," said Chelsea coach Andrea Bareis of Hardcastle's 87. "That was her highest 18-hole round of the season. Putts were lipping out of the hole, she found a few unfortunate sand traps and she just wasn't getting her chip shots close enough to the hole to one-putt when needed."

Showing a never-give-up attitude, Hardcastle came back strong on the tournament's second and final day.

"She had the fifth-best score of the day," Bareis said. "Her two over par 74 is a career best. Her round was incredible to watch. After a disappointing first day, it was so much fun to watch Emily play so well, so comfortably and so full of confidence."

Hardcastle's second day included two birdies, 12 pars and four bogeys. Her even par 36 on the back nine tied the school record for low nine-hole round.

Smart financial moves for college grads

It's that time of year when students from across the country graduate from college. If you're one of them, you'll be anticipating a new chapter in your life. And that means you'll have to do your homework on a very important topic: your financial situation. It's one subject in which you'll definitely want to earn a passing grade.

Of course, if you're like many recent graduates, the financial issue that might weigh heaviest on your mind is your student loans. To help pay for college, about two out of three students take out loans, with the average debt amounting to more than $19,000, according to figures from the U.S. Department of Education.

Whatever the amount you have borrowed, you will need to make arrangements to pay for it. If your loans aren't too large, your monthly payments may not be overly burdensome, but, in any case, it's a very good idea to stay current on your payment schedule - falling behind can lead to big problems down the line.

Apart from paying back your loan, though, you'll have other financial considerations upon graduating college. Unless you're going to graduate school, you might be starting at a full-time job, which means you'll have to quickly learn some money-management skills - and one of the most important of these skills is budgeting. At this stage of your life, you may not have a lot of disposable income - especially after paying for rent, which will probably take up a sizable portion of your paycheck - so you'll want to track your expenses carefully and be as thrifty as possible.

Still, while you're thinking about today, you'll want to plan for tomorrow. If you want to save for a car, or perhaps later down the line, a house, you'll want to get in the habit of investing something on a regular basis. Even if you can just put away $50 or $75 per month at first, you may see some accumulation after several months. And just as importantly, you'll get in the "savings habit," which, if continued throughout your working life, can pay off for you in many ways. Dollar cost averaging does not guarantee a profit, nor does it protect against a loss in a declining market. You should always consider your financial ability to continue investing through periods of low-price levels.

If you don't know how you should invest your money, consult with a financial advisor - and don't be deterred from seeking out professional help because you're "only" a "small" investor. Many highly qualified financial advisors will be more than willing to meet with you and help you out - you just have to find someone who's right for you.

Smarty Pants Back Pocket opens in Dexter

By Sean Dalton
Staff Writer

Ssmarty Pants, a store that sells new and used children's and maternity clothing, baby equipment, and handcrafted jewelry, opened its back pocket this weekend.

Companion art store Smarty Pants Back Pocket held its grand opening celebration last month.

After opening Smarty Pants in December, owner Shannon Lewis, 35, helped her father, John Porter, 59, with the new store, which is situated in an adjacent part of the same building at 8007 Main St.

When the store space became available, Porter decided to take a chance and open up shop.

Taking chances is nothing new to the Ford Motor Co. retiree, who took a buyout package last January.

"I'm using money that I already had for the business," he said. "I took a $35,000 buyout and kept my benefits. Other guys took $140,000, but gave up their benefits."

Even before retiring, arts and crafts have been a family thing, according to Porter.

"My daughter and I paint murals together in people's houses and customize children's furniture," he said.

He added that they are involved in selling art supplies and art kits, and will provide those to children from his store, in addition to craftwork that he does himself.

"I can also carve something into a stool or rocking chair for $40 to $60," he said. "I've been doing that for 13 years now. For Christmas I make kids tools, chairs and other things like that, and give them as presents. Now I can sell them."

weekend opening were commissions for murals, which his business does for $300, whereas others would charge $500 to $800, Porter said.

His wife, Sue, who does quilting and furniture upholstery, also picked up some business.

"I think people are going to be more interested in the service end of us than the products," he said. "I have a lot of people coming in from my daughter's store."

Porter's in no hurry to rush things, so the pace at which his business picks up isn't a make-or-break situation for him.

"I'm not in a position where I have to make a certain amount of money to make this work," Porter said.

"I'm not in any financial bind. I just like having my own workshop in the back to do things out of it. I'm having fun."

Faulty reasons for baptizing infants

The Bible teaches all of us to "get understanding" (Prov. 4:5). On the issue of baptism, we certainly need some understanding. Baptism is connected to our salvation (1 Pet. 3:21). That is why a serious study of God's word on this topic is so important.

The number one argument used by those who would advocate infant baptism is the comparison of baptism and circumcision. These two are figuratively compared in Colossians 2:11-12. Some say baby boys were circumcised at eight days old under the Old Testament (Genesis 17:11), therefore, we ought to baptize babies today. But if this is true, should we not also teach that babies must be baptized on the eighth day of their life? Wouldn't it also follow that we should only baptize baby boys? Furthermore, circumcision was only commanded of the Jews. But today, every person from every nation is commanded to be baptized. The comparison is taken too far when we try to fit infant baptism into the picture.

Another argument is based on "The Great Commission" (Matthew 28:18-20; Mark 16:15-16). Here Jesus commanded His disciples to baptize individuals from "all nations." Although He did not put an age limit on who could be baptized, He did direct the disciples to teach and preach the word to them, then to baptize them. How many infants are taught before they're baptized? Attempting to use this

MINISTERIAL Message

By Chris Dawson
Church of Christ in Chelsea

the people heard and believed the word, "They were baptized both men and women" (Acts 8:12). This would have been an excellent time to mention babies being baptized, but the Bible never gives us that example.

It has also been mentioned that on a few occasions the Bible speaks of whole households being baptized. One preacher says that it is possible little children were included. First of all, this is pure assumption; it is also possible that there were no little children in the household. Do you know of any households without infants? Assumptions like these are made only when there is no way to truly support one's view. Secondly, the entire household of Cornelius and of the Phillippian jailor, which were baptized, consisted completely of individuals who heard the word, believed, and feared God (see Acts 16:32-34; Acts 16:30). Could this possibly include infants? People try to see infant baptism implied in these passages, but it isn't there.

The doctrine of infant baptism actually implies that a baby is born guilty of sin and bound for hell. That's the reason they're baptized. It also implies that a person can be justified from sin by someone forcing him to be baptized. Why not take teenagers and grown men and women by force and baptize them too? Friends, each individual has been given the responsibility to choose for themselves to serve the Lord (Joshua 24:15). We do not and cannot inherit the guilt nor the righteousness of our parents (Ezekiel 18:20).

We have the freedom to base our decisions on chance, possibilities, probabilities and assumptions, but God would have us to "come unto the knowledge of the truth" (1 Tim. 2:4). He will grant salvation "to all who obey Him" (Heb. 5:9). We hope that you will search the Scriptures and make your salvation sure (Acts 17:11; 2nd Peter 1:10). If we can help in any way please let us know.

Obituaries

Ruth E. Horning

Chelsea

After a three-year battle with cancer, Ruth Horning passed away peacefully with family at her side while at the Arbor Hospice Residence on Monday, June 4, 2007. She was 63.

She was born Nov. 12, 1943 in Stockbridge, the daughter of John and Sylvia (Thompson) Prentice. Mrs. Horning had lived in the Chelsea area her entire life and spent her childhood life on the family farm just outside of Chelsea. She graduated in the top percent of her class from Chelsea High School in 1961. Just as she led her life, she actively pursued many extra-curricular activities serving in many student government positions, and as an active member of the National Honor Society. Ruth found a passion for music and received a scholarship to Interlochen for playing the flute. She also enjoyed playing piano and passed on that love to her daughter Kim. Mrs. Horning enjoyed bowling with her friends and was quite proud of the fact she once rolled a 265. She attended Eastern Michigan University, where she achieved her teaching degree in three years. She taught 5th grade for one year in Garden City. Although her passion for teaching was strong, she decided to stay at home and teach her children what the true values in life were. She did that with a true sense of accomplishment by graduating five wonderful children. She loved scrap booking, and made books for each of her children and grandchildren. She also enjoyed writing poems and making greeting cards for all occasions. She enjoyed her family dearly, and along with her husband Neil, never missed her kids' ballgames and activities. She found peace and solitude working in the yard and landscaping activities with her husband Neil. She also enjoyed traveling with Neil as they took in the various sights on cruises they attended. She was an active member of Zion Lutheran Church and put God at the top of her priorities with an unshakeable faith. She was a member of the Chelsea Homemakers. Her gift was in taking care of others. She loved her grandchildren, and spent many days teaching them the truly important things in life. Her gift of compassion for others led her to her most recent job where she served the last 15 years as a home hospice provider caring for many terminally ill patients. She truly made a difference in many lives.

