Fat Foods and Their Uses. It is impossible to say what will please in the way of fat food. The only way is to experiment, feeling sure that the right thing will eventually appear. When commonplace fat offends, something new and strange will often inspire respect and be received with delight. Children who scorn fat in the abstract seldom refuse a light, well-made suet pudding. Toast and dripping is a combination that has been known to charm when less humble fare is declined. Toffee, which is a combination of equal parts of sugar and melted butter, is a highly nutritious substance that is a general favorite among children. Given at the end of the meal, it can seldom do harm. Equal parts of chopped fat meat, lean meat and bread crumbs, the whole lightly seasoned with pepper and salt, and a dash of powdered sugar, make an agreeable filling with sandwiches that are often acceptable to those who insist that they do not like fat.—Harper's Bazaar.

Brave Woman Honored. The bravery of Margaret Corbin, the first woman to take the soldier's part in the war for American independence, will be commemorated by a bronze tablet unveiled on the site of the old fort during the Hudson-Fulton celebration this fall. Margaret Corbin was the wife of a Pennsylvania private, and during the attacks of the Hessians on the outworks of Fort Mifflin she loaded one of the cannons in Fort Tryon many times. The battle was nearly over when both she and her husband were killed. The tablet is presented by C. K. G. Billings, whose stable of fine trotting horses is located on the site of the fort, on upper Manhattan island.

President Helps Orphans. Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the president of the Industrial and Orphan's Home at Macon, Ga., who writes: "We have used Electric Bitters in this institution for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for stomach, liver and kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth." It invigorates the vital organs, purifies the blood, aids digestion, creates appetite. To strengthen and build up thin, pale, weak children or run-down people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c at L. T. Freeman Co. and H. E. Fenn Co.

EXTRA MONEY FOR SOLDIERS

Many Ways by Which Those Who Wear Uncle Sam's Uniform Can Earn Dollars.
There are many ways for enlisted men in the army to earn side money, according to Col. J. H. Thomson of New York, formerly of the United States army. There are any number of opportunities for our Philippine soldiers to make a little money "on the side."

"A good tailor or barber may reasonably expect to be kept busy continually," continued Col. Thomson, "and an industrious man may gain from these trades from $75 to $100 a month extra money. A good musician who can play any band instrument will receive $24 a month as a private, and if he can qualify as a soloist will be ranked as a non-commissioned officer with increased pay."

"Many and varied are the ways the ambitious soldier invents to earn extra money. One soldier runs a laundry, charging his 150 patrons $1.50 a month for all the laundry they wish to send in. He pays three soldiers $30 a month each to help him, and clears over $100 a month himself.
"Another soldier tutors dozens of his comrades in reading, spelling and arithmetic for three dollars a month each. Buying canteen checks at 75 per cent, is the business of another soldier. These checks are loaned out at their face value, to be paid for in cash on pay day.
"Twenty per cent, is the increase in pay for service in Alaska, the Philippines, or any foreign country, and such service counts double time on the soldier's retirement record. At the end of 30 years' service in the States, or 15 years in foreign countries, the soldier may retire on three-quarters' pay."

LITTLE GARDEN A BLESSING

Small Patch of Green in Heart of New York a Grateful Sight to Weary Eyes.

The little patch of lawn that lies in front of the entrance to Grace church and the rectory comforts and refreshes many a wayfarer weary of the tireless rows of business buildings that line Broadway unbrokenly from City Hall park to Tenth street, says the New York Sun. Daily from the first hint of spring to the time when winter sets in for good, men and women and children stop for a moment and look with grateful eyes on this grass with its hint of quiet and comfort and peace. The church owns the property on the corner of Tenth and Broadway, and here it is to plant a garden. The land is very valuable. It might be used to business profit, and no person would criticize the church adversely if the lot were devoted to a building from which profit could be drawn. But the whole community will applaud the decision that will make it into a resting spot, even should it turn out, as well may be, that the general public must be excluded from it. It will be green and fresh and pleasant. There will be shrubs and flowers and the smell of the earth, things worth while, even in Broadway. The rector, wardens and vestry of Grace church show that they possess imagination, and are not afraid to display that too-often smothered quality. The little garden to their church will be a blessing to the whole city.

Does it pay?
The mayoralty chair of Cambridge has come to be called "The Hoodoo Chair" by those who have followed Cambridge politics for many years. There has been no incumbent for the last ten years who has not suffered from sickness or from business reverses, either during or after his term of office. The present mayor, John F. Brooks, was no sooner nominated this spring than he had to undergo an operation, from which he is still convalescing.—Boston Journal.

Doual's Monument.
The city of Doual is going to erect a monument to John of Bologna, one of its most famous citizens. The sculptor was born there in 1524, and died at Florence in 1608, the appellation of Bologna being a corruption of his own name of de Boullogne, an old Flemish family still in existence.—The Athenaeum.

SANITATION OF THE STATE FAIR GROUNDS.

The State Fair officials are taking every precaution to protect the exhibitors of live stock at the 1909 meeting which opens Sept. 2. They have made arrangements for the complete sanitation of the live stock and, in fact, the entire show buildings and grounds during the Fair time.
Before any animals are brought into their quarters, all stables, barns, etc., will be thoroughly cleaned of any refuse that may have accumulated there, and then they will be thoroughly and completely disinfected so as to prevent any possibility of disease being acquired from the condition of the grounds before the live stock arrives.
During the entire time of the Fair a constant attendance of a corps of expert assistants will be continuously disinfecting all the live stock and buildings, so that it will prevent any possible outbreak of contagious diseases while on the grounds.
Arrangements will be made for parties who wish to have their stock sprayed before entering the grounds, and the fact that Messrs. Paré, Davis & Company will have this matter in charge, and will use the disinfectant Kresol for the purpose, is sufficient to know that it will be done properly and effectively.
This firm has taken care of over 200 large expositions of this description, and by using Kresol have prevented any outbreak of disease; this is certainly a safeguard against any such troubles that otherwise might arise.