On Oct. 31, 1964 she married Donald R. Forner, and they had two children, Kimberly Ann (Rick) Eder, of Chelsea, and Matthew J. (Lisa) Forner of Indiana. On Nov. 22, 1980 Donald lost his battle with cancer, and passed away. On Aug. 14, 1981 at Zion Lutheran Church in Chelsea, she married Neil E. Horning, who has three children: Kimberly Sue (Alan) Roskowski, of Gregory, Paul R. (Amy Neitling) Horning of Dundee, MI, and Randall (Amy) Horning of High Point, N.C. She loved all of her children dearly, and was committed to making a blended family work. In addition to her husband, Neil, and their five children, she is also survived by one sister-in-law, Janet Prentice of Chelsea, and brother-in-law Earl (Diane) Horning of Manchester, former brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law: Marie Taulbee of Pontiac, Jerome (Mollie) Forner of Springboro, Ohio, Janet (Luké) Salyer of Nevada, Susan Forner of Chicago, and Thomas (Martha) Forner of Chelsea; also eight grandchildren: James Horning, Logan and Tanner Horning, Corynne and Benjamin Eder, Kali Roskowski, and Zachary and Drew Forner. In addition to her first husband, she was preceded in death by her parents, her brother Paul Prentice, and former sister-in-law Kay Forner.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday, June 7, 2007 at 11 a.m. at Zion Lutheran Church with Pastor Doris Sparks officiating. Burial will follow at Zion Lutheran Church Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to Zion Lutheran Church or Arbor Hospice.

MONEY

investing help, in a way, from your employer. If you've landed a job with a company that offers a retirement plan, such as a 401(k), take advantage of it. While retirement may be quite far from your mind at the moment, an employer-sponsored retirement plan offers the chance to invest on a tax-deferred basis, which means your money will grow faster than it would if you invested it on an account in which you paid taxes every year. So, put away what you can afford - at least enough to earn your employer's matching contribution, if one is offered - and increase your contributions as your salary rises over time.

By following these suggestions, you can start your life in the working world with a solid grasp on your finances

- and that's a grip you won't want to relinquish.

Benefits to assist CHS grad Radka

Two upcoming benefit events - a taco dinner on June 28 and a golf outing on July 21 - are scheduled to assist Chelsea native Mike Radka who has been hospitalized since being diagnosed with leukemia last month.

A 2001 graduate of Chelsea High School, Radka, 24, had started a hurricane-protection business in Florida, but was home for Mother's Day when he fell ill.

"We've scheduled two events to make sure we have something affordable and fun for almost everyone," said Mary Deis, one of the events organizers. "We're hoping people will mark their calendars for these events."

The Taco Dinner will be from 5 to 8 p.m. on Thursday, June 28 at the Chelsea Fairground. Cost is $10 per dinner ticket, with food donated by Thompson's Pizza and Williams Gray Custom Homes. The event includes homemade dessert buffet and coffee bar sponsored by Bear Claw Coffee, both included with dinner, plus a silent auction with items donated by local merchants.

For more information, call Lynda Collins at 1-734-475-7605 or Mary Deis at 1-734-475-3005.

The golf outing will be on Saturday, July 21 at the Pierce Lake Golf Course, 1175 S. Main, Chelsea.

The cost is $500 per team for the four-person scramble. Registration in advance or at the gate at 8 a.m. Shot gun starts at 9 a.m. Event also features skins game, lunch and beverages, plus a silent auction.

For advance registration or more information, call Cory Picklesimer at 1-734-883-8220 or Al Radka at 1-734-475-8301.

All proceeds from both events go to a trust. Tax-deductible donations may be made by check payable to Mike Radka Special Needs Trust, in person at the events, or mailed to Kathy Brigham, 1200 Liebeck Rd., Chelsea, MI 48118.

(e) BOARD OF TRUSTEES OR LASA BOARD - Means the governing body of the Authority.

(f) BUILDING DRAIN - Means the part of the lowest horizontal piping of a drainage system which receives the discharge from soil, waste and other drainage pipes inside the walls of the building and conveys it to the building sewer (house sewer) beginning five (5) feet outside the inner face of the building wall.

(g) BUILDING SEWER OR HOUSE SEWER OR HOUSE CONNECTION - Means the extension of the building drain to the public sewer or other place of disposal.

(h) BUSINESS MANAGER - Means an employee of the Authority who is responsible for the day-to-day business operations.

(i) CAPITAL CHARGE - Means a charge for maintaining, improving and updating the water supply system or sewage disposal system which is based upon criteria established from time-to-time by the LASA Board.

(j) CONNECTION - Means a water or sewer line or re-establishment of any line to be connected to the water supply system or sewage disposal system.

(k) CONNECTION CHARGE - Means a charge for connecting to LASA's water supply system or sewage disposal system which is based upon the actual labor, equipment time, materials and other expenses incurred by LASA, plus any percentage of these documented costs, established by resolution of the LASA Board.

(l) CONSTITUENT MUNICIPALITY OR CONSTITUENT MUNICIPALITIES - Means Webster Township and Scio Township, both situated in the County of Washtenaw, Michigan, being the signors to the articles of incorporation which established this Authority pursuant to Act 233 of 1955, as amended.

(m) DELINQUENT ACCOUNT - Means an account that is not paid in full thirty (30) days after the date of mailing of each quarterly period bill.

(n) FISCAL YEAR - The fiscal year of the Authority shall commence on the first day of July in each year and the end of June of the following year.

(o) GARBAGE - Means refuse consisting of solid wastes from the preparation, cooking, and dispensing of food, also from the handling, storage and sale of produce.

(p) INDUSTRIAL WASTE - Means the liquid wastes from industrial processes as distinguished from sanitary sewage.

(q) LOCH ALPINE SANITARY AUTHORITY OF WEBSTER AND SCIO TOWNSHIPS ("LASA") - Means the Authority established by the constituent municipalities pursuant to Act 233 of 1955, as amended.

(r) LASA CONSTRUCTION STANDARDS - Means the standards adopted by Scio Township Utility Department.

(s) LASA SERVICE DISTRICT - Means the area the authorized for service by the LASA Board.

(t) MAY - Means permissive.

(u) NATURAL OUTLET - Means any outlet into a watercourse, pond, ditch, lake or other body of surface or ground water.

(v) OTHER CHARGES AND/OR FEES - Means any charges for connection to, or use of, LASA's water supply system or sewer disposal system, which result from sources other than capital or connection charges. These include, but are not limited to, contracts, system expansion/extension charges, special assessments, and/or any other types of charges as specified by resolution of the LASA Board.

(w) PERSON - Means an individual, firm, company, limited liability company, association, society, corporation or group.

(x) PLANT OPERATOR - Means an employee of the Authority who is responsible for the day-to-day mechanical operations.

(y) PROPERLY SHREDDED GARBAGE - Means garbage that has been ground or shredded to such a degree that all particles will be carried freely under flow conditions normally prevailing in public sewers, with no particle greater than one-half inch (1/2") in any dimension.

(z) RATES - Means the charges, fees, rentals, and rates that may be fixed and imposed for the services, facilities, and commodities furnished by the water supply system and sewage disposal system.

(aa) REVENUES - Means the income derived from the rates charged for the services, facilities, and commodities furnished by the water supply system and sewage disposal system. Revenues include earnings on investment of funds of the water supply system and sewage disposal system and other revenues derived from or pledged to operation of the water supply system and sewage disposal system.

(bb) SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM - Means all interceptor sewers, sanitary sewers, sewage treatment plants, and all other plants, works, instrumentalities, and properties used or useful in connection with the collection, treatment, or disposal of sewage or industrial wastes.

(cc) SHALL - Means mandatory.

(dd) SUSPENDED SOLIDS - Means solids that either float on the surface or are in suspension in water, sewage, or other liquid; and which are removable by laboratory filtering.

(ee) SYSTEM - Means the complete water supply and sewage disposal system of the Authority, including all wells, pumps, water mains, hydrants, treatment facilities, sewers, pumps, lift stations, treatment facilities and all other facilities used or useful in the securing, treatment and distribution of water for domestic, fire fighting and other uses, and in the collection, treatment and disposal of domestic, commercial or industrial wastes, including all appurtenances thereto and including all extensions and improvements thereto, which may hereafter be acquired.

(ff) TAP-IN CHARGE - Means a connection fee established by resolution of the LASA Board.

(gg) UTILITY SERVICE CHARGE - Means an amount charged by LASA to a property owner or occupant for the use of the water supply system and sewage disposal system.

(hh) WATER COURSE - Means a channel in which a flow of water occurs, either continuously or intermittently.

(ii) WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM - Means all plants, works, instrumentalities, and properties used or useful in connection with obtaining a water supply, the treatment of water, or the distribution of water.

Section 1.15. ORGANIZATION.

(a) BOARD OF TRUSTEES.
The governing body of this Authority shall be a Board of Trustees. The LASA Board shall be composed of seven (7) members. The operation, maintenance, alteration, repair and management of the System shall be under the supervision and control of the Board of Trustees of the Authority. The Board of Trustees may employ such person or persons in such capacity or capacities as it deems advisable to carry on the efficient management and operation of the System.

(b) OPERATING COMMITTEE.

The Operating Committee shall be composed of three (3) members: Chairperson of the LASA Board and two members of the LASA Board. The Operating Committee shall perform the purely administrative functions of the Authority. All acts of the Operating Committee shall be in harmony with the adopted policies of the Board of Trustees.

(c) BUSINESS MANAGER.

The Business Manager shall be responsible for keeping the books and records of LASA, and the collection of all sums due LASA arising from the operation of the water supply system and sewage disposal system. All revenues shall be accounted for in a manner satisfactory to the LASA Board; shall be deposited in the manner approved for other municipal deposits; and shall be accounted for according to law and resolution of the LASA Board.

(d) PLANT OPERATOR.

The Plant Operator shall have charge of the day-to-day maintenance and operation of the water supply system and the sewage disposal system, to include pumping equipment, distribution system, fire hydrants, meters, and all other appurtenances of the water supply system and sewage disposal system of LASA.

Section 1.20. PROCEDURE FOR ADOPTION OF RULES AND REGULATIONS.

(a) The Township Board of Trustees of Webster Township and Scio Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan are the constituent municipalities of the Authority and adopted articles of incorporation for the purpose of acquiring, owning, improving, enlarging, extending, and operating a water supply system and sewage disposal system pursuant to Act 233 of 1955, as amended (MCL §124.281 et seq.).

(b) The Authority shall adopt rules and regulations by resolution of its Board of Trustees and with concurrence by resolution of constituent municipalities. After adoption of the resolution and concurrence by the constituent municipalities, a notice of the resolution and the rules and regulations adopted by the resolution shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation within the territory encompassed by the Authority.

(c) The rules and regulations shall become effective thirty (30) days after the date of publication of the notice and the rules and regulations.

Section 1.25. APPLICATION AND PERMIT PROCESS.

(a) Before a basement is dug, the property owner or their agent shall submit an application on a form prepared by LASA for water service and sewage disposal service together with required fees to the Business Manager.

(b) The Business Manager shall make a determination that the application is complete, all required fees are paid, stamp date the application, and forward a copy to the Chairperson of the LASA Board, Plant Operator, and the zoning and building official for the Township in which the property is located.

(c) The Plant Operator, Operating Committee or LASA Board may require an applicant to post additional funds with the Business Manager to cover variable expenses and cost which are not covered by application fees and are anticipated to be incurred by LASA to process the application and may require an applicant to enter into a development agreement before a certificate of compliance is issued.

(d) The Plant Operator or their designee shall review any plans submitted by the applicant to ensure that the materials and workmanship meet the standards and specifications adopted by LASA and issue a certificate of compliance which certifies that the proposed project meets the standards and specifications adopted by LASA. The certificate of compliance only authorizes the project set forth in the approved application and approved plans submitted in conjunction with the application.

(e) Any work to be performed by the applicant or their designee is subject to daily inspections by the Plant Operator or their designee, the cost of which shall be borne by the applicant.

(f) Water service may be turned on for the purpose of testing the work, after which it shall be turned off until the Plant Operator issues a certificate of satisfactory completion and the Business Manager issues a permit.

(g) Upon completion of the project and clean-up of the site, the Plant Operator or their designee shall issue a certificate of satisfactory completion which certifies that the project appears to be in compliance with the approved application, approved plans, and standards and specifications adopted by LASA, a copy of which shall be submitted to the Business Manager.

(h) Upon receipt of the certificate of satisfactory completion, the Business Manager shall determine that all costs and expenses to be paid by the applicant have been paid in full in which event the Business Manager shall issue a permit or temporary permit which authorizes the Plant Operator or their designee to commence service to the property.

(i) The Business Manager shall forward a copy of the permit or temporary permit to the Operating Committee, and the zoning and building officials charged with the responsibility to issue certificates of occupancy.

Section 1.30. CHARGES AND FEES.

(a) The LASA Board shall, from time-to-time, establish by resolution administrative charges, capital charges, usage charges, commodity charges, service charges, debt service charges, special charges, and any other types of fees or charges related to the connection or disconnection to, or use of the water supply system or sewage disposal system. The fee schedule and any modification, addition, or deletion thereto shall become effective thirty (30) days after the date of publication, or as otherwise specified in the publication, in the notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the constituent municipalities.

(b) The expenses incurred by LASA to process an application, which are not covered by the application fee, shall be borne by the applicant and not by LASA. Upon submission of an application for a permit, extension, modification, reconfiguration or alteration of either the water supply system or sewage disposal system, the Operating Committee or the LASA Board may require the applicant to post funds to cover anticipated variable costs and expense incurred to process the application to include (but not limited to) engineering and attorney fees and recording fees. Funds so deposited are not required to be placed in an interest bearing account. However, if interest is earned on the sums, any such interest shall be credited to the applicant. In the event the sums deposited are not sufficient to cover the anticipated expenses, then the Operating Committee or the LASA Board in writing may require additional funds. The request shall state the amount and date the sum is to be deposited with LASA. In the event the initial or additional funds are not timely deposited, then LASA may discontinue processing the application, deny or dismiss the application or request, or take such other action as it deems appropriate. Any sums remaining in the account upon final disposition of the application shall be promptly returned to the applicant.

(c) In the event any sewage discharged into the system imposes an unreasonable or additional burden upon the sewage disposal system or the facilities treating such sewage above that imposed by the average sewage entering such treatment plants, LASA shall have the option to impose an additional charge for such treatment against such customer to defray the additional cost of such treatment and any damage caused thereby; to require the customer to pre-treat such sewage in such manner as LASA may order before the same enters the system; and to terminate sewer service to any premises which fails to comply with the foregoing.

(d) All delinquent rates and charges for sewer service shall constitute a lien upon the premises served which shall be subject to foreclosure in the same manner as mechanics' liens for non-payment, or after six months' delinquency, may be certified annually to the supervisor and assessing officer of the township in which the property is located and entered by him/her upon the next tax roll against the property served, for collection in the same manner as the collection of taxes.

Section 1.35. BILLING PROCEDURE.

(a) For the purpose of making and collecting charges for water/sewage services, the calendar year shall be subdivided into billing periods set by resolution of the LASA Board. Statements shall be rendered accordingly to the consumers, and payment shall be due and payable on or before thirty (30) days from the date of issuance of the statement. The due date of such charges and fees shall be stated upon the billing therefore and the same shall be paid on or before the due date stated therein. If LASA has not received payment within thirty (30) days of the statement date, then the account shall be deemed delinquent.

(b) Persons claiming to be overcharged may pay the funds billed under protest and make complaint to the Business Manager. Upon request of the Business Manager, the Plant Operator shall examine the matter, and may make such decision and adjustments as may be found equitable under the circumstances subject to approval of the Business Manager. If an aggrieved person is not satisfied with the decision of the Business Manager, an appeal may be filed with the Business Manager within thirty (30) days of date of the decision to the LASA Board. Appeals not timely filed are waived.

(c) For all bills not paid within thirty (30) days of the date of the bill, an additional charge of ten (10%) percent of the bill shall be made. Failure to receive a Quarterly Statement does not relieve the customer of the responsibility for payment of the penalty when assessed.

(d) Any account that goes three (3) months delinquent will be sent a shut-off notice via certified mail. This letter will inform the user of how much is over three months delinquent and the total amount due. The user will be given thirty (30) days to pay the amount that is three months delinquent. If payment is not RECEIVED by the due date in the letter, the following day the user's water will be turned off. It will not be turned back on until the user has paid the account in full including a turn-on fee set periodically by the LASA Board.

(e) All charges for repairs chargeable to the property owner shall constitute a lien upon the respective properties served. If any charge is not paid, it may be recovered by LASA in an action against the owner of the property served, as well as any tenant supplied with such water. Such charges may be certified by the LASA Board and assessed against the property on the next tax roll, provided that any charge shall not be so certified which has not been delinquent for a period of at least ninety (90) days.

(f) In addition to any other remedy provided under these Rules and Regulations or by law, if such charges for water/sewage service shall not be paid within thirty (30) days after issuance of the statement, then LASA may shut off water/sewage connections. In such event, the water/sewage service shall not be reconnected until all such water charges and penalties attributable to the premises shall be fully paid, together with a shut off and turn-on charge and/or turn-on charge, which amount shall be set forth from time-to-time by resolution of the LASA Board.

Section 1.40. ENGINEERING STANDARDS AND PROCEDURES.

(a) The LASA Board adopts the engineering standards utilized by the Scio Township utilities department, as may hereafter be modified.

(b) The LASA Board may adopt by resolution such other engineering standards and procedures governing the details of application, service connections, extensions, financing of improvements, and rates and charges for water and sewer services and may modify, enlarge, and amend the same from time to time to meet changing conditions and circumstances and to promote the health, safety, and general welfare of the persons utilizing the systems.

(c) Copies of all adopted standards shall be available from the Business Manager.

Section 1.45. EXCAVATIONS.

All excavations made by the owner for water or sewer constructions shall be adequately protected and guarded by barricades and lights so as to protect the public from hazard or injury. Streets, sidewalks, parkways and other public property disturbed in the course of the work shall be restored in a manner satisfactory to the Authority. The owner shall indemnify the Authority from any loss or damage that may directly or indirectly be occasioned by the installation of a building water, sewer or storm connections.

Section 1.50. DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENT.

(a) No water line or sewer main construction shall be commenced until all plans and specifications have been submitted to and approved by LASA and all required state, county and municipal permits have been obtained.

(b) As a condition to extending water and/or sewer services, LASA may require an applicant or benefited property owner(s) to enter into a development agreement. The development agreement may provide for the posting of funds to cover LASA's anticipated actual expenses and costs incurred for a project; provide for financial guarantees to ensure timely completion and proper performance; attach plans and specifications to ensure compliance with LASA's rules, regulations, standards and specifications; submission of access easements and bills-of-sale for materials dedicated to LASA; and such other terms and conditions as LASA deems appropriate. The agreement shall be signed by the applicant and the LASA chairperson with the consent of the LASA Board. LASA may require the agreement be recorded at the expense of the applicant or benefited property owner(s).

Section 1.55. PERFORMANCE REQUIREMENTS.

(a) All holes or trenches dug in the public or private streets or alleys shall be backfilled in accordance with construction standards relative to removal of pavements, curbing, surfacing, excavations and the replacements thereof.

(b) The use of mechanical equipment for excavating or backfilling in public rights-of-way must have the prior approval of the Plant Operator.

(c) The repair, replacement, and/or maintenance of streets, alleys, sidewalks, curbs and/or other structures which are disturbed by the connection to a LASA water main shall be performed by LASA (unless otherwise approved by the Operator). The property owner who is served by the connection shall reimburse LASA for these costs incurred on his behalf as part of his "connection charge" as defined in this Regulation.

(d) INSPECTIONS. All work performed by persons other than LASA or persons retained by LASA on any portion or part of the water supply system or the sewage disposal system shall be inspected by the Plant Operator or his/her designee. No pipes, lines or other appurtenances shall be covered over with earth or other material prior to being inspected by LASA. Pipes, lines or other appurtenances covered up without inspection shall be uncovered at the expense of the applicant or property owner upon request of the Plant Operator or their designee.

Section 1.60. DEDICATIONS.

(a) Any lines, conduits or other fixtures or appurtenances which are intended to be part of the water supply system or sewage disposal system shall be dedicated to LASA.

(b) Prior to acceptance of dedication, the Board of Trustees shall obtain from the fee owner an easement of access for repair and replacement in a form and dimensions acceptable to LASA and the owner of such materials shall provide a bill-of-sale for the materials installed free and clear of any lien or encumbrances. The easement shall be recorded by LASA at the expense of the applicant or property owner.

(c) Prior to acceptance of dedication, the Board of Trustees shall require reasonable assurance that the materials and workmanship are in accordance with the standards and specification established by LASA. Reasonable assurance means the presence of a person retained by LASA to inspect the plans, materials and daily installation, the cost of which shall be borne by the developer or properties to be benefited.

(d) Prior to acceptance of dedication, the Board of Trustees may require a financial guarantee to be posted which insures the workmanship and materials against damage or defects for a period of three (3) years from the date of completion of installation.

(e) The Board of Trustees shall accept dedication by resolution.

Section 1.65. DISCONTINUANCE OF SERVICE TO VIOLATOR.

(a) The Authority may authorize the discontinuance of service to a user who violates a provision of this regulation, if the Authority determines that discontinuance of service to that user is necessary to protect the integrity of the affected system.

(b) The Authority shall authorize restoration of service to that user when the Authority determines that the threat to the affected system no longer exists and that the cause of or events resulting in the violation will not recur.

Section 1.70. ENFORCEMENT OF REGULATION.

(a) The provisions of this regulation shall be enforced by the Plant Operator who may issue an appearance ticket to any person who is reasonably believed to have violated a provision of this regulation.

(b) For the purposes of this section, enforcement powers include the power to bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction to enjoin the violation of a provision of this regulation, to bring an action to recover actual damages sustained due to violation of a provision of this regulation, and to be awarded costs and fees in those actions as provided in sections 2401 to 2461 of the revised judicature act of 1961, Act No. 238 of the Public Acts of 1961, being sections 600.2401 to 600.2461 of the Michigan Compiled Laws.

Section 1.75. NOTICE OF VIOLATION.

Where public safety permits, a person found to be violating any provision of these Rules and Regulations shall be served by the Authority with written notice, stating the nature of the violation, and providing a reasonable time in which to correct the violation. The offender shall, within the period of time stated in such notice, permanently cease all violations.

Section 1.80. VIOLATION OF REGULATION; CIVIL FINE.

A violation of any provision of this regulation shall be assessed a civil fine not to exceed $1,000.00. A fine assessed under this section shall be distributed pursuant to section 8379 of the revised judicature act of 1961, 1961 PA 236, [MCL §600.8379].

Section 1.85. PROHIBITIONS AND PENALTIES.

(a) A person who knowingly submits or prepares for submission to the Authority a false statement, representation, or certification is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment for not more than ninety (90) days, or a fine of not more than $500.00, or both. Each violation constitutes a separate and distinct offense.

(b) A person who knowingly tampers with or alters a monitoring device or process, causing inaccurate readings or results, is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment for not more than ninety (90) days, or a fine of not more than $500.00, or both. Each violation constitutes a separate and distinct offense.

Section 1.90. REPEAL OF ORDINANCES.

Ordinance No. 1 adopted December 14, 1984 and Ordinance No. 89-2 adopted July 19, 1989 are repealed.

ARTICLE II - WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM

Section 2.05. WATER MAINS.

(a) The water mains of LASA shall be under the exclusive control of the Plant Operator, and no person, firm or corporation other than authorized agents or employees of LASA shall tap, change, obstruct, interfere with, or in any way disturb the system of water mains. Additions to the LASA mains or replacement more than forty (40') feet shall be constructed with eight (8") inch diameter pipe.

(b) A change in the grade by more than two (2') feet shall require the written approval of the Plant Operator.

Section 2.10. EXTENSIONS OF AND ALTERATIONS TO WATER MAINS.

All extensions and alterations to the system of water mains shall be made under the supervision of the Plant Operator who shall act only upon authorization of LASA. Petitions for the extension of old or construction of new mains shall be addressed to the LASA Board in due course. Decisions made by the Plant Operator and LASA Board shall be based on accepted engineering standards and principals, and the health, safety and welfare of those persons dependent on the system. If the petition is granted, the LASA Board shall determine and stipulate the proportions of the cost to be borne by petitioners and by LASA.

Section 2.15. INSTALLATION OF WATER MAINS.

Any person, firm or corporation who shall propose the installation of water mains, shall first submit plans and specifications of such work to the Plant Operator and reviewed by the Engineer who shall make a report thereof to the LASA Board which shall approve or disapprove of such installation, and shall determine under what conditions such installation shall be made, to include without limitation the posting of bonds or other guarantee to assure completion in accordance with the standards established by LASA and to defray any actual expenses incurred by LASA with regard to such project.

Section 2.20. CONNECTION TO LASA WATER SYSTEM.

No private wells shall be allowed in the area where LASA provides service. A back flow preventer shall be installed between the LASA water and an irrigation system.

Section 2.25. CROSS CONNECTION.

(a) LASA adopts by reference the Water Supply Cross Connection Rules of the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality, being R325.431 to R325.440 of the Michigan Administrative Code, as may from time to time be amended.

(b) It shall be the duty of the Plant Operator, or their designee, to cause inspections to be made of all properties served by the water supply system where cross connections with the water supply system is deemed possible. The frequency of inspections and re-inspections, based on potential health hazards involved, shall be as established by the Plant Operator and as approved by the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality.

(c) The Plant Operator, or their designee, shall have the right to enter at any reasonable time any property served by a connection to water supply system for the purpose of inspecting the piping systems of such property for cross connections. On request, the owner, lessee or occupants of any property so served shall furnish to the inspection agency any pertinent information regarding the piping systems on such property. The refusal of such information or refusal of access, when requested, shall be deemed evidence of the presence of cross connections.

These rules and regulation shall be known and may be cited as the Loch Alpine Sanitary Authority Rules and Regulations.

Section 1.10. DEFINITIONS.

As used in these Rules and Regulations:

(a) APPLICANT - Means a person who seeks authorization to connect to the Loch Alpine Sanitary Authority water supply system and sewage disposal system.

(b) ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION - Means the article of Incorporations of Loch Alpine Sanitary Authority of Webster and Scio Townships, Washtenaw County, Michigan dated May 16, 1957, as amended.

(c) AUTHORITY - Means the Loch Alpine Sanitary Authority of Webster and Scio Townships, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan.

(d) BIOCHEMICAL OXYGEN DEMAND ("B.O.D.") - Means the quantity of oxygen utilized in the biochemical oxidation of organic matter under standard laboratory procedure in five (5) days at twenty (20°) degrees centigrade, expressed in parts per million by weight.

(e) BOARD OF TRUSTEES OR LASA BOARD - Means the governing body of the Authority.

(f) BUILDING DRAIN - Means the part of the lowest horizontal piping of a drainage system which receives the discharge from soil, waste and other drainage pipes inside the walls of the building and conveys it to the building sewer (house sewer) beginning five (5') feet outside the inner face of the building wall.

(g) BUILDING SEWER OR HOUSE SEWER OR HOUSE CONNECTION - Means the extension of the building drain to the public sewer or other place of disposal.

(h) BUSINESS MANAGER - Means an employee of the Authority who is responsible for the day-to-day business operations.

(i) CAPITAL CHARGE - Means a charge for maintaining, improving and updating the water supply system or sewage disposal system which is based upon criteria established from time-to-time by the LASA Board.

(j) CONNECTION - Means a water or sewer line or re-establishment of any line to be connected to the water supply system or sewage disposal system.

(k) CONNECTION CHARGE - Means a charge for connecting to LASA's water supply system or sewage disposal system which is based upon the actual labor, equipment time, materials and other expenses incurred by LASA, plus any percentage of these documented costs, established by resolution of the LASA Board.

(l) CONSTITUENT MUNICIPALITY OR CONSTITUENT MUNICIPALITIES - Means Webster Township and Scio Township, both situated in the County of Washtenaw, Michigan, being the signors to the articles of incorporation which established this Authority pursuant to Act 233 of 1955, as amended.

(m) DELINQUENT ACCOUNT - Means an account that is not paid in full thirty (30) days after the date of mailing of each quarterly period bill.

(n) FISCAL YEAR - The fiscal year of the Authority shall commence on the first day of July in each year and the end of June of the following year.

(o) GARBAGE - Means refuse consisting of solid wastes from the preparation, cooking, and dispensing of food, also from the handling, storage and sale of produce.

(p) INDUSTRIAL WASTE - Means the liquid wastes from industrial processes as distinguished from sanitary sewage.

(q) LOCH ALPINE SANITARY AUTHORITY OF WEBSTER AND SCIO TOWNSHIPS ("LASA") - Means the Authority established by the constituent municipalities pursuant to Act 233 of 1955, as amended.

(r) LASA CONSTRUCTION STANDARDS - Means the standards adopted by Scio Township Utility Department.

(s) LASA SERVICE DISTRICT - Means the area the authorized for service by the LASA Board.

(t) MAY - Means permissive.

(u) NATURAL OUTLET - Means any outlet into a watercourse, pond, ditch, lake or other body of surface or ground water.

(v) OTHER CHARGES AND/OR FEES - Means any charges for connection to, or use of, LASA's water supply system or sewer disposal system, which result from sources other than capital or connection charges. These include, but are not limited to, contracts, system expansion/extension charges, special assessments, and/or any other types of charges as specified by resolution of the LASA Board.

(w) PERSON - Means an individual, firm, company, limited liability company, association, society, corporation or group.

(x) PLANT OPERATOR - Means an employee of the Authority who is responsible for the day-to-day mechanical operations.

(y) PROPERLY SHREDDED GARBAGE - Means garbage that has been ground or shredded to such a degree that all particles will be carried freely under flow conditions normally prevailing in public sewers, with no particle greater than one-half inch (1/2") in any dimension.

(z) RATES - Means the charges, fees, rentals, and rates that may be fixed and imposed for the services, facilities, and commodities furnished by the water supply system and sewage disposal system.

(aa) REVENUES - Means the income derived from the rates charged for the services, facilities, and commodities furnished by the water supply system and sewage disposal system. Revenues include earnings on investment of funds of the water supply system and sewage disposal system and other revenues derived from or pledged to operation of the water supply system and sewage disposal system.

(bb) SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM - Means all interceptor sewers, sanitary sewers, sewage treatment plants, and all other plants, works, instrumentalities, and properties used or useful in connection with the collection, treatment, or disposal of sewage or industrial wastes.

(cc) SHALL - Means mandatory.

(dd) SUSPENDED SOLIDS - Means solids that either float on the surface or are in suspension in water, sewage, or other liquid; and which are removable by laboratory filtering.

(ee) SYSTEM - Means the complete water supply and sewage disposal system of the Authority, including all wells, pumps, water mains, hydrants, treatment facilities, sewers, pumps, lift stations, treatment facilities and all other facilities used or useful in the securing, treatment and distribution of water for domestic, fire fighting and other uses, and in the collection, treatment and disposal of domestic, commercial or industrial wastes, including all appurtenances thereto and including all extensions and improvements thereto, which may hereafter be acquired.

(ff) TAP-IN CHARGE - Means a connection fee established by resolution of the LASA Board.

(gg) UTILITY SERVICE CHARGE - Means an amount charged by LASA to a property owner or occupant for the use of the water supply system and sewage disposal system.

(hh) WATER COURSE - Means a channel in which a flow of water occurs, either continuously or intermittently.

(ii) WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM - Means all plants, works, instrumentalities, and properties used or useful in connection with obtaining a water supply, the treatment of water, or the distribution of water.

Section 1.15. ORGANIZATION.

(a) BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

The governing body of this Authority shall be a Board of Trustees. The LASA Board shall be composed of seven (7) members. The operation, maintenance, alteration, repair and management of the System shall be under the supervision and control of the Board of Trustees of the Authority. The Board of Trustees may employ such person or persons in such capacity or capacities as it deems advisable to carry on the efficient management and operation of the System.

(b) OPERATING COMMITTEE.

The Operating Committee shall be composed of three (3) members: Chairperson of the LASA Board and two members of the LASA Board. The Operating Committee shall perform the purely administrative functions of the Authority. All acts of the Operating Committee shall be in harmony with the adopted policies of the Board of Trustees.

(c) BUSINESS MANAGER.

The Business Manager shall be responsible for keeping the books and records of LASA, and the collection of all sums due LASA arising from the operation of the water supply system and sewage disposal system. All revenues shall be accounted for in a manner satisfactory to the LASA Board; shall be deposited in the manner approved for other municipal deposits, and shall be accounted for according to law and resolution of the LASA Board.

(d) PLANT OPERATOR.

The Plant Operator shall have charge of the day-to-day maintenance and operation of the water supply system and the sewage disposal system, to include pumping equipment, distribution system, fire hydrants, meters and all other appurtenances of the water supply system and sewage disposal system of LASA.

Section 1.20. PROCEDURE FOR ADOPTION OF RULES AND REGULATIONS.

(a) The Township Board of Trustees of Webster Township and Scio Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan are the constituent municipalities of the Authority and adopted articles of incorporation for the purpose of acquiring, owning, improving, enlarging, extending, and operating a water supply system and sewage disposal system pursuant to Act 233 of 1955, as amended (MCL §124.281 et seq.).

(b) The Authority shall adopt rules and regulations by resolution of its Board of Trustees and with concurrence by resolution of constituent municipalities. After adoption of the resolution and concurrence by the constituent municipalities, a notice of the resolution and the rules and regulations adopted by the resolution shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation within the territory encompassed by the Authority.

(c) The rules and regulations shall become effective thirty (30) days after the date of publication of the notice and the rules and regulations.

Section 1.25. APPLICATION AND PERMIT PROCESS.

(a) Before a basement is dug, the property owner or their agent shall submit an application on a form prepared by LASA for water service and sewage disposal service together with required fees to the Business Manager.

(b) The Business Manager shall make a determination that the application is complete, all required fees are paid, stamp date the application, and forward a copy to the Chairperson of the LASA Board, Plant Operator, and the zoning and building official for the Township in which the property is located.

(c) The Plant Operator, Operating Committee or LASA Board may require an applicant to post additional funds with the Business Manager to cover variable expenses and cost which are not covered by application fees and are anticipated to be incurred by LASA to process the application and may require an applicant to enter into a development agreement before a certificate of compliance is issued.

(d) The Plant Operator or their designee shall review any plans submitted by the applicant to ensure that the materials and workmanship meet the standards and specifications adopted by LASA and issue a certificate of compliance which certifies that the proposed project meets the standards and specifications adopted by LASA. The certificate of compliance only authorizes the project set forth in the approved application and approved plans submitted in conjunction with the application.

(e) Any work to be performed by the applicant or their designee is subject to daily inspections by the Plant Operator or their designee, the cost of which shall be borne by the applicant.

(f) Water service may be turned on for the purpose of testing the work, after which it shall be turned off until the Plant Operator issues a certificate of satisfactory completion and the Business Manager issues a permit.

(g) Upon completion of the project and clean-up of the site, the Plant Operator or their designee shall issue a certificate of satisfactory completion which certifies that the project appears to be in compliance with the approved application, approved plans, and standards and specifications adopted by LASA, a copy of which shall be submitted to the Business Manager.

(h) Upon receipt of the certificate of satisfactory completion, the Business Manager shall determine that all costs and expenses to be paid by the applicant have been paid in full in which event the Business Manager shall issue a permit or temporary permit which authorizes the Plant Operator or their designee to commence service to the property.

(i) The Business Manager shall forward a copy of the permit or temporary permit to the Operating Committee, and the zoning and building officials charged with the responsibility to issue certificates of occupancy.

Section 1.30. CHARGES AND FEES.

(a) The LASA Board shall, from time-to-time, establish by resolution administrative charges, capital charges, usage charges, commodity charges, service charges, debt service charges, special charges, and any other types of fees or charges related to the connection or disconnection to, or use of the water supply system or sewage disposal system. The fee schedule and any modification, addition, or deletion thereto shall become effective thirty (30) days after the date of publication, or as otherwise specified in the publication, in the notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the constituent municipalities.

(b) The expenses incurred by LASA to process an application, which are not covered by the application fee, shall be borne by the applicant and not by LASA. Upon submission of an application for a permit, extension, modification, reconfiguration or alteration of either the water supply system or sewage disposal system, the Operating Committee or the LASA Board may require the applicant to post funds to cover anticipated variable costs and expense incurred to process the application to include (but not limited to) engineering and attorney fees and recording fees. Funds so deposited are not required to be placed in an interest bearing account. However, if interest is earned on the sums, any such interest shall be credited to the applicant. In the event the sums deposited are not sufficient to cover the anticipated expenses, then the Operating Committee or the LASA Board in writing may require additional funds. The request shall state the amount and date the sum is to be deposited with LASA. In the event the initial or additional funds are not timely deposited, then LASA may discontinue processing the application, deny or dismiss the application or request, or take such other action as it deems appropriate. Any sums remaining in the account upon final disposition of the application shall be promptly returned to the applicant.

(c) In the event any sewage discharged into the system imposes an unreasonable or additional burden upon the sewage disposal system or the facilities treating such sewage above that imposed by the average sewage entering such treatment plants, LASA shall have the option to impose an additional charge for such treatment against such customer to defray the additional cost of such treatment and any damage caused thereby; to require the customer to pre-treat such sewage in such manner as LASA may order before the same enters the system; and to terminate sewer service to any premises which fails to comply with the foregoing.

(d) All delinquent rates and charges for sewer service shall constitute a lien upon the premises served which shall be subject to foreclosure in the same manner as mechanics' liens for non-payment, or after six months' delinquency, may be certified annually to the supervisor and assessing officer of the township in which the property is located and entered by him/her upon the next tax roll against the property served, for collection in the same manner as the collection of taxes.

Section 1.35. BILLING PROCEDURE.

(a) For the purpose of making and collecting charges for water/sewage services, the calendar year shall be subdivided into billing periods set by resolution of the LASA Board. Statements shall be rendered accordingly to the consumers, and payment shall be due and payable on or before thirty (30) days from the date of issuance of the statement. The due date of such charges and fees shall be stated upon the billing therefore and the same shall be paid on or before the due date stated therein. If LASA has not received payment within thirty (30) days of the statement date, then the account shall be deemed delinquent.

(b) Persons claiming to be overcharged may pay the funds billed under protest and make complaint to the Business Manager. Upon request of the Business Manager, the Plant Operator shall examine the matter, and may make such decision and adjustments as may be found equitable under the circumstances subject to approval of the Business Manager. If an aggrieved person is not satisfied with the decision of the Business Manager, an appeal may be filed with the Business Manager within thirty (30) days of date of the decision to the LASA Board. Appeals not timely filed are waived.

(c) For all bills not paid within thirty (30) days of the date of the bill, an additional charge of ten (10%) percent of the bill shall be made. Failure to receive a Quarterly Statement does not relieve the customer of the responsibility for payment of the penalty when assessed.

(d) Any account that goes three (3) months delinquent will be sent a shut-off notice via certified mail. This letter will inform the user of how much is over three months delinquent and the total amount due. The user will be given thirty (30) days to pay the amount that is three months delinquent. If payment is not RECEIVED by the due date in the letter, the following day the user's water will be turned off. It will not be turned back on until the user has paid the account in full including a turn-on fee set periodically by the LASA Board.

(e) All charges for repairs chargeable to the property owner shall constitute a lien upon the respective properties served. If any charge is not paid, it may be recovered by LASA in an action against the owner of the property served, as well as any tenant supplied with such water. Such charges may be certified by the LASA Board and assessed against the property on the next tax roll, provided that any charge shall not be so certified which has not been delinquent for a period of at least ninety (90) days.

(f) In addition to any other remedy provided under these Rules and Regulations or by law, if such charges for water/sewage service shall not be paid within thirty (30) days after issuance of the statement, then LASA may shut off water/sewage connections. In such event, the water/sewer service shall not be reconnected until all such water charges and penalties attributable to the premises shall be fully paid, together with a shut off and turn-on charge and/or turn-on charge, which amount shall be set forth from time-to-time by resolution of the LASA Board.

Section 1.40. ENGINEERING STANDARDS AND PROCEDURES.

(a) The LASA Board adopts the engineering standards utilized by the Scio Township utilities department, as may hereafter be modified.

(b) The LASA Board may adopt by resolution such other engineering standards and procedures governing the details of application, service connections, extensions, financing of improvements, and rates and charges for water and sewer services and may modify, enlarge, and amend the same from time to time to meet changing conditions and circumstances and to promote the health, safety, and general welfare of the persons utilizing the systems.

(c) Copies of all adopted standards shall be available from the Business Manager.

Section 1.45. EXCAVATIONS.

All excavations made by the owner for water or sewer constructions shall be adequately protected and guarded by barricades and lights so as to protect the public from hazard or injury. Streets, sidewalks, parkways and other public property disturbed in the course of the work shall be restored in a manner satisfactory to the Authority. The owner shall indemnify the Authority from any loss or damage that may directly or indirectly be occasioned by the installation of a building water, sewer or storm connections.

Section 1.50. DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENT.

(a) No water line or sewer main construction shall be commenced until all plans and specifications have been submitted to and approved by LASA and all required state, county and municipal permits have been obtained.

(b) As a condition to extending water and/or sewer services, LASA may require an applicant or benefited property owner(s) to enter into a development agreement. The development agreement may provide for the posting of funds to cover LASA's anticipated actual expenses and costs incurred for a project; provide for financial guarantees to ensure timely completion and proper performance; attach plans and specifications to ensure compliance with LASA's rules, regulations, standards and specifications; submission of access easements and bills-of-sale for materials dedicated to LASA; and such other terms and conditions as LASA deems appropriate. The agreement shall be signed by the applicant and the LASA chairperson with the consent of the LASA Board. LASA may require the agreement be recorded at the expense of the applicant or benefited property owner(s).

Section 1.55. PERFORMANCE REQUIREMENTS.

(a) All holes or trenches dug in the public or private streets or alleys shall be backfilled in accordance with construction standards relative to removal of pavements, curbing, surfacing, excavations and the replacements thereof.

(b) The use of mechanical equipment for excavating or backfilling in public rights-of-way must have the prior approval of the Plant Operator.

(c) The repair, replacement, and/or maintenance of streets, alleys, sidewalks, curbs and/or other structures which are disturbed by the connection to a LASA water main shall be performed by LASA (unless otherwise approved by the Operator). The property owner who is served by the connection shall reimburse LASA for these costs incurred on his behalf as part of his "connection charge" as defined in this Regulation.

(d) INSPECTIONS. All work performed by persons other than LASA or persons retained by LASA on any portion or part of the water supply system or the sewage disposal system shall be inspected by the Plant Operator or his/her designee. No pipes, lines or other appurtenances shall be covered over with earth or other material prior to being inspected by LASA. Pipes, lines or other appurtenances covered up without inspection shall be uncovered at the expense of the applicant or property owner upon request of the Plant Operator or their designee.

Section 1.60. DEDICATIONS.

(a) Any lines, conduits or other fixtures or appurtenances which are intended to be part of the water supply system or sewage disposal system shall be dedicated to LASA.

(b) Prior to acceptance of dedication, the Board of Trustees shall obtain from the fee owner an easement of access for repair and replacement in a form and dimensions acceptable to LASA and the owner of such materials shall provide a bill-of-sale for the materials installed free and clear of any lien or encumbrances. The easement shall be recorded by LASA at the expense of the applicant or property owner.

(c) Prior to acceptance of dedication, the Board of Trustees shall require reasonable assurance that the materials and workmanship are in accordance with the standards and specification established by LASA. Reasonable assurance means the presence of a person retained by LASA to inspect the plans, materials and daily installation, the cost of which shall be borne by the developer or properties to be benefited.

(d) Prior to acceptance of dedication, the Board of Trustees may require a financial guarantee to be posted which insures the workmanship and materials against damage or defects for a period of three (3) years from the date of completion of installation.

Section 1.65. DISCONTINUANCE OF SERVICE TO VIOLATOR.

(a) The Authority may authorize the discontinuance of service to a user who violates a provision of this regulation, if the Authority determines that discontinuance of service to that user is necessary to protect the integrity of the affected system.

(b) The Authority shall authorize restoration of service to that user when the Authority determines that the threat to the affected system no longer exists and that the cause of or events resulting in the violation will not recur.

Section 1.70. ENFORCEMENT OF REGULATION.

(a) The provisions of this regulation shall be enforced by the Plant Operator who may issue an appearance ticket to any person who is reasonably believed to have violated a provision of this regulation.

(b) For the purposes of this section, enforcement powers include the power to bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction to enjoin the violation of a provision of this regulation, to bring an action to recover actual damages sustained due to violation of a provision of this regulation, and to be awarded costs and fees in those actions as provided in sections 2401 to 2461 of the revised jurisdiction act of 1961, Act No. 236 of the Public Acts of 1961, being sections 600.2401 to 600.2461 of the Michigan Compiled Laws.

Section 1.75. NOTICE OF VIOLATION.

Where public safety permits, a person found to be violating any provision of these Rules and Regulations shall be served by the Authority with written notice, stating the nature of the violation, and providing a reasonable time in which to correct the violation. The offender shall, within the period of time stated in such notice, permanently cease all violations.

Section 1.80. VIOLATION OF REGULATION; CIVIL FINE.

A violation of any provision of this regulation shall be assessed a civil fine not to exceed $1,000.00. A fine assessed under this section shall be distributed pursuant to section 8379 of the revised jurisdiction act of 1961, 1961 PA 236, [MCL §600.8379].

Section 1.85. PROHIBITIONS AND PENALTIES.

(a) A person who knowingly submits or prepares for submission to the Authority a false statement, representation, or certification is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment for not more than ninety (90) days, or a fine of not more than $500.00, or both. Each violation constitutes a separate and distinct offense.

(b) A person who knowingly tampers with or alters a monitoring device or process, causing inaccurate readings or results, is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment for not more than ninety (90) days, or a fine of not more than $500.00, or both. Each violation constitutes a separate and distinct offense.

Section 1.90. REPEAL OF ORDINANCES.

Ordinance No. 1 adopted December 14, 1964 and Ordinance No. 89-2 adopted July 19, 1989 are repealed.

ARTICLE II - WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM

Section 2.05. WATER MAINS.

(a) The water mains of LASA shall be under the exclusive control of the Plant Operator, and no person, firm or corporation other than authorized agents or employees of LASA shall tap, change, obstruct, interfere with, or in any way disturb the system of water mains. Additions to the LASA mains or replacement more than forty (40') feet shall be constructed with eight (8") inch diameter pipe.

(b) A change in the grade by more than two (2') feet shall require the written approval of the Plant Operator.

Section 2.10. EXTENSIONS OF AND ALTERATIONS TO WATER MAINS.

All extensions and alterations to the system of water mains shall be made under the supervision of the Plant Operator who shall act only upon authorization of LASA. Petitions for the extension of old or construction of new mains shall be addressed to the LASA Board in due course. Decisions made by the Plant Operator and LASA Board shall be based on accepted engineering standards and principals, and the health, safety and welfare of those persons dependent on the system. If the petition is granted, the LASA Board shall determine and stipulate the proportions of the cost to be borne by petitioners and by LASA.

Section 2.15. INSTALLATION OF WATER MAINS.

Any person, firm or corporation who shall propose the installation of water mains, shall first submit plans and specifications of such work to the Plant Operator and reviewed by the Engineer who shall make a report thereof to the LASA Board which shall approve or disapprove of such installation, and shall determine under what conditions such installation shall be made, to include without limitation the posting of bonds or other guarantee to assure completion in accordance with the standards established by LASA and to defray any actual expenses incurred by LASA with regard to such project.

Section 2.20. CONNECTION TO LASA WATER SYSTEM.

No private wells shall be allowed in the area where LASA provides service. A back flow preventer shall be installed between the LASA water and an irrigation system.

Section 2.25. CROSS CONNECTION.

(a) LASA adopts by reference the Water Supply Cross Connection Rules of the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality, being R325.431 to R325.440 of the Michigan Administrative Code, as may from time to time be amended.

(b) It shall be the duty of the Plant Operator, or their designee, to cause inspections to be made of all properties served by the water supply system where cross connections with the water supply system is deemed possible. The frequency of inspections and re-inspections, based on potential health hazards involved, shall be as established by the Plant Operator and as approved by the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality.

(c) The Plant Operator, or their designee, shall have the right to enter at any reasonable time any property served by a connection to water supply system for the purpose of inspecting the piping systems of such property for cross connections. On request, the owner, lessees or occupants of any property so served shall furnish to the inspection agency any pertinent information regarding the piping systems on such property. The refusal of such information or refusal of access, when requested, shall be deemed evidence of the presence of cross connections.

McKune Library

Events & Programs

The McKune Memorial Library art committee is announcing a new community project partnered with the CCA last year to mount the "Opening Doors" project.

The library will be creating a mural in the window well area.

The window well is located underneath the walkway to the mail entrance of the library.

"We'll be continuing the flowing 'river' motif that already runs through the Children's Garden and KidSpot," said Shawn Personke, community relations and development coordinator. "The inspiration for the project is the water and rivers of literature, such as Wind in the Willows, Three Billy Goats Gruff, and Bashi and the River Stones."

There will be a community meeting at 6 tonight to unveil the project and talk to volunteers interested in helping make it happen. It's being coordinated by the library art committee.

"One of our members is landscape architect and local resident Meg Gower," Personke said. "We're planning to have work sessions (in addition to other times) during Sounds & Sights on Thursday nights. We're looking for students, artists and any community volunteer who would enjoy helping paint and construct the project."

Attention young artists

The library is holding a Graphic Novels Academy at 1 p.m. on Thursdays through July 19. This fun workshop will explore the process of combining art with story in what more commonly be called a comic book. But graphic novels are more than comic books...find out more about this emerging art form. The workshop is led by artist Jerzy Drozd.

Summer's Cookin'

The first 200 kids to register for the summer reading program, Summer's Cookin', will receive a goodie bag. Grand prizes include an iPod, tickets to Cedar Point, and evening out at the Common Grill and the Purple Rose Theatre, and more! Register for the summer reading program at the Information Desks.

Tuesday Night Food & Films Series. "Babette's Feast" (G); June 12 - a feast in itself, for the heart, the senses, and above all the spirit.

Al Gilczek (left), Chuck Manitz, and Biff Weber. Gilczek has attended the Hospital's Auction for several years. Manitz is the owner of Doors and Drawers. Weber owns Palmer Family Ford, and his wife Suzie Palmer Weber served on the Hospital Board of Trustees.

Auction springs a record

Doug Portz, MD, and his wife, Ann Oldendorf, MD, Auction Chairs. Dr. Portz is Medical Director of the Women's Health Center at Chelsea Community Hospital, and a member of the Hospital's Board of Trustees. Dr. Oldendorf is an Assistant Professor of Urology at University of Michigan Health System and served on the Auction Committee.

22nd annual Spring Auction raises more than $140,000 for Chelsea Hospital

Chelsea Community Hospital announced that its 22nd annual Spring Auction held May 5 was the most successful ever raising more than $140,000 in net proceeds.

Proceeds will support the purchase of a 64-Slice CT Scanner. Offering the latest innovation in CT technology, the 64-slice scanner performs new and enhanced imaging procedures and provides high-resolution images. This highly automated operation captures images of organs in one second and whole body trauma scans in ten seconds, providing physicians with customized patient reports.

Designed to boost clinical performance, this technology will provide large-volume, thin-slice coverage to improve diagnostic confidence, image quality and productivity.

The "Pause for Pledge" raised $21,500 to support the purchase of a Ness L300 Neuroprosthetic and Rehabilitation System. This functional electrical stimulation unit is designed for patients who have problems walking due to difficulty controlling the foot. The system stimulates weak or impaired muscles to contract using a very sophisticated timing mechanism that is set by the therapists working with the individual.

This technology is successful with a variety of conditions including stroke, brain injury, aneurysm, multiple sclerosis, cerebral palsy, incomplete spinal cord injury, back injury and even trauma. It can eliminate the need for an ankle brace and can normalize gait so that patients may return to many of their previous walking activities safely.

Honorary Chairs Mike and Judy Nold, Chairs Douglas Portz and Ann Oldendorf, M.D.s., and Co-chairs Bill and Carla Page, D.O.s welcomed Auction guests as they arrived in Mexican attire and enjoyed the strolling dinner buffet with desserts, wine, and assorted ales. Guests bid on items donated by area business and community members, in live, silent, and super silent auctions, as well as raffles.

Chelsea Community Hospital extends thanks to the community, medical staff, employees, board members, volunteers and staff who helped make the Auction such a success.

Chelsea Community Hospital is an independent, non-profit medical facility established in 1970.

Rod Dewyer, MD, an internal medicine physician at CCH and his wife Cheryl, said attending the auction every year is "one of the highlights" of the year.

Tara Gombarski, Decorations Co-Chair and owner of Changes of Chelsea, was the Diamond Sponsor of the Auction. Rod Marsh, Decorations Co-Chair, owns Rod Marsh Designs in Saline.

Brad Wylie, MD, of Dexter with his wife Pam.

Jill and Charles Taylor have attended many hospital events over the years.

Mike Bristle, owner of Norm's Body Shop, donated a $500 gift certificate, and his wife, Celeste Balogh, is VP at United Bank and Trust.

Stan and Sue Starkey have lived in community for over 30 years. Sue has been a long-time Hospital volunteer and Auction committee member. They donated handmade beaded utensils.

Gary Maynard, MD, a retired physician, and his wife, Mary, donated a dinner in their Chelsea home as an auction item.

CORPORATE CIRCULATION SALES MANAGER

Journal Register Company has a unique opportunity for the right individual. Reporting directly to the Corporate VP of Circulation, the Corporate Circulation Sales Manager/Philadelphia will be responsible for overseeing the circulation sales initiatives for our suburban Philadelphia cluster including 7 daily newspapers and 4 non-daily newspaper groups. Qualified candidates must have circulation sales experience in single copy and home delivery, a working knowledge of ABC rules as they pertain to circulation sales, exposure to all circulation sales sources including but not limited to direct mail, crew sales, kiosk sales and telemarketing. Partnership experience in establishing single copy initiatives is a definite plus. This position will be based in our corporate offices in Yardley, PA and will require extensive travel throughout the PA cluster. This position includes competitive starting salary, an incentive package and full benefits.

All interested candidates should respond electronically with a cover letter and resume to mmurray@journalregister.com for consideration.

Only those candidates being interviewed will be contacted. No phone calls please.

BEST SLOPPY JOES

Makes 5 for 6 - 8 sandwiches

- 1 can (1 lb.) ground beef
- 1/3 cup ketchup
- 2-3 Tbs. onion sugar
- 1-1/2 lbs. beef
- 1 cup medium onion, chopped
- 1 cup sliced onion, dropped
- 1/2 cup set

In a medium bowl, combine the tomatoes, red wine vinegar, ketchup and brown sugar. Stir to mix. In a large skillet or Dutch oven, combine the ground beef with the onion sugar. Cook over high heat 6 - 10 minutes, stirring to crumb. Add the onion, beef, and onion. Reduce heat to medium and cook, uncovered, for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve in buns, or over hot-cooked pasta.

The Grinch grows a heart sparkling with your very own birthstone

...In Who-ville they say, that the Grinch's small heart grew three sizes that day!

Now, the Grinch is ready to bring his three-sizes-larger heart into your holiday home in Have A Heart, Mr. Grinch. A Dr. Seuss sculpture of Lenox® fine china set with a faceted crystal birthstone.

The Grinch is superbly sculptured with a great, Grinchy grin, painted by hand, and accented with 24 karat gold. The best part is, this delightful figure can be personalized with the glittering birthstone crystal you choose, set by hand into the Grinch's great big heart.

The price of this imported sculpture is just $24.50. Order today.

Every holiday hue will be painted by hand.

I chose Molly Maid!

MOLLY MAID

*Reasons why
I'm glad I did!*

I have more time – instead of cleaning, I can spend time doing the things I want to do.

They clean my home the way I want – they listen and they care.

People Notice – my friends and family comment on how fresh and clean my home is.

No contracts – and they guarantee to put a smile on my face with every cleaning.

The reputation – Molly Maid has been cleaning homes for over 25 years!
